Russians Exit Budapest In Full Retreat

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—The Russian retreat from Budapest appeared in full swing today. Soviet tanks — leaving their dead and wounded — headed away under a shower of leaflets from Hungarian air force planes threatening to bomb them if they tarried. Russian armored forces guarding the Danube River bridges withdrew at dawn. Others fell into the lines of retreat throughout the morning. The Hungarian army, now completely on the side of the revolution, trucked in fresh platoons to relieve street patrols of the ragged insurgents. The army took over the citadel, a fortress commanding the entire city, and ringed it with antitank guns. Rebel anger which had been directed against the Russians was channeled entirely for the moment against remnants of the equally detested AVH, the Red Hungarian secret police. Vengeance hunts for the members of the AVH, which Premier Imre Nagy's government has ordered dissolved, developed all over the revolt-torn city. Unofficial Hungarian sources said 130 secret policemen, captured yesterday in a battle for Budapest's Communist party headquarters, were hanged by their heels and beaten to death. A precinct party headquarters was a prime target in the street fighting today. Expunging of Soviet signs was accelerated with the government's announcement of its decision to end the one-party dictatorship and revive the multiparty governmental system that prevailed before the Reds took over in 1948. In all this turmoil, Josef Cardinal Mindszenty returned in triumph to the city where he was condemned by a Communist court in 1949 to life imprisonment as a traitor. Church bells pealed a welcome. The Hungarian air force threatened yesterday to attack the Russians unless they left Budapest within 24 hours. A rebel radio broadcast demanded that the Nagy government guarantee withdrawal of Russian troops from all Hungary by the end of December. The Freedom National Council, whose headquarters have been established at Győr, said it was ready to enter negotiations with the government. The rebel broadcast said a number of Hungarian army units have pledged loyalty to the Council. It also said a general strike still is in progress in some parts of the country and would be continued unless the government meets demands. Hungary's old traditional political parties began to pick up the threads of their existence after years of Communist-ordered oblivion. Bela Kovacs, former first secretary of the small Landholders party, was reported to have arrived in Budapest. Telephone and telegraph communications between Budapest and Vienna were restored today. Radio Budapest broadcast a demand of the revolutionary Council and the revolutionary Youth Council for liquidation of all internal enemies who might endanger Hungary's freedom. The group also demanded that the Hungarian army occupy the uranium mines at Meszék within a week. The mines have been worked for the Soviet Union. Rebel delegations from various regions over the country were reported heading for Budapest to present their demands to the government. Rebel forces hold control over wide areas of the Hungarian countryside. The Premier urged the rebels to join in preparing for free elections and said the voting would take in political parties suppressed since the Communists took over the country in 1948. Nagy proposed the formation of a coalition government and announced the appointment of a "little cabinet" to run the country while election preparations are being made. The cabinet group includes men from five parties — the Communist, Smallholders, Peasant, Social Democrats and one group that was not identified.

Soviets Claim Liberty Plan For Satellites

MOSCOW (AP)—In a major policy shift, the Soviet Union says it wants all the Communist countries to be completely sovereign and is willing to talk about the disposition of Soviet troops in three of them. An unusual declaration issued by the government last night was interpreted by diplomatic observers as indicating Moscow was seeking a graceful way out of an increasingly embarrassing situation within the Communist camp. In conciliatory tones, it was said the Soviet army will evacuate Budapest "as soon as this is considered necessary by the Hungarian government." It also acknowledged that "the further presence of Soviet armed units in Hungary may cause even further aggravation of the situation. The declaration said there are Soviet units in only three of the "peoples' democracies," Hungary, Romania and Poland. It went on: "With a view to insuring mutual security... the Soviet government is ready to examine with other Socialist countries participating in the Warsaw Treaty the question of Soviet troops stationed on the territory of the above-mentioned countries." The Soviet troops in Poland, Hungary and Romania are there under terms of the Warsaw Pact, a Russian-commanded mutual defense alliance formed last year by the Soviet Union and her East European allies. Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov told Western correspondents last night all the pact members would have to agree to the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary, a major demand of the rebels there. There was no mention in last night's declaration of Soviet troops in East Germany. The declaration spoke of "the great commonwealth of Socialist nations" and said its members could build their relations on the "principle of full equality, respect of territorial integrity, state independence and sovereignty and noninterference in the domestic affairs of one another." This, it said, presupposes continued close fraternal ties in economic, political and cultural spheres. The Soviet Union said it was putting into practice decisions of last February's 20th Soviet Communist Party Congress based on "maintaining the complete sovereignty of every Socialist state." It said the Soviet government and the whole Soviet people "deeply regret the developments in Hungary that led to bloodshed." The declaration also reiterated that Soviet troops entered the fighting in Hungary only on the request of the Hungarian government.

Changed Her Mind

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Bank teller Lucy Tapson was skeptical when a man handed her a note demanding money, which also said: "Someone's got a gun on you." "Do you really want to do it?" asked Mrs. Tapson. The man pulled a gun and pointed it at her. She stuffed $11,902 into a paper bag, and the man grabbed it and ran out the rear entrance.

UF Campaign Has 75 Pct. Of Goal

Scheduled to close on Friday, the 1956 United Fund campaign is only three-fourths of the way to its goal, audit of contributions and pledges showed today. Raised so far in the drive has been $55,415.22. The goal is $75,550. D. M. McKinney, general chairman, said the campaign will be continued until the objective is reached. He again asked all workers who have prospect cards to turn them in, whether they have been worked or not. McKinney is anxious to re-assign the cards so that the campaign can be concluded. "All we have to do is work the cards," he declared. "The quicker we do that, the sooner the campaign can be wound up." McKinney said he is not at all pessimistic about bringing the

Slain Man Is Identified

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A man found dead in a well near here last week was identified by the FBI through his fingerprints today as a native Nebraskan, Verl Edgar Parsons, 46. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, so informed police. Except for identification, the case remained a mystery.

IN THE CELLAR

Cowed Papa Gives Up On Halloween

By RON AUTRY

VERONA, N.J. (AP)—They can take Halloween and give it back to the Druids, who started it, as far as I'm concerned. Some of the other middle-aged kids I know look forward to it with glee. But not this disillusioned boy. I have tricked and treated my last time. The family has agreed to include father out of any Halloween plans. Last time I bobbed for apples, I had a cold for a month. Last time I went to a Halloween masquerade, I said the wrong thing to a gal I thought was somebody else. Moreover, I couldn't recognize anybody — but everybody recognized me, a shattering experience. Now, at long last, I have jumped the last Halloween hurdle. Finally, my two youngsters are old enough to shift for themselves. No more cut hands from carving jack-o-lanterns. No more pumpkin seeds clinging to my elbows. No more burnt fingers from flickering candles. No more long hours skulking in the cold, dark streets keeping an eye on the kids tricking and treating. No more suspicious glances from passing policemen. No more getting the daylight scared out of me by masked youthful frights popping from behind trees and mailboxes. Oh, I know. Think positively. Take this weakness in my character and make it a strength. Put more into it, get more out of it. That's what some fathers do. They're the boys who have the kids in for soda pop, blindfold them and have them feel wet grapes, telling them they are the eyes of a dead man. They're the playboys who, when a kid rings the door bell, leap out the door clad in a sheet, banging cymbals and wailing what they fondly think is a banshee's cry. No, sir, Halloween is not for me. This year the night of Oct. 31 will find me down in the cellar with the family dog. I'll be the one with the cowed look.

'Trick Or Treat,' But Keep It Clean

Youngsters will 'Trick Or Treat' tonight, but the police department and city officials warn them to hold their antics to a minimum. Tonight is Halloween. Police Chief C. L. Rogers said today that the department will have its regular night force operating but they would be watching especially for vandalism and youngsters' tricks. He urged all citizens to take movable objects from their lawns, such as chairs, children's toys, sprinklers, lawn hoses and garbage cans. The same is true of bicycles. He mentioned also porch furniture and floor mats. Usually, said the chief, these articles are stolen maliciously, but if citizens lock them up or remove them from front yards, less damage and trouble will result. People also should put their cars in the garage if they don't want the windows soaped. Mayor G. W. Dabney joined the police chief in saying that the city does not want to remove the fun of Halloween but only wishes to see the fun stay clear of the vandalism category.

partment reported, and Rogers hopes for the same this year. City officials asked parents who will chaperone children's groups tonight to watch the youngsters. A 10-year-old girl was killed last Halloween in Stanton when she ran over in front of a car. "It's always a time when people enjoy themselves," the mayor said. "So let's not spoil it with injuries or acts of vandalism."

Case Of Vanished Okra Puzzles Cops

MESQUITE (AP)—The case of the vanished okra puzzled officers today. Ernest Lane told deputy Sheriff W. B. Jones he arose from the dinner table last night to answer the doorbell. No one was there. When he returned to the table, he found a bowl of okra empty. Lane just wanted the mystery cleared up. He didn't ask Jones to recover it for him. Lane doesn't like okra much, anyway, he said.

Brave Lawyer Downs Bottle To Prove Point

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward Bobick, a big man with a large capacity for scotch whisky, was the happiest lawyer in town yesterday. He drank two fifths of scotch and wobbled into court to prove a man could do that much and still navigate. Bobick's clients, Robert D. Burns and William J. Cleary, are on trial in General Sessions Court on charges of kidnaping a young aviation engineer in Boston last June 19. The two defendants had testified they guzzled 80 glasses of beer and a fifth of whisky between them in an 18-hour period before the alleged kidnaping. But a prosecution witness, Dr. Meyer Texon, said anyone who drank that much in that time would be out like a light. Not so, said lawyer Bobick, and he set about to prove it. He contended his clients could have drunk as much as they said they did and "not know the nature of their act."

Abducted Negro Said 'Beaten'

WILDWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Investigators seeking Jesse Woods, 39-year-old Negro who allegedly said "Hello there, baby" to a white schoolteacher, heard reports today that he was hauled out of his city jail cell and severely beaten by a group of white men but was left alive. Woods has not yet been found. He was taken Sunday from a cell that bore marks of violence, including bloodstains and a broken lock. Two investigators were questioning men who apparently saw the night violence. One of the witnesses said Woods was flogged but was alive and that he was left on a little-traveled road near here. Woods was placed in a jail cell at his own request for protection.

Allied Units Begin Assault On Egypt

British, French Split With U. S.

LONDON (AP)—Britain and France launched air and naval bombing against military targets in Egypt today. The French Defense Ministry in Paris made the announcement on receipt of word from Cyprus, the British island fortress where British and French paratroopers have been poised nearly three months while the Suez crisis simmered. There was no mention of ground forces. The announcement said combined aerial and naval bombardments began at 6:40 p. m., Egyptian time. A British-French ultimatum, demanding that Egypt and Israel cease hostilities and that the fighting forces of both sides keep clear of a zone 10 miles on either side of the Suez Canal, expired 14 hours earlier. Egypt rejected the ultimatum. Israel accepted it on the condition that Egypt would agree. The French and British contended fighting on the Sinai Peninsula endangered the canal because of aerial and paratroop activity in the area and thrusts by Israeli armored columns, reported by British Prime Minister Eden to be nearing the canal zone. Eden told the House of Commons, during angry questioning today by Labor members, that Britain and France intended to carry out their purpose of occupying key canal zone points, including Suez, Port Said and Ismailia. Despite the open disapproval of the United States of the action, Eden said: "We stand by what we said and we shall carry it out." Eden said Britain had to protect her own vital interests in the Middle East with or without U.S. agreement.

