

Christmas Toys For Town's Needy Kiddies

Capt. Dexter Breazeale, Salvation Army, and Fire Chief H. V. Crocker, inspect a restored tricycle—one of the scores of such toys which firemen of the city have repaired and repainted for distribution on Christmas to the needy kids of Big Spring. The first three truck loads of redeemed toys are now on display at the old Tidwell Chevrolet building on East Third.

Firemen Work 'Miracle' In Restoration Of Toys

If you want to see something of a modern miracle drop in at the old Tidwell Chevrolet location on East Third Street.

The miracle is what Big Spring firemen, working in their idle time, have been able to accomplish in rehabilitating and restoring hundreds and hundreds of used toys. These toys, donated by good-hearted folk of the city to the Christmas collection for needy boys and girls of the town, have been repaired, repainted and restored until it takes a close examination to tell that they are not brand new.

Later in the month, along about Christmas week, these toys augmented by the many more which undoubtedly will be turned over to the firemen between this date and that, and supplemented by a considerable number of new toys which benevolent folk will buy and add to the stock, will be sorted out, packaged and prepared for delivery to boys and girls in scores of impoverished homes.

It's all a part of the annual activity in which the public, the firemen and the Salvation Army cooperate. Last year, the project resulted in the repair and renovation of more than 6,000 toys — ranging from bicycles to teddy bears. These were given to youngsters who otherwise might have had a gray Christmas indeed. This year, if all goes well, as many or more redeemed playthings will be sent out to start a new career of making youngsters happy.

First three van loads of restored toys have already been delivered to the toy headquarters. Those shown in the photograph are mostly wheel toys. Tricycles, bicycles, wagons, hobby horses, doll buggies and scooters make up this collection. However, this but one division of the project. There are scores of other toys — dolls, games, model trains, automobiles, trucks and airplanes. The list is well nigh endless.

Capt. Dexter Breazeale, with the Big Spring Salvation Army, estimates that his list of needy folk who have or will ask for help this Christmas, will run 300 families. Across the board, he said, there will be an average of three children to each family. By the time the day arrives for distribution of the collected toys it is probable the agencies will have the names and case histories on a thousand or perhaps 1,200 boys and girls who must be helped if they are to have a Merry Christmas.

It will take a lot of toys to see to it that Christmas comes to all of these youngsters. While time is running close, there is still ample opportunity for anyone who desires to do so to have a part. All families in the town are urged to go through their collection of toys and deliver those which are no longer wanted by their own children to the nearest fire station.

The firemen will put the donated playthings back in shape, repaint them, and make them good as new. And on Christmas these same toys can begin a new career of bringing joy to youngsters.

Discounts Europe's Need For Financing

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey tonight threw cold water on any idea that Europe will need a new Marshall Plan to rescue it from the financial ills caused by the Suez troubles.

Humphrey, while conceding that the situation is "confused," said some of the estimates of the need for financial support "have been greatly exaggerated."

He predicted that "existing institutions" will be able to provide most of the aid needed by America's allies in Europe.

He evidently meant such institutions as the International Monetary Fund and the Export-Import Bank. The British already have indicated they may withdraw upwards of a half billion dollars from the monetary fund to pay for Western Hemisphere oil and to meet other foreign exchange obligations.

Humphrey's views contrasted with word passed to newsmen by some other officials in Washington earlier in the week. They expressed the opinion that the job of bolstering the economies of allied countries might be so great that American help along the lines of the Marshall Plan — though smaller—might eventually be required.

The Marshall Plan involved billions in grants to help put Europe on its feet after World War II. A new plan of that kind would require congressional action.

Humphrey spoke briefly in a talk prepared for the Pennsylvania Society at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. He paid tribute to United Nations efforts to resolve the Middle East controversy by peaceful means, and said:

"Our allies who have now wholeheartedly accepted the principles of negotiation and withdrawn from the use of military force are entitled to our full support toward a just settlement of their problems."

"We took a stand against them when their action violated the basic principles in which we believe," he said. "Just so, we must now support them in their wholehearted effort to arrive at a just and fair settlement through negotiation."

Wreck Ruled 'Unavoidable'

A district court jury, trying a damage action resulting from collision of two motor vehicles on Feb. 1, 1955, Friday afternoon ruled that the accident was an unavoidable mishap.

Court attaches said that the decision of the jurors was a victory for the defendant in the case. The case was styled Robert Alvarado et al versus Roy Phillips, it was in progress in district court Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The plaintiffs had asked for $128,200 damages.

The jury returned its verdict of an unavoidable accident to Judge Charlie Sullivan at around 3 p.m. Friday. The case terminated the cases set for jury trial in civil court last week.

The jurors asserted in this verdict that the three plaintiffs in the litigation had suffered financial damage as a result of the collision, but that the responsibility for this loss was not chargeable to the defendant nor to his driver.

Smith Speaks At ABC Club Luncheon

Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the subject of home town promotion before members of the American Business Club at their regular Friday luncheon at the Settles Hotel.

Final plans were made for the ABC's Christmas party, which will take place at the Costen Country Club Tuesday night. At that time, R. H. Weaver's team — winner in the recent attendance contest staged within the club — will be treated by three other teams.

Volunteer workers to man the collection buckets for the Salvation Army downtown one day before Christmas were taken. It is the policy of the club to assume such a chore once annually.

Experimental Rocket Fired As Prelude To New Space Satellite

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—In a step toward creating the first man-made moon, scientists fired an instrument-laden rocket 125 miles into the air from a Florida launching site today.

It was an experimental prelude to next year's earth satellite project called "Vanguard."

A modified form of the standard Viking research rocket, fired from the missile test center at Patrick Air Force Base, Cape Canaveral, Fla., screamed up to a top speed of 4,000 miles per hour before plunging into the Atlantic Ocean about 180 miles from the launching point, offshore from Miami.

The Navy and civilian scientists conducted in this initial firing of the Vanguard project, tests of the automatic radio and electronic devices which will be used in an actual satellite when the first of these earth-circling vehicles is launched some time late next year. They also tried out a new launching ramp, bunkers and other equipment intended for the Vanguard firings.

Although the government said last summer in disclosing the earth satellite plan that the project was purely scientific and free of military security, deep secrecy was thrown around plans for today's early morning test. As late as last night, the Navy denied to newsmen any knowledge of plans for a test firing at this time.

Reporters near Cape Canaveral were alerted only by the fact that there seemed to be unusual activity at Patrick AFB. From four miles away, outside the restricted area, they kept watch through binoculars.

Jim Halbe, reporter for the Orlando Sentinel, saw the spectacle. He said the 42-foot, seven-ton rocket rose slowly and almost silently before it began streaking up and away followed by the pink trail of its rocket fire. He watched the rocket for about 40 seconds before it was lost to view in the night sky.

After the launching, the Navy in Washington announced some details.

It said that when the rocket reached a 50-mile altitude, a device carrying an automatic radio transmitter, "minitrack," was ejected and tracked by scientists at Patrick AFB as it descended toward the sea. Minitrack is a miniature radio transmitter which will be used in the earth satellite.

It weighs only 13 ounces and sends out a continuous radio signal.

The Viking also carried, in a nose cone, other automatic "telemetering" equipment and tracking beacons. This cone was blown free after 450 seconds of flight and its "reports" checked as it fell toward the sea.

The new Vanguard launching device includes a curved steel frame apron over which water floods to divert the intensely hot exhaust of the rocket as it builds up thrust at the instant of launching.

The modified Viking used in today's test is similar to the first of the three-stage rocket engine series designed for the satellites.

These will hurl the 20-inch sphere of the satellite into an orbit 200 to 400 miles above the earth.

The engine used today develops a thrust of 21,000 pounds. The first stage for the actual satellite equipment will produce a 27,000-pound thrust.

Welfare Load Not Hiked By Winter

Advent of winter and the discomfort of colder weather has not increased the case load of clients for the Howard County Public Welfare Department, Miss Mary Cantrell, in charge of the office, said that she was not having to spend any more money since the cooler weather began than in the early fall.

Capt. Dexter Breazeale with the Salvation Army, however, said that the number of transients appearing at the Army offices in search of overnight shelter has been showing a steady increase in the past several weeks. On a few nights, he said, the accommodations at the citadel have been over-taxed.

Miss Cantrell said that most of the persons who are on her rolls are "established" cases. The department spends approximately $1,000 a month for relief of distressed and needy persons in the county. This money, she said, goes for medical aid, for groceries, clothing and for other basic expenses to relieve the need.

Breazeale explained that his establishment maintains 20 cots for transient homeless. When more than 20 show up, as he said sometimes is the case, the later arrivals make the best of the situation by sleeping in chairs and on a couch.

Shortage of quilts and blankets poses an additional problem, Breazeale observed. There is only enough cover for the 20 regular cots. When extra "company" is on hand, fires have to be kept going in lieu of additional blankets and quilts.

Union Group Maps Demand For Oil Worker Increases

DENVER, Dec. 8 (AP)—Wage increases of not less than 27 cents an hour will be sought next year for 105,000 oil workers, a bargaining policy committee of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union said today.

The committee said average hourly earnings of oil workers under union contract now start at $2.56 and range up to $2.67.

The bargaining campaign was set by a 52-member committee headed by O. A. Knight, union president.

The committee said the increase "is justified by many factors x x x cost-of-living increases, increases in the productivity of the oil industry and oil workers, the wage and fringe benefit improvements being won by unions in other industries. The fantastic and constant increase in profits being enjoyed by the companies x x x." The union has 200,000 members. Other oil workers not covered by union contracts will be indirectly affected since traditionally they obtain the same wage increases negotiated by the union, a union spokesman said.

The last general wage increase in the oil industry was effective Feb. 1, 1956. It was 6 per cent, with a 15 cent hourly minimum.

Leavings Of Sharks Eaten By Pilot Fish

By RAMON COFFMAN

Several questions about fish appear in a letter from Mr. Charles L. Stoffel. He writes: "I have a lot of debates and disagreements about sharks, and would like you to write a column about them as soon as possible. I sure would appreciate this, as it would keep the fellows at the plant off my back."

