Heading For New Homes

Six of the 62 Hungarian refugees flown into the United States for new homes walk away from the plane which brought them to Fort Dix, N.J. The refugees from strife-torn Hungary were taken to Camp Kilmer, N.J., renamed Camp Mercy, where they will be sheltered until they are placed in their new homes.

His Heart Turns His Head

A Hungarian border guard, armed with a Russian-type machine gun, turns his head the other way to permit a gratefully smiling Hungarian mother to carry her child toward the Austrian border and freedom from Red terror. Other Hungarians follow the mother and child. This picture was made by Associated Press photographer Dennis Royle who ventured a quarter-mile into Hungary before being spotted and turned back. Actual location is not given to protect the outlet to freedom but it is east of Lake Neusiedler in the Austrian province of Burgenland.

Reds Still Ignore U. N. Probe Appeal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union and its puppet Hungarian government showed no sign today of complying with a massive new U. N. appeal for on-the-spot investigation of reported deportations from the rebellious East European satellite.

Skies Clear Over Texas

By The Associated Press Skies were clear over Texas early Thursday except for a few scattered clouds along the lower coast.

Another 4,000 Hungarians Enter Austria

VIENNA (AP)—Another 4,000 Hungarian refugees fled into Austria last night and early today, bringing the total registered in the country to 55,000.

The number crossing the frontier between 9 p.m. and 9 a.m. was double the previous high of the night before. Russian troops stepped up their efforts to stop the flow by blowing up bridges and closing some border points. But persons along the border said Hungarian guards still were letting the freedom-seekers cross, only occasionally firing into the air to fool the Russians into thinking they were on the alert.

Thanksgiving Confuses English Bride Along With The Rest Of Us

By ANNE LEFEVER
Mrs. David Wilkerson, 1600 State, is almost as confused over Thanksgiving as the rest of us, who face the choice of two holidays.
The trouble is that she hasn't ever experienced any Thanksgiving observance, much less two! She has lived in England all her life until her recent arrival here with her husband of little more than a year.
One holiday which Mrs. Wilkerson does understand though, is Halloween!

She and one of her neighbors accompanied children of the neighborhood on a trick or treat excursion on Halloween. The group seemed to have so much fun that the two decided to "go into the business" for themselves.
Returning home, they draped themselves in sheets and masks; returns from the evening convinced the English bride that she was real-

Marlene Mann Is Chosen Secretary Of Press Group

Marlene Mann, a student at Howard County Junior College, has been elected secretary of the Texas Junior College Press Association. The choice was made at a meeting of the group in A&M College, Bryan, at the first of the week.

Attending from the local college were David Dibrell, Miss Mann, Charlie McCarty, Laverne Cooper, China Carroll, Betty Earley and Dean Ben Johnson. Elizabeth Daniel, sponsor of the press group, was unable to attend the meeting. Included in the program were discussions and lectures, a banquet, talent show and a dance.

The students returned to Big Spring Tuesday evening.

Joy West Reigns As Club Sweetheart

LAMESA — Members of the DECCA Club of the Lamesa High School elected Joy West as their sweetheart for the year 1956-57. Members of the club are Distributive Education students.

In other elections, Charles Kelly and Loy West were named as most likely to succeed, while Glen Toles and Ellen Lowery were named club favorites.

During the meeting, plans were made for the Christmas party to be held Dec. 14 at the Little Auditorium. Chairman of the decoration committee is Loy West, members: Joy West, Jane Wilson and Sue Henderson. Charles Kelly, chairman of the food committee, members: Larry Bristol, Zona Brown and Sandy Sweett; entertainment, Glen Toles, Albert Seal, June Cowen and Joan Murphy.

Sgt. Kain Is Speaker For Altrusans

M-Sgt. Harold Kain was guest speaker for the Altrusa Club at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Settles Hotel. This was a change in the meeting date due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Stationed at Webb Air Force Base, Sgt. Kain discussed on-the-job training as it is administered in the services. He explained how the trainee is selected and told of the importance of the educational system.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. W. H. Kay, chairman of the vocation committee. Yellow chrysanthemums in a brown container tied with yellow ribbon centered the speaker's table.

Members voted to provide a Thanksgiving basket for a shut-in on the second holiday.

The next meeting will be on the regular date, Dec. 13.

1905 Hyperion Club Has Study Of India

"World Affairs" is the study being followed by members of the 1905 Hyperion Club this year, and Wednesday afternoon it was continued by Mrs. Cliff Wiley. The club met in the home of Mrs. Floyd Parsons.

Choosing as her topic, "India Since Independence," Mrs. Wiley told of the large population of the country. She told the group of the high illiteracy of the people.

In spite of this, Mrs. Wiley said, the first election held in India brought a great amount of interest from the people. Even though many could not read, 60 per cent of the population voted. Symbols were used to designate candidates and parties, members were told. The group planned a miscellaneous shower to be assembled at the next meeting. The gifts will be presented to patients at the State Hospital for Christmas.

Included will be cosmetics, costume jewelry, handkerchiefs and similar articles for both men and women.

During the social hour, refreshments were served from a table decorated in a fall theme, using pyracantha branches and foliage.

Lamesa DeMolays Honor Parents At Reception

LAMESA — Members of the Vernon W. Bryant Chapter of the Order of DeMolay were hosts Tuesday evening for a tea honoring their mothers and fathers. The tea was held at Lamar Forrest Park Community Center.

The serving table was laid with a yellow linen cloth and featured a pyramid arrangement of gold and purple mums from which came purple satin streamers with Mother, Father, DeMolay written in gold. The appointments were of silver.

Presiding over the tea table were Lucille Agee, Diane Frazier, Leta Cope, Linda Hamilton and Jennene Pieper.

Mrs. Flora Barnard furnished music during the evening. Featured on the mantel and piano were driftwood and fall flowers.

In charge of arrangements for the tea were David Peltier, chairman, Ronald Kutch and Ross Allen Woodson. Spiced tea, coffee and mince tarts were served to about 60.

Lambda Phi Sorority

LAMESA — The Mesa Room of the Green Hut was the scene for the Thanksgiving dinner of the Lambda Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday evening. Following dinner the group spent the evening at the Bob Hale home playing canasta and 42. Nineteen members and their husbands were in attendance.

Methodist WSCS

LAMESA — Eleven members of the Clark Methodist WSCS attended a social at the home of Mrs. M. E. Jeffcoat Tuesday evening. Mrs. Sam Haney presided over a brief business meeting, followed by contest games. The Thanksgiving theme was used in the serving and decoration. The continued mission study will be held next week at the church.

Methodist Circles Meet For Study Of Asiatic Countries

Mrs. Seth Lucy was hostess for the Reba Thomas Circle of First Methodist Church Tuesday evening, when the group met for a study of Thailand.

Mrs. Charles Staggs was study leader for the evening and led the discussion which followed her lesson. Mrs. Warren Sparks opened the meeting with a prayer.

Nine attended the meeting.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. C. E. Johnson Sr., the Maudie Morris and Mary Zinn Circles continued their study of "The Church in Southeast Asia."

Mrs. H. H. Haynes opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. The afternoon's program was under the leadership of Mrs. J. C. Bryans, who introduced the speakers.

Participating were Mrs. W. A. Laswell, who brought the topic, "Paradise Regained"; Mrs. Lewis Vaughan, who discussed "Ten Million Outsiders," and Mrs. T. J. Adams, who told of "The Unfinished Task."

The next meeting will be at the church Tuesday, when all circles meet for a general gathering.

Polio Victim Wins Wings

"So I can't walk, but I can fly," says Dick Whittemore, 40, of Brewer, Maine. In the picture above, he goes from his wheelchair to the plane he pilots. The craft is rigged so it can be flown entirely with the hands. And Dick, like a lot of invalids, has strong arms and hands.

Forty Families May Lose Only Access Road To The Outside

MAHWAH, N.J. (AP)—Forty families on a mountain top today face losing their only access road to the outside world.

The families live on Stag Hill here in a development called Spring Lake Heights.

The only way they can get up to the hilltop is by a steep, winding road which starts out in the neighboring hill community of Hillburn, N.Y.

The Hillburn Village Board thinks the road is dangerous because it has a 23 per cent rise.

Further, Hillburn Mayor Charles Banker said yesterday, trucks may sink into the banks and damage the town's water main.

So, the board introduced a resolution Tuesday to ban all traffic on the road. The law goes into effect if approved on second reading next Thursday.

At first the village board tried to block the heavy buses which transported the 40 grade school children down the hill into Hillburn and back here.

It passed an ordinance which blocked all vehicles over five tons on one road.

But the residents got around that — they got the Mahwah School Board, under state law, to transport the children in taxis. The cost: $66 per day.

If the proposed law goes into effect, residents will have to walk at least a third of a mile to get to their mountaintop retreats.

How they'll get fuel oil or coal up there was the greatest problem.

And it will spell the end to plans of developers to put another 200 homes on the mountain top.

National Grange Hits 'Too Many National Policies'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The National Grange has concluded the weeklong deliberations of its 90th meeting with a statement that "in recent years too many national policies have weakened the position of our agriculture."

In a report, approved by 70 delegates from 37 states, the Grange said last night, that these policies "weakened the position of our agriculture in favor of strengthening and expanding the agriculture and general economy of other nations."

ent upon a virile and prosperous American agriculture."

