Stassen Gets Leave, Fights Nixon Alone

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen resumed his "Dump-Nixon" campaign today—even before taking leave of the White House staff.

And the Republican high command, almost simultaneously, said the GOP convention should be completely "open" with Stassen free to nominate anybody he likes as President Eisenhower's running mate.

These were the main developments in the move by Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament aide, to knock Nixon off the ticket and replace him with Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's grant of a 30-day leave to Harold E. Stassen was interpreted by some Republicans today as putting a go-it-alone tag on Stassen's drive to dump Vice President Nixon.

Stassen asked and received yesterday a month's relief from his job as presidential disarmament assistant to pursue his effort to replace Nixon with Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as No. 2 man on the GOP ticket.

Eisenhower's granting of Stassen's request was subject also to the interpretation that Stassen was being encouraged in his effort, but no support for that view was voiced by any GOP sources available for comment.

Some high in administration counsels said they expect Eisenhower to repeat at a news conference tomorrow that he would be delighted to have Nixon as his running mate.

But they said they do not believe he will exclude other possible nominees since that might be regarded as an attempt to dictate to the Republican National Convention which meets less than three weeks hence.

The leave of absence for Stassen to pursue certain political activities without involving his official position at the White House was announced at Gettysburg, Pa., and Stassen said there a short time later.

"On Thursday, Aug. 2, I will make a further statement about my continuing endeavor to add strength to the Eisenhower campaign and to Republican congressional races through the nomination of an Eisenhower-Herter ticket."

Stassen did not elaborate. He indicated on his return from a 20-minute conference with Eisenhower at Gettysburg he has no intention of resigning. Twenty Republican House members suggested last week that he give up his post.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said at Gettysburg in response to a question:

Asked if Stassen is going to leave later, Snyder said "I am not anticipating anything."

He said Stassen and his deputy, Amos Peaslee, will talk with Eisenhower at the White House later today about Stassen's official duties. At his home in Mantoloking, N.J., Peaslee said that apparently "I will take over Stassen's duties for as long as he is gone."

The 30-day period will expire about a week after the scheduled windup of the GOP convention at San Francisco.

Meanwhile, final preparations were put on the traditional parade which will precede the rodeo at 4 p.m. Wednesday through the downtown area.

Offices for the rodeo were opened in the Howard House with Mrs. Rosemary Tompkins, daughter of producer Everett Colborn and wife of star performer Harry Tompkins, in charge. All entry fees paid in by the cowhands will be split among the winners along with the $3,200 in added purses provided by the rodeo association.

Rodeo grounds have been put in top condition, and the stock is on hand, well rested and in good flesh. There won't be any push-overs for contestants, judging from the brawny calves, massive bulls and skittish broncs.

Entry to the grounds may be made from three points, including the new entrance from U. S. 80 at the north end, the previous entrance from the south side of Ellis Homes, and the south entrance off of the Scenic Mountain-Air Base loop.

The best all-around cowboy (high money winner) will be presented with a watch by Alexander's, rodeo officials announced. Besides the regular events, to which a Howard County roping section has been added, there will be several specialty acts. Among them will be the quadrille, the clowns, Millage Baker and his sheep dogs. Always, the grand entry is one of the most colorful parts.

The parade Wednesday afternoon will include eight floats, five sheriff's posse, the 23-man ROTC drill team and a color guard from Webb Air Force Base. Latest to enter a float in the procession was the NCO Wives Club of Webb.

Prizes of $50, 30 and $20 will go to the three best floats in the parade.

The parade will be assembled at Second and Goliad and from there the horsemen and floats will move to Third Street, head west to Rannels, north to First and west to Scurry.

The procession will proceed from First to Second on Scurry, then turn back east to Main, head south to Fourth, go west back to Scurry, north to Third, and then turn west to disperse in the western part of town.

Cowpokes Come To Town To Try For Rodeo Cash

Cowboys began riding into town Tuesday, getting on the dotted line for a chance at a slice of prize and purse money in the annual Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo and Reunion which opens a four-night stand on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, final preparations were put on the traditional parade which will precede the rodeo at 4 p.m. Wednesday through the downtown area.

Soviet Backs Egypt On Seizure Of Suez

Discuss Suez Situation

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau gestures as he meets with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and U. S. Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, right, in London for talks on the Suez Canal situation. Britain has slammed the bank door on Egyptian cash and assets in England and set up a three-power conference on further steps to deal with Egyptian President Nasser's grab of the historic waterway. ## Dulles Going To London To Join In Suez Discussions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is sending Secretary of State Dulles to London to confer with British and French about Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal. The White House announced this today shortly after the President and Dulles had discussed Egypt's nationalization of the waterway.

The United States already is represented at the London talks by Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy. Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, read this statement to newsmen:

"In view of the importance of the matters being discussed in London between Foreign Ministers Lloyd and Pineau, the President has asked Secretary Dulles personally to take part in the concluding period of their talks, in which the United States is also represented by Deputy Undersecretary Murphy."

Selwyn Lloyd is Britain's foreign minister. Christian Pineau is the French foreign minister. Asked whether Dulles would leave for London immediately, Snyder referred questions to the State Department.

Earlier, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) proposed that the United States protest the canal seizure to the United Nations General Assembly and the World Court. The State Department said Dulles would take off by plane and arrive in London about 9 a. m. tomorrow, London time.

His party will include legal adviser Herman Phleger; an assistant secretary, Carl McCord; a special assistant, William B. Macomber; and Miss Mildred Ashbjornson.

Lincoln White, department press officer, said the decision for Dulles to go to London was made "this morning."

Describing the seizure as "clearly illegal," Mansfield said the situation is "pregnant with danger to world peace." Mansfield is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

In a separate interview, Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said his group will investigate the Suez crisis in September as part of its study of the foreign aid program.

Richards, too, said the Mediterranean crisis is a "great danger" to peace. He said, however, "there is no doubt as to Egyptian President Nasser's right to nationalize the canal, subject to treaty obligations."

"But any effort on his part to impede traffic or trade on the canal, in view of its importance, could bring very serious repercussions," Richards declared.

Richardson, too, said the Mediterranean crisis is a "great danger" to peace. He said, however, "there is no doubt as to Egyptian President Nasser's right to nationalize the canal, subject to treaty obligations."

"But any effort on his part to impede traffic or trade on the canal, in view of its importance, could bring very serious repercussions," Richards declared.

Warns Against Any Reprisals By The West

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union upheld Egypt today in her seizure of the Suez Canal, and implicitly warned the West against reprisals. The statement came from Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party boss, as President Eisenhower was dispatching Secretary of State Dulles to London to help map Western strategy.

Khrushchev, in a speech at Moscow, said Egypt was entitled to take over the waterway. He warned against what he called unwise voices in Britain and France asking for the application of reprisals, "even of military operations."

He expressed confidence their statesmen, with "common sense, experience and political soberness," would view the seizure properly.

Diplomatic leaders of the United States, Britain and France — soon to be joined by Dulles — are working here on the idea of an international control body to guarantee continued free movement of ships.

In Cairo today, President Gamal Abdel Nasser declared freedom of navigation in the canal will be guaranteed.

"Both the convention of 1888 and assurances concerning it in the Anglo-Egyptian agreement of 1954 are and will be fully maintained," the Egyptian leader said.

In the London talks to date the United States has been represented by Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau are the other conferees.

Military affairs dotted developments of the day: 1. Britain ordered her troopships carrying soldiers and their families to and from the Far East to steer clear of the Suez Canal, and make the long trip around the Cape of Good Hope. It appeared clear the aim of the order was to avoid possible trouble with the Egyptians.

2. It developed that two British destroyers sold to Egypt are going to be permitted to sail from Portsmouth despite Prime Minister Eden's announcement yesterday of a ban on the shipment of British arms to Egypt. The Foreign Office said Egypt has already paid for the destroyers and they will head out tonight.

3. Some British warship crews on leave in English ports were reported recalled for readiness in case a show of force is ordered. The Admiralty declined confirmation. A spokesman said only "certain naval moves are being ordered."

Richardson, too, said the Mediterranean crisis is a "great danger" to peace. He said, however, "there is no doubt as to Egyptian President Nasser's right to nationalize the canal, subject to treaty obligations."

M'Keon Says He Went In Swamps

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon testified today that as a Marine recruit he was marched into marshes by his drill instructor "on several occasions."

The tall, ramrod straight McKeon testified in his own defense on charges of involuntary manslaughter and oppression of recruits as a result of his marching a recruit platoon into Ribbon Creek at the cost of six lives.

Testifying in a slight but steady voice, he told of his recruit training days in 1948 on this same base.

Finally, defense attorney Emile Zola Berman asked him: "During the course of your boot training here was your platoon ever marched into the swamps, marshes, boudocks and water adjacent to the base?"

"Yes, sir, on several occasions," McKeon replied.

McKeon was asked by Berman on what occasion he was marched as a recruit into the water and where.

"In the Elliot's Beach area and a couple of times behind the barracks at the rifle range," he replied.

Berman then asked whether anything unusual occurred during those marches.

"Yes, sir," said McKeon. "The drill instructor used to blow a blast on a squad leader's whistle and this would indicate an air raid and we all had to hit the deck."

"In the mud and water?" Berman inquired.

"Yes, sir," said McKeon. During the brief morning recess in the court-martial, the defense announced it had called the Marine commandant, Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, as a witness for McKeon.

The announcement came after a short, closed-door huddle between Berman and the government's prosecutor, Maj. Charles B. Sevi- of Jacksonville, Ill.

Previously, Gen. Pate had figured in the case with the disclosure of his May 1 statement concerning the "commandant's policy governing training of recruits."

In that statement Gen. Pate said he had been shocked by previous training practices in the Marine Corps and announced, in substance, a real shakeup in training methods.

Part of McKeon's defense is that when he led 74 recruits into the tide-swept waters of Ribbon Creek last April 8, where six drowned, he was only following accepted training methods.

Freeway Open East Of Here

The U. S. 80 freeway has been opened to traffic across the eastern half of Howard County.

State highway officials informed County Judge R. H. Weaver today the freeway is open and will remain in service, although a few details of construction are incomplete. Routine clean-up work along shoulders and finish work on crossings and access ways remains to be completed. The highway department expects to accept the completed project in about two weeks.

Opening of the east Howard segment provides four-lane divided highway from near Westbrook in Mitchell County to near Pyote west of Monahans. It is by far the longest stretch of divided highway in the state.

Jake Roberts, district highway engineer, told Weaver this morning that plans are being pushed for the 10-mile farm-to-market road to be constructed in the Vincent area. County Commissioner Earl Hull said right-of-way is being cleared this week.

Weaver and Hull said they hope the Vincent project can be advertised by the highway department for the September bid opening.

The Vincent road will connect a paved road from Luther with Vincent, the Snyder Highway and the new road to Lake J. B. Thomas northeast of Vincent.

12 Aged Persons Die As Fire Sweeps Nursing Home

PUXICO, Mo. (AP)—Fire swept quickly through the Reagan Nursing Home late last night and trapped 12 of the 13 residents, most of them in or beside their beds.

