Red Press Joins Furor Over Disappearance Of Skin Diver

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet press added its voice today to the outcry over the mysterious disappearance of a British skin diver near a Soviet cruiser in Portsmouth harbor. The Communist newspaper Pravda and the Soviet government organ Izvestia charged the frogman was engaged in "shameful" spying.

Lionel (Buster) Crab, 46, a retired naval commander, vanished April 19 on an underwater mission near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze, anchored in Portsmouth Harbor. The ship had brought Soviet Premier Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev here for a 10-day visit and was waiting to take them home.

The Admiralty announced only that Crab was missing and presumed dead. His body has not been recovered. British newspapers and Labor members of Parliament demanded further explanation, and Prime Minister Eden agreed yesterday to a House of Commons debate on the case Monday. Dispatches from Moscow said the Soviet newspapers splashed two-column stories on the frogman's disappearance. "The shameful operation of underwater espionage was directed against those who came to the country on a friendly visit," said Pravda, "and does no honor to its organizers and cannot but arouse legitimate concern of the British as well as the Soviet public."

Senate Passes Flood Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government would sell flood insurance and pay 40 per cent of the cost under a bill passed by the Senate last night. A 61-7 vote sent the measure to the House, where the Banking committee has considered several similar measures without yet taking action on them. The government subsidy is designed to offset the high premium charges which private insurance companies say they would have to charge for such policies because of the risk of flood damages concentrated in limited areas. A series of disastrous New England floods increased pressure for federal action.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would require that states share the cost of the subsidy after June 30, 1959. That provision, asked by President Eisenhower, was approved by a 39-31 vote over protest of Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.) that it "virtually crippled the measure." A Banking subcommittee headed by Lehman had rejected the state-sharing provision in drafting the bill for Senate consideration, and Saltonstall (R-Mass.) contended the three-year period would give states a chance to amend their laws and constitutions to assume a share if they wish. The bill would authorize both direct federal insurance and reinsurance of risks assumed by commercial companies.

CAA Engineer Rejects Plan For Lamesa-Dawson Airport

LAMESA — A Civil Aeronautics engineer from the district office in Fort Worth spent several hours Thursday in consultation with city, county and Chamber of Commerce officials on the proposed Lamesa-Dawson County airport. He told the group that the tract on which option was taken was not sufficient for the needs of a secondary airport such as the CAA would approve for the city and county. He tentatively approved, instead of the 42 acres, an alternate plan which would consist of about 54 acres. Aubrey Boswell, county judge, said the tentative plan proposed by the engineer called for a strip a mile long, 600 feet wide on the south and 300 feet wide at the north end. Both Boswell and City Manager Carroll Taylor emphasized no one had given definite approval to the project as outlined. They said that city and county officials will consider it at their next meetings. The owner of the tract, Ray Orson, was called into the meeting, as was Jodie Vaughn, chairman of the aviation committee for the Chamber.

Walker Convicted Of Rape, Abduction

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A jury last night convicted Jack James Walker, 25, of twice kidnaping and raping Miss California of last year's Miss Universe Pageant—now Mrs. Donna Schurr Brett, 19. The seven men and five women had deliberated eight hours before returning their verdict. Walker, a husky auto upholstery worker, sat pale-faced and some of the women jurors wiped their eyes as the court clerk read the verdict. His wife Judy, who is expecting their second child, burst into tears.

Walker's attorney, Public Defender Nick Meyer, said he would move for a new trial. A deputy sheriff handcuffed Walker, who has been free on $5,000 bail throughout the trial, and took him to jail. Superior Judge John Shea raised bail to $10,000 after the verdict. The penalty for either kidnaping or rape is 1 to 50 years in prison on each count. Walker was convicted also of burglarizing the beauty queen's home last Jan. 10—the second time, she testified he abducted and molested her. After the second attack, witnesses said, Walker was chased in a car by Lloyd Brett, 24, until a highway patrolman stopped both autos. Two days later Brett married Miss Schurr.

Adlai Charges, Estes Denies GOP Fund Aid

By The Associated Press
Adlai Stevenson says he has learned Republican money was used to help defeat him in the Minnesota Democratic presidential primary, and may "turn up in Florida and California." But Sen. Estes Kefauver, who upset Stevenson in Minnesota last March, said he knows "nothing about Republican contributions to my campaign," adding: "It looks as if Mr. Stevenson is preparing an alibi." Both Stevenson and Kefauver are combing the Los Angeles area for votes in advance of the vital California primary June 5—their last direct test before the Democratic nominating convention in August. Before their California convention, the two rival presidential aspirants also will clash in the Oregon primary May 18 and in the Florida primary May 29. It was during a speech to a meeting of labor leaders yesterday that Stevenson said he had been informed that what he described as "heavy financial contributors" to the GOP had raised in one night "all the Republican money needed to defeat me in Minnesota." Stevenson, saying he was certain Kefauver "knew nothing of this," did not name any of the alleged contributors. "If this report is true," Stevenson said, "it appears that the Republican leaders who helped elect President Eisenhower in 1952 are now trying to dictate the choice of the Democratic candidate this year. "If that is so, it is not unlikely that their money has all turned up in Florida and California."

