3 People Die In Bus Crash

MONROE, Mich. — A greyhound bus and an auto hauling truck crashed head-on near Monroe early today, killing three persons and injuring 22, State Police said.

Troopers of the Erie post said the truck driver and two bus passengers were killed. Two of the dead were identified as Francis G. Pesko of Detroit, the trucker, and Mrs. Frankie Mae Semple, 38, of Detroit. The other victim was not identified immediately.

Six of the injured—one of them in critical condition—were admitted to Monroe hospitals, police said. The others were treated and released.

Planes Arrayed For Midland Air Show

MIDLAND — A great array of military and civilian aircraft will be on display here Sunday at a Jaycee sponsored air show at Midland Airpark.

A B47 medium jet bomber from Abilene Air Force Base will fly over Midland during the show.

Practically every type of commercial aircraft also will be on display. During the afternoon an air circus will be presented, including a parachute jump, wing-walking and stunt flying.

Court Battle Or Write-In Are O'Daniel Alternatives

AUSTIN — Recourse to the state Supreme Court on a voters' write-in were the only two roads left open today for W. Lee O'Daniel of Dallas who is trying to get his name on the Nov. 6 general election ballot as a candidate for governor.

Secretary of State Tom Reavley refused yesterday to have O'Daniel's name printed on the ballot as a candidate for either the Constitution party of Texas or as an independent.

"They (the voters) can write his name in on election day," he said.

Constitution party attorney John Smith of Lubbock asked permission of the high court to file a mandamus suit to force Reavley to put O'Daniel's name on the ballot. The court took no action at once.

The suit said O'Daniel did not take part in the primary where a Democratic nominee was named because he did not vote in the Aug. 25 runoff, nor was he a candidate at the time.

The ultra-conservative Constitution party nominated O'Daniel for governor and four other defeated Democratic candidates. Only O'Daniel accepted the nomination.

Reavley's decision clearly blocked O'Daniel unless the Supreme Court overrules Reavley. O'Daniel said he would run as an independent after placing third behind Sen. Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough.

O'Daniel had not applied yet as Reavley's decision blocked that road.

O'Daniel said that the adverse ruling was a bold brazen iron-fisted attempt to pass the Constitution and laws of Texas. He said the fight to get his name on the ballot would continue.

Mayor To Lead Campaign To Oust City's Negro Students

CLAY, Ky. — Mayor Herman Z. Clark, outspoken integration foe, said today he personally will lead the community's campaign to rid the Clay school of its only two Negro students.

"I'll not rest until James and Teresa Gordon return to a school where they belong," Clark said in an interview.

"We will follow a policy of passive resistance by keeping our children out of school until the Gordons leave."

The movement started yesterday when all white children in the school (enrollment 590) walked out after the Gordons entered classes under protection of 500 National Guardsmen and 60 state troopers. The escort slipped into the community before dawn under the command of Adj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams.

One teacher, Minvil Clark, said he would not return even though "I was threatened with the loss of my teaching certificate by the State Board of Education."

Clark, a Baptist minister here, said he and the school's 11 other teachers were told the board could revoke their certificates if they left school before their working day ended.

The minister repeated his promise later in the day to 200 Clay residents who met at Dixon, the county seat, to urge the Webster County Board of Education to honor a petition suggesting all teachers stay out of classes until the Negroes left.

School Supt. Wilbur Collins told

Police Discover Wild Boy Raised Like A Chicken

BELFAST, Northern Ireland — Police discovered today a boy—apparently about 7—who they said has never bathed, cannot eat human food, who grunts like an animal and roosts like a chicken.

Sgt. Hugh Ross said the "pitiful little boy" was found in a hen house at Down Patrick, County Down, 15 miles from Belfast.

He has been taken to a home in Belfast and turned over to a team of physicians for examination.

Sgt. Ross said a group of children playing "hide and seek" ran into the hen house, which adjoins a cottage occupied by a widow and her two grown daughters.

The children found the boy perched on a roost with the hens and roosters.

"He cannot talk. He cannot walk and he cannot eat human food," the police sergeant said. "He has been reared like a chicken."

The mat of hair on his head did not appear ever to have been cut or washed. He had clawlike fingernails which probably never had been trimmed.

Said William Hamilton, official of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children: "He gets about by hopping like an ape and he replies to voices with grunts in a half human fashion."

Police would not give the name of the widow, who is being questioned.

Texan Given Post By Methodists

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N.C. — Ray Nichols of Vernon, Tex., was elected yesterday a representative of the Methodist Church at a meeting here of the World Methodist Council.

The election came at the close of a 15-day meeting attended by an estimated 2,000 delegates from throughout the world.

Bishop Fred P. Corson of Philadelphia, summing up the conclusions of "discussion groups" which met in the brief intervals between speeches, reported: "Delegates . . . to future assemblies want more time for discussion of current problems . . . and fewer addresses."

About 2,000 delegates from 44 nations attended the conference, hailed by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis, outgoing president of the church's World Council, as: "The most tremendous meeting Methodists have ever had anywhere, anytime."

The Rev. Dr. Harold Roberts, a British theologian and educator, was elected to succeed Bishop Holt.

In his summary, Bishop Corson reported these findings of some of the various discussion groups:

Basis of Christian authority: Individuals, institution and experience contribute to Christian insight but the main guide is a book, the Bible.

Church and state: Man's first responsibility to God remains. The state serves man best as his tool, not his master. It is necessary to find ways of bearing Christian witness in alien or hostile atmospheres.

Race relations: Practice falls short of principles.

Evangelism: Not recruiting church members, but gaining a "full surrender of life" to Christ is the main objective.

Norris Convicted Of Funds Theft

ANSON — A jury convicted Raeburn Norris, Alice attorney, today of conspiring to misappropriate $3,000 in Duval County funds and set his punishment at two years.

JC Enrollment Exceeds 500

Enrollment at Howard County Junior College inched forward Thursday, passing the 500 mark.

Total number signed up through Wednesday was around 480, said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, and a class of some 30 men from Webb AFB will be added in a 72-hour military typing course offered by HCJC. This would give a total of 510.

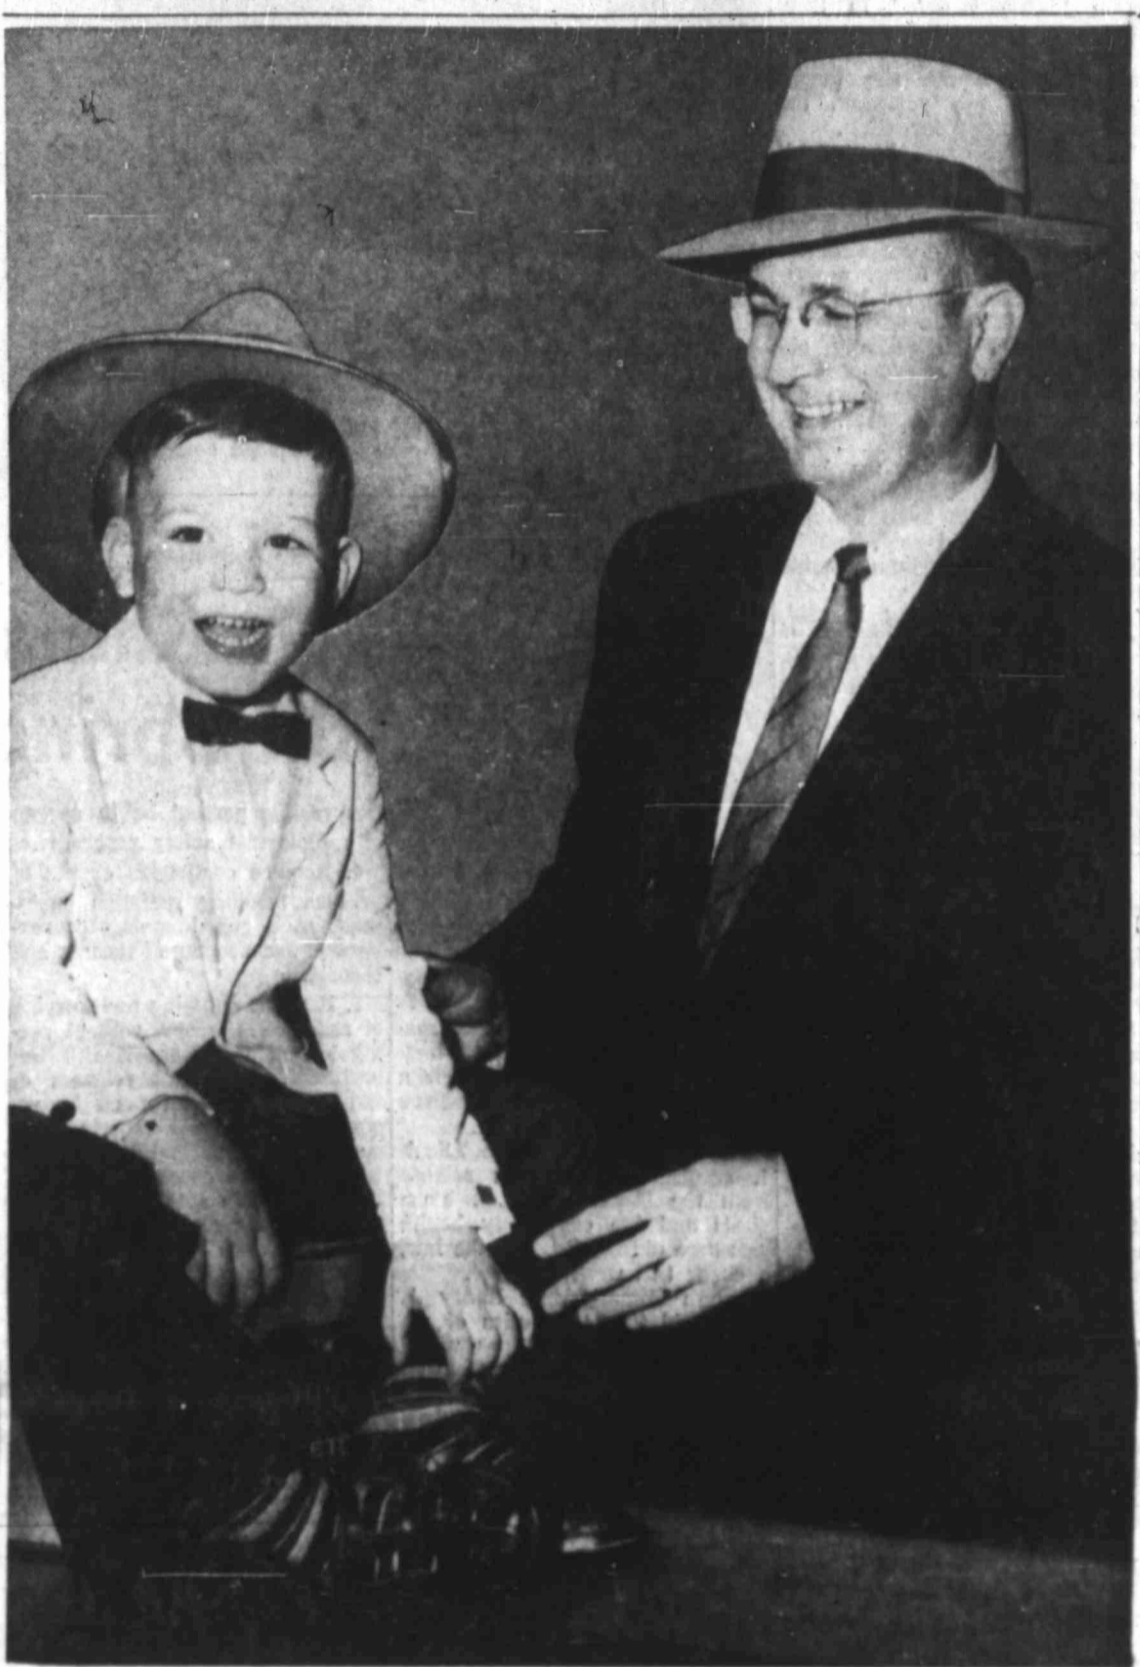

Dr. Hunt said indications are that late registrations would continue at a substantial rate the remainder of this week. Several may be added next week before the Sept. 21 deadline.

