Harsh Food Rules Passed For Hungary

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 17 (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar's Russian-sponsored Hungarian government imposed harsh food and electricity controls today with the apparent aim of forcing that nation's workers to end their paralyzing general strike.

The Budapest radio announced that until further notice no meat or farm produce would be delivered to the capital from the countryside. It also said Hungary's electricity would be cut off or limited between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. Immediately after the announce-

United Fund Still $3,875 Shy Of Goal

The United Fund campaign gained another notch Saturday and moved to within $3,875 of its goal. And for the third straight week, Chairman D. M. McKinney said he hopes this is the week he can close out the 1956 campaign.

In an effort to wind up the work, McKinney said a pick-up service will be offered to all business concerns and employes groups who still have UF cards or contributions on their premises. A considerable quantity of the cards is still outstanding, he added.

The chairman called for anyone who still has either a card or contribution to telephone the United Fund office, 447-73. A messenger will be dispatched to pick up the card or gift, he said. McKinney repeated that "the end is in sight" and that he is convinced the objective will have been attained when all outstanding cards are returned.

Goal of the drive is $87,500 for 10 welfare and character development agencies. Raised by noon Saturday was $83,777.86 with only $3,872.14 still needed.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

That tenacious 20 degrees on Friday morning was enough to put all the deciduous vegetation out of business for the year. That means that Old Man Winter has his foot in the door.

You'll have your chance to inspect another new fire station today with open house for the North Side firehouse. It's just about on a par with the one opened recently at Birdwell Lane and Eleventh Place. While an asset in appearance for the northern slopes, it is of far greater value to that area in more rapid protection.

The policy of the Chamber of Commerce in lending special encouragement to area teams seeking playoff sites has borne fruit already. Merkel and Sundown will meet here Friday, and based on the outcome of their games last week as well as the season, it ought to be a red hot offensive battle. Folks can see a whole of a lot of football for one dollar.

Traditional union Thanksgiving services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in the First Methodist sanctuary. The occasion also will be one for recognizing 15 years of service in this community by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, who will deliver the message of the morning.

As if to prove that rabies is not a hot weather malady, a second case in an animal here was diagnosed last week. This one was a cow, and a calf in the same herd died under similar circumstances. A month ago a dog was found to be rabid. So be careful; and if you have warm blooded pets, have them vaccinated.

Not all caustic critics are on the metropolitan press. Commenting on the Kallu Duo, one of the school assembly programs, the reporter for the junior high paper observed "most of the students and teachers agreed that we have more talent in our own backyard!" And that should take care of the Duo.

Howard County is in receipt of an airport beacon — if it will go to Mentone and get it. The CAA made the offer to the county, and it probably will be accepted because 1) the county has to have a beacon for its new port and 2) this

Ike Approves Steps In Atom Peace Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved six additional steps to advance his atoms-for-peace program.

Under the new actions, he said in a statement, the United States will make available to other nations nuclear fuel for use in power or research reactors at prices identical with those charged by the Atomic Energy Commission to domestic users.

The President also approved an offer to purchase at specified prices plutonium and uranium 233 produced in reactors abroad which are fueled with uranium 235 furnished by the United States under cooperative agreements.

The materials so acquired by this country, the President said, will be used solely for peaceful purposes. Under the agreements, safeguards are provided also against diversion of any such materials by other nations to military purposes.

The uranium 235 being offered to other nations will be taken from 20,000 kilograms (44,000 pounds) allocated by the President in the last three years for peaceful uses abroad. Also coming from this allocation is the 5,000 kilograms this country contributed last month in launching the 82-nation international atomic energy agency under the United Nations.

The President said today's action on terms and conditions for selling nuclear fuel abroad will enable other nations to have "firm assurance of the fuel supplies necessary to the continued operation of nuclear power installations, and thus to facilitate arrangements for financing."

The actions, he added, will permit "closer estimate of net nuclear fuel costs and will add firmness to the planning now under way in friendly nations for nuclear power, thereby accelerating their atomic power development."

"We shall strive ceaselessly to attain the day when the uses of the energy of the atom fulfill mankind's peaceful purposes."

In a separate statement, AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said the new schedule of charges for uranium 235 are based on various degrees of enrichment of the fuel. For example, he said U235 at 20 per cent enrichment would be sold at about $16 per gram. This will supersede the charge of $25 announced Aug. 8, 1955.

Strauss listed the six actions approved by the President as follows:

1. Establishment of the new schedule of charges for U235 sent abroad.
2. Authorizing the AEC to extend present cooperative agreements beyond the existing term of 10 years.
3. Establishing prices for plutonium and uranium 233 to be purchased by the United States from foreign operators of reactors. For plutonium metal the price is $12 per gram; for uranium 233 nitrate it is $15 per gram of U233.
4. Decision by the commission that it stands ready to purchase at the above mentioned prices all the plutonium and U233 produced abroad during the period ending June 30, 1963.
5. A commission proposal to ask Congress for authority to establish guaranteed prices for plutonium and U233 for periods not to exceed seven years. This would provide the same assurance to foreign nuclear power programs now given domestic programs.
6. A decision to consider exchange of American U235 for source material—such as uranium ore or concentrates—with cooperating nations.

Martin County Capon Show Champions

LOTS OF COMPETITION Small Girl Wins Big Title In Martin County Capon Show

By SAM BLACKBURN

STANTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—A tiny nine-year-old girl, making her debut as a showman, grabbed off the grand championship honors at the annual Martin County Capon show here today. She won the coveted title and the cup that goes with it over a field of 67 competitors.

Her pen of three beautiful birds, entered in the #16 class, took first honors in that division and won her the grand championship as well.

She is Deanna Kay Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Steele. Her father is FFA instructor in the Stanton school.

Leon Mattingly, veteran FFA showman who has a long record of capon achievements behind him—including one top bird which sold at a major show for $2,000—was first place winner in the singles division.

Mattingly's bird was reserve grand champion for singles. Deanna showed the second place winner in the singles category.

Butch Haggard took reserve grand championship in the trio division with his pen of three which was second to Deanna's entry.

One hundred and five birds were shown at the show. There were 48 single entries and 19 trios. It was the biggest show in the long history of the Martin County Capon competition. Officials said it was at least 20 birds larger than the 1955 edition. The show has shown annual growth since its inception.

Quality of the capons this year was the highest on record, according to Steele. Several of the entries weighed better than 13 pounds.

The show was staged in the Martin County fair barn.

Judging was conducted Saturday morning. Marvin Webber, superintendent of the Abilene Poultry Show and a widely known authority on capons, was the judge.

Ribbons were awarded the first 10 places in the singles and trio divisions.

Entries were placed completely through the list.

Placings in the singles class winning ribbons were: Deanna Kay Steele, first; Butch Haggard, fourth; Deanna Kay Steele, fifth; David Poe, sixth; Jimmy Standler, seventh; Merle Miller, eighth; Pat Wiggins, ninth; Gerald Mattingly, tenth.

Placings in the trios class winning ribbons: Deanna Kay Steele, first; Butch Haggard, second; Jimmy Miller, third; Leon Mattingly, fourth; Ronnie Aikhart, fifth; Buddy Green, sixth; Jimmy Standler, seventh; Norman Donelson, eighth; Jimmy Barber, ninth; Porky Britton, tenth.

Judging was witnessed by what officials termed the largest gallery in the history of the show.

Grinding Crash Kills 7, Including Midland Marine

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif., Nov. 17 (AP)—A crushing head-on collision of two automobiles on an overpass killed seven men near here today. Five of the victims were Marines.

The impact catapulted one of the cars, occupied by two civilians over a 2 1/2-foot guard rail and down a 20-foot embankment.

The accident occurred on Highway 101, seven miles south of this southern California city.

Highway patrolman Lew Hake reported the Marines' convertible crossed the roadway center line and crashed into the other car.

He estimated the convertible was traveling more than 70 miles an hour and the second vehicle about 55.

The Marines, all from Camp Pendleton at Oceanside, Calif., were:

Sgt. Maron J. Hughes, 22, driver, son of Mrs. Beatrice Inez Gordon, Midland, Tex.

Pfc. Billie D. Gray, 20, son of Mrs. Willie Ona Gray, San Bernardino, Calif.

Cpl. Donald J. LeBlanc, 21, son of Lewis D. LeBlanc, Roseland, La.

Sgt. Joe S. Delao, 23, son of Mrs. Lucille Delao, Los Angeles.

Pfc. Jackie C. Bowlin, 19, son of Mrs. Elma Bowlin, Kerrville, Tex.

Killed in the other car were: Bernie Davis, 24, a Douglas Aircraft employe of Los Angeles, who was driving, and Arthur I. Shankman, 24, Lakewood, Calif., a commercial fisherman.

Would Discuss 'Open Sky' Idea

MOSCOW, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Soviet Union called today for a summit conference on disarmament at which it agreed to discuss limited application of President Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection proposal.

The Russian proposal specified, however, that planes would be restricted to survey flights only 500 miles from the borders of participating countries. The Soviet Union extends half way around the world, nearly 8,000 miles in length and at its widest part is about 2,900 miles.

The Russians in a government statement, also called for destruction of all H-bomb and A-bomb stockpiles in the next two years and an immediate ban on nuclear tests. As if to emphasize the point, a Tass dispatch broadcast by Moscow radio tonight announced the Russians had carried out a new test of a nuclear weapon "at a great altitude."

The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission has made 13 announcements of Soviet nuclear tests but Chairman Lewis Strauss said in September the number was "significantly higher."

In Washington, the White House said the Soviet government statement would be carefully studied when the full text is received. Initial reaction was that it would hardly win unqualified U. S. approval.

"There was scant enthusiasm or excitement in Paris, where informed sources said it contained little that was new, but plenty of propaganda. The British attitude was described as one of cautious hope, tempered with suspicion of Soviet motives."

The Soviet statement said Eisenhower's plan for mutual aerial inspection of Soviet and U. S. military installations could be considered for application to areas of Europe where both NATO and Warsaw forces are stationed—but only about 500 miles on either side of their common border.

MORE

If the Western borders of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary are considered the frontier of the Western World, aerial inspection would barely penetrate the borders of the Soviet Union itself.

This limited inspection, the Russians said, could only be carried out "subject to the approval of the individual nations."

Under the plan proposed by Eisenhower at the Geneva summit meeting in July 1955 all military installations of the United States and Russia would be thrown open to aerial inspection.

The Soviet statement of more than 4,000 words—much of it devoted to charges against the West—was forwarded by Premier Bulganin to Eisenhower, and the prime ministers of Britain, France, India and Communist China along with a letter from Prime Minister Bulganin, the Moscow radio said.

While Bulganin's latest letter was being forwarded Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist party boss, unleashed a bitter attack on "imperialists and their

New Atomic Blast Detected

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced tonight it had "detected an explosion in Soviet territory within the range of magnitude of their previous nuclear detonations."

The statement came from AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, apparently confirming the nuclear test reported earlier today by the Russian.

Strauss said the new nuclear test was detected today.

Strauss said there would be no amplification and no further comment from the AEC beyond his brief announcement.

This announcement, the 14th the AEC has made about Russian nuclear tests, was issued nearly seven hours after Moscow had reported the test.

Chairman Strauss has said previously that the number of Soviet tests has been significantly higher, but that U. S. announcements were made only when the Russian tests were of special interest "because of their size, their special character or some other unusual fact."

An AEC spokesman said there would be no explanation of why this test was announced, or what significance it might have.

There were no comments either on queries about the Soviet report that their latest nuclear test occurred at a great altitude.

A series of three tests the Russians set off in Siberia last Aug. 24, Aug. 30 and Sept. 3 were reported by the AEC too. President Eisenhower at that time pinned the size of the first blast at "less than a megaton," which is the equivalent explosive force of one million tons of TNT.

Talks Resumed In Waterfront Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Negotiations in the mushrooming New York waterfront strike were resumed today, but a shipping company spokesman predicted no settlement would be reached before Monday, if then.

Dockworkers struck yesterday over a wage contract dispute, closing Atlantic and Gulf ports and inspiring "sympathy" walkouts on the West Coast.

Federal mediators met with the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn., the voice of 170 shipping and stevedoring firms.

It was hoped settlement of the New York strike would set a pattern for dissolving the dispute in all Atlantic and Gulf ports struck by the union.

William V. Bradley, president of the I.L.A., and Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the association, said they were neither optimistic nor pessimistic about the outcome of today's session.

Chopin said, however, there was not enough time remaining to reach a settlement today, "the earliest would be Monday, if at all," he said.

Meanwhile, the shutdown spread. Latest to strike were longshoremen at Charleston, S. C. They walked off at noon, an hour before the scheduled unloading of two ships. Six merchant ships were due in the port over the weekend.

The strike hit Miami and Port Everglades last midnight and threatened to embrace other Florida ports.

The new strikers cast their lot with more than 60,000 members of the I.L.A. from Maine to Texas who began the pier tieup yesterday.

Union officials said the strike was "100 per cent effective." It idled more than 150 ships, a third of them in New York.

The Grace Line canceled South American cruises of the Santa Rosa and Santa Clara, tied up with 219 passengers aboard since Thursday midnight.

Crewmen reported "sick" Thursday evening and refused to cast off the lines. The crewmen belong to the National Maritime Union, which is sympathetic to the longshoremen.

STORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION

Hungarians Beaten Down, But Revolt Still Flames

By RELMAN MORIN
 Associated Press Staff

Toward midnight on Saturday, Nov. 3, a tall, powerfully-built colonel threw an army greatcoat around his shoulders and rushed out into the wintry darkness of Budapest.

He had just received a thrilling message.

Russian army headquarters telephoning from outside the city. The Soviet commander desires to state that new orders have come from Moscow. . . . Soviet forces will be withdrawn from Hungary at once. . . . Would the colonel be so good as to come to headquarters and assist in the necessary arrangements?

Col. Pal Maleter — daredevil guerrilla leader, hero of the bloody Budapest uprising, and as that day minister of defense in the government — could hardly believe his ears.

Three times during that same day, the new Premier, Imre Nagy, had protested that more Russian tanks and troops were still coming across the border.

Now suddenly, in typical Moscow-fashion, the about-face was announced. All were to be pulled out.

Col. Maleter and two ministers of state in the Nagy regime, Ferenc Erdei and Geza Losonczy, hurried into an automobile and roared away through the battered, wreckage-strewn streets of Budapest.

This was the hour of triumph, the crowning moment in Hungary's struggle for freedom.

So they thought.

As they crossed the city, the three men heard an occasional

STORY OF ORDEAL Had Deep Roots

The story of the ordeal of Hungary goes back months before it began making headlines. These are some milestones—

In March, the name of former Premier Laszlo Rajk, executed as a "Titoist" in 1949, was officially cleared.

In June and July, the Hungarians watched eagerly the bread-and-freedom riots in Poznan, Poland, and the lenient sentences handed down by the courts. "Subversive imitation of Soviet methods harms Hungary," an official said.

Then a Soviet puppet, Matyas Rakosi, resigned as premier. Another, Erno Geroc, replaced him. Subterranean forces were heaving beneath the strata of the Communist high command.

September — Rumors circulate that former Premier Nagy will return. He had been deposed in 1955. His fall coincided with the fall of Stalin's successor, Georgi Malenkov. Both had been guilty of promising the people better living conditions, more consumer goods.

Conflicting Statements Over Bank Data Told In Fraud Trial

HOUSTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Testimony of two federal investigators today in Federal Judge Allen Hannay's court disclosed that an official of an Alice bank gave them conflicting statements about missing bank microfilm.

They testified in the trial of Duval County political leader George Parr and eight others for allegedly using the mails to bill the Benavides School District of thousands of dollars.

Their testimony concerned B. F. Donald Jr., an officer of the old state bank, now the First State Bank of Alice.

William Dimler, federal investigator from San Antonio, told the jury Donald told him on Feb. 7, 1954, that the microfilm was not at the bank, and that it was not required to be kept and was destroyed at regular intervals.

Leverett Baker, FBI agent, swore that Donald had told him on July 31, of the same year that he had discovered during the week of Feb. 8 that the film was missing.

Baker said Donald "told me he had found that nine drawers which were supposed to contain microfilm were empty, but that he took no action about this disappearance until several days later, when he notified Givens Parr, the bank president, on the latter's return from Houston."

On redirect testimony Baker said that Donald had never said anything about the microfilm being destroyed at regular intervals.

Mrs. Jo Faith Baker, 22, employee of the Alice bank, had testified that on Feb. 18, 1954, she found the microfilm missing and that the same day in the store-room she found several paper cartons also were missing and their contents spilled out on the floor.

Frank Pinedo, assistant Texas attorney general, testified that on Feb. 18, 1954, Parr told him and A. C. McCain, a state banking examiner, that they would have to have a court order before they could check the records.

Government witnesses earlier testified the missing records included filmed copies of checks written on the school district's account.

Pinedo said he and McCain visited the bank together and conferred with Givens Parr and Donald. Pinedo said Givens Parr or Donald said they could look at the records but asked that they wait until George Parr arrived at the bank.

"George Parr arrived a short while later and said we could not look at any records until the state got a court order saying we could do so," Pinedo said, adding:

"They never did tell us the records were missing."

Under cross-examination by Percy Foreman of the defense, Pinedo denied he was an "undercover agent" in Duval County some 10 months prior to disclosing officially he was an assistant attorney general. He acknowledged he had talked in May, 1953, with O. P. Carrillo, former attorney for the school district and one of the trial's co-defendants. He said he told Carrillo and others in the Duval area that he was "looking around for an opportunity in that area for an attorney of Latin American background."

"Was that representation true or false?" Foreman asked.

"The representation did not reveal my true purpose," Pinedo replied. "It did not disclose all of my business down there."

Hannay interrupted:

"Were you on the pay roll of the state at that time?"

"Yes, your honor, I was."

"Did you have any intention of leaving the state payroll?" Foreman asked.

"Not at that time."

"Foreman said Pinedo and Carrillo were University of Texas

Plans Already Being Laid For Battle For Control Of Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—With the 1956 election less than two weeks old, campaign strategists of both parties already are laying plans for the 1958 battle for control of the Senate.

The Democrats particularly are looking ahead to that election since only 11 of their senators must face the voters then while 21 GOP seats will be at stake.

Democratic planners said today that they consider each of their 11 seats relatively safe, while they believe they have a chance to win 8 to 10 of the Republican posts.

Republicans conceded that they expect a tough fight in 1958. But they recalled that the last time this bloc of seats was up, in 1952, their party won enough races to take Senate control. This was in the first Eisenhower triumph.

In this year's voting, the Democrats maintained their precarious numerical Senate margin of 49-47, a margin so thin that it could be overturned by one death.

Democrats here are looking forward to help from popular governors of their party in the 1958 election, although they say they do not have any firm word about intentions of any of these men to run for the Senate.

However, they expect Gov. Ernest McFarland of Arizona, former Senate Democratic leader, to try to take back the seat he lost to Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) in the first Eisenhower landslide. McFarland won a second term as governor this year.

In Michigan, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, winner of an unprecedented fifth term, has indicated he probably will not seek a sixth. If he does not, Democratic leaders think he would be a natural to run against Sen. Potter (R-Mich) two years hence.

Sen. Payne (R-Me) already has announced he is retiring in 1958. Democrats are hoping Gov. Edmund S. Muskie will make a try for this seat.

In Pennsylvania, where the Democrats won a Senate seat this year, they believe Gov. George M. Leader would have a good chance to capture the second one in 1958. He cannot succeed himself as governor, Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa) whose term ends in two years, has said he will not run again.

Democrats also expect to make big efforts to unseat Sens. Malone (R-Nev.), Revercomb (R-W.Va.), Beall (R-Md.) and Purtell (R-Conn) in the 1958 voting.

They would like to be able to defeat Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Jenner (R-Ind.), but concede that they face uphill battles in these states.

Republicans say one of their best chances to pick off a Democratic seat will be in New Mexico, where Sen. Chavez (D-NM) will be up. He barely won in 1952.

GOP strategists also expect to make hard fights for seats held by these senators, although Democrats insist that in each case their man should be a strong favorite: Sens. Jackson (D-Wash.), Kennedy (D-Mass.), Mansfield (D-Mont) and Pastore (D-R.I.).

The other Democratic seats at stake will be in these normally Democratic states with the incumbent listed in parentheses: Florida (Holland), Mississippi (Stennis), Missouri (Symington), Tennessee (Gore), Texas (where a successor to Price Daniel will be chosen next year), and Virginia (Byrd).

These are the 11 contests, aside from Wisconsin and Indiana, in which Republicans believe their members rate a good edge in 1958: California (Knowland), Delaware (Williams), Minnesota (Thye), Nebraska (Hruska), New Jersey (H. Alexander Smith), New York (Ives), North Dakota (Langer), Ohio (Bricker), Utah (Watkins), Vermont (Flanders) and Wyoming (Barrett).

Democratic leaders have asked Sen. Clements (D-Ky), the party whip who was beaten for reelection, to take a full-time, paid job as director of their campaign activities in the two years ahead.

Both parties keep full-time Senate campaign staffs on the job between elections.

New Field Man

Gerald W. McCurdy, left, is replacing William Snel, right, as Red Cross representative at Webb Air Force Base. Snel is being transferred to the new Strategic Air Command base at Abilene. McCurdy came here from Lackland AFB. A veteran of the Korean War and from Springfield, Mo., he is a graduate of Missouri University. He will move his wife and two sons to Big Spring as soon as a home can be secured.

Nearly 3 Million Tons Of Drought Feed Are Provided

During the four months period through Oct. 31, 1956, Texas farmers and ranchers under the emergency feed grain and roughage programs, received assistance in the purchase of 1,443,867,646 pounds of grain and 1,374,170 tons of roughage.

There were 91,787 applications for grain assistance and 37,468 applications under the roughage program were processed during this period.

The emergency feed grain and roughage programs are meant to help established farmers and ranchers, who are primarily engaged in farming and ranching, to maintain their basic herds of cattle, sheep and goats, if their circumstances are such that this assistance is needed. State Director Walter T. McKay advised. The local Farmers Home Administration committees have the responsibility to determine the eligibility of individual applicants and to approve the amount of feed each applicant may purchase under the program.

In Texas, 233 counties are designated under the emergency feed grain and roughage programs. In these counties, eligible applicants are helped in buying corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums, or approved feed mixtures containing either 60 or 75 per cent of these grains through a government subsidy of $1.50 per hundred weight.

The federal government bears the full amount of this subsidy. In addition to the emergency feed grain assistance, eligible applicants are helped to buy hay or other approved roughage to maintain their basic herds. Under this program, applicants receive a federal subsidy of $7.50 per ton of roughage actually bought. Regulations that guide FHA county committees in the review of applications provide that applicants will not be certified if they are financially able to obtain the necessary feed for their basic herds without difficulty and can continue their normal farming and livestock operations. It is not expected that applicants will exhaust their total resources, including credit, before they can be certified for this assistance, McKay said.

However, McKay added, the fact that the purchase of feed at regular prices may not be profitable to the applicant is not sufficient to qualify him for assistance. It must be determined in every instance that an applicant is primarily engaged in farming or ranching and that this is his main source of income. A nominal portion of his income from other sources would not necessarily disqualify the applicant. The overriding factor in determining the eligibility of any applicant is his financial ability to obtain the feed necessary to maintain his basic herds and continue his normal operations.

An applicant whose financial circumstances are such that he can provide necessary feed for his basic herds and carry on his operations without serious difficulty is not eligible for this assistance.

Under the present designation, applications may be filed through Dec. 3, 1956, for a supply of feed grain and roughage to carry basic livestock herds through Dec. 31, 1956.

