Test Pilot Tony LeVier prepares to take the XF-101 Starfighter, believed to be the world's fastest fighter plane, aloft for a test hop at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. This head-on view emphasizes the plane's small frontal area, which helps it attain still-crest speeds. The Lockheed-built plane, 55 feet long, has a wingspread of only 21 feet 11 inches.

State Asks Rehearing In Washburn Reversal

AUSTIN (AP)—The state argued today that the Court of Criminal Appeals should grant a rehearing and set aside its motion which threw out the conviction of Harry Washburn of Houston.

Washburn originally was given a life sentence in the bizarre car-bomb killing of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver of San Angelo. She was the victim of a dynamite explosion in an auto in San Angelo Jan. 19, 1955.

The appeals court last month reversed and remanded Washburn's conviction Dec. 9 at Waco. It was held there on a change of venue plea.

Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo told the court it was wrong when it said "the trial court committed error in permitting the state to call the witness Nelson, a co-defendant, to the stand and require him to claim his privilege against self incrimination and refuse to testify in the presence of the jury."

In the appeal which the court used as a basis for throwing out the conviction, defense attorneys argued that questioning of Andrew Nelson, serving life as an habitual criminal, was "highly prejudicial."

The state charged Nelson bought the dynamite at Rosenberg and showed Washburn how to detonate it while out on parole a few days before the blast. Nelson refused to answer questions during the trial, claiming Fifth Amendment immunity.

Stokes said the appeals court was wrong because:

1. Nelson was called as a witness and there was no evidence he was a co-defendant at the time he testified.
2. The record fails to show that the state was acting in bad faith in presenting Nelson as a witness.
3. The immunity granted Nelson "is an option to refuse to answer, not a prohibition of inquiry."

The court had unanimously approved Judge Ernest Becher's opinion which knocked out the state's claim there was no error because Nelson had been granted immunity.

"The state's contention in this respect cannot be sustained because the record shows only an offer of immunity by the prosecuting attorney," Becher said. "It falls to show approval by the trial court."

Becher said the state was permitted to plant in the jury's mind full details as to how "they claimed this crime was committed and yet the only substantive evidence which they were producing was the answer of the witness that he refused to answer on the grounds that his answers might tend to incriminate him, which, of course, was no evidence at all."

Suicide Ruled Out In Dorsey's Death

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—Investigators said today there is no question that band leader Tommy Dorsey died accidentally.

Both Greenwich Police Chief David W. Robbins and Fairfield County Coroner Edgar Krentzman said confusion about notes left in the palatial home where Dorsey was found dead Monday afternoon should not be allowed to lend an aura of mystery to the case.

Dr. C. Stanley Knapp said Dorsey had become ill in his bedroom, had suffered an attack of nausea and had choked to death on food particles which lodged in his throat. Dr. Knapp signed a certificate yesterday attributing death to accidental asphyxiation.

The case took a new turn yesterday when Chief Robbins said that a note made public Monday by Dorsey's personal manager, Tino Barzic, purportedly written by Dorsey to his wife and couched in affectionate terms, was not authentic and was not written by Dorsey.

The chief said Dorsey had written a note to his wife, but that it was not the one released by Barzic, who said the musician was an habitual note writer and that it was not unusual for him to leave them scattered about the house.

Robbins denied today, however, that he ever had said the authentic note was "important to our case." All he ever said about it, he contended, was that it would be "part of the investigation."

He declined to make its contents public.

The chief issued this formal statement: "The medical examiner has given an official finding that Mr. Dorsey's death was accidental, caused by choking. The medical examiner has forwarded certain vital organs to the state laboratory for examination.

Court Reverses Conviction On Perjury Count

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals threw out today the seven-year sentence given Leslie Lowry, Beaumont insurance man convicted here April 2 of perjury.

Lowry was convicted on a charge of "knowingly and wilfully submitting to the Board of Insurance Commissioners a certain written statement," a charter as to capital of the Texas Fire Insurance Co., July 11, 1951.

The charter, notarized by S. B. Lusby, an employee of Lowry's, stated that $150,000 in capital stock and surplus was on deposit in the Security State Bank and Trust Co. of Beaumont.

Lusby signed the charter which said that the statement had been sworn to by Lowry but during the trial the notary public said he did not swear Lowry "or administer any oath to him."

In reversing and remanding the case, the court said "the state failed to prove that the appellant (Lowry) made the statement under the sanction of an oath legally administered."

Lowry, 45, former Beaumont mayor and now a Kansas school teacher, was convicted in 98th District Court.

Atty. Gen. Shepperd called the conviction outstanding because state insurance laws lack penal provisions.

The state had charged that only a small percentage of the firm's stock and surplus had actually been subscribed as required by the state insurance code. The state said much of the $150,000 was proceeds from loans which were quickly repaid after issuance of the firm's license to do business.

The defense based its case on two main arguments: That Lowry was not administered an oath when he signed the affidavit and the affidavit was not the one required by law. The appeals court made no mention of the second contention.

The charter was signed by D. H. O'Neil, Paul Lowry and Leslie Lowry. The other two men still face perjury indictments. Judge K. K. Woodley wrote the high court's opinion, saying:

"We are unable to agree that the officer's jurat, with proof of the signature and authority of the officer to administer an oath, is sufficient evidence to establish that the appellant appeared before the notary" and was sworn.

Soviets Lost 320 Tanks In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—It was reported here today that the Soviet army lost at least 320 tanks in the battle with the poorly armed Hungarian rebels.

This number was reportedly established by one of the Hungarian Communist government's own agencies, which offered to buy the wrecks for scrap. The Russians refused the offer.

"It would be a lot cheaper to buy switches for the teachers."

New Records Firing The Nation's Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—New records in production, personal income and employment are increasing the nation's economy, the Commerce Department reports.

Prices have also pushed up in the wake of increasing costs of production, the department said yesterday, but the demand for the products continues high.

The department's monthly survey of current business said the nation's total output of goods and services reached an annual rate of 414 billion dollars in the third quarter with the rise continuing. Personal income after taxes was at the record rate of 288 billions a year, and employment on non-farm jobs in October reached a seasonally adjusted high of 51,800,000.

As examples of the business pace, the department reported: The start of the new model year pushed new automobile assembly up to 160,000 units a week early this month.

Steel mills produced a record 1.1 million tons of steel ingots and castings during October.

Average weekly earnings of factory workers reached $82 in October, up $3.50 from the figure a year ago.

Charlie Creighton Gored Severely By Hereford Bull

Although severely nauseated, Charlie Creighton of Big Spring was reported to be recovering satisfactorily today from a goring by one of his Hereford bulls Tuesday afternoon.

Creighton's herd bull, the 10-year-old, 2,000-pound Major Mischief 20th, rammed a horn deep in the thigh of the stockman's left leg. No major blood vessels were ruptured, however, and the horn also missed the bone of the leg.

The goring occurred in the stock pens at Creighton's home just west of Big Spring about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. Creighton had just finished putting a halter on the animal which had never before given any indication of meanness. The bull twisted his head upward, hooking Creighton in the thigh, the horn penetrating about 10 inches.

Hassel Elliott, Creighton's foreman, and Ray Bennett, another employee, heard his cries for help and rushed the injured man to Malone & Hogan Hospital where he underwent surgery for repair of the damaged tissues.

Hundreds Missing As Strong Storms Sweep Pacific

MANILA (AP)—Hundreds of Asian seamen were missing and the crew of an American freighter was reported abandoning ship today as storms continued to sweep the South China Sea and the Western Pacific.

Globe Wireless intercepted a message from the 8,292-ton freighter Charles E. Dant saying the captain had ordered his 46 crewmen off in Lingayen Gulf, on the west coast of Luzon Island.

The U.S. Navy ship Msukungun had been standing by and presumably took the men aboard.

The Dant took a bad list when the cargo of copper concentrates was hauling from the Philippines to Tacoma, Wash., shifted in heavy seas.

Informed circles saw the likelihood of an open coup by the army clique that has taken control of Syria in recent weeks. The army faction, pro-Soviet although non-Communist, is led by Col. Abou Hamid Saraj.

Mid-East Crisis Blamed On U. S.

LONDON (AP)—Anti-American feeling soared to new heights today in Britain. Cartoonists lampooned President Eisenhower mercilessly. A denunciation of U.S. policy introduced by more than 100 Conservatives was before Parliament.

Other voices, however, called for renewed efforts to heal the breach with the United States caused by the British-French dilemma in Egypt.

In Parliament, the opposing views were spelled out in motions of the minority Labor and Liberal parties urging reconciliation with Washington and by an influential section of the ruling Conservative party attacking the U.N. Assembly and blaming U.S. Middle East policy for "gravely endangering the Atlantic Alliance."

The Conservative motion was signed by nearly one-third of the Eden government's backers in Commons. Seldom in history has so large a segment of the British government party undertaken an attack in this fashion on an allied nation. It said:

"This House congratulates the foreign secretary (Selwyn Lloyd) on his efforts to secure international control of the Suez Canal, and deplors both the resolution of the (U.N.) General Assembly calling for immediate and unconditional withdrawal of British and French troops from Egypt and the attitude of the U.S.A., which is gravely endangering the Atlantic Alliance."

Four separate U.N. resolutions have called on Britain, France and Israel to pull their troops out of Egypt. The United States supported them. The endorsement of the resolution by nearly a third of the Conservative membership of the House promised grave trouble for the government if it began a complete withdrawal.

If the Conservatives hold ranks, they could easily adopt the motion. But the party itself has been split by dissension over the British-French intervention in Egypt, although they closed ranks before.

ELKS BOOST CHEER FUND

One of the city's great philanthropic groups — the Phi Elks — was a major giver today to the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND. The Elks, always working in welfare causes, gave $100 to the program that makes possible toys and food for poor children at Christmas. The organization has been a regular donor through the years.

Many more gifts must be received, if every child is to be remembered at Christmas. Please send your check now to the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND, c/o The Herald, for grateful acknowledgment; or you can hand your gift to any city fireman. The firemen do the work on this holiday help.

A $10 gift from Dr. E. O. Ellington — another regular Cheer booster — plus an anonymous $1 gift and the Elks' donation brought the Fund today to $131.00.

Tension Mounting Between Syria, Iraq

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The drumhead tension between Syria and Iraq mounted today. The feeling grew that some sort of break — either in Damascus or Baghdad — might come within days.

Informed circles saw the likelihood of an open coup by the army clique that has taken control of Syria in recent weeks. The army faction, pro-Soviet although non-Communist, is led by Col. Abou Hamid Saraj.

The Syrian-Iraqi crisis built up in a continuing exchange of bitter charges. Jordan's decision to cut its ties with Britain and consider closer relations with Russia underlined the possibility of deeper Soviet penetration into the fermenting Middle East.

Iraq accuses Syria of conducting a subversive campaign against the government of Iraqi Premier Nuri Said, an opponent of Soviet moves to extend its Middle East influence. Syria charges Iraq with seeking to destroy the governments of both Syria and Jordan.

The latest blast came in a Damascus radio broadcast which claimed a delegation of Iraqi politicians had called on King Faisal to dismiss Nuri Said's government. The official Syrian radio said the delegation urged Faisal to appoint a government "responsive to national demands concentrated on the withdrawal of Iraq from the Baghdad Pact."

There was no confirmation from Baghdad of the report. Both Iraq and Lebanon previously have accused Syria's radio and press of airing false stories and spreading untruths designed to alienate Iraq and Lebanon from the West.

The Baghdad Pact, prime target of Syria, Egypt and Russia, links Iraq, Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Britain in an alliance designed to meet the threat of Communist aggression.

The Soviet Union, which is reported to be pouring arms into Syria, kept up its role of protector of Arab nations antagonistic toward the West with a charge that the United States is trying to provoke Turkey and Iraq into an attack on Syria.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda declared all "peace loving nations" would support Syria in defending her freedom and independence.

'Happiness' Pills Pose A Danger, Scientist Warns

By RENNIE TAYLOR Associated Press Science Reporter

SEATTLE (AP)—Are the tranquilizing drugs robbing Americans of the tension, alertness, worry and fear which traditionally sharpened their ability to defend themselves in danger and shaped the country's progress?

There are signs that such a possibility lurks in the unscientific use of the "happiness pills," says two psychiatrists who have observed 8,200 people taking tranquilizers.

Although the pills themselves are not at fault and are potentially of great use in medicine, there is evidence they can cause undesirable effects which constitute danger to both the individual and to society, Dr. Herman A. Dickel and Dr. Henry H. Dixon told the American Medical Assn., yesterday.

Dr. Dickel and Dr. Dixon, from the University of Oregon Medical School, told the scientific section of the AMA they found among the 8,200 people these hazards:

1. Danger to the health and even the lives of persons who react "abnormally" to the drugs.

2. Danger to the patient's philosophy of morals and emotions.

3. Danger to the physician and to medicine generally because doctors are being subjected to enormous pressure to prescribe the pills.

4. Danger to society because it is being led to believe that no one ever should have to be afraid or to feel anxiety.

Border Transfer

A baby refugee from Hungary, bundled against the cold weather, is passed from one man to another after being brought by boat across a canal to Austria along the Austro-Hungarian border. The area is near the "Freedom Bridge" across the canal which had been destroyed by Soviet forces a little earlier.

U. S. Ball Player, Family Among Airliner Victims

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The bodies of 25 persons killed in the crash of a New York-to-Caracas airliner were brought down by cable car last night from the cloud-shrouded mountains at the city's edge. There were no survivors. The dead included 10 Americans, among them 26-year-old Negro outfielder Charles Peete of Omaha, Neb., the American Assn.'s 1956 batting champion, his wife and three children. The Venezuelan airliner, swinging in from the Caribbean through a rainstorm to land at Maiquetia, Caracas' seaside airport, plunged into a wooded mountain of the Boca Chica range. Wreckage and the bodies of the 18 passengers and 7 crewmen were scattered over the area of a city block. The point of impact was about 150 feet from the crest. Other American dead were Robert Bernard of Central Falls, R.I.; Benjamin Regan, 35, Beloit, Wis.; Helen M. Strom; Evans J. Thomas, 41, Pittsburgh, Pa., and John Zlock, 38, Nesquehoning, Pa.

Communism In Poland Fills Night Clubs

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—It used to be said that communism fills churches and prisons. In Warsaw, it fills night clubs too. They open at six in the evening and keep going to six in the morning. How customers can afford it, at first sight, is one of the major mysteries of this strange capital. Even the rarytas — one of the world's most expensive restaurants — on most nights is packed to the doors.

The rarytas has everything a restaurant should have — good food, platoons of immaculate waiters, soft lights and sweet music. A quiet dinner for two with a bottle of wine sets you back 400 zloties — a week's wage for a better-paid Pole, $100 for a Westerner in terms of Poland's outrageous exchange rate. Lower down the social scale but still well up on the price list is the cascada, a smoke-filled cavern where the vodka flows.

By two in the morning the joint is really jumping as the band blares out the local version of Dixieland. The dancing is more exuberant than elegant and the whole dimlit scene makes a rock 'n' roll riot look like a cozy tea party.

