Everybody Happy?

Truman Denies Quotes On Anzio, Salerno Landings

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Harry Truman denied through a spokesman today that he called the World War II landings at Salerno and Anzio unnecessary. An Associated Press reporter who quoted him said "It was reported exactly as he said it."

After looking over the bloody beachhead battlefields of Salerno and Anzio yesterday, the former president was quoted as calling the invasions there "totally unnecessary and planned by some squirrel-headed general."

He was quoted as adding: "I don't know who it was, there were a lot of easier places that could have been picked."

The remarks were reported by Fred J. Zussy, veteran Associated Press correspondent.

Eugene Bailey, secretary to Truman, told Zussy today: "The President makes a complete denial of the quoted statement that he termed the Salerno and Anzio landings 'totally unnecessary and planned by some squirrel-headed general.' That was not the President's statement. He never told you that."

Zussy, a Milwaukee native who has been a journalist since 1937 and an AP foreign correspondent for seven years, said: "My quotes were copied while the President was talking to me and are precisely as recorded. Both in my memory and in the notes written down word by word as he spoke the quotes are as reported."

The remarks stirred up a storm of criticism in the United States and Britain, since Allied casualties at both battles were heavy.

Bailey told Zussy that Truman had talked earlier yesterday with Michael Chingio of International News Service and that "those were Chingio's words to the President."

"It could not be true that the President told you that—his must have said that was what Chingio had told him," Bailey said.

Zussy said: "Mr. Truman made the statement flatly and without attribution. Both my memory and my notes recorded as he spoke attest to that. Another correspondent who came up and overheard part of the remark heard and also quoted the 'squirrel-headed' phrase."

"After we had finished, the President said in passing 'You can talk to Mike Chingio—he was here then,' but Mr. Truman said nothing at all to indicate in any way that the views he expressed without attribution were other than his own."

Asked for comment, Chingio said today: "I never told the President that the Salerno landings were totally unnecessary or had been planned by some squirrel-headed general. I did talk to him about the landing itself. I made the landing my own troops."

Bailey made the denial to Zussy after the AP man asked him about a report from New York that had denied the remarks. There was no general denial or did Truman or his secretary inform Zussy his quotes were questioned until Zussy raised the issue himself.

Truman said nothing on the matter this morning to the cor-

Billion-Dollar Aid Cut Draws Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said today the Joint Chiefs of Staff feel a billion-dollar cut would force a major revamping of America's military aid program.

The statement by Vorys, a leading administration supporter on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, came as a drive was opened to restore the funds the committee yesterday decided to trim from the $4,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, went before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday and appealed for restoration of the full amount asked by President Eisenhower. The House still must act on the aid bill.

As Wilson left the closed session, he told newsmen: "I don't think the people realize military assistance is an essential part of our defense."

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he felt the House committee cut "entirely too much" from the aid bill. He said he would join in an attempt to restore much of the reduction.

Waco Preparing For Ike's Visit

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Carpenters, painters, electricians and air-conditioning workers were busy today at the Heart O'Texas Coliseum where President Eisenhower Friday will make an important address on international affairs at a special Baylor University convocation.

A 32-foot scaffold is being constructed at the coliseum for newsreel and television cameras, and loudspeakers are being installed outside the coliseum and in nearby agricultural, general exhibits and livestock buildings.

The President will be presented with an honorary doctor of laws degree.

First of all, the tiny, fleeting, 500 m.p.h. drone plane had to make two passes over the firing range because of technical difficulties. It circled wide over the vast 30x120 mile proving ground range and came back again. At approximately 30,000 feet from the target, the first Nike was fired. Seconds later, the second Nike flared into the blue afternoon sky.

From that point on, there was technical confusion. For some reason, the range control lost contact with the drone plane. The drone plane then blossomed forth with a parachute recovery device and floated to earth.

Nervous Army officers, obviously concerned about the controversy over the Nike system, were unable to say immediately whether or not one or both of the Nikes had scored a hit and a kill. It was not until five hours later that Army spokesmen would release to newsmen the information there had been a direct hit by one of the rockets and that the demonstration was considered ultimately successful.

Army Working On 'Wedding' Of Missile, Atomic Warhead

By SANKY TRIMBLE
WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP)—Army ordnance experts have revealed the existence in the southern New Mexico desert of a military organization designed to wed an atomic warhead to a guided missile.

The disclosure came as the Army demonstrated its operational guided missiles before 115 newsmen here.

A briefing officer said there is a special weapons section of the Army Ordnance Department at White Sands. The mission of this section, he said, is to determine the capability of the various operational rockets to carry atomic warheads.

The Army did not disclose whether any of the operational missiles are equipped with atomic warheads. It insisted the tests are solely for engineering and field-test purposes, although involving operational models.

The demonstration of several types of rockets was staged as a nationwide controversy continued over the military arm's guided missile program.

Ike Sees Need For Service Argument

Methodists Open 47th Annual Northwest Texas Conference

Methodists from the nine districts to the Northwest Texas Conference through the First Methodist Church here Wednesday morning for their 47th annual convocation.

Bishop W. C. Martin, Dallas, convoked the conference promptly at 10 a.m. for the opening worship. Organization of the conference followed quickly, and the sermon memorializing ministers and their wives who had died since the last meeting of the conference, climaxed the morning session.

In the service presided over by Dr. C. A. Bickley, Lubbock, retired, Dr. Chess Lovren, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Lubbock, paid tributes to the memory of Ivey E. Biggs, Clarendon, O. D. McDonald, Colorado City, George H. Bryant, Lubbock, Thomas J. Rice, Childress, Edward A. Tharp, Crowell, Dr. J. T. Griswold, Abilene, and G. W. McLain, Texline. These ministers have passed away during the preceding year. Also included in the memorial was Mrs. Ed R. Wallace, wife of a retired minister at Shamrock; Mrs. E. L. Sisk, Mobeetie; Mrs. L. H. Davis, Abilene and Mrs. E. L. Hill, Weatherford.

Bishop Bascom Watts of the Nebraska area, the conference preacher, will deliver the first of a series of messages at 7:30 p.m. today, speaking on "Candles on the Altar." His 11:30 a.m. Thursday topic will be "The Greatest Christian." Bishop Watts will speak again Thursday evening, Friday morning and evening.

Bishop Martin is to bring the first of three morning devotionals at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, using as his theme: "Into All the World."

Bishop Martin announced the nominees for boards and commissions to serve for the next four years. (See list on page 9.)

During the afternoon, the opening business session produced reports of progress in virtually all phases of activities. For one thing, it was revealed that conference membership hit a new record in passing the 100,000 mark. Additions to the church exceeded 16,000 during the past year. The building program for church and schools exceeded $6½ million. Mission gifts were up substantially.

Reports of progress were based on the past four years, because the Methodist Church completes the current quadrennium on June 1. Total membership is now 102,394, the largest in the conference's history. There have been 15 new congregations with several more to be organized soon, according to the report of the conference's nine district superintendents which was presented by Dr. J. E. Shewbert, Lubbock.

During the four-year period, 16,152 have come into the church on profession of faith and church vows. Pastors' salaries have increased approximately $175,000. Minimum salary has been raised from $2,100 to $2,400. World Service contributions have totalled $773,371; and General Advance Specials (over and above budget giving) total $290,370, including the Korean Appeal Offering, which sent approximately one and one-half million dollars to Korean relief.

Laymen have led in all All-Texas Stewardship program, a tithe campaign and an every-member financial canvass program. They have promoted Methodist Men's clubs and the layman's retreat, the latter being one of the largest attended in the South Central Jurisdiction (an eight state area).

Woman's Society of Christian Service members report one of the largest attendances for their school of missions of any school held in the jurisdiction. They have raised for all purposes over $770,000.

More people are attending worship services than ever in the conference's history. Sunday schools were said on the increases as well as work with children, youth and adults. There is also increased interest and attendance reported at the various camps.

During the past four years, the second conference camp has been started near Merkel.

McMurry college, Abilene, has an increased student enrollment, as well as more faculty. There is a new girls' dormitory and a new classroom building now under construction.

Lyndon Johnson, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Rep. George Mahon, Mrs. H. H. Weinert, Ben Ramsey, Tom Connally, Gerald C. Mann, Charles C. Smith, James P. Nash, Jay Taylor, Glen Teague, James Abercrombie, Mrs. Frankie Randolph, Vann Kennedy, Byron Skelton, Mrs. R. Max Brooks, Homer Throneberry, Mrs. Allison Perry, S. B. ## 45 Attend LTM Conference Here

Representatives from 45 cities had registered at 11 a.m. today for the regional meeting of the League of Texas Municipalities being held at the Settles Hotel.

The conference is held bi-annually and for the past three sessions, it has been conducted here. Representatives are here from as far west as El Paso and eastward to Sweetwater, northward to Lubbock, and as far south as Eldorado.

From the cities were a total of 45 delegates.

The conference will end today at 4 p.m.

Leading the discussions this morning were E. E. McAdams, executive director of LTM, and C. C. Crutchfield, field consultant for the League. The morning session was turned over to discussions of problems brought up by members present.

Among the topics discussed were street sweepers available for smaller cities, time warrants, question of the term "permanent" in voting bonds, oil well drilling inside city

Disputes Help Find Answers, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he would be frightened indeed if, in these times, there were not good, strong arguments among America's armed services.

The President told a news conference, however, that all differences should be studied in a spirit of honest search for the truth, and not with any purpose in mind of just seeing whether an interservice fight can be promoted.

A great many of the questions put to Eisenhower dealt with the rivalry among the services which came to light last weekend.

Secretary of Defense Wilson yesterday pictured the President as "a bit unhappy" about the disputes.

At the outset of his news conference Eisenhower was asked for his view of the situation.

He noted that he is Commander in Chief, as well as President, and said no important matter dealing with the armed services comes up that does not concern him.

Alluding to the interservice differences over the role to be played by the various branches, Eisenhower said it is necessary to get the matter in proper perspective.

In these days of new weapons, Eisenhower said, there is constant change and fluidity, and military doctrines that were sacrosanct in the past now are being deserted.

It was then he said that if there were not good, strong arguments among the armed services, he would be frightened indeed.

Later on, Eisenhower said with great emphasis that the strength of America is not found alone in bombs or in guided missiles. It is instead, he added, a combination of many things, such as balancing the budget.

It is one, integrated problem, he declared, and not a matter of little bits and pieces scattered all over the world.

In response to other questions, Eisenhower said that Russia's announced plans to cut its military forces by 1,200,000 men will be very warmly welcomed by the West if actually carried out.

