Paralyzed By Snowfall
 As night falls, 10th Street in Erie, Pa., shows the effect of a 24-inch snowfall which paralyzed the city. With only the center of the street cleared, stalled cars make it impossible for the snow plows to reach the curb.

Erie's Mayor Appeals For Federal Aid

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Mayor Arthur Gardner today appealed for federal disaster aid in the wake of the near record Thanksgiving Day storm which dumped two feet of snow on this lakeport city of 130,000.

New snowfalls were reported early today on part of a 150-mile snow belt extending along the Lake Erie shore 50 miles west into Ohio and 100 miles east to Buffalo, N. Y. Motorists were urged to stay out of the area.

A 2 to 4-inch fall was expected by late afternoon.

Some drifting on roads was predicted in the Ohio lake section. There was little drifting last night in the Erie area but farther east toward Buffalo it was a different matter. Drifts blocked Routes 5 and 20 as fast as snowplows cleared them.

Routes 5 and 20, the main Buffalo-Cleveland traffic arteries, were reported open west into Ohio and east as far as the New York State line.

Bus transportation resumed in Erie and businesses and industries forced to close by the storm were back at work.

However, all Erie city schools were closed as were the three colleges, the Villa Marie, Mercy Hurst and Gannon. Only a few schools were open in adjoining rural areas as bulldozers and snow plows worked to open secondary roads closed by drifts up to seven feet high.

Mayor Gardner asked Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania to follow through on his appeal for federal disaster relief through civilian defense agencies.

The mayor lifted a state of emergency last midnight. Some 500 National Guardsmen, who had pitched in to help the snowbound, remained on duty until noon today.

Two Army helicopters remained in service to drop food, if needed, to isolated farm families.

Despite the severity of the storm there were no deaths attributed to it in Ohio and Pennsylvania. There were at least five storm deaths in New York State.

Storm's Aftermath
 A couple of residents of the western New York state village of Springville, snowbound for 36 hours, begin their share of the gigantic cleanup as they dig an automobile out of a snowbank. More than four feet of snow, with drifts up to 10 feet, plagued the area.

Heavy Snow Warnings Are Up For New England Area

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow warnings were posted today for eastern New York and much of New England and flurries were forecast from the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley east to the Appalachians and in the mountains of Tennessee and North Carolina.

Rain was in prospect along the Atlantic Coast from Boston to Virginia.

The rest of the country was to have generally fair weather with warmer temperatures in the northern and Central Plains and lower readings eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

A storm in southern Ohio spread snow through the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and much of the Mississippi Valley and some rain in Tennessee, Pellston, Mich., recorded two inches of new snow to make eight inches on the ground. Detroit was hit with four inches, its heaviest fall of the season.

This storm made driving conditions hazardous over most of the Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and portions of the Mississippi Valley.

A second storm was centered early this morning in southern New Jersey and has spread rain along the coast north of Philadelphia to southern New England and snow into Eastern New York and western New England.

Sellingsrove, Pa., reported three inches of new snow and Lehigh field was doused by more than a quarter-inch of rain. Skies were mostly fair from the Pacific Coast to the plains states although some cloudiness was reported in the Pacific Northwest and there were a few isolated reports of light rain or snow in Oregon.

Santa Pays First Visit Here Today

Santa Claus pays his first visit of the year to Big Spring this afternoon, and everything was in readiness this morning to stage the traditional parade in his honor.

A chilling breeze this morning promised to keep temperatures down toward the level to which he is accustomed at his North Pole home and shops and provide a real Christmas atmosphere for the formal opening of the Yule season in Big Spring.

Santa was due into town shortly after 4 p.m. He was to be hustled off immediately to the east part of town where the parade was to form.

The procession was to start moving through the downtown section promptly at 4:30 p.m., giving all the kids and other residents an opportunity to see St. Nick.

The Chamber of Commerce said this morning that one of the best Christmas parades in the city's history was in prospect. Twenty-five organizations and businesses had entries ready to join the line of march. Another float was prepared for Santa to ride in the parade.

Fifteen groups entered floats which were in the running for $175 in cash prizes. There were four other decorated floats, including the Nativity scene prepared cooperatively by the various local churches.

Also entered in the parade were four bands, a color guard, and a number of commercial entries. Among the latest to announce plans for entering floats were the Feta Tri-Hi-Y, Eighth Grade Girls, and Troop No. 6 of Girl Scouts.

Christmas decorations, including a 25-foot tree, were up on the courthouse square this morning. The Christmas lights will be turned on for the season following the parade this afternoon.

Allied Decision To Speed Up U.N. Landing

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP) — A British-French decision to let U.N. police force units enter the Suez Canal zone by sea as well as by air promised today to speed the buildup of the Middle East peace patrol. But there still was no agreement on plans to replace the invaders with U.N. troops.

The decision to throw open Port Said to ships bringing in additional U.N. units was made at the request of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the police force. He conferred here with British and French officers during a flying trip from Cairo.

Thus far the troops have been flown in by Swiss airliners from the crowded staging base at Capodichino, near Naples, Italy. They have been landing in small units at Abu Suweir near Ismailia on the Egyptian side of the cease-fire line.

The first seaborne units will be 700 Yugoslav troops, expected to land from three Yugoslav ships. Lt. Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, commander of the British-French invasion force, told newsmen the Yugoslavs would not remain in the northern third of the canal zone held by the British and French but would cross the cease-fire line to the Egyptian side.

Stockwell said Burns indicated he would attend later conferences here to discuss the U.N. buildup. The British general said a role for the U.N. troops in Port Said—now only 190 Norwegians who came by train from Abu Suweir—was discussed.

"We are examining how possibly to give them a little area of the town which they would be responsible for," Stockwell said.

He added that a plan to have the U.N. troops join British and French soldiers in patrols has been abandoned. This apparently was in keeping with efforts by allied and U.N. leaders to avoid any appearance of fraternization which might compromise the U.N. troops' neutral role.

In Belgrade, Borba, the official newspaper of President Tito's Communist party, denied another report that Yugoslav troops at Abu Suweir had been openly instructing Egyptian soldiers in the use of military equipment. Borba called the report slanderous, while declaring that it was "completely natural that our soldiers were warmly received by the Egyptians."

U.N. forces at Abu Suweir reached more than 1,000 over the weekend, and other arrivals were expected soon to bring the total to 2,000.

U.N. headquarters in New York, the General Assembly kept up pressure on Britain, France, and Israel to pull their forces out of Egypt. The Assembly on Saturday adopted an Asian-African resolution calling on the invading powers to get out "forthwith" and a U.S. resolution approving Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's negotiations with Egypt for deploying the U.N. force.

The U.S. resolution also authorized Hammarskjold to negotiate contracts with salvage companies to clear the wreckage-blocked Suez Canal.

Egypt insists the clearance work must not begin until the British and French are out.

The British and French, however, have cleared the Port Said harbor with displacement up to 10,000 tons. There is no indication the Egyptians are trying to clear the portion of the waterway they still control.

Weinberger Baby Was 'Smothered'

MINEOLA (AP) — A medical expert testified today that Peter Weinberger smothered to death after he was abandoned in a bunch of honeysuckle vines by his kidnaper.

"Asphyxia is the prime cause of death," Medical Examiner Theodore J. Curphey told an all-male jury at the kidnap-slaying trial of 31-year-old Angelo LaMarca.

He is accused of kidnaping the baby July 4, and abandoning him next day to his death.

Girl Dies From Poison Mud Pies

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — One little girl died and two others were in critical condition after they made mud pies with an insecticide which they apparently found in a container in their grandfather's orchard.

Three-year-old Jeanie Peterson was dead on arrival at an Ogden hospital.

CHEER FUND OPENS AT $15

Don't forget — if needy youngsters are to receive workable toys on Christmas, and if they are to have some decent food and holiday "goodies," these have to be provided by the more fortunate.

The CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND makes this Christmas charity possible — a program operated by the city firemen. Send your CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND check to The Herald now, for acknowledgment, or hand your gift to any member of the fire department.

The fund has just started with two gifts today, one for $10 from a business firm, another for $5 from an anonymous friend.

The starter is $15. Will you add to it?

U. N. Continues Its Pressure On Allies

Record B52 Flights Proof Of U. S. Power

BALTIMORE (AP) — U.S. air officials pointed today to the awesome flights of eight B52 jet bombers as proof of the nation's ability to deliver a nuclear knockout punch anywhere in the world.

The 14-ton, eight-engine B52s took off Saturday, four from the Air Force base at Castle, Calif., and four from the base at Loring, Maine.

Before landing at various points in the United States yesterday, they had:

1. Completed non-stop flights of up to 17,000 miles over a 32½-hour stretch, more than eight hours longer than any other B52 had ever flown continuously.
2. Circled the North Pole at temperatures of 65 degrees below zero, reached speeds of "nearly 700 miles per hour" and maintained altitudes of "more than 35,000 feet."
3. Simulated drops of deadly bombloads at targets along a course leading from Maine, past Thule, Greenland, to the top of the world, and back by way of Anchorage, Alaska; Seattle, Wash.; San Francisco; Houston, Tex.; Miami, Fla., and Baltimore.

"We had a very successful mission," said Col. Donald E. Hillman, commander of the 42nd Bomb Wing based at Loring.

He flew in one of two B52s that were diverted to Baltimore's Friendship International Airport after being scheduled to land at Loring.

The diversion, a Strategic Air Command spokesman indicated, was part of a last-minute plan to dramatize U. S. striking power.

SAC spokesmen said the flights were "a routine mission to demonstrate the capability of the B52 and the men who fly it."

They said the B52s, of which the Air Force has more than 500 among 11 wings, refueled in flight with the aid of KC97 Stratocruisers.

The 32½-hour, 17,000-mile record was set by one of the four Castle Air Force Base planes. Its commander, Maj. "Sam" Morris of San Angelo, Tex., landed at Loring.

Another Castle AFB plane, commanded by Lt. Col. Marcus L. Hill Jr., of Cisco, Tex., landed at Friendship. It was aloft more than 31 hours and traveled nearly 16,000 miles.

AF Sergeant Quizzed Over Death Of Daughter's Babies

ST. PAUL (AP) — An Air Force sergeant, his wife and their daughter, 20, were held for questioning today about the father's accusation that the women killed three babies born to the daughter out of wedlock.

The daughter, Marlys Ubel, admitted giving birth to the infants and said her father, Jack Ubel, was the father of the latter two. The first baby, she told deputy Sheriff T. R. Egan, was sired by another serviceman. The babies were reported killed near Bakersfield, Calif.

The women told Egan they had no knowledge of what happened to the infants and said Ubel told them he had taken care of the babies. Marlys said the infants were premature and she believed they were dead at birth, Egan said.

Marlys and her mother, Virginia Ubel, 40, were arrested Saturday after the sheriff's office received the letter written by the sergeant in Japan.

The letter directed officers to the back yard of Ubel's former home at Edwards Air Force Base in California. Officers found the decomposed body of a 7-month-old baby wrapped in a May 1955 issue of "Personal Romances" magazine.

Authorities at Bakersfield said Ubel's letter led them to check their records of Nov. 18, 1952, when the body of an 8-month-old boy was found in a shopping bag on a dump at nearby Tehachapi, Calif. Officers said Ubel's letter also told of another infant being buried near where the one body was found.

Deputies said the Ubel's also have three sons, all in military service.

Confessed Father Did Not Slay Baby, Police Report

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Little Billy Beaver's father didn't smother him, dismember his body and burn it, as he had confessed to police.

Two-year-old Billy, missing from his crude log cabin home near here since last Wednesday, was found dead yesterday. Investigators said he died of exposure and his parents and grandmother, charged earlier with murdering him, will probably be released today.

Paul Harbour, a power company employe, discovered the body along a pipeline right-of-way about 1½ miles east of Huntington, W. Va.

Dr. Robert Barrett, Cabell County coroner, said examination showed the youngster, weighing an extraordinary 60 pounds for his age, had died of exposure in suffocating weather.

Sheriff H. D. Humphreys said the case was closed.

The weird developments came after Humphreys announced Billy's father, 24-year-old James Beaver, had signed a statement saying he had smothered the boy, hacked up the body and burned it in an open fire-place.

The sheriff added the statement said Beaver was helped by his 18-year-old wife and that both acted at the point of a gun held by his 64-year-old mother, Mrs. Virginia Beaver.

The elder Mrs. Beaver had contributed to the confusing aspects of the case by earlier making a statement that she killed Billy because "he got on my nerves."

Urge Evacuation Of Canal Region

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly kept up pressure today on Britain, France and Israel to pull out all the troops they still have in Egypt.

The Assembly scheduled a meeting to hear delegations explain their votes on two resolutions it adopted Saturday calling for withdrawal of the invaders' troops and clearance of the Suez Canal.

The withdrawal resolution, introduced by 20 Asian and African countries, passed 63-3 with 10 abstentions. It called on Britain, France and Israel to get their forces out of Egypt "forthwith."

