Howard, Glasscock Turn Out Year's First Cotton Bales

Two first bales of cotton rolled off of gin presses Monday afternoon — one Howard County's first product of 1956, the other Glasscock County's first.

1,860 pounds of seed cotton, rolled off the press at 1:15 p.m. It pulled out 29-32nds of an inch and graded middling.

At 3 p.m. Cecil Long ginned his own bale at Lomax, a 520-pound package gathered off about 15 acres of dryland cotton a mile and a half west of Lee's. This is just over in Glasscock County. Grade and staple were about the same as on the Coahoma bale. Long said he had 152 acres of cotton on the Civil Rights Plank Seen As Key To Johnson Plans

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democratic convention's ability to fashion a civil rights plank acceptable to his "moderation" views may be the key to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's plans to push or drop his presidential hopes.

all hours of the day and night are many Southerners who look to the Senate majority leader as their principal hope for a moderate stand on the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

Party Unity First With Platform Panel

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic platform drafters sought today to place party unity above how they feel of racial segregation in schools—an issue that could tear them apart as they gird for the November elections.

man of the Platform Committee, is holding the touchy civil rights plank till last.

Deadlock Still Holds In Demo Party Meeting

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—There was no sign of a break today from the essential deadlock in the struggle among the Democrats over their presidential nomination.

"Favorite sons" still clinging to their votes, and the big block of delegates silent as to their sentiments kept the outlook teetering in uncertainty as the party faithful returned to this hall for the second day of their convention.

Daniel Again Refuses To Meet His Foe Yarborough In Debate

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Staff

Sen. Price Daniel campaigned in South Texas Tuesday after again refusing to meet his gubernatorial opponent, Ralph Yarborough, in a debate.

Daniel said he had "stated publicly I would not engage in a debate with any candidate who deals in personal attacks, personal abuse and untrue and misleading statements."

Yarborough accepted an invitation of the Young Democrats of the 10th Senatorial District at Fort Worth to the debate.

Yarborough campaigned in the Houston area Tuesday with a TV address and a rally for precinct workers.

Daniel visited San Marcos and New Braunfels with a TV appearance in San Antonio Tuesday night.

Yarborough, in a TV speech, asserted Daniel was the "handpicked heir to the Shivers throne."

He said the State Democratic Executive Committee had endorsed Daniel as Gov. Shivers' candidate.

"In letters being mailed over Texas this week on the official stationery of the Shivers State Democratic Executive Committee, the Shivers machine is attempting to perpetuate itself in office by electing its handpicked candidate, the junior senator, to the governorship," Yarborough asserted.

Daniel said in a TV speech he deeply resented "the charges, allegations and insinuations that anyone who works in government is automatically suspect to some sort of misconduct or wrongdoing."

He said "All of us want the true facts developed" and that he would ask the Legislature to authorize a citizens' law enforcement commission to investigate and "lay bare the true facts for all Texans to see."

Lodge Sees No Changes In Russia Or Its Satellites

DALLAS — Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, told the Veterans of Foreign Wars last night he could see no changes in Russia and its satellites.

Vice President Richard Nixon earlier summed up American foreign policies as "peace with honor" and asked support of the policies.

Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson speaks tomorrow. Marine Gen. Randolph Pate and Harvey Higley, administrator of veterans affairs, spoke today.

A 12,000-person parade tonight will take two hours to pass a given point. Some 50 bands and drum and bugle units from 48 states were to take part.

Lodge said the United States, through the United Nations, has "in football language, gained some ground."

He listed as gains the stopping of a Communist outbreak in Guatemala, stopping Red China's attempt to take over Formosa and exposing "Communist distortion on the spot" and exposing "to world opinion the brutal Red techniques of forced confessions, wartime atrocities, slave labor and the colossal lie about germ warfare."

Nixon asked support of U.S. foreign policies and said:

"Unless they are completely and enthusiastically supported by the American people, they will not be accepted by other nations as our true program."

Some 4,500 delegates gave Nixon a standing ovation and solid applause after National Commander Timothy Murphy of Boston introduced him as a "real guy."

Nixon praised members of both parties who supported President Eisenhower's foreign policies, calling the leadership of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) and Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) "American citizenship in its finest sense."

Ft. Hood To Remain As Regular Station

WASHINGTON — Ft. Hood, Tex., will continue to be maintained as a regular Army post with a normal complement of one tactical division, Army Secretary Brucker said yesterday.

Brucker said Hood had been previously designated a home station in the world rotation program. Homebased divisions and smaller units trade stations with overseas units at regular intervals under this arrangement.

The 4th Armored Division now at Hood is not in this year's plan. The division could be sent overseas in the future, however, and another unit, probably an armored division, would take over at Hood.

Clement Gives 'Em Hell And Heaven

By SAUL PETT
CHICAGO — It was, as the man said, "a give 'em hell and heaven" speech.

But Frank G. Clement, 36, governor of Tennessee, boy orator of the Cumberland and an old-fashioned spellbinder, lived up to his advance billing last night.

His keynote speech had evangelical fervor, ungentle humor, thunder, searing derision of the opposition, songs of sweet harmony for the home team and a ringing battle charge. It had alliteration, metaphors (straight and mixed), rhyme, puns, catch phrases and long, rolling sentences that began innocently, gathered speed and crashed like angry waves on the Republican beach.

He assailed the GOP opposition with cries of "Nixon, Dixon and Yates" . . . "party of privilege and pillage" . . . "the Republican triple B—Benson, below parity and bankruptcy."

He said President Eisenhower "cannot Jim Hagertize his way through this whole campaign." He said, "The farmer has been devitalized by the GOP and Bensonized by Ezra B." He said, "Foster (Dallas) fiddles, fritters, frots and flits," called him alternately the "wandering minstrel" and "the unguided missile."

The cheering, howling delegates in the blue-trimmed convention hall loved it, though they seemed to run down on steam toward the end. Not Clement. His energy and breath control showed no letup.

A literary purist might argue that the length of his sentences left you breathless and his metaphors occasionally wrestled each other to the ground.

Item: "That kind of double-faced campaign by the opposition — the vice-batched man slinging slander and spreading half-truths while the top man peers down the green fairways of indifference — will not be tolerated by the Democratic party."

Item: ". . . There is righteous ground for objection that the farmer's income is being ploughed under 25 per cent these past 3 1/2 years by the party that said when it came into power that it was going to be tall in the saddle for big business—and has kept that promise with the highest batting average in the history of American politics."

Toward the end, Clement recited a catalogue of what he called Republican sins, his arms up-raised, sweat streaming down his angry, handsome face, down his blue collar, blue shirt, blue suit. Before each stipulated sin of the enemy, he asked, "How long, oh, how long" would they be tolerated. There were a dozen "how long's."

And at the very end, his fist raised high, he shouted, "Precious Lord, take our hand. Lead us on!"

It was a varied program. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's gentle, extemporaneous speech contrasted strikingly with Clement's thunder. Mrs. Roosevelt got her own special response from the delegates — standing applause, a light in their eyes and, one imagines, a special something running up their spines.

The delegates also enjoyed a party propaganda film and a quiz show.

Clement brought to the microphone two quiz kids—Gloria Lockerman and Leonard Ross, who together had won $148,000 on two television programs.

The keynoter questioned the children.

Q. What are all these delegates doing here?

A. They're going to nominate the next President of the United States.

Q. How does the growth of small business under the Republicans compare with the Democratic years?

A. Eight to one in favor of the Democratic administration.

There were other questions and other answers, none of which labeled the Democrats.

Constant Vigilance

CBS-TV's Betty Furness, who handles the commercials on "Studio One" and who is doing a similar assignment for the Democratic and Republican conventions this year, knows the value of appearance. She finds the difference between being attractive and letting yourself go lies in one word - caring.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Betty Furness Figure Is Not By 'Accident'

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—When Betty Furness greeted me by her swimming pool last weekend, just before she went to Chicago and the Democratic Convention, she was wearing a smart bathing suit. I took one look at her flawless figure and I knew a body like hers was no accident.

When I remarked about this Betty agreed. "The answer is constant vigilance. I like to have a good appearance and I am willing to work for it. The first step toward any beauty is in caring. You have to exchange action for excuses."

