Testify In Gas Bill Probe

John E. Heyke of Brooklyn, N. Y., chairman of the Council of Local Gas Companies, testifies before a special Senate committee investigating organizations active in the fight against the natural gas bill. With him are Charles Frazier, Philadelphia, left, and W. E. Himsforth, Brooklyn, also council officers. The council was composed of gas distributing companies that opposed the bill to free natural gas producers of direct federal price controls.

Integration Foe To Open Campaign

Ross Carlton of Dallas formally opens his campaign for attorney general in a speech from the east side of the courthouse in Big Spring today at 8 p.m.

He will be introduced by Roy Bruce, member of the city commission, and mayor pro tem.

Big Spring was chosen for the formal opening of the Carlton campaign because it is the site of the candidate's legal move last August to prevent integration in Texas public schools, he said.

Carlton says his experiences in civil law, plus a three-year stint as an assistant attorney general under Gerald C. Mann, have helped to qualify him for the office he seeks.

He served as Mann's assistant from 1939 until 1942. In addition, he served with the Department of Public Safety in 1935, following his graduation in 1934 from the University of Texas law school.

Carlton attended school in Dallas, and was graduated with honors from Terrill Preparatory School. Since 1934, he has been engaged in the general civil practice of law in Dallas.

He resigned his association with the Citizens Council movements in both Dallas and the state in order to make the race for attorney general. He has never before sought public office at any level.

He said he will campaign steadily on his pledge to maintain segregation in Texas, and just as steadily for the preservation of states' rights, and against all forms of federal encroachment.

When the State Democratic Executive Committee recently voted to submit integration, among other questions, to the voters in the July 28 primary, Carlton said "the committee has, in effect, put my platform on the official ballot," he commented.

Carlton is expected to assail the United States Supreme Court ruling of May 17, 1954, in his speech Friday night. He has contended the court's action is unconstitutional and is an encroachment on the rights of Texas.

Carlton is married and the father of a 17-year-old son and a 12-year-old daughter. He is a member of the Episcopal Church.

School Offices To Be Set Up On South Ward Campus

The school board took another step toward alleviation of overcrowding at junior high school last night.

Trustees authorized the moving of the old airport school building to the South Ward campus where it will be established as administrative headquarters for the Big Spring Independent School District.

The present administration building on the junior high grounds will be converted to use of junior high classes.

The board already has ordered the abolition of the Central Ward School, with that nine-classroom building also to be turned over to the junior high program.

T. A. Welch's estimate of $236 for moving the old airport building and setting it on a concrete foundation at South Ward was accepted by the board. They said regular maintenance crews of the school district will remodel interior of the building and equip it for use of the administrative staff.

Clyde Angel, board president, said one wing of the building can be ready for use by Sept. 1. It was estimated that the structure can be moved and be renovated for about $15,000 — less than $2 per square foot of floor space.

Trustees also sanctioned use of the high school cafeteria by Big Spring Jaycees for a Sunday luncheon for the tri-region Jaycee convention to be held here July 21-22. John Taylor and David Sims who requested use of the cafeteria said the meal will be served by a caterer.

Governor Candidates Stress Varied Topics Across Texas

State payment for highway rights-of-way, party loyalty, the Brady bombing case and reduction of federal income taxes were topics stressed by candidates for governor Thursday.

Sen. Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough urged that the state pay most of the cost of rights-of-way for highways as the federal government proposed to do in constructing national thoroughfares.

Daniel declared he would match his work for the Democratic party against any other candidate and that he intended to continue to "live and work" in the party.

J. J. Holmes said at Del Rio he had arranged a meeting with a person claiming to have information on the bombing of Brady attorney Sam McCollum III but declined to say when or where it would be held. Holmes has posted a $10,000 reward in the mystery bombing.

Lee O'Daniel again promised a 25 per cent reduction in the federal income taxes of Texans if elected governor. He spoke at Victoria. He reiterated his stand for segregation and asked higher old age pensions.

Evett Haley had scheduled an appearance at an Amarillo barbecue. Reuben Senterfit was campaigning in East Texas.

Yarborough said at Pampa the burden placed on counties of buying and paying for state and federal highway rights-of-way is too heavy.

At a news conference in Austin, Daniel strongly advocated the federal highway aid bill to give the state means to relieve counties and cities of the burden of acquiring rights-of-way for interstate highways, and the principle of the state paying for rights-of-way for state highways.

At Amarillo, Yarborough said

Dag Awaiting Report On Red Spying Charge

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld said today he is awaiting a report from the U. S. government on charges that a U. N. employe had tried to enlist a Russian refugee into Soviet espionage.

When he receives such a report, he said, he will give the employe, Aleksei Petukhov, an opportunity to state his case, and then place the matter before the proper U. N. group for a decision.

The charges against Petukhov were made Wednesday by Michael Shatov, a former Soviet army captain now employed at Columbia University Library. Petukhov called the charges "false from top to bottom."

The U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. announced he would protest strongly to the U. N. if investigation bore out Shatov's charges.

A former Soviet army captain, the refugee is now employed at the Columbia University Library. He told a news conference that Petukhov and Rostislav Shapovalov, a member of the Soviet U. N. delegation, had attempted to "pressure me to try to make me a spy." Petukhov is junior programming officer in the U. N. Technical Assistance Administration.

Shapovalov could not be reached for comment. But his delegation chief, Arkady A. Sobolev, said the charges were "a lie and a fabrication, nothing more."

Shatov claimed Petukhov and Shapovalov had worked on him while all three were members of his English class at Columbia. He said they had hinted they could discredit him with U. S. security agencies and implied that Sobolev was aware of what they were doing.

Shatov gave secret testimony to the same effect a week earlier before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Lodge told newsmen he had asked Washington for all the facts on the case. He said if they confirmed the charges, he would protest. The conduct described, he declared, would be a "reprehensible thing," violating the oath of neutrality U. N. employes must take.

Petukhov, an economist on the U. N. staff for eight months, said Shatov's charges were "an invention from beginning to end."

"He spoke to me first," he told a reporter. "I called him openly an enemy of my country. I rejected his invitations to give him Russian cooking and to visit anti-Soviet meetings. . . as for threatening him, I could not and did not."

Shatov's allegation was the first such against a U. N. employe since December 1952, when the United States disclosed it had barred re-entry of Nikolai Skortsov, a Political Affairs Department officer in Moscow, after he had gone to Russia on home leave. He was accused of spying while here.

Two members of Russia's U. N. delegation were ordered out of the United States last April on grounds they had forced the defection of five fugitive Soviet seamen.

Wind, Rain Hail Lash South Plains

Driving wind, hail and rainstorms lashed the South Plains Thursday night as summer made a violent entry into Texas.

Hail destroyed 500 to 700 acres of cotton in the Sudan-Amherst area and about 250 acres of grain near Plains.

