Kefauver Thanks Convention

Arms extended, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee appears before wildly cheering delegates to the Democratic national convention to thank them for giving him the party's vice presidential nomination.

Adlai Sets Issue Of Eisenhower's Health

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—What are Adlai E. Stevenson's chances of defeating President Eisenhower in November? Democratic leaders convinced themselves at their national convention here that the odds are at least approaching the 50-50 level.

Stevenson framed the issue in the spotlight for millions of television viewers to see when he tossed the selection of his vice presidential running mate into the hands of the convention delegates.

Stevenson spoke of the possibility that a "higher will" might prevent a president from serving out his full term. He recalled that 7 of 34 presidents came into the highest office that way.

Rayburn, Johnson Facing Tough Job

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Two tough political jobs face the new Texas Democratic leaders returning home from the national convention: Selling their presidential ticket and maintaining unity.

er Sam Rayburn at last have gotten the Texas party back in physical harmony with the national party organization, if not in total agreement in political philosophy.

Many members of the Texas delegation said privately it will be a hard selling job in Texas, where President Eisenhower is still a powerful threat.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

Howard County's first bale of cotton rolled to gin last Monday, which was one of the earliest first bales on record.

On the surface at least, Johnson took it on the chin on two major points at the national convention: 1. His favorite son presidential candidacy failed to develop and Texas in reality never got in any way but a perfunctory "aye" vote for Stevenson.

Big Spring police officers had been watching the house since he was reported missing in Lamesa. Shortly after he was arrested off from here he picked him up in Big Spring and returned him to the jail here.

Our boy, Henry Hendricks, had trouble at the start and didn't win his heat at the All America Soap Box Derby last week.

On the plus side, Texas had a large part in bringing out a platform that was not considered objectionable to most delegates on the touchy question of segregation.

The storm uprooted hundreds of trees in Sharon and nearby Greenville. There were numerous reports of power failures.

Britain Urges International Suez Control

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Britain urged a peaceful settlement of the Suez crisis today, but warned that British troops will stand by in the Mediterranean until her vital interests are assured.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd asked the 22-nation Suez conference for unanimous approval of the West's proposal for an international authority to operate the canal seized by Egypt.

The board would include Egypt as a permanent member, with other participants to be selected in a manner to be agreed upon at the conference.

LLOYD OPPOSED THE SOVIET UNION'S idea of convening a larger conference to give the other Arab and Communist nations a voice in the dispute.

Taylor Trails In Idaho By 135 Votes

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 18 (AP)—Youthful Boise Attorney Frank Church forged into a 135-vote lead over former Sen. Glen Taylor today for the Democratic nomination to oppose Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho).

Unofficial returns, corrected after official canvasses in about half of the state's 44 counties, gave Church 27,919 votes and Taylor 27,784.

Benson Broadening Soil Bank Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today invited farmers to shift some of their crop land to grass, trees or water uses for periods ranging up to 15 years.

Daniel, Yarborough Discuss Party Loyalty, Drought Aid

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff

Sen. Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough tried Saturday to regain Texas voters' interest after playing second fiddle most of the week to the national Democratic convention in Chicago.

Both headquarters were hesitant in giving itineraries for the final week of the runoff for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"Nobody wants a candidate the last week of the campaign," bemoaned a harried worker in one headquarters.

Daniel spent Saturday in a corner of Northeast Texas stressing his stand on support of the nominees of the national Democratic party. He said his policy was unchanged since Adlai Stevenson's nomination—that he would vote for party nominees unless something like the tidelands or equally serious comes up again. Daniel has said he switched to Dwight Eisenhower in 1952 because Stevenson would not back Texas' tidelands fight.

"I hope nothing like that occurs," Daniel said in visits to Clarksville, Mt. Vernon, Mt. Pleasant, Daingerfield, Pittsburg, and Quitman.

"I will stack my work for the Democratic party up against my opponent's any day. Of course I don't ride the party as much as my opponent does. I work for the party."

Daniel's uncompleted plans for the final week showed visits to Dallas and Fort Worth Monday, with Tuesday spent in Austin.

Yarborough planned to be in San Antonio Monday, and in Houston Tuesday. He planned a Central Texas rally in Waco Wednesday night, Thursday and Friday Yarborough planned to be in the Fort Worth area with a Thursday night rally in Denton. Saturday he will return to Austin.

Yarborough stressed his drought plans in a Saturday morning speech at Floresville.

"By my vigorous campaign, I have forced the senior governor-junior senator team to request more drought relief," Yarborough asserted. "There is no Texas state drought relief law and no Texas state long range drought planning law."

"Under my plan, I pledge Texas a state drought relief law with cash payments to farmers and ranchers in drought disaster areas to prevent them from being forced off the land during droughts and to save enough livestock for breeding purposes until the rains come again."

Yarborough charged "the senior governor and junior senator only think of drought relief in Texas for the three weeks before the primary every two years. Then they lapse into silence until another election comes around."

In Dallas, A. M. Fairstein, secretary of the Texas Preferred Depositors Assn. sent Daniel a telegram asking "clarification of your association with the collapsed U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co.," and saying that 6,000 Texans had invested money in the firm.

"When this company collapsed, numerous people wrote to you for help and advice. Not one of our number received an answer or a recognition of their message," Fairstein said.

Daniel said in Daingerfield he would work for improvements in Texas insurance laws.

W. P. MOLDENHAUER

Soil Scientist Granted Ph. D.

W. P. Moldenhauer, soil scientist at the U. S. Experiment Farm here, has returned from Madison, Wis., where he received his Ph.D. degree.

Moldenhauer, a resident of Big Spring for the past 2 1/2 years, was a non-resident student at Wisconsin.

Majoring in the study of soil, Moldenhauer received his bachelor's degree at South Dakota State in 1949, at which time he graduated with honors.

He took his master's degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1950.

A member of Who's Who in American Colleges in 1949, Moldenhauer was also a member of such fraternities as Alpha Zeta, Blue Key, Newman Club and Phi Kappa Phi.

Mrs. Moldenhauer and their four children visited in Brookings, S. D., at the time the husband went to Madison to receive his degree.

Hotter Than This Time Last Year? It Sure Is!

If you think this August has been hotter across the board than the same month last year — you're right.

Average maximum temperatures for the first half of August 1955 was 91 degrees; average for the same 15 days this year is 98 degrees.

The first 17 days of August 1955 had only one day when the temperature reached the 100 mark and above. So far this year, August has had six days with 100 or better temperatures reported. In August last year, there was one day with a temperature of 101. To offset this one hot day, there were four days when the maximum reading was 90. Second hottest day of the first half of the month in 1955 was 97.

So far this year, August has not had a single day when maximum temperature was as low as 90—in fact the lowest reading for the period has been 95 degrees. Ten

Dies Will Run If Senate Race Opens

HOUSTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Rep. Martin Dies said today he definitely will run for the Senate whenever a vacancy occurs.

A vacancy could occur this month. Sen. Price Daniel has said that should he win the Democratic nomination for governor Aug. 25 against Ralph Yarborough, he will resign his Senate seat at such a time that a special election will be necessary to select his successor.

"I do not plan to resign as congressman-at-large unless I am elected senator," Dies said. "In that event, I shall resign and my successor would be named at a special election. If I should resign before Nov. 6 my successor would be named by the state Democratic Executive Committee and the rank and file of the voters would have no voice in the selection."

Dies, renominated congressman at large in the July primary, said he decided to campaign for the Senate after talking with key supporters in Houston.

"My first objective in the U.S. Senate would be to develop a comprehensive program for alleviation of recurring droughts," he said. "We must capture a far greater percentage of the annual rainfall. The government payroll includes some of the world's ablest engineers who could devote their talents to this problem."

While not in Washington, Dies divides time between his home in Lufkin and his farm in Jasper County.

Texas voters in July gave him 905,685 votes, the largest number received by any candidate in a contested race.

Dies said Americans face three major issues—the worldwide menace of communism, waste in government, and centralization of power in Washington.

"I'm in favor of cutting out foreign aid and in favor of spending the money at home, where it is sorely needed," he said. "There is a backlog of 10 billion dollars appropriated but not expended for foreign aid. This is another reason I voted against all foreign aid bills."

In 1954, Dies said, Congress approved his bill to outlaw the Communist party and its subsidiaries.

"If the majority of Congress had voted as I have voted the last four years we could have balanced the budget, reduced taxes, and paid large sums on the national debt without impairing any vital services or reneging on any obligation," he said.

Local Candidates Busy In Final Week Of Campaigning

Candidates for public office, who survived the first primary of July 28, have but a week left in which to wage their final drive for support.

On Saturday, the voters of Howard County and Texas go to the polls to put their stamp of approval or disapproval on those office seekers who were "high men" in the first primary.

To all practical purposes, insofar as county and state offices are concerned, the Aug. 25 voting will be the final act.

Here in Howard County, as is traditional, what medium of political enthusiasm the public at large has manifested has been in connection with the race for sheriff. West Texans generally are more interested in the outcome of the sheriff's election than in any other race on the county ticket. The sheriff will be elected to a four-year term for the first time.

Jess Slaughter, present sheriff, who seeks re-election led that contest in the first primary and goes into the runoff against Miller Harris. Slaughter polled 2,490 votes in the first primary to Harris, who was second high man in a field of four, with 1,891. Third place was taken by Randell Sherrod and Jack Bruton was last.

Ralph Proctor, incumbent County Commissioner from Precinct 1, ran third man in a four-candidate race. His defeat left the contest up to P. O. Hughes, who polled 604 votes and Simon (Cy) Terrazas, whose total in the primary was 524.

Arthur Stallings, present commissioner from Precinct 3, chose not to seek re-election this year. This left the contest for his post wide open. Four candidates sought the place and Hudson Landers nosed out R. L. (Pancho) Nall by 62 votes for top spot. Landers had 495 votes and Nall 433. These two go into the runoff next Saturday fighting for the votes shared by the other two unsuccessful candidates who were eliminated.

Only other contest left in the county is the race for post of constable Precinct 1 Place 1. W. O. (Orion) Leonard and J. W. (Wes) Patton are the two high men with Leonard having a narrow margin of six votes over his chief opponent. Leonard polled 991 votes and Patton 985.

As was the condition prior to the July 28 primary, there is little talk of the election on the part of lay citizens. What politics have been discussed this past week has been largely related to the National Democratic Convention in St. Louis. This same apathy prevailed all through the first primary campaign and caused considerable fear in the minds of candidates that an extremely tight vote would result. However, on election day a sizeable turnout of voters — in excess of the predictions of most observers — marched to the polls.

The state races on which the Howard County voters will ballot will be: for governor: Ralph Yarborough and Price Daniel; Attorney general: Tom Moore and Will Wilson; Ben Ramsey, candidate for lieutenant governor, will be listed on the ballots but he has no opponent. Second man in the primary in this contest has withdrawn.

Absentee voting has been only average so far. Ballots for this purpose were delayed a week before they were available for applicants. Deadline for this type of balloting expires on Tuesday of this week.

J. W. Purser, county Democratic chairman, said that ample ballots for any sized vote have been printed and will be distributed when the 16 voting boxes are turned over to the precinct officials probably on Friday of this week.

Voting next Saturday will begin as usual at 8 p.m. and close at 7 p.m. Voters will ballot at the customary polling places in each precinct.

Composite Run-Off Primary Ballot

Shown above is the ballot which will be voted by Howard County citizens in next Saturday's run-off primary. This combined ballot as reproduced carries the names of all candidates. Actually voters in different county voting precincts will receive ballots on which will appear only the offices affecting their territory. For example, voters who reside in Commissioners Precinct 1 and who vote in Voting Precincts 1, 5, 11, 12 and 15 will be the only voters to ballot on the names of candidates for county commissioner from that district. Voters residing in Commissioners Precinct 3, who ballot at Voting Precincts 3 and 16 will vote on candidates for commissioner from their district. In the race for constable, Constable's Precinct 1, those voters who reside in Voting Precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 7 and 16 will be handed ballots on which the contenders in that race will be listed. In voting precincts where none of these races are involved the ballot will not list their names.

New Hope Springs From Cyprus Truce

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Aug. 18 (AP) — Field Marshal Sir John Harding, governor of Cyprus, said today the EOKA underground's truce offer could provide the opportunity for making a fresh start in negotiations to settle the island's future.

But indications were the British intended to test over a period of two or more weeks the sincerity of the peace declaration before making any move to return Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot leader and the chief negotiator before he was exiled last March.

Harding's official spokesman accepted the EOKA proclamation of a "suspension of operations" — made in leaflets scattered throughout the island Thursday — as authentic. The general public — Britons and Cypriots alike — did so too.

British authorities announced a slight easing of security restrictions in the island's major towns.

English housewives jokingly talked of going downtown and doing some "truce shopping" in Nicosia's barbed-wire streets. Bars, cafes and theaters, closed time and again by curfews, were jammed once more.

Only one minor incident marred the second day of the truce. An unexploded bomb was found in a customs launch in the south coast port of Larnaca. The bomb was tossed into the sea before it could do any damage.

Addressing Agriculture Department officials, Harding said the EOKA offer could prove a turning point in the history of this British-ruled island — "an opportunity to make a fresh start."

Greek Cypriot leaders joined Bishop Anthimos, acting archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Church and as such the leader of the island's 400,000 Greek-speaking population, in demanding the release of Makarios from his exile in the Seychelles. Makarios was banished to those Indian Ocean islands by the British because he refused to denounce the use of violence by the islanders.

In Athens, Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis also said British government has been given "the opportunity to show that it genuinely desires a peaceful solution of the Cyprus issue."

United Fund Trustees Will Meet Monday

Board of Trustees of the United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County has been called in a special meeting Monday. The session will be at 5 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Principal item before the Board said UP President Champ Rainwater, is to act upon a budget committee's report on the UP finance drive in October. This committee, headed by Dan Krausse has held sessions for the past ten days, reviewing agency requests and arriving at a composite budget for the next year.

Other matters in connection with the forthcoming fund campaign which will be directed by D. M. McKinney, are to be considered, Rainwater said. He added that the Board meeting will be a brief one and that full attendance is requested.

With the establishment of a goal McKinney will start immediately on setting up personnel organization for the campaign. The United Fund this year will seek to meet its obligations without the services of a professional director.

"How much should a prescription cost?"

● This is a fair question, and one we are always glad to discuss. Obviously, prescriptions vary in cost. The price is determined primarily by two factors: the cost of ingredients and the time involved in compounding.

Usually, when a prescription "seems a little high-priced," the reason may be found in the cost of an important ingredient. But such products, because of remarkable curative qualities, may prove a real economy. The medicine costs a little more; the illness costs a great deal less. And, of course, when illness strikes, you seek a quick and certain recovery.

Organization Plans Mapped For Dawson Fair Sept. 13-15

LAMESA — As final plans for the Dawson County Fair take shape, every effort is being made to have the new Rotary Community Center located in Forrest Park adjacent to the fair grounds open by September 13, so that the flower show, staged in conjunction with the fair, may be held in the new building. The fair will run through Sept. 15.

The fair will have three general divisions: livestock, agriculture, and women's division. Exhibits may be entered from Dawson, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Gaines, Borden, Andrews, Martin and Howard Counties.

General superintendent for the women's division is Mrs. Lynn Corbin, and judging in this division will begin Thursday at 1 p.m. Divisions in the women's department are textiles, art, ceramics, leather and metal craft, and culinary. Committee members of the women's division include Mrs. L. B. Jones, Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. K. K. Whitaker, Mrs. George Hart, Mrs. Frank Perucca, Mrs. O. R. Black, Mrs. Carl Zecek and Mrs. C. O. King.

In the girls' division for 4-H Club and FHA members, departments will be the same as those in the women's division; chairman of the 4-H and FHA exhibits is Mrs. E.

gene Jones with Mrs. G. W. Jones and Mrs. T. H. Boyd, members.

Educational exhibits for women will be divided into three classes: home demonstration clubs, FHA chapters and girls' 4-H clubs. A prize of $10.00 will be given each of the clubs entering these divisions, while ribbons will be awarded for the first four places.

Separate from the actual fair will be the Flower Show sponsored by the Dawson County Garden Club. Mrs. Roy Bearden is general chairman; Mrs. J. H. Adkins, horticulture chairman and Mrs. O. H. Sires, arrangements chairman.

The horticulture department will have annuals, perennials, bulbs, tubers, pot plants and roses. In the arrangements department, entries will carry out the "harvest melodies" theme. There will also be exhibits in a junior division.

General superintendent of the livestock division is Wayland Cox; beef cattle superintendent, Leland Bartlett; dairy cattle superintendent, Donald Airheart; swine, Darrell Rogers; junior livestock, Harold Hohn; poultry, Keith Vandiver; sheep, Wendell Edwards; bantams, Clyde Pruitt; commercial steers, James Hunt.

With the exception of the swine, all judging in the livestock division will take place on Thursday. The swine will be judged Friday, Sept. 14. The Kiwanis Club of Lamesa will present a showmanship award to the most deserving FFA member or 4-H Club member that exhibits animals in the junior division, and Dawson County Farm Bureau will award a $25 U. S. savings bond to the grand champion in the beef cattle, dairy cattle and swine divisions of the Junior show.

Ben Mac Dopson is chairman of the agriculture division. David Hughes is in charge of senior exhibits; Bud Hale, junior exhibits and Sanford Boardman, educational and community agriculture exhibits include grain sorghum heads, sheep, grains and seeds, and fruits and vegetables. Cash awards of $10.00 will go to the first ten places in the educational exhibits which must teach a lesson in some phase of agriculture.

Community exhibits must contain at least 15 different agricultural products; the first four places will receive cash awards of $10.00 each, and fifth through 10th will be $5.00 each.

C. A. Hollingsworth is president of the fair association; L. E. (Stat) Griffin and Mrs. Welton Blair are general co-superintendents of the fair.

Fair committees include C. A. Hollingsworth and Guy Weeks,

Woman's Death Ruled Suicide

COLORADO CITY — Aug. 18 — Justice of the Peace G. C. Lemons returned a verdict of "death by drowning herself" in the investigation following the finding of Mrs. W. N. Wells, 66-year-old Colorado City woman, in a metal stock tank on the Don Blasingame farm, Thursday morning.

Mr. Wells had been in ill health, and had been told that she would have to go to Galveston for treatment, according to Lemons. She was visiting in her daughter's home seven miles northeast of Colorado City at the time of her death. Blasingame found Mrs. Wells in the stock tank after she had been missed early Thursday morning. Mrs. Wells was born March 28, 1889 in Erath County but had lived in Mitchell County since 1944. She was a member of the Methodist Church at Buford. She married W. N. Wells Dec. 23, 1909, in Coke County, Wells died in 1948.

She is survived by two sons, Roy Wells of Midland, John Wells of Mt. Vernon, Washington, a daughter, Mrs. Don Blasingame, of Colorado City; five brothers, and six sisters.

grounds: Pat Ryan, LeRoy Colgan, Bob Bradbury and Andrew Essary, publicity; W. K. Crawley, Hollingsworth and W. B. Osborne, finance; Mrs. Blair, Essary and Colgan, catalogue.

Traveling over this area is like taking a trip on a merry-go-round. You are on the move, but you don't see anything.

The landscape looks about the same anywhere in this area. Short twisted maize stalks dry enough to smoke in a pipe. Ankley high cotton with one bloom on top the stalk. Sometimes I think it's the same bloom that's been there all summer, and bare ground, there more of that than anything else.

Friday I drove up to Gall, thinking maybe things would be different. They were not. Nothing green along the road but the mesquite. Some of the larger limbs have died, but a dozen small shoots have grown out of the lower trunks, which makes the brush problems worse.

I got nothing but hard luck stories at Gall, so drove west to the Key community in Dawson County. Groceriesman C. H. Williams was leaning back in a rocking chair watching the political show on T. V. I never got much from him. He said dryland cotton were burning up, irrigated cotton looked good, he hoped Kefauver would win, and reckon Pappy O'Daniel would get many votes in November?

The next stop was at Midway three miles south where I said he didn't expect to gin many bales this year. Very little dryland cotton will be ginned, but the irrigated fields east of Midway are holding up well.

At Ackerly a group was gathered around the TV in Lonnie Kemp's store watching the second vote on the vice presidential thing, so I joined them. It seemed everyone was for Kefauver, and when he won, they went down to Mrs. Sike's cafe for coffee.

One man said our worries might be over now. Adlai and Estes would break the West Texas drought, and O'Daniel would give the farmers an old age pension, starting at the mature age of 30.

The old green spot in Borden County is northeast of Gall where ranchers have received a few showers. Rancher J. M. (Mert) Patterson said he had enough grass and homegrown feed to last till this week, then he would start buying feed. His ranch got three showers lately totalling about an inch and a half.

He said crops were short in his section, though most of the cotton was good enough to harvest. He lives several miles northeast of Gall and is not far from Fluvanna.

Dryland cotton is not much better in surrounding counties than it is in Howard. J. M. Bradley, area gin manager for a seven-county area, says the only good dryland cotton is around Welch and Seagraves. Several communities in Dawson County had good prospects up until about three weeks ago, Bradley said, but it has gone down almost 50 per cent during that time.

The best irrigated cotton is in Midland County. Bradley said Ben Golliday, farming about 12 miles southwest of Stanton, had cotton that would make three bales to the acre.

Bradley said most of the gins would operate this fall, but they will lose money by it. He doesn't think Big Spring will gin more than 1,000 to 1,500 bales this time.

Ackerly is the worst spot, Bradley said. There is practically no cotton around there.

There is a little grass in parts of Glasscock County. Bismark Schaefer, ranching southeast of Lee's Store, says he hasn't had to feed any this summer, and now thinks he will have enough grass to carry the cattle through the winter.

Schaefer got some good showers earlier in the summer. He has been lightly stocked for quite while, carrying only eight animal units to the section.

Cotton prices for this fall look discouraging. A chart showing the lean price for cotton has just been received by Big Spring giners.

Basic middling of one inch staple is listed at 32.61 cents. However, strict low middling with seven-eighths staple will bring only 27.26. Because of the season, several giners think this latter grade will catch most of the cotton this fall. Spotty cotton drops much lower. Strict low middling that has been spotted by worm damage will bring only 33.71.

Local seed dealers say farmers will plant thousands of acres of wheat and other small grain next month, regardless of the drought. Most of them figure on dusting it in and hoping for a rain to bring up the seed.

They are planting it for a dual-purpose—to keep the soil from blowing, and also for winter grazing, providing the weather changes.

The Howard County Farm Bureau is figuring on a bigger and Water Usage Stays Below July Figure

Water consumption is continuing well below the July total with only 118,029,000 gallons water used in Big Spring this month.

During the first 17 days of August, the total has not climbed above eight million. And only on four days has the city had to call on its wells.

Usage last Friday was 7,717,000 gallons, and Thursday it was 7,557,000 gallons. It was 7,643,000 on Wednesday and 7,448,000 Tuesday.

