PLANE AND AIRMAN BLOWN TO BITS

Webb Mechanic Takes T-33 Jet, Dies in Crash

CRATER WHERE T-33 PLUNGED TO GROUND NEAR COSDEN
Crash occurred just north of U. S. 80 west of refinery

Jet Hits Earth Near Refinery

A young airman, apparently acting on the impulse of the moment, set out Wednesday evening to prove to himself that he could fly a jet airplane.
He was wrong.
A blinding flash, a crater and exploding wreckage across U.S. Highway 80 barely west of Cosden Petroleum Corporation's big refinery testified to his tragic folly.
A-2c George Albert St. Germain, a mechanic at Webb AFB, was blown to bits as was the T-33 trainer on which he was performing routine work.
While Capt. Lawrence W. Moellenberg and his student officer, 2nd Lt. Van DeRiet tried vainly to tell the young airman how to level the plane, St. Germain streaked to his death.
Meanwhile, Mrs. J. R. Phillips, 63, of Big Spring was injured fatally in a collision of her car and one driven by Sheriff Jess Slaughter, who was hurrying to help establish a road block near the air base.
Earlier in the afternoon Webb had been stunned by word that one of its jets, flown by two officers, stationed here, had collided in mid-air with a small private plane, plummeting them and five civilians to a fiery death inside Midland's city limits.
There was no accounting for the weird story of Airman St. Germain.
A veteran of 4 1/2 years of service in the Air Force, he had flown 21 missions aboard B-26's in Korea as a flight engineer with the 3rd Bomb Wing.
"He had some experience in a Link trainer (a ground instrument which simulates the controls of an airplane in flight), but he was a mechanic. He had never flown any sort of aircraft alone, so far as could be learned immediately.
Then suddenly, there he was — alone — thousands of feet up in the air — talking calmly to the mobile control tower and then to Capt. Moellenberg.
How he got there is more fantastic than fiction.
St. Germain was working on the jet trailer on the line, in the normal performance of duty. This included taxiing the craft up a d down the long concrete apron to test motor adjustments and other details.
The mobile control tower spotted him easing into an area in which he had no business while testing. Attempts to contact him by radio met with silence.
Now he was out on the runway, with training missions in progress. Frantically, the tower gave him the red light (the "no" sign), but on the jet moved, gaining momentum. Someone made a daring but futile attempt to head off the craft in a pickup truck.
Down the runway the trainer roared, eased off the ground and began its slow climb. Steadily it gained speed and altitude. Still silence.
The time was 8:30 p.m.
Approximately 15 minutes later his voice came through to the mobile control tower. In an even voice, St. Germain gave his position and altitude — about 5,000 feet. First Lt. Carleton K. Sprague, working feverishly from inside the tower, reassured the young airman and told him that they would "talk" him down.
"Will it interfere with the training mission?" asked St. Germain. No, it would not, Lt. Sprague told him. Again St. Germain said: (See PLANE, Page 10-A. Col. 4)

Battle Still On In Hungary

VIENNA — Hungarian rioting continued today, and Premier Imre Nagy promised he will negotiate with Moscow to withdraw its occupation troops if the rebels will end their revolution.
Nagy went on the radio to appeal for the rebellious forces of students and workers to lay down their arms and help his new government.
He promised that if they did so the country would get a new deal. "As soon as order is re-established those troops which were called by our government to help will be withdrawn," he said.
Apparently this meant that as soon as the revolution ended the Russian troops, tanks and jet plane pilots would be recalled to their bases. Then Nagy would take up negotiations with Moscow to have the four or five Soviet divisions in Hungary evacuated to Russia.
Broadcasters in Budapest claimed Soviet and Hungarian troops were slowly crushing the anti-Soviet rebellion — but fighting went on.
There were no late figures on casualties, but travelers from Hungary last night said hundreds had been reported killed in Budapest alone.
Wladyslaw Gomulka, new boss of the Polish Communist party, told Poles last night it depends on them "how long Soviet troops may remain" in Poland. In the next breath he made it clear the occupation troops would remain as long as the West has military installations in West Germany.
Both the Hungarian and Polish leaders, on the surface at least, would like to see the occupation forces get out. But in this they likely face the opposition of Russian military leaders, including Soviet Defense Minister Georgi K. Zhukov. The Russian military men feel they cannot abandon any of their "forward" positions in Europe. For instance, if they withdrew from Poland, what about East Germany? If they withdrew from Hungary, what about Czechoslovakia?
Anyway, Nagy promised the Hungarian people he would try to make a deal with the Russians on this hot issue. He said he would seek a "complete withdrawal of Soviet forces."
In his speech Nagy offered clemency again to the anti-Soviet rebels who were still fighting in the streets of Budapest even as he broadcast. Those who insist on continuing the rebellion "will feel the full strength of the law," he declared.
Nagy promised that in future relations with Russia Hungary will insist on "complete national independence and friendly equality."
He was following the line of Yugoslavia's President Tito and Poland's Gomulka, who have driven for an "independent road to socialism." Nagy apparently intended to open the "Hungarian road to socialism" in order to win the masses to his course of independence.

Adolph Hitler At Last Is Officially Dead

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany — Adolf Hitler was officially declared dead today — 11 years, 5 months and 25 days after he committed suicide and his body burned in the bomb-pocked garden of Berlin's Reich Chancellery.
An official notice said "Adolf Hitler, born April 20, 1889, in Braunau on Inn (Austria) is dead. The time of his death was established as the 30th of April 1945."
At the same time, the Berchtesgaden court and the Bavarian Ministry of Justice made public a 4 1/2-page document on the long-awaited ruling.
It said in part:
"There can no longer exist the least doubt that Hitler took his life by his own hand on April 30, 1945, in the 'fuehrerbunker' of the Reich Chancellery in Berlin, and that he did it by a shot into his right temple."
The statement gave a detailed account of the last days of the Fuehrer, citing testimony by 42 witnesses and also evidence contained in German and foreign documentary references.
The witnesses included Hitler's valet, Heinz Linge, and the Fuehrer's SS (Nazi elite guard) adjutant, former Major Otto Gueunsch, who helped burn Hitler's body with more than 50 gallons of gasoline after the Fuehrer shot himself.
Hitler's bride, Eva Braun, swallowed poison. The long-time mistress and Hitler were married a day before carrying out their suicide pact. Her body was also burned.
Since the end of the war, there has been virtually no doubt in Germany that Hitler was dead. Numerous legends, however, spread abroad that had him hiding out in South America, Tibet, or elsewhere.
The jet wreckage demolished a house and badly damaged an automobile parked in its driveway. The Cessna engine plowed through the roof of another home, smashing into the kitchen just a few feet from a housewife and her two small children.
A body ripped through the roof of a third house and landed in a bathtub. An airplane battery tore through another roof, also winding up in a bathroom.
The baby's body landed in a flower bed.
There was no immediate explanation for the mid-air collision. Capt. Roberts and Lt. Hale were practicing instrument approaches at Midland Air Park, a small field southwest of Midland. Clement had just taken off from Ector County Airport, also a small field southwest of Midland.
L. B. Martin of Dallas, who witnessed the collision, said the two planes appeared to be flying in almost the same direction.

Seven Killed When Planes Collide, Fall Over Midland

Two veteran Webb AFB pilots and five civilians were killed in the crash of two airplanes over Midland Wednesday afternoon, but a score or more of Midland residents weathered a shower of flaming airplane parts and falling bodies without injury.
A T-33 jet from Webb collided with a civilian Cessna 170 over the western edge of Midland about 3 p.m., sending the seven persons to their deaths.
Falling pieces demolished one house and an automobile and damaged several other homes, but miraculously no one on the ground was hurt.
Killed in the crash at about 1,500 feet were Capt. Roy A. Roberts and First Lt. Lowell D. Hale of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Winifred R. Clement and their 13-month-old daughter, Cathy, of Bowie, and Mrs. Clement's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Howard of Vashit.
Pieces of wreckage and bodies hit five homes in the Permian Estates, a middle-class neighborhood in west Midland. Bodies fell in two other yards.

Collision Fatal To Mrs. J. R. Phillips

Mrs. Bonnie Belle Phillips, 63, a resident of Big Spring since 1927, was killed in an auto accident on W. Fourth Wednesday night.
Three others were injured in the collision but none is considered in serious condition. The accident occurred at 1100 W. 4th.
Mrs. Phillips was driving a 1955 Mercury which was hit by a car driven by Sheriff Jess Slaughter. Riding with Mrs. Phillips was Mrs. Estella Yates, and A. E. Long was in the car with Slaughter.
Mrs. Yates is in Cowper Hospital, and Long is at Big Spring Hospital. Slaughter was released after a checkup at Big Spring Hospital Wednesday night.
Slaughter was returning to Big Spring after having helped with a road block on W. Hwy 80 just north of Webb AFB at the time of the accident. He was reported to be on his way to the scene of the plane crash near Cosden.
Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Yates apparently pulled onto Fourth Street from Presidio when they were hit by the car driven by Slaughter. Observers said Slaughter had the siren on at the time.
Police this morning said they had not completed investigation of the incident and could not report how the accident occurred.
The accident happened about 9 p.m. and Mrs. Phillips died in a local hospital at 10:40 p.m., the police said.
She was born on Oct. 21, 1893, in Elgin. She was married to J. R. Phillips on May 19, 1913 and moved to Big Spring from Monument, N. M., in July of 1927. Mr. Phillips died in 1947.
Funeral arrangements are pending, but she will be buried by the side of Mr. Phillips in the city cemetery.
Survivors include a son, J. D. Phillips of Fort Worth; three sisters, Mrs. Bernice Gibson of Lovington, N. M., Mrs. Oma Jewel Rushing, also of Lovington, and Mrs. Vera Knowles of Beaumont; two brothers, W. C. Byrd of Monument and J. D. Byrd of Lovington; and two grandchildren.
Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is handling arrangements.
Mrs. Yates, who resides at 1608 Scurry, is being treated at Cowper Hospital. Doctors said she suffered a fractured left collarbone and four fractured ribs. Although the injuries are painful, doctors did not consider them critical.
The traffic fatality was the second of the year in Big Spring and the 23rd in the county. The other fatality in the city occurred on March 24 when J. J. Alexander was killed in a two-car collision at Fourth and State.
Long, the county juvenile officer, received a cut nose, other cuts about the face and bruises on his knees, none of which are serious.

Armed Thugs Take $9,172 At Arlington Supermarket

ARLINGTON — An armed bandit helped by an accomplice who kept his right hand in his hip pocket escaped with $9,172 at Buddies Supermarket here early today.
The armed bandit forced the night manager, W. C. Miller, 26, to walk across the store to hand him the money from the store's safe at 4:15 a.m.
The companion, who had bought less than $2 worth of groceries, kept the assistant manager, Dudley Knox, at bay while the armed thug forced Miller to hand over the cash.

Plane Shoots Itself Down With Shells From Own Cannon

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore Evening Sun said today a new Navy jet fighter, flying at supersonic speed, shot itself down by running into cannon shells it had fired seconds before.
In a story by Donald Bremner, the paper quoted the Navy in Washington that the fantastic accident—first of its type in aviation history—occurred last month while a test pilot was test firing new 20-mm. cannons over the Atlantic Ocean near Long Island.
Bremner said test pilot Tom Altridge was making a series of diving runs Sept. 21 in an F1H1, a new single-seat carrier-based fighter still undergoing tests by the Grumman Engineering Aircraft Co.

Cold Front Moves Out Toward Gulf

By The Associated Press
A cold front moved across Texas Thursday bringing freezing weather to at least one Panhandle point.
The front, which Thursday morning was on a line from Gainesville southwest through Fort Worth to Del Rio, was expected to sweep out into the Gulf by Friday morning.
Dalhart had 32 degrees early Thursday, lowest in the state. The Weather Bureau said that generally temperatures would drop about 15 degrees in the wake of the front.
The cool air mass was expected to set off widely scattered showers while behind the front skies were clearing rapidly. Tyler and Beaumont, with light showers, were the only points reporting rain.
High afternoon temperatures Wednesday ranged from 93 at Presidio to 76 at Dalhart. El Paso and Amarillo had blowing dust.
Blustery weather, with rain, snow and cool air extended over wide areas from the Dakotas to the western quarter of the country today.
An intense storm moved across the plains and brought rain to the northern and central plains with Northwest, bringing more rain to some areas in the west central plains. A fresh storm hit the Pacific coastal areas and light snow in some inland sections.
But east of the Mississippi River, generally dry weather prevailed except for light rain along the Middle Atlantic Coast and in southern Florida.
The storm in the plains was followed by a surge of cool air and temperatures were 30 degrees lower than yesterday morning in parts of western Nebraska and eastern Colorado. It was below freezing with an inch of snow on the ground at Akron, Colo.
Snow fell in areas from western Montana to New Mexico. Falls ranged up to 8 inches at Rock Springs, Wyo., but a heavier blanket of snow was reported in the mountain areas of the Northwest. Salt Lake City's snowfall, measuring 6 inches, was the heaviest so far in the season.

