Artillery, Tanks Used To Crush Polish Revolt

BERLIN, June 30 (AP)—Polish heavy artillery and tanks tonight appeared to be crushing the last freedom of a workers' bread and freedom revolt in the rubble of Poznan.

Westerners streaming out of Poznan told of tanks and artillery throwing a ring of steel around the city. A Frenchman said artillery was firing on the center of Poznan.

Gunfire echoed through the streets in the morning but died out in the afternoon, Westerners said.

Two Portuguese businessmen said they were told from 400 to 800 Poles were killed in three days of street fighting. Warsaw radio increased its estimate of the number of dead from 38 to 49.

The radio spoke angrily of "marks of devastation" in Poznan and indicated mass trials for ringleaders. It said an investigation of those under arrest had begun.

One Warsaw broadcast in the English language charged a "certain power" helped to foment the uprising by "openly supporting subversive movements in Socialist countries." This appeared to refer to the United States, often accused by the Communists of such activity.

Warsaw radio said Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz visited 31 wounded in Poznan hospitals. The wounded were soldiers and civilians wounded in the fight against "Fascist provocateurs," the broadcast added.

The radio said hospitals were jammed with the wounded. Doctors, surgeons and students of the Poznan Medical Academy volunteered their services.

The broadcast said the worst devastation was in Kochanowskiego Street. The state security police building is here. The building was the object of the workers' wrath when the uprising broke out Thursday.

Warsaw said citizens were volunteering to remove the rubble. In Washington, it was announced the United States offered to supply the Red Cross with food to relieve serious shortages in Poznan and the rest of Poland.

Polish workers launching the uprising shouted for bread, called for the Russians to leave and demanded better living conditions.

The rebels apparently were equipped with plenty of weapons at the outset.

Sefton Delmar, London Daily Express correspondent, said in Warsaw two tanks and "several units of infantry" helped workers capture the Poznan radio station Friday morning.

The rebellion "is just about over," Delmar told Merrill Mueller, NBC correspondent at home, in a telephone conversation.

Enraptured by what they called the "revolution" a steady stream of Westerners, caught in Poznan where they were attending an industrial fair, continued to come through the Iron Curtain today. They brought fresh accounts of the strike and riots which flared Thursday into bloody street fighting and suppression. It seemed doubtful if many of these sources would long be left in Poznan.

One indication of the government's difficulty in suppressing the riots of holdouts was the report of three Frenchmen arriving at the West German town of Helmstedt who said they saw Communist militiamen join forces with the rebels and give them ammunition.

There was no indication that the outbreak had spread to other cities or developed into a major rebellion threatening Red rule, though there were many rumors and reports of unrest at several places.

Communist officials contended everything was "quiet and back to normal" in Poznan today, but admitted there had been fighting yesterday, hours after the Warsaw government claimed the revolt had been crushed.

Treasury Ends Year In Black By Two Billion

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The government today ended the 1956 fiscal year with a prospect of a surplus running around two billion dollars—the first time in four years it has come out in the black.

Further, administration leaders let it be known they confidently expect to balance the budget again in fiscal 1957, which starts at midnight. But, some conceded, increased spending and higher costs might upset their early year forecast of a 1957 surplus of about 400 million dollars.

Not since fiscal 1951 has the government rounded out a year with the budget in the black. That year the surplus was a little more than 2 1/2 billion dollars. And a 1956 surplus will be only the fourth time since 1930 that the government has come up to July 1 with more income than outgo. The other years were 1947 and 1948.

The administration has said it will use the current surplus to trim a little off the huge national debt that stood at $274,474,000,000 last June 30. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has forecast the debt at the end of this fiscal year will total around 272 1/2 billion dollars.

Debt reduction and the size of the surplus, apparently have ruled out any prospect of an individual income tax cut for the present. Humphrey has said he feels a surplus of 3-4 billion dollars would be necessary even to consider a tax cut.

Exact figures on how much the 1956 fiscal surplus may be will not be known until about July 20, when the government makes up a detailed statement of income and outgo. However, one thing is certain—revenue has been pouring in at a rate far greater than expected. Although spending is up too, the gain there doesn't compare with the increase in receipts.

One Airliner Crashes, And Second Lost

Fear 128 Deaths In Twin Air Disasters

WINSLOW, Ariz., June 30 (AP)—Two giant airliners with 123 people aboard disappeared over desolate northern Arizona today and the wreckage of one, carrying 70 persons, was spotted tonight in the Grand Canyon.

The wreckage was identified as that of a TWA Constellation en route from Los Angeles to Kansas City.

No sign of survivors was reported.

Still missing and presumed to have crashed was a United Air Lines DC7 with 38 aboard. It was bound for New York.

The two planes took off from Los Angeles' International Airport within three minutes of each other and were flying virtually the same easterly route.

Lynn Coffin, chief ranger at Grand Canyon National Park, said wreckage of the Constellation was sighted from the air about 25 miles northeast of Grand Canyon village, which is on the southern rim of the canyon.

Coffin said the find was made by Paul and Henry H. Udgin, brothers who operate the Grand Canyon Airlines.

The brothers said the wreckage was on the side of a butte about 1,000 feet above the Colorado River, in extremely rugged terrain which will be difficult to enter.

Coffin said Nellis Air Force Base, Nev., was notified that the wreckage had been found and was making arrangements to fly to the area in the morning.

The search for the United Air Lines DC7 by military, civil and airline authorities, working on the ground and in the air, was halted by darkness until daylight Sunday.

The area over which the planes disappeared is a broad expanse of wasteland covering thousands of square miles of high, jagged mountains, deep canyons and parched desert.

Heavy thunderclouds hung over the area during the day, but no one in authority would speculate as to what might have happened to the planes.

The director of the search, Capt. Byrd Ryland of the air search and rescue unit from March AFB, Calif., said the two planes may have been flying at the same altitude at the same time. Flight instructions given the pilots of both planes called for them to be at 21,000 feet over the Painted Desert north of Winslow, Ariz.

Asked about the possibility of a collision in flight, he told newsmen: "Your guess is as good as mine."

The total number of persons aboard the craft raises the possibility of the worst commercial air disaster in history to event they may have collided or otherwise been involved in a single mishap.

The worst commercial crash in history was that of a Venezuelan airliner off New Jersey's coast June 20 in which 74 persons died. The worst air disaster ever was the crash of a military C124 at Tokyo in 1953, killing 129.

UAL and TWA said each plane had enough fuel for 8 1/2 hours when it began its flight. That means both would have run out of fuel about 6:30 p.m. MST.

The TWA Constellation carried 63 passengers, mostly TWA employees or relatives of employees, and six crew members. United's craft had 53 passengers and a crew of five aboard.

The first word that the planes were in trouble came from Winslow, in northern Arizona. The CAA reported it started a search for the planes at 11:46 a.m. MST, after trying unsuccessfully for an hour to establish radio contact.

The TWA plane left Los Angeles International Airport at 10:01 a.m. MST, bound for Kansas City via Daggett, Calif., Trinidad, Colo., and Dodge City, Kan. It was last reported at 10:53 a.m. MST, over Lake Mohave, a desert lake near the California border.

The United craft took off three minutes later, headed for New York via Needles, Calif., Painted Desert, Ariz., Durango and Pueblo, Colo., Hutchinson, Kan., St. Joseph, Mo., Joliet, Ill., Chicago, Detroit, Mich., Philadelphia and Newark, N.J. The last report from it was at Needles, Calif., at 10:58 a.m. MST.

Planes carrying officials of the two airlines were en route to Winslow from Chicago and the West Coast.

A TWA spokesman said there had never been a fatality on a scheduled Constellation flight in the continental United States since that type of plane was put into service in the early 1940s.

Several hours after the airliners were reported missing there were 14 search planes in the air. Two helicopters joined the search later.

The search director said he expected to have 50 planes in the air Sunday.

The Civil Air Patrol said men on horseback and in jeeps, with Indian guides, would be pressed into service to help aircraft in the search for the DC7 tomorrow.

It said one report that wreckage had been sighted had not yet been checked out because of darkness.

Maj. Hal Basham, Air Force information officer with the CAP, said searchers would follow up this report first thing after daylight.

Hamilton California Air Force Base in northern California sent two Albatross planes to take part in the hunt. The Air Search and Rescue Service at March Air Force Base, Riverside, Calif., sent a helicopter and two Grumman SA16 planes to the area. Luke Air Force Base near Phoenix contributed several planes.

U. S. Proffers Free Food For Polish People

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The United States, exploiting the grave troubles facing Communist rulers in Eastern Europe dramatically offered today to ship thousands of tons of free food into Poland.

"The reports of serious disorders in Poznan, Poland, seem to be marked by demands by the population for bread, and we are informed of serious food shortages in Poland," Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. said in a letter to Harold Starr, general counsel of the American Red Cross.

The action served to focus new attention on the political crisis which flared in Poland with the rioting at Poznan.

It put the United States in the position of offering help to people whose anger against their present rulers and against Russia is said to be stirred in great part by Russia's drainoff of Polish factory and farm output.

Hoover's letter to the American Red Cross said:

"The United States government, on behalf of the American people, is ready to make available to the League of Red Cross Societies—the International Red Cross—for free distribution through Red Cross channels to the people in Poland and particularly to relieve the critical situation in the Poznan area, appropriate quantities of wheat, flour and other foods.

"The United States government would make the food available to the League of Red Cross Societies without cost at an appropriate port of entry in Poland."

"In keeping with our usual requirement that the consumers of American relief grants be informed of the source of the supplies, the food so provided would be labeled for distribution as a gift from the American people."

The American Red Cross said it promptly relayed the offer announced by Undersecretary Hoover to the League of Red Cross Societies at Geneva, and was assured it would be transmitted at once to the Polish Red Cross.

C-City Derby Hopefuls

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

How much would you lay on the line to maintain the rights you take for granted? A group of men declared to the world in 1776 that "we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor" as the price—they were willing to pay for a new freedom under God. What about us?

Latest drilling statistics (see Oil Page) show Howard County with 31 rigs in operation. This seems a little high to us, but it does reflect the tempo of activity. The developments have been less than startling, but strong Wolfcamp shows were logged in a wildcat test of Vincent early in the week.

City commissioners authorized the purchase of a radar unit for use by police in clocking speed of motorists. We're not sure whether this will promote safety through slower driving or increase hazards by straining to see if the unit is hid up ahead.

Folks shouldn't want for something to do on July 4th. There will be a golf tournament, the 3rd annual Soap Box Derby, picnicking.

Soap Box Racers To Undergo Final Inspections On Monday

Boy-built coasters — of every description — will be assembled at the City Park Monday.

It's the day of final inspection of racers for the famed Soap Box Derby, and more than 50 lads are scheduled to turn in their cars at the old tennis courts at the Park by 10 a.m. Monday. Then, crews of inspectors will give the vehicles a thorough going-over, to see that official specifications have been followed.

This is the major preliminary to the running of the Soap Box Derby which occurs as a feature of the July Fourth holiday. Boys race for pleasure and prizes down a new track — Lancaster Street between 15th and 12th — beginning at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

From the heats will emerge a local champion who carries Big Spring's banner to the All-American Soap Box Derby race in Akron, Ohio, on August 12. And there he has a chance at national honors and a chance to share in college scholarships totaling $15,000.

The local race event — expected to attract thousands of spectators — is sponsored by The Lions Club, The Herald and Tidwell Chevrolet Company. The national event is a youth-development event sponsored by the Chevrolet Division of General Motors.

Boys will compete Wednesday in preliminary heats in two age divisions — 11-13 years and 13-15. Winners in the two divisions then will compete in the final for the local championship.

Every boy who drives his coaster down the 825-foot grade Wednesday will receive a prize. Winner of each preliminary heat receives $5 from Cosden Petroleum Corporation, and each loser gets a consolation award of $2 from Dr. M. H. Bennett. Those who advance to final heats will share in such prizes as a bicycle, radio, wrist watch, rod and reel, hunting knife and hatchet, baseball bat, ball and glove, and a sleeping bag. There will be special awards for the best-constructed car and the best-upholstered car.

Sponsors' representatives Saturday said most details are in readiness for the Wednesday racing event. After cars are given final inspection Monday, they will be impounded and kept under special guard until race time. Drawings also will be made Monday for beads, and lanes on the race course.

Arrangements have been made to take care of spectators along the curb lines on Lancaster Street. There will be a special public address system, and refreshments will be sold by the Lions Club.

This year's race, with the most entries ever, includes boys from Big Spring, Colorado City, Coahoma, Midway and Elbow.

The National Guardsmen of the 36th Infantry Division made up the largest guard outfit ever to attend camp in the peacetime history of Texas.

Buses Halted By Negro Boycott

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 30 (AP)—Barring an unexpected development, the public bus system for this city of 40,000 will suspend operations at midnight because of a boycott by Negro riders.

Negotiations aimed at a settlement of the month-long dispute got nowhere. The City Commission and the Negro Inter-Civic Council, spearheading the boycott, each made proposals the other refused to accept.

Bill Phinizy Wins Roping At Lamesa

LAMESA—A crowd of 2,500 saw Dawson County's 8th annual rodeo cavort to an exciting climax here Saturday night and watched Jimmy Dean, Lovington, N. M., and Bill Phinizy, Lamesa, win saddles for their performances.

There were no mishaps, but Monte Griffin, Lamesa, who was knocked out Friday when he fell while dismounting during roping, was unable to try Saturday evening.

Around 10,000 saw the three shows.

Winners included: Bareback bronc riding (Saturday) Jimmy Moore, Post, first; Phillip Roberts, Ralls, and Ted Cave, Rotan, tied for second.

Calls For Disarmament To Halt Nuclear Buildup

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 30 (AP)—Anthony Nutting of Britain called today for agreement by the world on a disarmament plan to force stockpiles of nuclear bombs reach heights dangerous to humanity.

Nutting, British minister of state and No. 2 man in her Foreign Office, pledged Britain's full cooperation in working for such an agreement through the United Nations. He will head the British delegation in the next round of U. N. Disarmament Commission talks beginning Tuesday. The meetings are expected to continue two or three weeks.

"The British government is determined to go on working for a disarmament agreement through the United Nations," Nutting said in an interview. "It should be possible to work out such an agreement, satisfactory to all, but not

Steel Shuts Down As 650,000 On Strike

NEW YORK, Sunday, July 1 (AP)—A strike of 650,000 workers hit the nation's giant steel industry today and brought production to a halt.

The United Steelworkers of America promptly posted pickets at mills in Pittsburgh, South Chicago, Gary, Ind., and elsewhere across the country.

The union struck at 12:01 a.m. only a few hours after wage contract talks collapsed here with both sides refusing to give an inch. The old contract died at midnight.

Huge furnaces, cooling for three days, stood silent in the darkened mills. Steel output vital to other industries was cut off.

The main issue in the month-long talks was the length of a new contract.

Representatives of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and other firms producing 90 per cent of the nation's steel insisted on a long-term contract of at least 4 years and 4 months.

The steelworkers, accustomed to two-year pacts, said such a contract would tie their hands "too long."

The shutdown already has been called "the strike that nobody wanted."

The industry was prospering. The workers were among the highest paid in American industry.

But the shutdown issue over a long- or short-term contract became a matter of principle to both sides. Some observers thought this might presage a longer and more bitter dispute than would be the case if financial questions were the chief point of difference.

In final statements released at midnight, both the United Steel Workers and the companies affected rapped each other for causing the strike.

Nothing was said about a new date for efforts to work out a solution for the paralyzed industry—a mainstay for the nation's economic and military strength.

In a union statement, President David J. McDonald declared: "The responsibility for the shutdown in steel production rests entirely with the steel companies.

There was no need for this shutdown.

"The is no need for the shutdown to continue if the steel companies are now willing to act fairly and justly rather than arbitrarily and arrogantly."

He said the union stood ready at any time to negotiate a "fair settlement."

The twelve major companies closely concerned with the negotiations here—which would have set a pattern for the industry—said:

"The only proposals that the union has made have been so excessive that they afforded no realistic basis for bargaining."

Furthermore, they added, the contract proposals put forward by the companies "represents the largest increase in actual purchasing power they have ever attained."

The industry added that it, too, is ready to continue talks at any time.

Both sides said they would stand by, on call.

But persons close to the parties expressed doubt there was any chance of another get-together within a week, considering the 4th of July and other matters.

Two final negotiation sessions—the last concluding just six hours before the strike deadline—blew up with each side refusing to budge an inch.

Minister Rounds Out 25 Years Of Service Without Fuss Or Fanfare

By JOE PICKLE
When Dr. R. Gage Lloyd steps out of the pulpit Sunday, it will mark the completion of 25 years in the ministry.
Dr. Lloyd has no intention of making any special fuss about the occasion, because "every one of the years has had the genuine ring of silver. They have been 25 satisfying years."
"I've had a wonderful experience," he reflected. "Everywhere I've served the people have been kind, generous and considerate. There has been no sadness connected with my ministry — I've never been fired; that's what tears out a preacher's heart, to be doing his best and still be let out. I've never had back-stabbing and division in my congregations. They all have had a marvelous spirit."
Some of the dreams a young minister dreams have come true, and one of them may be the high point of his first 25 years in the ministry.
Young Presbyterian ministers generally dream that they will go to do a year's graduate study in Scotland, the well-spring of Presbyterianism; that they will someday be recognized with a doctorate; that they will have a responsible congregation; will get to visit the Holy Land, be the moderator of their presbytery, synod and of the general assembly.

REV. R. GAGE LLOYD

Austin College honored R. Gage Lloyd with a Doctor of Divinity degree in 1951, the year that his daughter, Rebecca, was graduated at the age of 18 from that institution. He has been moderator of his presbytery and last year was nominated as moderator for the synod.
But when a group of his members presented him with a trip to the Holy Land — well, his cup was filled to the brim.
Dr. Lloyd is a native of Panama — Panama, Texas, that is. You won't find it on the maps today, but when he was born in 1908 and his father was homesteading, Panama straddled the Reeves and Pecos lines. He grew up in West Texas under the firm discipline of an austere country and the understanding hand of a minister father, the Rev. J. F. Lloyd, who was the first minister of the M. I. S. church. He also was an organizer of the El Paso Presbytery and a later a pastor of the Coahoma church.
In fact, it was during his father's ministry at Coahoma (they lived at Balmorhea) that young Gage was taken under the care of the El Paso ministry in the autumn of 1924. Gage got on the trail at Coahoma to go to Austin College in Sherman.
"It was the last time I ever saw my father alive," he said. The older Rev. Lloyd has taken with pneumonia some months later and died.

