Gamblers Get It Two Ways With U.S. Tax

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Big Porky the gambler automatically twitched a nervous glance over his shoulder and shook his head in vast sorrow.

"With the feds breathing down yer neck," he said hoarsely, "it's tough tryin' to make a dishonest dollar anymore."

"Some days," he added in disgust, "I think I'll quit."

What saddens Big Porky is that he'd like to get right with Uncle Sam's Treasury agents by paying the federal gambling taxes enacted by Congress in 1951. But if he does, it means disclosing his illegal livelihood to the local police—with a 62-and-even chance of winding up in jail.

Once a gambler registers and buys a $50 Federal gambling tax stamp, all the painful details he is required to give—including his name, address and business associates—immediately become available to state and local authorities.

Some states regard possession of the $50 stamp as prima facie evidence of gambling. Except in Nevada, most gambling is illegal. The stamp itself is by no means a Federal permit to gamble. Each is plainly marked: "This is a tax receipt — not a license."

The law doesn't affect friendly poker, dice or bridge games where money changes hands. It is aimed only at professional bet takers and pay-off gambling devices such as punchboards, pinball machines and one-arm bandit slot machines. Handicapped by limited manpower — with only 1,600 special agents to enforce all the nation's tax laws — the Internal Revenue Service has just about given up trying for full-scale enforcement of a law it has always said is unenforceable without a huge army of agents.

"The best we can do is token raids," an official said.

Recently, spurred by numerous complaints, T-men have been cracking down on pay-off pinball machines in lightning raids across the country.

In six months, federal agents have confiscated 483 of the coin-operated devices which reap a harvest running into hundreds of millions of dollars a year. A single pinball machine, which costs $300 to $1,800, takes in as much as $2,500 a year in nickels and dimes. The top jackpot is usually $15.

All such pay-off devices require a $250 federal tax stamp. The law also applies to "scoop-it-up" "digger" machines in which the player fishes for prizes — cheap watches, cameras, pen knives, etc.

Treasury officials say frankly the 1951 law is a headache. For strict enforcement, they say it would take 50,000 T-men to police gambling in New York State alone.

Beauty And Brains

Marilyn M. Meyer, 18-year-old art student at Baylor University, holds her trophy after being named National College Queen at Asbury Park, N. J. Marilyn, from Waco, won the beauty contest by one point over Carol Jean Lewis, 18, left, sophomore at Roosevelt University, Chicago, and Joann Schoenfeld, 19, right, junior at Brigham Young University, of Provo, Utah. The new queen weighs 105 pounds, is 5 feet 2 inches tall and measures 34-23-34.

Ike Begins New Drive To Get Out GOP Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, showing some irritation at Democratic campaign attacks, is launching a new drive to cut down the number of stay-at-home Republicans in November.

Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday he has read that polls indicate Republicans apparently are not registering as fast as Democrats and that "I deplored that situation."

He is expected to explore it further when he meets late today with an estimated 600 or more Republican leaders from all sections of the nation at a campaign rally on his farm near Gettysburg, Pa.

The Republican setback in Maine's general election Monday cast something of a shadow over the rally preparations, although Eisenhower ascribed the outcome there largely to the popularity of Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie, who was re-elected.

"Maine had a very popular governor," Eisenhower said, "and they decided they wanted him again, and his majority was such that he helped every other person on the ticket."

Asked whether he foresees the possibility of a close contest in November, he said, "I regard any contest as close until after it is won."

Eisenhower also made it clear he is following closely—and doesn't particularly relish—the campaign attacks leveled at him by Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent, and Sen. Estes Kefauver, Stevenson's running mate.

Asked directly about the campaign they have been waging, Eisenhower paused and then replied: "I believe I would rather not comment on that."

At another point, a reporter asked whether he would identify some of the campaign "distortions" which Vice President Nixon has attributed to the Democrats.

Eisenhower said he would leave that to others, but added: "I think you can read in the newspapers of some of the things that have been said about me and this administration."

He said he doesn't care what the Democrats say about him. But he added, with an edge in his voice: "I still believe America believes I am honest; that I am not a rascal, that I am not a racketeer or anything like it."

Judge Ends $1-A-Month Rent Deal On Mansion

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Alexander J. Brady family has been paying the government $1-a-year rent for a 17-room mansion for seven years, but a federal judge says no more.

Judge Paul Jones ordered Brady to move out and pay the government $1,500 back rent — $100 a month for the last 18 months.

How did Brady ever get a deal like that?

He sold the house to the government for $31,350 in 1949. The government planned to build a veteran's hospital on Brady's property and 13 adjacent lots.

The people who lived in the 13 other houses also sold to the government and moved out. But Brady wanted to stay on.

So he got a government man to sign an agreement, renting him the house at $1 a year "until such time as the premises are . . . actually needed for the purpose for which purchased."

That day never came. Immediate plans for the hospital were cancelled.

Eighteen months ago, the government ordered Brady to move. He refused and displayed his agreement.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Russell Ake argued in court that the agreement was invalid because the government officer who signed it had no such authority.

