Outdoor Baby Announcement

Here's an outdoor billboard that attracts attention on the El Camino Real thoroughfare at Millbrea. Calif. It's a baby announcement which Bob and Norma Heyman of San Mateo thought would be a unique and expedient way of letting friends know their first child, Vicki, who was born at Peninsula Hospital. Daddy is connected with an outdoor advertising outfit, which probably prompted the idea.

Parr Faces Threat Count

ALICE — Political boss George Parr was charged yesterday with storming into the Duval County courthouse, carrying a .30 caliber rifle, and looking for a long-time political foe.

Ranger Walter Russell was reported to have disarmed Parr in the basement of the courthouse before he found County Commissioner Tomas Molina who has been opposing Parr.

Charges of "seriously threatening life," a misdemeanor, were filed by Molina and accepted by County Attorney John Mullen and Dist. Atty. Sam Burris.

Witnesses said the argument originated over absentee voting when Parr became angry at remarks Molina made to one of Parr's political workers.

Molina said he talked to the Parr worker but denied making any insulting remarks.

The incident happened late yesterday when Parr rushed into the

Malay War Wallows In Doldrums

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya — "Two water buffaloes killed and one farmer wounded. No terrorists sighted."

That was the report of a patrol of British soldiers who walked out of the Malayan jungle the other day as Britain entered the ninth year of its war upon Communist rebels.

Across the continent from this prosperous residential suburb, FBI Agent Dick Held checked a report last night that the Weiberberger child might have arrived in San Diego, Calif., earlier on an airliner in the arms of a "disheveled" woman.

The report from an airport custodian, Held said, "doesn't look like much."

In Westbury, Stuyvesant Pinnel, chief of Nassau County detectives, added that he knew nothing about it.

The FBI, which until yesterday had been only an observer in the case, turned hunter with a brief but pointed announcement from Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Hoover, in Washington, said his agency's "full resources have been made available with a view to effecting a solution to the case."

This is an expensive war for Britain — about three million dollars a month. It is also unpopular at home. Britons sense the decline of their influence in Malaya. It is hard for them to send out young men, mostly drafted.

The average Malay seems tired of restrictions too.

Roadblocks still dot the highways. Curfews, imposed in 1948, are strictly observed. No cars can be driven between towns after dark. Malay guards still search cars and trucks — particularly those belonging to Chinese — to make sure no food is being carried to the terrorists.

Chinese squatters, put into new villages in 1950 and restricted in areas they can farm, hold a smoldering contempt for the Malay authorities.

Today the Malayan Communist party finds two factors working against it.

Armed rebellion has been downgraded in the context of World Communist strategy. And the rapid grant of Malayan independence — due next year — has cut the ground from under the party's feet.

While Britain will give up its authority here, it will continue to have an interest in this area. It has been negotiating for retention of military bases for a commonwealth strategic reserve.

The British and Malays seem hopeful of declaring an end to the emergency within 18 months.

Friends Aid Return To Native Syria

COFFEYVILLE, Kan. — Ferris Keroney's fervent wish to return to his native Syria has become a reality through the help of some Kansans.

He confided to his Coffeyville neighbors recently he'd like to be with his children and grandchildren for his last years. He has one memento indicating he is 115 years old but a son in Syria said it is more likely he is about 90.

A "going home" fund was started for Keroney, whose white beard and makeshift baby buggy from which he peddles garden truck, are a familiar sight. A rummage sale netted $73.75. The remainder of the $547.11 airplane fare was donated by individuals.

Members of his family have written through an interpreter of their joy in his coming home. Wrote one son:

"I can carry him on my shoulders gladly from Damascus to Suedia and this is my duty toward my father and towards a good man like him."

It is believed Keroney, who ne-

AF Denies Red Claim

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Air Force both here and in Germany has denied Russian claims that its planes flew over Russian territory three times this month.

Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin protested formally to the State Department Tuesday that U. S. planes from West Germany had flown over territory of both Russia and its satellite neighbors July 4, 5 and 9.

The State Department has not yet replied officially, but the Air Force's European headquarters said yesterday, "No aircraft assigned to the command of the U.S. Air Force in Europe violated Soviet or satellite territory."

Acid Tank Explodes In Atomic Plant

SALT LAKE CITY — A 15,000-gallon tank of sulfuric acid exploded in a uranium processing mill here yesterday. The blast, which officials emphasized was not atomic, injured three men, one critically.

FBI Spreads Search For Kidnaped Baby

WESTBURY, N. Y. — The search for kidnaped Peter Weiberberger, 40 days old if he is alive, spread far and wide today with the FBI actively in the case.

Rumors and crackpots continued to plague investigators and add to the burden of grief carried by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weiberberger.

Their tiny son vanished from his carriage on the rear patio of their home eight days ago.

In Brooklyn yesterday a woman who identified herself as Shirley Ginsberg, 34, was arrested as an accessory to the kidnaping in that she allegedly gave false information and obstructed the investigation.

The woman, a former mental patient, was picked up in a candy store. Nassau County police said they had intercepted a telephone call she placed to the Weiberberger home.

"I expected you boys," she was quoted as saying. "I knew you would come after what happened to those other two in Queens yesterday. I shouldn't have done it."

The "other two" were alleged hoaxers accused of luring Mrs. Weiberberger into a vain, six-hour vigil Sunday night during which $5,000 ransom was to be paid and the baby returned. The two men were arraigned in Queens Tuesday on charges of attempted extortion and giving false information on a kidnaping.

Across the continent from this prosperous residential suburb, FBI Agent Dick Held checked a report last night that the Weiberberger child might have arrived in San Diego, Calif., earlier on an airliner in the arms of a "disheveled" woman.

The report from an airport custodian, Held said, "doesn't look like much."

Anti-Red Effort Due New Round

WASHINGTON — The government's long-drawn-out effort to register as a tool of Moscow comes up today for still another round of argument.

This results from a 6-3 Supreme Court decision which sent the case back to the Subversive Activities Control Board for further consideration.

The April 30 decision delayed indefinitely a ruling on constitutional questions, and told the board it must decide whether (1) to disregard in toto the testimony of three government witnesses or (2) to give the party a chance to try to discredit their testimony.

But attorneys for the party are asking much more. In motions filed in advance of today's arguments, they asked in effect that the entire proceeding be reopened.

Attorneys John Abt and Joseph Feyer contended the party now can show that it, and Communists elsewhere outside of Russia, have been acting independently of Moscow and in some instances disagreeing sharply.

The Justice Department is opposing any action that might result in additional prolonged hearings. It wants the board to throw out the testimony of the three questioned witnesses and reaffirm its original decision that the party is "substantially dominated and controlled" by Moscow.

In this position, the department is relying upon the Court of Appeals here, which said the testimony of the three witnesses was supported by "masses of other evidence."

The government witnesses whose testimony is at issue are Manning Johnson, Harvey Matusow and the late Paul Crouch.

The party called them "professional informers" and said they "have committed perjury and are completely untrustworthy."

In sending the case back to the board, the Supreme Court said it wanted to make certain the board didn't rely on "tainted evidence."

The registration proceeding against the party was started in November 1950 under the Internal Security Act, which Congress passed over the veto of former President Truman.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Tallahassee Negroes certainly ignored an announcement that bus service will be resumed here and reaffirmed their determination to hold out for fully integrated seating.

Dulles Sees Aid Cut As 'Disaster'

TEACHER TANGLES WITH COP, NOW MUST ATTEND 'CLASS'

NEW YORK — A Kansas schoolteacher goes to a "class" in court today to answer felonious assault charges resulting from a sizzling encounter with New York traffic cops.

Miss Frances Lindblom, 33, a tall, blonde from Salina, Kan., who's studying for her master's degree at Columbia University, allegedly slapped one cop in the face.

"In Kansas," she said, "we treat people differently than they are treated in New York."

Her trouble arose yesterday when police stopped her and claimed she had made a sharp and sudden turn from a wrong lane on an expressway, forcing other traffic to a squealing halt.

Patrolmen John Marcoella and Thomas O'Keefe said that at their request, Miss Lindblom produced her driver's license, but said she didn't have her car registration with her, then promptly drove away.

When the police car stopped her again, they said, she stepped out the car door slapped Marcoella's face and grabbed for O'Keefe's gun. They handcuffed her and took her to jail.

"I thought the policemen were all through questioning me," she said later. "Then when I saw them charging at me I did the first thing that came to my mind. I certainly didn't mean to break any laws."

Pleads With House For Restoration

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles said today that if House cuts in foreign aid appropriations are allowed to stand it might create "disaster" for the free world.

Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, appealed to the Senate Appropriations Committee to recommend that the Senate vote the full $4,014,000,000 provided for in the recently enacted foreign aid authorization bill.

The House yesterday cut the money bill to $3,690,000,000, against the $4,900,000,000 President Eisenhower recently requested for foreign military and economic aid.

Radford told the committee that the House cuts were so severe it would "require months" to draw up a new military assistance program, "involve serious jeopardy to our security position and might well lead to a further weakening of the defense efforts of our allies."

Both testified at a closed session, but a summary of their testimony was released by the committee.

As he entered the hearing room Dulles told newsmen he would appeal for "the full amount of the authorization bill."

Eisenhower himself, in a follow-up to a Tuesday conference with Republican legislative leaders, was reported contacting Democratic chiefs in his drive to increase funds for the program designed to strengthen free world countries against communism.

The House passed 284-120 a $3,665,920,000 appropriation for foreign aid in the fiscal year started July 1. The amount was $4,485,555,000 below Eisenhower's original request of around five billion dollars. The bill included $3,425,120,000 in new funds plus $240,800,000 in reappropriations of previously voted money that otherwise would revert to the U.S. Treasury.

A previously passed four-billion-dollar authorization bill, setting ceilings for the program but pro-

More Called In Blacklist Probe

WASHINGTON — The House Committee on Un-American Activities solicited the views of four more persons today on a report on blacklisting in the entertainment industry.

The committee said witnesses would be Vincent Hartnett, New York consultant on radio and television; Francis McNamara, director of the American sovereignty campaign of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Godfrey Schmidt and Paul Milton, both connected with Aware, a New York group described as anti-Communist.

Testifies

Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) said testimony of the committee has heard so far "confirms the suspicion . . . the report is not worth the paper it is written on."