Up to four inches of rain fell in the Sudan-Amherst area, blocking a farm road. Highway signs were blown down and tree limbs were blown across the Plainview-Lubbock highway near Abernathy. Water was across the highway in some spots as result of the rain and hail storm that accompanied the wind.

Egyptian Vote Set

CAIRO — Egyptians will go to the polls tomorrow for the first time in six years. They will elect a president and ratify a new constitution on the same day. The election is supposed to usher in a new era of constitutional life after four years of military dictatorship headed by Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The only candidate is Nasser. In future elections, there like wise will be only one candidate, but he will be nominated by a popularly elected Parliament.

Since there is no Parliament at present, Nasser has been nominated by the Revolution Command who have held supreme power in Egypt since they overthrew King Farouk in 1952.

VERSATILE DEVICE

New X-Ray Unit 'Sees' Electrons

EUGENE, Ore. — An instrument which can "see" electrons jumping out of a row of atoms and can produce powerful but rigidly controlled X-ray beams for ultrafast work on swiftly moving objects was described today to the American Physical Society.

The device is fast enough and powerful enough to make motion picture X-rays of the internal changes in a circus man being shot out of a cannon, although it would be difficult to hook it up for such a feat.

It utilizes lightweight equipment and relatively little power from conventional supply sources. It produces steady, streamlike bursts of X-rays so potent that exposures of only a millionth of a second are enough to yield pictures of things happening deep in the living body.

It can "stop" a bullet coming out of the muzzle of a gun. There are many instruments which produce X-rays of higher voltages than the 100,000-volt peak which this one has achieved so far, but the new device yields a much greater beam intensity and controllability, said Dr. William P. Dyke, who reported the development.

Dr. Dyke and Dr. J. K. Trolan developed the device at Linfield College, McMinnville, Ore., where electronics research is being done under contract with the armed forces and other government agencies.

The principle of the instrument is not new. It consists basically of a method of drawing electrons out of metals by the use of an electrical field. Scientists have used it for years and it is the main feature of a device called a field emission microscope.

The new thing about this instrument is the use of many fine tungsten wires drawn to a microscopically small point. When these points are all into an electrical field, they yield high-speed electrons. The outpouring electrons produce X-rays when they strike a metallic surface.

3 Die, 7 Injured In Headon Crash

NOBLE, Okla. — Three persons were killed early today in a headon collision three miles south of here on Highway 77.

They were Carl Laxton, 32, of Andrews, Tex., his brother-in-law, Ernest Huckleberry, 34, Del City, Okla., and his wife, Wanda Huckleberry, 32.

Seven persons were injured including Laxton's stepson, Frankie Starnes, 13. He was in a serious condition.

Surgery Thought No Reason To Quit

WASHINGTON — Members of the Republican National Convention Arrangements Committee expressed confidence today that President Eisenhower will run again. They also said the Democrats would get nowhere by raising the issue of his health.

The 46-member group met in closed session to wrap up final details for the convention starting in San Francisco Aug. 29.

National Chairman Leonard W. Hall told reporters after a morning session that the question of the length of the convention—whether to shorten it to three days instead of the originally planned four—was discussed but will not be decided at this time.

Harry Darby of Kansas, Rep. Carroll Reece of Tennessee, C. C. Spades of Florida, and others said the general feeling among committee members is that the President will not change his Feb. 29 decision to seek another term.

Eisenhower has made no public statement on the matter since he entered Walter Reed Hospital two weeks ago for an abdominal operation. This came about eight months after he had suffered a heart attack.

Shown a news report that the Democrats plan to go all out on the health question in the campaign, Hall said they would not get anywhere with it "because of the completely frank way the President's health has been discussed by the White House itself."

He added the Democrats have been trying to find an issue for the past two years and have been unable to find one.

Eisenhower, officially at least, was staying aloof from the Republican meeting and the group expected no direct word from him.

But Hall said earlier in the week that the party was proceeding with convention plans on the basis that Eisenhower will not change his mind about a second term. He predicted then the President will speak out on the subject at the time and place of his own choosing.

Democrats meanwhile announced plans for their nominee—whichever he is—to conduct an active "whistlestop" type of campaign this fall.

The GOP arrangements group faced the task of picking a keynote and other officials for the convention opening in San Francisco Aug. 29.

It also was expected to debate a proposal to shorten the convention from four to three days, a step looking to the quick approval of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket, with Vice President Nixon again in the second spot.

Some party members were reported feeling that original plans for a four-day meeting would leave too many dull spots for television viewers.

San Francisco officials have been strong for sticking to the four-day schedule lest the city lose financially. San Francisco business men have contributed $150,000 toward convention expenses and the city has given $100,000 out of its treasury.

Several dozen names have been recommended for convention keynote, including those of several women. Selection of a woman would set a precedent.

Seas, Sallontall (Mass.) and Dikson (Ill.) and Rep. Halleck (Ind.) are among legislators mentioned, while governors include Christian A. Herter (Mass.), William G. Stratton (Ill.), George N. Craig (Ind.), and Arthur B. Langlie (Wash.). Douglas McKay, former secretary of the Interior now running for the Senate in Oregon, also has been proposed, as has U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Women's names mentioned in the speculation include Clare Boothe Luce, ambassador to Italy; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (Maine); Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, U. S. treasurer; and several House members.

The arrangements group planned a closed session at a downtown hotel. The entire morning was to be given over to reports from nine subcommittees which have been working on technical details of the convention for many months.

Drowns Trying To Recover Fish Line

James R. Lockhart, 26, of 408 N. Alford, drowned in a back tank Thursday while attempting to retrieve a fishing line.

The body of the young Negro was recovered from 18 feet of water about 6 p.m., two hours after he went down. Harold Holmes, Lamesa sporting goods dealer, made the recovery from the tank on the Dick Simpson Ranch 25 miles north of here just as the Big Spring fire department arrived with its boat and grappling apparatus.

Officers said that Lockhart, in company with three women, had begun to fish. Within a few minutes a fish or something else caught a line to be pulled out into the tank. He decided to swim after it, but as he reached the line, he began to struggle and went down. His companions assumed he may have had cramps.

The remains are at River Funeral Home and arrangements are incomplete.

Surviving the victim, who was a janitor, are his wife, Mrs. Lucille Lockhart; a son, Curtis Ray Lockhart; a stepdaughter, Alice Ann Marsh; his mother, Mrs. Cora Lee Lockhart, Big Spring, his father, James R. Lockhart, Sr., Delano, Calif.; his brother, Leonard Joe Lockhart, Big Spring; three half-brothers, Claude Dawson, Dallas, Willie Washington, Big Spring, Don Seaguss, U. S. Navy, San Diego, Calif.; three sisters, Vera, San Antonio, Billie Louise Lockhart and Shirley Ann Lockhart, Big Spring; and a half sister, Betty Joe, Washington, Big Spring.