"I weigh myself every single day," Betty confided. "If the scale shows I'm two or three pounds over, off they go. But as a rule my weight is constant except when there are too many parties. I think it is rude to a hostess to accept her invitation to dinner and not eat it because you are dieting."

"I knew Betty a long time ago when she was under contract to RKO, but as the first saleslady of TV she's happier now than she's ever been."

"People have an idea that I receive a fabulous salary for dashing into CBS for a few minutes on 'Studio One' Monday nights. But my job takes my full time."

"I have to memorize my lines, fit my clothes and attend conventions. I bought 30 dresses to do the commercials for the Democratic and Republican conventions." For the benefit of her feminine audience Betty usually makes two or three changes of wardrobe every day.

"Being on TV and being able to watch myself on a monitor has made me realize that no home should be without a full length mirror. Look in it when you're deciding on what to wear before going out. Check your hair lines, sleeve lengths, necklines and above all, fit. If you are meticulous about this you'll look so much more slender."

"The most commonly made mistake," Betty contends, "is overdressing. Ask yourself what you can take off. Do you need both the earrings AND necklace?"

Before I left I asked Betty to tell me of her favorite diet.

"I am a fan of Dr. Monroe, the author of 'Man Alive, You're Half Dead.' His theory appeals to me because he never lets you touch bread or sweets and I don't care for either of them. But he does let you have butter and cream, lots of beef and green vegetables. Dieting this way is no hardship because he allows the foods I like the best. That's the secret of staying thin," Betty declared, "finding the reducing diet to your individual taste."

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Watching and listening to the television coverage of the Democratic convention is better than going. We enjoyed the short interviews and the informal chats among the newsgatherers even though the network were tuned to get a sharp reprimand for not carrying the documentary film. This was to have been tied in with Gov. Clement's keynote talk. However, if it were a necessary part of the address nobody seemed to notice it. The Republicans probably didn't like it and perhaps some of the Democrats but I'm sure they would all have to say it was well-prepared and impressively delivered.

Gloomy grandparents are MR. AND MRS. G. C. GLENN whose little grandsons, Dewey Clayton and Derry Lee Hodgkin, are to leave Thursday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Hodgkin. Their father has been in military service and is getting his discharge. They have made their home at 205 W. 6th St. They will make their home in St. Joseph, Mo.

MR. AND MRS. WATSON HAMMOND and their daughters, Sue Gail and Vicki Ann, have returned from Junction where they spent a week. They went to fish... and they did, but they didn't catch anything. They did enjoy swimming, though.

MRS. ARTHUR RUECKART has returned from a vacation in Dallas with her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Ina Hawk and her daughter, Louise. They saw the Liberace show at the fair grounds.

His mother, Mrs. Carl Benson, and little sister, Sally, plan to go to Hobbs, N.M., so that Bennie can spend the day with his good friend, Chris Allen. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Allen, were recently transferred to Hobbs.

G. C. RAGSDALE figures he had a pretty good watermelon crop for one that just happened.

When a single vine came up 'voluter' in his backyard at 711 Washington Blvd., he decided to see what it would do. It did plenty... producing six watermelons approximating 25 pounds each.

Ackerly Families Enjoy Fishing Trip

ACKERLY — Mr. and Mrs. Corlis White and Fredia and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hambrick and children have been fishing for a few days at Bunnam Dam. Also accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Smith and Sylvia Ann.

Guests of the Tommie Hortons have been her sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Carol Oglesby from Corpus Christi. Visiting the John Wagners have been their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Salch of Waco. All the families visited another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert High-tower of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Belew and children left for Cisco recently where they visited her mother, Mrs. W. E. Rhyne.

Recent visitors to Midland were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Knowlton and children. They visited Doyle Sellers in the hospital where he underwent recent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Cozart and boys returned home from a three-day trip that took them to different parts of Central and East Texas. They visited her mother, Mrs. R. E. Rhyne in Cisco and they also fished at Hamilton Lake.

Mrs. Maude White and her mother, Mrs. W. D. Boswell visited recently in Big Spring with Mrs. White's son, A. L. White.

Bobbie Ellis and Elvin Knowlton left recently to report for active duty with the Navy.

Ricky and Londa Kemp, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Kemp, are recuperating at home after undergoing tonsillectomies in a Lamesa hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Brown and daughters, Seagraves visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Baker. The Browns were on their way to Big Spring to attend the funeral of Brown's uncle, Louis Brown.

Marriage Told

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Cross, 608 Lancaster, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Sandra Jean, to A.C. Melvin MacCuish. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacCuish of Malden, Mass. The couple was married July 19 in Colorado City. They will make their home at 1507 Main. Mrs. MacCuish will continue her studies at Big Spring High School.

Back Yard Party

LAMESA—Mrs. Doyle Payton, superintendent of Beginner I Department of the First Baptist Church, entertained the teachers and officers with a back yard party in the home of Mrs. Raye Moore recently. Honored at the party were Mrs. R. E. Speck and Mrs. Vernon Kidd who will celebrate birthdays this month. Twelve attended.

Joint Meeting Held

Men and women of the St. Thomas Catholic Church held a joint meeting Sunday night in the church hall. Father Jack Clark was in charge of the meeting. Plans were made for the all-church barbecue to be held Sept. 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the City Park. Tickets will go on sale in the near future. An auction sale will be held the night of the barbecue.

Family Reunion Held

One hundred members of the immediate family of the late James Chapman attended a reunion Sunday in the City Park. Forty-one guests were present at this, the 27th annual reunion. A basket picnic was spread at noon, and visiting and swimming were the entertainment.

Van Hoosear-Buckalew Vows Exchanged Sunday

LAMESA—In a single ring ceremony read Sunday afternoon, Lois Ann Van Hoosear exchanged wedding vows with Charles G. Buckalew in the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. J. Lloyd Mahew read the ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and lemon leaves flanked with branch candelabra.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Van Hoosear, 510 N. Ave. F. Mr. and Mrs. Olen Buckalew of 310 N. Ave. M. are the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. W. J. Beckham, organist, accompanied Larry Briso who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace, designed and made by her mother. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline of lace which formed brief sleeves. She wore lace gauntlets over the hands.

The bodice was complemented with a full skirt of tulle worn over taffeta with a double panel of lace down the front. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a pearl tiara. She carried an arrangement of white roses and lily-of-the-valley atop a white Bible belonging to her grandmother.

Wanda Williams, Ackerly, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Brenda K. Buckalew, sister of the bridegroom, and Suzanne F. Van Hoosear, sister of the bride. The attendants wore identical gowns with the bridesmaids being in yellow and the maid of honor in blue. The molded bodice featured small short jackets. They carried bouquets of white carnations with colored streamers to match their dresses.

Neil H. Buckalew served his brother as best man. Ushers were W. C. Seale, Alvin W. Cates, Albert Seale and J. B. Cates of Kermit. The tapers were lighted by Gerald G. Huffaker, Tahoka, and Arthur K. Van Hoosear Jr., brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Woman's Study Club. The bride's table was laid with blue net over yellow linen. The attendants' bouquets formed the centerpiece. Mrs. George Reich Brownfield, and Mrs. Roley Smith, Ackerly, presided over the serving table. Guests were registered by Adelia Shipley. Other members of the houseparty included Nancy Powell, Alice Ritchie and Mary Beth Dudley all of Lamesa.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a sheath dress of brown cotton satin with a brown jacket and accessories of brown and white.

First Baptist WMS Has Royal Service

The Christine Coffee Circle of First Baptist Church was in charge of the Royal Service for the WMS Monday afternoon.

Preceding the service, a program was given by the Sunbeam Band under the leadership of Mrs. B. T. Faulkner and Mrs. Beulah Bryant.

Mrs. Charles Sweeney was leader for the service, the theme being "Ye Christian Heralds! Go, Proclaim." Mrs. R. D. Ulrey brought the devotion, using the scripture, John 15:1-8, and II Corinthians 4:5-6. She also gave an account of the "haystack prayer meeting," held in August, 1906.