The report is a 600-page study of what it terms blacklisting in the movie and radio-TV industries of persons who have been accused of ties with communism. It was edited by John Cogley, and sponsored by the Fund for the Republic.

Several witnesses yesterday took exception to the report's contention that entertainers could have their names taken off an industry "blacklist" through the services of self-appointed "clearance men."

James F. O'Neil, publisher of the American Legion's magazine, said implications of the Legion "cleared" anyone was "a distortion if not a deliberate untruth."

He testified the Legion sought only to rehabilitate entertainers once associated with communism. He said the Legion had "made a major contribution in helping to restore a climate of employment for the innocent, the stupid and the repentant guilty."

The fund report named O'Neil, columnist George Sokolsky and Frederick Woltman, writer for the New York World-Telegram & Sun, among others as members of a "clearance board."

Woltman said, "Any newspaper that proceeded the way Cogley did (in writing the report) would be in serious difficulty."

Woltman described Cogley as "mixed up" and Elizabeth Poe of Los Angeles, who worked on the report, as "sympathetic to the Communist movement." At her home, Miss Poe called this "absolute nonsense" and added that Woltman was seeking "to intimidate me and other writers who attempt to report the facts on controversial situations involving Communists."

Cogley said in a statement released in Pasadena, Calif., by the Fund for the Republic that Woltman "seems to have forgotten" the substance of a conversation they had at a New York news conference last November.

"Mr. Woltman is quoted as telling the committee that I said I had hired Elizabeth Poe because she was friendly to the Communist party," Cogley said. "There is nothing in my background that would make such a statement credible. I would be particularly stupid if I were to make such a statement to so famous an anti-Communist as Mr. Woltman."

Cogley said opinions expressed by Miss Poe in an article on blacklisting "were not necessarily the same as mine" and "I said that I thought differences in outlook among members of my staff might enable me to get an objective view of the problem."

Sokolsky sent a statement saying the report suffered from "inadequate research, from either an unwillingness or an inability to

Egyptian President To Visit Yugoslavia

CAIRO, Egypt — President Gamal Abdel Nasser left by plane today for an eight-day state visit to Yugoslavia. The major event of his trip will be a conference next week with President Tito and Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

Texas Highways Due More Work

AUSTIN — The Highway Department said today it plans to put 100 million dollars worth of the new federal highway money to work on the Texas interstate routes "within a few months."

District engineers were called to a meeting here and sent home with instructions to furnish the department with data on how many miles of work can be placed at once.

A spokesman said work can begin very soon on major arteries where rights-of-way already are in hand. Preliminary engineering has been done on 500 million dollars worth of work on the interstate system within Texas but rights-of-way for all of it are not yet obtained.

"The first federal money under the 90-10 sharing plan will go to the projects where rights-of-way are nailed down," the spokesman said.

"This includes expressways through heavily populated areas and loops around cities, as well as work on major roads between cities on the interstate system."

District engineers made rough estimates that the 100 million dollar highway work can be put up for bids within a few months.

They will report back in greater detail within a few weeks. The department was unable to say where the first federal money will be spent.

Texas has been spending about 192 million dollars a year on highways. Under the plan recently approved by Congress, the program will be more than doubled, with spending about 213 million a year, the spokesman said.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer was in Chicago conferring with highway engineers of all the states on design details for the new interstate roads. These will be submitted to the Federal Bureau of Roads.

Asked if he thought such engineering details might hold up the program in Texas, the spokesman said he did not. He said Texas plans were in such shape now that they could be quickly adapted to meet all requirements of the bureau without a hitch.

"Results of the new money should begin to show within 30 days," he said.

Under the program, the state puts up 10 per cent and the government 90 per cent.

Steel Producers, Unions Hold Negotiating Session

PITTSBURGH — Leaders of three of the nation's top basic steel producers and the United Steelworkers today held their first negotiating session since the nationwide steel strike started 12 days ago.

Government mediators, who prodded both sides to get together at the bargaining table came from Washington to sit in.

Meanwhile, unemployment continued to mount in allied industries. In addition to the 650,000 striking SWU members, 27,770 workers in other industries have been furloughed. Hardest hit are railroads and the coal industry.

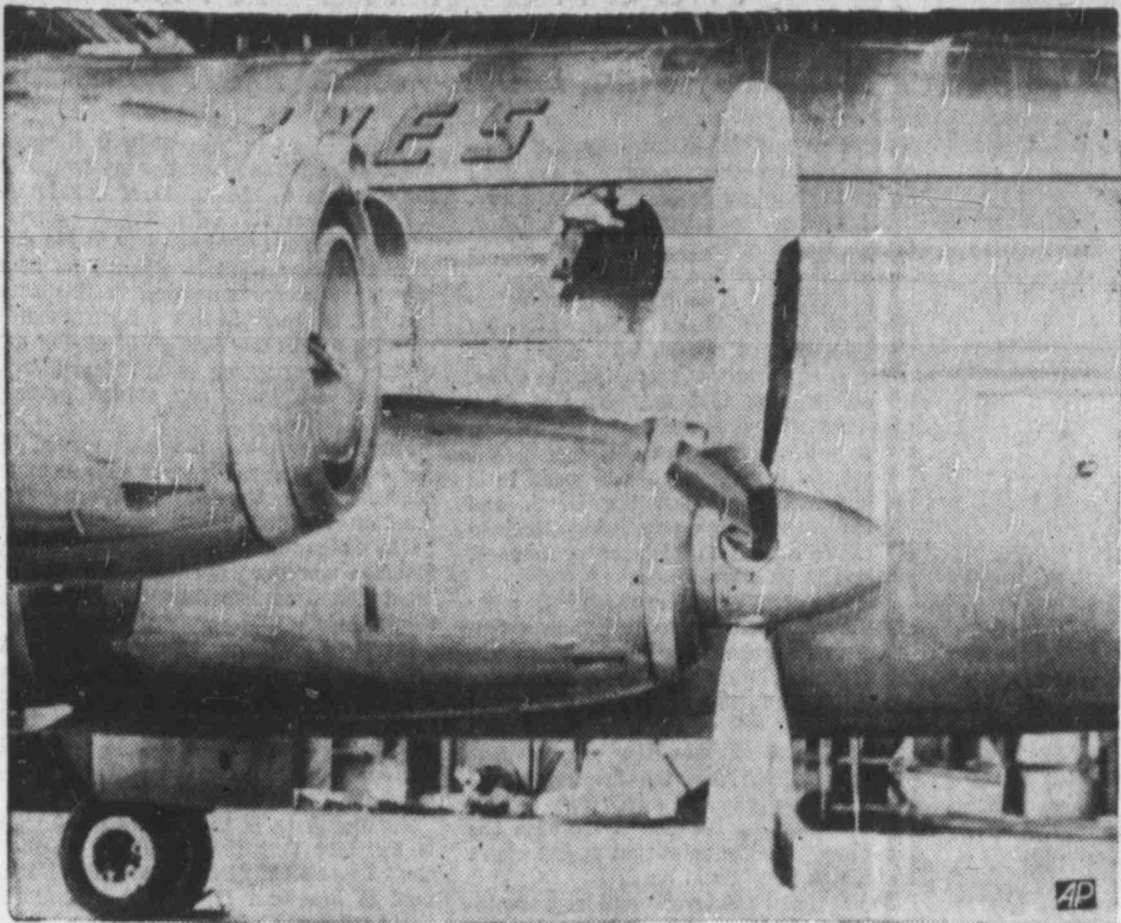

Neither union nor industry gave any indication they would come up with counter offers at today's session, arranged by Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"Although announcing that both sides are 'agreeable and coopera-

Soviets Claim Air Invasion

Underlined are cities in western Russia over which the Soviet government charged American military planes have flown during the past week in a "gross violation of Soviet air space." Soviet ambassador Georgi Zarubin, acting on instructions from Moscow, lodged the protest in a formal note handed to Secretary of State Dulles in Washington. Pending further study, U. S. officials remained silent.

Sheared Prop Kills Passenger

A whirling propeller broke loose in flight on this new English-built Trans-Canada airliner, killing a woman passenger and injuring five other persons. This picture of the new Vickers turbo-prop plane shows the propeller mount from which the blade whirled back into the fuselage. The airliner made an emergency landing at the Windsor, Ont., airport.

LOUISIANA

Legislature Ends Wildest Session

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Louisiana Legislature today wound up the wildest session in many years, with Gov. Earl Long causing most of the uproar. The lawmakers brushed aside new taxes, but set spending records; repealed the two-year-old right to work law, but reinstated it for agricultural workers; voted a whopping pay raise for teachers, but killed the tax measure providing the funds. Long, younger brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, carried on a running feud with anyone who opposed his program. The fiery 60-year-old governor stalked the House and Senate floor, butnholing members, heckling opponents and shouting instructions to his leaders. He touched off a lustrous name-calling feud with Secretary of State Wade Martin Jr. and his father, chairman of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, then pushed through legislation stripping the younger Martin of his duties as state insurance commissioner and custodian of voting machines. Long held the spotlight to the end, going before a joint meeting of the House and Senate shortly after midnight to talk more than one hour. He defended his actions during the session and bitterly attacked newspapers and foes of his tax program. Long began the 60-day session by directing the Legislature to address out of office 14 board members and the chairman of the State Tax Commission who refused to resign at his request. And he easily won passage of legislation nullifying government reorganization under former Gov. Robert Kennon. But one by one, the House killed Long's tax bills. Each fell short, to death on an Allan Shivers old age pension. Earlier Yarborough met with local leaders in Dallas and went on a shopping center handshaking tour before winding up the day with a speech at the Irving rally. "I'm very optimistic, more so than I have ever been in any previous campaign," Yarborough said. "The support I'm getting from the people is the best ever. The people everywhere tell me they know there is a mess in Austin that needs to be cleaned up, and that they didn't know it two years ago."