Wages Unchanged

Prevailing wage for cotton picking remains at $1.35 per hundred pounds in Martin County, the Bureau of Employment Security and the Texas Employment Commission announced Saturday after a new survey in the area.

Not Too Late For Vote, Daniel Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Sen. Price Daniel said today there is still time for Gov. Shivers to call a special election to choose a Texas senator before Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Daniel urged Texas to study the state Constitution. By implication, he asked them to bring pressure on the governor.

The muddled Texas senatorial situation has raised the possibility that the Republicans might be able to organize the new Senate, although the Nov. 6 elections gave the Democrats a 49-47 majority. Daniel was elected governor of Texas and submitted a resignation as senator effective Jan. 15, or earlier if his successor is chosen.

Daniel said that even though he disagrees with Shivers' interpretation of the law, he would gladly have changed the form of his resignation if Shivers had thought necessary so that a special election could be called before Congress meets.

The statement continued: "However, it is significant that Gov. Shivers delayed announcement of his decision until it was too late for the election to be called under his statute before the opening of Congress and until any change on my part would assure him of the appointment of a senator who could help organize the Senate for the Republicans on Jan. 3."

The Texas senatorial turmoil boils down to the question whether there will be a vacancy for Daniel's seat after the new Senate has convened. The Constitution provides for appointment of a senator by the governor in such a case. Shivers, a Democrat, has actively supported President Eisenhower. His appointment of a senator who would vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate might give them control of that body, with the committee chairmanships and other prerogatives that go with control.

Daniel insisted his interpretation of the Texas Election code rather than the governor's is correct and that "there is still time for Shivers to call this election" before Jan. 3.

Daniel cited a section of the Constitution saying that when a state officer submits a resignation "effective at a future date, an election shall be ordered immediately after acceptance of the resignation to elect a successor to the incumbent to fill the term of office unexpired from and after the effective date of the resignation."

Daniel said he had studied the code provisions before writing his resignation "and decided that the resignation filed by me was the best way to assure the people of an election to select my successor rather than an appointment." He asked that publicity be given to the code section he cited and remarked, "The people are entitled to know the law from someone other than a governor whose 47-day delay and present demands could result only in denying the people the vote before Jan. 3, and his appointment of a senator on that date."

Daniel said messages and letters are running 10 to 1 in favor of his standing on his resignation effective Jan. 15 or earlier if a successor is elected. He said: "Most messages express the opinion that Gov. Shivers deliberately delayed announcement of his decision and is making his present demand for an immediate resignation in an attempt to help the Republicans organize the Senate." Daniel said Shivers had failed to ask the state's attorney general for an opinion on his powers to call a special election.

Patriots Lose War, But Not The Rebellion

Hungarians marched past the exhumed coffin of "Titoist" Rank. A few days later, Nagy was re-admitted to party membership. Events in Poland rang like a liberty bell in Hungary. They were slow and undramatic but unmistakable in meaning. The new Polish leader, Wladislaw Gomulka—like Nagy, returned after being deposed—said Poland would "set its own course towards socialism," independently of Moscow. The fuse begins to hiss in Budapest. On Oct. 20, Szeged University students, 3,000 strong, pulled out of the Communist party organization. The next day, they confronted the government with a 15-point ultimatum. Among their demands... freedom of the press... abolition of the death penalty... permission to travel in the free Western countries... an end to the enforced study of Marx and Lenin. They put a two-week deadline on the ultimatum. Next they demanded that Russia pull her troops out of Hungary. The Communist youth newspaper and Budapest radio refused to report this.

Beginning Of The Great Uprising

Tuesday, Oct. 23, saw the beginning of the great Budapest uprising. It started with peaceful student demonstrations. For a few hours, the government tried by proclamation, to suppress them. It was powerless to dam the flood. The students thronged into Petoefi Square, named for Hungary's greatest poet, and to Bem Square, near the government buildings. The movement gathered momentum. It flowed toward two other points. In Stalin Square, the massed thousands roared approval when laborers slipped steel haversacks around the neck of Stalin's statue, and struggled to pull it down. Finally it crashed, and they crowded around the cold metal, hacking it with pick-axes, kicking it, spitting on it. Shots were fired there. But at the other point, the Budapest Radio Building, tragedy waited. The radio building, packed with armed AVH men, the toughs and killers of the secret police. Things happened fast there. Who spilled the first blood? The students said they sent a delegation into the building—to compel the radio to broadcast their demand that Soviet forces get out of Hungary—and that AVH men refused to let the young men come out. The others then tried to break down the gates and rescue them. Shots were fired. The AVH later said the students killed eight of their men. They fired back through the gates. A 21-year-old man, nameless and unsung, fell dead beneath the bare branches of an acacia tree. He was the first victim of the nine-days' rebellion. Serious rioting exploded. People smashed the windows of the radio building, set fire to a secret police squad car. Students climbed

Tells Of Hungarian Fighting

A witness before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, testifying under the assumed name of "Arpad Hazafi" and wearing a cap and mask to hide his true identity, looks over photographs before appearing at the Washington hearing. The photographs were used to illustrate his testimony. He was described to the subcommittee as a man "fresh from the thick of the fighting in Hungary."

to balconies, calling the others to attack. Tear gas spurted from the windows.

At that moment, Hungarian army tanks—made in Russia—thundered over the cobbles. The crowd burst into frantic cheers. People mounted the steel monsters, waving the red-white-green flag of Hungary, embracing the soldiers. The tanks attacked neither the radio building nor the crowd. But their crews passed out arms and ammunition to the students. During the night, events took a sharp turn.

Erno Geroe, then first secretary of the Communist party, went on the radio. He condemned the students. And he appealed to Russia to rush tanks and troops to Budapest.

The Rebellion Became A War

In the dark, chilly dawn of Wednesday, Oct. 24, the rebellion became a war. At 4 a.m. Russian tanks thundered over the Danube bridges. Some stayed, guarding the approaches. Others took stations around government buildings, the radio, Communist party headquarters. Was it all over? The tanks immediately came under attack. Workmen, students, teen-age boys and girls—and many even younger—swirled toward them.

They had been trained to fight, trained by the Communists. They knew how to use a submachine-gun, and how to fashion a deadly weapon in street-fighting, the "Molotov cocktail," a potato masher style hand grenade wired to a bottle of gasoline. A girl turned herself into a living torch. Carrying the "cocktail," she came so close to a tank that she burned alive. So did the crew of the tank. Another girl, hit twice by machine-gun slugs, fell and fired back once with an antiquated rifle. As she died, she murmured, "They killed my baby brother."

The rebels, uncoordinated, without central command and no contact with one another, set up "headquarters" in shops and from there fought the tanks. They burst into Hungarian army barracks—unopposed by the guards—grabbing weapons and ammunition. The thick-walled Maria Terezia barracks became an epic in the furious fighting. There, more than 1,200 people stopped wave after wave of Soviet tanks. Soldiers joined the people in that battle.

They were under the command of Col. Maletier, a professional soldier. He had parachuted behind German lines during World War II, organized guerrillas, and was captured. When he escaped, he persuaded his Hungarian guards to come with him. After the war, he had been a high-ranking officer in the Hungarian army, under the Communists. Now he was fighting the Russians.

'I Fought With Maletier'

An entire battery of Soviet tanks was destroyed in the approaches to the Maria Terezia Barracks. The proudest boast in Budapest at that time was to say, "I fought with Maletier."

Meanwhile, the rebellion had caught fire throughout Hungary. In the towns of Győr, Bacs and Sopron, Russian or secret police fire mowed down the people by hundreds. But in Pecs, near the Yugoslav border, workers in the all-important uranium mines succeeded in defying the Communist ultimatum to put down their arms. The whole country—geographically the size of Indiana and with a population of 10 million, like Illinois—was in revolt.

In Budapest, fighting ended Wednesday, Oct. 31. That was the day the Russians retreated into the countryside. Terrible scenes took place in the next hours. People, moving freely now, hunted down the secret policemen and killed them on the spot. Some died like rats in the city's sewers. Others were hanged by the heels and beaten to death. Still others holed up in steel-and-concrete dungeons, beyond the reach of vengeance.

The government panicked. It offered more and more concessions. But nothing availed until Geroe and his henchmen fled, probably in a Russian armored car across the Soviet border. Nagy and a group of political moderates took over. He announced free elections and a complete break with Moscow. On Nov. 1, he withdrew Hungary from the Warsaw Pact, which binds the Soviet satellites.

This was much farther than the Poles had gone when they rebelled. Did he go too far too fast? Three days passed. Budapest was almost out of food. Cold winds swept along the Danube. The city was terribly battered, homes destroyed, buildings gutted.

streets littered with wreckage and the skeletons of burned-out tanks. There were funerals everywhere.

But the Hungarians were free. They clothed themselves with liberty and drank the heady wine of freedom.

Then Came The Great Betrayal

Then came Saturday, Nov. 4. Suddenly, from the borders, news reached the city that the Russians were coming back and in greater strength. Nagy called in the Soviet ambassador three times, protesting. The street fighters began making more "cocktails" and reloading the guns.

That night, Maletier received the telephone message from Soviet headquarters. He drove out from the city with Erdel and Lozonczy. They have not been seen since. At 4:45 a.m., Sunday the Russian tanks crossed the Danube again. At 5-Nagy broadcast that the attack had begun, while negotiations for the withdrawal presumably were still taking place. This time, the Russians were taking no chances.

Observers estimated they launched the assault with 4,600 tanks, plus 1,000 more in reserve. An army of 200,000, supported by self-propelled guns, rolled over the country, converging on Budapest. They crushed the Hungarians under sheer weight of steel. To kill one sniper, the Russians methodically blasted whole rows of homes or an entire building.

And they used frightfulness. A man stepped into the street for a loaf of bread and was instantly shot dead. Another, for carrying a camera, was stood beside a wall and executed.

From Gellert Hill, a heights overlooking the city, heavy artillery pounded structures too solid for lighter weapons. The city had been battered in the first fighting. Now it was under a steamroller. Soviet fighter planes and IL28 bombers swept in low over the streets.

Still the people fought back with what they had. On Csepel Island, factory workers trained hoses on the tanks and drenched them with gasoline and oil. They destroyed 14, and died in droves themselves.

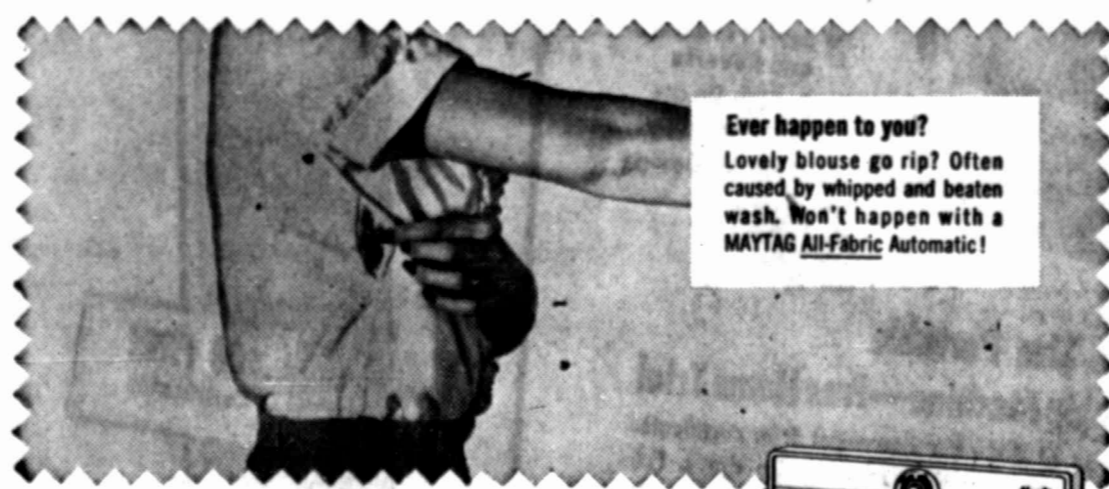

In the American legation, the telephone rang. A voice asked for Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, freed from prison three days earlier. When the fighting began again, he asked sanctuary from U.S. Minister Thomas Wailes.

The call came from rebels barricaded in the main post office. They asked the cardinal to bless them before they died. He gave

Asian Reds Squash Revolt

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Nov. 17 (AP)—Communist North Viet Nam was putting down a farmers revolt this week at the same time Soviet tanks were blasting freedom-minded rebels in Hungary. Communist sources, giving details guardedly today, said the revolting areas were peopled largely by Roman Catholic farmers. Hanoi's Communist radio and the North Viet Nam newspaper Nhan Dan (The People) disclosed aspects of the revolt, in which Red soldiers were listed among "several" persons killed.

The Hanoi broadcast was distributed by the semi-official Viet Nam press of South Viet Nam and the Nhan Dan article was quoted in a Hanoi dispatch of the French Press Agency.

The news came out on the eve of a visit to Hanoi by Red China's Premier Chou En-lai. Chou left Peking today. North Viet Nam is his first stop on a tour of seven Asian nations, including India.

There were only hints as to the extent of the revolt. The radio broadcast said it centered in four villages of Nghe Province, but "saboteur elements" created disturbances in other areas. The broadcast admitted the root of the trouble was discontent over the land reform program instituted by the Red regime.

Khrushchev Bellows At West, Legates Leave Red Reception

MOSCOW, Nov. 17 (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev roared out so violently against "imperialists and their puppets" tonight that NATO ambassadors and the Israeli charge d'affaires angrily stalked out of a Kremlin reception.

He referred to today's statement of the Soviet government on disarmament as proof that "all we want is peace."

der Gomulka was carrying out reforms and correcting mistakes of the past. He said the Soviet Union was confident that the new Polish government would continue to carry out the development of Polish-Soviet relations under the Lenin principles of equality and non-interference.

Ike Orders Careful Study Of Russian Arms Proposal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower ordered today a careful study of Russia's new disarmament proposals.

At the time he spoke, in late morning, the text was being received at the State Department.

Eisenhower discussed the subject with Secretary of State Dulles when he visited Dulles at Walter Reed Hospital. The President's special assistant on disarmament matters, Harold Stassen, called a meeting of state, defense and other U. S. government experts later in the day to begin work on the lengthy document.

The officials sought to determine whether it held new hope of breaking the long deadlock in disarmament negotiations between East and West and producing agreement on some concrete steps for reversing the trend in armament buildup.

Soil Scientist To Take New Position

Dr. W. C. Moldenhauer, soil scientist at the United States Experiment Station, will be leaving his post at the end of the year to take a position with Iowa State College in Ames.

His new assignment, which begins Jan. 1, will involve mainly research in land management and will be with the college and with the Eastern Soil and Water Management Section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Moldenhauer has been with the experiment station here for the past three years and has done considerable soil research.

Recently he returned from Cincinnati, Ohio, where he assisted in presentation of two papers before the Soil Science Society of America. One was a paper entitled: "Correlation of Phosphorus Content of Spring Wheat with Forms of Phosphorus and Other Soil Constituents." He collaborated with O. J. Alston and T. Richard in the work done at the University of Wisconsin toward his Ph. D. degree. The other paper was "Some

It's Time To Mail Overseas Parcels

The date for mailing Christmas packages to men and women in the armed forces who are serving overseas is at hand.

E. C. Beidler, postmaster, sounded a second warning Saturday to Big Spring post office patrons that the time has arrived to get those yuletide packages destined to go overseas into the mail.

In order to insure delivery on time and in good condition it is important, he said, that such mail be dispatched without further delay.

study which involves a discussion of soils of the Big Spring-Brownfield area with respect to their erodibility, the amount of vegetative cover necessary to control erosion, and the chances of growing that amount of cover every year.

At the present time, Dr. Moldenhauer is engaged in a series of summations on the research work done while with the station here. This is largely an analysis of the problem, he says.

Aside from the weather factor, one of the prime problems is how to effect a pattern for moving area agriculture from an opportunistic to a stabilized type of industry.

County Collects $850,000 In Taxes

Total taxes collected by Howard County to date stand at $851,679.75, Mrs. Viola Robinson, county tax collector, announced Saturday.

Daily tax collections have dwindled materially from the peak figures of some weeks ago. Average "take" now has dropped to around $2,000 per day.

Mrs. Robinson said that she anticipated the letup will continue for the remainder of November and December. In January a sharp pickup in collections will develop.

Part of this boost will come from the accelerated poll tax collections, she explained. To date only 263 persons have paid their poll tax and only 49 exemption certificates have been issued.

Most voters wait until after the first of the year to pay their poll tax. Mrs. Robinson said that she expects between 6,500 to 7,000 voters to acquire poll tax receipts for 1937.

She pointed out that 1937 is an "off" year — a year in which no major elections are slated — and that such years always result in less demand for poll tax receipts.

Dies Of Injuries Received In Fall

EL PASO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Charles Cooper, 23, died early today from injuries received yesterday when he tumbled 25 feet from a ladder to a concrete floor.

Cooper was working for the Otis Elevator Co. in the State National Motor Bank Bldg.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper of Corsicana; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Malcomb of Beaumont; and a brother, Lynn Cooper of Corsicana. A widow and two daughters survive here. The body was sent to Mesilla, Tex., for burial.

Poll Tax Receipts Used In Absentee Voting Available

Howard County voters who balloted by absentee vote in the first and second primaries and who have not reclaimed their poll tax receipts are asked to call at the office of the county clerk and pick up their papers.

Voters who deposited their poll tax receipts with their applications for absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 election can recover their receipts on Dec. 6 and those who voted absentee on Nov. 13 may get their poll tax receipts on Dec. 13.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, explained the law requires that her office hold such receipts for 30 days after the election for which they were used.

She also urged that all voters make certain they regain the receipts. She pointed out that it was possible another election — to fill the pending vacancy in the U. S. Senate — would be held before the first of 1937 and if this is the case the current year poll tax rolls will be required.

Further, she explained, the receipts should be permanently kept as they have value in clarifying records. Old age assistance clients often have to make use of poll tax receipts, she said, to establish their right to benefits.

Phinney bagged his eight-point buck between Mason and Fredericksburg at 12:05 p.m. Friday, just a few hours after the shooting season opened. He promptly brought the animal to Big Spring putting him in the freezer at the Big Spring Locker Company.

Christmas Parade Is Taking Shape

Including the make-believe housetop and chimney that Santa Claus will ride in, a dozen decorated floats are assured for the colorful parade that will formally open the 1956 Christmas season here Nov. 26.

In addition, there will be four bands and possibly other entries. Seven organizations so far have entered the contest for the best float in the procession. They will vie for three cash prizes — $75, $50 and $25.

Local churches are joining in the decoration of an eighth float which will not compete for the prizes. It will carry a live scene of the Nativity. The Chamber of Commerce is putting up $50 on the cost of the church float.

The Chamber will sponsor the Santa Claus float. Commercial entries have been turned in by the John Davis Feed Store, Tidwell Chevrolet Company and Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

Bands from the Big Spring high and junior high schools, Webb Air Force Base and Coahoma schools will march in the procession.

Organizations which have entries in the non-commercial division are the Zu Meta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Howard County Junior College, DeMolays the Fairview Home Demonstration Club, John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge, the American Legion, and the Ada Bellettes, an organization of Negro girls.

Sponsors were requested by the Chamber of Commerce Saturday to call in the subjects they will attempt to portray with their floats. The entries will be judged on the basis of originality of idea (30 points), artistry (30), portrayal of subject (30) and effort (10 points).

The parade is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Nov. 26. After the procession, the city's lighted Christmas decorations will be turned on to shine through the holiday season.

Preliminary steps have been taken for installation of this year's Yule decorations. The displays will be concentrated around the court-house square again and will be more extensive and elaborate than last year. The decorations will be completed this week in preparation for the season opener next Monday.

Uncle Ray:

Reader Discusses Ice Sheet Melting

A letter which brings up the melting of ice sheets has come from Mr. August Kuipers Jr. He writes:

"The legend of Atlantis may be founded on facts which ancient man failed to understand. The melting of the ice sheets which covered northeastern North America and northwestern Europe supplied water to the Atlantic Ocean, and raised its level.

"If the ice sheets were one mile thick, I calculate that the seas were 300 feet lower than they had been before the glacial period started. If the ice sheets had an average thickness of two and a half miles, the difference in level would have been 700 feet or a bit more.

"While the ocean level was low, Great Britain must have been joined to the mainland of Europe. Land bridges may have extended from Africa to bodies of land in the Atlantic Ocean.

"Judging by the rate of retreat of Niagara Falls, it has been estimated that 7,000 years ago the first water poured over the escarpment to the Ontario Plain. "When the ice sheets melted, the ocean level rose. Perhaps that was the time when Stone Age people left their cave homes in southern Europe."

There are good reasons to believe that Stone Age people used caves during the last Ice Age. Also, as Mr. Kuipers suggests, they probably left the caves and made their homes in huts after the melting of the ice.

Most of the ice of the last Ice Age has melted. We still have glaciers in northerly and southerly parts of the earth, including Greenland, Alaska and Antarctica. If all of our present glaciers melted, they would raise the ocean level only a few yards.

It was a different story when the main ice shelves of the last Ice Age melted. That surely made a big difference in the ocean level. It seems reasonable to suppose that land in the Atlantic Ocean was covered with water after the melting of the ice sheets. Whether there was a "high civilization" on any lost island or continent is open to question.

Veteran Webb Employe Quits To Join Hubby

Upon the reactivation of Webb AFB, back in October, 1951, a local girl, Joyce Croft, applied for a civil service position at the base. Today, five years later, she signs out; this time as Mrs. Walter D. Williams.

During her tenure as secretary to the various base commanders, she met and married Capt. Walter Dakin Williams, base legal officer.

Shortly after the marriage, Williams received orders to join an air test group on Formosa. Joyce remained on her job until some weeks ago she was advised that Capt. Williams had completed his mission on Formosa and was returning to the States. She immediately made arrangements to join him at Las Vegas, Nev.

Mrs. Williams came to work at Webb AFB shortly after its activation, and has seen it grow from a few dilapidated and abandoned World War II buildings, to one of the most desirable bases in West Texas. She formerly worked for the CAA at the field.

"About the only thing serviceable in those days," said Mrs. Williams, "was the flight line."

Mrs. Williams is a graduate of Tarleton College in Stephenville and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewin W. Croft of Big Spring.

During her five-year tenure at Webb, Mrs. Williams has served as secretary to three commanders — Col. E. F. Wackowitz, Gen. Fred Dean and Col. Charles M. Young.

TB Found In Pupils At Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 17—Tuberculin patch tests given last week at Central Elementary School have revealed three more cases of tuberculosis, according to Marie Long, school nurse. The trio raises the number of known cases of tuberculosis in Dawson County to 47. Included are 12 adult and eight children classified as active and 27 persons classified as "arrested cases" but still under doctor's care.

Patch tests are also being given at North Elementary School, where several students are still to be X-rayed, and at Lamesa Junior High and high schools by Miss Long. Mrs. Janice Bradford, county school nurse, has given the patch tests to all children under 15 years of age at the Dawson Schools at Welch, Union, Klondike and Ackery. Mrs. Bradford said she had heard of no active cases, but had referred four to their family physicians. Miss Long said a "considerable number" of Central students had been referred to a physician. They are not to attend school until they consult their doctor.