Nine of those who perished were 72 or 91. All were from Puxico or nearby towns. One was bed-fast.

Only Mrs. Sherry Frederick, an elderly patient, escaped. Two men scrambled up to the roof of the front porch, broke out a window of her second-floor room and pulled her to safety.

The body of Mrs. Bertha Reagan, 55, who overhauled the old three-story building and opened her nursing home 21 months ago, was found in the first-floor kitchen. She apparently was trying to get out the back door but it was locked.

Her 7-year-old grandson, David Johnson, was found on the third floor.

All the others were on the second. One of them, Lois Rodgers, 30, entered as a patient only yesterday.

Everyone in the house apparently was asleep when the fire broke out.

John Ryan, chief of the fire department at nearby Poplar Bluff, Mo., said he and Sgt. Jack Pritchard of the Missouri Highway Patrol found a hole burned in the ceiling above a sofa on the first floor. They theorized a smoldering cigarette had fallen on the sofa.

The flames were out of control when volunteer firemen got the alarm.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Back from an honest-to-goodness camping trip are MR. AND MRS. JAMES C. JONES and their eight-year-old son, Jimmy. The three went to the Cebolla Camp grounds which is about 20 miles from Lake City, Colo., and really pitched camp. They stayed in a tent, slept in sleeping bags and cooked their meals out for nine days. The camp ground is on the Cebolla River. And it was a good thing. When the clothing got dirty Mrs. Jones was obliged to wash in primitive style on a rock in the river. It's a little less convenient than the automatic but, according to Mrs. Jones, it still gets clothes clean.

They also spent some time in Montrose and in Ouray, the latter of which is called the Switzerland of America. Here they were in snow.

The Jones' younger son, Sammy, stayed in Big Spring with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dunagan.

LANNY BRETCHES of Denison left Monday afternoon after a visit here with Louis Stipp, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stipp. The two are class mates at A&M and Lanny is employed this summer in Burk Burnett.

Guests in the home of MR. AND MRS. J. C. PICKLE Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton W. Carnes and son, Clayton, Jr. of San Angelo.

Mrs. Carnes and Clayton, Jr. hope to come back Thursday to see the Thunderbirds at Webb.

Incidentally, if you never have seen this flying team, you should. I understand they fly F-100's, a much faster plane than the F-84 which they flew until recently. You won't believe the things these young men can do with their planes. I always worry about the man in the tall position. He surely is close to that lead man's exhaust. At least that's the way it looks to me. I always go to see them when they are here and each time I'm just as thrilled as I was the last time I witnessed their performance.

MR. AND MRS. ED CARPENTER of Vincent plan to leave soon for a leisurely trip through Tennessee and Kentucky where they will visit with relatives. They will be en route to Chicago and the Democratic convention where he will serve as delegate-at-large.

FRANKIE BOYD who taught science in high school last year is excited over getting into Baylor Medical College at Houston this fall. She received her degree in chemistry at Texas Tech.

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD COKER and sons are vacationing in Cloudford, N.M.

MRS. J. T. BAIRD's brother, Lt. Com. G. E. DeVillias, Mrs. DeVillias and their two children, Ann and David, spent the weekend in the Baird home. The family is moving to Oakland, Calif., where he will be stationed with the Naval Supply Center. He has recently been at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., with the signal corps electronics laboratories.

MRS. WESLEY DEATS and son, John Wesley of Houston, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis.

See "The Eddie Duchin Story" if you like a picture that has everything. I got by with only one handkerchief but some it affects enough for three. The music is beautiful and the story is touching and tender.

Quick Shrimp Dish
Here's a delicious and quick recipe using shrimp. Melt 5 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan or skillet. Add 1/2 cup celery and 1/2 cup chopped green pepper. Cook until barely tender. Add 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour and mix well. Cook several minutes, stirring constantly. Slowly stir in 1 1/2 cups water and 2 tablespoons soy sauce. Blend in well and cook about 5 minutes stirring constantly. Add 1 pound cooked or uncooked, cleaned shrimp. Fresh, frozen or canned shrimp may be used. Cover and simmer 10 minutes or until the shrimp curl and become pink. If uncooked shrimp is used, if cooked shrimp is used, just heat thoroughly. Serve over hot cooked rice so none of the delicious sauce is lost.

Decorative Trims
You'll find these attractive embroidery designs ideal for making slip-pieces or trimming guest towels. No. 225 has hot-iron transfer. Send 25 cents in coins for this pattern to MARTHA MADISON, Big Spring Herald, 367 W. Adams St., Chicago 6, Ill.

After Dealing A Death Blow

The liner Stockholm, its bow broken and twisted, rests in drydock at the Bethlehem Steel Company shipbuilding division yard in Brooklyn, New York. The bow, which had been specially reinforced against ice, was smashed when the ship collided in the Atlantic with the liner Andrea Doria, sending it to the bottom. (AP wirephoto).

Those Drawings In Cave: 2,000 Or Eight Years Old?

PARIS (U)—The speleologists and the archaeologists of France are in a tizzy over some drawings in a cave, and the Paris papers are poking delighted fun at them all. Speleology is the scientific study of caves. Archaeology is the scientific study of the material remains of past human life — the older the better. A fortnight ago three archaeologists of excellent reputation announced with great gravity the discovery of drawings on the wall of a cave near Perigieux, in southwestern France. They said the pictures were made at least 20,000 years ago by cave-men. There were paintings of mammoths and other prehistoric animals, including big two-horned rhinoceroses. "A great discovery," the Pontiers conference of archaeologists was told. Then the speleologists put in a word. William Martin, former president of the Speleo Club of Perigieux, said he spent three years exploring that particular cave 8 to 10 years ago — and that there were no paintings on the walls then. Some drawings, Martin asserted, were made by a small boy who tagged along behind his party of explorers a decade ago. He used a carbide lamp as a crayon. The present president of the Perigieux Cave Club, Bernard Pierret, backed up Martin. "The archaeologists refuse to back down," Louis Nougier, professor of prehistoric studies at Toulouse University, and a colleague, Romain Robert, issued a joint statement reaffirming their belief in the authenticity of the drawings. Some people may have visited the cave "without noticing paintings or engravings," they said, "or they may have seen them without recognizing their value, either from ignorance or incompetence, or even from negligence."

AID ASKED FOR BLAST VICTIMS

FORT WORTH (U)—All firemen in the state were asked yesterday to donate to the families of firefighters killed Sunday in the Dumas oil tank explosion. Ten of the 19 dead were volunteer firefighters. "Each department in Texas is requested to contribute a sum that represents not less than $1 for each man in the department," Mason Lankford of Fort Worth, vice president of the Texas Firemen's Assn., said. "These volunteer departments have no funds to care for dependents."

Houstonian Takes Court In Chicago

CHICAGO (U)—Nancy Richey of Houston, Tex., the top-seeded entry in the National girl's 15-and-under tennis tournament, takes the court for the first time today as the meet enters its second round. Miss Richey drew a first-round bye while the other top seeds all came through with relatively easy triumphs. Second-seeded Virginia Hesse, Hamtramck, Mich., defeated Phyllis Nattis, Glencoe, Ill., 6-2, 6-0, and third-seeded Helen Weill, Beverly Hills, Calif., eased past Mary Ann Szilagyi, Milwaukee, 6-0, 6-0. Karen Hantze, the No. 4 seed from San Diego, won by default while fifth-seeded Judy Sylvester, Claymont, Del., dumped Donna Murhughan, Chicago, 6-3, 6-1. The other three seeds, Gail DeLozier, Louisville, Ky., Sylvia Hardway, Gainesville, Fla., and Nancy Davis, Dallas, Texas, also turned in first-round victories.

Johnson Won't Attend Parley

ATLANTA (U)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) apparently will not attend the Southern Solidarity Conference tomorrow. Party leaders at the meeting will represent 20.4 per cent of the 1,372 votes in the Democratic national convention. They plan to forge a united Southern front against a strong civil rights platform. Texas, with 56 convention votes, received a belated invitation but Johnson has not commented since Texas was invited. He heads the Texas delegation and indicated he was not interested in a pre-convention caucus.

To Appeal Verdict

AUSTIN (U)—Attorneys for the John L. Hammond Life Insurance Co. of Dallas said they would appeal Dist. Judge Charles Betts' final judgment yesterday that put the company in permanent receivership.

Doctor Claims Truth Not Told On Ike's Health

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Allott (R-Colo.) today labeled as "politically slanted" an assertion by Dr. David E. Rutstein that the public has not been given all the facts about President Eisenhower's illnesses. Dr. Rutstein, head of the Harvard Medical School's Department of Preventive Medicine and a vice president of the American Heart Assn., raised the issue in an Atlantic Monthly magazine article. "The public," Dr. Rutstein said, "was not informed of the published scientific evidence" that three researches on heart attacks such as those suffered by Eisenhower showed only 50 per cent of such patients survived at the end of five years. With respect to the President's intestinal operation, Dr. Rutstein said Eisenhower's physicians gave no indication "that ileitis is a chronic disease with a rate of recurrence varying between one-third and two-thirds of those on whom operation is performed, depending on the state of the disease, the type of surgery and the duration of the follow-up."

"Neither did they indicate that the majority of recurrence comes within the first year after operation," he said. "Nor was there any mention of the medical fact that difficulty might be anticipated in maintaining the President's nutrition and weight, or the further likelihood of future periods of disability . . ."

Allott, a friend of the President, said he regards Dr. Rutstein's article as "part of the trend toward making the President's health an issue in the campaign."

"His statement sounds like it is politically slanted," the Colorado senator said. "The people are well informed about the President's condition . . ."

"We all hope President Eisenhower recovers fully," Morse said. "But I am satisfied most Americans are fully aware of the health limitations to which Dr. Rutstein refers and will have them in mind when they go to the polls."

Dr. Rutstein wrote that doctors who treat ill presidents should stick to medical facts and their precise interpretations. "If a physician goes beyond this point," he said, "he then ceases to be an expert. He becomes just an ordinary citizen subject to political influences in a field in which he has no expert qualifications . . . Political judgments by physicians have as little merit as medical judgments by politicians on the ability of a candidate to run for office."

Dr. Rutstein said that after Eisenhower's heart attack "an optimistic picture of the President's life expectancy following recovery" was given by the doctors. He said this was "at variance with the public scientific information."