The showplace of the city is the Crocodile, a cellar club under Warsaw's celebrated "Old Town" — the medieval city sacked during the 1944 uprising and now rebuilt. It is a popular haunt of Russian tourists who have been coming in increasing numbers.

Farm work has almost come to a standstill, according to the Texas Employment Commission. Cotton picking is about over, and rural jobs are non-existent.

There are no town jobs either, which is worse because both unemployed farmers and city people alike depend upon them during slack times. Well, times are slack now, if the 150 job-seekers who thronged the employment office last Monday are any indication. Leon Kinney says there is usually some construction work going on to take care of the surplus labor. There is very little now, and reports are that the situation in Odesa is just as bad. Kinney has large numbers of people come to his office every day hunting jobs, but only one out of every two or three dozen finds work.

Elma Nichols, farming just north of Stanton, is planning to grow hogs on an assembly line basis. He has bought one of the new hog houses recommended by Purina Company and will start with 100 shoats weighing 60 to 70 pounds. In about the same amount of days if all goes well the shoats will be 200-pound porkers and ready for market.

The house is built rather simply. It is 22 by 60 feet and has a concrete floor, a sheet metal roof and little else. The roof is held up by poles and around these poles are draped a sort of fence. During the cold months the east and west sides will be covered to keep out the winter winds.

The house has automatic feeders and waterers, and can be cleaned by turning the hose onto the floor. The pigs are fed a special feed. This house has been tried out in other areas with great success, according to reports. The size recommended is 22 by 30 and holds only 50 hogs, but Nichols wanted to go whole hog and build it twice as large.

John Davis of Big Spring is also trying one of these houses on his farm northeast of town.

The Howard County Farm Bureau will receive a special citation for reaching its quota of members in 1956, according to Sue DeVaney, local secretary. A representative will be selected to go to Miami, Fla., Dec. 9 to receive the award from the All-Southern Hospitality Committee of the Ameri-

Settlers to Texas.

Will probably come back through the Dell City irrigation district, which is located in the desolate flats 100 miles north of Van Horn.

Things I've Learned This Year: Farmers nearly everywhere will use more fertilizer next year. Some wells are weak and the owner must make every acre produce its utmost to show a profit. The most amazing farm I ever visited is the Stahman Farms near Las Cruces. They have 4,000 acres of pecan trees, 30,000 caged layers and the largest flock of geese in the world, selling 200,000 a year.

There's not much difference in the gaining ability of different breeds of cattle. There is some variation within each breed, however. This comes from Professor Callahan of Canyon who is working with the American Beef Cattle Performance Registry Association. He also said there is new hope of stamping out dwarfism if breeders will admit they have it in their herds and cooperate.

Pecans are being grown near Eagle Pass. A pecan peddler who sold me a dollar's worth said it was a good pecan country and that one man had 1,000 trees. People may complain about their electric bills, but it is the one thing that hasn't increased in price. Electricity is no higher now than it was in 1942.

Two of the best poultrymen in West Texas both live near Midland. Jess Woody, Stanton pistol champion, says shooting requires more than just ability. During a meet when the pressure is on, the fellow who worries and wails under competition never wins.

There's more money in sheep than cattle, experts tell me, yet many people will buy a few cows and barely break even with them. The reason is they just don't like sheep.

Mom Rooting For Sideburned Son

ROME, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Pherneton hasn't given up efforts to have her sideburned son readmitted to Romeo High School. She made an appeal yesterday to School Supt. T. C. Filippula and met with some small success. Filippula agreed to "try and arrange a meeting with the Board of Education as soon as possible."

Her son, Robert, 16, was expelled from school four weeks ago because of his haircut, or lack of it. Robert refused—and still refuses—to clip his carefully combed locks. The school principal issued an edict that Elvis Presley-type haircuts had to go. Other long-haired youths reluctantly went along with the ruling and appeared at classes with conventional cuts.

Glenn Ford Name Change Legalized

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gwyllyn Samuel Newton Ford — screen name, Glenn Ford — is now legally Glenn Ford offscreen, too.

He told Superior Court yesterday that his given name causes him too much trouble when he travels. The court gave the Canadian-born actor permission to make his movie name his legal name.

Missing Verb Nets $14,800 Inheritance

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A missing verb has netted Luther Reed $14,800.

The verb was omitted in a sentence of the will left by Reed's wife, who died in January. The sentence said: "He did not anything I had so I will him $5." Orphans Court Judge James Brady ruled yesterday that the will didn't stand because of the missing verb. Reed got $14,805.

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Brooklyn laundrywomen suddenly found themselves ironing $100 bills yesterday.

A search disclosed that $1,000 had been run through the wash in a bundle of shirts. The freshly laundered money will go to the woman if the owner doesn't claim it from police within 90 days.

Leaving The Hard Way

A Hungarian refugee woman leaves her strife-torn country using a tree limb and guide rope to cross a canal on the Austria-Hungary border. A few steps on the tricky freedom route and the woman reached the haven of Austria. Russians have destroyed several bridges across the border canal in an effort to halt the exodus of Hungarians to Austria and freedom.

Even FBI Unaware Of A-Bomb Secret

NEW YORK (AP) — The secret of this country's A-bomb experiments was so closely guarded in the government during World War II that even the FBI first learned of it through the Communists.

Don Whitehead, twice a Pulitzer prize winner as an Associated Press reporter, describes the discovery in a new book, "The FBI Story," published today by Random House.

White spent eight months preparing the book, with the FBI's complete cooperation and with access to FBI files previously closed to the public. He traces the Federal Bureau of Investigation's growth from the day in 1908 that President Theodore Roosevelt created it to investigate Western land grabs and Eastern trusts.

Much of the book is devoted to the FBI's continuing battle against communism. It tells how J. Edgar Hoover, then a young attorney in the Department of Justice, first spotted communism not as a harmless political theory but as a world conspiracy designed to infiltrate and take over other governments.

Whitehead tells for the first time how President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in 1936, ordered a continuing investigation of communism and its influence in this country, although the United States and Soviet Russia were later to become allies in World War II.

It was as a result of this that the FBI learned from one of its counterespionage operatives in a California laboratory that the Reds were aware that the United States was working on an atom bomb.

Roosevelt's order to the FBI, kept secret at the time and since, resulted in widespread attacks on the FBI and its work, both prior to World War II and after, when the Truman administration's loyalty drive on Reds in government was in full swing.

Whitehead traces the FBI's work in the postwar spy cases, from the day it first was discovered that A-bomb secrets had been sent to Russia, through the arrests of Klaus Fuchs, the British scientist; Harry Gold and David Greenglass, key figures in the network; and finally to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who were executed amid violent demonstrations engineered by Reds and fellow travelers.

Hoover, in a foreword to the book, says: "The acts of the subversive, particularly the 'died-in-the-wool' Communist, call for increased vigilance. The security of our country has suffered because too many of our people were 'hoodwinked' by the propaganda which claimed that the Communist party was a political party like the Democratic or Republican party."

2 Navy Cadets Killed In Crash

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Two Naval aviation cadets lost their lives in the collision of two Skyraider fighter-bombers during intricate high altitude maneuvers yesterday.

They were Aviation Cadet Elmon McBroom, USNR, of Dallas, and Marine Corps 2nd Lt. Kenneth Walker, 25, of Birchrunville, Pa. Both were student pilots at Cabanis Field, Corpus Christi.

No Speak, No Rob

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A man sat down at the counter in Mrs. John Cannelles' candy store last night and asked for pencil and paper. He wrote a note to Mrs. Cannelles, but she laughingly handed it back to him, explaining: "I can't read English."

In utter disgust the man threw the note on the floor and stamped out.

Mrs. Cannelles, who was born in Greece from her infancy, handed the note to the next customer. The message: "This is a holdup."

Junior Red Cross Activities Booming

First meeting of the Junior Red Cross adult committee this week at Washington Place School revealed that activities of this new enterprise are booming.

Mrs. H. L. Derrick is general chairman of the Junior Red Cross adult committee.

Every elementary school in the city was represented at the committee meeting. Airport school was represented by Rex Browning; East and North Ward schools by M. R. Turner; Washington Place school by Mrs. J. A. Coffey, Mrs. F. L. Bass, and John D. Hardy, College Heights school by W. C. Blankenship and Grace Mann; Park Hill and South Ward schools by Oma McGabey; West Ward by Mrs. Ruth Rutherford; Lake View by Mrs. Gladys Penny; Lakeview High by Rosetta Brown; and Kate Morrison by Lorena Brooks.

Report on first aid training was made. Courses in first aid are being carried out in Lakeview Junior High and high schools. International correspondence is being pursued by five of the schools and a review showed that the results to date have been excellent.

It was also said that the school children of Big Spring will probably prepare at least 150 boxes of Christmas food for transmission and distribution to needy children in foreign lands this year.

A report on the Junior Red Cross safety patrol at Washington Place school was submitted by the representatives of that school. The Junior Red Cross supplies the patrol with uniforms and equipment. The school is highly pleased with the results achieved, it was said.

Safety courses are being carried out in all of the schools. Taping of all students' bicycles with scotch warning tape was one of the activities under this phase of the program. Decision was made for the committee to meet bi-monthly or perhaps on quarterly intervals hereafter. Plans were made to broaden still further the program of operations by the Junior Red Cross in the Big Spring school system. All children are automatically enrolled in the Junior Red Cross under the plan being followed here.

Million Dollar Headache

Democratic Chairman Paul Butler and Treasurer Matthew McCloskey, right, of Philadelphia, pour over national party records which show a deficit of about a million dollars. They got together at the opening of a two-day Democratic national committee conference on finances and future plans in Washington, D. C.

LaMarca Returns To Witness Stand

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—Angelo John LaMarca returns to the witness stand today in a further attempt to persuade the jury that he was temporarily insane when he kidnaped little Peter Weinberger and allegedly abandoned him to die.

The 34-year-old Long Island mechanic has testified his memory is vague about the day he kidnaped the baby for $2,000 ransom.

LaMarca, charged with murder and kidnaping, could draw a death sentence if convicted. During his first day on the stand yesterday he told of a lonely childhood, his youthful timorous attitude toward girls, two attempts at suicide, successive failures in jobs and business ventures, and financial woes.

He said that at the time of the kidnaping of the 32-day-old baby last July 4 he was unable to eat or sleep because of frustration and despair over a burden of debt. LaMarca said he had been living in fear that a loan shark to whom he owed money would harm his wife and two children.

On the day of the kidnaping, he testified, he went to Brooklyn in an attempt to contact another loan shark. He said he then visited acquaintances in an effort to get small loans to buy food for his family.

LaMarca said threatening debtors — especially the loan shark to whom he owed $500 — were wrecking his health.

As Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger, 32, mother of the dead baby, listened, LaMarca called his wife and two children "the most precious things in my life."

LaMarca's wife, Donna, 31, also was in the court room. Their chil-

Farmers' Advisory Committee Planned

Tentative steps toward organization of a county advisory committee to work with the county agent, county home demonstration agent and the extension department of the Texas A&M college in coping with farm problems in this county were taken Tuesday afternoon.

County Agent Jimmy Taylor called a meeting of selected farmers and ranchers, augmented by bankers and others interested in the farm problems, at the county commissioners court room. This meeting was for the purpose of proposing a committee to study and submit a program for the extension workers of the county covering particular programs the farmers themselves want.

Such committees are being formed in all counties in Texas, Taylor told the group of 16 men and three women who attended the meeting. Twenty-four had been invited to attend but only 19 were present.

Coordination of the work of the agencies in the county assigned to farm problems by predetermining the specific problems and programs the farmers and ranchers themselves select is the desire of the extension department, Taylor said.

The farmers and farm women present discussed the project at length. It was agreed such a committee, if organized and if it functioned, could be of great help in working out agricultural problems. Some skepticism was expressed as to the workability of the plan but it was agreed that it was worth trying.

Ernest Lomax was named as temporary chairman of the group. He will call a meeting of the committee to be held in February. This meeting will be the first of the permanent committee and attended by the persons selected to represent the several divisions.

Red Smith, Chamber of Commerce manager, told the group his organization would provide a meeting place and a meal for the committee at that meeting.

Member Of Each Jewish Family In Port Said Held

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—A British official has appealed for a Red Cross investigation of reports that the Egyptian secret police are holding one member of each Jewish family in Port Said hostage.

The Red Cross inquiry was requested by Harry Coe, British consul in Port Said as other protests were raised against reported Egyptian plans to deport British, French and Jewish residents from Egypt.

Egypt has denied that any mass expulsion is planned but said British and French nationals were placed under "restricted residence" for their own protection.

Coe said he cabled the British Foreign Office asking intervention by neutral Switzerland to find out from President Nasser what has happened to the missing Jews.

Jewish residents of Port Said—whose number about 3,000—have reported that one member of each family was taken away by Egyptian police the night of Nov. 1.

None has been heard from since. British-French troops landed in the canal zone Nov. 5.

Coe said the secret police seized a number of Jewish leaders in raids in other Egyptian cities. The consul appealed for help through the Swiss Red Cross because Egypt has severed relations with Britain and no longer recognizes the consulate.

Israel's foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, sent an appeal to the head of the U.N. General Assembly asking intervention on behalf of the Jewish community in Egypt. She said some 30,000 Jews were liable to be deported and declared such action would violate the human rights provision of the U.N. Charter.

Earlier reports received in Israel said Egypt contemplated the expulsion of all Jews—30,000 persons both Egyptian and non-Egyptian.

Suspect Found Hanged In Cell

WACO (AP)—Bobby Howard, 27, awaiting his second trial on a charge of robbing the Farmers State Bank of Meridian, was found fatally hanged in his jail cell Tuesday.

Howard, of Temple, was accused of robbing the bank in January 1955.

He was arrested the day of the robbery, and sentenced to 25 years in prison at his first trial in March 1955.

His attorney, W. V. Dunman Jr., won a reversal, and a new trial, which was scheduled to begin Monday.

It was postponed after Dunman was slightly injured in an automobile accident.

Deputy Sheriff Albert Bostick and a trusty found Howard's body hanging from a steel bar by a strip of bedding.

Bostick said a note was found in Howard's pocket in an envelope that contained a picture and a dollar bill. Bostick said the note read:

"Mother: I hate to do this to you when I have hurt you so much already. But remember, this is what I want. And I want you to keep your chin up. I always like to see you smiling and happy."

The note was signed "Bobby."

California Hot Spot

Tortuga firefighters from Taos, N. M., attack a burning spot in the Dye Canyon-San Diego River section of the 3,000-acre Cleveland National Forest fire in California. The sector is on the northern flank of a three-day-old blaze northeast of San Diego.

Northern Front Of Fire Attacked

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Firefighters concentrated their efforts today on an uncontrolled area of the northern front of the Cleveland National Forest fire. That section in a dry San Diego River bed canyon erupted into flames with a sudden shift in the winds late yesterday and spread along the canyon to within a mile of the small communities of Santa Ysabel and Wynola. The fire, now in its fifth day, has claimed 11 lives, blackened more than 43,000 acres of timber and brush within a 90-mile perimeter and destroyed several homes. It is under control except in the San Diego River Canyon and the Boulder Creek area on the east front. A spreading trash fire started the disastrous blaze last Saturday.

