'Marty' Is Chosen As Best Picture Of 1955

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Marty," the movie originally made as a tax loss to offset big grosses of two Burt Lancaster Westerns, emerged today as the Oscar-winning picture. It also won the top male acting Academy Award last night for Ernest Borgnine, an actor who only earned $2,300 in his profession three years ago. He is worth at least $150,000 a picture with an Oscar behind him.

Anna Magnani, the fiery Italian, now in Rome, won the top female Oscar for her performance in "The Rose Tattoo."

Roused from sleep to be given the news, she shouted: "It's great... I feel just as if I'd built the Colosseum—it's all an earthquake inside."

The supporting actor award went to Jack Lemmon, the comic Esn. Pulver of "Mister Roberts." Jo Van Fleet, the madam mother of James Dean in "East of Eden," was named the best supporting actress.

Besides earning best picture and best actor awards, "Marty" also won an Oscar for the best screen play for playwright Paddy Chayefsky. He wrote the tender story of a lonely butcher first as a television play.

Delbert Mann, who directed "Marty" on TV and then for his movie debut, won the best direction award.

"Marty" was produced by the team of Harold Hecht and screen star Burt Lancaster.

Lancaster gave much of the credit for "Marty's" success to newspaper advertising. He told a reporter that the film cost only $343,000 to make but that half a million dollars was spent on an advertising campaign, much of it in newspapers seen by Academy voters.

Hollywood thought the two partners were slightly daft when they announced last year that they intended to make a movie about a lonely butcher and a wallflower schoolteacher—with no big star names in the cast.

At the time Lancaster said, "We're making it because it's something we want to make."

He added that even if the picture didn't earn a cent it would be profitable as a tax loss against big grosses of "Vera Cruz" and "Apache," putting the producers in a lower tax bracket.

"But 'Marty' turned out to be a sleeper that won the Cannes Film Festival and New York Film Critics awards before getting last night's Oscar.

As for financial returns on the expected tax loss, Lancaster disclosed: "So far the picture has grossed two million dollars and hasn't been put in general release yet."

A happy Borgnine said after receiving his Oscar: "I felt wonderful, naturally, but I hadn't let my hopes get too high. I figured I didn't start out with anything in this town, so if I lost I still was way ahead of the game."

Four members of Borgnine's family watched the ceremonies on television at New Haven, Conn., and let out a loud howl when his victory was announced.

"We are just very proud and happy for Ernie," his sister Mrs. Eugene Velardi told a reporter.

Others present were the actor's father, who works in a New Haven factory; his aunt Louise Borgnine; and Mrs. Velardi's husband.

Borgnine's mother died in 1947. His maternal grandfather was

ERNEST BORGNINE... 'Marty' was a sleeper
ANNA MAGNANI... '... an earthquake inside'

Count Paolo Boselli, onetime financial adviser to King Emanuel of Italy.

"Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing" was named the best song of the year.

The star-studded ceremonies at Hollywood's Pantages Theater were brilliantly emceed by Comedian Jerry Lewis. Two stars—Maurice Chevalier and Grace Kelly—stole some of the spotlight from the winners.

The straw-hatted, 68-year-old Frenchman proved he still has plenty of charm. It was Miss Kelly's last Hollywood appearance before she leaves for Monaco and marriage to Prince Rainier III. The program was nationally telecast. There were frequent shifts to the NBC Century Theater in New York, where some winners received their Oscars. Actress Claudette Colbert—a 1934 Oscar winner for "It Happened One Night"—and director Joseph L. Mankiewicz presided over the New York ceremonies.

Some disappointment was voiced by stars because no special award was given to the late James Dean. An Academy official said it was decided to let Dean's performance stand on its merits with the other nominees for top acting.

LOST GROUND

Supporters Rebound To Push All-Or-Nothing Adlai Drive

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Supporters of Adlai Stevenson, rebounding from the initial shock of his surprise loss to Sen. Estes Kefauver in the Minnesota presidential primary, regrouped today for an all-or-nothing drive to regain lost ground.

Admitting he was no longer a "front runner," Stevenson said last night in Chicago he has no intention of withdrawing from the presidential race and will "go to the Democratic convention seeking the nomination."

But he disavowed any interest in the vice presidency—an idea bandied by Kefauver backers in the flush of their lopsided Minnesota victory.

"I am now prepared to work harder than ever... and ask my kind friends everywhere to redouble their efforts too," Stevenson said at a news conference.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), holder of 26 of 30 Minnesota delegate votes at the Democratic August convention, reiterated at Great Falls, Mont., his belief that the primary outcome represented a revolt against the administration's farm program.

The Tennessee senator, moving on to San Francisco today, said he would discuss there the possibility of his entering the Indianapolis race.

Stevenson supporters, whose filing deadline is a week away, Stevenson won only the 8th Congressional District (Minnesota) and, with 60 remote precincts still pending, was ahead of Kefauver, 30,559 to 29,689, in the 8th District range county. This led Stevenson into an 870-vote lead there.

The Duluth News-Tribune said the missing precincts were mostly in St. Louis County, which voted preponderantly for Stevenson, and that it did not expect the few missing ballots to affect the end result.

Stephen A. Mitchell, a leader of the "rebound" forces, said the Minnesota outcome should "wake up" Stevenson supporters who had thought the Democratic presidential campaign was "in the bag" for him.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said in Washington that Stevenson himself as well as his supporters are "unwavering." The high point of the Minnesota voting was the Democratic turnout "that swamped the Eisenhower-Knowland totals" on the Republican side, he said.

With 3,640 of 3,868 precincts reported, the Democrats had rolled up 419,016, 238,909 of them for Kefauver. Republicans had 195,621, of which President Eisenhower held 192,482. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) had the 3,139 balance.

Girlstown Ordered To Firm Up Policies

AUSTIN (AP)—The board of directors of Girlstown, U.S.A., was ordered today by the State Public Welfare Board to firm up operations of the home or face loss of its license as a child caring institution.

The welfare board unanimously adopted a report of an advisory board which said the Welfare Department was within its rights in issuing its order that it would revoke the institution's license.

Further action was postponed by the board to give the Girlstown board "reasonable time" to make changes in its organization that the Welfare Department outlined in its charges.

A five-member advisory council conducted a hearing here March 7-9 to judge merits of an appeal made by Girlstown, located near Whiteface, after the Welfare Department said it planned to annul its license.

In its report to the welfare board, the panel said the Welfare Department "was within its rights in revoking the license of Girlstown, U.S.A., because Girlstown, U.S.A., had not met the minimum standards for child care institutions as set up by the Department of Public Welfare as of Jan. 3, 1956," date of the department's order.

The Welfare Board said it "recognizes the need for a home for dependent girls and would like to see Girlstown, U.S.A., continue to operate."

"However," the board said, "studies by the Welfare Department resulted in serious questions regarding the case of children, the handling of public contributions for support of the institution, the effectiveness and authority of the governing board and the emotional suitability of some staff members to care for minor children."

"These questions brought about the decision of the Welfare Department to give notice of its intention to revoke the license of Girlstown, U.S.A., which notice was appealed by Girlstown, U.S.A."

"The three-member Welfare Board of Girlstown, U.S.A., will take charge of the affairs of Girlstown, U.S.A., and make such changes as are necessary to insure that the children in the institution receive first-rate care, that contributions from the public for the support of the institution are surrounded by such safeguards as are necessary to assure the contributing public that all contributions are used for the purpose for which they are given, and that the staff be composed of persons emotionally suited to this type of work and that at least minimum standards be achieved and maintained. The State Board of Public Welfare postponed further action for a reasonable time in order that the board of Girlstown, U.S.A., may have the opportunity to achieve the above objective."

'Mistreatment' Told At Bus Boycott Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Defense attorneys put new testimony into the record today about mistreatment of Negro passengers on segregated city buses which are being boycotted by the Negroes.

The defense was expected to conclude its case during the day, however, in the boycott trial of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., one of 90 Negroes indicted on charges of violating Alabama's antiboycott law.

As they did yesterday, the Negro lawyers produced more witnesses who told of white bus drivers habitually referring to them as "niggers"; ordering them to give up seats to white passengers; making them stand while seats in the white section of buses remained vacant, and in some instances ordering them to board the rear of a bus after paying their fare and then driving off before the Negroes could get on.

Rebuttal testimony and final arguments could delay a verdict by Circuit Court Judge Eugene Carter, who will decide on the young Negro minister's guilt or innocence.

King and 89 other Negro leaders still facing trial on charges of violating Alabama's anti-boycott law have all exercised their right to demand nonjury trials.

Defense attorneys yesterday presented witness after witness who told of mistreatment or embarrassment as passengers on segregated city buses.

One of the 26 Negro defense witnesses who took the stand Wednesday was R. A. Parks, husband of Mrs. Rosa Parks. Negroes have refused to ride city buses here since Mrs. Parks was fined $14 Dec. 5 for refusing to move to the rear of a city bus.

Parks testified he had once been forced to take another bus to reach his destination because the driver of the bus he was riding wouldn't let him off when he buzzed for a stop.

Another Negro defense witness, Mrs. Gladys Moore, said she stopped riding buses after years of mistreatment of her and members of her race.

Other witnesses testified that drivers habitually referred to them as "niggers" and occasionally as "you ugly black apes."

Anna Magnani Joyous Over Oscar Victory

ROME (AP)—A sleepy Anna Magnani was roused from bed this morning to be told she had won Hollywood's coveted Oscar as the best actress of 1955.

"Are you kidding?" the tempestuous Latin asked in a low, cold voice.

Only after being shown the news dispatch from America did she break forth with the well-known Magnani emotion.

"It's great," she shouted, spreading her arms wide. "I was hardly hoping any more."

"I feel just as if I'd built the Colosseum—it's all an earthquake inside."

Swathed in a pink bathrobe with no makeup on, the 46-year-old actress joyfully pressed her face against a big poster on her living room wall. It showed her in her prize-winning role, that of the lovelorn widow in "The Rose Tattoo."

She had told her friends she was leaving town so that she would not be disturbed by telephone calls if she won. But this morning a newsman tried her private unlisted number and was answered by a sleepy voice with a strong Roman accent: "Signora Magnani speaking."

Told about the award, she replied: "Are you kidding? If you are, I inform you that it is in extremely bad taste and I will get up right away to kill you wherever you are."

"Come over and bring me the story."

Miss Magnani said she plans to return to the United States next fall for another Paramount picture. She said she will not move to America permanently.

"I'm Italian and therefore I will remain in Italy," she said.

U.S. Seeks To Open Big Areas To Arms Probe

LONDON (AP)—Seeking to replace years of talk about disarmament with concrete action, the United States wants 40,000 to 60,000 square miles of Russian and American territory opened to international arms inspection teams.

The U. S. proposal for a preliminary test of disarmament controls was made last night at a meeting of the five-power U. N. subcommittee on disarmament, between the two top military powers. It is aimed at paving the way to a comprehensive program of controlled arms reduction.

Britain and France earlier this week submitted an arms control plan linked to a general disarmament pact.

Subcommittee delegates referred the American plan to their governments. It may not be taken up again here for a week.

The U. S. proposal came a few hours before officials here and in Washington disclosed that the Soviet Union has launched a new series of nuclear tests. There were no details as to what type tests were carried out, but presumably they were held in Siberia.

Information presumably was obtained through checks of radioactive material in the atmosphere. Western observatories in northern Japan recorded increased radioactivity in rain and snow which fell this week.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, said in Washington the Russians had exploded a nuclear device "within the past few days."

He said it was the fifth Soviet weapons test announced by the United States in the past eight months.

Soviet demands for an immediate ban on nuclear weapons have long been a stumbling block in East-West disarmament negotiations.

The U. S. pilot plan for testing disarmament controls was presented by Harold Stassen, special assistant on disarmament to President Eisenhower.

The News Is Good

Mrs. Estes Kefauver, wife of the Tennessee senator, holds a newspaper carrying news of her husband's victory in the Minnesota Democratic presidential primary election as she talks about it to three children in Washington, D. C. The youngsters are Gall, the Kefauvers' youngest daughter, and two of her neighborhood playmates, Malcolm McKinnon, left, and his twin brother, John. All the children are five years old.

RAIN, HAIL

Tornado Twists Through Texas

Hail, torrential rains and a tornado smashed across Texas Wednesday night.

The tornado, one of several that skipped across Central Texas, demolished the farm home of O. C. Gossett near Flat in north Bell County. The Gossetts, who took refuge in a ditch, were uninjured.

Twisters were sighted in far South Texas but no damage was reported.