Earning his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1927, the young minister took a step that ultimately shaped his ministry. He had felt the call to preach since he was a junior in high school. He also had felt that Irene Wilson was destined to be Mrs. Lloyd from the time he met her. They were married on Aug. 31, 1927.
"To support a wife and to create a reserve for studying in the seminary, he took the superintendency of schools at Saragosa, in southern Reeves County, and received $150 per month plus a house. In the spring of 1928, the board offered him $2,000 if he would stay the next year. That was pretty big money for a young man in those days.

"Let's put in one more year," he suggested to Mrs. Lloyd.
"Listen," she replied. "I married a preacher, not a teacher."
So it was that in September of 1928 he was in Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. He was ordained July 5, 1931, taking up the ministry full time. The following year he completed his work on his Master of Arts degree at the University of Texas.
His first charge was at Calvert and Hempstead in the Brazos Presbytery. Calvert had about 78 members, Hempstead 50, and he would preach alternate Sundays in the churches. It was during his four years there that he was seriously considered for a larger church but the call went to another man.
"I went alone into the sanctuary of that little church and prayed: 'O God, if I am destined to a life of mediocrity, let me be happy in it,'" he recalled. A friend, in whom he had confided, this incident, observed dryly: "Well, God certainly answered that prayer."

It turned out to be a blessing; and everytime he has been inclined to go one way and the call came from another direction, it turned out that God was simply saving him from heartache and tribulation.
From Calvert the Rev. Lloyd went to Crockett for 11 years, and thence to Big Spring on Sept. 1, 1946. His ministry here has been most fruitful, for the membership has grown from around 300 to more than 600 (and in the meantime the church has mothered the St. Paul's Presbyterian Church which now has around 115 members.) The budget had been increased from $21,000 to $45,000. One of his richest rewards has been in the growth of a men's Sunday School class which has grown from nine elderly men to an average attendance of 50 with a peak of 140.
Dr. Lloyd has served his denomination well, having been chairman of its executive committee on church extension. He also led the commission which recommended purchase of the Mo Ranch, which has become an encampment area for conferences. He took a leading role in its purchase for $750,000. He served 10 years on the board at Austin College. He was instrumental in commemorating the Golden Anniversary of the El Paso Presbytery here last spring. Dr. Lloyd also is listed in Who's Who in the Southwest. He and Mrs. Lloyd have two children, Rebecca (now Mrs. W. W. Harrell Jr. of Morristown, Tenn.) and R. Gage II. They have a granddaughter, Laura Harrell.

Money has never cut a figure in Dr. Lloyd's ministry. In fact, he gave up a business he had developed to the point it was netting him $5,000 a year when he came to Big Spring. This venture (which folded when it got out from under his watchful eye) was so successful that a big feed mill offered to back him to the extent of $50,000 if he would enter the feed business full time.
"Tempt me? No indeed, I never gave it a moment's pause," said Dr. Lloyd. "Preaching is what God called me to do."

Forest Fires In New Mexico Under Control

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., June 30 (AP)—Forest firefighters who have had the weather as their almost overwhelming enemy for weeks had reason to hope today it will soon become their friend.
The thousand-odd men scattered over New Mexico and Arizona reported they had controlled virtually all the 150 fires that made this fire season "the worst on record" in the Southwestern region.
Crews had chipped and dug their way to that advantage before only to have more fires burst into life and produce a new emergency.
Rains Thursday and Friday indicated the rainy season had come to supplant the fire season.
Norman Wooden of the Forest Service said things looked so good that troops in Arizona, were sent back to their stations.
They had been called in to relieve men fighting the Graham Mountain and Douglas fires in southeast Arizona.
Other areas where fighters reported the fires either controlled or of negligible danger include northern New Mexico where the Castilla fire consumed 2,500 acres, the Cocino and Sitgreaves forests of east-central Arizona and the Gila forest of Arizona and New Mexico.

Carpenters Want Wake Hike Talks

Carpenters in Big Spring have asked the negotiation committee of the West Texas Chapter of Associated General Contractors for talks relative to a wage increase. No date had been set for the meeting, according to the AGC. The agreement with local No. 1634 was signed here Aug. 4, 1955, and calls for $2.375 per hour.

Attends Symposium

Joe E. Davis Jr., 1600 State, was among the 65 persons who took part in the two-day University of Texas symposium on the languages and literature of Spanish America and Brazil. The affair was sponsored in Austin by the university's division of Latin American Romance Languages department. There were participants from many states and several countries.

Wide Interest In 'Soil Bank' Shown At Farmers' Meeting

Continued dry weather and the expiration of a safe time to plant cotton is stirring increased interest in the provisions of the "soil bank" program. This was clearly indicated at a meeting of farmers and landowners Friday night at the Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

The meeting was jointly arranged by the officials of the Agricultural Stabilization Committee, functioning agent for the soil bank plan; and Jimmy Taylor, county farm agent. Its purpose was to provide farmers and landowners with a complete picture of just what is planned by the soil bank program; how it is to work and the probable benefits it will offer to the farmer.

It was estimated that nearly 200 farmers and landowners of the county were present. Taylor served as moderator for the meeting. Gabe Hammack, ASC county manager, and members of his staff formed a panel to discuss all phases of the program.

The average payment to landowners who enroll in the program and who have not planted their lands at all this year was announced at $18.75 per acre. It was emphasized that this is the average figure for all of the county; there will be some variation from that amount in cases handled determined by the land, conditions which prevail and general regulations of the program.

For land which has already been planted this year and where some stand of cotton has been achieved, the average price paid to participants in the program will be $6 an acre. However, it was emphasized that this, too, is an average figure and is not a fixed amount to be paid for all such land involved in the operation. There will be variations up or down in many instances determined by circumstances.

Effective Monday, the ASC will begin its task of accepting applications for participation in the Soil Bank. The office has been busy for 10 days preparing for the rush which it believes will develop. Staff of the office has been briefed in all steps in connection with the filing of applications and will be ready for all landowners and farmers on Monday.

Deadline for signing up for the program is July 20. Contracts signed by farmers with the soil bank program will be binding and there is no withdrawing after the application is approved.

The contracts are for the remainder of the current year. Legislation creating the soil bank was so late in completing its journey through Congress that an earlier initiation of its program was impossible. It is planned to begin work on the same program in 1957 in the month of February.

GOP Keynote To Stress Curbing Of Federal Power

WASHINGTON, June 30 — Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington said today his Republican National Convention keynote theme will stress the contention that the GOP has reversed a "very dangerous trend" toward centralization of government.

Langlie conferred with White House officials here after presiding as chairman at the 48th annual Governors' Conference in Atlantic City, N.J.

The Washington governor said that while he had been furnished with a great deal of information by President Eisenhower's staff, he does not expect any White House speechwriting help.

Langlie made it clear he entertains no doubts that Eisenhower will run again, despite the President's continued silence after his intestinal operation. He said his keynote address will be keyed to the accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration and what he believes is the necessity of continuing Eisenhower policies.

"I think we Republicans have reversed a very dangerous trend in government toward the centralization of power in Washington," he said. "We have raised the morale of the country. We have helped give it peace and prosperity."

Langlie was chosen as keynote for the August San Francisco convention in what admittedly was an effort by the GOP Arrangements Committee to put party emphasis on the drive to regain control of Congress from the Democrats.

As a candidate for the Senate against Democratic Sen. Warren Magnuson, Langlie said he intends to campaign on the same kind of platform he will recommend to the convention.

County To Hear From Engineers On Airport Work

County Commissioners Court is scheduled to hear a progress report on Monday from the two engineering firms it has employed to make preliminary studies of a county airport proposal.

Other than for the reports from Gene Thompson, civil engineer, and Bill French, architect, the commissioners said that the Monday morning meeting will be devoted to the usual routine run of first of the month detail.

Marriage Licenses Go Up, Clerk Finds Fee Too Low

Hey, bub!—You with the stars in your eyes? Be advised that it is costing you a little more now to buy a marriage license than it did the forepart of the month.

Fifty cents more, to be exact. First happy couple to get "teched" for the extra half buck for their permit to marry happened to be Albert Duane Scott and his bride-elect, Barbara Ann Barnett.

It all came out of the diligent activities of the team of high powered auditors who have been going over the records of the various county offices like sheep in a vegetable patch.

In checking the marriage license operations in the office of Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, one of these bright young men came up with a question: "How come you have been charging $2 for marriage licenses instead of $2.50?"

Mrs. Petty said that she had always charged $2. "Well," explained the man with the sharp pencil, "you should be charging $2.50."

He thumbed through the book and came up with the law to prove his point. Seems the legislature added a 50-cent additional fee a couple of years or so ago and no one ever got around to pointing it out to Mrs. Petty's office about it.

So, effective with the announcement by the auditor last week, the price tag on marriage licenses issued in Howard County jumped from $2 to $2.50.

Prospective bridegrooms contacted about the matter seemed to be generally of the same opinion: "So what? Two dollars—or $2.50—who cares?"

nothing much grows. In fact, I've seen nothing but a desert from the time I left the Rio Grande in New Mexico. Farming communities are widely scattered and then are found only in the valleys. Occasionally you'll see an isolated farm right out in the middle of the desert where some farmer has found underground water, but for long miles in between there is nothing.

During the daytime the desert is hot and still and dead, but driving along in the early morning there is a lot of wildlife. Early yesterday morning in driving up from Needles, Calif., I saw quail and dove and dozens of kangaroo rats along the highway, and at one place had to swerve the car to keep from running over a badger.

The changing pattern of vegetation on the desert is a never-ending thing. Few of the plants bear flowers at this time of year, but I went through one stretch of country where there was a beautiful blue shrub of some sort. It looked like someone had glued bouquets of bluebonnets onto a willow bush. These blue bushes were widely scattered and finally I stopped seeing them altogether.

Today I shove off for Utah and Mormon country, and maybe it's just as well. Those people don't believe in gambling so I won't be tempted again. About the only vice they have is collecting extra wives, and that's one sport in which a stranger is not invited to buy a stack of chips.

There are two main parts of Las Vegas—the "downtown" gambling houses and the "Strip," the downtown places offering gambling, drink and food. The "Strip" is a group of a dozen or so huge hotel-casino buildings, with some of the main buildings, large as a city block. Each one of these places must have cost millions of dollars and they are supposed to be the most luxurious in the world. They have hundreds of rooms for tourists, plus the swill cafes, the big gambling rooms and bars and during the afternoon and night each one has a bevy of entertainers.

Last night they were featuring the Ink Spots, Ken Murray, Joe E. Brown and Gloria DeHaven. Some of the entertainers make more while here than they do in Hollywood.

Most of the gambling places, or at least the houses on the Strip, belong to bigtime gangsters. Last night there were several of the sharp-eyed owners and managers circulating around, watching the crowd and checking up on the tables to see if the house men were coming enough money.

One man was talking heatedly to another, and I edged closer to sort of eavesdrop. He was saying that one certain dealer would have to be fired. He had let a man walk away with fifty dollars, and at the moment a little woman almost old enough to be a great-grandmother was over three hundred dollars ahead.

I then strolled over to the table where a crowd was gathered, and watched grandma roll the dice. She was putting down ten dollars and throw and riding a streak of luck. She would flick her wrist like a star baseball pitcher, hurl the dice against the far end of the table and yell, "Cam on, bones, granny needs a new Cadillac!"

A young man with her, evidently her son, kept trying to get her to quit while she was ahead. Finally when she missed a couple of throws, she gathered up her money, most of it in silver dollars, and stuffed it into a bag nearly as big as a suitcase. She announced to the crowd that she was over $300 ahead, then she and the young man left the building, much to the disgust of the managers.

According to the rules of psychology, though, she'll go back today or tomorrow and try to run that 300 bucks up to 5,000. The winners are just as dissatisfied as the losers and never know a moment's peace until they get back to the gambling tables.

This is not my opinion but came from a friendly barber who clipped the twice, once when I sat down in his chair and again when I paid him $1.75 for a haircut.

"No one quits ahead of the game, Mac," said the friendly barber. "Now this old dame will get to tossing in her sleep and blaming herself for quitting on a streak of hot luck. Then next day she'll go back to see if the streak is still with her. This time the percentage will start working and the old lady will lose everything but her shoes."

"There's a lot of crooks in this town," continued the friendly barber, as he brushed three hairs off my shoulder and held out his hand for a 25 cent tip, "and the best way is to be on guard all the time. If you feel that gambling fever start boiling your blood, just get in your car and take off for somewhere."

Maybe the barber was right, I never was a gambler, though last night I did monkey around the slot machines a little. However, nine dollars is not much and maybe a night in Las Vegas was worth it.

Aside from the gambling places, Las Vegas is just a pile of plain buildings on a dreary plain. There is very little grass, no trees outside of town and few inside, and the land is a barren wasteland where

Record Number Plead Guilty In 118th Court

Eight defendants, indicted by the Howard County grand jury last week, pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Friday afternoon.

These wound up a lengthy session of the district court devoted to the hearing of guilty pleas which saw 14 such cases handled at the forenoon session. The eight brought to 22 the total pleas of guilty resulting from the work of the grand jury earlier in the week.

The grand jury returned 35 indictments. Counting out the 21 who pleaded guilty, one indictment which is to be dismissed and another which is to be transferred to the county court, only 12 cases of the original list remain on the docket for ultimate trial.

The 21 pleas of guilty at one session was said to be a record number for this county. Friday afternoon, the following cases were heard by Judge Charles Sullivan.

Sam Jefferson Peters, DWI second offense, $400 fine and 10 days in jail. He was credited with seven days already served.

C. W. Blagg, forgery, two years in state penitentiary, with credit for 15 days jail time here.

Lowell V. Tollet, forgery, two years in state penitentiary.

Robert D. Richards, forgery, two years suspended sentence.

James Chester Blackmon, forgery, two years suspended sentence.

Raymond Franklin Barron, burglary, four years in prison with credit for 30 days served in the county jail.

Herbert Coon, Jr., forgery, two years in state prison.

Left of the original list of 35 indictments are the following cases: Jim Jack Blackshear, burglary; Alberto Gomez, burglary; Thomas Hernandez Lares, burglary; Felix Dominguez, burglary; Merrill D. Adams, DWI second offense; Joe A. Flippen, DWI second offense; William Gerald Cubbirth, DWI second offense; Edwin Emmitt Hall, DWI, second offense; Billy Joe Wade, forgery, two counts; John J. Self, forgery, two counts.

Judge Sullivan has scheduled a criminal docket for the third week of jury session in July. No announcement of cases scheduled for trial at that time has been made.

CO-STARS IN 'MEET ME IN LAS VEGAS'

Fabulous Las Vegas provides the colorful background for a song-and-dance-studded romance between Dan Dailey and Cyd Charisse in "Meet Me in Las Vegas," M-G-M's big 1956 CinemaScope musical. The new picture also offers a Hit Parade of guest stars, including Jerry Colonna, Paul Henreid, Lena Horne, Frankie Laine and the sensational Japanese singing discory, Mitoko Sawamura.

STARTS TODAY AT THE RITZ THEATRE

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 30—This is one town where a man could lose his cotton crop money at a single gambling table, or maybe even at a slot machine if he was a Howard County farmer.

When Las Vegas boasts that it's the biggest gambling center in the world, it's not just a Chamber of Commerce brag.

The crowd that runs the gambling houses cater to a more family-like type of gambling. By making everything reasonable, the food and drinks and having to cover charge, they induce thousands of people into the joints every day.

Maybe some of them just go in to look things over, but the clackety-clack of hundreds of slot machines and seeing all that big money change hands at the dice or roulette tables soon gets a guy in the mood to risk maybe fifty cents if he wins, he gets hogwash and wants to break the house, and if he loses he'll empty his wallet trying to get that four bits back.

There are two main parts of Las Vegas—the "downtown" gambling houses and the "Strip," the downtown places offering gambling, drink and food. The "Strip" is a group of a dozen or so huge hotel-casino buildings, with some of the main buildings, large as a city block. Each one of these places must have cost millions of dollars and they are supposed to be the most luxurious in the world.

They have hundreds of rooms for tourists, plus the swill cafes, the big gambling rooms and bars and during the afternoon and night each one has a bevy of entertainers.

Last night they were featuring the Ink Spots, Ken Murray, Joe E. Brown and Gloria DeHaven. Some of the entertainers make more while here than they do in Hollywood.

Most of the gambling places, or at least the houses on the Strip, belong to bigtime gangsters. Last night there were several of the sharp-eyed owners and managers circulating around, watching the crowd and checking up on the tables to see if the house men were coming enough money.

One man was talking heatedly to another, and I edged closer to sort of eavesdrop. He was saying that one certain dealer would have to be fired. He had let a man walk away with fifty dollars, and at the moment a little woman almost old enough to be a great-grandmother was over three hundred dollars ahead.

I then strolled over to the table where a crowd was gathered, and watched grandma roll the dice. She was putting down ten dollars and throw and riding a streak of luck. She would flick her wrist like a star baseball pitcher, hurl the dice against the far end of the table and yell, "Cam on, bones, granny needs a new Cadillac!"

A young man with her, evidently her son, kept trying to get her to quit while she was ahead. Finally when she missed a couple of throws, she gathered up her money, most of it in silver dollars, and stuffed it into a bag nearly as big as a suitcase. She announced to the crowd that she was over $300 ahead, then she and the young man left the building, much to the disgust of the managers.

According to the rules of psychology, though, she'll go back today or tomorrow and try to run that 300 bucks up to 5,000. The winners are just as dissatisfied as the losers and never know a moment's peace until they get back to the gambling tables.

This is not my opinion but came from a friendly barber who clipped the twice, once when I sat down in his chair and again when I paid him $1.75 for a haircut.

Lion Blocks Driveway

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"There's a lion blocking my driveway and I can't get to work," Walter Ekola complained to police.

A policeman went to Ekola's house and found 25-year-old John Shinners and his 9-month-old lion cub King waking from a sleep in the front seat of Shinners' car. The car was parked in Ekola's driveway.

Shinners explained he had lost his way to a Shrine circus. So, he said, he and King just bunked down to await daylight.

