ARMORED MIGHT OVERPOWERS CIVILIAN MOBILITY
Nolan Pittcock of Aspermont lost an accident battle to an Army tank.

Tank Falls Off Truck, Crushes Car

A 45-ton Army tank rolled back into a car of an Aspermont resident here Monday damaging the car but causing no injuries.

The accident occurred at the south end of the west viaduct. The tank was mounted on a Web AFV low-bed trailer and was being taken back to Lamesa. It belongs to the National Guard unit at Lamesa and had been borrowed by Webb for Armed Forces Day.

With a police escort, A-1c Franklin Bumgardner started over the viaduct but was caused to shift gears to make the incline. The jerk caused by shifting snapped chains holding the tank, and it rolled off the truck bed.

Nolan Pittcock of Aspermont was driving a 1954 Ford behind the trailer and saw the tank roll off. He tried to back out of its way, but a trailer he was pulling jackknifed.

Pittcock and his wife then jumped from the car before it was hit. Impact carried the car and trailer back about 10 yards before it ramed into the viaduct.

The tank had rolled about 20 yards before hitting Pittcock's car. A horse was in the trailer but was not hurt.

The tank crushed in the front of the car and the rear part of the Ford was damaged by the impact of hitting the viaduct.

Only damage to the armored vehicle was a slightly bent left rear fender. The Guard unit at Lamesa is Company F of the 12th Cavalry, a part of the 49th Armored Division.

Dedication Slated For Guided Missile Plant

CHARLOTTE, N.C.—A multi-million-dollar plant for assembly of the Nike ground-to-air guided missile will be dedicated in public ceremonies here today.

Senate Panel Will Probe Service Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Chavez (D-N.M.) said today a Senate Appropriations subcommittee heads will investigate a row among the armed services over basic defense policies.

Secretary of Defense Wilson had sought to avert an inquiry by calling off the three services yesterday to a joint news conference designed to play down the squabble.

Wilson said he doesn't think a congressional investigation is needed or that it would do any good.

"I wouldn't think so," he said in reply to a question. "I have confidence that I'm getting military advice from the right people. I think the country thinks so, too."

Chavez, who had said earlier he thinks top officials of the Army, Navy and Air Force are acting like prima donnas, told a reporter today:

"We plan to have the high brass of all three services in here, and ask them why is it they are bickering."

Wilson described the new public row as a "little hurricane" and said he wants to end it before it becomes serious. "I think," he said, "the eager beavers are gnawing down some of the wrong trees." He declined to elaborate.

Wilson was flanked at the news conference by the secretaries of the three services and the four members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

LONG-RANGE New Bid Planned For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the administration intends to make a new bid for its long range foreign aid proposal when the foreign aid bill comes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

At a news conference Dulles also told reporters that the U. S. government had arrived by deduction at the conclusion that Russia would cut its military manpower as was recently announced. He said Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev had not disclosed the fact of recent London conferences, as had been reported.

The report was that Khrushchev gave the word to Harold Stassen when the two met in the British capital.

Stassen told a news conference late last week the first word of the 1,200,000 announced reduction in Soviet armed forces had come to him from Khrushchev. Dulles drew a sharp distinction today between a "disclosure", which he said Khrushchev had not made, and a "deduction" which he said Stassen had made on the basis of information given him by Khrushchev.

This injected a new element of confusion into an already confused situation in which Stassen has dealt with the Soviet manpower cut as primarily a move in the direction of peace and disarmament and Dulles has talked about it as a maneuver to strengthen the Soviet economy and possibly Russian military power.

British Won't 'Cast Away' Strategic Overseas Bases

OLLERTON, England (AP)—Sitting on Cyprus, Singapore and Aden, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said last night Britain will not "cast away those overseas possessions which are vital to our strategic interests."

Such a course, he told a political rally, "would be a breach of faith with the rising generation."

He mentioned Cyprus, Singapore and Aden as "three such places in the news just at the moment."

"The importance the British attach to Aden, a colony on the southwest tip of Arabia, as an un-desecrated over the weekend, Lord Lloyd, British undersecretary for colonial affairs, told the colony's Legislative Council no changes could be made in Aden's constitution because of its strategic and economic value to the commonwealth.

"Talks on future independence for the crown colony of Singapore broke down last week in London. Britain has promised greater self-rule to Singapore but has insisted on control over internal security and defense of the naval base at the southern tip of the Malay peninsula.

On the Mediterranean island colony of Cyprus, Britain has been waging a 14-month fight against underground extremists fighting to end British rule and unite the island with Greece.

Lloyd told the meeting here Cyprus "is vital" to Britain for carrying out NATO responsibilities "and also to enable us to maintain our position in the Middle East and to honor our great obligations there." Since the British began pulling out of the Suez Canal zone, Cyprus has become the headquarters for Britain's forces in the Middle East.

"Quite a lot of people even in this country," said Lloyd, "seem to think that these Cypriot terrorists are fighting the battle for freedom in a respectable and commendable manner."

"In fact the terrorists have not the backing of more than a tiny fraction of the population of Cyprus and most of their acts of brutality have been directed against their fellow Cypriots."

Lloyd also said he believes the danger of a Soviet attack is diminishing.

LATE BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted today to slash more than a billion dollars out of President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program.

Before the County Court takes action on an election call, members will examine county airport operations elsewhere in West Texas. They specifically determined to make trips to Plainview and Snyder, where Hale County and Scurry County have financed air installations.

County Judge R. H. Weaver said he believes the Court can accumulate sufficient back ground on the airport proposition to reach some decision on a bond election by next Monday.

Proposals are for an issue in the amount of $400,000, financed by a special county levy. This sum has been estimated as the amount required for purchasing land and installing improvements such as lighting, etc., for a facility that could accommodate commercial aircraft as well as private planes.