Lockhart was the sixth drowning for this immediate area in 1956.

'PHONY' Wilson Scores AF Fund Effort

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson, tagging as "phony" Senate efforts to increase Air Force funds, has left open the question of whether he would use the extra money if it is voted.

Wilson delivered his judgment of the money-boosting proposals during a news conference last night at this Marine Corps base where many of the nation's top military officials are gathered for the fourth annual "Secretaries' Conference."

After the "phony" remark came out, Wilson apparently felt it may have been too strong. "Well, maybe I shouldn't have said it," he told newsmen.

However, he added he "would just like to see the people that vote for the expenditure, vote for the taxes to produce the money to pay for it the same people, stand up and be counted."

In Washington, some 30 miles to the northeast, the Senate yesterday took up a defense money bill totaling $34,938,000,000.

Debate on the measure was suspended today to allow consideration of a bill to extend the Defense Production Act.

Wilson's "phony" comment was aimed at a Senate Appropriations Committee recommendation to add $1,160,000,000 to President Eisenhower's budget requests for more warplanes, airplanes and bases.

Iceland Party Adds Reds To Blacklist

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Iceland's No. 2 political party today broadened its election campaign fire to include the island's Communists as well as U.S. air bases.

The move came two days before national parliamentary elections which may chart the strategically located island's future role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The organ of the second-ranking progressive party declared Iceland's Communists "serve a foreign power," and said "it is a matter of honor" that the voters reject them.

It appeared highly likely the Icelanders would do just that. The Communists held only 5 of the 35 seats in the lower House of the last Parliament, and there has been no indication that their following has increased.

Meanwhile Foreign Minister Kristinn Gudmundsson, a progressive leader, asserted Iceland is determined to get rid of U.S. troops. He said the results of the election will not alter that position.

Gudmundsson indicated that he favored "mothballing" the U.S.-manned NATO Air Base on the Icelandic Peninsula of Keflavik. He said the United States wants a base on Iceland to "protect its own security, but this is not security for Iceland."

"We were not eager to be a member of NATO," the foreign minister said, "and we were promised it would be unnecessary for us to have foreign troops here."

Steel Labor Talks Continue Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Tinged with new bitterness, the steel labor contract negotiations continue today in the face of an inexorably approaching strike deadline, now only eight days away.

Accusing the industry of "conspiracy" to force a shutdown, the United Steelworkers went methodically about the task of setting up their strike machinery.

The companies were standing fast, but there was a faint hint that the giant U.S. Steel Corp. might not be as unyielding as the others.

The "Big Three" of steel — U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic — sent letters to their 350,000 workers praising the industry proposal for a five-year contract.

In general terms, the companies figure they are offering fixed annual pay hikes of 7.3 cents an hour. Wages now average $2.46.

The steel talks started out this year in so-called joint negotiations involving the "Big Three." The apparent hope was that a contract agreement would set the pattern for other companies.

A deadlock ensued when the companies announced they would bargain only within the framework of their own proposal. For two days the union then carried on separate talks with individual companies.

When these also got nowhere, there was a return to joint bargaining yesterday. After 3 1/2 hours the meeting adjourned. — Again there had been no headway.

The day also saw these developments: David J. McDonald, the steelworkers' president, issued a statement saying: "The industry persists in its ultimatum to the union to 'take or leave'... it should be crystal clear to the American people that the 11 steel companies, for reasons of their own, are proceeding with their conspiracy to force a shutdown in steel."

It appeared highly likely the Icelanders would do just that. The Communists held only 5 of the 35 seats in the lower House of the last Parliament, and there has been no indication that their following has increased.

Civil Rights Supporters Seeking Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—House supporters of civil rights legislation, outmaneuvered at a critical point yesterday by Southerners, worked against time today to get a Rules Committee vote on their bill.

A quick adjournment of yesterday's committee meeting, for lack of a quorum, snatched away a chance to get clearance of the bill to the House.

Apparently the next opportunity proponents will have is next Wednesday. The committee meets again on that date.

Meanwhile, Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif.), who has been urging that the House itself take the bill away from the Rules Committee through a discharge petition, said his "present inclination" is to redouble efforts to get the required 218 signatures.

Since the Democratic leadership hopes to adjourn Congress by mid-July, each passing day increases the threat to the civil rights bill supported by most Northern Democrats and Republicans, but bitterly fought by Southerners.

Possibility of Senate passage has practically been written off, but supporters still are eager for a vote that will put members—and parties—in the House on record.

The bill would provide for a civil rights commission, a special Justice Department division and an easier way for government and private civil rights suits in federal courts. It is charged with political potential in this election year.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), author of the bill, challenged the Democratic leadership to tell opponents of the measure "that there will be no adjournment until this key measure of President Eisenhower's program has been disposed of one way or the other."

Atoms-For-Peace Discussions Begin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of 12 nations meet here today to complete plans for an 87-nation conference on the organization of an international atoms-for-peace agency.

The meeting will be held in New York in September.

Western diplomats expected that Russia would make a final bid to get Red China invited to the conference.

In fact, informants said today's session would not have been necessary had it not been that the Soviet Union pressed the Red China issue through diplomatic channels to the point where a showdown session had to be held.

Technically the task of the meeting here is to set the date for the New York conference, to decide finally on the wording of the invitation, and to lay out a broad agenda for the meeting.

Ambassador James Wadsworth of the U.S. staff at the U.N. was assigned to represent the United States. Other countries due to be represented by their ambassadors are Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Portugal, South Africa, Russia and Britain.

The 12-nation group last met here April 18. At that time it reached unanimous agreement on the draft of a charter for the proposed International Atomic Energy Agency.

All the countries which participate in the New York meeting, where the draft will be subject to final revision and adoption, will be eligible to become original members of the agency.

In fact, informants said today's session would not have been necessary had it not been that the Soviet Union pressed the Red China issue through diplomatic channels to the point where a showdown session had to be held.

Technically the task of the meeting here is to set the date for the New York conference, to decide finally on the wording of the invitation, and to lay out a broad agenda for the meeting.

Ambassador James Wadsworth of the U.S. staff at the U.N. was assigned to represent the United States. Other countries due to be represented by their ambassadors are Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Portugal, South Africa, Russia and Britain.

The 12-nation group last met here April 18. At that time it reached unanimous agreement on the draft of a charter for the proposed International Atomic Energy Agency.

All the countries which participate in the New York meeting, where the draft will be subject to final revision and adoption, will be eligible to become original members of the agency.

Ike Starts Third Week In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower started his third week in the hospital today—walking a little more, receiving visitors a little longer, but apparently still not talking politics.

A Republican committee was making plans in downtown Washington for the Aug. 20 GOP presidential convention, but White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen Eisenhower would send it no message.

Hagerty denied yesterday a published report that word was passed to White House aides that Eisenhower would stand by his Feb. 29 decision to accept a second term. Hagerty said the question was never discussed with Eisenhower.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, the North Atlantic Alliance commander, spent 45 minutes with Eisenhower yesterday.