In their campaigning, the opposing candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination continued their assaults on the Eisenhower administration.

Stevenson said he was certain Kefauver "knew nothing of this," did not name any of the alleged contributors. "If this report is true," Stevenson said, "it appears that the Republican leaders who helped elect President Eisenhower in 1952 are now trying to dictate the choice of the Democratic candidate this year. PRESIDENT

Airport, Industry Major Objectives

This is one of the objectives of the Chamber of Commerce, being presented in The Herald as a Chamber of Commerce Week feature.

Two major targets occupy the attention of Ira L. Thurman as president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

During his year as head of the organization, Thurman would like to see 1) a civil airport come into being, and 2) a solid start made on the program of an industrial foundation.

He has more than reasonable grounds for hope on both scores. Already petitions are being circulated for an airport bond issue. The industrial foundation has been set up with Leroy Tidwell as its head, and machinery is being oiled to get this program under way.

Pointing to the recent manufacturer's exhibit, Thurman observed that while it did not nearly include all the local processors, it did indicate how enterprising local people were doing something about industry on their own. Any type of industry, large or small, is a major objective he added.

Thurman is a long-time backer of the Chamber of Commerce. Before he was elected president, he had served two terms as vice president and treasurer, and several other times he was on the board. Besides his active interest in the chamber, he also has devoted considerable time to other civic affairs. For two years he was a member of the school board and served a term as secretary and as president. Since 1942 he has been U. S. (War) Savings Bond county chairman and for the past years district chairman. He has been district officer in the Texas Bankers Association, finance officer of the American Legion, secretary of the Elks, treasurer of the Howard Glasscock polo chapter, past president and secretary of the Rotary club (and 100 per cent attendee since 1937), member of the First Methodist board of stewards, member of the Suez Shrine Temple, a avid baseball fan and ardent golfer. Thurman was born at Rock Springs but was reared at Glen Cove in Coleman County. After graduation from Talpa High School, he attended Howard Payne College, worked in Ballinger, came to Big Spring after serving as a corporal in World War I. He wed the former Doris Menger in 1922, lived a year in Ranger where he was with a bank, helped organize the Bank of America. He returned here in 1929 as an official of the West Texas National Bank and when it merged with the First National in 1934 he became cashier and a director. Currently he is vice president. Thurman and the executive committee of the Chamber have worked out a busy schedule of activities for the year. There is one other incentive for making this an outstanding year, he says. This is the last year of J. H. (Jimmy) Greene as manager, and Thurman wants more than anything else to make it the best one of 20 for Jimmy.

Mental Hospitals Survey Under Way

AUSTIN — A long awaited survey of Texas State Mental Hospitals by the American Psychiatric Association got under way this week when Dr. David C. Gaede, Washington, D. C., began a study of Austin State Hospital.

Dr. Gaede is on the staff of the Central Inspection Board of APA, official accrediting agency for mental hospitals in the United States and Canada.

Dr. Rawley E. Chambers, director of psychiatry, Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, said the board filed a request for the survey about two years ago. The six state mental institutions will be visited individually on stand-by in patient care, established by the psychiatric association. Three ratings are possible: Approved, in which APA minimum standards are met; conditional approval, where certain lacks are found and upon their correction reinspection may be requested; and not approved, in which case a full new survey can be made on request.

Primarily, Dr. Gaede said, a hospital is judged on housing, food, nursing and medical staff, considered basic in patient care. However, such other services as occupational therapy, recreation and vocational rehabilitation are considered.

Dr. Chambers said if the Texas mental hospitals meet the APA standards, the recognition should prove helpful in attracting skilled personnel, for training, research and medical care needed throughout the state hospital system. Following his survey in Austin State Hospital, Dr. Gaede will conduct similar studies in San Antonio, Terrell, Rusk, Wichita Falls and Big Spring State Hospitals. Dr. Chambers announced.

George Tells Decision

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) reads a letter from President Eisenhower at a news conference in Washington at which George announced he will not run for re-election. In the letter, Eisenhower offered George an appointment as personal representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Mrs. George stands beside him.

Billion-Dollar Boost In Ag Budget Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee recommended today that Congress boost by more than one billion dollars the budget of the Agriculture Department as compared with this year.

Most of this would go to make up losses on price support programs.

The committee sent to the House for consideration next week a bill to provide $1,983,512,568 in new money to finance farm programs in the bookkeeping year which starts July 1.