Israeli Crowd Sees Egyptian Ship Defeated

HAIFA, Israel (AP)—Thousands of persons perched on rooftops before dawn today witnessed a flashing sea duel that ended with the surrender of the Egyptian frigate Ibrahim Awal off this port city. The Egyptian vessel ran up the white flag after taking a shelling from units of the Israeli navy and air force. She surrendered with her entire complement of 250 men—the first reported prisoners of the two-day Egyptian-Israeli fighting. The Ibrahim Awal began lobbing shells at the Haifa Bay area in the early morning hours, apparently in a bold attempt to cripple Israel's small navy and knock out the port facilities here. Haifa is Israel's largest port. Thousands of Haifa residents roused from their sleep and headed for air raid shelters and cellars in the blacked-out city. But other thousands—men, women and children—went to the rooftops to watch the fighting. Witnesses said the Egyptian ship opened up from about 2 1/2 miles offshore. Units of the Israeli navy returned the fire and the sky erupted in a blaze of shells and rockets. As the first light of dawn appeared, Israeli jet fighters joined in, firing rockets and claiming hits that forced the Ibrahim Awal to quit for quarter. An Israeli communique said Israel suffered no casualties in the engagement. Spokesmen also said the Egyptian shelling caused no damage, but windows of some houses were shattered by the concussion.

Israelis Push On

Announcements from both Cairo and Tel Aviv, the Israeli army headquarters, indicated heavy fighting continued on the eastern approach to the canal. Israel claimed its forces had taken up positions only 10 miles from the canal, the "ultimatum" line. Egypt announced its Soviet-supplied jet planes had been thrown into action. The Egyptian high command announced that heavy fighting, which began yesterday afternoon, was continuing today in the El Aja-Abou Ouguela area just inside the Egyptian border and close to the base of the Egyptian-occupied Gaza Strip of Palestine. Israeli broadcasts indicated the Israeli forces were attempting to cut off the Gaza Strip. Eden refused to say whether British and French forces have landed on Egyptian soil. There were no confirmed reports from the Middle East all day that the landings had started. The latest, from Israel, said British troops went ashore in the Suez area. There was no confirmation from Cairo. Egypt announced it had put Russian MIGs into operation against Israeli forces on the Sinai Peninsula. Israel claimed the capture of an Egyptian ship in Haifa. On the canal operation, London newspapers reported waves of troop-carrying planes took off from the Mediterranean base of Cyprus just after dawn, flying toward the canal 250 miles away. But these reports appeared to have been premature at least. Hours later, Egyptian governors at Port Said, Ismailia and Suez along the canal reported all quiet there with no sign of invading forces. The Voice of Israel, Jerusalem radio station, warned the refugee-packed Gaza Strip that it soon would be cut off from Egypt. It asserted Israeli military operations in the Sinai Peninsula soon would begin.

Bride Picture Bares Bigamy

HONOLULU (AP)—She made a beautiful bride in her white gown of net with a lace bodice, high scalloped neckline, elbow-length veil and bouquet of white carnations and orchids. Two local newspapers printed her picture on the society page. That's how her husband found her. Husband No. 1, that is. He told police he had been left home-alone—with their six children. And all of a sudden he sees a picture of his wife in the paper—as a bride. Mrs. Concepcion Teixeira, 26, was arrested on charge of bigamy. James K. Paragas, 20, a Navy fireman from Detroit, the man Mrs. Teixeira married Oct. 31, was charged with adultery. The woman, freed on $100 bail, told police she went ahead with her second wedding because her husband wouldn't give her a divorce. He told newsmen he would gladly have divorced her if he could have found her.

MAJOR NETWORKS

Ike To Go On Air In Mid-East Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will go on nationwide television and radio tonight to discuss the Middle East crisis. This was announced shortly before noon today by the White House which also repeated that the United States is still standing by its pledge to assist any victim of aggression in the Middle East. Britain is reported to have informed the U.S. government considers the pledge defunct. The pledge bound the United States, Britain and France to work together in the Middle East to preserve peace. Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower's talk tonight would be about 15 minutes—beginning at 7 p. m. EST. All major networks are expected to carry it. Saying the talk would be "a non-political report," Hagerty added that the President would speak from his White House office and discuss "the developing situation in the Middle East." Hagerty said further Eisenhower will "outline the American position" regarding the tense situation resulting from the Israeli thrust into Egypt on Monday. Sitting in at the White House meeting on discussion of problems related to the Middle East situation were Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Arthur S. Flemming, chief of the Office of Defense Mobilization. One possibility in the view of officials here is that far-reaching economic difficulties may develop for Western Europe, especially West Germany, France and Spain, if British-French intervention in the Middle East shuts down the Suez Canal and perhaps interrupts the flow of oil through existing pipeline routes. Within 30 days, it is felt, an acute oil shortage would slow down Western Europe's vast industries because tankers would be forced to use the far longer route around Africa. Whether the United States would step in to avert such an industrial paralysis with American oil shipments is not clear at this time. An emergency plan for shipping 500,000 additional barrels of American oil daily is ready to be put into operation swiftly. But, because President Eisenhower and top aides are somewhat bitter at the British-French decision to intervene it is uncertain how far this government would be willing to help its two main allies in an emergency caused by what is considered their own rash action. The differences with Britain were further emphasized today when Eden told the House of Commons that Britain must protect her own vital interests in the Middle East with or without prior agreement of the United States. He said: "We cannot accept that we have to obtain the agreement of the United States before acting in our own vital interests." Eisenhower kept open the chance of making a scheduled Philadelphia speech.

U. S. Legate Talks With U. N. Leader

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The main purpose in calling the Assembly would be to get around the veto power, which Britain, France, Russia, the United States and Nationalist China have in the Security Council. Fall session of the Assembly is scheduled for Nov. 12. The British and French used the veto twice last night to tie the hands of the Council as their ultimatum to Egypt and Israel expired. Their actions drove a deep wedge into their alliance with the United States. The vetoes were viewed as a hard blow to the 11-nation council's prestige, already lowered by 78 Soviet vetoes in 11 years. The two Western Powers gave Egypt and Israel 12 hours to stop fighting and draw back 10 miles from the 103-mile canal so that British and French forces could move "temporarily" into Port Said, Ismailia and Suez "to separate the belligerents and to guarantee freedom of transit through the canal." They said if Egypt and Israel did not consent, they would move in anyway. Israel agreed but Egypt refused.

Perilous Split Develops In West Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Relations between the United States and its chief European allies in the Middle East crisis collapsed into a dangerous state of confusion and uncertainty today.

A crack which had developed in recent months broke wide when Britain and France spurned a peace appeal by President Eisenhower and ordered their troops into key positions on Egyptian territory along the Suez Canal. Their announced aim was to guarantee access to the canal in the face of Israel's military thrust into Egypt.

U.S. officials, some angry and some shocked, were frankly uncertain what the consequences would be either in the turbulent Middle East or in the broader framework of the Western alliance.

It seemed evident that the split had wrecked the 1950 agreement in which the three nations undertook to maintain the balance of power in the Mideast and to prevent any aggression.

Some authorities here believe intervention in the Middle East may prove to be disastrous by uniting the Arab world against Britain and France. If a prolonged state of war should develop, pipelines carrying oil for Europe could be cut and shipping in the Suez Canal could become hazardous. That would have a devastating effect, imposing an economic drain which coupled with the costs of fighting in the Middle East, the British and French are ill prepared to bear.

What the United States would do in such a situation is not certain. If Washington held to the view that the British and French brought these troubles on themselves, it might be less willing to help out with Western Hemisphere oil than if the difficulties had been brought on primarily by Egypt.

The major immediate aim of U.S. policy is to try by all available resources of diplomacy to keep the Middle East fight from spreading.

American officials were dismayed that the Middle Eastern crisis with its remarkable complications—which saw the United States and Russia voting together against Britain and France in the United Nations last night—has so largely eclipsed developments in Hungary and in Russia's relations with its Eastern European satellites.

As one official put it, "The world may lose sight of the fact that freedom is winning its greatest battle in 10 years of struggle with Soviet communism."

Eisenhower made his appeal for Britain and France to reverse their announced intention to put troops near the Suez Canal in mid-afternoon yesterday. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the appeal was delivered to British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet.

The statement made clear that Eisenhower had received his first word of the British and French intentions through news dispatches. Exchange of information between Britain and France on the other hand had been dropping off for some time. Some officials feel there has been a virtual blackout on communications with London.

"The President expressed his earnest hope," Hagerty said, "that the United Nations organization would be given full opportunity to settle the items in controversy by peaceful means instead of by forceful ones."

"This government continues to believe that it is possible by such peaceful means to secure a solution which would restore the armistice conditions between Israel and Egypt as well as to bring about a just settlement of the Suez Canal controversy."

Eisenhower got his reply within a matter of hours when Britain and France vetoed in the U. N. Security Council a U. S. plan to end the military action. Russia voted with the United States.

State Department officials made no attempt to conceal a growing suspicion, for which apparently they had no hard evidence, that the French and possibly the British had known ahead of time of Israel's plan to launch a major military operation against Egypt two days ago.

"The reasoning was that with the Middle East in turmoil the British and French would have opportunity to regain control of the Suez Canal by military means. Ever since the canal was nationalized by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser July 26, Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have urged negotiation and not force.

There is a strong feeling in official quarters here that in attacking Egypt, Israel was being used as a decoy for the British and French.

For Israel, the profit in such an operation could be a gain in Arab territory.

The British government's primary concern is regarded here as being for the canal itself. The French government is believed to be activated primarily by a desire to break Nasser's prestige so that he may no longer provide effective support for Arab rebels against French rule in North Africa.

Officials believe that if and when the present crisis is brought under control, the wounds of disagreement among the Big Three can be healed with reasonable success because in so many fields the Western Powers have common interests. However, on many issues it may be difficult or impossible to achieve the degree of cooperation which the Western Powers have enjoyed in the past.

Sergeant Convicted Of Hitting Recruits

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—A general court-martial has convicted a mess sergeant at this Marine Corps recruit depot of one of 12 specifications, or charges, that he struck fledgling Marines.

Sgt. Edwin Kravitz of White Plains, N.Y., was acquitted yesterday of the 11 other specifications involving 12 recruits assigned to kitchen work under him Aug. 28. The court-martial fined him $360, to be deducted from his pay at the rate of $30 a month.

Airmen Set Up Unit For Crippled Kids

By CARL L. PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A new Air Force "unit" is in operation today because a little boy kept trying to walk.

As a result, Jimmy Mason's many spills no longer raise bumps on his head—and others in his school class are just about the happiest jet "pilots" anywhere.

Polio left Jimmy, 7, crippled in both legs and with partial use of only one arm. It didn't rob him of his spunk.

A few weeks ago Jimmy tugged at his braces and began trying to walk. After several attempts, he managed to take a few steps at a time. But he always wound up by falling.

Jimmy was unable to raise his arms to protect himself, and each fall raised a new bump or marked him with a new cut.

Still, he kept trying.

The other day his school teacher at Samuel Gompers Memorial Clinic, Ted Hollingsworth, decided to equip Jimmy with a football helmet and face guard.

The rig protected Jimmy against head injuries, but, says Hollingsworth, it also "made him feel different" from the seven other crippled children in his class.

Jimmy began wearing the helmet with pride, but another problem popped up. Hollingsworth detected a trace of envy on the part of the other pupils.

The teacher turned to nearby Luke Air Force Base for help and the Air Force came on the run.

Capt. Hugh M. Matheson of Los Angeles, and fellow officers of Luke's 3600th combat crew training group landed a helicopter on a playground at the clinic.

The airmen brought helmets for the seven other pupils, a collection of model planes and certificates activating the class as the "Jet Pilot Squadron."

Matheson admitted he was "a pushover from the start" of the project. "You see," he said, "when I was a kid, a collapsed spine put me in a crippled children's hospital for a year. I guess I understand."

Church Youths To Solicit For Overseas Relief

Members of the Big Spring Interdenominational Youth Committee tonight will canvass the city for Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) contributions tonight.

Barton Grooms, treasurer of the group, said letters of identification will accompany the solicitors as they make their rounds with Haloween spooks. Grooms also said that each $1 contributed to CROP will result in $20 worth of surplus foods being sent overseas for the benefit of some needy family or individual.