Hagerty said they talked about two things — Gruenther's secret testimony on the foreign aid bill before the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday, and "the general problems of NATO." Asked whether there was any discussion of politics, Hagerty replied:

"I think I can flatly say that there was not."

Hagerty also was asked whether Gruenther might join the White House staff after he retired as NATO chief in the fall. Hagerty said that wasn't discussed.

Yesterday's last bulletin from the doctors noted Eisenhower's "condition continues to progress very satisfactorily."

Officials Worried Over Steel Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials today privately expressed increasing concern over the possibility of a steel strike but said, for the time being, they intend to keep out of the bargaining.

However, it was reported that if the industry and Steelworkers Union still are stuck in their present stalemate by the middle of next week the government may take a new look at the advisability of intervening.

A strike is feared by administration officials not only because it would upset the economy but also because it would present delicate labor problems for decision in a campaign year.

Should a walkout come? President Eisenhower presumably would have to consider invoking the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. This could lead to an 80-day court injunction against continuing the walkout and possibly postpone a steel showdown until close to the elections.

Officials see no likelihood that Eisenhower will invoke the T-H Act before the expiration of the present steel contract at midnight June 30.

The United Steelworkers Union's contract expires at that time.

and the union sent notices to its locals yesterday to prepare for a strike on that date if no agreement is reached.

The reason for avoiding any no-strike application of the law is that experience of the past has showed bargaining stops once disputants realize a strike is to be postponed for 80 days. The day of reckoning is merely postponed and the delay serves to worsen the dispute.

The problem now before the government is whether to let the parties glide toward the strike deadline left to their own devices to seek a settlement, or whether the federal mediation service should step in to try to get the negotiations off dead center.

Right now the official view is to let the industry and union keep at it a while longer on their own but if there is not some change, Mediation Service Director Joseph F. Finnegan probably will enter the case, perhaps switching the negotiations from New York to Washington for a final showdown.

There is considerable speculation in Washington that the present impasse in the negotiations is not so bad as it appears.

Industry leaders have said for months that a sizable steel price boost can be expected following their labor settlement. It is felt in some quarters the steel firms would be in a better position to pass on a price increase, and the union to "sell" a settlement to its members, if the agreement comes just in time to avoid a strike but after both sides have put up a good scrap.

Guardsman Faces Charges Of Rape

WACO (AP) — A National Guardsman from Fort Arthur was charged with rape yesterday in the abduction and attack on a Waco woman, 22.

The 36th Division infantryman, in summer training at nearby Ft. Hood, was identified as Pfc. Raymond Garris although the records of Justice of Peace Ray Mormino carried the name as Raymond Garee.

Officers were seeking two other men, also believed to be National Guardsmen, for questioning. The woman told officers she was abducted from in front of a night club and raped by three men.

The victim was in a hospital. Officers said she was badly beaten and suffered internal injuries.

Monroe Wedding Date Kept Secret

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller, the newest leap year leapers, kept their wedding date a lovers' secret today. But they let the world know it would be "before July 13" in either Connecticut or New York.

The oft-rumored romance between the blonde movie star and the Pulitzer prize-winning dramatist became official yesterday when Miller picked an unusual locale to disclose their wedding plans.

He announced it to reporters during a brief recess in his testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in Washington.

Marilyn, vacationing in New York, confirmed the announcement in a terse press statement and later at a news conference in the hallway outside her fashionable apartment.

Miller acknowledged to the committee that he supported Communist-dominated causes in the early 1940s because "it suited the mood I was in." But that's all past and gone, he said, hoping the State Department would change its mind and grant him a passport so he can accompany his bride to London. Marilyn leaves July 13 to make a movie with Sir Laurence Olivier.

Both said the wedding will be in either New York City or Roxbury, Conn., where Miller has a nine-room house on a 26-acre plot.

The blue-eyed Miss Monroe met the press in a skin-tight, sleeveless black jersey, cut low fore and aft, a black skirt, black pumps and a black cape.

She fluttered her long eyelashes and said "no comment" when asked about Miller's appearance before the committee.

But on the subjects of love and life, she provided a variety of candidly wide-eyed, innocent answers that have become a Monroe trademark in the movie industry.

Was she planning to have any children? — "I'm not married yet."

What kind of weddings did she like? — "Any kind."

What quality about Miller attracted her? — "Everything, have you seen him?"

Who proposed first? "Well," said Marilyn, smiling her traditional wet-lipped smile, "I guess he sort of initiated it, but you could say it was simultaneous."

Midway through the interview, Miller suddenly stepped out of an elevator and hurried into the apartment, brushing off a barrage of questions. Marilyn, returning inside to greet him, later told reporters he was tired after the trip to Washington and had nothing to say.

She said she first met the playwright on a Hollywood set in 1951, but their romance flowered only in the past two months.

344 Foodhandlers Due Certificates

Big Spring is one of five cities in the state that require foodhandlers to have a foodhandlers' certificate showing completion of the school now being conducted here by the City-County Health Unit.

The school closes today, and enrollment shows that 344 persons are eligible for the certificate. Over the state, almost 4,000 persons have already taken the course and received their certificates.

In addition to Big Spring, Abilene, El Paso, Midland, and West University in Harris County have ordinances requiring the schooling. Other cities are considering such legislation however.

Separate morning and afternoon classes were conducted here to enable more people to attend. Four of the sessions must be attended for credit.

About one of every nine persons who have received certificates in the state this year was an owner or manager of a food establishment. The State Department of Health claims this is significant since some 30 different diseases can be spread through improperly handled food and drink.

The foodhandler schools have been a part of the Health Department's curriculum since 1938. The movement originated in Texas.

Another big portion of the persons taking the course are school lunchroom workers.

Classes were held on bacteriology, food contamination, control of disease spreaders, laws governing foodhandling establishments, and personal hygiene.

In addition to the certificates given individually, when 80 per cent of the employees of a given food establishment win certificates, the establishment is presented a placard of approval.

Both English and Burns were sent to the San Diego Naval Training Center for the recruit training.

Chief LaFon said that if a man is a high school graduate and can qualify on the test that is given in his office, that the Navy stands behind their guarantee that he will go to a school in the field of his choice. If the classes are full in the school that he is assigned to, at the time he finishes his recruit training, he is assigned to the nearest naval shore establishment to await the convening date of his class.

June's steady diet of hot and humid weather appeared breaking in northern sections of the Midwest today. But not much relief was in sight immediately for other areas in the Eastern half of the country.

Cooler air continued moving eastward across the Northern Plains during the night. It was expected to extend over the Dakotas southward to Oklahoma and over the northern parts of the Mississippi Valley from Minnesota southward to Missouri.

Both said the wedding will be in either New York City or Roxbury, Conn., where Miller has a nine-room house on a 26-acre plot.