Yarborough Rips Shivers Regime

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Ralph Yarborough ripped into Gov. Allan Shivers' administration last night and said that if he is elected governor the people will control the Texas government for the first time in 20 years. "I'm not going to keep you people here very long," he told a crowd of about 200 during a 45 minute speech. "But if I were to list all the misdeeds of the Shivers administration, you'd be here until daylight." Yarborough said he was the only Democratic candidate in the race. "I am not just a July and August Democrat," he said. "Four of the six candidates running for governor have campaigned against evil in Austin." Yarborough cited the U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co. collapse and the veterans land scandals as what he called some of the scandals of the Shivers administration. He said two of the insurance commissioners who knew U.S. Trust stock was worthless are still in office and added he would "kick them out" when he went to Austin. "I am not going to put out a fire, I am going to Austin to build a fire," Yarborough continued. He promised pay increases for teachers, more class room space, better industrial safety laws and a $30 old age pension increase. "When I get in office the old people of Texas will be treated with as much dignity as Allan Shivers gives an old millionaire," he said. "A lot of old people are suffering from malnutrition, which is a fancy medical term for starving

TESCO Chief Rakes Brazos River Program

HOUSTON (AP)—Portions of the Brazos River Authority's long-range development program yesterday were called "ill-conceived, uneconomic and unjustifiable" by J. B. Thomas, president of the Texas Electric Service Co. The Fort Worth executive spoke before the Kiwanis Club. He said a plan to generate electricity at Brazos reservoirs and then pump downstream water back into the reservoirs with purchased power is impractical. The cost of the project, he said, would be twice the value of the power produced. The president of the authority, H. S. Hilburn of Plainview, said he would not comment on Thomas' remarks until he had studied a text of the speech. There is some dispute, he said, between engineers of utility companies and those of the authority as to the economic feasibility of the project. "When the final engineering reports are in, we can resolve as to what is feasible," Hilburn said. The authority's sole interest is to make the fullest possible use of Brazos River water, he said. About 18 months ago the authority proposed that five additional dams be constructed on the upper Brazos. Power produced by the reservoir system would be sold to private power companies to meet peak-load demand. When industrial and residential demand is low, the authority proposed to purchase from the private companies sufficient power to pump downstream water back into the reservoirs. Evaporation from the reservoirs during such a process, Thomas said, would reduce the amount of water available for downstream irrigation. This would increase the cost of water to the irrigation operators from four to nine times. The only water shortages in the United States today are in areas where tax free, government-financed electric systems and the clumsy hands of bureaucracy have killed off the ability of private enterprise. Thomas claimed.

On Monday, McDevitt closed the City Hall pressroom. Peters then instructed reporter Charles Kessler to pose on the City Hall steps with a typewriter in his lap for a staff photographer. Kessler borrowed the typewriter from a city office and as he headed back up the steps to return it, he encountered McDevitt and Police Chief Bernard Richards. Kessler said McDevitt snapped: "Lock him up." Kessler was jailed briefly on a charge of "creating a nuisance and holding up traffic." On Tuesday he was found guilty of disorderly conduct and fined $51.25. The case was appealed by the newspapers. The Eagle and Times said other instances of harassment included the ticketing of newspaper delivery trucks by police deliberately trailing the vans. More than 35 tickets have been issued so far, charging such violations as double parking. The newspapers say they intend to fight these charges also. They maintain the delivery truck drivers had done before without interference—stopping at regular delivery stations just long enough to drop off supplies of papers. McDevitt said reporters had behaved in unseemly manner at City Hall; that some had burst into his private office after being told by his secretary that there was no news; and that certain reporters "distorted the facts." He earlier had accused the Times of "deteriorating into yellow journalism." That statement was printed in full by both newspapers. "It is so bad," continued McDevitt, "that I am sure the management of the papers doesn't realize just how bad it has become." The mayor denied that any "phony" traffic tickets had been issued. Peters said the mayor had never complained about unseemly conduct to the newsmen's superiors and that any distortion was "in the mayor's mind."

House Gets In Way Of Car

DENVER (AP)—A 3-year-old boy took a drive in the family car yesterday until a vacant house got in his way. Young Robert Daniel (Danny) Dillon Jr. was undamaged. But the car and house suffered to the tune of about $500 each. It all started when Danny's mother left the house for five minutes after putting him to bed. Danny got up. He dragged up a chair so he could reach a cabinet. He fished the car keys out of the cabinet. He found the car and took the automatic drive out of reverse. He started the car—and put it into reverse again. Off went the car—down 30 feet of the Dillon driveway, across the 24-foot street and up over 30-foot lawn to the house. It smashed into the kitchen and stopped against an inside wall—cracking the wall. His mother and neighbors found Danny cowering on the floorboards. "I want out, Mommy," he said.

But one by one, the House killed Long's tax bills. Each fell short, to death on an Allan Shivers old age pension. Earlier Yarborough met with local leaders in Dallas and went on a shopping center handshaking tour before winding up the day with a speech at the Irving rally. "I'm very optimistic, more so than I have ever been in any previous campaign," Yarborough said. "The support I'm getting from the people is the best ever. Mayor Denies Muzzling Press

READING, Pa. (AP)—Mayor Daniel F. McDevitt says his withdrawal of certain privileges from Reading's two daily newspapers is a "stand in the public interest" that has been getting public support. McDevitt made his statement yesterday in denying that he was interfering with freedom of the press by his actions, which the Reading Eagle and The Reading Times term "large-scale harassment." McDevitt said that "when you take action against what we have locally, a monopoly of news... it must be broad and bold. For the moment I must maintain my position. I'm terribly sorry."

Loses Car On Trade-In Deal

BALTIMORE (AP)—Theodore B. Fowler had a car, went to trade it for a new one and went home by bus without any. Fowler's complaint to the department of motor vehicles has been referred to the state's attorney. Fowler reported that while he and a salesman were negotiating, another took away his car. Meanwhile, Fowler signed what he said he thought was a conditional sales contract. But finally he didn't like the deal and asked for his car back. The salesman told him he had sold it by signing the contract. Besides, he was told, his car already had been sold to another. Fowler still is riding the bus.

Offers Reward For Return Of Hams

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Restaurant operator John Balson offered a reward today for the return of 40 hams stolen from his restaurant. He promised to forget about the $88 in stolen cash. "You can't get hams that have been cured two years any more," he said. "I'll give anybody $50, no questions asked, if I can get them back. They can keep the money, but I've got country ham on my menu."

Storms Thin Out In Texas

By The Associated Press Afternoon thundershowers that lashed sections of Texas earlier in the week thinned out Wednesday. An Ennis church in Central Texas said it was starting a series of prayers for rain. The pastor of St. John-Holy Redeemer Catholic Parish at Ennis, Father John McCallum, said the series started Wednesday. Only a few points reported showers. Houston had 92 inches. Sherman and Beaumont received a trace. Amarillo had a shower early Thursday. Skies were clear to partly cloudy. The five-day forecast called for partly cloudy weather with a few scattered showers. Thundershowers raged across areas in the mid-continent today and headed eastward across the Great Lakes into new England. Fair weather prevailed from the lower Ohio Valley and Tennessee eastward to the Atlantic Coast and also in most of the Far West. Scattered thundershowers were reported during the night from Oklahoma northeastward into the Great Lakes region. Heavy rain fell in many areas, including Omaha, Gladwin, Mich., and in parts of Iowa and Wisconsin. Strong winds and hail hit sections of the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region. In the West, showers and thundershowers spread over a wide area from the Northern Plateau region and the Rockies eastward across the Plains. Falls were mostly light.

Mother, Child Get Bathtub Shock

DETROIT (AP)—Pressed for time, Mrs. Alva Perry put her 9-month-old son Mitchell in the bathtub, plugged an electric mixer into a bathroom outlet and prepared to mix a cake while bathing the child. She was mixing and Mitchell was splashing when the mixer slipped from her hands and into the tub. Mitchell was knocked unconscious by electric shock. He was revived and suffered no apparent injury, police said.

Firemen Held Up At Train Crossing

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP)—All alone, Stanley Zuras, 60, fought a fire which swept through his motel while firemen waited helplessly for a train to pull away from a crossing. When he saw the fire was out of control, Zuras ran outside, keeled over and died of a heart attack. Later when the train had moved on, firemen drove across the tracks and put out the fire. The interior of the 12-unit frame motel was destroyed. Firemen said an explosion of undetermined origin touched off the blaze.

Boy Turns Thief To Eke Out Allowance

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A 13-year-old Topeka boy told officers he broke into a service station because his $40-a-month allowance doesn't keep him in cigarettes. He was turned over the juvenile authorities. His name was not divulged. Deputy Sheriff Don Becker quoted the lad as saying he usually spent his allowance in about two days on swimming, movies and candy. The money was provided by his grandmother, with whom he lived.

Mrs. Benson Speaker For Planters Club

"Iris is more than a flower; it is a symbol," Mrs. J. D. Benson told members of the Planters Garden Club Wednesday afternoon. The club met in the home of Mrs. C. R. McClenny.

The speaker told the group that iris has a different meaning in various parts of the world. Named for a goddess in mythology, the plants will bloom at various times of the year. Mrs. Benson said that there are varieties which will bloom twice a year.

In case the iris does not bear blossoms, the chances are that the rhizomes are planted too deeply. They should be just barely covered with soil. Another reason for the lack of blooms is that the foliage was cut too short the year before, Mrs. Benson said.

In trimming the leaves after they have turned brown, cut above the four bottom leaves, as that is where the flower buds are formed. July and August are the months for dividing and resetting irises. Be sure to feed them bone meal in the planting.

It was announced that the Council of Garden Clubs will sponsor a Spring Flower Show. The Fall Flower Show date was set for Sept. 23; the place to be announced later.

Members made plans to assist in entertaining the meeting of sub-district One of garden clubs, scheduled to meet here Oct. 16.

Mrs. S. P. Jones reported on the flowers taken to the State Hospital for Sunday services. The club is responsible for the arrangements for the months of July and August.

The club voted to make the year-books for the coming year, with the decorations to be done by members. It was also decided to bring a pot picnic each meeting for a special prize.

An arrangement will be displayed by a member at each meeting. This will be given constructive criticism. A picnic is planned for the August meeting, with the date and the place to be announced. The committee is composed of Mrs. Ennis Cochran and Mrs. J. W. Dickens.

Refreshments were served to 13 members and the guest speaker.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

There's nothing like a little one to bring the parents back from flights of fancy! For the past few years I have been loudly complaining about not enough closets, not enough room and not enough of a great many things that seem important to me. Recently when I was complaining about there not being enough of something, our youngest stopped me cold with "but there's lots of love in our house." And that will keep me satisfied for a long time!