Mrs. Sweeney discussed the establishment and growth of the five Baptist theological seminaries "Our Baptist Mission Fields" was the topic used by Mrs. Forrest Gambill for her talk.

Sentence prayers were offered by Mrs. Horace Reagan, Mrs. Floyd She wore a corsage of white roses.

The bride is a junior in Lamesa High School. Her husband attended Lamesa High School and served with the 14th Cavalry Armored Division in Germany.

Parsons, Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Theo Andrews. Mrs. W. F. Taylor presided for a business meeting following the program.

Elbow HD Club Has Annual Party

Members of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club entertained their families and about 30 guests at their annual family party Monday evening. The gathering was held at the school.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. B. J. Petty, the vice president, Mrs. Ray Shortes, was in charge of the meeting. Games were directed by Mrs. E. B. Lowe and Mrs. Curtis Sherman.

Refreshments were served to 16 members and their families beside the guests. The next meeting will be at the school on Sept. 12 with Mrs. J. L. Stevens as hostess.

Mrs. J. M. Ragdale and grandson, Benny Ray Foyer, of Texarkana, Tex., have returned home after a visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Culpepper.

State Delegations Are Still Divided

CHICAGO (AP)—This is what state delegations to the Democratic National Convention were doing today.

NEW JERSEY — Grumbling reported in uncommitted delegation as some members want Gov. Robert B. Meyner to stand as "favorite son" presidential candidate and others want a declaration for Adlai Stevenson.

PENNSYLVANIA — Gov. George M. Leader said Stevenson now has 62½ or 63 votes in state's 74-vote delegation. But this was disputed by some in the group.

NORTH CAROLINA — National committeeman Everett Jordan said Stevenson is gaining ground in his bid for the presidential nomination.

TENNESSEE — Delegation arranged caucus and Buford Ellington, its vice chairman, said a

Author Races With Death

OXFORD, England (AP)—Author Joyce Cary is writing a new book with death looking over his shoulder.

The 67-year-old writer has confided to friends the verdict of his doctors—their belief he is doomed to die within two years, maybe less. He is suffering from a form of progressive paralysis regarded as incurable.

Cary is known in the United States for such novels as "The Horse's Mouth," and "The House of Children."

His new book will deal with the current revival of interest in religion.

Demos Whoop As Keynoter Speaks

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic convention delegates got their first big chance to whoop last night when Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee denounced what he said was a "sordid" Republican record of "broken promises and unredeemed pledges."

The 36-year-old governor, assigned the task of rousing the Democratic faithful to fighting pitch, delivered a keynote speech in old-fashioned fire-and-brimstone fashion.

Again and again the packed convention hall applauded, stamped and roared as the youthful governor laid into the Republicans as the "party of privilege and pillage."

And he spared neither President Eisenhower nor Vice President Nixon in his indictment, shouting at one point:

"The President's record and his party's record are one and the same. He cannot pry them apart."

Clement referred to Eisenhower as "a genial, glamorous and affable general who joined the Republican party after he had reached the age for retirement from the regular army."

Nixon came in for rougher treatment. Clement called him "the vice-hatchet man of the Republican party," a hark-back to Nixon's 1954 campaign speeches

"all-time low" among the nations of the world.

He accused the Republicans of favoring a "privileged monopoly" over the farmers, small businessmen and workers of the country.

By contrast, he said, the Democrats are "close to the heart of the people," adding that they possess "the leadership and experience to conduct the affairs of America successfully on the home front and on world missions."

New Drought Loan OK'd By Farm Unit

DALLAS (AP)—Federal officials meeting yesterday with State Director Walter McKay and his staff announced a new type of FHA loan for refinancing debts on family-size farms whose owners are hard-hit by the drought.

The loan is part of a series of new or revised loan programs of the federal agency.

The new loan should bring relief to many Texas farmers and ranchers who have borrowed their limit from private lenders and still are suffering under drought conditions so that payment on their debts is unlikely. Undersecretary of Agriculture Kenneth Scott said.

He said farmers and ranchers in all states are entitled to borrow under the loan program and there won't be money enough to do a lot of large refinancing. There is a limit of 50 million dollars a year that can be loaned under the program.

"I think there is enough to take care of the real hardship cases," Scott said. He said the agency will also continue making special speech. But they said Clement's possible choice as a vice presidential nominee has never been discussed.

KENTUCKY — Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, chairman of the 104-member delegation, said he has only 40 of Kentucky's 66 tickets for Thursday's nominating session. He said outgoing national committeeman Lawrence W. Wetherby kept the other 26.

OKLAHOMA — Many of the 28-vote delegation, pledged to Harriman, are pressing for more Harriman backing among other delegations. Gov. Raymond Gary, delegation chief, predicts 375 Harriman votes on the first ballot.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

SPORTS DIAGNOSE:
ROCKY MARCIANO, when asked what he could have done had he met Jack Dempsey when Jack was in his prime:
"Gosh, I'd even hate to meet him now."

PHOG ALLEN, retired Kansas basketball coach, in reply to a question about his future:
"One of the things I'm not going to do is run for governor or anything else—ever. Those guys throw so much mud, and it's so hot and dry around here, that they're going to get soaked up with it they'll think they're in Pharaoh's tomb. Another thing I'm not going to do is coach basketball. I've done all the coaching I'm going to do. And the last thing I'd do is coach from the sidelines."

FRANKLIN LEWIS, Cleveland writer:
"There doesn't seem to be much of an excuse for a ball club to stink as low as the Washington Senators have—almost to the point of no return. Without a farm system, without money, without an outside chance for the future, the Washington club has become a master in the American League. You say that Kansas City, not Washington, is in eighth place? True, but Kansas City had no choice. The property that the Mack family permitted to deteriorate in Philadelphia before it was moved west is the same one Kansas City is trying to build up. The Washington club offers a different picture. The Senators will be a collection of castoffs and inferior players until such time as the league forces a change. The six other teams in the circuit are building with the hope of finishing second. The Senators might even get thrown out of the Broadway play, 'Damn Yankees,' one of these performances."

RED SAUNDERS, UCLA football coach:
"I want my big players to cut the sleeves off their jerseys. Take Ted Kluszewski in baseball. One look at those arms is enough to scare any pitcher. The same thing applies in football. I don't say players get frightened, but they do acquire a certain respect for a powerful looking opponent."

WARREN SPAHN, Milwaukee pitching ace:
"The rule book says that pitchers' mounds are supposed to be 15 inches higher than home plate, but it doesn't work out that way. . . . In most parks, the difference is more than six inches. I've tried to think of a really good mound around the league, but I can't. The one we had in Boston was built with hard clay and the dirt never really loosened up. At one park now, the dirt in front of the mound is loose so that when someone like Newcombe pitches against you, you're in trouble. He makes a big hole when he follows through. The one in Chicago goes to the other extreme. The dirt is so hard there that after nine innings your spikes just go through your feet."

JIMMY POWERS, New York scribe:
"Joe Adcock makes our rather sophisticated baseball world look a little more adult by offering to shake hands and forget the Gomez incident. This is all the more magnanimous because it comes from a man who was beaten four times in recent years. I doubt if the average person, after suffering a cracked skull or arm fracture, would be as forgiving."

DUSTY RHODES, New York Giant outfielder:
"If Ted Williams had my personality or I had his batting swing it would be worth a million dollars to one of us."

Tech Back Looking Forward To Playing Purple Again

Charles (Buddy) Hill, winding up his last week in ROTC training at Webb Air Force Base here, is looking forward to playing football one more time against mighty TCU.

BUDDY HILL

Hill, a compact 185-pounder, spends his fall quarterbacking the Texas Tech Red Raiders. He and his teammates will get a chance to neutralize the effects of that 32-0 defeat handed them by the Cotton Bowl-bound Frogs last fall.

Hill has great respect for the Frogs' Jim Swink but thinks the secret of TCU's success reposed in the tricky ball handling of quarterback Chuck Curtis.

Tech again has its work cut out for it, since both Swink and Curtis will again be back this fall.

Buddy took over in mid-season last year as Tech's regular quarterback, after Cotton Kirkpatrick injured his foot. He expects a lot of competition for the post this year from a Graham youngster named Don Williams.