What quality about Miller attracted her? — "Everything, have you seen him?"

Who proposed first? "Well," said Marilyn, smiling her traditional wet-lipped smile, "I guess he sort of initiated it, but you could say it was simultaneous."

Midway through the interview, Miller suddenly stepped out of an elevator and hurried into the apartment, brushing off a barrage of questions. Marilyn, returning inside to greet him, later told reporters he was tired after the trip to Washington and had nothing to say.

She said she first met the playwright on a Hollywood set in 1951, but their romance flowered only in the past two months.

Both said the wedding will be in either New York City or Roxbury, Conn., where Miller has a nine-room house on a 26-acre plot.

10 Enroll For Water Safety Instruction

Ten applicants have enrolled in the Red Cross Water Safety program. Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, secretary of the Howard-Glasscock County Red Cross Chapter, urged that additional persons join in the course.

Applicants must be over the age of 12 and know how to swim. This course is in life saving, and water safety practices and is not a swimming instruction school. Those who complete the course satisfactorily will be awarded life saver certificates by the Red Cross.

There is no charge for the program which runs 10 days with an hour and one half lesson each day.

The class could be as large as 30, Mrs. Sawtelle said, and she expressed the hope that it would reach the total.

Sessions are to be at the Big Spring Municipal pool starting Monday afternoon at 5:30 p.m. Anyone interested in the program is invited to call the Red Cross office in the courthouse.

VA Doctors Hear Medical Teacher

Dr. Alfred W. Harris, associate professor of medicine at Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, spoke to the medical staff of the Big Spring Veteran's Hospital Wednesday.

The doctor spoke on "Treatment of Hypertension." Fourteen doctors and nurses attended.

One lecture of this type is held each month at the VA Hospital.

Wrong Season

BOSTON (AP)—On the first day of summer, an unidentified bidder bought an Alaskan fur coat for $120 at the Boston postal district's auction of unclaimed merchandise.

Chief LaFon said that if a man is a high school graduate and can qualify on the test that is given in his office, that the Navy stands behind their guarantee that he will go to a school in the field of his choice. If the classes are full in the school that he is assigned to, at the time he finishes his recruit training, he is assigned to the nearest naval shore establishment to await the convening date of his class.

June's steady diet of hot and humid weather appeared breaking in northern sections of the Midwest today. But not much relief was in sight immediately for other areas in the Eastern half of the country.

Cooler air continued moving eastward across the Northern Plains during the night. It was expected to extend over the Dakotas southward to Oklahoma and over the northern parts of the Mississippi Valley from Minnesota southward to Missouri.

Both said the wedding will be in either New York City or Roxbury, Conn., where Miller has a nine-room house on a 26-acre plot.

The blue-eyed Miss Monroe met the press in a skin-tight, sleeveless black jersey, cut low fore and aft, a black skirt, black pumps and a black cape.

She fluttered her long eyelashes and said "no comment" when asked about Miller's appearance before the committee.

But on the subjects of love and life, she provided a variety of candidly wide-eyed, innocent answers that have become a Monroe trademark in the movie industry.

Was she planning to have any children? — "I'm not married yet."

What kind of weddings did she like? — "Any kind."

Arthur Miller, prize-winning playwright, waits reflectively at the witness table in Washington, D. C., prior to testifying at a House Un-American Activities probe. Currently, he is a topic of discussion on whether Marilyn Monroe and he will marry. His appearance before the committee concerns accusations that have shadowed him for the past several years regarding several organizations listed by the U. S. attorney-general as subversive.

Extra Help Is Authorized For Coaching Staff Here

Salary Raises To Be Studied

School trustees disposed of one athletics question last night and were immediately confronted with another.

By a split vote, the board authorized Coach Carl Coleman to employ two additional assistants for the high school coaching staff and three extra assistants for junior high.

No action was taken on Coleman's recommendation that salaries of present assistants be raised to $1,500 per year (above base teacher pay). Trustees said they need a study of next year's budget before reaching any decisions on pay raises.

After Coleman's recommendations were disposed of, Basketball Coach Johnny Johnson asked the board for a new two-year contract. Action on that request also was put off. Board members said they want the recommendation of Floyd W. Parsons, now superintendent, on the question. Parsons will move here next week and take over his duties July 1.

Johnson told the board that Big Spring High School is still two years away from a good basketball program, even though more students now are interested in basketball than ever before.

Johnson, Track Coach Harold Bentley and Baseball Coach Roy Baird attended the trustee meeting which was called for the purpose of discussing Coleman's recommendations on the athletic program.

Bentley and Johnson raised the question of "Where do we stand, if Coleman doesn't return next year?"

Trustees said they will decide at their next regular meeting — July 10 — what to do about the extension of Johnson's contract and the proposed raises.

They also said it was their understanding that the basketball coach will not be required to assist with football coaching. They also set a maximum of four classes for coaches.

Board members Omar Jones and Tom McAdams voted against the authorization of additional coaching assistants without action on the salary proposition. They said they would prefer to "wait a week" and try to act on salaries at the time more coaches were authorized.

Fabius Will Run At Thistle Down

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fabius and Canadian Champ top a 10-horse field for the $40,000-added Ohio Derby at Thistle Down tomorrow.

Calumet Farm's Fabius — winner of the Freehand, second in the Kentucky Derby and third in the Belmont — figures to be a strong favorite in the 22nd running of Ohio's oldest and richest horse race.

The distance, a mile and an eighth, seems made to order for Fabius, who was noted out by Needles in the mile-and-a-half Kentucky Derby, and led the Belmont by 7 lengths at the top of the stretch.

Sox's Harshman Catches Up With The Record Book

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

In 1953, Jack Harshman gave his wife a catcher's mitt for Christmas. He wanted to practice all he could before making his bid as a major league pitcher the next spring, and after seven futile years as a first baseman, they both figured he had a lot of catching up to do.

Yesterday, he caught up with the record book.

Only twice since 1900 had major league pitchers battled each other with one-hitters in one game. Yesterday, the third such game went into the books — and Harshman won it 1-0 for the Chicago White Sox against Baltimore's Connie Johnson and George Zvernick.

The victory left the second place Sox five games behind the American League leading New York Yankees, who open a four-game series in Chicago's Comiskey Park tonight after an open date yesterday. In Thursday's other games Cleveland beat Boston and Tom Brewer's jinx 5-0 behind Early Wynn's four-hitter, and Kansas City slammed Washington back into the cellar 15-6.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves won their sixth straight under new manager Fred Haney and retained first place with a 7-2 job on Pittsburgh's slumping Pirates. Brooklyn held on to second in the only other game played, beating St. Louis 9-8 as Roy Campanella hit a pair of three-run homers, his second tying it in a winning four-run ninth inning rally with two out.

