Nicaragua's Pres. Somoza Dies Of Wound

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Anastasio Somoza died in a Panama Canal Zone hospital today of gunshot wounds fired by an assassin, and his two U. S. educated sons prepared to continue his 20-year rule.

Congress was called into special session for the purpose of naming Somoza's son, Luis, 34, president to fill the unexpired term that ends next May. Luis, as president of Congress, already had been named acting president by Congress.

To Col. Anastasio Jr., 32-year-old younger son, went the task of maintaining his brother in power. He is commander of the national guard, Nicaragua's army.

Sixty-year-old President Somoza died at the United States' Gorgas Hospital in the Panama Canal Zone after a colorful career in Central American politics. He had been this country's dominant figure in the presidency and behind it since 1936.

He had been ruler, in name or in fact, of his country of more than a million people since 1936. The 60-year-old leader, who fled with Guatemala and Costa Rica and befriended Argentina's exiled dictator Juan Peron, was shot four times on Friday night, Sept. 21, as he was beginning a campaign for a new six-year term.

He never recovered full consciousness after Sunday night when four doctors, headed by a surgical team sent here by President Eisenhower, performed four operations on his wounds at the U. S. Gorgas Hospital in the Panama Canal Zone.

Somoza was shot at Leon, 45 miles outside the capital, while attending a dance at the scene of his early political triumphs. Recent meetings of his followers had endorsed him in the presidential elections to be held in November.

The assassin, Rigoberto Lopez Perez, a 27-year-old Nicaraguan journalist and typesetter who had been living in El Salvador, emptied his revolver at the President and was killed on the spot.

Burns To Death

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29 (AP)—Joe Owens, 37, burned to death with his pet dog and cat early today near Arlington when fire destroyed the room where they lived and the one-story stables to which the room was attached.

High Court Opens New Term Monday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Supreme Court opens a new term Monday confronted with problems developing from racial integration in public schools and renewed attacks on laws aimed at Communist party activities.

Kids' Day Air Force Base Commanders

Captain Allan R. Hamilton, Webb Air Force Base, presents Ronnie King, center, and Miss Sue Barnes, right, Big Spring High School students, their commissions as Kids Day Base Commander and WAF Commander. The ceremony was part of the afternoon activities Saturday in connection with Kiwanis-WAFB observation of National Kids' Day.

Queens Named In Climax To Kids' Day Program

Barbara Ann Frazier, Lakeview school; Kay Oaks, Park Hill school; and Susie Gonzales, Kate Morrison school were the choice of three judges as Kids' Day Queens at a program presented Saturday night in the old football stadium.

They were selected from a field of 29 contenders chosen from the girls in each of the 10 schools and were named after the original list, had been reduced to 10.

Runners-up in the queen contest which was highlight of the evening activities in connection with Kids Day—sponsored by the Big Spring Kiwanis Club and the Webb Air Force Base—were Frankie Cherry, Airport School; Barbara Sue Grant, Airport School; Vicki Parkhill, East Ward; Andrea Askins, Lakeview School; Jan Keifer, Washington Place; Shirley Watson, West Ward and Pamela Vines, South Ward.

They were chosen by a trio of young officers from Webb Air Force Base. Roy Black was master of ceremonies at the exercises which were witnessed by several hundred youngsters and a sizable turnout of adults.

Winners were given special pens and the runnersup received identification bracelets as did their escorts.

The program opened with presentation of the color guard from Webb Air Force Base. The Junior High School Band and Junior High Choral group played the national anthem. W. C. Blankenship asked the invocation. Music followed, featuring the band, under the direction of Bobbie Robbins and the chorus, directed by Mrs. Forrest Gambill.

Floyd Parsons, superintendent of the city schools, spoke briefly welcoming the youngsters to the Kids Day celebration. Capt. Allan Robertson, WAFB, spoke in behalf of the Air Force.

Parade of the school queen candidates followed with the three judges selecting the first group of 10 and then the three winners.

Closing event of the night was a football game featuring the eleven of Airport and West Ward schools.

Some 500 boys and girls were at Webb Air Force Base Saturday afternoon for that part of the program. Buses picked the youngsters up at the junior high school and returned them there at 4 p.m.

N. Jersey Demo Selected For Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—William Joseph Brennan Jr., New Jersey jurist and a Democrat, was chosen by President Eisenhower today to succeed Associate Justice Sherman Minton on the Supreme Court.

Minton, a Democrat from Indiana, is retiring Oct. 15, five days in advance of his 66th birthday, because of failing health.

Brennan's selection, if confirmed by the Senate when Congress convenes in January, would leave the high court's political lineup unchanged at six Democrats and three Republicans. Although a registered Democrat, Brennan told reporters he never has taken an active part in politics.

The 50-year-old Brennan, now an associate justice of the New Jersey Supreme Court, attended a White House news conference at which press secretary James C. Hagerty announced that Eisenhower will make the actual appointment within 10 days.

Minton plans to serve for the first two weeks, and then he will step aside for a man who will become the court's youngest member and the first Roman Catholic on the bench since the late Justice Frank Murphy, who died in 1949.

Brennan will serve under a recessed appointment, pending action by the Senate.

The appointment, which came as a complete surprise to Brennan and many others, will be Eisenhower's third. He named Chief Justice Warren on Sept. 30, 1953 and Associate Justice Harlan on Jan. 10, 1955.

Brennan, a small, mild-mannered man who lives in Rumson, told reporters he got a telephone call from Atty. Gen. Brownell late yesterday summoning him to Washington. He said he did not know the reason until Eisenhower told him shortly before Hagerty's announcement.

Pact Completed To Return Saar To W. Germany

BONN, Germany, Sept. 29 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Premier Guy Mollet of France tonight concluded a historic agreement to return the rich Saar to Germany. They hailed the accord as the first step toward a European union.

"Germany and France are now prepared to walk hand-in-hand in working for European integration," the German Chancellor told 300 newsmen at the end of 12 hours of hard bargaining.

Mollet declared that, "With the Saar problem behind us, we can go ahead faster with European integration."

Next Jan. 1 was set as the target date for the transfer of the industrial basin of 991 square miles, taken by France as war booty in 1945.

Adenauer said the negotiations had "served to reinforce the idea that it is now impossible even to think of a war between European nations."

The two leaders said they foresee a common European market and a joint pool of atomic energy development as pillars of a European federation.

The Saar agreement on the transfer of the Saar erases the last dispute between the World War II enemies.

The transfer will be in two stages. First, the area will be politically united with the German fatherland.

Negro Paid By NAACP In Test At University

TYLER, Sept. 29 (AP)—State testimony showed today the NAACP agreed to pay $11,000 to Herman Sweatt, the first man to crack the color line in Texas colleges.

The testimony came out in an injunction suit by which the state seeks to bar the NAACP from operating in Texas.

Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan recessed the hearing late today until Wednesday to permit NAACP attorneys to keep previous commitments in Federal District Court at Dallas Monday.

Texas Rangers guarded the courtroom.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, calls it the greatest crisis in NAACP history.

The testimony showed the $11,000 was to maintain Sweatt through three years of college. A contract was signed by Sweatt and Maceo Smith, executive secretary of the Texas State Conference of Branches, NAACP, in Dallas.

Sweatt, then 37, enrolled in September 1950 and left school the next spring after scholastic difficulties. He is now working for the Urban League in Ohio.

Sweatt received $7,500 for the two years he attended the University of Texas, a report released by the Sweatt Victory Trust Fund at Houston said today.

Packers Agree On New Wage

CHICAGO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Swift & Co. and leaders of its 25,000 strikers announced today they had reached agreement on a new contract.

The two unions involved said a "tremendous victory" had been won.

The 25,000 workers in 38 Swift plants in 37 cities walked off their jobs Sept. 20 in support of demands for a "considerable" wage increase, a union shop and other benefits.

The general wage increase was a 25-cent-an-hour package spread over two years of a three-year contract—10 cents immediately, 7 1/2 cents on Sept. 1, 1957 and another 7 1/2 cents on Sept. 1, 1958.

Six States Hold Key To The Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The battle for control of the Senate in the next Congress now centers in six states, in the view of campaign strategists of both parties here.

Experts for the Republican and Democratic Senate Campaign Committees, who supply much of the ammunition fired far from Washington, list the battlegrounds as Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Idaho and Oregon.

Democrats appear to feel their best chances to oust Republicans are in the states now represented by Sens. Bush (R-Conn.), Duff (R-Pa.) and Welker (R-Idaho).

Republican strategists are pinning much of their hopes on the possibility of defeating Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), a one-time Republican, and on picking up the posts left vacant by the retirement of Sen. Lehman (D-Lib., N.Y.) and the death of Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.).

However, the Democrats believe they also have good prospects of overturning GOP senators in Ohio, and California, while Republicans think they may be able to take over seats held by the Democrats in Nevada and West Virginia.

Both sides concede the fight for Senate control is tough. Sen. Knowland (Calif.), the GOP Senate leader, said he believed that whichever side emerges victorious will have only the two-vote edge the Democrats mustered through the 84th Congress. The lineup is now 49 Democrats, 47 Republicans.

In the races where the Democrats are most confident, they have Rep. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) running against Bush, former Mayor Joseph S. Clark of Philadelphia against Duff, and Frank Church, 32, a Boise attorney, against Welker.

The Republicans in the races where their hopes are highest, are pitting former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay against Morse, New York Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits against Robert F. Wagner of New York, and former Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) against former Kentucky Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby.

Democratic candidates in other races where Democratic optimism is high are Frank Lausche, five-term governor of Ohio, who is opposing Sen. Bender (R-Ohio); George P. Mahoney, running against Sen. Butler (R-Md.); and State Sen. Richard Richards of Los Angeles, opposing Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.).

In the two states where the Republicans feel they have excellent prospects aside from their top three, they are pitting former Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa.) against Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia, and Rep. Clifton Young (R-Nev.) against Sen. Bible (D-Nev.).

Four other Democratic senators running for re-election this time have fights on their hands, but the party's strategists consider them well ahead. These are Sens. Clements (D-Ky.), Hayden (D-Ariz.), Hennings (D-Mo.) and Magnuson (D-Wash.).

On the other hand, five Republican senators seeking new terms are thought by GOP campaign experts to be in fairly good shape despite active opponents. These are Sens. Bennett (R-Utah), Capehart (R-Ind.), Dirksen (R-Ill.), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Wiley (R-Wis.). The Republicans place in this same category former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, running against former Rep. Carroll (D-Colo.) for the seat being vacated by Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.).

COMMANDER ROBERT HAILLEY

Big Spring Navy Officer To Instruction Duty At Rice

It's going to be "professor" for the next three years for Commander Robert Hailey, USN.

Comdr. Hailey and family have been here during the past week visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Hailey on a relay enroute to his new station at Rice Institute.

Comdr. Hailey has completed a five-year tour of duty as commander of a destroyer. Prior to that he had two periods of service in submarine work. One of his first assignments was aboard a cruiser.

Civil Docket Concluded In District Court

Civil jury docket in the 118th District Court came to a close for this term Friday afternoon. Three cases, out of seven announced ready for trial at the sounding of the docket last Monday, were tried.

Others were settled out of court or otherwise disposed of, Charlie Sullivan, presiding judge, said. Next activity in district court requiring jurors will be on Oct. 22 when a new term is to be opened. A grand jury will be called at that time.

Final case on the docket last week was a damage action brought by Earl W. Bryan and Edward Thompson, et al. against Lee Hanson, et al. Thompson elected to take nonsuit in his case and indicated it would be refilled in the U. S. district court.

In trial of the action by Bryan against the defendant the jury returned a verdict denying the plaintiff any money damages. This was the concluding case on the docket. The court dismissed the jury and closed the session.

Earlier in the week, a scheduled jury trial of a contested divorce action brought by Raymond Pederson against Fatsy Pederson was ultimately placed in the hands of the judge and the jury which had been empaneled was excused. Judge Sullivan ruled the plaintiff should have a divorce decree but that the defendant should have custody of the children.

Initial matter before the court early in the week was litigation over probating of the will of the late Lizzie Miller. Bessie Lloyd was the plaintiff in this matter. A jury heard the testimony and ruled that the will be filed for probate. This matter has been before the courts for some time and involves the inheritance of lands.

50 Youths To Have Entries In Annual Club Pig Show

Eleventh Annual 4-H and FFA Pig Show swings into action on Wednesday in the Howard County Fair Building at Rodeo Bowl. It has been announced by Jimmy Taylor, county agent.

The show runs through Thursday night.

Taylor said that it was indicated 43 fat barrows, 14 breeding gilts and two boars will be shown. Approximately 50 boys and girls, all members of the 4-H Club and FFA chapters will enter animals.

Weighing in time for entries open at 8 a.m. and closes at 5 p.m. Wednesday. All contestants are required to have their animals on hand and ready for showing by that hour. Entry intervals will be divided into two sections — first runs from 8 a.m. to noon. The second opens at 4 p.m. and closes at 5 p.m.

Judging begins at 9 a.m. Thursday. Closing event will be the auction sale which is slated for 7:30 p.m. Thursday night. Taylor said that only 30 head of hogs will be sold at that time. Business and professional men of the community are invited to be present and bid on the animals. For those who buy and wish to dispose of such animals as they may purchase, packer buyers will be on hand to take them off their hands at standard prices.

Seven classes of market hogs are set up in the competition. This part of the program is open to 4-H and FFA members of Howard County.

Class No. 1 is for heavy weight market hogs. Prizes are posted for 10 places in the event. Show money totals $55 with $10 as top prize and $1 for 10th place. Class No. 2 is light weight market hogs with the same placings and prize money.

Class 3 is Grand Champion Market hog with a prize of $10; Reserve Grand Champion — Class 4 — will get the winner $5.

Class 5 is breeding gilt hogs with five prize places and total money of $15. First place pays $5. Class 6 is for breeding sows with the same placings and the same amount of prize money. Class 7 is for boars under one year with $5 for top prize and total money of $15.

In addition to the competition in market hogs, three classes are slated for competition in the Sears Foundation hog entries division. Eight Howard County 4-H Club members are eligible to compete in this particular event.

They are David Burris, Coniel Low, Jimmy Sneed, Charles Engle, Jimmy Engle, Frankie Chandler, Ronald Shaw and Leon Howland. Larry Chandler is eligible to enter a boar.

A ribbon goes for county Sears show boar champion.

Special events will include competition between the top gilt from Howard County show and that from Martin County. A like contest for the champion two-county boar from the two shows is docketed. In each of these the top entry will pay $30; second place $20.

Taylor said that all FFA and 4-H members or a representative must be present on Friday morning Oct. 5 to deliver pigs and clean up the fair building. He said no pigs can be removed from the show until Friday morning. No checks will be issued to winners until record books are turned in at county agent's office or are certified by vocational agricultural teachers.

The general public is invited to visit the show and inspect the animals the young showman will have on display.

IT'S THE '57 INNER FORD IN ACTION

Here's why the new '57 Ford body rides so silent, solid and secure

"Sculptured from solid steel!" That's the feeling you get when you feast your eyes on the new kind of Ford. And that's the feeling you keep through thousands of miles of road travel... come rough or smooth.

The doors swing shut with the polished precision of a bank vault. Inside, you sink back luxuriously into seat comfort such as you'll rarely meet even in the finest of living rooms. The engine starts... you're off. But wait, something's missing... where's the noise?

That's right, let the traffic roar, you can talk in whispers inside the new Ford. It's sound-conditioned against outside and inside noise. More than that, it's insulated and sealed. And, it's solid! Never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing, so firmly anchored to its foundation.

For a totally new kind of ride in a totally new car, see your Ford Dealer Wednesday! Be among the very first to Action-Test the new Ford.

Passengers ride low, between the new contoured frame members of the new '57 Ford for greater safety and comfort. The whole car's so low it hugs the road like a coat of paint. There's even more room inside... and you can get in or out easier than ever. Here's a car with a difference... that you'll love!

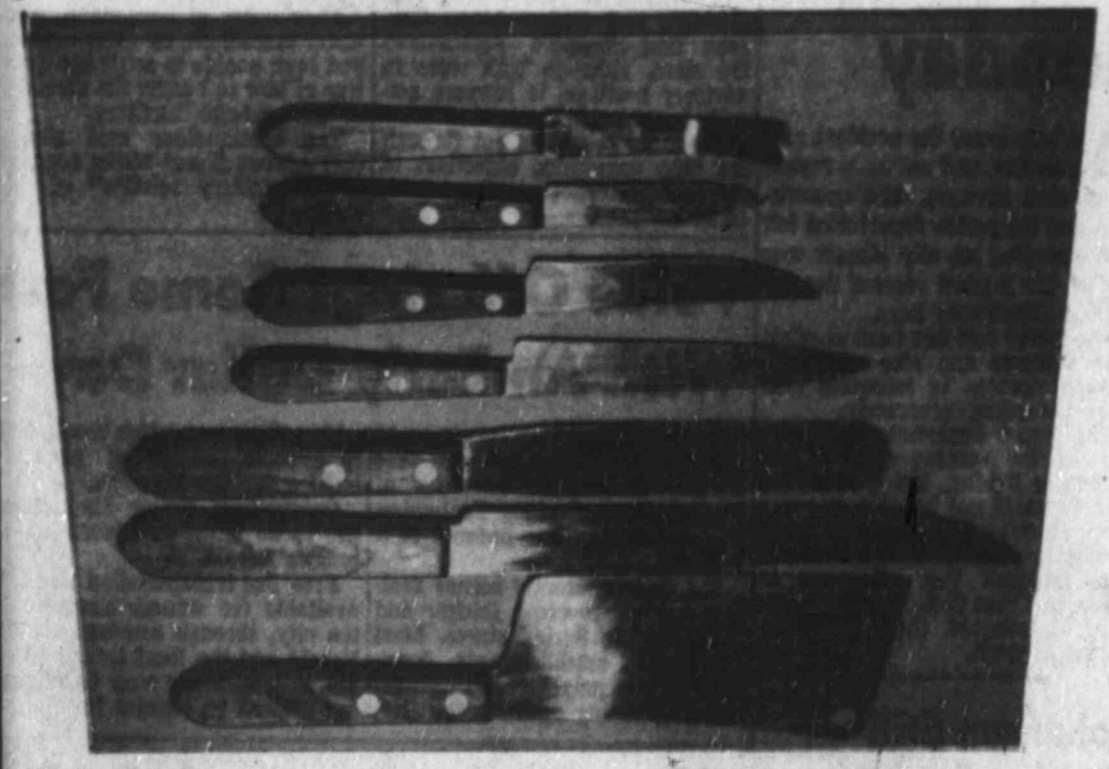

Your Tomorrow Starts with a New Kind of Ford—see it Oct. 3rd.

Webb's Largest Class Gets Wings

The graduation of Jet Pilot Class 57-A, held at the Webb AFB Chapel Friday night, marked the completion of 11 months of rigorous training for the 84 members of the largest class in the history of Webb. The Chapel was filled to capacity with graduates, their parents and friends.

Col. C. M. Young, Webb commander, welcomed the visitors and congratulated the class, saying: "There is no one in this class who couldn't fly the fastest and the best aircraft in the United States Air Force. You wouldn't be here if you couldn't do that."

Guest speaker for the occasion was John P. Butler, president of the First National Bank in Midland. He has been in the banking business for 29 years and has occupied many positions of civic responsibility in Midland.

Butler, director of the board of the El Paso branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas and a member of the executive council of the American Bankers' Association, discussed the economics of banking, emphasizing the importance of sound monetary policies in America today, both in its internal and foreign relations.

Pointing to the great heritage which the graduates have as Americans, the speaker expressed his trust that the officer pilots will prove worthy representatives of America wherever they serve.

Following the ceremonies, Col. Young paid warm tribute to Mrs. Sophie Woda for the part she has played in social and official activities during the time she and her husband, Maj. Robert G. Woda, have been stationed here at Webb. Pointing out that Woda (who leaves next week for a SAC assignment after four years here) will get his thanks at his going-away party at the Officers' Club on Sunday, the Colonel reminisced briefly about early days at Webb, when student classes were smaller and club facilities were less adequate.

Mrs. Woda's aid in conducting receptions for the graduates, as well as in helping with countless other gatherings since, has been invaluable. Her helpfulness and pleasant personality will be missed greatly here, the Colonel concluded.

The invocation and benediction were given by Chaplain (1st Lt.) William J. Ludlum.

A reception for the new pilots, their parents and guests was held at the Officers' Club immediately after the ceremony. Music for the occasion was provided by the 256th Webb Air Force Base Band.

For the first time at Webb, two students tied for top academic and flying honors. They were 2nd Lt. Richard A. Pickett and Jack E. Spell, who received letters of commendation.

Class members are First Lts. Officers of the freshman class are Linda Kay Camp, president; Mollie Neil, vice president; Coco Ratliff, secretary-treasurer; and Winona Hall, reporter.

On the annual staff are Gaye Griffith, editor; Frankie Bedell and Edell Ratliff, assistant editors; Butch Padgett and Buddy Sullivan, art editors; Sue Averett and Pat Brunton, sports editors; Sue Miller and Ronnie Howard, snapshot editors; Jane McElroy, social editor; and Oleta Daniel, business manager.

Paper staff includes Oleta Daniel, editor; Sue Miller and Sue Averett, assistant editors; Winona Hall, freshman representative; Ginny Dee Scudday, sophomore; Nedeline Pitcock, junior; and Gaye Griffith, senior representative.

Three new officers have been elected for the student council, also. They are Ronnie Howard, vice president; Frankie Bedell, secretary; and Linda Kay Camp, treasurer.

First National Opens Drive-In Annex Monday

A new service is being initiated by First National Bank Monday. Effective that date, the bank will begin operation of two drive-in banking windows as a convenience to its patrons. Two tellers will be on duty throughout banking hours at the windows. They will accept deposits, cash checks and carry on many other phases of ordinary banking operations in which the customer will merely remain seated in his car and never have to enter the building itself.

Entrance to the new bank annex is in the 200 block of Rummels street and the windows are on the west side. The customer pulls up in front of the window in his car. There are microphones on the inside and the exterior so that the customer may advise the teller of his wishes and the employe may answer any questions. A deposit can be quickly made and the patron be on his way.

It was also pointed out that many women, having business at the bank find it most unhandy to have to dress to go on the errand. With drive-in window service, all women need to do is get in the car, dressed as they are, drive up to the window, transact their business and go their way. They do not even have to leave the driver's seat.

Banks have also found that such windows tend to lessen congestion in bank lobbies and make it pleasanter for the customers inside to complete their transactions.

First National Bank invites its patrons and friends to inspect the new service it is providing and make use of the facilities.

Vehicle Bid Date Put Off

Bids for two automobiles for use by the county road department will be considered on Oct. 29 instead of Oct. 15 as had been planned, it was announced by Lee Porter, county auditor.

Porter said that it was necessary to change the date for the reason there are no 1956 automobiles available here at this time. Further, dealers have not received the price schedule for the 1957 models and cannot make bids without knowledge of this fact. Dealers have advised that such price lists should be available within two weeks.

The highway department has a been authorized to receive two new cars. Several vehicles in the department will be traded in on the deal, it was said.

Political Squabble In Texas Turns Now To Senate Race

The trend of Texas politics shifted during the past week from a complicated governorship race to a complicated senatorial race.

Sen. Price Daniel, Democratic nominee for governor, was the key figure both coming and going.

A brief district court session Friday in Austin apparently ended formal efforts of the Constitution Party to put either W. Lee O'Daniel or his wife on the general election ballot as its candidate for governor. The constitutionalists said they would urge a write-in campaign for the former governor and senator.

At the court session a suit questioning the eligibility of Daniel was dismissed. "All we were interested in was getting Daniel to resign,"

State Constitution Chairman Joseph Rummel said.

Whether Daniel actually had resigned the Senate post was a controversy fanned into flames Saturday by the Republicans.