The statement did not specify at what governmental policies it was aimed.

The Grange also urged that representatives of the Federal Extension Service refrain from passing information on government policy to farmers.

This job, delegates said in a resolution, rightly belongs to private media such as newspapers, magazines, radio and television and not to a representative of a federal agency in the government formulating the policy.

Michigan Waging Big Safety Battle

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan, home of the automobile, today waged its greatest battle for highway safety in an effort to cut down last year's tremendous Thanksgiving death toll of 25 persons.

The state police ordered every trooper to overtime duty and put its entire fleet of cruisers on traffic duty. Unmarked patrol cars and radar speed units guarded high-accident stretches of the main highways.

110 fatalities on the nation's highways. In Michigan the November average is two or less daily. Michigan's total last Thanksgiving Day accounted for more than 20 per cent of all killed in traffic in the United States.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams ordered an all-out campaign against reckless driving today and told the state police to use every available resource to cut down on the toll.

The National Safety Council of the year's safest days on the highway. But Thanksgiving, 1955, brought Michigan its highest one-day toll of last year.

The entire holiday weekend, Thursday through Sunday, was one of death and bloodshed on Michigan highways. Fourteen Thanksgiving Day accidents caused the 25 deaths. Seven more persons were killed in traffic on Friday, five more on Saturday and 12 on Sunday for a four-day slaughter of 49.

The Safety Council estimates a normal November day will bring

"Thanksgiving last year was a day of sorrow, rather than of joy," the governor said. "We are determined that there will be no repetition of that tragic kind of thing this year."

In Detroit, the city's two traffic judges, George T. Murphy and John D. Watts, said drunk or reckless holiday drivers will be given jail terms and heavy fines, not just fines alone.

The weather in Michigan on Thanksgiving a year ago generally was excellent for driving — dry and crisp. This year, snow covers many of the state roads, particularly in the northern sections of the state, and more is forecast.

Hungarian Refugees Paid For Freedom

By JOHN N. KOLESAR
CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP)—What price freedom, Thanksgiving Day, 1956.

Sixty Hungarian refugees, first of thousands to come, had an answer when they arrived yesterday 5,000 miles from their homeland and only a few days out from under Communist domination.

They bought freedom at prices like these:

A father and mother, with a teen-age daughter, pushed their 16-year-old son in a wheelchair 29 miles, through the woods and across ditches.

left for shelter in New York under the care of the United Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society.

Others, were planning to leave soon for jobs and homes across America.

Meantime, the Army whipped up a fancy Thanksgiving turkey menu for them at this big base reactivated especially to care for Hungarian refugees, with a staff of several hundred.

Orchestra Man Slain

CHICAGO (AP)—Jay G. Grace, 55-year-old musician, a member of Wayne King's orchestra, was found slain in bed yesterday in his North Side hotel room.

Police said Grace had been shot once in the head and also had been beaten severely. His unclothed body was found by a maid at the Alden Hotel. Coroner's doctors said he had been dead about 12 hours.

A spent .25 caliber pistol cartridge was on the pillow near the victim's head, and two .25 caliber cartridges were on the floor, police said. No gun was found.

Police, who said there was evidence of a struggle in the room, related they found no wallet or money.

Police searched for an unidentified man, about 28, who was reported by hotel employees to have visited Grace Tuesday night.

Grace, a violinist and saxophone player, had returned to Chicago Sunday after a seven weeks tour with King's orchestra.

Another pair of parents, their 18-year-old son in danger, gave up their home and fled to safety with him and another child. To get here, they had to leave a third child, too sick to travel, behind in Vienna.

Others also left behind their homes, relatives, friends.

Their first Thanksgiving in America combined poignancy with joy and hope.

Poignancy, for what they had to forsake.

Joy, for the safety and freedom in their new land.

Hope, for the jobs and material support promised them.

They arrived at nearby McGuire Air Force Base at noon yesterday, then came here for immigration processing and temporary housing.

Eight hours later, 24 of them

It all is part of a plan to permit 5,000 Hungarians to enter this country on an emergency basis. The White House said yesterday that more may also be admitted.

The first group to arrive looked like average people—but there were extraordinary stories to tell.

Like that of Imre Herdics, 16, a paraplegic, who came down the ramp of the DCA plane in a wheelchair to the blare of a brass band, the waving of American flags and the greetings of top Army officials.

Imre told of having published leaflets for the Hungarian revolt and of his family having to flee.

He said his parents and his sister pushed his wheelchair for 25 miles to an Austrian village, getting it somehow through the woods and 200 trenches in a forbidding border area.

His father, a 48-year-old restaur-

Worker Survives 13,000-Volt Jolt

BALTIMORE (AP)—Orange Oscar Holm, a 300-pound city worker, was jolted by a 13,000-volt charge of electricity.

When the 40-year-old worker arrived at Johns Hopkins Hospital, he relaxed in a chair and said, "My left hand stings a little but I feel OK."

Some singed hair about his temple was the only sign of the shock he received while operating a pneumatic power hammer which came in contact with an underground electric line.

He added: "We have another ordinance prepared closing the road even to pedestrians. We hope we won't have to pull that one out of the hat."

Mahwah Attorney John Warhol, today asked State Atty. Gen. Grover C. Richman for help in fighting Hillburn's plan.

A. H. Tate of Knott has had enough of droughts and blowing sand and is moving to the irrigated section of Martin County. He said that the cotton crop in the Tarran area was about 95 per cent harvested last week, with farmers averaging two bales per acre. The BR Acala which most of them planted averaged an inch and one-eighth staple and much of it was graded strict middling. There was some Superior cotton grown, a variety that was brought from Pecos, and some of it sold for 40 cents per pound. However, it averaged only about a bale and a half per acre, and will not likely be planted next year.

Tate said cotton seed had jumped up to $70 a ton because of the big increase in cattle feeding. This lacks only 50 cents per ton of reaching 100 per cent parity of price.

Deep breaking is one conservation practice that has come to a halt in many areas, according to W. S. Goodlett of the Soil Conservation Service. The main reason is the price, for it costs the farmer $5 an acre even after the government has paid its half of the expense. Deep plowing is a good practice on some soils, Goodlett explained, but is not a cure-all for land blowing. In some places farmers broke out deep sandy or gray-colored soils to make them blow worse than ever. Also in some instances tight land was plowed deep to make it tighter than ever. Even some of the fields which stopped blowing after being plowed 20 inches are getting sandy again. Goodlett says deep plowing should be followed by residue crops which would put some vegetative matter in the soil. And the best way to do this is to follow a rotation of cotton, feed and possibly a legume.

Last Saturday I drove up to Canyon to attend the homecoming at West Texas State College. It was a special occasion because the college was honoring the 25-year graduates of those who came out in 1931. I saw many of the boys I hadn't seen in a quarter of a century and missed other good friends who have either died or moved to other states.

Though the college made everyone feel welcome, including several get-togethers plus a free barbecue, football game and other meetings, still there is something sad about a homecoming. It's like a family reunion after many years apart.

Everyone is so much older. They are gray or bald and they grow in the wrong places. Also the old zip and pranksiness of college boys have been replaced by a middle-aged sedateness.

One thing I've always believed but had brought back forcibly to mind is that people change very little after they're grown. The people I knew so well are just exactly like they were 25 years ago except for the ageing process. The school leaders then are still the leaders in their communities. They're superintendents of schools or have made a pile in business. And the guys who hung around on the fringe of things are still struggling along at the tail end of the herd.

Even their mannerisms and ways of doing things have not changed. The gal pep squad leader who was always a chatterbox had to get up without an invitation and lead a yell. And the boy who would make a speech at the drop of an eye or the lifting of a hat gave an ovation Saturday morning.

I also noticed the timid little girl who always looked as if she were trying to hide under her desk. She still was scrunched up in her chair like a moody little mouse. One of the lads who was noted for his friendliness made a bee-line for me to shake hands and give me a welcome. He hadn't changed a bit except in looks.

I also saw the boy who always mumbled his words and talked as if he had a mouthful of mush. After listening to him a few minutes, I decided he still has it.

At the conclusion of the meeting someone led us in singing the alma mater, but at the third line we forgot the words, and the song died in an embarrassed silence. The years have been too long and too many of them, and Father Time must have been chucking to himself as we tried to work up an old college spirit that wasn't there any more.

We also had an Aggie get-together, a meeting of all the ex-students who majored in agriculture and once worked on the college farm.

Several of these men are now farming in different parts of the High Plains and they told about the same story of farming conditions. For one thing, the irrigated country up there is in much better shape than this section. Farmers are doing well enough with their cotton and wheat and cattle. Yet some of the far-sighted ones are beginning to wonder about the underground water table. One farmer who owns a place near Happy was quite worried about it.

"We've got to face the fact that in 10 years we'll be out of water," he said. "Our wells have been reduced from eight to six-inch pumps and every year it's a little harder to get water over all the field."

Perhaps the area from Lubbock to Amarillo is the most prosperous in the state right now. It certainly has the best crops in Texas. The gins still had from 50 to 100 bales of waiting cotton on the yards, and all the elevators are running over with maize. Also one sees a lot of cattle in feed pens and on stubble fields.

But like the man from Happy said, someday when the water is gone these big crops will be only a memory, and the area will be right back where it was 20 years ago.