It asked Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to relay the demand urgently and report back "without delay."

Splitting again with its major allies the United States voted for the proposal. Australia and New Zealand voted with Britain, France and Israel against it.

The second resolution was introduced by the United States along with Canada, Colombia, India, Norway and Yugoslavia. It was adopted 65-0 with the nine Soviet-bloc countries abstaining. It approved Hammarskjold's arrangements with Egypt for deploying a U. N. emergency force in that country to supervise the cease-fire and the troops withdrawals. It also authorized him to negotiate contracts to clear the Suez Canal, now blocked by ships and bridges wrecked during the military operations.

The Assembly's withdrawal demand was its fourth in three weeks, all approved by overwhelming votes. So far, Israel says she has pulled about 6,000 troops out of Egypt. Britain sailed a battalion of 928 infantrymen from Port Said and the French claim they have withdrawn a third of their forces.

However, the three governments have announced no other concrete plans for troop evacuations. To date the only U. N. troops in the Port Said area are 190 Norwegians. More than 1,000 others from various nations are in barracks behind the Egyptian lines.

With the Assembly's go-ahead for the canal clearance project, Hammarskjold pledged unstinted effort to get the job done "speedily and effectively." He announced appointment of three assistants for the project: retired U. S. Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, former Panama Canal maintenance engineer and engineering consultant to the World Bank; John J. McCloy, board chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York and former U. S. high commissioner in Germany; and Alfred G. Kotzin, a South African deputy undersecretary of the U. N.

Hammarskjold is already negotiating with Danish and Dutch firms to help in the clearance. Egypt has insisted that the work not begin until all British and French forces are out.

Despite Egypt's protests, the British and French already have begun clearing the canal in the northern 27 miles they hold. They say they have opened a channel 160 feet wide into Port Said's inner harbor, permitting vessels of liberty-ship size to enter.

'Inside Job' Suspected In Record Theft

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police today suspected an inside job in the $274,000 "push button" wall safe theft at the Oxmoor mansion of capitalist William Marshall Bullitt.

It was the biggest burglary ever committed here.

The money — ranging from $10 to $1,000 bills — was stolen from a concealed wall safe in Bullitt's study on the rambling 1,000-acre estate on Louisville's city limits sometime between 11 o'clock Saturday night and 9 a.m. yesterday. A $41,000 check also was reported missing, but later was found.

"Whoever went in there knew what they were doing," County police Capt. Bert Hart said.

City Detective Bert Heuser said he believed the burglary was an "inside job with outside connections."

The wife of the 83-year-old sportsman, attorney and onetime solicitor general of the United States also indicated to newsmen the work was done by someone who knew the set up.

County detective Sgt. James Wyatt said it wasn't known how the thieves worked the double combination safe.

The thieves apparently entered the first floor library of the mansion by raising an unlocked window.

The detectives said whoever took the money pressed a point on the library wall which opened a door disguised as a bookshelf. Wyatt said when they apparently couldn't find a button — on Bullitt's desk in the study — that opens a section of wall paneling hiding the safe, they forced it open.

The break-in was discovered when a maid told Mrs. Bullitt that a window in the library was open.

Mrs. Bullitt said the library and study were in order when she and her husband retired about 11 p.m. The couple was alone in the house during the night. Their daughter and son-in-law — Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Watkins — three servants and a gardener sleep in other buildings on the grounds.

The couple heard no unusual noises during the night, police said.

But Wyatt said the gardener, Milburn Price, 65, reported he awoke about 4 a.m. and saw a car on the tree-lined lane that winds about a quarter of a mile from the highway to the house.

He said Price didn't "pay much attention" to the car because the estate attracts sightseers at odd hours.

The home — containing 10 family bedrooms — was built by the Bullitt family about 1780 and enlarged over the years.

Iceland Agrees To Retain Base

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today in a dispatch from Reykjavik that Iceland has agreed to let U. S. forces retain their control of the strategic Keflavik air base but under a direct arrangement bypassing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The dispatch said that the U.S.-Icelandic understanding was reached in Reykjavik last week and that James H. Douglas, U.S. air undersecretary, had taken the agreement to Washington.

Both the United States and Iceland are NATO members. The United States acted for NATO in which 4,000 U. S. troops and pilots negotiating a 1951 agreement by which 4,000 U. S. troops and pilots are stationed at Keflavik as part of NATO's air defense chain across the North Atlantic.

Radio Budapest Complains Curfew Hurts Cleanup Job

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

VIENNA (AP) — Radio Budapest complained today a Russian-imposed curfew is hampering attempts to get industrial production started again in Hungary.

The broadcast claimed, however, that some 2,500 workers showed up at the Kispeszt textile works and 700 at the Duna shoe factory today.

Kadar's government opened a new attack on Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic primate of Hungary who took refuge in the U.S. legation in Budapest when the Red army opened its all-out attack Nov. 4.

"and then have to concentrate chibely on repair work."

Lack of public transport is another handicap, the broadcast said. Lack of power also keeps a big tractor factory at Kispeszt closed.

Trial On Value Of Land Starts

Witnesses for the city of Big Spring were being examined in Howard County Court this morning in the trial of an appeal from the recommendation of a special appraisal commission on the value of land acquired by the city as a water reservoir site.

The city of Big Spring had objected to a $12,500 recommendation returned last March by a special commission as proper compensation to the Edwards Estate for a hilltop in southwest Big Spring needed by the municipality as a water storage site.

The case was being heard before a jury and county Judge R. H. Weaver.

Testimony of the witnesses for the city in the early portion of the hearing was that the land involved was not worth more than $5,000.

The city has proceeded with construction of the storage tank and the job is rapidly nearing completion.

Hard Freeze Hits Texas Panhandle

A hard freeze hit the Texas Panhandle early Monday. Dalhart had the low minimum temperature of 21 degrees.

The Weather Bureau said no rain or snow was in sight.

Amarillo reported 24 degrees, Lubbock 27 and Van Horn 32. Corpus Christi had the high minimum of 54 degrees.

Plane Crash Scene

Firemen probe the wreckage behind an engine of an Italian Air Line (LAI) plane which crashed in flames at the tiny village of Paray Vieille Poste, near Paris, France, killing 34 of the 38 persons aboard. The New York-bound plane had just taken off from Paris' Orly airfield when it suddenly pitched downward and crashed.

FOR ONE DAY

Murder-By-Auto Trial Postponed

Trial of Alvin P. Milligan, charged with murder by automobile, scheduled to open in 118th District Court Monday morning, was postponed by agreement to Tuesday. It was explained that Milligan's attorney, Carroll Smith, was ill. Hartman Hooser was named by the court to represent Milligan. Hooser asked for time to confer with his client and the case was reset for Tuesday morning. Trial of Alvie Dee Kennedy and Billy Edward Davis, charged with theft on Sept. 9 of 600 feet of pipe, was called up. By agreement it was arranged for the two defendants, who were separately indicted, to be tried jointly. Clyde Thomas, who represented Davis, agreed to the combination of the two cases. A jury had been selected shortly before noon. Evidence by the state was being presented at that time. Judge Charlie Sullivan advised the jury panel that it was planned to hold court only through Wednesday this week. He explained that the conflict in Thanksgiving days made it advisable to halt court on Wednesday to permit those who elect to do so to celebrate the second of the two days being observed as Thanksgiving. Other cases scheduled for trial this week include Howard T. Gibson, DWI and Alvin Raneria, DWI. Case against W. H. McDaniel, charged with worthless check writing, was continued by agreement.

Five Apprehended In Burglary Tries

Five persons were apprehended while trying to burglarize two different establishments here over the weekend. Two other burglaries are unsolved. Policemen arrested two men as they tried to saw through the roof of Newsum's Grocery, 1910 Gregg, Saturday night. The department got a call about 11 p.m. that there were prowlers around the building. The ensuing investigation revealed the men trying to cut their way in. They were not in when caught. The same was true Sunday night when three persons, including two juveniles, were caught in the Seven-Up Bottling Company, 1602 Young. Only one person was caught in the business, but the other two were acting as lookouts. Nothing had been taken when they were arrested. The two juveniles were turned over to A. E. Long, the juvenile officer. The third person is stationed at Webb AFB. Burglars broke into the junior high building sometime over the weekend, taking money from a coke machine but nothing else. Police officers said that the burglars entered a window either on the west or south side. The vending machine was broken into, but the amount of change was not known. In addition, the safe in the principal's office was broken into, but nothing was reported missing. The knob was knocked off, and the pin removed. Leola Beard, 503 NE 4th, reported that about $17 was taken from her apartment over the weekend. All the money, in silver, was hidden under the mattress. It was 12 silver dollars, and between $5 and $6 in pennies.

Four To Attend Air Conference

Four Big Spring men will go to San Angelo Tuesday for a "Jet Age Conference" to be staged by military and civilian aviation experts. The Board of City Development at San Angelo and the Goodfellow Air Force Base will be hosts for the meeting. Discussions will be on community relations, noise suppression and electronics. A highlight of the meeting will be a demonstration by the Thunderbirds, the Air Force's famed precision flying team from Nellis AFB, Nev. The Thunderbirds, piloting F-100's (Super Sabres) were to arrive at Webb AFB this afternoon, fly to San Angelo for the demonstration at 9 a.m. Tuesday and then return to Big Spring. Delegations from all major cities in Texas are expected for the conference. To attend from Big Spring are Jack Cook, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee; Wayne (Red) Smith, Chamber manager; C. O. Clemon Freeman, Webb AFB executive officer; and R. W. Whipkey.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Thanks City For Welcome

To The Editor: The people of Merkel will long remember the wonderful reception they received in Big Spring Friday Nov. 23, 1956. No other place could have been as good as Big Spring for the site of the Sundown-Merkel game. The kind hospitality and excellent work of your Chamber of Commerce made it so. We want to thank you and to thank the good people of your fine town for showing us you meant it when you said "welcome to our city." Sincerely, Onis Crawford, Mgr. Merkel Chamber of Commerce

Thanks It's Time To Replace Court

To The Editor: Former Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, ex-justice of the Supreme Court, commenting on the court's desegregation ruling says: "The court did not interpret the constitution — the court amended it." He characterized the court's action as "the demonstrated willingness to disregard our constitution, to invalidate the laws of states, and substitute for those a policy of its own, supported not by legal precedents but by writings of sociologists. Constitutionally speaking, our government is by and for the people. In no case is the court above the people. The servant is not greater than his master. Our people have voted by a large majority against integration of the races. How long are the American people going to submit to such an illegal and unconstitutional ruling. It is time we rid the court of political demagogues and replace them with experienced jurists. William N. Blansitt 708 Bell Street.

'Getaway' Car Drives To Jail

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Morals squad officer J. L. Smith was in the right place at the right time to prevent a bank robbery. Smith said he accompanied a chance acquaintance to a tavern Saturday night, where the man invited him to be his partner in a bank robbery "without no killin'." A getaway car was needed for the job. When the investigator of the plot was unable to find an unlocked parked car, Smith said that after much discussion he convinced the man he had an auto ideal for the job. And in it, the two shortly drove to the city jail.

Farm Policy Meeting Set For Tuesday

Twenty-four selected citizens will meet on Tuesday afternoon with the county judge and a member of the Howard County Commissioners court, the officers of the Farm Bureau and the Farmers Union to draft a policy program for farm activities in Howard County during the coming year. Jimmy Taylor, county agent, said the meeting is set for 2:30 p.m. It is in accord with a recommendation of the secretary of agriculture that all counties have such meetings and endeavor to set up a workable farm program to deal with their specific counties. The meeting will be in the county courtroom. He said the 24 men selected will include eight who represent the cotton farmers; three representing those who major in grain sorghums; two representing beef cattle, and one each representing the sheep, dairy and poultry industry. Taylor said that each man present would be urged to contact his fellows in his community and from them gather ideas and plans for the county program as a whole. Out of these suggestions would come, if the plan works as the department of agriculture hopes it will, a general program on farm policies of benefit to the agricultural industry of each county.

No Action On Airport Beacon

Howard County commissioners, with only three of their five regular members in attendance, were in session at the Howard County courthouse Monday morning. Payment of a few bills, discussion of certain road right-of-way matters and other routine business occupied the attention of the board. At noon no action had been taken on whether to send anyone to inspect the beacon given the county for its new airport by the CAA. The CAA has asked that the county make arrangements to remove the beacon from its present site near Wink. Arthur Stallings was not on hand for the meeting and R. H. Weaver, county judge, was engaged in a county court trial. Ralph Proctor, Red Gilliam and Earl Hull were the three commissioners at the meeting.

Russian Navy Second To U. S.