Poland's New Boss Works To Erect Independent Structure

WARSAW, Poland — Wladyslaw Gomulka, Poland's new Communist party boss, worked today to erect a structure of independent Communism in the wake of a political revolt against Moscow domination.
Official broadcasts said Gomulka and the Politburo of the Polish Communist party had assumed "leadership of the working classes and the entire nation to overcome the mistakes and blunders of the past."
One broadcast said a program would be submitted to the party's central committee Sunday for improvement of economic conditions and the participation of youth in the government.
It promised to lift the "fetters of secrecy" from party affairs and pledged a free election of party officials. A party resolution condemned antisemitism.
Gomulka and other leading members of the Politburo plan to fly to Moscow soon to talk over differences between Polish and Soviet Communist leaders.

Forgets Dope, Goes To Jail

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Gerald P. Velasco told a jury he just plain forgot he was carrying marijuana when he went to San Quentin prison to visit his half brother Velasco, 27, a Hollywood piano player, testified in his superior court trial on charges of possessing narcotics and attempting to smuggle them into the prison.
 "What a stupid thing for me to do," Velasco said he had exclaimed to the guards who checked him entering the prison. Velasco said Hollywood musician friends had given him the marijuana as a sort of going away present. He testified he told the guards he had "used a little the night before and forgot I had it in my pocket."

College Grads Paid Better Than Profs

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Pres. Arthur A. Hauck, citing the need for better faculty salaries at the University of Maine, says many of last June's graduates stepped into jobs paying more than their instructors receive.
 Dr. Hauck said the median salary for instructors at the university is $4,000 a year. Science and engineering graduates averaged starting pay of $5,100, he told Gov. Edmund S. Muskie and the advisory budget committee.

Romance Ends In Suicide Pact

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The note said Mazie Soo Hoo, 18, and Edward Kwong, 21, were going to Reno to get married. And it added "don't try to stop us."
 Mazie's father, Henry, told how he went to Reno to find the young couple — not to stop them but to have a church wedding or at least a big reception.
 When he returned he learned his daughter, a University of California coed and Edward, a sophomore at Menlo College, had been found dead with arms around each other, in a car in the East-Oakland foothills.
 Four suicide notes told of a love pact.
 "We never opposed their marriage," Mazie's father said. "We would have done anything to see them happy."
 He said the two would be buried side by side.

Delivering Own Baby Easier Than Getting Certificate

DETROIT (AP) — A German war bride said delivering her own baby was easier than getting a birth certificate for the child.
 Mrs. Marie Hayes, 30, of suburban Troy, a nurse, gave birth to a seven-pound girl, Rosemary, a week ago while her husband, Luther, was at work.
 The case was not disclosed until Mrs. Hayes applied for a birth certificate. She was told she would have to file a sworn statement that the baby was hers because there were no witnesses.
 "It all happened in about half an hour and I didn't have time to call anyone," she said. "I told my other little girl (2-year-old Heidi) to take her nap."

Delivers Own Baby

Little Rosemary Hayes coos in her mother's arms at home in Detroit several days after she was delivered at home by her mother who was alone at the time. Mrs. Hayes is a former registered nurse in Germany. Her feat was discovered when she applied for a birth certificate. With the new baby and her mother are daughter, Heidi, 2 and husband, Luther, a television technician.

No Bank Failure, Just Tear Gas

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — The Thomas Street branch of the Michigan National Bank closed suddenly with all 14 customers rushing into the street with tears in their eyes.
 Tear gas nozzles over the four cashiers' cages turned on just before closing time, filling the bank with the irritating fog. Bank officials have not been able to determine why the anti-robbery system suddenly started.
 Only one customer, Joyce Ceila of nearby Emmett, was hospitalized, and doctors at the Port Huron General Hospital said she was not seriously hurt.

Grigsby Candidate Of Local 'Y' Group

Local Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members will be "politicking" for the election of Wesley Grigsby as chairman of the house of representatives Saturday.
 Wesley is the nominee of the local chapter for a major office in the annual YMCA "Youth in Government" project at Anatin in December. However, he will be running against other candidates in this area at a pre-legislative meeting Saturday. Whoever this area chooses will be automatically named chairman of the house. Also being pushed as a candidate from here is Toni Thomas as chairman of a committee.

GOOD RECEPTION

Preacher Visits Alaskan Schools

This is another in a series of accounts about Alaska, written by Dr. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, who is in the last week of a mission assignment to Kenai, Alaska.
 Today (Oct. 18) was Alaska Day in this territory. It is the 89th anniversary of our purchase of this rich land from Russia. I shudder to think what the difference would be if modern Russia still owned this strategic land. There would not be a safe spot on the North American continent.
 In studying history I did not get a very favorable impression of Mr. Seward, secretary of state in Lincoln's Cabinet, but now I must admit he was a pretty good international horse-trader. We really got a bargain in Alaska.
 I am surprised at the divided opinions concerning statehood up find here. As far as I can tell the few days I have been here, the more highly educated Alaskans do not want statehood. If time from my busy visitation schedule allows I will look more fully into this. One little piece of politics shows up in the subject of statehood: up here they think the election of Stevenson would be more favorable to their admittance as a state.
 The school superintendent here is considered a bit radical and not much inclined to religion of any sort. But I felt a need of getting closer to the children of Kenai, and although I was told he would not let me in the schools, I boldly went up and asked if arrangements could be made for an assembly. When assured there would be no sectarianism, he readily agreed and gave me a very favorable hour.
 I told a few jokes, especially about Texas, gave some comparisons between Texas and Alaska and then gave a short speech on morals and religion in life. I have received, and since then the children have called to me on the streets, asked me more about Texas and wanted more jokes. I am told by reliable people that children in the territory are advanced in education from a year to a year and a half ahead of the children in the states. They give as the reason that there is no television in most communities, movies only once a week or not at all, and few other distracting influences.
 I have talked to high school boys and girls from freshmen to seniors and am amazed at their maturity of thought. But, how they do need the refining and uplifting influences of the Christian religion. I am doing my best to help plant the seeds for such a movement.
 Dogs! I have never seen so many different kinds of dogs. They are everywhere and no two of them alike. In the states we say that every boy should have a dog; up here every boy has two or three dogs. Most of them are very large dogs but very gentle. And where the dogs end the cats begin. It is a nation of pets.
 Wildlife is abundant up here. They tell me that moose come right up to your door in winter, and we ate a moose supper at the Methodist preacher's house yesterday and he declares he killed the animal in his back yard. Looks like a moose or a chicken would know better than to fool around a Methodist preacher's house. I hope to see a moose on the loose, and, perhaps a Kodiak bear, too, if my binoculars are working good.
 One reason I wanted to come up here was to get away from some things, but every day here in this fisherman's paradise, there are sights that remind me of Leroy Hollingshead and Bud Green. Fishing is about as near perfect as it could be on this earth. I hope to bring back some pictures which may cause people like the ones mentioned above to move up here. If this happens then I will feel that my trip has not been all failure.
 This morning my landlord left out at daylight and was back just after sunrise with eleven beautiful grouse. Ten is the legal limit, but he said he got "two with the last shot," accidentally, of course. Sounds like Obie Bristol on a deer hunting trip.

More Powerful Rambler

The 1957 Rambler, on display today at Lockhart-Collins Nash, 1011 Gregg, features both V-8 and "six" engines. The Rambler Cross Country hardtop station wagon is shown. It is equipped with either the 190-horsepower V-8, the 125 or 135-horsepower "six."

Good Luck Said Answer To Wave Of Bicycle Thefts

A lock is the answer to the wave of bicycle stealing here, Police Sergeant Aubry Standard asserts. The place to leave a bicycle at home is either on a porch, in a garage, or in the back yard. Even when left on the front porch, it would be a safe measure to lock the bike, Standard said. Most of the bicycles stolen here lately have been recovered within a few days. This causes the police department to think that other juveniles are taking them. They use the bicycle for a short ride and then leave it in someone's front yard or on a vacant lot. They are not usually taken for resale, the police sergeant added. Occasionally, however, a juvenile will steal a bike, paint it, take off the accessories, and either sell it or keep it. Then, in most cases, the bikes are never seen again. The department naturally does all it can toward recovering the stolen vehicles, but Standard said the department could get a lot of help from the owners through use of padlocks.

New Rambler On Display In City Today

A general invitation to the people of Big Spring and Howard County to inspect the new 1957 Rambler has been extended by Lockhart & Collins Nash, 1011 Gregg.

First sales of this new model were being made across the nation today. Compactness, economy, new styling, and a higher power-range are features of the 1957 Rambler. A V-8 engine rated at 190 horsepower is available in the new Rambler for the first time. The economy-champion "six," boosted to 125 horsepower also is being shown by dealers.

Effective with this year's models, the Rambler cashes in on its high success in the past for compactness unequalled in any other American car and as a result becomes a separate make of automobile.

In the past it was known as the Nash Rambler or the Hudson Rambler. Now it is an independent product of its own proudly bearing its own name — Rambler.

Lockhart & Collins believe that the Rambler will be one of the most popular of the new 1957 motor cars with Big Spring car buyers. The firm cordially invited every lover of a good automobile to be on hand to day and inspect the amazing new Rambler.

Brennan May Move Q'back

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Coach Terry Brennan of Notre Dame faces one of his biggest football decisions today — whether or not to shift quarterback Paul Hornung to halfback and use an untested sophomore as field general against Oklahoma.

Texas Back

Clair Branch, younger brother of Phil Branch, all-SWC guard in 1952-53, will get another chance to play right halfback for the Steers against Rice Friday night. He distinguished himself at that position against Arkansas last week, gaining 39 yards in eight carries. He'll also handle a corner linebacker post.

Machen Looks To Jackson

PORTLAND, Ore. — Quick-punching Eddie Machens appears headed for a bout with Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson after his sensational knockout of Johnny Holman in a nationally televised heavyweight fight here last night.

Machen, 194½, of Redding, Calif., jabbed the slow but dangerous Holman into befuddlement for six rounds, then cut loose with a vicious barrage of punches that ended the match in 38 seconds of the seventh.

OF ACTIVE PLAYERS

Ted Williams Is Still The Best

NEW YORK — Boston's Ted Williams and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals continue to boast the highest lifetime batting averages in the major leagues with 19 other players hitting .300 or better.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press show that Williams' lifetime mark remained at .348, while Musial's average dropped two points to .340. Williams hit .345 for the year and Musial .310.

Williams, who began his career with Boston in 1939 and then did two stints in service, never has batted under .300. The 38-year-old outfielder has captured four league batting championships, his top mark being .406 in 1941.

Rebel Defense Assumes Lead Throughout US

NEW YORK — Mississippi Rebels were surprised by Tulane 10-3 last Saturday but the setback didn't stop them from taking over the defense lead among the major college football teams.

In breaking Princeton's 2-week grip on the total defense lead, the Rebels yielded only 177 yards, 5 of which came on Gene Newton's 5-yard upsetting touchdown run.

NCAA service bureau figures released today show the Southeastern title defenders first in total defense with a 126.4-yard average allowance to five opponents and Princeton second on 151.3.

With Tulane doing most of its gaining on the ground, Ole Miss also took over first place in pass defense with an average of 22.2 yards a game compared to Texas Christian's 23.5 for second place.

In four games, TCU has permitted only .176 percent of opposing aeriels to be completed, batting down 24 of 40 throws and intercepting 9. The 225 percent of the Frogs have intercepted is the highest and is the first time in 10 years any major team has gone through four games with less than a .200 completion percentage by the opposition.

In rushing defense Princeton is on top with a mark of holding its opponents to an average of 95 yards a game. Michigan State is second with 97.3 and Iowa third with 101.5.

AUSTIN (SC) — Two brothers of linemen who distinguished themselves for Texas in recent years are crowding their way into the starting lineup this week at the Longhorns revamp for an about-face effort against Rice Saturday night in Houston.

Sophomore Clair Branch of Gaston becomes the fifth backfielder to tackle the right halfback problem as a starter, and Letterman Don Wilson of Houston figures in a reshuffling of the line that involves Texas' two most experienced forwards. Branch is a younger brother of Phil, all-SWC guard with the 1952-53 champions, while Don's elder brother Bill was a defensive star for the 1950 titlists.

