Old and abandoned autos are piling up in one junkyard in New York City as a result of state laws, effective Feb. 1, which require car insurance and inspection. The 1,500 cars in this lot is about double the normal amount. Cars are broken up for steel scrap and reclaimed rubber.

Ike To Meet With Macmillan, Mollet

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower's headquarters announced today he will meet in Bermuda March 21-24 with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain. The President also will confer in Washington Feb. 26-27 with French Premier Guy Mollet.

Arrangements for the meetings underscore efforts to heal differences which developed between the United States on the one hand and Britain and France on the other as a result of the Suez Canal crisis.

Formal announcement of the conferences, forecast some time ago, came as efforts continued to get Israel to withdraw its troops from Egypt.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower and Macmillan, who recently succeeded Sir Anthony Eden as Britain's prime minister, will meet in Bermuda at the President's suggestion. That statement dealt with the site of meeting.

Responding to a question, Hagerty said suggestions that such a meeting be held came from both the President and Macmillan.

The press secretary added that also was so regarding the forthcoming Eisenhower-Mollet meeting.

In December, 1953, Eisenhower conferred in Bermuda with Sir Winston Churchill, then prime

American Reds Vow Support To Antisegregation Movement

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Communist party promised today "full participation in and support of the all-sided antisegregation movement in the South."

It also pledged to strengthen and broaden "the battle for the unlettered right of suffrage for all Southerners."

A spokesman said the party, holding its first convention in seven years, had approved this program as part of a policy resolution the delegates are drafting.

The program also called for: An intensified struggle for equal employment in all industries everywhere in the nation. Action for desegregation of public schools.

"In the South," this section of the resolution said, "this requires support of the program of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and other organizations of the Negro people to accomplish desegregation of the schools in accordance with the mandates of the federal courts."

The resolution said it is not the task of Communists to "impose upon the Negro people new forms of struggle, tactics alien to their historic development as a people."

The convention next turned to a discussion of the Communist party's relations to the trade union movement.

The party yesterday rejected proposals that it reorganize into a "nonparty" political action group.

The final form of the policy resolution is expected to determine

County Asked To Take Over Fair Association Properties

Representatives of the Howard County Fair Association, the county agent, the county home demonstration agent, the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and others interested in the project, asked the county to take over ownership and operation of the Howard County Fair plant west of Big Spring.

The commissioners heard the statements of the group and then requested the county attorney to investigate the law to find out if there is a legal way by which such a project could be handled.

The spokesmen for the group said that the fair association has spent more than $60,000 for buildings and facilities on the grounds. The land is under a 99-year lease to the association from the Howard County Rodeo Association. Approximately $9,000 remains unpaid on the obligation the association assumed in its program.

The plan was for the association to turn the buildings and land lease over to the county. The county would operate the property and maintain it. Other spokesmen also urged that an expansion program of the facilities is imperative if the fair is to ever serve its purpose.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, said he questioned seriously if there was any legal way the county would assume such a project particularly with the buildings on leased land. As to expanding facilities he and other commissioners pointed out that the county, with its approval of the airport bonds, has stretched its available bonding limit to the utmost. Further study was promised.

Texas Millionaire To Say If He'll Save Surety Firm

DALLAS (AP)—A Texas millionaire, his identity now secret, was supposed to say definitely today whether he will bail out the ICT Insurance Co. by purchasing a controlling interest, officials of the suspended firm said.

James C. Case, president, has said the man will put up $1,500,000 required by the Insurance Commission for the ICT to stay in business. The commission has called the company "hopelessly insolvent" and a 10-day restraining order issued last week is keeping the firm from conducting business in Texas. A hearing will be held Feb. 19. The firm has been ordered to show cause why it should not be put into receivership.

A retiring member of the commission criticized what he called "too much division of authority" on the board. He cited the ICT

Legislature Back For Another Round

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate and House marked time today while legislators prepared for a series of crucial committee meetings this afternoon and tonight.

The Senate adjourned until 10:30 a.m. tomorrow after a 35-minute session in which routine business was conducted.

In the House Rep. W. A. Heathley of Paducah took the speaker's gavel to conduct another routine session. Speaker Waggoner Carr was in bed with a cold.

Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, chairman of the influential House Appropriations Committee, said he still could not estimate when his group would make its recommendations on state spending for the next two years.

The House Appropriations Committee has about finished public hearings on the two billion-dollar major appropriations bill and might throw it up for debate as early as next week.

But that was a future problem to most legislators today as they concentrated on crucial committee meetings this afternoon and tonight.

