Harris Takes Sheriff Post From Slaughter

Landers And Hughes Win County Posts

Miller Harris, an ex-deputy, unseated his former boss, Jess Slaughter, for the office of Howard County sheriff Saturday in the Democratic run-off primary.

Election interest was heightened by the appearances of a Texas Ranger at Box No. 1 (North Ward School).

Voters also elected P. O. Hughes county commissioner for Precinct No. 1, Hudson Landers for Precinct No. 3 commissioner and J. W. (Wee) Patton constable for Justice Precinct No. 1.

Harris defeated Slaughter by more than 850 votes in the sheriff's race. The tally was 3,765 to 2,912.

Hughes, making his third bid for the commissioner post, defeated Simon (Cy) Terrazas by a margin of 1,027 to 807.

Landers, in his second race for the Precinct No. 3 job, defeated R. L. (Poncho) Nall, a former commissioner, 902 to 710.

Patton, another former deputy on Slaughter's staff, unseated Leonard, 2,506 to 2,424.

Only Slaughter and Leonard were incumbents in the four local races. Ralph Proctor, present Precinct No. 1 commissioner, lost out to Hughes and Terrazas in the first primary.

Commissioner Arthur Stallings of Precinct No. 3 did not seek re-election this year.

Saturday's results seem to have broken the second link in a chain which had given Slaughter a total of eight terms in the sheriff's office.

This equals the record set by Jim A. Baggett who served 16 years in two hitches, from 1897-1907 and from 1911-1917.

Slaughter had been elected originally to take office in 1929 and served until 1941. Rowan Settles defeated him in the 1940 primaries and was elected in November, only to die before taking office.

Andrew Merrick, who was named to the post, later died in office. Returning to Big Spring after being away for several years, Slaughter ran unsuccessfully in 1948 against one of his former deputies, Bob Wolf.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

If anything has brought as much pleasure and joy to the north-west section of our city as the swimming pool which was opened there Friday, we don't know what it could be. Take the case of Mrs. Mary Muse and her two children — they plunged in with opening of the pool at 2:30 p.m. and stayed almost until it closed. And theirs wasn't an isolated case.

Already about 4,700 school children are signed up for the coming term. This likely is around 90 per cent of the anticipated total, which is a remarkable pre-registration start. Workshops begin this week and the start of school is on Sept. 4. It still seems possible that half day sessions will be avoided at any level.

Dawson County seems determined to try to catch us in our shocking rate of traffic fatalities. Last week Mrs. Lucina Sonora of Lamesa was killed instantly near Welch in a car mishap. We almost had one south of here when John Martinez of Brady had his arm cut.

HEART AILMENT

Dr. Kinsey, Famed Sex Scientist, Dies

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Aug. 25 (AP)—Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, 62, a little-known authority on insects who gained worldwide fame for his books on people's sex secrets, died today from a heart ailment and pneumonia.

The bushy-haired zoologist, unruffled by the storm of scientific and religious controversy touched off by his "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male" in 1948, had been ailing for six months.

He was admitted to the Bloomington Hospital Wednesday, but his condition had not been considered critical until last night.

Kinsey's illness had interrupted his busy schedule of travels to collect material for new sex research projects—on men in prison, on Europeans and on animals. The Institute for Sex Research, which Kinsey set up on the Indiana University campus, said no new book was near completion when he died. Kinsey's institute became a $100,000-a-year operation after the book on men's sex life, published with no advance fanfare, became a best seller, though it was written in unsensational, academic style. The sequel on women's sexual behavior, also filled with charts and footnotes, followed in 1953.

The books were based on thousands of confidential interviews. Many ministers and some other scientists protested that Kinsey's reports reduced intimate human relations to cold statistics. He aroused further controversy by complaining that too many laws against sex offenses made crimes out of widely practiced sex acts.

Still pending is a dispute with customs officials over an impounded shipment of "art material." The government has started court action to get the shipment destroyed as obscene.

HCJC To Set Up Bus Route For Colorado City Students

Howard County Junior College is practically assured of its first bus route.

Trustees have given the green light to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, to secure a bus for immediate delivery, said Dr. P. W. Malone, board president. Already 23 have signed at Colorado City saying they would ride the bus Monday through Friday to HCJC classes. A driver has been secured in Colorado City.

Dr. Hunt said that he expected other young people in Colorado City, who could not afford to go away to school, might now take advantage of the opportunity for college education. There have been some inquiries from the Westbrook area. If this route proves practical, others may be added.

Plans are for the bus to go into operation around Sept. 10 if all details shape up as anticipated. The bus will be bought on the open market at a price slightly lower than quoted by the State Board of Control, said Dr. Malone.

Ranger On Hand Part Of Day At Precinct 1 Box

Top spot for political excitement in Howard County Saturday was at the North Ward school house, voting box for Precinct 1, where (a) a Texas Ranger was in appearance most of the day, and (b) a brisk transportation service for voters was maintained.

Precinct 1, where the heaviest Latin-American and Negro vote is cast, rolled up a total of 656 votes in the sheriff's race, 79 more than was tabulated in the same race in the first primary.

Orderliness prevailed throughout the day, although traffic around the school house at times was as heavy as if there had been a county fair.

Many cars were bringing voters to and from the polls, others were those of curiosity seekers who had heard a rumor of activity at the box.

Ranger John Wood was in evidence most of the day, although he did no more than chat with various local officials who came on the scene. By late afternoon he was taken off the assignment.

Ranger Captain Raymond Waters of Lubbock, with two other members of the Ranger force, came to Big Spring during the afternoon. He was quoted as saying there had been some local protest against the appearance of a Ranger here, and there was no apparent need for his remaining.

Wood's presence was at the request of District Attorney Guilford Jones, who said he had asked the state officer to be available if any untoward event might arise. Jones said both candidates for County Commissioner for Precinct 1, P. O. Hughes and Simon Terrazas, expressed gratification Saturday morning that the Ranger was on hand.

Voting booths — the first to appear in Howard County — had been placed in the school room polling place, and Precinct Chairman Truett Thomas said these contributed to an orderly handling of the voting crowd. The booths were of temporary sheet rock construction to give privacy for a voter marking his ballot.

Many voters had transportation to and from the school house and a vacant hall at North Fifth and Bell Streets, where there were aspects of an active campaign headquarters.

It was in Precinct 1 that Terrazas and Jess Slaughter, seeking reelection as sheriff, rolled up their best margins. Slaughter had 467 to 189 for Miller Harris, his opponent, and Terrazas led Hughes in the box 408 to 247.

L. Richard Parsons, formerly of Pleasantville, N.Y., was shot in the head as he slept in the couple's fashionable El Paso apartment six weeks after their marriage. In a statement introduced at her trial Mary Jean told of a quarrel with her husband over financial aid given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Flegler of Tulsa, and of her husband telling her to "go to hell."

The governor's office said the credit she had on her sentence was "a bit more than the one-third minimum called for under the official formula used by the board and the governor for first offenders."

Oklahoma parole authorities agreed to accept her case. Mrs. Parsons, 24, is now in custody at Goree State farm, near Huntsville.

She was a Tulsa social figure and is the daughter of a wealthy oil family.

The Parole Board made the recommendation for clemency Wednesday.

On Oct. 11, 1955 the board had turned down a plea from Mrs. Parsons' mother, Mrs. Jan Flegler of Dallas, that her daughter be released so she could receive treatment for a mental condition. Several psychiatrists told the board Mrs. Parsons suffered from schizophrenia.

The board ruling said that investigation "shows that Mrs. Parsons' adjustment to prison routine has been very good." The report

Race Closest In Modern History

Texas Election Bureau Returns at 1 a.m. (Estimated 99 Per Cent of Vote)

MOORE	509,534

Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough raced shoulder-to-shoulder toward the governor's mansion Sunday morning in the tightest contest in modern Texas history for that prize.

Daniel had a paper-thin edge of 5,214 votes when the Texas Election Bureau halted counting for the night.

Robert Johnson, head of the election bureau, said that — if the bureau's tabulations of votes and estimates of unreported ballots are correct — it is unlikely that Yarborough can overtake Daniel's lead for the Democratic nomination — equal to election in Texas.

More than 99 per cent of the vote had been reported when the election bureau halted counting at 1 a.m. Sunday. Total vote at that hour was Daniel 696,389 and Yarborough 691,175.

Johnson estimated that 12,000 votes had not been reported. Yarborough still displayed fight as he listened to returns in Austin, his home town, early Sunday. He said he would not concede "because I'm going to win this race. We are in here to win, and I believe we have won."

Daniel early Sunday expressed confidence he had won. He said from his home in Liberty in East Texas that there were three reasons for the close race: O'Daniel's support of Yarborough — a strategic action by O'Daniel who has announced for governor as an independent in the November general election, an intense drive by organized labor, and overconfidence by Daniel supporters.

The huge turnout of voters for a second primary runoff—1,387,564 plus those still not reported—was considered remarkable, since many hotly contested and vote drawing local races are settled in first primaries.

In the only other statewide runoff, Will Wilson, former State Supreme Court justice, defeated Tom Moore, Waco district attorney, 802,949 to 509,534. Moore conceded victory to Wilson early Saturday evening after Wilson took a long lead.

Although Yarborough trailed, it was a miraculous comeback in his third campaign for Texas' highest office. He trailed Daniel by 165,498 votes in the first primary, when there were four other candidates, including former Sen. and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, who polled 347,757 votes.

SLAYING CASE

Mrs. Parsons Gets Conditional Pardon

AUSTIN, Aug. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jean Parsons, the former Tulsa socialite convicted of the 1952 killing of her husband, was granted a conditional pardon today.

She had served or received credit for three years and five months of the 10-year sentence assessed by a Wichita Falls jury.

Gov. Shivers approved the unanimous recommendation of the Parole Board that the blonde be released to Oklahoma parole authorities. The 24-year-old woman is now at Goree State Farm near Huntsville.

L. Richard Parsons, formerly of Pleasantville, N.Y., was shot in the head as he slept in the couple's fashionable El Paso apartment six weeks after their marriage. Bullet-Riddled Body Proves Red Attack

TOKYO,

Pool Opens In Negro Park

Scores of Big Spring Negroes waited on the rim of the new swimming pool in their park northwest of Big Spring Friday afternoon for ceremonies that formally opened the facility. Nearly 100 took dips in the water Friday afternoon and an even larger turnout was reported Saturday. Free swims were the order of the day, both Friday and Saturday as the pool opening was celebrated. Oliver Reed and other Negro leaders called the occasion a "mark of progress." Reed called attention to other

"marks of progress" in recent years, including opening of the new Lakeview High School and integration of races in Howard County Junior College. Others on the program arranged by Mrs. Clemmie Johnson were Mayor G. W. Dabney, City Manager H. W. Whitney, Rev. J. W. Birt and Rev. T. O. McGee. The $26,000 pool will remain open through Labor Day.

Salvation Army Budget Revised

Members of the Salvation Army advisory board Friday afternoon approved a budget revised to adjust to available funds from the United Fund.

The new document calls for an outlay of $26,000 for the year, of which $12,750 would come from the United Fund. Part of the revision entailed reduction in the outlay for a caseworker, for transients and allied welfare work, and the contribution to the state program.

Approval were given plans for a community and youth center structure toward which the board and the Corps is working.

The financial statement for August was approved, and the board received a report from Mrs. J. E. Hogan, chairman of the youth committee, on the accomplishments of three girls going from the local Corps to the state camp. Mrs. Hogan was hostess to the board at her home at 509 Westover, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, chairman, presided over the session.

Car Wrecks Mar Fire Call

CALAIS, Maine, Aug. 25 (AP)—Answering an alarm, firefighters Fred McPheters and Claude Keesler narrowly escaped injury when their car was sideswiped by another last night.

Firefighter Alvah Hall, responding to the same call, took a corner too sharply and hit a pole.

Chief Earl Eastman of the adjacent St. Stephen, N. H., department parked his truck to look for the fire. Someone left the brake off and the truck rolled into a parked car.

Nobody was hurt but police estimated damage in the three accidents at $500.

It was a false alarm.

Billion-Dollar Budget Surplus May Be Due

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—A well-placed source said today the government may be in a position soon to forecast a budget surplus of "something under a billion dollars" for June 30, 1957.

This would be well under the nearly two billion indicated by some congressional sources, but about double the $350-million-dollar surplus President Eisenhower figured in his budget message to Congress last January.

The administration is revising its income and spending estimates next week. The administration source said he would be "surprised if the mid-year revision will indicate a surplus of as much as a billion dollars."

There was a surplus of $1,754,357,966 on last June 30, the end of fiscal 1956. It was used to reduce the national debt.

Two things now appear certain: both income and spending will be higher than for the 1956 fiscal year.

With personal income at a new high and corporation profits running close to the record pace of last year, the government's take appears certain to set a new record. For the first time it may top 70 billion dollars. This would be nearly two billion higher than the $68,141,000,000 chalked up in the 1956 fiscal year.

At the same time, spending is expected to move up sharply for the second straight year. Final figures showed the government spent $66,386,000,000 in fiscal 1956. The budget bureau's revised estimates next week will show a much higher spending outlook for 1957.

$67,700,000,000 for the new fiscal period and there will be additional spending of funds authorized in previous years. This is especially true for military, foreign aid and some other programs for which commitments must be given well in advance.

The new income and spending estimates are expected to exceed the amounts in the fiscal 1957 budget Eisenhower sent to Congress in January. In arriving at his estimated $65 million dollar surplus, the President proposed a spending program of $65,955,000,000. Already the administration concedes his estimate of $66,300,000,000 in revenue will be far under what actually will be taken in.

What the administration did not reckon with in formulating that budget some 10 months ago was that the big business boom that took everyone by surprise in 1955 would ride over into 1956 at an accelerating pace. Big personal and business profits this year are swelling the government's coffers.

FINISHING TOUCHES ON A SURPRISING PROJECT
Teachers assemble 300 copies of extensive directory.

FOR NEW TEACHERS

Summer Class Project Turns Up Useful School Directory

A summer class project has turned out to be one of the best institutional directories assembled here.

Conceived as an aid to new teachers in the Big Spring school system, the "Teacher Orientation Handbook" actually goes far beyond the professional field. Any teacher digesting its contents will be well versed in the leadership and affairs of the entire community.

Perhaps a better title would be "What (or Who) Makes Big Spring Tick." The booklet gives an economic background into the city and area; it cites signs of progress. Moreover, it gives a detailed listing on (teacher) professional organizations; of fraternal and alumni groups; and a directory of the 230 teachers and some two dozen administrative and supervisory personnel. All of these contain addresses and telephone numbers.

Suggested leads for housing and rentals; salary schedules; calendars for the schools and Howard County Junior College; sports and other schedules; special weeks and holidays; a roster of churches and pastors; codes of ethics, attributes of a good teacher, etc. all are part of the publication.

The 56-page affair was a by-product of the class in Education 323—Theory and Practice of Teaching in Elementary Schools—offered by Howard County Junior College and taught by Dr. Loyal V. Norman, director of elementary education. The course was for college credit and was taken as a refresher by some of the members of the group who already had earned their master of arts degrees.

It was toward the end of the six-week course, which involved lectures by a dozen or more of the community's top leaders and educators, that the idea of an orientation bulletin developed.

With about 50 new teachers coming into the system, Dr. Norman and the class decided it would be helpful to place in the hand of these people something that would help them become quickly and happily acclimated.

An editorial board headed by Mrs. Leona Ebersole was set up. With her were Mrs. Margaretta Coffee, Mrs. Velma Griesse, Mrs. Linnie Keese, Mrs. Dorothy Norman, Frank Hunt. Like topsy, the idea began to grow. Different members of the class bit off chunks of the survey. Mrs. Coffey contributed sketches, the board edited and then Dr. Norman gave the final touches. Mrs. Opal Tanner, Mrs. Marie Steagald and Mrs. Josephine Dawes mimeographed the material. Finally, the class assembled the pages and bound 300 of the booklets Friday.

The project turned out so well that Supt. Floyd W. Parsons agreed with Dr. Norman that every teacher and administrator in the system, as well as several community leaders, ought to have a copy.

One other result of the project was the organization of a new teacher welcome committee composed of Mrs. Coffee, Mrs. Mary

Former Resident Is Stroke Victim

C. J. Shultz, 86, former longtime resident of Big Spring, suffered a stroke Friday afternoon at the home of his son, Cowan Shultz, in Midland. He is in the Midland Memorial Hospital and in serious condition.

Mr. Shultz is the father of Mrs. L. S. Bonner of Big Spring. For many years he was associated with the Big Spring school system as a member of the custodial staff.

"Three dollars for that little package!"

• We, too, are often disturbed because some of the newer specialties are necessarily high-priced. We don't like to "ask such prices." And they certainly aren't popular with the producers—they reduce prices as rapidly as production costs permit. (For example, penicillin today is produced and sold at a very small fraction of the early costs.)

But your Doctor may prescribe the newer drugs because of their powerful and positive action. He wants you to travel the rapid road to Recovery. In the long run this saves you time, money and needless suffering.

Adlai Seeks To Pin 'Boss-Run' Label On Nixon

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill., Aug. 25 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson sought to pin a "boss-dictated" label on Vice President Nixon today as he and Sen. Estes Kefauver completed plans on a pre-campaign trip next week for face-to-face conferences with Democratic leaders of 34 states.

Their revised schedule was enlarged to include an address before the American Legion convention at Los Angeles Wednesday, Sept. 5, and three new previously-unannounced regional meetings at the grassroots level.

Standing in front of his home with Kefauver who had flown in with him in a small plane from Chicago's Midway Airport earlier in the day, Stevenson told reporters:

"I don't know whether President Eisenhower wanted Nixon as his running mate again. There's been a lot of guessing on this—but certainly the Republican bosses wanted him on the ticket and he was put on."

"In Sen. Kefauver's case, it was just the opposite and he was chosen in a fair and open convention."

"I have reason to know something of Sen. Kefauver's talents as a campaigner and I am happy to know he will be using them exclusively against Eisenhower and Nixon."

Stevenson and Kefauver will take off from Chicago early Monday for Santa Fe, N.M., for the first of a series of regional meetings.

The Santa Fe session, presided over by Gov. John Simms, will attract Democrats from Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Wyoming, Arkansas, Arizona and New Mexico, beginning at 11:30 a.m. (MST) in the La Fonda Hotel.

Stevenson's first major nationwide, 30-minute TV address will emanate from a $50-a-plate fund raising dinner at Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 13. That speech will follow talks Sept. 10, to the state Democratic convention in Albany, N. Y. and Sept. 11 to the Liberal party in New York City.

Both Stevenson and Kefauver emphasized they are going after the "Joe Smith vote."

Referring to the failure of a Nebraska delegate to place the nomination of a symbolic Joe Smith before the Republican convention as a vice presidential candidate, Stevenson said:

"We will not throw any Joe Smiths out of the Democratic party. There must be a hundred million of them and we want to see them all."

