Coastal Storm Dumps Deluge On Maryland

BALTIMORE (AP)—An Atlantic coastal storm dumped three inches of rain on Maryland's eastern Seaboard. Winds averaged 30 to 40 m.p.h. near its center off the Maryland coast, with stronger gusts. Speed has been changed from 12 to 15 m.p.h. but the Weather Bureau reported at mid-morning that the storm was showing signs of speeding up. Relatively high temperatures came with the blow, which originated last week south of Cuba. It was in the 70s throughout most of Maryland. The Weather Bureau reported three inches of rain had fallen in the Salisbury, Md., area, and more than two inches at Norfolk, Va., where the storm passed during the early morning hours. New York City was girding itself for a northeaster later today, with winds up to 30 m.p.h. and high tides. The storm's center is due 100 miles east of Montauk Point, the eastern tip of Long Island, shortly before midnight. Tides along the coast in the area of the storm were one to two feet above normal with some minor flooding at the time of normal high tides. Tides and rough seas are expected to gradually subside south of the Virginia Capes today. The 100-million-dollar tomato crop in the flooded Lake Okechobee area was believed heavily damaged.

Ex-Teacher Gives In, Lets Daughter Attend School

CALIFORNIA, Mo. (AP)—After thinking it over a couple of hours in jail, Mrs. Mary L. Schoenheit decided to let her 7-year-old daughter Mary, go to school. She promised Mary will be in class Monday. Mrs. Schoenheit, a former school teacher, had been tutoring Mary at home. The mother contends Mary is an exceptional child. She objects to public schools, says they turn children into "trained seals," infect them with "the virus of being like everyone else." Yesterday Magistrate W. G. Heidbreder had the sheriff bring her in on a charge of "neglecting and refusing without good cause to send Mary to school." Mrs. Schoenheit pleaded guilty. Magistrate Heidbreder fined her $5 and sentenced her to 10 days in jail. He put Mary in the custody of welfare authorities. Two hours later Mrs. Schoenheit was back before the magistrate. "I'm whipped," she said. "I'll put her in school."

New Citizens Council Formed

BEAUMONT (AP)—Some 600 persons attended a rally last night to launch organization of a Beaumont Citizens Council. A black figure with a white cord around its neck dangled over the speakers' platform. It was labeled "Cokinok." Mayor Jimmie Cokinok ordered a halt to picketing at Lamar Tech Oct. 4 when he declared the protest against the admission of Negroes to the state-supported school was no longer peaceful. Dr. B. E. Masters of Kilgore, president of the Associated Citizens Councils of Texas, standing in the boxing ring used as a platform, said, "I am speaking from a fight ring—a place of battle—and I call on all of you to join us in this fight to save our nation. We can live with Negroes. We have lived peacefully with them for 90 years since they were freed. But let them attend their own schools always." Charles Howell, Beaumont attorney, announced a goal of 20,000 members here. Officers will be elected at a meeting Nov. 8, he said.

Heavy Rains Hit Texas, Bring Drought Relief

Come And Get It

Auto owners who happened to be driving along the Willow Run Expressway near Ypsilanti, Mich., got an unexpected bonanza when this truck, loaded with 1,700 gallons of permanent anti-freeze, sprung a leak after blowing a tire. Passersby marshaled containers of all kinds and helped themselves, encouraged by the driver, Ray E. Flores, who was taking the load to the Ford Motor Company.

Soaking Rains Fall On Much Of Area

Heaviest rains in many weeks fell on most of Howard County Wednesday night. Precipitation ranged from soaking showers in the extreme southwest edge of the county to an inch or better in the north and northeast. Big Spring rainfall varied from as much as .75 inch reported in some gauges to half an inch. Agricultural Experiment station reported .73. This, added to the .45 reported Sunday, brought the official reading for Big Spring for the current week to 1.18 inch. This increased the precipitation for the year to a total of 6.19 inches. Counties adjacent to Howard County shared in the rains and, as a rule, were more generously treated than this area. Glasscock County had some sections—particularly in the St. Lawrence Community—with as much as two inches of precipitation. St. Lawrence

Continuation of the current series of scattered thundershowers was predicted by the weather bureau for Big Spring tonight and Friday. Accompanying the prediction was a warning that there was a high probability, if a thundershower swept across the community on either of the two days, the storm would be accompanied by strong surface winds and that hail was likely.

is in the better cotton area of Glasscock County and the deluge drove farmers from their fields. Sterling City reportedly had an inch of rain. Ackerly reported 1.12 inches of rain and the moisture was said to be general. Knott had an inch and 6 inch fell at Luther.

The Barr farm, located in the Vincent area, had 1.3 inches of rain last night. On Sunday night, the same area had .8 inch.

Texas Electric Service Station reported rain total at its switch station in Big Spring at .65 inch. The downtown station showed .7 inch. Chalk had .67 inch; Eskota 1.5 inch; Morgan Creek .28; Sweetwater .30; Colorado City .22.

Webb Air Force Base weather station measured .65 inch. The gauge at the Big Spring Herald showed .6 inch. A gauge at 106 Dixie measured .55—the same as that recorded at 405 Pennsylvania. Lamesa rains ran from 1.15 inches at the TESCO plant to .6 in other parts of town.

Lake Thomas had .6 inch. A. J. Stallings, county commissioner, said that his place in the extreme southwest edge of the county had a slight shower.

Reports indicated that the precipitation covered a sizeable section of parched West Texas. Here at Big Spring, a warning was posted early in the evening of possible hail but nothing came of the threat. The rains were unaccompanied by wind locally and were provided in a series of showers of varying briskness. First rains in Big Spring began soon after dark and continued slowly until around 9 o'clock. There was a lull for some time and a heavy shower followed. The second shower was brief but measured an equal amount of water to that provided by the first and longer instance.

In Glasscock County, Garden City had .5 inch. Southeastern Glasscock County had three-quarters of an inch. There were no accurate reports from the west part of the county but it was said that rains which began in the afternoon were still falling in the Sohio camp sector throughout the night. North of Garden City, the rain tended to diminish but was reported running in many places.

Ralph Proctor, county commissioner who lives five miles south of Vealmore had .9 inch rain on his place. Reports from that area indicated this was about on a parity with other farms in the general community.

Martin County had an average of half an inch over the night. Stanton's share ran to .7. Courtney Community, to the west, had the same amount. Tarzan had .5 inch but immediately west of Tarzan, there was an area where 1.5 inch rain fell. Wolcott Community in the northwest part of the county reported 1.3 inches and Lemorah in central Martin County came in for about three-quarters of an inch.

A full inch was measured at Moss Creek Lake and there was enough runoff to bring the lake level to 21 feet 8 inches. At Powell Creek Lake, where precipitation ranged to .9 inch, five additional inches of water poured into the reservoir, his brought the level to 17 feet five inches.

Some damage to what cotton is left in the fields was reported from the Sunday night rain and it was evident that last night's moisture, more general and generous than the first showers, probably increased the loss. However, the farmers were so happy over the moisture that they were not prone to complain too much at the hurt their cotton might have suffered.

Since Saturday the Wayne County morgue had listed Janakowicz as dead of a heart attack at Detroit's Receiving Hospital. The man who died was carrying a card with the signature of Charles Adolph Jakowicz's address, too.

A neighbor contacted by police went through Jakowicz's apartment seeking "survivor" names. Jakowicz returned home from his vending machine assembly job, found his apartment muzzed up and called police. He had no idea how the dead man got the card.

Formal charges were reported on file against Miss Bogle, but Dr. John Thommig, the district school board president, declined to make their specifications public. Miss Bogle has 10 days to request a board hearing and reply to the charges.

Public Works Director Chester James urged an investigation to determine whose planes caused the damage. The desert town of Mojave has a Marine air base at its outskirts, Edwards Air Force Base 10 miles southeast and a naval ordnance test station 25 miles north.

Twister Reported At Crystal City

By The Associated Press A tornado struck the Crystal City area early Thursday morning, demolishing two homes and damaging a warehouse. Six inches of rain fell near Uvalde. The tornado struck between 7 and 8 a.m. Communications were disrupted. There were no reports of any injuries.

Commissioners 'Not Ready' To Re-Evaluate

A proposal that the county join with the city of Big Spring, Big Spring public schools and possibly with other school districts in the county in a project to re-evaluate all properties in the county for tax purposes seems to have been definitely killed, according to R. H. Weaver, county judge. Weaver, who proposed the re-evaluation and contended that it would equalize taxes and in the long run provide additional revenues to political subdivisions with no increase in levies, said that he had been told the city and the schools are willing to join in the project.

He submitted this report to the county commissioners last Monday he said. According to Weaver, Commissioners G. E. Gilliam, Ralph Proctor and Earl Hull asserted they were "not ready" to launch such a program. Only Arthur Stallings, the fourth member of the court, indicated a willingness to approve the proposal.

Weaver said that the sentiment of the three commissioners opposed to the plan seems to have tabled it. Whether it will be revived later was uncertain. Two new commissioners will take seats at the board after January 1—P. O. Hughes and Hudson Landers. They will replace Stallings and Proctor. It was not known what the attitude of these commissioners-elect was on the proposed re-evaluation proposal.

Weaver had suggested that a firm of professional tax engineers make the survey—on a basis of a house-to-house, farm-to-farm check. Other counties, he told a meeting of city, county and school officials recently, have adopted this plan and the result has been of great benefit to the general tax structure of the counties.

A tornado was spotted 14 miles east of Del Rio. Power lines were down in Del Rio.

No major damage was reported. The rain elated farmers and ranchers as it soaked into dry fields over wide areas. But in the South Plains, fears were raised that the moisture might damage the multi-million dollar cotton crop.

Growers reported about one-half of the harvest is in and that between 800,000 and 900,000 bales of cotton are still in the fields.

The Weather Bureau reported rainfall Thursday at Alice, Lubbock, San Angelo, Junction, Laredo, Midland, Abilene, El Paso and Fort Worth. Lubbock and Laredo had thundershowers.

Rainfall reports for the six hours ending at midnight Wednesday included Wink 1.04 inches, Big Spring .45, Midland 1.7, San Angelo .98 and a trace at Alpine, Laredo and El Paso.

Predawn temperatures Thursday ranged from 72 degrees at Galveston to 47 at Salt Flat. Scattered showers and thundershowers were forecast.

Soaking rains fell Wednesday on the dry ranchlands west of San Angelo and on the South Plains area around Lubbock. Farmers and ranchers in the San Angelo area said the rains—the best in a long time—were "just the kind we like."

Scattered showers began on the South Plains Wednesday afternoon and continued through the night. Muleshoe had 2 1/2 inches. Some hail fell in Lamb County.

The rains in the San Angelo area were the heaviest in the North Concho River watershed.

UF Drive Passes Half-Way Milepost

The United Fund campaign sailed past the half-way mark this morning, on the basis of unaudited reports from workers in four divisions. Total contributions and pledges subscribed before noon stood at $49,266.17. The figure was expected to climb considerably during the afternoon, with final reports scheduled from the Advance Gifts Division today.

Goal of the campaign is $87,550, so the $49,266 reported this morning represents more than 56 percent of the objective.

Leading the way were workers in the Advance Gifts and General Divisions. Each group had reached approximately two-thirds of its quota.

Employee Division workers had attained slightly less than half of their objective, while Special Gifts representatives reported only

Navy Man's Wife Missing 30 Hours

LONDON (AP)—A Texas naval officer found his pretty missing wife today after a 30-hour search in which Scotland Yard, uniformed police and the U.S. Navy all joined. "This is one for the books," said Lt. Com. Leon Blair of Lubbock. "She was at 54 Bayswater Road and I was at 121 Bayswater Road and all the time each one of us was frantically trying to find the other." The hunt ended late today. "Boy," said Blair, "were we both glad." "My," said his wife, 31, "we certainly were and this is the biggest town of the world and might get lost in."

Hunted Man Surrenders

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Bearing gifts for his three children, William Crabtree walked into a police station and gave himself up last night. Crabtree, 30, employee of a Little Rock lumber company, had been sought by Texas and Arkansas authorities since Tuesday when his wife was found nude and beaten on a highway near Little Rock. A truck driver found Crabtree's wife, Lucille, 32. She was taken to a Little Rock hospital where she told police her husband had beaten her after an argument and dumped her out of their car on the highway. Stains resembling blood were found in the car at Texarkana. Also in the car was a scribbled note: "Help, he will kill us, please help." Mrs. Crabtree told police the note was written by one of their three children one day when her husband was "driving too fast." The Crabtree children 11, 8 and 5 were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Dallas Termed 'Test Spot' For NAACP Integration Suits

TYLER (AP)—Dallas was named as a "test spot" for segregation suits today as a group of high National Ass'n for the Advancement of Colored People officials testified in 7th District Court. Edwin Washington Jr., a national NAACP field secretary and executive secretary of the State Conference of NAACP Branches, was the first top executive to take the stand. Roy Wilkins, national executive secretary, was expected to be the next witness. Defense attorneys indicated Thurgood Marshall, chief NAACP counsel, might also testify. Washington and the others appeared as the NAACP neared the end of its defense against state charges that it should not be allowed to operate in Texas. The state wants a temporary restraining order against the NAACP made permanent. "The city has been chosen as a test spot for all integration suits filed in Texas," read a report that Washington said he made last August. However, on cross-examination today, he said the report should have been expanded to add that Dallas would be a test city "if parents wanted that done and it was done." Washington's reports directed a "survey" he personally directed in Dallas last July resulted in 54 "possible plaintiffs" for integration suits. Only 24 were named in integration suits actually filed, however. The Dallas integration suits are pending in Federal Court. Washington said he did not see any parents or students until after he had been given authorization for a suit by the Dallas branch. The state accuses the NAACP of illegally soliciting integration suits, plus profit-making and political maneuvering while chartered as a charitable, non-profit organization. The NAACP denies any violation of state laws and accuses the state of illegally obtaining evidence while intimidating witnesses with armed state patrolmen and Texas Rangers. Yesterday the NAACP tried to prove that its Texas branches are independent units by showing that at least two of them successfully defied state and national NAACP officials.

Rodeo Dates Set In June

The 1957 edition of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo will be moved forward to June. Directors of the association Tuesday evening decided to set the dates in 1957—the Silver Anniversary of the first show—on June 12-13-14-15. The change was made to follow after the Midland rodeo which will enable top performers to take part in the Big Spring event. The traditional dates fixed for several years during the first week of August, caught many of the leading performers of the nation on the northern circuit. Everett Colborn, Dublin, again will produce the Big Spring show in 1958, according to an announcement from Tom Good, president of the association.

A special membership campaign is now under way at Webb.