In a formal report accompanying the bill, the committee complained of "trying times for American agriculture" and said that for three years prior to 1956 President Eisenhower had urged what it termed drastic cuts in department funds.

In all three years, the committee added, Congress restored most of the funds cut from the department in the new bill, it cut his requests slightly.

For regular programs of the department, the committee recommended $783,061,708, a budget cut of $3,787,700; for special activities, $271,163,682, no reduction, and for corporate expenses, $929,287,178, no reduction.

The corporate expenses and the special activities allotments represent almost all the increase over current year appropriations of $83 million dollars. Most of this money goes to the Commodity Credit Corp. to offset heavy losses in administering price support and surplus disposal programs during the present year.

In addition to the cash allotments, the bill would authorize department agencies to make repayable loans up to $359,300,000 during the year. The current year figure is $338 million. These loans are made to farmers and other rural residents for electricity and telephone service and to obtain credit for other farm projects.

Should additional lending authority be needed, the committee approved a contingency loan fund of $50 million dollars.

The committee recommended numerous switches in allotments for various department activities, but the net result of the changes was a cut of $3,787,700 from amounts Eisenhower requested.

For the soil conservation, the committee recommended $97,232,000, a budget increase of $5,085,000 for the school lunch program, $100 million dollars, a $16,800,000 boost; for research, $131,069,708, a cut of $10,759,000; for the extension service, $33,265,000, a $565,000 cut; for the marketing service, $127,109,000, an increase of $16,083,000.

For payments to farmers under agricultural conservation programs for the 1956 crop year, the committee authorized the usual 250 million. The actual money must be appropriated next year.

It added $50,000 to the bill to provide new market services at Fort Smith, Ark., and Sioux Falls, S. D., and a grain and rice reporting service in Mississippi.

Individual construction projects approved included $500,000 for a new research laboratory at Winter Haven, Fla.; $150,000 for a poultry brooder house at Beltsville, Md.; $300,000 for a seed storage plant at a location not designated, and $200,000 to start a horticultural soil and water research laboratory in the Rio Grande Valley in Texas.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A mysterious infection has killed three babies at Los Angeles General Hospital and 28 other infants have been exposed to it.

The origin of the illness is unknown. He said it apparently is a bacterial infection from some type of staphylococcus.

Baptists Told Alternatives In School Overflow

DALLAS (AP)—Baptist educators were told last night they have four alternatives as the Texas college population promises to overflow the $75,000 mark by 1970. That would be 2½ times the current enrollment.

"We can do nothing and limit our enrollments," suggested Dr. Harold Haswell, executive coordinator of the Texas Baptist Education Commission.

"We can increase our facilities—something that would require a 30 million dollar dormitory outlay alone.

"We could open new institutions in the metropolitan areas and turn our backs on our present residential-type institutions.

"Or we could turn to a dual program—establishment of commuter-type facilities in metropolitan areas and continuance of our current program."

The commission is considering a recommendation to the Baptist General Convention of Texas, meeting in Dallas June 4-5, to establish metropolitan educational facilities in Dallas and Houston.

All nine Baptist colleges in Texas are in areas containing only 7 per cent of the state's population, and 7.8 per cent of the state's scholastics.

Haswell said that if Baptist schools were set up in four heavily-populated counties—Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant—Baptist institutions would have a total availability of 40 per cent of all the school-age children in the state.

He said the 11 Texas Baptist colleges have spent more than 100 million dollars for education since 1946.

Chance Seen For Social Security Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today "I think we have a better chance on the (Senate) floor than we did in the committee" to win approval of new social security benefits for women and disabled workers.

George referred to the action of the Finance Committee yesterday in striking from a House bill a provision to give benefits to persons totally disabled at age 50 or above, and in modifying sharply a plan to lower from 65 to 62 the retirement age for women under social security.

The committee voted to give the benefit of the 62 retirement age only to widows, leaving it at 65 for working women and wives of retired workers.

The committee meets again today to try to complete work on the bill and send it to the floor. Up for consideration are about 40 amendments sponsored by various senators on phases of the social security and public assistance programs.

However, only two of these were expected to cause major controversy.

One, introduced by Sen. Long (D-La) with 45 cosponsors, would increase federal funds to the states for grants to needy aged, blind and disabled persons. The other is a food stamp proposal introduced by Sen. Kerr (D-Okl.) with 22 cosponsors.

Both the amendments are opposed by the Eisenhower administration.

LSU Students Fail In Panty Raid

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana State University, which had not decided on disciplinary action for participants of one panty raid, today had no other near-riot to consider.

An estimated 700 men students headed for the women's dormitories last night with plans for a panty raid. Many were dissatisfied with the way Wednesday night's unsuccessful raid was broken up by police, who were forced to use tear gas. That raid also resulted in 42 arrests, 20 of them high school students. LSU took no immediate action on its students.