Cop's Steed Stolen
HAWTHORNE, Calif. (AP)—California highway patrolman Charles A. Barnes told local police yesterday that his motorcycle—a snappy model with red light and siren—was stolen from his front porch while he slept.

Suspect Held In Bizarre Armed Robbery Case

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation said today a man accused of a strange armed robbery in Utah has been arrested in Las Vegas, Nev.

An announcement from W. Mark Felt, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, identified the man as Elliott Fillmore King, 24, of Salt Lake City.

A complaint filed by authorities in Provo, Utah, charged King with armed robbery. It accused him of taking the car and from $250 to $300 in cash from Mr. and Mrs. D. Wayne Cox of Hayward, Calif., on a lonely mountain road last Sunday.

Cox told authorities he had stopped his car to permit an oncoming car to pass. The other car stopped and four men got out, Cox said. Cox said one of the men drew a gun and ordered him to get out of the car. The man's companions remonstrated, Cox said, and the armed man then turned his gun on them, too. The man took the keys from both cars and drove off in the Cox auto, the Californian said.

Police said three men, who said they were King's companions on a hunting trip, also reported the incident and gave officers King's name. The Cox auto later was found abandoned a short distance from King's home here. The FBI announcement said King was traced from Salt Lake City to Reno and on to Los Angeles. There he purchased a bus ticket to return to Salt Lake City, the FBI said. He was arrested on a bus in Las Vegas, alone and unarmed. King is married and has two children, ages 5 and 3.

Fans Sue Actress For Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two of actress Gail Russell's fans are suing her for $300,000 damages. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Deutsch are asking the sum for injuries they say they suffered in North Hollywood last year when their car collided with Miss Russell's. Their daughter, Gail Deutsch, 2½, played in a corridor outside as the trial got under way yesterday. "We named our baby Gail because we'd always admire Gail Russell," Mrs. Deutsch said. "We still do."

Merkel's Starters Friday

Eagle To Fly The Highest

This is for sure. An Abilene boy will win individual scoring honors in District 2-AAAA football play this year. And Jimmy Carpenter of the Eagles, at present the No. 2 man in the race, will have to do some tall scoring in the race to overcome the current front runner, Glynn Gregory of the War Birds.

Gregory now has 138 points to 114 for Carpenter. A distant third in the race is Phil Lane of San Angelo, who has scored 13 touchdowns and three extra points for a total of 81.

Only games remaining on the schedule are San Angelo at Abilene today and Odessa at Midland Saturday.

The scorers:

Fears Eased As Olympic Games Get Underway

MELBOURNE (AP) — The games of the 16th Olympiad opened today with all the pageantry and color associated with this great international sports event, ending the fears and tensions which had dogged these games almost from the start.

When the Duke of Edinburgh, standing under a bright Australian sun, pronounced the simple, traditional words: "I declare open the Olympic games of Melbourne celebrating the 16th Olympiad of the modern era," he brought an end to two years of anxiety.

From now until the Olympic flame burning atop a building in the main stadium is extinguished Dec. 8, the 4,514 athletes from 67 countries can concentrate on their efforts to win Olympic medals and — unofficially at least — points in the unrecognized struggle for national team honors.

From the start the Melbourne Olympic games were beset by unforeseen troubles — inadequate early preparations, international strife that resulted in the withdrawal of several nations. Even the weather seemed opposed as the training period was attended by rainy, raw conditions.

Oregon State Bids For Trip To Bowl

By BEN OLAN
By The Associated Press

Oregon State can clinch the Pacific Coast Conference championship and South Carolina can move closer to an Orange Bowl bid in traditional games that headed the Thanksgiving Day college football program today.

A victory for Oregon State over Oregon would give the Beavers the PCC title for the second time in the 41 year history of the league. State only is lacking the formality of a vote to assure its participation in the Pasadena Jan. 1 Rose Bowl.

The South Carolina — Wake Forest tilt is a pivotal one for the Gamecocks, who are seeking to get the Bowl nod over Clemson and Duke.

The Gamecocks, with a 4-2 record in Atlantic Coast Conference competition and 6-3 over-all, have the best total defense record in the league.

Wake Forest's Bill Barnes, one of the top contenders for the national rushing yardage crown, has a bruised shoulder. However, it is expected he will be in the starting lineup. Barnes has averaged 110 yards on the ground in nine games.

Penn, which has made a surprisingly good showing in the Ivy League, meets Cornell. A victory for the Quakers would clinch third place but they'll be up against a hungry Big Red which has yet to win.

The Penn-Cornell game will be televised nationally in the eastern sector while viewers in the west will be able to witness the Oregon-Oregon State encounter.

Other holiday pairings include Virginia Tech vs. Virginia Military, Colgate at Brown, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, William and Mary at Richmond, Maryland at North Carolina State, Washington and Lee at Washington (Mo.), Colorado A&M at Denver and Idaho at Montana.

In pro football, the Detroit Lions have a chance to move into first place in the Western Division of the NFL by beating the Green Bay Packers. The game will be televised nationally starting at 12 p.m. (EST) via CBS.

Torch Is Lighted

ROME (AP) — Rome, site of the 1960 Olympic Games, lit the torch here today that will burn through the Olympics are held at Melbourne, Australia.

Abilene-Angelo Tilt In Grid Spotlight

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Mighty Abilene runs into the last hurdle in the drive to the state playoffs Thursday as the Texas schoolboy football campaign completes its championship brackets in two classes and starts playing for titles in two others.

The overpowered Eagles, twice Class AAAA kings and winners of 32 straight games, clash with another undefeated, untied team — San Angelo — for the District 2 championship.

A sellout crowd of 12,000 — and there would be more but nobody else can get into the park — will watch the Eagles, led by Glynn Gregory and Jimmy Carpenter, who between them have scored 250 points, try to remove a San Angelo team that is unbeaten by Abilene's great record.

Abilene is favored to win by three touchdowns which, however, would be the lowest score for the Eagles this season.

Still another Class AAAA district title is on the line Thursday night, Dallas Sunset can clinch District 6 if it beats Dallas Adamsom. If Sunset loses, however, the South Oak Cliff-Dallas Crozier Tech game Friday night will determine the champion.

Six other district titles will be decided Friday with a headliner being Wichita Falls' battle with Grand Prairie for the District 7 crown. Houston Lamar and Houston Austin jangle for the District 10 flag, Beaumont and Galveston for District 11, Temple and Waco for District 13 and San Antonio Jefferson and San Antonio Brackenridge for District 15. Saturday Amarillo and Amarillo Palo Duro settle District 3.

Two Local 11's Play Odessans

Two local football teams wind up their seasons in games today. The Eighth Graders host Odessa at 4:15 p.m. while the crippled Ninth Graders go to Odessa for a contest with the same school at the same hour.

The Eighth Graders are bringing up six Seventh Graders to fill out their lineup. Promoted were Ernie Samples, Kenneth Moeling, Dexter Pate, Dean Lee, John Schwarzenbach and Johnny Porter.

Donnie Everett will probably start at quarter for the Ninth Graders. Gordon Bristow has been shifted over to half where he's still along with J. B. Davis and Freddy Brown.

The Ninth Graders have only five backs now, since James Drake was lost due to an injury. For that reason, Roy Deel may see action playing tackle.

Billie Engle, Deal, Alvin U'ley, Donald Dorsey, Bud Bridges, Mackie Alexander and Bobby Evans are due to start in the line for the Ninth Graders.

Sterling City Has Better Record In Bi-District

FORSAN (SC) — Sterling City will carry a much better record into action when the Eagles take the field against Loop here Friday night.

The two district six-man champions fight it out for the right to enter the regional finals, which is as far as six-man teams go. Kick-off time is 8 o'clock and fair weather should bring out a capacity house.

Sterling, coached by Diddle Young, has lost only one game this season. That was a 40-39 upset at the hands of the Christoval Cougars.

Loop, which has Al White as its coach, will bring a 6-31 won-lost-tied record to Forsan.

The Longhorns, who depend heavily upon Dean Faulkenberry and Freddy Grun to turn the tide, never won a game until they opened District 7 play. Then they never lost one.

Only common opponent the two teams have met is Ackerly, which lost to Sterling, 39-0, and to Loop, 13-6.

Loop dropped non-conference games to Hobbs, 37-12; Marathon, 4-6; and Hobbs, 28-21; while tying 44-6; and Hobbs, 28-21; while tying Three-Way, 18-18.

Sterling bombarded Jayton, 37-6; Lawn, 63-8; Imperial, 35-32; and Paint Rock, 45-13; in addition to Ackerly.

Loop should be able to field its strongest possible lineup in the game. Sterling has a regular, Marvin Foster, out with a knee injury.

Sterling will field a starting lineup composed of four seniors and two juniors. The seniors are Kellon Gason, Jimmy McWhorter, Bill Young and Lynn Glass. The juniors are Wilbur Stone and Melvin Foster.

Loop will use one freshman (Kenneth Winn), along with one junior (Grun) and four seniors (Faulkenberry, Lee Williams, Henry Floyd and Ray Walters).

Jayhawk Opener Could Be School's Jonah: Davis

Heward County Junior College may have a hard time keeping alive a tradition of never having lost an opening home game.

This year when Decatur Baptist College comes here for the first game played by the HCJC Jayhawks, the Baptist will have had six games behind them.