Still another brother of a former Longhorn great is gaining stature as a reserve tackle. His Bill Stohandske of Baytown, squat 205-pound brother of Tom Stohandske, all-America end in 1952.

Branch was given his first thorough trial in the Arkansas game last week and obliged by emerging as Texas' leading ball carrier with 29 yards in four carries. He also impressed at handling a corner linebacking job that has been a source of headaches this fall.

A 195-pounder with good speed, Branch has the physical qualifications to be a star. Like his older brother, he reported to the Longhorns as a fullback. Phil lacked the speed desired for a halfback play and after one varsity season moved to guard and became a great offensive guard in 1952 and an all-star double-duty man in 1953.

First-string duty is not new to Wilson, who played 47 minutes against the powerful Sooners in 1955 at left guard. A bit slower than rival candidates, he started this season as a third stringer but gradually worked his way to the top. He was alert against Oklahoma as he recovered two Sooner fumbles and last week he intercepted one Razorback pass and batted still another away.

Two New Players Join Yearlings
The Big Spring Ninth Grade Yearlings, preparing for their Saturday night engagement here with Colorado City, have been strengthened by the addition of two players.

They are Chuck Wolk, an end who stands 6-feet-1 and weighs 170 pounds; and Douglas McEvers, fullback.

Coaches Dan Lewis and Charles Caraway plan to suit out about 30 boys for the game Saturday. Half-time ceremonies will be highlighted by the crowning of the Yearling Football Queen.

Martin Hopeful History Will Repeat This Year

FORT WORTH — Coach Martin of TCU said today he hoped this business of history repeating itself comes early—in just one year to be exact. TCU plays Miami here Saturday night in a setup so similar to last season that it's startling. In 1955 TCU started out like a house afire and won its first four games. Then it played Texas A&M and was upset, 19-16.

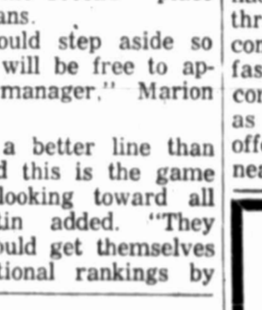

The following week TCU was to play Miami at Miami. The question was: Could the Horned Frogs rise from their disappointment and come back? The Miami game was the turning point. The Frogs beat the Hurricanes 21-19 and never lost another one in the Southwest Conference. They wound up with a 9-1 record and played Mississippi in the Cotton Bowl.

To Miami Saturday night it'll probably seem that this is where it came in. TCU won its first three games, but last week ran into the A&M jinx again. The Aggies won 7-6.

FOURTH TO QUIT

Marty Marion Out As Chisox Pilot

CHICAGO — Marty Marion today resigned as field manager of the Chicago White Sox. Marion, whose contract extended through 1957, said he resigned "after considerable thought" because he felt the White Sox should have made a better 1956 season.

MARION

The club finished third, 12 games behind the pennant-winning New York Yankees in the American League race and three games behind the second-place Cleveland Indians. "I feel I should step aside so the White Sox will be free to appoint a new manager," Marion said.

"They have a better line than last season and this is the game they've been looking toward all season," Marion added. "They figured they could get themselves up in the national rankings by beating us. Even our loss to A&M hasn't changed it."

Miami comes here with an unbeaten record although being tied by Georgia 7-7 last week. Martin said Coach Gustafson of Miami told him his team was looking toward TCU while playing Georgia. "Miami played all over the field in the last half and should have won from Georgia," the TCU coach pointed out.

Martin said the big job for his Horned Frogs was to stop Don Bosseler, the big, hard-running back who has gouged 266 yards out of enemy lines this season. He added that the Hurricanes also had a good passing game and threw an average of about 16 per contest. "We might have an old-fashioned passing duel," Martin commented. "I think it'll be just as exciting as last year when they offered me some oxygen when I nearly passed out."

Records Go On Line
SAN JOSE, Calif. — "The strongest man on earth," a strapping 340-pounder named Paul Anderson, puts his reputation and his world records on the line Saturday as America's best muscle-men square off in final tryouts for the U.S. Olympic weight-lifting team.

Kilgore, Victoria Clash Saturday

By The Associated Press
Kilgore and Victoria, tied for the lead, play at Kilgore Saturday in the top football game of the Longhorn Conference.

Corpus Christi Del Mar, Tyler and Wharton have marks on their league records, Del Mar showing a tie, Tyler a loss and tie and Wharton a loss.

So this is the game that'll show if the Frogs can go back up once more. Martin thinks they can. "We have a good enough football team to do it," he declared. But he also says Miami has a fine team.

Marion was the fourth big league manager to leave since the close of the 1956 season. The others were Al Lopez of Cleveland, Bucky Harris of Detroit and Stan Hack of the Chicago Cubs.

Charley Grimm was replaced by Fred Haney as the Milwaukee manager in mid-June. Jack Tighe took over for Harris and Bob Scheffing for Hack. The Cleveland job still is open with Leo Durocher and Kerby Farrell among those being considered.

Signing At Hand
CHICAGO — Archie Moore, lightweight champion, and Floyd Patterson are to have a formal contract signing today for their 15-round heavyweight title bout in Chicago Nov. 30.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY She Decided To Look Just Like Herself

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD - When I first met Kasey Rogers she was a Golden Circle girl at Paramount, named Laura Elliot. She was blonde, curvaceous, a completely different type from the slender brunette I lunched with the other day.

"I always dreamed of having a contract with a major studio," Kasey told me as she ordered a minute steak. "So when I went to Paramount I was cooperative and went through a starlet routine of being changed completely. What was so confusing was that no one seemed to agree. One producer would say that to be a success you must be blonde and sexy and another would insist that the sweet innocent type was the way to get on. But I learned that when you try to please everyone you end up pleasing no one. It's always a good idea to listen. You might learn something but you have to sift what you hear and take the advice that is best for you.

"Now I have reverted to me. I have my own name, my hair is its own color and what is even more important, I have my personality back. I found that when you change your appearance so drastically it has an influence on you," Kasey confessed.

"You've certainly slimmed down," I said with admiration.

"Twelve pounds," she responded with a smile. "I didn't realize I had gained so much until my clothes began to be tight on me. Now a size 12 is too large.

"My trouble was that while I was at home working on a screen play I became a great snacker. It's a temptation when food is so handy," Kasey confided.

"But once I decided to reduce I lost 12 pounds in three months. I ate very little during the day

French In Morocco Threaten To Strike

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Nearly 50,000 French employees of the Moroccan government called a 24-hour strike today protesting Arab revenge killings which have claimed at least 60 lives in Morocco.

The employees acted as anti-French demonstrations spread across North Africa and Arab governments demanded release of five top Algerian rebels seized by the French.

Moroccan authorities warned the protesting employees that if they walked out they would lose government protection in their posts.

Such a strike could paralyze public services in Morocco. The new government still depends in large measure on French efficiency to run the different departments.

In Paris, Premier Guy Mollet is expected to win a vote of confidence today from the National Assembly on his government's handling of the Algerian rebellion and the Suez Canal crisis.

All Assembly deputies but the Communists have hailed the French ruse that tricked the rebels into landing in French-run Algiers instead of their destination in independent Tunisia.

The rebels were flying from Rabat in a French-operated plane Monday when the pilot set them down in Algiers, where they were placed under arrest.

The action inflamed the Arab world. A wave of rioting and farm burning swept Morocco. A general strike hit Tunisia and demonstrators stoned the British Embassy and European cars in Tripoli and Libya.

Most of the 60 dead were Europeans. Seven were French soldiers. They were killed and 24 others wounded in two ambushes in eastern Morocco.

CRMWD Near $1 Million Mark With Revenues

The Colorado River Municipal Water District moved within a notch of the million dollar mark on revenues on the basis of its September report.

Revenues of $1,215,212 set a record for one month. Of this $1,215,212 came from sale of water and $1,694 from recreational facilities. These boosted the gross revenues for the year to $9,933,000.

Total expenditures for the month were $42,942, leaving an excess of $82,277 which will be applied to the interest and sinking fund and other special funds specified in the indenture. Expenses included $2,077 for operation of the City of Odessa wells, $243 for operation of City of Big Spring wells, $3,213 for royalties on water, $4,219 maintenance, $25,332 operating expense, $5,795 administrative and general, and $2,072 recreational.

The net excess of revenues over expense for the first nine months of the year stood at $320,609, of which $433,075 has been transferred to the various debt retirement funds.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Oct. 25, 1956 7-A

Howard County Farm Bureau members plan on having a good representation at the state meeting in Houston in November. At least seven members and their wives will be there for the three-day affair. Ralph White will go on a week ahead of the others to help draw up resolutions for next year's program.

Two things on the agenda, according to Joe Dunn of the local bureau, is to try and get an investigation made of the penalties that several counties had to pay because of the brace wage misunderstanding in 1955.

They also want to make their own insurance rates to members and not be regulated by the state insurance commission. As it is now, they pay back dividends; but they want to make their own rates cheap enough so that no dividends will be built up.

A few days ago we mentioned about Horace Tubb making money with his watermelons and vegetables on his Midland County farm. He says now that he has eight acres of turnips, mustard and radishes and has a contract to them, which will sell a week to a large chain store system. In addition, he will sell a lot of them to the stores in Midland. He says they will bring in quite a bit more money than cotton did.

He poisoned the patch once and fertilized it with a nitrogen fertilizer to give the plants a green color. If there is a yellowish tinge to them, they won't sell readily.

Next year Tubb plans to plant at least 20 acres in vegetables. He has 160 acres in five miles southwest of Midland which he is watering with 200-gallon wells. Tubb figures that buying this water was a good investment, for he made 40 bales of cotton and got $900 for growing the first bale in Midland County. So far when not supervising things on this farm, he is managing the cultivated land of the Wilkinson Ranch northwest of Big Spring.

The cotton harvest is at least 60 per cent finished in the counties on the tip of the South Plains, according to J. M. Bradley, who supervises the management of gins in several counties.

He said there was no way of determining how much dryland cotton was in the fields. The rain caused farmers in some communities to start plowing, so unless the cotton was fairly good, they are plowing it under.

Another question is whether or not laborers can be induced to gather these thin crops. So far when not supervising things on the good fields. Also, as the autumn wears on the dryland cotton is going to catch more sand and may not be worth gathering.

Bradley said the Seagraves area had some nice dryland cotton, but there was none anywhere else except north of Lamesa. South of Lamesa the cotton burnt badly during August and made little.

The Co-Op Gin in Big Spring says the cotton is coming in slower now. They had ginned about 660 bales Tuesday afternoon and figure it may be three-fourths over.

"We can't tell about some of the cotton left in the fields," said Gordon Hodnett. "If the weather stays dry, we might end up with 900 bales. Some of the bottom crop is pretty sandy, but the second pulling is fairly clean."

Some of the Midland County laws and irrigated fields are getting salt damage from being watered so often. The salt in the water builds up to damage plants. Since the salts are mostly of calcium origin, they can be neutralized by the use of copperas.

John Williams, Midland feed store owner, said he sold 50 tons of copperas this year to use on these high lime spots. He said if the county got a rainy year the salt would probably be washed down and the copperas wouldn't be needed.

The Howard County Farm Association has lost a few braccos the last week or so, according to Jack Buchanan, but the trek back to Mexico is proceeding slowly.

He said about 25 more workers would be brought into this area. If no more leave, this will be enough to finish the cotton harvest.

Outside of cotton pickers needed, there is not much demand for

Dr. Pepper Has Earning Gain

Net earnings after taxes on operations of Dr. Pepper Company for the first nine months of 1956 amounted to $691,838, a 10.34 per cent boost over last year's first three quarters, it was announced today (Tuesday, Oct. 23).

Leonard Green, president of Dr. Pepper, said that syrup shipments during the nine months were up by more than six per cent and that the third quarter sales represented the 28th consecutive quarterly gain over previous corresponding periods.

The Dr. Pepper Company, one of the nation's largest soft drink firms, distributes its product through franchised bottling plants and fountain outlets in 42 states, Hawaii, Tangiers, Thailand, and the Philippines.

Green attributed the increased sales and earnings to introduction of new packaging and greater promotional and advertising activities on the part of the Dr. Pepper bottlers. He said cooperative advertising was at an all time peak for the company.

From the financial figures, the official predicted the Company would experience "another good quarter" in the last three months of 1956. Net before taxes for the nine months hit $1,407,193, more than 14 per cent ahead of 1955.

Marine Hero's Term Remitted

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—A three month confinement sentence for Sgt. Alford L. McLaughlin, Marine Medal of Honor winner, has been remitted by his commanding officer.

