MARINES

Tarawa Hero New Training Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marines have picked as new boss of their recruit training a hero of bloody Tarawa, Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup. Shoup's job will be to make boys into Marines without hazing—and without endangering their lives. He also will have the job of curbing some of the old disciplinary practices of the Marines' noncommissioned officer drill instructors without undermining their authority or wrecking their morale. Shoup's appointment as inspector general of recruiting was announced yesterday by Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant. In the aftermath of an investigation into the April 8 fatal march at Parris Island, S.C. In that march at the recruit depot six "boots," as the Corps calls the untrained, were drowned. Their platoon had been ordered into a tide-swept creek by a drill instructor "to teach them discipline." Shoup is a tough man. On occasion, the full-necked product of a farm near Battle Ground, Ind., has been known to use language which any old salty-dog type Marine could admire. The 53-year-old graduate of De Pauw University—he went to school on a scholarship and was an A student—is also a fighting man. As much as any man he has been credited with the U.S. victory at Tarawa. After those bloody 72 hours in November 1943 in which the Marines suffered 3,166 casualties, Shoup was awarded the Medal of Honor. "Although severely shocked by an exploding shell . . . and suffer-

Helper Of 45 Is Mother Of Year

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit widow whose busy hands have brought love and a happy home to 45 children is the American Mother of 1956. She is Jane Maxwell Pritchard, who at 67 still spends nearly all her waking hours making a home for 17 lively girls who live in her rambling brick house on Detroit's East Side. All are children from broken homes, placed under her care by the Juvenile Court. In past years, Mrs. Pritchard has been a foster parent to 17 other youngsters and reared 11 more, only one of them her own. All call her mother.

Mother Of Year

Mrs. Jane Maxwell Pritchard, of Detroit, has been named American Mother of 1956, the American Mothers Committee Inc. announced.

Busy as always, Mrs. Pritchard was sorting laundry when word came yesterday that a jury of the American Mothers Committee, meeting in New York, had chosen her as the outstanding mother of the year. "I'm moved to tears," she said with a soft smile, then added quickly, "But I never want anyone to see my tears." "I've had an abundant life," she said. "I need no reward. When I see my married girls and their families come home, I know that all the work has been worthwhile." Mrs. Pritchard will fly to New York next Monday to be guest of honor at the annual Mothers Conference. "It will be my first Mother's Day away from my family," she said. "I hope I am worthy."

Methodists Begin Drive On Segregation

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The world's largest Protestant denomination—the Methodist Church—today begins closing ranks against racial segregation. Delegates to the church's quadrennial general conference set forth a three-pronged program yesterday condemning segregation, making integration possible in the church structure and studying new ways of bringing Negro and white members of the congregation more closely together. The conference sped through action opening the door to full integration in the church, urging abolition of discrimination or segregation and setting up a commission to study ways of developing "greater interracial brotherhood."

The conference's first action was to amend the church constitution to pave the way for all Negro church units to move into the regular organization framework. The plan, which still must be ratified by two-thirds of the voting delegates in 132 conferences, permits individual Negro churches, or entire conferences of Negro churches, to transfer to regular "white" administrative units. Such action would be on a voluntary basis and could be undertaken by two-thirds vote of the regional groups involved. The jurisdictional action by the conferences was hailed as a "miracle" by the Rev. C. Cooper Bell of Lynchburg, Va., and the "fastest and longest step" the church can now take to wipe out racial barriers by Leonard D. Slutz, a Cincinnati attorney, who presented the program.

Abolition of discrimination or segregation "by any method or practice, whether by conference or otherwise" and with reasonable speed was called for by the delegates in a resolution. Offered as guidance, but not as a legally binding measure, the resolution called on Methodists to "actively work" to end racially discriminatory practices in their churches and community life.

Roe arrested and booked on suspicion of burglary model policeman Milo Ploof.

LeMay To Spell Out Needs For Meeting Red Air Might

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today Gen. Curtis LeMay has promised "to spell out in a complete package" what his Strategic Air Command needs to offset Soviet Russia's expanding air might.

"This will be for the benefit of the Senate subcommittee and will not be cleared through Pentagon channels," Jackson said in an interview. He is a member of a Senate Armed Forces subcommittee studying relative U.S.-Russian air power.

LeMay, cigar-chewing commander of the globe-girdling U.S. bomber force, made it plain in previously censored public testimony yesterday and Monday that he wants more jet B52 bombers as quickly as possible.

Completing more than a week of testimony, he disclosed late yesterday that out of 78 heavy B52 bombers produced to date, only 47 were immediately accepted by the Air Force.

Other Air Force officers said a defect in the bombers' complex electrical system had caused the rejections and grounding of all B52s after a crash last year. LeMay said the defects are being corrected and the jet bombers put into operation.

Jackson said additional B52s are needed to increase SAC's striking power, but he added: "We must also have trained crews, more bases, additional air tankers, including jet tankers, for the complete program."

Showers and scattered thunderstorms extended over a belt from Louisiana northeastward through Atlantic states into Maine. Most falls were light although Atlanta's downpour last night measured more than 1 inch. Hail stones reported as big as eggs pelted areas near Knoxville, Tenn.

Eniwetok Atom Test To Begin

KWAJALEIN (AP)—The opening shot of the new series of nuclear tests, an explosion officially described as "in the kiloton range," is scheduled early tomorrow at Eniwetok Atoll.

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said newsmen and federal civil defense representatives would see this opening shot in addition to the later scheduled burst of a big multimillion-ton energy hydrogen bomb.

The weather, of course, will decide whether the scheduled little kiloton fission bomb will be fired tomorrow.

The newsmen and defense observers will see the explosion from a vantage point on a pier at Eniwetok.

Officials declined to indicate the type of the bomb or whether it would be fired from a tower, the ground or airdropped. However there was speculation it might be the warhead for a missile, tested in conventional manner.

Foster Parents Appeal For Stay Of Court Order

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sklaroff have made a desperate appeal to Justice Felix Frankfurter of the U.S. Supreme Court.

They want him to stay a court order that would require them to return a 4-year-old boy they've raised from infancy to his natural parents by Saturday.

The Rhode Island Supreme Court ordered the transfer, immediately afterward, the Sklaroff's attorney filed the appeal to Frankfurter in Washington. It's the latest move in a 30-month custody battle.

The youngster has been living with the Sklaroffs since he was 3 days old. His natural parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Skeadas, are Catholic and the Sklaroffs Jewish, but the religious difference is not an issue in the case.

Yesterday, for the first time, little Freddie saw his natural parents, as he sat with his foster parents in the courtroom. For the Skeadas the sight of the boy undoubtedly brought back memories of the night when Freddie was exchanged between automobiles parked on a Lynn street—the last time they saw him until yesterday.

Two years after that transfer, the Sklaroffs sought in Juvenile Court to adopt him. But Mrs. Skeadas, who was unmarried at the time of the birth but later married Skeadas, who claims to be the father, fought the adoption. The court ruled that she had not given her consent.

Back in the courts again, Superior Court granted the adoption petition, only to have the State Supreme Court overturn the decision and deny the adoption.

Lamesa Shoe Store Planning Expansion

LAMESA—Myron Fenton, owner of Fenton's shoe store here, has announced plans to expand the store into the adjoining area, formerly occupied by offices. The building is owned by M. C. Lindsey. Expansion will almost double the size of the store.