"We don't intend to break that tradition," said Harold Davis, coach, in a talk to the Downtown Lions Club on Wednesday, "but we certainly will have our work cut out for us."

Opening date is Dec. 4. That same evening Sweetwater comes here to play Big Spring High School. Fans, by paying 25 cents more for the high school game at 7 p.m. can see the HCJC-Decatur game too, said Davis.

He singled out Charles Clark, Al Kloven, Mike Powell, Bobby Wardell and Stanley Williams as most likely starters at this stage. The first three are experienced and Wardell was an all-star in Colorado and Williams a brother of Robert (Dallas) Williams, who holds the HCJC scoring record.

Carl Smith, chairman of the special project, reported that the Lions light bulb sale for benefit of the sight conservation and blind fund had been a "sell out."

George Melear, reporting on contacts with the organization for parents of crippled children, said he Anticipated that the clubs here would have no difficulty in filling their quota for the annual summer camp for crippled children.

Already in the playoffs are Ysleta, Fort Worth Paschal, Dallas Highland Park, Tyler, Houston Sam Houston, Baytown, Corpus Christi Ray and Alice.

Eight district champions await the start of the playoffs next week in Class AAA. Eight more will be determined Friday.

Andrews, Garland, Kilgore, Waco University, Bryan, Nederland, Lamarque and Mission have clinched their district crowns. Others will be up for grabs like this:

District 1—Littlefield at Level-land, 3—Snyder at Lamesa, 4—Graham at Brownwood, 6—Gainesville at McKinney, 8—Clemson at Ennis, 13—San Antonio Edison vs. Kerrville at San Antonio, 14—Del Rio at Uvalde, 15—Kingsville at Robstown.

Swinging into the first round of the state playoffs will be classes AA and A with one game Thursday night. That will match Burk Burnett and Lewisville at Wichita Falls in Class AA.

Other first round games in Class A Friday are Canyon vs. Spur at Plainview, Perryton vs. Stamford at Childress, Seagoville vs. Terrell at Dallas, Bonham vs. Dekalb at Paris, Crockett at Hillsboro, Brady at Belton, Lockhart at Giddings, Navasota at Liberty, West Columbia at Deer Park, Floresville at Devine and Hebbronville vs. Mercedes at Falfurrias. Saturday night Crockett will be at Hillsboro.

Crane, Gilmer and Sinton draw first round byes.

FIGHT NIGHT IS CARDED

The Physical Education boxing program in the local high school will be climaxed by a "fight night" Monday evening in the high school gym. Sponsor of the one-night event is the Key Club.

Coach Johnny Johnson said at least eight and probably ten bouts will be staged. Each fight will be judged and a champion crowned. Admission prices have been pegged at 50 cents adult and 25 cents student.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock. Pairings will be announced in Sunday's edition of The Daily Herald.

A 'Texas' Size Gobbler

If all the turkeys to be eaten by Webb AFB personnel were one turkey, he would be an outsized bird even by Texas standards. Mathematically and theoretically he might tip the beam at a ton and a half. Here T-Sgt. Robert J. Godbold and M-Sgt. Howard W. Newcomb, food service personnel, inspect part of the flock that lost the battle of axes for Webb's sake. These are destined for student officers; other squadrons and clubs have similar stores.

ALSO HAM, ETC.

Webb Serves Big Turkey Dinner

If every Webb AFB worker eats his allotted pound of turkey today, the men and women on duty at this West Texas Air Force Base will have consumed approximately 3,000 pounds of the traditional American bird.

Here's the way it stacks up — airman, 1,990; permanent party officers, 385; civil service, 764; plus approximately 400 student officers. Actually there will be considerably less than 3,000 pounds of turkey eaten, for the food service folks have provided 1,000 pounds of Virginia ham, which will reduce the consumption of turkey to something like half the regulation figure. Too, many of the military and of the civilian personnel will eat off base.

'Equitable' Treatment In Gas Bill Urged

MIDLAND (AP)—A "more equitable" treatment in any new gas bill considered by Congress was urged yesterday by the executive committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn.

The committee, which represents small independent gas producers, concluded a two day meeting by proposing legislation similar to that provided in the Harris Fulbright Bill for production of pipeline companies and their affiliates.

TIPRO President A. E. Herrmann of Amarillo said: "The purpose is simply to remove obvious discrimination in the lower ranges without in any way interfering with the rights and privilege of those companies in good bargaining position to get whatever their gas is worth on the market. We are seeking only an end to unjustified price discrimination at the wellhead, and we see no reason why the federal government should pass any legislation which does not include this objective."

A bill will be drafted incorporating provisions TIPRO officials think necessary. The association will advance the proposals for congressional and administration consideration, Herrmann said. On imports, the association considered the types of control the government might impose—tariffs, quotas or quota-tariff combination. It made plans also to participate in a meeting of independent groups in Washington in December to decide on means of carrying the fight to Congress.

Cop Chalks Up Midnight Rider

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Chalk up one midnight rider, aged 9, for Patrolman Neville Boone. Boone got his man—or boy—by noticing a new car weaving erratically down the street. A whirl of the siren and the car pulled over. A pair of yellow pajamas stepped out. The boy's aunt told Boone over the phone that junior was in bed and the car in the driveway. She found out differently. Boone brought the boy home and dumped him back in bed.

Baby Sitter Runs Over 2 Infants

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 17-year-old boy who babysat with two infants accidentally killed one and injured the other when he drove away in an automobile yesterday. Thomas Parrish Jr., 3, was crushed to death under the slowly moving car. Bradley, 2, suffered minor injuries.

Mass Of Icy Air For U.S. Thanksgiving

Gale-force winds diminished and snow abated over a storm-swept area of the Great Lakes region today but a mass of icy air spread over most of the nation for the Thanksgiving weather menu. A fresh surge of cold air from Canada moved southeastward into the northern Great Plains during the night and temperatures headed for below zero levels. The arctic blasts spread over the Great Lakes region and readings were in the tens and 20s in most of the area. They were in the 40s in the Southern sections. Light snow and flurries were reported from Minnesota southward through Missouri and eastward through the Great Lakes region and West Virginia. Light snow also fell in a narrow belt from the western Dakotas and eastern Montana to northwest Kansas.

Some Beat

Policeman William O'Toole, his wife and baby daughter move into their rent-free mansion.

Policeman Gets Mansion Rent Free On His Own Beat

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A $75-a-week Park policeman has moved into a 14-room mansion overlooking the Schuylkill River which he gets rent free. William P. O'Toole, Fairmont Park guard, his wife Doris and their two-year-old daughter moved from a second-floor apartment in a South Philadelphia row house. The 100-year-old mansion is owned by the Park Commission which allows its employees to have certain park residences rent free. O'Toole's name was at the top of the applicant list when "Lemon Hill" was added to the occupancy rolls. Originally Robert Morris, famous financier of the Revolutionary War, occupied a 300-acre estate on Lemon Hill. After Morris' imprisonment for debt, the estate was sold in 1799 to Henry Pratt who built the present mansion. In 1845 the land was taken over by the city and made a public park. For almost 30 years Lemon Hill was the residence of Fiske Kimball, director of the Philadelphia art museum. After his death the mansion became vacant last year. The Park Commission thought for a time of converting the home into an official residence for Philadelphia mayors. When it was found remodeling would cost $100,000, this project was deferred if not dropped. The O'Tooles don't get the entire mansion, just the first floor which includes the living room, two bedrooms, kitchen, bath and laundry. They must maintain their quarters and be prepared to move if the commission decides to make other use of the mansion. The six-foot-four O'Toole can walk out his front door, admire the view and be at work. His beat includes Lemon Hill.

Claims He Killed The 'Wrong Man'

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—A Butte postal worker was shot and killed near his country home late yesterday and hours later his alleged assailant, 78-year-old James A. (Daniel) Boone, said: "It couldn't be him. He was a fine man." Carl Graff, 44, father of two, was hit in the heart by a .22 caliber rifle bullet. Boone, a neighbor, was taken into custody a few hours later. State Patrolman Al Boehme made the arrest at a ranch from which Boone telephoned his son, Danny, 17, and offered to surrender. Dr. Emmet J. Paulsen, Silver Bow County coroner, said the shooting apparently climaxed a dispute between the two men over a county road which runs through their property and cattle gates along the road. However, Paulsen said Boone maintained under questioning that he was unaware of Graff's identity. The coroner said Boone, who claims to be a descendant of the pioneer Kentucky rifleman, gave this account: He and his son were towing a hay rake behind their car and stopped at a gate near Graff's home to drive up the county road. "Danny told me there was a man coming," the coroner quoted Boone. "I looked out and saw a man running toward me. I got out of the car and had the gun in my hand. I said, 'don't you come up here,' and he kept running at me. "I fired a couple of shots in the ground and he kept coming. "He had his hand up with something in it. It looked like a knife. I don't know what it was.

Children's Unit To Hire Teacher

A part-time teacher for a shut-in exceptional child will be secured by the Howard County Society For Crippled Children. This was decided at a meeting of the directors in the Colonial Room of the Howard House Wednesday. The group amended the society's constitution to add the words, "and adults," to the name of the organization. Appointed as a committee to confer with YMCA officials on building plans were Elmer Boatler, Raymond River and George Zachariah. Date for the sale of Easter seals to begin was set for March 17, 1957. Mrs. W. G. Parks and Mrs. George Bass were named co-chairmen for the drive. Members of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were present to offer assistance with the drive. Two from each chapter of the sorority were appointed directors, as were Mrs. Parks and Mrs. Bass. Twelve attended the meeting.

