Estes Attacks GOP Prosperity 'Illusion'

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today the administration's economic policies have created an "illusion of prosperity" that has served only to "fatten the treasuries of the giant financial empires while the American people have been lagging behind." Kefauver struck out at what he called Republican "stop-gap election eve prosperity" as he came to this auto manufacturing center for a full day of campaigning in the Detroit area. The Democratic vice-presidential candidate's chartered plane arrived here early today from the Corn Belt, where in speeches yesterday at Waterloo and Mason City, Iowa, he drew cheers with attacks on what he called Republican "election bait" farm promises. In a speech prepared for delivery before a luncheon audience of Detroit business and professional men, he assailed what he said were "misleading generalities" by GOP orators on the nation's economy. He said Detroit had a first-hand reminder of the "illusion of GOP prosperity" in the idle Studebaker-Packard plant. He charged Secretary of Defense Wilson with driving the company "to the wall" by a "narrow base procurement policy" of concentrating government defense purchases in the hands of a relatively few manufacturers. "On the verge of collapse with 23,000 workers, 4,000 dealers and 100,000 shareholders," he asserted "Wilson has now cooked up a deal with Curtiss Wright to tide it over until after election day." He called this "a maneuver not unlike that of Dick Nixon, who went to the Midwest and returned hurriedly to Washington with word that hog prices had to be kept at $15 a hundred until after election. But as auto workers wages have risen 14 per cent since 1952, General Motors profits have gone up 113 per cent, he asserted.

'Reverse Radar' Provides Mirror For Ships, Planes

LONDON (AP) — A new type of "reverse radar" which allows the skipper of a ship or plane to see himself as other skippers see him has been developed by a British firm. The manufacturers of the Decca True Motion Radar said their instrument made the reading of radar pictures simpler. In conventional radar the transmitting ship is represented at the center of the screen. In the new system the transmitting ship is shown moving across its own screen at the correct speed and bearing with other vessels moving at their true course and speed and stationary objects, such as buoys and light ships, clearly shown to be stationary. The manufacturers said the device seeks to reduce the human error in using radar and eliminate the need for course plotting.

Murder Charged In Slaying Of Mother's 'Hexer'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A man who told police an ominous roll of thunder was a sign to kill a faith healer who had "hexed" his mother was charged with murder today. Police said Johnny Lee Tolliver, 26-year-old Negro of Coldwater, Miss., spoke of magic incantations and heavenly signs of disaster after his arrest in the shotgun slaying of George Webster, leader of the Negro Divine Temple of Healing. Webster was shot yesterday at the temple. Homicide Capt. W. W. Wilkinson quoted Tolliver as saying that Webster had hexed his mother, and had started in on his sister Grace Tolliver. "The Lord told us to kill him," Wilkinson said the sister told officers. Both Tollivers told officers they had prayed for a heavenly sign. "We knew the Lord was listening when he let it thunder Saturday night," Wilkinson quoted Tolliver. "He told us we were to kill the first time it rained." The sister was charged as an accessory.

They were released in custody of their parents.

REPLY TO ADLAI

Ike Sees Setback In Bomb Test Halt

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said last night the United States could "suffer a serious military disadvantage" if it stopped its tests of nuclear weapons and then found that Russia was continuing hers. Without naming his Democratic opponent Adlai E. Stevenson, Eisenhower said that one of Stevenson's contentions in the campaign debate over continued bomb testing "is based upon apparent unawareness of the facts." Eisenhower issued his second formal reply to Stevenson's repeated calls for this nation to take the lead in working toward an end to hydrogen bomb testing. While rejecting Stevenson's arguments, the President said he remains "profoundly hopeful" that a properly safeguarded system of world disarmament will come to pass. But until that comes, he declared: "We must continue to develop our strength in the most advanced weapons — for the sake of our own national safety, for the sake of all free nations, for the sake of peace itself. "There is nothing in postwar history to justify the belief that we should — or even that we could dare — accept anything less than sound safeguards and controls for any disarmament arrangements." On another point raised by Democratic campaigners, Eisenhower said big business has lost rather than gained, under his administration. In a speech last night at the 25th anniversary banquet of the carpenters union, Eisenhower said his administration were guilty of favoring big business, as charged. "I am sure big business would assert we have failed miserably."

"I give you two interesting facts," he said. "During the years 1946 to 1952, inclusive, corporate profits — after taxes — averaged 7.7 per cent of the national income. During the period since 1953 when this administration entered office, corporate profits — after taxes — have averaged 6.0 per cent of the national income. "While this has been going on, labor's share of the national income has risen progressively. It is now 70 per cent, the highest in the last 20 years." The President's main theme was that Polish Communists' efforts to move out of the Moscow orbit prove that once-free peoples eventually will throw off despotism. He said American labor has a part to play in helping guide workers in other countries to the fruits of democracy.