Prizes For The Ladies

Mary Jane Edwards, Flora Belle Wright and Faye Morgan (left to right) inspect some of the prizes that will be given away in the annual Big Spring Country Club Women's Golf Tournament here next week. The big dish being held by Mary Jane goes to each flight winner.

MATCH-PLAY EVENT

Women's Tournament Begins At Country Club Tuesday

The annual Big Spring Country Club women's golf tournament, for members only, will be a handicap match-play event.

Last year, when the championship was captured by Lil Lurting, it was determined by medal play after each member had been handicapped.

The tournament is scheduled to get under way next Tuesday and continue through Thursday. Eight players will be included in each flight.

Indications are that 24 players in all will tee off. The club pro will set the handicaps this week and pairings will probably be announced Monday.

The club will delay the awarding of prizes until July 1, at least, and possibly until July 4, when awards in the men's tournament will be given away.

Cook Appliance Triumphs Again At Odessa, 2 To 1

ODESSA (SC) — It took two a sacrifice. A brilliant recovery by Troy Wetsel, the Big Spring hurler, just nipped him at the bag.

In the seventh, McCarthy appeared as a pinch-hitter and singled. He stole second and proceeded on to third. Don Carter then hit the ball hard to center. McCarthy tried to leg it home but a brilliant throw by Bill Palmer cut him down at the plate.

The defeat eliminated Texaco from the tournament.

The Big Springers play Phillips of Odessa at 8 o'clock this evening for the right to move into the semi-finals later in the evening.

Cook Appliance got both its runs in the first inning. Oakie Hagood and Darrell Snider walked, advanced on a passed ball and rode home on Jack Gunlock's single.

Gunlock was the only Cook Appliance player to hit safely and he connected all three times he went to the plate.

Texaco got its lone run in the fourth and threatened to tie the count in that round when Pierce sought to go from first to third on

Go Man Go May Not Get To Run

RUIDOSO, N. M. (SC) — The eighth program of the 1956 racing season Saturday brings together two good fields in the tenth and eleventh races.

In the tenth race, the current rage of the quarter horse world "Go Man Go" has the dubious distinction of being on the also eligible list and will get in the race only if there is a declaration from any of the first eight.

In the race proper, Flight Deck, Pepper Olla and Roan Man loom as the main contenders. Should Go Man Go draw into the race he would be a standout and it would be very surprising should he be beaten. He won nine of ten tries last year and earned $16,000 for his efforts.

The 11th race is sponsored by the Buckaroo Lounge and is for the allowance type sprinters at a distance of 5 1/2 furlongs.

Angry Hair, owned by A. R. Ramsey of Roswell, showed good speed in her debut this season and would be no surprise to lead all the way. She has plenty of competition in Sierra, Ole Chap and Mesa H.

The latter is very dependable and seldom gives a bad effort. His first race of the season a week ago was very good and can be expected to improve. Should the packers falter he has a good stretch run and could be returned the winner.

Stan Musial homered twice for the fourth-place Cards, with a man on each time, and with Al Dark had four hits in five trips. Musial now is batting .321 and Dark 516 since coming to the Cards from the Giants last week.

Zimmer had three hits and two RBIs after replacing shortstop Peasee Reese who was knocked dizzy but otherwise apparently uninjured in a first-inning double play.

Del Rice and Danny O'Connell combined for seven of Milwaukee's 13 hits, with O'Connell driving four runs as Bob Buhl won his seventh. Ron Kline lost his sixth as the Pirates dropped their sixth straight.

Cleveland handed Brewer his second defeat, breaking his eight-game winning streak and beating the young right-hander for the first time since May 1, 1955. He had beaten them seven times in the span. Two of the hits off Wynn, now 7-4, were bunt singles by Jim Piersall.

Joe DeMaestri and Gus Zernial each hit two-run homers, for the A's, who had 15 hits. Harmon Killebrew hit a grand slammer for the Senators.

This has been denied by Frank Lane, Cardinals' dynamic general manager.

Musial Hints He May Quit

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — A combination of circumstances has dispirited Stan Musial to such an extent that he seriously is thinking of quitting baseball at the end of the season.

Although the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time great would not comment, it has been learned from present and former teammates that the National League's greatest player over recent events ranging from the trading of his closest friend Red Schoendienst to his shift from the outfield to first base.

Another major hurt, it has been learned, stemmed from reports prior to the June 15 trading deadline of a player transaction between the Cardinals and Philadelphia involving Musial and Robin Roberts, the Phillies' ace right-hander.

This has been denied by Frank Lane, Cardinals' dynamic general manager.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Texan Fred Hawkins set out today to nurse a first-round lead in the $20,000 Philadelphia Daily News Open Golf Tournament, an advance he picked up with a birdie-stroke three-under-par 65 yesterday.

Hawkins, an El Paso pro, was only one stroke over the record for the par 68 Cobbs Creek course here.

He birdied the final three holes, coming home in 32 after heading out in 33.

Cary Middlecoff, the newly-crowned U.S. Open golf champion, didn't fare so well. He was seven strokes behind Hawkins and birdied only one hole against five bogeys, including three straight on the 15th, 16th and 17th holes.

Middlecoff was snarled in two traps and had other difficulties in getting his approach shots on the green.

One stroke ahead of Hawkins were Bill Casper Jr., Chula Vista, Calif., and Gay Brewer Jr., Cincinnati, with 66s. Tied at 67 were Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor Pa.; Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., who led the title last year in a playoff; Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif.; Mike Krak, Louisville, and Mike Feteich, of Mahopac.

Ten golfers were tied at 70, including defending champion Ted Kroil, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Thompson Kayeod

DALLAS (AP) — Buddy Turman, 183, of Tyler, exploded a left hook to the jaw to knock out Freddie Thompson, 181, of Wichita, Kan., in the second round last night.

Alexander Winner In Junior Meet

MIDLAND (SC) — Ben Alexander of Lamesa fired a 113 for 27 holes to win his second straight Midland Junior Golf Tournament here Thursday.

By finishing first, Alexander won an expenses-paid trip to the State JayCee Tournament at Brownwood, which will be held in July.

Others who won the right to compete at Brownwood included Bob Hankins, also of Lamesa, who had 114; Jack Wilkinson, Midland, 114; and Jimmy Attaway, McCamey, 117.

In the 16-17 year flight, Charles Morris of Big Spring finished 15th with a score of 123. John Phillips, Big Spring, was 19th with 134. Whitney Reynolds, Big Spring, posted 137, good for 21st place.

Clippers Shaded In Loop Start

The BPOE Elks decided the Stanley Hardware Clippers, 12-9, in a Senior Teen-Age baseball league game played here Thursday night. It was the first game of the regular season for both clubs. In Saturday night league action, the Cardinals—winners of their initial start—tangle with the Elks.

Thompson, 3 Others Are Tied For 2nd In Meet

MIDLAND (SC) — Frank Freer of Lamesa won medalist honors in the 28th annual West Texas Invitational Golf Tournament, which got under way here Thursday.