"Is there a fish called the pilot fish? Does it hang on a shark and guide it to food? Or is it just a hobo, hitching a ride?" "Will a shark attack a human being at any time, or does it just attack when bothered by something? What is the largest shark?" The so-called "pilot fish" often associates with sharks. It is hardly a foot long.

The pilot fish is a "hobo." Instead of helping the shark, it hitchhikes a ride. When the shark has a meal, the pilot fish swims around to get what leavings it can locate.

Pilot fish live in the ocean, but look very much like fresh water perch. Their blue stripes, or bars, cover a silver-gray background. The whale shark, largest of all, and the basking shark.

Dangerous sharks include hammerheads, tiger sharks, blue sharks and white sharks.

The whale shark sometimes has a length of 50 feet. It has teeth which are too small to take care of a man, and that probably is the reason it never joins the ranks of man-eating sharks.

Asks Restudy Of Veterans' Home Loans

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—Rep. Olin Teague (D-Tex.), chairman of the House Veterans Committee,

Boy Confesses Five Break-Ins

A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, was left open-mouthed and amazed Friday when a 15-year-old boy strolled into his office at the courthouse and calmly announced that he was the fellow who had recently broken into the Kate Morrison School three times in as many weeks; had looted a service station on the Lamesa Highway and had burglarized a gift shop on Main Street.

Long observed that is is not uncommon for boys and girls to confess misdeeds to him but that these confessions invariably come after the youngster has been apprehended by the authorities and questioned about the crime.

This boy, who Long said has not had any previous brushes with the law, was not even a suspect in the three cases Long said that he and a police officer were talking about the break-ins at the instant the young caller popped in the door and made his blunt declaration.

He took cash from the cold drink vending machine at the school, he reported, a quantity of pennies and a flash light at the service station and change from the gift shop.

He will be brought before the juvenile judge early this week, Long promised.

Thomas TYPEWRITER and OFFICE SUPPLIES
Has Royal Typewriters to fit any color scheme. Budget Priced today opposed any further increase in the interest rate on government-guaranteed GI home loans.

Of "much greater practical value," he said, would be increased availability of direct government loans to veterans, and a general lowering of down payment requirements under the FHA home loan program.

Teague's proposal was made in a statement announcing public hearings immediately after the new Congress convenes Jan. 3 for the purpose of a "complete reappraisal" of the veterans housing program as a result of an increase in FHA interest rates.

The committee must pass on any new legislation affecting the GI home loan program, including any change in interest rates. Teague estimated that a 1/2 percent increase in the present 4 1/2 percent GI rate would mean $600 to $1,000 in additional interest charges on a typical $10,000 loan.

Teague stressed lower FHA down payment requirements as being "of much greater practical value to all prospective homeowners, both veterans and non-veterans," than raising GI interest rates.

It would also, he contended, "to a large degree eliminate the necessity of changing the interest rate" on loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

A squeeze has been put on GI mortgage financing as a result of government action last Saturday hiking the interest rate on FHA insured loans from 4 1/2 to 5 percent effective next week.

The FHA rate boost was designed to make more FHA mortgage financing available to prospective home buyers. The rate on GI loans, however, continues at the less attractive rate of 4 1/2 percent.

The VA has served notice it will request a corresponding increase in the GI interest rate if the FHA action makes it harder for GIs to obtain home loans.

Traffic Fatality Mark Reaches 26

For the second time in six days, Howard County's traffic death record was broken Friday evening.

Charles T. Lindley, 59, of Coahoma was killed when his pickup collided with a car, overturned and threw him to the pavement. His death was the 26th due to Howard County traffic this year. That broke the record of 25 set six days earlier when Juanita Rios, 15, of Big Spring was killed north-east of the city on the Andrews Highway.

Previous record for one year in the county was 24 fatalities, in 1951.

Mr. Lindley was returning home from work in the oil fields east of Coahoma at the time he was killed. As he drove into Coahoma on the U. S. 80 freeway, he started pulling his pickup into the passing lane, apparently planning to turn left off the highway and drive to his home in the south part of town.

Just as he moved into the left lane, a car driven by Ronald Brock, 37, of Sweetwater started to pass Mr. Lindley's pickup. Highway Patrol and sheriff's officers said. The two vehicles collided and the pickup turned over twice, throwing Mr. Lindley out. He was dead when he was taken to a hospital in Big Spring a few minutes later.

Neither Brock nor any of his three passengers was injured. The Sweetwater youth had just reached home on a leave from Lowry AFB, Colo., and with three companions was driving to Odesa.

A heavy fog hung over the highway at the time of the crash which occurred in front of the B&H Well Service Company near the center of Coahoma about 5:15 p.m. Friday.

Mr. Lindley was a pumper for the Doreland Company. He had lived in Howard County for 22 years. He was born in Comanche County July 31, 1897. He was a member of the Church of Christ at Coahoma.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. today in the Coahoma church with his minister, I. E. Wilkerson, officiating. Interment in Trinity Memorial Park will be under direction of River Funeral Home.

Stricter Dog Ordinance Goes Before Commission Tuesday

An ordinance to tighten control of dogs in Big Spring will confront the city commission at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The regular session of the commission will be held at the city hall at 5:15 p.m.

City Manager H. W. Whitney and Walton Morrison, city attorney, drafted the dog ordinance for presentation to the group.

Whitney said it was drawn up from an ordinance recommended by the American Humane Society and parts of other city ordinances.

The ordinance, if passed, would make it unlawful to keep a dog in the city without vaccination and registration. Also, it would make it unlawful to let an animal run out of the owner's yard unless under the owner's control.

Should any dog be picked up, it would be impounded and held for a minimum of 72 hours. During this time, the owner could claim it by paying a pound fee and also a "room and board" charge.

After the 72 hours, the dog would be destroyed by a method sanctioned by the Humane Society or sold to someone who would pay the fees and have it vaccinated and registered.

In the case that a person were bitten by a dog, the owner would be instructed to pen the animal for a minimum of 10 days for observation. If the owner refused, the city police would have the authority to take the dog and have it impounded for the same length of time.

At the end of this period, if the animal proved not rabid, the owner could claim it for the usual pound and food fees.

Entries will be judged in three divisions — decorated doors, windows and yards. A total of 115 in awards will be made, including the grand prize of $25 and awards of $15, $10 and $5 in each of the divisions. Judging will be the night of Dec. 20 by members of the WAFB Officers' Wives' Club.

Negotiations Set For Airport Land

Howard County Commissioners Court will begin talks Monday morning with owners of the land proposed as the site of the proposed half million dollar county airport, R. H. Weaver, county judge, said Saturday.

The members of the court will probably go to the site and personally inspect the land. The site is located about four miles north and east of Big Spring on the Snyder Highway.

Acquisition of the land will be the first problem to be solved. The tentative site has been officially approved by the CAA air-space subcommittee. This means that when the port is completed commercial airline operations at the field will be sanctioned by the CAA.

Bonds for the airport project were approved by a heavy majority last summer. At present, the county and the municipality are handicapped by lack of a suitable airport. By agreement commercial air service operates on Webb Air Force Base at the present time. This, it is said, poses a handicap to the operations of the Air Force installation.

Big Spring was left without an airport when the city ceded the present site of Webb Air Force Base to the government at the time the base was reactivated. In the interval between the end of World War II and the time the base was reactivated, the Air Force site served as a municipal airport.

Big Spring gins haven't been too busy this week. A. C. Kloven says his gin has been getting four or five bales a day, but it's about over now. They had ginned 605 bales yesterday at noon and are not expecting the year's total to pass 630.

Most of the cotton is spotted and has quite a lot of dirt in it. Kloven said only a few farmers were using strippers. There are still a few green or sappy bolls, and the strippers can't be used to advantage.

and the tableland just west of Pecos were all dismissed as too poor for good farming.

I'm not endorsing the Pyote country, but personally I'd rather farm mediocre soil with lots of water than work good land with six-inch wells that were going down every year.

The County Agent's office received a good response from 'Big Spring boys and girls who want to become members of the 4-H Club. Thirty-five boys and 70 girls made application to join.

Assistant County Agent Bill Sims has called a meeting for 4:30 p.m. Monday in the Howard County courtroom, at which time all prospective members are invited to meet with the county agent's staff. The boys will work with Sims and James Taylor, while the girls will maintain projects under the supervision of Home Demonstration Agent, Elizabeth Pace.

Martin County's cotton crop is also just about gathered. County Agent Gerald Hansen says that not over 10 per cent of the cotton is still in the fields. The yield was not quite as great as was predicted earlier in the year, but this was more than offset by greater grades than ever before.

I saw my first pig parlor yesterday on the John Davis farm north of Big Spring. Davis and his partner Jay Cunningham have built one of the new type hog houses and put 41 pigs in it on Nov. 8. The pigs averaged 91 pounds apiece then and now will tip the scales at more than 150.

The houses are quite simple. A concrete floor 30 by 22 feet in size, enough poles or doubled two-by-fours to hold up a sheet metal roof, self feeders and waterers comprise the building. Davis has nailed a three-foot strip of tin around the north and east sides to keep out the cold winds.

The weather was good, pickers harvested the cotton in record time, and everyone feels fine about it except the dryland farmers, who made no cotton at all.

Hansen said there was very little leaf spot this year, and practically none at all on the blight-resistant (BR) cotton.

The area is west of Main Street between Ninth and 10th to Gregg. The half block east of Gregg is now zoned F.

Should the zoning board approve the change Monday, the final decision will be in the hands of the city commission.

A man can tend to the animals in this kind of house without ever getting inside it or getting any hog smell on him. The floor can be cleaned with a water hose, the feed is loaded into bins along the outside wall and the waterers are automatic.

Several farmers have visited the swine suite and shown an interest in growing hogs this way.

Yesterday morning in the county agent's office, Hansen had a group of boys and girls cutting out something that looked like paper dummies. These pieces of paper were to serve as identification tags at the 4-H Club Barbecue and Achievement Meeting tomorrow night in the American Legion Hall at Stanton.

Awards for the year will be given to various members, and the group will feast upon barbecued beef and capon.