Girl Falls To Her Death Rather Than Go Back Home

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Martha Collier, 17, who told police she had rather go to jail than return home, injured herself fatally by leaping over a stairway railing and plunging three flights to the concrete floor of the Wichita County Courthouse late last night, authorities reported. She died today. Police officer Melvin Weatherford said he was escorting her to the juvenile ward when she suddenly darted over the side of the railing. "I wasn't able to do a thing," he said. Weatherford said she had been picked up after her mother had notified police she had been missing from home for two days. Weatherford said she refused to go home, "choosing jail instead." He said he and the girl were waiting for the matron to open the door leading to the juvenile ward when she plunged over the railing. She fell down an open space through the center of the winding stairway.

Cold Air Dips Into Southland, Midwest

By The Associated Press The cold air in the Eastern section of the country dipped into the Southland today and a fresh blast of icy air and strong winds moved into northern Midwest areas. The chilly weather extended from the lower Great Lakes to Alabama and eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Temperatures were generally in the 20s in most of the areas except along the coast where they were in the 30s and in southern Florida, which reported readings in the 40s. Miami was fairly cool with temperatures in the low 40s. The readings in the Eastern and Southern areas were about 8 degrees lower than yesterday morning. Snow flurries fell in areas from New York southward through West Virginia. Northwesterly winds averaging from 25 to 35 m.p.h. fanned a cold Canadian air and snow flurries over the Dakotas and into northwestern Minnesota. The wintery blasts headed south and eastward and were expected to cover the upper Great Lakes and as far south as Missouri and northern Oklahoma during the day. Fairly heavy snowfalls were in prospect near the eastern side of Lake Michigan. During the night southerly winds brought a general warming from eastern New Mexico to Louisiana and northeastward to the upper Great Lakes region. Temperatures were about 15 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier, ranging from the upper 20s in the north to the 40s in southern Texas. Generally clear skies, with little change in temperatures, were forecast for the western third of the country except for freezing drizzle in sections of northern Idaho.

Refugee Bodies Used As Terror

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungarians escaping to Austria saw the bodies of 20 refugees in the woods near the border, the Austrian Press Agency reported today. They had been shot, the agency said. The Austrian Cabinet was informed that 2,562 more refugees escaped into this little country last night, bringing the total close to 90,000 since Hungary's freedom revolt began. Austrian newspapers predicted the total would climb to 100,000—more than one out of every 100 of Hungary's population. The Austrian Press Agency, in reporting the shooting of those seeking to escape, quoted refugees as saying the Russians refused to permit the burial of the 20 bodies seen in the woods. The Russians apparently hoped the sight would frighten other refugees and cause them to turn back from the border.

Change Approved

SHERMAN (AP)—Sherman voters approved yesterday a proposed city charter amendment which changes the government from council to manager form.

U. S. Will Rest Its Fraud Case Against Parr

HOUSTON (AP)—U.S. Atty. Malcolm Wilkey said he would rest the government's case today against Duval County political leader George Parr and eight co-defendants charged with using the mails to defraud. Wilkey said he would rest his case after formally reading into the record rulings on several prosecution exhibits made yesterday by Federal Judge Allen Hannay. Defense Attorney Percy Foreman said he would be ready with a motion as soon as Wilkey rests his case. Wilkey ended his case yesterday by asking Hannay to broaden earlier rulings which limited government exhibits for use as evidence against specific defendants. In many cases Wilkey asked that the exhibits be entered as evidence against all nine defendants and the two banks now being liquidated, the Texas State Bank of Alice and the San Diego State. Hannay approved most of Wilkey's requests but refused to permit any of the exhibits to be entered as evidence against the San Diego bank, which Parr headed. Foreman argued that the indictment accuses the defendants of a general scheme and conspiracy to defraud while the government has tried to show that there were several unrelated schemes and "several separate and distinct conspiracies unrelated to each other." Wilkey admitted that several methods to defraud had been presented but cited a federal court ruling in a series of Louisiana cases as holding that such separate methods are part of the same scheme.

Canadian Dollar Worth More Than Its Yankee Counterpart

By SAM DAWSON NEW YORK (AP)—The Canadian dollar is worth about four cents more in today's market than the American dollar. This doesn't mean that the American dollar is losing any of its prestige in other lands—it is still the most sought after currency in the world today. It does mean that Canada's vast postwar expansion is catching its second breath—that American dollars are flowing northward. The flow has been particularly large in recent days because Canadians have been borrowing in the U.S. capital market—interest rates are even higher north of the border. As these borrowed American dollars are exchanged for Canadian to go to work there, the exchange rates reflect this large supply and the Canadian dollar Monday rose to $1.0417, just a shade under the high of $1.0434 in August 1952 when a previous great spurt in investment in Canada was under way. Some American businessmen watch this rise nervously. They wonder if the more expensive Canadian dollar may put any pressure for still higher prices on the things they buy from Canada—such as newspaper, woodpulp, metals, oil and chemicals. Some Canadians also watch this rush of American dollars northward with concern. They know that investment funds are needed to develop Canada's vast natural resources. But they fret because the profits from this development may flow southward in future years. For a time last summer this was a prime political issue in Canada. Many contended that U.S. corporations should let Canadians buy into their subsidiaries there. Americans aren't the only ones investing in Canada these days. There has been a flight of capital from Europe. Investors there feel the money will be safer in Canada than in troubled Europe. In the first spurt of investment in Canada, in the first part of this century, it was British capital that financed Canadian expansion. But since the mid 1920s American capital has been taking over. In the early 1930s when the British Commonwealth companies set up a preference system, U.S. corporations began setting up Canadian subsidiaries so they could export to preference areas from Canada rather than from the United States. Another great spurt started after World War II when Canada was found to have vast resources needed to supplement those in this country—uranium, nickel, copper, oil. There has been some investment in Canadian stocks and bonds—Canadian bonds, for example, have a higher yield than U.S. bonds. But most of the American dollars have gone into leases, plants, mines, wells and facilities. The U.S. Department of Commerce puts U.S. direct investments in Canada at the end of 1955 at 6 1/2 billion dollars—a sizable chunk of the total of 19 billion throughout the world. Canada's dollar owes its present high rating largely to this investment. This year our northern neighbor is running a commodity trade deficit, imports topping exports by one billion dollars—more than double what it was in 1955. By itself this factor would weaken the Canadian dollar—just as the trade gap weakens the British pound. But the flow of foreign capital to Canada has more than made up the difference and put the Canadian dollar at a premium. Canada's net foreign debt as it

For '57 Styled long and low - with lots of GO!

(Try the instant response of Buick's New Dynaflo*) We'll admit it quite frankly. "New" is a word that's used a lot. But seldom has it meant so much that's fresh and different and better-than-before—as here in the newest Buick yet. Take the new styling, because that's obvious at a glance. To get it so sweepingly low, the engineers started from the bottom, with a brand-new type of chassis. It's an ingenious "nested" chassis that reduced car height as much as 3.4 inches, giving new lowness and raciness—without reducing road clearance or room. It's a massive I-beam, X-frame chassis that's stronger and sturdier—and permits a new low center of gravity for far surer, far safer roadability. That's the picture on style, beauty and brawn in every '57 Buick. But no such picture can give you the feel of this new instant go. Only when you take the wheel can you appreciate the new era of motor-ing pleasure and ease and safety brought about by Buick's new power-pitch response. It's instant response—response set off by the hair-trigger action of a new 364-cubic-inch engine and the full-range flexibility of a new Variable Pitch Dynaflo. It's response so eager, this Buick seems to anticipate your every command. Power flashes to the rear wheels so quickly and smoothly in "Drive," that the need for "Low" has virtually been eliminated. Even Dynaflo's famous switch of the pitch is seldom needed. Come try it. Come see and feel the tremendous difference the newest Buick yet can make in your driving enjoyment. *New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Ike's Brother Takes New, Challenging Job

By WILLIAM B. HARWOOD BALTIMORE, Nov. 28 (AP)—The chance to apply himself to something new and challenging—and to devote the climax of a distinguished career to it—comes closest to explaining why Milton Stover Eisenhower is the new president of John Hopkins University.

Chief of which is education. Yet he has been an educator for less than one third of a 40-year career which has seen him as newspaperman, author, government official, diplomat and confidant of four presidents.

Yule Mailing Boom Hitting Post Office

Business is too good at the Big Spring post office these days. E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that an early flood of Christmas greeting cards has already hit the office and that early mailing of Christmas gifts has vastly increased the volume of operations at the establishment.

The increase is about 15 days ahead of normal schedule, the postmaster said. Generally the tempo of operations booms around Dec. 10.

The post office is still standing by its plans to augment its force with extra workers around that date. However, Boatler explained, if the rush now in progress continues to grow, it may be necessary to put extra help on the job before Dec. 10.

Plans call for the addition of four extra helpers on or about that date. This number will be increased as needed throughout the month.

College students, home for the holidays, have always provided a reserve of excellent extra help and Boatler expects the same situation this season.

Recruiting extra help is never much of a task, the postmaster explained. A half dozen or more applicants have already filed for extra work.

Speaking of his famous brother he says, "I never discuss him publicly." But he recalls fondly their youth together.

Milton Eisenhower was the youngest of seven sons born in Abilene, Kan., to David and Ida Stover Eisenhower. One son died in infancy.

Arthur, the eldest, became a Kansas City banker; Edgar a lawyer in Tacoma, Wash.; Dwight, a general, college head and president of the United States; Earl, an electrical engineer in Charleroi, Pa.; Roy, who died in 1942, a successful druggist in Junction City, Kan.; and Milton, a government official and college president.

Milton, the "kid brother," hit it off with his most famous brother from the start although he was nine years younger than Dwight. He recalls that Dwight's fists intervened more than once for him when a bully turned up.

After graduation in 1924 he passed a civil service examination and was sent to Edinburgh, Scotland, where he stayed for two years as vice consul. That job launched a government career which was to run 18 years and include such positions as assistant secretary of agriculture, director of information for the department, land use coordinator, director of the War Relocation Authority and associate director of the Office of War Information.

He held government posts under Presidents Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman and in later years his brother.

HE'S CAUGHT EITHER WAY

DETROIT (AP)—Harry Moore of Smith Creek got two traffic tickets within 20 minutes, one for going too slow, the other for going too fast.

Police said Moore was stopped the first time for driving at only 25 miles an hour in the left-hand lane of an expressway. After being ticketed, Moore drove away at a high speed. The arresting officer ticketed him a second time for doing 70 miles an hour.

Moore was fined $35 for the two offenses.

Youth Taken To Gatesville

A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, and Rufus Davidson, deputy sheriff, have returned from Gatesville where they took a 15-year-old Howard County youth.

The boy was arrested some days ago in San Antonio after he had gone on a foray of bad check writing here. He was returned to Howard County and brought before Juvenile Judge R. H. Weaver. The boy had been in court on other occasions and only a few weeks earlier had been saved from commitment to the state training school by the intervention of a Big Spring minister.

The minister told the court that he believed if he could have custody of the youth he might be able to correct his viewpoint and set him straight. The court granted custody as requested.

After two or three weeks, the minister reported to the juvenile officer his efforts were futile. It was about the same time that the boy's hot check operations were disclosed. A short time later he was apprehended in San Antonio.

Firemen Call For More Toys

The pile of toys to be repaired at the fire station is growing, but the firemen say the volume is increasing too slowly.

The fire department annually repairs old and broken toys for underprivileged children at Christmas. Of course, their work is dependent on the amount of toys that is brought in to the four stations and Shell service stations.

This year, the firemen report that their supplies are not as big as usual at this time of the season. They urged citizens to bring in their toys. Only if a large amount of toys come in will there be much assortment or enough for all needy children, they said.

Any type of toy can be used, the firemen reported. The men start repairing the toys about Dec. 1, but they said this year, they might not get to start by then since the amount of toys on hand is so small.

The toys can be left at any Shell service station or any of the four fire stations, and they will be processed.

Mrs. McMahon Dies, Rites Set

Mrs. J. P. McMahon, 75, mother of Clyde McMahon of Big Spring, died in the Deaf Smith County Hospital at Hereford at 2:45 a.m. today.

Mrs. McMahon, a former resident of Big Spring, had been in failing health for the last three weeks and had been seriously ill for the past week. Since January of this year she had made her home with a daughter, Mrs. O. L. Click, in Hereford.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church in Hereford with the Rev. Paul B. Cockrell, pastor, officiating. Burial will be beside the grave of her husband, J. P. McMahon, who died in 1943.

Mrs. McMahon was born in Joplin, Mo., and had lived most of her life in Texas. She and Mr. McMahon came from Newport to Hereford in 1922 and then to Lubbock in 1932. Later they made their home here.

Surviving her are three sons, Charles McMahon of Fort Worth, Clyde McMahon of Big Spring, and Jim McMahon of Lubbock; and two daughters, Mrs. O. L. Click, Hereford, and Mrs. Opal Dixon, Lubbock. She also leaves seven grandchildren, including Clyde McMahon Jr., Big Spring; and two great-grandchildren.

Koger Is New Scout Chairman

Maurice R. Koger was elected Tuesday to be district chairman for the Lone Star district of the Buffalo Trails Boy Scout Council.

Koger, head of his own insurance agency, will be installed with other district officers Monday evening at the annual district meeting. The affair is set for 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Other officers elected were Lee Porter and Dr. Marshall Cauley, vice chairmen; and Champ Rainwater and John Taylor, representatives from the district to the council board.

Taylor, retiring district chairman, expressed appreciation for work done by all the volunteers. He said that while there had been only a modest membership gain that was significant inasmuch as the year was one of adjustment following the organization of 17 new units the previous year.

He also stressed the importance of attendance at the meeting Monday and at the Scout Exposition Dec. 6-7 at the old Safeway location.

'Timing Strip' Chapter Is Proposed For Big Spring

Five directors were named and plans were made to complete organization of a local chapter of the National Timing Strip Association last night at a meeting of some 35 backers of the project.

The five directors chosen were asked to contact up to 20 additional men who will be asked to take places on the board. Another meeting is set tentatively for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Chamber of Commerce, with organization due to be completed at that time.

Special guests and speakers at last night's session were Dudley Williams and W. E. Medlock, both of Lubbock. Williams is connected with the Lubbock Citizens Traffic Commission and Medlock is president of Teen-Age Park and the South Plains Timing Association.

Ulcers Discussed At Medical Meet

People troubled with stomach ulcers may be surprised to learn that their thorn in the flesh is a tiny spot no larger than a pencil lead.

Points of interest to the laity developed at the program of the Permian Basin Medical Society Tuesday evening included:

"Ninety per cent of 'stomach' ulcers occur in the duodenum, the extreme lower end of the stomach as it merges toward the small intestines.

Eighty-five to 90 per cent of these can be controlled medically if there is proper cooperation of patient with the physician. In the remaining percentage, surgery offers excellent chances of relief.