Location of the proposed airport will be subject of further studies, if and when the bond issue gets voter approval. Under Civil Aeronautics Administration regulations, location must be determined by air safety, involving the Webb Air Force Base location and other factors.

City manager H. W. Whitney said that he had received no agenda, but usually the conference deal with legislation affecting municipalities.

State officials from TLM will conduct the meeting which will get under way at the Settles Hotel at 9:30 a.m. Registration will start at 4 p.m.

Ike Medic Advises A Lower Altitude

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House physician said he would like to have President Eisenhower vacation this summer at a lower altitude than Colorado's.

"If it were left up to me," Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder said last night, "I would be against going to one of the higher altitudes in this first year after the heart attack. I would prefer playing it out on the conservative side."

In a 9-0 ruling, the court upheld yesterday a 1951 amendment of the National Railway Labor Act which authorized railroads and labor unions to enter into union shop agreements, regardless of state law.

State laws banning union shops in other industries were not affected.

A spokesman in the attorney general's office said "There is concern now whether this decision will give Congress the go ahead to extend union shop agreements to other fields."

The spokesman said this decision was a legal precedent that might be used in related cases.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said "The decision has tightened the knot of federal interference."

"It approves forced union membership of unwilling workers, who must now join or go hungry," Shepperd said.

The court acted on an appeal by 16 non-operating railway labor organizations from a ruling by the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Nebraska's Supreme Court held that the state's "right to work" law superseded the Railway Labor Act union shop amendment. Texas and 16 other states also have these "right to work" laws which forbid making union membership or nonmembership a condition to employment.

A case in Amarillo hinged on yesterday's ruling. This involved whether the Santa Fe Railway and the unions should be prevented from signing a closed shop agreement. It is before the state Supreme Court.

Filipino Lays Claim To Big Pacific Area

MANILA (AP)—A Filipino staked claim last night to a scattering of uninhabited islands, coral reefs, sandbars and shoals across a vast stretch of the South China Sea.

His action caught international diplomats napping. It nationalized China—which has a prior claim to some of the islands and left the usually loquacious Philippine government almost speechless.

Tomas Cloma, a former newspaperman and president of the Philippine Maritime Institute Nautical School, not only claimed the empire of about 70,000 square miles west of the Philippines; he even bestowed new names on 53 of the islands, islets, reefs and shoals. Think of the headaches of map-makers if Cloma's claim is recognized.

"This claim is based on the rights of discovery and occupation," Cloma's notice said. He expressed hope that the Philippine government "will in due time officially sponsor" his notice of ownership.

The claim roughly covered an area west of the southwestern Philippine island of Palawan. The latest National Geographic map surveyed.

"This territory is composed of islands, sand cays, sandbars, coral reefs and fishing grounds with a total area of 64,976 square nautical miles," Cloma's notice said. Cloma set out last March, landed on Itu Aba, largest of the group, and some other islets, shoals and reefs and staked out his claim. He didn't disclose what he plans to do with the islands. However, they include some fine fishing grounds.

A Foreign Office spokesman declined to say whether the Philippine government would initiate any formal action.

Vice President Carlos P. Garcia stressed that the Cloma expedition was private and did not have the sanction of the Foreign Office. But he added he did not see any reason why the islands shouldn't become Philippine territory eventually "by virtue of occupancy and proximity."

Garcia also is foreign secretary. His statement sounded like an invitation for Cloma to move in and see what happens.

The Chinese Nationalist Embassy mounted a rush consultation with the home office. It was somewhat vague about the present status of the Spratly Islands—part of the Cloma claim—which once were in dispute between China and France. China claimed them, as part of Kwangtung province. France occupied the main island, Spratly, between 1933 and 1939.

During World War II, Japan used the Spratly as a submarine base and communications center.

Spratly Island, 500 yards long and 300 yards wide, is occupied now by sea birds and turtles.

PUPPY LOVE BECOMES A BELLY ACHE

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—In the spring, police said today, a teen-ager's fancy turns to puppy love and sometimes to stomach pumps.

They reported a San Antonio boy, 15, was taken to a hospital last night after he had swallowed iodine following a spat with his girl.

Attendants applied a stomach pump and a starchy wash and said they doubted if the youngster would repeat the attempt.

The cure, they said, is almost as bad as the ailment.

Soviets May Outrun U.S. In Atomic

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today several U. S. scientists now visiting Moscow are convinced the Soviet Union has launched a nuclear energy research program for peacetime purposes that may outstrip U. S. efforts in the field.

In a dispatch from the Soviet capital, the Times said the Americans have come to the preliminary conclusion that Russia is shifting its intellectual resources from a military to a peacetime basis.

The Americans, who are attending an international atomic energy conference, were said to appear to believe without reservation that Russia now is second only to the United States in the quality and quantity of mechanical equipment for its research program.

The Times said the views of the Americans were stated in interviews with Dr. Robert E. Marshak of the University of Rochester. Prof. Abram Pais of the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton, N.J., and Dr. Robert R. Wilson of Cornell University. The views were reflected in the opinions of other scientists in Moscow, the dispatch added.

'Right-To-Work' Decision Stirs Concern On Effects

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court's knockout of state "right to work" laws applying to the railroad industry stirred speculation today that the decision may have other important overtones.

In a 9-0 ruling, the court upheld yesterday a 1951 amendment of the National Railway Labor Act which authorized railroads and labor unions to enter into union shop agreements, regardless of state law.

State laws banning union shops in other industries were not affected.

A spokesman in the attorney general's office said "There is concern now whether this decision will give Congress the go ahead to extend union shop agreements to other fields."

Johnson Defeats Rebel Ouster Try

Anti-Shivers Move Is Voted Down

DALLAS (AP)—An unofficial tally on the state Democratic convention's first test vote today showed Sen. Lyndon Johnson in apparent control.

