Hungary Opens First Martial - Law Trial

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communist-ruled Hungary today opened its first public martial law trial against a couple accused of killing a member of their band of freedom fighters who gave information to the Russians.

The accused, Maria Wiszt and Endre Csorba, belonged to a band that successfully resisted the Russians for days in the fighting last November.

Atom-Powered Plane Project Is Slowed Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official disclosure that the atom powered plane project has been slowed down comes from the Pentagon, along with a hint that some guided missiles may be pared out of that weapon development program.

Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, assistant secretary of defense for research and development, told newsmen yesterday the reasons are technical rather than economic.

He was asked specifically about the project to perfect an airplane driven by the power of a nuclear reactor. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) told a TV audience Sunday defense officials have almost abandoned work on the project "because they don't want to spend the money."

Further remarks suggested the designers are again confronted with the basic trouble: the atomic reactor must be lighter in weight than those now being tried, and the necessity for a quantity of radiation-proof shielding persists.

Investigators Look Into Utah Pen Riot

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP) — Investigators descended on Utah State Prison last night in the wake of a 12-hour riot among more than 600 inmates.

The rioters surveyed what Warden Marcel Graham termed "several thousand dollars' worth of damage and listened to 'suggestions' from the quiet convicts.

Armed inmates captured 29 hostages, set fires in mattresses, smashed into the prison storehouse and looted the infirmary Wednesday.

When they yielded early yesterday after conferences with Gov. George D. Clyde and other state officials, the rioters controlled all but the administration portion of the six-year-old prison.

One guard and two convicts were hurt. Guard Lt. Marion L. Coleman, stabbed in the stomach, was reported in "good" condition.

Inmate Alvin Straus, pushed through interior gates by the rioters after a being returned from a hospital in nearby Salt Lake City and released fellow prisoners.

marom had killed himself with a hand grenade rather than face trial before a summary court. Such courts have power to order hanging immediately.

Crooked, Blue Canals Seen On Planet Mars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Something new on Mars—a network of irregular blue lines running through the bright red desert areas of the planet—is reported by a California astronomer.

They were seen fleetingly by Dr. Robert S. Richardson through the Mt. Wilson 60-inch telescope June 3, 1956.

Dr. Richardson noted several other details as the planet approached the earth but never saw the intriguing blue lights again.

Mars then was 74 million miles away. It was coming toward the earth but did not reach its closest point until Sept. 7, when it was only 35,131,000 miles away.

The crooked blue lines probably are canals, Dr. Richardson said. But they are different from the long, straight lines heretofore seen by astronomers. The straight lines also have been called canals but they are a matter of much speculation.

Another difference noted by Dr. Richardson was that the desert canals were "distinctly blue" and looked something like veins running through a chunk of mineral. Other observers have described the better known straight lines as merely dark or gray.

N. Mexico Host Is Perle Mesta Rival

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — State Rep. Tom Bolack, an oil and gas man who has been known to feed as many as 2,000 persons on game that he personally has bagged.

The guests were mainly Bolack's legislative colleagues and their friends.

He introduced House Bill 100 and tradition called for the dinner.

They dined on moose, caribou and white Alaskan sheep, all shot in Alaska; Wyoming buffalo; Colorado elk; and Barbary sheep, deer and black bear from New Mexico.

Bolack estimates he shoots about a ton of wild game a year in the Western states and Alaska.

Bolack is 33, with hair that has been snow-white for years. Highly successful now, he has known hard times. Legend has it that he was practically broke when the San Juan gas basin on which he had staked everything finally was brought in as a rich gas producer several years ago.

Bolack, who rejected suggestions of fellow Republicans that he run for Congress, has always been an ardent hunter. He began giving his wild game dinners a dozen years or so ago, the first one being for the Elks Club of Winfield, Kan. Last month he fed 600 at his home town, Farmington, N.M.

The largest crowd he ever fed was 2,000 at a five-state meeting of firemen at Artek, a year ago. Bolack summarized a typical year's kill this way: a buffalo, 600 pounds of meat; a moose, at least 600; a caribou, 300 to 300; an elk, 300; and deer from various states.

"I killed everything worth serving, and packed most of it out on my back," he said, "especially in Alaska where you and your guide pack out everything."

Bolack was up at 5 yesterday morning, preparing the 400 pounds of meat that went into six ovens of the La Fonda, hotel scene of his party.

"I will have to talk to the governor first," he said. "He evidently made certain commitments."

A few hours after the prisoners returned to their cells the Utah Board of Corrections, a committee of legislators and others appointed by the governor began separate investigations.

Prisoners voice grievances. Utah State Prison inmates Billy Randall, left, and Joe Valdez, both wearing dark glasses, tell news-grievances of rioting prisoners. The list of 43 "suggestions" for improving prison conditions was presented to Governor George D. Clyde when he came to the prison at Point-of-the-Mountain.

Paper Reports Rift Between Queen, Duke

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Sun says London's cafe society is "talking openly of a rift between Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh."

A London dispatch by Sun correspondent Joan Graham reports: "The whisper started last summer. It was then hinted by the know-it-alls that the Duke of Edinburgh had more than a passing interest in an unnamed woman and was meeting her regularly in the private apartment of Baron, the court photographer who died of heart trouble at the age of 46 last fall."

The dispatch said the gossip gained ground that the Queen's husband was "being got out of the country to cool off," when it was announced that he was to make a four-month round-the-world tour.

The Duke is now at Gibraltar on the last stages of his tour on the royal yacht Britannia. The Sun said it originally had been planned for him to return to London to spend a week with the Queen before she sets out for a state visit to Portugal, Feb. 18-21.

But these plans were dropped unaccountably, and the Duke was whisked away the time at Gibraltar until Feb. 15, when he will sail to meet the Queen at Lisbon. The Queen evidently will spend a couple of days with him on board the Britannia before starting the state visit to Portugal.

The paper added that those who believe there is a rift think the Duke's tour was drawn out unnecessarily.

The Sun said the rumors that all is not well in the royal family had been going on for some months and "are now percolating down to the British masses who only know about the royal family what is printed in the British press."

No hint of a rift has appeared in British newspapers. The Duke was on his tour at Christmas time. The Queen and her husband exchanged radio greetings.

"We pray, in words used thousands of years ago, that the Lord watch between me and thee when we are absent, one from another," the Duke's message said.

The Queen, in her Christmas broadcast to the British Commonwealth and colonies, said "You will understand me when I tell you that, of all the voices which we have heard this afternoon, none has given my children and myself greater joy than that of my husband."

The royal couple married Nov. 20, 1947. They have two children, Prince Charles, 8, the heir apparent; and Princess Anne, 6.

Saud, Ike Meet In Final Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and King Saud of Saudi Arabia closed themselves alone—except for the King's interpreter—as they met today to wind up talks on Mideast problems.

They reportedly had already reached agreement on a range of questions they have discussed in the talks which started more than a week ago.

U.S. Red Meeting May Admit Observers

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Committee of the American Communist party proposed yesterday to admit certain non-Communist observers to the party's 16th annual convention opening here tomorrow.

Several Blocks Re-Open In Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Several blocks of Virginia Street — main street of this gaming and divorce center — reopened today after being closed following Tuesday's gas explosions and fires.

Utah State Prison inmates Billy Randall, left, and Joe Valdez, both wearing dark glasses, tell news-grievances of rioting prisoners. The list of 43 "suggestions" for improving prison conditions was presented to Governor George D. Clyde when he came to the prison at Point-of-the-Mountain.

Rains Raise Flood In Abilene Region

Caboose On End. Caboose of a freight train perches precariously on its end, snuck up against the front of a freight locomotive which crashed into it near Richmond Hill, a Toronto, Ont., suburb. The crash of the two freight trains blocked a main line of the Canadian National Railways for three hours. The two trainmen riding in the caboose jumped to safety just before the crash.

6-Inch Downpour Hits Drought Area

By The Associated Press. The Clear Fork of the Brazos River was receding rapidly at Sylvester in Fisher County Friday after rains up to 6 inches sent its floodwaters over farm lands of that drought area.

Two families that were evacuated at Sylvester were expected to return to their homes during the day.

The crest of the flooding river was due at Hawley, 12 miles north of Abilene, and later in the night at Lueders. No damage was expected at either place, the Highway Patrol at Abilene said.

Part of the Lueders Baptist encampment grounds were flooded Thursday.

Farm Road 57, northeast of Sylvester, was washed out in one place, almost washed out in a second and closed to traffic.

The river crest passed Sylvester early Friday after spreading several hundred yards out of its banks east of the city.

Sheriff A. Rollins of Roby said U.S. 180 between Anson and Roby was closed to traffic from 9 p.m. until last midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Moore, who live 20 miles north of Sweetwater, said their car was washed into a nearby creek after it became stuck Thursday in a ravine following heavy rains.

The river, just east of Sylvester, spread several hundred yards out of its banks near the city. The water was expected to recede slowly. Rains in the area ceased during the night.

U.S. 180 between Roby and Anson was closed from 9 p.m. until last midnight, Rollins said.

The high water washed out some terraced farmlands, but the sheriff said he didn't expect it to reach farm homes.

The heaviest rain reported was at the Harold Fomby ranch, in southwest Fisher County, where 6 inches was recorded and where a deluge washed out a stock tank dam Thursday.

The rains filled stock tanks and provided pasture reviving moisture over the entire area.

Fog and clouds blanketed much of Texas except the extreme west, where skies were clear.

Light drizzles fell at Childress, Fort Worth, Dallas and Galveston.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 34 degrees at Dalhart to 71 at Corpus Christi.

The State Highway Department in Austin said the washout on Farm Road 57, between U.S. 180 and a culvert, would be reopened some time next week.

In Jones County the Clear Fork of the Brazos was expected to close Farm 126 and other Farm roads in the area for a short time Friday.

U.S. engineers said 2,684,000,000 gallons of water seeped into the four lakes serving Dallas since Tuesday.

The long-range forecast called for continued mild weather over most of the state for the next five days with widely scattered showers through Wednesday over much of the state. There may be locally moderate moisture in West Texas mainly from the Pecos Valley eastward and northward through Wednesday.

Lamesa Police Chief Resigns During Fuss

LAMESA — Sam Floyd, chief of police of Lamesa for the past six years, resigned his office Thursday as a climax to a split in the police department.

His resignation was accepted by City Manager Carroll Taylor, Taylor named Capt. Emmett Creel as acting chief and the appointment was confirmed by the city council last night.

Prior to his becoming police chief here, Floyd served two years as deputy sheriff in Dawson County and six years as sheriff of Lynn County.

In his letter to the city manager, resigning from the post, he said he was doing so because interference by the administration in the administration of the police department had become "intolerable."

Floyd had fired three police department members in the past two weeks. He discharged Patrolmen Harold Parsons, and Herman Hamilton and Dispatcher Glenda Crump.

Patrolman David Hughes resigned on Thursday in protest to what he called "unfair tactics" in the dismissal of Parsons.

The city council was told of the resignation at its meeting last night and approved the action of the city manager in accepting the resignation and in naming Capt. Creel as acting chief.

Stanton Youths In Title 'Sweep'

Elbert Steele, whose record in poultry closely parallels that of Durward Levter in livestock while serving as Howard County agent, saw his proteges sweep the field at Abilene Thursday.

In fact, Denna Kay Steele, the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steele, sacked up the grand championship and the reserve championship in the capon division.

Glenn Mitchell and Oral Turner showed the champion and reserve, respectively, in the broiler class, and Ronnie George and Leon Mattingly had the champion and reserve champion, respectively, in the turkey broiler.

So complete was the Stanton FFA domination of the poultry class that they took the first eight places out of 10 in the pen of three capon class. Jack Hildreth had the champion pen, followed in order by Jim Standifer, Norman Donaldson, Freddy Martin, Fred Houston, Bobby Wren, Butch Haggard and Donnie Hull.

The victory was all the more impressive because there were more than 900 birds in the exhibit, a volume so large that it took Doyle Graves, Tarleton College poultry department head, until late in the evening to complete judging.

Deanna's champion capon was a heavyweight White Rock tipping the scales at 14 1/2 pounds. It was hatched on April 30, 1956. While this is her first year on the show circuit and the third show in which she participated, Deanna has compiled an enviable record. She had the champion trio at Stanton and the reserve champion individual bird there: the champion poultry display at Lamesa; and now the Abilene title.

Not all Stanton honors were confined to the poultry division, for Bobby Sale, who last week showed the grand champion of the Southwestern Livestock Exposition at Fort Worth on his own, handled his sisters calf "Sancho," to the championship of the drylot division. This steer, bred by their father, J. C. Sale, was classy enough to stand off a host of milked animals and win the reserve title of the show.

In the pens of broilers division, Glenn Mitchell and Oral Turner had birds that averaged 5 1/2 pounds at nine weeks. Finishing fourth in the class was Freddy Martin and Leon Mattingly was fifth and Jerrod Mattingly was seventh.

Third place in the turkey class went to Ronnie George and fifth to Leon Mattingly.

G. O. Rice, 84, Dies Thursday

George O. Rice, 84, resident of Big Spring for 64 years, died in a hospital here last night.

A retired carpenter, he formerly worked for the Burton Lingo Lumber Company here and at one time was a construction foreman for the Howard County road department.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 p.m. Saturday at the River Funeral Chapel with Rev. Bill Ervin of Sand Springs officiating. Interment will be in City Cemetery beside the grave of his wife, who died May 14, 1946.

Mr. Rice is survived by six sons, Perry, Ira and Woodrow Rice, all of Big Spring, Bill Rice of Midland, Oliver Rice of Odessa and Foster Rice of Illinois; six daughters, Mrs. C. R. Landermilk and Mrs. Mary Petty of Big Spring, Mrs. H. L. Butts of Odessa, Mrs. Nell Williams of Brownwood and Mrs. Dot Martin of Odessa; 41 grandchildren and 49 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Earl Robinson, Milard Petree, Richard Landermilk, Harley Butte, Louie Keith Rice, Grover Lloyd Williams, Jerrill Gibson and Jimmy Floyd Rice.