Police used tear gas again last night to disperse the students who shot blank cartridges, hurled clods of dirt, bricks, iron pipe and rotten eggs, broke windows and exploded firecrackers.

Three were arrested. No injuries were reported.

The outnumbered campus police force was augmented by state troopers, city police and sheriff's officers. The fire department also was called out but it refused to turn water on the students. Fire Chief Robert Bogan said he feared the students would cut the hoses.

Warnings blared out over loudspeakers that the campus would be placed under martial law if the students refused to behave.

But In Dallas, It's Successful

DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist University students, aided by their victims, staged a successful panty raid last night.

About 200 pupils, gathered under a new moon outside two girls' dormitories and set off aerial bombs and firecrackers. The girls rushed to the windows and shouted encouragement to the youths.

House mothers barred the advance. Then a girl tossed an undergarment from a window, and with this token victory, the youths surged on toward sorority row.

House mothers rallied and bolted front doors. The men instituted a flanking attack and slipped in the side doors at the Zeta Tau Alpha house and the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Scampering upstairs, the men gathered in armful of undergarments supplied by coeds.

A policeman was nearly trampled by about 20 youths rushing for the door in the Theta house, but slowed the charge when he pulled a tear gas gun. The students fled out meekly.

Police shoed away students trying to pry open a window at another girls' dormitory. One officer received a bruised shoulder when a coed tossed an unidentified object, rather heavier than a pair of panties, out a window.

Police said they made "about a dozen arrests" but no one was put in jail.

SHAKING HANDS

Utah Firing Squad Executes Pair For 6-Year-Old Slaying

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah — Volunteer firing squads executed two men at dawn today for a murder they committed more than six years ago. The riflemen fired at 5:14 a.m. A doctor pronounced Verne Alfred Brasch and Melvin Leroy Sullivan dead one minute later. Brasch, 30, of Reinbeck, Iowa, and Sullivan, 25, of Kansas City, Mo., were convicted of the Oct. 22, 1949, slaying of a Beaver, Utah, service station attendant. Legal action delayed three previously scheduled executions. The execution was at the Utah State Prison, 20 miles south of Salt Lake City.

Shaking hands betrayed the taut nerves of the two killers as they were strapped, side by side, in execution chairs in the prison compound. A shot of morphine administered by a doctor quieted them. A black hood was placed over the head of each and black heart-shaped targets pinned over their hearts. Deputy Sheriff Charles Wells from the Iron County, where the pair was convicted, read the death warrants. He then asked the condemned men if they had anything to say. They both said, "no."

Wells waved his hat as a signal and 10 rifles — five in each execution squad — cracked in unison. Four bullets drilled into the targets pinned to each of the killers. One rifle in each squad contained a blank shell — no one knew which. The condemned men spent their last day yesterday visiting with friends and relatives. Prison Warden Marcell Graham said they were "gloomy and not too happy."

French Kill 500 Algerian Rebels

ALGIERS, Algeria — Military and unofficial reports indicated today the French have killed at least 500 Algerians this week in their drive to check the new Nationalist offensive against European farms and settlements. Some French newspapers in Algiers estimated rebel losses since last weekend at up to 1,000. The French have admitted only a handful of soldiers killed and slightly more wounded. In addition, 20 European farmers, wives and children were reported slain in western Algeria last weekend in the initial phase of the new Nationalist offensive.

The surge of rebel activity continued unabated. Nationalist bands ranged through the vast central North African territory with torch and submachinegun. The French concentrated on vast military sweeps in western Algeria, where 40 farms were burned early this week, and in the area north of Constantine, east Algeria, where some 45 settlements and farms were attacked Tuesday and Wednesday. The number of rebel dead in the West was put at 300. In the East some 200 were reported killed.

The French army reported clashes with the rebels last night in the mountainous Kabylie region in northeast Algeria and near Algiers itself. The village of Rivet, only 15 miles southeast of Algiers, was under fire for almost an hour. Six rebels were killed in the skirmish. At least seven rebels were reported killed in the scattered Kabylie fighting, where 20 French outposts were attacked yesterday. Another stiff battle was reported in progress near the east Mediterranean port of Philippeville. Rebel losses were described as heavy, but no casualty figures were given.

C-City Chamber Hears Thompson

COLORADO CITY — R. W. Thompson, Big Spring Corder Petroleum Corporation vice president, spoke to Chamber of Commerce members at Civic House in Colorado City Thursday on problems facing the oil industry in the West Texas area. Thompson pointed out that "distress oil" was an immediate problem in Howard, Mitchell and Scurry counties. "This is oil that is being produced without a market in sight. He compared it to farm surplus, explaining that it had become a surplus commodity like cotton or wheat.

