Ice Snaps Electric, Telephone Circuits

Power and telephone lines jumbled like spaghetti during the week-end in the wake of the area's worst glaze storm since January of 1949. Texas Electric Service Company crews, augmented by private contractors, toiled ceaselessly from Saturday evening through Monday morning in a touch-and-go battle to restore service.

Telephone crews fought back against the ice, too, but there were areas like Lamesa which were isolated completely by the storm. Thawing temperatures Monday morning brought sighs of relief, but momentarily it created a nightmare for power servicemen.

hours Monday morning, and the area to the southwest cut out again temporarily. There was almost constant trouble in the Chalk and Forsan areas of southeast Howard County. One circuit burned out near the old waterworks southeast of Big Spring.

Sunshine Accelerates Thaw, Dispels Fog
Big Springers awakened to a wintry world dimly seen through a dense fog Monday morning but by noon, all of the scenery and trappings of the frigid season had vanished and a warm sun was beaming down on the damp countryside.

Home, Station Dynamited In Race Outbreak
MONTGOMERY, Ala. — A Negro's home and a service station-taxi stand were dynamited in another of a series of incidents at this racially troubled state capital yesterday.

Police were besieged with reports of fallen wires. W. J. Cole, Stanton, called after he had seen violent flashes in his vicinity 10 miles southwest of Lomax. Officers thought there might have been a plane crash, but the highway patrol found nothing. Many Big Springers were shocked by the explosion.

Home, Station Dynamited In Race Outbreak
The unexploded bomb, containing 12 sticks of dynamite, was placed at the unoccupied home of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., who has been the top spokesman for Negroes seeking to break racial barriers here.

Refinery Cutback Requested By U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says serious economic trouble in Western Europe can be avoided only if the United States boosts its oil production and temporarily reduces gasoline refining.

In a weekend appeal for an increase in state-regulated oil production, the Interior Department said "domestic gasoline stocks are at an all-time high" and refinery operations can be temporarily cut back without risk of a shortage in this country.

Felix Wormser, assistant secretary for mineral resources, also disclosed that emergency U.S. shipments to oil-short Europe slumped to an average of 275,000 barrels a day during the week ended Jan. 16. The original target when the program started in November was 400,000 to 500,000 barrels a day.

Closing the Suez Canal in November cut off Western Europe from much of its regular oil supply. The department said the area can get along on rationed gasoline but is severely in need of fuel and heating oils.

Wormser said: "Our relationships with Western Europe are of fundamental importance to us. Our NATO (North Atlantic Treaty) associations are based on our security. Both are likely to be seriously undermined unless the economic effects of the oil shortages on vital industries of Western Europe are mitigated."

Wormser said the Defense Department is willing to release some of its military reserves of fuel oil to meet any specific domestic emergency arising from a boost in U.S. shipments to Europe.

So far, Wormser said, "shipments of domestic crude oil to Europe have come from inventories rather than domestic production, reducing these stocks to a level considered a minimum for national security reasons."

He said shipments to Europe therefore "can continue at anything approaching a satisfactory rate... only if one or preferably both of the following are done: (A) U.S. crude oil production is increased; (B) domestic refining runs are reduced."

Any increase in production depends largely on Texas sources, which have increased output by about 8 per cent since the Suez Canal was closed. The Texas regulatory agency has drawn some criticism for refusing to permit more oil to be withdrawn from the wells.

About half the U.S. output is controlled, by independent producers, who contend Europe's needs can be filled either from Caribbean oil this country imports or from stocks of refined products.

Congressmen Protest Tito Visit To U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four House members today begin circulating a petition asking President Eisenhower not to invite Communist President Tito of Yugoslavia to come here.

Announcing plans to seek the signatures of fellow representatives, the four said they do not wish to embarrass the President but that "we do not believe the millions of good people of the United States should be embarrassed by an invitation to Tito to come here as an official guest of the United States."

Sponsors of the petition are Representatives McDonough (R-Calif.), Keating (R-N.Y.), Madden (D-Ind.) and McCormack (D-Mass.), the House Democratic leader.

Rep. May (R-Conn.) said in a statement today that if Tito should come to the United States "we would indicate to the world that the United States is willing to compromise its moral position in the world struggle against communism."

Objections also have been voiced by some Catholic and veterans' groups.

There were indications the Eisenhower administration eventually will decide to resume sending military aid to Yugoslavia. Deliveries of new equipment, halted last July when Tito seemed to be edging back into the Moscow fold, would include jet fighter planes.

The reported invitation to Tito and military-economic aid to Yugoslavia are in line with American policy to encourage Communist nations to pursue a course of independence from Russian domination.

Catholic Censors, Publishers At Odds

By HOWARD BENEDICT
NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) — A middle-aged man walked into a New Jersey newsstand and asked for a paper-bound copy of the Ernest Hemingway novel, "To Have and Have Not."

"I'm sorry, we don't carry that book," said the dealer. "It's on the list."

If the man had asked for certain works of William Faulkner, John Masters, John O'Hara, John Dos Passos, Emile Zola, D. H. Lawrence and some other prominent writers, the answer would have been the same:

"It's on the list."

He would have found the same situation in parts of Massachusetts, Michigan, Oregon, Wisconsin and in many other areas where the National Organization for Decent Literature is successful in keeping what it considers objectionable literature out of the hands of children and teen-agers.

The books on the list are not disapproved for adults, but because of it many older persons—like the man in the New Jersey newsstand—have difficulty buying certain books.

The NODL and its list have created the biggest book censorship furor in America since a congressman named Anthony Comstock influenced Congress to pass the country's first postal obscenity legislation in 1872.

The controversy comes at a time when many writers and publishers are emphasizing sex in their novels. The paper-bound books and their oftentimes misleading covers illustrate this trend.

The main struggle today is between the NODL and the American Book Publishers Council of New York, which represents 90 per cent of the nation's publishers, including those who publish most of the NODL's disapproved books.

The publishers council accuses the organization of using "book burning tactics" and "censorship by lynch law."

The NODL, a Catholic organization with headquarters in Chicago, answers that its movement is necessary "to preserve the ideals of our young people."

Doctor Scheduled At Nixon Trial

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Defense attorneys have indicated they will call an unidentified doctor today as their last witness in the murder trial of former policeman Dan Nixon, 34.

Nixon, on trial for the fatal shooting of his wife on Oct. 5, 1956, has testified he shot her after he learned she had been having an unnatural sex relations with another man.

The trial resumes today in Criminal District Court, Dist. Atty. Hubert Green has indicated he will seek the death penalty.

Defense Atty. James Drought said the doctor would be questioned about possible effects of an overdose of antihistamine which Nixon said he took in a suicide attempt the night before his wife was killed.

Nixon told the jury earlier that all he remembered of the shooting was "the fire coming out" of his .38 revolver.

Doctors examining the youngster found his condition good.

Trapped Cat Raises Ruckus

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP) — A policeman has been assigned to the cat-haunted home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Carta.

For 23 days now a cat has been trapped somewhere in the walls of the Cartas' new $16,000 tract home. The cat's meows — plus a flood of curious visitors, callers and helpful letters — have been taking a toll of the family's nerves.

The policeman was assigned yesterday to keep the curious passers-by from bothering the family. Mrs. Carta is an expectant mother and the doctor advises quiet.

She hasn't had much of it since the cat got trapped. Plumbers, veterinarians and X-ray men have visited the home in an attempt to locate and free the cat. All have failed.

The cat's cries are getting weaker, bringing up another problem: What to do if the cat dies somewhere in the framework? Mrs. Carta says she will move if the cat dies in the walls.

HIGH, LOW TEMPERATURES 24 HRS. APART

Minimum temperature for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. was 21 degrees. The maximum temperature for the same period was 33 degrees.

The minimum reading was at 8 a.m. Sunday.

The maximum reading for the period was at 8 a.m. Monday.

U. S. Experiment Station officials said that they did not recall an occasion when this odd relationship between the high and the low for a 24-hour period had ever occurred before.

Generally the lower reading for such an interval falls sometime between midnight and dawn and the high usually in mid-afternoon.

This time, due to the rapidly changing meteorological conditions, the high and the low fell on the same hour just 24 hours apart.