Fire Destroys Business Area

DETROIT (AP)—A million-dollar fire destroyed a six-story building in the downtown business district last night.

Three firemen were injured, fighting the four-hour blaze.

The 80-year-old building on Woodward Avenue housed the main store of the Fred Sanders Co., Detroit's largest confectionery chain, and a dress shop. Adjacent buildings suffered smoke and water damage.

About 100 persons were in a basement cafeteria when the fire was discovered. All were evacuated safely and without panic. Fire Marshall Matthew H. McNally estimated the loss. He said the fire broke out about 6 p.m., apparently on the fourth floor where the Eaton ready-to-wear dress shop stores its packaging material. The cause was not determined.

A Bible Thought For Today

Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so I send you. (St. John 20:21)

Editorial

Ain't Much Wrong With Ain't

It was Will Rogers, we believe, who said that a lot of people who don't say ain't "ain't been eating regular lately." The dictionary says that ain't is a contraction of are not, and used also for am not, is not, has not, and have not — "now used in dialect or illiterate speech." The fact that ain't is so versatile a word, and is used to take the place of five different grammatical constructions each employing a minimum of two words to establish a point of reference probably will find its way into the dictionary as an acceptable and literate expression, just as many other "illiterate" expressions have down through the centuries. A few more Winston Churchills, using ain't with a perfectly straight face, should turn the trick. Where did we get "hussy," meaning a worthless woman or girl? Why, from the right honorable "housewife," once spelled huswife, and pronounced huzif. Where did we get goodby? From "God be with you," surely an honorable source. The meaning of words change, but the rules of grammar are eternal. With the purists it's okay to steal a word from a foreign tongue, — we stole most of our English, by the way — to describe something or other, or to give emphasis and meaning to a sentence; but if you dare to lay profane hands on the sacred structure of English grammar you've got a fight on your hands. Our language has become one of the most flexible in history by the simple process of running roughshod over the purists who would keep it in shackles. That ain't saying it is not well to learn the rules of grammar. It is necessary to know what they are in order to violate them in the interest of a more flexible and colorful tongue. It has become respectable to split an infinitive and begin a sentence with a preposition. But ain't does no violence to grammar: it's just a new telescoped word which is useful and convenient, and which will eventually, minus the apostrophe, find its way into the language like hussy and goodby.

Time And Place To Speak Up

The precinct convention, under present law, is the bedrock of our political system, Republican and Democratic alike — in Texas at least. That is where the real work of selecting national party nominees begins, where issues are spelled out, where the people can make themselves heard and felt. One might say it is the only place the great rank and file can influence the course of events and the selection of a presidential nominee; for only a relative few can be chosen to carry the work of the precincts to the county convention, and fewer still can hope to go on from the county convention as delegates to the state convention, and a comparative handful from the state to the national convention. So, if the rank and file don't attend their precinct conventions they will have had no say at all in the course of events from here on until they get their final say at the polls in November. If you are a Republican, attend your precinct convention if there is one where you live. If you are a Democrat, attend your precinct convention. If you believe Allan Shivers should lead the Democratic delegation to Chicago, your place of duty is at your precinct convention Saturday. If you believe Lyndon Johnson should lead, your place is at your precinct convention. Whether you are for the one or for the other of these two men, the only place you can make your weight felt is at your precinct convention. All the oratory and printer's ink that have been spilled in this campaign to influence your opinion one way or the other will have been wasted unless you show up at the precinct convention, your polltax receipt in hand, ready to translate your belief into effective action. Be sure you attend the convention whose precinct number is the same as appears on your polltax receipt. Otherwise you might as well have stayed home. You'll be in the right church but the wrong pew. You are a sovereign voter, but you will be abdicating your sovereignty unless you take part in your precinct convention.

David Lawrence Putting Strings On American Money

WASHINGTON — For several months now there has been a steady propaganda designed to influence American public opinion to give away lots and lots of money to Asia and Europe "with no strings attached." Many Americans have been duped by the propaganda, and even some senators are openly saying that America must give away her money through the United Nations or some other group because this would be giving it away "without any strings." The propaganda is astonishing because it ignores completely that the President and the Secretary of State are going to have a hard time getting Congress to agree to the foreign-aid program already proposed even though most of the money is earmarked specifically for an American purpose — defense. The "giveaway" folks inside and outside of Congress are few in number, but they manage to wield quite a lot of influence. The amazing thing about it all is that they lately have suggested the United Nations as a sort of vehicle for giving away American money to "underdeveloped" countries — but again without America even getting the slightest credit for helping those countries that need it. It is a curious paradox — the very persons here and abroad who are advocating that America give away her money "without strings" are laying down specific conditions by telling the American taxpayer he must grant funds and expect nothing in return. Uncle Sam has been called "Uncle Saps" in congressional debate many times heretofore, but nobody ever has assumed that the United States government, under any administration, would be so foolish as to offer billions of dollars — with no questions asked — to nations whose rulers are openly unfriendly to the United States. Some indication of the peculiar atmosphere that prevails in certain quarters here and in Europe can be observed from the reaction given to the speech of Secretary of State Dulles the other day. He mentioned vaguely that the time had come to expand the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. So obsessed have many observers been with the idea that only money given freely to Europe and Asia can solve all current problems that they immediately jumped to the conclusion that Mr. Dulles had capitulated and was getting ready to ask Congress for more money for an "economic" NATO. The truth is the Secretary of State puts first things first. Unless there is a broadening of NATO on a political basis so that Europe will be able to become more integrated, there isn't much sense of thinking in terms of more economic aid. Even the present program may be jeopardized — and this involves $4.6 billions — unless some way can be found to interrelate security in the Middle East with the security of Western Europe. That's the real objective of "broadening NATO." It's basically military. Mr. Dulles wisely put the issue up to Congress on a basis of direct interest to this country. In his testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, he said that the President, the Joint Chiefs of Staff and he, himself, are "all convinced that this expenditure is necessary for the security of the United States." Mr. Dulles sketched the military situations in Korea, Formosa, Vietnam, Japan, the Philippines, and Thailand. He spoke of the alliances of America with Turkey and Pakistan. He said Southeast Asia required about $1.8 billions and the Middle East, aid of about $900,000,000. Then he described the needs of NATO in Europe, and estimated that would cost about one billion dollars. Finally, the Secretary said that Asia, Europe, the Middle East and Latin America would require about 83 per cent of the total security program for next year. Only 17 per cent of the program, however, or about $700,000,000, is earmarked for use in areas which "are threatened by Communist subversion and which contain people, resources, and strategic locations which in our own interests, as well as theirs, should be secure from hostile domination. Thus does Mr. Dulles put the direct interests of the United States plainly before Congress. He will have a hard time getting the money even that way. As for the fussy-minded who think there are plenty of billions more available for abstract purposes of "prestige" or anonymous generosity, they have another guess coming as to when, if ever, any such policy will materialize.

Police-Car Disguise

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore Police Department has ordered 30 new police cars, painted various pastel shades. Commissioner James M. Hepburn said the department eventually will be fully equipped with varicolored autos instead of the present black ones. The idea is to make them harder to spot.

Swamp Sale

NORFOLK, Va. — A. P. Co. fields has finally decided what to do with the 9,000 acres of the Dismal Swamp he owns. He's packaging it in two-quart bags and selling it as potting soil for plants.