Judge Jones agreed. "I don't think there is any rhyme or reason to his position," he said. "What if the hospital were never built?"

Brady says he won't appeal, but he'd still like to stay in the house and is willing to pay $100 a month for the eight bedrooms, five baths, four fireplaces and three-car garage.

Texas Counties Among Top 100

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven Texas counties were among the top 100 in the United States in value of agricultural products in 1954, the Commerce Department reported today.

Four of the seven counties were on the South Plains of West Texas. The other three were in South Texas.

Hale County was the top Texas county, with farm products valued at $50,826,307. It ranked 25th in the nation.

Top county in the United States was Fresno, Calif., with $208,212,800 in farm products. Most of the top 24 counties were in the vegetable, cotton and fruit growing areas of California.

In addition to Hale, the other Texas counties in the top 100, the value of their farm products and their rank in the nation, were: Lubbock, $48,862,302, 28th; Hidalgo $46,120,450, 32nd; Cameron $38,963,637, 41st; Lamb, $37,347,131, 47th; Nueces $31,763,765, 67th; and Floyd $28,357,872, 81st.

All of the top counties in Texas increased their ranking over 1949 except Hidalgo, which dropped from 17th, and Cameron, which declined from 28th.

Hale County in 1949 was 54th, Lubbock 33th and Lamb 79th. Nueces and Floyd were not in the top 100 in 1949.

Former Sheriff Is Found Dead

MARLIN, Tex. (AP)—L. O. Hay Sr., about 56, Falls County sheriff for 12 years and more recently an implement dealer, was found shot to death at his home early today.

He had been in bad health for several months. The bullet entered Hay's head. A gun was found nearby.

Sen. Wiley Holds Lead In Political Fight For Life

By The Associated Press

The political hopes of a raft of candidates rode in eight primary elections over the nation yesterday, and a hot ballot battle in Wisconsin involving veteran Republican Sen. Wiley was still in progress today.

Wiley held a slim lead over Rep. Glenn Davis in a fight for the Republican senatorial nomination.

For Wiley it was a political fight for life. The state GOP organization refused to endorse his candidacy, giving the nod to Davis instead.

Some nationally known figures also saw their hopes go glimmering. Republican Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah conceded defeat in his bid for an unprecedented third term nomination and former Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan trailed in his fight for the Colorado Democratic senatorial nomination.

Lee gained national prominence with frequent criticisms of President Eisenhower's policies and his refusal to pay part of his 1955 income tax — the part he said would go for foreign aid.

Brannan, author of the controversial farm plan bearing his name and secretary of agriculture under President Truman, was running behind former Rep. John A. Carroll, an unsuccessful candidate for the Senate in 1950 and 1954.

Georgia holds a Democratic primary today, leaving only Rhode Island and Massachusetts with state contests still to be decided.

Other results yesterday:

The outcome of the Democratic senatorial primary battle in Wisconsin was settled earlier, when Elliott Walstead conceded victory to State Sen. Henry Maier. Walstead is a former state party chairman.

None of the nine incumbent Wisconsin representatives had a primary opposition.

Atty. Gen. Vernon Thompson was unopposed for the Republican nomination for governor. William Proxmire had no opposition for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Republican Gov. Walter J. Kohler is not seeking reelection.

In Utah, Gov. Lee conceded defeat after returns showed him trailing by 5,000 votes at the three-quarter mark. It was generally classed as an upset for political newcomer George D. Clyde, State Water Board chairman.

In the Democratic gubernatorial primary, Salt Lake City Commissioner L. C. Romney held a slim lead over Atty. John S. Boyden.

State Sen. Alonzo F. Hopkins led former Gov. Herbert Maw in the race for the Democratic senatorial nomination. The winner will contest Sen. Wallace Bennett, who was unopposed for renomination in the November election.

On the Democratic side in Colorado, former Gov. Dan Thornton was unopposed for the GOP senatorial nomination.

All four Colorado congressmen — two Democrats and two Republicans — had no primary opposition.

Lt. Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols had no opposition for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. His November opponent, State Sen. Donald Brotzman, had no opposition on the Republican side.

In Washington state, Sen. Warren Magnuson (D) was running well ahead of Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie in a senatorial "popularity contest." Both were unopposed for the respective Senate nominations.

In the race for nominations for the governor's chair being vacated by Langlie, Lt. Gov. Emmett Anderson was far ahead on the Republican side, and State Sen. Albert D. Rosellini of Seattle led the Democratic ticket.

The Magnuson-and Langlie vote totals were seen as possible indications of the relative popularity of the two when they meet head on in the November election.

In Minnesota, Democratic-Farmer-Labor (DFL) candidates and Republican hopefuls were running in a semipopularity contest. Lacking major issues, party leaders saw the voting as a test of party strength.

As counting continued, Republicans ran slightly ahead of DFL candidates.