The big attention-getter was a 7:30 p.m. hearing on the much publicized Pool bill which squeaked past the House last week and now faces the Senate Privileges and Elections Committee.

The controversial measure must have almost immediate committee and floor approval if it becomes effective in time for the April 2 special election to name Gov. Price Daniel's successor in the U.S. Senate.

Most senators seem favorably inclined toward passage of the bill—possibly as close as the three-vote leeway in the House.

Should Pool's bill get trapped tonight, the Senate Committee might turn to another bill pending before it—a bill (SB183) that would do away with special elections for U.S. Senate vacancies.

Defeat of the Pool bill—or burial in a subcommittee—would be a distinct slap at Daniel who has pushed it since introduction. House opponents of the bill said it was rammed through "pressure tactics."

A big crowd was expected tonight in the House when the Game and Fish Commission in its so-called Universal Fishing License bill (HB27). The measure, which would include salt water anglers for the first time, is the first of several bills offered by the Game and Fish Commission in its expanded recreational program.

Other bills would increase hunting fees and give the commission more authority in financing wildlife projects and in setting hunting seasons.

Other House committees will consider a proposed voter registration law (HB273), three more

Agriculture Chief Enters Senate Race

AUSTIN (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner John White said today he will be a candidate for the U.S. Senate in the April 2 special election.

"Everywhere I go the people are looking for a new face," White said. "The race is wide open."

White said he would not resign as agriculture commissioner while making the race because any vacancy could be filled by appointment.

Eight other candidates are in the race, several more are likely to join before the March 4 filing deadline.

Other candidates are Rep.-at-large Martin Dies, state Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston; Ralph Yarborough; Hugh Wilson of Fort Arham; Thad Hutcheson of Houston, the only Republican; James Hart; and Charles Hill of Fort

11 Burglaries Are Reported In City

Eleven burglaries and attempted break-ins were reported to the police department over the week-end.

Three of the burglaries were to vehicles, with the most serious being a refrigerated meat truck.

About $70 worth of pork was taken from Lupe Trucking Company, Wichita, Kan., today. The truck, driven by B. C. Jones of Wichita, was parked at Jack's No. 1, at 910 E. 3rd, at the time.

Reported missing from the truck were a 10-pound can of ham, an eight-pound can of ham, 100 pounds of ham in 16 and 18-pound cans, a box of bacon, and two bags of sausage.

Jones said the compartment where the meat was kept was unlocked at the time.

Jack Johnson, 212 Dixie, reported his car ransacked while it was parked in front of the First Federal Savings and Loan building Sunday morning while he was at church. Johnson said the cigarette lighter and knobs on the radio were stolen.

Mrs. Clifford Bird, a nurse at the Big Spring Hospital, said her car was ransacked Sunday but nothing was reported taken.

Dag Sees Danger Of 'New Conflict'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold warned today that any U.N. steps to punish Israel at this time might complicate the Middle East situation.

In a special report to the General Assembly, Hammarskjold said that he had made no progress in getting Israel to withdraw from Egypt and the Gaza Strip. He asked for guidance as to what he should do next.

He had no suggestions on this beyond a continuation of his contacts with Israeli and Egyptian officials.

He did take note, however, of moves to impose sanctions on Israel by pointing out that the Assembly could only make recommendations. He then questioned whether this would not serve only to introduce "new elements of conflict."

The report was issued as delegates continued intense private talks as to what action the Assembly should take.

The 27-nation Asian-African bloc which is considering a demand for economic, military and financial restrictions against Israel, called a meeting for this afternoon.

The Assembly will meet either tomorrow or Wednesday to take up Hammarskjold's report, which made these points:

1. Israel had failed to make clear whether it would pull its troops out of the Gaza Strip, if the U.N. found ways to safeguard Israel's interests.

2. Israel had not answered his question as to whether U.N. forces would be permitted on the Israeli side of the border.

3. Egypt had reaffirmed privately its "intent to observe fully the provisions of the (1949) armistice agreement."

Israel's refusal to settle her intentions, he said, "has complicated the efforts to achieve implementation of the resolutions of the General Assembly."

Hammarskjold insisted that negotiations could not be conducted on the measures to preserve order until Israel agreed to withdraw.

The secretary general's discussion on "collective measures"—the charter term for sanctions and other punitive action—dealt mainly with the legal aspects.

He pointed out that such actions normally would come under the Security Council, which has the power to take decisions binding upon all U.N. members. The Council, however, dropped the Middle East problem after British and French vetoes last fall blocked its efforts to act.