Average for the month is 6,942,000 gallons.

Daniel Reports $219,530 Expenditures In Race

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP)—Price Daniel reported today he has spent $219,530 in his campaign for governor. Ralph Yarborough said he spent $118,453 trying for the same job. The deadline for the first campaign expense account since the July 28 first primary was midnight last night.

Daniel's report showed contributions totaling $205,305, loans of $15,638 and debts of $46,063.

Daniel said he had spent $32,407 since the first primary and had received $20,886 in contributions. He listed a $5,000 loan from Ellen Daniel of Liberty.

Yarborough's expense account showed $115,202 in contributions and debts of $15,005.

Yarborough listed a $1,000 gift from Mrs. Patsy Parton of Houston.

Daniel's top contributors since Aug. 8 report included M. K.

Brown, Pampa, $500; Mrs. Hilda Weinert, Seguin, $400; John Me-com, Houston, $500; Joseph Zepa, Tyler, $750; C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder, $500; Frances Fry Young, Fort Worth, $500; Marshall Young, Fort Worth, $500; Ira Butler, Fort Worth, $750; in three gifts; Hugh McMillan, El Paso, $500; W. L. Pentagon To Push Plans On Housing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Some building interests think—and hope—that the two-billion-dollar military housing program may be curtailed under new laws passed by Congress.

But the Pentagon doesn't. Although opening of bids on some major projects has been postponed "indefinitely" for re-study, defense officials say they expect that 150,000 houses for service families will be erected on schedule over the next three years.

Yet there are watchdog clauses in the new laws which would permit a quick scaling down of military housing plans if, as now seems probable, the strength of the armed forces is reduced next year.

Back of the legislation was strong pressure for curbing the program in areas where builders and real estate firms feared the new housing would depress rentals and damage the market for new, private construction.

Congress responded to the pressure by writing safeguards into two bills passed in the final days of the session. One measure was the military construction bill, be-latedly revised after President Eisen-hower vetoed the first version.

The other was the omnibus housing bill, which amended the Capehart housing law of 1955.

Dale Bellamah, Albuquerque, N. M., builder and chairman of the National Assn. of Home Builders, acclaimed the legislation as a "victory for private enterprise."

Bellamah cited provisions which in his view, might slow up and curtail the program. These in-cluded:

1. A waiting period of up to 180 days for each project to permit study by the Senate and House Armed Services Committees.
2. A limitation, implied by the Senate committee but not expressly stated, on the percentage of servicemen at each post for whom Capehart housing could be provided.
3. A requirement the Defense Department take over, by purchase or condemnation, all the old "Wherry Act" housing at military bases where the new Capehart housing is to be built.

A Pentagon spokesman said it was yet another provision which prompted Army engineers this month to defer the opening of bids on hundreds of houses at such installations as Ft. Bliss, Tex. and White Sands, N. M.

The reason, it was explained, is that Congress authorized the spending of up to $16,500 on each house instead of the earlier $13,500 figure.

The Army, in other words, was authorized to build bigger and better houses. In many cases it may specify a three-bedroom unit instead of the sometimes inadequate two-bedroom dwellings which had been programmed under the old spending ceiling.

VA Hospital Program Set For This Week

Schedule of activities has been set up for the next week at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Monday, the movie "Girl Rush" will be shown on the screen in the recreation room on the sixth floor. The American Legion will visit the wards that afternoon.

Tuesday, entertainment and refreshments will be furnished by the BPO Elks of Big Spring. Patients will have a chance to choose books from the library cart taken to wards by the librarian.

On Wednesday, a sports movie will be shown twice, first at 1:30 p.m. and later at 7 p.m. Visiting the wards in the afternoon will be the American Red Cross.

Entertainment and refreshments will be provided by the American Legion Auxiliary of Odessa at 7 p.m. on Thursday and the chaplain's radio program will be broadcast over the hospital channel at 11:30 a.m.

Friday, "Mister Roberts" will be shown to patients in the recreation room. The VFW of Big Spring will visit the wards at 2 p.m.

Saturday morning, Catholic Mass will be held at 9 followed by the chaplain's coffee hour at 10. A fellowship hour will be held by the chaplain at 7 p.m.

In Beauty Event

Another of the girls to appear in the Howard County Farm Bureau queen contest is Sue Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Garrett of Coahoma and a senior in Coahoma High School. The contest will be held in the HCJC auditorium Thursday night.

Gail Schools Open Sept. 4

GAIL — The opening of school has been set for Sept. 4, which will be on Wednesday following Labor Day. The faculty is complete, at least for the present, according to O. D. Jackson, school board member.

The Borden Independent School District is one of the largest in this part of West Texas. It comprises about 800 square miles, taking in most of the county except for three areas where the Veal-moor, Ackerly and Fluvanna school districts overlap into Borden County.

When the present district was formed, four schools were maintained in the county. Two small schools for the lower grades were located in the southern part of the county and another one was kept at Plains. Only the Plains School, located between the Berry Flat and Mesquite communities, is kept open now. It teaches only the first three grades.

Because the district is so large and houses are so scattered, the district has set up nine bus routes. Jackson said they could get by with fewer, but the children would have to spend too many hours riding to and from school.

Until the big school district was formed, there had never been an accredited high school in Borden County.

Personal Income Goes To New High

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Almost everybody made more money last year, the Commerce Department reported today.

It said the personal income of Americans rose to new records in all regions and in most states in 1955. North Dakota had the biggest percentage gain over 1954 — 16 per cent.

In only four states did personal income last year dip below 1954. These were Iowa, down 5 per cent; South Dakota, down 6 per cent; Nebraska, down 4 per cent; and Kansas, down less than one per cent.

The department said these losses were "traceable to a reduced volume of farm income." In these states as elsewhere, total nonfarm income set an all-time record.

For the country as a whole, the 303-billion-dollars in personal income for 1955 was 7 per cent above the 1954 total.

North Dakota's spectacular advance was attributed to a strong recovery in the state's farm income following several years of decline. A big increase in wheat yields contributed to a 60 per cent increase in North Dakota's net farm income.

Thirteen per cent increases in total income were registered by Alabama and Nevada, and gains of 11 per cent were shown in Maine, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida.

Over the country as a whole, per capita income amounted to $1,847 in 1955, a 5 per cent increase from the previous year.

The range of per capita income was wide, however. Delaware led with $2,313 and Mississippi trailed with $946.

Others in the top rank of per capita income were Connecticut, $2,499; Nevada $2,434; District of Columbia, $2,324; New Jersey, $2,311; California, $2,271; New York, $2,263; and Illinois, $2,257.

To The People Of Howard County

From
P. O. HUGHES
For County Commissioner
Precinct 1

I am sincerely concerned with the welfare of Howard County, and if elected on Saturday as County Commissioner from Precinct 1, I can pledge you without reservation that I will represent ALL the people in every matter that comes up.

I am not committed to any special group, or any particular faction. Nor do I want to be. I simply want the good people of Howard County to give me their vote and support on the basis of my promise to serve them honestly, efficiently and to the best of my ability.

I have resided in and around Howard County for 50 years, have been a home owner in Big Spring for eight years. You can be sure that good government for this County is what I stand for and will work for.

On this basis, I will be very grateful for your help in the run-off primary Saturday.

Paul Butler Is Reelected

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Paul Butler today was re-elected chairman of the Democratic National Committee and James Finnegan was picked to manage Adlai Stevenson's campaign for president. The top positions in the Democratic party for the White House contest ahead were filled at a meeting of the Democratic National Committee. Butler submitted his resignation. But, Stevenson pleaded with the members of the national committee to reject it. Butler was re-elected by acclamation. Stevenson then choose the grey haired Finnegan who managed his campaign for the nomination, to be his campaign director.

Important Suit On Water Rights Set For Aug. 29th

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP)—A hearing on a precedent - making suit to test Texas waters laws on riparian rights has been set for Aug. 29 in District Court at Karnes City. R. M. Dixon, chairman of the State Board of Water Engineers, said the board filed the suit Friday to protect domestic and livestock users of water from Cibolo Creek against withdrawals by irrigators. He added the suit is the first of its kind ever filed. Judge H. D. Barrow issued a ten-day restraining order pending a hearing on the state plea for a temporary injunction. Stated The State of Texas against Charles Aubin, the suit names 15 defendants plus riparian owners on Cibolo Creek from Randolph Field to its confluence with San Antonio River. Dixon said irrigators have appropriations from the stream for storm and flood waters only, and these have been non-existent for a long time. This results, he said, in depriving riparian owners of

Liners Collide In Harbor; No Injuries

QUEBEC, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Italian liner Homeric and the Greek liner Columbia collided today in the dense fog and semidarkness of Quebec Harbor. No injuries were reported among the 1,197 passengers aboard the 18,152-ton Homeric. The ship was inbound from Europe. No passengers were aboard the 8,500-ton Columbia, tied up at the dock. A Columbia crewman, shaving in his cabin, was injured slightly. The huge bow of the Homeric cut a gash 20 feet long in the Columbia's side and crushed some lifeboats. The Homeric's bow was damaged slightly, but a spokesman for the owners said the liner would sail on schedule tomorrow. Agents for the Columbia said her departure would be delayed only a few hours. One of the heaviest fogs of the season hung over the St. Lawrence River when the vessels came together.

Services are scheduled for 7:30 a.m. in Fellowship Hall, where the WMU will serve coffee and sweet rolls; 10 a.m. in the sanctuary; and 8 p.m. outside on the lawn. Morning services will be conducted Tuesday through Friday.

Ike Working On Speech For 'Frisco Acceptance

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower has begun work on the speech he'll make to the Republican convention next Thursday accepting the party's presidential nomination for the second time. James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, disclosed the start of work on the acceptance speech. He said he didn't know whether the President will keep it at it over the weekend. Eisenhower will fly to the convention in San Francisco next Wednesday and remain in California for four days of vacation after he addresses the GOP delegates. Hagerty was asked today if he is sticking to his prediction that the party will renominate Vice President Nixon as Eisenhower's running mate. "I leave that to the convention," he replied. Newsmen sought Hagerty's views on whether his boss can beat the Democratic ticket of Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, nominated this week in Chicago. "Certainly," he said. Yesterday, before Kefauver was selected as Stevenson's vice presidential running mate, Hagerty replied to a similar question about Eisenhower's chances against Stevenson by saying: "Just say I laughed and then said 'Sure.'"

HASKELL HUDGINS

'seniors' OF THE COSDEN FAMILY

This is the second in a new series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer.

Haskell Hudgins, now an electrician for the Cosden Petroleum Corporation, has 15 years of service to his credit with the Big Spring organization. And if all goes as he plans it, he intends to continue his affiliation with the Cosden company from now on.

Hudgins was born Dec. 21, 1920, in Van Zant County. He attended school in Howard County. He took his first job as yard man at the Cosden refinery on June 16, 1941, and with the exception of the time he was with the engineer corps in World War II he has been with the firm continuously since that time.

Truman Won't Be 'Calling The Shots'

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Harry S. Truman went home today, a smiling but dazed figure, relegated to a secondary role in the party in which his very name was magic.

The ex-President, the "give 'em hell" campaigner of 1948, left behind him the new forces which guide the Democrats and will set the pattern of the November election campaign.

He had gambled his reputation as a political magician in one successful blitz attempt to seize the party's reins from Adlai Stevenson.

Averell Harriman, the governor of New York, for whom he had attempted a fight that was lost before it even started, accompanied him to the Dearborn Street Station as he boarded a Santa Fe train to go back to Independence and lick his wounds, preparatory to doing battle again.

Now, the 72-year-old Missouri tiger's foe is the Republican party. But his arena will not be of his own choosing. Stevenson, a former governor of Illinois, will be calling the shots and dictating the strategy.

Truman accepts it that way. He fought and he lost, and as a regular party man, he will accept the verdict of the Democratic National Convention which turned down his plea for Harriman's nomination.

He told a reporter: "The fight is over in the party. Now, we face the big battle against the Republicans, and we will win."

He and Harriman, as they parted, agreed with each other that the party had a stronger platform than it would have had if they had not made their battle against "moderation."

How much damage Truman may have done to the party's chances for success by his insistence, in the heat of the party battle, that Stevenson was too conservative and couldn't win without a lot of help only the November returns will tell.

He tried to make amends last night in a speech to the convention in which he called Stevenson a fighter who had given him a licking and praised Estes Kefauver, another long-time party foe, as a ticket that will take the Republicans as he was taken in the coup that failed.

Postal Savings Below Last Year

There has been no noticeable drop in the amount of Postal Savings deposited since the new ruling requiring a minimum deposit of $5 went into effect says postmaster E. C. Boatler.

There has been a decrease, however, in the amount on deposit at the end of July this year compared with the amount on deposit last year.

In July of 1955 the total of Postal Savings on deposit was $264,728 with 413 depositors. At the same time in 1956, the total on deposit was $218,708 with 383 depositors.

After registration Thursday afternoon, the group had a skating party. They returned to the park for a wiener and watermelon feast at 7 p.m. and then to the Pioneer Park Recreation Hall for a party. Breakfast at 7 a.m. Friday was followed by a swimming party at the Evening Lions Swimming Pool.

Attack Fatal To C-City Man

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 18—Trevia Wayne Eudy, 52, died in the Root Memorial Hospital Friday at noon as the result of a stroke suffered while on duty at the Col-Tex Refinery Thursday. Eudy was born Sept. 28, 1903, in Red River County but had lived in Colorado City since 1921. He had married Elsie Lee McLennan in Colorado City in 1944.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 from the Kiker and Son Funeral Home, with the Rev. Tommy Nelson, pastor of the St. Luke's Methodist Church, officiating. Burial is to be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. A. J. Beck of Harwood, Mo., his wife, a son, T. W. Eudy Jr., in the U. S. Navy, and a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Morren, of Colorado City.

Also surviving is one brother, J. D. Eudy, of Fort Worth, Texas, and two sisters, Mrs. Chester Smith of Colorado City, and Mrs. H. W. Boles of Kingsville and three grandchildren.

Big Spring Man's Father Succumbs; Rites At Donie

Funeral services were held in Donie, Freestone County, at 2 p.m. Saturday for Thomas R. Worthy, father of Jerry Worthy of Big Spring.

The elder Mr. Worthy, a prominent merchant in Freestone County, succumbed Thursday afternoon at his home. Services Saturday were at the First Baptist Church of Donie, with the Rev. Daniel W. O'Regan officiating. Burial was with Masonic honors.

The wife and two other sons survive.

Jerry Worthy is employed in Big Spring by the Groebel Oil Company.

Breakfast Session Slated For C-C, Roundup Members

Members of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, members of the Big Spring Roundup club and any citizen of the town who is interested in the further development and expansion of Big Spring as a city and as a place to live is invited to be at the Settles Hotel ballroom at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday for a "dutch" breakfast meeting of the two groups.

Jimmie Greene, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, said that this is the first of a series of such breakfast meetings scheduled, the meetings are to be on the third Tuesday morning in each month.

Later on, as the meetings develop, the Roundup club will schedule its own breakfast conferences, possibly on another date. Meantime, until further notice, the two groups will meet as a unit at the Settles Hotel.

Greene said that it was urged all persons who have anything to suggest which may be of benefit to the community and aid in its growth or the solution of its problems will be welcomed at the breakfast.

Ira Thurman, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled to preside. Later on in the meeting George Zachariah, president of the Roundup club will take over the gavel.

TSCW Gets Grant For Laboratory

DENTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—A new grant from Mr. and Mrs. Luther Stark of Orange, is expected to give Texas State College for Women the world's foremost laboratory for study of the human skeleton in relation to food.

The laboratory is expected to have significance for older persons who easily break bones or who have poorly healing bones. It also will help determine whether a child is growing properly.

The $50,000 grant was announced today by college President John Guinn.

Peace Justices, Constables Will Meet In Abilene

Howard County justices of the peace have been advised by James R. Edwards, Lamesa, that the semi-annual meeting of the newly organized Texas Association of Peace and Constable Association at Abilene on Aug. 29-30.

The association came into existence in Big Spring at a meeting on Jan. 26. Edwards was elected president of the new organization.

One of the major projects the association is pursuing is an attempt to have the legislature make the office of justice of peace in Texas a court of record. This would put the justice courts on a parity with the county courts and the corporation courts of the state.

J. D. Chastain, chief chemist and toxicologist of the Texas Department of Public Safety and Jim Morris, head of the License and Weights Division of the Department. Several Abilene lawyers will also be speakers at the two-day meeting.

Absentee Ballot Total Up To 129

With two days to go before deadline, 129 Howard County voters have applied to the county clerk's office for absentee ballots for next Saturday's election.

Last day to apply for such votes will be Tuesday. The ballots must be cast officially three days before the election.

In the July 28 primary election, 336 absentee votes were polled in the sheriff's race — the contest drawing a maximum number of votes.

Period for casting absentee ballots in the Aug. 25 run-off election was curtailed one week from the normal period provided by law due to delay in the delivery of ballots to the clerk's office.

182 Communicable Cases Reported

Diseases in Howard County the past week totalled 182. Gastroenteritis was the leader in cases with 79 reported to the City-County Health Unit in the Read Hotel.

The rest of the diseases reported and the number of cases were tonsillitis 30 cases, pneumonia 24, streptococcal 16, whooping cough and flu 8 each, diarrhea 6, impetigo and trenchmouth 4 each, mumps and pharyngitis 3, scabies, typhoid, chickenpox, measles and gonorrhea 1 each.

THEY STILL LIKE IKE

Convention Creates Some Puzzlement In Younger Set

By MARY SUE HALE

That old army term, "Gettin' there fustest with the mostest," doesn't necessarily apply to politics. Especially did we notice this fact during the televised report of the Democratic National Convention these past few days. Before a candidate recovered from the pleasant shock of being a few votes ahead, his props were knocked out from under him by a state voting entirely against him.

What is more refreshing than an untarnished view on politics: And who is more capable of giving such a report than the teen-agers? These young people — whether they be your own children, your neighbor's, or merely someone you know — can express knowledge on the subject that would put many adults to shame. The national conventions and candidates, both Democratic and Republican, are discussed knowingly by teenagers. While the actual operation of the conventions is rather deep for a few of the younger generation, most of them seem to know as much, or more, than their elders do about this particular subject.

When asked his views on this subject, Frank Hunt quickly replied, "I favor the Democrats, and I think our mistake was not to nominate Johnson. Not just because he was Texas' favorite son, but because he has the necessary ability for the job of president."

Frank added, "I think the conventions serve the needs of the people."

Glenn Rogers and David Ewing, answering directly on the slant of the candidates, expressed definite opinions. Said Glenn, "I'm for Eisenhower or the Republican party, no matter who gets the nomination." David had this to say: "Because Stevenson got the nomination, and not Harriman, I'm for Ike."

"Stevenson is an intellectual," says J. T. Baird, Jr., "he knows what he is doing, and appears to be smarter, and that's not saying much, than any other Democrat." He went on to add, "But, in my opinion, the Democrats don't stand a chance against the Republicans. Regarding conventions he said there was "the usual blustering beforehand, but they get the job done."

"People place a certain feeling of trust in Ike," reasoned Wade Simpson. "They feel he has had the experience both of being president and dealing with foreign nations. He has, in my opinion," Wade stated, "the shoulders that can carry the nation's load." Expressing a less complimentary view about the Democratic convention, Wade had this to say: "Seems to me they haven't accomplished much. Just a bunch of malarky."

Margaret Fryar and Marilyn Morris had similar views about the convention, plus similar statements concerning a candidate from either party. "The convention," stated Margaret, "has proved to be both interesting and informative, but I haven't any choice for president at this moment." After laughingly replying that she was for Pogo for president, Marilyn Morris replied that she had found the convention to be fascinating. "But I will have to wait until both party platforms have been laid out before I choose for my candidate," said Marilyn.

"Everyone," Bennie Compton began, "should keep his eye on both party conventions because platforms and policies for the coming term are originated and introduced." Then about the Democratic candidate for president, he added, "With Stevenson winning the nomination it seems doubtful the Democratic Party will be victorious in November." He continued with, "It was a wise step for Stevenson, because in a round about way, he owes a lot to more than one candidate."

Considering his present views, it seems likely that Richard Engle will become a Republican true to form in years to come. Richard thinks that the Stevenson-Kefauver team will be hard to beat but, he added, "Stevenson has some policies that I'm not entirely sold on." Then he admitted that he was strongly in favor of Ike. As a whole, according to Richard, the convention is pretty important.

"But at times there is too much horseplay before they get down to business," Richard declared that it wasn't very encouraging to the public (while viewing by TV) to see the delegates in the audience reading magazines, although the speaker was a bit long winded. "In my opinion," he said "they didn't spend enough time getting up the platform."

These have been the opinions of some teen-agers. Whether you agree with many of these statements, or merely a few, at least you can respect them for what they are: intelligible discussion by tomorrow's adults.

Teacher Says Sardinia Adults Look Young

By RAMON COFFMAN

ON A TRAIN—Italian trains, like those of France, Austria and other lands of western Europe, have cars which usually are divided into compartments. There are a few which fail to follow the rule, but it is the common thing in Europe for a passenger car to have six or eight compartments.

Each compartment has seats for six or eight persons. It is ordinary for half the persons in a compartment to face forward, the rest backward. This arrangement often leads strangers in a compartment to start talking to one another.

A conversation is more likely if all the people in a compartment are residents of a certain country, or if two or three Americans, Canadians or Australians are in the midst of a group of "natives."

While going through northern Italy, when should I find beside me but an attractive young woman from Sardinia. I rode beside her for perhaps half an hour before I asked her whether she spoke English. She replied in the negative, but said that she would write on paper. I then got out a notebook, and we asked each other various questions.

Usually I can guess a person's age rather closely. During this European tour I have had good fortune in every case except with my present traveling companion. I suggested her age far below the right figure. She smiled happily, and then—in my amazement—wrote that she was 35 years old!

"I teach Latin and Greek at a high school in Sardinia," she added. "You missed my age because all the adults on my island look young!"

Prof. Luisa Fine (that is the way she wrote her name for me) feels patriotic about Sardinia, and seems glad to be on her way back home after a vacation in Italy.

She has told me some things about her land, which belongs to Italy, and has given me a cordial invitation to visit Sardinia when my travel schedule permits me to do so.

American Business Club Has Art And Musical Program

American Business Club members were treated to art and music Friday when Mrs. Myrtle Lee did crayon sketches.

As pictures took shape at the hand of the artist, Joyce Howard gave the vocals and Mrs. Bill Griese played the accompaniment.

The program was in charge of Bobo Hardy.

Dr. Floyd Mays reported on the project fund for the national spastic program of the ABClub, and V. A. Whittington summed up the results of the club's participation in decoration and concession sales at the recent rodeo.

New members introduced were Frankie Mott, a transfer from Midland and local distributor for Tennessee Milk, and Don Farley, with the Reed Rolar Bit Co.