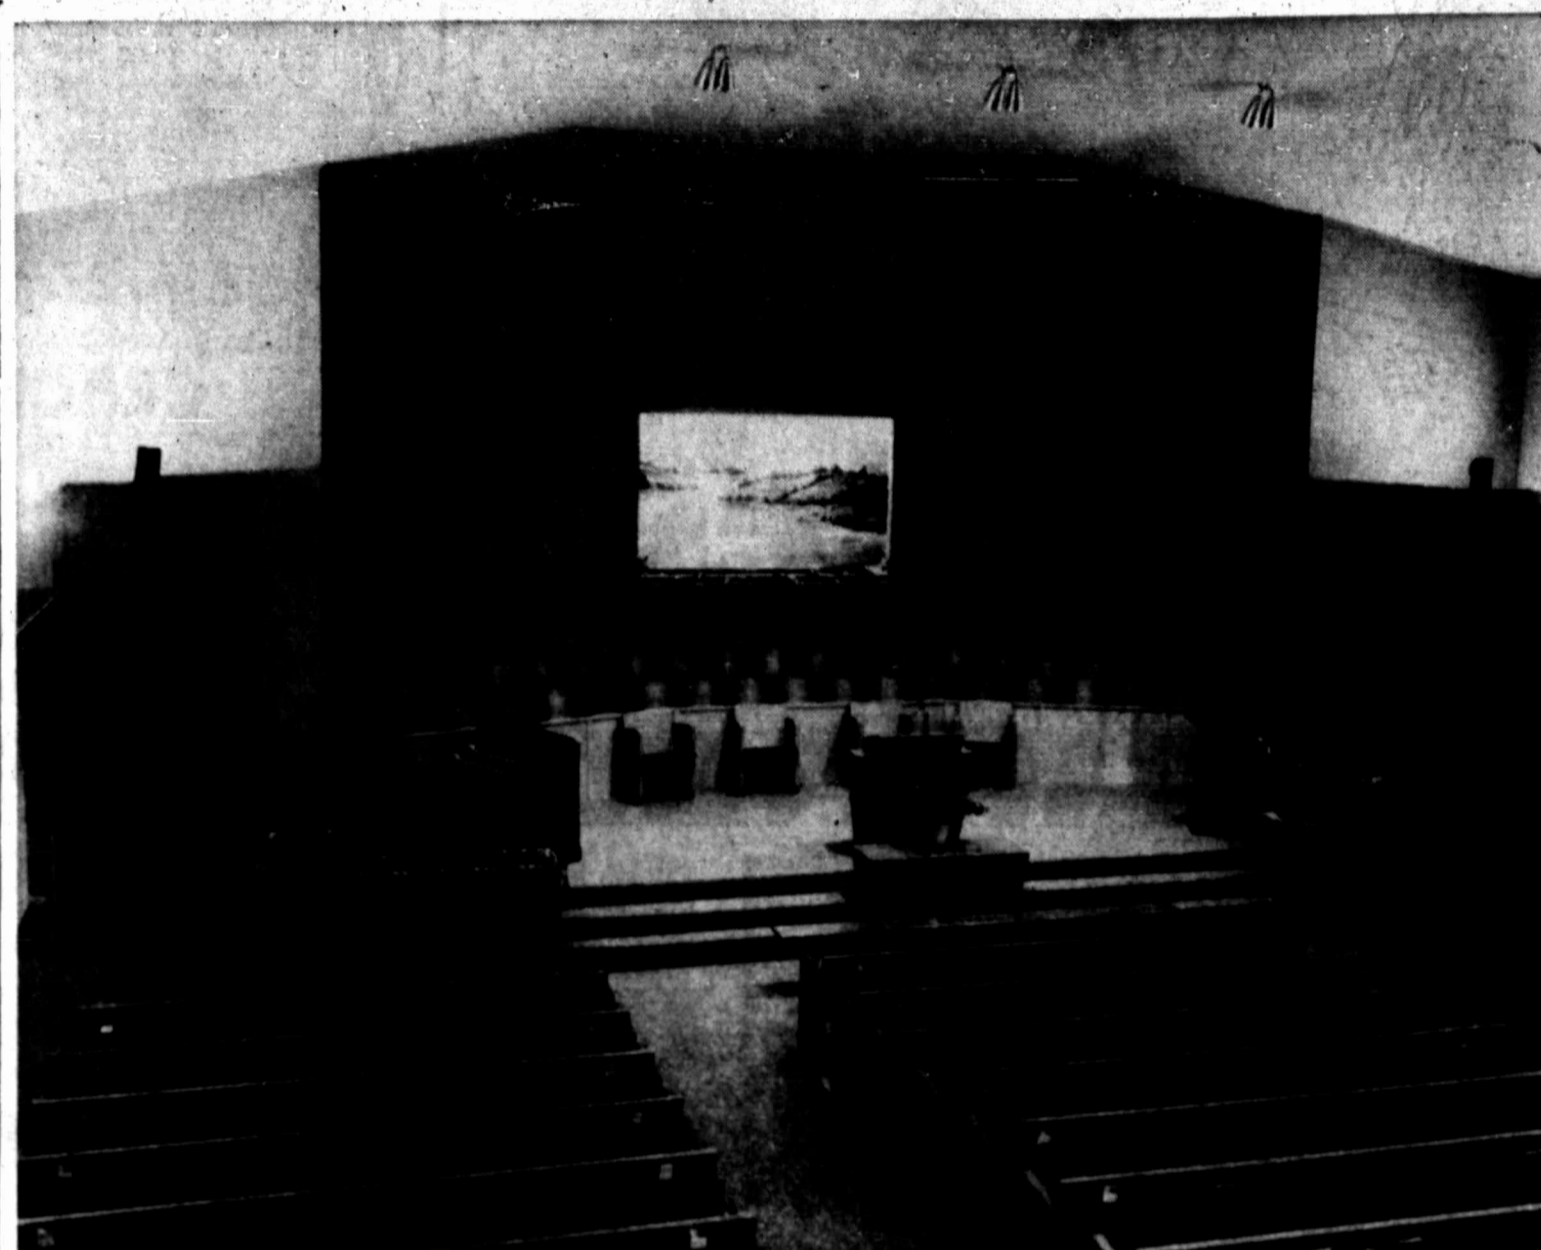

Mrs. J. H. Mayberry, county health nurse, reported that a number of X-rays have been paid for out of TB Association funds since the tests began. She said she is checking regularly about 125 persons in families where there is an active case of tuberculosis.

First Church Of God Will Dedicate New Building Today

Forty years as a congregation in Big Spring will be climaxed today with dedication of a new plant for the First Church of God.

The handsome structure valued at $150,000 is located at 21st and Main Streets. Formal dedicatory services have been announced by the Rev. Hal Hooker, pastor, for 3 p.m. Several former pastors are expected to be on hand for the occasion.

In the new plant, the Big Spring constituents have the largest building of any Church of God congregation in Texas and perhaps the Southwest.

The Rev. Wade Jakeway, who currently is leading in a revival meeting at the church, will be the dedicatory speaker. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will represent the Big Spring Pastors' Association of which the Rev. Hooker is president. Mayor G. W. Dabney will represent the City of Big Spring.

Also on the program will be the Rev. John Kolar and other former ministers. Mrs. Pat Henney will sing "Bless This House," with Jack Hendrix as accompanist on the organ being furnished through courtesy of Mrs. Champ Rainwater. Betty Reagan will be at the piano.

The building, occupied by the congregation the second Sunday in May, is an L-shaped affair, 120x140 feet. It contains something like 12,000 square feet of floor space and is of steel frame and masonry construction.

Four hundred can be accommodated in the sanctuary, and when the balcony is furnished this number will be increased by 200.

Central heating and refrigerated air conditioning are employed, and brick work is used to advantage for interior decorative effects. The sanctuary aisles are all carpeted as is the entire altar platform.

The educational wing is departmentalized for the various class groups. There also is a fellowship hall with an extremely large kitchen equipped with steam tables as well as conventional units. Other facilities include the study, offices and a church library.

Two more wings can be added as needed, according to the basic design of the plant.

Construction of the plant was largely a labor of love for many of the members. They not only gave liberally toward its construction, but they donated countless hours of labor, too. J. E. Parker served as superintendent of construction and Richard Reagan assisted.

Trustees served as the building committee. They are Trust T. Thomas, J. E. Parker, Charles Holley, Robert Hickson and Andrew Dickson.

The Church of God congregation met first in the homes of members in the early 1920's. Later the group occupied a small building in Jones Valley in western Big Spring before the red brick church was constructed at 10th and Main street in 1926. The Rev. G. B. Walters was pastor when this event took place, and the Rev. John Kolar was pastor when the congregation purchased a quarter of a block of land with the view of raising a new church plant.

In 1954 the Rev. Hal S. Hooker was called to serve as pastor and soon afterwards the congregation launched upon the building project.

"The church is a living testimony to the sacrificial efforts of many who pioneered in Big Spring and who gave much of their effort and substance to reach this goal," said the Rev. Hooker.

Among those who served as pastor of the congregation over the years are the Rev. Robert E. Bowden, Sweetwater, E. C. Arthur, Shawnee, Okla., S. C. Johnson, Rising Star (he was the first pastor), the late Rev. G. B. Walters, and the Rev. Wesley Hutchens, Big Spring.

Marine Reservists Keeping Busy Here

Marine reservists are keeping increasingly busy here.

The third platoon of the 91st Special Infantry Company held a demonstration of rapid fire from the Browning automatic rifles. A class of familiarization with the weapon followed.

Emphasis has been stepped up again on Monday evenings for physical training. Cpl. Kirk Faulkner and Pfc. L. T. Nelson have been handling this phase of the work.

With the assistance and blessing of the local police department, the Marines are planning to improve and reactivate the pistol and rifle range which had been used by police.

Sgt. Doyle L. Larnb, NGO in charge, is planning a night field problem for the unit, according to Pfc. Jan Tally, reporter for the platoon. Also in the making is a more vigorous recruiting program for Marine reservists.

Stickouts For Sundown

Among the outstanding players in the lineup of the Sundown Roughnecks, who meet Merkel in a Class A district football clash Friday night, are center Glen Howard (left), and quarterback Dale Childs. Howard and Childs are regulars both on offense and defense. The Roughnecks, champions of District 5-A, defeated Plains, 49-7, Friday night for their ninth win in ten season starts. Tickets for the game, priced at 50 cents and $1, have gone on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office and John Dibrell's Sporting Goods store.

Sluggish A&M Sews Up Tie For Crown

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—Chubby little Loyd Taylor, "the other man" in the Texas Aggie backfield, led his listless mates to a 21-7 victory over Rice today to give A&M a clinch tie for the Southwest Conference football championship.

Taylor, the unsung member of the Aggie quartet that has rumbled unbeaten through nine games, set up two of the touchdowns and scored the other as the Aggies made all their points in the first half then looked like a group that was tired of it all in the last half.

Gritty Rice, obviously outclassed in everything except effort, outplayed the Aggies in the final two periods but only once could puncture the methodical A&M defense for a score. But on the last play of the game, a pass from Frank Ryan to King Hill gained 30 yards and carried to the Aggie five.

A crowd of 36,000 watched the Aggies get their first share of the championship in 15 years. They close the season Thanksgiving Day against Texas favored to win and

Ired Sooners Kayo Missouri, 67-14

By SAUL FELDMAN

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 17 (AP)—The Oklahoma Sooners, obviously egotized to the No. 2 spot in the Associated Press football rankings vented their fury on a good Missouri eleven today with 10 touchdowns for a 67-14 victory.

The triumph gave Oklahoma its 38th straight victory — a modern record — and its ninth straight Big Seven Conference title under Coach Bud Wilkinson.

Oklahoma dropped from first to second in the national ratings by Tennessee this week, is now undefeated in 48 conference tilts.

The Sooners scored handsily both on the ground and in the air, with all - America Tommy McDonald tallying twice including one TD on a 57-yard romp.

Another pair was made by his halfback mate, Clendon Thomas.

Missouri showed spotty class, mostly with Tiger quarterback Jimmy Hunter running his bootleg play, but alert Oklahoma cut off scoring drives by intercepting Hunter's passes on the Sooner three in the second and third periods.

Both Missouri touchdowns came in the final quarter as Wilkinson was using his entire squad of 55.

Fourth string quarterback Ken Clemensen passed for both Tiger touchdowns, pitching the first two yards to Fred Henger over the goal and the second to George Boucher for seven yards as time ran out in the game.

While the deadly touchdown twins of McDonald and Thomas each made two tallies, the other six were distributed among Carl Dodd, Jackie Sandifer, Dale Sherrod, Don Stiller, David Baker, and John Pellow.

Field Goal Gives Tulsa 10-7 Win Over Raiders

By KEITH K. KING

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 17 (AP)—Senior quarterback Charley Wynes kicked a 14-yard field goal and sophomore signal caller George Cagliola fired a 31-yard scoring pass to halfback Ronnie Morris today to give Tulsa a 10-7 football decision over Texas Tech.

Wynes' slightly - angled boot came near the end of the first half, and Cagliola's touchdown heaved a 65-yard fourth period march right after Tech had taken a 7-3 lead two plays before the third period closed.

The Red Raider touchdown came on a screen pass from quarterback Johnny Riddle to halfback Bobby Kyzar, who ran 24 yards.

M. C. Northam converted after Tech's touchdown and Wynes booted Tulsa's extra point. The Tulsa victory snapped Tech's winning streak in the series of three straight, and gave the Golden Hurricane its ninth triumph in 15 games between the two schools.

Until late in the third period Tech's nearest approach to the Tulsa goal was 10 yards. But after tackle Phil Williams recovered a fumble by Morris on the Hurricane 37, Riddle completed short passes to ends Bobby Young and Ken Vakey, then tossed the one on which Kyzar scored.

Tulsa missed a first half touchdown by only inches near the end of the intermission when the Raider line stalled a 54-yard Hurricane drive. With first down on the 3, Morris and halfback Dick Hughes each tried twice but between them got the ball no closer than a foot.

After Tulsa's touchdown Tech got a drive going to reach the Hurricane 29, but end Billy Neal recovered Tech quarterback Buddy Hill's fumble on the 33 to end the threat.

Huskies Bombard Stanford, 34-13

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 17 (AP)—Washington's 235 pound tackle Don McCumby rumbled 73 yards for a touchdown after grabbing a mid-air fumble today to start the Huskies on their way to a 34-13 upset football victory over Stanford.

The Indians came back to tie the count at 7-7, but the Huskies weren't to be denied as they sped to a 20-7 half time lead in the Pacific Coast Conference battle.

A crowd of 21,000 saw Stanford fumbles contribute to two of the first half Washington touchdowns. A 66-yard drive highlighted the other.

An 85-yard march, and another of 50 following an intercepted pass brought the final two Washington tallies as Stanford took its third straight and worst defeat of the season.

Illini Tied, 13-13

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 17 (AP)—Sid Williams, a little-known sophomore quarterback who started the season as an end, passed and ran Wisconsin to a fourth quarter touchdown enabling the underdog Badgers to tie Illinois 13-13, today in a Big Ten battle of also-rans.

Tigers Clinch Tie

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—Trinity's Tigers exploded for four second half touchdowns to sink Midwestern here today, 34-0, and clinch at least a tie for the Gulf Coast Conference championship.

Duck Hunting Has Improved

It takes more than wind and cold to drive off the dauntless fishermen. Most of those who bundled up and came out to Lake J. B. Thomas, regardless of the weather, were well rewarded, particularly those fishing for crappie. The catfish were biting well, too.

Buster Broughton, Big Spring, had two good runs on the trotline. He took six large channel cats and one 8-pound yellow cat. In addition he had a good string of crappie.

H. C. Reid, lake patrolman, tested his luck briefly one morning. He added a trio of yellow cats weighing up to six pounds, to his string.

Crappie fishing was especially good around the baited holes off Lake Thomas Lodge at the east end of the lake and in the vicinity of Sportsman's Paradise on the west end.

Duck hunting has improved as the duck have moved in toward the shore with the arrival of successive waves of nippy weather. Some of the best shooting has been in pools adjacent to the lake. One morning during the week, three men bagged 13 ducks in short order.

Reid said that he anticipated an increase in the hunting tempo in about another week when deer hunters will be back home.

Spartans Beaten By Gophers, 14-13

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Defiant Minnesota, firing one last supreme bid for a Rose Bowl trip that was snatched from them by Iowa's victory over Ohio State, slashed 70 yards in an all-or-nothing drive that upset Michigan State 14-13 today and knocked the Spartans out of the Big Ten title running.

Quarterback Dick Larson, taking over for the heroic Bobby Cox in the fourth period, fused a Minnesota comeback which climaxed with fullback Bob Blakey's furious 27-yard touchdown run with 6½ minutes left.

Dick Borstad, who twice before this season had propelled Minnesota to fourth-quarter victories with field goals, kicked a game-winning extra point.

Hawkeyes Smell Roses Following Win Over OSU

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 17 (AP)—Iowa's Hawks soared right into football heaven today with a 6-0 victory over Ohio State for at least a share of the Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl appearance.

Not since 1922 has an Iowa team shared the title and never has Iowa shown in a bowl game.

The tremendous victory, which sent a crowd of 57,732 slightly nuts at the finish, gave Iowa a 5-1 Big Ten record. The Hawks would get an undisputed championship if Michigan defeats Ohio State next Saturday.

Ohio State came into the contest with a 4-0 season mark and a record-breaking string of 17 conference victories. But the defending conference champions, shooting for an unprecedented third straight undisputed title were re-lieved by an Iowa squad that refused to lose.

The only score of the bruising battle was a 17-yard pass in the third period from Kenny Ploen to Jim Gibbons just inside the end zone. The touchdown climaxed an Iowa spurt from its 37 after the kickoff.

Iowa got a big lift on a pass interference ruling against halfback Don Clark that landed Iowa on the Ohio State 20. The Hawks made the most of it two plays later on Ploen's arrow-straight throw to Gibbons, the big end.

Iowa was unbeatable after that touchdown. The Iowa defense confined the normally hard-punching Ohio backs, who had rolled up an average of 308 yards a game, to only three first downs in the last half after getting six in the first half.

The Buckeyes had only 100 yards by rushing at the finish.

Iowa fans by the hundreds poured onto the field in a confusing ending in which Iowa had driven the desperate Buckeyes back to their 3-yard line. The excited Iowans, thinking the game was over, went pell-mell for their heroes. Officials managed to restore order, the fans retreated and Ohio State was called for offside. Iowa refused the penalty and the game, the most important in Iowa history, was done.

Game In Sonora

OZONA, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—Sonora and Big Lake school officials meeting here today decided to play their Class A schoolboy basketball game at Sonora Friday night.

It was the first time in the 36-year series that Arkansas has made more than two touchdowns against SMU. The game really ended with the second Arkansas score. SMU never regained its

Swink Up To Old Tricks As Frogs Overpower UT

By ROBERT E. FORD

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—Texas Christian's all-America Jim Swink ran wild in Amon Carter stadium today to score four touchdowns and smash the University of Texas 46 to 0. He shattered the all-time Southwest Conference ground rushing record in doing it.

It was a brilliant form reversal for the climax racer, who, until today, had shown none of his old sparkle this season. In seven previous games, he had scored only two touchdowns and two extra points for a total of 14.

He scored 125 points last year to leap into all-America fame. The all-America scored once on a lightning-like run of 72 yards the first time he got the ball. He scored again from the six-inch line, and twice on passes from Charles Curtis for 32 and 25 yards.

Buddy Dike also scored on a 4-yard drive. And in the fading minutes, with Horned Frog substitutes taking over, Vernon Hallbeck tallied on a 10-yard smash, and Al Lasater took a 17-yard pass from Hunter Enis and another six points. Harold Pollard kicked three extra points and Hallbeck another.

Texas Christian kept its Cotton Bowl hopes alive with the victory, tied with the defeat of Southern Methodist by Arkansas. Texas A&M still leads for the conference title, but cannot play a post season game because of the NCAA probation. TCU, with only one conference defeat, is nearest in line for the New Year's Day classic.

Swink shocked the Longhorns on the first Horned Frog play from scrimmage. Walt Fondren had punted dead on the TCU 28. Swink got the call, took a handoff from Chuck Curtis, broke over right guard and headed straight downfield to score without a hand laid on him. Tacklers fell like bowling pins before the blocking of the Christians.

It was 72 yards, far more than Swink needed to break the Southwest Conference rushing record. He would have shattered the mark with only 46 to beat Bob Smith's 2415 yards set 1949-1951.

Swink also helped set up his own second touchdown. He picked up 1. Vernon Hallbeck got 10, Buddy Dike 11 and a penalty helped with 15. Otherwise it was a grind to the 25. From there, Curtis hit Swink on the goal line for the second TCU score. The drive covered 94 yards in 12 plays—started when Texas lost the ball on downs on TCU's 6.

The third Horned Frog tally was made the hard way—15 blasting plays for 81 yards after taking over on their 9 when the Longhorns lost the ball on downs. Curtis couldn't budge the ball, from the Texas 4 to the 6-inch line. Swink tried for no gain. Curtis couldn't budget the ball. Then Curtis handed off to Swink, who slashed right tackle for the tally.

Swink gained 122 yards rushing to make his total for three years 2,492 yards to badly shatter Bob Smith's record. He has two regularly scheduled games remaining.

Dike, whose specialty is line smashes, scored late in the third quarter from four yards out. TCU went 63 yards in 8 plays with one Texas penalty for the tally, with a Jim Shofner blast for 17 yards and a 24-yard jaunt by Swink helping set it up.

Even at this juncture, SMU still looked like the stronger team and moved quickly to the Arkansas 20. Rolling out for a pass, Arnold had two receivers downfield. Circled by Arkansas defenders, he suddenly wheeled and threw directly into Nesbitt's arms. Nesbitt, fully 20 yards from the nearest player, caught the pass as though he had been expecting it and streaked up the sidelines, making 48 yards before the startled SMU defenders caught him.

Arkansas made the most of it, intercepting four SMU passes. After a see-saw scoreless first period it appeared that Arkansas' capable backfield was in for a touch afternoon. The Mustang line threw back four Arkansas drives, twice on recovered fumbles.

SMU scored first, on 17 plays in a 65-yard drive. The Mustangs moved principally on Arnold's clutch fourth-down passing, driving to the Arkansas nine where pass interference put them to the one. Ray Masters made it with Tom Gentry adding the point.

Arkansas bounced back, going 43 yards in four plays for a matching touchdown. Quarterback Don Christian scored on a breakthrough 30-yard run. Don Ritschel led the point.

Merkel Routs Roscoe, 62-6

ROSCOE, Nov. 17 (SC) — The Merkel Badgers, who had already earned the right to represent District 6-A in a playoff with Soudown at Big Spring next week, walloped the Roscoe Plowboys, 62-6, in their final conference battle here Friday night.

Carroll Benson's Badgers thus ended their regular season with a 9-1 won-lost record. Their only loss was at the hands of Class AA winners.

Merkel dominated the game from the start. Badger quarterback Robert McLeod roared 65 yards on a keeper play for the first try to put Merkel out in front.

He later passed to Jerry Miller for 21 yards and another tally, then scored again in the third on a 60-yard scamper.

Fullback Jackie Russell got into the scoring act twice on runs of 17 and 87 yards. Halfback Kermit Rutledge accounted for a pair of markers on two ten-yard runs. In addition, Rutledge made seven extra points.

Reserve quarterback Larry Seymour roared 97 yards in the final period for still another Merkel score. He then tacked on the extra point on a run.

Roscoe got its lone tally in the second when Delbert Smith rammed over from 13 yards out.

Merkel made the astonishing total of 570 yards rushing and 66 yards passing to 117 rushing and 49 passing for Roscoe.

West Virginians Win Squeaker, 7-0

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 17 (AP) — Sumbler's fumbling West Virginians squeaked out a 7-0 victory over Furman today to wrap up its fourth straight Southern Conference football crown and its 21st consecutive conference triumph.