A press table count of the roll call at the two-thirds point gave Johnson 962 votes to 408 for the opposition within his own camp.

It takes 951 of the convention's 1900 votes to win.

The vote was on the question of whether to punish party leaders who bolted in 1952 now or later.

The Harris County (Houston) delegation, backing Johnson's advice that it would be better to wait until the next convention to oust those who followed Gov. Shivers in his 1952 bolt to the GOP, forced the issue.

Johnson, assured of leadership of the 56-member Texas delegation and of designation as Texas favorite-son presidential candidate, tried in vain to stop the revolt in his own ranks.

The vote was to table a resolution to purge the state executive committee of members who joined the Shivers bolt to Dwight Eisenhower, and who now refuse to make a pledge to support the nominees of the national Democratic convention.

The test came on a motion offered by Chairman Edwin Smith of the Harris County (Houston) delegation to amend the order of business of the convention in a resolution demanding a loyalty pledge immediately of the executive committee members.

Smith said his resolution was aimed at making sure Johnson had a "loyal home guard" while he was campaigning over the nation for the cause of Democracy.

"We do not want a Shiverocrat executive committee knifing him and his Democratic party in the back," Smith shouted.

Smith's theme was that the Harris County action was aimed at protecting party interests.

John Connally of Fort Worth warned the convention against using the "bare raw power" it may have under court decisions to oust the Shivers committee. He said that that would be adopting the same tactics under which loyalists have suffered. He suggested the time for changes was at the September convention amidst cries from the floor: "Let's do it now."

Connally moved to table Smith's motion.

Johnson's efforts to bring about an armistice with conservative forces led by Shivers ran into a mixture of heavy boos and cheers at a Johnson victory rally last night.

Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin set the convention in motion 20 minutes late with a sharp rap of the gavel.

Johnson has tried since his victory over Shivers to weld his coalition of liberals and conservatives into a harmonious force to back him in his national convention plans to coax the South back into the national party along what he calls a "course of moderation."

He has had trouble keeping the lid on the liberals—long in the minority while Shivers led the party—who want to purge the Shivers people at once and completely.

An early effort to bring a test vote on seating of the Dallas County anti-Shivers delegation was killed on a ruling from Sandlin that it was out of order. Fort Worth wanted to amend convention procedure to force the test.

Temporary Chairman John Lyle of Corpus Christi, a Johnson man, took the gavel as arranged in pre-convention agreements.

There was no sign of dissent as Lyle praised Johnson for his leadership. He drew nothing but cheers.

But when keynote Gerald Mann began his harmony talk he touched off some heckling and boos. He brushed it off with a story saying, "When Jesus Christ lived on this earth there was a Judas among his disciples. Judas was a fool."

He won a laugh and applause at that.

Johnson counseled his coalition of conservatives and liberals yesterday not to try to oust the Shivers committee now, saying it was illegal to do so until their terms expire in September. This touched off heckling and boos. Johnson's victory speech also brought him round after round of approving shouts and cheers.

The Harris County group urged election of Mrs. M. J. B. Randolph of Houston as national committee-woman to replace Mrs. H. H. Weintert of Seguin, a conservative who voted for Adlai Stevenson in 1952.

Johnson's opposition within his own coalition of conservatives and liberals feels he is being too soft on the defeated conservative leadership which followed Shivers in his bolt to Eisenhower in 1952.

A source close to Johnson said he was sharply revising his convention speech because of last night's boos and because the outcome of the fight over the ouster seemed uncertain.

The Houston resolution specifically called for removal of the Shivers committee unless it will take a party loyalty pledge. It

Smoking In The Nest Listed As Fire Cause

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Firemen have listed "smoking in a nest" as the cause of a fire that caused considerable damage to a two-story frame house here. Fire Chief H. S. Callahan said the fire started Sunday in the eaves of a house owned by Mrs. Ulric Warne. The chief said a bird carried a smouldering cigar butt to a nest it was building there.

Hospital Undecided On Use Of Ford Foundation Grant

No decision was reached by the board of the Malone and Hogan Hospital at its meeting Monday night as to the use it will make of a grant of $10,700 received from the Ford Foundation. The check, representing half of a gift to the hospital from the Foundation, arrived Monday. The board discussed possible uses for the money at its meeting but failed to make a definite decision and the matter was held in abeyance pending further investigation and study. It is possible, hospital spokesmen pointed out, that the expenditure of the grant could be delayed until the full amount — $21,500 — is on hand. D. S. Riley, administrator of the hospital, said that no special meeting of the board is now planned to discuss the subject further. Action on the question could come at the next regular meeting of the board. The Foundation selected two Big Spring hospitals for grants. Checks for one half of the total were received Monday by Howard County Hospital Foundation — operating agency for the Big Spring Hospital

Threat To GOP Harmony Looms

HOUSTON (AP)—Resolutions on the Bricker amendment and desegregation threatened to shake harmony with sharp debate today at the state Republican convention. The convention opened with a keynote speech by J. A. (Tiny) Gooch, Fort Worth attorney. The meeting will pick 54 Texas national convention delegates pledged to President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon. About 25 resolutions were ready before selection of the San Francisco delegates. Two would have the state party endorse a Bricker-type amendment, limiting treaty powers, and state its position on desegregation. Four years ago, at Mineral Wells, a bitter fight between supporters of President Eisenhower and the late Sen. Robert Taft split the party. Taft forces won but Eisenhower's Texas backers won their fight when they appeared before the national convention in Chicago. No contests were among county delegations this year.