Students were welcomed to the campus during the morning at a function held in the Student Union Building. A picnic in their honor will be given at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the S. U. B.

Reports on activities surrounding the opening of the 11th regular term of the college will be heard at the meeting of the board of trustees at 5 p.m. today. Dr. Hunt said other important items of business, including consideration of a soil stabilization project surrounding the new stadium, were on the agenda.

U. S. Won't Open Fire If Suez Canal Is Blocked

Dulles Says Force Not Being Planned

Ben Johnson Jr. is not going to be caught short Friday, on Felt Hat Day. No, sir! He tried on a slick juvenile number, but it was this big deal that brought smiles to him when his father, Ben Johnson, Howard County Junior College dean, let young Ben sample a man-sized number. Of course, it goes without saying that a new felt hat for all men will be a "big deal" here Friday, the day for sacking that old straw and getting into the swing of the fall and winter season.

Britons Reassured U. S. Supports Plan For Suez

LONDON — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today told Parliament the proposed new Suez Canal users' association had the "full support" of the United States.

Lloyd gave this assurance to the House of Commons an hour in advance of a Washington news conference of Secretary of State Dulles to explain just how far the United States has agreed to go in supporting Britain and France in a showdown with Egypt's President Nasser.

Egypt charges the Suez users' plan is designed to provoke a war to seize control of the canal.

Lloyd defended by-passing the United Nations originally in the dispute. He declared it was obvious Soviet Russia would veto any suggestion for international operation of the waterway.

The foreign secretary made plain the Eden government has no intention of backing down in its open feud with Nasser.

"The responsibility is ours and we shall discharge it," he declared. "We are not prepared to let unrestricted control of the operation of this canal pass into the hands of one government or one man. Upon that issue we are not prepared to compromise."

Just before the British House began the second day of an emergency debate on the Suez situation, the French disclosed Premier Guy Mollet had received a personal message from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. Bulganin reportedly urged caution in the canal dispute.

Egypt cabled the United Nations in an effort to counter the West's bid for world opinion. Egypt charged Britain and France—who formally advised the Security Council yesterday that Egyptian actions might block free passage—must bear responsibility for any snag in shipping growing out of a walkout of foreign pilots and technicians.

But Lloyd denied that either the French or British governments had told non-Egyptian experts in Egypt to quit.

"We have in no way sought to influence the pilots to leave," he told the House. "But there really is a limit to what free men can be expected to undergo. As far as I know these men are now working under martial law of another country."

Most pilots and technicians have given notice they will quit this weekend. The walkout could cripple the canal operations.

The users' plan proposed by the Western Big Three is aimed at regulating international traffic through the canal—supplying pilots to guide the ships.

The association would be in the role of a tenant—collecting tolls but paying rental fees for Egypt as the landlord of the canal.

The plan met with mixed reactions in the world capitals.

Israel, feuding with Nasser, immediately announced approval. French Premier Guy Mollet said yesterday ships of all nations, including Israeli vessels long barred by Egypt, would get passage through the canal.

India's Prime Minister Nehru condemned the scheme and declared "The action . . . does not seem to be in the interests of users of the canal."

Most other countries—including several who strongly supported the 18th-nation plan adopted at the London Suez Conference for international control—took a wait-and-see attitude.

Dulles said repeatedly the United States is not seeking to provoke war by helping set up the new Suez association.

This, in effect, was the reply to Cairo denunciations of the association plan.

Dulles also said he could not recall that Eden ever had said Britain intends to shoot its way through the canal, if Egypt tries to stop British vessels from going through.

If Egypt refuses to allow vessels through, Dulles said, it would be in clear violation of the 1888 convention which promised access by all ships to the canal in peace and war.

It would be up to each country to decide what to do in such a case, Dulles said.

If Egypt halted any ships, he said, members which signed this 1888 convention would be free to take steps through the United Nations or take what Dulles called other appropriate action under the circumstances.

HCJC Talk Set On Suez Canal

A man who has studied firsthand the development of the Cyprus and Suez Canal difficulties will discuss the two international problems at Howard County Junior College tonight.

He is William Courtenay, British correspondent who is in Big Spring for two days of lectures at Webb AFB.

His talk is scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the HCJC auditorium. Courtenay's appearances in this country were arranged by the State Department in cooperation with the Army and Air Force. (See related story, Page 3)

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States has no intention of shooting its way through the Suez Canal if Egypt blocks the passage of ships.

Dulles told a news conference the United States would favor diverting its vessels around Africa under such conditions, regardless of the extra cost involved.

He said the U. S. government is ready to consider dollar loans to friendly countries who might be unable to withstand such a financial burden.

Dulles appealed to Egypt to reconsider its initial violent objection to a plan for setting up an association of Suez canal users.

British Prime Minister Eden disclosed Britain, France and the United States would organize such an authority in a speech yesterday.

While Dulles' meeting with reporters was still in progress, the Egyptian Embassy announced that Ambassador Ahmed Hussein had called on Dulles a few minutes earlier to give him "the urgent message that the scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose on Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression on Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war."

The embassy said the ambassador told Dulles: "If the United States desires war then she may support this scheme but if her desire is to work for a peaceful solution, the scheme has to be abandoned."

Dulles' statement today apparently had the personal backing of President Eisenhower.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told reporters at Selwyn Lloyd's Gettysburg, Pa., farm that the President had conferred on the Suez crisis with Dulles by telephone before Dulles' news conference. The President was resting at his farm today.

Hagerty announced too that Eisenhower will fly here tomorrow afternoon for a White House conference with Premier Robert Menzies of Australia. Menzies headed the commission which failed to reach agreement with Egypt's President Nasser in recent Suez discussions in Cairo.

Dulles made no reference at his news conference to Hussein's visit.

In response to questions Dulles said he hopes other nations will join the users' association. But he said the United States would go it alone with Britain and France if necessary.

Dulles said repeatedly the United States is not seeking to provoke war by helping set up the new Suez association.

This, in effect, was the reply to Cairo denunciations of the association plan.

Dulles also said he could not recall that Eden ever had said Britain intends to shoot its way through the canal, if Egypt tries to stop British vessels from going through.

If Egypt refuses to allow vessels through, Dulles said, it would be in clear violation of the 1888 convention which promised access by all ships to the canal in peace and war.

It would be up to each country to decide what to do in such a case, Dulles said.

If Egypt halted any ships, he said, members which signed this 1888 convention would be free to take steps through the United Nations or take what Dulles called other appropriate action under the circumstances.

74 Invited To Tax Talks

Seventy-four residents of Howard County, including school trustees of all schools, superintendents of schools, city and county commissioners and others, have been invited by R. H. Weaver, county judge, to attend a meeting at the court house at 4 p.m. Friday. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the need for a reevaluation of property for tax purposes.

Weaver said that his basic idea in calling the conference was to point out the need for a general reevaluation of property to provide more equity in tax assessments and to insure that all taxable property is listed on the tax rolls.

If the group should elect to adopt the plan, Weaver said it would be necessary to employ a tax engineering firm to make the survey and draw up the lists.

No such reevaluation has been undertaken on a wholesale scale in this county in many years. Weaver said that insofar as he knew it had never been attempted before.

Clerk Nomination Confuses Demos

Reins of the Howard County Democratic Party changed hands today as citizens started looking for a place to file applications for the Democratic nomination for district clerk.

Frank Hardesty, elected county chairman in the July primary, took over the office from J. W. Purser who has served for the past year.

Confusion as to who was the county chairman arose when Purser started referring applicants for the district clerk nomination to Hardesty. Hardesty said he didn't know whether he was the official county chairman or not. He thought his term would start Jan. 1.

Finally, Hardesty and Purser agreed that Hardesty should take over. They decided that the county chairmanship is strictly a party affair, and that Hardesty probably should have taken office immediately after the primary. Party lit-erature and political calendars all are vague on the question.

Hardesty said the Democratic executive committee will consider all applicants for the district clerk nomination, "but I hope there won't be any bloodshed over the question."

"The new chairman is getting braced for a large number of applications. Purser said that two men have talked to him about the matter, and he has heard of others. Those who have said they will be candidates for the nomination are Wade Choate, who was appointed Tuesday night to serve until the November general election, Denver Dunn and J. B. Apple.

The district clerk's post became vacant Sunday with the death of George Choate, who had held the office since 1942. Wade Choate is a nephew of the deceased man.

There seems no end to the boom in irrigation. In Martin County the Wheeler Drilling Company is still putting down wells in various parts of the county. G. L. Loyd, who operates one of the rigs, said that drilling had slowed down but never stopped.

Not many big wells are being found now, but a lot of them will make 200 gallons per minute. He was drilling one last week for a dryland farmer who has been working at an outside job all year. The man said he had much rather be farming, and if he had two small wells there might be a chance to make a living without working on a salaried job.

"We'll probably keep drilling wells until the drought breaks," said Loyd. "It's been dry so long that a lot of people don't believe it will ever rain again."

There should be no shortage of cotton pickers this fall. One of the local Farm Bureau men said 60,000 Mexican Nationals were ready to come across the border from Piedras Negras, and other large groups are bunched along the other border towns.

The Howard County Farm Association has brought in about 60 since the first of last week and have numerous applications for more workers.

Howard County won't make much cotton this year. Estimates now are running as low as 3,500 bales. The maize yield will be even less in comparison.

Hardly any of it will be brought to the mills, according to Ray Wiggins, local grain dealer. He said most of the maize his company gets this year will be trucked in from Lamesa and Brownfield. It's not very good up there, but a lot better than the crop in Howard.

Very few farmers have enough maize to pay the expenses of combining. Most of it will be left on the farms and fed to chickens or cows. Some of it may be grazed in the fields, where the owner has any livestock.

One man brought in a pick-up load of grain this week, said that represented 65 acres of his maize crop.

Emmett Hutto, Big Spring Junior High teacher, used to be a good amateur calf roper down in the hill country where he was reared. He won a little money at local shows. The Trans Pecos started coming to the contests. Hutto tried once or twice after that then quit wasting his entrance fees.

He found that ropers who roped once or twice a week didn't have much chance against fellows who spend several hours practicing every day.

The Shetland pony business is almost as costly as keeping three Cadillacs, if you're on the buying end of it. Owen Kelly of Stanton both buys and sells ponies, but he also raises a good many.