Yanks Sweep Twin Bill From Orioles

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP)—The New York Yankees backed up a pair of six-hitters by Tom Sturdivant and Bob Turley with their customary long-bell power to defeat the Baltimore Orioles in both ends of a Saturday day-night doubleheader, 4-1 and 6-2.

Sturdivant coasted to his 11th victory in the first game as Bill Skowron, Billy Martin and Gil McDougald hit solo homers off loser Hal (Skinny) Brown. The only run off Sturdivant was a tremendous 440-foot homer by Bob Nieman in the second.

The Yanks wrapped up the night game in the second inning with four runs. Yogi Berra led off with a homer. After two out, Elston Howard tripled, Billy Hunter singled, Turley doubled and McDougald singled.

The other New York runs came in the seventh and were unearned. A walk off starter and loser Erv Fallica, two sacrifice bunts, an error, and a sacrifice fly by Martin scored one run. Mickey Mantle singled home the other.

The hit was Mantle's first in 16 times at bat. He also singled in the ninth. During his hitless streak, his league-leading average dropped from .375 to .366.

Mantle has not hit a home run since last Tuesday, but his 42 homers in 117 games is still eight games ahead of Babe Ruth's pace when he hit 60 in 1927.

15 All-Staters Included On Texas Oil Bowl Squad

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 17 (SC)—H. N. "Rusty" Russell and Ted Dawson, who will coach the Texas South game which climaxed the 19th annual Oil Bowl football game here Aug. 24, completed their team Friday.

And it aptly could be called a dream team.

The Lone Star crew will have 15 all-staters and 15 who performed last week in the annual North-South game which climaxed the Texas High School Coaches School at Lubbock.

The Oklahoma squad which has eked out one tie but no victories in the series will not be completed until this weekend. The Texas-Oklahoma rivalry dates back to 1945. Prior to that time, the game was a North Texas-South Texas classic.

The Texas roster reads like a "who's who" in Texas schoolboy circles. Backs include Charles Milsted; Tyler; Bobby Lackey of Westaco; Mike Dowdle of Graham; Vernon Scott of Chillicothe; Larry Duesell of Corpus Christi Miller; Henry Colwell of Abilene; Edwin (Whahoo) McDaniel of Midland; Gordon LeBeouf of Port Neches; and Bobby Boyd of Garland.

Redlegs Advance On First Place

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18 (AP)—The power-laden Cincinnati Redlegs equalled the major league record tonight by smashing eight home runs, including three by Bob Thurman, as they routed Milwaukee

13-4 and climbed to within a game and a half of the National League leading Braves.

Drabowski needed help from Turk Lown in the eighth but by then the game was won.

Rookie Stops Cards, 8-1

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Boris rookie Moe Drabowski, making his first start in professional baseball, stopped the St. Louis Cardinals with five hits while his Chicago Cubs teammates blasted 14 hits for an 8-1 victory tonight.

Drabowski needed help from Turk Lown in the eighth but by then the game was won.

Chicago won 8-1 as Drabowski pitched a shutout. He struck out 10 batters and allowed only one run, a sacrifice fly by Lown in the eighth.

Drabowski's record now stands at 1-0 with a 2.16 ERA. He has pitched 10 2/3 innings and allowed only one run.

Brooklyn Routs Phillies, 9 To 2

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, behind the six-hit pitching of comeback artist Sal Maglie, whipped the Phillies 9-2 and continued their mastery over left-handers before a crowd of 30,166 at Connie Mack Stadium tonight.

Maglie pitched a complete game, allowing only two runs on five hits and six walks. He struck out 11 batters.

Bagwell May Draw Permanent Ouster

CLOVIS, N.M., Aug. 18 (AP)—Bill Bagwell, a 23-game winner who leads the Southwestern League in victories this year, today faced a permanent suspension from organized baseball as a result of an assault on an umpire here last night.

Bagwell was fined $200 and permanently suspended by league president W. J. Green for the assault on umpire Matt Ryan after Ryan ordered him to return to the mound when Bagwell disputed a close call at second base.

Cardinals Defeat Elk Nine, 10-1

The Cardinals broke loose for eight runs in the sixth inning and went on to defeat the Elks in a Senior Teen-Age baseball league game here Saturday night, 10-1.

Wayne Fields, on the mound for the winners, set the Elks down with two hits. One was a third-inning homer by Salvador Sarmiento.

Fields pitched a complete game, allowing only one run on five hits and six walks. He struck out 11 batters.

Parry O'Brien Breaks Own World Record In Shot Put

PASADENA, Calif., Aug. 18 (AP)—Lt. Parry O'Brien bettered his own world record for the shot put today with a heave of 61 feet 4 1/4 inches.

That puts the former University of Southern California giant two up on the record book. He holds the listed world record at 60-10, but has a mark of 61-4 up for approval.

O'Brien made his latest assault on the record at a track meet held as part of the conditioning program for U. S. Olympic team members.

Willis, Frank Tate and Charles Skowron

Willis, Frank Tate and Charles Skowron will be the biggest boys in camp. Gary Starr weighs 175, Schaffer 185 pounds.

Willis is a 175-pound halfback of whom great things are expected. However, the youngster has been in a hospital with a throat infection and may be slow in rounding into shape.

Five Home Games Season Tickets Ready Aug. 28

Season football tickets for high school home games this fall are due to go on sale at the School Tax Office Tuesday, Aug. 28, although it isn't yet known which stadium will be used for the early games.

The Steers launch their home campaign the night of Friday Sept. 28, at which time they meet Snyder.

Work is progressing on the new stadium, located on the HCJC campus here, but there is no word of knowing whether it will be ready for the Snyder contest.

Honeycutt To Greet 11 Lettermen At Forsan

FORSAN, Aug. 18 (SC)—Indications are as many as 25 boys will ask for suits will six-man football drills begin at Forsan High School Monday, Aug. 27.

The Buffaloes with 11 lettermen returning, rate as co-favorites to cop the District Seven crown, along with Sterling City.

The 11 monogram winners who will check in with Coach Frank Honeycutt are Red Brunton, Tony Starr, George White, Travis Schaffer, Edell Ratliff, Ronnie Howard, William King, Gary Starr, Stanley

Willis, Frank Tate and Charles Skowron. Honeycutt lost only one letterman from last year's team, which won seven of ten starts and yielded only to Garden City in conference play.

The departing veteran was Sherman Padgett, center. Brunton is a 175-pound halfback of whom great things are expected. However, the youngster has been in a hospital with a throat infection and may be slow in rounding into shape.

Willis, a 200-pound sophomore, will be the biggest boy in camp. Gary Starr weighs 175, Schaffer 185 pounds.

Tony Starr and George White will serve as quarterback of the club. Squad members due back include Joe Fields, 190-pound transfer from Big Spring; Buddy Sullivan, 175-pounder; Pete Jones, Muri Bailey, Milton Bardwell, Leon Calley, Roy Newsom, Pinkie Pike, Raymond Martin, Jim Anderson and Kenneth Duffer.

Calley weighs 187 pounds, Bailey 180.

Due up from grade school are Tommy Willis, Coco Ratliff, Fred Park, Jerry Bardwell, Larry Blankenship, Benny Barnett, John Whetsel, Jerry Pike, Randall Fowler, and David McElreath.

The Forsan junior high school team won four of five starts in 1955. The sextet lost one of two games to Garden City's juniors.

The Forsan field is in excellent shape after a summer of steady watering. The Buffs now have a practice field located at the south end of the stadium itself.

Some of the games are pending but Honeycutt now has nine games booked for his team and is seeking a tenth. The Buffs need a game on Oct. 5.

The Bisons launch play against Novice at Forsan the night of Sept. 14. Novice is coached by a former member at Ackerly, M. B. Maxwell.

The schedule: Sept. 14—Novice at Forsan (pending); Sept. 21—Forsan at Ackerly; Sept. 28—Scott at Forsan; Oct. 5—Open, need game; Oct. 12—Forsan at Water Valley (C); Oct. 19—Meriton at Forsan (C); Oct. 26—Paint Creek at Forsan (pending); Nov. 2—Sterling City at Forsan (C); Nov. 9—Garden City at Forsan (C); Nov. 16—Forsan at Christoval (C); Conference games.

Fans will be paying more for their seats this year, since the school has been promoted to the top bracket in the Texas Interscholastic League and conference rules dictate that a minimum of $1.50 be charged for each adult admission.

For that reason, the fans will pay $7.50 for season tickets, whereas last year they paid $6 for five home games.

The Steers' home schedule: Sept. 28—Snyder, Oct. 5—Sweetwater, Oct. 12—Lamesa, Oct. 26—Abilene, Nov. 9—Midland.

Tiny Tennessee Sprinter Sets Pace In Fem's NAAU

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP)—Mae Faggs, tiny 24-year-old sprinter of the Tennessee State University Club, won two events, tied a meet record and anchored a record-breaking relay team today in the Women's National AAU Track and Field Meet on Franklin Field.

Miss Faggs, who was the lead-off runner on the winning American 400-meter relay team in the 1952 Olympic Games at Helsinki, was the star of a meet which produced four American records, one citizens' mark and six meet records.

Distaff stars from almost all sections of the nation were on hand as the 95-degree sun which beat down on the University of Pennsylvania's athletic plant.

After winning the 100-meter dash and 200-meter run, Miss Faggs disclosed that this was her last year of competition. She plans to run in the Olympic tryouts at Washington next week and in the Olympic Games in Melbourne next fall if she qualifies. Then, says the little Negro star, "I'm through with running. I'll teach or help in recreation work."

Miss Faggs, a native of Bayside, Long Island, N.Y., and now a graduate student in education at Tennessee State at Clarksville, Tenn., was one of seven defending champions to successfully retain titles.

She won the 100-meter dash in :11.7 and took the 200-meter run in :24.6. Earlier, in her 200-meter trial victory she was clocked in :24.2, tying the meet record set by Nell Jackson of Tuskegee, Ala., Institute in 1949.

The brilliant Tennessee State flyer completed her one-woman show by anchoring the Tennessee club's 400-meter relay team to a meet record-smashing victory. State's 47.1 clipped 51.0 of a second off the 23-year-old record set by the Illinois Women's A.C. Joining Miss Faggs on the smooth-running relay quartet were La-cinda Williams, Willa Rudolph and Isabelle Daniels.

Miss Daniels also furnished the small, sun-baked crowd with a thrill when she flashed to victory in the 50-meter dash in a blanket finish with Barbara Jones of the Chicago Comets and Miss Williams, a Tennessee teammate.

Miss Daniels, clocked in :06.4, won by the barest of margins over Miss Jones, who in this morning's trials, snapped the American record (:06.4) with an :06.3 clocking.

Other American records were established by: Pamela Kurrell, all-around San Francisco high school athlete, in the discus, with a toss of 140 feet, 11 inches. The old mark of 137-3/4

Barnard Named H-B Captain

A. G. (Barney) Barnard, Jr., has been named captain of the visiting team for the Hall and Bennett trophy matches, which will be held Friday, Aug. 21, preliminary to the 25th annual Big Spring Invitational golf tournament.

Barnard, formerly of Lamesa but now of Odessa, has already selected Arlyn Scott and Bill (Red) Roden, both of Odessa; and Buddy Branham, Midland, as members of the squad.

He is due to compete the task of filling out the eight-man squad shortly. Marvin Miller will serve as local captain in the matches. He has indicated he will pick four members of the Country Club, two other local linksters and Bill Craig of Colorado City, the defending champion of the tournament.

Craig is eligible because he holds a membership in the local club. Pro C. A. DeWees said he was expecting a turnout of 150 players for the four-day tournament, which extends through Labor Day. That entry fee for the tournament is $12.50.

DOERING HAS ACE IN MEET

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Art Doering, Cincinnati golfer, shot a hole-in-one today during the heavy rain in the third round of the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

Doering got his ace on the par 3, 72-yard 12th hole. The Cincinnati golfer had a 35-hole total of six-over-par 144 before the start of today's third round.

was the third time in less than a month that the 17-year-old Californian snapped the Polish woman's mark, including her 193-1 in yesterday's girls' division program of the two-day meet here. However, none of Miss Kurrell's marks have been approved by the AAU.

Earlene Brown, a 21-year-old mother from Compton, Calif., tossed the shotput (8 lbs., 15 ounces) 45 feet to break the record of 37-4/4 made last year by Wanda Weizgrowicz, defending champion from St. Louis. Seven of the competitors in the shot put snapped the old record, including Miss Weizgrowicz, who wound up sixth.

Bertha Diaz of Cuba, in the 80-meter hurdles in :11.2, winning by some 2 1/4 feet over Shirley Eckle of Toronto, Can. Miss Diaz was timed in :11.1 in her trial heat, thus twice eclipsing her own American record of :11.5 set last year in this meet at Ponca City, Okla.

Margaret Matthews of Tennessee State, with a leap of 19 feet, 4 inches, 3/4 inches better than the best distance ever recorded by an American—19 feet, 1/4 inch by Nancy Phillips of New York in 1933.

Stella Walsh, who owns more records than any other women's field star, holds the American record—1:19.8-10, made when she was a citizen of Poland.

The 45-year-old Miss Walsh, incidentally, was unplaced in the broad jump and placed second in the slowest heat of the 200-meter run, thus failing to qualify for the final.

Devils Defeat Newsies Twice

The Devils took a long step toward clinching second place in Junior Teen-Age baseball league standings by beating the down-trodden Newsies in both games of a doubleheader here Friday night, 14-2 and 6-3.

Zay LeFevre was the winning pitcher in both games. Wesley Rawls spelled him in the last inning of the second game.

In the opener, Zay fanned nine and walked two. In the afterpiece, he struck out two and issued three walks.

The Newsies managed only two hits in the opening game and both were doubles, one by Johnny Freeman and the other by Earl Wayne Harper.

The Devils scored five runs in the fourth inning of the second game to put the decision on ice. In that round, the Devils managed only two hits — by Rawls and Gus Ochatorina.

Harold Sexton of Arlington is another well-known linkster who is reported to will take part in the Big Spring meet.

Bragan Shakes Up Team, Gets Results

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Manager Bobby Bragan shook up his Pittsburgh lineup today and the Pirates walloped the New York Giants 9-1 on a 12-hit attack including homers by Dale Long and Jack Shepard.

First baseman Long, home run-hitting sensation of the early season Pittsburgh spurge, returned to the lineup and broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning with a two-run blast, his 20th. He had been benched for a hitting slump that dropped his average from over .400 to .275.

The Hobsons are en route from Los Angeles to Dallas, where they plan to visit relatives.

Dick has been a policeman in Los Angeles for the past 16 years. A sergeant, he is assigned to the Venice division of the LA department.

Though he quit professional baseball shortly after he left Big Spring, Dick still keeps his hand in the game. He managed the Venice division police team this summer.

The team was sponsored by W. K. Lange, general manager of the Aragon dance hall.

One of Dick's players is George Hobson, his brother, also a policeman. George plays first base.

Several years ago, Hobson managed a Los Angeles police team that flew to Chicago for a series of games in Comiskey Park and Wrigley Field which played the

Jack Burke Out Front With 198

By CHUCK CAPALDO
MILWAUKEE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Steady Jackie Burke of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., today took over sole possession of the lead at the 54-hole mark in the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament with a 12-under-par 198 over the rain-soaked Trippi course.

Ed Furgol of St. Louis, who shared the top perch with Burke through the first two rounds, slipped to a tie for second place with a 200 after taking a pair of ruinous bogies on the back nine.

Burke, who, like Furgol, fired a course-record 63 Thursday and a 66 yesterday, paid no heed to the miserable weather and posted a one-under-par 69 today with 17 pars and a birdie.

Furgol canned an 18-foot birdie putt on the 18th green for a 71. Locked in a tie with 37-year-old Furgol was 25-year-old Bill Casper Jr., of Chula Vista, Calif., who came in with a 68.

Very much in contention with 203, good for a fourth-place tie, were Gay Brewer Jr., 24, ex-U.S. junior champion from Cincinnati and 26-year-old Gene Littler from Singing Hills, Calif.

Brewer emerged from the closely bunched pack with the six-under-par 64, best round of the day, over 6,380-yard course which plays to a par of 35-35-70. A pro for only nine months, Brewer trailed by 10 strokes after yesterday's second round.

One stroke behind the tandem of Brewer and Littler with 204s were defending champion Cary Middlecoff of Dallas, Jim Turnesa of Spring Valley, N.Y., power-hitting Mike Souckach of Grossinger's, N.Y., and Canadian Open champion Al Balding.

Littler had a par 70 today while Middlecoff shot a 67. Turnesa and Souckach 68 and Balding 69.

Burke, 33, who owns the Masters and PGA titles, played in the threesome just ahead of Furgol. Burke carded his only birdie of the third round on the ninth hole for a one-under-par 34 which Furgol matched on the front nine. Burke canned a 25-foot putt to turn the trick.

They played even until the 352-yard par 4, 13th hole where Furgol took his first bogey after Burke had matched par.

Furgol fell another stroke behind Burke in the 72-hole medal play tournament on the par 4, 401-yard 15th with another bogey 5, after Burke had played the hole in par.

It was the same story on the par 4, 406-yard 17th—Furgol getting a bogey, Burke a par. Furgol got one of the strokes back on the 18th with a birdie 3. The former National Open champion, who developed a homemade swing to compensate for a withered left arm,

Washington Again Smacks Red Sox

BOSTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Washington defeated the stumbling Boston Red Sox for the 11th time in 15 games today, 9-7, despite Ted Williams' slump-breaking barrage of two home runs and a double.

Williams drove home four runs while Ted Lepcio accounted for Boston's other three with another pair of homers.

The loss was the sixth in the last seven games for the Red Sox and their fourth in a row to the Senators.

Washington's lineup today was: Yost 4b 3 1 2 3; Bolling ss 3 2 2 3; Pate 3b 2 1 2 3; Williams lf 3 2 2 3; Jagers lf 3 2 1 2; Gernert cf 3 2 2 3; Jensen cf 3 2 1 2; Piersall cf 4 1 1 0; Berberet c 4 1 2 0; Daley c 4 1 2 0; Courtney lf 1 1 0 0; Connelo lf 0 0 0 0; White Jr. lf 0 0 0 0; Stone p 2 0 1 1; Sisco p 1 0 0 1; Porterfield p 0 0 0 0; Ryerly p 1 0 0 0; Bludwin 1 0 0 0.

East Turns Back West, 27 To 6

CHILDRESS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Three touchdowns in the first half and another in the last half gave the East a 27-6 victory over the West in the Greenbelt Bowl football game Friday night.

Mike Dowdle of Graham scored the first touchdown to climax a 64 yard drive and then added the extra point with a plunge.

Mickey Barron of Childress scored the second touchdown when he slanted over right tackle from the seven.

The final score of the half was made by Howard Franklin of Wichita Falls who plunged over left guard for the final yard.

Mitchell Schools Being Remodeled

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 18 — All of Mitchell County's schools are preparing to open school early in September, with Loraine set to open the 3rd, and Colorado City on the 4th.

Ed E. Williams, superintendent of schools at Colorado City, says registration is set for August 30 and 31, and that classes will begin on Sept. 4. Two of the Colorado City schools are undergoing additions and remodeling which could delay the opening of one of them — the High School.

The Hutchinson School, which now houses 4th, 5th and 6th graders, is adding four rooms, but work on this addition will not interfere with the operation of the rest of the school. The High School is undergoing major remodeling, which includes some work on classrooms, expanded quarters for music and homemaking classes, and improved quarters for the school administration. Two buildings, the Junior High and Primary Buildings are comparatively new, and are not involved in the remodeling program.

Another building, the Buford School with facilities for more than 150 pupils, which was closed in 1953 due to falling enrollments, will not be needed again this fall, Williams believes. "We have no plans for using it," he said.

Colorado City will use 85 teachers and administrative personnel and is short a music teacher for Junior High School. Williams says enrollment should be about the same. In 1955, the average enrollment was 1,858.

At Loraine, Superintendent Don Robbins, plans to begin school on Labor Day. With a complement of 19 teachers, "We're short only an elementary teacher and we think we've got one hired."

His enrollment last year was 533 and he thinks that it will be about the same this year. He has a new football coach — Floyd Sampson, formerly Junior High Coach at Colorado City. Sampson swapped jobs with Bill Everett, former head coach at Loraine, who came to Colorado City as Junior High coach. A new basketball coach is Bill Easterling.

Remodeling has been under way at Loraine also, and Robbins will use two classrooms in the old school building, which will also supply quarters for the band, ag class, the athletic office and a music room.

Roy Coles, county school superintendent, says that the school board will meet Monday night to set a definite date for school opening at Westbrook but expects it to be Sept. 2.

This eleven teacher school enrolled 183 last year and enrollment may be down this fall. Coles says that the faculty is complete save for an English teacher.

Westbrook citizens have voted bonds for a new school building, but construction has not begun.

Lamesa Orders A New Water Supply

LAMESA, Aug. 18 — Water and traffic conditions were the main topics of study of the Lamesa City Council as it met in regular session at the city manager's office Thursday night. After considerable discussion, the council authorized a study, by engineers and hydrologists, of both underground and surface water in the Lamesa area.

Carroll Taylor, city manager, told the council that several partial studies are available at the present time, and others could be made. At the present time the city's potential pumping capacity is 2,900,000 gallons daily, a considerable decline from the early summer potential, due to the drop in the water table. Taylor told the council that if the voluntary alternate day watering schedule does not work, then watering would have to be banned during certain hours, and if that did not work, then he felt the council should pass an emergency measure forbidding watering at all.

City Judge Eager met with the council to discuss traffic conditions.

Taylor told the council that the city has the same size police force now it had five years ago, when it was several thousand smaller in population. Actually, the force is short five men from the number recommended by the National Safety Council and the National Association of Law Enforcement officials.

The council instructed Taylor to take bids on an additional police patrol car and to ascertain the cost of radar equipment for the city. It also passed a resolution backing the police department in every way in cracking down on violators to the extent of using unmarked cars and urging the city judge, if necessary, to assess heavier traffic fines.

Passed on final reading was an ordinance bringing into the city limits the Caldwell-Oates Addition in Northeast Lamesa. One more reading will be required on the ordinance amending the franchise of the General Telephone Company, allowing the company to provide for area service. The amendment passed on second reading.

Bids for a sewer lift station will be taken until four p.m., Thursday, Sept. 6, under an order passed by the council after a discussion of the needs. Bids will also be taken for the next year for gasoline, oil, greases and antifreeze, with all companies operating in Lamesa to be notified and given the opportunity to bid.

Just Right For Back-To-School

FOR CLASSES, FOR TRAVEL, in fact, for almost any informal occasion is the transition cotton worn by Barbara Jean Robison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Robison, 610 Caylor. Woven on a woolen loom to give the appearance of wool, the frock is oxford grey, with a small plaid in a lighter shade of grey. The Peter Pan collar and the cuffs are detachable—a most important detail—and the front panel, which begins at the buttons, is loose from the waist to the hem. Tiny pleats extend from the panel to the back, which is marked with a buttoned belt. Miss Robison will complete her high school studies after her marriage to David Young on Aug. 27.