Daniel offered Gov. Shivers his resignation Thursday to be effective Jan. 15 or when his successor was elected. Shivers "acknowledged" the offer before leaving on a two-weeks hunting trip to Alaska but delayed action on a special senatorial election until some legal questions were answered.

The came GOP senatorial candidate Thad Hutcherson of Houston with a threat to file suit if Secretary of State Tom Reavley didn't accept his $50 filing fee for a special election which he said was required on Nov. 6. Reavley said the application was "premature." Hutcherson said he might file "a mandamus against the acting governor (L. Ben Ramsey) to 'accept' the Price Daniel resignation and 'immediately' set the special election."

Hutcherson said he believed that the Supreme Court, if the suit ever got there, would find that Daniel's resignation was "so conditional as to be ineffective, in which event the responsibility will be clearly returned to Sen. Daniel to resign unconditionally now."

All of which may or may not be settled before the new state Democratic Executive Committee meets Thursday. It had been expected the committee would spend most of its session planning a party primary in which a Democratic nominee would be picked to oppose Hutcherson and other party or independent candidates.

One of the possible candidates was Ralph Yarborough who lost by 3,400 votes to Daniel in the governor's runoff. After a reported financing trip to New York he said he was giving the senate race "serious consideration."

Two announced senatorial candidates formally open campaigns this week, although they have been making speeches and shaking hands for some time.

Former state Supreme Court Justice Jim Hart scheduled a statewide television speech Wednesday night. State Sen. Searcy Bracewell said he would have a statewide TV speech during the week.

Deadline Near On Vote Certificates

Minors and non-residents of Texas, who will become eligible to vote after January 1 but who desire to ballot in the general election on Nov. 6, have until next Saturday to qualify themselves for this privilege, a check of state election laws discloses.

Any minor who will not be 21 years old by Nov. 6 but who will attain that age by or soon after Jan. 1, 1957, and any non-resident, who will have been in the state a year and otherwise have complied with voter qualification requirements by that date or soon after desiring to vote in the general election can do so provided:

He goes to the county tax assessor's office and obtains an exemption certificate. Such certificates will be acceptable as proof of right to vote on Nov. 6.

T&P Trains On New Schedules

Schedule changes for the Texas & Pacific passenger trains become effective today.

Westbound train No. 1 will arrive at 3:55 p.m. instead of 3:50 p.m. The schedules on train No. 7 will remain the same, arriving here at 5:10 a.m.

Eastbound No. 2 will arrive at 9:05 a.m. and leave at 9:20 a.m. instead of arriving at 9:25 and leaving at 9:40 as was formerly the case. Train No. 8 will arrive at 11:30 p.m. and leave at 11:50 p.m. instead of arriving at 11:10 p.m. and leaving at 11:30 a.m. as was the case.

No. 2's schedule has been rearranged to call for a 40 minute late departure from El Paso, but with 20 minutes of the time made up by the time it reaches here and the remaining 20 minutes by the time it reaches Fort Worth.

Cotton Brightening Stanton's Economy

STANTON — The town's banker, Jim Tom, is feeling much better these days, thanks to a bumper cotton crop in the Stanton area. Farmers are making from a bale to two bales per acre and getting a good price for it. The weather has been dry and sunny as pickers reach the halfway mark in the cotton harvest.

All this has helped business in general, with the bank sharing in the good fortune. Tom says the bank is in much better condition than at this time last year. It has $200,000 more on deposit, while loans have been reduced by $150,000. And it's due to get better, he says, because some farmers are just now getting in shape to pay off their loans.

The crop prospects dimmed a little in August because of hot, dry weather. A few farmers didn't have enough water to cover their fields when it was needed, and the yield was reduced by several thousand bales.

There is very little dryland cotton. An estimated 500 bales from these dryland fields will be ginned in Stanton.

Most farmers are fairly well satisfied with the blight resistant cotton being grown this year, Tom says. The staple is not quite so long as the 1517C grown in previous years, but there is no blight on this year's crop. Many fields in 1955 lost as much as a quarter bale to the acre because of the angular leaf spot.

Cites Scripture Passages To Show Babe Was Right

To the Editor:

According to newspaper reports the last words spoken by the famous woman athlete, Babe Didrikson Zaharias, were, "I ain't going to die, honey." Millions of words will be written by sports writers and editors all over the country and most of these words will be in praise of the record she made in sports and the fine spirit she manifested in doing it. This is well and good, but I would like to add a theologian's comment on these last words.

The Babe was right, the righteous never die. Death is not a terminus, it is a junction where the side road enters the main highway of life. God did not create man to destroy him. He does not raise hopes of immortality to dash them to dust. Man was created to live with and enjoy God forever. Job raises the question, "When a man dies, does he go on living?" Job 14:14. I know the King James version has it, "If a man die, shall he live again?" But the best of Hebrew scholars see a deeper meaning, and Jesus said as much to Martha on the outskirts of Bethany. "He that liveth and believeth in me shall never die." John 11:26. Literally Jesus said, "He that liveth and believeth in me shall go on living."

This is in harmony with many other passages of Scripture. For example, Solomon says in Ecc. 12:7, "Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." Paul follows up with this statement in II Cor. 5:4-8. "Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, while we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord; (For we walk by faith, not by sight.) We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord." In Philippians, chapter one Paul says: "To live is Christ, and to die is gain. To depart and be with Christ is far better."

"These are but a few of many pungent passages in the Bible which teach immortality, and since the Babe was brought up a strict Lutheran, and the Lutherans teach justification by faith, and Salvation by grace, just as the Bible everywhere presents it, then we believe the Babe was right when she said, "I ain't going to die, honey." She lives on.

Advocates Local Buying By City

To the Editor:

The City Commission is to be congratulated for their action in purchasing Police uniforms from a local concern, even though the local concern's bid was 32 cents per man higher than the lowest bid. The local firm and its employees pay city taxes, while the firm which bid low was an out of state firm.

This is in contrast to the action taken recently by the commission when they rejected the low bid of a local firm for a quantity of fire hose and awarded the contract to an out of town firm at a total price $1,548.00 higher than the bid submitted by the local firm. This, despite the fact that the hose offered by the local firm met or exceeded all requirements of the city's specifications.

It is hoped that the commission has now decided to buy locally when possible, from the local business men and firms who support it.

Little Red Wagon Is Theft Vehicle

A. E. Long, juvenile officer, was busy winding up on what could have been a "shocking" crime but really wasn't.

Two young offenders, one 11 and the other around 15, are alleged to have lugged off some second hand storage batteries without bothering to get permission of the owner.

Long had already located one of the battery lifters and had the other identified. The value of the loot was estimated as being perhaps 25 cents to 50 cents for each battery taken.

One perpetrator employed his little red wagon as medium of transportation for his stolen goods. The other used his bicycle to haul away a battery.

Parents Asked To Contact YMCA On Teen-Age Series

Parents who plan to participate in the "Partners in Growth" series on teen-age problems are asked to contact the YMCA by Wednesday.

James M. Hardy, general secretary of the Y, said that the staff needs to know how many parents will take part in the two sessions in order to plan for the group discussions.

All parents of teen-agers, regardless of whether they have children in YMCA club groups, are asked to call the Y (AM 4-8821).

Wednesday evening speakers will include Dr. Louise Ann Bennett, George Oldham, Chaplain W. H. Barker, Dr. J. T. Williamson, E. B. Pierson and Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. On Thursday evening there will be discussion groups dealing with problems of boys of the 10-11-12 grade level, one for girls of that level, and groups also for parents of boys and girls in the 7-9-grade level.

Among topics Wednesday are teen-age problems in general, emotional development, different rates of development, how parents can help meet teen-age needs, problems young people face in their spiritual development, need for sex education, choosing a life's work. The problem of parents also will be discussed.

After the Thursday evening discussion, W. R. Dawes, chairman of youth activities, will sum up with an address, "Partners — Parents and the YMCA."

Shrine Ceremonial Set Next Weekend

Big Spring will be teeming with Shriners and their ladies next weekend when the autumn ceremonial is held here.

This will mark the first in at least three decades, possibly five, that a ceremonial has been staged in Big Spring. Around 2,000 representatives from the Sun Temple and guests will be on hand.

There will be a big banquet honoring the potentate, Cecil D. McDonald, Big Spring, and a colorful parade embellished with gifts for the kiddies.

Noices (candidates for the Shrine) will be initiated into the order during Saturday afternoon. Estimates are that there will be 75 in the class. There also will be a barbecue for the noices and nobles; a style show and luncheon for the ladies; and the traditional ceremonial ball.

Wallace Moritz, San Angelo, will be the ceremonial master, while K. H. McGibbon and Arch Ratliff, Big Spring, will be assistants. Ratliff is president of the host Big Spring Shrine Club.

Already hotels are practically booked solid, and the motels are reserving available space steadily.

The schedule calls for registration to begin Friday morning at the headquarters in the Settles Hotel. There will be meetings of the Divan and the various committees all during the day.

The Potentate's banquet is set for 7 p.m. at the Cosden Country Club, to be followed by a bingo party. A number of electric appliances will be given away during the evening.

First up on the busy Saturday schedule will be the parade which shows off at 10:30 a.m. from second and Goliad with the line of march west on Third to Main, north to First, west to Scurry, south to Fourth, east to Runnels, north past the Settles to Second for dispersal. (On the heels of this parade will be one by the homecoming groups of Big Spring High School.)

In the parade will be units from Brownwood, Abilene, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Big Spring, Coleman, Snyder, Odessa, El Paso, Hobbs, N. M., and Midland. There will be bands, drum and bugle corps, fire trucks, mounted patrols, and many others. All members will be in full regalia.

From the ritualistic degree team float will be thrown 1,500 sacks of candy. No less than 15,000 pieces of bubble gum will be tossed from the Big Spring Shrine Club's old fire truck.

At noon Saturday there will be a barbecue for all nobility at the baseball park. Different units will perform. At 2 p.m. the first (ritualistic) section will be held at the city auditorium, and at 4 p.m. the second (initiation) section will be staged at the same location.

The luncheon for the ladies will be Saturday noon at the Cosden Country Club and the style show will be presented by the Little Shop and under the direction of Ed Fisher. Wives of the noices will be introduced into the fellowship. Registration for this luncheon will be effected all day Friday and Saturday morning at the Settles Hotel.

During the Potentate's banquet at Cosden Country Club, there will be special music with Mrs. Marilyn Newsom and her sister, Margie Keaton, singing. Lt. Charles Webb will play the organ during the dinner. Distinguished guests will be introduced by McDonald.

GOP Aspirant Wants Election On November 6

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Republican Senate candidate Thad Hutchison strongly indicated before 200 supporters here last night he will appeal to the courts that the special election to fill the place now held by Sen. Price Daniel be held Nov. 6.

Earlier he submitted his application and filing fee for a special election to Secretary of State Tom Reavley, but he turned him down, saying it was premature.

Daniel submitted his resignation to Gov. Shivers Thursday saying it would be "effective Jan. 15, 1957, or such earlier date as my successor has been elected and qualified."

He left to Shivers the setting of date for a special election. Shivers said he would not decide at once pending a study of the state law. The governor left yesterday for a two-weeks big game hunting trip in Alaska.

Talking about the governor being out of the state, and the attorney general "somewhere else not able to give an opinion," Hutchison said, "We may not let them

Red China Pushing Narcotics To Undermine The Free World

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Harry J. Anslinger, U. S. narcotics commissioner, said today Red China is pushing large amounts of narcotics into the free world with twin aims of making money and causing debauchery, particularly among U. S. troops and civilians in the Far East.

Anslinger told of Communist Chinese land, air and sea smuggling of tons of opium, morphine and heroin in a symposium published by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The 475-page volume, the second of a two-part series entitled "Soviet Total War," also contained writings by other well-known figures describing different aspects of the Communist menace.

Anslinger said that while the Peiping government aims at making a huge profit by peddling narcotics, a "far more important" Red target is their use "as a vehicle of physical deterioration and moral debauchery."

"Particular attention is being paid to American military and civilian personnel in the Far East," he said. "At the same time, Red China's opium has been discovered on both the West and East Coasts and as far inland as St. Louis, Mo."

Anslinger listed just one specific instance concerning GIs. He said a U. S. soldier "recently" stated that while stationed at Taegu, South Korea, he and 30 fellow servicemen were given almost pure quality heroin free. The GIs became addicts and had to get hospital treatment upon return to the United States, Anslinger said.

The narcotics chief said the Communist drugs pour out to the world through the Red Chinese ports of Tientsin, Tsingtao and Canton, and through Yunnan Province which is north of Burma and Thailand.

He said the traffickers use whole sections of ship crews, such as the engine or deck crews, to smuggle the goods. Both aircraft maintenance crews and passenger "couriers" were said to be employed when the narcotics go by air.

Anslinger said from 200 to 400 tons of Chinese Communist raw opium move through Thailand annually. Consumers pay an equivalent of $350,000 a ton for the smoking variety. At any time at a point outside Bangkok harbor, he said, traffickers can buy three to four tons at $40,000 a ton.

"Millions of dollars obtained through the sale of opium and other narcotics," he added, "are used by the Communist regime in mainland China for political purposes and to finance agents."

SEOUL (AP)—A jobless Korean war veteran who wounded Vice President Chang Myun in an assassination attempt, said today "I did it on my own" without any outside urging.

Kim Sang Poong, 26, said in an interview arranged by police that "because (Chang's) pro-Japanese and pro-Communist attitude is bad, I decided to get rid of him for the good of the Democratic party and the people of the nation."

Kim fired two revolver shots as the vice president stepped from the stage at a political convention yesterday.

Kim said he is a member of Chang's Democratic party and wanted to kill him to make way for Chang's rival, Chough Pyong Ok, the party president. A spokesman for the Democratic party denied that Kim is a member.

Chang, 56, had differed sharply with President Syngman Rhee on domestic policies. Chang's political opponents have never called him pro-Communist.

They're After The Litterbugs

These ladies, representing the garden clubs of Big Spring, carry their campaign against community untidiness to the new stadium. They are shown tacking up posters urging people not to be litterbugs. Similar posters have gone up in schools and all over town. The clubs are seeking especially to encourage good housekeeping along highways and streets. Left to right are Mrs. David Barker, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. J. J. Balch, Mrs. R. O. Carothers, Mrs. Tommy Hubbard and Mrs. Ray Adams.

War Declared On 'Litterbugs' As Garden Clubs Push Beautification

Members of Garden Clubs in Big Spring are making war on litterbugs. Joining hands with the Chamber of Commerce beautification committee, the women are pushing a continuing campaign to keep the city and county as clean and attractive as possible. One of the immediate focal points of action is against litterbugs—those thoughtless people who toss cans and refuse onto streets and highways, and who litter paper cups and assorted trash about public places. Mrs. J. E. Hogan, general chairman of the Garden Club Council litterbug committee, met with principals of elementary schools during the week. She distributed posters which will be erected in all schools to remind youngsters to keep their playgrounds clean. The group also put up posters at the new stadium Friday as a step to help keep this facility attractive. One of the main targets is directed at reducing the practice of throwing trash on to highways and city streets. Besides urging officials for maximum enforcement of laws against disposing of trash on public ways, the clubs will ask service station operators to stock small litterbags. These paper bags have a handle which makes them handy for hanging inside a car so that trash may be easily deposited in them and then left at the next station for disposal. These would retail to motorists at only five cents. The clubs also will ask for more receptacles downtown for trash. One of the chief objectives is to encourage all residents to feel personally responsible for helping to keep their city and county as free from trash as possible. Hence, there will be a continuing program of publicity. The group also will seek financial help for beautifica-

Babe's Ashes Buried With Private Rites

BEAUMONT, Sept. 29 (AP)—The ashes of the world's greatest woman athlete, Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias, were buried here today within a stone's throw of a golf course. It was in that sport that she gained her greatest fame. In the glare of publicity all her life because of her remarkable athletic ability, her final rites were private with only members of her family present. A public funeral was held yesterday at Bethlehem Lutheran Church. During the night, her body, which was cremated in Houston and the ashes returned here for interment. Her husband, George Zaharias, said he was heart-broken. The Denver wrestling promoter and wealthy real estate man said he "wanted to thank the President of the United States for his very kind message on Babe's passing, as well as all people and friends from all over the world." "She would have been thrilled to know, and I know she must know," he said. "She would have been as grateful as I am for the outpouring of sympathetic messages." Zaharias said he had been asked what he was going to do "now that the Babe is resting in peace." "I am going to carry on her wishes to fight this terrible disease, cancer. I am going to do everything in my power to help find the answer and the cure for all humanity." He is going to Miami Beach Oct. 3 to appear at a televised fight. Zaharias said the IBA show is to be shown nationally and will be a benefit for the Babe Zaharias Cancer Fund. "I intend to move slowly in the future," he said. "I have no immediate plans to return to the home Babe built in Tampa. But I do intend to go back to Colorado to see my family and friends in the near future."

United School Drive Slated

The United School Fund drive, first ever held in Big Spring schools, will be staged the week of Oct. 8-12. Plans for the campaign were mapped at a meeting of Supt. Floyd Parsons, principals and a teacher representative from each of the city's schools. It is the only fund-raising campaign that will be authorized in the school system this year. Funds raised will be for the students' support of the Howard County United Fund, the Junior Red Cross, Howard County Tuberculosis Association and the March of Dimes. Letters will be sent to parents in the next few days, outlining plans for the campaign.

tion and will work with Mrs. Jim Zack of the Chamber Beautification Committee in this respect. Members of the litterbug committee with Mrs. Hogan are Mrs. Tommy Hubbard (Spaders Club), Mrs. Ray Adams (4 o'clock Club), Mrs. J. I. Balch (Big Spring Club), Mrs. David Barker (Rosebud Club) Mrs. R. O. Carothers (Planters Club).

The Lubbock Experiment Station is having a field day Tuesday, October 2, for West Texas farmers and ranchers. They will show visitors test plots of different crops and cultivation methods. A barbecue will be served at noon.

Irrigated cotton will make up nearly all the cotton ginned in Howard County this fall, according to County Agent Jimmy Taylor. It won't account for half the cotton raised in the county, however, because the Lomax gin is getting a lot of irrigated cotton from Glasscock County. Taylor says dryland cotton is poor everywhere except in the Lee's community. It's not good down there but will make nearly a quarter bale to the acre, and that's pretty good compared to other places. He estimates the cotton crop at about 3,000 to 3,500 bales for the county.

Taylor says a few farmers are making a little money though it won't amount to much except in a few isolated areas. He said one or two farmers had threshed 400 pounds to the acre. The livestock outlook gets gloomier by the month. There is hardly any grass anywhere, and all the ranchers are feeding. Most of them are gradually selling off cattle, as another dry winter approaches. It is almost too late for any grass regardless of what rains may come, and no one is looking forward to another winter's feeding. Jack Davis former county agent of Martin County and now stationed at Levelland, says his hybrid grain sorghums show a lot of promise in that area. Several strains are being tried, and while not much has been harvested yet, it appears to yield much heavier than ordinary grain sorghums. Davis says one trouble with crops such as this is that growers get hold of the seed before the variety has been perfected. This is happening with the hybrids, and several farmers are growing the seed before the seed breeders were ready for it to be released.

The Farmers Gin and Cotton Company at Stanton may gin 5,000 bales this year, according to gin manager J. L. Henson. Yesterday at 11:00 they had turned out 2,776 bales and there was a string of loaded cotton trailers half as long as a freight train waiting on the yard. Henson thinks the yield will be about like it was last year, and in the Stanton area will average a bale and a half per acre. The 1517BR cotton being used is turning out quite well. The staple is not quite so long as the 1517C grown last year, but there is no leaf spot. Henson has 65 acres of his own just west of town which he thinks will make 150 bales. He doesn't attribute it all to the kind of cotton, but says he had plenty of water and this made the difference. He shut off his wells September 1st.

The Howard County Pig Show for next Wednesday and Thursday will feature some top animals, according to Assistant County Agent Bill Sims. The contests are limited to Howard County 4-H Club and FFA members, though the Sears pigs from both Martin and Howard counties will be entered. A contest was held in Stanton Saturday to determine the pigs that would be entered in the Howard County show. First place gilt is owned by Ronnie George of Tarzan, and first place boar will be entered by William Cave of Flower Grove.

These two animals will be placed in competition with Sears pigs from Howard County. A soil analysis is not worth much in determining how much fertilizer to put on land, according to Floyd Smith, manager of the Stanton Chemical and Seed Company. Most of the soil analyses show that potash is not needed on Martin County soils, yet potash fertilizer has shown good results. The most popular fertilizer being used on irrigated fields are 12-24-12 and 10-20-10, which means nitrogen, phosphorus and potash in the order listed.

"Some of the elements that show up as adequate in a soil sample are not always usable," Smith said. The potash helps the cotton make a better root system and thus stands the dry weather better. Down at Fort Stockton one topic of conversation at this time of year is when the big spring will begin flowing again. It's not flowing yet and people are wondering when it will start, according to Ray Siegmund, district agent with the Extension Service. During the last two years it has been dry as a bone during the irrigation season but starts up soon after the wells are shut down. This year the water table must rise 30 feet before the spring will flow, says Siegmund.

It came up eight feet when wells were first stopped about the first of September, but hasn't risen any lately. The water is getting in short supply in some areas out there, and the big spring is one of the casualties. At one time it was the biggest in West Texas, covered an area as big as a house, and gushed millions of gallons of water every hour.

Good butcher cattle are getting hard to find, says Finis Bugg, Big Spring packing plant owner. He has a buyer who travels West Texas and has been picking up a few animals here and there. Bugg usually puts them in the feed lots for a period of from 30 to 90 days. He said there was quite a demand for commercial grade cattle now. Farmers and ranchers are putting them on stalk fields. Hardly any of the maize is worth combining, but they can get a little use from the burnt-up stalks by letting cattle graze them. Bugg says a few grocers in town are now featuring cheaper cuts of meat, as there is some buyer resistance to the higher-priced meat. Hamburger and forequarters are selling well in some stores. However, it mostly depends on the class of customers that patronize the stores. Bugg says the older people who own their homes and are well established in business usually buy the best, whereas younger families who are having a harder time getting along must watch the budget. When meat prices get high, these people start buying cheaper cuts of meat.

No Ruling Yet On Dist. Clerk Race

Harvey Hooser, Jr., county attorney, said Saturday morning that he has not as yet received an attorney general's opinion on how Howard County can fill a vacancy in its official family.

The office in question is that of district clerk Wade Choate who is now serving an interim appointment which expires on Nov. 6, date of the general election.

The question which has the officials in a tither is how to get the name of a nominee or nominees on the ballot for the general election. Two methods have been followed so far.

The first, under which the County Democratic Executive Committee met and selected a man as candidate for its party, has been set aside.

The second by which those interested in the post circulated petitions and filed these with the county judge, is transiently in effect. Four candidates submitted petitions last Monday bearing the required number of names believed necessary to make such applications effective. They will be named on the ballot as independent candidates and the man who gets the most votes will be elected for two years remaining of the current tenure of the office. However, all of this could be upset by the awaited opinion of the attorney general.

Hooser said he has urged that the opinion be hastened to him — citing the short interval remaining in which ballots may be prepared for the general election. It had been hoped the ruling would be here Saturday but it did not arrive.

Replacement Of Experiment Sta. Barn Is Sought

U. S. Department of Agriculture district officials will formally present a request to the Washington office early this week for replacement of the big barn at the U. S. Experiment Station here. The barn was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning of last week.

Fred Keating, superintendent of the station, said that a survey of damages is still under way but that it was evident the loss sustained would run between $75,000 and $100,000.

This loss is for physical property only. Heaviest loss from a scientific standpoint was in the vast quantity of rare grass seeds and experimental grasses which were stored in the barn. These were consumed. Many are almost irreplaceable. Others can only be replaced by long trips to isolated areas where such seeds are found.

The seeds are being used in experiments to improve pasture lands in this area.

