Bums Take World Series Opener, 6-3

DODGERS 023 100 000-6
YANKEES 200 100 000-3

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers took the opening game of the 1956 World Series, 6-3, from the New York Yankees today.

Mickey Mantle hit into a double play in the last inning to end the game. The Yankees used a battery of pinch hitters and four pitchers in an effort to overtake the Dodgers.

Ike Starts Off His First World Series Game

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn (AP)—President Eisenhower threw out the first ball as the first game of the 1956 World Series got under way today. About half of the President's cabinet also attended. It was Eisenhower's first World Series game.

More baseball than politics was in the immediate offing as a smiling Eisenhower climbed aboard the presidential plane Columbine in Washington.

Eisenhower seemed jovial as he set off for the ball game in balmy, 70-degree October weather.

Every spring since 1953, Eisenhower has been attending the opening game of the season at the Washington Senators' ball park.

This time he tossed the first ball as the Brooklyn Dodgers started defending their world championship against the New York Yankees at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn.

A ceremony was set up at home plate to let the bigwigs of baseball welcome the Chief Executive and permit the rival managers to introduce their squads.

Eisenhower's flight to New York for the series opener was billed as a nonpolitical trip. No other candidates were invited to confer with him and no political speeches were on tap.

But Eisenhower wasn't passing up the chance to smile and wave at anybody in Queens and Brooklyn who wanted to see him as he rode from the airport to the ball field and back again.

The President's big black bubble-top limousine was driven to New York to ferry the Chief Executive around.

Furthermore, the White House took care to outline in advance Eisenhower's exact route in New York—every twist and turn—and it picked a longer and different route for the return trip to LaGuardia Airport.

"I would think," press secretary James C. Hagerty said, "we would get some crowds."

There was another presumption on the part of Hagerty—that since he is a rabid Yankee partisan, Eisenhower probably was rooting for the Dodgers.

At any rate, Eisenhower was the guest today of Dodger President Walter O'Malley.

Eisenhower invited half his Cabinet to fly up with him and sit in his box at the ball game. The five were Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, Postmaster General Summerfield, and Secretary of Welfare Folsom.

Der Bing Slows Up, Says He's Long Gone

LONDON (AP)—Bing Crosby said today the demand for his recordings is down to a "faint whisper" because he is running plumb out of drive and enthusiasm.

The old groaner, a topline for three decades, made his comment in a letter written from Hayden Lake, Idaho, to the popular music column in the Daily Express.

The column recently did a treatise on the 52-year-old crooner entitled, "Is Bing Crosby going out—or has he gone?"

"I'm long gone," Crosby replied, explaining: "I just don't sing as well as I used to."

"I'm just not as enthusiastic as I used to be. The feel for a song isn't there, the desire to sing, to be in action—and when this is absent, so is the style."

"I don't think increasing age has got anything to do with it or that the pipes are getting rusty, because I believe voice quality has very little to do with public acceptance of a popular singer."

"It's the style and mood they create that puts them over."

Crosby said his waning enthusiasm will not, however, keep him from recording "here and there and now and again."

Express columnist Cyril Stapleton wrote Crosby is being over modest.

"He can still teach style and give points to everyone else," said Stapleton.

Private Talks On Suez Move Into High Gear

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Private talks on the Suez Canal dispute moved into high gear today with the arrival of more foreign ministers for the first U.N. airing of the controversy.

The 11-nation Security Council will open its Suez debate Friday afternoon. Seven foreign ministers are expected to be on hand, including Egypt's Mahmoud Fawzi, Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Koca Popovic of Yugoslavia already were on the scene and engaged in a busy round of conferences.

Russia's Dmitri Shepilov, Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, Christian Pineau of France and Fawzi were flying in today. Secretary of State Dulles was expected Friday.

Britain and France were preparing a resolution for the council calling for international control of the 103-mile waterway nationalized by Egypt July 26. They counted on U.S. support.

Yugoslavia and other nations were reported working for a compromise. The Soviet Union has backed Egypt in the canal dispute.

Lloyd and Pineau were to meet tonight at dinner with Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. representative on the council.

A British spokesman said the resolution was on paper but that revisions still were being discussed. He confirmed published reports that the resolution would ask the council to recommend (1) that Egypt cooperate with canalizing countries in provisional arrangements to keep the waterway open to all nations and (2) negotiate a final settlement based on the majority proposals from the first London Suez conference.

Those proposals, backed by 18 of the 22 nations attending the mid-August parley, called for an international board linked with the U.N. to operate the canal. The plan was rejected by Egyptian President Nasser.

Any such British-French resolution faced the possibility of a Soviet veto in the council.

Western sources said the United States, Britain and France are determined to push for council endorsement of an international control plan.

60-Year Resident Of Big Spring Dies

Mrs. Sallie B. Matthews, one of those rare souls who brought a touch of gentility and refinement to the frontier village of Big Spring three score years ago, died in a hospital here early Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Matthews, who was 90 at the time of her death, had been hospitalized since April when she fell and broke her hip.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the River Funeral Home with Dr. Jordan Grooms, her pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the City Cemetery beside the grave of her husband, R. D. Matthews, who died in April of 1933.

Mrs. Matthews was born Sallie Boggs in Hazelton, Mo., the home town of Mark Twain, on Aug. 8, 1866. Her father, the Rev. J. W. Bourland Sr., was a Methodist minister and he moved his family from there while she was a small child and came to Texas.

All of her life she remained a staunch Methodist, and for a long time whenever conference was held in Big Spring, the presiding

3 Men Die In Carolina Plane Crash

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—A C124 Globemaster crashed and burned today at the Charleston Air Force Base. Three of the 19 men aboard were killed.

The others were sped to the U.S. Naval Hospital here with undetermined injuries.

The Air Force said the huge plane, coming in from Bermuda, landed short on an instrument runway about 7:30 a.m. The plane apparently burst into flame after it hit and was consumed. A light fog covered the base at the time.

The Globemaster struck a short distance north of the base administration building.

The hospital said three of the crew were dead on arrival there. The hospital said one of the injured was in good condition. There was no immediate report on the others.

Names of all of the men were withheld until next of kin were notified.

A civilian employe in the base administration building said he heard on the communications system speaker a distress call from the incoming plane. He said the plane first reported it was losing one engine, then two. He added that fire trucks were on the runway awaiting the plane's arrival.

The employe said he saw a ball of flame as the plane crashed, careening over on its left wing tip.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration control tower said it had turned the plane over to the Air Force ground control approach personnel before the crash.

Backers Of States Rights Form National Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Backers of an Independent States Rights ticket in the coming election today announced formation of a national committee and plans for a "states rights-tax reform rally" in Richmond, Va.

States Rights candidate for president is T. Coleman Andrews of Richmond, a former Internal Revenue commissioner under President Eisenhower. His running mate is former Republican Rep. Thomas H. Verdel of Bakersfield, Calif. Andrews formerly listed himself as a Democrat.

The Andrews-Werdell ticket is supported by a number of independent political groups. The avowed aim of the movement is to try to throw the election into the House of Representatives and ultimately to win election of a "conservative" to the presidency.

Selection of 39 business, educational and professional figures from a national committee for the Andrews-Werdell campaign was announced by Clarence E. Manion and John U. Barr, the group's co-chairman.

Manion, of South Bend, Ind., is former dean of the Notre Dame Law School. Barr, of New Orleans, is an industrialist.

They announced that at the rally in Richmond on Oct. 15 "candidates Andrews and Werdell will be notified of action taken in a number of states to draft them as candidates, and will deliver their acceptance speeches."

Asked why, he replied: "I like to watch fires and see firemen work."

State Demos Meet To Wind Up Plans For Senate Race

By FRANK N. MANITZAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

A State Democratic Executive Committee legal panel met in Austin Wednesday to complete plans on its still vague U.S. senatorial primary.

James Hart of Austin, former State Supreme Court justice, will officially bid for the seat now held by Sen. Daniel with a statewide telecast Wednesday night.

State Sen. Searcy Bracewell outlined his "five basic principles" over 21 television stations Tuesday night while Republican Thad Hutcheson of Houston waited to hear from acting Gov. Ramsey.

Hutcheson asked Ramsey to call the special election immediately for Nov. 6, general election day.

No election date was set by Gov. Shivers before he left for his hunting trip in Alaska. He acknowledged receipt of Daniel's letter of resignation "effective Jan. 15 or when a successor is elected and qualified," but said he needed legal advice.

The legal subcommittee is studying a brief prepared by Gaynor Kendall, Austin attorney and former assistant attorney general. Its recommendations will go to the main committee which meets in Austin Thursday to decide if and when to hold a primary to select a Democratic nominee for the race.

One big item will be that of financing. Some officials have said the money will not be a problem, but a questionnaire was sent to county committees asking for volunteer help. A committee source said the replies so far were favorable but not enough have been received to determine what the local thinking is.

Estimated cost of the first and runoff primaries is $500,000, an official said.

Hart said he would enter the primary "if one is held. I hope

3.33 Pct. Bid On Airport Bond Issue Is Accepted

Columbian Securities, Dittmar and Company, First of Texas Corporation and Russ and Company, bidders as a block, were apparent low bidders for Howard County's $500,000 airport bond issue Wednesday morning.

Their bid was lowest of seven offers considered by the County Commissioners Court. It was accepted by the court, subject to decision of the Texas Board of Education on whether that agency desires to buy the issue. The agency will meet on Oct. 6 and will either buy or sign a waiver, it was said.

The commissioners in either event, will meet on Oct. 8 to officially sell the bonds.

Columbian Securities and associates bid an effective interest rate of 3.3333 per cent on the issue as a whole with top segment of the bonds drawing a maximum of 3.75 per cent.

Acceptance of their bid, subject to action of the Texas Education Board, was moved by Ralph Stallings, was seconded by Arthur Proctor and unanimously approved.

All of the seven bids offered were extremely close. County Commissioners said that in view of the prevailing bond market that the interest rate was regarded as exceptionally good. It had been feared the rate would push to 3.75 or above which would vastly increase the cost to the taxpayers in interest.