LONDON (AP)—An authoritative survey says Russia has built a navy second in size only to the United States, and that it lags far behind the Americans in guided missiles and atomic-propelled ships. The one advantage of the Soviet Union reported in the 1956-57 issue of Jane's Fighting Ships is its great fleet of more than 400 submarines — far more than the United States. Jane's said a large percentage are new, long-range vessels. The United States in recent years has concentrated on building new types of submarines, some powered by atomic energy, rather than increasing the size of its submarine fleet. Jane's said Russia and the United States have outstripped all the other navies of the world, including Britain's, in construction and experimental development. Since the end of World War II, Jane's said, Russia has built more cruisers and more destroyers than all other navies. Jane's said atomic energy and guided missile weapons already are an actuality in the U.S. Navy and predicted that within 10 years many American ships will have atomic power.

First Fire Call Is False Alarm

The fire station on the Northside had its first call Sunday, but it was not to a fire. Since the station opened Nov. 18, the firemen had not been in action until Sunday. The department got a call about a fire at Lara's Bakery at 506 N. Bell, but it turned out to be only a false alarm.

Electronics Holds Promise Of Fantastic, New World

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Reporter NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Step into your electronic life and home of tomorrow. Entire walls of your house glow with light, bright or dim, even in colors to suit your mood. You sleep in a bed without covers, but stay as warm or cool as you like. Youngster's muddy shoes are magically cleaned at the front door before their feet touch a rug. You live in a dust-free house, with the inside climate best adjusted for your health. Your dishes, automatically washed, can be automatically put away. At a football game in an open stadium you stay warm despite icy winds because of radiant heat. You drive there and back by car without traffic tie-ups. When you're ill, an electronic doctor helps find the trouble. At office and factory and farm, your job is easier, less tedious, you work a shorter day and week. These innovations are promised the seemingly magic wand of electronics from more than a dozen leading industries and laboratories engaged in electronic research. From their look ahead, the scientists see these potential changes from harnessing electrons to the service of humans: The home: Entire walls or ceilings are panels glowing with soft, luminous light, of any desired intensity, in colors warm or cool, gay or soothing. And silent, electronic refrigerating panels can cool or heat rooms. Your indoor climate is controlled electronically for the desired temperature and humidity despite outdoor changes. Or windows can be opened and closed automatically. In the kitchen are a silent electronic refrigerator with no moving parts, electronic ranges speedily cooking enticing foods, quick-thaw devices for frozen foods; ultrasonic and sterilizing dishwashers and clothes washers, even conveyor belts to put clean dishes where they belong; in the cupboard, electronically controlled de-humidifying compartments, or crisping compartments for foods such as cookies. At night you sleep encircled by warming rays from a radio-frequency canopy, needing no covers, in a bed that doesn't need making in the morning. The radiant canopy folds away above the headboard. Similar devices or special blankets could keep you cool in summer. You may clean house with an electronic wand waved over furniture to seize dust. Or have electronic precipitators which prevent dust from circulating in the first place. At the door is a special chamber which quickly cleans muddy shoes. In a special little room sits your own electronic "brain." You give it instructions the night before, putting a day's program on tape. Each family member can be awakened at the proper hour, to his favorite music; dinner can be started automatically at a set hour; a facsimile newspaper delivered to the breakfast table, the car warmed up in winter... and the "brain" could take care of unexpected things, like melting snowfall off the driveway. This "brain" or another calculator could help figure the budget, pay bills, give you answers in calculating income tax. TV and radio: Your TV screen is like a picture frame on the wall, bringing you programs in full color from anywhere in the world. By your own TV system, you can watch the picture playing in the yard, or see who's in the front door. You can tape and play back favorite TV programs, put your own home movies on your own TV set. You have a personal pocket radio about the size of a pocket watch. Health: You may add controlled amounts of negative ions, or charged atoms, to the air in your home, for research indicates this could help combat airborne allergies. Your doctor may use a automatic clinician device which makes simultaneous readings of temperature, heartbeat, blood pressure, and correlate them—and compare them with findings of past checkups—to help him in his diagnosis. Communications: You will see the person you're talking to by telephone—but only if you want to be seen. You can carry a little radio the size of a package of cigarettes so anyone can reach you and call you to the nearest telephone. You'll dial a telephone call to any telephone continent. Your telephone answer telegraph messages will fly faster. Electronics will speed purchase of tickets for planes, railroads, theater, football games, checking on reservations, delivering your reserved ticket into your hands. Autos and traffic: TV and electronics can help prevent—or untangle—traffic snarls, as well as speed safe traffic control over airports. Some super-highways may become automatic—control towers will take over the driving, braking, acceleration of your car, and removal of disabled cars. Office and factory: High speed computers, recording and printing machines will take much of the routine drudgery out of everyday work. Automation will boost production, cut costs, keep continuous track of inventories, start more goods flowing from the factory to fill depleted stocks. Farms: Computers can help the farmer plan his crop and livestock operations to get the best profit, whether prices go up or down. Electronics can help choose soil types, decide on proper field rotations for the best yields. In time farms, or parts of them, may be covered with plastic canopies, and weather or climate inside the canopy may be regulated for maximum control of heat, water, and defense against insects. When do some or all these things arrive? Depending on research progress, costs, and how much the public wants them. Electronics will surely bring a world where the experts forecast, you'll have more time for sports, for hobbies, for culture, for travel. But some experts wonder whether there could be opposite human effects — less creativity, less satisfaction from work, more idleness not laziness, but more inactivity. It could even be possible, says one engineer, for a dictator to capture human minds electronically, by putting built-in radios and electronic devices into the heads of infants, controlling their thoughts and reactions from childhood on to assure slaves. Most scientists expect electronic devices vastly to enrich human living.

Marine Slays Couple At Home, Then Kills Himself

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The bullet-riddled bodies of a man and a woman were found in a house just outside the Naval Air Station early today. Three hours earlier a Marine sentry at the station gate shot himself to death. Justice of Peace Johnny Roberts said the other two bodies were in a house where the sentry had been living. Their identities were not established at once. The sentry was Pfc. Charles Crawford, 20. A Marine Corps spokesman said Crawford, of El Dorado, Ark., borrowed a clip of 45-caliber revolver bullets from another sentry and shot himself in the head while two Marines watched. The man slain at Crawford's house was said to be a Marine, 21, stationed at the Marine barracks. His identity was withheld until kin are notified. The woman apparently still was in her 20s. So far as Marine barracks records show, Crawford was not married. Roberts said the man and woman found in the house apparently died instantly from bullets from a 45-caliber automatic pistol. The man had been shot three times. The woman was shot in the head. They were in bed. Peace Justice John Roberts related these details: Marine Pfc. James Woodard and Crawford went on duty at 1 a.m. today. Woodard said at 3:30 a.m. he was absent from the sentry house for a recess. Woodard said when he reentered the sentry house, Crawford borrowed Woodard's clip for his revolver. Crawford then told Woodard to call the corporal of the guard, Nicholas Wukovich. Woodard said he thought Crawford was joking. When he hesitated, Crawford shouted for the corporal. As Wukovich entered the sentry booth, Woodard said Crawford put the revolver to his head and pulled the trigger.

Kiwanis District Governor Speaks At Gathering Here

Paul Files, Paris, governor of the Oklahoma-Texas Kiwanis Club district, spoke to more than 90 Kiwanians and guests here Sunday evening on the program he has outlined for the organization in the coming year. Files was guest at a banquet at the Settles Hotel which brought to a close an afternoon meeting of club officers and committee chairmen for all of the towns in the Kiwanis Division. Big Spring Kiwanis Club was host. Towns represented included Midland, two clubs; Odessa, Snyder, Colorado City and Andrews. More than 100 were at the afternoon session. Many wives of Kiwanians were present and wives of local members were hosts to the visiting women. Bailey Chene, former district governor, Abilene, also spoke at the session. Other high officials in attendance included Frank Hood, Andrews, present lieutenant governor of the 22nd Division and Frank Wilson, Snyder, who is lieutenant governor-elect. Harve Clay, president of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club, said the visitors were well pleased with the entertainment provided and that the officials termed the meeting a success. Entertainers at the banquet were L. Charles Webb, organist, and L. Harvey Bice, vocalist, both of Webb Air Force Base.

12 Hungarian Refugees Meet Ike, Hear Him Slash Tyranny

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twelve Hungarian refugees met President Eisenhower today and heard him describe as the "ultimate tyranny" the exiling of thousands of Hungarians at bayonet point. The dozen fled their homes behind the Iron Curtain, along with scores of others already in this country, and were selected to meet the President at the White House—something they exclaimed joyfully couldn't happen in Hungary. Eisenhower shook hands with each of the 12, including 3 who were kept unidentified so as not to endanger their families back in Hungary. "I want to tell you," Eisenhower said, "that our country feels privileged in inviting you to the United States. We hope you have found nothing but courtesy and hospitality since you arrived. The suffering of your people have served from our standpoint at least one good purpose — to make stronger the friendship we have always felt to your country and to bring us closer together in our hearts." He added: "Recently, of course, the news for your country was particularly disturbing and shocking. Many thousands of your people have been taken from their homes by force and sent into exile at bayonet point. This is the ultimate tyranny... to a people. I want to tell you that this country not only respects it deeply but we will never agree that this is the kind of thing one country may do to justice to another." Eisenhower promised that American efforts will continue on behalf of those fleeing Hungary and that offers of food, medicine and other help for those that remain there still stand. A young man of 24 or 25, who fought in the uprising against the Reds in Hungary, spoke up to thank Eisenhower for the assistance this country has provided his people. He said the refugees in this country were determined to become good and useful citizens. After posing for pictures with 9 of the 12, Eisenhower chatted for 10 or 15 minutes with one of the unidentified refugees who speaks fluent English and gave him an eyewitness account of what happened in Budapest after the Russians moved in. Speaking for the group, Mrs. Eva Krausz told reporters:

"This thing cannot be happening in Hungary. I am very happy to be here. I am very happy that America thinks of us." The refugees flew into McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey Friday. Already one of them, little Tibor Kojas, a year and a half old, has picked up a bit of English. The little blond fellow, dressed in a bright blue and red snowsuit, laughed happily and called out "goodby" to Eisenhower. The President beamed back. Tibor has learned one other English word: "Okay." Tibor was present with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Kojas. His father is a physician. Mrs. Krausz was there with her husband and son Peter. The husband is a carpenter and glassworker. Also on hand were Imre Zakarias, an electronic engineer and inventor, and his wife and daughter. Zakarias, through an interpreter, expressed gratitude for the "warmness and closeness" of the White House reception and said "We are now satisfied we will be happy in this country." The 12 refugees were selected by voluntary agencies who have been helping them, to come to Washington after the President expressed the desire to meet some of them. They came down last night and the Air Force was flying them back today. So far they don't know where they will settle permanently in the United States. Eisenhower got a moment of their visit to him—a blue, red and green ribbon of the Hungarian colors which Mrs. Zakarias pinned to his coat lapel. The ribbon had a black background in memory of Hungarian freedom fighters who lost their lives.

Drillstem Test Planned On Wildcat Northwest Of City

Operators today prepared to take a drillstem test at the Ashmun-Hilliard-US Smelting No. 1, Graham, a wildcat in Howard County. The test is at 9,000 feet. The venture is 1 1/2 miles northwest of Big Spring. The straddle-packer drillstem test will be in the Canyon. Borden Phillips No. 1-B Clayton perforated between 6,900-7,000 feet and fractured with 10,000 gallons. Operator is now swabbing load oil. The venture is a site being plugged back. It completed originally in 1954 but plugged back earlier this month to try the Lower Spraberry. Site is C NW SE, 17-32-4n, T&P Survey, 13 miles southwest of Gall. Standard No. 1-A T. L. Griffin, six miles northwest of Vincent, pumped 12 barrels of oil and 25 barrels of water in 24 hours. Then it pumped five hours and recovered 10 barrels of new oil and 17 barrels of water. Operator is still pumping. Location is C NW NW, 35-25, H&T Survey. Dawson Texas No. 1 W. J. Beckham, a wildcat one and a half miles south of Lamesa, swabbed 317 barrels of load oil in 21 hours. This was between 70 and 90 per cent water. Operator set a retainer at 8,240 feet and squeezed off perforations. It is now waiting on cement to harden. Location is C NW SW, 17-35-5n, T&P Survey. McRae No. 1 Landers drilled to 11,112 feet in lime and chert. It is a 13,000-foot wildcat 14 miles east of Lamesa, 1,984 feet from north and 2,348 feet from east lines, Labor 4, League 280, Hutchinson CSL Survey. Humble No. 1 Stewart, in the Jo-Mill, drilled to 3,950 feet and today circulated to take drillstem test between 3,800-950 feet. Drill-site is 550 feet from north and east lines, 5-33-4n, T&P Survey, and 10 miles southeast of Lamesa. Humble No. 1 Hemphill projected to 6,484 feet in lime. The location is in the Mungerville South-east field, 660 feet from north and east lines, Labor 31, League 3, Taylor CSL Survey, and nine miles west of Lamesa. Howard Forest No. 1 Miner, a wildcat 13 miles north of Big Spring, deepened to 5,700 feet in shale. Location is 2,310 feet from north and east lines, 24-31-2n, T&P Survey. Cadden No. 1 Garrett, seven miles north of Big Spring, navigated to 3,223 feet in lime and shale. It is a wildcat to try the Spraberry, 1,980 feet from south and 2,010 feet from east lines, 48-33-2n, T&P Survey. Ashmun et al No. 1 Grantham is bottomed at 9,500 feet and today prepared to take a straddle-packer drillstem test between 8,905-9,018 feet. The wildcat venture is 1,957 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines 8-33-2n, T&P Survey. Williamson-Alstrin-Southwest No. 1 Anderson deepened to 5,072 feet in lime. Location is in the Big Spring field, C SE NE, 24-32-1n, T&P Survey, and eight miles northeast of Big Spring. Standard No. 1 Harvey Adams pumped 30 barrels of load and no water in 24 hours. Operator is still pumping. It is a wildcat five miles southeast of Ackery, C NE SW, 47-34-3n, T&P Survey. Standard No. 1 Burton swabbed nine hours and made 78 barrels of load and four barrels of water. It is still swabbing. The venture is C NE NE, 27-33-2n, T&P Survey.