Treatment For Liver Disease Holds Promise

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK (AP)—A new combination treatment promises speedy recovery from infectious hepatitis, a stubborn liver disease, two physicians reported today.
Combination of the hormone cortisone and an antibiotic cleared up the jaundice-producing disease within a week or two in 12 patients treated so far, Dr. Max Jacobson and Dr. Charles Resler of New York City write in the New York State Journal of Medicine.
Recovery from hepatitis usually takes many months, with strict bed rest for weeks.
While only 12 persons have been treated with the new technique, none have had a relapse. The first was treated five years ago.
Infectious hepatitis is caused by a virus, and the disease is apparently increasing, the physicians said. Some 50,000 cases were reported over the nation last year, and many more may not have been reported to health boards.
The infected liver enlarges, the patient gets jaundice, becomes weak, usually feels nauseated. Bed rest and high-protein diet have been the main treatment, but recovery is slow.
To this regular treatment, Jacobson and Resler added a combination of small doses of cortisone and aureomycin or archimycin. The solution is given daily by vein for a week or more.
Patients usually feel better in a day or two, and signs of the disease disappear within a week, the doctors said. The average hospital stay for the 12 was reduced to less than two weeks.
Just why the combination treatment brings this quick benefit is not too clear, the physicians said. Cortisone apparently reduces inflammation of the liver. The antibiotic may help by combatting secondary infections, or partially sterilizing the gastrointestinal tract to reduce the chemical work the liver must do.

Dewey Debunks H-Bomb Claim
WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey says tests of smaller hydrogen weapons cannot always be detected and contends "the trend is to experiment with smaller ones."
The former New York governor, in a CBS-TV interview last night, described as "dreadfully and dangerously deceptive" Adlai Stevenson's statements that large H-bomb tests by other nations can be detected and that this country under such circumstances could resume its own tests.
Dewey contended that tests of the largest weapons can be detected, but added:
"If you experiment with small ones and have a number of such tests, they can be added up into a large one, the like of which the world has never seen, and those tests cannot be detected."
Dewey said nuclear tests to date have not substantially increased the danger to human beings from radiation. He described as "dangerously irresponsible" Stevenson's contention that continued testing could cause the human race unmeasured damage.
Stevenson has urged that the United States take the lead in halting H-bomb tests if other atomic powers will agree.

Concert Association Seeks Participation Of AF Men

A brisk campaign for military people to participate in the Big Spring Concert Association series for 1956-57 is under way at Webb Air Force Base.
Col. C. M. Young, base commander, has voiced full endorsement of the campaign, and is urging that flying officers who wish to join the Association will be excused from night flight assignments on the nights of the programs.

In turn, the Association has made a special dispensation for the handling of membership tickets for military people who might be transferred away from Webb before the concert series is completed.

Youth Dies In Gang Violence

CHICAGO (AP)—One youth was fatally shot, another was seriously wounded and a third was slashed and beaten in teen-age gang violence last night in a Southwest Side park.
Police said Fred Kruse, 8, walked into a police station shortly after the brief but violent gang fight and admitted he had fired the shots which killed Warren White, 17, and wounded Edward Melant Jr., 18.
Slashed on the face and beaten was Richard Bukovic, 19, described by police as a member of Kruse's gang. Bukovic, Kruse and four other youths were held by police without charge in connection with the shooting and fighting.

Membership tickets are currently being offered through all groups at the Base, and considerable interest has been manifested.
The concert season opens November 15 with the appearance of Montavani and his orchestra. Other presentations will be the First Piano Quartet, and the Chicago Opera Ballet.

Experimental Plane Reached 2,200 mph

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Air Force experimental rocket plane probably reached a record speed of 2,200 miles per hour before it crashed in California on Sept. 7, authoritative sources said today.
Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said publicly last week that Capt. Milburn G. Apt, pilot of the ill-fated X-2, "was flying faster than any other human being has ever been known to fly" shortly before his death.

Indiana Senate Fight Spreads Into All Disagreement Areas

By IRWIN J. MILLER
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Indiana's campaign for the U. S. Senate started out as a fight on the farm price issue. It has since spread to every area of disagreement between the Republicans and Democrats in the 1956 campaign.

The antagonists are Republican Sen. Homer E. Capehart, 59-year-old farm operator and businessman of Washington, Ind., and Indianapolis, and Democrat Claude R. Wickard, 63, former secretary of agriculture and also a farm operator. He lives near Camden in north central Indiana.
Capehart has made his pitch to the farmers largely in support of his bill for a federally financed program of intensive research to find new uses and new markets for farm products.

In speech after speech he has called the proposal "the only permanent solution to the farm problem." Citing federal outlays on programs to step up farm production, he says an equal amount must be spent to find uses for the resulting surplus — without forcing farmers to curtail production.

Wickard, an early New Dealer and secretary of agriculture in President Roosevelt's last term, is an ardent supporter of the high, rigid price support program embodied in the Democratic platform.

He blames the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support policy for the decline in farm prices and accuses the administration of breaking a 1952 pledge of "100 per cent parity in the market place" for farmers.

The farm price issue alone won't decide the Indiana election. More than half the state's four million citizens live in cities and towns over 2,500 population, although the economic health of the smaller of these is closely tied to conditions on the farm.

Samplings of sentiment among Indiana farmers show little indication of any major anti-GOP revolt this year. There is some discontent but not enough to swing the election by itself.

Wickard is following the New Deal labor line in his campaign in the cities. He advocates repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and federal aid to education, "without federal control," and tags Capehart a friend of big business interests.

Capehart has come out swinging hard in the middle of his campaign against "labor bosses" who have declared war on him. He has singled out the state CIO political action committee, which has endorsed Wickard, and Walter Reuther for his bitterest criticism.

Capehart has said Reuther is "power hungry" and will have a strong voice in government if the Democrats win. The threat of a "labor socialist government," Capehart says, has become the biggest issue in the campaign.

Capehart also keeps hammering at the peace, progress and prosperity theme and says small business as well as big business has profited from administration policies.

Wickard contends small business men and farmers are being left out of national prosperity under Republican domestic policies. On the foreign scene, he says, administration policies are losing friends and permitting Communist gains.

Both men are campaigning hard all over the state, often with several speeches daily. Capehart said he's "running scared" — but only because a scared man runs faster.

Several newspaper polls over the state all have shown Capehart leading, but most of those being taken on a continuing basis show Wickard gaining strength.

If Wickard wins he will line up on most questions with the Northern liberal wing of the Democratic party.

Capehart is a conservative Republican and does not agree with all the administration policies — notably its handling of foreign aid and support of federal school aid. But he has soft-pedaled these differences in this election year.

The Democrats claim a trend is running in their favor. Their best evidence is a Democratic sweep of the Indiana city elections last November, when the party captured 72 of the 106 city halls — almost exactly reversing the previous lineup.

Republicans expect the magic of the Eisenhower name to reverse any such trend this year.

Ike Vows School Plan For 'Atomic Age'

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged today to work for a school-building program geared to "this atomic age." He did so after accusing Adlai Stevenson of telling the American people "political fables" in the campaign.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Citizens for Eisenhower rally at the College of Puget Sound, the President said he would not go into reasons why there was no action on his five-year school program at the last session of the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress. But he promised:

"I shall again call upon the Congress to act at the beginning of the next session. I shall support this request with all the force at my command."

Eisenhower called it essential that America's youth be prepared "to be skilled and accomplished citizens—able to grasp the great levers, turn the giant wheels, of this new atomic age as nature finally surrenders to men so many of its colossal secrets."

The President, in the third day of a West Coast vote-seeking tour, spoke here after spending the night in suburban Tacoma.

It was in an address last night in nearby Seattle that he charged that Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has been telling the voters "political fables" instead of dealing with "the world of reality."

Wildly cheered by his audience there, Eisenhower blasted harder than ever at his opponent. He stood by his policy of avoiding mention of Stevenson by name, but there was no doubt about the target.

The President referred to his rival at one point as "the opposition candidate," one of his most direct allusions since the start of the campaign.

The House last July 5 killed a bill that would have authorized $1,600,000,000 in federal aid to the states for school construction. It did so after adopting an amendment that would have denied money to areas which did not comply with the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation of Negro and white pupils.

Defending the record of his own administration on many fronts after saying "American workers are more prosperous and secure than ever in history," he accused the Democrats of resorting to what he termed devices of "the half truth... the hit and run statement... the big straddle... the rubber yardstick."

After the Seattle speech to an overflow audience in the 4,500-seat Civic Auditorium there, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower motored to nearby Tacoma and spent the night at the home of his brother Edgar. Outside the Seattle hall an additional crowd of about 3,500 in adjacent Memorial Stadium heard Eisenhower over a public address system.

Eisenhower was introduced by Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, who has a hard fight on his hands in running for the U. S. Senate against Democratic Sen. Warren Magnuson. The President put in a strong plug for Langlie, terming him "my good friend... of great personal integrity."

The beaming President, speaking over a statewide television and radio network, had difficulty quieting his Seattle audience so he could start his speech. He received a tremendous ovation and smiled broadly as the crowd chanted "We want Ike."

"I want you too," he said. "Your welcome reminds me how well I've been feeling for quite some time now."

A major Eisenhower objective in campaigning in Oregon is to lend a hand to his former secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay in his tough battle for a Senate seat against the Democratic incumbent Wayne Morse.

In his Seattle speech, Eisenhower made no mention of Stevenson's proposal that an effort be made to end H-bomb testing. But at one point the Chief Executive departed from his test to say his administration is all for using nuclear energy constructively for peaceful purposes. He added in reference to stopping H-bomb tests:

"But we absolutely refuse to do it until others do it with us. We are going to stay strong."

He said "in these days of political frenzy" the Democrats are not telling a story of what he termed a generally prosperous and happy America.

"We hear, instead, the angry hum of a locust swarm of partisan orators," he said. "They are singing a strange and sad song—about a feeble and fretful America."

"Only a few weeks ago too they wrote a dark and mournful document—the platform of the opposition. When that document was published, one of our great independent newspapers summed it up concisely: one might have thought its authors inhabited some land just lately swept by famine and pestilence."

"I wonder if the cry of the political opposition is not simply this: things in America are rapidly going from bad—to good."

In swatting at Stevenson and other Democrats, Eisenhower said their campaigning is full of "oddsities and curiosities—political fables that tell of a political wonderland."

In accusing the Democrats of using "a rubber yardstick," Eisenhower alluded to former President Truman's contention, during the Democratic National Convention, that Stevenson was a "defeatist" who couldn't win in November without a lot of help.

"When Republican spokesmen candidly differ among themselves—we are told—they prove their party lacks true leadership," the President said.

"When opposition (Democratic) leaders aspiring to the highest office in the land denounce one another as unfit and unqualified for the presidency—it is all good, clean, boyish fun."

In this Pacific Northwest where the Eisenhower power development and other natural resources policies are an important issue in the campaign, Eisenhower replied to Stevenson charges they are "giveaway" policies—that the administration is handing over resources to private business.

"No," said Eisenhower, "there has been no giveaway. We have not dismantled the great dams of the Northwest. We are building still more dams—for all the people."

As for "hit and run" statements Eisenhower said Stevenson came up with a "stunning example" in charging that the present administration loaned "vast sums of money which were later used to build up the personal fortune of an exiled Latin American dictator."

Stevenson said in a Florida campaign speech last month that such loans benefited Juan Peron, now deposed as Argentine dictator. Referring to the opposition, the President said:

"They made only one mistake: they were perring into the barrel of their own gun when they pulled the trigger. For it was their administration that had made these loans."

"They have fled from the scene on that issue—in headlong silence."

As for "the big straddle," the President had this to say of the Democrats:

"They bravely denounce inflation in the cities—and they go to the countryside with their extravagant promises of loose credit that makes for inflation."

"They promise a stout national defense and a bold role in world affairs—and they urge us to stop planning our military draft."

That was a reference to Stevenson's demand that thought be given to ending the draft "in the foreseeable future."

Unrest Erupts Into Slowdown Strikes In Reich

BERLIN (AP)—Labor unrest has erupted into slowdown strikes in three Communist East German cities, a West Berlin newspaper reported today.

The independent paper Der Tag said 2,000 Red police had been rushed from East Berlin to the city of Magdeburg, reported center of the strikes.

Official sources in West Berlin said so far they had not received confirmation of Der Tag's report. But the official Communist trade union paper Tribune admitted two days ago that workers in four big Magdeburg plants had shown "dissatisfaction" with excessive work and poor pay.

The Red organ said the complaints were justified and warned local union officials to take care that in the future "the interests of the workers are not violated."

Der Tag said the slowdowns have spread to sections of factories in two other cities—Erfurt and Karl-Marx-Stadt.

"The main reason for the refusal to work," the West Berlin paper said, "lies in the fact that management has raised work quotas without granting suitable wage increases."

Almost the same circumstances touched off the bloody East German workers' rebellion of June 17, 1953. This uprising—which began in East Berlin and spread like wildfire to other East German cities—finally was put down with the aid of Soviet tanks and soldiers.

The East German press made no mention today of the strikes.

Nixon Bucks Stormy Weather To Campaign In New England

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Vice President Nixon bucked stormy weather today to campaign against southern New England against what he called "Trumanism with a Stevenson label."

Nixon again set a frankly partisan course after a nationally televised appearance last night at Cornell University. This was avowedly not part of his campaign, but nevertheless he stirred up controversy.

Although the university disclaimed any intention of endorsing a party or a candidate by arranging a collegiate editors' press conference for Nixon, Democrats said it had gotten into politics.

Cornell invited Democratic candidates to speak later.

Rain clouds rolling in from the Atlantic last night forced the vice president and his party to fly from Ithaca, N. Y., home of Cornell, to Worcester, Mass., instead of Providence. The party completed the trip here by bus.

Weather permitting, Nixon was scheduled to go to by motorcade today through Rhode Island and Connecticut to New York City, where he speaks tonight at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner.

In a talk prepared for stops along the way, Nixon said Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson is "morbidly preoccupied with the economic ills, troubles and disasters, which he apparently thinks lurks behind every bush in the American scene."

Nixon said Stevenson talked about "more government entry into our daily lives to the tune of 15 to 20 billion dollars for every year."

"We cannot afford to entrust our future to a man who exhibits so little faith in the very things which made America great—the dynamism and initiative of the individual," he said.

Nixon appeared before 40 student editors at Cornell in a program which it was announced was televised nationally at the expense of the Republican National Committee.

He told the students that he thinks the kind of investigations of Communist activity formerly conducted by Sen. Joseph P. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) are no longer needed, and he said the Eisenhower administration's security policies should get credit for taking "this issue... out of the political arena."

One of the questioners quoted Nixon as having said former President Harry S. Truman and Democratic candidate Stevenson had been "traitors" to the high principles of the Democratic party and asked the vice president to define those principles.

Nixon said they were some of "the very principles President Eisenhower stands for today."

These, he said, were the views of Jefferson and Jackson on individual dignity, the sovereignty of states and the fear of too much power centering in the federal government.

Bible Class To Sponsor Booth

Big Spring Bible Class has adopted plans to sponsor a booth at the Big Spring High School Halloween carnival.

Money derived from the activity will be used to help finance a trip planned for all members at the end of the year.

Decision to sponsor the booth was reached at the second meeting of the group on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. E. Taylor, 1204 E. 15th, attended by 35 members.

Janace Kirby conducted the devotional. A solo by Sue Helms was a special feature. The group spent the evening singing hymns.

The topic for the evening's discussion was the suffering of Job. No date was set for the next meeting.