Explosion At Rail Wreck Site Kills 2

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Two persons were killed this morning in an explosion of the flaming wreckage at a railroad crossing where two trainmen and a truck driver lost their lives last night.

State police said the explosion occurred in one of the diesel locomotives of the freight train which had been derailed when a gasoline truck ran into it yesterday afternoon.

Seven others were injured in today's explosion, one critically.

Today's dead were identified at a Chesterton funeral home as Otto Keehn, 50, and George Marquardt, 56. Police said they were killed by the explosion as they were trying to get the bodies of the two trainmen out of the still-burning diesel engine.

The blast occurred as a crew of workmen tried to put out the fire and clear the wreckage.

Two locomotives and 10 cars of the 65-car Chesapeake & Ohio train were derailed by the collision at the U.S. 20 crossing three miles northwest of Michigan City. Brakeman Bernard Terborst, 31, Holland, Mich., suffered burns as he tried to drag the engine and the fireman from their overturned locomotive. He was in fair condition in Doctors H. Hall.

The train was en route to Chicago from Grand Rapids, carrying mostly auto parts, scrap and salt. State police estimated the damage at a half million dollars.

Police identified the dead as engineer Ray Powers, 55, and fireman Robert H. Johnson, 38, both of Grand Rapids, Mich.

The truck driver was identified as Charlie Wilson, 50, Mishawaka, Ind.

The seven injured in today's explosion were taken to hospitals in Michigan City.

Today's dead and injured were members of a C&O crew trying to clear wreckage; d remove the bodies.

Germans Silent On Russ Moves

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Western officials refused today to say whether they considered serious the sudden Russian interference with movement of Allied military trains in and out of Berlin.

The Russians turned back a British train from Berlin to West Sunday night, held up a U.S. train two hours and delayed another U.S. train last night.

What the Russians were demanding was not clear. Allied officials said only that the Soviets had introduced new document procedures.

Russia's action in demanding new formalities at the frontier between East and West Germany aroused mild fears last night that the Soviets might wish to interfere with the free access of the Allies to Berlin.

The free movement of Allied military trains through Communist East Germany was guaranteed by Russia in a four-power agreement signed after the 1948 Berlin blockade attempt by the Russians failed.

Dance, Sale Slated

Seventh grade Tri-Hi-Y members made plans for their Christmas dance, to be held Dec. 21, and a cake sale set for Dec. 15 at their meeting Tuesday afternoon. The cake sale will be held in the various local food stores. Twenty-four persons attended the meeting.

Employment In Dawson High

LAMESA — Unemployment during the month of November in the Lower South Plains served by the Lamesa Texas Employment Commission office dropped off to a mere trickle. Dayton Carrell, manager of the Lamesa office said this morning that only 15 claims were filed by persons who were not on the rolls at the beginning of the month. There were 71 carry-overs from October, according to Carrell.

The TEC Manager said November is the lowest month for unemployment during the past three years in the six county area which includes Borden, Dawson, Gaines, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum Counties.

The above expectation cotton crop undoubtedly had much to do with the unemployment lessening. Less than 5,000 bales remain to be harvested in Dawson County at the present time, and the count is expected to run to 90,000 bales.

Demonstrations Of Crops Planned In Dawson County

LAMESA — At least 20 crop demonstrations will be growing in Dawson County in 1957, said County Agent LeRoy Colgan after a planning session Tuesday morning at the Chamber of Commerce.

A dozen farmers will be staging the demonstrations with the cooperation of the Lubbock Experiment Station, Texas A&M College, seed suppliers, the Dawson County Soil Conservation Service, the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, the Dawson County Farm Bureau, Lamesa Tractor and Motor Company and C. V. Ball Tractor Co.

Colgan said the demonstrations will include different phases and ideas on growing the various crops. He said each demonstration plot will be visited in the farm tours next year. Included in the demonstrations are grain sorghums, corn, sudan, soybeans, cotton and new crops.

Ike Planning To Ask $4 Billion Aid Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is tentatively planning to ask Congress for slightly more than four billion dollars to continue foreign aid for a 10th straight year.

Such a sum would boost to more than 50 billion dollars the amount of money the United States has granted for food, raw materials, weapons and technical assistance to more than 40 nations since the Marshall Plan was launched in 1948.

The new program, now being drafted by officials, would cover the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

President Eisenhower, who may officially disclose its size in his budget message in January, still must give final approval to the sum tentatively agreed upon.

The State and Defense Departments and the International Cooperation Administration, which operates the foreign aid program, have agreed on a figure of slightly more than four billion dollars and have submitted it to the Budget Bureau, an arm of the White House.

The sum is about 900 million dollars less than the administration sought from Congress this year. Congress cut about a billion dollars from the administration program, voting $3,765,000,000.

Officials said the sum to be asked in new money would make it possible to maintain spending for both economic and military aid at current levels. This spending now totals about $4,200,000,000 annually—$2,700,000,000 of it for military aid.

One big unresolved question at present, informants said, is what to do about foreign aid to the war-torn Middle East. Economic aid programs have been suspended for Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria.

Planners are holding off a decision on funds for the Middle East in the hope that outlines of a peaceful settlement of present tensions may become clear.

Some officials advocate that the U. S. government underwrite such projects as Jordan River development, Arab refugee resettlement and other projects in the interest of assuring a permanent peace.

But any such proposed spending may be omitted from the foreign aid program with the understanding that special legislation may be sent to Congress later.

The foreign aid program is being shaped with the realization that special committees are now studying the problem may drastically influence the scope and direction of the program later.

Senate and House foreign policy committees are now surveying aid projects overseas. A separate group, appointed by Eisenhower, is conducting a similar study under the chairmanship of Benjamin Fairless, former head of U. S. Steel.

The Fairless committee's views probably will be incorporated in legislation to be presented to Congress probably in late March.

The White House is expected to make a special effort to brief congressmen clearly on the foreign aid plan. Last December, administration spokesmen did not make clear to congressmen at a similar briefing that the foreign aid request would be nearly doubled over the previous year, arousing protests from some who complained they had been deliberately misled.

Dawson 'Chest' Drive Progresses

LAMESA — The addition of four of the five Lamesa Schools and three firms to the list of firms whose employees donated 100 per cent to the Dawson County Community Chest moved the actual pledges and cash above $17,000 today. The chest's goal is $21,860.10.

Other firms added to the 100 per cent list include Lamesa Printing, Fenton's Shoe Store and Spencer Machine Shop. The four schools added to the list are Central and North Elementary and Junior High and high schools.

Testifies

Leonard Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, testifies before a special Senate committee in Washington investigating lobbying and political activities. Hall was called to discuss GOP fund-raising and spending in the 1956 presidential campaign.

Cubs At Lamesa Receive Awards

LAMESA—Cub Pack No. 83 met for their monthly meeting Monday at Pioneer Park Recreation Hall. Den Three had the opening ceremony followed by Gwinn Liddell presenting bob cat badges to Larry and Gary Mayfield, Den 4; Harry Stevens, Den 3; Mike Stevens and Jimmy Davis, Den 2.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Joe Nichols, den mother of Den 4, the members dressed as Indians assisted with the presentation of awards. Mike Liddell received his bear badge and Ricki Sealy a silver arrow point on his bear badge.

A webelos ceremony for Mike Baskin was held; at the conclusion he was presented to Joe Spikes, scoutmaster of Troop 22 of which he will become a member.

Climaxing the month's study of Puerto Rico a special program was staged with Jerry Corbin giving the history of the island. Den 3, under the leadership of Mrs. Harvey Stevens, presented music of Puerto Rico; Den 5 gave the Dance of the Island in costume. Mrs. Cecil Speck is den mother.

Surpasses its Own Great Reputation!

You're looking at a mighty surprised man. Almost all of his adult life he has owned Cadillac cars. And so, when he came in to see and drive the new 1957 Cadillac, he thought he knew about what to expect. Well, here he is—barely under way in the city's traffic—and already he is learning the startling truth.

He is learning that nothing could prepare a man for the new "car of cars"—not even Cadillac ownership itself!

He suspected it, in fact, the instant he caught his first glimpse of this newest Cadillac creation. This was an entirely new kind of Cadillac beauty—brilliantly fresh in line and in contour.

And then he opened the door and swung into the driver's seat. On every side were new miracles of interior beauty and comfort and convenience.

And when he turned the key and put his foot on the accelerator, his sentiment grew to conviction. The car was incredibly nimble and quiet and smooth of ride.

Surprised, did he say? Well, just wait until he hits an open stretch of highway.

That great new engine is incredibly responsive. There is marvelous new balance and ease of motion. And the car is so easy to handle that it seems almost to know the road.

No question about it—this is the Cadillac that surpasses its own great reputation!

We suggest that you come in soon to see and drive this most surprising new Cadillac in fifty-four years. It's an experience you shouldn't postpone—and one you'll not soon forget.

Safety Glasses Save Boy's Eye

RICHARDSON, Tex. (AP)—A pair of eyeglasses made of safety glass were credited today with saving the left eye of a 15-year-old boy when a rifle bullet ricocheted and struck the lens.

Mike Walley said he was hunting yesterday with a friend when his dog brushed against a 22-caliber rifle he was carrying. The gun discharged and the bullet bounced off an object and shattered the left lens of Mike's eyeglasses.

The boy's father, Irvin W. Walley, said he would get Mike another pair of glasses made of safety glass although they cost a little extra. He said the heat-tempered safety glass will absorb twice the shock of other glass.

Pittsburgh's Maintenance Man Is Blind

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28 (AP)—Ever tear down a bulldozer, an auto or a truck and put them back together? Those are jobs to try anybody's skill. George Walters does it and he's blind.

Walters is maintenance man for the Borough of New Brighton, about 25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. But don't ever get the idea it's some kind of welfare job.

"Not on your life," says George's boss, L. A. (Bud) Douds. "George holds down his job because he's the best motors mechanic I know of."

"One thing he doesn't get around here is sympathy. He gets hell whenever he deserves it—which is mighty seldom, believe me."

And George, who was blinded at the age of 7 by an exploding dynamite cap, doesn't want any sympathy. "Pity ruins a blind man," says George. "In time he'll begin to pity himself, and then he's lost."

Walters handles 19 pieces of borough equipment, ranging from big bulldozers to fire trucks and police cars. The equipment he maintains includes some 70,000 different parts.

Walters has to be familiar with them all. He's got to be able to distinguish a 9-16 bolt from a half-inch bolt, but he unerringly picks up each part.

One job recently called for him to tear down and rebuild five sets of timing gears and adjust them. Just before that job he put in a new engine block, removed a burned-out clutch in a highlift and installed new pistons and valves in a fire engine.

He dresses his own drills and operates both electric and acetylene welders. Every move is by touch alone. The sound of the flame guides his welding.

Walters is 35 and unmarried. He lives with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Toy. His closest companion is his guide dog, Flame, a majestic German shepherd.

The other day Walters installed new red blinkers on all the borough trucks. For that job he needed a little help. He had to ask if the lights worked. They did.

Fluoridation Praise

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The president-elect of the American Dental Assn. says fluoridation isn't a "dental cure-all" but 50 years of research has "proved beyond doubt that tooth decay is reduced 65 per cent."

Dr. William Alstadt of Little Rock spoke to the Mid-Continent Dental Congress yesterday.

Wilson Clips Wings Of Army Air Arm

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has clipped the sprouting air wings of the Army and forbidden it from operating longer range guided missiles than it now has.

Wilson said the Army and Air Force couldn't agree how they would divide up their duties and areas of control in the expanding guided missile and aviation fields.

His order limited the Army's aviation mission to providing "local mobility" for "small combat units and limited quantities of material."

All other airlift must be provided by the Air Force, which also was given "sole responsibility" for operating land-launched missiles of medium and long ranges.

The Pentagon left no doubt that the aim was to curb the Army's aviation ambitions. Deputy Secretary of Defense Reuben Robertson told newsmen the Army has been "enthusiastic about developing an Air Force of its own."

Asked whether the Army would be permitted to go ahead with previously announced plans for a much larger air arm than it now has, Robertson said: "We are not going to have a separate Air Force within the Army."

Wilson said his decision should end unnecessary duplication of efforts and make for better use of defense money voted by Congress, Robertson said. President Eisenhower was generally familiar with the order and approved it without going into specific details.

The new order continued unchanged, despite frequently voiced Army hopes for an upward revision, a weight limit of 5,000 pounds for Army fixed wing aircraft.

The Army was given, for the first time, a 20,000-pound limit for helicopters. It has been working to get heavier helicopters capable of moving more troops.

Wilson told the Army that the Army now has enough airlift to move Army troops over long distances "in the light of currently approved strategic concepts."

The military services have stated that the strategic airlift is now sufficient to move no more than one division, with light equipment over a long distance.

The order specifically forbids the Army from developing or using airplanes capable of bombing or otherwise attacking enemy troops in a battle area. All close support must be provided by the Air Force.

Possibly the heaviest blow dealt by the Wilson order to Army efforts and expectations was contained in the injunction against any Army planning at this time to employ "any other missiles with ranges beyond 200 miles."

The Army, working with the Navy, has developed to an advanced stage the ballistic missile Jupiter which has a planned range of 1,500 miles.

Woman Banker Inherits Stock

DALLAS (AP)—Miss Maurine Jacobs, 42, named president yesterday of the National Bank of Commerce of Dallas, was disclosed today to have inherited the bank stock of her predecessor.

The previous president, J. B. Adoue Jr., owned the controlling stock of the bank, which has resources of $15,539,696. Adoue was 72 when he died Nov. 17 of a heart attack.

Of the 1,500 shares outstanding, Adoue owned 557. The will and codicils was filed today. These indicated Adoue had started transferring stock to Miss Jacobs before his death.

Miss Jacobs came to the bank 23 years ago as a secretary. The board named her president, saying it did so "by virtue of her proven leadership as managing officer of this bank for the past several years and her recognition in banking circles."

The exact value of the inheritance was not made known at once. To his wife, Adoue left personal property and an income of $30,000 a year. To a son, J. B. Adoue III, he left $10,000 in cash, noting that "I make no other provisions for my son since he already had received inheritances."

ing or otherwise attacking enemy troops in a battle area. All close support must be provided by the Air Force.

Possibly the heaviest blow dealt by the Wilson order to Army efforts and expectations was contained in the injunction against any Army planning at this time to employ "any other missiles with ranges beyond 200 miles."

The Army, working with the Navy, has developed to an advanced stage the ballistic missile Jupiter which has a planned range of 1,500 miles.

There was some consolation for the Army in the award to it of primary responsibility to operate all anti-aircraft guided missiles. But this was tempered by a provision that such Army-operated weapons will have a range of no more than 100 miles.

This will retain Army control over its family of Nike surface-to-air missiles and also the Talos weapon, originally developed by the Navy for shipboard use but adopted last year by the Air Force in what proved to be an abortive effort to organize its own anti-aircraft defense.

But the Air Force, under the Wilson ruling, is given unchallenged operational control of longer-ranged anti-aircraft missiles, such as the Bomarc, that are designed for protection of large areas.