LT. COL. AND MRS. EDWIN C. MCANALLY and their three children from McMill, Fla., plan to leave Friday after a visit here with her mother, Mrs. Caribel Laughlin, and other relatives. Lt. Col. McAnally has received orders to a station on Okinawa. His family is to accompany him.

MRS. C. B. SULLIVAN and son Coral B. have returned from Selma, Ala., where they visited Capt. and Mrs. Lynn Thomas.

Putting the last minute touches on their traveling clothes are MR. AND MRS. C. NOBLE GLENN who are to leave Sunday for Dallas. In Dallas they will join other winners of the Great American Reserve for a plane trip to Havana, Cuba. They will be there for four days.

MR. AND MRS. J. W. LANGSTON and their children have returned to Fort Worth after spending several days here with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fielder and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Fisher.

MR. AND MRS. FRED BECKHAM have had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Leland Thwait and Joe of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Beth Thwait and Elizabeth and Ray of Marion, Ark. The boys busied themselves with collecting souvenirs of horned toads and mesquite beans to take back and impress their friends in Tennessee and Arkansas.

Something to think about: If all the cars in this country were put end to end, 96 per cent of the drivers would pull out to pass the car ahead.

BOB DAILEY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Dailey, and his cousin, JAMES ROBERT HASTON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Haston, left Wednesday morning for Fort Worth. There they will visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Haston.

The Orbin Daileys have recently

Lenorah Couple Wed In Double Ring Rites

STANTON — Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Allred of Lenorah are at home following their marriage July 6 at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. J. F. Field of the Courney Baptist Church read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Bonnie Evelyn Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Green of Lenorah. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allred of Lenorah.

Women's Club Meets

LAMESA — The Junior Woman's Study Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Aiken for an ice cream supper, with their husbands and children as guests. Hostesses with Mrs. Aiken were the officers of the club. About 40 attended the backyard supper. The next meeting will be held July 24th. It will be a swimming party with the husbands as guests.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Ballerina Gives Tips On Favorite Exercise

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Ballerina Yvonne Chouteau is Oklahoma City's contribution to the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

"I have had wonderful opportunities," Yvonne told me when I visited her in her dressing room at our Greek Theater.

"When I was 14 I was given an audition to find out how much longer I needed to work before the Ballet Russe would consider me. Much to my surprise I was invited to become a member of the corps de ballet. At that time the great Danilova was the prima ballerina. She was a great inspiration to me."

"Was it a hard struggle to become a soloist?" I asked.

"I can't complain," she said modestly. "Five years ago when I was given the lead in 'Romeo and Juliet' I became a ballerina."

Yvonne's body is so beautifully streamlined I asked if she had any trouble keeping her weight down.

"Not when I am dancing," she confessed. "But a ballerina has to work every day. When I take a vacation for two weeks in the summer it is amazing how hard it is to get back to normal suppleness."

"But I do believe in a vacation," she explained. "It relaxes the mind and stimulates one's desire to work."

We chatted about how much Yvonne has traveled all over the world with the ballet and the

Because of her extensive traveling with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, Yvonne Chouteau has learned to select her wardrobe with care. The lithe ballerina is from Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Jewell Caldwell Honored By Rebekahs If You Can Swoon, Prepare To Do It Now

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—You've got to be elegant this fall.

You've got to dress to the teeth, act like a lady and perhaps learn to swoon with the grace that grandmother understood so well.

That is the theme that has been impressed upon the American fashion press this week, during a series of previews of New York fall styles, all of which have been bitten by a nostalgic bug producing large rashes of ladylike elegance in the 1912 manner.

Pauline Trigere, the transplanted French designer who is now happily American, hits a high note of suave, understated magnificence in her collection of great lady fashions. There is nothing flimsy or overdone, but there is definitely a new air of formality.

An example is the almost shamelessly simple collarless suit of red velvet, which manages to caress the figure with subtle suggestion, achieving a nostalgic look for no good reason except possibly the prim little milk choker worn with it, or the way the model wears her hair, in buns over each ear.

Ben Zuckerman, master of the tailored touch, softens the line this season with Empire suggestion, feminine detail and lush fabrics. His suits, while still unmistakably tailored by a master hand, have a look of fragility that is the mark of the new season's female.

Family Reunion

STANTON — The 21st annual reunion of the Angel family was held recently at the State Park, Buffalo Gap near Abilene.

The 96 attending were from Brownwood, Rising Star, Midland, Plainview, Breckenridge, Maytown, Snyder, Fort Worth, Abilene, Big Spring, Buffalo Gap, California, and Stanton.

STANTON — Forty-two attended the banquet.

Immediately following the banquet, a joint meeting was held at the IOOF Hall with the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge, 284, and the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge 133 as co-hostesses.

Mrs. L. A. Griffith, noble grand of Big Spring Lodge, presided.

Other lodges attending the joint meeting included Lamesa Lodge, 90, Stanton Lodge, 287, Knott Lodge, 14, and Elmira Lodge, 240 of Dallas.

Distinguished guests present were the past president of the Texas assembly, Mrs. Tommy Alexander of Lubbock; Mrs. Jones Lamar; Jones Lamar, district deputy grand master; lodge deputies, Mrs. Henry Roger, Mrs. Leon Cole, and Mrs. Stella Lou Sealey from Lamesa.

Taking charge of the program, Mrs. Caldwell gave an outline of all the objectives for each lodge for the coming year. Her theme is "Faith" and her slogan is "Hitch Your Wagon To The Star of Faith."

Mrs. Caldwell also discussed the lodge project at the Home for the Aged in Ennis and the Children's Home in Corsicana. She urged all present to attend the pilgrimage to Corsicana on Sept. 2.

Following the president's talk, Mrs. C. D. Herring Jr., in behalf of the lodges represented, presented to Mrs. Caldwell a gift of silver dollars which were encased in a silver and blue wagon decorated with blue carnations.

An example of the gifts were conferred to 11 candidates.

Refreshments were served to 75 who attended.

Housewarming Given

STANTON — Mr. and Mrs. Helmar Hamm were honored with a housewarming in their home in the Lenorah community. Mr. and Mrs. Hamm recently moved into their new home. Refreshments were served by Sue Standefer, Mrs. A. C. Fleming and Mrs. Herbert Schuelke to 30 attending.

Girl Scout Troop On Way Home

The Tumblewood Patrol, a group of senior Girl Scouts from this area, left the First National Round-up of Senior Girl Scouts Tuesday. The gathering was held near Milford, Mich.

Included in the patrol are Helen Gray and Nancy Cunningham of Big Spring, Gale Moore of Abilene, Brenda Boatler and Judy Keller of San Angelo, Sydney Ann Edwards and Jane McMunkins of Sweetwater and Kay Nance of Odessa.

One of the highlights of the encampment was the Fourth of July celebration, given especially for the 6,000 girls.

There was a welcome address by the national president of Girl Scouts; a parade and appearances by Jacqueline Cochran Odium, Charlton Heston, movie star, and Jo Anne Warren of Lubbock, winner of the scout contest on "What America Means To Me."

Fifty-five minutes of fireworks ended the day's celebration.

Mrs. O. Rhoades Is Honored With Tea

LAMESA — Mrs. O. Rhoades was complimented with a going away gift tea Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy Bearden on the Stanton Highway.

Hostesses with Mrs. Bearden were Mrs. B. E. Dudley, Mrs. W. B. Marshall, Mrs. V. Z. Rogers, Mrs. T. C. Glaze, Mrs. Bell McBride, Mrs. R. G. Reagan, Mrs. Marvin Gresham, Mrs. Alice Flenniken, Mrs. W. T. Hamilton, and Mrs. O. H. Sires.

The serving table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of shasta daisies and balsam with the appointments in milk glass.

Mrs. Rhoades leaves next week for Phoenix, Ariz. About 75 called during the tea hours.

Perfect For Rural Use

The Rheem Wedgewood butane range, being demonstrated here by Mrs. S. M. Smith, is designed especially for use in farm areas. It is a stove boasting all the latest features, including the one-piece Flo-Front and perfect flame control. The S. M. Smith Butane Company is local distributor for the range.

Welcome Mat Out

Tourist and local business alike is welcome at the Harland Magnolia Service Station (above), located at 1000 Lamesa Highway in Big Spring. The concern sells Magnolia premium gasolines and motor oils and a limited amount of automotive features. Owner and operator is Grady Harland, long-time Howard County resident.

Wedgewood Range Popular In Farm Homes

The Rheem Wedgewood Select-O-Matic butane range, sold locally by the S. M. Smith Butane Company, is proving increasingly popular with rural dwellers throughout the area.

The Wedgewood boasts many exclusive features, including the one-piece Flo-Front top, easy to clean; the pot-watcher, clock control, glass oven-door and griddle cover.

It comes equipped with perfect flame control. Exact heat on top of the range is one of the secrets of cooking success, and the new Rheem-Wedgewood offers you the perfect flame for any type of cooking. Four standard positions are clearly marked... although a thousand and one heats are at your disposal.

Wedgewood Select-O-Matic clock is your willing assistant in all your cooking projects. It signals the exact minute and hour when your meal is ready and it automatically turns off the oven at a preset time, if you so desire.

The big 17-inch Rheem-Wedgewood oven makes even a giant turkey look small. It easily cooks an entire dinner at one time. It's super-well insulated, which means even oven temperature for better baking, and a cooler kitchen, too.

At a touch of the finger, the Eze-Set Selector broiler glides easily up and down to any one of the five broiling positions.

Smith Butane is also the headquarters for Mission and Ranger butane hot-water heaters, the famous Beard butane tanks and other accessories, which make for better living around the rural home.

All such equipment will be demonstrated upon request at the S. M. Smith concern, which maintains its offices on the Lamesa Highway, at the edge of the city limits here.

Sewing Machine Helps To Keep Living Costs Down

Modern housewives are able to stretch family budgets in many ways and they do so.

Many have learned that a modern sewing machine is a necessity in these days of high cost of living. A woman with a modern sewing machine, even though she may not have any particular gift as a seamstress, can do highly creditable work. The reason rests, in fact, that modern sewing machines — as typified by the Necchi and Elna — are so trouble free and so completely equipped that much of the difficult features of excellent sewing is automatically done by the machine.