(Photos by Keith McMillin)

STEPS OF LEARNING can be smoothed if the learner is attired in an attractive suit such as the one worn by Margie Beth Keaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Keaton, 416 Dallas. Her plans include study at the University of Texas this year. She is wearing a slim skirt and cardigan jacket of featheroy—(a touch would tell you why the word is a combination of "feather" and "corduroy".) A featheroy blouse in winter white combines well with the russetwood shade of the suit, and it may be worn either in or out of the skirt. Note the low belt, placed at the season's newest location for the "waistline."

THE TYROLEAN INFLUENCE, popular and attractive, is strong in the cotton print worn by Mary Jane Weaver (above) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Weaver, 904 Abram. Miss Weaver, who will enter the tenth grade this fall, likes the unusual black figures on the sun-gold background and the wide ric-rac braid on the hem of the dress. Ric-rac also trims the dainty white blouse with its wide-banded sleeves in a new length. Of disciplined cotton, the frock is just the thing for school or any daytime occasion.

A VETERAN OF TWO YEARS in school, Candace Bell (in photo at left) feels that she is capable of advising Ronald Wayne Broadrick about his school attire. Candace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bell, 1732 Purdue, will attend the third grade in Washington Place School this fall. She is wearing a cotton frock in a golden brown with interesting trim near the hem of the full skirt. Ronald, dressed in navy slacks, wears a white shirt trimmed in the same shade. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. B. Broadrick, 804 West 17th, and will enroll in a private school.

COTILLION BLUE NET of the dress worn by Shirley Ward (photo at right) enhances her lovely auburn hair and makes it too bad that we don't have color photography. A strapless bodice has a suggestion of an empire line marked by the velvet ribbon and bow in marine blue. Worn over taffeta, the skirt is fashioned of one ruffle after another right down to the floor. Shirley, who is to attend Howard County Junior College this year, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ward, 707 East 12th.

MR. AND MRS. O. N. GREEN

Golden Wedding Tea Set For O. N. Greens

By ANNE LEFEVER
Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Green, 2105 Johnson, who are celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary today, are probably about the "best-acquainted" couple you could find anywhere!

Born in the same county in Arkansas, they spent their early childhood as neighbors. When Mrs. Green, the former Oza Malcolm, was six years old, the Greens moved into the Indian Territory.

About a year later, the Malcolm family followed them and the two grew up together. "I suppose I went with three other boys at various times," Mrs. Green reminisced, "but I always knew I was going to marry him."

At the parties and other gatherings where the young people assembled, even though she might be with another escort, young Green saw to it that she left if he thought the party was getting out of hand.

They were married Aug. 19, 1906, in the Indian Territory in what is now Mansville, close to Ardmore, Okla. A year later, they saw statehood come to the territory.

A Baptist minister, the Rev. G. W. Crawford, officiated at the wedding in the home of the bride's parents. The couple then attended church, which was followed by a luncheon for a large group of their friends. A buggy ride that afternoon preceded church that evening, with another gathering of the young people for games. "And that was our honeymoon," said the bride of 50 years ago.

From Mansville they moved to Tishomingo, Okla., and, in 1926, they moved to McCamey. Here they lived in a tent and, so scarce were places to live that they rented a house at the time the foundation was laid!

Employed by Continental Oil Company, Green was transferred to Forsan in 1928. He retired in December, 1952, and they moved to their present address. To show that they are still members of that "family," employees of the company recently joined together to lay sidewalks at the new home.

This was an advance gift for the couple's anniversary. The tea, scheduled in observance of the event, will be held this afternoon from 3 to 5. The couple expects all their friends to call.

Helping them celebrate will be their children, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green, James, Fletcher Norris and Priscilla of Farmington, N.M.; two nieces, Mr. and Mrs. Fayette Evans of Abilene and Mrs. Sgt. and Mrs. Willie Sides of Alamogordo, N. M., and a friend, Mrs. Travis Cash of Shreveport, La.

Greeting guests will be Mrs. O'Barr Smith and Mrs. Glen Smith; registrations will be done by Mrs. Joe B. Hoard and Mrs. C. A. Ballard.

Table decorations are planned as an arrangement of golden chrysantheums with a "50" in styrofoam marking the years.

Also assisting with the hospitality will be Mrs. J. E. Felts, Mrs. A. J. Wright of Van Horn, Mrs. A. E. Fivens, Mrs. O. G. Hughes, Mrs. James Underwood, Mrs. John Puckett, Mrs. Earl Thompson and Mrs. C. R. Martin.

Fashionable Women Look To Designers For Fall Styles

By DEIDRA HINTON

This is really the season for the female sex to become utterly feminine! As with every season that passes or is just around the corner, all the fashion-conscious women begin speculating about what will be the latest in milady's wardrobe for the coming year.

Of course fashion designers must make changes — how else could they please the fickle mind of the ladies?

One of the newest changes I've noticed around local shops, as well as in fashion magazines and reports from New York fashion experts, is the new emphasis placed on small cropped jackets, sometimes called jackedets.

Some are as brief as the well-known bolero, while others are a miniature replica of men's jackets. These jackets are made of any material, for day or evening, are worn with skirts and casual sports clothes or as a special touch for a dress ensemble. Many have an accent or emphasis of the back. Most often it is a high waist belted back, or sometimes trimmed with large buttons, velvet or braid.

POPULAR BLACK
Color forecast for fall places the most attention on the now more-popular-than-ever black! Last season's one-color look seems to be outdone this year with the all black ensemble topped with a vivid colored hat. Black is such a leading color that one local merchant said manufacturers are having a hard time keeping up with the demand on reorders.

Leading with such predominance, black is often combined in several different fabrics for the same ensemble. So to be really fashionable this year, ladies, your wardrobe needs a new black dress!

A new color for fall 1956 is loden green or as some manufacturers call it, Alpine green. This is a rather brown, black, grey color and is a neutral shade that will be worn best with lots of bright hues. Red is particularly good with it. Loden green may be found a little more prominently in accessories than clothing.

Hats, always a woman's weakness, are simply breath-taking this season. Furs are leading the parade as the main fabric, local millinery women say.

Beaver, felt fur, mouse and soufflé are among those featured. Local shops are showing some fox fur hats and mutation milk-trimmed hats.

Hats are largely bountiful in size. They can be found in varied colors to suit your wardrobe ranging from very vivid colors of Dior blue and cherry red to the more neutral shades of milk and nude.

Beaded velvets and small sequined hats are used for cocktail or after-five hats. Some of these are trimmed with feathers and ostrich plumes.

Leading the field for those back-to-college girls or the casual at heart are the proverbial skirts and sweaters to which a new touch has been added. Cable knitted bundling sweaters are taking the spotlight this year. These are added to the blanket skirts of bright plaid or the boldly plotted tweeds.

Skirts are also featured in glen plaids, herringbones, and regimental stripes.

Every type of clothing is bloused. Coats, dresses, blouses, jackets all look as if a puff of wind is hiding beneath.

CASUAL COATS
Coats are still the most casual — unless you are lucky enough to be able to afford a different coat for each outfit. Then you can choose from a varied selection of styles. For those who must make one coat do for several seasons the casual coat is most popular. Cashmere leads the field, but a less expensive is a coat of blends of several fabrics.

The main change that may be noted in coats is that a hood has been added. This seems to make for a more elegant appearance and when the hood isn't actually in use it folds into a stylish shawl collar. Neutral colors still seem to be most popular, but new shades are nude, granite, zanzibar (cinnamon shade), rosewood, spruce, fawn, and birch tweeds, an imported fabric.

Accessories will be used a great deal this year. Ranging from enormous handbags to large costume jewelry. Adding just the right touch of the correct accessory may mean the change from just dressed to smartly dressed! Contrary to fact, most ready-to-wear usually isn't ready to wear. Adding the smallest touch can completely change the looks of a costume.

Left to right: A smooth leather moccasin with criss-crossing straps and brass buckles on the vamp; a one-strap pump in butter-soft leather; two-strap leather shoe with a swirl of stitching; a one-eyelid moccasin in brown leather, and in the foreground, a one-strap black suede leather pump with leather applique and pearl trim.

Here's Quiz For Amateur Decorators

Any woman who likes to do her own decorating or browse in antique shops should be familiar with the common terms of the trade, says decorator Virginia Conner Dick. In her 20 years as an interior designer she has found 10 decorating terms listed below most frequently used in everyday conversation.

See if you can match the definitions to the terms. Score 10 points for each correct answer. A grade of 80 to 100 means you could qualify as a pro. A grade of 70 is passing. If you fall below that you'd better start boning up, or stick to baseball quizzes.

1. Antique
 2. Bahustrade
 3. Epergne
 4. Filigree

Republican Woman To Receive Medal

Energetic Dorothy D. Houghton, co-chairman of National Citizens for Eisenhower, will take time out from her busy campaign schedule Labor Day weekend to fly to Geneva, where she will receive the Nansen Medal, awarded for distinguished service to refugees. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who received the award in 1951, is the only other woman to be so honored.

Mrs. Houghton is former deputy director of the International Cooperation Administration in charge of refugee work. Her September trip to Geneva will be her 15th to the Swiss capital in behalf of refugees and escapees around the world.

She did much traveling as a former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Currently she's a member-at-large of the United States National Commission for UNESCO and member of the Public Advisory group of the State Department Refugee Relief Program.

New Car Coats Rate High On Girls' Wants

For a schoolgirl's class and after-class schedule, the coat she'll love to live in will no doubt be a "car coat."

The new, short sport coats are geared for action—whether worn with pants or skirts! With insulated lining, fur-like collar and often a protective hood—the short coat becomes the "every day" coat of the new season.

Toggle fastenings, buttons, buckles or wooden pegs—mouton, fleece, or like-fur fabric collars—detachable hoods or hooded collars—alpaca, fleece, quilted or insulated linings—these are the features to look for in car coats!

Any young miss is a charmer in the classroom in this full-skirted cotton print in bright aqua topped with a double-breasted black jacket. The washable fabric needs no ironing!

This boldly striped blouse with the "sweatered look," so popular for school, is made in a novelty ribbed jersey of Orlon and wool. Plain jersey collar and cuffs add a tailored accent.

MRS. ROBERT C. KUHENS
Miss Sproul,
Lt. Kuhens
Wed At Base

The chapel at Webb Air Force Base was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Myrna Sproul and Lt. Robert C. Kuhens.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sproul of Anthony, Kan., has been making her home with her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Dillon, 706 West 18th. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Kuhens of Akron, Ohio.

The informal double ring rites were read by Chaplain Charles J. Fix before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and stock. White brocaded taffeta made the wedding dress, which was fashioned along princess lines. A white hat, dotted with tiny seed pearls carried a tiny veil. Her flowers were white gardenias and carnations which she carried on a white Bible.

Mrs. Dillon was her niece's matron of honor. She was attired in a silk organza in beige. Strapless, it combined with a linen jacket, sparkling with jewels. She wore a tiny beige hat, encrusted with pearls, and a corsage of white carnations. Dr. Dillon served as best man. The couple will be at home at 1201 Blackmon.

Mrs. Kuhens has been attending Howard County Junior College; the bridegroom, who attended Ohio State University, is a pilot instructor at WAFB.

P-TA Group Has Called Meeting

Members of the City Council of the P-TA met in a called session Friday morning at the school tax office.

The group voted to place the time of meeting on the first Tuesday at 10 a.m. The place will be the tax office.

A school of instruction was announced for Sept. 18. It will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The place is to be announced later.

Also announced was the state convention, scheduled for Nov. 16-18 in Amarillo. Mrs. A. C. LaCroix, president, appointed Mrs. Jack Irons chairman of a newly-formed committee, which will deal with exceptional children.

Plans were completed for a reception to be given at Howard County Junior College, Aug. 30, at 8 p.m. Purpose of the affair is to introduce the faculty of the school system to the town. The public is invited to attend.

Members were told that Big Spring will be the host for the district spring conference. Date of the meeting is to be decided later this year.

A discussion was held concerning the budget; fourteen were present.

Pre-Nuptial Affairs Honor Engaged Couple

The patio and garden of the H. W. Smith home was the setting of a barbecue given Friday evening for the bridal party of Nanette Farquhar and Tommy McAdams. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their daughter, Nancy, were hosts.

Miss Farquhar and McAdams are to be married Aug. 20, their parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Farquhar and Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. McAdams.

Burlap, printed in orange and black, covered a buffet table, from which the supper was served. Wrought iron and copper appointments added to the outdoor theme. Tables in the garden were lighted by wrought iron hurricane lamps. The hosts presented the couple with a portable electric mixer.

Using the bride-elect's colors of aqua and white, friends of Miss Farquhar honored her Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Garner McAdams with a miscellaneous bridal shower.

Guests were received by Mrs. McAdams who presented them to Mrs. Thomas J. McAdams, Miss Farquhar, and Mrs. Farquhar.

Nita Beth Farquhar, Lynn McAdams and Brenda Gordon alternated at the bride's book to register the 75 guests who called during the morning hours.

Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Jack Robinson, Mrs. L. E. Dudley, Mrs. Frank Martin and Mrs. Perry Johnson.

The refreshment table was covered with a white organdy floor length cloth. It was bordered at the table's edge with a narrow band of white eyelet insertion laced with aqua satin ribbon. The central attraction was the floral piece arranged with aqua carnations in a background of silvered leaves. The appointments were crystal.

Serving at the punch bowls were Mrs. Omar Jones and Mrs. Jack Johnson. They were assisted by Mrs. Ray McMahan, Mrs. Roy Tidwell, Mrs. F. A. Gibbs and Mrs. Linn King.

Other hostesses who were unable to be present were Mrs. W. B. Martin, Mrs. Jake Armistead and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

The honoree chose a sheath of black linen and her accessories were black patent. She wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

A miscellaneous shower was given Thursday evening for Miss Farquhar in the garden of Mrs. Eugene Thomas.

The tea table was laid in aqua and white with an arrangement of white daisies and carnations flanked by hurricane lamps. Jan Anderson and Terry Cauble registered guests.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. J. D. Cauble, Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, Mrs. Earl Wilcox, Mrs. A. C. Wilkerson and Mrs. J. R. Petty. About 75 attended the affair.

Couple Wed In Lamesa At Methodist Church

LAMESA — A candlelight ceremony united in marriage Alva Rogene Bass and Charles Warren Miller Saturday evening. The double ring ceremony was read in the First Methodist Church by the Rev. T. H. Bass of Big Spring, cousin of the bride.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bass of Cactus, and Mr. and Mrs. Moody Miller of Lamesa. The exchange of vows was made before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and lemon leaves flanked by branched candelabra.

Peggy Campbell played "Through the Years," "Because" and "Always." She also presented the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Kay Wiggins who sang, "O, Perfect Love," "Eternally" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white lace. From her fitted lace bodice stemmed a bouffant skirt of double nylon tulle with vertical nylon lace insets with matching lace around the bottom of the skirt. Her brief bolero style lace jacket was complemented by matching lace mitts. She wore a lace pillbox hat encrusted with round and trumpet pearls from which fell a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

Mrs. J. G. Ponder, Lubbock, was her sister's matron of honor. Her ballerina length dress of blue lace was fashioned after the bride's with a three tiered tulle skirt worn white taffeta. She wore white lace mitts and a pillbox hat of lace. Her bouquet was of white carnations tied with white streamers. Alva Miller was his brother's best man.

Following the exchange of vows a reception was held at the Lamesa Woman's Study Club. The serving table was laid with a white linen cut-work cloth. The attendant's bouquet, flanked by white tapers, formed the centerpiece. The traditional three tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom atop completed the table decoration.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride chose a French blue cotton and silk princess style sheath dress with empire waistline. Her matching jacket was trimmed with black braid and white collar and cuffs. Her hat was of black tulle and velvet with black tulle shades and bag.

The bride was graduated from West Texas State College at Canyon with a B.S. degree. She will teach second grade at Hodges School in Lubbock. The bridegroom attended the University of Texas and will complete his geology degree at Texas Tech. He spent two years in the United States Marine Corps.

They will be at home at 3106 1/2 21st St., Lubbock, after Aug. 24

Former Residents Visit Here Briefly

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson, 2100 Peach Tree Street, Austin, former residents of Big Spring, were visiting here Saturday while en route to Seminole to attend the Golden Wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Barker.

Other children, all of whom were to attend, are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Klimick, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kelly, Refugio; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Barker, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thompson, Hobbs, N.M.

Double Ring Rites Unite Local Couple

In an informal double ring ceremony Thursday evening, Laura Holland became the bride of Lynn Laws.

Vows were exchanged in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jackson, 101 E. 14th, with Lyle Price, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Paulsen of Pasa Ariz. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Laws, 904 E. 12th.

For her wedding, the bride chose a dress of blue taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt. Her blue hat bore a short blue veil, and she carried white carnations on a Bible.

Brenda Patton, who served as maid of honor, wore a grey and pink dress similar to that of the bride, and her flowers were a pink corsage. Ronnie Smith was best man.

Netta Kay Laws registered guests at the reception, which followed the ceremony.

Lace over blue linen covered the bride's table, which held a tiered cake. This was decorated with tiny pearl candies and white frosting.

Mrs. Mason served, assisted by the senior Mrs. Laws.

After their wedding trip to Cloudcroft, N.M., the couple will be at the home of the bridegroom's parents for a short time.

Both are graduates of Big Spring High School and both attended Howard County Junior College. The bride is employed at the State National Bank, and the bridegroom works at Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

Girls Ask For A 2-Coat Wardrobe

There's a real need in every school girls wardrobe for two coats—a dressy-look coat for week-ends and real-look weather wear—and a jaunty sportcoat for every other day-by-day occasions.

New details in the long coat story include such as highlights military styling: double-breasted, back-belted and multi-buttoned—in colorful fleeces.

Empire lines stress high-placed belts, unpressed back pleats, gently-nipped in waist and often with velvet trims. Tweeds, fleeces, nubs and boucles as well as soft suede cloths give elegance to these lines.

Pile fabrics for great coats, rich tweeds in hooded coats and camels' hair blends in boy coats—all are 'importantly here' for the new term.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

One of the nicest things about the 24th of this month is that HCJC's summer term will be ending, as will college summer terms scattered over the nation. The summer vacation will be beginning for some of these students, because of the swiftly approaching September.

At least two farewell parties are in the morning stage that will serve as celebration to the departing term; one by Bruce Frazier's biology and geology classes, and another by Mr. Lewis's night trig class.

The first dose of college life at HCJC was given several dozen girls last night at the Lass-O party in the SUB. Attired in shorts, pedal pushers or pajamas, the girls began arriving about 8 p.m. for the slumber party given by the sophomore members of the Lass-O club. What little sleeping the girls chose to do was done on bedding brought by them.

Marlene Mann and Julie Rainwater, however, were two of next year's students who missed the party by being out of town. Marlene left Friday for Clovis, N. M., where she visited friends over the weekend. Julie is enjoying a more prolonged stay. She left Thursday for a 10 day trip to Muskogee, Okla., Van Buren and Fort Smith, Ark., where she will visit relatives.

With the approach of fall, several couples of college students have decided to "tie the knot." Jimmy Porter and Lela Fletcher were married in the Main Street Church of Christ last week. Bill Earley served as best man, and Don Sweeney and Doyle Maynard were groomsmen.

Also marrying last week were Bob Jones and Nelda Williams in a garden ceremony. Billy Martin was best man, while Maxine Stocks was maid of honor and Patsy Reeves was bridesmaid.

Frank Hunt sniffingly reported that he caught a cold last week when he, with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt, went to Corpus Christi and Austin on an extended weekend business trip.

Some folks might think that the latest field trip taken by the biology class would be one of the less pleasant of the term, but it proved to be one of the most interesting taken in the entire summer.

Wednesday was the day chosen by the group to visit the city's sewage disposal plant, where they saw the process of changing sewage into water safe enough to drink. One of the storage lakes of processed water is an ideal habitat for a number of ducks.

The group discovered a duck egg lying on the bank of the lake, and at present the egg is in the process of being hatched in an incubator at the college. If it survives, and the students have high hopes that it will, Bruce Frazier insists that it be named "Stinky."

Wade Simpson, accompanied by his parents, the Dick Simpsons, is planning a trip to Dallas to be taken Wednesday through Friday. The main purpose of the trip will be to bring Marie Hall home from the summer term at SMU.

In order to have a bigger and better Jayhawk annual next year, LaVerne Cooper, editor, and her staff have been hard at work this past week selling ads for the back section of next year's book. Between them, China Carroll, Clara Freeman, Rodney Sheppard, Yvonne Peterson, Max McCollough, and Billy McLivaine have sold only a portion of what is needed. They will be winding up this part of the annual probably this week, so if you are a merchant, think twice before turning them down when they visit you.

Richard Engle left Saturday morning for Estes Park, Colo., where he will attend the Fellowship of Christian Athletes this week. His mornings will be devoted to workshops on sports and religion, and the afternoons to workouts in sports and receiving pointers from great athletes. Richard, who will specialize in track at this FCA meet, expects to return home next Friday.

HAL FEES

WITH OUR CORRESPONDENTS

KPET News Director Directs It To Herald

LAMESA — Hal Fees, correspondent for the Herald, is also news director at Radio Station KPET in Lamesa. A graduate of McMurry College in Abilene, he has had about eight years experience in news-gathering for both newspapers and radio stations.

Although Fees sometimes works up to 15 hours a day on news, he still finds time for church and civic affairs in the community. At the present time he teaches a couples' class at the First Methodist Church, sings in the choir and is vice president of Methodist Men. He is vice president of the Lamesa Girls Scout Council, a member of the board of directors of the Dawson County TB Association, and will head the seal sales this winter. He also is program chairman of the Evening Lions Club and a member of several Chambers of Commerce committees.

Fees is married and he and Mrs. Fees have two children, Pat, 6, who will start school in the first grade at North Elementary School this fall; and Jarre Beth, 5, who will go to kindergarten. Mrs. Fees (Beth) who will teach fourth grade at the North Elementary School, works in the kindergarten department at the church.

An avid football fan, Fees usually sees Thursday and Friday night games from the press box, catches one on TV and listens to one or two others (at the same time) on the radio on Saturday afternoon.

He sometimes has to keep up with the games in order to help the neighbors with their problems. For instance, one day last fall, a mother called and wanted to know what team Texas Tech was to play, and where. If Tech had a home game, her daughter would not be home that weekend, and vice versa. She knew Hal would know the schedule (which he did).

The Herald's general news correspondent's hobbies include, in addition to football, basketball, baseball, music, reading and wood-working.

Recent visitors in the Roy Odom home have been their three sons, Lt. Harold B. Odom of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. James Ray Odom and children of Jackboro and Paschal Odom of Abilene. Other guests have been Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Park of Richland Springs, Tex. and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Boynton of San Saba.