ILA, Ousted From Labor Ranks, Wins New Election

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn., 64-year-old orphan of organized labor, has scored a ballot box victory to retain its right to represent the 22,000 waterfront workers in the Port of New York.

The National Labor Relations Board announced today that longshoremen and other dock workers had voted 11,827 to 7,428 in favor of the ILA against the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Longshoremen (IBL).

The ILA victories in the two previous elections were by slim margins.

The ILA's counsel said the new victory should lead the AFL-CIO to "welcome back" the ousted union.

Results of the election, held at six polling places in New York

City and on the northern New Jersey side of the port, were announced at 12:55 a.m.—about six hours after the polls closed.

In addition to the ILA-IBL tally, the NLRB reported 1,107 ballots challenged and to be adjudicated; 143 votes for no union; and 92 ballots declared void.

The orderly conduct of the election won praise from officials of the Police Department and the Waterfront Commission of New York Harbor.

A similar election between the two unions in December 1953 was marked by stabbings and brawls. The results of that election, in which the ILA was the apparent victor, were set aside by the NLRB on the ground that voters had been intimidated and coerced. The NLRB ordered a new election.

Adlai Stevenson, wearing a railroad cap, gets a lesson in presidential campaigning from Engineer John Frieze as the Democratic presidential candidate passed through Saginaw, Mich., on a campaign trip.

Collegians Taking Politics Seriously

LOS ANGELES (AP)—College boys are taking politics seriously.

Police arrested Harold K. Kachigan, 18, for carrying a pistol at a Democratic rally on the University of Southern California campus. They said he had an unloaded .22-caliber revolver stuck in the waistband of his trousers.

Police quoted Kachigan as saying students of Republican persuasion were picketing the rally and he thought sight of the pistol might keep things peaceful.

Prolonging The Fermentation

One stipulation of the foreign aid legislation adopted by the last Congress required the President to decide by October 15 whether he could entrust Yugoslavia with any additional economic and military assistance.

On the eve of the deadline President Eisenhower made his decision known: the U.S. will continue economic aid but will hold up delivery of military goods, including 300 jet warplanes, for the time being. It was not an easy decision to make on the eve of a national election, and Mr. Eisenhower probably would have preferred to put it off.

The Kremlin has been assiduously courting Tito for months, since it wisely regards him as the bellwether of the more westerly joints of the Soviet tapeworm. In the last three weeks this courting has been intensified, with a weeklong conference between Tito and the top dogs of the Kremlin at a resort in the Crimea.

The outside world does not yet know what the burden of these endless conversations was, or how it all came out; but it appears that Mr. Eisenhower has reasons to believe, based on information from his listening posts, that the remarriage of Tito and the Kremlin has not yet taken place, and that a continuance of economic aid to Yugoslavia may postpone the remarriage, or at least encourage Tito to ask the Kremlin for stiffer terms to effect reconciliation.

Some segments of Mr. Eisenhower's own party won't relish this continued aid to Tito, even though limited to economic matters. These are the hard-core isolationists who have been pictured as the devoted followers and heroizers of Richard Nixon. The "Old Guard."

But the President's decision was probably the correct one. If there is a chance of keeping Tito in a cooperative mood with the West, and away from total reunion with the Soviet Union, continued economic aid would be a good investment.

World communism is in a ferment, and anything that will tend to prolong the fermentation period, or keep Tito and the Kremlin from merging their interests completely, should be a good investment for the West.

Woolly Bears And Red Bugs

From Lancaster, Pa., comes word that the current crop of woolly bears — small caterpillars the color of whose coat is said to be a good winter weather indicator — are indicating a tough winter ahead to beat the band. Whether this situation is peculiar to that section of Pennsylvania our dispatch did not say, but it did say the little creatures were obviously looking for one of the worst winters on record. If this is the same "insect" that is popular in New York State for its shrewdness in forecasting the kind of winter that's coming up, and in many states as well as in Europe, we seem to remember the woolly bears were in had order two or three years ago for falling down on the job miserably. Proving that weather forecasting is risky business even for a larva... What we'd like to see more than anything is a crop of red bugs those crimson creature which always appear after a soaking rain. Other day the fire chief at Tampa, Fla., called a meeting of his underlings and laid down the law: hereafter, they must dress neatly and stop whistling at women.

In Bay Port, Mich., a restaurant man has taken an idea from old barber shop days and applied it to modern business. Almost all his regular customers have their own coffee mugs, with their names plainly stamped on, and neatly arranged on a shelf. A man with his mug gets his coffee for 5 cents; all others must pay a dime.

They have abolished the school bell at Green Bay, Wis. Instead, they use a steam whistle that can be heard a distance of two miles. The school engineer, George Bunker, made it from an auto exhaust pipe. What's the matter with an iron triangle or a plow sweep?

Eisenhower's Handling Of Suez

The Suez affair has now been brought to the condition which prevailed at the other danger spots—Korea, Formosa and Indochina—that of a stalemate without a settlement, that of the acceptance, not in principle but in fact, of the status quo. The President has once again been the peace-maker in the sense that he has vetoed successfully a recourse to arms, and once again he has had no positive policy of his own which seized the problem, and opened up the prospect of a decent future.

On Thursday, July 19, Secretary Dulles told the Egyptian Ambassador that the United States, which had been negotiating with Cairo for some months, was withdrawing its offer to help finance the High Dam at Aswan. The next day, Friday, July 20, the British government followed suit. This was a major stroke at Nasser's government, and it was carried out by Mr. Dulles with the accompaniment of a sharp attack on Egypt's financial credit. It was most improbable, indeed almost inconceivable, that Nasser, a dictator who depends on prestige, would not react with some counter stroke.

Apparently, Mr. Dulles and the State Department did not expect one, and it is certain that they were quite unprepared for what Nasser did, which was to seize the Suez Company. The time-table tells the story. On Friday, the day after he withdrew American aid on the Aswan Dam project, the President, accompanied by Mr. Dulles, flew to Panama, where they stayed until Tuesday, July 4th. On that Tuesday, Nasser delivered a violent speech attacking the United States and charging that Mr. Dulles had lied about the Egyptian economy. Two days later, on Thursday, July 26, Nasser seized the Suez Company.

This time-table goes far to prove that

Candidates Lack New Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a twinning between President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson not only in the promises they make but in the lack of new ideas in this campaign.

Eisenhower has offered no new ideas at all. Neither has Stevenson with two possible exceptions: on the H-bomb and school aid. Eisenhower is cagey on his promises although Stevenson in most cases is pretty vague too.

An American who looks at the two parties with fixed prejudices or new enthusiasms may feel he discerns big differences between the men. To an impartial European this election may look like a choice between two managers for the same store.

Both men, moderate and conservative, are basically alike in their outlook: they are agreed the social progress of this country must be retained. They're not offering to change it but only to improve it.

Thus voters must make their choice on small differences rather than big or radical ones: which man can do the White House job better, and whose programs, since they are generally similar, look a little better?

On foreign affairs Eisenhower and Stevenson basically see eye to eye on a need for alliances and continued foreign aid.

And on one of the really fiery issues of the day — getting the South to accept the Supreme Court's ruling against public school segregation — both men have expressed only platitudes. Neither has offered a program or a solution.

On this issue Stevenson has taken a little stronger stand than Eisenhower: he at least says he proves the court's decision. Eisenhower, asked several times if he endorses the decision, has never said he did but must, as president, back it up.

Eisenhower — whose theme is peace, prosperity and progress — stands on his record, belittles the Democrats, promises to expand existing programs or get action on measures previously introduced in Congress but not yet approved.

Stevenson — with no White

House record of his own — points with pride to past performances of the Democrats, belittles the Republicans, and in general makes the same kind of promises as Eisenhower: expansion and action on measures already discussed.

One notable difference between the two men is in their farm programs: Eisenhower assures the farmers they'll make out fine under his flexible price support policy; Stevenson says they'll do better with higher rigid supports.

The Latest Spectator Sport

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbsome comments of a Pavement Plato: In 1952 the ordinary voter didn't hesitate to break up a beautiful lifelong friendship over a difference in political opinion.

He was that steamed up. But do you know of anybody who has broken any lifelong friendship as a result of the 1956 campaign? I don't.

Nineteen days from now the nation picks its next president. But the general public seems hardly more stirred by this fact than by the news that there are only 57 shopping days left before Christmas.

The great spectator sports — those at which you just sat and watched — were baseball, football and basketball. But this year politics seems to outrank them as a spectator sport. No one is playing the game but the professional politicians. The voters are on the sidelines sitting on their hands.

It wasn't that way in 1952. Remember? Everybody was in politics, and politics was in everybody. Husbands were so riled up they were even talking back to their wives.

None of the politicians surrounding them were simply human either. All wore haloes or had cloven hooves, depending on the voter's views.

And issues? In 1952 everything was an issue—even animal life. Remember Harry Truman's "red herring"? and Dick Nixon's dog "Checkers"?

Today all this is changed. There are still patches of strong political feeling across the country, but, on the whole, no stern anger stirs the average voter. Nor any patric fear. Few voters seem to be approaching the polls in the spirit of Paul Revere, alert to save the land.

The pros profess to find this decay of partisanship astonishing, particularly since both Eisenhower and Stevenson have taken off the gloves and indulged in more bare-fisted knuckle-busting than they did in 1952. But from the standpoint of any mass reaction, they might almost be fighting in a vacuum.

In an effort to find the reason behind the public's apathy, reporters are going to "the grass roots." But the grass roots aren't saying much. They're yawning, too.

The truth seems to be that the average voter doesn't really have his dander up against anybody. He is weary of international crises and mostly interested in his own problems. He wants more peace and a bigger hunk of prosperity, but whether he plans to vote for Ike or Adlai he doesn't feel the other candidate is plotting to make him poor or take him into war. So nobody's really belly-ripping mad at anybody.

It is highly unlikely that any election loser will have to push a peanut up Pike's Peak with his nose this Nov. 7. Who feels strongly enough on the campaign to risk such a bet? Even the career martini drinkers, who usually will quarrel at the drop of an olive, are feeding more over the musical merits of Elvis Presley than they are over politics.

About the only things now that would wake up the electorate would be for President Eisenhower to denounce both golf and motherhood—or for Adlai Stevenson to elope with Princess Margaret Rose of Britain.

Stretching A Point

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Miss Marjorie Smith, retiring after 46 years of teaching kindergarten, had this to say in a departing note: "If parents wanted to do just one thing to make kindergarten teachers happy, they'd buy galoshes big enough for their children to put on and take off by themselves."

Around The Rim

Consolation: Maybe Nobody's Listening

How ridiculous can these radio news "reporters" get?

"News while it's news — not history." "First in news." "News you'll read in tomorrow's newspapers."

That's the way the pronouncers herald their would-be news programs. And then they mispronounce their way through a series of news stories they've "edited" (tore off the teletype) in their "newsroom" (a broom closet).

The items they manage to get across to their audiences are stories that in 99 per cent of the instances some newspaperman somewhere laboriously unearched and wrote up which the radio reader's employer purchased from one or another of the news services.

Perhaps the so-called radio reporters could be taken more seriously if occasionally one of them could be seen sweating out a school board, commissioners court or city commission meeting really trying to get the news they promise their hoped-for listeners.

I've yet to see one of them engaged in such a lowly enterprise.

There may be one thing more ridiculous than the claims they make to having all the news before it happens. It could be the conglomerate that pours out of a radio speaker when the "reporter" shuffles the deck of buttons and switches that is the "magic of radio."

Here's the way it went one night this week, starting with the tail end of a network program on which the network announcer was urging his listeners to contribute to the "Dollars for Democrats" campaign:

Network Announcer: "So, tomorrow when someone — a friend or neighbor — knocks on..."

A long interval of silence.

Local Announcer: "Good evening. This is Milton Cross."

Local Announcer: "The preceding came to you over the (name of network) broadcasting system. This is (station name) in Big Spring."

More silence, while the listener waited with bated breath to see if Milton Cross would come back on.

Quartet: "Blitzkrieg Beer! Blitzkrieg Beer tastes better! Blitzkrieg Beer... Blitzkrieg Beer... Blitzkrieg Beer..."

More silence and wondering about what happened to Cross.

Rock-and-roll band comes on with "Honky Tonk, Part II."

Turn the thing off and get ready for bed. Let them play their records. They do a pretty good job of that, and maybe somebody likes their selections.

Implications Of H-Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—What's back of Adlai Stevenson's insistence that the H-bomb tests must become a campaign issue? For if the tests are so important, then the possible use of the bomb becomes important also. In fact, the Secretary of Defense, Charles E. Wilson, said to a television audience on the "Meet The Press" program on Sunday:

"The real thing is not the testing of the bombs — it's the possible use of them that has the world frightened."

Only one man — the President — has the power to order the H-bomb to be used. If Adlai Stevenson becomes President, will he order the superbomb to be used, or will he refrain from doing so? That's the basic question which the American people now will be asking.

Would Mr. Stevenson wait before making a decision, and how long would he wait? Would he compel the U. S. Air Force to wait till enemy planes had bombarded and destroyed New York City or Detroit, and then order "massive retaliation"? Wouldn't that be too late to save America from dreadful casualties?

There are intercepting devices and guided missiles which are being tested and developed in experiments which could result in detonating or rendering harmless enemy bombs while on their way to the United States. But such experiments now in process of development require an intimate knowledge of the H-bomb in actual use. Hence, tests at faraway points — where all the important experimenting has been done — are of paramount importance.

Would Mr. Stevenson stop such tests, too? How can he promise the American people that he will stop all tests with the H-bomb without at the same time being compelled in all good faith to say he will during the period not experiment with or use the H-bomb at all?

If America undertakes on her own to stop the tests of H-bombs, what assurance is there that the Communists will halt also? There is authoritative information available here that says all the tests made cannot be detected outside a country and that certain tests can be concealed. America knows how to conceal such tests. Does Mr. Stevenson propose to stop tests for this country on Russia's promise while there is no sure way of knowing whether the Communists have stopped testing and are keeping the agreement?

All these queries will have to be answered by Adlai Stevenson now that he has made the H-bomb a campaign issue.

What does the Democratic nominee hope to gain by this strange emphasis on the H-bomb in the midst of a political contest? Does he mean to imply that President Eisenhower isn't as anxious to keep the peace as his numerous steps in the last two years seeking reduction of armament and "open skies" inspection have led the public to believe? Or is it thought that, because of the talk about stopping the H-bomb tests, some uninformed voters will mark Stevenson as a man of peace and Eisenhower as a man who wants to "rattle the bombs"?

There is, of course, a terror all over the world about the H-bomb. The Communists, by their worldwide propaganda, have been capitalizing on it. Some scientists who boast that they owe no allegiance to any country but are "citizens of the world" are insisting that there be a stoppage of H-bomb tests. Some of these scientists and others who have not had access to all the information available to the Atomic Energy Commission have been quoted by a lot in the press. They have been insisting that the "fall out" will hurt future generations. Many people are accepting such reckless statements as valid.