Gilliland Sewing Machine Co., 120 E. 2nd, distributors in this area for the famed Necchi and Elna machines, demonstrates daily to many Big Spring women that sewing today is a relatively simple art. The machines are equipped to do automatically many of the finishing touches which formerly required the highest skill on the part of the individual.

The modern Necchi and Elna to relieve sewing of its more difficult features. All a woman, who is not familiar with sewing and who has not had experience with modern sewing machines, should do to convince her of the need she has for a Necchi for an Elna is to visit Gilliland's.

Two To Attend Lions Crippled Children Camp

Two Big Spring girls will leave this weekend for two weeks of camping in the hill country near Kerrville. They will be at the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children under sponsorship of the Downtown Lions club. Making the trip will be Peggy June Dalton, 14, and Janetie Sarah Dalton, 12, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dalton, 805 W. 7th Street. Taking them to camp will be John Gregory, member of the sponsoring club. The camp is free to any handicapped child in Texas from ages 7 through 16. Applications are handled only through local Lions Clubs. Except for the last two weeks in August, the camp periods (accommodating 120 each) have been booked solidly. The camp has 13 permanent buildings and a staff of 97, all made possible by Lions of Texas.

State Fiddlin' Contest Slated

PARIS — Fiddlers throughout Texas will settle the Texas State Championship in Paris, Texas, Aug. 20-25 at the annual Red River Valley Exposition. Entries are now being accepted to the Texas Championship Fiddlin' Contest, contest officials announce. Musicians in the Big Spring area were extended an invitation to participate in the contest by Roy Glenn, Paris, chairman of the event which will highlight the week-long Exposition. The champion will receive $200 first prize cash. Music will be judged on "break down" tunes only by a panel of experts. The applause meter will not be used. Any age person may enter the contest, "from 10 to 105." Professional musicians who earn over half their income from playing music are not eligible.

Faces Hoaxers
Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger, mother of kidnapped Peter Weinberger, is flanked by Detective Frank Steiner, left, and her uncle, Milton M. Fischer, as she arrives at Ridgewood Felony Court in New York for the arraignment of the two men accused of making hoax telephone calls to her. A new rash of crank telephone calls broke out as the pair, Robert F. Giebler, 27, and Gordon T. Rowell, 24, were arraigned for attempted extortion and giving false information to police.

Personnel Expert Addresses Lions

Across the board, employees show only 67 per cent efficiency in the discharge of their duties. This is what surveys of business and industry have shown, according to S. H. (Dutch) Womack, who is to instruct a course in human relations next week. Womack is with the University of Texas Extension Division and the course is being sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and Howard County Junior College. He addressed the downtown Lions Club Wednesday noon. Womack said that the problem of increasing productivity of employees frequently was one of helping solve personal problems. The easy way is to discharge an employee for inefficiency; the wise way is to get at problems, which is the purpose of the course, he said.

Stanton Rotary State Installed

STANTON — James Webb has been installed as the new president of the Stanton Rotary Club. Other officers installed for the ensuing year were Arthur Wilson, vice-president; Martin Gibson, secretary; and Dr. R. M. Hornberger, treasurer. Neal Estes and Robert Herzog are the new club directors with Ralph Caton and Jack Arrington completing the four-man panel. Retiring president Arrington introduced Ralph Caton who served as installation marshal during the ceremonies.

Three Firms Get Classroom Plans

Three potential bidders have secured plans so far on elementary classroom additions proposed for Big Spring Schools. Bid opening date is July 24. Among those checking out plans so far are J. W. Cooper, Odessa; A. P. Kasch & Sons, Big Spring; and Henry E. Miller, Lubbock. Kasch & Sons also are due to submit proposals on additions to the Ector County Library at Odessa on July 16 at 2 p. m. and on the John C. Hays Elementary school at Odessa on July 31.

Auto Not Enough To Stop This Gal

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—It takes more than an automobile to put 78-year-old Mrs. Lorena Stephens out of commission. She was seated on a bus bench yesterday when W. J. Raines' car rounded a corner, jumped the curb and knocked Mrs. Stephens sprawling. She was taken to Santa Monica Hospital, where she told attendants: "My back hurts a little, but I think I can make it home all right." She did, too.

MARKETS

STOCK MARKET
NEW YORK (AP)—Prices were up moderately in active early trading in the stock market today. A few small losses peppered the list. Coppers made about the best showing on futures trading, with the copper price 1/4 cent. Anaconda, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge were ahead a point or so. Industry stocks showed little change. Republic Steel and Youngstown Steel led the uptick. U. S. Steel was up 1/2 cent. Long Bell Lumber sold more than 2 points. Chrysler was off 1/4 cent. General Dynamics up 1/4 cent. Boeing up 1/2 cent. and Royal Dutch up 1/2 cent. Boeing stretched its gain to more than a point. Long Bell Lumber sold more than 2 points. Most chemicals showed yesterday's gains. Rails and motors were narrowly mixed. Oils were off by small fractions.

16 ROTC Cadets Due Commissions

Sixteen of the 200 ROTC cadets, now rounding out a month's training at Webb AFB, will be commissioned in special ceremonies at the base chapel today. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is to address the group at 7:30 p. m. Col. Charles M. Young, wing commander, is to make the presentation of the commissions. In the audience will be 11 representatives of five colleges which have ROTC students at the base during the first period of summer training.

Christian Men Set Convention

CLEVELAND, Ohio—In the first national convention of its kind, thousands of American men will gather in this city, Sept. 14-16, to proclaim their faith in God and dedicate themselves to Christian living. Coming from virtually all states and representing all walks of life, these "men from the pews" will be delegates to the first National Convention of Christian Men, convened by United Church Men, men's wing of the National Council of Churches. The Rev. Billy Graham, the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale, Mayor Roe H. Bartle of Kansas City and Congressman Walter Judd are scheduled to address the convention during its three days at the public auditorium. The meeting, which will bring together men from upwards of 30 different denominations and communities, will also be marked by a fellowship breakfast, workshop discussions on the role of men in the nation's religious life, and a pre-convention luncheon with Ohio civic leaders in attendance. Chairman of the convention is J. Clinton Hawkins, St. Louis, Mo., business leader and national chairman of United Church Men. "The United Church from its inception has been primarily a lay movement, but men have not always realized their importance or part in it," Hawkins declared. "Outstanding advances and changes have usually been made by laymen, but in today's rapidly moving society too many men have lost touch with the real life of the church. Their group interests have drifted into secular channels, particularly during the past 50 years. Now the church is attempting to recapture their interests and loyalties."

Jury Hearing Damages Suit

A district court jury in 118th District Court was hearing initial evidence this afternoon in a damage suit in which the plaintiff asks that she be paid $266,918. The litigation stems out of a traffic fatality which occurred 12 miles west of Big Spring on U. S. 80 on the night of May 24, 1955. Killed in the crash was Harold C. Parrott, 46-year-old bus driver and used car lot operator. Plaintiff in the suit is his widow, Geneva Parrott. Defendant is E. B. Cumble, doing business as B. & C. Tankers, Midland. A jury was selected at 10:30 a. m. Attorneys made their statements to the jury and Mrs. Parrott was called as the first witness.

Trio Struck By Vehicle

Mrs. William R. Hall and her two small sons were treated for minor injuries at the Malone & Hogan Hospital Wednesday afternoon after they were struck by an automobile on U. S. 80 in front of the OK Trailer Courts. None of the trio was hurt seriously enough to require hospitalization. The mishap occurred about 4 a. m. and Mrs. Hall and her children started across the highway. They were taken to the hospital in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance. Driver of the car involved was not identified. Sheriff's officers said he applied the brakes and his car sideswiped the trio. In another Highway 80 mishap, a trailer house was demolished when it overturned near the Martin-Howard line.

Three Wrecks Occur In City Wednesday

Three traffic wrecks occurred in Big Spring Wednesday. One involved a parked car. An auto driven by June B. Corcoran, 109 NW 9th, was in collision with a parked vehicle owned by Donald Carter, 310 Lancaster, last night. The mishap occurred at Fourth and Lancaster. Ira Gene Mathews, 601 W. 18th, and Billy Ray Howell, 309 11th Place, were drivers whose cars collided at Second and Main during the afternoon. In collision at Third and Goliad were machines operated by Alvin Eugene Nabors, 1701 Gregg, and Wynette Caldwell Green, 1203 Mulberry.

Theft Reported

W. B. Brown, 1101 E. 3rd, reported theft of a radio and record player from his home Wednesday. He supplied police with the name of a suspect.

Carried From Ruins
A rescuer carries an injured boy on his shoulders from the ruins of shattered houses in the cliffside village of Santorini on the Aegean Island of Thira after a disastrous earthquake. The village was one of the hardest hit in the Greek Islands, Greece, declining offers of assistance from the United States and England, went ahead with the grim task of rescue and the counting of the dead and the injured.

Workman Wins In Compensation Suit

A jury in 118th District Court, deliberating less than an hour, Wednesday afternoon declared that Eduardo Mendoza, Mexican laborer, had been left totally disabled as result of an accident two years ago. The verdict ruled that Houston Insurance and Casualty company owed the laborer more than $8,000 for compensation. Mendoza had brought suit against the insurance company for compensation as result of an accident in April, 1954. He was employed at that time as a workman demolishing the old Howard County Court House. A wall collapsed and buried Mendoza under brick and rubbish. His contention was that injuries which he sustained have left him totally incapacitated. He sought compensation in his original petition for 401 weeks at $25 per week. The jury's verdict reduced the per week pay average but left the collectible compensation at its original mark. Attorneys for Mendoza calculated he would get slightly more than $8,000. The insurance company confessed that Mendoza was possibly disabled 25 per cent. It also showed films which an agent had secretly made of Mendoza allegedly showing the plaintiff at work in cotton fields. The trial had occupied a day and a half in district court. Judge Charlie Sullivan presided in the case.

Local Livestock Auction Steady

The market remained steady, as sales were resumed at the Big Spring Livestock Auction Wednesday after the July 4 layoff. Bulls sold up to 14.00, fat cows up to 11.00, butcher cows from 7.00 to 9.00, butcher calves and yearlings from 16.00 to 18.50, stocker calves from 14.00 to 15.00, heifer calves from 13.00 to 14.00, cows besides calves from 9.00 to 11.00 and hogs up to 15.50. An estimated 400 cattle and 75 hogs went through the ring.