Friends of Travis (Shorty) Jenkins, former agriculture teacher at Coahoma, may be interested to know that he is doing all right out at El Paso. Last April he resigned from the job of putting on the Southwestern Stock Show and bought a half interest in a feed store.

Since then he has promoted a caged-hen project of 12,000 birds and is selling the eggs to Fort Bliss. He says they will have 50,000 hens within two years time. He is also working on hog feeding and has supervised the construction of several hog houses.

Jenkins' partner said business had increased 40 per cent since Shorty joined the firm, and he attributed all of it to Jenkins' personality and ability to work with farmers.

Nearly all feed has been in coming upward, but cotton seed hulls have increased most of all. Ray Winans, local feed dealer, says hulls are hard to find and his firm has been shipping them in from Mississippi and Tennessee.

Nearly all ranchers are feeding now and most of them are buying 60 per cent grain cubes. Hay is expensive and not too much of it is being bought. Winans said good hay was bringing from $48 to $50 per ton, though some of the inferior hay had sold cheaper.

A little prairie hay has been brought in from Oklahoma but Winans said it was plenty high — selling for nearly $50 a ton. Under the drought feed program ranchers are getting $18 a ton toward the purchase of hay.

That Pyote irrigation deal stirs up more talk in West Texas than the 1956 cotton allotments did. "People either think it will be a second Garden of Eden or they list it three notches lower than the Sahara Desert."

Some farmers I talked to out there say the land is good enough to produce crops, the water not bad enough to ruin the soil and that with fertilizer they can make just as much cotton as elsewhere.

I stopped in Pyote 30 minutes last week and talked to a farmer named Bullard who had moved down from Brownfield. He said most of the cotton was put in late but averaged about three-fourths of a bale per acre. One man who has been there several years made two bales per acre.

Bullard said the main drawback was the jack rabbits, he went to California on a visit and on his return found the rabbits had harvested part of the cotton. It had already started putting on bolls, but now look: I like a big hailstorm had hit it. Several farmers had to put rabbit-proof fence around the fields to save their cotton crop.

Personally, I think the country lies between the two extremes. It's not as bad as the critics say it is, and it's not as good as the El Paso Valley or Lubbock country. Soil doesn't need to be as deep or fertile as people once thought it did to produce crops. With rotations, plenty of water and fertilizer, cotton can be made on eight inches of soil.

I've seen some mighty good crops this year on poor soil. I remember when the White Flats at Tarzan, the St. Lawrence country

Judge Inspects Airport Beacon In Wink Area

R. H. Weaver, county judge, was in Mentone Saturday afternoon inspecting the airplane beacon which the CAA has given to Howard County.

Weaver made the trip to the Loving county seat to determine just how much of a job would be involved in dismantling the beacon and its tower and removing the equipment to Big Spring.

The CAA had asked that the county act as quickly as possible in removing the equipment to Howard County. It is probable that a contract will be made with some trucker to take down the beacon and transport it here.

The beacon is to be erected at the new Howard County airport which is to be built in 1957. Weaver said the action of the CAA is giving the beacon and tower to the county would represent a saving of several thousand dollars.

The county has agreed to remove the beacon from its location, which is approximately 22 miles west of Wink, to Big Spring and to fill up any holes and repair other terrain damage at the present site.

Death Case Set For Trial Monday

O. R. (Bud) Cross, 24-year-old tavern operator charged with murder, will go on trial in 118th District Court at 10 a.m. Monday.

He is under indictment for the fatal shooting of Hugh Emmett George. George was shot to death on Oct. 2.

A special venire, originally consisting of 90 selected from the 360 on the current court term panel, will be convened for the trial. It was said at the courthouse on Saturday that the number of special veniremen still on the list had diminished by nearly a score, due to the number being excused from service.

From this special venire 12 will be chosen to decide the fate of the tavern keeper.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, said the state was ready and that the case will get under way at 10 a.m. as scheduled. George Thomas, defense counsel, said his client would be ready.

Cross is alleged to have shot George, who worked for the Cabot Carbon Company plant. The shooting occurred at a tavern called "Bud's Drive-In," which is located two miles west of Big Spring on U. S. Highway 80. Cross is proprietor of the tavern. George, shot several times, died at 2:04 a.m. Oct. 2. The shooting had occurred shortly after midnight.

Thomas has said that his client will claim self-defense.

Cross surrendered to city police a few minutes after the shooting. He was released on $5,000 bond on the afternoon of Oct. 2. Indicted by the grand jury several weeks ago, he reposed bond in the same amount.

It was believed that selection of the jury would probably take all of Monday. There were estimates that the case can be completed in three days.

The Cross trial is the only jury case set for the present week. It was specially scheduled for trial at this time.

Judge Charlie Sullivan will preside.

Dawson Chest Attains Goal

Coahoma Woman Praises New Medicine

To my Friends and Loved Ones: This is my first time to write a testimonial about any kind of medicine, but this Citru-Mix has helped me so much that I want to tell others who suffer from that dreadful thing called rheumatism.

I had it, rheumatism, arthritis or lumbago, or whatever you call it all over my body. It would be in my right shoulder then jump to my back or hip. It seemed that it would play around over my body. It has been in my toes, eyes and teeth. I would have to go to bed and quit, but not often as I am a mother of five children. I have been in hospitals and have gone to Mineral Wells and Marlin, Texas.

Citru-Mix was recommended to me by a neighbor and I took three bottles. I got relief in less than two hours after the first dose. That has been ten months ago and I have not had one ounce of trouble since then. I want you to try just one bottle if you have suffered as I have.

I have written this letter with my own free will and no one has paid me one cent for it. You may use it as you wish for advertising purposes.

Mrs. Mary Wilson
Coahoma, Texas

Citru-Mix is sold by the name of R-12 at Collins Brothers Drug Store and Walgreen Agency in Big Spring, Texas. (Adv.)

Nixon Stock Rising, With Help From Ike

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Eisenhower appears ready to give Vice President Nixon an unusual opportunity to build his 1960 presidential prospects by using Nixon as a spokesman for administration policies.

Nixon's speech in New York Thursday night calling for financial aid to Great Britain, is regarded in political quarters here as a forerunner of other appearances to test public reaction to administration ideas.

Whether Nixon meets politically by serving as a voice of the administration naturally will depend to some extent on public reception of the policies he outlines. But the mere fact that he is speaking with authority on these policies tends to link Nixon closely with Eisenhower—a position almost any of the other potential bidders for the Republican presidential nomination four years hence would give some political eye-teeth to attain.

The circumstances in which the New York speech was delivered also served to indicate that Eisenhower places broad trust in Nixon's judgment. Billed as a major foreign policy talk, the speech was not reviewed in advance by the President.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower had not seen the text but that Secretary of State Dulles was "convinced" with the theme Nixon intended to pursue. In response to a question, Hagerty said "certainly" Nixon was speaking for the administration.

There are indications Eisenhower plans to give the vice president some additional duties within the administration. Nixon already sits on Cabinet and National Security Council meetings.

This close association with the President and his policies is certain to identify Nixon with the Eisenhower wing of the GOP, and most Republicans now regard such identification as highly beneficial.

Lamesa Faces Huge Fire Dept. Outlay

LAMESA, Dec. 8.—The Lamesa City Council heard a report from City Manager Carroll Taylor that it would cost the City of Lamesa almost a quarter of a million dollars to comply with the recommendations of the Texas Fire Insurance Commission.

And, said the city manager, that figure does not take into consideration additional firemen and water production.

Taylor estimated the cost of additional water distribution to meet the recommendations of the Insurance Commission at $65,200; storage to meet the standards until 1965, $60,000; ground storage of a million gallons of water, sufficient to meet the needs until 1960, $45,000; an additional fire station, $20,000; a three-story drill tower, $15,000; a 250-gallon pumper truck, $25,000; two way radio system for the fire department, including a main station and four mobile units, $2,700. The city manager told the council he would have specific recommendations to make in the near future.

The council also gave considerable time Thursday to the search for water and will probably meet this week to hear some recommendations from the engineers studying the water problems here.

Mayor Bob Crawley told the council he had been informed that the Civil Aeronautics Authority had given approval to the master plan of the Lamesa-Dawson County Airport and the council authorized him to contract and pay for the city's portion of the property upon receipt of final approval from the CAA.

The city and county agreed some time ago to purchase the site from Ray Orson, from his farm about three miles east of the city.

On Dec. 20, the council will take bids on two trucks. One will be used in the sanitation department and the other by the park department. The council also will accept bids for the excess water from the city's sewage lagoons on Dec. 20.

The area of the city will be increased at the next council meeting, if the first annexation readings last night are any indication.

Modern Toys Come With Some Built-In Psychoses?

Dear Boss,
When you were a kid, the top bracket of toydom was achieved if you received a red wagon for Christmas. You also might get a cast iron locomotive and a couple of passenger cars. Occasionally there was included a cap pistol—likewise made of cast iron and prone to shatter into many pieces if you dropped it on the floor. Any of these and your cup of contentment was filled to overflowing. Things were much simpler then.

Faster for your parents and a lot easier for you had no desire for a red wagon and receiving set. You never dreamed of a toy zoad grader which would really work. You had never even heard of a complete chemistry laboratory with test tubes, retorts, chemicals and all the other complicated equipment to turn you into a little scientist, or a real microscope which, actually works and with it all of the slides and specimen so essential to its use. You never imagined an electric train complete with smoke, headlights that burn, a whistle that toots. Not to mention a complete layout of track, including a depot, assorted semaphore and switches. It may be in the latter stages of your tender youth, Boss, you built what you called model airplanes. You used slats out of orange crates or the wings. The propeller was whittled from a handy piece of white pine. Today's youngster would turn up his pug nose at such a idea—he wants a model plane rigged with a real gasoline engine and which actually will fly. He may even go a step further. He may want one which is radio controlled—one that flies high overhead responding instantly to the control commands of the young pilot who sits on the ground and manipulates switches and keys on a mysterious box.