Columbian Securities and associates bid 3.75 per cent for the bonds from 1957-1968; 3.25 per cent for the bonds from 1969-1978 and 3% per cent for the remainder from 1979 through 1981.

Net interest cost to the taxpayers for the tenure of the bonds will run $290,526.25.

Other bids and the effective interest rates they offered:

Fort Worth National, Republic National, Eddleman-Pollock, Hudson-Starritt, Dewar-Robertson and Pancoast, 3.451 per cent.

Merrell French and associates 3.48194 per cent.

Rauscher, Pierce and Company and associates, 3.39765 per cent.

First Southwest and associates 3.48194 per cent.

Texas Bank and Trust and others 3.55915 per cent.

Man Fatally Shot In Drive-In Here

Hugh Emmett George, 27-year-old employe of Cabot Carbon Company, was shot and fatally wounded at 12:30 a.m. Wednesday in a drive-in two miles west on U. S. Highway 80. He died at 2:04 a.m. at the Cowper Hospital where he had been taken.

Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney's office, said that O. R. Bud' Cross, 24-year-old proprietor of Bud's Drive-In, is being held in the county jail in connection with the case. He was being questioned Wednesday morning.

West said that no charges have been filed in the case. He expects to file a formal complaint as soon as he completes investigation of the shooting.

Rufus Davidson and Floyd Moore, deputy sheriffs, were called to the scene soon after the shooting. They said that police had already arrived and that the suspect had surrendered to the city officers. The police relinquished the prisoner to the county officers. The deputies said that the shoot-

Health Officer Faces Ouster For Eating With Negro

MADISON, Fla. (AP)—Barring an unexpected last minute reversal of its announced decision, the Madison County Commission will fire Dr. Deborah Coggins as its health officer today for having a business lunch with a Negro nurse.

Dr. Coggins, who has received offers of jobs from two other states since the controversial luncheon drew nationwide attention, already has been discharged by the Jefferson and Taylor County Commissions. She served as health officer for the tri-county area at a 675-a-month salary.

The blonde, 32-year-old physician, Florida's only woman health officer, expressed gratification at offers of employment from California and Pennsylvania but said she plans to remain here and go into private practice.

TB Vaccine Search Topic At Meeting

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Floyd Felderman of New York City discussed research aimed toward possible TB vaccines at the opening of the Southern Tuberculosis Conference today.

Some 450 delegates were expected for the meeting, which runs through Saturday.

Felderman is medical director of the National Tuberculosis Assn. Dr. E. T. Blomquist, of Washington, head of the TB control division of the U.S. Department of Public Health, will discuss maintenance of public interest in TB control.

New Trial Ordered In Bomb Death

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed Harry L. Washburn's conviction in the car-bomb slaying of his former mother-in-law at San Angelo.

Washburn was given a life sentence Dec. 9 at Waco on conviction of slaying Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver. The trial was held in Waco on a change of venue.

The Criminal Appeals Court ordered the case remanded.

During oral arguments before the Court of Criminal Appeals, Washburn's attorneys accused the state of using "improper prosecution" to win conviction.

Cliff Tupper, San Angelo attorney, said the question of Andrew Nelson, serving life as an habitual criminal, by Dist. Atty. Tom Moore of Waco was "highly prejudicial."

Nelson refused to answer questions during the trial, claiming Fifth Amendment immunity. The state charged he bought the dynamite at Rosenberg and showed Washburn how to detonate it a few days before the San Angelo blast.

Mrs. Weaver was killed Jan. 19, 1955, when she turned the ignition switch of a family automobile and caused an explosion of 10 sticks of dynamite. Officers said her husband was the intended victim.

The court unanimously approved an opinion by Judge Ernest Belcher knocking down the state's claim there was no error because Nelson had been granted immunity.

"The state's contention in this respect cannot be sustained because the record shows only an offer of immunity by the prosecuting attorney. It fails to show approval by the trial court," Judge Belcher's opinion said.

He added that "at no time did the state move the court to direct or compel Nelson to answer any of the questions."

"The court's withdrawal of the questions from the consideration of the jury could not have been effective when the testimony corroborating and supporting the matters embodied in a number of the matters was later, over appellant's (Washburn's) objection, admitted in evidence," Judge Belcher said in ordering a new trial.

Washburn's attorneys had specifically claimed error by the trial court in permitting the state to call Nelson to the witness stand in the presence of the jury and requiring him to claim his privilege against self-incrimination.

Washburn has been in jail at Waco almost since his arrest, about a year and a half. He was unable to make trial bond, and by law he was not allowed appeal bond because his sentence was greater than 15 years.

C. S. Farmer of Waco, one of his attorneys, said he would ask Judge D. W. Bartlett to set bond as soon as the appeals court decision is received.

Waco Dist. Atty. Tom Moore, who helped prosecute Washburn, said the question of procedure for a new trial was in the hands of Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes of Tom Green County where the offense occurred.

Farmer said he did not know whether a change of venue would be asked.

Conservation Crop

Practices To Conserve Soil, Water Observed

Can soil and water be conserved? Backers of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District have concluded they can be, even in drought years.

Examples of conservation were observed on a soil and water conservation tour of the area around Big Spring last week. Persons on the tour saw a field where cotton production has been increased by 333 per cent. They also viewed patches of sesbania and sorghum alnum standing higher than their heads.

The increased cotton production was in the terrace channels on the L. J. Davidson farm, Center Point. Cotton in the channels is making a third of a bale to the acre—3.3 times as much as cotton above the channels.

Sesbania which has grown head high without rain since planting time was seen on the Ed Burchell farm north of Knott. The sorghum alnum, a new crop in this area, was inspected on Jack Buchanan's place at Luther.

Several other instances of profitable conservation measures were inspected. Broad-base terraces with end closures were seen on the Paul Adams place, where Adams harvested 700 pounds of blue panic seed from 16 acres of terraced land.

On the W. H. Homan Estate farm, large level diversions in terraces designed to hold all runoff from land above the field were viewed. Cecil Hyden showed tourists where he grazed 44 head of cattle on 50 acres of blue panic which was watered once—last winter. He also harvested 1,000 pounds of seed.

Ray Russell told of producing twice as much cotton in 1955 when he planted cotton on land that had a much cover of hegarri grown the year before. Russell's place is southwest of Big Spring, where Lawrence Adkins' place also was visited.

On the G. T. Hall farm, the group saw a variety of crops, including cotton, hegarri, hairy vetch and rye, alfalfa, summer peas and blue panic grass. On the Lorin McDowell place, the tourists saw a water spreading dam across a creek where run-off water is spread over many acres of native rangeland. Root plowing of mesquite and other brush and the seeding of rangeland on the McDowell place also was observed.

SHEEP MEN LOSE ATOM FALLOUT SUIT

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Southern Utah sheep growers lost their attempt to collect damages for sheep allegedly killed by fallout from atomic bomb tests.

Ending a trial which lasted more than two weeks, Federal Judge A. Sherman Christensen ruled yesterday in favor of the government.

Reviewing a mass of scientific and factual evidence, he said the sheepmen failed to prove a cause of action.

The suit was brought by McRae N. Bulloch and Kern Burfcoe, brothers, who sought $34,180.

Lloyd, Eubanks Attend Meeting

Two men from Big Spring attended a meeting in Lubbock Tuesday night to discuss traffic legislation in Texas.

Representing Big Spring at the 21-county conference were Larson Lloyd, chairman of the Citizens' Traffic Commission, and James Eubanks, executive secretary of CTC. Forty three persons attended the meeting.

All present gave their approval to a seven-point traffic safety program. Included in the plan were three members of the state legislature.

The meeting was one of several to be held over the state before bringing the measures to the Legislature's attention.

The points were: (1) more pay for state highway patrolmen and an increased staff, (2) putting driver education teachers in the Gilmer-Alken bill, (3) chemical analysis for drivers charged with driving while intoxicated, (4) institution of a county traffic court, (5) prohibition of fireworks in the state, (6) making juveniles liable for their traffic violations, and bringing the state's laws up to the Uniform Traffic Code.

They Were Not Amused

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It was not nearly as amusing as it was confusing.

The three children of Mrs. Thomas C. Endicott Jr. jabbered to her about a house fire. She had just returned from Lexington, Ky. where her mother's house was damaged by fire and thought they meant that one.

Instead, she discovered, they were talking about the building she and her husband were building here. The $20,000 home was destroyed by fire Monday, the day Mrs. Endicott left for Lexington.

Oklahoma Drop Lowers Oil Average

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A big drop in Oklahoma lowered daily average crude oil and condensate production by 17,209 barrels to 7,059,650 barrels during the week ended Sept. 29. The Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

Oklahoma fell 18,300 barrels to 373,300 barrels. Illinois' 2,100-barrel rise to 231,300 barrels was the week's best gain.

The Journal estimated 1956 production at 1,949,471,250 barrels compared to 1,834,156,321 barrels a year ago.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,965,300 barrels.

Dulles On 'Independent' Course In Suez Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles apparently is charting a course "somewhat independent" from that of Britain and France in the Suez Canal dispute with Egypt.

His purpose seems to be to show the peoples of Asia and Africa that this country is not "100 per cent identified with Britain and France" on the issue of colonialism, although the exact extent of differences over Suez is not clear.

Their scope was clouded by changes in wording Dulles made after discussing Suez policy off-the-cuff at a news conference yesterday.

He seemed in effect to be saying there are elements of the colonialism problem in the United States, Britain and France stand together on the main issue by insisting on international operation of the canal which Egypt seized in July.

Dulles himself brought up colonialism when asked about reports of a split between the United States and its British and French allies in organizing a users' association of nations whose ships depend on canal passage.

While denying there had been any basic change in that concept, Dulles told newsmen there is some difference in approach to the Suez problem.

That difference relates to rather fundamental things, he declared. He drew a distinction between cooperation among the United States, Britain and France under the North Atlantic Treaty and their policies in other areas on problems which he said involve colonialism.