Taxpayer Schools Scheduled Again For Industrialists

The Industrial Taxpayer Assistance Schools, conducted annually by the Internal Revenue Service, will be held in four Texas cities in December. Ben Hawkins, director of the local IRS office, said that all employers in this area who participated in the previous schools are being notified of the dates and the sites of the 1956 schools. Others who are interested in sending representatives may secure information from A. A. Alexander, chief training branch, code 405, Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas. The schools will be held in Dallas, Dec. 14; Lubbock, Dec. 17; Fort Worth, Dec. 12; and Tyler, Dec. 13.

Escaped Prisoners Went A Little Far

RENO, Nev. (AP)—In District Attorney A. D. Jensen's mind, six prisoners who broke out of the Washoe County Jail Oct. 28 went a little far trying to get ahead of the law. Captured and held for Federal action at Sacramento, Calif., the six wrote asking return of $199 they had left behind in the jail. The request prompted Jensen to file a small claims damage suit for the hole the escaping prisoners cut in the wall. The amount of damage: $199.

Eden Moving Farther Out Of Crisis Area

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden, target of many-sided criticism in the Suez Canal dispute, is moving farther out of the current crisis picture. On the recommendation of his doctors, he flies to Jamaica tomorrow to spend three weeks in the Caribbean sun.

Richard A. Butler, government leader in the House of Commons, has been designated acting Prime Minister during Eden's absence. Butler has been mentioned as a possible successor when Eden returns.

Eden, 59, announced Monday he was withdrawing from all public engagements on the advice of his doctor.

Dr. Horacé Evans, Eden's family physician, said the Prime Minister is suffering from severe overstrain. Presumably Eden's condition resulted from his round-the-clock direction of Britain's Middle East policy and his vigorous defense of his decision to send British troops into Egypt.

Announcing Eden's Jamaica trip, his office said:

"The Prime Minister's medical advisers have recommended that in order to obtain the complete rest which they think essential, he should go abroad for a few weeks. He has accordingly decided to spend about three weeks in Jamaica. He will leave London Friday evening by air accompanied by Lady Eden."

An Eden associate said earlier the Prime Minister had not suffered a recurrence of his critical 1953 illness but is utterly exhausted. Eden underwent three operations in 1953 after being stricken by a liver ailment. He became Prime Minister in April, 1955. The load of that office increased greatly after Egypt nationalized the Suez Canal July 26.

Eden is expected to keep in close touch with London developments.

The criticism at home of Eden's policy in the Middle East came from the opposition Labor party and broad areas of the British public. It also brought a few defections in the middle ranks of the Conservative party. Some Conservatives now are reported leaning in the opposite direction.

State Hospital Due Five New Buildings In Decade

Big Spring State Hospital is scheduled to get five and possibly six new buildings, representing an expenditure of $1,692,000, during the period 1957-1967.

None of these buildings is scheduled for the current biennial period. No specific date is set for the start on any of the projects. All are set up in a comprehensive program involving all of the state institutions for the insane and other unfortunate residents, in the decade beginning 1957.

Buildings pinpointed for the Big Spring Hospital include one new ward; a rehabilitation building; an addition to the laundry with adequate equipment; a residence for the superintendent and a storage building. In addition to these buildings, it is proposed that a chapel be provided on the grounds of the institution just to the north of the city.

Study of the problem of state hospitals and institutions has resulted in the drafting of the 10-year program and actual scheduling of the specific construction to be built.

CIGARETTE TAX

It is explained in the preamble to a voluminous report just released by the state that funds for the construction of the needed buildings at the several state hospitals and institutions will be financed by the one-eighth cent state cigarette tax. Collections from this source, the study discloses are sufficient to provide, if they are maintained for the 10-year period 1957-67, adequate money for all of the construction planned at the several establishments.

The special cigarette tax has been in operation for six years. In that interval, it has been utilized primarily for two purposes—providing additional wards to eliminate crowded conditions and to build surgical and medical buildings for prompter diagnosis and treatment.

As a result of generally improved operations, the state mental hospitals now record a decrease in the number of patients, in other words, the number of inmates is less than the number released after treatment.

Such a decrease has been consistently shown for two years.

NEED TO CLIMB

However, mental hospitals anticipate with the steadily increasing population of the state, plus the amazing increase in number of Texans of advanced years, that the need for state hospitals will surge upward as time passes. It is in anticipation of this future that the 10-year building and improvement program has been drafted.

Big Spring State Hospital, the report reveals, has 15 buildings at the present time. These date back as far as 1938. Most recent construction was addition of a male ward building, a female ward building, and a central kitchen in 1954.

The hospital has a rated capacity of 800 actual patients and is at peak all of the time. The new construction now blue-printed for the next 10 years will increase the capacity by 600 beds bringing the total to 1,400.

LOCAL PROPOSAL

Buildings on the program for Big Spring State Hospital are one big ward building, 102,000 square feet of floor space, with 600-bed capacity, to cost $1,377,000; one rehabilitation building (occupational therapy) to accommodate 200 patients, cost $200,000; addition to laundry and installation of additional modern equipment, cost $60,000; storeroom, fireproof construction, cost $30,000; residence for superintendent, $25,000.

Total cost of these improvements, including architects fees, equipment and furnishing, would be $1,692,000.

Also on the program for Big Spring is a plan to replace the present grounds lighting system with modern illumination. This job is pegged to cost $10,000.

In addition to this construction, Big Spring is one of a number of the state maintained and operated institutions which has requested construction of a chapel.

There is a possibility held out that the chapel request would be granted and that it might be included in a program sooner than is now slated for the other buildings.

TWO-YEAR PLAN

Construction program set up for 1957-1959 at state hospitals involves a total expenditure of $11,956,957. Institutions scheduled to be provided with buildings and improvements are Austin State Hospital, $649,692; Rusk State Hospital, $111,050; San Antonio State Hospital, $855,400; Terrell State Hospital, $1,214,490; Wichita Falls State Hospital, $254,000; Vernon branch Wichita Falls Hospital, $40,000; Kerrville State Home, $48,000; Austin State School, $845,775; Austin State School farm colony, $34,050; Mexia State School and Home, $170,000; Abilene State Hospital, $150,000; San Antonio State Tuberculosis Hospital, $231,000; McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital, $93,500; Harlingen State Tuberculosis Hospital, $200,000.

In addition, the state proposes to create an entirely new mental institution in congested southeast Texas. It is from this area, the hospital experts report, that bulk of psychotics come. This hospital, to be built during the next two years, will cost $5,000,000. Another institution—a new school for mentally retarded juveniles—is on tap. Its proposed cost is $2,250,000.

Unlocking The Door To Baldpate Inn?

Frank Dunlap, left, and Clara Freeman, two of the 100 students enrolled in the newly organized drama department of the Howard County Junior College, have leading parts in the department's initial dramatic production, "Seven Keys To Baldpate," which opens a three-night run starting Thursday at 8:15 p.m. However, the door which they are opening is not a scene from the play but symbolizes the opening of the college's new drama department. "Seven Keys To Baldpate" will be presented at the HCCJ auditorium. In addition to the play, door prizes are to be given to fortunate patrons at each of the three-nights' performances.

New Television 'Giant' Going Up Near Roswell

The tallest man-made structure in the world may soon start booming NBC, ABC and CBS television programs into this area from eastern New Mexico.

Under construction near Caprock, N. M., about 140 miles, as the crow flies, due northwest of Big Spring, is the 1,610-foot tower for KSWB-TV, Roswell. Telecasts will spring from the tip of the tower with a power of 316,000 watts. Ground elevation at the tower site is above 3,000 feet, as compared to about 2,400 feet here. Owners say the station will cover "a vast area" of East New Mexico and West Texas. Completion of the tower is scheduled for early December.

It will surpass in height a 1,572-foot television tower in Oklahoma City and tower above the 1,472-foot Empire State Building and the 984-foot Eiffel Tower.

In a land where bigness reigns this towering project will have as its geographic companion, the bottomless Lakes a few miles to the east, depths of which have never been successfully plumbed. Nearby is also located the largest water well in the world.

Its construction will defy the Texas tradition for the prodigious, inasmuch as the new structure will exceed by 89 feet a television tower at Dallas.

The tower is located a short distance from the oil field where the television station's owner, John Barnett, made his first strike in 1947 and began collecting the oil fortune that enabled him to plunge into television and radio three years ago.

The tower itself will be symbolic of the meteoric rise of Barnett, who quit a government job in 1947 as a taciturn geologist with only $3,000 in the bank to play a hunch.

The "giant," as it has been dubbed, will carry the station's signal with 316,000 watts over a vast area of cities and small towns in Southeastern New Mexico and West Texas to a half billion dollar market. It will cover weak spots of the station's present pattern, and replace the present tower, itself 790 feet above the ground, which is not too distant from the traffic pattern of B-47s landing at Walker Air Force Base, near Roswell.

To Barnett the new tower is an expression of his faith that a predominantly rural area can support quality television.

"We were trying to find out how we could bring television to Roswell," Barnett recalled, "and someone said I might as well go into television as to drill a couple of dry holes. I said I couldn't afford to drill any dry holes."