Ancher Nelsen, REA administrator who resigned to seek the Republican nomination for governor, was ahead of incumbent Gov. Orville L. Freeman on the DFL side. Both had opposition on their respective tickets but no one was close.

The five DFL congressmen and Republican Rep. August Andresen were unopposed for renomination. Three other GOP House members — Representatives O'Hara, Judd and H. Carl Anderson — all held comfortable leads over opponents.

In other races:

New Hampshire—All Republican incumbents, Sen. Norris Cotton, Gov. Lane Dwinell and Representatives Merrow and Bass, easily won renomination. Cotton will be opposed in November by Laurence M. Pickett, who was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

The only major Democratic congressional contest was won by James B. Sullivan of Marichester, who will oppose Merrow in November. John Shaw, defeated by Dwinell in 1954, was unopposed for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. George F. Brown won the Democratic congressional nomination to oppose Bass.

Vermont—Atty. Gen. Robert T. Stafford defeated House Speaker John Hancock for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. In the only other statewide contest, Dep. Atty. Gen. Frederick J. Reed beat Reginald T. Abare for the GOP nomination for attorney general. Sen. George Allen, Gov. Joseph B. Johnson and Rep. Winston L. Prouty all were unopposed for Republican renomination.

Arizona—Sen. Carl Hayden won Democratic renomination over a challenging Phoenix pharmacist, Robert Miller. Former State Atty. Gen. Ross Jones led Phoenix Atty. Albert Mackenzie for the Republican senatorial nomination for Hayden's seat.

Democratic Gov. Ernest W. McFarland was unopposed for renomination. Horace Grien, a Phoenix newspaper executive, and O. D. Miller, former state senator, battled it out for the GOP bid to oppose McFarland, with Grien slightly ahead.

Churchill Legend Spiked

LONDON (AP)—One of Sir Winston Churchill's oldest friends has debunked the legend of Churchill the imperturbable in World War II.

Lord Brabazon of Tara says Churchill was vile-tempered, heaping abuse on those who worked with him. He tells the story in a new autobiography, "The Brabazon Story."

Brabazon, aviation pioneer and sportsman, was minister of aircraft production for a time in one of Churchill's wartime cabinets.

Writing of the stormy meetings of the Battle of the Atlantic Committee, Brabazon says:

"They were the most unpleasant meetings I have ever attended. The issue was grave, but the way Churchill treated everyone was almost unbearable.

"He usually appeared after his early afternoon sleep in the vilest of tempers. . . .

"He behaved as if he were a bullying schoolmaster. Everyone in his opinion, was a half-wit; and if anyone said anything he was jumped on and snubbed."

Even accounting for the strain under which the Prime Minister labored, Brabazon says, "the general cursing everyone got was not the best way of inspiring incentive and imagination."

Brabazon emphasizes, however, that he bore no malice towards his wartime friend and colleague.

Shortest Rail Line Defunct

CASSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—The nation's shortest commercial railroad goes out of business today — if they finish unloading a car of sacked feed in time.

The feed was the last payload of the once-thriving Cassville & Exeter Railroad, a 4½-mile line connecting this town of 2,500 with Exeter, Mo.

Engineer Jim Ashley was due to make the last run yesterday, pulling an empty boxcar with his old diesel locomotive. But they didn't get the feed unloaded, so the trip had to be postponed until today. If they don't finish the job today, he'll make the run tomorrow.

The C&E has been operating on the same casual basis in recent years. F. P. Sizer of Monett, Mo., president, said it operated only when needed. "We ran as many cars as necessary," he said.

The C&E was founded 80 years ago because the main line of the Frisco Railroad missed Cassville, a county seat.

The railroad did a thriving business hauling lumber, cement, oil, feed and other freight.

But business gradually diminished as highways and truck improved. Lack of income is forcing it to shut down.

Leaving

Associate Justice Sherman Minton walks out of the U. S. Supreme Court building in Washington after he announced that he would retire from the bench on October 15 due to impaired health. He will be 66 years old Oct. 29 and has been on the bench since Oct. 12, 1949.

AACS Takes Top Honors

Capt. Oliver Rogers, commander of the local AACS Detachment, receives a duplicate of the Commander's Trophy for his unit at Webb. Presenting the trophy is Col. Albert H. Snider, commander of the 1822nd AACS Group.

Webb Group Shares Award

Webb's 1900th AACS Detachment and its parent, the 1900th AACS Squadron of El Paso, recently received the Commander's Trophy for outstanding achievement. The 1900th AACS Squadron received the trophy through being rated first of 15 squadrons competing for the award. All detachments of the squadron received duplicate trophies. The award was made on the basis of over-all efficiency in performance of mission. AACS is responsible for the operation and maintenance of aircraft traffic control services and navigational aids. Also considered in the rating was general administration. The 1900th AACS Squadron Headquarters is located at Biggs AFB, El Paso, and has detachments at Webb AFB, Goodfellow AFB, and Holloman AFB. The Squadron is under the command of Maj. Billy R. Payne. Capt. Oliver Rogers is detachment commander at Webb, and Lieutenants Ralph Scott and Willis J. Waters command the detachments at Goodfellow and Holloman AFB respectively.

