Wife Declares Antarctic Is 'Man's World'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edith Ronne, who has been there, says she'll be the first to admit the antarctic "is a man's world." She and one other woman hold the distinction of being the only members of their sex to set foot in the antarctic.

"I wouldn't have missed it for a million dollars and I wouldn't go back for two million," she said at her suburban home.

Her husband, Navy Capt. Finn Ronne, has just returned to the sector of the South Polar region he named Edith Ronne Land in honor of his wife, on an antarctic research expedition in 1946-48. No women went on the current expedition, which is part of the International Geophysical Year exploration.

Mrs. Ronne, 37, and a native of Baltimore, Md., accompanied her husband on that earlier expedition, as researcher and historian over a period of 15 months.

"The most difficult part" of arctic exploration, she said, is "being in isolation with the same group over a long period of time." She didn't want to go into specific details of what that can be like, but noted, "even the way a man puts on his socks in the morning begins to irritate you."

Capt. Ronne, a 57-year-old veteran explorer, now is scientific director of the Weddell Sea station of the U.S. team exploring the antarctic.

Ronne was recalled to active duty in the Navy for the IGY trip, his fourth to the antarctic.

Mrs. Ronne, mother of a 6-year-old daughter, said she had no qualms at all about sitting this expedition out.

Mother Kills Tots, Fails In Suicide Try

CHICAGO (AP)—A young mother who, police said, left notes admitting she drowned her three children and then tried to kill herself, was held in a hospital today on a charge of murder.

The bodies of the children, 3-year-old twin girls and a 5-year-old boy, were found by police in the suburban Park Ridge home of Richard M. Puetz, 32, and his wife Beverly, 27.

Earlier, when Puetz arrived home from work he found his wife unconscious. Her head was in the oven of the gas stove in the kitchen and the jets were turned on. Puetz said he dragged her to the rear porch, tried to revive her, and called police and firemen.

After firemen revived Mrs. Puetz with an inhalator, she only cried, "My children!" The children, John and his twin sisters Deborah Lynn and Cora Lynn, were fully clothed when found drowned in the bath tub. Puetz is manager of a women's apparel shop in suburban Evanston.

A warrant charging Mrs. Puetz with murder was issued by Police Magistrate Edward Lundberg on recommendation of an assistant state's attorney. Police Chief Willis Jones ordered a mental examination.

Puetz said his wife had a nervous breakdown recently, but that she had appeared content after returning within the last few days from a visit with relatives in Bonaparte, Iowa.

Deputy Coroner Charles Richards said a note found in the Puetz kitchen read:

"Notice from Beverly Puetz. I drowned the children trying to kill self but having trouble — gas, electricity, etc. Want police to know I did it because I can't handle myself. Been going on for some time . . . My husband, Dick, has been wonderful and is better off without me and the kids for I have them so mixed up I felt they couldn't be straightened out — nor myself."

Another note, addressed "To Dick," said:

"I hope you can build a new future. I have ruined all this — kids and you — all my own doing. You deserve so much better and I failed you and I couldn't go on."

State Files Suit In Moody Case

AUSTIN (AP)—A petition was filed by the State of Texas yesterday, seeking to intervene in the suit contesting the will of the late W. L. Moody Jr. of Galveston.

Moody would fix amounts to certain persons but left the bulk of his estate to the Moody Foundation. The attorney general's petition said the estate was worth more than 200 million dollars.

Moody's son, W. L. Moody III, filed suit in 1956 seeking to cancel and set aside the will and cause the property to pass to the heirs.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said in the petition that the property "lawfully belongs in trust to the people of the state and which W. L. Moody Jr. intended to be used through the Moody Foundation for the benefit of the people."

The Foundation was created in 1952.

Opposition Mounts To Senate Election

By JERRY MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Republicans hoping to grab control of the U.S. Senate by winning the special senatorial election in Texas were faced Tuesday with the possibility that it won't even be held.

Opposition was mounting to the election scheduled April 2 to elect a senator to serve out the unexpired portion of Gov. Price Daniel's term.

A bill was introduced in the State Senate Monday which would do away with special elections to fill vacancies in the U.S. Senate. It also would provide that William Blakley of Dallas, who was appointed to serve as interim senator until the special election, would hold office until after the next general election in 1958.

Sen. Charles Herring (D) of Austin submitted the bill. It provides that the governor shall name a successor within 15 days after the vacancy and the appointee's term would expire after the results of the next general election. It said if the act becomes effective, any appointee now in the Senate would hold office until the next election. That apparently means Blakley would stay in Washington until the 1958 election, if the measure passes.

Herring said special elections "involved needless and burdensome expense."

Gov. Daniel declined comment on the measure.

Legislation comes up for debate Tuesday in the House of Representatives that would require a runoff after the special election if none of the candidates gets a majority vote.

In San Antonio, Rep. Kilday said the election and runoff would place an undue financial burden on counties. Similar opposition was voiced earlier by Navarro County.

Republican Thad Hutcheson faces a field of at least six Democrats in a wide-open election. Under present law, the top man wins in a special election. Some Democrats contend this leaves the door open to the possibility of Hutcheson winning the seat although a majority of the votes would be split among the large field of Democrats.

A Republican victory could have national significance because of the thin Democratic margin in the U.S. Senate.

If Hutcheson won the Texas seat, the lineup would be 48 Democrats and 48 Republicans. Senate Republican leader Knowland of California has said the GOP would make the effort to reorganize the Senate under Republican control if it can muster 48 votes. Vice President Nixon's vote would be required to break a tie in that event.

Meanwhile, State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White was reported considering making the Senate race. The Corsicana Sun said White met Monday with friends in Corsicana regarding the Senate race.

It quoted him as saying he would have "something to say within the next few days" on the matter.

Soviets Repeat Arms Accusation

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party organ accused the Western Powers again today of dragging their feet on disarmament.

Citing the refusal of the United States, Britain and France to join Kremlin's leaders in a summit disarmament conference, Pravda declared:

"Procrastination of the solution of the disarmament question arouses the indignation of all peace-loving peoples."

In rejecting Premier Bulganin's proposal of Nov. 17, President Eisenhower called on Russia to work toward disarmament "within the framework of the United Nations."