The barn, a two-story wooden structure, was set on fire when struck by a lightning bolt during a thunderstorm. Fire spread to the implement shed, but the flames here were put under control. For a little time, the fire threatened the office building at the station.

The experiment station is located just north of the city limits.

Keating said that district officials have been informed of the disaster and steps are being taken to cope with the problem as quickly as possible.

No insurance was carried — it not being the practice of the federal government to insure its properties.

Keating is hopeful that the request to replace the barn and equipment will meet with favorable consideration in Washington and that prompt approval will be given to the plea.

He believes that this will be the attitude of the authorities at the national capital.

CD Applicants Nearing 600

At the end of the week, the tabulation of Civil Defense workers signed in the drive Sept. 14 stood just short of 600.

The county showed 589 persons signed applications. There may be others, W. D. Berry, Civil Defense coordinator said, but some organizations have not turned in a report — negative or otherwise.

Included in the 589 count were 89 from Coahoma and 18 from Vealmoor. The remainder are applicants from Big Spring.

Friday afternoon, Berry and Pat Kinder, city receptionist, classified the applicants from Big Spring. The classification showed 32 in the administrative division, 18 block wardens, nine communication engineers, two radio broadcasting station workers, and four in the newspaper category.

Also two in commercial radio, nine in amateur radio, 49 in telephone work, five mobile radio personnel, four Boy Scout messengers, seven in the building-housing division, two engineers, seven in finance, 83 in food-clothing-shelter, two in worker identification, and one in the legal division.

Also medical division (14), nursing and hospital care (16), personal information (nine), rescue (25), supply (30), traffic control (6), transportation (38), auxiliary police (5), auxiliary firemen (15), Red Cross (10), Salvation Army (9), ground observer (56), first aid (43), and public health (19).

Forsan Grad Gets High Mark At Tech

Mrs. C. L. Girdner, the former Patsy Jean Shoultz, has distinguished herself in the freshmen tests at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Girdner, who is a June graduate of Forsan High School and who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shoultz of Forsan, ranked among the top 15 students in mathematics among entering students at Tech. Her grade on English was so high that she was allowed to take English 133 instead of 101 — that is to say she was permitted to skip freshman English.

She was valedictorian at Forsan, finishing with one of the highest, if not the highest averages on record for Forsan High.

'Choraleers' Win FTAF Title, Sing At Waco Today

Webb AFB Choraleers, a choir composed of both officers and airmen, has won first place in the 1956 Flying Training Air Force Singing Contest, which was conducted by means of tape recorded numbers mailed to a central judging committee at Waco.

By winning the first place award, the Choraleers received a $50 prize and an opportunity to sing in the Heart of Texas Talent Contest, which will be conducted at James Connally AFB, Waco, today.

The Webb Choraleers, who were placed in the vocal group category, will sing in Waco before a group of some 10,000 people. If this performance is successful, the singers will appear on the Lawrence Welk Television Show in California.

The Sunday contest will include six categories: vocal groups, vocalist solos, musical instrument groups, dancing solos, western or country groups of solos and novelty or specialty acts.

Second Lt. Charles Webb, personnel services officer, is the director of the Choraleers.

STANTON, Sept. 29 — Beck Smith is the FFA Sweetheart for the Stanton High School FFA Chapter this year.

Son Born To The Ed Mitchells At Garden City

GARDEN CITY (SC) — A son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mitchell at 5:33 p.m. on Sept. 21 at Webb AFB, has been named Eddie Lynn. The baby weighed in at eight pounds and eight ounces.

The father is in the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Cunningham off San Francisco, Calif. Mrs. Mitchell lives here with her sister, Mrs. Lee Roy Hunt.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Mitchell, Post, and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hale, Post. Mrs. Mitchell has been making her home with her sister while her husband is aboard ship.

Annual Farm Bureau Meet Slated Tuesday Evening

Howard County Farm Bureau's annual meeting is set for Tuesday, and there will be a big barbecue supper with it.

The affair is slated for 7 p.m. in the main building of the Howard County Fair Association. Ralph White, president, said preparations were being made for at least 300.

Following the supper, John T. Gregg, Lubbock, representing the National Cotton Council, will speak.

Several resolutions will come on for consideration and local action in order that messengers to the state convention will be instructed. One of the items of business is the election of messengers to the state meeting, as well as the election of eight directors.

The board of directors will meet the evening of Oct. 9 to reorganize and to name association officers for the year.

Wages Increased

AUSTIN, Minn., Sept. 29 (AP) — George Hormel & Co. and United Packinghouse Workers have signed a contract providing for 23 cents an hour increases over a three-year period and elimination of the differential for women workers.

Our Sincere and Grateful Thanks . . .

We want to express our sincere and grateful thanks to the citizens of this area who have given our new store such a warm and wonderful response. Houston Clips Mississippi State By 18-7 Score

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Quarterback Don Flynn punted for one touchdown and passed 44 yards to halfback Harold Lewis for another tonight in leading a slow starting University of Houston football team to a 18-7 season opening inter-sectional victory over Mississippi State.

A crowd of 56,000, largest in 11 years of football at Houston, saw the Cougars play the first 19 minutes without making a first down and without advancing beyond their 27 yard line.

Flynn then directed a quick 70-yard second period scoring drive, plunging over from the one. His third period scoring pass to Lewis came on the first play after Houston recovered a State fumble.

Mississippi State had dominated the opening minutes but did not score until it launched a late fourth period 30-yard march, with quarterback Bill Slacy passing 26 yards to end Ronald Bennett for the touchdown.

Houston then took the kickoff and moved 66 yards in 10 plays for its third touchdown, with Lewis ramming over from the one. Fullback Frank Sabbatini kicked State's extra point. A penalty nullified Flynn's first conversion attempt and fullback Don Caraway missed from the 18. Flynn's third period attempt was wide, as was quarterback Sammy Blount's fourth period try.

Before Houston started rolling, Mississippi State had moved to the Houston 33, 22 and 14 before being held. Tackle Bobby Tribble tried a field goal attempt when the Maroons reached the 14 in the first period but the kick was wide.

College Heights Downs East Ward

College Heights defeated East Ward, 6-0, Saturday morning in an elementary school football game.

Jeff Brown scored the game-winning touchdown for the Heights. For East Ward, Dickie Irons threw in the longest run, a 60-yard jaunt. James Samples was probably the outstanding defensive player of the game.

Arkansas Defeats Okla. Aggies, 19-7

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 29 (AP)—Little Rogers Overbey, perhaps one of the smallest players in major college football, sparked the Arkansas Razorbacks to two touchdowns in a 19-7 inter-sectional triumph over Oklahoma A&M tonight.

Overbey, a 146-pound senior, grabbed a lateral and zipped 46 yards down the sideline to set up the touchdown.

Kermit Slams Lamesa, 27-12

LAMESA, Sept. 29 (SC)—Kermit's Yellowjackets, still undefeated this season, added another star to the crown they're working on with a 27-12 victory over the Lamesa Tornado Friday night.

Lamesa matched the 'Jackets' scoring in the first half, as each team scored twice. But Kermit collected two more touchdowns, adding its final counter with but one minute left in the game.

Northwesterners Edge Iowa State

EVANSTON, ILL., Sept. 29 (AP)—Bob McKiever, a home town product who starred at Evanston High School, scored two touchdowns and added both extra points today in leading Northwestern to a 14-13 victory over Iowa State in the Wildcats' football opener.

McKiever gained 120 yards in 22 carries and made Coach Ara Parseghian's debut in Big Ten circles a successful one although Iowa State battled down to the end and fumbled on Northwestern's 7 as the final gun sounded.

Field Goal Wins

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 29 (AP)—Junior Ken Cooper made his 1956 football debut today and kicked a 36-yard field goal with one minute and a half left to give Georgia a 3-0 victory over ambitious Florida State University.

Sooners Equal Record, Hammer Tarheels, 36-0

By SAUL FELDMAN
NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 29 (AP)—National champion Oklahoma opened a new football season today but it was the same old story—the Sooners won their 31st straight game by pummeling North Carolina 36-0.

The triumph before a partisan sellout crowd of 60,000 tied Oklahoma's national college record of 31 straight victories set by the 1948-49-50 teams of Coach Bud Wilkinson.

It was an especially bitter defeat for North Carolina Coach Jim Tatum—coaching his first year for the Tar Heels—returning to the gridiron where he gained recognition as the Oklahoma coach in 1946 when Wilkinson was his backfield assistant.

Oklahoma started out today playing sluggishly and couldn't settle down until the last half of the second quarter. Suddenly the Sooners exploded with three touchdowns in four minutes and from then on it was all Oklahoma except for one brief time in the third quarter.

Wilkinson used all 61 of the players who suited up in an effort to keep down the score.

Oklahoma's two halfbacks, All-America Tommy McDonald and Clendon Thomas, did a terrific job of plugging yardage when it counted as the Sooners made 344 yards rushing and added 61 more passing.

McDonald made two touchdowns and Thomas added another.

Second team quarterback Jay O'Neal and third team quarterback Lonnie Holland added the fourth and fifth Oklahoma TD's.

Oklahoma added two more points on a safety when Doyle Jennings tackled Ron Marquette behind the goal in the closing minutes.

Fullback Billy Pricer got three conversions and Carl Dodd added a fourth point.

The final inning started when Alvin Dark grounded out but Stan Musial then lined a double to right center. Milwaukee decided to issue an intentional walk to Ken Boyer to bring up Repulski.

Rip then drilled the ball off third baseman Eddie Mathews' glove into left field with Musial scoring the winning run.

Wehmeier allowed the Braves nine hits but five of those came in the first three innings. The big rightlander fanned three and walked three to pick up his 12th victory against 11 defeats.

Milwaukee, battling desperately to win this vital game, saw center fielder Bobby DeGrego make two sensational catches in the ninth inning.

He raced to deep center field to haul in a drive by Mathews, leading off the inning, and then bounced off the wall at the 425-foot mark.

Joe Adcock then singled but Thomas was called out on strikes. DeGrego next took a hit away from Jack Dittmer with a one-handed running catch about 300 feet away from the plate to retire the side.

Spahn, an old Cardinal penman with a 43-24 lifetime mark against the club, was almost perfection himself on the mound for the first five innings. Only one man reached base against him and that was DeGrego on a walk in the third inning.

Forsan Defeats Hillbillies, 18-6

KNOTT, Sept. 29 (SC)—Ronnie Howard and Pat Brunton ran for touchdowns in the fourth quarter Friday night to give the Forsan Bulldogs an 18-6 six-man football victory over the Knott Hillbillies.

The two teams played on fairly even terms for the first three quarters. Both scored in the first period, but neither could cross the goal line in the second and third quarters.

Tony Starr intercepted a Knott pass and ran 35 yards for the first Buffalo score. Knott's tally came on a 30-yard end run by Thomas Day.

Hawkeyes Blank Hoosiers, 27-0

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 29 (AP)—Iowa capitalized on Indiana errors for two early touchdowns today and then manuevered the Hoosiers with the one-two punch of halfback Don Dobrino and quarterback Kenny Ploen, 27-0.

Jayhawks, COP Tie

LAWRENCE, Kan., Sept. 29 (AP)—Kansas Jayhawks scored on Homer (Hot Rod) Floyd's 31-yard sprint with a minute and seven seconds remaining to tie the College of the Pacific Tigers 27-27 in an inter-sectional football thriller today.

Full-Game Behind 12-Inning Loss To Cardinals Is Body Blow To Brave Hopes

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29 (AP)—The skidding Milwaukee Braves' pennant hopes suffered a vital body blow tonight as the St. Louis Cardinals won a 12-inning thriller, 2-1, on Rip Repulski's double and the steady pitching of big Herm Wehmeier.

The defeat put Milwaukee one full game behind the Brooklyn Dodgers, who swept a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Milwaukee has a 91-62 record to 92-61 for the Dodgers with just one game remaining for both clubs tomorrow.

Repulski's game-winning blow was only the fifth hit off southpaw Warren Spahn.

The final inning started when Alvin Dark grounded out but Stan Musial then lined a double to right center. Milwaukee decided to issue an intentional walk to Ken Boyer to bring up Repulski.

Rip then drilled the ball off third baseman Eddie Mathews' glove into left field with Musial scoring the winning run.

Wehmeier allowed the Braves nine hits but five of those came in the first three innings. The big rightlander fanned three and walked three to pick up his 12th victory against 11 defeats.

Milwaukee, battling desperately to win this vital game, saw center fielder Bobby DeGrego make two sensational catches in the ninth inning.

He raced to deep center field to haul in a drive by Mathews, leading off the inning, and then bounced off the wall at the 425-foot mark.

Gators, Clemson Battle To Draw

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Sept. 29 (AP)—Three penalties in the final 28 seconds produced one of the wildest football finishes ever seen on Florida Field and left Florida and Clemson in a 20-20 tie today.

The tricky quarterbacking of Charlie Bussey brought underdog Clemson two early touchdowns and a 14-0 lead. After another clever quarter back, Florida's 142-pound Jimmy Dunn, wiped that out and sent the Gators ahead 20-14, Bussey led Clemson 68 yards to a tie in the last 3 1/2 minutes.

Colgate Defeats Cornell, 34-6

HAMILTON, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—Fullback Ed Whitehair rocketed with ease through and around the Cornell line today to score three touchdowns as Colgate defeated the Cornell football team, 34-6.

Ole Miss Slams Kentucky, 37-7

MEMPHIS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Substitute quarterback Ray Brown broke a tight football game wide open by returning an intercepted pass 45 yards for a touchdown and his Mississippi Rebels rammed to a 37-7 win over Kentucky tonight.

EMBATTLED, BEWILDERED Longhorns Kick Point, Hold On For 7-6 Win Over Tulane

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Hallback Walt Fondren kept his bewildered Texas teammates within striking distance today and added a conversion to give the Longhorns a 7-6 football victory over Tulane.

Fondren, a hard-running 170-pound junior, was the only Texas runner able to penetrate Tulane's tough defenses, and his fleet dashes kept alive Texas' chances when his team seemed headed for defeat through more than half the game.

Texas capitalized on a break to push across its touchdowns two minutes before the third quarter ended. Fullback Ronnie Quillian tackled Zelenka's conversion attempt was blocked.

Ga. Tech Squeezes Past Ponies, 9-7

DALLAS, Sept. 29 (AP)—A brawling line, great kicking and the run of little Jimmy Thompson carried Georgia Tech to a hairline 9-7 victory over Southern Methodist tonight.

Georgia Tech, the nation's No. 2 team, was hanging up its sixth straight triumph over an SMU team that created a major upset last week in beating Notre Dame, rising to fifth place in the rankings as a result.

And the game tonight was just about the difference the rankings indicate. The unyielding Tech line followed up a great quick-kick by Dickie Mattison, Tech fullback, to block a punt that stacked up as the difference for the night—a safety.

It happened in the second period as Mattison's quick-kick that caught SMU flat-footed, died on the Methodist three. SMU managed to get out to the 10 with three runs, then Don Stewart stepped into the end zone. A wave of Yellow Jackets smashed through and in the middle was big Don Miller, substitute Tech guard and brother of a former Tech football great, Hal Miller. He blocked the kick, the ball skittered out of the end zone and it was a safety for Tech.

In the third period Tech scored a touchdown on a 77-yard drive with Thompson doing the job with a 32-yard run that carried out of bounds on the SMU three, then whirling around left end for the score. Wade Mitchell converted and Tech led 9-0.

SMU smashed to the Tech 8 and to the 17 in a couple of desperate drives in the fourth period but a

A&M Gets 9-6 Win Over LSU

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 29 (AP)—Texas A&M scored a quick first quarter touchdown on two breaks, added a safety on a blocked kick and fought off a furious rally to down Louisiana State 9-6 tonight.

A record 61,000 fans saw the LSU offense sputter for more than three periods, then tip off an 81-yard scoring drive in the last two minutes and threaten again as time ran out.

Duke Flattens Virginia, 40-7

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Sept. 29 (AP)—Duke rediscovered its mislaid offense here today, and blending a fierce rushing attack with deadly jump passes, flattened Virginia 40-7 for its first 1956 football victory.

Coach Bill Murray dipped all the way down to his fourth string without success in holding down the score as the Blue Devils, angered by last week's 7-0 upset at the hands of South Carolina, took out their wrath on the hapless Cavaliers.

Purdue Defeats Missouri, 16-7

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 29 (AP)—Tommy Fletcher ignored a bad leg and gave Purdue the break-away running it needed to beat the Missouri Tigers in the Bollinger's football opener, 16-7.

With quarterback Len Dawson throwing over the Missouri line and fullback Mel Dillard pounding up the middle, Fletcher's elusiveness was just what Purdue needed. He carried the ball on seven of the 17 plays in Purdue's first-quarter touchdown drive, and he cut 35 yards through the Tiger defense for the game-winning margin in the third period.

Terps Struggle For 6-0 Win

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Sept. 29 (AP)—Maryland sophomore halfback Ted Kershner tossed a fourth-down, 6-yard pass on the goal line to halfback Jack Healy in the opening minute of the second quarter today and the embattled Terps made it stand up for a 6-0 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over Wake Forest.

A crowd of 13,000 saw Wake Forest stopped six times within the Maryland 16-yard line, the last time about one foot from the goal within four minutes to play. The underdog Deacons moved into Maryland territory eight times in all, but lacked the scoring punch when the chips were down.

Cowboys Defeat Wichita, 20-7

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 29 (AP)—The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, noted for their passing game, switched to a powerful ground attack tonight and defeated Wichita State University 20-7 in a nonconference football game.

The Cowboys rolled up 335 yards rushing and gained only 28 by passing. Wichita netted 236 yards on the ground.

Dodgers Win Two; Are Assured Of Tie

By JOE REICHLER
 BROOKLYN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Brooklyn's old pros battled back to within reach of their second consecutive National League pennant today, sweeping a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 6-2 and 3-1 behind the great pitching of Sal Maglie and Clem Labine. The double victory hoisted the Dodgers into a full-game lead, with but one more to play, after Milwaukee tumbled to its second defeat in a row at St. Louis.

A victory over the Pirates in today's final regular season game would win the flag for the world champs—who as late as yesterday virtually were dead. But Milwaukee failed to strike the death knell—losing 5-4 Friday night and again, 2-1, last night to the Cards.

Brooklyn now is 92-51 for the season, Milwaukee is 81-62, and needs a victory against St. Louis today plus a Brooklyn defeat to salvage as much as a tie. That would call for a pennant playoff, with the best-of-three series opening in Ebbets Field Monday.

By taking the doubleheader, the Dodgers also eliminated Cincinnati from the race. Although the Redlegs won today at Chicago, they are only 90-63 for the season, and even a victory in tomorrow's finale would leave them short of Brooklyn's victories.

Maglie, the comeback wizard who pitched a no-hit shutout against Philadelphia in his last start on Tuesday, knocked over the pesky Pirates and Dodger killer Bob Frine with a six-hitter in the opener. He was backed up by a two-run homer by Sandy Amoros that clinched things in the first inning.

Until then, Sandy had been the "goat" of Brooklyn's pennant scramble off his mulf of a fly ball in Wednesday's loss to the Phillies.

After Sandy's shot, which capped a three-run outburst which overhauled a 2-0 Pirates lead built on Frank Thomas' 25th home run, the 29-year-old Maglie was in command.

TRAYLOR-SHOFFNER

Bears Take Easy Game From Tech

WACO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Baylor's pass-and-run combination led the way today in giving the Bears an easy 27 to 0 football victory over Texas Tech.

The Red Raiders muffed two scoring chances and could not go against the stout Baylor line in a game played before a small, sweltering crowd of 15,000 in 95-degree weather at Baylor Stadium.

A towering 46-yard pass from Traylor to rangy Del Shofner put Baylor into the lead in the first period. Shofner slanted across from the four for the touchdown. Junior Bell's try for the extra point was wide.

Bobby Jones' 56-yard punt return, also in the first period, carried to the four and set up the next touchdown as Jones sneaked through for the score. End Earl Miller of Belton threw a key block to help hustle Jones into scoring position. Bell's extra point kick was good.

Early in the third, the Traylor to Shofner combination hit again on a 17-yard pass and 18-yard run on a scoring series that started from Tech's 45. Bobby Jack Oliver kicked the extra point.

Third string sophomore fullback Larry Hickman picked up an efficient escort of blockers for a 46-yard run for Baylor's fourth touchdown, and Kenneth Helms' place kick was good.

Once in the third Tech got the ball down to the Baylor one after good carries by Doug Duncan and Ronnie Herr, but Baylor fought the threat off.

After Baylor got the game in the bag in the first half, reserves swarmed in to the lineup and stayed there most of the way until the end of the game. The Bears were using boys not even listed on the program in the dull closing minutes of play.

Baylor, with Traylor doing most of the passing, completed 8 of 17 for a total of 162 yards gained in the air. But the Bears also rolled up a massive 245 net yards on the ground, with Bobby Jones, Hickman and others turning in substantial gains. Traylor and Jones alternated at quarterback for Baylor.

Tech was able to net only 141 yards on the ground, and passed successfully six times out of 18 tries for a net gain of a scant 52 yards.

Snyder Clash With Levelland Tops 3-A Card

By The Associated Press
 Big games clog the schedule in the upper echelons of Texas schoolboy football this week, with the dwindling list of unbeaten and untied teams in for another raking over the coals.

In Class AAA its Levelland against Snyder in one of the most meaningful games of the week. Paris and Kigore get together in another big feature. Graham goes into Class AA to take on upstart Comanche, one of the looming powers of that division.

Only 33 unbeaten, untied teams remain in the upper classes with Abilene, the defending champion, heading Class AAA and Snyder looking like the team to beat in Class AAA.

Abilene, Midland, San Angelo, Wichita Falls, Highland Park, Corpus Christi Ray, Waco and Carter - Riverside rode into the top spots of AAAA rankings last week.

In Class AAA Snyder wallpped Big Spring 39-0 while Levelland leveled Plainview 27-14 to set up their big game this week.

This week's schedule by districts (all games on Friday unless otherwise noted):

Hit By The Snyder Tigers

Wayne Fields, Big Spring back, is all alone with three Snyder tacklers in this scene from the Big Spring-Snyder football game-Friday night. Jan Landermilk (No. 73) moves toward the play, but it's too late. Fields had skirted right end, and picked up a short gain for the Steers. (Keith McMilla Photo).

Snyder Tigers Roar Past Steers With 39-0 Score

The floodgates sprang open on the third play from scrimmage, and the Snyder Tigers rolled like a tidal wave over the Big Spring Steers Friday night. The final tab was 39-0.

The inter-conference clash was the home opener for the Big Spring Steers and the first game in the Steers' new stadium.

After taking the opening kickoff, the Steers fumbled on their second play from scrimmage. Snyder recovered on the Big Spring 35, and on their first play the Tigers roared for a touchdown. Bobby Polard scooted wide around right end and beat the Steers to the corner flag.

Steer fumbles set up two other Snyder touchdowns. A penalty laid the ground work for another, and on another occasion the Tigers smothered a Big Spring punt effort to set up pass near the goal line. A 30-yard pass put Snyder in the scoring business for the other Tiger tally.

Big Spring reached paydirt once in the game, but an offside penalty nullified the touchdown. The Steers started two other promising drives which bogged down on penalties.

Around 6,000 fans, including a large crowd from Snyder, were on hand for the stadium baptism and the first home game of the year. They saw a top-flight half-time show, with the Snyder band staging scenes from a "fair midway" and the Steer band introducing its queen, Janet Hogan.

Snyder, wasting no time in chalking up a score, romped across the goal line twice in the first quarter. The second touchdown also followed a Steer fumble.

The Tigers recovered on the Big Spring 39, moved to the 31, and then Powell Berry skirted end for the score. Joe Reeves kicked the point.

In the second quarter, Berry completed a 30-yard pass to Back Bud Morgan to set up a play on the Big Spring 11. Berry then moved around left end to score. Reeves' kick was no good.