Shinners said he and his lion "live no place special" since the Los Angeles Animal Regulation Commission recently asked him to keep the cub out of the city.

The policemen led Shinners and King to the circus grounds. Ekola went to work.

Ten Thousand Times

Hello from the 10,000th telephone in Big Spring is voiced by Dow O. Duckworth while Mrs. Duckworth listens in. Travis Crow, installer, left, and Cliff Fisher, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, smile broadly as they catch at least one end of Duckworth's call to his family in Gainesville. The milestone was reached with the installation at the new Duckworth home in east Big Spring on Friday afternoon. (Keith McMillin Photo.)

'SOLID, STEADY GROWTH'

10,000th 'Phone Installed On Eve Of AMherst Inauguration

Remember AMherst — remember 10,000. In case you want to recall when Big Spring got its 10,000th telephone, remember when the exchange went on the AMherst designation. Officially, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company installed the 10,000th instrument in Big Spring on Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dow D. Duckworth, 1735 Purdue. The switch to the AMherst call became effective at 1:01 a.m. today. The Duckworths, who came here from Fairbanks, Ala., where she was a registered nurse in a private hospital, have purchased their home on Purdue. He is a disabled veteran and she is a surgical nurse at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Cliff Fisher, manager, paid the respects of the telephone company on the occasion of the special milestone, presenting the Duckworths with a bouquet of red Venus carnations and roses. Mrs. Duckworth also got to call her family in St. Louis "on the house." Duckworth was in the Air Force in 1945-56, and he was disabled in a car mishap. He and Mrs. Duckworth were married seven years ago, and before going to Alaska she was a nurse in the McKinney VA Hospital. He has become an expert guitarist. Coincidental with the installation, W. C. Sluder, wire chief for the phone company, discovered that he and Duckworth had gone to high school together in Gainesville. They had not seen each other since. "Naturally we are happy to announce this milestone," said Fisher. "It reflects a stepped-up and steady growth. In the 10 years from 1940-50, we doubled the number of telephones; now in the intervening six years we have again doubled. Big Spring can be proud of its record of solid, steady growth." When Travis Crow, the installer, tied in the 10,000th phone at 1 p.m.

Friday, the system was a far cry from the tiny exchange Bell had purchased from C. F. Alderman back in 1919. Then there were less than 700 telephones and a staff of a few people. By the years here is the way the phone connections have grown:

Year	Phones
1920	692
1925	804
1930	1,878
1935	1,679
1940	2,460
1945	3,236
1950	5,325
1955	9,030
1956 (June 30)	10,000

The system has experienced accelerated growth since it went dial on June 28, 1953. Today the payroll for 167 employees is $414,000 per annum. On an average, 48,826 local calls are handled daily on the exchange, peaking at the rate of 4,250 per hour. Long distance calls average 2,081 per day.

Young Princess May Rule Holland

AMSTERDAM, June 30 (AP) — A rosy-cheeked teen-age princess, at times smiling through tears, today began her official duties as Holland's future queen. This came at a time when a marital rift was said to be rocking the royal house. Even as 19-year-old Princess Beatrix was formally introduced to Amsterdam's city fathers, a three-man commission of Dutch elder statesmen was under royal appointment to smooth out difficulties concerning her parents, Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard. Describing themselves as "disappointed and hurt" at publication of stories abroad of a rift between them, the couple jointly asked yesterday for help and advice of the three-man commission. One of the commission members made it clear privately that the purpose of their task was to get the couple to smooth out their difficulties and thus end Holland's first public royal family crisis. He said it was hoped a solution could be found, but he added he could not deny that if a reconciliation is not reached abdication could result. In that case, Princess Beatrix would reign in place of her mother. This is something the young princess does not want to do — at least now. When she became a member of the State Council in February she said: "I shall prepare myself for the task (of becoming queen) which I hope and trust, lies before me in a yet far distant future." There was guarded speculation that the couple might even consider separation or divorce in case of an abdication. But in Holland, where the royal family represents the best in religious life, that possibility seemed the most remote. Top persons in both the government and the royal house told foreign correspondents that the Queen and the German-born Prince were "poles apart" and had been so for years. Three weeks ago the German magazine Der Spiegel told of a rift between the two over the position of Miss Greet Hofmans, a 61-year-old faith healer. Both the Queen and the Prince called in the faith healer in 1948 at a time of desperation after their youngest daughter, Princess Maria Christina, now 9, was born partially blind. Verdict Given In Dual Deaths

COLORADO CITY, June 30 — Justice of the Peace G. C. Lemons reported a verdict Saturday morning in the double shooting of Mr. and Mrs. James Ables. The Colorado City pair were found dead 12 miles northwest of Colorado City, early this month. Lemons' verdict cited probable murder and suicide, stating that Mrs. Ables came to her death as the result of gunshot wounds "probably from a .22 calibre pistol in the hands of James Autrey Ables, one of which entered the skull and was the immediate cause of death." With regard to Ables, the justice of the peace ruled that the cause of death was a gunshot wound, "probably self-inflicted." Mr. and Mrs. Ables were found on June 12 by Gene Miles. Ables' body was at the side of a pickup truck, with a .22 calibre pistol at his feet. Mrs. Ables lay inside the pickup, slumped away from the driver's seat.

Testing Underway In Three Area Ventures

Tests were under way Saturday on three ventures being drilled by Phillips Petroleum Company in the Big Spring Fossilman field north-east of here.

Phillips No. 1-A Othello, 855 from the south and 1,986 from the west lines of section 1-32-1n, T&P, on the northwest side of the pool, acidized with 5,000 gallons in the upper Strawn with 5,000 gallons and swabbed. Saturday it kicked off and was flowing back on the treating fluids. No results are yet available. Earlier this test had acidized in the Fusselman and recovered 183 barrels of oil and 8.28 barrels of water in 24 hours above 9,875. Test operator plugged back to 9,975 to test the upper Strawn.

Phillips No. 2-B Johnie (Walker), 2,006 from the south and 660 from the west lines of section 7-31-1n, T&P, recovered all fish after a week of probing to recover a tool lost in a previous test. Operator was running a drillstem test from 8,715-8,908 Saturday.

Four County Wells File Completions

Four completions, three of them in the Howard-Glasscock pool and one in the Snyder field, have been reported for Howard County.

The Snyder pool venture, Fleming Oil No. 2-D Snyder, 330 from the south and west lines of section 28-30-1s, T&P, drilled to 2,901 feet, set the 7-inch casing at 2,530 and pumped 99 barrels of 28.9 gravity oil in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 135-1, and the elevation was 2,259.

A. J. McAllen No. 5 H. L. Clay, 2,310 from the south and 330 from the west lines of section 126-29, W&NW, bottomed at 1,964 and set 7-in. casing at 1,981. Top of pay was 1,738 on an elevation of 2,646.

Mitchell Gets New Producer

Mitchell County has gained a shallow producer in the Sharrow Ridge 1700 field with test of the Hamilton, Jordan and Blackwell No. 2 Leslie Hamilton.

In 24 hours of pumping it made 131 barrels of 31-gravity oil from open hole. Gas-oil ratio was too small to measure. Operator and treated with 10,000 gallons frac material. No other details of this venture, in Smith subdivision No. 27-15-27, T&P, were available.

Continental No. 40-W. R. Settles is being drilled as a Howard-Glasscock operation 990 feet from the south and 1,850 feet from the east lines of section 134-29, W&NW, set the 7-in. string at 1,962 and bottomed at 1,956. They pay was topped at 1,755 on an elevation of 2,653.

Conoco Announces Two Scholarships

The Odessa and Fort Stockton students are among 11 winners selected from applicants representing 15 states and Canada. Robert Cheek is the son of Morris E. Cheek, production foreman for Conoco at Odessa. Audrey Arnold is the daughter of Chas. G. Arnold of Fort Stockton, permitman-surveyor in the company's geophysical section.

Irion Wildcat

A wildcat operation has been started in Irion County and will be the Virgil Lathan, et al. of San Angelo No. 2 J. H. Clark. Location is 330 from the south and west lines of section 13-1, H&TC, but no other details were available immediately.

GULF COMPLIES

Importers Asked To Cut Receipts

By MAX R. SKELTON. HOUSTON, June 30 (AP)—Foreign oil importers have been asked to reduce receipts the next three months by four per cent.

Defense Mobilizer Flemming, in his third plea in eight months for voluntary action, warned importers this week that government action may be necessary unless recommended levels are met.

Shortly after Flemming wrote importers, the American Petroleum Institute said imports reached a record 1,651,000 barrels daily the week ending June 22.

Flemming's letter is aimed primarily, however, at reduction of imports from the Middle East. Oil from most other major areas currently are exempt from efforts to limit foreign oil imports.

COSDEN'S RICKER RANCH TEST NEARS ELLENBURGER

Cosden Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Ricker Ranch, deep explorer in northern Reagan County was down, to 10,910 feet Saturday, taking a drillstem test. The interval had not been announced.

Pipe Pinch Is Felt More Keenly Here

It's a long way from West Texas to the steel mills of the East, but the steel shutdown is pinching painfully here.

Unless some settlement is reached in the steel dispute quickly, drilling activities in the Permian Basin are due to be curtailed sharply.

For five months now the shadow of a steel strike has been lengthening progressively over the oil areas. Some majors have been laying in supplies, and wildcat suppliers have been grabbing off casing and tubing so that regular channels have been diminishing in ability to deliver.

Already, small operators and even larger independents have had to go on the twilight if not the black market to supply all their pipe needs. Cylinder goods have been available, but for a substantially higher price.

Now, with the steel furnaces banked and prospects dim for an immediate settlement, the pipe market suddenly has become tighter than ever.

A year ago a similar situation developed, but once an agreement was reached the strike lasted only 12 hours.

Until now an alternate supply of pipe has been available to all who wished to use it—that from foreign mills, principally Japan and Belgium. But now even the

Howard County Gains Sharply In Latest Rotary Rig Count

Lea County, N.M., became the most active Permian Basin county in rotary rig operations during the past week.

The semi-monthly survey conducted by the Reed Roller Bit Company listed Lea with 96 units on that day, 23 more than second place Andrews County, where 73 rigs were going.

On June 10, Lea and Andrews were in a deadlock for first place with 91 rigs each. The latest Lea total of 96 marks a new high in 1956 for the county. Lea's previous high was 89 on April 10.

Although Lea County became the individual county leader for the Permian Basin, the most active area remained in West Texas in the region covered by Ector, Andrews and Gaines counties. These three, with a square-mile area less than that of Lea County, accounted for 142 of the active rotary rigs in the Permian Basin on June 25, when Reed reported 600 rotary tables turning.

Other counties with 20 or more rigs on June 10, included: Howard 31, and Nolan 20.

The overall Basin total of 600 units, was nine rigs short of the June 10 tally of 609.

The Reed survey takes in the following counties, with the last two tallies listed.

The report, by counties, showed the following number of rigs drilling on June 25 (figures for June 10 shown in parentheses):

Andrews 73 (91), Borden 18 (17), Brewster 1 (1), Cochran 0 (0), Coke 3 (4), Chaves 5 (5), Comcho 0 (0), Crane 55 (51), Crockett 12

According to the weekly summary by the Hughes Tool Company, released through the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, the total number of rigs turning in the United States and Canada on June 25 was 2,994. This was 68 less than for the previous week. The figure compares with 2,893 a month ago and 2,908 in the comparable week of 1955.

The United States had 2,742 rigs going, a decline of 67 for the week. Texas, with 1,691 rigs, lost six for the week. Most of the loss came from West Texas and South Louisiana (down 21 each), and Illinois (down 15). Canada was static with 252 rigs, a gain of nine. The Texas Gulf Coast increased 21 rigs and Kansas gained 11.

CASE REOPENED

Phillips Contends Rate On Gas Actually Too Low

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The Phillips Gas Rate case which led to the Supreme Court's natural gas ruling two years ago and to controversial legislation entered a second phase this week.

The case was reopened at a Federal Power Commission hearing called to determine whether Phillips' rates on gas sales to interstate pipelines are just and reasonable.

Examiner Joseph Zwerdling heard a day and a half of FPC staff testimony, then recessed the hearing to Oct. 1 to permit company attorneys to submit FPC exhibits and prepare cross-examination. The exhibits dealt with an FPC investigation of the company's gas sales.

The first phase dealt with whether the gas sales were subject to FPC jurisdiction under the Natural Gas Act of 1938.

In 1951 the commission held 4-1 that it had no authority over the company's gas sales because it is an independent producer of natural gas.

In June, 1954, the Supreme Court reversed the FPC, ruling that the FPC did have "jurisdiction over the rates of all wholesalers of natural gas in interstate commerce, whether by a pipeline company or not, and whether occurring before, during or after transmission by an interstate pipeline company."

After a long and bitter fight, out of which grew the Senate investigation of lobbying activities, Congress this year sent President Eisenhower a bill specifically exempting independent gas producers from direct federal regulation. The President vetoed the bill.

In the reopened hearing, H. K. Hudson, attorney for Phillips, said the company would show its rates for gas sold in interstate commerce "are not only not excessive—in fact, we think we will demonstrate that some of our rates are unreasonably low."

Phillips Gas goes to Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Colorado and other states.

Attorneys for intervenors from gas consuming states and pipeline companies said they would reserve their statements of position in the case until the FPC staff and Phillips complete their evidence.

The commission said the FPC staff hopes by Sept. 15 to work out data for a proposed rate pattern for study.

Among questions involved are how much revenue is needed for a fair rate of return and whether rates should be applied system-wide or by areas.

Magnolia Posts Crude Oil Hike

DALLAS, June 30 (AP)—Magnolia Petroleum Co. posted a price increase today in all fields producing Mirando and O'Hern type crude of 15 cents a barrel.

The new price will be $3.13 per barrel for 29-degree and above gravity with a two cents a barrel differential down to $3.01 per barrel for below 24-degree gravity crude.

The commission said the FPC staff hopes by Sept. 15 to work out data for a proposed rate pattern for study.

Among questions involved are how much revenue is needed for a fair rate of return and whether rates should be applied system-wide or by areas.

July Bills To Show New 'Phone Rates

It'll take a dime today to place a local telephone call from a pay station. Other increased telephone rates will be reflected in bills to be received by Big Spring customers of Southwestern Bell about July 10. The higher phone charges authorized recently by the city commission became effective 1 1/2 months ago. On residential service, the rates are about 25 per cent higher, while business rates are up approximately 22 per cent.

Unlike most other utilities and services, telephone service is paid for in advance. Consequently, the new rates will be shown on the bills received in July. For most Big Springers bills will go out about July 10, Cliff Fisher, local manager for the Bell system, said Saturday. Typical of the rate hikes are the increases from $4.25 to $5 for one-party residential telephones and $9 to $11 for one-party business telephones.

'Gold Mine' In Basement Of State Capitol 'Mapped'

LUBBOCK, June 30—A Texas Tech researcher has drawn the first crude map ever made of a Texas "gold mine" worth an estimated $15 to $30 million. And theoretically it's worth much more as a means by which Texans can check on the activities of their state government, according to the researcher, Dr. Seymour Vaughn Connor.

The "mine" is a 25,000-cubic-foot mountain of paper in the State Capitol basement—officially the Archives of Texas. Dr. Connor estimates more than 3,000,000 pieces are in the uncatalogued mass, many of them documents which were placed in envelopes back in the Republic's days, tied with a ribbon, and never opened since. No one knows for sure what is in the unopened packets.

Known documents include the Texas Declaration of Independence, Texas Constitution, and treaties of the Texas Republic with France and Great Britain. Dr. Connor was state archivist from 1953 until 1955 when he joined the Tech faculty as associate professor of history and southwest collection archivist. When Dr. Connor took over in the capital basement, he found that no one had ever made any written record of the great mass of public documents. He immediately undertook a rough cataloging of the stacks of paper. Since coming to Tech he has continued to work in his off-hours, compiling the data from his two years of cataloging there. The first results have been published by the Texas Library and Historical Commission in a 91-page book, "A Preliminary Guide to the Archives of Texas." Dr. Connor pointed out that most non-current Texas public records are kept in the archives or the records division, both state libraries. The general land office has kept its own records. The records division has maintained good order among the numerous 20th Century documents transferred to its custody, Dr. Connor said. He estimated at least 10 more years of research are needed to put the state archives in workable order.

Guard Tongue, Officers Told

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining has cautioned all Air Force officers against "disparagement" of the Army or Navy in any speeches or statements they make.

The guideline for conduct in these days of interservice rivalry was established by the chief of staff in a message to all commanders and information officers. "Some service enthusiasts," Twining wrote, "mistakenly believe that to 'sell' their own service they must deny the importance and capabilities of other elements of the national security program. This belief is squarely in opposition to the facts."

"Most particularly it collides with the record of events—with the history of public support of the military establishment in our democracy. "Public reaction to disparagement of the one U. S. military service by another has consistently been to the discredit of both. "The record clearly shows that when public support of national security programs in general declines, public support of each element of our national security establishment likewise declines."

NEW TAXES Gasoline, Tire Costs Up Today

Gasoline and tires cost more today. A penny-a-gallon hike in the federal gasoline tax and a three cents per pound increase in the U. S. tax on rubber became effective at 12:01 a. m. today. Provision for the tax jumps were in the $33 billion highway construction bill signed by the President Friday.

Fuel and tire dealers here said Saturday they planned to start passing the increased levies on to their customers this morning. The average passenger car tire will cost about 65 or 70 cents more than it did Saturday and a typical truck casing will be up about $3. One dealer said the three-cent per pound increase in the tire tax will make the 6.70x15 auto tire (most widely used) cost about 67 cents more. The 10-00x20 truck tire price will increase by approximately $3.

Most service station operators said they will add a penny to the price of a gallon of gasoline. For most of the "major" outlets, high test gasoline will now be selling for 31.9 cents and "regular" grades will range from 29.5 to 29.9 cents a gallon. New prices at independent stations will be 26.9 and 27.9 for the two grades in most instances, distributors said. The highway bill also hikes the manufacturers' excise on trucks, buses and trailers from eight to 10 per cent and truckers must now pay $1.50 a year per 1,000 pounds on any truck weighing 26,000 pounds or more. The tax increases are effective until 1957 and will bring in an estimated $14.8 billion. Added to the present motoring taxes amounting to about $23.5 billion for the period, the revenue will provide $38.5 billion for the federal road building program. The federal funds will be distributed to the states on the basis of $90 for every $10 put up by the states on a 41,000-mile interstate freeway system and on a 50-50 basis for other road construction in which the federal government participates. Texas expects to receive about $151 million a year for the next two years.