It may have been, Boss, that at one time or another in your youth you were given that king of all gifts for Christmas—a bicycle. Kids still get bicycles for Christmas. But they also get motor scooters. They likewise demand and receive model cars which actually run.

ing and utterly amazing devices were available.
I am sure little girls today still like dolls—the rows of delectable samples I saw was sufficient proof of the continued popularity of this long established favorite. But the dolls of today—what a far cry from the ones when mamma was a child. She was tickled into a very tickle by a doll which possessed a china head with utterly white skin and with hair, eyes, mouth and nose painted in place.

Today's little miss can get a doll which is so near to being alive that you can hardly note the difference. The dolls walk, talk, cry, sing, bat long lashed eyelids. They have wardrobes which would make an opera singer envious. They have doll houses so complete you could actually live in 'em yourself if you were tiny enough.

Boss, I think I am rather glad that I am no longer a kid.

When I was a lad, what I got for Christmas was fine and dandy because there wasn't anything else to compare it with. Today's youngster is faced with a dreadful dilemma.
He has to decide whether he selects the rocket space ship—complete with rocket and approved route charts to Mars—or whether he prefers that miniature kit containing everything needed for the splitting of an atom.

Making such decisions, Boss, is a difficult and dangerous burden to put on a little fellow's neck. He selects the rocket space ship—two days later he realizes that what his little heart really desired was Brinks armored money truck—complete with guards, bags of cash and assorted bandits.

It could have a lasting psychiatric impact on the youngster which might completely warp his whole future.

'Worship Centers' Are Yule Features At Lamesa Church

LAMESA, Dec. 8—Each Sunday in December, different families of the First Christian Church will display replicas of the worship centers they will use in their own homes through the Christmas season.

The first such center to be shown was placed in the back of the sanctuary by Mrs. M. Q. Martin. It was the family Bible on a raised book stand.

Through the emphasis being placed on family life this month, it is hoped that Christian families will see through the glitter of a commercialized Christmas, to the deeper and more significant meaning of the giving of the Son of God to Man, that he might have peace on earth and goodwill to## ward all men." Pastor Rosh J. Barnett said.

The Christmas season began this week at the Christian Church. Last Sunday evening the congregation shared in the family life of two of its members as they presented brief skits on Roads to Christmas for Christian Families. The C.-M. King family presented the Christian explanation of the meaning of Santa Claus, and the Dick Groh family brought a scene from the family devotions of the Christian family on Christmas Day.

A play, "Gift Wrapping," will be a feature at the evening service of the church Sunday.

About a dozen visitors appeared at the meeting for the telephone discussion. Farm Bureau president Ralph Gary and Pat Ryan, manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and a Farm Bureau member, agreed to try to help work out suitable recommendations. Gary appointed the following committee chairmen: membership, W. T. Snellgrove; first vice president, policy execution, Purvis Vandiver; second vice president, service, Scott Russell; maps and cards, Arthur Nolan; policy development, Fred Itaney; and publicity, Ben Mac Dopsun.

Putting The Cheer In Christmas - - -

If you're putting your dollars or dimes into the Christmas Cheer Fund, you'll be further cheered to know that your gift is matched by some effort in the holiday spirit, performed by members of Girl Scout Troop 37. Dolls were purchased through the Cheer Fund, fabrics have been donated, and then these industrious young ladies have turned to a labor of love, in seeing that the dolls are attractively dressed. The final result means a Christmas gift for some poor little lassie who otherwise would be denied the ordinary delights of a child's Christmas. This shows that the Cheer Fund extends far and wide. In addition to providing toys, the money also makes possible baskets of good food for destitute families.

(Photos by Keith McMillin)

JUST A FEW of the 48 dolls, which were dressed by members of Girl Scout Troop 37, are being packed for distribution at Christmas time. Working with the local fire department, sponsors of the Christmas Cheer Fund, the girls have made clothing from various scraps and fabrics which have been donated. From left to right, the industrious seamstresses are Sharon Nicholson, Alice Clemow, Mary Jane Weiner and Sandra Walker.

ALL THAT'S LACKING are shoes and socks as Girl Scouts of Troop 37 dress dolls in the frocks which they have made. The girls did the cutting and sewing for the dolls, bought by the local fire department as part of their work with the Christmas Cheer Fund. So that "everybody could get into the act", members in the fire station on the north side of town took over the job of "shoeing" the dolls. No small task when you realize that there are 288 pairs of shoes and socks to be placed!

CURLILOCKS HAD NOTHING on Sylvia Pettus, at left, and Jeananne Bogard when it comes to sitting and sewing "a fine seam". The two are members of Girl Scout Troop 37 and have been making doll clothes like mad to dress some of the dolls bought by the local fire department. The well-dressed dolls will be distributed to some of the little girls of the town as part of their Christmas presents.

STANDING INSPECTION are some of the dolls dressed by the girls of Scout Troop 37 for the Christmas Cheer Fund of the local fire department. There were 288 of the dolls purchased by the firemen, and 48 were taken by the girls as their project. Assistance in sewing was given by members of various blocks of the Officers' Wives' Club. At left, Mrs. Paul Phillips, block coordinator, is delighted with the results of the sewing; Mrs. Ken Carman of Block Two, and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Blocks 9 and 10, wait to look over their products. Seated on the floor are Sonja Arrick, left, and Micki Lawson.

Attractive Centerpiece

Mrs. Melvin King displays one of the beautiful arrangements she makes out of dead cedar stumps. This one is painted pale pink with darker shades of artificial flowers attached to the limbs. The imitation butterflies perched on the limbs look almost real and ready for flight. Since Mrs. King began this hobby a year ago she has made about 30 such arrangements.

Mrs. King Revises Cedar Stumps Into Beautiful Arrangements

By DEIDRA HINTON
A hobby that started as a clean-up project has advanced to a full-time venture for Mrs. Melvin King. Mrs. King explained that her fascinating hobby of making beautiful centerpieces and arrangements of dead stumps started about a year ago. "When we were building our new home, a large tree had to be excavated," Mrs. King said, "and the stump lay in the front yard for weeks. I finally decided I might do something with it, and that's how it started," she recalled.

Since that first venture a year ago, Mrs. King has made about 30 such arrangements and has sold 25 of them. Most of the stumps used are cedar that she has collected on river banks, lake shores or in the country.

In decorating the stumps, Mrs. King uses enamel in such colors as silver, pink, black, aqua, yellow, dark blue, gold and green. Imitation flowers from small rosebuds to large daisies are fastened to the outstretching limbs to add to the decor. Mrs. King also uses imitation birds, bees, and butterflies and some figurines to enhance the beauty of the arrangements.

For the most recent arrangement Mrs. King used black wrought iron paint to color the stump and used poinsettias. "This was really a lovely combination," Mrs. King said.

From the large number she has made, Mrs. King said that no two had ever turned out to look alike. "All the stumps are such different shapes that they all appear as a new design," she remarked.

Sizes range from a very petite model to a larger size that must sit on the floor or a large table.

Mrs. King says nature has provided the "legs" for the stumps. She said her friends have wondered how she ever got the stumps to sit in a certain position and she explained that she just moves them around until she finds the natural "legs" nature has supplied.

Another hobby which Mrs. King makes "good use of" is crocheting. Lucky will be the Christmas receiver of some of the beautiful hats, bags and dressers scarves Mrs. King has made.

A unique touch is given a plain pair of garden gloves when Mrs. King crochets a cuff of white around the top of the gloves and covers this with sparkles.

If you'd like to see some of this fancy handiwork of Mrs. King's, she'd be glad to have any visitors at her home at 1111 Sycamore.

H. L. Gunter Family Newcomers To City

Newcomers to Big Spring this week celebrated the first Thanksgiving here (not in 1621, but the one ten days ago.) They are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gunter, Molly, 9, and Greg, 6.

The Gunter family formerly made a home in Pampa, where he was associated as a car dealer. Mr. Gunter is a new partner with Tarbox-Gossett. His duties will be as the operational manager.

As a hobby, Mr. Gunter enjoys watch making and repairing and as he said "any kind of handwork." Mrs. Gunter insists that he's the chief cook when warm weather rolls around and outdoor barbecuing is on the schedule. Playing bridge is a recreation that both the Gunter enjoy.

The entire Gunter family has found Big Spring very friendly and courteous and are enjoying their new home at 804 West 17th.

Molly, who is in the fourth grade, has found many youngsters to play with and is quite impressed with their friendliness. "The first day at school I was invited to a birthday party," Molly exclaimed, "and I'd only been here one day!"

All the Gunter are eagerly watching the developments of Molly's piano playing. Mrs. Gunter said she and her husband had been "making progress with piano lessons, too." Molly is eager to start playing those beautiful Christmas carols for holiday company the family might have.

Christmas Coffee Held In Ackerly

Mrs. Lester Brown of Ackerly was hostess for a Christmas coffee Thursday in her home.

Receiving guests with the hostess were Mrs. V. J. Coleman, Mrs. Gaston Martin and Mrs. A. D. Brown.

The serving table was covered with a red cloth with large white poinsettia designs. The central arrangement was a large red candle surrounded by pine cones and magnolia leaves of silver.

Other decorations included an arrangement of red carnations and silvered pine cones.

Serving was done by Mrs. Travis Russell, Mrs. Alfred Herren, Mrs. Dudley Coleman and Mrs. Pat Gaskins.

Assisting with hospitalities were Mrs. Joe Lemon, Mrs. Darrell Smith and Mrs. Odessa Davenport. About 98 guests were present.

Benefit Program

Girls of the Knott FHA will sponsor a program by the Circle Four Ramblers Monday evening at the school. Tickets are priced at 50 and 25 cents. Scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m., the entertainment will include a cake walk and contests.

Practice Makes Perfect

Molly Gunter is happy to play the piano number which her father, H. L. Gunter, has selected for her. Six-year-old Greg likes to watch, too, and might even be coaxed into singing a few bars of his favorite Christmas carol. Mrs. Gunter finds that Molly's piano lessons are something the entire family can enjoy. The Gunters are newcomers to Big Spring, where Mr. Gunter is a new partner with Tarbox-Gossett Company. They make a home at 804 West 17th.