Guests, Vacations Make Forsan News

FORSAN — Fishing this week near Pecosas Springs, Colo., were J. R. Asbury and Johnny of Forsan and Bob Asbury of Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holladay and daughters were in Dallas during the week.

Vacationing in Lamasas are Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Romans.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blankinship, Larry and Billie Ruth are his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Blankinship of Houston. Also visiting have been Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Strickland and Becky of Monument, N. M. Visiting in Miami, Ariz., are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Park and Roger and Stevie. They are guests of Mrs. Park's sister and family. They were accompanied by Mrs. Park's father, O. T. Watkins of San Angelo. Freddie Park is in San Angelo with his grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. John Kubecka are in Odessa for the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Deener. Dismissed from Big Spring hospital are S. B. Walker and Willie Riffe.

FOR A FALL START

Pleats On Shirtwaist Continue Into Skirt

You'll be off to a smart start this fall in this new version of the perennially popular shirtwaist by Claire McCardell.

A step-in model, it has soft bosom pleating that continues on down the front of the skirt, which hangs fairly straight in front but flares out in back. The necktie is a bright new detail, a continuation of the crushed neckband.

Easy to make, the fact that the pattern is precisely perforated for accurate matching makes the job even more simple. Make it in solids or the currently important checks and plaids in cottons, synthetics, foulards and surahs or sheer wools.

Select your size from this chart: Size 10 - bust 34, waist 24, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 12 - bust 35, waist 25, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches, size 14 - bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches; size 16 - bust 38, waist 28, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches; size 18 - bust 40, waist 30, hip 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches.

Dress: size 12 requires 6 1/2 yards of 39-inch material. Interfacing: size 12 requires 1/4 yard of 35-inch material.

To order Pattern No. 1277, state size, enclose $1.00. Airmail handling requires 25 cents extra. Address American Designer Patterns, P.O. Box 535, P.O. Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. 144-page Pattern Booklet XII - 50 cents. If paid by check add 4 cents.

(Next week look for Spadea's American Designer Pattern by Seana.)

HI--TALK

By CAROL ROGERS

Much of the teen-age activity has been transferred to a different location the past week. The reason was the Y summer camp at Hunt, Texas.

Sixty teeners left Big Spring Tuesday morning to attend the camp.

The students enjoyed swimming, hiking, tennis, dancing, and other activities. The Big Spring delegation presented a skit to the group, as did the other delegations. The kids, with their sponsors, will return this afternoon.

Annette Boykin is in Lubbock visiting Martha Sue Medley. Annette plans to return to Big Spring Tuesday afternoon.

The First Christian Church is sponsoring a Christian Youth Round-Up Week, Aug. 26-31. The speaker for the week will be Ronnie Flowers with Barbara Houston leading the singing. The programs will begin each evening at 7:30 and will include speaking, singing, and recreation.

Another church in Big Spring is anticipating a successful event this week. This is the monthly youth meeting. The young people of the Trinity Baptist Church will go to Lubbock Friday to attend the meeting. The members and guests, with their sponsors, will present a skit to the other churches attending.

Spending the last part of the summer away from Big Spring is Nelda Stewart, who is visiting a friend in Sweetwater for several days. She began the visiting Wednesday.

Big Spring must have made a good impression on Betty Jo Fincher. She visited here for some time this summer and liked it so well she decided to move here. She is from Austin, La., and will enter BSHS as a sophomore this fall.

Pampa was the destination of the Turner family when they left Thursday. Melba has been in Pampa for several days and will return with the rest of the family this week. Terral and Melba are visiting their aunt there.

The past week has been an important one for the Wesley Methodist Church because of the annual youth activities week which lasted from Sunday to Saturday.

The project of the week was to visit absentees and enroll new members. The programs, aiming at this project, included visitation, workshop services, and recreation. Guest speaker for the meeting was George Coats of McMurry College. The highlight of the week was a hayride and inspirational service.

Friday night. The service centered around a burning cross.

Four Big Spring boys were in for a wonderful time when they left early Saturday morning. Johnny Janak, Ronnie King, Walter Dickenson, and Richard Engle are attending the athletic camp for Christian athletes in Estes Park, Colo.

I'd like to remind any teen-agers that may have moved here since pre-registration last spring that they should register immediately.

Former Pastor And Family Visit Knott

KNOTT - Former pastor of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Elbert Galloway and his family of Everett, Wash., were recent visitors in Knott.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Parker and children of Lyford, visited Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Airhart recently. The Parkers were enroute to Artesia, N. M., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Airhart. Arthur Henry Airhart was returning home with them after a stay in Lyford.

A recent guest in the H. R. Caffey home was Mrs. Otis Green of Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Caffey have returned from Abilene where they attended funeral services for his sister, Mrs. C. J. Thompson.

At a regular meetin of the Knott Rebekah Lodge, Myrtle Motley was installed as chaplain. Lodge deputy, Nell Airhart conducted the installation. An application for membership for Mrs. E. C. Airhart was received.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Motley have returned from a visit with relatives in Tyler.

Mrs. L. C. Mathies, Mrs. Alice Herren and Ila and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nichols visited Mrs. Jewell Smith recently.

Back From Vacation

Mrs. M. Y. Butler and daughter, Claudine, have returned from a two-weeks vacation in California. In El Centro, they visited Mrs. Butler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wyatt. At Santa Anna, they were guests of her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wyatt. Other places of interest visited were Los Angeles, Hollywood and Disneyland.

MR. AND MRS. J. C. DOUGLASS

Douglasses To Mark 50th Anniversary

RUIDOSO, N. M. (SpD) — "Suits Me," the rustic cabin of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Douglass Sr. today will be the scene of open house on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Among the many guests expected to be on hand between the hours of 2:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. is Mrs. Dora Vandergriff, sister of Mrs. Douglass and in whose Hattiesburg, Miss., home the two were married on Aug. 19, 1906 by the Rev. W. E. Black.

Other out-of-town guests expected included her sister-in-law, Mrs. Annie Hughes Dixon and her son, H. B. Dixon, and grandson, Frank Hood, all of Jackson, Miss.; her niece, Mrs. H. W. McCannless, Big Spring; the Douglass's granddaughter, Annie Laurie Douglass, Big Spring; and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Douglass, brother and sister-in-law, of Big Spring. Of course, their children, J. C. Douglass Jr., Big Spring and Frances Douglass, Ruidoso, were to welcome the guests.

The romance of these native Missisippians began when the former Melissa Dixon was 16 years old. She was on her way to have her picture made and stopped at a girl friend's home. Douglass was visiting in the home and they met. Miss Dixon's uncle was later told by the love-smitten youth: "That girl is going to be my wife."

Douglass worked his way up to assistant manager of the Schuyler Arms Hotel in New York City. Ten years after meeting Melissa Dixon he married her and took his young bride to New York. The couple followed the hotel business and eventually he went into business for himself at Lake Village, Ark.

On Sept. 1, 1921, Douglass leased the Cole Hotel in Big Spring and established residence there. Later he bought the hotel. Tragedy struck in December, 1926, in the form of a fire that destroyed the building. Undaunted, he rebuilt and named the new structure the Douglass Hotel. It was opened in 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass have two children, Frances and J. C. Jr. They are members of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring, and Mrs. Douglass was active in the women's work of the church during the time they lived in Big Spring. She was on the state board of the Tuberculosis Association and was its first vice president. She has recollections of her service as chairman of the welfare and nursing committee of this organization.

Douglass has been associated with his wife for many years in Eastern Star work. He has life membership in the Masonic Lodge; he is a charter member of the Rotary Club in Big Spring, a director of the Chamber of Commerce in this city and was active in numerous civic organizations. He has been a member of the board of deacons of the First Baptist Church since 1921.

A recent Washington visitor from Brazil, Dix-Huit Rosada, answered friendly joshing about his first name — French for 18 — by explaining: "It's very simple. I am one of 21 children and the 18th son." All his brothers, he added, were given numbers for first names, either in French or Portuguese, in the order of their birth.

Margaret Nichols In Operetta Cast

Margaret Ann Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audrey O. Nichols, 1107 Main, is in the cast of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial By Jury," to be presented Monday by the opera workshop of North Texas State College.

Miss Nichols, who is a state major, is a senior student at NTSC. Pianist for the operetta will be Remd Ghillesi of Fort Worth. The NTSC Summer Orchestra will also perform with the cast.

Furniture Takes Place Of Walls

Modern homes, with their feeling of light, space and informality, have inspired a whole new philosophy of furniture design, says Harvey Prober, designer known for his untraditional approach.

Prober believes that a good piece of furniture should have multiple uses — that it should be adaptable to practically any room in the house and even capable of acting as a room divider. Says he: "The contemporary room should not be a stilted stage set; it should reflect the tastes and activities of the occupants."

Typical of his versatile furniture designs is a group consisting of sectional corner divans and light-weight tables which may be backed up to one side of a divan to form a division between living and dining areas. The table is the same height as the sofa back, and is accompanied by upholstered stools instead of chairs, which may be pushed underneath it.

This, points out Prober, is a practical space-saving device for a small home or apartment. In other plans he makes use of long cabinets teamed with sectional sofas to provide storage space as well as partitions between various areas of a room.

Prober started selling furniture designs to manufacturers at 16, while he was still in high school. He planned to study design at college, but never got around to it, being too busy selling his designs and later manufacturing his own furniture. He is married to a former actress and is the father of two small sons.

The Prober home serves as a laboratory for trying out new ideas in contemporary furniture, and as a background for the family collection of modern paintings.

To Wed Soon

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shoultz of Foran are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patsy Jean, to C. L. Girdner Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Girdner, 1901 Runnels. Vows will be taken in the Foran Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Exercises For Hands

Singing star Lisa Kirk rates hands, next to eyes, as the most revealing expression of character in a person. To keep her hands graceful Miss Kirk has a special series of exercises which she uses daily.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Graceful Hands Are Singer's Trademark

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—When you listen to attractive Lisa Kirk sing, it's difficult to imagine that at one time she was enrolled in law school.

"But I left because I realized the competition was too great in the legal profession," she told me at CBS when she was rehearsing a spectacular.

I admired an evening gown hanging in Lisa's dressing room. The dress was white, form fitting and simple with a burst of pleats below the knees.

"I like basic simplicity," Lisa explained, "with an impact of glamour. Sometimes this effect is achieved like the flare at the bottom of a dress, or you can have a touch of glamour with color."

"It takes time and patience to learn what looks best on you and to develop your individuality to the point of becoming a type. I went through several clothes stages, but as I got to know myself better I had a better understanding of what was right for me."

"At one time, to help pay for my singing lessons," Lisa confided, "I was a Powers high fashion model in New York. This experience gave me an opportunity to see how different I could make myself look."

"I enjoyed experimenting with hairstyles and make-up. I learned from color photography that gray, beige or pink tones are most becoming for me. I shy away from blatant colors. Tones that are demanding often overpower a personality. After all I want people to remember me and not what I was wearing."

"A camera is so much more revealing than a mirror. When I am doubtful about a costume or what accessories look best, I use a self-developing camera and in a minute I can see myself with perspective," Lisa smiled.

"With your experience as a model I suppose you follow fashion rather closely," I remarked.
"No, I don't allow myself to be influenced by current trends," Lisa revealed. "I buy clothes that are becoming to me. I wore big hats all through the craze for little ones."

"And I have never been tempted to cut my hair because I can style it so many ways when it is long. But my favorite style is to have it flat on one side and full on the other," Lisa laughed. "I am strictly a one-earring girl."

"And," Lisa continued, "I don't go along with the suntan craze. I think a tan makes you look healthy but it is not a healthy habit. I have known people who go on a vacation and try to see how dark they can burn. But they come back with their skins dried out and quite often wrinkles and lines that were not present before."

"Well, you have the courage to be individual," I remarked.

"I have no illusions about being a great beauty," Lisa explained. "I suppose every girl wishes to be pretty but if you observe those around you, you'll realize that perfect features take the back seat to a personality that radiates warmth."

"I have found it helpful to be a good listener and to have an open mind, because you never know when you may hear something from which you'll benefit."

As Lisa was talking I was fascinated by her hands.

"There is no one in show business with lovelier hands than you," I exclaimed.
"I have had my hands photographed many times," Lisa revealed. "And critics have commented about the graceful way I used them. But when you have been so complimented it is a struggle not to become self-conscious."

So I work in front of a mirror to be sure I am not playing them up too much.

"Hands are such an important form of expression," Lisa continued. "I think the way they look and the way they are kept and used tells a great deal about a person. Next to the eyes I rate them as the most revealing expression of character."

I wanted to know Lisa's secret for growing such long nails.
"I take special care of them. I change my polish often and I soak my nails in heated baby oil. To strengthen them I soak cotton in white iodine and wrap it around my finger tips. And I never use a metal file but always shape them with an emery board."

"And do you do exercises to keep them so graceful?" I queried.
"I studied ballet as a child and I still do the arm and hand exercises I learned then. I think that whether you are a performer or not, using your hands gracefully contributes so much to poise and confidence," she said in parting.

Birthday Party Given Deborah Ray

Three out-of-town guests attended the party given for Deborah Ray on her fourth birthday anniversary Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Harold Gilmore.

The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ray. The guests were Linda and Patricia Barrington of Lamesa and Shirley Ray of Forsan. About 18 local guests attended the party.

Balloons and horns were favors; the group played various games, and pictures were taken. Refreshments included a cake decorated in a birthday motif and bearing four candles.

Clyde Johnson Family Arrive From Alabama

Featured as newcomers to Big Spring this week are Lt. Col. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson and family, 420 Ryon. Col. Johnson is the new wing operations and training officer at Webb AFB.

The Johnsons with their two children, John, 4, and Melany, 7 months, came from Montgomery, Ala., where Col. Johnson has been attending a command and staff school.

Before going to Alabama the Johnsons were stationed at March Air Force Base at Riverside, Calif., which is Mrs. Johnson's home. Col. Johnson calls Bakersfield, Calif., his home.

Col. Johnson has been in the Air Force 14 years and has toured the European countries, the Caribbean, the Orient, Alaska, Labrador, Greenland, the Pacific and many other places.

"We are very happy to be in Texas and find it like we thought we would," the Johnsons said. "John had to have a holster and gun the first thing," Mrs. Johnson laughed. Mrs. Johnson and Johnny saw their first rodeo and were really thrilled over the Texas cowboys.

As a hobby, Mrs. Johnson is taking painting lessons from a local teacher. At the present time she is working on a street scene painting. In his spare time Col. Johnson likes to play golf and he is eagerly awaiting the opening of dove season.

The Johnsons have recently acquired a new pet, Romper by name, a coal-black cocker spaniel that was given to Johnny. "They are already great friends," Mrs. Johnson said, "and the dog really looks after the baby, too."

The whole Johnson family is pleased over their new home in Big Spring and very happy to be among friendly Texans.

Fireman's Auxiliary Holds Hospital Party

A party for 125 patients at the State Hospital was hosted Friday by members of the City Fireman's Auxiliary. The group served refreshments and held group singing. Melinda Crocker and Barbara Thiele provided special entertainment.

Mrs. H. H. Morris and Mrs. B. F. Lopez were hostesses. Eight members were present.

Next meeting will be held Sept. 21 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Edison Taylor, 419 Hillside Drive.

This man works for only one company — your gas company. But his "bosses" are many — you — our customers and our stockholders. Chances are that if you and your neighbors are not direct owners of our company, you share in our ownership through your investment in insurance policies. Insurance companies are heavy investors in the securities of this and other privately-owned, tax-paying gas companies.

What's the reason for this investment? To earn dividends — which, incidentally, form one of the smallest items in your gas company's operating dollar.

And what do you receive as a customer? You get top-notch, around-the-clock gas service to make your living better. And with all this, gas service is one of the biggest bargains in your daily budget.

School Days, School Days

Such is the theme of the fall style show planned for Friday evening and sponsored by the Mary Jane Club in Coahoma. Perfect for attending P-TA meetings or other affairs are the two dresses to be modeled in the show, which will begin at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Mrs. Rex Shive, at left, wears a transition cotton of brown, brightened with a tiny fold of white pique at the high neckline. A large bow of the material adds interest, and a full skirt joins the long bodice. Red jersey makes the slim skirted dress worn by Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel Jr., and it also lines the jacket of wool, striped in red, blue, brown and purple. A tiny collar of jersey is Peter Pan style; two ties are placed to give an empire look.

Dear Old Golden Rule Days

What "bashful bean" wouldn't offer an apple to a young miss so attractively dressed as is Molly McKinney, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McKinney of Center Point. She wears a jersey blouse topped with a white collar and a tie, which matches the red, chartreuse and black plaid of the full skirt. Leslie Robertson, also four years old, wears a shirt of brown, green and white plaid, boasting an Italian collar. His slacks are of a brown and grey mixture, blending nicely with the shirt. Both models will be seen in the style show to be held in Coahoma Friday evening, sponsored by the Mary Jane Club. (Photos by Keith McMillan.)

Mary Janes To Sponsor Style Show

In the planning stage is the style show to be presented Friday by the Mary Jane Club of Coahoma. Scheduled for 8 p.m. at the high school auditorium in Coahoma, the dress revue will have as its theme, "Back-to-School Fashions." Featured will be attire for pupils from pre-school through high school, as well as their mothers. The club is sponsoring the show as a money-raising plan for their project fund, which is being used for the playground in the city park. Four divisions will make up the show, representing the first day of school; the faculty meeting, a P-TA meeting and a pep rally. Special attractions between the acts will include songs and dances. Commentators will be Mrs.

Dean Forrest and Mrs. Steve Baker. A gift certificate will be awarded at the revue. This will be honored at the two stores presenting the styles, Margie's Dress Shop and Tot N' Teen Shop. Models will include women from various club and church groups of Coahoma and children of the club members.

She Loves The Heat

Alice Roosevelt Langworth is one of the rare species who has a good word for Washington's muggy summer weather. Before taking off for the Republican convention in cool San Francisco and her annual summer sojourn at an even cooler Wyoming ranch, the daughter of the late President Teddy Roosevelt said of Capital heat and humidity: "It's beautiful. I love it."

'Ivy League' Look Captivates Fancy Of School Girls

As the "Ivy Look" captures the fancies of both sexes going back to school this fall—how are you going to tell the girls from the boys? The "boy look" which gained such impetus in girls' leisure fashions in the summertime now appears ready to sweep the girls' dress circles this fall. Pity the poor near-sighted teacher when she sees all her students decked out in man-tailored shirts, blazer jackets, Bermuda shorts, sportscar coats, knee-socks, and often in many cases—girls wearing "boy-look" haircuts. Yes, boy caps, boy-look coats and man-tailored storm coats are but a few of the borrowed-from-the-boys notes for fashion-wise girls... school term '36!

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Just keep looking for the 'feel of fall' but so far the only thing I really feel is the heat. The new fall clothing is perfectly beautiful, but I just can't get in the mood when every time I get out of an air-conditioned house or building I join the melting throng.

Speaking of weather, the Wayland Yateses have had a nice cool time of it in Canada. They even had a day of rain. Wayland would enjoy this most of all—every time we have a mist he spends a great deal of the time running to his rain gauge to see if anything registered. They are due back home today after being gone for two weeks.

Outside of the mothers of the honoree and her bridegroom-to-be at the party for Nan Farquhar Friday morning, MRS. S. P. PETTY and MRS. RAY SHAW had the biggest beams on their faces. The cause of it all was KENT SHAW, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Horton Shaw, who came to the party wearing his favorite hat. It's not one that is generally chosen by the very young set. It's a ladies' rather antique black hat that all but covers his eyes but he loves it and does his best social calling with it. In fact, all the persuading of his mother and both grandmothers couldn't part him from it before they came into the house.

MRS. BUDDY COSBY and daughter, Cindy, are here from El Paso to visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tidwell.

TIM TAYLOR and KENNETH HOWELL and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watt and son, John Richard, all of Fort Worth and Mrs. Sally Bruton of Jal. N. M., have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Petty. The group was here to attend the Petty family reunion and remained for a longer visit. The boys had a rare treat riding the horses on the Petty ranch.

MRS. JOHNNY HOLMES and son, John Randall, of Shreveport, La., have returned to Lubbock where they are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Pickle. They spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pickle and visited other relatives here. They will be in Lubbock for another 10 days.

MR. AND MRS. FORREST GAMBILL, Clinton and Sherry Wayne and Robert Smith are in Los Alamos, N. M., where they will visit relatives until about Sept. 1.

Luggage Is Investment For Students

Luggage owned by a student gets more wear and tear than that of the average traveler, with the exception of business people whose work takes them away frequently. For the four-year round of back and forth travel, the student should consider purchase of new luggage from the service angle and check for strong bindings, well-made hardware, sturdy, comfortable handles and a covering which will take hard knocks and slippish storage.

For girls, the usual three piece starter set is a necessity. Additional useful pieces are the hat-and-shoe case and the round hatbox. Add to this, if school is far from home, a useful trunk in which to send bedding, books, curtains, etc.

Boys of high school or college age need a minimum of a suitcase and companion bag. "Suiters" are designed to hold from one to four suits the "companion" is an unfitted, matching suitcase useful for accessories, weekends or overnight visits.

For more clothing, the end-opening wardrobe is equipped with several hangers and a section for flat packing.

Important to remember whatever choice of suitcases is made, is that for a student, luggage is more than a convenience—it is a fashion accessory as well—and should have good lines, smart color and practical design.

Dressing-up for the new school term doesn't stop at clothes or a new hair-do for the young teenager.

Denims Lose Out To Bermuda Shorts

Long a traditional part of campus wardrobes—the blue denim jean ensemble—at last is losing its status!

From a shy beginning on Eastern college campuses to a steady push westward—Bermuda shorts now come into importance on the school scene.

In classrooms, 'round the grounds, after-class get-togethers and other school activities, boys and girls alike wear a neat, smart look in knee-length shorts and in calf-length or to-the-knee socks. Fabrics, colors and combinations may vary in each part of the country—one school may favor khaki, others flannels, solid wools, tweeds or plaids. The mid-calf or tapered-to-the-ankle slack styles seem to be most popular in the Middle West and West coast areas, while schools in the Northwest continue to cast their vote for "those old blue jeans."

Ruidoso home of MR. AND MRS. J. C. DOUGLASS, Sr. today are MRS. RUBY BILLINGS and MRS. W. R. DOUGLASS. The affair is to observe the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Douglass.

In case you are wondering what is needed by the Fashion Shop at the Big Spring State Hospital here are a few tips: The women need cotton print dresses that are suitable for work. Of course they like to have a nice 'dressy' dress but, mostly, they need cottons. They also need flat heel or wedged shoes. They can't use high heels. There is very little use for hats and few calls for them.

Several boxes of children's clothing have been sent to the shop. These are completely useless to the patients and are wasted as far as the hospital is concerned. There are no infant or children patients.

Men's clothing is still badly needed. Trousers, both dress and work, as well as sport and dress shirts are scarce. There is also a need for shoes for the men.