He said that one of the reasons for the surplus oil in nearby fields is that many of the old wells in these fields have been given a new pressure fracturing treatment which increases their yield many-fold. He cited the use of foreign gas as another reason for less demand for domestic oil and noted that foreign producers can produce their oil economically enough so that they can sell in East Coast ports for 60 cents a barrel less than domestic production. Thompson was a guest of the Oil Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Reprisal Hanging By Greeks Reported

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Leaflets distributed anonymously in Nicosia today said two British soldiers had been hanged in reprisal for Britain's execution of two Greek Cypriot rebels. The leaflets bore the typed signature of Digenis, leader of the underground Eoka (national organization of Cypriot fighters) movement fighting for union of Cyprus with Greece. They said Cypriots Gordon Hill and Ronnie Shilton were hanged yesterday but did not say where.

Hill was missing from his unit since last November. Eoka had previously claimed it held him prisoner. Shilton has been missing since last month. There have been no previous claims by Eoka about him. The leaflets were thrown about the streets of Nicosia by boys at noon. Eoka's claim was the first sign of reprisal against Britain's hanging yesterday of the two Cypriot rebels — 23-year-olds Michael Karalios and Andreas Demetriou.

Stormy Weather Rakes Mid-U.S.

Stormy weather raked sections of the mid-continent today in the wake of tornadic winds which struck areas in Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas. Tornadoes yesterday skipped across southern Nebraska, striking near three communities. Another twister damaged more than a score of homes, business places and farms in Rushmore, in southwestern Minnesota. No injuries were reported in the tornado-stricken areas. Winds of tornadic velocity, severe thunderstorms and hail storms swept across the eastern sections of Kansas and Nebraska and extreme Western Iowa yesterday afternoon and last night.

Tornadic winds caused minor property damage at Lyons and Cassody, Kan., while farther north in Nebraska twisters skipped across areas near Juniata, Doniphan and Arlington. A violent thunderstorm, with wind gusts up to 92 m.p.h., was reported at Sioux City, Iowa. The thunderstorm belt this morning extended from central Iowa northward through Minnesota.

Strong southerly winds continued in the central and southern plains, causing blowing dust in north central Oklahoma and central Kansas. Strong winds yesterday swirled dry topsoil from the Texas Panhandle to southern Nebraska. A wet belt during the night extended from northern California to Canada and eastward across the northern half of the nation. Heaviest rainfall was in the Dakotas. Rain diminished in some areas. Widely scattered showers were reported along the Gulf Coast.

They were convicted of murder and attempted murder, respectively. They were the first Greek Cypriots executed in the 18 months of violence islanders of Greek descent are waging for union of Cyprus with Greece. Eoka's broadcast said Hill and Shilton "were hanged as a necessary reprisal for these judicial murders." Nicosia remained calm for the second day since the hanging but a spontaneous strike gripped the capital. Newspapers failed to publish, factories were idle and Greek-owned stores, cafes and restaurants remained shuttered. Essential services functioned and food stores remained open by law. Stores and businesses operated by the city's Turkish minority also stayed open.

Riot Maker

Archbishop Dorotheus, the Greek Orthodox primate of Greece, speaks in Athens' main square in denunciation of the two Cypriot gunmen on British gallows. His speech touched off bloody anti-British and anti-United States riots that brought death to four and injuries to 191 before troops and police restored order.

SHIFT TO COSTLY FILMS

Movies Have New Boom In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico, the world's leading producer of Spanish-language moving pictures, expects 1956 to be super, stupendous, colossal, and—well, anyway, better than last year.

The industry hopes to make over 100 feature length films, about 200 shorts, and lots of new reels.

But the big step is the shift to comparatively costly films, maybe widescreen and in color.

The improved outlook for 1956 after two or three sluggish years is based largely on an improving foreign market, prosperity which is helping fill Mexico's 2,000 movie theaters and foreign film companies making pictures here.

North American companies made between 18 and 20 films in Mexico during 1955, expect to make more in 1956. This gave work to hundreds of Mexican actors and technicians, and gives Mexican producers, who work with foreign companies, new know-how into latest production methods and equipment.

Mexico's leap to world leadership in Spanish-language films was recent and rapid. Back in 1941 Argentina was tops. But during the war years Mexico, with United States help, forged ahead.

The industry reached its peak in 1950 with 125 feature films. Most of the films, by Hollywood standards, were quickie movies made in three or four weeks at a cost of around $40,000 and $50,000. But they were in Spanish, they had plots Latin like, and the backgrounds were authentic. They clicked.

But in 1952 the industry slumped to 109 films, and even all these were not put on the market glutted by still-popular older films.