"Experts in the television field said this area couldn't support a quality television station. We made a study, found the market was here and went ahead."

And regardless of the experts, Barnett has made a go of it since the television station first went on the air.

The station is the largest in the U.S., serving a predominantly rural area with no major metropolitan area. It is a primary affiliate of NBC and has secondary affiliations with CBS and ABC.

Located on a sweep of rock that rises above the terrain, the antenna of the new tower will be 2,700 feet higher than the average elevation of 30 principal cities in the coverage area.

The tower will be exposed to the full blast of New Mexico winds and its eight-foot square steel frame is designed to withstand a 250-mile wind. Its base is rooted in 100 cubic yards of concrete and steel, set in solid rock.

The television field has proved so fascinating to Barnett that while he has interests in four major oil producing areas, he now gives the bulk of his time to running the television station.

"I found I had a tiger by the tail," he said. "Fifteen years ago if someone had told me I would have to go on the air, I would have headed out the back door." Barnett admitted in reviewing the transition from his government job to a television producer in nine years. "Before I was interested solely in geological formations and oil. Now television has given me an interest in almost everything."

The new tower, which is scheduled for completion in early December, is notable for several reasons in addition to its height: it is the first prefabricated tower in the nation; it will utilize the longest single micro-wave hop, 43 miles from Roswell; from its top Clovis, N. M., 76 miles away, will be visible; and it will have an elevator.

Construction is being done by the Andrews Tower, Inc., of Fort Worth. Steel is of special strength from Bethlehem Steel Co. of Bethlehem, Pa.

No One Saw The Other Car Coming

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"I just didn't see that other car coming," the defendant explained to City Traffic Judge James Demopoloy. The speaker was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way from a stop sign.

To prove his point, the defendant declared, "I've brought along a witness."

"He's right, Judge," said the witness, a pedestrian standing at the intersection when the two cars hit. "I didn't see that other car coming either."

SAYS MINISTER

Alaska New Land Of Opportunity

"Alaska is tomorrow," Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist Church, told the Big Spring Kiwanis in an address before the club on Wednesday.

"Your children and your grandchildren," he predicted, "will be shifting to the Northwest in the years ahead. Alaska, with its unlimited resources, its great expanses and its golden future, stands to be one of the most fabulously great areas of the entire world."

O'Brien recently spent some time in Alaska where he conducted the first evangelistic campaign ever attempted in the community he visited. The town, he said, was 100 years old and the response to his ministry, he declared, was so inspiring that "if I had known then what I know now, I would not have bothered to fly to Alaska in the comfort and luxury of a modern airplane."

"I would have walked on my own two feet the entire distance just for the privilege of bringing the Gospel to these people."

O'Brien told his listeners of the natural riches which abound in Alaska and of the rich possibilities they offer for the future. That is why, he said, "Alaska is tomorrow."

He also observed that since its inception, the course of civilization and the Gospel have always been from the east to the west. This trend still continues, he declared, and today, the west and northwest is going through a period of its greatest spiritual awakening. Alaska is in the same situation, he added.

H. W. Smith was program chairman for the day.

Special guest of the club was a Frank Wilson, Snyder, who is lieutenant governor elect for Kiwanis clubs in this area.

Kiwanis met on Wednesday this week instead of Thursday to avoid conflict with the first of the two Thanksgiving days. It will also meet on next Wednesday for the same reason.

Little Response To Call For Toys

Citizens are not heeding the signs in front of the four fire stations and Shell service stations, Fire Chief H. V. Crocker reported. The signs ask persons to bring in old and used toys to be repaired and given to needy children at Christmas.

The annual drive for old toys began last Thursday, but thus far, Crocker said, very few toys had been brought in.

The Shell stations here are aiding the fire department in the drive and are authorized collecting stations for the toys. All turned in to the stations will be given to the firemen to repair.

Repairing the toys is an annual job for the firemen, who work on them between calls. The department annually starts its drive for toys about Nov. 15 and then starts repairing about Dec. 1.

But this year, unless reported, the people turn in more toys than they have so far, there will be very few to repair, Crocker added.

The tools for the repair work are furnished by the fire department, and whatever parts are needed for the toys are paid for out of the Christmas Cheer fund.

Also coming from the Cheer fund was money to purchase nearly 300 dolls. These dolls cost about 70 cents each and came undressed. Women's organizations took a group of the dolls and dressed them. This work is already finished, Crocker said.

Any type of toy, no matter how small or how large, can be of some good to someone at Christmas, Crocker said. By taking parts of some toys and fitting them on other with parts of others, practically new items can be made.

The department also gets several bicycles each year, Crocker said, in urging people to turn in bike parts.

After the drive is over, the fire department with the aid of the Salvation Army will display the toys in a downtown building and needy children will come by and pick out the toys they want.

Crocker urged anyone who wishes to help in the drive and who has toys they do not want to bring them by any of the four fire stations or any Shell service station.

The fire stations are located on East Fourth at the city hall, at the corner of 18th and Main, Eleventh and Birdwell, and North Main and Eighth.

Uncle Ray:

Sperm Whales Have Large Lower Teeth

By RAMON COFFMAN

Last time I described a gigantic blue whale which was captured during a Japanese expedition to the Antarctic. It was 89 feet long.

Q. Was that the largest whale ever caught?

A. A few larger blue whales have been taken. Some have had a length above 95 feet, and one was reported to be 106 feet long!

Q. How does a blue whale compare in size with an elephant?

A. A very large blue whale weighs as much as 40 fullgrown African elephants!

Q. Do some whales have teeth instead of whalebone plates?

A. Several kinds (including the killer whales, or grampuses) have teeth. The sperm whale is the largest kind with teeth.

Q. How large do sperm whales become?

A. Some of them reach a length of from 50 to 75 feet. Their mouths are large, but fall short of those of Greenland whales. A big sperm whale, however, has a head which equals or exceeds the head of a Greenland whale. The shape is different. The head of a sperm whale is thick all the way from front to back.

Q. How large is the head?

A. The head of a 60-foot sperm whale has a diameter of 13 or 14 feet, and measures from 18 to 20 feet, front to back.

Huge head of a sperm whale.

Q. How many teeth do sperm whales have?

A. A young sperm whale has about 30 teeth in the upper jaw and 50 in the lower jaw. As time goes on, the teeth in the upper jaw wear away, leaving nothing but stumps and a hard surface on the roof of the mouth.

A few lower teeth, perhaps six or eight, are lost, but most of them remain. Instead of being close together, they are about a foot apart. A tooth may be three or four inches thick and 10 inches high.

Guides Rake In Tourists' Dollars

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—"I'll get it for you wholesale," your guide will often tell you when you want to buy something made-in-Mexico to take home.

He'll lead you to an establishment that gives him a commission—usually around 10 per cent—for which you pay hiked prices.

It's a long-accepted practice in Mexico and other tourist countries.

But in the peaceful, colonial silver town of Taxco the situation got out of hand when guides demanded ever-increasing commissions—up to 30 per cent in some cases.

Merchants rebelled. So far, the guides are winning. Which means the tourists are losing, too.

Taxco is a centuries-old, ancient, colorful city clinging to a mountainside. Its streets are winding and twisting and narrow. Silver mines and silver trade were its life blood.

The mines petered out and the city began to die.

William Sprattling, a former Tulane University professor, years ago decided to revive the city's once famous silversmith industry. He trained hundreds of young Mexicans who today produce some of the country's best silver products.

The city boomed again. Over 10,000 tourists a year visit it, buy from the shops featuring silverware all over town. But these shops are hard to get to over the burro-era boulevards. You need a guide.

Not long ago several new establishments opened along the highway itself, offered guides 20 per cent commission on sales to their tourists. Later they boosted this to 25 and even 30 per cent.

Uptown merchants, including Sprattling, refused to meet the new rates. Guides began boycotting them.

This Is Time For Political Job Hunt

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the usual period, in presidential election years, to scramble for political jobs.

There's little turnover this time, with the Republicans keeping the presidency and the Democrats controlling Congress again.

Among Texans here only a few are affected—those in the offices of outgoing Sen. Price Daniel, Reps. John Bell and Brady Gentry.

Top Daniel aides, including Jake Jacobsen, Mrs. Emma Ward and John Goldsum, are expected to go with Daniel to Austin when he becomes governor Jan. 15.

Harry McAdams, one of Daniel's staff, has gone to work for Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio. Others are casting about for new spots.

Within hours of the shooting of the Brownsville shrimp boat captain by the Mexican gunboat in the Gulf near Tampico, moves were made here.

Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen was at home so he got in touch with Richard Rubottom, former Corsicana man who is now deputy assistant secretary of state, in charge of Latin American affairs.

In short order, Mexican Embassy officials here were called, and conferences were started in Mexico.

The shooting was viewed much more seriously in the State Department than appeared outwardly. The U.N. may be called on to settle the long-standing controversy between Americans and Mexicans over shrimp in the Gulf.

Mrs. Oscar Robinson of Paris, Tex., here with her doctor husband for the meeting of the Southern Medical Assn., was elected president of the association's Women's Auxiliary.

She was shown about the Capitol by her friend, Mrs. Lucille Spain, secretary to Rep. Wright Patman. Mrs. Spain also is from Paris.

Mrs. Robinson will attend the 16 state medical auxiliary conventions in the Southern jurisdiction. They will keep her moving most of the time next spring and next fall.

