

Texas Poll Finds Johnson Over Shivers, Estes Gaining

By JOE BELDEN
Director of Texas Poll

Among rank and file Democratic voters, U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson is a strong favorite over Governor Allan Shivers to lead the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention.

Johnson also is the leading choice of Texas Democrats for the presidential nomination, but he will have to contend with an upsurge of grass roots sentiment favoring Estes Kefauver. Kefauver has shown a tremendous gain in prestige in Texas since his dramatic victory in Minnesota over Adlai Stevenson. Stevenson has dropped to third place.

These findings are based on results of the latest state-wide survey by The Texas Poll which was conducted just before Johnson announced his decision approving a favorite-son movement in his behalf and setting up a contest against Shivers over the chairmanship of the state delegation.

Results of the survey indicate a clear-cut preference for Johnson as delegation chairman among Democrats, whether Democrats are defined on the basis of their participation in the last Democratic primaries or on the basis of present self-classification.

A staff of forty-six interviewers talked with a representative cross section of voters in all parts of the state. For classification purposes, interviewers asked these two questions of every voter in the survey:

"Did you happen to vote for any candidate in the last Democratic primaries in Texas, that is, the Democratic primaries held in 1954?"

"As of now, do you consider yourself a Democrat, a Republican, or an independent voter?"

The division of opinion on whether Shivers or Johnson should lead the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention was measured with this question:

"Would you like to see Governor Shivers or U. S. Senator Lyndon Johnson as the head of the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention?"

Voters who said they had voted in the 1954 Democratic primaries divided as follows:

	per cent
Prefer Johnson	55
Prefer Shivers	24
Don't like either	18
Undecided	11

All who said that "as of now" they consider themselves Democrats, divided as follows:

	per cent
Prefer Johnson	65
Prefer Shivers	15
Don't like either	10
Undecided	10

Self-styled independent voters, a group less than half the size of the majority of 65 per cent who labeled themselves Democrats, tended to prefer Shivers over Johnson by a ratio of 43 to 30, with 10 per cent disapproving of both and the remaining 17 per cent expressing no opinion.

The entire state-wide cross section, representing voters of all affiliations and shades of opinion, divided 50 per cent in favor of Johnson, 26 per cent for Shivers, 11 per cent against both, and 13 per cent undecided.

However, only a small percentage of Texas voters usually takes part in selecting the delegates to the National Democratic Convention. The advantage which Johnson holds in the opinion of rank and file Democrats, therefore, does not necessarily insure his victory over Shivers, unless through organization this opinion is translated into action at the precinct county, and state conventions.

At the same time, the Johnson forces face the rising tide of Kefauver popularity which, if it continues to grow and is organized, may hamper their favorite-son movement. In recent months, Kefauver's prestige among rank and file Texas Democrats and independent voters has about doubled, while Johnson has registered only modest gains.

In the latest Texas Poll survey, 54 per cent of the self-styled Democratic voters and 46 per cent of the independents — as compared with only 26 per cent and 27 per cent, respectively, in a survey last fall — said they regarded Kefauver as one of the best two of six mentioned candidates.

Kefauver's first choice votes jumped from 11 per cent to 25 per cent among self-styled Democrats and from 11 per cent to 22 per cent among independent voters during the same period. By way of comparison, Johnson's first choice votes increased from 29 per cent to 33 per cent among self-styled Democrats and remained at 27 per cent among independent voters.

Last fall Stevenson registered more first choice votes than Johnson. But now he places third, after Kefauver. His first choice votes dropped from 32 per cent to 22 per cent among Democratic voters and from 18 to 12 per cent among independent voters.

In both surveys, voters were shown a list of six prospective Democratic candidates and were asked to name the "best two" and their "first choice." The lists of candidates were the same except that U. S. Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri replaced U. S. Senator Richard Russell of Georgia in the latest survey.

A full comparison of the results, broken down by self-styled Democratic voters and independent voters, follows:

LEGION TO Sponsor Medal For Leading Jr. High Pupils

A boy and a girl in the Big Spring Junior High School graduating class will receive the American Legion's school award medal this spring.

Post No. 385 has announced sponsorship of the award, together with a suitable plaque for the school. Certificates also will go to those who get honorable mention.

The winning boy will be chosen on the basis of qualities of courage, leadership, honor, scholarship, service, while the winning girl will be distinguished for courage, companionship, character, service and scholarship.

While the top winners will come from the ninth grade, the honorable mentions will come from the ninth and seventh grades.

Tom Ernest, principal, said that in addition to receiving the medals at graduation time, the winners would also have their name engraved on a plaque to hang permanently in the school. Each year, for the next seven years, the names of winners will be added to the plaque.

Cap Rock Power Demand Jumps

Consumption of power soared during March for Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, and it approximately doubled the January total.

Regular operating statistics of the Cap Rock system showed 3,020,248 KWH sold during March of this year as compared with 2,167,879 in February. The January total was 1,562,544. A year ago the KWH sales in March amounted to 1,913,532.

In fact, the sales in March of this year approached the total for the entire first quarter of 1955 when 3,690,528 were sold. This year the first quarter produced sales of 6,770,671 KWH.

Other figures showed 3,637,920 KWH sold in March, running the first quarter total to 7,753,890.

At the end of March there were 1,951 miles of line energized, and 3,261 customers were connected with the system. This boosted the density to 1.76 per mile. Average KWH consumption rose to 926, reflecting the intense operation of farmers in the irrigation district. Average bill was $15.47, but oddity the number of minimum bills in March increased to 353 as compared with 292 in February.

Slayer Of Niece Held Incompetent

FORT WORTH, April 14 (AP) — Thurman Priest, 49, convicted slayer of his niece, Jeanette Earnest, 11, was held mentally incompetent yesterday by Federal Judge Joe Estes.

Three psychiatrists examined Priest during his stay at the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital here. The judge ordered the former Grand Prairie resident returned to Missouri to continue a life sentence received in 1955.

If Priest had been found sane he would have been tried in Federal Court here under the Lindbergh kidnap law.

Irregularities In Iran Aid Are Cited

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Federal investigators say they have found many "deficiencies" and "irregularities" in the multi-million-dollar U.S. program for Iran.

This report by the General Accounting Office, covering mainly the four fiscal years ended last June 30 went to Vice President Nixon, presiding officer of the Senate, and House Speaker Rayburn March 15. It was made available to a reporter today.

The GAO study is expected to be the cornerstone of a forthcoming investigation by a House International Operations subcommittee headed by Rep. Hardy (D-Va.).

American economic help to the Middle Eastern country bordering Russia totaled approximately 70 million dollars in fiscal 1951. It ballooned after Iran got into financial trouble in nationalizing its rich oil resources. The GAO report, dealing with 209 million dollars in aid over the four years, does not include approximately 70 million dollars scheduled for the current 12-month period.

Hardy says the GAO investigation and a parallel committee study under way have apparently turned up "major deficiencies" which "apparently have resulted in uncontrolled spending of U.S. tax dollars without a compensatory gain for the Iranian economy."

The 106-page GAO report praised some parts of the Iran aid program and said the International Cooperation Administration has successfully overcome some "significant administrative deficiencies" of past years. But it also made many criticisms. Among cases it listed:

1. A water treatment plant for Tehran, Iran's capital city of 2 million inhabitants, was built with U.S. aid but so far is of little use because Tehran's water distribution system "still uses open gutters."
2. "Substantial quantities" of U.S.-financed farm machinery was found unused in Iran.
3. Some of the equipment was unsuitable for the area where it was sent, or there were not enough qualified persons on hand to show how it could be used. Also, machinery was lying idle for want of spare parts.
4. "A number of irregularities occurred" in the handling of aid funds and "these cases have implicated both American and Iranian employees."
5. What action has been taken against these employees was not disclosed. One case was said to involve direct U.S. aid while the others involved Iranian currency jointly administered by the two countries.
6. "The keeping of as many as seven bank accounts in one office invites unauthorized transfers and even more serious manipulation," the GAO said.
7. In 1953 U.S. officials planned to finance imports of 46,000 tons of sugar, including 10,000 tons of raw sugar for refining in Iran. The raw sugar was bought from Cuba instead of the Far East, a closer shipping point, and did not arrive until after Iranian refineries had shut down for the season.
8. A French importing firm was chosen to bring in the refined sugar from Brazil. The U.S. Agriculture Department canceled the contract when the firm did not post bond as required, but not until 10,000 tons of sugar had already been shipped.
9. Upon distribution in Iran, the sugar was found to be dirty. Iranian authorities protested. ICA is trying to see what it can recover from the supplier.
10. Two years after an aid agreement to build a dam was signed, agreement on how to go about building it is still under U.S.-Iranian negotiations. Much of the U.S. aid contribution has been used up on a "complex and costly" relocation of a highway in connection with the dam project.
11. Three years after ICA undertook to pay for machinery for a cotton mill, a "significant portion" of this equipment ordered from the United States had not arrived. In addition, there is not enough power to run the plant.

Measles Still Most Prevalent Infection Here

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—The nation's business showed symptoms of inflationary growing pains this week—and the Federal Reserve Board prescribed corrective treatment.

The symptoms included: Rising prices of industrial materials, heavy bank borrowings by business firms, evidence that some manufacturers were buying steel beyond their needs in the expectation that prices would go up so they could turn a quick profit.

The cure prescribed was a time-tested one—an increase in interest rates which would tighten the screws on credit. The reserve system, sometimes called the "bankers' bank," authorized an increase in the interest rate the federal reserve banks charge on loans to commercial banks. The new rate, which ranges as high as 3 per cent in San Francisco and Minneapolis, is the highest in 22 years.

Big business, which had budgeted a record 35 billion dollars for 1956 expansion, might reconsider some of its programs. Projects which could be put off until a later date might be delayed until borrowing costs turn lower.

While some economists question the timing of the board's action, most agreed that it would accomplish what it had set out to do: Curb use of bank credit for excessive inventory building.

The steel industry was straining to keep up with orders. Steelmakers continued to clamor for price rises. President Avery C. Adams of Pittsburgh Steel Co. named a specific figure—$12 to $15 a ton.

Domestic producers of crude oil were singing in the same key. Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said a boost in the price of U.S. crude is "necessary and inevitable." The giant Standard Oil Co. (N. J.) urged government, business and labor leaders to combat inflationary trends with "restraint and prudent actions."

Announcement of the bank rate boost came late Thursday. Tuesday the stock market experienced its sharpest fall in six months, with the Associated Press 60-stock average tumbling $2.60 to $188. Brokers said the decline was triggered by a new flurry of jitters in the Middle East. But in the background, they explained, was a growing awareness among traders that an anti-inflation move was just about due. At week's end, the market rallied.

District Judges Hold Meeting

Thirteen of the fourteen district court judges in the Seventh Judicial District were on hand for the annual conference of jurists in Big Spring Saturday.

Judge Charlie Sullivan, 118th District Court, was host to the meeting. Business sessions of the group were conducted in the grand jury room at the courthouse.

Ben C. Chapman, Haskell, was the only member of the group unable to be present for the meeting. State Senator Frank Owen III, El Paso, was a special guest. He discussed pending legislation.

Bulk of the judges' time was devoted to a round-table discussion of court policies and problems.

O. L. Parrish, Ballinger, presiding judge of the district, was in charge of the meetings.

Speakers included Louis B. Reed, Lamesa, who discussed expense accounts; J. S. Starley, led discussion on pre-trial conferences; Paul McCollum, Odessa, reviewed pay increases. Other speakers were A. S. Mauzey, Sweetwater, who reported on amendments to the Code of Criminal Practices; and G. C. Olsen, "Exchange of Benches."

Howard County Bar Association entertained the visiting jurists at lunch at the Cosden Country Club. There were 33 present at the luncheon—the 13 judges, their guest from El Paso and members of the local bar.

Other judges present were Jack Marx, San Angelo; Owen Thomas, Abilene; J. R. Black, Abilene; Perry D. Pickett, Midland; A. O. Newman, Brownwood and Sterling Williams, Snyder.

Rain Drives Monaco Festivities Indoors

MONTE CARLO, April 14 (AP)—A beating rain drove the wedding festivities for Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier III behind closed doors today. But the film star got a brief glimpse of part of the new life she is going to lead.

With Grace at his side, the Prince presented a literary prize of a million francs—$2,850—to Marcel Brion, a French historian. It was her first experience in sharing with Rainier the formalities of court life.

The father of the bride, John B. Kelly, arranged a dinner to-night in the cabaret of the casino for his daughter, the Prince and a number of guests. The Prince, by law, never gambles in the casino, but can enter it, although he rarely does except upon such occasions as tonight.

Bad weather and his unending feuding with photographers seemed to have spoiled Rainier's high spirits evident on the arrival of his princess-to-be.

Nevertheless, his spiritual adviser, the Rev. Francis J. Tucker, once more an active participant in the wedding affairs, reported the Prince relaxed and more cheerful.

"She did in one day what I have been trying to do for six years—made him happy and relaxed," the jovial priest told reporters gathered around him in the lobby of the Hotel de Paris.