Now the industry is coming back

Film Prosperity

Silvia Pinal, young star of the booming Mexican film industry, with Carlos Lopez Morteuzuma, Mexico's film bad man.

to life. That means movies costing $80,000 to $160,000 and up. Production costs are much lower in Mexico than in the United States but Hollywood's interest in Mexico, producers say, is not solely the lower costs. Pictures with Mexican backgrounds sell well abroad, and the authentic backgrounds are badly needed to

1,000 English Mormons Pushed Handcarts Westward To Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, May 11 (AP)—Here a traveler to Utah usually had to shop around for a wagon and oxen for the flip across the plains.

They were to be the first pioneers to cross the central and western plains by handcart.

These men, women and children were "poor European converts" to the Latter-Day Saints Mormon Church, which was building its "Zion" in Great Salt Lake Valley in 1856.

The Europeans had wanted desperately to migrate to Utah but felt they could not afford the cost of such a long journey.

This prompted Brigham Young, president of the Mormons, to declare on Feb. 6, 1856:

"Let them come on foot, with handcarts or wheelbarrows; let them gird up their loins and walk through, and nothing shall hinder them."

European converts received inspiration from these words, and hundreds began preparations to go to America. In April two ships sailed with the first groups.

The converts landed in America and traveled by train to the plains of Iowa, reaching Iowa City early in June. Here a traveler to Utah usually had to shop around for a wagon and oxen for the flip across the plains.

But the Mormon Church had set up a carpenter shop to build handcarts in Iowa City. And the converts found the carts waiting for them, at a cost of $10 each.

They bought necessary provisions, and the first company of 500 persons headed west June 15. Another group of 400 followed June 17 and a third of 200 June 23.

Messengers were sent ahead to Salt Lake Valley to tell of the plight of the companies.

Brigham Young immediately organized a relief train of 250 wagon

Take It Easy, Gardeners Told

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Medical advice to middle-aged amateur gardeners: take it easy!

The N.J.K. Medical Society put it this way today:

"The aim is to dig flower beds, not graves; the result should be a summer of flowery pleasure, not an eternity of repose."

Sure Way To Cut Accidents

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina Motor Vehicle Dept. judges, helping out in a traffic safety contest being conducted by a Raleigh radio station, came across this entry from a Chapel Hill listener:

"First remove all speed limits and second, raise engine horsepower to a minimum of 500."

"Then all the inferior (and therefore dangerous drivers) would be killed off in a 'survival of the fittest' period and the superior and safe driver would alone remain."

Dinosaur From Farm Pond Puzzle For Kansas Scientist

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—When Warren Condray's farm pond overflowed the water washed away soil to bare a big backbone. He wrote Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) about it, and now investigators have a puzzle.

No question of foul play was involved—at least not more recently than 85 million years ago.

Carlson sent Condray's letter to the University of Kansas. Dr. Robert Wilson, associate curator of the university's museum of natural history, and Russell Camp, preparator of vertebrate paleontology, hurried to Condray's farm.

They dug up the rock, hauled it to the campus, and found they had the fossil remains of a small dinosaur - an armored one, between 12 and 15 feet long, which probably weighed as much as a full-sized steer.

A dinosaur, of course—but what species? The scientists couldn't tell and today, Wilson reported, they still can't. The brute so far has defied identification.

"It almost certainly belongs to a new species," Wilson said. "It comes from a formation older than that ordinarily associated with armored dinosaurs."

Kansas' chalkbeds, once the bottom of an inland sea, are renowned among paleontologists as a rich source of marine fossils, but land-lubbers like dinosaurs are rare there. Only five or six have turned up.

It'll take at least a year for the university's fossil men to peel the newcomer from the rock. They'll know definitely then whether the remains represent a new, early species.

The find is placed in the Dakota formation of the early Cretaceous period, or about 100 to 85 million years ago.

Snake Remedy Has A 'Bite'

BALTIMORE (AP)—An elderly Chinese who set out to make an arthritis remedy of seven rattlesnakes and a quantity of gin is recovering from snakebite.

Kom Sing, 74, told physicians at Johns Hopkins Hospital he planned to put the big diamondbacks—believed shipped from Texas—into jars, fill the jars with gin and leave the reptiles submerged for a year. Then, he said, he would drink the liquid in the hope it would relieve his arthritic pains. But he was bitten while handling one of the snakes.

Police and zoo snake handlers found Sing's rattlers in jars, all of which had a small quantity of alcohol in them. Three of the snakes were dead. The rest, unconscious, were taken to the zoo.

Judge, Prisoner Ride In Pedicab

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Dist. Judge Fu En-heng rode up yesterday to the jail at Taichung in his two-wheeler pedicab—a man-driven tricycle rickshaw. In the other seat the judge installed a prisoner, Su Kun.

Back at the courthouse Judge Fu sentenced prisoner Su to death for killing a policeman and wounding two others trying to arrest him for armed robbery. Then the judge escorted the prisoner back to jail, again via pedicab.