He said registered animals were really getting high. He attended a pony show in Oklahoma recently which grossed $650,000, with one stallion selling for $16,000.

Kelly bought a Shetland stallion down at San Antonio not long ago for his herd. The horse is called Sand Man and is a sort of muddy palomino now, but shows signs of developing into a true palomino. He is only 36 inches high which makes him more valuable than bigger horses.

Kelly has 16 horses in all, including the tiny colt which was recently shown here at the 4-H Club rodeo. The little horse weighed 15 pounds at birth but is now up to around 30.

A Howard County agriculture student will probably make a better livestock raiser than a scholar. On a recent questionnaire, the boys answered by filling in the blank like this: "Roses pugs."

The teacher interpreted it to mean the boy had a preference for growing wine.

ROAD DUST — Farmers continue to leave the farm. A lot more still live in the country but work elsewhere. A woman near Lenora says several of her neighbors are driving 80 miles to jobs.

"They had rather be farming," she said, "but they've got to support their families, and it can't be done on the farm anymore."

If wonder if the trend toward bigger farms will reach the proportions it has in the Dust Bowl. This summer in Eastern Colorado a government official told me the average sized farm in that area is now over 1,200 acres. He said a farmer could stay in business by hitting one good year out of every three, if he had enough land. Little farms in that area have completely disappeared.

A lot of gin crews are having an easy time of it. One day I passed three gins, and the crews were either drinking cokes at the stores or else sitting in the shade waiting for cotton to come in.

Blackbirds are a casualty of the drought. They used to come in by tens of thousands during the fall. Also curlews, meadow larks and prairie dog owls are seldom seen anymore.

The dog owl was a peculiar little bird with his square head, big solemn eyes and rubber neck. I once made two wide circles around an owl and he twisted his head around two complete turns without ever moving his feet. Or at least it looked that way. Some people said the owl would twist his head until he was looking directly over his tail, then suddenly reverse the head to the other side. Maybe so, but if he did, it happened quicker than the human eye could follow.

Chemist Held In Schoolteacher's Mystery Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A 34-year-old chemist is being held as a material witness in the mysterious death of a pretty schoolteacher who apparently died of cyanide poisoning.

A judge yesterday ordered Hugo Seinfeld held in $25,000 bail after the finding of the body of 25-year-old Avis Gray in a Riverside Drive hotel room.

The girl, fully clothed, lay sprawled on a bed. On the floor lay an empty champagne goblet, Champagne and another goblet lay on a table nearby.

Seinfeld, an Israeli citizen and a doctor of chemistry, told police of arranging a hotel rendezvous as a "farewell date" in their romance.

Seinfeld met Miss Gray in Istanbul, Turkey, where she taught English for two years at the American College for Girls.

The couple became "engaged," then the girl broke it off when she learned Seinfeld had a wife and three children living in Israel — according to the young woman's mother, Dr. Sarah Gray, a dental clinic supervisor for the city department of health.

Seinfeld said he recently obtained a divorce and wanted to marry Miss Gray. For some undisclosed reason, he said, she turned him down.

The couple met at the hotel room Tuesday. A discussion of their dilemma got them nowhere that night, Seinfeld said, and he poured crystals of sodium cyanide into a glass of water.

At Miss Gray's urging, he said, he took a walk to "think it over." When he returned about half an hour later, Miss Gray was dead, he said.

Determined to take his own life, he said, he penned a "suicide" letter to a brother-in-law, then put cyanide into a glass of champagne. He couldn't drink it. He tried to swallow the crystals from a piece of paper. He lost his nerve.

Last July 6, police said, Seinfeld was taken to Bellevue Hospital after swallowing an overdose of pills.

Some 12 hours after Miss Gray died, police said, Seinfeld walked into a police station to tell his story.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Manuel Guerrero, who questioned Seinfeld for several hours, termed the death "suicidal."

Seinfeld formerly was a researcher at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. More recently he was a research technician at Jacobi Hospital in the Bronx.

The dead girl's father Dr. Herman A. Gray, is an attorney and law professor at New York University.

Stadium Dedication Now Being Planned

Dedication of Big Spring High School's new football stadium will take place at the half-time of one of the early home football games this fall.

A committee made up of Supt. Floyd Parsons, School Manager Pat Murphy and Trustees John Drell, Omar Jones and Tom Guin is to plan the program. The dedication probably will be held at the Big Spring-Snyder game Sept. 28, if public address equipment is in operation by that time.

Mortally Wounded

Rajah, a 350-pound full grown Bengal tiger, was mauled and chewed to death by two female tigresses in a grove at the Cincinnati, O., zoo. While zoo attendants and a veterinarian (white shirt) try to rope the wounded animal another zoo attendant stands at top right with a high powered rifle in case the wounded beast gets out of hand.

HEALTH REGULATION

New Rule On Radiation Is 'News' To Big Spring Users

A new regulation adopted by the State Board of Health calling for registration of all radiation devices and radioactive materials is now in effect, but no local agencies have heard about it.

The State Health Board announced that the new regulation is to insure that all devices and materials will be manufactured, handled, and disposed of in such a way that no person would receive excessive doses of radiation.

The ruling went into effect Sept. 1, according to a press release from the Department, but hospitals and the city-county health unit here did not know of the law, a check this week revealed.

Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle said that the duties of administering the regulations would fall to the Department's Division of Occupational Health.

Written to be consistent with recommendations of the National Committee on Radiation Protection, the new regulations:

1. Require persons using a type of radiation machine or radioactive material to notify the Department in writing in 30 days after starting use. The notice must give circumstances on how and where the machine or material is used.

2. Establish definitions, terminology, and an official radiation symbol identifying machines, materials, or rooms involved in radiation work.

3. Establish radiation concentration levels for air, water and other environments, and require that a responsible person be in charge of radiological safety programs.

4. Require continuous checks of persons handling radiation equipment as a guard against overexposure, and keeping of records and reports.

5. Prohibit dumping and burying of radioactive wastes without permission of the State Health Department. Accidental releases of radioactive material must be reported in full, and reports must be made of accidental exposures when the dose exceeds five times the permissible amount.

The Department includes as radiation machines which must be registered shoe-fitting machines, and ordinary x-ray equipment to be found in any physician's or dentist's office.

The Department stated that the "tremendous increases in the use of radioactivity in the state" made the regulations necessary.

Copies of the regulations have been published and are being

Twining Warns Technician Shortage May Harm U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan Twining said today that if the trend toward shortage of technical manpower continues the Air Force may be compelled to use simpler planes and weapons which would be "less effective."

The Air Force chief of staff posed that possibility in an address prepared for the National Security Industrial Assn., made up of industries producing for national defense.

He contrasted the dearth of technicians in the United States with a vast reservoir of such manpower he said is being created in Russia.

The Air Force estimates, said Twining, that during the next five years "Soviet engineering higher educational establishments will graduate about 429,000 people — Twining, who made a visit to Russia earlier this summer, said, "We are not in a numbers race with the Soviet Union, either in the number of bombers, soldiers, submarines, or scientists." Then he added:

"Nevertheless, it is clear that if present trends continue unattended and uncorrected, our comparative technological status could eventually slip to second best."

He said his commanders all over the world complain of a shortage of skilled technicians.

"It is entirely possible that if we cannot get enough qualified men to operate and maintain the increasingly complex equipment of this jet-electronic-nuclear air age, the Air Force could be forced into a technological retreat," he said.

"We could be forced into designing, buying and using simpler equipment — easier to operate and maintain."

Students Have United Fund

Students in the Big Spring schools now have their own "United Fund."

Supt. Floyd W. Parsons has announced formation of the United School Fund in the city schools. He explained that the organization was set up to take care of the many groups which solicit funds from students each year.

In the past, from six to 10 charitable organizations have conducted financial campaigns in the schools. This was a disrupting practice and caused a lot of extra work for teachers, the superintendent said.

Formation of the United School Fund means there will be only one financial drive this year. A committee of teachers will work up a budget showing per cent of the drive proceeds which will go to each of the fund-raising groups which usually solicit in the schools.

Woman Gives Birth To 17-Pound Baby

CHICKASHA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Joe Stanper, 38, gave birth to a 17-pound girl at her home here last night, Dr. C. A. Bunsardner reported. The doctor said the birth was a "difficult one" but normal and that mother and child were doing well.

City Tax Receipts Below Last Year

Tax receipts for the first five months of the fiscal year are running over $1,000 behind the same stage of 1955. In addition, August was over $2,000 below that month of '55 in taxes, the monthly financial report showed. Collections in the tax department for the five months of the fiscal year amounted to $13,538.04, and during the same period last year, the total was $14,875.22. August receipts totaled $2,422.82, and in 1955, the one-month figure was $4,472.85. Included in the month's total was $1,414.88 from delinquent taxes, $632.50 from occupation taxes, and $231.47 from interest, penalties, and cost of taxes. Dog taxes totaled $17, and bus franchise revenue totaled $27.21. For the fiscal year, current taxes from last year amounted to $2,860.97, and delinquent taxes totaled $7,166.38. Occupation taxes amounted to $942. The financial report also showed that $82,830.17 was billed to customers for water and sewage service. This figure was $23,849.51 more than was billed in August of 1955. Water metered to customers last month ran $181,422.700 gallons, an increase of 34,719,900 gallons over August of 1955. New water service deposits brought in $2,330 and $97,027.41 came from accounts. New taps amounted to $747.45. Sale of effluent to Cosden brought $699.97. Receipts in the general fund included $3,058.50 in fines and court costs, and gas franchises totaled $2,506.42. Fishing permits brought in $300. Auditorium rental during the month totaled $20; registration fees for peddlers amounted to $55. Receipts from parking meters ran $4,519.83 which is an increase over the $3,592.15 collected in July. At the golf course, nine-hole green fees amounted to $279.50, and 18-hole fees amounted to $49.75. Day plays totaled $432, and monthly cards brought in $182.50. The concession stand paid $44.96 into the city coffers. Adult swim fees ran $1,235.50 and the children's charges amounted to $572.25. Club swims totaled $395.50.