Johnson Sees Drought Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said yesterday legislation passed by Congress increasing funds for small business loans will have "considerable significance" in Texas because of the drought.

Johnson expressed hope President Eisenhower would sign the bill.

"The devastating drought, which has caused such widespread distress among farmers and cattlemen, has likewise had a very adverse effect on small business concerns in Texas," he said.

"Vacant business houses on the main streets of many Texas towns bear mute testimony as to the manner in which effects of the drought have spread out."

Johnson said the rate of business failures in Texas was up 62 percent last year from 1955.

The bill increases from 150 to 230 million dollars the amount the small business administration can lend.

Texan Shot In Jailbreak Try

TIJUANA, Mex. (AP)—James Davis, 19, of Fort Worth was shot to death in an attempted escape from the Tijuana jail yesterday.

Davis had been wanted in Texas for questioning about a Christmas Eve shooting.

A companion, Billy Clifton, 21, was captured and returned to jail.

The two men had been jailed since Jan. 5 on charges of assault and attempted murder for the shooting of Mario Aguilera, 26, a hotel manager. Davis was wanted in Fort Worth for questioning about the robbery-slaying of Ralph Claybrook, 43, operator of a juke box firm.

Studebaker-Packard matches the superior performance of its built-in Supercharger with the most effective brakes on the road.

Today's higher horsepowers, greater weight, higher speeds demand brakes with extra margins of safety. Here are four important ways that Studebaker-Packard gives you this additional safety:

1. Largest brake linings. 195.3 square inches of brake lining are carried by the Studebaker Golden Hawk—largest, safest brake lining area per pound of car of any automobile made today!
2. Air-cooled drums. Heat robs brakes of their effectiveness. Studebaker-Packard was first with specially "finned" air-cooled brake drums that actually double the effective cooling surface.
3. Self-Centering. The entire, oversized brake lining area is automatically brought into uniform contact with the drums. Reduces wear and assures unswerving, straight-line stops.
4. Self-Energizing. The forward motion of the car itself helps apply the brakes. You get greater safety, easier pedal action.

Better brakes, superior acceleration, surer handling add up to Command Performance. Drive the '57 Studebakers and Packards at your dealer's, today.

Says Air Collision Not Over Valley

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The assumption that a collision between two planes last Thursday occurred over populous San Fernando Valley has been challenged by an official of Northrop Aircraft Corp. The air traffic controller who was in the tower at the time of the collision, admitted the evidence now in hand is not conclusive. But he said it would be possible for one plane to collide with another over the mountains and crash in a populated section of the valley.

Kerr, whose company was conducting checking operations on one of the planes involved in the collision, admitted the evidence now in hand is not conclusive. But he said it would be possible for one plane to collide with another over the mountains and crash in a populated section of the valley.

Grace In Public Eye Once More

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Grace Kelly today made her first official appearance since the birth of her daughter, Princess Caroline. The former Hollywood movie star joined her husband, Prince Rainier III of Monaco, in receiving a delegation of Dutch bakers in the Monacan palace's "Court of Honor."

Adams said he did not see the warning of the collision, which he estimated occurred at an elevation of about 25,000 feet. "I don't remember the impact," he said, "or the impact of the chute opening or of hitting the ground. To the best of my knowledge, I blew the canopy off myself and I remember that I was getting burned. I definitely remember pulling the trigger that ejected my seat."

Wood Alcohol Said Cause Of Death

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—One teenager was killed yesterday after drinking a liquid that "smelled like wood alcohol," said Justice of Peace R. C. Albert. The youth was Leopoldo Rodriguez, 15, of Poth in Wilson County.

Adams said he did not see the warning of the collision, which he estimated occurred at an elevation of about 25,000 feet. "I don't remember the impact," he said, "or the impact of the chute opening or of hitting the ground. To the best of my knowledge, I blew the canopy off myself and I remember that I was getting burned. I definitely remember pulling the trigger that ejected my seat."

Released By Reds

Richard Koraback, 26, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., arrested Jan. 12 while helping Hungarian refugees to cross the border, talks with newsmen at Nickelsdorf, Austria, following his expulsion by the Hungarian government. Koraback, a Norwegian student arrested with him and four young Britons seized Jan. 17 were released at the Hungarian border near Nickelsdorf.

De Valera May Return

DUBLIN (AP)—Eamon De Valera, prime minister of Ireland for 21 years, has what looks like a good chance to return to office. Prime Minister John A. Costello, who succeeded De Valera in 1954, yesterday called a special national election for March 5. De Valera's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny), already the strongest single political party, can take over from Costello's coalition government if it can win a few more seats in the Dail (Parliament).

Berserk Worker Shoots 5 People

FORT WORTH (AP)—A 47-year-old employee of a steel company went berserk here last night, wounding four police officers and a bystander with shotgun pellets before he was killed in a running gun battle.

The dead man was identified as Edward Haynes, a Negro employee of the Texas Steel Co. None of the wounded were believed to be seriously hurt. Haynes was dead on arrival at a hospital with two bullet wounds in the back and neck, attendants said.

Wounded were: Detective Cody Rodgers, 56, perished in the leg, back and neck by birdshot; Patrolman J. G. Roberts, wounded in the face, side and hand; Rookie Patrolman Ray Lantrit, 23, wounded in the chest, and reserve Patrolman R. B. Torrance, 48, shot once in the groin.

A bystander, identified by police as Durwood Manning, 36, a Negro from Montgomery, Tex., was wounded in the left hand by some of the stray pellets while watching the affray.

Polio Victim To Get Horse

DENVER (AP)—Frank Elliott, 15, crippled by polio, is going to get his horse and a stack of feed for him.

Vern Elliott and Lynn Beuttler, rodeo producers, got an appeal at Fort Worth from young Elliott, who offered his life savings, $148, for a horse. The men said they'd give him one if they could be assured feed would be provided.

Bids Sought On Road Equipment

Bids are to be considered by the Howard County Commissioners court on March 11 for a new road maintainer and a new water truck trailer for the road department of the county.