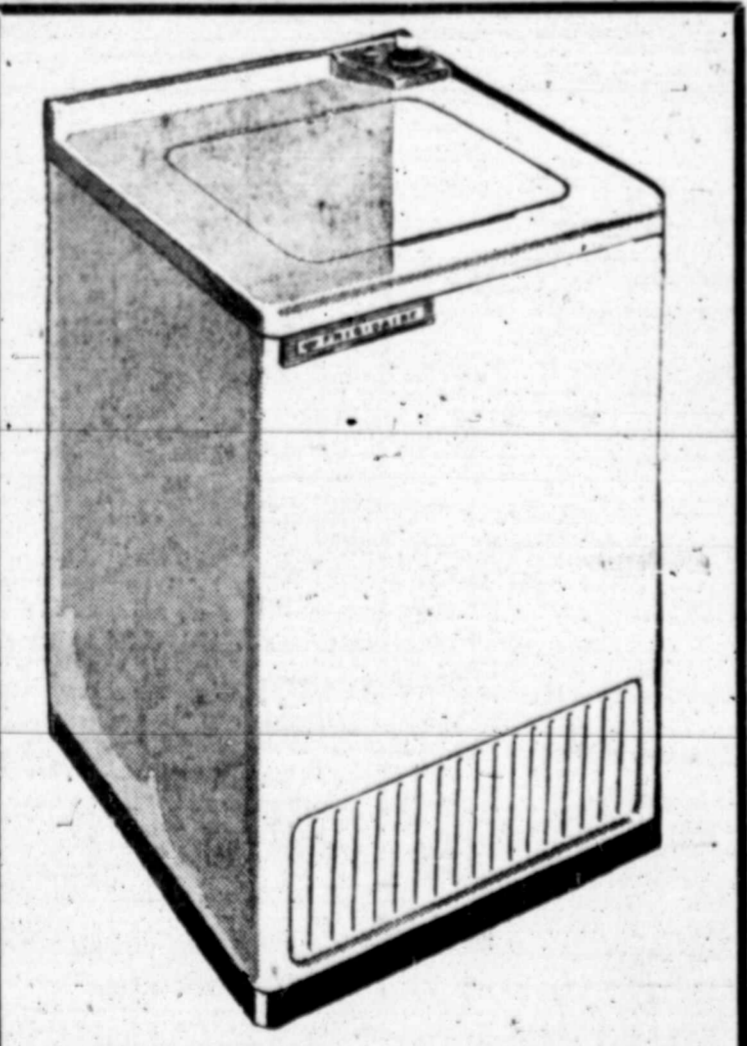

Taichung, which has a population of about 250,000, doesn't have a police van of any sort.

Curiosity Could Be Fatal, Almost

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—S. M. Taylor was digging post-holes yesterday when his digging tool clanked against a hard metal object.

Taylor picked up the object, didn't recognize it and got a hammer to break it open. An unidentified passer-by saw what he was doing, excitedly told him to stop and called police.

When police arrived, they took the object and dropped it in the Arkansas River. It was a hand grenade with the pin still in it.

When Peter returned to Jerusalem, he had to explain all that had happened to him while on his journey, the heavenly messages he had received that made him eat and preach in a Gentile's house.

I LEARN FROM WATCHING MAMA

The school of experience has a wide reputation, and many are those who are proud to be its alumni.

But there is another school, an elementary school. And though it's less heralded, it turns out eager scholars year after year.

It hasn't really any name, and certainly no ivy-covered halls. Classes are held in the students' own homes. And the tuition is a wealth of love contributed by pupil and teacher alike.

But this is the best preparatory school in the world. For whatever it teaches has a place in the life of its graduates forever.

And the most encouraging sign on the spiritual horizons of America is the greater emphasis now being placed on the Bible, prayer, and religious education in the school of "watching mama!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Big Industry Approach To Farm Surplus Pains Urged

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter
WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—A big-industry approach to the problem of price-depressing farm surpluses is being advocated in congressional and farm circles here.

That approach is described as a relentless search by an expanding industry for new uses for its products, for new products to make, and for new markets.

The kickoff for a 100 million dollar a year government-financed program to put more chemists, engineers and sales experts at work to broaden agriculture's markets was made at a luncheon here this week attended by more than 50 lawmakers, farm and business leaders.

On hand to paint a picture of the possibilities of greater research was a farm leader who for 30 years has been going about the country preaching the theme that farm prosperity was to be found in bigger and better markets and not in government subsidies, price supports or crop controls.

He was Wheeler McMillen, a Philadelphia farm magazine editor who for years served as head of a farm "chemurgic" organization—a group that advocated the application of chemistry to farm crops to find new uses—particularly nonfood, industrial uses.

"Suppose," McMillen said, "that the petroleum industry had never sought to make and sell anything except kerosene, gasoline and lubricants. Suppose the electrical equipment makers had been satisfied to sell motors and light bulbs. Suppose the chemical companies had been content with a few acids and salts."