"Our Ten Years" was a review of the activities of The Woman's Forum given Friday by Mrs. Clyde Johnston. Members of the forum met in the home of Mrs. Carl Benson with Mrs. D. D. Dyer as hostess.

Mrs. Johnston told how the group was organized and mentioned various awards and projects. The present project is the management of the Style Shop at the State Hospital.

In this shop, patients are able to pick out clothing and accessories to their own liking, and the articles are presented to them free of charge. Women of the forum collect and sort the clothing and help in the distribution of it.

Charter members in the club include Mrs. Cecil McDonald, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Omar Jones, Mrs. Joe Pickle and Mrs. Steve Baker.

Gifts were exchanged by members, and a program of Christmas traditions was given by a girls' octet under the direction of Joyce Howard, music instructor in the local schools.

The group sang "Gloria In Excelsis," "The First Noel," "O, Christmas Tree," "Silver Bells," and "Merry Wonderland." Members of the chorus are Madelyn Culpepper, Glenda Washington, Gloria Mason, Joyce Davidson, Kay Foster, Darla Moore, Tam Davis and DeAnn Mason.

Twenty-three attended the meeting.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Ova Mae Edwards, Mrs. Travis Reed, Mrs. J. Y. Robb and Mrs. E. L. Powell.

Serving was done buffet style from a table holding a large punch bowl of ambrosia, which was served as dessert. Based on a crystal tray, the bowl was surrounded with nandina berries and foliage.

Goblets, bordered in glitter and marked with stars and dots, held red candles and flanked the central arrangement.

Smaller tables, where guests were seated, held similar goblets and candles, based in nandina arrangements. Green cloths on the foursome tables matched the floor length cloth of the large table.

House decorations included ropes of spruce secured in loops with red poinsettias, and bankings of spruce on wall sconces holding red tapers. An urn of red poinsettias rested on the hearth.

About 65 attended the luncheon, with the following guests: Mrs. Bob Parks, Mrs. H. L. Gunter, Mrs. Lewis Price, Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, Mrs. E. H. Boullion Jr. and Mrs. R. R. McEwen Sr. of LaJolla, Calif.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

The entire student body seems to be backing the Jayhawk basketball team to the fullest. Contributing to the jocular school spirit are the two twins that the Hawks have already chalked up in their favor. Coming out ahead by a comfortable margin in the first two games of their season, played Tuesday and Thursday nights of this week, both the team and school are looking forward to a victorious season.

Chants of proposed victory rose in the night air along with smoke from the giant bonfire staged behind the campus Monday night. Students and faculty met on campus for the first bonfire in the history of HCJC. Following the two games, sock hops were sponsored by the college in the SUB.

This year's cheerleaders are doing a tremendous job. Making their debut at Tuesday's pep rally, they sported new uniforms in the traditional gray and red colors. Shortly after their election, a few months ago, they began frequent practicing until they had worked out a number of clever routines. HCJC may see an all-time high in school spirit this year, and more than a fair share can be attributed to this group.

Along with the pep rally Tuesday morning, all-school and class favorites were nominated. On the ballot for all-school girl favorite were Betty Earley, Mary Lou Stagg, Bettie Anderson, Laverne Cooper and Julie Rainwater. All-school boy favorite nominees were Al Kloven, Stan Williams, Max McCulloch, Tommy Black and Bob Wardell.

Ann Porterfield, Clara Freeman, LaVelle Wasson and Georgia Bratton were nominees for freshman favorite, as were Richard Engle, David Dibrell, Ben Faulkner, Bob Wardell and Jerry Hodges.

Nominated by classmates to run for boy and girl favorites from the sophomore class were Wilella Hanks, Marjion Harrison, Dorothy Baker, Frank Dunlap, Mike Powell, Freddy Stuart, Truett Newell and Al Kloven.

Results of the election, which will be announced at the Christmas Formal, Friday.

Leaving Friday afternoon for a program in Andrews, the HCJC Choir were guests for the convention of the Ninth District of Federated Music Clubs.

The selection of numbers included "Der Abend," "There Is A Lady," "All Through the Night" and "I Hear A Voice A'Praying." Also performing for the audience was the choir from Sul Ross College, along with the operetta, "Hansel and Gretel," presented by Odesa Junior College.

Some of the students backing the Hawks in Abilene for the HCJC basketball game Saturday were Laverne Cooper, Marjion Harrison, Ann Green, Yvonne Peterson, and the cheerleaders.

Cupid must have been working overtime last weekend. Some of the coeds returning to school after the Thanksgiving holidays, who announce plans for matrimony are Jo Ann Watkins, who will become Mrs. Wiley Wise possibly next summer; Ann Conway, who has plans to marry Paul Talbot, Los Angeles, Calif., in April; and Frances Booker, who announced that she will become Mrs. Willie J. Matthews next summer.

Mary Ann Fairchild was sporting an engagement ring the latter part of this week, given to her by Larry Dight. They plan to tie the knot Dec. 21.

Mrs. Hunt Speaks To Forsan Club

FORSAN — Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Big Spring, was the guest speaker Thursday at the Christmas meeting of the Forsan Study Club.

Mrs. Hunt reviewed "What Miracles Are Made Of," by Margaret Cousins. Following the review, Christmas music was presented by Mrs. Joe Holladay and Mrs. Bill Conger Jr.

Green and gold were the colors used throughout the decorations. The background of the serving table was a green tree banked in snow against a panel of gold lame. Light from golden angel wings reflected on the tree.

Green cedar and sprayed autumn leaves completed the window decorations. The serving table was covered with green satin with a net overskirt decorated with felt Christmas designs embroidered with sequins.

The central arrangement on the table was of gold glittered pine cones and leaves flanked by burning tapers.

Mrs. Merritt Romans presided at the table assisted by Mrs. Lois Smith, Mrs. Walter Gressett, Mrs. C. V. Wash, Mrs. Charles Wash, Mrs. W. O. Averett and Mrs. C. B. Long.

About 30 were present.

Friday, Mrs. Ernest Geer, former member of the Mormon Church, was speaker for the group. A round-the-world prayer meeting was held Friday, also, with members taking turns in 15-minute intervals of prayer all through the day.

Lights on a Christmas tree are being turned on at the rate of one each time $25 has been reached in the offerings during the week.

She Likes To Stretch

Anna Sten believes her good posture and flexible body are due to the stretching exercises with which she begins each day. The lovely actress offers a kitten as an example, which always stretches after a nap. Miss Sten resumes her film career in "Runaway Daughters" for Golden State Productions.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Tips For Beauty In Person And In Home

By LYDIA LANE
 HOLLYWOOD — Anna Sten, whose parents fled Russia during the revolution, was educated in Europe and later brought to the United States with tremendous fanfare. Then she married Eugene Frenke, one of Hollywood's most important producers, and retired from pictures.
 Recently she resumed her acting career and I met her at Golden State Productions where she's starred in "Runaway Daughters." "This is a switch," she told me as we went to her dressing room. "I'm playing a delinquent parent."
 Miss Sten has had a long and happy marriage and when I asked her secret she said, "I think it's important to learn about yourself and try to correct your faults. It is not possible to be perfect or to expect others to be."
 "Maturing is a slow process — and you learn that often being right is a matter of opinion. Keeping an open mind, continuing to learn and having the right attitude will keep a marriage from growing stale."
 I admired Miss Sten's figure and the gown she was wearing.
 "I enjoy beautiful things and beautiful people — I believe a love of beauty has been the motivating force in my life," she said with a slight trace of accent.
 "Every woman has a chance of creating beauty in herself and her home. You should know what is used for your figure and what clothes not to wear. Necklines, sleeve lengths and choice of fabric make the difference between a dress being unbecoming or flattering. I don't care for high collars or anything that cuts in-neck. I don't think elbows or knees are pretty so I don't like three-quarter length sleeves or short skirts. I wouldn't buy a stiff taffeta or any other fabric which stands away from the body. I look for beauty before fashion."

 Miss Sten remarked that a good posture and a flexible body were part of her program for beauty. "I love walking and I start my day stretching my body. Animals always do after sleeping. Have you ever watched a cat? I don't get out of bed without stretching my legs, my arms and my upper torso. I sit up and rotate my shoulders — you can feel the kinks working out. And to reach the muscles under the chin I put my head over the side of the bed and let it hang. It doesn't take long," she explained, "but a few minutes every morning will keep your body supple."
BUILDING MUSCLE TONE
 Not everyone is athletic, but one cannot stay young and retain maximum health without some form of exercise. Modern approaches stress the good effects of tenseness followed by relaxation, as in a fist held tight and then let go. Leaflet M-16 Routine to contour and Tone the Body with Exercise, may be just what the doctor ordered. Some of the simple exercises can be done in bed, others on the floor or standing. Included are special ones for slimming below the waist. For your copy of M-16, send 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Eastern Star To Fete District Mairon

By LUCILLE PICKLE
 To honor Dorothy Driver, district deputy grand matron of Section Two, Order of Eastern Star of Texas, a tea will be given Dec. 16. The affair is to be held at the home of Mrs. Norman Read, 503 Washington Blvd from 3 until 5 o'clock. Members of Eastern Star and their families and other friends of Miss Driver are invited to attend.
 The Christmas season brings forth so much beautiful music. The Webb Choraleers, have a good musical program which is joined with scriptural readings. Friday eight talented young ladies from Washington School presented a program of yuletide songs under the direction of Joyce Howard for The Woman's Forum. It is comforting to know that our students are getting training in the arts other than the lick and promise we got when we were in school.
 Speaking of the arts, does anyone know how to get grease paint out of good white shirts? It's nice for the actors to get good and smeared with the makeup but it's hard on clothing.
 The cast of "Dear Ruth" did a good job at the high school over the weekend. It is our fervent hope that the coming students will be taught that it is considered polite to remain in their seats at least until the curtain gets down and if they like the show at all to let the cast know it by giving one curtain call. It perks up the participants and the stage crew a great deal. It takes a lot of work to put on a play whether it's good or not.
 Welcome to Big Spring for MR. AND MRS. W. O. TAYLOR, who

Sewing Club Has Election Of Officers

Members of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club, meeting in the home of Mrs. D. D. Johnson, Friday afternoon elected Mrs. W. O. Washington president.
 Mrs. C. C. Bell was chosen vice president; Mrs. Dick Hooper, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. M. W. Rupp, reporter. The social committee is composed of Mrs. H. D. Bruton and Mrs. L. D. Patterson.
 A Christmas party was announced for Dec. 21, at which, families of members will be guests. Gifts will be brought by each person for an exchange. Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Findley will be hosts.
 Cancer bandages will be made at the next meeting, set for the home of Mrs. Washington, 309 Princeton.
 Refreshments were served to 10 members and a guest, Mrs. Leslie Bell.
 Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Jesse Henderson, has been made assistant manager of Nelson's Department Store in Odessa. She is a former resident of Big Spring.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Fairchild of Forsan are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Larry Don Digby. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Digby of Stanton. Vows will be taken at the Baptist Church Dec. 21 at 7 o'clock.