Walter Parks, county engineer, requested the board to prepare the necessary advertisements for bids for the two pieces of equipment.

Budget, Debt Danger Seen By Lady Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Underscoring comments of former President Herbert Hoover, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) said today the nation's "fantastic" budget and "Frankenstein" debt contain the makings of economic disaster.

Mrs. Smith prepared her address for the third National Conference on Government Reorganization. Hoover told the same group last night that the country is courting an economic "agony" like the one which afflicted his own administration.

Death Prevents Trip To Hawaii

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thursday, James A. Jackson, 65, retired after 3 years as a steamship line executive.

Mrs. Smith said she has asked Humphrey by letter to point to places in the budget where reductions can be made. She said he suggested no specific cuts.

The conference, sponsored by the Citizens' Committee for the Hoover Report, was organized to mobilize public opinion for adoption of the Hoover Commission recommendations by Congress and the administration.

Hoover told the 500 delegates from 30 states, at a dinner session last night, that the country is in "the midst of an inflation movement" which if not controlled will end in a "bump."

WHY DO YOU READ THE NEWSPAPER? COPYRIGHT 1957, BUREAU OF ADVERTISING BY THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION, INC.

"I go over the ads every day... it's part of reading the newspaper"

Ask ten different people why they read the daily newspaper and you'll probably get ten different answers. That's because the newspaper offers so much under one roof to interest people—local and worldwide news, sports, comics, fashions, gardening, home planning, business news, teen-age columns, human interest pictures, entertainment news, and a whole roomful more.

Newspaper reading is a local habit done on a national scale. And one habit common to almost all newspaper readers is shopping the paper. As the lady in our illustration says, "It's part of reading the newspaper." That is one of the fundamental reasons why an all time high of almost 57,000,000 newspapers are eagerly bought—and read—every day.

The newspaper is a basic need in peoples' lives and is naturally a basic selling tool for all kinds of advertisers—national, regional and local.

Is it your basic advertising medium? * One of hundreds of statements from "The Functions of Newspapers for Their Readers", a study conducted by Social Research, Inc., for the entire newspaper industry.

Arab Refugees Leave Aden

HODEIDA, Yemen (AP)—The Yemenite radio says more than 300 Arab sheiks and village mayors have fled from the British-Allied Aden protectorate to Yemen as a result of British-Yemeni border clashes.

The broadcast said 200 of these Arab leaders had taken refuge in Qataba, border town around which fighting has occurred; and 37 more had fled to Ibb, about 50 miles northwest of Qataba.

The radio, broadcasting from the capital at San'a in central Yemen's mountains, said the radio in the British colony of Aden had admitted British planes had made 14 raids Saturday on the Yemenite towns of Sudaniya and Hadeya.

Britain has insisted that Yemen itself launched the series of recent attacks on the protectorate. Through treaties of protection with local sheiks, Britain now controls 100,000 square miles in the protectorate. Yemen claims this territory once belonged to it. Yemenite officials say they would accept the verdict of a plebiscite. Britain considers the protectorate a buffer between Yemen and the Aden colony.

Aden colony is a vital link in Britain's shipping lanes with the East. The British also have an oil refinery in the colony, built after Iran nationalized the British oil holdings in Iran. The British accuse Yemen of stirring up tribal revolts in the protectorate.

Probe Hangs Over Channel Switch

WASHINGTON (AP)—The threat of a congressional investigation today hung over a proposal for switching a Texas educational television channel to commercial use.

A request by Gregg Television, Inc., Gregg County, Tex., is pending before the Federal Communications Commission to move Channel 2, now assigned for educational use at Denton, to Longview for a commercial station. Hugh Garrett, Longview, is president of Gregg.

Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex), member of a House Commerce subcommittee which handles matters relating to the FCC, and others of the Texas delegation, received wires of protest over the weekend from the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

In a letter to Mrs. W. D. DeGras of Amarillo, president of the Texas P-TA, House Speaker Sam Rayburn said: "I agree with you that this channel should not be reassigned to commercial use."

"The air waves don't belong to individuals," Rogers commented, observing that the channel had been set aside for use by Texas State College for Women and North Texas State Teachers College.

"There are only so many channels available, and it is the duty of the FCC to see that the public's interests are protected. I'm checking into this pending case, and if it is part of a trend to reallocate educational channels for commercial use, I'll insist on a thorough congressional investigation into the whole subject."

The two state colleges at Denton have not yet made use of the channel allocation because of lack of funds to build and operate a television station. In some similar situations over the country, channels originally allocated by the FCC for educational use in certain areas have been reassigned for commercial use.

Rep. Icard (D-Tex), whose congressional district includes Denton, said:

"Private individuals in Denton want the channel assigned to them if it is not used for educational purposes. So, without going into the basic question involved, I am against the proposal to move the channel assignment to Gregg County."

Rep. Joe Kilgore (D-Tex), who represents the Rio Grande Valley, said:

"I'm for educational television, and until the public has had a chance for it to be tried out, I think these channels should be protected."

In her telegrams of protest, Mrs. DeGrass said "the ability to grow and meet demands of modern education will be denied two great colleges" if the transfer is approved. She said the organization she heads has a membership of 560,000.

Rogers said the best protection the television industry has against government control and censorship is care by the FCC to see that the public interests are kept in mind in licensing of stations.

Fumes, Not Viruses

CLINTON, Ill. (AP)—A doctor inoculated the Howard Rasor family for influenza when they all complained of being ill simultaneously—but the trouble was in the furnace, police discovered. Rasor called a physician at 3 a.m. yesterday when he and his wife, two children and a visiting cousin all awoke with aches and pains. The doctor diagnosed flu. Several hours after the physician departed, a relative arrived for a visit and found the family unconscious. Mrs. Lyle Miller, Rasor's sister, smelled fumes, opened doors and windows and called a fleet of ambulances. Police found a faulty flue in the furnace. The Rasors and their cousin are recovering from carbon monoxide inhalation.

Fumes Changed Gentle Man Into New York's Mad Bomber

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP) — The date was Sept. 5, 1931. George Metesky was 28, had worked for Consolidated Edison Co. for slightly less than two years. He was a generator wiper, making $37.50 a week.