Interdenominational Youth Committee representatives will start from the First Christian Church at 8:30 p.m. today. They expect to complete their canvass by 10 p.m. when they will return to the church for refreshments and to tabulate contributions.

Officers of the committee, in addition to Grooms, are Jerry McMahon, president; Julius Glickman, vice president; Betty

Attorney General Rules Against Health Insurance

The attorney general has informed Harvey Hooser Jr., county attorney of Howard County, there is no provision under existing laws by which a county can take out group health and accident insurance on county employees and officials.

Judge Disposes Of 18 Cases

Judge Charlie Sullivan said today that he has dismissed 18 non-jury cases from the docket of the 118th District Court.

Enters Hospital

Roy D. Worley, principal of the high school here, entered a local hospital Tuesday to undergo a series of tests.

Howard County Commissioners Court has been entertaining a plan to put such a policy in operation in this county.

At its meeting Monday, it requested that the county attorney obtain a ruling on the legality of such a program.

The attorney general said that there are no laws which make it possible for the county to put such a program in operation.

Nolan Freeway Link Scheduled

Another link in the U. S. 80 freeway is scheduled for development in 1957.

Nolan County officials have announced that the segment from Roscoe to Sweetwater is to be converted into a divided highway next year.

Teachers and business representatives are to gather at the High School auditorium at 9 a.m. on the 14th, for preliminaries of welcome and assignment into groups.

Lamesans To Hear Interior Official

LAMESA — Three Lamesans were going to Borger today to hear an address by Clarence Davis, under-secretary of the interior.

They are Sam Richardson, local director in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, City Manager Carroll Taylor and Pat Ryan, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Preparing For Halloween Ball

Installing decorations for the Halloween dance to be staged at the American Legion clubhouse tonight are these members of the local Legion post and its auxiliary.

Businessmen Approve Plans For Observance Of B-E Day

Detailed plans for the observance of B-E Day (Business-Education), when teachers are given a briefing on operations of private business, were approved at a meeting of proprietors Wednesday morning.

The day, second of its kind here, will be observed November 14, when 54 Big Spring business firms will be hosts to more than 300 teachers.

Teachers and business representatives are to gather at the High School auditorium at 9 a.m. on the 14th, for preliminaries of welcome and assignment into groups.

County Taxes Flow In Rapidly

Taxpayers marched into the office of Mrs. Viola Robinson Tuesday in sizable numbers. The tax collector reported the day's collections totaled $68,700.50.

The total is now close to half a million dollars. Mail payments which are not yet processed and which have been pouring in from oil companies, mortgage investment corporations and similar organizations would undoubtedly push the mark well above $500,000.

The total collections reported are mostly for individual taxes paid by citizens in large, Mrs. Robinson said.

Taxpayers have a full two months left to pay their current tax bill. The budget estimate on total collectable taxes for the county was slightly more than a million dollars.

Wheels Run Off, Cargo Scatters

When the wheels of a trailer run off under the bed of the trailer proper, the laws of gravity take over.

And the trailer bed is prone to plunk down on the roadbed pretty hard, thereby scattering the contents of its load rather widely.

Truth of this physical law was demonstrated to highway patrol officers and to Kay C. Robinson, Stanton trucker, yesterday 13.1 miles west, near the Martin County line.

Ben Walker, highway patrol officer, said that Robinson was pulling a trailer loaded with feed and also carrying several crates of live chickens.

For some unknown reason, the wheels separated from the bed of the trailer, the bed slid from the holders. Chickens and feed were rather widely distributed on the highway as a result, Walker said.

Robinson stopped within a few yards and reassembled his scattered cargo.

Angelo Trucker Is Injured Here

Willard Bolen, a truck driver employed by the San Angelo By-Products Company, San Angelo, sustained a crushed finger in a truck mishap here late Monday.

Bolen caught his finger in a chain, it was reported, and was taken to the Big Spring Hospital for emergency treatment. After the finger had been dressed he was dismissed.

No DL Tests On Mondays

Rearrangement of schedules for the automobile drivers license officers at Midland and Big Spring will result in the office here being closed on Mondays.

Jack Johnson, examiner for the Department of Public Safety, said he had received instructions to work in Midland each Monday effective Nov. 5. Heretofore, the examiner's office here has been open on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and until noon each Saturday.

The new schedule will cut the Monday operation out for this county.

Persons desiring to take drivers' examinations will have to arrange their visits for Wednesday, Friday or for Saturday forenoon.

Powell Lake Is Fullest In Year

The rain Monday raised the water level of Powell Lake to its highest level of the year. It dumped very little moisture in the other city lake, Moss Creek, however.

The rain at each place was half an inch.

Level at Powell is now 18 feet six inches, which is the highest since the middle of December, 1955. After the rains about two weeks ago, the level was 17 feet 10 inches. A total of 2.7 inches has fallen there this month.

At Moss Creek, the level is now 21 feet 10 inches, a three inch rise since the rains earlier in the month. The half inch Monday night raised the total for the month to three inches there.

Halloween Carnival Draws Big Crowd To High School

A record throng of more than 2,000 attended the Halloween carnival at the Big Spring High School last night, and the various clubs and classes netted around $750 on their booth and sideshow operations.

Kathleen Thomas was crowned Halloween Queen following a "sock hop" in the gymnasium. She was escorted by Bobby McAdams. Runners-up were Sammie Sue McComb, escorted by Bobby Lauderdale, and Sue Barnes, escorted by Ricky Terry.

The high school student council sponsored the carnival and received 10 per cent of the net. Sponsors and their booths were VIC, wheel of fortune and string-pull; FHA No. 1, dart throwing; senior class, sideshow; DE Class, cake walk; sophomore class, bingo; band, horror house; DE Class, picture taking; Spanish Club, fortune telling; Bible Club, pumpkin toss; DeMolays, "margin" booth; FHA No. 2, food booth; and Journalism class, contest in which Jone McAllister won a portable television receiver.

3 Candidates File Reports On Expenses

Three of the four candidates for district clerk on the independent ticket have filed their official report on campaign expenditures with the county clerk, Mrs. Pauline Petty said Wednesday morning.

Deadline for candidates to file their expense accounts was five p.m. Tuesday.

Denver Punn reported he had spent $101.93. Wade Choate's expenses were $213.85. James R. Horton, third of four men seeking the post, reported he had expended $107.84.

R. C. Thomas' report had not reached the office Wednesday morning but may be in the mail, Mrs. Petty said.

These four men will contend for the post of district clerk on the general election ballot Nov. 6. The candidate who receives the largest vote will be elected district clerk to serve out the two years unexpired term of the late George Choate.

Lee Billingsley Of Lamesa Dies

LAMESA — Lee Billingsley, 68, feed store operator and widely known livestock buyer, died here Tuesday afternoon following a long illness.

He passed away at his home at 711 S. 5th Street. Mr. Billingsley had been ill for several months.

Services were set for 3 p.m. Wednesday at the First Christian Church with his pastor, the Rev. Rush J. Barnett, officiating. Burial was to be in the Lamesa Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Born in Prescott, Ark., Mr. Billingsley had been a resident of Lamesa for 41 years. He was chairman of the board of the First Christian Church at the time of his death and was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

Surviving him are his wife; six daughters, Mrs. Jack Goodloe, Mrs. Lester Neihmeyer, Mrs. Cecil Stuart and Mrs. Vernon Bratcher, all of Lamesa, Mrs. George Gable, Dimmitt, and Mrs. Bill McBride, Earth; one son, Jim Billingsley.

He also leaves his mother, Mrs. Laura Billingsley, Lamesa; a brother, Alva Billingsley, Lamesa; two half-brothers, C. L. Billingsley, Plains and John Bryce Billingsley, O'Donnell; a step-brother, L. O. Freyburger, Flore; and 15 grandchildren.

Negro Youth Held In Knifing Case

A 15-year-old Negro youth is being detained in the juvenile ward at the county jail as aftermath to a knifing Monday near the Negro school.

Fred Taylor, deputy sheriff who investigated the affray, said the victim of the cutting suffered a deep slash over the eye and down the side of his jaw. Sixteen stitches were required to close the wound.

It was not known what precipitated the difficulty.

The youth is being held pending further investigation.

No 'Grand Rush' To Pay Poll Tax

No grand rush in acquiring poll tax receipts has developed in the office of the county tax collector.

Check of the records shows that only a few over 1,000 voters have been issued poll tax licenses or have a list of certificates of exemption so far this year.

The figures on Tuesday afternoon stood at 694 poll tax receipts issued and 376 exemption certificates.

Poll tax receipts being sold are for next year's elections and are not required for the Nov. 6 election or for the special election on Nov. 13.

Americans Leave Jerusalem

Families of U.S. Embassy and other State Department personnel board an Air Force flying boxcar plane at Lydda Airport near Jerusalem. The State Department ordered quick evacuation of all families as the Mid-East situation became explosive with sudden military action by Israeli troops which crossed the Egyptian border. The women and children, 62 in all, were flown to Athens, Greece. Some of the Americans are members of the State Department's U.S. Operations Mission.

Phone Strike Heads Conversation Topics

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio — People here talk about the telephone strike, the weather — and the telephone strike. They aren't sure which affects them more. "Beautiful day" or "lousy weather" used to be the greeting. Now they pass on the streets, grimly shake their heads and mumble something about "telephones" or the lack of them. Usually, they are trotting somewhere they wouldn't have trotted 16 days ago. That was when Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. closed its exchanges here and in surrounding Scioto County after the installations were stoned by a 500 persons. This is the third and longest telephone blackout this Ohio River city has seen during the strike, now in its 109th day. The strike began July 15 when 636 members of the Communications Workers of America walked off their jobs in parts of 24 southern Ohio counties. Besides Portsmouth, a city of some 40,000, at least six other communities served by the company have gone without telephones during the long and bitter dispute. Portsmouth housewives resort to the old-fashioned gossiping over a backyard fence. Messenger service and parlor chats are back in vogue. Taxi-cab drivers cruise the streets hoping to be flagged rather than snoozing while waiting for telephone calls. Western Union is working like it never did before. The police, taxi companies and amateur radio operators have set up an emergency broadcast system that is connected with hospitals, law enforcement agencies and fire stations. Sixty-one extra state highway patrolmen sent here by Gov. Frank J. Lausche also deliver emergency messages either by radio or in their cruisers. The off-and-on contract negotiations were scheduled to resume Friday in Cleveland. So far, the talks have whittled deadlock issues down from around a score to 16. But concessions from either side appeared unlikely on the company's demands for a no-strike clause, the union's stand for a union shop and the company's holdout to de-unionize certain supervisory employees.

Negro Convicted Of Temple Rape

BELTON — John Wright, 35, a Negro, was convicted of the rape of a young expectant mother in Temple Aug. 10 last night. The jury recommended the death penalty. Wright was accused of entering the home of the white woman and assaulting her. The woman, who bore her child two weeks ago, pointed out Wright in court as her assailant.

Youth Sought In Bride's Abduction

DALLAS — A youth was sought today in the reported abduction of a bride, 16, Monday night. Her estranged husband of 10 months, Kenneth Meadows, 20, was hunted east of Mesquite, Sheriff Bill Decker said. The bride's father, Minor Cotton, told police Meadows, armed with a rifle, pistol and knife, took her from her home after firing several shots.

Driver Yells At Wrong Man

DENVER — Bus driver Marvin Muck yelled "Aw, shut up" at the driver of a black sedan. Then he learned the driver was Mike Carroll, an investigator for the district attorney. Carroll flagged the bus to halt ordered passengers out and told Muck to report at the district attorney's office with his lawyer. The passengers had to wait for the next bus. Muck said the sedan refused to yield the right-of-way to his bus at a downtown corner. When he blew his horn, the driver yelled at him. That's when Muck yelled back.