This big lobby, Victorian in style and presently Hollywood in atmosphere, has become a news exchange bureau for the wedding plans and preparations.

While Father Tucker was holding court, Grace's father walked in and chatted with a few correspondents. He said he was going to Mass tomorrow morning in Rainier's palace chapel with his daughter and the Prince.

Grace, 24 and Rainier, 32, will be married in a civil ceremony in the palace's ancient throne room Wednesday. The next day they will exchange vows in a religious ceremony in Monaco's cathedral.

Father Tucker said the 20 priests who will assist Bishop Gilles Barthe, held a rehearsal without the principals this morning.

"We don't want anyone to fumble the ball," he laughed.

Father Tucker said he will serve as the Prince's master of ceremony at the cathedral wedding and that the Rev. John Icartin of St. Bridget's Roman Catholic Church, Philadelphia, will act in a similar capacity for Grace.

Asked why they needed masters of ceremony, Father Tucker quipped: "To make sure they don't get out of step—and that they don't get away."

Film actress Rita Gam, herself a bride of only a few weeks, dropped into the De Paris lobby and was surrounded by reporters who knew she was a close friend of Grace's and a bridesmaid. She made her first visit to the palace today to try on the gown she will wear as a bridesmaid.

For most of the Philadelphia colony which traveled on Grace's ship to Monaco for the wedding, there was nothing to do but gossip and listen to others gossip. The rain put a damper on most attempts at sightseeing.

The weather, which has been grim and wet since the morning of Grace's arrival April 12, continued had throughout today. It rained. Clouds hung low from the French-owned rocky skyline above the city right down into the city streets of Monte Carlo.

The nearby sea and harbor remained calm enough for a packet of racing craft to churn up the afternoon quiet with their snarling outboard motors.

Celebrating Arrival

A fireworks display lights up the sky honoring Grace Kelly's arrival in Monaco for her marriage to Prince Rainier III. Her arrival touched off a series of public celebrations expected to mount to a crescendo when the wedding takes place.

NO CIRCUS'

Rainier Grapples Press Problems

MONTE CARLO, April 14 (AP)—Prince Rainier III and a handful of Monacan officials grappled this week with mounting press problems posed by the Rainier-Kelly wedding.

"I don't want this wedding to become a circus," said the Prince. "I want it to be dignified—and I can be brutal about it if I have to."

Whatever his views are on a circus, his principality is beginning to look somewhat like it. Gay lights ring the harbor. Officials have strung flags and bunting everywhere. Powerful spotlights are being installed to light up the courtyard in front of the palace, where lavish spectacles are planned. Barber pole striped flagpoles have been put up at the border so the visitor immediately knows something is afoot.

Rainier has insisted from the first on approving press arrangements, although he was perfectly frank in admitting he has no experience in such matters.

Plans for the press coverage of the two marriages—civil and church—have changed numerous times. As of today here's how they stand:

Civil ceremony in the small throne room of the palace on Wednesday—20 representatives of press, radio, television and newsreel in a place with a total capacity for about 80.

Religious rites in Monaco cathedral on Thursday—100 representatives of press, radio, television and newsreels.

Three "official photographers" will cover certain small parties and the official celebrations and supply their pictures to the others. "I want to see those pictures before they're handed out," said the Prince, "for I know how certain photographers operate. They'll take 50 pictures of you and then use only the one in which you're blowing your nose."

To accommodate those with no passes for the two weddings, the Prince has installed TV sets in Monaco's Oceanographic Museum located about 500 yards from the cathedral and 1,000 yards from the palace.

TV Monte Carlo will televise the marriages.

Monte Carlo Theft Reported

MONTE CARLO, April 14 (AP)—A report circulated here today that Mrs. Matthew McCloskey of Philadelphia, wife of the national treasurer of the Democratic party, was robbed of $50,000 in jewelry. But neither McCloskey nor his wife would confirm it.

The McCloskeys are guests at the forthcoming wedding of Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly. He is a prominent Philadelphia contractor, publisher of the Philadelphia Daily News, and a personal friend of the Kelly family.

"I'm still in hopes," was Mrs. McCloskey's cryptic statement to reporters.

"I'm handling it this way because I don't speak French," McCloskey said.

They are staying at the swank Hotel de Paris, which has been reserved for wedding guests at the orders of the prince.

A detective visited them this afternoon but hotel officials and Monaco police denied any knowledge that a robbery had occurred.

McCloskey gave his reply as to the way he was handling the report when asked if he was refusing confirmation because he is a wedding guest and felt it would be bad publicity for the wedding.

Smiling Bishop

The smiling cleric is Monsignor Gilles Barthe, the Bishop of Monaco, who'll officiate at the elaborate religious ceremony in the Monaco cathedral uniting Prince Rainier III and film star Grace Kelly.

2 Democrats Pit Strength In New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J., April 14 (AP)—A couple of strong Democratic vote getters—who share a similar political philosophy and follow similar campaign methods—are pitting their strength against each other at the polls Tuesday for control of New Jersey's 36 Democratic convention votes.

At the helm of the state organization which seeks to send an uncommitted slate to Chicago is Gov. Robert B. Meyner, upset winner in this normally Republican state in 1953 and a possible dark horse candidate for president or vice-president.

Bucking him is Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, whose unorthodox campaign already has scored several primary victories. Both men are of the liberal wing of their party.

Meyner is in effect putting his prestige on the line. Should Kefauver make a substantial showing in winning delegates, the governor's chances of getting on the national ticket would dim and his power in the party's national councils wane.

Kefauver, on the other hand, can better afford a defeat since he is the underdog taking on an entrenched organization in a primary. Unlike Wisconsin and Minnesota, only Democrats can vote in the Democratic primary and only Republicans in the GOP primary in New Jersey.

"I don't hold for preferential primary—knows as a 'popularity contest'—in which the Republicans have entered President Eisenhower. Kefauver is the only Democrat entered. The vote is not binding on delegates.

The Republican organization slate for convention delegates is pledged to the President. Three conservative Republicans are running as delegates-at-large independently of the regular party slate.

Meyner has repeatedly stated that he favors an unpledged slate.

GOP Senators Delay Request For Parley With Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Fifteen Republican senators who voted for the farm bill delayed today a request for a personal conference with President Eisenhower on the reported assurance their views will get "serious consideration" before any veto decision.

The fifteen include seven farm state Republicans running again this year who want to appeal to the President against a veto that would cut their administration ties on the farm issue.

They are Sens. Capehart of Indiana, Carlson of Kansas, Francis Case of South Dakota, Hickenlooper of Iowa, Welker of Idaho, Wiley of Wisconsin, and Young of North Dakota.

Chairman Schoepel (Kan) of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, who voted for the bill when Congress passed it Wednesday, was asked to arrange for a White House meeting. Schoepel indicated any request for a conference will be delayed until next week.

Another senator said the group had been assured the President has not yet made up his mind whether to reject a bill he has described as unworkable. It would restore to the President high, rigid price supports the President has opposed.

At Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., White House press secretary James Hagerty said the President had reached no decision on a veto.

"We believe that's correct," one Republican senator said. "We are assured the President is giving our views serious consideration."

Republican House Leader Martin (Mass) predicted a veto.

"If a veto comes—and I personally think the farm bill passed this week will be vetoed," Martin said, a special session of Congress may be necessary this fall to pass what he called "sane" farm legislation.

In Augusta, Hagerty was asked if Martin's prediction of a special session had come up at today's meeting between Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

"There was no discussion of that at all," he replied.

Sen. Young told a reporter he regards Eisenhower's forthcoming decision as "the most important politically that a President has had to make in recent years."

"Whether he accepts the bill or vetoes it, the action is bound to have a profound economic effect on the Midwest," Young said. "In my judgment, that economic effect, whether good or bad, is going to be reflected in the November voting."

Schoepel himself has said that a veto would "make it very tough for us in the farm areas."

County Audit Is Completed

Lee Porter, county auditor, has completed annual audit of the books of the county offices.

Copies of the audit will probably be presented to the commissioners on Monday. The original copy of the report will be filed with District Judge Charlie Sullivan.

Porter said the audit this year is more complete in many ways than have been most annual audits made in recent years. The new report will cover every office and all phases of county government, he said.

FOR U.S.

Farm Exports At Good Levels

WASHINGTON, April 14 (P)—There seems to be an impression that exports of U. S. farm products have dwindled to virtually nothing.

Such is not the case. Foreign shipments of products of American farms have been running at favorable levels.

As farm officials point out, the impression that U. S. exports are small undoubtedly has been created by a sudden drop in shipments at the end of the Korean War and the ensuing accumulation of nine billion dollars worth of surpluses.

Letters received by the Agriculture Department from farmers as well as criticism of government foreign trade policies by some congressmen indicate a general belief that this country has lost out in world markets for food and fiber products.

Viewed in historical perspective, farm exports are encouraging. Department reports show that agricultural exports in 1955 totaled $3,370,000,000, measured in terms of average prices received for the exported commodities during the 1952-54 period. This was 22 per cent above the 31-year (1924-55) average of $2,760,000,000, measured by the same prices.

It is true that the 1955 exports were 14 per cent below the 1952 Korean War peak of $3,920,000,000. But exports that year were influenced by abnormal factors, the principal one being "scare buying" by countries fearing the conflict in Asia might develop into another full-scale war.

When the war scare faded, foreign countries reduced stocks and U. S. farm exports in 1953 fell to $2,840,000,000.

Farm exports last year were only four per cent below the $3,490,000,000 average of the prosperous late 20s, and about the same as the $3,380,000,000 average of 1946-50 when a large part of the foreign shipments were financed under foreign aid programs.

All of these comparisons are made in terms of average prices for the 1952-54 period, so as to avoid distortions. Help has been provided by special government pricing programs which made it easier for U. S. exporters to sell abroad.

American cotton in particular has suffered greatly from the fact that it is priced above foreign offerings in world markets. Cotton exports have been running 65 per cent below last year.

But cotton sales abroad should pick up sharply after Aug. 1, when the government will start selling its stocks abroad on a competitive bid price.

If exports of farm products in general are above the average, why then are surpluses piling up? The answer is simple: American agriculture—taking advantage of latest technological developments—expanded its productive capacity during and after World War II to meet abnormal demands of the conflict and of the rehabilitation period afterward. It is continuing to expand.

Excess supplies pile up to create the huge stocks held by the government.

Agriculture either must find new outlets at home and abroad or cut production. Either way out is difficult.

Texas Contest Draws Interest

WASHINGTON, April 14 (P)—The Texas contest for control of the delegates to the Democratic national convention has attracted unusual interest here.

Normally, the squabble among Democrats or Republicans within a state doesn't draw much attention at this level. Exception, however, are the May 5 precinct conventions in Texas, and subsequent county and state conventions.

Moves of the three key figures in the Texas situation—Gov. Shivers, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson—have much interest outside of Texas.

Here and there in capitol corridors and the press galleries reporters frequently corner Texas correspondents to get background about a development in Texas politics.

Before the Senate and House convene each day, Johnson and Rayburn hold news conferences. Normally questions touch only on national problems. Lately local Texas politics account for a considerable part of the subject matter.

All this indicates how much importance is attached to the potential role of the Texans in the big Chicago conclave where Democrats will pick a man to put up against President Eisenhower.

Around the Capital: With politics increasingly occupying talk here, some Republican suggested that the opposition should be designated the "Democratic" party.

"If the last two letters of 'Democratic' are to be chopped off," retorted Rep. Omar Burleson of the Abilene District, "I suppose it would be in order to chop off the first two letters of our friends across the aisle, and leave theirs the 'Publican' party."

He added that the Bible, Luke 19:8 mentions the Publicans "as wicked politicians who got rich off the poor by making false accusations against their opponents."

Miss Ivy Buchanan, Dallas attorney here, has been associated with the wife of an Eisenhower Cabinet member in a Texas college alumnae activities. She and Mrs. Herbert Brownell, wife of the attorney general, are former students of Texas State College for Women in Denton.

Miss Buchanan supported President Eisenhower in 1952. She has been mentioned as a possible appointee to a federal judgeship here in the District of Columbia.

Farmers May Get Aid Even Under Veto

WASHINGTON, April 14 (P)—Farmers may get some extra benefits this year even if President Eisenhower vetoes the controversial farm bill now awaiting action at the White House.

Agricultural circles here and elsewhere are discussing the possibility that the administration, in the event of a veto, might raise price supports to 82½ per cent of parity on certain basic crops.

This would not give farmers the estimated two billion dollars in additional benefits contained in the bill passed by Congress last Wednesday, but it would give them some extra income before they go to the polls to vote in the general election next fall.

Rice is now supported at 75 per cent of parity, wheat at 76 per cent and corn at 81. The support price for cotton, another basic crop, has not yet been fixed for this year but Secretary of Agriculture Benson has indicated it would be about 86 per cent of parity, if existing law remains unchanged.

Speculation about a possible rise in support levels was based on the fact that the administration was willing to compromise on a flexible support system ranging from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity just before the showdown voting began in Congress last week.

Only Few Hours Left To Avoid Fines Under Inspection Law

By The Associated Press
 Texas motorists who want to avoid fines of up to $200 for not having their vehicles safety-checked had just a few hours Sunday to get the silver sticker on their windshields.