THEY WERE IN JAIL

Convicts Have Perfect Alibis In Glasscock Burglary Cases

GARDEN CITY (SC) — William H. Jones and William Carey, convicted under indictment in Glasscock County for burglary of a school and a service station in the spring of 1955, had perfect alibis to offer when they were arraigned before Judge Charlie Sullivan in 118th District Court for trial Wednesday. They were both in jail they said — Jones in Sherman and Carey in Raymondville — at the time the two Glasscock County crimes were committed. This information the pair revealed only when the indictments against them were scheduled for hearing. Jones was scheduled to go on trial for burglary Wednesday morning. He told Guilford Jones, district attorney, he was not guilty of the crime and stated that he had been locked up in the Sherman jail for days before and days after the alleged burglary. The district attorney called Sherman and sure enough the sheriff there reported that Jones had indeed been in jail on the dates specified. This, naturally disposed of Jones' case. However, Jones had a four-year additional hitch in the pen to do as result of his conviction on Monday of car theft. The district attorney then turned to Carey, who was Jones' colleague in the state penitentiary at the time they "confessed" to the two Glasscock cases. Carey was ready with the answer. He could not have been involved in the burglary at the date named. He was in jail at Raymondville, Guilford Jones wearily picked up the phone and called Raymondville. Again the officials reported that what had been said was very true — Carey had been in the jail for three weeks before and three weeks after the burglary date in Glasscock. Undaunted, the district attorney reminded Carey that he, too, was under the same indictment for car theft that had led to the four-year sentence for his partner. What about that? Carey pleaded guilty to that charge. The judge assessed a 10-year sentence. This sentence, however, runs concurrent with a long hitch that Carey still has to serve in the state penitentiary. Jones' four-year stretch was added on to the time he must serve under his prior conviction. Further, it was said that the next Glasscock County Grand Jury might be asked to bring indictments against Carey for jail breaking — a felony. Carey and Jones broke out of the Glasscock County jail two weeks ago after slugging the jailer. They stole his car — for which

Adlai Prepares First TV Talk, Ike Urges 'Crusade'

By The Associated Press
The tempo of the presidential battle quickened today as Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson read his first nationwide TV speech of the campaign, and President Eisenhower summoned Republicans to a new "crusade." Fresh from a cross-country series of strategy conferences, Stevenson arranged to speak over all major networks tonight. The setting will be a $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner at Harrisburg, the Pennsylvania capital. In advance of the speech, Stevenson's aides said he planned to develop an "important theme." But they kept the subject secret. About 40 miles to the southwest, at Gettysburg, Pa., Eisenhower got his re-election drive rolling yesterday at a picnic rally on his farm. It was attended by about 500 GOP leaders from around the country. In Georgia yesterday, Herman E. Talmadge easily won the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by veteran Sen. Walter F. George, who is retiring. Talmadge scored a one-sided victory over M. E. Thompson, another former governor. Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in that Deep South state. In Colorado, virtually complete unofficial returns from the Tuesday primary showed that former Rep. John A. Carroll of Denver had edged former Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Former Gov. Dan Thornton was unopposed for the Republican nomination. In Columbus, Ohio, Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland of California told the GOP State Convention that Stevenson has been either uninformed on national and international matters of importance or his advisers are misinforming him.

Drunks Bring Most Revenue

More traffic violations than drunks were handled through corporation court in August, but the drunks came out with more convictions. Total of traffic violations-charged was 122, but only 101 were fined. In the drunkenness column, 117 drew charges, and 106 were fined, according to the monthly report. Total from the 106 drunkenness fines was $1,913, and the moving violations brought in $968.50 in fines. Other totals were $210 on 34 vagrancy charges, $260 on nine disturbance complaints, $306 from 16 persons driving without a license, and $170 for two indecent exposure charges. Leaving the scene of an accident cost two persons $75, and fines for four parking violations amounted to $19. Police issued 1,433 tickets during August for all types of offenses, including overtime parking. Cash receipts through the department amounted to $3,010 and prisoners laid out $1,537 in fines. Citizens paid $788 in overtime parking tickets at the window, and $12 was paid during the month for warrants issued.

A Bible Thought For Today

I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power and by my outstretched arm, and have given it unto whom it seemed meet unto me. (Jeremiah 27:5)

Editorial

Cultural Outlook Is Bright

Announcement has been made of the addition of a drama activity to the Howard County Junior College program. F. E. Short, new member of the faculty, who will direct this enterprise, possesses a rich background for building a creative and virile division.

This development fits into what seems to us an encouraging pattern of cultural advance for our area. In general the outlook was never better.

The Big Spring Civic Theatre group has met with surprising success in its productions and has moulded some very creditable productions. Our high school drama program under Dell McComb, who recently resigned to take a place in Abilene, has been a bright spot.

Soon the Howard County Junior College music building will be complete, and in it we will have perhaps the finest plant of its size in the state. Equipped as it is, we will have great opportunity for development of pianists and vocalists, and in addition the organ and the auditorium will continue to prove an aid in polishing of young artists on this instrument.

Boostered by a stronger junior high program, our high school band is showing steady improvement in quality of music. Logically, an orchestra — either by the high school, the college, or a combination of both with aid from adults — will be an outgrowth of this phase.

Now shaping is the annual series of the Big Spring Civic Concert Association, and it undoubtedly is the most outstanding ever offered here. The prices are modest, perhaps too much so.

Piano teachers have formed an organization to promote interest and quality in this area of instruction and to afford pupils a means of more consistent public performance.

Our art clubs are carrying on a schedule of regular and special exhibits, and the number of competent artists in our vicinity is increasing steadily.

All of these are significant because they will contribute immeasurably to the stability, the happiness and vigor of our community. They deserve to rank right along side of our economic advantages as an asset.

A Most Important Meeting

The meeting Friday afternoon of representatives from all political sub-divisions within Howard County to consider the possibility of a general re-evaluation of the tax base easily could rank as one of the most important of the year.

The need for overhauling the tax base has been apparent to many students of government and schools for a long time. Perhaps it has been slowed somewhat by coupling this proposal with an implied need for more revenues.

But this does not necessarily have to be the case. No district or agency is obliged to levy a rate higher than what is honestly needed to finance its functions. Undoubtedly some taxes would be raised, and undoubtedly some ought to be raised. There doubtless will be instances, too, of tax reductions if a thorough going survey were undertaken.

The advantage of concerted, unanimous action is almost too obvious to mention. A fair and equitable value to one agency ought to be the same for another. From that point, the various units can adjust their rates to fit the actual needs.

J. A. Livingston
Another Churchill Faces A Crisis

Harold E. Churchill has to do for Studebaker-Packard Corp. what his older namesake, Winston Churchill, succeeded in doing 16 years ago and on a much grander scale for Great Britain—pick up the morale-scattered pieces of an organization and weld them into a fighting whole.

Harold Churchill must overcome, as Winston did, the band-wagon notion that success succeeds on itself. When France fell, many felt Great Britain must quit. There she was, beleaguered, in her tight littleisle, jacketed by Nazi planes. But Winston thundered: "I have not become the king's first minister in order to preside over the liquidation of the British Empire."

Harold Churchill must dispel the notion that Americans, to have a good car, must surrender to the Big Three. And just as Winston Churchill had Franklin D. Roosevelt and the U. S. resources backing him, Harold Churchill has Roy T. Hurley and Curtis-Wright resources to support him in his fight. Hurley has put up Curtis-Wright funds and taken an option on 5,000,000 shares of Studebaker-Packard stock in a bold venture to make Studebaker-Packard a viable competitor of General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler.

Harold Churchill doesn't strike you, at first sight, as the man to rally the disorganized departments of a company that has bet on the wrong models and wrong tactics in the most ruthless business

America has known. But when you talk to him, you get some notion of why he was picked for the task. He's the kind of fellow you'd like around in the woods at nightfall. You'd figure he'd find a way out. Or, if he didn't, he'd at least prevent you from wasting your energy and assets before a search party came upon you.

I talked to him at the Hotel Astor, New York, in a small room with two chairs and twin beds. No palatial presidential suite such as you associate with big-shot corporation presidents.

He took off the jacket of his blue suit, exposing blue suspenders that matched his tie. Gray socks matched his full head of solid gray hair. He's a conservative who has climbed rather than vaulted to the top—no personality kid, no master of Churchillian phrases, no razzle-dazzle salesman, and no babe in the auto industry. All his business life, 27 years, he has put in at Studebaker. He's 53.

He hopes to put Studebaker-Packard in the black by the end of 1937. How? All Studebaker and Packard production will be consolidated in South Bend. Truck operations, now in two plants, will be put in one plant. The assembly plant in Los Angeles has been closed. Packard parts and accessories, made in Ulica, Mich., will soon be made in South Bend.

This is a cost-cutting operation—to make it possible for Studebaker to earn money on its present share of the U. S. market, about 1.6 per cent. "In 1934 and 1935, we obtained 1.55 per cent and 1.41 per cent." Those are Studebaker sales, exclusive of Packard. Packard sales, thinks Churchill, will add to income. And to strengthen sales, dealerships will be "dualized" as far as possible. That is, Studebaker dealers will handle Packards and Packard dealers Studebakers.

Churchill's objective is modest—too modest to be "realistic," a term he applies to his program. My opinion is that Studebaker-Packard can't live on as little as 1.6 per cent, or even 2 per cent or 3 per cent, of the automobile market. Such a percentage could put Studebaker-Packard in the black—for a while. But, either the percentage of sales must go up from there or it will go down.

Defiance Of Courts Is Delicate Problem

WASHINGTON (U)—Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas has raised a point which lies at the heart of the school integration problem. What happens when there is open defiance of a federal court order?

So far the question has been academic, but in the case of Mansfield, Tex., it came close to being raised in concrete form.

A federal court ordered the Mansfield school board to stop discriminating against the admission of students on the basis of race. The practical effect of this order was to decree the admission of 12 Negro students to Mansfield High School.

When school opened, however, a mob gathered and threatened violence if any Negroes actually sought to enroll.

Shivers then sent six Texas Rangers to Mansfield to help maintain law and order, instructing them to transfer "any school-attendants or attempts to attend Mansfield High School would be reasonably calculated to incite violence."

In essence, the governor said that if violence threatened to accompany Negroes' entry to the school, they should be sent elsewhere. The Negroes dropped their attempt—at least temporarily.

Shivers denied this was defiance of the federal court, but added, "Should the resulting actions be construed as contempt of the federal court, I respectfully suggest that the charge be laid against the governor and not the local people."

So what happens? Nothing at the moment. Federal courts are blind until there is official notification of a violation. Until the interested parties—the Negroes' lawyer or the school board's—come before the court and inform it the non-discrimination order is not being obeyed, the court will take no action.

But if the Negroes' or school board's attorney does appear, the court can issue a restraining order against interference with the performance of its original order. If this is violated too, then individuals may be jailed by U.S. marshals for contempt of court—but marshals are process servers primarily, not general law enforcers.

If there is continued defiance, the matter becomes quite delicate. Federal courts in themselves have no innate police powers.

Under the division of powers laid down in the Constitution, only the executive branch of the government can exercise force.

Thus, if there is open defiance of a federal court order, the responsibility for action lies with the President of the United States.

At a news conference last week President Eisenhower said he didn't think the federal government should intervene in the Mansfield case since law and order had been restored.

He omitted any reference to the more acute point, presumably because, like the court, he has had no official notification that the court's order is not being obeyed.

Eisenhower did observe, however, "when police power is executed habitually by... the federal government we are in a bad way. So until the states show their inability to grapple with this question properly, which they haven't yet... we'd better be careful about moving in and exercising police power."

Eisenhower had an excellent point. Russia and Red China exercise police power at the national level. So did Hitler and Mussolini.

Around at the Justice Department, though, the Mansfield case is under quiet discussion, and the point raised is: When must the federal government act to maintain the integrity of its courts and its own sovereignty?

Opportunity In Jazz Music

NEW YORK (U)—Jazz provides the United States with its greatest opportunity to win friends and spread good will in Latin America.

This is the firm opinion of jazzman John La Porta, 26-year-old columnist for Metronome, the musical magazine. He spent nine days in Caracas the past summer as a guest of the Caracas Jazz Club and its president, Jacques Braunstein.

La Porta's venture and his conclusions thus support the rather obvious but recent discovery that popular music can be one of the most valuable U. S. exports and good will agents.

He found south of the border what others, such as Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, have encountered in Europe and Africa, and John (Dixie) Gillespie in Europe and Asia.

"On the cultural level jazz is the greatest open door we have," says La Porta, a serious student of jazz who plays clarinet and saxophone. "It is our unique contribution to music."