Brothers Show No Remorse In Plot To Kill Father

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Three brothers — 10, 9 and 7 — showed no remorse today after admitting, police said, that they carried out a plot to kill their sleeping father. Homicide Lt. Al Etzel said the boys told of planning to shoot their mother too "so they could run the house the way they wanted." But no attempt was made on her life. Thomas William Parker, 31, a steelworker, died last night of a bullet wound in the head. Etzel said he was told by Tommy, 10, Bobby, 9, and Richard, 7. The boys decided to shoot their father after he reprimanded them for breaking into a neighbor's garage and taking .22-caliber ammunition. When they were sure he was asleep, Tommy handed a .22-caliber rifle to Richard and said: "Go on in and shoot Daddy." Richard fired the shot. A fourth brother, Harry, 4, and a 2-year-old sister were not in on the plot. Their mother, Mrs. Betty Parker, 28, who is expecting another child, discovered the shooting when she returned home. The boys were turned over to juvenile authorities.

JAMES ROBERSON

WTCC Signs Staff Assistant

ABILENE — James Owen Roberson of Lubbock has joined the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as a staff assistant. Roberson will serve in the fields of public information, publications and research. A native of Slaton, he moved to Lubbock at an early age and attended public schools there. Following graduation from Lubbock High School, he entered Baylor University at Waco where he was graduated last May with honors. He received a bachelor of arts degree with a major in journalism. He received the Sigma Delta Chi Award as most outstanding male graduate in journalism in 1956, one of only 32 in the nation. While at Baylor, he served as editor of the Baylor Lariat, student newspaper; as president of the Baylor Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity; president of Pi Lambda Sigma, pre-law fraternity; treasurer of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity; and as vice president of the Baylor Chamber of Commerce. He was also a member of the varsity debate squad and a special distinction member of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary speech fraternity. Roberson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Roberson, 2601 39th Street, Lubbock. He is married to the former Jo Ann Van Norman of Lubbock. The couple has one daughter, Melanie Ann, two months of age. They reside at 850 Merchant Street in Abilene.

Hopalong Harry Nabs Theft Suspect

NEW YORK (AP) — Mounted Patrolman Harry Hauca became "Hopalong Harry" yesterday when he galloped his horse down a busy Manhattan street in pursuit of an alleged thief. The policeman on horseback whipped out his service revolver and fired three shots in the air to warn the fleeing man to halt. A foot patrolman helped Hauca grab William Warff, 38. Police said he took six coats from a garment factory. He was charged with possession of stolen property.

HCJC Establishes Drama Department

Howard County Junior College is in the process of establishing a speech and drama department. Selected to head up this new department is F. E. Short, a native Texan, who has had wide experience in the field and is enthusiastic over the possibilities offered at HCJC for an active program. He came from Austin College at Sherman to the local college and has been on the faculties of Clarendon College, Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, Okla. Teachers College, and served four years at Mary Hardin-Baylor College at Belton. Short was director of the widely known Polk Street Players of the Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo. At Northeastern State he served while Dr. Earl Blank was on leave for his doctorate at the University of Denver. Dr. Blank is the founder of the National Thespian Society, national high school drama fraternity. Short, in addition to being a member of National Thespian Society, is also a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary drama fraternity; Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity; and of the Speech Association of America. He is the author of a number of one-act plays which have been sponsored by the National Theatre Conference in Italy and England. Some of these have been produced at the University of Texas. Howard Junior College Speech and Drama Department will offer work in dramatics, stage and TV in addition to radio this first year of its existence, Short said. The department will also participate in extra-curricular speech and drama events with colleges in various tournaments over the state. As an inspiration to the embryo drama group at the college, HCJC had acquired an autographed photograph of the young American actress, Julie Harris. Miss Harris was recently presented the Critics Award as the best young American actress on the American stage. This picture is autographed by Miss Harris and personally dedicated to the Howard County Junior Players. A handkerchief used by the renowned Sarah Bernhardt was presented to Miss Harris as a token of the quality of her work. Making the presentation was Helen Hayes. Short urged all students interested in speech and drama to enroll in the new department. He plans a night class in the fundamentals of speech. "I am convinced," he said, "Howard County Junior College has a great future in speech and drama." One of the innovations Short has in mind for Big Spring is the introduction of theatre-in-the-round arena theater. He has had experience in this unusual field of theatre and worked for a time with Margo Jones, founder of her famous arena theatre in Dallas when Miss Jones was a member of the faculty of the University of Texas. He has had wide experience in theatrical direction. In his career he has produced more than 25 major stage productions. He emphasized that time is wasting insofar as students at the college who are interested in speech and drama are concerned. Prompt enrollment in the new department is urged.