Rains up to 5 inches and hailstones described as "big as baseballs" wiped out crops on a 30-mile-square area east of Rio Hondo in the Rio Grande Valley.

A storm appeared over Thursday as skies began clearing from the west. No rain was predicted for the state.

Jim Lang, a farmer near Rio Hondo, said hail fell steadily on his farm for 45 minutes along with a 5-inch rain and that "every living plant" on his place had been destroyed.

"I lost 75 acres of cotton without a trace of a green leaf left," he said. "The limbs on an acre and a half of citrus trees were split as much as six inches by the steady battering of hail stones ranging in size from marbles to baseballs."

Cotton, tomatoes and grain crops were heavily damaged in that area. At Hidalgo and Rio Hondo hailstones dented cars and broke out windows. Roofs in the McAllen area were damaged by the large hailstones.

The tornado that demolished the Gossett home picked its way between dwellings at Willow Grove, 15 miles northwest of Temple, smashed a pump house and scattered a stack of tin near the Tom Drake home. Another twister was sighted near Moody.

Funnel shaped clouds were reported sighted near Alice, Falluris, the King Ranch and between George West and Three Rivers but there were no reports of damage.

The heaviest rains were in and near the Rio Grande Valley. Refugio reported 2 1/2 inches and Lyford had more than 2 inches. Beeville had 1.92 inches.

Rains in Central Texas were light by comparison. Light rains were reported at Austin, Beaumont, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Lufkin, Brownsville, Palacios, San Antonio, Houston and Victoria.

Dust storms reduced visibility at West Texas points Wednesday afternoon.

Light rains and drizzles continued at Lufkin, Beaumont and Houston early Thursday as low clouds covered North, East and Central Texas.

Temperatures shortly before dawn Thursday ranged from 31 degrees at Amarillo to 63 at Brownsville. Maximum readings Wednesday ranged from 43 at Sherman to 87 at Laredo.

The forecast called for partly cloudy to fair weather Thursday and Friday with slightly warmer temperatures in the north Friday.

Rain for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. Thursday, as reported by the Weather Bureau, included Beaumont 1.43 inches, Texas 1.10, Galveston .53 of an inch, Lufkin .23, Brownsville .22, Palacios .21, Victoria .18, and Corsicana .17.

Temperatures before dawn included Abilene 39, Austin 42, Beaumont 53, Corpus Christi 49, Dallas 42, El Paso 47, Fort Worth 43, Galveston 50, Houston 46, Laredo 55, Midland 40, Presidio 45, San Angelo 39, Victoria 46, Waco 44, Wichita Falls 41, Lufkin 44 and Texasarkana 40.

Four of the six men aboard were Lis. Z. C. Gibson Jr., the pilot; Peter Hickey Jr., co-pilot; K. R. Woodman, instructor, and E. G. Smith, student. All four were from Waco.

The other two were identified later as L. R. Thomas Andrews of Estes Park, Colo., and L. Frederick Buresch Jr., of Baltimore.

Bad Weather Hinted As Wreck Cause

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A B25 missing overnight from Connally Air Force Base was found wrecked in a pasture about 50 miles south-southeast of here this morning. Highway patrolmen at the scene said the six men aboard were killed.

An air-sea rescue plane operating from search headquarters here radioed it sighted the wreckage between New Baden and Christmas Tree Lake near Hearne. This is about 50 miles south-southeast of here.

At Hearne, farmer G. D. Russell told highway patrolman Floyd Tippitt he found wreckage strewn over 400 yards of his pasture but saw no sign of survivors, bodies or parachutes.

Last radio contact with the plane, which was on a training mission over Central Texas, was at 11:05 p.m. last night when it reported it was over Gatesville, Tex. There was no indication of trouble then. The plane had fuel enough to keep it in the air until 2:30 a.m. today.

There was a possibility turbulent weather figured in the crash. Winds with gusts to 35 miles an hour and some tornadoes lashed through Central Texas last night.

Russell said he discovered the crash while en route to work in Hearne. He said aerial maps were scattered over the pasture and one chart had fallen in the cab of his truck.

The plane, part of a two-plane team taking part in a training exercise, took off from Connally at 7:30 p.m. last night and was due back at 11:30 a.m. The other craft, a target plane which crashed plane was to intercept in the exercise, returned on schedule.

First hint that the plane fell near Hearne came when a farmer at nearby Franklin told of hearing an explosion last night.

At Franklin, Deputy Sheriff E. P. Elliott said farmer Doyle Caldwell told him of Franklin's word of hearing the explosion over his house at 9:30 p.m. last night and finding "flying charts" on the ground today.

Elliott said "it's very rough country around there."

About 16 Connally planes took to the air this morning, concentrating their search in the Lake Buchanan area west of Fort Hood, over which the training mission was to have been flown.

Four of the six men aboard were Lis. Z. C. Gibson Jr., the pilot; Peter Hickey Jr., co-pilot; K. R. Woodman, instructor, and E. G. Smith, student. All four were from Waco.

The other two were identified later as L. R. Thomas Andrews of Estes Park, Colo., and L. Frederick Buresch Jr., of Baltimore.

Survey Starts On Boll Pulling Wages

Howard County cotton growers are being asked to participate in a quick survey on cotton pulling wages paid last autumn.

Ralph White, Coahoma, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau, issued an appeal Thursday for every cotton grower to call at the Farm Bureau office, 117 1/2 Rannels, and furnish the rate of payment on his farm last fall between the time of Oct. 21-Nov. 15.

The United Department of Labor has asked that producers using bracero labor pay the Mexican Department of Interior at the rate of 10 cents cwt. on cotton pulled in that 24-day period. The 10 cents is the difference between the $1.55 in the bracero contract and the $1.65 cwt. which the Texas Employment Commission reported was the prevailing wage on domestic labor at the time.

White said there had been no tabulation on actual earnings for the period, but he estimated that the 10 cents on those using bracero labor would approximate $10,000.

"It is our contention that the TEC survey was not complete and therefore was not dependable," said White. "We do not believe that you can question 20 or 30 farmers and get an accurate picture of wages paid in a county."

White said that the Bureau is also interested in getting other information from all growers on whether housing, hauling, sacks, etc. were furnished. It is the contention of Bureau officials that if these factors are taken into consideration, the total (or real) wage paid the braceros was in excess of that local labor.

White emphasized that the Bureau was anxious to get a report from every farmer, regardless of whether he used local or bracero labor.

In addition to the Bureau office, forms will be available at the Howard County Growers Association office next door. No time limit has been set, but White was hopeful that several hundred would come in not later than Saturday.

142 Cotton Men File Reports In Survey In Dawson

LAMESA—Herbert Green, chairman of the Lamesa cotton wage survey committee, reported late Wednesday that 142 Dawson County cotton growers had filed statements of wages paid laborers between Oct. 20-Nov. 6, 1955.

Said Greene, "We need to have about 1,000 farmers to complete the statements between now and Saturday noon."

Green and his committee are trying to ascertain by the survey if the Texas Employment Commission estimate of the prevailing rate of $1.75 cwt. for pulling last autumn is an accurate one.

The United States Department of Labor has asked some Dawson producers to pay 20 cents cwt. to the Mexican Department of Interior on grounds that braceros contracted at $1.55 had to be paid the prevailing wage.

The People Around Jesus

The Herald is proud to announce the publication of a special series of articles dealing with the story of Easter, through the people who were around Christ during Passion Week. There will be one story each day for eight days, each dealing with a key personality.

The articles were written by George Cornell, religious reporter for The Associated Press, who dug deep into the background of these people to picture the part they played in the Easter story.

And impressive are special drawings of the characters, done by Guy Rowe, noted artist who will be remembered for the characterizations he did for the book of Bible stories.

Dr. Willis Sutton Back Here To Visit, Talk With Students

Dr. Willis Sutton, a favorite with Big Spring young people for the past several years, began another visit Thursday with a plea not to destroy bridges between them and their parents.

The venerable educator, who is superintendent emeritus at Atlanta, Ga., began a 5-day stay here with a high school assembly Thursday morning. There will follow conferences on class levels at the high school, visits at the junior high, and Monday and Tuesday at the Howard County Junior College. Then on Wednesday he will return to high school for a summation and final consultation.

He got a rousing ovation from the student body Thursday for his story of Henry and Miller, the teen-agers who circumvented parental authority in the process of simply growing up. To slip around may have been natural, he said, but it was wrong, not only dead wrong but deadly wrong.

The miraculous physical and mental changes of the teenagers is inevitable, but it is the rarest thing that parents or even teachers have the judgment to tell teen-agers about these changes a year or two before they occur, he said.

"These changes make a slip of a girl into a beautiful woman; they make a boy into a man," said Dr. Sutton.

Aggies To Finish Scholarship Plans

Members of the Texas A&M Exes Club will gather at the Twins Cafe at 7 a. m. Friday for breakfast, at which time plans for awarding the annual scholarship to an area individual will be discussed.

Engineer Pushing County Road Jobs

Walter G. Parks, county engineer, intends to concentrate heavily on getting the 20 miles of highway construction slated for 1956 well under way before he begins worrying about road programs for 1957.

"We have 20 miles of construction on the program for 1956," said the engineer who assumed his duties in this county on March 7.

"Only two miles of the work has actually been started. We have made good progress so far with the Vincent road, which is the first on the agenda. We are starting survey work on the second project—five miles of surfacing on what is known as the Washon road."

Hearing Friday In Land Condemnation

Special commissioners appointed by County Judge R. H. Weaver to act in the land condemnation action brought by the City of Big Spring against Pearl and Jo Cole are scheduled to hear evidence and argument in the case on Friday.

Weaver said he had no word from the commissioners or the litigants since the appointment of three men was made and assumed that the hearing would proceed as planned.

The city is seeking land described as three tracts in the south half of Section 5, Block 22, Township 1-south, located south of the College Hotel school. The land is needed for expanding of the municipal water system. The Coles own the property and no agreement has been reached by the city and the owners on the proper damages to be paid.

A second condemnation action, against the Edwards Estate, Merle J. Stewart and E. E. Ellis, executor, involving 1.53 acres needed by the city for construction of water storage facilities, is also pending in the county court. Commissioners were appointed by the court to serve in this matter at the same time the three were named in the Cole case.

Cosden Plans Four New Wells For Howard-Glasscock Field

Four new ventures in the Howard-Glasscock field of Howard county have been reported and all are to be drilled by Cosden Petroleum.

They are the Nos. 13, 14, 15, and 3-B H. R. Clay projects. Nos. 13, 14, and 15 Clays will be drilled about five miles east of Fursan, and the No. 3-B Clay will be two miles east of Fursan. The latter will drill to 3,250 feet.

In Borden County, a wildcat venture, Amerada No. 2 Cates swabbed 103 barrels of oil and 185 barrels of basic sediment, plus five barrels of water, in 21 hours. The venture is about seven miles northeast of Ackerly.

Dawson Court Sets Ceiling On Airport Land

LAMESA—Dawson County commissioners agreed yesterday with the City of Lamesa that $250 per acre should be the maximum price paid for municipal airport purposes.

The city council last week established that price in its regular council meeting. The airport is to be a joint venture of the city and county with the CAA matching the total funds paid in by the city and county.

In other business, the commissioners court heard Jack Pelham, owner of the Klondike store, is a discussion of right-of-way matters pertaining to the farm-to-market road proposed there. The court already had approved moving of the store and setting it on a new foundation. Yesterday it approved three low bids involving the store and three adjoining buildings.

Joe Pounds submitted the low bid of $674.25 on the painting of the store, and H. D. and E. T. Foster submitted the low bid of $597.50 for stuccoing the store after the move. B. E. Dudley was given the job of reconstructing the pump house on a low bid of $468.53. The commissioners court postponed its next meeting from March 26 to March 28 in order to canvass the vote set Saturday on the hospital bond and tax reallocation issue.

Two Burglaries Are Reported

Two burglaries on opposite sides of Big Spring have been reported to the police.

Burglars entered Barrera's Place on the Northside through a south window and took a silver dollar, dated 1921, and 13 or 20 pennies.

Mrs. Robert Hamilton reported the loss of between $10 and $15 from two piggy banks at 1911 Runnels sometime Wednesday. The front door had been left unlocked for two short periods during the day.

Local Piano Students To Play At Teachers Forum

Twenty-five local piano students will be presented in recitals at 8 p. m. Saturday at a meeting of the Big Spring Piano Teachers Forum.

The program will be staged in the Howard County Junior College auditorium. The group will play miscellaneous selections.

A program of modern music is being planned for the April 28 meeting of the Forum, and in May the organization will mark the 200th anniversary of the birth of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart with three concert programs.