Weekend Violence Claims 29 Lives

Weekend violence claimed the lives of at least 29 persons in Texas with at least 16 traffic deaths on ice-glazed highways.

Seven persons died in two private plane crashes Friday night during rainy and foggy weather. Three persons died in fires, one was shot, another was electrocuted and one person died of poisoning.

Three persons died Sunday in the weekend's worst highway accident. Three others were injured. A car carrying seven persons from Nocona to Fort Worth for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show skidded on an icy stretch of U.S. 81 and smashed into a culvert 2 miles south of Decatur. The vehicle was trying to pass a truck when the accident occurred.

Killed were Patsy Sue Rolfs, 24; Barbara Reynolds Rolfs, 20, and Vada Shackelford, 19.

Injured were Benjamin Coe Bratcher, 43; his wife, Opal, 47; and Don Shackelford, 23.

Charles Bratcher, 14, the seventh person in the car, was not hurt.

Other late reported deaths included:

Mrs. Roger F. Quarles of Lubbock was killed in a head-on collision of two cars on icy highway U.S. 139 west of Mergersel.

Edward F. Muller, 38, of San Manuel, Ariz., was killed Sunday when the car driven by his wife skidded on ice and hit a bridge abutment near Bakersfield, Tex. His wife and four children were not hurt.

Burd Mays Lowe, 33, and wife, Byrdine Lowe, 48, died in a fire that destroyed their home at Glenfawn, southwest of Henderson, Saturday night.

Justice of the Peace George Brock ruled accidental poisoning in the death of Dorothy Evelyn James, 2, at Lake Jackson, Tex., Saturday night. A bottle of rust remover was found in the vicinity of where she was playing.

Mrs. Ethel C. Tomis, 46, Galveston, was struck by a car in Galveston Saturday night as she walked along a road on the outskirts of the city in dense fog.

Miss Alberta Verger Wehring, 38, Lake Jackson, was killed Sunday in a head-on collision in dense fog on Highway 388 near Velasco.

Francis E. Lang, 30, of McAllen, was electrocuted Sunday when a television antenna he was helping install touched a high-voltage wire.

Joe F. Biglietti, 13, of Houston was killed Sunday when his car crashed into a tree on a fog-bound road near Conroe.

Carthage And Rome Fought For Power

A living "tank" of ancient times.

By RAMON COFFMAN

The ancient Romans built up a vast empire, but several times there were serious threats from foreign foes. Among the enemies was Carthage, a land in northern Africa.

Q. When was the city of Carthage founded, and what was the race of the people?

A. The first settlement, a trading post, is believed to have been started 2,800 years ago. Sailors from Phoenicia found a good harbor. Then men and women from Tyre, the chief city of Phoenicia, went to the area to make their homes. They were members of the Semitic branch of the white race.

Carthage stood on a spot within a few miles of the present city of Tunis. It grew rapidly, and spread its rule westward to the strait of Gibraltar. It also conquered the island of Sardinia and about half of Sicily.

While Carthage was expanding its power, Rome did likewise. The Roman republic spread through Italy, also through southeastern France to Spain. Warfare broke out, and lasted 118 years. There were periods of peace, but the three main wars (known as the Punic wars) brought 43 years of fighting.

Q. Why were they called "Punic" wars?

A. The word "Punic" referred to Carthage.

Q. Was Hannibal the chief general of Carthage?

A. Yes, he became the leader of the Carthaginian forces, and led them into Italy.

Hannibal fought in the second Punic War. At the age of 25, following the death of his father, he took command of an army which marched through Spain on its way to Italy.

The army of Carthage contained about 40 thousand foot soldiers and 12 thousand cavalrymen. In addition, there were 37 war elephants. The big beasts were protected with armor, and we might describe them as "ancient tanks."

Jockeys Lead Cops On A Wild Chase

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two race track jockeys led police an 80-mile-an-hour chase that covered 30 miles last night before jumping from their sports car in downtown New Orleans and heading for a bar.

Police identified them as Michael E. Thomas, 20, Methuen, Mass., and Tommy W. Lann, 21, Boston, Mass.

Police said they used four patrol cars, a tow-wagon and several motorcycles in the chase.

The jockeys, arrested in the bar, were booked on charges of going 80 in a 35-mile-an-hour zone, running 16 stop lights, possession of a pistol, resisting arrest and investigation of narcotics.

$2 Million Fire Takes One Life, Sweeps Business Area

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—A two-million-dollar fire took the life of a policeman and destroyed seven business buildings in this historic resort yesterday.

Five firemen were injured, 25 persons were left homeless and more than 15,000 residents were warned to boil water for drinking.

Firemen poured water onto smoldering ruins throughout the night in freezing weather.

Patrolman Frederick Pettit, 30, father of three teen-agers, was killed when a wall collapsed in an explosion during the fire.

Firemen from 10 neighboring communities helped fight the fire.

Public Safety Commissioner Harry A. Burke said the entire business district of this racing and health resort might have been destroyed without that aid.

Fire officials said the blaze apparently started in the boiler room of the Palace Recreation Building basement, which also housed a bowling alley.

It swept through adjoining brick and frame structures that housed the 80-year-old Starbuck's Department Store, a Woolworth's, two drugstores, a men's shop, a shoe store and an appliance store. Another drugstore was damaged badly by water.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "stuffy" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-B-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; so a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAM, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAM's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAM's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAM is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAM neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAM exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAM, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 96c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

FAMOUS Esso Extra GASOLINE

gives extra anti-knock performance in modern engines

Modern cars, especially the 1957 models, have engines with high compression ratios.

Even at this altitude, these engines require the extra performance of Humble's famous Esso Extra gasoline.

It's the best premium gasoline you can buy... with extra anti-knock performance... extra power... extra protection against vapor lock... extra mileage... extra quick starting and warm-up.