7 GIs Sentenced For Mass Rape Of German Girl

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP)—Four American soldiers were sentenced today to life imprisonment and three others to 40 years each for the rape of a 15-year-old German school girl.

The seven, all Negroes, were convicted by a U. S. Army court-martial yesterday of the mass attack on the girl in the woods of nearby Bamberg last July 9. The trial started Aug. 7.

The blonde girl, whose name had been withheld because of her age, collapsed twice on the witness stand in describing how the soldiers raped her while her companion, Wilfried Pillokac, 22, a student, was restrained.

The four sentenced to life were Pvt. Melvin F. Carter, 24, of Harrisonburg, Va.; Pvt. Clifton Franks, 21, of Omaha, Neb.; Pvt. James Gordon, 23, of Alachua, Fla.; and Pfc. Fred R. Chandler, 21, of Kansas City, Mo.

Pfc. Edward L. Brown of Norwich, Conn.; Pfc. Raymond L. Kasey of Roanoke, Va.; and Pfc. James E. Wilson Jr., of Wilmington, Del., drew 40-year sentences.

The sentences, which include dishonorable discharges and total forfeiture of all pay and allowances, are subject to review by higher American military authorities.

The mass rape case sparked a nationwide wave of German criticism of misbehaving Allied soldiers. The criticism was directed particularly against Americans.

Nearly 5,000 Registered For Opening Of School On Sept. 4

With the start of school approximately a week away, more than 4,000 elementary and junior high pupils have pre-registered.

Actually, the total is nearer 4,700 because all senior high students were pre-registered last spring.

Preparations for beginning of classes on the morning of Sept. 4 move to a new phase this week. On Monday and Tuesday, all administrators and supervisors will be in conference with Floyd W. Parsons, superintendent. They will go over problems of the year's work and will polish the program for the faculty workshop which begins with a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday in the high school cafeteria. The workshop will continue on a general basis Wednesday and Thursday, and then all day Friday teachers will be in the buildings where they will teach.

Meanwhile, parents of children who have not registered in the elementary and junior high grades are asked to attend to this during the week. Pre-registration may be accomplished at the office of Dr. Loyal Norman, director of elementary education, and at the office of Tom Earnest, principal of junior high.

So far, 2,950 elementary school children have pre-registered. Dr. Norman said he was more than pleased with the response but urged others to register ahead of the start of school. This helps tremendously in assigning the pupils as well as saving time at the opening of school, he said.

Enrollment at junior high has reached 1,552, said Earnest. There were 386 registered in the seventh grade, 388 in the eighth and 278 in the ninth. He is expecting a total of 1,225. Like Dr. Norman, Earnest urged those who have not registered to do so this week.

Roy D. Worley, senior high principal, urged all high school students who will be new to the Big Spring system to enroll promptly and before 4 p.m. Thursday. At that time enrollment will be closed until Sept. 4. This will permit class sections to be balanced and teachers to be advised of their class loads at the workshop session Friday. On Sept. 4 all students will be given enrollment blanks which must be taken home, signed by a parent or guardian, and returned before the student can be admitted to classes the next day.

During the past week, scheduling has continued at the high school office. Worley said that except for possibly some typing and secretarial training sections, no class appears destined for more than 30 pupils. Enrollment is due to exceed 700.

War Waged On Loud Mufflers

LAMESA, Aug. 25 — A dozen operators of autos with loud mufflers Thursday were issued tickets by the Lamesa Police Department in the continuation of the crackdown on traffic violators here.

In addition, two tickets were issued for reckless driving, two for driving without a license and one for failure to grant right-of-way. City Judge Eager said the fine for the first loud muffler violation conviction is $10.

A second conviction will result in a fine of $20. The third time offender will be fined $30 said Judge Eager.

70,000 Bales In Dawson Seen

LAMESA, Aug. 25 — Dawson County Agent Lee Roy Colgan estimates that 70,000 bales of cotton will be produced in the county this year.

He predicted that the 40,000 acres of irrigated cotton will average a bale per acre, and that the 130,000 acres of dryland will produce over 30,000 bales. "I hope," he said, "I have underdashed the total a long way, but I'm afraid it is pretty close."

IKE STANDS ALOOF

Rough Campaign Begins Shaping Up

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower stood temporarily aloof today as Republicans and Democrats began what promises to become a rough, slugging campaign for control of the government.

From his White House vantage point Eisenhower filled the role of a five-star commander who will direct Republican forces but attempt to limit his own participation in the battle to strategically timed and placed forays.

On the opposing side, Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson made plans to become about the most-traveled, most-seen and most-speaking presidential nominee in modern times. While Eisenhower relaxes at Pebble Beach, Calif., after his nomination at the GOP Convention here, Stevenson starts a swing around the nation tomorrow for first-hand talks with party leaders about campaign plans. The first of these will be at Santa Fe, N.M.

Stevenson, who says he is convinced there is "no substitute for going directly to the voters," will kick off his campaign with a Labor Day speech in Detroit. In contrast, GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall doesn't expect to get the Republican campaign really rolling until mid-September. Hall predicted it will be a "tough campaign."

There is frank expectation among Republicans that Vice President Nixon will do most of the fighting against the Democrats while Eisenhower will use what is sometimes called the "lofty" approach.

Something of the same sort of tactics is expected from the Democrats. Stevenson says he plans to "talk sense" to the voters again as he did in 1952, when Eisenhower won by a landslide.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, is an accomplished campaign slugger. He is regarded by his friends as being capable of trading blow for blow with Nixon.

Stevenson plans to travel by air to key areas and then take the auto caravan route of reaching the voters in the small towns. The Democrats will have their television shows, too, but complain they haven't the money to match the Republicans in this field.

Eisenhower has said he will "wage no political campaign in the usual pattern." He has barred "whistle stop" talks and "barnstorming."

But he changed his mind and barnstormed for the GOP nomination in 1952. He campaigned vigorously in the general election that year. He climbed down from a lofty White House perch to battle unsuccessfully for election of a Republican Congress in 1954.

He may start slowly this year with a pace geared primarily to television appearances. But once the conflict gets hot, probably in early October, the demand is likely to be almost irresistible that he get down on the firing line with multiple personal appearances in doubtful states.

Some indication that the President is thinking of expanding the six-speech television program outlined for him by Hall was given visiting candidates during the convention which ended here Thursday.

C. William O'Neill, Republican candidate for governor of Ohio, said the President told him he might make several one-day trips to key Midwest states, possibly for airport talks.

The battle for control of Congress will be an important factor in the campaign. Despite Eisenhower's vaulted popularity the GOP faces an uphill fight in both the Senate and the House.

More Time Granted For Crop Disposal

Howard County farmers who signed up with the Federal Soil Bank program are being granted additional time for disposal of crops on the designated acreage.

Gabe Hammack, office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization Committee, has received a letter from the state administrative office in which the original disposal date deadline of August 3 has now been extended through August 31.

The state officer said in his letter to Hammack that some farmers did not understand the civil penalty provisions of the acreage reserve regulations and that, because of this confusion, the deadline had been extended an additional time.

The 1956 acreage reserve regulations have been amended accordingly. If the crop on the designated acreage is not disposed of by August 31, no payments will be made to the farmer.

If the crop is harvested from the designated acreage reserve or if the acreage reserve is grazed (except in drought disaster areas) the agreement will be considered violated and no payments will be made.

In addition, the producer will be subject to a statutory civil penalty amounting to 50 per cent of the payment which would have been made had the agreement been fully completed.

Hammack said that the regulations prohibit the owner or producer from terminating the agreement on their own initiative. When land has been signed up in the plan, it is obligatory on the part of the owner or operator to go ahead with his part of the bargain. Hammack emphasized this provision. He has sent copies of the new time extension agreement to all farmers who are in the program.

In this letter he wrote: "We wish to stress the fact that a person cannot terminate his agreement and must comply with it or be subject to a civil penalty of one-half the amount calculated.

"If you have thought that, if you did not destroy your cotton, your application would automatically be cancelled you are wrong. The provisions of this new action will allow you to destroy the cotton now in order to qualify for Soil Bank payments and not be subject to the penalty.

"This also permits you to plow up more cotton for the Soil Bank if you have not already destroyed your maximum acreage."

Feminine Police Dispatchers Find Excitement At Lamesa

By BETTYE CAMPBELL
LAMESA, Aug. 25 — "You never know what will happen next on this job," one of the radio dispatchers of the Lamesa City Police Department said casually.

A more accurate description of the work at the operator's desk couldn't be made. There are hours and even days when things are routine and calm, and there are times when the dispatcher on duty has her hands more than full.

Three women, each qualified to handle emergencies, answer the questions of hundreds of people on a like number of subjects, make split-second decisions when necessary, and man the dispatch station in eight-hour shifts. By doubling up twice a week and working 12 hours, the girls each get a "day off" once a week.

Glenda Crump, a petite blonde with sparkling eyes and personality, joined the staff of operators on Jan. 7, 1955, and has met her share of problems in the past year and a half.

She greeted Police Chief Sam Floyd one evening last summer with: "Chief, I put a prisoner in one of the cells."

"That the prisoner turned out to be a prize bull dog is further evidence of the ingenuity of the rookie dispatcher."

Earlier in the evening, a little girl brought the dog to the police station, knowing that the dog was lost from the identification tag on his collar. Into the jail cell went the animal, and back to work went the dispatcher.

Meanwhile, owners discovered their dog had left the car when they stopped in Lamesa for gas, and notified the Dawson County sheriff's office. Soon Glenda had contacted the owner, an Army officer and his family who were spending the night in Hobbs, N.M.

The dog story ended happily next morning when the owners drove back to Lamesa from Hobbs, got their dog from the Crump home and offered Glenda a generous reward, which she declined.

Glenda was on duty Aug. 8, 1955, when a small girl called in.

"My Daddy's going to kill my mother and he's already shot me."

From the hysterical replies the child gave the dispatcher, she learned where the trouble was and sent police, who found a man who had shot himself through the temple after his wife ran away, and the girl shot through the hand.

"Send an ambulance. My father's dead." Glenda received the death message in the H. L. Curtis murder case in February. Curtis was shot at McGuire Service Station where he was on duty and was found by his 17-year-old son. To date the murder remains in the files of the unsolved.

In private life, Glenda is Mrs. Henry Crump, wife of a Highway Patrolman stationed in Lamesa, and the mother of two young daughters, Julianna, 4, and LaDonna, nearly 2 years old.

Mrs. Mildred Crecelius, whose husband is a member of the city police force, is the chief dispatcher, and ordinarily her hours fall from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., but before she went on the daytime shift, Mildred had her share of excitement and night duty.

Her most terrifying experience came in the fall of 1951 when three members of the City Police force answered a call regarding a disturbance at a dance hall in the Latin-American section, and were critically injured in a stabbing incident.

Two of the men, A. N. "Jap" Randle and L. D. Martin, drove back to City Hall following the knife, and unable to get out of the car literally laid on their horns. There was no police radio in the car at that time. Mildred, accustomed to the honking on the square and highway adjacent to City Hall, paid little attention to the horn for some time, but finally premonition led her to look out the window.

The next 30 minutes were the longest in her life, she believes, for one of the officers was missing, and from her post at the dispatcher's mike she helped direct the search. Ray York was found in Lamesa General Hospital where he had been taken by car.

On the humorous side, Mildred tells about the farm wife who called asking that her husband be stopped as he came into town, put in jail, and then have someone bring the pick-up he was driving home to her.

"I told him not to take that pickup to town," the irate woman told the dispatcher.

On Dec. 13, Gladys Wells will have spent five years on the graveyard shift. That's 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., and says Gladys, "I could write a book."

Most recent of her unusual experiences involves one cat, frothing at the mouth. Believing the cat to be rabid, a mother called the police to come get the animal — it seems they couldn't catch it.

An hour later, three scratched policemen, one of them bitten, called in to report "one cat captured" and to pop a question, "What do we do with it?" An animal suspected of being rabid should be kept 10 days for observation, so Gladys volunteered to keep the cat in her chicken pen.

On duty the night of Nov. 3, 1952, when the First Baptist Church burned to the ground, Gladys was the first operator to use the fire alarm after Lamesa went on dial system two days earlier. The hectic events of that night are still clear in her mind. A majority of the voluntary firemen were attending a meeting at Pythian Hall

Lamesa Baptists To Open Revival

LAMESA, Aug. 25 — Revival services will begin Sunday at the Second Baptist Church, according to A. E. Hughes, pastor.

Dulles Hopeful Of Egypt Compromise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles was reported today to be hopeful that Egypt will negotiate on the thorny Suez Canal question despite Russian efforts to prevent a settlement with the West.

Dulles was en route to Washington from the 22-nation Suez Canal question despite Russian efforts to prevent a settlement with the West.

Meanwhile, in diplomatic quarters here, Soviet leaders were described as being so steamed up over the Suez crisis that they engaged in hot tempered argument two nights ago in Moscow with British and French guests on what was supposed to have been a social occasion.

Soviet censors prevented details of the incident from being reported to the world by newsmen who were present, but information leaking out now through diplomatic channels indicates that Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev took a very strong pro-Egyptian stand.

The affair was the latest in a series of developments indicating Russia's hardening attitude on the Suez issue. This was initially demonstrated by Soviet Foreign Minister Shepilov when he met with Dulles and the diplomatic leaders of 20 other countries in London to consider steps to secure international use of the Suez Canal after Egyptian President Nasser nationalized it last month.

Shepilov followed a policy line apparently designed to build Soviet prestige and influence with the Arab peoples and establish an unprecedented position for Russian power in the strategic Middle East.

Dulles left London with strong majority support for his plan to negotiate with Nasser for operation of the canal by an international board.

Reports to the State Department made known here in advance of his return, give the general impression he held of the London talks.

He felt that the Western plan for international operation offered Nasser possibility of a fair settlement and he hoped that Nasser would agree to negotiate for peaceful solution of the crisis.

There was strong belief at the State Department that Nasser might prefer negotiation to military conflict, which Britain and France have threatened if their interest in the free use of the canal cannot be guaranteed by any other means.

'Political Auction Block' No Farm Solution, Benson Says

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 25 (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson said tonight "American agriculture is neither Republican nor Democrat" and that the problems of farmers "cannot be solved" by placing them "on the political auction block."

Benson, in a prepared speech before the third annual Poultry Festival of the Pennsylvania State Poultry Federation, said he was glad, however, that the farm problem is going to be an issue in the presidential election campaign.

"Out of all the discussion—and even controversy—will come better understanding of farm problems than we have had for a long time," he declared.

Benson, a controversial figure in the Eisenhower Cabinet and a prime target of the Democrats at their recent national convention, said the "serious" problems of the farmers "have been brought on in large part by politics." He added:

"The problems will not be solved by more political maneuvering. They will be solved only by facing facts—by sound thinking, and sound action."

Benson insisted that "the very heart of the agricultural issue" is whether farmers are to operate freely or under more government subsidization.

"If price supports are to be increased," he said, "and are to be extended to more crops and to livestock, as again is being pro-

Commission Due A Short Session

A short session faces the city commission at its regular meeting next Tuesday night.

The meeting will be conducted in the commission room of the city hall at 8:15 p.m.

The group will be taking action on a request from the Western Compress for permission to construct a butane storage tank on its property. At the last meeting of the commission, the group passed an ordinance legalizing the tanks.

But before one may be constructed in the city, a request must be made and passed by the commission. Initial action on the ordinance was taken after the commission has asked for permission. The ordinance is sanctioned by the State Fire Insurance Commission.

Oil companies have asked the city for water from Powell and Moss Creek lakes, and the group will be taking action on that request. Should the city approve the request, however, it must then be okayed by CRMWD.

Elder Fort To Lead Revival Services

The services will continue through next Sunday. Morning services will be held at 10 a.m. and evening services at 7:45 p.m.

Rev. E. G. Newcomer is pastor of the church.

Campaign Will Offer Tests On Safe Driving Attitudes

What's your reaction time as an automobile driver? What do you know about various traffic signs? From what distance can you read the traffic warnings? How far back of another car should you stay, at a speed of 50 miles per hour?

Answers to these questions are important to traffic safety, and a special campaign will be starting in Big Spring next week to encourage the public to do some serious self-checking on abilities and attitudes behind the wheel of a car.

The campaign is built around a series of advertisements to appear in The Herald, on Tuesdays and Fridays, beginning Aug. 28. These advertisements actually are scientific tests by which a person can check himself as a safe driver.

It's a public service campaign being put on here by Groehl Oil Company in cooperation with the Shell Oil Company, and representatives of these firms Friday laid the campaign before a group of organizational spokesmen working for improved traffic conditions.

B. L. Coughlin of the Groehl Company and Frank E. Davis of Shell outlined the program, asserting that its entire motive was to "contribute some small factor that can play a part in stopping the slaughter on our streets and highways." They asked that the safe-driving messages be recommended to as many people as possible, with the aim of making more drivers safety-conscious every time they're behind a steering wheel.

Attending a luncheon meeting at which the campaign was outlined were:

Larson Lloyd, president of the Citizens Traffic Commission; Roy Worley, High School principal; Pat Murphy, business manager of schools; C. W. Tanner, director of driver education in the schools; Chief of Police C. L. Rogers; City Manager H. W. Whitney; County Judge R. H. Weaver, Chamber of Commerce Manager J. H. Greene; Mrs. J. H. Homan, representing the Parent-Teacher Council; and Earl Fennell and Grady Dorsey Jr. of the sponsoring companies.

Reprints of the safety tests will be made available in the driver education program, and in examination of youths for special licenses. Other methods of distribution will be undertaken.

The tests were designed by the Automotive Foundation in cooperation with the New York University Safety Research organization, and have the endorsement of the National Safety Council.

Trying A Driver-Reaction Test

Larson Lloyd, chairman of the Citizens Traffic Commission, has a go at a reaction test designed to indicate how safe auto drivers are. He is being timed by B. L. Coughlin of Groehl Oil Company, while C. W. Tanner, instructor of driver education in the schools, and Police Chief C. L. Rogers look on. The test is one which will appear in a series of driver-safety campaign advertisements in The Herald, sponsored by the Groehl Oil Co. and Shell Oil Co. The group in the picture were at a luncheon Friday, at which the safety program was outlined.

Legislator Loses In Run-Off Battle

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff

One of two incumbent state senators seeking re-election in Saturday's Democratic runoff primary, William Shireman of Corpus Christi, was defeated in a close race by Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi.

A $3,000 fee for legal services paid Shireman by the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco, which he is now in the process of paying back, was an issue in the campaign.

Reagan unseated Shireman 8,910 votes to 8,389 in the 20th District. Reagan became the eighth member to win a seat in the 31-member upper house.

The only woman candidate seeking a legislative post in the runoff apparently was a 2 to 1 loser as Texas Democrats voted on 28 seats in the House and Senate.

She was Mrs. Omar Barker of Austin, who trailed Wilson Foreman 8,478 to 4,601 in Dist. 65, Place 1. More than half the votes were counted.