Eisenhower's 1,700-word statement on nuclear tests made no reference to Russian Premier Bulganin's renewal last week of his proposal for an agreement to ban all testing of both atomic and hydrogen bombs. But he said, as he had done in sharply rejecting that proposal, that "the refusal of the Soviet Union to accept any dependable system of mutual safeguards" is the only thing which has stymied international agreement on arms reduction. He said that in the last two years Russia has rejected 14 specific U.S. disarmament proposals. Stevenson has contended that if Russia did not go along with any move to halt H-bomb tests, this country would detect any test explosions and then could resume its own test program. Bulganin has argued similarly. Eisenhower termed it "an unverified assumption" that such tests can instantly and surely be detected, although he said it is true that "tests of very large weapons would probably be detected when they occur." But he said it would take time to determine the "size and character" of any weapon tested. In any event, he said, costly time might be lost if this country suspended its tests and then found that Russia was continuing hers. Eisenhower may touch on the issue again when he follows Stevenson by two days into New York City's Madison Square Garden for a televised speech on foreign policy tomorrow night. In a less formal broadcast today, Eisenhower arranged to reply to questions put by a panel of seven women on a program, originating in a Washington studio, to be carried nationally by CBS radio and TV. While Eisenhower in his bomb statement made no mention of his Democratic opponent by name, an accompanying chronology of disarmament negotiations made two references to proposals by "Mr. Stevenson" on moves to end H-bomb tests. Another accompanying document — they aggregated some 6,000 words in all — was a description of the U.S. testing program. Eisenhower had directed the Atomic Energy Commission, the Department of Defense and other agencies to cooperate in preparation of the documents.

Nixon Invades Illinois, Where GOP Wavers

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON, Illinois Vice President Nixon opens two days of intensive campaigning in Illinois today seeking to nail down a state where Republicans are worried about effects of a scandal in the state administration. The vice president whistle-stops clear across the state from south to north today, then leaves his train for a well-filled day in the Chicago area tomorrow. He is understood to feel that the widely publicized embezzlement case involving former Republican State Auditor Orville E. Hodge has made uncertain otherwise rosy prospects for the GOP in the home state of Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson. Hodge was the Republican nominee to succeed himself as auditor until the state check scandal broke in July. He now is serving federal and state prison terms after pleading guilty to charges growing out of misuse of about 1 1/2 million dollars in state funds. The vice president gave a clue yesterday at Kalamazoo, Mich., to how he will handle this issue. A heckler displayed a sign calling attention to the Hodge case. The vice president took no direct notice of this but commented that "in any administration as big as this one at either the state or national level you'll find persons guilty of violation of the public trust. "But when we find dishonesty, we clean it up rather than cover it up." At South Bend, Ind., last night the vice president made a hard-hitting attack on Stevenson on the issue of ending H-bomb tests. He charged that the Democratic nominee's proposal for halting the tests was the same that Russian Premier Bulganin advanced last Saturday in a letter to President Eisenhower.

Adoption of this proposal, Nixon asserted, "would be playing right into the Communists' hands." He called on Stevenson to join "in support of the Eisenhower proposal for disarmament with inspection and against the Bulganin proposals which contain the same fatal flaw that Mr. Stevenson's proposals contain — agreement without inspection." He said Stevenson's suggestions on ending the draft and nuclear tests show he puts "political considerations above national security" and that this action alone is enough to disqualify him for the highest office in the land. "A vote for Stevenson," he said, "is a vote for the weakness, indecision and inexperience which could lead to war. "A vote for Eisenhower is a vote for the strength and decisiveness and the experience which has brought peace and offers the brightest opportunity for keeping the peace without surrender in the years ahead." The vice president finished two days of rail barnstorming in Michigan yesterday proclaiming that he was certain that key state would vote for Eisenhower again this year. On his brief foray into Indiana, which included a visit to Notre Dame University, he was told by Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) that the Hoosier State was safe for the President.

Never before in history has anything built by man traveled so far in so short a time — by land or sea!

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers. Under supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops. In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records. This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah . . . it was the longest left turn in history. A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words. That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves. We wanted them to prove to you—in action—the stamina and performance we had built into them. No words of ours could speak with equal conviction. Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad. We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them. Here is what they did: They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah. Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving. Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea! But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too! A test, indeed, such as no cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded. We feel that by their deeds, you shall know the '57 Ford cars. Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell! Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

On Display Thursday

The 1957 Nash Ambassador will go on display Thursday at Lockhart-Collins Nash, 1011 Gregg. The model above illustrates the Nash "lightning streak" styling and the four-lamp headlight system featured on the new cars. It is powered by a 255-horsepower V-8 engine. It is the Country Club hardtop sedan.

New Nash Models To Be Shown Thursday At Lockhart-Collins

Featuring a four-headlight system and a new V-8 engine developing 255 horsepower, the 1957 Nash Ambassador goes on display tomorrow at Lockhart-Collins Nash, 1011 Gregg.

