Sam Thinks Allan Might Change Tune

DALLAS, March 31 (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn predicted today that Gov. Shivers was about ready for an "arm's length association, at least" with Rayburn's "favorite son" (for president).
Only two days before, Shivers stated plainly that he would not support Johnson if he were sponsored by the Texas Democratic Advisory Council, which Rayburn organized to campaign for Adlai Stevenson after Shivers and the regular state Democratic committee bolted to Eisenhower. It still functions as an anti-Shivers agency.

Shaver Given Death Penalty In Rape Slaying

BELTON, March 31 (AP)—The death verdict was returned by a jury today in the rape-murder trial of Jimmy Shaver.
It took the jury less than one hour to doom the former airman, charged with killing Chere Jo Horton, 3, in a San Antonio gravel pit July 4, 1954. One woman was on the jury.
Shaver, 31, showed little emotion. He closed his eyes briefly, then tightened his lips.
The parents of the child, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Horton of Fort Worth, shook hands with the jurors and the state's attorneys following the verdict. They both had cried throughout the state's argument today when Dist. Atty. Raymond Thornton described the finding of the tiny body in the gravel pit.
Shaver was convicted in 1954 at Brady and sentenced to the electric chair. The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the findings.
The child disappeared from her parent's car parked outside a San Antonio tavern. Her partially clothed body was found in a gravel pit a few hours later by a searching party.
Shaver was identified as stumbling from the brush near the scene by three construction workers.

VOTE ON TUESDAY City Election Opens Seasonal Balloting

Howard Countians get their first opportunity this week to use their new poll tax receipts.
Municipal and school elections will take up two days of the week. The city votes will be cast Tuesday.
Reviewing The Big Spring Week
With Joe Pickle
In what was probably the worst fire on record here from the point of lives lost, three Negro kids died in flames that destroyed the Cleveland Gossett home in northwest Big Spring on Wednesday. Good people everywhere immediately opened their hearts, demonstrating that human kindness is not bound by lines.
There was some debate about it, but that high gray overcast at the end of the week was actually cloud formations. Skepticism is understandable inasmuch as we had experienced the worst bona fide dust storm since the Dust Bowl days of the '30's. Heretofore we had absorbed sand and dust, but this one had the delicate flavor of Kansas, Colorado and Oklahoma mixed in the haze that hung aloft for days.
Churches and schools will be taxed to capacity today for Easter services. Some people make aside remarks about Easter only attendance, but we think it's wonderful that folks go to their church on Easter. Maybe with more encouragement and help they would go every Sunday.

The Big Spring Independent School District was put on notice that two important issues may be submitted to voters soon. Trustees talked last week in terms of a $500,000 bond issue. The present tax rate of $1.50 wouldn't support that, especially since more may be required for bolstering teacher pay. So a tax rate increase proposal

Pressure Grows To Sell Israel Arms

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—The United States was under heavy pressure at home and abroad today to sell arms to Israel or see that other friendly countries do so.
But American officials stuck to their line of friendly impartiality in the Arab-Israeli dispute.
They said it was up to the British and the French—or any others in the Free World—for that matter—to decide for themselves whether to help arm Israel. As for the United States, they cited Secretary of State Dulles' statements that solution lies in "means other than an arms race."
They said this remains U.S. policy, which catalogs as "under consideration" Israel's five-month-old request to buy $3 million worth of arms in U.S. weapons to counter Egypt's purchase of possibly $60 million in Soviet arms.
A total of 153 of the 435 members of the House of Representatives—51 Republicans and 102 Democrats—have petitioned Dulles in support of Israel's request. The issue is a potent one during this election year in view of the powerful Jewish vote.
Rep. Scott (R-Pa) and Keating (R-N.Y.) reported after a conference with State Department officials Thursday that they understood Israel was negotiating actively with other Western countries for arms. It was clear they meant Britain and France.
The Israelis were stepping up their pressure too, Ambassador Abba Eban has been pressing steadily for American arms in conferences with Dulles and Asst. Secretary George V. Allen.

Odessa's Body Found In Lake

COLORADO CITY, Mar. 31—An Odessa man in an apparently fell in Cherry Creek and was drowned Friday night.
Body of Fred (Marvin) Honeycutt, 24, was pulled from the water about midnight by Howard Bynum, Lake Colorado City patrolman and Don Henderson of the Colorado City fire department. Cherry Creek forms an inlet to Lake Colorado City. The drowning occurred under Cherry Creek bridge.
Harvey Stiles of Odessa, one of Honeycutt's four companions, told District Attorney Eldon Mahon the five men had gone to the lake area to fish after finishing their day's work at an Odessa nursery.
He said Honeycutt, Red Berger and he were sleeping on the north bank of the creek while Harvey Stiles Jr. and Elmer Wadly slept on the south side of the stream.
Stiles told the district attorney he was awakened by a splash about 10:45 p.m. Thinking he had caught a fish, Stiles grabbed his fishing pole. Then he swept the surface of the water with his flashlight just in time to see an arm disappear, he said.
Aid was summoned and after about 45 minutes of dragging, Honeycutt's fully-clothed body was located.
The remains were taken to Odessa Saturday for funeral arrangements.

Three Killed In Fort Worth Plane Crash

FORT WORTH, March 31 (AP)—A twin-engine private plane crashed in a residential section a quarter-mile south of Meacham Field in north Fort Worth at 11:25 a.m. today, killing its three passengers.
The victims, identified from papers, were:
Maner Graham, 49, a Midland oil producer.
Tex Maner Graham, 18, his son, also of Midland.
William Kerr, about 19, of Dallas.
Witnesses said one of the plane's engines failed.
It crashed in a garden at the back of a vacant lot, in a thickly populated area. No house was damaged and no resident was injured.
Ascension Mata, 37, and some other men were working on cars in the vacant lot.
Mata said the plane missed them by about 100 feet.
It crashed in the garden. The canopy was thrown over a fence, into an alley.
Two boys were in the canopy. The third was thrown clear in the alley.
There was no fire. A crowd estimated at 2,000 gathered in the area minutes after the crash.
The private plane, a 4-passenger model, was a Riley Navion.
Cullen Carver, who lives nearby, said he saw the plane circling the area for a few minutes before the crash. One engine was running rough and the pilot seemed to be looking for a place to land.
"As it got low," said Carver, "a puff of wind hit the plane, the motor coughed out and it went straight down."
Relatives said the elder Graham started flying after World War II and had about 1,500 hours.

Fair Weather In Prospect For Easter Parade

Milady may wear her gayer Easter garb in the traditional Easter parade today without fear—provided, of course, that the weatherman's crystal ball hasn't played tricks on him.
He promises partly cloudy and warmer weather for most of Sunday. However, it will become colder later in the day. Monday is also scheduled to be cooler.
The main entertainment was provided by the Panhandle and South Plains late Sunday, fanning out over the rest of the state Sunday night. Temperatures behind the front were not expected to be severe.

Ike's Grandson Has 8th Birthday

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower's grandson, David Eisenhower, celebrated his eighth birthday today at the White House.
The party gave a dash of Western flavor to the Easter weekend. The main entertainment was provided by television cowboy actor Roy Rogers and Dale Evans.
David had 20 guests, including sisters Barbara Anne and Susan, for birthday cake and Western music.

Aluminum Workers Get Wage Increase

PITTSBURGH, March 31 (AP)—An agreement between the Aluminum Co. of America and the United Steel Workers on job classification will give 11,000 workers an average 7-cents-hourly wage increase retroactive to Aug. 1, 1955.
The agreement was announced today by David J. McDonald, president of the union. An Alcoa spokesman confirmed it.

Three Children Drown Under Ice

CHATEAUGUAY, Que., March 31 (AP)—Three small children were drowned today when they slipped from a large cake of ice into the Chateauguay River, about 25 miles south of Montreal.
They were identified as Bernard Gendron, 3, Montreal; Diane LaBerge, 4, of Chateauguay; and her sister, Monique, 3.

Dawn Services Proclaim Easter Over The U. S.

By The Associated Press
A horn blows in a village dawn. An orchestra plays beside the sea. A child laughs. A flower is worn. A chorus sings, "Alleluia!"
These, and many others, are the voices of Easter this Sunday morning as Christianity the world around celebrates its grandest theme, "The Lord is risen, indeed."
The words swell with the rising sun—sounding from pulpits and platforms, flowing over broadcasting networks, seeping through canyon walls and over amplifiers, spoken in many tongues, in many lands.
Church doors open to their biggest crowds of the year. Music and pageantry burst forth in the mountains and parks and streets of cities.
It is a day of color and jubilation. Glad prayers are uttered.
Across the United States, the annual festival brought planned sunrise services at a score of national beauty spots where thousands will gather for dramatic rites of worship and praise.
As the day advances, there'll be the customary Easter egg frolics for the youngsters, the explosion of fashion and finery on public thoroughfares, the flower-bright crowds streaming to churches.
In Washington, President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend Easter services at 11 a.m. in the National Presbyterian Church.
Members of the Supreme Court and many other government officials were to be at annual dawn services in Arlington National Cemetery. An aura of peace and cheer would mark the occasion in this country.
But far away, at the geographical heart of its origin—Jerusalem's Holy Sepulcher—omens of warfare haunted the scene, thinking the usual throngs of visiting Christians.
Nevertheless, the spirit of Easter filtered through the ancient city, blending with the shadows of Arab-Israeli hostilities.
Many Christians flocked into the Jordan sector to worship at the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, in Arab hands ever since another war—the blood-letting Christian Crusade—ended in defeat in the 12th Century.
In Rome, the center of Roman Catholicism, more than 200,000 visitors packed the city, jamming its churches, swarming outside the Vatican, and awaiting Pope Pius XII's Easter Sunday message.
The celebration in America came in a profusion of customs and settings.
At dawn in the little town of Gnadenthalten, Ohio, a trombone choir plays as it moves through the streets, awakening the 900 villagers for the 167th annual sunrise service.

Rome's Bells Ring Out Joys Of Eastertide

VATICAN CITY, Sunday, April 1 (AP)—The bells of St. Peter's Basilica boomed out in a midnight rain announcing the Christian observance of Christ's resurrection.
Led by the basilica's "Campanone," the 16-ton master bell, the joyful Easter Sunday tidings rang out over Vatican City and Rome.
Other churches joined in the medley of the bells, in many of them midnight Easter services were being held. Their bells were rung when the officiating priest reached the "Gloria" of the Mass.
Thousands of Romans and pilgrims from many lands attended the night services.
Among midnight services were those at St. Paul's, where a pontifical Mass was sung, and Rome's Ara Coeli—Altar of Heaven—church high on the Capitoline Hill.
Pilgrims from many lands will be in St. Peter's Square when Pope Pius XII, of the Roman Catholic Church, gives his annual Easter Sunday message and his blessing to the city of Rome and the World.
The 80-year-old pontiff will begin to speak at noon—6 a.m. EST—tomorrow. The Vatican radio and connected networks of many nations will carry his words. Through Monday and Tuesday, the Vatican radio will broadcast translations in 27 languages, including those of Iron Curtain countries.
The Soviet attitude toward atomic weapons represented an about-face. For 10 years Russia contended that they should be limited or banned as a first step toward disarmament, and that conventional weapons should be left for later stages in a world disarmament program.
The American attitude, already tabulated as a definite proposal, is that Russia and the United States cut their armed forces to 2½ million men each.
The American negotiators also held firmly to the view that, in whatever plan ultimately adopted, there must be mutual inspections and an effective control organization.
Although the Russians appeared ready to go a long way toward accepting the "open skies" plan, their proposals seemed to relegate such considerations to later phases of disarmament.

STORIES OF EASTER—8 Magdalene Regains God

(Headed women followers of Jesus stayed with Him until the end, after the week of arduous travel, the men had hidden. This, eighth and last of the Easter Week series is about the women, especially one of them.)
By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Newsmasters
The city slept. A slender, dark-haired woman hurried through the silent streets past the shuttered stalls of merchants and craftsmen, on to the city's edge and into a garden of cedars and blooming crocus.
The path led to an open tomb. Mary Magdalene, clutching a packet, peered nervously inside. She caught her breath. It was empty. She drew back, shaken. The grave gaped dark and eerie in the gray-dawn stillness.
Just then, overhead, the first burst of sunlight flooded the tree-tops.
Pale and tense, Mary Magdalene turned and ran frantically back into the city, stumbling over logs and stones, through the waking city, numb to the vendors' cries, the smell of baking loaves, on to the apostles' house.
To Peter and John, she exclaimed: "They have taken away the Lord!"
Together the three of them raced back to the place, John dashing ahead. But at the tomb, he waited, giving precedence to Peter to enter first. Only the burial linens, carefully folded, remained.
Mystified and at a loss for an explanation, the apostles gave up and went home. But Mary Magdalene remained, standing outside

Trying Out New Uniforms

Lt. Robert Grew, left, and Carl Bonelli examine each other in some new fogs that are becoming a part of the Air Force uniform. Grew wears the military shorts, knee stockings and short-sleeve shirt while he looks over the "bush jacket" and matching trousers sported by Bonelli. The bush uniform is almost identical to such clothing worn by British soldiers. A pith helmet also goes with the attire. Air Force personnel can wear the new garments while on duty on or off the base before 6 p.m. They also are permitted to mix the uniforms, donning the bush jacket with the shorts, etc. Airmen have a choice of six different uniforms for summer. ## Tighter Secrecy Clamp Placed On U.S. Weapons

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today issued a new crackdown on information about military weapons. The order, tightening up secrecy, is aimed primarily at private firms making new aircraft and missiles.