James Marlow Smathers Idea Finds Opposition

WASHINGTON — Sen. Smathers has an idea. This is their complaint: that the court overstepped its limits by trying to legislate an end to segregation when it ruled segregation was unlawful. Smathers didn't say this directly. He referred to "legislation" by the court. He said if Supreme Court justices had judicial experience before reaching the high court they wouldn't try to legislate when they got there. Under questioning by Sen. Potter (R-Mich) Smathers agreed that some of the best legal minds in the country are in the heads of lawyers who never sat on a bench and his proposal would bar them from ever sitting on the Supreme Court. The 12 of the 14 chief justices who couldn't have met Smathers' qualifications were: John Jay, John Rutledge, Oliver Ellsworth, John Marshall, Roger B. Taney, Salmon P. Chase, Morrison R. Waite, Melville W. Fuller, Edward D. White, Charles Evans Hughes, Harlan F. Stone and Earl Warren. Smathers wouldn't make his proposal, if it became law, apply to present justices but only to those appointed in the future. It's a proposal which seems to have a wonderful chance of getting no place.

Hal Boyle Latest Bore: The Stock Market

NEW YORK — I met an interesting fellow the other day. He wasn't in the stock market. You hardly run into that kind of person any more. At least not in my circle. Practically everyone I seem to meet now is "in the market." So is his brother. So is his grandmother. Baseball used to be the national pastime. Today the stock market is. You play baseball. But nobody admits he plays the market. It's not cricket to use that term. You don't play the market. You are just "in it." Who really is in the market? Well, I know a mechanic who is. I know several waiters who are. I know several stenographers who are. A lady who used to come and help my wife do sewing is. So is the masseuse my wife visits occasionally when she gets a twinge in her neckbone. In fact, it is probably easier to name those of your acquaintance who aren't in the market than to list those who are. Wall Street has become the real Main Street of America to millions. Now don't get me wrong. I have nothing against the stock market as an avenue to either security or wealth. I don't regard it a device it is a gambler riding a band wagon. The shop talk of the stock market, once limited to stock brokers and a limited class of customers, now is the stock talk of everyone from bricklayer to banker. I don't understand the terms. The care and feeding of the bulls and bears is of limited interest to me. I'm not sure of the difference between a long-term capital gain, and an off-tackle smash with the fullback carrying the ball. To me a "blue chip" is still something I lose when the poker pot only when I'm holding four queens.

Mr. Breger

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Birthdays of the children in the Overton T. Ryan family can be remembered easily by tying them to a holiday. John was born on Christmas Eve, Alan on George Washington's birthday, Marion on Abraham Lincoln's birthday and James Patrick on St. Patrick's Day.

Johnson Grass 'Control' Nothing New

An expert from A&M College announced he has worked out a method to control Johnson grass. He uses oil, chemicals and the suds of an ordinary kitchen detergent. I hope this A&M man doesn't claim to be the first with a system for controlling Johnson grass. If he does, I'll have to dispute his contention. My dad may not have been the first, either, but he had a way to control that perennial crop pest years ago. Pop used us kids, each armed with a sharp hoe. I like the A&M man's system the best. Johnson grass was a problem for us every spring, summer and fall. Dad's system for controlling the stuff was a success, but it didn't go very far toward eliminating the problem. For those who don't know, Johnson grass is sort of like elm trees or Bermuda that persists in sprouting in places where you don't want it. It sends thick, juicy roots out in every direction, and every once in a while a new shoot takes off from the root to break through the soil and form a new tuft of Johnson grass. This process goes on and on, until you've got Johnson grass all over the place. It doesn't do much permanent good to cut the grass off or plow it up. You always leave some of the root in the ground, and everywhere a piece of root is left a new patch of Johnson grass starts. However, Pop believed in keeping the grass cut down, even if that didn't kill it out. So we stayed busy. The hoeing started in the spring, as soon as the first green shoots peeped out. That was usually ahead of the cotton, maize or other crop. We were instructed to dig up as many of the Johnson grass roots as we could find, too, so that it wouldn't come back too soon. It normally took four or five hoeings in the spring and summer, to give the crops a chance to grow. Dad took over in the fall, when the crops were out. He started plowing early and it was a rewarding sight to see the heavy disc plow turning up those white, juicy Johnson grass roots. Surely, we said every fall, there won't be any left to come up next spring. But there was. We used one other "scientific" practice in the war on Johnson grass back in those days. That was to pour salt all over the spots that it insisted on growing in. It handicapped the Johnson grass alright, but there was one little drawback. The salt also prevented anything else from growing in the soil. I'll bet there are some spots on our old farm that still won't produce cotton, because of the concentration of salt. I hope the A&M College operation is a little more successful. —WAYLAND YATES

Walter Lippmann Russian Responsibility In Middle East

The joint statement given out after the London talks contains no surprises, pleasant or unpleasant, and no news of what, if anything, the British and the Russians learned that they had not known before. The statement does, however, appear to show that there is now considerable support in Moscow for the American view that the U. N. is the proper instrument for dealing with the Middle East. The Soviet Union had already indicated this just before Bulganin and Khrushchev went to London. The joint statement now confirms it in rather clear and explicit words. It also furnishes what was only a unilateral declaration into an international commitment. On the record this is a decided step forward. For the question of war or peace in the Middle East is fundamentally a question of whether the Soviet Union wants or does not want Col. Nasser to embark on military adventures against Israel and against Britain. Because of pressures from within Egypt, if for no other reason, Col. Nasser is almost certain to attempt adventures sooner or later if, on the one hand, the Soviet Union keeps sending him arms, and if, on the other hand, it interposes its own force against an Anglo-American intervention. As against that, there is no serious risk of Nasser's trying a military adventure if the Soviet Union in the United Nations concurs in forbidding adventures. The question, obviously, is whether there has been a genuine shift in Soviet policy—a shift one might say, from unlimited support of a Moscow-Cairo axis to a U.N. policy of restraint and conciliation. I do not, of course, know the answer to this question. But I can imagine strong reasons — and of the kind that would impress Moscow — for thinking that there has been a decision in Moscow to halt the drift towards war. There is always the general argument that if a war in Palestine were allowed to start, nobody can foresee how far it would spread and whom it would involve. But even if such a war were prevented from growing into a world war, there are compelling reasons why the Soviet Union must wish to prevent it. They must know in Moscow that on a showdown Great Britain and the United States would intervene to prevent Col. Nasser from driving Israel into the sea and Britain out of the Middle East. They must know, too, that Anglo-American sea and air power can, if necessary, dominate the Eastern Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf, and that there is nothing short of war that the Soviet Union could do to prevent it. They must know, too, in Moscow that once the United States is forced to establish a military beachhead in the Middle East there would be little prospect of a withdrawal. The net result would be that the Soviet Union, having frivolously let war break out, would have brought the Americans more deeply and more permanently than ever before into the Middle East. The Soviet rulers do not, I believe, like to fool themselves, and for that reason we are entitled to believe that they mean it when they say that they will work through the U. N. to prevent war and even to find a settlement. Not only does this avert the danger of a great war but it also averts the danger to them of our intervention in a local war. That is not all. In the U. N. policy they have won a recognition by Britain and America that the Soviet Union is a great power in the Middle East, that the Middle East is not a British-American sphere of influence from which they are excluded. The recognition in London that Russia shares the responsibility for maintaining peace in the Middle East is, in the perspective of history, a big event. We shall be living in its many consequences from this time forward. Copyright, 1956, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.