A spot check Saturday showed thousands of cars still not inspected to see if brakes, windshield wiper, lights and horn were in proper working condition.

Midnight Sunday is the deadline. Capt. N. C. Pugh of the Department of Public Safety at Houston estimated about 20,000 out of the 400,000 vehicles in Harris County had not been inspected. Patrolmen will begin handing out tickets Monday, Pugh warned.

Economics Study Group To Meet

Initial session of the Economics Study Group of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for 7 a. m. Tuesday.

W. A. Hunt, chairman, has mailed letters asking all who enrolled in the 17-week course to be on hand at the Chamber of Commerce at that hour.

Initial session, he said, will be an instructional meeting. Additional sets of text books, he explained, have been ordered for those who were not supplied at the organization conference last Monday. Enough materials are on hand to accommodate six additional members.

Mother Dies

Miss Margaret Christie, formerly home demonstration agent for Howard County, wired friends here that her mother had died Saturday morning at Miss Christie's home in Orange. Her mother is to be buried Sunday at Mineola.

McDonald Returns From Shrine Meet

Cecil McDonald of Big Spring, illustrious potentate of the Suez Shrine Temple, has returned from Sacramento, Calif., where he participated in the Shrine Directors Association of North America.

Accompanying the Big Spring to the California meeting were five members of his staff from the Suez Temple at San Angelo. They were Noble John Bright, director, and his staff, Paul Villaret III, Doug Valois, I. O. Westbrook and Jimmy Cheatum.

The 38th annual session of the Shrine Directors Association was held Monday through Thursday.

Suicide Blamed On Income Tax

WASHINGTON, Ind., April 14 (P)—The problems of filling out a federal income tax return were blamed today for the suicide of an expressman beside his wife's grave.

Sheriff James McCullough said he found a note in the car of Elmer B. McCracken, 64, Paoli, saying: "I have almost lost my mind trying to figure my federal income tax."

McCracken died shortly after he was found in Oak Grove cemetery Thursday afternoon with a bullet wound in his right temple and a pistol near by. His wife, Bernice, died Dec. 3, 1953.

Prefab Bridge To Be Tested In Bryan Area

COLLEGE STATION — A prefabricated concrete bridge which will be erected this summer in the College Station-Bryan area, will provide engineers of the Texas Transportation Institute with an opportunity to test an idea that may save the state from five to ten millions of dollars annually in bridge-building costs.

The TTI, a part of the Texas A&M College system, is the Texas Highway Department's research agency with headquarters at College Station.

The bridge will be placed as one of the regular service units in highway district No. 17.

The structure, of 80 or 90 feet, will be built of pre-cast and prestressed concrete elements that will be constructed at one of the highway department's yards by road and bridge crews. The parts will then be hauled out to the site and tied together.

This type of construction will allow engineers to gather information on costs of pre-fabrication and make a comparison of performance of prefabricated and conventional bridges.

This technique has been used successfully in Europe, particularly in Scandinavian countries. This will be the first bridge of its type in Texas. H. K. Stevenson, research engineer for TTI said he thinks the method can save 20 per cent on cost of bridge superstructures, and perhaps more. D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, said that around $40 million per year goes to structure construction in the highway program.

No Problems To Build A Fine Dining Table DO IT YOURSELF

By BILL BAKER
How would you like to own a copy of the dining table pictured above? You can have one just like it — and you won't have to spend more than a few dollars, either.

Not too long ago people felt that the home workshop was the ideal place to make book ends. But now we realize that even major pieces of furniture can be produced. My dining table is the perfect example.

Using my pattern package number 127, you'll be able to build the table with few problems. A full material list will help you to obtain only the wood and hardware that you'll actually use.

Also in the pattern package are exact-size pattern pieces, duplicating each section of the table. You'll tack, trace, cut and assemble — it's that easy.

The finished table measures three feet by five feet. An additional 24 inches are obtained when you add the extra leaves — and you'll do this with little effort, thanks to a smooth-operating support system.

You'll notice that I've used metal legs for the table, but the pattern includes details on handsome wooden legs. Pick out the style which will best fill your needs.

Your dining table pattern package will be on the way to you when you send your name and address (clearly printed), together with only one dollar ($1) in check, cash or money order, to Bill Baker, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California. Be sure to ask for pattern number 127.

7 Million Still Must File For '55 Income Tax

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—With the income tax deadline only two days away, the Internal Revenue Service today estimated that between six and seven million individual taxpayers still must file their 1955 returns.

The service expects that around 3 1/2 billion dollars more will pour into the government coffers before Monday midnight.

The penalty for late filing is 5 per cent of the amount of the tax for each month or fraction of a month. In addition, interest will accrue at the rate of 6 per cent annually on the amounts unpaid by the due date.

The government has estimated conservatively that the tax on income from individuals for 1955 will run about 33 1/2 billion dollars. There is a possibility the take will be higher than expected and further raise the administration's hopes for achieving a balanced budget at the end of this fiscal year June 30.

The deadline Monday affects individuals subject to filing returns, even though the tax due has been withheld from their pay checks.

Besides salaried persons and wage earners, the final date for returns applies to professional and self-employed persons who may have been paying their tax on a quarterly basis. Others who must meet the deadline Monday are:

Partnerships, which must file an information return for 1955.

Executors, who must file estate income tax returns for last year and pay the first quarterly installment for 1956 taxes.

Trustees, who must file last year's trust income tax return and pay the entire tax.

Donors of gifts in 1955, who must file a gift tax return and pay the proper tax. Those who received gifts must file information returns showing the amount of gifts received last year.

Presidential Boom Begun For Johnson

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—Creation of a "Johnson for president committee" to boom Sen. Lyndon Johnson as a full-fledged candidate was announced today by Mayor Tom Miller, long-time co-chairmanship of the Johnson for president committee.

Johnson arrived unexpectedly in Washington yesterday and was reported at his ranch near Johnson City.

Austin financier E. H. Perry was reported asked to serve as the other chairman. Miller is a close friend of Johnson.

Without referring to Gov. Shivers by name, Miller said: "Those who want the Texas voice to be heard with respect nationally will certainly not turn around now and fight to keep a Texan off the national ticket."

Shivers, in the position of challenging Johnson for the chairmanship of the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention, has said he might support Johnson as a presidential candidate if the senator does not align himself too closely with the liberal faction of Texas Democrats, such as the PAC, NAACP or DAC.

Miller, whose speech came within 24 hours after Johnson paid Austin a surprise visit, denied Johnson is siding with any faction. "Many Texans have protested factional groups trying to take over the Democratic party," he noted. "We can't fight factions by becoming a faction or championing a factional candidate."

Lyndon Johnson is not a factional candidate.

"He is the ideal Texas candidate and the ideal national candidate for the Democratic party," Reports were that Johnson came to Austin to throw his weight behind organization of the May 5 precinct battle between loyalist-liberal Democrats and the conservative forces led by Shivers.

Brain Hormone Discovery Told

HOUSTON (AP)—The discovery of a simple brain hormone, a long sought internal triggering mechanism that sets off the body's production of ACTH and cortisone, was reported yesterday by a Baylor University College of Medicine doctor.

Dr. Roger Guillemin will present his findings Tuesday before the American Physiological Society at Atlantic City.

Dr. Guillemin, 32, said yesterday the hormone, in tests on hundreds of animals and four human beings, has proved to be a purified substance that can be injected into the body to make it produce its own chemical weapon against mental and physical stress.

The tests were reported to have shown that the brain hormone produces a perfectly normal response in both animals and humans, and that, unlike animal ACTH and cortisone, which is injected into patients for treatment of many illnesses, it has no ill or "side" effects.

Cadillac

Giving In...To His Practical Side!

We will tell you, in all honesty, that this gentleman was a little dubious when he first walked into the showroom.

There was no question, to be sure, about his wanting a Cadillac.

But, quite frankly, he wondered whether or not he was in a position to purchase a motor car as wonderful as the 1956 Cadillac.

But now he is learning some facts about this distinguished motor car that are removing the doubt from his mind.

First of all, he is learning that a Cadillac is relatively modest in its initial cost.

He is finding out about Cadillac's extraordinary dependability and freedom from repairs.

He is discovering the remarkable facts about

Cadillac's traditionally wonderful resale value.

And, lastly, he is being told that, at this time of the year, his dealer is able to make Cadillac ownership even more practical than usual.

That's why we suspect that—having given in long ago to his heart—he is now giving in to his practical side. And that's a combination no man can resist!

If you have considered Cadillac the car in your future—but have postponed making the move for reasons of economy—we urge you to stop in soon.

As an experienced Cadillac dealer, we have established a wonderful relationship with fine-car motorists throughout the community. Our reputation for integrity is positive assurance of your satisfaction as a customer.

Few Rookies Due To Open

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Approximately 75 freshmen remain on major league rosters today but of these not more than a handful are likely to be in the starting lineups when the season opens next Tuesday.

The lucky ones include shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox, second baseman Charley Neal of Brooklyn, catcher Dan Kravitz of Pittsburgh, left fielder Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, shortstop Don Buddin and third baseman Frank Malzone of Boston...

Except for Neal, who has impressed everybody with his spectacular fielding, at second, the Dodgers will not present any new faces although Junior Gilliam, the ousted second baseman, will be in the lineup in left field in place of Sandy Amoros.

It's no surprise that not a single rookie pitcher has been nominated, depending upon the opposition, are expected to receive starting assignments in the near future. The most promising young pitchers appear to be Pat Scantlebury and Tom Acker of Cincinnati.

Unusual number of catchers have been named to the opening day lineups for the season. In addition to Karavitz and Berberet, are Earl Averill Jr. (Indians), Haywood Sullivan (Red Sox), Earl Battey (White Sox), Joe Lonnett (Phillies) Hal Smith (Cardinals) and Darrell Johnson (Yankees).

Robinson, Covington, Norm Selburn and Lou Skizas (Yankees), Rocky Colavito (Indians), Marty Keough (Red Sox), Bob Lemon (Giants), Gino Cimoli (Dodgers), Dave Melton and Al Pilarcik (Athletics) and Lee Walls (Pirates).

Basin Drilling Takes Up Some Early Slack

A sudden burst of activity in Lea County, N.M., put that area into first place in rotary rig drilling, ahead of all other counties in the Permian Basin. The entire area had 590 rigs turning. The county recorded 90 through last Tuesday, according to the survey conducted by Reed Roller Bit. The total is 12 more than the county had two weeks earlier.

Wildcats Scheduled In Seven Counties

Wildcats have been staked for immediate drilling in seven West Texas counties. Mark A. Edelbach No. 1 Edward J. Ashe is a 5,000 foot wildcat in southwest Iron County, four miles north of Barnhart. It is 660 feet from north and west lines of the east half section, 40, Washington County Railroad Survey, and 1 1/2 miles southeast of an active wildcat.

New Glasscock Well Reported

Hanley No. 2 J. W. Gray has been reported as a new well in Glasscock County, flowing 27.81 barrels of oil through a 11-64-inch choke in 24 hours. The well is in the Spraberry Trend Area. Gravity of the oil is 36.8, and gas-oil ratio is 1.356-1. Tubing pressure is 200.

Sharon Ridge Stakes Pair

Two new locations are being staked in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field, and R. B. Stallworth of Abilene is drilling both. One of the trillites is in Mitchell County and the other in Scurry. Stallworth No. 2-B Strain will be drilled in Mitchell County 10 miles northwest of Colorado City. It will be 330 feet from south and 1,338 feet from east lines.

Other personnel being assigned from Fort Worth, Midland, Odessa, Tulsa and other points.

More Talk Of Price Increase Is Voiced

By CHARLES HASLET WASHINGTON, April 14.—Talk of a possible increase in the price of crude oil was heard this week. An increase is "necessary and inevitable," declared Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America (I.P.A.). He called it "overdue and unavoidable."

20-YEAR SUPPLY Industry Representatives Study Texas Gas Outlook

COLLEGE STATION — More than 300 Texas and Southwestern oil and gas men talked in big figures, even for the Lone Star State, at the Ninth Oil Recovery Conference held last week at Texas A&M College. For example, registrants were told that the state's natural gas reserves amounted to an estimated 10,500,000,000 (10.5 trillion) cubic feet as of Jan. 1 of this year.

Welch Pool Adds Well

A City Service venture in Dawson County has been finalized for a pumping potential of 71 barrels of oil daily. It is their No. 16 Kirkpatrick venture. The well is located 660 feet from north and east lines, 70-M, EL&RR Survey in the Welch field.

Knapp Student Is In Top Five At Texas Tech

Ellis W. Huddleston, Knapp, is one of five top scholars in Texas Tech.

He was honored with other undergraduates last week at the college's annual Recognition Service.

Huddleston tied with Ray Joe Kelly, Dimmett, as the top student in the agriculture department.

Among those receiving individual recognition for outstanding scholarship were Carl A. Preston, Big Spring; James A. Mogford and David Shoemaker, Midland; Curtis W. Owen, Bernadynne Weatherford and Jackson Park, Odessa; William T. Jones and William F. Kelly, Sweetwater.