There have been many H-bomb tests by both Russia and the United States, but so far no nation anywhere can point to real damage from "fall out." Individual cases of injury are few, and the scientists are in dispute about what they mean. It is easy enough to scare people about the "fall out" and spread lies about the alleged damage done by our own tests, but there is no proof that persons outside the testing area have been injured.

The H-bomb tests regrettably will be an issue — but in the long run it may be the issue that insures the defeat of Adlai Stevenson. It's the wrong issue at the wrong time and in the wrong place. Certainly it doesn't belong on the political stump.

Automobile Designs Of The Future

DETROIT (AP)—Atomic powered automobiles, guided missile—or rocket-cars, flying autos, the amphibious family car—eventually, just as certain as we live and breathe.

But, if eventually, why not now?

Well, Detroit hasn't quite unlocked the secret of these automobiles of the future. But don't think it isn't trying! The Ford Motor Company for instance, has dreamed up on the drawing board a what'sit called the "Volante Triathodyne" that, by all the laws of aerodynamics, ought to fly.

The Volante Triathodyne (try that one on your garage mechanic) is based on the principle of the one-man flying saucer or platform that the United States Navy recently perfected.

No, the Ford Motor Company hasn't built one yet. Neither has it built an atomic-powered car or an amphibious family car. But the company supports in its vast empire a Buck Rogers division whose job is to dream up and sketch such vehicles, so that the future will not catch it with its pince-nez down.

The dreams of today have a way of becoming the realities of tomorrow, said George W. Walker, vice president and director of styling for the Ford Company. By way of proof, Walker showed me the original sketch of a fantastic "dream car" which produced the canted fin and rear lights on the 1957 Mercury.

"We take a dream and adapt it to the reality of design," said Walker.

Perhaps some feature of the rocket racer, dubbed "The Maxima" by Ford's chief "space man," dreamer and Buck Rogers, who is Alex Tremulis, will some day come down into something as prosaic as a new type of windshield by 1960. Or some feature of his "Nucleon," the projected atom-car, might develop into a new bonnet for the 1960 models.

But those of us who may still be driving in 1960 the old, beat-up 1957 model, just now coming off the assembly line, need not despair. Walker foresees no radical changes in the 1960 models. And he's the man who knows.

Walker's division of the Ford Motor Company is just now putting the finishing touches on the designs for the company's 1959 models. (The 1958 designs were buttoned up a year ago.) Before Christmas snow flies, his division will be hard at work on the 1960 models.

"In this business, we must evolve, never revolutionize, our models from year to year," he said. "By 1960, cars may be a little lower and a little wider, but cars can't get much lower or wider. We've gone about as far as we can go in both directions."

And they can't get much longer for the simple reason that the average American garage is eight by 25 feet in size, and a poll shows that the average American driver is adamant about rebuilding the garage to fit a Pullman car.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

There have probably been grand-children who were surprised to find themselves in this happy bracket but none more so than MR. AND MRS. C. O. NALLEY. They received a telephone call Wednesday from Sudbury, England, from their son-in-law, Lt. Russell Scott, informing them of the arrival of Janice Renae. She was born on Oct. 17 and weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces. The proud father gave the flustered grandfather some other pertinent information but it all was too much for him to grasp at one time. We'll find out more about the little one later I'm sure. Congratulations.

After hearing Elvis Presley's record of "Love Me Tender" I am more provoked with him than ever for thinking he had to act so ridiculous to make a million dollars. It's pretty, and the words can be understood which is 100 per cent more than can be said for any of that other goop he turned out.

MR. AND MRS. A. J. CONRAD and son Joe, plan to leave Friday for Fort Worth. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad will then entertain for Chicago, Ill. where she will undergo surgery on her ear on Oct. 23 at the University of Chicago Clinic.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Stamps of Fort Worth, will return here with Joe and be with him while his parents are away.

If you've ever been in a hospital away from home, you know how nice it is to receive mail. Mrs. Conrad will probably be just as happy as you would be to get a card or letter.

MRS. LUCIAN JONES and MRS. JOHNNY JOHANSEN spent Wednesday afternoon in Abilene where they visited Mr. Johansen at Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

MRS. CHARLES LOVELACE (Luan Wear), and son, Stevie, of Victoria are visiting her mother, Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach, and Mr. Schwarzenbach.

MR. AND MRS. TOM NEWMAN (she is the former Patti McDonald) have a new boy baby, at their home in Toronto, Canada. He is their third child and was born on Sept. 17. His name is Mike and he is the grandnephew of Mrs. George White.

MRS. VANCE LEBKOWSKY has returned from Miami, Fla., where she and Mrs. R. M. Menton of Midland spent several days following a trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico. They had gone with their husbands on an company trip but they had not seen enough of the country, so while their husbands returned they stayed for a more leisurely tour of the southern states.

After the B&PW convention was over in El Paso, Mrs. L. I. A. FLEWELLEN lingered for a visit with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pitts. She returned Monday evening.

MRS. ELIZABETH H. TAYLOR

Local AAUW Group Honors Mrs. Taylor

Honoring the state president of the American Association of University Women, members of the Big Spring branch of AAUW gathered at the home of Mrs. B. M. Keese Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Taylor, state president, spoke to the group about her trip to the International Federation of Women Convention held in Paris this past summer.

Mrs. Taylor told the club that in her travels throughout Europe, she had felt that all the people had a great admiration for the American people and were eager to learn all they could of the American way of life.

Mrs. Taylor met federated groups of women in many countries. Speaking of her stay in Germany, Mrs. Taylor said, "The pulse of movement in that country illustrated that of others. Those people are very eager to be friends with Americans and to rebuild their war torn country."

One of her most thrilling moments, Mrs. Taylor said, was when their delegation saw the lighting of the Louvre in Paris. "It was thrilling and uplifting to see the Winged Victory showered in spotlights," she told the group.

Following her talk, members were served from a table laid with a lace cloth over yellow. Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and small yellow daisies formed the centerpiece on the serving table. The arrangement was flanked by crystal candelabra holding burning green tapers.

Medal Of Honor Winner Rapped In Court-Martial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — A Marine Medal of Honor winner who held blazing hot machine guns to fight off a Red Chinese attack has been convicted by special court-martial here. Sgt. Alfred Lee McLaughlin was sentenced to three months hard labor, reduction to private and a $120 fine. The unpublished court-martial was held on this sprawling recruit training center yesterday. McLaughlin pleaded guilty to drunkenness and unauthorized absence and was found guilty of disrespect to a superior officer and to a superior noncommissioned officer. The 28-year-old native of Leeds, Ala., was court-martialed for an episode last March at Rome, Ga., where he was stationed with a Marine reserve outfit. Rome police said McLaughlin was arrested after going to the home of his commanding officer, Maj. Henry A. Checklou, and threatening the officer with an automatic shotgun. He was reported to have been drinking white whisky at the time. After the incident, Marine spokesmen said McLaughlin was sent to the Charleston Naval Hospital at Charleston, S. C., for observation. Details of the court-martial were not released by Marine officials. The sergeant received the nation's highest award for bravery from President Eisenhower Aug. 17, 1953. He was decorated for his defense of an outpost in Korea on the night of Sept. 4-5, 1952. The citations said that McLaughlin — then a private first class — killed an estimated 150 Chinese Communists and wounded another 50. Although wounded, he alternately fired two machine guns—holding one at the hip until the weapon became too hot to handle and then switching to the other.

But Lee adds in a statement that "I am not the isolationist that some people brand me. I see nothing wrong with a world organization based on fair and equal treatment of all, but I see danger in the charter of the United Nations as now written." Lee, seeking re-election as an independent after losing his third-term bid in the Republican primary, says the Korean War was a U. N. undertaking but that the United States furnished 90 per cent of the men and 100 per cent of the money to carry on the war.

SWEETHEART OF A&M TAKES A DEEP BREATH

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Miss Shelby Sanders, 18, of Texas State College for Women at Denton is the new Texas Aggie sweetheart for the 1956-57 school year. The five-foot, three-inch, blue eyed blonde from Stephens, Ark., was picked by eleven Aggies from a dozen candidates. She will be presented to the student body during the A&M-SMU game Nov. 10. 2 Americans, German Win Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Two Americans and a German were awarded the 1956 Nobel prize in medicine jointly today for evolving a simple method of charting the interior of the human heart. The winners are Drs. Andre F. Cournaud, 61, and Dickinson W. Richards Jr., 60, both of Columbia University in New York; and Werner Forssmann, 52, of Bad Kreuznach, West Germany. The Caroline Institute of Medicine and Physiology, which makes the awards under the will of the late inventor of dynamite, Alfred Nobel, said in its citation the prize was given in recognition of "the introduction of heart catheterization and discoveries made thereby."

For their contribution to the fight against heart disease, the three scientists will divide Nobel prize money totaling $38,633. The awards will be presented Dec. 10 along with the literary prize to be announced Oct. 25; and those for physics and chemistry, which will be announced at the end of the month. The three doctors are credited with having opened a new area in cardiology by shedding more light on virtually all heart ailments. The Columbia doctors attached precision manometers to catheters they pushed into the heart and further on into the pulmonary artery. The instruments recorded blood pressures and other conditions inside the heart. Summing up the uses of heart catheterization, Nobel experts said it served: 1. As a "doctor's fingertip" to discover abnormal communications between the right and left side of the heart and between the pulmonary artery and the aorta; 2. To measure pressure in various parts of the heart and blood vessels; 3. To find out how much blood an ailing heart can handle per minute; and 4. To inject "contrast chemicals" into the heart to visualize the defect on an X-ray screen.

TEXAS COTTON ALLOTMENT UP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department set a planting allotment of 7,547,503 acres for next year's cotton crop in Texas yesterday, an increase of 136,610. The state allotments will be apportioned among counties and individual farms on the basis of a formula in farm law. The apportionment will be made by state and county committees. Growers vote Dec. 11 on a proposal to continue federal marketing quotas on the 1957 crop. Such quotas would, in general, limit each farm sale to the amount of cotton grown on its allotted acres.

DALLAS (AP) — Debbie Rhodes, 5, was electrocuted yesterday as she was playing in the back yard of a church. A playmate, Max Rupp, 5, told police they were playing near a shrub-shrouded floodlight. "Debbie said we could play like the socket was a drinking fountain," Max said. Police said the girl was killed apparently after she pretended the floodlight was a fountain, placed her mouth on an open socket and received a fatal jolt.

Speculators Used Bank's Money For Oil Investments

FORT WORTH (AP) — Speculators used money illegally acquired from the River Oaks State Bank to buy oil properties which were paying them at least $50,000 a month, an officer of the defunct bank said today. The bank closed Monday after examiners uncovered a shortage estimated up to $700,000. The bank officer said that one person, "the mastermind," set up 30 companies with accounts in several banks. The manipulator would write unsupported company checks on the banks. Before this could be discovered another check would be written to cover the first. In this way funds were acquired which were used to buy oil properties.

2 Freight Trains Smash, 4 Killed

PINEOLA, Fla. (AP) — Two Atlantic Coast Line freight trains raced down a straightaway stretch into a head-on collision today, killing 4 out of 10 crewmen aboard and injuring 4 others. Cars immediately behind the two diesel engines piled up and broke into flames after the crash, trapping two of the men inside. Their bodies were recovered later. Cause of the 6 a.m. collision on the ACL's main line near the Pineola depot was not determined immediately. ACL officials began an investigation to determine the cause. The dead men were identified as D. T. Martin, engineer from High Springs, Fla.; E. W. Vaughn, fireman from High Springs; J. L. Phillips, brakeman from Lakeland, Fla.; and W. E. Snyder, brakeman from Lakeland. Martin, Vaughn and Phillips were members of the crew on the southbound freight. Snyder was on the northbound freight. Three of the injured, all on the northbound freight, were identified as O. J. Bridges, engineer; A. H. Goodyear, conductor; and Robert Pate, flagman. Their home addresses were not available. "It's a scrambled-up mess," said John Purcell, an ambulance driver for the Garnet Funeral Home at Brooksville, who took the four injured men to a hospital. "The engines and the cars just behind them are all tangled up together." Two of the dead men were taken to the Porter Funeral Home at Inverness and the others to the Roberts Funeral Home in Ocala. Two bodies were removed from the wreck shortly after the collision but the others were not recovered until flames were extinguished in the car in which they were trapped. Firemen from Bushnell and Brooksville were fighting the blaze. Pineola is 60 miles north of Tampa.

Suspect In Woman's Death Fearful Of Insurance Plot

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A private detective says Walter Borchers, charged with murder in the death of his sweetheart, Dorothy McCully, feared he was going to be killed in a plot to collect on his life insurance. The weird twist was reported yesterday by deputy Dist. Atty. John Loucks, who said he got the tip from Jack Fagg, a private investigator hired by Borchers to spy on Miss McCully. Loucks said Borchers' fear was based on the presence in Pasadena of two men he believed were members of the Texas underworld. The men were former associates of Miss McCully's ex-husband, Louis (Chicken) Louie Ferrante, a Dallas gambling figure, Loucks said, and were frequent visitors at Miss McCully's apartment. Fagg told the DA Borchers had taken out an insurance policy for an undisclosed amount, naming Miss McCully as beneficiary and thought the two men were plotting his death so she would collect. Police are searching for the pair. Loucks said Fagg also told him Borchers admitted shooting Miss McCully and then hitting her over the head with the gun to "keep her from moaning." It was Fagg to whom Borchers, a former clergyman, went for advice with the body of his part-time secretary, 31, in the trunk of his car. He said he had been driving around for nearly 36 hours since the shooting. As investigators explored backgrounds of Borchers and Miss McCully, they learned Borchers had told her his insurance business was "going to spot" because of the money he had spent on her. Borchers is in county jail.

Bewildered Little Woman Gets Caught In Political Crossfire

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A bewildered little woman who "never cared for politics" was caught in a hot political crossfire yesterday as her proxy vote became crucial in naming the probable next congressman from Nashville. "I didn't know anything about politics," she wailed later. "I just wanted to be friends with everybody. Now everybody seems like they are mad at me." Mrs. Mary A. Baker, a widowed elevator operator with two grown children, said she didn't want to be a member of the Davidson County Democratic Executive Committee in the first place. She was elected in last August's Democratic primary in which Rep. J. Percy Priest was renominated to be U.S. representative from Davidson County, which constitutes the 8th Congressional District. Last week Rep. Priest died and it became the duty of Mrs. Baker and her fellow committeemen to name a replacement candidate who would be virtually assured of winning the Nov. 6 general election in this overwhelmingly Democratic county. The city faction of the local Democratic party, headed by Mayor Ben West, lined up behind City Atty. Raymond Leathers. The county faction lined up behind Dist. Atty. J. Carlton Loser. When the roll was called at the deciding committee session, Mrs. Baker was absent. Mayor West spoke up and said, "I've got her signed resignation right here." Then Z. T. Osborn, a lawyer leading the floor fight for Loser, rose and announced: "I have a later statement signed by Mrs. Baker in which she gives me the right to vote for her. And she states that she does not want her resignation considered until after her vote is cast." The chairman permitted Osborn to cast Mrs. Baker's vote. When the last name was called each candidate had 42 votes and Mrs. Isa Petre Grissim, secretary, cast her deciding vote for Loser. Just then, into the tumult and tension Mrs. Baker was escorted, lips trembling, and West shouted: "Here is Mrs. Baker. Now let's see how she votes." But the parliamentarian ruled her proxy vote was final. "It was just awful," said Mrs. Baker afterward. "I've signed so many papers—resignations, proxies, and I don't really know what any of this is all about. When they put my name in to run for the committee I didn't want it. I went around and begged my friends not to vote for me..." She said Loser called her this week and asked for her vote. "I told him I would vote for him..." Then the mayor called and asked if I would sign a resignation. I did that. Then Mr. Osborn asked me to sign a proxy. I did that too. "I just thought I'd make them all happy. Now they're all unhappy and so am I."