A Marine spokesman announced here yesterday that Col. George F. Gober also had suspended McLaughlin's reduction in rank to private for a period of six months. During that time McLaughlin will be on probation.

Gober upheld, however, a $120 fine.

The Marine sergeant, 28-year-old Leeds, Ala. native, was found guilty by a court-martial of drunkenness, being absent from his base without proper authority, disrespect for a superior noncommissioned officer.

McLaughlin was arrested in Rome, Ga., where he was assigned, for threatening an officer with a shotgun after having drunk a quantity of whisky.

Ike Follows Adlai In New York Talk

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower headed today for a major campaign speech in New York when Adlai Stevenson yesterday accused the Republicans of using what he said was "deceit unmatched in U.S. politics."

There were indications Eisenhower planned to hammer again at Stevenson's repeated call for this country to take the lead in seeking international agreement to ban testing of hydrogen bombs.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower's speech tonight at a Madison Square Garden rally will be concerned with the H-bomb, foreign policy in general and with what Hagerty referred to as "other matters."

After pushing his Democratic presidential candidacy through the New York area, Stevenson turned back to the Midwest. He flew to Springfield, Ill., for a meeting with farm advisers and a major farm speech.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, Stevenson's running mate, also was down for a speech at a Farm Day rally in the Illinois capital city.

Vice President Nixon too was campaigning in Illinois. Stevenson's home state, Nixon toured the Chicago area and spoke at Rockford.

Stevenson put in a rugged 12-hour campaign day yesterday, covering 110 miles of New York's Bronx and suburban sections.

Speaking to responsive crowds in usually Republican Nassau and Westchester counties, he said he and Kefauver have "tried to present the great national issue." But, he said, "the plain fact is that the Republicans are wading up a campaign of deceit unmatched in U.S. politics." Then he told his listeners "I am good and mad, plenty of Americans are."

Earlier, addressing a cheering rally in the normally Democratic Bronx, he said "nothing has disgusted me more than what he termed the 'phony peace' issue" in the campaign.

Eisenhower took part yesterday in a novel campaign effort, an afternoon radio-TV program during which he answered questions put him by a group of seven women.

In the course of this program, which originated in a Washington studio, he said once again that the military draft must be kept in force because he said the United States lives in a "world of tension."

Extradition Begun For Man Involved Slain Woman's Past

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Extradition procedures have been started to secure the return from Dallas, of a man believed involved in the mysterious past of slain Dorothy McCully.

Papers naming Nick Cascio as wanted for questioning in the McCully case were forwarded yesterday to Sacramento for Gov. Knight's signature.

Cascio, termed a Dallas underworld figure, was picked up by police in Texas a few days after the red-haired Miss McCully, 31, was shot to death in Pasadena. Police want to quit Cascio, reportedly a friend of the girl, about burglar tools found in her apartment.

Walter Borchers, 45, a Pasadena insurance man, has been charged with murder in the death of Miss McCully, his part-time secretary. He contends she was shot when a pistol discharged by accident.

Miss McCully was the former wife of a Dallas bar owner and gambling figure, Louis (Chicken Louie) Ferrantello. He was shot to death last July by a woman who claimed he jilted her. She was not prosecuted.

Nightsticks Return

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Houston police are going to get their nightsticks back. Beyond The Moon

Flying upside down, three F-100A Super Sabre fighters of the Air Force Thunderbird precision aerobatics team seem to be passing the moon, left, as they fly over Nellis Air Force Base near Las Vegas, Nev. Picture was taken in morning daylight from another jet plane flying at 15,000 feet by Russ Reed of the Oakland, Calif., Tribune. He used a No. 12 yellow filter on an aerial camera, shooting at 1,000th of a second with a lens opening of F16.

Ike's Texas Visit, Bomb Tests In State Spotlight

By WHITEY SAWYER

President Eisenhower's coming controversy held the spotlight in the presidential race in Texas today. The president's Texas visit to Texas and the 10-bomb Thursday while the question of Governor nominee Price Daniel's Senate success featured politics on the state level.

Eisenhower will visit his native Texas Wednesday. He will appear for one hour at Dallas.

Press Secretary James Hagerly said Eisenhower will make a "good political speech." He said the President will have "quite a lot to say."

Gov. Shivers, speaking in Nashville, Tenn., charged that Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson is "politically irresponsible, inconsistent and unstable."

Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts spoke at Laredo, Fort Stockton and San Antonio.

The Democratic senator said his party is really the "party of the future, progress, prosperity and GOP record is 'one of progress'."

Mrs. Ovetta Hobby, publisher of the Houston Post and a former member of Eisenhower's Cabinet, spoke at Amarillo. She called the President's political philosophy "deeply American with a Texas flavor."

Johnson, speaking at San Antonio, said the President's visit to Texas is "a very important part of the President's program."

10 Sentenced After Guilty Pleas Heard

Ten of the 16 persons indicted last Tuesday by the Howard County Grand Jury in 118th District court appeared before Judge Charlie Sullivan Thursday morning and expressed desires to plead guilty.

Seven of the ten had been heard at noon. Three Webb Air Force airmen, all from Wisconsin, charged with attempted burglary of a Big Spring filling station, pleaded guilty. They were Richard Quell, 21; A. V. Torgerson, 21; and Stanley, 18. They asked probation.

They told the court that on the night of Sept. 22, they left the base, came to town and were breaking into a filling station when arrested by city police. Judge Sullivan said that he would accede to the suggestion of the district attorney but that he "reluctantly" did so.

He sentenced the three to two years each in state penitentiary and then suspended the sentences. Albert William Gaston, 27-year-old ex-convict, pleaded guilty to forgery of a credit card which he used to purchase gasoline and oil at filling stations. He was sentenced to two years in state prison.

Tom C. Freeman, charged with swindling, pleaded guilty to endorsing a check made out to his employer for more than $600 and cashing the check. He was sentenced to two years in prison.

Mary Louise Wilson, 20, Negro woman, pleaded guilty to theft of a motor car on the night of Aug. 26. She was sentenced to two years in state prison and her sentence was then suspended.

At noon, Martin Reyes, 24-year-old Spanish-American disabled war veteran, was telling the court of his part in the Oct. 14 burglary of Jim's Pawnshop on Main street. Reyes said that he was receiving $216 a month disability from the government. He told of breaking into the store and stealing $800 worth of guns, pistols, cameras, watches and other merchandise.

His case had not been completed at noon. Other defendants who wished to plead guilty were to be heard by Judge Sullivan this afternoon.

Truman Sees Signs Of New Depression

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Former President Harry Truman said today he saw in Republican economic policies "the glimmer of another 1929."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the convention of the Bakery and Confectionary Workers International Union, Truman said:

"The danger is that, as the Republicans continue their policies of favoring the privileged few, more and more of the little people will fall by the wayside. The wage earner will join the farmer and the small business man on the toboggan of falling incomes. The gaps in our prosperity will get bigger and bigger. No man knows where it will end, but in the distance I see the glimmer of another 1929."

Referring to the 1929-1932 period, Truman said, "I know it is regarded as impulsive in some quarters to talk about this. But the fact remains that we did have a depression at that time—a very bad one, and it is also the fact that it came as the culmination of 12 years of Republican rule in Washington."

PLANE

he didn't want to try to come in at that time if it would interfere with the regular program of pilot training.

The base contacted the state highway patrol and other local peace officers.

The landing area on Webb was evacuated. U. S. 80, which runs along the north end of the field, was blocked and efforts were made to evacuate people who might be in the possible path of the airplane if and when he brought the plane into the field.

"North of Lamesa, Capt. Lawrence W. Moellenberg was instructing Lt. DePriest. He heard the unbelievable conversation between the errant plane and the tower and came into investigate. He got in contact with St. Germain, and flew well within visual range, answering questions.

After a time, while attempting to bring in St. Germain and the T-33, Capt. Moellenberg's radio cracked: "I'm having trouble controlling it. How do you trim (level) this thing?"

Moellenberg calmly suggested certain procedures. St. Germain's voice showed no trace of panic as he talked with his aerial shepherd. His altimeter showed 6,000 feet.

Then again, with only slightly more urgency in his voice: "How do you trim it? I'm having trouble controlling it. I can't trim it!"

That was the last. Down came the jet in a steep angle, almost as though it were in a vertical dive.

Like a meteor it swooshed in from northwest to southeast. About 150 yards north of U. S. 80 and about 100 yards northwest of the Cactus Paint Company's manufacturing plant it happened.

The time was 9:13 p.m. St. Germain's bid for glory had lasted 43 minutes.

The craft exploded with such a flash that many who saw it thought that the plane had blown apart in the air.

Parts of the plane spewed out across the freeway, on to the south side of its 300-foot right of way. Some arched to Cosden's parking lot, scarcely 300 yards away.

There was a crater where the plane had gone in, and nearby another small indentation. Nowhere was there anything left larger than a wash tub.

At Webb, investigating officials said that one of the most amazing things about the nightmarish story was St. Germain's apparent calm throughout the ordeal. He got off the ground, going south, smoothly enough. Although he was erratic in his altitude, varying from around 5,000 up to 12,000, as he reported it, he was handling the plane fairly well until he lost final control. At no time did he show the slightest sign of panic.

Base Water, Sewer Project Is Snarled

At a called session this morning, city commissioners rejected an alternate plan for water lines to serve the proposed Webb AFB housing unit.

Talks with city and Webb officials continued later today, however.

Representatives from Washington told the city engineer, Jack Bellamy, that the government would be willing to loan the city the money to lay a water line from the Edwards Heights reservoir to Webb at four per cent interest. The government would tie the housing unit sewage connections into the Webb line and not pay any for sewage lines.

The Washington agent, Mr. Browning, said that whoever agreed engineering surveys for both water and sewer lines around the south part of Big Spring was acting without proper authority. Cost of the survey conducted by Carter and Burgess, water engineers from Fort Worth, was about $11,700.

Bellamy reported to the commission this morning on his talks Wednesday afternoon with the Air Force. After listening to the government's proposal, the commission decided to completely reject it.

The city earlier this year had an agreement from the Air Force to lay water and sewer lines to the proposed housing unit. The government said it would pay for the lines and if the city wanted to enlarge its lines for its own use, the extra would be paid for by the city.

However, in Wednesday's conference, the Air Force said it would loan the money to the city for the line from the reservoir via Farm Road 700 to the base. Also, the government would not pay for any sewage lines. These lines would be laid on the base from Webb's sewage line to the housing unit.

This would overload the sewage line running through the center of Big Spring, Bellamy said, and if the line was doubled to handle the extra amount, the cost would run close to $500,000.

Browning was working with Lee Bramlett, purchasing and contract officer at Webb, and Maj. John T. Gaffey, air installation officer.

Man Receives Minor Injuries

Walter James Payton, 53, Monahan, suffered lacerations about the head but was not sufficiently injured to require hospitalization at 8:30 a.m. today when his car rammed into the rear of a stopped transport truck at the intersection of the Webb Air Force Base road and U. S. 80 west of Big Spring.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Engstrom said that the truck, owned by Texas Sales and Supply Company, and driven by Joe Lawrence Williams, 32, Midland, had stopped on the intersection to wait for a light change. The truck was traveling west.

Payton's car came up from the rear, plowed under the back of the truck, and came to a halt when the front wheels struck the rear wheels of the truck. The car was extensively damaged.

There were no persons in the vehicles except the two men. Williams was not hurt.

At TESCO Party

Warning On 'Mass Insanities' Voiced At TESCO Dinner Here

A warning against "the mass insanities of our time" was voiced Wednesday night by Clayton Rand, Gulfport, Miss., editor, author and speaker, before 300 Texas Electric Service company employees and their wives.

He spoke at the annual dinner honoring members of TESCO's Quarter Century Club in this area, held at the Cosden Country club.

Describing Americans as the most emotional people in the world, he charged that politicians are capitalizing on the two basic emotions of greed and fear. They'll give anything if someone else will pay for it.

"We are in these times confronted with chaotic and confusing situations," Rand said. "We must keep our feet on the ground to come through with good sense and good humor."

He listed mass insanities that have occurred in history, including the rise of the Ku Klux Klan, the spread of Hitlerism in Germany, and currently the hysteria and fanaticism that some people are stirring up over segregation and integration.

"We must fortify ourselves against these mass insanities that continually crop out," Rand said. "Some people believe that the government can provide everything.

I've seen communism and socialism in operation, and they are the same thing, except in degree. People don't get concerned about the evils of government competition in business until it is on their doorstep."

J. B. Thomas, president of Texas Electric Service Company, delivered his annual message to the group, citing the growth of the company in the past year and predicting continued growth for next year.