Area Men Attend Tech Hog Course

Back from Lubbock where they participated in the third annual Texas Tech swine short course are teachers and swine breeders from several towns in this area. The course conducted Monday and Tuesday included hog judging events, addresses on marketing of swine, meat testing procedures, disease control, feeding and nutrition, heritability in hogs, and practical details in swine management. Among those attending were A. H. Smith, Ackery vocational agriculture teacher; Andrew H. Esary, vocational agriculture teacher, Johnny Grissom, swine breeder, and Lon McDonald, VA teacher, from Lamesa; and W. R. McMullan, VA teacher from Snyder; and Clemon Montgomery, Big Spring, area vocational agriculture supervisor.

Tech Conducts Food Workshop

A number of school food service representatives have been attending a five-day workshop at Texas Tech this week. Twenty-seven food specialists from seven states have been conducting sessions on new developments in food preparation, meal service, food buying, meal planning and related subjects. The Tech home economics division is sponsoring the conference in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Dulles Seeks Better Indian Relationship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles apparently is seeking to improve U.S. relations with neutral India and abate a wordy storm over the American attitude toward neutrality.

That, at least, is the impression created by his news conference comments yesterday — one of which indicated some slight disagreement with Vice President Nixon.

Dulles later conferred with the retiring U.S. ambassador to India, John Sherman Cooper, an advocate of substantial U.S. assistance to India's long-term development.

Cooper told reporters afterwards he wants to get "some decisions" on economic aid to India before he steps out, probably at the end of next week, to campaign for the Senate for Kentucky.

Cooper declined to comment on a Senate speech by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) saying that since the Republicans took over, "almost every action of the United States in that area of the world... has served to alienate the friendship of India."

Describing Cooper as "a good and distinguished ambassador," Kefauver said President Eisenhower's request that Cooper relinquish his post to run for the Senate is a move "to cap all the mistakes we have made in dealing with India."

Dulles did not discuss this country's sometimes irritated relations with India and with Prime Minister Nehru specifically at his meeting with newsmen. However, he did talk about statements which Nixon made during a trip, ended yesterday, to six allied countries in the Far and Middle East.

Nehru called Nixon's views undemocratic, declaring that tolerance of different viewpoints is the basis of democracy. Nixon replied that Nehru is entitled to his opinion but that his speech was not undemocratic.

Nixon took the position, however, that the United States in some cases should continue to give assistance to countries which also accept help from Russia.

Nehru has accepted help from both Russia and the Western Powers while consistently declining to be drawn into alliances with either side.

Dulles, asked what he thought about Nixon's idea of continuing to help countries which accept aid from the Communists, said he was "in general... quite in accord with it." It is established U.S. policy to continue helping such countries as India.

Then Dulles was asked what he thought about the idea that a country which accepts Communist help runs the risk of finding a rope around its neck. Dulles said he thought Nixon was quoting someone else to that effect. A check showed Nixon had quoted the remark but also indicated full agreement with it.

Dulles made clear he did not fully agree. He said there is risk to countries which accept Communist aid because it is given for political purposes.

Shriners Parade In Full Array

Led by a mounted group from Chicago's Medinah Temple, members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine parade up Detroit's Woodward Ave. and into Michigan Ave., on their way to the reviewing stand at Briggs Stadium. The parade lasted three hours. The horsemen are making what would be an illegal turn in normal times, but the city was virtually turned over to the Shriners for their 6-day stay.

MISS UNIVERSE

Beauties Begin Race After Crown

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—How real is the pot of gold and fame at the end of the Miss Universe rainbow?

With visions of the glamor and riches of movie stardom in their pretty heads, 74 beauties from throughout the world today start down the glittering trail that will lead to the crown.

They come from 32 foreign countries and 39 states and three cities of this country.

After nine days of competition in face and form in the fifth annual International Beauty Congress, the fairest of all will be acclaimed Miss Universe.

Universal-International studios will place Miss Universe, Miss U.S.A. and the runner-up in each of those categories under six-month contracts. And it may sign others who look promising.

What has happened to the four previous winners of the title?

First Miss Universe in 1952 was the Finnish beauty Helena Kuusela. Not long after winning, she went to Manila to make an appearance at an international exposition. There she met Virgilio Hilario, a wealthy young Filipino. They were married soon after in Tokyo.

In 1953, Christiane Martel, 18, a fiery French brunette, walked off with the crown. She wed Ronnie Morengo, Stockton, Calif., department store heir, in January 1954, but their marriage lasted only 74 days. After completing her six-month film contract, she went on a night club tour of Mexico and South America. Little has been heard of her since.

The 1954 winner was Miriam Stevenson of Winnsboro, S.C., who was admired as typifying the fresh beauty of a country girl. Her interest in a movie career evaporated in a few weeks and she went home to finish college.

Romance almost grabbed the 1955 Miss Universe, Sweden's Hillvi Rombin, before her chance at a film career got under way. She had been given a six-word role in "The Benny Goodman Story." With filming about to start, she flew to Sweden to see her fiancé. But she returned to Hollywood unmarried and is still under contract to Universal-International. She is just back from a personal appearance tour in South America.

Byrd Opposition To Security Bill Is Not Lessened

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today his opposition to two major provisions in a House-passed Social Security bill has not been lessened a bit by compromises offered by two Democrats.

The provisions would provide new benefits for disabled persons aged 50 or over and for women between the ages of 62 and 65.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which stripped the two benefits out of the measure, made clear in an interview he will fight in the Senate to beat both compromise plans.

He declined, however, to predict the outcome, conceding that the votes should be close.

He said he understands debate on the long-delayed bill may begin Monday. The Democratic leadership has held it up while seeking acceptable compromises for the two key House provisions, both opposed by the Eisenhower administration.

One of the compromises, introduced yesterday by Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.), would restore to the measure the right of working women and wives of retired men to receive Social Security retirement payments at age 62. However, the payments would be on a somewhat lower scale than if they waited until age 65, the present minimum. The House version calls for full benefits to women at 62.

The other compromise, offered Monday by Sen. George (D-Ga.), would restore the House section to provide for the first time Social Security payments to persons totally disabled at age 50 or higher.

Kerr's plan would give working women 80 per cent of their normal age 65 benefits if they retired at 62, wives 75 per cent. The payments would be graduated upwards if they retired closer to 65.

Kerr said this would not require any tax increase since a woman going on the rolls before 65 would get about the same total benefits as if she waited until that age.

The House voted a tax increase to pay for the new benefits for women and the disabled. The Senate committee knocked out the new benefits for all groups except widows, and also eliminated the tax boost.

Byrd said that under Kerr's plan two women living in the same household could be drawing different rates of retirement pay if one quit at an earlier age than the other. This would result in pressure that could not be resisted to raise the lower benefit, he contended.

As for George's disability plan, Byrd said he regards it as unduly complex to administer in that it would set up a second Social Security trust fund. George proposed a separate fund for disability benefits, to be financed by a raise of one quarter per cent in the present 2 per cent Social Security tax on both employers and employees.

Uncle Ray:
 Thick Coat Of Ice
 May Cover Neptune

By RAMON COFFMAN
 A good question about the sun's heat has come from a girl whose first name is Peggy. She wrote:

"Does the sun keep all the planets warm or hot — even the ones which are farthest away?"

"No" is the proper answer to that question. Some planets in our solar system receive far too little heat from the sun. As a result, they are colder than any deep-freeze box.

The hottest planet in our solar system is Mercury. It is closest to the sun among the nine main planets. Second in warmth comes Venus, the twin sister of the earth. Mars is a cool planet, to say the least, but Jupiter is much colder than Mars.

Saturn, the planet with rings, is still farther from the sun, and gets less heat than Jupiter. Uranus and Neptune are colder, and it has been estimated that each of them has a covering of ice more than a thousand miles thick!

Q. What would happen if a planet went outside our solar system?
 A. If such a thing happened to another planet, it would make little difference to our earth. Our earth would keep the same path. Astronomers would rub their eyes when they looked where the planet ought to be, but what could they do about it? When news of the event was published, the earth's people might become frightened. Perhaps they would say, "That might happen to our planet, too!"

If our earth did spin out into space, it would lose the light and heat of our sun. Perhaps scientists (by that time) would be making fine use of atomic power, and this might be used to scoop out vast caves a mile below the surface. Light could be provided down below.

Wife Seeks Divorce As Maté Plans To Wed Ex-Call Girl

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The estranged wife of a San Francisco society doctor is suing for a divorce and if it is granted he will be free to marry his long-time mistress, a former call girl turned schoolteacher.

Mrs. Helen Yoell filed suit against 62-year-old Dr. Rodney Yoell yesterday, charging he deserted her 18 years ago. She made no mention of Lorraine Staker, 43, who was convicted 10 days ago of conspiracy to receive stolen goods. Miss Staker awaits sentence.

Yoell has said repeatedly he would marry her if his wife would grant him a divorce. He said religious beliefs had prevented a divorce.

He was at Miss Staker's apartment when she was arrested Jan. 30.

He said he had helped "rehabilitate her from a call girl to a respected teacher," including financing her education.

Miss Staker was suspended by the school board after her conviction.

Ike Hops Back Into Arena To Chart GOP Campaign

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower hops back into the arena of active politics today to chart second-term campaign plans with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

There appeared to be strong prospects that Eisenhower would consult tomorrow with his probable running mate, Vice President Nixon.

Nixon returned to the capital yesterday from a 27,000-mile, six-nation world flight, reaffirming his own intention to seek a second term. He said he would give a detailed report on his travels to Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles. But any talks with the President would offer the possibility for political discussions too.

With the Republican National Convention coming up Aug. 20 in San Francisco, many political questions remained unsettled in advance of the Eisenhower-Hall huddle. The big one, of course, has been answered in the affirmative: yes, Eisenhower still intends to run despite his operation. The word was passed Tuesday by Republican congressional leaders who saw him here.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said the GOP has some definite campaign plans, but that he wasn't inclined to tip the Democrats off to them at this stage of the political maneuvering.