Topeka Man Is Named Bishop

NEW ORLEANS, June 30 (AP)—The South Central Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church elected the Rev. Eugene Frank of Topeka, Kan., today to its seven-man college of bishops.

The Rev. Frank's election came on the eighth ballot. He fills a vacancy caused by the retirement of Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis. Mr. Frank, 45, will be consecrated a bishop tomorrow night. He is pastor of the First Methodist Church in Topeka. On the eighth ballot, he received 255 votes. The votes of the other ministers and the total vote were not announced. The Rev. Frank's election had been assured after the seventh ballot when the Rev. Aubrey Walton of Little Rock, and the Rev. Eugene Slater of Amarillo, next in the voting during seven ballots, withdrew.

Ford Foundation Shows Assets Of 580 Millions

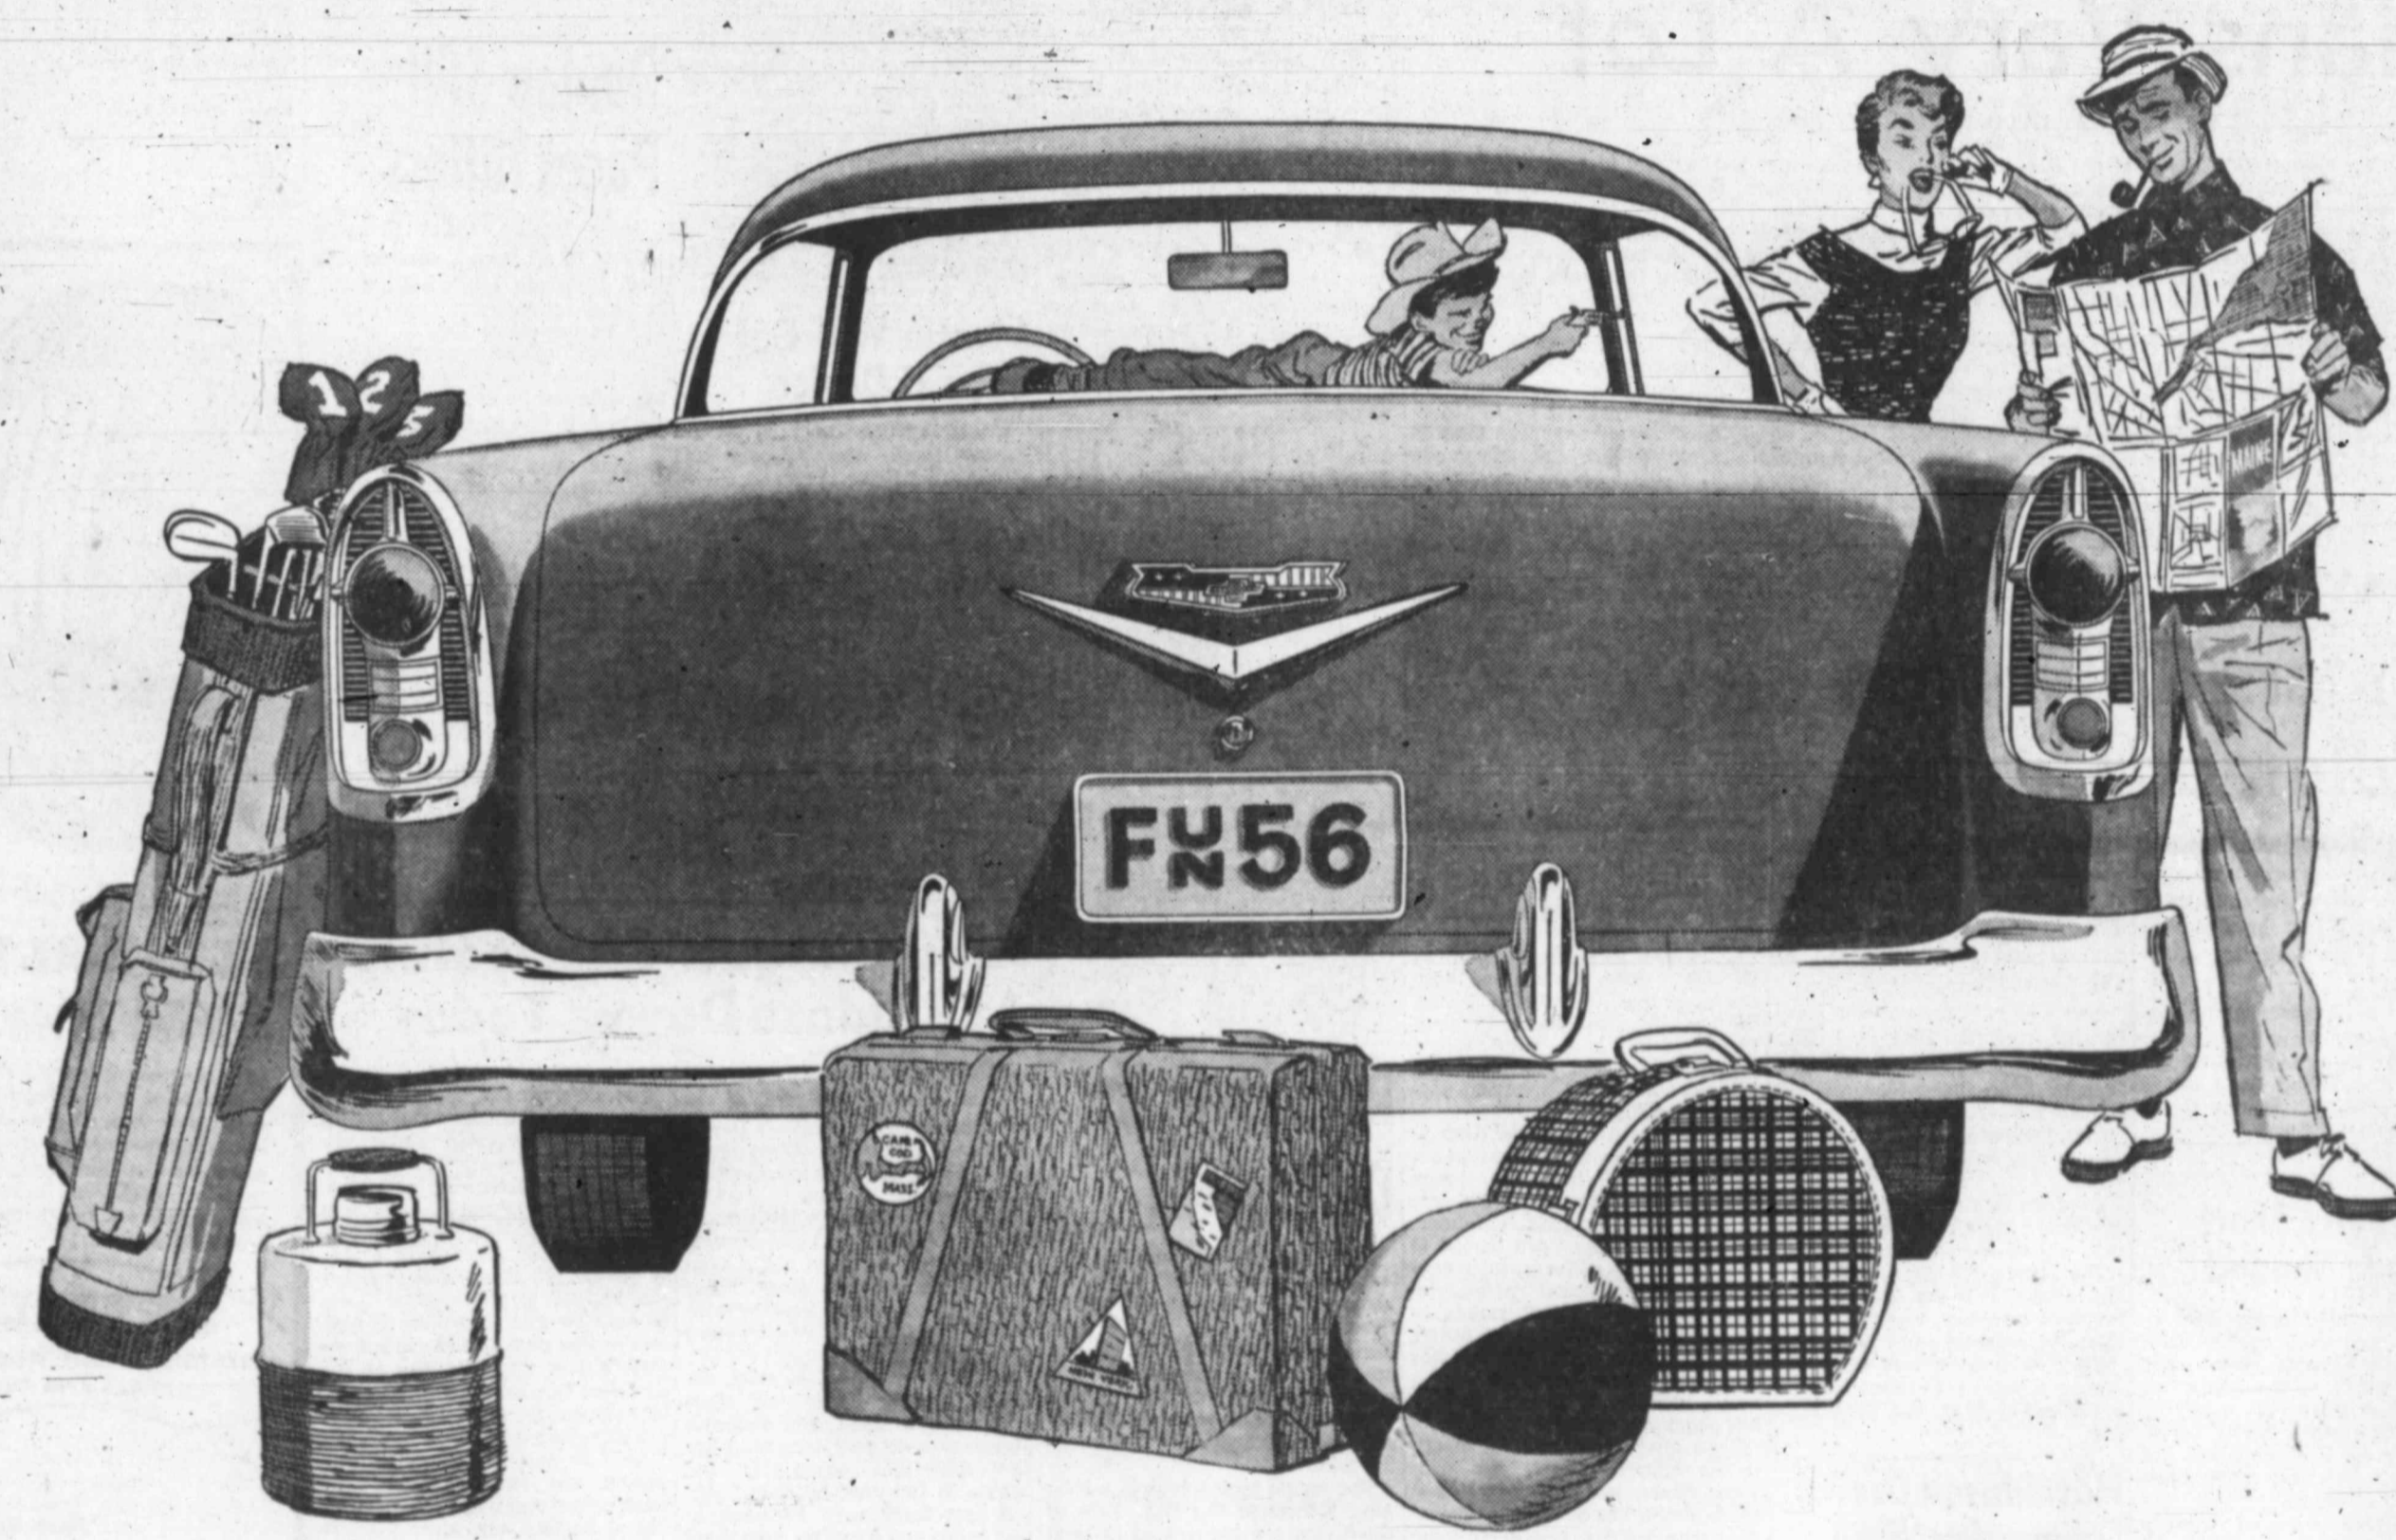

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—The Ford Foundation issued an annual report today describing a philanthropic program under which grants and appropriations totaling $137,063,164—largest sum in the Foundation's history—were made. The fiscal report covers the period of Oct. 1, 1954, to Sept. 30, 1955. On the latter date it listed assets of $580,918,567.

Not included in the recapitulation because, although begun during the last fiscal period they were not announced until this year, were: The special appropriation of 500 million dollars to raise college faculty salaries, improve medical education and expand the services of hospitals to their communities. The preparation for the diversification of Foundation assets which resulted in the eventual sale of 10,200,000 shares of Ford Motor Co. stock, representing 22 per cent of the Foundation's holdings in the company. H. Rowan Gaither Jr., chairman and president of the Foundation, said these two actions "perhaps commanded most public attention: the first was, in the aggregate, the largest sum appropriated at one time in the history of American philanthropy, and the second opened a great American business corporation to public investment." Gaither said the Foundation received $642,600,000 from the stock sale, before expenses. He said the Foundation invested the net proceeds of the sale on the day the check was received.

Medic Reports Virgin Birth

LONDON (AP)—A top British physician said today the chances were 100-1 that a girl he examined had never had a father. Writing in the medical magazine, the Lancet, Dr. Stanley Balfour-Lynn described tests carried out on a woman and her 11-year-old daughter. The tests followed a lecture by Dr. Helen Spurway on the possibility of parthenogenesis, or virgin birth, among human beings.

The mass circulation Sunday Pictorial asked its readers to write in if they had self-conceived a child. Nineteen mothers did so. A team of specialists, led by Dr. Balfour-Lynn, whittled the number down until only one remained. They reported of the mother and her strikingly similar-looking daughter: "The mother's claim must not only be considered seriously, but it must also be admitted that we have been unable to disprove it." The specialists reported that blood, skin graft and other tests showed the probability that the child had a father to be 0.1, or 1 in 100. Lancet did not publish names of the mother or daughter.

happy vacations begin in a Chevy

You'll love to travel in it, because it loves to travel! When you get this Chevrolet out on the road, you'll want to keep going—and so will the whole family.

Of course, even in a Chevrolet the happiest vacations may involve one or two minor problems. Like fidgety small fry who want gallons of water and keep asking if you're almost there. The big things, though, are beautifully taken care of by this roomy Chevrolet's smooth and easy way of going. The fact is, few cars at any price hold the road with a Chevy's grace. That idea about the best riding cars being great oversized affairs went out with the introduction of Chevrolet's outrigger rear springing and low, precisely balanced chassis design. With horsepower up to 225, the Chevrolet moves out like a whip-lash, for safer passing. And with it you've always got that solid feeling of stability. Is it any wonder that more and more people who used to buy higher priced cars are changing to Chevrolet? You'll be happy to see how easy we're making it to start your vacation in a new Chevy. Stop by soon for a ride.

Aid - To - Athletes' Plans Vary A Lot

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

When the Presidents' Council of the Pacific Coast Conference met last Monday to review their scandal-shaken athletic situation, it took a decidedly practical stand which recognized that intercollegiate competition isn't just what takes place on the field.

It is a recognized fact that college athletics—particularly football and basketball—are a highly competitive business involving large sums of money. The institution that has the best teams usually has the biggest gate receipts. And the best teams usually belong to the institution that does the best job of recruiting top athletes. Star football players don't turn up from nowhere, as they may have done in the Gay 90's.

The comparatively isolated Pacific Coast Conference isn't troubled much by competition for athletes, except among its own members. As a result its rules have been somewhat stricter than some other conferences. Now the presidents—and a good many others—have begun wondering if they're not too strict.

The PCC permits grants-in-aid to athletes for tuition and compulsory fees administered by the institution. The athlete has to work for his extra expenses at campus employment paying not more than $2 an hour and $100 a month (this figure has just been raised from $75 a month) or bona fide off-campus employment.

Some other conferences agree with the PCC critics on this point, an Associated Press survey of the rules of the major groups revealed, while others demand work in exchange for extra compensation.

Virtually all permit grants-in-aid in some form.

And most of them, like the PCC, have found that their members have trouble living up to the rules. On the Pacific Coast, Washington was given two years of probation because of payments to athletes from a downtown "slush fund" and UCLA drew three years, plus a fine and a blanket declaration of ineligibility for athletes because of booster club payments. In addition charges have been leveled that Southern California alumni have paid athletes illegally and that California had a "phony job racket."

Elsewhere such institutions as Michigan State, Oklahoma, Kansas State, the University of Miami, Florida, Arizona State (Tempe) and Cincinnati have drawn various penalties in recent years for similar rules violations involving payment to athletes.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn., the over-all college sports governing body, has taken action in most cases, but it can act only on the more flagrant violations. Conference rules have tended to become more uniform in recent years with the trend running toward "BRT plus," that means an athlete is allowed to accept board, room, tuition and institutional fees—in some cases books—and a small monthly allowance to pay for laundry and dry cleaning.

That figure is set at $15 a month in the Atlantic Coast, Southern, Southeastern and Missouri Valley Conferences. The Southwest Conference sets a $10 a month limit for laundry payment and in addition doesn't permit athletes to work at outside jobs during the academic year. The attitude there is that a boy can't do justice to studies and athletics and at the same time work for a living.

The Big 7 has another approach. It awards tuition, fees, board, room, books and permits a student to take a job as long as his total income from scholarships and work doesn't come to more than $135 a year above the cost of these essentials.

The Big 10, principal athletic rival of the Pacific Coast Conference in the Rose Bowl and elsewhere, has a sliding scale of permissible aid. An athlete with a scholastic no lower than midway between B and C may receive aid up to a reasonable cost of attending school for a year. One with only a C average, can't get more than tuition and fees. But Big 10 athletes aren't limited as to the amount they can earn.