Tropical Storm Veers To South

By The Associated Press
Skies were clear over Texas early Wednesday as tropical storm Dora veered far to the south in the Gulf of Mexico. The storm, expected to hit the Mexican mainland at Nautla, half way between Tuxpan and Veracruz, was expected to cause heavy seas from Corpus Christi southward. Small craft were warned to remain in port. The Weather Bureau at New Orleans before dawn reported that a part of the storm already was over land and the center was expected to break up quickly upon reaching the coast. Texas temperatures ranged from 54 at Salt Flat and 57 at Dalhart to 79 degrees at Galveston early Wednesday.

College Offers Amateur Song Writers Course

By HAL McCLURE
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12 (AP) — Written a popular song. Why not? Experts say an estimated six million Americans have at least one sure-fire hit tune ready. Yet nearly all America's most popular songs are consistently turned out by a few hundred professional writers.

Sporadically, the creative spark burning in millions of amateurs is fanned when one of their group turns out a runaway hit. At the University of California at Los Angeles the amateur song writer never had it so good. UCLA has the only course of its kind in U.S. college education—popular lyric writing. "Let's get one thing straight right now," snorts Hal Levy, the class instructor. "This course is not designed to teach you how to write a hit song. If I knew how to write a hit, I wouldn't be teaching the course."

Levy is a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. He says ASCAP's cooperation is largely responsible for the class's success. To help Levy teach his classes are fellow song writers from Hollywood. Guest lecturers have included Oscar Hammerstein, Johnny Mercer, Johnny Green, Hoagy Carmichael, Harry Warren, Sammy Cahn and Peggy Lee.

"Our aim in these night classes," says Levy, a stocky man with thinning dark red hair, "is to teach the students how to write better lyrics." And while no hits have yet come from the class many of its members have had songs recorded. Since the course was originated by Levy in 1952, under auspices of UCLA's University Extension Division, about 600 students have taken part. The university awards two credits each for the beginners' class and follow-up workshop.

Beginners hear basic lectures on rhyme, form, unity, meter, imagery, rhythm and other techniques of the craft. After the class in fundamentals the student is permitted to enroll in the workshop, which usually begins with a group assignment such as writing lyrics for the "Blue Danube" or the "Skaters Waltz."

The workshop also has brought budding composers and versifiers together. "We often use a cafeteria-style arrangement," explains Levy. Where lyricists spread out their work on desk and piano tops and the composers in the class file past to pick out lyrics best suited for them."

Levy includes in his lectures warnings about the "song sharks" who prey on the gullible amateurs. The Better Business Bureau of Los Angeles calls on him for help when some offers get too "attractive" and the amateur keeps shelling out for more published copies or records of his song.

"I've actually gained more from teaching the course than my students, I'm afraid," says Levy. He says his own lyrics come easier now.

Crippled Children's Parents To Meet

Mitchell Hits Adlai For 'Half-Truths'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell accused Adlai E. Stevenson last night of "half-truths and false implications on matters dealing with economics and labor policy."

The Eisenhower Cabinet member criticized the Democratic presidential nominee in an address at the 50th anniversary dinner of the National Industrial Advertisers Assn. Mitchell said Stevenson's statements on the administration's record on labor have been "motivated more by political ambition than a true desire to enlighten the American people."

Mitchell countered a Democratic charge that the $1-an-hour minimum wage law was passed by a Democratic Congress over the "strenuous" objection of the President and his administration.

"The truth is," Mitchell said, "President Eisenhower originally proposed that the minimum wage be raised from 75 cents to 90 cents and that its coverage be extended to millions of more workers who do not now receive the benefit of the law. Now, mind you, he originated this proposition."

"President Eisenhower had in mind the fact that in the past when the minimum wage was raised, the coverage was contracted."

"Ninety cents was an appropriate increase if we were to avoid unemployment and extend coverage at the same time."

"When an entirely new proposition was presented to the President, namely raising the wage to $1 without extending coverage, the President signed the bill making the $1 minimum wage law."

Mitchell also attacked Democratic campaign charges that the President has not kept a campaign pledge to amend the Taft-Hartley Act, that he has "stacked" the National Labor Relations Board with promanagement personnel and that he has failed to enforce labor standards laws properly.

The secretary said revisions of the Taft-Hartley Act proposed by Eisenhower were rejected by what Mitchell called "a fantastic alliance" of Southern and Northern Democrats.

Years Of Planning Pay Off For Desegregated School

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Years of planning have paid off for Louisville. Its schools have been desegregated without incident.

President Eisenhower warmly praised Louisville's superintendent of schools, Dr. Omer Carmichael, and said he hoped to meet him and get some advice.

Dr. Carmichael said: "We anticipated the court's ruling and started making our plans."

An estimated 2,800 Negro students — approximately a fourth of the Negro pupils in this city of 400,000—enrolled in previously all-white schools yesterday.

Churches, the press, radio, television, fraternal groups and civic clubs supported Carmichael's program. Speakers fanned out from his office orienting the population for what was to come. The superintendent made 60 such talks.

On the opening day of school, white and Negro students repeated the pledge of allegiance in unison, walked the corridors together, sat side by side in class.