'UGLIEST BOY' TO BE CHOSEN BY HCJC STUDENTS TONIGHT

Students at Howard County Junior College will decide tonight who is the "ugliest boy" on their campus.

There are seven "candidates" for the distinction, each being sponsored by a campus organization. The "winner" will be picked by popular vote at a meeting of students in the HCJC auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Ugliest boy candidates are Jimmy Robinson, sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association; Richard Reed, candidate of the Roza-Roca-Hammis; Eddie Gill, Engineers Club; Tommy Black, Future Teachers; Silas Flourney, Agriculture Club; Bob Jones, Business Club; and Kenneth Honeycutt, choice of the Lass-O-Club.

Each organization will present a skit in support of its candidate at tonight's gathering. This will be followed by the balloting. Then the students will move from the auditorium to the student union building where the victor will be crowned to highlight a social.

The ugliest boy contest is a feature of "Twirp Week" during which the coeds are taking the dating initiative at the college.

High School Play To Open Tonight

"Father of the Bride," an all-school play presented by the speech department of Big Spring High School, will be staged at the high school auditorium tonight and Friday evening.

The production starts at 8 p. m. each night. The play will feature Kenda McGibbon as Kay Banks, the bride, and J. D. Adams as Mr. Banks, father of the bride.

Tickets will be available at the box office at 60 cents each. The play's proceeds will be used to finance the annual senior class trip at the close of school this spring.

The comedy traces the trials of the bride and her father over a period of several months prior to her wedding. Kay is an "only daughter."

Director of the production is Dell McComb, speech instructor at the high school. Marilyn Morris is student director, Wayne Bird is stage manager, Sally Cowper serves as property chairman, and Betty Cain are in charge of the make-up. Setting consultant has been Mrs. John Annen, homemaker teacher in the high school.

Local Piano Students To Play At Teachers Forum

Manus, Lynette Hull, Patricia Rainey, Ann Ulmer, Gretchen Briden.

Also, Kathryn McClure, Mary Claire Kinney, Lynn Clawson, Kathy Johnson, Sally Adair, Wanda Ford, Priscilla Pond, Joan Bratcher, and Sally Cowper.

The public is invited to the recitals.

Ballot Closed For School Board Vote

Ballot for the Big Spring school trustee election closed last night, with five candidates seeking three places on the school board.

A prospective candidate decided at the last minute not to enter the race, said R. E. McKinney, school board secretary. McKinney, whose term on the board is expiring, also decided not to be a candidate.

Candidates will be listed on the ballot in the order that they filed for the election. First will be Clyde Angel, present board chairman, followed by Robert Stripling, another incumbent, Joe E. Neely, Joe L. Hull and Tom Guin.

The election will be held April 7. Absentee voting will be conducted from March 26 through April 3 at McKinney's office in the Big Spring Insurance Agency, 103 E. 2nd.

At least one new trustee will take office on April 10, first meeting of the board following the election. New and old members of the school board will participate in the session.

Mercury Takes Freezing Drive

Diminution of the gales of wind and clouds of dust on Wednesday brought a sharp drop in temperature for Big Spring last night.

Low reading for the period was one degree below freezing. The 31-degree temperature resulted in thin skims of ice on dew-covered windshields on Thursday morning.

It also drove Big Springers to smuggle deeper into their blankets as the night rolled along. Earlier in the evening it had been sufficiently warm to be slightly uncomfortable.

High for Wednesday was 73 degrees. Prediction for Thursday called for continued fair and mild weather for this afternoon and tonight. Friday is also slated to be fair and warmer than today.

High for Friday is predicted at 80 degrees.

Rites Set For Mrs. Reagan

Funeral services for Mrs. Eugenia Reagan, 64, will be held at 4 p. m. Friday in the St. Thomas Catholic Church with Father William J. Moore, OMI, officiating.

Interment will be in the Trinity Memorial Park under direction of River Funeral Home.

Mrs. Reagan, resident of Big Spring since 1915, died Wednesday. She had been seriously ill for several months.

Leads Uncovered In Safe Burglary

Important clues which deputy sheriffs and the special investigator for the district attorney's office feel may lead to arrests in the Taylor Implement Company safe robbery were being pursued Thursday.

The officers said they had unearthed some leads which looked good and they were pushing ahead with their investigation.

Burglars broke into the Taylor Implement Company on the Lamesa Highway on Tuesday night. They knocked the knob from the safe but failed to gain entrance to the box. They stole $9.95 in small bills and change from the cash register.

There was only a small amount of cash in the safe, officers were told, and if the burglars had succeeded in opening it their loot would probably have been less than $20.

Thieves Unable To Start Automobiles

Attempts to steal cars Tuesday night at Pruitt Car Lot, 310 W. 1st, were unsuccessful.

Royal Family Gets Economy Lecture

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Mirror let fly today with something unusual in the British press—a sharp lecture to the royal family on economy.

The tabloid claims the world's biggest weekday circulation—more than 4½ million. It calls itself independent, but generally favors the British Labor party.

Mirror columnist "Cassandra" declared far too much money is going for royal sea, air and rail comfort at a time the government is trying to cut down on inflationary spending. He said the outlay for royal transport is getting "ludicrously more expensive," and gave this list:

1. "The royal yacht Britannia cost 2,200,000 pounds—$6,160,000—to build. It has been renovated several times, and has recently been refitted. The bill was 100,000 pounds. The Britannia needs over 2,500 pounds a day to run and is used for less than a month a year by the royal family."

2. "There is a new move afoot to replace the four Vikings of the Queen's Flight—50,000 pounds each—either by a Viscount (or Viscounts) at an expenditure of at least 400,000 pounds each. A bolder idea is to buy a Britannia, which, although it would make for uniformity in names in the clouds and the waves, would cost 1,000,000 pounds.
3. "The Duke of Edinburgh already has a de Havilland Heron which has set the taxpayer back by 100,000 pounds.
4. "With regard to the touch-down and takeoff point in the lounge at London Airport, the Duke of Edinburgh has personally protested that the comforts of the commandant's lounge are not good enough. The result of this regal beef is that the VIP room at London Airport is being rejigged at a cost of 40,000 pounds."
5. "Added to this there arrives the news of the special royal dining car which is being finished at Wolverton. It is the most luxurious railway coach ever built in the world." (Some newspapers have estimated its cost at 40,000 pounds.)

Victory Called Slap At Ike Farm Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Democrats contended today that Sen. Estes Kefauver's upset Minnesota primary victory was a "reputation" by Republican voters of President Eisenhower's farm program.

A number of Republicans sharply rejected that suggestion, although some of them acknowledged they are concerned over the effect on voters of the long decline in farm income.

Senators of both parties saw the result as a big boost for Kefauver. Several Democrats renewed pledges of support for Adlai Stevenson, whom he defeated, while conceding Stevenson had suffered a big setback in his campaign to win the Democratic presidential nomination again.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture who has backed major portions of the Eisenhower administration's farm program, said in an interview: "The Minnesota vote, with thousands of Republicans entering the Democratic primary, indicates the Democrats will carry every state in the farm belt, regardless of who is the nominee."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who joined with Minnesota's Democratic Gov. Orville Freeman to support Stevenson, said Stevenson's "spirits are high and his determination unwavering," and he added: "His supporters are equally unwavering."

Sen. Lehman (D-NY), saying he was "a little surprised at the great vote" by which Kefauver carried Minnesota, added: "I still believe Adlai Stevenson is the best qualified man for the presidency, and I shall continue to support him as I have in the past."

Humphrey noted that both Stevenson and Kefauver advocated farm price supports at higher levels than the administration does and said the heavy vote in the Democratic primary was a "stunning repudiation of the Eisenhower-Benson farm fiasco." Ezra Taft Benson is secretary of agriculture.

Terminating Stevenson the candidate "most feared" by the Republicans, Humphrey said if Republicans didn't invade the Democratic primary to embarrass him, the only other possible conclusion is that "Republicans flocked to the Democratic banner because they are repudiating their own party."

Sen. Aiken of Vermont, chief Senate backer of the administration's flexible price support program, retorted that "the Minnesota vote indicated an uprising against a group, rather than the farm program."

Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) said "the voters repudiated the Humphrey-Freeman leadership" and showed that they have "just grown tired of Mr. Stevenson's smart aleck approach to national and international issues."

Sen. George (D-Ga.), on the other hand, said the size of the Democratic vote indicated "strong grass roots support" for Democratic farm policies.

Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), who fought alongside the Democrats for a farm bill carrying price supports higher than Eisenhower wanted, said a presidential veto of that measure "would have disastrous results" for the GOP cause in the Midwest.

Red Leaders Still In Saddle As Stalin Idol-Smashing Goes On

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev's "collective leadership" of the Soviet Union appears firmly in the saddle in the midst of its vigorous campaign to smash the Stalin hero myth.

The majority of the Communist party members attending meetings now being held to discuss Khrushchev's secret speech Feb. 24 wholeheartedly approve the party boss's denunciation of the dead dictator, it was learned.

Some party members are reported dissenting in the meetings going on throughout the country. But their disapproval apparently is based not so much on reference as on doubt whether it is wise for the Communist party to adopt such a drastic reconditioning program at this time.

Some of Moscow's top diplomats expressed concern over speculation abroad that recent student demonstrations in Stalin's homeland of Georgia were indications that the Soviet government is tottering. These diplomats regard the demonstrations as no threat to the government, but rather outbursts of a proud, hot-blooded people against criticism of the local boy who made good.

"The systematic destruction of Stalin," said one of the best informed Western diplomats here, "is a cool, calculated program aimed at re-establishing the people's confidence in their government and erasing the feelings of insecurity which prevailed under him."

One Communist source viewed the startling pronouncements and developments of the past weeks as a sign of strength in the Red regime rather than any indication of cracks in its structure.

"It was a shock among the party ranks, but Communist party members are sophisticated people," he declared.

(Khrushchev in his speech reportedly said Stalin had murdered thousands of army personnel and Soviet citizens on trumped-up charges during the bloody purges of the 1930s and his later years. The party secretary also accused Stalin of committing incredible blunders in the war against Hitler.)

(The New York Herald Tribune reported today from Moscow that Khrushchev also said Stalin before his death had planned to liquidate Khrushchev, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and President Klementi Y. Voroshilov. The speech also reportedly accused the dictator of ordering the murders of four-fourths of the delegates to a party Congress because they had criticized his policies.)

Although some informed sources doubt that the text of Khrushchev's speech will ever be published, it has already been widely circulated at the re-education meetings among party members and millions of ordinary workers and peasants.

Mother Lunges At Cabbie Accused In Her Son's Death

CHICAGO (AP)—The mother of a young grain broker, who died 48 hours after he said he was beaten by a cab driver in a dispute over a tip, lunged at the cabbie at a coroner's inquest yesterday.

"I'll kill you! I'll kill you!" screamed Mrs. Charlotte Carlsen, 48, as she advanced on Albert Joseph, 44. "You killed my baby. They can kill me, but I will kill you."

Mrs. Carlsen collapsed, was taken out of the hearing room and revived. She returned to the inquest and once again collapsed.

The coroner's jury recommended that Joseph be held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Earl Carlsen, 26, Joseph, who did not testify, has been charged with the murder of Carlsen, who died Monday night after an operation to remove a blood clot on the brain.

Carlsen's wife Mary Ann, 26, mother of their three children, testified her husband had told her he had been beaten by the cab driver with a blackjack Saturday night in a dispute over a tip.

Police said Joseph related that Carlsen had refused to pay the fare and struck him. He said he hit back, but with his fists, not with a blackjack.

J. C. Armistead Jr. Weds Barbara Bowen

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Armistead Jr. are on a wedding trip to Luidoso, N. M., following their marriage Monday afternoon in Lovington, N. M., at Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The bride is the former Barbara Bowen, daughter of Mrs. Jewel Bowen of Midland. They are ex-residents of Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Armistead, 910 W. 4th, are parents of the bridegroom.

For the double ring ceremony, the bride wore a dress of pale blue taffeta, fashioned with a long bodice and full skirt. A square neckerchief was tucked into a long V in the back, which was fastened with tiny self-covered buttons.

Her pumps and bag were bronze, and she wore a tiny hat of white feathers and rhinestones.

In the wedding tradition, the bride chose a bracelet and earrings belonging to her mother. She had borrowed a handkerchief from the bridegroom's sister, Betty.

The couple will make their home in Big Spring when the bridegroom is separated from the service in December.