Car Disintegrates, Driver Is Killed

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (AP) — A speeding car disintegrated against a tree today, scattering wreckage over a city block on the eastern outskirts of Mishawaka. Police tried to determine what caused a third skid mark along three-lane U. S. 33.

The driver, Joseph O. Wachs, 22, Mishawaka, was killed when he was thrown against the porch of a house, then bounced 25 feet away.

Patrolman Alex Nagy said the third mark along the 180-foot skid route may have been some part of the 1956 model car dropping off, throwing the car out of control. He said there were no estimates of the car's speed.

Lake Thomas Rises A Foot

Runoff from heavy thundershowers on the watershed in Dawson and Borden Counties gave promise of a foot rise in the level of Lake J. B. Thomas.

Friday at noon the elevation was 2,249.12, which was .86 of a foot gain. This represented more than 5,000 acre feet of water, or about 1.3 billion gallons.

O. H. Ivie, production superintendent, said that water was coming down the Bull Creek channel about four feet deep and the Colorado River also was running some at noon. Another lake in the area, Lake Colorado City, gained .10 of a foot and was at elevation 2,061.40.

Detroit's Phantom Sniper Is Caught

DETROIT (AP) — A phantom gunman whose nighttime sniping terrorized women in suburban north Detroit since Christmas broke out in a wild shooting spree last night, blazing a trail through four communities.

Prowling the area in a car, the trigger-happy sniper wounded two girls, fired on women standing in bus stops and peppered cars and homes with .22-caliber rifle shots.

Two hours after the first shot was fired, police nabbed Gary Addison Taylor, 20, of suburban Southfield Township. He was cornered after a wild hide-and-seek police car chase that led down side streets and alleys.

Oakland County Asst. Prosecutor William Lang said Taylor told him he was the phantom sniper.

Lang quoted Taylor as saying: "I just had an urge to shoot at women."

Lang said Taylor, a factory worker, appeared to be a mild-mannered, shy youth.

He was held without charge. Last night's outbreak began when Shirley Eland, 19, was shot in the shoulder as she stepped on to the porch of her home in Bloomfield Hills about 20 miles north of Detroit. She was not seriously hurt.

Then the gunman headed toward southern Oakland County toward Detroit.

A bullet was fired from a passing car at two women standing in a Royal Oak bus stop. The shot went between them, piercing the cloth of both their coats.

Five minutes later a shot pinged through the rear of a station wagon about three blocks south of the bus stop.

In the next 30 minutes shots were reported by an 18-year-old girl who was fired on but not hit, by four home owners whose windows were shattered, and by Vincent McCarthy, whose 11-year-old daughter Carol Ann was hit. The bullet grazed her cheek as she sat on a sofa in the living room of her home.

The sniper first struck the night of Dec. 23 when he shot a girl in the back. She was not seriously injured.

The sniping was sporadic after that. Most of the targets were women.

'New Life' Try Fails

Mrs. Eleanor Hayams, 32, who abandoned her four children in a New York church, Jan. 12, and left to establish "a new life and home" for them, strokes the hair of her boy friend, Robert York, 19, after the pair were arrested in Corpus Christi. Mrs. Hayams and York were retained by New York authorities.

Tigua Indians Say Farewell To Chief

By JOE DEMIC
El Paso Times
(Written for The Associated Press)

YSLETA, Tex. — Anticeto Granillo, cacique (chief) of the Tigua Indians, slept in the far country of the Great Spirit today.

Death came with Tuesday morning's sun for the aged chief, near 90.

Over his body an honor guard kept watch.

Then to the great mission his people helped build nearly three centuries ago the old chief was borne. In Requiem Mass the tribe of the Tigua prayed.

The hour was one for solemn remembrance.

For this church, which since the year 1633 has sheltered the Tigua people, is the third home they have known.

The Tiguas had been the first of the tribes to embrace Christianity in the land beyond El Paso del Norte. When the Spaniards came in 1580, they found this civilized people tiling the earth beside the great river and holding a belief in immortality and one god.

When the wild tribes of the mountains and nomads of the plains descended on the peaceful settlements a century later, the Tiguas and priests and Gov. Antonio de Otermun fled southward from Isleta Pueblo, south of present-day Albuquerque, N.M.

In this new and quiet place beneath Franklin Mountain the tribe halted and built the mission of Corpus Christi de la Ysleta del Sur.

From the ancient house of worship the chief came to enter the earth. Beside him the war captain bore his great drum, and when they laid the cacique down there were placed above him the staffs of the cacique and the algeuici, his insignia of office.

To his side stepped his eldest son, who called aloud to his father. There was silence and then again the call.

Failing to hear an answer, the son called out once more.

Then he asked that the lid of the casket be opened and he knelt. Slowly he touched the forehead of the chief and then his lips and his hands. For a second he bowed and then stood again straight and tall.

A younger son stepped forward and likewise took leave of the cacique.

There came then other kinsmen, black-shawled and tearful, humble but ramrod straight. The leaders of the tribe and friends and toddlers all bade their leader goodbye.

Upon the lowered casket each one cast a handful of earth. Then, to the head of the grave the war captain stepped again. In his arms he held the great drum, and under his hands, the drum boomed out a final farewell.

In silence, the Tiguas filed away.

Pool bill would do, without the additional cost of elections.

In submitting the bill for emergency consideration, Daniel said it "is important to the welfare of Texas and should be decided without delay."

Among bills introduced in the House yesterday was one by Rep. Ben Sudderth of Gustine to raise an estimated $250,000 annually from the sale of pleasure boats and motors with money going to the Game and Fish Commission.

Gov. Price Daniel tagged Rep. Joe Pool's bill as emergency legislation yesterday, thus making the required number of Senate votes for passage 21, or two-thirds.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey assigned the bill to the Privileges and Elections Committee, which met briefly after both Houses recessed until Monday, and called a hearing for 7:30 p.m. Monday. The proposal would require a runoff if the high man did not receive a majority of the votes April 2.

A counter bill by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin also is pending at that time. It would cancel Daniel's call for a Senate election April 2 and leave appointed Sen. William Blankley in Washington until Daniel's term expires in January 1959.

Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso predicted the Herring bill "will pick up strength in the Senate."

He said it "accomplishes all the

State Orders Probe Of Insurance Firm

AUSTIN — The ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas today was temporarily out of business while awaiting receivership proceedings on a charge of being "hopelessly insolvent" by the State Insurance Commission.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts yesterday issued a 10-day temporary restraining order against the company on charges that it was $4,460,243.17 in the red and owed its policy holders $2,990,243.17.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said he asked for the temporary order independently of the commission's receivership proceedings on the Stock Fire and Casualty Insurance Co. The order also affects the company's officials and eleven banks in Texas, Arkansas and California.

The banks were ordered not to allow any transactions involving ICT Insurance Co. assets, except for paying employees salaries or current office expenses which may come due during the period.

The company was ordered by the Insurance Commission to show cause Feb. 19 why its authority to operate should not be lifted and the company put into receivership.

Wilson said the temporary restraining order does not affect an ICT subsidiary, the ICT Life Insurance Co. of Dallas.

"The commission alleged that the company is not possessed of sufficient assets to enable it to pay such claims as they become due in the usual course of business."

The commission alleged that the firm has "engaged in pledging valuable assets for the purpose of borrowing money to pay certain of its creditors and policy holders, thus rendering such pledged assets unavailable for the protection of those general creditors and policy holders whose claims remain unpaid."

The restraining order named officers of ICT Insurance Co. as James Cage, president and E. A. McSpadden, secretary, "or such other officers as may be found at the home office address."

Depositories included Republic National Bank and Mercantile National Bank, both of Dallas; First National Bank, McGregor; First National Bank, Dallas, and City National Bank, Wichita Falls.

The ICT Insurance Co. was organized in 1950 as the Insurance Co. of Texas with a small number of stockholders of whom Jack Ben Cage was one. His name was changed to the ICT Insurance Co. in 1954.

In 1951 the company was broadened with the sale of stock to a large number of persons belonging to labor unions and others. One official recently said the company now has about 14,000 stockholders, most of whom are members of labor unions.

Bracero Protest Meet Cancelled

HARLINGEN — A meeting to plan for fighting new bracero policies of the Department of Labor was postponed indefinitely yesterday.

The meeting had been called by George Spence, chairman of a West Texas committee formed in Abilene Wednesday. His plan was to form a South Texas committee and expand the two groups into a statewide organization of bracero users.

Residents Ask Tax Relief On Garages

SOMERVILLE, Mass. — A group of Somerville residents will meet Monday to discuss the possibility of obtaining tax abatements on their garages. They claim new cars are too big and too long to fit in some garages and they are forced to park them on the street.

Actress In Legal Dilemma

LOS ANGELES — Actress Anne Nagel is in a legal dilemma as tortuous as some of the scripts she has enacted.

She wants $400 temporary alimony. Her divorce from Air Force Lt. Col. James H. Keenan, 44, isn't final.

Superior Court ruled yesterday that the 41-year-old Miss Nagel must (A) dispose of the inconclusive interlocutory decree she got from Keenan in 1951 or (B) withdraw her separate maintenance suit for $400 monthly.

Interlocutory divorces in California aren't final for a year, or until a final decree has been entered by the court. Keenan tried to get the final decree entered Wednesday, but Miss Nagel blocked this by testifying they reconciled the night of the day the interlocutory divorce was granted.

Reconciliation within the one-year period invalidates interlocutory decrees in California. The Keenans marital status today: stalemate.

Postmaster Asks Dogs Be Tied Up

MOBILE, Ala. — Three postmen were bitten by dogs yesterday and Postmaster Taylor Henry again asked residents to keep their dogs tied up. He said eight postmen have been bitten in 1957 and said the year's total would surpass last year's 23 if the trend continues.

Senate Panel Plans Public Hearing Monday On Runoff

AUSTIN — A Senate committee will hold a public hearing Monday night to consider the special runoff election bill aimed at the U.S. Senate race.

Gov. Price Daniel tagged Rep. Joe Pool's bill as emergency legislation yesterday, thus making the required number of Senate votes for passage 21, or two-thirds.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey assigned the bill to the Privileges and Elections Committee, which met briefly after both Houses recessed until Monday, and called a hearing for 7:30 p.m. Monday. The proposal would require a runoff if the high man did not receive a majority of the votes April 2.

Western Hatcheries wants to place 3,000 breeder hens in this area immediately. This is an excellent opportunity to supplement lagging farm income as is being done in neighboring drought stricken communities. For example, the San Saba area started four years ago with 12,000 breeder hens, paid to growers $124,000.00 in 1954, and now has 40,000 breeders. Brady, Llano, and Brownwood with similar projects are still expanding. Growers have netted $1.75 to $3.25 a bird per year. These and many other communities have proved that producing hatching eggs for WESTERN HATCHERIES is good business.

Ninth Graders Order Caps, Gowns

By ROBI ANN ROBINSON
Ending YMCA Week, Kappa Hi Tri-Hi-Y members attended services at the First Methodist Church. After the worship, they all had dinner together at the Wagon Wheel.

A group of Rainbow girls attended services at the First Baptist Church.

Say, don't forget the magazine sales campaign. It needs to be pushed to a conclusion.

If you haven't seen the Ned Smullivan Show (Faculty Follies), you still can get your ticket at the door this evening. It's a killer!

Tuesday we had a treat in getting out of school at 2:45 p.m. to attend the String Symphonette concert at the City Auditorium. This was a required affair for choir members, who, incidentally, struggled through a long week of early morning rehearsals in preparation for a radio broadcast Thursday over KBST. Bill Engle served as master of ceremonies; Layla Glaser played a piano solo; and Malinda Crocker was featured in a whistle solo. The choir sang four numbers.

If you've noticed a smug look on the faces of ninth graders it's only because they got to order their caps and gowns this week. Naturally they're real thrilled. And another smiling group was those who took part in pictures taken of the various clubs and organizations.

Thursday was a memorable date at junior high, for football boys received their miniature footballs. The eighth graders were gold with a red "B" letter, and the ninth grade's were silver with red letters.

Thursday we had our last pep rally and thanks are due the cheer leaders for doing such a wonderful job supporting the different sports this year. They are Pat Johnson, Linda Limer, Fredda Bonifield, Mary Reed, Shirley Terry and Marilyn Bigham. This was Pat's second year as a cheer leader.

Couple Caught In Church Burglaries

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A teen-age husband and wife, caught yesterday on the roof of a church by police investigating a burglary report, told the officers they burglarized 13 churches to make a living.

City detectives said David Fitzpatrick, 19, told them he lost his job as a railroad fireman in October and that he and his wife, 17, had been sleeping in their car because they couldn't pay their rent.

Police estimate the couple netted about $350 from thefts since October.

Egypt To Seek Death For 'Spies'

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt will seek the death penalty for four Britons and 12 other persons charged with spying after the Suez Canal was nationalized last July.

Little Change In Nation's Weather

By The Associated Press
The nation's weather showed little change today, a continuation of fog, drizzle and cloudiness in much of the eastern half, some snow in Northwest areas, and rain along the Pacific Coast.

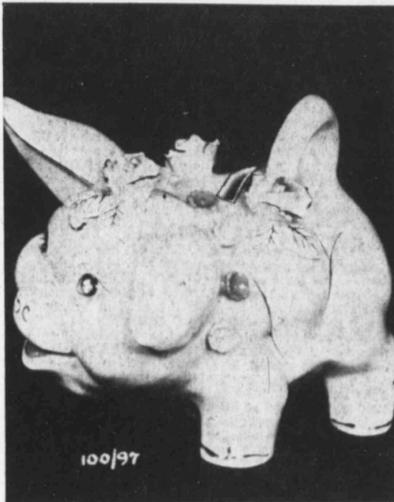

Fog blanketed wide areas in the eastern half of the country except the extreme northern and southern sections. Drizzle or rain sprinkled broad areas from southeastern Nebraska southward to northern Texas and eastward into parts of the middle and south Atlantic Coast states. Freezing drizzle was reported in southern Iowa. Heaviest rain was in southern Missouri and northern Arkansas.