Inez Robb Britishers Offered Government Lottery

LONDON — John Bull — good, old conservative John Bull — is about to launch a government lottery, if he isn't clobbered first. In an effort to control inflation, curb the current British buying binge and sop up loose change, Her Majesty's government is proposing to issue new bonds on which the investor stands to win 200 per cent or nothing. Stealing a leaf intact from Norwegian government financing, Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold MacMillan proposes to issue bonds of five pounds face value which will bear no interest over a ten-year period. For a nation that supports the largest and most extensive football pools in the world, the Chancellor holds out an irresistible carrot. Hundreds of bonds in this series will be drawn quarterly, with premium payments to lucky bondholders varying from a few pounds to a quarterly prize of $1,000 pounds ($2,000). To a nation in which the sporting instinct is strong and inbred, it is hoped the bonds will prove such an irresistible lure that they will absorb such excess money as the working, lower middle class and middle middle-classes are now tossing into a runaway consumer's market. But strenuous opposition to the bond lottery is forming throughout the country. It is led by the British Council of Churches, which is not bingo-bred as are so many of the churches of the United States. The Archbishop of Canterbury himself, chairman of the British Council of Churches, is the focal and vocal point of the opposition. From his imminence as a churchman and from his platform in the House of Lords, the Archbishop has condemned the "gambling bill" in strong terms. In turn, the Archbishop has been soundly castigated in the House of Lords by his peers who favor the lottery bonds, and condemned in forceful terms seldom directed at the prime of all England. The row is a merry dust-up in the best English tradition, with the government and the bonds the odds-on favorite to win by a nose. However, it is understood that Chancellor MacMillan had a tough time persuad-

Mechanics Unlimited

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Three men operate a firm here which has done everything from taking a hunk out of the globe to building a better fish hook. Sam Adams, his brother, Ted, and Marion J. Miller, plan to take on more trained technicians, with imagination. Much of their work has been for physicians doing research at the University of Louisville Medical School. "The physician knows what his research problem is," Adams says, "but he hasn't the faintest idea of the mechanical limitations. That's our job." They have: Built a table which tilts from horizontal to vertical to study people who faint when they stand up; an electronic respiratory to keep anesthetized animals breathing while researchers operate on them; a nerve stimulator to tell surgeons when they've uncovered a nerve. They have also made a trigger fish hook for an inventor. The hook is spring actuated and sets firmly in a fish's jaw when mouthed. Perhaps one of their oddest jobs was an order for copper-lined wood globes with a hunk cut out. The customer wanted to grow flowers in them.

WARM-UP SIGNS

Adlai, Estes Call Truce For Funeral

By The Associated Press
Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver observed a campaign truce today to attend the funeral of Sen. Alben W. Barkley. But there were signs their struggle for the Democratic presidential nomination might be warming up.

Before interrupting a five-day swing through Florida to fly to the Barkley funeral, Kefauver said in Defunak Springs yesterday he feared a "smear campaign" against him because of what he described as a false news story that he once advocated using federal troops to enforce racial integration in Southern schools.

Kefauver said that if such a campaign should develop in Florida, Stevenson "must shoulder his part of the responsibility, since he would be the direct beneficiary."

In California, where Stevenson has been stumping, Roger Tubby, his press secretary, said Stevenson "would not participate in spreading false rumors about the senator."

Before leaving San Francisco for the Barkley rites in Paducah, Ky., Stevenson told newsmen yesterday he thinks he has "a lot of work to do" in Florida, where he and Kefauver are contesting for 23 convention votes. The state's primary is May 29.

The Republicans, meanwhile, took a shot at Stevenson for suggesting a halt to H-bomb tests. An editorial in the May issue of the GOP National Committee's Shoulder accused Stevenson of trying to "play politics" with the H-bomb. It said that by so doing, he gave dramatic evidence of what it called "his addled-headedness on a life-and-death issue."

Speaking before an editors' meeting in Washington April 21, Stevenson said the move he proposed would help regain the "moral initiative" which he contended

Cops Due Aid To Spelling

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Jefferson County Police Department will get three dictionaries to help officers in their spelling.

Fiscal Court agreed to the expenditure after Chief Walter Layman complained some of his men couldn't even spell Oak Street.

Because of bad spelling, he said, reports from district offices are hard to read.

A member of the court first suggested providing the officers with county maps listing streets and roads.

County Road Engineer W. Price Lane said that wouldn't do because "some of the roads are spelled wrong there too."

Lots Of Wire For The Taking

BREVARD, N.C. (AP)—Rangers at the Pisgah National Forest have a right lengthy problem.

They have 200 to 400 miles of No. 9 telephone wire they want to get rid of. And it's free for the taking. There's just one restriction—you can't sell it.

The wire is a casualty of progress. It became useless when radio communication was installed some time ago, but the wire stayed up because the Forest Service had no funds earmarked for the job of removing it.

Shivers Claims 'No Machine' To Support Him

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers told his morning radio audience today there is no "Shivers machine" and has never been one.

"The only political organization I have ever had is one made up of friends and supporters, working strictly on a volunteer basis, in the towns and counties of this state," he said.

He said his "political enemies are fond of talking about this shadowy and mysterious 'machine' that is supposed to control Texas conventions and elections."

"My organization consists of people who believe in my program and in me—and who are willing to spend some of their time and money to put it across...that's the only kind of machine I have ever had, or wanted. And that's the machine that is going to win another fight for local government in the precinct conventions Saturday," Shivers said.

"Just as we have in the past, we are going to stand together for states' rights against the encroachment of the federal government. We are going to keep on running our party affairs right here in Texas—not from Washington."

Shivers said Sen. Lyndon Johnson had been maneuvered "into a position of having to choose between the left-wing element represented by the (Sam) Rayburn-Byron Skelton-DAC leadership, and the moderate or conservative wing of the Democratic party of Texas."

"Sen. Johnson made his choice," Shivers said. "He chose to 'Clear it with Sam.'"

"Thirty seven days ago I asked Sen. Johnson where he stood on important issues. Today—two days before the precinct conventions—I ask you: Do you know where Sen. Johnson stands?"

Lady Meter Cops

SCOTTSLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Scottsluff is going to turn the job of ticketing parking meter violators over to the ladies. City Manager Carsten Leikvold last night said two women will be hired to replace the one policeman who now handles the job. Announcing the decision, Leikvold soberly said, "Applicants should be quite healthy; considerable walking is required."

Car Victim Dies After Being Hit By Ex-Girlfriend

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Mack Jernigan, 43, died today after being knocked down and run over by a woman police described as a former girlfriend.

The woman, Beatrice Adams, 33, first was held on an attempted murder charge.

Police said Miss Adams would only say "He took advantage of me." They said the motive may have been a broken love affair because Jernigan had become reconciled with his wife.

Police Sgt. Lon Couste said witnesses told him Miss Adams deliberately swerved her car and hit Jernigan yesterday as he tried to enter his own parked vehicle. He said the witnesses said she turned around, ran over him and then repeated the procedure.

Schoolteacher Convicted Of Slaying Second Wife

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Almost 48 hours after it received the case, a District Court jury last night convicted James V. Alexander, 48, of a second-degree murder in the death of his second wife Barbara, 24.

The body was dug from the basement floor of Alexander's home nearly 2½ years after she disappeared.

The husky former Casper, Wyo., schoolteacher faces a penalty of 20 years to life.