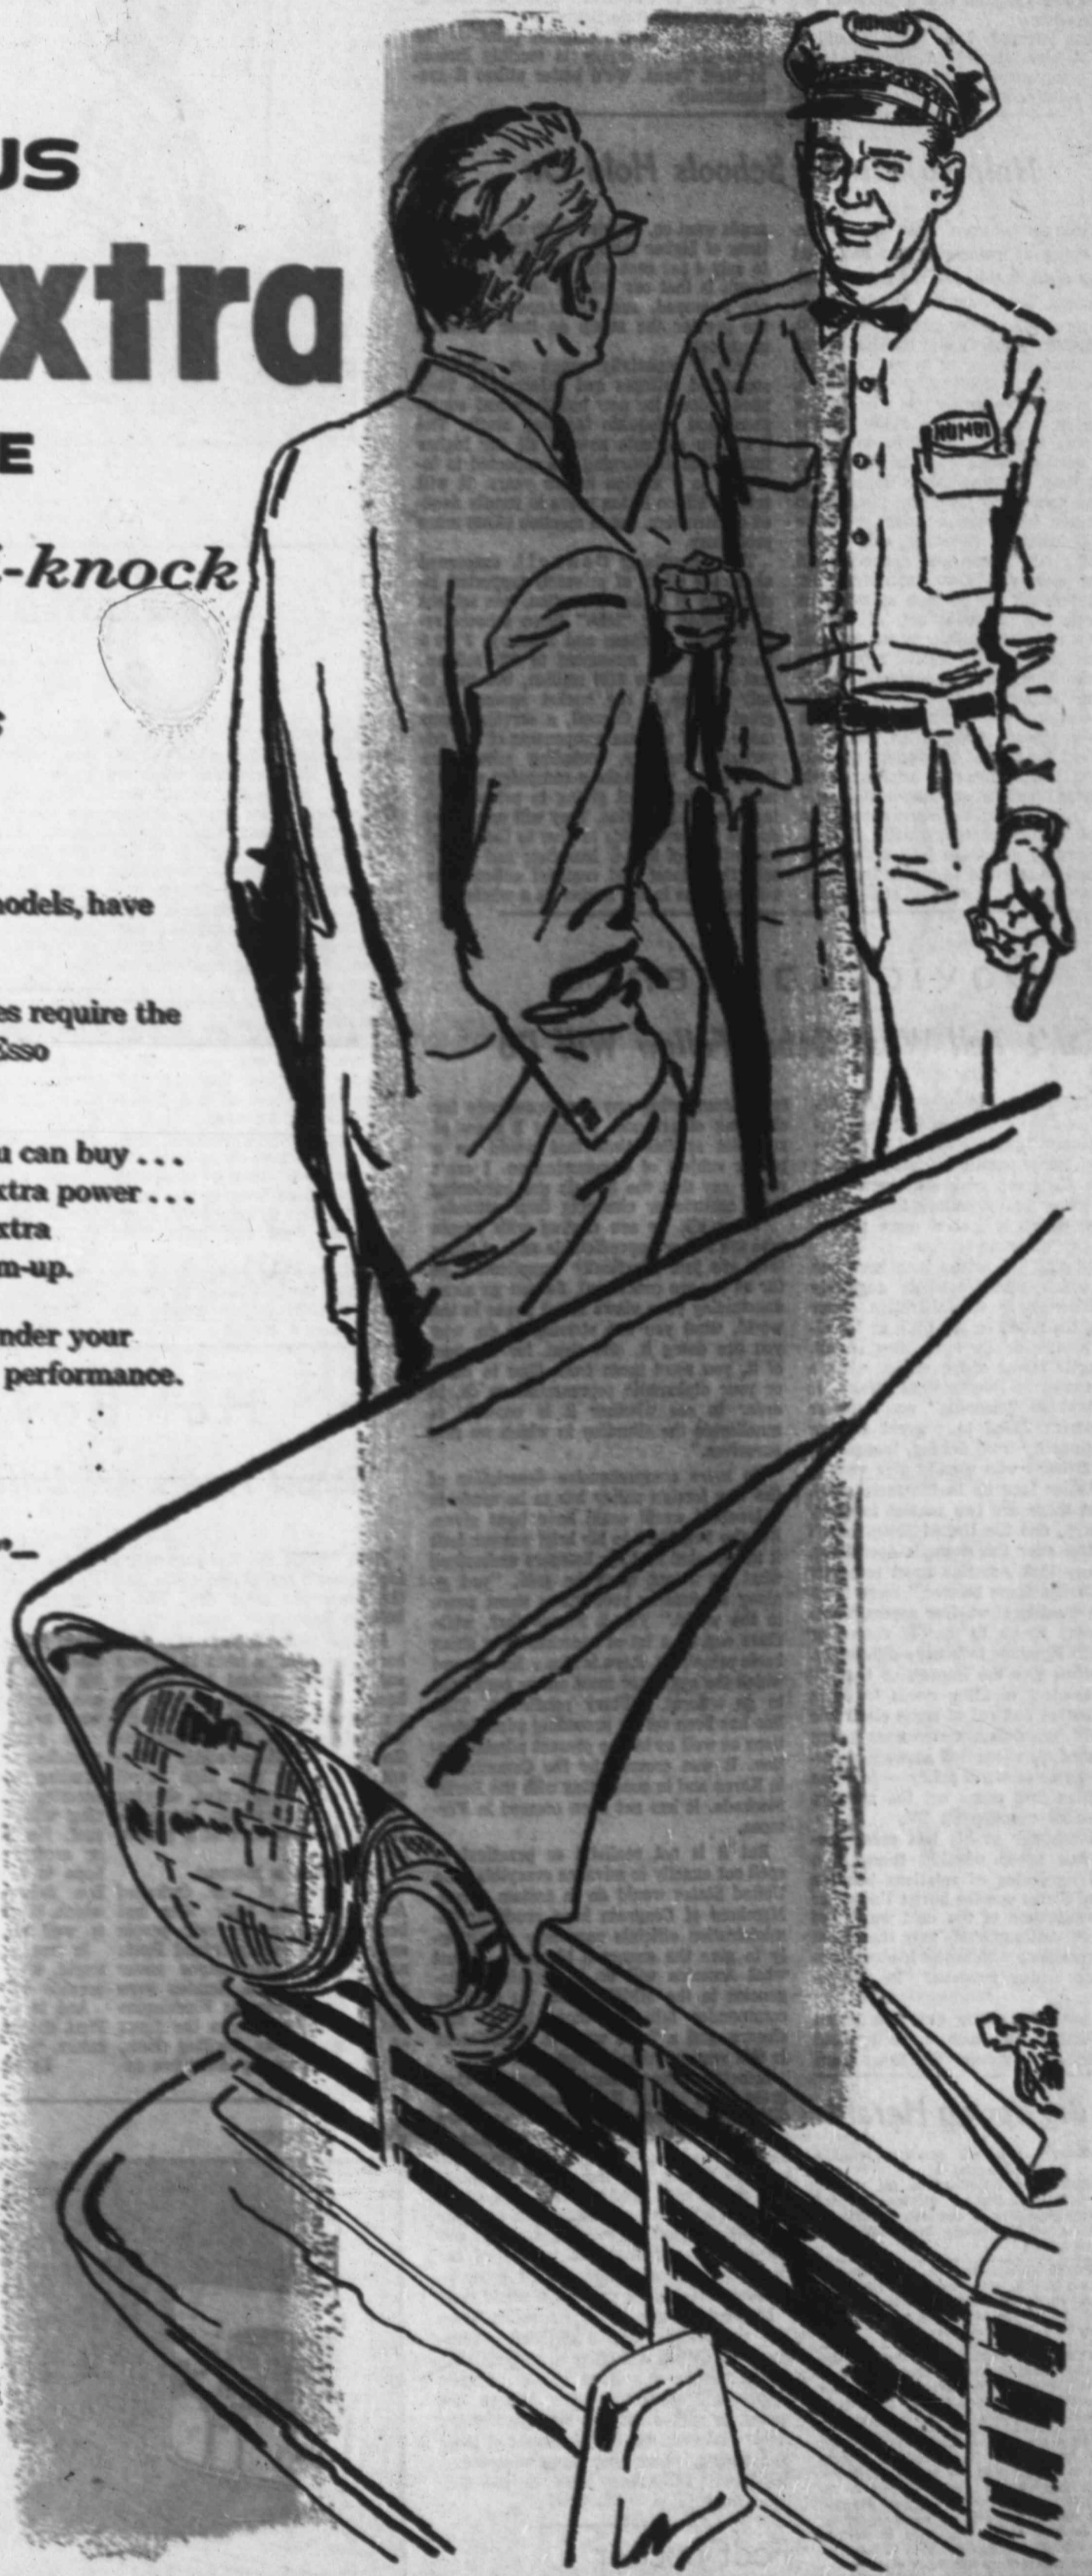

Fill up with Esso Extra gasoline under your neighbor's Humble sign — it's famous for performance.

Prevent "the knock you cannot hear"—use famous Esso Extra gasoline.

Engineers call it "trace knock," a knock so faint that untrained ears can't hear it. But like all knocks, it robs your engine of power, forecasts engine damage. If yours is a modern car in any price class, prevent "trace knock" with Humble's famous Esso Extra gasoline.

Lay Hold Of Limited Supplies

You may have noticed — and if you didn't we recommend you read it — the review of a new, realistic water inventory for Texas.

off. The contribution of flow from this sector plays little part in the downstream developments.

As was pointed out, the idea of a unified Texas water program gets a jolt from this bit of realism.

As was inferred, West Texas should be about — and should be allowed to be about — the business of trapping and holding its relatively modest amounts of runoff. But back to the original point — the point that the supply is terribly limited in West Texas. We'd better utilize it systematically.

Helping Private Schools Hold On

The margin between what Soviet Russia is doing to train engineers and what is being done in this country is continually widening.

grads went on, or tried to go on, to institutions of higher learning in 1953 compared to only 4 per cent who did so in 1950.

This is especially rough on privately-supported colleges and universities. They need money for new buildings and equipment and adequate teaching staffs.

The Advertising Council, concerned about the plight of privately-supported institutions of higher education, has set out to increase the "take" these schools receive from business and industry.

No one answer would do that. In the first place, there is sharp testimony that our public school system is not producing a sufficient number of youngsters capable of getting into engineering schools.

Nevertheless, 30 per cent of high school graduates went on, or tried to go on, to institutions of higher learning in 1953 compared to only 4 per cent who did so in 1950.