Family Follows In McKinley Footsteps

ARAPAHO, Okla. — Five-month-old Paul Franklin Kliver is carrying on a family tradition when he wears a pair of black, button baby shoes. The shoes were given to Franklin's grandfather Paul E. Williams, Bethany, Okla., in 1900 by President William McKinley, and since then all members of the family have learned to walk in those shoes. McKinley gave baby shoes to all boys born at the turn of the century. Williams, the first to learn to walk in them, was born April 20, 1900, in Birdstown, Ill.

Now You Know Where You Are

City crews this week are in the process of erecting new street signs. The old sign, shown on the right, is typical of many of the signs which have been in use over 20 years. From only two sides were the signs readable. However, the new markers are printed on all sides. All of the 120 sets except 28 are being placed on Main, Scurry, Johnson and Eleventh. Crews are erecting the new ones as the old markers are torn down.

School-Physician Relations Studied

Areas of discontent and misunderstanding are the product of failure of medical and school men to confer, Dr. Jay J. Johns, Taylor, told the Permian Basin Medical Society and guests here Tuesday evening.

Wiping out possible points of friction through conference is precisely what the Texas Medical Association would like to see, said Dr. Johns. He explained the objectives of the school-physician relationship committee of which he is chairman to more than four score people. These include physicians, school administrators from Big Spring and other Howard County schools, P-TA representatives, and local school board members.

The Permian Basin Medical Society is the first in the state to undertake to set up a specific school-physician relationship program. Dr. T. J. Williamson is the chapter chairman of this pilot activity. Dr. Preston Harrison, society president, welcomed visitors to the conference held in the high school cafeteria.

Besides Dr. Johns, the panel included Dr. W. A. Buckner, Austin, dental consultant for the Texas Department of Health, and Lewis Spears, head of the health education section for the Texas Education Agency; Floyd Parsons, superintendent of Big Spring Schools; and Dr. J. E. Hogan, representing the local society.

Dr. Johns said that a health program for schools should be comprehensive and include health standards, adequate health and safety education, a good physical education program, teachers and personnel who were healthy and trained for emergency first aid.

Crux of the program, he indicated, was an advisory committee which would include representation from key strata of the community as well as from physicians and administrators. It was, he said, the responsibility of administrators to take the initiative although physicians ought to assume roles of leadership when asked.

Dr. Johns outlined state society policy which stressed personal relationship between individual and physician. Over and over he emphasized that health of the child is primarily the responsibility of the parent. Hence, he took a dim view of mass inoculations and mass examinations which terminated inspections. From the audience came a protest of any health information of a child being divulged to others.

Answering a question directed at the panel, Parsons said the requirement of a complete physical examination of teachers was abandoned because teachers felt they were getting inspections instead of real examinations from doctors. Teachers are required to have chest x-rays, he said.

What about medical excuses by physicians which free pupils from taking PE? School authorities said they honored them without question. Spears advanced the idea of different classifications of physical disability rather than a blanket excuse. Parsons pointed out this would present instructor complications, but Spears said that "we ought to ask: 'Is this business of PE important?' If it is, we ought to work at improving it; if not we ought to be done with the expense."

Dr. Buckner reminded administrators they could always have the services of state department consultants in several fields simply by routing requests through Dr. Robert O. Hale, the health-unit director.

Also talked were policies on directing ill and injured children to the family physician; the matter of insurance on children and on athletic participants; and even lunchrooms.

But whatever the problem, Dr. Johns said confidently, "you can work it out and secure a better health for your children and youth if you will sit down and talk it out."

Mercury Drops To 39 Degrees, Frost Possible

Although the official low temperature recorded for Wednesday morning was 39 degrees—seven above the recognized freezing level—the U.S. Experiment Station said there may have been a very light frost in the Big Spring area during the night.

Early morning risers saw a whitish coating on the grass under trees and in lower areas. If this was frost, it was too light to do any damage to growing plants, the experiment station reported.

A prediction of possible frost for the Big Spring district was posted by the Weather Bureau on Tuesday.

U. S. Experiment Station said that if frost did occur it was well ahead of the normal date for such temperatures in this area. However, the records show that below freezing weather has been recorded numerous times in the past fifty years this early in October.

The lowest temperature for Oct. 31, the weather records show, was a chilly 29 which was scored 21 years ago. Oct. 19, 1917, the temperature dropped to 26 degrees for the all-time low for this month.

90 Vote Absentee In Dawson County

LAMESA — Absentee voting in Dawson County is moving at a relatively mild pace, County Clerk Walter Buckel said Wednesday.

So far only 90 have cast absentee ballots. The deadline for absentee voting is Friday evening.

GRADUATES ARE TOLD

Citizens' Character, Integrity Account For Nation's Strength

The real strength of America lies in the character of its people. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of Big Spring's First Presbyterian Church told the newest group of USAF jet pilots last night.

Dr. Lloyd spoke during commencement exercises for Pilot Class 37-C in the Webb AFB chapel last night. It was his second appearance as graduation speaker at the base. He was presented by Lt. Col. Dean A. Fling, executive officer of the Pilot Training Group. Some 200 relatives and guests were on hand for the graduation of the 71 new pilots.

Named as honor student was 2nd Lt. William H. Nottingham of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron. Nottingham is the husband of the former Patricia A. Murphy of Columbus, Ohio, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Nottingham of Piqua, Ohio. He completed his primary pilot training at Spence Air Base, Moultrie, Georgia.

"The strength of our nation does not lie in the hydrogen bomb, planes, nor ships, but in the character and integrity of our people," Dr. Lloyd said. He added that these two ingredients will maintain the strength of America.

A native of West Texas, Rev. Lloyd said that he has seen this country grow from a "wild west" to the present civilized community only through the integrity and character of its pioneers.

Our history books reveal that the French, at one time, had a great military force, but their Magnificent like cracker boxes, the pastor added. They were not defeated because of the lack of military strength but because of insufficient character in the people.

In conclusion, Rev. Lloyd said:

Honors To Outstanding Flier

"May God richly bless you as you defend these homes of ours."

Webb AFB Choraleers, the official Base choir under the direction of 2nd Lt. Charles H. Webb Jr., personnel services officer, sang three selections during the ceremony. Airmen of the 3560th Webb AFB Band played several numbers.

Invocation and benediction were given by Chaplain (1st Lt.) William H. Barker.

After the ceremony in the Base Chapel, graduates, their parents and guests were entertained at an informal reception held at the Webb AFB Officers' Club.

Girl Scouts Ask For Scraps Of Material

Girl Scout Troop No. 37 is sending out a plea for scraps of material suitable for doll clothing. This was announced at a meeting of the troop Tuesday afternoon in the home of the leader, Mrs. Thomas-Bauch. The garments will be made by the girls for the dolls which have been purchased by the local firemen for distribution at Christmas.

Officers elected for the month of November include Jan Anderson as president; Sandra Walker, vice president; Mickey Lawson, secretary; and Alice Clewof, treasurer.

Members of the Quak Patrol have announced that they are collecting cigar boxes to be fashioned into jewel boxes. These will be given to women patients at the State Hospital at Christmas.

This troop would like to receive scraps of silk, satin, velvet or other material suitable for lining the boxes.

Ann Gray has been selected as leader of the Golden Hawk Patrol, and Jan Anderson as assistant leader.

Emblem of the group is to be a green star with a golden hawk outlined with sequin. The coming project is to present a musical skit for patients at the State Hospital.

Student Council Slates Thanksgiving Program

Meeting Tuesday morning at high school, members of the student council made plans for a Thanksgiving program to be presented to the school.

A speaker was selected; it was announced that the cappella choir will sing.

Bobby McAdams reported that activity cards will be required of students attending football games in the future.

Correspondence included a note from Shine Phillips and a letter from Abilene High School asking for a copy of the group's constitution.

It was announced that Judy Reagan and Edith Freeman will appear before the Citizens' Traffic Commission to ask for one-way traffic in the semi-circle in front of the school.

A report was made of the Halloween Carnival, during which Kathleen Thomas was crowned queen by Ronnie King. Her escort was McAdams.

The dance, which was postponed from Homecoming weekend, was set for Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 29.

The leadership training course, sponsored by the council, will be held at the school Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. Truett Vines will be in charge of the study on parliamentary procedure.

A request was read from the sophomore class; this was for permission to stage a talent show. The date will be set later.

The council will observe American Education Week, Nov. 11-17.

The Christmas parade was discussed and it was announced that several floats will be entered from the high school.

Twenty-three were present for the meeting.

1953 Club To Sponsor Card Party

1953 Hyperion Club members are making plans for a card party to be given Nov. 13 at Corden Country Club. Scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m., the party will be a benefit for the YMCA Furnishings Fund, which is a project of the club.

Tickets, priced at one dollar, may be bought from members or obtained at the door. Parties may be made up before the party, or individuals will be assembled at game tables.

Candies and cakes are included in the list of prizes planned as awards during the afternoon. Another prize is to be a jewel box made by Mrs. E. V. Spence.

Arrangements are being made for sessions of bridge, canasta, samba and other card games. In charge of the party preparations are Mrs. Walter Ross, Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. Bobo Hardy.

Garden City Slates Homecoming Fetes

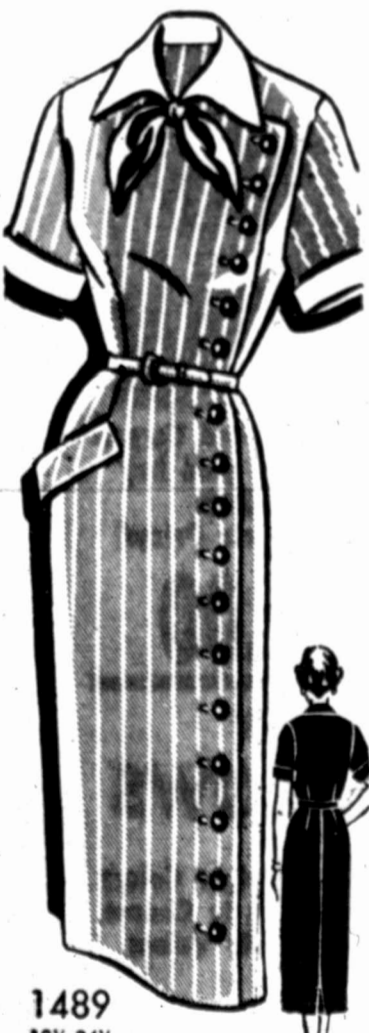

GARDEN CITY — Homecoming activities at Garden City High School will begin Friday at 3 p.m. with a pep rally. The football game will begin at 8 p.m. when Garden City meets Terrell. The homecoming queen will be crowned during halftime ceremonies.

Candidates for queen are Susan Bednar, Alice Clark and Marceline Gill.

Following the football game, an open house for exes will be held at the school.

What's Scalloped?

A food that's "scalloped" means that it is arranged in a casserole between layers of cream sauce; usually a topping of buttered crumbs or the crumbs and grated cheese goes over the top.

Perfect Fit

A smart all occasion for the half-size figure that fits to perfection. Note the smart side closing, the crisp contrasting accents.

No. 1489 with PATT-O-RAMA included is in sizes 12½, 24½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 14½. (33 bust), 4½ yards of 39-inch; ¾ yard contrast.

Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to IRIS LANE, Big Spring Herald 367 W. Adams St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Play Given At Baptist WMU Meet

A program and short play on "Soul Winning" was presented to the Baptist Temple WMU at their meeting Tuesday morning.

Presenting the program were the Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Posey. The title of the skit was "The Salvation of the Lost." Rev. Posey told the group how they could save lost person's souls. Special prayers were requested by members.

The group opened the meeting by singing "Help Somebody Today," led by Mrs. Pete Shepherd and accompanied by Mrs. Posey.

Prayers were offered by Mrs. James Holmes, Mrs. John Lucas and Mrs. M. S. Warren.