Two Mountaineer sophomores combined on a 40-yard scoring pass play in the second period for the tally. Sammy Sizemore, a halfback from Princeton, W. Va., got behind a Furman defender to catch quarterback Dick Longfellow's pass on the 5 and go over standing up. Bot Snider converted for the point.

The Furman line, led by center Bobby Jennings, played in the West Virginia backfield all afternoon. Furman, which had scored only five touchdowns in winning one game and losing six, almost pulled the same upset it had four years ago when Furman beat WVU, 22-14. That was the last time West Virginia lost to a conference foe.

Michigan Racks Indiana, 49-26

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 17 (AP) — Michigan's quick-striking Wolverines, clinging desperately to a shaky hope for a back-door Rose Bowl bid, crammed 28 points into eight minutes of the second period and swept past Indiana today 49-26.

Senior halfback Terry Barr, plagued by injuries much of the season, spearheaded a bruising Michigan offense by scoring three times on runs of 1, 16 and 25 yards.

The twice-beaten Wolverines turned a batch of Hoosier mistakes into a 35-0 halftime lead and coasted to Big Ten victory No. 4 while hopefully awaiting the outcome of two other crucial contests.

To stay in contention for the Pasadena classic, Michigan needed a victory today, an Ohio State triumph over Iowa plus a Michigan State win from Minnesota.

U.S.-Red Scrap Highlight Of Show At Melbourne

By WILL GRIMSLEY
MELBOURNE, Nov. 17 (AP) — The Melbourne Olympic Games, born on a note of internal discord and rocked by international crises, open next Thursday in this placid tree-lined city with interest again unavoidably focused on the giant team battle between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Bitter tensions and controversies are comparable to those of 1936 at Berlin when Hitler's goose-stepping legions were lighting the fuse of World War II, but the stubborn, hard-working Aussies are determined to make these games "the most memorable in Olympic history."

The words are those of Wilfred Kent-Hughes, chairman of the Olympic Organizing Committee, who adds, "The Olympic spirit transcends all national boundaries and all national differences."

Sir William Bridgeford, executive officer of the games, says "only a worldwide conflagration can stop us. We intend to make this the greatest sports festival of all time."

This determination is reflected in the magnificent sports stage set for some 4,700 athletes from 68 countries assembled here to vie for gold, silver and bronze medals in 16 sports.

The sprawling Melbourne cricket ground, scene of featured track and field events as well as the opening ceremony, looks like a painting with its newly constructed brick-red track and bright green infield.

Its 204,000 seats and standing space are sold out for the first and final days and both Saturdays of the athletic competition.

Seats in the modern covered swimming pool at nearby Olympic Park have been sold out for months and are being scalped like choice tickets to Broadway's "My Fair Lady."

Brown Goes On Touchdown Tear In Orange Win

By OWEN CRUMB
SYRACUSE, N.Y., Nov. 17 (AP)—Dynamic Jim Brown scored six touchdowns and seven conversions today to lead bowl-conscious Syracuse to a 61-7 victory over Colgate. It was the worst defeat suffered by Colgate in the 57 years of rivalry between the neighboring universities. Brown splattered Syracuse's individual season rushing record of 895 yards set by George Davis in 1949 when the 212-pound Negro, playing his last regular-season college game, scored his second touchdown on a 15-yard, off-tackle run in the first period. That brought his season total to 819 yards in eight games, compared to nine games Davis had in 1949. Brown continued to pile up yardage during the game. It was the sixth straight victory for Syracuse over Colgate. Previously, the worst loss the Red Raiders suffered was a 38-0 decision way back in 1915. The victory gave Syracuse a season's record of seven victories against a lone loss to Pittsburgh. It probably assured Syracuse's ranking as top team in the East and may have clinched a Cotton Bowl bid for the power-driving Orangemen rated ninth in the nation in The Associated Press poll before today's game. The word "power" summed up the game. Colgate's line just couldn't hold against the ramrod rushes of Brown and the smashing attacks of fullback Alan Cann, brought up from the second team. Cann gained 134 yards in 17 carries before he left the game with a knee injury late in the third quarter. Cann also was a great help to Brown with his on-the-spot blocking. A crowd of 39,701 saw the game under sunny skies in Archbold Stadium.

Terps Nudged By Gamecocks

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 17 (AP)—South Carolina scored twice in the last six minutes today for a 13-0 Atlantic Coast Conference football victory over Maryland. Sophomore fullback Don Johnson shot off right tackle for 23 yards and the first touchdown. Sophomore right halfback Alex Hawkins converted. Senior quarterback Mackie Prickett made the next touchdown his personal affair. He ran on wide sweeps for 10 and 16 yards and punched over the score from three inches out. South Carolina moved 68 yards to its first touchdown without benefit of penalties. The big play of the drive was Prickett's 17-yard pass to left halfback King Dixon. In its next scoring drive, however, an off-sides and a 15-yard

Ackerly Bombs Cougars, 39-13

KLONDIKE, Nov. 17, (SC)—The Ackerly Eagles broke loose for two touchdowns in the second period and went on to deflate Klondike, 39-13, in a District 6 six-man football game here Friday. A pass from Phil Wallace to Robert Taylor clicked for 45 yards and the first Ackerly TD, after which a pass from Don Shortes to Robert Taylor added the point. A pass from Wallace to Benny Kunkle set up the second score. Wallace ran over the TD from inside the ten. Klondike climbed back into contention, however, when Schneider scored. In the third, Taylor picked up a Klondike fumble and ran 25 yards to the Cougar five. From that point, Wallace passed to Kunkle for the score. Later in the round, Wallace passed to Taylor for 35 yards and another Ackerly score. James Savell tacked on the point. In the fourth, Wallace ran 50 yards for still another Eagle score and Savell made good on the point-try again. Buster Grigg, running with the third string, raced three yards for Ackerly's finally six points late in the game. Adams scored Klondike's second TD and ran across the PAT while playing against Ackerly subs.

Billies Yield; Long Hits 40

KNOTT, Nov. 17, (SC)—Basketball teams representing Knott and Fluvanna broke even in a double-header played here Friday night. Fluvanna coming back to take the boys' game, 64-54, after Knott had prevailed in the girls' engagement, 73-41. In the girls' game, Jean Sample hit 27 for Knott, Ann Rogers 25, Joan Blagraves eight, Sue Paige seven and Virgie Graham six. For Fluvanna, Martin had 18, Miller 12, Fylant seven and Lemons four. Joyce Rallsback, Ann Williams, Shirley Chapman, Alice Day, Neva Jackson, Helen Stoudt, Joyce Robinson, Becky Harris and Lynette Hull all showed to advantage on defense for Knott. In the boys' game, Woody Long was red-hot for Knott, scoring the astonishing total of 40 points, but it did no good. Fluvanna led all the way. The Knott teams host Flower Grove Tuesday, with the first of three games down for 25 cents. Admission prices will be 25 and 50 cents. Knott's girls now have a 2-3 won-lost record. The boys were making their first start against Fluvanna.

Aroused Yale Turns Back Princeton Tigers, 42-20

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 17 (AP)—Aroused Yale exploded with a loud bang in Princeton's face today for a shocking 42-20 victory that clinched a tie for the Ivy League title and dropped Princeton from the thinning ranks of the nation's perfect record teams. Frustrated through their college

Green Indians Are Winners, 27-14

ITHACA, N.Y., Nov. 17 (AP)—Dave Pratt, a 195-pound junior fullback from Winchester, Mass., who has played two seasons in the shadow of brilliant Bob Rex, got off two fine runs that made the difference as Dartmouth's football team trimmed Cornell 27-14 today. Pratt, who got his chance today because Rex was hobbled by a charley horse, intercepted a pass by Art Boland and ran it 57 yards, then caught a pass thrown by Lou Rovero for 42 yards. Pratt didn't score either time. Quarterback Mike Brown made those tallies and Rovero added two more in the fourth quarter to hand Cornell its eighth straight defeat. But it was the sub fullback, filling in for a man who seldom carries the ball, who paved the way for all-important scores.

Sputtering Flock Clips Terriers

BOSTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Sophomore quarterback Don Allard led Boston College on a long touchdown march and then set up a second tally with a 75-yard punt return as the sputtering Eagles defeated intra-city rival Boston University 13-0 today at Fenway Park. The young signal-caller from nearby Somerville piloted Boston College during an 80-yard drive, climaxed by fullback Bernie Teliszewski's 1-yard plunge for the score in the second quarter. With 70 seconds remaining in the first half, Allard took a B.U. punt on his 22 and raced to the Terriers' 3 before being overhauled. Two plays later sophomore Alan Miller bucked over.

Paris To Be Host

BONHAM, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—The Class AA bi-district championship game between Bonham and DeKalb will be played Friday night at Paris Junior College stadium. Both teams are undefeated.

8 Fumbles Ruin Deacon Chances

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C., Nov. 17 (AP)—Duke had the superior mudders today as it sloshed over a rain-soaked field to whip Wake Forest 26-0 in an Atlantic Coast Conference football game that saw the losers fumble the ball away eight times. The heavy going in a cold rain didn't seem to bother George Durov, Duke's sophomore halfback from Washington, D.C., who scored the first two touchdowns and set up the third as the Blue Devils tallied in every quarter to level their season's record, 4-4-1.

Vann And Thompson Pace Engineers To 27-0 Win

By VERNON BUTLER
ATLANTA, Nov. 17 (AP)—Tippy Vann and Jimmy Thompson, two of America's best second-string backs, fired Georgia Tech to a 27-0 football victory over Alabama today and took the Yellow Jackets another step toward their sixth straight bowl bid. Vann, filling in for ailing Wade Mitchell, and the tiny, 149-pound Thompson, replacing injured George Volkert, scored a touchdown apiece as Tech captured its fifth Southeastern Conference victory and its seventh in eight games. A crowd of 38,888 saw the swarthy Vann coolly engineer a 30-yard scoring drive in the waning seconds of the first quarter against a stout Alabama defense. The score came on an 8-yard pass from Stan Flowers to Johnny Menger. Thompson, a Bessemer, Ala., product, who saves his best games for Alabama, got the second on a 49-yard scamper that was the widest play seen here this year. Halfback Paul Rotenberry fumbled a handoff from Vann, picked

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hdr†

Decatur Baptist College, first basketball opponent of the HCJC Jayhawks this season, is really getting after them on the hardwoods . . . The Baptists will have already played five games when they take the court against the local team . . . Glass backboards have been ordered for Steer Gym here and are to be installed any day now . . . Is San Angelo's W. J. Green about to renege on his offer to build a bowling alley in Big Spring? . . . Some say that the new demands he is making on the town are a tipoff on the fact that he is pulling out . . . When Obie Bristow stages that banquet for the Cosden Golf Tournament entries at the Cosden Country Club here next month, he'll have Jim Lindsey, speaker of the House of Representatives at Austin, out to deliver the principal address . . . Chuck Davey, never an outstanding success as a boxer, now runs an insurance business in Michigan which pays him in excess of $20,000 a year . . . At the present time, Archie Moore is a 7½ to 5 favorite to beat Floyd Patterson for the Heavyweight boxing crown while Gene Fullmer is a 7 to 5 choice to take Ray Robinson's Middleweight championship . . . It's a pleasure to do business with Odessa . . . The Big Spring Steers made far and away more money on their trip to Odessa recently than in any other game to date . . . After expenses, the Steers' share of the gate came to $5,176.53 . . . Only 8,000 persons saw the game but both schools benefited from the fact that 6,183 season duceats had been sold . . . the paid gate, for that reason, was reported at 9,712 and total income reached $11,399.53 . . . Only 4,819 paying customers saw the Big Spring-Midland game here last week and each school wound up with $1,687.19 . . . Mary Ruth Robertson of Big Spring has a bowling average of 167, tops in the Midland Women's League . . . Dot Hood, also of Our Town, is second, with a 159 average . . . Five of the ten Big Spring women competing in Midland have averages of 150 or better.

Benson Has Best Merkel Team Since '47

Carroll Benson, who brings his Merkel Badgers here next Friday for a bi-district football game with Sundown, tells friends he has his best team since 1947, when the Badgers lost to Leveland, 20-19, in the Regional Final . . . Benson is the dean of West Texas coaches, having spent the past 16 seasons at Merkel, with the exception of 1945, when he coached at Kermit . . . This is the sixth championship team he's developed at Merkel . . . The others were in 1941, 1943, 1944, 1946 and 1947 . . . In 1944, his Badgers beat Littlefield, 26-12, in the Regional Final . . . Ray Hopkins, mentor of the Sundown team that will oppose Merkel Friday, put in six successful years as head coach at . . . before moving on to Sundown . . . He developed Regional Class B champions there in 1954, when his team shaded Big Spring in the finals; and again in '55, when it beat Wilson for the championship . . . Hopkins, a Texas Tech ex, started his coaching career

Price Contacted About Local Post

Ed Price, who recently resigned as head football coach at the University of Texas, has been contacted by local school officials, who wanted to know if he'd be interested in returning to coaching on the high school level . . . Ed was in the El Paso system for a number of years . . . The school board has revealed it received "seven or eight" applications for the local head job . . . Roy Baird and Harold Bentley, now doing a good job as co-coaches, have indicated they would like to return in the same capacity next fall . . . The Big Spring Ninth Grade Yearlings might have dropped no more than one decision, had James Harrington been able to play all year . . . Harrington, with a knee injury since early in the season, is one of the most promising backs to come along here in some time . . . What an unusual football season this has been: Notre Dame way down, Breckenridge off its feed, the Cleveland Browns compelled to

DEFEAT MIDLAND

War Birds Claim 33rd Win In Row

MIDLAND, Nov. 17 (SC)—Midland gave the Abilene Eagles all they could handle here Friday night—for a while . . . In the end, the Eagles sprang their great backs, Glynn Gregory and Jimmy Carpenter, loose on one scoring play after another, with the result that the game took on the appearance of another run-away . . . Final tally was 41-6. It represented Abilene's ninth straight victory this season and the 33rd over a period of three years . . . The bulldogs did extremely well against the Eagles until just before the half, when Abilene got its second touchdown with five seconds remaining on the clock . . . Midland twice marched deep into Abilene territory, going once to the 16 and again to the 35 . . . Abilene had the ball just 11 plays in the first half but scored twice . . . Gregory broke loose on a 60-yard sprint for the first score in the second period, then converted . . . Carpenter plunged four yards for the second Abilene six-pointer at the end of an 85-yard drive . . . Gregory again made good on his try for point . . . A pass from Harold Stephens to Rufus King, good for 43 yards, set up Abilene's third score in the third period . . . Gregory was the final 29 yards for the score . . . He again was perfect on his conversion try . . . A pass from Stephens to Gregory, good for 57 yards, clicked for the fourth Abilene score in the third period . . . Gregory's boot made it 28-0 . . . Jimmy Carpenter made 31 yards in two plays for Abilene's next score, following a short punt by Midland . . . Gregory converted to run the ball to 35-0 . . . A 77-yard drive downfield paid off in a Midland touchdown, with Don Boyce, Larry Cooper and Jim Owens having a hand in the offensive . . . Bob Hillin made the TD on a flat zone pass from Cooper for the five . . . Abilene managed another tally in nine plays: Chuck Colvin going over from the one at the end of a 74-yard march . . . Score by quarters: Abilene 0 14 14 13-41 Midland 0 0 0 6-6

Trojans Bounced By Webfoots, 7-0

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Nov. 17 (AP)—The University of Oregon upset heavily favored Southern California 7-0 in a Pacific Coast Conference football game today . . . Oregon halfback Charlie Tourville scored on the second play of the second quarter and fullback Jack Morris kicked his 21st consecutive point after touchdown . . . As the game ended, the Trojans were being driven back with every play as the Oregon line broke through in vigorous defense . . . Both teams showed a tendency to gamble on fourth down, despite heavy footing on a field soaked by two days of rain. The rain held off during today's play.

Irish Slump Ends

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 17 (AP)—With 76 seconds left, rugged Paul Hornung scored his third touchdown of the game for a 21-14 Notre Dame triumph over North Carolina which snapped a record five-game Irish losing streak today.

Baylor Bears Easily Trim Huskers, 26-7

By ODELL HANSON
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 17 (AP)—Baylor's Delbert Shofner reeled off a 91-yard punt return for one touchdown and led a battering assault on Nebraska's defenses in general as the Southwest Conference crew mauled the Cornhuskers, 26-7, in an international football contest today . . . Shofner's long sprint early in the fourth quarter broke the back of a second half Nebraska rally and assured the Bears from Waco, Tex., their sixth win in eight starts . . . For Nebraska, it was the fifth setback in nine games . . . Brusling quarter game carried Baylor to a 13-0 first half margin before 30,000 fans but Nebraska returned to contention in a fumble-beset second half with a third quarter touchdown on Willie Greenlaw's one-yard run around left end and George Harshman's conversion . . . The Nebraska revival suffered its knockout blow on the fourth play of the final quarter when Shofner snagged Harshman's punt on his nine and waved a 91-yard path to pay dirt . . . A subsequent two-yard scoring run by halfback Bobby Peters in the waning moments only made the Baylor win conclusive, squaring accounts for a 20-0 win by Nebraska in the only prior meeting of the two teams 17 years ago . . . Shofner, a 6-3, 180-pound senior, scored two of Baylor's four touchdowns and was joined by fullback Larry Hickman in the day's most demoralizing assaults on Nebraska's defenses . . . Statistics validated Baylor's win this crisp but sunny afternoon, Bay-

Snyder Trims Dogies, 19-6

The Big Spring B team played one of their better games of the season but dropped a 19-6 decision to the undefeated Snyder reserves in crisp weather here Saturday night . . . The tally was 13-6 late in the fourth period, when Kenneth Drake broke loose on a 45-yard run to salt away the decision . . . Dick Hayes and Dick Martin scored the other touchdowns for Snyder while Martin added the extra point . . . Jimmy Whitefield sprinted 30 yards for Big Spring's lone tally in the opening period . . . Snyder ended its season with seven wins against a single tie, that after a successful season . . . Dickie is fully intending to return to Texas A&M next fall . . . Max Marek, who beat Joe Louis when both were amateurs, now operates a Chicago night club . . . The Detroit Tigers have received $1,600,000 in advance from a brewing concern for TV-radio rights for the next three seasons.

Rose Bowl Bid To Beaver 11

MOSCOW, Idaho, Nov. 17 (AP)—Oregon State nipped astounding Idaho, 14-10, in the last three minutes to clinch the Rose Bowl bid today after the Vandals narrowly missed scoring one of the biggest Pacific Coast Conference football upsets of all time . . . Trailing 10-7 with barely two minutes to play, the Beavers struck for 60 yards on a pass from Paul Lowe to Earnel Durden and then put over the winning touchdown on a run by Lowe . . . Jerry Kramer's 35-yard field goal from an angle midway in the fourth quarter put Idaho ahead and it appeared that it would be enough . . . But the Beavers, with their Rose Bowl bid possibly slipping away, recovered their shaken poise . . . Durden got first down on his own 27 to set things up for the winning play . . . Thus, Oregon State will likely meet Iowa at Pasadena on New Year's Day in the first Rose Bowl rematch in history . . . Iowa, 6-0 winner over Ohio State today, licked the Beavers last month at Iowa City 14-13 . . . It was all Idaho today and the 5,000 fans who came to see an OSC landslide had things to cheer about from the start . . . Oregon State didn't make a first down in the first two quarters and was pushed around on both sides of the line . . . The Beavers fumbled on the second play of the game and Lennie Clark grabbed the bobble by Durden on the OSC 35 . . . John Norby, a great halfback for Idaho today, gained 11 yards, then 9, 1 and finally 4 for the score . . . Kramer's conversion made it 7-0 . . . Early in the second quarter, Buzz Randall blocked a Howard Willis punt and OSC took over on the 1 . . . From there, fullback Tom Berry scored and John Clarke's conversion tied it at halftime . . . It was easily Idaho's best game of the season, Oregon State closes out against Oregon Thursday but even a loss there would give OSC the Rose Bowl bid.

Xavier Clawed

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 17 (AP)—Kentucky uncracked its strongest scoring punch of the season today, sending five backs across the goal in a 33-0 football romp over Xavier.

Belton At Home

LAMPASAS, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—Brady and Belton decided today to play their bi-district schoolboy football game in Belton Friday night, Nov. 23.

Panthers Slip Past Cadets By 20-7 Tab

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17 (AP)—Quarterback Cerny Salvaterra scored one touchdown and figured in two others today as Pitt's bowl-minded Panthers defeated a speedy Army team 20-7 . . . Pitt, outscored 7-6 by fast moving Army in the first half, cashed in on two fumbles and a 50-yard sustained drive to come from behind and keep their bowl hopes alive . . . Salvaterra scored on a 14-yard run with a minute and 59 seconds remaining in the second quarter . . . He engineered a 47-yard drive, which he climaxed with a 9-yard pitchout to Dick Bowen in the third period . . . Pitt's third touchdown, which came after a 59-yard sustained drive, was a 7-yard pass from Salvaterra to Dick Scherer . . . Bob Kysaky, Army's speedy fullback, scored the Cadets' only touchdown on a 14-yard run in the second period . . . Army quarterback Dave Bourland completed a 15-yard pass play to end Dick Stephens on Pitt's 14 to put Army in scoring position . . . Pitt scored its first two touchdowns after costly Army fumbles . . . The first, in the second period, was recovered by Panther center Charles Bruckman on Army's 14 . . . Dick Murland fumbled the ball . . . Salvaterra dropped back to pass on the first play after recovery but spotted an opening and scooped the ball to score . . . The second fumble came when Army's Gil Roessler let a punt by Pitt's Tom Jenkins slip through his hands on the Army 47 . . . Pitt tackle Dan Wisniewski made the recovery and the Panthers drove from there to score . . .

Miners Squeeze By Buffaloes, 16-13

CANYON, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—Freshman halfback Truman Hobbs kicked a 38 yard field goal with two seconds left in the game to give Texas Western a 16-13 Border Conference victory over West Texas State today . . . A homecoming crowd of 7,000 saw Hobbs kick the dramatic goal to give Texas Western a clean sweep of the Border Conference . . . It left the Miners with a season record of 8-1 and West Texas with a 6-2 season mark . . . The Miners came back to score all of their points in the last half after West Texas had taken a 13-0 halftime lead and dominated play . . . The score at the first quarter was 7-0, and Western narrowed the count to 13-6 at the end of three periods . . .

JOHNNY REBS SUCCUMB BEFORE VOL ATTACK

By ESCAR THOMPSON
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 17 (AP)—With fullback Carl Smith giving Tennessee's bowl bound express its momentum, the top-ranked Vols rolled past Mississippi, 27-7, today to remain unbeaten and untied . . . A partisan throng of 42,000 saw the Vols yield a touchdown to the fired-up Rebels on the opening kickoff and strike back viciously for their eighth straight victory of the season . . . Smith, 190-pound sophomore from Washington Court House, Ohio, scored three times for Tennessee as the Vols ripped apart Mississippi's defenses for 383 yards rushing and passing . . . Mississippi had gone into the game with the best defense, statistically, of any college football team in the country . . . In previous contests, the Rebels had yielded only 163.6 yards a game . . . Stung by falling behind for the first time this season, Tennessee got its single-wing powerhouse rolling in the second period with Smith plunging from the 1 for the Vols first TD . . . Sammy Burklew made good the first of two conversions . . . The Vols added two more in the third period on a 62-yard runback of an intercepted pass by fullback Tommy Bronson and a 31-yard run by Smith . . . Smith put the frosting on the cake with a 12-yard touchdown gallop late in the fourth quarter . . . Mississippi moved 69 yards with the opening kickoff for its score, quarterback Ray Brown sneaking around right end from the 2 . . . Paige Cothren converted . . .