He added, however, that the Russian announcement needs careful study and careful watching to find out what it may amount to.

Eisenhower indicated he feels the announced cut is not too significant in terms of reducing Soviet military power. He said the Soviet Union still would have 115 ground divisions, great air power, and naval strength.

The President also dealt with these other matters:

TRUMAN-ANZIO—Without any mention of former President Truman, a reporter asked Eisenhower who planned the Anzio landing in Italy during World War II. That matter popped into the headlines yesterday when Truman, visiting in Italy, was quoted as saying the Anzio Beach landing was "totally unnecessary and planned by some squirrel-headed general."

Eisenhower said he did not think anyone could call it a failure. He said the Germans brought down 28 divisions while the Allies had fewer than that. When you can commit enemy strength of that size, Eisenhower said, he doesn't believe anyone could call the operation a failure.

H-BOMB—Responding to a request for any new information he might have about the H-bomb drop from a B2 plane in the Pacific area last weekend, Eisenhower said the bomb was somewhat smaller than weapons dropped previously by this country's personnel.

He added that the purposes the Atomic Energy Commission had in mind in arranging this latest test apparently were achieved.

Action Completed On New Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional action was completed today on a farm bill designed to overcome objections which drew a veto for a broader measure April 16.

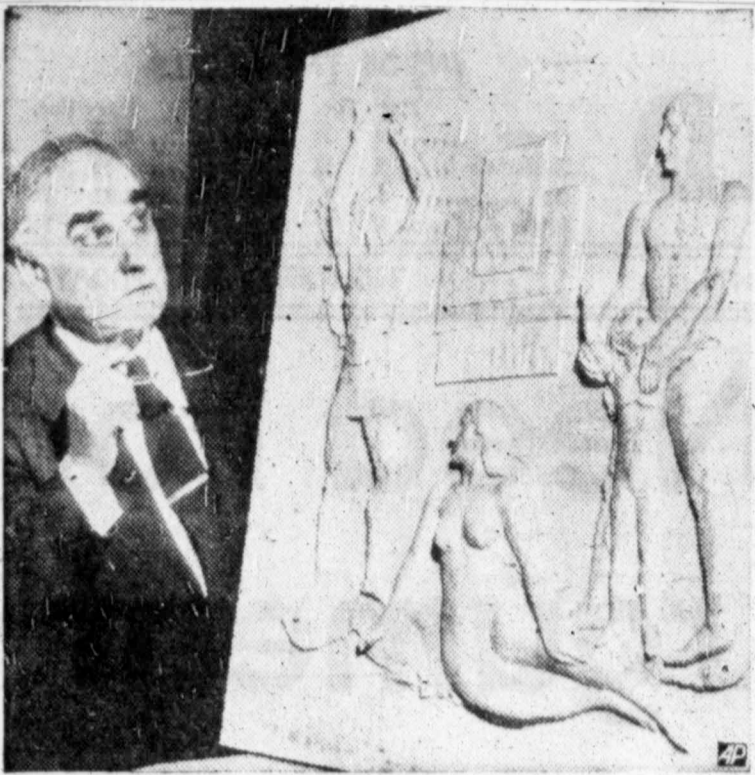

The House quickly passed the compromise measure which the Senate approved yesterday. It was written by a conference committee after the two branches had passed separate bills.

Panhandle, Plains Hit By Storms

Hail, rain and dust storms hit the Panhandle-Plains area of Texas late Tuesday and early Wednesday as a mild cold front moved southward across the state.

The front, which the Weather Bureau said was dropping temperatures only slightly, was due to touch off widely scattered thundershowers in other sections Wednesday and Thursday.

SUIT DROPPED

Ad Firms Agree To Court Decrees

NEW YORK (AP)—Consent judgments approved in federal court have ended a government civil antitrust suit originally brought against six publishing and advertising associations. They have been accused of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act by allegedly conspiring to restrain the business of developing, placing and servicing national advertising. All denied the charges. There was no trial or adjudication of the issues. The associations, instead, agreed to accept court decrees forbidding certain practices in connection with the handling of national advertising. Judge John M. Cashin signed the decrees. Under them, the associations may not: Enter any agreement establishing or stabilizing advertising agency commissions; require or request any advertising agency to refrain from rebating or splitting agency commissions; or require any medium not to do business with any advertising agency. The associations also may not: Establish or stabilize advertising rates to be charged advertisers not employing an advertising agency; or request any medium to deny or limit credit or agency commissions due or available to any advertising agency. The consent judgments, entered yesterday, were in behalf of the Publishers Assn. of New York City; Associated Business Publications, Inc.; Periodical Publishers Assn. of America; and Agricultural Publishers Assn. Earlier this year, similar judgments were entered in the cases of two other defendants, the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies, Inc., and the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., Inc.

Noted Professor Defends 'Eggheads'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—America "is afraid of death of eggheads," said Dr. Frank C. Baxter. "Yet behind all science, all knowledge are eggheads," contended Baxter, University of Southern California professor whose television showmanship won him a 1956 Peabody Award for his discourses on Shakespeare. "Eggheads—I hate the word—are the people who set the pace," Baxter told a press conference last night before addressing the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"We are talking, I assume, of the socially valuable intelligent people, not the superficial intellectuals."

"We are losing something precious in not knowing how to find our leadership potential."

"We are bankrupt in world leadership today. You can see in Washington that policy is made day by day."

Winston Churchill was a leader of world stature, Baxter said, "but now Churchill is through." Under present methods of mass education, he said, "some of the waste of human stuff is incalculable."

"It is wrong that the superior student with rich capabilities should be denied the chance to unfold to the limits of his powers. It is a sin that the mediocre and the unpotential should set the pace for their betters."

"One wonders whether there should not be some point in public education where those unable, uninterested and unwilling to go further should be shunted off into trade schools—or even (if they have obtained a bare minimum of education) into doing that humble work in the world that must be done by somebody."

"If a boy is a born truck driver, why don't we start him driving a truck."

Bob Crosby Scores Musicians Union

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bandleader Bob Crosby says the top brass of the American Federation of Musicians have "forgotten the basis of all labor movement—social justice."

Crosby expressed the opinion in testimony yesterday before a congressional subcommittee investigating the union and its relations with its locals.

In a reference to the administration of Union President James C. Petrillo, Crosby said:

"The essence of a union is democracy. There is no democracy if a union's voice is the voice of one man and if it expresses the will of only one man or a few men."

Ike Warned Of New Housing Scandals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today he has told President Eisenhower "the elements which breed housing scandals still persist" in the Federal Housing Administration. He made public a letter to Eisenhower saying reports by the General Accounting Office show "irregularities and inefficiencies" in FHA offices in New York City, Kansas City and Cleveland, and in 22 slum clearance projects in 15 cities. Byrd did not indicate there was evidence of graft.

Byrd also made public letters he has sent to housing boss Albert M. Cole asking for "confirmation or denial" of the GAO reports, and a report on what Cole is doing about them. Cole is administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, parent of the FHA.

Byrd acted as chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Expenditures. He also made public replies from the White House and Cole acknowledging his letters and promising fuller replies later. There was no other comment from them.

"While the four reports are directed to the administration of only a small portion of the vast federal housing programs," Byrd wrote Eisenhower in a letter dated May 16 "as far as they go they clearly show that the elements which breed housing scandals still persist."

The allusion was to a series of 1954 hearings by the Senate Banking Committee and other groups which produced evidence of irregularities in two main housing programs.

One was home repair loans. There was testimony that many home owners were cheated by fast-talking salesmen whose firms then turned out shoddy work. The other concerned a postwar apartment program widely called Section 808 projects. A number of project sponsors were disclosed to have obtained FHA-insured mortgages far exceeding their actual costs and pocketing the difference. The government has filed recovery suits in many of these "windfall" cases.

During the 1954 hearings, the administration fired a number of FHA officials. The abstract of GAO reports which Byrd made public quoted that spending watchdog agency as saying in a statement dated March 23 a "windfall" profit had gone to Alfred Kaskel, sponsor of the Park City housing project in New York City.

Kaskel, the abstract said, "is among those on FHA's own blacklist of (Section) 608 sponsors developed as a result of previous federal housing scandals."

The GAO said that in the New York FHA office "generally the (project) sponsors' financial statements were accepted without verification," and that so were the cost estimates for many projects.

In Kansas City, the GAO said, it found that underwriting personnel "did not understand the method" for determining the true value of rental properties.

It accused FHA officials in Cleveland of having first set a value for some projects, then worked out a formula to justify the figure.

Teacher's Play To Be Staged

First graders, assisted by a fourth grade chorus, will stage a play written by their teacher, Rose Sizemore, at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the Washington Place School auditorium. Due to the limited space, admission will be by invitation. The fantasy concerns a toy maker who after many years at the bench retired for rest and seclusion. He continues to make toys while sitting in his garden. Village children gather around the old toy-maker to play and hear his tales of "sprites" that come to the garden at night and call his toys to life. The old gentleman falls asleep and sees his toys come to life and parade past him in the garden. The story winds up with a surprise feature. Miss Sizemore, director of the play, said it was written out of her work with children and her reading. She is assisted in the production by Mrs. Velma Griese, school music supervisor. Pupils of Miss Sizemore's first grade, the fourth grade chorus of Mrs. Bernice Slater and some other students will participate.

