

No Evidence Of Shakespeare Falsity Found

CHISLEHURST, ENGLAND (AP)—Stonemasons pried open a 400-year-old tomb today to prove William Shakespeare was a literary fraud but found nothing to damage the Bard of Avon's reputation.

After two hours of digging into the St. Nicholas Church tomb of the Walsingham family, they lifted a heavy marble slab to reveal a few fragments of glazed tile, a load of sand and a layer of brick.

They holed through the brick and lowered a light, revealing only a lead casket below. The government has decreed the casket may not be opened.

The project was the brainchild of Calvin Hoffman, 49-year-old New Yorker. He had hoped to find early 17th century documents to prove his theory that Christopher Marlowe, an Elizabethan poet and dramatist, authored the plays and poems attributed to Shakespeare.

Hoffman was adamant.

"There are no bodies, no coffins, and no sarcophagus directly beneath the marble slab," he declared. "I intend to continue my researches."

Hoffman contends that history is wrong in saying Marlowe was killed in a Thames River tavern brawl in 1593. Instead, he theorizes, the poet's patron, Sir Thomas Walsingham, hid him out to save him from the headman's axe for alleged heresy and substituted another's body.

Then, Hoffman's theory goes, Walsingham hired Shakespeare, a little known London actor-manager, to front as the author of the plays and poems the fugitive turned out in his hiding place.

If evidence exists, Hoffman reasoned, Sir Thomas took it to the grave. He thought the papers might have been left outside the casket, underneath the slab.

Loot Uncovered

A cache of $59,000 is uncovered under the home of Buster Harvey Morley in San Antonio by officers Rudy Garza, left, and Lee Miller. This was part of the $95,000 recovered by San Antonio and Houston police, which corroborated sports writer Don Cook's "fantastic" story which touched off investigations into a $300,000 Houston burglary. Three men have been charged in the robbery. Cook is a sports writer for the San Antonio Evening News.

Shivers Says Texas Should Oppose Federal Controls

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' opposition to federal controls should be voiced in the national Democratic convention "in Texas language, without frills or fear," Gov. Shivers said today.

He said Texas Democrats don't want their precinct conventions controlled by Washington politicians.

"The Washington bunch wants to see the Texas convention votes in the hands of people who can be counted on to deliver them up when Mr. Sam Rayburn says he is ready for them," the governor said by radio.

It was another in a series in his drive against Sen. Lyndon Johnson for leadership of the Texas delegation to the national convention in Chicago.

Shivers' concentrated on Rayburn, who first suggested Johnson for delegation leader and as Texas' favorite son candidate for the nomination.

"Sam Rayburn and his 'go-along-get-along' gang have been trying to get back in control of the Democratic party in Texas for six years," Shivers said.

Doomed Girl Not Forgotten By Her Friend

NEW YORK (AP)—A little girl with an incurable blood disease has been cheered by a letter from an old friend—the President of the United States.

Susie Giardina, 9, of Brooklyn, has received periodic blood transfusions from the Red Cross since 1948 because of the disease (Cooley's anemia).

Two years ago she appeared, with President Eisenhower on a national ratio-TV program launching a Red Cross drive. Later the President sent her his autographed picture for her birthday.

Last February Susie contracted infantile paralysis. She spent 50 days in a hospital and has only now recovered enough so she can walk across her bedroom.

The Brooklyn Red Cross chapter brought her latest trouble to the attention of the President.

Yesterday a letter arrived in Brooklyn from the White House.

"Dear Susie," it read, "I understand that you have had another bit of bad luck, and that you have recently had to be in the hospital again.

"I know that your courage and wonderful spirit will carry you through this most recent misfortune with flying colors. With my best wishes to you always. Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

"Gee," said Susie, "he really didn't forget me."

U.S. Political Leaders Mourn Loss Of 'One And Only' Veep

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says "the nation is the poorer" because of the death yesterday of Sen. Aiken W. Barkley (D-Ky).

Former President Truman called Barkley "one of the finest men I ever knew."

These comments, in essence, summed up the shock and sorrow with which Republicans and Democrats alike received the news of Barkley's fatal attack in Lexington, Va.

Eisenhower, who sent a personal telegram of condolence to Mrs. Barkley, said in a statement that the "veteran Kentucky lawmaker 'had a long and distinguished record of public service for the people of his state and country.'"

Truman, in Huron, S.D., for a speech, said: "I am just as sorry as I can be to hear of Sen. Barkley's passing. . . . He was a great congressman, a great senator, and one of the greatest vice presidents of the nation. . . ."