While in Caracas, La Porta played with four different groups and delivered lectures on jazz. The groups included the 15-piece orchestra Casablanca, the Charley Nagy quintet, Juan Barabba sextet and the Walter Albrecht sextet.

The program was varied, including some Dixieland and one composition La Porta wrote especially for the trip, called "South American Brothers."

"The response was terrific," La Porta said. "The immediate emotional effect on the audience tremendous."

La Porta teaches in the Oyster Bay and the Farmingdale schools on Long Island, N.Y. He is pursuing advanced studies at the Manhattan School of Music in New York City. He started out playing the clarinet in Philadelphia when he was a youngster.

Last year the Voice of America recorded two hours of his music and other compositions played by the Farmingdale High School band for overseas broadcasts.

Name Calling With A New Twist

With the high cost of living and the Suez situation what they are, it's funny that the name of one of our political parties should become a "burning issue" in this presidential campaign.

But apparently that's what's happening. The Republicans, formally, officially and devotedly, are challenging the Democrats' right to refer to themselves as members of the Democratic Party. They said the adjective, "democratic," carries a connotation to which the Democrats are no longer entitled.

The Democrats reply that their party's name is their business, and the Republicans be hanged.

They took that position after toying with the idea of undertaking to change the name of the Republican Party, in retaliation.

Some Democrats thought of referring to their opposition merely as "Publicans," who are linked with sinners in the Bible. Finally, though, they agreed that the worst thing you can call a Republican is just that. So the Republicans can go on being Republicans, as far as the Democrats are concerned. The Democratic Party will continue to be "Democratic," too, the Demos say.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy is credited with the Republican drive to change the name of the opposition. He started referring to the "Democrat Party" during the televised Army-David Schine hearings a couple of years ago. McCarthy's use of the term so infuriated the Democrats that other Republicans took up the chant. During their 1936 convention, Republican speakers referred almost entirely to the "Democrat Party."

A little later, L. Richard Goulay, director of public relations for the Republican national committee, said that in Republican opinion "Democratic as an adjective is not descriptive of the party as it exists today."

Democrats were quick to take offense. Paul Butler, the national Demo chairman, challenged the right of the Republicans "to change our name." He also charged that the GOP was shortening the name because Republicans couldn't pronounce a four-letter word.

Adlai Stevenson and his aides in their drive for the presidency took a lighter view of the whole issue. "The Democratic Party has survived many crises," they said. "It probably will survive this one."

Likely it will, too. Some of the news services have announced that they will refer to the "Democrat Party" only when directly quoting a Republican. Otherwise, the Democrats will remain "Democratic."

Inez Robb
How To Make Salt-Rising Bread

NAMPA, Idaho — Well, sir, the newspapers these days are full of "service" and "do-it-yourself" columns. This is the day I intend to combine the best features of both.

I have come all the way to Idaho (that's where the service comes in) to get Aunt Kitty Lee Hedden's recipe for salt-rising bread, so you can do it yourself.

Ever since I casually mentioned Aunt Kitty's flair for salt-rising bread, a marvelous but vanishing commodity in this mechanized world, men, women and children have bombarded me from as far away as Okinawa (honest) and Casablanca (cross my heart) for the recipe for this ambrosia.

Recently a gentleman (if such he be) in Charleston, W. Va., threatened to come all the way to New York to punch me in the nose if I did not send the recipe pronto or return his three-cent stamp.

So under duress and threats of violence I have come to the mountain (unless it is libel to so label an 82-year-old, 122-pound aunt) and begged the recipe. She has persisted in forgetting to send it whenever she has written.

And now, as I eat the warm, freshly buttered heel or a loaf of salt-rising fresh from her oven, here is Aunt Kitty's recipe.

"Well, really, it isn't my recipe," she insists. "It's the one your grandmother and my mother, May Jane Fulton Callaway, brought across the Plains with her in 1868."

First, you take one cup of fresh milk and the fresher the better. Mother usually made the bread as soon as Pa milked the cows. Heat the fresh milk to boiling and remove from the stove. Add one cup of cold water, and stir in one-half cup of cornmeal and one-half cup of white flour.

"Next, you take the bowl this mixture is in and set it in a large crock filled with real warm water. Try to keep this water at the same temperature until the emptings become light and foamy. This takes about six hours."

"But what are the emptings?" I ask.

"Why, that's the yeast," says Aunt Kitty patiently. "That's what you've made when you've completed this first step in the recipe. To think you've never heard that word! And let me tell you, it was easier to keep the crock of water at an even temperature in the old days when you could push it to the back of an old wood stove!"

"But now when the emptings or yeast are light and foamy," she continues, "add about three to four cups of warm water and enough flour to form a stiff batter."

"Then add one tablespoon each of salt and sugar. Now, return the mixture to its bowl and set it once more in the crock of warm water. When the sponge (or dough) rises until it is light like the emptings, add a piece of shortening as large as an egg."

"Knead all this into a stiff dough that can be handled easily. Now make into loaves and put at once into well-greased breadpans."

"When the dough in the pan has risen until it is double its original size, put in oven and bake the same as any other yeast bread."

"When it comes out of the oven, loosen the belt or the girdle as the case may be, and realize that while man may not live by bread alone, he'd be a fool not to try to fit it to it is Aunt Kitty's salt-rising."

Egypt Owes Much To Britain, France

WASHINGTON — Just fourteen years ago—not a very long time in world history—thousands of British and French young men were dying to save Egypt.

If there had been no such show of force, Nasser today wouldn't have a canal to argue about. Maybe his boss would have been a Hitler and his government would have been a puppet of Fascism.

The world forgets quickly the sacrifices that are made in a great cause. The very countries which are crying out about British and French "colonialism" are strangely indifferent to the human sacrifices which were made by the British and French and which today enable Nasser to claim "sovereignty" over the Suez Canal.

The Nazis, it will be recalled, had two practicable routes they could follow to capture Egypt. One was from the south through Italian East Africa, and the other was from the west through Libya.

There were a number of battles of a critical nature. Some distinguished commanders—General Wavell and General Montgomery—were pitted against General Rommel, the Nazi's military genius. When Mussolini declared war in June 1940, he already had 200,000 troops in Libya, and on September 13 they invaded Egypt. Three months later the British army of the Nile pushed forward from inside Egypt and destroyed an Italian army of nine divisions. The British had more than 100,000 troops under General Wavell.

Then in March 1941 General Rommel moved into Libya, and in April the famous siege of Tobruk occurred. Rommel figured that, if he could win Tobruk, he could invade Egypt. See-saw fighting took place in the area.

Rommel was on the attack again in January 1942, and the British fell back. Eventually, on June 21, 1942, Tobruk was captured by the Nazi armies and the allied losses were 23,000. Then the Allies retreated 225 miles to El Alamein in Egypt, about 60 miles west of Alexandria.

When, on August 31, 1942, Rommel advanced, he saw Egypt as a glittering prize. General Montgomery stood firm at El Alamein, where the big battle broke on October 23, 1942. It was a victory for the British. The United States forces were better able to come eastward through North Africa on account of the allied successes in Egypt.

British Empire losses in North Africa from June 1940 to the end of the war numbered 220,000 killed, wounded and taken prisoner. The French lost about 20,000. The American casualties were about 18,500.

It will be said, of course, that the Allies had a strategic objective other than the protection of Egypt itself. The danger that the Suez Canal might fall into the hands of the Nazis was, to be sure a military fact that compelled the Allies to fight to save Egypt. But the situation today is much the same. Unless the Suez Canal is protected from falling into the hands of the Soviet Union and her allies, the Western Allies are in danger of losing control of the Mediterranean in the event of war.

Nasser has shown a willingness to play ball with the Communists. This means that he is ready to risk a fight with the Western Allies in order to have the Suez within his complete control. The people of Egypt have been protected by the British for many decades. Originally in World War I there was a danger that Turkey, then allied with Germany, might seize Egypt.

Throughout modern times the British and French have fought on the side of Egypt. The sacrifices made have given Egypt her chance. The net result has been ingratitude and a turning toward the enemies of the free world—the Communists.

One wonders why many Americans are so ready to denounce Britain and France for their "colonialism" when so much blood has been shed to give the small countries the autonomy they have been granted by the British and French over a period of years. Evidently the sacrifices have been forgotten at Cairo. Maybe Colonel Nasser ought to pay a visit to the battlefields of El Alamein, where the white crosses tell the story of what the British and French did to win freedom for the Egyptians and to assure safe passage of their ships through the Suez Canal.

Teen-Age Formula

Salt water and sunshine are two of the ingredients Singer Molly Bee, of the "Tennessee Ernie Ford Show," recommends for a beautiful complexion. The rest of the formula is told by this lovely teenager in today's Hollywood Beauty.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Advices Teen-Agers: Go Light On Make-Up

I go to the beach, have a swim and let the salt water dry on my face in the sun. In about a week my skin had cleared up! I was silly not to have gone to a doctor right away. He told me to keep make-up off my skin for a while, and I have had no trouble since. Molly Bee feels that teen-agers who smother their skins with make-up, exaggerate their lips and overdo their eyes are not improving themselves. "If they would just take a honest look in a mirror they'd realize how much more attractive they would be if they were natural. I have dated boys of all different ages, and they all prefer girls who are not obviously made-up. The boy I'm going with now asked to be introduced to me because he said I looked so fresh and clean. So I know it pays to keep that scrubbed look and leave heavy make-up for stage use only."

Basilio Grabs Welter Fight Crown Again

By MURAY ROSE
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio, apparently as tough and destructive as ever, wore the welterweight crown again today after annihilating Johnny Saxton "for the sweetest win of my life."

"This was the one I wanted to win more than any other," said the craggy-faced, 29-year-old Basilio after his technical knockout in 1:31 of the ninth round over the cocky, 26-year-old defending champion in War Memorial Auditorium last night.

"I beat him in Chicago and got robbed. This was my answer. If he wants to fight me again, I'm willing. I fight for money. I'll fight Ray Robinson too for the middleweight title if Saxton has had enough. I agreed to give Saxton a return fight and he can have it anywhere but in Chicago."

Even with his lopsided triumph last night, Carmen still is burning over the unanimous but controversial decision which Saxton scored over him in Chicago last March 14 for the title.

"I want the fight and I'll beat him the next time," said Saxton through swollen lips. A white bandage covered the left side of his mouth where nine stitches were required to sew up a wide long gash that had spurting blood during the one-sided fray.

"I fought his fight—not mine, the dethroned New Yorker said bitterly. "The booring of the crowd upset me. Instead of boxing him like I did the last time and like I planned to do again, I went out and slugged with him. I wanted to show those fans. Next time I'll fight for Johnny Saxton and win my way."

Gaunt and with his ribs showing through his taut skin, the 148½-pound local pride took charge in the third round with a slashing body and head attack that had the sleek New Yorker bloody, reeling and helpless in the ninth round when referee Al Berl halted the massacre. Saxton had not been down, but he was heading for the canvas, so relentless was Basilio's furious assault.

Looking perfectly conditioned at 145½, Saxton was only in contention for the first two rounds when he surprised the near capacity crowd of 8,546 and countless television viewers by meeting Basilio in midring and exchanging punches.