Sees Son For First Time On TV Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—George Kilgore, 57, saw his son yesterday for the first time on a TV show. The son is Jack Dean, 34, of Pasadena, Tex.

Kilgore, a surveyor, said he and Dean's mother were divorced in Louisiana in 1922 when the son was born and that he believed both of them had died. Dean said he believed his father was dead until a few weeks ago when his grandmother told him his father might be alive. He wrote to a number of towns where his father lived and a postmaster at Harshoren, Okla., gave Dean the father's address in Oxnard, Calif.

Final Surveys Planned For Airport Site

County officials are preparing to obtain field notes and make essential surveys preliminary to preparations of deeds for the 327 acres of land needed for the Howard County Airport.

Now that the deals have been closed with the owners of the land the county is in a position to push ahead with its plans for the airport, R. H. Weaver, county judge, explained.

First task is to acquire title to the land and the field notes and surveys must be made in order to expedite this phase of the program.

Meantime, Weaver said, the engineers are pushing ahead with plans and specifications for the project. He has no information on when these will be ready. It was pointed out that delay in getting the land and certain changes made in the location of the airport have handicapped the engineers to a degree in finishing their work.

Thursday, the County Commissioners and D. C. Buchanan reached an agreement on the 200-acre tract Buchanan owned. This completes arrangements for the purchase of the land. Two other owners, J. Johnson and J. T. Sherrod, had already agreed to sell their land to the county. Johnson owned 40 acres of the tract needed and Sherrod 87.

Cost of the land will run approximately $39,000. Total money available to build the airport is $500,000. Officials are worried whether the money allocated will be sufficient to provide the kind of airport the county needs. They say that every possible economy must be practiced if the project is to be kept within the limits set.

There have been estimates that as much as eight months may be needed for the project to approach completion and that it is quite probable the port cannot be put in operation before next year.

Weaver said that he and Jack Cook, chairman of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee, will be flown to the conference on Wednesday of next week.

MAKE PAY-DAYS EARLY IN WEEK, MERCHANTS GROUP SUGGESTS

A suggestion was made today that business firms in the city which pay weekly, on Fridays and Saturdays, consider changing pay-days to earlier in the week.

The idea came from the merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, whose members were discussing problems arising from the banks now being closed on Saturdays. Members said the problem of check-cashing on the weekend is creating a problem of keeping sufficient cash on hand. They felt that some of the burden could be alleviated if companies paying weekly could arrange to move pay-days up, so that so many checks would not be in circulation on Saturdays.

The proposal is to go to the C-C board of directors for consideration, and then a survey may be made to ascertain if changing payroll days could be accomplished without undue hardship.

IN ODESSA

Family Reunited After 21 Years

ODESSA (AP)—A family separated for nearly 21 years was united today by telephone and an Associated Press story in the Odessa American.

John Darville, 49, who lost touch with four brothers and a sister in the 1930s, talked to Stanley R. Darville, 43, at Andros, Bahamas.

He discovered that all the brothers and sisters were in the Bahamas. John and part of his family plan to visit them as soon as his son gets out of the Air Force to operate his business.

Stanley and John talked by long distance for about 10 minutes today.

"We both were so excited," said John, "that we couldn't talk much to each other. We just stammered around for 10 minutes."

He quoted Stanley as saying, "I never heard any better news in my life."

During the conversation, he found that brother Bertram, 53; a sister, Mearl, 45, all live in Nassau, Bahamas.

First contact was made last Wednesday when John picked up his Odessa American.

"Usually," he said, "I read page one first. But for some reason I opened the paper to page 20."

On that page was a column by Hal Boyle, Associated Press writer, about Stanley and his work as a government commissioner in the Islands.

"I nearly fell over in a faint," said John, when he saw his brother's name after trying to contact him for so long.

John said he lost contact when he left Tampa, Fla., in 1936 job hunting during the depression.

He came to Odessa in 1940 and

Survivors, in addition to her husband, Joe Wisdom of Hobbs, include two brothers, Gilbert Gramham, Big Spring; and Kenneth Gramham, San Angelo; and a sister, Mrs. Goldy Newlon, Hobbs, N.M.

Another Tire, Wheel Stolen

For the third time this week, theft of a tire and wheel was reported Thursday.

In the other two instances, business firms lost the items, but Thursday, H. F. Edwards, 223 Elm, called the police department and reported the loss.

Edwards said it was either taken while his car was parked in front of the Elm address or while parked at 501 E. 3rd Wednesday night.

A 30-foot antenna was stolen from Mrs. John Crisp at Dixie Courts Wednesday night. The antenna was on the ground beside the house at the time of the theft.

Southwest Tool Company, 902 E. 2nd, reported loss of an electric drill either Wednesday or Thursday night.

Mrs. Edgar Ray, 1525 E. 17th, lost one fenderisk from a 1955 Mercury. She said the item was taken sometime between 9 and 10:30 p.m. Thursday.

Trustees Of HCJC Establish Policies

Howard County Junior College trustees met briefly Thursday noon to peg some dates and policies.

Career Day, to which seniors of high schools in the surrounding area will be invited as guests of the college, will be held March 22.

The board also confirmed plans for attendance at the junior college session in Austin Monday and Tuesday.

The policy governing off-campus Bible courses was adopted formally. Key points in the policy are that the course must conform to requirements for any other regular college course and that it must pay for itself.

Officers Investigate Report Of Burglary

Jack Shaffer, deputy sheriff, Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney's office, and Leo Hull, city detective, were at the Loy Acuff ranch west of Big Spring Friday morning investigating a burglary, Miller Harris, sheriff, said.

The sheriff explained that a call had come in from the ranch reporting the crime but that no details were provided. The officers were told that tracks of the car apparently used by the thieves had been located and the officers were prepared to make casts of these tracks.

Jail Term Levied On Plea Of Guilty

Alene Kelley, charged with theft, pleaded guilty to the charge before R. H. Weaver, county judge, Friday morning and was sentenced to one day in jail.

The woman told the judge she had only recently been released from the Big Spring State Hospital and that she had no memory of stealing a watch from Patty Orr, her companion at a beach place east of town. The owner of the watch said it was valued at $40. The watch was recovered.

Shows Improvement

Joe Blissard is making satisfactory progress at Cowper Hospital where he underwent major surgery on Wednesday.

Holidays Set, Sales Program Is Planned

Official business holidays for Big Spring were established, and plans for semi-annual, city-wide sales promotion events were discussed at a meeting of the merchants committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce this morning.

The group voted for observance of the same list of holidays as in 1956. These include:

Memorial Day, May 30; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, Sept. 5; Thanksgiving Day, November 24; Christmas Day, Dec. 25; and New Year's Day, January 1.

A sub-committee was appointed by Chairman Adolph Swartz to submit detailed proposals for a citywide sales program, to be staged probably in the spring and fall. This would be in the nature of Appreciation Days, and would mean offering of special values throughout the city over a three-day period.

The subcommittee on this proposal includes Cliff Epps, Bryce Wington, Jack Watkins, Gilbert Gibbs, J. R. Stanley, Jim Zack and O. J. Gregory. The group will meet next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The merchants group this morning also voted to ask state senators and representatives to support a bill before the Legislature to set the official Thanksgiving holiday in Texas on the fourth Thursday in November. This would coincide with the national Thanksgiving holiday, and would avert a "double observance" such as occurred in 1956, when there are five Thursdays in November.

Duke Replaces Aide After Divorce Rumor

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh today appointed as a stopgap secretary a jet fighter pilot whose wife doesn't expect a "home at 5" husband.

Squadron Leader Henry Chinery, 33-year-old father of two young daughters, will stand in for Lt. Cdr. Michael Parker, 36, who resigned his palace post when news leaked out he was separated from his wife—with a divorce likely. A permanent secretary will be announced later.

Chinery, who was with the Duke on his four-month, 35,000-mile global tour in the royal yacht Britannia, has been a royal equerry for a year, on leave from the Royal Air Force. Chinery's wife, Irene, adopts a philosophic attitude toward her husband's frequent absences from home on royal business.

"When he commanded a squadron I scarcely ever saw him," she told a reporter a few days ago. "Now, at least, in normal times he comes out most evenings since joining the palace staff."

Chinery was educated at Eton. His appointment would indicate a return to old tradition in selecting royal equeries from upper-crust English families.

The old tradition of selecting royal equeries was first flouted by the late King George VI. He appointed Group Captain Peter Townsend as a reward for his achievements as a fighter pilot during the war.

Like Parker, Townsend was "up from the ranks" and ran into domestic difficulties. Townsend stayed on as an equerry even after divorcing his wife—but was suddenly moved out of the palace court and sent overseas as British air attaché to Belgium after his romance with Princess Margaret came to light. Townsend has since resigned from the Royal Air Force and is on a "round-the-world tour."

Friends say Parker resigned to save the royal family the embarrassment of becoming involved in a possible divorce suit. The tabloid Daily Mirror raised an editorial protest this morning against "out-of-date" attitudes in the palace court to such things as divorce.

The Duke is in Gibraltar after a tour. He will travel there until joining Queen Elizabeth Feb. 18 in Portugal for a three-day state visit. They have not seen each other since the Duke took off for the Olympic games last Oct. 15.

Parker left the Britannia at Gibraltar when the royal yacht reached there with the Duke and 300 other persons—all men except for two palace secretaries—Anne Stevenson, 24, and Iona Eadie, 20.

Death Claims Mrs. Fryar, 75

Mrs. J. W. Fryar, 75, resident of Howard County since 1905, died early today in a local hospital. She had been in poor health for about a year.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church. River Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Fryar, the former Ida B. Walker, was born Jan. 18, 1882, at Maysville, Ala. She moved with her parents to Rising Star, Texas, in 1901.

She and Mr. Fryar were married June 15, 1902, at Rising Star. They moved to Howard County in 1905, and settled on a farm north of Coahoma where they lived for 17 years before purchasing a farm near Fairview northwest of Big Spring.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien will officiate at services Saturday afternoon. He will be assisted by Rev. Roy Fish and Rev. Rudy Sullivan. Interment will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Fryar is survived by her husband, seven sons, Shirley, Frank, R. V., J. W., W. C. and Harvey Fryar, all of Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Edger Phillips of Big Spring and Mrs. W. C. McWilliams of Fredericksburg; one sister, Mrs. Ina Monteith of Big Spring; one brother, W. H. Walker of Sherman; a step-sister, Mrs. Laura Battles of Oklahoma; 31 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Police To Don New Uniforms

Big Spring citizens will think they have a new police force come Monday morning.

The force will be the same, but the uniforms will be different; the department will go into new brown and tan suits Monday morning.

The uniforms were ordered last fall, and parts of the suits started arriving after Jan. 1. All but the shirts arrived at first, and the shirts came in only Thursday.

Chief C. L. Rogers said that there were very few alterations needed on them, and these will be completed in time for the change-over Monday.

"Whereas the uniforms are now blue, the new suits will be brown with tan trousers, ties and cap tops. Police personnel will wear brown waist-type jackets through the winter months, and discard them through the summer.

Deputy To Bring Prisoner Here

Tom Cole, deputy sheriff, left Friday morning for Carson City, Nev. to take custody of Daniel P. Clevering, wanted in Howard County on charges of burglary.

Clevering was arrested in the Nevada city on instructions from court and sent here Feb. 26 in Portugal for a three-day state visit. They have not seen each other since the Duke took off for the Olympic games last Oct. 15.

Parker left the Britannia at Gibraltar when the royal yacht reached there with the Duke and 300 other persons—all men except for two palace secretaries—Anne Stevenson, 24, and Iona Eadie, 20.

Gas Overcomes Three Of Family

Three members of a family received emergency treatment at Webb AFB Hospital Thursday night after being gassed.

The police department reported that Mr. and Mrs. Willie Helm and their five-year-old child were rushed to Webb for treatment but were released. The Helms live at the Dixie Courts. The department said they were apparently overcome by gas.

Experts Claim Wilma Died Of Slow Drowning

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Medical experts testified today that 20-year-old Wilma Montesi died by drowning.

Two physicians who performed the autopsy expressed their belief that the dark-haired party girl "died of slow drowning, probably in water that was not very deep."

Defense attorneys for jazz pianist Gianpiero Piccioni, chief defendant in the case that has rocked Italy, contend that Wilma fell into the sea and later was washed up on the beach.

Piccioni, son of a former foreign minister, is charged with manslaughter. The prosecution charges that he took Wilma unconscious from a high society dope and sex orgy, believing her dead, and left her on the beach where the incoming tide finished her off.

The two experts who performed the autopsy testified also that Wilma was a virgin, and that she had eaten ice cream shortly before her death.

Joye Fisher Rites To Be Held Sunday

Services for Joye M. Fisher, 69, will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Beth Shalom Home.

Mr. Fisher, businessman-rancher and member of one of the most prominent pioneer families, died in a hospital here shortly before his 70th birthday in a car collision just north of town on U. S. 97 Sunday evening.

Gerald J. Klein, associate rabbi of Temple Emanuel, Dallas, will officiate, and burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park.

Expressions of condolence poured in from a wide area as news of Mr. Fisher's passing reached old timers who had been served and befriended by the Fisher family and J. & W. Fisher Co. in the early days.

His father, William Fisher, was one of the founders of the fabulous pioneer mercantile establishment. Joseph Fisher had launched the business in 1882, the year following the railroad's arrival in Big Spring. William Fisher joined him in operation of a store with a tent as shelter.

The store filled orders for ranchers as far north as Canyon and into New Mexico and south to the Big Lake territory. Often there was nothing more than a note scrawled on wrapping paper, "fix me up some grub," or a verbal promise "I'll take care of it when I sell my cattle." All such orders were filled promptly and without question.

It was the atmosphere into which Joye Fisher was born Aug. 17, 1887, a date that made him perhaps the oldest person here who had been born in Big Spring.