The new Nash also boasts of "lightning streak" styling, increased maneuverability and more luxurious interiors. The new models are two inches lower than the 1956 cars.

The new headlight system has two lamps mounted vertically in each fender. All four lamps are used for the high beam while only the upper two are used for the low beam.

Roy Abernethy, vice president of automotive distribution and marketing for American Motors Corp., said the new headlight system is the greatest advance in automobile lighting since the advent of sealed-beam units.

Night driving tests made by American Motors proved that the new system supplies up to 100 extra feet of illumination, while at the same time concentrating the light in such a way that oncoming drivers are not blinded, said Abernethy. The upper lamps direct more light down the right side of the road, and the two lower lights probe down the highway.

The 1957 styling changes begin at the front with the chrome-cased headlights set in the fenders. The massive new oval grille is of rectangular-mesh design. In the grille's center is a wide-spread golden "V" above which is the Nash emblem. The parking-turning lights are atop the front fenders.

These lights are visible from the side of the car.

The roof has been lowered 1 1/4 inches this year and the new models have 14-inch wheels, instead of the customary 15-inch wheels. The tire size has been increased to 8.00 by 14, resulting in a net reduction in overall height of two inches. The car now is only five feet high.

On the sides, the front fenders have full wheel cutouts, which reduce the turning diameter from 44 feet 4 inches to 42 feet. This change gives the new Nash maneuverability comparable to that of much smaller cars, Abernethy said.

Steering also has been improved with a new 18 to 1 ratio gear box. The steering gear box incorporates new bearings, thereby reducing steering effort.

The new side "lightning streak" color spear results in a feeling of motion. A single chrome molding is used on the side of Ambassador Super models.

All 1957 Nash models are powered by the new, larger AMC V-8 engine, rated at 255 horsepower. Nash Motors' top horsepower in 1956 was 220.

A four-barrel carburetor is standard equipment. It has a compression ratio of 9 to 1, displacement of 327 cubic inches and torque rating of 345 foot-pounds. The engine has a large bore and short stroke, 4 inches by 3 1/4 inches, plus three-ring pistons to give low friction operation. Three transmissions — Flashway Hydra-Matic, overdrive, and synchromesh — are available with the V-8 powerplant. Selecto-Lift starting is used on cars with Flashway Hydra-Matic. The shift lever is lifted to activate the starter. The car can be started only in N (neutral) or P (park).

Tail-pipes on the standard twin-exhaust system are point downward and are hidden by the rear bumpers.

Four models are available in the 1957 Nash line. They are the Ambassador Custom Country Club hardtop, Ambassador Super Country Club hardtop, Ambassador Custom four-door sedan, and Ambassador Super four-door sedan.

Interiors have been redesigned and color keyed to the exteriors. Upholsteries are offered in a wide variety of metallic fabrics with vinyl or leather bolsters. Seats on the 1957 Nash measure 65 inches, the widest in the industry.

Padded instrument panels continue to be standard equipment on all models, as are padded survivors on Custom models. The latter will be optional on Super models. Seat belts again are offered. A total of 15 solid colors are offered in the 1957 line, 11 of which are entirely new. Four are metallic — plum, avocado, cinnamon bronze and gotham gray. Five three-tone color combinations are available on Custom models. Twelve two-tones can be obtained on Customs, while seven are available on Super models. The 1957 Nash retains such features as reclining seats, twin travel beds, deep-coil suspension for a smoother ride, bondrized finishes to prevent rusting, and unitized construction, under which the body and frame members are fused into one integral unit with more than 9,000 electric welds. The 1957 Nash has long, frictionless coil springs on all four wheels, a wider tire and a wider front tread. The new front-tread measurement is 59 1-16 inches. Power brakes are standard equipment on Custom models and optional on Super. Optional on both series are power steering and power window lifts. The wheelbase of 1957 Nash models is 121 1/4 inches, while the overall length is 209 1/4 inches. The optional continental tire adds 10 inches to the length.

Payday For Depositors

FORT WORTH (AP)— It was payday for depositors at River Oaks State Bank yesterday. The line started forming before 7 a.m. By 8 a.m., 40 persons were in line and by 9 a.m. more than 200 had queued up to draw their money from the defunct bank.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. was paying off with government checks. No officers or employees of the bank, which is in receivership, were on hand. The crowd at the bank's doors was made up of expectant mothers, women with babies, men wearing suits and men wearing work clothes.

Among the group also was a number of Carswell AFB airmen and officers. The crowd was quiet and orderly. Most conversation centered around the cooperation of firms which had received their bad checks.

Several men were asked if they would consider putting funds into a new River Oaks Bank.

Most said a bank certainly was needed but one said he wouldn't consider it unless there was a "complete housecleaning."

An armored motor service car took cash from the vault away from the bank to be deposited in a downtown bank. This money had nothing to do with depositors.

H-Bomb Is Theme In Texas Politics

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The hydrogen bomb was still the center of the presidential race in Texas Wednesday, with the farm problem running a close second.