The ruling left unchanged the Navy's roles in the missile and aviation fields. The Navy was given "sole responsibility" for operating intermediate range ballistic missiles from ships. In current military language, an intermediate range missile is one that travels between 1,200 and about 1,500 miles.

The Navy was also left with the responsibility and authority to protect its ships with whatever guided missiles it develops or might borrow from any other service.

Birthday Stroll

Former Vice President John Garner quietly celebrated his 88th birthday in Uvalde. Still spry and in good health, Garner took a birthday stroll, stopping off at the local telephone exchange to chat with friends. Garner, puffing a customary cigar, didn't celebrate Thanksgiving on his birthday. He said he would observe next Thursday, the official Thanksgiving in Texas. The other people in the picture are not identified.

Carolina Solons To Drive Hard Bargain

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—South Carolina's congressional delegation has been told to drive a hard political bargain when it returns to Washington in January.

Former State Sen. R. M. Kennedy of Camden presented a resolution to the legislators yesterday in which they are urged to "stand aloof" from helping the Democrats organize Congress unless they can get some assurance that no integration legislation would be passed.

The state's congressional delegation was here in an unusual public meeting to hear the views of some 20 state organizations on various problems facing South Carolina.

Kennedy's resolution, who represented the view of the South Carolina independents who backed Virginia's Sen. Harry Byrd in the Nov. 6 election, stated that the "South is in the saddle. It can block the organization of Congress by anybody."

The resolution held it was the "duty" of the state's congressional members "to form a coalition with some group that will protect our way of life."

Kennedy contended that such strategy would enable the South to gain what he called its "rightful place" in the party.

Only one of the state's six representatives was absent from the meeting which had been arranged by the South Carolina members of the House.

Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr., and the state's two senators were invited, but only Sen. Strom Thurmond was able to attend.

There was no indication from the delegation as to whether it plans to do anything about Kennedy's proposal.

Fliers 'Crawl' Down, Become 'Caterpillars'

Two Webb AFB officers have been initiated into the "Caterpillar Club," that exclusive organization composed only of fliers who have been forced to "hit the silk."

'Caterpillars'

Lt. Hubert G. King, left, and Lt. Richard V. Hermanson, right, pay their sincere respects to J. N. Littlejohn, parachute rigger at Webb Air Force Base. Littlejohn packed the 'chutes used by the two air-men in a bail-out near Roanoke, Va. By crawling down out of the trees after their successful descent, the two fliers automatically became members of the exclusive "Caterpillar Club."

October Rainfall Largest For Any Month This Year

October produced a total of 2.02 inches of precipitation, marking the third time this year that more than an inch of rain has fallen within a single month. This also was the largest amount for any month of the year, according to the summary released by the Texas Experiment Station.

3 CTC Proposals Approved, City Accepts Fire Station

Three proposals submitted by the Citizens' Traffic Commission got the sanction of the city commission Tuesday night, and in addition the commission voted more traffic lights at present intersections. The city commissioners ordered traffic signals be placed on the left side of five intersections on Third at Johnson, Runnels, Main, Scurry, and Gregg. Cost of this work is $586, Roy Rogan, city electrician, estimated.

Joint Meeting Of City, School Officials Urged

Omar Jones, meeting with the city commission on personal matters, unofficially proposed a joint meeting of the city commission and the school board to discuss common problems. Jones attended the commission meeting Tuesday night concerning a plat southwest of the city, but he said, as one member of the school board, that he would like to see a meeting of the two groups in the future.

RESERVOIR SITE $11,000 Awarded In Suit On Land

A Howard County Court jury, deliberating half an hour Tuesday afternoon ruled the value of a hilltop seized by the city of Big Spring as site for a water storage reservoir is $7,000 and that the owners of the property are also entitled to an additional $4,000 as compensation for damages.

Basin Cage Group In Rules Parley

The season's first meeting of the Permian Basin Basketball Officials Association will be held in Odessa at 2 p.m. Sunday, it has been announced. An interpretation of new rules will be given during the session, after which the 1956-57 SBOA rules and manual examination will be extended members.

For Dead Letters?

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas residents may see an Army ambulance driving up to their homes soon. The Post Office will add 125 Army trucks to its fleet to handle the Christmas rush. Postmaster William Hudson says the ambulance truck is a handy size and he expects to get several of them.

Thieves Tempted By Unguarded Parcels

Christmas shopping brings plenty of packages and boxes and it also brings plenty of thieves, Police Chief C. L. Rogers said in warning citizens to lock their cars. Rogers said that the great volume of packages being left in cars about town each day is a temptation to thieves. He said that thieves during the Christmas season look for unlocked cars that are filled with packages.

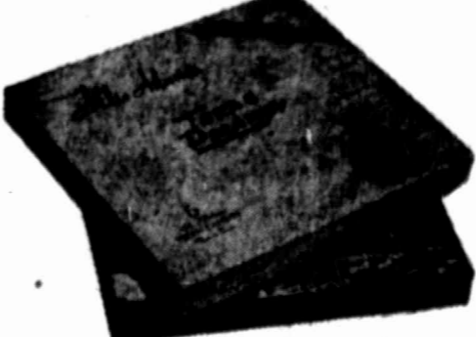

who seems to be watching a car unduly, Rogers urged the person to call the police. A false alarm will be better than having an investigation for the stolen packages, he said. The same is true in stores, Rogers said. Shoplifters and thieves will be watching stores and persons with plenty of packages. When a person lays down a stack of boxes, Rogers said it was a good idea to count them and then check again when retrieving them.

Ann White Is Complimented In Stripling Home With Shower

Friends of Ann White gathered in the Robert Stripling home Tuesday evening to honor her with a miscellaneous bridal shower.

Miss White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd T. White, is the bride-elect of Louis Stipp, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stipp. The couple will be married Dec. 22.

A hostess, Mrs. Clyde Angel, greeted guests and presented Mrs. Stripling. She introduced Miss White and her mother, along with the mother of the prospective bridegroom.

National Report Given For Methodist WSCS

The sixteenth annual WSCS national report was heard by members of the First Methodist WSCS when they met Tuesday at the church.

The report, presented by Mrs. Howard Stephens, told of the background of the women's society and showed maps of how the Methodist churches were divided into jurisdictions and districts.

Midway Has Homecoming Festival

Four hundred people saw the coronation of Sandra Louise Wilson and Terry Denton as queen and king of the Midway Festival and Homecoming. The event took place Monday evening.

Presenting the devotion, Mrs. W. S. Goodlett told the group "all we send into the life of others comes back into our own life."

Lamesa Man Wed In Shreveport Rites

LAMESA — Patricia Dahms became the bride of Osburn Harwell in a double ring ceremony read Saturday, in the parsonage of the Highland Baptist Church in Shreveport, La.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dahms, Pottstown, Pa. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harwell of Lamesa.

The Rev. James W. Taylor, pastor, read the ceremony. The couple's only attendants were Betty Dahms, sister of the bride, Pottstown, Pa. and Sgt. Joe Kicksen Jr., Shreveport, La.

The bride and bridegroom are stationed with the Air Force at Barksdale Air Force Base in Shreveport.

Rebekah Lodges Have Candlelight Initiations

Baptist WMU; Youth Organizations Hold Mission Study On Japan

Entering through an archway depicting a Japanese temple gate, members of the Baptist Temple WMU met Tuesday morning for mission study on Japan.

The meeting room was decorated to represent a Japanese museum and an authentic tea room. The walls displayed various symbols and miniature dolls, fans, chopsticks, dishes, and gardens were on display.

The special guests were Mrs. Hillard and her three children, Teresa, Dorothy, and Charlie. Members of the Sunbeam group were dressed in kimonos which had been made from garment bags.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bill Lansing and Mrs. J. M. Hill, hostesses. The program was in charge of Mrs. Jack Watkins.

Forty-one attended the study with one out-of-town guest, Mrs. J. F. Hanson, Midland.

One hundred and one young people attended the study.

Delphians Plan For Annual Dinner

LAMESA — Plans for the annual Christmas dinner to be staged Dec. 10 by the '48 Delphian Club were completed Monday evening at the regular meeting.

The club discussed participation in the national Letterbug campaign. Mrs. George Dawson, hostess, served refreshments from a table laid with an ecru linen cloth.

Following his talk, the individual groups met separately for their study of missions.

Mayor Bob Cravens was the guest speaker for the dinner with music being furnished by Richard Evans with a piano solo and two vocal solos.

The tables featured cornucopias filled with fruits and vegetables. Favors were miniature cowgirls which read "Hats off to the Boss."

After the study, the groups assembled in the room decorated by the WMU. They were seated at low tea tables. Refreshments were served from the Japanese tea cart.

Value Of U. S. Farm Assets At New High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The value of farm assets pushed upward again this year to a new high.

The Agriculture Department said today total value of farm assets is expected to be about 176 billion dollars Jan. 1. That would be $5,800,000,000 greater than on Jan. 1.

Two-thirds of the increase in value will be accounted for by an increase in the value of farm real estate, the department said. Other physical property owned by farmers also went up in value.

Farm real estate values rose in all except one of the years 1951 through 1955, although net farm income dropped continuously throughout that period. They advanced again with the slight increase in net farm income the department says occurred in 1956.

Among farmers, much demand for farms arises from a desire to expand operations. Farmers have realized that with advances in mechanization, higher costs and acreage restrictions for important crops, larger farms have become necessary for efficient operation and to provide adequate incomes. In many areas, farm land values have been driven up by suburban developments.

The department said that during 1956 farm real estate went up in value from $102,700,000,000 to $106,400,000,000, while other farm physical property increased from $47,300,000,000 to $49,200,000,000 and the owners' financial assets went up from $20,200,000,000 to $20,400,000,000.

Farm liabilities, which include real estate and other debts, went up in 1956 from $18,800,000,000 to $20,700,000,000. As a result, the department said, the proprietors' equities—what is left after debts—went up from $151,400,000,000 to $155,300,000,000, an increase of $3,900,000,000.

The department said reports from both farmers and lending agencies indicate that in most parts of the country adequate credit is available to meet farmers' needs and farmers are paying their debts on schedule. Few delinquencies or foreclosures are reported.

However, the department said, it appears that a substantial number of farmers are giving up farming or are supplementing their farm income with off-farm jobs. Such measures often permit payment of farm debts that could not be paid from farm income.

The department said the financial condition of farmers has not improved to the extent indicated by the expansion of asset values and equities. It said the rise in farm land values, for example, has resulted largely from widespread demand for additional land, created by a desire to operate on a larger scale and to reduce unit costs.

Income Tax Forms To Go Into Mails In December

Forms for the preparation of 1956 income tax returns will be available about Dec. 3 to accountants, attorneys and other professional personnel, according to Ben Hawkins, administrative officer of the Big Spring office of the Internal Revenue Service.

The IRS has provided order blanks to some 3,500 tax practitioners in the North Texas district, and in most cases the tax consultants have submitted orders. As a result, the forms are now being packaged and will be shipped starting Dec. 3. Hawkins said "reasonable quantities" of the forms will be made available to the tax practitioners.

Individual taxpayers on record will receive their forms and instruction booklets through the mails on the same schedule as last year, during late December or early January, Hawkins said.

There are few changes in the form other than minor revisions for clarity and simplification. The instruction booklet which accompanies it has been changed, however, to provide a line-by-line series of explanations, keyed to the arrangement of the form and its sequence of entries.

New type-faces have been used in both form and booklet, and should, with the simplified treatment and explanations, make preparation of a return much easier than in past years.

The Internal Revenue Service will sponsor the printing of 185 million copies of Form 1040. Taxpayers were advised to begin study of the tax instructions as soon as possible since a good understanding of the tax instructions will mean money in the taxpayers' pocket when he files his tax return.

Ike Picks New U. S. Education Leader

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today picked Dr. Lawrence Gridley Dertick, now superintendent of schools at Chattanooga, Tenn., to be U. S. Commissioner of Education.

At the same time, the President appointed Jack Z. Anderson, former member of Congress and now an assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, to serve as a White House liaison man with Congress. He will specialize in tending to farm legislation, as he has in the agriculture department.

In the education post, Dertick, who will be 51 Dec. 23, succeeds Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, brother of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell. The job has been vacant since Sept. 1, when Samuel Brownell resigned to become superintendent of schools in Detroit. It pays $14,800 a year.

The President's choice of Dertick, announced at his vacation headquarters here, is a recess appointment subject to Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes in January.

The selection of Anderson as a White House liaison man with Congress is an outright Presidential appointment which does not require Senate confirmation.

Dertick, a native of Hazel Green, Ky., is a former principal of the City-County School at Clarksville, Tenn., and he was superintendent of schools at Nashville, Tenn., from 1939 to 1952.

He has been school superintendent at Chattanooga since 1942.

Anderson is a former Republican member of Congress from California. He served in the House from 1939 through 1952. He will work with retired Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, who heads up the Presidential staff dealing with Congress.

The position Anderson fills has been vacant since Fred A. Senton was named Secretary of the Interior earlier this year.

Selection of Dertick and Anderson was announced as Eisenhower started the second full day of a golf-and-work vacation.

The President flew here Monday afternoon for up to two weeks of relaxation while still keeping a watchful eye on the tense international situation.

His headquarters announced yesterday that Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles will review that picture at a conference Sunday. Dulles will stop at Augusta for a few hours en route to Washington from Key West, Fla., where he has been recuperating from an operation for intestinal cancer.

Along with announcement of that engagement, the President moved to heal the rift with Great Britain and France over the Suez crisis.

The Ugly Truth Is Out

Seventy-three thousand Hungarians refused to cross the border into friendly Austria by last weekend, but their numbers were decreasing as Russian troops became more and more diligent and ruthless in heading them off. The few who slipped through Sunday tramped across deep snow through rough terrain to reach and somehow manage to cross a canal that marks the boundary line. They managed to elude their pursuers, and to join their fellow-countrymen who were already taxing the ability of their Austrian neighbors to feed and house them. The U. S. had sent another 6,000 Army coats for their use, and was moving in food and medical supplies. Meantime, the first few flights of the 5,000 Hungarians invited to the United States were being rapidly "processed" and routed to various parts of the country where they had jobs or sponsors awaiting them. The processing had been reduced to the barest minimum, and none of the newcomers would remain in the distribution centers more than a few hours or days. Those fleeing their native land continued to tell of the deportations of boys as young as 14 years by the Russians, an act of ruthless cruelty which has done more to arouse the people of the satellite countries than any single factor in the putting down of the rebellion. It exhibits the blood-thirsty determination of the Russians to exact the last ounce of suffering from those who dared to aspire to freedom from tyranny. The shooting down of Hungarians who seek to escape over the border of Austria is an act of terrorism quite in keeping with Russia's record in the subject countries. One would think the Russians would be glad to be rid of people who refuse to the death to knuckle under to them. But this ruthless extinction of whole families serves the double purpose of drying up the flood of damning testimony against Red terror which they spread throughout the world and intimidating others who might be encouraged to take a chance on escape. Those who die will not have died in vain, for the bloody suppression of the rebellion has destroyed Russia's and communism's last chance to enter peacefully upon possession of the friendship and cooperation of the subject peoples. Never again will things be what they were behind the Iron Curtain. Never again can Russia promote "friendship" by guile and lies.