JUDY CAUBLE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cauble, is in Vermajo Park, N. M., where she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gourley of Fort Worth. Judy Locke, a friend of Miss Cauble, is also a guest at the ranch, which was featured in an article in Look magazine several years ago.

MRS. A. M. RIPPS has returned from Fort Worth where she spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Sophia Welch. Early in September she and Mr. Ripps plan a trip to Kansas City, Mo., to visit their son, James L. Ripps, and his family.

MARILOU STAGGS is in New Orleans, La., where she will spend two weeks visiting friends and relatives. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stags.

The REV. AND MRS. A. E. BOYDSTUN and son, Emmett, spent a short time here Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bonner. Rev. Boydston is pastor of the Castle Heights Baptist Church in San Antonio, and they were returning home from Ghrieta, N. M. The minister served as a captain in the Army in Japan and entered the ministry two years ago.

MRS. ROBERT STANLEY WHITE

Miss Riethmayer In Wed To Robert White

LAMESA — A formal candlelight ceremony read Saturday evening, at seven united in marriage Margaret Ruth Riethmayer and Robert Stanley White. The exchange of vows was made in the Sparenberg Methodist Church by the Rev. J. Lloyd Mayhew of the First Methodist Church, Lamesa.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Riethmayer, Sparenberg, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. White of Slaton.

A bridal arch of white wrought iron entwined with white carnations and greenery flanked by baskets of white gladioli and candelabra formed the setting for the wedding scene.

Connie Nix, organist, presented the traditional wedding music and accompanied Tracy Crawford, who sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Walk Hand in Hand," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported Venetian lace and silk illusion. The upstanding narrow lace collar enhanced the yoke of sheer illusion with appliques of the lace flowers embroidered with seed pearls. The fitted bodice extended to a deep point at the waistline with the lace extending as petal points into a full skirt of sheer illusion worn over taffeta and layers of net and hoops.

The long slim sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Her veil of imported illusion was sprinkled with pearls and was caught to a crown of lace carried with seed pearls. She cradled a white orchid with feathered carnations.

Mrs. Kendall Bond of Lubbock was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Helen Riethmayer and Esther Riethmayer, sisters

Coahoma Girl Repeats Vows With Ted Hughes

Double ring wedding vows were repeated Saturday morning at 10 in the First Methodist Church of Coahoma by Mary Margaret Massey and Ted B. Hughes.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Massey of Coahoma. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hughes of Boaz, Ala.

The Rev. T. W. Tucker, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony before an altar decked with an arch, from which wedding bells were suspended. Greenery covered the arch.

Carolyn Wood sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Beverly Meador. Traditional wedding music preceded the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Bennett Hoover, the bride wore a brocade dress styled with a scalloped neckline, extending into short pleated sleeves.

The face-length veil was of nylon tulle extending from a satin headband trimmed with pearls. For something old the bride carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her great grandmother. Her dress was the traditional something new; her earrings were borrowed, and she wore a blue garter. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Sue Tindol and Mackie Lee Brooks attended as bridesmaids. Miss Tindol's dress was of green crystalline and Miss Brook's gown of pink crystalline, styled identically with bouffant skirts and draped necklines. They carried nosegays of matching carnations. Their head-dresses were styled like that of the bride.

Thomas L. Cooke served as best man. Groomsman was Dennis H. Berry. Ushers were Clyde Hall and Gerry Hoover, cousin of the bride.

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. In the receiving line with the bride and groom were the bride's mother, Mrs. Bennett Hoover and other members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was decorated in her colors of pink and green and held a two-tiered wedding cake. Serving was done by Mrs. N. B. Hoover and Martha White. Sue Turner was in charge of the register.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, they will make their home at 1607 Owens. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece suit of navy blue linen with light blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and is presently employed at Webb AFB. The bridegroom was graduated from Boaz High School and is stationed at Webb.

Out of town guest was William E. Hughes, brother of the bridegroom, from Boaz, Ala.

Bingham Returns

E. F. Bingham has returned from New York where he attended a meeting of the dance educators of America. He is the director of the Bingham School of the Dance, which will open Aug. 29. The studio is in the Elks Lodge in the Crawford Hotel.

Miss Norris Is Bride Of David Michael Ray

Mary Louise Norris exchanged double ring wedding vows with David Michael Ray of Cedartown, Ga., in the Baptist Temple Church Saturday night at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Joe Watts is mother of the bride, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Ray of Cedartown, Ga.

The Rev. A. R. Posey, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony before an altar archway decorated with baskets of white gladioli and greenery.

Mrs. H. M. Jarratt played wedding selections on the organ. They included "Intermezzo," "To a Wild Rose," and the traditional wedding marches. "The Wedding Prayer," was played at the end of the ceremony.

T. O. Weathers gave his granddaughter in marriage. She wore a gown of champagne imported lace over matching taffeta. The dress was styled on princess lines with a deep V neckline. Completing her ensemble, she wore white accessories and a strand of pearls.

The bridal bouquet was carried atop a white Bible and was of white agapanthus, feathered white carnation and other small white flowers. Rita Kay Rogers was the bride's only attendant. She wore a pink cotton dress with a low neckline and stand-up collar and bouffant skirt. Her colonial bouquet was of pink and white. Lewis Adams served as best man.

The reception was held in the church parlor. In the receiving line were the bride's mother and the bridegroom.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and held crystal appointments. The three-tiered wedding cake was used as decoration. Serving was done by Miss Rogers and Maudine Bennett.

After a short wedding trip the couple will live at 1407 Scurry. The bride will continue her studies at Big Spring High School. The groom is presently stationed at Webb AFB.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Weathers and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Weathers, all of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Porter, Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Weathers Jr., Houston.

The all-wool sweater has risen to new heights of fashion prominence with the college man this fall. At the left is a ribbed white cardigan featuring patch pockets, shawl collar with dramatic stripe treatment. Right, a sweater-shirt in steel gray wool with white collar and chest stripes.

Gay Handbag Accessories Are New Co-Ed Fad

A survey made of current co-ed fads, shows that wallets and bill-folds are leading fashion accessories.

On campus and between classes, the girls are carrying in purse or pocket — their mad money, glasses and lipstick in chunky bill-folds which also accommodate a collection of photos, notes and what-have-you.

Much favored are clutch bags which are actually over-grown bill-folds; some of these resemble a passport case, others an elongated "frunch purse." Other styles copy the envelope flap of a hand-bag.

If Johnny Can't Read, He Probably Couldn't Anyhow

"If Johnny can't learn to read, as the author of the book by the same name insists is the case under modern educational methods, then Johnny couldn't have learned to read under the old system," Floyd W. Parsons, city school superintendent told the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday.

School People Due Honor At HCJC Event

Teachers and administrators will be honored at a reception the evening of Aug. 30 on the lawn of Howard County Junior College.

Preparations will be made for at least 600, and Mrs. LaCroix said that it was hoped more would participate. Site for the reception will be on the lawn between the auditorium and the student union building.

Junior Hi Registers This Week

Big Spring Junior High pupils will register on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, according to an announcement by Tom Earnest, principal.

as was the method two or three decades ago." Parsons, presented by Wendal Parks, program chairman, recently assumed his new duties as head of the city schools in Big Spring. It was his initial appearance before the Big Spring Kiwanians.

Parsons said that "never before in our lives have we (the Parsons family) been received with so much friendliness and good will as has been our lot in the five weeks we have been in Big Spring. We deeply appreciate it."

Eye Checkup: An Important Prerequisite

A wise student or conscientious parent will have young eyes checked regularly by professional optical people—doctors, opticians, optometrists—before school starts and during the school term.

Check the glare of the light under which your child studies at home, and you will have taken the first step toward guarding the future strength and health of his eyes.

A STORE-WIDE SALE VITALLY IMPORTANT!

Sometimes a merchant makes the critical mistake of counting his profits before his goods are sold. We bought carloads of the nation's finest furniture from the nation's best manufacturers! All our profits are in stock! This is not a disposal, not a clearance of odds and ends but a store-wide stock sacrifice—we are dumping our entire stock—regardless of cost or loss! We must salvage what we can in order to keep going! Bills are pouring in—our creditors want their money—"something's got to give"—what to do? We've done all we can to save face.

A Most Serious Crisis!

They say "You'll have to liquidate your stock, turn it into cash or good accounts, if you want to stay." It's an alarming crisis—so we took inventory and cut our prices an average of 47%! It's a bitter pill to swallow—there is simply nothing else to do—the answer is plain: "Sell or sink" . . . and we aim to sell—regardless of cost or loss! Wasson & Trantham are famous for sales—but we've never been forced to put one together like this!

AAA Beginning Campaign For School Traffic Safety

The American Automobile Association's annual "School's Open-Drive Carefully" campaign to alert motorists that they must once again be on the lookout for children crossing streets on the way to school begins this month. Andrew J. Sordani, president of the AAA, said the campaign is directed especially at motorists who have no children of their own and are apt to forget that special speed zones and school crossings are again in effect after the summer vacation.

The campaign will get in full swing just before schools open in local communities so motorists will have a short "conditioning period" to readjust their driving habits.

The two principal things that motorists are being asked to do in connection with the campaign are to "scrupulously obey special speed limits around schools" and to be especially alert for the younger children—who are not yet safety-wise—the motor club official declared.

"During the school year," Mr. Sordani said, "local AAA Motor Clubs will work with school authorities to train children in safe walking habits, but past experience has shown that it takes time to really fix safety in the minds of new students."

Meanwhile, it's the motorist's responsibility to watch out for children—even if the child is at fault."

Mr. Sordani, at the time of announcing the opening of the "School's Open" campaign, also made an urgent appeal to motorists to give every cooperation to School Safety Patrol boys and girls. "These youngsters volunteer to stand guard in all kinds of weather and on their own time to protect the lives of their classmates. Their job can be made much easier and more effective if motorists learn to recognize them and cooperate with them," he added.

The safety record for school-age boys and girls has been very good during the past years, the AAA president pointed out. He added, however, "these first few weeks of school are especially critical, and motorists will be doing themselves and their community a great service if they will be extra alert."

From September until June the school library, a real treasury house—serves every school boy and girl, some of whom might not otherwise have become familiar with the world of books.

There the citizens of tomorrow learn to relate themselves more wholly to the world around them. In every library there is "treasure for the taking"—books to be read by one's self alone, books to be read aloud and shared with the whole family; books for a snug corner on a rainy day, for the picnic basket when summer comes.

And there is the library in the home, where the shelves are open at all hours and seasons. All children have a right to a library of their own, no matter how small, and if they have made friends with books in their public and school libraries, they and their parents will know what to choose for their very own.

Book Week with special exhibits and fairs serves to remind us of the perennial pleasure and wealth of books now available to our children—remind us too that there are areas where this wealth is not available and where greater library facilities are needed.

It's Always 'Book Time' For Alert Students

Book Week (November 25 through December 1st) comes but once a year, but good reading knows no season.

Winter and summer the doors of the children's room in the public library stand open. There the book fair never ends. There, the year around, children may explore their interests and satisfy their many and everchanging needs.

Authority Gives Tips On First Grader Adjustment

Commissioner of Health New York City and Health Editor for NBC's popular TV Show: "HOME"

Besides the preparation for school required by the Department of Health in your locality, the health and happiness of your child depends on his eating three good meals a day (with plenty of time allowed for a substantial breakfast), getting nine solid hours of sleep a night and living in a happy home.

Dr. Baumgartner gave the following rules for helping your child adjust to the First Grade:

1. Help your child look forward to school with confidence and enthusiasm, but be realistic and don't overdo the sweetness and light. Your relaxed attitude will determine how easily your child can take in new routines and learn well.
2. Show general interest in games, songs, the other children, as well as studies.
3. Don't quiz your child about school. Let him tell you about it in his own way.
4. Give specific praise. Not "how nice," but "what lovely colors that picture has!" Avoid false praise or harsh criticism.
5. Make contact with the Teacher. Be aware of how confident your child seems to be in his new relationships. If he really seems

Pre-School Physical Check Vital To Child's Well-Being

Good health is an important adjunct to good scholarship. Eyesight, hearing and teeth should be carefully checked before any student starts off to school after the vacation period.

A complete physical check-up to see that a child is healthy is a pre-school requisite. A child with any acute or chronic disorder can not be expected to adjust to normal school conditions. A child who cannot see the blackboard or hear his teacher or fellow students may develop into poor habits which will make him a poor student.

A thorough examination will check how normal are the child's eyes, ears, throat, sinuses, tonsils, heart and other organs. Healthy feet and good posture are important, too—for all of these are important to a child's well-being.

Big Spring District Classroom Situation Best In Many Years

More than a score of classrooms will be made available for Big Spring schools this year.

Although these are coming from the elementary level, actually the net elementary classrooms will be somewhere around one dozen. Reason for this is that Central Ward, used for many years as an elementary school, is being reconverted for junior high use. Thus nine classrooms will be taken out of the elementary total.

Offsetting this will be 18 new classrooms provided by new construction — six room additions at East Ward, Washington Place and Airport. In addition, three rooms at College Heights, utilized for supervisory offices while not needed at that particular point for instructional purposes, will be available as classrooms.

The net result of these additions will mean provision for something like a maximum of 600 more pupils than last year. Of this number, around 250 more could be accommodated on the junior high level and 350 or more on the elementary level.

Actually, a lot of this space will be used to absorb some overcrowding previously existing. Hence, an enrollment gain of 600 (which is extremely unlikely) would precipitate some serious housing problems despite the new construction. Best guess is that the new construction will mean that most half day sessions on the lower grade level can be eliminated and class loads smoothed more evenly. It can be said, however, that the district is now nearer abreast of housing demands than at anytime in 20 years.

The only apparent pressing spot is the Junior high. Trustees are taking steps to provide a second junior high school, but that is at least another year removed. Meantime, the Central Ward is being given some minor changes (removal of a partition to provide a library-study hall) to yield a net of eight additional classrooms. While this may not totally relieve the crowded conditions at junior high (they were terrific last year and more enrollment is bound to come this year), still further relief is in sight. The present tax-administrative offices will be vacated within a few months, leaving the space available for junior high purposes if needed.

The frame structure which originally served as the academic building of the old Big Spring Bombardier School and subsequently as the temporary Airport School has been moved on to the South Ward campus. By Sept. 15 it is hoped that the business and tax offices can be moved to this site. Possibly by mid-term the superintendent and all supervisory offices will be established in the new location, together with area supervisory offices of the Texas Education Agency. The South Ward School will continue, for the time at least, to be used as an elementary school.

New Elementary Classrooms Are Ready

These three wings constitute 18 rooms of new construction for three elementary schools in Big Spring. At top is the east wing of Washington Place, which now gives that school 24 classrooms and makes it the largest in the city. Center is the wing at East Ward, the first addition to this plant since it was constructed in 1929. Below, at the right, is the latest six-room addition to the Airport School, giving it 18 classrooms. (Photos by Keith McMillin.)

Elementary Pupil Registration Starts In Schools Here Monday

Plans are now complete, according to Supt. Floyd W. Parsons, for pre-registration of pupils in grades 1-6, inclusive, on Monday.

Each elementary school principal will direct the registration in his building and will have a staff to assist. Principals are John B. Hardy, Washington Place; W. D. Blankenship, College Heights; Lew Spradling, Airport; M. R. Turner, North Ward and East Ward; Mrs. Eloise Baird, Kate Morrison; Mrs. Ruth Rutherford, West Ward; R. J. Walker, Lakeview; Oma McGahey, Park Hill and South Ward schools.

Each pupil will register in the attendance district in which he resides, said Dr. L. V. Norman, director of elementary education. Even if a parent wishes to send the child to another school, original registration must be in the school in his district. There transfer cards will be issued for referral to Dr. Norman at the administrative offices (10th and Shepherd's Lane), and he will make assignment as facilities will allow.

There are 18 new elementary classrooms ready this year, boosting the total to 117. These will accommodate 3,400 boys and girls in the ratio of 29 per room if even distribution can be effected. The pre-school registration is designed to facilitate that distribution. Also, special and hardship cases can be worked out in advance of the start of school.

Dr. Norman urged parents to respond at the proper time and place in order to avoid the possibility of having to send their children to a building outside their district.

Pupils whose surnames begin with the letters "A" to "M" will register Monday morning; those whose surname begins with "N" through "Z" will register Monday afternoon. Those who happened to be out of town Monday will register Tuesday.

Pupils in the Central Ward area will register at Central Ward School on Wednesday, then be transferred to either College Heights or East Ward. Central is becoming part of junior high plant this year.

A Bible Thought For Today

Editorial

Experience Worth Much To State

A candidate fired by the heat of campaigning and under pressure from various supporting groups with axes to grind at times makes statements and holds forth bright promises which, under calm scrutiny, obviously are not true or practicable. The more a candidate permits himself to indulge in such practices, the more dubious would seem his qualifications for strong leadership in office. In our view, it is to the credit of Price Daniel that his statements in the main have been moderate, and his pie-in-the-sky promises completely nil. His businesslike approach in his bid for the next governorship of Texas ought to have sufficient appeal to the voters to put him into office by a wide margin in the second Democratic primary next Saturday. Daniel has reviewed his record in public office — as legislator, attorney-general and U.S. Senator — and this record has been good. It has been in behalf of the people's welfare and for the benefit of the state of Texas. He has proposed a platform he would follow as governor, including a law-enforcement commission; further aid to public schools and stronger support for eleemosynary institutions; a determined effort to coordinate the state's water conservation laws; definite action, insofar as state scope is concerned, for stronger relief in drought-stricken areas. His has been the positive approach, not the negative. His campaign has demonstrated that he is not "tied to any individual or segment in the state, but that he is seeking the office on his own merits. Experience in public office is worth much when a man ascends to the governor's chair, and Price Daniel has had invaluable experience at both state and national levels that should mean much for Texas. He understands legislative problems, and should have close and cooperative liaison with the Texas lawmakers. He should have mutual understanding with those in the high councils of the party in Washington. Moreover, there are clear signs that the people of Texas are weary of bitterness and vindictiveness in politics and are interested in a personality who has not been a party to these qualities and who can logically be the linking force for peace and dignity in government. These things, we think, are for the good of Texas, and it is on that basis that we endorse Price Daniel as the choice for the next governor of Texas.

The Gallup Poll

GOP Peace Record Has Top Appeal

PRINCETON, N. J., — The Republican campaign argument with the greatest potency to the Independent voters of the country is that "the Republicans got us out of the war in Korea and have kept the country at peace." Forty-five per cent of Independent voters told Institute reporters that, in their case, this was a strong argument for voting Republican in November. On the other hand, the argument used by Republican party spokesmen to the effect that "the Republicans have cleaned up the mess in Washington left by the Democrats" carries the least weight with Independents, or "shift" voters. This is the evidence which comes from the latest Institute survey of public thinking on the appeals which Democrats and Republicans are using to win voters. Obviously, these appeals are aimed chiefly at the all-important bloc of Independents, without whose support neither party can win. In today's survey, each Independent voter was handed a card stating four Republican campaign arguments. The four were named by GOP county chairmen, polled by the Institute, as the arguments they thought would be the most effective ones against the Democrats in their respective counties in 1956. Here is how Independent voters rate each of the four Republican arguments tested in today's survey: 1. The Republicans got us out of Korea and have kept the country at peace. Independent voters included in the survey voted 45 per cent that this is a strong campaign argument for voting Republican, 39 per cent say it is a weak argument and 16 per cent have no opinion. 2. The Republicans have balanced the budget and cut taxes. A total of 28 per cent of Independent voters interviewed say this is a strong argument, 58 per cent say it is a weak argument and 14 per cent express no opinion. 3. The Republicans have brought the highest level of prosperity in history to America. About one Independent in four, or 26 per cent, vote this a strong argument, 54 per cent say the argument is a weak one and 20 per cent have no opinion. 4. The Republicans have cleaned up the "mess" in Washington left by the Democrats. Of the four widely used campaign arguments, this one turns up with the smallest number of Independents saying it is a strong argument. Only 19 per cent say it is a strong argument, 62 per cent say it is a weak argument and 19 per cent have no opinion. One of the interesting sidelights of the survey is that one Democratic voter in every three, 33 per cent, admits that the argument the Republicans have kept the country at peace is a strong one. The other three GOP arguments are, of course, rated as weak ones by an overwhelming majority of Democratic voters. On the other hand, regular Republican voters see two of the four arguments as particularly effective this year against the Democrats — the argument that the Republican party got us out of Korea and has kept the country at peace and also the argument that the GOP has brought the highest level of prosperity in history to America. The plight of the farmer under the GOP was called a strong argument by 31 per cent, the argument that Eisenhower is only a parttime President was cited as a strong one by 27 per cent, and the "hot and cold" GOP foreign policy was regarded as a strong argument by 24 per cent of Independents.

Norman Vincent Peale

'Thy Works Shall Praise Thy Name'

This piece is written north of the Arctic Circle amidst the indescribably beautiful fjords of Norway. Here mountains and sea combine in majestic splendor. What a country it is, a land of stature both of mountains and men. Day after day we have lived intimately with these majestic mountains via our ship that has cruised among them. It does something creative to your spirit to keep daily company with such snow-capped giants as line these fjords. For hundreds of miles, in many a bay, they rise precipitously from the water's edge, towering over the deep blue waters of winding fjords, those long inlets from the sea that penetrate to the very heart of the ranges. And the light that plays upon them is like that from another world. Long ethereal shafts, streaming through breaks in soft, gray-blue clouds, transform the dazzling snow to silver. Dark, hazy-blue mountains rise out the sea and, even as you watch, vast cloud-scars of pure white are thrown gently around their summits. And, at this season of the year, there is no night here. One may read plainly by his port hole at midnight. In this vast, silent, and awe-inspiring demonstration of the glory of God one feels a steady lifting of spirit. The old words take on fresh meaning — "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help." And the men here are of a size to match the mountains. A quiet, friendly folk, they fit well into this noble landscape. They suffered plenty during the war, but stood up to it unforgettably. Village after village along this coast was destroyed, but each rose again and was rebuilt. Farmers, evacuated from their bleak acres, returned again. One notes some interesting contrasts here that inspire philosophical reflection. Shipboard church services were held as our ship, the Stella Polaris, glided through a majestic fjord. On the port side we passed a sunken naval vessel which re-

Bucking The Uptrend Still Is Risky Business

So far in the postwar period, anyone so brazen as to suggest a business decline has just been that — brazen, including me. Even when right, that person was wrong. What good was it to foresee the 1947-48 dip in business? A trifle, only 2 per cent in the Federal Reserve Board index of industrial production. Or the more pronounced drop in 1948-49 — 10 per cent, spread over a year? Or again, in 1953-54, a 10 per cent drop in 13 months? Just squiggles in the long-term uptrend!