Those who had been given individual honors previously included Robert T. Weaver, Lamesa; and Gwen Gracy Killian, Roscoe. Divisional honors went to Ellis Huddleston, Knapp, and John Melvin Weaver, Lamesa.

Honor Due Tars Of Texas Navy

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP) — Three sailors of the Texas Navy will be honored anew at 4 p.m. tomorrow when the monuments on their graves are dedicated at the state cemetery by the Sons of the Republic of Texas.

The bodies of midshipman Fielding Culp, Capt. Robert Oliver and Lt. Charles Fuller were disinterred last year and reburied at the state cemetery. They had been buried in New Orleans where they died in 1842.

The era of the Texas Navy is a dramatic one in the state's history, punctuated by a mutiny, charges of piracy by the Texas Army and outstanding acts of bravery.

The high point in the Texas Navy's history was in December, 1841, when Commodore Edwin Moore and his fleet captured three Mexican schooners in the Gulf.

Players Work On First Show

The Big Spring Civic Theatre—now incorporated, thank you—is bearing down on rehearsals for its first full length production next month.

Thursday and Friday evening committees began laying plans for set construction and collection and for costuming.

Practice sessions are being held daily, Monday through Friday, at the Webb AFB academic auditorium. Players have gone through the first two acts. So far the production of "Born Yesterday," a famous contemporary comedy made famous in pictures by Judy Holiday and William Holden, is shaping up well.

Parents Come For Runaway Children

Two runaway girls, picked up on the streets of Big Spring, were turned over to their parents Saturday morning by A. E. Long, juvenile officer.

Thetwo girls, one 12 and the other 14 years old, were from Big Yoke, Texas.

After being apprehended, they told the officer their home address. He contacted the parents who came to Big Spring for their daughters.

Wins Airman Award

A young man who has been in English speaking countries only six years, but who is so proficient in writing that he edits the Webb AFB newspaper, has been named Airman of the Month. He is Ray Kilkkauskas, A-2C, headquarters squadron section, wing, Maj. Leo Bradford, wing inspector, makes the award, and delivers a $10 check that goes with it. Kilkkauskas is a native of Lithuania, who migrated into Germany ahead of the Russians and thence to Australia before coming to the United States three years ago. For the past two years he has been in the Air Force. All of his family, except his mother who is in Australia, are now in the States.

HELP WANTED

Farmers Facing Labor Shortage

An urgent need for farm workers was reported Saturday by C. A. (Bill) Williams, farm labor representative for the Texas Employment Commission here, who has 13 farm jobs available, principally for men with small families. Two of the positions are on ranches where the wife would be expected to perform some work in the rancher's home.

All of the farmers provide housing, with butane water and electricity furnished. They are offering to pay up to $6 per day or will hire workers by the hour or month, Williams said. Monthly wages offered range from $100 to $150.

Most of the farmers want men for general farm work. One man is looking for a worker who can commute from his own home daily. Another is willing to hire a workman by the day or month, or rent his farm on the halves.

Awards Given At Gay Hill

GAY HILL, April 14. (SC)—Sonny Anderson, eighth grader in the Gay Hill School, received the lion's share of honors at the school's annual activities banquet Friday evening.

Young Anderson was honored as the best all-around boy, outstanding athlete, and outstanding 4-H Club member. He also received a letter jacket for his athletic endeavors. Anderson was selected for each of the honors by a separate committee.

Both boys' and girls' awards were presented at the banquet in the school cafeteria. More than 100 persons attended.

Claudia Self was chosen as the best all-around girl in judging based on personality, leadership, scholarship, 4-H activities, music ability and honesty.

Honored as the best girl athlete was Mary Jo Rawlings, a member of the Gay Hill basketball team. The girls' 4-H award went to Gwen Proctor. Sandra Crow won the Girl Scout award and Nancy Norman was winner of the Brownie award.

Eighth-grade girls receiving letter jackets were Mary Lee Murphy, Luann Hood, and LaNoyle Earley (manager).

Billy Clanton won the Boy Scout award and Carol Gene Zant was picked as the outstanding Cub Scout.

Loot Recovered, Except For Fines

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP)—Police today arrested a short, stocky ex-convict and reported the recovery of all but $22 of $5,800 taken in a bar holdup yesterday.

Paul Proger, 33, was booked on suspicion of robbery. Police said he was traced after a bartender Harold Zubkoff identified a police identification picture.

Officers said they found a shotgun, a revolver and six sticks of dynamite in Proger's room. Most of the money was there, too, and police said Proger explained what happened to the remainder.

"I had to pay $22 in parking fines on tickets I picked up while casing the bar."

important that the reports be duly postmarked before the deadline. Big Spring office of the Internal Revenue Service handles relatively few of the reports of local taxpayers. Vast majority of those who pay taxes fill out their own reports and mail them to the Dallas office.

However, from time to time, a belated taxpayer turns in his report to the local office. The office is empowered to receive such reports and stamp them with the proper receipt designation.

Ben Hawkins, head of the Big Spring office, anticipated that a number of hurried citizens will be in his office Monday afternoon with their delayed tax statements.

YMCA Exceeds Membership Goal

Although there are still some loose ends to be tied up before the campaign is concluded, the annual YMCA membership drive was celebrated with a victory dinner Friday evening.

Figures announced by Mrs. Lee Rogers, chairman of the campaign, showed $6,593 raised for 109 per cent of the goal. There had been 469 adults enlisted in addition to 67 teen-agers.

Phil Brandon, general secretary of the Midland YMCA, told the group that the real success of the campaign would be reflected in how funds are used to influence the lives of young people. Bob Bender, Dallas, member of the Southwest area staff for membership, spoke highly of the success of the enlistment. More important than funds, he said, was the fact that 81 workers told the story of YMCA to more than 500 prospects.

Truman Jones and his 21 workers in the sustaining member division came through with 108 members for $3,765 or 122 per cent of quota. The general division, which still has some of its contacts to complete, had 301 members plus 67 teen-age memberships for $2,828.

George Oldham, with a big finish, nosed out Bill Sheppard as the top membership enroller. Oldham got 27 and Sheppard 26. Sunny Edwards was in third place. Oldham's team led with 59 members, trailed by Sheppard's group with 39. Bill Dawes division, with 162 members, topped the one led by Tom Guin. Gifts were presented to the top individuals and team leaders, and a corsage to Mrs. Rogers. J. B. Apple, who had challenged Sheppard's team, had his tie clipped.

Brandon said that the Y could help shape the proper paths for young people in friendships and activities, and best of all could give them a God-centered program. Around 45 attended the meeting in the First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Mr. Stovall was born in San Marcos July 23, 1885 and came to Lamesa about 40 years ago. He had farmed continuously since. For 61 years he had been a member of the Methodist Church, and for 20 years he was Sunday School superintendent and member of the official board of the First Methodist Church at Lamesa.

Stovall Service Set In Lamesa This Afternoon

LAMESA — Services will be held in the First Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m. Sunday for W. P. Stovall, who spent most of his life under the shelter of the Methodist church and 20 years of it as a Sunday School superintendent.

Mr. Stovall was stricken with a fatal heart attack about 8 p.m. Thursday when he and Mrs. Stovall were returning from a fishing trip to Lake J. B. Thomas. Their car stuck in the sand and he had worked vigorously to free it. After he got back into the car, he was stricken.

Mr. Stovall was born in San Marcos July 23, 1885 and came to Lamesa about 40 years ago. He had farmed continuously since. For 61 years he had been a member of the Methodist Church, and for 20 years he was Sunday School superintendent and member of the official board of the First Methodist Church at Lamesa.

Forsan Student In NTS Fraternity

DENTON, April 14 — Albert Oglesby, Forsan, has been elected to the Geezles social fraternity at North Texas State College.

Dean of men William B. Woods has announced the names of 158 men who are to become pledges in the 10 social groups on the campus.

Oglesby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Oglesby, Forsan, is a freshman physical education major and a member of the NTSC basketball and track team.

Desertion Alleged

George Morehead was charged with wife and family desertion, a felony, in a complaint prepared Saturday morning by Guilford Jones, District Attorney.

Moore County farm agent Martin Gossett and Tom Beck of the Soil Conservation Service said farm land was in a critical condition and on the brink of extreme damage if rain did not come soon.

About 25,000 acres were seriously damaged in a Feb. 24 storm and damaged anew by the storm last Sunday. The April 8 storm also severely damaged 10,000 acres not damaged before. Blowing sand and high winds caused damage also to irrigated wheat.

Beck estimated 80,000 to 100,000 acres of Moore County would blow severely if another violent dust storm occurred before a good rain.

At Perryton, northeast of here, damage was reported "moderate" to "severe" after last Sunday's dust storm. Some fields of wheat were blown out. Some fields west and northwest of Perryton blew in spite of, having been chiseled recently.

Fines Set On Guilty Pleas

Glenn Stewart, charged with writing a bad check for $4.95, pleaded guilty in county court Saturday and was fined $10.

Mac Baugh, charged with giving a wrong check to the Men's Store for $42.95, pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $25 and costs.

Felix Rubio, charged with driving while intoxicated, changed his plea in court Saturday from not guilty to guilty. Judge R. H. Weaver assessed a fine of $100 and three days in jail.

Pat Garrett McKinney, also charged with driving while drunk, pleaded not guilty and his bond was set at $500.

Manuel Rodriguez, charged with driving while drunk, pleaded guilty to the charge. His punishment was set at a fine of $75 and three days in the county jail.

County Teachers To Hold Banquet

One hundred teachers, members of the Howard County Teachers Association, are to meet at Coahoma High School cafeteria Monday night.

Occasion is the annual banquet of the association. Dinner is to be served promptly at 7 o'clock. All members are asked to be on time.

Joe Pickle, newsmen from Big Spring, is to be speaker for the evening. The Association is made up of teachers who serve in Howard County schools outside of Big Spring.

No Extension On Auto Inspections

Motorists were counting on a possible additional day of grace to have their cars inspected as required by law because April 15 happens to fall on Sunday, but insofar as an official announcement of any such extension—there was none.

C-City Dentist Is Cited For Distinguished Service

COLORADO CITY, April 14—H. Jene Steakley, 30-year-old dentist, was announced as Distinguished Service award winner for 1956 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for outstanding community service.

Steakley was selected by a committee representing the Jaycees, the Ministerial Alliance, and service and veteran's organization.

He is a director in the Junior Chamber of Commerce, served as Clubmaster in 1955, is a tallwister for the Lions, member of the Chamber of Commerce, trustee of United Fund, past president of the 17th Dental Association, superintendent of the Young Peoples Department of the First Baptist Church, teaches a boys' class in a board member of Hendricks Memorial Hospital of Abilene and is a veteran of World War II. He was born in Abilene, but lived in Sweetwater most of his life. He is married and has three sons, and has lived in Colorado City since 1950.

Delbert Downing of Midland was guest speaker, and Rev. Jack Ellzey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, master of ceremonies at the installation of Jaycee officers.

Bob Kirschbaum was installed as president. He will replace Max Caddell, who will act as the club's state director.

Other new officers are Charles Oliver, first vice president; Don Benson, second vice president; Benton Cain, secretary; Joe Boat-right, treasurer; and directors Dr. John R. Chinn, J. R. Rhoten and Kelly Fregia. Johnny Grubbs was elected Civic House treasurer.

H. JENE STEAKLEY

The new officers were installed by Goodwin Simpson of Colorado City, state Jaycee vice president. Key man award was presented to Johnny Grubbs for outstanding work during the past year. Other awards were presented to the retiring president and to Elmer Martin for work as agriculture chairman for Jaycees.

Avery Faulkner Is Candidate For Commissioner

Announcement that he will seek election to the office of County Commissioners from Precinct 3 was made Saturday by Avery Faulkner, Big Spring business man. He has filed for place on the ticket in the July Democratic primary.

Faulkner, resident of Big Spring since 1935, said in a statement he is offering himself "as a representative of the city's business interests, with a pledge of working for a business-like administration of our county's affairs."

Faulkner said "I have only the progressive interests of Howard County in mind in seeking a place on the Commissioners' Court. I think I can work intelligently and conscientiously with other members to see that all of the people are served properly, honestly, and with due regard to needs and good economy."

He said he is staunchly for the county's unit system of road administration. "I think we have made progress in this direction, and I promise that this program is given my full support."

Faulkner operates a floor-covering service here, and has been in business on his own since 1949. Previously, after moving here from Fort Worth where he attended school, he worked for a short time for Radio Station KBST, then was associated with Thorp Paint Store.

He is married to the former Miss Edelle Smith of Big Spring, and they have three sons, Avery Jr., Johnny and Riley. They own their home at 708 West 17th.

Faulkner has been a member of the local Lions Club for 11 years, and has headed several of its important committees and is a former president of the club. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and has served on that organization's committee work. He is a past director of the Country Club.

AVERY FALKNER

Sterling Lad On Forsan Program

FORSAN, April 14 — Alfred Chapple of Sterling City provided the entertainment for the Forsan Service Club meeting Thursday evening. He presented two comedy acts.