Barkley was vice president during Truman's 1949-1953 term. Previously, they had served in the Senate together.

Richard Nixon, who succeeded Barkley as vice president, said he "always will remain in the hearts of the American people the one and only Veep"—the title his grandchildren had given him.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, called Barkley "a faithful friend of labor throughout his long career in the public service."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas termed Barkley's death "a terrible loss for millions of Americans." Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the country and Kentucky "have lost a great citizen and a great senator."

Adlai Stevenson, campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, paid tribute in Seaside, Ore., to Barkley's "courtesy, kindness and gallantry" and said, "This is a very sad day indeed."

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, another Democratic presidential aspirant, said Barkley personified "the best of the qualities we seek in our national leaders."

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) recalled that Barkley and he entered the House on the same day in 1913, adding: "His death is a very great personal loss to me."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler spoke of Barkley's death as "an immense loss." Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall wired Mrs. Barkley: "All America shares your sorrow. . . . Alben Barkley was a great American."

Seymour Closes Up For Fishing

SEYMOUR, Tex. (AP)—Just as it has done for the past 29 years, Seymour closed up today—lock, stock and barrel—to go fishing.

"Gone fishing" signs were placed in all store windows of this northwest Texas town of 3,779 population as the annual May 1 Fish Day was observed.

By proclamation of the mayor everyone was urged to take the day off and head for Lake Kemp, nine miles away, where the Chamber of Commerce has posted $100 in fishing and boat race prizes.

What You Call A 'Texas Swap'

Everybody seems happy with the deal as Vance Lebkowsky, left, Big Spring, Schlitz wholesaler, trades a 10-gallon Texas hat to Robert A. Umlauf Jr., Schlitz vice president of Milwaukee, for one of the company's new 24-ounce "Tall Boy" cans. The four-glass-size can, the first of its size in the brewing industry, is being introduced first in Texas, currently is going into general distribution in this area. The picture was made at a recent sales and promotion meeting for Schlitz wholesalers at Galveston.

Red Pressure Tactics On Refugees Draws U.S. Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has told the Communists it won't tolerate pressure on Iron Curtain refugees to give up sanctuary in this country.

The State Department handed Polish Ambassador Romuald Spasowski a note yesterday accusing him and other Polish officials of abusing their diplomatic status. It said they were trying to pressure Polish refugees in this country into returning behind the Iron Curtain. The note demanded: Stop it at once.

Spasowski indicated Poland would make a formal reply. He said that in the case of three Polish seamen who gave up U.S. sanctuary and went home last fall, the seamen approached the embassy first.

The U. S. note declared Polish diplomats had made "unsolicited personal visits" as part of a campaign to coerce Polish nationals out of their U. S. asylum.

The note said this country respects the right of all aliens to seek voluntary repatriation and reaffirmed belief in the right of foreign diplomatic missions to make normal contact with their nationals.

But it rejected as undemocratic and beyond accepted diplomatic practice any coercive practice to make aliens quit the United States. It listed among such techniques the use of letters from relatives back home. And it told Poland to "cease immediately the objectionable practices of unsolicited personal visits" in furtherance of the Polish government's repatriation campaign.

Just last week this country expelled two Russians attached to the Soviet Union's United Nations delegation on the ground that they had exceeded their authority in helping five Soviet seamen to return home.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which has been inquiring into the case of those five as well as four others who remain in this country, heard one of the four in secret session late yesterday.

He was Viktor Solovyev, who previously had testified publicly but who returned to tell of incidents he said had "slipped his mind" then.

A transcript of his testimony, made public by the subcommittee after the closed-door session, quoted him as saying two Soviet agents threatened him, April 5 in a locked New York hotel room. He said he ticked them into leaving.

"I think it would be good that the Soviet officials would be restricted in their activities so that they would not do whatever they want in this country," Solovyev was quoted. "They are given now full freedom to act as they want and they are using this freedom to the full extent now."

It was learned, meanwhile, that immigration officials have received new orders from Commissioner Joseph Swing to keep a watchful eye on Iron Curtain refugees to protect them from any attempts to coerce them into going back home.

A transcript of his testimony, made public by the subcommittee after the closed-door session, quoted him as saying two Soviet agents threatened him, April 5 in a locked New York hotel room. He said he ticked them into leaving.

Testimony By LeMay Brings Funds Hike Plea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis LeMay's assertion that the Russians in a few years may have greater air-atomic striking power than the United States prompted Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) to call today for "several billions" more in Air Force funds.