Light Hitters Wreck Cincy

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbets of the Cincinnati Redlegs often has said, "Crandall murders us."

Then, before last night's game with front-running Milwaukee, which the Braves won 5-1 behind rookie Taylor Phillips to stun third-place Cincinnati for the third straight time, Birdie volunteered, "O'Connell? He kills us."

Del Crandall and Danny O'Connell, whose mediocre batting averages belie their value to the Braves, accounted for all five runs last night as Tebbets' faltering pitching staff got another workout.

Crandall drove in three runs with a sacrifice fly and a home run, his 13th. O'Connell, who punched out 8 hits in 13 trips in the 4-game series that stroked the Redlegs back to third, 4 games behind, accounted for the others with a base-loaded single.

Tebbetts even used four outfielders in an effort to stop Crandall, but Del smacked a single through second. Second baseman Johnny Temple fielded the ball in right-center field where he had been stationed. Had he been playing his normal position he might have been able to throw Crandall out.

Tebbetts employs the shift against Stan Musial, among others.

QBC BARBECUE SET SEPT. 7

The Quarterback Club barbecue honoring the 1956 Big Spring High School football players and their coaches will be held the evening of Sept. 7.

Tickets for the party, which are being sold by members of the booster organization, sell for $1.50 each. Everyone is eligible to take part.

The QBC will hold its second meeting of the fall season at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the High School Library, at which time the 1956-57 membership drive will get under way.

All parents of players on this year's team have a special invitation to attend, officials have stated.

Three SW Games In Extra Rounds

Three Southwestern League games went into extra innings Monday night.

The longest was 13 innings, where it took Rowell 13 innings to whip Indians 6-5.

El Paso beat San Angelo 2-7 in 11 innings and the second game of a doubleheader at Plainview took eight innings for the Ponies to beat Pampa 1-0. Plainview also won the opener 6-2.

Ballinger beat Clovis 5-2, and Carlsbad swamped Hobbs 7-1. Ballinger is at Carlsbad, San Angelo at Midland, El Paso at Pampa, Hobbs at Plainview and Rowell at Clovis Tuesday night.

Carlsbad got only seven hits but they were good for seven runs in the victory over league-leading Hobbs.

REDS MAY HAVE REACHED END OF THE LINE
By ED WILKES
The Associated Press
Have the Cincinnati Redlegs, who figured "to go as far as our pitching will carry us," reached the end of the line?
It was Manager Birdie Tebbets who tagged his pitching the big "if" in the National League pennant chase, and now that his no-so-robust Redlegs are slumping at the plate just when the pitching is in need of a lift, the Cincy are hurtin'.

Tebbetts needed a "stopper" last night, what with relief ace Buster Freeman sidelined by a freak mishap and Hal Jeffcoat and Brooks Lawrence taking their lumps, but he couldn't find one. Milwaukee first-place Braves tagged Johnny Klipstein and swept the final three games of their four-game set with a 5-1 decision.

The defeat skidded the Redlegs four games behind the Braves and two back of Brooklyn, raised out at New York in the only other game scheduled in either league.

The Redlegs, who won the series opener behind Larry Jansen, who was just recalled from the minors, were on even terms with the Braves for five innings. Then Del Crandall, whose sacrifice fly produced the first run, tagged Klipstein for a two-run homer, his 13th, to break a 1-all tie in the sixth.

Rookie Frank Robinson, who was 1-for-10 in the first three games of the set, supplied the bulk of Cincinnati's inept attack, going 4-for-4 and socking his 29th home run. It was only the fourth homer managed by the benighted free-swinging Redlegs in the series.

Rookie Taylor Phillips, a 23-year-old southpaw, gained his third victory without defeat with his second straight complete game—scattering seven hits and walking only two while holding Cincinnati's power nays, Ted Kluszewski, Gus Bell, Wally Post and Ed Bailey, hitless.

Mantle On His Own In Record Bid: Stengel

NEW YORK (AP)—Garfield old Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, let it be known today that Mickey Mantle is strictly on his own in his pursuit of Babe Ruth's home run record.

With 43 games to go, starting with tonight's date with the Boston Red Sox, Mantle must hit 20 homers to eclipse Ruth's mark of 60 and become the present-day Sultan of Swat.

"I don't know how I can help him toward the record," croaked Stengel. "It's a job he'll have to do himself. The pitchers won't help him any."

"They'll walk him half the time anyway or give him bad balls to hit at, so it's a problem he has to face himself."

The suggestion was raised that maybe Stengel would consider hitting Mantle in the leadoff spot, so Mickey would get to the plate more often.

"No dice," said the professor. "You build your batting order to win ball games, and besides he would get only six or eight more times at bat if he was the first batter."

"Well, then, does the Professor think his man will break the record?"

"Half the time I doubt it," he answered. "They figure to make it tougher and tougher for him. They're sure not giving him much to hit and the longer they do that, the more anxious he might become to take a swipe at some of those bad pitchers."

Mantle talks less about the record than anyone. He does admit that he is getting fatter and fatter good pitcher to hit.

"I'd like to hit 75, if I could," he said. "But I'm not worrying too much about it. What I'm trying to do is get a piece of the ball, so I can keep hitting around that .370 mark."

By NITA HEDLESTON
One of the most ardent baseball fans in this area was once a baseball player himself.

Sammy Sain, operator of the Big Spring Motel, saw seven years of action as a shortstop in the Texas-Oklahoma League, East Texas League, Texas Association, in Arizona State winter ball and the old West Texas League.

Sain has always loved baseball. He says he had a baseball bat in his hand when he was five years old. He recalls that one time when he was about six or seven, his family was having its picture made. He refused to be included unless he could wear his baseball suit.

In high school, he was the member of a team that turned out three professional ballplayers. Once the team played the Fort Worth Cats in an exhibition game and the Cats won the game by only one run margin.

Sain started in pro ball in 1920 in the Texas-Oklahoma League. His first full year of ball was with the Abilene Eagles in 1922.

"I remember that first year the most," he said. "I remember my first homer. That was probably my greatest thrill. I sure did hate to cross that home plate though. I was all choked up inside."

Another incident he recalls was during his first game when he fielded his first ball. He scooped it up and threw it over to the first baseman so hard, the first baseman almost fell over.

"If I had missed that ball," he said. "I don't think I could have kept on playing."

Sain liked to learn as much as he could about baseball by talking to the "old heads" and umpires. One amusing incident occurred one day when he was walking down the street with an umpire. A bird dog was sitting on the sidewalk and the umpire-friend took one look at the dog and kicked him off the sidewalk.

"Why did you do that?" asked Sain.

The umpire then told this story. "I used to play ball for John McGraw, who was a big hunting fan. I was a catcher then and at the end of one season, McGraw traded me off for a bird dog so he could go hunting. I've hated bird dogs ever since."

umpire pulled out his watch which meant that King had three minutes to leave the field or the game could be forfeited. King kept his position on the ground and told the umpire that he would stay that way for three minutes and if he was out, the Lord above would strike him down. At the end of three minutes, King got up, looked the umpire in the eye and said, "I told you I wasn't out."

Sain believes that it is easier for a baseball player to break into the big leagues today than when he was playing. Because then, he said, "a player couldn't have any weaknesses. He had to be able to do everything."

"I don't think the players then were any smarter than those of today," he said, "but I think we played harder because the ball was deadlier then than it is today. They train different today too. We learned to run, hit and steal. Oh, they do some of that now, but we did a lot of it then."

"Today they play for that home run. Then we played to get in that one run in a squeeze play from third."

Another change Sain noted was the difference in the number of players. "We had 14 to 15 players then. The left-handed batter had to learn to hit off a left handed pitcher but today there's more players. So when a left-handed pitcher is up, they send in a right-handed batter."

Sain says he would like to see pro ball back in Big Spring. He thinks that the Little Leagues will do much to help in bringing the sport back here. Golf and football have taken a lot away from the sport, he said, and he believes the Little Leagues will help build up that interest in more youngsters to play ball.

"I've had a lot of experiences in baseball," he said. "Maybe not as many as some others have had but I've met some colorful characters and had some good times."