However, it applies to all "agencies and offices" of the Defense Department as well as to all contractors or subcontractors holding or about to receive defense contracts.

A Defense Department spokesman said there was no intent to shut off or modify the normal flow of defense information. He said the directive is intended to apply military security guidance to all of the armed services and their contractors on the same basis.

Wilson's directive said the "premature release to the public" of information about guided missiles, military aircraft, airplane engines and components "may constitute a grave threat to national security." He said it was necessary to set up uniform guide lines for everybody to follow.

He said that nothing whatever should be released about a new

Prolonged Land Suit May Go To Supreme Court

Howard County's longest lawsuit may be on its way to the highest court in the land.

The celebrated suit is styled J. S. Garlington and others versus A. L. Wasson and others. It involves the title to four sections of oil-producing land in northeast Howard County.

Heirs of Garlington have been granted an extension of time in which to docket the cause and file record and statement of jurisdiction in the U.S. Supreme Court. It is up to a decision of the high court as to whether it will review the case.

This will be the third application for the U.S. Supreme Court to consider the litigation. The suit also has been up and down in state courts several times.

The Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, which affirmed a judgment of 118th District Court, has

Rites Set For Mrs. Bird, 86

Last rites will be said at 3 p.m. today for Mrs. Maggie M. Bird, 86, one of the truly old-timers of Howard County.

Mrs. Bird, who came here in 1895 and who had lived at 203 Gregg for the past 56 years, died Thursday after an illness of two years' duration.

The Rev. Clyde Nichols, First Christian minister, will officiate at services in the River Chapel. Burial will be in the City Cemetery beside the grave of her husband, W. C. Bird, a veteran T&P locomotive engineer. Mrs. Bird was a member of the First Christian Church and of the GI Auxiliary.

J. E. Felton Dies Of Crash Injuries

Mrs. Tom Horton and her daughter, Mrs. Viola Robinson, plan to attend the funeral services for Jack Estes Felton, 20, Abilene, at 3 p.m. Sunday at Potosi.

Felton, nephew of Mrs. Horton and cousin of Mrs. Robinson, died Friday of injuries received March 24 when his motorcycle crashed into a highline pole in Abilene.

'Lamesa Stage' Operator Dies

James Lewis Mauldin, who operated the "Lamesa Stage" for many years, died Saturday at 6:30 a.m. in Huntsville at the age of 81 years.

Mr. Mauldin moved from here about 20 years ago. He had come to Big Spring around the turn of the century and operated the Star Route mail and passenger service between Big Spring and Lamesa. He started out in conjunction with a Mr. Dewey, using a horse-drawn hack. He would make the trip to Lamesa one day, returning the next. Later, when automobiles became practical, he took over the operation by himself and offered one-day service although the only roads were trails.

Services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in Huntsville at the Episcopal Church with the Rev. Charles W. Roberts Jr., rector, officiating. The remains will be returned here for graveside rites Monday at 2:30 p.m. in the City Cemetery where he will be interred beside the grave of his first wife, The Rev. William D. Boyd, St. Mary's Episcopal rector, will officiate, and River Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Surviving Mr. Mauldin are two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Kellogg, Hempstead, and Mrs. Lillie Mercer, Las Gatos, Calif.; five brothers; six grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren.

Engineer's Secretary Also Gets Pay Raise

When employees of the county were given their raises a few weeks ago, the commissioners court overlooked Mrs. Marie Jennings, secretary to the county engineer.

The oversight was eventually noted and, by resolution, the commissioners have made amends. Mrs. Jennings pay has been increased from $210 per month to $235 in harmony with raises granted to other employees.

In her case, as in the case of all employees whose checks were upped, the increase was made effective March 1.

Half-Pennies In Use

SYDNEY, Australia, March 31 (AP)—Half-pennies which had become almost worthless—it takes four to buy a box of matches—are back in circulation in Sydney. The reason is that new taxes increased the price of a beer to 1 shilling 1½ pence—13 cents.

Sees Chance For A Suitable Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said today there still is some chance that Congress will "clean up" a patchwork election-year farm bill enough to avoid a presidential veto.

Aiken, frequent administration spokesman on farm policies, offered this comment as a Senate-House Conference Committee held an unproductive Saturday session in its efforts to compromise widely different measures passed by the two chambers. In early afternoon the conferees knocked off work until next week.

As the bill stands now it contains the $1,200,000,000 soil bank proposal asked by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson as well as a half dozen other provisions they have criticized sharply.

This is a result of the combining of the soil bank with high price supports and other features demanded by most Democrats and some farm belt Republicans.

The conference of five senators and five representatives is scheduled to resume its work Tuesday and to vote on final recommendations next Friday, after other Congress members return from a 10-day Easter recess.

112 Infected By Measles

For the second straight week, measles cases in the county numbered more than 100. And the past week's total was six larger than the previous seven days.

The weekly report by the city-county health unit showed 114 cases of measles here, as against 108 the week before.

Upper respiratory trouble affected the next largest group, with 48 cases reported. Pneumonia bothered 46. There were 23 cases of chicken pox, 19 streptococci, and 18 gastroenteritis. Twelve cases of influenza were shown on the report and 11 of pertussis.

Tonsillitis sufferers numbered 10. Diarrhea with four cases, impetigo with three, pink eye with three, and roseola with one case completed the weekly report.

Hospitals reported that a majority of the measles cases were among pre-school age youngsters.

One More Registration Day For Soap Box Derby Racers

There'll be one more day for boys to register in the 1956 Soap Box Derby.

And that will be next Saturday, April 7, at Tidwell Chevrolet Company, during business hours. Boys between the ages of 11 and 15 are eligible, and to sign up, they must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Registration has been closed for some time, but there is still time for boys to enter the big event that can lead to fame and fortune. Since some boys missed an earlier opportunity, sponsors have decided to open registration for one more day. Lads are urged to take notice.

They will still have time to get an official set of racer wheels, and to build their coasters for the July 4th race.

The Soap Box Derby, sponsored locally by Tidwell Chevrolet, "the Herald and the Lions Club, will be run on Independence Day. Boys stand a chance to share in five merchandise awards. And the winner grabs off a chance-in-a-lifetime free trip to Akron, Ohio, where, on August 12, he will run in the All-American Soap Box event. The national will be awarded a $5,000 college scholarship, and there are other scholarships totaling another $10,000, plus other awards.

Dismissal Refused In Cotton Test Case

HOUSTON, March 31 (AP)—Federal Judge Joe Ingraham has overruled a government motion to dismiss the West Texas cotton acreage suit against the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The government argued its motion in the case Feb. 17. The West Texas farmers claim they were victims of an acreage cut discrimination.

The plaintiffs contend West Texas cotton farmers will be damaged 10 million dollars or more under existing acreage quotas.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Carlos Watson sought dismissal of the suit, contending the secretary of agriculture should have been named deendant rather than the state committee. Watson also contended the West Texans should seek relief through their local county committees.

Austin Wilson, arguing for the West Texans, said the state committee was created by and acting under federal law, that the place to seek relief is in the federal courts.

Wilson contended the committee had failed to comply with department of agriculture rules.

The original petition alleged the committee has failed to recognize a shifting of cotton production from East and South Texas to West Texas and that the West Texas area has not received its fair share of cotton acreage quotas.

Oral arguments were heard Feb. 17.

Filing the petition were Willis Hawkins of Castro County, Ralph White of Howard County, Floyd Smith of Martin County and George Smith of Jones County.

The plaintiffs filed a similar suit in Washington about Feb. 15.

Second Lions Club To Be Considered

Possibility of organizing an evening Lions Club will be explored here Monday.

Approximately two score men have indicated they will attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Smith's Tea Room, 1301 Scurry.

David M. (Doc) Ellis, Midland, director of public relations for district 2-T-2, will be in charge of the meeting, and some officials from the Big Spring Lions Club, sponsor of the proposed evening organization, will be on hand. Roy Minear, Midland, governor of District 2-T-2, plans to be on hand for the gathering.

ROY MINEAR

If there is sufficient sentiment for establishing an evening club, organization steps will be taken and tentative slate of officers will be named.

"The Lions Club here has signified its desire to have a second club in the city," said Ellis, "because many men who would like to participate are prevented because their jobs will not let them attend at noon Wednesday. Another reason is that in this city of well over 25,000 people there is no evening service club of any kind to serve men who would like to have a part in a civic undertaking."

Ellis stressed that while contacts have been made in a number of instances, any man interested in an evening club connection is invited to attend the meeting actually is an open one because it is physically impossible to extend personal invitations. Persons who would like to attend and who have not been contacted are asked to call Larson Lloyd, Lions president, or Fred Stitzell, secretary.

Although the prospective club would be the 19th to be organized in District 2-T-2 this year, Ellis emphasized that the district is aiming not for numbers but for strong clubs. He listed new clubs at Coahoma, Ackerly and Lamesa (evening) as examples.

Among those indicating participation in the Monday meeting are John B. Hardy, Tom Osman, W. R. Smelser, M. M. Mancill, Dick Davis, D. A. Douglass, Jarrell Jones, J. J. Jeter, Albert Hoberg, Raymond F. Dyer, Frank Rutherford, R. F. Rutherford, W. A. Westfall, B. W. Grummett, Hollis Harder, Ted O. Groehl, Bernie L. Coughlin.

James J. Tyler, the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, W. T. Roberts, Buck Bowling, A. A. Cooper, A. C. Elliott, Oscar Nabors, Leon M. Kinney, H. C. Morrison, Clyde H. Rowe, L. B. Brackeen, J. O. Hagood, James Vines, Joe B. Hedleston.

Ted Hull, L. I. Stewart, E. B. Hilburn, C. W. Parks, Tommy Weaver, Dr. T. C. Tinkham, Eddie Kohanek, T. G. Harris, Toby Cook, J. O. Newson, Keith Henderson, Jim Raoul, G. R. Eiler, Charlie Boyd, Sig Rogers, and A. D. Harmon.

Russians Spread Rumor Stalin Killed His Wife

LONDON, March 31 (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today that Communist circles in Russia are circulating a report that Stalin personally shot and killed his second wife, Nadia Alliluyeva.

The report is said to have gained wide currency in the Soviet Union.

One account said the allegation against Stalin was included in a three-hour long letter being read to Communist party meetings in Moscow and other large cities.

Circulation of this story adds one more facet to the mystery that has surrounded the death of 30-year-old Nadia in November 1932.

For years there have been reports that she committed suicide or that she died from poisoning after eating food prepared for Stalin. Other accounts have described her as the one woman Stalin really loved, and the one person who, while she lived, tempered his ruthlessness.

At the time of her death the official Kremlin announcement said she had died "after a long illness."

Isaac Deutscher's political biography of Stalin gives the suicide version of her death, the one probably most widely accepted.

According to this account Stalin and his wife had a violent quarrel while visiting at the home of Klementi Voroshilov, now Soviet President.

"Nadia spoke her mind about the famine and discontent in the country. Stalin's nerves were at ready strain to the utmost. He burst out against his wife in a flood of vulgar abuse."

"Nadia left the same evening she committed suicide."

Western informants said the story that Stalin shot his wife is going the rounds in Moscow with a separate report that the dead dictator's relatives are asking that he be buried alongside Nadia.

Her body is in Moscow's Novo Devichy cemetery.

Mrs. Tucker's Father Succumbs

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at the Methodist Church in Gordon for J. S. Sims, 89, father of Mrs. L. M. Tucker of Big Spring.

Mr. Sims, who lived most of his life at Gordon, died Friday evening. He had been ill for three years. He also is survived by his wife.

Mrs. Tucker went to Gordon Friday on learning of her father's death.

Killeen Calls For Improvement Bonds

KILLEEN, March 31 (AP)—The Killeen City Council passed an ordinance last night for an emergency $100,000 bond issue election on April 17.

An estimated $55,000 would be used for street improvement, $25,000 for a new fire station and $20,000 for a sanitary fill site.

Monday Won't Be 'Easter Holiday'

No holiday for county employees on Monday, in observance of Easter, is in store.

County Judge R. H. Weaver said that Monday would just be April 2 and business as usual would be the rule in the county building.

Some rumors had been circulated that a special holiday might be in effect on the day after Easter.

The County Library will be closed, however. The librarian pointed out that most of the schools in the county, including those in Big Spring, will be shut down.

Many of the library's customers are students.

Accused Cotton Men Have Been Serving Government

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today the president of three firms indicted this week in a cotton anti-trust case are serving as unpaid government consultants on cotton.

Asst. Secy. Marvin McClain told questioners the three are members of the 10-man cotton export advisory committee advising the government on how to get rid of a huge cotton surplus.

The three are Allison Pell of Pell Cotton Co., Charlotte, N. C.; Roger Dixon of R. L. Dixon & Bros., Dallas and E. F. Creekmore of E. F. Creekmore Co., New Orleans.

A federal grand jury in New Orleans on Wednesday indicted eight corporations and four individuals on charges of engaging in an unlawful combination and conspiracy to restrain competition.

The Pell, Dixon and Creekmore firms were among those indicted.

They have denied any charges of wrongdoing.