After an exchange of downs, Snyder started operating from the Big Spring 22. Berry carried to the 13 for a first down. Four plays later, Bill Fowler rammed over from the two.

Starting the third quarter, the Steers fumbled on their own 10, Wiley Denson recovering for Snyder. Berry carried to the two a host of Tigers swarmed over Bobby Suggs as he attempted a Big Spring punt. Snyder fell on the ball on the Big Spring 22. After a series of short gains, Israel Hinojos scored and Reeves kicked his third extra point.

Big Spring's touchdown that wasn't a touchdown came in the fourth quarter when Johnny Janak knifed through the Snyder line and went across the double line standing up. A teammate was offside, though, and the play was called back.

Wayne Fields, with 52 yards, Herschel Stocks, with 42, and Quarterback Billy Johnson, 33 yards, were the biggest ground gainers for the Steers. Johnson completed two passes for 41 yards, once to Suggs for 28 yards and once to Jan Landermilk for 13 yards.

Berry gained 63 yards for the Steers. Mickey McCrew picked up 33 and Pollard accounted for 38. Berry's 30-yard pass to Morgan was the only one completed by the Tiger crew.

Penalties cost both teams. Big Spring losing 76 yards by that route, and the Tigers losing 65. The score by quarters:

Cadets Show Power, Beat VMI By 32-12

WEST POINT, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—Army unveiled a football team with great potential power but an inadequate pass defense today and crushed outmanned Virginia Military Institute, 32-12.

Halfback Dick Murtland scored three Army touchdowns, all on short plunges at the end of long drives down the field. He also did a lot of running between scores.

Sophomores Gene Mikelonis and Harry Walters made the others. The superb passing of Duke Johnston and the receiving and running of Bobby Jordan accounted for the two VMI scores and made the Southern Keydets a real threat until the late stages of the game. Army Coach Earl (Red) Blaik had to keep his first-string players in action virtually all the time until Army's greater power finally wore VMI down.

A crowd of 26,150, including about 15,000 Boy Scouts, saw the rather shaky inaugural of Army's 67th season. After rolling up a 13-0 lead in the first quarter, Army saw VMI get two back in the second and then punched out three more with steady gains through the weakening VMI line.

Lions Recite Same Old Story, 34-0, Over Penn State

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29 (AP)—A new season and an old story unfolded on Franklin Field today as Penn State wallopped Penn 34-0 to extend the peaceful Quakers' losing streak to 19 straight games, longest major college losing skein in the nation.

It would be an understatement to say Penn never had a chance as the rugged Nittany Lions from Central Pennsylvania unveiled a fast, hard-hitting aggregation, which appears to be a definite contender for Eastern football honors.

Coach Rip Engle used two teams in alternate quarters and if there was any letup in the offensive or defensive prowess of either unit, it went unnoticed by the 23,390 fans who turned out on a cloudy but warm afternoon.

Penn, reportedly improved for this first year of Ivy League competition looked as helpless and hapless as it has in the past few years, registering only two first downs and passing midfield into State territory only five times—twice on intercepted passes and once on fumbles.

Penn hasn't won a game since Oct. 24, 1953, and has only one tie to show in its last 23 games. The future on the basis of today's performance, appears very blue for the Red and Blue.

Illini Awaken, Slash Cal Bears

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 29 (AP)—California rolled up a 20-0 half-time bulge today and then rolled over and died as Illinois lashed across four touchdowns within 6 1/2 minutes of the third period en route to a 33-20, season-opening football victory.

The Golden Bears, 13-point underdogs, displayed such passing and running finesse in the first half it looked as if the Illini would be disgraced before 54,833 fans, a record home opening crowd.

Then the Illini's ineptness turned into alertness and California collapsed into futility.

The third quarter was only a little more than five minutes old when Don Gilkey's 19-yard punt for the Bears was taken by Illinois on the California 38. In four plays the Illini scored when fullback Ray Nitschke romped 26 yards, fumbled on the 5, and Abe Woodson recovered the bounding ball in the end zone.

Then, in trip-hammer fashion, three more touchdowns were made in the same fashion Bob Allen recovered Gus Gianullas' bobble on the California 19. Four plays later, Hiles Stout scored on a quarterback sneak from the 1.

Dave Walker captured Herb Jackson's fumble on the Bears' 23. On the second down, Stout passed 15 yards to Woodson, who sped the final 5 yards.

Joe Contestaville's attempted pass was stolen by Ken Sutter, second-string Illini center, on the Bears' 20, and he galloped into the end zone.

Local Men Win Certificates

Bernie Coughlin, Big Spring, vice president of Westex Oil Company and a host at a one-day workshop for oil dealers of Big Spring, Midland and Odessa, presents certificates to two Big Spring men. He is handing a certificate to Howard Shaffer with Earl Finnel next up. At the left is Frank Farrar, distributive education coordinator in Big Spring. The course, held at Midland, was conducted by Plasco Moore, Austin; state distributive education director and stressed sales promotion, employee training and human relations. Not shown but attending from Big Spring was David Robinson.

Dawson Reef Prospector Runs Logs After Finding More Oil

A Dawson County wildcat continued to test and continued to find oil in the Canyon Reef. At last report, almost 200 feet of potential pay had been tested. The venture, Seaboard No. 1-A

Weaver, Saturday was running Schlumberger at total depth of 9,140 feet. Operator drilled stem tested from 9,097-149 feet, with the tool open two hours. Gas surfaced in eight minutes. Operator recovered 7,228 feet of clean oil, 214 feet of heavy oil and gas-cut mud with a salty taste, and 592 feet of muddy salt water, slightly oil and gas cut. Flowing pressure was 400-2,230 pounds, and 15-minute shut-in pressure was 3,780.

Completion And Location Reported In Dawson Area

Drilling activity in Dawson County included a new location and completion in different fields. The completion brought 255.75 barrels of oil through an 18-64-inch choke, plus 12 per cent water, in a 24-hour test. It was the Midwest No. 2 Mildred Bond, in the Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field.

The well is 660 feet from west and 860 feet from north lines, 25-33-4n, T&P Survey, and 10 miles north of Vealmoor.

Flow was through perforations between 7,156-94 feet after operator hit the pay zone at 7,134 feet. Total depth is 7,680 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 1,040-1, and gravity of the oil is 40 degrees. Operator fractured with 15,000 gallons before testing.

NEW PRODUCT

Cosden's Polybutene Unit Is Turning Out Versatile Fluid

Polyvis, a sticky, viscous, and versatile fluid, is now issuing from Cosden Petroleum Corporation's new polybutene plant. When production is smoothed, Cosden will feed 1,500,000 gallons per annum into the nation's growing market for the product which is used widely for such purposes as calking and sealing compounds, adhesives, special coatings and paint, extender and modifier for rubber, insulating materials, and especially as a lubricating oil additive.

Seaboard Oil Company staked the No. 1-46 T. J. Good seven and a half miles north of Vealmoor in the Arthur pool. Operator will penetrate to 8,400 feet. Plotted location is 660 feet from north and west lines, 46-33-4n, T&P Survey, on a 12,758-acre lease.

The Railroad Commission filed an amendment on the Falcon Seaboard No. 1 Clayton and Johnson location in the Putlock field. Location of it is Section 6-32-4n, T&P Survey, 11 miles north of Vealmoor. It will plug back to 7,192 feet. The well completed for 189.10 barrels of oil through a choke on July 28, 1956.

Polyvis is the trade name for Cosden's polybutene, a synthetic polymer which is produced in varying grades by a low-temperature catalytic process. It possesses a water clear color, and is bland and odorless. The first three grades (3-3-10) are used in the new all-weather lubricating oils. Cosden also makes polybutene with an index of 30, 150 and up to 700.

Hydrocarbon molecules, in the natural state, are saturated. This condition is similar to the tinker toy spool that has all its holes filled with sticks. But when the saturated molecule is subjected to heat or put in the presence of a catalyst, it is "cracked" and left with molecules (olefins) which do have holes in the figurative spool. This means that other molecules can be attached to them to form chains or molecules.

By use of aluminum trichloride catalyst, it is possible to join (polymerize) the molecules in a long straight hydrocarbon chain. This is Polyvis. At the time the unit was designed, Cosden's output would have accounted for one-fourth of the nation's output of polybutene. Since then, however, other major producers have either increased production or have started construction on new units.

Allowables Not Fazed By Suez

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Suez Canal developments could force hasty revisions but three major oil producing states plan very little change in output for October. Texas has placed its October allowables at 75,160 barrels daily below September but the decrease primarily is a result of October having an additional calendar day.

A minor reduction of 22,000 barrels daily also is planned in Oklahoma. Louisiana is to maintain its September schedule except for an additional 5,000 barrels daily resulting from new production. The situation also has affected the Canadian crude market. The Alberta Conservation Board has been asked to lower October allowables 8,000 a day. The primary reason is that Chicago area refineries have indicated they want to reduce their requirements for Canadian crude by 27,000 barrels daily.

Despite recent adjustments, crude production last week averaged 7,063,100 barrels daily, a decline of less than two per cent since the United States record was set in late February.

Two Locations In Mitchell Slated

Duncan Drilling staked a location in the Turner-Gregory field of Mitchell County, while a Colorado City firm located a prospect in the Sharon Ridge 1700 pool. Duncan staked the No. 1 Turner-York about four miles northwest of Westbrook. It is 2,310 feet from west and 990 feet from west lines, 19-28-in, T&P Survey, on a 160-acre lease in the Turner-Gregory Pool.

Rotary tools will project to 3,500 feet. M. L. Mellon and W. W. Krug of Colorado City located the No. 4-B C C Mills 990 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines, 19-28-in, H&G Survey. Site is about seven and a half miles southeast of Ira in the Sharon Ridge. Rotary tools will carry to 1,625 feet.

Six Glasscock Wells Complete In Clear Fork

Sohio Petroleum Company brought in six wells in Glasscock County last week, each completing from the Clear Fork.

The No. 4-B M. V. Bryans flowed 217 barrels of 39.6-gravity oil in 24 hours, through a 22-64-inch choke. Only a trace of water was reported. Gas-oil ratio is 1,257-1. The well is 22 miles southwest of Garden City, 660 feet from north and 1,900 feet from east lines, 6-36-5s, T&P Survey.

Operator plugged back to 6,570 feet from 7,744, and top of the pay zone is 6,445 feet. Perforations in the Clear Fork are between 6,445-50 feet. Before testing Operator added 3,000 gallons acid.

Sohio No. 3-B Bryans brought 307 barrels of oil on potential through an 18-65-inch choke, and no water. Perforations are between 6,254-60 and 6,428-34 feet. Gravity is 39.7, and gas-oil ratio is 742-1. Plug-back depth is 6,600 feet—from 7,740—and operator added 3,000 gallons acid before testing. The location is 660 feet from north and west lines, 5-36-5s, T&P Survey.

ON COX LEASE
Twenty-three miles southwest of Garden City, Sohio No. 1-C Cox finished, bringing 226 barrels of oil through a half-inch choke in 24 hours. It reported a trace of water. Gas-oil ratio is 969-1, and gravity of the oil is 39.9 degrees. Site is 1,390 feet from north and west lines, 1-37-5s, T&P Survey.

Total depth is 7,743 feet and plug-back depth is 6,500. Top of the pay zone is 6,290 feet, and perforation intervals are 6,290-98 and 6,464-70 feet. Tubing pressure is 180, and casing pressure is 520.

Sohio No. 2-B Bryans completed, flowing 389 barrels of oil and no water through an 18-64-inch choke potential. Top treatment zone is 3,000 gallons acid. Gas-oil ratio is 719-1, and gravity is 39.9 degrees.

Drillite is C NW NE SE, 1-37-5s, T&P Survey, and 22 miles southwest of Garden City. Operator topped the Clear Fork at 6,262 feet and perforated between 6,262-70 and 6,432-37 feet. Five and a half-inch string extends to 7,854 feet.

NO WATER
The No. 3-C Bryans flowed, 362 barrels of oil and no water in 24 hours through an 18-64-inch choke in the Clear Fork and announced it would try to dual complete from the Spraberry between 6,550-90 feet.

The Clear Fork flow was from perforations between 6,429-35 and 6,258-71 feet. Top of the pay zone is 6,259 feet, and plug-back depth is 6,550 feet. Operator drilled to 7,705 feet.

The well is C SW SW, 8-36-5s, T&P Survey, 23 miles southwest of Garden City. The No. 4-B W. A. Bigby flowed 319 barrels of oil and no water through an 18-64-inch choke in completing. Gravity is 39.8, and gas-oil ratio is 911-1. The well is C NW NE, 17-36-5s, T&P Survey, and 23 miles southwest of Garden City.

Flow was from perforations between 6,216-26 and 6,390-96 feet. Top of the Clear Fork pay is 6,216 feet. Total depth is 7,691 feet, and plug-back depth is 6,575 feet.

Tubing pressure is 300, and casing pressure is 540. Operator treated with 3,000 gallons acid before taking potential.

Deep Explorer Set In Northwest Howard

Operator will try for Pennsylvania pay in a new wildcat location 13 1/2 miles northwest of Big Spring. The venture was reported Saturday.

It will be the Ashmun-Hilliard-U. S. Smelting, Refining, and Mining No. 1 Emmitt Grantham and will project to 9,500 feet looking for Pennsylvania pay.

Location is 1,957 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines, 8-33-2n, T&P Survey.

In the Varel (San Andres) field, Roark-Hooker-Hill No. 8-F Guitart pumped 18 barrels of oil, plus 90 per cent water, on a 24-hour potential. The well is seven miles northwest of Big Spring, 330 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines, 19-A, B&C Survey.

Perforations are between 3,180-202 feet and top of the pay zone is 3,170 feet. Total depth is 3,250 feet, and five and a half-inch string extends to the bottom of the hole. Gravity of the oil is 29, and gas-oil ratio is 250-1.

Petrol Corporation No. 2 Guitart Trust is a new location in the Varel field. It is 1,650 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines, 30-A, B&C Survey, on a 160-acre tract. It is about 10 miles northwest of Big Spring.

Operator will drill to 3,200 feet with rotary tools. Basin Oil Company No. 5 Reed is located in the Howard-Glasscock field about 12 miles south of Coahoma. Location is plotted 990 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines.

Sterling County Gets Two Tests

A firm staked two wildcat locations in Sterling County this week.

Stroube Central, Callihan Interests, and Mahoney & Gregg located the No. 1 Mary E. Council 467 feet from north and east lines, 26-7, H&TC Survey and about 16 miles southwest of Sterling City. Location is about eight and a half miles northeast of the Cope (Spraberry) field.

It will penetrate to 5,600 feet. Their No. 1 E. R. Atkinson will be staked 467 feet from north and about nine miles southwest of the Marvin field. Operator will project to 5,000 feet with rotary equipment.

lines of the northeast quarter, 141-29, W&NW Survey. It will drill to 3,500 feet.

In the Moore field, Cosden No. 6-B Patterson bottomed at 3,077 feet after setting casing at 3,054 feet. Operator is treating with frac oil and will probably test this week.

The location is 1,650 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines,

22-33-1s, T&P Survey, and about five miles east of Big Spring. C. W. Guthrie No. 1 Mary Chalk, in the Howard-Glasscock field, drilled out casing and penetrated to 250 feet in redbeds. The venture is 330 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter, 114-29, W&NW Survey, and eight miles east of Fossan.

Permian Basin Drilling At Static Level For Fortnight

Drilling activity in the Permian Basin was almost static during the past two weeks, as a report last Tuesday showed only two more rigs than on Sept. 10.

The count last Tuesday stood at 539, and on Sept. 10, it was 537, according to the Reed Roller Bit Company survey. The figure is well above the Aug. 25 total however, when only 517 rotaries were reported.

Lea County, N. M., was again the top area, reporting 80 active rigs. This was three less than the Sept. 10 count. Andrews-reported 67 for the second straight time.

Counties recording 20 or more rigs are Andrews 67, Crane 38, Ector 39, Gaines 24, Lea 20, Nolan 25, Pecos 21 and Winkler 28.

The complete County roundup (with Sept. 10 figures in parentheses) are Andrews 67 (67), Bailey 0 (0), Borden 18 (20), Brewster 0 (0), Cochran 1 (1), Coke 5 (2), Chaves 1 (6), Concho 0 (0), Crane 38 (35), Crockett 6 (10), and Crosby 0 (0).

Also Culberson 0 (0), Curry 0 (0), Dawson 7 (8), Dickens 10 (13), Ector 39 (39), Eddy 12 (10), Fisher 12 (11), Floyd 0 (0), Gaines 24 (24), Garza 5 (7), Glasscock 4 (2), Guadalupe 0 (1), Hale 1 (1), Harding 0 (0), and Hockley 4 (5).

Howard 14 (14), Irion 18 (11), Jeff Davis 0 (0), Kent 2 (4), Kimbell 0 (2), Lamb 0 (2), Lea 20 (23), Lubbock 2 (4), Loving 0 (0), Lincoln 0 (0), Lynn 4 (0), Martin 1 (1), Midland 16 (17), Mitchell 4 (5), Menard 0 (0), Nolan 25 (25), Pecos 21 (18), Presidio 0 (0), Reagan 6 (8), Roosevelt 3 (2), Reeves 6 (5), Runnels 11 (12), San Miguel 0 (0), Sperry 9 (6), and Schleicher 1 (1).

Sterling 2 (0), Stonewall 9 (7), Sutton 2 (0), Tom Green 5 (7), Torrance 0 (0), Terry 4 (6), Upton 12 (10), Val Verde 6 (5), Ward 8 (12), Winkler 28 (17), Yoakum 4 (4), Spraberry Trend 10 (10), and totals 539 (537).

Martin Prospect Is Still Coring

On last report from a southwest Martin County wildcat, operator was coring below 10,000 feet.

The venture, BHM No. 1 G. H. Cowden, was cutting a core below 10,554 feet, but no report on recovery has been made. The location is seven and a half miles northwest of Midland, C NE SE, 31-40-1n, T&P Survey.

Contract depth is 12,000 feet.

MEET THE OF THE COSDEN FAMILY...

This is the eighth in a new series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the Company.

Since he joined the Cosden family, good things have been happening to B. L. Mason

Mason was born in Cleburne and went to school in Big Spring. He worked for the state for a short while before he started in his first job with Cosden in October of 1941.

Mason started out working in the yard and then moved to the electrical department. Today he is working in the laboratory as the number one tester.

In 1942, Mason's work with Cosden was interrupted for a period of three years when he joined another family and spent three years in the United States Navy. He was a ship's cook during this time and took advantage of a chance to further his education by attending the University of Wisconsin.

Mason started a family of his own when he married Lida Frances of Honey Grove on April 4, 1946. Their pride and joy today is their 5-year-old son, Melvin Lee.

A member of the Sportsman Club of Colorado City, Mason joined the club because of his love for hunting, fishing and boating. He likes to engage in these forms of relaxation whenever he gets the chance. His wife, too, shares his enthusiasm for fishing and boating.

Today, Mason, his wife and son live in a new home at 1608 E. 5th St. Both he and his wife are members of the Wesley Methodist Church.

Kefauver In Waco Monday To Fire Big Gun For Democrats

WACO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver brings the Democratic party's bid for the big Texas farm vote to a drought-parched segment of blackland cotton counties Monday.
It may be the only in-person appeal by either member of the party's presidential team. There are no immediate plans for Adlai Stevenson to speak in Texas. Kefauver's one-day drive in North and Central Texas in the Democratic effort to win back the state's 24 electoral votes that went to the Republicans in 1952 will begin at Dallas. After arrival there at 11 a.m. Monday, the vice-presidential nominee flanked by Sen. Lyndon Johnson and other party big wheels will roll southward toward Waco's Heart o' Texas Fair speaking appearance here that night.

Queen Of The Band

Janet Hogan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, was crowned queen of the Big Spring High School band during halftime intermission of the Big Spring-Snyder football game Friday night. Miss Hogan, a high school senior, was chosen for the honor by band members.

In Dallas—where Eisenhower was an overwhelming favorite in 1952—Kefauver will begin his day of speaking, handshaking and backslapping at Love Field, then hold a news conference and head for the farm country.

In Ellis, Hill and McLennan counties, where he will meet the voters, he will also be appealing indirectly to Democrats all over the state who followed the GOP party line four years ago. Stevenson carried Ellis, Hill and McLennan in 1952, but all gave the Republican ticket an abnormally heavy vote. They are all usually rock-ribbed Democratic.

Kefauver's appearance is a vital part in the party's supreme bid to get Texas back. A statewide organization is being perfected with emphasis on close and frequent voter contacts, and on finances. After he leaves Dallas, the Tennessee senator will speak at Waxahatchie from 1 to 1:30 p.m. Then he moves on to Italy and Milford for handshaking stops. He will speak and visit in Hillsboro, move to West, and then to Waco. Kefauver is due to arrive in Waco at 4 p.m. where he will rest at the Roosevelt Hotel before his 6:30 p.m. televised fair speech. He will make another TV appearance and have dinner after being introduced to a rodeo audience at the fair at 8 p.m. Kefauver will spend the night at the Roosevelt and leave for New Mexico early Tuesday.

Damage Suit On Kidnap Charges

MINNEOLA, N.Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—An uncle of kidnaped Peter Weinberger filed a surprise $200,000 damage claim against Nassau County today. He said police tried to scare him into confessing the crime. He is Jerome Ziefman, brother of the dead baby's mother.

Income, Expenses High For CRMWD

Both revenues and expense continued high for the Colorado River Municipal Water District during August.

The monthly revenue fund statement shows $23,863 in revenues, of which $122,127 came from sale of water and $1,737 from recreational facilities. Expenditures aggregated $77,664, leaving a net of $46,199. This left the total transferred to the net revenue fund during the year at $433,075. These funds are applied to the interest and principal requirements of the bonds.

The City of Odessa paid $44,921 for 413,350,000 gallons of water; Big Spring $28,709 for 254,490,000 gallons, Snyder $12,265 for 84,765, 000 gallons, SACROC unit $28,897 for 240,809,000 gallons, Sharon Ridge unit $5,637 for 47,145,000 gallons, Texas Gulf Producing Co. $767 for 4,280,000 gallons. Rural users and rural installations accounted for another $908 revenue.

Expenses included $2,251 for operation of city of Odessa wells, $561 for operation of City of Big Spring wells, $3,257 royalties on water. The big items were for maintenance — $36,260 — and for operating expenses, $27,677. Administrative expense stood at $4,394, and the recreational expense was $3,361.

Gross receipts for the year now stand at $858,581.

Total sales in gallons topped the billion gallon mark with 1,004,947 billed out during the month. This pushed the year's production to 5,607,901,000 gallons. During August, 56 per cent of the production came from Lake J. B. Thomas.

Absentee Vote Period Is Set

If ballots are available and all other detail is out of the way, Howard County voters who wish to avail themselves of the privilege may cast their absentee ballots for the general election Oct. 17.

Deadline for posting absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 election expires on Nov. 2.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that she would set up machinery for the absentee voters to ballot on Oct. 17 — if the ballots are on hand.

If they have not been received, the period will start just as soon as supplies are available.

Absentee voting is allowed qualified electors who will not be able to go to their regular voting places on Nov. 6. Requests for absentee ballots must set up in a statement the reason the voter has for not being able to vote at the poll on election day.

As a general rule, the total absentee vote in Howard County elections is rather large. It is anticipated that the same rule will apply at this election.

Band Boosters To Meet Monday

First meeting of the year for the Big Spring Band Boosters Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the high school cafeteria.

Activities for the school year will be discussed and the program set in motion. Refreshments will be served by the entertainment committee. Servings of fruit cake will be furnished by Mead's Bakeries.

Officers of the association are Jack Alexander, president; Grover Cunningham and Mrs. Ruth Burnham, vice presidents; J. T. Morgan, treasurer; Mrs. Melba Seals, secretary.