Alexander appeared stunned and solemn as Dist. Judge Sam Thompson read the verdict at the end of a 15-day trial.

Prosecutor Raymond Whitaker had asked the death penalty in closing arguments Monday, shortly before the jury of seven men and five women was given the

4 Bodies Recovered In Bomber Crash

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A Lincoln Air Force Base B47 Stratojet bomber crashed last night. A state safety patrolman said four bodies were recovered. Names were withheld. A B47 normally carries three or four crewmen. The crash occurred 10 miles northwest of Lincoln and less than a dozen miles from a farm where four Lincoln base fliers were killed in another B47 crash April 6. Eyewitness said the plane last night exploded after hitting the ground and burned. Those who witnessed the April 6 crash said they thought the plane exploded in air.

U. S. Chamber Sets Ballot On Joining Trade Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rejecting a direct convention vote, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce set in motion today a referendum among its 4,100 affiliates on whether this country should join the Organization for Trade Cooperation. By a 227-163 tally, voting delegates to the Chamber's 44th annual convention declined last night to act on a resolution which would have endorsed American entry into the 35-nation OTC. In so doing, they overrode the recommendations of their 22-member Policy Committee and turned a deaf ear to an indirect plea from President Eisenhower. OTC has been proposed as an administrative office for the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade (GATT). Congress has never formally approved U.S. participation in GATT, and some members oppose joining the OTC. The Chamber's action means that it probably will not be able to go on record concerning OTC before Congress acts on the controversial question. The fight to save the resolution endorsing OTC was led by William Blackie, chairman of the Chamber's Foreign Commerce Committee and executive vice president of the Caterpillar Tractor Co., Peoria, Ill.

Whooping Crane Lays An Egg

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Josephine made big news in the zoological world Saturday when she laid an egg. Supt. George Douglass of Audubon Park strutted like a new papa and told newsmen the event demonstrated that whooping cranes can breed in captivity. Josephine and Crip, her mate, are two of the 28 whooping cranes remaining in the world, Douglass said, and the first to produce an egg in captivity. Josephine added egg No. 2 to the nest yesterday while a photographer was waiting around for a picture of the first.

Postmen Fight Fire With Fire

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The best protection against unfriendly dogs, reports Postmaster Kenneth R. Hammaker, is a bigger dog. He said Sacramento postmen, victims in 96 biting cases last year, are trying the system. "They make friends with the biggest dog in the neighborhood and get that pooch to go along on their route," he said. There's a lot of barking, but no biting.

Russians Accuse Laborites Of Spiking United Front

LONDON (AP)—Pravda today accused leaders of the British Labor party of picking a quarrel with Nikita Khrushchev in an attempt to head off the formation of an international Communist-Socialist united front. Khrushchev, head of the Soviet Communist party, got into a row with Laborite leaders last week when he and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin were visiting Britain. The British party leaders suggested that Jews and Socialists were being persecuted behind the Iron Curtain and asked the Communist leader to help free those imprisoned. Khrushchev angrily brushed aside the suggestions as "non-sense."

Fraud Alleged In Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Keefe Brasselle has accused his wife of obtaining a divorce last March 14 through fraud, and he wants her interlocutory decree set aside. Brasselle, in a petition filed yesterday in Superior Court, charged that he returned from New York last January for what he thought would be reconciliation talks but instead was served divorce papers by his wife Norma, 29.

Laundry Recovers $1,800 In Pocket

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (AP)—Do you leave coins and other items in the pockets of garments sent to the cleaners? If so, don't feel bad. A man here left $1,800 in a suit coat pocket. A shocked cleaning shop clerk found the wad and returned it to the patron. The shop withheld the patron's name because "it might prove embarrassing."

Rationing Of Sugar Had Its Start 14 Years Ago

By DON HENRY
Some joked about it; some griped. Others said it was their duty as patriotic citizens; many claimed they could not get by on their share. But they all got in on the act 14 years ago Friday, no matter what their attitude. That was the day the county started registering for sugar rations.

May 5 was the day rationing actually began, but the population started registering May 4, and stores had been instructed not to sell sugar four days earlier. Elementary schools were closed here on Monday and Tuesday (May 4 and 5) so the schools could be used as registering centers. Teachers handled the registration, with Superintendent W. C. Blankenship directing the campaign here. Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent, directed the county-wide registration.

At that time, R. F. Robbins was serving as ration board chairman. The entire sugar rationing program was initiated when the county started hoarding the supply, which was growing shorter monthly from the size of import shipments.

Uncle Ray:
Aztec Capital Fell Again To Spaniards

By RAMON COFFMAN
Cortez and his soldiers were driven out of Mexico City 436 years ago. When a new ruler took the place of Montezuma II, the Aztecs felt that they had the upper hand. With some of their number dead, and many wounded, the Spaniards tramped to an area of huge cypress trees. Here they camped for a time.

Seated below a cypress tree, Cortez brooded over his failure to hold Mexico City.

On a July day in the same year, a battle was fought on a nearby plain. This time the Spaniards won a victory. Going to the headquarters of friendly Indians (who were enemies of the Aztecs) Cortez obtained the help of many warriors. With these, and with his own surviving soldiers, he marched back to Mexico City. The Aztecs defended their city bravely, but it fell to Cortez a year and a month after the Spaniards were driven away.

Q. Did Cortez live in Mexico until his death?
A. No, he returned to Spain at the age of 54, and remained there for the last eight years of his life. He died near the city of Seville.

Q. Did Mexico prove important to the Spanish government?
A. Yes, it became the most important part of New Spain, which included the islands of the West Indies, as well as Mexico and other land on the mainland. Galleons carried many millions of dollars worth of gold and silver from Mexico to Spain. Later, after the Incas were defeated, vast riches were opened to the Spaniards in Peru.

Gets Allotment For Tourist Bait

CUBA, Ala. (AP)—A service station operator whose cotton patch was widely publicized last year is ready to plant his 1956 crop. But this time Joe B. Killian has a federal allotment. Killian's patch is beside his service station. He planted it last year to attract tourists. Killian wrote Secretary of Agriculture Benson when agriculture agents ordered him to pay a $6 fine for planting the 17-row patch without a government permit. He paid the fine and left the cotton in the patch for tourists to pick. Much of the cotton was still in the boll when the 1955 crop was plowed under this spring.

Pays $200 For Driving Into Prop

DENVER (AP)—A 21-year-old motorist who drove through the whirling propeller of a parked airliner last March 11 was fined $200 in Traffic Court yesterday. Bryce L. Bredehoff, a civilian clerk at Lowry Air Force Base, was convicted of reckless driving and destroying city and private property. Police said he ran his car through a fence surrounding Stapleton Airfield and onto a runway where a giant Trans-World Airways plane was warming up. The propeller cut huge slices in the car but Bredehoff emerged with only head cuts. He testified he had attended a party and remembered nothing of the incident.

More Vets In Army Than Animals

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army's Veterinary Corps now has more men than horses and mules, including three horses on the retired rolls. These statistics were presented to the House Appropriations Committee, which made them public today during hearings on the 1957 military budget. Estimated manpower of Veterinary Corps—466, of which 332 are assigned to food inspection. Number of horses owned by the Army—124, plus 3 in retirement at no cost to the government. Number of Army mules—314.