In 1896, when his brother, Bernard, and he, along with Albert and Lester Fisher, their cousins, were reaching high school age, Edward, who had high school here then) the Fishers sold out their business to Brennan & Gary. They returned to Terre Haute, Ind., and lived there until 1901, when the Fishers bought the business back. Bernard Fisher entered the business.

"When he commanded a squadron I scarcely ever saw him," she told a reporter a few days ago. "Now, at least, in normal times he comes out most evenings since joining the palace staff."

Chinery was educated at Eton. His appointment would indicate a return to old tradition in selecting royal equeries from upper-crust English families.

The old tradition of selecting royal equeries was first flouted by the late King George VI. He appointed Group Captain Peter Townsend as a reward for his achievements as a fighter pilot during the war.

Like Parker, Townsend was "up from the ranks" and ran into domestic difficulties. Townsend stayed on as an equerry even after divorcing his wife—but was suddenly moved out of the palace court and sent overseas as British air attaché to Belgium after his romance with Princess Margaret came to light. Townsend has since resigned from the Royal Air Force and is on a "round-the-world tour."

Friends say Parker resigned to save the royal family the embarrassment of becoming involved in a possible divorce suit. The tabloid Daily Mirror raised an editorial protest this morning against "out-of-date" attitudes in the palace court to such things as divorce.

The Duke is in Gibraltar after a tour. He will travel there until joining Queen Elizabeth Feb. 18 in Portugal for a three-day state visit. They have not seen each other since the Duke took off for the Olympic games last Oct. 15.

Parker left the Britannia at Gibraltar when the royal yacht reached there with the Duke and 300 other persons—all men except for two palace secretaries—Anne Stevenson, 24, and Iona Eadie, 20.

Pair Offers To Adopt Children

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—A Corpus Christi family offered yesterday to adopt four children abandoned in New York last month by Mrs. Eleanor Hayams, 26, arrested here Wednesday on charges of kidnapping.

Mrs. Hayams said the family talked to her at the city jail yesterday.

"If, when I get back to New York, the court decides to take away my children, I will try to give them to this family," she said.

"If they let me keep my children, I will never give them up." The Corpus Christi family plans to fly to New York as soon as Mrs. Hayams and York are returned. Detectives arrived here yesterday from New York.

Mrs. Hayams was charged by a grand jury with child abandonment. York was charged as an accessory to the act.

Mrs. Hayams proudly displayed a new wardrobe furnished her by the local family. It included $15 shoes, a black skirt, white blouse, red coat, stockings and lingerie.

"I think people down here are wonderful," she said. "We've had nothing but good treatment since we got here. I've never been in jail before, but from what you hear and see in these movies, these policemen are really nice."

"We both wanted to come back here with all this mess in straightened out. People here do anything they can for you even when you're in trouble like we are."

"Up there they don't care if you're out on the street."

The mother who abandoned her children Jan. 12 in a New York hotel, arrested by night patrol deputy sheriffs, are being held in connection with the case. Harris said that Stanton has already issued a warrant for the two. On Wednesday night, a lumber company in Midland was burglarized a short time before the Stanton break-in.

Experts Claim Wilma Died Of Slow Drowning

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Medical experts testified today that 20-year-old Wilma Montesi died by drowning.

Two physicians who performed the autopsy expressed their belief that the dark-haired party girl "died of slow drowning, probably in water that was not very deep."

Defense attorneys for jazz pianist Gianpiero Piccioni, chief defendant in the case that has rocked Italy, contend that Wilma fell into the sea and later was washed up on the beach.

Piccioni, son of a former foreign minister, is charged with manslaughter. The prosecution charges that he took Wilma unconscious from a high society dope and sex orgy, believing her dead, and left her on the beach where the incoming tide finished her off.

The two experts who performed the autopsy testified also that Wilma was a virgin, and that she had eaten ice cream shortly before her death.

Israel Defiant On Arab-Asian Restriction Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Israelis took a defiant attitude today toward an Arab-Asian decision to seek U.N.-backed restrictions against Israel.

Israel sources said the 80-nation General Assembly could vote all the restrictions it wants, but Israel will keep her troops in the Gaza Strip until Egypt gives guarantees of peace.

Dispatches from Jerusalem said Israel's determination to hold on was hardening rather than weakening.

A spokesman for the 27 Arab-Asian nations announced yesterday the group had decided to draw up a resolution condemning Israel for not pulling out of Egypt and calling for economic, financial and military restrictions.

Jordan delegate Abdul Monem Rifa'i, current president of the Arab-Asian group, called for a General Assembly meeting early next week. He said he expects a resolution to be in shape by Tuesday.

Informed sources said some members of the group still opposed such a drastic step as an economic boycott. These delegations were reported urging consultations first with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to see what the situation is.

The Arabs began a similar move last month to slap a boycott on Israel. The full group decided to hold off until it could find whether Israel would comply with the Assembly's latest request to withdraw behind the 1949 armistice lines.

Israel countered with new demands for guarantees that Egypt would not resume commando raids from the Gaza Strip and her pre-invasion blockade against Israeli shipping in the Red Sea Gulf of Aqaba. The Israelis made plain they are not budging for the present, despite a personal appeal from President Eisenhower and Hammarskjöld's mediation efforts.

Hammarskjöld is expected to issue a progress report before the Assembly resumes debate on the Middle East.

The Israelis made no secret of the fact they resented Hammarskjöld's latest statement. The Secretary General said he wanted some assurances from Israel and Egypt—not to come in with demands of his own. The Israelis also complained that the Secretary General has failed to transmit any of the questions it posed to Egypt.

The U. S. delegation made plain it is not initiating any move for restrictions. But it indicated the Americans will give close study to any such move that may come up in the Assembly.

If the United States lays down full economic and financial restrictions against the Israelis, "one high Arab source said, "Israel would be paralyzed in less than a month."

JOYE M. FISHER

that year and Joye Fisher, who was still in Alton, Ill., Military Academy, continued his schooling until 1904 when he became a part of the firm.

Although he helped in all departments of the store that sold everything from California (heavy ducking) pants to windmills, he specialized in directing the grocery and hardware departments.

In 1915 he was married to Rhea Eckhaus of Lafayette, Ind., and they made their home here since that time. To them was born one daughter, Betty Jean.

Mr. Fisher was active in many local affairs and he and his brother took a leading role in Masonic work and in the Hella Shrine Temple at Dallas. He served on various committees for the old Commercial Club and its successor, the Chamber of Commerce. Perhaps his favorite project was good roads.

It was in 1928 that he and his brother built a new building (the old location had been in the 100 block of Main) where J. C. Penney Company now operates. They perpetuated J. & W. Fisher Co. until 1941. Since then they had devoted most of their time to ranching interests south of Big Spring.

Mr. Fisher was a member of Temple Emanuel in Dallas and of the Temple Israel congregation in Big Spring.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rhea Fisher, Big Spring; his daughter, Mrs. Jerome Fisher, Wichita, Kan.; three grandchildren; and his brother, Bernard Fisher.

Mrs. Betty Fisher arrived here Thursday, and other members of her family were en route. Among out-of-town people on their way here for the last rites were Myron Blankfield, Port Arthur, Mrs. J. R. Newman, Lafayette, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Max Philippon and Mr. and Mrs. Max Jacobs, Dallas.

The family requested that floral tributes be withheld and that the money thus saved be given to charity.

Oil Editor Says Texas Can Hike Production If Needed

HOUSTON (AP)—Tom Lester, oil editor of the Houston Chronicle, wrote in the newspaper today that Texas can and will increase its oil production when a definite need is indicated.

Lester said his information came from "people in a position to know."

The writer added, however, that the state allowable is not likely to be raised until the oil can be moved to market without waste.

Continuing, he said: This fact emerged out of a survey last fall showed that something over that production was shut in. Since then, production has been raised over 75,000 barrels daily.

The report of the survey was printed in newspapers and trade magazines then and read by many people in the East and in Europe.

Apparently, they do not understand why Texas wells aren't just opened up, so that more oil will flow to Europe.

It's not that simple. Transportation and storage facilities are the limiting factors.

West Texas produces 40 per cent of the oil in Texas. It could produce a lot more. But if those wells were opened up, pipeline congestion would block the flow of oil to shipside.

Actually, the pipelines are carrying just about every barrel of oil they could move from West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma to the Gulf Coast ports.

They are even using slack sections and moving oil from West Texas to Oklahoma and down to the Gulf; they are sending it to St. Louis and barging it down the Mississippi River.

There simply aren't enough pipelines to bring to Gulf ports anything near all the oil West Texas could produce.

Railroad tank cars and tank trucks couldn't make a dent in the movement. If there were enough tanks and trucks to move it, the congestion at ports would be terrific.

Moreover, storage at terminals has been built for a normal maximum demand. There would be no place to store that excess oil at shipside for tankers to take it on.

The problem of getting all the available tankers into Gulf Coast service and scheduling them on a timetable has supposedly been done by the 15 oil companies picked by President Eisenhower in the voluntary pool for oil shipments to Europe.

But when fog settles over the West Gulf Coast, as it has during much of the past 10 days, the time-table is upset because tankers cannot enter the ports.

There also was the wasteful problem of crude oil in above ground storage. On Nov. 1, crude storage amounted to 222,000,000 barrels. That was 18 million barrels more than the heads of the oil industry told the Railroad Commission "was a safe level."

It seemed unwise to authorize more oil produced just to go into storage that was already too high.

The commission ruled that the logical thing was to work off the surplus stocks before hiking the state daily allowable.

Those stocks are now down to about 255 million barrels, which is below the safe level by about 5 million barrels.

At the prorating hearing in Austin Feb. 19, there is a strong indication the allowable will be raised by up to 150,000 barrels daily for March.

Last week, Texas production averaged 3,079,000 barrels a day. Railroad Commissioner William Murray Jr. said the state allowable will be raised when, in the opinion of the commission, it is deemed advisable.

Member Ernest Thompson said reduction of refinery runs by 4 per cent would make 325,000 barrels of oil available to Europe. Many refiners have made cuts of about that size, and others are expected to make similar cuts.

This is in line with Eisenhower's comment that refiners should cut runs to make more oil available to Europe.

Gasoline stocks zoomed to 196,351,000 barrels last week, 14 million more than a year ago, and about 36 million more than the industry heads told the Railroad Commission was a safe level for April 1. They are sure to go higher than that unless refinery runs are drastically cut.

Freak Accident

Nine-year-old Gregory Hanson, of Milwaukee, is visited at the hospital by his worried mother, Mrs. Agnes Hanson, where he is recovering from injuries suffered in a freak accident. Gregory's jugular vein was slashed by a piece of broken glass when a snowball shattered a window. A policeman plugged the wound with his thumb to halt the heavy flow of blood. Doctors said the patrolman's quick thinking saved the lad's life.

Justification In Oil Price Hikes Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo.) said today oil industry spokesmen may be able to "make a showing" for price increases wholly aside from effects of the Suez Canal closing.

Some members of Congress and others have accused the oil industry of price gouging in the wake of stepped-up demands for oil to be shipped to Europe. There have been suggestions for government action if the oil firms don't roll back their prices.

But Barrett told a newsman he wanted to hear the industry's side before reaching a conclusion. He is participating in a Joint Senate Antimonopoly Public Lands Subcommittee inquiry into recent fuel oil and gasoline price boosts, and operation of the emergency oil-for-Europe program sponsored by the government.

He said testimony yet to be presented might show that rising costs, unrelated to the Suez crisis, justified a hike in oil prices. Since early January crude oil prices have been boosted 35 cents a barrel and gasoline a cent a gallon.

In the House yesterday, Rep. Barkard (D-Tex.) said the crude oil price increase was "unjustified and not warranted by spiraling costs," mainly for steel and labor.

The Senate investigation, under the chairmanship of Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), is in recess until Tuesday, when spokesmen for the independent petroleum producers will testify.

Meantime, plans for a separate investigation by a five-member Senate Commerce subcommittee were announced by Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.), chairman of the full committee. Sen. Pastore (D-R.I.) will head the probe, due to start shortly.

At yesterday's hearing before the joint subcommittees, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) took government officials to task on grounds they did not seek to prevent price increases last fall in negotiating with major American oil companies for the emergency oil lift to Europe.

Reas at the hearing were minutes of a meeting here last Sept. 19 of the Middle East Emergency Committee. This record showed the oil companies predicted that closing of the Suez Canal would exert "serious upward pressure" on petroleum prices.

Kefauver said Arthur S. Flemming, outgoing defense mobilization chief; Asst. Secretary of the Interior Felix E. Wormser; and other government officials sat in on the meeting but did not try to keep prices down. They said they had no authority to do so.

Budget Unit Scored In Guard Argument

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. James Folsom of Alabama today accused the Defense Department and Bureau of the Budget of a "concerted effort" to downgrade the National Guard. He said the aim is to gain complete federal control of the state troops.

Folsom appeared before a House Armed Services subcommittee to oppose an Army order extending to the National Guard the same requirement for six months active duty for new enlistees which is now in effect in various reserve programs of the federal forces.

The Alabama governor said the six-months programs have been "a colossal failure."

"How can you train men at all until you first get the warm blood?" Folsom asked.

"What young man of this peace generation would volunteer for six months service and the loss of school time when his chances of being drafted are only about 1 out of 15?"

Defense Department spokesmen have conceded that not as many young men as they had hoped for have volunteered for the six months reserve program. But they have said the number is picking up and they expect the plan to succeed in its objective of building up a trained reserve effective in case of a sudden call.

The Pentagon contention is that it takes six months to get men ready for such a call.

Folsom said "The present dispute over the six months training program is merely one factor in the over-all attempt to gain greater federal control of the National Guard," and he added, "This, my friends, we cannot permit."

He said the Pentagon has tended to discredit National Guard accomplishments and that this attitude was "clearly reflected by the secretary's statement a few days ago."

This was a reference to Secretary of Defense Wilson's furor-starting remark that there had been a sort of scandal during the Korean War because of young men joining the Guard and there-foregoing their military training. Wilson said the scandal was that young men were joining the Guard and there-foregoing their military training.