Lamesa Builder Gets Contract For Northside Fire Station

Contract for construction of the city's Northside fire station was let Tuesday night for $41,667 to G. A. Jones of Lamesa. The Lamesa bidder submitted lowest of seven estimates given for construction of the building. His contract calls for completion within 150 calendar days. Jones told the commission he would be ready to start the project in about 10 days. Other bidders included Pioneer Builders, $43,743 and 125 days; Jones Construction of Big Spring, $43,420 and 150 days; Suggs of Big Spring, $48,262 and 140 days; Boyd McDaniel of Abilene, $47,652 and 120 days; L&L Housing of Big Spring, $44,750 and 150 days, and C. L. Cooke of Abilene, $45,000 and 130 days. Authority was given the city manager, H. W. Whitney, to advertise for bids for furnishings for the two new fire stations. The commission will then purchase the equipment at its next meeting, June 12. The equipment will include beds, mattresses, chairs, tables, a stove, refrigerator, and a desk for each. Whitney was also instructed to advertise for bids on fire hose. Hose will be needed for the two pumping units purchased by the commission Dec. 13. Commissioners will purchase that equipment at their next meeting also. Second reading of the ordinance increasing telephone rates and establishing the base rate area of service was approved without incident. Roy Bruce, who voiced the lone disapproval at the first reading May 15, again cast a dissenting vote to the rate hike. Third and final reading will be at the commission's next meeting. Whitney reported to the council that police radar sets cost Midland and Odessa $850 and $734.40, respectively. In addition, Midland purchased $107 extra equipment. Whitney said both cities recommended use of their sets both from a financial and psychological standpoint. The city manager has written a manufacturer for estimates of costs and will have the information for the next meeting. Commissioners approved a request from the police department and commended them for their action. Policemen had voted in a meeting Monday afternoon to volunteer one day per month each and let their pay go to patrolman L. C. Waits. Waits has gone to a VA Hospital in New Mexico for treatment, and the city commission at its May 15 meeting voted him half pay for 90 days. The work by the men of the police department will make the difference between half and full pay for him. Approval was given to hold boat races at Moss Creek Lake on July 1. The commission in granting the request said they would assume no responsibility for operation of the races. John Little, attorney for the developers of the areas east of H.C.J.C. approached the commission about paving cost of the three-foot center concrete strip on Auburn Street. The street will be of the inverted crown type construction to carry water from the Monticello Addition. In times past, the city has paid for the concrete section when it demanded that type of street. Developers will pay for remainder of construction. Little was instructed to advertise for bids with and without the center concrete strip. Ward Hall argued that streets could carry the water without the concrete center gutter and still be in good condition. If costs are too high, the city said it might construct the center with its regular street crews. Commissioners said "no" to a proposal from L. H. Steward that he would pay the principal on paying debts if the city would waive the interest. He claimed that water flowing down Arizona Street backed up in his yard and had caused damage to the yard and his house. The commission said it could not waive the interest on one case without setting a precedent. Also mentioned at the meeting with no action taken was possible development of the area north of the Amended Settles Heights addition by Charlie Creighton for both residential and business areas. Roy Bruce mentioned that citizens on Nineteenth Street were having trouble with areas where the water lines had been laid. The dirt had not been replaced as before and they were having trouble getting into their driveways.

RACIAL STAND Adlai Disclaims Criticism Of Estes

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson disclaims any responsibility for criticism of the racial stand of Sen. Estes Kefauver, his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination. Former Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida, in introducing Stevenson to an audience at Tallahassee last night, quoted a single paragraph from a newspaper editorial which referred to Kefauver as an "integrationist" and a "sycophant seeking Negro votes." Stevenson told newsmen later that he did not hear Caldwell quote from the editorial. He said he was seated behind Caldwell and could not make out what he said. Caldwell, a delegate candidate pledged to the former Illinois governor on Tuesday's presidential preference primary, quoted the Richmond (Va.) News-Leader when he introduced Stevenson to state employees at the capitol. "I am not responsible for what Gov. Caldwell said about Sen. Kefauver. I certainly am not responsible for what the Richmond newspaper wrote about him," Stevenson said. Caldwell's only reference to Kefauver's position on segregation, a burning political issue in north Florida, was the quotation from the newspaper editorial which appeared March 24. Kefauver in campaign speeches in Florida has termed desegregation the law of the land and said the problems created by mixing the races in public schools must be settled at the local level on the basis of local conditions. Caldwell urged Florida Democrats to give Stevenson their 28 nominating votes because, he said, he is the only candidate "who can carry the South, and without the South the Democrats can't win." Caldwell said he didn't "see any profit in choosing a man who cannot be elected."

Later at Lake City, the center of a strongly pro-segregation area, Stevenson repeated his own position that desegregation is now the law but he said it cannot be accomplished overnight and that the problem must be approached "with patience and good will, and without violence or troops." Stevenson assailed Republican administration with responsibility for a 27 per cent decline in farm prices in the past three years.

Jap Graphs Record H-Bomb Explosion

TOKYO (AP)—A supersensitive seismograph in Japan has recorded the earth shocks of the American H-bomb explosion over Bikini Atoll Monday, the Central Meteorological Observatory announced. The shocks were reported felt 12 minutes after the explosion by the Matsuyo earthquake observatory in Nagano prefecture. The announcement also said small tidal waves were observed at various stations, beginning at almost five hours after the blast. The waves ranged from six to eight inches in height and lasted for nearly five hours.

Third Lions Club Is Planned At Lamesa

LAMESA—The Lamesa evening Lions club last night voted to sponsor a Lions Club in east Lamesa. It would be primarily a Latin American organization. Dr. David Ellis of Midland, district 2-T-1 public relations chairman, will meet with the Lamesa club and interested Latin Americans at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Rectory of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church.

Rotarians Honor Supt. Blankenship

Rotarians piled their tributes to W. C. Blankenship on top of those given by educators and others last week. Blankenship is retiring from the superintendency of schools on July 1, having spent 28 years in that place. He became a charter member of the Rotary Club soon after he arrived in Big Spring. Heading a list of those handing verbal bouquets was Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Blankenship's pastor of the past 15 years. "No person is greater than the service he renders," declared Dr. O'Brien, "and by this standard, W. C. Blankenship is great." He pointed to the establishment of a good name—a name that has been signed on more senior high school diplomas since "Supe" has been head of the school system here. Blankenship, he said, had truly invested his life, and would live over and over again in the lives of thousands of youngsters. He presented Blankenship with a gold Rotary ring. Dr. E. O. Ellington, who was a president of the school board when Blankenship was appointed superintendent of schools, recalled many anecdotes about difficulties in those times and the depression immediately following. Over the 12 years he was on the board, Dr. Ellington said "he stayed with us and we stayed with him." Shine Philips, another long-time Rotarian and a former school board member, said he was happy that "we're patting Supe on the back instead of waiting to pat him in the face with a shovel." Ira Thurman, a former board president, paid tribute to Blankenship, singing out his sense of good humor and even temper. "There was never anything that Supe could do for me or the boys that he didn't do if he could," testified Obie Bristol, former coach and a board member. "Supe's interest was with the boys." In the years he has been a resident of Big Spring, "I have learned to love Supe like everyone else," said R. W. Thompson, vice chairman of the school board and Rotarian. He added that the board was honored to confer on Blankenship the title of superintendent emeritus. Omar Jones, also a member of the board and a Big Spring High School graduate, said he was happy to join in tributes to his friend instead of waiting for a funeral. Dan Krausse, president of the Rotary, recalled that other Rotarians had served on the board of trustees and worked with "Supe," including Dr. M. H. Bennett, and the late Bill Inkman and the late C. W. Cunningham. To all this Blankenship replied that he was thankful for "the wonderful privilege of serving as superintendent and to have done my little bit in helping great school boards and a great faculty, and our children—who are the center of my affection and heart." Tuesday was Rotary Ann Day, and Mrs. Blankenship was seated beside her husband for the surprise program. Out-of-town Rotarians visiting included Larry Akins, Marshall Kemp, David Cole, Hank Avery, Midland; Bill Sewell, Lubbock; Dr. J. O. Haymes, Childress; C. N. Howard, Raymondville; Dr. Harold G. Cooke, Abilene; Herschel Thurston, Dalhart.

5 Kansas U. Students Held After Staging Panty Raid

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Five University of Kansas students were in jail and a sixth was free on bond today after a panty raid on a Baker University sorority house 12 miles away at Baldwin, Kan.

Dr. Laurence C. Woodruff, dean of students at Kansas, said it will expel all who participated as fast as it gets proof.

An estimated 80 to 100 K.U. men crashed the Alpha Chi Omega house early Tuesday morning and rampaged for an hour. Dressing robes were ripped from three Baker coeds. Windows were smashed and silverware and other mementoes taken.

Dr. Woodruff and Douglas County authorities indicated more arrests could be expected. The sheriff's office said it had automobile license numbers of 41 cars involved.

Several cars were impounded. One of the students, Robert M. Hershberg, 18-year-old freshman from New York City, pleaded guilty in County Court yesterday to a charge of disturbing the peace. He was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Robert Ray Hopkins, 19, a freshman from Russell, Kan., was charged with intent to do bodily harm. The complaint alleged he sprayed Louis Fundis, Baldwin city marshal, with a fire extinguisher.

Manufacturer Seeking Divorce

Kefauver Aides Map Florida Plans

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Top strategists are mapping plans to saturate Florida with radio and TV plugs for Sen. Estes Kefauver in the crucial windup drive of his Florida primary election battle with Adlai E. Stevenson.

The Tennessee Democrat's national campaign manager, F. Joseph Donohue, said today that from tomorrow until Tuesday's balloting, the Kefauver camp is buying 13 spot pitches a day on 40 or 50 Florida radio stations. Donohue told a reporter: he thinks Kefauver's campaign to win the Florida presidential preference primary and its 28 votes at the Democratic National Convention has been picking up power steadily.

Kefauver too said he figures that he is doing better in the next-to-last primary showdown between himself and Stevenson. The finale comes off in California June 5, with 68 Democratic convention votes for the victor.

The Tennessee senator has been directing his campaign speeches partly toward California as well as beaming them at Florida audiences. He did that to some extent yesterday in urging expansion of the social security system and increased assistance to the needy in talks at Fort Lauderdale and Hollywood.

Both Florida and California are meccas for persons who have retired. In both talks yesterday, Kefauver urged a lowering of the eligibility age for women social security benefit applicants from 65 to 62. He called for full social security payments to the disabled at age 50 in his Hollywood talk. Stevenson has endorsed these ideas too.

But on assistance to the needy, Kefauver went beyond his rival to recommend legislation "which would raise the present federal ceiling on matching funds for public assistance from $55 to $100 a month."

Under this program the federal government puts up some of the money and states put up the rest on a matching basis.

Mother's Death Was 'Speeded Up'

DENVER (AP)—A coroner's jury found yesterday Miss Nellie E. Camblin "speeded up" the death of her 93-year-old mother.

Testimony showed Mrs. Mary Camblin died May 17 after falling down a stairway and lying there three days without food or medical attention.

Detective Robert Cardillo told the jury Miss Camblin said she didn't think it was necessary to summon aid because none of her mother's bones were broken and she was not in pain.

Miss Camblin is 61. Her mother had lived with her 41 years. The jury ruled Mrs. Camblin died of natural causes. No charges have been filed against the daughter.

Cool Canadian Air Ends Midwest Summer Weather

By The Associated Press
The brief spell of summerlike weather in most of the Midwest appeared ended today.

Cool air from Canada spread into the Plains States and across north central areas in the wake of showers and severe thunderstorms. The chilly air dipped southward into Kansas and eastward across the Great Lakes region.

Rapid changes in temperature were reported in some sections. Chicago, after sweltering in 92 degree heat yesterday, cooled off after a brief shower last night. Temperatures dropped 35 degrees in eight hours, to an early morning low of 48.