Twenty-one members were present.

Next Tuesday all members of the circles will meet at the church at 9:30 a.m. for Bible study and a business session.

Nuts, Maple Syrup Dress Up Squash

Pecans and maple syrup combined with butternut squash makes a fancy dish for serving those special guests.

FANCY BUTTERNUT SQUASH
 Ingredients: One and one-half pounds butternut squash, ¼ cup water, 2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon light brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, white pepper, ¼ cup small pecans (plain or salted), 1 tablespoon maple or maple-blended syrup.
 Method: Halve squash lengthwise; scoop out seeds and stringy portion. Pare squash and cut into ¼-to 1-inch cubes. There should be 4 to 5 cups. Bring squash and water to a boil in a saucepan; cook rapidly, covered, until squash is just tender—about 10 minutes. Drain and mash with butter, salt, sugar, and pepper to taste. Turn into 8½-inch pie plate. Break pecans into pieces and sprinkle over squash. Dribble with maple syrup. Place under broiler until pecans are lightly browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Blueberry Pancakes Perks Up Breakfast

Tempting blueberry griddle cakes will make that lazy appetite perk up.

BLUEBERRY GRIDDLECAKES
 Ingredients: One and one-fourth cups sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 eggs, 2½ cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), ¼ teaspoon vanilla, ¾ cup cultivated blueberries (picked over and rinsed and well drained).
 Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat eggs in medium-sized mixing bowl until thick and ivory-colored; beat in milk, melted butter and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients; beat only until smooth; fold in blueberries. For large griddle cakes, use a generous ¼ cupful of the batter for each cake; bake on a lightly greased griddle until golden-brown, turning once. Makes 10 to 12 large griddle cakes. Serve with maple syrup.

'Killer' Wilson Shoots Way Out Of Prison

No. Sgt. Walter Eubank isn't really hurt; he's just "cooperating" with the Big Spring Civic Theatre, Inc. to stage the escape scene in "Blind Alley." (L. to R.): Sgt. Eubank of the Big Spring Police Department; "Killer" Wilson, (Nick Tripatas) and Mazie, who in real life is Patsy Morton. Attention, Flower Arrangers! Here's A Professional For You LUBBOCK — Texas Garden Clubs and other interested groups now have special opportunities to hear and meet one of the nation's top flower arrangers, thanks to the Texas Tech curriculum.

The rising young arranger, Robert H. Rucker, had a very good job as landscape architect and faculty member at the University of Oklahoma; but he wanted to teach horticulture full-time rather than part-time as he was doing at OU. Tech was the only school in the Southwest with a department and a Bachelor of Science degree in horticulture and park management.

So Rucker ended up this fall on the Tech faculty — with a class schedule that leaves him free on Fridays for weekend appearances with groups interested in flower arranging.

A barrel-chested veteran of the North African campaign — he had a leg blown off by a land mine — Rucker doesn't fit the popular misconception of a flower arranger at all.

Yet, there's no doubt about his abilities. National magazines such as Flower Grower and Popular Gardening have used pictures and stories about his work.

Rucker was one of eight finalists in the first Sterling Bowl competition at Newark, N. J., one of this country's top flower arranging contests.

And he has just accepted a position as regular columnist with the new Flower and Garden Magazine for Mid-America. He will write about what to do each month in gardens located in the South part of the magazine's circulation area — parts of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

Other monuments to Rucker's abilities are the modern campuses of Baylor University, Waco, and OU, both of which were redesigned under his direction.

Rucker, a Texas A&M College graduate, came to Baylor after his release from service. After spending several years redoing the Baylor campus, he moved to OU. However, Baylor retained his services as a landscape consultant.

Testimony to his work while at the big Oklahoma institution is a resolution which the city of Norman gave him just before his departure for Tech.

Mrs. Woods Initiated Into Lodge

Mrs. Sidney Woods was initiated into the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening at Carpenters Hall.

Decorations for the hall were pink carnations, ferns and pink tapers. Mrs. C. L. Lumpkin, noble grand, presided for the meeting.

Members voted to send a box of gifts to the patients at McKnight Sanatorium for Christmas.

Following the regular session, a social was held with a cake walk being featured. Mrs. W. E. Parker won a silk quilt, which had been donated to the lodge by Mrs. Jessie Barker. Proceeds from the walk went into the lodge fund.

Mrs. Homer Petty, costumed as "Madame Pauline," told fortunes for members. Proceeds from this event went into the building fund.

Refreshments were served to 36 by Mrs. and Mrs. Leon Cole and Mrs. Barney Hughes.

Lamesa AAUW Fetes State President

LAMESA — The Lamesa branch of the American Association of University Women held the first meeting of the year Sunday afternoon with a seated tea at four o'clock honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Hindman Taylor, state president from Greenville. The tea was held at the Woman's Study Club which was decorated with an autumn theme.

Mrs. Wayland Pope, a c.o.m.p., presented a musical program as the guests assembled. The opening prayer was given in memory of Mrs. R. H. Weeks and Bob Lindsey Jr.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson, president of the local chapter, introduced the guest speaker, who spoke of her trip to Paris and eight countries which she visited in her two-month tour this summer.

The serving table was laid with a gold cloth with a cornucopia used as the centerpiece. The appointments were of silver. About 35 guests attended from Seminole, McCamey and Lamesa.

Knott Group Forms WMU; Names Heads

Tuesday afternoon, the women of the First Baptist Church at Knott met at the church to organize a Women's Missionary Union.

Elected president was Mrs. Gene Hoston; first vice president, Mrs. V. L. Jones; second vice president, Mrs. L. C. Matthias; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Johnny Shortes.

Stewardship chairman is Mrs. Porter Motley; community missions co-chairmen are Mrs. Gene Long and Mrs. Louis Harrell; mission study chairman is Mrs. Larry Shaw; and Bible study chairman is Mrs. Haskell Beck.

Mrs. T. M. Robinson will serve as prayer chairman, while Mrs. W. A. Burchell will be song leader.

Dates for the meeting were set for the first and third Tuesdays, with members gathering in the homes. Mrs. Beck will be the next hostess at 3 p.m.

Refreshments were served to 15.

Miss Fortenberry Sets Wedding Date

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fortenberry of Welch announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jeanine, to Johnny Stanfield of Midland. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Stanfield of El Paso.

Their wedding will be an event of Dec. 15 at the Welch Baptist Church.

The bride is a graduate of the Dawson High School and of Draughton's Business College in Abilene. She is the secretary for the El Paso Natural Gas Company, at Jolal, N. M.

The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Valeta High School and Texas Western College at El Paso. He is a geologist at Midland for El Paso Natural Gas Company.

Gift Tea Fetes Mr., Mrs. Don Spears

LAMESA—Mr. and Mrs. Don Spears were complimented with a gift tea Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Roy Huffataker.

The serving table was laid with a lace cloth over blue with a centerpiece of yellow mums and silver leaves in a crystal bowl.

Fall flowers were used to decorate the house and on the coffee table stood a miniature arrangement of a wedding party. About 45 guests were registered by Mrs. Bill Goen of Odessa, sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Spears were married Oct. 11. She is the former Kay O'Brien.

Methodists Hear Talk On Voting Importance

"Know what you are voting for," Mrs. Knox Chadd told members of the First Methodist WSCS at their meeting Tuesday. She emphasized the importance of voting and gave the group criteria for judging the 1956 presidential candidates.

Prior to her talk, the meeting was opened with a devotion and prayer by Mrs. O. W. Carter.

Mrs. Clyde Johnston, president, conducted the business session, when various reports were heard. It was announced that the district WSCS fall meeting will be held in Midland on Nov. 8. Mrs. Cecil Matthews, Lubbock, will be the special speaker at that time.

Members were urged to attend the Parcels for Peace drive which will be conducted by the United Council of Church Women Friday beginning at 10 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Twenty-one attended Tuesday's meeting.

Mrs. R. W. Thompson announced the mission study for Nov. 6 at the church beginning at 10 a.m. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

Mrs. Rogers Gives Talk For Coahoma Methodist WSCS

COAHOMA — The WSCS of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Susie Brown giving the opening prayer.

Mrs. Joe Rogers gave the devotion from the Matthew 4, 22-26 and 28th chapter 16-26 verses. Her thought was "God is with us always." Mrs. J. W. Wood was in charge of the recreation and Mrs. Edd Carpenter was hostess for the evening.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Noble Read over the weekend were their children Mrs. W. W. Gunn and son, Billy, of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Read and Sue Read, all of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. DeVane visited over the weekend in El Paso with their son, Arlon, who is stationed with the Army there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Owen left Sunday afternoon for a vacation to be spent in Houston with their son and family, Joe Owens, and other relatives in East Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold House and family of Midland spent the weekend here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Cramer.

Mrs. Bennett Hoover, Mrs. Mary Massey and Howard Massey all visited in Mason over the weekend with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cochran and Phil spent Sunday in Coahoma with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Cochran, and other relatives.

Mrs. J. A. Roberts Sr. is confined to the Big Spring Hospital. C. C. Arnold is in the same hospital.

French Consulate Fired

The French consulate in the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem burns after being set afire by a mob. French Consul Merrien and four members of his staff fought off the mob with rifle fire from the roof. Police reinforcements later drove off the attackers. Recent French arrest of five Algerian Nationalist leaders have brought on a wave of anti-French rioting in the Arab world.

Stassen Calls On GOP Aides To Make Up For Ike Absence

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Staff
Presidential Aide Harold Stassen said Tuesday Texas Republicans should work extra to make up for Eisenhower's inability to campaign at Dallas Wednesday. The President called off his appearances in Dallas, Oklahoma City and Memphis after Israeli troops drove deep into Egypt. Democratic Congressman Jim Wright of Weatherford and Wright Patman of Paris continued to hammer at Eisenhower's business policies and defended Democratic presidential candidate Stevenson's proposal to halt H-bomb testing. Gov. Shivers announced he would make a 15-minute radio address Wednesday. Democrats for Eisenhower headquarters in Austin said Shivers would make another address Thursday night. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) was to speak at Austin Wednesday night. Stassen told a Republican rally at Waco the weight of a thousand votes may tip the balance between Eisenhower and Stevenson in Texas. Stassen said the race is close in Texas and "that makes it all the more important for you Republicans to work hard every day." Wright said at McAllen that the Democratic philosophy could be described as a "percolate up" philosophy because the Democrats believed "true prosperity starts at the grass roots" and works up. He said the Republicans have a "trickle down" philosophy that believed by pouring enough on the few on top, "some of it would trickle down to the common people." Wright said Stevenson's H-bomb policy had been "widely distorted" by the Republicans. He said Stevenson only favored stopping the explosions of the H-bombs with their "deadly dust which affects future generations." Wright said Stevenson had not advocated stopping research and development of the H-bomb or the testing and stockpiling of atomic and smaller weapons. Patman told 300 persons at a fund-raising rally at Paris that "Republican high interest rates will ruin our country." Patman said, "Whenever you raise interest rates you raise prices. It upsets the budget of every state, county and municipal government and in the home. A family of five will have to pay out $200 more this year because of a one per cent increase in interest rates." He said "The Republicans' cry of inflation is idiotic." He said inflation did not exist in the housing-construction business, small business and farms. Dallas Republicans "regretfully called off elaborate plans for a gigantic Eisenhower rally. GOP officials said auto caravans, chartered buses and planes were to have brought Eisenhower supporters from all over Texas. Eisenhower said the Middle East crisis "leaves me no option—in the interests of working for peace—but to remain at the White House Wednesday." The Texas Democratic campaign office said a statewide TV network had been arranged for Sen. Gore's speech Wednesday night. The speech was expected to deal with Stevenson's H-bomb proposal.