Ward At His Best When Chips Down

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Defending champion Harvie Ward, one down after 15 holes of his fourth round match in the National Amateur golf championship, was lining up a difficult 15-foot putt when Billy Joe Patton whispered:

"Right here, and on the next two holes, is where you'll learn the difference between a champion and a golfer."

Ward imperturbably stroked his putt into the cup and his opponent, 20-year-old Frank Boynton of Orlando, Fla., jabbed at a four-footer and missed. Patton whispered again: "See what I meant?"

On the next hole Ward poked a four-iron shot off the tee within a foot and a half from the pin and won with a conceded duce after Boynton had three-putted from across the green. And the Florida collegian, who had been three up after the first five holes, saw his last hope vanish with a shot that went into a trap on the 18th.

It was truly a champion's finish yesterday when a lot of really good golfers couldn't win. But it left Ward, seeking to become the first repeater in 21 years in this tournament, in a peculiar position.

IN BIG GAME

Braves Disprove 'Choke' Charges

By JOE REICHLER
BROOKLYN (AP)—In one ball game, probably the biggest one of the year for Milwaukee, the Braves shoved the charge down the throats of their critics who had maintained all along that the league-leaders would wilt with the mounting pressure.

If ever there was a "pressure" game, it was yesterday's which the Braves won from the Dodgers 8-7, after a string of misfortunes that would have discouraged another club, and took a one-game lead over second-place Brooklyn.

It was a game that could have been lost several times and in several ways, yet the Braves fought back after each disappointment.

No wonder Joe Adcock, one of Milwaukee's big heroes, sighed in the clubhouse after the game:

"It was the toughest game I ever played in my life, and the most important we ever won."

No wonder Danny O'Connell another hero yesterday, looked around defiantly at the visiting newspapermen and shouted:

"Who's choking up now?"

No wonder Johnny Logan, the fine shortstop, remarked meaningfully: "We came here one game up; we leave here one game up and we'll still be one game up when it's all over."

The Braves experienced their first discouraging moments in the first inning when Brooklyn batters teed off on their pitching ace, Lew Burdette, for four hits and three runs to jump off to a lightning-like 3-0 lead.

But the Braves stormed back against 23-game winner Don Newcombe to rout the league's leading hurler in the second inning and forge in front 4-3.

Brooklyn came back to knot the score again at 4-4 on Roy Campanella's 18th homer of the season, but Adcock put the Braves in front again, 6-4, with his 38th homer of the campaign and 13th against Brooklyn. Milwaukee added another run in the seventh on Del Crandall's 19th homer.

Gene Conley who had pitched splendidly after relieving Burdette in the first, fell apart suddenly and was derricked after yielding three straight hits, good for one run in the seventh. At this point, Crandall came through with a perfect pickoff throw on a missed bunt attempt to ease the tension. But a walk, a hit batter and O'Connell's miff of Sandy Amoros' routine grounder produced two more runs and the score was suddenly tied at 7-7.

But again the Braves roared back in the eighth to move in front again, 8-7, on a single by Henry Aaron, a walk to Thomson and a scoring single by Bruton, who drove in his third run.

Now it was the ninth. Ray Crone, the Braves' fifth pitcher, retired the first two batters but Jackie Robinson kept the Dodgers' hopes alive with a single. Amoros, with a 2-2 count, smashed a hard grounder to the right of second base. O'Connell darted to his right and made a spectacular backhand stop of the ball. He flipped to shortstop Felix Mantilla to nip Robinson at second for the game-ending out.

If there was still any doubt concerning the Braves' facing up to pressure, the last play erased it completely.

AGAINST COLTS

9th Graders Open Season Tonight

The Ninth Grade Yearlings of Big Spring are poised to launch their 1956 football season here tonight.

They meet the Sweetwater Colts in a 7:30 o'clock contest at the old Steer Stadium.

The coaches had determined starters at all but one position—left tackle. Indications are Gene Salazer will be used there.

Coaches Charles Caraway and

Dan Lewis indicate they will suit out about 35 boys.

Sweetwater will provide a big test for the touted Yearlings, who bring a fine record up from the Eighth Grade level.

In Bridges and Davis, the Yearlings have two players who played with them last season, although they were only Eighth Graders.

Alexander is the biggest boy in the Yearling line, at about 215. He is also amazingly agile, for his size. He is the son of a former Steer coaching aide, Mac Alexander.

Bridges is a brother to Preston Bridges, former Steer guard. Evans is a brother to Jimmy Evans, who is now playing for the Steers.

Brown has been ailing from a chest cold and may be used sparingly tonight.

Big Turnout Due At Pro Contest

DALLAS (AP)—Advance ticket sales indicate that 35,000 fans will be in the Cotton Bowl here Saturday night to see the last undefeated team in professional football, the Chicago Bears, take on the New York Giants.

It is the ninth straight year for Dallas to have a pro exhibition.

The Bears have beaten the Chicago Cardinals, Philadelphia Eagles, Washington Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers. New York has done almost as well. The Giants have downed Los Angeles, San Francisco and Baltimore but lost a close one to Green Bay.

Bobby Clatterback, former University of Houston quarterback, will open at that position for the Giants. John Hoffman of Arkansas will be in the Bears' backfield.

Kyle Rote, former Southern Methodist great, plays both end and halfback for the Giants.

McNeil Moore, who starred at Sam Houston State and is a top defensive back for Chicago, probably won't play here. He is suffering from a pulled leg muscle.

Friday's semifinalists. Darkness caught Arnold Blum, the Southern Amateur champ, and his immediate predecessor, Charley Harrison, all even on the 17th green.

The biggest names in the upper half were 43-year-old Chuck Kocis a member of the 1933 and 1946 Walker Cup teams, and Rex Baxter.

The roll call of beaten favorites in yesterday's two rounds left the committee, which has been screening prospects for the Americas Cup team matches, in quite a quandary.

Braves Back In Top Spot After 8-7 Win

By ED WILKS

Milwaukee Braves call it "the biggest one yet."

The Brooklyn Dodgers kiss it off with a "so what?"

They both could be right about that humdrum of a comeback 8-7 victory the Braves grabbed from the Dodgers at Ebbets Field yesterday, regaining undisputed possession of first place in the National League race.

If any club was hurt by the decision, it was Cincinnati. The third-place Redlegs fell three games behind while being held to just three singles by Johnny Antonelli in an 8-0 loss to the New York Giants.

The Chicago Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 9-0 in the only other NL game scheduled.

The New York Yankees and the Kansas City Athletics, walloping three between them, erased the American League's one-season home run record set in 1950 at 973 as the A's beat the league leaders 7-4.

Early Wynn helped set the mark, slugging his first home run of the season for his 17th victory as second-place Cleveland beat Baltimore 2-1.

Boston took third place from Chicago, defeating the White Sox 4-1. Detroit made six in a row, beating Washington 3-2.

Billy Bruton, a .268 disappointment with only 46 runs batted in for the Braves, and Joe Adcock, a regular Dodger tormentor, drove in five runs between them as Bob Buhl, one of 11 pitchers in the game, came back in relief after losing 4-2 Tuesday night to gain his 17th victory.

Bruton's eighth-inning single cracked a 7-all tie, driving in Adcock to beat reliever Roger Craig. His two-run triple shelled 23-game-winner Don Nippombe in a four-run second inning, after the Dodgers had taken a 3-0 lead in the first while knocking out Lew (18-9) Burdette.

Adcock's 37th home run, with a man on, broke a 4-all tie in the sixth. Roy Campanella hit his 18th for the Braves and Del Crandall smacked No. 15 for the Braves, who wound up with a 12-10 edge in the season series between the two clubs.

Antonelli, beaten four times previously by the Redlegs, struck out three and walked none while facing just 29 men for his 16th victory. Jack Brandt and Daryl Spencer homered for the Giants, Spencer's a two-run, inside-the-park job, to beat Joe Nuxhall.

Sam Jones bagged the Bucs on four hits while the Cubs got eight off loser Vern Law and three relievers, one Walt Moryn's 22nd home run.

Ex-Yankee Eddie Robinson drove in four runs for the A's and his homer gave the AL a record total of 974. It came off reliever Maury McDermott in the fifth inning and followed earlier shots by Yankee Hank Bauer and A's rookie Lou Skizas. Wally Burette, former Yankee farmhand, won it with six innings of shutout relief. Tom Sturdivant lost it.

Vic Wertz also homered for the Tribe, held to five hits by Hec Brown and Mike Fornieles, with Wynn's breaking a 1-1 tie. It was No. 29 for Wertz, a one-season high for the big guy who was hit by polo last year.

Boston, now half a game up on Chicago, rode in as Frank Sullivan tossed a five-hitter for his 13th victory. Jackie Jensen, with two RBIs, hit his 19th home run among Boston's 11 hits.

Two walks, one hit and an error scored a tie-breaking run for Detroit in the ninth inning, giving Billy Hoelt his 18th triumph.

Promoted

Two members of the Big Spring Steer football team who have justified their promotions from the B team are pictured above.

At the top is Bobby Lawdermilk, a standout linebacker. Knox Pitzer, a guard, is pictured at the bottom. Both boys will see lots of action against Andrews Friday night.

Local Elevens In Twin Bill

Two Big Spring football teams, the Eighth and Seventh grade Yearlings, go to Snyder this evening to begin their 1956 seasons.

The Seventh graders play at 6:30 o'clock while the Eighth graders take the field at 8 p.m.

The Seventh graders, who are being coached by Jimmy Marcus and Bobby Zellars, play their first three games away from home. The Eighth graders tangle with Andrews here next week.

Probable starters for the Seventh graders include John Schwarzenbach at left end, Mike Hughes at left tackle, Box Miers at left guard, John Porter at center, Chap Smith at right guard, Ken Moeling at right tackle, Jack Irons at right end, Dexter Pate at quarterback, Ernie Samples at fullback, Jerry Tucker at right half and Jimmy Madry at left half.

Gabriel Subia, Dennis Lee, Gene Horton and Ronald Aaron will see action on defense for the Yearlings.

The Eighth graders are being tutored by Chop Van Pelt and Hugh Hamm.

Their chief threat appears to be Carey King, a real speed merchant and the Seventh graders' leading scorer last year.

Spirits Up After Local Gridders Stage Workout

The Big Spring Steers went through an hour and 40 minutes of hard work under the lights at Steer Stadium last night, and coaches expressed themselves as "pleased" with the manner in which the club has developed.

"We're still not ready," Coach Roy Baird stated this morning, "but we're improving."

New Stadium To Be Ready Sept. 28, Officials Say

School authorities now predict advance of the first home game. One accessory is lacking, and no one knows where it's coming from. The stadium is still short a shelter for teams to recuperate during half-time intermissions. There was some talk that Howard County Junior College would move a temporary building to the stadium, on the HCJC campus, but no action has been taken.

HCJC officials have offered use of their gym as a half-time resting place, but coaches said the gymnasium is too far removed.

Stadium committees of the HCJC and public school boards may meet in the next few days to attempt to work out a solution.

Dallas Shades Tabbies Again

Two sparkling pitching performances pushed Dallas to a 2-up lead and pulled Houston back into the series Wednesday night in the Texas League playoffs.

It was Murray Wall, the lanky righthander, who hurled Dallas to a smashing 10-0 triumph over Fort Worth and gave the Eagles two victories to none.