Reporters later asked the State Department whether Dulles was saying the Suez dispute is really an issue in colonialism and whether he was listing Britain and France among what he termed the "so-called colonial powers."

After the questions were relayed to him, Dulles edited the news conference transcript.

He struck out his statement that the difference in approach to Suez relates to some rather fundamental things. He changed his comment that there "is some difference" with Britain and France over the Suez issue to read "there has been some difference."

"There are other problems (outside NATO) where our approach is not always identical," Dulles revised version said. "For example, there is in Asia and Africa the so-called problem of colonialism. Now there the United States plays a somewhat independent role."

The effect of the revisions was to put his reference to differences with the British and French in the past tense and to divorce his Suez comments in some degree—but not entirely—from the remarks he made about colonialism. In both versions Dulles said the role of the United States is to try to see that the process of shifting from colonialism to independence takes place in a "constructive evolutionary way" and is not stopped entirely or diverted into "violent revolutionary" channels.

It seemed to many diplomatic observers here that the British and French governments would be upset by Dulles' linking the Suez problem with the broad problem of colonialism.

Dulles is due to meet with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau of France at the United Nations later this week. The U.N. Security Council will take up the Suez issue Friday.

Altered Complaint Ends Another Trial

For the second time in successive days, initial case docketed for trial in the current jury docket of criminal cases in county court was thrown out on the grounds that the complaint had been altered after it had been originally filed.

This morning, a jury was empaneled to try William K. Theobald, charged with driving a truck while under influence of intoxicating liquor. The first witness was called to the stand when George Thomas, defense attorney, repeated the same motion he had made on Tuesday in the trial of C. C. Aaron, also charged with DWI.

Thomas argued that the complaint against his client had been altered in the interval from the time that it was originally filed and the present date.

Just as in the Aaron case, Judge R. H. Weaver, presiding, sustained the motion and dismissed the case against the defendant. He told the jury that the action was because the motion raised by the defense was sound and proven by certified photostatic copies of the original complaint compared with the complaint in the court. He added that under the law and the constitution such alteration infringed on the rights of the individual and made dismissal of the complaint automatic.

He instructed the jurors to return to the court at 9 a.m. on the Thursday for resumption of the docket.

Rayburn Throws Curve Ball To GOP

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—On the eve of the world series, Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) last night threw a curve at the Republicans in general and Secretary of Agriculture Benson in particular.

Addressing 550 party faithful, the Speaker of the House said, "I heard someone say the other day that the way to beat the Yankees was to put Ezra Taft Benson in charge of their farm program."

The New York Yankees, who have won 16 world series—five in the last seven years—meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first game of the 1956 series today.

One Accident In City This Morning

Big Spring sustained one traffic accident this morning at Eleventh and State.

Involved were Mary Muse, 434 Dallas, and Bessie Bell of Sterling City.

Sen. Johnson Says GOP Has Case Of 'Campaign Jitters'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said today President Eisenhower and the "Republicans have the campaign jitters."

Johnson told an impromptu news conference that he is confident the Democrats will win the presidency and increase their present majorities in both the Senate and House at the November election.

Back here to confer with Democratic campaign leaders and make some speeches nearby for the national ticket, Johnson appeared tanned and rested after a month on his Texas ranch.

"I believe the Democratic ticket is improving and gaining," he said, adding that Democrats will carry all Southern and border states in November.

Johnson said he had gone over surveys of the Democratic senatorial contests and they indicate that Democrats will retain all their present Senate seats with a "very good chance" to take Senate seats from Republicans in Iowa, South Dakota, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Idaho and California.

Johnson said Kefauver attracted large crowds when campaigning in Texas.

"By contrast," he said, "Vice President Nixon's appearance in Houston was very disappointing."

Johnson also had a comment on Eisenhower's attending the World Series baseball game today. "I can remember when he wouldn't even go to the opening ball game here in Washington," he said.

The Senate majority leader said the big issues in the campaign are lower farm prices, larger profits for big business and less concern for the majority of American citizens.

Johnson said he will speak at a Democratic fund raising dinner in Norfolk, Va., tonight, make a political speech in Baltimore Thursday, and return here Friday to fly back to Texas.

State Charges NAACP Solicited Parks Suits

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—The state sought to prove today that the NAACP solicited suits to open state parks to Negroes.

The question of soliciting lawsuits has been a key issue here in the state attorney general's office attempt to close down operations of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in Texas. The state says such solicitations are unlawful.

Earlier evidence presented in the state court injunction suit has been confined to efforts to crack the color line in state schools.

Today's parks testimony was presented by Asst. Atty. Gen. John Minton Jr., one of several attorneys who have investigated the NAACP.

Under questioning by Asst. Atty. Gen. Davis Grant, Minton offered as evidence three letters he said he found in the regional NAACP files in Dallas.

All three letters were written by regional NAACP attorney U. Simpson Tate, he said.

The NAACP attorneys objected to introduction of the documents but were overruled.

One letter from Tate, dated Aug. 15, 1951, to T. R. Register of Tyler, who was not identified, said the NAACP was considering suits to open facilities at Tyler State Park to Negroes.

Register was asked to form a committee to request use of the park facilities. Tate wrote, "At least one person must be prepared to come into court."

Another letter the same date addressed to G. A. Carroll of Corpus Christi said the NAACP was considering "another attack on the parks in Texas." He was asked to form a committee to request use of facilities for Negroes at Lake Corpus Christi Park.

The third letter was written by Tate on Jan. 8, 1952, to Dr. George D. Fleming of Fort Worth. Tate said he was preparing to attend a conference of the NAACP legal staff in New York. He asked Fleming's recommendations for "the type of suits you would like most to see started in your state in 1952."

Two Texas Rangers were in the courtroom as today's hearing started. Half a dozen State Highway patrolmen were in the vicinity of the courtroom. There were no disturbances as the tiny courtroom filled rapidly, with the crowd predominantly Negro.

"If we lose here, we're going to take it clear to the U.S. Supreme Court if we have to," H. M. Morgan, NAACP spokesman, said of the Tyler case.

That's what I expected them to do," State Atty. Gen. Sheppard said. "And we're ready for anything they try," he added.

The state is asking Dist. Judge Otis Dunagan to make permanent the temporary restraining order he issued Sept. 21, which stops all NAACP operations in Texas. The state says the NAACP has not complied with Texas laws.

Thurgood Marshall, NAACP spokesman, says it is the greatest crisis ever faced by the organization.

Both sides indicated the Tyler hearing was a big test whether the NAACP could continue its attempts to crack the color line.

The pickets at Houston included members of the White Citizens Council, but most of them said they were not members but were sympathetic to its anti-integration aims.

There were no incidents. Clement spoke at a dinner honoring Dr. Marcus Livingson of Houston for his work in behalf of the state of Israel and Zionism.

Mother Fails In Holdup Try

CLEVELAND (AP)—A young mother failed in a pitiful attempt at a bank robbery yesterday, and police were puzzled at her motive.

They arrested Mrs. Maybelle Millard, 25, mother of four children, and wife of a 30-year-old veteran who lost both legs in France during World War II.

She is accused of trying to rob a shopping center branch of the Cleveland Trust Co. with a note demanding money. She carried no gun, and left without loot when the woman teller rang the alarm.

Police saw her drive away in a 1955 station wagon and took the license number. She was arrested when she drove up to her comfortable, ranch-style home in suburban Highland Heights about three hours later.

Her husband, Richard, 30, draws a disability pension and is employed as a finisher by an optical firm. He said his wife had been under doctor's care for a year.

Farm Bureau Urges Probe, Legislation

Resolutions urging an investigation of the Labor Department's "prevailing wage" surveys on area farms last year and calling for legislation to prohibit the dumping of salt water above ground were adopted by the Howard County Farm Bureau last night.

Members of the organization also asked that county ASC committees be given more authority in dealing with farmers of their area.

One resolution asked the Texas Farm Bureau to investigate "irregularities" of the Department of Labor prevailing wage surveys of last fall. It requested that, if inequities are discovered, the department be asked to reimburse farmers for funds they posted at the direction of the Department of Labor.

Another resolution condemned the alleged practice of oil men in dumping salt water from drilling operations in such a manner that it destroys the value of land, water wells and streams. It asked for legislation requiring return of the salt water to the underground formation from which it comes.

Sen. Johnson Says GOP Has Case Of 'Campaign Jitters'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said today President Eisenhower and the "Republicans have the campaign jitters."

Johnson told an impromptu news conference that he is confident the Democrats will win the presidency and increase their present majorities in both the Senate and House at the November election.

Back here to confer with Democratic campaign leaders and make some speeches nearby for the national ticket, Johnson appeared tanned and rested after a month on his Texas ranch.

"I believe the Democratic ticket is improving and gaining," he said, adding that Democrats will carry all Southern and border states in November.

Eisenhower carried Texas four years ago by a margin of 132,000 votes.

Johnson, victorious in recent factional Democratic battles in Texas, predicted that Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver will carry Texas this time "by a bigger vote than he (Eisenhower) did."

The Senate Democratic leader took several indirect shots at President Eisenhower but tempered them by saying:

"I'm not critical because I like Ike too."

Johnson said that some of Eisenhower's recent campaign speeches sounded "like somebody handed one of Nixon's speeches to the President by mistake." He added that "ordinarily the President does not engage in misleading statements like that."

This was a reference to Eisenhower's contention that the Democratic Congress had defeated his proposal for federal aid to education.

Johnson insisted that the school aid program was defeated by Republicans, adding that Eisenhower had not even asked a school program from the Republican controlled 83rd Congress.

Johnson said he had gone over surveys of the Democratic senatorial contests and they indicate that Democrats will retain all their present Senate seats with a "very good chance" to take Senate seats from Republicans in Iowa, South Dakota, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Idaho and California.

Johnson said Kefauver attracted large crowds when campaigning in Texas.

"By contrast," he said, "Vice President Nixon's appearance in Houston was very disappointing."