W. N. Woolsey of Corpus Christi defeated Gabe Garrett for the House seat in Dist. 36, Place 2, 15,448 to 14,150. In Dist. 36, Place 1, Gordon Forsyth of Corpus Christi defeated M. V. Jones, 14,383 to 13,516.

Incumbent Rep. Harold Parish of Taft defeated Roy Hinton of Rockport for the Dist. 35 seat, 4,511 to 2,386.

Cigarette Causes Blaze In Awning

A cigarette thrown on an awning at Masters' Drive-In, 2007 Gregg, brought firemen to the scene Friday, but very little damage resulted.

Only a small hole was burned in the awning.

No damage resulted from a fire on a vacant lot at 1800 W. 4th also Friday. No cause was found for the blaze.

Extensive damage was reported from a fire Saturday afternoon at a house to the rear of 431 Edwards. Firemen from the 18th Street sub station answered the call — which was originally reported as a trash fire — but a truck from the Main station was dispatched to help put out the blaze.

No cause was given for the fire.

Joe Smith Gets Vote Over Ramsey

STANTON (SC) — Joe Smith, that nebulous gentleman who came near getting a vote for vice president at the GOP Convention last week, came through with a vote in the Martin County Democratic primary Saturday. Joe's name was written in against Ben Ramsey for lieutenant governor.

In other races, Ralph Yarborough captured the county for governor, polling 484 to 196 for Price Daniel.

Will Wilson took the nod in the race for attorney general 356 to 263 over Tom Moore.

Preston Smith, Lubbock, had a healthy margin for state senator over Carroll Cobb, Lubbock and formerly of Seminole, 455-239. Ramsey polled 569 votes for lieutenant governor. All returns are complete.

Bison-Cattle Crossing Set

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — A Georgia veterinarian is going to try to produce a new breed of cattle by crossing bison with Brahman cattle.

The government's Fish and Wildlife Service said today it is arranging for Dr. I. Jay Sadov, Rossville, Ga., to get two buffaloes for his experiment.

It said this was one of a number of requests for bison and Longhorn cattle which it is handling or has filled.

An extensive experiment in Canada some years ago seemed to prove that crossing cattle and bison would produce no practical results, the service said, but Sadov hopes to prove otherwise.

The Georgia veterinarian contends there has been no experiment crossing bison with Brahman cattle. He added that according to his study of genetics "eventually an offspring would be obtained which would be not only unusually hardy in nature but should attain unusually large proportions of size in a minimum of time and feeding."

Iowa State College is now conducting its second feeding experiment on six Longhorn cattle, which the service supplied.

For decades the Longhorn was the meat animal of the nation but it was displaced by other breeds which made more pounds of meat per pound of food.

KIDNAPING

any attempt at suicide. LaMarca was in a cell block containing other prisoners.

The only other word given out was that LaMarca had slept and eaten well. Hours after his arrest early Thursday at his home he had appeared on the verge of collapse.

His wife, Donna, 31, and their two children, Vincent, 9, and Vivian, 6, remained in seclusion with relatives.

She earlier had said "someone else is involved but he won't say who." She also said she never suspected a thing until his arrest. He was despondent at times, she said, but she thought it was because of debts piling up after they bought a new $15,000 home last May.

LaMarca acknowledged leaving a note demanding $2,000 ransom when he took the baby from the home of its parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger, in a well-to-do section of Westbury. Their home is about six miles west of LaMarca's and the wooded site where the baby's remains were found.

He said he sought to pick up ransom packages placed near the Weinberger home the next day but panicked when he saw police activity in the area.

That, he said, led him to abandon the baby in a clump of honeysuckle vines amid the trees he drove back toward his own home.

It was the ransom note, plus another sent a few days later, which enabled FBI men to break the case in astonishing fashion.

Bomb Blast Kills Orchestra Leader

PADUCAH, Ky., Aug. 25 (AP) — A bomb explosion in his car early today killed a well-known Kentucky-Illinois band leader who had been married only a week.

Police said Vivian Chaudet, 41, had received a telephone call informing him that a house he was building for his bride was on fire.

Police said Chaudet apparently had just sat down in the car when the explosion demolished the vehicle.

Tire, Wheel Stolen

A tire and wheel were taken from the Sinclair Station in the 200 block of N. Lamesa between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m. Friday. And at Hefington Body Shop, 1506 W. 3rd, five batteries were stolen from a caddy Friday night.

Nasser May Offer Own Canal Plan

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 25 (AP) — President Nasser will reject international control of the Suez Canal and instead will offer maritime powers treaty guarantees of unimpeded shipping, diplomatic sources predicted today.

They said he will offer the guarantees, singly or collectively, as a counterproposal to the demand of 18 nations that the 103-mile waterway be operated by an international board, with Egypt as a member.

which wanted internationalization, would be willing to compromise in the interest of a peaceful settlement.

Calls for the use of force which were heard in the early days of the conference have faded into the background and a desire for peace has come to the fore," he said.

But beneath the surface calm here, there was a feeling of heightening tension. The end of the London conference appeared to have revived a sense of crisis. A good many—Egyptians and foreigners alike—expressed apprehension over military preparations by Britain and France. Their impression was that the Egyptian government is clearly seeking to avoid any incident that might lead to the use of force.

The internationalization proposal was drafted by 18 of 23 nations invited to a conference in London after Nasser announced July 26 that Egypt had taken control of the canal from the Suez Canal Co., an international commercial organization dominated by Britain and France.

Five nations were named to a committee, headed by Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, to negotiate with Nasser on this proposal. An invitation for Nasser to meet with the committee was delivered to the Egyptian Embassy in London last night. Menzies said he hoped for a quick reply.

There was no official indication here on whether Nasser would agree to receive the committee here or anywhere else. Geneva and Rome have been mentioned as other possible meeting places.

But whatever his decision on receiving the committee may be, the diplomatic sources predicted his reply will reject international control and counter with his offer of treaty guarantees to canal users that their ships will sail through the waterway without restriction.

India, Russia, Ceylon and Indonesia opposed the international control plan at the London conference concluded Thursday. They offered a substitute proposal for continued Egyptian control of the canal but with an international advisory board on hand—powerless to enforce its recommendations.

Nasser conferred separately today with the Indian and Russian ambassadors to Cairo and with Indonesian Foreign Minister Ruslan Abdulghani, who represented his country at the London meeting.

After his talk with Nasser, Abdulghani said he was "still optimistic" over chances of a peaceful settlement.

He said the possibility of a 45-nation conference on Suez navigation guarantees was among the subjects he and Nasser discussed. Nasser had suggested a bigger conference of all the users of the canal in rejecting the British invitation to the London meeting.

Abdulghani said he left London with the impression that nations

Waltzing Trailer Wrecks Car

A former Wichita Falls woman, en route with her family to make her home in Phoenix, Ariz., is in Malone and Hogan Hospital with a broken arm as a result of an unusual motor accident early Saturday.

The mishap cost the family its house trailer and its motor car in addition to the injuries suffered by Mrs. Leroy Reed, 43, and less serious injuries sustained by her young son. The husband, 45, escaped without injury.

The trailer was pulled by a 1954 Buick Wildcat sedan. The car was in the process of backing up when the trailer, which was hitched to the rear of the car, rolled over and landed on top of the car.

The car was spun with it as it rolled.

The Reeds had just left Wichita Falls where they formerly made their home and were en route to Phoenix to establish a new residence.

State Highway Patrol said the Reeds said their loss was covered by insurance.

The son, whose name was not known, was said to be suffering from cuts on one arm and bruises.

Holt Wins DA Contest

SNYDER, Aug. 25 (SC) — Wayland Holt, present county attorney here, outpolled J. Ray Martin, incumbent, by 60 votes in two counties for the district attorney's slot today in the second primary.

The total for Holt was 2,573 and for his opponent 2,513. The district includes Scurry and Borden counties.

Komer Wisnand was defeated in the sheriff's race for his third term by Earl Abercrombie. The incumbent had 1,961 votes for 2,846.

Precinct No. 1 in Scurry elected Pat More, the incumbent, commissioner by a 78-71 margin over Whit Farmer. Both are from Ira.

In other races, T. B. Knight outpolled Clarence Wade, 692-494, for county commissioner, Precinct No. 3.

Three Accidents Recorded Friday

One of the three accidents occurring Friday was at 18th and Gregg. Involved were vehicles driven by George Hardin, 212 Utah, Allan Ray Aubry, 1206 E. Lloyd, and Lloyd Van Jones, Rt. 2.

In the 200 block of N. Gregg, T. R. Morris, 1012 Stadium, and Edward James Washington, 806 Ohio, were in collision.

Juquin Casillas Valdez, 1009 NW 3rd, was hit by an unidentified Ford at NW Fourth and Lancaster.

Some of the alfalfa hay truckers coming through Big Spring don't think the latest government hay program will be of much help to livestock growers.

One trucker, Don Kendrick from Eola, said hay had advanced from $5 to $8 a ton to truckers in the last 30 days.

"There is not too much hay this year," he said, "and everytime a new program such as this takes effect, the hay growers increase their price. So even with this $7.50 a ton help from the government, the livestock men will soon be right back where they started."

Kendrick says most of the hay is now going to dairymen. Several hay markets have been closed to the truckers. Most of the Trans Pecos ranchers have sold off so many sheep and cattle that they are not buying much feed. In the San Angelo area the movement of livestock off the ranches has been especially heavy the last few weeks.

The regulations on the new program will be the same as they were for the government grain program. Commercial feeders are excluded, while dairymen can qualify only on their dry cattle. The program is in effect now, according to Fred T. Ross, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration.

The water fever is just like the gold fever, says W. S. Barnhill, who farms southwest of Stanton. But it's a lot more expensive. He says he has spent $13,000 hunting irrigation water and has only two small wells to show for it. He has drilled 11 in all.

He's not through. He thinks maybe there is some good water on the northeast part of his place, because not far across the boundary John Priddy got a good well.

Barnhill has a fair crop this year from the little wells. Aside from cotton and maize, he's also in the hog business.

All four of Big Spring's cotton gins are in operation, though there won't be enough cotton to keep one of them busy. Yesterday at noon they had ginned a total of 15 bales, about a third of this came from the irrigated fields at St. Lawrence.

Every gin manager contacted said he would lose money by staying open. If they don't stay in business, however, some other gin will get their customers this year. And if the farmers get started at another gin, they might just keep on doing business there.

Several gins in the county will not open, though. One at Coahoma will remain closed, and we've been told that the gins at Fairview and Luther won't open this fall.

Martin County farmers need cotton pickers, but some owners are not eager to use native laborers. One man said he had already tried two crews and both of them quit in a day's time.

"We'll be using Nationals in another two or three weeks," said J. L. Henson, manager of the Farmers Gin Cotton Company. "You can't get them to pull bolls, so there's not much use of taking them out to the field. In a day, or two days at the most, the whole crew will be gone."

Picking is going at $2.40 per hundred when hauled to the gin. Regular hands are being paid $2.05 a hundred pounds.

Henson says the way cotton prices are set up the farmer must get the very best staple possible. Spotted cotton is docked heavily, and unless it is picked clean and trash kept out the grade will be lowered.

He says local laborers often pick trashy cotton. The only solution to the labor problem as he sees it is to bring in the Nationals as soon as possible.

Last week I passed a cotton field in Martin County and watched two small boys chinking cotton bolls at each other. Luckily the farmer didn't see them, because throwing a cotton boll is just like throwing away money nowadays. When I was a kid, cotton boll fights were quite common, and the farmers didn't seem to mind.

Another sport was trading cotton in the field. I knew one big, fat boy who spent most of his time buying cotton from the other pickers. He might come by a picker's sack, lift it two or three times and say: "I'll give you 42 pounds for it."

If the deal was made, the picker would carry the sack to the scales and weigh it. He'd get 42 pounds to his credit, while Fatty would take the gain or loss.

He was almost a nuisance because he kept the others from working. One morning though, he made a trade that he still remembers. One girl whom he'd been pestering had a sack half full of cotton, when he came by and picked it up.

"Feels heavy," he said, "you must have it packed down pretty tight. I'll give you 46 pounds for it."

The girl accepted, so he put the sack on his shoulder and carried it to the wagon. Just before hanging it on the scales, the girl reached into the front of the sack and lifted out two white rocks. The cotton then weighed only 33 pounds, so the big boy tried to back out of the trade.

"No you don't!" said one of the

Three From Here Receive Degrees At North Texas

Three persons from Big Spring were among the 205 to receive degrees from North Texas State College at summer commencement exercises Thursday.

Billy Swann Hitt, son of Chaplain and Mrs. C. O. Hitt, also received a master of education degree. He taught in Dallas last year.

Man Is Held On Liquor Charges

LAMESA, Aug. 25 — The Dawson County jail is the rooming house for 29-year-old Terry Hawkins, Plainview Negro who was arrested two miles south of Lamesa on the Stanton Highway and charged with transporting alcoholic beverages in a dry territory. He had in his car 12 cases of beer.

Draft Proposes Revision Of Hospital Laws

AUSTIN — The University of Texas Law School is drafting a proposed revision of laws stating the program of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, in particular the laws relating to mental health.

The project is financed by a grant from the University's Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene and is being conducted under the guidance of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Changes to be proposed will encourage earlier medical and psychiatric care for mental cases, which in turn will result in more persons being restored to mental health at less inconvenience to themselves and their families and at less expense to the state.

The proposed Mental Health Code also will contain a revision of the laws governing the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools. These will seek to bring them up to date with present day procedures and problems in operating a modern state hospital system.

The Texas Mental Health Code drafting project is being undertaken at this time because of the submission in November of a constitutional amendment that would permit involuntary hospitalization of the mentally-ill without jury trials. The amendment was suggested by the Texas Research League and proposed by the 54th Legislature.

The Texas Research League study also revealed a need for codification of the statutory statement of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools program. The statement has accumulated over a number of years.

Not Illegal, Just Too Much Marriage

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Betty Fern Heehleis has obtained a court order for her second, third and fifth husband to pay her $450 monthly alimony, pending trial of her separate maintenance suit.

That's right. She and Anthony C. Heehleis, a steel contractor, were married twice because the first union was effected before her divorce from a previous hubby had become final. Then she divorced Heehleis, married another man, divorced him, and remarried Heehleis.

The latest suit is contested. He started it with a cruelty allegation.

77 Webb Fliers To Get Wings, Hear A&M Official Wednesday

Seventy-six of the 77 pilots of Jet Class 56-U will receive their wings in graduation exercises at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the base chapel at Webb AFB.

Absent from the ceremony, but winning his wings nevertheless, will be 1st Lt. Peter W. Sparhawk, now on a two-week leave to train for the coming Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia.

Honor student of the class is 2nd Lt. Malcolm E. Gillis Jr. of Blue Mountain, Miss., a member of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron. Class commander is 1st Lt. Robert R. Fagin, of Griggsville, Ill., also a member of the 3560th.

Receipt of the wings will climax a long and intense period of flight training for the student officers, who came to Webb with some 140 hours of primary flight training behind them. They then flew 100 hours in jets in the Big Spring area. Included in the curriculum are formation flying, acrobatics, and transition, instrument, and night flying.

Guest speaker for the graduation will be Col. Henry Dittmann, professor of air science at A&M College.

Col. Dittmann is a graduate of both Schreiner Institute at Kerrville, and Texas A&M. At the latter school, he lettered four years in football and track, was intramural diving champ in 1935, and was track captain in 1938.

He was graduated in 1939 and in August of that year began his Air Force flying career, which has included a tour of duty as a fighter pilot in the Philippines and a flight in the lead ship of an early mass flight of B17's to the Philippines. In the 19th Bombardment Group when war was declared in 1941, he was returned to the U. S., subsequently to become commander of Harrington AFB, Kan., and then of Castle Field, Calif. Following a tour in the Pentagon, he served as commander of Greenland Base Command. Graduating from the Air War College, Maxwell AFB, Ala., in 1951, he was assigned as chief of staff of the Air Force ROTC program, and then later became professor of air science at Texas A&M.

The colonel's awards include the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Legion of Merit with Oak Leaf Cluster (presented for his superior direction of two Air Force bases), and the Special Order of Pilotage.

COL. HENRY DITTMANN

This last-named award was presented by the Chinese government for outstanding accomplishments in running a base in support of their efforts.

If the graduation class are 73 first lieutenants and four second lieutenants. Lt. Sparhawk came to Webb as a second lieutenant and was promoted to first lieutenant while in flight training. Another student officer, 1st Lt. John W. Jacks, accepted a commission as a regular officer during the course.

The last two MDAP (Mutual Defense Assistance Pact) students at Webb, both Turkish officers, will graduate. They are 2nd Lt. Emul Ibrahim and Orhan Orham.

Lieutenant Sparhawk rowed for Cornell University, and when his school and the Naval Academy crew were beaten by the Yale University crew, he became an alternate member of the Olympic-bound Yale team. Originally a member of Webb's Class 56-K, he would have graduated last March 28, but was delayed until now by the Olympic try-outs. When he finishes his current physical conditioning, he will report to Mitchell AFB, N. Y., for duty.

Maj. Geo. Adams, At Webb Four Years, Is Transferred

Maj. George R. Adams, Pilot Training Group operations and training officer and who has been stationed at Webb AFB since November of 1952, will depart Monday for his new assignment with Headquarters, Fifth Air Force, in Nagoya, Japan.

A permanent replacement for Maj. Adams has not been named, and Capt. Frederick Babcock, assistant Group O&T officer and foreign liaison officer, will take over his duties temporarily.

Since Maj. Adams' arrival at Webb from Scott AFB, Ill., he has held six different jobs, all connected with the Pilot Training Group. Starting as a jet pilot instructor, he was promoted to flight commander, squadron operations officer and later Group O&T officer.

With his military career dating back to April 1941, Maj. Adams received his pilot wings and commission in 1943, and later graduated from advanced flying training school at Yuma, Ariz. At present, he is a senior pilot.

Maj. Adams' prior overseas tours include Hawaii, 1941-42; Europe, '44-'45; and Europe again from March to August 1949. During his first tour in Europe, he flew 21 troop carrier missions, and 198

Road Proposals To Be Studied Monday

A proposal that new recommendations for additional state roads in Howard County be placed before the State Highway Commission will be outlined at a meeting of the County Commissioners Court on Monday morning.

All details of the recommendations which will be made were not completed, but R. H. Weaver, county judge, said that a detailed program will be proposed to the highway commission. He will review these recommendations at the meeting.

At the same session, a representative of Jones, Freeze, Hay and Company, certified public accountants of San Angelo, will submit the report on the county audit which was completed several weeks ago.

The audit, covering all offices in the courthouse, is for the period

He'd Rather Go Fishing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seven-year-old Larry Ford had a big decision to make, and he made it manfully.

Larry had been visiting two weeks in California with his father William of suburban Arcadia, who is separated from the boy's mother. Ford placed his son aboard a plane at international airport.