"This area is growing in population and we are growing in customers," Thomas said. "To continue our growth, we have to raise many millions of dollars by selling bonds or debentures. We have a sound company and we are serving an area that has good potentialities for growth, and that is what investors are looking for. Before the year's end, we'll have to purchase a new turbine for a plant that won't be ready until 1960.

That requires faith in the future of the area we serve."

Thomas said that the cost of generating electricity by using atomic power was six to 10 times as much as using fossil fuels, such as gas, oil or coal. Yet some areas where fuel is scarce can afford to use it.

Dancing followed the program with music by Jack Free and his orchestra.

Members of the Quarter Century Club, all from Big Spring, who were introduced at the dinner were R. L. Beale, Hugh Duncan, J. W. Garrison, A. C. McClendon, D. M. McKinney, T. A. Rogers, W. A. Shaw and B. G. Shepard. A. B. Sisson was out of the city.

A group from the Fort Worth of-office of the company, department heads and others, most of them members of the Quarter Century Club, were introduced, along with other local guests.

R. L. Beale, TESCO district manager, was master of ceremonies.

Up to 100 West Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars are expected in Big Spring this weekend for the district VFW convention.

Local VFW members are making plans to entertain visitors from about 15 posts in this area. Big Spring members of the American Legion also are being invited to participate in a portion of the activities.

Highlights of the annual fall gathering will be the memorial service at 6 p.m. Saturday and a speech by Col. Charles Young, Webb AFB commander, at 10 a.m. Sunday.

Conducting the memorial service will be Father Mack Johnson of Houston, state VFW chaplain. The service will be open to the public and Jim Tyler, local post commander, said all Big Spring ministers are being invited to attend. The memorial rites will be staged in the Big Spring city park amphitheatre.

Col. Young will speak at a joint meeting of the VFW, auxiliary and American Legion members, also at the VFW hall, Sunday morning.

Registration for the convention will start at 1 p.m. Saturday. Delegates are expected from posts at Midland, Odessa, Pecos, Kermit, Alpine, Marfa, Fort Davis, Monahans, Sanderson, Crane and Pyote, Tyler said.

The VFW business session is set for 11 a.m. Sunday, also at the post hall. A dinner will be served at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

A dance will begin at 9 p.m.

Saturday for all VFW and American Legion members and their guests.

A-C Has Low Bid On Pumps

The combined bid of Allis-Chalmers has been recommended by engineers for pumps and transformers on the Big Spring-Odessa supply line of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Briggs Weaver Machinery Company had submitted a proposal of $63,600 on one section and Allis-Chalmers had submitted a bid of $120,900 on another, both of which were evaluated low. However, when a Kingsbury type thrust bearing was figured in the deal, Allis-Chalmers was evaluated low across the board.

The combined bid for the various pumps and electrical equipment was $240,621. This was to be recommended to the board of the Colorado River Municipal Water District in its meeting here today.

Main item of business for the board was the consideration of the proposed budget for 1957. A budget committee has been working on a proposed fiscal guide with E. V. Spence, general manager.

Legion Auxiliary Planning Awards

Mrs. Raymond L. Andrews, president of the local American Legion Auxiliary, announced Thursday that the Howard County Unit 355, would make awards of membership in the quota group as soon as the requirements are met.

Mrs. Andrews emphasized that membership in the group could only be obtained through specific achievements. The quota group is under the direction of Mrs. Foy Dunlap.

Further details will be given at the Nov. 1 meeting of the Auxiliary. They will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Clubhouse.

Army Chief Says All War To Involve 'Atomic Threat'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor declared today "there will never again be a war involving the major powers without the use or the threat of use of atomic weapons."

The Army chief of staff, speaking against the campaign debate over continued testing of big nuclear weapons, also said the "sure way to encourage an enemy to use atomic weapons would be to confront him with a force unprepared for atomic action."

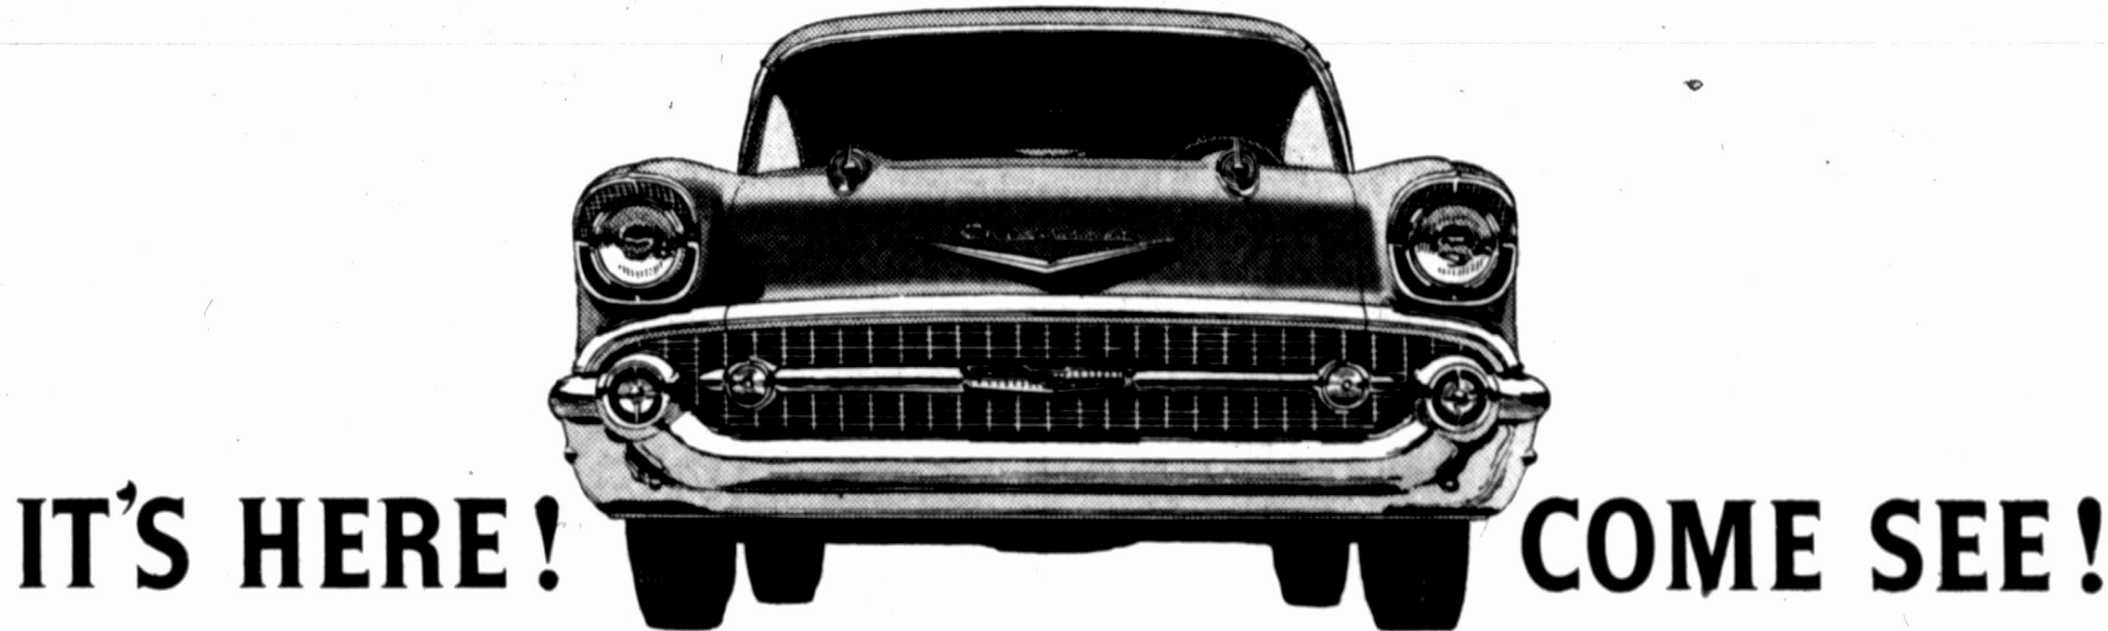

Taylor spoke of the "hopes and aspirations for the future" of his service in a speech prepared for the second annual convention of the Assn. of the United States Army, a group of some 1,500 civilian industrialists, reserve, National Guard and inactive officers organized to "speak with a single voice" for the Army.

Taylor, speaking in the personal knowledge of restraints imposed by the administration on public airing of inter-service controversies, urged the association to encourage a "continuous flow of legitimate information" about the Army "within the bounds of propriety and security."

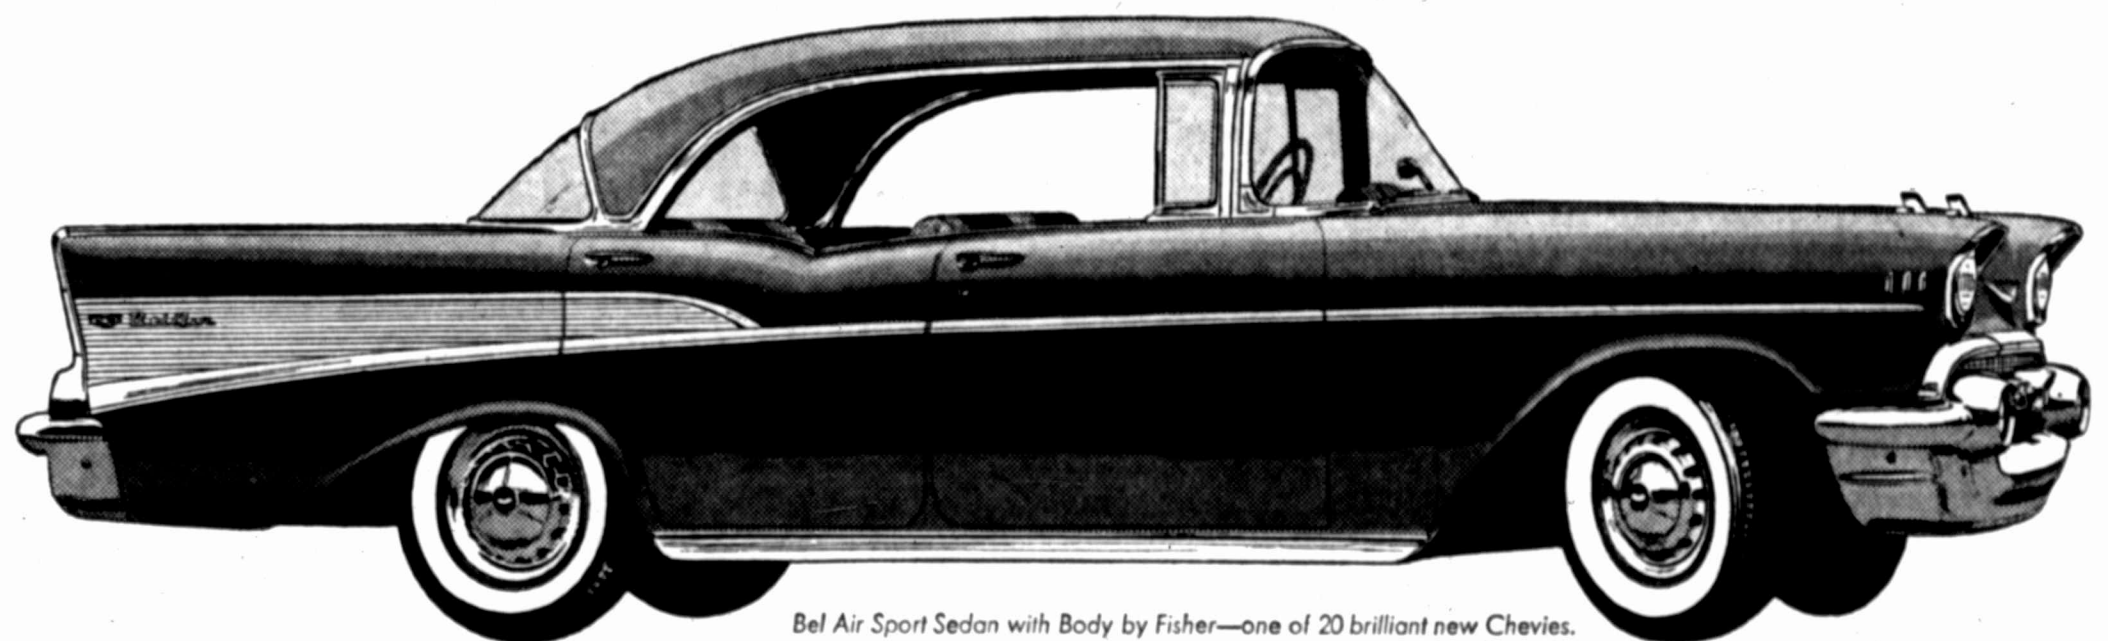

He declared that "atomic weapons in themselves are inconclusive," and that to be effective they "must be used in conjunction with land operations." He said the Army needs to increase its ability to find atomic targets, increase its ability to deliver atomic firepower and to exploit this firepower.