The indictment alleged the eight companies and four individuals violated the antitrust laws through collusive bidding in the purchase of more than 20 million dollars worth of government owned cotton.

One Of Every Four Due To Be Victim Of Cancer

By SAM BLACKBURN
The next time you are at a meeting look around you. Suppose there are 20 people in the room.
Say to yourself: "Five of these 20 persons I am now seeing are destined to fall victim of cancer in the life span still allotted to them."
Then say to yourself: "I may be one of those five."
If you want to further impress on your mind the dreadful prospect ahead—unless you and your fellows decide to do something about it—consider this thought: "If five of these 20 persons fall victim to cancer, four will die of that disease. Only one will be cured."

Everytime you pick up the paper and read the obituary column the chances are that one or more of the persons listed have succumbed to cancer. It may not say so in such blunt words but if you look into the records you will find it to be true.
Suppose you go to the office of Pauline Petty, county clerk. "Ask her to let you see the 'Death Record'."
She will hand you a ponderous gray-hued tome, heavy to handle. Inside the binders you will find page after page of photostat copies of death certificates for Howard County residents who have died in the past year.

Turn through the pages. You may not find the blunt word "cancer" listed as the cause of death.
Doctors are more specific. Death, they report in their statements, was due to "carcinoma." Or it may be other words of Latin origin. Jot them down. Look them up in the dictionary. You find they are the varying forms of cancer.

Hartman Hooser To Open Office

Hartman Hooser, attorney on the staff of James Little for the past two years, announced Saturday that he is opening his own law office.
Hooser, who will have no associates, will set up offices in Rooms 204-205, Wasson Building, General law practice, with emphasis on litigation over damages and compensation, is planned.
The attorney has spent nearly three years in association with Little. He first joined the firm in the spring of 1950 following his graduation from Baylor Law School. He became attorney for Howard County on Jan. 1, 1951, and held that post until the spring of 1954 when he resigned to rejoin Little.
Hooser was among the early graduates of Howard County Junior College. He enrolled at Baylor after two years at HJC.

Uncle Ray: Worst Hurricane Hit West Indies

By RAMON COFFMAN
In a given space a tornado is far more furious and does more harm than a hurricane, but a hurricane covers a far larger area. It sweeps across thousands of square miles of ocean surface, and then may carry its harm to the land.
Q. How often do hurricanes take place?
A. During the present century, there have been eight or nine West Indies and Gulf of Mexico hurricanes a year, on the average.
Q. Which of those hurricanes has done the most damage?
A. In the first year of this century, a hurricane created a "storm wave" which swept across Galveston, Texas. More than 6,000 persons lost their lives in that disaster.
Q. What was the worst hurricane in history?
A. The Great Hurricane, which took place 176 years ago, is the worst on record. It swept over the West Indies, and an old record declares that 20 thousand persons lost their lives. Among those who died were 4,000 soldiers on board French transport vessels.

9,000 cancer deaths occurred. Go to your family physician, is the advice of Dr. Cowper. Tell him your problem.
Modern medicine is prepared to track down and identify cancer. Modern medicine is ready, too, to halt cancer and strip it of its fangs—if the treatment can be started soon enough after the disease makes its appearance.
Above all, says Dr. Cowper, don't gamble with cancer. If you are victim of the disease, and discover your condition quickly enough, you can be cured.
If you are not a cancer victim yet have some indicative symptom of the disease, provide yourself with peace of mind by finding out that you are cancer free.
April is "cancer month," a time for fund drives throughout the nation in Howard County, this is taken care of through the United Fund and there will be no solicitation. However, some attempt at "cancer education" may be made.

Don't sneer—you could have cancer at this moment. And perhaps not know it.
"How then," you may ask, "can I find out?" Rather, what symptoms could I find which might give me a hint?
According to Dr. Roscoe B. G. Cowper, Big Spring physician and surgeon, there are seven such symptoms. Existence of any one of these might prove the presence of cancer. But, by the same token, presence of one of these symptoms does not have to signify cancer.
The point is this:
Since the symptoms do often reveal cancer, the wise persons will find out whether the condition he finds in himself is indicative of the killer. The unwise person will shrug it off, pay no heed. That's why all the skill of modern medicine in dealing with control of cancer has been ineffective in curtailing the death toll of the disease. Too many persons who do have cancer refuse to face the facts and find out their real condition in time. When pain and terror drive them to take steps, they have waited too long. That's why one cancer case of four is now being cured.

There's a very little a doctor can do for a dying man.
Says Dr. Cowper:
"There are seven symptoms which are strongly indicative of cancer."
Here they are:
1. A cough which persists and doesn't cease within a month. Be particularly alarmed if you cough up blood.
2. A sudden change in bowel habits.
3. Indigestion, if that condition does not cease in a reasonable time.
4. Changes on the skin—a mole, perhaps, which you have had for years suddenly begins to grow larger; a wart which has been insignificant and unimportant becomes bigger and annoying.
5. An open sore on the body which does not heal within two weeks.
6. Bleeding from any orifice of the body abnormally.
7. Mysterious lumps in any organ of the body.
Should any of these conditions occur, there is a very grave probability you may have cancer.
What should you do?
Keep your condition secret to yourself, ignore it and pretend it is "nothing."
That's what too many do—that's why the majority of last year's

Band Boosters Delay Meeting

Band Booster Club members will not meet at the regular time Monday evening, but at 7:30 p.m. April 9 instead.
The meeting place will be the high school auditorium, and members of the high school band will play a brief concert. It will go through a selection for sight reading and then will play its contest number for the regional meet. After the concert, there will be a business session at which time plans for the spring concert, the souvenir programs, candy sales, etc., will be discussed.
The senior band will compete in sight reading and contest numbers on the evening of April 13 at Odessa, and in the solo and ensemble divisions the next day. The junior high band will play its sight reading and contest numbers, as well as solos and ensembles on April 14, and will participate in the marching contest that same day. The senior band took part in the marching contest last autumn, barely missing first division but scoring excellent in the ratings.

Response 'Fair' In Easter Seal Drive

A "fair response" to Easter seal solicitation for crippled children was reported Saturday by George Zachariah, chairman of the Howard County Society for Crippled Children.
About $500 has been given, said Zachariah. Only efforts being made to raise the funds for crippled youngsters is through the sale of Easter seals which were mailed to all residents and street solicitation by Girl Scouts Saturday.
Zachariah said no all-out drive is being conducted because the Easter appeal comes on the heels of the annual March of Dimes campaign for polio funds.
"We want everyone to participate," he added. "If everyone gives a little, we'll have enough." The contributions will be used locally to purchase braces, crutches, hearing aids and similar devices for crippled children of Howard County and to support the new Cerebral Palsy Center in Midland which provides free treatment for children from this area.
The funds benefit a total of 29 handicapped children in Howard County. Eleven of these go regularly to Midland for treatment at the Cerebral Palsy Center. Several local women regularly provide their services and transportation to Midland.

County Will Expect Free Road Rights

Owners of property which lies along routes the State Highway Department selects for future farm-to-market roads need not look to Howard County to pay them for right-of-way easements hereafter. The final road of this type on which the county will pay out money for such easements will be the Luther-Vinson project. When right-of-way is secured for this road, the lid goes on, the commissioners asserted.

Under the terms of a new policy adopted last week by the County Commissioners Court, such right-of-way must be given gratis.

A. J. Stallings, who fathered the proposed change in policy, pointed out that the county has paid out a considerable amount of money in the last year acquiring right-of-way for farm-to-market roads. He cited one strip of such road in which the county expended "more than $10,000" for right-of-way.

He contended "it was not just" that property owners be compensated for right-of-way land when the road in question will greatly augment the over-all value of their property.

Hereafter, the commissioners proposed, when the state submits a scheduled route for a new farm-to-market road, if right-of-way is not given by property owners, the commission will press the state to suggest an alternate route on which free right-of-way is available.

The policy was adopted by a 3 to 2 vote of the court.

Stallings and G. E. Gilliam voted for the plan and Ralph Proctor and Earl Hull voted against it. County Judge R. H. Weaver voted with Stallings and Gilliam to break the tie and the policy was approved.

Stallings Saturday said that the one road he had in mind more than $10,000 had been expended by the county included one strip alone which cost $5,000.

However, Weaver explained that in this case, the assessment allowed the owner was made by appraisers after the county had initiated condemnation proceedings to acquire the right-of-way.

Other Judges Asked To Help In Lunacy Work

Outside counties which send lunacy cases to the Big Spring State Hospital are to be told that the office of the county judge in Howard County can no longer handle the routine details of such proceedings.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, pointing out that the case load of lunacy matters has become so heavy in recent months that his office is no longer able to cope with them, said he would send letters to all county judges in the district this week advising them that a new procedure must be adopted in such matters.

"We had 36 lunacy cases in March," said Weaver. "All of the papers and other forms essential to the hearings were handled by my office. My staff cannot afford to devote the time that such case preparation requires."

"I intend to inform the county judges that all papers relative to lunacy matters which they send to the hospital here must be prepared in their own offices."

"I have been handling the cases as a courtesy to the judges of other counties. It was all right when the total number of cases was only five or six. For the last three or four months, instead of five or six we have had anywhere from 30 to 38."

The law requires a mass of paper work in each case and my office just can't go along any further doing all of this extra work."

County To Take Bids On New And Used Machinery

County Commissioners Court has asked for alternate bids on both new and used road building machinery to supply essential working tools the county engineer has said he needs to build roads in the county for the current year.

The bids are to be considered at the regular meeting of the commissioners on April 15.

Walter Parks, county engineer, last Monday submitted a list of the equipment he felt was required if the county's program of 20 miles of paving is to be completed in 1956.

He said that an eight or 10 ton three-wheel roller, a tractor with a bulldozer and two dual drum sheep foot rollers are needed.

He also asked that his department be provided with a carry-all — a station-wagon type of motor car — to serve when survey projects are in progress.

Parks said that he had located both new and second hand road equipment which could be purchased. He estimated the total cost of the roller, the tractor-bulldozer, the sheep foot rollers and the carry-all at $30,000. The price for second hand equipment, he pointed out, would vary in accordance with the condition of the machinery.

The commissioners have advised used for alternate bids — offers of both new and used equipment.

The carry-all, of course, would be a new vehicle.

When this vehicle was proposed, G. E. Gilliam opposed its purchase. On a vote, Arthur Stallings, Ralph Proctor and Earl Hull voted to include the carry-all in the official advertisement. Gilliam voted "no."

Parks, who was recently employed as county engineer, told the commissioners that he had inspected all available machinery now owned by the county. He said it was possible that the county may have some excess machinery that can be used to "trade" in on the purchase of the needed equipment.

Stop Sign For Water

Binie White (standing), Vincent rancher, and Edward S. Bigham, Soil Conservation Service conservationist, check White's wire net fence designed to slow runoff water. Theory of the fence is that trash and brush will pile up against the wire, slowing and spreading water so that it will penetrate the relatively tight range soils.

Ready To Catch Rainfall, Even If He Has To Fence It

If it ever rains again—and there is some reasonable doubt about that—Binie White is going to hold as much of it as he can on his pasture, even if he has to fence it in.

In fact, White has erected what you might call a "water fence," although the Soil Conservation Service refers to it as a net wire spreader. Call it what you like, but White hopes that the effect will be to gain more moisture-absorption over a wider area of his pasture northwest of Vincent.

To spread out the sometime rapid runoff following hard showers, he has constructed a mile of fence of regular 30-inch sheep fencing doubled over to provide added strength and to provide closer meshes.

The spreader works like this: The water comes against the net wire in a concentrated point. It will stack debris or trash against the wire, which in turn will slow the water and raise its level. While penetration will be increased at this point, the water will start flowing down the line of the net wire, piling up more trash as it goes, thus multiplying and extending the process.

SCS technicians point out that the wire spreader will not function as intended when put into operation initially, but its net effect increases with each rain. White intends to pile mesquite brush along the fence line to slow up movement of water through the wire.

Spreaders are laid out on a grade of three-tenths of a foot to each 100 feet of distance. Cedar posts supporting the wire are set two feet into the ground 10 feet apart.

One of the two spreaders on the White ranch starts at the spillway end of one of his stock ponds and grades out across his pasture. The other diversion is placed across a creek or draw that runs through his ranch and will spread water both ways from the center. The SCS believes these will get around the problem of moisture intake of the heavy clay soils.

This practice is an accepted one in the Howard County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation program and a cost share payment is made when performed properly. The local Soil Conservation Service assisting the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District had the technical responsibility of the practice and lays out the systems. Binie White has been a cooperator with the local Soil Conservation District for many years.

Faces Trial In Kidnaping

GEORGETOWN, March 31 (AP)—Mrs. Pauline Schulze, 30, accused of kidnaping a newly born baby from a Beaumont hospital, will be brought to trial here Monday for the second time.

The former nurses' aide went on trial Jan. 30 in Beaumont but a mistrial was declared Feb. 4, after doctors testified that a key witness, Dr. Roy Schoettle of Houston, was too ill to finish his testimony. Schoettle suffered a heart attack the night of Feb. 2 during a recess while he was appearing as a witness.

The case was transferred here for a new trial.

RESOLUTIONS

Control Of Natural Resources By States Proposed By Rogers

By CHARLES HASLET WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—A constitutional amendment "to reserve to the states all control over their natural resources, including petroleum," was proposed this week by Rep. Walter Rogers of Texas.