Waiting at the New York end of the flight was Mrs. Veronica Ford of Westbury, L.I.

Ford watched the plane take off and left the airport. Larry wasn't aboard the plane. He had climbed out. Police at the airport picked him up. He had spent half of his $6 pocket money on candy.

When his father was summoned, Larry told him: "I don't like New York. I like it better here, and I want to go fishing with you some more."

But Larry's decision had to be reversed. He was placed aboard the next plane for New York. This time he was asleep.

Coleman Sounds Call To Football Practice

Intensive drills will start early Friday in preparation for the opening of the 1956 football season, Carl Coleman, Big Spring athletic director, announced Saturday.

Coach Coleman has sounded the call for players to report to the stadium at 7:30 a.m. Friday.

Two-day practice sessions will be held until school opens for the fall term Sept. 4. This will be in addition to skul practice each afternoon.

The gridirers will meet at 7:30 a.m. daily for a session of about two hours and at 4 p.m. for about two and a half hours. The skul practice is set for 2 p.m.

Both "A" and "B" squads will start their practice Friday, Ninth grade players will get their equipment Saturday, the eighth graders Monday morning and the seventh graders Monday afternoon, Coleman reported.

All high school boys should take their birth certificates to the first session, the coach reminded.

About 60 players are expected for the initial "A" and "B" team workouts. Coleman announced that Walter Dickinson, a tackle on last year's team, and Lewis Porter, a guard, will be captains.

Other regulars back will be Johnny Janak and Ronnie Phillips, both backs; George Peacock, second string center last year.

Billy Johnson, the 1955 B-team quarterback, is expected to fill the signal-calling role for the 1956 edition. His chief understudies will be Billy Bob Satterwhite and Frank Powell.

Others up from the B-team will be Bunky Grimes, tackle; Gerald Davis, center who may be shifted to a guard or tackle slot; Knox Pitzer, guard; Dick Jackson, tackle; and Hershel Stocks, fullback.

Guinette Gibbs, Ricky Terry and Billy Suga are being counted on to hold down the end positions. Edward Slate is another fullback candidate.

Promising youths up from junior high will include Buddy Barnes, Wayne Fields and several other sophomores.

Some coaching assignments have been made and others are still in the tentative stage. Coleman announced that Harold Bentley and Roy Baird will assist him with the A-squad. John P. Yates and Sam Bell will direct B-team activities this year.

Ninth grade coaches will be Charles Carraway and Don Lewis. Billy (Chop) Van Pelt will be in charge of the eighth graders. His assistant has not been named, but probably will be Donald Zellers, leaving Hugh Hamm and Jimmy Marcus to handle the seventh graders.

The 1956 Steers open their season Sept. 14 against Andrews, at Andrews. The following weekend they will play Levelland, also on the road.

The home season opener is against Snyder Sept. 23. School officials are hoping the new stadium will be ready for use on that date.

The Steers play Sweetwater here Oct. 5, Lamesa here Oct. 12, and go to Kermit for a game Oct. 19.

Conference competition opens Oct. 25 when Big Spring entertains Abilene on the local turf. The Steers go to Odessa Nov. 2, play Midland here Nov. 9, and close out the regular season against San Angelo at Angelo Nov. 16.

152 Due For Detroit Open

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP)—A field of 152 golfers, including some of the country's top pros, invade Detroit Thursday for the $20,000 Motor City Open over the tricky Western Golf and Country Club course.

Heading a field of some 75 touring pros in the four-day, 72-hole medal play event will be this year's Masters and TGA champion Jack Burke.

Among the top pros expected are Walter Burkemo, Doug Ford, Jack Fleck, Chick Harbert, Fred Hawkins, Jim Turnesa, Julius Boros, Tommy Bolt and Jimmy Demaret.

QB Club Has Good Response In Ticket Sale

Quarterback Club members are meeting a good response in the sale of tickets for their annual barbecue, to be staged Sept. 7, Jack Johnson, one of the leaders of the organization, reported Saturday.

Johnson said persons planning to attend the barbecue should get their tickets during the first part of this week. Ticket sales will be halted in a few days, in order that the club can order food in the proper quantity.

Proceeds of the barbecue will help finance activities of the Quarterback Club, which was formed in the fall of 1952 in support of the high school athletic program.

Activities include two banquets each year, one for members of boys' athletic teams and the other for girls' squads. The club also has leased 15 special buses for out-of-town athletic trips, subscribed to newspapers from other towns for the coaching staff, invested about $1,500 in making motion pictures of all football games, and provided banners for visiting teams.

In addition, Quarterback Clubbers have posted signs on area roads, welcoming fans from other towns to Big Spring.

Another project each year is "buying out" the seats at the opening basketball game, assuring players of a capacity crowd and permitting fans to witness a game free of charge.

On an average, the club has spent about $2,500 per year in support of school sports.

Taking the lead in organization of the club in 1952 were Jack Cook, Omar Jones, Obie Bristol and Joe Williamson. Membership has grown into the hundreds.

Lake Thomas Gets New Fish

The fish population of Lake J. B. Thomas took a surge Friday. Three trucks, lower view, from the Texas Fish Hatchery at San Angelo brought 22,000 fingerling bass to the lake. Al Pettit, with Sam Gray and A. A. Raga, distributed the fish from the dam to the west end of the lake. Most of the big mouth black bass were four to five inches long and were apparently in excellent condition to take over in their new home. From inception of the lake, the Texas Game and Fish Commission has maintained a close watch on it and has stocked the big lake accordingly. In top scene, Pettit releases a quantity of the fish as R. A. Schoelling, lake superintendent, watches.

Jeffcoat Holds Brooklyn To 5 Hits, Wins 5-2

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25 (AP)—Hal Jeffcoat, a converted outfielder, turned in the first complete-game pitching victory of his hurling career today as he held the Brooklyn Dodgers to five hits in a 5-2 triumph for the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Jeffcoat, who had made 12 previous major league starts since 1954, had a complete-game loss against Brooklyn back on Sept. 12, 1954—the only previous time he ever had won or lost over the full route. He went 12 innings recently in a game but didn't figure in the final decision.

TO CHISOX, 4-2 Mantle Hits 44th, But Yankees Lose

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Dick Donovan pitched a neat six-hitter today as the Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees 4-2 to make it three games out of four in the finals of their series played before 54,449 customers at the Stadium.

The Pale Hose jumped on Whitey Ford for all their runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings after Mickey Mantle had put the Yankees ahead in the fourth with a two-run homer, his 44th of the year. Ford allowed only two singles for the first five innings.

Doubles In 8th Give Cardinals Win Over Buc

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Wally Moon and Alvin Dark hit clutch doubles in a four-run, eighth-inning eruption which gave the St. Louis Cardinals an uphill 8-5 victory over Pittsburgh today and a sweep of a four-game series with the Pirates.

An error by Bill Mazeroski on Don Blasingame's grounder opened the gates with two out and none on. Dark then doubled home the tying run. After Pirate starter Vernon Law gave Stan Musial an intentional pass, Moon smashed his double off the right-field screen for two runs and a 7-5 lead.

Wilhelm May Start

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—New York Giant Manager Bill Rigney said today he may be forced to use relief specialist Hoyt Wilhelm as a starter this week as the Giants play seven games in four days.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The all-time New York Yankee outfielder of Charley Keller, Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich supplied enough hitting punch to help boost their team to a 4-1 victory today over a squad of former Chicago White Sox greats.

The 38 oldtimers pranced around for two innings before giving way to the stars of today.

Chicago righthander Joe Haynes started the game by walking George Stirnweiss. Henrich and Keller then hit successive doubles for two runs. DiMaggio followed with a walk. A passed ball and a single by third baseman Red Rolfe scored two more.

Lefty Gomez pitched a perfect inning for the Yanks, but Allie Reynolds was touched for a run in the second on a double by Moe Berg and a single by Jimmy Dykes, former White Sox manager. Spud Chandler relieved Reynolds and finished up.

ON TWO HITS Phillies Blank Milwaukee, 3-0

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bob Miller, a reformed relief pitcher making his third start of the season for the Philadelphia Phillies, today blanked the front-running Milwaukee Braves 3-0 on only two hits before a crowd of 29,826.

Miller had won only one other game all year and had not pitched a complete game since 1954.

The loss to the 30-year-old righthander didn't alter the Braves' two-game lead over second-place Brooklyn. The Dodgers, who open a vital two-game series here tomorrow with the Braves, dropped a 5-2 decision to Cincinnati.

The Redlegs, in third place, gained a full game on the two leaders and now trail the Braves by four games and the Brooks by two.

Awards For Invitational Champs

The best group of prizes ever accumulated for a West Texas golf tournament is the way C. A. DeWees, local country club pro, describes the awards awaiting the various winners of the annual Big Spring Invitational Tournament on Labor Day. Part of the prizes are pictured. Included are six sets of irons, four sets of woods, five watches, six golf bags and several trophies for champion, and Hall-Bennett match winners. The prizes and cups are on display at the country club.

Best Field Ever Is Due For Invitational

The best championship flight in the history of the event is shaping up for the Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament, C. A. DeWees, Big Spring Country Club professional, declared Saturday.

DeWees is making plans for about 150 golfers to play in the tourney.

The annual Hall-Bennett Trophy matches, pitting a Big Spring team against a visiting contingent, will start the ball rolling next Friday. Tournament play begins Saturday morning and will be concluded on Labor Day, the following Monday.

Qualifying for possible membership on the Big Spring Hall-Bennett team should be completed Wednesday, DeWees said. So far, E. L. (Son) Powell is leading in this phase of the big golf show, with a 74 average on four rounds.

In order to expedite the tournament playoff, all flights over seven will play their first two matches at the municipal golf course, DeWees reported.

Also, arrangements are being made for the new entrance to the club open for the tournament. The gate is situated on the south side of club property, on the road leading to the Couden Country Club east of the City Park entrance. The old entrance at the northeast corner of the club grounds will be closed.

The club pro said that privilege cards, entitling the holders to a buffet, dance and two cocktail parties, are being offered to the public in connection with the tournament. The duets, valued at $15, are offered for $7.50.

Last day of the golf tournament will be broadcast, DeWees said.

Local players expected to be in the championship flight of the tourney are Bobby Wright, James Lee Underwood, J. R. Farmer, Luke Thompson, Earl Reynolds, R. H. Weaver, Obie Bristow, Tommy Hutto, Bill Crook, Champ Rainwater, Son Powell, Jack Cook, Jack Wallace, Randal Carpenter, Richard Pachall and Eddy Don Harris.

SWC Set To Open 42nd Grid Campaign

The Southwest Conference opens its forty-second football campaign next Saturday with more than 400 hustling young candidates to report at the seven schools.

Defending champion TCU, a top-heavy favorite to repeat, will greet 70 aspirants, including 24 lettermen.

Practice opens Saturday morning and the schools will observe two-day workouts until Sept. 15—the week before first games are played.

SMU—with only 11 lettermen—has run into some pre-season injuries, Richard Hill, sophomore back from West, and Lyle Walker, squadman halfback from Clovis, N.M., won't be on hand. Hill has a kidney ailment while Walker broke his collar bone playing touch football.

All told there will be 142 lettermen at the seven schools with TCU, Baylor and Texas A&M, boasting

Among the out-of-town players will be Red Roden of Odessa, Arlyn Scott of Odessa, Bob Wortman of Midland, Bill Craig of Colorado City, the 1955 champion, Frank Freer of Lamesa, Buddy Branum of Midland, Bill White of Lamesa, Vernon Runnestrund of Midland, Harold Sexton and Barney Barnard of Odessa.

Barnard is captain of the visiting Hall-Bennett team which will include Roden, White, Freer, Runnestrund, Branum, Wortman and Scott, all well known on the local links.

Marvin Miller is captain of the local team. Craig, by virtue of his 1955 title, and James Lee Underwood, Fourth of July club champion, are automatic members of the team. Miller said others will be picked after Hall-Bennett qualifying rounds are fired.

DeWees said the best prizes ever given in a West Texas tournament are lined up for the Big Spring Invitational. They are on display now in the club house.

Shirley Robbins will be starter for the tournament, M. R. (Frog) Koger is tournament chairman, Sam McComb and Gil Jones will be in charge of the grounds, and the rules committee includes Sunny Edwards, DeWees and Son Powell.

John Turner, Edwards and Sam Peters are in charge of arrangements for entertainment. Obie Bristow, Matt Harrington, Tommy Hutto and W. E. Ramsey will handle the Calcutta pool. Registration will be by Jane Edwards, E. L. May Turner, Wyoma French and Lil Lutting.

Finance is the responsibility of Jack Cook, and Sam Peters will be in charge of registration. Publicity committee includes Tom Hart, Tom Jordan and Jack Wallace. The committee on prizes includes DeWees, Powell and Jack Irons. Caddy supervisor will be R. H. Weaver and parking will be directed by Jeff Painter and Irons.

The big, four-day program includes the Hall-Bennett matches on Friday, to be followed by a buffet at 7:30 p.m. On Saturday, first and second round matches in the championship flight will be unreeled, along with first round matches in all other flights. The day's activities will be concluded with a cocktail party from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Dick Mango's 12-piece orchestra will provide music.

Next Sunday will see third and fourth round matches in the championship flight and second round play in all other flights. The second cocktail party is scheduled from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The 36-hole finals in the championship flight will be played on Labor Day, as will be semi-finals and finals in all other flights. Awarding of prizes following the afternoon play will conclude the tournament.

can beat it when they call you champ."

The 30-year-old New Orleans campaigner spent most of the day undergoing further examination of his right hand, broken when he hit Wallace (Bud) Smith Friday night on the way to a 15-round decision and the championship.

The boot rocked monotonously along on an even keel for 13 rounds before Brown exploded a left-right combination on Smith's jaw. Smith slumped to the canvas, but dragged himself up at the count of seven. He went floorward again under another blistering attack and was still on his knee at the count of nine when the bell rang ending the 14th.

The expected kayo in the 15th never came as Brown held his right hand cocked behind his right ear.

"I couldn't throw it," he said. "I broke it when I popped him on the chin," referring to the punch that buckled Smith's knees in the second round.

Rizzuto Given Release; Yanks Get Slaughter

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Phil Rizzuto, aging starstop, was given his unconditional release by the New York Yankees today to make room for the return of veteran outfielder Enos (Country) Slaughter from Kansas City.

Slaughter was acquired earlier today from the Athletics. The Yankees said that Rizzuto was being released so that he might determine his own future.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Steve Ridzik, 27-year-old right-hander, pitched his first major league shutout today, whipping the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 0, and lifting the New York Giants out of the National League cellar for the first time since July 4.

Stadium Work Moves Swiftly

Work on the new high school athletic stadium was moving forward by giant strides this weekend.

Suggs Construction Company, with general contract for accessory facilities, was making rapid progress on the two restroom buildings with much of the plumbing in place and work under way on the walls of the structure.

Towers on which field lighting will be mounted had been shipped from the factory and were expected to arrive this weekend. If they do, they will be erected this week.

Meanwhile, crews were moving rapidly on erection of the prefabricated stands. All of the steel was in place on the west side and was started on the east stand Saturday. More than half of the seat and foot boards were in place on the west stand also.

Box score for the stadium work progress report, listing items like seating, plumbing, and lighting.

Musial Doubled Off First

Bob Skinner, Pittsburgh first baseman, tumbles with the ball in his glove after tagging out Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal infielder, before he could slide back into first base in the second inning of a double-header at Busch Stadium. Giving the "out" signal is Umpire Art Gore. Eddie O'Brien, Pirate shortstop, raced behind third base to catch Wally Moon's fly ball. He threw to Skinner who tagged Musial before he could return to the base. The Cardinals won both games.

ABC Club Has Grid Program

Football on a local level as it applies to Big Spring High School formed the theme of the program for the American Business Club Friday noon at the Hotel Settles. Bobo Hardy, YMCA director, was program chairman for the meeting. He presented Harold Bentley, line coach, Big Spring High School. Bentley reviewed the prospects ahead for the local eleven, telling of the games scheduled, the material on hand and the problems that the team faces. C. L. Cook spoke on new rules adopted for high school football contests and of their application to officials who work such games. Merrill Creighton was honored for adding a new member to the ABC. Guests included Mrs. Preston Saunders and her son Scott; Harold Talbot; R. B. Flight, Reading, Pa., and Billy Mitchell. Forty-four persons were at the luncheon meeting.

Grid Announcers Go Back To School

This season Texans will be able to see and hear more Southwest Conference football than ever before. That fact was brought out at a school held last week for the Humble Company's football announcers. Nearly 30 play-by-play announcers and broadcast and telecast supervisors attended the school held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Southwest Football Officials' Association in Houston. As a part of the school the announcers attended sessions of the officials meeting to hear first hand about the rule changes for 1956. Heading the staff at the announcers' school were Jess Neely, Rice Athletic director and head coach, and Kern Tips, Southwest Conference football announcer. Coach Neely explained the various plays and formations that will probably show up in conference play this season. Tips, known as "Mr. Football" to hundreds of thousands of Texas followers of the game, told announcers that preparation for broadcasts is most important. "Know the teams, their records, the signals and, above all, respect the officials," he said. "And al-

FOR BIG FALL SHOW

Texas High School Football Teams To Start Preparations

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff
The world's biggest high school football show opens in Texas this week. From Panhandle to Gulf the legions of the Interscholastic League begin the long march. In two weeks the first games will be played. Abilene's mighty Eagles, riding a 23-game winning streak; Stamford, with 15 consecutive victories; and Deer Park, which hasn't lost a game in the last 30, will be in the spotlight. Stamford is among the schools that open fall practice Monday. Classes AA, A, B and 6-man teams start workouts then. There will be some 35,000 boys. Classes AAAA and AAA will start the grid Friday with around 10,000 boys on the 173 teams. Classes AA, A, B and 6-man play first games Sept. 7. AAAA and AAA have opening contests Sept. 14. Abilene is the champion of the top class, AAAA, and it will be seeking its third straight title. Chuck Moser, coach of the Eagles, has 19 lettermen from the fine 1955 squad, headed by the boy who appears the greatest back in the state — Glyn Gregory. Fort Neches is champion of AAA and it returns with another strong team, not as powerful as the 1955 outfit that whipped Garland in the finals last fall, however. Deer Park is a defending state champion but not of Class AA, in which it plays this year. The Deer won two titles in a row in Class A before being moved up a notch in the league's reclassification program. Deer Park and Stamford are the winningest teams in Texas — with 66-41 and 57-4 records over 4 years. A meeting could come in the Class AA finals this year. Class A has no defending champion. Class B and six-man play to regional titles only. In the big reclassification program that saw the enrollment minimum raised to 1,200 for the top division and some 29 schools moved up from AAA to AAAA. Class AAA's minimum was raised to 550 and 56 schools were brought up from AA. The AA minimum is 225. A is 125, B is 124 and under and 6-man is less than 100. It will be the first time in years for classes AAAA and AAA to have 16 districts. Class AAAA will have 86 schools this year, AAA 87, AA 165 and A 187. These four divisions all battle through to state championships.