Rockefeller Domestic Scrap Flares As Bobo Calls On Son

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U)—A furious domestic battle flared in a new setting yesterday, disturbing the peace of Winthrop Rockefeller's pastoral palace atop Petit Jean Mountain. There was a brief scuffle; then a stalemate for several hours. When the dust cleared, Mrs. Mrs. Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller, her attorney and two friends were arrested by Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of the nearby town of Morrilton amid a welter of conflicting claims. In an interview at a Little Rock hotel, the blonde ex-wife of the oil millionaire claimed she was "held prisoner" for seven hours at the farm and was bodily thrown 10 feet to the ground by a Rockefeller employee. Ed Dunaway, Rockefeller's attorney denied almost every point in her story. She said she had gone from New York City to Winrock Farm after receiving a telephone call from her 8-year-old son Winnie's nurse, who had taken the boy for a regular visit to his father under a court agreement when the Rockefellers were divorced in 1954. Bobo said the nurse told her that she was "forcibly removed" from Winrock Farm after she took the boy there Saturday. Bobo responded by making up a traveling party of her attorney, young Morton Bass, another lawyer — Erin Danzig, and Bass' mother, Mrs. Maurice Bass. Gene Smith, a Rockefeller employee, and "several big men" met Bobo and her party at the gate to Winrock Farm, she said. They were allowed inside although one of the men informed Bobo that adequate notice of her arrival had not been given. The court agreement calls for her notifying Rockefeller at least 24 hours ahead of a projected visit. Bobo said she saw her son swimming in a pool, called to him and then took him to her car. She said her son suffers from bronchitis and was coughing after leaving the swimming pool. "Smith and two other men came over to the car," she said. She said Smith grabbed the car keys while she tried to push him away. "He held my hands but my nails were still free," she said. "Then Smith pulled me out, picked me up and threw me about 10 feet," she related. "I landed on the hard gravel road." Dunaway told a different story. He said that when Bobo put the boy in the car and attempted to leave, the keys were taken out of the car by a Rockefeller employee. "She — Bobo — started a fight and was using loud and abusive language," Dunaway said. "She and her lawyer were informed that all they had to do to get their keys back was to let Winnie out of the car to return to his room where he was supposed to be resting." Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said of Bobo and her companions that "they were very rude. I never dealt with people as rude as they on a minor charge." The sheriff said one of the employees at the farm was all scratched and cut "like he had been attacked by a wildcat."

Arkansas Holds Primary Today

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U)—Gov. Orval Faubus, who upset Arkansas' second term tradition two years ago, takes on two active opponents in today's Democratic primary which may decide whether he can now uphold that tradition. Secretary of State C. G. Hall has predicted a total of about 300,000 votes compared to around 324,000 in 1954's first primary. Any race in which no candidate receives a majority will be settled at the runoff primary on Aug. 14. Faubus, who beat former Gov. Francis Cherry for a second term nomination in 1954, is opposed for a second term of his own by Jim Johnson of Crossett and Jim Snoddy of Alma. Most observers believed the main fight would be between Faubus and Johnson. S. K. Prosser of Conway and Ben F. Pippin of Little Rock also qualified as candidates. Neither was expected to figure seriously in the balloting. Cong. W. F. Norrell, who has served in the House since 1920, is opposed for nomination to another term by Pat H. Mullis and John Harris Jones, both Pine Bluff lawyers; and William H. Lambert, a farmer. All three active gubernatorial candidates have spoken out for continued racial segregation.

Only A Miracle Will Head Off Record Traffic Toll This Year

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council said today it will take "almost a miracle" to head off a record high national traffic toll in 1956.

WITH SLEDGE HAMMERS Prisoners Break Legs In Protest

BUFORD, Ga., (AP)—Thirty-six prisoners broke their own legs with 10-pound sledge hammers yesterday in protest against working conditions at Rock Quarry State Prison, the "Little Alcatraz" of the Georgia penal system.

Jack Forrester, state director of corrections, said a prison doctor told him 29 white and seven Negro inmates shattered bones in their legs during an afternoon rest period at a rock quarry where they were working half a mile from the prison.

He said the men placed their legs on rocks and "started whacking away" with the sledge hammers normally used to crush rock in the quarry. There were no cries of pain, he said.

Guards watching the 189 prisoners in the fenced-in quarry were taking a rest at the time and said they did not notice what had happened until they ordered the men back to work.

Warden Hubert Smith said the injured men told him after the incident that they felt their wheelbarrows were too heavily loaded and the sun was too hot. Temperatures were reported in the low 90s at the time.

The injured men were taken to the prison compound in buses and later yesterday were transferred to the Georgia State Prison Hospital at Reidsville about 200 miles away.

Forrester said all the men involved will be given misconduct reports with self-mutilation charges against them. This will go on their records.

Not only are older farmers discouraged, but even the future operators have had a let-down in enthusiasm. At Ackerly the FFA members haven't had much encouragement from the weather or livestock prices, says A. H. Smith, the vocational agriculture teacher.

He says the fields are so dry that no one has any sudan for grazing, and the blue panic is not growing. Without any kind of pasture, most farmers have sold off their livestock. The boys with calf and pig projects must keep the animals penned up and fed continually.

Hog prices have been so low that none of the boys made money with their pigs. Some of them kept gilts and sows, and then had to sell their pigs from five to eight dollars apiece.

"A boy likes to make a little money with his project," said Smith, "but with prices the way they are, there isn't any profit to be made."

Kinsey says that most of the cattle butchered in Big Spring comes from this area, though some are brought in from Abilene and other places.

The deep sands west of the Brown community usually make a little crop every year, but there is not much growing this time. David Davidson, who lives just north of the Hill Ranch, says they have nothing but bare fields this year. They put 93 acres in the soil bank but didn't get enough out of it to help much.

Last year he made a good cotton crop, but hasn't had anything but light showers since last fall.

Many changes have taken place since 1922 when J. F. Eubanks came to the Fairview community to farm. He said that land was still being put into cultivation at that late date. When he moved here, Lester Fisher was having a section of land grubbed out by hand and then plowed. Mr. Eubanks said the mesquite wasn't as big or thick as it is now, but it made a lot of firewood. Sometimes a farmer would get enough mesquite grubs from clearing his land to cook and heat with for several years.

He lived northwest of Fairview where the Highway school was located at that time. They had droughts back then, but a farmer could usually depend upon making three crops out of every four. Living expenses were cheap and it didn't cost much to grow a crop. Another difference was that nearly every 100-acre farm in those days had a family living on it.

Mr. Eubanks retired from farming in 1945 and moved to Big Spring.

I never did understand this cotton allotment reserve exactly, and figured there might also be others who have questions about it. Last week the Herald received a letter from the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at Lubbock, urging that all farmers write, wire, phone and raise heck in general about the efforts of East Texas farmers to have the proposed two per cent reserve increased.

The Plains Growers want the two per cent proposal to go through, and say that downstate interests want this raised to eight or 10 per cent.

A man who knows these things explained that the larger the cotton reserve, the more leeway the state committee would have in shifting allotments. And with the voting strength centered downstate, West Texas farmers would again have the big knife used to slice their cotton acreage.

dent, made the prediction on the basis of statistics showing that 18,120 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in the first six months of this year.

It set a new all-time high for the period, overshadowing the previous mark of 17,320 for the first half of 1937. The traffic death toll for the first six months of 1956 represented a 10 per cent increase over a similar period last year.

The June traffic toll was 3,400, the largest number for a June month in history and 14 per cent higher than June a year ago. The previous June mark of 3,119 was set in 1952.

Dearborn said at the present rate the record traffic toll of 39,900, set in 1941, will be exceeded by some 2,000.

"It will take almost a miracle to head off a record high toll," Dearborn said.

"But this miracle can happen if the American public is sufficiently shocked by what is going on to stop doing the things that are causing these accidents.

"Courtesy, common sense and care will do the trick."

Of 47 states reporting traffic figures for the six-month period, 34 showed increases, 1 decreases and two no change. Rhode Island led with a 49 per cent decrease followed by New Hampshire 34 per cent; Minnesota 17; Connecticut 14; South Dakota 13; and Nevada 12.

For the six-month period, in cities with more than 200,000 population, Dallas, Tex., led the way with a 57 per cent decrease in traffic fatalities. Minneapolis and Rochester, N.Y., followed with 50 per cent decreases. St. Paul, Minn., had a 33 per cent slow-down.

During the six-month period, 88 cities reported no traffic deaths. The three leaders, in order of size, were Reading, Pa., 109,300; Utica, N.Y., 101,000, and Pawtucket, R.I., 81,400.

A Big Spring resident, Mrs. Cleo Christine Guy of 1900 Owens St., has been announced a winner in a contest sponsored by Sealy, Inc. of Chicago, manufacturers of mattresses and associated lines.

Mrs. Guy is to receive a Posturepedic mattress from Wasson & Trantham, sponsors of the contest locally. Her entry now has consideration for the contest grand prize of $20,000 in cash or common stocks or an expense paid vacation for two to Jamaica.

Entrants in the contest were asked to choose a name for the Sealy Posturepedic girl, widely used in advertising the mattress.

Congressmen To Investigate Ship Disaster

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine congressmen will go to a Brooklyn drydock tomorrow to inspect the Swedish ship damaged in the collision that sank the Italian luxury liner Andrea Doria.

The congressmen, members of the House Merchant Marine Committee, will look over the liner Stockholm as the first step in a probe of safety at sea.

The two sleek modern ships collided in dense fog south of Nantucket Island, Mass., last Wednesday night. The 30,000-ton Doria plunged to the bottom of the Atlantic the next day. The 12,600-ton Stockholm struggled back to port here with a smashed bow.

In other developments yesterday:

1. The Italian Line said the Doria radar-tracked the oncoming Stockholm before the fatal crash. Capt. Piero Calamai said he himself watched the Swedish vessel approach on the radar screen. The line declined to say more about what happened on the Doria's bridge.

2. The Italian Line listed two known dead, 13 presumed dead and 23 unaccounted for among the Doria's 1,706 passengers and crew. Rescue vessels saved the rest. The line hopes many of the unaccounted for are safe and only failed to register in the confusion at the various piers where survivors debarked.

Two Stockholm crewmen died in the crash and three others are missing and presumed dead. The known or presumed dead total for both ships is 25.

City Fears Legal Snag On Insurance

A group of city attorneys checked recently predicted that Big Spring would run into legal snags if it decided to underwrite its employees' life insurance policies.

While attending the state City Attorneys' Association meeting recently, Walton Morrison conferred with several attorneys and they all felt that the plan would develop legal blocks.

The city has discussed the idea of cancelling its life insurance policy and carrying it personally. A recent check showed that the city has paid over $32,000 in premiums during the past 24 years. In the same period, only eight city employees have died while on the city payroll.

The city carries a $1,000 policy on each worker. City Manager H. W. Whitney said that possibly the city would be thrown under jurisdiction of the State Insurance Commission and the legalities would stem from that. There is no regulation that requires the city to carry any life insurance on its employees, however.

If the city commission should choose to underwrite the policies, it possibly would set up a trust fund, Whitney said. A fund of $10,000 or $12,000 would be set aside in a savings account to draw interest.

On the death of an employee, the city would pay $1,000 and a like amount would be put into the fund out of the next year's budget. To possibly get around the State Insurance Commission, the commission could make an agreement and not an ordinance to pay $1,000 on death of an employee.

At the present time, however, the city commission has not cancelled its present policy — with General American Life — and has made no move to do so. The trust fund would probably be the method used. Commissioners were waiting partially on a report from Morrison on the legality of it — and those he talked with said the legal angle would prevent it.