Johnson also had a comment on Eisenhower's attending the World Series baseball game today. "I can remember when he wouldn't even go to the opening ball game here in Washington," he said.

The Senate majority leader said the big issues in the campaign are lower farm prices, larger profits for big business and less concern for the majority of American citizens.

Johnson said he will speak at a Democratic fund raising dinner in Norfolk, Va., tonight, make a political speech in Baltimore Thursday, and return here Friday to fly back to Texas.

ON OCCASION

Justice Brennan Can Wax Eloquent

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Justice William J. Brennan, who steps up to the U.S. Supreme Court within two weeks, is a judge who dislikes "procedural niceties" but can wax eloquent in defense of the legal rights of a penniless murderer. Brennan credits the accomplishments of New Jersey's model court system for his surprise appointment to the nation's highest court. The 39-year-old State Supreme Court Justice is as a classic product of New Jersey's eight years under a reorganized court plan. A Democrat, Brennan has never been active politically. One of eight children of an Irish immigrant, he worked his way to a law degree and the law has been his only adult profession. He became a judge almost simultaneously with the birth of the court system in which he takes such pride. One of his major preoccupations in his home state has been the speeding up of the courts' every-day work. "Justice delayed is essentially bad justice," Brennan believes. "Witnesses die, memories fade and the right may not prevail when it takes years for a case to reach a decision," Brennan says. How does Brennan feel about some of the important issues that will come before him when he replaces retiring Justice Sherman Minton? What are his views on segregation. Fifth Amendment witnesses? Is he liberal or conservative? "How do you answer questions like that?" is Brennan's only rejoinder. As a lawyer he will not comment on hypothetical cases. As a judge he will not pre-judge real cases. Brennan has written two majority decisions involving the Fifth Amendment's privilege against self-incrimination. "The privilege of a witness against being compelled to incriminate himself, of ancient origin, is precious to free men as a restraint against high-handed and arrogant inquisitorial practices," Brennan said in a 1955 opinion. The price of occasional failure of justice under its protection is paid in the larger interest of the general personal security. In both self-incrimination cases the witnesses claiming privilege lost his appeal to the State Supreme Court. Brennan is a Roman Catholic. Like Frank Murphy, the last Catholic to serve on the U.S. Supreme Court, one of his specialties has been the field of labor relations law. During World War II as an Army colonel, he handled labor problems in defense industry. After the war, in private practice, he was attorney for a number of large corporations during the post-war wave of strikes.

Iowans Like Ike, Don't Care For Farm Policy

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles by AP's political reporters arriving sentiment in key states. By OVID A. MARTIN DES MOINES (AP)—The presidential campaign in Iowa — heart of the politically important corn-belt — is shaping up largely as a contest between the personal popularity of President Eisenhower and a dislike for his farm policies. A lot of farmers say they "like" the President but are dissatisfied with his farm program. This apparent paradox complicates the outlook for this traditionally Republican state. Iowa is one of the few farm states in which farm income is down this year. Supporters of Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, concede that Eisenhower is popular throughout the state but question the extent to which this will be reflected at the ballot box. Republican leaders agree there is strong dissatisfaction among farmers but say there is not enough to give the state to Stevenson. How will this issue of Eisenhower popularity versus dislike of his farm programs be resolved on election day? Seeking an answer to this question, this reporter found that a majority of more than 100 persons interviewed — farmers, business and professional men, newspapermen and political leaders — said they believed Eisenhower would win if the election were held now. But some insisted that changed conditions — such as a sizable decline in hog and cattle prices before election time — might turn the state to Stevenson. Eisenhower won Iowa by a majority of 357,000 out of 1,239,000 votes in 1952. GOP State Chairman Don Pierson, while conceding the President will lose votes this year, predicted a victory margin of at least 100,000 votes. But Jake More, the Democratic state chairman, said he sees great similarity between this campaign and the one in 1948 when Iowa went for Harry S. Truman in his surprise victory over Thomas E. Dewey. Then, as now, there was dissatisfaction over Republican farm policies. More and other Democratic workers say Stevenson is gaining new supporters every day. The Eisenhower popularity was forcefully demonstrated by the warm welcome given him by an estimated 350,000 persons during a two-day visit he made to the state last month to speak before the National Field Days at Newton. Stevenson, who followed a day later and was in the state less than a day, was greeted by a smaller turnout. Last year's low hog prices coupled with crop losses from drought have put many farmers in a resentful mood. Many of those interviewed spoke harshly of Secretary of Agriculture Benson. Hervey E. Hazen, chairman during the Truman administration of the Agriculture Department's State Production and Marketing Administration committee, said many farmers are convinced the Republicans have "kissed off" the farm vote in the interest of wooing voters of consumers, who outnumber producers nearly 2 to 1. Robert Butler, a young farmer of near Newton who said he voted for Eisenhower four years ago, was typical of a number who shared Hazen's view. He said he intended to vote for Stevenson this time. Farmer complaints were found to be most numerous among the younger farmers and those with small production units, as well as tenants. Why, then, if there is less support for Eisenhower among farmers than four years ago, is the President apparently ahead at this time? There are a number of reasons. Farmers make up a minority of the voters, even in the farm state of Iowa. So far, observers say, there has not been a switch of farmers strong enough to overcome Eisenhower's expected margins in Iowa urban areas. Democratic leaders are hopeful there will be a considerable switch to Stevenson by businessmen who depend largely on farm trade. Few businessmen would allow themselves to be quoted, but many of them — with a few exceptions — said they did not believe farmers to be as bad off as they picture themselves. The official of a state manufacturing association said one should remember that Iowa farmers "cry louder and quicker than any other farmers in the country." But Howard Anderson, a supply salesman covering eight central Iowa counties, said "many of the dealers I do business with say they are going to vote Democratic for the first time." A big question mark is the vote of organized labor. While Democrats are counting upon labor votes, they are faced with the attitude expressed by a Des Moines electrical worker. "I'm not mad at anybody," he said. "I'm getting the best wages I ever got. I may vote and I may not."

Pope Innocent To Be Beatified By Catholics

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Innocent XI, a humble man who dared stand against powerful Louis XIV of France, will be beatified Sunday in St. Peter's Basilica. Center of the glittering ceremony will be the silver-masked body of the 17th century Pope. Pope Pius XII has given the pontifical robes to clothe the body of Innocent XI, and the papal ring that has been placed on his silver-covered hand. The crystal coffin will be exposed at the culminating moment of the solemn ceremony when the papal brief is read proclaiming Innocent one of the blessed of the Roman Catholic Church. Pope Pius, from his Castel Gandolfo summer residence, will speak extolling Innocent's virtues. Later in the day, Pius will come to St. Peter's to lead in the first act of veneration of the newly beatified pontiff. A solemn pontifical Mass will be celebrated by Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, French-born dean of Cardinals. At one time French authorities opposed Innocent's election to the papacy; later they opposed his beatification. Innocent XI, born Benedetto Odescalchi May 16, 1611, at Como, northern Italy, was noted for his humility and modest way of life. In that period Catholic kings held broad powers in administrative matters of the church. Antagonism between Innocent XI and King Louis XIV reached a peak when the king's aides insisted on using the French embassy in Rome as a hideout for criminals and other persons evading the authority of the Pope as ruler of the Papal States. One of Innocent's first acts as Pope was to reduce expenses. Within a few years he had eliminated the Vatican's long-standing deficit. He was 78 years old when he died Aug. 12, 1689. The process for beatification began in 1714. French authorities were hostile. Now, 267 years after Innocent's death, the process has been completed.

Game Girl Unhurt When Run Over By Big 14-Ton Truck GRAYSLAKE, III (AP)—A 14-ton truck noisily headed for the road yesterday after an excavation job for a new house next door to the home of Mrs. Jeanne Wahl. She said she started screaming as she saw a front wheel of the truck run over her daughter. The middle set of double wheels also rolled over the baby. Mrs. Wahl's piercing screams were heard by the driver, Joseph W. Grenus. He and a helper ran to the child. A neighbor drove Mrs. Wahl, holding Karen, to the office of Dr. Jerome J. Burke in Grayslake, a town of about 2,000, about 40 miles northwest of Chicago. Burke found the child bruised from the waist down. He said her skin showed marks of tire treads. Sand and gravel from the shoulder of the road had been driven into her skin. Burke had X-rays taken but he said the pictures showed no fractures. Later Karen was examined by doctors in Condell Memorial Hospital in nearby Libertyville.

Benson Defends GOP Record, Points To Family Farm Aid

HUNTLEY, Ill. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson, striking back sharply at critics, said today the Eisenhower administration has taken "more constructive action for the benefit of the family farm than has any previous administration in years." "The facts reveal, how utterly false and absurd are the charges that this administration is guilty of selling short our family farms," the secretary said in a speech prepared for the dedication of the Thor Research Center near here. Equipment improvements have brought problems and changes to farms but they have not changed "our traditional system of family-operated farms," Benson said. "I make this statement," he added, "because in recent weeks deliberately misleading, careless and irresponsible statements have been made about the attitude of this administration toward our family farms." Benson did not mention them by name, but he obviously was referring to campaign statements by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, and Sen. Estes Kefauver, Stevenson's running mate. Benson termed family farms the "backbone of American agriculture" and said he and all top members of the agriculture department staff were raised on such farms. "Every program we have developed or recommended, every action we have taken in the Department of Agriculture in the last 3½ years — has been conscientiously and solely devoted to the welfare and best interests of farm families and all Americans," he said. Benson pledged that he would "always aggressively sponsor any program" he believed to be in the best interests of farm people.

and economically sound and fair to all Americans. Family farms have been involved in difficult readjustments and problems brought on by two factors, Benson said. One, he said, was the cost-price squeeze which he attributed in a large part to price-depressing surpluses growing out of previous government policies, including what he called "an unwise continuation of wartime incentive levels of price supports far too long in the postwar years." The second factor, Benson said, is readjustment centering around rapid developments in farm tools. Benson asserted, movement from farms was more rapid than before or since. From 1933 to 1952, he said, farm population declined by more than eight million persons.