Catch Fish Every Day This Sure Way

Making 100 year old fish bait makes fish bite every day or no cost. Scientists are just now learning what the Indians knew 100 years ago.

Hungry or not hungry, fish bite at Duddle Oil bait, regardless of what you use. Liver, minnows, flies or even a piece of soap—they will bite if you use Duddle Oil. Regardless of what kind of fish you wish to catch, catfish, bass, crappie or perch they will bite every day.

Buy Duddle Oil at COLLINS BROS. DRUG & WALGREEN AGENCY. (Adv.)

There is at least one case where the blight resistant cotton in Martin County put up a pretty weak resistance. Gene Clements' 1517BR cotton has blight spots on both the leaves and bolls. It is not an bad as was found in many fields last year, but there's enough blight to drop the yield and grade.

Dr. Clark of New Mexico, who helped develop the cotton, will be in Stanton in a few days to look over the fields of 1517BR that have the blight. He plans to make some laboratory tests of the seed planted this year in Martin County, if there are any left.

The angular leaf spot or blight is widespread over the South Plains this year on the older varieties of cotton. Severe damage is reported at St. Lawrence and in the areas around Lubbock and Plainview.

Feed won't get any cheaper the next few months, say local grain dealers. E. T. Tucker says maize is selling for $2.23 at Amarillo and is getting hard to find. He has been trucking it in from McGregor.

Good hay is also getting scarce while the supply of cottonseed meal has dropped to low levels, and will stay that way until the new cotton crop gets to the mills.

The biggest injustice, he said, "is that the farmer is not getting a similar increase for his products. Their own margin of profit has become so thin it's almost disappeared."

Farmers in the St. Lawrence community south of Garden City have their own brand of problems. This year they have had insects, leaf spots, wells too small to cover the fields and several kinds of insects.

H. D. Childress has had water trouble. He now has six wells but one broke down and he missed a watering on part of the field, which probably cost him several bales. Also he says his water has dropped a little, which may have been caused by putting the wells too close together.

Insects have been more numerous than usual, but he has kept them down fairly well. Right now he has leopards and thrips. He said the summer had been so windy that planes couldn't find enough quiet hours during the day to cover the fields.

Childress hasn't been bothered with leaf spot this year. He planted the 1517BR and says the blight hasn't showed up on it.

The Flower Grove FFA members plan on taking six or seven hogs to the Dallas Fair in October, according to Earl Maddox, agriculture teacher.

Most of the boys in that area grow Durocs, he said, and will have some animals in top condition for the show. The Flower Grove members have won numerous prizes at the Stanton, Lamesa and Lubbock shows.

This last weekend we visited relatives about 30 miles southwest of the Carlsbad Caverns where the 13-year-old son was being made like a cowboy. He spent three weeks on a ranch helping repair windmills and fences and driving cattle out of the brush.

I almost had to rope and tie him to get him back to Big Spring.

Most of that country is dry but not as dry as this in proportion. They never get much rain over there and don't expect it. Some of the ranches have sheep springs and draws where tobacco and salt grass grow, and this has kept down feeding.

My brother owns the State Line Cafe, about 16 miles Southwest of White City. It's a sort of gathering place for all the ranchers and cowboys for 20 miles around. It is here they meet in the evening to swap talk about cattle and politics while the young ones talk about girls.

The week before we got there, a middle-aged cowboy got married and all the neighbors pitched in to give them a big barbecue. I met the happy couple at the cafe. The woman was a good-looking city girl and was beaming with pride as she gazed at her new husband. He looked happy too, but a little self-conscious as he sipped red soda pop.

One cowboy said later that the puncher never drank soda pop before and was having to change a lot of his habits. He had quit chewing tobacco, had toned down some of his by-words and even changed shirts every day.

"That's a woman for you," said the cowboy, who is an old bachelor. "If this fellow don't rear up and tell her what's what, he won't be worth associating with."

"Now I got nothing against women," he continued, "but when they start telling a man what to drink and wear and making him put cigarette ashes in a tray instead of on the floor where they belong, then a wife gets to be a doggone nuisance."

Lamesa Church To Burn Its Mortgage

LAMESA — Wednesday night's regular family night activities at the Clark Methodist Church will see the church officials burn the mortgage which has been against the church since its founding. The last money to liquidate the debt was raised Sunday, according to R. L. Price, lay leader. Chairman of the official board is Phillip Noble, while the Rev. Alvin G. Smith is pastor.

Recruiter Back From Vacation

Chief R. E. LaFon, local Navy Recruiter has just recently returned from a 30-day leave, during which he and family visited 16 Midwestern and Western states and the Yellowstone National Park, Disneyland, and the San Diego Balboa Park and Zoo. He reported that he and family had a wonderful time but were glad to get back to Big Spring.

Mexican Held

LAMESA — A Mexican National, Jose Lopez, 28, is being held in the Dawson County Jail for the United States Border Patrol. The patrol will seek to return him to Mexico because of alleged illegal entry.

Liquor Suspect Held

LAMESA — A Brownfield Negro, Alfonso Finney, 26, was arrested Sunday by the Lamesa Police Department, and fined $428.70 in Dawson County Court for transporting alcoholic beverages in a dry area.

Monorail Okayed

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Park Board approved yesterday details of a proposal for a monorail transportation line at Fair Park. Construction is expected to start soon on the 4,000-foot route through Fair Park.

Welker, Taylor Face Big Test

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho) seeks nomination to a second term and former Democratic Sen. Glen Taylor makes his second bid for a political comeback today in Idaho's primary election.

Seven other candidates have jumped into the race in hopes of heading off a slam-bang Taylor-Welker contest in November. Both men face a tough fight. It's the most crowded field the state has seen since 1940, when Taylor first strummed his guitar in an Idaho Senate primary and Welker was a small town attorney in Payette.

Four Republicans are in the field against Welker, who has differed frequently with the Eisenhower administration on such questions as foreign aid and farm policy.

Three Democrats oppose Taylor the onetime "singing cowboy senator" who held a seat in 1944-50 and bolted the party in 1948 to run for vice president on a third-party ticket headed by Henry Wallace.

His opponents are Frank Church, 32-year-old Boise attorney; Alvin McCormack, Lewiston farmer; and Claude Burtenshaw, Rexburg teacher. McCormack and Burtenshaw also ran in 1952.

Welker's challengers are William Holden, Idaho Falls attorney; John Sanborn of Hagerman, a former congressman; Ray J. Davis, Pocatello teacher; and Mark L. Streeter, a Shelley farmer.

Rivals In Three-Way Handshake

It's a three-way handshake as Adlai Stevenson, left, and Averell Harriman, right, pose with Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas during a reception at the Hilton Hotel for Speaker Sam Rayburn, who will be the permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention. Alongside Johnson, who is mentioned as a possible darkhorse candidate for the presidential nomination, is his mother, Mrs. Sam Johnson.

Dulles Confident As He Leaves For Suez Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles left today for London, reportedly confident a 22-nation conference opening Thursday will pave the way for settling the dangerous Suez Canal crisis.

Dulles conferred for 40 minutes yesterday with Secretary of Defense Wilson; Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and Gen. Alfred

M. Gruenther, commander of North Atlantic Treaty forces in Europe.

In advance of his departure Dulles was reported to feel his diplomatic efforts had eased the threat that war might break out in the Middle East over Egypt's move in seizing the Suez waterway.

Top American officials were reported optimistic that the London meeting would devise a formula for some kind of international control acceptable to both Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Western governments.

Egypt has refused to attend, but left the way open for further talks by proposing a different conference on the Suez matter.

Seeking to dispel reports of a preconference split with the British and French, the State Department said Dulles was "in complete agreement" with them on the need for finding "international means" for insuring that the nationalized canal would be open to ships of all nations.

It was Dulles who, in preliminary talks, advanced the proposal for an international authority to operate the giant waterway, instead of the Egyptian government.

The department's announcement left open the question of how hard Dulles and other Western countries would push for this in view of almost certain opposition from Nasser to the plan.

Dulles was reported insisting, however, along with the British and French, that Egypt must give far more assurance than it now has that it will never interfere with canal traffic.