C Of C Drive Gets 51 New Members

Chamber of Commerce directors in session Monday applauded the news that 51 new members have been added to the C-C rolls during a special campaign of the Round-Up Club. George Zachariah, Round-Up leader, made the report, showing that the new membership sign-up accounted for an additional $1,187 in annual dues. The Round-Up club functioned as two competing teams, and Rad Ware's team was the winner, with 31 members and $717 dues. Cecil Bowles' group enlisted 14 members for $336. There were also some new members who signed voluntarily. Bob McEwen was cited as an individual worker, having accounted for 10 new members. A large number of the new members were present at the luncheon and were given special introductions. They also heard a special talk on requirements for a successful Chamber of Commerce, made by the Rev. Jordan Grooms, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Grooms cited four requisites to successful civil leadership: brains, encouragement, cooperation, and a "willingness to stick your neck out" for progress.

Hungry Gambler Losing Points

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Despite the attractions of jailhouse French cuisine, 60-year-old Jason Lee Jr. of Los Angeles has been on a hunger strike in a gamble to make his point that loaded dice don't pay off. Lee and two companions, Philip Aggie, 39, and Ralph Shaker, 40, go on trial May 29 on charges of slipping loaded dice into a game at Monte Carlo's famed casino. They were arrested Feb. 21. All three quit eating last week in an effort to win judicial approval of their plea to set up a demonstration crap table in court. They said they wanted to prove it is impossible to win "important sums" with loaded dice. The investigating judge didn't fade them and the famed casino passed their proposal to use one of its tables. Aggie and Shaker, also of the Los Angeles area, resumed eating after three days but Lee still held him over Saturday.

Royalty Fees To Connelly Are Identified

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An oil company official has identified 25 checks totaling $1,418 as payments from an oil royalty to Matthew J. Connelly when Connelly was appointments secretary to former President Truman.

The checks were introduced into evidence at Connelly's conspiracy trial yesterday after they were identified by L. S. Hadley of Independence, Kan., secretary-treasurer of the Sinclair Crude Oil Co.

The government contends attorney Harry I. Schwimmer gave Connelly the checks to get help for Schwimmer's client, Irving Sachs, who faced criminal prosecution for income tax evasion.

Connelly, Schwimmer and T. Lamar Caudle, head of the Justice Department's tax division under Truman, are on trial on charges of conspiring to defraud the government by holding up the tax case against Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer.

Arthur B. Cunningham of Miami, Fla., a former attorney in the tax division, yesterday identified exhibits which indicated he tried four times in 1950 to bring prosecution in the case but without success.

A letter was introduced into evidence to show the late Drake Watson, when he was U. S. district attorney in St. Louis, wrote Caudle on Sept. 1, 1949, and remarked he had heard the Sachs case was "making the rounds."

Watson said in the letter the case covered the years 1942-25 and added, "I suggest the statute of limitations is now running on one of those years and will soon be running on another."

"It is not my purpose to try to influence your decision, but of course you realize that prompt action will be helpful."

Sachs was fined $40,000 in 1951 for tax evasion but escaped a prison term on a plea he was ill.

AF Wives Aid Needy Family

Two Air Force wives organizations have pooled resources to assist an almost destitute Big Spring woman.

The woman, who has no Air Force connection, called on the base for assistance after reading newspaper accounts of aid given in other instances. She reportedly was deserted by her husband and has four small children to support.

She is employed in a cafe here, but receives only $21 per week.

The Officers Wives Club and the non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club at Webb delivered some groceries to the woman's home Monday. Representatives of the two groups said they will provide some more food and clothing for the woman and children later. They said their assistance will be of a temporary nature only, however.

Parker Named New Vice President For Dr. Pepper Co.

DALLAS — Wesley R. Parker, vice president of the General Foods Corporation for more than 10 years, today was named executive vice president of Dr. Pepper Company, one of the nation's top soft drink producers.

Leonard Green, president of the Dallas company, announced that the board of directors of the firm had elected Parker to the post, which has been vacant since Green was named chief executive in 1950.

"We are very delighted to have Mr. Parker come into our company," Green said. "He will bring a wealth of experience and knowledge of the food field into our management."

For the past five years, Parker has been general manager of the Post Cereals and the Carton and Container divisions of General Foods. Previously, he was in charge of the company's sales division and was general sales manager and vice president of Igleheart Brothers, a General Foods subsidiary.

"With such a background and experience so closely related to our own marketing objectives, Mr. Parker undoubtedly will be in a position to help us facilitate our expansion program," Green declared.

Green added that the growing importance of the food field in the marketing of soft drinks made Parker's election even more timely. Home consumption of soft drinks through purchases in grocery stores and supermarkets now accounts for roughly half of the total yearly consumption of almost 30 billion bottles.

RESEARCH USES Auto Companies Praise Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A couple of big companies and numerous smaller ones disagree with criticism that the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway no longer contributes anything to the automobile industry because stock cars don't run here.

The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. public relations department says:

"The findings in the exhaustive tests at the Indianapolis track, under the most severe tire torturing races in the world, provides the laboratory, the background for research, the engineering vehicle and the proving ground for modern passenger tires."

Ray McMahan, director of the Mobile fuel development center at the Speedway, says the Speedway historically has produced new features used in passenger cars about 20 years later.

"A close look at the garage area will reveal many secrets about the cars we are going to be driving," McMahan asserts.

An example is fuel injection, which has entirely replaced carburetors on the Speedway engines and was proved at the Speedway by the late Bill Vukovich, killed in last year's race. Another is torsion bar suspension, standard in Indianapolis-type cars and now used by Packard.

In his own field, fuel engineer McMahan says: "Racing engines with experimental fuel components are laboratories for high compression problems, fuel injection systems, means of getting more air into the engine, properly removing exhaust gases and the performance of engine materials at high output and high speeds."

McMahan says the goal for commercial piston engines is one horsepower for each cubic inch of piston displacement. It's now about three-fourths of one horsepower, but 270-cubic-inch Offenhauser engines at the Speedway produce about 350 horsepower.