AMARILLO (AP)—Brig. Gen. William Lee, commander of the 13th Air Force in the Philippines, was named commander of the Amarillo Air Force Base yesterday. He will assume his new command Oct. 31. Brig. Gen. Herbert Grisell, the present commander, will become commander of Lackland AFB at San Antonio.

AUSTIN (AP)—The state recovered $112,742 yesterday from Carroll Burns of Carrizo Springs in a 10 other veterans' land civil suit judgment here. The attorney general's office said $1,770,000 has been recovered for the Veterans' Land Board funds.

Pick your savings target and shoot straight for it!

A home... financial security... a business of your own. Important savings targets like these cost money—a substantial sum—and more than most of us have. But here's a sure way for you to score a bull's-eye and walk off with the big prize you want.

The secret of saving is system. And the simplest, most automatic saving system ever devised is the Payroll Savings Plan. Best of all, you do more than save through Payroll Savings. You invest your money, too, and make it grow. Here's how it works:

Tell your company pay office how much you want to save each week. Then each pay period that amount will be put aside for you before you have a chance to spend it. Your money will go automatically into U. S. Series E Savings Bonds.

Because Savings Bonds earn good interest—3% compounded semi-annually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months)—they're soon worth much more than you've invested in them. And your Bonds will continue to pay this same good interest as long as 19 years and 8 months. That means a return of up to 80% more than you originally paid.

And remember this. There's no guesswork or chance about the Payroll Savings Plan. It's absolutely safe and sure. Invest just $7.50 a week. In 5 years you'll have Savings Bonds worth $2053 in cash; in 10 years, $4448.

Even if you've never been able to save before, this plan is guaranteed to work for you. So sign up today for Payroll Savings where you work—or invest in Bonds regularly where you bank.

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds

New Unit Goes On Stream

Cosden's New Rexformer On Stream With Higher Octane

Rexformate, Cosden's new yield with a 98 octane clear rating, was streaming Tuesday from the concern's $2 1/2 million Rexformer. Actually, first put through occurred on Saturday at the new facility, the first specifically designed Rexformer in the industry, was brought on stream. There were some minor adjustments to be made in fractionation, but even the initial returns met or bettered design specifications. The new high-grade fuel will enable Cosden to maintain its front running position among the nation's refiners in ability to turn out even the super-octane grades of automotive fuels. The Rexformate is not a motor fuel as such, but rather a component. When leaded, it is capable of yielding a fuel of 102 to 104 octane rating. The output from the Rexformer will materially raise the octane average of Cosden's gasoline pool. In addition, it has freed the Platformer, which formerly was blocked out part time to upgrade automotive fuels, for full time service to the BTX and its production of aromatic chemicals. This will mean a net increase of 30 per cent in the production of nitration-grade benzene, toluene and xylene. A Unifiner also has been completed to prepare feed stock for the BTX unit. This is part of a vast expansion program which will represent an approximate investment of $8 million. Included are 100 miles of supply line to Abilene, a supply line to Webb AFB, the 2,100 barrel unifying unit, a revamp of the catalytic cracker costing upwards of $1 million, and a $3 million styrene plant now due for completion in February. The $2 1/2 million Rexformer was constructed by Procon, Inc., a subsidiary of Universal Oil Products. Work broken on January 18th of this year, its completion represents record-shattering time. Although one other U. O. P. Rexformer is already in operation at Detroit, Cosden's installation here will be the first plant designed as an integrated Rexformer unit. It was constructed as a part of Cosden's overall program of product upgrading and diversification. The new Rexformer gives added assurance that Cosden will maintain its leadership in the custom refining of petroleum products. It has a design capacity of 4,000 barrels per day. The process involved is a combination of platinum-catalyst reforming and selective extraction. Low-octane materials fed into the plant in a continuous recycling

U. S. Making New Nuclear Weapons

WASHINGTON — The United States is developing various types of atomic and hydrogen weapons based on "new principles" and is expanding its plants to be ready to turn them out in quantity. This was disclosed today by the Atomic Energy Commission in its semiannual report to Congress covering the six months ended June 30. During this period, the AEC said, there was progress in every principal aspect of the nation's atomic energy program. The AEC disclosed also that this nation has now become "the world's leading producer of uranium ore"—having taken the production lead from another country during the last six months. The AEC declined to say which country, but presumably it was Canada or the Belgian Congo. As for weapons, the AEC said its two weapons research laboratories—one at Los Alamos, N.M., and the other at Livermore, Calif.—were "working on new principles" and that, as a result, "the United States' family of weapons in various stages of research, development, and production engineering, is increasing rapidly." At another point the AEC added: "The emphasis in the military applications program during the last six months was upon research and development related to expanding the categories of nuclear weapons, including those intended primarily for defense."

Witnesses Ask Russians To Free Members From Prison

Thirty-two delegates from Big Spring have returned from the district convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Lubbock last weekend. They were part of the 1,967 delegates registered and who joined in a petition to Premier Bulganin of Russia asking that imprisoned members of the group be freed in Russia and given freedom of worship. "In the course of the past two years, news has come out of Russia by prominent news dispatches and by repatriated persons," quoted the petition, "according to which there are or have been some 2,000 Jehovah's Witnesses in the penal camp of Vorkuta." The petition also claimed that in April, 1951, some 7,000 Jehovah's

Light Showers Over Parts Of West Texas

Texas, which needs a week of soaking rain, was in line for more widely scattered thundershowers Tuesday. Temperatures continued hot. A weak cool front northwest of Texas showed no indication of bringing its heavy shower activity into the state. Scattered showers fell late Monday in the Panhandle and West Texas. Afternoon highs ranged from 106 at Seymour to 83 at Alpine. Rainfall reports included Childress .27 of an inch, Wichita Falls .05, Dalhart .04, Fort Worth .01 and a trace at Midland. Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 65 degrees at Amarillo to 83 at Dallas. Dalhart reported a light rain and Beaumont had a thundershower to the southeast. A late July cool spell continued in most of the Northeast today while fairly warm weather prevailed in other sections.

Mrs. Ponder's Services Set

Last rites for Mrs. Virgie V. Ponder, 70, former resident of Big Spring, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Nalley-Pickle Chapel, The Rev. Homer Sheats, Lubbock, who was her pastor at the First Assembly of God Church here, will officiate. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park. Mrs. Ponder, a native of Tennessee, had made her home in Big Spring until about 1947 when she moved to Fresno, Calif. Last month she came back to Texas on a visit and fell ill at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Mattie Woolbright, Grapevine. Surviving her are three daughters, Mrs. M. Y. Woolbright, Grapevine; Mrs. Roy Moore, Fresno, Calif.; Mrs. J. B. Smith, Weaverville, Calif.; two sons, Roy C. Ponder, Lubbock, and C. L. Ponder, Big Spring. She also leaves a brother, J. F. Green, Denton, and a sister, Mrs. E. M. Burg, Modesto, Calif.; 12 grandchildren and six grandchildren.

Board Okays Zoning Change

Zoning board members Monday night gave their preliminary okay to a proposal changing a small area from a "B-2" zone to "F-1" and set the date for a public hearing. The hearing will be conducted at the city hall Aug. 13 at 5:15 p.m. If approval is given at the public hearing, the request will be submitted to the city commission for final sanction Aug. 14. The areas under consideration are the west half of the block facing Scurry between Eighth and Ninth, and the northeast quarter on Scurry between Seventh and Eighth. Zone B is for two-party residences and F is for commercial use.

Two Accidents Reported Today

Two accidents occurred in Big Spring Monday and one this morning. The mishap this morning was at Fifth and State. Involved were Alea Dean Bryant, 1902 Tucson, and Lewis S. Davidson, Rt. 1. Bryant was driving a 1947 Ford, and Davidson was in a 1954 Chevrolet. Drivers involved in a collision at Ninth and Scurry Monday afternoon were Homes Virgil Conlee of Jal, N. M., and Robert Henry Self of Coahoma. The 1949 Ford Self was driving belonged to McEwen Motor Company. Eugene W. Kelley, Webb, and William W. Bohn of San Manuel, Ariz., were in collision at Fourth and Bell Monday. The Arizona resident had a 1955 Buick, and Kelley was occupying a 1951 Ford.

Application Is Filed For Transfer Of KTXC Stock

Approval of purchase of stock formerly held by Clyde Thomas and George Thomas of Big Spring in Radio Station KTXC has been requested by V. T. Anderson, E. W. and Lucy Anderson. The Federal Communications Commission in Washington was asked to approve the transfer Monday. Actually, George Thomas explained, the transaction took place about two years ago when he and his father settled litigation with the Andersons involving Stations KTXC in Big Spring and KFST in Fort Stockton. The Thomases agreed to transfer their interest in KTXC to the Andersons, and the Andersons agreed to transfer to the Thomases their interest in KFST. One of the FCC forms required in connection with the transaction was not completed by the present owners of KTXC until recently.

4 Hurt When Scaffold Falls

Four persons received emergency treatment Monday after falling from a scaffold at the city water filtration plant. All were Big Spring men, working for Clay P. Carey, a contractor from Brownwood remodeling the filter plant. Two of the four were released from the Cowper Hospital after receiving first aid, but two are still hospitalized. Neither is considered in serious condition, however. The four are A. C. Henry, 1801 Scurry; Ronnie Brown; 1801 Scurry; W. E. Murray, 604 Scurry; and Tommy Hickman, 604 Scurry. Henry and Murray are still in the hospital. All were taken to the hospital by River ambulances.

Youth Forfeits City Court Bond

A minor forfeited $25 bond in corporation court this morning. He had been charged with consuming alcohol at the Interstate Cafe, 313 Runnels, Monday night. A companion was charged with interfering with an officer and was transferred to the county jail today for further investigation. Since the minor did not appear for court today, he forfeited his $25 bond posted Monday night.

Desertion Alleged

Charges of child desertion have been filed in Justice Court against Leon Snead on complaint of Mary Snead. Snead is alleged to have deserted five minor children on Oct. 1, 1950.

McKEON

(Continued from Page 1) McKeeon's psychiatric record was put into evidence to show he was "unusually stable and well-integrated." Berman led McKeeon through his Marine Corps career to the day last February when he was assigned for the first time as a drill instructor to Platoon 71. McKeeon told how the recruits were initially shocked and fearful at the discipline of the base and said of them then: "They were in outstanding platoon." McKeeon said during rifle training the drill instructor loses touch with his platoon during a great part of the day while they are in the hands of other instructors. He continued: "I noticed the platoon was working in groups, the buddy-buddy system. You would tell them to fall out, they would fall out, but slowly. They'd scratch their buttocks or look at airplanes when they were supposed to be at attention." "Little things were adding up, adding up. These weren't bad kids, were they? Berman continued. "No, sir," said McKeeon. "They were good kids." Asked how he felt about his job with Platoon 71, McKeeon replied: "I'd like to have had an honor platoon like any other drill instructor but I felt if they went off the island knowing nothing but discipline they'd have a good foundation. Without discipline there is no foundation."