Hunting Date Set

DENVER, Sept. 29 (AP)—Colorado Game and Fish Dept. officials said yesterday the state's 1956 big game hunting season will open Oct. 15 as scheduled despite "extremely critical" fire threats in forests.

NEWEST OF THE HYPERION GROUP, the Jubilee Hyperion Club is representative of the activity to be followed this year by these clubs. Mrs. Wendal Parks, at left, Mrs. C. L. Richardson and Mrs. E. L. Whatley, Jubilee members, discuss the varied projects of the groups. These include such work as the transportation of crippled children to the clinic in Midland, assistance with occupational therapy at the State Hospital, as well as other help to the patients there, and care of needy families. Named according to the year in which they were organized, the clubs are the 1905, 1930, 1946, 1948, 1953 and Jubilee.

FLOWER ARRANGING is part of the therapy for patients at the State Hospital, and plans are under way for the Council of Garden Clubs to assist with this. Flowers are used in another way by the group, as the individual clubs are responsible for flowers to adorn the altar during Sunday services. Mrs. Frank Wilson, president of the Planters Garden Club is shown above as she worked on an arrangement to take to the hospital. She is chairman of the flower committee for the council. Other clubs included in the Garden Council are the Big Spring Garden Club, Spaders, Rosebud and Four O'Clock.

New Year, New Projects For Local Federated Clubs

TO SEW A FINE SEAM is the project of the Child Study Club members in furnishing the supplies for embroidery done at the State Hospital. In assisting with the therapy, members alternate in going to the hospital and helping patients with the work. Here, Mrs. R. C. Thomas, at left, and Mrs. Akin Simpson prepare to take embroidery, thread, hoops and other materials as they go to carry on the sewing. (Photos by Keith McMillin)

GOOD CLUB MEMBERS start early, is the belief of the Music Study Club, and among the projects for this year is the organization of junior music clubs. The Melody Maids, a choral group, has been organized under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bill Griese and Mrs. Ruth Burnam. Mrs. Griese, at piano, checks probable musical studies with the girls' president, LaJuana McPherson. Mrs. Burnam was unable to be present for the picture.

THE TOM CABANISS FAMILY
 ... fun for all.

Tom Cabaniss Family Newcomers To West

Radio announcing has been the lifetime dream of Tom Cabaniss, now connected with the staff at KHEM radio station here in Big Spring. "Ever since I was just about 10 or eleven, I have wanted to be a radio broadcaster," Cabaniss commented.

He and his wife and their two children, Mary Kathryn, two and one half years old, and Michael David, age one and a half, are recent newcomers to Big Spring.

Prior to his arrival at the radio station here he was connected with KWTX radio and TV station in Waco.

Cabaniss began his career in radio during his tour with the Air Force which started in 1949. He broadcast with the Armed Forces of America when he was stationed in Japan and then while he spent 19 months in Korea.

While in Korea, he was on a photo reconnaissance plane which recorded and described actual combat activity.

After his discharge from the Air Force in 1953, Cabaniss worked for a short time in Spartanburg, S. C., with the radio station. From Spartanburg, he went to Waco and then to Big Spring. Cabaniss calls Union, S. C., his home.

Mrs. Cabaniss is a graduate nurse from Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Springfield, Mass. She is presently employed in administrative work at Medical Arts Hospital. Mrs. Cabaniss is a collector of miniature glass dogs and animals.

When Cabaniss isn't informing the people of Big Spring what's happening around the world, he enjoys playing the piano with other music lovers for a jam session.

He is also a member of Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. When a group gets together for some singing, Cabaniss contributes his bass voice to the quartet.

Cabaniss has attended Clevenger College in Wilksboro, N.C., and Baylor University at Waco.

His great grandfather was born in France, and Cabaniss has a famous French ancestor known as Dr. Pierre Jean George Cabanis, a physician and philosopher of the 18th century.

Use Imagination For Attractive Settings

To spotlight your table settings, use a dash of imagination, a pinch of atmosphere, a few interesting accessories.

The centerpiece can be the focal point, coordinating it with the motif of the tablecloth.

Here are other ideas offered by a leading manufacturer of printed cotton tablecloths:

1. For a seashore theme, it's fun to use souvenirs brought back from summer vacations: seashells, driftwood, or a piece of fishnet.
2. Flowers make wonder centerpieces. Silver, brass or crystal anthem make lovely bases on which to build a formal arrangement.

Simple pottery or dishware makes a fun centerpiece, using clay, colored pebbles and bright tall flowers to set the pace. Follow the coordinated look by selecting blossoms which harmonize with the colors of the cotton tablecloth.

3. With an abstract cotton print, you can create a Bohemian look by adding an artist's palette and brushes to your arrangement.
4. Paint sprays will add an exotic look to inexpensive pottery, highlighting an attractive centerpiece or revitalizing an unusual piece that may have become chipped or scarred through frequent use.

Through Sixty Years

R. H. Miller, wearing a boutonniere, and Mrs. Miller, with an orchid on her shoulder, are ready to display their wedding picture to guests who call this afternoon during the open house celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Miller took the veil off her wedding hat because "it was too much trouble to take it into town on horseback." According to this long-married pair, the journey took about a week.

Wedding Anniversary Party Set For Today

By ANNE LEFEVER

"I just don't know what them Hollywood folks, who marry so many times, would think of us!" said R. H. Miller, speaking of his and Mrs. Miller's 60th wedding anniversary. "They should read the seventh chapter of Romans." The Millers were married Sept. 21, 1896, in Mason, and a delayed celebration will mark that event today. The open house, to be held this afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, was postponed so that all the children might be present.

Richard Hugh Miller was host for a barbecue at his ranch when he saw Mary Ann Kelso. She was dancing while he played a "fiddle," but it wasn't long before he managed to meet the attractive young guest. Not many Sundays after that meeting, young Miller rode his horse, with another horse, "side-saddled," to take Miss Kelso to church. As Mrs. Miller describes their courtship, she was "scared to death of the boys." She evidently wasn't too scared, as they were married about two years after the meeting — she was almost 15 years of age at the time.

The bride of 60 years ago remembers peeping from the windows to see bears in their yard during her childhood. There were also unpleasant experiences with Indians.

Her father, Bill Kelso, was quite an Indian fighter, and for 18 years, carried a spike from an arrow in his side. Mrs. Miller has memories of the old wound being opened by her mother, who used a straight razor to make an incision for removing the point. "We've had quite a romance,"

New Rug Machine Will Clean Cottons

The most heavily soiled cotton carpet now can be cleaned without removing it from the floor, thanks to a new machine and a process that scientists label "on location cleaning," the National Cotton Council reports. Designed to work exclusively on cotton, the machine circulates suds through the carpet pile. Unlike conventional machines, it then removes both the suds and soil from the carpet. Rug cleaners have been impressed by results obtained, and equipment manufacturers are expected to have the machine available for commercial use soon.

Jolly Members Club Meets In Coahoma

The Jolly Members Sewing Club of Coahoma met Thursday in the American Legion Hall for the election of officers. Mrs. George Fowler was elected president; Mrs. Charles Parish, vice president; Mrs. Gaylon Harding, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. J. F. Bobo, reporter. A supper was planned for October, and a bake sale and style show were discussed. The next meeting will be Oct. 11.

SYDNEY, N. S. — A romance of six months led to marriage here for Elizabeth Coowell and Fred Frowse. She is 31 years old; he is 35.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

The frantic excitement of a new school year has slackened down now that the season has officially begun. Classrooms have taken on a more formal atmosphere, and clubs and organizations have, in most cases, elected officers and settled into an established routine. A formal opening of the '56-'57 year and the launching of a second decade of the college's growth was observed in a special assembly Thursday morning. The Rev. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered the invocation, and George McAllister acted as master of ceremonies.

After the presentation of the faculty, Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of HCJC, addressed the assembly. Billy McIlvain was elected president of the student council in the election held Monday. Selected to serve as vice president of this organization was Neldon Milstead, and LaVerne Cooper will continue as secretary. Chosen to fill the post of treasurer was Bettie Anderson. Sophomore representatives to the student council are Wilella Hanks, Betty Earley and Freddy Stuart. Those chosen to represent the freshman class on the student council are Stan Williams, David Dibrrell and Ann Porterfield.

The job of serving as president of the sophomore class was given Max McCulloch, with Freddy Stuart assisting as vice president. Yvonne Peterson was elected secretary-treasurer. Officers of the freshman class are Rodney Sheppard, Richard Engle and Eunice Freeman holding the positions of president, vice president, and secretary, respectively.

This weather couldn't exactly be called Indian Summer — it is a bit too early in the year — but no one will deny that this past week has been the perfect weather for hayrides. Substituting a "modern invention," shredded paper, in place of hay, seems to be pretty popular, because two of these events have been staged by college organizations over the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hendrix sponsored the Baptist Student Union paper ride last Saturday night. Betty Hester, Lovelle Fletcher, Mary Ann Fairchild, Lady Frances Jones, David Dibrrell, Marlene Mann, Richard Engle, Andrew Wilson, Richard Hood, Dorothy Baker, Jimmy Merrick and Carolyn Dietz, Neldon Milstead and Wilda Carouth, and Kirk Faulkner were among the 25 who attended. After the meeting at the SUB, the group rode to Moss Creek Lake, where they enjoyed a watermelon feast.

The second hayride of the week took place Tuesday night, when the college Y group staged such an event along with a wiener roast at City Lake. A few of the 35 attending were Clara Freeman and Rodney Sheppard, Richard Engle and Bettie Anderson, Max McCulloch and LaVerne Cooper, Billy McIlvain and Buddy Calvin and Andrew Wilson.

Ann Porterfield, Georgia Bratton and Dickie Biggs returned to their hometown, Post, for the weekend.

New officers elected this week from the Woman's Recreational Association are Louise Burchett, continuing from last year as president; Ester Bueno, vice president; Wilella Hanks, secretary; treasurer, Julie Rainwater; reporter, China Carroll. Miss Arah Phillips, sponsor of the group discussed purposes and planned activities for the coming year, which will be highlighted at the latter part of the year by a ski trip to Santa Fe, N. M.

If you are majoring in pre-engineering or agricultural engineering, you will be interested in joining Sigma Delta Phi, the official engineering club on the campus. Officers of this organization are Doug Warren, president; Eddie Gill, vice president; Edwin Rawlings, sergeant-at-arms.

Fred E. Short, head of the speech and drama department, is presently in the process of planning production for his first HCJC presentation, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," which will be given the last of October.

Officers of the Drama Club, an organization under his sponsorship, were chosen Wednesday night. The following officers were elected: Clara Freeman, president; Mary Sue Hale, vice president; Billie Freeman, secretary, and Jo Ann Watson, reporter. In case you wish to become a member of this group, their next meeting at which tryouts for "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will be held, will be announced at a later date.

An informal all-day party was attended by a number of Jayhawkers yesterday at Colorado City Lake. They met at Laverne Cooper's house early Saturday morning.

A group including Laverne, Clara Freeman, Wilella Hanks, Ann Green, Louise Burchett, Mary Lou Stagg, Julie Rainwater, Shirley Ward, Betty Earley, Frank Dunlap, Richard Hood, Johnny Watson, Max McCulloch, Buddy Mayes, Bobby Wardell and Larry Digby, accompanied by Laverne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cooper, drove to the lake. After a day of picnicking and water skiing, the group returned to Big Spring.

School pictures will be taken on the campus Monday and Tuesday for day students, and Wednesday and Thursday nights for night students. Suggested attire for girls is something dark, but more specifications are given for boys. They must wear a coat and tie for the photos.

Our sympathy is extended to Dean Ben Johnson, in the loss of his father. Dean Johnson journeyed to Commerce the latter part of the week, where funeral rites were held.

Baptist SS Class Has Social; Elects Officers For Year

STANTON — The Baptist Friendship Sunday School class had their regular monthly social Thursday night, in the home of Mrs. N. O. Sorrels with Mrs. Clyde Miller serving as cohostess.

Election of officers for the new year was held: Mrs. W. A. Wagon Etchison was re-elected teacher; Mrs. Ivan White, vice president; Mrs. Prentiss Hightower, fellowship president; Mrs. Walter Graves, personal president; Mrs. Geneva Franklin, stewardship president; Mrs. Hoyt Britton, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Chalmer Wren, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Claude Nowlin and Mrs. W. I. Sorrels, group captains; Mrs. Walter Graves was chosen reporter.

The Stanton P-TA will hold their second annual Harvest Festival at the Buffalo Stadium on Oct. 9. The princesses and escorts will be selected from each class Monday.

The FHA Chapter met Tuesday in the Home Economics Building. Chapter mothers were elected. They are Mrs. James Jones and Mrs. Elma Nichols.

There will be an installation of officers Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

There are four candidates for FHA Beau. They are: Rodney Myrick, Buzzy Brewer, Jimmy Miller and Nolan Sorrels.

B&PW To Honor Indoor Sports With Tea Today

The Indoor Sports Club will be honored guests at a tea this afternoon, given by members of the Business and Professional Women's Club. Scheduled from 3 to 5 p.m., the affair will be held in the small auditorium at Howard County Junior College.

Occasion for the tea is the seventh anniversary of the forming of the local club, which was done with the assistance of the B&PW Club. The party will be the closing event of the observance of B&PW Week by the organization.

General chairman is Mrs. Joe Roberts, president of the Good Sports Club. In the receiving line will be members of the Good Sports and Indoor Sports Clubs. Guests are expected from Midland, Lamesa, Colorado City and Odessa.

Interest, Variety Given Sheath With Overskirt

Jo Copeland with her knowing way of dressing a woman with taste and distinction designed this princess sheath with a tie-on overskirt to add to its effectiveness and add mileage to its wearability.

With thoughtful accessorizing, you can achieve two completely different appearances, and the apron may be worn over other sheaths.

Easy to make, since the custom cut and accurately perforated pattern saves time, money and tempers, the dress works up beautifully in novelty width fabric, peau de soie, taffeta, faille, ottoman, or any material with body to make the overskirt stand away.

From this chart select the one size best for you.

Size 10, bust 34, waist 24, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 12 bust 35, waist 25, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 14, bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches; size 16 bust 38, waist 28, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches; size 18 bust 40, waist 30, hips 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches.

Size 12 requires 5 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for dress.

To order Pattern No. 1281, state size; enclose $1.00. Address American Designer Patterns, P. O. Box 555, G. P. O. Dept. B-6, New York 1, N. Y. Classic Pattern Booklet No. 12 and all new pattern Booklet No. 13-X — 50 cents each. If paid by check add 4 cents.

Our new American Designer Pattern Booklet No. 13-X will be available after today and will be priced at 50 cents. Booklet No. 13-X features all new designs, none of which have appeared in previous booklets.

We will continue to sell American Designer Pattern Booklet No. 12, also priced at 50 cents. Booklet No. 12 includes all designs still available from previous booklets.

To improve the value of Spadea's designer pattern service, we are adding a new feature starting Monday.

Readers may now obtain a silk label with the designer's name on it which they can sew into their garment. This label will cost 25 cents extra. Its purchase is optional.

Bill Horn, Family Have Philadelphia Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Horn and family are spending two weeks in Philadelphia.

Dan M. Krause addressed the luncheon meeting of the ABC Club Friday. After describing Cosden's recent progress and outlook for the future, a color-sound film was shown on the construction of our new Refinery.

Jerry Allen spent three days in Abilene last week on company business.

Bruce Frazier, accompanied by a shop and farm class from Howard County Junior College, made a general tour of the refinery. Eighteen boys were included in the class. The same group returned Wednesday for a detailed tour of Cosden's machine shops.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek on the birth of a 7 lb. 14 oz. baby girl, Catherine Diane, born Wednesday at Malone-Hogan Hospital. Mother and daughter are doing fine.

E. W. Richardson and Jack Y. Smith spent the past week in Abilene on company business.

Boyd Taylor of Humble Oil and Refining Company visited the refinery Friday.

On Sept. 12, O. O. Craig and Faye Hilliard were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hilliard, Pascagoula, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. Craig are building a new home at 1723 Yale Street.

The following visitors were reported in the engineering department during the week: G. P. "Gib" Jackson of Delta-Desco Company, Odessa; Gene McKenzie of Continental Products Company, Odessa; Bill Spero of Vinson Supply Company, Odessa, and Robert Reed and Earl McKinney of John Zinc Company.

J. S. Kelly spent the past week in Dallas visiting his children, John and Constance.

Win Rochelle of the Foxboro Company visited the refinery Thursday.

While en route to Miami, Fla., L. A. Carroway and his daughter, Mrs. Betty Reed and three children from California, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tip Jollett, Coleman Delavan of Texas Consolidated Transportation Company visited the refinery Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gorman are visiting his parents, the W. F. Gormans in Baird.

Leisenring, Bellah, Pastell, Richard, and Cornwall of the Du Pont Company, visited the refinery Monday to present a technical seminar on trends in transit automobile and engine design and fuels composition. A luncheon was held at Morales' Restaurant following the technical session, which included manufacturing and marketing departments.

J. Fred Saults and M. L. Hedgecock of Phillips Petroleum Company from Bartlesville, Okla., visited the refinery last week to conduct a salary and wage administration survey.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Emerson on the birth of a baby girl born Wednesday.

The following refinery men are on vacation: Bobby G. White, W. L. Sandridge, H. C. Tidwell, Ray White, O. C. Jenkins, Jess Slaughter, C. W. Campbell, C. H. Drake, L. B. Vullmer, Curtis Hale, H.H. Wright, M. J. Williams.

Officer Election, Luncheon For OWC

Election of officers is slated for the Thursday luncheon of the Officers' Wives' Club to be held at 1:30 p.m. in the Officers' Club.

Reservations, which must be made by Tuesday noon, may be made by calling AM 4-8169 or AM 4-3478. Cancellations may be made at the same numbers; if they are not made in advance, there will be a charge.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

The Garden of Mother Goose is to be the theme of the flower show scheduled for Oct. 23. MRS. V. A. WHITTINGTON is general chairman and Cosden Country Club is the place. The displays will be shown from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. and arrangements will develop the theme of popular nursery rhymes.

The Council of Garden Clubs is sponsoring the affair which sounds like a very novel attraction. Of course, the public is invited to obtain tickets and enjoy the handiwork of these local flower enthusiasts.

After many years of thought I have joined a garden club. The yearbook is a nice one and is full of useful information. Due to my indisposition, I have not been to a meeting as yet. Confidentially, I am of the opinion I have a lot to learn, gardeningwise. One thing I have noticed, according to my little book, is that aphids, whatever they are, must be dirty—the books keeps saying to "wash them off!"

MRS. BUEL BOX is planning to leave in the morning for Fort Worth for a house party in the home of Mrs. Bob Stewart. Five other friends, all of whom were neighbors in Roscoe, when they were newly married, will be present for the three-day party.

After the house party, Mrs. Fox plans to visit in the home of her son, Bob Fox, father of the main attraction, Vicki, who is the Foxes' only grandchild. Buel Fox plans to join the family Friday, and he and Bob will go to Dallas for the A.M.—Tech game. Bob is an A.M. ex-student.

Many local people have attended the Holiday on Ice show in Lubbock during the past week. MRS. C. W. MAHONEY, MRS. W. N. NORRED, MRS. J. C. IRWIN and MRS. ALTON UNDERWOOD were among them. They particularly enjoyed the skating stars' interpretation of Ravel's "Bolero."

A novel gift is an attractive penny jar. It's a nice way to save pennies and it's not as final as dropping them through a slot. That makes them so hard to rob.

MRS. A. C. LACROIX SR. of Fort Worth is visiting her with her son and family.

Don't forget that BSHS exes meeting Monday evening at the Horace Garrett home at 7:30. If you're a former student of the high school here, you're invited.

MRS. ELLEN DAVIS is in Waco, where she is visiting her son, Grady. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Paul Kirk, whose home is in Ballinger.

MR. AND MRS. ELMER DORSETT, who have been visiting his parents, MR. AND MRS. ERNEST DORSETT, have returned to their home in Norfolk, Va. During their stay here, his mother joined them

Vat Dyes Give Cotton Clear Durable Colors

Vat dyes provide the maximum in fastness to all color destroying elements: sunlight, washing, perspiration, and dry cleaning. When such terms as "washable" or "color-fast" are used, there is always some doubt as to just how the item should be washed, or how durable the colors are. Cottons identified as "vat dyed" give assurance that no particular precaution need be taken in their care, and that the colors will remain clear and durable for the life of the fabrics.

I'm back home now and I do hope all of you who are going to have company or are going out-of-town will call me AM 3-2542. P.S.: If you know of some BSHS ex who will be here for homecoming, let me know.

Dempsey Guests

Guests in the home of Mrs. L. B. Dempsey, 707 Johnson, are her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Frost of Dallas. The families plan to go to Andrews this weekend to visit the Dempseys' children, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Dempsey and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cain.

She Likes Exercise

Attractive Mona Freeman finds exercise a sure way to release tension and give her a new zest for life. She'll soon be seen in Allied Artists' "Dragon Wells Massacre."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Busy Starlet Takes Time For Exercise

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — I first met Mona Freeman when she was a starry-eyed teen-ager who came to Hollywood from a modeling career in New York. Now she has matured into a devoted mother of her own daughter and is one of this town's busiest actresses.

"In one year," Mona told me in her attractive Brentwood home, "I have done 14 TV shows and two pictures. When I am working so hard it is difficult for me to exercise. Suddenly I discovered, when I had a little time to myself, that I was not as firm as I wanted to be."

"I'm a staunch believer in exercise for everyone and everything. If life seems to be getting you down, if you are worrying too much or working too hard, go to the beach, golf course, bridge path or a gym. The very acts of breathing, moving and concentrating on what you are doing will release tension and give you a new zest for life."

"Just recently I devoted ten days to my exercising, and I lost an inch in my waist and a little more than that in my hips. I went to a gym every morning. And I like to exercise with weights. When your tempo is right you build tone, not muscle. After a workout I like to have a short session in a rock steam room, followed by a massage."

"In the afternoon I played tennis, golf or went swimming. And in less than two weeks I felt like an entirely new person and my body was back to its normal firmness. This came in handy for my fight with Katy Jurado in 'Dragon Wells Massacre.' This is Mona's latest film which Allied Artists will release this fall."

"If you have neglected yourself for years you might have to start slower and expect to take longer, but turn to exercise. Properly done it is relaxing, mentally stimulating and wonderful for your health."

"Do you follow any diet?" I asked.

"I have to be sensible," Mona agreed, "and I don't go in for planned meals, but I eliminate starches, fats and sweets. This is no hardship for me because I am fond of salads, green vegetables and lean meat."

Mona gives the impression of knowing who she is and where she is going. This lack of confusion is especially refreshing in Hollywood.

"Your early training means so much," Mona reflected. "As a little girl I remember people were often telling me how pretty I was. My family placed little importance on these compliments, 'what counts in this world,' they told me, 'is character and education. You can't travel very far on your looks.'"

"But I started my career as a model," Mona continued, "and learned about clothes and grooming. This contact with the world of fashion made me beware of paying too much attention to the latest styles. It is not only terribly extravagant because your clothes become dated so quickly, but there is danger to your personality. Some women make their clothes more important than themselves. This can become an obvious bid for attention, but what should stand out is YOU and not what you are wearing."

Mona has always had lovely skin. "I don't abuse it with sun-burn," she confided. "I'm against getting too much sun. I have friends who live in Palm Springs nine months of the year, and they vie with each other to see who can become the brownest. They'll lie by the pool for hours toasting. It is frightening to see what this has done to their skin. It's dried out, leathery and full of wrinkles. How can they expect their complexions to look nice when the moisture and oil is dried out of it? I believe in getting some sun, but I like to use a lotion all over my body afterwards."