Stolen Auto Is Found Stripped

THIEVES took one car here Wednesday night and tried to take two others. The one taken was located this morning however — stripped. A 1956 Ford belonging to H. O. Harris, 802 E. 14th, was stolen sometime during the night. This morning, it was found by sheriff deputies in the Silver Heels addition. It had been completely stripped, including the tires, the sheriff's office reported. Meanwhile, officers were looking for a person who cut his hand trying to break into a car on the Abernathy Used Car Lot, 206 Gregg. Two cars were tampered with, a 1953 Ford and a Chevrolet of the same vintage. Inside the Chevrolet blood was found which police officers said came from the person trying to take the car. The broken glass on the car had been window with a jack handle, and police said the person probably cut himself on the window.

Cops Jail Suspect In Draft Card Sales

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police arrested Paul Curtis, 18, of Cincinnati, who, they said, had been selling "false draft cards" to juveniles. Investigators said Curtis made reproductions of his own draft card using a photostat machine where he worked. Police quoted Curtis as saying his "customers" wanted the cards for proof of age for leaving school and getting jobs. DWI Charge Filed Charges of driving while intoxicated, second offense, have been filed against Willie Arnold Williams. The complaint was filed Wednesday afternoon in Walter Grice's court.

Help's On Its Way

The Coast Guard ship Ponchartrain makes way toward the Pan American World Airways plane as the huge four-engine craft, with 31 persons aboard, ditched in the Pacific Ocean, broke up and sank more than 1,000 miles from San Francisco, Calif. This photo was made by Trans-Ocean Airlines Capt Nick Bonetti of San Leandro, Calif., from his plane near the scene. All 31 persons were saved.

12 Witnesses Talk At Bomb Hearing

BRADY (AP) — Twelve witnesses were heard yesterday in a closed inquiry investigating the bombing of Sam McCollum III, a key witness in veterans land scandal cases. Dist. Atty. Bill Allicorn said no arrests had been made and no charges filed. Ranger Capt. Gully Cowsert, in charge of the case, said the investigation is continuing. A bomb was attached to the lawyer's auto and shattered both of McCollum's legs June 8. He was a witness in one trial of Bascom Giles, former land commissioner. Giles is now serving a six-year prison sentence for his part in the scandals. McCollum was to be a witness in other veterans land cases, but has spent most of the time in a hospital since the blast. No one has been charged in the bombing. Cowsert said a "hired killer" wired a bomb to the auto's ignition system. McCulloch County Sheriff Luke Vogel said, "We know this thing is tied up with the land scandals." One of the witnesses called yesterday was B. R. Sheffield, Bradley real estate operator sentenced to 10 years at Lubbock in the State Land Program. He is free on appeal bond. Sheffield offered to take a lie detector test after the bombing. Also called were Mrs. Sheffield and Norman Lawler, her brother. Another person at the inquiry was J. J. Holmes, unsuccessful candidate for governor this summer. Holmes, an Austin contractor, at various times in his campaign said he thought he had found persons who knew something about the bombing. "I don't know what they want me for. I have told them all I know," he said. Holmes visited McCollum at the latter's home.

Jess-Talkin

by Jess Blair

In some parts of New Mexico, livestock raisers are in better shape than those in Texas, according to Charley Creighton. They have more grass in some places, and the drought hasn't lasted quite so long.

Creighton says there are plenty of good cattle over there, both in commercial and purebred herds. He has just returned with a load of his Herefords, which took down several prizes at the New Mexico State Fair at Albuquerque and the one for the eastern part of the state at Roswell.

Creighton's top bull, Master Mischief 301, took first place in his class at both fairs. A pen of three bulls won second place at both shows as did another entry of two bulls.

Creighton said all six of the animals carried to the two shows placed high in the ratings.

He said he passed up the Dallas Fair because there seemed to be a good opportunity of getting his cattle recognized in other parts of the Southwest, since livestock men from several states were there.

There is the shortest cotton crop that the Knott community ever made, according to A. L. Clyburn, gin manager at Knott. He figures the entire ginning of the four Knott gins will be less than 1,000 bales. He said about 400 bales had been ginned now and the farmers were probably half through with harvesting.

Some of the better cotton is south of Knott where a late rain fell and where some of the land overflowed. Clyburn says all the cotton will be pulled if farmers can get enough braces to do the job.

While at a family reunion at Lubbock last Sunday, I talked to several members of the clan who farm in various parts of West Texas. One of the men owns a section of land near Tulsa and is considered a well-to-do farmer. I had never met him before, but knew at first glance that he was one of the in-laws. He looked too prosperous to be a relative.

This fellow had done quite well growing grain sorghums instead of cotton. He makes 4,000 pounds on the acre on 419 acres of cultivated land and says maize and hegar will beat cotton three years out of four. There is less water needed, less fertilizer, no poison and no danger from hail. Also he can farm the whole place except for a part-time hand.

He says, though, a farmer must have at least 300 acres if he is going to make a living with grain sorghums.

Another member from Wichita said those farmers down there were the most inefficient irrigation farmers in Texas. The reason is that irrigation water from Lake Kemp costs only $2.50 an acre, and the farmer can use all he wants to.

"They've had so much cheap water they never learned how to farm with it," the man said. "So if the soil is water-logged and yields haven't been very high."

This man said the more a farmer paid for water, the quicker he learned how to use it.

The Farmers Union now has 122 members in Howard County, according to its president, A. H. Tate of Knott. Their next meeting will be on Nov. 13 at the Big Spring Courthouse.

Tate says the Union is not working as a unit to swing the presidential race, but the members are about 95 per cent for the Democrats.

The main issue with them, he said, is the 100 per cent parity for farm products.

"We'd be glad to settle for 90 per cent parity," said Tate, "but not for anything less. It will take that much for the farmer to get by the next few years."

Jack Buchanan has been harvesting some of the seed from his Sorghum Alum field. This is the trial plot he grew on his farm in the Luther community, and is a cross between Johnson grass and sudan.

Buehann headed three trailer loads recently and has been threshing the seed. He had cut the heads from the field one time and will have about 6,000 pounds of seed when it is all threshed. He also thinks he will get another crop of seed before frost.

Buchanan planted about 17 acres, but three acres were put in late and has not made seed yet. He thinks the grass will be widely used on soil bank acres. He got five inches of rain and put on five inches of irrigation water, which will compare favorably with normal dryland farming weather in this area—if it ever gets back to normal.

He has grazed a little of the grass and says cattle really like it.

H. E. Tubb, manager of the Wilkinson Ranch cultivated land, came up with a good crop on his irrigated farm in Midland County. Tubb has a few acres of water-melons and okra that really paid off.

Several farmers in Midland County are growing onions and other vegetables and finding a good local market. Some of these garden spots belong to people who moved out from town and bought a few acres. They are only part-time farmers, and hold down steady jobs in town.

One man in the Warfield community, Floyd Epley, grossed over $4,000 from three acres of vegetables this year.

One thing a reporter learns fast is not to print anything told to him in confidence. Yet, some of the best stories are those "off the record" yarns. Here are a few samples found in a five-county area, bad sick at the same time and this man had just one nickel, he'd use it to phone the veterinarian."

County Grocer: "During the fall everybody buys groceries in town, then they want me to credit them the rest of the year. If I can't sell out soon, I'll just lock up this place and leave. But don't print anything about it. It might scare off a buyer."

Kermit Students Planning Party For Big Springers

KERMIT (SC)—High school students here are planning an after-the-game party for Big Spring High School students Friday night.

The party will be held in the Community Center, a block north of the northeast corner of the Winkler County courthouse in Kermit. Activities will get under way immediately after the football game in Yellow Jacket stadium.

All Big Spring students are invited, said Pat Fuks, Kermit student leader.

Marijuana Threat Explained To Lions

Marijuana, the great come-on, was unmasked before the Downtown Lions Club at the regular meeting Wednesday noon at the Settles.

Bob Weaver, representing the Narcotics Extension Division, spoke briefly to the club, projected a film and then answered questions about the growing menace of the narcotics traffic among teen-agers.

While marijuana within itself does not take the grip characteristics of opiates, it does lead in many instances to the ultimate in misery and degradation—the use of heroin—Weaver told Lions. Marijuana is the softer, the opening wedge. Used by itself it can cause physical and mental deterioration to the point of collapse and insanity.

The upsurge of narcotics use among teen-agers had come about within the past four years, Weaver declared. Along border points marijuana is easier to secure, but

Smoking Medics Told Tobacco Is Lung Cancer Cause

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—More than 100 Rhode Island physicians and surgeons watched a closed circuit television program last night in which a medical authority described long-term smoking as a major cause of lung cancer.

A reporter with them said the doctors sat in a smoke-filled hotel room with most of the doctors puffing on cigarettes while watching the program.

In the program originating from Boston, Dr. Henry L. Bockus, of the University of Pennsylvania, said the reason for more lung cancer among males is that men have been smoking longer than women.

Professor Dies
HOUSTON (AP)—Dr. James Hill, 84, professor emeritus of surgery at Baylor University and one of the pioneers in developing thyroid surgery, died Tuesday night at Alpine.

Okinawa Braces For Typhoon

FT. BUCKNER, Okinawa (AP)—U.S. bases on Okinawa, hard hit by two major typhoons last month, braced themselves tonight for another.

Typhoon Jean's central winds were 385 miles southeast of the island and headed on a course which would send the storm sweeping directly across Okinawa. The storm was traveling slowly, 10 miles an hour, but generating more destructive power. Earlier today Jean's central winds were clocked by U.S. Air Force weather planes at 115 miles an hour. Present course and speed would slam the full force of the typhoon into Okinawa Saturday morning. Fringe winds of 60 to 75 miles per hour could hit by Friday midnight.

Plan For A Score

Steers Hoping For Dry Field Friday Evening

The Big Spring Steers, prepping for their Friday night football outing in Kermit, beat the rain Wednesday with a full scale dummy drill. They'll taper off with a routine play rehearsal this afternoon. They'll depart Big Spring about 1:30 p.m. Friday, going by way of Andrews, where they'll stop to grab an early meal. They won't eat again until after the 8 p.m. game with the undefeated and untied Yellow Jackets, who have emerged as the favorites in their own conference. The coaches let little Frank Powell do much of the work as the "man under" in Wednesday's workout and Frank looked good in most phases of the game. The coaches and players are hoping for a dry field Friday night. They reason that Kermit, being much the heavier team, would have a decided advantage on a wet turf. The center of the Jacket line averages close to 200 pounds a man. Frank Jones, right end, tips in at 210. Left tackle Pat Lewis goes at 205. Right tackle Gary McDonald weighs 217. Gene Gammill pushes the arrow on the scales to 190. Mike Williamson, right guard, weighs 180. Gerald McClary, center, forces the Fairbanks to do 170. There isn't a small man anywhere along the Kermit line. Coach Max Jones, however, does send in smaller men on defense. His two outside linebackers, Joe Marlett and Kenneth Clark, weigh 155 and 145 pounds, respectively. Kermit will run off a combination T and Split T, Jones revealed. A crowd of between 5,000 and 6,000 people are due to watch the contest. Jotfny Janak, Big Spring halfback, missed Wednesday's workout due to his groin injury. However, he'll be ready to play against the Jackets. He spent Wednesday afternoon conferring with the doctor. Outside of Buddy Barnes, sophomore halfback who recently underwent a foot operation, the Steers are in their best shape since practice got under way. Barnes won't be able to return to workouts until the latter part of next week.

Yearlings Try Stanton Bees This Evening

The Big Spring Yearlings wound up conditioning drills Wednesday for two games this week. The Ninth Graders, coached by Charles Caraway and Dan Lewis, take on the Stanton B team at 7:30 o'clock this evening in Steer Stadium. They return to action at 2 p.m. Saturday in the local stadium, at which time they tangle with Cowden of Midland. In five starts to date, the Yearlings have won twice, lost once and been held to two ties. They have beaten Snyder, 26-14; and Lamesa, 25-13; yielded to Andrews, 41-13; and been deadlocked by Sweetwater, 14-14; and Bonham of Odessa, 6-6.

The locals will again be without the services of James Harrington, star running back. Mackie Alexander, big tackle, will probably see only limited action, too. J. B. Davis will be the locals' chief running threat but James Drake and Freddy Brown will both offer him a lot of help. Gordon Bristow and Donnie Everett will divide time at the controls for Big Spring. Drake did some of his finest running against Lamesa in the Yearlings' last start. He could develop into one of the school's finest backs before he's through. Stanton has lost one to the Midland junior high school teams but is supposed to be much improved since that time. The coaches, Bowen Cook and Wayne Grabie, have had more time to work with the boys since that time.

Yearling Games Are Moved Back

Games involving the Seventh and Eighth grade football teams of Big Spring and Sweetwater, which were to have been played in Sweetwater this evening, have been moved back to Saturday night. The Seventh graders play at 6 p.m. The Eighth graders take the field at the conclusion of the first game.

Baylor Loses Star Quarterback, Traylor, Who Broke Ankle

Injuries and illnesses were the main factors Thursday as the Southwest Conference prepared for Saturday's games.

Doyle Traylor of Baylor, which doesn't play this week, took the spotlight with a broken left ankle. The Bear quarterback broke his ankle when tackled in practice Wednesday. He was expected to be out for the remainder of the season. Texas A&M Coach Bryant said fullback Jack Pardee probably will be ready to play Saturday against TCU. Pardee injured a shoulder against Houston and has been avoiding contact work. The Aggies scheduled a light workout for Thursday following a dummy scrimmage Wednesday. At TCU, Don Cooper, right tackle, and O'Day Williams and Harold Pollard, both ends, were making headway with their injuries. Coach Martin said the Frogs would spend most of today on pass defense. They worked on punt protection Wednesday. Paul Zipperlen, halfback, bruised a groin muscle in a collision Wednesday as Rice prepared for SMU. Fullback David Kelley returned to duty after recovering from an injury. SMU studied up on the tactics it expects Rice to use. Line Coach Peters told the Mustangs: "Rice is faster than any team we've met."

Six Texas gridmen were hospitalized Wednesday with stomach disorders. Longhorn coaches said they hoped all six would be able to play Saturday against Arkansas. Starters Joe Clements, quarterback, and tackle Carl Larpen, along with guard Don Wilson, fullback Sonny Baumgarten, center

Don Horst and guard Houston Long were the ill players. Coach Jack Mitchell worked his Razorbacks at a little of everything as Arkansas got ready for the Longhorns. Much time was spent on backfield drilling and line work on offense.