Two Robbery Suspects Are Held At C-City

COLORADO CITY — A man and woman, wanted for questioning concerning an armed robbery at Odessa, were picked up in Colorado City Thursday night by Chief of Police Leon Yeager, Constable Bill Owen and Patrolman Lawrence Powell.

The 48-year-old man and his wife, about 45, denied any connection with the Odessa holdup. They admitted that a third man had been with them but had left them "near Odessa." The man said that he was an oil field worker, from Farmington, N. M., and that he and his wife were en route to visit relatives in Texarkana.

Both were being held in the Mitchell County jail, pending the arrival of the Ector County sheriff's department. Members of the department were en route to Colorado City Thursday night to return the pair to Odessa.

The show features faculties of all the Big Spring schools in numbers depicting the various musical eras through which America has moved.

Baptists Hear Missions Talks

Around 400 West Texas Baptists, including about 50 ministers, attended a conference on church finance and world missions problems at the First Baptist Church here last night.

They heard leaders of the missions program of the Southern and Texas Baptist Conventions discuss state and foreign mission needs and how best to meet them.

CONSTIPATED? new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-A-B-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital urge to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

Conservation People's Field Benson Says

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today conservation is the responsibility of the people and not something to be imposed by the federal government.

Benson told the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts that a drift toward centralization of power isn't inevitable and "can be slowed down, halted, reversed."

"If I sense the present mood of the country," he said, "the attitude favoring centralization of extensive power in the federal government has been much changed, if indeed it was ever widely accepted."

Benson expressed pride in the Eisenhower administration's conservation record and the methods it has used.

"We are not bypassing state governments," he said. "We are not imposing federal programs on the local people."

"We know that the only successful programs are those initiated and developed by the local people, and managed by them, with the help of both state and federal governments where needed."

He described the nation's small watershed program as "undeniably one of the greatest conservation developments of our time."

Benson said the inspection tour he and President Eisenhower recently made in Texas and other drought-stricken sections was a "heart rending" experience. He was impressed greatly, he said, with farms and ranches where people "had based their operations on the expectancy of drought."

"They had combined wise land use with the best known modern conservation practices," Benson said. And they have come through, thus far, not without hardship, but with much less damage, much less loss than many others in the same area.

To me, this is a dramatic demonstration of the value of conservation methods of farm and ranch management."

Benson reviewed steps proposed under the government's Great Plains program and said the administration plans to step up its regular land use and conservation programs in the Great Plains and the Southwest.

Rent legislation enables the government to enter 10-year contracts for cost-sharing that he said will "see farmers through a gradual period of land use adjustment that will cushion the effects of future droughts."

Benson reported prices received by farmers are 7 per cent above

Legislative Act For $1 Shortage?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—There must be an easier way to make up a $1 shortage than to require a special act of the Legislature, says the State Board of Control.

The shortage is in the hobby sales fund at the state prison.

"Maybe they can pass the hat or perhaps the superintendent could go without his lunch," said John M. Peirce, state finance director and board chairman.

All such claims okayed by the board must be approved by the Legislature.

Exposure Cause Of Girls' Death

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago American said today it had learned that scientists have concluded the Grimes sisters died of exposure.

The nude, frozen bodies of Barbara Grimes, 15, and Patricia, 13, were found along a suburban road Jan. 22.

The American, quoting "a reliable" but unnamed source, said four doctors seeking to fix the cause of death were baffled by "the greater mystery of how the girls were made to remain in the intense cold until they died."

It said the scientists had ruled out eight possibilities: The girls "were not beaten into unconsciousness, bound and left to die, gassed, electrocuted, poisoned by any usual drug, doped, made drunk or wounded by any weapon."

So far, the cause of death has not been fixed officially.

The American said its informant related no evidence was found to indicate a struggle and "the girls obviously went to their death relaxed."

When the girls' bodies were discovered investigators theorized they had been laid on the snow-covered ground around Jan. 13.

But a toxicologist concluded the girls died sometime the night of Dec. 28, the night they left home to attend a movie.

Uncle Ray:
Orangs Build Nests In Trees Of Borneo

By RAMON COFFMAN

During the past century, Alfred Russel Wallace, famous British scientist, spent years in the Orient. There he studied animals of various kinds, but nowhere did he observe any which held more interest than orangutans. Here are a few of the notes which he made about the Borneo orangutan:

"The orang forms a nest, for sleeping purposes, among the lower branches of a tree. He stays in his bed until the sun has well risen, and has dried the dew on the branches."

"He feeds all through the middle of the day. The food is made up chiefly of fruit, but some leaves, buds and young shoots are eaten."

"Stretching out his long arms, he grasps the opposing boughs, then swings to the next branch. He gets along as quickly as a person can run through the forest."

Q. How does the reach of the orangutan compare with that of other apes?
A. It has the longest reach in the ape family. Wallace measured an orangutan with a height of four feet and two inches. It had a reach of seven feet and nine inches! The "reach" of a man is the measurement between the tips of his middle fingers when he stretches his hands as far apart as possible. A six-foot man usually has a reach of six feet, but an ape may have a reach more than one and a half times as great as its height.

An orangutan mother and child.

Q. What kinds of tricks can captive orangutans perform?
A. Some of them are able to ride tricycles "after three lessons." Like the chimpanzee, an orang may hammer nails into wood, and may drink tea or coffee from a cup. In general, however, this ape falls short of the chimpanzee.

Q. How does the gorilla rank in intelligence?
A. Usually it is classed as third among the apes, just behind the orangutan.

Father Faces Death Calmly

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Kerschke smiles and says the shadow that entered his young life last Friday has only made his happiness brighter — by its contrast.

Saturday, his second daughter was born. Yesterday, the 27-year-old Kerschke was graduated as a psychologist from Wayne State University. But last Friday, doctors told him he had cancer and could expect only six months to live.

"I intend to have a wonderful six months," Kerschke said. "Don't worry and don't fret. I can take it. I had six of the greatest years of my life being married to my wife."

"When you have lived a happy life, a full life, it matters little how old you are when you die. You see, I have an advantage over most people. I know when I'm going to die. Others don't."

His wife, Athylene, 26, still in the hospital with her second girl, didn't learn about Leonard's disease until today. But Leonard told newsmen yesterday.

"When I came in here my wife told me she had a premonition I wouldn't come out. While she hasn't been told, I'm sure she knows."

Bracero Employers Warned On 'Loans'

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Bracero employers in the Rio Grande Valley and elsewhere have been warned not to lend their Mexican workers to other employers during slack periods.

Dist. Immigration Director Walter A. Sahli said yesterday such lending is "strictly a violation of their contract obligation and can result in the farmer losing his right to hire braceros entirely."

IMPROVED KENNELS

City's New Dog Pound To Be Put Into Operation Monday

Starting Monday, owners of impounded dogs will report to the city warehouse for their animals. The new city kennels have been prepared and the city will start taking impounded animals there Monday. Dogs already impounded at the present kennels at Dr. H. F. Schwarzenbach's veterinary hospital will be transferred to the new pens today or Saturday.

When the city commission passed the new dog ordinance in January, the city started to build the new pens. Weather conditions prevented the building from being finished earlier.

Whereas the old pound was completely open and had only six compartments, the new one is enclosed and has 10 separate pens. The new building is covered with sheet metal and the pens inside are made from hog wire. The floor is concrete, and the actual pens are about four inches lower than the other floor.

The building is well ventilated with windows on three sides plus a six-inch space between the roof and the rafters.

Seven of the pens are labeled one for each day of the week. Two of the three remaining are marked for observation, where dogs that are suspected of being rabid can be isolated. The 10th is for cats, and the wire goes to the roof to prevent the felines from climbing out.

Five pens face east, and five west, and each pen measures four feet by eight. Between each two

'T-Men' See More Speeders

Speeders increased during January, according to Citizens' Traffic Commission T-Men reports. The CTC reported that its T-Men witnessed a total of 49 violations of speed zones in Big Spring during January and only 41 during December.

This was the biggest category listed on the violation sheet, the CTC reported. In all, 166 violations occurred under the eyes of T-Men during January. The number was 123 in December.

T-Men submit the license numbers of violators—and especially courteous drivers—to the CTC office, and then the violator is sent a card asking him to drive more carefully.

In addition to the speeding, 16 persons were seen running red lights, and 23 did not give hand signals when turning or stopping. Fifteen parked illegally, and 12 each were guilty of reckless weaving and running stop signs.

There were 17 unusual acts of courtesy noted during the month. Four were cited for unusual display of caution near unprotected intersections.

Pupils Interested In Local Affairs

Young people have a share, or want to have a share, in local activities, the Texas history and government classes at high school have demonstrated.

Having discussed such broad subjects as the Suez crisis, desegregation, oil importation, etc., the class has turned to a current local topic—the Industrial Foundation.

Wednesday J. H. Greene, former Chamber of Commerce manager and now heading up the campaign for an Industrial Foundation, talked with the students concerning the project.

One of the things which directed the discussion to a local topic was a recent survey in the class, said John Yates, instructor. To the question, "Do you intend to make your home in Big Spring after you complete your education?" 60 per cent of the students answered in the negative. Yates figured studies and discussions on local matters might help find the cause of the heavy volume of "no's" or perhaps alter the outlook.

As part of the project, class members have been making a survey of neighboring cities on wage and salary rates for various crafts, positions and professions.

When the study is complete, class members will write either on the subject of "Why I Am (or Am Not) Going To Make My Home Big Spring." Three prizes will be offered, said Yates.

Pastors Planning Youth Revival

The Big Spring Pastors' Association is joining in sponsorship of a Community Youth Revival to be held May 1-4 at the First Baptist Church.

Pastors reached this decision at their monthly meeting held Wednesday at Baker's Chapel on N.W. 4th Street. The Rev. Hal Hooker, president, was in charge of the meeting. Refreshments were served to the visiting pastors by the WMS members of the church.

Year's Rainfall Total Reaches .97 Of An Inch

Although .01 inch moisture was officially added to the total for the current rainy spell, Thursday failed to come through with the Weather Bureau's optimistic promise of scattered showers and light rain. Instead, a balmy afternoon with broken clouds overhead and an equally pleasant evening, despite an early-hour overcast, was the story.

Old timers observed that this Feb. 7 was a far cry from the same day in 1933 when the temperature fell to 5 degrees. On Feb. 8 of that year, the coldest day in Big Spring history was recorded—a frigid -7 degrees which has stood unequalled through the 57 years for which records are available.

High temperature for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. Friday was 68 degrees, according to the U. S. Experiment Station. It never got cooler than 50 degrees during the interval.

The .01 inch moisture added to the total for the week occurred after 8 a.m. Thursday. This brought the total official rain in Big Spring to .33 inch and the month's total to .45 inch.

The year's precipitation now stands at .97 inch. While lacking a great deal of being enough to fill demands, this year's moisture looks positively soaking compared with the first three months of last year.

In 1956, the total rain recorded for January, February and March was only .41 inch.

As Usual, Doing A Good Job

Over the years our citizens have been privileged to hear from a number of members of the state highway commission. For the most part they have spoken in broad terms, being careful to touch no more than the hem of the garment when it came to specifics.

Marshall Formby, who is due to step up soon to the chairmanship of the commission, was in pleasant contrast when he addressed a large audience here Wednesday noon. Mr. Formby didn't talk about the highway program in general except to lay the predicate for the bulk of his talk which dealt with our roads, not some across the state. He demonstrated familiarity with even the minor state road projects for this area; he cited by number and with figures; he talked about status and outlook of various roads and pegged possible dates.

At the same time, he kept proper perspective with the district and the state road program and problems. He pointed out also that one of the chief reasons for the generous amount of work performed in Howard County has been the high degree of cooperation which the county commissioners court and others have shown toward providing needed roadway.

He held out some hope for working out a beginning for a south loop from U. S. 80 to U. S. 87. He pointed to the closing of gaps which will put a road straight north from here to the Oklahoma line. On some things he was in no position to make commitments, but on others he spoke with candor.

That is understandable to those who have known him over the years, as a country newspaperman, county commissioner, county judge, then as a state senator from this district. In every instance Marshall Formby has done a plain vanilla, good solid job.

Whipping The VD Problem

Not so many years ago the topic of venereal disease was taboo, and the VD rate was climbing. Then an enlightened public became aroused and giant strides were made toward bridging this ailment.

While World War II created problems in the incidence of VD, it may also have hastened the development of a technique which offers hope of virtually eradicating the disease. The Armed Forces found out that talking the facts of life were not enough, so they put men into the field to ferret out the sources of infection when men came down with VD. When a rash of cases broke out, almost invariably they were traced back quickly to a single source.

VD is a contact disease, that is the ailment is spread almost always through direct contact. Hence the "chain of infection" can be established through painstaking investigation. The Armed Forces had the simple weapon of punitive action against any individual, officer or enlisted man, who failed to cooperate in helping run down that chain of infection.

In civilian circles, there is no such compulsion, but fortunately specialized investigations have been put into the field by the state health department. They have been, for the most part, able to get good cooperation out of physicians and infected individuals.

As a result, there is some hope that VD can be virtually eliminated. For instance, last year our city-county health unit reported 82 VD cases (11 syphilis, 55 gonorrhea), whereas the year before it had been 162 (108 syphilis, 55 gonorrhea). Halving the rate in one year is a monumental achievement. Persistent effort and an understanding public can cut the figure still further until the remaining amount is small indeed.

What To Do About The Common Cold?

Once more I am forced to express my complete lack of confidence in a civilization that can perfect a hydrogen bomb, an atomic submarine and an electric toothbrush and is as yet unable to alleviate, much less cure, the common cold.

In 5,000 years, man's sole worthwhile advance in the care and treatment of the common cold is the invention of the paper handkerchief. That is something, all right, but it ain't enough.

As I tossed on my bed of pain last week, hors de combat via the common cold, there came to me in the dark hours—as my head throbbled, my eyes watered, my nose dripped and bells rang continuously in my aching ears—the thought that there is one perfect cure for the ailment.