Can't Tell What Other Fellow Will Do

WASHINGTON — When President Eisenhower said the other day that the Russian rulers are "unpredictable," he disappointed a lot of captious and carping critics in Congress and elsewhere who talk as if they really believe the making of foreign policy is just a mere matter of advance "planning."

not contemplating any correspondence for changing of attitude, because I know of no point at this time that would be a proper subject of communication. I can't really say that the Soviets are hardening their attitude or changing their attitude.

A whole cult has arisen both here and abroad which takes potshots regularly at the Eisenhower administration either for doing too much or too little or for allegedly having no foreign policy at all.

"After all, we are dealing with people who are rather unpredictable and, at times they are just practically inexplicable, so far as we are concerned. So you go along announcing your views about peace in the world, what you are striving to do, why you are doing it, and then, for the rest of it, you meet them from time to time, or your diplomatic representatives do, in order to see whether it is possible to ameliorate the situation in which we find ourselves."

The critics give the impression that all the Department of State needs to do is press a button and out of some electronic device will flow different answers in certain categories of world policy — just like the machine that pours out the answers to the $64,000 question on TV.

No more comprehensive description of the way foreign policy has to be made in a troubled world could have been given. But the President in his brief answer took it for granted that his listeners understood what he meant when he said, "you go along announcing your views about peace in the world."

Mr. Eisenhower at his last press conference was asked whether there is a "marked hardening of relations between the United States and the Soviet Union" or an "intensification of the cold war" and whether he contemplated "any discussion or correspondence with Soviet leaders looking toward easing tensions." To this he replied:

But it is not realistic or practical to spell out exactly in advance everything the United States would do in certain crises. Members of Congress keep prodding administration officials nowadays unwittingly to give the enemy a blueprint of just what America will do in certain contingencies in the Middle East.

Out Of The Arabian Nights

WASHINGTON — Nothing illustrates better the mixed-up condition of the world than the plane load of 50 people flying here Wednesday.

around, looking for water and food for themselves and their herds.

In the war against communism this country has had strange bedfellows. None is stranger than King Saud of Saudi Arabia, heading his party of 30.

He doesn't have to travel by camel. He has at least one air-conditioned airplane and a fleet of Cadillacs.

King Saud is absolute monarch. His seven million people — 90 per cent illiterate — know no law except his wishes and that of their religious teachings.

His income is 300 million dollars a year, his share of the profits from the oil which the Arabian-American Oil Co. (Aramco) takes out of the earth of Saudi Arabia.

President Eisenhower will meet him at the airport. King Saud will get the red carpet treatment while he's here because this country is anxious to keep him friendly to the West and away from Russia.

Four American companies make up Aramco. They produce around a million barrels a day. The oil reserves of Saudi Arabia, one of the richest storehouses in the world, have been placed at 30 to 35 billion barrels.

But Russia and communism are just about the last things he wants. The majority of his people are homeless nomads, wandering base at Dhahran at a cost of at least 50 million dollars. By agreement ran out last June.

School Papers Are Different Now

NEW YORK — The teen-ager's high school newspaper came into the house the other day, like a bulletin from outer space.

"A dictator" was a dusty word in the pages of ancient history. Few people had even heard of "genocide."

Foreign news on page one. They have "adopted" a town in Greece and a Greek student had written back. A competent report described developments in a constitutional question.

The atom? Intercontinental missiles? Buck Rogers stuff. Oh, sure, there were bombs, but not very big ones. Besides, how could any one bomb America? The oceans were much too wide.

Think back a moment. No shadow of war darkened America in the 1920s. War had been locked away securely, people said, by the Kellogg-Briand Pact.

On another front, the future stretched ahead into reaches of dazzling promise. Business was booming. The stock market, running wild, was going through the roof.

Around The Rim

Shattering Some Old Beliefs

It's almost as popular a pastime these days to debunk something as it was to theorize a hundred years ago.

Time, was when the old Indians were quoted from that the country faced a hard winter if the fish swam lower in the pond.

Along the same line of thought, another ancient belief was that the temperatures were doomed to stay frigid if a certain kind of caterpillar began wearing a dark coat.

Now comes a doctor in England who says that the theory about eating three squares a day, going to bed on time and getting plenty of exercise, fresh air and sunshine in order to improve your health is for the birds.

You probably are going to a lot of unnecessary trouble to pursue such habits, unless you are a faddist and like such things. So insists Dr. John W. Todd, a Surrey physician.

Your body will let you know if you are not living properly, he points out. Old wives' tales, he believes, have become a rigid medical fad which is fit only for old wives.

The popular theory in eating is that one should consume three leisurely meals a day, avoiding highly seasoned or fried foods.

Tommy-rot, cries Dr. Todd, unless you are a party with a highly sensitive stomach. Neither is there anything gained by eating excessively of those foods that are regarded as valuable, such as fruits and vegetables.

A lot of people who never get any exercise other than winding their watches or raising a window insist they feel as good as those who make a religion of athletics, according to the doctor.

As for fresh air, Dr. Todd says there is little evidence that the staff helps in preventing certain ailments or that it encourages recovery from TB or other diseases.

If you lose more sleep than you're accustomed to, says the Englishman, you may complain about it but there is no evidence that you will suffer ill effects. Unless you doze at the wheel of an automobile, he might have added.

There are a lot of conflicting ideas on sunshine. The people up north insist it's good for you. Those down south scorn it with a passion and insist it will hurt you. Both are wrong, Dr. Todd states. Unless you are deficient in vitamin D, there is no health benefit for you.

Healthy living? Outside of taking steps to avoid particular diseases, there isn't such a thing. So insists Dr. Todd.

Colorful Figures In Eastbourne Case

EASTBOURNE, England — Mystery writers the world around are sharpening pencils and putting new ribbons in typewriters. In a matter of months, the fictional murder market will be glutted with dozens of lethal cliff-hangers based on the decorous, if deadly, hearing now going forward in an Eastbourne courtroom painted in pretty boudoir pastels.

On the other hand, the doctor seldom looks at his nemesis. He is too busy writing out all the testimony in long hand. He uses two gold-capped pens, one with red and one with black ink. His small, fat, soft white hand flies over the cream-colored writing paper.

But the novelists and playwrights, no matter how active their thyroid, will never create two protagonists as classic as Dr. John Bodkin Adams, 57, charged with "wilful murder" of at least one elderly patient, and the man who has brought him to book, Detective-Superintendent Herbert Hannam of Scotland Yard. Each is the antithesis of the other.

Superintendent Hannam entered this extraordinary case when Eastbourne police could no longer ignore the whispers that rose to a gale over the "mysterious" deaths of so many of Dr. Adams' elderly patients who kindly remembered him in their wills. Eastbourne asked the help of Scotland Yard, which responded with Hannam, called — to his back — "The Count."

In the United States, Superintendent Hannam would be recognized instantly as the epitome of "The Man of Distinction," cum laude, and simultaneously elevated to the list of 10 best-dressed men. The detective is easily the most distinguished looking man in the courtroom, despite the tall, dark and handsome elegance of Malcolm Morris, appearing for the Crown (i.e., the prosecution).

The detective-superintendent — and millions of mystery fans will soon be meeting his prototype in endless print — began his spectacular rise in Scotland Yard after World War II. At the time of the coronation of Elizabeth II, Superintendent Hannam was still a relatively unknown member of the Yard. When two young girls were brutally murdered on the eve of the coronation, all of the top figures of the Yard were too busy engaged with Her Majesty's protection to deal with the crime.

Because King Saud never had it so good, with American money, he should be one Arab this country can deal with reasonably at a time when it is trying to persuade the Arab world to be reasonable.

Superintendent Hannam is lean and hard physically, with not a spare ounce of flesh on his six-foot frame, while his quarry in the dock is a pudgy, bubbly little man flabby from good living and, I would judge, lack of exercise. The doctor, huddled day by day in a heavy overcoat, looks rather like a sack of potatoes as opposed to Hannam's ramrod appearance.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP) — A pound the pulse of its economy and found it disagreeably sluggish. No new industry had moved into the town for 12 years.

So when Eastbourne asked for help, Scotland Yard did not send a boy to do a man's work.

Town's Economy Gets Help Of Industry Expert

YORK took its problems to a tall, personable engineer named Leonard Yaseen, whose job until then had been to locate suitable factory sites for manufacturers — not to tell communities why they happened to be industrial wastelands.