Women's Department Is Featured At Fair

A total of 3,771 individual entries in the Women's Department of the 1956 State Fair of Texas have been judged, and will be on view in the Women's Building when the fair opens Saturday.

This total figure does not include home frozen foods, which are judged Oct. 5, and entries in the annual Rose Show, which will be held Oct. 14 in the Women's Building auditorium.

All entries will be displayed during the fair, with the exception of the art division, where lack of exhibit space permits only the display of winning paintings.

The traditional skills are evidently still favorites with State Fair entrants, since the needlework division easily took first place in popularity with 1,233 entries, including knitting, quilting, crocheting, cut work, embroidery and bead work.

A newly popular feature of the needlework division is the Holiday Parade, with classes for Christmas accessories of all kinds—place mats and tablecloths, Christmas tree decorations, stockings, door decorations and skirts. All entries in the various Yuletide classes will be displayed around an old-fashioned hearth.

Another traditional skill, that of hand painting china, also ranked high with distaff exhibitors. The division totalled 508 entries.

There were 494 entries in the hobby collections: foods, 367; antiques, 335; art, 291; miscellaneous, 282; and designer-craftsmen, 264.

The Women's Building will also feature glamorous commercial displays, a miniature greenhouse filled with exotic blooms, daily free style shows in the auditorium, and demonstrations of the revolutionary new microwave oven.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas reviewed the first three chapters of a new study book, "The Church in Southeast Asia."

The meeting was closed with the group repeating the benediction; refreshments were served to 12.

Mrs. S. P. Jones, 1206 Sycamore, will be hostess to the circle Oct. 9.

Mrs. Smith Hosts HD Meeting

Nine members answered roll call when the Fairview HD Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. J. M. Smith.

The devotion was from Acts 16:31. The thought for the week was "He who does nothing, makes no mistakes; he who makes no mistakes, does nothing."

Mrs. E. O. Hicks presented a monologue titled "Meeting Will Come to Order."

A discussion of the national and state meetings, which were held last week in San Antonio, was given by Mrs. John Sutherland.

College Girls Do New Type Of Art On Large Scale

It took Michelangelo twenty years to paint the Sistine Ceiling, but recently 25 college girls created a mural 192 feet long and 35 feet wide in less than five hours. And what's more, they never touched a brush!

Fresco art, 20th Century style, calls for soap instead of paint, and teamwork instead of individual genius. The 25 students, all freshmen from Hunter College, put together what may be the world's largest mural by fitting 108,000 bars of pink beauty soap into a street in New York's Rockefeller Plaza to kick off the annual drive for a cleaner city.

Dungarees and T-shirts became the dress of the day and the street replaced the easel for these modern-day artists, who went crawling about on hands and knees building a background of pale pink with 90,000 unwrapped bars of soap. Into this background went 18,000 bars of pink beauty soap into a street in New York's Rockefeller Plaza to kick off the annual drive for a cleaner city.

The next meeting of the council is Dec. 4 with a Xi Delta member to be the hostess.

Beta Sigma Phi Council Announces Area Convention

Plans for the area convention of Beta Sigma Phi were discussed at the City Council meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Tommy Gage.

Plans were also discussed for the establishing of an annual Founder's Day Banquet, to be held this year in the late spring.

Each chapter discussed their plans for the coming year. Six members attended.

In the center of the picture was a skyline silhouette of New York City with a huge broom through the center. The campaign slogan, "A Cleaner New York Is Up To You," was spelled out on each side.

The soap used for the project titled "The Cleanest Street in the World" was later donated to city charities.

'Mad Matador' Goes After Shrine Ring

This would be Senor Pancho Madero Vasquez Bair, the "mad Matador" who will essay to dispatch the brave bull. And for the information of those unfamiliar with Shrine goings-on, Matador Bair is none other than George W. Bair of Big Spring, a novice in Shrinedom who will be a ring candidate at the Shrine Ceremonial here Friday and Saturday. The matador, plus the bull, plus the Senor's troupe of assistants, will be among the features of the Shrine parade at 10 a.m. Saturday. Different towns sponsor candidates in the campaigning for a Shrine diamond ring at each Ceremonial, and Senor Bair, with the backing of Big Springers, is due to put up a hot fight for the ring nomination. Big Spring's last ring candidate — at the Shrine Ceremonial in Abilene four years ago — was Joe T. Williamson, who appeared as the famous Harley Sadler character "Toby." And Joe won the ring.

Employment Of Handicapped Is Urged During Special 'Week'

Big Spring, like every other community big and little, has its share of men and women who are physically handicapped but who are still capable of performing any jobs as well—and in some instances, better—as persons with no handicap.

Leon Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, has called attention to the week of Oct. 7-13—a week set aside nationally to encourage the employment of more of the country's physically handicapped citizens.

He said the Texas Employment Commission is intensely interested in this program and also makes it a year-round policy to help such persons. However, at this season of the year, emphasis on the program is redoubled by the office.

Kinney said several handicapped persons are placed on jobs in Big Spring establishments each year but that the number of applicants far exceeds the limited number of openings for such workers recorded with the office. Many employers are reluctant to hire a person with a physical handicap but in the opinion of Kinney and the Texas Employment Commission this reluctance often stems from a lack of information rather than from any real facts.

Several of the physically handicapped of this community who have been given work in Big Spring places of business have held down their jobs steadily and have rendered excellent service. Some, in fact, actually do a better job than was being done in the same post by persons with no handicap.

Naturally, Kinney said, the jobs found for the handicapped have to be in fields where the disability does not hamper efforts. A man with one arm or someone otherwise crippled to a considerable degree by some illness could hardly be expected to perform heavy physical work. But Kinney pointed out, nearly every organization has some jobs which do not require physical strength so much as skill or mental work.

"We have a few organizations in Big Spring which always provide employment for any worthy handicapped person we can send them," he said.

Auditorium Tile Work Delayed

Workmen will wait until after the Shriners' convention this week-end to start retiling the city auditorium.

The city commission let contract for the work at its Sept. 25 meeting. Pioneer Builders submitted the low estimate of $1,347.

Pioneer officials said the work—if started this week—would not be finished before the Shriners used the building.

To be retiled are the aisles, stairways, and the lobby behind the balcony. It covers about 4,000 square feet of tile.

The city is not in any hurry to complete the work since the auditorium will not be used again until Nov. 15, opening concert of the winter season.

The work was requested by the Concert Association, and the group asked for the work before its opening concert. A light-colored asphalt tile will be used.

Guardsmen Face Army Inspections

October could be termed inspection month for the Big Spring National Guard unit, and the biggest one of four will be staged here Friday.

That is the day for the annual inspector general's check of men, equipment, and records. The examination will last through the day, and also Friday night for Battery B of the 132nd Field Artillery Battalion.

Warrant Officer Bill Eggleston said that a representative from the Fourth Army inspector general's staff at Fort Sam Houston will make the check in two phases.

The first phase includes all administrative work and the equipment; the second phase is inspection of the men and their training.

The inspector will check Eggleston's administrative records and the equipment during the day. This will include supply and maintenance forms. No equipment will be "laid out" specifically for the inspector, but he will check various items during the day. The same is true for the unit's weapons.

Training schedules for the past year also will come in for examination.

Friday night, the men will stand the inspection in ranks. Here the inspector will check the men for uniform neatness and question them about training they have had during the past year.

After the in-ranks inspection, the men will follow a regular meeting schedule. This too will be checked.

Eggleston said the unit was looking for the same rating achieved in the inspection last year—superior. The rating counted 25 per cent toward winning the artillery trophy at summer camp last summer. And the inspection will hold the same percentage toward the battery retaining the award for another year.

The inspection Friday is the only one the men of the unit will face, but three others remain for Eggleston this month.

Fourth Army signal inspection will be staged Oct. 19, covering all signal equipment, including field telephones, radios, and wiring items. Oct. 25 is the date for the state technical inspection and inventory. And Oct. 30, Big Spring's unit will be inspected by a Fourth Army ordnance team.

Under the ordnance inspection will be small arms, trucks, and larger weapons.

These inspections are to determine if the unit keeps federal recognition. With the federal recognition will be funds to operate and pay the men for their training periods.

Failure to pass will mean loss of the financial assistance, but passing grades will keep the situation as it is now.

said the manager of the local TEC office.

"And it is only fair to say that some physically handicapped persons are like other persons not handicapped—a few just won't stay with a job when they get it.

"We have others who try hard but who are so unfortunately hampered they cannot bear up under the strain and have to quit."

A third group, he said, are those who may have a difficult time getting a job, but once they are in their posts turn out to be dependable, valuable workers for their employer.

During the week of Oct. 7-13, the local office of the TEC will put forth special effort in placing as many physically handicapped workers as possible. Any employer who may have some sort of post which he believes a person partially disabled might fill adequately is urged to contact the TEC at 213 W. 3rd.

As Kinney pointed out, because a man is disabled does not mean that he doesn't need employment. Indeed, very often such folk need jobs even more than those who have no handicap.

Water Usage Tops Estimate

Water consumption during September exceeded expectations by about 50 million gallons.

During September, the city used 153,913,000 gallons. This, coupled with 42,463,400 gallons used by Cabot Carbon and Cosden, brought the city's bill to 196,376,400 gallons.

In setting up the budget last March, the city estimated that September's usage would be 145 million gallons.

During September of 1955, Big Spring used 145,964,000 gallons.

Skies Clear In Northeast

By The Associated Press

Showers ended and skies cleared in most of the Northeast today and fairly pleasant autumn weather was indicated for the opening game of the World Series in Brooklyn.

Warm and clear weather also was the outlook for most of the southern part of the country. Showers were general along the Gulf Coast and through the lower Mississippi Valley into Tennessee yesterday. Heaviest falls were under one inch at New Orleans and Jackson, Miss.

Showers were reported during the night from southern Utah southwestward into Southern California. Rain was in prospect for the far Northwest as a new storm neared the coastline.