Musical Events Planned By Many School Groups

There'll be "music in the air" around the schools as Christmas approaches. Several of the P-TA's will have programs of plays and carols, with special music planned for school assemblies.
 Joyce Howard, music instructor for Washington Place, South Ward and College Heights, has prepared a program for the Washington Place P-TA on Monday.
 "Christmas in Scripture and Song" is the title of the presentation of the three sixth grades of Washington. One group will give the story in song; one, with music on bells and one will give a pantomime.
 Mrs. J. L. Christensen, instructor at East and North Wards, will present her fourth grade at East Ward in Christmas music and a manger scene for the P-TA.
 At North Ward, her first grade pupils will sing carols for the association.
 West Ward P-TA will hear Christmas songs under the direction of Mrs. N. C. Zable, when she presents her fourth, fifth and sixth grade singers.
 Mrs. Zable will direct the fifth grade in a play and songs for the Airport P-TA, also.
 At Junior High School, a seventh grade assembly program on Wednesday will feature The Melody Maids, a choral group sponsored by the Music Study Club. They are under the direction of Mrs. Bill Griese and Mrs. Ruth Burnam.

Easy-To-Make Bells

Looking for a new idea for your Christmas doorway? How about easy-to-make ever green bells with lighted clappers. Here's how it's done:
 Fashion bells from chicken wire. Then, with a string of C-94 outdoor Christmas lights, clip the chicken wire frame over each bell and fasten so that bulbs are positioned like clappers. Cover frames with short sprigs of evergreen until "bells" are solid with greens. Use assorted colored bulbs for your lighted clappers.

HI--TALK

By CAROL ROGERS

The Friday night performance of "Dear Ruth" climaxed six weeks of work and fun for the cast, directors and crews. The play ran two nights, with a large audience at both performances. After the final performance, a party was held for all those producing the play. The kids presented Mack Godwin, director, with a gift certificate in appreciation of his work. Some of those attending the party, which was held in the home of Linda Woodall, were Sandra Havens, Pat Rogers, Bobby McMillan, Doyle Phillips, Dennis Jones, Carol Rogers, Tommy Pickle, Lynn Anderson-Jacqueline Smith, Valjean LaCroix, Wesley Griesby, Johnny Roy Phillips, Lynn Porter, Nita Jones, Jimmy Simmons, Judith Shields, Linda Nichols, Julius Glickman and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Godwin. Two of the most spirited pep rallies of the year were held Monday and Tuesday in preparation for the basketball games with Lane and Andrews. The Steers won their first game of the season and repeated the performance Tuesday night by beating Sweetwater. We meet Snyder Tuesday in the Snyder gym and will play in Andrews tournament Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

The Drama Workshop met Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium. They discussed final production problems of "Dear Ruth." The next meeting will be held Dec. 18. Terral Turner, Sharron Coats, Melva Turner, Denise Honey, and Pat Bradford will attend the FTA district meeting in Plainview Thursday. They will be accompanied by Miss Tammy Hill.

Orders for the 1958 senior rings were placed Thursday and Friday. The class expects to receive the rings next spring or summer. The students of BSHS really enjoyed the assembly Wednesday and Billy Johnson were just some of the couples attending. Petitions for class favorites and best all-around were turned in Friday. Elections will be held Tuesday and run-off elections the following day.

The program of the FHA Beu Night consisted of several Christmas stories told by Mrs. Dean Forrest. The affair, which was held Thursday night, took place in the homemaking cottage. Approximately 70 girls and dates attended, as both high school chapters and the junior high chapter participated in the event.

The Majors Club chose Hershel Stocks as "Sportsman." Runners-up for the honor were Michael Musgrove and Jesse McElrath. Dec. 3 marked the beginning of volleyball workouts. Six A team and six B team regulars are returning this year. Sixteen more girls are hoping for a place on the team also. The girls will be coached by Miss Anne Smith, physical education teacher.

Senior of the week Michael Musgrove is one of the best liked boys in BSHS. Michael's main interest is basketball as he is a two-year letterman on the A team. Captain of the 1956-57 basketball team, Michael received the 1956 sportsmanship trophy last year. He was also student council representative during his sophomore year and has been a member of Hi-Y for the past three years.

Christmas Landscape. If you are spending your first holiday in a newly-built home that you have not yet landscaped, substitute evergreen branches for permanent shrubbery. Drive a few short stakes firmly in the ground and wire the branches to them. Then attach your outdoor lights just as you would on growing shrubbery.

Frock Worn In Movie Can Be Easily Made At Home

Helen Rose, fashion designer at M.G.M., proves her versatility with every movie she costumes, since she must consider the personality of the star, and the character she portrays, as well as the story line. In M.G.M.'s film, "The Opposite Sex," you will see Jane Alyson, one of its stars, wearing this wonderfully casual dress. It was originally made in tan cashmere with a gilet of turquoise silk jersey. Its high fashion secret is in the handling of the bodice, a new twist that you will manage easily since the pattern is precisely perforated for accurate marking and matching. The sleeve is cut in one with the bodice front, which folds back from the center opening and is fitted into the side seam. The diagonal line hides a pocket. Choose fabrics such as cashmere wool, rayon or silk crepe, linen, hambray. The gilet is best in jersey or any other pliable material. From this chart select the one size best for you. Size 10, bust 34, waist 24, hips 35 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 14, bust 36, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches; size 16, bust 38, waist 28, hips 39 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches. Size 12 requires 3/4 yards of 29 inch material for dress. To order Pattern No. 1291, state size, enclose $1.00. Address American Designer Patterns, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. B-5, New York, N. Y. From Shostakovitch To Gershwin

Records Presented To Junior College

Howard County Junior College music department now has a good start toward a record library to serve the needs of its students. Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone have made a gift of 71 albums of classical phonograph records to the department. The albums, all standard 78 rpm records, are now on the shelves at the music building. Students already are making use of the records, according to Jack Hendrix, instructor in piano and organ.

Orland Johnson, instructor in choral music and theory, said that the records represent a major gift to the department and will be of immeasurable assistance in the work of the classes. The records run the gamut from Bach to Shostakovich. Included is a complete Handel Opera—a ponderous collection which fills two fat holders. Likewise there is a fine selection of Gershwin in the list. There are records of Beethoven and of many other standard composers. Some of the recordings are almost museum pieces in their own right—by virtue of the conductor and orchestras which produced them.

Hendrix and Johnson will proudly display their new records to all callers and the 71 albums make a nice beginning of a library. However, the two instructors also point to the many many empty shelves in the library. Ultimately, if all goes well, these shelves will be filled with more albums and records. There are also shelves designed for books on music and composers.

A suggestion was made that perhaps other benevolent persons, inspired by the generosity of Dr. and Mrs. Malone, may want to make donation of records or music books to the department. "If anyone would like to do so," Hendrix observed, "believe me, we won't turn the offer down."

The new music building at the Howard County Junior College has

Army To Pay Medical Bills

Dependents of servicemen and servicewomen became eligible Friday for certain civilian medical care under Public Law 569, with the federal government paying the bills of private physicians and hospitals.

Brig. Gen. L. Holmes Ginn, Fourth Army surgeon with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, has announced that Texas doctors' fees for treating service dependents will be paid by the finance officer of Fort Sam Houston. Bills from Texas hospitals will be processed for the government by the Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association, Omaha, Neb.

Ginn said that the necessary form for administering the new law will be mailed soon to all Texas hospitals. Physicians will send the bills for their fees to: Commanding General, Headquarters Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., Attention: Surgeon.

Until further notice, Fourth Army headquarters will conduct the administration of the law in Texas, with respect to physicians' fees for all the uniformed services. These services include the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, commissioned corps of the Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey, and the commissioned corps of the Public Health Service. Eligible members of these services include those appointed, enlisted, or conscripted who are serving on active duty for more than 30 days.

Miss Edwards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex C. Edwards, 1006 Wood in Big Spring.

The FTA is host to District 4 on Tuesday, and the annual Wayland campus revival will be held for a week beginning Monday.

Miss Edwards is majoring in education and minoring in English. She has been a beauty nominee for the past two years and was a Homecoming Queen nominee the same years. This year she is serving as vice president of Hattie Mays Ferguson Hall.

A Bible Thought For Today

Our Museum: Quo Vadis?

Few institutions have had so many ups and downs and yet managed to stay around as has the local museum. Currently it is having one of its downs, which unfortunately far outnumbered the ups during its 25-year history.

The Business and Professional Women, who resurrected the museum a few years ago, had to give up and turn the institution over to the city of Big Spring. What the city will be able to do with the museum is problematical, so far matters are status quo.

One of two courses ought to be followed perhaps. First, there is the hope that some agency or organization can step forward with a workable plan for revitalizing the museum and make it available to do the sort of thing which was dreamed for it.

The second is to close-up shop permanently and urge people who have given items to come and call for them if they wish them as family heirlooms or wish to give them to some other museum.

Our modest museum came about in an unique manner. Back in 1931-32 a current events class in our high school began collecting items to illustrate their studies.

At first he seemed puzzled by what I was trying to say, but finally a look of understanding came to his face. "Oh," he answered, "you mean the manager's disease."