Taylor skirted the still unresolved issue between the Army and Air Force over command control of 1,500-mile missiles now under development, but he called upon the Air Force to "reinforce its efforts" to help the Army find "all targets which fall within the range of our improved weapons." The Army's Redstone missile now ranges more than 200 miles and its upcoming Jupiter is being developed for a 1,500-mile range.

Deleted from the convention program, by direction of the chief of staff's civilian superiors in the administration, were presentations setting forth the Army of the future's strategic concepts, doctrines of long-range missile power and a spelling out of Army plans for greater control over its own air arm.

MRS. FLOYD PARSONS

Lemonade Cake Is Favorite Of Parsons

A busy woman with a talent for doing many things is Mrs. Floyd Parsons who is the good cook for this week.

Since moving here from Beville this summer with Mr. Parsons, Lou Anne, 18, Bill, 16, and Paul, 4, she has joined in the local picture with much enthusiasm.

Along with her husband, who is superintendent of the Big Spring schools, she is interested in educational work. She is a life member of the NEA and belongs to the Delta Kappa Gamma, teachers organization.

Local church and club groups realized her value to the community readily and she is now teaching the Emily Andrews Sunday School Class at the First Baptist Church where she attends WMU and the Mary Hatch Circle and has a membership in the 1905 Hyperion Club. A newly organized garden club which has not as yet been named, has elected her to serve as their first president. She is a Kiwanis Queen and works in the Band Boosters.

While she has taught school for many years she does not plan to return to teaching until young Paul reaches school age. Now she is being a busy wife and mother in their new home in the Western Hills Addition.

The cake that gets first choice in the Parsons household isn't a fancy one but it is delicious and light in texture. It's lemonade cake and is baked in a square and covered with a clear lemon topping. It can be made with or without the raisins.

LEMONADE CAKE

1 cup seedless raisins
Rind of 1/2 lemon (both of these are optional)
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 2-3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup sour milk
(If no sour milk is available, use 1/2 cup of sweet milk with about 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Let set for about 10 minutes until

Mincemeat Candy For Small Goblins

What's Halloween without lots of nice things to eat prepared. This delicious candy recipe will be just right for guests that may be invited to that gay party — or for any small goblins that come calling.

QUICK MINCEMEAT CANDY

(Makes about 1 pound)
1/2 cup ready-to-use mincemeat
1/2 pound marshmallow creme
2 cups (about 24 crackers) fine graham cracker crumbs
Combine all ingredients; blend well. Shape into small balls, about 1/4 - inch diameter; roll in finely chopped nut meats or additional graham cracker crumbs. Place on baking sheet. Chill in refrigerator 3 to 4 hours before serving. Store remaining candy in refrigerator.

mint curdies).
Rinse and drain raisins; put through chopper with lemon rind.

Cream shortening and sugar, blend in eggs and beat. Sift dry ingredients together and add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Add raisins and mix well. Turn into greased 9-inch square pan or 9-inch round Pyrex and bake at 350 degrees from 40 to 50 minutes. Allow to cool about 10 minutes, then spoon lemon topping over it slowly, allowing it to soak into cake.

TOPPING

Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind and 1 tablespoon water. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Another good recipe of Mrs. Parsons' is the one for Chocolate Snowballs, a crisp crunchy cookie rolled in powdered sugar.

CHOCOLATE SNOWBALLS

1 1/4 cups butter
2-3 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups all-purpose flour
Pinch of salt
1/2 cup cocoa
2 cups finely chopped pecans
Cream the butter and sugar, add sifted dry ingredients gradually then add pecans. Cover bowl and place in refrigerator for several hours or days. Shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter, rolling between palms of hands. Place about 1/2 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees 10 or 15 minutes. Cool cookies completely before rolling in sifted confectioners sugar. These may also be served frozen.

Curried Shrimp For Seafood Main Dish

Shrimp enthusiasts will love this tasty curried recipe for their favorite sea food.

SHRIMP INDIENNE

Ingredients:
Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 1/4 cups milk, 1 1/2 cups small cooked and shelled and deveined shrimp (about 40).

Method:
Melt butter over low heat in saucepan (1 quart); stir in flour; remove from heat. With a whisk or fork, beat in salt, celery salt, curry powder, paprika, Worcestershire and chili sauce. Gradually add milk, stirring until smooth after each addition. Return to moderately low heat; stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. Add shrimp and heat but do not boil. Turn into scallop shells; serve at once. Or make ahead, turn into scallop shells, cover and refrigerate; reheat in moderate or hot oven just until sauce begins to bubble. Makes 5 to 6 first-course servings.

Note:
Two 3-ounce cans of frozen small shrimp that come cooked, shelled and deveined will make the amount needed for this recipe; thaw and drain before using.

Be Prepared For Callers

DUTCH ALMOND COOKIES

1/2 cups melted butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups brown sugar
3 eggs, beaten
4 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup blanched, chopped almonds.

Combine melted butter or margarine and sugars; add eggs and beat. Sift together, 3 times, flour, cinnamon and soda; add to first mixture and blend well. Mix in almonds. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes until it can be patted into rolls. (Dough will still be sticky.) Wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator overnight or until ready to use. Cut into 1/4" slices; placed on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees F. 10 minutes. Makes 100 treats.

Bewitch your neighborhood with treats like these! When trick-or-treat callers appear at your door, be ready with a big batch of homemade cookies. Little pranksters love these crisp, wonderful-tasting cookies. And the recipe gives you 100 treats for less than 85 cents.

Enjoy Halloween With Games And Taffy Pull

This year leave the haunting to the goblins and have your gang over for a Halloween taffy pull. It's the kind of party that scores of special hit with the 11-to 14-year-old set.

When the guests first arrive, play Halloween games. This allows time for the taffy to be prepared. Jack-O'-Lantern Toss is a simple game of skill that fits in well.

On the floor in the corner of the room against a wall, place a jack-o'-lantern with the top cut out.

Divide the guests into two or more teams. Set a limit on the length of time to be allowed for playing. Each team takes its turn at the game separately, playing the game for the length of time specified.

Have players, from a distance of six feet, try to toss rubber jars or bottle caps into the pumpkin. Each player throws three caps or rings for his turn. Each cap in the pumpkin scores 10 points for the player. When each player completes his turn, he goes to the end of the line and the players move up. If time allows, players may take another turn. Team plays as fast as possible to get in as many turns as possible, thus enabling them to run up a good score.

While the games are going, the taffy can be made. The following recipe makes enough taffy for three persons to pull. To have enough taffy for a large group, do not double the recipe. Instead, make several batches in separate pans.

HALLOWEEN TAFFY

2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1-3 cup water

2 tablespoons cider vinegar
Combine all ingredients in large saucepan. Cook over low heat; stir until sugar dissolves. Remove sugar crystals from the sides of

Veal Chops Super Dish

Veal chops, baked in tomato-olive sauce, make a fine main course because — except for basting a few times — you can forget about them while they are getting succulently tender. Another advantage of this recipe: if you arrange the chops in an attractive baking dish, they can go straight from oven to table.

Serve a cooked vegetable with the chops and a salad — or omit the vegetable and offer only salad.

VEAL CHOPS WITH TOMATO OLIVE SAUCE

Ingredients:
Six veal rib chops (about 1/2-inch thick), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 can (8 ounces) meatless tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons cooking sherry, 1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives.

Method:
Have meatman crack chop bones about 1 inch from ends. Brown chops on both sides rapidly in hot butter. Mix tomato sauce, sherry and about 1-3 cup of the olives. Turn tomato sauce mixture into baking dish — about 8 by 12 by 2 inches. Cut through ends of chops where bone has been cracked. Arrange chops, in one layer, over tomato sauce; tuck chop ends into small spaces. Bake, uncovered, in moderate (375 degrees) oven until chops are tender — about 45 minutes. Baste every 10 or 15 minutes, and serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

the pan with a damp cloth wrapped around a fork. Continue cooking over medium heat, without stirring, to 272 degrees or soft crack stage. Pour the hot syrup on a large buttered platter. When cool enough to handle, pull until taffy is light-colored and porous. Twist into ropes and place on buttered pan. Cut with scissors, or dent into bite-sized pieces with a knife and break apart when cold.

When it's time for pulling taffy, the party should move to the kitchen. Be sure all taffy pullers butter their hands well or rub them with cornstarch before handling the warm candy.

Pastor Defends Segregation

LONDON (AP)—A noted Dallas pastor defended segregation in Southern churches in the United States, saying yesterday the Gospel is not denied by having one church for whites and another for Negroes.

The Rev. Dr. W. A. Criswell of the First Baptist Church in Dallas was in London to address a Baptist convention.

Asked how he could still be a Christian and support segregation even in churches, the pastor replied: "You put the colored folks and white people together in one church and 100 respond. Separate them and 1,000 respond. Which do you think is better?"

"If a colored preacher can reach more colored people with his own church, and a white minister more white people, isn't that better?"

"It doesn't mean we hate each other. We love each other."

Fresh Water From Brine Is Possible

ARANSAS PASS (AP)—Production of fresh water from sea water as a by-product in the extraction of minerals for fertilizer is proving economically feasible, the director of a pilot plant here reports.

While it has long been possible to extract fresh water from sea water the cost has been prohibitive in the past.

Dave Miller, in charge of a small pilot plant of Deepsea Mineral, Inc., of Madison, Wis., says the recovery of fresh water has been made economically possible because of the value of the minerals recovered.

He said that the "almost fresh" water, which is a by-product in the extraction of minerals can be used for industry, drinking or agriculture. Miller said while the "almost fresh" water contains some salt, it has less than does water from wells drilled along the coast that is now used for drinking purposes.

Trace minerals in the sea water are recovered by concentrating them with organic compounds. The mixture, which is used as a basis for fertilizer, contains many elements needed to restore worn-out land and because of the organic compound, is easily assimilated by plants.

1957 Plymouth Styling Changed

DETROIT (AP)—A complete change in styling, body structure and chassis mark the 1957 Plymouth cars, to go on dealer display Oct. 30.

The cars are lower, wider and more powerful. They are five inches longer. A broad hood, soaring tail fin and forward thrusting headlight brow contribute to the impression of length.

Independent front wheel suspension is obtained by the adaptation of torsion bars to replace coils. Ball joints are combined with the torsion bars. The new rear suspension incorporates relocated leaf springs.

Horsepower ranges from 132 in the so-called "Powerflow 6" to 235 in the "Fury 301," and other V-8s in which the power pack is an optional item. In 1956 models' power output ranged from 125 in the six-cylinder models to 200 in the V-8s.

Compression ratios also have been increased in all models.

Other innovations include 14-inch wheels; 11-inch brakes; integral all-weather air conditioning system; safety recessed center steering wheel and new windshields with greater glass area.

Padded instrument panel and sun visors are available as optional items.

'Crimobile' To Be Exhibited Here

The "Crimobile," an exhibit prepared by the Texas Highway Patrol and the Department of Public Safety, is to be shown Saturday at Webb AFB.

The unit will be at the base exchange both in the morning and afternoon. It is also to be at the Big Spring schools on Friday under the sponsorship of the Beta Sigma Phi, Mu Zeta chapter.

Blast Wrecks School

Mrs. John Cumming, teacher in Southmayd elementary school, stands in the class room wrecked by an explosion which destroyed the upper floor of the building. Mrs. Cumming led her students from the school only a few minutes before the explosion which was caused by leaking propane gas. The school janitor was killed and a student later died of injuries in the blast.

QUICK THINKING

Teachers Saved 50 In School Blast

By MARSHALL COMERER

SOUTHMAYD, Tex. (AP)—Quick-thinking and calm teachers led 50 small children to safety Monday before a shattering gas explosion and fire damaged the elementary school in this rural North Texas community and killed two persons.

The explosion caught the janitor, E. L. Dinwoodie, 63, and a high school junior, Larry McGee, 16, as they were opening windows on the second floor of the brick building. Both were fatally burned.

High school boys and men teachers fought the fire with hand fire extinguishers and had it under control before fire departments arrived.

The building was heated by gas radiators. However, officials said they did not know what caused the explosion.

The school has 13 teachers and 200 students.