Readings were in the 40s in Minnesota and Wisconsin and in the low 30s in extreme northern sections of the Midwest.

Readings were above normal in most other parts of the country but cooler weather appeared in prospect for the Northeast section.

St. Thomas Group Has Installation

New officers were installed at the business and social meeting of the St. Thomas Altar Society in the church hall Tuesday evening. Plans were made for a bake sale at Piggy-Wigly Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. Eleven new families were called on during the month. Installation was in charge of Mrs. C. C. Brunton of Forsan, vice president of the District Council of Catholic Women. Using the theme of the Christopher, movement that one can change the world by lighting just one little candle, the president was presented a lighted blessed candle by the installing officer. She in turn lighted the candles of her officers. The officers then signified their willingness to lead the members by lighting their candles. New officers are: Mrs. John Flynn, president; Mrs. R. L. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. R. C. Frayser, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Broussard, treasurer. For the social hour, outgoing officers, Mrs. Sophie Corcoran, Mrs. W. C. # Aaron's Surge Tips Brooks In Big Set

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It looks as if all Hank Aaron needed to shake loose from Milwaukee's list of slumping sluggers was a taste of Brooklyn pitching — just as Dodger Manager Walt Alston feared.

Aaron, the Braves' 22-year-old cloutier who hadn't been over .300 since the fourth game of the season, put himself right with a rousing four-for-five — a home run, double and two singles — as the National League-leading Braves pushed the Brooks into fourth place 7-3 last night. It was Henry's first four-hit game of the season and upped his average 31 points to .313.

HANK AARON

In spring training, Aaron batted a scorching .522 against the world champs and Alston commented, "What's more, he's likely to hit .522 all season. That fellow really is terrific."

Last night's spree was Aaron's best yet in a slump-shaking drive in which he has hit safely in nine straight games.

His stickwork helped the Braves gain a slim 23-point edge over runner-up St. Louis. The Cardinals ended a three-game Pittsburgh winning streak 6-3 despite a home run, double and single by the Pirates' Dale Long, who gained the major league lead with a 411 bat mark. Cincinnati took over third, half a game ahead of the Brooks, by beating the New York Giants 6-3.

In the American, Detroit catcher Red Wilson hammered a two-run homer in the ninth to end six-game winning streaks by Whitey Ford and the New York Yankees 3-2. The Yanks retained their 2½-game lead over second-place Cleveland, however, as Boston beat the Indians 5-3. Kansas City beat Washington 6-1. Aaron got the Braves started

Schoolboy Clears 14 Feet ½ Inch

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Jim Matjeka, a senior from Sequoia High School at Redwood City, Calif., last night made the second highest pole vault ever recorded by a high school boy.

Matjeka vaulted 14 feet ½ inch at the El Cerrito Relays.

The high school record is 14 feet 2 inches by Jim Brewer of North Phoenix, Ariz.

Four Players Unanimous Picks On All-SWC Team

By The Associated Press

Four players—pitchers Bob McDaniel of Texas Christian and John Wolda of Rice, shortstop Al Paschal and right fielder Bob White of Texas Christian—were unanimous choices on the All-Southwest Conference baseball team selected by the six coaches.

Champion TCU placed five men on the team—in addition to McDaniel, Paschal and White, Carl Warwick, center fielder, and Charles Quick, second baseman, made it.

Baylor landed four players, Rice three, Southern Methodist two and Texas and Texas A&M one each.

The team has eight .300 hitters. McDaniel tops the pitchers with an 8-1 record.

The team with pitching records and batting averages:

Pitchers—Bob McDaniel, Texas Christian (9-1); John Wolda, Rice (4-3); Mal Shaw, Southern Methodist (3-4); Toby Newton, Texas A&M (2-3).

Catchers—Bryan Bush, Southern Methodist (.275), and Jerry Sims, Rice (.231).

First base—Don Berry, Baylor (.283), and Carl Reynolds, Rice (.235).

Second base—Charles Quick,

Center field—Carl Warwick, Texas Christian (.373).

Right field—Bob White, Texas Christian (.303).

Utility outfielder—Jacky Davis, Baylor (.379).

Summerlin Scraps Carter Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Johnny Summerlin puts an 11-fight winning streak on the line tonight at Detroit's Olympia when he engages young Harold Carter in a 10-round heavyweight elimination bout.

Undeated since 1954 and winner of 29 in a 35-fight career dating back to 1950, Summerlin has boxed about 75 rounds for this one. On the other hand, the 22-year-old Carter, who has had only 21 bouts, got in only two days of work.

He was rushed in last Friday as a substitute for veteran Bob Satterfield of Chicago, who withdrew because he said his elbow hurt. Michigan doctors could find nothing wrong with the elbow, but said there was no point in forcing Satterfield to fight.

Managers of both fighters say this is "the big chance" for the young heavyweights. It will be the first nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) bout for each.

Morrow, Four Other ACC Runners Depart Friday

ABILENE (SC) — Five Abilene Christian College runners leave Friday by plane for Modesto, Calif., where they will face their toughest competition of the season Saturday night in the 15th renewal of the California Relays.

Coach Oliver Jackson will take Waymond Griggs, Don Conder, Bill Woodhouse, James Segrest and Bobby Morrow on the west coast invasion. Griggs starts the 440 unit and Conder is the starting man on the 880-yard team.

They will fly to Fort Worth's Amon Carter field and take the same plane to the West Coast with the University of Texas runners who will compete in Modesto.

These same combinations turned in good performances Saturday night at Houston in the Southern U. S. AAU Track and Field Meet. The 880-yard team won in 1:24.9, beating out Baylor and Oklahoma A&M, despite two terrible handoffs which left anchor man Bobby Morrow more than 10 yards behind Baylor's Del Shofner when the ACC flash took the baton.

Morrow was also several yards behind Oklahoma A&M's J. W. Mashburn as he started the final leg of Tuesday night. Morrow overtook Mashburn easily and passed Shofner about 35 yards from the tape. He won by a yard or two.

The 440-yard relay team lost to Baylor in a race that was so close that both ACC and Baylor were timed in 41 flat.

The ACC runners chalked up victories in five events at Houston. Besides Morrow's win in the 100-meter and the 880 triumph, Paul Johnson won the 1,500-meter in 3:57, Morrow won the 200-meter in 21.4 around a turn, and Chuck Smith, Charles Small, Mack Clark and Ken Fannon combined to win the 480-yard shuttle hurdles event in 59.5.

The Wildcats will face Texas' great sprint relay team at Modesto, and Morrow will face some of the nation's top runners in the open 100-yard event.

California's Leamon King and Fresno State's Mike Agostini are expected in the Modesto field and both are credited with official 9.3 times in the 100-yard dash.

Chico Vejar Wins Over Rubicini

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Chico Vejar, 158, 5'11, 140, Conn., scored a close decision over Gus Rubicini, 155, Toronto in a furious 10-round bout Tuesday night.

Rubicini, a 3-1 underdog, appeared to get the better of fighting but Vejar, faster and more experienced, had the Canadian on the ropes in the fourth. Rubicini came out of the fight with a cut over his left eye and a bruise beneath.

The slugging contest got both men an ovation from the Miami Beach Auditorium crowd of 2,352.

Tabbies Storm Past Padres

By The Associated Press

Awesome is the word for the Fort Worth Cats as they storm along at the head of the Texas League parade.

They massacred the opposing pitchers with everybody hitting the long ball. The Cats have slammed 49 home runs in 36 games and this may be the biggest home run production anywhere.

Tuesday night they battered San Antonio for the fourth straight time. This one they won 17-2 with three home runs included in their 14 hits.

The Houston Buffs won their sixth consecutive game Tuesday night as they beat Tulsa 5-2.

Dallas split a double-header with Austin and lost ground, falling 3½ games back of Houston. The twin bill at Austin was most unusual. Both Ben Johnson of Austin and John Fitzgerald of Dallas pitched 1-hitters in the first game, but Fitzgerald gave up his hit to Bobby Malkum who led off the seventh. Austin got the bases full and Jack Caro squeeze-bunted Malkum in with the run that brought the Senators a 1-0 triumph. Dallas bounced back to shake the nightcap 2-1.

Shreveport hammered the Oklahoma City Indians 11-6 to take over fourth place undisputed.

Two Games Don't Make A Season: Charley Grimm

BROOKLYN (AP)—They say half the battle in winning a major league pennant is to lick your main opposition steadily.

The Milwaukee Braves already have whipped the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers both times they have met this year.

That should make it easy for the Braves to win the National League pennant, shouldn't it, Mr. Grimm?

Mr. Grimm said nothing.

Well, Mr. Grimm, let's put it this way: Shouldn't the Braves have a better chance of winning the pennant by beating the Dodgers regularly?

Mr. Grimm said nothing.

Oh, come now, Mr. Grimm, you must have some thoughts on the race.

"That I do," said Manager Charley Grimm of the Braves today, suddenly becoming voluble. "But this business about deciding the pennant just because we've beaten Brooklyn twice is bunk."

He was willing to concede that last night's 7-3 victory over the Brooks was an important one, but he claimed that the way the race was going now, any of five clubs could win it.

Five Clubs?

Now, let's see . . . that would be the Braves, Dodgers, maybe St. Louis . . .

"And Cincinnati and the New York Giants," he offered. "This is a scramble that will take a long time to unravel. It's my guess that weeks will pass before any of the five drop out of competition."

"The club to beat, of course, is Brooklyn. Last year, the league was fighting for second place after the Dodgers had gotten off to that fantastic start. Now it's different."

WAFB Tracksters To Sheppard Meet

Five members of the Webb Air Force track and field team are training this week for Southwest Air Force Conference trials, which will be staged at Sheppard Field near Wichita Falls this weekend.

Entries are expected from 20 bases in the area. Place winners at Sheppard become eligible to enter the Air Force finals, which will be held at March Field in California early next month.

Representing Webb at Sheppard will be Bruce Sweeney, Edward Johnson, Harry Seara, James Hicks and Wesley Ezell.

The meet at March will be watched closely for Olympic material.

TCU Is Ousted

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Arizona looked toward the NCAA Baseball Tournament today. The Wildcats beat Texas Christian 8-2 last night to sweep the playoff series and become representatives of District 6.

IN LITTLE LEAGUE PLAY

Cabot Vanquishes Grocermen, 15-0

Rain cut short the Little League program here last night.

After Cabot Carbon had whacked Piggly-Wiggly, 15-0, in the opening American League contest, the engagement between the Cubs and the Ficks had to be called off after three innings due to the shower.