That flow from such centralized remains to be seen. Another kind of resolution was offered by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn). This one would direct the Federal Trade Commission to investigate all phases of the petroleum industry.

When Congress adopts this resolution it will have taken an important step toward eliminating from the oil industry those practices which prevent service station dealers from achieving their rightful competitive position in the national economy.

Coal Miners Get Another Hike In Wage

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—A new 80-cent-a-day wage boost for the nation's nearly 200,000 soft coal miners goes into effect tomorrow.

The increase is the second phase of a total two-dollar-a-day pay raise negotiated for the miners last fall by the United Mine Workers. The first phase, providing a $1.20 increase, went into effect last Oct. 1.

The two increases combine to bring the daily basic wage for bituminous miners to $20.25. Labor Department statistics show the miners averaged over $100 a week earnings this winter for the first time in history.

Coal producers have increased their prices effective April 1 by 15 to 50 cents a ton, an average hike of about 25 cents. This will bring the average price of coal to about $5 a ton at the mine.

Coal production and consumption have been high, providing fairly steady work as compared with short work weeks during slack production periods a few years ago.

Actually, few miners work on Sunday, and Monday is a mining holiday so most miners won't start work under the new pay scale until Tuesday.

The Monday holiday commemorates the 58th anniversary of the inauguration of the eight-hour day in the coal mines in 1898.

Reds Making Headway With New Soft Policy

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Russia's new velvet glove foreign policy seems to be paying off despite frequent American warnings that the iron hand of Soviet power still threatens.

The United States is faced with the task of keeping alive the same spirit of unity and cooperation within the Western Alliance which led to its creation eight years ago and to the development of a Western European-North Atlantic defense system which is credited here with forcing the changes in Soviet behavior.

The impact of the more friendly Soviet demeanor on the Atlantic defense system was sharply dramatized this week. The parliament of Iceland called for removal of American troops from that strategic island.

Icelandic Foreign Minister Kristinn Gudmundsson said he wanted American forces pulled out because of the easing of international tensions following the Geneva summit conference last July.

American officials are described as reasonably certain that the problem of maintaining Iceland as a secure air base in the Western Alliance can be worked out satisfactorily.

But the underlying forces which prompted the Icelandic action may be expected to create problems for the Alliance in other areas.

In fact, it is doubtful whether some of the problems which have already arisen would have presented quite the difficulties they have, if Soviet policies had not shifted to professions of peace.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party leader Nikita Khrushchev, who brought about the shift, are expected to emphasize it even more when they visit Britain in mid-April. They achieved considerable success last winter with a free-wheeling

Jury Blasts Groups For Silence On Strike Violence

NEW CASTLE, Ind., March 31 (AP)—A Henry County grand jury report today "morally indicted" both the violence in last fall's strike at the Peffer Circle Corp. foundry and witnesses who wouldn't talk about it.

After investigating the recurring violence that erupted into a riot at the foundry last Oct. 5, the grand jury reported:

"We morally indict those responsible for the shameful disgrace to our community and those who tacitly support such action by their refusal to tell what they know."

The jury said it had insufficient evidence to return any indictment.

speech-making tour of India.

What the Bulganin-Khrushchev government has succeeded in doing insofar as the 15-nation Atlantic Alliance is concerned is to lessen the fear of Soviet aggression which dominated the policies of Western nations when the Alliance was organized. As the fear has decreased, nations have become preoccupied with other and more immediate issues. Some of these have created divisions within the alliance itself.

This is the case in the British-Greek-Turkish dispute over Cyprus. All are members of NATO. Their cooperation is essential to the long-range security of the eastern Mediterranean area.

In the absence of fears of Soviet aggression, Greece becomes, at least for a time, bitterly anti-British. Britain develops hostile attitudes toward Greece. Turkey threatens to take drastic action if the British cannot hold Cyprus against Greek claims.

These attitudes interfere seriously with the continuing work of strengthening the Atlantic Alliance, the first line of American defense against Soviet power.

Even in the Palestine dispute, where the Atlantic Alliance is not involved, it is believed the hostile countries would be more restrained in their actions if they were really convinced that a new Arab-Israeli war would lead to an extension of Soviet power.

Youth's Achievements Get More Space Than Misdeeds

Deviation from the unusual makes news because it makes an impression in the average mind. Nowhere is this emphasized more than in the reporting of news about activities of children and young people.

Frequently newspaper people are asked "why don't you publish stories about the good things young people do instead of all that stuff about juvenile delinquents?"

The answer to that is simple. Newspapers do, but the average person tends to remember the stories about delinquencies rather than the other items.

For instance, within the last 10 days, which is a fairly typical period, The Herald carried 34 items about youngsters and young people engaged in their club, school, church and similar activities. These were about meetings, accomplishments, high scholastic achievements, etc. In all there were 80 column inches of newspaper space. In addition, two pictures dealing with positive accomplishments of young people were carried.

For the same period, there were five stories dealing with juvenile delinquencies. These totalled 13 column inches of space. There were no pictures. To be sure there were several stories about misdeeds such as theft of hub caps, fender skirts, missing bikes, etc. which might be the result of juvenile deviation from the normal social pattern, but these had not been proven to be the result of juvenile action. Hence, they were not counted in the adverse total for it would not be fair to attribute them without proof.

None of the figures about the normal, constructive activities of youngsters and young people included stories items. The number and inches of copy devoted to these would exceed in volume and probably would exceed in number those counted.

Over a longer period of time, it is not improbable that the space devoted to the positive side of youth activities will hold a 10-1 advantage in the columns of The Herald.

BRACERO FUSS

Pay Battle May Go Into Courts

LAMESA, March 31—A threat to "resort to the courts" in a bracero wage dispute was voiced here Saturday by Jack Broyles, member of a Dawson County farmers' committee.

Broyles said his group has learned that the U. S. Department of Labor apparently plans to push efforts to collect an additional 20 cents per 100 pounds of cotton pulled by Mexican National laborers in Dawson County last fall.

"Apparently," said Broyles, "the survey we made is not going to do any good with the Department of Labor. They are accepting a much smaller survey taken by the Texas Employment Commission."

He referred to surveys of wages paid braceros for boll pulling during the period from Oct. 20 to Nov. 6. The TEC found the prevailing wage at the time to be $1.75 per 100 pounds. The Dawson County Farm Bureau recently completed a survey which it said showed the prevailing wage to be $1.55.

The Department of Labor has asked Dawson farmers who used braceros to put up the additional 20 cents—the difference between what braceros were paid and what the TEC found to be the prevailing wage.

The Farm Bureau estimated the extra 20 cents per 100 pounds would amount to about $75,000 for Dawson County.

Lamesa Seniors Schedule Play

LAMESA, March 31—"Juke Mad," spring play of the senior class at Lamesa High School, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. April 5-6 in the junior high auditorium.

The production is classes as "a sophisticated comedy" centered around 15-year-old Penny Wood, the chief character. Penny is portrayed by Carol Fry.

Others in the cast are Neal Echols, Nita Fincannon, Carl Crouch, Tom Koger, Cynthia Cason, Nancy Nowlin, Benny Lybrand, Charles Zeeck, Terry Pipkin, Margaret Simmons, James Norris and Cheryl Echols.

The play is directed by Mrs. Wyette Hart, high school speech instructor. The admission charge will be 50 cents.

Separated Workers Due Vacation Pay

Any employee of the county hereafter who quits his post or who may be fired will still be compensated for any accrued vacation time he may have to his credit. The county commissioners have officially ruled that this will be the policy hereafter in solving the problem of what to do about such accrued time.

Big Spring, Texas, Sunday, April 1, 1956

Soc.

The Fun Section

Just a hop, skip and jump out of the kitchen in the Jack Cook home is this inviting corner where the family or guests can gather before or after meals. Mrs. Cook likes it because she can snitch a few minutes ever so often to read a new magazine or watch her favorite TV program while she keeps an eye on "what's cookin'."

The Work Area

Gleaming copper, white curtains and rich pine walls form such an attractive place that it's a pleasure to work in this kitchen in the new home of the Jack Cooks. With a TV set and a record player at the other end of the room, the cook can always forget her "drudgery" — if work here could be called that!

Miss Pickens Is Awarded 'Fulbright'

A Fulbright Scholarship for a year's study in the University of Paris has been awarded to Marjorie Pickens.
Miss Pickens, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pickens, 1503 Chickasaw, is a social worker now employed by the government in Korea.
She will study social work in France. The Fulbright Scholarships are part of the International Education Exchange Program to promote good will between countries by exchanging students and educators.
For four years Miss Pickens worked in a community center in the Chicago slums. She took a master's degree in social service from Tulane University, New Orleans, and her bachelor's from Texas Christian University, Fort Worth. She is a graduate of Colorado City High School.

HD Club Studies Gardens, Lawns

Roll call was answered by members of the St. Lawrence Home Demonstration Club with tips on growing flowers. The group met recently in the home of Mrs. Fred Hoelscher.
Oliver West, county agent, discussed gardening, flower growing and lawn making. He distributed booklets on those subjects and on fertilizers and weed control.
The meeting scheduled for April 10 was postponed to enable members to attend the district meeting in Big Lake on that date.
Refreshments were served to seven members and two guests, Mrs. Sidney Hirt and Mrs. Ed Plagens Jr.

Hospitality Is The Keynote Of The Jack Cooks' New Home

By ANNE LEFFEVER
Designed for family comfort and genuine hospitality, the new home of the Jack Cooks has that "we're glad you came" atmosphere the minute you step into the gracious living room!

Walls of fog green are complemented with draperies in a sheer, but nubby fabric. A carpet in the same shade is an effective background for maple furniture, with an accent of coral and gold on the divan. The gold is picked up in easy chair.

One of the prettiest things in some of the new homes these days is the planter used as a divider at the entrance. This, the Cooks have employed to great advantage.

Balancing the entranceway are the double doors, louvered, which open into the kitchen. A single door on the same wall, gives access to the dining area in the living room. With all doors open, the space seems one large room.

Another double purpose room is the kitchen, with one end "the work spot"; the other, made into a comfortable lounging corner. A recessed stove and refrigerator leave a spacious room for dancing and games, and here are placed the TV set and, in a cabinet-desk, a high-fidelity record player.

Green and white vinyl tile in a splatter pattern, covers the floor. White frothy curtains are edged with a green and brown small plaid which is also used on a studio couch. Walls of ponderosa pine are most attractive as well as easily kept.

The guest room is a combination of green walls and rosy beige with green carpet. The bath continues the color scheme with brown and pink tile, pink curtains, and accents of coral and green in the wallpaper.

It's in the room of ten-year-old Suzanne and seven-year-old Jackie that the glamour touch is added! Here, there is a bejeweled light switch. Encrusted with pale pink stones and rhinestones, the switch sets the pace for the shell-pink walls.

Short curtains at the high windows repeat the pink with tiny gray-green figures on brown. A brown and white tweed carpet is matched with a brown dust ruffle on the twin beds, topped with white spreads.

An outstanding feature of the room is the tier of built-in drawers with a dressing table between them. The space makes a good study area for the two youngsters.

The tweed carpet is used in the master bedroom also, with its green and brown shades in muted tones. An adjoining bath uses harmonizing colors.

It's the kind of home that already "looks lived in" although the family has had that 1706 Harvard address for just about two months.

Touch Of A Green Thumb

It would have to be a green thumb that has the planter filled with such luxuriant plants in the two months that the Jack Cooks have lived in their home. The grillwork above the planter is painted the same shade of green used on the walls of the living room. A strip of tile, not visible in the picture, is immediately inside the entrance. (Photos by Keith McMillin.)

Fairview Club Has Breakfast

The annual Easter breakfast of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club was held Friday morning in the home of Mrs. W. H. Ward. Co-hostesses were Mrs. O. D. Engle and Mrs. Jim Smith.
The serving table was laid with a green linen cloth and decorated with a basket of Easter eggs, bunnies and spring flowers. Favors were tiny bunnies each holding an Easter poem. As part of the fun, each guest read the poem she received.
Mrs. Ward was presented with a corsage of red carnations. Secret pal gifts were exchanged by members.
Guests attending were Arah Phillips, Twila Lomax, Alice Smith, Mrs. A. D. Dodson of Encino, N. M., Lucile Engle, Nancy Hatch and Ronald Ward. Fourteen members were present.

Eager Beaver Club

Sewing and chatting were the diversions for members of the Eager Beaver Club when they met at the home of Mrs. W. O. Washington Friday afternoon. Mrs. Denver Yates will be hostess for the next meeting in her home on Route Two. Refreshments were served to five members.

Party, Meeting Highlight Week For Vincent Folks

VINCENT — The Brownie Troop honored Lyn Holt, 10, with a birthday party. Her mother, Mrs. Don Holt, was hostess.
Birthday cake was served to 13 members and their leader, Mrs. Leon Stearns.
Mrs. Elmo Dunn gave the devotion at a stewardship and business meeting of the Women's Missionary Union in the home of Mrs. Jake Shepherd.
Fourteen members and two visitors attended.
Mrs. Horace Rankin is hospitalized in Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Stallcup and children spent an evening in Midland visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Billings and daughter. Mrs. Billings is the Stallcup's daughter.