Temperatures were 10 to 15 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier in most of the northeast this morning, although there were some exceptions. Philadelphia's 62 was 12 degrees lower than yesterday while Syracuse, N.Y., with 55, was 14 degrees above the reading 24 hours earlier.

Whooping Cranes May Pass This Way To Winter Homes

Keep your eyes peeled—you may spot a whooping crane flying over any day now.

If you should see such a bird, you are asked to write the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the state Wildlife Organization or the National Audubon Society. It is most urgent that any news of the passage of these rare birds should be recorded and all persons who have opportunity to see them should make it a duty the matter is duly reported.

The first four whooping cranes to take off on their annual fall migration from the north are on their way now to Aransas, Texas, where they traditionally spend the winter. It is quite possible their course of travel might well put them across this part of the country, according to officials of the National Audubon Society.

These four birds now en route to their winter home are the two pairs which observers noted did not nest this year. Their lives must be spared so that they can nest another year to help bolster the ever-threatened existence of the species.

Directly behind this quartet of whooping cranes will come another pair accompanied by one young bird. The youngster is the only whooping crane known to have hatched this year. Wild life conservationists are emphatic in their plea that this trio be allowed to reach its winter home safely.

you will recognize him by the fact that he is clear white in color with exception of a red patch on top of his head and he has black wing tips. The young are buffy color and have white blotches. The family resembles sand hill cranes.

Whooping cranes are the rarest birds in the world today. Efforts to save them from extinction have been successful to date only because of the interest and cooperation of hunters and citizens. Greatest danger to the whooping cranes comes from hunters who might carelessly shoot a whooping crane if they find one mixed with snow geese or other white birds.

Farmer's Slaying Of Children Laid To Domestic Strife

CLINTON, N.C. (AP)—Domestic difficulties were blamed by officers for a tenant farmer going berserk yesterday and killing his six children and himself.

Rufus A. King, 35, had a temper and had several fuses with his wife that neighbors knew about, but he was a sober churchgoer without a police record.

Yesterday morning, apparently while two of his children were waiting for a school bus in front of their five-room house, his mind snapped.

Within a matter of minutes he had shot each of the six through the head with a 22 rifle and then beat their heads horribly with an ax and the rifle.

Three hours later King's body was found in a cornfield about a quarter mile from the house. He had shot himself between the eyes with a shotgun.

So when you are out in the country keep a lookout for large white cranes flying overhead. If they are close enough to observe, see if they have a reddish patch on their heads and black wingtips. Should you see such a bird, make a note of the time, the place, prevailing weather and direction of the flight.

Write these facts to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, to the Texas Wildlife Organization or to the National Audubon Society.

Girl In Stitches At Sunday School

LENOIR, N.C. (AP)—Little Kate Waters was literally in stitches when she attended Sunday school here last weekend.

Kate was able to maintain her perfect attendance record.

Tea Parties Are More Effective

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Democratic leaders admit that tea parties are more effective for getting votes than the old-fashioned political rally.

State Rep. Harry F. Curvin, veteran speaker of the House of Representatives, told a meeting of city and town Democratic chairmen last night:

"Rallies are necessary for color and window dressing. But for real, down to earth campaigning, for winning converts to the Democratic Party, you can't beat tea parties."

State Democratic chairman Frank Rao said the party will hold more than 500 tea parties in Providence alone before the Nov. 6 elections.

Ford Faces Maglie In Series Opener

BROOKLYN — Either out of force of habit, or because of their past winning ways New York ruled a solid 8 to 5 favorite to defeat Brooklyn in the 1956 World Series but was only a 6 to 5 choice to win today as the Yankees' Whitey Ford and the Dodgers' Sal Maglie squared off in the opener at Ebbets Field.

Dodger Battery For Opener

Brooklyn Dodger pitcher Sal Maglie, right, checks signs with catcher Ray Campanella at a workout at Ebbets Field. Maglie, 39-year-old righthander, was named as the starting pitcher against the Yankees in the opening game of the World Series.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

I've caught the Big Spring Steers in only two games. Those who have seen them in all three are inclined to rate their opponents this way:

1. Levelland.
 2. Andrews.
 3. Snyder.
- Obie Bristow, this writer's host at last weekend's football game between the University of Oklahoma and North Carolina, played fullback on the first OU team ever to appear in Owen Field, home of the mighty Sooners.
- The plant seated 30,000 when it was first opened. Now, it can take care of slightly better than 60,000.
- Obie has another distinction. He attended OU, the University of Texas and Central Oklahoma, and scored touchdowns against all three.
- The Cosden Petroleum Corporation of Big Spring is sponsoring the third annual Midland Women's Invitational Bowling tournament, which gets under way this weekend.

Has it occurred to you that the state of California isn't dominating the United States Davis Cup teams like it used to?

Ham Richardson, one of this year's players, hails from Louisiana. Vic Seixas, another singles regular, is from the East.

Last year, Tony Trabert was the No. 1 singles player and he grew up in Cincinnati.

Eugene Walker, the former Big Springer, fell on a fumble for one of Pecos' touchdowns in the school's 18-7 victory over highly-regarded Crane last week.

It was Walker's first TD of the season. Walker left here after playing Ninth Grade basketball. He was an all-around athlete and especially promising in basketball.

Perhaps you were present when the Big Spring Yearlings knocked off a highly regarded Snyder team here last week, 26-13. If so, you'll remember when quarterback Gordon Bristow scored the final Big Spring touchdown on a play that originated from the two-yard line.

The play didn't start off that way. Bristow was to hand off to James Harrington on a slant to the right. At the last moment, the Snyder defense shifted its strength that way and Bristow changed his mind and kept the ball without telling anyone. His strategy worked perfectly.

Sister M. Florence, who brought the Nazareth team to the Big Spring Girls' Volleyball tournament last spring, has since been transferred to Fort Smith, Ark.

The all-Catholic school will probably send its team here again in 1957, however.

Sister Florence recently wrote a letter to Arah Phillips, at that time high school volleyball coach here, thanking her and others for the way her girls were received.

One of Nazareth's better players last spring will probably enroll at HCCJ next year.

Dopesters may find it hard to figure out this week's Levelland-Snyder football game, especially the wake of what has happened recently.

Levelland lost their star quarterback, Jimmy Johnson, because of an injury. Sonny Reeves has been moved over from a halfback's spot to fill the post.

Snyder, however, must do without Gary Vice, a back used principally on defense. Vice experienced a broken collar bone in last week's game with Big Spring here.

The two teams stacked up about evenly before the wave of injuries started.

It's a Great Time to Strike a Bargain

(You get a triple Bonanza in today's Buick)

Bonanza Trade-in Allowance
—because your present car is at its peak value right now. And because—with Buick so solidly set as America's No. 3 Best Seller—our bigger sales volume permits us to make you an even better trade-in allowance.
Bonanza Buy
Buick prices start right next to those of the smaller cars. But those Buick dollars buy you a whole of a lot more automobile—more room, more power thrill, more styling freshness, more ride stability, more solidity of structure—the Best Buick Yet.
Bonanza Resale
A Buick always resells high. But the '56 Buick will bring you even more money when you trade it because it carries today's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* It's the most advanced transmission yet developed—and the only one that breaks with the past to bring you the switch-pitch performance and gas savings of the modern plane's variable pitch propellers.

With Buick booming up in the No. 3 sales spot, we're set to rate your car at its peak trade-in worth right now.
With only two smaller cars out-selling Buick—you can be sure we know how to make you happy on price.
So it adds up, doesn't it, that you can really strike a bonanza and a bargain by coming in now? Especially when you see how much more smart dollars can buy here...
—The fun of Buick's brilliant Variable Pitch Dynaflo* with its thrilling switch-pitch action.
—The might of Buick's big V8 engine—322 cubic inches with record horsepower and compression ratios.
—And the luxury of Buick's ride—a ride that knows no equal for buoyant levelness, torque tube steadiness and sweet handling.
Why don't you come in today?
*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Buick Buick today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
P.S. We have some especially good buys right now on the high-powered Century and the extra-spacious Super. Better see 'em real soon!

It's a great time to buy a Buick

Candidate Fails To Tell Wife Of Race, Is Divorced

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—D. L. Cullum, a loser in the race for state auditor in the July 31 Democratic primary, lost his wife because he failed to tell her he was a candidate.

Mrs. Gladys Cullum was granted a divorce yesterday after charging that Cullum's failure to tell her about his candidacy constituted "cruel and inhuman treatment." They were married in 1935.

She said she was "embarrassed and humiliated" when newsmen inquired about her husband's candidacy and she knew nothing about it.

Cullum, an employee at a lumber company, polled 32,000 votes without the slightest tremor of a campaign.

Mrs. Cullum also said that Cullum had failed to support her and had "nagged, fussed and quarreled."

More Scattered Showers Expected

By The Associated Press

More scattered showers were expected across Texas Wednesday, but if they're like Tuesday's the moisture won't be enough to keep the dust down.

Scattered showers peppered the state Tuesday. San Angelo and Abilene each had .02 of an inch of rain. Beaumont .29, Houston 1.27, Lubbock .06, Sweetwater .37 and traces were reported at Alpine, Midland, Wichita Falls, Palacios, Childress and Big Spring.

High afternoon temperatures Tuesday ranged from 98 degrees at Alice to 81 at Lubbock.

Predawn temperatures Wednesday ranged from 51 at Dalhart and Lubbock to 76 at Galveston.

Adlai Goes To Pennsylvania As Ike Opens World Series

By The Associated Press

Democrat Adlai Stevenson carries his presidential campaign into Pennsylvania today, while President Eisenhower planned an only slightly political jaunt to New York for the opening game of the World Series.

The presidential flight from Washington today was billed as non-political, but the Eisenhower motorcade routes from the airport to Ebets Field and back were carefully outlined in advance.

"I would think," Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said, "we would get some crowds."

With the Nov. 6 presidential election a little less than five weeks away, Stevenson kept on his intensive campaign schedule, and added a nationwide television speech tonight.