Plans were made at the meeting to move the Scout Hut about a quarter of a mile east of Forsan on the Cosden lease to provide more outdoor activities for the boys. W. T. Creelman was elected to membership in the club.

Wayne Mononey, president, thanked club members for work on the community park project. The park area is to be sodded soon, he reported.

Young Chapple was accompanied to Forsan by his father, H. A. Chapple, who was a guest of the club. About 20 attended.

25 Enroll For Supervisors' Short Course

Twenty-five men from four institutions have signed for the supervisors short course to be held this week at Howard County Junior College.

There is a possibility that another class for civilian supervisors at Webb AFB may be organized.

R. A. Downward, member of the engineering extension staff of Texas A&M College, will be instructor of the course in the fundamentals of supervision.

The City of Big Spring has 13 members of its staff enrolled in the 15-hour course, while Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital has five, Empire Southern Gas has three as does Webb AFB.

Class sessions will be held in room 2-A, which is the little auditorium, at Howard County Junior College from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Cosden Petroleum Corporation and the Texas & Pacific Railway Company both have held similar supervisory courses here.

MEN IN SERVICE

"Operation Mauka," first full-scale assault exercise by Marines of the First Provisional Marine Air-Ground task force, was marked with landings on the Hawaiian island of Kauai early this month.

Participating in the exercise was Jimmie D. Lane, son of Dale Lane, Rt. 1. Lane is assigned to the 3rd Battalion, 4th Marine Regiment.

Three Big Spring men graduated from recruit training recently at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

They are Melbie E. Morrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrell, 1111 W. 2nd; Sam Williams Jr., son of Sam Williams, 504 NW 3rd; and Lonnie L. Teague, son of Mrs. Mona Roberson, Rt. 2.

Capt. Roy C. Merworth, son of Mrs. Judea B. Merworth, is an anti-aircraft artillery instructor with the German Training Assistance Group in Andernach, Germany.

Capt. Merworth is helping instruct basic trainees of the German army in the use of American equipment offered under the new Mutual Defense Assistance Program for Germany.

His wife, Patricia, is with him in Germany.

FORSAN — Clifford Ray Draper of Forsan is at home on a 13-day leave from the Navy. He has completed three months of basic training at San Diego, Calif. He is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Draper, here.

CHICAGO — Working mothers won a majority of the top spots as regional winners in the checkout contest for the Super Market Institute.

Six of the 10 winners were mothers. The west south central regional winner was Mrs. Thelma Carpenter, 31, Corpus Christi, mother of two children.

FORSAN, April 14 — Fishing this weekend on Lake Wall are Earl H. Bedell, Deycee Bedell, J. C. Draper, Butch Patgett, Edell Ratliff and Delmer Klahr.

FINISHING TOUCHES are added to a replica of the main building at Howard County Junior College, as Margaret Pierce puts "one more dab" on the lettering. Proudly displaying their work are Rosetta Williams, center, and Edna Harrell. The drawing will be placed in position to extend a warm welcome to the visitors expected on Friday, when the college students entertain seniors from neighboring high schools.

JAYHAWKS will be much in evidence Friday at HCJC when the college entertains visitors from a wide area. Other decorations will add gaiety, too, but Jo Ann Watkins, left, and Betty Hester want to be sure that the school emblem makes a good impression on the guests. (Photos by Keith McMillin.)

HCJC Prepares To Greet Seniors Of This Area

DRESS REHEARSAL for registration on Senior Day at Howard County Junior College is held by the committee in photo at right as Joyce Nix pins a name tag on Wade Choate. Prepared to type the visitors' names is Nelda Williams, while Laverne Cooper is waiting to make a permanent list of the registrants. Patsy Reaves, standing, is going to see the job well-done.

HOUSEKEEPING DUTIES never end, as Betty Earley and Robert Roberson have found in making preparations for the seniors from this area, who will visit the HCJC campus on Friday. Members of the reception committee, they want the Student Union Building spanking clean when the guests arrive. Discouraging work, isn't it!

Kept Up With The Times

When Bette Davis first broke into motion pictures, the make-up people tried to put her into the "Jean Harlow mold." She learned the hard way that changing her type was not easy—that it has to be felt and needed to be successful.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Be Ready To Change Your Type, Says Bette

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—When the names of Hollywood's all time greats are recorded in cinema's Hall of Fame, there is no question that Bette Davis will be among them. Her roles have varied from Mildred, the sexy waitress in Human Bondage, to her majestic portrayal of Queen Elizabeth. How does one effect such a dramatic change in type? How successfully could this be tried off stage? These questions were playing in my mind as I watched Miss Davis in a mother-and-daughter scene with Debbie Reynolds in "The Catered Affair" at MGM. As we walked across the lot to Miss Davis' dressing room we chatted about the possibility of changing one's type. "I think it is possible to change your type in everyday life, but if you don't feel in harmony with the change you won't be very happy," she said in her dramatic voice. "I came to Hollywood in the Jean Harlow era. The studio immediately bleached my hair almost white, gave me false eyelashes and a pinkish make-up. I was portraying something I didn't feel. I was so uncomfortable with my appearance that when I visited my family in New England, I kept my head covered." Bette offered me a comfortable chair while she removed her make-up. "When I enacted Queen Elizabeth," she said, "I demanded all the lingerie of that period. It helped me to have the rigidity of posture that Queen Elizabeth had. Her dresses were so heavy and stiff that it was like wearing armor. "Clothes set the manners," Bette continued. "How can you slump in tightly-laced corsets? Today's clothes are easy and casual, while our manners are informal. "It is not always easy to find your type. Actresses are fortunate in being helped with their make-up, hair and clothes. Some girls know what is right for them intuitively but others seem to be happy in what is the very worst for them. "I was very young for my years," Bette confessed. "My grandmother was straight down from the Puritans. At seventeen I was not allowed to use make-up and I still wore my hair in two ugly braids down my back. I went to a high school dance and I remember the painful realization that my escort was stuck with me. I asked to go home early and I went to my mother. 'I'll be a wall flower all my life,' I'll be a wall flower all my life." "Parents often stay in the years they were brought up in," Bette commented. "But the unforgivable thing is not to let their children go along with their classmates." Miss Davis wiped her face with a towel and added, "up to a point. "My grandmother did me great harm. If she saw me looking in a mirror she would say, 'It's not how you look that counts, it is what you are.' With her type of training she felt that anything you enjoyed was a sin. "This thought stayed with me so that when I came to Hollywood I felt that how I looked in private life had no bearing on whether I could act or not. Had I made more concessions to Hollywood's standards of glamour I would have had an easier time. "My two daughters are being brought up to know the importance of their appearance in private as well as in public," she added. Miss Davis and I discussed the relation of food to well being. "I am rabid on food for children being served attractively as well as it being nutritious. I am violent about people who starve themselves for weight and talk about the subject in front of their children. If you have to diet don't dwell on it," Miss Davis exclaimed. "I know from experience it is possible to condition children's taste. Our meals are family occasions. I believe in planned menus. I cannot abide TV trays or snacks. We are fast becoming a nation of snack eaters with hot-dogs, hamburgers and potato chips for a steady diet." While we were talking, I noticed how thoroughly Miss Davis removed her make-up. She applied several applications of cleansing cream, followed by an astringent. Her skin was clear and lovely. "You can't remove all your make-up, with one cleansing, and trouble comes when particles of make-up are left on," she explained while running her lipstick over her lower lip and then biting her lips to give the line to her upper lip. "I have had many people ask, 'Why do you make up your mouth as you do?' I have a very small mouth as you may have noticed," she remarked. "And when I had make-up tests at the studio I discovered that a larger mouth was much more attractive." "And now it has become sort of a trademark for you," I commented. As I rose to go, I asked Miss Davis what was the most valuable advice that she'd ever been given.

Violinist, Speaker Slated For Texas Music Program

A Texas program will be presented by Harriett Emerson, violinist, and Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, music authority, for Music Club members and their guests at 8 p.m. April 24 in Howard County Junior College auditorium.

Miss Emerson, who will include Texas compositions on her program, will be accompanied on the piano by Joe Bratcher, Fort Worth Civic Opera accompanist. Mrs. Mitchell is state chairman of Texas Composers Guild. She will speak on "Texas Composers and Their Music." She has recently compiled an 86-page Texas Composers Guild Handbook listing published works and members' biographies and rules for guild membership.

Miss Emerson, now preparing for a European concert tour, has given concerts over the nation and has appeared on radio and television in New York. She took a bachelor's and master's degree in music at the University of Texas and has been studying with Emanuel Ondrick of Boston and New York. Her program will include Allegro by Fiocco; La Chasse, Mondoville; Caprice No. 28, Fiorillo-Ondrick, and these Texas compositions: Reminiscence, Forrest Goodenough; Plaint, Sister M.

Elaine; Rondo in E Minor, Louis Butler, and The Harmonica Player, David Guion.

Hayworths Host Party For Couple

A family dinner Saturday night honored Mr. and Mrs. Marcus D. Hayworth, married Friday, April 13, in Lovington, N. M. Mrs. Hayworth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Morales, Breckenridge. She is the former Mary Ann Morales. Hosts for the dinner were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hayworth, 1209 W. 6th. Assisting were his sisters, Mrs. R. G. Hassler and Mrs. Herschell Worley, who is visiting here from Logansport, Ind. Attending the couple at the wedding were the bride's mother and the bridegroom's father. White satin was chosen by the bride for her formal gown.

In two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Hayworth will travel to California where they will live. Hayworth is stationed there with the Navy. "Charles Laughton told me something that has always stayed with me," she said after a thoughtful pause. "He said, 'Never lack the courage to hang yourself.' He meant this figuratively of course, as a warning against the fear of failure. You have to risk things in life in order to gain them."

Applications Roll In For Miss Wool Contest

With the deadline for Miss Wool contest entrants still more than three months away, applications are already 100 per cent ahead of entries at this time last year.

Although the minimum age was upped this year from 19 to 20, more applicants are coming in than in previous years at this same time, according to the San Angelo Board of City Development, sponsoring organization of the Miss Wool contest.

Winner of the contest to be held again in San Angelo, will receive an all-wool wardrobe valued at approximately $4,000, an all-expense paid tour of the fashion centers of the nation, a 1956 model car for her own use during her reign, and a set of matched luggage.

Contestants for the Wool Queen title must have completed one year of college. Other qualifications include age: 20 to 25, inclusive; height: at least 5 feet, 6 inches tall, and no more than 5 feet, 10 inches. She must wear a size 12 garment, and must be a resident of Texas.

Last year's official ambassadress of the Wool industry was Miss Jan Turbeville of Lockhart. She was the fourth queen chosen in the annual Wool Fiesta held each year at San Angelo. This year the 11 finalists will again journey to San Angelo for five days of festivities, Aug. 28-Sept. 1, with the selection of Miss Wool of 1956 coming the last day of the show.

Room, board, and entertainment, as well as proper chaperonage for all the 11 finalists will be furnished. Their only expense is transportation costs to and from San Angelo.

Entry blanks may be obtained by writing the Miss Wool Contest Headquarters, Box 712, San Angelo.

Class Gives Shower

A surprise shower was given for Mrs. M. C. Griffin by members of the L.L. Sunday School Class of Baptist Temple Thursday evening.

Mrs. Griffin was hostess to the group for a business and social meeting. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Jack Haptonstall, with the devotion brought by Mrs. Monroe Gafford.

Eight To Attend B&PW Convention

LAMESA — Eight members of the Business and Professional Women's Club will attend a state convention in Mineral Wells May 11-13.

The decision was reached at a recent meeting in the Chamber of Commerce. A nominating committee was also appointed with Mrs. Stanley Applegate as chairman.

Simpsons Recall 50 Years Of Marriage

By BETTY CAMPBELL
LAMESA — The R. P. Simpsons of Seagraves will drive up to the Lamesa Delphin Clubhouse this afternoon at two o'clock in a horse-drawn buggy, which has been secured especially for them in observance of their Golden Wedding Anniversary. They will be remembering another ride in a surrey with two horses some fifty years ago.

In the spring of 1906, "Babe" Simpson made the trip from Gail, in Borden County, to Camp San Saba to marry his childhood sweetheart, Miss Emma Tarver, and bring her back to West Texas as his bride. On April 23, 1906, Mrs. Simpson's brother, the late James L. Tarver drove them from San Saba to Brady in a two-horse surrey to their wedding.

They were married by a Methodist minister, who was conducting a camp meeting on the courthouse lawn. Straight from the wedding to the depot went the newlyweds. They got off the train at Big Spring, and another horse and buggy brought them to Gail where, in May, they bought the Johnson Hotel and operated it for several months.

The thrill of early days on Texas ranches was deep-rooted in Babe Simpson. For five years prior to his marriage, he was a ranch hand on some West Texas' largest spreads. He worked for the Slaughter ranches and the L-7 ranches owned by the Lake Tom Cattle Company with headquarters in Terry County.

PRAIRIE STORM
Mr. Simpson recalled riding one night and being caught on the plains with no shelter when an electric storm hit. He had to cover the horse's head with the saddle blanket and his own head with the saddle to keep the hail stones from "beating his brains out."