EXERCISE FOR HEALTH AND FUN
You'll find the exercises in Leaflet M-5 so easy and so effective for just about any part of the body you wish to trim. One way to eliminate fat, but still build muscle tone, is to follow tenseness with relaxation. You'll find it all in M-5. For your copy send 5 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Rainbow Assembly Has Formal Installation

Big Spring Assembly No. 60, Order of the Rainbow for Girls held an installation of officers Saturday evening in the Masonic Hall. Lucy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thompson, was installed as worthy advisor.

Installing officers for the formal ceremony were Jacqueline Smith, junior past worthy advisor as worthy advisor; Bettie Jo Anderson, past grand service as marshal; Marlene Mann as recorder; Dolores Howard as musician, and Billie King as chaplain.

Other officers installed were: Kathy McRee, worthy associate advisor; Annette Boykin, charity; Barbara Coffee, hope; Valjean LaCroix, faith; Marilyn Mann, drill leader; Mary Read, chaplain; Jennie McEvers, treasurer; love, Juanita Janak; religion, Joan Bratcher; nature, Donnie Mabe; immortality, Janie Phillips; fidelity, Modesta Simpson; patriotism, Judy Foster; service, Carolyn Thompson; confidential observer, Beverly Alexander; outer observer, Lida Lou Fivash; musician, Gretchen Briden; choir director, dad, Carlson Hamilton and board chairman, Mrs. Noel Hall.

LUCY THOMPSON

The retiring officers opened the ceremony with a drill. The invocation was given by the Rev. C. W. Parmenter. Following the introductions, a tribute was paid to the incoming worthy advisor by the choir. As each member of the choir passed Miss Thompson, who held a golden container, she drew out a colored ribbon which combined to form a huge rainbow. A quartette sang "At the End of The Rainbow" with the choir humming the background.

This installation was dedicated to all Masons and following the formal ceremony, special introductions of Masons were made. Miss Thompson presented a square and compass, to Johnny Stewart and J. D. Thompson, senior and junior wardens. Officers of the Order of DeMolay were also introduced at this time.

The Rev. Richard Deats made the address, following the chosen theme, "Happiness Through Service." Joyce Howard sang "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way." The benediction was "An Evening Prayer" by Eleanor Price.

The chosen colors of orchid and silver decorated the entrance arch with letters spelling "service" against a background of greenery. The new officers carried white Bibles with orchid mums corsages. The refreshment table was covered with a white organdy cloth and orchid serving appointments. It was centered with a doll dressed to represent the worthy advisor before a rainbow background. Refreshments were served to guests by members of the advisory board.

It is the custom of Big Spring Assembly to attend church in a group the Sunday following installation. This morning, a special service from 8:30 to 9:30 was held at Wesley Methodist Church by Rev. Parmenter. Before the service a group of mothers served coffee and doughnuts to the girls.

Eager Beavers Make Robes For Hospital

Members of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club voted to make three lap robes for patients at the VA Hospital when they met Friday in the home of Mrs. Denver Yates. Seven members, with one visitor, Mrs. Leroy Findley, were present. The next hostess will be Mrs. Dick Hooper, 1207 Owens.

Finish Makes News In The Cotton Lines

Chemical finishes are making news in autumn cottons. Resins make the new cottons crease and stain resistant without changing their texture or looks. Many of the rough-textured cotton tweeds and three-dimensional cottons are chemically finished to stay fresh looking longer.

Miss Baker Is Bride Of W. C. Denney

LAMESA—Before a background formed of fall leaves with the mantel banked with yellow mums and flanked by yellow tapers, Lila Glendine Baker of Levelland, became the bride of William Calvin Denney of Amarillo.

The double ring ceremony was read in the home of the bride's parents in Lamesa, Saturday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baker of 902 N. Seventh Street in Lamesa, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Denney of Amarillo.

The bride chose for her wedding a suit of teal blue designed with push up sleeves and a convertible collar; her skirt was slim. She carried a Bible topped with yellow tea roses. The Bible, brought from Jerusalem, belongs to the bride's mother.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jacqueline Sult of Lamesa, sister of the bride. She chose a dress of charcoal grey with black accessories and wore a corsage of yellow mums. Claude Fox of Amarillo was best man.

Following the exchange of vows a reception was held with the table being laid with a brown linen cloth and edged by fall leaves. The centerpiece was of bronze mums and the wedding cake gave the wedding date and the couple's names in yellow.

After a wedding trip to an unannounced destination, they will make their home in Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Tech and has been the assistant county home demonstration agent at Levelland. She was graduated from Lamesa High School.

The bridegroom attended Texas Tech and spent six years in the Navy.

Homemakers Revive Old-Fashioned Cotton

Modern homemakers sing the praises of mechanical gadgets that lighten the labor of housekeeping. But when it comes to decorating their homes, they have the same personal pride in hand-made cottons that their grandmothers had.

You see the proof in the return of hand-made bedspreads and crocheted rugs, ball-fringed muslin curtains, and "chair sets" that used to be called antimacassars. The return of hand-mades is largely due to the fact that cottons today are so washable, colorfast and so easy to keep fresh and lovely.

Use Colonial Decor For Powder Room

Even a very modern powder room, filled with 20th century fixtures, can be right at home in a house decorated in Early American style. Cotton kitchen towels can help do the trick.

Make cafe-style window curtains of a yellow and red kitchen towel printed with spinning wheels, rocking chairs and other Early Americana. Paint the walls a yellow to match that of the towels and put up a Colonial-style mirror of wood instead of a chromium medicine cabinet.

Even a simple electric clock can go Colonial if you mount it in a wooden salad bowl lined with cotton chintz; bore a hole in the center for the clock cord. The bowl serves as a frame for the clock face.

Americans May Lead

American home furnishings designers may lead the world in creative design within five years, says Paul Gell, leading British artist. American design may well evolve, free of Italian, Oriental, or Scandinavian influence, Mr. Gell said after a recent three-month visit to the United States.

Transitional Furniture Is New Favorite

The most important news in furniture this year is the trend to transitional styling.

"Transitional" is the name given to designs that combine features of traditional with features of modern styling. The result is furniture that pleases a variety of tastes.

Italian Provincial is one of the new favorites. According to furniture experts, "Italian Provincial" is a coined name for a style adapted from Italian versions of the French Directoire and Empire periods.

Italian Provincial styles are straight line and practical, yet they reflect a feeling of dignity of the past. Characteristics of classic design and of modern utility are united, a combination that suits the current American taste to a "L." Homemakers can find pieces that seem custom made for their small houses or apartments—yet these small-scaled, light-lined pieces are still luxurious in design and construction.

The same fine woods that are used in quality furniture of all types are adapted to the new designs, principally walnut, cherry, and other fruitwoods.

The best of the transitional upholstered pieces have the same time-tested cotton innerspring construction that has been used traditionally through the years to assure comfort and long wear.

HI--TALK

By CAROL ROGERS

Sue Barnes, senior-of-the-week, is well-liked by the members of her class. They proved this by selecting her as their nominee for Halloween Queen last week. She was also vice president of the junior class last year.

But Sue's popularity does not stop with her class; she has received school-wide honors, too. She is now serving in the office of corresponding secretary of the student council. She was vice president of the Spanish Club and president of her FHA chapter last year; she is now treasurer of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y Club, of which she has been a member for several years.

One of Sue's greatest honors was being crowned Homecoming Queen during her sophomore year, making her the first Homecoming Queen in BSHS history. She was nominated for school beauty and elected FFA Sweetheart that year.

Sue is sports-minded and is serving as a senior cheerleader and was on both the tennis and volleyball teams.

Homecoming preparations are well under way in BSHS. Doors will be decorated welcoming the exes. Following past procedure, each room will host a special class. Registration books will be available to the exes.

A bonfire will be held Thursday night as a part of the Homecoming activities. Supervised street painting will follow the bonfire. The parade, assembly program, reception, and dance will take place Saturday.

In the election held Thursday, the five candidates for Homecoming Queen were chosen. They are Valjean LaCroix, Barbara Shields, Opal Hancock, Elaine Russell, and Toni Thomas. The identity of the queen will not be revealed until the Big Spring-Sweetwater game.

The spirit of BSHS was shown Friday morning in the pep rally. A skit, "Dragnet," was presented by the cheerleaders with the aid of the band. Football posters, made by the students, were placed in the halls in anticipation of the Snyder-Big Spring game. A large number of students and citizens attended a second pep rally held downtown after school.

At class meetings Tuesday, nominees for Halloween Queen were chosen. They are Sue Barnes, senior; Sammie Sue McComb, junior; and Kathleen Thomas, sophomore. The Queen will be crowned at the annual Halloween Carnival. The classes also discussed such projects as the senior trip, junior-senior prom, Halloween carnival booths, and Homecoming floats.

The senior class car wash was held Saturday at Sixth and Main. Besides raising the senior bank account, the boys had lots of fun. The whole procedure is to be repeated Oct. 13. If you would like to help contact Guinette Gibbs. Only a dollar will be charged for each car washed, so bring your car down.

Choir officers were elected Tuesday morning. Patsy Potter was chosen president; Bobby Allen, vice president; Gay Bounds, secretary-treasurer; and Melva Turner, library chairman. The group is sponsored by Mr. Bill Dawes.

L. M. Ross spoke to the Senior Tri-Hi-Y clubs at their meeting Monday night. After the meeting, a social was held for all the clubs. Run-off elections Monday will decide the 1956-57 Spanish Club officers. Names on the ballot will be Sammie Sue McComb and Al Marin, for president; Lou Ann White and Peggy Isaacs for vice president; Gay Bounds and Kathleen Thomas for secretary.

Two new clubs have been organized in BSHS. The first is the Dramatics Club which held its first meeting Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium. The group plans to put on several plays this year.

The second new club is an organization composed of Latin students. Sponsored by Mrs. Charles Weig, the name of the club has not yet been chosen. Officers were elected Friday. They are Danne Green, president; Doyle Phillips, vice president; and Barbara Shields, secretary.

A dance was sponsored by the DeMolays in the Settles Ballroom after the football game. Some of the couples attending were Nancy King, Walter Dickinson; Opal Hancock, Billy Johnson; Sue Barnes, Ricky Terry; Janet Hogan, Don Anderson; Sheila Holmes and Bunky Grimes.

If you have neglected to take your class picture proofs back, be sure and do so Monday. Place your orders at Barr Photocenter when you return your proofs.

Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Has Party For Rushees

Prospective members of Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi were honored with a rush party Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. E. V. Giles, 1100 Pickens.

Bridge and canasta games were played by those attending. The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth and held an arrangement of chrysanthemums. Crystal appointments were used for serving. Fall flower arrangements were used throughout the rooms.

Special guests included Mrs. K. R. Carman, Mrs. John H. Blystone, Mrs. Sam Hardin, Mrs. Norman English, Mrs. Jimmy Calmes, Mrs. Stanley Green and Mrs. R. E. Gray.

Cotton Belle

A "cotton belle" ironing board cover, recently introduced, features a flannel back and an easy drawing for drumtight fit. No pinning or lacing is necessary.

Lace Place Mats

A new type of place mat combines elegance with easy upkeep. It's made of cotton lace with a finish that will last the life of the mat, no matter how often it's laundered in soap or detergent suds.

RFD Operations Has Changed, Carrier Still In Vital Post

By SAM BLACKBURN
There are no official records available when Big Spring installed its first rural free delivery mail route, but the history books show that the RFD nationally came into existence 60 years ago Oct. 1.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that he had never seen a memorandum dating the introduction of this type of mail service for rural residents of Howard County but that he personally knew such service had been carried on for many, many years.

Today, the RFD has changed tremendously in many ways. Rural Free Delivery Route No. 1, the only RFD route out of the Big Spring office dates its start deep in the dim days of the past. It began, as did all of the early time rural mail carrying systems, with the employment of a horse and buggy. Some of the mail carriers had to go on horseback. Roads were not what they are today and as a result, the mail man's journey had to be much shorter in miles than is the case in modern RFD routes.

Today Route No. 1 makes its daily rounds in a motor car. Where its predecessors covered perhaps 20 miles in their rounds, the route of No. 1 now requires a daily trip of 74 miles.

On those weary miles, the mail carrier stops and leaves mail and parcels, picks up mail to be sent, sells postage stamps, money orders or handles parcel post needs to 255 families. There are actually what the post office classifies as 374 patrons on the route.

There are 252 mail boxes along the road.

While it not always happens, it is quite possible that the mail carrier will have to bring his car to a halt, place mail in boxes or take out letters to be dispatched at each of these in the course of one day's rounds.

In the old days, Rural Route No. 1, limited itself to a 20-mile swing around a north-northeast curve.

Today's RFD No. 1 makes one round trip daily six days each week over a 74-mile loop. It goes west out of Big Spring leaving around 9:30 each morning, makes a swing north and east to bring it to a point almost due north of Coahoma. At that point it turns south to old Highway 80 and westward back to Big Spring.

Ervin Daniel is the present carrier. He started his career with the post office on Aug. 19, 1929, as a clerk in the office. In April 7, 1947, he transferred to the job as mail carrier on Rural Route No. 1.

A rural mail carrier has to furnish his own automobile, but he is compensated by the government at the rate of 9 cents per mile for the distance of his route. Thus, Daniel is paid, in addition to his salary, $6.66 per day for his car. He gets standard pay for a clerk of his grade. With his mileage, Boatler said, the rural route driver gets more pay than most of his fellows in the post office. He has to have a substitute driver, however, to take over on the job should he become ill or for some other reason be unable to make the round. His mileage stops under such conditions, but he is not penalized his salary.

In the old days, when rural drivers were more isolated due to lack of roads and transportation, the rural mail carrier was called upon to do countless chores for the patrons along his route. He conveyed messages to other families as he passed; he served as a personal shopper and on his next round delivered the sewing thread, medicine, small objects of hardware and other commodities which his patrons had requested him to buy for them in town. He passed along important news he had heard in town.

Today, while perhaps 99 per cent of the rural residents have motorcars and are in the town nearly every day, they still depend much on their rural mail carrier. His visit to their mail box is still a big event and he is the personal friend of all of the 255 families he serves.

Few men are better acquainted with the residents along the roads he travels than the rural mail carrier. Travelling 74 miles a day and making anywhere up to 255 stops does not allow much time for idle gossip, but the rural mail carrier still finds time to pass the time of day with those of his patrons he encounters as he travels his route.

There may come a time, Boatler said, when the need for this type of service will disappear but that time is still far in the future.

Daniel shows up at the post office two hours or more before his scheduled departure hour. It takes that long to get his daily allotment of letters, papers, packages, and parcels properly assorted in the order in which they will be delivered. He must load the mail into the back seat of his car in such a way that he can quickly locate each family's particular mail and deposit it in the box.

He has to check over his supply of stamps, postal cards, envelopes. He must have all the forms for handling special delivery letters, registered mail or parcel post.

When he returns to the post office in the middle of the afternoon, the accumulated mail he has picked up along the route has to be properly sent on its way. He has to check in and make out the required reports.

While only one rural free delivery route is operated out of the Big Spring post office, there are five "star" routes dispatched from the local office.

A "star" route is different from RFD. On a star route, the operator makes a contract to deliver mail along a specified course for the government at so much per year. He must furnish his own equipment and his compensation is determined by how carefully he figured his bid for the job.

The star routes out of the local office are called the Sterling City, Garden City, Ackery, Gail and Lubbock routes. In addition to mail service along the route, the star route driver delivers bulk mail to smaller post offices and other towns. He picks up Big Spring addressed mail and returns it to this city.

A great many changes have come about since 1896 when the government first launched Rural Free Delivery. And an equally amazing transformation has occurred in the nation at large.

The mode of operation, the methods employed and the roads traversed are changed. But the average rural free delivery mail man will be quick to tell you that people are still much as they always were. And that the job he does is valued and appreciated by those he serves.

Defendants Called To County Court

Judge R. H. Weaver, county court, has notified 18 defendants to be in the courtroom at 9 a.m. Monday for arraignment, pleas of guilty or motions for continuance.

Cases left out of the original 18 set by Harvey Hooser Jr., county attorney for the first week's jury docket, will go on trial Tuesday at 10 a.m. Twenty-five jurors have been summoned for service in the county criminal court.

Weaver said that two full weeks of criminal cases are planned, starting Monday, and that it is possible the trials might continue into a third week. He and Hooser are making a determined effort to reduce the swollen backlog of pending cases now on hand.

Weaver added that it will be the policy of his office hereafter to schedule a week's jury trial docket each month until the criminal docket had been cleared up. No estimate was available on the total number of cases which have never been tried but the total is sizable. Some of the cases have been pending for many months and the county attorney and the judge are determined, they declared, to bring the docket to date.

Cases set for trial the first week include charges of liquor law violation, driving while intoxicated, assault and theft.

Defendants and the charges against them are:
Liquor law violations — Henderson Crockett, William Renfro, Johnny H. Stokes, James H. Norred, Brigido Villarreal, Ruben Williams.

Driving while intoxicated, first offense — Bobby Rutherford, Billy Jean Tracy, James R. Crabtree, William D. Theobald, Cyrus R. Wilson, Robert Allen Thomson, C. C. Aaron, T. J. Brown, Joe Sherman, V. G. Flores.
Assault — Henderson Crockett Jr.
Theft — Moses Virea.

Hooser said that his office was endeavoring to contact all bondsmen in these cases and advise them their clients must be in court on Monday.

RCA WHIRLPOOL AUTOMATIC WASHER WITH BUILT-IN LINT FILTER!

Know what it's like to pick fuzz off your skirt—or to have someone tease you about specks on his socks? We've got the answer at last!

This new RCA WHIRLPOOL licks the lint problem with a filter that's built right into the washer—out of the way. That means both wash and rinse water are strained again and again, automatically. Fuzz clings to screen, never gets to clothes. Lint, threads, grit, soap-scum can't get through to speckle your nice, fresh wash!

And of course, an RCA WHIRLPOOL gets clothes cleaner—that's been a fact almost as long as you can remember. With tough (yet gentle) agitator action swishing the clothes—and 17 vigorous water currents swirling the dirt right out the sides of the perforated tub. Then seven (yes, seven!) automatic rinses flush away all that dirty-water-gray.

If you want a cleaner wash—easier—and the most lint-free wash ever, see this new 2-speed Imperial automatic washer.

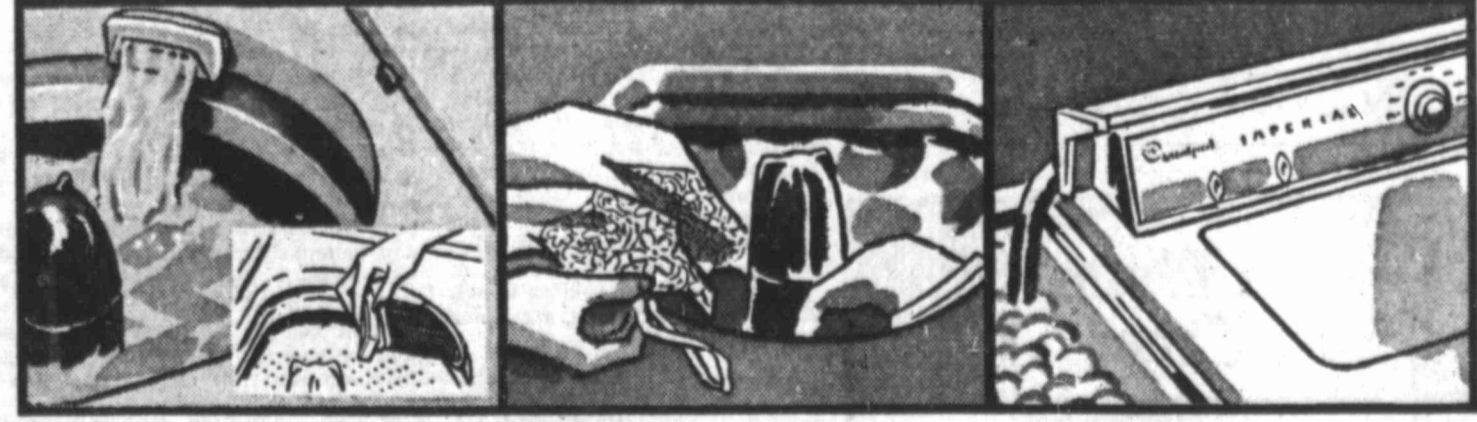

There's just one automatic washer with everything...

available right now—on easiest terms—through any of these dealers

Let's Be Fair In Our Dealings

Webb AFB is located in Big Spring largely because Big Spring made a spirited bid to make facilities here available to the Air Force for its stepped up training program. It goes without saying that we have a special obligation toward Webb AFB because it is "our" base.

Therefore it pains us to hear of instances in recent weeks of difficult housing situations for personnel attached to Webb. Admittedly, there is no surplus of better grade housing, and one might expect a respectable charge to be made on the modest supply of modern quarters, well appointed and well furnished.

But when the pressure of securing housing penetrates into the average and sub-average category to the extent that charges are based on what the traffic will bear rather on the service provided, we are off base. When we try to pass off marginal units at standard or better prices simply because there is a dearth of houses or apartments, we are in the wrong.

From a practical standpoint, we are taking a short-sighted policy, for within a matter of months a major on-base housing project is going to take shape at Webb. These units, you may be sure, will be nice and convenient; they will be available at charges which will return a reasonable rate on the investment. They will be in demand.

That means that some of the pressure for local housing will be relieved. It might even mean some vacant apartments. But we venture that the first apartments or houses which would go vacant will be those either of a marginal character or which have carried an unrealistically high rental tag.

Landlords who have maintained a fair and reasonable charge commensurate with what they have offered will be the ones to keep tenants. Not all the base-connected people will be housed at the Webb project, so you may be sure that those moving out of a place in town to take a place at the base will tell a friend about the quarters they are leaving. If they have been treated fairly, they will be walking advertisements for placing someone on it.

We do not propose to tell the owner of any private property what he may do with his property, how he shall run it or what charge to make. But we do plead with our people to be as conscientious in their housing dealings as they would in any other transactions.

When a new clerk moves to town, he is a Big Spring resident. When an oilman moves to town, he is a Big Spring resident. When a craftsman moves to town, he is a Big Spring resident. And the minute an officer or enlisted man at Webb AFB arrives here, he is a Big Spring resident.

We therefore hope that we will deal with one another always as "homefolk" — we would be ashamed of ourselves if we dealt with our military-connected population on any other basis.

Ike's Honesty On Farm Program

WASHINGTON — Just about the most penetrating speech in many a campaign from the standpoint of clarity, persuasive argument, and all-around effectiveness politically was delivered at Peoria, Illinois, by President Eisenhower.

Short sentences, with crisply presented points that the listener could retain for future discussions, gave the address a distinctiveness in style that was reminiscent of FDR at his best in the famous "fireside" chats.

In a striking passage, the President said: "No farmer — nor any citizen — will trust politicians who go to the cities to denounce inflation and come to the country to promise loose credit. Nor will any citizen trust any politician who promises expanded governmental expenditures, reduced taxes and — at the same time — a balanced budget."

Mr. Eisenhower thus summed up the whole Republican defense against the Democratic effort to sectionalize the issues of the campaign. For years the Democrats have been urging more and more spending of government money, and on the farm question they have been advocating a return to "rigid price supports." This means that the farmer may plant as much as he pleases and the government, in effect, will guarantee to buy it from him at a fixed "parity" price. This also means using money from taxpayers in all parts of the country to keep on buying the surplus production, whatever it is.

Mr. Eisenhower boldly tackled in the center of the farm belt itself — supposed to be his weakest area from a vote-getting standpoint — the basic issue when he said:

"Rigidly fixing price supports at 90 per cent of parity without regard to supply conditions — and so encouraging surpluses that depress market prices — is, for the farmer, mockery and deceit. That kind of program compels drastic quotas, allotments, government regulation. It robs the farmer of a chance for full income parity. It is a program for politicians, not farmers."

Somebody in authority had to say this flatly and tell the farmers the facts about the "rigid price support" fallacy which has plagued the American economy for many years. Few people, farmers or city folks, have realized that the federal government has bought surpluses amounting to the astonishing total of $9,000,000,000. This big sum of taxpayers' money is one of the reasons for budget deficits which have prevented tax reduction from being enacted.