"What do you mean," I asked, "by the manager's disease?" "Anybody who has managerial responsibility seems to develop high blood pressure, nervous tension or heart disease," he told me.

"I like that interesting phrase, 'manager's disease,'" I said. "But everyone isn't an executive or a manager?" "Yes, they are," he responded. "Everybody is an executive. Everybody has to manage himself. When they can't, they get sick with anxiety and tension and frustration. That's what we call the manager's disease." "How do you cure it?" was my next question.

First, he told me about the latest developments in drugs and medicines. Then, this physician, who didn't know anything about me or my profession except that I was a visiting American, said something which impressed me. He looked around challengingly as if he were to make a very radical statement, "do you know what the people of Europe need - and from what I've heard of the United States, your people need it as well. I know it's a long way off," he pointed a long finger at all of us around the table. "And it's what all you men need." The finger stopped at me. "It's what you need too. Just this one thing - people need more religion."

He went on to explain, "And I don't mean religion that is just formal and cold and lifeless. What I mean is expressed in one word - God. We need God. He gives us energy in the first place. He renews it constantly. If people could get the consciousness of God into their lives, they'd have the energy and strength they need to properly manage themselves."

God is more than just an abstract philosophical concept. He is our life blood - medicine for our bodies, our minds, our souls. Tolstoy expressed it best - "To know God is to live."

So we can learn to manage ourselves - and how to avoid "the manager's disease" - when we become aware of the health that comes from having God in charge of our lives.

decision. If anyone attempts to intimidate the school board this would come under the federal judge's existing order which forbids interference with the functioning of the school board. The extent of such interference, however, and how far "public sentiment" itself in the form of criticism can be expressed in free America without being confronted with contempt charges, are delicate questions for the Supreme Court to clarify some day.

For the only issue in Clinton relates to the behavior of individual citizens in the community. They have as much right to stand outside the school grounds and do a job of "peaceful picketing" as do the members of a labor union who try to persuade workers not to go inside the factory or to influence the public to boycott the goods produced in the factory.

U.S. Economy Not Upset By The Mideast Crisis

The Suez Crisis - and crisis is increasingly the word for it - demonstrates anew how powerful, how self-sufficient, we, in America, are. Thirty years ago, the discomfiture of the British and the French, the economic dislocations they are going through, would have sent this country into a financial tizzy. Wall Street would have quavered.

Let us assume Europe trims purchases from the U.S. by 20 per cent or 25 per cent. And that's a high assumption. That would be about a billion-dollar drop in trade. In a $414,000,000,000 economy, that's not enough to be upsetting. Only 0.3 per cent.

The absence of domestic panic is partly the result of a greater sophistication - greater understanding of the relationship between the U.S. economy and the world economy. It's partly faith in the outlook for production and employment. Despite tight money, inflation, not deflation, is still our prime worry. The Federal Reserve Board has been pumping a little extra credit into the banking structure. It has been buying Treasury bills. This is primarily seasonal - to provide the extra funds needed for Christmas expenses. But the Reserve has not tried to make borrowing easier. It hasn't been forcing down interest rates.

Agressors' Use Of Puppets

The Kadar government in Hungary has been stalling as long as it dared on the question of a visit to Budapest by Mr. Hammarskjold. He first proposed to go there on Nov. 13, and it now looks as if the Kadar government might not receive him.

In the spirit, if not in the letter, the Kadar government's treatment of Mr. Hammarskjold amounts to saying that Hungary has diplomatic rights in the General Assembly in New York, the United Nations organization has no diplomatic rights in Hungary. This is not an acceptable doctrine, and if the Kadar government continues to stall, the least that the General Assembly can do is to suspend the right of Kadar's representatives to participate in the General Assembly.

Kadar's representative in New York, Mr. Imre Horvath, is insisting that while his government is now ready to negotiate about receiving Mr. Hammarskjold, the United Nations do not have any legal right to concern themselves with the Hungarian question. His argument is that in Hungary, as distinguished from Egypt, there was no external military intervention.

The official record of the U. N. shows that on Nov. 1 and again on Nov. 2, the U. N. received communications from Imre Nagy, the Prime Minister of Hungary. The first one stated that the Hungarian government had demanded of the Soviet Ambassador the withdrawal of the Red Army; it declared the neutrality of Hungary and it

How To Avoid 'Manager's Disease'

Last summer, when I was in Europe, I attended a Rotary Club meeting there. As a member of Rotary I try to be faithful to my obligation of attendance whenever I may be.

At this particular meeting in a little town, there weren't more than fifty men. I think I was the only American present. There was an Englishman, a Frenchman and some Italians, Germans and Swiss. Fortunately, the men at my table all spoke enough English so that we could understand one another.

One of the men with us was a doctor, and I gathered that he was one of the most important medical men of that region. I was very impressed by his conversation and enjoyed talking with him.

"Doctor," I said, "back in the United States where I live, we have a lot of high blood pressure and tension and heart trouble and nervous breakdowns and other psychosomatic disorders. Do you have much of that trouble here?"

Two-Part Drive On Tight Money

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-for-one drive on tight money—one on part of its cause, the other on part of its effects—is under way today.

The net result may be mostly a shifting in the various factors in the tight money situation without any great change in the overall picture. The nation probably will have to get used to living with tight money for some time to come.

Maj. Wilemon Gets Korea Assignment

Maj. Max Wilemon left Webb AFB Wednesday, ending a tour which began Aug. 11, 1952, when he was ordered to Webb from Randolph AFB. Wilemon goes to Korea, sailing from San Francisco early in January, after spending the Christmas holidays with friends and relatives. Mrs. Wilemon and the two children, Stevan and Lisa-Marie expect to join him as soon as he finds suitable quarters at his new base. This will be Maj. Wilemon's second trip to the Far East. He served a tour in Japan from August, 1946, to January, 1949. On his return from Japan he was assigned to Randolph AFB, where he served in various capacities until he was ordered to Webb in August 1952. Upon arrival at Webb he was assigned as military training instructor and was later made director of military training. He also served as flying instructor and assistant flight commander. It was while serving as squadron commander that he was called to wing headquarters as a member of the wing commander's staff.

MAX WILEMON

Wilemon is a native Texan; he graduated from Waco High School and attended Baylor University. He is well known in Big Spring and took an active part in Masonic, church and civic affairs. Decorations authorized for Maj. Wilemon include the American Defense Medal; the American Campaign Medal; the National Defense Service Medal; the World War II Victory Medal and the Japanese Occupation Medal.

300 Yule Baskets Planned For Needy

As many as three hundred baskets of Christmas food will be distributed to that number of needy families in Big Spring on the afternoon of Christmas Eve, according to Dexter Breazeale, commandant of the Big Spring Salvation Army Citadel. "We have already had more than 150 families make application to be remembered this Christmas," he said, "and we anticipate that at least that many more will be on our lists before Christmas Eve." He said that food to make up the baskets is now being planned and assembled and that working figure on which calculations are being based is 300. This is 50 or more baskets than were distributed last Christmas. "The drought may be the reason," he explained. "Anyway, we have more folk who are in difficult straits this year than we had last." The exact number of baskets the Salvation Army itself will distribute is a little uncertain, Breazeale pointed out. This is because of the growing popularity of what is called the "adoption" plan. Churches, Sunday school classes, clubs, and individuals in increasing numbers are making plans to provide Christmas for one or more of Big Spring's needy family groups. The Salvation Army is acting as a clearing house for this program. The captain asked that all persons or groups who plan to bring Christmas to some family contact his office. By this method, duplication of efforts can be averted, he said. Any organization or person who feels an urge to engage in this good work and who is in need of the address of a worthy family will be supplied by the Salvation Army. "Tell us what size family you would like to help," he said. "We will find one on our lists and provide you with all details, and even help you plan the basket, if you like." Breazeale said that each basket the Salvation Army plans to send out this Christmas will represent an investment of around $10. No decision has been made as yet whether the piece de resistance will be a dressed hen or some other type of meat. "We used hens last year," he mused, "and we'd like to try something else this year." Since the size of families vary, the contents of the Christmas baskets will also vary. If hens are used, for example, it would be wasteful to send a six-pound bird to a family which comprises only two persons. If the family is made up of two adults and perhaps four or five children, the entire parcel will be planned to meet their holiday needs. The city schools, Breazeale reported, are to have a canned food campaign to aid the project of baskets for the needy. Each child will be asked to bring one can of food to the schools on Dec. 17, 18 or 19. "We will be greatly helped by this activity," the captain said. "After we get these cans of food we can plan the shortages and we can restrict our buying to the items which are in limited supply." Funds for the purchase of the food will come from the donations that citizens make to the kettles which are now familiar sights on the streets. Collections so far, it was said, have been relatively light. Breazeale anticipates that there will be a step-up in interest as the holiday nears. Civic club members have volunteered to man the kettles.

Many Activities Planned For Patients At State Hospital

The December calendar for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital is crowded with activities ranging from Christmas parties to drama productions. The regular monthly birthday party for patients whose birthday comes in December was held Friday, and a trip to Midland was on the schedule for a group Saturday. Midland's Civic Theatre held a special Saturday matinee show for patients from the hospital. The production is "Life With Father" which opened Thursday night and will be given tonight also. The Civic Theatre sent buses over for 100 patients and returned them to the hospital after the program. Next Thursday, the Spoudazio Foris is sponsoring a program by the Webb AFB Choraleers for the patients. This musical program will be staged at 7:30 p.m. The high point of the month's calendar comes on Dec. 19, when local organizations, headed by the Elks Club, will hold a huge Christmas party for patients. Organizations taking part are the Lions, Rotarians, Jaycees, Kiwanians, ABC Club, and the Elks. The sponsoring group has asked for aid from others who wish to help. The program will include games, with prizes being checks from the commissary. Refreshments will also be served. The volunteer service group of Women's Forum at Midland will provide a gift for each patient at the hospital that night. These gifts will be individually tagged with the patient's name. For the patients unable to attend the Christmas party, gifts will be given to them on Christmas morning. In addition to the Midland gifts, the Salvation Army unit here plans to have a gift for each patient. There are approximately 800 pa-

15 Certified For Terms On C Of C Board

Fifteen new directors for the Chamber of Commerce were certified by a special election committee Friday for service for the next two years. They and 15 holdover directors will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday to select up to 10 additional board members to serve for one year. The 15 named Friday were elected by Chamber of Commerce members who voted by mail. There were 45 nominees and the 15 receiving the most votes were certified for the new terms. The new group will take their places on the C-C directorate Jan. 1. Both new and old directors will meet Dec. 17, regular board meeting date of the Chamber. Directors certified Friday are William D. Boyd, Lee Rogers, Horace Garrett, Jack Irons, Bobo Hardy, Dave Duncan, W. D. Caldwell, Gil Jones, Ike Robb, C. O. Nalley, George Oldham, Douglas Orme, Leroy Tidwell, Floyd Parsons and Joe Pickle. All these programs are being handled through the chaplain's office. Rev. William Boyd is serving as chaplain and has charge of the entertainment. It is the opinion of Rev. Boyd and the doctors at the hospital that it is better to have a large number of programs rather than fewer but longer programs.