However the good outweighed the bad when it came to ranching. That fall, the couple went back to Terrell, where he filed on four sections of land near Free. He spent the next seven years in the sheep and cattle business. Here their oldest daughter, Mrs. Alyce Hart of Lamesa, was born.

West Texas still had its pull in the Simpsons' hearts for in 1913 they were on their way to Lamesa in a covered wagon. There they bought the Morton House and operated it for two years. They lived in Lamesa for ten more years, during which time, Babe, with his brother, the late R. E. Simpson, was co-owner of the first Texaco agency in Dawson County.

"ROOTS" IN SEAGRAVES
Then came their final move to Seagraves, where the "roots" took hold. The Simpson Hotel has been their life for more than 30 years. It was here that their other daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Mendola, was born.

Still active, Babe, now 78, sometimes brings his Emma, 72, to spend a few days at the apartment they keep ready for occupancy in Lamesa.

Many pioneers of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will be present for the open house Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Delphin Clubhouse will be decorated in gold and white with

Keep Leaves Cool
Leaves of plants are never burned by the hot sun when they are wet. The water cools the leaves and protects them from the sun's rays. The sun also prevents the spread of fungus spores, which is favored by a combination of darkness and dampness.

Desk, Derrick Club Region Plans Made

Desk and Derrick Club members are completing plans for the meeting of Region Five to be held here Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. G. C. Broughton Jr. is president of the local club.

Seventeen towns are included in the region, which extends to Albuquerque and Hobbs, N. M., to Wichita Falls and Pampa; to Breckenridge and Abilene and to San Angelo and McCombs.

A Bible Thought For Today

And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. (Ezekiel 33:31)

Editorial

Question Worth Considering

Petitions have been presented and will be acted upon Tuesday by the board of trustees for the Big Spring Independent School District, asking for referendums on bonds in the amount of $900,000 and approval to increase the tax rate beyond the current $1.50 limit.

Additional classrooms on the elementary level, which will more than compensate for loss of the Central Ward and South Ward plants, if they are abandoned for elementary purposes. There is this further point; emergency use of the double-day sessions will work a lot less mischief to the learning processes in the lower grades than will packing and unwieldy handling at junior high levels.

Love Is Powerful, Is Necessary

There's health, joy and the good life in the attitude of love. So say religion and science.

will, acceptance and esteem. And at Harvard University, Dr. Pitirim A. Sorokin, one of the world's most famous sociologists, who has been conducting a series of research studies in the power of love, has come up with some amazing conclusions. Among other things, he says: "Love is a life-giving force, necessary for physical, mental, and moral health...

Meeting The Mid-East Through The U.N.

The main line of American policy in the Palestinian disorders has been clarified very considerably by the statement that the President issued from Georgia. We shall work primarily with and through the United Nations, relying in case of big fighting in Palestine upon the Security Council to determine who is the aggressor, and who is the victim to be defended.

go a long way to giving the Soviet Union a moral right to exercise a free hand of its own. The Soviet Union has entered deeply into the Middle East and, as she is a principal power in the U.N., she now holds the keys to war and peace.

Something Wrong With The Act?

Farmer Gets A Crutch When He Should Be Walking

WASHINGTON — "But it's bad for the farmer in the long run." An economist was discussing with a reporter the Congressional vote for the 90 per cent parity farm bill, a vote which overrode the protests of Secretary of Agriculture Benson and invites a veto from President Eisenhower.

more intensively agricultural acreage would have to be cultivated to fill that fifth plate. The assumptions were conservative. The population estimate for 1975 was only 190,000,000. Today, we figure that by 1965 — ten years earlier — the population will hit that level. Yet, today, far from facing Malthusian starvation, we have glut.

For perspective it's a good idea to go back five years — to December, 1951, Harry Truman was president, after his unexpected victory in 1948. The Department of Agriculture published an attractive pamphlet, full of charts, entitled "The Fifth Plate".

"After all, 1955 output was only about 4 per cent more than domestic consumption plus regular trade exports, and the population is gaining (at the rate of) 1.5 per cent a year. It surely isn't a very big task, with all the control machinery we now have, to reduce output to the remaining 2.5 per cent."

Bible Words for Today

I PETER 2:9-10.—"But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people, that you may declare the wonderful deeds of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. Once you were no people, but now you are God's people; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy." (RSV)

Detective Memories

CAMBRIA, Minn. (P)—A memory game played by the three young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bowen led to the breakup of a juvenile crime ring. The girls read the number of a car parked at a filling station, memorized it into a game. When Bowen learned the next day that the station had been robbed the girls told him the license number and he gave it to authorities. The car was traced and its owner implicated after youths who later admitted a series of breakins.

Red Light For Action

LINGTON, Ky. (P)—The traffic light was green but a woman stopped at the intersection anyway, blocking a long line of impatient motorists. When the light changed the woman made a right turn. A pedestrian came up with the apparent reason.

Aluminum

ALBUQUERQUE (P)—Capt. Joseph Garner found a military use for kitchen aluminum foil and recently won a commendation from authorities at the Air Force Special Weapons Center at Kirtland AFB. At his suggestion, jet pilots there now carry sheets of the foil in their survival kits. Garner, an aeronautical engineer, suggested it makes good cooking utensils as well as emergency signaling reflectors for downed pilots.

Calendar Should Show Important Date

It is dismayed not to be able to find any calendars which have the date, April 21, in red letters. This shows that calendars are made by Yankees, and that there is room for a good calendar factory in Texas.

afternoon siesta. All was quiet around the camp until Sam Houston's boys broke in with a mighty rush and mighty yell and put the enemy to the bayonet. The surprised and confused Mexicans began to run in circles, and to plead for mercy. Their cries were, "Me no Alamo! Me no Goliad!" to let their conquerors know that they were not among the raiders that, earlier in the war, had committed the atrocities at the siege of the Alamo and the assassinations at Goliad. But, as the casualty lists show, the protestations were in vain.

No Basic Information From Primaries

WASHINGTON — The news dispatches on the Illinois primary have been confusing to the public. An attempt has been made to compare the total vote for Stevenson as if there really was a popularity contest between the two. The facts about Illinois laws, however, indicate otherwise — there was no chance to choose as between Eisenhower and Stevenson at all.

lot in 1952 and there was no contest. To add up all the Republican votes in a presidential primary and measure them against the total Democratic votes is to mislead the public. The idea that there is some sort of a "popularity" poll involved is absurd.

What is significant is that the two parties brought out almost exactly the same percentage of their 1952 election vote.

Police Must Pay

Crisscross Lace Gives Pretty Trim To Frock

This season, even if you're going to dinner in a slick city restaurant, you'll look as if you're going to a garden party. It's the prettiest fashion in many a summer, a fashion that makes a point of being feminine.

This Jo Copeland model with its diagonal crisscross bands of slightly gathered Val lace decorating the bodice is sure to be one of your most successful dresses. Its cool, notched collar sets away from the neck, its skirt has all around inverted pleats stitched for smoothness.

A custom made, precisely perforated pattern, you'll find it easy to make in gingham, printed cottons or silks, shantung or any of the novelty widths.

This hand cut, custom made pattern is not standard sized but is the only pattern available with exclusive designers detail sizing measurements for a more accurate fit, better styling, less altering. Open perforations for easy markings without damaging tissue; also time saving, fabric saving, money saving; no tracing wheel or carbon paper needed; easy to follow instructions for beginners.

From this chart select the size best for you.

Size 12, bust 35, waist 28, hips 36 inches, neck to waist length 19 3/4 inches; size 14, bust 36 1/2, waist 29 1/2, hips 37 1/2 inches, neck to waist length 19 inches; size 16, bust 38, waist 30, hips 39 inches, neck to waist length 17 3/4 inches; size 18, bust 40, waist 30, hips 41 inches, neck to waist length 17 1/4 inches; size 20, bust 42, waist 32, hips 43 inches, neck to waist length 17 1/4 inches.

Size 12 requires 5 3/4 yards of 36 inch material for dress.

To order Pattern No. 1259, state size, enclose $1.00. Airmail handling requires 25 cents extra. Address AMERICAN DESIGNER PATTERNS, P. O. Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. B-5, New York, N. Y. 144 pages, Pattern Booklet XII, 50 cents. If paid by check add 4 cents.

Is There a Cure for Diabetes?

There is no cure for diabetes.

Ever since diabetes was discovered about 1552 B.C., some 2000 years before the birth of King Tut, charlatans have claimed they had a "cure." Beware of all such claims. In 1921, however, a dependable treatment, although not a cure, was developed for diabetes. This preparation is insulin.

Your physician is thoroughly familiar with this product and how it is employed to control diabetes. If he finds insulin necessary in your case, we can supply it in exactly the right strength.

HI-TALK

By Mary Sue Hale

BOBBY FULLER

Bobby Fuller, a name most of us instantly associate with the sport of track, holds the spot of senior of the week. Breaking time records in the mile run seems to be Bobby's hobby. He smashed the standing record at the Graham meet; he also set a new record at a Midland track meet this season.

Though Bobby played football on the B team his sophomore year and on the A team his junior and senior years, his activities aren't merely limited to sports. He was chosen class favorite both his junior and senior years. A member of Hi-Y his sophomore year, he was chosen outstanding student in algebra that year, and outstanding student in Texas history this year.

Bobby's college plans aren't as yet completed, but he is seriously considering study at SMU as a chemical engineer student.

With district honors behind them, Arach Phillips' girls volleyball team competed Friday evening at Texas Tech for the regional title. Plainview was the first opponent Friday night, with the tournament extending into Saturday.

The District Interscholastic League Contest, which was held Saturday at Tech, was attended by 20 students from BSHS. Rodney Sheppard and Tom Guin entered Boys' Debate, other divisions and contestants were Girls' Debate, Prissy Pond and Nita Jones; Declaration, Martyn Morris and J. T. Baird; Slide Rule, C. D. Downing, and Donovan Smith; Number Sense, David Dibrell; Typewriting, Betty Guthrie, Jacqueline Smith and Claudia Nicholas; Spelling, Janice Williamson and Patsy Grant; Ready Writing, China Carroll and Marilyn Morris; Poetry Reading, Clara Freeman and Don Shore; Shorthand, Leta Sampson and Janice Williamson; and Extemporaneous Speech, Gary Tidwell.

About 70 band members, directed by Clyde Rowe, left for contest and Odessa Friday afternoon. Beginning Friday evening at 7, the judging was based on sight reading, marches and several numbers selected by the band. Solo numbers were played by Julius Glickman, clarinet; Bonnie Buie, cornet; Pat Rudd, French horn; and a clarinet quartet by Julius Glickman, Neil Garrison, Billy Evans, and Vincent Friedewald. A saxophone quartet consisted of Norman Gound, Vincent Friedewald, Marlene Mann, and J. C. Prevott. Student conductors were Billy Evans and Julius Glickman.

Rating was done on a first, second and third division basis. Our last year's band captured sweepstakes honors, which is a first division rating on every event entered.

Members of the Birthday Club helped Sally Cowper celebrate her 18th birthday Thursday evening at the home of Marlene Mann. Attending were China Carroll, Kenda McGibbon, Frances Reagan, Mary Sue Hale and Tommie Williamson.

Four members from the local Rainbow assembly, Sally Cowper, Frances Reagan, Bettie Anderson and Jacqueline Smith, helped institute a new assembly in Lubbock Wednesday night. Thursday evening, "Friendship Night" was staged by the Midland assembly and attended by a number of surrounding towns. Attending from Big Spring's Rainbow assembly were Annette Boykin, Kathy McRee, Jacqueline Smith and Bettie Anderson.

Monday night marked the first meeting of the Hi-Y Council, consisting of the president of each plus one elected delegate from each of the clubs. The purpose of this newly organized body is to direct Hi-Y activity. Mrs. Clyde Thomas, with the topic of "Growing Up" was in charge of the Peta Tri-Hi-Y program Monday night. Danne Green was chairman.

Plans for the coming Powder Puff Football Game were outlined.

Feminine muscles try a change of pace for this event, which was staged last year for the first time. The date of April 28 was chosen for the game, and it will take place at the high school football field.

Juniors chose Jerry Graves to undertake the job of head coach for their team, while the seniors elected Randal Hamby. Sophomore members will serve as substitutes. "Don't Dip Dope" was given to the Senior Hi-Y group by Clyde McMahon in the form of a Teen Talk, with a business meeting following. "Personality" was explained by Prissy Pond and Jacqueline Coleman to members of the Sophomore Club, with the help of a movie strip. Susan Lenders then followed with a Teen Talk.

Because of six week tests the following day, Sophomore boys chose to conduct a business meeting and adjourn.

Plastic covers for the soon-to-arrive annuals may be purchased from the Journalism Department for 25 cents.

A university offering open house to seniors in the near future is Hardin-Simmons in Abilene April 28, beginning at 9 a.m., a tour of the campus, concerts, demonstration, and a free barbecue lunch, along with an intercollegiate rodeo, will be offered seniors of BSHS.