The present administration has fearlessly taken its position for the gradual removal of the surpluses and for a market in which supply and demand are permitted to operate. This has been a difficult position to maintain politically, however, because it has been so easy for demagogues to make it appear that the farmer — or must necessarily be the loser when rigid price supports are abandoned. Actually, it is turning out the other way. Progress is being made toward the steady sale of the surpluses stored up from previous years, and at the same time prices appear to be getting progressively better. The question is whether the farmer now wants to reverse the trend and change administrations.

The big unknown factor today in American politics is whether sensible arguments in opposition to exaggeration and extravagant promises made only for political purposes will persuade the farm voters that the present program is really to their benefit.

Mr. Eisenhower has taken a most delicate issue directly to the people. He has presented the facts unequivocally — in answer to the cry of "inflation depression."

Will the President, however, be able in the next few weeks to overcome the political effects of months and months of attack by his critics? His own spokesmen and campaigners in the contests for Congress will have to carry on for him. The trouble there is that many of them, for political expediency's sake in bowing to misguided sentiment locally, have already accepted the opposition argument. This makes the President's aggressive exposition of economic truth all the more commendable.

Surf Board Traffic

HONOLULU — Ever see a surf board traffic jam? The Board of Harbor Commissioners says the beach at Waikiki is becoming one big jumble of surf boards and swimmers daily, and it wants the authority to do something about it.

The harbor board now controls the water only to the high water mark. Board officials have asked the governor to extend their control over the beach area as well so they can limit—or, at least regulate—the surf board riders.

The board said it would also like to control the number of beginners taking up the sport—so many of them fall off and their unaccompanied boards are becoming hazards.

Economy Arrest

SPARTANBURG, S. C. — When it comes to being arrested a 41-year-old Converse man proves he's bargain-conscious.

Fred Phillips said he was telephoned recently by the man who reported himself drunk and asked that he be arrested by Phillips' county officers before city police picked him up.

The reason: The city fine for drunkenness usually is $12.75. The county charges only $10.

Police Psychology

DETROIT — A psychiatric consultant says police chiefs should select only well-adjusted applicants for police jobs.

The advice comes from Alan Canty, director of the Detroit Recorder's Court psychiatric clinic. He says there are often secret reasons why a man wants to be a policeman—such as acting out aggressions, or using the job as an outlet for "hostile feelings against society."

Canty says all police departments should get psychological advice before accepting applicants.

Detroit's Normal - Counting On Big Sales

DETROIT — There are two schools of thought about 1957 in this automobile city, and it isn't telling tales out of school to say that one of them is General Motors Corp. General Motors Corp. — unofficially, of course, and "not for attribution to any particular person" — isn't too happy about the Federal Reserve Board's tight-money policy. Reason G. M. economists: Unless consumer credit expands, unless people can buy automobiles rather freely on installment credit, 1957 won't be a happy passenger-car year.

That's the talk you get after hours. It's traditional G. M. talk. It's in keeping with what Harlow H. Curtice, G. M. prexy, said in May. He blamed this year's 29 per cent drop in passenger-car sales on the Federal Reserve's tight-money policy.

The economists at Ford are not so monotonous (may be we should coin the word, "money-olatrues"). They don't put as much stress on easy credit. They're optimistic about 1957 because they think that consumer purchasing power will expand, and that when consumers have more money to spend, they'll spend not only what they get in their pay envelopes but the supplementary sums they can borrow.

And they're not overly worried about the capacity of consumers to borrow. If a contest develops between consumers, as borrowers around the ranch and pipe in soothing music.

Paul Bunyan Bonfire

LAKE ALPINE, Calif. — A Paul Bunyan size bonfire—bigger ever seen in these parts—will be set here sometime next year. Special crews are removing huge snags and stumps from Lake Alpine and piling them into a tremendous heap below the dam impounding the lake. When they dry out next summer, they will be burned.

Contented Birds

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. — Glenn and Jerome Byron, who are raising 10,000 turkeys on a ranch near here, found a way to keep the excitable birds contented. They have placed loudspeakers around the ranch and pipe in soothing music.

When there's a storm brewing, or a wolf howl upset the birds, one of the Byrons steps to the microphone and quietly talks the turkeys into relaxing.

Censor's Decision

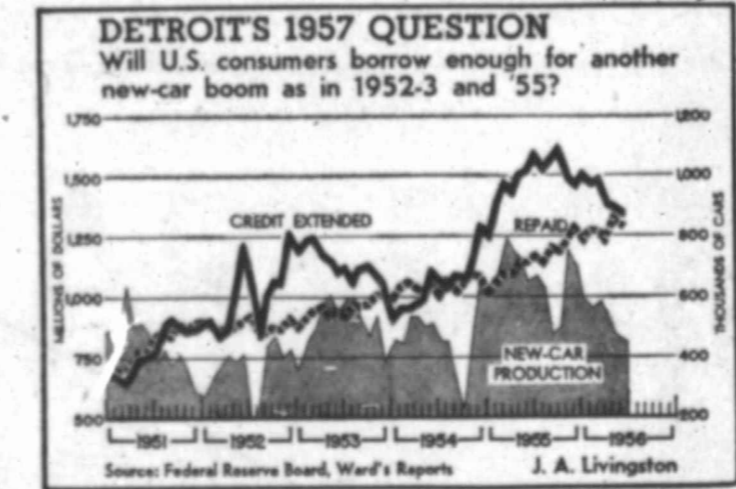

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — "The Bad Seed," a movie about a monstrous 9-year-old girl who commits several particularly unsavory murders was passed for showing by their three-woman Memphis Board of Censors—but not without a deletion.

The board held the picture—despite its shocking theme—could be shown on an "adults only" basis. But one word, spoken by actress Eileen Heckart, had to go. The word: "Privy."

men, materials, or machinery at hand to do everything.

If the Reserve were to make money plentiful, allow banks to make loans freely, the effect would be to increase the bidders for an already-spoken-for supply of labor and resources. As it is, all of us are now competing — consumer finance companies with corporations, veterans buying homes with people buying cars, business wanting to buy inventories with speculators seeking to purchase cotton, wheat, or stocks.

The Reserve's purpose is to prevent an inflationary boom, to prevent a sharp peak in prices and production, and then a sudden falling off. It wants to "stretch out prosperity," but those who feel their present prosperity, their present profits, or their future prospects are endangered by that policy, don't like it. And, naturally, Detroit is concerned. Two out of three new cars are sold on credit. If credit's not available, auto sales will shrink.

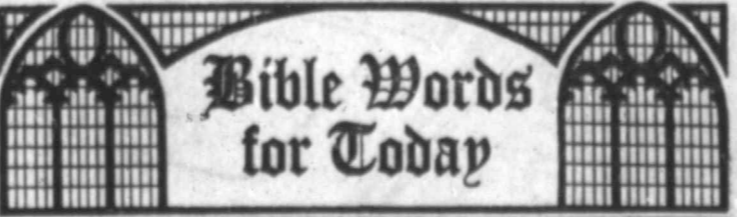

Commercial Credit, will see that the consumer gets a decent credit shake — in their own self-interest.

In this year's financing, the automobile buyer fared all right. The proportion of new cars bought on credit was about 10 per cent higher than in 1955. Here's a month-by-month tally:

Month	Per Cent of New Cars Purchased on Credit
January	1955 1956
February	55 65
March	54 63
April	60 64
May	57 60
June	62 69
July	69 69
August	70 76

This forcefully suggests that

PHIL. 1:21 "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain."

In these words we find the secret of the Apostle Paul's victorious and abundant life. He was living now for Christ. Every other motive and passion was secondary while Christ was first in his life. This way of life has its present compensations, however Paul confidently tells us the real payoff is what is on the other side of death. Death cannot be counted a loss to the person who lives for Christ, but rather it is a gain, an addition in every case. Christ alone holds the key to happiness now and happiness hereafter.

Around The Rim

This Is A Matter Of Seeing Too Much

Things are moving so fast on the scientific front these days that if some of us don't watch out, we are going to get caught in our BVD's.

This is not just a figure of speech, either. One of the developments in scientific research is that of perfecting a picture phone. Nor is this not "way out in the space-age" era. Right now, Bell Telephone and associated companies have a picture phone in their laboratories. In fact, scientists have been "seeing" each other over the phone for some time. They are supposed to be at work getting the bugs out of this invention, and if this doesn't take long, we will soon be seeing this person-to-person television idea offered on the market.

This sort of thing may have appeal to the scientific brain, but for the garden variety of citizen there are some disturbing aspects.

With the picture phone, certainly there will have to be some revision of standard hours of calling one another on the telephone. Right now, it seems to me, most people call at our residence when I am (a) in the bathtub; or (b) in bed. It's bad enough to be pleasant and charming in handling calls at these times over the orthodox, or old-style, phone. With picture vision, it is going to be downright embarrassing.

Take the bath hour. When the bell rings now, it is necessary to reach for a big towel, drape it around your middle, and track water across the floor to the instrument. When phone vision comes, you'll have to be mighty alert to jump behind the shower curtain, and coyly thrust out arm and hand to grasp the instrument. The guy at the other end of the line sees only the forearm, you hope.

The bedtime phone call may be even worse. I already have too widespread a reputation for a slugged, but over non-seeing telephones, I can sometimes find my way out of the answer to that standard query: "I didn't wake you up, did I?"

With picture vision, what is one to do? The bell jangles, and before you can come into your full senses you have lifted the receiver. Bungo! you are in full view of the caller, who sees you in ragged pajamas, hair matted, eyes swollen, and in that general condition of deshabille that occurs when one is torn suddenly from the arms of Morpheus.

No, sir, with picture vision, some habits will have to be changed. This new fad of having telephone outlets in the bathroom — and other parts of the house for that matter — will have to be abandoned. And some of us will have to starting getting up at a decent hour.

Or else build a private booth for this seeing-eye gadget, so that when it rings, it can be answered only after one has completed a proper toilet and maybe put on formal attire — all this before stepping into the booth.

Or else, have an old-fashioned phone by which the caller could phone first with a warning: "You ready to talk to me by phone vision? I'll be calling you on it in five minutes."

Or better yet — and assuredly the science boys including this in their plans — have a switch that will cut off the picture until one gets in some state of readiness, or at least garble it until you look like the snow streaks on the standard TV screen when there is network trouble.

Photo-phones may be fine, but we reactionaries have got to stand up for our rights to some minor degree of privacy.

The Healing Power Of Faith

One of the greatest things that can come to a human being in this world is sound, sturdy health. To have your heart functioning right, blood pressure normal and all your organs in proper working order is a priceless blessing.

An important aid to physical health is the depth therapy of faith. By that I mean that faith has the power to send its benign influence to the very center of your being and keep it functioning the way God meant. If you can get enough faith into your mind, you can overcome most sickness. It will help to maintain emotional balance so necessary to health.

A committee of distinguished physicians appointed by the British Medical Association recently conducted an investigation into spiritual healing. Their report was cautious, but did admit that what they called "conversion" has been known to accomplish remarkable results in changing the entire physical aspects of men and women.

And what did they mean by "conversion"? Simply a change in thinking and living by getting faith, deep faith, the kind that hits you hard when you get it and stays with you because you live by it. The sort of faith that merely bounces off the top of the mind without penetrating it does not have the spiritual and psychological potency to which we are referring. But deep faith has such amazing power that it not only changes people morally and spiritually, but also is a powerful foe to disease and a creator of health.

I recently read a book, "Stay Alive All Your Life," by a minister, the Reverend Dr. Alston Smith. Dr. Smith writes about an occasion on which a doctor asked him to come to see a boy who was dying. The doctor said that he had done all he could, unless the minister could stimulate a new faith in the young man's mind.

Those Important Kentucky Races

BARDSTOWN, Ky. — in the tightly-packed courtroom in the courthouse in the center of the square the audience listens intently to the speaking. The listeners have come from all the counties in the district to hear the two Republican candidates for the Senate in a contest which is, in many ways, unique.

In the first place, Kentucky is the only state in which two Senate seats are to be filled. This makes it possible that control of the Senate will be decided here.

But more important, the two Republican candidates, John Sherman Cooper and Thurston Ball, are closer to the design of the new Republicanism than are the GOP candidates in any other state. Both have proved their loyalty to the Eisenhower doctrine of cooperation with other nations and moderate reform at home.

Because their election is so important to the transformation of the party — if it is to be transformed — President Eisenhower is flying to Lexington on Monday to make three separate talks and to be seen by as many people as possible as he drives in and about the town. In county after county, the Republican organization is working to organize motorcades that will converge on Lexington for Eisenhower Day.

For the farmers and small town businessmen, their wives and children in the crowded courtroom, the role played by Cooper and Morton for the Republicans on the world stage must seem remote, indeed.

Cooper, who previously served twice in the Senate, was ambassador to India and in 17 months in that assignment did a great deal to bring the United States and India closer together.

His last contribution before he resigned was to negotiate the sale to the government of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of more than $300,000,000 in American farm surpluses, the terms being such as to help underwrite India's difficult foreign exchange position.

Morton, who has served three terms in the House, was an Assistant Secretary of State in charge of liaison with Congress. This is a ticklish assignment calling for diplomatic skill and tact of a high order.

At first hand, Morton got to know how difficult — if not downright impossible — it is to implement an internationalist foreign policy when most of the members of one's own party are either hostile or indifferent to that policy.

Perhaps because they sense that the gap between their experience and that of their listeners is so great or perhaps because this Presidential campaign is bringing to light a new inward-turning — isolation is not the word for it — both men seem slightly on the defensive.

Cooper's Democratic opponent, former Governor Lawrence Wetherby, has been attacking him for his reluctance to give up his post in India to run for the Senate, suggesting at the same time that somehow by the very fact of having been away so long he has lost interest in Kentucky.

"My opponent has begun to belittle the fact that I've been away," Cooper tells his serious, intently listening audience. "Yes, it's true I've been in India. I've served in several posts in having to do with foreign relations. But I'm proud of it. It is part of the great task that President Eisenhower is trying to carry out, the task of keeping the peace."

He talks about the farm economy and how he sponsored the first bill to fix a parity price of 9 per cent on tobacco. He talks about his effort to help rural electrification in the state and his friends in the REA cooperatives.

He talks about his long service, first in the State Legislature, then as a county and later circuit judge, of his four statewide campaigns for the Senate, twice elected to short terms to fill an unexpired vacancy and twice defeated for the regular six-year Senate term.

This is a spot where Kentucky tradition is strong, and before the speeches both candidates did a stint for television: a doorstop of the mansion in which Stephen Foster is said to have been inspired to compose "My Old Kentucky Home." The roots of the past go deep, the problems of tobacco and corn and hogs are close and urgent.

India is a long way off, remote and legendary. So is Suzet, and for that matter, so is Paris, or London, or Bonn. But if within the framework of the Republican party there are men who can bring home the perilous proximity of Bardstown and New Delhi, it is here.

Number Of Felony Cases Shows Increase In Crime

Study of the number of felony cases filed in Howard County for the period January 1-Sept. 29 indicates crime in this county has increased 63.9 per cent over the same months in 1955.

The only alternative by which to evaluate the upsurge in the number of major offenses is to assume that more vigorous investigation and apprehension of law-breakers has prevailed in the current period.

A check of the felony docket in the justice of peace court, where all felony matters are listed, showed that so far this year 152 complaints have been filed. For the same period last year the total was 120.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has just released its study on crime in the nation for the first six months of this year compared with the same period in 1955. In this report, the FBI asserts that major crimes in the U. S.—murder, negligent homicide, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft—show an increase of 14.4 per cent.

Crimes considered in this study of Howard County cover a wider category than that followed by the FBI and also cover nine months of the year rather than 6. In addition to the offenses cited in the FBI report, the felony docket listings studied included check forgeries and other violations in that field; wife and child desertion matters; driving an automobile while under influence of intoxicating liquors and several other offenses which are not included in the federal bureau report.

Passing of bogus checks, forgery and other crimes of similar nature have shown not only the greatest increase this year in this county over last year but likewise constitute the greatest single group of felonies in which complaints have been filed. There were 25 such cases listed in the docket in the first nine months of 1956 as compared to 55 such cases filed to the same date this year.

Driving while drunk, second offense, is also up 19 this year as compared with last year's score. The cases in 1955 stood at 14; in 1956 they counted to 24.

Burglary accounted for 29 of the complaints on the book for this year. Last year there were only 15 such charges on file.

One crime is missing from the calendar this year—murder. Not a single murder case has been filed in the county. Last year, one murder complaint was lodged in the court. Possession of narcotics accounted for four cases in 1955. There have been two such cases this year.

Assault with intent to murder is up three this year over last. Total this year is five; last year it stood at two. Theft involving matters over $50 value accounted for 25 complaints in 1955. This year's score is 22.

There were 10 cases involving fraud filed so far this year which is one more than for the same period 1955.

Wife and child desertion, wife desertion and child desertion charges were all lumped into a common group for the purpose of this check. Seven such charges were filed in 1955. This year, the total is 16.

Robbery complaints this year number six as compared with four last year.

Six more cases charging theft of automobiles have been filed for the same period in 1956. The score: eight for 1956; two for 1955. The same totals apply in the case of rape—8 and 2 respectively. Two complaints charging kidnapping have been filed this year. Last year there were no such charges. Two complaints alleging gambling operations were cited in 1955. There have been none this year. One perjury charge was filed in 1955. No perjury complaints are listed for this year.

One case alleging arson has been docketed in 1956. There were no arson cases in 1955.

It must be borne in mind that not all of these cases in either year ever reached the higher courts. Some were dismissed in the justice court before they were presented to the grand jury. Others considered by that body were not billed. Some which were brought before district court were dismissed or otherwise disposed of without the defendants in the matter ever coming to trial.

It is conceded, however, that in each of these cases the complaint represents one phase of an investigation made by officials into an alleged act of crime. Since charges were not necessarily filed in all crime investigations in the felony category, it is concluded that the totals as reflected in the docket do not tell the whole story. In other words, there were other offenses which occurred but in which sufficient evidence could not be assembled to result in the filing of formal complaints.

Sherman School Building Burns

SHERMAN, Sept. 29 (P)—Fire destroyed the auditorium of Sherman Junior High School last night and heavily damaged the rest of the building. Damage was estimated at $250,000.

Supt. Byron Davis said the school building had been undergoing more than $80,000 worth of refurbishing. The last classroom paint job was completed Friday.

Forest Fires Hit Colorado

DENVER (P)—Smoke mushroomed over two huge forest fires in Colorado today as 600 woodsmen and volunteers sought to control the wind-fanned flames.

More than 1,150 acres of timber and brush had been destroyed by the fires, one burning in its ninth day. This was in southwest Colorado, where 550 acres have been blackened in San Juan National Forest, 28 miles northeast of Durango.

A fast-moving fire charred an estimated 600 acres along the Rocky Mountain foothills seven miles north of Golden, a Denver suburb.

Winds up to 30 m.p.h. sent sheets of flame leaping from treetop to treetop in the first day of the blaze near Golden, but firefighters expected to have the flames under control shortly.

Forest supervisor Gordon Gray said the southwest Colorado fire had been "contained" last night but rising winds threatened efforts of a thin line of volunteers.

BELTON, Sept. 29 (P)—A $250,000 physical education center at Mary Hardin-Baylor was dedicated yesterday.

JOLT FOR NEWSMEN

Lipstick And Lace For Babe Zaharias

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (P)—Sports writers covering a women's golf tournament a couple of years back were jolted by the sight which greeted them at the first tee.

There was Babe Didrikson Zaharias, a driver dangling from beneath her arm, busily applying rouge and lipstick before taking her first swing.

The newsmen edged closer to be sure their eyes weren't deceiving them. The Babe noticed their consternation and quickly cleared the atmosphere.

"Sure," she said hoarsely, "and I've got silk underneath. And I like it."

This was indeed a far cry from the tomboyish daughter of a Norwegian ship carpenter who used to say to the toughest boy in the neighborhood, "I'm going to lick you." And then did.

HATED DOLLS

As a young girl, the Babe was a bit gawky-lean and tough as a buggy whip. She hated dolls and her favorite playthings were balls and bats and a weight-lifting machine made of broomsticks and her mother's flat irons.

But as she grew to womanhood—leggy, green-eyed and statuesque—she saw her tastes veer sharply to feminine finery. She liked the name "Mildred" in preference to "Babe."

She met a 300-pound wrestler billed as "The Crying Greek of Cripple Creek." But the Babe was so busy touring the country winning golf championships she had no time for romance.

MARRIED ON FRIDAY
So one day George cornered the Babe and said, "We get married Friday or we're through." They married on Friday.

They lived first in Denver's fashionable suburbs where the house contained an eight-foot square bed. Later they moved to Chicago and then transferred to Tampa, Fla., where they bought the Tampa Golf and Country Club.

The Babe had the stucco house painted pink and she did her cooking in a frilly yellow kitchen with curtains which she made by hand. But through this feminine veneer the old, rough-and-tumble Babe frequently popped out.

FLYING MARE
Once speaking fondly of her husband, she said, "Yeah, I threw him last night with a flying mare."

band, she said, "Yeah, I threw him last night with a flying mare."

She became a graceful ball room dancer. On the women's golf tour, she always was the life of the party. She teamed with Betty Dodd, another golfer, to give shows which would do credit to a vaudeville bill.

The Babe played a harmonica while Miss Dodd strummed a guitar and often the two of them would burst into song—the hill-billy airs. She was so good that once she went on the stage with her harmonica act but retired because, she said, "I want to see the sky again."

WOMAN'S WHIM

Except for a sudden woman's whim, the Babe might have followed gentler pursuits and the world might have been denied its greatest woman athlete.

On a humid summer day in Dallas in 1931, Mildred, 16, was walking down the main street looking for a party dress. Suddenly her attention was attracted to a green-trimmed golf bag with shiny, steel clubs.

"That was it," the Babe said later. "The bug got me." (Last of a series.)

Commissioners To Open Bids On Airport Bonds Wednesday

Invitations to 200 bond buyers and their representatives to submit bids on Howard County's $500,000 airport bond issue have been mailed and the Howard County Commissioners, Court will meet Wednesday to consider bids for the issue.

The bonds were approved at an election on Aug. 11. Funds are to be used for the construction of a modern airport to serve aviation needs of the county and the municipality. Site for the proposed airport is tentatively located about four miles northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder highway. Official approval of this location has been accorded by the Air Space Subcommittee of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Sealed bids for the bonds, which must be accompanied in each case by a cashier's check for $10,000, will be opened at 10 a. m. on Oct. 3. It is specified in the notice of sale that the bidder must name the rate of interest on the bonds and that the rate must not be in excess of 3 1/2 per cent. Each bid must show the net interest cost to the county from Nov. 1, 1956, to final maturity. It is stated no bid for less than par and accrued interest will be considered.

The bonds will be delivered to the successful bidder at the American National Bank in Austin and it is planned to make such delivery on or about Nov. 10. It is stated that if delivery is not made to a successful bidder by Dec. 10, purchaser may be relieved of his commitment or have refusal of the bonds at his bid when they are ready for delivery.

The bonds appear to be eligible for purchase by the State Board of Education of Texas. The county has supplied the board with complete financial information about the county, the bond issue and other pertinent data. It is said the board will meet on Oct. 6 and at that meeting, according to information at hand, the agency will either purchase the bonds or waive its privilege.

The commissioners have specified that all bids considered on Oct. 3 must be on all of the following terms:

The plan calls for $5,000 of the bonds to mature on May 1, 1957. Another $5,000 block matures on the same date in 1958. Thereafter, annual maturity will be reached by blocks of $10,000 until 1972. In 1972, 1973, 1974, each year will see $15,000 of the bonds paid off. In 1975, $35,000 will mature and each year thereafter the total volume of paid off bonds out of the issue will increase at regular intervals. The last $50,000 block will be retired in 1981.