Daniel, Yarborough Plan Another Month's Campaign

The Associated Press
Sen. Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough were set Tuesday for another month of tough campaigning for governor.

Latest tabulations from Saturday's primary gave Daniel a lead of around 156,000 votes over the former Travis County judge.

W. Lee O'Daniel was third, nearly 114,000 votes behind Yarborough.

The other gubernatorial candidates—J. Everts Haley, Reuben Senterfitt and J. J. Holmes—were far in the rear.

The chief of the Texas Election Bureau, Robert Johnson, estimated 35,000 votes remained to be counted. Most were in Tarrant County with 100 to 200 others still uncounted in 53 other counties.

There will be runoff between Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Sen.

A. M. Aiken Jr. for lieutenant governor and between former State Supreme Court Justice Will Wilson and Waco Dist. Atty. Tom Moore for attorney general.

Those winning the first primary included:

Agriculture Commissioner John White, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder, Congressman-at-Large Martin Dies, Court of Criminal Appeals Justice W. A. Morrison, and State Treasurer Jesse James.

Civil Appeals Justice James Norvell of San Antonio won a seat on the State Supreme Court.

"I will support the nominee of the Democratic party for President and vice president to be named at the national convention in August and will actively and publicly campaign for those nominees as I did in 1952," Yarborough said.

Daniel appealed to those who voted for the four defeated candidates.

"Many of them have already assured me of their support and I hope to hear from thousands of others who are willing to help," Daniel stated.

Yarborough has said that he expects to get almost all of the O'Daniel votes, plus some from Haley and Senterfitt.

Lt. Gov. Ramsey predicted he would extend his vote margin over Aiken in the runoff. He pledged a "redoubled effort to discuss my platform with the taxpayers and voters."

Moore also predicted victory, saying: "History has proven that a candidate who has run a previous race holds his largest vote during the first primary."

Howard Green Gets Legislative Post

FORT WORTH—Two sports figures have prevailed in Tarrant County politics.

Davey O'Brien, All-America TCU football player with the undefeated national champions of 1953, won the office of county Democratic chairman, beating two opponents.

Howard Green, former president of the Longhorn, Gulf Coast and Big State leagues, won a place in the Legislature. He defeated John Ramfield by almost 8,000 votes.

O'Brien and Green are Fort Worth business men.

Storm On Okinawa

NAHA, Okinawa—Typhoon Wanda swung a glancing hook at Okinawa tonight and churned relentlessly toward northern Formosa.

Killed On Tracks

DALLAS—A railroad box car killed Dwight Thomas, 4, yesterday as he played with two brothers in the East Dallas switch yards.

Victim Visits Injured
Robert Bowen, Shamrock Oil & Gas Corp., employe from Surray, Tex., who had been dismissed from the Moore County Memorial Hospital at Dumas, Tex., returned to visit companions still confined there after the disastrous tank fire near Dumas. ## Cancer Ruins Boy's Dream To Run In Soap Box Derby

VALPARAISO, Ind.—Doug Hoback won't be in the starting lineup of the annual Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio, Aug. 12.

"He was a hopeless case from the beginning—since last December—when we found he had lymphosarcoma, or an incurable malignancy. But, he had lots of will and plenty of stamina."

Still, Doug had qualified on July 4 as Class A soap box champ of Valparaiso, a northwestern Indiana community of 15,000.

"He never gave up," Green said. "All we could do medically was to postpone his death. He even lost about 40 pounds from his normal weight of 110 pounds since his illness started."

His parents? "They went along with him. All the way with him," the doctor said.

But, in death unfolded the story of young Doug's courage and determination to win the soap box event, the dream he treasured more than anything else since learning he little time to live.

"I'll tell you what kind of boy Doug was," said his doctor yesterday.

"The night before the regional soap box race in Gary, he had his mother call me up so that he could have a blood transfusion that night and get pepped up for

Parr Elected Sheriff Over 3 Opponents

SAN DIEGO—George Parr has defeated three candidates for sheriff of Duval County. He received 2,707 votes to a combined total of 2,568 for three opponents in complete unofficial returns from Saturday's primary.

The South Texas political leader received 640 of the 943 disputed absentee ballots counted yesterday, enough to keep him out of a run-off with Sheriff J. P. Stockwell, the Freedom Party candidate.

Parr is free under $7,500 bond on a charge of threatening County Commissioner Thomas Molina, who won re-election as an anti-Parr candidate.

Old Party candidates, backed by Parr, receiving majorities of about 5 to 1, also won contests for school superintendent, Democratic county chairman and one commissioner's post.

WACO—A contempt of court hearing for Duval County politician George Parr and Dist. Judge R. D. Wright of Laredo has been set for the 10th Court of Civil Appeals for Sept. 20.

Dist. Atty. Sam Burris of Alice and asst. Atty. Gen. Sidney Chandler asked the court to cite Parr and Wright over possession of the Dobbie Ranch in South Texas.

LAREDO—Four leaders of the Reform Party in Webb County sought writs of habeas corpus today to test their conviction for contempt of court.

District Judge R. D. Wright found the men in contempt of court yesterday for refusing to testify at a special court of inquiry about alleged voting irregularities and fined them $50 each.

They are C. D. Dick, defeated for state senator; Virgilio Roel, defeated for state representative; Francis Maher, defeated for district attorney; and A. G. Gates, defeated for mayor of Laredo in April.

Chinese Reds Reported Moving On Burma Area

RANGOON, Burma—Several hundred armed Chinese Communist troops today were reported to have crossed Burma's wild and mountainous northeast frontier along a 500-mile arc and advanced up to 60 miles into Burmese territory.

Reports from the border area said the Reds crossed in small bands and occupied positions in a wide arc between Patao—Fl. Hertz—at the northern tip of the country, and Kunming Ferry, on the Salween River south of the wartime Burma Road to China.

Prime minister Ba Swe met with Cabinet leaders and chiefs of the armed forces. The government was expected to lodge a strong protest with Peiping, with which it maintains friendly relations.

The Executive Committee of Ba Swe's party, the anti-Fascist People's Freedom League, was told there is a "threat to Burma's security."

Communist patrols have crossed the 1,000-mile, poorly defined border before but always have withdrawn after Burmese protests.

Peiping customarily blames errors of local border commanders.

The latest crossings, however, appeared to be in considerably greater strength than previous incursions. They also followed reports from Burmese officials in the area that Chinese army units along the border have been reinforced with regular troops in recent months.

Dallas Approves New Lake Project

DALLAS—The City Council approved yesterday a $201,940 budget to start the Sabine River Iron Bridge Reservoir project. The budget provides $168,000 for buying property for the 28,000-acre lake in Rains, Van Zandt and Hunt counties and $75,000 for engineering.

Dallas will pay the estimated 20 million dollar cost of the reservoir and get permanent water rights to 80 per cent of its water.

Strike Talks

FREEMONT—Dow Chemical officials and leaders of the striking operating engineers union met again today. Pickets were set up at the plant July 7, idling 4,000 workers.

Strike Hearings

AUSTIN—A hearing on six projects in six counties will be held tomorrow, the Highway Commission said. The counties include Hale, Potter, Randall and Crockett.

Oklahoma Signup

STILLWATER, Okla.—The new oil bank program has attracted more than 15,000 signers among Oklahoma farmers, officials said today. The deadline is Friday.

Eastern Colorado Gets Downpours

DENVER—Heavy rains swept across drought parched eastern Colorado last night, causing several flash floods and contributing to the deaths of two men in a highway crash.

The worst storms hit the south part of Denver's metropolitan area and Fort Morgan, 70 miles northeast. Streets turned into small rivers and hundreds of basements filled with water.

Two Larkspur men died when their car skidded broadside into an auto carrying five women tourists during a downpour on U.S. 85-87 four miles north of Colorado Springs.

Several roads were closed for a time as the water spilled across them. The flood yielded havoc with traffic along Denver's busy north-south thoroughfares.

Water backed up into a lake five blocks long and a block wide at one point on the south link of Denver's new Valley Highway.

Rainfall in southwest Denver was estimated at four inches, compared with an official reading of 1.1 inches at the Weather Bureau northeast of the city.

At Fort Morgan, water raced two feet deep through the business district, cutting off power for an hour and a half and damaging stocks and merchandise. A steel-beam ceiling in a garage collapsed, blocking two ambulances. One rain gauge showed 4.7 inches of rain, most of which fell within an hour.

Lamesa School Calendar Set

LAMESA—The School calendar for the coming year has been announced by C. W. Tarter, superintendent. Tarter said the teachers' and principals' workshop will be held Aug. 29-31, with the general faculty meeting being on Aug. 29.

Sept. 3 is the date set for school to start and classes will be held all day. Thanksgiving will be observed by a long week end beginning Nov. 23. At the same time the Texas State Teachers Association will meet in Houston.

Christmas holidays will begin at 4 p.m. on Dec. 21 with school to resume Jan. 2, followed by mid-term on Jan. 18. March 8 has been set as the date for the District 4 Teachers meeting in Lubbock. Easter holidays will be observed with school dismissed on April 19 and 22. Baccalaureate services will be May 19 and commencement May 24.

'Olympic Day' Contests To End Recreation Program

Harvey Foster and Lewis Brown teamed up to win the wheelbarrow race, three-legged race and place second in the piggyback race Monday in Olympic Day contests of the Lakeview and Kate Morrison Fun Clubs.

Foster also captured the pull-ups title and Brown won the shoe scramble.

Thurman Randall won the trophy for the outstanding boy of the Lakeview Club and Raymond Subia received the Kate Morrison trophy as outstanding boy. The trophies were awarded on the basis of the boys' records in the summer recreation program at the two schools.

Other Fun Clubs were holding their Olympic Day contests today. The recreation program is being concluded this week for the summer.

Results of the Lakeview-Kate Morrison contests:

Archery—1. Tiger Marshall, 125 points with 30 arrows; 2. Manuel Pineda, 3. Salvador Garcia.

Horseshoes—1. Ernest Henry and Thurman Randall, 2. Robert Hamilton and Robert Davis, 3. Paul Robles and David Dominguez.

Pull-ups—1. Harvey Foster (13), 2. N. E. Lee, 3. Eddie Lee Nelson.

Wheelbarrow race—1. Harvey Foster and Lewis Brown, 2. Wilbur Allen and Raymond Lane, 3. Raul Robles and David Dominguez.

Piggyback race—1. Raymond Subia and Harvey Foster, 3. Raymond Lane and Wilbur Allen.

Sack race—1. Rufus Davis, 2. Lewis Brown, 3. Harvey Foster.

Three-legged race—1. Harvey Foster and Lewis Brown, 2. Isidro Hernandez and Robert Davis, 3. Manuel Pineda and Rufus Davis.

100-yard dash—1. Danny Ray Traylor, 2. Lewis Brown, 3. Harvey Foster.