Jackson is a member of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee which yesterday heard LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, testify the Soviets already have more long-range bombers than this country, and are producing still more.

LeMay said this means the Russians "will have greater striking power than we will have" in the 1958-1960 period "under our present plans and programs."

As of now, he said, the Soviets may start "But, he cautioned, "we are not capable of winning it without this country receiving very serious damage."

Jackson said in an interview he believes "it would take several billions to provide the complete package that Gen. LeMay testified is necessary."

"I don't know of a more competent expert in the field of strategic air power," Jackson said of LeMay.

"No one can speak with equal authority. And he says we need more B-52s, bases, jet tankers and skilled professional airmen to keep Russia deterred."

The new defense budget of about 35 billion dollars at first called for about 16 1/2 billions for the Air Force. Later this was boosted by more millions, with most of the additional request earmarked for increased and accelerated output of B-52 all-jet intercontinental bombers.

Jackson said Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, had asked a minimum of 20 billions, that former Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbot cut this to just above 18 billions, and that Secretary of Defense Wilson lowered it still further.

Congress still has not acted on the defense budget.

U.S. Chamber Told U.S. Must Spend More To Win Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry A. Bullis, board chairman of General Mills, Inc., said today that in the economic cold war with Russia the United States must spend and invest "billions of dollars" more abroad.

Bullis told nearly 4,000 business delegates to the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in a prepared talk that Russia has lost a "ruthless and ferocious" economic cold war.

He estimated the Communist world is spending three billion dollars a year "merely to spread their doctrine."

Aid in the form of "unrealistic loans, trade, arms and development projects" to Egypt, India, Syria, Indonesia and other countries totaled $300 million dollars in 1955 and the early months of 1956, he said.

These are abnormal commercial ties offered at the expense of a Soviet slave labor economy, he said, on the theory that the Communist goal of world domination justifies the means.

"Above all, they are designed to upset economic relationships in the free world, to alienate millions of people from the ideal of democracy," he said.

"With every cent of this cut-rate interest goes a dollar's worth of political penetration."

He advised that "it is going to cost us money to fight the economic war with Russia—yes, billions of dollars," but added that more than money is needed.

"We cannot afford to permit half of the earth's population to be economically sick," he said. "Underdeveloped countries lack the economic vitality to resist the bullying of the Soviets. Especially, when threats are disguised in easy credit and empty promises."

"Our course is clear: to meet this evil we must spend more money and we must adopt a re-examined policy of lending more freely to other nations."

Bullis suggested that private lending abroad could be multiplied "two or three times for the sake of world stability" and said underdeveloped nations could use twice the billion-dollar investment of capital which the United States now places overseas.

Rep. Mills (D-Ark.) in another prepared speech, said tax reduction this year could turn national prosperity into inflation. Mills said that despite a prospective federal budget surplus "on June 30," tax relief should wait until current higher-price pressures ease off.

Blue panic grass is becoming popular with Howard County farmers and ranchers, according to Marion Everhart of the Soil Conservation Service. The biggest planting this year will be on the Griffin Ranch north of Luther, where Mrs. T. L. Griffin plans to seed about 350 acres to blue panic.

Smaller planting will be made on the James Burrell and Frank Whitaker places near Vincent, the Paul Adams place near Ackery and the Robert Merrick farm west of Vealmoor.

The Howard County Junior College is also planning to green up the landscape, says Everhart. Instead of just one grass, a mixture of sideoats grama, blue grama and buffalo grass is being used. All these grasses are well adapted to this area, and used to grow in profusion before overgrazing and drought took them out.

Woody Smith got the jump on his neighbors at Tarzan and planted cotton the first of April. Right after that he got a shower, and now has enough cotton to leave, though it is not a thick stand.

Smith is planting half his fields to the blight resistant cotton and half to the regular Acala 1517C that has been planted there several years.

"I still think the 1517C is a good cotton," he said. "The blight hurt me some last year, but not as much as where it was watered with sprinklers."

Two farmers in a country store were talking about prices and crops.

Said one: "I know several men who made a good crop last year, yet they just made a living and paid the interest on what they owed. Not one out of three paid any of the principal. To me that is not getting out of debt very fast."

R. B. Wiggins, who has farmed east of Ackery since 1942, says his fields blow worse this spring than ever before. He said the sand was especially damaging to his terraces which cover the entire field.

However, he intends to keep the terraces and just finished building them up a few weeks ago. Last year they helped him make a half bale of cotton to the acre, but he is not expecting so much this year.