Not Really Lost, Just Locked Up

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Four-year-old Mickey Impens wasn't really lost 24 hours, he was merely the victim of a misadventure. Police said his home is only half a block from North Hollywood junior high school and Mickey wandered over there to watch sports activities. Then he accidentally got locked in a washroom. A search party found him there, more than 24 hours after he left home. After hot soup and kind words, the youngster was pronounced fit again.

Booting Blueblood

That's none other than Britain's bonny Prince Charlie, center, in possession of a soccer ball and ready to give it a kick during a contest with London playmates from a school he joins for recreation. Playing soccer in public for the first time, the young prince emerged from 45 minutes of fast action without a scratch. After brown pants worn with a brown sweater and the team's standard attire, The London Daily Express, source of the photo, would not disclose how it was obtained.

2 Killed In Gas Blast

SPRINGER, N. M. (AP)—Leaking butane gas exploded in the basement of a cafe yesterday, spreading destruction through half of the town's main business block and killing two persons. The dead were T. A. (Turk) Griffith, 42, a widely known New Mexico peace officer here from his home at Los Alamos on a heasant hunting trip, and Pat Grant, 16. Griffith was in the restaurant when the blast let go. "There was a solid sheet of flame shooting upward from the cafe basement," said Marion Powers, a companion. "A table flew up in the air and came down on me, saving me when the wall collapsed. Many others were cut and bruised by flying glass and debris. A second explosion ripped out the front of a clothing store.

U. S. News Reports On Texas

Last week's issue of U. S. News & World Report contains a big spread on Texas, compiled by a team of editors who spent several weeks in the Lone Star State looking the place over.

One-word result of their investigation: Wow! The amazing story of Texas' progress in the last 20 years, particularly since the close of WW II, makes interesting reading; but we imagine most non-Texans will be most impressed by a special map which accompanies the series of articles.

This is an outline map of the United States, showing all state lines, with a map of Texas superimposed on it. Says the magazine:

A map of Texas would cover all of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, most of Pennsylvania, Virginia and part of Michigan, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina. Furthermore, Texas "is bigger than the combined areas of France, Belgium, Holland and Denmark."

It has "half the oil in America, and most of the known sulphur in the world." It possesses other mineral resources "from salt to silver." It grows more cotton than any other state, leads the nation in oil refining, has the biggest ranches and the most cattle, grows more rice than any of the states, and is growing like a weed.

By 1975, the magazine reckons, Texas' present 8.6 million people will number 12.1 million, and "by then Texas will be neck and neck with Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois for position as the third most populous state."

What do you mean, USN&WR, by the "third most populous state"? And what do you mean "by then"? Hedging?

Give That Last Little Help

We are getting so close on the United Fund drive that it is all the more painful to see some few volunteers delaying in their contacts. It is equally distracting to learn anew that some people just won't give until you go and personally extract it from them.

Campaign Chairman D. M. McKinney and United Fund President Champ Rainwater and all their division chairmen and other workers deserve a warm vote of thanks from our entire community. These men have set out to do a doubly tough job: to conduct the United Fund drive without any professional assistance, and to provide more funds for participating agencies without raising the over-all objective. Of course the success of the latter depends entirely upon the success of the former.

It has not been easy because too many people contented themselves with saying that "we have it made because we are not employing anyone to direct the campaign; we are saving and applying the difference." And having said that, they sat on their hands, assuming that a minor miracle had been passed.

Well, if any miracle has been passed, it has issued from the tireless hands of those who handled the fund raising effort. They deserve just one last bit of prompt and enthusiastic help, comparable with that which launched the drive. They deserve not only to reach the goal but to go over the top. If you are in a position to help by working your prospect cards or by giving generously to the United Fund, won't you step forward now?

U.S. Speaks Out For Human Liberty

WASHINGTON — Every now and then when American citizens of foreign birth or ancestry express themselves sympathetically toward lands where they have kinship or sentimental interests, a hue and cry arises about "hyphenated Americanism." Many Americans without such foreign ties speak out, too — and they get criticized for it as trying to involve America in foreign wars. Similarly, business men with profits to make abroad naturally express themselves for or against policies that may affect their relations with countries where they have investments. This, too, often brings adverse comment.

The argument most often advanced is that Americans sometimes put their own interests above those of the United States. What is often forgotten, however, is that Americans are not governed by the totalitarian concepts of suppression but speak out frankly in protest when human liberty is trampled upon anywhere in the world.

In fact, an examination of the platform planks of the two major political parties over a period of the past 100 years shows clearly that American citizens, irrespective of countries of origin or business affiliations, have expressed emphatically their sympathies with the cause of the oppressed in general and with the peoples in particular who have struggled for self-determination or independence.

As far back as 1898 the Democratic party's platform declared its "sympathy with the efforts of those noble patriots, who led by Gladstone and Parnell, have conducted their grand and peaceful contest for home rule in Ireland."

Then in 1896 both the Republican and Democratic platforms came out for the independence of Cuba from Spanish rule.

Only 26 years ago — in the San Francisco convention of the Democratic party — there were expressions of sympathy "for the unfortunate people of Armenia" and an appeal to our own government "to render every possible and proper aid to them in their efforts to establish and maintain a government of their own."

In the same year — 1920 — the Democrats in their platform expressed their "active sympathy with the people of China, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Yugoslavia, Poland, Persia and others who have recently established representative government and who are striving to develop the institutions of democracy."

"We favor the opening of Palestine to unrestricted Jewish immigration and colonization and such a policy as to result in the establishment there of a free and democratic Jewish Commonwealth."

The Republicans that same year said in their national platform: "In order to give refuge to millions of distressed Jewish men, women and children driven from their homes by tyranny, we call for the opening of Palestine to their unrestricted immigration and land ownership so that in accordance with the full intent and purpose of the Balfour Declaration of 1917 and the resolution of a Republican Congress in 1922, Palestine may be constituted as a free and Democratic commonwealth."

In 1948, the Democratic convention pledged "full recognition to the state of Israel" and approved "the claims of the state of Israel to the boundaries set forth in the United Nations resolution and consider that modifications thereof should be made only if fully acceptable to the state of Israel."

The Democrats, also in 1948, said: "The United States has traditionally been in sympathy with the efforts of subjugated peoples to attain their independence and to establish a democratic form of government. Poland is an outstanding example."

In that same year the Republicans said: "We welcome Israel into the family of nations and take pride in the fact that the Republican party was the first to call for the establishment of a free and independent Jewish commonwealth."

In 1952 and 1956 there were platform planks adopted at the two major party conventions telling the once free peoples of Central and Eastern Europe that they would not be abandoned, and expressing sympathetic interest in Israel.

Throughout the years the major political parties have repeatedly shown concern for the peoples of new republics abroad and have manifested a continuous sympathy for them in their efforts to attain or preserve their independence.

Medical Report

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. — A minister says too many churches are dead and don't know it.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Spike, of the Congregational Christian Churches, told a church conference: "There is always a need to examine the internal life of the fellowship to see if the heart is still beating or whether it is just the involuntary twitching of the muscles of a dead body."

Tito Is Feeling His Oats

WASHINGTON — Marshal Tito is feeling his oats.

First the Yugoslav president buried at the Kremlin the label "Stalinist"—a swear word in the Communist world today. At the same time he called on the Russians to grant all the satellites the sort of freedom Yugoslavia years ago won for itself.

Then Tito accused the Kremlin of kidnapping ex-Premier Imre Nagy of Hungary, Nagy and a group of officials were "chased by Russians as they left the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest."

And what was the Kremlin's reaction to this tough talk from its off-again, on-again friend Tito? The usual name calling and threats of reprisal?

Not quite. They took six pages of Pravda to defend themselves on the Stalinism and satellite charges. Tito did ask Tito to lower his voice lest he play into the hands of "imperialist and fascist elements."

And then, most interestingly, they accused Tito—though in fairly mild language — of spreading the idea that "Yugoslavia's path to socialism is the only true and even the only possible path for socialist development in almost all countries."

How times change. This is just what Tito was charging the Russians with doing when he broke with them during the Stalin regime. Only he was complaining, of course, that it was the Kremlin which was taking the our-way-is-the-only-way line.

Tito himself came up with some interesting thoughts. He said the Russians were wrong to intervene in the Hungarian revolt. But he adds in the next breath: "If with their intervention they saved socialism in Hungary, it was necessary and all this will one day become positive."

In other words: You shouldn't have done it but if it turns out all right for our side you did the right thing.

Tito was talking about the first clashes in Hungary, at a time when one Communist regime or another would have held power no matter who won.

He holds the Kremlin as dead right, though, in slaughtering Hungarians by the thousands when it looked as if "reactionaries" were moving in.

You can see his reasoning there, even though you deplore it: If Hungary can get away with de-throning a Communist government what's to stop other countries from doing it, too? Yugoslavia, for example.

Unquestionably there's a rift between Belgrade and Moscow. Associated Press correspondent Harold Mills reported from Moscow last night that the Nagy affair may have widened the rift "beyond the possibility of immediate reconciliation."

Tito fired a ship-sharp protest to Budapest over Nagy's disappearance.

He sent an almost identical one to Moscow saying he expects the Kremlin to do "everything necessary" to get the safe conduct agreement carried out.

Moscow hasn't replied yet but her answer can hardly be anything other than some form of: Who, me? Tito has made it plain he means, Yes, you. He isn't buying for a minute the Budapest legend that Nagy and his friends scooted off to Rumania of their own volition. Outside the ranks of Kremlin supporters, nobody else is buying it, either.

Problems Solved

MIAMI, Fla. — In case it's any consolation to you when hunting a place to sleep, Florida has 1,396 hotels, 5,414 motels and 11,538 rooming-houses which altogether can house 697,676 persons.

Or, if you're hungry: The state has 14,596 restaurants (3,100 in Miami's Dade County); a cooking device that can "broast" (broil-roast) a chicken in five minutes or a fish in three and a "radar range" that can cook a steak in 15 to 20 seconds.

Laws Broken

EAU CLAIRE, Mich. — The town treasury will get fatter now that it's once more possible to break a city law in Eau Claire.

The city ordinances were somewhat lost two years ago and a new 40-page set of laws has just been compiled and approved. For two years offenders had to be prosecuted under state laws and fines went to the state instead of the city.

Mass Production

SAN MATEO, Calif. — They might have had a little trouble with visitors, but Mrs. John Hilliard and Mrs. Lloyd Sloan successfully shared a room at Mills Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Hilliard gave birth to an 8-pound, 12-ounce girl. Mrs. Sloan to a 7-pound, 11-ounce son. For each mother, it was the 11th child.

Chain Letter

CLARKDALE, Ark. — It took 28 days for a letter to reach Clarkdale from Germany, after postmen stopped it at several Clarkdales along the way.

The letter addressed to "Clarkdale, U. S. A." "as first sent to Clarkdale, Mo., then Clarkdale, Miss., then Clarkdale, Ark. The post office, moving west, finally landed it in Clarkdale, Ark."

Real Backfire

QUESNEL, B. C. — When a truck driver for a letter to H. G. Roufousse backfired it produced more than noise. The resulting fire destroyed the cab.

Some Ways To Entice The Sand Man

Are you having trouble sleeping? Do you stay awake studying the ceiling light fixtures when other members of the family are snoring logs?

A fellow in Chicago named Peter Seigle, who calls himself a sleep psychologist, suggests the seven-point program listed here for courting sleep:

1. You need a certain amount of moderate fatigue following a day of moderate exercise. Try to go to bed at the same hour every night. Above all, relax every muscle, nerve and thought.