Housing Shortage

These hens must think there is a housing shortage. They are part of the flock on the Gus Martin place northeast of Big Spring, are housed two to a cage. Most of these hens have been in cages over a year and will soon be replaced by the 1,900 pullets which are just now beginning to lay.

Egg Production Not Just A Hobby

Producing eggs from caged hens is not just a hobby, says Gus Martin, who lives northeast of Big Spring. It is a full-time business and requires several hours work every day in the week to keep it on a profitable basis.

Martin has been in the business since last March when he bought out the interests of John Davis and Jay Cunningham, but the two big houses and cages have been on the farm several years.

In one house he has 1,100 old hens and some pullets just coming into production. And the other building houses the younger pullets and replacement chicks. The hens are not really old, only about 18 months of age, but this is considered fairly ancient for a caged hen, as they seldom make the owner a profit after the first year's production.

Altogether he has 1,900 pullets. Some of them are already in cages, while the others will soon be replacing the older hens. One reason Martin hasn't culled out the old hens is because there is almost no market for them. Light hens are selling for nine cents a pound and the heavier ones for 14 cents. At such prices, an owner keeps his old layers until they drop down to about 50 per cent production.

Ordinarily the young hens from high quality flocks will lay from 70 to 80 per cent of the days, and will keep this up for several months. Then after a year's production they start missing days until finally the feed expense is more than the price of the eggs.

Martin is trying one innovation that few poultrymen have adopted, and this is putting two hens in one cage. The cages are 10 by 18 inches in size, which makes a crowded living room for a couple of female birds. Sometimes they become irritable and don't like the kind of feathers the other is wearing, and start pecking them off. This is called cannibalism and often gives trouble when birds are crowded. However Martin has had two to the cage for quite awhile now and says he hasn't noticed them trying to eat one another. The eggs are gathered several times a day, especially during hot weather, then cooled and stored in a special room. They are brought regularly to a local egg depot where they are graded and taken to various Big Spring stores and eating establishments. Martin says there is a lot of work in running one of these egg factories. They require good care, the right kind of feed and must be tended to every day. There is no big money to be made with hens, he said, but if a farmer will manage a poultry business carefully he can make a good sideline income to offset the poor crop years.

Ex-Boxer Baer Wins Acquittal Of Molestation

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A jury has acquitted former boxer Buddy Baer of one count of child molestation and another of lewd vagrancy. Two other charges of child molestation were dismissed earlier yesterday by Judge Kenneth L. Holiday on motion of Baer's attorney.

The charges against the 41-year-old actor, singer and brother of former heavyweight champion Max Baer, was brought by two 10-year-old girls and one 12-year-old.

Baer denied the charges through the trial and maintained it was a case of mistaken identity.

Get PASTERITH at any drug counter.

No Rain, But Town Is Flooded

CLAYTON, N. J. (AP)—Some residents of this south Jersey town were flooded out and it wasn't even raining. A 150,000 gallon storage tank lost its bottom. A torrent of water—400 tons of it—poured out. It smashed fences, chicken coops, a cow barn, a tool shed, snapped trees, ripped up gardens and damaged five houses. Families had to evacuate flooded homes, but there were no human injuries. The only victims—58 chickens reported missing.

Funeral Chapel Is Deathly Still

By IRWIN FRANK DUMAS (AP)—They brought the little children into the Bokwell Bro. Funeral Chapel Monday, by ones and twos and threes. Leading them by the hand was an uncle or a grandfather, or perhaps a neighbor or mother.

The adults walked down the line of silver-grey caskets and looked at little paper name tags hanging by strings from the casket handles.

The adult would find the sealed casket they sought, and then they and the children would stand there silently a while. Then they'd turn and walk out.

The children didn't really understand it was their father in the casket. They looked around the room and held tight to the hand of the adult—sighing rather than

4 Senators Lose Jobs

By The Associated Press Four Texas state senators lost their jobs and another faced a runoff Monday in voting Saturday.

Hubert Hudson of Brownsville unseated Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg in the Calley counties of Hidalgo and Cameron. Incomplete and unofficial returns gave Hudson 19,940 votes to 13,761 for Kelley, who held the office 18 years. Hudson had charged that Kelley had received fees in veterans land transactions.

U.S. Dist. Atty. Charles Herring won the 14th District Senate seat. Sen. Johnnie Rogers ran third. Mrs. Emma Long, who ran second, conceded to Herring Sunday. The district includes Travis, Bastrop and Williamson counties.

Harry Gonzales, a former city councilman, defeated Sen. O. E. Lattimer, 35,667 to 35,385. Lattimer had spent 14 years in the Legislature, the last four as senator.

Former state Rep. Preston Smith, a Lubbock theater man, will meet another former legislator, Carroll Cobb, in a runoff for the state Senate seat held by Sen. Kilmer Corbin. Smith collected 22,364 votes, Cobb 13,964, and Corbin 8,791. Opponents had sought to link Corbin with the collapsed U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco.

Sen. W. H. Shireman faces Bruce Reagan in the Aug. 23 runoff in the 20th District. Unofficial returns give Shireman 11,034 votes and Reagan, assistant to the president of the University of Corpus Christi, 7,963. Rep. Curtis Ford ran a strong third with 7,306.

Rep. Bill Wood of Tyler was leading Rep. Grady Hogue of Athens in the seven county state senatorial race. Uncomplete returns gave Wood 20,944 and Hogue 20,612.

Body Recovered On Beach May Be Play Producer

SIMCOE, Ont. (AP)—A body believed to be that of New York theatrical producer Gordon Pollock was washed up on the north shore of Lake Erie, at Long Point Beach.

Provincial police said the body was found Sunday and they were awaiting the arrival of Pollock's mother, Mrs. Anna Pollock, from New York City to identify it.

The 28-year-old producer and his wife Norma disappeared April 15 while flying their small private plane from Detroit to New York. A suitcase of clothing, identified as Pollock's, washed ashore east of Erie, Pa., on the south shore of the lake, on April 24, and on May 8 another suitcase containing personal papers of the producer was found on the beach further to the east.

900 Policemen On Duty For The Demo Convention

CHICAGO (AP)—Some 900 policemen will be detailed to the Democratic national convention, which opens here Aug. 13, as a security measure and to handle traffic.

Police commissioner Timothy O'Connor said yesterday about 350 policemen will be assigned to the convention area in the vicinity of the International Amphitheatre at 42nd and South Halsted St. Extra details will be assigned to Loop hotels housing convention visitors, with the largest force to be at the Hilton, the Loop convention headquarters. The department has about 8,000 policemen.

Disabled Vets On Fishing Trip

FREEPORT (AP)—Some 100 disabled veterans went on a deep sea fishing trip today. The veterans, mostly from Brooke General Hospital at San Antonio and the veterans hospitals at Temple and Houston, were taken on a trip sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post of Brazosport and six other civic organizations.

Dairies File Suit

TULSA (AP)—The government and Secretary of Agriculture Benson were named in a federal suit filed yesterday by three Tulsa dairies. The dairies seek to nullify a federal milk marketing regulation requiring them to deal through the Pure Milk Producers Assn. for milk from the organization's farmer and producer members.

Telling Russia About Capitalists

Something new in propaganda is being undertaken by a group of eleven residents of Wichita, Kans., who took off by plane from New York at week's end for Moscow in an effort to convince the Russian people that capitalists, contrary to what they've been taught, are human after all.

Headed by a banker, most of the Wichitans have worked their way to the top in business or the professions, and six of them are millionaires. Their leader, Arthur W. Kincaid, president of the Fourth National Bank, declared:

"We—capitalists—have been painted as oppressive masters of the laboring people. We are nothing of the sort. Although we are wealthy in terms of worldly goods, we are humanitarians in every respect."

Well, to say the least of it, this is a unique approach. It just might be different enough to attract unusual attention among the Russians but somehow we have the feeling that an equal number of ordinary American workmen and small enterprisers might be more effective ambassadors.

The Critical Suez Episode

Net tons of cargo carried through the Suez Canal in 1954, last year for which complete statistics are available, totalled 102 million, which is just under the combined tonnages carried through the five other principal canals of the world, including Panama. Panama Canal stood second in that year with 39 million tons. Gross receipts at Suez for 1953 were $92 million plus, for a net income of $44 million.

When the "nationalized" the Suez the other day Egypt's dictator Nasser obviously did it in retaliation for the U. S.-British refusal to provide money for construction of Egypt's Aswan Dam. Nasser said if he couldn't borrow the money he'd seize the canal and use receipts from it to build Aswan.

In protesting the seizure Britain claimed that the Suez is an international waterway, and Washington chimed in with a tentative if not timid supporting word or two.

However, harsh words and invocation of honesty and decency in international relations never broke any dictatorial bones, so the West which would suffer most from a Suez shutdown or would suffer from excessive fees, is just donating its time in speaking of rights and wrongs.

The only language any dictator ever listens to is that of force. A U. S.-British-French threat to boycott Suez might bring Nasser to heel. An actual boycott extended over a period of months would hurt the West all right, but probably would ruin Nasser, whose country couldn't stand economic and sea-transport isolation very long.

The Kremlin backed down from its tentative offer to help Egypt with Aswan. What will the Kremlin do in the present circumstances? Whatever the bosses decide would be best for the Kremlin. Now the Kremlin has taken verbal sides with Egypt, further agitating the issue.

Paralysis of Suez traffic by refusal of the great shipping nations to pay excessive fees would not only hurt Egypt, but affect every nation washed by the Mediterranean Sea and Indian Ocean. Egypt and other Arab nations would suffer along with the rest, and their precarious economies, like that of Egypt, would feel the pinch of a "strike" against the Suez very quickly.

Long-Range Fight For GOP Control

By THOMAS L. STOKES

(Writing for Marquis Childs, who is on vacation).

WASHINGTON — Generally overlooked in the Harold Stassen versus Vice President Richard M. Nixon affair is a long-time objective.

It involves control of the Republican Party.

Though Stassen's promoters in this anti-Nixon campaign have remained thunderously silent up to now, they include persons highly placed, politically and in our industrial and financial community, who belong to the Eastern internationalist wing of the party that promoted the nomination of General Eisenhower in 1942, of Thomas E. Dewey in 1944 and 1948 and of the late Wendell L. Willkie in 1940.

Stassen has trained politically with this wing of the party since 1940, when he was floor manager for Willkie at the Philadelphia convention.

Since then, this wing of the party has won every national convention. But in-between, Congress continued largely under the domination of another wing, less liberal on domestic policy and nationally inclined on foreign policy, which for a long period found an anchor in the late Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. It is still strongly entrenched in the party organization, particularly in the Midwest where its strength is concentrated.

This hard-core, conservative, orthodox GOP group backed Senator Taft unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination against the Messrs. Willkie, Dewey and Eisenhower.

Now, as for today, Stassen's war on

Vice-President Nixon speaks the fear of the Eastern, internationalist, moderate wing with which he is affiliated that, in a second Eisenhower Administration when the President can exercise much less control than now, the young, aggressive and politically adept Nixon might gain control of the party if he still occupied the strategic position of Vice-President.