Hammarskjold said that in some cases Assembly action, although only in the form of recommendations, might be useful in emphasizing certain principles of the charter and might thus be accepted as an obligation.

He then suggested that the Assembly also must consider the possible effect any such action might have in complicating efforts to achieve peaceful solutions.

Israel's top spokesmen at the U.N. repeated their government's demand that Egypt give guarantees against new Arab raids from the Gaza Strip and against a new Egyptian blockade of Israeli shipping in the gulf, the waterway between the Red Sea and the southern Israeli port of Eilat.

An informed source in Tel Aviv said Israel now was also demanding that she be promised passage for her shipping through the Suez Canal.

Mrs. Golda Meir, Israeli foreign minister, told a reporter she doubted the Assembly would vote penalties. But she said if it did, "suffering in Israel and hardships due to economic pressure will not change our position."

Abba Eban, Israeli ambassador to the U.N. and Washington, told a television interviewer a declaration of nonbelligerency against Israel from Egyptian President Nasser or Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi would be important. But he added, "It would still be necessary, of course, to guarantee its implementation."

Arabian delegates have said the United States has been seeking such a declaration from Nasser in hopes it would help induce the Israelis to pull back.

Mrs. Meir said she was sure any U.S. declaration guaranteeing free passage in the Gulf of Aqaba would "greatly influence" Israel. She told reporters only Israeli police and "our administration can make sure there are no raids from the Gaza Strip."

Eban spent 45 minutes in conference yesterday with Hammarskjold.

Hundreds Seek To Prove Missing Man Legally Dead

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Because Arthur Wright left a wife, six children and a legal tangle, hundreds of men who never knew him have worked in an effort to prove him dead.

Men with shovels resumed digging today in a great mound of damp earth that sloughed off the 40-foot high bank of a drainage ditch near Wright's home. Maybe the body's in there.

Wright, a disabled World War II veteran, supported his family mainly on a 98¢ a month disability check. Unless his body is found the pension stops.

Mrs. Wright said the Veterans Administration told her the pension could not resume until Wright is declared legally dead—and that without a body, the process requires seven years.

Wright, 36, disappeared Jan. 27 while crossing the ditch at his home near Eads, about 20 miles east of here. First the ditch was dragged. Since then, nearly 200 men have shown up daily to continue the search.

On Friday, neighbors, friends, strangers and sailors from the Memphis Naval Station, working with sandbags and a bulldozer, dammed the ditch to cut the flow of water and allow the bottom to be examined.

Over the weekend, the ditch, a deep gash that winds to the Wolf River, was checked all the way down—seven miles. Only Wright's cap was found.

Benson Says Parity No Real Yardstick

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—For a quarter of a century farmers have had their sights set on a standard of farm prices called "parity." But Secretary of Agriculture Benson says such a goal is illusory and unsatisfactory.

"Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers, in relation to prices they themselves must pay.

This standard was written into farm legislation back in the days of the great depression of 1930s. Since then farmers have, on occasions, reached this goal—particularly during World War II and other periods when market demand was greater than farm supplies.

In a recent report to Congress, Benson said in effect that parity prices are nice things to have around just for calling attention to changes in farm product prices that are occurring. But they are no good, he said, for mapping individual and governmental efforts to attain farm prosperity.

This report had been requested by Congress. It asked Benson to make a "thorough study" of possible methods of improving the parity formula. He did make some suggestions, but declared that the standard was of little or no value as a realistic goal for farmers.

Benson's report said that "the comparison of prices received versus prices paid" is a standard economic technique.

"But it should not be inferred from this that such comparisons alone provide fair or satisfactory standards for fixing or supporting either farm prices or income," it said, adding, "They do not."

Benson's report is expected to stir up a political storm in Congress and among farm leaders once House and Senate Agriculture committees get around to improve the present parity standard.

Benson set up this bill of particulars against the parity standard:

1. Parity prices do not indicate what can be sold at satisfactory prices in domestic and export markets.

2. They do not determine prices at which competition, especially foreign, can be satisfactorily met. He says domestic prices supported on the basis of the parity standard have, in many cases, priced U.S. farm products out of overseas markets.

3. Parity prices do not indicate how profitable farm production may be.

4. They do not determine how much or how little farmers will produce. There was a time when Benson argued that flexible price supports, ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, would help guide farm production. That is, low supports would discourage production in times of shortages.

5. Parity prices, however calculated, do not automatically assure farmers satisfactory or equitable incomes, either individually or collectively. He says parity prices often give farmers a larger return than parity prices because they sell more at the lower prices.