There are various other rules concerning employment, scholastic requirements, etc., and any athlete who is smart enough to earn an academic scholarship higher than the athletic limit can accept it.

The big headache comes from the booster and alumni organizations.

Puerto Rican All Alone In 50's

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 30 (AP)—Juan Pizarro is going to pitch himself right out of his baseball club if he doesn't slow down.

The 18-year-old Puerto Rican is just 16 months removed from bat boy of his home town Santurce club, but has the blistering record of 109 strikeouts in 140 innings with the Jacksonville Braves of the South Atlantic League.

Pitchers in other clubs have records of only 40 to 50 strikeouts. Pizarro has won 12 and lost three and his hitting average is .317—leading all league pitchers.

Giants Trounce Pirates, 6-4, To End Jinx

PITTSBURGH, June 30 (AP)—The Giants, like cats, are sometimes supposed to have nine lives. The New York Giants overcame one today on the ninth try by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4 before 8,111.

The Giants had lost all eight of their previous Saturday afternoon games this season.

Today they won the easy way, collecting four runs on three hits and two Pirate errors in the second. From that point it was all downhill for New York as Pirate Manager Bobby Bragan trotted four relief pitchers into the game in an effort to get his sinking club moving again.

Giants scored four runs in the second inning, powered by Willie Mays' two-run homer.

Webb AFB Dusters Play Midland Team At 2:30

The Webb Air Force Base Dusters, unbeaten as the baseball season heads into July, visit Midland today for a joust with the Black Indians of that city. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

The Dusters are 7-0 on the season but Manager Jim Zapp has his worries. He's down to two pitchers. Jack Leonard, who had been for the Dusters, recently was transferred. That left Art McKinstry and Charles McNew as the only hurlers on the club.

Zapp may save McKinstry today in order to use him against the Odessa Chiefs here Independence Day (Wednesday). That game, incidentally, starts at 3 p.m.

The Dusters have already beaten Odessa twice this year but Zapp says they're one of the toughest clubs the Dusters have faced.

Webb also lost Ed Reinke, regular third sacker. Reinke was also transferred.

As a result, he'll play Bob O'Connor at the hot spot this afternoon.

Chances are Bob Sayer will go to the mound for the Dusters in this afternoon.

Nebraska State Loop In Debut

KEARNEY, Neb., June 30 (AP)—Bats swing tomorrow in the Nebraska State League, the nation's first all-rounder Class D circuit.

Each of the clubs in the unique experimental league is owned outright by a major league organization.

Receipts at the gate and from concessions and programs will be split among the eight clubs. The 62-game schedule which opens tomorrow will continue through Sept. 3.

Dunlap Still Paces Hitters

Jerry Dunlap, Cabot Carbon's master of all trades, continues to lead American Little League hitters through games of Friday night with an average of .750.

Dunlap, walked in every appearance against Piggy-Wigly Friday, has collected 21 hits in 28 tries.

Ken Eubanks of the same team is the No. Two hitter in the circuit, with an even .500 average while Bill Tom Hale of the Flicks is third with .428.

Liberal-Conservative Issue Renewed In Governor's Race

AUSTIN, June 30 (AP)—The liberal-versus-conservative issue flared anew this week in the governor's race and prospects were it would continue to explode during the final four weeks of the campaign.

It is closely related to party loyalty. It makes the 1956 campaign almost a carbon copy of the 1954 Democratic battle for the governorship.

Sen. Price Daniel, slapped at the Texas State Federation of Labor, saying its convention was turned into a money-raising campaign for labor candidates. He did not specifically name Ralph Yarborough in this connection. An official of the organization said the charge was too silly to answer and a speaker at the convention urged labor to answer Daniel at the polls.

In television speeches this week Daniel hammered at the question of "Who is going to run Texas?" "Are we going to keep the government in Texas in the hands of the people in Texas? Or shall we let it fall into the hands of left-wing radical groups?" He asked.

He said that the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Americans for Democratic Action are trying to infiltrate labor unions and take over control of government.

State Federation of Labor spokesmen have denied their organization has endorsed Yarborough or any other candidate. Yarborough was the only candidate for governor to appear by invitation before its convention and the hat was passed at a session to raise money for his campaign. The labor spokesmen said an invitation to speak did not imply endorsement, noting that two candidates for lieutenant governor were invited and spoke.

Yarborough drew enthusiastic applause before and after his speech to the TSFL convention.

There is no doubt that Yarborough is the favorite of the organized "loyalist" or liberal wing of the party which leans toward organized labor and that Daniel is backed heavily by the conservatives. W. Lee O'Daniel, Reuben Senterfit, and J. Evetts Haley are also making a strong bid for conservative support. Yarborough also claims to have the backing of many former "loyalist" or anti-1111a Shivers politicians who are working for him.

In closing weeks of the 1954 campaign, in which Shivers defeated Yarborough, Shivers' backers made the "Port Arthur story" a headline issue. Teams of businessmen toured the state giving management's side of the long, crippling strike in the city. The other side said the Shivers backers misrepresented the facts and significance of the strike.

Yarborough insists that the "corruption in state government" is the main issue. He also hits hard at Democratic officials—such as Daniel and Shivers—who backed President Eisenhower in 1952.

O'Daniel's speeches in 1952 emphasize the theme: "Throw the rascals out" in Austin. He also calls for a cleanup in state government and notes that Daniel was one of the original members of the Veterans' Land Board when he was attorney general.

Political speculators in the Capitol are now rating Yarborough, Daniel and O'Daniel as the three best prospects for getting into a runoff. Very few professionals think the race will be finally decided July 23.

The most uncertain factor in the vote-getting department is O'Daniel. Senterfit and Haley are expected to chop in heavily to win conservative votes. O'Daniel is expected to chip in heavily to win persons generally unhappy with the government as he did in his first race in 1938. J. J. Holmes is also expected to capture enough votes to help assure a runoff. He has not campaigned as actively as the other five candidates, but he got considerable publicity when he offered a reward for the arrest of the Brady auto bomber.

Federal Agencies Have Ample Funds

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Thanks to a generous Congress, federal agencies start the new fiscal year tomorrow with half a billion dollars more appropriations than they had requested.

It's unusual also, in that all of election year in which, traditionally, members generally delight in boasting about economy.

It's unusual, also, in that all of the regular annual appropriations bills have cleared Congress before the government new year starts. In recent years, many departments have started the new year on emergency funds because their regular appropriations had not been passed.

Only two money bills hadn't been finally acted on when the old year ended today. They finance the foreign aid program and appropriate supplemental funds for miscellaneous agencies.

For the agencies financed in the regular bills, President Eisenhower requested about $24 billion dollars. Congress appropriated about $3 billion, due largely to the generosity of the Senate.

The House cut $751,200,000 from the President's requests, but the Senate boosted them $694,900,000. Compromises resulted in a net increase of $519,300,000.

While the budgets of many departments were reduced, those of a few others were increased, the biggest boost being more than half a billion dollars in Defense Department funds.

The following table shows, in millions of dollars, how Congress dealt with requests for 1957 appropriations:

	Requested	Voted

Chinese Chiefs Pledge Reforms

HONG KONG, June 30 (AP)—Red China's rulers accepted congressional criticism today and promised sweeping reforms to better living conditions for China's 600 million people.

Premier Chou En-lai climaxed a two-week session of the National People's Congress in Peiping by telling 1,000 deputies:

"All departments and areas concerned will examine and correct shortcomings and mistakes."

Peiping radio broadcast part of a speech by Chou, head of the State Council — top government body — in which he promised immediate wage boosts and improvements in housing and medical facilities.

The promise of reforms rang down the curtain on the Congress, whose deputies had taken the floor, one after another, to shoot bars at the government for not improving living conditions as fast as production increased. Most of China's budget the past few years has gone for heavy industry and defense, with little left in the way of benefits for the people.

Sharp criticism by deputies of life under the Red regime apparently stemmed from recent Communist party edicts for freer expressions from lower echelons of government and Congress.

First official hint of unrest on the teeming mainland came when a deputy declared rioting had broken out last year in heavily populated Suzhou Province but had been put down "effectively."

Ike Arrives At Gettysburg To Recuperate

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 30 (AP)—A slightly pale but smiling President Eisenhower came to his country place today to continue convalescing from his operation. Mamie Eisenhower, radiant, rode at his side on the two-hour drive from Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington.

The Eisenhowers arrived with very little fanfare—in contrast to the celebration which greeted them on a similar previous homecoming. That was their arrival here last November, after the President's heart attack in Colorado.

Then, just about the whole town gathered in the village square to greet its most celebrated residents. The President had bounced back pretty far from his heart attack. He stood up happily and waved to a crowd that jammed the square to its edges.

Today, three weeks after a tough intestinal operation, Eisenhower wasn't quite so bouncy. He did wave from his car window, though, at about 75 people who clustered near a refreshment stand on the road that leads to his 500-acre farm.

Two questions were obvious after Eisenhower's three-week hospitalization: How does he look? And is he going to run again? The answers, in the general opinion of newsmen who watched him leave the hospital and arrive at the farm:

1. He has lost some of the ruddiness of complexion which has characterized him for years. He walks slowly and deliberately—as anyone does who has undergone major surgery lately. His face looks thinner, though his doctors say he has started to gain weight again—up from 162 to 163, after a loss of seven pounds.

2. If anybody knows whether Eisenhower will stand by his decision to run again, nobody is saying. "He'll let me know in his time," said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, with a broad smile, at a news conference soon after the President reached Gettysburg. Hagerty's standard answer to second term questions has been, up to now, that his sole interest has been getting Eisenhower out of the hospital. Today he had a new twist:

"I'm interested in getting the President back in the White House."

NEW SWIMMING POOL TAKING SHAPE
Workmen set concrete walls in Negro park.

Contractors Make Progress On Several City Projects

Construction crews for A. P. Kasch & Sons have completed the floor and have most of the walls concreted on the swimming pool in the Negro Park.

Kasch has contract for both the Negro pool and the pool in the new Northside playground at N. Main and Seventh. The firm is pushing the Negro project however in an effort to complete it for as much use this summer as possible.

The east end is in place for reinforcement steel is in place for the remainder of the walls, and part of the forms are in place ready for pouring.

After the sides are completed, the contract calls for a deck around the pool; the filtration equipment, and a chain-link fence around the area.

Clyde Yarbrough of Odessa has completed the water lines connecting the filtration plant and site of the new reservoir. He has pumped water into the lines, but they have not been tested. The lines must be pressure tested for between eight and 24 hours before being accepted by the city.

Yarbrough is also constructing the million-gallon reservoir in the southwestern part of Big Spring. The area had to be leveled by blasting, which has been completed. One side of the area had to be cut away eight feet, while the lower side needed only two feet of cutting.

Concrete has been poured on half of the flocculator at the filtration plant. Clay Carey of Brownwood has contract for the filter plant renovation. Carey said he hoped to complete the concrete work on the flocculator by July 1.

When the filter plant contract is completed, the facility will be twice as big and will be capable of processing twice as much water.

Three Injured In Explosion

FORT WORTH, June 30 (AP)—An explosion, felt through much of downtown Fort Worth, ripped through the basement of a parking garage today, injuring three persons and causing damages estimated at $35,000.

Assistant Fire Chief H. A. Owens said the blast could have been caused by an electrical appliance switching on and igniting gasoline fumes from street-level pumps and underground storage tanks.

Killed In Crash

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Mrs. W. L. Varner of Grandfield, Okla., and her grandson, Jimmie Varner, 11, of Dallas were killed last night in a three-car collision on Highway 287 10 miles north of Wichita Falls.

MRS. NORMAN D. KEY

Lt. Key, Miss Garner Wed In San Gabriel

In a formal double ring ceremony read in San Gabriel Saturday evening, Beverly Garner of Rockdale became the bride of Lt. Norman D. Key of Big Spring.

The rites were said in the First Baptist Church by Rev. Powell Hinson of Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hicks Garner of Rt. 3, Rockdale and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Key, Knickerbocker Road, San Angelo.

The vows were repeated before the altar which was decorated with candelabra showered with Marconi daisies.

Joe Yeager of San Gabriel was the vocalist and sang "I Love You Truly." He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ned Culp, also of San Gabriel, who also played the wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of lace and net over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt, delicately scalloped at the waist-length hemline. Tiny self-covered buttons accented the back of the bodice and the long pointed sleeves. Her waist-length veil of illusion was draped from a tiara of pearls.

The bridal bouquet was a crescent arrangement of white French Reed daisies tied with French maline.

Mrs. Donald Garth, of Houston sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Powell Hinson, Lubbock; Mrs. Robert Hazlett, San Angelo; and Bette McGehee, Canyon.

Susan Abel of Buckholts, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and the tapers were lighted by Sybil Key and Bob Garner.

Lt. Robert Hazlett of San Angelo served as best man; groomsmen who also acted as ushers, were Hollis Key, San Angelo; Kenneth McAnar, Dallas; and J. J. Jenkins, Fort Worth.

For a traveling costume, the bride chose a sheath type dress of beige sateen which featured a boat neckline. The fitted bolero was of matching embroidered sateen. Beige gloves and ear clips along with black patent slippers and bag completed her ensemble.

When they return from a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Big Spring.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Tech where she received her BS degree in home economics. She was a member of the Home Economics Club, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Forum, BSU, Student Council, Supreme Court and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities in 1955-56.

Lt. Key is a Tech graduate having received his BS degree in animal husbandry. He was a member of the Tech band, the Block and Bride Club, BSU and Student Religious Council. He is now stationed at Webb AFB where he is an instructor.

The reception was held in the home of Mrs. Henry Abel in Buckholts.

In the receiving line were the mothers of the bridal pair, the bride and bridegroom and the feminine attendants.

The linen laid table was centered with the bride's bouquet and punch was served with the decorated cake.

Sisters of the bride, Mrs. Clay Dark, Amarillo, and Mrs. Abel served. Another sister, Mrs. Bert Holcomb of Dallas, registered the guests.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Buck Garner, Mrs. Lewis Modessette, Mrs. Bill Brown and Mrs. Lenza Caffey of Rockdale; Mrs. Leon Laffere of Buckholts and Mrs. Joe Yeager of San Gabriel.

Party Guests Meet Two Ibizan Hounds

This could happen to a dog—two of them in fact!

Capital party goers were invited to meet "Hannibal" and "Tanit," a pair of greyhounds, at a shindig given by Col. and Mrs. Consuelo Andrew Seane at their Georgetown home.

They're Ibizan hounds, brought back from a trip to the Balearic Islands and are believed to be the oldest breed of dogs in the world. The owners are interested in seeing if attention cannot be drawn to this beautiful type of hound in the United States.

Everywhere the dogs go they seem to attract attention. Rabbit dogs they are and are thought to be the fastest dogs known.

The former Rhoda Law, Mrs. Seane is an artist and writer. She has also invited her friends to see an exhibition of Portuguese and Spanish drawings she has done on her travels over the past couple of years.

You-Name-It Term

CHICAGO (U-P) — Adam Schumacher, convicted of auto theft, had a ready answer to Judge Alexander J. Napoli's question: "What kind of a sentence do you think you should get?" and said: "Six months in jail."

To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wright of Van Horn are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Betty, to Milton Henson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Henson, 305 East 9th.

Vows will be taken at 7:30 p.m., July 7, in the chapel of the local First Methodist Church.

Few Senators Make It To Their Party

When members of the Congressional Secretaries Club gave their annual whirling for their Capitol Hill bosses they had to call upon their boy and girl friends to fill up the empty places around the banquet table.

As Mrs. Frank Melchior, secretary to Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio) put it, "I didn't even bother to ask my boss because he already had two other engagements."

House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., (R-Mass) and Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif) were able to make it and graced the head table.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

A string of cars numbering a half dozen, loaded with provisions for six days of eating, sleeping and camping out in the open, pulled away from Big Spring Friday morning. Filled with a feeling of anticipation and high spirits for the days to come, members of the H.C.J.C. biology and geology classes, plus families and friends, felt "all set" for the week ahead.

Traveling in a caravan, the group of around 25 people set out on an extended field trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado. Fifteen hundred miles will be covered during the trip, which is scheduled to end back in Big Spring July 4.

Regular class sessions will be held during the trip by instructor, Bruce Frazier, as students will have a natural environment in which to study. While biology students will be equipped with apparatus for insect collection, geology students will study rock and fossil formations.

Mesa Verde Park in Colorado, will be the spot at which most of the non-traveling time will be spent. There, the group will study ancient Indian villages and habitat.

Dismissing Tuesday noon, a portion of the group will return to Big Spring the following day, while an extension of the trip will be taken by the remaining travelers into eastern Arizona.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Souts of "Surprise!" and "Happy Birthday, Sandra!" greeted Sandra Webb Wednesday afternoon by droves of friends who had gathered at LaRue Casey's home to celebrate the event. Jointly given by LaRue and Joyce Horne, the afternoon got-together was attended by Sandra Flowers, Barbara Tibbs, Janelle Clark, Sandy Jennings, China Carroll, Julie Rainwater, Frances Reagan, Bettie Anderson, Glenda Gamin, Marilyn Doan, and Mary Sue Hale.

Jackie Johnson was taken by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson, to the Texas University's branch of nursing school at Galveston, where she has gone through a period of freshman orientation this week.

Along with other members of her family, except her father, Dr. Roscoe Cooper, Sally Cowper set out Tuesday for quite a little jaunt. First traveling to Houston, Sally will stop at points along the east and west coasts of Florida. She will arrive in North Carolina on July 8; she will visit relatives in Tennessee until July 20, when she will return home.

A guest of Johnny Janak has been his cousin Pat Crotty, who is a student at the University of Arizona. Having arrived here last Thursday, he left for his home town, Los Angeles, Calif., Saturday.

SUMMER STUDY

LaVelle Wasson is a gal who certainly isn't letting the summer get leisurely. She is attending the Scoggins School of Hair Styling in Abilene, and has already completed a month's work.

LaVelle will take her examination on Aug. 3, then will return to Big Spring, where her time will be divided between working in her mother's shop and attending H.C.J.C. this fall.

Glenda Gamin returned Wednesday from a week spent in Shreveport, La., where she visited friends and spiced up her leisure with swimming.

A new resident here is Marilyn Doan, a college sophomore at Texarkana. Very blonde and blue eyed, Marilyn, who lives at 702 Goliad, moved here Tuesday.