"A lot of credit must be given the teachers and principals," Carmichael said. "Without their interest for a good Louisville school program after the court's decision, it would not have been possible."

The task was "made easier," Carmichael said, by integration in other fields. The University of Kentucky began admitting Negro students at the graduate level in 1948. The University of Louisville has Negro students. The city's public parks, libraries and amphitheater are open to all. There is no segregation on the city's buses.

Chefs Gather For Competition

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Four chefs gathered here yesterday to begin planning dishes they hope will bring the United States victory in an international chefs competition at Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 30-Oct. 7.

After considerable brewing, stewing, smelling and tasting the four proclaimed they had the recipe for an American victory. They said their entries will be strictly American dishes.

The chefs are Paul Laesecke of the H.-J. Heinz Co., Otto Spielbichler of the University Club here, Paul Debes of San Francisco's St. Francis Hotel and Paul Leuppe of Chicago's Sheraton Hotel.

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The shirt he was wearing in court proved to be a key piece of evidence in Samuel Mars' trial on a burglary charge.

He denied in Montgomery County Court that he was in the Collegeville vicinity the day on which $35 was stolen from a house there.

But Miss Edna DeAngelis said Mars had been to her home that day seeking work and she had given him a shirt. She was sure it was Mars, she testified, because he was wearing that same shirt in the courtroom.

A verdict of guilty was returned a few minutes later.

GOP Distributes Embarrassing Quotes Of Adlai, Estes, HST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans started distributing to campaign speakers and workers today a compilation of quotes from Adlai Stevenson, Estes Kefauver and Harry S. Truman which the GOP said "Democrats would prefer to forget."

The eight-page typed document recalls some of the things Stevenson and Kefauver, now running mates, said about one another as opponents during primary contests earlier this year, and some things Truman said about both.

Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee said copies will go to GOP speakers, candidates for office, state and local party chairman and workers, and he added: "No Republican need say anything more about these three top Democrats than they themselves have already said."

"We have the most authoritative opinion of Adlai Stevenson from the two men in America who should know him best . . . Sen. Kefauver said Stevenson was guilty of 'mud slinging, race baiting and weasel wording.' And Mr. Truman said 'he can't win.'"

"The voters will now be in a position to judge the sincerity of the two nominees for the highest office in the land as they try to weasel their way out of what they have already put on record."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, and Kefauver, his running mate, have said they regret some of the things they said about each other while both were seeking the top nomination in preference primaries.

Kefauver withdrew two weeks before the party's Chicago convention, supporting Stevenson. The convention subsequently gave him the No. 2 spot. Truman supported Gov. Averell Harriman of New York over Stevenson, but later said he had been proved wrong when he said Stevenson was not a fighter.

Here are some of the statements which the GOP publication attributed to the three men:

Truman on Stevenson: "Recent events prove that he lacks the fighting spirit we need to win . . . I don't think Stevenson can win a single state in addition to what he did in 1952 . . . I am trying my best to keep him from being nominated . . . Stevenson is too defeatist to win."

Kefauver on Stevenson: "What was not good enough to win in 1952 will not be good enough to win in 1956 . . . I challenge Adlai Stevenson to explain, if he can, the race-baiting Dixiecrat tone of his Florida campaign . . . I'm sorry Mr. Stevenson feels he must engage in mudslinging . . . My record was distorted (by Stevenson) the other day down in Florida."

Stevenson on Kefauver: "I am upset over Sen. Kefauver's charges that anybody who supports me is a boss . . . He has resorted to mudslinging and abuse . . . I am under no illusion that the facts will have any influence on my opponent, Mr. Kefauver . . . There may be such a thing as wanting to be president too badly."

Truman on Kefauver: "I am very happy to see Sen. Kefauver defeated (in the California primary) . . . I am more inclined to anyone besides Kefauver, I don't like to discuss it. He might be nominated, and I might have to support him."

Woman Is Run Over, Killed By Ex-Fiance's Car

CHICAGO (AP) — A 36-year-old woman was killed today when a motorist, described by police as her former boy friend, deliberately ran his car into her, made a fast U-turn and ran over her a second time. Her male companion escaped with minor injuries.

Policeman John Casey, who witnessed the tragedy, captured the motorist, Nathan Brown, 30, after a short chase. Casey quoted Brown as saying: "I waited for that for four hours."

Eisenhower said that "whether it is the Suez problem of today or another tomorrow," there is no more important objective than "preserving the peace and providing for our own security."

Referring again to the hope for enduring peace, the President said "there is nothing that so affects our daily lives, almost dictates the level of our taxes."

This conference the President addressed was the first of two he had scheduled for today dealing with efforts to achieve lasting peace.

He arranged to meet later with a group of top diplomatic and defense advisers for a discussion of "disarmament proposals the government is working on." The White House put it that way but declined to elaborate. There was Casey said he saw Brown's car run down Miss Fitzpatrick and her companion, Nathan Goss, 40, as they left a tavern. He said the car sped a short distance, turned around and raced back and ran over the woman again.