2. A moderately filled stomach—one of the things that keeps you awake, says Seigle, is a stomach a little too empty that sends grumbings to the brain and inhibits relaxation. On the other hand, exotic, heavy or ice-cold pre-bed snacks are apt to bring that sleepy feeling for a while. And bring on bad dreams, likely as not.

3. Fresh air. And it doesn't have to be cold. Abrupt changes of temperatures will, likely as not, bring on abrupt awakenings, from time to time. If you think you're sleeping good while shivering and rolled into a ball like a kitten, you're fooling yourself.

4. A darkened room helps. You might have taught yourself to sleep under a blinking sign with a street light from across the way bathing you in a spotlight but darkness is more conducive to good sleeping. Workers on night shifts and swing-shifts have been quoted as saying they can sleep only when they duplicate the established "night-time atmosphere."

5. Try to sleep amid familiar sounds and sights. City people find it hard to get used to the crickets and maybe the coyotes in the country. Rural dwellers are similarly plagued with the street cars and the toll of the courthouse clock in the city.

6. This may seem like a superfluous suggestion, but you might improve your sleeping habits by improving your bed and mattress. There are people in New Zealand who sleep while squatting on their heels with a mat tied around their neck to keep out the rain. Some animals are completely at ease dangling from a tree with their tails. If you're used to a mattress and pillows, I suggest you don't try to change.

7. Sleep in a room with a consistent, restful decor. Choose warm, quiet tones—those with an abundance of white in them. Distractions, such as flapping shades and pictures you disapprove of on the wall should be avoided.

I might add that the thought of money, and not the lack of it, helps. If you've paid the doctor bill, made the house payment and have enough cash on hand to bail out that sack of groceries you're planning on getting tomorrow, chances are good you won't be wrestling with The Sand Man.

Western Allies Deeply Divided

LONDON—With the use of naked force, Soviet Russia is consolidating its hold on its satellite empire as East and West resume what has every aspect of the cold war of the '40s, with all its virulence.

The fine words of the summit conference at Geneva of little more than a year ago are today hardly more than a dim memory. Judging by revelations of the extent of Soviet intrusion in the Middle East, the struggle was never really suspended and the hopeful words of Geneva were meant merely for Western consumption.

It is taken for granted at the highest level of government here that the newest Russian peace note, with its hint of acceptance of limited open skies inspection, is barely more than a propaganda exercise.

There is a major difference, however, between the cold war of the Stalin era and the cold war as it has now been resumed. In that earlier period the Western allies were closely united. Today, as a result of the British-French go-it-alone action, which was in large part the consequence of the long drift without any Western leadership in the Middle East, the West is deeply divided.

How deep the divide is neither the public in America nor in Britain has begun to understand. If one takes the word of the highest and most responsible officials in the government here, the difference in the Washington and London views of the crisis in the Middle East is such that a common policy is all but impossible.

"You believe the cancer can be treated with a poultice. We believe it is a threat to our very existence — to the survival of the West — that requires the most searching and drastic treatment."

These are the words of a senior officer of wide knowledge and experience speaking of the proposed American approach through a new program of economic aid to the Arab states to win them back to the West and thereby cement the peace.

In the British government's view, the Russian position of strength is so menacing to the life-blood of Western Europe—oil—that only through immediate, cohesive, resolute action on the part of the allies can the situation be saved.

According to this same senior officer,

President C. Camille Chamoun of Lebanon has sent an urgent appeal to both Washington and London, warning that he will be unable to maintain his pro-Western role without substantial arms assistance in view of the military buildup in neighboring Syria with every-growing help from Russia.

This reporter has been shown the text of a telegram sent by Prime Minister Anthony Eden to President Eisenhower on September 6, nearly two months before the British-French attack on Egypt, stating that the peril to the position of the West had become so great that the choice was between using force or "sitting by and waiting to perish."

To this message with its extraordinary urgency, President Eisenhower is said to have replied with something like surprise and pique, asking in effect why Britain was getting so excited. So finally came the act of desperation, long after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' original plan to apply economic pressures on Egypt to bring Nasser to reason on the Suez Canal had evaporated into thin air.

While this may seem in America a rationalization to help keep the Eden government in power, it is being accepted as truth by a growing body of opinion here. And however past events may be interpreted, the fact is that Russia in the new cold war era is entrenched in the Middle East with a degree of strength on which there may be differences but with a power both of arms and propaganda that neither the Czars nor Stalin were able to achieve through 200 years of striving.

Eden may in the next six weeks or two months depart. He will go, if he goes not with any grand gesture but in the well-bred way the Tories manage these things, with the excuse of nervous exhaustion and the need for a long rest. The first step, with the doctors' orders to rest, now appears to have been taken. His place is being taken by R. A. Butler, Lord Privy Seal.

Between Eden and Dulles is a long history of suspicion and distrust, and with the stigma on Eden of the go-it-alone attack, it can be argued that no relationship of trust with Washington can ever be re-established.

She's Not Worried Over Olympics

Probably due to some glandular deficiency, my interest in athletics has always been microscopic. And since I discovered that the Dodgers are not playing in the "world series" in Melbourne, my interest in the Olympics has slud, in the immortal words of Dizzy Dean, to zero-zero.

And I refuse to buy the general anxiety, reflected in the local sport pages, that a Soviet victory in the Olympics will definitely mark the decline and fall of the West. Russian victory in a muscle-match is not necessarily linked with the end of democracy.

For a long time I have viewed with skepticism the statement of Arthur Wellesley, first Duke of Wellington, that "the battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton." And apparently His Grace shared that skepticism, for subsequent Dukes of Wellington have been denying ever since that their illustrious ancestor ever made such a juvenile statement after whupping Napoleon.

In view of the fact that the salty old duke once said that "our army is composed of the scum of the earth — the mere scum of the earth," he either had no respect for the old school tie or else didn't keep good track of his quotes.

If his army failed to report direct from the playing fields, the duke nonetheless eyed its recruits appreciatively. When a draft of troops was sent to him during the Spanish campaign in 1809, he said, "I don't know what effect these men will have upon the enemy, but, by God, they terrify me."

So — the duke did not rely wholly on the playing fields of Eton in mopping up the Little Corporal, perhaps we will be able to muddle through somehow even if the Commies score a few more points than we do in Melbourne.

There is even one segment of the Olympics in which I hope we cannot even begin to compete with the Russians. That's in the muscle-mold division. In a great nation such as ours where it is the unalienable right of every woman to go to the beautician's once a week, stick to a diet and own a two-way stretch, it is unthinkable that we can match, lump for lump and bulge for bulge, the Russian female gladiator.

"Russian women will probably sweep the spotlight event at Melbourne," I have just read in a sports magazine. This is no melancholy prediction as far as I am concerned. In fact, it is cause for solid satisfaction when I examine the picture of Galina Zybina, touted to win the event for the U. S. S. R., and realize that if she had a crewcut at the University of Oklahoma would probably be scouting Gail... for full-back.

My ideal of the woman athlete is Eleanor Holm who looked (and still does) like a living doll and trained on champagne. In my book, it is far, far better for a woman to be addressed as "Cuddles" than "Champ."

Sure, I hope we win in Melbourne. But if we don't, the jig isn't up. Not by a long sight. Not until the Dodgers get into the act.

Heavy Checkout

COLUMBUS, Ga. — A man checked in to a motel here, paid for his room and in the middle of the night checked out with the following items:

A table-model television set, four sheets, two bedspreads, two lamps, two blankets, four towels, a bath cloth, a small rug, four pillows and four pillow cases.

The hotel manager valued the loot at $244.75.

No Comment

SEATTLE — An apartment prowler's target baffled Jack Hansen. He took all the feathers from Hansen's pet parakeet.

"And the feathers were left on the floor behind my desk," Hansen added. "Nothing else was touched. Who would do a thing like that?"

As for the parakeet, it wasn't talking.

Make Your Front Door A Big Christmas Card

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Light up for a bright Christmas, outdoors or indoors. You may create charming outdoor lighting arrangements, without having your house resemble a pizza pie store front.

Jolly Santas, reindeer, angels, snowmen, carolers and Christmas stars may all light up your house in true Christmas spirit. You can get good sized figures of this type made out of durable plastic for outdoor use and wired to spread a glow of light.

Doors and windows may be beautifully decorated with pine and light combinations. Pine rope may be obtained at florists, cut any length, and interspersed with lights to make attractive arrangements. Use it as a frame or in swab effects across the top of the door.

If the door has a peaked portico, set up diagonal rows of lights to cast a multi-colored ray from the top of the doorway to the edges of the portico.

A spotlight may be screwed into a porch ceiling socket to floodlight the floor of a porch and a spray of silvered green boughs, colorful ribbons, large Christmas ornaments and sprigs of pine at the door.

Candy canes, colorful stockings and Santa Claus may be used right on the door in candy box arrangements. Tin foil bells may hang in the door spotlight too.

Light picture windows in the same fashion as doors, draping them with a curtain of greens or making a frame of the pine rope. A tree set up indoors may help the window capture the Yule-tide spotlight.

If there is no tree indoors at the window, electric candeliers or miniature Santas may be placed on the indoor sill to fill in the gap.

Two outdoor evergreens of different heights growing on the same side of the house may be decorated this way: Emphasize them with two outdoor plastic figures of unequal size. One about 30 inches will be tall enough next to a full grown tree.

A smaller 19-inch snowman or Santa may be used next to smaller trees or bushes. Trim both trees with different colored lights in the same pattern.

Noel, Noel!

A glowing Christmas card theme can add cheer to your front door. Pine rope and plastic figures will make the job easy with a beautiful result.

Housewarming Honors Mr., Mrs. James Horton

Honorees for a housewarming Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. James Horton, who have recently moved to their new home at 422 Hillside Drive.

Mrs. O. R. Dunlap registered guests assisted by Mrs. Charles Cain and Mrs. Bob Wren. Other hostesses, who alternated in serving were Mrs. Ross Hill, Mrs. Pearl Cagle, Mrs. B. J. Petty, Mrs. Foy Dunlap, Mrs. Rufus Rogers and Mrs. Jack McKinnon.

The dining area was decorated with an arrangement of yellow gladioli and yellow and bronze chrysanthemums held in a crystal container shaped like a swan.

The refreshment table was covered with a cloth. The turkey, made of tiny wine chrysanthemums, was surrounded by fall leaves and berries. This formed the central arrangement, and napkins in fall colors were used.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Luther Horton, and Mr. and Mrs. Mathis Simmacher and Linda, all of Portales, N. M.

About 65 guests called during the afternoon.

Junior High School To Present Annual Holiday Programs

Because of the increased enrollment at Big Spring Junior High School, two assembly programs will be presented Wednesday.

The first program will be presented at 11 a.m., and the same program will be featured again at 2 p.m. Parents of the students are invited to attend either of the programs.

Bobby Evans, student council president, will act as master of ceremonies. The choir, composed of eighth and ninth grade students, will present a musical selection.

"What Thanksgiving Means to Me" will be the subject for talks by Todd Dittloff and Joyce York.

Officer Nomination At LAPM Meeting

New officers were nominated at the Friday evening meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary Post Militant. Election will be held at a later date.

Initiated into LAMP Friday was Lena Fay Franks.

It was announced that on Dec. 14 inspection and a Christmas party would be held. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at Odd Fellows Hall.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will be the guest speaker.

"The Lord's Prayer" will be sung by the Melody Makers, a group of seventh grade girls.

SURPRISE MEAT LOAF
Ingredients: 4 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 2 slices bread, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 to 3/4 teaspoon dried crushed herbs, 1 small clove garlic (crushed), 1 pound ground beef chuck.

Method: Hard-cook 3 of the eggs; shell and reserve. In medium-sized mixing bowl, beat remaining egg just enough to combine yolk and white. Add milk. Cut bread into tiny cubes or crumb and add.

Peel and grate onion fine; add onion pulp and juice with salt, pepper, paprika, dried herbs and crushed garlic. Mix well until bread disintegrates. Mix in ground beef thoroughly.

Pack about half of mixture into small loaf pan (about 7 1/2 by 4 by 2 inches) that has been rinsed with cold water. Arrange hard-cooked eggs (the long way) over center of meat; pack remaining meat mixture over eggs. Turn out on oven platter or small shallow pan.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 minutes. Turn out and serve. Makes 6 servings.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Doris Day Puts Stress On Nutritious Foods

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — When I met Doris Day at the Beverly Hills Tennis Club the other day she was wearing a slim skirt and a sweater that was figure revealing.

"You look just the same as you did a long time ago when you first came to Hollywood," I told Doris. "How do you keep your figure?"

"I am very conscious of what I eat," Doris explained. "I wouldn't think of using a low grade gas in my car because it wouldn't run well. The same idea applies to the human body. I know I don't feel well when I don't eat nutritious foods."

"When I was touring with Les Brown's band I'd grab coffee and a doughnut for breakfast and for lunch we'd hurriedly eat a sandwich and a Coke. When I started working in pictures I found I didn't have enough energy to get through the morning. The doctor told me I'd feel entirely different if I'd eat a good breakfast and I do. I just finished making "Julie" for MGM and I feel so energetic that I haven't even thought of taking a vacation.