Protests Against Tito's Visit

WASHINGTON — The impending visit to Yugoslavia some time during April of Yugoslav's Marshal Tito has produced a roar of protest both in public and in private such as the Eisenhower Administration has rarely encountered.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who is now on his way to America.

An invitation to Tito was extended some months ago. Since then there have been lengthy exchanges on a date. If no agreement can be reached, in view of President Eisenhower's crowded schedule, then the visit may not come off. At his press conference, the President, when asked about Tito and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, replied that consideration was being given in several state visits although he could say nothing about timing.

The King is an absolute monarch and he has forbidden any American of Jewish origin to work at the American air base at Dhahran, which is one reason for the strong Jewish opposition to his state visit. But the State Department believes the visit is important to help hold Arab friends in the Middle East.

But with the mounting pressure to withdraw the invitation, it would look as though the State Department had surrendered. It is fully realized within the department that this would be a severe setback to the long-range policy of detaching the satellite states from the control of Moscow. The gloating that would be done on the Soviet radio can readily be imagined, with the fate of Tito, abandoned by both Washington and Moscow, held up to the other satellites.

Strong protests against the Tito visit have come from various members of Congress. Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, majority whip of the House, has intimated that he will try to block any foreign aid if Tito comes to America as a state guest.

That was in 1951. Since then York, founded in 1743, has grown more, more, with today's population estimated around 64,000.

In the hottest phase of the political campaign last fall, President Eisenhower, on Dulles' recommendation, resisted similar pressure when he found that Yugoslavia was entitled to American aid. Congress had approved assistance for the Yugoslavs on condition that the President reach a public determination that Tito was not under the domination of Moscow.

Yaseen, 44, is president of the Fantus Factory Locating Service, oldest and biggest firm of plant location consultants in the United States. The York experience gave him an idea. In 1955, he formed a special company whose function could loosely be described as rendering psychiatric aid to communities frustrated in their search for new industry.

It would have been politically expedient in mid-October to have ruled against Yugoslavia, but Dulles with the President's approval had determined to try to keep the conduct of foreign policy out of politics.

Behind nities in their search for new industry. The southeast, southwest, California and to a lesser degree, the other Pacific Coast states have enjoyed the greatest influx of industry in the past five years. But Yaseen is convinced that virtually every area and town has something to offer that makes it particularly suitable for a special kind of business.

Tito paid a state visit to London and was given a banquet at Buckingham Palace by Queen Elizabeth. The security measures taken by Scotland Yard were more extreme than Londoners had ever seen. Similarly, when he visited Paris last year, the security police cordoned off large sections of Paris to insure his safety.

In the view of State Department policymakers, from this first crack in the monolith came the revolutionary events of the past six months that have shaken the Communist empire to its foundations. And in the view of one of the best informed officials in the government, the Hungarian revolt was the greatest blow struck for freedom since the American Revolution.

If and when he comes to America, security will be a serious problem. But before that the Administration must stand up to a political storm threatening to blow with increasing force.

Go Easy On Make-Up, Advice To Teen-Agers

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — I've known Charlotte Austin since she was a teen-ager and when I visited with her the other day at Columbia studios I realized how subtly she had developed into a charming young woman.

In her dressing room we chatted about the first time we'd met. "I was at the age when I was using make-up for the first time and I really looked-up my face," Charlotte laughed.

"Teen-agers sometimes have to get that make-up routine out of their systems," I remarked. "What made you change?"

"I think it was something a boy said, anyway I remember looking at myself in a mirror one day and thinking, 'This is ridiculous!'"

And now, Charlotte added, "I don't use any make-up at all — not even powder. I think make-up is hard to wear. You lose the contour of your face and a great deal of individuality by not knowing how to apply it. I complimented Charlotte on her neat, trim figure and asked if she had lost weight recently.

"No," she replied. "Black always makes me look smaller. In this picture I wear the costume I have on now. (She is working on Columbia's latest production, 'The Man Who Turned to Stone.') It hasn't always been easy being slim."

"My mother is Italian and she is a sensational cook. When I lived at home it was difficult not to gain with all that fattening food around. I have no trouble with weight, now that I am living in my own apartment, because I am not tempted."

JUNIOR MISS TECHNIQUE Because of the many requests for information on grace, posture, hair-care and make-up, we are happy to offer Leaflet M-7, "Junior Miss Technique."

Titled Swim Champ Favors French Gloves

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor This is the story of an American girl who fell in love with a French glove.

She is the Comtesse de Morelos, the former Brenda Helser of San Francisco and Philadelphia, champion American swimmer from 1933 to 1950. She held the American record for 100 meters free-style swimming for 11 years, and was a national champion at 11.

The slender, dark-eyed Brenda met the Comte de Morelos while touring Europe after the 1948 Olympic Games in London, married him in 1949, and has been living in France ever since.

"I guess it's natural that I should love everything French," says Brenda. "My family was thrown out of France with the Huguenots in 1685, and settled in New York. My great-great grandfather was James Herring, a safe manufacturer, who gave Longacre Square to New York City. But I think we've all retained a pride in our French heritage."

The Comtesse de Morelos was appointed by the French glove industry recently as a sort of traveling ambassador to point out the virtues of French gloves to Americans.

"Since this is one of my pet subjects, I have no trouble talking about French gloves," says Brenda. "I've watched the gloves being made every step of the way, and I know why they're so good. In the first place the moist climate of France makes better skins. Then the French have developed the skill of glove-making for generations. They never hurry the process and each worker takes as much pride in his handiwork as he would in a piece of great art."

Brenda has been appearing at fashion shows and in stores around the country, showing the newest fashions in French gloves, explaining how they are made and — of course — wearing them herself.

When she goes back to Paris she is going to take along a trunk full of the dresses worn by her American grandmother, and present them to the Louvre.

"Grandmother loved France just as much as I do, I guess," says Brenda. "She bought all her clothes from Worth 100 years ago, and crossed the ocean 36 times."

Silver Mark Of Gracious Entertaining

Silver for Valentine's Day has become a modern tradition for the woman who wants to "live in beauty" all year 'round.

The Jewelry Industry Council reports that two trends have helped to bring this about. First, the revived popularity of silver holloware in modern living and, secondly, the growing emphasis on Valentine remembrances which last a lifetime.

But whatever the reason, the beautiful, versatile, long-wearing silver bowls, trays and other table and living accessories have achieved a special significance all their own for Valentine's Day, Albert E. Haase, council president reports.

The growing trend to "gracious" living and beauty in everyday life, has brought new importance to silver table accessories, he said. Smart homemakers have discovered that silver gives a "party air" to the simplest meal.

The simplicity of modern holloware design makes its use varied and its upkeep simple, the Council head pointed out. Many favorite pieces can lead a double life. A silver gray boat can also serve mayonnaise or other dressing. A silver covered serving dish can do double duty as two dishes, or can provide a beautiful centerpiece for fruit and flowers. Silver bread and butter dishes can double as ash trays and a complete dish can serve nuts or candy gracefully.

Table accessories include bowls of all sizes, trays and servers and plates. But there is also a large group of silver "accessories" that provide a touch of elegance and beauty to any living room, according to Mr. Haase. Ash trays, picture frame, candelabra, bon-bon dishes, bowls and coasters help to make everyday living graceful and elegant.

The Council executive said that good silverware deserves everyday appreciation and use. Frequent soap and water washing, plus a brief flick of a polishing cloth will keep it bright and shining between regular cleanings.

The Council agrees that good silver shouldn't be hoarded, and a Valentine wish expressed in silver deserves use and appreciation every day of the year.

Forecast For Men's New Spring Styles

NEW YORK — Clothing designers will take a big weight off the American man's shoulders this coming season, for advance spring showings of men's clothes stress lightness and more lightness — light weight, light construction, light colors as compared to the somber tones of past seasons, plus a light slim silhouette without bulk.

This trend to lightness importantly includes sports coats and slacks in the spring casual wear picture. Finely tailored jackets in silk and wool blends, special blends of miracle fibers, blazer fabrics, cotton and silk, raw silk and alpaca and wool give the American man's "leisure time uniform" new warmth, importance and comfort.

The attention given to lightening casual tailored clothes is growing proof of the "dressiness" trend that has taken over the sports-wear picture. Men have shown they want to look neat and smart as well as comfortable and the designers are out to help them succeed.