Bindweed, or possession vine, is gradually coming into this area. Gene Cates of Ackery has a two-acre patch that is well covered with the vines.

firm in Lubbock that makes a specialty in killing bindweed.

My brother, who has made several trips to northwest New Mexico, says one had for newcomers is to go down to the honkytonk section of town and watch the Indians fight. It is located near the big Navajo Reservation and every night the Indians come to town to get drunk. Even the women drink a little, but the worst offenders are young men, some of whom are only 17 or 18 years of age.

One night an Indian got mad at his squaw and laid her out with a big stick of wood. Then he dragged her over to the wagon and dumped her into it. A white man who knew the Indian protested that the woman might be hurt badly.

Puzzled at the man's concern, the Indian picked up the stick of wood, examined it carefully under a dim street light, then handed it to the white man.

"She not die," he grunted. "See, stick not broke."

The man said the stick was nearly the size of a baseball bat, but evidently the Indian knew just how hard to hit.

The Indians get enough government money to buy food and clothing, but a good part of it goes for whisky. Then when the firewater starts burning their insides, they are ready to fight at the drop of a tomahawk.

The law can't do much with them, because the government won't allow an officer to lay hands on one. If the Indian is willing, he can be taken to jail, but not many are willing. When he finally passes out, it is cheaper just to load him into the wagon and send him back to the reservation.

Keep Your Clothes In Tune With Age

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — An important part of looking well," Margaret Hayes told me during tea time at the studio, "is coming of age in your clothes. I feel strongly that this youth bit can be overdone. Maturity has its own type of charm. However, this does not mean that you can't wear some of the clothes that the younger set wears. I have a mother-in-law who is very chic — she wears sweaters and skirts in the country that look very different from the sweaters and skirts you see on a campus.

Margaret Hayes is in much demand on TV but recently she took time out to play a featured role in "The Bottom of the Bottle," at 20th Century-Fox. Her versatile selection of current styles stems from her background as a former New York model. Once a connoisseur of fashion, she still dresses with great chic.

Maturity Has Charm

TV-Movie Actress Margaret Hayes, currently being seen in "The Bottom of the Bottle," passes on some tips for glamour in today's Hollywood Beauty column.

New First Graders Attend School; Parents Meet, Too

Prospective first graders visited College Heights School classes Tuesday as a follow-up to a meeting for the parents Monday afternoon.

Principal John E. Hardy advised parents how they can help their youngsters get ready for next fall. A smallpox vaccination is necessary, he said. He added that parents should try to keep their children at school every day.

"First Graders and Their Problems" was discussed by a first grade teacher, Mrs. E. W. Alexander, who told parents to help with the problems by working with the teacher.

Never talk about a child's progress in front of him, she said. Mrs. Harold Jones, another first grade teacher, displayed text books used during the year and explained how each is taught.

Mrs. W. S. Goodlett, P-T-A president, emphasized the importance of parents joining the association. About 20 attended the meeting.

Bridal Tea Fetes Mrs. Doyle Hooper

Mrs. Doyle Hooper was honored at a bridal shower Monday evening when Mrs. W. F. Smith and Mrs. Eddie Hooper were hostesses for a tea in the Smith home. The honoree is the former June Tindal.

Guests were greeted by the hostesses, who presented the recent bride. Mrs. Johnny Hooper presided at the register.

Serving was done from a tea table laid in a linen cloth and decorated with an arrangement of roses and a bridal cake. The guest list included about 30.

The honored guest was attired in a pink and white taffeta with a full skirt. She wore white pumps and a corsage of white carnations.

Coahoma Seniors To Leave Thursday For Annual Trip

COAHOMA — The senior class and their sponsor will leave Thursday morning for the annual senior trip. They will travel by a chartered bus and will spend two days at the Presbyterian grounds at Mo Ranch near Kerrville.

Saturday and Sunday will be spent sight-seeing and visiting points of interest in San Antonio. They will return to their homes sometime Sunday night. Twenty-three seniors are expected to make the trip. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Salling and Mrs. C. H. DeVaney.

The seniors of Coahoma High School were entertained recently with a chicken barbecue when the ladies of the Presbyterian were hostesses. Arlon DeVaney was the senior honoree. Boating and table games furnished the entertainment.

Mrs. W. T. Barclay of Richland Springs has returned home after visiting her aunt, Mrs. M. E. Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Garrett spent the weekend in Oklahoma City visiting friends.