As he was to tell his story later, his small blue eyes widened in sudden horror and he flung himself backward from an angry gush of gaseous fumes as a boiler backfired at the Hell Gate plant of the big gas-electric utility.

"I was overcome by gas," he was to declare later.

On that autumn day, George Metesky was a quiet introvert with a mixed-up mental outlook. He was a gentle man and he probably had never physically harmed anyone in his life.

But the fumes — whether they were real or whether they existed only in his mind — were to transform him into another personality.

Out of the fumes, if such there were, emerged a man in the first stage of transformation from the gentle George Metesky to the Mad Bomber of New York City.

The fumes from the boiler that autumn Sunday in 1931 filled Metesky's lungs, he said, and left him choking and spitting blood. He said he collapsed and lay two hours on the concrete floor before he could gather the strength to go home.

After a week in bed, he returned to Waterbury and entered Waterbury Hospital. He said he had pneumonia and lung hemorrhages. He went to Tucson, Ariz., for three years to try to regain his health.

He said his illness was diagnosed there as tuberculosis. He returned to Waterbury in 1935. Metesky's father died in 1947.

From his insurance, George got $8,000, his brother $5,000. The sisters got the home. They moved with George into a five-room first-floor apartment and rented the other two floors for $30 a month each.

The sisters worked and doled out $10 to $20 a week to George, even after he got his small legacy from his father.

"He couldn't work and we didn't want him to get into any trouble," they explained. "We didn't mind depriving ourselves. We told him we would support him, help him build up a nest egg for when we passed on, and he could look after the house."

George's physical condition appeared to grow worse. He complained of difficulty in breathing on damp days. He took to his bed increasingly, until he was sleeping as much as 16 and 18 hours a day.

Inwardly, the calm was turning to chaos. He began to write threatening letters to Con Ed — six in all. He began to brood.

"I decided on bombs," he wrote later.

Sometime in 1940, George took to his garage and there — behind locked doors and with the six windows blacked out with smoked glass — he fashioned his first bomb. He established the rough pattern of cunning craftsmanship that he was to repeat many times.

His first bomb was made of a length of pipe, plugged at both ends, Metesky drove about 60 miles to New York City and planted the home-made bomb on a Consolidated Edison power house on W. 64th St. It failed to explode and was found Nov. 18, 1940, on a windowsill.

His second bomb was found Sept. 24, 1941, in downtown Manhattan. It, too, had failed to explode.

Then, unaccountably, the mad bomber laid aside his devilish work for nearly 10 years. Even his flow of letters and postcards ended.

But on March 29, 1951, one of Metesky's bombs exploded in Grand Central Terminal — the first to actually go off. From then on, every year through 1956, his bombs went off in various New York locations — the public library, Con Edison buildings, subway lockers, the port authority building, Radio City Music Hall, the Capitol Theater on Broadway, the Paramount Theater on Times Square, Pennsylvania Station, Macy's Department Store.

In all the mad bomber planted 32 bombs. And 22 exploded, 10 were duds. Nobody ever was killed. But 15 persons were injured, none seriously.

"I used to pray no one would be hurt by my bombs, especially on Sunday," Metesky said.

In the midst of this furor, the New York Journal-American suggested in an open letter to the mad bomber that he give himself up. It promised him mental and legal aid.

In response, the mad bomber began a series of letter exchanges with the newspaper. Each letter revealed a little more until finally the files of Con Edison yielded up the secret of the mad bomber's identity.

At 10:45 p.m. one Monday, detectives knocked on his door in Waterbury. George Metesky, in pajamas, his mild blue eyes peering sleepily over his gold-rimmed spectacles, answered the knock and stepped into the arms of the law.

The gentle man had reached the end of the terror trail. The mad bomber's reign had closed.

George Metesky, now 54, said: "I'm sorry I injured people. But I'm glad I did it."

Weather Confusion Leaves Farm Picture In Contrast

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 5 (AP) — Texas farm and ranch conditions are in contrast because currents of warm and cold and wet and dry air criss-crossed this week, the Texas Agricultural Service said today.

Conditions range from "the best topsoil moisture in East Texas since last April" to "freezing mist brought no beneficial moisture" in much of the Plains and west, Director G. G. Gibson of the Extension Service said.

District agents say the cold and moisture has been hard on cattle, increased the amount of feed, retarded growth of small grain and pasture, and brought most farm work to a standstill.

Cloudy skies and some showers are deceiving and the entire state still needs plenty of rain for surface and subsurface soil moisture before planting season and for pastures and ranges, Gibson said.

In far West Texas, Ray Sigmund at Ft. Stockton reported, "Some showers fell and settled the dust, but there's no surface or subsurface moisture in the whole area. All livestock is being fed, and some sheep are reported having trouble from bitterweed. The cold weather has slowed growth of irrigated small grain vitally needed for pasture."

All the Panhandle gets is cold, dry weather, and neither cattle nor wheat do very well during dry northers, added Knox Parr at Amarillo. Farm work is pretty much at a standstill and ranch work consists of feeding hay and cake. We still are very dry and conditions are critical.

Freezing mist during the past week has provided no beneficial moisture for the South Plains and it's extremely hard on livestock, all of which are being fed, said W. H. Jones at Lubbock. Ranges furnish no grazing and stockwater is getting low in the ranching area. Some dryland small grain is hanging on but needs moisture badly, and land preparation is being delayed due to a lack of moisture.

Mineral and vitamin A deficiencies and pneumonia have been reported among cattle in sections of the Rolling Plains where mist, sleet and snow has retarded small grain pastures, but added possibly a half inch of moisture. There's very little grazing available and ranchers are feeding, and are hauling stockwater in parts of 10 counties. Livestock marketing is above normal.

Light showers over the Edwards Plateau brightened prospects some but extreme cold is retarding plant growth. Subsoil moisture still is needed for spring grass and crops.

Famous dress designers are now getting in the swim. Fashion-conscious bathing beauties nowadays are likely to find labels such as Christian Dior, Schiaparelli or Nettie Rosenstein in their new swim suits. Mrs. Rosenstein, New York designer noted as the top exponent of the "little black dress," is the latest to invade the bathing suit field.