This might especially be so if he enlisted the aid of the GOP conservative wing, which is so well-placed in key positions in Congress and at the Capitol, where the Vice-President also makes his headquarters and can operate independently if he so chooses.

Dick Nixon's record in Congress as a member of the House and Senate would seem to identify him more closely with the conservative wing of the party. As Vice-President, however, he has been a loyal Eisenhower supporter which, of itself, demonstrates his maneuverability on policy and philosophy.

Accordingly, Nixon is not trusted completely by the Eisenhower wing of the party, including some persons in inner White House councils. They recognize in him a restless ambition capable of treading carefully along the path of expediency as necessity dictates.

For present purposes, the symbol put forward to supplant Vice-President Nixon exemplifies the interests in conflict, for Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts is a member of good standing of the Eastern internationalist wing of the party.

The Stassen tactic was designed to meet a situation the party will face if there is a second Eisenhower Administration. The President's hold on the reins of party control will be much weakened by a new condition which he is the first President to experience. That is the constitutional limit of two terms for a President.

While there was a sort of tradition — almost an unwritten law — against more than two terms until Franklin D. Roosevelt scuttled it in 1940, there was always the chance that a popular President might seek a third term as Mr. Roosevelt finally did. And that kept the party in line during a second term.

But that potential restraint is gone with outbreak of the third term which was initiated by the 80th Republican Congress midway of President Truman's first term. Consequently, the very minute that President Eisenhower has taken his oath of office for a second term — if he should be reelected — there will begin a struggle for control of the party, and for the "succession," so to speak.

In such contests, which we may expect hereafter, a President will gradually retire to the sidelines with only such influence as comes from his personal prestige and popularity among the rank and file of his party and the people generally. This could, of course, be considerable, depending upon who the President is.

This has its bearing on the Stassen-Nixon affair. (Copyright 1956, United Feature Syndicate)

Nasser Reaction On Suez Yet To Be Determined

WASHINGTON (AP) — It still remains to be seen whether the United States will handle Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser well or shrewdly. He's not a simple man. He's an emotional man, a gambler and a conspirator. This army colonel, a would-be assassin in his earlier days when he sought to overthrow the hated king and remake Egypt, finally ousted King Farouk, bloodlessly, in 1952. He stayed in the background when he did it.

Now he's in a tight spot, trying to make good. He's trying to prove his right to lead the Arab world and to shepherd his people out of illiteracy and poverty into the 20th century. He seems to be striking out wildly now. His emotionalism burst through last week. For four days he sought to silence over the American and British refusal to lend him money to build a dam which backward Egypt sorely needs.

Then he spat out: "May you choke to death on your own hate." The West felt he had been playing too much footy with the Russians, taunting the West, trying to play it off against the Reds, letting both bid for his favor. He argues he tries to make the best deal for Egypt that he can, in arms and money. To anyone of Nasser's intensity what he considers a hurt to Egypt may seem like an act of hate.

Or it may be simply that any act of frustration which jeopardizes his personal power is too hateful to be borne. At any rate he struck back — perhaps in blindness — by seizing the Suez Canal.

The British and French reacted strongly. But how far are they willing to go to loosen his grip on the canal is still to be seen. The United States may get involved. This is probably a turning point, up or down, for Nasser.

The Unchanging Hot Dog

NEW YORK (AP) — In a troubled time in which Nasser holds the Suez Canal and the New York Giants are in last place, let us pause and honor one symbol that stands unchanging.

It is the hot dog, the hungry man's best friend. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce named July as National Hot Dog Month, and it would be a doggone shame if we let August dawn without paying melodious heed to America's favorite delicacy.

The hot dog is, narrowly speaking, no more an American invention than the motor car or ice cream. But, like them, it has become recognized now everywhere — except possibly in Russia — as peculiarly typical of our culture.

The ancestor of the hot dog is the sausage, and the sausage is older than recorded history. It was undoubtedly broiled by the Greek troops besieging ancient Troy, because blind Homer in the 8th Century B.C. wrote:

"As when a man nears a great glowing fire turns to and from a sausage, full of fat and blood, anxious to have it quickly roast, so to and from Odysseus tossed, and pondered how to lay hands upon the shameless suitors."

There are almost as many kinds of sausages as there are nationalities. But the modern hot dog, according to culinary scholars, springs from the frankfurter, developed by a forgotten genius in the 16th Century in Frankfurt, Germany.

It is also generally accepted that the frankfurter first won popularity in America at Coney Island, where it was introduced by Charles Feltman, a German immigrant, in 1871.

Who first wedded mustard to the hot dog? Alas, so far as I can find, he is as nameless as the first guy who joined ham and eggs.

But here are a few more important facts and milestones in the career of the hot dog:

Hot dogs became a fixture at baseball games during the World War I in the Polo Grounds here.

In 1937 the sleeker frankfurter came into vogue. That year 126 million pounds of hot dogs were produced in America. Last year Americans ate an average of 18.16 hot dogs a person during the peak season between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

Americans this year will consume a billion pounds of hot dogs. If laid end to end — the hot dogs, not the Americans — they would reach to the moon and back.

The hot dog has many other nicknames. They are called rickens, weiners, wienies, viennas, red hots, hot pups and pups. In some places hot dogs covered with chili sauce are known as "chili-husks"; those smothered with onions are "poodles."

Naturally hot dogs had to enter the atomic age. They did last March. Put in hermetically sealed cans, they were dunked into 18 feet of water saturated with gamma rays at the national reactor testing station in Idaho.

The Army Quartermaster people say that these atom-bombed hot dogs, removed from the cans, still retain their flavor and remain unspiced for six months at room temperature.

Who but a hamburger lover would let a hot dog be around uneaten for half a year?

Around The Rim

Easy Way To Get The Story

I suppose you could call it "wire tapping." However, there were no wires involved and there was no actual tapping of any medium of communication — in any real sense.

Maybe you'd call it wireless tapping. Actually, it was only the utilization of a peculiar electronic phenomenon to a special end. A beneficial end, insofar as I was personally concerned. I am aware that the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad Company views the matter in a different light.

This all happened a long time ago. In the days when radio was more or less a novelty and no one had ever even heard of television, I was working on a crippled little morning daily at that time.

I had a radio receiver — a powerful 3-tube job which operated off dry cell batteries and fed its audio production into the earpieces of headphones. I had rigged a device onto which were attached five or six pairs of headphones.

It was our practice, when the paper had gone to press, for the crew, generally augmented by a few railroad telegraphers and night clerks who worked the 4-to-midnight shift, to gather in my office. We would don the headphones, tune in one of late night transmitters and listen to the dance bands. We'd play hot games of pitch and chance — the loser usually being stuck for sandwiches and coffee for the crowd.

One night, only myself and a second trick railroad telegrapher were on hand. He had just left his job at the freight station a block and a half away. We were listening to the Coon Sanders Night Hawks. "No. 6 is 30 minutes late," he casually observed.

This, to me, seemed utterly pointless conversation, so I asked somewhat testily "So what?"

"I just heard Cleburne send the word," he replied. I thought he had blown his fuse. Then he had me listen. Back of the music trickling through the headphones, I could hear a faint irregular clicking which I recognized as the dots and dashes of a telegraph. To demonstrate further, my friend picked up a pencil and copied down half a dozen train orders.

Why the telegraph cable a block and a half away "leaked" enough to be picked up on my little radio receiver I do not know. I only know that it did leak and that messages being transmitted and received could be copied.

I stowed the information away for future reference.

A couple of months later, a Santa Fe passenger train tangled with an automobile at a lonely rail crossing fifteen or twenty miles away. Five persons were killed; two others were injured.

Maybe railroads are different now. I don't know. In those days, nothing clamped up a railroad crew like a tragedy of this sort. The railroad gaged the investigating officers. There was no highway patrol and digging up the details of such a story was a heartbreaking and generally hopeless job.

I remembered my private telegraph line. I knew a special investigator had been on the case and that he would write out a report for transmission to the head office. That report, I knew, would be frank and complete. I figured he would transmit it after midnight when the traffic was slow on the wire.

So I got my telegrapher friend, provided him with paper and typewriter, and turned on the radio. My lunch worked.

A few minutes after midnight, we heard the local man calling for the Cleburne office. When he made contact, he began to send. My boy began to copy. As a result I had a verbatim report of the whole accident as it had been checked out by the railroad investigator.

From that report, I wrote my story of the accident. It was a jim dandy since I had details that would never have been available from any other source.

When the newspaper appeared with the report, the railroad officials hit the ceiling. They grilled the investigator and accused him of slipping me a carbon. They demanded where I got my information. I only asked if there was any errors in the report. They said there were no errors but that they didn't want the story printed. I merely told them I did not have to reveal my source. They fumed, threatened and ranted but got nowhere.

They never did find out.

And for three years after that, anytime I wanted to get the lowdown on a crossing crash or a railroad accident, I used the same grapevine.

I don't know whether it was ethical or not. I only know that it was a great timesaver in gathering news. And saving time was pretty precious to me then.

—SAM BLACKBURN

No Inflation, Just Rising Prices

If there's one thing that makes me more nervous than anything else, it's inflation eternally gnawing away at my vitals.

So it is mighty comforting to know that the recent rise in the national Consumer Price Index (cost of living, in plain English) to the highest level on record is not traceable to inflation.

The high cost of living is simply attributable to the fact that things cost more. This splendid explanation — and you can't find a flaw in that statement — comes from Ewan Clague, U. S. Commissioner of Labor Statistics, whose department lets you and me in on such secrets from time to time.

Clague expects the cost of living to inch forward again this month, for the fifth successive month. But I already surmise that any rise during the current period will, again, be caused by rising prices and not by inflation, perish forbid!

But now that Clague has inflation licked, I do wish he'd do something about those rising prices. It's a funny thing, but even under the present beneficent administration, I can't tell the difference between inflation and rising prices with my eyes shut. This is probably due to some ingrained defect on my part, like color blindness or cold feet.

As a result, I suffer from a terrible yen for a little plain, unadorned flation. All my life, I've been plagued by the in- or the de- variety. It would be a pure pleasure just to sit and rock a spell without worrying about either.

If we could just level off to a year or two of flatness in this country, ulcers would subside, divorce statistics would be halved, delinquency would wane, jitters would abate, tension would disappear, and these happiness pills would be a drug on the market.

It is apparent that the cost of living has as its motto, "Excelsior!" It keeps on and upward like a gazelle and we wretched citizens struggle in its wake. The HCL is now accustomed to a ruffled atmosphere, but we stragglers need a little more oxygen for comfort.

Flatness would do it. It would give us a breathing spell and a chance to bring back the five-cent nickel. But there is scant hope for either. Steel will cost another $5 to $12 per ton, the prophets say.

As Maine goes, so goes the nation. And as steel goes, so goes the old family budget. Bye, bye budget! Pastmasters will see in this course still further high octane for the inflationary spiral. But right-thinking optimists will know that any resolute hike in the price index will be due solely to the fact that things cost more.