Any business man who tried to play them, take advantage of them, usually lost out. If he let his inventory run low, hoping to restore it later at a lower price, he had to buy back at higher prices, unless he had been dealing in farm products. Rent will rise. Automobiles, when he tried to call them back often they were happily employed elsewhere. And now the 1956 "slump" has been a breezy bluff! True, not for automobile or agricultural equipment companies and dealers. Not for home-builders. But for most of us, prosperity persists. Even the farmer has had a pickup — in prices. (Cattle this week sold at the best level since April, 1955.) And the soil bank program also prosps up farm income and prospects. All of which suggests that bucking the trend, the uptrend, still is riskier than just stringing along. Housewives should find they have to pay more for their market basket. Rent will rise. Automobiles, household appliances, home furnishings and other things will cost more. That's why the Federal Reserve Board is keeping credit pinched — to stretch out prosperity, it's trying to prevent inflation, a horror word fraught with memories of the German and French monetary debacles. The Reserve, however, will be happy to prolong "flatness." Flatness is the fiscal art of keeping the economic balloon blown to capacity at all times without bursting. You can see the flatation process yourself. Hourly wages have been going up steadily. Industrial output has gone up, too — not as fast, but enough to enable cor-

Since 1947, production has increased about 40 per cent, hourly wage rates 90 per cent. So wages have gone up faster than productivity. And profits have increased 25 per cent. Thus, corporations have managed to take care of their workers and still do all right by their treasuries and shareholders. All this of course, has been happily registered in Wall Street. Flatness is respectable. Look at the steel wage boost, promptly followed by the 84.50 per ton price boost. Did Senators and Representatives burst forth with oratory, press conferences, and charges of profiteering? Was there a Congressional investigation? Not at all. And it can't be just because Congressmen wanted to get off to the conventions. People feel sure of their jobs. They see the gradual rise in their living standards. They hardly go into debt (see chart) by the simple process of stretching out terms. A man who bought an automobile three years ago might have to pay back in two years. Now he pays back in three years. He can borrow $1,500 say, instead of $1,000. All this is part of the era — good feeling and rising income. Good feeling even prevailed at Chicago where the Democrats conventioned. The delegates who had no part of Give-'Em-Hell Har-

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 46:10 "Be still, and know that I am God." (RSV)

During these days when all of us are worrying either about our own problems or about those of the world in which we live, it would be well for us to meditate upon the words of the Psalmist as God speaks through him to us saying, "Be still, and know that I am God." As we think of these words and their meaning for us a great sense of calm and peace comes into our lives. We are in God's good hands. He is the creator and sustainer of His Universe. He cares for all of His children. He knows of our trials and tribulations before we tell Him about them. It is our privilege to put our lives into His hands knowing that He will do what is best for us.

Around The Rim

Follow The Leader And Watch The Camera

(Let's pretend that one Silas Higby got himself on the delegation to a national convention. He writes the good woman about his experience.) Dear Martha: I always heard a big city like Chicago was a tootin' sort of a place, but surely it must quieten down a bit after all the delegates leave town. Don't see how people, anywhere, could keep goin' all the time like delegates do. Anyhow, as you probably seen on television, the party named some candidates, and got itself a platform. Nobody ever quite saw the platform, but then there was a lot of other things we didn't see, either, so it may not make any difference. Far as I could tell, the platform only had one plank anybody paid attention to, and that plank got nailed down before you good say Stonewall Jackson. This fellow on the rostrum did the nallin' right there with his gavel, that the nallin' was easy to see. Course, it was those parades around the hall where we got to show our stuff. They put hats on all of us so anybody could tell who we was for, and most of us got a placard to carry, besides. There was a feller headin' the bunch sittin' in our space, I guess the sub-chairman, or his assistant, or something. Anyways, he would tell us what to do, and we done it. He told us, "Now when Steveyson is nominated, don't have no part in it. Sit quiet. If there seems a place to boo, you can do that, but not too much. Just wait till Steveyson folks get through, then our side will have its turn." Sure enough, feller came to the pulpit later on in the day and said some mighty high-flown things for Linda Johnson. That was time for us to git up and go. We had on the Johnson hats, you see. Well, when the speaker got through, our chief waved us up, and said, "Make noise, delegates!" We got up and started around the aisle, just like a bunch of kids after winning a football game, hollerin' and yipin' like cowboys is supposed to do. And waved them cards like they was handkerchiefs. That looks easy, but after about five minutes, those big cards get heavy. But the boss of the delegation kept yellin' "Don't let those banners droop," so we tried not to. That marchin' business, though, is tough work. Everybody clompin' on everybody else's feet. That big old organ boom boom so loud you couldn't hear nothin', and every once in a while some feller stickin' a microphone in your face and asking, "Who you for?" We'd shout back we was for Linda Johnson, thick and thin, and I hope you heard me. I got to say it in a microphone once, for sure, and I yelled it over another feller's shoulder another time. About the time I figured I was in front of the TV camera, so's I could wave to you, somebody would push me out of the way, or more likely, somebody would stick one of those cards in front of my face. It was pretty hard to get in the camera, unless you was one of the big wheels up at the pulpit. We marched and hollered as long as they would let us, then the feller with the gavel banged us down — again. There was some more speeches, like for Avery Harman, but again we just sat quiet, or maybe booed a little. Later on, you know, when the boss of the herd told us we was to get on the Steveyson side, why, we got right over there and started hollerin' for him. Pretty hard to calculate how you sit quiet against Steveyson one time, then yell for him the next. But that's the way they do at conventions. I guess you could call it fun. Old Harry Truman was so close to me I could have nearly clapped him on the shoulder, and he was beamin' and prancin' like a putter pigeon. He had fun, though, at one time he wasn't cheerin' for Steveyson either. Long as you do what the leaders tell you, you can do all right at a convention. Leastways, it looks like that to me. Biggest trouble was I didn't get as square in front of the TV as I wanted to. See you soon, SILAS (Bob Whipkey)

Stevenson Stronger Than In 1952

CHICAGO—If in the frantic, frenetic rush of this past convention week Adlai Stevenson had had a moment for calm reflection he might have thought wryly of the striking contrast between his position and that of President Eisenhower. By merely saying yes, after his party had for so long made plain their prayerful dependence on him, the President was assured of a nomination for a second term. While it was harder four years ago for General Eisenhower, even then he said his yes and his ardent backers led the fight that resulted in his selection over the late Senator Robert A. Taft. Stevenson fought for his second nomination every step of the way. His adventures in recent months have had some resemblance to that early movie serial, "The Perils of Pauline." After his defeat in the Minnesota primary, he was hanging by a narrow rope over the cliff, with his enemies prepared to chop him off. The Florida primary was a close squeak. Then came the California victory and he was again on top, the object of conspiracy and intrigue, of the rivalries and jealousies that rend a party out of power. The pace quickened on the eve of the convention. Former President Truman undertook to bring the front runner down. The conspirators around Averell Harriman made every effort to destroy the leading candidate and break his delegate strength. There were uncertain hours when it seemed they might succeed. Through these crowded days and nights incredible pressures were put on him from every direction. To announce this or that candidate for vice president. To agree to one set of words or another set of words in the civil-rights plank. To agree to take a new chairman for the Democratic National Committee. To approve the financing of one political venture or another certified to bring in a harvest of delegates. All this went on in an atmosphere something like a football scrimmage, a bargain-basement one-cent sale and Mardi Gras night in New Orleans. Yet, for all the ups and downs, Stevenson remains very much the man he was in 1952. He has the same qualities—detachment, introspection, deep intellectual concerns, a stubborn determination to be himself in the midst of all the hoopla—that have attracted many and alienated others. He has the right to speak today with a certain half-humorous awe of the road he has traveled since November, 1952. Carrying only eight states, without any public office or chance of public office to serve as forum in the future, bearing the doubtful honor of titular leader of a party divided by bitter factionalism and deeply in debt, he might well have discounted his political future at about five cents on the dollar. Not long after his defeat Stevenson started on his round-the-world tour. It was a shrewd move, both education-wise and the kind of public relations designed to

Morocco May Charge Rent For Air Bases

PARIS (AP)—Newly sovereign Morocco, noting Egypt's apparent success over the Suez Canal, may soon look to the United States' air bases on her territory as a source of ready cash. Already the Istiqlal Nationalist party is clamoring for rent on the bases for the next 10 years. Then, it says, the five bases and all their equipment should be turned over to the Moroccans. Al Alam, the party newspaper published in Rabat, has demanded immediate government action. The bases, it claimed, were installed on Moroccan soil "at the expense of Moroccan sovereignty" by a French-American agreement about which Morocco was never informed. "We demand," said Al Alam, "that the government should proclaim in the name of the people and its King (Sultan Mohammed V) that we do not accept the establishment of air bases on Moroccan soil. "In case of world war the government should impose special conditions compatible with the interest of Morocco alone." France expropriated the land for bases but paid for it. The French then leased the land rent free to the Americans, just as it did certain bases in France. Both the French and the Americans expected the agreement would continue in force after Morocco acquired sovereignty. However, when Morocco agreed to honor diplomatic accords signed on her behalf during the years France held a protectorate over Morocco, the question of the future of the bases were expressly left aside. Various Moroccans have mentioned rent of about 40 million dollars a year, although there has been nothing official. That is nearly as much as the bases cost to build — and much valuable equipment has been added since. The United States does not pay rent for bases elsewhere. Some officials say payment of large sums to Morocco might start a chain reaction at a "bankrupting rate."

Model T Service

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Rural mail carrier Goston F. Dixon figures he has put more than 350,000 miles on his little 1934 model Ford coupe. He has used it for 22 of the 35 years he carried the rural mail. Besides seven motors and many sets of tires, the car has had several new rear ends and several new transmissions. He prefers the old model Ford for his 43-mile Rural Route 1 delivery, which he figures takes 450 starts and stops, because it is light and easy to handle. It requires only a short reach to a mailbox from the driver's seat and besides, two or three men can push it out of a mud hole or a snow drift. When he's off duty he uses a late model car with "power equipment on everything

Common Schools Of County Fix Dates

Howard County's five common schools — Gay Hill, Center Point, Midway, Elbow and Vealmoor — are busy making final preparations for the opening of the 1956-57 school term and all will be in shape by the day scheduled, Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, said.

Lunchrooms To Utilize One Central Kitchen

In an effort to cut down on costs and also to increase efficiency, lunches for school children in Big Spring will be prepared in one central kitchen this year and then taken to the various lunchrooms. The city has lunchrooms in four schools, the junior and senior highs, and at Central and Park Hill elementary schools.

Cooking this year will be done in the high school lunchroom, whereas meals were prepared in both high school and junior high last year. Last year, one elementary school was serviced from each of the kitchens.

Five employees are working in the lunchrooms, with Mrs. Jean Crenshaw in charge. Mrs. Crenshaw said that by handling all cooking in the one school, it could be handled better and also cut down on expenses.

At the present time, she said the system was self-supporting. The school charges 35 cents for a meal, which includes a meat, vegetable, dessert, milk, and a salad. No soft drinks are sold, nor tea. No sandwiches are included on the menu either.

Mrs. Crenshaw said that they received a few complaints, but overall, the students enjoyed the meals. Of course, she said, not every day did the youngsters have their favorites, and they didn't get hamburgers at each lunchtime, the school tries to serve hamburgers once a month.

Percentage of students using the lunchroom facilities was greater at the elementary schools than at either junior or senior high school, Mrs. Crenshaw said.

Approximately 80 per cent of the students attending at Forsan use the lunchroom, it was announced. Over the past year, the lunchroom has operated slightly in the red.

Charges are the same for all students — 25 cents per meal which also includes milk and a dessert. Coahoma's students using their lunchroom keeps the phase of work self-supporting. No percentage was estimated by school officials, but they did say that practically all of the students at their noon meal at the lunchroom.

A larger percentage of the elementary students used it however than did the high school pupils.

Only New Senior High Pupils Need To Pre-Register

Only students who are new to the Big Spring system are asked to pre-register in advance on the start of the 1956-57 term on Sept. 4. Reason for this is simple: All those in the system last year were pre-registered last spring.

But new students are urged to call at the office of Principal Roy D. Worley as soon as possible in order to register and obtain the best possible schedules. Those who wait until opening day may not be able to complete registration for several days.

Graduates planning to go to college are also asked to apply now for their transcript of credits.

Stanton Planning New High School, Plant Renovated

STANTON — Stanton's school plant, repainted inside throughout and with all of its furnishings repaired and renovated, is all set for the official opening of the 1956-57 school year.

And on Aug. 30, the school board will consider bids for the construction of the city's proposed new high school. Citizens of the community have voted that $340,000 be expended on this project.

Building the new high school will be a major enterprise in this community this fall and winter. Meantime, high school and junior high school students will report to the school on Aug. 30 for the first day of a two day enrollment period. Grade school students report on Sept. 4 to enroll. Sept. 4 will be first official day of the school year. Superintendent L. M. Hays, now starting his second year with the Stanton schools, said that he anticipates an enrollment of around 600. One hundred and eight of these students are in high school and the remainder in the grade school.

A senior class of 25 is expected. This is a small class for Stanton — 10 less than in 1955.

One new bus has been added to the fleet of six which bring the boys and girls to the school. Hays' big problem is getting a 1957 school term and all will be in shape by the day scheduled, Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, said.

All but one of the schools opens on Sept. 4. The one exception is Vealmoor which begins its school year on Sept. 3. Gay Hill, Center Point, Midway and Elbow selected Sept. 4.

Facilities are completed for the schools; most of the plants have been given thorough overhauling during the summer vacation and are in excellent condition for the new school year.

The eleven school buses which serve the five schools have been put in good repair. Two new buses have been purchased and are to be in service.

Bailey said that enrollment in the five common schools this year will be approximately the same as for September a year ago. Slightly more than 350 boys and girls will be in the five schools' classrooms when school begins.

Opening day will see enrollment completed, books issued and all preparations made for the first class sessions on the following day.

Common schools are all grade schools. No high schools are included in the county's common school operation.

Although it is comparatively young in the curriculum here, Distributive Education training has attracted good support.

Since it was introduced here in the 1949-50 term, DE has seen 140 high school juniors and seniors go through the program, according to a tabulation by Frank Farar, the new coordinator.

Farar, incidentally, has been interviewing prospective students for the vocational program and is anxious to talk with others this week. He soon will be engaged in arranging for training stations.

DE is part of the vocational program of the high school and is an outgrowth of the Diversified Occupations course. DE, as its name implies, concentrates on jobs allied with distributions, principally those of retail and wholesale sales and services.

Among the fields in which young people have taken DE training here are jewelry, dry goods, automotive sales, printing, drugs, department stores, bakeries, variety stores, groceries, banks, mail order offices, dress shops, base exchange, newspaper, florist shop, ladies wear, children's wear, dairy, theatre, office supply, lumber yards, reproductions, electric service, hardware, men's store, supermarkets, letter shops, book store, dry cleaners, accounting office, glass company.

Like DE, the DE program calls for the student to spend the morning in class on job related or regular academic study, and the afternoon on the job being learned.

Physical Checks Most Important

Thanks to Parent-Teacher Association "round ups," most mothers of beginning children either plan to have or have had physical examinations for the youngsters going to school.

If there are physical defects which would affect the child's progress in school, they can be discovered and perhaps corrected or means devised for compensating for them. This not only avoids the pain of slow progress, but in many cases actually prevents needless personality warping because of an unknown handicap.

Many parents follow the rule of having their children examined by the family physician in advance of school, regardless of their grade. The main thing, P-TA units have emphasized, is not to wait until the week before start of school when the doctor will be swamped.

Plant Costs Figure Strongly In County's Education Bill

Sprawled across Howard County are educational plants capable of handling more than 8,500 scholastics enumerated here. The exact value of these is not appraised in any one quarter, but the total must be in excess of $77 million. Possibly the replacement cost would be even greater.

Knott Schools Enter Official Term Aug. 29

KNOTT — Knott schools officially swing into the 1956-1957 term on Aug. 29. On that date all registration of students in the primary and high school will be completed, books will be issued and instructions given to students and faculty.

On Aug. 30, initial class sessions will begin. Bill Bolin, superintendent, said he anticipated enrollment will run between 220 and 230 students. Enrollment in Knott school has been stable for several years. Prior to the drought the community tended to fluctuate somewhat in the number of boys and girls reporting for school each year but the total has stood static for four or five years.

Eighteen members make up the Knott faculty. The school operates from first grade through high school.

Repair work has been completed this summer on the agricultural shops building. The concession stand and the athletic field have been put in good repair. The plant in general has been overhauled and made ready for the school term.

Morris Molpus, principal of high school, will serve as head coach of the Knott football team this fall, Bolin has announced. Heretofore, Bolin has served as head coach and Molpus as assistant. Molpus will have no assistant this fall. Bolin will coach the girls' basketball team. An active athletic program is contemplated by the school for the ensuing year.

A general faculty meeting is scheduled for Aug. 28, Bolin said. There are a number of new teachers on the list. O. B. Williams is the new grade school principal. Forrest Cockrell has been added to the staff as bus maintenance man — a new position. Four buses are operated by the school.

Other new faculty members include O. B. Smith, Mrs. Ray-Speckmeyer, Roy W. Cleveland and Mrs. Rufus Stalings. The latter will be in the lunch room.

He expressed himself well pleased with his co-workers and expects the school to swing into efficient operation promptly with the opening of the school year.

No pre-registration activities are conducted at Knott school — experience having shown that enrollment can be adequately handled on the opening day.

standing bonds now is $1,030,000. All of this has come within the past 10 years, for the college is just completing its 10 years of operation. The biggest chunk ($600,000) was added a year ago to finance an extensive building program now nearing completion.

At Coahoma, which has the largest area of any district in the county and where there is considerable oil production, there is only $193,000 outstanding on a modern plant.

Forsan, an independent county line district also with considerable oil production, now has $182,000 outstanding.

Knott, the other independent district, has $70,000 still on the books.

Total of the common school district indebtedness is $272,050. The breakdown shows $99,000 for Gay Hill, $4,000 for Center Point, $12,500 for Midway, $104,200 for Elbow, and $51,950 for Vealmoor. Gay Hill, Elbow and Vealmoor all have new construction which came after development of production in recent years. Midway's newest construction was about 10 years ago to replace the building destroyed by fire when an airplane crashed into it one Sunday morning.

Next heaviest bond structure is on the Howard County Junior College District, where the total of out-

ELEVEN SCHOOL BUSES OF COUNTY HAUL 350 PUPILS

It takes 11 school buses, traveling 720 miles each school day, to convey the pupils of Howard County's five common school districts to school and back home, Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, said.

Three hundred and fifty students are transported on the 11 buses daily. Two new buses have been purchased to augment the fleet for the 1956-57 term.

School bus drivers are selected with great care and are highly regarded by the parents and the pupils in the school districts, Walker said. In most schools, not only does the driver operate the bus in his daily trips but he keeps the vehicle in repair and top condition.

"It is not uncommon," Walker said, "for a bus driver for one of our schools to finish up his run in the afternoon and then work most of the night making essential and important repairs on his bus. When morning comes, he is back on the job as usual."

Garden City To Open Schools On Sept. 4

GARDEN CITY — Garden City schools will officially enroll students preparatory to the opening of the 1956-57 school year on Sept. 4 at 9 a.m., Superintendent W. A. Wilson has announced.

He anticipated that the enrollment this year will be around 250. This is a normal enrollment for the Garden City schools. There will be about 12 members in the senior class, he said.

Actual classroom work begins on Sept. 5.

A faculty meeting is slated for Sept. 3. All 16 members of the school staff are to be present at this conference. Plans for the year's work will be outlined and announcement made of events and special activities ahead.

No preregistration is attempted in the Garden City schools. Experience, Wilson says, has shown that the enrollment of the students, issuance of books and preparations for the opening day of school can be completed in a single day.

No new buildings have been added to the Garden City plant this summer. The building and equipment have been put in repair and made ready for the year's work.

Two new faculty members have been added to the staff. They are Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Smith, who was an All-Border basketball star on last year's Hardin-Simmons College team, will teach the eighth grade and serve as girls' basketball coach.

Mrs. Smith is to teach elementary music.

Aids For Children

A world atlas and a good dictionary are important school helps for the youngsters where reference material is limited. However, many encyclopedias are priced within the reach of average-income families and should be made available for the young fry — when possible.

Rural Schools Of Dawson County Announce Schedule

LAMESA — Only two changes in the staff for Dawson County rural schools have been announced. County Superintendent P. K. Humes said that Earl Hise had been named music coordinator and that Mrs. Janice Bradford would be health nurse.

Other staffers are Mrs. W. M. Norris, bookmobile librarian; E. A. Deering, county school supervisor. They serve districts other than the independents. The smaller independent school reports follow:

UNION

The faculty is complete at the Union School, which is set for opening on Sept. 3, according to Humes. He estimates that about 50 students will enroll in the elementary school. All high school students in the Union District are transferred to Lamesa High School. The County School Board has notified the Union Board they will not allow them to transfer their high school students after this year. Registration for all students will be Friday, Aug. 31. Buses will run their regular schedule.

DAWSON

A very important position in the Dawson School at Welch is wanting to be filled. There is no high school principal, as yet, and the search has been going on for some time. All other faculty members have been named. Registration of the expected 135 students will be Aug. 31, with classes slated for Sept. 3. Buses will run their regular schedule.

KLONDIKE

The opening date of the Klondike schools has not been definitely set because of the building program there. Being added are two new classrooms, a new home for the homemaking department, two

Plenty Of Milk

Milk is one of the most important elements in a growing child's diet. And every school child needs at least a quart a day for good health.

For the youngster who won't drink milk, mother can see to it that he gets it by making puddings with milk, creaming soups with milk, preparing milk shakes at home, and by using milk in as many dishes in her menus as possible.

OBJECTIVES OF HCJC . . .

It is the sincere desire and aim of the Howard County Junior College to be a functional institution serving the needs of the people of Howard and neighboring counties. In addition to instructional course offerings, the College also desires to promote such activities as lecture series, musical and stage productions, athletic events, and other similar activities for the people in this area of West Texas. Its course of study is especially designed for the following types of students:

- A. Those who plan to complete the academic requirements for a degree in a reputable liberal arts college.
- B. Those who must have pre-professional training for the professional schools; such as: law, medicine, and engineering.
- C. Those who desire one or two years of terminal and-or vocational training at the college level but whose intentions are not to continue formal training beyond junior college graduation. For a number of students, the two years, or even less time, is sufficient to acquire a working knowledge of their chosen vocation.
- D. Adults who desire to continue with their regular day employment and to enroll in a limited number of courses after their day's work is done in order to improve their general education and to increase their vocational efficiency in preparation for possible promotions.

Ackerly Plant Is Greatly Expanded

ACKERLY — When the school term opens at Ackerly this fall, three houses for teachers and a football grandstand will have been added to the school plant.

Ackerly opens school Sept. 31, with registration for high school students. The rest of the students will register Aug. 3, and school will actually commence the following day. Only half a day of work will be held Aug. 3.