Senate Majority Leader Johnson charged Tuesday that the Republicans are "playing politics" with the H-bomb.

Speaker Rayburn said he feared the Eisenhower administration had fallen into a propaganda trap by rejecting the latest proposal by Russian Premier Bulganin on ending nuclear tests.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, publisher of the Houston Post and a former member of Eisenhower's Cabinet, hit at Democratic presidential candidate Stevenson's H-bomb proposals. She spoke at Lubbock and Midland.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), speaking at El Paso at a Democratic rally, denied a Republican senator's claim that the United States has perfected and tested a "clean" thermo-nuclear bomb which has no poisonous fallout.

Asst. Sec. of Agriculture Ervin Peterson, speaking at Houston, called for a return to self-reliance and individual responsibility in farming.

Sen. Long of Louisiana charged in a speech at San Angelo that "there has never been a time during this Republican administration when the farmers, workers and small businessmen all were prosperous at the same time."

The Dallas Times Herald said President Eisenhower would fly to Texas for campaign speeches in Dallas and Houston Monday, but the White House refused to confirm the report.

State Sen. Bracewell, speaking at a Cuero Democrats-for-Ike rally, praised Eisenhower as "the symbol of peace."

The Abilene Reporter News announced its support of the Democratic ticket in the Nov. 6 election.

On the state scene, Gov. Shivers was urged to speed up calling a special election to fill Price Daniel's Senate post lest some people be led to believe Shivers wants to appoint someone to the job.

The demand came from H. O. Woodward of Coleman, a former Shivers partisan and now a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee's legal subcommittee.

Johnson's statement came in response to requests for comment on the H-bomb issue. Stevenson has called for abandonment of nuclear weapons tests provided the Russians also give up the tests.

Eisenhower has said the tests are needed to keep the nation strong.

"The Republicans are getting desperate when they play politics with the H-bomb, the nation's foreign policy or the nation's defense," Johnson said.

Johnson cited President Eisenhower's earlier plan for air inspection of disarmament agreements. He said Stevenson's and Eisenhower's proposals "were the same in principle. The only difference is that the Democrats did not play politics with President Eisenhower's proposal."

Johnson's statement came as pro-Eisenhower forces demanded that pro-Stevenson forces in Texas give their views.

Anderson, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, said "Our scientists may know how to build a 'clean' bomb, but I know they have never done it."

Sen. Hickenlooper of Iowa issued the "clean" bomb report Monday.

Peterson addressed the 41st annual meeting of the National Assn. of County Agricultural Agents in Houston.

He said county agents should not plead any particular agricultural policy but should place the facts before the farm people so that they can make their own decisions.

Farmers, he said, must recapture their once-famous individualism and put more emphasis on the opportunities offered by realistic marketing practices rather than hunt for some system of complete security.

Shivers was travelling and not available for comment on Woodward's statement.

Satellite System Beginning To Crack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top American officials are swinging around to the belief that Russia's Eastern European satellite system is beginning to crack up.

This view apparently was reflected by President Eisenhower last night in a reference to the revolt against Soviet domination in Poland.

"The fruits of imperialism," Eisenhower said in a speech at a labor dinner here, "are discontent, unrest, riots in one place and demonstrations in another, until the tyranny exercised over them either dissolves or is expelled."

Eisenhower implied American readiness to aid the Poles or any other people who would successfully assert their independence of Moscow and seek American help. He did this in outlining this four-point policy for the United States "as the champion of human freedom":

"First, so to conduct ourselves in all our international relations that we never compromise the fundamental principle that all people who have proved themselves capable of self-government have a right to an independent government of their own full, free choice."

"Second, so to help those freedom-loving peoples who need and want and can profitably use our aid that they may advance in their ability for self-support and may add strength to the security and peace of the free world."

"Third, so to manage our commerce with other nations that we are joined with them in a genuine partnership of trade, fostering a spiral of mutually shared prosperity and abundance that will be proof against all propaganda and subversion.

"Fourth, so to exemplify at home the opportunities, the rewards for work well done—all the good things of a free system—that the world will recognize in human freedom the sure road to human good."

The President did not spell out in detail how he would apply these points, particularly the ones having to do with aid and with trade.

But the implication was strong that the administration is ready to develop toward Poland a policy comparable to that which it has followed in the case of assistance to Yugoslavia, which broke with Moscow in 1948.

Administration authorities are not sure yet how far the break between Warsaw and Moscow will go. They do not know, for example, whether it will mean a lessening of Poland's commerce with Russia and a really new political orientation of Poland.

Yugoslavia, which broke under entirely different circumstances, developed a neutral position as between the Soviet and Western Power blocs. Some informed officials here doubt that the Poles can shift their policies to that degree since they have a common frontier with the Soviet Union.

In these conditions of uncertainty about Poland's future position, the attitude of the State Department is to go slow in formulating American policy beyond looking into the possibilities of economic assistance and broadly asserting American support for securing and expanding Poland's independence of action.