Indians Face Hard Go To Match '55

ABILENE, Aug. 25—The McMurry College Indians, who open fall football practice Sept. 1, will be hard put this year to equal their gridiron accomplishments of the 1955 football season. Last year the Methodist College won eight and lost two, for the second best grid record among Texas colleges and universities. Highlights of the Tribe's 1955 season were winning the Texas Conference title, defeating three potent intercollegiate foes, placing eight men on the all-Texas Conference team, and just missing a bid to the Tangerine Bowl after soundly defeating Missouri Valley College, one of the teams chosen for that post-season engagement. Tommy Ellis, who took over as head coach of the Indians when Doug Cox resigned the reins last February, began a major rebuilding job in spring training. Ellis' assistants are Elmo Cummins and Stan Burnham. P. E. (Pete) Shotwell is the new athletic director at McMurry.

Among the 60 candidates expected for opening drills, Ellis will have 14 lettermen, 15 squadmen, and the remainder transfers and new freshmen. Among the missing will be seven of last year's starters, six of whom were all-Texas Conference selections. Nevertheless, the Indians won't be weak at quarterback. Returning lettermen Bob Hayworth and John McCrary and transfer Tommy McAdams had the situation well in hand in spring training. Both Hayworth and McAdams are from Big Spring. Two three-letter ends, Tommy Watkins and Ezra Corley, give McMurry plenty of strength and experience at the terminals and the makings of a good passing game. The McMurry running attack looked potent and promising in spring drills. Payne's fullback shoes were filled by letterman Richard Toliver, a TCU transfer last fall; Jim Briggs, Baylor transfer; and squadman James Baldwin, a tough sophomore converted from center. McMurry's full stable of halfbacks is led by two-year lettermen speedsters Weldon Brevard and Kirby Lackey. Ernie Davis, James Boyd and Fred Schkade will be pushing them, and coming in from Ranger Junior College will be halfback J. D. Hanson, a top transfer prospect. Another junior college transfer, Charlie Davis, appeared last spring to be the solution to some of McMurry's loss of manpower in the middle of the line. Davis, brother of halfback Ernie, stepped into the left guard breach with veteran Gus Wison at the other guard. At tackle, front-runners are lettermen Curtis Johnson and Tommy Parker. The latter, a transfer from Texas A&M last year, was shifted from guard in spring training, and can be used at either position. McMurry has big, rangy Bill Houston at the pivot post, a two-lettered veteran and all-conference selection last fall. Behind Bill are seasoned squadman C Randall Young and Dan Smith. The 1956 schedule: DATE OPP. Broderson Fills Schedule For Charges At Whiteface

WHITEFACE, Aug. 25 (SC) — Emmett Broderson, first assistant football coach for Big Spring High School last year, has lined up a 16-game schedule for Whiteface High School where he is now head coach. Whiteface opens its season Sept. 7 against the powerful Tatum, N. M. team. Broderson announced that practice will start Monday, the same day school opens for the fall semester. The new coach has a squad of 28, including several lettermen. In the group are nine seniors. Whiteface is in a Class B conference with Meadow, New Deal, Lorenzo, Wilson, New Home and Cooper. Non-conference games will be played with Tatum, Witharral, Ropes and Friona. There is but one open date—Oct. 5—on the Whiteface schedule. Broderson replaced Ronnie Smithers as head coach here. Smithers went to Tulosa-Midway, near Corpus Christi, to become junior high principal. He had been coach at Whiteface for about six years. Assisting Broderson this year will be Charlie Booz, former aide to Smithers. Booz also is head basketball coach. All of the Whiteface games will be played at 8 p.m. on Fridays excepting the last contest, against Friona, which will be unrec'd here at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17. The complete schedule: DATE OPP. SEASON TICKET SALES DELAYED

Sale of season football tickets, originally scheduled to start Tuesday, has been delayed by failure of the ducks to arrive from the printer. Pat Murphy, school business manager, said Saturday that a new date for sale of the tickets will be announced as quickly as they arrive. The "home" football season opens Sept. 28 when the Steers play Snyder here.

More Eagles On TL Team

DALLAS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Dallas, which led virtually all the way, placed the most players on the Texas League All-Star team but the outstanding individual and the only unanimous choice was Ken Guettler, the home run king from Shreveport. The All-Star team, announced today by the Texas League Baseball Writers, has three Dallas men on it: Bert Thiel, a 17-game winner, is the pitcher; Andre Rodgers is the shortstop; and Bob Schmidt is the catcher. Houston, Fort Worth and Shreveport each placed two, while Tulsa, San Antonio, Oklahoma City and Austin, the other league members, were shut out. Aible Pearson of Oklahoma City, the league's leading batter, almost made it; he was nosed out by one vote by Don Demeter of Fort Worth for the center field spot. The Texas League All-Star team: Catcher—Bob Schmidt, Dallas. Pitcher—Bert Thiel, Dallas. First base—Pidge Browne, Houston. Second base—Howie Phillips, Houston. Third base—Dick Gray, Fort Worth. Shortstop—Andre Rodgers, Dallas. Left field—Ev Joyner, Shreveport. Center field—Don Demeter, Fort Worth. Right field—Ken Guettler, Shreveport.

The report made by Reed Roller Bit Company Aug. 10 showed 541 rigs in action and 554 on July 25. On July 10, the total was 603. The present activity is still ahead of 1955 however when 448 units were reported on Aug. 10.

Lea County, N. M., continued to lead the Basin with 83 rotaries drilling, two more than were reported on the previous survey. In second place on Aug. 10 was Andrews with 75 as compared to 74 on the previous count.

Counties reporting 20 or more rotary rigs are Andrews with 75, Crane with 41; Ector with 34, Gaines with 22, Lea with 83, Nolan with 22 and Pecos with 21.

SECOND OF BIG TOWERS TO ARRIVE HERE THIS WEEK

The second of the huge towers in the "tower quadrangle" of Cosden Petroleum Corporation's styrene facility is due to arrive this week.

Dan Krause, manager of manufacturing, said Saturday that the 200-foot tower was due to clear Houston during the weekend and may arrive here Monday or Tuesday.

This piece of columnar steel will require at least five flat cars to transport it. The first tower, a 185-foot affair, spread over four cars when it was shipped here two weeks ago. The other two columns were held up by the steel strike.

When the second tower arrives, these two may be hoisted into place. The shorter of the two equals the stack height of the cat cracker, currently the tallest structure at Cosden. The second one will, of course, set a new record for height at the plant.

The four actually perform the function of one fractionating column, which obviously would be too high for a West Texas wind—hence the four parts.

Deep Explorer, Bidding For Fusselman Extension, Plugs

A deep exploration bidding for southeast extension of the Big Spring Fusselman field has been plugged and abandoned.

John Grappe Drilling Company and Cosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1 C. A. Cranfill has been plugged at a total depth of 9,545 feet in the Eilenburger. A test in the Eilenburger was run from 9,490-9,545 and recovered was the 1,500-foot water blanket plus 3,400 feet of salty sulphur water while the tool was open an hour and a half. Previously this section had been erroneously reported as Fusselman.

Top of the Fusselman showed a small amount of gas-cut mud and a subsequent test returned salt water. Location of the venture, which was three miles southeast of the nearest production in the Big Spring Fusselman Field, was C NE SW 21-31-in, T&P.

Perforations are between 6,794 and 6,794 feet. Total depth is 7,700 feet.

The well is 1,980 feet from south and east lines, 5-36-5s, T&P Survey.

Hanley No. 1 Ivy Huegler, 11 miles northeast of Midkiff, flowed 233.96 barrels of oil through a 24-64-inch choke in 24 hours, plus less than one per cent water. Gas-oil ratio is 855-1, and gravity is 37 degrees. Prior to the potential test, operator treated with 30,000 gallons fracture fluid.

Site is 660 feet from north and west lines, 35-36-4s, T&P Survey. It is plugged back to 7,795 feet from 7,810, and 5 1/2-inch string extends to 7,795 feet. Pay is reached at 6,850 feet, and perforations are from 7,705-25 feet.

Tests Going On In W. Martin Hole

Drilling ahead after running a drillstem test is BHM No. 1 Cosden, a Martin County wildcat venture seven and a half miles northwest of Midland.

Operator ran the test from 7,374-630 feet, with the tool open 45 minutes. It recovered 30 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil or gas. It has now deepened to 7,742 feet.

The venture is slated as a 12,000-foot test and is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines, 31-40-1n, T&P Survey.

Shallow Producer Added In Mitchell

Reville Royalty Company completed the No. 3-D E. T. Strain in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field of Mitchell County.

The well, 15 miles northwest of Colorado City, pumped 27.76 barrels of oil, plus 32 per cent water, in a 24-hour potential, after treatment with 500 barrels of fracture fluid.

Perforations are between 1,687-720 feet, with top of the pay zone being 1,785 feet. Total depth is 1,785 feet, and 5 1/2-inch casing is set at that depth. Gravity is 29 degrees.

Site is 1,012 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines, 82-97, H&TC Survey.

FIVE FOR ONE LAG Shrivelling Oil Reserves Viewed With Concern

AUSTIN, Aug. 25 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson said today the nation is using oil at a rate nearly five times as fast as new discoveries are made.

"While we were taking out of reserves 2.4 billion barrels of oil in the United States, we found only one-half billion barrels of new oil," in 1955, Thompson said.

"We are searching more and drilling more and deeper than ever before."

The commissioner said the Texas oil reserve picture "is even less optimistic."

Thompson said Texas had reserves of 14,982,000,000 barrels at the start of 1955 and dropped almost 50 million barrels during the year.

"In spite of an all-out high in drilling ever-deeper wells at greatly increased cost, there is very little success being had in finding new major oil field discoveries. I mean by major discoveries a field of 100 million or more barrels of oil reserves," he said.

He also said latest oil production figures show that Texas wells are not producing the allowable assigned them by 15 per cent and "some districts run as high as 20 per cent underproduced."

Thompson said only about 40 days' supply of oil are in storage and "that is not too much oil to have on hand, it would seem. Yet the buyers want to buy less Texas Oil, even when we are on half-time production (15-16 days)."

Dawson Exploration Deepens After Test

Humble Oil and Refining has deepened the No. 1 R. C. Koger, a Dawson County wildcat, to 11,612 feet after taking a drillstem test.

The test was from 11,465-502 feet, with the tool open one hour. Operator recovered 500 feet water blanket and 324 feet of mud-cut salt water. Flowing pressure was 385-470, and 30-minute shut-in pressure was 1,975.

The location is 660 feet from south and east lines, 32-35-4n, T&P Survey, and four miles southwest of Spangenburg.

Canyon Reef Field Extends In Nolan

Five-eighths mile northeast of production in the Rataban (Canyon reef) field of Northwest Nolan County, United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Company, recovered shows of oil from the Canyon reef.

The fluid developed on a 2 1/4 hour drillstem test from 6,170 to 6,249 feet. Recovery was 3,500 feet of gas, 10 feet of mud and 20 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

A subsequent test, from 6,250 to 6,285 feet, open 25 minutes, recovered five feet of drilling mud. Hole was being made below 6,285 feet.

The Canyon reef was topped by samples at 6,160 feet.

Advisory Committee To Favor Voluntary Import Curtailment

By TEX EASLEY WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—A group for a presidential advisory committee reportedly will recommend that crude oil imports be cut back to a point reflecting the import-domestic production ratio of 1954.

No proposal for compulsory measures to curtail shipments is in sight, however. The plan will not recommend a cut in imports of residual oil.

This is reported by sources close to the group doing staff work for the presidential committee on energy supplies and resources policy. The committee is expected to get the recommendations within 10 days.

The group reviewing oil imports is composed of James Brownlee, New York investment banker, chairman; Ed Warren, former petroleum administration chief; Judge Robert Wilkin of Kentucky; and C. J. Potter, president of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Co.

The advisory committee, headed by Dr. Arthur Flemming, head of the Office of Defense Mobilization, includes the secretaries of defense and commerce.

The committee can follow any of three courses. It can: Decide oil imports have not yet reached such proportions that any action is necessary.

Request importing companies to curtail shipments; or tell the President shipments constitute a serious threat to the life of a segment of the economy vital to the national defense, the domestic petroleum industry. The president then could impose import quotas.

The request is seen as the most likely course. If voluntary reductions are not made by importing companies promptly, the President probably would be asked soon to use his authority under the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act and impose quotas.

The Independent Petroleum Assn. of America (IPIA), quoting figures filed with the Texas Railroad Commission in July, said indications are that oil imports during the August-October period will average 1,025,000 barrels daily. This would be an increase of 163,000, or 19 per cent, over the first quarter 1956 level.

Cross Burns In Ft. Worth District

FORT WORTH, Aug. 25 (AP)—A crude wooden cross, soaked in kerosene, was lit early today in the heart of a Negro district here.

Alex Johnson, a Negro who runs a barbecue place said he put out the four-foot cross after it was touched off by three white teen-aged boys in a car.

Johnson said they placed the cross in a hollow iron pipe.

Well Total Near 11,000 Mark

AUSTIN, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Railroad Commission said today 319 oil wells were completed during the week, making a total of 10,980 for the year compared to 9,936 in 1955.

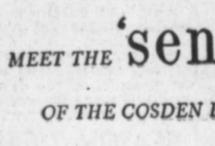

Gas well completions reached 57 for the week and 1,175 for the year, compared to 690 last year. There were 148 dry holes, making a total of 5,340 for the year.

A total of 98 oil and three gas wells were plugged. Nine wildcats produced oil, 18 found gas and 84 were dry.

The average calendar day allowable today was 3,405,650 barrels compared to 3,387,271 Aug. 18.

MEET THE 'seniors' OF THE COSDEN FAMILY...

EUGENE CLARK

This is the third in a new series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the Company.

Eugene Clark left Paradise to come to Big Spring and Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

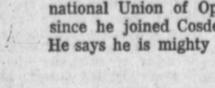

Actually, there was a little time lag and perhaps a word of explanation is necessary. Mr. Clark was born in Paradise, Wise County in 1905. When he was about two years old his family moved near Lubbock, where he resided until Sept. 1, 1940 when he moved to Big Spring to take temporary work with Cosden during one of the cleanout periods for the old stills. His first job with Cosden on April 10, 1941 was that of yardman. Later he was transferred to the pumphouse and then became a gauger on the still. Then Mr. Clark was promoted to operator on the No. 1 crude unit.

He had almost reached the safe age of bachelorhood when he was captivated by a young Lubbock lady, Miss Claudie Lumpkin. They were married Jan. 28, 1934 in Lubbock. To them were born two children, Joe, who will observe his 21st birthday on Dec. 24, and Marilyn, 10.

Mr. Clark settles for fishing as his hobby and although he doesn't pursue it as much as he would like, he enjoys going to the Cosden camp at Lake Colorado City. "I never catch anything... anything of any size," he complains, but that doesn't keep him from wanting more. His job is his chief concern and his only organizational connection is with the International Union of Operating Engineers. Many changes have taken place since he joined Cosden, and the company has experienced rapid growth. He says he is mighty proud to be a part of the Cosden family.

Suez Parley Leaves Canal Still in Doubt

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

The Suez Canal conference has ended with the security of a Western lifeline still in doubt, and danger on the horizon.

The conference was a golden opportunity for the Russians to prove the sincerity of their "peaceful coexistence" talk. If Moscow wanted to avoid a chain of events seriously affecting Europe's future and peace prospects, it would have lined up with the West in seeking an iron-clad guarantee for continued international access to the canal. The Russians did not. They used the controversy as a weapon to belabor the Western nations as "colonialists" and to marshal the frightened neutralism of Asia.

The 22-nation conference had the effect, probably, of staving off an explosion in the Middle East, but big, as the compromise was, its results could be all too temporary.

Egypt's president Nasser will be told by the 18-nation majority of the London conference that they favor international operation of an Egyptian-owned company. This most certainly will be rejected by Nasser.

The Egyptians might accept the idea of the Russians—joined by India, Ceylon and Indonesia—for Egyptian operation of the Suez with some sort of international advice. But this cannot meet the demands of the West. Can the big Western Powers give in now?

There must, at the least, be more negotiations, more marking time, and even, possibly, more economic pressure on Egypt to retreat from his position. The London conference was just a beginning.

Apart from the importance of the Suez to world trade, the West cannot lose sight of the fact that Nasser's actions endanger much more—the oilfields and even the pipelines carrying life-giving oil to Europe's economy. The conditions of today's world make it imperative that Europe have unhindered access to that oil.

Tech Air Cadets Commissioned

Talking over things military after commissioning exercises Friday at Texas Tech, Lt. Col. N. B. Wilkerson, professor of air science, welcomes three new second lieutenants into the Air Force Reserve. Winning their bars after completion of AFROTC training at Tech are, left to right, Travis D. Dabbs of Rt. 2, Post; Robert E. Keith, Whiteface; and Robert D. Leonard of 1509 Pennsylvania Ave., Big Spring. The trio received bachelor's degrees later in the day at Tech's summer commencement.

ON 'GREAT BOOKS'

History Students To Meet Monday

Members of the Great Books group and of the new organization for a year-long series of studies of world history will meet jointly Monday to dovetail their activities for the year and to discuss Anatole France's "Penguin Island."

The meeting, which will open at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the Permian building (second floor), since Howard County Junior College classrooms will be closed until after Labor Day.

"Penguin Island," an artistic burlesque of history, was chosen not only for its wit and the beauty of its style but also because its satire throws a penetrating light on the activities of man and on the influences which distort the recording of those activities.

The new year's program of the Great Books meetings, sponsored nationally by the Great Books Foundation and locally by Howard County Junior College, will begin in September with selections from the writings of Confucius.

The new history-study group at its September meeting will take up the first nine chapters of H. G. Wells' "Outline of History" as revised and brought up to the end of World War II by Raymond Postgate. Arnold J. Toynbee's "A Study of History" (the one-volume abridgment) and perhaps Oswald Spengler's "Decline of the West" will be taken up after the group has worked through the Wells book.

All persons who would like to join either of the two book groups will be welcomed at the Monday session, at which future meeting dates will be set for different sections if necessary, to accommodate as many persons as possible.

Welch Area 'Impressive'

LAMESA, Aug. 25 — Farmers and businessmen who made the second annual Dawson County Farm Tour Thursday were impressed with the irrigated belt in the Welch area.

One of the high spots of the tour was the stop at the Ted Turner farm north of Welch. Turner took a farm that was mostly sand dunes a few years ago and has built it into one of the top irrigated farms in the county.

Since this is "cotton country" the various cotton fields visited drew much of the attention of the group. Of special interest were fields owned by Fred Raney and George Weiss.

County Agent Lee Roy Colgan described them as the best he had seen this year. Both are in the irrigated area just south of Welch.