This remedy is the oven treatment, and it's permanent. Just stick the jangling noggin in the oven and turn on the gas. The only thing that prevented me from such therapy in the crisis was the fact that I was too miserable to make the journey from bedroom to kitchen.

Nor did it improve my spirits, my disposition or my faith in science to read, during convalescence, the latest article on the cause and treatment of the common cold. The article simply said, in 5,000 words, what you and I already know: That there isn't anything that science and medicine really know about the common cold, either.

This article wound up with a conclusion that you and I reached years ago, to wit: That nothing we do for a cold is apt to affect it one way or another, either by taking aspirin or quarts of fruit juice or gallons of bourbon or a carload of vitamins, before or during the cold.

Oh, this is going to make a lot of persons fighting mad, particularly those who grow citrus fruit, manufacture aspirins, does it support Mr. Fischer's attack on E-bonds. To say that inflation erodes the purchasing power of Savings Bonds is to say that it also erodes the purchasing power of savings bank deposits, savings and loan shares, preferred policies, fire insurance policies—anything of fixed dollar value. Does that mean nobody should ever keep any money in dollar investments?

If so, what do you do with your money? Common stocks, often proposed as a hedge against inflation, have a nasty habit of sometimes going down. A year ago, amid colossal fanfare, the Ford Foundation sold stock of the Ford Motor Co. at $64.50 a share. It's now selling at 56.

A year ago, such a gilt-edged railroad bond as Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 4s of 1949, sold at 117. Today it's down to 104½. An E-bond holder is better off than a person who bought Ford common or Atchison 4s.

The E-bond has the vice of its virtue. You can get your money back when you want it. For that right, you pay a price. The interest to maturity is 3 per cent. That is an in-between-rate—not as high as the dividends paid on common stocks, not as high as the rate on many bonds. The return isn't as great as that paid by savings and loan associations, but it's comparable with most savings banks.

Inflation is not the fault of E-bonds, it is a fact of the times. During the war, we couldn't buy autos or dishwashers, Bacon, butter, coffee, shoes, gasoline and fuel oil were rationed. Money piled up in bank accounts and E-bonds.

Inflation Controls Far Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—Where's all this inflation President Eisenhower is worried about?

Living costs—since he became President in January 1953—have gone up 3.6 per cent. That's only the latest boost in the long rise. Between January 1941 and January 1957 living costs have climbed 74 per cent.

Eisenhower this week warned vaguely the government may have to act to control prices and wages if inflation doesn't stop. But anything his administration will do seems far off.

Only yesterday Secretary of Commerce Weeks, a member of Eisenhower's Cabinet, said he knows of no plans of studies by the government to step in. Making it just a little harder to borrow money from banks is about the only control used now.

Here are some figures showing where living costs have gone up, and what has happened to wages and profits in Eisenhower's first four years in the White House.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics is the government agency which gathers figures on living costs and wages. It breaks living costs down into categories of spending.

In those four years: The only item showing a drop was food—down two-tenths of 1 per cent. Hospital rates rose 23.7 per cent; doctors' fees—up 11.6; the price on new radio sets dropped 12.4 per cent; on new TV sets it dropped 10.6 per cent.

Some other figures, obtained from other government agencies, showed personal income in Eisenhower's first four years rose to $237,400,000,000 after taxes to $288,200,000,000. But people didn't depend entirely on the increase in their income to buy more things. They went into debt to buy things they could not pay cash for. And this was the result: consumer credit jumped from $19,430,000,000 to $31,552,000,000.

The way the people went into debt is almost startling; auto loans rose from $7,733,000,000 to $14,436,000,000, or almost double in four years. That was the biggest single jump in the credit department although personal loans took a leap also—up from $4,111,000,000 to $7,184,000,000.

In addition to this particular kind of credit debt, there was another which was amazing: home mortgages in those four years went up from 58½ billion dollars to 98 billions.

Wages in the same period also advanced. Average weekly earnings for workers in the manufacturing business went up from $71.34 to $84.65.

In the same period corporate profits were advancing from a yearly rate of $39,500,000,000 to $41,200,000,000.

Want A Lively Job?

LONDON (AP)—If you want excitement take a job running a railroad in Kenya.

There are lions to fight and elephants to dodge. Keeps a man fit all the time.

Malcolm H. Archer, public relations officer of the East African Railway & Harbors, Nairobi, idly reading about the troubles of railroading in some countries, recounted some of EARH's difficulties in a letter to the Times.

Out of the archives of his firm he dug up these historic messages: From station master, Irma, to game warden, Tsavo Royal National Park, November, 1954: "You required urgently at Irma station to watch and kill notorious lion hunting railway staff after 6 p.m. daily."

Then there was one on Jan. 29, 1954, from the assistant station master, Kanga, to the district traffic superintendent, Mombasa: "Yard congested with about eleven elephants."

In August, 1955, there flashed this message from the station master, Voi, to district traffic superintendent, Mombasa: "Urgent—assistant station master narrowly escaped from being caught by lion, assisted by traveling ticket examiner. All staff unwilling to do night working. Afford protection."

And in June, 1956, the station master, Bujoko, wired the district traffic superintendent, Kampala: "One buffalo chasing gangman. Work stopped. Arrange early shooting."

It was the same—or even worse—back in the early 1900s. One message in May, 1901, from station master, Tsavo, to traffic manager, Nairobi, stated: "Just a lion twice or thrice to break office and fencing doors, leaving office door on bell ringing half-hour. Myself and family, consisting of two wives and three children, narrowly escaping danger of life. Now seeking safety in office. Cannot dare give 'line clear' signal to oncoming train. Please arrange matter own personal satisfaction and dispose of two lions who great bane of my existence."

Insects Show Reasoning Power

Last week I told of an ant colony I grew from scratch, starting with a queen and her drone in a large glass and wire-enclosed cage. I tested a theory that an ant colony would respond to its environmental demands by producing the needed proportions and numbers of each kind of worker or soldier ant. I did this by gathering "wild" ants from the back yard and dumping the "invaders" into the cage.

The colony's soldiers grew in numbers at a phenomenal rate, until the army numbered in the thousands, and I had to enlarge the cage.

After I inserted a small door in the cage, with a ramp leading out of the garage onto the ground, my ants began exploring the neighborhood, found the colonies whose members I had used in invasions, and there began a series of ant wars in which every colony in the block, one by one, was wiped out. The ants showed remarkable intelligence in working out solutions of "military" problems.

In their first battle against a medium-sized colony, my ants apparently were inexperienced in offensive war although they had developed excellently on defense. The defenders surrounded the entrance to their nest in concentric circles, and in organized units. My ants attacked the first portion of the perimeter, finding it almost impossible to get through the pile-up of bodies at the point of contact. They had to wait until the first waves of opposing units had chewed each other to pieces to make way for following waves.

In the meantime, the defenders had the opportunity to move up more units, so no ground was gained. This first battle was won by sheer weight of numbers.

Taking on a larger colony, the ant army puzzled me by taking along a larger number of worker ants, those who dig and repair tunnels. The workers, several yards from the enemy nest, began digging a hole in direction of the enemy. The rest of the army gathered outside the enemy nest, but still some distance away. The defenders rushed out of the nest, set up their defensive pattern, and both armies sat staring at each other.

Suddenly, my ants made a frontal attack, drawing the defenders further away from the nest. The workers poured from the tunnel they had dug, and soldiers poured in. The defenders were thrown into confusion when attacking units began pouring out of the nest into the defenders' rear. All still within the hole had apparently been slain.

After several wars, my ants figured out another tactical maneuver. Surrounding one colony, they set up a full-circle siege line, then sent one unit after another on the same path through one section of the defenders' lines. The attackers walked over the heads of the struggling ants, to fall into the rear ranks of defenders. This tactic got the attackers over the heads of the defenders and threw the aggressor units nearer the colony entrance. It also gave the advantage to attacking units in being able to pit several soldiers against each one of the defenders, who were torn to pieces quickly and usually without loss to the attackers.

My ants soon learned flanking maneuvers. In the war against the "grand daddy" ants, spidery creatures and the largest colony in the block, the aggressor units sent off about a fourth of their strength in a wide circuit outside the enemy's scout perimeter, with the main force grinding slowly against the defenders on a wide front. The defenders were soon drawn away from the nest entrance except for a light guard. The flanking unit moved in swiftly, pouring into the entrance before the "grand daddy" ants knew what was up.

In this battle, a tunneling attack had failed. The defenders had somehow detected the noise of the digging, had dug their own channel to meet it, apparently surprising the workers in their own tunnel. They then probably sealed up the tunnels.

The grand daddy ants, being an old colony, knew all the tricks. The blitzkrieg tactic, which extended salients into a defensive circle, was promptly broken up by the defenders, who sent more units into the flanks of the salient to crush it.

I still haven't figured how the grand daddy ants were caught off guard in the flanking maneuver, unless it was that the attacking force, having advantage to the scouting perimeter, rushed in upon the defensive scouts, outrunning both them and the news of their coming. It is a fact that members of the flanking column seemed to run much faster than most ants find possible, which indicates a talent for individual selection or breeding among the ants.

There is much evidence that ants have some sort of reasoning power in addition to their highly developed instinct. Older colonies, which have had time to learn from experience, always show evidence of having done just that.

No Responsibility For The Budget

WASHINGTON — If this correspondent were asked to say what is really the biggest news development in the national capital nowadays and yet the one that is being given relatively little attention, it would be the story that surrounds the federal budget involving $72 billions of expenditure.

The recent incident in which Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey expressed his chagrin at the size of the spending program submitted to Congress by the President was generally assumed at first to be merely a difference of opinion between a cabinet officer and the chief executive. But the President said it wasn't. What was behind it really was a sense of frustration over the invisible influences that force items into the budget which the nation cannot afford.

The popular impression is that the Secretary of the Treasury makes up the budget and that the President then sends it on to Congress. Actually, under existing law, the Secretary of the Treasury has nothing to do with the proposed expenditures listed in the budget. He is commanded by law merely to furnish estimates of incoming revenue and to propose ways and means of raising money if there is a deficit. As for the individual items of expenditure in the budget, he doesn't see them in advance and has no more to do with their inclusion in the budget—outside of his own department—than does the Secretary of the Interior or any other cabinet officer.

America's irresponsible budget system, its weaknesses and its failures constitute a serious problem, yet, because it is an unspectacular subject and involves such a wide variety of items, the public doesn't come to grips with it. In fact, no concentrated attention is given to the spending programs as a whole even in the executive branch of the government except in the office of the President. This is a full-time job and a President cannot give it detailed attention.

Also, there is no way by which a President can judge or be advised about the relative importance of one item to another in the entire picture. He is aware of what the pressure groups want. He knows that their items should be approved. But who makes a studied judgment of the budget as a whole in terms of what the nation can or cannot afford? Nobody—not even the Secretary of the Treasury.

The President cannot know in advance what pressure groups will influence Congress the most. Last year Congress authorized a billion dollars more than the President and the armed services asked for. Employees of the executive departments are forbidden by regulation to ask Congress directly for funds in excess of the budget recommendations. But Congress can hold hearings and draw from the officials of the executive branch information indicating that they really need such an excess.

Considerable progress has been made to prevent officials of the executive branch from going to Congress to get more money, but little or nothing has been done to encourage Congress to cut a federal budget. Thus, Secretary Humphrey, who announced that the budget seemed to him too high and that too much money was being spent, was regarded as saying something sensational or at least novel. Actually, he was not dealing with the specific items in a budget he did not himself make up but was expressing an opinion on the philosophy of high spending. The President indicated later that the memorandum issued at Mr. Humphrey's press conference, giving general comments on the budget problem, had been approved at the White House. In fact, it is known the document was read and endorsed by the whole cabinet. It was a statement of principles which it was hoped Congress would take into account. It was like saying: "Here's our detailed budget, but we hope you can find ways to cut it. This is really your responsibility."

After all, many items of expenditure are included that are based on laws and policies created by Congress itself in previous years. The President can't repeal such financial obligations.

Under the Constitution, the authority to appropriate money is vested in Congress alone. Under the British and Canadian system, the executive makes the budget and sends it to Parliament, where it must be approved or disapproved as an entity. That's a responsible system. But in the case of England and Canada, the executive and legislature are controlled by the same party and there is a singleness of responsibility.

Nowhere in modern government is there such a glaring example of irresponsibility as in the sliphod way the American budget is put together and authorized by Congress—and now it involves $72 billions a year. It is something for the nation to begin to understand or, as Mr. Humphrey says, one of these days there will be a depression that "will curl your hair."

Warning and Invitation of Jesus

CHRIST CAN GIVE US REST IF WE TRUST HIM

—Scripture—Matthew 11:12.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

JOHN the Baptist, in his prison, hearing of the wonders Jesus wrought, wondered if this Man really was the Christ whose coming he had prophesied, or an impostor. He called two of his disciples and sent them to question Jesus, and to bring him their report.

Jesus answered them: "Go and show John again those things which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them."

After the men returned to John, Jesus spoke words of high praise to the multitudes, saying: "Verily I say unto you, among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist." He also called John a prophet, "and more than a prophet. For this is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send My messenger before Thy face, which shall prepare the way before Thee."

Then Christ deplored the generation's disbelief and rejection of Him. "John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil. The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners," Jesus said.

Then He upbraided the cities where most of His miracles were performed, because they did not repent of their sins, saying that if His mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, the people there would have repented in sackcloth and ashes, and He warned them of a terrible fate in store for them.

Jesus prayed: "I thank Thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because Thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes."

All things came to Him from His Father, said Jesus, "and no man knoweth the Son but the Father, and the Father knoweth the Son."

Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal Him.

"Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls."

How many a weary and troubled person—even little children—have repeated those sublime words and turned to Christ for help, finding rest and peace thereby.

On a Sabbath day Jesus and His disciples walked through a corn field. Those with Jesus were hungry and plucked ears of corn and ate them. The Pharisees who seem often to have been present, watching Him and hoping to accuse Him, said it was not lawful to pick the grain on the Sabbath.