United Council To Hear Mrs. Wyker
In Lubbock Church

The United Council of Church Women will have the opportunity of hearing Mrs. James Wyker, vice president of the National Council of Churches of Christ, Thursday and Friday.
 Mrs. Wyker is being brought to Lubbock through the efforts of ministers and laymen of Lubbock, and she will speak at the First Christian Church, 2323 Broadway.
 Planning to attend from Big Spring is Mrs. Shine Phillips, president of the local Council of Church Women. The meetings are open to women of all churches. Anyone wishing to go to the sessions is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Phillips.
 Mrs. Wyker will conduct a workshop for the United Councils Thursday at 2 p.m. At 7:30 p.m., she will speak on "Your Church and the National Council of Churches of Christ." Both meetings will be at the Christian Church.
 Friday, at 9:30 a.m., there will be an open meeting to discuss "The National Council and the United Council of Church Women."
Teen-Aged Models
To Illustrate
Hyperion Lecture
 High school home economics students will be fashion models for a lecture, "New Materials and Designs," by Mrs. John Annen, their teacher, at a 1905 Hyperion Club meeting at 3 p.m. Wednesday.
 "Your Home Charming," a series of color slides on decorating, will also be included on the program. The meeting will be held at the union building, Howard County Junior College.
 Mrs. Ben F. Johnson Jr., program chairman, will give the commentary for the slides, which feature the do-it-yourself trend in interior decorating. Designing on a budget is emphasized in the slides.

MRS. EDWIN T. GARNETT

Flora Leuenberger, Edwin Garnett Wed

LAMESA — Before a mantel banked with woodwardia, white spider mums and candelabra Flora Jane Leuenberger became the bride of Edwin T. Garnett, Friday evening in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Flora Leuenberger, 912 South First Street. The double ring ceremony was read by the Reverend J. L. Mayhew.

Mrs. Flora Barnard presented a musical program and also accompanied Early Peltier who sang "Indian Love Call" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Glover Leuenberger of Lubbock, the bride wore an original model gown of white imported French lace and nylon tulle over net and taffeta.

It was designed with a portrait neckline outlined with applique of lace held with a small upstanding pleated tulle ruffle. The fitted tulle bodice had tiny puffed sleeves completed by taupe tulle worn over the hands. A wide fitted midriff of applied lace accented the waistline, from which stemmed a voluminous waltz length skirt made of billowing tulle enhanced with scattered appliques of lace.

Her short veil of silk illusion was joined to a cap of tulle. This was outlined with appliques of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls held with a tiny ruffle of pleated tulle. She carried a white orchid atop a white Bible. Mrs. Billy Miers, the matron of honor, wore a waltz length gown of iridescent taffeta in a soft shade of pink. Fashioned with a portrait neckline the fitted princess line bodice had fullness held with a band at the shoulders. It terminated with a long torso waistline which was accented with matching dyed lace held with a large bow at the center back. Her waltz length skirt was worn over crinoline. She carried a nosegay of white roses.

Ed Garnett was his son's best man. Following the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Bandera and San Antonio. For travel the bride wore an all-over embroidered yellow cotton satin sheath dress and linen duster. She used matching accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

The bride, a graduate of the Lamesa High School, is a junior at Texas Tech, where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta and the Rodeo Association.

The bridegroom was graduated from Brownfield High School. He is a graduate in Animal Husbandry from Texas Tech where he was active in the Aggie Club, Block and Bridle, Rodeo Association and 1955 Judging Team.

Following their wedding trip, they will be at home at 3615 22nd Place in Lubbock.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Chavarría, El Paso, announce the engagement and April 5th wedding of their daughter, Estelita, to Raymond Candelaria, son of Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Candelaria, El Paso. The bride-elect, a former Big Spring High School student, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toney Castillo, former residents now living in El Paso.

Plans June Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Max M. Mallicoat of Odessa announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Lt. Elton Z. Taylor Jr., son of Elton Z. Taylor of Big Spring and Mrs. J. T. Hemmingway of Midland. Miss Mallicoat, an Odessa High School senior, is a member of the Sorolla Tri-Hi-Y Chapter. Lieutenant Taylor is a graduate of Big Spring High School and New Mexico Military Institute.

Roumanian Ghivetch Calls For Available Vegetables

Ghivetch is made from all the vegetables the Roumanian woman can find. With an artful use of herbs, she has become famous for this tempting and delectable vegetable dish. This artistry with herbs and seasonings makes a meatless dish of beautiful vegetables not only inexpensive—but truly delicious.

A very large baking dish is used in Roumania for making ghivetch. It can also have fish, pork chops, lamb chops or other meat added. A soup stock or bouillon cubes will add still more flavor.

Roumanian Ghivetch might also have eggplant, turnips, parsley, okra, green pepper and even grapes. A good deal of leeway can be taken in preparing the dish as there is no exact recipe. The Roumanian women are true artists of the kitchen. It's the novel use of herbs and seasonings that makes such tasty food. Roumanian cookery can have a character all its own. It is flavorful, stimulating to the appetite, light and savory. The Roumanian housewife, even when following a recipe, personalizes her dish by adding seasonings by the old "pinch of this and a pinch of that" method.

ROUMANIAN GHIVETCH
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1 medium onion, sliced (about 1 cup)
 1 cup chopped celery
 2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
 2 carrots, sliced crosswise (about

1 cup)
 1 cup fresh, frozen or canned green peas
 1 small yellow squash, sliced (halve large slices)
 1/2 small head cauliflower (separated into small flowerets)
 1 cup uncooked white rice
 1 cup cut-up fresh, frozen or canned green beans or lima beans
 1 No. 303 can tomatoes
 2 1/2 cups water
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
 2 bay leaves
 1/2 teaspoon thyme
 1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate

Melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan over a low heat. Add the onion, celery and garlic. Cook, stirring occasionally, until the onion is tender and yellow.

While the onion and celery cook, prepare the vegetables. Place the carrots, peas, squash, cauliflower, rice and green beans in a greased 3-quart oven dish.

After the onion and celery cook, add to them the tomatoes, water, salt, black pepper, bay leaves, thyme and monosodium glutamate. Bring to a boil. Pour this mixture over the vegetables in the oven dish. Cover and place in a preheated 400-degree F. oven. Bake for 1 hour or until most of the liquid is absorbed and the vegetables are tender and succulent. Add more water if necessary. This recipe makes 12 servings.

Miss Wool Will Be Chosen In San Angelo

The fourth Miss Wool of the nation will return to San Angelo in August to relinquish her title to new royalty.

Jan Turbeville of Lockhart, who was chosen from 11 Texas contestants during festivities here in September, will be an honor guest at the fifth contest sponsored by the San Angelo Board of City Development in cooperation with the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and Auxiliary.

The five-day affair will be held from Aug. 28-Sept. 1 and will be similar to last year's event. A style show Aug. 31 will highlight events which will be climaxed with a coronation ball.

This year, as in all past years, entrants will be limited to Texas girls. Requirements remain about the same. Among prizes for the winner are a wardrobe valued at approximately $4,500, a tour of fashion centers of the United States, a new car for her use during her reign, and a set of luggage.

General qualifications in the Miss Wool contest require that the candidate be between the ages of 20 and 25, have completed at least one year of college, and never have been married. She must also be a resident of Texas, wear a size 12 garment, and be at least 5 feet, 6 inches tall, without shoes.

Miss Wool will be chosen from 11 finalists appearing in San Angelo Aug. 28 - Sept. 1. Room, board and entertainment will be provided for the 11 finalists while in San Angelo, as well as proper chaperonage. However, they must provide their own transportation expenses to and from San Angelo. Application forms may be secured by contacting the Miss Wool Contest Headquarters, P. O. Box 712, San Angelo, Texas.

Old Stand-By Livens Up Homey Menu

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Macaroni and cheese always seems a farm-style dish to us. Maybe because it came to the table often in the country house we knew when we were very young.

Something crunchy was always on the table to contrast with the succulence of the soft macaroni. Radishes perhaps. Often hearts of celery — white and cold and crisp, pale green leaves fringing its own special long dish.

Dessert was sometimes bananas and oranges. Round slices of both fruits, layered in a big cut-glass bowl, and served with soft custard flavored with a real vanilla bean. Our mother kept the vanilla bean in a special place—not too high for ferreting small fingers to lift out on occasion, to whiff the mellow scent, to put back again carefully in quiet wonder.

TWO-CHEESE MACARONI

Ingredients:
 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces (2 cups) elbow macaroni, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion (finely diced), 1 medium-sized green pepper (finely diced), 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon white pepper, 2 cups milk, 1 cup firmly-packed grated cheddar cheese, 1/2 cup (about) grated Romano cheese.

Method:
 Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender—9 to 12 minutes. Drain in colander. Meanwhile melt butter in 2-quart saucepan; add onion and green pepper and cook over low heat about 10 minutes, or until tender; stir often. Stir in flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper thoroughly. Add milk cook; and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Add grated cheddar cheese and 2 tablespoons of the grated Romano cheese stir constantly over very low heat until cheese is melted. Add drained macaroni to sauce; stir well. Reheat gently; do not boil. Turn into 5 individual baking dishes; sprinkle with remaining grated Romano cheese. Place under broiler for a minute or two to brown tops gently, serve at once. Makes 5 servings.

MARY NELLE BOWNDS

Afternoon Tea Announces Engagement, June Rites

An afternoon tea Saturday announced the engagement and approaching marriage of Mary Nelle Bownds to Walter Kreidel. The tea was given by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bownds, in their home, 1602 E. 17th. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kreidel, Fort Worth. Vows will be exchanged June 1 in a formal ceremony at 8 p.m. at Main Street Church of Christ. The couple is attending Abilene Christian College. Fifty guests were invited to the announcement tea. The wedding colors, pastel blue and white, were honored in the decoration scheme. Blue satin streamers, inscribed with the couple's names and the wedding date, were laid on a white linen cloth on the tea table. A crystal punch bowl was used. In the houseparty were Charlene Wasson, Frances Walker, Mrs. Dan Conley and Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs. A houseguest of the Bownds for the tea is Mrs. Dallas Blankenship, visiting from Dallas.

TV To Show Work Of Cerebral Palsy Center In Midland

TV viewers will have an opportunity to see some of the work of the Midland Cerebral Palsy Center Monday evening at 8 o'clock over KBST-TV when they see "Texas In Review" Midland's station, KMID-TV, will show the program Tuesday evening at 8:30. The Center, which is sponsored by the Society for Crippled Children, will show treatments and therapy in the children's home and in the rooms of the clinic. The new building, opened last Sunday, is run by two paid workers, assisted by local volunteers. These are members of the Children's Service League. Eleven children from Big Spring are taken regularly to the Center for treatments. Children from eight surrounding counties and New Mexico have received attention. All work is done without charge to the patients.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien Gives 'Promises' At Rainbow Social

Dr. P. D. O'Brien was guest speaker at a Rainbow Banquet for Prairie View Baptist young people Friday night. His topic was "Promises of God." Master of ceremonies Edgar Allen Phillips gave a welcome. "Follow the Rainbow," Lynette Grant sang "Oh, Promise Me," and Mrs. Fred Phillips played a piano medley of musical promises. The hostesses, Women's Missionary Society members, decorated Fellowship Hall in rainbow colors. Appetizers were served from the traditional "pot of gold at the end of the rainbow." Peanut "nuggets" were in smaller pots on the table. The programs were cut in rainbow shapes and napkins, favors and menus followed the theme. Mrs. Phillips played background music during the meal. About 30 attended. The Rev. Dan Oglesby gave the invocation and Mrs. W. C. Fryar the benediction.

Use Sprays Now

Do not wait for insects to damage your plants before using protective sprays or dust. Insecticides cannot repair damage but they can prevent it. The same applies to fungicides, which prevent plant disease.

Airport Baptists To Hold Prayer For April Revival

Cottage prayer services in preparation for an Airport Baptist Church revival will be held in homes of Women's Missionary Society members this week. The revival begins Friday and will continue through April 15. Additional 7 p.m. prayer services at the church will precede the 7:30 p.m. meetings during the revival. The cottage services will be held from 9:30-10:30 a.m. Meeting places during the week are as follows: Monday: Mrs. Floyd Dixon, 1611 Cardinal; Mrs. R. I. Findley, 1810 Owens. Tuesday: Mrs. W. H. Patterson, 103 Frazier; Mrs. James Findley, 702 Steakley. Wednesday: Mrs. W. A. James, 213 Kindle Road; Mrs. Sam Wells, 419 Hillside Drive. Thursday: Mrs. Richard Grimes, 1614 Awen; Mrs. James Findley. Avoid Mildew. Keep out of the growing garden when the leaves are wet. Do not sprinkle the leaves or plants late in the day so they are wet at nightfall. Both practices favor the spread of fungus disease.

Open house was held Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Harlan of Houston to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gayle, to Jack Little. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Little, 112 Lexington, of this city. Miss Harlan and Mr. Little are both students at the University of Texas in Austin, where the ceremony will take place. Vows will be read at 7 p.m. June 1 in the Austin Seminary Presbyterian Chapel.