A field of soy beans, a patch of blue panic grass and several livestock herds were also given a lot of attention and comment by the group. The Welch Community chipped in to purchase watermelon and the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce furnished a couple of rounds of cold soft drinks.

'Let's Plike Grown-Ups'

In a fast-changing world, there are still some things that don't change. One of these is the juvenile penchant for playing "grown-up." What mother is there, anywhere, who has not had to search attic and closet, to bring forth long dresses, high-heeled slippers and plumed hats, so that the little lady could, all of a sudden, become a grande dame? It's the world of "make-believe," truly a wonderful place, even if it does exist only in the imaginations of little ones. The Herald recognizes this world of "make-believe" with some "grown-up" pictures on this page today.

OFF TO A BUSY AFTERNOON are two miniatures of their mothers. Sherry Griffin, a visitor from Carlsbad, N. M., is the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Griffin. She wears a blue print—fashioned in the new bloused effect—to make it fit, high heeled shoes and a hat belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Leonard West, Karon, the Wests' daughter, is attired in a frock which combines both the elongated waistline and the empire effect (again for the necessity of size).

MAKE-BELIEVE GOES WITH DRESS-UP—and Darrel Lane, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dick Lane, 203 Jefferson, adds his bit to the fun. Quite surprised at being held up on her way to tea is Stephanie Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, 206 Dixie. The tiny print of her mother's dress blends nicely with the beads and earbobs—from the same source. The black sailor, made to be worn at a stern straight angle, started out in the correct way—but look at it now!

TIP TO A BRIDE-ELECT—if you must economize on your wedding array, why not use your crinoline petticoat for your veil? That's what Martha Glickman uses when she dresses up as a bride. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Glickman, she has, according to her mother, a different outfit for almost every day of the week. That's the advantage of a good imagination and a few articles of your mother's cast-off clothing—you can be anyone from a bride to a well-paid, glamorous movie star!

HOW DOES IT LOOK? asks Jane Ann McElrath of her friend, Nancy Hedleston, as she adjusts her hat—oops—her mother's hat, in preparation for an afternoon of "dress-up" so dear to the heart of little girls. Nancy also wears her mother's hat, and not shown are high heeled pumps, which belong to the girls' sisters. Jewelry, lipstick, powder and perfume are through the courtesy of their sisters—or, rather, because sister doesn't know they are thus attired! Jane Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McElrath, 203 Dixie; Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Hedleston, 201 Jefferson.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. II BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 26, 1956 SOCIETY

MRS. LEON WILLIAMS

Ackerly Girl Becomes Bride Of Lorenzo Man

Ford Memorial Chapel of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock was the scene of the marriage of Patricia Ann Smith of Lubbock and Leon Williams of Lorenzo on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Jack Pearce of Lorenzo read the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith of Ackerly. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Williams Sr. of Petersburg.

At the altar were baskets of white chrysanthemums and tropical foliage around a kneeling bench. Martha Key presented an organ prelude and the traditional wedding music. She accompanied Joyce Dowell as he sang "Because," "All the Things You Are" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a wedding gown of white imported Chantilly-type lace over net and taffeta. The strapless bodice of lace and pleated tulle was topped by a buttoned lace bolero with roll collar and long sleeves ending in points over the hands.

The fitted bodice terminated in a deep point at the center front waistline. From this stemmed a waltz length skirt cut with a circular flare — a fullness of lace over net and ruffled taffeta. Her veil of silk illusion was joined to a half hat with a tiara type front of beads, iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Gloria Harmer of Plano was maid of honor. She wore a waltz length dress of Copenhagen blue iridescent taffeta accented by a matching velveteen cummerbund. Linda Kay Williams, daughter of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid. Her dress was fashioned after that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of blue pompon chrysanthemums.

The Rev. Millard Williams of Ft. Worth served his brother as best man. Ushers were Harold Wayne Pierot, Haney Bruce, and Don Chastain of Lorenzo. Ring bearer was Ronald Lee Smith, brother of the bride.

At the reception in the chapel parlor, the bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake. An arrangement of white pompon chrysanthemums decorated the table. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Jack Hodges, Linda Hance and Sue Green, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Fred Phillips and Mrs. V. K. Osborn.

For the wedding trip to New Mexico the bride chose a copper brown suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of brown chrysanthemums.

After Sept. 1, the couple will be at home in Lorenzo where the bridegroom is employed by the Lorenzo State Bank. He is a graduate of Lorenzo High School.

The bride is a graduate of Wilson High School and Wayland College. For the past two years she has been field director for the Lubbock Girl Scout Council.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Buying hats this fall is going to be sheer delight!

Have you seen the beautiful peacock blue (it's just the same pretty shade it was years ago) or the rich blue vista (it was royal blue at one time) and the rubies (this is red) that are being shown? My saleswomen friends who know about the new fashions tell me that the real way to dress this fall will be to wear one color, black or brown or whatever you will. Wear this all the way, but to make it really smart, let the hat give the color. These jewel colors should fill the bill.

Another pretty topper is one called porcelain that is trimmed with gold metallic braid. We were pleased to see much pink which seems to be making its way into the fall and winter wardrobes.

The big glow around the T. J. MITCHELL home these days is caused by the arrival of their first grandchild, Leah Dorinda. She was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Graham Mason. Her mother is the former Arlene Mitchell. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Everson of Lake Grove, Ore.

MR. AND MRS. BILL WIGGER-INGLOH of Norwood, Ohio, and their children, Jeffrey and Barbara, left Friday morning after a visit in the home of her parents and Mrs. F. E. Lowke. They went to San Antonio from here and will spend several days

Party Compliments Jimmie, Lela Porter

FORSAN — Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Porter were guests of honor with a party in Forsan Friday evening.

Mrs. Porter is the former Lela Mae Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Fletcher.

For the party Mrs. Porter wore a brown lined princess styled dress. Her novelty corsage was made by Mrs. L. T. Shoultis and was of white daisies with a scouring pad, clothes pins and mixing spoons combined.

Lovell Fletcher presided at the register where about 35 registered.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth over white and centered with a double ring wedding arrangement that was stop pink and white summer flowers.

Sherrie Fletcher and Judy Shoultis alternated at the serving table.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES RAY ELLIS spent the weekend with his aunt and cousin, Mrs. C. E. Read and Charles. Their home is in Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Read and their children, who are making their home in Snyder, also have visited in the Read home.

LINDA JACKS, who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Kinard, has returned to her home in Houston.

Guests in the home of MR. AND MRS. ED FISHER have been his brother, Albert Fisher of Corning, Calif., who returned home Thursday morning, and his mother, Mrs. Albert Fisher Sr. of St. Louis, Mo., who will leave here Wednesday morning.

MRS. CLAUDE MILLER AND MRS. HUBERT JOHNSON have returned from a trip to Dallas where they attended the resort and holiday market.

MRS. R. D. LOWMAN of El Paso has been the guest of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hatch. Friday evening she was joined here by her mother, Dr. Virginia Lee Link, dean of women at Sul Ross, for a trip to Texas. They will visit Dr. Link's mother, Mrs. H. B. Eubanks, in New Boston.

MR. AND MRS. BOB WREN and Lana left this morning for a vacation trip to Junction and San Antonio. Belva will meet them in Fort Worth Thursday at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. T. Stewart and her family. They will visit their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wren and 18-month-old Leslie Kaye.

MRS. W. N. NORRED is in Putnam to spend several days with her mother, Mrs. Gus Brandon.

JOY MLADENKA of Houston is here to be with her mother, Mrs. JOHNNIE LANE, who is to undergo major surgery Monday morning.

MRS. WALTER PAIGE EILAND

Wedding Of Stanton Couple Is Held In Setting Of All-White

Against a background of white, Elaine Hazlewood became the bride of Walter Paige Eiland Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church in Stanton.

A white archway combined with a large fan arrangement of white roses and gladioli to form the setting. This was flanked by candelabra of nine branches and baskets of white chrysanthemums, stock and roses.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hazlewood Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Eiland, all of Stanton.

The Rev. Wallace H. Kirby, pastor of the church, read the vows for the formal double ring ceremony.

Mrs. James Jones, organist, presented a prelude of nuptial selections. She also accompanied Sandra Cross of Anson, who sang "Wedding Song," "If God Left Only You" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in an original model of white hand-clipped Chantilly lace over French illusion and satin. A tiny collar topped a yoke of illusion, which was appliqued with flowers of the lace.

The fitted bodice extended in a deep point at front and back where a row of buttons ended just below the waist. Identical buttons fastened the long tapered sleeves. Tiers of tulle and lace in the back swept into a chapel train. A double crown of illusion trimmed with seed pearls, rhinestones and sequins, held the fingertip veil.

A white Bible, carried by the bride, was topped with a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a bluebird of happiness.

ATTENDANTS

Serving her sister-in-law as matron of honor was Mrs. Cliff Hazlewood Jr. The maid of honor was Gloria Forester of Clyde, and the junior bridesmaid was Cathy Hazlewood, a niece of the bride. Bridesmaids were Nancy Dickson of Abilene and Jere Coon of Stanton.

The bride's attendants wore identical frocks of white antique tulle, with fitted bodices in long torso style. The wide high-cut necklines were scooped in the back. Full, gored skirts were made fuller in the back by the use of unpressed pleats. The center back was accented with a hip-drape and large bustle-like bow.

Small white hats in the same fabric were created by the bride. Earclips and bracelets of fresh water pearl completed the attire of the attendants, who carried colonial nosebags of white Frenched carnations on white lace fans.

The father of the bridegroom was his son's best man. Guy Mervyn Eiland of Midland, was one of the groomsmen for his brother; others were Gordon Stone of Stanton and Clinton Dale Townsend of Lubbock, who was a junior groomsman.

Ushers were Cliff Hazlewood Jr. and Norman Blocker, both of Stanton. Deborah Hazlewood, a niece of the bride was flower girl, and the rings were carried by Stephen Robnett, Wayne Petree and Jimmy Wheeler lighted the altar tapers.

A wedding reception was held in the parlor of the church with guests received by the bride and groom.

On the table, covered with white net and satin, burned a emory candle, which was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hainin. The bouquets of the feminine attendants made the floral centerpiece and the three-tiered cake was decorated with a tiny bride and groom.

Mrs. Robert Baker of Abilene and Mrs. Johnny White of Stanton served, while Mrs. Guy Eiland registered guests. Others in the house party were Mrs. Finley Rhodes, Mrs. Lila Flanagan, Mrs. Jess Angel and Mrs. Jess Burns.

Mrs. Troy Ray might be giving her young son Glen some musical pointers on how to play the piano as her husband and other son, Clark, watch the proceedings. The Rays have recently moved to Big Spring from Odessa. Ray is the furniture manager at White's Auto Store. Mr. and Mrs. Ray enjoy singing duets together as

Mrs. Ray accompanies on the piano. Young Glen seems to be picking up the habit, Mrs. Ray commented. "He goes around singing all the latest songs, but of course his favorite is 'Davy Crockett,'" Mrs. Ray said.

New Big Spring Home Pleases Ray Family

People of Big Spring should be filled with pride over their friendly city since many newcomers are quick to express their delight over the reception they receive. This is true not only for out-of-staters, but of born and reared Texans. Mr. and Mrs. Troy Glen Ray are no exception. They have been in the city for about three weeks now and "I have already made so many friends," Mrs. Ray commented. The Rays moved to Big Spring from Odessa where they had lived for three years. Ray is the furniture manager at White's Auto Store. They have two sons, Glen, two and a half and Clark, who is a year old. Picnicking is one of their favorite pastimes. "I think the city park here is ideal for picnics and outings," Mrs. Ray said. Other outdoor sports they enjoy are hunting and fishing. For relaxation around their home, Mr. and Mrs. Ray team up to sing duets, while Mrs. Ray plays the piano. She has appeared on various talent shows, at ladies' club meetings and on TV. "But, I am the only one who will appear in public," she laughed. "My husband leaves his singing talent for just around home." Her favorite selections are blues songs and popular numbers. One of the main items of interest around their home for the two young boys is their parakeet, whom they call Joe. He can say "Pretty boy, Hi Joe," young Glen beamed. Little Clark isn't just so sure what he thinks of talking birds! Both Mr. and Mrs. Ray were raised in Childress. They are members of the Church of Christ. Their new home is at 1208 Pickets.

Woodman Circle Elects Officers

New officers were elected at Friday's meeting of the Woodman Circle, Howard Groves 663. The group met in the home of Mrs. F. B. Blalock. New officers include Mrs. P. C. Bowles, president; Mrs. A. M. Ripps, vice president; Mrs. Althea Porter, second vice president; Mrs. F. M. Purser, chaplain; Mrs. S. J. Lamar, past president; Mrs. H. Reeves, attendant; Mrs. C. H. Vick, assistant attendant and auditors; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Carrnike and Mrs. C. E. Fleeman. Special prizes were won by Mrs. Purser and Mrs. Lamar. Next meeting will be Sept. 28 in the home of Mrs. Bowles, 1602 Scurry.

Jean Robison Feted At Bridal Shower

Jean Robison, bride-elect of David Joe Young, was honored with a bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. L. T. King and Nancy. The bride-elect chose a tulle-trimmed dress of dark cotton accented at the cowl neckline with a black taffeta bow. She wore black patent accessories. The serving table was decorated with a pink cloth. The centerpiece featured a small doll dressed identically as Miss Robison will be on her wedding day. An arrangement of aqua, pink and white pompon mums was used with the centerpiece. Miss Robison and Young will be married Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

Beauties Of The Universe

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

'Miss Universe' Girls Give Hints On Beauty

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — The Miss Universe pageant in Long Beach gave top honors to an American girl for the second time in five years. Miss Iowa, lovely Carol Morris, the daughter of a minister, won out on competition from 65 foreign countries.

When I talked with Carol and four other contestants, during lunch at the Beverly Hilton, I was eager to learn their glamour secrets. Carol, with great sincerity, said her top beauty secret is to smile. "A happy, warm smile will do more for your face than all the make-up in the world," Carol said. "My family has made me feel that the highest form of beauty comes from within. But I think making yourself look attractive is important, too. My modeling on television was most helpful, because we had to be flawlessly groomed. But I always try to be as subtle about my make-up and as natural as possible."

Carol is receiving a six-months contract with Universal-International and as her ambition is to be an actress, she intends to learn as much as she can. She is not frightened by Hollywood, because Carol is going to follow her father's advice to let personal integrity be her guide.

The honor of first runner-up went to Marina Orschel, Miss Germany, but she has little interest in second-best awards. Marina made no effort to conceal her disappointment. With her combined intelligence and beauty it will not be surprising if she ends up with a Hollywood contract.

"It is my dream to be a ballerina in the movies like Moira Shearer," she confessed. When I asked Miss Orschel to tell me her most prized beauty ritual, she quickly replied, "Never going to bed wearing make-up. No matter how tired I am," she said with scarcely a trace of an accent. "For how late it is I am very good about getting my skin clean. I like a lotion that looks like milk because it does not get into your pores..." she asked a German-speaking friend the word for pores. "I don't use creams," she continued, "except a little around my eyes. I have seen so many good skins ruined because all the make-up was not removed."

Can Vysal, from Istanbul, spoke no English but a charming Turkish friend acted as interpreter. "Have you learned much about make-up here?" I asked, noting that Miss Vysal had outlined her mouth in a darker shade of red. "There is nothing new about that," she told me. "We draw the shape of our mouth with a light brown eyebrow pencil and fill it in with lipstick. Even my grandmother does it," she added with a smile.

"The Turkish idea of beauty is different from the American. Your girls are slender and as they get older their figures change. But in my country a young girl has a filled-out figure with a bustline and hips and when she becomes a woman she does not change."

Can (who pronounces her name as Jan) has a lovely complexion. "I will tell you a Turkish beauty secret. Mix half olive oil with the juice of fresh oranges and lemons. Shake this well (or blend it in a mixer) and let it stand ten minutes. Then add a little rose water and pat it all over your face. It will make your skin lovely," Can said. "You try it."

Lucienne Aquier, Miss Belgium, has been in the theater since she was seven, but in winning the contest to represent her country in the Miss Universe contest she fulfilled a cherished dream to visit the United States.

Though she came with a number of Dior dresses, she was wearing an organdy number she had bought here.

"I like your American styles; they are so young and fresh," she added, "and inexpensive."

Knowing what I was going to ask her, she had her answer ready and was able to tell me in English. "I think eyes are the most important feature and there are two ways to accent them—through make-up and the way you wear your hair. I believe if you keep your hair away from the face, your eyes stand out. And," she added, "if you powder your eyes before you make-up your eye shadow will not smear and your lashes will look thicker under the mascara."

Rodriguez. I admired her black hair which shone like satin. "Raw eggs," she said, giving me a chance to use my Spanish, "are the secret. In Cuba we feel it is the best shampoo for the hair." Miss Rodriguez' slim white gown revealed an exquisite figure.

"I exercise," she said and told me her two favorites. "First I make big circles with my arms in one direction and then in the other direction to make my bustline firm. And for my waist I stretch out my arms and bend down to touch my left foot with my right hand and then reverse. You know," she laughed, "I read about this in your column."

A Bible Thought For Today

Budget Decision Of The United Fund

The United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County has announced its budget for the next fiscal year—a sum that will be raised through a public subscription in October.

Announcement of the figure establishes two precedents which ought to receive hearty acclamation from all the people who support our welfare agencies. One of these was a firm decision not to raise the UF goal beyond the level of last year; the other was to conduct the fund-raising campaign without the services of a professional organization in charge.

The new goal is $87,550, a few dollars below the budget for last year. It represents from $3.25 to $3.50 per capita for welfare purposes, which is actually above the national average. It seems to be a fair evaluation of what the community can do for those organizations which participate in UF monies.

While the UF budget people recognized continued growth, and possibly higher potential giving, in the city and county, they also considered that many lines of business are adversely affected by continued drought, and the fall of agricultural income. It seems good business that they should have avoided an increase in the final asking.

The saving in campaign administration costs—through dependence upon more volunteer help than ever before—was passed along to participating agencies, so that on the average they are sharing in a 5.2 per cent increase over their allocments for the current year.

This apparently does not satisfy all the agencies. They had asked for sums aggregating more than 18 per cent over the current year, and had their full requests been granted, the United Fund would have faced a budget of something like $115,000. This obviously would be out of line.

The next alternative was to attempt to meet agency requests to the fullest extent possible. It is true that most of these organizations have expanded programs, are reaching more people with their activities, and have increased costs just as business firms have increased costs. But there is a reasonable limit to what the community's welfare purse can be.

It is to be hoped that participating agencies can accept the United Fund decision, with a resolve to help meet the goal and keep the principle of federated giving on a working basis. If welfare organizations are dissatisfied to the extent of wanting to drop out of the United Fund and attempt their own campaigns, then the community would soon be back to the business of facing a half-dozen or a dozen welfare drives a year. Certainly this ought to be avoided.