Most of the new ideas tested at the Speedway are too expensive, at first, for the average motorist. Some blends of racing fuel cost up to $4 a gallon. Used in the racing engines they produce four or five miles to the gallon.

The Firestone tires built especially for the Indianapolis track are also expensive—and contrary to popular belief, the company does not give them to race car owners. It does buy back the tires of the winning and runner-up cars.

The front tires are sold for $49.64 apiece and the rears $58.80—and Firestone says that's away below cost. It's the only company making special tires for the Speedway.

Senate, House Work On Farm Bill Acceptable To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—House-Senate conferees hoped to complete drafting today a new compromise farm bill which seemed likely to be acceptable to President Eisenhower.

The House voted for price supports at 81½ per cent of parity for 1956 on the feed grains—oats, rye, barley and sorghums—provided growers cut back their acreage 15 per cent. Parity is a legal price said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs. The House bill would fix these supports in 1957 at 5 percentage points below corn.

The Senate revised this considerably, voting for 76 per cent crops in the current year, with no acreage controls, and a minimum of 70 per cent next year if there are price supports for noncompliance corn.

Noncompliance corn is that grown in commercial areas in disregard of acreage allotments. For the first time this year, Secretary of Agriculture Benson decreed price supports for such plantings.

In return for House concession on feed grains, the senators reportedly would accept House provision on the effective date of the $1,200,000,000 soil bank plan provided in both versions of the bills.

Under this plan, the most important new program provided by the bill, farmers would be paid for letting land lie idle in an effort to cut down on price-depressing surpluses.

The House voted to require Benson to put the soil bank into effect this year; the Senate said only he should do so to the extent practicable.

Measles Delays Korean Airlift

TOKYO (AP)—Measles tonight postponed the airlift of 16 tiny Korean-American orphans to new homes in the United States.

One little girl turned up with the disease and doctors diagnosed two more "probable cases."

Two U.S. doctors said the cases were not critical but they ordered the tots isolated for at least 21 days.

The orphans—children of American servicemen and Korean girls—arrived last night by air from Seoul. World Vision, Inc., which supports 101 orphanages in South Korea, is sponsoring mass adoptions.

Knows How To Relax

Toni Gerry, young TV actress who will soon be seen in MGM's "Last For Life," uses an electric hand massager to stimulate the growth of her hair. She also uses the vibrator to help release tension at the back of her neck.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Recognize Tenseness; Do Something About It

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — They say flattery is the compliment we don't quite deserve. So when I told Toni Gerry, one of our rising young TV actresses, that she had such beautiful hair she responded with a big grin.

"You don't know how hard I've worked on it," she exclaimed as we sipped fruit juice on my patio.

"My hair was so terribly fine that it was a real problem. Last Christmas my husband gave me an electric vibrator. It is one of those with a little motor. You slip it on the back of your hand so the vibration goes through your fingers. I massaged my scalp with it every night and every morning for just a few minutes. In two weeks I could see a definite improvement."

"When I come home from work and my neck seems tied up in knots, to use this at the back of my head is very restful. It brings up the circulation which is always good."

"I may not look it," Toni confessed, "but I am a tense person. I wasn't aware that I had begun that way so long until my husband began to mention it. 'You do everything too fast,' he insisted. I had been told before to slow down in my speech, so I started watching everything I did.

"I began by reading about releasing tension," she determined to become calm. I am still in my twenties," Toni explained. "If I hadn't learned about this, think how I would look and feel in 10 years."

"Recognizing tenseness is an important step. I like one exercise where I lie down and begin with my toes, tense them, hold them until I feel what a strain this is and then relax. If you do this often enough you get a clear feeling of the difference between tension and relaxation. The point is to go over the whole body from you feet to your eyes. It is characteristic of highly strung people not to know it. I am a good example. It was my husband who first told me. So even if you don't think you need relaxing, it is a good idea to test yourself," Toni advised.

Toni is fond of reading. "It is not only relaxing but a good way to become acquainted with the great thinkers of all times. I realize the more we can control our thinking the more we can control our life. Thinking peaceful thoughts, contemplating a restful spot in nature or making young mind go blank is another way to learn to relax," Toni said in parting.

MORE RELAXERS

Strain, tenseness, pressure — these are conditions of body and mind everyone complains of but few do anything about. With Leaflet M-19, "Relaxing Exercises of the Stars," and just five minutes each evening before retiring, you'll find how easy it is to relax for health and beauty. To get your copy of this valuable leaflet — remember it's M-19 — send 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Local sewing center experts point out that patches can be decorative as well as functional. For instance, why not make two gay drums for knee patches on a toddler's overalls?

Just to make the constant falling easier on the youngster, padded patches are recommended. Here's the technique for making the drums: Draw pattern on brown paper. Cut out two drums, leaving a full inch seam allowance all around. Fold a piece of flannel or old sheeting to make several layers, and cut to the pattern of the drum, leaving no seam allowance. Use bias tape for the rims of the drums. Stitch rickrack in criss-cross design on the drums as decorations and to hold the quilting in place.

Baste in place on the knees of the overalls. Using your automatic zigzagger or your automatic sewing machine, work around the outline of the drum, using a narrow satin stitch. Trim away excess fabric close to the line of stitching.

First Baptist Women Have Circle Meetings

Mrs. Charles Sweeney was in charge of the Royal Service program for the Christine Coffee Circle of First Baptist Church when members met in the home of Mrs. M. R. Erhardt Monday.

The Royal Service scripture and prayer for the missionaries whose birthday dates are listed in the Royal Service calendar were read by Mrs. R. D. Urey.

Taking parts on the program were Mrs. Roy Phillips, Mrs. G. C. Morehead and Mrs. Clyde Angel.