At the time, the Cubs were leading by a tab of 9-0 but the engagement will have to be replayed from the start.

Ronnie Cunningham pitched the shutout for Cabot Carbon. Richard White was the losing hurler.

Cabot's attack was featured by a home run on the part of Jerry Dunalap.

There were signs that Cabot has succeeded the Yankees as the city's best small-fry team. The team, judging off its first game, has fielding finesse, pitching and the necessary power to go a long way in the race.

National League teams begin their race tonight and it's going to be interesting to see how the Yankees fare, without some of the boys that led them to a city championship last year but who are now too old to qualify for Little League play.

The 6:30 p.m. engagement this evening pits the Gold Sox against the Owls. At 8:30 p.m. the Yankees make their first start against the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

PCC Deals Out Other Fines

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference fathers who yesterday spanked all but one member school, two of them for the second time, closed up the woodshed today and turned to the nicer things of the sporting world.

The 6:30 p.m. engagement this evening pits the Gold Sox against the Owls. At 8:30 p.m. the Yankees make their first start against the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The punishment dealt eight of the nine PCC members yesterday constituted a light tap on the wallet for stumbling over rules, with the entire tab totaling only $4,900.

The finer things in today's "loose ends" agenda included items like "wrestling and water polo" and what should be done about football scouting, etc.

The fines imposed in the final session came as the conference answer to the burning question of "who's next?"

Washington had been deprived of an estimated $52,000 in Rose Bowl receipts and placed on probation for two years early in May. Last weekend, the conference handed UCLA a 3-year probation, fined it $15,000 outright and took away some $70,000 in Rose Bowl receipts for the three years to come.

Both schools were found guilty of paying athletes in violation of the conference athletic code. The latest list of fines included nothing so outrageous.

California was nicked $1,550 for "improper issue of complimentary tickets, irregularities in the campus labor program for athletes and for permitting an off-campus interview with an athlete." In varying degree, these were the offenses of the others.

FOR DALLAS PLAY

Sam Snead Only Big Star Not On Hand

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A field of 157 that includes all the big names of golf except Sam Snead takes final tuneup rounds today for the first part of Dallas' $100,000 extravaganza—the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open. Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecoff, Mike Souchak, Gene Littler, Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald and Billy Maxwell were the players getting most of the favorite's talk. But on the small Preston Hollow course, a 6,277-yard layout, the premium was on chipping and putting and a lot of little known fellows have been ripping the course apart in practice rounds.

There have been 65s and 66s all around. Yesterday Paul Harney and Dick Turner laid down 66s. But the tournament hotshots are pretty well agreed that a 286—14 under par—will win the 27-hole tournament under most any circumstances.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The last time I looked, the Big Spring ex. Jack Poppell, was hitting around .315 for Plainview of the Southwestern League. And Witty Quintana, one of the most popular players ever to wear local flannels, was down to .231 for Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

Two of the better looking newcomers in the Big Spring Steer football drills, which were completed recently, were Billy Bob Lewellen, a back; and Johnny Morrow, an end. Lewellen came here from East Texas. He can cut on a dime and has fine incentives.

Morrow played on Breckenridge's B team last year. He was handicapped by a bad leg during most of the drills here.

Both will have to confine their play to the local B team this fall, because they haven't been here long enough to become eligible for A team play. They're only sophomores, however, and could be a big help to the school in 1957.

Paul Halter, who played with Artesia in the Longhorn League several seasons, is now operating a truck line on the West Coast. Grover Seitz, the Pampa boss, tried to get him to report this spring but he refused. He hit .350 and clubbed 37 home runs for Pampa last season.

Rankin's football team, which meets Stanton in Stanton Sept. 14, has elected tri-captains for the 1956 season. They are Carlton Stephenson, a 220-pound all-district tackle; Bobby Hudson, a 170-pound all-district end; and Dick Lewis, a 185-pound all-district tackle. Stephenson will probably be moved into the backfield this fall, as will Hudson.

This argument has occurred numberless times in baseball: Can a hitter who reaches first safely make his turn toward the infield without running the risk of being tagged out by a defensive player?

The rules state clearly that a batsman, under such circumstances, cannot be tagged out if he does not make an obvious break for second base. There is no rule which would compel him to turn to his right after overrunning first base on reaching there safely.

The son of Vernon (El Gordo) Gomez, one-time mound great of the New York Yankees, made his debut for a Durham, Conn., High School team recently and lasted less than one inning. The youngster couldn't overcome a tendency to be wild.

Elias Osoiro, the former Longhorn League infielder-outfielder, recently joined Waco of the Big State League. He has been with Williamsport.

Elias hit .375 and clubbed 35 home runs for San Angelo last year. His brother, Pedro, was shot by a bartender in Roswell last season.

Rocky Marciano obviously invested his money well. He's supposed to have an income of $1,000 monthly. His bankroll has been estimated at half a million by his manager, Al Weill.

This window has been asked often how many more people can be seated in HCJC's basketball gymnasium, since Dick Turner of San Angelo probably won't be back. Turner, the 1955 winner, is practicing to join the touring pros where he'll seek some of the big money.

A large number of local amateurs, along with the two pros here, C. A. DeWees of the Country Club and the Muny's Junior Maxwell, are poised to compete.

Honors Generally Passed Around In Pro-Am Meet

One of the things that makes a West Texas Pro-Am golf tournament so popular is the fact that honors are generally passed around and no one dominates the awards. Players generally don't know who they'll be paired with until they register and, under present rules, it takes some superlative rules by all four members to get into the winners' circle.

For that reason, tomorrow's program at the Big Spring Country Club appears to be wide-open and a hundred or more linksters from throughout the area will tee off. The pros will be shooting for their own prize money and, at the same time, be trying to lead their teams to successes. The amateurs will bid for merchandise awards. Pro C. A. DeWees is due to get the first foursome away at 10 a.m. The firing is due to continue until 2 p.m., or thereabouts. The foursomes will go twice around the nine-hole layout.

The Big Spring Country Club will be hosting the West Texas linksters twice this year. Another pro-am is scheduled for the course on Thursday, Aug. 2.

A new pro champion is due to be crowned, since Dick Turner of San Angelo probably won't be back. Turner, the 1955 winner, is practicing to join the touring pros where he'll seek some of the big money.

A large number of local amateurs, along with the two pros here, C. A. DeWees of the Country Club and the Muny's Junior Maxwell, are poised to compete.

Previously Abilene, Dallas Highland Park and Fort Arthur had worked their way to the state tournament.

Defending champion Paris is behind the eight-ball. Paris lost its first game of the bi-district series to Lufkin 5-4. The teams play at Paris Friday to decide the issue.

Amarillo leads El Paso Austin 1-0. They play at El Paso Friday and Saturday.

North Dallas beat Fort Worth Paschal 6-3 Tuesday night to square the series. They play the final at Fort Worth Saturday night.

TCU Student Trip To Lubbock Set

FORT WORTH (SC)—The annual football trip of the Texas Christian University student body will be to Lubbock next fall for the game with the Southwest Conference's newest member, Texas Tech.

The date will be November 10. The Lubbock trip was selected by a vote of the TCU Student Congress recently over the Rice game in Houston.

Last year's official trip was to Fayetteville for the Arkansas game.

The trip to Lubbock will take some 10 hours each way, according to information now available and two nights will be spent on the trains. Special fares are being sought by student leaders.

Jimmy Martinez Is Upset Victim

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Jim Hegerle, young St. Paul middleweight, reversed a previous loss to the veteran Jimmy Martinez of Phoenix, Ariz., in their 10-round boxing match here Tuesday night. Hegerle weighed 159 1/2, Martinez, 160.

It was a split decision, the two judges voting for Hegerle, and the referee called it for the Arizona. A crowd of 2,000 paid $3,990 to see the fight.

Just two weeks ago, Martinez outpointed Hegerle here.

Sugar Ray May Get Big Offer From Utah Group

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 15 months ago manager Marv Jenson predicted his middleweight protégé, Gene (Cyclone) Fullmer, would be ready for a title fight by July 1956. He came close to hitting the nail on the head.

"Now I wish I had said May 1956, and that it was Gene in there with Ray Robinson instead of Bob Olson," said Jenson today. "Ray looked to be in fine shape but I think if he had fought Gene, Utah would have had its first world boxing champion."

Fullmer, a sturdy, muscular 23-year-old who has been boxing since he was 8, has neared the threshold of the middleweight throne room. If he can beat Charley Humez, France's European 160-pound king in Madison Square Garden Friday night, he and Jenson will have plenty of money to entice Robinson to defend his crown.

"Robinson wants money and we're prepared to offer him $100,000 if Gene gets by Humez—a tough nut, by the way," said Jenson, a wealthy mink breeder. "Bob Barrett, a uranium magnate from Salt Lake City, will put up

Ballinger Nipped By Hobbs, 3-2

They just about ran the gamut in the Southwestern League Tuesday night. Everything from a shut-out to a game that saw a total of 44 runs.

And while all the scrambling around was going on, Hobbs widened its narrow lead to a game and a half, taking Ballinger 3-2 in 11 innings.

Plainview, which entered the night's activity just a half game back, was beaten in one of the wildest games of the year, 23-21, by Clovis.

In the other games, Roswell crushed Pampa 28-5, El Paso ripped Midland 7-0 and Carlsbad nipped San Angelo 6-5 in 11 innings.

The clubs all stay in the same locations Wednesday night.

Webb Will Play Odessa Sunday

Steer Park will be the scene Sunday of a baseball exhibition between the Webb Air Force Base Dusters and the Odessa Chiefs. The starting hour is 3 p.m.

The Dusters, managed by Jim Zapp, will be after their second straight win over Odessa.

Charles McNew may go to the mound for Webb.

Webb's game Tuesday night in Lamesa was called off due to rain. The Dusters made the trip but could not take the field because of the downpour.

Maglie Says He Won't Retire

BROOKLYN (AP)—Sal Maglie said today he had made up his mind to quit baseball at the end of the season but all thoughts of retirement banished with his sale to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The 39-year-old former Dodger killer joined his new club yesterday. He pitched batting practice a few hours after his arrival and reported his arm felt "better now than it has in three years."

The veteran right-hander several days late in reporting due to the death of his father in Niagara Falls, N.Y., is scheduled to make his first start in a Brooklyn uniform against his former New York Giant teammates at the Polo Grounds Saturday.

A mainstay of the Giants' pitching staff for years, Sal felt out of place and, at times, useless with the Cleveland Indians, who purchased him last summer from the Giants. He said he feels more at home now that he is back in the National League.