Nats' Bosses Ponder Move

The board of directors of the Washington Senators huddle tomorrow to consider moving their franchise to Los Angeles or San Francisco or Louisville — or possibly not to move it at all. Those three cities have made offers for the "American League franchise, with most of the talk built around the West Coast, particularly Los Angeles. Other American League club officials, however, aren't commenting on how they would vote on a Washington request to move. Cost seems to be the most important consideration. Senator President Calvin Griffith, apparently seriously considering a shift to Los Angeles, said that city has offered to build a ball park and to provide the money to buy the Pacific Coast League franchise there. American League President Will Harridge said as far as he's concerned it's still in a "talking stage."

At least one member of the Senators' board has said he'd go to court, if necessary, to block a shift. Among other Al owners and officials, Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox said a switch to the West Coast "would be a tremendous big move, travelwise and expensewise. I would want to see a lot of things in black and white." There's Hope Ban On Aggies To Go. FORT WORTH (AP)—Dr. Henry Hardt, faculty representative of TCU in the Southwest Conference, said today he was quite hopeful that the NCAA would lift a probation on Texas A&M at its meeting Nov. 12-13. If that is done A&M would be eligible to play in a bowl game Jan. 1. Hardt and Dr. E. D. Mouzon of SMU, the conference president, are members of the NCAA council. They both asked the NCAA at its meeting in August to lift the probation on A&M since the Southwest Conference had done so at its session in May. The council declined, however, on grounds proper investigation had not been made of the situation. A&M was placed on 2-year probation by the conference in May, 1955, for violating the recruiting rules. But when it had served one year the conference lifted the probation upon finding that A&M officials had corrected the practices. But shortly before, the NCAA had placed A&M on probation to run until May, 1957. So long as A&M is under this probation it can not participate in bowl games or for national championships in any sport.

Champs Get $8,715 Each From World Series Income

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest chunk of the $78,561.63 World Series players pool went to 22 members of the world champion New York Yankees, who pocketed $8,715.76. Twenty-eight members of the Brooklyn Dodgers collected full shares of $6,934.34—a record losers' share. The previous losers' high was picked up by the Cleveland Indians in 1954, with 34 full shares worth $6,712.50 each. That was the wealthiest four-game series on record, with the winning New York Giants claiming full shares of $11,147.80. That series was played in New York's spacious Polo Grounds and Cleveland's mammoth Municipal Stadium—building a record players pool of $881,763.72. The players' pool is derived from the first four games each year. A total of 332 players, managers

Huskie Is Named Star Lineman

SEATTLE (AP)—Dick Day is large for his age, which is 20. He is big for the average junior in aeronautical engineering. For any age and any class, The Associated Press Lineman of the Week is outside — 240 pounds of muscle molded on a 6-3 frame. He sat straddling the edge of the whirlpool bath yesterday, one leg in the warm water, his left arm folded harmlessly across his chest. Dick Day grinned warmly and allowed that he was surprised and happy to be selected as Lineman of the Week. There was no false modesty about it. He looked surprised and happy. Not surprised at all was Head Coach Darrell Royal of the University of Washington. "Day," he said, "has been lineman of the week every week." One of the first to congratulate Dick was Corky Lewis, the Washington end who pushed him for the week's honors. The huge tackle earned his selection by cutting up the Oregon attack Saturday and recovering three fumbles in Washington's 20-7 victory. He made key tackles to choke Oregon threats and kept vicious pressure on the Oregon passers.

Logart Is Upset By Mexican Boxer

BOSTON (AP)—The high rating of Isaac (Kid) Logart as a contender for the world's welterweight championship still appeared justified today despite a 10-round decision loss to unranked Gaspar Ortega of Mexico. The 23-year-old Cuban, rated the No. 3 contender by the National Boxing Assn. and Ring Magazine, was upset by Ortega in a nationally televised bout last night on some surprising vote-casting by the officials. The referee and one judge voted for Ortega and the second judge a draw. Boxing writers, had Logart the winner by a 5-1 margin, while several other veteran ring men also figured the Cuban had won. Logart subjected Ortega to a heavy body battering from the opening bell, but the Mexican Indian's last-round rally gained him the votes of referee Eddie Curley and Judge John Norton.

Waco, Abilene Collide In Week's Headliner

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Two schools vying for state championships clash this week in the headline game of Texas Intercollegiate League football.

Abilene, seeking its third straight championship and riding a 28-game winning streak, meets once-beaten but tough Waco at Waco Friday. This may be Abilene's only chance to lose one this season although there is small indication that the Tigers can stop the powerhouse.

Over the years Waco has won five championships and tied for one. Abilene has won five with no ties. So if the Eagles take the AAAA crown again this season—which they are favored to do—Abilene will become the winningest football team in Texas schoolboy history.

Abilene has taken five straight this season, compiling 211 points. If it wins over Waco it will better the all-time record for the upper divisions which Lubbock set in 1931-32. But it will be far from the all-time record for Texas schoolboy football. Back in 1936-37-38-39-40, Hull-Daisetta set the record by taking 43 straight. Hull-Daisetta was Class B then, Class A now.

Tigers To Be Full Of Fire In 1957, If Boss Has Way

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, best second-half ball club in the American League in 1956, will be full of fire and vinegar from opening day in 1957 if their new manager, Jack Tighe, has his way.

Twenty-four hours after taking over his first major league managing job, Tighe today reviewed his prospects this way: "My players will be in shape and will stay that way. We have the basis for a good team. We should have finished in first division this past season, maybe in second place. We'll run instead of wait for the home run. There will be a curfew."

Tighe knows the club. He has been a coach for the Tigers for the past two seasons. His selection as manager to succeed Bucky Harris came as no surprise.

He was first choice of the new Tiger owners who took control the day after the season ended.

The Tiger resurgence in 1956 came with the sale of the club by the Briggs family to a syndicate of radio and television executives headed by Fred Knorr and John Fetzer.

From the start of the season to July 17, the date of his sale, Detroit had a 36-46 record. From July 17, the date of the sale, Detroit had a 36-46 record. From July 17 to the end of the season the club had a 46-26 mark, best in the league.

The new owners said freely they wanted a manager who would inspire and demand fiery, aggressive play. Harris quit during the season's final week, saying he obviously didn't measure up to those qualifications.

Favored Feather Shaded In Olympic Trial Bouts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An expected "easy winner" in the featherweight division was eliminated and other solid favorites wondered today if they'd fall prey to upsets that marked opening bouts in the U. S. Olympic Boxing Trials.

Francis Lee, rangy Navy champ from Pittsburgh, won a close decision from Seattle's Bobbie Hicks to snap the Northwestern fighter's victory string at 45. Lee scored a knockdown in the second round and battered his young opponent with repeated blows to the body.

Junior, had been the unanimous choice to win the Olympic featherweight berth.

Only about half the 105 entrants—representing service, collegiate, AAU and Golden Gloves teams—saw action in the 30-bout card. The others, including many top-ranked battlers, fight tonight for semifinal spots.

The best fight last night eliminated a pair of slugging welterweights. Henry Brown, the Navy's champ from Wichita, Kan., knocked out Willie Moran of Louisville with a third-round punch that caught Moran off guard and sent him sprawling.

But Brown, bleeding from cuts on the mouth and nose and both eyes, was ruled out of further competition. A ring physician said his cuts were too serious to permit him continuing.

Upsets ousted two other favorites, Sammy Rollins, rated one of New York's classiest lightweights, lost by a TKO to Fred Jackson of the Air Force after pulling up a big lead.

Dean Flemmons, NCAA flyweight king from the University of Wisconsin, dropped a decision to Hawaii's Ray Perez in a 112-pound quarter-final.

Brooklyn Dodger bullpen coach, Joe Becker, waves a towel to signal Dodger base runners that a batted ball will hit the right field wall. The bullpen is closed to the field.

Bullpups Host Stanton Club

COAHOMA, (SC)—The Coahoma Junior High Bullpups play their last 1956 football game at 7:30 o'clock this evening, at which time they challenge Stanton.

The Bullpups, coached by Billy McGuire, are undefeated in two seasons. They've won 14 games without a loss and are working on a four-game string this year. They've been tied once.

In their last start, the Bullpups edged out Roby, 18-16.

Outside of three boys who are ineligible due to low grades, the Coahomans will be at full strength.

Offensive starters for Coahoma tonight will be Aubrey Darden at center, Ronnie Lindsey and Wayne Smith at guards, Sam Buchanan and Dale Nichols at tackles, Willie Torres and Charles Linderman at ends, Robert Abernethy, Tom Hodnett, Gary Finley and Dwayne Richters in the backfield.

On defense, Coach McGuire will use Mike Payte and Darden at ends, Buchanan and Nichols at tackles, Robert Cearley and Lindsey as middle guards, Linderman, Richters and Finley as linebackers and Hodnett and Abernethy at halfbacks.

Bolt, Stewart Are Favored

HOUSTON (AP)—Veteran Tommy Bolt of Houston and Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas were the favorites today in the opening of the $5,000 Texas PGA.

While Bolt was en route from San Francisco for the 72-hole medal meet, Stewart yesterday took honors in a pro-am with a 7-under-par 65.

Other favorites included veteran champion Byron Nelson, Bobby Moncrief, the Houston amateur who won the 1955 meet at El Paso, Chuck Klein, last year's low professional, and Rex Baxter Jr., University of Houston amateur and former national junior champion.

Stewart collected $200 for his 37-31 and picked up another $75 by teaming with Wilbur Smith, Houston, to finish in a three-way tie in the pro-amateur with a best ball 61.

Also winning $75 for best ball 68s were Tod Menefee, San Antonio, and Bernard Mims, Dallas. Menefee with an individual score of 67, teamed with Bill Higower, Odessa. Mims, with a 70, teamed with Mills Duncan, Houston.

Menefee's 67 placed him in a tie with Sam Spicer, McAllen, for runner-up to Stewart for low score among the pros. Each won $125.

Drawing $70 each at 68 were John Lively, Athens, and Ralph Sicks, Lake Charles, La.

Drawing $35 each for a best ball 62 were Doug Higgins, Midland, and James Hall, Mission, Higgins, with a 70, was paired with H. E. Kleincne, Houston. Hall, with a 71, teamed with W. R. Donahoe, Houston.

Gridders To Face Trial On Nov. 28

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two UCLA football players have pleaded innocent to petty theft charges.

Court trial of Gerry McDougall, 21, Bruin fullback, and Richard E. Molen, 23, former freshman griddler, was set yesterday for Nov. 28.

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas News said today Eddie Sledge, national intercollegiate tennis champion, has been lost to the Highland Park High tennis team because he accepted expense money while in training with the Junior Davis Cup squad.

Bear Ace Will Be Idle Rest Of Campaign

By WHITEY SAWYER
WACO, Tex. (AP)—The undefeated Baylor Bears lacked the services of Doyle Traylor, hard-luck champion of the Southwest Conference, again today after the quarterback broke his ankle in practice.

Traylor broke his left ankle yesterday when tackled while running a split-T option play. He fell with his leg under him and the ankle cracked.

He was expected to be out the remainder of the season.

Traylor missed his sophomore year completely in 1954 because of a shoulder injury received two weeks before the season opened. He missed the first five games of 1955 because of a broken right ankle suffered three days before training opened.

He is ranked a junior in eligibility.

The former All-State quarterback, at Temple, Tex., who weighs 180, was considered a major factor in Baylor's position as an undefeated, untied eleven.

Dr. Joe Woodward, team physician, operated on Traylor last night. He put a metal pin in the ankle bone and said it would be two to three weeks before Traylor could put his weight on the leg.

He wouldn't hazard a guess at how long it would be before he could play football again.

Coach Sam Boyd said, "I sure do feel sorry for Doyle. I'm wondering just how unlucky one guy can be. Doyle not only is a fine football player, but one of the finest men and leaders you'll find. He meant a lot to our ball club. Doyle wants to play just as badly as anyone I've ever seen. I just wish Joe Woodward were putting the pin in my leg instead of his."

Boyd said he hadn't evaluated yet just what Traylor's loss would mean.

"We have other fine quarterbacks in Co-Captain Bobby Jones, Kenneth Helms and Carroll Overton, and they will just move right up."

Baylor is off this week, but meets two of the conference favorites, Texas A&M and Texas Christian, in that order, when it returns to action.

Baylor has been operating under the two-unit system this season with Jones operating one of the units and Traylor the other. Traylor has completed 15 of 27 passes for 209 yards, 2 touchdowns and a .556 completion average in 4 games this year.

Traylor has been called brittle by the critics because of his many injuries, but he has never been hurt in a game. All his injuries have come in practice.

It takes a GIANT to build a business...

a $575,000,000 business!

"Newspaper advertising has built our business." So spoke H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Company, America's fifth largest food chain.

Newspapers Get Results

"Newspaper advertising, both national and local, brings results, the kind of results you can measure on the cash register, or in stock movement, actual sales results, not next week, not next year, but as soon as the newspaper hits the streets."

Two-Thirds For 'Action' Advertising

Since 1944 the National Tea Company has spent over $30,000,000 for advertising and sales promotion... and at least 66 2/3 per cent of these advertising dollars has been invested in newspaper space.

"Until someone invents another medium that will do a better job of delivery of our advertising wrapped up in a fast reading package of news, pictures, and interesting, educational features, that will get deeper and more dominant home penetration than the daily newspaper, I will continue to recommend... that we earmark at least two-thirds of all advertising dollars for newspapers."

Nothing Sells Like Newspapers

Advertisers in every field share Mr. McNamara's views. They know that building sales in today's competitive market is a job for a giant... a job for newspapers.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

Adlai Attacks Administration As A 'Single Interest' Regime

WITH STEVENSON IN OHIO—Adlai E. Stevenson attacked the Eisenhower administration today as a "single interest government" he said must be ousted by "election of the Democratic party."

The Democratic presidential nominee thus wrapped up a new attack on President Eisenhower in the same package with his own obvious shift in campaign tactics toward a party—rather than a personal appeal for votes.

Stevenson said in a speech prepared for a late afternoon rally in Akron, Ohio, Eisenhower has a "Cadillac Cabinet" that "fears nothing as much as change." He added that the people "will carry forward again when the present Cabinet is back in General Motors next January."

"If Mr. Eisenhower didn't want his administration called a big business single interest government, why did he ever join the Republican party?" Stevenson demanded.

This fresh attack on what he called the "creeping complacency" of the Republicans fitted in deeply with Stevenson's new tactics—which developed in a whistle-stop swing through Michigan yesterday—to submerge his own presidential aspirations under a strong appeal for Democratic party votes that might carry him on the coattails of well-liked local candidates to victory in doubtful states.

Significantly, Stevenson told an audience which did not fill a 6,200-seat auditorium in Flint, Mich., last night:

"I submit to you that the times

call for the election of the Democratic party."

Earlier he had told a small train-side audience in Saginaw, Mich., that perhaps no president in history had enjoyed the popularity he said Eisenhower had held in four years.