Dulles is understood to be reconciled to spending nearly two weeks in London discussing the problem, passing up the Republican National Convention, which he had hoped to attend in order to help to write a foreign policy plank in the Republican platform.

The convention opens in San Francisco next Monday.

2 Men Charged With Assault Of Polio Victim

HOUSTON (AP)—Two men were in jail today charged with criminal assault of a polio patient, 27, Frank Gilmer, 21, and Newton Phelps, 36, were accused. The young housewife suffered polio several months ago which left her arms and one leg paralyzed.

Phelps, in a written statement, said he is a friend and acquaintance of the woman and her husband, and admitted taking her for a ride last night. He denied assaulting the woman.

Gilmer also denied in a written statement he assaulted the woman.

Neighbors reported seeing a man carry the woman from her home about 8 p.m. last night. It appeared the victim was struggling with the man neighbors said. They joined another man and drove off.

About two hours later the woman was let out of the car several blocks from her home. She was found by police and taken home. Detectives were unable to get a coherent story from the victim. She has been able to say only that she was taken "way out Humble road."

Mercury Once More On Rise

By The Associated Press

Texas thermometers started climbing toward the hot weather level again Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau predicted only a few isolated showers and scattered clouds. Dawn temperatures ranged from 85 at Dallas to 64 at Lubbock.

Temperatures Monday ranged from 106 at Presidio to 90 at Corpus Christi.

Salt Flat got 44 of an inch of rain Monday. Wink reported .63. Alpine .69 and Galveston .65. El Paso and Palacios got traces.

Warm weather was the outlook for most of the country today with no relief from the blistering heat in the Southern Plains.

Showers and thunderstorms also were forecast for wide areas in the Southeast, the plains region and the lower Ohio Valley.

Thunderstorms and showers hit areas during the night from New York state southwestward to New Mexico. Heaviest amounts were in the Ohio Valley, with nearly 1 inch reported at Dayton, Ohio, and Evansville, Ind. In the southeast, biggest rainfall reported was 1.06 inches at Montgomery, Ala.

Temperatures climbed above 100 degrees in parts of Oklahoma yesterday and more of the same was forecast for the Southern Plains. Kansas was in line for a little cooling.

Beauty Entry

Patricia Ida is one of the contestants in the Howard County Farm Bureau beauty contest.

Patricia, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ida of the Vealmoor community.

Neighbors reported seeing a man carry the woman from her home about 8 p.m. last night. It appeared the victim was struggling with the man neighbors said. They joined another man and drove off.

About two hours later the woman was let out of the car several blocks from her home. She was found by police and taken home. Detectives were unable to get a coherent story from the victim. She has been able to say only that she was taken "way out Humble road."

Purists Don't Like The Word, But 'Inflation' Is Still Here

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The purists say that inflation is the wrong word for what's happening today to the cost of living.

The rise in the price of materials and finished goods and the hike in the cost of labor and of services should, they say, be called by some other name.

But most men, noting that the month's bills are higher than they were a year ago, probably will go right on calling it inflation.

What the economists mean by inflation is the blowing up of the supply of money. As the supply multiplies the value of money goes down—as in the case of any other commodity. When you call today's dollar a 50-cent dollar you don't mean that it doesn't have 100 cents as always, but that it will buy now only as much as 50 cents would buy in the depressed '30s.

Economists lay most of the blame for this to the puffing up of bank credits and the money supply during World War II and the Korean War. This is a favorite device of governments for financing wars.

The same economists point out that what's happening to the cost of goods today is different. The government isn't inflating the money supply.

Still the average man notes that he will be asked more when he buys a car this fall or a home appliance or a farm tractor or wants to put up a building or buy machinery. Men's suits will cost more and so will carpets and shoes and beer. Freight rates may go up again.

Small Tanks Hold Texas Drought Hope

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Two small stock tanks and a 3 1/2-acre lake could possibly be the keys to supplying water-short Texas a huge new amount of water, a research group reports.

The small tanks are being used by the Southwest Research Institute for field trials in coating the surface of water so evaporation will be slowed or halted.

The institute, a private research organization, says almost as much water is lost from reservoirs by evaporation as is used. If a method can be devised to halt evaporation, Texas cities using reservoir water will have twice as much, to the joy of officials scrambling for new water sources.

In 1952, W. W. Mansfield of the Scientific and Industrial Organization of Australia began tests with hexadecanol.

Hexadecanol is a fatty substance used in cosmetics. It quickly spreads a film one ten millionth of an inch thick across water.

Mansfield's experiments showed an evaporation reduction of 45 per cent. The chemical had no effect on plants, animals or fish.

The report interested the San Antonio institute which organized an international conference on water evaporation. It was held here April 14 and the institute flew Mansfield to the meeting.

The institute had been retained by a group of Texans who formed the former Texas Cooperative Research Project on Reservoir Evaporation Control. The group raised more than $25,000 for research.

The conference attracted industrialists, scientists and water district officials from throughout the United States and Mexico.

Scientists checked suitability of thin films in the Southwest. They have worked with the U.S. Geological Survey from Denver and public health scientists from Cincinnati.

In the San Antonio laboratories, more than 100 chemical substances were screened for possible use. Then came the field tests on the small bodies of water.

The hexadecanol is being fed from small floating screened rafts which contain small pieces of the material which forms the thin film and which serve to replenish the supply.

Effects of dust, wind and floating objects on the film is being studied.

Heads Pontiac

S. E. Knudsen, new general manager of Pontiac, has had a distinguished career with General Motors. He started with Pontiac in 1939, has held major positions with GM's Process Development, Allison and Detroit Diesel Divisions.

But the others took anywhere from 2 to 103 (in 1923, when John W. Davis was named). That's what brings the average up. There were 46 roll calls before Woodrow Wilson got the nomination in 1912 and 44 before James M. Cox made it in 1920.

Later the Democrats have taken less time naming their candidates. Not since Franklin D. Roosevelt elbowed John Nance Garner aside in 1932 have they taken as many as four ballots.

NEW CITY, N. Y. (AP)—Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh has selected four prominent lawyers to act as special masters in suits stemming from the Andrea Doria-Stockholm disaster.

The masters will have full power to hear pretrial testimony and pass on motions. They will not make judgments.

Walsh said the masters were picked to expedite proceedings. The move will also save court fees for the litigants because the masters have agreed to serve without pay.

Most of the suits have resulted from injuries and loss of life and cargo in the July 25 collision off Nantucket Island, Mass. The crash sent the Doria to the bottom and seriously damaged the Stockholm.

The four masters—announced at the judge's suburban home here and expected to be formally appointed in New York City today—are:

Simon H. Rifkind, former U.S. judge; Louis M. Loeb, president of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York; Benjamin A. Matthews, president of the New York County (Manhattan) Lawyers Assn.; and Mark W. MacLay, an admiralty law specialist. All are of New York City.

All suits will be heard in Federal Court, Southern District of New York. Sept. 19 was set as the opening date for a pretrial examination of the suits.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Domestic oil producers have urged President Eisenhower's Cabinet Committee on Energy Supplies and Resources Policy to limit oil imports to the import ratio the committee set up for 1954.

A statement on the import ratio was filed by 19 associations of independent domestic oil and gas producers with the President's committee. The committee is conducting a re-examination of the oil import problem.

In February 1955, the Cabinet committee recommended that petroleum imports be held to their 1954 relationship to domestic crude oil production, and that if imports exceeded that ratio they could endanger the national security.

Limit Urged On Oil Imports

Tax Relief Provided In Forced Sale Of Livestock

Drought stricken farmers have been provided income tax relief on the sale of livestock by Public Law 829 approved June 29, 1956, the Internal Revenue Service has pointed out.

When a farmer has to sell his livestock, in excess of the number that he usually sells in his ordinary business, due to a drought, he can consider the sale as an involuntary conversion.

The tax relief provisions relating to involuntary conversions have in the past applied to such things as the burning of your house, losses by flood, etc. on which insurance is collected.

No tax is due on the sale of property due to an involuntary conversion if the property is replaced with like kind within a specified period, generally before the end of the following year.