Bell Ringers Make Hit With Washingtonians

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Nancy Poore Tufts hardly realized what she was getting into when she ordered 14 handbells from England a few years ago and organized a small group of ringers in the capital to play them.

Mrs. Tufts, a Washington church organist, choir director and teacher, has been so busy with her bells and with snowballing invitations for the group, known as the Potomac English Handbell Ringers, that she's had to slight her regular profession.

She ordered the bells in 1952 after hearing Boston's famed Beacon Hill Ringers and the Princeton University Handbells Ringers. She thought it would be nice for the capital to have a group and visualized them playing on the Capitol steps and at the National Cathedral. It was 1954 before she received them.

The bells are made of 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent tin and range in size from two to 10 inches in diameter. They were ordered from the 100-year-old Whitechapel Bell Foundry in London, which cast our Liberty Bell and London's Big Ben.

Whitechapel has so many orders that with only one man to tune the bells we just had to wait," Mrs. Tufts told me. "The tuner, Ernest Olivér, is a member of a bell-tuner family that's been tuning bells for 10 generations."

Mrs. Tufts got her friends together to play the bells at Christmas 1954. Now she has 45 bells and about a dozen ringers, one-half of whom are professional musicians, the rest government workers.

"What you need is good rhythm and to practice hard," she told me. "We practice once a week or more. We can't begin to accept all the invitations we get all over the country. Last New Year's we played at colonial Williamsburg. We've played at Princeton University and at many charity and benefit affairs. It takes three cars to get us around."

Fit Yourself Into Life For Happiness

Dr. Thelma Hunt, Washington psychologist who has spent most of the past 15 years listening to people's worries and trying to straighten them out, says the most common worry stems from a person's inability to fit into family life or a social group.

This, she says, is usually because a person doesn't think highly enough of himself and doesn't accept himself in terms of his own personality and makeup.

Besides her private practice, Dr. Hunt is executive officer of George Washington University's Department of Psychology, one of the few women to head such a department in a university. She says inability to adjust is back of most job problems.

Reading Contest Is Popular In Lamesa

LAMESA — That the reading program inaugurated at Dawson County Public Library early this month is growing steadily is evident from the news that 154 boys and girls from the second through the eighth grade level are now participating in the contest.

Mrs. Ruth Brock, librarian, states that the girls now lead the boys some 168 points in the contest. Leading contenders for top prizes rank at present are as follows: Alice Ashley, Harold Young, Glenda Martin, Lena Ashley, Vera Ashley, Candy Perry, Tommy Henderson, David Lewis, Johnny Young and Johnny Harper.

In other library activities, four and five year olds who attended the story hour sponsored by the Junior Woman's Study Club Thursday morning were treated to an hour of Indian stories. The children made and colored Indian headbands and heard recordings of Indian lore.

Study club members directing the period this week were Mrs. E. L. Richards and Mrs. Louis Davis.

Elbow HD Club Takes Two New Members

Two new members were present for the recent meeting of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club when they met at the school cafeteria.

Joining the club were Mrs. Randall Sherrod and Mrs. C. H. Barnes.

Mrs. Pershing Morton was the hostess and gave the devotion.

Mrs. B. J. Petty, president, was in charge of the meeting and the program on glass etching.

Fourteen members and a guest were present along with the two new members.

The July 11 meeting will be held in the cafeteria with Mrs. Petty as hostess.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Squyres, 404 Douglas, are their daughter, Mrs. Fred Engle, Mr. Engle and their son, Louis, of Ontario, Calif.

Scudday-Gardner Vows Exchanged In Lubbock

Before an altar decorated with gladioli, Connie Elray Scudday of Lubbock and Midland became the bride of 2nd Lt. John P. Gardner of Reese Air Force Base Saturday night in the chapel at Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock.

MRS. JOHN P. GARDNER

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Scudday of Midland; parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Gardner of Clarksburg, W. Va.

The semi-formal double ring ceremony was performed by the base chaplain and wedding music was furnished by the official organist and vocalist at the base. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace dress with a fitted torso and a full circular skirt of waltz length. It featured a high neck with a tiny Peter Pan collar of matching material. The three-quarter length sleeves were fitted from the elbow and the front of the dress and the sleeves were trimmed with rows of small pearl buttons.

The stand-up headress, borrowed from Mrs. Lalla Fay Smith of Dallas, was made of pearl orange blossoms and a fingertip veil was attached.

For something blue she carried a handkerchief that had belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Pearl Scudday. She wore a single strand of choker pearls and pearl ear screws. Her dress was "something new."

The bride carried an orchid which was on top of a white Bible given to her when she was a child by her grandmother, Mrs. C. A. Ballard of Big Spring.

Maid of honor was Kerney Sue Scudday of Midland, sister of the bride. Shirley McDaniel of Odessa and Benita Teaff of Floydada were bridesmaids.

The maid of honor and two bridesmaids wore semi-formal dresses of contrasting pastel colors. Their corsages were roses that contrasted with their dresses.

Best man was 2nd Lt. Bennie C. Johns of Lubbock and ushers were 2nd Lt. Al Reinhardt of Lubbock and Lt. George P. White of Lubbock.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a blue cotton suit with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Garden City High school and attended Texas Tech for two-and-one-half years. She is presently employed by the Corporation Court of Lubbock.

The groom is a graduate of Greenbrier Military School of Lewisburg, W. Va. He attended

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Summer is such a delightful time from the standpoint of taking trips with friends, fishing if you like it, and Soap Box racing if you can stand up under it. This week all of those things will be going on in our town. Let's make the most of it.

Leaving Friday afternoon for Florida were MRS. JOE ROBERTS, JR., MRS. EDITH MURDOCK, MRS. IVA HALE AND OMA BUCHANAN. They plan to spend two days in New Orleans and then will drive down the west coast of Florida to Tampa. From there they will go to Miami Beach where the national biennial convention of Business and Professional Women will be held from July 1-6.

Mrs. Roberts is the local delegate and Mrs. Hale is alternate. On Friday, the women will go on a boat trip to Havana, Cuba, and return to the mainland on Sunday. They will make the return trip up the east coast of Florida to Charleston, S. C., and on to Atlanta, Ga. Here Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Hale will visit with relatives. The party plans to return about July 15.

Had a most delightful time at the KELLEY LAWRENCE

Saturday morning when a group gathered to visit with MRS. JAMES FOWLER, former resident of Big Spring, who now lives in Odessa. She isn't the only one but she does come close to being able to talk almost as much as I — I enjoy the competition.

MR. AND MRS. MADISON E. SMITH and son, Gary, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. A. D. Dodson of Encino, N. M., are visiting Mrs. W. H. Ward Sr. and other members of the family.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Henry are their mothers, MRS. J. V. HENRY, of Bowie and MRS. JOHN EZZEL of Perryton.

MR. AND MRS. L. H. THOMAS, 508 NW 10th St., have as their guest their daughter, Mrs. H. I. Trout of Bowie.

In case you read Fortune, there is a picture of the summer cabin of MR. AND MRS. LEROY TIDWELL in a feature story. The cabin is in the Elk Creek Ranch which is a club composed of 20 members. The ranch is 25 miles north of Del Norte, Colo.

MR. AND MRS. J. C. EUDY and daughter have returned from a vacation trip to Sherman, Fort Worth and Dallas. They also fished at Lake Texoma but they just got practice — no fish.

MRS. A. J. CONRAD JR. is recuperating at the home of Mr. Conrad's sister, 8352 S. Green St. Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Conrad had surgery on her ear at the Billings Clinic in Chicago and will probably be in the city for three or four more weeks.

MR. AND MRS. ELBERT MANN and Marilyn are in Lamar, Mo., visiting friends and relatives.

No matter what mode, or even how new — the safest device in your car is you.

REV. AND MRS. CLYDE NICHOLS and their children are at Lake Buchanan where they are just plain resting. They plan to be away for two weeks.

Back from the International Convention of the Churches of God, held in Anderson, Ind., are the REV. AND MRS. HAL HOOKER and sons Richard and Jerry, and MRS. ETHEL HICKSON and daughter, Linda. They were privileged to hear many outstanding ministers and heard talks on missions, youth work and Christian education.

CHAPLAIN AND MRS. C. O. HITT are vacationing in the Colorado Rockies after attending the Southern Baptist Conference at Glorieta, N. M. Both were on the conference program. Mrs. Hitt writes that 800 people were there for home mission week of which chaplains of the Southern Baptist Conference are members.

This is a sort of "off again on again gone against Finnegan" but I'm going to be back home again from now on so if you have some news that I would like to have call me at 3-2342 — with the AM, of course.

MR. AND MRS. V. M. KIRBY of Parkview Addition will spend ten days with their son, Navy Airman Franklin Kirby, in Memphis, Tenn. Their son is to graduate from the Airman Machinists Mate School and he will return here with them for a 15-day leave. The party will visit in Nashville and points in Louisiana, Arkansas and East Texas.

LT. AND MRS. RALPH BROOKS and daughter will leave Frankfort, Germany, on July 7. When they arrive in New York City they plan to buy a car in which they will make the trip to Enid, Okla., where they will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blum. Later they will come here to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks. He is to be stationed in Victorville, Calif.

KEITHA, JANICE AND SUSIE DAVIS, nieces of Mrs. C. L. Richardson and Mrs. Albert Smith, will return to their home in Dimmitt today after spending two weeks here. They stayed here while their parents attended the JC convention in Kansas City.

MRS. PAT HARRISON is to return today from Mallamar, N. M., where she has visited Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Harrison.

Next Play To Come From Washington

John Patrick, Pulitzer prize-winning playwright, whose long-play Broadway success, "Teahouse of the August Moon," had a two weeks run in Washington, D. C., says that city will provide the material for his next play.

Mrs. Fowler Honored In Lawrence Home

Mrs. James Fowler of Odessa, who is the houseguest of Mrs. Kelley Lawrence, was complimented Saturday morning with an informal party in the Lawrence home, 543 Hillside. The calling hours were spent in visiting. Approximately thirty friends called.

Guests in the C. R. Rhoads home are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith of Santa Monica, Calif.

1269
by Varden Petite

© 1956 Spadea Fashions Inc.
FOR PETITE WOMAN

Empire Waistline Good For Illusion Of Height

The Empire waistline might have been invented for the petite woman since it is a line that elongates the figure, gives a long-legged look.

This version by Varden Petite offers yet another heightening detail—the wide V neckline both front and back, a line that seems to slim necks. The Empire emphasis is arrived at with a high riding bias fold stitched to the body and with a separate bow.

The short shoulder sleeves feature button trim set back from the loose lap that folds over front to back. A custom cut pattern that is accurate to the nth degree, it includes an instruction sheet so thorough and easy to follow that even a beginner can master professional finishing.

Make it in pique or linen, shantung, novelty cotton, faille, crepes, either silk or wool, ottoman or peau de soie.

Size 10, bust 34, waist 25, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 inches; size 12 bust 35, waist 26, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 14 bust 36 1/2, waist 27 1/2, hips 37 1/2, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 16 bust 38, waist 29, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 18 bust 40, waist 31, hips 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches.

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for dress.

To order Pattern No. 1269, state size, enclose $1.00. Airmail handling 25 cents extra. Address American Designer Patterns, P. O. Box 535, G. P. O. Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. 144-page Pattern Booklet XII — 50 cents. If paid by check add 4 cents.

Rhoadses Have Trip

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Rhoads and daughter, Regina, have just returned from a 30 day vacation tour of Boston, Mass., via Acuna, Mexico, where they witnessed a bull-fight on June 3.

They crossed fourteen tollbridges and two turnpikes and their total toll fare was $14.10.

A highlight of the trip was their attendance at the Walt Disney premiere of "The Great Locomotive Chase" in Atlanta, Ga. It was in Atlanta that the movie was filmed.

Another highlight was taking the route of Paul Revere's ride into Lexington. They also visited Cape Cod Bay where they went clam fishing.

At Gatlingburg, Tenn., in the Smokey Mountains they rode in a chair lift to the top of a mountain 2,300 feet in height. They were never more than 73 feet off the ground during this ride.

The Rhoadses were most impressed by the clean highways. Mrs. Rhoads said that there is a $500 fine for throwing trash along the highways.

When Did Science Begin?

Science began the day man first asked "why?" This search for facts sprang from the dark days of magic, superstition, and demonology. The laws of nature were known. It was the task of science to understand them. In the Middle Ages the average life span was twenty-five years. Today you have a life expectancy of sixty-five years. This is a direct result of medical progress.

As pharmacists, we are proud of our function in the distribution of lifesaving medical supplies.

Getting Ready For A Game Of Golf

Jack Mikel keeps his golf clubs shining and ready for play as Mrs. Mikel and daughter, Paula, look on. Also looking on but apparently not interested in golf is the parakeet, "Peepers." The Mikels moved here recently from Houston.

Houston Newcomers Miss Damp Climate

Mrs. Jack Mikel thinks she may have some difficulty getting used to the dry climate of Big Spring. She, her husband, and daughter, Paula, left the damp climate of Houston to come to West Texas. Jack Mikel, who came here about three months ago to become assistant personnel manager at a Cosden, was joined by his wife and daughter the first of June after Paula had finished school. They will have a small neat apartment at 1504B Sycamore. Mrs. Mikel said they like the apartment but they were used to having more room. An air conditioner in the living room keeps the apartment pleasantly cool but Mr. Mikel thinks it produces too much wind.

Jack Mikel wants to learn more about it and hopes to join a class in the art in Big Spring.

Jack Mikel is an avid golfing fan and likes to engage in the sport in his spare time. His clubs are always available in his car. The Mikels believe they will like Big Spring if they can just get used to the climate. Meanwhile, they are awaiting the arrival of a new addition to the family and are looking forward to meeting more nice, friendly people in Big Spring.

Buying Bed Linens?

When purchasing bed linens remember that the word combed refers to finer, stronger and even more yarns. Combed yarns are supposed to be the heaviest. Muslin sheets are utility-type sheets that give longer wear although they do not have the soft feel of lighter percale.

Mary Jane Club Acts In City Improvement

For a club which began as strictly social, the Mary Jane Club of Coahoma has really come a long way in six years in improving the town and community.

Organized February 14, 1950, the group of young homemakers intended the club merely as a social outlet from their routine of cooking, laundry, baby-tending and the other countless tasks connected with running a home.

The name, Mary Jane, was chosen because it was typical of the average homemaker. The membership was limited to 16 because meetings were held in the homes of members. This is still the limit, and members still entertain in their homes.

Eventually, the social side of the club seemed not enough for the group. They turned their efforts to civic betterment, and the town of Coahoma has benefited greatly by the change. Big Spring, too, has received help from the organization.

Cookies were taken to the hospital on Mother's Day. A standing project is the contribution of magazines made regularly to the local State Hospital. Members assist in the March of Dimes each year; they are ready to help any of the needy families of their town with food and clothing and have furnished baby's layettes.

Rag dolls have been made and a quilt was pieced, all being given to the Salvation Army in Big Spring.

The main project of the group for this year is the improvement of the park in Coahoma. Already, the club members with the help of their husbands, have installed swings and seesaws. They have had the park pavilion re-roofed and have been instrumental in getting water piped in.

Material is on hand at the present time for wiring the pavilion for electricity, and picnic tables are under construction. Funds for the various phases of work are made in different ways. The women have had bake sales; they served dinner for the Coahoma Lions Club when they held their Ladies Night. Another time, the members were hostesses for a game party.

Plans are under way this summer for a style show, scheduled before the beginning of school. This will be given in the school auditorium, with the date to be announced later.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Ted Fowler, president; Mrs. Bill Milliken, vice president; Mrs. Rex Shive, secretary; Mrs. Ray Echols, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. James Coates, reporter, and Mrs. O. D. Daniel Jr., historian. Charter members are Mrs. H. J. Robertson, Mrs. Don McKinney, Mrs. Shive and Mrs. Troy Roberts. Associate members are Mrs. Newell Derryberry and Mrs. Wayne White.

Other members are Mrs. Clovis Phinney Jr., Mrs. Bobby Wheeler, Mrs. Edward Seay, Mrs. Val Best, Marion Hays and Mrs. Hezzie Reed.

Besides the regular meetings, the club has three major social events. One is an anniversary celebration, usually a tea for the town's newcomers or a Mother-Daughter affair. A chicken barbecue and Christmas party are shared with husbands of members. The children of members are entertained with an Easter egg party and with a Christmas celebration.

Baby Shower Given For Mrs. Harland

KNOTT—Mrs. Delbert Harland was complimented by friends Thursday afternoon with a baby shower in the home of Mrs. M. A. Cockrell. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. C. G. Ditto, Mrs. J. W. Walker, Mrs. Harrison Woods, Mrs. Lonnie Smith, Mrs. Gerald Cockrell, Mrs. Ira Dement, Mrs. L. E. Smith, Mrs. Doris Harris, Mrs. Earl Freeman and Mrs. G. W. Rogers.

Mrs. Earl Freeman registered 24 guests in the guest book that was covered with pink and white checked gingham made for the honoree by Mrs. Cockrell.

Collar Will Renew Dress

A few fresh new collars can do much to make last summer's slightly weary dress look like new. Local sewing center experts suggest you take to your sewing machine and stitch up several dainty collars. With the wide variety of fabrics and trims available this year, you can make one dress do double duty.

Use any standard collar pattern and add trimming to suit yourself. Bias seam binding may be used effectively on a sheer white collar, and a new boxpleated nylon edging gives a pretty frilly look.

If you make your collars of sheer nylon organdie, you'll cut down on ironing time. And nylon trimmings are available, so that you can dunk your collar in the wash-bowl and have it ready to wear in 30 minutes flat.

Use a fine machine needle when sewing on nylon, a fine nylon or dacron thread; a short stitch and loosened tension for best results.

To achieve perfect stitching when applying the bias bands, the edge-stitcher attachment will be a great help. This remarkable little gadget will permit even the most inexperienced seamstress to put a fine line of stitching right along the edge of the bands.

Has Birthday Party

Tommy Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Patterson, was honored with a party recently to celebrate his first birthday anniversary.

The party was held at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Moore, 1205 Main St. The guests were given favors of party hats, and refreshments included the decorated birthday cake. Eleven attended.

Lees Club Has Talk On Use Of Raw Fruit

Mrs. G. M. Elland, Glasscock HD agent, gave a demonstration for members of the Lees HD Club when they met at their clubhouse recently.