Charity Given Field Millions

NEW YORK (AP)—Marshall Field III, who died here Nov. 8 at the age of 63, has bequeathed more than 30 million dollars to the Field Foundation Inc., for philanthropic purposes.

The terms of the will of the late publisher and philanthropist were announced last night by John F. Wharton, a lawyer and executor of the estate.

The residuary estate, the value of which was not stated, will go to Field's only son, Marshall Field Jr., who is also an executor of the estate. The son is editor and publisher of the Chicago Sun-Times, which his father founded.

Mrs. Ruth Pruyn Field, his widow, will receive $1,100,000 in cash and the family homes on Long Island, on Park Avenue in Manhattan and in South Carolina. Eleven grandchildren will get $100,000 each.

Field inherited 160 million dollars from the real estate and department store fortune of his grandfather. His law firm, Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison of this city, said Field gave "a substantial part" of his inheritance to his family and to charity during his lifetime.

Hungarian Student Predicts Success

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 21-year-old Hungarian student who says he helped lead the Hungarian revolt against the Russians says he believes his countrymen ultimately will be successful.

The student, using the name "Istvan Laszlo" to prevent possible reprisals against relatives in Hungary, said last night the revolt is not over and that he expects to return to his country within two weeks. He'll fight "underground," if necessary, he told a meeting of Hungarian sympathizers.

Haile Selassie On Royal Hunt

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie went duck hunting today—armed with a long-handled net and wearing a topcoat and dress hat.

The bearded Ethiopian monarch paying a state visit to Japan, hunted in the centuries-old Japanese court fashion at Emperor Hirohito's imperial hunting preserves in Koshigaya. Other business kept Hirohito away, but Crown Prince Akihito acted as host.

The royal sportsmen hid behind clusters of shrubs until the ducks gathered on a nearby pond. Then a court lackey frightened the birds. As they winged over the shrubs, the hunters popped up and netted their game.

The party bagged 43 ducks, including two by Haile Selassie. Servants at once killed, dressed and cooked the catch, serving them up to the hunters as sukiyaki and sliced barbecued duck on bamboo sticks.

Officials Lose 4-Ton Yule Tree

DETROIT (AP)—The Department of Public Works is looking for its four-ton Christmas tree.

It was growing near a Detroit intersection and had to be moved to make way for an expressway. DPW members had loosened the roots and planned to set the tree for the Christmas season on the lawn in front of DPW headquarters.

It disappeared before they could haul it away.

Reporter Jailed In Covering Source

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Wichita Falls Record-News reporter Bill Hunter refused today to disclose a news source and was ordered to jail by a district judge. He served only 38 minutes in the county jail office.

He was released after the news source told Hunter he could disclose his name.

The source was deputy Sheriff Cecil Johnson, who said the information sought by a grand jury had been in the district attorney's office for some time in a formal report from him.

Hunter was brought today before the Wichita County grand jury, which asked him the source of information concerning the slaying of James Black, a Negro state witness in a theft case against a white man.

The jury wanted to know who was the person who told Hunter that Black last was seen sitting in his parked car talking to two white men.

Hunter refused to disclose his source. Dist. Atty. Jimmy Castleline then took him before 30th Dist. Judge Arthur Tipps.

The question again was put to Hunter, and he again refused. The reporter said the question involved "a confidential relation between a reporter and his news source."

Tipps said the ethics of journalism must yield because the information, he said, was important to a criminal investigation.

He ordered Hunter to jail for contempt.

After Hunter had spent 38 minutes in the jail office, Johnson arrived and told Hunter he could identify him as the source.

The body of Black was found in an abandoned dugout north of Burkburnett, Sunday.

Black, 35, was to have been a witness in the state's prosecution of theft charges filed against Jean Norris, a former convict who was once accused in the international robbery of two Cuban gun runners in Fort Worth. Norris was found innocent in 1954 of the $248,000 robbery.

Norris is charged here with theft of engine equipment valued at $4,413. He is out on bond.

FOOD ideas FOR HOLIDAY HOSPITALITY

Turn turkey into a next-day wonder

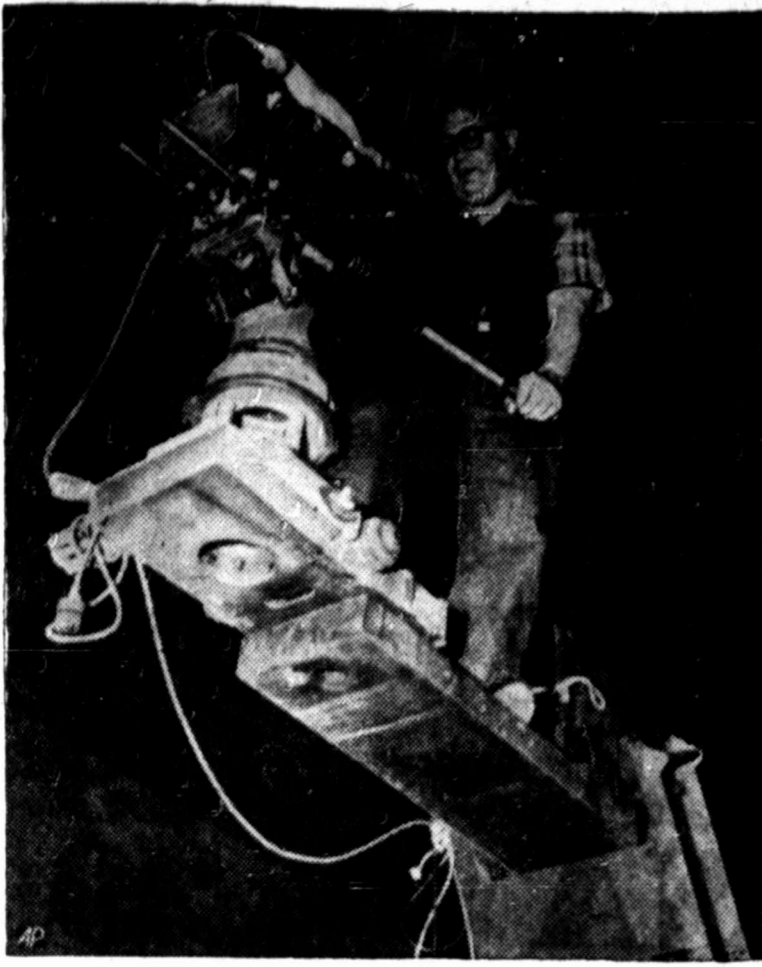

Turkey Salad Tropical—Really new way to two-time the holiday bird. Now turkey salad arrives spiced with pineapple and served piping hot! The trick? A double boiler to pre-heat meat and pineapple chunks before folding in the mayonnaise. Then heap into a bowl garnished with greens. Tangy salad and the great taste of Coca-Cola—this meal makes for compliments!

Turkey 'Burgers—Such a good-time way to serve left-overs. Broiled turkey 'burgers, sitting on a slice of cranberry jelly right inside a 'burger bun! Make 'em as you would a meat-loaf—with beaten egg, breadcrumbs, seasoning. Then shape into generous patties. Know how the zest of Coke peps up a hamburger? Well, just wait 'till you try that great taste with turkey!

Tomato-Turkey Pie—Creamed turkey yes—but what a difference in looks and flavor! It's the tomato-guy pie-shell that does it... and the great taste of Coke that goes along with it. Prepare 1/4 package pie mix, add 2 tablespoons undiluted tomato soup. Bake, then ladle in creamed turkey. This dish is holiday-bright, just right with ice-cold Coca-Cola!

Bring home the Coke!

Film Producer-Director Robert Aldrich

Movies Please Nobody Says Hollywood Rebel

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—"Motion picture companies," said producer-director Robert Aldrich, "are still looking for the mass market. They are trying to satisfy everyone—so they are pleasing nobody."
Aldrich, who in the past 10 years has worked in just about every behind-the-camera job in the studios, wants to make movies suitable fare only for mature, thoughtful audiences.
But, a realist at 37, Aldrich also concedes little chance for controversial films at the present time. "It's not so much the producers as it is the financial interests which prevent them," he said. "They are really the ones superimposing their attitudes on your taste; they just won't give you the money to make such films."
The husky director is not only a Hollywood rebel. In pot-shooting at "financial interests," Aldrich is also flying in the face of his family connections. He is the son of Edward B. Aldrich, president of the Pawtucket, R. I. Times, a nephew of Winthrop Aldrich, former board chairman of the Chase National Bank and now ambassador to the Court of St. James, and his Aunt Abby Aldrich married John D. Rockefeller Jr., which makes the Rockefeller brothers his first cousins.
These and eminent family connections, however, had nothing to do with Aldrich's rise in show business.
He started as messenger boy in one of the Hollywood studios. After the war, he began climbing the directorial ladder and, on the side, wrote screen plays. In 1951 he was an associate producer on "Ten Tall Men," and later directed "Apache" and "Vera Cruz." Four years ago he made a number of television series. Last year he made his first independent picture, Clifford Odets' "The Big Knife," which won the Venice Film Festival award.
"Autumn Leaves," which he directed, won the Berlin Film Festival award. "Attack," is his latest picture.
His films have been doing well at the box-office, but he's not satisfied.
"For the most part, we don't make new stuff," Aldrich grumbled. "Once we brought out a Model T, and we've just been repainting it every year since. We just aren't making new models."