Another important development in the new, spring clothing is the growing trend to "year around" suiting weights. Manufacturers have developed a 10 ounce-fabric especially woven to give the warmth of wool but providing the lightness and porousness needed to make it comfortable on all but very hot days.

A brand new clothing idea is known as the "matchmaker" and features a suit with jacket and trousers made of custom woven fabric of the same overall background shade, but with the jacket featuring an additional stripe or plaid pattern on the background. The contrast is a subtle one and makes for an extremely "dressy" casual wear outfit, or an unusual and attractive business suit for the man who wants something different.

The Ivy League trend will continue strong this spring. The slim natural shoulder, three button jacket and tapered trousers that characterize Ivy League have been a major style movement all across the country, retail checks show.

dacron and worsted will again lead consumer demand, say the designers, because of its special wearing and crease resistant qualities.

Wash and wear suits will be more important than ever this coming season. Special new blends and weaves have produced suiting fabrics that have the texture and appearance of conventional suitings but which go through the laundry like a right shirt. A new cotton and dacron, designed to look like fine worsted, has little weight and can be washed and drip-dried over night.

One manufacturer will promote his finely tailored wash and wear suits with their own special hangers to help the woman of the house shape and hang the suit properly when it is dripping wet. A blend of dacron and linen, with all the expensive look of high linen without any of its wrinkling or cleaning problems, bids well to be the "suit of the year," according to advanced reports.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

HCJC was lucky to get its last order of cinders for its track. The company which supplies them told local officials it was six months behind on its orders.

When Odessa officials heard that Southern California was sending its track and field team to Big Spring, the news surprised most everyone around the Lone Star State.

They decided against contacting Coach Jess Mortensen of SC, however, for the reason that the Odessa meet will be run as a true relay, whereas SC specializes in field events.

Every Trojan field star, with the possible exception of javelin throwers, will be permitted to show his wares here.

Balling and Plainview are among the latest high school entries in the high school division of the local show. Neither completed here last year, although Plainview has been entered in the past.

Milton Gillespie, who used to play basketball for Larry McCulloch at Odessa Junior College and who is now a student at the University of Houston, will marry a sister to Ken Wineburg, the TCU halfback, this summer.

Milton is a brother to Charles Gillespie, the Lubbock scribe.

Eddie Long, who operates a gym here, says he never again will take on the job of trying to ready a boxing team for a Golden Gloves tournament. Too many broken promises.

All HCJC exams came through mid-term examinations successfully. There was one or two borderline cases (and their trouble was mainly due to classes they had missed) but everyone is eligible for the West Zone race just ahead.

Of all the Jayhawk players, Mike Powell of Coleman is the best student. He generally makes A's in his studies.

Everett Robinson, who managed the Midland Indians of the Southwestern league for about half a season, will boss the Crowley club of the Evangeline league this year. He now is employed by the Kansas City Athletics.

Walter Spiller, who went from basketball stardom at Odessa High School to Odessa JC, has rejoined the Wranglers and will be eligible to play by the time the Odessians play HCJC Feb. 5. Spiller has been in the Marine Corps.

Wayne (Red) Smith, present manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, was once an end on the Southeastern Oklahoma college football team at Durant, Okla.

Ring television fans who have been wondering how Harold Carter would fare in the ring against Floyd Patterson, the Heavyweight champion, might have forgotten that Patterson kayoted Carter in the 175-pound class to win a berth on the United States Olympic team in 1952.

Both scrappers, of course, have come a long way since that time.

Members of the Big Spring High School basketball team will see the SMU-Texas Tech game in Lubbock the night of Feb. 9, thanks to the Big Spring Quarterback Club.

Betsy Rawls Low In $5,000 Meet

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP)—Steady as the went, Betsy Rawls beat last year's one-stroke deficit on the last nine of 54 holes and won the $5,000 Lake Worth Open yesterday on a dazzling string of birdies and pars.

It was Betsy's second victory of the women's professional golfers' tournament tour and netted her $380. The Spartanburg, S. C., competitor took the Tampa Open last week.

Miss Rawls' one-under-par 21 of 69 at Lake Worth gave her a 32, four strokes better than the 54-hole card turned in by Fay Crocker, who emerged as her top rival on the final 18 holes. Miss Crocker went out in 34, one under par, for a lead of two strokes.

ABC Relays Entry Winner Of Two-Mile In 9:02.6

John Macy, a native of Poland and an entry in the 12th annual American Business Club Relays here March 15-16, set a meet record in the two-mile run of the Washington Star Games in Washington, D. C., Saturday night when he covered the distance in 9:02.6.

In racing to victory, the University of Houston student out-distanced such stars as Horace Ashenfelter, New York AC veteran; and Laszlo Tabori, the Hungarian refugee.

Ashenfelter finished in second place, some 25 yards back of Macy.

Tabori led through the first five laps of the race but was third when he dropped out just short of 1 1/2 miles. He complained of an upset stomach.

Spectacular Shot Sends Souchak Into Playoff

By BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—There were 273 strokes to a golf ball that brought on a playoff to day between Jimmy Demaret, Ken Venturi and Mike Souchak for the $2,000 top money in the Thunderbird Invitational Tournament.

But the most spectacular stroke of them all was the last one Souchak hit on the 18th green in the windup round.

It traveled 40 precious feet up the green and straight into the hole. It gave Souchak a 67, a 72-hole total of 273 and forced a three-way playoff with Demaret and Venturi, the 25-year-old ex-amateur star from San Francisco.

The playoff will be 18 holes, a sudden death duel to break any tie. Thunderbird's par is 36-35-71.

Three years ago Souchak, 29-year-old ex-Duke University football player, engaged in a playoff here with Shelly Mayfield and Mike finished the 18 all even, and Freddie Haas Jr., Mayfield and then Mayfield beat Souchak on the 20th hole. Demaret had surged into a tie for the lead en route toward the 18th. He overshoot the last green, but he recovered to get his par 4 and a 67 for the day.

On came Souchak, Venturi and Julius Boros, the latter by then out of contention.

He got on the last green nicely and putted up some three feet from the cup. It was fairly sure he'd sink the putt and tie Demaret.

Souchak, however, had to make a birdie with his 40-foot putt.

He did it and he, the crowd, and the onlooking Demaret, if not Venturi, went wild.

Mike threw his club and his cap in the air. He rushed over and went into a hugging match with Demaret, who seemed as delighted as Souchak over the putt. Souchak buried his head on Jimmy's shoulder. He said, just loud enough to be overheard, "Jimmy, I didn't make that putt. The Lord did."

He lifted his head. Tears were streaming down his face. Venturi got his putt for a 69 and cracked. "I've seen it all," Cary Middlecoff had a 70 for 271 and 653, and tied at 275 were Boros and Dick Mayer, whose 66 was one of the low scores of the day.

Art Wall Jr., co-leader with Venturi starting out, had trouble with a tree on the 12th and finished with a 72 for 276.

Texas finishing in the money included: Billy Maxwell, Odessa, 277-337-50; Fred Hawkins, El Paso, 283-312-50; Bo Winger, Odessa, 284-317-50; and Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Tex., 288-3137-50.

Bucks Exhibit Championship Class in Loop

By ED CORRIGAN

While the main contenders in the Big Ten basketball race have been keeping tabs on each other, "have-not" Ohio State has shot to the front and shows no signs of letting up.

The Buckeyes, with a 6-0 league record (11-3 overall), go after No. 7 tonight against Michigan State. Before the season got under way, the Buckeyes were written off. They had a poor freshman team last season and lost the talents of scoring ace Robin Freeman by graduation.

But the club has demonstrated it doesn't buckle under pressure. Last Saturday, the Buckeyes licked Northwestern, 63-73, after permitting the Wildcats to tie it at 65-65 with eight minutes remaining.

Illinois, Purdue and Michigan (all 3-1) are tied for second place and after the week's action one of them should have undisputed possession of the spot. The Hill, No. 9 in the Associated Press poll, greets the Buckeyes' biggest threats. They meet twice, Feb. 4 and Feb. 25.

Meanwhile, North Carolina (15-0) and Kansas (12-1), the big boys of the nation, get back into action. The top-ranked Tarheels have what appears to be an easy assignment against Western Carolina (12-0) Wednesday.