Her beach and surf styles, like those of other name designers, have definite couturier touches which put bathing suits in the high-fashion category.

Traffic Law Digest Can Be Enlightening

By LUCILLE PICKLE Being especially conscious of the traffic laws in Texas following Howard County's sad 1956 record, we have been looking over A Digest of Texas Motor Vehicle Laws.

I was particularly pleased to find that they recognize the importance of sounding the horn to let a motorist know he is about to be passed or at least, would be if he'd move over. Some of my younger friends and family thought the only reason one sounded his horn was to stir up an acquaintance or carry on a "conversation."

Wagon Wheel Expanding, Improving

Most Big Springers have seen the improvements recently made in the front of the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 E. 3rd Street. Few, however, have seen the extensive expansion that is taking shape in the rear of the building. In fact, persons not acquainted with the project would never dream of its extent.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rainbolt, owners of the Wagon Wheel, are now enlarging the establishment for the sixth or seventh time since they opened the popular restaurant more than 13 years ago. They have expanded so many times, that Rainbolt isn't sure now just how many times the businessplace has been enlarged previously.

The current project is one of the most extensive ever undertaken. Part of the work already has been completed, and the remainder is nearing completion. Around 600 square feet of floor space is being added to the Wagon Wheel kitchen. This is one of the most notable features of the current enlargement program for it will greatly expedite service to patrons.

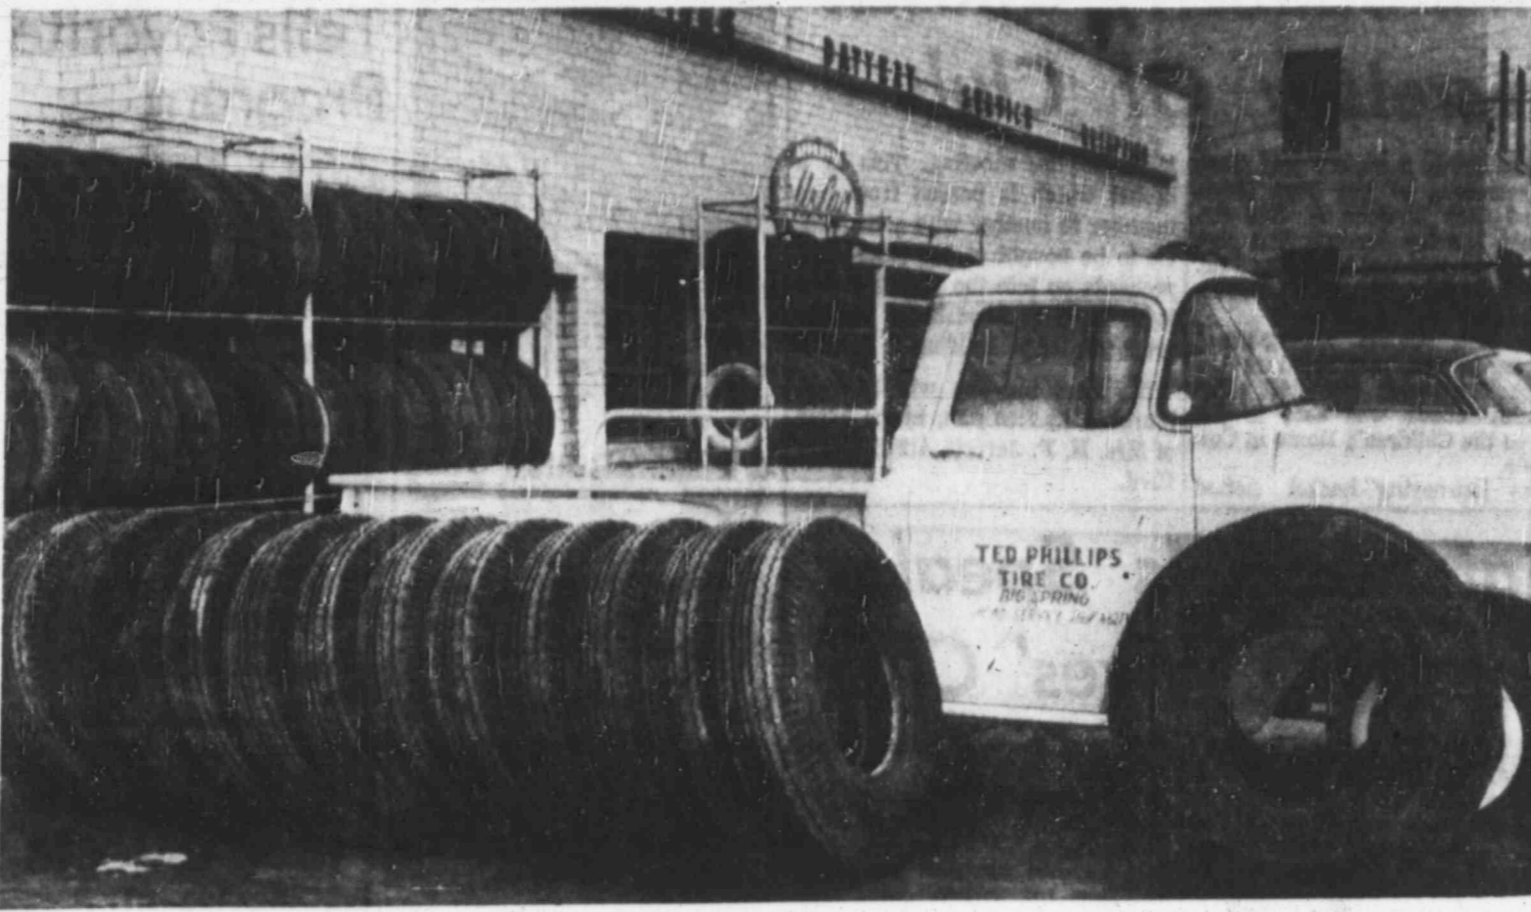

A considerable quantity of new equipment and furniture is being secured, also. This includes new ranges for the kitchen and some new furnishings for the Candlelight Room. Cold storage space also is being revamped as a part of the project, and virtually the entire electrical and gas plumbing system of the building has been replaced with new materials.