"Breakfast is the most important meal of the day," Doris exclaimed. "It's what you work on all day. It's the least fattening meal because you burn it up. I have a farmer's breakfast—a tall glass of orange juice, a slice of whole grain toast, and I alternate eggs and bacon with a ground-round patty, a dish of yogurt with

Children Find It Fun To Give As Well As Get

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you want to teach your youngster to be generous, encourage her to give.

Many children, particularly in the one-child family, grow up with the selfish viewpoint that everything revolves around them. Parents, doting relatives and friends are unwittingly responsible. Then too, it is easier on the pocketbook to remember just one child in the family, and so there are likely to be many more presents than other youngsters get.

Christmas is the time for mother to play up the generosity role. Instead of stressing the "what-do-you-want-for-Christmas" theme, Mom should, instead, suggest that Junior or Sis write to Santa Claus requesting gifts for others, save pennies for that purpose and observe the needs of the recipient before the gift is purchased.

Mom could emphasize the plan this way to her youngster: "Let's see now, Aunt Mary likes soap. She also likes cologne, dusting powder, bath oil. Take your choice of one of those, whichever you can afford."

That should show a youngster that a gift must be well thought out, that it is not given just to

Weekend Traffic Deaths Reach 30

By The Associated Press
Traffic fatalities soared in Texas this weekend when at least 30 persons met their deaths in highway crashes.
It was one of the largest weekend violent death tolls of the year with a total of 44. In addition to the 30 traffic fatalities, eight were shot to death, four died in fires, one was a victim of poison, and one was struck by an airplane.
Five multiple death highway accidents claimed 19 lives. In one five persons died. In two, four persons were killed and two other accidents each claimed three lives.
Five died at Houston Saturday night when a car being chased by police crashed into another one. Elliott McDonald, 39, and F. R. Mullins, both of Silsbee, were killed and Miss Alice Reelford, 30, of Silsbee died Sunday. They were in the car that collided with the car police were chasing. Johnny Phillips, 23, of Houston, was killed in the stolen car and one of his two companions, Edward Woods, 25, died Sunday.
Four were killed in a two-car crash Saturday night three miles north of Clute. They were Tommy Freeman, 16, and Floy Beets, a teen-ager, both of Velasco; and Mrs. Annette Hardin, 20, and her infant son, William Vance Hardin.
Four died in a head-on collision Saturday just east of Powell. They were Eva Mitcham, 17, of Powell; Ola King, 39, Mae King, 6, and Jimmy Jones, 32, all of Kerens.
A head-on crash east of Littlefield Friday night killed Loyd Butler, 17, of Anton; Jose Rocardo Chapa, about 25, of Lubbock, and his 2-month-old child.

Beatrice Bartley, 50, of Ingram; Margaret Blevins of Ingram, and John Jefferson, 68, of Kerrville, were killed in a head-on collision three miles west of Kerrville Saturday night.
Mrs. Emma Findelsen, 70, of Sealy, died of a gunshot wound and a beating officers said she received from her husband, Willie, 82. Justice John Matejka said the man shot and beat his wife to death Saturday and then died of a heart attack.
Cheryl Dunn, 3-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn of Splendora, was killed Sunday night in a two-car wreck 12 miles southwest of Conroe.
Willie Bradford, 24, of Austin was charged with murder Sunday in the fatal shooting of Willie Pannell, 42, at a tavern.
Charlie Rose, 25, of Uvalde, was killed in a collision with a truck 12 miles north of Uvalde Sunday.
Ned Goree, 32, of Corsicana, was shot to death Sunday. Leonard Coy, 35, was being held on a murder charge.
Mrs. Jessie Partridge of Houston was killed Sunday in a two-car crash near Sealy.
A man identified as Henry Cooper was found dead of a shotgun wound Sunday in front of a Dallas building.

Valley Civic Leaders Aid English Woman On Visit

MISSION (AP)—A young Englishwoman extended her weekend visit to the Rio Grande Valley today as the guest of civic leaders who had read she was having a bad time during a U.S. tour.
But Mayre Rous, 25, attractive 5-foot-4 daughter of a British earl, was concerned that some reports would worry her parents.
She said reports indicated she was broke, stranded and having a rough time finding a job.
"I haven't been broke and if I were, I suppose I could have written home for money," she said.
Mayre lost most of her money in a taxicab Christmas Eve while visiting friends in New York. She soon got a job in an advertising agency. Later she cared for children in Virginia.

Last spring an English girl friend who lives in California took Mayre to San Francisco. There were visits with family friends and other child care work before she went to Houston to see a schoolmate who had married a Texan.
In Houston, the publicity began. Rio Grande Valley leaders invited her to be weekend "guest of honor." She arrived here Saturday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hall.
Hall promised Mayre transportation to New York "anyway she wants to go" after her stay in the Valley. She has said she wants to be in New York on Wednesday.

Longshoremen Return To Work For 'Cool-Off'

NEW YORK (AP)—An army of 60,000 longshoremen marches back to work in ports from Maine to Texas today to start moving ships and cargo tied up by their nine-day strike.
A federal court restraining order issued Saturday ended the walkout for a temporary "cooling off" period.
Several thousand members of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. hurried back to the piers over the weekend. Workers returned to their jobs in New York, Jersey City and Hoboken, N. J.; New Orleans, Hampton Roads, Va., and Portland, Maine.
The strike started Nov. 15 in a contract dispute between the independent ILA and the New York Shipping Assn. The employers' group represents 170 shipping and stevedoring firms.
The walkout immobilized more than 200 ships in East and Gulf Coast ports and cost the national economy an estimated 20 million dollars a day.
Last Thursday President Eisenhower initiated invocation of the Taft-Hartley law. He said continuation of the strike would "imperil the national health and safety."
The government injunction is for a 10-day period. Before the 10 days are up, the government is expected to press for extension of the order for the full 80-day "cooling off" period provided in the Taft-Hartley law.
ILA President William V. Bradley ordered his men back to work shortly after the injunction was issued.
Meanwhile, both sides said they are "willing and ready" to resume contract negotiations.
On a local television show yesterday, both Bradley and Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the shipping association, agreed the strike had been "unnecessary."
Chopin cited the employees' financial loss, however, and added: "We were still in negotiations when Mr. Bradley decided to hit the bricks."
Bradley replied that the association did not bargain "in good faith."
The main issue in the dispute has been the union's demand for a single Atlantic and Gulf Coast contract with the shippers.
The shipping association insists it cannot sign a contract covering ports outside New York.

Egyptian Crisis Brought A Silent Coup To Sister Syria

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Egypt's crisis brought a silent coup to sister Syria.
The country was brought under martial law—proclaimed the day fighting broke out in Egypt. Control of the army, empowered to enforce the martial law, is in the hands of a group of pro-Soviet officers under the current strong man, Col. Abdul Hamid Saraj.
These officers are not Communists. But they place a high value on Soviet arms and Soviet political support. They permit no criticism of the Russians.
The night martial law was declared, Damascus had its first "air raid." Thereafter the sirens wailed frequently.
So far as the frightened and unsophisticated population was concerned, the raids were real. The sandbagged and blacked-out buildings of Damascus heightened the illusion of imminent danger. Anti-aircraft batteries fired often.
The "air raids" also impressed on the public the need for continued martial law, which left the army in full control.
When the big crisis broke in Egypt, the civilian government ordered a military guard around the pumping stations for Iraq Petroleum Co. pipelines. That same night all three stations were blown up, halting the flow of Iraqi oil not only to the Mediterranean and Europe, but to Syria herself. (Iraqi Petroleum is owned by British, American, French and Dutch interests.)

The press was deliberately blinded to the Soviet military subjugation of Hungary. Not a line of news from any Western source was carried by the press or radio. Only the Moscow radio and the Soviet official news agency Tass were quoted.
When Prime Minister Nehru made his statement Nov. 19 on the world's crises, the Indian legation in Damascus gave the Syrian government a translation for publication. Nehru's criticism of the Russians for the Hungarian events was suppressed. Only the Middle East sections of Nehru's remarks were used.
This was the work of Saraj. This colonel of about 32 is a Nationalist in the style of Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser.
He is pro-Soviet in the sense that he places a high value on Soviet assistance. He is not considered pro-Communist.
A handsome Arab, Saraj is a powerful, tough-looking man about 5 feet 7, barrel chested, with sleek black hair, and piercing eyes. Most observers credit him with being sincere in the belief he is doing right for Syria.
A great admirer of Nasser,

Saraj has surrounded himself with a group of officers similar to Nasser's revolution council in Egypt. Saraj overshadowed the army chief of staff, Gen. Nazam al Edin and became the top man in Syria's 60,000-man army.
Up to four months ago, when Al Edin became chief of staff, this army was defensive. With an enormous influx of Soviet armament, it took on an offensive look.
The army is equipped with Soviet T34 tanks, Soviet heavy mobile artillery, Czechoslovak machine guns and small arms and large quantities of army vehicles. It has two dozen Soviet MIG jet fighters on order. There does not seem to be any influx yet of Soviet military or technical personnel.
Pro-Soviet sentiment is strong within the army, largely because of these arms and because of the events in Egypt.

11 Firemen Burn To Death

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Eleven fire fighters burned to death last night when they were trapped while battling a hot spot of the 33,000-acre Cleveland National Forest fire, forest supervisor Walter Puhn reported.
He said eight of the men were inmates from the Viejas Honor Farm and the other three were U. S. Forest Service personnel.
Six other fire fighters managed to flee to safety, Puhn said, as lightning-fast flames swept up from the dry San Diego River bed near Eagle Peak, two or three miles above the El Capitan Reservoir. The scene is about 30 miles northeast of San Diego.
The fire, which started Saturday morning from a trash fire on the Inaja Indian reservation, is one of the worst in recent California history.
The perimeter of the east-moving blaze is estimated to be 40 to 50 miles. It advanced yesterday into El Monte Canyon, a half mile west of El Capitan Dam, a city reservoir, and threatened El Monte County Park, 22 miles from San Diego.

No Evidence Negro Inferior

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of a psychological measuring service reported today he has been able to find no scientific evidence that Negroes are less intelligent than white people.
Robert D. North, assistant director of the Educational Records Bureau, New York, said in a report prepared for the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, Jewish service organization:
"If the nation's school systems were segregated on the ability to learn, color lines would be crossed in a way that would bewilder advocates of white mental supremacy."
The Educational Records Bureau conducts psychological tests and entrance examinations for secondary schools. The North report, paid for by the Ford-financed Fund for the Republic, was released at the Anti-Defamation League's annual meeting here.
North's findings were along the same line as those of a group of 18 social scientists who said on Oct. 15 that there are no "innate racial differences in intelligence" between the white and Negro races.
On Sept. 17 a Villanova University professor, Frank C. J. McGurk, wrote in the magazine U. S. News & World Report that it had been "demonstrated over and over" that Negroes as a group do not have the learning capacity of whites.
North said that according to scientific evidence whatever differences show up in intelligence tests between the races may well be due to differences in the circumstances under which individuals grew up.
"The evidence that hereditary factors account for differences is so weak as to be virtually nonexistent," he said.

Ten years ago you could reach 3,555 telephones with a local call in Big Spring

TODAY, YOU CAN REACH 3 TIMES AS MANY

A telephone is valuable only because it keeps you in touch with other people. The more people you can reach with a local telephone call, the more valuable your service.

Today, you can reach almost three times as many telephones in Big Spring homes and businesses as you could just ten years ago.

This is partly due to Big Spring's growth, of course. But one big reason for the bigger value you get today is the fact that more families today want and can afford telephone service. Ten years ago, only 2% out of every 10 families here had telephones. Today 6% out of 10 have telephone service—pretty conclusive evidence that it's a good bargain.

A lot of work and planning go into the job of making telephone service a bargain—and a lot of money, too. That's why a sound, healthy telephone company is important to practically everyone in Big Spring. A company that can be confident of earning a fair profit can afford to plan and build ahead to give you more and more for your money.

What the telephone company means to Big Spring

EMPLOYER... provides good jobs for 111 of your neighbors who earn $411,100 a year—and spend most of it here in Big Spring.

TAXPAYER... pays $34,162 a year in local taxes alone—enough to cover the cost of educating 137 Texas grade school children for a year.

BUYER... buys thousands of dollars worth of supplies and services from Big Spring firms.

In just ten years, telephone growth has created 39 good, new jobs for Big Spring people—and greatly increased all our contributions to Big Spring's welfare and prosperity.

By scoring 60 points against Sunday here the other night, Merkel probably set a Memorial Stadium point record that will stand for some time.

The Big Spring Steers aren't apt to tally that many points any time in the next few years. Neither are they likely to have that many touchdowns (nine) scored against them.