Another senior activity is being offered by Tidwell Chevrolet in the form of a barbecue at the City Park on Thursday, at 6:30 p.m.

"Why I Want To Be a Teacher" was the subject chosen by Charlie McCarty, Nita Jones, and Terral Turner last week, as they represented Future Teachers of America, spoke to the Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority.

A long awaited moment, that of ordering senior rings, will come to life for members of the junior class next Tuesday. Mr. Earl Ezell, using Mr. Wilder Roe's outer office for headquarters, will be on hand at this time to take orders for the rings. A four dollar deposit will be required.

TV Or Not TV; Life's Different With It!

By ANNE LEFEVER

Not having a television set, yet I was not hep, until lately, to the way living conditions have changed in the lives of TV owners!

Having spent a recent weekend in close — and I DO mean 'close' — proximity to one of the things, I know exactly what goes on in homes governed by the "little entertainers."

There has been a complete change in eating habits, for one thing. Time was when meals were sociable, when members of the family congregated around the table, discussed family problems and plans or contributed choice bits of gossip gleaned during the day.

Not so today! Each person grabs a tray, and fills it with food which is the kind that can be kept hot for long periods of time or eaten immediately. It's better if no attention has to be given to the food, such as using a fork, or cutting it into small bites. Finger foods are ideal — I have learned.

And as for the location of eaters! Who would be caught in the dining room unless the TV set was placed where it could be scanned during the meal? No sir! Off to the living room or den everybody goes.

In case the dining room is used, "first one at the table gets to sit so he can see." What he sees is, of course, the screen!

"THOUGHTY" FAMILY

I once spent a few days with that kind of family, and I believe that never did I eat in the same place at the table twice in succession. Members all are considerate of the other in letting each one "sit where he can see" if the particular program is his favorite. As I didn't know any of the shows, I had no favorite, of course. Guess where that left me!

As for the cooking and housework, it is done by various members when their "pet hate" program is on. Each person has his or her favorite shows, and it is the privilege of each to sit glued to the spot during that run. Then, come the next program, someone else gets to watch, while the former workers see the antics of their pet actors or actresses.

If any last-minute touches have to be added to the food or some of the cleaning is unfinished, that is done during commercials.

NEW ANGLES

The change has even extended into the rearrangement of furniture! At one time, decorators insisted that furniture be placed at right angles to the wall, to other furniture and to doors and windows. Now, it is placed at right viewing angles to the TV — and to heck with decorating principles!

Visiting? That isn't done anymore. Upon my arrival, we were so busy talking for about an hour, that the TV log was overlooked, and we missed one of the main programs of the afternoon. Such profound apologies and regrets from my hostess. I gave her my sincere sympathy for such a breach of hospitality!

And, do you suppose we exchanged any news of other members of the family or of friends? If you do, I know you're right along with me, and don't own a TV set, either!

Mrs. Hunt To Review For WSCS

The story of Johnny Fletcher, new pastor and "unsettling influence" in the town of Barryfield, will be told by Mrs. W. A. Hunt in a book review Tuesday evening at First Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the WSCS of that church, Mrs. Hunt will review Taylor Caldwell's "Tender Victory." Not only was Johnny quite a curiosity to natives of the town; he had a "family" of five orphaned European children, whom he had adopted during the war when he served as a chaplain. They ranged from 5 to 13 years of age.

The book contains many elements of suspense, a fire, a mine disaster and a mob, among others.

Admission is $1, and tickets may be bought from members of the organization or they may be secured at the door.

Mulch Is Important

While the ideal soil is said to be a mixture of sand and clay with organic matter, it is a mistake to mix sand with clay or clay with sand in improving garden soil. Mix organic matter with either for best results. Mixtures of sand and clay are usually very hard when they dry out.

BIG SPRING HERALD

Sec. III Big Spring, Texas, Sun., April 15, 1956 Sec. III

New Type Of Venture

Clothes washing is handled on the same business basis as a gumball machine in the new and completely automatic type of venture launched here by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McCright at 303 Bell. The battery of 20 laundromat machines is operated by coin as are the three driers. Except to make casual checks or be available for making change, no personnel is needed for operation. Users may wait in the lounge or go about other business during the washing and drying process.

FOR CITY

Tax Collections Exceed Estimate

Big Spring collected $336,411.87 in current taxes during the past fiscal year which was over $25,000 more than was estimated for the period. The yearly report from the tax department showed that collections were $28,410.87 higher than the previous fiscal year. March's current tax collections amounted to $2,306.19. The city had estimated the taxes for the past year to total $308,025. Delinquent taxes totaled $14,508.07 with the city estimating the total would be about $15,000. Occupation taxes collected amounted to $3,473.38 for the year and $222 during March. Revenue from dog taxes was $13 for March and $104 for the year.

All tax department collections during the year totaled $366,845.98, as against $321,884.44 for the previous fiscal year of 1954-1955. March collections were $3,963.94.

Water metered to customers during March amounted to 105,290,400 gallons, being an increase of 24,230,800 gallons over February. Water and sewer charges billed to customers during the past month totaled $50,187.21 an increase of $6,029.19 over February and an increase over March, 1955, of $9,205.95.

Receipts in the general fund included $5,064.81 from telephone franchise, and $5,735.11 from gas franchise. Fines and court costs amounted to $3,409. Delinquent taxes reached $1,001.91, and fishing permits brought in $350.

Receipts at the airport totaled $646.56, and expenditures amounted to $1,208.67. Cemetery fund receipts totaled $1,553, and expenditures ran $1,052.

At the golf course, nine-hole green fees amounted to $121, and 18-hole fees totaled $21. Day green charges brought in $552, and monthly golf cards totaled $107. Receipts, however, were $117.24 shorts of expenditures.

Receipts from parking meters during the month amounted to $3,632.52, and disbursements were only $770.14.

Fines were assessed 161 persons during the month for drunkenness, and 51 were fined for vagrancy. Ten drew fines for disturbance. Moving violations cost 78 defendants. And for all offenses, city police officials issued 1,345 tickets.

NEW YORK (AP)—Five Baptist leaders in Russia are expected to arrive here next month as guests of Baptists in the United States.

For Re-Election

Meade F. Griffin Saturday announced from Austin that he is a candidate for a second term as an associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas. "My only platform," he said, "is that I shall continue to write the law in the cases coming before me without prejudice, bias or partiality." Griffin is a native of Callahan County, has been practicing attorney, county attorney, county judge, district attorney, has served in the Judge Advocate General's office in the U.S. Army. He is a veteran of both World Wars I and II. Judge Griffin is a brother of Mrs. Ray Clark of Big Spring and has been a frequent visitor here.

Ivan Goes Where His Bosses Tell Him

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
By The Associated Press

In the fall of 1949 little Ivan Ivanovich enrolled in the first grade of a Leningrad public school. Next summer after seven years of general education, he will arrive at a fork in his educational path.

Unlike his American counterpart, young Johnny Johnson, Ivan will not have the privilege of deciding which fork to take. Ivan will be told. What he is told will depend on whether he is assessed as a promising scientist or engineer or just as a technician or skilled laborer.

What Ivan would like to do won't make much difference. Soviet schools are run for the benefit of the state.

Say Ivan has been a straight A student. The chances are he'll get a chance in his remaining three years of secondary school to prepare for a university. If he continues straight A, he'll be a "gold medalist" and can enroll in a university automatically.

But if his grades falter, says Mrs. Eleanor S. Lowman, a specialist in Soviet education in the U.S. Office of Education, little Ivan will have to sit for a very tough examination. And nobody will care much if he flunks it. Ivan will have only 10 years of secondary school as compared to the 12 Johnny Johnson will put in before he's ready for college. But Ivan goes to school six days a week, his school year is longer and his homework load is enormous.

What does Ivan study? Says Mrs. Lowman:

"The more than one million Soviet students graduating from secondary schools last June had taken five years of physics, a year of astronomy, four years of chemistry, five of biology, 10 of mathematics, including algebra, geometry and trigonometry."

By comparison, less than a third of last year's million U.S. high school graduates had taken as much as a year of chemistry. Only about a fourth had taken a year of physics; about an eighth any form of advanced mathematics.

If Ivan manages to get past this government-imposed handicap and complete university studies, the odds are he'll wind up teaching in a secondary school. This year 80 per cent of all university graduates in languages, history, geography and biology were assigned as teachers.

But say Ivan doesn't wind up his first seven years with top grades. He is then left with three possibilities:

He may continue through secondary school, with its beefed up technical courses, and be considered ready for a factory job.

He may switch to a "technicum," a narrowly specialized trade school where he would learn how to maintain trucks, assemble torpedoes or some other job.

Or he may finish secondary school, then take two or three years of work at a more advanced type of technicum where he might learn such things as how to repair radios or nurse the sick.

Federal Court Begins Airing Monday Of War Slaying Case

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—A federal court airing of the 1944 mystery death of Maj. William V. Holohan while heading a cloak-and-dagger mission behind German lines in northern Italy begins here Monday.

Ex-Army Lt. Aldo Lorenzo Icardi of Pittsburgh, second in command of the Office of Strategic Services mission headed by Holohan, will be called to trial for perjury. The indictment against Icardi is based on his sworn denial of complicity in the slaying of Holohan, a Harvard-educated lawyer.

To convict Icardi the government must, in effect, convince a jury that he plotted and directed the murder of Holohan because they disagreed on the distribution of supplies to various Italian partisan groups.

Icardi, 34, a Pittsburgh real estate broker who aspires to practice law, voluntarily appeared before a House Armed Services subcommittee March 26, 1953, and denied any part in the death of Holohan. A federal grand jury accused him of lying eight times in connection with his denial. Two of the charges were dismissed some time ago by U.S. Dist. Judge Burnita Shelton Matthews. Icardi and former Army Sgt. Carl LoDolce of Rochester, N.Y., also a member of the Holohan mission, were tried and convicted in absentia by an Italian court and received life sentences. Since they cannot be extradited, the sentences are meaningless. Legal authorities have ruled that they cannot be tried for murder in U.S. courts.

The investigation into Holohan's disappearance, begun after the war, was stepped up after recovery of his body from icy Lake Orto, west of Trieste, in 1950. The body was encased in a sleeping bag and weighted with stones. An autopsy revealed Holohan had been poisoned and shot through the head.

The story related by the Defense Department, a subcommittee and the Italian court trial began when Holohan, Icardi, LoDolce and an Italian partisan, Tullio Lussi, were dropped by parachute Sept. 26, 1944 on Mt. Matrone, 100 miles behind the battle lines. Holohan, 40, a big man known for his strength and calm temperament, was picked to head the mission. Icardi, then 23, fluent in Italian and known for his daring, was second in command. LoDolce also spoke Italian fluently.

Take your problems to Church this week

-millions leave them there!

“ LIKE FATHER - LIKE SON ”

Something's in the making here. Maybe it's a garden. Maybe it's nothing more than a ditch. But what really counts is that father and son are working together happily.

Sonny may be more hindrance than help just now. But, says Dad patiently, "How ever will the boy learn if he doesn't do?"

When you watch, with ebbing patience your child's fumbling efforts to imitate yours, do you ever think about your heavenly Father's patience with you when you are in the wrong?

He's right there, working alongside you too, wanting to show you how to carry on, and staying close by in case you get into trouble.

If you keep in touch with Him through prayer and regular church attendance, you will learn from Him how to live, just as your child learns from you through talking and being with you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

I've Gotcha Now

Jerry Lewis is putting the threat to partner Dean Martin. But it's all in fun, just like all Martin-Lewis goings-on.

TOPS ON TEE-VEE

There'll be plums a plenty in the T.V. pudding during the week ahead when KBST-TV dishes up a number of gourmet's delights with "first helpings" in the form of Grace Kelly's wedding and the opening game of the 1956 Baseball Season.

Sunday 8 p.m. - "Face the Nation"; panel discussion program from Washington, D.C.

Tuesday 7:00 - "Phil Silvers"; Emmy Award Winner, comedy series starring Phil Silvers.

Wednesday 8:30 - "I've Got a Secret"; Panel program with Garry Moore as host and master of ceremonies.

Thursday 9:00 - "The 20th-Century Fox Hour"; Joseph Cotten is host for this week's story of "Mr. Belvedere."

Friday 7:00 - "Mama"; Play based on the stage hit, "I Remember Mama."

Saturday 12:55 - "Baseball Game of the Week"; The Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees open the 1956 season with a game in Yankee Stadium.

One Shot, And Unit Wiped Out Remember that satire by Abbott and Costello on the old-time Western, when Lou, with one pistol shot, cut down a whole tribe of Indians?

Como Will Hear Student With Advertising Flair NEW YORK - Singer Perry Como says he will give a "hearing" to a teen-age song-writer who rented a 30-by-40-foot billboard near Times Square asking Como to plug his tunes.

Question For Future According to Walter Pidgeon, the question of the future will be "Button, button, who's got the button?" There's nary a button or buttonhole in any of the suits comprising his 2200 A.D. wardrobe in "Forbidden Planet."