Members of the Lions Auxiliary met for luncheon Wednesday at the Howard House, with Mrs. John Coffee and Mrs. Carl Coleman as hostesses.

An arrangement of hyacinths and pear blossoms decorated the table where 22 were seated.

During the business meeting, the nominee for the Woman of the Year was selected. Hostesses for the next meeting are Mrs. Dan Conley and Mrs. Louis Carolhers.

A former resident, Mrs. Von Edwards, was honored with a coffee in the home of Mrs. Maurine Rice, 1018 Ridgeroad, Tuesday morning.

Spring Setting Used For Wednesday Coffee

In surroundings to make a person forget sandstorms and late freezes, six hostesses entertained friends at coffee Wednesday morning at Cosden Country Club.

Floor baskets of spring flowers decorated the ballroom. At one end, a "peach tree" was in full bloom—with the aid of pink popcorn. Gaily colored birds perched in the branches and on a birdcage filled with iris, snapdragons and ranunculus.

Easter bunnies scampered and played under the tree. On the piano, a "little girl" rabbit proudly displayed an arrangement of the same flowers as those in the cage.

Hostesses were Mrs. H. M. Jarrett, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Leroy F. Tidwell, Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. Roy Sloan and Mrs. P. W. Malone.

The refreshment table was covered with a cloth of pastel green under an unfringed organdy cloth. In the center, a large Easter bunny pulled a cart of iris, snapdragons and ranunculus. Bright Easter eggs nestled among the flowers, while others lay scattered at the base of the cart.

Small cookies, shaped and frosted to resemble Easter eggs, were served with other tidbits and coffee.

Important In Grooming

Television fans of Frances Rafferty, who stars in CBS-TV's "December Bride," made her aware how important clothes are to a woman.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY TV Camera Made Her Clothes-Conscious

By LYDIA LANE HOLLYWOOD — Frances Rafferty of CBS-TV's "December Bride" admits that television has made her clothes-conscious.

"I was the only girl in a family of boys," she told me recently when I visited her on the set. "I never played with girls much—I was too busy being a tomboy. I didn't realize how little I really knew about clothes until I began appearing on television. I received some critical letters from some of the show's fans on the subject of my clothes. I didn't realize how much attention my wardrobe was getting until then and I felt obligated to let our women fans down so I subscribed to several fashion magazines and began to choose my clothing with a great deal more care."

Frances told me that she started her career as a dancer but had a bad accident in which she broke her leg. "That's when I turned to acting," she said, "but I'll always be grateful for the ballet training I had because I feel it is the most constructive kind of exercise you can get."

"It improves your posture, keeps your muscles limber and you acquire stamina and perseverance. Ballet helped me overcome my self-consciousness."

Frances believes that everyone should have an exercise program. "If you happen to have a job that is sedentary, make the most of what little activity it involves. When you cross the room for a drink of water, walk correctly with good posture."

"Even sitting in a chair you can get a certain amount of exercise. Raise your legs from the floor, stretching your knees and pointing your toes as if you were reaching for the opposite wall. When you Circle Meets Friday

Garden Club Book Wins District First

The pressbook of the Big Spring Garden Club was awarded first place in Class Two at the convention of District One garden clubs held in Amarillo Tuesday and Wednesday, Mrs. D. S. Riley, president of the club returned home Wednesday evening.

Classes are divided according to the number of members each club has. A limit of 30 in the local club, places that group in Class Two.

Mrs. Allen Hamilton is the pressbook chairman. She has mounted each entry on a double mat and has used members' pictures from the press. The cover of the book is embellished with a copper strip, hand-tooled by Mrs. Hamilton, in an iris design, featuring the club's flower.

Mrs. Riley, a member of the executive board, reported that Mrs. W. D. Sides of Amarillo was elected district yearbook chairman; Mrs. T. E. Milam of Lubbock was chosen treasurer, and Mrs. Floyd Stepp of Odessa, scrapbook chairman.

Lubbock was selected as the 1957 meeting place for the group, the date to coincide with the short course offered to garden clubs by Texas Tech. The members accepted the revisions made in the by-laws.

Mrs. J. D. Dillard of Midland will be presented for governor of the district. Members were told that the deadline for reservations for Tech's short course this year is March 24. Tickets are $2, and one person for each five members is eligible to attend. The course will be given April 3.

Announcement was made of the state convention to be held in Austin April 24-26. Clubs having an attendance of 29 to go by bus can get a round trip fare for $11. Deadline for these reservations is April 15.

Theme of the programs was "Gardening on the Golden Spread." Participating were Mrs. A. L. Manjot of Hereford, Mrs. Stepp, Mrs. Jason Robberson of Amarillo, Mrs. T. P. Vaughn of Phillips, Mrs. M. G. Mathis, Mrs. Joe Deason and Mrs. Hal Peck of Midland.

There were 123 in attendance.

1905 Hyperion Club Has Federation Day

Federation Day was observed by members of the 1905 Hyperion Club Wednesday afternoon at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Loyd Branon. The theme was "Unity in Diversity."

Mrs. Tracy Smith told of the beginnings of federated clubs. The idea was originated in 1889 at the celebration of the 21st anniversary of the Sorosis Club.

This group began with five women of New York City, who rebelled when they were not allowed to attend entertainments for Charles Dickens, who was visiting the city in 1868. The name, translated, is "Sweet Flavor of Many Fruits."

Organized in Philadelphia, the group demanded reform in dress to the extent that dresses were shortened to four inches from the floor. This brought on much criticism, but it eliminated the unsanitary condition of trailing skirts in the dirt.

Mrs. J. T. Brooks discussed Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, who was the first Texas woman to be president of the national federation. She was in office from 1912-1916. While she and her husband were teachers in the schools of Tylor, she wrote a history of Texas. It could not be published under her name because of her sex. Her husband took credit for the book, and it was published, being used for 40 years in Texas schools.

At graduation, Mrs. Pennybacker had an average of 99, which entitled her to the honor of being valedictorian. Again, because of her sex, Mrs. Brooks told the group, she was not allowed to receive the honor. It went to a boy with an average of 89.

Mrs. Obie Bristow discussed the work of Mrs. Dorothy Howton, federation president in 1950-52. Mrs. Howton tried to have legislation passed against the selling of dope to juveniles. She also started the tours taken by club women of this country into other countries. These have been approved by government agencies, which consider them important in improving relations between the various peoples.

Mrs. Clyde Angel summed up the future of the club women. She showed how the women will leave a better heritage for the homes, churches and the general public because of the cooperation of federated clubs.

Mrs. W. A. Hunt was named as the club's selection for Woman of the Year. Refreshments were served to 20.

National League Stronger, Insists Cardinals' Lane

Buccos Help Loop Cause

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

There may or may not be something in Frank Lane's recent observation that "the National League is a stronger league than the American."
The senior circuit has captured the last two World Series—by the Dodgers last year and the Giants in 1954—and five of the last six All-Star Games.
And the National League has the statistics going for them in the Grapefruit-Cactus competition this spring. In 53 interleague exhibition games, NL teams are out in front 28-24 with one tie.

Lane, who took over as St. Louis Cardinals' general manager this year after a similar tenure with the Chicago White Sox, said, "If the Cards were in the American League they'd finish ahead of the White Sox." Considering that St. Louis wound up in seventh place and the White Sox in third a year ago, that's quite a statement.
And Mr. Lane's Redbirds are carrying the National League banner in fine style in the exhibition games. They've beaten American League clubs five times and lost only twice.

But it's been the Pittsburgh Pirates who've done best against American League opponents. They're 5-1. The Dodgers are 5-3, the Chicago Cubs 5-4, the Giants 4-4, Cincinnati 2-4, Philadelphia 1-3 and Milwaukee 1-3 with a tie.
The Boston Red Sox have put together the best American League mark. They've won four, lost one with one deadlock. The other records are: New York Yankees 4-2, the White Sox 3-2, Cleveland 5-4, Washington 2-3, Kansas City 2-4, Baltimore 3-4 and Detroit 1-4.

The Red Sox, however, may have lost their No. 1 slugger, Ted Williams, for the remainder of the exhibition season.
The Boston Post reported Ted pulled a leg muscle in a workout and has been advised by team trainer Jack Fadden that Williams' age, 37, the injury won't heal as quickly as in his younger days.
The National won both interleague skirmishes yesterday. The champion Dodgers edged the Detroit Tigers 3-2 on Randy Jackson's 10th-inning single as the Pittsburghers downed Washington 6-3 behind the effective pitching of Vernon Law and Ronnie Kline.

In games involving National League clubs, Cincinnati parlayed four singles and 11 bases on balls into a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburghers. The Cards pounded the Phillies and Dave Jolly for 15 hits in handing Milwaukee its fourth straight setback 9-2. And the Giants broke loose for 14 hits, including homers by Hank Thompson, pitcher Johnny Antonelli and George Wilson, to nip the Cubs 11-1.
In the American, Larry Doby connected for a 400-foot homer as the White Sox blanked the Red Sox 5-0. Bobby Avila, playing his second game of the spring, drove in four runs with two triples and a single to lead Cleveland to an 11-4 victory over Baltimore. And Mickey Mantle continued his prolific hitting with a homer and a triple as the Yankees tripped Kansas City 9-5.

College Teams Face Giants

DENVER (AP)—Two talented collections of collegians from the Deep South and the Far West challenge veteran AAU clubs in tonight's quarter-finals of the 49th annual National AAU Basketball Tournament.
The Pasadena, Calif., Mirror Glaze Five, featuring Pasadena Nazarene College players, advanced yesterday with the meet's biggest upset—an 86-75 conquest of the Peoria, Ill., Cats, 1954 champions and seeded No. 2 in the current meet.
Almost matching the Pasadena collegiate performance, seniors from the University of Alabama in a Southeastern Conference champions moved ahead with an 85-77 triumph over seeded Akron, Ohio, Goodyears.
Pasadena meets the Seattle Buchanan Bakers and the Alabamians, flying the colors of Ada Oilers of Mobile, clash with Wichita, Kan., Vickers' Oilers in the quarter-final features.

Other quarter-final games send defending champion Phillips 66 of Bartlesville, Okla., against the all-Negro Rainier Comets of Chicago and the Denver Central Bankers against the Milwaukee Allen-Bradleys.
DENTON, Tex. (AP)—Boyd Dollar will run 100 yards in the West Texas Relays at Odessa Saturday. He'll probably break the record of 9.7 but still not win the race.
It's been like that for some time with the ace sprinter of North Texas State College. He's one of the best runners in the country but can't get recognition because he's always finishing second.
The night he ran his fastest 100—9.4—he wound up second. The reason—Bobby Morrow, Abilene Christian College's great runner, who did 9.1.

Cayuses Face Big Task In Battle With Dons

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—San Francisco's seemingly invincible Dons are one of the most overwhelming choices in NCAA Basketball Tournament history tonight as they open play for their second national championship.
They take the all-time longest major winning streak of 53 games into action against Southern Methodist in the second game. Temple (26-3) faces Big Ten champion Iowa (19-5) in the opener of the four-team showdown.
The winners will meet tomorrow night for the title in Northwestern's new McGraw Hall.
SMU, unbeaten in the Southwest Conference, has won its last 19 starts and has a season record of 25-2. Led by 6-4 junior center Jim Krebs, the Mustangs have the best free throw percentage in the country, .766, and rank ninth in field goal accuracy with .430.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart
They say the lap HCJC's John Dale Curtis ran in that junior college mile relay race at the Southwest Recreation Meet at Fort Worth last week was a sight to behold.
Curtis took the baton far in the wake of the leader but brought it in ahead of the field with a tremendous surge of power. His finish brought the crowd to its feet.
True, the Jayhawk team finished back in the pack in the event but that couldn't bight the brilliant showing of the Denver City sophomore, who is working hard to attain the form he displayed last year.
Big Spring High School has lost another potential first string footballer to the Armed Forces.
He is Marvin Wooten, a candidate for the fullback job with the Steers. He joined the U.S. Navy the past week.
One hearing Jimmy Bice, a letterman end and basketball player, is moving to Oklahoma, too.
One by one and two by two, they depart our town.
The Most Valuable Player award given to Amarillo's Charley Brown in the recent Region V Basketball Tournament at Amarillo has been returned by that individual and turned over to Fran Seiburr of Cameron, second in the balloting.
Brown surrendered the cup when he was declared ineligible.
Now that this area is being saturated with television, and 'live' television, at that, perhaps you'd like to see a lineup of some of the football games which will be screened this fall by the networks.
The program opens Sept. 22, with Georgia Tech meeting Kentucky. The imbroglio between TCU and Arkansas will be aired Oct. 6. Oklahoma and Notre Dame assume the spotlight Oct. 27.
The outstanding Big Ten game will be carried on Nov. 10. Penn and Cornell have at it Nov. 22. UCLA and Southern Cal treat the video audiences Nov. 24. Army and Navy can be seen Dec. 1.
Pittsburgh and Miami have taken Dec. 8 booking offered by the TV people.
That's the date which several teams affiliated with conferences turned down because they would have to share their loot with other league contingents.
Pitt and Miami are independent, however, and will split the $160,000 they receive down the middle.
Baseball's "Game Of The Week" television shows begin April 7 over CBS-TV, at which time the New York Giants and Cleveland vie in an exhibition. Twenty-five Saturday shows will follow.
Mutual's "Game Of The Day" radio broadcasts will get under way this Saturday and Vince Larsen of Station KTXC says all broadcasts will be 'live' this year, not taped, as they were in some instances last year.
No fewer than 64 boys were entered in the 440-yard run in the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder last week.
It appears now that as many as six junior colleges may send teams here for the March 30 American Business Club Relays.