In the enlargement project, Rainbolt is giving a great deal of attention to sanitation. All equipment is being located so that it is accessible from all sides for cleaning. Floors are well equipped with drains so that they may be scoured and rinsed easily with all waste flowing into the drainage system.

Up front, a new entrance lobby has been completed, and the size of the Western Room, the restaurant's second banquet area, has been approximately doubled. The Western Room is now finished in gleaming beech paneling in the natural color of the wood. The room has indirect as well as direct lighting, and the two systems can be used independently or jointly.

Exterior of the Wagon Wheel has been given a new brick facing. Both the Candlelight Room and the Western Room are available for banquets or parties. The Candlelight Room will accommodate up to 90 persons and the Western Room has facilities for serving 35 or more.

In all, the Wagon Wheel has accommodations to serve 220 persons at one sitting. And the new kitchen expansion program will assure speedy service for every patron, as well as make possible a faster turn-over of diners to cut the waiting period to a bare minimum.

Good As New

Pictured are automobile tires recapped by the Phillips Tire Company of Big Spring, which look like new casings and will give motorists many thousands of miles of safe driving. Recapping not only adds to the life of the tire but offers a savings to the owner. The Phillips Tire Company is located at Fourth and Johnson Streets.

PROMPT REPAIRS Skilled Mechanics At Jones Motor

The average driver hates to think of taking his car to a garage or mechanic for repairs.

"The old car will probably last a few more miles — maybe until next fall — and then I'll trade it off," says the average motorist. "But until that time comes, I'll just hope nothing big goes wrong and try not to have any work done."

To the average person this sounds like the best and cheapest thing. But many times, that work has to be done when you least expect it. And many times it proves to be more expensive than anticipated.

Jones Motor Company, Big Spring's authorized Dodge and Plymouth dealer, urges you to get those minor repairs done now when they are needed rather than waiting until the car breaks down.

Jones' mechanics work on all types of cars however, not just Dodges and Plymouths.

By having the car checked now, those small, seemingly insignificant needs will be repaired before they can cause serious trouble. The price will be less when the problem is minor than when the car breaks down.

Jones Motor has the trained technicians to handle any type of repair job and do it well. No new parts will be used unless they are needed.

For instance, the steering and brakes probably require attention. You have noticed a small amount of "play" in the steering wheel and the brakes are getting slightly soft. Steering linkage, front suspension, and wheel alignment end counter many highway shocks in winter.

Minor repair of these items are necessary for safety and also to prevent additional and larger repair bills at a later time.

Such minor repairs will not only prevent larger maintenance costs later, but they will remove the threat of possible trouble while on a long trip or when the weather is icy.

This work can be done now at Jones Motor Company, at the corner of West First and Gregg Streets.

Philgas, Economical Fuel, Popular With Rural Users

Philgas—a safe, economical fuel especially popular with rural dwellers — is available here through K. H. McGibbon Oil Company, main offices of which are located at 601 E. 1st St.

Philgas heats home, warms water for the many household uses, cooks meals and even provides heat for incubators around the farm home.

You think you can't afford it? You will probably find you can't afford to be without it, after consulting McGibbon, Roy Lee or other personnel at the McGibbon Oil Company offices.

Philgas has been tested among the most trying of circumstances and has always come through with flying colors. Time was when rural dwellers had a reason for wanting to live in the city in order to take advantage of all modern conveniences.

Now, with rural electrification and butane gas, they find they can live equally as well and comfortably as those who live in the smartest homes in the city.

In the very near future, home owners will start thinking in terms of bringing their lawns and shrubbery out.

Nitrogen fertilizers stocked locally by the McGibbon Oil Company and all local Phillips 66 service stations serve to make the job easier for you.

It is recommended the Phillips 66 fertilizers be applied to lawns in the spring and in the fall, when the weather isn't too hot or too cold.

If you desire to fertilize your yard, McGibbon Oil Company will loan you the use of an applicator, which makes the job far simpler.

PAY HIKE SOUGHT Teacher Shortage Forecast In Texas

The Texas State Teachers Association forecasts an extreme teacher shortage in Texas within the next 10 years.

Reporting on studies it conducted in support of its campaign for higher teacher salaries, the TSTA says that half of all the college graduates during the next decade will be required to meet the need for new teachers. At present, the organization says, only a fifth of college graduates are entering the teaching profession.

Children are being born in Texas at the rate of 800 per day, the association states. To educate them, the state will have to construct an average of 27 new classrooms per day. In consequence, 27 additional teachers are needed daily.

The Texas scholastic population increased from 1,534,000 in 1949-50 to 1,924,000 in 1956-57, according to the TSTA. The agency estimates the figure will be 2,283,000 by 1960-61.

On the teacher pay proposition, the association says Texas ranks 26th in the nation with a teacher salary of $3,925. The national average is $4,220. The average in neighboring states includes Oklahoma, $4,100; Louisiana, $4,600; and New Mexico, $4,650.

The TSTA claims Texas teachers work longer in a year than the 40-hours-a-week workers on other jobs. Teachers put in an average of 2,028 hours a year to 2,000 for the 40-hour man.

Findings of the TSTA studies are being reported to all members of the association with suggestions that teachers write their state senators and representatives if they think a pay raise is in order.

Janitor Finds Stolen Data

CHICAGO (AP)—A janitor cleaning an apartment building basement yesterday found "secret government documents" which the FBI said were stolen from a physicist en route to a South Bend, Ind., guided missile plant.

Donald S. Hostetter, Chicago FBI chief, said the discovery was reported by Edward A. Merk, janitor for a building located on the city's south side.

Hostetter described the documents as "mostly classified secret." He said they apparently "were discarded by a thief and are intact as far as we are able to determine."

Dr. Fletcher C. Paddison, physicist at Johns Hopkins University, Wednesday reported theft of a briefcase containing the documents to the FBI and police. Paddison, of Bethesda, Md., said the briefcase was taken while he was making a telephone call from the Illinois Central 63rd Street station. The station is a few blocks from where the papers were found.

The briefcase, Hostetter said, was not found.