MGM Launches Successful Science Movie

With filming of "Forbidden Planet," MGM has launched its first excursion into outer space, and the results are well worth seeing. Showing Sunday through Wednesday at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre, "Forbidden Planet" provides a peek into the future devoid of the usual ridiculous fantasies which have become the trademark of Hollywood science fiction.

There are flashing lights, but they are mostly what a trained scientist would expect, and the noises are actual recordings of existing laboratory equipment. As a matter of fact, viewers should come to see this film prepared for one of the weirdest musical scores ever conceived. It's made up entirely of those same sounds (mentioned above) which technicians hear every day.

Some idea of the attention to details may be had in one huge window showing a night view of the heavens. It was created from photographs taken through Palomar's 200-inch telescope. Lighted from the rear it presents that dazzling view of the stars that mesmerizes when they have emerged above the earth's atmosphere.

Strangely, the story combines the tired old boy-meets-girl routine of the Frankenstein monster plot, and with the aid of a fresh approach, comes up with an entertaining drama of the future.

One of the brighter stars from Europe is soon to become established in the Hollywood firmament. Cornell Borchers, winner of the 1954 stars in the Universal-International drama "Never Say Goodbye."

Scheduled for "Day The World Ended," a story of the last seven people left on the earth; and "Phantom From 10,000 Leagues," a tale about a deep sea monster that rises up to challenge the world.

Horror Movie Double Bill Set By State Horror movie fans will have a field day this weekend. The State Theatre features two horror thrillers.

Unearthly Love Anne Francis, dwelling on a remote planet in the year 2200 A.D., falls in love with Leslie Nielsen, space ship commander, in the film "Forbidden Planet."

Old Comanche Wars Depicted

In the 1870's, the Comanches, under the leadership of the almost legendary chief, Quanah Parker, were a stumbling block to westward expansion. They raided and pillaged throughout Texas and down into Mexico as far as Durango, a thousand miles from the border. They fought and killed shore Americans and Mexicans than any tribe in history.

This is the historical background for "Comanche," playing Thursday through the following Monday at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre, and starring Dana Andrews and Linda Cristal.

Andrews is the U.S. Cavalry scout who believes, according to Hollywood's formula, that the warlike Comanches really want peace. Kent Smith portrays Quanah Parker, who nobly seeks peace with the U.S. Cavalry.

"Comanche" was filmed near Durango, Mexico.

'Phenix City' Film Is Based On Fact

"The Phenix City Story," a motion picture based on true events in the once notorious Phenix City, Ala., plays Friday and Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

The producers went about as far as the morality code allows in portraying the town as it actually existed in its wilder days. It was in June, 1954, that the events began, for that was when Albert Patterson, attorney general-elect of Alabama, was murdered by racketeers.

Well Engineered If the costume of Anne Francis wears in "Forbidden Planet" is prediction, we were born 300 years too soon.

MGM employees, always interested in things "scientific," were nonplussed when denied entrance to a sound stage where tests were going on during filming of the movie.

Authenticity is assured by the fact that the final script was approved by John Patterson himself.

Willie And Joe Back Willie and Joe, the cartoon characters created by Bill Mauldin and popular among soldiers overseas in World War II, return in their screen version at the Jet Drive-In Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Dead Man Top Star Featured In Spy Movie

"The Man Who Never Was," one of the best spy stories to come out of World War II, has been made into an entertaining movie, but the movie version is not all it could have been.

The plot of the film concerns the formulation of a weird, and rather barbaric, idea by a British intelligence officer, Lt. Commander Montague, to fool the German high command into believing the Allies were planning an invasion of Greece instead of Sicily.

The brainstorm features the search for a dead body that will be planted by a submarine near the Spanish coast. Dressed in uniform, given a false identity, and carrying a briefcase full of secret papers (also falsified), the body is meant to wash ashore and fall into the hands of a German agent known to be operating in the area.

Clifton Webb, as the bearded Montague, is clipped and polite as a British officer should be, and Gloria Grahame emotes all over the screen as a fictitious actress.

Two parts of fiction have been added to the film version: the role played by Miss Grahame and the Nazi spy sent to check the planted body's false identity.

The fiction didn't essentially change the main facts of the story, but it was added at the cost of a wealth of weird minor details that would have made a better movie.

Cornell Borchers is unwanted by her own child in the film "Never Say Goodbye." The talented import from Europe is co-starred with Rock Hudson in the emotional drama.

ON MAY 2 Charles Laughton Will Appear Here

Captain Bligh, the butler, Ruggles of Red Gap, Henry the Eighth—these things and many others Charles Laughton has been to American movie-goers. This enigmatic and talented actor has held his audiences spellbound with one success after another.

Yet, until recently, comparatively few people had the opportunity to see and hear Laughton in person. He will appear in Big Spring May 2, 8:30 p.m. in City Auditorium, in a program titled "An Evening With Charles Laughton."

Various selections from the classics. It is generally agreed that Laughton, through his readings, has created a new trend of entertainment in America.

Laughton's rise to fame was against all the rules seemingly laid down by Hollywood and, often, the stage. A bulky and bulging man, who describes his own appearance as that of "the hind side of an elephant," Laughton began his career in London in 1925, and soon drew the praise of Bernard Shaw and theatre critics.

Strangely, Hollywood's king makers repeated their consistent failure of failing to comprehend what talent is, and what may be done with it. Laughton was left dangling for awhile and was finally given the secondary role of a butler in what was to have been just an ordinary motion picture.

Cliff Back In Hollywood For Civil War Epic

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, April 15 (AP)—The screen's least active young star, Montgomery Clift, is back in Hollywood making a movie.

Clift, still pencil-slim at 35, has returned to town for MGM's Civil War epic, "Raintree County." He is not one to push his acting career in his nine years in films; this is only his ninth movie.

It's not because Clift hasn't had offers. He and Marlon Brando are the most-sought-of the young actors. Clift's agent estimates that the actor has turned down four million dollars' worth of salary since his last film.

"I just haven't found the stories I want to do," he explained. "When I don't find anything I'm excited about doing, I don't work."

Clift gets solid female support in "Raintree County" from Elizabeth Taylor, his co-star in "A Place in the Sun," and Eva Marie Saint, Miss Taylor, with as fetching a drawl as you've ever heard, represents the South, and Vice Saint the North.

Bubbly, Bouncy Musical Slated For Terrace Screen

If you like bubbly, bouncy musicals, you'll like "Three For The Show," returning Tuesday and Wednesday at the Terrace Drive-In Theatre.

Betty Grable, the still fresh old-timer, and Jack Lemmon, a bright newcomer, head the list of stars, but they are overshadowed by their co-stars, Marge and Gower Champion, the husband-wife dance team.

As a matter of fact, the Champions, for our money, could have carried the show by themselves, had the plot not called for four people.

Moving right on up in the bracket of best sellers is the theme from the motion picture, "Picnic." This record, which is Decca's top seller of this week, is conducted by Morris Stoloff, who also conducted theme music for the movie.

Another non-name artist, Elmer Bernstein, came up with a recording of the main title theme of "Man With the Golden Arm." This record is still holding its own on the best seller list.

Scores Birdie

Oscar Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Moore of Coshoma, scored a birdie — but not on the golf course. Oscar got his, a baby horned owl, while with his parents on a rabbit drive last week in northern Glasscock County. Hunters bagged the big owls and Oscar climbed a tree to extract five baby owls in the nest. He took the biggest one, above, home for a pet.

Airman's Tattoo Spells It Right

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Tom Dille had no luck when he consulted his encyclopedia for the spelling of a Pacific island with a long name. Underterred, he consulted Tom Jr., who'd been there with the Air Force.

The son peeled off his shirt and revealed this bold tattoo: "Kwajalein." Spelled right, too.

VA Hospital To Honor Its Volunteers

Volunteer workers at the VA Hospital will be honored Monday evening at a program in the hospital lobby, I. G. Sims, manager, has announced.

The event is being staged in observance of the 10th anniversary of VA Volunteer Services. A national observance is being planned, and one Big Spring volunteer, Mrs. Reba Baker, has been nominated as the VA's "model volunteer." All volunteers who have assisted since the opening of the Big Spring VA Hospital on May 12, 1950, are being invited to the Monday evening program, Sims said. Certificates of appreciation will be awarded.

Principal speaker will be Robert Sisson of Lubbock, regional manager for the Veterans Administration. Sisson was a leader of the group that was responsible for enactment of the GI Bill of Rights at the end of World War II.

The program will start at 8 p.m. Monday, C. O. Hitt, the hospital chaplain, will deliver the invocation and Sims will welcome the volunteers.

There are around 200 volunteers who regularly provide various services for VA patients, and many of them are expected to attend from such points as Midland, Odessa, Lubbock, Abilene, San Angelo, Snyder and Stanton, as well as Big Spring.

Organizations which provide volunteer workers to assist the VA patients here are American Gold Star Mothers, American Legion and auxiliary, Red Cross, Elks, Disabled American Veterans and auxiliary, City Federation of Women's Clubs, Military Order of Cooks, Military Order of Purple Heart, Jewish Welfare Board and women's auxiliary, Salvation Army, United Spanish War Veterans, and Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary.

Services they provide locally are in the fields of medicine, nursing, social service, chaplain service, recreation including music and social activities, occupational therapy and entertainment.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

The publishers seem to have forgotten this department this week. Only one thin little volume showed up.

This was a reprint edition of "The Persistent Image" by Gladys Schmitt. Miss Schmitt is the author of "David the King" which this reviewer regards as one of the most interesting books of its kind.

In her new novel she has completely changed her style and approach. "The Persistent Image" is a modern novel and based on the theme of what can happen to a young man in love with a woman who has formerly been married and has a child by her first husband.

The hatred of the lover for the child because it looks like the woman's former husband is the basis of the story. What changes this hatred to love is the climax. Good reading in a slow and rather tedious sort of way — if we make ourselves vague.

Since books were lacking on the desk, one should go where there are books. Where? To the Howard County Library naturally.

"Anything new in books?" was the query propounded. "Indeed, yes," was the reply and before the reporter could say "Encyclopedia Britannica" he was half-buried in volumes — new books just unpacked and now being placed on the shelves for the pleasure and erudition of the library's patrons.

The list is quite impressive and far too long to publish entire. Purchases run the gamut this time. There are reference works for the student; mystery novels for the summer reader; do-it-yourself tests for the diligent. And, of course, classics to fill out the racks and best sellers for those who insist on keeping up with the literary Joneses by reading the books that "everybody" is reading.

Some of the books which interested me were: "Band of Angels," by Robert Penn Warren. I personally like Warren's poems, better than his novels but he does have great talent and this particular book has well deserved the reprinting of many editions through which it has passed.

"Auntie Mame" by Patrick Dennis. I haven't read this one — apparently I must be about the only person who has not. It is now in its 19th printing and it is still a recent book.

"Royal Ann Tree," by Patricia Campbell. Second volume of Truman's Memoirs — "Years of Trial and Hope."

"Nixon" a biography of the vice president by Toleando.

"Roll Back the Sky" by Ward Taylor. A novel of the Air Force in World War II which has caused wide comment.

"The Dice of God" by Hoffman Birney.

"A Night to Remember," by Walter Lord! This, of course, is the fascinating factual report on the last night aboard the SS Titanic and the story of how that luxury liner rammed an iceberg and sank in mid-Atlantic.

And certainly worthy of mention because of the wide publicity it has received and the heavy demand for copies, "The Search for Bridey Murphy" by Morey Bernstein. This, as you know, is supposed to be the actual report of a fantastic revelation made by a young woman who under hypnosis relives the life of an Irish woman two centuries ago. At least it is an interesting account of a weird and fascinating science of hypnotism. Whether the metropolitan newspapers, who are so diligently digging away at it, will be able to prove there was or wasn't a Bridey Murphy is not an issue. Bernstein has an interesting story and one that will hold your interest to the end.

And there were other books, too, in the stacks that were piled in front of this reporter.

"Magic for Boys," by Sherman Ripley, for example. What boy lives — any age from 6 to 60 — but would be a magician? I did not have time to do more than turn through a few pages but I found myself deeply interested in the mechanics of how to do the "torn paper napkin" trick. I also got some inking on how to borrow a dollar bill, tear an identifying corner from it, and then "vanish" it into a nest of envelopes clear across the room.

"How to Retire and Enjoy It" by Roy Giles appealed to my fancy but since it certainly has no application to a hard working journalist far from that elusive time I merely glanced at it and laid it aside.

A new and complete copy of "Quotations," that monumental work by Bartlett — was also in the stack of new books. If you've ever tried to remember just exactly how some line of a play or verse of a poem read and couldn't find it anywhere — turn to Bartlett. It's in there. Every newspaper office, I think, should have a copy.

Another interesting collection of books just received at the library is the set of "Masterplots." Edited by Frank Magill, these books summarize the plots of nearly any famous story you can think of into a dozen or two dozen tersely worded paragraphs. I noticed "Ox-Bow Incident" was right next to "All-gero" by Milton. This gives you the idea of what "Masterplots" is like.

This is not all of the new books. It is all that the reporter had time to paw through. There are others, now that warmer weather is presumably near and reading time for the summer season approaches, it will be worth your while to go to the Library in the County Court House and look over the lists.