The meeting closed with the members repeating The Lord's Prayer in unison.

"The Spirit of Prayer" was the subject of the devotion brought by Mrs. Theo Andrews for members of the Mary Willis Circle Monday afternoon. The group met in the home of Mrs. H. H. Squires.

Mrs. Roy Odom discussed the lesson based on the mission work of the church. She chose the title, "We Helped Answer Our Own Prayers," by Lennie Jane Burk.

A business session was held. The next social was announced for June 18, Mrs. Odom will be hostess. A guest, Mrs. J. G. Hanson of Pomona, Calif., was present.

Program At Home Club On Meals

Mrs. Bill Holbert spoke to members of the Home Study Club Monday evening when they met at the home of Mrs. Bill Ward. Mrs. W. C. Moldenhauer was cohostess.

In her talk, Mrs. Holbert discussed "Summertime Meal Planning." She suggested that especially in the warm months it would be helpful to plan meals that are attractive. These might be worked around fried chicken or a similar meat course that could be served hot or cold and "dressed up" with pretty salads and light desserts.

Much of the meal should be prepared in advance. She also suggested using magazines for ideas on garnishes and food arrangement. Outdoor meals were also advised.

As this was the final meeting of the year the group made plans for a social in the fall at which their husbands will be guests. Roll call was answered by discussions on "Interesting Places I Have Visited."

Seven members attended.

Bykota Class Has Picnic Supper

A picnic supper was served to members of the Bykota Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church Monday evening at the church.

Mrs. Thurnman discussed the habits and customs of the people of that country and told of the good works done by the oil companies.

Twenty-five attended the meeting with guests, Dr. and Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. H. C. McCornick of Frisco, Texas. Hostesses were Mrs. Armour Long, Mrs. Letha Massie, Mrs. Roy Sloan, Mrs. Robert Whipkey and Mrs. Lillian Jameson.

Massey Renews Canadian Post

OTTAWA (AP)—Vincent Massey, a leading exponent of Canada's culture and way of life, was given a new lease today on his job as governor general. Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent announced Queen Elizabeth II had approved a one-year extension—until the spring of 1958—of Massey's term as her representative in Canada. His regular five-year term ends next February. Now 69, Massey is the first Canadian-born governor general. A native of Toronto and a brother of actor Raymond Massey, he retired from his family's firm manufacturing farm implements in 1925. Subsequently he served as Canadian minister to the United States and later as Canada's high commissioner to the United Kingdom.

Uncle Ray: Nicknames Became Names Of Families

By RAMON COFFMAN
During my travels I have met several persons with the name of Lamb, but—so far, at least—I never have met a Mr. Sheep. The family name of Lamb appears to have come from a nickname which was used during the Middle Ages in England. When a mother called her small son her "little lamb," the nickname of Lamb might stay with him through life. People might speak of him as "John, the Little Lamb" and later as "John the Lamb" or "John Lamb." It probably was rare for a mother to speak of her son as her "little sheep." Nevertheless, the English family name of Sheepshanks did arise, and that name is classified in the nickname group. Longshanks was another family name of that type, having been given to a man with long legs. The surname of Lightfoot arose from a nickname, and so did Crowfoot. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, famous poet, carried the name of a tall ancestor. Living in Old England, that ancestor towered above his comrades and was nicknamed "the long fellow." So many family names go back to nicknames that a full list would take columns of space. A few of them are Long, Short, Light, Slight, Little, Whitehead, Goodman, Rudd or Rudly (from red or reddish hair or skin) and Wise. Another kind of surname arose

Time Is Needed For Indonesia To Develop

By MURRAY FROMSON
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—"Never have so many done so little with so much," said an embittered Indonesian politician. His statement reflects the innumerable problems of this new nation of 82 million people whose President, Sukarno, is visiting the United States to promote understanding of his country and gain a better understanding of the West. The impression gained in a short time in Indonesia is that the United States and its allies must accept a few basic realities if they expect to shore up Indonesia against Communist encroachment. First, Indonesia needs time and understanding. It needs to develop a sense of responsibility, swallow some of its intense national pride, and shed some of its conceptions about democracy and its privileges. The West, it seems clear, needs to understand that Indonesia is in no hurry to rebuild the country, strengthen its armed forces, align itself with either East or West. Whether Indonesia has time to realize its needs is the question. Waiting in the background is the patient Communist party, which polled more than six million votes in national elections last fall, about a fourth of the total. Five years ago the party was barely in existence here. Sukarno and some of his closest associates are at loggerheads over the matter of economic development. Sukarno, the ardent Nationalist, sees Indonesia's immediate goals as the complete ouster of Dutch influence and business, plus Dutch surrender of West New Guinea (Irian). Vice President Mohammed Hatta, unofficial leader of the Constitutional Revolutionaries, urges development of natural resources and industry, training of young people in technical fields and improving the living standards of the people. "Then Dutch influence will end, along with their rule of West Irian," his followers say. But Sukarno, the magical orator, has the masses on his side. Hatta has the support of only the so-called intelligentsia, and even they are divided. One American business executive who recently visited here said Indonesia "offers more than any other country in Southeast Asia as a base for economic and industrial expansion." It was in this connection that the disillusioned Indonesian politician remarked about so little being accomplished by so many with so much. Indonesia supplies much of the world's rubber, tin and oil, exports copra and tobacco and has a healthy production of pineapple. Yet it imports rubber tires, soap (made from copra), cigarettes and canned pineapple. Before the war Indonesia exported rice and salt. Now she imports them. The prospect for full development of lush resources looks dim, partly because bitterness against the Dutch has left a legacy of deep-seated suspicion of anything Western. Businessmen feel themselves unwelcome. The Indonesian government would like private financial assistance and money from friendly governments. But it wants no strings attached. "The trouble with us," said one Indonesian businessman "is that we have had too much democracy too fast. The people have the idea that democracy means that everyone can work when he feels like it."