Freer fired a two-under-par 70 to finish three strokes ahead of four other entries, including Luke Thompson of Big Spring.

Thompson had his troubles of the front nine when he fashioned a 39 but he blistered the back side with a 34 to finish in 73 strokes.

Alyn Scott, Odessa, Marty Gresh and Bob Wortman, both of Midland, wound up in a tie with Thompson for second place.

Bobby Wright of Big Spring ended in a deadlock for sixth place, five strokes off Freer's pace. Wright was out in 38 and came home in 37 for a 75. Don Massengale, Dallas, and Sleepy Wynn, Midland, were others who registered 75's.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Buddy Ray Cosby, the finest linebacker in the history of Big Spring High School, departs the U.S. Army next March and may pursue his football career in college.

Though he left the local high school (in 1954) before he completed work on his high school diploma, he now has his sheepskin. He was considered a better than average student in most subjects.

He currently weighs 193 pounds and will have just turned his 20th birthday when he departs the service.

Now stationed at El Paso's Ft. Bliss, Cosby played some football for the Red River Arsenal team at Texarkana.

The former Big Spring baseball favorite, Willy Quintana, recently was sent down to San Antonio by Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

Willy hadn't been able to solve Pacific Coast League hurling but was hanging on with the Mounties due to his defensive play in the infield.

He broke two bones in his left hand, however, when he slid into Bill Hale of Hollywood, and had to leave the lineup. The injury should keep him on the sidelines for a spell.

Look for Beaumont to leave the Big State League any day now. The Exporters are on the ropes, financially.

The management down there blames the mosquitoes who swarm to the park nightly.

Joe Riney, former first baseman of the Big Spring baseball club, is currently hitting in the neighborhood of .330 for Lewiston, Idaho, of the Northwest Class B League.

Both Osorio boys, who foraged on Longhorn League hitting, are now in the Big State circuit.

Pedro, who opened the season with Carlsbad, recently was traded to Victoria. He's the one who was shot by a bartender in Rowell last year, after he had been asked to leave a tavern and refused to do so. Pedro's brother, Elias, is now with Waco.

Northwestern was one of the Big Ten schools which talked down a plan to play a round-robin football schedule, indicating it wasn't strong enough for such work. Then it turned around and signed Notre Dame and Oklahoma to 1959 schedules.

Havana of the International League is said to net $120,000 annually from the sale of television and radio rights to its home games.

It's extremely doubtful now that Andrews will have its new football stadium ready by the time Big Spring opens there Sept. 14. According to Ben Peeler of Odessa, a Midland concern was low bidder on the project at $228,226 and that was $100,000 over the architect's estimate. The same company wanted $303,226 to finish up by Sept. 14, according to Peeler.

From all indications, the Steer — Mustang game will be played in the old stadium at Andrews, so seats will again come at a premium. Buy your's in advance, once they go on sale.

Billy Carlie Wins First Fight In TAAF Tourney

ODESSA (SC) — Billy Carlie, Martin, 140, Big Spring, lost to Spud Green, 140, Andrews, on a second round TKO.

Semi-finals are carded in the meet tonight while finals take place Saturday night.

Bill White, 157, Odessa, TKO'd El Toro Reyes, Midland, in the second round of another Open Middleweight fight.

Reed Thacker, 185, Odessa, outlasted Blanton Dees, 200, Big Spring, in a Heavyweight scrap. In a Welterweight scrap, Buddy

Former President Harry S. Truman, (right), smiles and wears the proper academic hat and gown as he is congratulated by towering Lord Halifax, chancellor of Oxford University after receiving the honorary degree of doctor of civil laws at the famous university in Oxford, England. Tears filled Truman's eyes when Lord Halifax conferred the degree with the eulogy: "Trust of allies, direct in your speech and in your writings, and ever a pattern of simple courage."

Nixon Named Ike Envoy For Philippines Fete

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today designated Vice President Nixon to represent him at July 4 Independence Day ceremonies for the Philippines Republic in Manila.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the announcement at a 7:45 a.m. news conference.

Hagerty stressed that Nixon, who will be accompanied by his wife, will make the trip at Eisenhower's "urging."

Hagerty noted that Eisenhower twice served in the Philippines during his Army career and said the President has a "great personal interest" in that country.

VA Hospital's Load Increases

The daily average of patients at the Big Spring Veterans' Hospital has increased by 56 patients since July 1, 1955.

A year ago there was an average of 160 patients per day at the hospital, but after July 1 the average went up to 216. The increase, according to J. G. Sims, manager, was due to the hospital not being fully opened until July of last year.

Electronic Search Of Capitol For Snoopers Brings Furor

WASHINGTON (AP) — An electronic search of the entire Capitol for wiretapping and secret recording equipment became a possibility today in the wake of a security inspection of one senator's office.

The office to which Defense Department agents went uninvited was part of the suite of Sen. Lehman (D-NY). It adjoins a hearing room in which other senators have been receiving secret military information.

The agents found nothing wrong. But their search, aided by Capitol police, touched off a Senate furor yesterday that pushed aside debate on a $5 billion dollar defense appropriation bill.

Lehman, who protested what he called "careless snooping," was promised apologies from the Defense Department, Sen. Symington's (D-Mo) Special Armed Services subcommittee occupying the room adjoining his office, and, through Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the entire Senate.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) called on the Senate to hire "experts in electronic devices" to check whether snoopers are tapping telephones of senators or planting microphones in the walls of hearing rooms.

Sen. Green (D-RI), chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, which would pass first on any such investigation, was out of the city. But committee attaches started looking into the matter.

Johnson said that the incident was "outrageous" and "typical bureaucratic stupidity," that he viewed it with "utter horror" and that he had asked the Capitol police force for a report on their part in the affair.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) called the ballooning affair "a lot of political baloney and a waste of time."

Symington called a quick meeting of his group after Lehman protested the "methods used" in

COMMON PERIL

Truman Warns Of 'Blindness'

LONDON (AP) — Harry Truman warned Britain and the United States last night not to let the "silver illusions of election years" blind them to the common peril he said they still face from the Communists.

Speaking at a dinner of the Pilgrims, a British-American friendship society, the former U.S. president cautioned that other alliances of the two English-speaking nations "are less effective, in their mutual benefit, if Britain and America should get at cross purposes."

Truman conceded that "like most other nations we are more impelled to unity by common danger than by common aspirations."

But "those who look candidly and honestly at the world about us," he continued, "must see that common danger has rarely been greater, though it has often been more strident and spectacular. There is plenty to pull us soberly together on common appraisals and policies."

He did not mention Russia by name, but he left no doubt he was referring to the revamped post-Stalin foreign policy trumpeted recently by the Kremlin.

"I am not prepared," he said, "to throw away all we have learned by hard experience — to believe all who claim to have been converted have in fact cast out the old Adam."