Varied Weather On U.S. Scene

By The Associated Press
There was a variety of weather across the nation today, most of it about normal for midautumn. Rain fell in a north-south belt over the Mississippi Valley and headed eastward with showers in prospect during the day in most areas east of the Mississippi River. It was wet along the East Coast from Pennsylvania southward through South Carolina, with rain-fall light in most places. A mixture of rain and snow dampened the northern Rockies, with light rain and scattered showers westward into sections of the Northern and Central Plateau regions and the northern and central-Pacific Coast areas.

Patman said, "Whenever you raise interest rates you raise prices. It upsets the budget of every state, county and municipal government and in the home. A family of five will have to pay out $200 more this year because of a one per cent increase in interest rates." He said "The Republicans' cry of inflation is idiotic." He said inflation did not exist in the housing-construction business, small business and farms. Dallas Republicans "regretfully called off elaborate plans for a gigantic Eisenhower rally. GOP officials said auto caravans, chartered buses and planes were to have brought Eisenhower supporters from all over Texas. Eisenhower said the Middle East crisis "leaves me no option—in the interests of working for peace—but to remain at the White House Wednesday." The Texas Democratic campaign office said a statewide TV network had been arranged for Sen. Gore's speech Wednesday night. The speech was expected to deal with Stevenson's H-bomb proposal.

Rain's No Problem

Worker Killed In Cleaning Machine

FLIER, Idaho (AP)—Walter Nelson, 59, was beaten to death in a beet cleaning machine at the Amalgamated Sugar Co. yesterday. His wife, who had brought him his lunch, witnessed the accident. Sheriff James H. Benham said Nelson was inside the machine cleaning it and apparently did not hear a shouted warning it was to be turned on.

Businessmen, Economists See More Of 'Exuberant Prosperity'

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen and economists — with only a handful of exceptions — are united today in predicting more of what one bank dubs "exuberant prosperity."
They are doing so for the most part without much hedging on such hazards as the outcome of the national election, the upheaval in Eastern Europe and the strife in the Middle East.
They appear to see the momentum of good times overriding national and international political turnout.

"The outlook is bright" is the phrase that keeps popping up when industrialists — steel, autos, oil, machinery, rail equipment, even some textile executives — report on what has happened in their companies over the last nine months and what they foresee ahead. In many cases they are including the first part of 1957 as well as the remaining two months of 1956.
"Prosperity today is our biggest problem," says David F. Austin, executive vice president of U.S. Steel. The booming economy is taxing the steel industry's ability to keep up, let alone expand.
"A straining economy" is what the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York calls it today in its November survey. It sees "demand straining hard against supply in most basic lines and inflationary pressures threatening to gain the ascendancy."
But it finds present conditions mainly favorable, citing a new record for September in total civilian employment, a significant drop in the number of unemployed, a rise in the average factory worker's hourly wage rate, increasing industrial production, and a fairly satisfactory volume of retail trade.
"These trends in production, trade and employment add up to a condition of exuberant prosperity," the bank's economists report.
"Momentum from these forces alone would seem a strong indication that business will still be booming at the year's end."
Noting that businessmen "seem to be very hopeful in activity" will be sustained well into 1957, at least, "the bank finds it difficult to quarrel with this view." But true to their calling, the bankers then add some notes of caution.

Foremost they put "the rather unsatisfactory trend of corporate profits."
If the trend persists, the bankers see the possibility "that plant and equipment spending — now such a conspicuous feature of the boom — might be arrested."
The other uncertainty that the bank cites is "today's restrictive credit policy." It concedes the chance that tight money could slow down the boom in time.

Baptist Award To Amarillo

DALLAS — A. F. (Tex) Keirse, church editor of the Amarillo News-Globe for the past 20 years, Wednesday was named recipient of the 1956 Annual Press Award sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He will receive a $150 engraved wrist watch and a commendatory plaque in presentation ceremonies on Nov. 8 at the convention's annual meeting in Corpus Christi. The BGCT makes the award on behalf of the 3,704 churches and 1,502,000 members each year for outstanding service in the field of Christian journalism. Keirse is a member, a choir singer, a Sunday school teacher and a deacon at the Trinity Baptist Church in Amarillo. He has been a member of the News-Globe staff since 1930. In addition to his church work, one of his main avocations is reading a Spanish-language Bible. He has a library of Bible commentaries.

2 Runaways Resourceful

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Delphia and Larry Fluss are back under adult supervision today. And the policeman who said they were resourceful was proven a splendid judge of character.
They ran away from home last Thursday — for the fourth time — empty handed except for school lunches.
When police at Millbrae flagged them down on busy El Camino Real 30 miles north of San Jose last night, they had:
Two bicycles, about $9 cash and a heap of groceries.
Delphia is 11 and her brother is 10.
They did not say where all this where-withall came from. As usual the children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fluss were not talkative. They said they had been sleeping at different places.
Those groceries drew the attention of a woman who had read about their disappearance. She called police.

Tech Slates Homecoming

LUBBOCK — The traditional "giant" of West Texas homecomings will take place Friday and Saturday at Texas Tech.
The campus will glow with more than 2,000 Spanish candles Friday night as an 8,055 student body and staff of more than 1,300 welcome returning ex-students and friends with Homecoming Queen coronation and pep rally in the Science Quadrangle.
The biggest day will be Saturday, with a downtown parade of floats and bands at 10:30 a.m., free buffet luncheon at noon in the gymnasium, Tech-Oklahoma A&M football game at 2 p.m. and Homecoming Ball at 8 p.m. in the Lubbock Coliseum.
The famed "Third Herd" of Woody Herman will play for the Ball.
Class reunions will be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday, with the Classes of '26-'38 meeting in the Tech Union Anniversary Room; '39-'46 in the Union's Student Workroom, and '47-'51 and '52-'56 in the Rec Hall.

Presley Look Is Real Gone

ROME, Mich. (AP)—The Elvis Presley look is gone, real gone, from Romeo Community High School.
Fifty-two male students who lately sported the long sideburns and ducktail haircut affected by the rock 'n' roll singer agreed to appear in class today with trimmed hair and clean shaven faces.
They had no choice. Any shaggy holdouts face quick expulsion.
School Supt. T. C. Filippa assured the shave-and-haircut edict after teachers complained about the unshorn appearance of some of their pupils and the "defiant" attitude it fostered.

"They had sideburns and long hair that you would think any man would be ashamed of," Filippa said. "And blue jeans sliding off their hips."
Two Romeo barbers, learning of the ruling, offered a free trim for any of the 52 Presley types who could not afford to pay.

Hurricane Leaves Abundance Of Rain

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Enough rain to cover a quarter of the nation with an inch of water was dumped by Hurricane Flossy in its five-day passage across the Southeast last month. That estimate was made by the Weather Bureau here. The rain weighed 50 billion tons.

It'll Be A Cold Winter For Some Grid Elevens

Indians Choice To Beat UCLA

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—The 1957 edition of the Farmer's Almanac is at hand. It predicts a long, cold winter. No matter how cold it gets, the chill won't equal that of last weekend when football teams paid no attention to the script and spilled upsets everywhere.

There were 14 wrong guesses sandwiched among the 34 correct ones, an average of .708. That brought the season's total to 206-63 and .765.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Colorado annually gives Oklahoma its hardest Big Seven battle. It still is easy for the Sooners.

Georgia Tech over Duke: Coach Bill Murray says his team has a good chance to dislodge the Engineers. The almanac discloses that Tech gets stronger in November.

Tennessee over North Carolina: Primarily because of John Majors. Michigan State over Wisconsin: Clarence Peaks is out for the year but the Spartans have quit reading their almanacs.

Texas A&M over Arkansas: One of the many surprises last week was Arkansas' triumph over Mississippi. If the Porkers can stop Jack Pardee and company it will be the upset of the season.

Ohio State over Northwestern: Too many Buckeyes. Stanford over UCLA: It means the Rose Bowl for the Indians... and they know it.

Texas Christian over Baylor: Jim Swink still with the Frogs. Syracuse over Penn State: Jim Brown gives the Syracuse eleven an edge.

Skippering over the others in a hurry: FRIDAY NIGHT Boston College over Villanova. SATURDAY EAST: Army over Colgate, Holy Cross over Boston University, Columbia over Cornell, Harvard over Pennsylvania, Notre Dame over Navy, Princeton over Brown, Yale over Dartmouth.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Detroit, Indiana over Marquette, Iowa State over Drake, Kansas over Kansas State, Missouri over Nebraska, Purdue over Illinois, Houston over Wichita, College of Pacific over Tulsa, Minnesota over Pittsburgh, Michigan over Iowa.

SOUTH: Georgia over Alabama, Florida over Auburn, South Carolina over Furman, Mississippi over LSU, Kentucky over Maryland, Tulane over Mississippi State, William & Mary over VMI, Vanderbilt over Virginia, Wake Forest over North Carolina State, Miami over Florida State, Clemson over Virginia Tech, West Virginia over George Washington.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Utah, Texas Tech over Oklahoma A&M, Southern Methodist over Texas. FAR WEST: California over Oregon, West Texas State over Arizona, Montana State over Montana, Oregon State over Washington, Wyoming over Utah State, Southern California over Washington State.

Gregory Pads Scoring Lead

Glynn Gregory, Abilene half-back, increased his scoring lead in District 2-AAAA football play by counting 16 points against Big Spring last Friday night. Gregory now has 12 touchdowns and 32 extra points for a grand total of 104 points for the season. His teammate, Jimmy Carpenter, counted one against Big Spring last week to run his aggregate for the year to 78 points, second best in the conference. The leaders:

Player	TD	PAT
Gregory, Abilene	12	32
Carpenter, Abilene	1	0
Lane, San Angelo	11	0
Hodes, Midland	10	0
Colvin, Abilene	6	0
Stoker, Odessa	6	0

Dogies Oppose Lamesa Here

Idle last week, the Big Spring High School B football team returns to action Saturday of this week, at which time it meets Lamesa in a return contest here. In a previous meeting, Lamesa toppled the locals by a score of 6-0. The Shortorns were to have played Colorado City last week but the engagement was forfeited to the locals because Colorado City disbanded its B team.

Lip Won't Talk About His Offer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leo Durocher was anything but lippy today about any offer he may have to return to baseball and manage the Cleveland Indians.

They Look Ready

Abe Martin Drills New Q'back For Baylor Go

FORT WORTH (AP)—TCU Coach Abe Martin set out today to educate a new quarterback to the task of guiding his twice-beaten Frogs against Baylor here Saturday in a critical Southwest Conference football game. Chuck Curtis, the Frogs' slick ball handler, suffered what was believed to be a bruised kidney in Tuesday's workout.

The type and extent of Curtis' injury will not be known until today after physicians complete tests. It is doubtful he will play Saturday. Martin indicated Dick Finney, who was returned to quarterback the starting call over Delton Elenburg against Baylor Saturday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart
I dislike the role of dissenter but I can't agree with those who argue that Abilene is fielding the greatest football team in the history of the Texas Interscholastic League. Not yet, at least. Sure, they've got some of the greatest talent ever to grace any schoolboy roster and no opponent this season has forced them to play their backfield greats — Glynn Gregory, Jimmy Carpenter and Harold Stephens — very long. The calibre of schoolboy football all over the state could be lower this year than last, however. Judging of what I saw here Friday night, I'd have to pick the 1946 Odessa team over the current Abilene team. Some of the great Amarillo teams coached by Blair Cherry in the '30's might have handled the Eagles, too. The 1946 Odessa club, you'll recall, had a fine line and a backfield composed of Hayden Fry, Pug Gabriel, Byron Townsend and J. W. Thompson. I'd match Townsend in his heyday as a high school player with Glynn Gregory or any other back Abilene can offer. Stephens is good but no better than was Fry. Abilene hasn't got a fullback who could step with Gabriel, a real block buster. Thompson was a rugged campaigner, at his best when the chips were down. Abilene's blocking is tremendous, probably the best the state has ever seen. The difference, I think, could such a game take place, would be written in the lines. Odessa had a truly great primary. Abilene has some stellar boys up front but not in the quantity that Odessa had. I've never seen a football team recover as quickly as did Abilene. They believe in and practice fluid battle. You stop them here and the first thing you know they've broken through over there.