Army Says No Feud Wanted

SEATTLE (AP)—The Army doesn't want to engage in any feuding with other United States military services. Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker declared here last night. Referring to reports from Washington that the Air Force has condemned the Army's Nike anti-aircraft guided missile as unsuitable for the defense of the nation, Brucker said at a news conference. "I am not acquainted with any official Air Force position on this matter. I doubt very seriously if it had anything to do with the Air Force position."
The Army secretary emphasized the Army has been instructed from top to bottom "not to criticize any other service."

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed
What is said to be the easiest and "cleanest" home rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is now available after years of research. Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets. Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical to use as 1/2 gallon of concentrate cleans 9 x 12 rugs.

Oakland Croaker Wins Frog Jump

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (P-H)—Buck Jr., a croaker from a bayshore slough at Oakland, Calif., leaped 15 feet 9 inches to win the International Frog Olympics yesterday.

Buck Jr. outjumped foreign and domestic competition without benefit of the surreptitious backshot which stopped Mark Twain's "celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" in 1853.

The winning frog was owned and trained by Bill Basacker, an eighth-grade student from Oakland.

The world record, established in 1954 by a local frog named Lucky 15 leaped 10 inches in the standard three-hop jump.

Adlai, Estes Hold Agreeable Debate

By The Associated Press
Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver — rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination — found themselves in broad agreement on domestic and foreign policy campaign issues today.

The two contenders held an amicable discussion on a national radio-telephone program last night in Miami. A hint of acrimony crept in only once.

Kefauver gently chided Stevenson for having said earlier that the Tennessee had been away from the Senate on a number of occasions.

Kefauver said he thought Stevenson also quite likely had been away from his job as governor of Illinois during the 1952 campaign when Stevenson unsuccessfully sought the presidency.

Stevenson offered an apology. He said he had mentioned the absence only in answer to a reporter's question as to why Kefauver "had so little support" among fellow senators.

Both candidates emphasized the necessity of renewed efforts to gain a lasting peace and the need for American leadership. They agreed more federal attention must be given the farm problem.

Both agreed generally that the segregation issue can be solved in line with Supreme Court directives as they approached their only Southern primary test a week from today in Florida.

Both seek that state's 28 Democratic convention votes in the next-to-last big test before the national convention in August. They also are opposed in the June 5 fight for California's 68 Democratic delegate votes.

Both saw the dropping by the United States of a hydrogen bomb in the Pacific Sunday as a reminder of the vital necessity of gaining universal peace.

In other political developments yesterday:

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), speaking in Port Huron, Mich., charged Democrats are "sinking to the level of alley brawlers in their frantic attempts to personally discredit" President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Potter said Democrats "have sought frantically" to find campaign issues but can't "because of the peace, prosperity and progress" of the nation under the Eisenhower administration.

Potter said Democrats attempted to embarrass the President by forcing the natural gas bill down his throat and with a "completely unworkable farm bill." Eisenhower vetoed both bills.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, also frequently mentioned as a possible compromise Democratic candidate, underwent a prostate gland operation. His condition was described as "excellent."

Harriman, who says he is "an inactive candidate" for the nomination, was expected to remain in the hospital 9 or 10 days.

An Associated Press sampler of 17 Missouri newspaper editors showed 13 of them believe the Democratic nominee will wrest the state from Eisenhower in November.

Thirty-eight of 41 Kansas editors said they thought Eisenhower would carry Kansas. The Kansans also discounted any widespread "farm revolt" in their state.

And President Eisenhower undertook a precampaign test of a sort by shaking 611 hands in 45 minutes at a White House party for hospitalized veterans. Before he began, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, White House physician, remarked the President was in good shape and "this won't tax him."

Apparently it didn't. Afterward the President remarked, "This was the easiest of all these parties we've ever had."

Queen May Get Visit Invitation

LONDON (P-H)—Two London newspapers speculated today that an exchange of letters between Queen Elizabeth II and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev might lead to an invitation for the Queen to visit Moscow.

The monarch's message to Russia's first chief of state expressed "best wishes for your good health and the flourishing of the Soviet peoples." It was signed "Your good friend, Queen Elizabeth."

The message replied to a note Khrushchev sent the Queen when Premier Bulganin and Communist party head Nikita Khrushchev visited Britain last month. Moscow radio broadcast the texts of both messages.

Disclosure of the correspondence led the Daily Mail and the Daily Sketch to suggest that the Russians might follow through with an invitation to the Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, to visit the Soviet Union.

The Sketch quoted unnamed diplomats as believing "secret negotiations are going on to find out if an invitation would be acceptable" to the royal couple. It said no formal approach has been made but "unofficial soundings have been made in court and cabinet circles."

Both the Sketch and Mail support Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government.

Voroshilov's message to the Queen conveyed "cordial greetings and good wishes in the name of the peoples of the Soviet Union, the Presidium of the U.S.S.R., Supreme Soviet, and myself personally." It recalled the "joint struggle of the British and Soviet peoples" during World War II and added:

"The Presidium of the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet is convinced that the strengthening of the ties of friendship and cooperation between the Soviet Union and the United Kingdom would be in the interests, not only of the peoples of our countries, but also of world peace."

Elizabeth's reply expressed "gratitude for this valuable expression of good will" and hope that the Bulganin-Khrushchev visit "will contribute to the improvement of friendship and mutual understanding between our two countries and peoples. . . ."

Layman's Award

Texas and Pacific Railway Co. president, W. G. Vollmer, left, receives a citation from the Layman's Movement for a Christian World Inc., for a series of advertisements recently sponsored by the railroad on the theme "Our Four Great Faiths." Making the presentation is J. C. Penney, center, chairman of J. C. Penney Co., and vice president of the non-sectarian group which seeks closer relationship between religious beliefs and daily business. Right is Fred F. Florence, of Dallas, president of the American Bankers Association, who was host at the award luncheon in Dallas.