Middies Outlast Virginia, 34-7

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Navy got the better of a game of swap with a slippery football today and substitute halfback Chet Burchett slithered for three touchdowns to give the Middies a 34-7 victory over Virginia during a steady downpour at Memorial Stadium . . . The game before about 12,000 fans abounded in fumbles and pass interceptions . . . The ball got away from Virginia backs nine times, with Navy recovering four . . . Navy let it squirt away four times and Virginia dropped on three . . . Both teams still passed frequently with two by Virginia backfiring into touchdowns on interceptions . . . Although Virginia stole three passes, it was the timely aerial work by quarterback Tom Forrestal that carried Navy to two of its scores . . .

COAHOMA RIPS STANTON, 39-0

COAHOMA, Nov. 17 (SC)—Coahoma had things all its own way in the tradition-packed District 6-A football contest with Stanton here Friday night, winning, 39-0 . . . The Bulldogs scored twice in the first period, added another in the second for a 19-0 lead and wound up their offensive fireworks by getting three more tallies in the third . . . After Harold Aberreg intercepted a Stanton pass on the Buff 25 in the first, Coahoma started a drive that paid off with the game's first TD when Don White plunged over from three . . . Not long after that, White broke loose on a 57-yard run down the right sideline for a tally and Joe Hill kicked the point to make it 13-0 . . . In the second, Rickey Phinney plunged two yards through center for the third Coahoma score, which came at the end of a 92-yard march . . . Shortly thereafter, Frog Harrington boomed three yards for a marker, climaxing a 65-yard drive . . . While made it 31-0 when he broke loose on a 40-yard run up the middle, after which Hill passed to Phinney for the PAT . . . Not long before the end of the period, Stanton's Dwayne Thompson had one of his passes intercepted by Hill on Stanton's 28 . . . Coahoma proceeded to another score when Harrington boomed across from the two . . . Hill added the PAT to make it 39-0 . . . Lole Badgett was practically the whole offensive show for Stanton . . . In addition to intercepting one pass, Coahoma's Aberreg recovered two Stanton fumbles . . . The game ended the season for both teams . . .

Cosden To Close Out Col-Tex Trade As New Issue Marketed

The marketing of a new issue of 352,000 shares of Cosden Petroleum Corporation stock has been completed with a net increase in the quotation of Cosden on the New York Stock Exchange.

Offered through an underwriters group to finance the purchase of Col-Tex Refining Company, the shares were cleared the afternoon of Nov. 14 and went on the board the following day. The issue was quoted at $21.625 per share. Friday, Cosden reached a peak of 22 1/2 on the board and closed at a strong 22 1/2.

Actual fiscal settlement of the transaction will take place Tuesday, probably in Jersey City. Thereafter, Cosden will be in position to take over the actual direction of Col-Tex operations within 60 days upon five days notice.

Yield of the 352,000 shares to

Col-Tex stockholders will approximate $7 million. The price to public was pegged at $7.612,000, less $506,880 underwriting expenses, commissions, etc. This leaves a total of $7,105,120 for the selling stockholders, less $47,000 estimated expense to the sellers.

During the past fiscal year Cosden had gross operating income of $55,612,848 and Col-Tex had $13,222,090. Cosden's net earnings amounted to $4,617,731 and Col-Tex's $878,344. During the first fiscal quarter of the fiscal year, Cosden income has been running at a substantially higher rate, nearly $63 million per annum; Col-Tex net was virtually static for the first seven months at $421,022.

Cosden now has a daily crude oil processing record of 43,519 barrels including the output of its refinery at Big Spring, the Col-Tex facilities at Colorado City and the Onyx Refining Company at Hawley (which Cosden acquired at about the same time as Col-Tex). Combined sales of manufactured products is proceeding at an annual rate slightly in excess of 19 million barrels.

During the first three months of this fiscal year Cosden produced its own crude oil at the rate of 1,690,000 barrels per annum and showed reserves of 14 1/2 million, not including 1 1/2 million picked up in a trade for production in the Jomill Spraberry pool in Borden County. Col-Tex production was pegged at the rate of 1,400,000 per annum through the first three months of the fiscal year. Its reserves were estimated at 1,452,000 barrels. Actually, reserves may be increased through employment of secondary recovery methods.

Murphy H. Baxter No. 1 Willis will be a Devonian prospector 10 miles southeast of Midland. This test will be located 660 from the north and east lines of section 44-A, George C. Gray survey. It is four miles southwest of the discovery well in the Azalea (Strawn) gas-distillate field. Projected depth is 11,600 feet.

Seaboard No. 1 W. W. Miers, 660 from the south and west lines of labor 19, league 3, Taylor CSL, three and a half miles southeast of the Mungerville pool and one location northeast of Seaboard No. 1-A Weaver, an extender discovery, drilled Saturday below 8,533 in lime and shale.

Borden Prospector

Spraberry Pair Will Plug Back

An amended location in the Spraberry Trend area of southwest Glasscock County has been filed by Sohio Oil.

The first is for operators No. 1 C. C. Reynolds, 1,900 from the south and 660 from the west lines of section 21-36-5e, T&P, to plug back to 6,500 feet for a Clear Fork test.

Sohio No. 3 C. C. Reynolds will also plug back to that same level to test. It is 660 from the south and 1,900 from the east lines of section 21-36-5e, T&P. The tests, originally in the Spraberry, are about 24 miles southwest of Garden City.

M.E.R. BOOST

More Crude Oil Squeezed Without Hurting Basins

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Improved techniques have permitted the oil industry to boost the efficiency rate by which proved reserves are being produced without damage to underground reservoirs.

Domestic oil output could be increased two million barrels a day without reservoir damage. Seven years ago U.S. production was practically at maximum efficient rates.

The excess production capacity has been built despite sharp increases in demand.

The near maximum rate of efficiency in daily production in 1948 was less than six million barrels. Actual production now is exceeding seven million barrels a day and industry and government sources have estimated the figure could be boosted above nine million in the event of an emergency.

Dr. Richard Gonzalez, a director and treasurer of Humble Oil, said the industry today has a larger proportion of new wells and since 1948 has developed proved reserves more intensively. He said the Rocky Mountain area now has more adequate transportation facilities.

He said Texas, which accounts for about half of the known U.S. oil, now has 1.6 more producing wells for each million barrels of proved reserves than in 1948. Eight years ago there were 9.1 producing wells for each million barrels of reserves. At the end of 1955 the average was 10.7.

WILDCAT TEST IS LAUNCHED

Cosden No. 1 Garrett, 1,900 from the south and 2,010.4 from the east lines of section 48-33-2n, T&P, had drilled to 1,150 in redbeds after setting the 13 1/2-inch surface string at 240 feet with 250 sacks of cement.

This test is located three miles southeast of the Bond (Canyon) Field and about seven miles north and west of Big Spring. It is due to go to 7,000 feet to sample the Spraberry.

Two Locations Are Announced

Two shallow well locations for the Howard-Glasscock pool were announced at the end of the week.

Standard of Texas No. 1-10 Dora Roberts will be located 430 from the south and 330 from the west lines of the north half of section 137-29, W&NW and will be projected to 1,500 feet with rotary to test the Yates.

Standard No. 2-17 Dora Roberts will be located 430 from the north and 330 from the east lines of the south half of the same section. Both are on a 240-acre lease two miles east of Forsan.

In the Moore pool, Cosden No. 9-B Patterson, 2,310 from the north and east lines of section 22-33-1s, T&P, five miles southwest of Big Spring, spudded to 150 feet and set the 9 1/2-inch surface string with 90 sacks. Plug was to be drilled Saturday evening.

Duncan Drilling Co. No. 4-B Patterson, 2,310 from the south and 990 from the east lines of section 27-33-1s, T&P, set the oil string at 3,150 and Saturday was drilling out the plug with cable tools preparatory to completing.

Cosden No. 2 Barnett-Connally, 990 from the north and east lines of section 28-33-1s, T&P, fraced with 3,000 gallons and was recovering load oil before pumping to potential.

Continental had a pair of shallow tests going in the Howard-Glasscock sector, Continental No. 8-B Settles, 330 from the north and west lines of section 160-29, W&NW, was below 2,270 feet. It is projected to 2,800.

Continental No. 46-A Settles, 990 from the north and 1,850 from the east lines of section 158-29, W&NW, was taking a core at 2,955.

Deen Prospects To Be Started

Two deep wildcats were announced at the end of the week, one to seek the Ellenburger in Nolan County and the other the Devonian in Midland.

Murphy H. Baxter No. 1 Willis will be a Devonian prospector 10 miles southeast of Midland. This test will be located 660 from the north and east lines of section 44-A, George C. Gray survey. It is four miles southwest of the discovery well in the Azalea (Strawn) gas-distillate field. Projected depth is 11,600 feet.

Union Completes Sterling Well, Begins Another Test

Union of California has completed one well in the Parochial Bade field of western Sterling County and has started operations on another.

Union No. 10-B W. L. Foster Jr., 330 from the north and 2,156 from the east lines of section 27-22, H&TC, bottomed at 2,640 on a derrick floor elevation of 2,661. The 5 1/2-inch string was set at 2,455 after pay was topped at 2,372. Operator perforated from 2,374-86 and 2,394-2,400. After washing with 500 gallons of acid, the well pumped 69 barrels of 30-gravity oil and no water. The gas-oil ratio was too small to measure.

Union has started operations on No. 11-B Foster, 330 from north and east lines of the west half of section 27-22, H&TC. It is projected to 2,400.

C. C. Bingham of Odessa No. 1

OSCAR JENKINS

This is the fourteenth in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the Company.

A native of Arkansas who says a rabbit chase brought him to West Texas and got him interested in the oil business is this week's "Cosden senior."

He is Oscar Jenkins, who works as an assistant treater at the Cosden refinery. Jenkins lives at Sand Springs and as a sort of hobby raises rabbits and chickens.

Jenkins said he chased a rabbit into the Arkansas end of an oil pipe back in 1927. When the chase ended, Jenkins was in West Texas. The rabbit got away.

Jenkins worked for a time at Amarillo, and then came to Big Spring in 1928 to work for Deats Storage which operated at the address now used by White's Stores Inc.

He started work for Cosden May 15, 1941, as a yard helper. He has worked up to assistant treater at present.

In 1933, Jenkins and Miss Minnie Fox were married at Hale Center. They have three children, Clinton and Billy Jenkins who work for Texas Electric Service Company in Odessa and Mrs. Patsy Darnell of Big Spring.

"... Well, I bet Sir Walter didn't have on his dad's sport coat!"

Herman Differs In Some Ways From 'Old Gene'

By HUGH SCHUTTE

ATLANTA, Nov. 17 (AP)—Deep in the heart of Georgia's "wool hat" country, folks like to think that young "Hummon" Talmadge is the spitting image of "Old Gene," right down to the jawful of tobacco and the big brass spittoon at his feet.

And Herman Eugene Talmadge, Georgia's newest U.S. senator and the only son of her late long-time governor, likes to oblige the comparison by affecting the red glasses, bushy forelock and long black cigars that have become a Talmadge trade-mark in Southern politics.

But Georgians have come to realize (and accept) that while the mold may be the same — rough hewn, trigger tongued, independent — the newer model Talmadge is shinier, more streamlined, geared for power and action.

Where "Old Gene" was irascible, moody, unbending and carried a grudge to his dying day, young Herman is calm, deliberate, pliable and apt to forget a grudge if it can mean more votes in a doubtful district.

And where the father boasted of "never carrying a county where the streetcars ran," the son is proud of his support in the big cities and his new-found influence with the younger generation of Georgia voters.

The Talmadge firm is still doing business at the same old stand of white supremacy, but the selling methods have changed since the father passed on and the son inherited the business.

Like his father, young Gene, twice elected governor of Georgia, states unequivocally that in Georgia Negroes and whites will never attend school together in his lifetime, but his approach is constitutional rather than contemptuous. He regards the U.S. Supreme Court segregation decision of 1954 as an infringement on the sovereign right of Georgia to run her own school system.

A square-jawed, hard worker, young Talmadge already has achieved two goals that eluded his father. He has won a seat in the U.S. Senate and he has replaced Sen. Walter George. "Old Gene" tried both and lost by an overwhelming margin.

George, 78, dropped out of the race before Talmadge could avenge his father's defeat, giving the heavily favored challenger clear sailing to Capitol Hill.

Talmadge quickly showed, in interviews after his election, that he had no intention of following the precepts of his international-minded predecessor in the field of foreign affairs. George, long a leader in shaping the nation's foreign policy, was a staunch Senate advocate of increased foreign aid, the Marshall Plan and other forms of mutual assistance among nations.

Born Aug. 9, 1913, Talmadge was educated in Georgia public schools and attended the University of Georgia, where he received his law degree in 1936. The next year he married Kathryn Williams, a professional model he met while both were students at the university. That marriage ended in divorce three years later.

In 1941 Talmadge went into the Navy as an ensign. After World War II service in the South Pacific he was discharged in 1945 as a lieutenant commander. On a three-day pass in 1941 he married another Georgia coed, Leila Elizabeth (Betty) Shingler.

Striking Workers Join In Big Rally

CORSICANA, Nov. 17 (AP)—Striking employees of the Haggard Slacks plant here joined more than 1,000 workers from other Haggard factories today in a rally at Grand Prairie.

Strikers from Waxahachie, Greenville, McKinney, Dallas and Corsicana met in Grand Prairie at 1 p.m. All belong to the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and have been on strike since Oct. 10.

The strikers seek union recognition at Corsicana, a 15-cent hourly pay increase and other benefits.

Mrs. Kellum's Rites Are Set

LAMESA, Nov. 17 — Funeral services for Mrs. T. A. Kellum, 64, will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, Merkel.

Mrs. Kellum passed away Thursday in Pasadena, Calif. Conducting services will be the Rev. J. Lloyd Mayhew, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Lamesa, of which she was a member, and the Rev. Cloy Lyles, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Merkel. Interment will be in the Rosehill Cemetery at Merkel.

Born in Kaufman County on August 17, 1892, she moved with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Christopher, to Merkel in infancy. She was valedictorian of Merkel High School and graduated magna cum laude from Hardin-Simmons University. She had also done graduate work at UCLA.

Mrs. Kellum taught school in West Texas for 40 years until illness forced her retirement in 1954.

At the time of her retirement she was principal of Central Elementary School here. Active in church and civic affairs, she had for many years been president of the Wesleyan Service Guild. She was also a past president of the Lamesa Adelphean Club. She was also a past president of the Wesleyan Service Guild. She was also a past president of the Lamesa Adelphean Club.

Andrews Wants In On Water Survey

Another West Texas city has asked the Colorado River Municipal Water District for consideration in long range studies of water supply.

Andrews has made inquiry to the CRMWD through its president, Robert T. Piner.

"In line with our city council's policy of studying all possible sources of a better water supply for the City of Andrews," wrote J. L. Horner, city manager, "we hereby respectfully request that you consider the possibility of including the City of Andrews in your study."

Reference is to the CRMWD's study of the feasibility of impounding another large lake on the upper Colorado River, possibly in southern Mitchell County. Precursory surveys have indicated that a lake at least 50 per cent larger than Lake J. B. Thomas could be impounded there.

Among municipal needs being considered in this study are those of Midland, Lamesa and Stanton as well as the existing members of the CRMWD — Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder.

E. V. Spence, general manager for CRMWD, and Marvin C. Nichols, member of Freese & Nichols, firm of consulting engineers, are scheduled to go to Washington, D.C., soon in an effort to get United States Geological Survey approval for topographic mapping in the southern part of the proposed water shed.

Gauging stations on the Colorado near the proposed dam site and on Beal's Creek just east of Big Spring have been established to get information about the quantity and quality of runoff water.

Thanksgiving

PLENTY OF HELP IN SHOPPING for the Thanksgiving dinner is given Mrs. Kenneth B. Curry by two-year-old Margaret and her brother, four-year-old Kenny. Part of the fun of a holiday is the anticipation and getting ready for it. From all appearances, the Currys will have a big day!

(Photos by Keith McMillin)

TWO DRUMSTICKS, TWO CHILDREN! Whatever will the Curry family do when Connie, in the high chair, gets old enough to demand her share of the drumsticks? Buy two turkeys? Perhaps a good idea would be to teach her to like only the white meat of the turkey, but then that would cut in on the share of Mommy and Daddy! Oh, well, she's not worried about it, so let's just watch as the turkey is carved and then enjoy it and the rest of the food to be brought on!

MM-M-M-MM—SMELL THAT TURKEY! That's just part of the preparation for Thanksgiving going on at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Curry, 1400 East 14. This year, there is an additional reason to be thankful, and it's four-month-old Connie, whom the two older children consider another of their toys.

LET ME LICK THE BEATERS! is the usual request when there is baking in process, and Kenny and Margaret Curry are no exception. With so much "assistance" in the kitchen, Mrs. Curry has learned to cook, entertain the two and do other tasks at the same time. Sometimes it takes the agility and grace of a broken field runner to keep from stepping on tiny toes.

THERE'S AN AFTERMATH, quite often, to something pleasant, as the Currys learned when their Thanksgiving dinner was over. However, with the children tucked in bed, soft music on the radio and time for visiting, a husband and wife team can make short work of dishwashing. This "over the coffee cups" is a different kind of session, but it's a boon to homemakers!

HI--TALK

By CAROL ROGERS

As the present senior-of-the-week, Jacqueline Smith's main thought is of meeting the deadline of the first El Rodeo shipment, of which she is editor. This position, along with the presidency of the Feta Tri-Hi-Y Club, keeps Jacqueline pretty busy. She also serves as secretary in the Shorthand Club.

JACQUELINE SMITH

This is not the first year that Jacqueline has taken an active part in the various clubs and organizations of BSHS. In her sophomore year, she was president of her Tri-Hi-Y Club and secretary-treasurer of the Spanish Club. Last year, Jacqueline was a staff assistant on the El Rodeo Staff and was outstanding student in typing. Jacqueline has attended Youth in Government as a delegate the past two years and will go to Austin again this December; this time, as reporter of the Big Spring Hi-Y Clubs. Her name has been included on the membership rolls of the Forum, FHA, the Spanish Club, the Shorthand Club, and Tri-Hi-Y. She was on the tennis team during her sophomore year.

An active member of the First Baptist Church and the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Jacqueline plans to attend Baylor University, where she will major in elementary education.

Solemn thoughts crossed the minds of many seniors as they realized that the San Angelo game was the last they would attend or play as BSHS students. A large group of the kids made the trip to San Angelo on a chartered bus and attended the dance before returning to Big Spring. The dance was held at the San Angelo Youth Center.

The last pep rally of the football season was held at noon Friday. Ed Slate gave the pep talk and the students followed the football bus to the edge of town.

Another team ended the 1956 season Saturday night. The B team, coached by John Yates and Sam Bell, played the Snyder B team here.

In observance of American Education Week, Nov. 11-17, a scholarship assembly was presented Thursday morning. Guest speakers, Rodney Shepherd, Bobo Hardy, and Dewey Martin, spoke on the advantages of a good high school record and education.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hagood was the scene of a Sunday School party Tuesday night. The group attending the supper and social was the Young People's Department of the First Baptist Church.

Wednesday was a holiday for all students except the El Rodeo staff. The group spent the day at the school working on the yearbook.

By the way, have you bought your El Rodeo yet? The deadline for the purchase of one at the regular price is Nov. 28. You may obtain your annual from any of the staff members or in the journalism room until that date for $5.

BSHS'ers have been busy doing last minute reading of library books the past week. Book reports were due as usual, the week before six weeks exams, which will be taken Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Report cards will be distributed the following Wednesday.

Many kids attended the first Part of Big Spring will observe

Conservation Of Resources Is Study Of Woman's Forum Friday

Meeting in the home of Mrs. J. D. Jones Friday afternoon, members of the Woman's Forum heard a program on Conservation of Natural Resources. The discussions covered the conservation of both soil and water. Cohostess with Mrs. Jones was Mrs. Clyde Johnston. Mrs. E. P. Driver, speaking on the conservation of water, told the group of the importance of saving the water supply. She described the help of water and also told of its destructive powers. Mrs. Driver spoke of the need to follow a definite system in conservation of all natural resources, especially water. Mrs. C. M. Boles discussed the necessity of keeping the soil fertile and showed how man depends on soil for his economic well-being. She told members that plantings should be made to enrich the soil, and that it should be built up constantly. Mrs. J. D. Elliott gave a lesson on parliamentary law; a question and answer period followed her talk. A report was made by Mrs. Charles Sweeney concerning the club's work at the State Hospital. Project of the women is the Fashion Shop, held regularly at the hospital. This is an opportunity for patients to make selections, free, from good used clothing, which has been donated to the group. Mrs. Sweeney reported that $25 had been given by the Xi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority to be used in the shop. The next meeting will be held Dec. 7 in the home of Mrs. Carl Benson, with Mrs. D. D. Dyer as cohostess. Joyce Howard will present the program. Twenty attended the meeting Friday.

Lamesa Sorority Will Assist Kindergarten

LAMESA — Eight members and four rushees of the Lambda Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce Building. During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Bruce Moore, president, plans were made to assist with the purchase of supplies for 1957 for the migrant kindergarten. Final plans were made for the Thanksgiving dinner to be held Tuesday evening at the Mesa Room. Mrs. Bruce Moore presented the program on "Conversation." Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Skinny White and Mrs. Don Speck.

Medieval Styles Make Comeback

MADRID, (AP) — To be in fashion in Spain in the winter of 1956 — and particularly if it's after five — you have to date yourself circa 1600.

Jose Maria Marbel, young Madrid designer, takes you right back to the universities of medieval Spain by basing his entire collection on the "eslavina," a short cape worn by students here during the middle ages.

Made of velvet and brocade for evening wear and fashioned of tweed, fur or fleecy wool for daytime, the student cape lent an indisputable Spanish flavor to the collection unveiled here recently. Scarcely a dress walked alone without being topped by an adaptation of the "eslavina."

Different in cut from the capes that swept the Paris openings, Marbel's "eslavinas" were cut close to the body in front and flared into fullness in the back. Some of them sported giant, loose collars, lending them the cocoon-type look.

In fact Senorita Madrid certainly will be cozy and snug this winter if she follows Marbel's advice. Almost everyone of his coats and suits was fur-lined and definitely fur-trimmed. Many of his dress - coat ensembles featured hamster fur lining, reminiscent of grandfather's winter coat.

One of the most attractive creations shown was a stone-grey herringbone tweed suit topped with a hipbone-length "eslavina" lined in Black Persian lamb and topped with a square-brimmed fur toque.

The Moorish influence was apparent in Marbel's festive dresses. Adaptations of the harem's skirt appeared in everyone of his chifon gowns. All of these were also highlighted by giant roses veiled with the transparent material.

Thanksgiving this week. Though high school has chosen to observe the holiday Nov. 29, it is quite probable that many BSHS'ers will enjoy Thanksgiving dinners this week.

The student council is sponsoring a Thanksgiving drive for the needy. Be sure and bring cans of food to school during the first of this week. You may turn them in at the office.

Stanton Club Hears Mrs. John Priddy

Mrs. Sweeney Feted

LAMESA — A pink and blue shower honored Mrs. Hollis Sweeney at the home of Mrs. F. M. Jones of O'Donnell. Other hostesses included Mrs. Kellas Davis, Lamesa, Mrs. Hal Gene Franklin, Mrs. Shorty McLaurin, and Mrs. Don Vaughn. About 25 attended the shower, which was held Thursday afternoon.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 7 in the home of Mrs. Carl Benson, with Mrs. D. D. Dyer as cohostess. Joyce Howard will present the program. Twenty attended the meeting Friday.