April's Birthstone Means 'Innocence'

April's birthstone is the diamond, symbolizing innocence. Attributed to the sun as its gem of light, the diamond inspired even primitive people to a new belief in the existence of an unquenchable flame and of unconquerable virtue. As far back as the history of the diamond ring can be traced, this symbol of innocence has been appropriate as a sign of plighted troth. Diamonds are the simplest of all gems — yet the hardest substance known to man. The transformation of a diamond from a rough pebble to a dazzling, faceted stone, revealing its magical beauty, requires skillful cutting and polishing. Once cut and polished, the finest commercial diamond resembles a crystal-clear drop of water with a faint bluish tinge. The bluer the tint, the more valuable the diamond. Diamonds have been found in varying colors, from colorless white to deep yellow, brown, blue and even black. Tints of yellow and brown detract from the value of the diamond. Such tints, however, should not be confused with pronounced yellow and brown diamonds which are rare and practically museum pieces. Most of the world's supply of diamonds comes from Africa. Diamonds are not only desired as individual gems for their radiant fire, brilliance and permanence, but also in many kinds of jewelry to complement and enhance the beauty of other stones.

From The Red Man

T. H. Nalley explains the history of one of the 1,000 arrowheads and artifacts the couple has found during ten years of searching former Indian camp sites. Nalley is employed by Truman Jones Motor Company.

Newcomers Continue Search For Artifacts

A collection of 1,000 arrowheads means ten years of work and many glimpses into the past of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Nalley, 110 E. 13th, newcomers from San Angelo. "Searching for Indian relics takes not so much patience as strong legs," said Nalley, who one recent afternoon walked ten miles near Gall. Here three weeks, the couple has located another possible site north of Stanton. Nalley finds good spots for surface discoveries almost any place where there was once permanent water. The Nalleys can trace the history of the red man through the artifacts they have collected. Two crude, age-blackened arrowheads found near Van Horn, are between four and twenty thousand years old, according to estimates of amateur archeologists. "The Indians who made these probably thought they were doing a good job," said Nalley. Then as he compared them beside notched, agile arrowheads of comparative modern Indians, he explained: "But the older the Indian, the less art and skill he used in carving." As the white man appeared on the scene, steel began to be used. The Nalleys have done most of their searching around the El Paso Pecos River and Coleman County areas. Besides arrowheads, they have found other mementos. A primitive stone for grinding meal was picked up near Monahans. Another example of the simple weapons of early man is a stone ax in the collection. A stone shaft form, about three inches in diameter, was used to make the shafts for the arrowheads. The use of one round smooth stone about the same size is a mystery to the Nalleys, who believe it might have been used in a game. The artifacts are all picked up on the surface. "He doesn't believe in digging," said Mrs. Nalley smiling. Although she claims that the hobby is her husband's, she joins him on many trips. The supply of these surface relics is diminishing, in the opinion of Nalley, who thinks more people are interested in finding them than in previous years.

To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Lancaster of Knott are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Ellen, to James Weldon Ray. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Morgan, 297 Galveston. Although a definite date has not been set, the wedding will take place some time in June.

Municipal Thrift

KEENE, N. H. — City Councilor William A. Shea thinks it would be cheaper to buy the gals stockings. At a recent council meeting Controller Philip Patch was asked to explain a request for $450 for new desks. He explained the old desks were rough on stockings worn by two clerks. "Why not," suggests Shea, "appropriate $100 for stockings?"

Lucky Thirteen (?)

MADILL, Okla. — Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nunley, who defied superstition to elope and get married on a Friday the 13th, have marked their 38th wedding anniversary.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Happy Easter! Our fervent prayer for each of you is that today you find a deeper meaning in the messages that you will hear at the churches in song and sermon. Today as many of you gather with your loved ones may you find greater joy and understanding and be grateful for the privilege of close relationship.

A nice Easter gift for Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Foster was the word from their daughter and her husband, SPC. AND MRS. JOHNNIE ALLISON, that a daughter was born to them on March 28 in Fountainbleau, France. The little girl weighed seven pounds, nine ounces, and has been named Elizabeth Ann.

The Allison have been in France for two years and he is eligible for his discharge, now, but they will have to stay put until the newest member of the family gets to be six weeks old. Army regulations. When they come home they plan to make their home in Big Spring.

MRS. THEO ANDREWS is entertaining her sister, Mrs. I. H. Hardy of Abilene, this weekend. Mrs. Hardy is matron of Hunter Hall at Hardin-Simmons University.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY HURT are spending today in Abilene with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Hall, and other relatives.

Guest in the home of MRS. N. I. DALTON and her daughter, Mrs. Eunice Myers, is another daughter, Mrs. Fred Dozier, of San Angelo.

I know all the cartoonists who sold their fannies to the April issues of the weekly magazines must live in the east. If not, how come they all make with the comic about people getting caught in the rain. That just ain't funny in West Texas, boys. Out here rain is considered a thing that makes the days pretty.

All the family will gather at the home of MR. AND MRS. G. C. CHAPMAN today. Included in the group will be MR. AND MRS. TOMMY NEWMAN and their two sons, Tommy and Freddie, of Lomax.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK CHAPPEY of Waco will return today after a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Turner.

Guests of MR. AND MRS. J. T. RICHBOURG are Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Boone of Snyder, Mrs. Richard Boone and Mrs. Boone are sisters.

MR. AND MRS. W. E. WOZENCRAFT are expected home today from Fort Worth where they have spent the weekend with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wozencraft and their daughter, Kimberly Ann.

Home from Howard Payne and looking like a forty-niner is Pete Fuglaar. Brownwood is celebrating its centennial and everyone is entering into the usual activities. Pete is doing graduate work at the school this year.

MR. AND MRS. CARL G. McDONALD are visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. McDonald. The younger McDonalds were recently married in Denton where they are students in North Texas. He is a senior and she a freshman. They plan to return to Denton Monday.

MRS. HUGH COMPTON has as her guests today her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bet-ley and son, Steve, and her grandson, Chip Compton of Dallas.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT SMITH had a telephone call last week from their daughter, Mrs. Wally Cataldo, that her husband had received orders from his company, Eastern Seaboard Airlines, in New York, that he is being sent back to Los Angeles. He will be a navigator for Western Seaboard Airlines.

The Cataldos have two children, Julie and Wally.

MR. AND MRS. NOEL LESTER, B. D. Rice and Ratus Martin spent several days last week in Del Rio where they fished and located a parking spot for the Lester's trailer. The Lesters plan to spend part of the summer there.

Home from AAM for the holidays are Louis Stupp, Somy Coate, Pascal Odom, Bill and John Dorsey and Bud Whitney.

DR. AND MRS. ALLEN R. HAMILTON returned during the past week from San Antonio where he attended a visual training and speed reading clinic.

DR. MARSHALL CAULEY "blinked his eyes over an item in 'Life in These United States'" in the current issue of Reader's Digest. It had been submitted by his brother, Dr. Troy Cauley, who is now an economics professor at the University of Indiana, after teaching chores at Emory and Georgia.

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE SPENCE are planning a business trip to South Texas this week. Mr. Spence, however, hopes to detour by the way of College Station for a class reunion at AAM.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD CANNING are looking over all the literature they can find on Newfoundland. Reason: They hope to take his father, Maj. L. W. Canning, once in charge of the Salvation Army work here, back to his native village for a visit. They will make the trip by commercial airliner.

In a letter to their friend, MRS. RILLA WEBB, Maj. and Mrs. Bob Dunbar who have been stationed in Hawaii, say that they will visit with her and other friends here in July. The Dunbars will visit in the states a short while before continuing on to Germany on a new assignment.

Maj. Dunbar was formerly stationed at Webb and he and Mrs. Dunbar were active in work at the First Methodist Church.

Lost And Found

CHICAGO (P) — An expensive pink coat missing from a plane bound from Indianapolis put a chill on Mrs. Jean McLallen who was headed to New York for sailing to Naples, Italy, on a two-month tour. Detectives Mike McCarthy and Martin Repp located the coat in a telephone booth in the Indianapolis Airport. The airline flew the coat to Chicago on its next plane. Mrs. McLallen had left it there when she made a phone call.

Wine Substitute

Note for teetotalers: Serve sparkling grape juice instead of wine with your company dinners.

Flaked Coconut

The new flaked coconut is ideal for curry, candy, breads, muffins and waffles. It does not stick between the teeth.

Dear Parent: Don't Panic

DETROIT (P) — Notice to parents who read books on child psychology.

Throw away the books and relax, you're taking your role as a parent too seriously.

This advice comes from Dr. Harry Bakwin, president of the American Academy of Pediatrics and author of several textbooks on child psychology.

"Parents shouldn't go around blaming themselves for every deviation in behavior or misbehavior," he says. "This has become a theme song that is having serious consequences on their children."

Parents, says Dr. Bakwin, should NOT depend on books on child psychology. But they should behave naturally and easily in their relations with youngsters and be able to call upon their sense of humor when the occasion fits.

"Psychiatrists have created a tremendous anxiety in parents," he continues. "The child who sucks his thumb is no more abnormal than the child who later chews gum or the adult who smokes."

Problems among adolescent children, he said, "are really the parents' failure to understand what goes on in that period."

"There is a place for the psychiatrist, of course, in the handling of severe emotional disorders and equally in the study of these," Dr. Bakwin declares. "But we shouldn't be so apt to place a serious interpretation on everything that happens."

Too Many Careers

COLUMBIA, Conn. (P) — Mrs. Laura Squier told the members of the Columbia Congregational Church she would have to decline the post of deaconess which was offered her because

"She is town tax collector, secretary of the board of education, substitute organist at the church, a singer in the choir and a Sunday School teacher."

"I have just about as many irons in the fire as my fire will heat," Mrs. Squier said.

Texas Shows Styles

Young, fresh and flattering are summer formal fashions seen at the recent showings of Texas styles held in Dallas and attended by representatives of the nation's fashion press. Although Texas designers are noted chiefly for their skill at turning out casual clothes, their dance dresses and after-5 fashions also are increasingly popular with the younger set through the youthful styling and original use of fabrics.

COSDEN CHATTER

Former Employee To Make Home In Azores Islands

A letter received recently from Mrs. Dot Keehne, a former employee in the Traffic Department states that she is now in Roanoke, Va., working for American Oil Company. She will join her husband in approximately six months in the Azores Islands.

HI--TALK

By Mary Sue Hale

Holder of senior of the week title is Clyde McMahon. Clyde, an active participant in numerous high school affairs, places "Y" work high on his list of accomplishments. Capably serving as vice president of the organization this year, Clyde is a member of the Hi-Y Council, a governing body for all Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs. Clyde was elected by his club to be their representative at Austin for Youth and Government last December. His club also honored him by appointing him to attend the Hereford Conference, a planning session in preparation for the spring meeting.

CLYDE McMAHON

A charter DeMolay member, Clyde has served the Order in projects and by serving as steward and senior deacon. He is also a member of Key Club.

Track and football are sports entered by Clyde. He played halfback on the B football team this junior year, then played the same position on the A team this year. In track, he runs the 440-yard dash and is a member of the mile relay team.

Clyde's after-graduation plans are not yet complete, but come next fall he will probably be attending the University of Texas as a medicine or business major.

EASTER IN MEXICO

Easter in Mexico, an annual affair for the Spanish Club, will be this year no exception. "All aboard for Monterey" was called at 7 p.m. Thursday as the group of thirty students and four sponsors departed for the "land of enchantment" by bus. Having arrived in Monterey, Friday noon, the group spent time sight-seeing about the city, burro riding to Horsetail Falls and swimming when the destination was reached. Today the group will attend church, then a promenade on the Main Plaza will be witnessed by them before an early start for home Monday at 4 a.m. Spurned from swimming, sore from burro riding, and tired from a strenuous schedule, it will be a mighty tired bunch that rolls into Big Spring Monday about 7 p.m.

Making the trip will be Ed Burke, Danny Cook, Adrian de Graffenreid, Walter Dickenson, Mary Lane Edwards, Emiliano Fierro, Vickie Fitzgerald, Aurora Flores, Mary Sue Fowler, Allen Glaser, Carrel Glenn, Julius Glickman, Bobby Grant, Pat Hale, Eugene Hall, Paul Hernandez, Janet Hogan, Isabel Holquin, Roland McKenzie, Bobby McMillan, Kathy McRee, Vidala Mata, Isabel Molina, Prissy Pond, Don Shore, Robert Stripling, Jerry White, Lou Ann White, Nancy Woods, and David Yater.

APPROACHING RACE

Perhaps the most important election of the school year, that of electing student council officers will be held Thursday with run-offs Friday. Candidates for the office of president of the student council are Walter Dickinson, Dennis Jones, Ronnie King, Jerry McMahe, and Lewis Porter. Vice president nominees are Sue Boykin, Barbara Coffey, and Wesley Grigsby. Candidates for the office of secretary are Sue Barnes, Annette Boykin, Danne Green, and Janet Hogan.

"WHERE NOBODY GETS OLD"

Some day it is the hope of medicine and pharmacy that people will never "Get Old" but will live a great many years, and always be young. The happy day is not too far distant because each year new "Miracle Drugs" and better methods of diagnosis and treatment are increasing your life expectancy.

Right now it is possible to add extra years to your life by always visiting your Physician at the first sign of illness, following his advice exactly, and taking one of the new geriatric medicines that are so helpful. Your Physician will prescribe the particular one that is best for you, and it is awaiting your need in our prescription department.

YOUR PHYSICIAN CAN PHONE 905 Johnson 4-2508 Petroleum Bldg. 4-8292 WHEN YOU NEED A MEDICINE

"DARK RIDERS"

Interscholastic League judging on dramatics for this district is set for next Saturday, at the Odesa Junior College. "Dark Riders", which follows the legend of a dark rider coming to carry a cowboy to a valley after his death, is the one act play chosen for the BSHS Speech Department's entry. Hopes are high for an excellent showing.