The Eagles set up a better defense for passes than any team the Steers have met in years. If you hope to do anything with them, you'd have to have a powerful running game, in order to bring those defensive halfbacks in closer.

Amarillo, when Blair Cherry was going strong up there, had some of the greatest teams the TIL has ever seen. The Sandies in those days could have given the present-day Abilene Eagles all they could handle.

The Sandies' John Harlow, Red Stidger and a Bufkin boy (whose first name escapes me) will probably be remembered as long as there is football in Texas.

It's going to take a team with a strong, agile line, with two speedy halfbacks and two bone-chilling corner linebackers (some-one built along the lines of Breckenridge's and OU's Jerry Tubbs or Big Spring's and Rice Institute's Jerry Graves) to stop Abilene. It becomes more apparent every day that there's no team in Texas that fills the bill this year.

Some observers reason that San Angelo will give the Eagles a whole of a game. I can't buy that. Angelo doesn't have the horses. The Cats have two fine tackles and a good back in Phil Lane but they're not deep enough.

The home club is supposed to have the option on the jerseys it wears into a football game. Visiting squads are committed to wear something that doesn't clash with the colors of the resident eleven. However, Abilene—contrary to what it had promised—showed up with gold jerseys with black numbers. Coach Chuck Moser of Abilene insisted his manager got mixed up and brought only the one set. They've worn the same jerseys, which blend well with the ball, in all six games they've played this year.

Abilene's running star, Glynn Gregory, never re-entered the game after slightly injuring his knee in the second period. Obviously, the Abilene coaches were taking no chances.

Chuck Moser, coach of the Abilene Eagles, remarked following Friday night's game with Big Spring Steers here that he didn't think the Longhorns would beat any team in District 2-AAAA.

In other words, Moser wasn't very impressed with anything he saw last week. He was of the opinion the Steers made it easier for his ball club by bobbling the ball so much in the early moments of the game. The Longhorns are capable of much better ball than they played in the early moments of Friday night's contest and could make him a very poor prophet this weekend. If they play their game against Odessa, they'll win.

Johnny Podres Says He Must Undergo Knife

By ED CORRIGAN
BROOKLYN (AP)—Johnny Podres, the skinny Yankee killer, revealed today that he faces a spinal operation—but that he's going to pitch as long as possible before going under the knife. The 24-year-old Brooklyn Dodger's left-hander who beat the New York Yankees twice in the 1955 World Series was discharged from the Navy less than a week ago. He has taken an off-season job as an automobile salesman hard by Ebbets Field. "I'll go as far as I can before I get the operation," said Podres. "I certainly don't want it now. Maybe I can go a year and maybe I can go five before it becomes a necessity. The doctors can't make a better estimate."

Podres suffers from spondylitis, a disintegration of the small bones which link the spinal column with the body. He's had the ailment most of his life. He said that when he was taken into the Navy last March, he was put on limited duty immediately. "After I left Bainbridge and my boot training," he recalled, "I was sent to the Norfolk naval base and I really didn't do much except pitch when I was able to. I guess I got in about 80 innings, but it wasn't very good baseball. Starting on Sept. 9, I was in the hospital for five weeks. During that time, they gave me heat treatments and back-strengthening exercises. I watched the series from there."

Podres pointed out that his miseries have troubled him all through his baseball career too. "You know," he said, "I've never pitched as many as 100 innings in one year for the Dodgers and it is all because of that same trouble. In fact, one year I was able to go only 88 innings at Montreal."

If he does wind up undergoing surgery, it does not mean that he is finished as a pitcher. But he may require as much as a one-year rest.

That would never do with the Dodgers hurtling for left-handed pitchers as they are.

Chesty Cox Gives Gophers Real Boost On Gridiron

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Some call him Chesty. Others say he has just the right kind of risky confidence to give Minnesota a psychological boot in the trousers when the Gophers need it most. But no one who has watched quarterback Bobby Cox transform what looked once like a hesitant young football team into a bunch of eager title hunters could lower his impact.

The day Cox convinced Coach Murray Warmath he could make the Gophers go without frittling away a scoring chance by impulsive play was the day Minnesota started to roll.

For all his bubbling exuberance and dead-eye passing reputation built at Washington two years ago, Cox didn't exactly enthrall the Gophers when he first whizzed from the West Coast as a transfer student.

A natural free-talker, he aroused, some early skepticism. The team felt more comfortable and moved more smartly in spring practice with home-bred Dick Larson at the controls of the Gopher split T.

"Winning the first-team quarter-back job meant plenty to me," Cox said. "When Murray picked Larson instead of me it meant I still had to prove myself. Well, that was all right. I made up my mind to do it."

Cox's teammates eventually warmed up to him. They were solid Cox fans on the first-game trip to Washington in September when Cox went back before Washington partisans in an enemy uniform.

It wasn't until last week, however, that Cox was put in charge of Minnesota's No. 1 platoon. His performance a week before against Illinois was slick and sure. Against Michigan he was practically dazzling as the Gophers stayed unbeaten and moved into No. 8 berth in the Associated Press poll.

OU Rushing Aggregate Is Reduced By Irish

By The Associated Press
Notre Dame's inexperienced linemen, who have had to shoulder the blame for most of the team's difficulties this season, should get some satisfaction out of their 40-0 licking by Oklahoma last Saturday.

They held the Sooners to 236 yards by rushing and passing combined — their lowest total since Oct. 10, 1953.

As a result, Oklahoma's offense average dropped considerably. NCAA Service Bureau statistics reveal today. Instead of averaging 459.5 yards per game on total offense, the Sooners are down to a 414.6-yard average. And their rushing rate tumbled from 396.5 yards to 346.6 per game.

Both these figures still are good enough to lead all the major colleges. Only Navy, with 404.6 yards per game, is above the 400-yard mark and Southern California with 314.8 yards average is the only other one above 300 by rushing.

In the air, Washington State, 234.0 yards per game, and Stanford, 203.0, are the only teams to gain more than 200 yards a game by passing. They're staging a private duel for the title of the passing-est team. Washington State's Cougars have thrown 189 passes and completed 99 for 1,404 yards. Stanford has made good on 103 out of 188 for 1,218 yards. Rice is the most accurate throwing team with 45 of 76 for a .592 completion average.

Oklahoma, basically a running team, hasn't slowed down in scoring. Its average is 44.2 points a game, almost ten points higher than Arizona State's.

Hardin-Simmons ranked fifth in total offense with 1,833 yards in five games. TCU was sixth with 1,821 yards.

Texas was sixth in passing with 73 completions out of 154 tries for 929 yards. SMU stood eighth with 46 of 98 for 738 yards. Hardin-Simmons was 10th with 68 of 123 for 867 yards.

More important, Iowa had the nucleus of two good, hard-hitting lines, a foundation unequalled for the building of a winning football team.

The major problem was the lack of backfield speed. Evashevski answered with a switch from his multiple offense to a winged T with single wing blocking and a balanced line.

PLAYS MICHIGAN Iowa Steamed Up About Next Game

By L. E. SKELLEY
IOWA CITY (AP)—Iowans are all steamed up about their undefeated football team and they will turn out in record numbers Saturday yelling for the first victory over Michigan since 1924.

Although Rose Bowl talk is taboo around the squad, nearly every football tongue in the state is wagging about Iowa's chances of a Pasadena visit. A victory over Michigan or Ohio State (here Nov. 17) and a triumph at Minnesota Nov. 10 would do it.

Iowa, unchecked in five games and the surprise Western Conference leader with a 3-0 record, has been jinxed by Michigan since a 9-2 victory in 1924. There have been 12 games since and all were Iowa defeats except a scoreless tie in 1929.

Iowa has gone to Ann Arbor the last three years, suffered some miserable breaks, and lost 14-13 twice and 33-21 in 1955 when Michigan scored three touchdowns in nine minutes of the last quarter.

But Saturday the Wolverines are coming here, and the enthusiastic Iowa fans are hoping the tide will turn against a Michigan team defeated 20-7 last week by Minnesota.

Most Iowans are a bit amazed that Coach Forest Evashevski has brought his squad through victories over Indiana, Oregon State, Wisconsin, Hawaii and Purdue to a No. 7 rating in the Associated Press poll. With seven players listed as 1955 starters lost by graduation, this was supposed to be a year of rebuilding.

Actually, Evashevski started his reconstruction in the final 1955 game. He opened with seven sophomores against Notre Dame and lost 17-14 on Paul Hornung's 23-yard field goal in the last two minutes.

Evashevski answered with a switch from his multiple offense to a winged T with single wing blocking and a balanced line.

Cosden Grabs Exclusive Hold On Second Place

Cosden of Big Spring gained ground in Tuesday night's competition in the Midland Women's Bowling league but the trip west proved disastrous for the local contingent. Pinkie's.

Cosden took over second place by belting Midland National Bank, picking up all four points. Pinkie's, however, lost to Ray's Rendezvous, 3-1.

In winning, Cosden posted scores of 772-765-2310. The Bankers had scores of 627-679-1958.

Suga, Brown posted the high individual efforts for Cosden, with 198-195-523. Edna Drennan had the second best aggregate, 271.

Next week, Cosden goes against Lone Star Beer.

In its losing cause, Pinkie's had scores of 676-605-669-2150. Ray's posted totals of 761-737-752-2250. Mary Ruth Robertson led Pinkie's in scoring with 203-524. Frances Glenn hovered near, with 178-501.

Ebbets Field Is Sold To Realtor

BROOKLYN (AP)—Ebbets Field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 43 years, has been sold — but the new owner is a member-in-good-standing of the Flatbush faithful.

The Brooks will remain as tenants for the next three years and can continue through 1961 if circumstances dictate.

"However," said Marvin Kramer, a real estate tycoon, who said the purchase price ran into seven figures, "I would never prevent the Dodgers from staying after 1961 if it were necessary and would never stand in their way in any manner in keeping the franchise in Brooklyn."

Texas Air Force Colonel Pays Back Navy Admiral For Rescue

By FORREST EDWARDS
TOKYO (AP)—An Air Force colonel from Texas has repaid an 11-year-old "rescue debt" to a Navy admiral from Delaware.

The story, disclosed today, started with a shotup American bomber plunging into Nagoya Bay June 14, 1945.

Lt. Col. John Miranda (then a captain and 29) was commanding the B-29 "City of Galveston" which had just unloaded its bombs on a Japanese aircraft factory at Nagoya.

The plane was hit by Japanese anti-aircraft fire as it was wheeling over the target for the flight back to its base on Guam. The No. 3 and 4 engines were shot out. So was a six-foot section of the right wing.

It limped over Nagoya Bay, losing altitude from 15,000 to 1,000 feet.

Miranda ordered his crew to bail out. He was the 12th and last man to parachute into the ocean.

Forty-five minutes later all 12 men had been picked up by the U.S. submarine Pintado, commanded by a Lt. Cmdr. Roman Budd.

That's where Rear Adm. Lewis Parks comes into the story. Parks, with headquarters at Guam, commanded a submarine squadron and task group. Parks ordered the Pintado to sneak into Nagoya Bay, ahead of the air strike, with specific orders to stand by to rescue any airmen who might be shot down into the bay. This was standard Navy-Air Force cooperation to save lives wherever and whenever possible.

After picking up the airmen, the Pintado submerged, moved out of the bay into open ocean waters, rendezvoused with the submarine Tigrone, transferred the rescued men to it, and went back into the against Nagoya.

The Tigrone took the airmen back to Guam, where Miranda met Parks for the first time.