Around The Rim

Time To Get Ready To Handle Traffic

Maybe someone already has this figured out; maybe I'm the only one fretting about it; maybe I'm crossing bridges that won't turn up.

But I'm interested in some sort of long range — if not far-fetched — traffic planning.

I'm quite aware that it is one thing to sit down with a slide rule, a straight edge and a map of the city, after looking into the crystal ball, and come up with a chart of what could be done. It is quite another to give the dream the solid substance of money to make it a reality.

On the other hand, a failure to look ahead and even chance an investment in the future may prove vastly more costly than doing nothing until forced to do something.

The problem of the automobile has become much more formidable, much more rapidly, than most of us dared to think. The larger the concentration of population the more acute the problem of how to park and to move the swelling tide of cars. Metropolitan points have been almost engulfed by the tidal wave of automobiles, and even in medium-sized cities there has come the realization that the former downtown commercial nerve center may be in danger of being paralyzed. Cutting off traffic through congestion is like cutting blood away from the brain.

To protect and preserve these great values, means must be devised to open up and keep open arteries for free flow of traffic to them.

That, of course, is not our prime problem. But what can happen to a specific section of a city can happen to a city as a whole. Hence my thesis that we had better be thinking about how we are going to move traffic freely around and through our city five, ten and 20 years hence.

Now I happen to be one of those who believes that our little city is going to grow. It has in the past; it has the ingredients to warrant a continued steady growth.

If it does, we will need some main traffic belts or arterial streets at reasonable intervals to permit a rapid and unhampered flow of traffic about the city. The highway loops will, in time, serve toward this end. But they won't be the entire answer.

I recall that the Boss and the rest of us once campaigned for a widened Eleventh Place before all the development shaped up that way. One result, not necessarily from our efforts, was the opening of 10th Street which certainly served a burning need. As costly as it might have been then, I still believe that Eleventh Place should have been widened; and every bit of development which is bound to come from that direction will strengthen that conviction. To undertake it now would be almost prohibitive.

This is not cited as a bit of "we-told-you-so," but rather of what I believe is an object lesson in what procrastination in dealing with the problem may entail. The city planning toward the end of World War II included some traffic engineering. The plans may be unrealistic in view of subsequent happenings; but they might be dusted off and consulted as a starting point.

—JOE PICKLE

Either You Do Or You Don't

Most smokers probably would agree that cigarettes are an expensive and when used to excess, perhaps a harmful habit, but there are offsetting compensations — at least to the smoker. Tobacco is a solace and a relaxing experience, something to break the monotony of everyday stress and strain, a pleasant interlude in the day's nagging chores. Some people like cream and sugar in their coffee; some like to sop up gravy with a wadded piece of bread; some put ketchup on their eggs. And some like to smoke, knowing full well they might be better off physically not to indulge.

But in these days of psychosomatic approach to human ills, the physical effects of smoking might be offset by its psychological effects.

So there you are, going around in circles. But the American Cancer Society has just released a study saying that while evidence suggests that cigarettes are a health hazard, "the specific effect of cigarette smoking on a particular individual cannot be predicted." It said in part: "The American Cancer Society has no plans for a campaign against cigarette smoking. . . . The final decision on whether to smoke cigarettes rests with the individual, who will probably make up his mind in consultation with his doctor."

Thus the great hullabaloo over whether cigarettes cause lung cancer simmers down. Only a few days ago one study indicated the fumes we breathe in traffic are suspect as breeders of lung cancer. Most smokers know very well over-smoking does them no good. If they are wise they will cut down or cut it out entirely. But — Got a match?

David Lawrence

Decline Of Democratic Party In South

WASHINGTON—Is the Democratic party as a national institution on the way out in America?

Adlai Stevenson a few days ago in an outburst of indignation said to newsmen in South Carolina that "it's about time that a lot of people in the South decided whether they are Democrats or Republicans." He added:

"If they are Republicans, they should candidly say so and work for that party. If they are Democrats, then they should return to that party and be a part of it."

The 1956 election shows clearly that there is much to worry about, not only for Mr. Stevenson, but for all the Democratic leaders who are meeting here this week. For something is going on in the South which slowly but surely can make the party of Jefferson into a new entity or break it into splinters.

Without the South the Democrats could not control the committees of Congress or maintain their traditional advantage in starting every presidential campaign with a substantial number of votes in the electoral college.

But Mr. Stevenson is not alone in demanding a showdown in the Democratic party. Some of the northern "liberals" led by Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, who is joined by five other Democratic senators, now have announced that in January they will seek to have the Senate rules changed so as to prevent filibustering. This is like a declaration of war against the southern wing of the Democratic party.

When it is noted that in 14 out of 16 states in the South and border states Stevenson polled fewer votes this time than he did four years ago, it is evident something is stirring which may mean the breakup of the Democratic party itself.

Only the segregation issue has heretofore caused the South to hold firmly to the Democratic party. But when President Truman broke with the South in 1948 on civil rights, a start was made toward a new setup, not merely in the states which cast their electoral votes for Eisenhower in 1952, but in other states as well. The upsurge of Republican votes in North and South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia both in 1952 and 1956, while not enough to add to Republican electoral votes, shows clearly that the Democratic party as a national party is on the downgrade in all parts of the South.

What will these state organizations which still use the Democratic label eventually do? They cannot, of course, give up their machinery for nominating and electing senators and representatives formally known as "Democrats" in Congress. Length of service under the seniority system is vital to the southern Democrats. It keeps them in control of the chairmanships of important committees in both houses.

But state parties can be organized to endorse the regular nominees of the Democratic party and yet build new organizations for presidential purposes. The emergence of the independent movement in the South in the last campaign was directly due to a desire to hold a balance of power in the electoral college in the event of a close election between the two major parties. But it didn't work out that way.

The weakness of the Republican party in the South, of course, is due entirely to its traditional stand on the so-called civil rights issue. Historically, the Republicans have been on the side of the Negroes whereas the Democrats in the South have consistently favored segregation. Yet from 1952, for reasons related to economic conditions, has won a vast majority of the Negro districts. Some shifting in these same districts occurred in the 1956 election and, if the Republicans continue their gains in the Negro districts, the Democratic leaders in the North will have to figure out whether the retention of the South isn't more important to them after all, and hence steer a more moderate course on civil rights than the Republicans are steering.

If, on the other hand, under the leadership of Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democrats are going to be more vigorous than even the Republicans on the civil rights question, the southern states will have to consider seriously measures to detach themselves more and more from the northern wing of the party.

A Good World

TUCSON, Ariz. — Some big boys touched up six-year-old Charles Johnson and took $2.50 he had collected while selling newspapers. Milton Burach of Phoenix heard about the robbery and sent police a $2.50 check to give the lad so he'll know "it's a good world after all."

Taxi-Looking Taxes

MEXICO CITY — Mexico is determined to have the most taxi-looking taxis anywhere.

Every taxi — regardless of owner or operator — must be the same yellow-and-cream color. And a new order bans all commercial advertising signs on penalty of being impounded and fined.

New Crop Of Senate Freshmen

WASHINGTON — The United States Senate is like a college in some ways. Freshmen members are subject to mild hazing. They can get an education if they work at it. And you never can be sure, when a crop of freshmen enrolls, which is the most likely to succeed.

The freshman class which signs up next January is, as usual, a mixed lot.

It numbers five Democrats and four Republicans. One of them, Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, signs himself a Democrat, but consistently gets along well with Republicans. The Nation magazine, which disapproves of him, recently called him "more conservative" than the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Two of the "freshmen" are repeaters. Republicans John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia have taken the course before. This is no Ivy League class. Some of the senators elected Nov. 6 come from wealthy or socially prominent families, of course. Democrat Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, for instance, and Republican Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

Two are second generation Americans — Jacob K. Javits of New York, product of an overwhelmingly Jewish neighborhood on New York's East Side.

And there are a couple who were practically running for office in their crabs. Georgia's Herman Talmadge (a Democrat, naturally) and the handsome young Democrat from Idaho, Frank Church, stem from families in which public office is a tradition.

Of the nine newcomers, that leaves only one unaccounted for — Democrat John Carroll of Colorado. He's a former House member, a lawyer, and a veteran of both world wars. What can be expected of these Senate replacements? Well, President Eisenhower can expect firm support of his foreign policy from at least three Republicans: Cooper, until recently ambassador to India; Morton, a former assistant secretary of state under the present administration; and Javits, an all-out Ike man who has just carried an olive branch message from the President to Israel.

Revercomb? He campaigned as an Eisenhower backer. His reputation as a senator in the 1940s, however, was such that Thomas E. Dewey stirred up a storm by refusing to endorse Revercomb in one of Dewey's presidential campaigns.

As for the incoming Democrats: Number Clark and Church among the many rising young men in the party. (What a free-for-all there's going to be for the Democrats' 1960 presidential nomination.) Carroll is a hard-working House graduate who refused to go along with Adlai Stevenson's ideas on stopping H-bomb tests and stopping the draft.

Talmadge? He figures to keep quiet for a while, then gradually to let loose in the galling, sniping, fire-eating tradition of his father, "Old Gen." But with more restraint, better sureness of foot, more attention to the national scene.

Lausche? You try to predict what he will do. Ohio Democrats and Republicans alike have been trying to figure out Lausche for years.

Some Youths Just Love Reformatory

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Some boys and girls in California's correctional schools like the place so well, they ask permission to stay on after their term ends.

Herman G. Stark, Director of the California Youth Authority, figures the money for the extra room and board is well spent — that the post-graduate work further helps prepare the youngsters for life outside.

One girl at Los Guilicos School for Girls, near Santa Rosa, put in five extra months finishing a high school education.

Now, she's a successful nurse, Stark said.

Frequently, Stark added, boys 13 and 14 remain at the Fred C. Nelles School near Whittier so they can continue as eligibles for the 40-member marching unit.

Sponsored by an American Legion post, the marching team has won about 300 trophies during the past decade.

The boys — always with a mongrel dog as a mascot — have even gone cross-country to compete at Legion conventions.

Stark said other boys request permission to serve added weeks to finish fire seasons when they are working in forestry camps.

But Stark says there has to be a limit on the length of overtime residencies. The beds are usually needed for others.

Patients Well Treated

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Mental patients in Russia have government pensions and appear better dressed than the average person on the streets, reported Dr. Ephraim C. Korol after a two-month study tour of Russian and Scandinavian hospitals. Korol is a physician at the Napa, Calif., State Hospital.

Troopers Were Lousy Shots

NEW YORK — One by one the myths about the old Wild West are being exploded.

It has been shown pretty convincingly, for example, that the ordinary oldtime cowboy, far from being deadly in a gun fight, was usually more than a match for his blue-clad soldier foe. And if there had been more Indians with more guns we might all be speaking Sioux today and living in low-cost tepee projects instead of mortgage homes.

Proof that the Indian was not slouch as a marksman — when he could get a rifle — is given in the current issue of "Guns" magazine by Stanley Vestal, a University of Oklahoma professor and noted Western authority.

He quotes a report to the secretary of war made by Gen. George Crook in 1876:

"I have seen our friendly Indians, riding at full speed, shoot and kill a wolf, also on the run; while it is a rare thing that our troops can hit an Indian on horseback, though the soldier may be on his feet at the time."

Vestal also compiled a box score of 12 major engagements in which a total of 10,356 Indians fought 5,249 whites. The results: Indians 69 killed, 28 wounded; whites 383 dead, 102 wounded.

"Other than the astonishingly low number of casualties on either side," Vestal said, the battles "reveal an important trait of the Sioux campaigns."

"The Indians, like Napoleon, fought as a rule only when they had the advantage of numbers. The Sioux killed about five times as many white soldiers as they lost Indians killed, and wounded approximately four times as many whites."

"They did this with hardly half enough guns to go around under the best conditions, and with no cannon at all."

Thanksgiving-And Birthday-In Texas

If I had the money — I could scrounge up the time — I'd sure nuf fly down to Texas to spend this November 29. The Lone Star State is the only one in the Union polite enough to observe my natal day as a statewide holiday.

Once upon a time it would have been a nationwide holiday. Even now and then when I was young, my birthday was a holiday from border to border and from coast to coast. Then people started messing with the calendar, and today I'm just left with Texas.

Now, mind, I'm grateful, because Texas is an awful lot to be stuck with. I should be so lucky! (Have you heard the latest definition of a bore? A man who was born in Texas, was graduated from Princeton and served briefly in the Marine Corps.)

So maybe you are wondering why Texas is observing my birthday anniversary as a statewide holiday. It's because Texas still celebrates the good, old-fashioned Thanksgiving which was always observed on the last Thursday of November until the national itch for reform laid profane hands on this, the truly American holiday (Thanksgiving, that is, not my birthday).

There is now a whole generation growing up that probably believes Thanksgiving was always the fourth Thursday in November.

Ha! That evil custom is less than 20 years old, and in the interim I have been deprived of the old double-dip birthday celebration often enough to make me fighting mad.

When I was younger, my birthday anniversary coincided with Thanksgiving with a fair degree of regularity, and when mine didn't, Papa's did. He was born on November 30, which made me one day older than he, a fact that pleased me enormously when I was a moppet.

When Papa's or my birthday anniversary came on Thanksgiving, we had as a choice of desserts not only the usual mince and pumpkin pies, but also a big birthday cake. And, as Mama so wisely said, "What is cake without ice cream?" So there was always a freezer of homemade ice cream, too.

How many citizens still remember why Thanksgiving Day was changed during the Depression from the last to the fourth Thursday in November, thus doing me out of my double-decker celebration?

The answer is crass commercialism. It was decided, on the White House level, that people would do more Christmas shopping if there were an extra week between Thanksgiving and Christmas. This would spread money, if any, around, give a lift to employment, etc.

And after the Depression ended, I never got my two-for-one birthday back.

In the meantime, I hope Texas sticks to the old Thanksgiving. It's my only hope. If I could only be with the good folk of Texas on THEIR Thanksgiving and MY birthday anniversary this season, I would feel exactly like the Texas billionaire who went to see his dentist.

The latter told the Texan that for once his teeth needed no attention, not even a cleaning. But the Texan leaned back in the dentist's chair and said, "Go ahead and drill. Dec. 1 feel lucky."

Not Much Time To Adjust Tax Bill

This is the time of the year to plan to cut your income-tax bill. Legitimately.

You can do it by forethought — by budgeting your 1956 and 1957 income and expense — by careful allocation. But you've got to do it before December 31. You can't put it off.

Consider some examples. Suppose the stork's due in 1957. An extra dependent means an extra exemption — $600, which would automatically cut your tax bill next year (assuming no big boost in income).

Or suppose either you or your wife will be 65 next year. At age 65, you get two exemptions per person ($1,200 instead of $600). Again, it cuts your 1957 tax bill.

So, what is your strategy? Answer: Try to reduce your 1956 taxable income at the expense of 1957. Pull all deductions possible from 1957 into 1956. Push income out of 1956 into 1957.

How to do that? Suppose it's your custom to make charitable contributions of $150 each year. Maybe you could anticipate 1957's contributions. Pay them now. Get the benefit of the deductions in 1956.