Sanford Freed On Election Law Count

AUSTIN (U.P.)—The Court of Criminal Appeals has ordered Vernon Sanford, general manager of the Texas Press Assn., discharged from the threat of prosecution on charges he violated the Texas election code.

The court said two separate laws, one passed in 1919 and one in 1952, would apply to the alleged offense on which indictments against Sanford were based. Sanford was indicted in Waco.

The two laws fix different penalties for commission of the unlawful acts charged—relating to expenditures of money in behalf of political candidates.

The court said it is clear that because of the conflict, "no definite penalty" is fixed and therefore both statutes are invalid.

The court said its ruling made it unnecessary to pass on constitutionality of the section of the 1952 election law under which Sanford was charged.

The court heard arguments April 19 on the habeas corpus hearing for Sanford, indicted Feb. 29 in Waco.

Sanford was charged with making illegal contributions to Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's 1954 campaign. The two indictments charged Sanford spent $75, on two Ramsey advertisements in the Waco Tribune-Herald.

The latest statute forbids an individual to spend more than $25 on a candidate unless the money is donated as a campaign contribution and reported by the candidate.

The 1919 statute set the amount at $10. It also provided a jail sentence.

"One statute makes lawful that which the other makes unlawful," the court held in an opinion by Judge Lloyd Davidson.

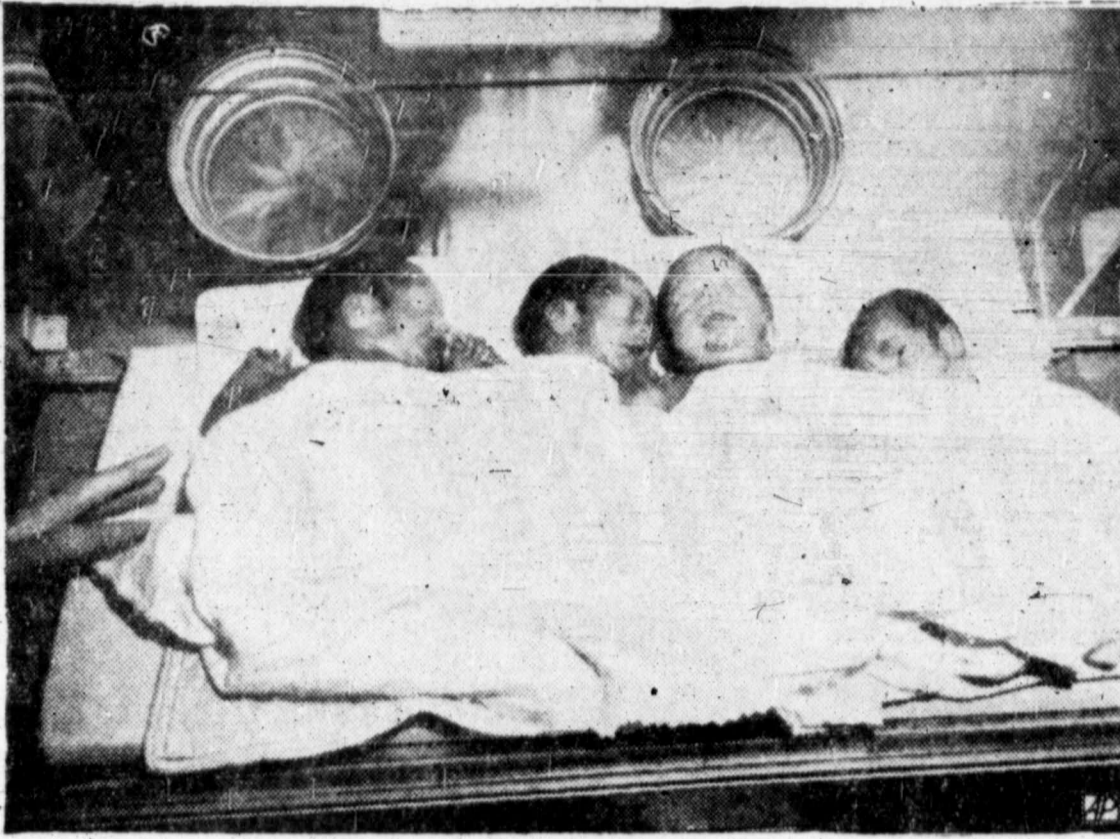

"It is apparent, therefore, that the two statutes are in irreconcilable conflict, both as to offense denounced and penalties applied to a violation thereof."

"It follows that there is no definite penalty fixed by law for the commission of the unlawful acts charged. It is apparent therefore, that neither of the two statutes is valid. Both are invalid."

Ramsey has said he had no knowledge of the ads and did not authorize them.

Seeks Re-Election

AUSTIN (U.P.)—John White said today he would seek re-election as state agriculture commissioner.

Quadruplet Girls Born

The four Hunter sisters are "doing nicely" in their incubator at Methodist Hospital in Dallas. The quads were born prematurely Monday night and Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hunter. The lineup includes Marie Gay, 3 pounds; Marilyn Kay, 2 pounds 11 ounces; Alvie Max, 3 pounds 3 ounces; and Melanie Fay, 2 pounds 1 ounce.

Editor, NAACP Official, Vie In Princeton Debate

PRINCETON, N. J. (U.P.)—The editor of a South Carolina newspaper said at a symposium last night that Southern white people have a "right" to separate education because of "social differences which cannot be bridged."

Another speaker, an official of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said school segregation only postpones "the final facing of reality."

Thomas R. Waring, editor of the Charleston, S. C., News and Courier, defending the concept of "separate but equal" educational facilities at the Princeton University meeting said:

"It is unfashionable these days to suggest there are cultural differences that can't be bridged. The Southern whites demand the right to bring up their children in the same culture they were raised in."

Waring and Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, were cordial but cool as they faced each other before an audience of some 250 students, faculty members and townspeople.

Wilkins said he was "deeply hurt" by the statement of a University of Alabama student, putting the State of Alabama first and the United States second. The statement was made on television during the "Miss Lucy" controversy at the university, Wilkins said.

The NAACP official said he fights for "Southern white boys" as much as for Southern Negro boys.

Romans To Begin Siesta Season

ROME (U.P.)—Most Rome stores go on summer hours today to allow for the customary Italian hot-weather siesta.

Opening at 7 a. m., the shops will be closed from 1:30 p. m. to 5.

It's not so good in winter. The noon interval then is only from 1:30 to 4.

'Storm Signals' On Inflation Noted

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Board Chairman Ray D. Murphy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York said today, "Typical storm signals of inflation are flying."

Urging government action to hold down rising prices, Murphy suggested in an address prepared for the final day of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce's annual meeting that Congress should arm the Federal Reserve Board with standby power to control consumer installment credit and home mortgage terms.

No Fuss—Just Touch The Switch

Warm weather dining on the terrace is fun for everybody, especially the cook, if she has, like Mrs. Arch Carson, an electric rotisserie. Mrs. Carson is skewering shishkabob while daughter Judy invites guests to help themselves. The rotisserie is one of many electric "homemaker-savers" to make summer more enjoyable. Get ideas from other local women on this page. (Photo by Keith McMillan).

Novel Rotisserie Tops List Of Handy Kitchen Appliances

An electric novelty in the Arch Carson kitchen is a rotisserie. Mrs. Carson's Christmas gift.

Besides one-slice toasters, instant coffee makers and electric saucepans, rotisseries are one of the newest types of appliances designed for the homemaker.