North Ward Wins Over Spartans

Jack Everett's North Ward team made a successful debut in Ward School Softball League play by belting Park Hill, 12-4, here Wednesday.
Mike Martinez pitched and batted North to the win. He clubbed a two-on homer and went all the way on the mound.
Everett's team chased four runs around the plate in the fourth.

Texans To Face Moberly Quint

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Kilgore, Tex., downed Graceland of Iowa, 65-63, here last night to move into the semifinals of the National Junior College Basketball Tournament.
The Texas squad will meet Moberly, Mo., the defending champion, tomorrow night.

CRANE (SC)—Pres Presler hurled the Crane Golden Cranes to a 10-4 baseball victory over the Big Spring Steers here Wednesday afternoon, setting the visitors down with three hits. He struck out nine.
T. L. Kennedy was equally impressive on the mound for Big Spring. He rationed out only three safeties but was victimized by six misplays on the part of his mates.
Jerry McMahan, Preston Daniels and Kennedy collected Big Spring's hits.
The loss was the fifth in six starts for Big Spring, which plays Snyder in Snyder this afternoon. Billy Bluhm will start the 3:45 contest for Big Spring.

NIT S-Finals Set Tonight

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—The two-week interval between the end of the regular basketball season and the start of the National Invitation tournament virtually makes a new season out of the oldest post-season court extravaganza.
Tonight's semifinal games could mean another fresh start for the four teams involved.
It's Louisville against St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Dayton against St. Francis of Brooklyn—three seeded teams and one outsider. Only one of the four, St. Joseph's, played a game in two weeks before the tournament opened last Saturday.
The long layoffs were reflected in the shabby performances of the top-rated teams, Dayton and Louisville. On their regular season form, when each won 23 games and lost three, these two should meet in the nationally televised final Saturday afternoon.
Off their tournament performances so far, it could be third-seeded St. Joseph's (21-5) against unranked St. Francis (21-2) in the final.
These two, which had to hustle a season, apparently weren't bothered by rustiness as much as the nationally ranked teams. Dayton was third in the final Associated Press ranking poll and Louisville sixth. St. Joseph's didn't end its regular season until March 18, when it lost to Temple. St. Francis, idle for three weeks, has had two tournament games to regain its form.
Dayton Coach Tommy Blackburn, disturbed by his team's showing in a fluky 72-68 victory over Xavier (Ohio), sent the Flyers through a stiff workout yesterday and mullied over possible lineup changes.
"I don't know much about St. Francis because I've been scouting the wrong teams all through the tournament," he confessed. "But I'm more concerned about Dayton."

Needles Favored In Florida Race

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Needles, Florida-bred winner of the Flamingo Stakes, is a 2-1 favorite to capture the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park Saturday but if past events are any indication, his handlers have four colts to fear.
A dozen and perhaps 14 may start in the $100,000 mile and an eighth event and any of those swift 3-year-olds could win it but Needles' backers probably will be watching Terrang, Like Magic, Count Chic and Reaping Right closely of all.
Rex C. Ellsworth won the Santa Anita Derby with Terrang and will send Like Magic, a full brother to Swaps, out in the Florida Derby as an entry with his top colt.

Akins Wants Shot At Tony DeMarco

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Virgil (Honey-Bear) Akins says he isn't afraid of welterweight champion Johnny Saxton but he'd like a shot at second-ranked Tony DeMarco because "I'm entitled to it and it'd be a great fight."
Akins needed a last-round flurry for a close but unanimous decision over smart Hector Constance of Trinidad here last night in a 10-rounder.

In Title Test

DALLAS (AP)—Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur will defend his Texas lightweight title here tonight against Joe Boland of San Antonio in a scheduled 10-round bout. Both weigh 126.
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—James Lamar Rhodes, who is more familiar as plain Dusty of pinch-hitting renown for the New York Giants, just might desert the bench for regular day-to-day duty.
Dusty was a standout hero of the 1954 World Series Giant championship team. He could do no wrong with his large bat, and he did things with it at the most propitious moments.
Last year he was something less than a sensation, and so was the third-finishing Giant team. True, his official average for 187 times at bat in 92 games was a respectable .305. But the dramatic game-winning blow was lacking.
The outlook is different this spring.
He is hitting close to .400, as compared to a minute .095 last spring. And he has whacked out four home runs, where last spring he couldn't buy a home run or a hit.
The man from Montgomery, Ala., reported to camp in excellent shape, which was in contrast to a year ago when he was still debating over Cleveland.
Back of this is a more significant point. Bill Rigney, the new New York manager, promised that Rhodes would be given a chance to play every day, not just as a pinch hitter, and Rigney has played Dusty as often as possible.
In the last two games, Rhodes has hit two home runs, a triple, a double and a single.

Fuller, Janak Are Best Steer Bets At Odessa

Harold Bentley and Emmet Broderson take their Big Spring High School track and field boys to Odessa Friday for preliminaries in the West Texas Relays.
Finals in the high school division of the big meet will be held Saturday afternoon.
The Steers are one of 47 schoolboy teams entered in the two-day show. About 20 boys will wear local colors in Odessa.
Big Spring finished third in the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham two weeks ago, scoring a total of 20 points. Last week, the Steers managed only seven points in the Canyon Reef Relays at Snyder, getting second place in the mile and third places in the 100 and 200.
Coach Bentley said he was disappointed in the boys' performances at Snyder and added they were capable of doing better.
The Steers' best bets again appear to be Bobby Fuller in the mile run and Johnny Janak in the 100 and 200.

Odessa And HCJC In Meet Friday

Final preparations will be made at HCJC's track today for Friday afternoon's dual meet between the Odessa Wranglers and George McAllister's HCJC Jayhawks.
The meet gets under way at 1:30 p.m. There will be no preliminaries.
There is still a possibility Cisco JC will take a team here for the meet. Coaches there were indefinite about plans earlier this week. Cisco is coming here for the big ABC Relays a week from tomorrow and officials did not know whether they could dispatch a team here two weeks in a row.
Both HCJC and Odessa competed in the Southwestern Exposition Meet in Fort Worth last week.
Neither scored a point but the Hawks were a bit the more impressive.
Too, HCJC will benefit from the performances of Harold Hicks and Bob Jones, who did not get to make the trip to Fort Worth.
HCJC is due to be strong in the 200, 440 and half mile, the pole vault and perhaps the broad jump.
HCJC's track is in fine shape for the meet. Coach McAllister can take much of the credit for getting the big oval ready, since he has been working ceaselessly over a period of months to get it ready.
Larry McCulloch, the former Big Spring High School coach, will bring the Odessa team here.

Brunton, Bearcats Sparkle In Forsan Track Carnival

FORSAN (SC)—Garden City's Bearcats won a triangular track and field meet here Wednesday afternoon, scoring 73 1-3 points to 56 5-6 for Forsan and 15 5-6 for Water Valley.
Pat Brunton of Forsan proved the outstanding star of the meet. He won first places in the 100, 440 and broad jump and ran anchor on the winning mile relay team for a total of 16 1/4 points.
Brunton's time in the 100 was a surprisingly fast ten seconds flat, one of the best posted in West Texas this year.
Forsan won seven first places to only four for Garden City but the Cats turned up with an abundance of seconds and thirds in west.

Sainburg Ruling Affirmed in Austin

Just for the record, the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin Wednesday affirmed the order of Big Spring Judge Charlie Sullivan that Dr. Frank Sainburg be returned to New York to face kidnapping charges.

The court action had no significance, since Dr. Sainburg already is in New York and awaiting trial in April.

The former VA Hospital surgeon surrendered to Ithaca, N. Y., authorities approximately a month ago. He neglected to withdraw his appeal of Judge Sullivan's ruling before leaving Texas.

The Sainburg case is set for April 13 in Ithaca. He is charged with kidnaping his son from his former wife on two occasions in 1964 and 1955.

Jess Talkin'

by Jess Blair

Has anyone lost a three or four-month-old Jersey calf? If so, Sheriff Jess Slaughter has found part of it—the head, feet, hide and entrails. He picked them up on the dirt road two miles east of Elbow, and is now wondering where the rest of the calf went.

If anyone has such a calf missing, please contact the sheriff, so he will have a better chance of apprehending the thief.

Another conservation practice has been added to the Howard County ASC Handbook. This is the practice of deferred grazing. For six months deferral, the payment is 50 cents per acre, and for three months it is 25 cents.

Time limit for applying for the longer deferral is May 15, and for the shorter one it is June 15. This practice applies only to pasture land that is ordinarily grazed, said county office manager, Gabe Hammack.

Hammack says some terracing is going on, but it's slow going with the soil as dry as it is. Several farmers tried to build them with their own plows and stopped before the regular height was reached. He said Edgar Phillips was doing a fair job with his Hancock Terracer.

Give a man enough little irrigation wells and he can water a mighty big field. R. D. Jones, who farms northeast of Midland, drilled a small well two or three years ago and got only about 70 gallons a minute. He put down others until he now has five hooked onto one sprinkler.

One loan official in speaking of Jones said the wells were only seep holes, but had made a good profit every year. Jones spends most of the winter soaking down the field, then tries to get over the cotton crop two or three times during the growing season.

He lives in an area where dryland crops have failed the last few years. Several of his neighbors have irrigation wells, with none of them putting out much more than a windmill. Yet the owners say they are making money with them.

Fields in the Lomax community have held their own until the last sandstorm, but now the soil is beginning to move. Several farmers are trying to put up their land in first one way then another, says Cecil Long, Lomax gin manager and farmer. He has been chiseling but doesn't think it does much good. The chisels are turning up some big clods that may make the land mean to work later on.

Long says several farmers get good grazing from stalk fields this winter, but all have quit now except Everett Lomax. He still has some cattle on one field.

Most of the irrigation farmers have their land up and are busy pouring water on the soil. Several good wells have been brought in since last fall. The Haney well west of Lomax now has a helper, with the drilling of a new one. The two wells pump about 250 to 275 gallons per minute.

J. M. Bradley, district manager for Paymaster Gins, says the seven-county area in which he works is as dry as he ever saw it. There is a little moisture from Ackerly north but it is only plowing moisture. There won't be any left for planting.

"Unless we get rain by planting time," he said, "it will have to rain every 10 days from then on to make a crop."

Bradley says the irrigation farmers are a little behind in work but are rapidly catching up on their watering. He thinks most irrigated cotton will be fertilized heavier than last year.

"They will try to offset acreage reductions by making just a little more to the acre," he said.

The price of eggs is going down. You can't tell much difference in the grocery stores, but producers are getting from 10 to 15 cents a dozen less. Local egg dealer, Jay Cunningham, says he hopes they will have reached as low as they will go for a few months.

One bright side for producers is that the hens are laying well. It seems they always do when eggs get cheap. Cunningham markets for several of the caged-egg owners and is selling the entire output to customers in Big Spring.

He says no new caged-hen houses have been started in this area, but several farmers are starting pullets on the floor. Some of these flocks will range from 300 to 400.

During my eight years as a soil surveyor, I surveyed nearly 100 ranches in West Texas, but never worked as a cowhand but four months. This happened when I was 15, just after we moved to West Texas. I took a job on a neighboring ranch from a big, sour-faced cattleman named Taylor.

It was here that I learned to respect the trained cow horse. I had ridden saddle horses since I was six, but these ranch animals not only were big and tough but they were smart. It was my first experience on a horse that knew his business without being told.

The one he gave me to ride was a big white horse about 12 years old. He was called Smokey, and was as smart as some people. In fact, he knew a lot more about running a ranch than I would ever know.