Freighter Brings Crash Survivors

NEW YORK (AP)—The Italian freighter Dea Mazella, survivor of an Atlantic collision in a pea-soup fog, is due in Halifax, N.S., today with survivors of the sunken Panamanian freighter Estoril.

The Coast Guard here reported its cutter Casco was shepherding the damaged Italian ship to port.

No loss of life was reported in the crash yesterday 450 miles east of Boston. The Estoril's 33 crewmen took to lifeboats and were picked up by the Dea Mazella.

DESPITE THE HEAT

Texas 'Not So Hot' In Minds Of Some Visitors

By NITA HEDLESTON
 What's wrong with Texas? Why is it that everyone who comes down here from the North or East curls that upper lip into a sneer when they are asked what they think of the Lone Star State? Most of them don't seem to really not like Texas. They make remarks, it seems, because they like to see the native Texan, standing steadfast with loyalty to his state, come bounding back with bold statements as to what makes his state great.

rise out of me concerning Texas and they did a pretty good job of it. "Don't you have any trees around here?" they would ask with a confident look on their face. "We like to look at the blue sky," I replied. "You've got plenty of it to look at" was the comeback, and on and on it went. "Why don't you talk plain English," one "furriner" from New Jersey asked. Now here I was wondering the same thing about him and he asked me why I didn't speak plain English. Finally I looked at him and asked, "How do you say can't?"

"Back home if it goes for three weeks without raining we think it's coming a drought," they continued. Silence continued on my part. The only thing I could think of was, "We like to look at the blue sky," but I knew what remark would follow that so I remained silent. There was nothing else to say. Some of the group almost broke down and admitted that Texas wasn't a bad place, after all. Some even came out in the open and said that they even kinda like the place. Maybe they could import some of their home climate and it might be a pretty nice spot to live. They admitted that the people were friendly, perhaps even more friendly than in their home states. They were also impressed, though it sort of pained them to admit it, with the way that Texans stand up for their state. "I never met a Texan who wasn't crazy about his state. That's why they are so much fun to kid."

Woman, 102, Gets Birthday Card From President

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Lawson, whose hair began to gray only a year or so ago, is 102 today — and among her well-wishers is the President of the United States.

A birthday card from President Eisenhower is among Mrs. Lawson's proudest possessions, as is a letter from Gov. A. B. Chandler thanking her for her support.

An ardent supporter of the governor, who took office last December, Mrs. Lawson said: "I reckon you could say I campaigned for him from my wheel chair."

Asked how she would vote in November if Gov. Chandler receives the Democratic presidential nomination and runs against Eisenhower, Mrs. Lawson snapped: "I'm a Democrat." She said she believes, though, that Ike is as much a Democrat as he is a Republican.

Grandma Lawson, remarkably agile of mind, keeps up with her reading without glasses. And for women who wish to stay young she offers this advice: "Live good and be good."

Married at 18, Mrs. Lawson became the mother of 15 children, six of them still living.

Elks Ruler

Fred L. Bohn, Zanesville, O., is the new grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. He was elected at the national convention now going on in Chicago. He will be installed at the closing session today.

Cow Palace Set For Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Cow Palace was wired for politics today, and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. called it "the most monumental job" it ever did for a news event.

The event is the Republican National Convention starting Aug. 20. The job of setting up communications for it began a year ago and ended yesterday.

The number of television channels out of the Cow Palace was increased from 2 to 40.

Nearly 1,000 telephones were installed with a new exchange just for the convention.

There are accommodations for 200 radio circuits, 335 teletype machines and 20 wirephoto circuits.

Applications from press, radio, television, newsreel and other communications agencies for seats are three times as heavy as at any other convention. The requested seats total 4,321.

Mayor Gets Shaw Bust

CHICAGO (AP)—A portrait bust of George Bernard Shaw was presented to Mayor Richard J. Daley yesterday but the mayor doesn't plan to keep it.

The bust was given to Daley, whose roots go back to Ireland, by Hal Schor to create interest in the 100th anniversary of Shaw's birth, July 26. Daley, asked if he was aware that Shaw had been classified as anti-Irish, said: "We Irish are a tolerant race."

However, he said he would ask the Chicago Historical Society if it would like to relieve him of this work of art.

Marines Rescued

Three of four Marine Reservists from the San Francisco area are rescued from the surf near Camp Del Mar, Calif., after their armored amphibian tractor capsized during maneuvers. They are shown bobbing in the surf as a fellow Marine reaches to help them. All four Marines escaped injury. The overturned tractor lies 300 yards offshore.

PRINCESS GRACE

Yankee 'Influence' Is Monacan Beef

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Monacans have two complaints since Grace Kelly married Prince Rainier. Some argue that Monaco is under too much American influence. Others mean that Americans are practically ignoring the country.

As for Princess Grace, they hardly know what to say. She has appeared in public, with advance announcement, only twice since the wedding—when she returned from the honeymoon, and to go to a special Mass July 4.

Another time she and the Prince stepped onto the balcony of the palace—unannounced but expected—to watch a folklore festival on the big plaza. Most of the time the couple has either remained in the palace or ducked out quietly, sometimes to watch a movie downtown.

The fact that Princess Grace and the Prince chose the Fourth of July for their first official outing rankled Monacans just a little. The fact that the Prince pardoned an American convicted of a plot to use loaded dice at the Monte Carlo casino did not go without notice and some tongue wagging.

Further American influence is cited in the fact that Andre Bruno Pontet, a Wall Street private banker, has been named a technical financial counselor to the Monacan government and a member of the committee which oversees placing of its funds.

Those who complain that Americans are avoiding Monaco were perhaps too optimistic in their expectations of what the marriage would do for the country.

Official figures show 1,058 Americans tourists in May and 1,118 in June. These figures are quite a letdown for the business people who dreamed of Monaco as a main point of interest in Europe. The American arrivals have increased sharply — from 625 and 575 in the same months of 1955 — but not enough to satisfy the merchants. And the American visitors haven't been big spenders. Only 5 per cent are visiting the casino.

However, since Americans need no visas to visit Monaco, the Tourist Bureau figures don't count those who drop in for one day or less. And almost everyone can cover all the sights in the 368-acre principality in one day.

The wedding was a success for the Monacan treasury. The expenses were finally totaled up to about $450,000. This was covered by the sale of a special issue of postage stamps, which brought in $571,422.

Outside the postage stamps, the state had little opportunity to cash in on the event. It is reported, however, that Prince Rainier has a private interest in the company which made a color movie of the ceremonies.

If any Americans have the idea of coming to Monaco to see Princess Grace, they would do better to go to a movie in which she is appearing. Palace protocol won't pass anyone except old personal friends. In the next few months, the couple will be traveling extensively. First it will be a trip to Paris, then to the home of Rainier's mother near Paris.

Law Aids Rail Pay-Up Demand

HULL, Que. (AP) — The wealthy Canadian Pacific Railway had owed Raymond Foucault $202.50 for five weeks and Foucault was tired of waiting. So he had the Ottawa-Maniwaki train — one locomotive, one tender, one baggage car and two passenger cars — seized and ordered sold for auction.

The railroad paid up in 24 hours. The story goes back to Oct. 7, 1953, when Foucault, a laborer, pleaded guilty to beating up a CPR employe on the train. Foucault paid a $25 fine and court costs, but the railroad after long deliberation sued him for the time his victim had lost and compensation for the injured man.

The suit was dismissed June 4 after Foucault's lawyer argued that the railway had failed to file its damage action within a year of the assault, as required by Quebec law. This time the court ordered the railroad to pay Foucault $202.50 costs.

When the money wasn't forthcoming, Foucault's lawyer applied for a seizure order. And on Monday, as the train was about to set out on its 90-mile run with commuters homeward bound to cottages in the Gatineau Hills, Court Bailiff Maurice Chevalier appeared to demand Foucault's $202.50 plus $14.50 bailiff's fee.

Since Stationmaster J. R. Thibodeau couldn't pay up, Chevalier "seized" the train, as well as the benches, chairs, table and typewriter in the station. The auction was set for July 23 unless the railroad paid up. Then he put the train in custody of its crew and let it make its run.

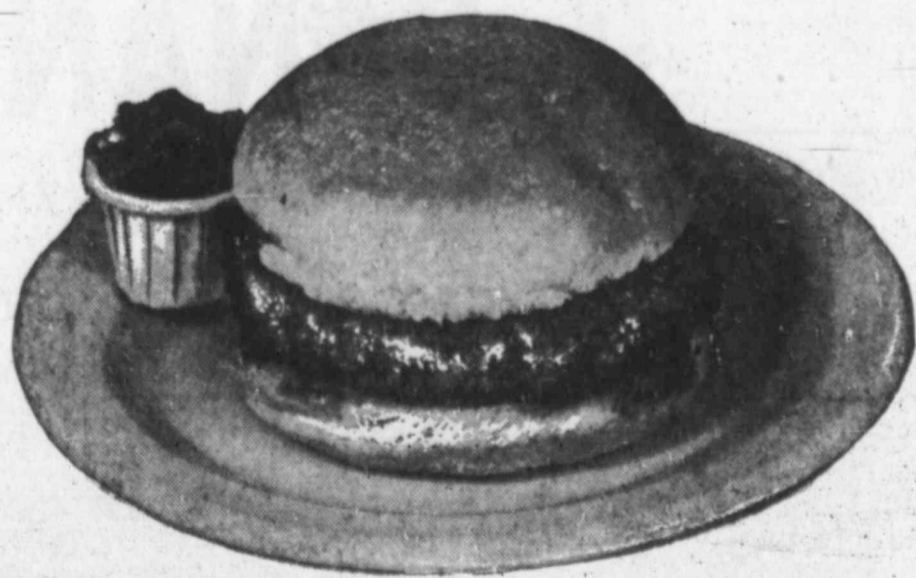

Late yesterday a CPR attorney, Joseph St. Marie, arrived with the $216.75 and the case was closed.

'Bill Henry' Recipe In Third Generation

Mrs. Jack Y. Smith and Mrs. L. H. Rutledge aren't strangers in the kitchen or in any other way. You see, this is a mother and daughter team that has been cooking up delights ever since Mrs. Smith was a little girl.

Today, living in the same town gives them a chance to still get together and cook some of the very same things that they cooked when Mrs. Smith was a child. These date back to days when Mrs. Rutledge was a child, also.