Jesus said the Son of man was Lord even of the Sabbath, and reminded them that David had eaten the temple bread when he and those with him needed food.

In the synagogue on the Sabbath Christ saw a man with a withered hand and He was asked if it was lawful to heal on the Sabbath. Jesus healed the man's hand, reminding His accusers that if one of their sheep fell into a pit on a Sabbath, the owner would rescue it. "Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the Sabbath days."

As Jesus taught and healed all who came to Him, He was told that His mother and brothers wanted to speak with Him. "Who is My mother? and who are My brethren?" asked Jesus, and stretching forth His hand toward His disciples, He said, "Behold My mother and My brethren; for whosoever shall do the will of My Father which is in heaven, the same is My brother, and sister, and mother."

While this lesson may seem a little difficult for younger children, I am sure the teacher can make it interesting and find a helpful lesson for them after carefully reading the scripture assigned to us.

WHY I BECAME A MINISTER Sees God's Hand In Chain Of Events

By REV. HAL HOOKER
I was raised as a minister's son. The fact that my father was a minister may or may not have very much to do with my being one.

Many times in my high school years I would say to the folks that I'd never be a preacher when I was out on my own. A few years later while I was searching for a definite decision as to my future I attended a youth convention in Seattle, Wash., where my father had a pastorate. A group of boys came to the meeting from Pacific Bible College to serve as special speakers and singers.

Somehow I had previously received the impression that a gospel worker could not have much fun and relax as others do. This group of Bible students was having a good time of recreation and seemed to enjoy themselves more than I did. After they had their time of fun they then went to the services where they were dead serious about the Lord they were representing. I saw at last that a person could be free and regular and still have the seriousness that should accompany the ministry.

It wasn't long after this experience that the high school fellows I ran with seemed to not be taking life as seriously as I was. They were to marry. However, the war came along and all the religious work as well as marriage had to wait.

Later, upon being married and having one child, I felt again the call to do more church work than I was doing in the choir and with the youth of our congregation back at Seattle. I tried to persuade my wife to enter the religious field on some full time basis so that I could be nearer to that type of work. Being the wise person that she has always been, she advised me to re-enter Bible College and continue studies so that my mind might be made clearer as to the future. This I did.

Along with the full schedule of studies came two more children into our family.

Now when I look back upon all the events that took place, I can see how the Lord worked into the plan for my future ministry and am very grateful that he chose me to help in His Kingdom building.

REV. HAL HOOKER
Church of God Pastor

Just this past week I conducted a revival meeting in Dallas where 21 years before my father held such a meeting in the same church. I was then a small boy and can look back upon it and see where all those events helped in the final decisions for why I became a minister.

B Teamers For Hawks

Freshmen Ernest Hays and Gene Young (left to right) have been seeing lots of action for the HCJC basketball reserves this season. Hays is 6-6 and hails from Andrews. Young is 6-1 and resides in Brownfield.

Clark On Doubtful List As Jayhawks Head North

Bad news descended upon the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks on the eve of their departure on the most important basketball trip of the season. It was learned Charles Clark, the team's leading scorer and rebounder, may not get to play against either Amarillo tonight or Clarendon JC on Saturday, due to bad feet.

Ailing dogs are a chronic complaint of the standout forward. They kept him on the bench several times last year. Now, in the heat of the conference campaign, they are acting up again.

His miseries come at a bad time. The Jayhawks are leading the West Zone race, with a 2-0 record, having knocked off Clark Phillips and Odessa in that order. The Jayhawks would have quite an assignment, even with Charles running at full speed. Amarillo beat the Hawks in the first round of the Howard College tournament here in December and is always tough at home.

Clarendon recently bombed Odessa in Clarendon and could turn out to be the class in the West Zone.

If Clark can't go, Johnnie Watson will start at forwards for HCJC. Others who will be in there will be Al Kloven, Mike Powell, Bobby Wardell and Stan Williams. Amarillo leans heavily upon Cordell Brown. Brown emerged as one of the better players in the Howard College tournament.

The Badgers have a 7-10 won-loss record for the season and are 2-1 within the Zone. A win tonight would enable them to hurdle HCJC in the scrap for first place.

4th Round Kayo Ordered: Boxer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Go down and stay down in the fourth." Those were his instructions from Art Aragon, third-ranking welterweight, prior to a bout scheduled for Dec. 18 in San Antonio, Tex., boxer Dick Goldstein testified yesterday.

Aragon, the "golden boy" of Los Angeles fight circles, is charged with fight fixing. The bout never came off. Aragon, 29, cancelled out on the day of the fight because of a fever.

Goldstein, 26, told a jury of six men and six women yesterday that Aragon summoned him to his North Hollywood home Dec. 8.

"He told me that only on one condition would I get the fight—that I go down in the fourth," he testified.

"I was to come out and box the first round, take a knockdown in the second and go down and stay down in the fourth."

Goldstein, who boxes out of Los Angeles, said that his end of the purse for the San Antonio fight was to be $750, and that Aragon promised to give him additional money.

Earlier Monta B. Morgan, a member of the Texas State Boxing Commission, told the court that Aragon flunked a lie detector test given both fighters after Goldstein informed San Antonio police of the alleged fix attempt.

Aragon has denied asking Goldstein to take a dive. As the trial began he told newsmen: "I welcome this chance to be publicly exonerated."

Big Spring B Team Upsets Seminole In Odessa Meet

ODESSA (SC)—Big Spring B sprang a mild upset in trouncing the Seminole A team in the first round of the Permian Basin girls' volleyball tournament here Thursday.

Seminole won the first game, 13-9, but the Steerette reserves came back to even matters by winning the second, 13-11, in an engagement that required 12 extra minutes of play. The Steerettes then won the third one, 15-9.

The success qualified the Big Spring club to meet Denver City at 8 o'clock today. Denver City brand of ball and it has paid off with nine wins in 15 starts. Steve Jarnigan, 6-2; and Boyd White, 6-1, are the standouts in the Clarendon attack. Both boys have been averaging 19 points a game.

Jarnigan played basketball under the present Clarendon coach, Buddy Travis, when both were at Silverton High School. Jarnigan was an all-state player his senior year. He missed seven games of this season due to a broken wrist.

Texas Southern May Have Top 5

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—In all the hullabaloo about the great basketball team at Southern Methodist, most Texans have lost sight of Texas Southern.

A Negro college may be the best of them all. That won't be determined because Southern is classified with the small colleges of the country and plays only in the NAIA. But it has the record and the authoritative backing to rank it with the top outfits of the nation.

Coach Edward H. Adams smiles when he quoted authorities who say "Texas Southern, if they were in the NCAA, would walk away with the championship."

Aaron Wants In Series

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Milwaukee's Henry (Hank) Aaron, satisfied with a healthy raise, said today there are two things which would make him even more satisfied.

"I'd like to retain the batting title," said the fleet right fielder whose .328 led the National League last season.

But more than that, he said, he wants to play in the next World Series.

"I think we've got a good chance," he said.

If the Braves make it, it'll end several years of frustration for the team and baseball-conscious Milwaukee.

Aaron, 23, confirmed estimates that his telephone agreement last night with General Manager John Quinn means a salary increase from a reported $17,000 last year to between $25,000 and $30,000. He wouldn't give definite terms but said he was "very satisfied."

Referring to the recent signing by Boston's Ted Williams for an estimated $100,000, Aaron commented:

"I'd like to be in his shoes. In a few more years maybe I'll be making that much."

Aaron, 25th Brave to agree to terms, had been regarded as a holdout but said he didn't consider himself that. "It was just a misunderstanding."

For the Braves to get into the World Series, Aaron predicted, they'll have to beat out Brooklyn, Cincinnati and St. Louis. won over Wink, 13-1, 13-15, 12-7. One of the players on the Denver City club is Toni Barron Curtis, former Big Spring player.

The Big Spring A team was to swing into action at 12 noon today, at which time it plays Pecos. Barbara Burchett proved a standout performer for Big Spring B against Seminole. Kay Smith starred for Seminole.

The Bees now have a 5-0 won-loss record. The tournament ends Saturday evening. Big Spring's A team was a finalist here last year.

UT Blast Was Aimed At OU, Say Writers

DALLAS (AP)—Two Texas sports writers say Dr. Logan Wilson, president of the University of Texas, was taking a crack at Oklahoma in his speech the other day when he declared that the school that rarely lost a football game was compromising its academic standards.

Dr. Wilson, addressing a luncheon club at Waco, said the one thing worse than having a team that rarely wins is having one that season after season rarely loses. "To me, the latter is prima facie evidence that an institution has compromised its academic standards," he added.

Texas has just replaced its football coach, Ed Price, with Darrell Royal after a season that saw the Longhorns lose 9 of 10 games. Oklahoma has gone almost three full seasons without losing a game, with Texas a victim every year since 1947.

"And here the Oklahoma crowd can hop up and ask what right Dr. Wilson has to besmirch their state university since he can be pointing only to their 'Big Red,'" wrote Lou Maysel, sports editor of the Austin American. They're the only team that has gone through season after season now that Notre Dame has gone into a nosedive. But the folks that will like the Wilson speech the least are the supporters of the Longhorns, most of whom would have been willing to try some of that Oklahoma way of winning for a little while...."

Flem Hall, sports editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, wrote: "Although he called no names, the Longhorn prey, in effect, accused Oklahoma University of having 'compromised' its academic standards. And that, sir, could lead to the severance of athletic as well as diplomatic relations...in a word: 'war.'"

Others who will play for Clarendon include Jay Wilson, 6 feet; Bill Schneider, 5-8; and William (Buz) Bailey, 6-3. Bailey also played for Travis at Silverton.

Clarendon has been averaging 80 points a game. The Jayhawks start north with a 17-3 won-loss record.

Don Clark Gets Post With USC

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A year's search for a football coach at the University of Southern California has ended with the selection of Don Rex Clark, an assistant to Jess Hill for the last six years. Hill advances to the post of athletic director this summer.

Clark is 33 and is assuming a head coaching job for the first time. He was a first rate guard for the Trojans, served with the 9th Division in World War II, won a battlefield commission in the Battle of the Bulge, played two years of pro football with the San Francisco 49ers, was drafted by Eddie Erdelatz for the Navy to design defense patterns, then persuaded to come back to USC by Hill.

Clark was given a four-year contract. The salary was not disclosed. Earl Bolton, university vice president, said he fully expects Clark to become "one of the outstanding young coaches of the nation."

The Harlem Globetrotters look with avareous eyes on the Tigers. They got one of Adams' stars year before last when they bagged Woodrow Sautsberry. That's the reason, however, why Adams isn't worrying about them getting any of his boys now.

"The Globetrotters got in my dog house for taking Woodrow," the coach said. "They're laying off of my boy Bennie Swain."

Swain is the feature attraction of the Texas team that averages 6 feet 6 inches in height with Swain and Willie Taylor both soaring 6 feet 3.

The Tigers have won 21 of 22 games and but for the defeat—71-70 to Rockhurst College of Kansas City—haven't been held under an eight-point margin. The team is averaging 57 points per game.

Howie Johnson Out Front In Tucson Golf Tourney

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Talkative Howie Johnson, a happy-go-lucky newcomer who licked a heart condition to play golf, led a tightly bunched field into the second round of the $15,000 Tucson Open today.

"Boy, I played good," he gloated over yesterday's 6-under-par 64 on the 6,434-yard El Rio course. "It's the first time I've ever led a pro tournament. I like it."

"I have a good time on the course. I talk all the time. It keeps me loose."

Johnson has had health problems since he was a youngster in St. Paul, Minn. Rheumatoid fever damaged his heart, but he was able to play for the University of Minnesota golf team. Then heart trouble put him back in the hospital while he was in the Air Force during World War II.

Johnson came in late to edge Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and Joe Zakarian of Modesto, Calif., by one stroke.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., one of the strong favorites, was one of a group of five starting today with 66s.

The others are Bill Casper Jr. of Bonita, Calif., surprise winner at Phoenix last week; Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., former U.S. Open champ; Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., the biggest money winner of 1957; and Jimmy Clark, Studio City, Calif.

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech has mapped a 16-game baseball season with three Southwest Conference teams included.

Tech is a member of the conference but isn't yet eligible to compete for the championship.

The Red Raiders open the season with Texas A&M at College Station March 11, play Rice at Houston March 12 and Texas Christian at Fort Worth March 18-19.

Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State and Sheppard Air Force Base make up the remainder of the schedule.

ACKERLY (SC)—Gail went a game ahead in the playoff to determine the District-B boys' basketball champion by defeating Ackerly, 53-51, here Thursday night.

The series will be resumed Saturday night in Gail. If the Coyotes win that one, it will be all over. Should Ackerly win, a third game will be played on a neutral site next Tuesday.

Ackerly had a chance to tie the game in the final second when Royale Lewis passed to Pat Grigg who, in turn, passed under the basket to Benny Kamble. The ball failed to go through the hoop, however.

Joe Cook led the Eagles in scoring with 13 points.

ACKERLY (SC)—Cook 5-3-13; Wallace 2-11; Grigg 2-4-4; Gill 4-11; Lewis 2-3-7; Kamble 1-5-2; Totah 3-9-21.

Herd And Abilene Vie Here Tonight

Relegated to the roles of spoilers, at best, in the District 2-AAAA basketball campaign, the Big Spring Steers take on the Abilene Eagles tonight in the local gym. Tipoff time is 8 o'clock.

The Steers were ridden out of the race earlier this week by the Odessa Bronchos, the only team which still has a chance to catch the high-flying Eagles.

The outing is significant in other ways, in addition to being the final home game for the Bovines. A contest for selection of a 1957 Basketball Queen has been conducted among the players and the winner will be crowned between halves of the varsity game.

It has also been designated as Future Steer Night. All players performing on Junior High School and Ward school teams—some 130 of them—will be guests of the team. They will be introduced as groups, along with their coaches.