Or maybe you have some income you could defer. If you're a merchant, plumber or carpenter, you might send out bills a little later. If a professional person, such as a doctor or a lawyer, again, you could delay your bills, so that payments would fall in 1957 instead of 1956. If you do part-time work, put off collecting.

Other ways of switching: Prepay interest — on a loan or mortgage. That gets you an extra deduction in 1956. Prepay taxes. Some states and localities make it possible to pay taxes in advance.

Perhaps that strategy is all wrong. Maybe you got a nice raise recently — and it's going to show fully in next year's income. Or maybe you've been promised a first-of-the-year raise. Then, you'll want to shift deductibles to 1957. Put off charities. Put off interest and tax payments.

Tax planning for this year and next requires a forecast: Will Congress lower taxes?

If Congress were to reduce tax rates in 1957, you'd want to squeeze income out of 1956 and 1957. But a reduction seems improbable. Military expenditures aren't going down. President Eisenhower has promised repeatedly to balance the budget. And it's good housekeeping, in times of prosperity such as the present, to keep taxes up — so as to reduce the debt.

So you'd better plan on NO CHANGE.

And if you expect no change in your personal fortunes, then it's sound strategy to equalize taxable income in both years. Under our progressive system of personal taxation, you'd pay more in an "up" year than you'd save in a "down" year. Exception to this rule: If you're short of cash and want to hold on to money (even at the cost of higher taxes), squeeze your 1956 tax bill. That reduces your cash payments to Uncle Sam in 1957.

Security owners, comb your stock lists. Losses up to $1,000 are deductible against regular income in any one year. And if the loss runs to $6,000, you can lop off $1,000 in each of the following five years. In taking losses, it's well to consider in which year it's best to take them — 1956 or 1957. (Losses can be applied in full to capital gains.)

Taxpayers who normally take the standard 10 per cent deduction for taxes, interest, contributions might make itemization pay off. Suppose your income's $5,000. That means you get a standard deduction of $500. (The maximum is $1,000). Now suppose you had a tough medical year. Your out-of-pocket medical expenses came to $700. You're entitled to a deduction of all such expenses above 3 per cent of your income. So you have a medical deduction of $550.

By throwing in charitable contributions, real estate and other local taxes, and interest payments, you can build that deduction up well above the standard 10 per cent allowance. And the beauty of it is that next year you'd still be entitled to take the standard 10 per cent deduction — instead of itemizing. Incidentally, taxpayers 65 years old get full medical deductions. So, if you or your wife is to reach 65 in '57, then try to defer medical payments to next year.

Snow Flurries For Panhandle

By The Associated Press
Snow flurries were forecast for the Panhandle Wednesday night as a new norther pushed across West Texas. A second cold front lay behind the first, promising to reinforce it. The first front extended on a line below Wichita Falls southwestward to near Abilene and into the El Paso area. Freezing weather was expected to extend well into North Central Texas. The second cold air mass was reported in Southern Kansas and Northern Oklahoma. Both fronts are dry northers. Winds behind the first norther were averaging 15 to 17 miles. Presidio had 28 degrees early Wednesday. It was 71 Tuesday in Presidio. Other temperatures ranged from the 30s in North Texas to the 50s along the Gulf.

Hotel Cook School Turns Out Chefs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Jet fighter pilot Merlyn Koehler, 29, wore the look of a man whose life or death depended on hearing every word and obeying instructions explicitly. It was serious business, all right. Koehler was learning, with painful concentration, how to mix chickory, truffles, hard-boiled egg whites and other mysterious ingredients into a concoction known as French-style frou frou salad. "Believe me, it's tougher than flying jets," he said. Koehler, who was jockeying

Supersonic Trainer Due

WACO (AP)—The Air Force expects to get its first supersonic jet trainer—the Northrop T2—in June of 1958. The light trainer will use tiny jet engines developed from power plants used for guided missiles, but will have exhaust afterburners for added thrust on takeoff. The combination will be mighty enough to take the plane upward at a climbing rate of more than 30,000 feet a minute. These disclosures about the newest development in Air Force training craft were made at the Flying Training Air Force to aviation writers visiting its headquarters Monday. Col. Edward Rector, FTAF deputy director of operations, told the group the supersonic trainer will be a "little gem." It will have two jet engines of "terrific thrust" and will use either the General Electric J85 or the Fairchild J83 engine, he said. He added that the General Electric engine is on its 50-hour test program, while Fairchild plans to have its J83 running early next year.

Co-Eds Pull Shorty Raid

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Some 40 to 50 Boise Junior College coeds stormed a men's dormitory last night in a search for male underwear. The raid, apparently in retaliation for a boys' party at the girls' dorm Monday night, touched off a brief but spirited war with many of the coeds winding up in the dormitory showers. A college spokesman termed the incident "just a lot of kid fun." Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, dean of women, said campus house mothers could have put a stop to either of the raids but "wanted to let the students get things out of their systems."

Payment Delay For Soil Bank Is Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today payments to farmers who participate in the 1957 soil bank program will not be made in most cases until the latest crops involved are harvested.

Such a delay, the department said, is necessary to make sure all rules have been met before payment certificates are issued. Questions have been raised about the time of payment for acreage to be placed under the 1957 winter wheat acreage reserve.

Today's announcement applies both to winter wheat and to all other basic crops which will be eligible for payment certificates under the acreage reserve part of the soil bank.

Farmers in 1956 put some 12 million acres of land into the acreage reserve part of the soil bank program and already have received more than 200 million dollars in payments. Next year the department is hopeful that about 20 million acres will be signed up for the acreage reserve part of the program and another 20 to 25 million acres under the conservation reserve.

Under the acreage reserve, cropland is taken out of production. Under the conservation reserve, the land designated for the program is put into grass and trees. In both cases, a primary objective is to cut production and reduce surpluses.

The department said compliance with soil bank acreage limitations is in general on a harvested rather than a planted acreage basis and therefore that compliance usually cannot be checked until harvest time. A further consideration is that a farmer, to be eligible for any soil bank payments, must comply with all acreage allotments established for his farm. This again requires delay of the final check until about harvest time for the latest of the crops involved.

Where only winter wheat acreage is involved, the department said it expects to be able to start issuing payment certificates about the first of June. Where other crops are also involved, multiple compliance checks must be made, certificates cannot be issued until the eventual use of the latest harvested crop is determined.

Payment certificates will be prepared in cash at once upon receipt, but certificates issued for grains cannot be exchanged for government-owned grain until after the harvest season for that grain in the area of issue.

Fear For Life Told At Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—An FBI agent says candy store owner Gondolfo Miranti feared for his life after he learned the acid attack on Victor Riesel had backfired.

Miranti and two underworld sidekicks, Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi, are on trial in Federal Court on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The government contends the three hid Leo's brother, Abe Telvi, after the acid-blinding of labor columnist Riesel in the early morning hours of April 5. Abe, the small-time hoodlum who dashed the acid in Riesel's face, was later shot to death in a gangland style. Two statements allegedly made by Miranti to the FBI were read in court yesterday. He was quoted as saying he agreed to engineer the acid job for $1,000 and, through middlemen, hired Abe Telvi to do the dirty work.

The government alleges the attack was made to frighten Riesel out of testifying in a grand jury probe of rackets in the trucking and garment industries.

FBI Agent John B. Anderson told the court yesterday he visited Miranti in jail and suggested he "close his eyes 10 minutes each day and take a walk — that was what Riesel was doing."

In another interview with Miranti in his cell, Anderson continued, the prisoner was "pacing the floor, wringing his hands, did not want to sit down and told me he was very upset."

Miranti, the agent said, "was afraid he was going to be killed inside of prison and afraid he was going to be killed outside of prison."

Four other men will be tried later on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice by allegedly trying to bar Riesel from testifying in the grand jury probe.

The four are labor racketeer Johnny DiGuardi, Charles Tuso, Charles Salvatore Carino and Theodore Rij.

Miranti has named Dio, alleged mastermind in the attack, as the man who paid him for the job.

BUZ SAWYER

WELL, HERE COMES THE PLANE BRINGING THE BOY, DO I DREAD FACING HIM?
WELCOME HOME, BUZZ!
HIYA, JEFF! WHERE'S CHRISTY? I WISHED HER TO MEET ME.
JUST A MINUTE, I GUESS. SHE PIONEERED A MINUTE AGO TO PICK YOU UP AND BRING YOU TO THE COMMERCIAL AIRPORT, SHE'S OVER THERE.
THAT'S STRANGE. I THOUGHT I MADE IT CLEAR I WAS ARRIVING AT FURNACE IN A NAVY PLANE.

DIXIE DUGAN

HE'D HATE ME FOR THIS, BUT I THINK I'D BETTER CALL HIS WIFE.
MR. JAMES BURNELL'S RESIDENCE.
WHO IS CALLING?
A FRIEND OF MR. BURNELL'S.
TELL PLEASE.

NANCY

I'M DELIVERING THIS SIGN FOR THE SIGN SHOP.
BRING ME SOME CANDY ON YOUR WAY BACK.
THAT'S SO YOU WON'T FORGET.

LIL' ABNER

AH IS MARRIED! AH WON'T NEVER BE BOYFRIEND NO MORE!
LET'S SELLY BRATE!
WHOMP US OUT A TUNE, LOVER-BOYNIK!
GO FETCH A DIANO FUM TH' LADIES' BROTHERHOOD HALL, AN' TROOLAROM!
WHY TUNE AN' TUNE IN TH' STRAIN, BUT MAKE IT'S TH' ONLY TUNE THEY KNOWS, TOO!
PP-VO WANTS ME T' DROP YOT?
YES! PLEASE! I WOULD RATHER DIE THAN HEAR LOVERBOYNIK PLAY!

BLONDIE

IT SAYS HERE A LITTLE EIGHT-YEAR-OLD GIRL PLAYS MOZART ON THE PIANO AND SPEAKS SIX LANGUAGES.
I'M GLAD OUR CHILDREN ARE JUST NORMAL KIDS.
I DON'T LIKE THESE YOUNG GENIUSES—I'M GLAD OUR ALEXANDER AND COOKE AREN'T PRECOCOUS.
WE'RE HAPPY TO HEAR YOU SAY THAT DADDY—OUR REPORT CARDS CAME OUT TODAY.
YOU HAVE NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT, HAVE YOU?

ANNIE ROONEY

THE LADY WHO WAS HERE LAST EVENING IS MRS. LA MARINE, THE WIDOW OF AN OLD FRIEND. HOW DID YOU LIKE HER?
OH, SHE WAS VERY PRETTY, BEAUTIFUL GOLDEN HAIR, ANY SHE ACTED AWFUL NICE, SHE SEEMED LIKE A VERY NICE LADY.
BUT—
PLEASE EXCUSE ME NOW, MR. FLING—BUT IT'S GETTING LATE AN' I JUST GOTTA TAKE ZERO DOWNSIDE FOR HIS MORNIN' WALK.
WELL, IT LOOKS LIKE I GOT MY ANSWER—INDIRECTLY. THE KID IS MUCH TOO POLITE TO SAY SHE DOESN'T LIKE LOU. I SHOULDN'T PLACE TOO MUCH EMPHASIS UPON A CHILD'S INTUITION, BUT MAYBE IT'S THE SAME MUMBO THAT ALWAYS STOPS ME JUST SHORT OF SAYING, 'LOLA, WILL YOU MARRY ME?'

SNUFFY SMITH

LOWEEZY—TELL SNUFFY TO POKE HIS NOSE OUTSIDE IF HE CRAVES TO SEE MY NEW CAR.
SAKES ALIVE, LUKEY! IT SHORE IS A HUMDINGER.
THAT'S PLUMB PURTY, LUKE—WHAT HAPPEN TO YORE OTHER CAR?
IT WUZ TOO OL'-TIMEY AN' DILAPIDATED TO SUIT ME, SNUFFY.

GRANDMA

HEY, GRANDMA! LOOK AT TH' BOOKS AN' THINGS I FOUND UNDER YOUR BED!
YEAH, I KNOW! AN' YOU PUT EVERYTHING RIGHT BACK!
I ALWAYS KEEP A PILLOW, COUPLE O' BLANKETS AN' A LIGHT UNDER MY BED!
HECK, THAT'S MY FAVORITE SPOT FOR READIN' SPOOKY MYSTERY STORIES!

DONALD DUCK

MY REPORT CARD, SIR?
WELL! ALL 'B'S'! THAT'S FINE, LOUIE! MEANS YOU'RE BETTER THAN AVERAGE!
THAT'S ONE WAY TO LOOK AT IT! I PREFER TO THINK—OF MYSELF AS A SLIGHTLY RETARDED CHILD PRODIGY!

JOE PALOOKA

HA-HA! NO-NO! THIS IS A SCREAM... A 4-LEAF CLOVER... A RABBIT'S FOOT... AND A HORSE—SIDE WITH TH' NAILS... YET!
WHAT'S SO FUNNY? I DONE IT ALL FER YOU... IT WUZNT EASY GETTIN' TH' HORSESHOE OFFA THAT NAG? OOH! WHAT A RICHER!
WHOSE HORSE WAS IT?
MINE!
I'LL TAKE THAT HORSEHOE... I CUGHT TO RUN YOU IN, LEENNY!
I'LL EXPLAIN, MARTY?
ANYWAY... THANKS FER TH' LAUGHS... YA CERTYNY 'CHEERED ME UP!
AFTER ALL I WENT T'ROO FER YA T'BREAK YER JINX... ALL YA KIN DO IS LAUGH!

SCORCHY SMITH

POW!
THIS LION HUNT TURNED INTO A MAN HUNT... I'LL TURN THIS JOKER OVER TO THE SHERIFF.
...AND THEN FIND HIS DANGEROUS BOSS-LIKE RONDY!
NOW'S MY CHANCE TO SHOW HIM OVER!

OAKY DOAKS

I BET SIR BOLTON TOOK YOUR FATHER'S MONEY OUT OF THAT VAULT!
THEN HE'S BEEN WAITING FOR A CHANCE TO SNEAK IT OUT OF THE CASTLE!
COULD HE LEAVE THE CASTLE THROUGH THAT DOOR?
NO—IT OPENS INTO THE WINE-CELLAR.
GEE! WHAT A DANDY PLACE TO HIDE!

POGO

I'M ALL SET TO TRY OUT IN THE 880-YARD DASH—AND THEN WE'LL HAVE OUR RACE.
DASH! THAT'S A SLEEPER JUMP!
BUT... PROCEED! I'LL WAIT.
WHAT? SIX SECONDS?
I ALLUS WAS PRETTY FAST... I'M HOPIN' TO DO THE MILE IN TEN SECONDS.
LOOK, NATE—HOW ABOUT YOU TOSSEIN' THE SIXTEEN-POUND BACT INSTEAD?