Forsan Study Club Hears Safety Talk

Barton and Mrs. D. M. Bardwell. The next meeting will be at the school when a Christmas program will be given.

Rene Mazza

... to be honored today

Famed Italian Artist To Be Honored Today

Rene Mazza, famous Italian artist, will be the honored guest today at a reception to be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Howard County Junior College Library.

The occasion, which is open to the public, will be a complimentary affair given by local women who have been pupils in Mr. Mazza's art classes.

The internationally famed Mazza will have on display at the college between 20 and 30 of his paintings for the public to view.

For the past several weeks, Mazza has been conducting art lessons for local women. His presence in this area was by invitation from Midland art patrons, who engaged Mazza for a series of lessons. Since October, Mazza has been working on a portrait of Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the Midland First Presbyterian Church.

At the age of five, Mazza began to sketch and paint. He daily visited museums in his native Venice where he studied the work of the great masters and talked with professional painters. Among his personal friends Mazza includes the celebrated Picasso and De Chirico.

Mazza describes himself as a self-taught artist. At the age of 17 he won top honors in an art contest in Italy.

Although painting has always been Mazza's greatest objective, he graduated from the University of Padova with a law degree. In 1938, the freedom and broadmindedness of Americans attracted Mazza to the United States. Mazza maintains permanent art studios in Dallas, Venice, Rome, Boston, New York, Santa Barbara, Calif., New Orleans, Houston and on the Island of Capri.

Although Mazza paints landscapes and still life, he is perhaps best noted for his oil portraits, his own favorite venture into the art field.

Following his return from his native Italy last June where he had exhibits in Rome and Venice, Mazza was in New York City, Long Island, and Cape Cod to execute portraits of numerous personalities. Among those is his painting of Conrad Hilton which now hangs in the fabulous Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas.

On display at HCJC today will be various portraits, oil landscapes and water color paintings.

"This is truly a great honor for Big Spring, and I think everyone would enjoy meeting Mr. Mazza and viewing his paintings," Mrs. Jess Blair said. Mrs. Blair is one of Mazza's art students in the weekly Saturday art lessons which have been sponsored by Las Artistas Club.

The committee in charge of the reception is composed of Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Richard Patterson, Mrs. D. W. Conway, Majorie Havens and Dr. Norman Furlong.

Bob Wrens In Odessa For Family Reunion

Malayan missionaries, REV. AND MRS. KNELL KNUTSEN, who are at present visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Byrnes in Odessa are relatives of local people. Mrs. Knutsen is a niece of Mrs. Bob Wren. Mr. and Mrs. Wren, Lana and Belva, are in Odessa today for a family gathering. Both Knutsens finished their schooling in the United States. Immediately after college graduation, they went to Norway for a year before being sent to Malaya, where they have been for more than five years.

The only bad thing about the pleasant brunch Thursday morning was that a time of parting was bound to arrive. It is quite likely that women would talk themselves into a coma if most of them weren't expected to have lunch on the table at a set time.

MRS. ROSS BRUNNER, a pretty blonde young matron from Midland, was with MRS. HERSHELL EZZELL JR. She was most attractively dressed in a three-piece knit suit of pale blue. Mrs. Ezzell wore heavy silver jewelry with a black felt skirt that featured Indian figures. Her sweater was black. Just got a peek at MRS. MARVIN HAYWORTH who was once a neighbor. She looked pretty in brown. MRS. FRED STEPHENS was stylish in a gray two-piece suit. The coat was full length and was embroidered with small black braid. Her hat was of velvet and satin. MRS. HUDSON LANDERS was a pert in a beige outfit. The sheath type dress was topped with a heavy cable knit sweater. MRS. HERSHELL EZZELL SR., of Nashville, Tenn., who is having her month's visit with her son and his family, was having such a good time assisting the hostesses. She declares the women in Big Spring make the prettiest arrangements whether they are professional arrangers or just like to arrange. She said she had told the florists in Nashville they should come to Big Spring if they want to see some really pretty compositions and arrangements.

MRS. KENT MORGAN's silver leather coat and red leather hat attracted much attention. Really unusual.

MRS. H. G. AGEE and daughter, Darlene, accompanied by Charlene Lansing, are spending the weekend in Abilene as guests of Mrs. Agee's brother and sister, B. D. Beauty and Mrs. John Abel.

At the Mantovani concert intermission Thursday night a friend heard a teen-ager say "Well, this is certainly different from Elvis!" And it was. I liked everything the orchestra played but I think I was most definitely tuned to hear "Always." "Some Enchanted Evening." "The Swan" and "Charmaine." "Italian Fantasia" was thrilling to me. Speaking of things I like, I liked MRS. LEWIS PRICE's red mouton short jacket. . . . and that tiny half hat of MARIE CARTER'S.

Cosden Club members and their guests were having a gay time Friday evening dancing to the music of Bill Burke and his orchestra. MR. AND MRS. ED BYNUM were doing the mambo and other fancy dances we have long since outgrown. LOUIS CAROTHERS says the mambo is easy to do. . . . just walk off and leave your motor running. MR. AND MRS. RANDALL PICKLE were here from Lubbock and had a noisy reunion with the FRANKLIN NUGENTS whom they hadn't seen in years.

MR. AND MRS. L. A. PICKLE accompanied the Randall Pickles home for a visit that will include Thanksgiving Day.

MRS. AKIN SIMPSON was pictured on the San Antonio Express society page of No. 4 while she was attending the American Veterinarians Medical Association luncheon in the Camellia Room. The caption noted that Mrs. Simpson had chosen "a brown silk dress, silk and cotton blend, with a modified full skirt, high round neckline and three-fourths push-up sleeves. She wore a large brown velvet hat and a scarf of mink. Her shoes and handbag were brown lizard."

The ringing of the telephone may be blight to some people but it isn't to me! I shall welcome the tingling bell if Mr. Bell's wonderful invention is ever installed in my new abode. I probably won't even complain when the boys hold prolonged conversations. . . . not for a day, anyway!

In San Angelo Saturday were Mrs. H. H. Story and Mrs. John Kubecka.

Visiting in San Angelo Thursday was Mrs. Helen Miller. Mrs. M. E. Perry, Oklahoma City, Okla., was a recent visitor in the Sunray Camp.

A Little To The Right

Lt. Joe Engle places the finishing touch to the "decorator's corner" while his wife watches the project. This attractive wall is at the end of their kitchen. Mrs. Engle has papered the wall in an imitation brick pattern wallpaper that appears as real bricks. This imaginative new bride has lots of ideas on how to make a house into a comfortable home. Adding to the attractiveness of the wall area are various objects of polished wood. The center attraction is a gay Pennsylvania Dutch print on a linen-burlap mat. The Engles are recent newcomers to Big Spring and make a home at 2104 S. Monticello.

Interior Design Degree Aids Bride In Homemaking Tasks

A talent for interior design could be of no better help than to a newlywed beginning housekeeping. It has not only "paid off" with a degree in interior decorating from the University of Kansas, but also has produced a very charming and warm home for the Joe Engles, 2104 South Monticello, recent newcomers to Big Spring. The decorating accomplishment belongs to Mrs. Engle, but her husband is just as talented in his field. He is in basic pilot training at Webb AFB.

Before coming to Webb, Lt. Engle took primary pilot training at Malden AFB in Malden, Mo. From his class of 117 at Malden, Lt. Engle received the honor of being the outstanding student officer both in academic studies and in flying. Mrs. Engle finds all phases of housekeeping challenging and "lots of fun." Since their move to their home three weeks ago, she has been busy making curtains, chair covers, redesigning lamps, papering walls and adding the finishing touches to a congenial home.

Interests Can Guide Room Decor

Don't let convention restrict your imagination when you decorate a bedroom. Have you a hobby? A faraway place that has always fascinated you? A favorite game? Any of these themes can be worked into a decorative scheme. There are wallpapers which reproduce stamps, music, and dolls, if any one of these is your hobby. Racks and chests for a fan, rock, or souvenir collection make interesting focal points in any room. An interest in American history can be reflected in a room furnished with antiques. It's easy to work in exotic touches of the Far East nowadays with the great popularity of Japanese and Indian accessories. Chessmen adorn drapery fabrics, and a floor can easily be made into a fine checker board.

The main thing is to use your imagination. Make the room a reflection of your interests. But remember — a bedroom is for sleeping. Don't over-decorate to such an extent that the room becomes a confusing jumble.

Wise Granny Prepares For Grandkids' Visit

It's a wise grandmother who prepares for the visits of her grandchildren. A big sturdy chest conveniently holds toys and games when they're not in use and frees valuable closet shelf space. A table with a tile or plastic top is handy for rainy-weather games and can double for many adult uses. But best of all, if you have the room, why not purchase a set of bunk beds with good firm mattresses? Even the most active youngster will be willing to take a nap in these, cowboy-style.

McCarthy HD Club

She Still Has Pep

Bouncing Betty Hutton has returned from retirement to make "Spring Reunion" for Bryna Prods. Although this is a new Betty she still has the youthful untiring energy that has made her so famous. Her hidden source of pep is shared with the readers of today's Hollywood Beauty.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Betty Hutton Checks Diets For Energy

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — When Betty Hutton decided to make a picture it surprised me because her previous announcement of retiring was genuine.

"You'll find a new Betty," an executive at Republic told me. "She is even more pleasing to work with."

I was curious to know what he meant and as soon as I visited Betty on the "Spring Reunion" set I immediately felt the change in her. Betty looked so young and pretty that as I went into her dressing room I asked, "What have you done?"

"I am healthy and happy and that means a lot," Betty explained. "But I am also wearing new make-up. I am not a glamour girl so I have never felt I should wear a lot. Besides when you get older I think you should use less of it. When you cover your face with a lot of gook every line in your face shows up like a river and you look worse than if you didn't have on any at all. So I asked to be tested with a light base, pale lipstick and not much mascara and for a change I look like me."

As Betty was talking she seemed so much more poised and relaxed that I couldn't resist remarking about it.

"Lots of people have told me that," Betty smiled. "It is something I have been working on and I am glad that it shows. When I left pictures I was unhappy and felt defeated. I was sincere when I said I was retiring and I turned my energy to working with the hemophilia foundation (Betty's son Peter was born with this condition) and also with the City of Hope. I came face to face with real misery and I realized how little my problems were in comparison. As I tried to help others I found I was helping myself."

"One day my husband suggested that I go back to work. He said, 'Retire later if you want to but don't stop a quitter.' And that is what I am doing. But never again will I allow my career to be my whole life. It is necessary to have a life independent of work. The sooner we find this out the better."

"I started in show business when I was three years old. I have known terrible poverty and what it is not to have enough of everything including love. I grew up lacking confidence and I tried to cover this with a blustering personality that was not really me."

"I had a terrible temper and gave in to it. It used to make me furious when I felt that those around me were inept or not doing a good job. Then something inside of me would go 'boom!' and I would issue commands instead of trying to talk things over. I had a struggle to learn how to control myself but I've won the battle of impatience. Now I want to win my point instead of demanding it."

I remarked how much more prudent it was to accomplish what you want with charm instead of temper. And we chatted about the elusive quality of charm. "I think a charming person is one who is beautifully poised," Betty remarked, "and makes you feel comfortable and relaxed, too. President Eisenhower is one of the world's great charmers. He makes everyone around him feel at ease. Charm to me is closely related with being at peace with yourself and imparting this to others."

Betty was called back to the camera and as I watched her work I realized that in gaining self-control none of her boundless energy had been lost. "Where does all your pep come from?" I asked as she returned from shooting a scene. "Tell me your secret?" "I believe that energy and diet

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

Has the mystery surrounding the seven keys got you baffled? Hints and phrases about them have been floating around the college and town for several weeks.

To find out firsthand the "key" to this mystery, attend a performance of "Seven Keys To Baldpate," a farce by George M. Cohan, at the college auditorium Thursday, Friday or Saturday evening. The curtain is scheduled to go up at 8 p.m. Admissions is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

An excellent cast, selected from the Drama Club, will portray characters ranging in disposition from the humorous to the murderer; the hysterical to the suave.

Fred E. Short, head of speech and drama, is director of the play. Whether you are a member of the BSU or not, you are invited to attend the Morning Watch. In the Music Building, Neldon Milstead, president, presides over the programs consisting of devotions, songs, and discussions, every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 7:30.

Fred Short has announced his cast for the Thanksgiving play, "Magic On Main Street" which is to be presented Tuesday in the college auditorium. Jennifer, a pretty, impetuous girl of 19 is to be portrayed by Ann Porterfield; her mother, Mrs. Black, will be cast by Billie Freeman. Margaret, an older sister, will be Clara Freeman. Playing the part of Sue, a hired girl will be Mary Betscher, and Aggie Miller, a spinster, will be portrayed by Mary Sue Hale.

Mrs. George, a minister's wife, will be Dorothy Baker. Six journalists and Miss Elizabeth Daniel left today bound for Texas A&M, the site of a two-day journalism conference. After associating with other journalism students from colleges of this area, they will return to HCJC Tuesday.

Richard Hood spent the weekend at his home in Amarillo. Last weekend Don Lovelace and Neldon Milstead journeyed to Portales, N. M., with prospects of looking over Eastern New Mexico University. While there, they visited two former Jayhawkers, Phil Gore and Jimmy Joe Robinson.

A neater and safer college is ours, resulting from the new drive and parking space behind the out, local college students apparently "dig" the new music of Mantovani. Included in those attending his performance Thursday evening at the City Auditorium were Don Mandell, Betty Earley, Rodney Sheppard, Mary Jane Troxie, Alvin Cohorn, Jimmy Merrick, Johnny Berry, Shirley Ward, Pat Dunn, John Gilbert, Jerry Choate, Ray Weathers, Neldon Milstead, Dale Barrington, and Rita Gale.

Working at the VA Hospital will be the Christmas project of the Gold Star Mothers.

At their meeting Friday members discussed plans for a party to be held at the hospital Dec. 17. Members will meet at 1:30 Dec. 17 at the hospital to decorate the Christmas tree and fill bags of candy.

'RSVP' By Telephone

Some Washington hostesses are beginning to put their telephone numbers on their invitations, in connection with the "R.S.V.P." to make it easier and quicker for folks to accept or decline a bid to a brunch, a dinner, or the more informal shindig. Protocol still demands a written reply to an official or a white-tie affair, however.

Wedding Date Told

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Edwards, 1066 Wood, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beverly, to Norman Blake. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Berl Blake, Colorado Springs, Colo. The couple, both students in Wayland College, Plainview, will be married Jan. 1, 1957, in Baptist Temple. (Photo by Bradshaw)

SMART WARMTH

Cowl Collar Indoors Is Warm Hood For Outside

Mr. Mort's junior following will delight in this hooded beauty that converts so gracefully into a cowl collar when indoors. The hooded look is hot news these days, as well as being smart warmth.

Cut on the bias, it drapes effectively whichever way you wear it and is faced with the same fabric on the inside. The straight lines of the dress are softened with a slight blousiness in the bodice and darts over the hips.

Make this designer sized model in corduroy, shantung, the silks, jersey, plaid or checked wools. The pattern, which is cut by hand, is accurately perforated, making the high style detail extremely easy to handle. And in case you prefer the new longer length, the extra yardage is figured.

From this chart select the one size best for you:

Size 9, bust 33 1/2, waist 23 1/2, hips 34 1/2 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16; size 11, bust 34 1/2, waist 24 1/2, hips 35 1/2 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2; size 13, bust 36, waist 26, hips 37 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2; size 15, bust 37 1/2, waist 27 1/2, hips 38 1/2 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2; size 17, bust 39, waist 29, hips 40 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches.

Size 13 requires 3 1/2 yards of 54-inch material for dress.

To order Pattern No. 1288, state size, enclose $1. Address American Designer Pattern, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. Classic Pattern Booklet No. 12 and all new Pattern Booklet 13-X available for 50 cents each. If paid by check add 4 cents.

West Sees Sun-Fun Fashions

LOS ANGELES (AP) — These light-hearted California fashion designers ignore the impending snow and ice that seasonally blankets the northern part of the nation, and show fashions for fun in the sun.

These will be seen in the plushier resorts this winter, and will set the pace for beach and play next summer. So it is that buyers from all over the country flock to Los Angeles in November, to buy the clothes that the upper income brackets will be wearing in January, and the rest of the citizenry will put on in July.

This year the accent is on femininity in fashions for every occasion, from the dinner dance at the country club to the winter cruise. The careless look is strictly out of date, and women will wear ruffles and lace, even to the beach. They also will go in for ladylike, covered-up fashions on most occasions, and will favor subtle colors rather than vivid tones.

The California fashion collections set the tempo for beach, resort and sun fashions for the rest of the country; this year they stress a minor key. Silver gray, for instance, is the newest color for swim suits and beachwear, and beige is a favored color, second only to plain white.

It's a year in which to be subtle, be ladylike, be discreet, whether in the ballroom or at the beach.

Better Take Care Of Those Furs

Who ever saw a muskrat or a mink with an umbrella? But nobody ever heard of Milady's furs living in steam heated quarters. Rain and snow will not hurt fur; heat will.

If you who are buying new furs, will follow these few simple hints on taking care of your furs, you will get seasons of extra wear from them.

If your fur is wet or just damp, never place it near heat because intense heat if any kind causes furs to become brittle and dry. Shake the fur vigorously and hang it to dry naturally in cool, circulating air.

Heat is the arch enemy of furs; it dries out natural oils. That is why cold storage in summer is a necessity, you can't get away from seasonal heat, although you might succeed in keeping the moths away. Play safe, take care, store your furs in summer. Exposure to summer heat will shorten the life of your fur coat by many seasons.

Treat your coat with respect. Put it on a good clothes hanger in an unheated closet, allowing plenty of room. Always give it a gentle shake both before and after wearing. This keeps the fur fluffy and clean in day-to-day wear. But grime still has a tendency to collect between the fine thick hairs.

You send much less expensive articles of wearing apparel to be cleaned regularly. How much more important that you keep your furs clean. An experienced furrier has both knowledge and equipment to clean furs. A thorough cleaning once a year should keep furs in excellent condition.

When sitting, unfasten the loops so that there is no strain. Also, be careful that your coat is not bunched up under you. If you drive a car, try to keep away from continuous friction at one spot.

If small rips and tears are cared for in time by your furrier, it will contribute to satisfactory wear for your furs because neglect may necessitate new skins, which are expensive. A stitch in time prevents a small rip or tear from becoming a big jagged tear.

Never attempt to brush or comb your furs.

The lining, too, after a season of wear, should be taken care of, particularly around the neckline, at the lower part of the back, underarms, and inside cuffs. Here, again an early repair job is advisable and economical.

Sandwich Mix
You'll need to mix about 1/4 cup of minced parsley with 1/2 cup butter if you're planning to use the mixture as a spread for sandwiches. Fill the sandwiches with cold sliced chicken or ham.

Check That Mattress For Signs Of Wear

If you give your mattress and spring a quick cleaning while you're changing the sheets, it's not much of a job.

Just attach the upholstery brush to the vacuum cleaner and go over the surface. Don't forget to turn the mattress — side to side and end to end.

And while you're cleaning it, have a good look at the mattress. Watch for sagging springs, lumps, tears, broken tufts or edges, or an excessive amount of "give." Any of these things mean that the mattress has seen its best days. Replacement is what it needs rather than cleaning.

Soak In Salt Water
An old-fashioned technique that's still good to use: Soak cauliflower or broccoli in salted water for 15 minutes or so before cooking to get rid of any small insects.

New Fire Station To Be Shown To Public Today

Citizens will get a chance to look over the city's newest fire station today.

Open house is being held at the Northside fire station from 2 until 6 p.m. The red-brick structure, erected at a cost of $41,667, is located at the corner of North Main and Eighth.

It is just north of the new swimming pool. The entire block will be improved in the future and be converted into a playground.

G. A. Jones of Lamesa was contractor on the project, and Puckett and French, the architects and engineers.

Following the open house, the fire department will occupy the station and go on standby status. R. T. Hale and J. D. Jenkins will be shift lieutenants.

Jewel Williamson and Donald Barber will be on Hale's shift, and Thomas Castle and Pete Anderson will go with Jenkins.

Jones turned the building over to the city Thursday, and Friday morning the furniture was moved in. Furniture for it was purchased in the summer at the same time gear for the Eleventh and Birdwell station was bought.

Light fixtures for the apparatus room have not arrived, but the contractor agreed to mount them when they come. Rather than wait until they arrived, the city elected to take the building now.

The station is designed on the same order as the fire station at Eleventh and Birdwell, with the exception of a room for the shift lieutenants. The lieutenants will sleep in the dormitory room with the others at the Northside station.

Picture windows are situated on the north and east of the dining area and on the north wall of the living room.

With completion of the Northside fire station, the city will have finished practically all of its improvements okayed in the bond issue dealing with the fire department.

Two new fire trucks were purchased, radios mounted in all trucks, monitor sets in each of the three substations, and a central radio at the main station. Also, fire hoses were purchased for the new trucks and fire-fighting jackets, pants, boots, and caps were purchased for the new men needed.

The two fire stations, at Eleventh and Birdwell and on the Northside, were also paid for from the bonds, as was the equipment for them.

Only the drill tower must be erected to complete the fire department expansion. Plans for it have been approved, and the city is now waiting on a site for it before asking for bids.

Although the block is bare now, the city plans to plant grass and shrubs in it, fence it, and make it a playground. The fire station will not be enclosed in the fence however.

The city also plans to stabilize North Main southward and Eighth westward to paved streets to give the fire trucks all-weather outlets to paved streets.

C-City Jaycees To Mark Anniversary

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 17—The Colorado City Jaycees will hold their Tenth Anniversary Celebration at Civic House Tuesday night, with L. E. Hightower of San Angelo, state vice president, as guest speaker.

The dinner will honor Jaycees past presidents and new members, according to Bob Kirschbaum, current president. Kirschbaum said that Bob McGarvey of Ballinger, a national director, and Buddy Gray of Ballinger, a regional vice president, will also be present.

Walter Grubbs of KYMC, will act as master of ceremonies.

Dawson 'Chest' Raises $5,000

LAMESA Nov. 17—With about a third of the block chairmen in the Advance and Special Gifts divisions of the Dawson County Community Chest reporting, over $5,000 had been turned in to the Community Chest office Friday.

Doyle Hankins, president, requested that all block chairmen in all divisions make their contacts and report in as soon as possible.

"Only if we all do our part can we hope to reach the goal of $21,860.10," he said.

Attend Meeting

LAMESA Nov. 17—Dawson County Judge Aubrey Boswell and County Commissioners Alton Addison, J. E. Airhart, A. B. Furlow and Cecil O'Brien were in San Antonio last week for the meeting of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas.

Dead Men Tell No Tales

Joe Skeen, sprawled on the floor, seems to be "through" in the forthcoming production of "Seven Keys to Baldpate." Others shown in the picture are, left to right, James Johnson, Joann Watkins, Frank Dunlap, and Billy McIvatt.

'SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE'

First Production Of HCJC Drama Dept. Set This Week

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," a comedy of errors which has kept American theatre audiences guffawing for four decades and is still as funny as the day George M. Cohan wrote it, will be staged by the Howard County Junior College Drama Department at the HCJC auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This will be the first major production by the student actors of the HCJC drama department. This is a brand new department of the college and the instructor is F. E. Short. Rehearsals have been under way for some weeks and the result promises to be an exceptionally entertaining and happy evening for theatre lovers of the community.

Tickets are now on sale. Price of admission will be 75 cents for students and 50 cents for students.