Ben Hawkins, Administrative Officer of the Big Spring office said that farmers who are having to sell livestock due to drought conditions will qualify.

He pointed out that the Farmers Tax Guide for 1955, Internal Revenue Service Publication 225, sets out the procedures the farmers should follow in Chapter 13. Publication 225 is available at Internal Revenue Service offices

Convention Odds Bad Bet

CHICAGO (AP)—If conventions were like horse races, you could play the odds and put down a pretty safe bet on the Democratic one opening today.

Trouble is, people are less predictable than horses.

Here are the odds, based on past performance: The convention will last five days, barring a big row over the nominee. They've ranged from 2 to 16 days over the years since 1832.

The ballot on which the candidate will be nominated would be the 12th if the percentages held steady.

The Democrats have nominated 17 of their 31 candidates, starting with Andrew Jackson, on the first ballot.

But the others took anywhere from 2 to 103 (in 1923, when John W. Davis was named). That's what brings the average up. There were 46 roll calls before Woodrow Wilson got the nomination in 1912 and 44 before James M. Cox made it in 1920.

Supermart Glamor Is Latest Gimmick

NEW YORK (AP)—Glamor in the supermarket is the latest gimmick in this highly competitive business.

Its aim is to take the chill off the present day miracles of efficiency and push-button self service our groceries have become.

First, designers glamorize the market to lure the woman shopper away from another giant down the street. Then they try to soothe her so that she will slow down her headlong pace among the stacks of cans and prepackaged vegetables.

The theory is that when relaxed she becomes a prey to impulse buying. Pink marble stairwells, bronze statues, even wild ducks in a pond are some of the new gambits.

With picture windows overlooking the meat cutting and packaging room, as one supermarket designer puts it quaintly, "we're trying to recapture the feeling of the old sausage butcher shop."

A new shopping center opening on Long Island in October plans an ice skating rink that can double for fashion shows.

A Midwest food chain decorates its markets with glass and steel giraffes whose heads sway in the breeze. Another chain in the East displays food products on spokes of colorful wheels.

Some of the older supermarkets are repainting their walls in pumpkin, chocolate or canary. A New York design firm says this is "to bring warmth, color and gaiety into the markets and to offset the coldness of gadgetry and the super efficiency that awes the average customer and sends her scurrying for the door."

Glamor entering the supermarket doesn't mean the end of gadgetry, designers assure you, but "as still more automation takes hold to provide efficiency and speed in the marketplace, even newer methods and techniques will be devised to offset the coldness."

With mobiles, murals and sculpture already there — and walls decorated with cut outs of cows, butter churns and straw hatted farmers — what is there left, except maybe soft lights and sweet music? And already some of them pipe in the music.

Curious Time For Conference

While most of the Democratic congressional leaders were already assembled in Chicago, or in process of assembling there, President Eisenhower called a special Sunday conference at the White House for the announced purpose of "sharing views" with them on the critical Suez situation.

Mysteries Of Mars Life Due Solution

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Reporter

PASADENA, Calif., Aug. 14 (AP)—Some mysteries of life on Mars and its canals may well be solved this summer when the red planet pays its closest visit in 32 years.

Many astronomers are sure there is life on Mars. Great areas change from brown to green with the seasons and other blue-green areas change in tint. This is pretty good evidence of vegetation or plant life. But what kind? And is there an outside chance of some forms of animal life, even intelligent beings?

Many astronomers have glimpsed the strange markings called canals. But photographs fall to show them clearly if at all. Perhaps this time they will, for illuminating study.

On Sept. 7 Mars will be only 35,163,000 miles away, almost as close as it came in 1924, and about as close as it ever comes. It will be five million miles nearer than it came just two years ago.

All summer and fall astronomers in 10 countries will be watching and studying this tantalizing sister planet.

Tantalizing because it is the planet most like earth, though only half as big; because it is hard to see it clearly, save for fleeting seconds, due to the shimmering of our own window of air above us; because it could be an early goal for the further maintenance of the public for visiting space ships when and if man begins exploring the universe. Mars shines red in the sky because more than half its surface is covered with orange-red desert, barren, bleak, swept by hot winds that swirl yellow dust clouds high in the air.

Its atmosphere is thin and almost devoid of oxygen, the life essential for us earthlings. There is so little moisture that it is estimated probably all the water on Mars would scarcely fill Lake Erie.

Temperatures near its equator may swing 200 degrees, from a noontime high of 80 to 70, to 150 below zero at night. A day lasts 24 hours and 37 minutes, but the Martian year is nearly twice as long as ours — 687 days for one journey around the sun. All its seasons are nearly twice the length of ours.

Great ice caps form as winter comes to each pole. But the ice is probably only a few inches thick on water-thirsty Mars. With summer, the cap melts and a dark belt — believed to be marshy land or reviving vegetation fed by melting ice — appears around it.

Astronomers have long observed blue-green areas — first called "seas" — that grow darker in the spring and spread toward the equator and even beyond. The general guess is that it's plant life.

The case for life on Mars was strengthened in 1954 when Mars swung within 40 million miles of us. A big surprise of the 1954 observation was the appearance of a huge new blue-green area, about the size of Texas, right in an area which had been flaming red desert.

It showed among thousands of photographs taken at Bloemfontein, South Africa, one of the best observing spots. This new dark splotch could be vegetation which for some reason had won a struggle against the desert.

Mars' plant life might be something like lichens, a low form of vegetation on earth. Other earthling plants probably couldn't survive the Martian conditions. But lichens are a hardy combination of algae and fungus, mutually helpful, requiring little water, able to withstand great heat and cold.

Mars has enough sunshine — half as intense as the sunlight reaching earth — for growth of lichens and other plants.

Two In One Operation

Two operations in one are accomplished through a new product, Johnston's Polishshampoo. This preparation, added to the indicated amount of water, provides rich suds for washing the car. What is more remarkable is that when the suds are washed away, the car is left with a sparkling sheen without the necessity of a polish job.

Polishshampoo Makes Old Car Just Like New

Every year thousands of cars are junked, says the Gaston Johnson Corporation.

Why? Not because they won't run. Simply because the owners have neglected the looks of the cars — and have allowed the finish to become so "beat up" that little by little the car becomes worthless.

Whether yours is one of the beautiful new models with which the roads are crowded, or an old one with which you are "making do" until you can turn it in for something more up to date, not to see that it is kept washed and polished shows both a lack of pride and no business sense — on your part, and the part of the whole family.

What has "the whole family" got to do with it? Washing the car, polishing the body, the chrome, and the glass, used to be a man's job — a major performance.

Today with Polishshampoo, a new product, — a woman, or a teen-aged child can do the job quickly, and with no effort.

Where can you buy this product in Big Spring? At Piggly Wiggly, J. O. Newsom Supermkt., J. E. Green Food Mkt., Dale Douglas Food Mkt., Jack's Drive In Gro., Toby's Drive In Gro., and Hull & Phillips Gro. Distributed by Strippling Supply Co.

Polishshampoo polishes as it cleans. It not only removes every last particle of grit and grime, dust and dirt, but it actually renews the gleam of the original car polish.

It is a scientific formula made only for car washing. After using it, the surface of the car, and its glass and chrome, are spic and span.

There are no streaks, no spots, and you don't have to rub or wipe. Polishshampoo works by itself.

Answer To That Summer Wash Problem: The Ideal Laundry

There's nothing so discouraging wake up on a hot summer morning to the average housewife as to find her laundry still waiting to be done. She knows that even if the washing itself may not be so difficult, there still remains the task of ironing.

Maybe on more reasonable days such as fall and early winter or perhaps on a pleasant spring day, these traditional household duties are less irksome. In the hot summer is when they assume mammoth importance and loom as almost impossible.

Well, there's no reason for misery to do the jobs at all. All she has to do is pick up the telephone and call AM 4-6231.

New Liquid Cleans And Polishes Cars

Polish your car as you clean it — with POLISHAMPOO. Just apply with harmless suds, then simply flush off dirt and "road film" that resist ordinary washings. Car shines quickly with no rubbing or wiping, leaving a polished surface. The POLISHAMPOO regularly to keep car clean and polished. Bottle containing 8 shampoo, 8c. Available at Piggly Wiggly, J. O. Newsom Supermkt., J. E. Green Food Mkt., Dale Douglas Food Mkt., Jack's Drive In Gro., Toby's Drive In Gro., Hull & Phillips Gro., Dist. by Strippling Supply Co.