Mrs. Elland, in giving the demonstration on ways to use raw fruit, reminded the women that citrus fruits should be included in the daily diet as this is an excellent source of vitamin C. Mrs. Vida Holt of Fort Stockton, district agent, was a guest for the meeting. Mrs. Jack Engle was the hostess and served refreshments to the eight attending.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Fashion Hints From High-Fashion Model

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Dovima, the highest paid model in the world, is known to every reader of high-style magazines. In one issue of Vogue, she appears in 28 fashion photographs.

When I asked her what qualities made Dovima the queen of models, she explained, "She has an unusual face with planes that photograph from every angle. But more than that, she has poetry of movement. No matter what pose she falls into she is graceful. And she is capable of looking different. This ability prolongs the life of a model because a model is on the way out if her face has become repetitious. Dovima is five-foot eight-inches without shoes and she weighs 110 pounds. Her name is so unusual that upon introduction I immediately asked her of its origin."

"It is the combination of the first two letters of my names, Dorothy, Virginia and Margaret," she replied. "Just as I was about to discover why fashion models have to be so terribly thin, she was called before the camera. "Come to my hotel for dinner," she suggested. "We can talk without being disturbed."

Later when I met her in Beverly Hills I expected to see her sip black coffee while I dined. Much to my surprise, she ordered chicken a la king, toasted French rolls and black bottom pie.

"The thing that makes modeling so much fun for me," she explained, "is that I am naturally thin. I never have to worry about dieting or overeating. I think nature intended me to be thin. Although I am considerably underweight according to the charts, I still feel well and have lots of energy."

I asked Dovima how she manages to look so different since she never changes the color of her hair. "I believe you must maintain a certain amount of individuality. Dark hair makes a better frame for my face because my skin is light and my eyes are blue. "By changing my hair style I can change my mood. I wear it short, with a chignon, drawn back from my face or sometimes piled high. I manage to make a slight change.

"I think every woman should change her hair style in some way every six months. It will keep her from getting bored and it will attract much more attention from her husband. Not every style will be flattering but when you go back to one that is more suited to you people will notice it and remark about the change. This gives your ego a boost," she said.

Dovima was dressed in black with a single rhinestone ornament. She looked so attractive I asked if she spent a large part of her income on clothes. "I did when I first started modeling. I bought madly and had a closet full of dresses. I didn't wear. I have developed a clothes sense and have learned what is flattering to me.

"The more you know about fashion the fewer mistakes you make and the less you have to spend. Frequently at parties people ask who designed my dress. Most of the time it is no great designer. "The skirt I am wearing," Dovima confessed, "cost less than ten dollars but it is a good black, narrow and well cut. I can wear it day or night depending on the top. "I love to wear separates. You can limit your wardrobe and still have variety. This blouse cost less than fifteen dollars. I can dress it up with pearls or jewelry, and play it down with aprons or beads. A sweater blouse and skirt is more serviceable than a dress. "Every woman can't be beautiful but she can be attractive and have individuality. Sometimes a pretty girl is handicapped. She looks good and gets compliments with so little effort that she does not perfect grooming or learn how to play up her good points and underplay her bad ones. When her beauty begins to fade she has nothing to fall back on. "When you have to make an effort to be beautiful, you learn about clothes and what hair style and make-up is the most flattering. You appreciate the necessity of having good posture and being well groomed," said Dovima in parting.

HAVE YOU YOURS? There's still time to order Lydia Lane's new booklet, "Unlock Your Hidden Beauty." But it won't be long before the offer has to be withdrawn. Want to know what you'll get? Well there's teen-age advice from Natalie Wood, glamour secrets from Marilyn Monroe and tips on attaining mature beauty ideas. Send your request with 10 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Good For Company Two whole baked fish make a good-looking and good-tasting company dish. Each fish will need to weigh about three pounds to serve six. Stuff and bake according to standard directions.

Stresses Individuality

Dovima, the world's highest paid fashion model, has a role in Paramount's "Funny Face." "Every woman can't be beautiful," she says, "but she can be attractive and have individuality."

Everything from the sewing machine to the telephone makes woman's life in the home more tolerable. Every day new gadgets appear that ease our way of life. Few people know who invented the electric mixer or the dishwasher, although they rejoice in using these time savers. Party In A Trailer

Washington party-goers, adept at elbow-bending in any setting, relish a change of pace from the usually more or less formal atmosphere of an embassy salon or private drawing room. That's why they found a cocktail party in a trailer so much fun. The shindig was given as a "trailer-warming" by the Netherlands military attaché, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William Th. Carp.

Their house trailer, equipped to accommodate themselves, their two children and a governess, will take them on a year's trip around the United States come next November when Gen. Carp's tour of duty here is over.

HI-TALK

By CAROL ROGERS

The last few days before the July 4 Beauty Pageant will be busy ones for the contestants. The girls have already spent much time having pictures made, deciding what to wear, and the other things that go with entering a beauty contest.

Rehearsals for the celebration will be held Monday and Tuesday nights at the amphitheatre at 8 o'clock. It is very important that all entries attend both rehearsals.

Several of the girls will also be on a KTXC radio program Monday and Tuesday nights during the regular Nightwatch time. Be sure and listen in.

The student council is really on the ball this summer. The officers and members met at the home of Janet Hogan Thursday night to elect delegates to the summer workshop, Aug. 5-10. Those selected to go to Alpine, where the workshop will be held, are Ronnie King, Sue Boykin, and Janet Hogan.

The council also chose Oct. 5 as the date for 1956 Homecoming. That is the night of the football game with Sweetwater.

Norman Jean Balch, Betty Joe Fincher, and Merry Jan Knight were guests of honor at a party and quiet a surprise greeted the ones attending. The theme of this Teen-Age Party Night was the atmosphere of a night club. It was a nice variation from the usual routine and the highlight of the evening was the floor show of local talent.

The leaders at the Y and the inner-council are going to a lot of trouble to give us this Teen-Age Party Night every week so let's show our appreciation by attending.

Lou Ann White has had company this week. Judy Allison came home with Lou Ann after her visit to Ft. Stockton last weekend. Judy will be a senior in Ft. Stockton High School this fall and, like Lou Ann, is cheerleader.

The A&M Scholarship Barbecue Thursday night drew not only students planning to attend A&M but some with plans for other colleges and universities, such as Baylor and the University of Texas. Some of the teen-agers enjoying the barbecue — and going back for seconds — were Melva Turner, Letroy LeFevre, Frances Reagan, J. D. Adams, Carol Rogers, Clyde MmMahon, Carolyn Duckett, Donnie Bryant, Roy Hughes and Alton McCarty.

Pat Cowdy visited Johnny Janak for several days last week. Pat is Johnny's cousin and is from Los Angeles, Calif. He was graduated from high school in May.

Danne Green is spending the next few weeks in Vernon with her brother and his family. When she left, Danne had no special plans but it is a good guess that much of her time will be spent with her small nephew.

Arlinda Grifford was honored with a party at the home of Loretta Bennett Wednesday afternoon. Arlinda spent two weeks in Lamesa and the party was staged as a "welcome home." Those attending were Sue Arrick, Pat Smelser, Lynda Glenn, L. Faye Woods and Eleanor Pidge.

When the first member of a group of high school friends leaves for college, it brings a combination of feelings — both of sadness and of anticipation. This occurred for one group when Jackie Johnson was surprised with a going away party by her friends at her home. Those bidding Jackie goodbye and promising to write soon were Jacqueline Smith, Danne Greene, Londa Coker, Barbara Shields, Annette Boykin, Pudge Gray, Janet Hogan, and Carol Rogers.

Jackie left Sunday morning to attend Texas University School of Nursing in Galveston. She will not return home until Christmas.

Get A Bonnet, Mama, Derby Time Is Here

By LUCILLE PICKLE

That Day is just about here again! That Day being Soap Box Derby Day!

Supposing our household is not different from all the others that have prospective champions in them — this getting ready for the great day just ain't easy.

For the two previous races, we have all but been gibbering idiots before the racer at our house was on the track and things again point in that direction this year. However, knowing the rewards that may lie ahead for ours, and will certainly be ahead for one of the boys, it surely is worth it.

I had never dreamed of the all-out production that is made of this Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio, until our family was privileged to see it last summer.

Everyone in that city seems to have but one purpose in mind during Derby Week and that is to be nice to the champions, their parents and members of the press.

Of course, the champions don't come into the city for anything. They are well entertained at the camp set aside for them and their alone. They are the real kings. They really lead a life that would make old Riley jealous. Their parents are entertained royally and everyone has a wonderful time.

When the time comes for the race, it seems that the whole world is there. It is the most! The champions are the most important beings in the world. I got goosebumps all over me when the grand parade started and it still thrills me to think so much interest is concentrated on young boys who are willing to work for the honor of representing their home towns in such an undertaking.

Miles of words have been written about these races and the rewards to the winners which are considerable, and any mother would be glad to have her son share in the prizes. But the thing that thrilled me so was the wonderful spirit of friendship that is kindled among the boys.

Here the racers are all on the same level. They are given the same opportunities and each has the same chance. A millionaire's son may be the bunkmate of a poverty stricken child, but they become good friends through this common interest.

Mothers of the racers from all over the nation seemed to be very much the same. One I talked to last summer had two boys who had competed for the local championship. The younger one had won. Another mother had sat in the car during the local race because she couldn't stand to see her youngster come down the track. At Akron, she was in the grandstand but she couldn't look there either. Her husband looked and gave her secondhand info.

When the grand parade starts and the champions march together each holding his home town's banner, it's wonderful! Of course the big stars that come each year add to the glamour but it takes a big bunch of boys all dressed alike marching together to get the crowd to its feet.

Last year 49,000 people were at Derby Downs for the races. Bands came from all over Ohio and the parade down the track was exciting.

Dinah Shore added spice and interest to the program and she sat with the losers in a special box. The sting of defeat was lessened by the good humor of Miss Shore. She seemed to be having a wonderful time. In fact she has been to a number of the races as the featured attraction as far as entertainment is concerned. George Montgomery, her husband; John Hall of Jangle Jim fame; Bob Zweikert, speedway champion, and Otto Graham, professional football player ran in the humorous Oil Can Derby.

There is so much for which to look forward — and to look back on. Anyway come on out to the track Wednesday and we'll all hold each others heads!

See you Wednesday!

'GI Bill' Meant Thousands Of Dollars To Howard Economy

When the GI Bill of Rights, with its educational benefits, terminates on July 25, Howard County can look back on approximately a quarter of a million dollars of this special aid.

There are no accurate figures available on the total because trainees are filed by number at the regional office in Lubbock and not by counties. However, the total paid to Howard County Junior College makes the quarter of a million dollar figure seem conservative.

From the beginning of Howard County Junior College with the 1946-47 term and through 1954-55, the Veterans Administration paid the college $166,131.58. If budget estimates for year come close, the ultimate figures will be around $170,000.

These figures do not have anything to do with subsistence. At one stage in the program, the ex-service man was entitled to allowances which would help keep him in school.

Nor do the figures include the various other types of programs such as vocational schools and individual training stations. In fact, the earliest participation in Big Spring and Howard County took the form of young men entering business on a sort of on-the-job training program.

Almost since the start, there have been vocational schools operating here, the most successful and enduring being those for agriculture. Jack Buchanan currently is heading up this program.

At one time there were several of these agriculture schools in operation, but eventually they dwindled to one. There had been courses in mechanics and welding, too.

Doubtless the program enabled several hundred young men (and women), who otherwise would not have been able to get an education, to go to college. There can be no less doubt that it virtually helped keep the doors of HCCJ open in the early days of its formative period.

For instance, in the first three years of its existence the college drew $61,000 from the VA for GI training. In the four-year period from 1946-51, the college received $131,965 from the VA for its veterans training before the operation peaked. For the last three years it has been a nominal figure.

By years, the payments to HCCJ were:

Year	Amount
1946-47	$9,034.35
1947-48	11,257.54
1948-49	23,181.67
1949-50	49,671.62
1950-51	27,051.36
1951-52	32,162.52
1952-53	9,237.61
1953-54	1,678.72
1954-55	2,656.19
1955-56	4,000.00*
Total	$166,131.58

*Budget estimate; probably will not exceed $3,000.

'Teen-Age Group Leading In Upward Swing Of VD

Education—not penicillin—is the answer to the problem of venereal disease which is growing yearly in large numbers among teen-agers.

This opinion is stated by State Health Department workers—and the city-county health unit.

No figures are available on the number of cases in Big Spring or West Texas or percentages for different age groups, but throughout the state, between 25 and 29 percent of all cases now being treated are persons below 20. The percentage in this area is approximately the same. J. A. Moon, State Health Department worker, estimated.

For several years, the VD rate was on the decline, but it is now on the rise, the U.S. Public Health Service has reported. And leading the rise is the juvenile age group.

About one million juveniles had syphilis last year and about 40,000 others contracted it. Meanwhile, another 500,000 teen-agers contracted gonorrhea.

This totals about half of the VD cases in the nation. This also shows that about one in 200 persons below 20 contracted venereal disease in 1955.

The survey revealed that in both syphilis and gonorrhea, the upward swing starts among females at the age of 12 and among males at 14. The higher proportion is among females to the age of 17, and there the percentage among males is higher.

Another survey however pointed the finger toward education as a means of combating VD. The check showed that the VD rate among teen-agers is down in almost direct ratio to the number of children in an area who are attending school.

The same opinion is voiced by the city-county health unit. Workers there feel that more time should be given to the subject in schools.

The one penicillin shot treatment will not cure venereal diseases either, they claim. Reports have been circulated nationally that one shot of penicillin would cure venereal diseases, but officials here said that one shot would hardly cure a cold—let alone syphilis or gonorrhea.

One shot daily for between three and five days is needed to cure gonorrhea, and between 10 and 14—one a day—are required to combat syphilis. Yet the "one shot" idea had persisted in the popular mind to the detriment of efforts to bridge these insidious diseases. Some authorities have contended the notion of a "one shot" cure has been a contributing factor to letting down the bars or to promiscuity.

Coffee Helps Send Living Costs Up, But Pork Drops

Maybe the high cost of living is going up, but at least the price of pork is down. This isn't the season for pork, though.

Pork is now perishable and the cause of the lowering of the price is due to a company getting overloaded, according to a local grocer.

A check on some of the local food stores, revealed that the price of pork chops has dropped as much as 16 cents a pound in the last few weeks, while the rest of the pork cuts have gone up a few cents.

Asked whether the few cents increase in some of the pork cuts has caused any buyer resistance, one grocer replied that requests for some pork cuts had slowed down but he didn't know if it was buyer resistance or just the season of the year.

"On the hoof," hogs were selling for 20 cents a pound a year ago and they are now selling for 15 cents a pound.

Coffee has gone up a few more pennies. One grocer reported that coffee is selling for a much as $1.04 a pound.

"Does anyone object to this?" he was asked.

"Sure, some of the people say they are going to stop drinking coffee, but they haven't yet," the grocer said.

Summer Brings Tourist Trade, But Most Stop Only To Sleep

Two cross-country highways and a web of state roads are now feeding the tourists into — and out of — Big Spring.

Motel operators here report that their facilities are filled to capacity virtually every night. The "no vacancy" sign goes on early in the evening as a rule, also.

At the rate of two persons to the cabin, Big Spring's 25 motels, have accommodations for more than 700 persons. By the time you crowd the kids in, probably more than 1,000 are provided for.

All these aren't tourists, however. Motel men point out that they have a considerably quantity of "regular customers" — traveling men and others who make periodic stops in Big Spring while attending to business in this area.

Some of the motels also have permanent residents — Big Springers who are unable to find suitable quarters elsewhere — in their apartment units.

Tourist court managers say it is difficult to estimate the number of actual tourists stopping here, although the volume has increased sharply since the first of June.

Majority of the travelers remain overnight only, heading out for their destinations early in the morning. Ninety-eight per cent of the tourists pause here only long enough for a night's rest and to get their automobiles serviced, one motel owner estimates.

The others, traveling leisurely, pause for a day or two, for a closer look at the area or to visit friends here.

Most of the motel operators count July and August as their best months from the tourist standpoint, although one points out that January and February business is equally strong. During the cold months, northern routes are often clogged with ice and snow; hence, many transcontinental travelers drive U. S. 80 through Big Spring.

Tourist travel spurted early in June, immediately after schools across the country ended their spring terms. The vacation season will last well into October.

One of the principal differences in the summer and winter tourist trade is the number of children. Practically every automobile is loaded with young families, including children, in the hot months. During the winter, principal part of the traffic is represented by elderly couples and few children, motel operators say.

Each carload of tourists may leave anywhere from $10 to $20 in Big Spring. The price of their lodging, a couple of meals and a tankful of gasoline is figured in this. On the basis of State Highway Department statistics, it has been estimated that travelers generate about $2,000,000 of business in Big Spring annually.

The tourist volume apparently is increasing. Local motels said their business is up slightly from last summer, and would be even higher during the vacation months if more facilities were available at the peak periods.

The Highway Department also has reported substantial increases in the number of automobiles traveling U. S. 80 which is now featuring four-lane divided pavement.

In fact, the four-lane paving through the Big Spring area is now the longest stretch of such highway in Texas.

U. S. 87, which bisects the nation north and south, intersects Highway 80 here, making Big Spring the focal point for a large volume of traffic from every section of the nation.

July-Pastor

Rev. J. Arthur Hoyle, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church in Wolstanton, England, will serve as pastor of the First Methodist Church here during July. Dr. Jordan Grooms, Big Spring minister, will hold pastorate of Rev. Hoyle's church during the month in an exchange of pulpits.

Lubbock Group To Present Program At VA Hospital

The Bowman Brothers from Lubbock will be at the Veteran's Hospital Tuesday night to present a program for the patients.

Movies will be shown during the week in the Rec Room on the second floor of the hospital. Movies that are scheduled are "The Fighting Cowboy," "Headline Hunters" and a sports movie.

are not able to visit the library themselves.

A favorite entertainment with the patients is the request program which is heard only by the Veteran's Hospital occupants on the hospital's own special radio channel. This program features a mystery tune each week. The last mystery tune, "Blue Room" ran for four weeks before it was correctly identified. Each week the person who identifies the mystery tune is awarded a $1 canteen book. These books are furnished by the American Legion Auxiliary of Midland. Catholic Mass will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. with the Protestant chaplain's coffee hour following at 10. A Protestant fellowship hour will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The American Legion, the Red Cross, the VFW and the American Legion Auxiliary of Midland will visit the wards during the week. These organizations distribute comfort items, visit with the patients and write letters for them.