Servicemen Made Use Of Rec Center

Use of recreational and entertainment facilities of the Big Spring Servicemen's Center was made by a daily average of approximately 45 persons during 1956, Mrs. Lois O'Barr Smith, executive secretary, reported.

Patrons of the center, principally airmen, participated in pool games, shuffleboard, bingo, table tennis, dartboard, dominoes, checkers, television viewing and magazine reading, she recounted.

Civilian chess players — high school and Howard County Junior College students and other townspeople — also met at the center for their games.

Several swimming parties were held at the ranch of Mrs. Smith, and center patrons participated in picnics and wicker-roasts in various localities adjacent to the city.

Assistance was rendered during the year in finding suitable housing for servicemen, she said.

Various local churches and clubs aided the center in serving refreshments and acting as special hosts.

Coffee was served without charge throughout the year, and during the summer season free ice-drinks were available.

Assistance was occasionally given to servicemen in connection with obtaining employment during off-hours.

Several wedding showers were given for servicemen and their brides during the year, as well as showers for the newborn and "going away" showers.

ART EXHIBITS
The center was used as a display room for exhibits of art sponsored by Las Artistas Club.

Magazines and books available at the center have been contributed by townspeople, Mrs. Smith said.

Throughout the past year, keys to the center were given to a number of servicemen to permit them to use the plant for practice during hours when the center was not officially open.

Plans for organizing a program of square-dancing are under consideration, Mrs. Smith reported.

She has served the organization in her present post for the past three years.

Bottling Firm's Earnings Show 29 Pct. Increase

Its seventh consecutive yearly sales increase and a 29 per cent boost in net earnings on operations during 1956 were reported Monday by Dr. Pepper Company.

It was the biggest sales year in the 71-year-history of the ranking soft drink producer, whose product, Dr. Pepper, is sold in 44 states and four foreign nations.

And it was the biggest earnings year on operations since 1947.

Net income before taxes reached a nine-year high and was up nearly 37 per cent over 1955.

Leonard Green, president of the company, called 1956 "one of our most significant years." Syrup sales to Dr. Pepper bottlers, he said, was greater by more than eight per cent over 1955. Fountain sales were up more than 26 per cent. Green pointed out that 1956 sales were almost 90 per cent higher than in 1949, the year generally regarded by the soft drink industry as the first "normal" year of operation after war rationings and control.

The sales expansion in 1956 was attributed principally to increased

Roach Remedy— Burn The Lights

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police Sgt. Steve Torda Jr. claims he has a remedy for roaches — keep the lights on.

Torda said the lights in the basement at police headquarters have been burning three years and the roaches don't come in — not even to lick the glue off envelopes, which roaches dearly love.

It's cheaper than insecticides, Torda said.

City Is Known As 'Gateway' To West Coast

"Gateway to the West Coast" — that's the newest appellation for Big Spring which has long been known as the transportation hub of West Texas.

The city's location at the intersection of two transcontinental highways is responsible for the "gateway to the West Coast" slogan.

Bus company operators noticed that travelers converged here from all sections of the state to board the highway, rail and air carriers for points along the western coast. They began calling Big Spring "the gateway."

The title isn't without justification. Thousands of persons do move in here from the east, south and north on their way to points west.

MILLION PASSENGERS
Other thousands are headed in the other directions. Well over 1,000,000 persons pass through Big Spring each year on the bus, rail and air lines. Five bus companies that operate here account for at least 750,000 travelers per year, according to estimates by terminal managers. The T&P Railway probably moves 250,000 passengers through the city per year, and Continental Air Lines transports several thousand additional travelers through the local terminal.

Freight carriers also consider Big Spring as a sort of hub of activities in West Texas. More than a dozen truck lines operate out of here along U.S. 87 north and south, U. S. 80 east and west, and the various state highways which radiate from the city.

All rail freight, of course, is moved by the T&P which operates to the east and west.

$4 MILLION PAYROLL
Big Spring's transportation industry, which provides employment for more than 750 persons, accounted for a payroll of more than $4,000,000 here during 1956. More than half was provided by the railroad. Another big chunk of the payroll came from oil transport firms which operate in the neighborhood of 200 trucks out of Big Spring, hauling a quarter of a billion gallons of oil and oil products during the year.

Continental Air Lines operates four flights daily — two east and two west — through Big Spring. Bill Check, Big Spring terminal manager, said an average of about 175 passengers per month boarded the planes here during 1956. Three employees operate the local terminal.

Continental Trailways runs eight daily bus schedules through Big Spring — four east and four west. Big Spring is the home terminal of eight Trailways drivers, said Frank Rice, terminal manager. Six other persons work at the terminal.

The Greyhound bus terminal is stopping and turn-around point for four bus companies — Greyhound; Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma; Kerrville and Big Spring-Snyder Bus Lines.

BUSY BUSLINES
Terminal manager James Owens said six are employed in operation of the local bus station, and quarters are maintained here for an average of three drivers.

During the past year, Greyhound operated 18 daily schedules through Big Spring, Owens said. Nine are to the east and nine are to the west. Like Continental, each schedules in sections which probably average three buses.

Kerrville operates three schedules into Big Spring from the south and three out of Big Spring to the south daily. TNM&O has a similar operation, except that its lines extend northward. Kerrville connects Big Spring with San Antonio, Houston, etc., and TNM&O goes to Denver, Colo.

The Big Spring-Snyder buses operate between Big Spring and Snyder, of course, with one schedule each way daily.

All major van lines have working agreements with Big Spring transfer terminals. Several oil field trucking firms have headquarters or branch terminals here, and two motor freight carriers — Merchants Fast Motor Lines and Sunset Motor Lines — maintain stations here.

Crowd Reacts Violently To Fight Verdict

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—February can be stormy at old St. Nicholas Arena. Just last night, for instance, the ring was ankle deep in paper wads, mashed paper cups, cigar butts and some stray glassware. One corner was flooded when an irate fan turned over a water pail.

A pair of overexcited customers waded up swinging away at one another while several of the 2,176 paying guests climbed the ring to get a better vantage point.