Heroes of the near tragedy were two teachers who smelled escaping gas, and the elementary school principal, Mrs. Carl Biggers, who ordered the building evacuated.

"I smelled the gas while we were having our reading class," said Mrs. John Cumming, first and second grade teacher. "I knew we had propane gas and when you smell gas there is danger."

Mrs. Cumming alerted the other teacher in the building, Mrs. A. C. Gilmore, who taught second and third grade pupils, and the principal.

She told her pupils, "Pick up your books and come outside with me."

"They thought it was a fire drill," Mrs. Cumming said. "We were outside about five or eight minutes when we heard a muffled explosion. I saw smoke but no flames."

DALLAS (AP)—President Eisenhower will fly to Texas for two major campaign speeches in Dallas and Houston Monday.

The President is reported to have been planning to make a trip to Texas, his birthplace.

Some Republican leaders have urged President Eisenhower to speak in Texas, which he carried by 133,000 votes in 1952.

Slick Thief Cleans Out Ex-Soap Maker

CHICAGO (AP)—A pickpocket did a cleanup job on a retired liquid soap manufacturer last night.

George L. Simmonds, 63, told police a man bumped into him as he was walking to his near North Side home after parking his car. Simmonds discovered a soapy substance had been sprayed on his suit, apparently to make the thief, from a toy pistol.

The stranger was apologetic and wiped off the suit with a handkerchief. When Simmonds got home he discovered his wallet containing $215 was missing.

Watched His Step But Went To Jail

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Cafe owner Albert Jones watched his step too closely and ended up in jail. Liquor board agents Jack Graves and Walter Sparks noticed that Jones carefully skipped the sixth step when climbing the stairs at his place.

There were 19 pints of wine under the step and Jones went to jail on a charge of possessing wine on premises licensed only for beer.

Auto Dealers Set Convention

Three Big Spring automobile dealers tentatively plan to attend the 12th annual convention of the Texas Independent Automobile Dealers Association in Dallas Nov. 3-5.

Rayford Gillihan of Big Spring, a director in the state organization, said he will attend the sessions. He reported that Pete Harmonson and R. E. Rhoades also are making tentative plans to be on hand.

The car dealers will meet in the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas. Principal speaker on the program will be David P. Wheelchel, executive secretary of the Tennessee Automotive Association, Nashville, Tenn. Also on the program will be David H. Nutt, tax attorney, of Washington, D. C.; Charles K. Weekley, Jr., sales manager of Fidelity Insurance Co., Nashville; James Shepard, vice president of Industrial Life Insurance Co., Dallas; and D. T. Harkrider of the Motor Vehicle Division, Texas Highway Department, Austin.

The convention will open Saturday evening, Nov. 3, with a western party, dinner, dance and floor show. Sunday will find all directors in meetings and committee groups, and their wives will attend receptions. A social hour will conclude the evening.

Monday, all dealers and wives will attend a joint breakfast and luncheon, after which a fashion show is planned for the visiting women. Monday evening will feature the grand banquet with introduction of new officers for 1957, followed by the crowning of Miss Texas, "queen for a night," a floor show, and dancing. Over 500 dealers and their wives are expected to attend.

Need For Employee Counseling Topic At P&MA Meet

A talk on employee counseling as a tool of management in fostering improved employee-employer relations was heard at the last meeting of the Big Spring Personnel and Management Association.

Speaker was E. B. Pierson, assistant principal and counselor at Big Spring high school. He stressed the need for complete pre-employment counseling.

Two new members were admitted to the association. They are Ormer Williams, Webb AFB employ utilization director, and Luther B. McDaniel, position classifier at the base. Lloyd Hatter, field representative for the Bureau of Apprenticeship, U. S. Department of Labor, was a guest at the meeting. The group will meet again Nov. 15.

A Bible Thought For Today

For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward. (St. Mark 9:41)

Editorial

Seems Like We're In The Dark

As usual where internal Iron Curtain affairs are concerned, the West is lacking in complete and dependable information on what's happened and is happening in Poland.

It is obvious there has been a shakeup of earthquake proportions in the government of Poland — not in its devotion to communism, of which the new officials are partakers, but in the identity of the top dogs in the new government.

It is not possible to say as this was written whether the big shake-up was done by and with the consent of the Kremlin, or was achieved willfully over the Kremlin's objection.

High Russian officials, including Khrushchev himself, undoubtedly were in Poland as late as last Friday. Were they there in an effort to head off the ouster of the old government and the rise of the new? Or were they there to give their blessing to the change, as part and parcel of the new "soft" anti-Stalin policy?

At least one dispatch from Warsaw — where press censorship still prevails when the chips are really down — claimed early Tuesday that Khrushchev, instead of being the goat of the big shake-up as the outside world reasoned, was in reality its hero. In short, it claimed Khrushchev arranged the big switch on the theory that a free and independent Poland would be a more steadfast friend of Russia than a captive Poland.

That, of course, is sheer nonsense. The Kremlin never voluntarily gives up anything, especially a people and territory as vital to her strategic position in Europe as the Polish people and nation.

Undoubtedly there is something more than what is on the surface to explain what has happened in Poland. We can indulge the hope that it goes deep and stands fast.

If things are what they seem, the rise of Polish nationalism on the pattern of Titoism foreshadows quick reaction in other satellite countries — Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Hungary and, less likely, Romania.

But as of now Poland has merely exchanged one form of communism — the Kremlin model — for another form, the Tito pattern.

Both are equally communistic. In extending help and encouragement to the new Warsaw ministers, we should not lose sight of that fact.

Start Toward Ending Patchwork

Some real help toward getting a constitutional convention to bring the state's basic charter up to date is now forthcoming from the Texas Bar Association.

The Bar's board of directors has decided to sponsor a movement to rewrite the Constitution to make it more flexible in some respects and tighten it up in others. The suggestion came from District Judge W. L. Thornton of Dallas, chairman of the state Bar's Committee on Constitutional Revision.

He advanced the state's unparalleled industrial growth and the resultant increase in population, migration of people from the rural to the urban centers, the need of providing better protection to the state's resources as reasons why a rewriting of the Constitution is desirable. The document is now 80 years old, and it has been amended some 113 times, not to mention as many or more failures to amend.

Next month nine amendments must be acted on by the voters — eight on general election day, a ninth one week later due to an error in dating.

Two years ago, if we recall correctly, there were eleven amendments to be acted on, most of which were adopted.

One of the nine amendments coming up next month represents the third time in ten years one single subject has been submitted to the people, requiring a change of the Constitution. That is the veterans land act. The first, adopted in 1946, provided a $25 million bond issue to buy land for sale on easy terms to veterans. Again in 1951 the Constitution was amended to raise the ante to $100 million and to include all veterans who served after 1951. Now it is proposed to raise the bond issue by still another $100 million.

Campaigning By False Innuendo

WASHINGTON — Present-day politics must inevitably cause many of its practitioners to hang their heads in shame. For campaigning today seems to be devoid of morality. It has gone so far in the widespread use of deceptions and untruths, as a means of seeking to win votes, that the American people may well wonder why the politicians think the majority of the voters has so little intelligence as to believe these misrepresentations.

Before the presidential campaign began there was pious talk about "moderation." But gradually it has become apparent that former President Truman, the champion of the "give 'em hell" technique, has dominated the style and strategy of the Democratic nominees, Adlai Stevenson.

The Republican spokesmen, too, have fallen victims to the strategy and have tried to return arguments in kind. The cries of outraged provocation — "he hit me first" — always lead to more charges and countercharges.

Adlai Stevenson has made the basis of his campaign an innuendo that there's some kind of crooked relationship between the Eisenhower administration and "big business." Yet he himself, in an article in "Fortune" magazine in October 1955, complained that "it became part of the ritual of New Deal politics to castigate a business system that has always been recognized by Americans as the only permanent source of the jobs and consumer purchasing power which 'the government' was trying to restore."

Even today Mr. Stevenson says now and then a kindly word for big business enterprises as such, but nevertheless conveys the impression that there is a crooked partnership between the administration and big business men.

Mr. Stevenson lately has been blaming the "tight money" situation on the present administration when he knows very well that the Federal Reserve Board, which fixes money rates, is not a part of the administration but is a non-political body set up by the banks of the nation as provided by a law passed under a Democratic administration. Before President Eisenhower came into office.

Does this mean that, if elected, Mr. Stevenson would subject the Federal Reserve Board to political pressure?

Mr. Stevenson is not the only demagogue in the campaign. Governor Harriman speaks recklessly and blames President Eisenhower for not having endorsed Colonel Nasser with a conscience and the men in the Kremlin with a sense of morality.

Another example is this comment in a recent speech by Mr. Stevenson: "The Republicans at their convention deliberately and dramatically threw Joe Smith — American — out, and put Richard Nixon — Republican — in."

The Democratic speakers, on the other hand, can point to Republican misrepresentation, too. It is not a fact, for instance, as some Republican orators claim, that the Democratic party caused both World War I and World War II or had the primary responsibility for the outbreak of the War in Korea. Always, of course, some phases of American policy have had an influence on world events, but to claim that any party in the United States deliberately plunged America into any war in this century is really a distortion of the truth. The Republicans try to justify their comments on war by contending that the Democrats shouldn't boast about high employment as a normal thing during their tenure, when it was accomplished for the most part through wartime expenditures.

The worst deception, however, is in connection with Adlai Stevenson's speeches on the H-bomb tests and the draft.

Yet this comes under the head of campaigning. Expediency, misrepresentation, innuendo, guilt by association, anything to get elected — all these are the characteristics of the present campaign. It looks as if 1956 will establish some kind of record for unfairness and unnormal partisanship.

Fish Out Of Water

WALTERS, Okla. — The oldtimers here swear the drought is so bad the fish are trying to get caught to get out of the hot and drying streams. Game Ranger Woody Wilson says the streams are so low that fish are dying from lack of oxygen and also scalding to death.

Drawer Reflex

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — A burglar used a physician's reflex hammer — the little one he taps your knee with to make your leg bounce — at the office of Dr. Jacob Weing. The thief tapped the desk drawer. It bounced open and he took the $200 inside.

The Kremlin's Heritage

WASHINGTON — Russia lost her absolute control of world communism before Stalin died in 1953. After the example set by Tito and Marshal Tito broke away in 1948, and thrived, and the Red Chinese took over China on year later.

Nikita Khrushchev, Red party boss in Russia, and the other heirs of Stalin are being pointed to now as the men who let Russia's iron grip on the satellites slip away.

But when Khrushchev last February in his speech downgrading Stalin, conceded there are various roads to socialism he was only recognizing a reality and trying to make the best of a depleted inheritance.

This was the reality: The 200 million Russians couldn't hope to make a satellite of the 500 million Chinese whose leaders had fought almost alone for more than 20 years. Tito's successful defiance of Russia was an incentive to others, too.

After the example set by Tito and Red China, it was inevitable that sooner or later some of Russia's European satellites, all strongly nationalistic, should try to assert some independence.

As it turned out, the Poles and Hungarians have just made their own satellites. The irony for the new Kremlin is that — by encouraging nationalism in the non-Communist Middle East to wreck Western influence there — they fanned nationalism in their own satellites.

The events in Poland and Hungary were not identical. And for the time being their importance — in the sense of Russia losing her hold on the satellites — should not be overestimated.

In Poland the Polish Communist leadership decided — for reasons of its own — to proclaim its independence of Russia. One reason may have been to pacify the people's hatred of Russia and their discontent under communism.

But only yesterday the new Polish boss, Wladyslaw Gomułka, informed his countrymen Russian troops would remain in Poland as long as the West has military bases in West Germany.

That raises questions about the degree of independence achieved by the Polish Communist leaders.

The one fact that is clear is that Poland is still under communism. It was different in Hungary where the people revolted against both their Russian masters and their own Hungarian Communist regime. Russia used her troops to put down the riot and save the Hungarian Communist government.

The Hungarian uprising, no matter how temporary, is not a lost cause. Russian intrusion gives the Hungarians that much more reason to hate the Russians and communism with equal fervor, and revolt again.

Woman Aims At North Pole

NEW YORK — Peggy Keenan, a lady pianist who became a gold miner, now has decided to become the first woman to reach the North Pole.

"And I will," she said positively. She is the only woman on a scientific expedition of 16 men and 40-dog dogs scheduled to fly to the North Pole next January. The expedition will be headed by her explorer husband, John F. Stannell-Fletcher, a veteran arctic explorer and U. S. Air Force reserve officer.

Miss Keenan, who is red-haired and has eyes she describes herself as "Airedale colored," expects to spend two months in the vicinity of the North Pole and will keep records of the expedition. She doesn't feel her sex is any liability. She thinks more arctic exploring should be coeducational.