Carroll Benson, the veteran Merkel coach, was highly impressed with the reception he and his fellow townspeople received here.

He liked the turf and the lights at Memorial Stadium plus the cordiality shown him by HCJC officials as well, so much so that he expressed determination to try and get Sonora to come here for the second round game. He was outvoted, however.

A couple of interested observers at Friday night's game were Gene Gibson, freshman basketball coach at Texas Tech; and Wayne Bonner, the one-time Big Spring coaching aide who is now head mentor at Anson.

Gibson was interested in the basketball potential in Merkel's tall quarterback, Robert McLeod, who is apt to rate all-state honors in both football and basketball this school year.

Bonner, whose Anson team met and lost to Merkel by eight points early in the year, expressed admiration for Big Spring's newest athletic facility and said it was a real credit to the city.

Wayne says he gets hit hard by graduation this year.

Don Oliver, the Abilene scribe who also saw the game, said the Big Spring press box was one of the finest high school facilities he's ever been privileged to see.

The press box here was designed with every idea in mind to make it easier for the working staff.

Sundown should be tough in football again next year, probably good enough to win its own conference (5-A) easily.

Of all the Roughies who suited out here Friday night, only seven will not return in 1957. They are Carl Chapman, reserve back; LeRoy Chapman, regular guard; David Gist, regular end; Bill Carter, regular fullback; Dale Williams, reserve halfback; John Thomas, regular guard; and Rodney Blackwell, reserve tackle.

Red Lewis, the HCJC instructor likes to tell about the time his Decatur College quarterback, Hugh Hamm, lined up behind the guard rather than the center and started barking signals.

Hamm didn't know he was in the wrong place until the guard started kicking like a mule and lowered the boom on Hugh.

Hugh is now one of the Seventh Grade coaches here.

Lewis has been informed he'll serve as HCJC baseball coach next spring. Coach Harold Davis, who normally has the chore, will be busy with track.

Incidentally, one of the HCJC sprinters, Charles Brown, dropped out of school recently. And Harold Hicks, a quartermiler, doesn't yet know whether he'll have time to run track next year.

Snyder Is Favored To Reach Finals

By The Associated Press
Texas schoolboy football pushes pell-mell into the four-way fight for state championships this week with only one outstanding favorite—Abilene in Class AAAA.

Classes AAAA and AAA will be opening the state playoffs. Classes AA and A will be moving into the second round.

Mighty Abilene, which has won 33 straight games and twice has been state champion, is considered an easy choice to wrap up its third consecutive crown.

In Class AAA Snyder and Nederland are mild favorites to reach the finals.

In Class AA, it appears that Stamford, the defending champion, and Deer Park should meet in the title battle.

In Class A the pendulum swings toward Stinnett in the north and Hondo in the south.

Abilene meets Ysleta in the first round of the Class AAAA playoff at Abilene Friday and the only question appears to be how big a score the Eagles will run up.

MERKEL FANS LAUD TOWN

Merkel football fans apparently are well pleased that Big Spring was chosen as the site for their bi-district football game with Sundown last Friday night.

"I don't believe I've ever seen a town more courteous than Big Spring was during the play-off," said Sylvan Mellinger, secretary of the Merkel Quarterback Club. Mellinger also said arrangements for the game and other preliminary details "were perfect."

In his letter to Red Smith, Chamber of Commerce manager, Mellinger said he was expressing the gratitude of all Merkel fans "for the way you made us feel at home."

"In the very near future, we hope it will be our pleasure to play host to the people of Big Spring," he wrote.

prices have been pegged at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. If students wait to purchase the tickets until they get to the gym, they will have to pay an additional ten cents, however.

Dan Lewis, one of the junior high school coaches, will serve as referee of all the bouts.

Perhaps the best fight of the night will be the welterweight struggle between Froxy Forrest and Buddy Watson. Forrest is a former Fort Worth resident who competed in Golden Gloves tournaments down that way. Watson is a slugger who is apt to end the fight at any moment.

One division champion has already been crowned. He is Charley Engle, a bantamweight. He'll see action in an exhibition tonight, nonetheless.

Here are the pairings for tonight's card: FLYWEIGHT — Warren McCrary vs. Gerald Foster.

BANTAMWEIGHT — Charles Engle vs. unnamed opponent. This will be an exhibition, since Engle has already been crowned champion.

A&M Can Win Clear Crown On Thursday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
The Southwest Conference football race moves down the last lap this week with only one question to be decided: Will Texas A&M be undisputed champion or be tied for it?

The Aggies, already with half the title in their possession, meet Texas in Austin Thursday in a game filled with tradition and an iron-fisted jinx.

Texas A&M never has beaten Texas in the 32 years of Memorial Stadium and must do it to win the whole championship.

Texas Christian, already in the Cotton Bowl and still able to tie for the title if A&M should succumb once more to the hex of the Austin stadium, plays Southern Methodist at Dallas Saturday. Victory will give TCU undisputed second place even though A&M wins as expected.

It will be the end of the trail for the Aggies, who are barred from bowl games because they're on NCAA probation.

In the comparative quiet of Baylor stadium in Waco Saturday Baylor will be seeking victory over Rice in order to keep its bowl hopes alive. There are indications that the Golden Bears will be invited to the Sugar Bowl if they wind up with a victory over the hapless Owls. Baylor also could tie the Texas Christian for second place in the conference race if TCU should lose to Southern Methodist.

The unofficial totals as they now stand are U. S. 157; Russia 97. No other team is even close. The Russians can be expected to draw nearer later in the games when the events in which they specialize are contested.

Weightlifter Tommy Kono, from Sacramento, Calif., who won the Olympic lightweight championship four years ago, broke the world record in the heavyweights in winning the gold medal.

Yale's comeback idol and Jack Kelly, Jr. led a parade of six American rowing entries into Tuesday's final and the American weight lifters moved everyting but the Olympic stadium.

Bobby Morrow, gunning for a 100-200-meter "double," breezed through two heats into the semifinals along with teammates Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan. and Andy Stanfield, the 1952 champion from Jersey City, N.J.

Although Morrow, the flash from Abilene Christian, pulled a thigh muscle, he is expected to be a strong contender for tomorrow's races.

Failure of Cy Young to repeat in the javelin toss was a major disappointment to the American team after the giant rancher from Modesto, Calif. had broken the Olympic mark in the qualifying round. All three of Uncle Sam's men failed to make the finals.

Even before the night weight lifting events were completed, the U.S. team had picked up 49 more points and Russia had added nine. The U.S. increased its lead in the unofficial point total over the Soviets to 157-97.

Courtney, husky former Fordham hall miler from Livingston, N.J. outgouged Great Britain's Derek Johnson in the straightaway after Johnson forged into the lead around the last turn. The two great runners with Audun Boyesen of Norway and P.H.'s Arnie Sowell, the early leader, in hot pursuit, battled right up to the tape. Courtney finally won by a yard in new Olympic record time of one minute 47.7 seconds and virtually collapsed.

Sowell, who has battled Courtney in so many races, finished fourth, after setting the early pace.

from among Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Syracuse, Navy and Pitt. Though unbeaten, Tennessee won't be sure of the SEC crown unless the Vols defeat Vanderbilt Saturday. Should they falter, Tech could walk in by whipping Georgia.

Navy plays Army in Philadelphia with a possible Cotton Bowl bid as added incentive. Syracuse concluded its campaign Nov. 17 by wallowing Colgate 61-7. Pitt's chances faded a little in a concluding 7-7 tie with Penn State. TCU could save some embarrassment in Dallas by tying for the Southwest title. That depends on a Texas upset of Texas A&M and a Horned Frog victory over Southern Methodist.

Baylor can still tie the TCU in the final standings but that confusion already has a solution. In case of a tie the winner of their regular season meeting gets the nod and TCU has edged Baylor 7-6.

Americans Increase Lead In Games At Melbourne

MELBOURNE (AP) — The United States added to its big lead over Russia in the unofficial team point scoring in the Olympic games today by winning two gold medals in track and field and one in weight lifting.

One world standard and two Olympic marks fell as the Americans again dominated the competition.

Bob Richards, the La Verne, Calif., preacher, and Tom Courtney, sturdy middle distance runner from Livingston, N.J., each accounted for an Olympic record and an American victory.

The world record fell before the strong arm of Egil Danielsen, Norwegian javelin thrower who achieved the remarkable distance of 281 feet, 2 1/4 inches in the final round of tosses after all three American entries, including defending champion Cy Young of Modesto, Calif., had been eliminated.

Richards reached the Olympic record height of 14 feet 11 1/2 inches in the vault, a quarter of an inch over his winning mark in 1952. Courtney, pushed to the limit by the finishing kick of Britain's Derek Johnson, won the 800 meters in record time of 1:47.7.

Betty Cuthbert of Australia equaled the Olympic record of 11.5 seconds for the women's 100 meter sprint.

American oarsmen and other athletes fared almost as well as the United States collected 49 points in the unofficial scoring with the day's events still incomplete. Russia had gathered only nine points by the end of the afternoon competition.

The unofficial totals as they now stand are U. S. 157; Russia 97. No other team is even close. The Russians can be expected to draw nearer later in the games when the events in which they specialize are contested.

Courtney finally won by a yard in new Olympic record time of one minute 47.7 seconds and virtually collapsed.

Sowell, who has battled Courtney in so many races, finished fourth, after setting the early pace.

from among Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Syracuse, Navy and Pitt. Though unbeaten, Tennessee won't be sure of the SEC crown unless the Vols defeat Vanderbilt Saturday. Should they falter, Tech could walk in by whipping Georgia.

Navy plays Army in Philadelphia with a possible Cotton Bowl bid as added incentive. Syracuse concluded its campaign Nov. 17 by wallowing Colgate 61-7. Pitt's chances faded a little in a concluding 7-7 tie with Penn State. TCU could save some embarrassment in Dallas by tying for the Southwest title. That depends on a Texas upset of Texas A&M and a Horned Frog victory over Southern Methodist.

Baylor can still tie the TCU in the final standings but that confusion already has a solution. In case of a tie the winner of their regular season meeting gets the nod and TCU has edged Baylor 7-6.

ROSE BOWL SET

Bowl Picture Is Still Confusing

By BOB HOOBING
The college football season has almost run its course but the bowl picture is almost as confusing as it is in mid-November.

The Rose Bowl offers the one exception. Iowa and Oregon State captured the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference championships and are set there.

Saturday's only contribution toward clarification was the decision that Texas Christian would be the Cotton Bowl host for the second straight year following a tough 20-17 decision over Rice.

It's normal for the Southwest Conference champion to handle the job but league leader Texas A&M, with only a Thursday date with Texas remaining, is ineligible due to NCAA probationary action.

Along with the Aggies, rated No. 4 nationally, top ranked Oklahoma and sixth-rated Miami are out of post-season consideration.

Oklahoma is blocked by the Big Seven Conference ruling against successive appearances in its Orange Bowl tie-up with the Atlantic Coast. Miami is another NCAA "bad boy."

Because Oklahoma can't go, runnerup Colorado will.

Here's the bowl situation at a glance:

Rose: Iowa vs. Oregon State.

Orange: Colorado vs. Clemson, Duke or South Carolina. Clemson, which clinched the Atlantic Coast Conference title by defeating Virginia 7-0, plays Furman Saturday. Because the Orange Bowl officials were disappointed in the Tigers' 21-0 loss to Miami Nov. 16, the ACC selectors, who need merely choose "the most representative team," are holding back.

Sugar: Tennessee is believed to have a standing invitation on but Southeastern Conference rules prohibit official action until the season is complete. Baylor, Georgia Tech and Houston are other top candidates.

Cotton: TCU to oppose a foe which probably will be selected

Lefty Grove Will Undergo Checkup

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—Robert (Lefty) Grove has entered Memorial Hospital here for a checkup. The hospital said the former pitcher, 56, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, has complained of losing weight and not feeling well. Grove was the last major league pitcher to win more than 30 games in one season and the last to win 300 during a career. He posted a 31-4 record with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1951.

Bowl Committee Still Dallying

DALLAS (AP)—The Cotton Bowl has its host but it apparently will be another week before the visiting team is named.

President Bob Cullum was in Knoxville Saturday to see the Tennessee-Kentucky game and obviously to talk to Tennessee officials about their bowl plans. The undefeated, untied Vols are among the five teams being considered for the game here Jan. 1 when Texas Christian makes a return trip as host.

Cullum stressed the fact, however, that no invitation would be extended before Dec. 1. That's the day Georgia Tech, Navy and Tennessee, three of the teams under consideration, finish the season. Tech playing Georgia, Tennessee meeting Vanderbilt and Navy clashing with Army.

Syracuse, which already has finished the season with a 7-1 record and Pittsburgh, which closes out against Miami Dec. 8, are the other teams under consideration, although the latter apparently hurt its chances considerably last week when it was tied 7-7 by Penn State. It gave Pitt a 7-2-1 record for the season with very strong Miami coming up.