Casey said he withheld fire because a crowd had gathered. He commanded a taxicab and curbed the fleeing motorist, who was held by police for further questioning.

Sgt. Eugene Anderson said Miss Fitzpatrick, manager of a tavern near where she was killed, had kept company with Brown until about a month ago.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today "we must widen every possible chink in the Iron Curtain" in an effort to promote global understanding and achieve enduring peace.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Jim Blevins thinks he knows how to find out who has the Presidential election victory in the bag — and he has already started popping the question in the popcorn poll.

Blevins doesn't go in for small scientific opinion samples. He plans a mass check on the sentiments of millions of popcorn eaters. Blevins is, of course, in the popcorn business.

He is putting out 25 million containers to vendors, half of them picturing the Republicans' Eisenhower-Nixon and half the Democrats' Stevenson-Kefauver. Certified public accountants will tabulate consumer preferences.

If you're inclined to take your popcorn polls with a grain of salt, consider this: Blevins says the 1952 popcorn vote called the turn precisely.

Klan Seeks Members

Standing in front of a burning cross, Ku Klux Klansmen from Alabama and Georgia seek new members from a crowd of about 1,000 in Montgomery, Ala. Imperial Wizard E. L. Slay of Atlanta, a minister who said he had been called "an apostle of hate," predicted a Klan of 15 to 20 million members in 10 years.

IN SCHOOLS

Boundaries Often Retain Segregation

By ROBERT E. FORD, Associated Press Staff. Almost two million Texas children and youths returned to city schools in Texas last week. Nearly 500,000 students were in racially integrated districts. That does not mean 500,000 Negro and white pupils were in the same classrooms. Only about 300,000 attended classes together. Some schools within integrated districts still had only white, or only Negro, students. School boundaries often keep Negroes in all-Negro schools. Actually, surveys by Associated Press member newspapers show, the ratio of Negroes to whites attending school together is about 1 in 100 in integrated districts. In individual schools, it often is higher. Trouble erupted in only one school. That school, Mansfield, caught attention because of violence. It also was the farthest east in Texas as that integration had been attempted. Integration attempts were forced, not voluntary. As of the weekend, no Negroes were attending Mansfield schools. The survey showed that integration, which began last year, slowed down considerably this year in the state. No central state agency collects figures on the number of segregated schools or the proportion of Negroes attending formerly all-white schools. But newspaper surveys show that the overall geographical picture this year is about the same as last year — first year of Texas city school integration. These surveys show a scattering of integrated schools in the western two-thirds of the state and none in the eastern third — where Negro population is greater and traditions dating back to slave days increased resistance to integration. L. R. Graham of the Texas Education Agency said the agency's reports indicate "at least partial integration in about 75 districts" last school year. The state has 1,857 districts. The Texas Commission on Race Relations, a pro-integration group, estimated 71 districts integrated last year. The commission said this involved about 1,500 Negro pupils. That compares with the 1,830-492 pupils in Texas schools last year, about one-seventh of them Negro. Many districts integrating for the first time this year did not integrate in all schools or in all grades, which also was the situation in those integrating last year. Among the districts integrating this year for the first time are: Ysleta, Wichita Falls (military school and a fringe school previously integrated), Killeen (military school previously integrated), Kerrville, Spade (Lamb County), Pearsall, Midland, Seguin, Littlefield, Seymour, Burnet, McAllen, Sundee (Nueces County), Schertz-Cibolo, Victoria, Amarillo, and Marion and Navarro in Guadalupe County.

Movie Exposes Scandal Sheets

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Meet Jerry Lewis' new co star—a chunky red-haired Irishman named Darren McGavin. He will play the lead with Jerry in "The Delicate Delinquent" performing in the role which Dean Martin refused and which led to their split as a team. McGavin is quite a switch from the dark-haired, Italian Martin. McGavin is an intense, accomplished actor; Martin is easy-going almost lethargic. About the only similarity between them: They both sing. "But I won't be singing in the picture," McGavin said. Right now McGavin is playing with another comic, fellow named Bob Hope. The actor portrays Charley Hand, the former managing editor who masterminds the political career of New York's Mayor Jimmy Walker, played by Hope in "Beau James." Don't get the idea this McGavin is a funny fellow, just because he cavorts with comics. He had made his mark as a dramatic actor. Matter of fact, he's an alumnus of the Actor's Studio, along with such notables as Marlon Brando, James Dean, Rod Steiger, Julie Harris, Paul Newman, Shelley Winters and that student of the Russian classics, Marilyn Monroe. Second matter of fact: He's probably best known as the nasty, mean, lowdown dope pusher in "The Man with the Golden Arm." When someone suggested McGavin to Jerry Lewis as his co-star, the comedian replied: "That nasty character? I hated him!" But Jerry was persuaded to talk to the actor, and they hit it off from the start. What are chances for a permanent teaming? "That's up to Jerry," said McGavin, "as for myself, I never plan ahead."