These bonds are to be paid from the county permanent improvement fund. An election this year allocated 22 cents to the permanent improvement fund through the tax year 1961. Under the constitution, the limit for permanent improvement fund levy is fixed at 25 cents per $100 valuation.

Glass Plant Strike Ended

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—A 27-day strike by 7,000 workers at seven glass plants ended yesterday with agreement on a new one-year contract.

Federal mediator William Rose said the agreement was reached between the American Flint Glass Workers Union and the National Assn. of Manufacturers of Pressed and Blown Glassware, representing the seven firms.

The contract is retroactive to Sept. 1 and provides a six per cent hourly pay increase. Rose said this will mean a minimum of a 10-cent-an-hour hike for the workers, who averaged about $1.75 an hour before the strike.

Plants are at Washington, Jeanette and Greensburg, Pa., Winchester, Va., and Lancaster and Toledo, Ohio. They were expected to be in operation Monday.

Uncle Ray: Rock Exists Under All Layers Of Soil

By RAMON COFFMAN

A letter about coal has come from Mr. J. Henry Brown. He writes:

"I have spent almost my whole life (75 years) in the coal fields of Kentucky and southwestern Virginia. In those fields are many layers of coal, and they differ in distance apart. There is a layer of rock, then a layer of coal and so on.

"If coal is made from vegetation, I would like to know how the plants grew on beds of rock. Also how did the rock layers above the vegetation get there?"

"In Harlan County, Ky., is Big Black Mountain with coal deposits from three and a half to 11 feet thick. Deep core drilling has proved that there are larger beds of coal below the level of the river bed than above it."

Many facts supply proof that coal contains the hardened remains of prehistoric plants. When studied under a lens, coal has revealed marks of ferns and other forms of plant life.

As to the growth of plants on beds of rock, let me remark that all plants of today grow above beds of rock. Sometimes the rock is only a foot or two below the surface. In other cases, it is several feet down, perhaps even 20 feet or more.

Above the rock is soil, formed chiefly from rock which broke up and decayed.

Among the prehistoric plants which formed coal were some which grew in water. Other plant material (including twigs, leaves and seeds) fell into ponds and lakes and sank to the bottom. Dead vegetation on dry land also played a part, after the land was flooded.

The formation of rocks is an extensive subject which I plan to take up in the early future.

Forest Fires Are Raging In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Texas Forestry Service said last night 18 forest fires were out of control in the state and that a lack of personnel and equipment hampered fire-fighting efforts.

Drier-dry conditions continue in all of East Texas. No rain is forecast for that section.

The Forestry Service said several people known to have started fires carelessly have been arrested.

Northeast Texas is hardest hit by the fires. About 400 acres have been burned.

Concert Brings Business To City

By MARSHALL COMERER Associated Press Staff Writer

W. M. Holmes, president of the East Texas Symphony Orchestra, estimates a symphony concert attended by 1,000 persons in a city of 30,000 means an extra $3,000 worth of business to stores. Thus he estimated his orchestra's four subscription concerts this season will bring Tyler businessmen $10,000 more in revenue. Holmes bases his estimates on a study by the American Symphony Orchestra League. He said $3,000 is spent per concert this way: Women's clothes $2,250, men's clothes $200, taxis and cost of taking the family car $250, snack at a restaurant and home entertaining $450, corsages and floral decorations $60, records and music $90, and baby sitters $150. A symphony orchestra is a community asset, says Holmes, because it helps attract new industries.

"Many communities have good transportation, adequate water and housing potential," says Holmes. "Companies nowadays are largely concerned with whether a community has what it takes to keep their key personnel satisfied."

The Amarillo Civic Ballet Co. is the newest organization in the field of resident arts. The company, announced last week by director Gene Galle, proposes to establish a civic ballet of Amarillo and Panhandle residents and to present recitals by national ballet companies.

Port Arthur's Little Theater is bouncing back after its disastrous Fire July 14. About $1,200 has been raised in this drive for $25,000 to build a new home. The theater has set its first production of the season, "Tune of the Cuckoo" for Oct. 13-18.

Rock Hudson Film Returns

A highly emotional film, "Never Say Goodbye," returns to the Terrace Drive-In screen Sunday and Monday, starring Rock Hudson, Cornell Brochert and George Sanders.

The plot has Hudson meeting a beautiful Austrian, played by Miss Brochert. The couple are married, have a child and suddenly and inexplicably the mother disappears. Hudson, believing his wife had been unfaithful, takes the child back to America.

Years later, she shows up with George Sanders, an old acquaintance, and Hudson convinces her to return to see her child, now a young girl. The dramatic situation tightens when the girl, who believes her mother dead, rejects Miss Brochert as an impostor.

'Intrigue' Maker Considered Genius

Sheldon Reynolds, producer of the film "Foreign Intrigue," is, according to many of his film-making colleagues, a genius among geniuses.

Reynolds, famed for his TV shows, "Foreign Intrigue" and "Sherlock Holmes," started out as a pre-med student, writing radio shows on the side. When television came along, he dreamed up an idea for an adventure series.

But instead of going to Hollywood, he skipped off to Europe to make his own films. Unorthodox from the beginning, he reversed the usual procedure and filmed a location thoroughly before dreaming up a script. He then wrote all his stories to fit.

Martha Raye Faints At Show

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Entertainer Martha Raye fainted last night during a performance in a night club here but after being revived came back to go on with her scheduled second show of the night.

After she had been examined by a physician, Miss Raye returned for her second performance—without incident.

Intrigue Is Theme Of Sahara Movie

"Foreign Intrigue," showing Sunday through Wednesday at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre, has just about everything—beautiful and mysterious blondes, blackmailers, counter-intelligence agents, punks out for a quick buck and Robert Mitchum.

Based on the four-year TV series of the same name, "Foreign Intrigue" was written, produced and directed by Sheldon Reynolds, also producer of the TV shows. The plot runs rampant over the capitals of Europe, stars Mitchum as an American press agent and introduces two beautiful new stars.

The story involves the death of an international tycoon on the French Riviera which soon envelops his public relations man, Mitchum, in a quest of four of the most evil men in Europe. Helping him are a Paris actress, Genevieve Page, and a Swedish discovery, Ingrid Tulean.

Cinerama Seats In Brisk Demand During The Fair

Early arrangements for attending the current Cinerama showing of "Seven Wonders of the World" during the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21, were urged this week by the management of the Melba Theatre in Dallas.

"It is extremely important that our patrons make early plans to attend the Cinerama showing of their choice during their visit in Dallas for the Fair," said John A. Altermann Jr., managing director of Texas Cinerama Corp.

"Since seating capacity in the Melba Theatre is limited and patrons will be handled on a first-come, first-served basis, we urge them to place their ticket orders with us by phone or by mail as soon as possible in advance of the opening Fair date," Altermann emphasized.

For the convenience of its patrons, Cinerama honors all major oil company credit cards, air travel and trip-charges cards.

Reservations may be made by calling Riverside 9101, Dallas, or by writing the Melba Theatre, 1913 Elm Street, Dallas.

Hollywood Lensman Dies Of Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Veteran photographer Hyman Fink, 59, suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday while making a layout of pictures of Jane Wyman on the set of her filmed television show.

Fink, staff photographer of Photoplay Magazine for 23 years, was on a first-name basis with most of Hollywood's stars.

PLATTER PALAVER

By Mary Sue Hale

Ever wonder what happened to the spaceman from the "Flying Saucer" recording? Buchanan and Goodman, responsible for "Flying Saucer," might be surprised themselves. Not exactly a sequel, but a record has been released by the Novelty recording company appropriately titled "Marty on Mars" by Marty. This disc is devoted to the Marsman who visited Earth, and excerpts from recordings by Elvis Presley and other artists lend spice to a very interesting, to say the least, recording.

Speaking of Elvis, his latest number, "Love Me Tender" was officially released Friday. There are confirmed rumors that his record sponsor, RCA Victor, is not too happy about his singing this latest on TV appearances before its official release date. Nevertheless, if you are a Presley fan, you can buy this disc now, and if you aren't one of his more ardent admirers, you will be hearing it quite a bit over the radio, anyway.

Little Richard's newest is "She's Got It," with "Heebee-Jeebies" as the accompanying number. The rhythm and instrumentalizing are very similar to his records of "Long Tall Sally" and "Rip It Up."

Still going great is "Honky Tonk" by Bill Doggett. Occupying both sides of the record, this number has been one of the top local favorites for several weeks, and appears to have a promising future.

The Six Teens have been getting good reception with their recording of "A Casual Look." The flip side, "Teen Age Promise," is also getting good notices. Fats Domino, another rock 'n' roll favorite who has been prominently located on the list of favorites, has a new recording of an old favorite, "Blueberry Hill."

Don Cherry, the golfer-singer who married the former Miss America, Sharon Kay Richie, does a fine job on "Nameless You." It is to be one of the numbers included in the Lil Abner Broadway stage show now being planned.

If you like modern music, you are probably a devoted Stan Kenton fan. If you aren't familiar with any of his "productions" give a listen to one of his currently best selling albums around this area. Songs included in the album, "Popular Favorites by Stan Kenton" are "September Song," "Delicado," "Dynamow," "Loye For Sale," "Deceive," "Tenderly," "Laura," and "Stardust."

Another best selling album features songs by the original cast of "My Fair Lady." A few of the numbers are "I Could Have Danced All Night," "I've Grown Accustomed to Your Face," "On the Street Where You Live," and "Embassy Waltz."

One hit record right after the other can be attributed to the Platters. Their recording of "My Prayer" is still pretty high on the hit parade lists, but not letting the grass grow under their feet, they have released another sure thing with "You'll Never Know."

In case you took a fancy to the Rodgers and Hammerstein favorites in the movie, "The King and I," you can listen to the album featuring music taken directly from the sound track.

Violent Drama Plays At Sahara

A drama of violence and murder in the high Sierras, a film titled "A Strange Adventure," plays Sunday through Wednesday at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre.

Starring are Joan Evans, Ben Cooper, Marla English, and Jan Merlin. Cooper gets involved with a band of hoodlums because he owns a fast hot-rod car and is intrigued with Miss English.

Cooper is fooled until the girl's cohorts, played by Merlin and Nick Adams, pull off a holdup. Cooper is forced at gun point to use his hot-rod for a getaway into a mountain hideout.

Commandeering the Sierra cabin of a snowfall observer, Peter Miller, and his sister, Miss Evans, a seige of terror begins with the thugs preventing their escape. The romantic theme develops between Cooper and Miss Evans as the prisoners seek to get a message out.

Fall TV Season Marked By Several New Shows

TV talk from the CBS network this coming week centers around Herb Shriner, Gale Storm, Dick Powell and Cole Porter, who will launch new shows for the winter season or appear in special presentations.

Gale Storm premiered with a new show, "Oh! Susanna," last night on Channel Four, replacing "Two For the Money." In the new series, the versatile Miss Storm will reveal her talents in comedy, song and dance as she plays the role of Susan Pomeroy, a social director aboard a luxury liner. Constant companion in the shipboard shenanigans is ZaSu Pitts, flirty-handed comedienne who portrays Miss Nugent, operator of the ship's beauty salon.

HERB SHRINER SHOW
The "Herb Shriner Show," a half-hour variety series starring the popular Hoosier humorist will premiere on Channel Four Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, replacing "Jo and Mabel." Features of the new half-hour show will include Shriner in the role of narrator of a dramatic skit, presentations of his home-made movies, musical interpretations by his harmonica band and the introduction of special guests.

DICK POWELL
The Dick Powell-Zane Grey Theatre will make its debut in the time period usually occupied by "Our Miss Brooks" this Friday evening at 9:30. Seventy-five stories were purchased featuring Zane Grey's famous western tales. Powell appears as host on every show, and on frequent occasions, will star in the productions.

COLE PORTER
"The Cole Porter Festival," an hour and one-half musical revue with an all-star cast including composer Porter, will be presented on KBST-TV Saturday evening at 7:30 as the initial offering in the second season of "Ford Star Jubilee" series, to be seen every fourth Saturday.

Others in the cast are bandleader and trumpet-player Louis Armstrong; motion picture singing stars Dorothy Dandridge and Delores Gray; Dancer Sally Forrest; actor George Sanders; Shirley Jones and Gordon MacRae.

BEARS-CARDINALS GAME
The 1956 National Professional Football League season opens today with Channel Four televising the game between the Chicago Bears and the Chicago Cardinals. Game time locally will be 3:30 p.m. this afternoon.

AFTERNOON DEVOTIONAL
Afternoon devotionals throughout the coming week will be conducted by the Rev. D. B. Kerr, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Seminole, who is conducting a preaching debut at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Daily meditation is at 4:30 p.m. each day.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

AUNTIE MAME by Patrick Dennis, Popular Library reprint. Available after Oct. 2.

I am probably one of the very few persons in this broad land who has not as yet read "Auntie Mame"—an oversight I intend to correct immediately. I have just received an advance copy of the Popular Library reprint edition in paper covers and scanning over the first two pages sold me. I think that Auntie Mame and myself are in for a most enjoyable few hours together.

The author is the same capable chap who turned out that hilarious book "Guestward Ho" which now graces the hallowed best sellers list and has occupied a niche in that select company for many weeks.

It will have to hold on a long, long time, however, if it matches the record set by "Auntie Mame." This novel was on that list for 80 weeks and 250,000 book-readers plunked down $3.50 for the original edition. How many thousands read the book via libraries is probably anybody's guess. Here at the Howard County Library, I am told, the book has been in steady demand ever since the copy was received and put on the shelves.

Popular Library pledges that the paper back edition at 50 cents, which it will put on sale on Oct. 2, is complete and unabridged. You can pick up a copy at the grocery store come next Tuesday or soon after.

LOVE FROM FRANCE, edited by Brant House, Popular Library. Available after Oct. 11.

"Love from France" is another collection of cartoons which have appeared in various French publications and proved to tickle the funny bone of mercuric Frenchmen.

As one might expect, they deal largely with sex. There is no national like a Frenchman to find so many enchanting and unusual aspects to this subject.

This little volume which contains perhaps a hundred French cartoons is a slim book and good for a lot of chuckles and quite a few laughs.

It doesn't have to be read but thank goodness the editors have been kind enough to translate the cartoons into ordinary English. This, however, is not as important as you might think—the French artists are clever at making their picture tell about the entire story. Indeed, a great many have no caption and no need for one.

THE FOUR WINDS, by David Beatty, Popular Library reprint. This is the story of a group of airline pilots who fly the big planes the British use on their overseas operations. Basically the scene is England but it shifts to many parts of the world in the course of being told.

It deals with adventures in flight, of misadventures in love and of the assorted problems and issues which beset people the world over, without regard to aviation as a career.

It seems to me to move rather slowly as a novel but everyone to his own taste, I always say. And its record in its original edition was so outstanding that I could be wrong.

You may be the type that will enjoy the pace the author pursues.

THE TEXAS KID, by William McLeod Raine, Popular Library Reprint.

This reissue of one of William McLeod Raine's perennially popular westerns years hit the stands this past week. It's a typical story in the plenty-of-action-and-lots-of-fightin'-and-shootin' type.

There's no need to say more. It's your dish if you're a western fan and most of us are.

Tool-Pushers From Texas In Jet Film

Two Texas tool-pushers wildcatting for oil and dames in South America—that's the way the Hollywood publicity booklets describe "Magnificent Roughnecks," playing Sunday through Tuesday at the Jet Drive-In.

The film is a mixture of comedy, drama and romance. Stars are Jack Carson, Mickey Rooney, Nancy Gates and Jeff Donnell. Carson and Rooney need no introduction as two of Hollywood's top comics, and Miss Donnell will be remembered as George Gobel's TV wife.

A type of screen fight that hasn't been used in some time features a bulldozer and a powerful skip-loader, one attempting to push a way to an oil fire, the other being used to block the way.

Besides the comedy, romance and battle of the mechanical giants, one of the highlights of the film is the burning oil gusher which comes as the film's climax.

Shirley Temple's First Adult Roles In Double-Bill

Shirley Temple's first grown-up role is featured in one of two movie classics being brought to Big Spring this week on a double bill. Miss Temple also has a featured role in the other film.

"Since You Went Away" and "I'll Be Seeing You," both remembered in the popular songs of the same name, play Sunday through Tuesday at the State Theatre.

"I'll Be Seeing You" is based on the classic theme of a rebirth of hope and recapturing of lost dreams through love. It tells a story of two lost souls who find their way to rehabilitation.

Ginger Rogers is starred as a girl on leave from prison, and Cotton is cast as an emotionally upset soldier returning for a Christmas holiday. Miss Temple's roles is that of a trouble-making cousin. A cast of big names is featured in "Since You Went Away." It is the story of the Hilton family, Anne (Claudette Colbert), and her daughters, Jane (Jennifer Jones), and Brig (Shirley Temple). It touches on the family's relationship with a boarder, Monty Wooley and Jane's romance with his nephew, played by Robert Walker.

Joseph Cotton is the Hilton family's advisor. Others shaping the destiny of the family are a clergyman (Lionel Barrymore), and a shrew played by Agnes Moorehead.

'Safari' Stars Leigh, Mature

"Safari," playing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Terrace Drive-In, features Janet Leigh, African lions, Mau Mau terrorists, lots of jungle and Victor Mature. It was filmed on location in Kenya, in the heart of Mau Mau territory.

Mature plays a white hunter leading the safari of an eccentric British nobleman out to kill the rare black-maned lion. Miss Leigh comes along as the ex-chorine fiancée of the nobleman.

The safari, already beset by wild beasts and wilder savages, is split by friction that develops when Mature and Miss Leigh fall for each other. All seems lost when the Mau Mau launch their long awaited ambush.

Prof's Wife Is Foremost Singer In Mexican Folklore

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 30 (AP)—Under skillful fingers, the concert guitar pulsed like a Mayan drum as the performer sang of the Xtabay, early Indian version of the Lorelei.

The mellow-voiced singer, giving one of her innumerable performances, was Mrs. Maria de Leon Ortega, Mexico's foremost folklore artist. Musical circles throughout the world know her as an extremely effective ambassador of goodwill.

In Corpus Christi, however, Mrs. Ortega is better known as Mrs. Joseph Billings, wife of an economics professor. The couple will stay in Texas long enough to give Mrs. Ortega a well-earned rest.

The Guadalajara-born musician has been sponsored various times by the State Department. When traveling through America on

Bela Lugosi Leaves Estate Of $2,900

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Once wealthy actor Bela Lugosi, who died Aug. 16 at 74, left an estate worth $2,900.

Young Stars In 'Burning Hills'

Two of Hollywood's youngest stars, Tab Hunter and Natalie Wood, are co-starring in "The Burning Hills," a Western drama-romance playing Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Hunter, star of "Battle Cry," plays Traco Jordan, a boy without a family and without love. Miss Wood, an Academy Award nominee for her part in "Rebel Without a Cause," plays the teen-aged Maria, a fiery young girl who brings Traco his first love.

Bandit Theme In Jet Film

Even if it should accomplish nothing else, "The Naked Dawn" teaches a good lesson—a Mexican badman running from the law should never stop to pet a pretty girl.

The film, however, accomplishes a little more than that. It stars Arthur Kennedy as Santiago, the badman, and introduces beautiful Betty St. John as Maria, another man's wife.

The plot has Santiago descending upon and nearly ruining the lives of a poor young Mexican farmer and his wife. Santiago tries to run away with Miss St. John, her husband gets greedy and tries to kill Santiago for his loot, and they all three get in trouble with the Mexican police.

The opus plays Wednesday at the Jet Theatre, on a double-bill with "Target Zero," starring Richard Conte.

Hitchcock Suspense Film Returns To Jet Screen

Alfred Hitchcock, the Hollywood master of suspense, presents one of his latest ventures in "The Man Who Knew Too Much," playing Thursday through Saturday at the Jet Drive-In.

The film also plays the same date at the Sahara Drive-In, on a double-bill with "The Vanquished," starring John Payne and Jean Sterling.

Stars of "The Man Who Knew Too Much" are James Stewart and Doris Day. They are cast as a vacationing couple who come across a planned assassination, to take place in a concert hall where the noise of the gun will be drowned out in the crash of cymbals and the thunder of drums. Stewart, witness to an Arab's murder, learns details of the plot from the dying man, and from that moment is a marked man himself. His reluctant hand is forced into a series of gambles that end in the London concert hall where he and his wife evolve a plan to prevent the planned assassination.

Mother Drowns Three Children, Tries Suicide

ELIZABETH, La. (AP) — Baffled authorities sought today to learn why a frail, 28-year-old mother drowned her three young children and then tried to take her own life.

Sheriff Ralph Thompson of Allen Parish (county) said Mrs. Ruth Wilson was found mumbling "I killed my babies" as she wandered in the woods late yesterday.

Her three children, Walter 3, Janet Ann, 15 months, and Katherine, 2 months, were found floating in about 18 inches of water in the bathtub of the Wilson home. They had been dead from 12 to 14 hours, the sheriff's office said.

Coroner Rigby Hargrove scheduled an inquest today.

Thompson said the children's father, Sgt. I.C. William Wilson of Fort Polk, La., was brought to Elizabeth from the field where he had been on maneuvers for two days. Thompson said Wilson "went to pieces" as he tried to call his mother in Atchison, Kan.

The sheriff said Mrs. Wilson tried to commit suicide by slashing her wrists. She was placed under guard at a clinic where her condition was believed not serious.

MEN IN SERVICE

Chief R. E. LaFon, local Navy recruiter, announced that three local boys had enlisted in the U. S. Navy during the past week.

These boys were George Cleve Weatherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Weatherford, 507 Bell Street; William Bryan Perry, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Clark, 1008 W. 7th Street, and Dale Roy Hilliger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hilliger, Route 2, Garden City.

These three were processed through the Big Spring Navy recruiting office and were sworn in to the Navy at Albuquerque, N. M. They have been transferred to the Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., for nine weeks of recruit training. After completion of recruit training they will be given 14 days leave prior to reporting to their ultimate duty station, school or ship.

Pvt. Doyle E. Ford, 17, son of W. C. Ford, 605 Steakley, Big Spring, recently completed the first phase of six months of active duty under the Reserve Forces Act at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Ford received eight weeks of basic combat training at the fort, to be followed by advanced individual and unit training. Men volunteering for the six-month tour of active duty are permitted to finish their military training in local Army Reserve or National Guard units.

Ford is a graduate of Big Spring High School.

Pfc. Leonard A. Todd, 22, whose wife, Elsie Pearl, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Todd, live on Route 4, Lamesa, recently took part in battery training tests with the V Corps' 2nd Launcher Section in Germany.

Todd is a mechanic in the 1st Field Artillery Battalion. Overseas since last November, he entered the Army in November, 1954, and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Specialist Third Class Kenneth W. Scott, 22, son of Mrs. Rachel Hudson, Route 1, Lamesa, marched during half-time ceremonies of the Armed Forces benefit football game in Chicago Sept. 21. Regularly stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., he represented the Army in the colorful four-service performances.

Scott, a tank crewman in the 1st Infantry Division's Reconnaissance Company, arrived at Fort Riley from an assignment in Germany. He was a driver for the Arrington Funeral Home in Stanton before entering the Army in March, 1954.

County's Cotton Wage Announced By Labor Dept.
The wage for cotton pulling in Howard County has been announced as $1.50-$1.55 per hundred pounds.

This figure applies to both irrigated and dryland acreage, according to Ed McDonald, regional director for the Bureau of Employment Security, Department of Labor. The wage is effective as of Sept. 27.

This year the bureau is making regular announcement of the prevailing wage in order to alert producers and help them avoid back payments to Mexican nationals, for whom the quotations are made.

Transport Due
SEATTLE, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Navy transport Gen. Gaffey is due Monday with 919 passengers from the Far East. It is the week's only scheduled troopship arrival from the Orient.