"Al Lopez and the entire Cleveland organization were swell to me," Maglie said. "I have no complaints over the treatment they accorded me. It's just that I was overlooked so much. I felt like I was a sixth finger on a hand."

Hero's Funeral Given To Rhee Opponent In Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's capital gave a hero's funeral today to Patrick Henry Shinicky, chief opponent of President Syngman Rhee's third term bid until he died May 5 while campaigning for the presidency.

Record crowds jammed the streets to watch the two-mile-long funeral procession. An estimated 100,000 persons packed the city stadium for the funeral rites. Estimates of the street crowds ranged from half a million upward.

Newsman who have been here for many years called it the biggest crowd they had ever seen. Many onlookers wore white, Ko-

Cashier Admits $300,000 Theft

SUMTER, S. C. (AP)—A bank officer says a trusted, middle-aged cashier told him he took part in a $300,000 shortage because he "spent more than he earned."

S. L. Roddey, board chairman of the National Bank of South Carolina here, said the cashier told him he no longer has any of the money.

The cashier, Clarence Brayton Cooper Jr., 52, is free on $10,000 bond while awaiting a hearing on a charge of intent to defraud. The FBI filed a complaint against him yesterday.

The FBI said Cooper told them he collaborated with the late O. E. Nettles of Sumter "a number of years ago" in taking numerous small amounts from the bank's U. S. government bond account.

HCJC Ironing Out Details Of Stadium

Howard County Junior College trustees set machinery in motion Tuesday for ironing out details of construction for a stadium on HCJC property.

The Big Spring Independent School District has let contract for construction of a stadium seating approximately 10,000 fans. Details of other developments, including the sodding of the playing field, have not been settled finally. Dr. P. W. Malone, board president, named Horace Garrett, Dr. Charles W. Deas and John A. Coffey to be members of the committee, and said he would ask the school district to make a similar committee to help draft recommendations.

The board's preliminary contracts in the amount of $3,054.10. This included 50 chair desks with plastic tops at $11.45 per unit, and 156 opera type chairs for the science building at a total cost of $2,481.60.

Both groups were ordered purchased from American Seating Company. The concern was low bidder on the chair desks but was about 30 cents higher on the chairs. Trustees felt that the quality of the American Seating chair was superior for the purposes.

Purchase of two grand pianos for studios in the music building, along with instructor desks was passed to a subsequent meeting.

R. A. Walker, teacher at Tulia and who holds a master of arts degree from West Texas State College at Canyon, was elected as instructor in business and math. Base and experience rating peg the salary at $4,800 per annum.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, and Horace Garrett, and vice president of the board, were authorized to close a deal for a tractor for use in maintaining the building in field. Approximate cost would be $850.

Resignation of Mrs. David Cuffardi as an instructor was accepted. Her husband has accepted employment in Dallas.

Purchase of an air conditioner (4,500 cfm) from Phillips Tire for $225 was approved. Included in the trade is the moving of a conditioner from one room to make way for this one.

The board authorized Dr. Hunt to accept an invitation to lecture July 19-20-21 at the University of Houston's seminar on higher education. He will speak generally on junior college education but will major on administration of a junior college.

Approved for inclusion in the minutes were change orders for the current building project. This amounted to $1,348.46 additional expense, of which $2,322.46 was sanctioned Tuesday for the first time. Dr. Hunt said that these changes would put the building costs jam against the available money. He also reported that contractors Kasch & Sons were moving along steadily and were approximately abreast of the schedule. Gyp decking, which has slowed some work, has arrived.

"Planned-overs"...

the modern way to save cooking time with an Electric Food Freezer

You can save cooking time by storing "planned-overs," not just left-overs, in your Electric Food Freezer. By doubling or tripling your recipes and freezing the extra portions, you accumulate fresh, appetizing "planned-over" meals that can be served in just minutes... weeks, even months, later. With two or three meals prepared from one cooking session, you can find time for other activities... avoid hurry-up, last-minute meal preparation. Even left-overs take on new importance... instead of using them up quickly to avoid waste, you can freeze and store them for "planned" use later. An Electric Food Freezer streamlines your whole approach to meal planning, adds variety and zest to menus. Gone are the days of frequent marketing trips and three-meals-a-day cooking. No wonder so many modern homemakers say that "freezer living" is leisure living. Electric Food Freezers are available in either chest or upright models, in a size that's just right for your kitchen space and food storage requirements... see them at your favorite appliance dealer's.

Lie Detector Results Due At Clark Hearing

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—A grand jury today may hear the results of two lie detector tests taken by admitted murderess Lorraine G. Clark, 30, who now reportedly claims that she alone was not responsible for her husband's murder.

She completed the second of two lie detector tests shortly before midnight last night in connection with the reopened case.

She took the first test last Monday. A high state official said later she did not tell "the whole truth" in the first "lie examination."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Andrew Trodden said Mrs. Clark took the tests voluntarily and agreed to have the results presented to the grand jury.

Mrs. Clark also had taken lie detector tests before she pleaded guilty in November 1954 to murder in the second degree. At the time, Dist. Atty. Hugh Cregg said she signed a statement that she, and she alone, shot her husband and dumped his weighted body into the Merrimack River.

State Police Lt. Gerald F. McCarthy said the tests taken by Mrs. Clark before her court appearance 18 months ago also indicated "she knew more than she was telling."

Mrs. Clark now reportedly is telling a story trying to implicate her former lover, Arthur G. Jackson, 24, serving three years for adultery with Mrs. Clark. He was jailed the day after Mrs. Clark received a life sentence on her guilty plea.

Gen. Twining Sees 'Slight' Chance For Air Attack On U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan P. Twining — underlining the "deterrent effect of our long-range striking power" — said today he believes chances are "slight" for an air attack on the United States.

However, Twining, Air Force chief of staff, said the Russian air force's long-range attack fleet is "becoming an increasing menace" and that "regardless of how strong our deterrent force, we can never be sure that a potential enemy will not attack."

In a speech prepared for the Civil Air Patrol's National Board, Twining made no mention of the interservice rivalry which mushroomed to the surface over the weekend.

Two Senate subcommittees are preparing to investigate the service quarrel which Secretary of Defense Wilson reported yesterday has made President Eisenhower "a bit unhappy."

Wilson, who has been seeking to minimize the importance of the Army-Air Force-Navy squabbling, may have been warning that he has called "eager beaver" officers when he told newsmen yesterday:

"We'll see who sticks their head up next. I think it might be a little dangerous."

In New York yesterday, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said in a talk with reporters that the Joint Chiefs are basically "pretty much in agreement."

"I think the Air Force and the Army are commencing to realize the importance of naval power in their own operations," Burke said. "We also realize the importance of the Army and the Air Force."

Last weekend, Army sources gave out documents deploring what they contended was over-emphasis on air power. Some Air Force officers have sought to downgrade the Army's Nike anti-aircraft guided missile. And the Navy and Air Force have been feuding over whether Navy carriers and aircraft have any place in strategic bombing operations.

Yesterday, Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a former Air Force secretary in the Truman administration, said Congress may have to step in and settle the issue of which armed services will fulfill what defense missions.

In his speech to the Civil Air Patrol board, Twining said: "The deterrent effect of our long-range striking power has been sufficient to prevent aggression. Yet regardless of how strong our deterrent force, we can never be sure that a potential enemy will not attack."

Twining said the Air Force is building radar detection lines across the northernmost part of this hemisphere because "we are not willing to bet everything that the deterrent will deter."

He said the United States faces the "ever present possibility of an air attack" but that he now feels "the chances of this are slight and we are working to make them even less."

Supreme Court In Its Busiest Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Warren said today the Supreme Court is winding up its busiest term, but that none of a record number of cases will be carried over into the session starting in October. Elsewhere in the federal judiciary, he urged Congress to provide more judges and the courts to revise their procedures to cut down a backlog of cases which he described as "the most important problem of the federal courts at the present time."

In a speech prepared for the opening session of the four-day annual meeting of the American Law Institute, Warren said of the Supreme Court:

"We are approaching the conclusion of what will have been the busiest term in the history of the court as regards the number of cases disposed of in any one term."

Saying that in 1946 the court disposed of a record 1,520 cases, Warren said, "The number this year will exceed that figure, substantially."

"All argued cases will be disposed of before we adjourn for the summer," he said. The court usually adjourns in mid-June until October.

Appealing for the help of every lawyer and every judge in combating the problem of congestion, the chief justice declared that "until every litigant in every judicial district has his case heard and decided finally in a reasonable length of time, we cannot rightly point to our system with either pride or satisfaction."

Cop Is Fall Guy At Ladies' Luncheon

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—When three young women went out on the roof of a downtown building yesterday to eat their lunch, they hardly expected to see firemen spreading nets and running up ladders.

And they were somewhat surprised when Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers leaped from a staircase to try to stop a woman who had been reported about to jump.

Fire Chief R. L. Lamplery concluded that someone saw the luncheon party from a nearby building and jumped to the conclusion that someone was going to jump.

Royalty Transfer Told At Tax Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Evidence that Atty. Harry I. Schwimmer sent an oil royalty transfer to T. Lamar Caudle and forwarded royalty checks to Matthew J. Connelly has been introduced at the tax-filing trial of the three men.

The government contends Schwimmer, attorney for tax evader Irving Sachs, gave the oil royalties to Caudle and Connelly, both former high officials in the Truman administration, for trying to avert prosecution of Sachs.

Caudle is a former head of the Justice Department's Tax Division and Connelly was White House appointments secretary under Truman. The three are charged with conspiring to defraud the government by fixing the Sachs case.

A secretary in Schwimmer's Kansas City office, Mrs. Gabriela K. Robb, yesterday identified an Aug. 4, 1950, letter from Schwimmer to Caudle which said:

"I enclosed find transfer order on your share of royalty we have purchased."

The letter said the royalty should pay close to $50 a month "for a number of years."

The letter was admitted into evidence over objections by Schwimmer's attorney. Chief prosecutor Wyllys S. Newcomb told the court in resisting the objection that Caudle turned the letter over to federal agents from his files.

Mrs. Robb testified royalty checks for Connelly were received at Schwimmer's office, taken out of the original envelopes, placed in fresh envelopes and forwarded to Connelly's home.

Also introduced was evidence that Caudle opposed criminal prosecution of Sachs, an epileptic.

Caudle, in a memorandum to a Justice Department attorney, said Sachs "is a very sick man" and Caudle would not assume responsibility for bringing him to trial.

Sachs pleaded guilty to tax evasion in 1951 and paid a $40,000 fine but escaped a prison term on health grounds.