Kansas, however, comes face to face Saturday with nemesis Iowa State, the team that has brewed the secret recipe to stop Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain. Iowa State will warm up to the task tonight against Oklahoma.

Here is a quick rundown on the other conferences: Atlantic Coast — North Carolina's game against Western Carolina this week will serve as a warmup for meetings with rugged Maryland (6-2) and Duke (4-1) next week.

Pacific Coast — UCLA (4-0) plays two important games with Oregon State (2-4) this week. California (6-0) is idle.

Ivy League — Princeton (5-0) still the class of the league. Southwest — SMU (4-1) leading but can't afford to relax with Rice and Baylor (both 4-2) hot on the trail.

Southern — The undefeated leader West Virginia (6-0) plays only one game this week, Virginia Tech (5-3) tomorrow night.

Southeastern — Three-way tie for the lead among Kentucky, Auburn and Tulane (all 4-1). Kentucky has a game tonight with Georgia Tech (3-3) while Auburn plays Florida (3-1).

Missouri Valley — First place Bradley (6-0) is not scheduled, but St. Louis (4-1) has an important game with Oklahoma A&M (1-3) tomorrow night.

Rocky Mountain — Idaho State (4-0) is getting stronger as the season progresses. Skyline — Brigham Young (4-1) should tighten its hold on first place against Denver (2-3) Saturday.

Downs, Kermit Decker and Norman Hooton of the Longhorns stand 1-2-3 in field goal percentages in conference competition, while Decker ranks first at the free throw line with an .867 mark in league play.

As a team, the Longhorns currently ranked third in nation in field goal accuracy, just back of Manhattan (468) and Niagara (465) with a .458 mark. Texas' full-season mark of .729 at the free throw line is good for eleventh place in the national standings.

Kenneth Cleveland, runner-up to Downs in season scoring, and John Shaffer, who ranks as Texas' most improved player, are not placed among the nation leaders because their attempts are under the minimum established by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Cleveland has sunk 34 of 38 free throws for an exceptional .895 mark, while Shaffer has sunk 36 of 63 field goal attempts for a .571 mark.

Statistics reflect the Longhorns' chief weaknesses — rebounding and defense. Only Downs ranks among the league's ten leaders in rebounding.

It may be significant that Jimmy Viramontes' freshmen cagers show strength in both of these departments. The Shorthorns' shooting percentages are quite impressive, but the chief factors in their 4-2 won-and-lost record thus far are that they have out-rebounded the opposition 18 per game and have almost a 10-point edge in scoring, having limited the foes to 65.0 while scoring at the rate of 74.8. The varsity has averaged 75.5 and given up 72.1 in posting a 9-6 full-season record.

The leaders: Lucas, Abilene, 76; Loudermilk, Big Spring, 66; Cooper, Midland, 66; Gregory, Odessa, 66; Hays, San Angelo, 66; Thorpe, Odessa, 56; Knight, Odessa, 56; Scheidhorn, Odessa, 56; Hays, San Angelo, 46; Lane, San Angelo, 46; Lovelady, Big Spring, 46; Evans, Big Spring, 46; McIlreath, Big Spring, 46; Hays, San Angelo, 46; Wartick, Abilene, 46; Marshall, San Angelo, 46; Fisher, Midland, 46; Wright, Midland, 46; English, San Angelo, 46; Galbraith, Abilene, 46; Cleary, Midland, 46; Anderson, Big Spring, 46; Hays, San Angelo, 46; Dehlinger, Abilene, 46; Classett, San Angelo, 46; McCook, Abilene, 46; Tennis, San Angelo, 46; Roney, Midland, 46.

The Texas Western Miners have good reason to expect to complete their sweep of Border Conference basketball opposition Monday night.

The intended victims of the Miners are the Sun Devils of Arizona State at Tempe, who haven't managed to beat either of the other conference foes this season. The El Paso, Tex., quintet has beaten all four other teams in the conference and appear headed for the league championship.

The teams clash Monday night at El Paso in the first of two meetings. They play again at Tempe in one of three conference games Saturday night. Hardin-Simmons plays West Texas at Canyon, Tex., and New Mexico A&M visits Arizona at Tucson in other games.

The only other conference activity this week matches the Sun Devils and the Aggies at Las Cruces, N.M., Tuesday night.

In non-conference games, Arizona visits Arizona State at Flagstaff tonight and Hardin-Simmons entertains North Texas at Abilene, Tex., Thursday.

The Sun Devils last week snapped a five-game losing streak with an 85-80 victory over the University of California at Santa Barbara. Arizona also edged the California team, 72-67.

Eight Tourneys Set This Week

FORT WORTH (AP)—Eight more Texas regional Golden Gloves centers open tournaments this week in the next-to-last week of qualifying for the state meet here Feb. 12-16.

Dallas and Wichita Falls, which began their regional programs last week, will wind up on tonight and Wednesday, respectively.

Galveston opens its two-night tournament tonight. Amarillo begins tomorrow and will continue through Saturday, taking Thursday night off.

El Paso launches a five-night tournament Wednesday. Then on Thursday, Tyler, Odessa and Waco regionals will swing into action. Waco will conclude its meet Tuesday week and Tyler and Odessa close the previous night.

Abilene and Greenville, each extending for three nights, start boxing Friday.

This leaves only Austin, Beaumont, Brownwood, Fort Worth and Hartlingen tournaments on the schedule. They will start next week.

Open class winners in each of the regional meets are eligible to compete in the state tournament here.

The Southwest Conference basketball championship race could show four teams tied for first place this week ends—but it isn't considered likely.

Baylor beat Texas Christian 70-64 in the only conference game last week to tie with Rice for second with four victories and two losses each. Southern Methodist leads with four victories and one loss. Arkansas is fourth with a 2-3 mark.

If Arkansas can win both its title games this week, the Razorbacks will have a 4-2 record. The Porkers meet Texas Christian at Fayetteville Tuesday, then journey to Dallas to try Southern Methodist.

Neither Rice nor Baylor plays a conference tilt this week. If Arkansas beats both TCU and SMU, it will leave Rice, Baylor, SMU and Arkansas tied at the top with 4-2 records.

Arkansas is followed in the conference standings by Texas, 2-3, TCU, 1-3 and Texas A&M, 0-4.

Southern Methodist still holds the season lead with a 14-2 record, followed by Rice with 12-6. Kansas State trimmed Arkansas 70-56 in last week's only other game.

This week the Porkers meet the Horned Frogs at Fayetteville Monday. Wednesday Baylor tries Texas Tech at Lubbock in a non-conference affair. Saturday SMU hosts Arkansas. TCU tries Texas A&M at Fort Worth and Texas goes to Oklahoma to meet the Sooners.

Big Jim Krebs of SMU, despite the playoff last week, kept his individual scoring lead in both season and conference standings. Krebs led in season play with 390, followed by Ray Downs of Texas with 394. Tom Kelly of Baylor, who dropped in 28 points against TCU, jumped from eighth to sixth with a season total of 249.

Krebs kept his conference lead with 115 points, followed by Jerry Mallett of Baylor with 112. Dick O'Neal of TCU moved back into the standings with a total of 80 points, ousting Terry Day of Arkansas. Kelly vaulted from tenth to fifth with 21 points.

Southern Methodist clung to its team scoring lead in all games with 1,351. Texas continued to lead the conference scorers with 370.

SMU, despite its loss to lowly Texas two weeks ago, was still favored to take its third straight conference championship.

But with the Mustangs' conference victory streak broken at 20 games, the rest of the teams took new heart and a four-way scramble for the crown was a definite possibility.

Ann Quast Wins Doherty Tournament in Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Gay-spirited Ann Quast, 19, overcame a 3-hole deficit, forced unprecedented overtime play, and won the Helen Lee Doherty women's amateur crown yesterday for Joanne Goodwin.

Miss Quast, from Marysville, Wash., was 3 down with 6 to go in the 36-hole finals. Par shooting on the 31st and 34th holes shrank her 29-year-old Dartmouth, Mass., rival's advantage to 1-up, and then the West Coast girl birdied the par 5 36th. Miss Goodwin's 10-foot putt reached the cup's rim but failed to drop, and she took a 5.