'Frozen' Surgery Is Medical Milepost

DALLAS (AP)—Surgeons at Baylor Hospital have saved a man with an operation on his brain that has never before been successful.
Surgeons spent a day in dress rehearsal.
The 14-hour operation Friday repaired a leaking aneurysm, or balloon-like sack, on one of the main arteries in the brain of Max Harrell, 26, Sherman oil company worker.
It was made possible by literally "freezing the patient"—reducing his body temperature to a point where his brain could stand to have its oxygen-carrying blood supply cut off while surgeons corrected the damaged artery.
Harrell was still on Baylor's critical list today but doctors said they thought he would live. He is conscious.
The Dallas neuro-surgeon who directed the operation said he has checked with medical experts throughout the world and found that no procedure of this exact type has ever been tried successfully.
He said a few doctors have attempted to operate on this particular artery, which supplies blood to that part of the brain which controls the body's most vital functions, but all patients have died in surgery.
Harrell's case was one of working against time. The aneurysm could have ruptured at any moment before the operation, causing instant death.
"We had to make a choice," the surgeon, who asked that his name be withheld, said. "We knew we were doing something completely new, but we also knew the man couldn't possibly live as he was. We had his full authority to perform the operation."
Two neuro-surgeons, two anesthesiologists and two chest surgeons practiced an entire day to perfect details.
One difficult task was to find a way to the vital artery, hidden at the base of the brain, without harming the brain.
Since the blood supply to the brain could be cut off no more than 10 minutes, the doctors had to decide the swiftest method for fixing the aneurysm.
The operation began about 6 a.m. Friday. Harrell was put into an ice-water bath that lowered his temperature to near 80 degrees. Normal is 98.4.
Surgeons opened the man's chest and clamped off four arteries leading to the brain. The neuro-surgeon made his incision at the base of the brain.
The aneurysm was repaired by clamping off that section of the artery where it was located. A neuro-surgeon explained that the patient's blood now will travel a different circuit, and the weak portion of his artery will never again be in use.
"It's like re-routing traffic onto a different road," the surgeon said.
Thousands of dollars worth of equipment were used in the operation.
Employees with Harrell at Standard Oil Co. in Sherman were reported raising money to help pay his bill.

Easy-To-Make Cornbread Dressing

Gone are the days when the homemaker must spend hours mixing and baking the cornbread dressing. This streamlined version of old-fashioned dressing will be a favorite at family gatherings and holiday entertainments. The dressing is so simple and quick to make that it is easy to prepare a small, fresh batch each time one serves cold slices from the festive bird.

Quick Way To Make Dressing

Mix-and-bake-it-all-at-once is the new, quick way to make Grandmother's cornbread dressing to serve with the traditional bird. The texture is light and moist, the flavor eminently correct. Serve thick slices of dressing topped with giblet gravy.

In this simplified process, rich broth is used in making the basic cornbread batter. Grated onion, celery and herbs are added directly to it and all baked at once, soon ready to serve. It is even quicker when one uses self-rising corn meal, saving time of measuring and adding salt and baking powder. The dressing, cold and sliced thin, is excellent as the bread of a turkey sandwich.

- CORNBREAD DRESSING
 2 cups self-rising corn meal
 1/4 teaspoon thyme
 1/4 teaspoon rosemary or sage
 1/4 teaspoon celery seed
 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 cups rich broth
 2 tablespoons melted margarine or butter
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup grated onion
 1/2 cup grated celery
 (If plain corn meal is used, add 3 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt.)
 Sift together the corn meal, thyme, rosemary, celery seed, black pepper and salt. Add the broth (canned broth can be used if fresh broth is not available), melted margarine and two eggs. Beat with a rotary beater until blended. Stir in the grated onion and celery. Pour into well greased small loaf pan, muffin tins, or cake pan which has been lightly dusted with corn meal or flour. Bake at 450 degrees. About 45 minutes is required for baking in loaf or cake pan, about 25 minutes in muffin tins.

- Different Tang Slip slices of tomato into a cheese sandwich before grilling; the two flavors blend for an interesting tang.
For Stuffed Peppers Allow seeded green peppers to stand in boiling water (off heat) 10 minutes before using for stuffed peppers.
To Cut Pineapple After you slice off the rind from a fresh pineapple, remove the eyes with a small sharp knife. Then cut the fruit into desired shapes.
Delicious Topping Sweeten mayonnaise with honey and make it tart with lime juice. Fold into whipped cream and serve over a fruit salad.

Dallas Library Takes Picasso Paintings Down

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Public Library disclosed today that it had removed two works by leftist Spanish artist Pablo Picasso from an exhibit to prevent what librarian James D. Meeks said was the possibility of "a lot of controversy."

The action followed telephoned protests. Last week the library put on display a collection of 13 rugs designed by modern artists, and paintings by three of the artists.

One of the rugs was designed by Picasso, and there was a painting of a woman's head by the same artist.

"This group—I don't know just who it was, but people who were against it—began calling to protest," Meeks said.

"I talked to Councilman W. C. Miller, and then we just took the Picasso rug and picture down rather than stir up a lot of controversy," Meeks said.

"It is not that we surrender in principle. We just don't think it worth the effort to go through a siege of petitions, board meetings and periods of tension at this stage of the library's organization and development," Meeks said.

The Dallas County Patriotic Council last January and February waged an unsuccessful fight to prevent alleged Communist art being shown at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.

Some See Molotov Job As Demotion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Some U. S. officials took the view that V. M. Molotov's new job, announced today by Moscow radio, represented a demotion rather than a step upward in the Kremlin high command as it was interpreted in some diplomatic quarters in London.

These officials said the new Molotov post is equivalent to the chief of the government accounting office. They said it may mean the Molotov, long recognized as a leader of the tough Stalinist group, is being shelved.

Unless Molotov's shift sets off infighting within Kremlin ranks, they said, it is difficult to see how he can survive as a major influence in Soviet policy.

The State Department declined comment on Molotov's new post. Officials reported they had at hand only what press associations reported on the shift.

Molotov's new job, however, coincided with Western diplomatic reports that the former Soviet foreign minister under Stalin might succeed party chief Nikita Khrushchev as secretary general of the Communist party.

These reports have been passed on to the State Department by some Western European governments in recent days but U. S.

officials have strongly doubted any such development was brewing.

According to this West European forecast, Premier Bulganin also was to be kicked out of office and replaced by Georgi Malenkov who became premier immediately after Stalin's death only to be demoted later.

U. S. officials said they regard Molotov's new job as minister of state control as basically an auditing position of the government's financial operation.

The chief of this ministry has been a secondary figure in the Soviet high command in recent years.

Rubble Collected From Blast Site

LAKESIDE, Utah (AP)—Workmen have begun collecting rocky rubble from the residue of a cliff face pulverized in the nation's third largest non-atomic explosion.

The mighty blast of 560,000 pounds of explosives was touched off on the western shore of the Great Salt Lake yesterday to provide rock for a Southern Pacific railroad causeway across the lake.

Reservists Told Little Advance Notice Possible

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Army has informed its reservists that in event of an emergency they may get little advance notice to report for active duty.

Orders prepared early in October, but actually issued Oct. 26, said that it was still Army policy to give reservists the maximum period of time between the date they are alerted for active duty and the day they must actually report.

When military conditions permit, the Army said that it would continue its long standing policy of allowing 30 days or longer, but the revised regulations said that "military conditions at the time of the emergency" would be the determining factor.

The revised orders continue policies the Army has been following since the war in Korea, and Army spokesmen said the decision to put the words into official orders was reached some time prior to the outbreak of current troubles in Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

The reversed orders also said that the nature of future national emergencies "cannot be predicted," and that reservists are subject to entry on active duty "with no advance warning or with considerably less than the otherwise intended 30-day alert."

Tech Teams To Vie In Chicago

LUBBOCK (AP)—Three Texas Tech agricultural judging teams—including a Lamesa student—will be in Chicago next Saturday to compete in the International Collegiate Judging Contests.

Monte Griffin of Lamesa is a member of the livestock judging team along with Jerome Beach of Miles, Don Brothers of Paducah, Troy Dean Jones of Lubbock, Clarence Smith of Hale Center, and Monroe Henderson of Jacksboro. Stanley Anderson, associate professor of animal husbandry, is the team coach.

Texas Tech also has crops and meats judging teams in the Chicago competition. En route to Chicago, the team is scheduled to practice judging at Oklahoma A&M, Iowa State College, and various ranches.

First Enforced Isolation Of TB Patient Reported

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—What may be the first case of enforced isolation of a tuberculosis patient in Texas was made in effect today. A woman, 34, was confined to Hilltop Sanatorium here.

Arthur Dilly, Hilltop administrator, said the woman was confined under a writ of quarantine for infectious tuberculosis signed by Dr. G. T. Moller, county health officer.

A law providing for enforced quarantine of a TB patient has been on the state books for years, Dilly said, "but as far as I know, it has never been enforced."

The woman, suffering from a "far advanced" case of infectious TB, was confined in one of two rooms recently specially equipped.

Dilly said the woman had been living in a four-room house with 13 other persons, including her three children.

Dilly said the woman has a long history of entering sanatoriums and leaving without permission.

"Efforts to have her voluntarily enter a sanatorium and remain there have been to no avail," he added.