Eleven years later, Miranda found himself back in Japan as commander of a U.S. Air Force Base at Kisarazu on the shore of Tokyo Bay.

Parks was here as deputy chief of staff for plans and operations for the twin Far East and United Nations command, with headquarters at Tokyo.

Last January Parks and two companions were duck hunting in Tokyo Bay, about two miles off Kisarazu Air Base. A bitter wind blew up a snowstorm and drove their boat into Japanese seaweed beds. A bamboo stake pierced the boat. It sank in less than two minutes.

A strong current made it impossible for Parks and the other two men to swim the two miles to shore. They clung to the stake for 2½ hours in water only a few degrees above freezing.

Miranda walked the beach on a routine inspection of his base. Between fits of snowing, he saw the hunters waving bits of clothing. Miranda ordered a rescue boat to the scene to pick up the three men.

"I sorta figure that's only partial repayment of the debt," Miranda said today. "Adm. Parks ordered out the sub that picked us up. I order out the boat that picks him up."

"But I still owe a debt of gratitude to Lt. Cmdr. Budd and his sub crew that surfaced in Nagoya Bay in war time to pick up 12 very wet fliers."

"Come to think of it, that sub crew outperformed me. We were in the water for 45 minutes—in June. Adm. Parks was in the water 2½ hours—in January. Miranda's mother, Mrs. Lacybell Olsen, is a night supervisor of nurses at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, Tex. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Sharp of Galveston."

Teacher Accused Of Slapping Girl

DENVER (AP)—An elementary school teacher, Alvin Armstrong, was accused yesterday in a $15,000 district court suit of pushing a Negro girl, 10, to the floor in a gym class last March and slapping her.

Adlai Vetoes Pension Raise

"Senator Kefauver, commenting on Stevenson's veto in Illinois of a 10 per cent increase in old age benefits, said:

"Mr. Stevenson says he vetoed the bill because the Legislature did not provide funds to finance it. But the fact is that Mr. Stevenson also vetoed an amendment which would have provided $14 million to pay for the increased cost of old age pensions."

S. Carolina Girls Bring Dixie Glory

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 31 (AP)—The pretty girls of South Carolina, like the fleet races horses of Kentucky, are bringing glory to Dixie and worldwide recognition to their state.

On their beautiful heads rest five of the world's top beauty crowns. No other state can make that claim.

Little South Carolina—ranking 26th in the nation in population—has produced a Miss Universe, the current Miss America, a Mrs. America, two Miss U.S.A.'s for the Miss World contest and a national Maid of Cotton.

Five of her six entries in the Miss America contest have been among the 10 finalists.

Judging a state beauty contest in this magnolia land of pulchritude is an exercise in frustration. For example, Marian Ann McKnight, the Manning, S. C., beauty who charmed the nation and the judges in Atlantic City when she won Miss America honors this year, has been defeated in local competition by her roommate.

The room Marian and Martha Dean Chestnut shared at little Coker College in Hartsville probably had more beauty per square foot than any other in the country.

Martha Dean, a stunning brunette, was Miss South Carolina last year. The judges deliberated in an agony of indecision before selecting her over Marian.

The search for an answer to the success of South Carolina in beauty contests leads first to the obvious conclusion that the state is simply overrun with pretty women.

One also discovers the tradition that compels Southern girls to consider it their duty to develop charm—a factor that is given equal attention along with a wellturned calf or a classic profile in most beauty contests.

But more important, South Carolina girls are usually veterans of beauty contests by the time they reach the Miss America or some other major contest.

Marian Ann was one of the few Miss Americas who didn't burst into tears of confusion when her name was announced to the nation as the winner. Why should she? By then, she was a confident winner of nine previous beauty contests with all the poise of an archbishop at a church picnic.

Texas Skies Clearing Off

By The Associated Press
Texas' skies cleared Wednesday in the wake of almost general rains Tuesday. Freezing temperatures were reported in the Panhandle.

Warmer weather was forecast. The moisture Tuesday followed a cold front which moved across the state. Tornadoes, which did no damage, high winds and some hail accompanied the rains.

Temperatures early Wednesday ranged from 31 degrees at Amarillo to 60 at Big Spring.

No rain was reported since 6 p.m. Tuesday. The rains Tuesday covered wide areas and helped dry ranges and farms.

Depositors Repaid In Bank Scandal

Modernization Of VA Hospital Set

Bids to modernize four buildings at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Dallas will be accepted until 12:30 p.m. Dec. 18.

Cost of modernizing the four buildings is expected to range between $1,250,000 and $1,750,000, VA said. The project is the second phase of a modernization program. First phase was the construction of a 500-bed addition which was opened last year.

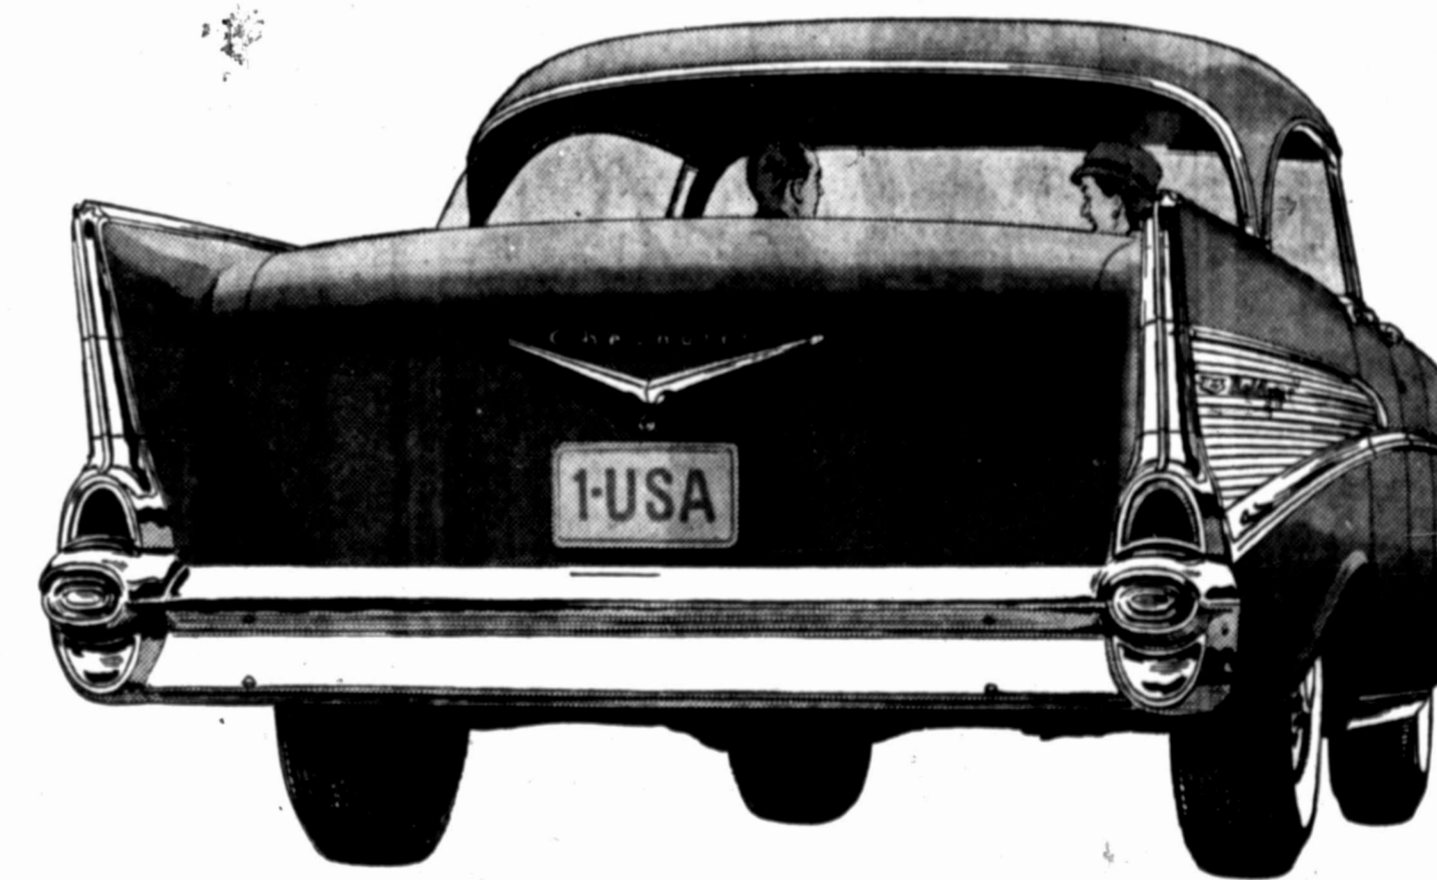

Work will include extensive alterations to the four buildings. The project also will include laboratory equipment, air-conditioning, electric elevators, outside distribution systems, and certain other items.

Drawings and specifications are available upon application to the director, Design Service, Veterans Administration, Room 2707, Munitions Building, Washington, 25, D. C.

Agriculture Dept. Reports Farm Prices In Decline

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that farm product prices declined nearly 1 per cent between mid-September and mid-October. This was the fourth consecutive month that the general farm price level has dropped.

The mid-October prices were still 2.15 per cent above those of a year ago, but were still about 27 per cent below the record high reached in February, 1951.

Farm prices as a whole normally decline during this period, reflecting increased supplies of farm products provided by the harvest season and the heavy marketing of livestock.

Halloween Customs Around The World

By RAMON COFFMAN

The old "trick or treat" custom remains alive in many places. On Halloween boys and girls (commonly wearing masks) go about with bags which are empty when they start out, but more-or-less full when they return. Household-ers often are ready with candies, nuts or cookies to give each little "ghost" something for his bag.

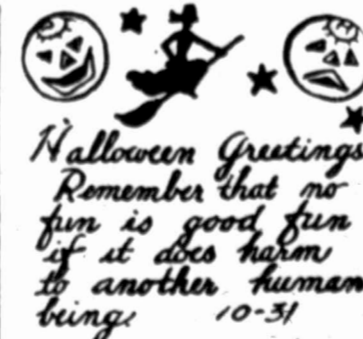

There are sections where the children say "soap or grub." Instead of "trick or treat." This seems to do just as well.

One night a six-year-old girl joined older boys and girls in a tour of the neighborhood. In that group the words "soap or grub" were employed. Returning to her home, the little girl excitedly reported:

"Oh, Mommie! Lots of people gave us grub, but not a single person handed us any soap!"

Q. What is the origin of the name "Halloween"?

A. It is short for "Hallows Eve" or "All Hallows Eve." We are told that the festival dates back to a time before the start of the Christian faith in western Europe. Bonfires were part of the ancient celebration, and seems to have been lighted by the Druids. The Druids declared that an evil god named Saman called the wicked spirits together on this night. The bonfires may have been used to shield people from the bad spirits.

In some parts of Ireland, to this day, Halloween is called the Vigil of Shaman. This proves that some Irish folk preserve the name of the ancient Druid god, who was lord of death.

Q. Did the Romans have anything to do with the origin of Halloween?
A. A Roman festival honoring the goddess Pomona was held on

Atom Carrier

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas says the Navy is ready to build a mammoth 85,000-ton aircraft carrier propelled by eight atomic engines. It would be the world's biggest ship.

Junior Hood Botches Job

DALLAS (AP)—A junior hoodlum, Bobby Calhoun, 20, badly botched what other safe crackers probably would call a dream job.

He stole a safe Sept. 28 from the Fred Bell Enterprises, Inc., a nationwide chain of barbecue stands and cafes. Inside the safe were the written combinations to company safes throughout the nation.

Did Calhoun open the door of opportunity? No. He carried the safe to the Trinity River bottoms, scattered the written combinations over the landscape, took $25 cash, and dumped the safe into silt, where it sank.

The facts were disclosed in a grand jury report today. Calhoun is under a 10-year prison sentence for another job.