The first week I worked there, Mr. Taylor sent me about three miles across the pasture to fix a gate. It was a dark, cold day, and just when the gate was finished, a hard, blinding snowstorm blew in.

I couldn't see a hundred yards ahead of me and soon became lost, or turned around. I tried to pull Smokey in the direction I thought the ranch house was, but he wanted to see off at right angles. I sawed on the bridle reins until I was almost crying but it did no good. Finally my arms and hands became numb with cold, and the old horse loped off the way he wanted to go in the first place.

I knew we were lost and would freeze to death. But in 15 minutes we suddenly came upon the ranch corral. Mr. Taylor was just starting out to look for me.

I told him about getting lost and trying to head off in the wrong direction. He looked at me and then at the horse, like he was making a comparison between the two of us.

Finally he turned to me and said in that blunt manner of his: "Boy, that old horse knows this ranch like I do on the palm of my hand. From now on, just follow orders around here and do the work. You let the horse do all the thinking."

Compromise Farm Bill May Be Ready Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Cooley (D-NC) said today a compromise farm bill may be ready for final action shortly after Congress returns from its Easter recess April 9.

Cooley, as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, will head House conferees who will meet with representatives of the Senate in an effort to compromise vastly different farm bills.

"We're not going to stall," Cooley told newsmen. "I'm going to try to get the conferees to work over the recess. We're going to try our best to compromise our differences with the Senate and get out a good bill."

In a broad hint that he might vote a measure which resembled that passed Monday night by the Senate, President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday it is unworkable and not a good bill.

He voiced hope that the Senate House conferees "may write a good bill, and one which can really be helpful to the farmer."

That seemed to be a slim hope. Conferees are not free to start from scratch. Their assignment is to recommend compromises or the scrapping of provisions which are in disagreement between the two branches.

The administration opposes the only two major provisions of the bill the House passed last year—a return to rigid price supports on five basic crops and a hike in the minimum support level for dairy products.

The Senate bill contains authority for the administration's soil bank, designed to take land out of production of crops now in surplus, but the Senate added features of its own. Other provisions of the Senate measure are a similar boost in dairy price supports, two-price support programs for cotton and rice, surplus set-asides and other proposals the administration opposed.

On a related issue, the House voted 215-195 yesterday to reject the recommendation of Cooley's committee and approved a Senate bill calling for a two-year, 160-million-dollar school milk program.

Local Unit Rebels At Westinghouse

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 6,500-member union local has refused to return to work at the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant in nearby Sharon, bringing from the company a charge the local was violating a pact that ended the 156-day nationwide strike against Westinghouse.

Local 617 of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) voted last night not to return to work pending a discussion of the status of nine Sharon employees suspended by the company for alleged picket line violence.

The local's action was taken after the company announced it planned to call some 4,500 members back to the Sharon transformer plant today.

Most of the 44,000 IUE members were returning to work gradually in 29 other plants under terms of the five-year contract agreed to Monday night.

The company planned to meet today with representatives of the independent United Electrical Workers, representing 10,500 Westinghouse employees at 10 other plants still struck. It was hoped the smaller union would agree to a pact similar to that accepted by the IUE.

The settlement with the IUE included a provision dealing with 36 workers who had been fired for alleged picket line violence during the strike.

The national agreement provided the 36 men were to be placed on indefinite suspension pending disposition of their cases. It called for discussion of each case at the plant level. If the union was not satisfied, it could take the cases to arbitration.

Henry Gunesch, business agent of Local 617, told his members the company would discuss only four of the nine cases yesterday. He said these four had been resolved with "definite suspensions" and that discussions of the five remaining cases would be held today.

Although Gunesch would not say what the "definite suspensions" were, a source close to both union and management said a six-week suspension had been agreed upon.

There was no comment from the union's international officers, headed by James B. Carey. But Westinghouse declared: "This action by the Sharon local is a direct violation of the strike settling agreement. It clearly is an obvious move to bring pressure on our Sharon management concerning the men who were indefinitely suspended."

Ft. Stockton Man Is Shot To Death

FORT STOCKTON (AP)—A livestock truck operator, Everett Parks, 44, was found fatally wounded at his home last night. A pistol with two of its eight bullets fired was found on the floor near the body.

Brady Man Held On Bad Check Charge

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—Billy Short of Brady, Tex., was charged with passing bad checks here yesterday. Officers said he admitted obtaining $4,000 in eight college towns by posing as a student.

The price of eggs is going down. You can't tell much difference in the grocery stores, but producers are getting from 10 to 15 cents a dozen less. Local egg dealer, Jay Cunningham, says he hopes they will have reached as low as they will go for a few months.

One bright side for producers is that the hens are laying well. It seems they always do when eggs get cheap. Cunningham markets for several of the caged-egg owners and is selling the entire output to customers in Big Spring.

He says no new caged-hen houses have been started in this area, but several farmers are starting pullets on the floor. Some of these flocks will range from 300 to 400.

During my eight years as a soil surveyor, I surveyed nearly 100 ranches in West Texas, but never worked as a cowhand but four months. This happened when I was 15, just after we moved to West Texas. I took a job on a neighboring ranch from a big, sour-faced cattleman named Taylor.

It was here that I learned to respect the trained cow horse. I had ridden saddle horses since I was six, but these ranch animals not only were big and tough but they were smart. It was my first experience on a horse that knew his business without being told.

The one he gave me to ride was a big white horse about 12 years old. He was called Smokey, and was as smart as some people. In fact, he knew a lot more about running a ranch than I would ever know.

The first week I worked there, Mr. Taylor sent me about three miles across the pasture to fix a gate. It was a dark, cold day, and just when the gate was finished, a hard, blinding snowstorm blew in.

I couldn't see a hundred yards ahead of me and soon became lost, or turned around. I tried to pull Smokey in the direction I thought the ranch house was, but he wanted to see off at right angles. I sawed on the bridle reins until I was almost crying but it did no good. Finally my arms and hands became numb with cold, and the old horse loped off the way he wanted to go in the first place.

I knew we were lost and would freeze to death. But in 15 minutes we suddenly came upon the ranch corral. Mr. Taylor was just starting out to look for me.

I told him about getting lost and trying to head off in the wrong direction. He looked at me and then at the horse, like he was making a comparison between the two of us.

Finally he turned to me and said in that blunt manner of his: "Boy, that old horse knows this ranch like I do on the palm of my hand. From now on, just follow orders around here and do the work. You let the horse do all the thinking."

HCJC Revenues In 6 Months Equal Sum Expected For Year

Howard County Junior College has collected almost as much revenue during the first half of the fiscal year as was budgeted for all year. However, the major season for revenues is now past.

During the first six months of the fiscal year receipts amounted to $294,385.04, while the budget called for only $294,580 for the entire year. Bookstore revenue, because of a sharp enrollment increase, has been $2,602 above estimates. Miscellaneous revenues were up also by $2,245.

Disbursements during February amounted to $24,543.21, bringing to $164,044.06 expended from the general fund since Sept. 1, 1955. The rate of disbursements is in line with that anticipated in the $294,580 budget.

In February library expenses amounted to $898.40, the athletic department $1,123.01, the co-curricular activities $4,624.14, general and administrative $5,108.89, instructional $9,572.79 (including $8,705 instructional salaries), $711.08 travel; $1,786.77 plant operation; $220.40 bus operation; $213.90 repairs; and $278.83 capital outlay. Expenditures for February were $10,900.70 more than receipts.

Expenditures from the interest and sinking fund for February amounted to $5,520, bringing to $23,261.25 the amount spent this year. This left the fund with a balance of $41,897.26.

The building fund showed an income of $5,586.54 in interest on bond funds invested in U.S. Treasury bills pending time of need. Disbursements stood at $47,228.24, leaving the fund with $521,437.95.

At the end of February the general fund showed $99,139.83 (book) balance the state and county fund $32,731.15, the building fund $223,323.95 interest and sinking fund $45,259.57, social security fund $5,104.83. 20-Year Term For Robbery

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Twenty years in prison face a couple of young Texans who kidnaped and robbed a former United States treasurer. Five years in a reformatory are ahead for a pert young brunette who helped them lay plans to do it again.

The prison terms were imposed by U. S. Dist. Judge Arthur J. Mellott yesterday on James Arlington Debenham II, 24, son of a Longview, Tex., psychologist, and Louis Dee Young, 25, whose father is a Dallas contractor. They pleaded guilty to charges of aggravated bank robbery.

Mrs. Frankie Evelyn Fletcher, 27, of Dallas must serve five years in the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, W. Va. She pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy.

Last Jan. 2, Debenham, Young and Billy Gene Ross, 23, of Dallas, entered the home of Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark Gray, U. S. treasurer under President Truman, in Richmond, Kan. They bound her husband with adhesive tape. Then, while the other two guarded Gray, Ross forced Mrs. Gray to drive him to a bank she operates in Richmond and turn over about $4,000. Later she was returned to her home and left, bound, with her husband.

On Jan. 28 Ross was shot to death by Gray as he climbed stairs leading to second-floor bedrooms in the Gray home. Mrs. Fletcher was identified as the driver of what was to have been the getaway car in this, the second attempt to hold up Mrs. Gray.

Jailers Indicted On Escape Charge

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Two Laredo jailers were indicted here yesterday by a federal grand jury on charges of "voluntarily suffering" prisoners in their custody to escape from the Webb County jail.

Thomas Gonzales Tiojas was charged in connection with the Nov. 5 jailbreak in which Michael and Spiro Karabelos escaped. Roberto Saverdera Hernandez was indicted in the Feb. 17 jailbreak in which seven prisoners, including the Karabelos brothers, escaped.

Governor's Race Will Be Rugged

By JACK BELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The ingredients are being assembled in Ohio today for a free-wheeling political battle that may determine control of the Senate in the next Congress.

The average voter here is inclined to accept forecasts that President Eisenhower will sweep Ohio again next fall as he did in 1952. Candidates for governor have not yet been chosen in the primaries.

But all Ohio knows that Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Republican Sen. George H. Bender are set to throw the political book at each other in the senatorial race. And there is no unanimity of opinion about the outcome.

Lausche, a political leader who ignores both labor leaders and Democratic organization chiefs, is trying out in a new league after five two-year terms as governor—a record in Ohio. He won his fourth term in 1952 by a margin of 425,000 votes while Eisenhower was rolling to a 500,000 majority in the state.

Bender, best Democratic Sen. Thomas A. Burke, a Lausche appointee, by only 2,900 votes in 1954 to round out the last two years of Taft's term. Taft died in mid-1953.

Cold statistics fail to take into account the cross-currents of Ohio politics which are likely to find Democratic Representatives Michael J. Kirwan, chairman of the party's congressional campaign committee, and Wayne Hays, 18th District congressman, rolling all possible stumbling blocks in Lausche's path.

Lausche has Democratic enemies in Cleveland. He can expect little aid—if any—from union leaders. He has lost to Bender some of the financial support he always had from Republican industrialists in his campaigns for governor.

On the other hand, the irrepressible Bender faces a psychological disadvantage born of Lausche's frequent state victories. Not all Ohio Republicans are enthusiastic about Bender and, as says himself, one of his main jobs is to "keep the regular Republicans in the party" and away from Lausche's camp.

The biggest asset going for Bender appears to be Eisenhower's decision to run again. Bender's voice is raised constantly these days in praise of Eisenhower and in pledges of loyalty to the GOP administration.

But the unorthodox Lausche too praises Eisenhower. This prompted the exasperated Bender to explode:

"Lausche is trying to grab Ike's coat-tails. Those coat-tails are already occupied by me and there isn't room for anybody else there."

A finance committee made up of some of Ohio's leading industrialists is out to raise $500,000 for Bender's campaign. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has written letters soliciting donations. Lausche says he won't spend more than $30,000 and may make an issue of the contrast.

Bender is pitching his campaign on the contention that Eisenhower needs a Republican Senate if he wins a second term. Democrats now outnumber Senate Republicans 49-47 and a net gain of one vote, combined with the vice president's tie-breaker, could give the GOP control in 1957.

Bender contends Ohio farmers are going to vote for "peace" even if their economic condition isn't quite up to what they would like to have. He said the farmers don't blame Eisenhower for their woes.

Eugene H. Hanhart, Democratic state chairman, agreed with Lausche that it's too early to gauge the unrest among the farmers whose crops are diversified and thus not so widely dependent on government payments.

"I wouldn't make the statement that Eisenhower won't carry the state," Hanhart said. But he added he doesn't think even Eisenhower can save Bender from defeat.