Kamilla Key Tells Horror Of Red Life

Terrors under two regimes were recounted Monday night by Hungarian-born Mrs. Kamilla Key of Midland.

She spoke to the public at a Classroom Teachers Association sponsored event. Mrs. Key is a member of the Midland League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Key experienced the Nazi occupation of her country, and after the war, served as a member of the first postwar staff of the Hungarian Legation in the United States.

She pictured life under the subsequent Russian occupation as "a torture." Often Hungarian people are kept under guard in a single room of their own homes, she said.

Mrs. Key aided her immediate family to escape from behind the Iron Curtain. She warned that the Russians' most asserted characteristic was to rule the world.

A United States resident 10 years, she has also traveled on three continents and speaks four languages.

U.N. Patrols Set For Mid-East Area

JERUSALEM (AP) — The U. N. truce organization today announced plans to bolster the Israeli-Egyptian cease-fire with U. N. observer posts and mobile U. N. patrols along the tense Gaza border.

The truce supervision headquarters said Israel and Egypt had agreed to the new border arrangements in a new attempt to prevent further hostilities.

The announcement came as U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld went into a new meeting with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion. Each was accompanied by a battery of aides.

The headquarters announcement said "steps have been taken for the recruitment of the additional number of observers made necessary by this agreement."

Hammarskjöld and Ben-Gurion were meeting to thresh out additional details of the practical border arrangements to guarantee the Israeli-Egyptian cease-fire.

The U. N. diplomat planned two additional meetings with the Israeli leader, this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon. There he will prepare his final report to the U. N. Security Council, which sent him out April 6 on the peace mission amid a flurry of Israeli-Arab border outbreaks.

Meanwhile, Jordan replied to Hammarskjöld's proposals for a cease-fire between that nation and Israel. Premier Samir Rifai said in Amman the reply was harmonious with the attitude of the other Arab states.

Dawson TB Unit Chooses Officers

LAMESA — Harold Wilkerson, principal of the central elementary school, yesterday was named to the presidency of the Dawson County TB Association.

Other officers named were Howard Maddox, first vice president; Bobby Woodrum, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Buckel, recording secretary; and M. E. Boren, treasurer. Retiring president is Wesley Roberts.

New directors are Dr. John Paul Pickett, Ray Gonzales, Mrs. Dear Davis, Hal Fees, Herbert Green and Scott Russell.

Mrs. J. H. Maberry, member of the board of directors and Dawson County Health Unit nurse, reported that at present there are six tuberculosis patients in the county. There are also eight Dawson residents in various hospitals for treatment of the disease.

Jack Lippard, chairman of the Christmas Seal Sales Association, said Dawson County is in the top 10 per cent of the state in return averages. The state average is $2.44, Lippard said. The Dawson average was $2.66.

Mrs. Buckel, who was executive secretary until her resignation Monday, was replaced by Mrs. Juanita Beeson.

SPEECHES, PARADES

May Day Noted Around The World

By The Associated Press

Moscow limited its May Day military parade to 42 minutes today.

Pope Pius XII urged "the whole world of labor" to turn to Christ.

A half million Japanese jammed Tokyo's Meiji Plaza to hear speakers call for peace, democracy, better pay.

There were celebrations and speeches elsewhere around the globe.

To most of the world it was an international labor holiday — so designated by the International Socialist Congress of 1889. To the United States and Canada, it wasn't. The two American countries observe Labor Day the first Monday in September.

Rome featured a new observance — this year as thousands of Roman Catholic workers gathered to mark the liturgical feast of St. Joseph, the carpenter of Nazareth. The church holiday was proclaimed by Pope Pius last year in a clear effort to strip the holiday of the violence which often marked it in the past and gave it a more Christian direction.

The pontiff's call for the whole world of labor to return to Christ — an obvious plea to Communist workers — was made before 90,000 workers members of Italian Catholic Action at St. Peter's and was directed especially to 40,000 more gathered in Milan.

Hundreds of Communist-directed mass meetings were under way elsewhere in Italy, whose Communist party is the largest outside the Iron Curtain.

The Pope called anew for peace, saying:

"Order and peace, they are the supreme goals. . . internal peace between sons of the same country, external peace between members of the great human family."

On the other side of the world, rival Chinese governments made use of the day. On Formosa, President Chiang Kai-shek urged Nationalist workers to do everything possible to encourage uprisings by workers in Red China.

In Peiping, Mao Tse-tung took the salute of Red marchers which the Peiping radio said numbered a half million.