There'll be a B game, starting at 6:15 p.m. Big Spring's reserves are still undefeated in conference play and can sew up the B team crown tonight.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It's a long way to football season, but if you don't mind, I'm going to include here a monologue carried on in a recent edition of Catholic Action by Paul Bryant, the Texas Aggie mentor, and put to print by Fred Digby of New Orleans. It concerns an insight on last fall's Southwest Conference race and attunes you to Bryant's feeling about the future:

"The 1958 Sugar Bowl will have the choice of four Southwest Conference teams next December . . .

"I know a lot of people who saw Baylor against Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl and the Bears will be the top team in our league next season but the way I look at it we're going to have a real wing-ding before the championship is decided.

"Arkansas has its best material in years—maybe the best in the conference. Texas is going to be strong, too, and has a new coach in Darrell Royal who did all right at Mississippi State and Washington.

"We're going to be in good shape. Maybe not as strong as last season but any team that beats the Aggies will know it has been in a battle.

"I'm sorry the Aggies didn't get to play in a bowl game last New Year's Day.

"We had a real good club and I sure wish we could have had the Sugar Bowl invite and a go at Tennessee.

"I saw the game and heard a lot of fellows talking about the way Baylor hit against Tennessee. I wish they could have seen the Aggies.

"When we played Baylor they were inside our 20-yard line about ten times and scored only twice. Talk about hitting, there wasn't a team anywhere that could out-hit the Aggies. There are teams with more manpower but none with more fight.

"We were unbeaten because we were never outfought. When it came to blocking and tackling, the Aggies couldn't be beat. We had about 15 football players but they were real battlers.

"Maybe we won't be as good in 1957 as we were in '56 but we hope we're good enough to get the Sugar Bowl invite.

"One reason we want to come is to let the fans see John Crow. There's a football player for you. Best I ever coached. That's right. The best player I ever coached. You're always in the game when you have a fellow like Crow on your side."

Even though Snyder is the only team playing baseball in District 3-AAA this year, the Tigers will wind up playing more games than the Big Spring Steers, who have four opponents in 2-AAAA.

Coach Speed Moffett has already looked 20 practice games for his club. The Tigers will meet each 2-AAAA school at least four times, with the exception of Odessa, and will play the Bronchos twice.

Big Spring and Snyder meet no fewer than five times the coming season.

Bobby Maines, who plans to return to Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, shortly, wound up as the YMCA industrial basketball league's full-season scoring leader with 229 points (in ten games), which should surprise no one.

Those close to the scene say Maines could have torn the league apart, had he so desired, but he seemed to make no great effort to run up his aggregate. Instead, he saw to it that his teammates broke into the scoring columns regularly.

Ray Crooks of the Nabors Paint Store team was the second leading scorer, with 193 points; followed by Pat Gaskin of McGibbon Oil, with 183; and D. A. Miller of Mort Denton's, 173.

Perhaps you didn't know that Sugar Ray Robinson, the deposed Middleweight boxing champion, made an effort to force the challenger, Gene Fullmer, to sign a contract giving Ray part of his ring earnings for as long as Fullmer was active—in return for a chance at the title.

When Fullmer threatened to let the National Boxing Association in on the champ's demands, Robinson decided it wasn't good business.

Loudermilk And Lucas Are Involved In Red-Hot Duel

Craig Canon of Odessa and Abilene's Ted Lucas trail Jan Loudermilk of Big Spring by only two points in the District 2-AAAA basketball scoring race but only Lucas gets a chance to overtake the Steer junior tonight.

Canon has played one more game than the other two contenders and will be idle until Tuesday.

Loudermilk, who has 121 points in six games, and Lucas will be playing against each other here tonight.

Larry Cooper of Midland is fourth in the scoring derby and trails Loudermilk by only six points. He plays against San Angelo tonight. Cooper has played one more game than have Loudermilk and Lucas, however. His season ends tonight.

Two-Handed Boxer Tries Courchesne

NEW YORK (AP)—Imagine the confusion among haters if Don Newcombe would throw one pitch righthanded and the next lefthanded? That's how opponents of Isidro Martinez feel when the featherweight from Panama starts switching styles.

Bobby Courchesne, a rough and ready young man from Holyoke, Mass., will try to solve Martinez's bewildering moves tonight in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden.

Network customers who got a kick out of Martinez' first U.S. appearance last month will be able to follow again on NBC radio-TV at 10 p.m. EST. A few people might even show up at the Garden to see the show in the flesh.

Webb Hosts T-B-P Quint Tonight

The Webb Air Force Base basketball team will tune up its game for the upcoming service tournament at Amarillo in a game with the strong Tate-Bristow-Parks independent club in the Base Gym this evening. Tipoff time is 7:30 o'clock.

Webb had a two-game series here cancelled with Biggs AFB of El Paso. The series was to have been concluded last night.

On Sunday, the Dusters leave for Amarillo where Monday they open play in the West Division SWAFC tournament.

The winner and the runner-up there become eligible to take part in the Southwest Air Force Conference meet at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, later in the month.

TOURING LINKS PROS WILL FIND BRACKENRIDGE COURSE TOUGHER

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The touring golfers will find Brackenridge Park course tougher than ever before when they play in the $20,000 Texas Open here next week, tournament director Leroy Brannen said today.

Noting the statement at Tucson that the Texas Open course was easier than the one there, Brannen declared:

"These fellows won't be shooting 60s on Brackenridge this year. We have added 300 yards to it, put in new tees and the par 36-35-71 6,490-yard course will be a good test of golf."

Some of the top players had shunned the Tucson Open because PGA Tournament Supervisor Harvey Raynor said they didn't want to play on the course.

In the past, Brackenridge has been the butt of jokes because it has proven so easy for the touring pros. Several 60s have been shot there and Mike Souchak set an all-time record when he won the 1955 tournament with 237 for 72 holes.

Last year the Texas Open was moved to the tougher Ft. Sam Houston course, where Gene Littler won it with 276. But it was moved back to Brackenridge this year on popular demand and because the course was improved and toughened up.

Phils And Tribe Experience Woes

The St. Louis Cardinals are the only major league team with all players signed for 1957. Other clubs are having difficulty with spring training only three weeks away.

An Associated Press survey disclosed today that the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Phils are having the most trouble. Each has some 25 players unsigned.

General Manager Frank Lane completed signing Cardinal players when Stan Musial agreed to terms last week. His contract calls for a reported $80,000.

Among lagging Indians are Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Vic Wertz, Bobby Avila and Chico Carrasquel.

Phils out of the fold include Richie Ashburn, Curt Simmons, Willie Jones, Granny Hamner and Ted Kazanski.

The Milwaukee Braves list 20 players unsigned. Among the regulars are Warren Spahn, Lou Burdette, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley, Ernie Johnson, Dave Jolly, Lou Sleater, Jack Dittmer, Johnny Logan, Frank Torre, Bill Bruton and Wes Covington. Hank Aaron, National League batting champion, agreed to terms last night.

The New York Giants have not received seven contracts, while the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs still have six unsigned players each.

Only one member of the Brooklyn Dodgers is among the unsigned, Sandy Amoros. Cincinnati has two to go—Johnny Klippstein and George Crowe.

In the American League the New York Yankees have signed up their top two money-makers, Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle, but they have a host of veterans among 22 players still unsigned. The list includes Don Larsen, Hank Bauer, Bill Skowron, Andy Carey, Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant, Bob Turley, Bob Grim, Elston Howard, Irv Noren, Tommy Byrne, Mickey McDermott and Tom Morgan.

The Kansas City A's have 20 players yet to come to terms.

The Boston Red Sox report 16 players have not returned their contracts signed, but on Wednesday General Manager Joe Cronin landed the big catch—Ted Williams for a $100,000 pact.

The Washington Senators listed 13 unsigned; the Chicago White Sox, 12; the Detroit Tigers, 10; and the Baltimore Orioles, 9.

No Meet Games On Tap Tonight

No games in the annual Big Spring Junior High School basketball tournament will be played tonight, due to the fact that Abilene and the resident Steers are playing a varsity contest here.

First round games were to be unreeled this afternoon and second round play gets under way Saturday at 9 a.m.

First round action has Big Spring meeting Midland Austin at 12 noon. Andrews tangling with Odessa Bowie at 1:25 p.m.; Midland San Jacinto clashing with Odessa Bonham at 2:50 p.m.; and Odessa Crockett opposing Midland Cowden at 4:15 p.m.

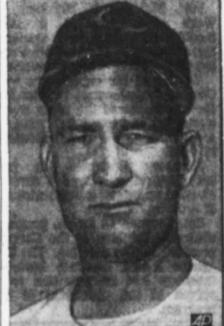

The tall San Jacinto team is an overwhelming favorite to cop the crown it won a year ago. As a unit, the San Jacinto club is undefeated in three seasons.

All games will be unreeled in the High School Gym.

Coach Charles Caraway's Big Spring Yearlings have been having their troubles.

J. B. Davis, one of the standouts on the team, only recently returned to competition after having trouble with an abscessed tooth. Gordon Bristow and Donnie Everett, among others, have been under the weather.

All will probably play in the tournament, however, which climaxes the season for all the teams.

Government 'Knew' Oil Firms Planned Price Hike
 NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Post said today that the federal government "knew weeks before the Middle East crisis came to a head that the major U.S. oil companies intended to jump their prices if the Suez Canal were blocked."
 The Post, in a Washington dispatch by correspondent Robert G. Spivack, said that "executives of the nation's major oil companies made this clear at a hush-hush meeting here with high officials of the State, Justice, Interior, Treasury and Defense Departments."
 The story added that the oil executives "hinted that this action might be avoided by some government subsidy," but that government officials "decided to take no steps to avert the price increases."
 The secret meeting, the Post said, took place in Conference Room B of the Interdepartmental Auditorium on Constitution Avenue on Sept. 19, 1955—"seven weeks before the election."
 Minutes of the meeting, stamped "classified" and "confidential," were kept closely guarded, the Post said. The newspaper added:
 "A copy came into the possession of Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) who demanded to know 'why they were classified.' Late yesterday a high Interior Department official announced that it was 'decided to declassify them.'"
 Kefauver disclosed their existence to the Senate Antitrust subcommittee investigating oil company profiteering . . .
 Present (at the September meeting) were most U.S. members of the Middle East Emergency committee, a "voluntary" combine of big oil companies who have been exempted from anti-trust prosecution in return for a promise to increase fuel shipments to Western Europe.
 Also present were top government officials and various oil "experts."
 Chairman of the meeting was S. P. Coleman, head of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, the Post said.
 Among the government officials on hand, the newspaper said, were Dr. Arthur S. Fleming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and representatives of most of the major departments of government.

Mystery Hides Family Deaths
 NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn couple, plagued for years by illness and financial woes, plunged to death today, apparently after their 5-year-old daughter died.
 Police said they did not know whether the child died of illness or was slain.
 Bloodstains in the family's apartment, in a quiet and reasonably well-to-do neighborhood, added to the mystery.
 Police, noting the proximity of the parents' bodies in the courtyard, said it appeared they "went down holding hands together" in their plunge from the roof of the 15-story apartment house.
 The dead are Joseph T. Kennedy, 46; his wife, Nan, 42, and the daughter Valerie.
 Police Inspector James Lockhart said there was no mark of violence on the child.
 Police said there were bloodstains on a shirt belonging to the father, which was found lying on a television set, and blood on a divan pillow in the living room.
 Valerie was found dead in bed. She was dressed in blue jeans, brown jersey and shoes and socks. Police said she apparently had been dead since about midnight—three hours before the parents' death plunge.
 Police said the parents had been ill for years—the father of a stomach ailment and the mother of asthma—but neither had been in critical condition.
 Kennedy had been out of work for years and had been living on funds from relatives.
 Police said no note was found in the Kennedy apartment.
 The family lived on the top floor of the house in a quiet, reasonably well-to-do residential section.
 A number of medicine bottles were found, indicating that one or more of the family was ill.
 A medical examiner was summoned to seek to determine the cause of Valerie's death.
 The father wore a bathrobe over pants and shirt. His wife wore a dress and coat.

Nurnberg Speaks At Church Meet
 Maj. Malcolm L. Nurnberg of Webb AFB spoke at a joint meeting of men's and women's organizations at the St. Paul Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening.
 He told of his experiences with Christian missionaries in Ecuador. He was leader of the party which attempted to rescue five missionaries killed by savages in Ecuador in 1955.
 Nurnberg illustrated his talk with pictures, displayed a shrunken head and gave a demonstration of a native dart gun.
 Sgt. Herman L. Smith, program chairman for Men of the Church, presided at the meeting. The two groups held separate business meetings and refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

Civil Suit Filed In Oil Map Case
 HOUSTON (AP)—A civil suit was filed yesterday against Col. Odie R. Seagraves, 70, one of four men indicted in Pittsburgh, Pa., in the case of the missing Gulf Oil Corp. exploration maps.
 A request for a bill of discovery to force Seagraves to give an account of what he owns was filed by H. R. Aldredge Jr., Santa Monica, Calif.

Japs Held For Sale Of Dope To GIs
 YOKOHAMA (AP)—Three Japanese were arrested today for producing marijuana cigarettes for American servicemen. Police said the gang had collected some $27,000 since last spring—at 60 cents a cigarette—from GIs in the Tokyo, Yokohama and Shizuoka areas.

Refiners Cut Back On Crude
 HOUSTON (AP)—Five major refining companies yesterday announced crude run cutbacks to make more oil available for shipment to Europe and to reduce excessive domestic gasoline stocks.
 The Texas Co. said it is reducing operations 20,000 barrels a day at its refinery at Port Arthur, Continental Oil Co. announced reductions of five percent in operations at its Rocky Mountain and Mid-Continent plants.
 Other companies announcing crude run cutbacks were Cities Service Co., Shell and Standard of Ohio. Standard said it is cutting 500,000 barrels off its production for the first quarter of 1957.
 Earlier, cutbacks were announced by Humble, Esso Standard, Socony Mobil and Skelly.