By coincidence, the Agriculture Department issued a report the same day McMillen made his speech that indicated that agriculture has been largely content to rely on old outlets and uses.

"Nonfood use of agricultural commodities as a whole has been on the downgrade since 1951," the department said. "... A big part of the decline in recent years is attributable to increased competition from synthetic products not of agricultural origin."

McMillen cited figures to show how the big industries spend money to expand markets. He said electrical equipment industries invest nearly 300 million dollars yearly in research, the aircraft industries 750 million dollars, the chemical industries more than 310 million dollars, the petroleum industries 150 million and the primary metal industries 60 million.

Agriculture, which in itself is larger than any one of these industries, probably spends no more than 25 million dollars in research devoted to developing new uses, new products and new markets. Most of the money spent for agricultural research goes for the purpose of helping farmers increase their production.

Those who advocate greater research in farm marketing say there are three general fields open to exploration.

They say researchers can seek new industrial, nonfood uses for crops now grown; they can hunt out new crops to supply materials needed by industry, and they can undertake to find profitable markets for the agricultural wastes and residues which now cannot be sold.

McMillen said that in his inquiries he had found that nearly every industry offers some potential market for farm products. The problem of research is to fit the product to the potential market.

Cuban Ex-Chief Back In Exile

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Carlos Prio Socarras, stormy former president of Cuba, was back here in his old exile city today after being thrown out of the country, he said, by the Cuban national police.

U.S. immigration authorities, who say Prio has once violated the Neutrality Act, were somewhat at a loss whether to let him stay in this country and will probably set the matter down for a hearing.

Prio, meanwhile, was surrounded by many followers who remained here when he ended an exile of nearly four years and returned to Cuba last August. He was deposed by Fulgencio Batista, who is still the president, in a bloodless coup in 1952.

The former President was accompanied here by an aide, Col. Rafael Izquierdo.

Prio left Cuba after a series of disorders. Five persons were killed in an uprising April 29 and Prio was placed under arrest for a few hours then.

Senator Weeps In George Eulogy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.) broke down and cried yesterday in praising Sen. George D-Ga., who is retiring from the Senate at the end of this year.

Millikin delivered his eulogy from a wheel chair in the well of the Senate; he is suffering from arthritis.

"He is a thoroughly great man," Millikin declared. "We shall miss him."

Millikin and George have long been associates on the Senate Finance Committee.

Way To Beat Horses, But Not Treasury

DETROIT (AP)—Paul Carro, 82, thought he had a sure-fire way to beat the horses.

Federal agents said they arrested him when he tried to place a bet at a Toledo, Ohio, race track with a bogus $10 bill.

Carro named Paul Eifer, 72, as his accomplice. The two old age pensioners pleaded guilty to counterfeiting charges in Detroit federal court.

Judge Thomas P. Thornton ordered them held for sentencing. No date was set.

By coincidence, the Agriculture Department issued a report the same day McMillen made his speech that indicated that agriculture has been largely content to rely on old outlets and uses.

"Nonfood use of agricultural commodities as a whole has been on the downgrade since 1951," the department said. "... A big part of the decline in recent years is

Singer Flies For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Jana Mason made a flying trip here from her engagement in a Las Vegas, Nev., night club to get a divorce from her husband A. David Victorson, 37, a host at another Las Vegas club.

She returned as soon as her interlocutory decree was granted yesterday. Miss Mason, 24, and Victorson came from New York, where she sang in night clubs.

Church To Move Into New Building

Big Spring's First Church of God congregation will move into its new, $130,000 building at Twenty-first and Main Sunday.

Rev. Hal Hooker, pastor, announced that the Mothers' Day services will mark the anniversary of the start of construction on the new building. It was on Mothers' Day, 1955, that ground was broken for the modern structure.

The congregation will be abandoning the old building at Tenth and Main where it has worshipped for nearly 30 years. Rev. Hooker said the old property will be sold.

Dedication services for the new plant will be planned later, the minister said.

The new facility includes a sanctuary 120 feet long and 50 feet wide and an educational wing 90 feet long and 36 feet wide. The building can seat up to 600 persons for worship services. It has central cooling and heating systems with refrigerative-type air conditioning.

Services Sunday will include Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., worship at 10:50 a.m., youth services at 6:30 p.m. and the regular evening worship at 7:30.

The First Church of God is associated with the Churches of God which maintain general publishing and missionary offices at Anderson, Ind.

A revival to mark opening of the new sanctuary will start Wednesday night with Evangelist Emil Aarnderud to be musician and speaker. Rev. Aarnderud is an accomplished trumpeter and played with some of the nation's leading orchestras prior to his conversion and entrance into the ministry. The revival services will start each evening at 8 o'clock.