The Kremlin chiefs watched a 42-minute parade of military might through Moscow's Red Square, followed by the annual march of thousands of athletes and civilians. Overhead zoomed what Moscow radio identified only as "new type" Mikoyan jet fighters, presumably from the drawing board of top Communist aircraft designer Artem I. Mikoyan.

The day's chief speaker in Russia was the defense minister, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, who told his troops the Soviet Union "will continue persistently to follow Lenin's principle of peaceful co-existence of states having different political and social systems."

But Zhukov warned against complacency and charged "the imperialist circles continue the policy of the cold war."

Truman Lauds Sen. Barkley

HURON, S.D. (AP)—Former President Harry Truman was informed of his Veep's death yesterday just as he finished riding in a parade in Truman's honor.

A radio man informed him that former Vice President Alben Barkley had died. Truman was here for a fund-raising drive for the Truman Memorial Library, Independence, Mo.

Truman told an audience of about 2,500 people: "I knew him before he went to the Senate." He said Barkley had been to Missouri to help the Democratic party and "he knew how to do it."

"He was one of the greatest vice presidents that ever occupied that chair."

"The reason was that he knew all of the senators, all of the members of the House and all of their wives and friends — their shortcomings and their qualities."

Truman said he was always invited to sit in on Cabinet meetings.

"Mr. Barkley always said what he thought," Truman said. "I am sorry as I can be that the end has come to a great man."

He said Barkley died doing the people a service. "That's the way I hope I can go," Truman added.

Protestant Clergy Snagged By Details

CHICAGO (AP)—Protestant clergymen have some gripes about their job.

Nowadays, they say, irksome details are keeping them from devoting as much time as they feel necessary to preaching.

Some of their complaints were told to a meeting of the National Council of Churches' Department of the Urban Church today by Dr. Samuel W. Blizzard, a Pennsylvania State University sociologist who conducted a nationwide survey of what ministers think of their occupation.

Chief complaints are "paper work," "running the mimeograph machine," "attending too many purposeless meetings," and "dealing with demanding people," Dr. Blizzard said.

A large number said they are urged to spend much time organizing and administering, but have little training or liking for these functions.

Today's minister considers that he was trained to be a preacher and pastor, and these are the roles he likes best," Dr. Blizzard said.

The survey was conducted for the Russell Sage Foundation. Dr. Blizzard did not specify the number of clergymen who participated in it in his report prepared for the National Council, a federation of 30 American churches with 35 1/2 million members.

Thirty-one per cent of those answering the questionnaire thought of themselves as a mediator between God and Man.

Twenty-two per cent consider their chief job to be "servants of God."

Twelve per cent feel a minister is "ordained of God" and "set apart"; 18 per cent expressed a contrary view that they were "ordained laymen." There were slightly more ministers who thought their job was a "good life" than those who thought it was a "difficult life." Those who thought it was "difficult" felt in general that "because of the demands of the profession, only one who feels a divine call can avoid the pitfalls or cynicism."

Lost Weekend?

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—William J. Murray walked up to the police information desk and asked if he belonged in jail.

Clerk Sam Heston checked the books. He said Murray certainly did. That's what he thought too, Murray said, but he woke up on the street.

A missing cell bar supplied the clue to Murray's exit. Accommodations were provided for him again on a drunk charge.

C-City Seeking Rape Suspect

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City police are searching for a 28-year-old Odessa man for questioning concerning the alleged rape of an 18-year-old Colorado City girl.

District Attorney Eldon Mahon said medical reports tended to back up the girl's story of assault. He said the attack had been reported to Colorado City police about 8:30 p.m. Monday and an area-wide alert had gone out for the Odessa man who was believed to have returned to Odessa.

The girl told Mahon she had gone with the man on a date, and that she understood other couples were to go with them to the movies. Instead, she was taken south of town to a lonely road where the assault occurred, she charged.

Papa Shouts It From Cloudtops

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For nearly three hours a plane towing a streamer which read, "It's a boy. Both are OK," flew over Columbus in the vicinity of the White Cross Hospital yesterday.

The boy is C. Malcolm Riggle II, first child of Mr. and Mrs. C. Malcolm Riggle. He was born in the hospital Sunday.

The proud father, consultant on workmen's compensation and widely known in Columbus, didn't include the boy's name in the birth announcement.

Angered Boy, 13, Shoots Down Pair

MILFORD, Pa. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy who "got a little mad" when a man and his wife scolded him for target shooting near their home yesterday, turned his .22 rifle on them, fatally wounding the husband and critically wounding the wife.