A special feature of the performance will be the awarding of door prizes. An interesting assortment of valuable gifts have been provided to the drama department through the cooperation of merchants of the city and these will be presented to members of the audience each night.

Short and his student production staff have canvassed the county to collect costumes for "Seven Keys to Baldpate." The time of the play is in the 1920's and all sorts of weird garments — including a coonskin coat for one collegian in the cast — have been assembled to lend authenticity to the production.

Featured in the cast of the play will be Frank Dunlap, Clara Freeman, Mary Sue Hale, Don Lovelace, Billie Freeman, Ann Porterfield, Tommy Black, James Johnson, Jo Ann Watkins, James Skeen, Richard Engle, Billy McIvatt, Max McCulloch, and Charlie McCarty.

Miss Porterfield is student director and Johnson is production manager. The settings are being prepared by Joe Neff, Jerry Howell, John Biggs, Ernest Hays, Joe Grizzle, Lawrence Abberegg, and Darrell Northcott.

Task of getting the maze of "properties" needed for "Seven Keys to Baldpate" has been under the direction of Mrs. Irene Wiley, assisted by Mrs. LaVerne McFerran, Lillie Guesen, Mary Boettcher, Patsy Grant and Shirley Kennedy.

Lighting will be handled by Bob Smith and Ernest Byrd. McCarty heads the publicity work. His aides are Julie Rainwater, Dorothy Baker, Miss Hale, Miss Freeman and Richard Engle.

Short, who initiated the drama department in HCJC this fall, plans to do a number of plays this school year. The general public will be invited to attend all of the productions.

A Bible Thought For Today

Behold, the LORD's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear. But your iniquities have separated between you and your GOD, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear. (Isaiah 59:1-2)

Elements In A Real Partnership

From all accounts, the Business-Education Day observed last week was one which generated fruits as well as enthusiasm. As a result, business and education should be a more closely knit community team.

The venture demonstrates again the inter-dependence of our basic institutions. Business can have its own row and education can go its way, and both will suffer from isolation. Or they can develop a healthy admiration and respect for the function of each, and both will be more vigorous and effective.

In recent years businessmen have come to an awakening that both teachers and those in business are "salesmen" as J. B. Wiginton, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce said in his response to the welcoming address on BE day.

"You are salesmen with the toughest selling job and the stiffest competition in the world," he told the teachers. "Every day you have to sell Johnny and Mary on the idea of spending their time learning. . . . We in business have to keep selling every day. . . . but we have plenty to learn about selling our business system."

Then he went on to say that one of the objects of the day was for business to extend the aid of teachers in selling the American economic system as well as the American education system.

All of this was necessary to maintain free business, free education, free labor, he said.

One of the tenets developed during the day was the necessity of operating with a reasonable profit in order to continue to operate. There is, as Wiginton pointed out, nothing iniquitous about a profit, and we doubt that many if any teachers have thought that there was. However, too many of us look at the cost of an item and the sale price and conclude that the difference is profit.

This is not so, and teachers perhaps are better aware of it than most people because they have seen first hand once more that real cost is not only in goods and raw materials but in investment for buildings, plant, land, power, fuel, water, communications, labor, insurance, supplies, services, interest and, oh yes, taxes. After all these are paid, then the difference between the total and the receipts is the profit. Usually, it's a pretty small percentage of the dollar.

Beyond this, we feel that there is a subtler but more potent refresher resulting from the visitation. It is either a conscious or an unconscious realization that schools are dependent upon support contributed by business, industry, agriculture, etc. for their well-being and progress. Similarly, it is a realization on the part of business that the products of schools must be young people with sharp minds, good attitudes and a willingness to do and dare under the framework of freedom.

When the time rolls around next spring for businessmen to visit in schools, we trust that they will be as eager to explore education's part of the partnership as were the teachers.

Around The Rim

Monty's Band Played Awful Pretty

Dear Zeke:

You should have been here the other night, just to have gotten an idea about how this hoe-down music oughta be played.

These culture folks brought this feller here with his band, Monty Barney. His name was, and turned out that he wasn't so long-hair as you might think. Practically everything he played, you could recognize the tune. Most of 'em was old-timers that you would hum or whistle with, only done up in a fancy package, with a lot of cryin' fiddles, and some tootin' on a flute.

None of this Opus No. 23 in F Sharp Minor and that kind of thing, but more like Charmaine, which you used to make love to, and like Begin the Beguine, which everybody knows, and even a polka, which would have had you tappin' your foot. And like Ave Maria, which would just about bring a lump in your throat.

Old Monty seemed to know pretty well what he was doin'. He would look at them fiddlers, point his stick at 'em, and sort of sway down in his knees. Then as he pulled back and straightened up, them strings would swipe them bows across the strings just like he motioned for 'em to do. They would come out even, too.

There was a few things you might have questioned, Zeke. Like maybe the thing was over-balanced with fiddles, and what do you know? Only one guitar in the whole outfit. This don't make the same kind of music as you would hear with a bunch of gitters, but like I said, the fiddlers practically made up for it. They played mighty sweet.

The guitar player looked like he didn't have as much to do as he ought to have had. But that ain't nothin' compared with another feller who had a squeeze box. Why, that feller sat out the whole first half without hardly ever playin' a note.

Come the second half, he got a pretty good workout with the polka and a few other tunes, but if I was a bettin', I would bet that Monty got this feller for probably half price.

But if the squeeze box boy had it easy, you shoulda seen that drummer! That feller was as busy as a bunch of women shoppers at a New York fire sale, and it wouldn't of surprised me none if he had started hanging instruments to his elbows, and stuck a French h&rp in his mouth. He would beat them kettle drums, then he would dash over and hit some bells, then he would tickle the keys on a marimba while he was goin' by, on his way to hammer at the xylophone. No sooner had he patted the Beguine, then he would jump up and shake some hand bells, then bang his cymbals, then stroke the snare drum. By that time it was time to start over on the kettles, and if that feller's tongue wasn't hanging out by the end of the show, then he's been practicing mile runs with West Santee.

And all this time, dag-nab it, old Monty would be waving that stick, and looking most of the time at the fiddlers. There were some gals in the fiddle section, which may have made a difference. Anyways, I figger the drummer ought to have gotten top pay, or else he ought to put in for some help, if Monty is going to take his mind traipsin' around the country all the time.

Monty had some fellers with other kinds of horns, too, and sometimes they would work hard, and some times just sit. Mostly, like I say, it was the fiddlers that worked.

And I tell you, Zeke, they played pretty. If Monty comes back this way, you ought to come hear him.

Your friend,
Josh (BOB WHIPKEY)

Test Of The U.N. In Middle East

WASHINGTON — The United States stands ready to cooperate with the United Nations in exposing the acts of aggression by Soviet Russia in the Middle East.

A scheme to send Communist "volunteers" into Egypt—officially and openly endorsed by the Moscow and Peking governments—even though the United Nations has received pledges from Egypt herself that she will respect a "cease-fire," is regarded here as a climax to many months of plotting and intrigue in the Middle East by the Communists.

Israel's reprisals against border raids and the decision of Britain and France to use force to secure free passage of the Suez Canal are merely effects — not causes of the Soviet intervention.

The discovery that millions of dollars worth of arms were supplied Egypt and that along with the munitions and equipment went Soviet technicians and aviators indicates plainly that the Communist activity started many months ago and that the present muddled situation was brought about by the Moscow regime. Proof of this is in the possession of the British government, as described in Parliament.

President Eisenhower hinted at his last press conference that the United States might be willing to go a considerable distance to back up the U.N. in measures to prevent a world war that might arise as a result of Middle Eastern aggression by Soviet Russia. He pointedly said that "it would be the duty of the United Nations, which would include the United States, to oppose such an effort (the sending of Soviet Russia of "volunteers" to Egypt).

Mr. Eisenhower further declared that, if the United Nations took some steps in that direction, this country "would again try to be their supporters in any such action."

When the President was questioned as to what form American action might take if new armed forces were introduced in the Middle East, he added:

"Well, I can't tell what it would be. But the United Nations, if you will read its charter, is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions, and, in one instance, at least, showed that it was not so limited. So I don't know exactly what we would do. It would depend upon the circumstances."

The President undoubtedly is referring to the 1950 action of the United Nations in ordering, through its Security Council, the sending of armed forces to Korea "to repel aggression." This was possible because the Soviets were absent from the Security Council meeting, but since then the General Assembly has been empowered to authorize its members to take collective action irrespective of a Soviet veto in the Security Council.

It is conceivable that, if the United Nations police force seeks to take over the Suez area from the British forces and finds itself menaced by Communist "volunteers," the United States will take the situation as one requiring action by the U.N. General Assembly. In those circumstances, it seems likely that American troops might join to protect the U. N. police force. The mere announcement of such a possible development may be enough to cause Moscow to restrain its supposedly enthusiastic "volunteers" and keep any new element from further complicating an already complex situation.

If the Soviets really want to keep the peace, they have such an opportunity in the policy they pursue in handling the "volunteer" problem. The President indicated this when he said:

"Really, for the first time in history, an international machinery, set up by nations for the settlement of international disputes, is receiving a truly thorough test."

If the test fails, the world is in for serious trouble—and that includes the United States.

The Technique Of Being Thankful

Probably the least known of all our great American heroes is a man named William Bradford. We have no idea of how he looked — there is no picture of him in existence. We do not know how heavy he was or how tall. And the color of his hair or of his eyes is long since forgotten.

But we do know the color of his mind, for he left a book behind, his famous "History Of Plymouth Plantation," the source of all we know about the Plymouth Colony and the Pilgrim Fathers who founded it. Bradford came to New England on the Mayflower and was soon after chosen leader of the Pilgrims. He was governor of the colony for most of his life; he was reelected thirty times. And it was he who, in 1621, proclaimed our first Thanksgiving Day.

His book paints a wonderful word picture of Bradford standing in the parched fields in the midst of a great drought, his sturdy arms lifted to heaven, praying for rain. "In answer to my prayer," he wrote, "there fell a gentle sweet shower which refreshed our land and gave us a crop."

That was the spirit of faith which marked all the other great Americans who followed Bradford. As Bradford said: "I prayed to God and He heard our prayers and He still will hear our prayers." One hundred and fifty years later, George Washington echoed Bradford when, asked how the Revolution would come out, he replied, "The event is in the hands of God." And Benjamin Franklin, speaking to his fellow members of the Congress when the Constitution was being framed, remarked, "If a sparrow cannot fall from heaven to earth without His notice, it is probable that an empire can rise without His aid!"

The sense of God's hand in the framing of our national destiny has been and remains strong among Americans of all faiths.

That is why Thanksgiving is more than a feast, it is an occasion for religious rededication. And I hope that, between now and the time you sit down for your Thanksgiving dinner, you will turn to your Bible and read the eighth chapter of Deuteronomy, which speaks of the richness and beauty of a God-given land and then counsel, "When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee." Simple, direct and honest words these — and what a truth they contain!

There is a simple technique of being thankful. It is best described by a French monk, Brother Lawrence, who lived at the same time as William Bradford and also left behind a book which has become famous, "The Practice of the Presence of God." In it, he wrote: "He requires no great matters of us; a little remembrance of Him from time to time, a little adoration; sometimes to pray for His grace, sometimes to offer Him your sufferings, and sometimes to return Him thanks for the favors He has given you, and still gives you in the midst of your troubles, and to console yourself with Him the oftenest you can. Lift up your heart to Him, sometimes even at your meals and when you are in company; the least little remembrance will always be acceptable to Him. You need not cry very loud; He is nearer to us than we are aware of. . . . Every one is capable of such familiar conversation with God, some more, some less; He knows what we can do. Let us begin. . . ."

Perpetual Inflation Hasn't Been Proved Yet

Come a dissent. A much-needed dissent. A scholarly dissent. Charles R. Whittlesey, professor of finance at the University of Pennsylvania and one of the country's accepted authorities on money, isn't at all certain that prices are going up and up forever and ever.

So, if you're rushing to buy a house because it'll cost you more three years from now, if you're avoiding the purchase of bonds because they're "bound to depreciate in value," and if you're buying common stocks because they're a hedge against inflation, well, hold your checkbook for a moment.

Perpetual inflation is still to be proved, says Whittlesey. He points to a 196-year chart prepared by the Federal Reserve Board. It shows four major inflations in the United States — the first in 1790-1815, the second in 1860-1896, the third in 1914-1920, and the fourth in 1933-1945. In each case, the price level rose sharply, then fell sharply, and then rose again.

Whittlesey argues continued inflation isn't inevitable and is even improbable, he doesn't think that a postwar deflation, akin to 1919-20, threatens. Prices won't collapse. Heretofore, postwar deflations have been associated with depressions — a drop in industrial production, unemployment, wage cuts, bankruptcies, bank failures, bread lines. Such declines usually came within a few years after wars ended. World War II is an exception to the rule. Prices slipped in 1949 and again after the Korean War upsurge. But no down spiral this time gained momentum. Dips have been mild.

Furthermore, past deflations fed on themselves. Declines in stock and bond prices and business faltering ultimately spread to the banking system. Runs developed.

INFLATION IN PERSPECTIVE

Backlog to 1800 shows that prices fall after wartime booms. Is World War II the exception?

U. S. The War of 1812 sent wholesale prices up 45 per cent; the War Between the States sent prices more than 100 per cent higher; World War I, World War II also doubled prices (see chart).

Yet prices today are not much above their World War I or War of 1812 peaks. And since 1900, prices most of the time were at their pre-Civil War and pre-World War I and II levels.

Question: How come?
Answer: After all previous wartime inflations, prices have sought their prewar level. Which is a gentle way of saying they collapsed.

Question: Does that mean it's time to start dumping common stocks to avoid jumping out of high windows?
Answer: No. Though Dr. Whit-

During the 1930s we had as many bank suspensions in a day as we now have in a year. Men and women were driven to liquidity—the reckless sale of stocks and bonds — and sometimes suicide. Today the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and better banking practices insure against the "money crash" which has accompanied every great U. S. depression.

Welfareism — collective action against man-made misfortune — also guards against cumulative distress and panic. Today workers have the protection of unemployment compensation, old-age pension, social security, and farm income stabilization. Farmers have price supports. The bottom line is that the purchasing power of the 'thirties. Besides, the Federal government has a commitment — to maintain economic stability — under the Employment Act of 1946. That's why Whittlesey is not worried about deflation — old style.

Nor is Whittlesey a captive of the current theory that prices must go only one way — up, because wages keep going up. History, says Dr. Whittlesey, doesn't bear this out. Again he points at the chart. Weekly wages have been climbing since the time of the cave man. But machinery — greater productivity — has made it possible for people to buy more for less. In the U. S., hours of work have been constantly reduced while living standards have constantly increased.

Today we're in a period when new weapons against want — new factories, new machinery, and new products — guard against a rising price level. The inflation which World War II might have engendered has been tamped down by the technological improvements the war, itself, stimulated.

You don't get a skyrocketing price spiral when the capacity of your factories and the skill of your manpower turns out ever-increasing quantities of goods. Scarcity is the cause of inflation, not production, not plenty. That's the Whittlesey thesis. And it's comforting to think we have the economic and industrial knowhow to cope with (a) inflation and (b) deflation. It's a thesis not aptly to be dismissed.

Church Refuses To Follow In Father's Steps

By MARTIN WALZ

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — If Frank Church's father had been a Democrat, young Frank might have wound up as a Republican senator from Idaho.

But the elder Frank Church was a staunch Republican. And today his handsome son is a Democrat and will be the youngest member of the Senate when the 85th Congress convenes in January.

Church is a lanky, dark-haired lawyer who looks even younger than 32. Making good use of an engaging grin, a firm handshake and a polished speaking style, he beat Republican incumbent Herman Walker by some 20,000 votes in the general election Nov. 6.

Church says he started along the road to the Senate when he was in junior high school and his father, who loved to argue politics, used him as an opponent.

Besides being taken to hear both sides of politics at party rallies, young Frank had to bone up on Democratic principles and background to hold his own in the friendly family debates.

"By the time I was a senior in high school, I was a converted and confirmed Democrat, much to the amusement of my father," he said. By then, too, he had decided he wanted to become a senator.

His father, a Boise merchant, died in 1950.

When he began campaigning this year he was practically unknown outside of Boise.

He got his car and traveled at least 30,000 miles — not counting plane trips and travel with others.

His theme in the primary, in which he beat three other Democrats, including former Sen. Glen Taylor, was: "Let's back Idaho and get away from the leadership which has kept it dormant these last 10 years."

Church received his law degree from Stanford after World War II service as an intelligence officer in India, Burma and China. He's married and has one son, 8-year-old Forrest.

He says the simple can opener is probably the most practical item for the new bride who is just starting out and that a matching set of bandages would make the gift more appropriate.

U.S. Must Help Europe In Oil Crisis

LONDON—The supply of oil for the industry of Western Europe is beginning to run down and this gives Soviet Communism its greatest opportunity since the end of World War II to paralyze and subvert this center of production, second in scope and skill only to the United States.

The urgent need is for American initiative in measures to counter the stoppage of the flow of absolutely vital oil through the Suez Canal and the major pipelines. Officials at the highest level in the beleaguered Eden government say frankly, when they talk in private, that if such measures are not taken on American initiative, the economic—and political—consequences to the position of the West are incalculable.

These same officials are quite aware of the feeling in America that Britain and France have brought the disaster down on themselves by their attack on Egypt and, once the attack was launched, by the failure to move with sufficient speed and force.

Furnish us and we shall understand, they say, but you must understand that we also will be punishing all of Europe. In Scandinavia, in neutral Switzerland, in West Germany, in Italy, Greece and Turkey the shortage soon will grow acute, since in some countries the reserve supply is sufficient only for a week or two.

The positive steps that must be taken by America at once in the view of responsible officials here, are above all the following:

The putting into effect of the plan which has been worked out in detail for bringing Western Hemisphere oil to Europe and helping with the long haul around the tip of Africa instead of through the canal.

The first essential step is for the Department of Justice in Washington to waive the antitrust laws so that the oil companies may work together to carry out the plan. The second step, but with the oil supply committee of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation which includes virtually all of Europe this side of the Iron Curtain.

Second and equally important step is American insistence in the United Nations and in Cairo that the cleaning up of the canal and its approaches be carried out by British and French task forces working under United Nations supervision.

This is the key to the entire situation, since if President Gamal Abdel Nasser can, by delaying tactics, keep efficient Western repair crews out of the canal zone, this lifeline of the West will be closed for an indefinite time. That would perfectly serve the purposes of Soviet Russia, whether Nasser would act merely as a pawn of Communism or out of his own hatred of the West.

Those who talk in terms of un concealed anxiety of the great urgency to get measures started for relieving the imminent shortage of oil have little, to say about the added cost that must be met out of taxpayers' dwindling reserves of gold and dollars. That can somehow be managed, they say, if only the necessary steps can be started to avert a larger disaster.

For public consumption, the Eden government is keeping up a brave front, with Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan saying in the House of Commons that the government would achieve its promised budgetary surplus of $1,300,000,000. But privately the government is the unadorned truth of Britain's dilemma.

It is now recognized that the government will be unable to meet the payment of $180,000,000, due at the end of the year, in interest and principal on the $4,000,000,000 loan made by the United States in 1946. This is the first time that the government will have had to invoke a waiver clause in the loan contract, which is drawn in such complicated legal language that no one is quite sure what the effect would be of invoking the waiver. But officials hope it would mean a year of grace during which Britain's gold and dollar position might be strengthened.

To let the British and French stew in their own juice seems at the moment the prescription of Washington, reflecting the sense of outrage that resulted when America's two principal allies started out to go it alone.

But the melancholy truth is that all of the West—all of Europe and America, too—is in this same stew and the present prescription quite conveniently serves the masters of the Kremlin.

Post Office Staff Girding For Its Biggest Yule Rush

Uncle Sam's post offices are anticipating a heavy Christmas business and plans for the handling of the huge volume of mail have already been drafted, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said today.

Recently, Boatler, Alvin Smith, mail superintendent, and Alden Thomas, foreman, attended a conference in Odessa on the Christmas mail problem and how to solve it. Postmasters and others responsible for the handling of the mail were at the meeting from a large number of West Texas cities.

Officials of the Post Office Department warned the delegates the prospect calls for one of the heaviest Christmas mail rushes in many years and urged that all local offices shape up all details early for the handling of the Christmas business.

Boatler said the Big Spring office has already begun recruiting additional trucks to handle packages. A request for five trucks from Webb Air Force Base has been filed and appeals have been made to other agencies which have trucks that could be made available.

Extra help rosters are being drawn and arrangements made to augment the regular staff of the office in accordance with the volume of mail to be handled.

The post office here has set Dec. 15 as the tentative date for the addition of extra help and the organization of crews and vehicles. However, postal officials said, that date may have to be revised. It is possible, the post office said, that the grand rush may get under way ahead of this date. As soon as the volume of mail pouring into the office justifies, the Christmas crews will be put to work.

Last Christmas was a heavy one for the Big Spring post office, Boatler said. Many additional workers were put to work to help deal with the situation.

Every indication points to an even bigger job this December. Expanding territory served by the post office has already augmented the mail delivery task and the number of patrons to be served this Christmas is greater than last.

Observers have forecast a heavy shopping drive as the Christmas season nears. Thousands of these Christmas gifts will be sent by mail and thousands of other packages will pour into Big Spring from all over the world for delivery to local residents.

Boatler explained his staff is forewarned and knowing from experience what is in store for them, are well along with preparations to handle the assignment efficiently.

He did sound one appeal to all local patrons.

"If you plan to send Christmas packages, get them in the mail as early as you can," he urged. "This will not only guarantee they reach their destination on time but it will be of great help to the post office staff."

October Fire Loss Sets Year's Low

Fire losses in Big Spring hit a new low for the year — dollarwise — in October when damage amounted to only $205.40.

Only in February had the total monthly fire loss dropped below $1,000. It hit $445.45 that month.

The loss brought the year's total to $33,414.44, which is almost half of the total for the same period of 1955. Losses the first 10 months of 1955 totaled $64,448.68.

The entire damage during the month came from two fires. The fire department answered 23 calls during the month, including one false alarm and five calls outside the city limits.

A fire in the 700 block of Goliad brought $36 damage to a house. The structure was owned by Robert Stripling.

Remainder of the damage was at the Golden West Motel, and all the $189.40 damage there was sustained to the building. No contents were damaged.

The low total in October dropped the monthly average from $3,689 to $3,341.

One of the fires last month that would have skyrocketed the loss column was the Caprock Cafe which burned. Damage was estimated at near $10,000. The building is outside the city limits however and was not listed on the report. Another of the fires outside the city was the post office building at Knott.

The October total is well below that of October of 1955. Losses that month were $3,612.58. Losses in 1955 were the highest since 1951.

The monthly comparisons:

The old Morgan community has been about as dry as any place in the county these last few years, says J. A. Ryan, who lives southeast of Luther. He got two inches of rain in July and has had very little since, though a little more moisture fell this fall.

Ryan has sowed 35 acres of barley which came up to a good stand, but will need some rain to make any more growth. He used to have a sizable herd of cattle but has gradually sold them off until only about 10 head remain.

Ryan's father is one of the earliest settlers remaining in Howard County. The old gentleman, now past 90, moved out here in 1877.

A 100-bale cotton crop with from 300 to 500 gallons of water per minute is almost a record for this country, C. V. Hewett, who owns a large farm west of Elbow says he already has out 87 bales of cotton and will get about 20 more from his 100-acre irrigated field.

Originally the well pumped 500 gallons per minute but dropped to about 300 during mid-summer. However, after lowering to the 300-mark it held this amount the rest of the season until Sept. 1. Hewett thinks it might make this indefinitely, but still intends to acidize it this winter in hopes of bringing it back to original production.