With a trace of exasperation in his voice, he said, "Certainly, no administration in history has enjoyed such immunity from criticism" as Eisenhower's.

Then, in the manner of former President Harry S. Truman's now traditional Democratic "give 'em hell" tactics of 1948, Stevenson cut loose in Flint with a slashing attack on Vice President Nixon and former Gov. Thomas F. Dewey of New York.

Dewey drew about 1,500 persons in the same hall the previous night with an attack on Stevenson's proposal to move toward the ending of hydrogen bomb tests.

Stevenson dismissed Dewey with the observation that "dis-courtesy, epithet and abuse from him are no surprise."

The estimate on the Dewey and Stevenson crowds was made by Paul Rewey, superintendent of the hall.

Stevenson prefaced his onslaught against Nixon with the observation that any president might be "prevented by higher will from serving his full term." Then he said Nixon's political "trademark is slander."

He depicted the vice president as a "man of many masks," asking:

"Who can say they have seen his real face?"

He accused Nixon of upsetting American relations with India. He said the vice president had been "rash and inexperienced" in saying two years ago that the United States might have to send troops into Indochina. In that connection, he said:

"We cannot have in high places men who talk out of both sides of their mouth, who talk loosely and irresponsibly in foreign countries, men who talk too much when they would do better to keep their mouths shut and their eyes and ears open."

Stevenson's attack came at the close of what no one in the candidate's entourage would admit was a disappointing day of campaigning through the usually Republican farm areas of Michigan in the quest for the state's 20 electoral votes.

In sunny, warm weather, the railroad station crowds generally were smaller than the Democrats seemed to have expected. Listeners did not seem to be highly responsive.

They tittered rather than guffawed at Stevenson's quips. They listened in outwardly listless silence to his discussion of Republican "hard money" policies.

Everywhere, Stevenson laid great stress on voting the Democratic ticket. He praised Gov. G. Mennen Williams lavishly. Democratic leaders said that unless Williams wins a fifth term by a 150,000-vote margin they fear Stevenson will not make the grade against Eisenhower in Michigan.

Estes Hits Ike 'Banking Aid'

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today "the Eisenhower price support plan for big banking interests" costs the government more in one year than farm price supports cost in 20 years of Democratic administration.

Criss-crossing drought plagued western Missouri and Kansas in a bid for the farm vote, the Democratic vice-presidential candidate whacked away at Eisenhower administration farm policies.

He came here from Springfield, where he was accorded a roaring reception last night by a partisan audience filling all 4,000 seats in the Shrine Auditorium.

It was one of the most impressive demonstrations thus far given Kefauver.

Springfield observers said it was on a par with that tendered Vice President Nixon here three weeks ago. They described it as the biggest Democratic turnout in this normally Republican district in many years.

One reason is the Democrats are waging an all-out fight to capture the 7th Dist. Missouri congressional seat held for the past 24 years by Rep. Dewey Short. Opposing Short is Charles Brown, 35-year-old Springfield businessman.

Springfield is the center of one of the nation's biggest dairy districts. Democrats claim successive droughts have cut milk production sharply and say Republicans have failed to provide substantial aid for dairy farmers.

From Joplin, Kefauver heads for Topeka and Garden City, Kan. In a speech prepared for delivery at a midday rally in Joplin, he asserted:

"As soon as President Eisenhower got into office, he started to force farm prices down and to push interest payments up."

"The result of the price support plan for the big banking interests is that we taxpayers have to pay much higher interest charges on the federal debt."

"The cost of interest to the federal government has increased to $1,200,000,000 a year more than it was in 1952.

"The added cost of interest amounts to more, every year, than farm price supports cost in all 20 years under Democratic administrations."

Kefauver said a 90-day loan now costs 10 times as much as during World War II.

He said the Democratic party is committed to "bring about 100 per cent of parity farm prices" through rigid 90 per cent supports and other price-lifting methods.

In his Springfield talk, Kefauver stressed peace and pleaded for an international agreement to halt hydrogen bomb testing as proposed by his running mate Adlai Stevenson.

He asserted he and Stevenson will not accept President Eisenhower's "truly astonishing efforts to shut off discussion of the horror which faces all mankind."

"We shall continue to speak out with courage and conviction because we know that we speak for all humanity when we call for an end to a macabre military race which can only result in annihilation of half the people on earth," he declared.

"Adlai Stevenson does not want, and I do not want, the threat of atomic war to be a permanent condition of the life of mankind."

Radio Towers Mean Money To Steeplejack

By JIM GREENWOOD
CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Radio transmitter towers in the South Texas sky by the dozens each has a theoretical dollar sign on the tip end in the view of Charlie Ramsey.

Ramsey is one of the Coastal Bend's few professional steeplejacks. He climbs anything for pay. The pay is good but he isn't exactly overrun with competition. Scaling radio towers is Ramsey's forte. More of them require the services of a steeplejack. He also climbs water towers of all sorts and anything else needing to be climbed.

Ramsey has assembled mobile welding and spray painting equipment which he tows behind his truck to wherever a job might be. His mainstays are his safety-belt and steel nerves.

Because of the hazards people who want to hire him required that he be insured so they wouldn't be liable. Charlie trooped off to the nearest insurance company, where he was turned down. Nobody wanted to take the risk.

"People in your profession," Ramsey was told by one company, "are suicidal maniacs in our opinion."

Finally, Lloyds of London agreed to underwrite his activity and Ramsey was in business.

Once a 120-foot tall water tower was overflowing because the float was stuck. Nobody wanted to scale it because the ladders were ancient, even rusted out in places. Charlie took the job and completed it without incident. He still regards that afternoon as the most hazardous he's yet experienced.

Ramsey, 30, has climbed high enough to fall to his death about 500 times.

Ramsey doesn't climb for fixed fees. Each job has its own hazards, and he makes his bid accordingly.

Baptists To Meet

DALLAS (AP)—Some 10,000 Texas Baptists are expected to meet at Corpus Christi Nov. 5-8, officials said today.

Texas Steeplejack

Charlie Ramsey, of Corpus Christi, is one of the Coastal Bend's leading—and few—professional steeplejacks. Scaling radio towers, flagpoles and any other type where repairs may be needed is all in a day's work for Ramsey.

Powell's Switch Linked To Trials Involving Aides

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Democratic Cong. Adam Powell's recent endorsement of President Eisenhower may have been influenced by federal tax trials involving his secretaries, says Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler.

Powell, a Negro, switched his support to Eisenhower last week, saying he was dissatisfied with the Democrats' stand on civil rights.

New York Democratic Negro leaders said at the time that Powell acted because of White House pressure in the tax cases, but Powell denied it.

At a press conference yesterday Butler said:

"The circumstances support the inference that Powell was influenced to endorse Ike through a belief that he might get a break on the tax evasion cases."

One of Powell's secretaries is involved in a federal tax trial. Another secretary was convicted of tax evasion and is serving a jail sentence, and a third is under indictment, awaiting trial.

Butler added that he believed Negroes would vote Democratic in November on the basis of the party's record on housing, slum clearance, minimum wages and racial discrimination.

Ike-Adlai Battle Runs Second In Illinois Political Picture

By OVID A. MARTIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The Eisenhower-Stevenson presidential race holds secondary interest in an Illinois election campaign centered largely on a battle for control of the state government, now held by the Republicans.

This is so even though Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, is a former governor of the state.

The big issue is the theft of 1 1/2 million dollars in state funds by Republican State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, now in prison.

Democrats are making the most of this case in an attempt to blast William G. Stratton from the governorship, which he is seeking for a second term.

Stratton was not involved. Hodge, the erring auditor, was elected like himself and occupied a position in the state government independent of the governor.

Stratton says that after the shortages were discovered he acted promptly to get Hodge out of office, off the GOP ticket for reelection and into prison. Assets turned over to the state by the Hodge family, the governor says, are expected to equal the thefts.

In Republican downstate Illinois this reporter found quite a few GOP voters who said they planned to support President Eisenhower but to cast their ballots for Richard B. Austin, the Democratic candidate for governor, because of the Hodge wrongdoings.

Austin, who is relatively unknown outside the Chicago area, is a Cook County Superior Court judge.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders are speculating on how the Hodge scandal may affect voting for the presidency. They generally agree that Eisenhower will run ahead of most other Republicans.

Four years ago Eisenhower won over Stevenson here by about 450,000 votes out of a total of 4,481,000. Stevenson carried only four counties and the city of Chicago.

Morton Hollingsworth, of Joliet, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, predicted Eisenhower will win by as large a majority as in 1952. He said he based this forecast on the "facts that the Republicans are more united than they were four years ago, that the farm situation in this state is good and also because the Democrats have the same candidate."

"Illinois voters know Stevenson for what he is—a phony," he added.

Hollingsworth said that four years ago, Illinois was strong for the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the presidential nomination. When Taft didn't get it, many Republicans "sat on their hands" last time, he said, and added:

"But we are united behind Eisenhower."

Certainly Sen. Everett Dirksen, a leader in the 1952 convention fight against an Eisenhower nomination, is going up and down the state making speeches praising the President. He is opposed for reelection by State Sen. Richard Stengel of Rock Island.

A downstate Republican county chairman—W. D. Isaacs of Mount Vernon—said he does not expect Eisenhower to run as well in his area as in 1952.

Last time, the President carried Jefferson County by about 1,100 votes," Isaacs said. "The county normally is Democratic by about 800 to 1,000 votes. This time I expect him to break about even in the county."

James Ronan, Chicago lawyer and chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, said the "statehouse scandals are having a greater influence on rural voters than those of Chicago because they are closer to the state government than the Chicago voters. The latter have more contacts with and greater interest in the city government than the state."

Ronan said he expects Stevenson to run behind his party's state ticket because of indications that some Republicans will vote for Eisenhower but favor Democrats for state offices.

The Illinois farm vote—traditionally Republican—appears

Town Plans Dog Statue

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP)—This town plans a statue to "Old Drum," the hound who inspired a famous speech in 1870 by Sen. George Graham Vest of Missouri. The Chamber of Commerce has started a campaign to raise $2,500 for it.

Vest's famous tribute to dogs was delivered in a damage suit in which he represented a man whose dog had been shot by a neighbor in Warrensburg. The jury deliberated two minutes and awarded Vest's client $500.

A bronze plaque will carry Vest's declaration that:

"A dog is the one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him and the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous."

likely to give Eisenhower at least a normal majority. Unlike farm areas in some other Midwestern state affected by drought, there appears to be no great dissatisfaction with the agricultural situation or with Eisenhower farm policies.

Illinois crops are bountiful this year and farm income, Gov. Stratton said, is running on an average of 10 per cent higher than last year.

This reporter spent some time talking with farmers who came to Chatham and Auburn, typical farming communities, to deliver freshly harvested soybeans to elevators. Generally those who said they were Republicans said they intended to vote for Eisenhower and those who said they were Democrats expressed support for Stevenson.

What complaining was heard about the farm situation was directed for the most part at prices farmers must pay rather than at prices they are receiving. Some blamed labor and industry, and not the government, for this.

Fuel Injection, Transmission Changes Seen In '57 Chevrolet

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission are among the noteworthy engineering advancements to be noted in the Chevrolet line for 1957. And in eye appeal, Chevrolet has made sweeping changes from 1956, with longer and lower bodies, and a marked horizontal sweep.

The new Chevrolets go on public view Friday, and are to be shown locally by Tidwell Chevrolet Company. Tidwell has announced two display rooms — at the present agency, 214 East 3rd, and at the new Tidwell building at 1500 East 4th.

Fuel injection is being introduced on the Corvette engine, a new V8 of 230 horsepower, and this is an option throughout the Chevrolet line. Shown for the first time is the new transmission, known as the Turboglide. Chevrolet is setting the pace in making available fuel injection, to replace the customary carburetor. And the Turboglide transmission is an exclusive, carrying the principle of torque conversion to a new high in efficiency. The triple-turbine produces an uninterrupted driving force at all speeds, without a feeling of "shift."

The new Chevrolet sets a higher standard of safety, too, with larger glass area, surer traction, strong frames, and a re-design of steering wheel and instrument panel. Two and a half-inches have been added to overall length, and the 1957 cars are lower.

Common to the design of all passenger cars is a rugged front end that combines a massive guard and bumper ensemble with an aluminum grille screen and inset parking lamps. Chevrolet, however, again offers exclusive exterior and interior in each of its series.

On the seven bodies in the Bel Air series, for instance, a lean chromium spear extends rearward from the headlamp, spreading gracefully downward to the bumper and also branching upward as a rear quarter molding. The area encompassed by the diverging lines of the spear may be two-toned to conform with the body roof color or fitted with an optional panel of rolled aluminum. Two-Ten models, eight in number, have a single downswept lance molding from front to rear. One-Fifty side moldings on four body models extend downward from the sash and then horizontally across the rear fenders.

A variety of sparkling new colors in combination with the body selections furnishes the customer with 460 choices in the appearance of the Chevrolet he buys. Interiors, marked by rich upholstery in nylon cloth and plastics, have been completely re-fashioned.

To power its 1957 line, Chevrolet will build one six and four new V8s ranging in output from 140-horsepower for the six to a sensational one-horsepower per cubic inch of displacement for the "Corvette V8." The Corvette engine develops 283-horsepower with the RAMJET fuel injection system.

Several instances of engineering progress are evident in the new chassis. "Ram's horn" exhaust manifolds aid engine breathing. Fourteen-inch wheels and lower pressure tires (22 pounds) further riding comfort and safety through greater traction.

Powerglide, proved in more than a billion miles of travel, power brakes and power steering, and electric window lifts are again optional. The company also makes available the gas-saving overdrive and a close ratio manual transmission that assures lightning down-and-up-shifts. In all, 22 power trains are available.

Meg Meets Ex-Suitor's Kin

By ARUSHA, Tanganyika (P)—Princess Margaret today met the brother of Group Capt. Peter Townsend, the divorced RAF hero who was once her suitor.

She smiled, nodded and shook hands as Francis Townsend, a tall, broad-shouldered district commissioner in the Masai country, stepped up on a dais to face her at a royal baraza (tribal gathering).

The princess' white-gloved fingers twisted restlessly as Townsend marched briskly off the platform to make way for the next presentation.

Today's meeting was Margaret's first contact with the Townsend family since she made her decision not to marry the group captain nearly a year ago. He recently retired from the RAF.

Francis Townsend, 35, rules an area of Tanganyika inhabited by the warlike Masai tribesmen. He lives quietly at Mondula with his Australian wife, Helen, and their three children.

Texans Helps VA Religious Facilities

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (P)—The man who arranges for religious facilities at Veterans Administration Hospitals is a Texan. He is Dr. Dow Heard Sr., born on a Uvalde County cattle ranch, a graduate of Baylor and the father of four sons who practice law in Houston.

When he got out of the Army early in 1945, Dr. Heard was appointed to help organize and supervise the chaplain service in VA hospitals. The VA now employs 602-302 are Protestants, 226 Roman Catholics, 66 Jewish and 8 Greek Orthodox.

"The objective of the chaplain service is to give a full program of religious ministry to the hospitalized veterans," commented Dr. Heard. "More than a half million veterans are treated in these VA hospitals each year, and each may be served by a clergyman of his faith group."