Hole Blown In Brink's Truck

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (P-H)—A shotgun blew a hole in the "armor plate" of a Brink's, Inc., truck yesterday when the weapon was accidentally fired by a guard inside the parked vehicle.

Five sidewalk strollers were hit by flying lead. Their injuries were not serious.

The driver of the armored truck parked on a downtown street so he and two guards in the rear compartment could eat the lunches they carried with them. The trio had been picking up money for delivery to a bank.

One of the guards, John Healy of the Bronx, was munching a sandwich when a .12-gauge shotgun standing nearby started to fall. Police said he lunged for it and accidentally touched the trigger.

The blast tore a one-inch hole in the back of the truck. The pellets, one-fourth inch in diameter, hit most of the five passers-by in the feet or legs.

White-Negro Beach Dispute Broken Up

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (P-H)—Police ordered about 150 whites and Negroes off the public beach yesterday, breaking up an apparent dispute over use of the bathing strip.

Officers declined to discuss the incident. Observers said about 75 Negroes and an equal number of whites, mostly teen-agers, confronted each other near where the Negroes had been bathing.

Delray Beach city officials last week indicated Negroes were welcome to use the beach.

Bright Young Girl Minnie's Downfall

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A bright young girl who knew what book-keeping was all about may have been the downfall of Minnie Mangum, the million-dollar embezzler. The 52-year-old spinster with the kind heart pleaded guilty yesterday to taking $1,082,858 from the Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn. of Norfolk over a 22-year period. As assistant secretary-treasurer Miss Minnie handled the books and liked to hire girls who knew "her system" of card accounting. Last September she hired Mrs. Robert G. Cannon, wife of a sailor stationed at the big naval base here. Mrs. Cannon, 21, had worked at a building and loan firm back in her home town of Waukegan, Ill. From the start, she didn't like the way Miss Minnie handled the accounting system. One day in November, while a group of state auditors were in the office, the two women quarreled over a missing account card and Mrs. Cannon called Miss Minnie a liar for saying she didn't know about the card. Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Cannon was out of a job. But she told the auditors all she knew. And on Dec. 16, they swooped down in a surprise check on Commonwealth and found the firm's finances in such disarray that the company went under. The shortages totaled nearly three million dollars.

Then, gradually, the strange story of this woman who came from a poor family was unfolded. It was the story of a woman who started at the bottom and worked her way to the top as a $9,000-a-year executive of one of the largest firms of its kind in Virginia. It was the story of a woman who contributed generously to church and charity... who was president of her Sunday School class for 12 years... who chartered buses to take kids to the beach... who took care of a blind sister in her modest bungalow. But in Norfolk Corporation Court State's Atty. Linwood Tabb described her as "one of the most generous people with other people's money" who ever came before the bar of justice.

John Harbison, a chief examiner for the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, depicted her as a "one-man building and loan association" whose wide authority permitted her to post fictitious deposits to individual savings accounts of friends and relatives who knew nothing of her activities. He said she seemed to have "advance knowledge" of when the auditors would be around to check. Where she got her information was unknown, he added. Judge Lawrence Bullock deferred passing sentence pending a probationary report. Last week, Miss Minnie got 10 years for lying to the state's banking regulatory agency. She could get 120 years under the embezzlement conviction.

Jet Crash Fatal TOKYO (AP) — A U.S. Air Force B86 jet crashed outside Tokyo today and skidded 2,500 feet into a Japanese home. A Japanese boy, 3, was killed and his father injured. The pilot, a member of the 41st Interceptor Squadron, also was hurt.

Actress 'Slaps' Naughty Artist

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An aspiring actress of voluptuous proportions rebelled last night when a new hotel unveiled a nude painting of her in its casino. "I don't want to be a Marilyn Monroe," blonde Sandra Giles, 22, wailed as the artist took the wraps off a shameless nude in repose. "I want to be an actress. I didn't post that way. I had a bathing suit on." And so did the free-swinging press agents. She thereupon slapped artist

Philip Paval who once had the King of Denmark sit for him. It was not a hard slap. Her press agent then slapped the hotel's press agent. Everybody threatened to sue everybody else. The whole melee was a press agent's dream. Paval took all the two-fisted press agency calmly. After all, he explained, the hotel had paid him $2,500 to paint "A Lady of Chance" portrait. He secured Miss Giles as the model. "Certainly she posed in a bathing suit," the artist admitted. "But I used my imagination." And so did the free-swinging press agents.

Coffee Price Hike Brews As Producers Raise Marks

NEW YORK (AP) — Higher retail coffee prices are brewing. Producers of major brands increased their wholesale prices as much as 4 cents a pound yesterday. Soon after, a spokesman for several of the big supermarket chains said the increases are certain to be passed on to retail consumers. He said it may take 10 to 14 days, however. General Foods Corp. started the new round of price boosts, lifting the wholesale price of its Maxwell House vacuum-packed coffee 2 cents a pound to 99 cents. This almost wiped out a price cut of 3 cents a pound made last March. Other processors of "brand name" coffees were quick to follow. Two of them — S. A. Schonbrunn & Co. (distributors of Savarin coffee) and Old Dutch Coffee Co. — raised their prices 4 cents a pound. Albert Ehlers, president of Albert Ehlers, Inc., attributed a 2-cent rise in the price of that company's coffee to higher prices charged South American shippers. Brazilian prices "have been creeping up during the last 30 days," Ehlers said. "It got to the point where we couldn't take it any more." In San Francisco, two coffee-packing firms increased wholesale prices 2 cents a pound.