A strong, big-hearted community can meet its welfare needs. It will take money, and this year will take more manpower than ever. But Big Spring and Howard County can do it, if the desire is there, and if the confidence exists that the United Fund approach is the best one to pursue.

David Lawrence The Smear That Didn't Succeed

SAN FRANCISCO — This convention presented the climax to a big story that has been unfolding for many months. The story now can be entitled: "The smear that didn't succeed."

Never in the history of American politics has anything so insidious been attempted—a palpable effort to ruin the personal and political reputation of Richard Nixon by a whispering campaign about his lack of integrity that had not the slightest foundation in fact.

The renomination of Vice President Nixon was not merely a triumph for the man but for the common sense of the Republican party's leadership, which refused to disqualify a man just because he had been a vigorous campaigner and had aroused the ire of the opposite party.

It seems odd to suggest that anyone should be disqualified for high office just because he has been a political opponent, but that was the main basis for a rash of articles and broadcasts from Democratic party sympathizers who decided that the vice presidency should be given "more attention." At first, it was not an out-and-out attack on Nixon but ostensibly an argument for careful selection of a vice president. It was, however, recognized as a subtle means of discrediting Nixon.

The effort suddenly gained renewed attention when the President became ill in September 1955.

From that time on the stories of an anti-Nixon tone, with plenty of innuendoes, began to appear—originating mostly from New York. This was traced in part to some influential like supporters there who preferred some other candidate—anybody but Nixon. The objections to Nixon usually advanced were vague. First it was contended that he was an "isolationist" and, if he became President, would not be liberal with grants of money in a foreign aid program.

When it was pointed out by defenders of Nixon that he had carried the ball for the administration on Capitol Hill in trying to get both the domestic and foreign policies of the President adopted, then the attack was switched to another direction. It was asserted, for instance, that "Nixon simply doesn't have the qualifications." This very criticism was voiced repeatedly and given wide currency by certain big newspapers in this country which themselves had been constantly critical of the government's drive against Communists in federal employ. Nobody ever pointed out clearly what was meant by "qualifications."

The whispering campaign continued to spread throughout the country and abroad. People in Washington who knew Nixon well in the House and the Senate were astounded. The President himself was bewildered at this form of political warfare. He knew Nixon intimately. He sent him around the world on important trips. He entrusted him with missions of importance every day—in fact, no vice president has been admitted to the high councils of an administration as much as has the present vice president.

It became a bigger and bigger mystery as to what was giving such continuous momentum to the campaign of whispering slanders. Then, when the President had to undergo a stomach operation in June and the question of the vice-presidency received renewed attention, Mr. Eisenhower was subsequently drawn into the matter through sharp questioning at his press conferences. He didn't want, of course, to be placed in the position of dictating the choice of a national convention. So he confined his remarks to a statement that Nixon would be "acceptable" to him. This prompted rumors of another list of vice presidential possibilities that Mr. Eisenhower was supposed to be preparing.

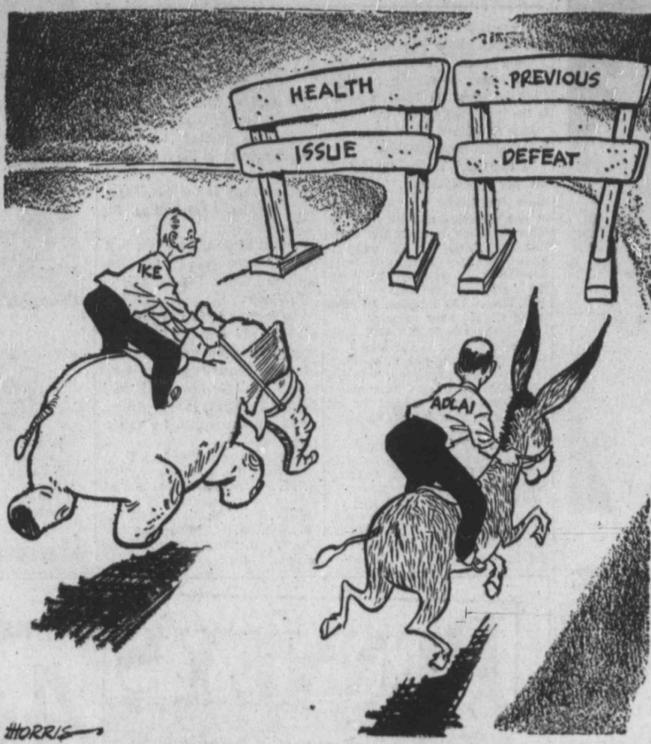

Then Harold Stassen came into the picture. Being ambitious himself and a man with an itch for publicity in politics, he came forth with some so-called "polls." Naturally, after the whispering campaign, there were voters who had been led to believe there was something wrong with Dick Nixon and that his nomination would prove a handicap to the ticket. A lie repeated often enough is believed by many who hear only one side.

Nobody has ever been able to demonstrate to the Republican leaders that Nixon would be a "handicap." In fact, he disproves it on the stump and captivates big audiences.

Small wonder that, on arriving here, the President emphatically told a press conference that Nixon had done "an extraordinary job" and is "as good a man as you can get." The vast majority of the delegates to the Republican convention had already concluded: "If he's good enough for Ike, he's good enough for us."

The smear didn't succeed.

Handicap Race

The Gallup Poll Nod Goes To Ike, By Smaller Margin Than 1952

PRINCETON, N. J. — If all of the county chairmen of both parties had been assembled in a convention hall and voted by secret ballot on the outcome of an Eisenhower-Stevenson race, the practical politicians of the nation would say:

"It's Ike—but by a smaller margin than in 1952."

At the same time, in the combined judgment of the county chairmen of the 48 states, the Democrats will get a larger share of the vote for Congress than they got four years ago.

Political observers will be interested in today's boxscore summary since it reflects the results of a novel method to appraise the views of the "grass roots" leaders of the two parties. Since the chief aim of party leaders is to win elections at the local level, the importance of their views is obvious.

The method might be described as the measurement of political strength through admitted weakness.

In effect, the Institute has staged a "bi-partisan convention" of the nation's county chairmen, although the party leaders were not assembled in one place.

Their views on an Eisenhower-Stevenson race and their appraisal of the relative vote strength in the presidential and congressional races were sounded by means of a secret ballot sent to each of the county leaders, whose names were furnished by the national committee of each party.

Here is the first question asked of the 3,673 county chairmen, including approximately equal numbers of Democratic and Republican chairmen. This constitutes a large sample of the 5,900 county leaders across the nation.

"If Eisenhower and Stevenson are the opposing candidates, who do you think would win?"

The combined vote of both groups:

Eisenhower would win	53
Stevenson would win	27
Undecided	15

One caution must be sounded. These opinions are based on judgments made just prior to the national nominating conventions. The situation can change completely before the election next November.

While 85 per cent of the GOP county chairmen picked Eisenhower to win, it is interesting to note that 30 per cent of the Democratic county chairmen conceded that Eisenhower would defeat Stevenson, while 52 per cent saw Stevenson the victor.

Analysis of the results by sections of the country shows 40 per cent of the Democratic county chairmen in the South believing that Eisenhower would win, 43 per cent that Stevenson would win, with 17 per cent undecided at the time of the survey.

The next question:

"In your frank opinion, will Eisenhower obtain a larger or smaller per cent of the vote in your county than in 1952?"

The combined judgments of Republican and Democratic county leaders:

IKE VOTE IN '56	Per cent
Will be larger than '52	30
Will be smaller	62
Can't say	8

Although a majority of the county leaders in all sections of the country are in agreement that Eisenhower will get a smaller per cent of the vote in their county in 1956 than he did four years ago, party leaders in the New England and Middle-Atlantic states are more inclined to predict a larger Eisenhower vote than are the chairmen in other sections.

The next question:

"In your frank opinion, will the Democratic (Republican) candidate for Congress in your county obtain a larger or smaller per cent of the vote than in 1952?"

More than twice as many of the county leaders think the Democratic candidates will obtain a larger per cent of the vote as will the Republican candidates, as follows:

CONGRESS VOTE IN '56	Per cent
Larger vote for Democrats	56
Larger vote for Republicans	25
Can't say	19

In the spring of 1952, here is the way the Democratic and the Republican county chairmen felt about the outcome of an Eisenhower versus Stevenson race:

IKE vs. STEVENSON (Spring, 1952)	Per cent
Eisenhower would win	56
Stevenson would win	23
Undecided	15
General Eisenhower polled	55.4

per cent of the major-party vote in the 1952 election.

The biggest difference between the two conventions is that at the Democratic the issue of party control was fought out and settled: AFTER the delegates reached Chicago; at the Republican the basic issue has been settled long in advance.

Chicago was in fact an open convention, not so much because of the Ke-fauver-Kennedy contest but because of the Truman-Stevenson contest. This was a genuine struggle for the leadership of the party machinery, and though the outcome was decisive, it was decided by the delegates and not by the national managers at the central headquarters of the party. The plank on civil rights and the choice of the vice president were aspects of the basic issue of party control.

San Francisco, on the other hand, is a meeting to ratify and to celebrate decisions already taken under the management of the chairman of the National Committee, Mr. Hall, and the central headquarters command of the party. The Republicans, like the Democrats, have had to meet the fundamental issue of party control. They have had to deal with even before the President's heart attack in September, 1955, during the long months when he was refusing to say whether he would run again. When the President was stricken, the whole future of the party was in doubt. It was at this time that Mr. Hall, who is obviously a strong man who knows his own mind, took command, decreed that Eisenhower and Nixon must run again, put the President under pressure to agree to run again, and put the

Tourists Must Hold Onto Their Money In Naples

NAPLES — See Naples and die.

That may be the tourists' experience in "Bella Napoli" if he doesn't hold on to his wallet.

Rounding up reports from all foreign consuls in the city, Dutch Consul General Charles M. Dory reported that foreign visitors lost some $800,000 in money and valuables last year.

They were robbed in many and ingenious ways. Take the case of a young lady from France who lost more than $200 in local currency, her jewelry, cameras and all her luggage.

She left her baggage in the hall of her hotel, waiting for a taxi to take her to the station. A young man, dressed as a hotel-porter, picked up the bags and carried them outside. She never saw him—or her belongings—again.

For reasons locally unknown, French tourists are the favorite victims. They report $5 to $10 thefts a day. Then come the Germans. Dutch victims number a dozen a week. But reports involving supposedly rich and extravagant Americans are few.

A Pretty Girl

IONIA — A pretty girl walking past in shorts diverted two policemen emptying a parking meter. The collection bag shifted and coins spilled into the street.

As bystanders gawped, the two red-faced officers chased down the street. They had to call a third policeman to direct main street traffic while they moved parked cars to dig coins out of a sewer.

Shark Hunting

DECATUR, Ill. — Vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Hiser, their two daughters Daryce Adair, 12, and Judy Anne, 9, will consist of hunting for sharks in shallow areas of the Gulf of Mexico.

Hiser and a companion, Randolph Young, 20, tow their cruiser to New Orleans from Decatur. Equipment includes hand harpoons, a harpoon launcher and a 30-caliber rifle, plus one inflated truck innertube painted orange.

Lady Please

KIMBALL, Neb. — A woman complained to her neighbors that their dog chased her chickens and asked that the animal be locked up. A few nights later the complaining woman phoned the neighbors to ask if they'd please turn the dog loose. She said she thought there was a peeping Tom at her window.

Around The Rim Time For Vaccinations And Such

If your kids are not ready for school, physically speaking that is, better hurry and get 'em ready.

This is what the experts are saying. Friend of mine reported the other day that the parents had taken the small daughter to the hospital for removal of tonsils and adenoids, and by the time she had recovered from the surgery they thought she was exhibiting more alert interest which should pay off in the school room. Last year, her teacher had felt she wasn't progressing as she should have, and there existed a probability that the child wasn't physically up to snuff.

It is a good thing, of course, to learn of such obstacles to a child's progress at an early enough time so that proper corrective measures can be taken.

It took many years for the authorities to find it out, but for generations too many young people went through school with sub-standard eyesight or below-normal hearing, and these handicaps affected their degree of learning.

In the old days, if a tyke on the back row didn't answer up when the teacher called his name, it was blamed on his indifference or his mischievousness, and the only solution was to crack him across the palms with a ruler. Could be that the poor kid just didn't hear.

And if another child couldn't add the figures that were on the blackboard, he was kept after school until he could find the answer. Maybe he knew the answer all the time, but poor vision kept him from seeing what the figures on the board actually were.

This bit of intelligence is being recalled here so that I could blame my poor showing on the report cards to the chance that maybe I didn't see or hear too well.

I didn't think to use that excuse to Papa and Mama back in the school days, but it would have been a dandy. Then they would have hauled me to the doc, and sure enough found out whether my eyes and ears were clicking as they should.

Kids in my day may not have gotten the eye, ear, tonsil and adenoid check, but the smallpox vaccination was required. I think I've told this before, but no great damage is done in repeating the story of the day we got lined up in the hall and shooed past a doctor and a nurse, who handled us about like GI's were handled for their shots in the war. The nurse made a swipe across the arm, then the doc grabbed it, and began to design a sort of cross-hatch pattern. The job must be more neatly accomplished these days, but then it was sort of like a tattoo operation.

There was the darndest rash of sore arms around there you ever saw, and kids who ordinarily would fight at the drop of a pencil, avoided one another just to protect the injured arm. The guy who had the biggest wound on his arm, as a result of the vaccination line, was one to be looked up to.

This corraling of the kids may have been regarded as a pretty severe measure, and as I recall, some parents protested about the injustice done to their offspring. There probably are parents today who fail to see the over-all necessity of public health, but the school authorities have ways of dealing with them.

It's a good thing to avert smallpox, and typhoid fever, polio and all the rest, just as it is a good thing to know that the kid is seeing and hearing what goes on in the schoolroom.

Walter Lippmann Republican Decisions Ready-Made

The whole power of the national party organization was mobilized by Mr. Hall to prevent any serious challenge to Nixon's renomination. The President, though he had shown faint signs of regretting that the convention has nothing to do, has not objected seriously to Mr. Hall's steamroller. As a result, the convention had nothing to do but listen to ghost-written speeches and to watch a stage-managed show, and to vote yes.

What came out of San Francisco is a party stand which at the level of the keynote speech, the platform, the official declarations and promises and pledges, is complete and unadulterated Eisenhower. But at the level of party control, at the operating level in managing and administering the party for the coming years, the Eisenhower Republicans have only a voice and nothing like leadership and control.

The critical point of leadership and control has not been the presidency. It has been the vice presidency. This is not only because of Gen. Eisenhower's age and his health but because by temperament and political conviction he takes no very active role in the direction and command of the party. From the point of view of the professional politician, looking ahead to the next four years, his key position is the vice presidency, and they have used the steamroller to flatten out the opposition to their man.

Norman Vincent Peale Light More Powerful Than Darkness

Last night I was on top of the world. This I mean literally, for a group of us climbed to the top of the North Cape and stood at the very tip end of Norway gazing out over the Arctic Ocean. It was an incredible, blazing, sun-kissed midnight, with the great sun rolling along at the top of the continent of Europe.

Our ship, the Stella Polaris, anchored in a little cove inside the North Cape and we went ashore in the ship's launch. We ascended the precipitous cliff by a zig-zagging path, clinging precariously to the mountain top. The 800-foot climb was made possible by an ingenious series of switchbacks, while jutting stones afforded a foothold. Arriving at the summit there was a half-mile trek over the brow of this last bit of land on the continent. Then, in all of its radiant glory, we beheld the flaming orb at chronological midnight, well above the sea, going swiftly upward toward its meridian. Many Americans have journeyed to the land of the midnight sun, and it's worth every cent of the cost to have this incredible experience. The impression made upon the mind and soul will abide forever. You get a new sense of God's presence in this vast, noble land of light and beauty.

In the unearthly brilliance of that noon-like midnight a line from an old religious song kept singing itself through my mind. "And there will be no night there." What we saw on top of the world last night must surely be the earthly reflection of that eternal morning when the "day shall dawn and the shadows flee away."

But all the inspiration of last night was not in the immensity and glory of nature. Our group consisted of perhaps a hundred persons of all ages from seven to seventy. Everyone conquered that stiff climb, lured upward by the strong desire to stand on that coveted eminence. Everyone was able to struggle up those difficult 800 feet by an unconquerable spirit to attain a goal. Even young people, starting up with an eager rush, were slowed by the pressure of the steep incline. Older people, carefully measuring every step, plodded slowly and doggedly up the heights and would not give up, though better judgement cautioned, "Remember your age, your heart, your blood pressure." The top of the world was huring them on.

Strangely moving is this indomitable quality of man, this wanting to put his feet on the highest place, to reach the last outpost. That something was mirrored in the face of each one, young and old, when finally attaining the mountain's shoulder they stepped onto the chill and windswept plateau at the summit. There the midnight sun lit their faces, but so also did the radiant inner light that had made them toil upward to this exalted place.

We who experienced the glory of days when the ship's log read "no sunset today" will have our times of darkness too. But it is easier to endure darkness when you have experienced the light. If you just hold on and do not become discouraged nor give up, the light will return and the shadows pass away. One thing is certain, and that is that light is more powerful than darkness. Therefore, the more light one has in mind and heart the less power will darkness have over him.

"Walk in the light," so we are admonished. And as you keep walking toward the sun, the shadows will fall behind. As you live by hope and faith and God, your days, and your nights too will be full of that light that shall never fade. Then you will truly live on top of the world in your own land of the Midnight Sun.

Fishy Story

ELY, Minn. — Guile Ernie Landgren picked up a daily double the easy way. While one of his guests was reeling in a whitefish a big 10-pound northern pike clamped his jaws on the hooked fish. The pike was persistent. He stayed with the whitefish until both reached the boat. Landgren calmly swooped both in with a net.

Unafraid

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio — Mrs. Walter Marshall has a pet rat named Freddie. "I'm not afraid of anything," she says.

Mayor To Rescue

GRAND BANK, Nfld. — Mayor Fred Tessier was on the spot when nine-year-old Eric Jones toppled from a pier into the harbor. The Mayor leaped into the chilly water to make the rescue.

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 8:4, 5 — "What is Man? . . . thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and has crowned him with glory and honor." (AV)

Man, and that means all men, is a creature of God. He was made in the image of God and therefore is a person. As creatures of God, made in the divine image, all men are to be accorded the dignity of their manhood.

To properly honor my own dignity and reverence the divine image within myself, I must respect the dignity of all other human beings. I must avoid doing anything that will embarrass or hurt another or that will injure his reputation. I must even respect the dignity of a wicked man, for every power exercised by a person is a divine endowment, even though that power may be used for evil ends. Who knows—children of the wicked man may arise in whom that power lives on, and who purify it and dedicate it to good ends.

It is right, as we do, to talk of justice, but beyond and above justice is "loving kindness," the highest attribute of God himself. God give me compassion for all men!

Combination Of Fabrics Adds To Beauty Of Frock

Scaasi is another of the young people who are making their mark in the fashion world, and in his case he is right there at the top of that world. His clothes have a quality of elegance, simplicity and wearability.