It was Bob Mabe, a 21-game regular season winner, who tamed Tulsa 7-1 and brought Houston even with the Oilers at one decision apiece.

The scenes shift Thursday night as Dallas goes to Fort Worth for three games and Houston does the same at Tulsa.

Local Fans Asked To Join Caravan

Officials of the Big Spring Quarterback Club are asking all local fans to take part in the caravan that will be routed through Andrews prior to the Steer-Mustang game there Friday night.

The caravan will be assembled at the city limits of Andrews at about 7:30 p.m. Fans should arrive at the stadium about 7:40 p.m.

QBC members will also be allowed to form double lines leading onto the field from the dressing rooms immediately prior to the game, according to co-chairman Jack Johnson.

Fire Drill Tower Plans Under Study

City officials are looking over preliminary plans for the fire department drill tower, but the plans must be approved by the State Fire Insurance Commission before contracts are let.

School Tax Roll Gains $1.3 Million

A tax roll of $55,102,000 has been compiled for the Big Spring Independent School District.

The valuations in the district are about $1.3 million higher than on the 1955 roll.

Tax collections for the current year are expected to be up substantially over 1955, due to the increase in valuations and 20 percent hike in the school tax rate.

The new tax rate is divided with 40.8 cents (24 per cent of the levy) of the $1.70 designated for debt service and $1.292 (76 per cent for local maintenance).

The higher rate and the new division resulted from adoption of a new school financing law last May.

An entirely new advisory council for the Leon Moffett chapter of the Order of DeMolay has been set up.

Another meeting for assignments will be called within two weeks.

Optometrists To Meet Sunday In Big Spring

Approximately 100 optometrists of a vast West Texas area will gather here Sunday for their annual autumn conference.

Seven associations will be represented in the parley that begins with a noon luncheon at the Settles Hotel. Sessions will be concluded by 5 p.m.

This is one of a series of regional meetings for elements of the state society to consider pre-legislative and other matters.

Rodeo Clears Over $1,500

Howard County's World Championship Junior Rodeo, staged here 10 days ago, was a complete success in all details, according to Jimmy Taylor, county farm agent.

While final figures have not been worked out it is evident that the net profits from the show will be between $1,500 and $2,000 which is a marked increase over profits shown at other shows.

Attendance for the three nights totaled 3,000, it is estimated. Taylor said that spectators who saw the show told him the show as a whole was well above last year's in quality and that it was "the best show in the rodeo's history."

As a result of these reports, Taylor said that tentative plans are already under way for an even bigger and better show in 1957.

Schoolmen Organize

Men of the common school districts of Howard County have organized themselves into the Howard County Common School Masters Association.

Doyle Fenn, Gay Hill, principal, was elected president of the new association at its meeting Monday in the home of A. A. Dean, Elbow principal. M. B. McFall, Midway, was chosen secretary and treasurer.

Purpose of the organization is to further a better understanding among the communities and to promote closer educational cooperation. Regular meeting night will be the fourth Monday evening of each month. Place of the meetings will be at the respective schools and the next meeting will be at Gay Hill. Schoolmen in common school districts outside of Howard County will be welcomed.

Uncle Ray: Palace Of Minos Had Big Stairway

The Palace of Minos covered six acres of ground. There were half a dozen buildings, along with courtyards.

One day, while Prof. Arthur Evans and his men were at work, an important discovery was made—the Room of the Throne.

In the Room of the Throne was a stone chair with a high back, and this has been described as "the noble throne of Minos, the oldest in Europe."

Q. How far back does the throne of Minos go?

A. It is believed to have been made about four thousand years ago.

Q. Could we speak of the palace as having only a single story?

A. Hardly that! At least one building seems to have had five or six levels. The palace, however, was built on the side of a hill, and the upper stories were back of the lower ones, rather than directly above them.

Evans discovered what he called the Grand Staircase. He found three flights of steps, and indications of two other flights.

Q. What about the art work of Crete?

A. It was of a lively type. The people pictured have more animation than those in ancient Egyptian drawings. Women are in groups, and it is plain that the artist meant to show them talking to one another, perhaps gossiping.

Among the vases are some with pictures of fish. Two vases, each with an excellent outline of an octopus, have been discovered.

One precious object is a golden cup which carries carvings of bulls. The bulls have been called "wild," and surely they look far from tame! One of them is trying to trample a man.

Conservationist Checking Ranges In This Section

Range use checks were made recently by Conservationist Roland Willis on rangeland operated by the following ranchers: C. J. Engle, north of Coahoma, Glen Hillger and Henry Hillger southwest of Lee's Store in Glasscock County.

Henry Hillger has completed replotting 100 acres of mesquite land on which he plans to seed a mixture of range and pasture grasses next spring. Glenn Hillger has root plowed 6 acres for the same purpose.

Terrace lines were run last week by T. R. (Blackie) Morris on farmland owned by A. H. Shroyer. Four net wire diversion lines were staked recently by Bence Brown's ranch near Vincent by Soil Conservation Service technicians. The diversions are designed to pick up water out of shallow draws and depressions and spread it over relatively flat grassland.

Two main benefits are realized by having the diversions. They spread water over grass, giving it additional moisture, and reduce erosion by breaking up the main concentration of the water flow. Two other such diversions were laid out last fall on Binnie White's ranch northwest of Vincent.

Teacher Load Average 'Ideal'

The pupils-per-teacher ratio in the Big Spring schools is just about ideal, on the average, according to Supt. Floyd Parsons.

Calculations based on enrollment early this week disclosed there are 28.5 pupils per teacher in the white elementary schools, 25.8 per teacher in junior high, and 20.8 per instructor in high school. There are 113 teachers for the 3,223 elementary pupils, 47 instructors for the 1,211 students in junior high, and 34 for the 708 pupils in high school.

Parsons said the pupils-per-teacher ratios probably are a little below the recommended maximums.

In Round Up Of Harmony

Adding melody to the Round Up of Harmony here Saturday evening will be one of the top quartets of the Southwest. The Lads of Enchantment, from Albuquerque, N. M. This Barber Shop quartet was Southwest district champion in 1955-56, and last year placed third in International Medal competition among SPEBSQSA groups. Left to right, the Lads are Don Pitts, tenor; Dan Aycock, lead; Carl Wright, baritone; and Gil Wallace, bass. They are one of many attractions at the fourth annual Harmony show here, slated at the city auditorium at 8 p.m. The local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America is sponsoring the show, along with the Kiwanis Club, and all proceeds go to the Kiwanis fund to help underprivileged children. The Round Up of Harmony shows in the past have drawn warm acclaim, and a full house is expected Saturday evening.

No Killing Frost Due For Spell Yet, Averages Say

By SAM BLACKBURN
Nights may be a little bit cooler than they were three weeks ago. The maximum temperature readings even for the bright rainless days now prevailing are well under the figures quoted in early August.

There is a winery sort of tang to the air; a golden haze which dims distant vistas. Most folk are jubilantly agreed that we are moving into autumn—that the scorching heat of summer is behind us and the months ahead will be pleasant and happy. It may well be so but we are still a long way from that momentous occasion when the first "killing" frost will make its debut. Assuming, of course, that weather prevails this fall as it has through the years that records have been kept of such things.

The U. S. Experiment Station says that the average date when killing frost can be expected is sometime around Nov. 9—or Nov. 10. This is an average time—not a specific prediction on the part of the experiment station. It is determined by taking all of the days when the first biting frost of each fall season has hit the Big Spring area and striking an average.

Last year, it seems, the first officially frosty day was on Oct. 24. Checking the weather records, earliest date that freezing temperatures have been recorded—32 degrees—was on Oct. 15, 1914. On Oct. 19, 1917, things really got chilly with the mercury falling to a cold 26 degrees. In 1918 on Oct. 19, the temperature dropped to 31 degrees. These, from the records at hand, seem to mark the dates when the icy hand of winter made its earliest appearances. A further check of the records reveals that winter can cling to its hold well into West Texas spring.

Frost prevailed regularly through all of the months from November to April in the years that records have been posted. Apparently the latest date in the spring season on which below freezing weather made itself evident was on May 7, 1917. It touched 32 on that night. Perhaps more accurately it would be said that May 4, 1907, was the latest in the year that a frost of sufficient power to really blight the growing stuff actually occurred. There was a 31 degree reading on that date.

Meantime, there's no grand rush for you to get out those heavy garments. You needn't hurry to replace the anti-freeze in the car. If you want to have your floor furnace overhauled now—go ahead; but the odds are you won't be putting it in service for quite a while.

We can still have hot weather. There was an Oct. 2, 1928, when maximum temperature stood at 100 degrees. And the statistics reveal that Oct. 6 in 1918 and again in 1931 soared to the century mark. In fact there are fewer maximum readings under 90 through the years in October than there are readings above that figure.

Airman Leaves Head-Hunters Behind, Joins House-Hunters

From associating with head-hunters in tropical jungles to joining house-hunters at Webb Air Force Base is a tremendous change, but it's really just another family move, all in the course of an amazing career, for Webb's new field maintenance officer.

Maj. Malcolm L. Nurnberg served as aircraft maintenance advisor to the Ecuadorian Air Force at Quito, Ecuador, since February of 1954, and during that time took part in many expeditions into jungle infested with head hunters and other tribes of savage Indians. He reported to Webb AFB for duty last week.

Most widely publicized of the major jungle trips was the dramatic expedition which he led in January, 1956, to attempt rescue of five missionaries slain by fierce Aucas Indians. This expedition became the subject of Life Magazine's lead story in the Jan. 30 issue. The major was flown to New York by Life to help with preparation of the story and there appeared on numerous radio and TV programs.

Here at Webb, Maj. Nurnberg immediately joined the "base house-hunters," in an effort to find a home in Big Spring for his wife and four children. His hunt was at last successful, and he now owns a home at 1710 Morrison Drive.

A veteran of 14 years active military service, Maj. Nurnberg spent a large portion of his time moving from one overseas location to another. These tours have often been in exotic spots, and have included Europe from November, 1944, to June, 1945; Peru, March, 1946, to June, 1946; Eniwetok, Marshall Islands, August, 1949, to March, 1950; Hawaii, March, 1950 to January 1952; and later Ecuador.

Nurnberg was stationed in Eniwetok as a pilot and maintenance officer during the time when the island was being prepared for "Operation Greenhouse," one of America's early and biggest atomic tests. In Peru, for a short time, the major flew the F-47 and acted as instructor.

For his leadership of the rescue expedition in Ecuador, Maj. Nurnberg was cited by the president of Ecuador and the U. S. Department of State. His story was written in many magazines, some as far away as England, France, Italy and Germany.

The major later accompanied missionaries on other trips into the jungle, visiting various tribes. He got to know the chief of one of the head-hunting groups, who presented him with a blowgun, the conventional local weapon, and darts tipped with deadly curare.

Nurnberg listed the tribes according to their bloody hobbies, which may or may not grade the tribes according to civilized status. The Aucas, for instance, just kill their visitors, usually with spears, while others kill their victims and scalp them; tribes of a third persuasion slay the unfortunates, then cut off and shrink their heads to fist-size. The latter two groups are partial to the blowgun method of eliminating travelers, although firearms are carried by some natives.