But officials who were reluctant a few days ago to jump to any sweeping conclusions about the scope of the Polish revolt against Moscow control now say privately that what has happened there must be considered as only a beginning of things to come throughout the satellite system.

Furthermore, it is believed that the longer the Soviet rulers refrain from using military forces to suppress the drive for independence the less likely its use becomes.

'Real Barn-Burner' Seeks Senate Seat

By JAMES HUTCHESON
SEATTLE (AP)—The governor who spoke with the restraint of a college lecturer as keynote for the Republican National Convention has become a bare-knuckle campaigner in his fight for a U. S. Senate seat.

"A real barn-burner" was the label one newspaperman in a farming district pinned on Gov. Arthur B. Langlie's local blast against Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, Democrat, who seeks a third term.

With Magnuson campaigning on personal popularity and Senate seniority, the governor is concentrating on an attempt to undermine public confidence in his rival, who has served 20 years in Congress. In speeches and pamphlets, the governor has hammered at the ethics, the industriousness and the social life of the senator.

He blasts at the senator's slogan of "getting things done for everyone" as "the Magnuson myth." He calls it the product of a high-powered publicity machine.

Most sideline observers agree Magnuson still is a heavy favorite in a contest that comes close to overshadowing state interest in the presidential race.

Both were unopposed in the primary election and Magnuson polled 153,000 more votes than Langlie in their "popularity contest."

Langlie admitted after the prestige setback he would have to convince a lot of voters to change before November.

There has been no concrete evidence that either the personal blasts at Magnuson or President Eisenhower's plug for the governor on his visit to the state last week have given Langlie the boost he needs.

His aides point out, however, that in each of his three successful races for governor he won after polling fewer votes than the Democrats in the primary. In another he didn't — and lost.

One major issue on which the two candidates clash head on is the power question and the issue of a federally financed Hells Canyon high dam on the Snake River. Magnuson generally has the support of the public-power advocates in this power-conscious region.

But the arguments over horsepower and kilowatts have been overshadowed by Langlie's attempts to undermine Magnuson's advantage with a barrage of personal attacks.

He has challenged the ethics of Magnuson's acquisition of radio station and airline stocks while holding a key Senate post in which the governor contends Magnuson can influence the welfare of the firms. Langlie made public his own income tax returns and suggested Magnuson do likewise.

Adlai Takes Aim At Business 'Giants'

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today the Eisenhower administration has "confused genuine friendship for business with smuggling intimacy, toward a few of its giants."

"We Democrats . . . reject the idea of an America in which everyone is on the payroll of a few giant corporations," he declared in a speech prepared for a luncheon of businessmen supporters.

The Democratic presidential nominee contended, at the start of a 12-hour schedule of rallies in the city and surrounding counties, that because of Republican policies small business is being "squeezed by the growing giants, buffeted by the merger movement, strangled by high interest rates."

Stevenson's shift to discussion of Republican economic actions came after a whip-cracking assault on President Eisenhower's foreign policies, and on Secretary of State Dulles and Vice President Nixon, before a cheering throng in Madison Square Garden last night.

The partisan, banner-waving crowd filled all seats affording a view of the speaker. Democratic leaders said 18,000 were on hand. Several hundred seats, blocked off by platform installations, remained empty. None were turned away as in 1952 when Stevenson spoke in the Garden.

The crowd alternately cheered sallies against Eisenhower and boomed mention of Dulles and Nixon.

Stevenson himself had drawn some scattered boos among the cheerers from a small crowd of bystanders as he left his hotel to drive to the Garden. But the audience in the hall gave him one of the biggest welcomes of his campaign.

Introducing Stevenson, Gov. Averell Harriman supported the nominee's proposal for ending hydrogen bomb tests. He said Eisenhower, in his opposition to the proposal, had "fallen into the Kremlin propaganda trap."

Uncle Roy: Buchanan Was Only Bachelor President

By RAMON COFFMAN
Other presidential campaigns besides those I have treated have held special excitement, but I shall use the remaining space in this series to answer questions.

Q. Is it true that some presidents have changed their names?
A. None has made a complete change, but given names have been dropped by four men who later became president. These were Hiram Ulysses Grant, Stephen Grover Cleveland, Thomas Woodrow Wilson and John Calvin Coolidge. Besides dropping his first name, Grant added a middle name, "Simpson," making his initials "U. S. G."

Q. Has any bachelor ever been elected president?
A. Yes, James Buchanan. He was engaged to be married during his twenties, but his fiancée died. Grief over her loss seems to have kept him from further thought of marriage.

Buchanan, however, did not allow sorrow to keep him from a

Socialist Candidate Doubts U. S. Has Reached GOP Goal

READING, Pa. (AP)—Peace, prosperity and progress? Darlington Hoopes, Socialist party presidential candidate, doesn't believe the United States has attained that happy status.