He also plans to drill other wells. He drilled several this year but never found the big stream of water on which this one well is located. The others pumped much less.

Hewett says the well pumped 24 hours a day from March until September and was hardly ever stopped. The water is only 42 feet deep and pumping costs were held down. He used a butane motor and says pumping costs averaged about $130 per month.

Fertilizer made a lot of difference, he thinks. He put on 200 pounds of 16-20-0 before planting, and then put on another 200 pounds of nitro-sulphate when the cotton had one square per stalk.

He plans a much larger acreage of irrigated land next year if he succeeds in finding additional water.

Despite the lateness of the rains, much of the buffalo and toboggan grass has greened up, according to Marion Everhart of the Soil Conservation Service. Everhart has checked several ranches in this area and says he has seen quite a lot of new grass.

Winter weeds have also started growing, but are not found in every pasture. He says the weeds do better on tight or mixed soils and don't thrive on the deeper sands.

Everhart found some good filaree on the Tom Barber ranch southwest of Coahoma. It isn't tall enough to graze yet, but will come on with a little more rain. Tallow weeds are also making an appearance, but won't be worth much until nearly spring.

This is just an idea, but wouldn't most of the agricultural meetings get a bigger turnout of people if held in the rural communities? Too many times a farm or club meeting in town fails to draw a crowd.

Nearly all the rural communities have gymnasiums or buildings suitable for such meetings, and most of the people living there would be glad to serve as community hosts.

A meeting given in a town as large as Big Spring loses some of its rural flavor. I believe that even some of the bigger programs, such as selecting the Farm Bureau Queen, would draw twice as many people if given outside of Big Spring.

Small grain pastures got off to a good start after the October rains, but are fighting for survival now. O. E. Hamlin, who farms and ranches between Big Spring and Vealmoor, planted a field of rye and says it is still green but has stopped growing.

Top honors for a Howard County gin this year go to the one at Lomax. It has ginned over 1,100 bales, according to manager Cecil Long.

"We've got most of it already,"

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., Nov. 18, 1956 3-D

he said, "but might possibly end up with 1,300 bales. At least 75 per cent of it came out of Glasscock County. We didn't gin 30 bales of dryland cotton from Howard County."

Long said grade and staple have been unusually good this fall until recently. Farmers are now pulling the irrigated cotton instead of picking it, and spotted cotton is showing up. Until the last week or so, however, most of it graded middling and strict middling.

He thinks the bulk of the crop will be gone by Christmas, but says there is always a little scragging left until mid-winter or after.

Farmers have had plenty of labor until this last cold spell. Since the Mexican Nationals tend to drift with the north wind, a few more may be needed to complete the harvest.

He Sure Can't

DETROIT (AP)—A truck driven by Robert Tallent, 28, bashed into a car at a red light. It had hit so hard that the car struck another ahead. Tallent got a ticket.

Twenty minutes later, six blocks away, police answered another call. Tallent's truck has bashed into the rear of another car at a stop light. That car crashed two cars ahead.

Tallent was charged with reckless driving. He told Patrolman Glenn O'Dell, "I can't judge distance too well."

THE ANSWER IS GOD!

WORSHIP HIM IN CHURCH EVERY SUNDAY . . . AT HOME EVERY DAY . . .

A field of wheat . . . a human soul!
 Gifts from God—upon which man puts the imprint of his own labor, and faith, and wisdom,
 The result; a loaf of bread . . . a Christian.
 Life is teamwork with God. Man receives what he cannot create, and fashions what he needs. But between resource and product are vital steps.
 Between a field of wheat and a loaf of bread must be the mill and the oven.
 Between the new-born soul and the mature Christian must be a Church and a religious home.
 True thanksgiving is the sacred resolve to use what God has given to fashion what God desires.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Judy Holliday, Paul Douglas Star In 'Solid Gold Cadillac'

Judy Holliday is a dizzy blonde. Whether she is or ain't off the screen is beside the point. But in "The Solid Gold Cadillac," Judy is irrefragable. The film version of the famed Broadway stage hit shows at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre starting Thursday. Co-star is Paul Douglas.

Judy is seen as a blonde chick who likes to play around the Stock Market. She teaches the bears and bulls (and wolves) of Wall Street all about the birds and bees, giving big business the business. Douglas, who starred with Miss Holliday on Broadway in "Born Yesterday," is seen as the tycoon with Wall Street to Wall Street carpeting.

A part-time actress, Judy invades the business world as a stockholder, and a very unimportant one at that, who asks embarrassing questions at a stockholders meeting. The inept board of directors, to shut her up, gives her a job as "Director of Stockholder Relations."

The job was supposedly a fluke, but she goes at it so well, she ends up with a wagon load of profits and command of the corporation.

Solid Gold Blonde

That dumb blonde, Judy Holliday, who rolled 'em in the aisles with "Born Yesterday," gets an assist from tycoon Paul Douglas as she steps out of her solid gold Cadillac. The two star together in the new comedy "Solid Gold Cadillac."

Met Star Is Presley Fan

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (AP)—Elvis Presley, who usually gets more criticism than the Los Angeles smog, rates a complimentary nod from a highbrow source.

Metropolitan Opera star Marguerite Piazza confesses she is a rabid fan of the rock 'n' roll king.

"And," adds the New Orleans beauty, "a lot of us so-called long-hair singers can learn a lot from Elvis. Musically, he's savage but his style is his own. He's an individual."

Miss Piazza holds that Elvis' success is not hard to figure.

"He couldn't help but be a sensation. He's the first popular singer in years who hasn't imitated either Bing Crosby or Frank Sinatra."

The diva doesn't know Elvis personally but said she once bumped into him accidentally in a Memphis theater lobby.

"It was quite thrilling," she discloses. "Made me feel like a baby-sixer."

Japanese Indians?

Actress Felicia Farr, on location for filming of "The Last Wagon," went hunting for Indian pottery. Trudging through the Arizona desert, she came upon some shards and excitedly called over fellow actors. Richard Widmark, the spoliator, promptly pointed out the legend engraved into the piece of pottery: "Made in Japan."

Renegade Indians

Alan Ladd's latest Western epic stars him as a frontiersman sent to talk peace with the restless Modoc Indians. The film is featured at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The plot has Ladd attacked in ambush by a renegade Indian who leads the Modocs on the warpath. Ladd recovers in time to bring the renegade to justice.

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

It's another routine movie week in Big Spring, except for two new pictures, one hold-over and a re-issue.

The latest Broadway epic to be translated for the screen is "Solid Gold Cadillac," a comedy which keeps New York audiences in stitches and is seldom seen on the screen. Stars Judy Holliday and Paul Douglas, the perfect team for the situation. You'll remember Miss Holliday as the dumb blonde who kept things rolling in "Born Yesterday."

week. Although it is a thoroughly re-written version of the novel, it still carries enough impact to be effective. It tells the story of what happens to a world in which freedom has vanished, to be replaced by the State, with human beings crushed under an intolerable burden, stripped of all emotion except hate. The screen version magnifies the sexual angle of the novel, and makes it practically the whole story.

"The Mountain" is an unusual bit of motion picture entertainment. Besides the top cast, it sports a fresh story and plenty of dramatic impact. Spencer Tracy stars as a French mountain climber whose fear of a dangerous mountain is surpassed by family loyalty. He is ably assisted by Robert Wagner and Claire Trevor.

"Picnic" returns to a local theatre this week. It, too, is the screen version of a long-run Broadway stage play. And it is perhaps better than the stage version, in that the camera is able to encompass more of the widespread action. Tells the story of what happens when a hobo wanders into a small city whose residents have turned out for a huge Labor Day picnic.

TOPS ON TV

Classic Is Offered For Holiday

Thanksgiving fare on Channel Four adds flavor with the announcement this weekend that, in addition to the professional football tilt between the Detroit Lions and the Green Bay Packers, KBST TV will televise the annual CBS musical classic, "Thanksgiving Festival."

Scheduled from 3 to 4 p.m. on Nov. 22, the show promises to be a gala, musical extravaganza in the form of a cavalcade of melody from the post-Civil War period minstrel songs to today's rock 'n' roll. Outstanding stars will include Joe E. Brown, Duke Ellington and Will Rogers, Jr. Other features will include unusual cartoon animations and special effects featured with each segment, and a cast of over 125 people.

"THE CHINESE GAME" Spearheading the evening's line-up of entertainment Thanksgiving night will be "The Chinese Game" on "Climax" at 7:30 o'clock. It's the weird story of a man who dreamed he got rid of his wife for another woman, and finds he cannot escape living the dream. Stars in the hour-long play are MacDonald Carey, Rita Moreno, Anna May Wong and Constance Ford.

"OUR MR. SUN" In the meantime, "Studio One" takes a week's vacation tomorrow evening to make way for "Our Mr. Sun," also an hour program starring Eddie Albert. It's a play concerning the wonders of nature, of the sun and its effect on all life.

"TOM SAWYER" Departing from its customary format of presenting straight dramatic and comedy fare, the "United States Steel Hour" presents its first musical offering, "Tom Sawyer" on Wednesday at 9 p.m. over KBST TV. The musical version of the Mark Twain classic was written by Frank Luther and stars Jimmy Boyd, Benny Gatelys, John Sharpe and Metropolitan Opera star, Rose Bampton.

Bear Breaks Neck To Get In Movies

It's often been told that some hopeful young girls will do practically anything to get in the movies. But there's one bear who's gone them one better. A bruin, raiding the set for "Drum Beat," fell into a hole and broke his neck. Apache Indians in the heat and crowd hung up his hide in the staged Indian village where it came into range of the movie cameras.

'Last Wagon'

"The Last Wagon," starring Richard Widmark and Felicia Farr, shows Thursday through Saturday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. It is the story of what happens when a group of pioneers, sole survivors of an Indian attack on a wagon train, entrust their safety to an untamed frontiersman who had been reared by Indians and who is wanted by white justice for murder.

PLATTER PALAVER

By Mary Sue Hale

The other night on the Ed Sullivan Show, a bet was made between Sullivan and Bing Crosby that Bing's new record, "True Love" would sell more than any recording previously made by him, with the exception of "White Christmas."

That, to some people, would be setting the mark pretty high. But to an old Bing Crosby fan from way back, that isn't too high an estimation.

Something new has been added. Instead of the dull covers usually wrapping singles, Eddie Fisher's latest, "Cindy, Oh Cindy" and "Around the World," are sporting jackets in color featuring a photo of Fisher. This doesn't seem to have hurt the sale of the record itself, however, because it is among the leading locally popular discs.

Showing the remarkable versatility that has made him a fabulous star straight across the entertainment board, Frank Sinatra's latest album, "This Is Sinatra," is a delight. Recorded by Capitol, it contains such selections as "I've Got the World on a String," "Three Coins in the Fountain," "Rain," "From Here to Eternity" and "Learning the Blues."

A single recording now enjoying success both locally and across the country is "Jealous Lover," which also is done by Sinatra. To be recognized as one of the best songs recorded in some time by Frankie Laine is his "Midnight Gambler." Done in the traditional Laine style that has so delighted popular ballad lovers in past years, this number is presently rising in popularity.

Liberace, Elvis In Jam Session

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Liberace and Elvis Presley, two of the show world's highest paid entertainers, staged an impromptu act for nothing last week after Liberace's night club appearance.

Presley was in the audience at the Riviera Hotel as the piano-playing television idol went through his performance and after the last show ended he went back to Liberace's dressing room.

With only a slight amount of urging from photographers and publicists, Liberace exchanged his gold-sequined jacket for Presley's striped sports coat and from there it was only a short step to an exchange of musical instruments.

Elvis sat down at the piano and Liberace picked up a guitar and in no time at all a rock 'n' roll session was under way. It lasted about 30 minutes, with some 200 persons jammed around the pair as they performed.

Said one observer: "Elvis played a mean piano, but Liberace said he was an amateur on the guitar—and he sounded like one."

Said Liberace: "Elvis and I may be characters—he with his sideburns and me with my gold jackets—but we can afford to be."

Makeup Men Make 'Kid' 100 Years Old

From a kid full of mischief to a 100-year-old Indian chief is all in a day's work for Hollywood makeup men.

Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer, a former member of the "Our Gang" film team, starred as an ancient Indian in "Track Of The Cat."

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

THINGS Edited by Geoffrey Grigson and Charles Harvard Gibson-Smith. Harvorth Books. You may not have the same sort of book taste that this writer possesses. There's really no reason why you should.

It's a fairly safe bet, however, that "Things" is a book which would suit the fancy of both of us. I have an insatiable curiosity. I never get enough of utterly unimportant but oftentimes unusual facts and fancies. I like to accumulate miscellany—tidbits and driftwood which pictures the antics and achievements of mortals on this funny little orb.

I thirst for more information about those other worlds which spin in the grandeur of lonely space.

None of these things which I have so painstakingly collected has ever proved to be of any commercial value to me and I doubt if they have ever helped me to earn an extra dime. Yet, because of the way I am put together, I treasure them and constantly seek to augment my collection.

That's why "Things" tickles my fancy. In it you can learn such a variety of utterly worthless but highly intriguing facts about so many subjects.

For example: Assyrians and ancient Egyptians and Greeks wore wigs. Kites are probably 3,000 years old. Forceps for pulling teeth were found in the temple of Apollo at Delphi. Tacitus speaks of the galleys used by Germans. The magic lantern is three centuries old. The lawnmower goes back only to the 1830s, the sewing machine to the same period, canned goods to the start of last century. Toothpicks were known in 3,500 B. C., maps in 2,500 B. C., ink in 4,000 B. C., and a handkerchief of sorts, or "sweat-cloth," was used by Romans and Anglo-Saxons.

These are random items in this hodgepodge subtitled "a volume of objects devised by man's genius which are the measure of his civilization."

This is not an encyclopedia (the earliest encyclopedia is Pliny's "Natural History" dated A. D. 77) but a sort of endlessly fascinating museum of arts and sciences with 175 full-page illustrations, some in color, of some 250 things ranging from false-teeth to toothbrush, gunpowder, matches, safety pins.

The writer, for example, may learn that his typewriter goes back about 75 years; that paper was invented by the Chinese and antedated printing, which also the Chinese originated; that the fountain pen was used at least as early as 1663 by Peppy, the pen was older, and the stylus left its mark on Mesopotamian clay tablets 6,000 years ago; and underlying it all, that the alphabet may be traced to the second millennium B. C.

The list of current best-sellers, fiction and non-fiction, according to the weekly survey of the Associated Press has dwindled to nine titles in recent days.

"Auntie Mame," Patrick Dennis' hilarious tale of the 20's still graces the list. The other two fiction works to hold sales-top spots are "Peyton Place" by Grace Metalious and Francoise Sagan's "A Certain Smile."

"A Nun's Story" leads the non-fiction group. John F. Kennedy's "Profiles in Courage"; "Arthritis and Common Sense" by Dan Dale Alexander; "Men to Match My Mountain" by Irving Stone and Robert J. Donovan's "Eisenhower: The Inside Story," complete the list.

Incidentally, "Auntie Mame" has now been written into a play which I read in the papers has set critics and audience on their toes in Gotham.

Rosalind Russell is the "Auntie Mame" in the stage version and from what we have seen of Roz in movies we predict that there will be a new surge of book buying to further enrich Mr. Dennis and his publisher.

'Air Power' Goes A Step Further With Old Theme

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK — By this time anyone who owns a television set should be well prepared for an enemy air attack on this country.

Perhaps we're overprepared. If the real thing ever should come, television would be wise not to try to cover it. Millions of us might sit, jaws agape, waiting for the commercial—only to field a bomb instead.

These thoughts are prompted by the first presentation of Air Power (CBS-TV, Sundays). Air Power undoubtedly will become one of the most popular and fascinating series of the home set. Certainly its first program, about a hypothetical time when Russia launched an all-out air attack on the United States, was fascinating to watch. It also, curiously, was rather absurd.

It may be an exaggeration to say that CBS has fixation on air attack against this country. But there do come to mind the recent dramatization of "Forbidden Area" on Playhouse 90, a Studio One dramatization several months ago, an Ed Murrow See It Now before that. The theme is becoming a bit threadbare.

But it cannot shed its dramatic appeal or the absorption natural in watching the cumulative details of defense against air attack. Air Power went a step farther than anyone has to date, however, and cast the Air Force itself in the starring role. Surely the producers ferreted out some of the most photogenic members of the service.

They also acquired Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander of the Continental Air Defense Command, to play the roles they actually would fulfill in the eventuality of attack.

The duties of all branches of the Air Force are vital and interesting, and the public should be thoroughly informed concerning them. The documentary aspects of Sunday's program were superb. Only when the informative details were cast in dramatic form did the situation begin to seem absurd to one viewer.

Road To Success Is Sometimes Rough

Richard Widmark, who got his start as a villain, is still paying the price of success. His test films, including the Western epic, "The Last Wagon," have featured Widmark as a hero, but that apparently doesn't blot out his earlier performances in the minds of some fans.

Widmark's top villain role was that of Tommy Udo, who pushed an old lady in a wheelchair down a flight of stairs in "Kiss Of Death."

"There is always the danger of some character, usually over-indicated, who thinks I'm as tough as I am in some pictures, and that he is tougher still," Widmark explains.

He recalled that in one Houston supper club, a drunk tapped him on the shoulder and when he turned around, slugged him. Another time, on another Texas city street, a woman approached him, cried "you beast!" and gave him a terrific slap.

Blind Man's Buff

A blind man uses his highly-sharpened remaining senses as aids in solving a murder in "23 Paces to Baker Street," playing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. Van Johnson and Vera Miles are co-stars.

Hanging High

It wasn't fear that caused Robert Wagner to faint, just lack of oxygen. The film star dangled at the end of a long rope after blacking out during filming of "The Mountain," and ended up in an Alpine hospital. The film party had gone too high too fast. Wagner fainted from lack of oxygen, and for awhile was left hanging high.

Murder On The Mountain

Spencer Tracy watches as Robert Wagner tries comforting a wounded passenger, sole survivor of an airliner that crashed atop a steep mountain, in this scene from "The Mountain." What Tracy doesn't know is that Wagner plans to murder the girl so he can continue his plan to rob the dead passengers.

Tracy, Wagner Star In 'Mountain' Suspense Film

"The Mountain," playing Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, is a cross-current of two themes—of brotherly love turned into unreasoning hatred, and of a man's fear of a mountain.

Spencer Tracy stars as a French mountain climber who has learned fear for the Titan which rears into the background, and which he later finds he must climb despite his fear. Robert Wagner is effective in his latest villainous role as Tracy's younger brother who seeks to climb the mountain out of greed.

When an airliner crashes atop the mountain, a rescue party fails to reach the site. Then Wagner conceives the idea of scaling the heights to rob the baggage of the dead. His reluctant brother joins the two-man expedition, fearing Wagner's inexperience may lead to his death. Tracy is shocked at Wagner's intent and his brotherly love turns to hatred when Wagner attempts to kill a badly wounded survivor.

Then begins the terrifying descent. And as the actors descend the climax rises.

'Track Of Cat' Shows At Sahara

An assortment of stars, a new color technique and a prowling panther are chief features of "Track Of The Cat," showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre.

The story deals with a marauding mountain lion terrorizing a region of the Northwest in mid-winter, mixed with a story theme developing around the various human personalities involved.

Some of the cast include Robert Mitchum as an arrogant, cowardly braggart; Tab Hunter as his younger and indecisive brother; Beulah Bondi as a vindictive mother; Teresa Wright as Mitchum's embittered sister; and Diana Lynn as the girl next door.

The new color process is in black and white, with color added only to the trees and certain articles of clothing.

War In Pacific Is Theme Of Movie

"Away All Boats," a tale of war in the Pacific, returns Sunday and Monday to the Terrace Drive-In Theatre. The film sports a heavy cast with Jeff Chandler, George Nader, Julie Adams, Lex Barker and Richard Boone.

It is the story of the war as seen through the eyes of the skipper (Chandler) of an attack transport, the U.S.S. Belinda. Chandler takes over the new ship and a green crew and whips them into one of the toughest teams in the Pacific.

Perhaps the outstanding star is the ship itself, portrayed by the U.S.S. Randall, with most of a crew scenes shot during naval maneuvers off the Virgin Islands.

Civic Theatre To Stage Two One-Act Plays

Two one-act plays are being planned by the Big Spring Civic Theatre, but the next major production will not be selected until early in 1957.

The board of directors of the organization met Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rudeseal; present were board members Dewey Magee, Edith Gay, Dick Bailey, Dixie Johnson, Nick Trapatsas, John Davis, Wilma Rudeseal, Bob Grew, George Jacobus and Mary Magee.

The directors voted to defer selection of a major production until after the first of the year; they did however, authorize the production of two one-act plays, work on which is to begin immediately. John Davis will direct "A Game of Chess," and George Lambert will direct "The Valiant."

The board authorized the president to appoint a committee to investigate the possibility of changing rehearsals to a larger building and one more suitable for the work. Lt. Bob Grew, president and business manager, said that his choice of a committee chairman would be delayed until he could study the matter.

George and June Lambert also attended. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Cap Rock Sales Fall In October

End of the growing season is dramatized in the October statistics of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative.

KWH of power purchased and sold sagged by about three million from the end of September to the end of October. However, the pace was still far above last year's tempo and only served to widen the gap for this year. Already the system has sold 10 million KWH more during 10 months than in all 12 months of 1955.

KWH purchased during October stood at 1,900,370, compared with 5,004,410 the previous month. Total for the year stands at 40,894,660. KWH sold during October stood at 1,642,830, down from 3,938,098 the previous month. Total for the year is 36,252,898 as compared with 23,738,798 for the first 10 months of 1955.

At the end of October there were 1,887 miles line energized, a gain of three for the month and 77 miles for the year. There were 3,438 members connected, an increase of 12 for October and a gain of 171 for the year. Average KWH consumption dropped from 1,150 in September to 473 in October.

Hypnosis Used In Police Work

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The use of hypnosis to probe a witness' mind for additional bits of information has been reported by the Los Angeles Police Department.

Two teen-agers who had seen the car of a suspected rapist voluntarily permitted a professional hypnotist to put them into a trance and question them, the department disclosed yesterday.

One, who had recalled part of the license number, was unable to add any more information while hypnotized, but the other added specific details on the car's interior color and equipment, the department said.

While detectives were checking out the youths' information, Edward S. Wein, 32, was arrested on the complaint of a woman who identified him as a man who had raped her. He is being held on rape and kidnap charges.

Big Watch Cleaner To Scour Meters

The city now has a gigantic watch cleaner for its parking meters.

A large cleaning machine arrived Monday and is now in use. The parking machine repairman, L. F. Tranham, is now in the process of cleaning every machine the city has.

So that all machines can be kept in working condition, the city has more meters than are erected in the downtown district.

Before the new machine, a Zenith Instro-Met, arrived, the city cleaned the working mechanisms with naphtha, which left a greasy film. This film was a natural dust catcher and soon collected as much dust as before the cleaning.

The new machine has a circular wire basket for the meter. The basket is first dipped into a vat of cleaning solution containing ammonia. The basket revolves in the cleaning solution for about five minutes. It is then transferred to a rinsing solution, and thence to another rinsing vat.

After whipping most of the rinse off, the basket revolves above a small heater to remove all moisture that might cling to the mechanisms.

The entire process takes less than 15 minutes.

The cleaning machine is an enlarged version of a jeweler's watch cleaning apparatus. For cleaning smaller parts — only one complete parking meter can be cleaned at once — dividers can be placed in the basket to keep them separated while being whirled around in the solution.

The machine cost the city $297.50.