DICKIE DARE

AN HOUR AFTER HOUR DR. DICKINSON AND THE COOK BATTLED TO BRING DICK'S BREATHING BACK...
HE'S ALIVE, COOK... BUT I'M DONE IN... IT'S THE END OF AN OLD MAN'S ROPE.
I SAW HIS EYELIDS FLUTTER!
COULD'NT WORD!
CURL UP, DOCTOR—YOU'LL FEEL LIKE LIVING WITH SOME SLEEP—AN' DON'T WORRY ABOUT DARE... I'LL TAKE CARE OF HIM...
SOOK... I'M SO WEAK... GET ME BACK TO TRITON—COFFEE, BLANKETS.
HOW CAN I TELL HIM THAT THERE IS NO TRITON ANY MORE?

Calhoun And O'Brien Win Gold Medals In Olympics

Soviets Enjoy Finest Day

By TED SMITS
MELBOURNE (AP)—Uncle Sam's powerful Olympic team boosted its gold medal total to 18 today with a sweep in the 110-meter hurdles behind surprising Lee Calhoun and Parry O'Brien's record shot put. But Russia's Vladimir Kouts matched Bobby Morrow's double by winning his second distance run.

Calhoun, a lanky North Carolina College student from Gary, Ind., whipped Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., the world record holder, in a blanket finish. Joel Shankle of Durham, N.C., grabbed the bronze medal for third. It was so close both Calhoun and Davis were clocked in 13.5 seconds, beating Harrison Dillard's 1952 Olympic record of 13.7.

O'Brien didn't expect by repeating his Helsinki triumph in the shot put. The young giant from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., shattered his own Olympic record with each of his six tosses and finally settled for a new mark of 60 feet 11 inches. Both Bill Nieder of Lawrence, Kan., with 59-7 1/2 and Jiri Skobla of Czechoslovakia with 57-10 1/2 topped the old standard while finishing second and third. So did Ken Bantam of New York, with 57-4 for fourth place.

The U.S. missed a potential sweep in the shot put but the 1-2-3 finish in the hurdles was its fourth of the Olympics, duplicating America's efforts in the 200-meters, 400-meter hurdles and discus.

Russia enjoyed its greatest day with four gold medals for a total of 10 with Kouts' victory in the 5,000-meter, its first sweep in the 20-kilometer walk, Inessa Iouzenko's winning effort in the women's javelin and a come-from-behind success in the modern pentathlon team competition.

In the day's competition, Russia outscored the U.S. 64-44 but the unofficial point table still showed Uncle Sam out front of Russia, 306-214.

Sweden snatched the other gold medal awarded on this brisk day when Lars Hall also repeated his 1952 triumph in the individual phase of the modern pentathlon. The teams and individuals finished the five-event competition with the 4,000-meter cross country run.

The American pentathlon team was second to Russia after leading through the earlier events and George Lambert of Sioux City, Ia. was fifth among the individuals. Bill Andre of Montclair, N. J. was seventh and Jack Daniels of Missoula, Mont. 13th.

Knott Sweeps Three Games

KNOTT (SC)—Knott basketball team scored three victories from Union Terry clubs here Tuesday night.

The Knott A team boys finished on the long end of a 60-45 score, with Woody Long accounting for half the points.

The Billies led all the way, although the going was extremely close for the first half.

Knott's girls prevailed, 61-27, and all 18 of Knott's players saw action. Knott led after one period of play, 18-4; at the half, 33-7; and after three quarters, 42-11.

Sue Paige tossed in 25 points for Knott. Jean Sample had 22, Joan Blagraves seven, Nadine Burks four, Ann Rogers two and Virgie Graham one.

Grubben led Union Terry with 14. Howell had eight, Garnett four and Newsom one.

Knott's boys' B team started things rolling for the home folks by scoring a 21-18 success.

Knott's advantage at the end of the first period was 6-3; at half time, 10-9. The Billies trailed at the end of the third period, 15-13, but they fought back to win.

Doyle Raliback scored seven points for Knott. Wayne Gibbs, Dois Ray and Mikie Shockey each counted four while Ronald Fryar collected two.

For Union Terry, Luke trailed seven, Hancock five, Foster four and Hungerford two.

The two schools play return games Dec. 4.

Gay Hill Cagers Score Two Wins

GAY HILL (SC)—Gay Hill basketball teams won two of three starts in competition with Vealmoor clubs here Tuesday evening.

Champions In Touch Ball

Pictured above are members of the K Class touch football team, which earlier this week won the base championship at Webb AFB. Cal Charles, young, commander of the base (second from right), is presenting the first place trophy to L. R. T. Houska, member of the team. Others standing, left to right, are R. L. Spicer, B. A. Struckman, H. W. Anderson, J. D. Johnson, M. T. MacCallum and R. J. Messersmith. Kneeling, left to right, are J. R. Wiersma, C. F. Bartsch and W. M. Napolitano.

LOOKING 'EM OVER K Class Wins Webb Crown

With Tommy Hart

Class AAA football is probably weaker this year than it has been since the classification was organized.

Don Lloyd, assistant football coach of the Merkel team that met and vanquished Sundown in Class A bi-district play here the other night, is the former basketball mentor at Clarendon Junior College.

He brought teams here numerous times to compete against HCJC.

When Ray Hopkins took over as head coach at Sundown the past season, he replaced Herman Smith, who used to be Red Coats' line coach at Odessa Junior College when the Wranglers were fielding a football team. Smith is now at Quanah.

Sundown has now won its district championship four years in a row, but has never advanced beyond the quarterfinals in the playoffs. The Roughnecks lost to Ranger in 1953, to Albany in '54 and to Hale Center in '55.

Senior Billy Carter, perhaps the best ball carrier Sundown had in the game with Merkel here, was dropped from the squad a while last year for disciplinary reasons. According to Charley Gillespie, the Lubbock writer, he has been used sparingly this year.

Jerry Ferguson, a senior standout in Sundown's line, has been a regular since he was a freshman. Sundown, incidentally, lost an all-district player when guard Hoppy Pearce, moved to Seminole.

Johnny Ray Dillard has returned from California, where he had his nine-year-old mare, Equichall, racing at Golden Gate Park. Equichall is in foal. Her colt is due to be born about March.

If there are busier individuals in the state than Coach Cliff Prather of Ackerly High School, I have yet to meet one.

Originally, Cliff hired out as high school principal, bus driver and coach of boys' and girls' sports at Ackerly. That takes up a good portion of a day in any coach's life.

However, Supt. of Schools John Clark was incapacitated when he suffered injuries in a car wreck that still won't permit him to return to work. Prather had to assume a portion of his duties.

Because he drives a school bus, Cliff's duties start at 7:05 a.m., when he leaves to pick up the first 40 pupils on his way to school. Arriving at school at 8 a.m., he devotes the first hour of his work to a civics class. From 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., he tries to catch up on office work.

At 11 a.m., he begins an hour's coaching session in junior girls' basketball. His lunch hour ends at 12:30 p.m., when he coaches the junior boys' cage team.

He then tutors senior girls' basketball from 1:30 to 2:30 and senior boys' basketball from 2:30 to 3:30. His bus trip home starts at 3:30 p.m. and usually ends by 4:35 p.m.

In all, he coaches about 87 boys and girls in addition to his other chores.

The Ackerly basketball teams usually play about twice weekly, half the time on the road. That means he's busy much of the time in the evenings.

Of course, he's busiest during basketball season but school chores demand much of his time during football and track seasons, too.

Glyn Gregory will, no doubt, do a splendid job as quarterback for the Abilene Eagles, in the absence of Harold Stephens. He'll be missed as the Eagles' halfback, however, mainly because he can't go downfield and take his own passes. At least, I don't think he can.

Don Maynard Assumes Spot On All-BC Football Team

By BILL FEATHER
ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Texas Western College, which made a clean sweep of Border Conference opposition, dominated The Associated Press all-conference football team announced today.

The Sun Bowl-bound Miners placed three men on the first team and five on the second.

Miner end Dick Forrest led the balloting of sports writers and coaches.

Tackle Keith Wharton and halfback Don Maynard, two other members of probably the best team Coach Mike Brumblow has turned out at Texas Western, also won spots in the first squad.

The West Texas State Buffaloes, also looking forward to a bowl game, placed two linemen and a back on the first team. Charles Sanders, junior fullback and leading scorer in the conference, was a popular choice.

Phil Wright, a tackle, and Joe Brooks, a guard, were the other Buffaloes on the first squad.

Arizona State at Tempe, which with Texas Western boasted a 9-1 overall record for the season, had the edge on the first team backfield. Dave Graybill was named top quarterback. Gene Mitcham repeated in a halfback spot.

Ed Brown at guard and Ed Zine at end were Arizona University's first team members.

Pete Murray, center on a Hardin-Simmons team that was better than the record indicated, completed the first team.

The second team: Ends Connie Baird of Hardin-Simmons and Charles Mackey of Arizona State; tackles Bart Janakis of Arizona State and Dan Boyd of Texas Western.

Western; guards Kenneth George and C. L. Chappell of Texas Western; center Doug Higgins of West Texas; quarterback Bob Larabie of Texas Western; halfbacks Bob Mulgado and Bob Burton of Arizona State and fullback Hugh Harman of Texas Western.

The Forsan girls lost, however, 40-34, as Sue Mims hit Larabie for the Wildcats. Gays Griffith had 16 for Forsan.

Pat Brunton led the Forsan boys, scoring 16 points. Tony Starr followed with 12 while George White counted 11.

Poster Dittmore tossed in 12 points to lead Water Valley.

Forsan visits Ackerly for a contest Thursday night.

China May Free Prisoners

ROME (AP)—Communist China's President Mao Tze-tung was quoted today as expressing the hope that negotiations with the United States for the release of 10 Americans still held in Red China's prisons can be "favorably concluded."

The weekly Tempo Revista published an interview between Mao and Curzio Malaparte, well-known Italian novelist and newspaperman, made in Peiping earlier this month.

Malaparte quoted Mao as saying, after an earlier reference to Roman Catholic priests and missionaries:

"Also there are many American prisoners in the jails of China. On these last our ambassador and the ambassador of the United States in Bern are discussing them in Geneva. Nor can I tell you what will be the result of these negotiations, since they are complicated and delicate. I hope, in any event, that it will be possible to reach a favorable conclusion."

Lobby Control Top Legislative Problem

By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN (AP)—Texas legislators are pondering an unpleasant prospect of either culling influence peddling and improper lobbying or having their political hides ripped off at the next election.

Many legislators polled by The Associated Press point to lobby control measures as a top problem of the 55th Legislature in January.

A reminder is the fate of some lawmakers seeking re-election this summer who were tied in with investigations of the veterans' land program and the insurance scandals.

An abnormal turnover resulted in both houses. There is no indication the wrath of the public has subsided.

Stiffer lobbying laws, annual sessions, fulltime pay, no outside employment and a definition of what is proper and improper representation of clients before a state agency—all have their backing among the legislators as their answer to public demand for reform.

Several state boards, the Texas State Bar and other groups have demanded the Legislature act. Newspapers have campaigned for stricter lobbying laws.

State Bar directors have urged reprimands or disbarment for lawyer-legislators judged guilty of influence peddling. Atty. Gen. Shepperd has suggested that state agencies require full disclosure of all fees and gifts paid in connection with any board matter.

The attorney general also has urged that salaries be put on an annual basis and substantially increased to allow full-time secretarial help. These were other Shepperd recommendations made to the Senate Investigating Committee.

No member could accept employment, gifts, favor or services for appearing before a state board; any private interest in any legislation must be made public; no legislator who is an attorney could accept a case merely to cause a delay or continuance; nor could any legislator use his position for personal gain.

The Veterans' Land Board, the state Banking and Depository boards and seven other state boards which lease public lands have adopted resolutions to require full public disclosure of fees made for representation before the boards.

Lobby control bills and bills to require members to list the firms they serve have met sudden death in past legislatures. There is no law to prevent a lawmaker from being paid by companies or individuals interested in legislation.

Gov.-elect Price Daniel undoubtedly will press the Legislature for action along these lines.

When he announced as a candidate, Daniel said "recent events in Texas show clearly that the time has come for some drastic reforms in respect to our Legislature."

"There must be enacted a strict lobby registration law. The legislators themselves should register the names of their clients and other sources of money and I would advocate the same for the executive branch," Daniel said.

"The public expects the Legislature to make a bona fide attempt to enact a reasonable lobbyist registration law," said Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas. He said restoration and maintenance of public confidence in the Legislature is one of the top five problems.

Rep. Charlie Hughes of Sherman called for a "complete and thorough investigation." He said an investigation "should be made exonerating those state officials who are competent and honest and exposing those who had anything to do with the corruption of the last two or three years."

Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene said the recent pay boost from $10 to $25 "had its effect in making members of the Legislature more independent."

Urging annual sessions and full-time pay with no outside employment, Rep. Harold Kennedy of Marble Falls said "the present system makes the Legislature a fertile field for special interest pressure."

Rep. Zeke Zbrank of Daisetta said he was putting the finishing touches to a "strong lobby control bill." Rep. James Welch of Marlin, member of the House Investigation Committee, and Rep. Joe Hensley of San Antonio also listed lobby control measures as one of the big issues.

Convention To Be Strictly For Birds

WESLACO (AP)—One of the wackiest "conventions" ever held in South Texas is scheduled for a television studio here Friday.

The convention will be the first meeting of the 300 members of the "Elmer Club." The president of the club, "Elmer," a 25-year-old parrot, is one of the worst "hams" who was ever exposed to a TV camera.

The membership includes other parrots, parakeets, ducks, mynah birds, macaws and pet chickens.

The club came into existence a few months ago on Gason Wiley's daily cooking show, "Pot 'n' Petticoat," on KREV-TV. Chef Wiley, a Rio Grande Valley restaurant owner, used Elmer strictly as a "prop" to make the studio kitchen look a little more homey.

But Wiley didn't count on Elmer's reaction. He referred to the parrot in his first few shows and each time the studio crew turned the cameras in Elmer's direction. It didn't take Elmer long to get into the act. Just let the camera swing in his direction and the parrot began screaming at his owner, talking to himself, climbing around his cage upside down, or doing anything else he could to attract attention.

When Elmer began getting fan letters from owners of other birds, Wiley had some official looking membership certificates printed for "The Elmer Club" and began sending them to the writers as a gag.

The membership already has passed the 300 mark and the demand continues for the certificates which claim in bold print that it is "The only club in the United States that is strictly for the birds."

Elmer authenticates each certificate by making a hole in it with his beak.

Elmer has been banned from the show occasionally for his uproarious behavior and his insistence on hogging the camera. But at the convention of his "fine feathered friends," Wiley said, Elmer will be allowed to "let himself go."

Abilene Fire Under Control

ABILENE, Nov. 28 (AP)—Fire burned out of control for about an hour and a half Tuesday, threatening the heart of Abilene's business district. Two firemen were overcome by smoke.

Flames broke out about 12:20 p.m. in the boiler room of the White Auto Store and for a while threatened surrounding buildings. Firemen reported the auto store destroyed.

Fireman James Polk was overcome by smoke and was carried to a hospital. A second fireman, unidentified, also was treated.

The fire was attributed to explosion of a boiler in the basement of the auto store.

Gas company officials excavated through the concrete basement to shut off escaping gas before the fire could be controlled.