At Fort Worth, Coach Ed Martin of Texas Christian, whose team clinched the Cotton Bowl hot spot Saturday with a 20-17 victory over Rice and closes the season next Saturday against Southern Methodist, said, "We don't care who we play in the Cotton Bowl. We'll play heck out of any of them."

scale arrests to scare the population out of any attempt to launch a Hungarian-style revolt. The Belgrade reports said many persons have been sent to concentration camps and that the capital, Sofia, is heavily patrolled by police armed with tommy guns.

The Red regime in Poland, the Soviet Union's other independence-minded satellite, joined in Yugoslavia's disapproval of the Russian repression of the Hungarian revolt.

Success of the back-to-work movement was a paramount test of the Soviet-imposed regime of Premier Janos Kadar. Widespread dissatisfaction with Kadar's explanation of the disappearance of former Premier Imre Nagy cast doubt on its effectiveness.

The Budapest Central Workers' Council hinted at the prospect of further strikes if the government fails to meet its demands. The council ordered Budapest workers to return to their jobs but scheduled further negotiations with Kadar on the council's demand that Nagy be returned to power.

Strikes and slowdowns have paralyzed Hungary since the start of the anti-Communist rebellion Oct. 23.

Nagy, a life-long Communist who came to power in the October anti-Communist rebellion and tried to sever ties with Moscow, left refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy Thursday after Kadar promised he would be allowed to return safely to his home.

Yugoslavia charged that Soviet secret police then kidnaped Nagy and 51 of his followers. Kadar insisted to the workers' council that the former premier had asked to leave Hungary for Romania and that his departure "does not mean exile."

"The government will not prosecute Nagy, although he made serious mistakes," Kadar said in a recording broadcast by Budapest radio.

Kadar promised to accede to the workers' demands after order is restored.

"Let's defeat the counter revolution even with the help of the Soviets, restore order, start normal life. When this is all done, the government will start negotiations with the Soviets about the withdrawal of Russian troops," the premier said.

The government radio station broadcast this reply from one worker: "We will do everything to get work started because we know this is in the interest of the country."

But the worker added: "Normal life can start only if the people and the government want the same thing -- the revolutionary aims of Oct. 23, to build socialism in Hungary, but under such democratic conditions that people can live without terror and secure their own welfare."

Nagy's disappearance created a new rift between Moscow and President Tito of Yugoslavia, whose embassy had guaranteed the Nationalist Hungarian leader's safety. To Western observers in the Soviet capital the differences between Moscow and Belgrade seemed to have gone beyond the possibility of immediate reconciliation.

Banquet Honors Football Champs

A football banquet at IOOF Hall honored members of the city championship football team of College Heights school Saturday evening.

Bernard Raines, football coach, introduced each football player to the 87 guests attending. The coach was presented a gift certificate from team members and their parents.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raines and Sgt. and Mrs. Jack Wilson.

College Expansion Is Nearly Complete

This week may see the completion of construction at Howard County Junior College.

The contractor, A. P. Kaach & Sons, is putting the last touches on floors in the practical arts building. The agricultural laboratory house will be finished possibly within the week, completing a $600,000 enlargement project for the college.

Since the opening of the fall semester, the library extension and the new science building have been in use. The gymnasium addition was finished shortly thereafter.

Two weeks ago the music building was put into full use, and the circular drive through the campus has been stabilized and paved with a cold asphalt process. This enabled all student parking to be removed from Birdwell Lane, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that other parking area would be provided between the holdhouse and the practical arts building as soon as the base could be stabilized.

Earlier in the season, considerable areas adjacent to the new stadium were stabilized to control dust and to protect from erosion.

Dr. Hunt said that a formal dedication program would be planned later, and at that time the public would be urged to inspect all the facilities of the college. He was enthusiastic about results, declaring that H.C.J.C. had one of the best values in the entire state.

Sweetheart

Luann Lawson, Big Spring Junior High student, is the new sweetheart of Big Spring Future Farmers of America. She was selected for the honor prior to the El Rancho District FFA meeting here last week, and placed third in the district sweetheart contest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lawson, 1202 Lloyd.

Lions To Hear Report On Play

The Evening Lions Club is due to get more detailed reports on the production of the Civic Theatre production, "Blind Alley" when it meets this evening at the Wesley Methodist Church basement.

The show grossed around $1,000 from ads and tickets, and both the theatre group and the club will share in the net. More information on a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce will be given. H. E. Williams of the Citizens Traffic Commission in Lubbock will discuss that city's experience with a drag strip for youth.

Other plans also may be announced on the Ladies' Night affair set for the evening of Dec. 17.

Gail Goodwill Ducats On Sale

Tickets are now available for the "goodwill dinner" to be staged at Gall Dec. 4 by the Rural Relations Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Walker Bailey, committee chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the dinner. Gail Goodwill is the dinner's auxiliary to the Borden County Sheriff's posse. They will prepare and serve the meal in the Borden County High School cafeteria.

Bailey said 75 Gall residents are expected to attend the dinner as guests of Big Spring businessmen and women. That means 75 Big Springers will be expected to purchase two tickets each. Half of the tickets will be for the Gail people.

The tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce or from Bailey.

Scout Officers To Be Chosen

A meeting of the district committee, plus all institutional representatives for the Scouting program in Big Spring, has been called for 5:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce.

John Taylor, district chairman, said that this session was for the purpose of electing officers of the district for the ensuing year.

The committee may also hear reports on plans for the Scout exposition Dec. 7-8, and for the annual meeting Dec. 3 at the high school cafeteria.

2 City Students In Houston University

Two students from Big Spring are enrolled at the University of Houston. They are Hiram M. Clark, a senior majoring in accounting, and Norman A. Gound, a freshman majoring in pharmacy. Since its beginning in 1954 as a four-year school, the University has had an enrollment increase from 1,110 to nearly 14,000 students. Accreditation of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has underscored the university's rise to an eminent educational institution with physical assets valued at more than $18,000,000.

18 Big Springers In Baylor University

WACO—Forty-three states, the District of Columbia and 28 countries outside the continental bounds of the United States are represented in Baylor University's fall enrollment of 5,395.

Texas claims 4,292 of this number from 213 of its 254 counties. There are 18 students at Baylor from Big Spring. They are Robert Angel, Norman Beck, Bennie Dale Bennett, Gienna Keith Coffey, Anita Green Gafford, Peggy Joy Hogan, Virginia Joyce Horne, Robert Earl Morehead, Lou Anne Parsons, David Brown Read, Frances Reagan, Darrell W. Robinson, Ronnie Lee Sanders, James C. Shirley, Helen Reagan Smith, Luke Thompson, Walter Lee Wheat and Wanda Sue Wheat.

Patricia To Close Season At Acuna

Patricia McCormick, the Big Spring lass who has won fame as a bullfighter in Mexico, will be spotlighted on the last night of the Villa Acuna season.

She is the feature attraction on a card which also includes Rafael Guzman and Joseito Torres at 3 p.m. (CST) Sunday across from Del Rio. In appearance this season Patricia, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCormick, broke jinxes which had held over her in the ring at Acuna. It was there in September of 1955 that she was almost fatally gored.

Another Hit-Run Is Reported

Two accidents Sunday included a very minor hit-and-run.

Mrs. A. L. Shelton, 708 Bell, reported that her 1949 Mercury was hit by a 1956 Plymouth at Ninth and Main Sunday. She reported that no damage was done to her car.

Leon Munoz, 703 NW 8th, and Maggie Simmon, 603 NW 9th, were drivers of cars colliding at NW Eighth and Douglas also Sunday afternoon.

Honored As Scholar

PLAINVIEW — Beverly Edwards of Big Spring is among the 13 Wayland College students honored for outstanding scholarship in the first half of the fall semester. She is a junior student. Heading the list of scholars was Leslie Thompson, sophomore from Plainview.

CARD OF THANKS
Wanda Don Watts wishes to thank all her friends and neighbors for the letters and cards during her illness at Baylor Hospital. She would appreciate hearing from them upon her release.

Won't you agree that it's the trimmings that make the tree?

And isn't it true that it's the thought behind it that makes a Christmas gift what it is?

If you find yourself, like so many people, with the thought but without the gift, be sure and read the gift suggestions that your local merchants have for you in the Pick A Present columns of the Want Ad pages of your Big Spring Herald each day.

You'll find a complete selection of gifts offered every day. Gifts for Dad, Mom and the whole family.

Enjoy the convenience of doing your Christmas shopping in the comfort of your easy chair. Be sure and read the

Smauley Still In Critical Condition

C. A. Smauley, 1066 Howell, gravely hurt one week ago today when his car turned over and pinned him under the wreckage 25 miles east of Big Spring on U. S. 80, continues in a serious condition at the Big Spring hospital. It was reported Monday morning X-rays were made of the injured man on Sunday.

he was still in a critical condition. Smauley was alone in his car at the time of the accident.

L.A. Gets Huge Slice Of Sunshine

LOS ANGELES — Amazing That's the weather man's word for it. So far this month, sunshine in Los Angeles has averaged 96 per cent of possible. "We've had 21 days of 100 per cent sunshine," he exclaimed. The 96 per cent beats the former record for sunshine in one month — 96 per cent in November 1929.

Uncle Ray: Soldier Of Greece Ran First Marathon

By RAMON COFFMAN
Marathon races have been held during the Olympic Games ever since they were revived 60 years ago. A marathon usually stretches over a distance of 26 and one fifth mile.

Q. Why do Marathon races have such a length, and what was the origin of the name?
A. The Greeks won the Battle of Marathon 2,486 years ago. One of the soldiers, Pheidippides, ran from the battlefield to the city of Athens. There (according to legend) he reported the Greek victory over the Persian invaders, and fell dead.

The modern Olympic run covers a distance which was estimated year ago as the same which was covered by the Greek soldier.

Q. How fast did Pheidippides run from Marathon to Athens?
A. We are without a record of the time taken. It is likely that he took at least three, and perhaps three and a half, hours to reach Athens.

Q. What has been the usual time in the modern Olympics?
A. The average time of Marathon victories, up to this year, has been two hours and 44 minutes. Four years ago Zapotec of Czechoslovakia broke previous Olympic records by running the distance in two hours, 23 minutes, three and two tenths seconds.

Q. Is "throwing the discus" an ancient contest?
A. Yes, it goes back to the Greek of long ago. Greek artists and sculptors showed athletes throwing a plate prepared for this purpose. For GENERAL INTEREST section of your scrapbook.

To obtain a free copy of the illustrated leaflet on "Marathon and Stamp Collecting" send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Uncle Ray in care of this newspaper.

Ike To Leave For Vacation

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower plans to leave today — barring some major international development — for a vacation of undisclosed duration at Augusta, Ga.

Press secretary James G. Hagerly said yesterday that if no hitches develop the President would leave by plane in mid-morning for the National Golf Club at Augusta and what Hagerly termed "his first rest since August."

Eisenhower spent a few days vacationing in California after the Republican National Convention.

Hagerly said Eisenhower planned to take to Augusta a larger staff than usual and that he "of course will continue to follow closely developments in the Middle East and Europe as well as discussions at the United Nations."

Auto Crash Toll Is 5

HOUSTON — The toll of an automobile crash involving the chase of a stolen car rose to five yesterday with the death of two more persons.

The crash occurred late Saturday night when the stolen car collided head-on with another in which four residents of Silsbee, Texas, were returning from a football game.

The victims from Silsbee were F. R. Mullins, 38, Elliott McDonald, 38, and Miss Alice Reiford, 30. Mrs. Mullins was critically hurt.

Police identified the victims in the stolen car as Johnnie M. Phillips, 17, and Edward Woods, about 24, both of Houston.

The men in the stolen car here engaged officers in a running gun battle at speeds up to 110 miles an hour.

Bride Killed, Shock Causes Husband To Lose His Memory

SANTA BARBARA Calif. — A traffic accident north of here killed a Thanksgiving Day bride and left her husband unable to say for certain that he was married.

The California highway patrol said William D. Wales, 26, of Long Beach, Calif., was not seriously hurt but was suffering from shock and loss of memory. His wife, Phyllis, also 26, was killed Saturday night when the couple's car hit an embankment and was virtually demolished, officers said.

Patrolmen said Wales replied, "I can't remember; I guess I was" when they asked him if he was married.

Hunters Hunting A Hunting Dog

SANTA ANA, Calif. — Two hunters are hunting the hunting dog that went over the hill.

Frank Grove Jr. of Santa Ana and James Haselton of Garden Grove borrowed an elderly Labrador retriever from Haselton's sister for a Thanksgiving Day quail hunt near Lake Matthews. The first shot unstrung the dog, named Yo-Yo, and he headed into the hills at high speed, the hunters said.

Back home, they learned why: Yo-Yo suffered combat fatigue while serving with the K-9 Corps in World War II. He can't stand the sound of a gun.