"A woman actually can stand cold weather better than a man," she said. "I found that out on two previous trips to the arctic, when the weather went to 55 below zero."

It was on a trip to Alaska as a USO entertainer that she met her husband. Miss Keenan is an adventure-loving woman with both business as well as artistic talent who has never been satisfied with doing just one thing at a time.

Only Two A's

RICHMOND, Va. — Only two students have been graduated with a straight A record in the University of Richmond's long history. One is Nathan A. Safian of Portsmouth, Va., who recently received the bachelor of arts degree. The other, Dr. Clyde Francisco, was graduated in 1939 and now is professor of Old Testament at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Legal Lesson

NORFOLK, Va. — Bill Davis, an assistant U. S. Attorney here, quotes this handy guide to courtroom practice: "When the law's on your side, pound on the law. When the facts are on your side, pound on the facts. When nothing's on your side, pound on the table."

Double County Seats

JACKSON, Miss. — Nine of Mississippi's 82 counties have two county seats each, complete with courthouses and full staff. The two major reasons for two-seated counties were inaccessibility because of bad roads or lack of roads and just plain old bickering over location of the county seat.

Is She Kitten?

MEMPHIS — A woman called Radio Station WHBQ a commendation station for broadcasting the Southern Assn. baseball playoff games. "You understand," she explained to announcer Charlie Sullivan, "I don't like to listen to baseball myself but my cat does."

Drug Drag

RICHMOND, Va. — The sale of publications by the Virginia State Board of Pharmacy has been somewhat less than brisk. The State Auditor's report on the operations of the board for the last year showed income from the sale of publications at exactly 35 cents.

Sweeping Enrollment

CARBONDALE, Ill. — In the crush of enrolling 2,000 freshmen at Southern Illinois University, two brothers from East St. Louis were almost swept away. A mid-up in room assignments temporarily placed Arnold and Sabino Segobiano in a broom closet.

Around The Rim

Dependable—In Every Respect

These showings of flashy, automatic new automobiles send me.

Back 20 or 25 years to the Model T we used to struggle with, but which was more dependable than a lot of these modern, no-crank models.

For one thing, you could depend on the "T" not to start in the midst of or immediately following, any damp or cool spell. The one we had was extremely allergic to moisture. Let it come a shower, and that old engine wouldn't fire a lick. Cold weather was just as bad. The machine was harder to start in the winter-time than a Missouri mule.

There were plenty of solutions to the refusal-to-start problem, though. I guess we tried them all, with ultimate satisfactory results.

We usually started the firing-up operation by turning the key on and stepping on the starter, which was tucked back against the front seat to where you could really get your weight on it. Knowing before we began that it wouldn't fire, we nevertheless shoved the "spark" lever up, pulled the gas down, and bore down on the starter.

That technique we abandoned when the battery ground to a seriously low level. Then we started the two-man effort. One would work the levers and hold down on the starter while the other grabbed the crank out front and spun it to give the battery a boost.

This went on until the battery was completely exhausted.

Next came the two-man-and-a-jack attempt. One rear wheel was jacked up, someone out front cranked and someone else worked the levers and the "choke" inside.

Sometimes this worked, even on the rainy days. But usually it didn't because the wiring was wet, the points were burned, or something else was out of rhythm.

Once we tried to pre-heat the engine by building a fire underneath, but the carburetor leaked so badly we soon had an inferno going. It didn't hurt the car any but the crank got so hot we couldn't hold it.

The last resort was to tow the vehicle until it started. We were fortunate in living on the farm, because there always were some horses handy to do the pulling. We had what looked like a race track in the pasture near the house, where we pulled that old "T" round and round trying to get it to run.

The old Ford finally proved its dependability in another way. Just when we had worn ourselves out and had given up all hope of ever getting the thing going, it would start with a one-cylinder, fender-shaking roar that soon warmed things up until it was hitting on all four.

It was dependable in another way, too. Once we got it started, we never had a lick of trouble with the thing. It never once broke down half way to some destination. I've had a number of vehicles of later vintage I wish I could sit the same for.

Loused Up With Labor-Saving Gadgets

I have just been reading another one of those terrible depressing articles on the household revolution that science threatens to work in my home in the next decade. Nothing but push-buttons and pot luck!

Well, sir, over my dead body!

That's what I said — over my dead body.

The granddaughter of the woman who was so-called "slave" to a wood-burning stove is now in durance vile to so many labor-saving gadgets that she is on the verge of an urge to take an axe to the whole shiny agglomeration.

One more labor-saving device added to those that already clutter up my home and I shall never have time to come up for air or see daylight. And what's more, it isn't the original cost. It's the upkeep.

Let's see: Last week it was $35 to diagnose and dose the reluctant air-conditioner. The week before, it was $12.50 to examine and prescribe for the dishwasher. And we haven't received the bill yet for the engineer and helper who spent yesterday afternoon holding hands with the erratic refrigerator, or for the electric floor-polisher which is still convalescing at a clinic.

And what really takes the toll of housewives is not so much the cost of coaxing these monsters to perform, but the hours we spend on our knees begging repair men in their various fields to mend the frail, ailing creatures.

Up to a certain point, labor-saving devices are just dandy. But there is a point of no return to the housewife. That point has been reached with the multiplication of these devices into more gadgets that duplicate the effort and results of other gadgets, rather than take up needed space in the catch-all closet and finally wind up on the white-elfin table at the nearest rummage sale.

Automation in the kitchen is one thing, but confusion is something else again. And that's what a multiplicity of gadgets spells. Smart, shrewd electrical engineers are now threatening me with an extra faucet at the sink ever ready to dispense instant hot coffee.

In the first place, I don't like instant coffee. We still manage to stagger along with an old-fashioned percolator that turns out bona fide coffee according to the classical standard of black as the devil, hot as hell, pure as an angel and sweet as love.

In my kitchen, the favorite frying pan is still a heavy, old blackiron model, with a Dutch oven to match. And I have the most wonderful gadget in the world for a constant supply of boiling water — or tea or similar emergencies: It's called a tea kettle and sets on the back of the stove just where mama and grandma used to keep theirs. There ain't anything about any of these household utensils to get out of order or require expensive surgery.

Man's work is from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done because her life is so loused up with labor-saving gadgets.

The Polish Crisis And European Strategy

It can be said of what is happening in Poland that it was sure to happen once external conditions permitted. I have been to Poland only once since the war, and that is some years back when Gomułka had not yet been purged and was still in office. It was perfectly evident then, even before the worst of the Stalinist tyranny began, that with rare exceptions the Communist Poles were like almost all other Poles, very anti-Russian and proudly Polish. Among the Westerners who have been to Poland since then I cannot remember meeting anyone who thought the Russians had had any success in winning over the allegiance of the Poles.

In fact, if sentiment alone had counted, what we call Titoism, the longing for national independence, has had all along even stronger roots in Poland than in Yugoslavia. The Yugoslavs, never having been under Russian rule, have felt their kinship with the Russian people and have had a great deal of natural affection. The Poles have a history of being partitioned and subjugated which for all practical purposes makes impossible any trust or affection in their relations with Russia.

Why then did the Yugoslavs assert their national independence of Moscow eight years earlier than have the Poles? In the last analysis, because Poland is occupied and surrounded on all sides by the Red Army, whereas Yugoslavia was not occupied and is not surrounded but has an open frontier with the West.

This leads us to ask why now the Poles have been able to assert an independence which they could not assert a few years earlier. The answer to that is that the great military stalemate which now prevails in the world has relaxed the tension and has gone far toward neutralizing military force. Because the tension is so much relaxed, because there is such a general feeling that a world war is improbable, the totalitarian system inside of Russia and in the satellite orbit is harder and harder to maintain. For a totalitarian system needs the threat of an external enemy to sustain its suppression of liberty. And because military power in its nuclear development is now so hideously dangerous, all the powers are afraid to use any military force, fearing that it might lead to a nuclear war.

If, as the latest news indicates, the Soviet Union will not try to crush the new Polish government, it is, of course, probable that the whole satellite empire will become Titoist. We must begin to think of what this is going to mean in world politics. We must begin, I think, by taking fully into account the crucial importance of Poland in the relations between Russia and the Western world. We can never afford to forget that Poland lies between Germany and Russia. We must not forget that for Russia, be it Communist Russia or Czarist Russia, Poland is of vital military interest. No Russian government will tolerate, if it can prevent it, the existence of an unfriendly Poland which has become part of the military system of the West.

We may expect that because of all this, Polish-Russian relations will come to a fork of the road. One way will lead to a reaffirmation of the military alliance, of which the core is a Russian guarantee against Germany of Poland's newly acquired territory. The other way, which supposes Polish-Russian enmity, is the classic gambit of a Russian-German alliance based on the unification of Germany and the partition and domination of Poland. The second way will not be possible while Adenauer is in power. But it must not be ruled out of our calculations.

It is to this fork in the road that we should address our minds, examining the possibilities of a statesmanlike solution that would safeguard the independence of Poland. The key to such a solution would appear to be, on the one hand, to provide the Soviet Union with convincing guarantees that an independent Poland would not be a hostile military base, and, on the other hand, a settlement of the Polish-German frontier which both countries accept and ratify.

The most promising idea is still, it seems to me, that of a neutral belt, neutral in respect to military alliances, in Central and Eastern Europe which might extend from Scandinavia to the Balkans. This would make a respectable place for the former satellites, also for Austria, Yugoslavia and Greece, and not inconceivable, for a united Germany. There are risks and complexities in such a multi-lateral project. But they may be smaller risks than the most likely alternative, which is a series of bi-lateral deals, especially as between Germany and Russia.

Lad Gets 30 Days To 'Straighten Out'

A 15-year-old Big Spring boy, who is accused of writing not less than five forged checks in Big Spring, and with stealing an automobile in Odessa and another in Houston, has 30 days of grace to convince the juvenile court that he has learned the error of his ways. Wednesday afternoon, Judge R. H. Weaver declared the youth delinquent and ordered him committed in Gatesville. Then the court set aside the immediate application of the commitment and turned the youngster over to the supervision of a Big Spring citizen. He will remain under the guidance of this man for 30 days. The man told the court that he had talked to the boy on other occasions and had conversation with him since the current charges were filed. He hoped, he said, that he could "straighten the lad out" and set him right in the month allotted. If he fails, he promised to report to the court and the court warned the youth there would be no further delay — that immediately A. E. Long, juvenile officer, would be ordered to take him to the Gatesville training school. Two other boys, brothers, 13 years and 15 years old, who were involved in the break-in of a garage on at least two occasions, were also before the court Wednesday afternoon. Testimony showed that the older youth had a good reputation in the town but that the younger had been in difficulty with the law on several occasions. Judge Weaver ordered the younger sent to Gatesville and remanded the older to his parents. The parents appealed to the court for possession of both boys asserting that they were moving from Big Spring to McCamey today. "Big Spring will never have any more trouble with the boy," the father promised. Weaver pointed out that this was not the only end the court sought in the boy's case. The reformation of the boy, he said, was involved. Action in the case of a 14-year-old whose home is in San Antonio and who is involved in a major burglary here, was deferred indefinitely.

Soil Bank Checks Flowing Steadily

Checks to landowners participating in the land reserve and soil bank program are being issued at the rate of about $40,000 per day, Gabe Hammack, office manager for the ASC, said Thursday. He estimated that nearly all of the payments would have been made by the end of the next week. However, he pointed out there are a number of landowners whose checks will be delayed because of minor irregularities which will have to be corrected before payment can be made. Some of these, he said, originate from a lack of detailed information from the state office on just how the local ASC shall handle specific cases. Hammack said that his office has requested clarification, but that no information has been issued out of Washington. The exact number of such cases likely to develop is uncertain, but Hammack said that he was certain there would be several. Across the board, the more than 600 farms involved in the program will be compensated in the sum of half a million dollars. Payments began late last week.

Motorcycle Spin At Kerrville Hurts Former Resident

Mrs. B. Y. Dixon is back from Kerrville where she was called by the injury of her grandson, W. H. A. Messenger, M-Mate 3c, last weekend. He was transporting a friend on a motorcycle when the friend apparently went asleep. Unmindful of this, Messenger attempted a curve but was unable to negotiate it because the passenger's weight was not shifted. Passing motorists took them to the Peterson Hospital where he was found to have both legs fractured and a gash on his head. His friend, Douglas Thompson, Birmingham, Ala., suffered cuts and abrasions. At the latter part of this week Messenger is due to be taken to the Naval hospital in Corpus Christi. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School and entered the U. S. Navy in March of 1955.