Another organization which helps in letter writing is the Officers' Wives' Club which sends three of its members to the hospital each Wednesday morning.

The library cart will be sent to wards on Tuesday and Friday mornings. The cart service is provided by the librarian from the hospital library for patients who are not able to visit the library themselves.

Webb Shares In Appropriations

WASHINGTON — Increases in appropriations for some Texas military projects were included in the $2,113,150,000 bill passed yesterday by the Senate.

Changes were made in several Texas projects approved by the House April 12. The bill passed yesterday by the Senate now goes to a conference committee.

Amarillo Air Force Base, Bergstrom AFB near Austin and Sheppard AFB at Wichita Falls would get most of the increases included for Texas in the Senate bill.

The Senate bill proposes $17,121,000 for Amarillo. This was not in the House bill.

The Senate also increased to $15,938,000 the amount for projects at Bergstrom. The House voted $531,000.

Other Senate changes included: Majors Field, Greenville, $440,000. The House figure was $480,000.

Sheppard, $24,433,000. The House had voted $6,842,000.

Projects approved by both House and Senate:

Army: Ft. Hood $2,457,000, Fort Bliss at El Paso $5,301,000, Fort Worth General Depot $1,285,000.

Navy: Alice-Orange Grove area $2,242,000, Orange Station $265,000, Auxiliary Air Station at Chase Field $2,247,000, Auxiliary Air Station at Kingsville $2,610,000.

Air Force: Abilene-APB $1,043,000, Biggs AFB at El Paso $922,000, Brooks AFB at San Antonio $237,000, Bryan AFB $1,388,000, Carswell AFB at Fort Worth $2,400,000, Ellington AFB at Houston $63,000, Foster AFB at Victoria $652,000, Goodfellow AFB at San Angelo $3,894,000, Gray AFB at Killeen $23,000, Connally AFB at Waco $4,687,000, Kelly AFB at San Antonio $1,570,000, Laredo AFB $225,000, Laughlin AFB at Del Rio $212,000, Perrin AFB in Grayson County $2,260,000, Randolph AFB at San Antonio $133,000, Reese AFB at Lubbock $4,164,000, Webb AFB at Big Spring $783,000, Lackland AFB at San Antonio $3,400,000, and Laredo Test Site $1,219,000.

Officials at Webb AFB said Friday morning that they had no information as to what the increased appropriation might be directed. Most frequently, military appropriations stem from the overall planning at top levels and thus a specific installation is not aware of all budgetary provisions until appropriations are made and the information forwarded to the installations.

Palaver

Gary Cooper is shown in palaver with two fierce Indian chiefs, Boris Karloff and Marc Lawrence, in this scene from the Cecil B. DeMille classic, "Unconquered."

'Unconquered' Is Tale Of Pre-Revolutionary Battles

"Unconquered," a re-release from Paramount Studios, is an old Cecil DeMille classic of frontier days. Starring Gary Cooper and Paulette Goddard, it is the story of a Virginia patriot (Cooper) who rescues Miss Goddard, an English bondswoman, and falls in love with her. Howard Da Silva is the villain who sells guns to the Indians. The story centers about Fort Pitt in pre-Revolutionary days, with the French and British vying for power among the Indians. One of the highlights of the film is the siege of Fort Pitt by a huge army of Indians. "Unconquered" shows Thursday through Saturday at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre. Also showing is "Quincannon, Frontier Scout," with Tony Martin and Peggie Castle.

Damone Show For Summer

"Telephone Time" at 4 p.m. today stars Hugh Haas who steps into the role of Christopher Ludwick, a German baker famous for his ginger bread. Ludwick became such an effective secret agent in British camps for the Continental Army that he became known as the baker general. His special talent is getting into British camps as a civilian during the Revolutionary War and telling Hessian soldiers about wonderful opportunities in America. He did this work so effectively that hundreds of Hessians deserted the British ranks.

You can sign up for laughs Tuesday evening at 9 p.m. when Phil Silvers signs in on "You'll Never Get Rich." In this week's episode, Bilko gets taken to the cleaners in a poker game and something has to be done about it! The something involves an empty store rented by the Sarge and a real estate boom that is mysteriously set off.

KBST-TV viewers will have an opportunity to get acquainted with new faces and new shows during the next few weeks as a number of "regulars" on the CBS network take off on summer vacations. "The Vic Damone Show," a half-hour musical program starring baritone, Vic Damone, will premiere on CBS Monday evening, with Channel Four joining the show the following week as an alternate with "Life With Father" at 7:30. The new program which replaces Spring Byington's "December Bride" for the summer months, will be constructed around Damone's life.

Arthur Godfrey takes his cast and his audience with him on a summer vacation in California, and Wednesday night's "Godfrey and Friends" program will originate from Castle Air Force Base, regional headquarters of the Strategic Air Command, south of San Francisco.

"Undercurrent," a filmed drama series, has been lined up as a summer replacement for "The Lineup" (seen Friday evening on Channel Four). The new program, premiering last Friday evening, is comprised of individual action dramas in different locales. Featured will be such Hollywood stars as Virginia Bruce, Pat O'Brien, Dan Clark, Jean Pierre Aumont, Rod Cameron, Lloyd Bridges and Angela Lansbury.

Blore Is Better

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Character actor Eric Blore, 70, who suffered a stroke at his home June 13, is reported in satisfactory condition at the Motion Picture Country Hospital.

Brawn And Sex

Burt Lancaster and Tony Curtis provide titillation for the female half of the audience, and Gina Lollobrigida is satisfaction enough for the other half, in this scene from "Trapeze," a tale of circus ups and downs.

'Trapeze' Is Love Triangle With Circus Background

"Trapeze" is a drama with a circus background and a big-name cast. Taken from the Max Gatto novel, "The Killing Frost," featured entertainers are Burt Lancaster, Gina Lollobrigida and Tony Curtis, supported by Katy Jurado and Thomas Gomez.

Lancaster, cast as a member of a high-flying trapeze team, did most of the aerial gymnastics himself. He was once an athlete and circus hand. Miss Lollobrigida plays the part of a woman who tries to break up the trapeze team, with Curtis playing the other partner in the team.

The picture brings to the screen a good bit of the color of the circus, and permits a peek into the background that the audience never sees. The dramatic theme is based on a love triangle made up of people who must trust each other with their lives, a situation made to order for Director Carol Reed, who also directed "Odd Man Out" and "The Third Man." "Trapeze" plays Tuesday through Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

"Hilda Crane" is a story of woman's marriage troubles. "Hilda Crane," showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre, takes a keen look into the heart and motivation of its heroine, a girl who walks the primrose path while yearning for a more conventional life.

Based on a Broadway play, the film version stars Jean Simmons, Guy Madison and Jean Pierre Aumont. Miss Simmons is cast as a modern sophisticate of rather loose morals who returns home after finding failure in the big city, including two broken marriages and a number of affairs. As she attempts to start anew, her inner security crumbles under the lash of prejudice, disillusionment and exposure as she nears the security she has sought.

Top Stars In 'Jubal'

Jubal Troop is a man marked for violence — marked, that is, by the opposing intrigues of his boss' wife and one of the cowhands. The result is a lot of bloodshed and rather insidious intrigue, putting "Jubal" among the better Westerns. "Jubal" shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre.

Glenn Ford is starred as Jubal; Rod Steiger as the bonnying cowhand; Valerie French as the unfaithful wife, and Felicia Farr as the Good Girl.

Degradation 'Borgia' Theme

"Sins of the Borgias," playing Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre, is a fleshy and violent European product especially made for the American market.

The story is taken from the rather sordid history of the Borgia family, one of the worst offenders during the period of the Renaissance, a period which produced a lot of noise.

Starring are Pedro Armendariz and Martine Carol, a French lovely, as Lucretia Borgia. An example of the swabucking nature of "Sins of the Borgias" is the sequence where 300 men under the Sforza banner storm a Borgia stronghold. The men surprise Lucretia and her ladies-in-waiting at the bath—all naked—and give chase.

OLD YELLER, by Fred Gipson.

Harper & Bros., $2.75. Fred Gipson, who lives over Mason way and who formerly wrote copy for the Herald and other Texas newspapers, before he turned wholeheartedly to novel-writing, has outdone himself in his new book "Old Yeller," which is to be published on July 11.

Harper and Brothers is bringing out a beautiful edition of Gipson's latest yarn. Carl Burger's illustrations in the book somehow catch the spirit of the story and that I think, is a little unusual in itself. If you like dogs and if you like boys, you'll revel in "Old Yeller." It is the story of a boy and the story of a dog. Actually, the tale takes only one short year out of a 14-year-old lad's life in the pioneer country of West Texas. The boy tells the story himself.

There are very few characters—the boy, his father, his mother, young Arliss; his mother, Mr. Searcy, a gabby old neighbor, Lizabeth, who is Searcy's young granddaughter and old Yeller himself make up the entire cast of the story. Oh, there is one other character who merely steps into a brief scene and departs but otherwise the cast is limited to the persons named above.

Old Yeller is the hero, I suppose, but for sheer heroism as such traits are portrayed by ordinary people, the whole group should be so classified. There are so many realistic little touches in the book portraying life as we know it was in frontier times that one could read the story for these alone.

But, above all is a simple, heart touching story, all the more touching, I think, by the very fact that its dramatic highlights are so underplayed and understated.

I'm not going to tell you the story. It is such a simple little tale, stripped to the barebones, that to offer a synopsis would be immeasurably unfair. When it is told by Gipson in the words of the 14-year-old hero, it is tremendously effective and that's how you should become acquainted with it. Gipson is a new author to me but he is not an amateur. He has a sizable list of highly successful books to his credit and from what folk around here tell me, "Hound-Dog-Man," one of his books written before "Old Yeller" must be well worth reading. I am going to scrounge around and see if I can dig up a copy.

"Old Yeller" has made a Gipson fan out of me.

Sinatra Stars In Dope Film

Frank Sinatra scores another dramatic hit in "Man With the Golden Arm," returning Tuesday and Wednesday at the Terrace Drive-In Theatre.

Sinatra stars as a professional poker dealer and dope addict who tries to break away from his seamy life. His greatest enemy is himself.

Kim Novak plays Sinatra's girlfriend who attempts to help him out of the gutter, and Eleanor Parker is Sinatra's pathological wife who unwittingly attempts to destroy him.

Film Tells Story Of Pioneer Rifle

"The Gun That Won The West" could as well have been titled "The Gun That Brought About The Demise Of The American Indian," except that the title's too long. It is the story of the Springfield rifle that increased firepower of Americans to overpowering proportions.

Playing Saturday at the Terrace Drive-In Theatre, the film stars Dennis Morgan and Paula Raymond.

Science Fiction Double Bill At Sahara Drive-In

The Earth as it may be six centuries from now, is featured in the science-fiction thriller "World Without End," showing Sunday through Wednesday at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre.

The story begins with four scientists in the year 1957 on a trip to Mars. They are somehow thrust through a "time barrier" 600 years into the future and land on the Earth, which in the meantime has been blasted in atomic war.

They find all sorts of fantastic creatures born of radiation-induced mutations, and finally stumble upon normal people who have been driven underground by the beasts. The scientists then set about finding a way to help the normal people reconquer the Earth.

The film stars Hugh Marlowe and Nancy Gates. Also on tap is another fantasy thriller, "The Atomic Man," with Gene Nelson and Faith Domergue.

'Conqueror' Is Wayne Thriller

John Wayne and Susan Hayward return to the screen of the Jet Drive-In Theatre Sunday through Tuesday in "The Conqueror," a film based on the life of Genghis Khan.

The story is a fictionalized romance depicting the rise to power in the Gobi Desert of Temujin, as the Mongol conqueror was then known. Pedro Armendariz also stars as a boson buddy of Temujin who worships the young conqueror and foresees the great victories that will be his.

'Bengazi' Setting In North Africa

The North African city of Bengazi is the setting for the film of the same name showing Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. "Bengazi" stars Richard Conte, Victor McLaglen, Richard Carlson and Mala Powers.

Conte portrays an American who trusts his gun but not his partner in his shady dealings. McLaglen is the Irish bistro owner with a bit of steel under the blarney which hides his rascality. Carlson is cast as a British Intelligence officer and a rival of Conte for the affections of Miss Powers, McLaglen's daughter.

Miss Powers comes to the desert city to be with the father she has not seen since childhood and becomes innocently mixed up in one of his roughest scrapes. They go after Arab gold and get shot at considerably by tribesmen before the happy ending.

Whiteman Okays Rock 'N Roll

BALTIMORE (AP)—Paul Whiteman, who has waved his baton in time to both jazz and the classics, will lend his prestige, if not the baton, to rock 'n roll.

Whiteman announced he will sponsor an R and R concert July 11 at Westport Stadium here. But he explained that he'll only be master of ceremonies. Bill Haley, a pioneer in the rock 'n roll field, will do the leading.

If the try-out here, and one later in Jersey City, N.J., are successful, Whiteman said, he'll set up a nationwide tour with himself as M.C.

PLATTER PALAVER

By Mary Sue Hale

The Platters, who received much success with their Mercury recording of "Great Pretender," have a late record release that is bound to see a lot of action in the near future. "Prayer" backed with "Heaven On Earth" are the sides of this newest Platters record.

When teen-agers get together and records are spun, you may be sure that "Born To Be With You" by the Chordettes is among the discs rated highly. Another local favorite is "Wayward Wind" done by Gogi Grant. Still popular is Tony Martin's "Walk Hand In Hand With Me," and "Moonglow," by either the McGuire Sisters or George Gates.

Others that could soon be moving up in local popularity are Pat Boone's recording of "Take Time," and a new one by Tony Bennett, "Forget Her." A brand new release just off the press is one done by a new recording artist, Frank Verna, on a Decca label. The name of the tune is "Wish I Knew." An excellent new style, plus good orchestra backing could give this one a chance.

Remember, a few years back when Les Paul and Mary Ford were just two "unknowns" until they broke through to public acclaim with novelty music. Recorded, then recorded second and third times to create an effect of self-harmony, their music was accepted with much gusto for a long length of time. Popular were their recordings of "Hummingbird," "John Henry," "The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise," and "Vaya Con Dios." Then they more or less stepped out of the limelight of popularity, though they were not entirely forgotten by any means. At present, however, seems that they have a couple of tip and coming numbers that have received enthusiastic responses. Their "Say the Words I Love to Hear," "Cimmaron," and "San Antonio Rose" are three of their records that are present doing well on the market.

Cantor's Wife Ill

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Eddie Cantor's wife Ida suffered a coronary thrombosis last week but is in satisfactory condition, doctors reported.

'Storm Fear' Violent Story

"Storm Fear," playing Sunday through Tuesday at the State Theatre, is the story of the day an intruder broke into a house and tore apart the lives of its people.

Cornel Wilde is starred as the intruder, an escaped and kill-crazy bank robber; Dan Duryea is the master of the house and brother of Wilde; Jean Wallace is Duryea's wife and mother of a young boy conceived out of wedlock many years before by Wilde. Wilde's two accomplices and a friend hand round out the cast, as the story moves to a surprise ending.

Marie McDonald Sues For Divorce

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald, who divorced shoe manufacturer Harry Karl in 1954 and remarried him in 1955, has sued him again for divorce.

Miss McDonald, confined to bed by complications of pregnancy, alleged extreme cruelty in a brief complaint filed yesterday.

A week earlier a divorce and child custody suit brought by Karl in nearby Santa Monica was dismissed. A property agreement signed by the couple gives the actress custody of their two adopted children, plus support and alimony.

JOHN DAVENPORT

Wins Cabot Scholarship

John Davenport, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Dave) Davenport, has been awarded a $2,000 four-year scholarship given by the Cabot Companies operating in the Southwestern Division.

Children of employees living in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Kansas and Oklahoma are eligible for the annual award. A. R. (Dave) Davenport is superintendent of the local Cabot Carbon Company plant.

Young Davenport will attend Texas A&M College, where he will study chemical engineering.

In four years of high school, John had an average of 91.406 in his grades. He finished 18th among the 154 seniors graduating this spring.

Very active in school, John was a member of the Student Council, served as president of the Key Club his senior year and was a regular tackle on the varsity football team his last two years in school.

The scholarship winner is chosen annually by representatives of the University of Texas, University of Oklahoma, SMU and LSU. Their decision for awards is based on scholastic records, character, qualities of leadership, seriousness of purpose and the results of any aptitude tests the Scholarship Committee may designate.

Citizens Must Show Need To Vote Absentee

If a voter is ill, physically disabled or will be out of the county on July 28, he can cast his vote for the first primary by absentee ballot.

He may prepare and file this ballot on any day July 9 through July 25. Ordinarily the opening day is set by law as July 8. July 9 this year falls on Sunday so the day following is the opening of the absentee voting period.

Voters who qualify to cast such ballots may do so at the office of Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, on or after July 9.

Certain formalities must be fulfilled. If the voter claims illness or disability as his reason for being unable to go to the regular voting place on July 28, he must submit a doctor's affidavit stating that such is his condition. Unless he complies with this requirement Mrs. Petty cannot issue an absentee ballot to him.

There must be a sworn statement from all voters who ask to vote by absentee ballot on the grounds they are to be out of the county on primary election day.

Citizens who can qualify under any of these three headings and who can show they have paid poll taxes for the current year will be provided a ballot. This can be marked by the voter and returned to the office of the county clerk. It will be retained until an assigned time and surrendered by the clerk to the election officials for tabulation.

Mrs. Petty estimated there were as many as 800 voters in Howard County who sought to vote by absentee ballot last election.

She has asked the county commissioners court to permit her to employ an extra deputy for the period July 9 through July 25 to handle this work. The court has not as yet ruled on her request.

Around the courthouse, some views were expressed that a considerable number of persons, regard the opportunity of voting by absentee as more convenient than going to the polls on election day. This, they argue, explains the heavy number of absentee ballots cast.

Mrs. Petty's office will require that all applicants for such ballots provide her with the required affidavits specified by law, she has announced.

When such qualifications have been established the absentee ballot will be given to the applicant.