It all started when Referee Harry Ebbets, an old fighter himself, stopped the Sugar Hart-Barry Allison bout after 22 seconds of the seventh round of a 10-round match. He awarded Hart, a Philadelphia hotshot welter, a technical knockout.

To put it mildly, there was a strong dissenting vote from the gallery. Referee Ebbets had just called Dr. Alexander Schiff, a New York State Athletic Commission physician, into the ring to examine Allison after the sixth round. Dr. Schiff found the Springfield, Mass., boy in shape to continue.

Allison hadn't been down although he was rocked at the end of the sixth. According to the official cards he didn't have much chance of winning unless he could knock out Hart. Referee Ebbets had it 6-0 and Judges Bert Grant and Al Singer scored it 5-1 all for Hart through the first six rounds.

The AP had it 4-2 for Hart, who weighed 146½ to Allison's 146½ pounds. Allison, a 4-1 underdog, had many of the fans on his side. They screamed when Hart's body punches skirted the borderline. When Ebbets stopped it unexpectedly they really cut loose.

McMurry Is Added To Lion Schedule

Commerce (AP)—Football Coach J. V. Sikens said yesterday East Texas State will play a 9 or 10 game schedule this year.

Nine games have been scheduled and another may be added, he said. Austin College is missing for the first time in many years and McMurry has been added.

Bovines Invade Odessa Gym For Game Tonight

The only two teams which have hopes of overtaking Abilene in the District 2-AAAA basketball race—and their chances are remote, to say the least—tangle tonight in Odessa.

The resident Bronchos will be playing host to the Big Spring Steers in an 8 o'clock engagement. Reverse teams of the two schools clash at 6:30 o'clock.

Sam Crawford Got News From Cobb

PEARLBLOSSOM, Calif. (AP)—The clear-eyed old-timer pruning the pear tree next to the desert cabin paused as a visitor approached.

When did you get the news that you were named to Baseball's Hall of Fame, he was asked by sports writer Frank Finch of the Los Angeles Times?

Samuel (Wahoo, Sam) Crawford, a trim 76, answered: "My wife Mary called me from our home in Hollywood Sunday night. She told me to get in touch with Ty Cobb up north in Ather-ton. I did and when Ty told me—it was the great climax to my career."

Finch traveled 80 miles, each way, yesterday through mountains and desert to find Wahoo Sam and chin with him about baseball. The old-timer, retired these many years, is still full of the subject.

But he spends much time at his cabin here in the Antelope Valley—says he likes to get away from Hollywood's hustle and smog. He has a few fruit trees on his half-acre plot and many friends in the Pearblossom community of 550.

If necessary, he uses a telephone at a nearby tavern or service station. For 15 years in the American League, Wahoo Sam was one of the fiercest of the Detroit Tigers, second perhaps only to his friend and teammate Ty Cobb.

Crawford had a lifetime average for 19 years of .309 and hit safely 2,964 times. He played in the "dead ball" era but his title of 312 triples still is the major league record.

For many a year, the Tiger outfield of Crawford, Cobb and Bobby Veach streaked many rival managers' hair with grey and sent more than a few opposing pitchers to an early shower.

Old-timers like to recall this often-told banquet story: During a game against the Dodgers, a pitcher was eating a hot dog in the bull pen. From the dug-out the manager waved him into the game.

"Who's coming up?" asked the pitcher. "Cobb, Crawford and Veach." "Hold this," said the pitcher handing the half-eaten hot dog to a teammate. "I'll be right back."

They can put Dave Ricketts' name in the record book now. The Duquesne senior has given college basketball sharpshooters a new target.

Last week he cracked the national collegiate record for consecutive foul conversions, set at 38 by Chet Forte of Columbia earlier this season. He entered last night's game with Niagara boasting 40 straight conversions with many a miss. In the first half he tallied Nos. 41 and 42.

Then—oops!—he missed his first try in the second half. Undaunted, Duquesne went on to win 73-52. Ricketts' performance enlivened a full evening of court activity that saw George Bon Salle score 27 points in his swan song for Illinois, and Hot Rod Hundley of West Virginia wow the spectators by shooting behind his back, dribbling while lying on the floor, and similar capers.

Bon Salle, one of the more prominent academic casualties, was the prime mover in a 96-69 Illinois victory over Ohio State. Despite the loss, the Buckeyes clung to the Big Ten lead, thanks to Michigan's 66-54 victory over second-place Purdue. The triumph left Illinois and Michigan tied for third with Indiana, 74-57 conquerors of Northwestern.

Hundley, who claws only when his team is safely ahead, was the life of an otherwise dull party as West Virginia routed Virginia Military 89-57.

Two of the top 10 teams in the Associated Press weekly poll saw action and one had a real squeaker. Ninth-ranked Iowa State was saved by the gun before winning over Colorado 72-71. A split second after the final gun had sounded, Bob Helzer sank the goal that would have meant a Colorado victory.

Eighth-ranked Bradley had a waltz in beating the University of Portland 107-73.

In the flyweight championship bout, Frank Navaretti, 112, of Pecos, won on a TKO in the first round over Eddie Chavez, 108, Big Spring. The end came after 1:39 minutes.

SMU Returns To 4th In Poll

By MIKE RATHET The Associated Press

Frank McGuire's North Carolina precisionists seem to have found a comfortable home at the top of the Associated Press basketball poll—and they refuse to give it up.

As a result of last week's action, Kansas nudged North Carolina a little, but was unable to dislodge it.

North Carolina, only major unbeaten in the country, made it 16-0 with a 77-54 walloping of weak Western Carolina this past week. The Jayhawks, now 13-1, and Wilt (The Still) Chamberlain defeated a more formidable opponent in Iowa State 75-64.

The sports writers and broadcasters voting in the poll awarded North Carolina 53 first-place votes and 871 points while the Jayhawks closed in with 22 first and 773 points, on the basis of 10 points for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

The other teams in the top 10 received quite a shuffling. Kentucky moved into the No. 3 position, displacing Louisville, which dropped all the way to sixth after its 81-73 loss to Memphis State.

Wake Forest, winner of three Atlantic Coast Conference tests, became the lone newcomer in the top 10 while Illinois took its place at No. 15, dropping from seventh after its loss to Purdue.