State Trooper Evan R. Chaplin said James Van Why readily admitted the shooting after his capture in a field where he fled after wrecking and abandoning the couple's car.

Edward W. Ebelo, 48, died of head wounds. His wife Margaret, 45, was in critical condition today in St. Francis Hospital at Port Jervis, N.Y. She was also shot in the head.

Chaplin said the boy "told us that 'We got a little mad at each other' and that was why he shot them."

Van Why had both the rifle and a .38-caliber pistol with him when arrested. He offered no resistance.

Dist. Atty. Clifton A. Cloud said he had not yet decided what charges to place against the boy. A 13-year-old may be charged with murder in Pennsylvania.

Daily Average Oil Production Falls

TULSA (AP)—Daily average U.S. oil production fell 14,550 barrels to 7,162,800 during the week ended April 28, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

The week's figure raised the Journal's estimate of 1956 production to 847,465,430 barrels compared to 867,117,200 a year ago. The best year was Colorado's 4,600 to 167,400 barrels. Arkansas was off 3,850 to 73,050; Louisiana up 2,900 to 629,800; and Oklahoma, up 2,300 to 596,900.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 3,035,025 barrels; and New Mexico, 253,300.

Petroleum Reserves Highest In History

LOS ANGELES (AP)—National petroleum reserves are the highest in U.S. history, says the president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America.

Cleanup Due When Mop Is Vacated

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—When C. B. Hand left his upstairs apartment to move into a new home he left behind a mop on the back porch because a bird had started nesting there.

The owner of the building, Gunnar Nelson, found the mop leaning upright against the wall, with three open-mouthed baby birds hungrily awaiting their mother's return from worm shopping.

Nelson didn't disturb the mop. The new tenant also is observing the birds' equities' rights. But, if Mama Bird will try to hurry her flying lessons the present tenant will get busy with the mop and clean up.

Just The Bare Facts

DALLAS (AP)—A husband complained in a divorce trial that his wife drank too much. The wife countered that her husband was a nudist and made her go to nudist meetings. She said she had to drink to keep from being embarrassed. The judge is still pondering the case.

Dairymen Looking For Price Increase

Dairymen in this area are due to get a raise of 46 cents more per hundredweight for their milk, according to R. P. Mayfield, of Dawson County, Mayfield, who is a director in the Central West Texas Milk Producers Association, has attended meetings in Lubbock, San Antonio, Dallas and Austin, and says dairymen in other states have already been granted such a raise by the federal government.

The new order will affect milk producers in Texas, Arizona, Louisiana and Mississippi. This will increase local prices for four per cent butterfat milk from $5.85 to $6.31.

"We feel certain the raise will come through," Mayfield said. "Unless dairymen do get a substantial increase, many of them will be forced out of business."

Mayfield said producers had not had a raise in many months, yet feed and other expenses have continued to mount. Last fall grain sorghum could be bought for $1.40

C-C Group To Urge Airport

Immediate action with petitions to seek a bond election to determine construction of a new airport was advocated by the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon.

The group voted to present its recommendation to the Chamber's entire board of directors next Monday, and if that body gives its sanction, to start circulation of petitions at once.

Tentative plans call for a county-wide issue of $400,000.

While location of the proposed airport is subject to confirmation, the most likely site appears to be a tract east of Big Spring, south of Highway 80, in the Moss Creek Lake area. Such location would be subject to approval of the A.I.R. Space Sub-Committee, so that there would be no conflict with military aviation activities out of Webb Air Force Base, and would be acceptable to the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

If the petitions are presented to the County Commissioners Court, the step represents the climax of long study and activity to bring about suitable civil aviation facilities for Big Spring.

Since Webb Air Force Base was activated in 1952 (the City having made a lease arrangement with the Air Force for use of its land) the city has been without first class airport facilities for use of civil and commercial aircraft. The military air base has been used for service of Continental Air Lines planes, while Hamilton Field has accommodated smaller civilian aircraft.

Many interests of the community, however, have asserted for some time that adequate provision for civil and commercial aviation can be made only through another airport. The demand for such a facility has grown with development of private flying and industrial use of aircraft.

A civil airport has been listed as a "No. 1 project" on several polls taken by the Chamber of Commerce by its membership.

The Chamber, through President Marvin M. Miller and Aviation Committee Chairman Jack Cook, worked at the airport problem throughout 1955, with the assistance of city and county officials. Chief delaying factor has been an effort to determine whether federal aid might be available.

It has been conclusively established, however, Miller and Cook reported to the committee Monday, that Big Spring is not eligible under the statutes governing Federal-aid Airport Program Funds.