Speaking in New Jersey yesterday, he charged that Republicans have given the nation "words—empty words" instead of action in important fields, and continued to blast Eisenhower and the administration at every stop in his six-county tour.

Vice President Nixon yesterday carried the Republican flag into Manchester, N.H., Hartford, Conn. and Syracuse, N.Y., where he charged that Stevenson has topped "the world's record for demagoguery."

Sen. Estes Kefauver, Stevenson's vice presidential running mate, turned up in Los Alamos, N.M., site of a government atomic center, with a sharp attack on GOP handling of atomic policies.

Stevenson hit at both Eisenhower and Nixon yesterday in referring to Eisenhower's recent use of the term "wicked nonsense" to describe Democratic claims that they are the party of the "working man."

Calling such talk "political looseness," Stevenson went on to include Nixon in his broadside by adding: "I do hope the vice president taste for extreme and loose language is not becoming contagious."

Aides said Stevenson's strategy is to draw Eisenhower into further campaign exchanges. In line with that, Democrats bought 15 minutes of TV time tonight for a Stevenson reply to Eisenhower's Ohio and Kentucky speeches Monday.

There was evidence Eisenhower's own campaign schedule is steadily expanding. "EDT," White House said yesterday he will make a campaign appearance in New York later this month. There was speculation he would make a major speech.

The Miami Daily News said yesterday it had learned Eisenhower will make a major campaign address in Miami between Oct. 26 and Nov. 1. White House sources did not confirm this, and a spokesman said Eisenhower's political schedule is completed only up to Oct. 18.

Stevenson's Pennsylvania schedule today included stops at Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Kingston, Berwick, Sunbury, Lewisport, Huntingdon, Altoona and Johnstown.

His telecast was to originate from Pittsburgh at 11 p.m. EDT.

Both Stevenson and Nixon continued the argument yesterday over which party best represents the "little man."

Stevenson, speaking in Jersey City, charged that "the historic function of the Republican party is to represent the economic and social philosophy of the well-to-do and the privileged, of the big corporations, the big interests . . . the Republican party is not a fit instrument to govern a nation that wants to make progress for the benefit of ordinary people."

Nixon, speaking in Syracuse, said charges that Republicans are "against the little man" had been made earlier by Stevenson, Kefauver and former President Truman, and added:

"This charge must be met head-on and nailed for what it is—a false and vicious idea . . . Those who would divide America into classes are bringing to this land ideas which do not belong here and are rendering a terrible disservice to our country."

Earlier, in Manchester, Nixon said the best answer to such charges "is that the Eisenhower administration doesn't believe anyone is a little man."

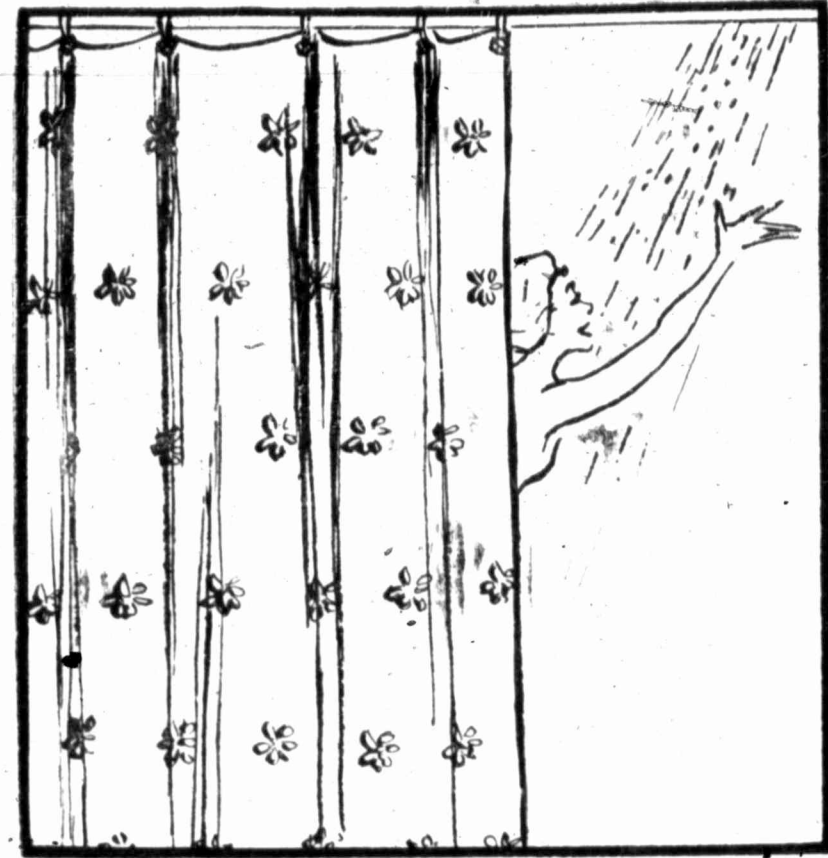

At Los Alamos, Kefauver said the administration has injected politics into the nation's atomic energy program, and has allowed the United States to fall behind Great Britain and Russia in the race to develop electricity by atomic power.

Kefauver also hit back at Eisenhower's charge on Monday that Democrats were responsible for defeat of his school construction bill in the past congressional session.

Actually, Kefauver said, Republicans killed the bill. He said Eisenhower contributed to this by failing to give "any measure of support" during critical stages of debate.

In Washington, the Republican National Committee said Nixon will be questioned on a transcontinental television hookup Thursday night when he reports on his first campaign tour of 32 states. Newsmen from eight of the cities he visited will participate.

Puppy Causes Mother's Death

CHATHAM, N. J. (AP)—Happy greetings between a local woman and her visiting mother turned to screams yesterday as the mother tripped over a puppy and fell to her death down 13 cellar stairs.

Mrs. J. C. Ferris, 69, had just arrived from Indianapolis, Ind., to visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer.

She was just coming in the back door with her luggage when, police said, a friendly pup ran for her, got tangled in her legs, and she toppled down the stairs.

Mrs. Ferris died of a fractured skull suffered when she hit the concrete basement floor, according to an autopsy report.

Auto Man Says Industry's Plans Bolster Confidence

HOUSTON (AP)—An automobile executive said today industry's long-range expansion plans and recent record investments in new plants and equipment are bolstering the nation's general confidence in the future.

L. L. Colbert, president of the Chrysler Corp., said the importance of confident long-range capital investment as a stabilizing force in the economy has been demonstrated very clearly in 1956.

He told the 37th annual convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn. that some very important segments of the economy, including the automotive industry, have been producing at lower rates than in 1955.

Despite this, he said, the industries continued building and equipping plants at the highest rate on record.

"It was this investment, more than any other single factor, that enabled the economy to make its 'rolling adjustment' and go on to set new highs in national production and income," he said.

The Detroit, Mich., executive credited a new understanding by government on what can be accomplished by liberating depreciation allowances on new plants and equipment as one of the principal reasons for the continued high capital investment by industry.

"This new understanding is not the exclusive possession of either political party," he said.

Colbert predicted an annual market of eight million new automobiles in 1965.

William Murray Jr., chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, told the convention yesterday most modern European refineries, in the event Middle East oil supplies are lost, could handle almost any type of United States crude.

"Therefore, there would be no need for selecting buying or discrimination between types of crude or producing areas," he said. The European demand, he said, principally would be for fuel oil. There would be little likelihood, he added, that supplying this demand would cause gasoline rationing in the United States or even an appreciable reduction of present excessive gasoline stocks.

One boy and one girl from this group of McMurry College students will be presented as "Chief McMurry" and "Reservation Princess" Friday night at the 30th annual Homecoming celebration in Abilene. The royalty candidates are (from left) Carl Anderson, Sweetwater; Bob Hayworth, Big Spring; Nancy McLaren, Anson; Virginia Davis, Panhandle; and Bob Washam, Sweetwater. Climax of the Homecoming will be a football game at 7:30 p.m. Saturday between the McMurry Indians and the Midwestern University Indians.

Big Spring 'Indian' Is Candidate For 'Chief' Role

ABILENE—Bob Hayworth, son of Mrs. D. W. Hayworth of Big Spring, is one of three McMurry College students in the runoff for the title of "Chief McMurry" at the Methodist college.

This honor, the highest that can be bestowed upon a McMurry male student, will be presented at the coronation ceremonies of the college's 30th annual Homecoming which will be held Friday and Saturday. It is determined in a campus-wide vote of the students.

A 1953 graduate of Big Spring High School, Hayworth was a three-year letterman and captain of the Steer football team.

At McMurry, he is in his fourth year as a member of the varsity football team, and has lettered at quarterback for the past two seasons.

Hayworth is majoring in business administration and minoring in education at McMurry.

Chief McMurry and Reservation Princess will be presented, along with the college's eight class favorites, at a colorful coronation ceremony at 7 p.m. Friday in Radford Memorial Auditorium on the McMurry campus.

Other activities on the homecoming schedule are erection of an authentic Indian Village of 17 teepees on the campus, council fire lighting ceremony, tom-tom beating in an all-night vigil, and an Exes Pow Wow Friday night. Climaxing the activities will be

Dog Nurses Orphan Cub

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — A dog named Fuzzy joined the circus with the job of nursing a newborn lion.

Fuzzy was grieving over the loss of a puppy, and the cub was trying to escape being killed by its mother when police got the two together. They hit it off fine.

The cub's mother, Ginger, belongs to a traveling wild animal show. She killed cubs she had once before, owner Eddie Kuhn said.

Lion cubs will not feed on a bottle, and the mothers rarely raise their young in a circus because of the nearby humans, Kuhn said. So Fuzzy will travel with the troupe, nursing the cub about 30 days.

Crossbow Suspect Is Credited With Grim Murder Joke

LOS ANGELES — Documents accompanying a request for the extradition of a youthful crossbow shooting suspect from Rhode Island relate a grim joke credited to the suspect.