School officials are expecting an enrollment of 250 for the coming term.

Four new teachers have been added for the new school year, three in grade school and one in high school. The new teacher in high school is an English instructor, and new teachers will be handling the second, fifth, and seventh grades.

One new position has been added this year. Eight instructors are now employed in the grades with seven before. The total for the school system is now 14.

The three new houses for teachers and the grandstand for the football field were completed during the summer. In addition, grass has been grown on the football field.

A concession stand was also added to the football area.

Full schedule for the year includes registration for high school Aug. 31 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Opening day of school will begin at 9 a.m. on Sept. 2.

Students will have a holiday Sept. 7 for a county-wide faculty meeting. Holidays for Thanksgiving will be Nov. 23 through 25, and Christmas holidays begin Dec. 22 and end Jan. 2, 1957.

Students will be getting out for Easter April 19 through 22.

Baccalaureate exercises will be held May 19, elementary school graduation will be May 23, and May 24.

Gay Hill Staff Is Complete

Gay Hill is joining in the overwhelming parade of schools resuming activity on Sept. 4.

Doyle Fenn, principal, said that all pupils would enroll on that date and that regular schedules would start the following day. The lunchroom will not be started until Sept. 5 and on Sept. 4 buses will deliver students to their homes by noon.

Youngsters entering the school, which is located 18 miles north of Big Spring, must have proof of smallpox vaccination. They are strongly encouraged to have polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and other inoculations.

During the summer, the school plant has been completely repainted in pastel colors. Floors have been cleaned, sealed and waxed to add luster and life.

Three new teachers and a new head cook have been added since school dismissed last May. George Archer, who taught at Midway, will coach and have the seventh and eighth grade home room, said Fenn. Mrs. Jack Buchanan, who formerly taught at Coahoma, will have the third and fourth grade home rooms; Mrs. Robert Mason, music teacher at Coahoma and Midway last year, will direct the music program. Mrs. Fred Carr will be in charge of the lunchroom, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Milford, who is returning to her post.

Returning teachers are Fenn; Mrs. Minnie Patterson, first and second grades; Mrs. George Archer, fifth and sixth; Billie Gill, O. B. Crow, and J. H. Milford (bus driver for the third consecutive year). Milford also is building custodian.

Fenn announced the following holidays which have been approved by the board: Sept. 3, Labor Day; Nov. 29-30, Thanksgiving; Dec. 21-Jan. 7, Christmas and New Year's; April 19-22, Easter. School will end on May 24.

Members of the board are Carl Lockhart, president; Neil D. Spencer, secretary; A.M. Anderson, Ulysses Hall, R. A. Clendenin, L. A. Rawlings, Virgil Little. The board is nearing completion of a system of rules and regulations for the district. Some six months of study and work have been put into the proposed document.

PLATTER PALAVER

By Mary Sue Hale

One of the newer female vocalists Carmen McRae, is trying her luck at competing against a more seasoned performer, Jerry Vale. Both artists have recorded versions of "You Don't Know Me," a piece of waxed merchandise that is literally one of America's fastest sellers. Carmen McRae, singing on Decca label, backs this promising number with "Never Loved Him Anyhow." Jerry Vale chooses "Enchanted" for the flip side of his record by Columbia.

One of the more novel of the novelties is "In The Middle of the House," Vaughn Monroe for Victor, Rusty Draper on Mercury, and Milton for Coral, each have cut the tune. Perhaps this folk-type novelty, with a new light slant about an old house with a railroad track running through it will get the laugh, if not appreciation.

A spectacular performance is given by Florian Zebach, his violin and orchestra with "When the White Lilacs Bloom Again." This Mercury release is coupled with "The Fiddler's Boogie."

Don Cherry has what looks like might make the grade. A Columbia record, it is entitled "Ghost Town." If you haven't heard this one yet, here's betting that it won't be too long until it is called to your attention.

"Freshmen Favorites," the title of the latest album by the Four Freshmen, contains many of their hits, both in the past, and right up to the present. "Day by Day," "In This Whole Wide World," "It Never Occurred to Me," "Charmaine," and "Seems Like Old Times," are contained in this latest Capitol album by one of the most popular vocal groups in modern music, the Four Freshmen.

Although I've mentioned this one before, "Flying Saucer" as done by Buchanan and Goodman, certainly deserves a bit of comment. Anything I could say would be old stuff to most of you veteran pop fans, or anyone else who has the slightest interest in records. However, no one argues the fact that an ingenious mind must have been responsible for John Cameron.

If you favor music with a heavier flavor, "Rhapsody," an album by Capitol that is typed as semi-classical. Containing the best selections from great symphonies, operas and Broadway shows, this long-playing record features collections from great symphonies, Orchestra by Arthur Rodzinsky. Included in the selections are "Summertime," from Porg and Bess; "Rhapsody-Korsakov," "The Young Prince and the Young Princess," from the album "Scheherazade," and "The Love For Three Oranges," by Prokofiev as taken from March and Scherzo.

But perhaps, instead of the long hair or novelty varieties, you go for someone like Frank Sinatra. In case this is true, Capitol has just the thing for you. Containing two complete albums, "Swing Easy" and "Songs for Young Lovers," a single album is waxed that contains 16 songs, including "They Can't Take That Away From Me," "I Get a Kick Out of You," "My Funny Valentine," "Just One of Those Things," and "All of Me," plus numerous other Sinatra standards.

Cameras Now Are Trained On San Francisco

The International Amphitheater in Chicago is strangely quiet today. Colorful placards for favorite songs have been filed away and delegates from all over the country have gone their separate ways, but across the nation in San Francisco it's a different story as Republicans ready for a national convention, and CBS sets up 12 tons of equipment for coverage of colorful proceedings.

KBS-TV joins the network at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon for the first program of the convention when a corps of newsmen, headed by Walter Cronkite, set the stage with a 30-minute round-up presentation of people, places and things that will highlight the historical gathering.

Channel Four's schedule of convention coverage gets under way Monday from 12 noon to 2 p.m., and from 8 to 9 o'clock. On Tuesday progress of the convention will be carried from 4 to 8 o'clock, with Wednesday and Thursday's schedule logged for four hours from 4 to 8 p.m.

Westerns Are Pure American Drama, Says Randy Scott

Randolph Scott, popular Western actor, says the American public will never tire of Westerns because the story of the West is the tale of people's unending fight for freedom and a new way of life.

"Throughout the history of the world," Scott said, "the greatest human dramas were brought about by the migration of people from one land to another."

"The story of the West is another link in this overall picture. Where people have fought and died for their ideas, lies pure, realistic drama."

Scott considers the westward movement of America a period in history when men reached far beyond their grasp.

"The plains stretching west from the Mississippi held both terror and fascination for overland travelers. Little by little they pushed back the resisting frontier and brought in the marks and signs of civilization. Each barrier they hurled was another story to be told."

"That's why," said Scott, "when I play in a Western, it's more than just a role to me. I look at it as being more like a portrayal of an historic fact."

ABOUT A DERELICT
John Nesbitt's story of San Francisco's most famous derelict is dramatized in "Emperor Norton's Bridge" on "Telephone Time" this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Edgar Stehl stars as Joshua Norton, who made and lost a fortune as a speculator during the Gold Rush, became a derelict and subsequently proclaimed himself "Norton I, Emperor of the United States and Protector of Mexico."

SKELTON FOR SULLIVAN
Red Skelton will be substituting for Ed Sullivan tonight at 9 p.m. when the comedian will do some of his famous characterizations as well as introducing Kovac and Rabovsky, the dance team whose book about their escape from behind the Iron Curtain was a recent best seller. Other guests will include singing comedienne Jeannie Carson and members of several Japanese acts which Sullivan recorded on film during his recent trip to Japan.

SUSPENSE STORY
Ronald Reagan and Kim Hunter star in a story of suspense, "Try To Remember," on the "General Electric Theater," tonight at 7 p.m. Reagan portrays a detective, Dave "Irish" Murphy, who comes home one evening to find his wife (Miss Hunter) a prime suspect in a case of homicide. With all the evidence against her, "Irish" sets out relentlessly to prove his wife's innocence.

New Partner

Francis, the talking mule, finds a new partner for his hilarious adventures in Mickey Rooney. The duo are stars of the seventh in the "Francis" series, titled "Francis in The Haunted House."

Mickey Rooney Takes Over In Latest 'Francis' Film

Mickey Rooney takes over from Donald O'Connor in the seventh of the Talking Mule movie series, "Francis in The Haunted House," scheduled for Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. Rooney does not play the same character as that played by O'Connor, but he gets into a similar kind of trouble, and Francis the mule has to come get him out. It's not actually a "haunted" picture, since the haunts are all man-made and man-operated, by unsavory characters intent on doing harm to Rooney. In the supporting cast are Virginia Welles as the romantic in-

MRS. RUTH HORN ANDREWS

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

The story of a vision went on sale last Wednesday when The First Thirty Years, a history of Texas Tech, issued from the press. The vision is that of early pioneers of the South Plains area who dreamed of the day that such a college would come to serve the West Texas people. Urged as early as 1870, the establishment of the college became possible with the granting of the charter by the 38th Legislature in 1923. Written by Mrs. Ruth Horn Andrews, daughter of Tech's first president Dr. Paul W. Horn, the book deals primarily with the period from the fall of 1923, when classes were begun, to the commencement of 1955. The history tells, in an informal and interesting style, of how the college grew during the three decades. Mrs. Andrews, New York author and widow of Joseph F. Andrews, an engineer with American Telephone and Telegraph, has known all of the principal persons connected with Tech and its growth. And the growth has been outstanding. As Mrs. Andrews tells it, the Tech campus when she first saw it in 1923 was simply "2,000 acres of tumbleweeds." Today the campus boasts 30 permanent buildings, wide expanses for farms and agricultural experiments, and more than 18 million dollars worth of investment. The first session, back in 1925, saw 914 students swarm onto the campus, where six buildings had been erected to start things off. Growing steadily, the college last fall topped the 7,000 mark in enrollment. At first Tech offered only two years of college work. Today it offers a complete five-school undergraduate program, as well as graduate work leading to the masters degree in 30 fields and to the doctorate in 6. Initial copies of the first edition, which is limited to 2,000 books,

Danny Kaye Is Comedy Star In 'Court Jester'

Danny Kaye makes a bid for the title of Clown Prince in "The Court Jester," playing Sunday through Tuesday at the State Theatre. In this tale of a medieval buffoon's misadventures at the court of a tyrant king, Kaye emerges in a role that borders on the hysterical.

DANNY KAYE The Clown Prince.

The story finds England ruled by a usurper, played by wry-humored Cecil Parker. Kaye is part of a plot to overthrow the tyrant, and waylays a noted jester on his way to the English court. Kaye and his companion, perky Glynis Johnson, strike out for the court to kick off the plot.

They find it hard enough as it is, but when king's advisor Basil Rathbone sets off his own murder-ous plot against the throne, with Kaye as unwitting kingpin, trouble piles up and the two plotters are never more than a few jumps ahead of the ax.

Then the princess, Angela Lansbury, about to be married off for political reasons, develops a yen for Kaye. She gets her handmaid, who also is a witch, to hypnotize Kaye into playing the dashing hero. This leads him into dangerous trests, swinging on a vine above the castle moat, an impossible joust with the princess' ferocious betrothed, an outrageous ceremony in which he is knighted against his will, and a duel with Rathbone while he capers, in a daze, on the castle ramparts.

A crack American Legion drill team was imported for one of the comedy roles, that of the "knighting" ceremony.

'Dive-In' Movies Aid Pool Problem

EAST POINT, Ga., Aug. 18 (AP)—Every have a crazy desire to take a swim with your favorite movie star? Now, thanks to "dive-in" movies, you can do the next best thing—watch them on the screen while you're swimming. By installing "dive-in" movies, the town of East Point, a neighbor of Atlanta, is solving the biggest problem of its swimming pool—getting people to swim at night.

Roy Grayson, parks director, said movies are projected on a large rubberized outdoor screen by a 16mm projector placed on a table near the pool.

The pool-side cinema features cartoons, full-length movies, travel and training films from dark until closing. Since the movies were added, night attendance has increased at least 60 per cent.

Randolph Scott Seeks Killers In New Western

"7 Men From Now," showing Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz, is the latest Western epic by the ever-popular Randolph Scott. Scott portrays an ex-sheriff whose wife is killed during a hold-up. He takes off after the seven killers, knowing he'll never be able to give up his search until all are dead.

On the trail, he finds a wagon stuck in the mud, a good occasion to introduce Gail Russell, absent from the screen for four years. Miss Russell, it is said, falls flat of her face several times during this scene, and still comes up looking beautiful. Scott joins Miss Russell and her husband on the trail, and later they pick up the villain, Lee Marvin, in disguise. The plot begins to center more and more around the wagon, and for a good cause. Meanwhile, the story develops to the final showdown between Scott and Marvin.

Dempsey Story To Be Filmed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Jack Dempsey story will finally hit the screen early next year and the former heavyweight champion thinks Marlon Brando would be "terrific" in the part. But he's got opposition at home. His daughter, Joan, wants Rock Hudson. Jack will go for that casting too. Jack Palanca, one of the few top actors who even had a career as a professional heavyweight, also is a possibility. Dempsey thinks Palanca would be a good choice too.

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

Top film for Big Spring this week is "The Court Jester," one of the funniest and most versatile comedies of the year. Star is Danny Kaye, an expert comedian who can, and does, go from the sublime to the ridiculous. Kaye's lampoon on morals and manners in the days of knighthood runs the gauntlet from mild spoofing, through incisive satire, to outright slapstick.

We haven't had the opportunity yet of seeing Mickey Rooney in the new "Francis the Talking Mule" series. Donald O'Connor, the original star of the series, was perfect for the part, although it was beginning to get old. Mickey Rooney takes over for the latest film, "Francis in The Haunted House." Rooney is also an accomplished comedian, and a new characterization might be just what the Francis series needs.

"Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is as old as the hills. The setting is also in the hills. It is an old-time drama about how the ancient feuds of our ancestors tore lives apart. The dramatics may be passe nowadays, but those who like classics will probably get some sort of enjoyment out of this oldie.

Sports addicts, and just plain movie-goers, will enjoy "The Bob Mathias Story," not only because it follows the ancient theme of young men striving for success, but also because Mathias plays himself. Mathias was one of our Olympic "greats."

An interesting study in psychology is the film version of a con-

Rooney Likes 'Series' Movies

Mickey Rooney, star of "Francis in The Haunted House," sees nothing wrong with the series type of film. Rooney, as a youngster, made fourteen of the Andy Hardy film series. Rooney points to the success of such TV shows as "Lucy" and "Dragnet" as proof that good themes never die, adding: "If the quality is sustained, there is really no telling how long a series can last. Once the public has taken a particular set of characters to its heart, these characters seem to be, for all practical purposes, immortal."

Lamesa Supervisors Same As Last Year

LAMESA — The more than 3,100 pupils expected to enroll in Lamesa schools two weeks from tomorrow will find administrative and supervisory personnel unchanged.

They also will find a spruced up plant, but only in the Blackshear district is there prospect of a new building. Contract for new plant will be let on Aug. 28 at the school business office, and work likely will start soon afterwards.

C. W. Tarter, superintendent, announced the following staff members: Abe Holder, high school principal, and Ray Culp assistant principal; G. L. Trice, junior high principal; K. D. Smith (North) and Harold Wilkinson (Central), elementary principals; Lee A. McAlister, Blackshear principal; C. E. Green, visiting teacher and bus supervisor; Ralph Ranson, director of instruction; Marie Long, school nurse.

High school students who were in the system last year are already pre-registered and will start classes Sept. 3. Those new to the system will register prior to Aug. 23.

New elementary pupils living north of North Fourth Street (Seminole Road) will register at North Elementary School from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Sept. 3. New elementary pupils residing in the district south of North Fourth street will register during the same hours at Central Elementary school. Pupils who have moved from one side of North Fourth to the other since last spring will go to the school of the district in which they now reside.

Those continuing to reside in the district where they were at close of school have been assigned a room number and will report there at 9 a.m. on Sept. 3. Beginners in the system must bring a copy of their birth certificate when they register on Aug. 31. Junior high pupils who are newcomers to the district are to register also on Aug. 31. According to Trice, this includes sixth grade pupils living south of North Fourth Street. All seventh and eighth graders who were in school last year report on Sept. 3 at 9 a.m. All pupils new to the Blackshear school, including first graders, will register there Aug. 31. No space problem is anticipated because the present building has been left intact pending the building program.

Requests for all transfers for intra-city transfers must be presented in writing. They will be handled as rapidly as possible, said Tarter. The superintendent added that he thought remaining faculty vacancies would be filled by time the faculty meeting convenes Aug. 29. After a general faculty meeting, in the junior high auditorium, teachers will spend the afternoon making preparations in their schools. On Aug. 30 and 31 teachers will check out books and engage in workshops.

Green said that unless parents are notified to the contrary prior to Sept. 3, their children will meet the same buses at the same places as last year. Regular schedules will be followed the first day and lunchrooms at the schools will be open the first day.

Teachers Primed For Week's Workshop

Perhaps the most detailed preparations on a system-wide basis for Big Spring schools will be effected by administrators and teachers this week on the threshold of the Sept. 4 opening of school.

On Aug. 27-28 administrators and supervisors have been convoked for a workshop of their own by Supt. Floyd W. Parsons. During their sessions they not only will develop procedures for the year's work but will round out the workshop program for teachers.

The major portion of the workshop begins at 7 a.m. on Aug. 29 when Parsons addresses a breakfast session. He also will speak at the general assembly on Aug. 30 and Aug. 31.

At 10:30 a.m. on Aug. 29 there will be a break for the Classroom Teachers Association to hear reports from Mrs. Rogers Hefley, president, Letha Amerson, Mrs. Harve Clay and Mrs. Fonder, all delegates to the national convention in Portland, Ore. During the same hour administrators will be in conference. Thursday, Aug. 30, teachers will join with Howard County Junior College faculty members in a reception on the college lawn. The public is urged to attend.

There will be conferences by grade levels — that is all the first grade teachers together, etc. Mrs. Thelma Kloven is discussion leader for the first grade teachers; Mrs. John B. Hale, second; Mrs. Kelly Lawrence Sr., third; Mrs. W. C. Blankenship, fourth; Lorena Brooks, fifth; and Lois Singleton, sixth.

Discussion leaders for subject areas such as English, Math, etc. are Mrs. Bill Griese, music; Colleen Slaughter, language arts; Glenn Guthrie, science-math-commercial; Bernard Rains, social science; Truett Vines, vocational; Mrs. Louise Horton, health, PE, athletics.

Committee chairmen included Roy Worley, foods; Tom Earnest, finance; W. C. Blankenship, welcome; Dr. Loyal V. Norman, publicity.

There will be a meeting of the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Unit on the afternoon of Aug. 31 to plan for its year's work.

Among purposes of the workshop are effecting of good human relations through better acquaintance, planning year-in-service training, stimulating enthusiasm for new term, encouraging ready communication of ideas between teachers and administration, preparation for opening school by school.

Coahoma Begins School With A Full Schedule

COAHOMA (SC) — Schools will open here Sept. 4 and prospects are good for another large if not record enrollment.

H. L. Miller, superintendent, has called his faculty to a general meeting at 3 a.m. on Sept. 3. The following morning, at 9 o'clock, a general assembly will open the 1956-57 term. Buses will operate on regular schedules and the lunchroom will be open at noon. Miller said that a full day schedule would be observed on the first day.

The plant has been renovated and all the teacherages have been repaired during the summer. The football field has been put in perhaps the best condition since it was added years ago.

The schedule for the year includes Thanksgiving holidays on Nov. 29-30; dismissing after school on Dec. 19 for Christmas and returning to classes the morning of Jan. 2. The first semester ends on Jan. 19.

One day will be reserved in March so that teachers can attend the annual West Texas Teachers Association gathering. Easter holidays will be observed April 19-22, 1957, and school will be out May 24, said Miller.

During the summer, trustees raised the base pay of teachers by $300, which puts the Coahoma district now $500 over the state minimum pay scale. The raise was made possible by increased valuations and lesser demands for debt service.

Gay New Plaids Have Top Appeal

Plaids are in — for the new school term, but they are very new looking, and last season's Black Watch — is out!

Fashion points to plaid again and accents shadow plaids, Glens, and other highland plaids in such color combos as black or brown with white; brown or beige sparkled with color; or black or grey and white striped with red.

Forsan Ready For School

FORSAN (SC) — School officials are looking for about 200 students this fall when registration begins.

Students will be registering Sept. 4 for half a day, and the first full day of classes will be Sept. 5. The schedule will hold for all grades. The estimate is based on census figures.

Except for one English teacher for high school, the faculty picture is complete, it was announced this week by the office of the superintendent, Joe Holliday. The superintendent was out of town this week looking for a teacher to fill the vacancy.

New teachers in the Forsan system will be teaching in the sixth grade and handling shop courses in high school.

School officials reported no building problems, since practically all of the buildings are new and present enrollments should not pose a problem.

HCJC Anticipates Record Enrollment

Anticipating another record-breaking enrollment, Howard County Junior College is pointing toward the beginning of its 11th regular term the first week in September.

Advance registrations indicate that the college not only will gain its greatest degree of support from young men and women within Howard County, according to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, but that a larger number than ever of area students will be drawn to it.

Boasting new buildings and equipment costing $600,000, the college is offering an expanded curriculum in the hands of an enlarged faculty. In one field particularly, that of adult education, marked growth is expected.

New buildings due to be ready for the 1956-57 term include one devoted exclusively to music, one to industrial arts, one to horticultural experimentation, one to science and math. In addition, the gymnasium has been increased sharply to provide for a stepped up PE program for women as well as for men.

Calendar for the year includes: Sept. 4—General faculty meeting at 10 a.m.; faculty conference and committee meetings at 1 p.m.

Sept. 5—Orientation assembly for all new freshmen in the college auditorium at 9 a.m.; orientation continued at 1 p.m.

Sept. 6—At 8:30 a.m. and 1:30

Sept. 7—Faculty committee meetings.

Sept. 10-11—Registration of students (8 a.m.-4:30 p.m., and 6:30 p.m.-9:30 p.m.)

Sept. 12—First day of classes.

Sept. 24—Last day to register or add courses.

Nov. 28—Classes dismissed at noon for Thanksgiving.

Dec. 3—Classes resumed after holidays.

Dec. 21—Classes dismissed at noon for Christmas holidays.

Jan. 7—Class work resumed after Christmas holidays.

Jan. 22-25—Final examinations for fall semester.

Jan. 28-29—Registration for spring semester.

Jan. 30—First classes spring semester.

Feb. 8—Last day to register or add courses.

April 18—Classes dismissed at noon for Easter holidays.

April 23—Classes resumed following holidays.

May 26—Baccalaureate services.

May 31—End of spring semester.

There will be two six-week terms in summer school in 1957, one starting June 3 and the other on July 15.