If prices came down, that would be deflation, which is as terrible, if not more so, than inflation. But who cares, when his stomach aches, whether the cause is watermelon or green apples?

Our only hope, obviously, is in taking a shot of the stuff stragglers, that is, (copyright, 1956, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Deflation In The Middle East

Col. Nasser has had a bad jolt in his game, which was to run an auction with Moscow and Washington-London bidding against each other for the privilege of helping Egypt. His mistake was not to realize that this is a game which can be played only for moderate stakes; when the stakes are as big as in the Aswan Dam project, virtually all or nothing, the bidders become more cautious and may even refuse to play.

Before committing themselves to an undertaking which will last for 15 years and will cost a huge sum of money, they are bound to ask themselves whether a government like that of Col. Nasser's is efficient and honest enough to administer one of the greatest public works ever begun on this planet.

If the Egyptian government proved itself not to be up to the task, the result might be not power and influence for the foreign government but trouble, disorder, and nationalistic resentment.

When Col. Nasser made his arms deal with the Soviet bloc, there was enough panic in Washington and London to cause them to try to outbid the Soviet Union by an offer to finance the foreign currency costs of the Aswan Dam. This, we can now see, was a mistake. It caused Col. Nasser to suppose that he had two rival bidders, each so determined to win the prize that he could play with them both. For months he has felt so sure of himself that instead of going seriously to work preparing for the tremendous job of building the Aswan Dam, he has been playing revolutionary politics all over the Arab world. His prestige there was high, it being supposed that the two great world coalitions were both waiting anxiously upon him, and that he was in the happy position of being in a position to choose between them.

As it turned out, when he made his choice, there were no bidders. The West withdrew, almost certainly with reasonable knowledge that the Russians had made no firm bid. Once the West had withdrawn, the Russians lost no time in advising Col. Nasser not to turn to them with the implication that they had made an offer.

For the time being the spell is broken, the notion that the control of Egypt depends on who finances the Aswan Dam, and that Egypt will either be won to the West or lost to the Soviets. With no one financing the Aswan Dam for the time being, the importance of Egypt, which had been inflated to almost global proportions, will become more nearly normal.

It took courage for Secretary Dulles to stand as he did on the Aswan Dam, and he has been repaid by being proved right in his judgment that in Egypt the Soviet Union is not prepared to challenge the West totally, as would be the case were she to underwrite the Aswan Dam. According to the new Soviet Foreign Minister, Mrs. Shepilov, the Soviet Union wants to exercise influence on Egypt's industrial development but is not taking the risk of seeking total control, and of total responsibility for the Egyptian economy.

The Soviet position is in the line of the policy announced in Moscow last April during the interval between Khrushchev's visit to Britain and that of Malenkov and Bulganin. It was indicated then that the immediate objective of Soviet policy is to neutralize the Middle East rather than to take any serious risks in the attempt to conquer and absorb the Middle East. This meant that the Soviet Union would not back the Arab states in a war against Israel, and would in fact oppose such a war.

It is fair to say, it seems to me, that in the Middle East Soviet policy is to play the game of competitive co-existence but for limited stakes. They do not seem to want a Palestinian war, or a show-down in Egypt, or the kind of anti-western disorder in the oil-bearing lands which would compel Anglo-American military intervention.

Dodge, Plymouth Showrooms

Here's where the new Dodges and Plymouths come from in Big Spring. It is Jones Motor Company, at First and Gregg. Jones also provides complete automotive service, for Chrysler Corporation cars as well as vehicles of all other makes. The firm has a large assortment of used autos, as well as an array of the new Dodge and Plymouth models, style and performance leaders in their respective fields.

Hobby House Now At 207 1/2 Main St.

Hodges Hobby House, after two years operation at its old location at 603 E. 3rd street, is now in its new home at 207 1/2 Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hodges, operators of this unusual business in Big Spring, have opened their new location for business even though they have not as yet had time to complete all the details of "moving in."

The new building, handy to the buying public downtown will offer more display space than was possible at the old location. It will also permit a larger stock. One new feature will be an enlarged toy department. The Hodges already have a large shipment of Christmas toys on hand which will be placed on display as soon as they have time to straighten out the confusion caused by the move. Official open house for the new

Hammond Organ Has All Fine Instrument Features

What is the most important item to consider when buying an organ? Price? Appearance? Style? Or tone? All these items are considered in purchase of an organ, but the one single point that is outstanding is the tone quality. For without a clear beautiful tone, the instrument would not be wanted at any price -- or fit into any home. The tone of all Hammond organs is termed "music's more glorious" and it lives up to the title. The tone is the same in all of Hammond's five models.

In Big Spring, Mrs. Champ Rainwater is agent for the Shield Company of Fort Worth, dealers in this area for Hammond instruments. The five models can be seen at Mrs. Rainwater's studio at 716 Hillside. Hammond organ tones are produced electrically, thus giving a wide range of arrangements. In addition, two special features are selective vibrato and touch response. Because of the highest quality in tone and range variation, these Hammond models are naturally slightly more expensive than other brands. The Shield Company however has introduced a three-year payment plan enabling more people to own a Hammond. In addition, Mrs. Rainwater will take old pianos and organs on trade-ins. The five models handled by Mrs.

location is slated for next Friday and Saturday. The proprietors will have everything in order by then and they cordially invite their old friends and all of their new friends to visit their shop. Hobbyists in all fields will find a complete stock of equipment needed for their particular favorite at the Hodges Hobby House. The Hodges opened their Hobby House two years ago and have enjoyed steadily growing business since.

Time To Check Philgas Supply

The cooler weather is not very far ahead, so now is the time to check on your supplies of fuel for the winter. If you use butane gas, Philgas is distributed locally by the McGibbon Oil Company, offices of which are located at 601 E. 1st St. From your centrally located Philgas tank, you can use butane economically for many different purposes. You can get the money-saving features of Philgas as a tractor fuel and the wonderful convenience of clean controlled gas heat for your home. Deliveries are made at regular intervals so that you always have an ample supply of Philgas for your every need. Among other uses, it can be employed to heat chick brooders, operate stationary engines, run tractors, heat water, refrigeration, range cooking and stock tank heating. No matter where you live, you can enjoy the convenience of city gas and modern gas appliances with Philgas. Philgas is a clean and efficient fuel that is safe and economical of use. Tractors can be converted to the use of Philgas at the McGibbon Oil Company headquarters. It can offer you a saving not only this year but for many years to come. Now is the time of year to apply Phillips 66 Ammonium Sulfate to your lawn, if it is showing signs of giving up the fight. If applied correctly and given water at regular intervals, your lawn will show results almost immediately, once Ammonium Sulfate is applied. The fertilizer is available at any Phillips 66 station in the area, as well as at the McGibbon Oil Company.

Uncle Ray: Rosetta Stone Gives Honor To Ptolemy V

By RAMON COFFMAN

LONDON — It would be a mistake to suppose that the Rosetta Stone solved, at once, all mysteries of the ancient writing of Egypt. Far from that! Years went by before a good start was made in learning the facts.

Several scholars worked on the problem of finding the exact meaning of the Egyptian picture signs. Fifteen years passed, however, before Thomas Young, a British scientist, made genuine progress. A few years later, a French scholar named Jean Champollion made further big forward steps.

The Rosetta Stone was carved in honor of Ptolemy V, a young king of Egypt who was partly of Greek descent. The Egyptian priests gathered in council 2,152 years ago, and composed the words.

Here, in shortened form, are some of the things stated on the Rosetta Stone:

Ptolemy V gave money and grain to the temples. He forgave many taxes owed to the Crown by the people. He set free prisoners who had been held in jail many years. He forgave rebels, and let them return to Egypt to live. He cut down the taxes on farm lands.

Golden figures of Ptolemy V are to be made (says the writing on the Rosetta Stone). These figures will be placed beside those of the gods. The first five days of the month of Thoth will be set aside in honor of the king. All the people are to wear garlands, and to make offerings in the temples. Every priest shall wear a ring, and upon the ring shall be words describing Ptolemy V as "the good god who has appeared on earth."

The writing further states that the decree of the priests must be cut on a basalt slab in the Greek language, and in two kinds of Egyptian writing. This order was most important of all; the Rosetta Stone has supplied keys which modern scholars have employed to obtain a wealth of knowledge about the writings of ancient Egypt.

Fire Bombs Used As Cons Attempt Prison Break-Out

THOMASTON, Maine (U.S.)—State prison officials tried today to fix responsibility for an attempted breakout in which "Molotov cocktails" were hurled at a guard tower and gate.

At the same time yesterday fire, which Warden Allan Robbins said was "started as a diversion," swept the prison print shop. Firemen extinguished the blaze but the shop was destroyed.

Robbins said the escape attempt was quelled quickly without casualties and "half a dozen" inmates were locked up in solitary confinement. He would not identify them.

The warden told this story: At 11:20 a.m., when most of the prison's 443 inmates were in the exercise yard, a small group tried to storm a gate.

They hurled rocks and three glass jars filled with gasoline and rags at the gate and guard tower. The fire bombs burned out harmlessly.

Robbins called the incident "a well-organized escape attempt that just didn't click."

He said the prisoners involved had broken into the commissary and bolted two rolling shelf ladders together to use in scaling the wall. They also had obtained several white shirts to replace prison garb. Two unused fire-bombs were found in the commissary.

10 Miles are Worth 10,000 Words!

Test Drive Phillips 66 Flite-Fuel and discover why we say:

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!

Even though we tell you that no other gasoline gives you the combination of high performance components you get in FLITE-FUEL, you can't appreciate what this really means until you drive with FLITE-FUEL in the gas tank of your own car.

The proof of FLITE-FUEL's superiority is in the driving! So we propose that you demonstrate to yourself the remarkable performance qualities of this different and better gasoline.

One of the things you'll like about FLITE-FUEL is its wonderful ease of starting. Then try it for its breath-taking acceleration. You'll be delighted with the smoothness made possible by advanced high octane. Discover the advantages of controlled volatility and positive anti-stalling.

In a gasoline, it's performance that counts! Today, fill up with FLITE-FUEL at any station where you see the orange and black Phillips 66 Shield.

PHILLIPS PETROLEUM COMPANY

CHECK OFF THESE PERFORMANCE ADVANTAGES OF Flite-Fuel

- HIGHER ANTI-KNOCK—FLITE-FUEL has been fortified with high octane components to give utmost smoothness and power in today's high compression engines.
- EASE OF STARTING—Even a cold engine starts easily, warms up quickly with FLITE-FUEL... summer or winter.
- FAST ACCELERATION—Feel the instant response you get with FLITE-FUEL. Controlled volatility is the reason.
- CLEAN-BURNING—FLITE-FUEL contains extra amounts of high purity, clean, burning natural gasoline.
- MORE MILEAGE—The more you drive with FLITE-FUEL the more you'll appreciate the added miles in each tankful.