Its use? Primarily, a rotisserie is a broiler with a power-driven spit for impaling roasts, steaks, fowl. But it can also be used as an oven and is equipped with a barbecue rack and baking platter. Everything lifts out for easy cleaning.

Mrs. Carson is anxious to move the rotisserie out on the terrace for summer entertaining. A whole meal, from meat to biscuits, can be prepared in the appliance while guests watch through the glass window, which "is half the fun," says Mrs. Carson.

Her rotisserie has three heat speeds besides the broiling speed and is also equipped with an automatic timer.

The revolving skewer is an inspiration for shishkabobs. Here is one Mrs. Carson enjoys putting together for guests:

VEGETABLE MEDLEY SHISKABOB

6 medium potatoes
6 small onions
6 small fresh tomatoes
Cooking oil
1 teaspoon sweet basil
Salt

Parboil unpeeled potatoes 15 minutes; drain and peel. Parboil peeled onions 10 minutes; drain. Peel and peel tomatoes. Alternate vegetables on spit and fasten between skewer prongs. Brush well with seasoned oil. Fasten in rotisserie. Baste with oil mixture every 15 minutes. Mrs. Carson lets the shishkabob revolve about half an hour. Then it is ready to be served on a platter.

Another company special is this:

HAWAIIAN SPARERIBS

2-3 pounds spareribs cut in 1-inch lengths, or 1-2 ribs wide
2 teaspoons salt
2 cups water
2-3 cup soy sauce

Bring all ingredients except sugar to boil in kettle. Lower heat and simmer 1 hour. Remove ribs and add sugar. Cook down until thickened.

Bean Pots Serve Hot, Hearty Food

Electric bean pots are little kitchen jewels that fix a hearty meal for you or just serve as attractive containers for keeping food hot.

For baked beans with an oven-cooked flavor try this:

OLD-FASHIONED BAKED BEANS

2 cups great northern beans
5 cups water
1 small onion, finely chopped
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 thick slices salt pork, fat bacon, or fresh pork, cut in pieces (3/4 lb.)
1/4 cup molasses
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 cup catsup
1/4 to 1 cup bean liquid, as desired

Wash and sort beans, then place in bean pot. Add water, onion, salt and meat. Plug in bean pot and cook overnight (about 9 to 10 hours).

Drain beans, add seasonings and bean liquid, as desired. Blend well. Arrange a few slices of meat on top of beans. Yield, about 2 quarts.

Freezer, Mixer Used For Peach Ice Cream

Summertime is ice cream time in the Lyndell Ashley home, 1225 E. 16th.

Mrs. Ashley finds her electric mixer an essential for the cool milk dessert she likes to fix. With the help of her mixer and an elec-

Webb Family Has Treats In Blender

An electric blender comes in handy for treats for all ages in the Gilbert Webb family.

Paul, 2, and David, 4, and their friends like big glasses of foamy Banana Milk Shake. Their parents serve spicy Chili Dip for entertaining older guests.

Mrs. Webb warns against filling the blender past the limit—a strain on the motor. This is the way she mixes her boys' milk shakes.

BANANA MILK SHAKE

1 egg
1 sliced banana
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

This should mix at full speed for about half a minute. The recipe makes a tall glass for each son.

A company dip for corn-chips and toasted tortillas is this:

CHILI DIP

"Combine a small can of drained tomato and green pepper mixture, a can of tomatoes and 1 1/2 pounds of American cheese. Mix in blender about 2 minutes. Mrs. Webb emphasizes that the canned peppers must be drained to keep the dip from being too peppery."

Electric Skillet Made To Order For Casseroles

Electric skillets were made to order for one-dish meals.

Here is a casserole specialty in the kitchen of Mrs. U. E. Dickerts:

HAMBURGER-MACARONI CASSEROLE

2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 pound ground beef
3/4 cups canned tomatoes
1/2 cup celery
1/2 cup green pepper
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 8-ounce package cooked macaroni

Chopped parsley and grated cheese

Preheat electric skillet to 360 degrees. Melt fat then fry onion until brown. Brown hamburger. Pour off excess fat. Add other ingredients and bring to boil. Simmer for 45 minutes at 220 degrees.

Sauerkraut Super Is Fixed Together For Easy Cooking

If your family goes for sauerkraut, try this recipe in your electric skillet:

SKILLET SAUERKRAUT SUPPER

1 1/2 teaspoons bacon drippings
2 pounds sliced Canadian bacon
1 small can sauerkraut
One-eighth teaspoon dry mustard
1 large apple

1 tablespoon brown sugar
In skillet, melt drippings over medium heat. Pan fry Canadian bacon until light brown. Remove bacon. Turn sauerkraut into skillet. Add mustard and mix well. Arrange bacon on sauerkraut.

Core and cut apple into thick slices. Place apple slices on bacon and sprinkle with brown sugar. Cover skillet and cook over low heat 20 minutes, or until apple slices are done. Serve piping hot. Serves 2.

Taffy Shake Calls For Dark Molasses

This is a rich drink you can whip up in your blender:

TAFFY MILK SHAKE

For each serving—1 tablespoon dark molasses, 1 cup homogenized milk, 1/4 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder.

Deep Fry Almonds Spread On Mustard

Blanched almonds, fried in deep fat and then sprinkled with salt, make a delicious snack.

Spread hamburgers with prepared yellow mustard before broiling in rotisserie.

Use only 3 eggs in this recipe since with Clabber Girl Baking Powder it will be light and fluffy as with many more eggs. Choose your own filling, if you wish, instead of grape or apple jelly. There's no substitute, here, for your own baking skill.

LEMON JELLY ROLL Yield: 6 to 8 servings

1 cup sifted cake flour
1 1/4 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup beet or cane sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup hot water
Confectioners sugar
1 7-ounce jar grape or apple jelly

Party Goes Native With Nui Niu Meano

Use the Hawaiian motif when giving a party—whether for an entire meal or just a dessert.

It will give added sparkle to the occasion and a feeling of informality. And what could say "Hawaii" quicker than this exotic Nui Niu Meano—"Big Coconut Cake"—piled high with luscious Butter-Cream Frosting and sprinkled lavishly between layers and on top and sides with snowy moist shredded coconut. Arrange a real flower lei around cake, and fill coconut shell bowls with after-dinner mints and nuts from Hawaii.

For the cake and frosting, here

Wake Up To Meal Of Chicken, Gravy

Fried chicken, cream gravy, American fried potatoes plus jam, jelly, honey or preserves, was once the favorite breakfast in the South and Southwest.

But the fast pace of modern times and the advent of prepared foods, has made this morning treat something that is considered too much trouble or time consuming for the modern housewife to prepare.

Now, with a new chicken product and an electric skillet or deep fryer, it is as easy to have chicken for breakfast as it is to cook bacon and eggs. This new product, Youngblood's breaded chicken, takes only 20 minutes to cook. It is seasoned, breaded and battered, then quick frozen. The pieces are dropped into pre-heated frying fat straight from the package while frozen.

In 15 to 20 minutes the chicken is done and ready to eat.

is the recipe you will want to use.

WONDERFUL LAYER CAKE

1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups C and H pure Cane Granulated or Superfine Dessert Sugar

4 eggs, separated
3 cups cake flour, sifted
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond (or lemon) extract

Cream butter; add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks one at a time, and beat thoroughly after addition of each. Sift flour, measure, sift again with baking powder. Mix vanilla and almond extract with milk.