FOR GIs

Hitler Garden Now A Religious Retreat

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (AP)—Seventeen years ago Hitler and his general staff drew up a blueprint in this Alpine village for World War II.

Today young American GIs are using this same village as a religious retreat—a place to escape from war and thoughts of war. The U.S. Army has a separate recreation program including sightseeing tours and mountain climbing.

The retreat is an experiment unique in military history. The chaplains who run it term it enormous success.

Maj. Oliver Kelly of Champaign, Ill., U.S. Protestant chaplain, said it is quite normal for the GIs to drop in on him when they leave and say:

"I can make it now... This gives me the lift to get through until I can get home."

Since the luxurious Alpine inn became a U.S. religious retreat June 29, 1954, more than 100 separate retreat programs have been held—Catholic, Protestant and Jewish. More than 14,000 GIs have come from all over Europe. Some came just to get away from military routine.

"It doesn't matter why they came," Maj. Kelly said. "The important thing is that Berchtesgaden did them good."

The same Alpine inn was used as a resting place for members of Hermann Goering's Luftwaffe in World War II.

Maj. Kelly said the idea to hold the retreats was advanced by Col. Edwin L. Kirtley, Roman Catholic U.S. chaplain in this area. The Pentagon gave quick endorsement.

GIs come here at their own expense. A few are married and bring their families. It costs them $4 for quarters, and $7.55 for food during leave. The typical retreat program covers four days.

"One thing the soldiers really enjoy is the comfort," said Maj. Kelly, a Baptist who served with U.S. troops on Okinawa. "Their beds are made every morning by charwomen. They are waited on at the dining tables—and there are even tablecloths on the tables!"

Mornings, beginning at 7:30 a.m. are devoted to religious programs, with special periods for Bible study, group discussions and meditation.

The afternoons are free. GIs in civilian clothes can be seen scrambling all over the steep, snow-covered Alpine slopes.

Every evening brings a religious movie and a worship program. It's lights out at 10 p.m.

Fictitious Ad Sums Up Need Of Community For Doctor

FISHING CREEK, Md.—The following is a fictional advertisement but it sums up the real need of a real place:

HELP WANTED: Physician—Capable general practice, serve communities on Hooper Island, long finger of land in Chesapeake Bay off easy-living Eastern Shore Maryland, and nearby areas.

Cientele—Oyster and crab fishermen and their families on island and neighboring Lower Dorchester County, numbering perhaps four thousand.

Position vacant because of Death of last holder, Dr. James W. Meade, who held it 46 years. Known as "most beloved man on island" when he died body "in state in all four of island's churches.

New man must be prepared to be known as "Uncle Doc." Climate—Mild. Long, warm, easy summers. Geography—flat, mostly sky and water, inlets and marsh grass, loblolly pine and water oak, sometimes flight of duck at sunrise.

Community—Well kept up, proud of "homes and boats." Small white frame houses, residents make good living from water. Are noted for paying bills on time. New fire department. However, no pavements, no street lights, no police force, no governing body, no laws, no jail, no motion pictures, no neon signs, no bars. Also, "no tension," says one schoolteacher who returned after trying life in Baltimore for awhile.

Social life—Much of it centers in eight general stores on island, where television has replaced cracker barrel.

Position open—At once. Nearest medical facilities—now 25 miles away in Cambridge. Special doctor-finding committee says job offers "good living" and will do utmost to find home and office for new arrival.

Rail Advice Kicks Up Indian Argument

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A Harvard economist has kicked up a bit of controversy by suggesting the Indian government railroads should squeeze down their passenger traffic.

The economist, Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith, was asked to look into Indian railroading while he was here at the invitation of the semi-official Indian Statistical Institute.

His main conclusion was that the railroads can't handle the freight traffic envisaged for them during India's second five-year plan unless they make a much greater capital investment than proposed.

Since the proposed investment is already considered the maximum possible, Galbraith said, the only alternative is to take steps to reduce passenger traffic. Otherwise, he said, important freight movements may have to be curtailed.

Galbraith proposed the railroads change their schedules so passenger trains would run at inconvenient hours, thus discouraging what he called frivolous travelers. He said the government should carry on an active campaign, like an American campaign of World War II, to get Indians to ask themselves, "Is this trip necessary?"

Other suggestions included higher fares.

Many Indian newsmen have called his proposals "unnecessarily cruel."

"Importing additional discomfort and inconvenience into railway travel could hardly be sustained, it is felt (in New Delhi), in a democratic form of government," said the Statesman.

A few days later, in a letter to the Statesman, Galbraith wrote: "I should not want it thought—as your story implies—that I was suggesting inconvenience for its own sake... It must be apparent that I was searching for a solution that would work a minimum hardship in a situation where some hardship is unhappily unavoidable."

The reaction has not been entirely unfavorable. Many Indian officials and editors believe transportation is the key to success of the 15-billion-dollar second five-year development plan, which started April 1.

An election year is approaching and Prime Minister Nehru's government probably will do little to inconvenience the passengers. But it certainly will try to discourage travel through a propaganda campaign, perhaps based on the American wartime slogan.

Smoking Called Helpful To Healthy People

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Reporter NEW YORK (AP)—Cigarette smoking doesn't harm the mechanics of breathing in healthy persons, and may even help, two Boston physicians said today.

But smoking usually does have adverse effects on persons with heart or lung disease, they said.

Preliminary results of the smoking study were described today to the National Tuberculosis Assn. by Doctors Ernest O. Attinger, research fellow in medicine, and Dr. Maurice S. Segal, clinical professor of medicine, Tufts University School of Medicine.

They measured the rate of air flow and air pressures in the lungs both before and after people smoked one or two cigarettes. Normal persons showed no significant change in the elasticity of the lungs or in mechanical resistance to the movement of air on taking or expelling a breath. There appeared to be some improvements in certain aspects of lung ventilation, Attinger and Segal said.

But in persons with heart or lung ailments, there was usually an impairment of the mechanics of breathing. It might be only temporary, the physicians said.

Polluted air must take some of the blame for the soaring rates of lung cancer, although smoking may be related to the rise also, said Dr. Leonard Greenburg, commissioner of New York City's Department of Air Pollution Control.

There is good evidence that cancer-causing chemicals come from exhausts of autos and other engines, he said.

Uncle Ray: Pompey Grew Jealous Of Caesar's Success

By RAMON COFFMAN

A curious suggestion has come that the name "Shakespeare" arose from a man who used to "shake pears" from trees.

The name arose in England, a leading pear-growing country, and the idea might possibly be correct. Much more likely, however, "Shakespeare" came from a nickname given to a man who was fond of shaking the spear which he carried.

Other family names from Old England are similar. One of these, "Shakeshaft," suggests the shaking of the shaft of a spear. Another, "Breakspear," may have been applied to a man who often broke the shaft of his spear.

The hair played a part in providing names for people. A man with black hair might be called "Edward with the Black Hair" or (later) Edward Black. In the same way White, Brown and Gray may have become family names because certain men had hair of those shades.

The name Green (also spelled "Greene") came in a different way. A grassy field was known as a "green" in England 800 years ago, and it was common for a village to have a green, or park. A man who lived at the edge of the green might be called "David of the Green," or David Green. Other names of the type are Greenfield, Greenvale and Greenwood.

If a man showed more strength

The first "Shakespeare" may have shaken a pear tree or a spear!

than his companions, he might be called "the Strong," and people later would speak of his wife and children as members of the Strong family.

Now and then an animal name was given to a man. If he was shrewd, he might be called "Jack the Fox," or Jack Fox. The name of Wolf arose in the same manner, and so did Bear. Barnyard animals suggested such family names as Bull, Hog and Steer.

A man who liked to fish, or who made his living by selling fish, might receive the name of Fisherman, Fisher or Fish. Special kinds of fish supplied names for some families — as Pike, Herring and Salmon.

Moderate Plank Is In Prospect

Seldom has the Democratic Party held its national convention ahead of the Republican convention, but such is the case this year. In theory if not in practice the party that "goes last" has the advantage in making a platform and choosing a nominee, for the opposition will have exposed its hand and the party of the second part can cut its pattern accordingly.

Dulles' Double Ideas On The Russians

WASHINGTON — If you sometimes get confused trying to follow Secretary of State Dulles on the Russians, it's because he seems to have two separate ideas about them although not necessarily at the same time.

On Sept. 22, after the Geneva conference, Dulles said a "new spirit does indeed prevail" and the world might be entering a decade of peaceful change. But on Dec. 9 he said the Russians hadn't really changed, except in tactics.

Grits And Womanhood

CONNLEY'S CREEK, N. C. — Two of the Southland's greatest claims to fame are grits and Southern womanhood. The exact virtues of each remain something of a mystery to the rest of the country, so on a trip here I decided to find out the answers to these puzzlers as a public service for 1956.

"There are within the free nations some who are tempted by this prospect (the idea the Russians are changing for the better) and they look toward the United States to see how we interpret the recent Soviet gestures.

He has expressed a double worry of what might happen if there was a general acceptance of the idea that the Russians were mending their ways and concern about war was gone: (A) that the Western alliances might break up and (B) that Congress might be reluctant to vote as much money for the foreign aid program as the Eisenhower administration thinks necessary.

Then, with Congress considering the foreign aid program, he added: "There could be no worse moment to depart from the policy represented by the foreign aid program which has brought us where we are."

"Grits come from corn," explained my host at breakfast on Monday. "They're just hominy ground up and cooked. There just ain't any food better than country ham, red-eye gravy and good old grits. Have some."

My host looked so pleased that I didn't have the heart to add that the real difference is — library paste tastes colder than grits. Grits, to me, didn't taste like anything except a mouthful of luke-warm cotton.

U.N.'s Moral Principles Violated

WASHINGTON — Egypt is the first member of the United Nations to recognize the government of Red China since the Korean War.

Red China. Last week "U.S. Jews & World Report" published excerpts from a copyrighted book entitled "The True Story of Red China" by Lucian Taire, a European businessman who has just come out of Red China after 30 years of continuous life there and who writes:

There is at the moment a state of war in Korea between the United Nations and the Red China government. So when Egypt extends recognition it is not only dealing a body blow to the prestige and influence of the United Nations but is taking a direct slap at the United States, which lost 33,000 killed and 110,000 wounded in the Korean War—all for the cause of collective security and the ideals of the United Nations.

While Egypt professes to be interested in the liberation of peoples who live in colonial areas, her latest move is bound to give the impression that acts of aggression as well as cruel colonialism are being hypocritically overlooked — in fact its perpetrators are being welcomed as brothers. What a travesty on moral law, the upholding of which is the main hope of preventing another world war.