SOLVED — CARPET CLEANING PROBLEM

Science finally has the answer to carpet cleaning. Blue Lustrite, a new development, is mixed with water and brushed into carpet or upholstery. It's amazing the way forgotten colors spring out. The nap is left open and lofty. It's easy to apply. One half-gallon of Blue Lustrite cleans three 9 x 12 rugs. Available at Strippling Supply Co., 117-119 Main St.

Washers, Dryers Offered By Fiveash

For the best in automatic washers and dryers, see Speed Queen; for the best in water softeners, see Mayco; for the best in water heaters, see General.

And for all these superior products, see Fiveash Plumbing Company at 821 E. 3rd St.

Fiveash handles all these appliances, which will improve the efficiency of any home. The Speed Queen is recognized by servicemen everywhere as America's best built, best engineered automatic machine.

Among the features of this model are the "floatation" pre-rinse. Before wash water is spun out of the tub, lint and dirt particles are floated off into the drain — so that loose dirt and lint are not "spun back" into the clothes.

And with the power overflow rinse, loose dirt is flushed over the top — not down through the wash. In addition the Speed Queen's simple transmission carries a five-year guarantee.

To beautify the home, purchase a Speed Queen dryer to fit next to the washer. They are both available in either gas or electrical models.

To make washing easier and save soap, have Fiveash install a Mayco water softener in your home. There is a size for you — 30,000, 50,000, and 83,000-grain capacity — and all carry the Mayco 10-year guarantee.

These water softeners save time, money, and work, plus saving plumbing bills.

Combine the Speed Queen washer and the Mayco softener with a General Duroglas water heater, and your washing problems are over.

The General Duroglas heater cannot rust, cannot crack, and is shock proof. Duroglas is a remarkably hard and durable dark blue glass armor fused onto steel. This gives perfect protection against the chemical action of hot corrosive waters. In addition, blows that would shatter ordinary glass won't even show on Duroglas.

BEST WAY TO KILL ROACHES AND ANTS

Scientists recommend that you control roaches and ants the modern way—with Johnston's N-O-R-O-A-C-H. Brushed just where you want it, (not a messy spray) the colorless, odorless coating kills these pests. It's effective for months, sanitary, and so easy to use. 5 cc. pint, quart. Available at Safeway, Piggly Wiggly, Hull & Phillips, Newsom's, Bud Green's, Cunningham & Phillips, Big Spring Drug & your local drug or grocery store.

Women At 62 Soon To Draw Social Security By New Law

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Women covered by Social Security will soon be able to begin drawing retirement payments at age 62 in the first break from the age 65 deadline fixed when the program was set up 20 years ago.

The change, sponsored by Democratic leaders, was embodied in the Social Security bill passed by Congress on the day it adjourned and since signed by President Eisenhower.

The bill makes no change in age 65 retirement for men. However, one provision gives a break to married men who expect to receive retirement checks under Social Security. It will permit their wives to start getting the wife's benefit at age 62. Until now, the wife had to wait until she herself reached 65.

Under the new law qualified women between 62 and 65 will be able to begin receiving payments starting in December. The age 62 retirement is optional.

For one group of women, widows of deceased workers covered by Social Security, the new law provides payments at 62 equivalent to the full amount they now receive at 65.

The widow's benefit amounts to three-fourths of what her husband would have been entitled to at retirement. Thus, if he were eligible for the maximum, $108.50 a month, she would receive $81.40.

Women workers and wives of retired workers must take a reduced rate of payment for life if they go on the rolls before 65.

Women workers retiring at 62 will receive 80 per cent of the full age 65 payment. For those entitled to the $108.50-a-month maximum at 65, age 62 retirement would mean a monthly payment for life of $87.

For each month beyond 62 that the worker waited to go on the rolls, however, she would get an additional five-ninths of 1 per cent of her full payment rate. Thus a recipient entitled to the maximum payment would get $94 a month if she retired at age 63, or $101 at age 64.

A wife of a retired worker would receive 75 per cent of her age 65 payment if she elected to go on the rolls at 62. For each month that she waited after reaching 62, her payment would be increased 25 thirty-sixths of 1 per cent.

The bill does not change the requirement that the husband must have started receiving his Social Security checks before his wife can get hers, which amount to half of the husband's. Thus a woman older than her husband cannot draw benefits until he reaches 65.

A wife going on the rolls at 62, if her husband was entitled to the maximum payment of $108.50 a month, would get $40.50 instead of the $54.30 which she would be paid if she waited to age 65.

Thus a couple in this bracket would get $149 a month if the wife went on the rolls at 62 as compared with the $162.80 they would receive if she waited until age 65. If the wife began receiving payments at 63, the monthly check would be $154. If she started at age 64, it would be $158.

Uncle Roy: Canals Are Streets In City Of Venice

By RAMON COFFMAN
VENICE — My brother, Paul, looked around this city for a while before he remarked:

"I am glad I don't live here! If I did, I might open a door and step right into the water!"

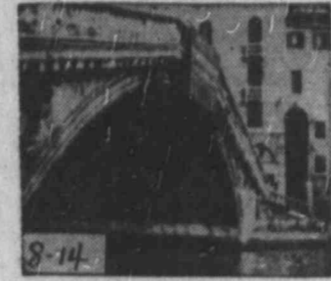

It is a fact that many Venetian houses and other buildings have walls which touch the water. There are doors in the walls through which a person might tumble, or stumble, into the canals. The Venetians of course, have learned to wait for a gondola or other boat before stepping through a doorway in such a wall.

The streets of Venice are canals in most cases. There are ments for the two groups were worked out actuarially to give women electing retirement before 65 about the same total amount of money, spread out over a longer period of years, as they would receive if they waited until 65.

Experts for the Social Security Administration estimate about 300,000 working women, 300,000 wives of retired workers, and 200,000 widows will take advantage of before-65 retirement in the first year.

Since the first checks under the new program will go out in four months, women expecting to take advantage of it are being advised to file claims at their district Social Security offices promptly. Officials expect a heavy crush of applications at the outset of the program.

The famous Rialto Bridge in Venice.

a few paved roads inside the limits, but only a few. If a person wants to go from one point to another, he usually must make his way by foot or in a boat. There are sidewalks, and more than 400 bridges.

Aside from the gondolas, there are motorboats which make trips along the canals. They travel several times as fast, and a person may see dozens of islands inside of 10 minutes. All told, there are 118 islands in Venice.

I used a motorboat in going to the Lido. The Lido is a long, narrow strip of land which provides one of the most widely known bathing beaches in Europe. There I saw the blue waters of the Adriatic Sea.

Venice is a center for the manufacture of glass. I visited a glass factory in the heart of the city, and saw men at work on various kinds of artistic glassware.

The islands of Venice are "out to sea," as we may say. A causeway provides a method for trains to reach the city, however, and there is a causeway type of bridge, two miles long, for automobiles. After the cars reach Venice, they are parked until the owners leave.

Why Men Long For Space Flight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don't shoot, men—that blue-haired Viking in the kitchen may be your wife.

The California Cosmetologist Assn. at its annual convention displayed the hairdos of nearly 150 hair stylists—and something called the bouffant emerged as the dominant new style.

The bouffant was described as the flaring out of hair on the sides into the shape of an old Viking warrior's helmet. It's the fashion of 1952, but with a modern touch, one expert said.

The "touch" was blue tint. "Everything's blue these days," the expert said.

Like you would bake it...

...if your good name depended on its quality

Imagine yourself in the business of baking bread, with your own family name on every loaf. You'd certainly want the bread you baked to do credit to your name—to be the best you could possibly produce.

So it is with the baking of Mrs. Baird's Bread, for the name on each loaf is the Baird family name. A member of the Baird family supervises its baking—makes every effort every day to produce the best possible loaf. Insist on Mrs. Baird's Bread.

Signature quality

Our best for you every day!