John Rooney, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO Council, conceded that "the President is more popular generally with labor people than many other Republicans would be." But he said he doesn't believe the President retains as wide appeal as he had in 1952.

Rooney thought the Democrats might pick up "a seat or two" in the House. Ohio Republicans now hold 17 and Democrats 6 seats.

Ray Bliss, Republican State chairman, said he is confident the GOP can hold all the House posts it now has and perhaps pick up some.

Republicans apparently are going to put up their strongest fights against Democratic Representatives James G. Polk in the 6th District in southern Ohio and against Thomas L. Ashley in the 9th, the Toledo area.

Vandals Phone To Warn Of Raids

DALLAS (AP)—Police said yesterday that teen-aged vandals had begun making anonymous phone calls to schools and businesses warning them of proposed acts of vandalism.

Police said 16 schools and businesses were warned yesterday and that it would be impossible to station officers at all the threatened buildings.

Nine of 14 schools that were threatened Tuesday were vandalized Tuesday night, police said.

Hogs Escape As Train Derails

STRINGTOWN, Okla. (AP)—A pack of hogs roamed the woods near here today—orphans of a Katy freight train derailment yesterday.

The 86-car freight hit a faulty switch, officials said, and 17 cars were derailed. Three cars were loaded with about 400 hogs. About 150 were killed and many others were injured and later killed by residents of the area. The rest got away and headed for the woods.

Bill Collectors Find Use Big Spring Daily Herald For New Certified Mail

SEC. II BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1956 FOOD

Bill collectors, seeking debtors who have dropped out of sight, are among the biggest users of "certified mail," a relatively new service of the U.S. Post Office Department.

Postal officials didn't design the service for the benefit of collectors, but that group was one of the first to catch on to the debt-tracing value of certified mail.

Certified mail is a sort of adjunct to registered mail, which often is used for shipment of articles of value.

It provides no indemnity, as in the case of registered mail. Certification merely enables the sender of some document to know when and where his message was delivered. Certified mail is recommended for sending papers which have no appreciable value other than the fact that it is important that their message reach the designated individual.

A cancellation notice for an insurance policy is one example of the type of mail for which certification was designed.

Mail can be certified for a 15-cent fee. For another seven cents, the sender can secure a return receipt showing to whom and when the certified letter was delivered. And for an additional fee of 31 cents, the post office will provide the sender with a card showing when, to whom and WHERE the letter was delivered.

It's the latter category service which bill collectors are taking advantage of.

In a theoretical case, someone moves from Big Spring, leaving some unpaid bills behind. He leaves a forwarding address at the local post office, but neglects to notify his creditor of his new address.

Postal workers aren't permitted to divulge forwarding addresses which are left on file. However, creditors quickly learned that by certifying letters containing bills to their creditors they could get the return cards showing new addresses. Then collectors can go knocking on doors with personal demands for payments.

The certified mail isn't proving as popular with other groups as was expected. There's a possibility the service may be dropped unless it is more widely used. E. C. Boatler, Big Spring postmaster, said. It was started last July.

2 Harlingen Officers Die In T29 Crash

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—Two officers from Harlingen Air Force Base were killed Tuesday when their T29 training plane crashed and burned during an attempt to land at Dobbins Air Force Base near Marietta, Ga.

They were Capt. Cecil J. Bryant, Harlingen, and 1st Lt. Donald S. Carillo, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Harlingen AFB officials said the men were en route from Harlingen to Idlewild Airport in New York where the plane was to be overhauled. They said the men had reported trouble maintaining directional control of the plane.

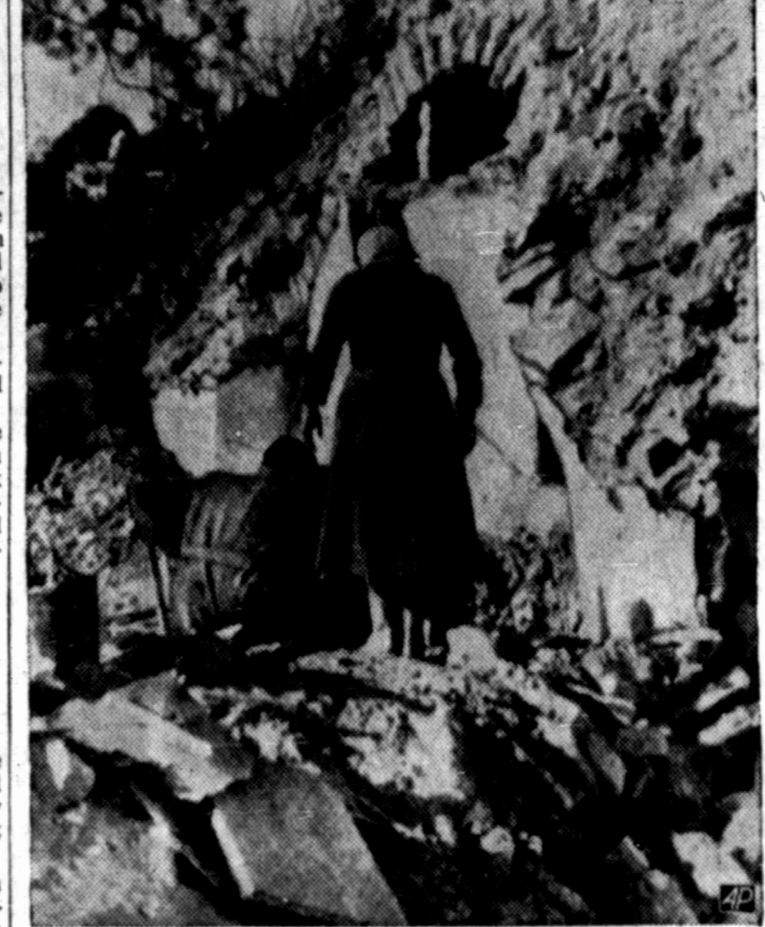

Prisoner Leaves 'Breakproof' Jail

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—While waiting to be returned to his cell after questioning yesterday, city prisoner Leon Ray Hays was left unattended.

He walked through an open door, took the screen off of an unbarred window and slid down a convenient tree beside Amarillo's new "breakproof" jail.

The police force literally threw out the dragnet.

Last night, Hays walked into the police station and told Lt. E. E. Story, "I tried to call to tell you I would be back. I just wanted to see what you guys would do."

Hunt For Belongings In Quake Ruins

A husband and wife probe through rubble of their ruined home at Shiheem, Lebanon, searching for household belongings buried in a series of shattering earthquakes. An estimated 130 people were killed and 200 injured in quakes, the first in Lebanon in more than a century. In small mountain village of Shiheem alone, 34 were killed. Terrified residents slept in the open through the weekend for fear of further shocks.

Calves Liquidated, Haley Pays Governor Race Fee

AUSTIN (AP)—Cowboy candidate J. Evetts Haley of Canyon paid his $1,250 filing fee for governor today, saying the money represented "15 yearlings liquidated for the purpose."

Haley became the second gubernatorial candidate to pay the fee for a place on the Democratic primary ballot.

Haley said he was getting good response to his announcement that he would run.

"One man told me Texas had tried everything else for governor so why not try a cowpuncher," Haley quipped in an informal press conference after paying his fee.

Reuben Senterfitt was the first candidate to nail down a spot on the ballot.

Haley took a dig at letter-writing contests he said some other candidates or would-be candidates were engaged in.

"I've gotten four letters so far," Haley said in response to a reporter's question. "Two for, one against, one undecided. If the undecided writer goes my way, that gives me 75 per cent which is pretty good as polls go."

The cowboy-historian said he is going to take to the stump and that so far he can't swing a radio-television campaign.

Clerk Loses Quiz Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Edward Bennett, 48-year-old store clerk of Kingsland, Ga., has failed in a bid for the grand prize on The $64,000 Question.

He thereby loses his winnings of $32,000 piled up over the weeks by answering questions about Abraham Lincoln on the CBS television show. He'll receive a Cadillac as a consolation prize.

Bennett lost out on the program last night by now knowing how much Lincoln offered to compensate the states per slave for voluntary emancipation.

He guessed $2,000. Ralph Newman, proprietor of the Abraham Lincoln Bookshop in Chicago, who was serving as Bennett's expert adviser, said he thought the offer was closer to $1,600.

Master of ceremonies Hal March said $400 was the figure. Bennett was the first contestant on the show to gamble for the grand prize and lose. Three have won the $64,000 prize.

The new resident who comes to Texas to make his home must acquire a current year's automobile license tag for his car. He may get away with driving it for a time with his former state tag and never be bothered but ultimately, he must buy a Texas plate to adorn the family bus.

When he goes to the county tax assessor-collector's office to buy that tag, he discovers that in addition to paying the regular license fee, he gets a second "tag."

That tag is for $15.

Take a fellow who has a fairly old car. He moves to the Lone Star State just before the turn of the year. Being hard up for ready cash—and who isn't?—he stalls around to the last possible day to buy his new car tag.

Suppose he shows up today. His out-of-state tag expired officially, let's say, on Dec. 31. First of all, then, he buys a tag for three months for the 1955 year (that is to say for the time he operated the car from Dec. 31 to the shag-end of March with his old expired home-state tag.) Then he buys a current 1956 tag.

He pays regular fee for that tag—same as any Texan.

And then he is told he must dig down in his jeans and come up with three more crinkly, water-stained five spots. For what? To become a new Texan—that's what!

And that's not the end of it. His driver's license may be good for an extra year or two years in the state from whence he came. In Texas it ain't!

Texas does not recognize drivers' licenses from other states.

So Mr. Newcomer has to get a Texas driver's license. The cost of this is $2 and it is good for two years. If the motorist keeps his nose clean and doesn't get into trouble with the law.

And the upshot of it is—he pays for a current year car tag, he kicks in for the month or so he has driven without a Texas plate, he digs up an additional $15 for becoming a new Texan and then hands over two bucks for a driver's license.

That's the law.

New Texas Residents Must Pay Extra $15 For Car Tags

By SAM BLACKBURN

If you are from another state and move to Texas to make your home, you are assessed $15 for the privilege.

This does not seem to be a generally known fact among natives but the newcomer soon finds out that it is true.

Of course, this rule does not apply unless the newcomer has a motor car. But, pray, in these days, who is it that has no automobile? Therefore, you can almost regard the rule as universal.

The new resident who comes to Texas to make his home must acquire a current year's automobile license tag for his car. He may get away with driving it for a time with his former state tag and never be bothered but ultimately, he must buy a Texas plate to adorn the family bus.

Security Council Sets Mid-East Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council is expected to meet in emergency session late this week or early next week in answer to a U.S. call for urgent action on the current Israeli-Arab crisis.

The U. S. delegation called on the 11-nation Security Council for "urgent and early action" in the same words President Eisenhower used in his March 7 news conference.

The prospect was raised that U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold might be sent on a new peace mission to the Israeli area.

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. reported a buildup of armed forces near the Israeli borders by both sides. He said shooting incidents were "recurring at a dangerous rate."

Border clashes have erupted frequently between Israel and the neighboring Arab states of Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Lodge said the border clashes and armed buildups were violations of the 1949 armistice negotiated with U. N. help.

"It is a matter of deep concern to the government of the United States," he said, "and it therefore requests urgent and early action by the Security Council to consider the situation now prevailing in the Palestine area."

Diplomatic informants said the United States, France and Britain want the Security Council to send Hammarskjold back to the area. The secretary general returned last month from talks with Arab and Israeli leaders and said they had promised to settle disputes peacefully. But there was no letup to border incidents.

Russia has been shown a Western plan of action designed to strengthen the U. N. role of peacemaker. The West wants Russia to agree so the Security Council decision will be unanimous. Russia has given no hint of its attitude, but twice in 1954 it vetoed U. N. resolutions on Palestine which the Arab nations opposed.

There was no early hint of the new Western plan other than a Hammarskjold mission.

Snack Time

Mrs. A. J. Conrad offers hungry son Joe rich Chocolate Dream to tide him over until supper. Although her family requires a big evening meal, Mrs. Conrad often uses leftovers in appetizing, filling recipes. Other local homemakers give suggestions for leftovers on this page. (Photo by Keith McMillin.)

Homemaker Solves 'Leftovers' Problem

No leftovers are "pass overs" at the A. J. Conrad home. Mrs. Conrad, who has "a jillion cookbooks," makes a hobby of pleasing her husband and teenage son at mealtimes all the time. Even leftovers get a special treatment. Often she climaxes such a menu with one of her fancy desserts. Chocolate Dream is her son, Joe's favorite and also scores a hit with company. Mrs. Conrad likes to serve it when she entertains for one of the three bridge clubs of which she is a member. Mrs. Conrad also belongs to the DeMolay Mothers' Club and a neighborhood garden club. The family is active in First Christian Church work.