One such recipe has been in the family for three generations. It was first cooked by Mrs. Smith's grandmother in Florence, Texas, and it has remained a favorite through the years.

The family calls the recipe "Bill Henry." Why this name they don't know but that's what it has always been called.

"Bill Henry's" are really boiled rolls which contain dried peaches, apricots or apples.

"I think the apricots or peaches are the best," said Mrs. Smith. She explained that this was a favorite recipe of her mother and that it is her mother who makes the rolls now.

"We have them just as often as I can get Mother to make them," Mrs. Smith said.

Here's the recipe:

BILL HENRY'S

Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
Cold water to make a stiff dough

Method:
Roll dough as for pastry. Use cooked dried fruit, either peaches, apricots, or apples and spread over dough. Fruit should be cold and unsweetened. Roll dough and tie each end in a soft cloth and tie each end securely. Drop roll into boiling water and boil thirty minutes. When cooked, slice and serve hot

Recipe For 'Bill Henry'

A dessert which has been a family favorite for three generations is "Bill Henry," delightfully made by Mrs. L. H. Rutledge, 1208 East 18th. Her daughter, Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, at right, is making a copy of the recipe, but she admits that she leaves the preparation up to her mother any time she can manage it. The recipe may sound complicated, but the Rutledges and the Smiths agree that the finished product is worth the work and time spent in getting it ready.

Cool Grape Dessert Is Low In Calories

It's always nice to have recipes that can be prepared and put aside until later when they are needed. Here's one that can be used the day it's made or whenever desired.

GRAPE SHERBET
1 cup water
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup grape juice, chilled
2 tablespoons lemon juice, chilled

est point. Combine water, instant nonfat dry milk powder and sugar in small saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Chill.

Four a small amount of the combined grape and lemon juices into nonfat dry milk mixture; beat with a rotary beater, adding remainder of juice gradually. Pour into refrigerator tray. Freeze to a mush. Remove mixture to chilled bowl. Beat with a rotary beater until smooth, but not melted. Return to refrigerator tray.

Freeze until firm, about 4 hours. Makes eight 1/2-cup servings. Calorie count: 29 calories a serving.

'Eat-Well Diet Book' Offered For Reducing

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Do you know the virtues of a reducing diet that makes sense? We recommend that you heed the advice offered in the "Eat-Well Diet Book" by Charlotte Adams (hard cover, Random House; soft cover, Maco). Long after faddist diets have come and gone, we hope this reasonable approach to surplus weight will go on.

There need be nothing grim about weight-watching. On Mrs. Adams' plan "you eat the foods you've always known and loved, only not so much of them." She says: "Perhaps at the start you have to cut out a few items which you can take back with restraint later. But unless you have some medical problem, you can lose weight on whatever are perfectly normal foods for you, provided you are careful to keep your diet balanced."

Here then are the foods you should eat every day: milk (whole or skim); vegetables (green or yellow); fruits (at least two kinds, one a citrus fruit or tomato); an egg (or at least three to five a week); meat, fish, poultry or cheese (one or more servings); cereal or bread; fat (as much as your doctor allows — part may be in your whole milk). These foods give you needed protein, vitamins and minerals.

Notice that phrase — as much as your doctor allows. No one should make a serious attempt to lose weight without a doctor's check up.

Along with a concise and clear explanation of diet principles and a 30-day diet, the "Eat-Well Diet Book" includes many recipes. We particularly like the chapter on first courses — appetizers and soups that are good to eat, easy to fix.

Weight-watchers are advised to flee unthickened varieties of soup. But if occasionally a canned cream-type soup would be enjoyed, it's suggested that these be diluted with water instead of milk or cream.

One of the pleasant things about serving soup is that the course can be easily adapted to the whole family. Offer a water-diluted cream soup to weight-watchers. Then add some butter pats for nondieters so they can enrich their portions.

Snacks with the soup? Choose from celery, scallions, radishes, carrot strips, cauliflowerets, crisp rye wafers for weight-watchers. Nondieters can gorge themselves on fat-rich crackers. A cottage cheese dip will serve both varieties of eaters.

One of the cream-type soup recipes suggested in the "Eat-Well Diet Book" is made from a base of canned condensed green pea and tomato soups plus interesting seasonings. We adapted this soup so it could be served cold in warm weather; here's our version:

COLD SOUP MONGOLE

Ingredients:
One can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed green pea soup, 2 cups cold water, 1/2 cup cooking sherry, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon onion powder, 1 teaspoon curry powder, minced scallions.

Method:
Using a rotary beater (hand or electric) or a whisk, beat condensed tomato and pea soups, water, sherry, celery salt, onion powder and curry powder together.

Refrigerate several hours or overnight to blend flavors and make icy cold. Serve generously sprinkled with minced chives. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Spanish String Beans
String beans fresh from the garden taste best when they are boiled in salted water for twenty minutes, then browned in two or three tablespoons of olive oil, to which a garlic clove has been added. If the beans are young enough, they won't need par-boiling.

Try Hearty Breakfast, Early American Style

How often does your family experience the pleasure of a big leisurely breakfast?
Perhaps you think of family breakfast as a quaint custom, part of the nostalgic past. True, abundance, variety and wholesomeness were traditional of the Early American breakfast.

Nathaniel Hawthorne pointed out the strengthening qualities of a good breakfast, when he said, "Life within doors, has few pleasanter prospects than a neatly arranged and well-provisioned breakfast table."

Today, the gulp-of-coffee-on-the-run type of breakfast has become too often a habit. Nutritionists remind us that breakfast is unquestionably the most essential meal of the day, a meal that literally breaks a fast of 12 to 14 hours.

For your next leisurely family breakfast, here is a hearty menu to encourage the good-breakfast habit at your house.

Included are foods served early in this country—strawberries (which are often thought of as English). However, they were taken to England from America in the 17th century. Fried mush was another mainstay of the early diet for breakfast, dinner and supper.

Try this some morning:
Fresh strawberries
Ham slices and/or flank-steak
Scrambled eggs
Fried mush
Maple syrup
Raspberry jam
Coffee
Milk
Early American toast

By DON HENRY
Big Spring showed over twice as much in building capital during the first half of this year as a comparable period of 1955.

Figures were up in every category — residential, commercial, and remodeling on both — and the six-month total is already ahead of the entire 1955 report.

Residential spending included 125 houses valued at $1,077,400. March was the big month in number of new projects initiated.

Commercial building — new structures only — is listed at $1,125,900 for the first six months of 1956.

A large portion of the January building was at Howard County Junior College.

Quick Shooting Saves FBI Man

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A quick, accurate shot by an aide was credited today with saving the life of the local chief of the FBI as he grappled with a bank robbery suspect he'd just dragged from a closet.

The suspect had a loaded .32 automatic leveled at the head of John Malone when Agent Ed Pleveck fired, sending a bullet through the man's gun arm and into his chest.

The action occurred yesterday at a home in suburban Watts where FBI agents had closed in to capture two men accused of robbing a Security-First National Bank branch of $1,600 and of kidnapping a woman during their getaway.

"I'll kill all of you!" James G. Evans, 22, screamed as Malone pulled him from the closet. Pleveck fired as the two struggled.

Maxie Brown, 21, charged with Evans with suspicion of robbery, came meekly from his hiding place under a bed.

Evans was hospitalized in serious condition.

ing, valued at $211,000. Other buildings were the music hall, $92,000, and greenhouse, $29,000.

Also, additions were made to the gymnasium and administration building at H.C.J.C., which are listed as remodelings and improvements.

A permit for the gym enlargement is for $60,000, and the alterations to the administration building are set for $108,000.

Also coming in January was the building permit for The Herald plant. It is valued at $130,000.

West Side Baptist Church filed a $6,000 building permit, and Hillcrest Baptist Mission one for $21,500.

In February, the Security State Bank's permit was filed. It is valued at $50,000. Also coming in that month was a $53,000 permit for construction of the fire station at Eleventh and Birdwell.

City contracts swelled the totals for May and June.

In May, permit was filed to double the size of the filter plant at a cost of $179,700. Contract was set for two swimming pools on the Northside for $51,900.

Also in May was $25,000 for building a drive-in deposit booth for the First National Bank. May total was $271,100.

Three municipal projects, a police station, water reservoir, and fire station, consumed most of the $329,800 posted in June.

Cost of the police station is $208,500, the fire station at N. Main and Eighth $42,700, and the million-gal-with drunkenness who were fined $1,869 listed on the jail records for the month. Seven others charged with the offense were released.

One was granted a suspended sentence and one appealed to the county court.

One hundred and eighteen charges of traffic violation by moving vehicles were listed. Fines assessed against these offenders aggregated $1,153.50.

Ten charges of moving vehicle traffic violations were dismissed in the court.

Thirty-nine persons were fined $566 for having no driver's license. Eleven such cases were dismissed, one was released to the juvenile officer and three cases are pending.

Seven charged with disturbance sweetened the court kitty to the tune of $245. Thirty charged with mechanical violations paid fines of $184.

There were 1,472 tickets issued of all kinds — overtime, prohibited zones and other offenses. Parking tickets paid off through the window totaled $1,026.

Twenty-three vagrants were fined $192 by the court. One vagrancy case was dismissed.

Two persons charged with indecent exposure paid fines totalling $75.

Other matters handled by the police during the month ran the gamut from simple assault — one case — to the handling of two runaways.

Two hundred and eighty-one prisoners were docketed during the month.

The police radio handled 2,500 calls. Patrol cars were on the go — the two motorcycles travelled 441 miles and 1,024 miles respectively. Car 200 travelled 6,751 miles; car 201 covered 6,490 miles; Car 202 scored 5,903 miles and car 203 metered 3,273 miles.

bandwagon. It is valued at $15,000 in work to the College Chapel Baptist Church, and $8,000 to Whites, Inc. Sixty-two were filed in March.

In May, $10,000 in changes were started at the First National Bank. Fifty-five permits in the alteration category were posted that month.

June's figure included $25,000 for remodeling the building on Third for Prager's Men's Store. Also in June was a $3,600 permit for construction of a swimming pool.

Houseed in the vans are a jeep, two station wagons and four bicycles for parades, and a pair of 40-foot barrage balloons.

The balloons will go up wherever local sponsors put up $200 for the necessary helium to inflate them.