The Aucas, Maj. Nurnberg said, appear just to hate people in general, and do much warring with other tribes if no missionaries or other white outlanders are available for sparing purposes.

Maj. Nurnberg, a native of

MALCOLM NURNBERG

Swarthmore, Pa., graduated from high school in 1938 and later received a degree in psychology from the Blue Ridge College, New Windsor, Md. Service schools which he successfully completed include C-54, C-97 and C-118 Aircraft Commanders' School, Advanced Flying

School and the Spanish Language Course at a State Department School in Washington, D. C.

Maj. Nurnberg is married to the former Barbara L. Voigt; they have four children, Malcolm, 13, Ronald, 12, Gary, 10 and Nancy, 1½.

Mrs. Nurnberg and the children have accompanied him on most of his tours overseas, and have encountered their share of foreign problems. In Ecuador, for example, the children, who spoke no Spanish, had to enroll in an all-Spanish speaking school. Although this was a handicap at first, within six months the children were speaking the new language fluently.

Housing was not the problem in Ecuador that it is in many overseas areas, and the demand there for almost all household appliances and other manufactured articles made it possible for the family to dispose of most of their furniture and other items. This not only spared them much of the work of crating and shipping, but also is allowing them to set up housekeeping in their new home with an almost completely new set of furnishings.

Suicide Ruled In Wife's Death

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—The sheriff ruled last night that the strange death of a Fort Worth nuclear scientist's 44-year-old wife was suicide.

George Abel Jr., 35, was released. He had been held without charge since the body of his wife was found Sunday floating in the Mississippi River. Her throat had been slashed.

Scout Leaders Map Projects

Scouting commissioners of the Lone Star District mapped plans for major autumn projects at their meeting Tuesday evening at the Wesley Methodist Church.

They laid plans for the national fall round up of boys and leaders and urged commissioners to get units committed to fixed goals for new boy enlistment by Dec. 10.

Also talked were details of the Scout Exposition, a major district-wide show set tentatively for Nov. 30-Dec. 1. Every den and patrol will be given an opportunity to show some phase of Scouting. Tickets will be sold to defray expenses of the exposition.

The other immediate undertaking will be the organization of a "Get Out the Vote" campaign prior to the general election Nov. 6. Four years ago Scouts all over the nation distributed paper facsimiles of the liberty bell on door knobs to remind citizens of an obligation to vote as they pleased, but to vote.

Members of the commissioners staff taking part were Sam Houston, Stanton, Harold Canning, Chester Cathey, C. W. Dickerson, B. M. Kraas, Warden Mayes, the Rev. C. W. Farmer, C. M. Epps, district commissioner, the Rev. M. L. Gabriel, and Bill Vaughn. Also present was Joe Niedermayer, Midland, council program director.

Vincent Road Contract Let

H. L. Stafford, Lubbock, was low bidder on the construction of FM 2032 a distance of 10.1 miles between Luther and Vincent.

The project will connect FM 669 at a point east of Luther with Vincent and State Highway 350. Stafford's bid for performing the work was $101,119.

Contracts let in Austin Tuesday and Wednesday by the State Highway Department call for 230 miles of highway construction. Total expenditure is expected to be about $2 million.

This Is Harvard

Mrs. J. T. Baird Sr., 109 Dixie, enjoys showing her friends the colored slides of Harvard, where her son, J. T. Jr., enrolled last week. Mrs. Baird is a teacher in the third grade at Washington Place School and is also a very busy homemaker and active in church work. Her household duties may become a little easier this year with one less member of the family to care for, but her husband and son, Stephen, a junior in high school, will still keep her busy. The Baird family took the eastern trip this summer to look over Harvard and the surrounding country.

Mrs. Baird Is Busy Teacher, Housekeeper

Busy and proficient are certainly two words that describe the life of Mrs. J. T. Baird, 109 Dixie.

Her schedule calls for teaching third grade at Washington Place School from 8:30 a.m. till 4 p.m. and after school hours she is the wife and mother to a house full of men.

"Cooking for three men all the time certainly is a job in itself," Mrs. Baird laughed. "You know, you have to really cook in quantity instead of quality to fill them up," she added.

However, her job may be a little lighter this year, since her oldest son, J. T. Jr., left last week to enter Harvard as a freshman. He received a scholarship from Harvard where he will major in chemistry. After graduation from Harvard, he plans to enter the seminary.

The entire Baird family, which includes her husband, J. T. Sr., J. T. Jr., and Stephen, a junior in high school, made the eastern trip this summer to look over the place where her oldest son will be for the next nine months.

"It was a wonderful trip, and Harvard is as everyone probably pictures it—Ivy League. The Ivy-covered buildings are just like all the pictures and so beautiful," she recalled. When she might like to remember more vividly what the school and campus looks like, Mrs. Baird just calls on her husband to bring out the colored slides and projector, and they take a quick visit to the campus via movies.

Teaching isn't just a five-day job for Mrs. Baird, for she also teaches a Sunday School class at the First Methodist Church. "I just love to work with young people, and I think they are most sincere about their church work," Mrs. Baird commented.

For that hungry crew around your home, Mrs. Baird suggests the following:

SMOTHERED STEAK
Cut two pounds of round steak into serving portions. Salt, pepper, and dredge in flour. Fry the steak until it is light brown on each side. Remove from fire; pour out shortening, and pour into skillet one can of cream of mushroom soup and 3/4 can of water. Cover lightly and cook over low flame for 40 minutes. Steak may be prepared several hours ahead of time and simply reheated over slow flame.

Mrs. Baird likes to serve this steak with garlic green beans, prepared as follows:

GARLIC GREEN BEANS
Prepare 1 1/2 pounds of green beans. Put in saucepan and add enough water to almost cover. Add three tablespoons bacon drippings, 3 small onions, quartered, 2 pods of garlic and salt. Cook over medium flame until beans are thoroughly done. Remove garlic pods and serve.

Two Luscious Ways For Fresh Peach Pie

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Peach pie comes two luscious ways: deep-dish and two-crust. Take your choice. Serve either variety with a pitcher of heavy cream or scoops of vanilla ice cream and no one will complain.

DEEP-DISH FRESH PEACH PIE

Ingredients:
Six to 7 cups ripe sliced peeled fresh peaches (about 4 pounds), 1 1/4 cups sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract (if desired), 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, pastry for topping (using 1 cup flour).

Method:
Place peaches in a baking dish (about 10 by 8 by 2 inches). Stir sugar, salt, tapioca and — if used — almond extract together; sprinkle over peaches. Dot with butter. Cover with pastry rolled 1/4-inch thick into a rectangle 2 inches wider and 2 inches longer than the baking dish. Trim, turn under, seal and flute edge. Cut several gashes in pastry to allow for escape of steam. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until crust is lightly browned. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings.

TWO-CRUST FRESH PEACH PIE

Ingredients:
Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie, 5 cups ripe sliced fresh peaches (about 3 pounds), 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method:
Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry rolled to 1/4-inch thickness. Sprinkle peaches with lemon juice and vanilla. Stir sugar, salt and cornstarch together; mix with peaches. Turn into pastry-lined pie plate; dot with butter. Cover with remaining pastry rolled 1/4-inch thick and 1 inch larger than diameter of top of pie plate. Trim, turn under and flute edges. Cut several gashes in the top to allow for escape of steam. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until crust is browned. Serve warm.

PEACHY IDEAS

FOR ICE CREAM — Peel and slice peaches thin; sweeten to taste with sugar and add a little vanilla for that extra oomph. Serve over vanilla ice cream.

SALAD — Peaches take to cream-style cottage cheese. Add grated orange rind and a little sugar to the cheese and serve romaine or other crisp greens with it and the fruit.

PUDDING — Peaches combined with blueberries make a fine two-some for a cobbler.

MEAT ACCOMPLISHMENT — Skillet-cook fresh peach halves with a little butter and brown sugar. Delicious served hot with lamb chops, pork chops or ham.

look? Before baking, brush the top of the pastry with egg yolk mixed with a tablespoon of water. For a sweet topping, brush pastry top — before baking — with milk and then sprinkle with granulated sugar.

Try This Salad As Prepared In France

Salad as it is sometimes prepared in France.

Ingredients:
1 small head romaine, 1 medium-sized apple, lemon juice, 2 medium-sized tomatoes, 12 black olives, 1 can (2 ounces) rolled anchovies (drained), olive oil, wine vinegar, salt, freshly-ground pepper.

Method:
Separate romaine leaves from center; wash in cold water and dry; chill. Tear romaine into bite-size pieces in salad bowl. Peel and quarter apple; core and slice thin; dip apple slices into lemon juice; arrange apple over romaine. Cut stem end from tomatoes; slice into thin rounds; arrange over apple. Place olives and anchovies on tomatoes. (If salad is made an hour or so ahead, cover tightly and refrigerate.) At table, mix olive oil, vinegar, salt, pepper (in desired proportions) together in a large serving spoon using a fork for the mixing; pour over salad; toss well. Makes 6 servings.

Baked Alaska

Ready-bought sponge-cake cups can be filled with scoops of ice cream, wrapped individually in transparent plastic wrapping or aluminum foil and frozen. When you're ready to use them, cover them with meringue and bake them in a 450 degree oven about 6 minutes. You'll have baked Alaska all ready for a party.

PASTRY TIPS
Try chilling your pie dough before rolling. This refrigerator treatment sometimes helps to make pastry flaky.

Be a miser when you add water to the pie dough; an abundance of liquid usually produces a tough crust. When you add the water, sprinkle it gradually over the mixture as you work the dough with a fork and use a light hand.

Be a spendthrift when you add shortening to pie dough; a little extra often helps produce an especially flaky crust.

Cheese Stuffing For Tomato Salad

Simple but good stuffing for ripe tomatoes.

Ingredients:
Six medium-sized tomatoes, salt, 1 cup ripe olives, 1 cup cream-style cottage cheese, 2-3 cup sliced radishes, Worcestershire sauce, cayenne pepper, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Method:
Peel tomatoes and hollow out center; sprinkle centers with salt; invert to drain. Cut olives from pits in large pieces. Dice removed portion of tomatoes and mix with olives, cottage cheese, radishes, Worcestershire sauce and cayenne to taste. Fill tomato cups with cheese mixture. Arrange in lettuce cups. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

Baked Tuna Loaf With Melted Cheese

Try this new twist the next time you plan on serving tuna salad.

Ingredients:
2 cans chunk style tuna, drained
3 cups thinly sliced celery
2 canned pimentos, cut in strips
1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
1-3 cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 cups fine dry bread crumbs
2 cups grated American cheese

Try Muffins At Breakfast

Most homemakers realize that breakfast is the most important meal of the day—so for an extra special treat for your family try these tempting bran muffins.

Ingredients:
2 cups whole bran cereal
1 1/2 cups milk
2 eggs
1/2 cup soft shortening
2 cups sifted flour
5 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar

Method:
Combine whole bran cereal and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add eggs and shortening; beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to bran mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400) degrees F. about 30 minutes.

Peach Fritters

Fold diced peeled fresh peaches into fritter batter; drop spoonfuls of the mixture into deep fat and fry until brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve with a lemon sauce for a wonderful dessert.

White Sauce

In making a white sauce, first melt butter or margarine, then stir in flour. If the liquid to be added is cold, it may be stirred in all at one time; if it is hot, stir it in gradually.