More putter trouble for Miss Goodwin developed on the 57th and they halved that hole. On the 38th, Miss Quast had a 1-stroke advantage when a Goodwin putt stopped a foot short of the cup. The Bay Stater conceded.

The struggle that had gone all-even at the end of the first 18 holes as well as at the 36th. In the morning round, both shot 76, 2 under women's par on the 6,048-yard Coral Ridge Country Club course.

LAMESA — The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, victorious in three of four district 3-A basketball contests, have the lightest week of the season facing them, insofar as the number of games go.

Friday night they will stage the final road game of their quest for the district title when they journey to Colorado City.

However, should the Tornadoes defeat the Snyder Tigers here on Feb. 8, and win all the rest of their schedule, they could find themselves involved in a playoff to determine the district title.

Also to be honored are heavy-weight champion, Floyd Patterson, New York Yankee outfielder, Mickey Mantle, Brooklyn pitcher, Sal Maglie, Olympic 800-meter champ Tom Courtney, halfback Frank Gifford of the championship New York Football Giants and Husing, a veteran sportsstar.

The Judges Didn't Agree With Sime

Dave Sime, of Duke, at left, claimed he was the winner of the 50-yard sprint in the Inquirer Games in Philadelphia, Pa., charging the tape was pushed down and broken by Ira Murchison, at right, using his hands. The judges gave the decision to Murchison despite the protests by Sime. (AP Wirephoto).

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—True to time-honored Texas tradition, Marshall Hughes' Longhorn basketballers are the "outshootingest" outfit in the Southwest Conference and one of the top three in the nation at the firing line.

Right now, however, all is quiet on the basketball front at the University of Texas, as the young men concentrate their efforts on fall semester examinations. They will not return to the court until Feb. 2, when they invade Norman, Okla., to face the improving Sooners, whom Texas conquered, 68-62, earlier in the year.

The recess finds Texas enduring fifth-place in the league stands despite its remarkable marksmanship. In winning two of five conference tests, the Longhorns have hit 48 per cent of their shots from the field and 76 per cent of 103 attempts from the free-throw line.

Defending champion SMU, out front with a 4-1 record and beaten only by Texas in the SWC race, ranks second with gift shots (.723) but only third from the field with a .395 mark.

Foremost in the Texas shooting gallery is Raymond Downs, the all-America nominee who, through this week's reports, leads the nation in field goal accuracy. The senior from San Antonio, who holds a number of school and conference game shooting marks, has hit 646 in conference play and .571 for the full season.

The latter figure elevated Downs to the lead of the nation's list as Mississippi State's Bawley Hout and Alex Ellis of Niagara slumped.

Downs, Kermit Decker and Norman Hooton of the Longhorns stand 1-2-3 in field goal percentages in conference competition, while Decker ranks first at the free throw line with an .867 mark in league play.

As a team, the Longhorns currently ranked third in nation

Rough Weekend For Burglary

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—It was a rough weekend for breaking into buildings. Police reports told of a 9-year-old boy who set off 12 separate burglar alarms while exploring a department store.

A convict who had escaped while delivering food to a guard was picked up in a restaurant on charges of breaking into another restaurant for a meal and some petty cash.

An 18-year-old youngster found a policeman waiting for him on the inside of the window of a restaurant as he was halfway through.

Mother Hears Son's Confession

CHICAGO (AP)—"Did you do it?" was all the mother of accused slayer Bennie Bedwell asked her son when she visited him in Cook County Jail last night.

"Yes, Ma," Bennie tearfully answered.

Mrs. Ethel Bradberry, 43, stood silent for a moment, the deputy said, and then murmured: "Well, I didn't think a son of mine would do a thing like that."

Earlier, Mrs. Bradberry said she believed her son had nothing to do with the deaths of 15-year-old Barbara Grimes and her 13-year-old sister Patricia.

Auto Maker Hits Power Of Unions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Romney, American Motors Corp. president, protested today against the encouraging "of inflationary wage increases through unrestricted concentration of union power."
"Most employers now are the underdogs," Romney said in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Automobile Dealers Assn. convention.
Romney, with a current United Automobile Workers strike at his Kenosha, Wis., American Motors Co. plant, noted in his speech that Walter Reuther "has already declared that in 1958 the UAW would win the highest economic wage concession we have ever won."

Continuing his quotation of the UAW leader, Romney said Reuther had declared, "We cannot convince General Motors to part with its millions by pious platitudes. We've got to have a wallop."
"It is an economic absurdity to discipline prices through the competitive process and, at the same time, encourage inflationary wage increases through unrestricted concentration of union power."
"The biggest economic decision our industry and our nation must make is whether to permit industry to go down the present union road of unrestricted concentration of power, or whether to restrain both and make them go down the American road of division and distribution of power."

'Ambitious' Demos Seen In Dulles Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today that some Democrats with presidential ambitions are engaging in an organized attack on Secretary of State Dulles.
"There seem to be several of these horsemen riding their presidential ambitions hard," he said in an interview. He did not name them, but several Democrats denied there is any concerted attack on Dulles.
Dulles returns today for a closed session of the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees on President Eisenhower's request for military and economic aid for the Middle East.
Wiley, top Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said he had no doubt the Democrats "have had their meetings and they have divided up the field of attack" on Dulles.
"They have come to the conclusion they could not attack President Eisenhower after his landslide victory in November and so they are directing their fire on Mr. Dulles," he said, adding: "You would think from listening to some of them that Dulles started all of the trouble in the Middle East. I don't think they are getting to first base with their attacks."

Both Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said there is no organized Democratic attack on Dulles. Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader in the Senate, said in an interview those who have criticized Dulles have acted as individuals.
Jackson said during a television interview that "these things stem from human nature." When a witness hedges as he said Dulles did, Jackson added, "you get irritated."
Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said in an interview that Congress is showing a "growing lack of confidence" in Dulles.
"There is a growing feeling that Mr. Dulles may well be a casualty of the cold war, just as Mr. Eden was," he said.
Jackson agreed that Dulles "has lost the confidence of many in Congress and we know he has lost the confidence of our allies." But he added that he is "not going to suggest that Dulles should resign."
Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) says he does not believe Congress is losing confidence in Dulles, and is certain Eisenhower is backing him.

Rain, Snow Pelt Nation

By The Associated Press
Rain and snow pelted most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation today while winter-weary residents of the Rocky Mountains and the central and southern plateau began digging out of the season's worst snowfall.
Little temperature change was in prospect except along the Northern Plains, where another toe-tingling blast of Canadian air sent the mercury skidding.
Light snow and snow flurries were in the works from the Dakotas and the Great Lakes eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Meanwhile, a band of freezing rain was expected across an area from Nebraska, Oklahoma, and the Ohio Valley into Pennsylvania. Rain was forecast for most of the South and Southeast.
Snow was still falling over most of southern Rockies. Some 2 inches fell during the night in southern Wyoming through western Colorado and into northern New Mexico and Arizona.
Bulldozers and a relief train early today sighted two freight trains snowbound on a branch of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad. The trains — both well supplied with food and fuel — carried 32 men and became stalled in 10,000-foot Cumbres Pass.
At least 20 traffic deaths in the Southwest over the weekend were attributed to hazardous driving conditions.

Algerians Call Strike

ALGIERS (AP) — A general strike called by Algerian Nationalists spread through Algiers today, French authorities immediately launched counteraction.
Hardly a Moslem was seen on the streets, and most Moslem-operated stores and shops were closed. But French soldiers, acting under orders from the Algiers military commander, began ripping padlocks off the store shutters and opening them.
There was no immediate report of resistance.
A large number of European-operated stores also were closed today, as is usual on Monday. But the entire city was unusually quiet even for a Monday. Buses and streetcars, each with one or two armed soldiers inside, operated normally with Europeans in control. But there were few passengers.
The strike was called by the Algerian National Liberation Front to focus world attention on Algeria as the U. N. General Assembly prepared to debate complaints against French rule in the North African territory.

Poujade Spurned By French Voters

PARIS (AP) — Voters of a Left Bank Paris district have sharply rebuffed tax rebel Pierre Poujade's first try for an elected political office.

In voting for a vacant National Assembly seat yesterday in the 1st Dist. of the Seine Department (county), the leader of the new political movement that was the surprise of the 1956 election got only 19,906 of the total 311,369 votes cast—6.4 per cent.