An affidavit by Mrs. H. V. Buell, a neighbor of William Allen, 19, who was shot in the back by an arrow while he worked in a nearby liquor store, said the suspect, Michael Yosick of San Diego, came to her house immediately after the shooting to use her telephone.

While he was there Allen's mother, Mrs. Anna Allen, rushed in and asked Mrs. Buell to watch her children while she went with her son to the hospital.

Just after Mrs. Allen left, Mrs. Buell's affidavit related, Yosick remarked: "Wouldn't it be funny if I was the one who did it."

Allen recovered and Yosick was captured in Providence last week. Extradition papers have been sent by the district attorney's office to California's Gov. Knight.

Wild Heifer Hurts Child

HOUSTON, Tex. — A 750-pound Brahman heifer ran wild for about two hours and knocked down and slightly injured Gaylen Powers, 2, who was riding her tricycle.

The heifer broke its rope and leaped from a truck. It charged Gaylen and knocked her from her tricycle. As it started to charge again, it was diverted by Mrs. Beverly Fox, who chased it with a broom.

Police got into the act and the heifer took to the bayous. Patrolman W. E. Spies used his car to head off the heifer as it charged a passing woman and child. Finally Spies shot it with a rifle and the animal was finished off with police pistols.

Gaylen was treated for cuts, and bruises and three broken teeth.

Medic Calls Men The 'Fragile' Sex

LOS ANGELES — Men are more fragile than women, says Dr. Daniel Beltz.

A family physician, Dr. Beltz told an audience yesterday: "The vital organs of men are more fragile than those of women, and 200,000 more men than women have died annually in the United States in this decade."

The years between 45 and 60 are particularly dangerous for men, he said, whereas women find the going harder after 80.

Comments Sought On Oil, Gas Laws

ALBUQUERQUE — Sen. Anderson (D-NM) wants comments on how federal oil and gas lease and option laws can be tightened.

He ended a hearing yesterday as head of a subcommittee of the Senate Interior Committee on methods of big oil and gas companies in leasing and taking options on public domain.

He asked advice from "legitimate independent oil and gas operators on the public domain."

Concluding testimony showed some firms have found they can stretch 10-year federal oil leases almost indefinitely. Testimony showed they can do it by relinquishing the old lease a few days before it expires, and, early the next business day, apply for a new lease on the same acreage.

Since the lease goes to the first qualified person applying, and if no one else knows the acreage is open for a new lease, the effect can be an extension of the 10-year limit, testimony brought out.

Officials of several oil firms described their leasing procedures. Phillips Petroleum told of having employees obtain federal oil leases and agree to give the firm first chance to buy the lease if the employee decides to sell. Phillips spokesmen said the firm did not consider that an option subject to semi-annual reports.

Anderson said at the start of the hearing he sought ways to tighten leasing laws. He said the law was meant to limit leases of one company in one state to 46,080 and options to 200,000 acres. Company officials said they did not see the law that way.

Fred Padilla, federal land office employe at Santa Fe, told of two instances in which holders of leases relinquished them, only to obtain new ones. He searched office records at the request of Anderson.

Padilla said Aug. 11, a Saturday, Southern California Petroleum relinquished a lease. The following Monday, the same firm applied for and received a new lease on the same land.

Padilla also testified that on Aug. 15, an Emmitt White relinquished a lease, and the next day a Blanche White, identified by Padilla as White's wife, applied for and received a new lease on the same acreage.

Cops Fast On Payroll Threat

LOS ANGELES — It could be that police thought someone was stealing their payroll when they made a record run to the city treasury.

A burglar alarm went off accidentally in Treasurer Leon McCord's office and he said that "it had hardly begun to ring when I was surrounded by policemen."

Burglar Is Allowed 9-Day Honeymoon

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — A convicted burglar, sentenced to 2 to 10 years in prison, will be allowed to get married and take a nine-day honeymoon. Circuit Court Judge Bernard Decker, after sentencing James Pampinella, 24, of Chicago, learned that he had planned to be married Oct. 20 and invitations for the wedding had been sent out. Decker granted a stay of sentence and released Pampinella until Oct. 29 on $10,000 bond.

Girl, 12, Shoots Prowler In Leg

SOUTH NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—When an armed intruder broke into her home while her parents were away, 12-year-old Mary French knew just what to do. Daddy had told her. And, shaking with fright, she did it.

Fleeing into an adjacent room, Mary locked the door, took her father's .38-caliber pistol from a drawer, inserted five shells, unlocked the door and shot the gun-waving intruder in the leg. He fled in panic.

Police said the girl was at home with several smaller children when James Bell, 24, Negro, broke into the house Sunday night and asked where her father was.

Mary told him she didn't know, then hurried into the next room to get the pistol. She fired twice. One shot hit the ceiling. The other winged Bell's left leg and lodged in his right thigh.

Bell was arrested when he turned up at a hospital for treatment. He was charged with breaking and entering.

"I just did what daddy said do," Mary told police.

Uncle Ray: Granite Is Product Of Molten Magma

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Yesterday I mentioned the thick beds of igneous rock which exist in certain American states, including Oregon and Washington. Other mighty beds are found in India, northern Great Britain and northern Ireland.

Q. What kinds of rock are produced by lava and other material from volcanoes?

A. Chiefly basalt, but also rhyolite, obsidian, pumice and a few others.

Much of the basalt is black, but we also have green, brown and dark gray basalt.

Obsidian is glass which may be described as "natural." It comes from lava which cools quickly and which has had most of the gas pressed out of it.

Pumice also is a glassy form of hard lava, but it is made under little pressure. When the gas inside the upper parts of a mass of lava escapes while the lava is hardening, it leaves many small holes.

In some cases, the upper parts of a mass of hot lava turn into white or light gray pumice while the lower parts become dark obsidian.

Q. What about granite?

A. The hard rock called granite was formed under the ground. It came from the molten rock known as magma. In this case the magma cooled and hardened without coming to the surface. The slow cooling produced one of the long-

Diagram showing mass of magma, with some rising in cone of a volcano.

Airlines Agree On Race Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Eighteen airlines have agreed to a statement saying they will intensify efforts to carry out their announced policy against racial or other discrimination in employment.

No Negroes are now employed as pilots or other flight crewmen on any scheduled passenger planes in the country.

Final agreement on the statement was announced yesterday by Charles Abrams, chairman of the New York State Commission Against Discrimination.

Abrams said the statement, agreed to by the airlines, as well as by the commission, resulted from conferences which started last May.

The statement covers all 18 airlines serving New York state.

The statement "reiterated" the airlines' announced policy of judging job applicants and upgrading employees "on the basis of merit and without regard to race, creed, color or national origin."

Thief Had An Honest Streak

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas car salesman's faith in honest faces is somewhat restored. Six months ago the salesman allowed a man with an honest face to test-drive a swank new car around the block. Police and officers in 48 states have been looking for it since. Yesterday the company's owner, J. A. Treadway, received a phone call from the man, who said the car was parked nearby. The car was found, plus 12,000 miles, but minus any clues. "We may never know who the thief was," Treadway said. "But we know one thing for sure—he had a streak of honesty in him."

Modern Home Will Replace Landmark

ROCKPORT (AP)—An early Aransas County landmark is being razed for a more modern structure. Inside were eight rooms, two baths, great halls and a wide, winding staircase down which tripped many a hoop-skirted beauty of the Old South. Oldtimers in Rockport and Fulton still dreamily relate stories of hospitality and lavish entertainment imported from New Orleans via the Morgan steamers. When the old San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railroad arrived in Rockport, the canneries closed and Hall sold the home to Barney Gibbs who turned it into the Shell Hotel. In 1916 Capt. and Mrs. Andrew Sorenson took over the establishment and it became known as the Oak Shore Inn, a tourist resort. The property was damaged by the 1919 hurricane and the tourist business got a setback. In 1920 the Sorensons sold it to P. E. McElwath of Corsicana who added a third story to the original Hall home so that he might better entertain his large class of boys from the Corsicana Methodist Sunday School whom he brought down to the coast for summer vacations. In 1940 Sidney Freeborn of San Antonio purchased the property. On adjoining grounds he built the tourist court known as Forest Park Cottages. Freeborn spent a great deal of his boyhood in Rockport and Fulton. Upon demolition of the old home he plans to erect a modern home, where he and his family may live among the live oak trees he learned to love as a boy.

Getting Set For UF Drive

Dr. W. A. Hunt, chairman, and his assistants assemble materials and make other preparations for the start of the Special Gifts phase of the once-a-year United Fund campaign. The Special Gifts section and other divisions of the Fund will start their 1956 effort following a kick-off banquet to be held at the Settles at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Left to right around the table are Doug Ward, H. M. Fitzhugh, D. M. McKinney (the UF general chairman), Dr. Hunt, Harold Davis, B. M. Keese, Angy Glenn and George McAllister.

Benny Fiddles For Charity

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Jack Benny solemnly sawed a fiddle for laughs—and charity—in an unusual "concert" in Carnegie Hall last night. Impeccable in white tie and tails, Benny dusted off a borrowed Stradivarius and strode onto the stage where Heifetz, Kreisler and Elman made musical history. He tucked the violin under his chin with professional aplomb and prepared to play. But he stopped before he started. He had forgotten his bow. And so it went as Benny wrestled with Sarasate's wreatly difficult "Zigeunerweisen" (Gypsy Airs) and the first movement of Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto. In the middle of the "Gypsy Airs," he fiddled into his trademark number, "Love in Bloom," without missing a beat. Seventy members of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra more or less accompanied the violinist. The concert was a benefit for the Committee to Save Carnegie Hall and the National Assn. for Retarded Children.

Seek Volunteers For Head-On Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This ad appeared in today's edition of a local newspaper: "WANTED: A single man not over 25 years of age to drive in a head-on collision at Powell Speedway, Saturday, Oct. 6. We already have one man. Both cars must be speeding at 45 miles an hour at point of crash—a 90-mile-an-hour impact—and drivers must give unconditional release in case of injury or death. Give price you want and all details."