Four Authorities Slated For Tech Garden Course

Garden clubs in 61 Panhandle, South Plains and other West Texas counties will hold their fourth annual short course at Texas Tech Tuesday.

Four southwestern authorities on garden problems will be leaders in the course. They are Mrs. Deña Castor, Ponca City, Okla.; Larry McLean, Fort Worth; and Mrs. Gene Bavinger and Robert Rucker, both of Norman, Okla.

The course will be held in the student union building ball room. Mrs. Castor, the opening speaker, has gained nationwide fame among garden clubbers for her original and imaginative use of bird reproductions in flower arrangements.

The "birds"—made of felt, fabrics, paint and many stitches—are used by ornithologists to illustrate various species. Mrs. Castor will use them on the branches of the arrangements she makes during her talk to illustrate various design ideas.

McLean will discuss landscape design in gardens. He is a landscape architect for the Fort Worth Parks Department and supervises Fort Worth's Botanical Gardens and a new arboretum that city is planning.

Mrs. Bavinger, wife of a University of Oklahoma faculty member, will discuss the use of color in decorating. She is an interior decorator and designs furnishings for contemporary homes.

Rucker, a landscape architect and lecturer, will use fresh flowers to demonstrate designs for a flower show suitable for staging by a garden club council. He will use a circus theme.

Rucker is University of Oklahoma landscape architect and a consultant at Baylor University and several other southwestern educational institutions. The short course will close with a discussion period, with the four main speakers sitting as a panel to answer questions. Tickets for the short course will be available at the door. Any professional information, the YMCA office should be contacted.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Anderson, 614 Dallas, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janice, to John C. Minter of Midland. He is the son of Mrs. Edna Minter of Fort Worth. Date for the wedding has been set for some time in June. Miss Anderson is employed by Charles Long, Inc., of Midland. Minter is a petroleum engineer with Core Laboratories.

No regular routine for BSHSers tomorrow! Another day to be disposed of in any desired fashion will greet us as the finale of the Easter holidays.

Some will spend the day traveling home from visits, while others will merely "kill" the day by "restin' up" for the ordeal of the school week ahead.

The Rainbow Girls will hold their annual breakfast honoring past worthy advisors this morning at the Settles Hotel from 8 to 9:15. Rainbow girls, Eastern Star and Mason parents will attend the breakfast as will past mother advisors and majority girls.

Scrub Young Skins To Counteract Acne

There is hardly an adolescent who doesn't have a few skin blemishes on his face from time to time. Most youngsters go through the teens with only a few minor and occasional pimples, but there are always the few who have a rough time of it for a year or two.

The most serious thing about acne is not the physical harm it does to the skin, but the damage it may do to the personality. Acne is a disease that never endangers life but it is one that may ruin it. At no time in life is a person more aware of his appearance, more sensitive about being unattractive than in those early years of budding maturity.

The exact cause of acne is not known. However there are many bizarre superstitions about the cause that, while they have no basis in fact, nevertheless persist. Acne has nothing to do with bad blood, social disease or sexual irregularity.

Many a youngster, hearing such stories and finding a pimple on his face, convinces himself that now the whole world knows what a worthless creature he is.

Acne comes at adolescence. At this time of life the oil glands deep in the skin seem to work over time and send an extra amount of oil through the skin pores. This oil is sticky. Dirt from the air adheres to the oil and plugs the pores making blackheads. If germs happen to be in the dirt, pimples develop, sometimes even large cysts.

The first principle in the treatment of acne is cleanliness—keep that sticky oil off the face as much as possible.

Every night the youngster should wash his face with hot water and soap. Spend some time at this job. Apply a hot wash cloth to the face, then rub in a good lather soap, massaging the face 5-10 minutes with the fingers. Finally wash off the soap and dash the face with cold water and pat it dry.

A routine of extreme cleanliness is all the treatment most youngsters need. However, if the acne

Pork Chops, Kraut Will Hit The Spot

AMISH KRAUT AND PORK CHOPS

Ingredients: Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 loin pork chops, 1 can (1 pound and 3 ounces) sauerkraut, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 1 medium-sized apple.

Method: Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; add pork chops and brown well on both sides. Stack pork chops at one side of pan. Turn sauerkraut (including juice) into skillet; sprinkle with brown sugar and onion; mix well. If apple is red-skinned, peel may be left on; core and dice. Add apple to skillet. Arrange chops at bottom of pan with sauerkraut around them. Cook slowly until pork chops are thoroughly cooked; to test for doneness, cut a small slice near bone—meat should be white. Pork chops will take 30 minutes to 1 hour to cook thoroughly, depending on thickness. Makes 4 servings.

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

by Margot M'Clintock

JUNIOR JACKET DRESS Sheath For Small Sizes Uses Stitching, Jacket

Margot M'Clintock, one of the country's leading designers for the junior sized population, has always believed in the dress with its own jacket, especially the short cropped one.

Now, the news from Paris makes a point of what is called the "caraco," which means simply a jacket that stops short of the waistline. Here is Margot with her own version.

The dress underneath is the popular sheath style with a high square neck and top stitching on the front panel seams. The abbreviated jacket with its single button closing in back has a scalloped collar and hem. It repeats the top stitching on the seams to line up perfectly with the detail on the dress.

The hand cut pattern, with its accurate perforations, makes all this extremely easy. Make it in cotton, pique, linen, shantung, very thin wool or plain or printed silks. Choose a contrast for the jacket lining and collar.

This custom made pattern is not standard sized but is the only pattern available with exclusive designers retail sizing measurements for a more accurate fit, better styling, less altering. Open perforations for easy markings without damaging tissue; also time saving, fabric saving, money saving; no tracing wheel or carbon paper needed; easy to follow instructions for beginners.

From this chart select the size best for you.

Size 10; bust 34, waist 24, hips 35 inches, neck to waist length 16 1/2; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36 inches, neck to waist length 16 1/2; size 14, bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2 inches, neck to waist length 17; size 16, bust 38, waist 28, hips 39 inches, neck to waist length 17 1/2; size 18, bust 40, waist 30, hips 41 inches, neck to waist length 17 1/2.

Size 12 requires 4 1/4 yards of 36-inch material for dress and bolero and 1 yard of 36-inch material for lining.

To order Pattern No. 1256, state size, enclose $1.00. Airmail handling requires 25 cents extra. Address AMERICAN DESIGNER PATTERNS, P. O. Box 535, G. P. O., Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. 144-page Pattern Booklet XII - 50 cents. If paid by check add 4 cents.

Tasters Rate 'Chewies' On Top Of Cooky List

These new cookies, sampled by a couple of dozen tasters, got top rating. Everyone who ate them asked when they were going to be baked again. And we had young and old among our testers.

Just what makes them so popular? Molasses, sugar and spice contribute tempting flavor. And the texture is both crisp and chewy—rolled oats helping out here.

We found that stored in a tightly covered tin container, these cookies held up well. But chances are they'll be eaten before you have time to find out. Youngsters will go for them with a glass of milk; older folk will enjoy them with tea or coffee.

Please do try them: it's a long time since we have come on a cookie that was such an all-round favorite. We can't promise when we'll find an oatmeal-and-molasses cookie to equal them!

You'll like the easy method of mixing these cookies—all the ingredients are beaten together in one bowl.

CRISP-AND-CHEWIES

Ingredients: One and 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter or margarine (soft), 1 egg, 1/4 cup dark molasses, 3/4 cup uncooked rolled oats (quick variety).

Method: Sift together the flour, baking soda, salt, cloves, ginger and sugar into a mixing bowl. Add soft shortening egg and molasses. Beat until smooth—about 2 minutes. Lightly stir in rolled oats. Use a level tablespoon of the dough for each cookie; drop 2 inches apart (to allow for spreading) on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 8 to 10 minutes. Do not overbake. Allow to stand on cookie sheets a minute or so to get firm before removing with a wide spatula. Cool on rack. When cold, store in tightly covered tin container. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. III BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, APRIL 1, 1956 SEC. III

FISCAL SCHEDULE

City's New Budget Effective Today; Outlay: $1.3 Million

Big Spring's city government will be spending $1.3 million during the 365 days beginning today and ending March 31, 1957.

The budget for the new fiscal year was approved by the city commission last Tuesday night and calls for expenditures of $1,322,075.50. This does not include special funds — such as the cemetery which are not listed in the three general headings of the financial plan.

COMMISSIONERS

No Legal Trouble Due On Pay Hikes

Howard County officials, reading of the legal difficulties Taylor County commissioners are encountering in connection with recent pay increases, are only interested in a casual and academic way.

Although the paychecks of the county officers of this county have been recently increased — the new rates to be applicable on checks for this month's services — they are not alarmed over the developments elsewhere in which increased salaries have been thumbed down as illegal.

Harvey Hooser, Jr., county attorney, believes that Howard County will not have any of the same. "We delayed action a long time," he said. "Much longer than Taylor County and others. When we did raise the pay of county workers we tracked the new statute instead of the old and we anticipated and evaded the very difficulties which have stirred up the trouble elsewhere.

"We have followed the law, complied with all provisions and I am certain there will be no difficulty in this county over the pay boosts."

In Taylor County, the commissioners are the ones in the most recent difficulty. The pay of commissioners in that county was increased $600 a year in January. Now an assistant attorney general has ruled that the increase is illegal.

As a result, the commissioners will not only not get their $600 a year increase in pay they will also have to kick back the money they have received above the legal limit since January.

One commissioner, notified of the ruling of the attorney general's office, promptly walked to the auditor's office and gloomily wrote out a check for the extra salary collected from general fund revenues, and $120,000 will be transferred from the water and sewer fund. An additional $20,000 will be added from the parking meter fund, plus a net cash balance from the past year of $65,000.

Of the estimated $478,395.50, current taxes should contribute $348,243 and $18,000 should come from delinquent taxes. Garbage collection revenue will total about $89,000.

Other revenues include occupation taxes ($3,000), fines and court costs ($36,000), gas franchise ($40,000), electric franchise ($17,000), telephone franchise ($8,000), county fire protection payment ($3,000), auditorium rentals ($1,200), and fishing permits ($5,600).

C-C Livestock Committee Slates Projects For Year

Several projects have been planned for the Livestock Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The group plans to encourage broader diversification of farm operations, boost the various livestock shows held in the county during the year, and offer assistance to 4-H and FFA programs.

Loy Acuff, chairman, was authorized by the group to contact W.H. and FFA leaders to offer the Chamber's aid with any dry-lot feeding projects they might start. It wasn't made clear what type of aid would be extended.

The committee named subcommittees to urge farmers to increase the size of their poultry flocks, and to suggest that higher feed production be marketed through poultry, beef and swine products. This is made possible, if not imperative, by reduced cotton acreage allotments, members of the panel pointed out.

Another committee was appointed to encourage attendance and participation at the various livestock shows. The group also will start the presentation of trophies for grand champion cows at future shows of the Howard County-South Plains Hereford Breeders Association.

It was suggested that livestock committee members remind dairymen of a new state law which requires all cows from which milk is sold to be vaccinated against Bangs and tuberculosis infections. The statute is effective next Jan. 1. The vaccinations are required each six months.

DO IT YOURSELF Major Furniture Item Comes From Pattern

By BILL BAKER
The thought: "I can't build a major piece of furniture."

Well, I have news for you! With the right pattern, anybody can produce a professional-looking, major item of furniture.

And I've got the right combination for you today — a modern couch with built-in end tables and my pattern package 118.

You'll like the couch. From end to end it is a massive nine feet. The soft foam rubber seat is six feet long, flanked on each side by unique end tables which have deep drawers. A bolster, also of foam rubber, forms the back and is fastened securely to the main section of the couch.

You'll purchase the foam rubber — or find out where it is available — by contacting any department store or furniture supply house. The pattern package includes instructions on how you'll do the easy upholstering job.

In the pattern package you'll find many features slanted for the novice woodworker. Exact-size pattern pieces, for example, duplicate each part of the couch. Like a woman's dress pattern, all chance for error is removed.

A full material list, step-by-step instructions for construction and assembly, finishing details and suggestions — everything you'll need is included in the pattern. Your pattern package will be on the way to you when you do the following: send your name and address (clearly printed), together with only one dollar ($1) in cash, cash or money order, to Bill Baker, care of Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California. Remember to ask for pattern number 118.

ARTIST AT WORK

It's the day before Easter, and Johnnie is dyeing eggs. Like most little boys he finds the task pretty fascinating, and he revels in small seas of yellow and red and blue and green.

Easter morning, the eggs will have been hidden by his parents and he and his sister will excitedly hunt for them. Probably they'll stumble across some chocolate bunnies and candy chickens, also. But that will not be all of Easter for them.

Johnnie and his sister will be going to Church, too. They may not understand the complete significance of everything they hear and see . . . but they are old enough to know something of what Easter means. And with each passing year they will learn a little more.

Johnnie's parents have started early to train their children in spiritual as well as physical values. Easter eggs, yes. But Church, by all means, too. Not just on Easter, either . . . but on every Sunday in the year.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

An Alpine Story

Elisbeth Sigmund (right) tells a friend about her adventures in a scene from "Heidi And Peter," showing Sunday through Tuesday at the State Theatre.