All three of these attributes are clearly defined in this two-piece party dress. The narrow-strapped, deeply-scooped top is meant to be made in jersey (rayon, wool or mat) so that it will hug the body, and it is lined to hold the shape.

The skirt is widely flared with double inverted pleats opening out at the sides where they are topped with velvet bows. Make it in printed peltion or lilion, stiff cottons or silks such as faille, heavy brocades or embroidered fabrics.

The look is easy to come by since the pattern is carefully perforated to assure accurate matching.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

With a feeling of much accomplishment, students completed the second session of H.C.J.C.'s summer classes Friday. The not-too-pleasant prospect of final exams lay in store for this last day, but students gladly accepted this morbid fact in exchange for their freedom.

Marylee James has been in Big Spring visiting friends since last Saturday, and expects to remain here for about another week. A guest in the H. V. Crocker home, Marylee revealed that she and Mrs. James have moved from Ardmore, Okla., to Dallas recently. Marylee will enroll at NTSC this fall as a sophomore.

Engaged in exactly the same activity this next week will be Lou Ann Parsons. Returning to Beeville, her former residence before moving here, Lou Ann will spend a large portion of the week visiting old school friends, before returning to Big Spring next Friday.

Glenn Rogers is especially glad summer school is over for the simple fact that he can now take a long-awaited trip to Mexico City, where he will visit a college chum. Glenn will fly down next Tuesday.

The biology class, with a sprinkling of geology students, celebrated the ending of summer school in grand manner Wednesday with a picnic at the home of instructor Bruce Fraizer. No vacation from education, however, the group took a tour of the Fraizer premises, identifying quite a number of native and imported shrubs trees and plants, growing in natural and persuaded habitat.

Lady Prof Gives Tips To Housewife

Mrs. Elizabeth Walbert Crandall, an associate professor of home economics, University of Rhode Island, says the perfectionist housekeeper is not necessarily a good manager.

"She may overtax her strength and antagonize her entire family by her desire for perfection," Mrs. Crandall points out, adding that in management today the trend is toward rational and flexible standards rather than perfectionism.

Home Important For Child's Ideals

"Home holds the key for sound growth," says Mrs. J. Warren Hastings, wife of a Washington minister.

"Home is the place where a child finds himself," she adds. "It's a place where he comes to know who he is as a person. A child accepts himself 'as is' because he is accepted by his parents and because affection binds the family together."

MRS. FREDRIC ELTON GOTTLIEB

Former Resident Is Wed In Stephenville

Of wide interest to Big Spring friends of the Harding family is the marriage of Elizabeth Ann Harding and Fredric Elton Gottlieb, which took place Saturday evening in Stephenville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harding, former residents of Big Spring, who now live in Stephenville. She is the niece of Nora, Ollie and Martha Ann Harding, former local residents, now living in Ruidoso, N.M.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gottlieb, 2008 Dutton, Waco.

The formal double ring ceremony was held by candlelight in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Emil B. Becker, pastor of the church reading the vows.

Candles were placed in cathedral columns throughout the sanctuary, where the aisles and altar floor were covered with white. A white wrought iron archway stood before a background of greenery and was flanked by white candelabra and baskets of white gladioli. A kneeling-bench was covered in white satin.

A prelude of nuptial music was played by Mrs. L. B. Howard, organist, who accompanied Buddy Brazil as he sang "Thine Alone" and "O, Perfect Love." Mr. Brazil was also given a musical background as he read "Why Do I Love You?"

BRIDAL GOWN
The bride's father gave her in marriage. Hand-loomed Chantilly lace and silk tulle over satin fashioned the wedding gown, which was made with an elongated bodice. The square neckline was marked with the natural scallops of lace, and the long sleeves tapered to points over the bride's hands.

A wide band of insertion circled the bouffant skirt, which terminated in a court train. A queen's crown of starched lace was embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes and held a finger tip veil of silk illusion.

A white orchid nestled in a bed of tuberoses on a white Bible, which was a gift to the bride from her aunt, Ollie Harding.

Attending as maid of honor was Virginia Holder of Lamesa; bridesmaids were Gaynell Simmons of Houston; Virginia Coleman and Mrs. Reuben Autery, both of Waco; and Mrs. Duane Pitts of Big Lake.

The attendants were attired in identical frocks of pastel green antique silk and chiffon. The long bodices featured portrait necklines, accented by folds of the draped fabric, with tiny cap sleeves.

Similar fabric folds marked the bows. Headresses were dotted nose veils in matching shades; nosegays carried by the attendants were green carnations tied with white ribbons in showers.

The father of the bridegroom served him as best man. Frank Smith and John Massier Jr., brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, Ralph Carrigan, and Woody Scales, all of Waco, were the groomsmen. They also acted the guests.

Attired in a dress of yellow organdy and wearing a yellow semihalo in her hair, Connie Smith of Waco acted as flower girl.

For the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, the table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth and centered with the nosegays of the attendants.

The arrangement was flanked with white tapers in crystal candelabra.

A three tiered cake, decorated with white roses and holding a miniature bride and groom, rested on a large mirror and was based in greenery. Serving was done by Mrs. John Massier Jr. and Mrs. Swan Richardson.

Presiding at the register were Sandra Bain and Yvonne Alsip.

Famous Sea Saga Comes To Life On Screen

Look Out, Moby Dick

A masterpiece of literature has been brought to the screen in "Moby Dick," playing Sunday through Saturday at the Ritz.

Gregory Peck, Richard Basehart, Leo Genn and Orson Welles star in the film version of Herman Melville's great American sea saga. "Moby Dick" took three years to film in such varied locations as England, Wales, Ireland, the Irish Sea, the Atlantic Ocean, the Madeira and Canary Islands.

John Huston produced and directed the epic story of the men who searched the seven seas for the mammoths of the deep, the giant whales.

Peck is seen in the role of Captain Ahab, unchallenged tyrant of the whaler, the Pequod. Ahab, who had nearly been destroyed by the giant white whale, Moby Dick, was possessed of a lust for vengeance. He had sworn to kill the whale, and no man in his crew would be spared in the attempt.

Basehart, in the role of Ishmael, tells the story of Moby Dick. Ishmael, in the Melville book, was a romantic adventurer "with the look of a poet and the strength of a giant." It is he who befriends Queequeg, the cannibal-turned-harpooner.

Starbuck, first mate of the Pequod, is played by Leo Genn. Starbuck first becomes aware of Ahab's lust for vengeance, and matches his faith and fears against the fury of Ahab.

Orson Welles appears as a New Bedford preacher who unwittingly prophesied the evil that lies in Ahab.

The fading summer season offers Texas theater-goers two openings the coming week.

Houston's Alley Theater will present the world premier Tuesday of a new play, "Career," by James Lee. It depicts 27 years in the life of a New York actor in flashbacks and scene changes in the manner of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman." The star is Charles Aidman, young stage and TV actor from New York. "Career" is reported undergoing much last minute cutting and polishing, but even so may run three hours. The Houston engagement is three weeks.

The Tyler Civic Theater opens its 1956-1957 season with six performances of "The Tender Trap," by Max Shulman and Robert Smith. This is the seventh season of the Theater-in-the-Round in its present building which seats 200 persons.

The State Fair Musicals of Dallas ends its summer season this week with "Show Boat." The six show stand is a lavish production starring Shirley Jones and William Trabert. The biggest moment of the great Kern and Hammerstein classic is Lawrence Winters' singing of "Ol' Man River" aided by the choral effects of Fannie Gibson's jubilee singers.

The summer's newest dramatic company, a group of University of Texas drama students who call themselves Studio 183, appears to have gotten off to a wobbly start. For their first play they chose a 19th Century museum piece, "Fashion." John Bustin in the Austin American called the heavy melodrama "quaint instead of genuinely amusing... an interesting sort of experiment, but hardly as much fun for the audience as it appears to be for the players."

Still to be seen at San Antonio are the Patio Players production of the Noel Coward comedy, "Blythe Spirit," and the Music Theater group's presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan "Pirates of Penzance." Dinner before the show is optional in both cases. They are to continue for several weeks.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "The King and I" closed at Houston's Theater, Inc. Saturday night after 10 weeks. The $20,000 production, which was praised for its spectacle, pacing and fortunate casting, played to more than 12,000.

Also closing Saturday night was the Wichita Falls Civic Playhouse Assn.'s summer musical variety show "Cool Inside: 1956." The show had a limited engagement of three performances, but the association plans legitimate drama productions beginning in October.

Brief notes: Jacques Singer, musical director and conductor of the Corpus Christi Symphony Orchestra, will conduct the National Symphony Orchestra of Guatemala Sept. 14 in Guatemala City.

William Holmes of Tyler has been elected president of the East Texas Regional Symphony Orchestra. Director Bernard Szold is assembling a cast for the Victoria Civic Theater's production of "The remarkable Mr. X," scheduled for October. He has also chosen "Solid Gold Cadillac" and "The Women" for his season of five plays. And the Victoria Community Chorus and Orchestra has scheduled the operetta "Roberta" for late November. It will also present either "Show Boat" or "Student Prince" later.

Walter Herbert, director of the Houston Grand Opera Assn., is holding auditions for singers for a season of three operas: "La Cenerentola," "La Tosca" and "La Traviata."

PLATTER PALAVER

By Mary Sue Hale

In an eye-catching cover featuring a lone bird in flight against a soothing background of blue, Paul Weston and his orchestra have on the market one of the best-selling of the latest record albums. "Solo Mood," on Columbia, contains such Weston specialties as "A Foggy Day," "Body and Soul," "The One I Love," and "Autumn in New York." Always ready to present the public what they want, Paul Weston has, in the nature of a favorite trend, recorded a collection of mood music. What sets this album in a class by itself is that this is mood music with a distinct character.

Sammy Davis Jr., or if you prefer to refer to him as so many do, Mr. Wonderful, has a new release done up on Decca label. This one bears the title, "Earthbound," and is backed by "Just One of Those Things."

Dean Martin, with orchestra and chorus conducted by Dick Stabile, has a new disk release on the market. "Mississippi Dreamboat," coupled with "The Test of Time" are the titles of tunes. A good follow-up for his "Standing On A Corner," this disk shows possibility of future success.

The Five Keys, a new vocal group consisting of five male voices, are gaining attention with their Capitol release, "Out Of Sight, Out of Mind." The flip side is "That's Right," which is presently taking a back seat to the previous mentioned side, but is a good bet for popularity, on its own.

Isn't it funny how a vocal group, no matter how currently popular, is known only its collective name? Not one record or music fan out of a hundred could name individuals singing in the group.

Gale Storm, who is honored of late as being Dot's Sweetheart of Song, seems to be in the process of bringing an oldie into current hit circles. Her latest for Dot being "Now Is the Hour." Also rating a listen-to is the flip side, "A Heart Without A Sweetheart."

TV Winner, 11, In Coffee Quiz

NEW YORK (AP)—An 11-year-old winner of $100,000 on a TV quiz program has been seriously questioned about the price of coffee in Brazil.

Leonard Ross, the young financial wizard who won that amount on "Big Surprise" (which returns to NBC-TV next month), had barely recovered his breath from platform participation in the Democratic National Convention with young Gloria Lockerman, a CBS-TV $64,000 question winner, when he opened a letter from Sao Paulo Brazil.

"In view of your understanding of finance," a prominent Rotarian named Senor Alvaro Queiroz Filho wrote Leonard in Tijuana, Calif., "what would you tell us as to whether the present price of coffee is high in the view of the American housewife?"

Leonard is pondering his answer, which should not take him long.

Actress Calls Big Bosoms 'Matronly'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Women with too large bosoms, including Anita Ekberg and myself, look too matronly, we don't look well in clothes.

Marie Windsor matter-of-factly dropped this heretical bombshell the other day in this capital of reverence for the bountiful bosom. "Bosoms? What's wrong with it? Marie Dropped her bombshell. It's not that her 38-inch chest is, per se, objectionable, she explained, but that her 34-inch "rib cage"—the anatomy between bosom and waist—makes it seem unduly prominent. "Most women with a 38 bosom have a 36 rib cage," she added. "I've considered wearing false rib cages."

Dead Dervish

Anthony Steel brandishes a knife in this scene from "Storm Over the Nile," one of the classics of desert war films.

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

It's a fairly good movie week in Big Spring, with enough variation to provide entertainment for several tastes. Two adventure films lead the list, with an "adult" movie coming a close second.

alone would make it worth seeing: Gregory Peck, Orson Welles, Richard Basehart and Leo Genn. But the screenplay was written by Ray Bradbury and John Huston, and Huston directed. Bradbury is well known as a writer of the more chilling sort of science fiction, and is one of the few whose works were good enough to appear in magazines like The Saturday Evening Post.

Shirley Won Oscar Too Soon

HOLLYWOOD (S)—Shirley Booth leaned back in her chair beside her swimming pool and said, "I wish I hadn't won the Academy award so soon."

"I Am A Camera" was billed as the answer to the U.S. film, "The Moon Is Blue." It has a long way to go to be as racy as the "Moon" film, but "I Am A Camera" goes far enough to be entertaining to adult audiences.

Movie Classic Tells Story Of Sudan Conquest

One of the classics among desert warfare films, "Storm Over the Nile," plays Sunday through Tuesday at the State Theatre.

Starring Laurence Harvey, Anthony Steel, James Robertson Justice and Mary Ure, it has all North Africa as its battleground, a cast of thousands and a drama of fury and spectacle.

The story of the film tells how Steel, reluctant scion of a family proud of its military traditions, suddenly resigns his commission, motivated by fear that he would be an indifferent, and therefore dangerous, officer to his troops in the bitter Sudan war.

His brother officers and his fiancée, herself conditioned to the code of a military family, each send him a white feather as symbol of his cowardice.

To restore his honor, Steel embarks on a desperate course. He makes his way to the Sudan, disguises himself as a mute Sangali tribesman and embarks upon a series of adventures while the war rages in the African desert.

He is among the thousands of natives who, by super-human effort, haul the British gunboats up the Nile cataracts; he rescues Harvey when the latter is blinded by exposure to the harsh Sahara sun; he deliberately winds up a prisoner in the fortress of Omdurman to rescue his other two fellow officers.

Aside from the many of the spectacles, two battles live the story of "Storm Over the Nile." One is the battle of Khartoum, where thousands of Hottentots overwhelm a British expeditionary force. The other is the British-Egyptian assault on Omdurman which broke the power of the fanatic Dervishes.

Wayne, Hayward Are 'Conqueror' Stars

John Wayne may be seen at the Terrace Theatre Sunday and Monday in "The Conqueror," a fictional portrayal of the character of Genghis Khan, a 13th century conqueror.

Starring with Wayne are Susan Hayward and Pedro Armendariz.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

Few recent novels have proved so popular with readers as "Andersonville," that ponderous story of the notorious prison camp of Civil War days.

MacKinlay Kantor's story hit the best seller lists almost with its publication. That was months ago. The book still clings to a coveted spot in the top list of most popular fiction. It has slipped somewhat from its top place which it held for weeks and weeks and now is at the bottom of the list of five best sellers. However, being anywhere in the best seller ranks is rated as top achievement.

Kantor is no novice at producing readable and exciting yarns. Many other of his books have been favorites for a long time. He has a penchant for dealing with Civil War themes and there is no one better able to tell a story about those days than he is.

Other books in the current list of best sellers include "The Last Hurrah" by Edwin O'Connor; "Don't Go Near the Water" by William Brinkley; "A Thing of Beauty" by John Cronin; and "A Single Pebble" by John Hersey.

On the non-fiction side, Robert J. Donovan's "Eisenhower: The Inside Story" tops the list. Dan Alexander's "Arthritis and Common Sense" is in second place.

Sometimes ago this department carried a review of a highly hilarious story of a New York couple who went to New Mexico and bought a "dude" ranch. The book looked like it would be highly popular and sure enough it is. "Guestward Ho" by Barbara Hooten and Patrick Dennis, is in third place on the best seller list.

In addition to these best sellers, plus old favorites which are on the shelves, here's some of the newer books which have just been unpacked and made available to library patrons.

In the field of religious subjects is "And Walk In Love" by Henrietta Buckmaster. This is story of the Apostle Paul, Samuel and King Saul are the principal characters in "The Prophet and the King," by Shirley Watkins. Peter Bourne's "When God Slept," a rousing tale of the barbaric East in the 12th century is another that should be catalogued in this group.

Newer books of fiction on hand include:

"A Certain Smile" by Francois Sagan; "The Ripening Seed" by Colette; "Charmed Circle" by Susan Ertz; "The Wind in His Fists" by John Jennings; "The Straight and Narrow Path" Honor Tracy.

Two new books—just as stated above—are next on the list. They are the best sellers "Don't Go Near the Water" and "A Single Pebble." Other new books you'll like are "The Aristocrats" by de Saint Pierre; "A Little More Than Kin" by Nella Gardner White; "The Wind Was Cold" by Hugh Clevley.

Three volumes of light fiction have just made their debut. They are "A Wish a Day" by Berta Ruck; "Nurses Marry Doctors" by Maude Welch; "Marcia Blake, Publicity Girl," by Nancy Webb.

Here are three mystery yarns you'll want to read: "Murder in Print" by Ray Sonin; "A Store of Wrath" by Seldon Truss; and "We Haven't Seen Her Lately" by E. X. Ferrars.

You might tear these listings out and take them with you to the library. Not all of the books will be available—other book worms are busy too, you know—but you'll undoubtedly be able to get some of them.

Cooler weather makes for more reading fun, I always say. Autumn may not be here for good but we have at last had a few interesting samples of the kind of temperatures which are in store in the not too distant future.

Director Lauds 'Shocker' Movie

HOLLYWOOD (S)—Director Mervyn Leroy, who believes every successful movie must be a love story, calls "The Bad Seed" the greatest love story he's ever made.

It's such a shocker that for the first time in Hollywood history, Warner Bros. is recommending an "Adults Only" label for a movie about a child.

"It's a great love story—the greatest I ever made," Leroy said. "It's the love of a mother for a daughter she knows is a sadistic killer."

'Pardners' Not Completely Busted

HOLLYWOOD (S)—"It's a funny split-up," Dean Martin said, tilted back in a chair beside his swimming pool. "It doesn't seem like we've split. We're just going out on our own. Just want to prove something to ourselves, is all."

The "split" is, of course, his much discussed parting with Jerry Lewis—a severing which, Dean indicated, may not be nearly as final as generally supposed.

Take "Pardners," their latest movie release and certainly not their best. "It's doing 30 per cent more business than our other pictures, which grossed an average of four million," Dean said. "People think it's our last picture." If that is the public assumption, he added: "We're cheating."

In the cans awaiting New Year's release is another Martin & Lewis picture, "Hollywood or Bust." The comics are under contract to producer Hal Wallis for three more films together, one a year.

"After that we'll probably do one together for our own company," Martin added.