A hobby shared by Mrs. Conrad and her husband, baseball-playing, son, is painting. Both took lessons in Fort Worth. Mrs. Conrad has done oils and pastels for both her home, 1515 Stadium, and her mother's home.

Since Joe comes in hungry from baseball practice in the evening, Mrs. Conrad fixes a big meal for the family—meat, vegetables and lots of potatoes.

"I always have creamed potatoes left over," says Mrs. Conrad. This is what she does with them:

POTATO SOMBREROS
2 cups cold creamed potatoes
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¼ cups crushed potato or corn chips (measured after crushing)
1 can plain chili
Add flour, salt and one egg to potatoes. Form into flat little cakes. Dip cakes in the other egg, beaten, then in chips. Fry slowly in fat until brown on both sides. Place on platter and top with spoonfuls of chili.

Mrs. Conrad thinks the chili-topped cakes look like miniature vegetable pies, which she learned from her mother:

GREEN BEAN CHEESE TOSS
2 cups hot green beans
1 cup diced celery
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 teaspoon minced green pepper
Cook last three ingredients in ¼ cup butter until tender and onion is golden. Add to beans. Season with 1 teaspoon sugar and salt to taste. Heat thoroughly and top with ¼ cup grated American cheese.

A main course meat dish, a meal

Give Rice New Look
That leftover rice will taste delicious if you heat it in a skillet with butter or margarine and minced celery, sliced water chestnuts, diced ham and cooked green peas. A little minced onion goes well with the rice, too.

Keep Popovers
Don't throw out leftover popovers! Put them on the rack in a preheated moderate oven for about five minutes, or until they are heated through and crisp.

Add Peas To Soup
Add leftover cooked green peas or snap beans to cream of mushroom or chicken soup for lunch. If you use the beans, dice them before adding.

IMPROVES THE TASTE OF EVERY FOOD

Mrs. Doelp Switches Meat In One Recipe

Mrs. Frederick Doelp, 1904 Nolan, finds that working with leftovers gives elbow room to vary a single recipe several times. An example is a biscuit sandwich idea which can use four different meats. Here is the original recipe:

CHICKEN-HAM SANDWICH
1½ cups finely diced chicken
¾ cup finely diced ham
¾ cup chopped raw celery
1 beaten egg
2 tablespoons cream or top milk
1 teaspoon onion juice
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Mix until well blended. Using a rich biscuit dough (the recipe follows), roll or press out two 8-inch squares. Place one in a 9-inch-square, 2-inch-deep greased pan. Cover evenly with meat mixture. Place remaining square on top of filling. Mark surface into six or eight divisions with a sharp knife. Brush top with cream for glossy finish and bake 20-25 minutes in a hot oven. To serve, cut along previously marked lines and top with leftover gravy or mushroom sauce.

BISCUIT DOUGH
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 egg
½ cup milk

Sift dry ingredients into bowl. Cut in shortening. Stir in egg and milk. Round up on lightly floured board. Knead lightly about 15 times.

Turkey may be used instead of chicken. When she has leftover roast beef, Mrs. Doelp slices it and combines it with sautéed onions for the sandwich filling. For serving she tops the squares with leftover roast gravy or tomato sauce.

Here is an original casserole:

ASPARAGUS AND HAM CASSEROLE
2 cups finely diced cooked ham
1 package frozen asparagus spears
1 can cream of mushroom soup diluted with milk to consistency of

MRS. MOODY DRESSES TURKEY FOR COMPANY

Leftovers, clad in fancy dress, can face company without shame. Here's a colorful inspiration from Mrs. A. W. Moody, 1514 Tucson:

TURKEY LOAF
2 cups chopped turkey, ham, chicken or beef
2 cups cooked carrots
1 small cooked onion
1 package lime gelatin
½ cup English peas
Dissolve gelatin in 2½ cups—not the usual 2-hot water. When cool add all ingredients and jelly. Unmold and serve on shredded lettuce with olives for garnish.

This salad-meat course needs only baked potatoes, apple pie and coffee to complete a meal, thinks Mrs. Moody.

Chinese Charm Disguises Fowl For Second Meal

Serve leftover turkey or chicken Chinese-style for something different.

TURKEY WITH VEGETABLES
Ingredients:
One-fourth cup finely diced onion, 2 tablespoons oil, ½ cups diagonally sliced celery, 2-3 cup water, 1 chicken bouillon cube, 1 cup green peas, one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 2 cups thinly sliced cooked turkey, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup cold water, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ½ teaspoon ginger, 2 tablespoons cooking sherry (if desired).

Method:
Cook onion in hot oil in skillet over moderate heat, stirring off, for about 5 minutes. Add celery, 2-3 cup water and bouillon cube; cover and bring to boil; make sure bouillon cube is dissolved. Cook 5 minutes, then add peas and mushrooms, including liquid from mushroom can. Add turkey in layer over top. Cover and bring to boil; cook until peas are barely tender, about 10 minutes. Blend together and add all at once the cornstarch, ¼ cup cold water, soy sauce, ginger and sherry if used. Stir constantly until sauce thickens. Makes 4 servings.

Cold Fish Becomes Attractive Salad

Cold, leftover boiled fish can be made attractive with this recipe:

FISH SALAD
1 pint cold boiled fish
1 head lettuce
mayonnaise

Pick fish into bits about an inch square. Mix with small pieces of lettuce and mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaf.

Use Leftover Spuds

Leftover potatoes? Dice them and add to a thin white sauce with minced onion for a nutritious soup. Sprinkle with paprika or minced parsley before serving. Or garnish with grated raw carrot.

medium sauce
1 cup bread crumbs
Prepare asparagus according to directions on package. Butter 1½ quart casserole and cover bottom with a layer of asparagus. Add ham and top with remaining asparagus. Pour the mushroom sauce over the casserole and sprinkle with cheese, then crumbs. Bake in moderate oven until crumbs are brown and contents thoroughly heated, about 20-25 minutes.

Berry Pinwheels Keep Mealtimes On Brighter Side

Blueberry pinwheels add color and flavor to the dull morning meal.

BLUEBERRY PINWHEELS
Syrup:
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup water

Filling:
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups sweetened blueberries (fresh or frozen)

Dough:
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup shortening
½ cup quick oatmeal, uncooked
2-3 to ¼ cup milk

Combine sugar, lemon juice and water. Heat to boiling; then cool while preparing pinwheels.

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Mix in oatmeal. Add milk, mixing lightly until dough is fairly free from sides of bowl. Roll out on lightly floured board to form a rectangle about 8x14 inches.

Brush with melted butter; arrange blueberries over dough. Roll up like a jelly roll sealing edges. Cut into 1½-inch slices. Place pinwheels cut-side down in 8x12-inch baking pan. Cover with the cooled syrup. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

Reheat Meat Loaf

What to do with that leftover meat loaf when you want to serve it hot? Heat it with canned tomato sauce (the kind designed for spaghetti) and cooked green peas. Serve over egg noodles or rice.

Store In Plastic

Save the plastic see-through bags from carrots or other foods. They're fine for storing English muffins, leftover baking powder biscuits that are to be toasted, salad greens or celery in your refrigerator.

Mrs. Branon Tries Touch Of Italy

Sometimes "leftover leftovers" are good. Mrs. Loyd Branon, 501 Edwards Blvd., prepares an Italian tetrazzini with leftover chicken that passes the taste test the second time it is served—even without reheating. This is her recipe:

CHICKEN TETRAZZINI
2 cups cooked chicken, finely diced
1 8-ounce package spaghetti cooked in chicken broth
1 pound American cheese
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1½ tablespoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
Melt cheese in milk. Add butter and flour, then soup and chicken. Combine with spaghetti.

"Between meals the seasoning has a chance to go all through the dish. It is good served cold," says Mrs. Branon. She completes the menu with buttered broccoli or cauliflower, vegetable salad and dessert.

BETTER INSURANCE RATES?

Fire Prevention Record For City Has Good Start In '56

By DON HENRY
Big Spring is off to a good start in its endeavor to keep down fire losses, with the first 60 days of this year costing about half of what went up in smoke during the same period of 1955.

Through March 1, losses this year were $3,735.45, while during the same period of 1955, losses totaled $7,411.97.

Also, should the level for the year follow the same pattern cut during January and February, Big Spring would be in line for more credits on insurance rates than it received recently.

Announcement was made Feb. 23 that Big Spring had received a 15 per cent credit on its fire insurance key rates because of relatively low losses over the past five years. This included 1951 when $129,738.35 in damages resulted from fires.

That 1951 total is the largest in the past six years and will be dropped from the five-year average when the State Fire Insurance Commission starts figuring credits and debits next year. Next highest annual total was $49,305.81 in 1955.

The commission takes the previous five years' losses in figuring gains or losses. The city received 15 per cent for 1955, and 10 per cent the previous year. Only five per cent can be added or subtracted from the previous year's rating.

The four-year total to be added to 1956's figure is $169,639.83. Thus, to be in line for additional credits, Big Spring has only to remain below the 1951-1955 sum of $298,655.29 in losses, or below $129,015.46 during the current year.

If the city could come up with more months like last September, staying below the $129,000 figure would be easy. For in September, Big Spring claimed no fire losses. Only one other month in the past six years has Big Spring gone fireless for 30 days. That was June of 1950.

Three other times, however, the month's damage was less than $50. In May of 1952, the total was $17. In May of 1953 it was $27, and March, 1953, the amount was $35.

Highest one-month record — recorded in 1950 — was more than the entire past year or the years 1952 and '53 combined. The top month was May, 1950, when $73,800 in fire losses was reported. The year of 1955 found $69,305.81 going up in blazes, and the two-year sum of 1952-53 was $52,534.75.

The year's totals for the past six years are:

1955	$69,305.81
1954	47,066.38
1953	31,393.63
1952	21,151.12
1951	129,738.35
1950	115,069.80
Total	$413,705.09

American Race Losing Its Chin

LOS ANGELES (U)—Is the American race undergoing a genetic change in its facial characteristics and inclining toward the receding chin type?

Dr. Alton Moore, assistant dean of the University of Washington School of Dentistry, says there is evidence to indicate that such a change is taking place.

The face of Mr. America of 2056 may look very much like Caspar Milquetoast of 1956. School surveys of children in Seattle and other cities in the nation showed that 71 per cent of high school students had badly aligned teeth. In more than half these cases, this defect causes disfigurement — usually a receding chin, he said.

This, he told the Los Angeles Dental Society, may mean that we are drifting away from the straight Roman profile as the common standard of facial beauty.

Insecticide Poison Danger Stressed

STILLWATER, Okla. (U)—An Oklahoma A&M research chemist warns there is a growing danger of food poisoning from new and powerful insecticides being used on farm crops.

Dr. V. G. Heller said yesterday most of the newer insecticides — namely, the chlorinated hydrocarbons and organic phosphorus compounds — are "exceedingly poisonous."

"Practically all foods are sprayed with an insecticide of some sort before they come to us," he said. "Insects and man are in such competition that everything must be sprayed."

Uncle Ray:
October In Chile Is Spring Month

By RAMON COFFMAN
In an area within range of the latitude of the Great Lakes, October is a favorite month because of its crisp, pleasant weather. Trees then show their leaves in colored grandeur, though many of the leaves fall before the month ends.

A verse by William Cooper runs like this:
"October gave a party;
The leaves by hundreds came;
The ashes, oaks and maples,
And those of every name."
Things are different in the South Temperate Zone! October is a spring month in Chile, Argentina and Australia. In those lands, the month sees budding plants instead of falling leaves.

Leaf Ericson Day is celebrated

Cervantes of Spain, James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier Poet, Noah Webster of dictionary fame, and three English poets: Chaucer, Coleridge and Keats.

October-born artists and actors include Sarah Bernhardt, French actress; Jan Vermeer, Dutch painter; Jean Francois Millet, French painter; Hokusai, Japanese artist; and Frederick Remington, American "wild west" painter.

William Penn was born on an October day. So were Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of Pres. Franklin D. Roosevelt; Edward Bok, American editor; Capt. James Cook, British explorer; Edmund Halley, the astronomer; and George Westinghouse, inventor.

Among the famous musicians of October are Jenny Lind, Swedish singer; Leopold Damrosch and Johann Strauss, the younger.

Four American presidents were born in October: John Adams, Rutherford B. Hayes, Chester A. Arthur and Theodore Roosevelt.