This is because the CAA has already made prior grants for development of the old airport (now Webb), and under a grant agreement made in 1949, the City agreed to operate the airport for public use throughout the useful life of the facility. But when opportunity arose for the location of the jet air base here, the airport in turn was leased to the government for military use. The CAA has reported it is bound by airport-aid laws which prevent it from making additional grants because the prior grants and commitments of the early lease. Quoted was a CAA denartmental policy provision which reads:

"Under no circumstances, however, will Federal-aid Airport Program Funds be used to provide a new airport unless special circumstances provide justification for the Administrator to approve the termination of the community's obligation to the Federal Government (if any exist) with regard to the first airport."

Feeling of C-C leaders was that the need for a civil air facility has reached such a stage that the community should proceed without reference to federal aid. Miller pointed out that income to the community from Webb Air Force Base alone had far more than of costs involved in providing civil air facilities.

Woman Sets Up Her Own Barricade

POOJMA, Calif. (AP)—When police refused to detour traffic off her unpaved street simply because she was painting her house and didn't want the dust to spoil the job, Mrs. Fern Lewis decided to establish her own detour.

Police say she took her 22 rifle yesterday, stood at the intersection of Sharp Avenue and Osborne Street and persuaded motorists not to drive on Sharp Avenue.

Officers said her roadblock was 100 per cent effective. They booked the 42-year-old woman on a charge of displaying a firearm in a threatening manner.

Progress Claimed In China Co-Ops

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China says agricultural cooperatives have absorbed 90 per cent of its 120 million farm families. The Communist state is driving for total collectivization of its farms by 1959. Peiping radio said 55 per cent of the farm families are in "fully socialist cooperatives." This means some 66 million families have relinquished any claim to personal possession of land or property. The rest were reported living on semisocialist agricultural cooperatives. Under this setup farmers nominally own the land but give it up for shares in the cooperative.

Nationalization Termed Goal Of Oil, Gas Critics

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Critics of the petroleum industry are aiming at "the complete nationalization of oil and all its workings," the president of the American Petroleum Institute said today. "This industry is fighting for its life," said Frank Pfitter, "Our most active and outspoken critics leave no doubt about their objectives. They are in a lynching mood." The Oklahoma City oil man quoted a senator as saying recently that "gas and oil companies are public utilities and are monopolized, because gas and oil are part of the resources of our country."

Anti-Red's Escape Called 'Fairy Tale'

EISENSTADT, Austria (AP)—Police say 18-year-old Fritz Hammerl spun a "complete fairy tale" in his story of driving a farm tractor under fire through the barbed wire and minefields of the Communist Hungarian border to an Austrian sanctuary. Hammerl had related that the gunfire of border guards—one of them his own brother—killed three companions. Authorities called Hammerl a publicity hound. They said a border check failed to prove his story. Now they are trying to figure out what to do with him. The youth now claims to be an Austrian citizen.

Food Processing Plant Destroyed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A block-square food processing plant was destroyed in a roaring fire yesterday after flames erupted from a boiler room. Company officials estimated the loss at 1½ million dollars. The Northwest Packing Co.'s No. 1 plant and general offices were leveled. Firemen checked the flames after a two-hour fight, hampered by low water pressure. No employees were in the building and no firemen were injured. The loss included a large supply of dog food, valued at $500,000. Firemen did not list the cause immediately.

The report added the nation's petroleum producing capacity is expected to exceed 10 million barrels daily for the first time by January 1957. Crude oil production last January totaled 8,929,000 barrels a day.

Quiet Thugs Steal Gun

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Thomas Pruitt, 65, a night guard at Truckers Inn, knew something was missing when he woke. He had been hired after thieves broke into the place two weeks ago. He had been provided a cot for naps and a 12-gauge shotgun. Looking around in his drowsiness, Pruitt discovered the "awfully quiet" thieves had taken money from pinball machines, cigarettes from another machine—and his shotgun.

Ike Third In Traveling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The magazine U. S. News & World Report said today President Eisenhower ranks third among modern presidents in time spent away from Washington for reasons other than convalescence from illness. The magazine said it went to official records which gave a log of each presidential trip, regardless of how short in time and distance, and it continued in a copyrighted article in its current issue: "Franklin D. Roosevelt was away from his desk at the White House more days each year, on an average, than any other president in this century. William Howard Taft averaged fewer days away from the White House than Mr. Roosevelt, but was away more days than Mr. Eisenhower."