FOR ALL AGES

'Heidi And Peter' To Play At State

Seventy years ago, Johanna Spyri sat down to write a book about the adventures of a little Swiss girl called Heidi.

Mrs. Spyri, writing the story for the amusement of her young son, did not realize at the time that the characters she was creating would become world famous and immortal.

It is this latter book which forms the basis for the new movie, "Heidi And Peter" playing at the State theatre Sunday through Tuesday.

Cooper Allows He's No Match For Lollo Even In Costume

HOLLYWOOD — Gary Cooper replies this way to a Lollobrigida's angry complaint in Rome that she has had retouched photos of her curves which she looked like him.

"I have a strange feeling that I wear one of those circus costumes she wears... I still would not look like ever her retouched photos."

The star of Western films admitted, "Miss Lollobrigida is a beautiful woman, a fact which all the retouching in the world cannot hide."

The Italian actress, whose contract gives her control of still pictures, notified United Artists Film Corp. that pictures retouched to avoid "too much cleavage" must not be released.

Twin Bill Covers Two Centuries

Adventure and romance in different centuries are the theme of a double bill at the Terrace Drive-In Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Robert Taylor and Ava Gardner star in "Knights of the Round Table," a story of the days of King Arthur. Richard Widmark and Mai Zetterling are seen in "Prize of Gold," a movie set in modern Europe.

THE DOCTORS by Andre Soubrian, Popular Library Reprint, $5.00.

Must be a morbid streak in me but I am a sucker for stories about student medics and the scenes and doings around universities where such professional men are produced.

That's the reason, perhaps, why I particularly liked "The Doctors," a translation of Andre Soubrian's novel which has had such phenomenal success in France. Now that it has been printed for American readers in the paperback edition, I suspect that it will have equally great success here.

The author has told his story in first person through the character of a rather timid and retiring country youth. This boy comes to Paris, starchy-eyed with ambition and idealism, and sets out to become a great doctor.

The disillusionments and sordid scenes that his training brings to him may be a bit on the gloomy side but they still provide absorbing reading.

There is a trifle too much sex in the story for my taste but the bits about other phases of the Parisian medical student's life make up for it.

"The story has a lengthy parade of characters who move in and out of the student's life and end the gamut from "screwballs" to real geniuses.

Descriptions of Paris and particularly that part of Paris where medical students and other students of the Universite live are colorful and effective.

IMPERIAL WOMAN. By Pearl S. Buck, Literary Guide Selection for April.

From poor relation to concubine of the Chinese Emperor to Empress of China. Such was the life of Tzu Hsi, China's last empress.

Her story is told in "Imperial Woman," by Pearl Buck, to be published on April 2. It is the April selection of the Literary Guide.

At 17, Tzu Hsi was taken from her uncle's home to the royal palace, where she was immediately chosen by the emperor as a concubine.

Here, she used every feminine wile and all her intelligence to be raised from her first classification. When she bore a son, her station in life was made secure. There are various intimations throughout the book that the child was the son of Jung Lu, to whom the girl had been betrothed before the royal summons came.

Ambitious and ruthless, even as a young girl, she relinquished the deep love of Jung Lu for power. As empress, she continued to have her lover ever near for advice and support.

In her old age, however, she looked back with longing to what might have been had she married Jung Lu and lived as an ordinary Manchu woman. In her loneliness, she seemed envious of Queen Victoria of England, her contemporary, who had power as well as the man she loved.

As the foreigners began to invade China, the empress, firm and entrenched in the pride and tradition of the Manchu dynasty, was slow to accept them. She fought a losing battle against change in China, but seeing the inevitability of the new era, the old ruler yielded.

Such was her strength of will, her beauty and charm, though, that she continued to rule China until her death in 1908 at the age of 74. "Imperial Woman" is Pearl Buck's longest novel and her only novel about a figure in history. I found it rather tedious reading, but, if you are interested in Chinese customs and history, you may enjoy it.

Juvenile Gang Violence Theme In Dean Movie

This may be the last opportunity in some time to see one of the last movies made by a young star who rocketed to fame in a few short years, only to die in a California automobile crash.

Critics had hailed young James Dean as one of the "brighter stars in the Hollywood firmament" for his portrayal of an erring youth in John Steinbeck's "East of Eden."

Dean gives another dramatic portrayal of youth in trouble in "Rebel Without a Cause," showing Sunday and Monday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre.

Dean plays a teen-ager caught in the undertow of today's juvenile violence as he seeks to join a youthful gang. Natalie Wood stars as his girl friend.

Director Nicholas Ray planted tape recorders in spots frequented by teen-agers and even attended some secret juvenile meetings to get material for the story. The movie was produced by David Weisbart.

Anita Louise Keeps Busy, Stays Young

HOLLYWOOD — "If you want something done, ask a busy person."

That's the philosophy of lovely Anita Louise, who has managed to keep busy most of her life and has accomplished a great many things.

Right now she is back in the acting field again, starring in "My Friend Flicka," which is being filmed by 20th Century-Fox's TV subsidiary. She also is home-maker for her husband, Buddy Adler, new production boss of the studio. She rears two children, Melinda, 8, and Tony, 5. And she serves as president of the UCLA Medical School auxiliary.

Though she started her film career in 1924, she looks almost as young as when she was playing in "The Secret of Youth" which may be her constant activity.

"I've always kept busy," said the actress, who was a model at 3 and made her stage debut at 6. Her career continued through the silent and into the talkies.

"I left pictures in 1947 to have my family," she remarked. "But I still kept up my charity work. Now the children are going to school and they are gone most of the day. So I figured it was a good time to start acting again."

She joined Gene Evans, young-ster Johnny Washbrook and the talented 4-year-old Arabian filly in "Flicka." After only a few weeks on TV, the show has been giving Rin-Tin-Tin trouble in the 7:30 Friday night spot across the nation (6:30 on the West Coast).

"I'm a lot of fun working again," said Anita. "We work hard-making three shows every ten days."

JAMES DEAN Youthful rebel.

TOP STARS

'Last Hunt' Depicts Buffalo Slaughter

The brutal slaughter of America's last great herds of buffalo forms the basis for "The Last Hunt," showing at the Ritz Theatre Friday and Saturday. The movie stars Robert Taylor as a ruthless hunter with a blood-thirsty mania for slaughtering as many bison as he can encounter, and Stewart Granger, who portrays another buffalo hunter who has become fed up with the extermination.

Psychological Background In 'The Cobweb'

Richard Widmark, Lauren Bacall, Charles Boyer, Gloria Grahame, Lillian Gish, Oscar Levant

With a host of top players such as this, even the worst movie will have its good points. But "The Cobweb," showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre, has more good points than mere stars. It also has a good story. "The Cobweb" deals with a complex of personalities behind the scenes of a psychiatric clinic.

There is Widmark, the head of the institution; his wife, Gloria Grahame, making a final effort to save their marriage; Lauren Bacall, an assistant to whom Widmark turns for affection; Boyer, the doctor replaced by Widmark; and the clinic's high-handed business manager, Lillian Gish, torn between loyalties to Boyer and Widmark.

Then there are the patients, including Levant, a sardonic, and hopelessly weary man. Other patients run the gamut — the morbid, the indifferent and even the comedians. This hodge-podge of characters proves an explosive mixture, and in a situation which a psychiatrist would find not at all unusual, the plot develops around a matter of new drapes for the clinic.

The MGM movie was produced by John Houseman and directed by Vincente Minnelli.

Appearing on the same program with "The Cobweb" is a Western movie, "Southwest Passage," with Joanne Dru and Rod Cameron.

Effects Of Mongol Conquest Still Felt In Modern World

Historians freely give credit to those great men who have changed the course of history. The list is almost endless. Yet, they are very reluctant to apply a similar tag to men who have changed the course of civilization itself.

One of these men was Alexander of Macedon, he who crushed the advance of Asian civilization with the defeat of the Persian empire and spread the seeds of Greek civilization which is basic to our own way of life.

The only other conqueror ever given similar credit was Genghis Khan. He literally changed the face of the world, and the effects of his conquest are felt even today. This later period of Genghis Khan's life is not depicted in the movie "The Conqueror," playing through Thursday at the Ritz Theatre, but is rather concerned with his earlier life, in the period that led to his rise to power among the Gobi Desert tribes.

Script writer Oscar Millard has made no attempt at a literal historical account of the early life of Temujin, as Genghis Khan was then known. As a matter of fact, Temujin is depicted as doing many things he actually did not do, and not as doing many things he actually did do. Still the story gives an accurate glimpse into the life in the Gobi Desert in the 12th and 13th centuries.

The battle scenes are good. They come about as close to reality as is possible without mass annihilation of Hollywood's bit players. Far from being just another Attila, a wandering destroyer, Genghis Khan left his mark upon the world. The Moslem world at the time was the center of civilization — young, violent and expanding.

Western Europe was still steeped in the Dark Ages. The Mongols hurt the Moslem world so badly it never fully recovered, thus removing a very real threat to Western growth. Had the Mongols not burst upon the world, the Moslem world might very well have continued its growth, leaving Christian Europe in its backwardness, and America might now be an Arabic, Moslem nation.

As it was, the post roads Genghis Khan opened brought the West into contact with the East, paved the way for the explorations of Marco Polo, and gave a boost to the Renaissance. It was largely Marco Polo's writings that inspired Columbus to make his voyage of discovery.

There is a bad side to the results of Mongol conquest. China and Russia emerged united for the first time in history. Russia, before the Mongols, was very much like early England, with a slowly evolving democracy, and the Russians had a heavy annual tribute — or else. The only way out for the princes was to enslave their own people. This way of life impressed upon the Russian people remained when Mongol power waned and was replaced by Czarism. Communist rule in Russia today finds its roots in that period of 700 years ago when Russia was crushed under the Mongol yoke.

9 Movie-Goers Win Awards In Ritz Theatre Oscar Race

Nine persons are to receive passes to the Big Spring Theatres because their ideas on Motion Picture Academy Award winners closely coincided with the official selections. And among the winners are a couple — Lt. and Mrs. William F. Andrews Jr. — who won the Ritz Theatre's "Oscar Race" last year.

Big Spring Theatres had patrons list their ideas on who would win the various awards. There were some perfect ballots, but by chance these were entered by theatre employees who were not eligible for awards. Those who ranked next with only one miss in six categories were:

1. Lt. William F. Andrews Jr., J. M. Teague, Patsy Morton, Mrs. Joe B. Gibson, Alvin Baker, Dell McComb, Eleanor Engbrechtsen, Anne Andrews, and Mrs. Cleo I. Guy.

Last year, Lt. and Mrs. Andrews copped the Oscar race and won an expense-paid weekend stay at the Western Hills, Fort Worth.

In all but one category, that of best actor, most of the Big Spring ballots went along with the Academy who were not eligible for awards. James Dean for his role in "East of Eden," whereas it was Ernest Borgnine in "Marty" who took the Oscar.

Ex-Chaplain Friend Loses Son's Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A woman who admitted in a custody hearing with her divorced husband that she had a romance with Charles Chaplin Jr. will have only visitation rights with her 2-year-old adopted son. Mrs. Dolores Zeitlin, 25, at first denied the charges of her former mate, Irving Zeitlin, 40, that she had been intimate with the son of the movie comedian. Later she testified it was so, but said that the relationship terminated last November.

Robinson Jr. Given Stay In Court Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Edward G. Robinson, Jr. didn't have the $31 fine assessed for a traffic violation in Westwood and asked the Municipal Court for additional time to raise it. The son of the actor was given a stay in court yesterday with his lawyer. He was charged with running past a stop sign March 6.

Laurence Olivier To Film 'Macbeth'

LEICESTER, England (AP) — Sir Laurence Olivier has decided to make a film of Shakespeare's "Macbeth." His wife, Vivian Leigh, will play Lady Macbeth. Alan Dent, who adapted all of Olivier's Shakespearean films, said the new film would be made in color starting next year.

No Middle Views About Elvis Presley, New Singer

Rhythm and Blues, perhaps the hottest thing on wax for the younger generation at present, experiences a change in tempo as recording artist Elvis Presley combines blues with western for an entirely different effect. This "something different" must be agreeable to the young public, for he seems to have chalked up quite a record in the immediate past in record sales, juke box and disk jockey plays.

Rock and Roll numbers seem to be replaced on the lofty heights of the top 10 tunes by good instrumental numbers. "Poor People of Paris," "Lisbon Antiqua," and the theme from "The Three Penny Opera" seem to be current favorites locally. "Man with the Golden Arm" and "Eddie, My Love by the Fontaine Sisters seem to be getting quite a bit of comment by the younger set. Others receiving high ratings from local folk are Sarah Vaughn's "Mr. Wonderful" and "I've Grown Accustomed to Your Face" by Rosemary Clooney.

Billy Graham Gets TV Show

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC has announced that evangelist Billy Graham and his group will appear on its radio network as a sponsored program starting April 22. The announcement yesterday marked a change in NBC policy. Heretofore all religious programs have been sustained on the network on a noncommercial basis. The Graham group will be heard on a Sunday series from 10 to 10:30 p.m. The program, "Hour of Decision," will be sponsored by the Walter F. Bennett Co., a Chicago agency that handles religious accounts. NBC said the decision to accept the Graham program on a commercial basis was made after the network's polling of member and affiliate stations. NBC did not disclose how many stations signed for the program.