You get better looking in a '57 Chevrolet!

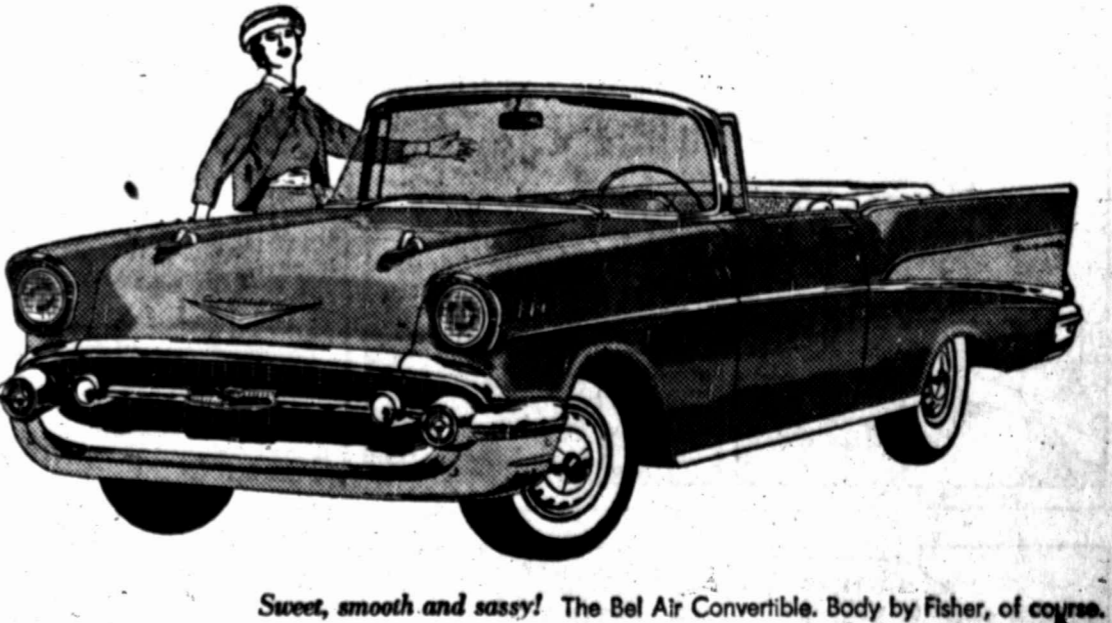

Chevy gives you a whole new outlook behind the wheel. And isn't that new instrument panel a honey!

You feel for all the world like you're viewing one of these new wide-screen movies when you first look through that '57 Chevrolet windshield. Its new, deeper design gives you better, safer seeing. The whole outdoors seems to surround you in its crystal curve.

Glance down—just a bit—and your eyes rest on the sweetest instrument panel a car ever had. Gauges are shielded against glare in a deeply hooded cove.

You have an exciting sense of full command—an urge to curl your fingers around that slimly sculptured steering wheel and find out if the going's as good as the looking.

It's even better. You make that happy discovery in a few smooth-flying miles. Chevy's full of vinegar (horsepower ranges up to 245*), and so well behaved that it gives you a whole new outlook on driving. Come in and see.

Sweet, smooth and sassy! The Bel Air Convertible. Body by Fisher, of course.

'Tea And Sympathy,' Broadway Success, Screened At Sahara

Sympathy

John Kerr gets more than just tea and sympathy from Deborah Kerr in this scene from "Tea and Sympathy," story of a disturbed young student and the sacrifice his housefather's wife makes for him.

A Broadway stage success, "Tea and Sympathy" will play at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre Sunday through Wednesday. Stars are Deborah Kerr and John Kerr, from the original Broadway cast. The screenplay was written by the play's author, Robert Anderson.

Kerr portrays a 17-year-old prep school boy caught up in an infatuation with his housemaster's wife. His refusal to conform to the modes of the day makes him an "off-horse" and brings on the decision of his fellow students, his conventional father and the contemptuous housefather.

Miss Kerr, as the wife, understands the uncertainty and torment of the youth, and attempts to help him with more than "tea and sympathy" which is all a housemother is generally required to give. Goaded into proving his manhood, Kerr mixes in with a waitress, suffers revulsion, and tries to commit suicide. It is then that Miss Kerr makes a decision that changes both their lives.

The story is essentially unchanged from the original, but the screen gives author Anderson more room to work in. Sequences range from the housemaster's home to a beach, golf club, and an ice-cream party hangout and a variety of scenes of student activities, including a pajama fight between old and new students.

Smallest Jobs Aren't Easiest

The smallest jobs aren't always the easiest, Robert Taylor found that out in filming of "Billy The Kid."

In one morning's work he had to "back roll" a six-shooter into its holster, roll a cigarette with one hand, do three or four difficult stunts with a lariat, and mount his horse without touching the stirrups.

The day's last scene almost stumped him. He was to throw a pen holder onto a table and make the point stick into the wood, but he had to try ten times before he succeeded.

Dies 1,000 Times

Stuntman Jack Gallagher has been "killed" more than 1,000 times in Hollywood movies. In 1926, he took part in a crackup of 12 chariots in "Ben Hur." His latest is in "Billy The Kid," where he is shot, rolls off a roof and bounces onto the ground.

guaranteed to exit the theatre in a state of nerves. You must see this move from the first.

And speaking of Alec Guinness, that versatile star is shown in another movie this week, "The Lady Killers." This is a comedy based on some of the foibles of human nature, found even in criminals. It tells the story of how a sweet old lady breaks a gang of cutthroats all to pieces just by being her old sweet self.

Texas Actress Has Problem

HOLLYWOOD — Carolyn Jones, a pert, happy actress from Texas, got the break of her life with a role in "The Bachelor Party" — but what a dilemma.

She couldn't quite figure what it was she had to play. The character in the script is designated only as "The Existentialist."

"Playing a cowboy is easy," the tall redhead says. "Everyone knows what they do and what they are like but what is an existentialist?"

Frenchman Jean Paul Sartre as teaching that "man is free and responsible only to himself."

That left her nowhere but a study of the script with the director gave her a lead.

"The key to it all is one line I say to Don Murray: 'Just say you love me, you don't have to mean it.'"

The existentialist is a miserable girl because she is searching for love and finds it difficult to admit."

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

We had the privilege of seeing a preview of "The Girl He Left Behind," recently. The usual disadvantage of trying to say something good or bad about a movie we haven't been able to see yet is that the fact is, "The Girl He Left Behind" is rather uproarious and racy all the way through. With teenage stars (Tab Hunter and Natalie Wood) and with a story woven around today's teen-agers, you'd expect that only our younger generation would get any sort of a bang out of the film. But Marion Hargrove, who also wrote "See Here, Private Hargrove," was the guiding genius behind "The Girl He Left Behind."

Hargrove's story, then, includes not only some of the foibles of today's lost generation, but also quite a few of the Army's foibles, a phenomenon that seems not to change with time. There are a few scenes that graying veterans will fully appreciate, but will probably be over the heads of those who've never taken an Army physical exam. Most of the comedy is not too deep, however.

"The Girl He Left Behind" is one of the best comedies of its kind this year.

If you are inclined to be particular about your movies, you'll probably be disappointed with "Moby Dick"; if not, you'll never notice anything wrong and you can sit back and enjoy one of the year's most dramatic pictures.

Gregory Peck is one of Hollywood's top stars, and he obviously worked himself into a sweat for Director John Huston. But, at least to the more intellectual mind, Peck just does not come up to the standard of acting required for the part of Captain Ahab. Neither, for that matter, would practically any other star in Hollywood—except for veterans in the Charles Laughton class, and none of these is acceptable to play a young man's role.

But if you can accept a good actor's performance in place of that of a genius, you will enjoy "Moby Dick."

"Tea and Sympathy" follows two growing patterns of Hollywood: The filming of successful Broadway productions and the crashing of censorship barriers into controversial subjects. The play ran for 91 weeks on Broadway and received several of the theater's highest awards.

The controversial subject is the suspected "tenderness" of a young college student, and what his young, attractive housemother does to convince him he's not.

The stars, incidentally, are not related, nor are their names pronounced alike. Deborah Kerr (car) and John Kerr (cur).

If you can stand the Western melodrammer that goes with it, you might enjoy the short subject, "Football Highlights of 1956," at the State Theatre Thursday through Saturday.

Another Walt Disney masterpiece, "The African Lion," returns this week. Actually, the movie shows all phases of African animal life, but the King of the Jungle does get the lion's share of camera mugging. The film shatters the old white hunters legend that the male lion is the king of beasts. Seems all he does is sit around and sun himself, while Mama brings in the bacon. And if Mama takes a dislike to Papa, guess who gets run off.

A classic film of ancient vintage returns this week. "King Kong" was, in its hey day, an unusual and startling movie. It was the first really good movie in which a monster is the chief character, and it has entertained succeeding generations for the past 30 years. The film track is old and muddied now, but still visible, and a classic of this sort is always worth seeing again—or for the first time, if you're young.

Alec Guinness has parlayed a genius for acting and a knack for comedy into a brilliant acting career. In his later films, Guinness