Add dry ingredients and milk alternatingly to creamed mixture, beating gently after each addition. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Spread batter in three 9" round layer pans and bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (350°F.). (You may halve the recipe and bake in two 8" round layer pans.)

BUTTER CREAM FROSTING

(Smooth, Rich and Creamy)
1 pound (4 cups) C and H pure Cane Powdered Sugar
6 tablespoons soft butter or margarine

1 egg white, unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt
2 to 3 tablespoons cream
1 can moist coconut, or 1 fresh coconut grated

Sift sugar; add about 1-3 of it to the soft or melted butter and cream well. Beat in egg white, vanilla and salt. Gradually, add rest of the sugar alternately with the cream. Beat hard.

Spread between layers and on top and sides of 9" cake. Sprinkle fine-grated or chopped coconut between layers, and lavishly cover top and sides with the larger shreds.

British Commoners Invade Sport Of Horseback Riding

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Ann Kendrick is 21, a secretary in a London office who lives in a combination bedroom-sitting room apartment. Each week she tries to make one penny do the work of two.

But that doesn't stop Ann and thousands of young people like her from taking up sports' once regarded as the exclusive preserves of the well-to-do.

Ann is anxious to become a good horsewoman. Instruction in London would cost $2.10 an hour—too costly for her. So she got in touch with the state-sponsored Central Council of Physical Recreation. Now she is going on a week's holiday on the picturesque Suffolk coast to learn all about horse riding and management.

Daily instruction, meals, accommodation—the whole works, will cost $22.

Between early May and late September about 20,000 Britons will be joining Ann on similar holidays. They will get instruction in golf, yachting, mountaineering, skiing, fencing and 40 odd other sports. The CCPR arranges them all and none costs more than $33 a week.

It is part of a national campaign to make Britons fitter. The Duke of Edinburgh, whose sports interests range from water skiing to polo, is president of the CCPR.

Representatives from 190 voluntary organizations make up the council. The Ministry of Education backs it to the tune of $224,000 a year. Contributions in boost that to a yearly income of $420,000.

Politics is A Family Affair

SAN MARINO, Calif. (AP)—Politics is a family affair for the Sobieskis of San Marino.

John Sobieski is running for Congress; his wife Marilyn is running for the California Assembly.

As of now, they stand a fighting, though outside, chance to duplicate the 1954 coup of another Western political couple, the Neubergera of Oregon. Richard Neuberger won a U.S. Senate post; his wife Maurine was elected state representative.

Like the Neubergera, the Sobieskis are Democrats. What makes their task extra formidable is that they're running in a district where Republicans hold an estimated 5,000-vote registration edge.

Sobieski, 49, Los Angeles-born, Harvard-trained attorney, is making his second try to represent the 23rd Congressional District. In 1954 he lost almost 2-1 to Rep. Pat Hillings.

Texas Plant Life Goes To Potomac

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's many a mile from the Red River to the Potomac but some transplanted Texas plant life is thriving here, making transplanted Texans feel more at home.

It takes skilled horticulturists to see that some species of Texas flora survive in this cooler and wetter climate. The National Botanic Garden has some of the best. Their services are available to congressmen.

The men who handle such things are now nursing a mesquite tree sent to Rep. Ikard by Mrs. Gray England of the Wichita Falls Garden Club.

When it arrived it was turned over to the Botanic Garden men specializing in the planning and care of trees on the Capitol grounds. After a few months care, with proper attention to temperatures and humidity at the Botanic Garden, it will be set out on the Capitol grounds.

The oldest Texas trees on the Capitol grounds are two pecans, set out in 1913 by the late Rep. James Slayden of San Antonio.

On the sloping lawns just below the House wing, these trees now are about 20 inches in diameter.

Not all the Texas horticultural activity here takes place outdoors. In the office of Rep. Jim Wright are several varieties of cacti.

Last October Mrs. Opal Belen, one of Wright's secretaries, visited Texas and was struck with the beauty and abundance of cacti, yucca, prickly pear and related plants in the counties near Fort Worth. With the help of her boss, she had several varieties excavated and airmailed to Washington. After two weeks attention by the Botanic Garden experts, they were transferred to Wright's office. They are doing well—atop hot air registers and other warm places in the room.

Rep. W. R. Poage, vice chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, does some gardening for the fun of it, and with success. He has tried in vain to grow some bluebonnets from around Temple and Belton.

Teacher Barred From Bar Work

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Teacher Theodore Colton, 27, can return to his science classroom at Corwin Junior High School this fall if he wishes, but he'll have to mix his drinks at home.

Colton, a science teacher here for three years, has tended bar nights for two years at a hotel cocktail lounge. Friends say he wanted to supplement his teaching salary, estimated at $4,300 a year.

The School Board came under heavy fire from teachers, students and parents after three of its members voted April 10 not to offer Colton a new contract. Members of the Pueblo Teachers Foundation began a resignation-a-day campaign in protest.

'Last Stitch' Tells Story Of Family Medic

GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

Remember the family doctor who sat at the kitchen table years ago mixing his own prescription powders and adding a pinch of horse sense here and there just to be sure Sister got over scarlet fever?

That's the story Dr. William Crosthwait tells in "The Last Stitch," just published about his life as a Texas country doctor.

At 83, Dr. Crosthwait is still a practicing physician and surgeon in Waco—not quite ready to take that "last stitch."

"It is said 'Youth must be served.' Why? Isn't there enough to go around?"

That's Dr. Crosthwait's attitude toward his decades of doctoring that took him from kitchen-table surgery in remote Central Texas communities to high-powered international medical conferences.

"When I hear people talk about the 'good old days' I wonder what that they mean. I'll take today," says Doc, who at 68 tried to volunteer for war combat service. "X X In my own case, I consider my most fruitful years from age 68 to 78."

Helping Dr. Crosthwait tell this story is a remarkable medical career is a skilled handler of words himself—Ernest Fischer, Associated Press man in New Orleans and former European correspondent.

"The Last Stitch" is the result of a collaboration—literally—Dr. Crosthwait was the obstetrician when Fischer arrived "a-screaming and a-kickin'."

Of his entire career, Dr. Crosthwait says he remembers most vividly a tumor operation he performed at a Texas ranch house soon after beginning practice at Holland, Tex. in 1898. Outside most of the community gathered under a big cottonwood tree.

"One of the toughies, I noticed, had a lariat and was twirling it around rather playfully. X X I heard him say 'if anything happens to Aunt Bess, Doc done took his last stitch.'"

The operation was a success and as payment for the surgery Dr. Crosthwait took a buggy horse and the lariat the cowboy had been twirling.

Dr. Crosthwait was placed in charge of a relief train to Galveston after the 1900 hurricane. Vividly the physician describes the wreckage, the looting, the burial crews, and most of all the lack of organization. Later he compares the Galveston hurricane in 1900 with the Waco tornado in 1953.

"In the Galveston hurricane I am sure that many persons trapped under debris died many hours later without hope of rescue. Rescue was rare, and relief was slow in reaching the island where the facilities for taking care of the injured were limited. In Waco the hospitals very easily absorbed all those who needed hospital care. Modern drugs and technique saved many lives."

Throughout the book Dr. Crosthwait recounts a full life. His son, Robert, completed medical school and joined him in medical practice in Waco. A grandson, also Robert, is now a freshman medical student at Baylor.