Hoopes, a 60-year-old Reading attorney, said today "it is false to claim that America has prospered when poverty continues to grow amidst the plenty."

"The rich, he said, are getting richer."

Hoopes was the Socialist vice-presidential candidate when Norman Thomas headed the party's national ticket in 1944 and 1948. When Thomas refused to try for the presidency for the seventh time in 1952 Hoopes got the nod. He polled 21,000 votes.

"The issue that we are stressing the most is the continuance of poverty amidst plenty in the United States," he said in an interview.

"The U. S. census figures show that in 1954 the poorest 20 per cent of the people received less than 5 per cent of the total income. If you study that a little it means that 34 million persons, including 10 million children, have average family incomes of $1,313 or $25.25 per week, before taxes.

"When you go just a little further and find that 14 million persons, including 12½ million children, live in families with average weekly income of less than $12 you can't help wondering how they exist."

"The Socialist party would wipe out what Hoopes called 'uneared property income'—rents, interest, dividends and capital gains.

"The only way you are going to stop this unfair distribution of income and end poverty amidst plenty is for the people collectively to take over the businesses and industries and run them democratically for the purpose of providing goods and services for the people rather than making profits for the rich owners," Hoopes declared.

"In all cases it will be public ownership and democratic management to produce for the public welfare instead of for rich profit of the rich owners."

"This is socialism," Hoopes contended, "and differs from communism as day does from night."

On the issue of "peace" Hoopes criticized the Republican argument that lack of actual military combat signifies the world is at peace.

"This is absurd," he said. "The way to peace is a worldwide elimination of economic suffering. The way to defeat communism is to raise the living standard of the poor and oppressed in Asia, Eastern Europe, Africa and Latin America."

"The Socialist party isn't spending a lot of money to advertise its program. It is on the presidential ballot in only about 10 states — the biggest, Wisconsin — and Hoopes said, "I won't spend more than the $150 it cost me in the 1952 campaign."

Hoopes, associated in his law office with his eldest son Darlington Jr., said he believes that "within the next 10 years there will be a political realignment in the United States."

He said that "socially minded liberals and labor will line up on the one side against the conservatives who are for the present system and against every kind of social reform that we support."

career of public service. He was elected to both houses of Congress, was American minister to Russia, and held the position of secretary of state before he was elected president.

Another president, Grover Cleveland, was married again during his second year in the White House.

Q. Did Grover Cleveland have anything to do with the name of the city of Cleveland?
A. Nothing at all! The city was named 41 years before Grover Cleveland was born.

Grover Cleveland intended to settle in the city, and at the age of 17 left Caldwell, N. J., to set out on the westward journey. Along the way he visited an uncle in Buffalo, and this relative persuaded him to stay there and study law. Later he became the mayor of Buffalo.

Tebbetts Is Named Skipper Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP)—George (Birdie) Tebbetts, who almost steered the underdog Cincinnati Redlegs into the World Series, today was named National League Manager of the Year in the Associated Press annual poll.

Tebbetts won easily. He received 160 of the 207 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America.

TEBBETTS

Fred Weyer of Milwaukee was named 34 ballots. Walt Alston, who guided the Brooklyn Dodgers to the league title, received only six votes. Bobby Bragan of Pittsburgh had five and Fred Hutchinson of St. Louis and Mayo Smith of Philadelphia got one each.

A patient although sometimes fiery manager, Tebbetts molded the Redlegs into a leading pennant contender in one year. They were not eliminated from the race until the next-to-last day of the season and finished in third place only two games behind Brooklyn and one behind Milwaukee.

Birdie had no 20-game winning pitcher in his third season at the Cincinnati helm. His top victory man was Brooks Lawrence with 19. With help from Hershell Freeman, who had 14 wins in relief, Tebbetts maneuvered and improvised, getting 91 triumphs from an admittedly weak staff.

Despite injuries to Ted Kluszewski and a subpar midseason showing by Wally Post, the Redlegs held a 1 1/2-game lead over Milwaukee at the All-Star break (July 8). Four days later they fell from first place but remained in contention.

It was the first time since 1944

Bailey Named Top Lineman

By TED MEIER
The Associated Press

A bit of quick thinking earned Ed Bailey Syracuse guard, the Associated Press Lineman of the Week award today.

The play came in the final quarter of last Saturday's Syracuse-Army game at Syracuse. The Orange led 7-0 but here was Army on the Syracuse 2-inch line and fourth down. It seemed a cinch the Cadets would score.

Army's Vince Barta bucked into the line. There was a big pileup but it appeared that Barta had made it. When the officials got the players unscrambled they ruled no TD.

It developed later that while the top portion of Barta's body had gone over the goal line, the hall had not because of Bailey's alert thinking. He got his hands on the ball in Barta's arms and kept the Army player from working the ball into the goal line.

It was a fitting climax to a great day for Bailey. The 206-pound junior played a fine defensive game against the Cadets.