He took considerable pains to counteract any British concern over effects the U.S. election campaign might have on American foreign policy.

He said countries which have free elections in election years "behave somewhat as primitive peoples do at the time of the full moon." And he added that "one or another of the Western Democracies seem to have an election every year, and this usually has an upsetting effect on our international conferences."

But he warned: "Even when we are moonstruck by the silver illusions of election years, we ought to bear in mind that if we consume most of what we produce, we will not be able to stand up against these nations who work incessantly to increase their power—their power to threaten, their power to resist, to overawe and absorb their neighbors, and their power to strike with force of arms."

"So I would urge that—out of common prudence—you and we and all our friends and associates should not get careless about our strength or our unity. I would hope that both our countries would continue to produce men who would keep our views and acts in close harmony."

Truman drew loud applause when he said, "I am very happy today because dispatches from home show our President is well on his way to recovery."

In a toast to the American guest of honor, the Earl of Halifax, wartime British envoy to Washington and president of the Pilgrims, said: "In homely language, Mr. Truman, you are the sort of person we would all be happy to go tiger hunting with."

Lake J. B. Thomas Holding Its Own On Local Showers

The foot increase in the level of Lake J. B. Thomas last week boosted the season's catch to more than 22,000 acre feet of water.

After the increase from weekend thunderstorms, the lake level was 2,253.69, which is 4.31 feet below the service spillway level. This was the highest level since Jan. 6.

There have been four occasions this year in which substantial amounts of water have been caught, and last week was the largest. Total catch for 1956 is 22,750 acre feet, or approximately 7 1/2 billion gallons.

These catches from localized showers has enabled the lake level to gain despite record demand and stepped up evaporation. Pumps have been pulling around 23 million gallons a day from the lake.

Uncle Ray:
Dark Swans Live
South Of Equator

By RAMON COFFMAN
A person might suppose that water birds never would need a special bath, and that is true in a general way. They preen and clean their own feathers.

Swan receiving a bath.

At times, however, captive swans have been judged to be in need of a bath. Experts have cleaned them, chiefly to remove oil which was clogging the pores of the skin.

Q. What swans does North America have?
A. The whistling swans and the trumpeters. These nest in Canada, and some of them raise their young around the coast of the Arctic Ocean. The trumpeters like the shore of the Hudson Bay.

In autumn swans fly southward. Some of them spend the winter along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico.

The trumpeter (with a wingspread of eight feet) is the largest waterfowl in North America. I regret that this stately bird has become rare in most parts. The whistling swan also is rare.

Q. Are swans with dark feathers found only south of the Equator?
A. Not counting the cygnets, or young swans, the statement is true. The only adult swans with dark feathers are natives of countries south of the Equator. Dark swans in zoos were brought to our land from the southern half of the world. Argentina and Chile have black-necked swans. Glossy black feathers cover about two-thirds of the neck of an adult. Their bills are red and blue.

Australia has black swans. These have black or dark brown plumage, except for certain white feathers in the wings.

Q. Do dying swans sing?
A. The old story about the "song of the dying swan" has been described as a myth. Several modern observers, however, have reported plaintive songs uttered by swans which were wounded mortally.

Locksmith Aids
Theft Of Auto

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—Miss Virginia Zimmerman arrived on the scene just as a strange man drove off in her parked car. An obliging locksmith had opened the vehicle after the man said he had lost his keys.

State police later arrested John Moore, 35, as he drove the car on Rt. 35 in Raritan Township near Keyport. They charged him with theft of a motor vehicle.

He Has Plenty Of G.A.S. To Sell

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—O. T. Sharon Jr., denies selecting his new son's name to promote business.

Sharon is a partner in a petroleum firm.

The son, born Wednesday, was named Glen Allen Sharon.

Wags accused Sharon of picking the name for the initials: G.A.S.

3-State Oil Purchase Told

DALLAS (AP)—The purchase of working interest in 30 oil and gas producing wells in 8 fields in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma for $1,475,000 was announced yesterday by Petroleum Reserves Inc., of Dallas.

The properties were bought from Dale Dorn of San Antonio and others. Most wells are in West Texas, and operated by Forest Oil Corp.

They included 10 wells in the East Goldsmith Field of Ector County, 6 in the Sprafery Trend, 3 in the Pure-Bean Pool of Crockett County and 1 in the Hutex Field of Andrews County.

Full working interest also was involved in six wells in the Pearl Field of Frio County, also operated by Forest.

The transaction covered 20 per cent working interest in 2 wells in the Flour Bluff Field of Nueces County, 40 per cent working interest in 1 well in the Bourg Field of LaFayette Parish in Louisiana, and half interest in 1 well in the West Edmond Field of Oklahoma County.

The properties will be operated by Austral Oil Exploration of Houston for Petroleum Reserves.

Drought Reported

PHARR (AP)—A bleak drought picture of the South Texas area was reported yesterday by state Agricultural Commissioner John White.

"The area from Austin to Alice was the worst drought disaster area I've been in during my four years as commissioner," White said. He is on a four-day inspection tour.

He described the section hardest hit by drought on a line starting in Williamson County north of Austin, down through Beeville and Austin and over to Laredo and including everything westward to the High Plains of West Texas.

"The fields were as still as death," White said of the area through which he passed.

He said there wasn't a single tractor or man working in the fields.

"I saw miles and miles of pasture yesterday where there wasn't a single sprig of grass," White said. He saw acres of cotton fields from San Marcos to Alice, lost and lying as though they would make a sack full of cotton, and grain sorghum fields that would never see a harvester, he said.

The area got progressively worse from Austin to Alice, White said. The worst part was south of San Antonio.

"In Live Oak County," White said, "I don't believe a single farmer is making a living off of farming."

About one-third of the farm families in Live Oak County and almost half the farm families in Karnes County were receiving surplus food relief, he said.

White said it was impossible to tell about the miles of devastation.

"You just have to see it," he said, "and you don't have to be a farm expert to understand what had shape the farmers are in."

"Many farm families in the drought area need the necessities of life like bacon and beans," White said, "and I haven't run into a farmer yet who didn't want to work."

The commissioner said he wants the Legislature to set up a program through some state agency to help the farmer.

"Why couldn't we concentrate public works programs, such as road paving, to the disaster areas during a drought and provide jobs for the people who want to work?"

Going through George West the commissioner ran into a hard rain. He said water covered the road but that the earth was packed so hard that the water just ran off.

From what he had seen of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, he said, the cotton crop there might equal last year's 392,000 bales despite dry weather.

Elder Citizens Lose Game Table

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—The summer recreation program for the elder citizens of this southeast Oklahoma town has been crippled.

Someone stole the domino table from under the trees in a downtown vacant lot. A reward of $15 was quickly posted. Deputy Sheriff Ed Thornton said the table, with attached seats, was so heavy it would take at least two persons with a truck to haul it away.