Court Hit On Search Rulings

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Louis B. Nichols, assistant to FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover, says law enforcement is being hampered by what he terms the failure of the Supreme Court to agree on what constitutes improper search and seizure. Nichols appeared yesterday on a panel on administration of criminal laws at the convention of the National Assn. of Attorneys General. He said that out of 20 U.S. Supreme Court decisions on search and seizure in the past 14 years "in not one case has the decision been unanimous." In 14 cases involving confessions, Nichols said, the high court was unanimous only once. He said law officers face a frustrating task on these matters "when the court members themselves can't agree."

Real Science Movie Fails While Fantasy Catches On

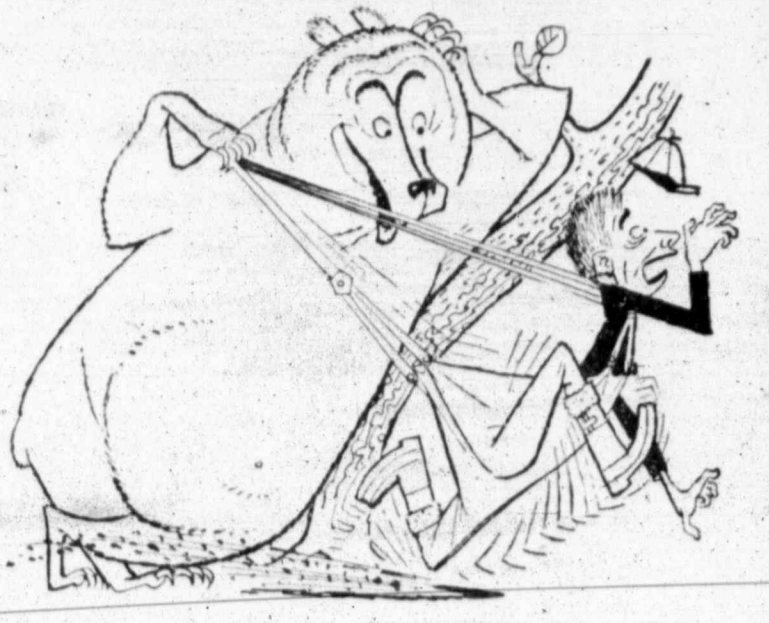

NEW YORK (AP)—Ivan Tors, who produces a filmed television show called "Science Fiction Theater," would like very much to produce dramatic shows concerned entirely with the marvels of research. This desire sometimes makes Tors a rather sad man. "The truth is," he confesses, "that the hokier you get, the more the audience buys it." That's not only true in television, he hastily adds. A recent film, was carefully and brilliantly made with all sorts of government help and blessing presenting a true picture of man's ascent in the sky—and is a box-office failure. At the same time, a real dream piece, concerned with men landing on an outer-space planet, and whipped up out of pure imagination, turns out to be something that everyone wants to see. Tors has been turning out 39 science fiction pictures a year for TV for two years, now. His treasured gimmick has been to make at the outset of the program a presentation of scientific, medical or electronic research at its current stage of progress and then proceed to weave a fictional story based on the assumption of success in the project. "I did one recently about scientists sending up flares to create artificial sunlight," he continued. "After that show we had a lot of mail from people calling the whole thing too fantastic. Well, it wasn't fantastic at all. Actually, there's an Operation Moonlight in progress right now—and they are sending up magnesium flares into the ionosphere. Already they are able to sustain light for short periods. It's only a question of time until it will be longer."

Opera Star Approves Of Rock 'n Roll

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Youthful addicts of rock-and-roll music received support from a surprising source today—Metropolitan Opera star Salvatore Baccaloni.

Here for his first Hollywood film role, the 5 by 5 Basso sounded off in favor of rocking rhythms that have been sending the younger crowd and exasperating their elders. "That's music!" ask the folks who have been reared on the more disciplined strains of Benny Goodman, Glenn Miller and others.

"Sure, that's music!" replies the lusty Baccaloni. "Anything that springs from the heart of the people is music, and that's what rock-and-roll is. It expresses the feeling of the younger generation. I like to listen to it myself."

"The trouble with older people is they won't accept change. Like when an American company was invited to play 'Porgy and Bess' at La Scala. Well, you should have heard the uproar. After all, La Scala was the home of Verdi and Puccini; they thought it was sacrilege to invite an American jazz opera."

"But when 'Porgy and Bess' played there, it was a tremendous hit. And why? Because people realized it was true music—it came from the heart of a people." Baccaloni observed that rock-and-roll was nothing new. He illustrated with a few strains from "Don Giovanni" which proved that Mozart was a pretty solid singer, too. The singer added that the current rhythms also stem back to the barcaroles of his native Italy, which got their rock-and-roll tempos from being sung in gondolas. It figures.

Prince's Son Held Captive In Siberia

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese repatriate says the Russians are holding the eldest son of the late Prime Minister Prince Fumimaro Koyama prisoner in Siberia and may not release him until 1976.

Ryuichi Nobori said Fumitaka Koyama, 41, was sentenced under Soviet internal law and not as a war criminal. The younger Koyama, captain of the Princeton University golf team in 1938, was a lieutenant in the Japanese army when the Russians captured him in Manchuria in August 1945. Nobori said he was convicted in September 1951 in Moscow of "a fantastic charge of support of capitalism" and was sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Outnumbered Algerian Rebels Giving France A Hard Battle

ALGIERS, Algeria, May 23 (AP)—A stealthy shoeing rebel army is giving France a vicious battle for control of Algeria.

But official French estimate the rebels total not more than 15,000. They are outgunned and outnumbered at least 20-1.

But by their hit-and-run tactics they are giving all of Algeria a state of jitters. Despite increasing arrivals of French troops, the ferocity of the fighting heightens.

Here are some instances of how the rebels operate:

A lone gunman in Philippeville fired on a passing European late in the evening. No one was hurt but hundreds of soldiers and policemen were mobilized from all parts of town to cord off the area.

A patrol of men in French Army uniforms marched through the streets of Tlemcen. Suddenly the patrol fired on soldiers loitering outside a noncommissioned officers mess. Two were killed and six injured. The "patrol" then fled in a waiting car. Again hundreds of soldiers were called out to take up the chase.

A big landowner at Constantine said footprints of children were clearly visible after 150 acres of his olive trees were cut down one night.

A farmer living south of Constantine, Roger Rousset, told how the rebels had killed 76 of his sheep one night and set fire to his tool shed.

About 20 miles east of Tizi Ouzou, in the Great Kabylie Mountains, the bodies of eight soldiers and the truck in which they were riding were found burned after a rebel ambush.

Algerian newspapers each day fill more than a page recounting such attacks. The French haven't been able to find any effective answer to these tactics.

The pace of battle heightens week by week. More French troops arrive in Algerian ports daily. But the areas infiltrated by the rebels seem to be enlarging too. Last week they first showed their presence around Ain Temouchent, in western Algeria, where coordinated attacks were made on 47 farms. Forty persons were killed, including 17 Europeans.

The rebels operate in small, scattered bands. They hit, then hide in the mountains and forests. Mostly they are armed only with rifles, shotguns or pistols. Some have automatic weapons. A few instances of rebel mortar fire have been reported.

Some of the bands have a crude sort of uniform. Usually it is made up of bits and pieces of discarded or surplus World War II Allied dress. Sometimes arm bands are used, or a little piece of khaki is pinned onto an Arab robe.

French police and military officers say most of the attacks and sabotage in isolated installations are carried out by Moslems, who have been living in the vicinity with their victims for many years.

Take the situation in the little town of Collo, where less than 600 Europeans live and work alongside 5,000 Arabs. The town can be reached safely only by ship from Philippeville. Several times a week truck convoys for vital heavy merchandise take the risky trip out by road with a military escort.

Mayor Albert Falcone operates a sardine canning factory, the only European working alongside 160 Moslems. In a cork processing plant, four Europeans work with 400 Arabs.

Outside the town the rebels hold sway in the forested mountains.

The local cork harvest, which should have started in March, cannot get under way. The rebel influence spreads into town too, as the mayor discovered when he started movies for Moslem women. Attendance built up to about 65 in several weeks. The next week none of the women showed up, obviously because of rebel pressure.

Four big fires have been started in the town and the water main has been cut eight times. Only this week 120 rebels were reported killed in the mountains behind Collo.

There is evidence that the number of rebels is limited by a severe shortage of arms. A few guns trickle into Algeria from Egypt and Libya across the southern Tunisian desert. Others come in from Morocco across the mountainous border.

Algeria has a population of about 2 1/2 million Moslems, 65 per cent of them less than 25 years of age. Unemployment—total or seasonal—hits at least 25 per cent of the Moslem population, so there is a big pool of discontented young men for rebel recruiters. Alongside this big mass of Moslems live about 1,500,000 Europeans.

The top leaders of the revolution are based in Cairo.

Against the ragtag rebel army, France has moved in the cream of her forces. Resident Minister Robert Lacoste has announced that 330,000 men will be in Algeria by the end of May. Another 40,000 to 50,000 reservists are in the process of recall to duty and will be shipped off soon.

By comparison, the French expeditionary corps never totaled more than 200,000 men during the long Indochina War. Draftees never were sent to Indochina, and reservists only if they volunteered.

Byrd Sees No Kink In Highway Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today he did not believe a "pay as you build" amendment adopted by his Finance Committee would lead to a slowdown in the road-building program.

The amendment, put into the highway bill yesterday by a 7-6 vote, would carry out a proposal of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey to limit the spending in any year of the 16-year program to revenues actually on hand.

Before the Finance Committee are tax features of a bill to authorize a multibillion-dollar program of highway development and modernization. Involved are proposed boosts in highway user taxes, including those in gasoline, tires, trucks and the like. Yesterday the group approved most of these, as passed by the House.

Discussing the new "pay as you build" amendment, an aide to Secretary Humphrey said he thought this could lead to some slowing of the projected road building.

But Byrd said in an interview he did not think this would happen.

"For one thing," he said, "I think the estimates of the money to be raised by the new taxes probably are too low."

"I think there's going to be a tremendous increase in the use of the roads when we build these new highways, and the tax money may well exceed the present estimates."

He said his committee had testimony that the revenue for the highway trust fund over the 16 years would exceed by 25 billion dollars the $38,400,000,000 estimated by the House in its bill.

This latter amount included $14,800,000,000 of new taxes as well as the yield from a number of present levies on highway users. A modification by the Senate committee of a special truck tax would reduce the anticipated yield from the new rates by 400 million below the House figure.

Byrd pointed out that future Congresses could increase the highway tax revenues if they found it necessary.