Other nominees included: Billy Ray Smith, Arkansas tackle; Norman Hamilton, Texas Christian tackle; Charles Krueger, Texas A&M tackle and Walt Brodie, William and Mary center.

Trojans, Purple, Bears Choice To Win Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—One can get poor in a hurry picking against Notre Dame's football team but there is every indication that it can be done this time without injury.

The Irish sophomores, who could sell at any moment now have a record of one triumph in four games, Oklahoma, erstwhile No. 1 in the nation, hasn't been defeated since Notre Dame did it in the 1953 season opener.

Other picks on this week's schedule (last week's record 38-10 for 792. Season's figures: 172-49-778):

Michigan State over Illinois: A spot for an upset if Michigan State has let down too far after its victory over Notre Dame last Saturday.

Georgia Tech over Tulane: Very quietly, Tulane has built a strong record in the Deep South but this time it collides with Wade Mitchell, Tippy Vann and all those other speedy Engineers.

Tennessee over Maryland: Too many Marylanders on the injured list.

Michigan over Minnesota: Neither team too strong on defense but Michigan has Ron Kramer.

Southern California over Stanford: This is Jon Arnett's farewell as a Trojan—and Stanford will be glad he's among the alumni after this.

Baylor over Texas A&M: The Aggies gave their all last Saturday while Baylor rested. Home field means the difference.

Texas Christian over Miami: Jim Swink can't be held in check on successive Saturdays.

Pittsburgh over Oregon: Oregon has scored only two touchdowns in its last three games.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY
Denver over New Mexico
George Washington over William & Mary.

SATURDAY
East: Syracuse over Boston University, Brown over Rhode Island.

Giardello Stock Soars After Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Giardello's upset knockout of Bobby Boyd has boosted the rowdy Philadelphia back among the middleweight elite and has earned him the Fighter of the Month award from Ring Magazine.

Out of the Ring ratings since he served a jail term for assault, Giardello hit the jackpot when he flattened Boyd, then the No. 2 middleweight contender, in the fifth round at Cleveland Sept. 28. As a result, Boyd was dropped to seventh and the unranked Giardello was rewarded with a No. 6 slot in the latest ratings released today.

Religious Hour Features Glass

WACO (AP)—Baylor's Religious Hour, a student-directed devotional service, will focus attention on football tonight. Bill Glass, guard, is presiding officer. Bobby Jones, Charles Bradshaw, Larry Hickman and Farrell Fisher, other Baylor players, will appear on the program.

Pardee, Glass Top Candidates

DALLAS (AP)—Huge Jack Pardee, a fullback who played with bandages for shoulder pads; Norman Hamilton, a squatty, roughhouse tackle; and Bill Glass, giant guard, have been projected as the Southwest Conference's leading contenders for All-America.

But Jim Swink, the classy runner from TCU who made the team last season, and Walt Fendren, Texas' jack of all trades, are given almost as much backing.

Swink wasn't noticed much until last week when he returned to the form of 1955 in a slashing game against Texas A&M.

Pardee is the Aggie fullback who played a whole game against Houston without telling his coach he had suffered a damaged shoulder on the kickoff. He went in last week against TCU and worked more than 50 minutes with his shoulder all swathed in bandages, with each block and tackle a burden. Coach Bryant said Pardee played his worst game but he looked like a million to the press box.

Hamilton is the 225-pounder who does everything for TCU. He did it against A&M although his team lost 7-6. Glass is the 6-foot-4, 210-pound terror of the Baylor line.

Those five men got the most mention from The Associated Press Regional Board in the first call-over of All-America candidates this season.

Others backed by the board were Chuck Curtis, TCU quarterback; Gerald Nesbitt, Arkansas runner; Charley Arnold, passer of SMU; Dennis Goehring, Aggie guard; Larry Whitmore, Rice tackle, and Billy Ray Smith, Arkansas tackle.

Making up the regional board this year are Clark Nealon, Houston Post; Lou Maysel, Austin American; Bill Rives, Dallas News; Charles Carder, Bryan Daily Eagle, and Dave Campbell, Waco News-Tribune.

New Method Works But It's Illegal

LONDON (AP)—The world's javelin throwers rested easy today, they won't have to develop a new style for the Olympic Games next month.

By the simple method of adding one sentence to the rules, the International Amateur Athletic Federation yesterday killed the revolutionary Spanish-style of tossing the javelin.

Here is what was added to the regulations:

"At no time after preparing to throw until the javelin has been discharged into the air may the competitor turn completely round so that his back is toward the throwing arc. This will come into effect forthwith."

The Spanish style of throwing the spear was started only last month by Felix Erauzquin of Spain who decided to swirl around—something like a discus thrower—before letting go.

He just missed matching the recognized world record of 274 feet 5 1/2 inches and eyebrows throughout the track and field world were raised. Several of the best throwers tried it and Egil Danielsen of Norway, the Olympic favorite got off a breathtaking flip of 307-4 1/2.