As supervising chaplain, Dr. Heard has traveled in each of the 48 states visiting VA medical centers. Texas has 10 VA hospitals at Amarillo, Big Spring, Bonham, Dallas, Houston, Kerrville, Marlin, McKinney, Temple and Waco.

Around the Capital: Federal Judge Luther Johnson, Texas congressman from 1923 to 1946, had retired from the U.S. Tax Court. He told friends recently he and Mrs. Johnson planned to go back to their old hometown of Corsicana.

President Eisenhower wrote the jurist, expressing best wishes for "health and happiness in the future" and appreciation of "fine judicial service."

The Texas Republican committeeman, Jack Porter, testifying before a Senate committee about solicitation of GOP campaign funds, told Chairman Olin Johnston (D-SC) he didn't think the two of them would ever agree on just exactly what was proper procedure.

In answer to a question as to whether he assumed responsibility for collection of Republican campaign funds in Texas, Porter smilingly told Johnston:

"Yes, sir, and I might say that you are taking up some of my time now when I could be out collecting more."

The wealthy Houston oil man said that in 3½ years he has paid all his own expenses working for the Republican cause, and contributed about 90 per cent of his time.

Woman Admits Killing Children

WICHITA, Kan. (P)—Mrs. Mary Ann Gamache, 34, was held in jail today and Sedgwick County Atty. Warner Moore said she acknowledged stabbing two of her three little boys to death.

Moore said Mrs. Gamache had written a note lamenting she had not been a good wife or mother. She had a nervous breakdown recently.

The slain boys were Jack, 8, and Kenneth, 3.

Moore said Mrs. Gamache told him she had not harmed Danny, 7, because he was a good boy. The double slaying was not discovered until the distraught woman was picked up yesterday by an officer who found her wandering on railroad tracks about 40 miles from Wichita, near Peabody. A farmer had reported her strange actions. Officers quoted her as saying she planned to throw herself under a train.

The unsuspecting husband and father, Joseph C. Gamache, 36, arrived home from his job as a Wichita Eagle printer at the same time police got there. He found Jack's body in the bathroom, Kenneth's in a bedroom. Both had been stabbed again and again by a large hunting knife.

Educator Says Kids Like Math

DENVER (P)—Who says kids don't like math? "If they had a choice they'd keep arithmetic and throw out sports," says Dr. Richard Madden, a professor of education at San Diego (Calif.) State College. He is in Denver as special consultant to public schools.

"That old saw about school kids and math is all wrong. But, mathematics is a language. And teachers can't learn to talk it by going to college and studying calculus. They get it by working with kids. "No, boys and girls like math. The problem is to get teachers to like it, too."

Taking Inventory

Mrs. Logan A. Baker, house manager of the Ritz Theatre, checks stock at the candy counters of the theatre as one of her jobs. Ordering supplies and just keeping the show in smooth running order are also duties of Mrs. Baker. With this busy job, Mrs. Baker likes short cuts in cooking—and contributes a delicious recipe for today's food page.

Quick Pineapple Cake For Busy Housewives

Career women, who also have a household to keep in shape, will delight in this recipe for a quick pineapple ice box cake.

Mrs. Logan A. Baker, busy homemaker and house manager at the Ritz Theatre, enjoys whipping up this recipe that can be prepared well in advance for special company or just the home folks.

"I certainly enjoy fixing this pineapple dessert because it is so easy and can be kept for some time," Mrs. Baker remarked.

Mrs. Baker has been house manager at the Ritz for fifteen years. Her duties include supervising the refreshment bars, taking inventory and other general duties.

The recipe was acquired by Mrs. Baker while she and her husband lived in McPherson, Kan. "I had

Stop For Soup Break

What with modern superhighways and cars that almost drive themselves, "turquoise monotony" is a common result. An occasional stop for a stretch and a soup break can help keep motorists alert for complete car control. Hot tomato or other favorite soup, carried along in a vacuum bottle, provides the light refreshment that does so much to combat driving fatigue.

Dill And Pork

Try adding dill (fresh or dried) to pan-fried pork chops.

Pickled Pears Good Garnish With Ham

What's different to serve with ham?"

Every once in a while we're asked that question. Most recently it came from a friend whose daughter was being married and who was entertaining the bridal party at a buffet supper after the wedding rehearsal. Bake beans and potato salad had been ever-present at previous parties for the bride-to-be and her mother didn't want to offer them again.

Our friend followed one of our suggestions. She boiled potatoes and then whipped them until they were velvet-smooth with hot milk, butter, salt and pepper. Then they went into a large shallow baking dish—one pretty enough to go to the buffet table. Over the top of the potatoes went a mixture of grated Parmesan cheese and cream, and finally a light dusting of paprika. If the topping doesn't get a beautiful golden brown, the dish may be put under the broiler for a few seconds. The potatoes can be prepared well ahead, of course, and the topping added just before reheating. If time is at a premium in our own household, we use frozen whipped potatoes instead of cooking and mashing them at home. Sometimes we substitute grated Romano cheese for the Parmesan.

Another casserole we like to serve with ham is one of cooked broad or narrow noodles, cottage cheese and sour cream. It is seasoned with salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, crushed garlic and finely grated onion and baked in a moderate oven until it is piping hot. A number of cookbooks give this recipe under the title of "Noodles Romanoff."

And still another favorite with ham is a mixture of cooked snap beans and cream sauce seasoned with soy sauce. The beans can be fresh or frozen (cooked) or the canned variety. And you can add sautéed fresh or canned mushrooms and sliced water chestnuts. The dish can be made ahead and reheated in a moderate oven, then several minutes before serving, lots of canned French-fried onion rings are layered over the top and the casserole is returned to the oven. In a few minutes the onion rings are crisp and brown and the whole thing is ready to serve. We find this combination is always a great success and there are requests for the recipe.

Fruit garnishes always add piquancy to a ham platter. You might, for example, pickle several pounds of pears and serve those. Here's a new recipe.

PICKLED PEARS

Ingredients:
Three pounds (7 or 8 good-sized) firm Bartlett pears, 2 cups pear liquid or water, 1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup cider vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon powdered ginger, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, 1 stick (3 inches) cinnamon.

Method:
Peel the pears, leaving stems on but trimming out the blossom ends. If pears are very firm, par-boil them for 5 minutes in water to cover; then lift them out; reserve the water they were par-boiled in and use it for the 2 cups pear liquid called for in the recipe ingredients. Mix the 2 cups pear liquid (or use water if you have not par-boiled the pears) with the frozen lemonade concentrate, vinegar, sugar, salt, ginger, cloves and cinnamon in a large saucepan; boil 5 minutes. Drop in the pears and boil gently about 30 minutes—until slightly transparent and tender, but not soft. Turn the pears frequently in the syrup while they cook. When done, lift pears carefully into a bowl. Boil syrup hard about 5 minutes, then strain over pears. Let stand, turning occasionally, until cold, then store in refrigerator. Makes about 2 quarts.

Note:
If you want the pears to lie flat on a platter, cut a slice from one side of each pear; use the cut-off pieces later in a salad or some other way.

Skillet Beef Loaf For Jiffy Dinner

Here's a quick and tasty skillet dinner to serve to hungry school children or for a quick before-the-game dish.

Ingredients:
One egg, 1 slice white bread (regular thickness with crusts left on), 1 small onion, a pound ground beef chuck, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ¼ cup milk, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, ¼ cup to ½ cup stock or bouillon.

Method:
Beat egg in medium-sized mixing bowl just enough to combine yolk and white. Crumb bread and add. Peel onion and grate fine; add onion pulp and juice to bowl. Mix until bread disintegrates. Add beef, salt, pepper, Worcestershire and milk; mix thoroughly. Shape into oval loaf, that can be handled, on waxed paper.

Sprinkle top of loaf with half of flour; turn over and sprinkle other side with remaining flour. Heat butter in iron skillet (9 inches is a good size).

Carefully turn loaf into hot fat. Brown as rapidly as possible; turn heat moderately low and add 2 tablespoons stock; cook covered 20 to 30 minutes or until half done; add a little more stock if necessary.

Turn carefully and cook other side the same way, adding as much of remaining stock as necessary.

Beef, Sausage For Combination Loaf

Here's a combination of meats that will add zesty flavor and real delight for a meat loaf.

Ingredients:
One pound ground chuck beef, 1 pound bulk sausage meat, ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, 2 medium-sized garlic cloves (crushed), 2 eggs, ¼ cup milk paprika, parsley sprigs.

Method:
Work together the ground beef, sausage meat, bread crumbs, salt, pepper to taste and crushed garlic thoroughly; a 6-tined pastry fork is fine to use. Beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites; beat in milk enough to combine. Add to meat mixture; work together thoroughly. Pack into greased loaf pan (8½ by 4½ by 2½ inches) taking care to press down tightly. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour. Remove from oven and allow to stand in pan about 10 minutes. Pour off fat and turn out; turn right side up. Sprinkle top with paprika. Garnish with parsley. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Cheese Piecrust

Stir a half cup of grated cheddar cheese into a package of piecrust mix. Use as pastry for green apple pie.

'For Tricks Or Treats'

One of the easiest, most economical ways to make Halloween tricks-or-treaters happy and contented is to pass out packages of some popular brand of chewing gum. Chewing gum comes neatly and securely wrapped, is convenient to handle and always makes a hit with youngsters, from the smallest spooks and goblins up. Children's parents are grateful, too, because gum is a pure, light and wholesome treat that doesn't put any burden on digestion. Halloween is on the way, so if you want to be wisely prepared for the treat-seeking brigade, better get a supply of chewing gum. You'll win a lot of thanks without spending a lot of money.

Try Green Beans Supreme For Flavor

Green beans go over big!

Ingredients:
Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups light cream, ½ teaspoon soy sauce, salt, pepper, 2 cans (15½ ounces each) whole green beans (drained), 1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts (drained and sliced into thin rounds), 1 can (3½ ounces) French-fried onions.

Method:
Melt butter in a medium-sized saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Remove from heat. Gradually add light cream, stirring until smooth after each addition. Stir in soy sauce along with salt and pepper to taste. Add drained green beans and sliced water chestnuts; mix well and reheat. Turn into shallow baking dish (about 2 quarts). Sprinkle with French-fried onions. Place in hot (425 degrees) or moderate (350 degrees) oven until onions are lightly browned—5 to 15 minutes.

Gelatin Used In Golden Glow Salad

For family supper.

Ingredients:
One package lemon-flavored gelatin, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups very hot water, 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon lemon juice or cider vinegar, 1 cup coarsely grated raw carrot, 1 cup chopped pecans, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Method:
Dissolve gelatin and salt in very hot water. Add crushed pineapple, including the juice, and the lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened; fold in carrots and pecans. Pour into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

Note:
Two-thirds cups pineapple and 1-3 cup pineapple juice may be substituted for the 9-ounce can of crushed pineapple.

Different Dessert

Need a different dessert for company? Fill parfait or sherbet glasses with chocolate ice cream and pour a mint flavored sauce over it; top with whipped cream if desired.

Chili Chopped Steak Sandwich Main Dish

Here is a quick hamburger dish.

Ingredients:
Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion (chopped), ½ large green pepper (chopped), 1 clove garlic (minced), 1 pound ground beef (chuck or round), 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, ¼ cup chili sauce, ½ teaspoon chili powder, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish, hamburger rolls.

Method:
Melt butter in 10-inch skillet over low heat; add onion, green pepper and garlic; cook, stirring often, until onion is wilted. Add beef; mash with a fork to crumble; cook until beef loses its red color. Add tomatoes, chili sauce and chili powder; cook slowly about 30 minutes. Add pickle relish and cook 10 minutes longer. Split hamburger rolls, toast and butter; serve meat mixture over rolls.

Oysters Combined With Creamed Corn

Like oysters? Then you'll enjoy their flavor with corn.

Ingredients:
One can (10 ounces) frozen condensed oyster stew soup, 1 can (12 ounces) whole-kernel corn, 2 tablespoons flour.

Method:
Place unopened can of oyster stew in warm water for about 5 minutes for easy removal. Open can and turn contents into a saucepan. Allow stew to stand over low heat until defrosted; stir often but do not boil. Remove oysters with a slotted spoon and cut large ones into smaller pieces. Drain corn. Mix flour with ¼ cup of the corn liquid until smooth. Add to liquid in saucepan; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly; cook several minutes longer. Add oysters and corn; reheat but do not boil. Makes 4 servings.

Lingerie Chief Theft Target

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Women's nightgowns, slips, panties and hose are more frequently stolen than any other items in a store, a private detective reports.

The odds are almost 5 to 1 that the thief is working in the shop, says Bill Keith, head of a Miami detective agency. He told a convention of the Council of International Investigators that "lingerie accounts for 41.5 per cent of all thefts."

Keith said men's furnishings, especially hose, ties, handkerchiefs and shorts, are next most popular with shoplifters and thieves. Then come cosmetics, notions, candy and ladies ready-to-wear. He said some 76 per cent of such thefts are committed by shop employees.

Uncle Ray: War Money Might Have Freed Slaves

By RAMON COFFMAN

Abraham Lincoln was named at the fateful Republican convention 96 years ago. He was a strong candidate, but it is doubtful that he would have been elected president except for the mistakes of the Democrats.

First convening in Charleston, later in Baltimore, the Democrats named Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois as their candidate.

Many southern Democrats felt that Douglas was too easy going about the slavery issue. They met in another convention and made John C. Breckinridge their candidate.

Another group, known as the Union party, nominated John Bell of Tennessee.

The Democrats split their votes, chiefly between Douglas and Breckinridge. With the Democratic strength divided, the Republicans rolled up a big majority of the electoral votes.

Abe Lincoln was a "log cabin candidate" for president.

The good-hearted Lincoln did not desire to go to war to settle the Negro slavery issue. If he could have had his wish, the owners would have been allowed to keep their slaves, or else would have been paid to set them free.

Several southern states left the Union before Lincoln was inaugurated. Southern leaders feared that northerners would try to enforce their ideas about slavery. They even saw the possibility that northern soldiers would be sent into the South to free the slaves.

As it turned out, war came. It was (as always) the most terrible way to attempt to settle the issues at stake. Hundreds of thousands of men died in the fighting. The cost was enormous. The money used for the Civil War was more than the market value of all Negro slaves.

Navy Okays Plans For Atomic Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has authorized the drafting of plans for the country's first atomic-powered surface ship, a 14,000-ton guided missile cruiser.

It sent the Bethlehem Steel Co. a preliminary contract yesterday authorizing the firm to take the first steps leading to construction of the 700-foot craft at Bethlehem's yards in Quincy, Mass.

The Navy has said it expects the vessel to cost about 87 1/2 million dollars, including its nuclear power plant. The Westinghouse Electric Corp. has been awarded a contract to build the ship's reactor for $18,335,000.

Hungarians Stay

VIENNA (AP)—Eleven Hungarians who came here in a tourist group to see an Austro-Hungarian soccer match last Sunday have refused to return home. The group, which includes four minor government officials, asked the Austrian government for political asylum.