Uncle Ray: Mound In Crete Held Remains Of Palace

An enormous clay jar found in Crete. By RAMON COFFMAN. The island of Crete has a length of 160 miles and, at most places, is between 10 and 35 miles wide. In a town called Candia, Arthur Evans rented a house and used it as his headquarters. There he would stay from February to June each year, directing activities at Knossos, a few miles away. The remains of a huge palace were being laid bare by digging away the soil in a big mound. Usually Evans spent the months from July to December in England, his native land. He taught at Oxford, and came to be regarded as the foremost archeologist at that university. What remarkable things that professor had to tell his students! There were, for example, enormous clay jars in the basement of the Palace of Minos. A jar had more than enough room to hold a man. The conclusion has been reached that some of the jars were used to hold olive oil. Others are believed to have been employed as storage places for grain. Often the Palace of Minos is called the Palace of Knossos. This is because it stood at the edge of the ancient city of Knossos. Q. Who was Minos? A. The name usually refers to the first king of Crete. An old legend declares that he was the son of Zeus, the king of the Greek gods, and of the goddess Europa. He also is described as the father of Princess Ariadne. Old records speak of at least one other king named Minos. Some scholars believe that Minos was used as a title for a long line of kings on Crete, just as Caesar, the family name of Julius Caesar, was applied to Caesar Augustus and others who followed him as the ruler of Rome. Astronomers At McDonald Keep Lenses On Mars

FORT DAVIS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Scientists are taking a good look at Mars. The planet is closer to the earth than it will be for 17 years. Dr. eGraud Kuiper, member of the McDonald Observatory staff and the University of Chicago's Yerkes Observatory staff, is in charge of the studies. Mars' nearness affords an excellent opportunity for observation, Kuiper said. When Mars is behind the sun, it is at its farthest distance from the earth—250 million miles. Right now it is only about 35 million miles away. Using McDonald's 82-inch telescope, third largest in the world, Kuiper plans to study Mars' color changes, especially colors of dark areas which may indicate vegetation. The studies will be completed Sept. 17.

Tigresses Kill Male In Zoo Cage

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two tigresses will live out their time at Cincinnati Zoo in spinsters after mauling to death their male cagemate in a savage battle yesterday. The zoo veterinarian, Dr. B. W. Bernard, said the jungle cats "tend to be monogamous." "If we put another male in there now, the tigresses would annihilate him," he said. Zoo officials said there was no way of knowing what caused the fight. Keepers said the attack on 5-year-old Rajah was apparently a surprise, with one female going for his throat and the other attacking his hind quarters.

DAWSON CITY, Yukon Territory (AP)—There's talk of another boom in this town that was the hub of the Klondike 60 years ago. Today the magic word is asbestos. Though no one expects anything to match the gold rush of the 1890s, many believe the once-proud Yukon capital is on the brink of important developments.

GIVE YOUR LIVING ROOM THE Light Touch. Light adds glamour and spaciousness to rooms. A lighted valance like this provides indirect light on ceiling plus dramatic down light on drapes and wall. End table lamps should be the right height for easy seeing—39 to 42 inches from the floor to bottom of shade. Use a 150-watt or 50-100-150 watt bulb. See your home in a new light. Light is the life-giving ingredient that brings out the colors and texture of the furnishings you chose so carefully in decorating. Good lighting fills the room with cheerfulness... eliminates uneven gloomy backgrounds... adds an atmosphere of warmth and friendly hospitality. With attractive lamps and fixtures properly placed, it's easy to light your living room for beauty as well as eye comfort. The free booklet, "See Your Home in a New Light," tells you how. Thirsts grow big and dry in Utah, and beer drinkers there demand a really satisfying flavor. Small wonder that Lucky Lager with its age-dated flavor is such a winner in Utah.

In New Mexico, too? Yes, in New Mexico Lucky Lager has proved itself to be one of the world's finest beers. And now today, in Texas, too, you can enjoy this wonderful beer.

There are many good beers to choose from in Washington. But there, too, more and more beer drinkers have found that Lucky Lager is in a class by itself for smooth, mellow, satisfying flavor.

If ever a state knows its beer, it's Idaho. From the day Idaho beer drinkers got their first taste of Lucky Lager they've been praising the quality of its age-dated flavor.

LUCKY DAY

Ask them in Arizona! They'll tell you no beer can equal Lucky Lager for satisfying refreshment. See how right they are. Make this your Lucky day.

Like your beer smooth and mellow? They do in California, too. Almost 1 out of every 4 glasses of beer enjoyed there last year was Lucky Lager.

What Lucky brought to Nevada was a premium quality beer, with an extra-smooth and mellow flavor. They like it in Nevada. You'll like it here.

Now, LUCKY LAGER is taking Texas by surprise!

Lucky you! Today's the day you discover a bright, surprising flavor you've never known in beer before!

Today's the day you can taste Lucky Lager—the beer that's light in body yet bold and true in beer flavor. The beer that's so smooth, so mellow, it's the largest selling beer in the entire West.

So make the luckiest beer discovery of your life. Get Lucky today!