Grady Wins Two Games At Knott

KNOTT (SC)—Grady Junior High School basketball teams won two games from Knott clubs here Monday evening.

The Grady girls prevailed, 44-22, as Graves hit 20 points. Brenda Woods let Knott with nine.

The Grady boys won, 40-34. Gene McWaters paced Knott with 13 points while Burchett connected for 19 of Grady's total.

Nixon Adds A Presley Joke To Repertoire

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON, in Illinois (P)—Vice President Nixon has added an Elvis Presley joke to his repertoire to match his adversary, Sen. Estes Kefauver, in this respect.
Kefauver has been telling audiences all over the country that Republican orators this fall are making promises which remind him of a record by the Memphis rock 'n' roll singer.
"The title of that record is, 'I Want You, I Need You, I Love You,'" says the Tennesseean. "But after the election is over, the Republicans will put on another record by Elvis. 'You Ain't Nothing But A Hound Dog.'" AKT Niles, Mich., yesterday, Nixon unveiled his own Presley joke after a small boy asked him for an autograph.
"You know," the vice president told the crowd. "That reminds me that the other day a boy asked for my autograph and said he wanted me to sign my name twice."
"Do you want to give the second one to your brother or sister?" I asked him.
"Now," he said, "it takes two of yours to get one of Elvis Presley."
But Nixon went on "that shows our campaign is really rolling. A couple of weeks ago, it took four of mine for one of Presley."

Farm Aide Decries 'Political' Solution

HOUSTON (P)—An assistant secretary of agriculture told the 41st annual meeting of the National Assn. of County Agricultural Agents last night "farm problems will not be solved on a political auction block."
Ervin Peterson called for a return to self-reliance and individual responsibility in the farming business.
About 1,500 members heard him say county agents should not plead any particular agricultural policy, but should place the facts before the farm people so they can make their own decisions.
Farmers, he said, must capture their once-famous individualism and put more emphasis on the opportunities offered by realistic marketing practices rather than hunt for some system of complete security.
There are two main fallacies that are stumbling blocks to the return to normal agricultural production and marketing, Peterson said. One is the belief that rigid support prices result in good prices for farm goods, especially in time of war. The other is the idea that supports are the answer to farm income problems, he said.
The secretary said there is no single answer to present farm problems, but policies that ignore the requirements of the market place are certainly not the solution.
Five farmers and ranchers quizzed the secretary on current farm problems earlier in the day.
Panel members were W. D. McMillan, Wharton County cotton grower; A. C. Machehmel Jr., Austin County poultryman; C. T. Joseph Jr., Chambers County rice farmer; Carter Thomas, DeWitt County cattleman, and James Price, Montgomery County dairyman.
Roger Fleming, executive secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation, also advocated the opportunity system. He said the Farm Bureau works to preserve opportunity for each farmer.
R. H. McDougall of Butler, Penn., was named president of the NAACA for the coming year. Marion Bunnell of Yakima, Wash., vice president, and Carl Rose of Fayetteville, Ark., secretary-treasurer.
Today's activities included a discussion of 4-H work, a talk by Gov. Faubus of Arkansas and a panel discussion of extension service at the local level.

Friendly Ghost Haunts Church

TORQUAY, England (P)—The vicar says that when Henry plays the organ in vine-covered St. John's Church the music is something, but you can't help noticing you can see right through him.
The vicar, the Rev. Anthony Rouse, reported the matter today to the Church of England's Fellowship for Physical Study.
The ghost is supposed to be Henry Ditton Newman, a former church organist who died as a young man in 1883.
The Rev. Mr. Rouse said there was some evidence that the organ played on its own during Newman's funeral. He added:
"I myself have heard the organ play twice at night. I can't tell you the music. It is sweet, but sort of heavy. I have heard it just for a few minutes."
"Quite a few members of the choir have been conscious of someone standing by the organ when they were singing unaccompanied, as if the organist had got off his stool and was at their side."
Ancient services to exercise Henry have been held but they have not driven him out. A former vicar, the Rev. Sir Patrick Ferguson-Davie, who had trouble with Henry prowling around in the vicarage, thinks Henry will always be around.
"Unusual ghost in a way," Sir Patrick said. "He is very happy. He doesn't want to go away."

U. S. Businessmen Wonder If New Trade Zone Grows

NEW YORK (P)—Turmoil in Poland sets American businessmen to wondering today if a new twilight zone of world trade may be in the making.
While they wait to see how things turn out in Poland and in Hungary—whether these and other Communist lands join Yugoslavia in squirming out, at least partially, from under the Kremlin's thumb—Western businessmen weigh the chances of a boost in the near future to the already slowly reviving East-West trade.
First reaction came on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday, where grain futures advanced sharply on the chance that a more independent Poland might become eligible for American aid in the form of surplus farm products.
"Unusual ghost in a way," Sir Patrick said. "He is very happy. He doesn't want to go away."