Benson did not suggest for one moment, however, that the parity standard be abandoned.

Out Of Her Doghouse

Mrs. A. L. Newcomer, who vowed she'd wait at the Los Angeles Union Station until the Southern Pacific Railroad found her lost dog, sits in the nearly-empty waiting room at midnight, holding another pet, Peanut. Mrs. Newcomer says Peanut and the lost dog, a Shepherd named Sugar Ray, were in a baggage car as she and her husband traveled from Oakland to Los Angeles. When the train slowed at Berkeley, a trainman opened the door and Sugar Ray slipped out. The dog was returned today.

Dog Comes Back, Mistress Takes Heat Off Railroad

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Sugar Ray, a friendly 4-year-old dog with an itch to wander, is rejoining her mistress today—much to the relief of Mrs. A. L. Newcomer and the Southern Pacific Railroad. The little terrier jumped off the baggage car of a train at nearby Berkeley Tuesday and Mrs. Newcomer refused to budge from the Los Angeles Union Station until she was found.

Sugar Ray turned up yesterday in the lobby of the St. John Hotel in Oakland. Mrs. Newcomer, 29, had worked at the hotel and lived there two years ago. The wife of a Navy man from Ellis, Kan., she has since lived in Honolulu and her husband recently was transferred to Long Beach.

"I cried with happiness when they told me Sugar Ray was found," she said in Los Angeles last night. "I was worried because Sugar was never by herself."

She and the dog were en route from Oakland to Los Angeles when Sugar Ray took off. Mrs. Newcomer learned of the disappearance when the train reached Los Angeles and announced: "We're staying here until they find my dog."

Farm Conditions In Texas Improving

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 11 (AP)—Farm conditions are improving, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said this week.

Weather conditions, which ranged from good rains in East Texas and much of the Gulf Coast, light showers in the north and central sections, and drizzles to no rain in large portions of the far West, the Plains and South Texas, will help offset the livestock feed bill by increased grazing. Soil is in better condition for spring planting, director G. G. Gibson of the service said.

This does not mean the drought is broken. Much rain is needed in most of Texas and follow-up rains will be needed soon even where moisture is now good, he added.

Small grain fields took on a new look, and with a few days of warm weather grazing will be increased. Livestock throughout the state is being fed. Marketing is normal for this time of the year and has decreased in some sections as hopes increase for continued grazing and spring rain.

The 1957 crop season has begun with cotton planting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

"The best rain we have had in Northeast Texas in years, over four inches, has soil in excellent condition, and with a few days of warm weather winter legumes and pastures will grow and provide lots of grazing for cattle," John Surovik said at Mt. Pleasant.

At Nacogdoches Walter Scott added that cattle conditions are improving with pastures. He said also seed for the East Texas tomato crop are being planted in hotbeds to grow plants for the field.

In the Gulf Coast area field work is generally at a standstill due to a week of light showers, drizzle and fog. Surface moisture is good. Pastures are making satisfactory growth and furnishing fair to good grazing. Cattle still are being fed large amounts of hay.

In far West Texas, the high humidity, fog, light drizzle and rains under one inch hasn't helped the critically dry subsoil. Livestock is being fed large amounts of concentrates and roughage and some ranchers and some farmers are applying pre-planting irrigation water to cotton land.

Artillery Shells Defeat Avalanches

DENVER, Feb. 11 — Artillery shells fired from stockpiled 75mm. cannon are helping defeat the avalanches and snowslides in the Colorado mountains.

The artillery also has an important part in keeping winter traffic moving over 21 Colorado mountain passes, most of them 10,000 feet or more above sea level.

The 75mm. shells knock down potential avalanches before they can rear uncontrolled, down mountain slopes to spread death and destruction.

The Colorado Highway Department is particularly proud of its record so far this year. No travelers have been lost, no one has been killed because of a slide and no one hurt.

Veteran members of the Highway Department staff whose memories go back to 1921 say the weeks of Jan. 4-10 and Jan. 24-Feb. 1 were the worst for snow they have known. And in 1921 no one thought of trying to keep the passes open for winter travel.

During those two critical weeks this year ideal avalanche conditions prevailed— heavy snow and high wind.

In one 24-hour period Jan. 9-10 there were 40 slides. All were triggered, either by nature or by 75mm. shells, without causing serious damage.

All avalanches need some trigger. Sometimes it's the vibration of a truck. Sometimes a chunk of snow dropping from a tree at the right spot and the right time will send tons of snow hurling down a mountain.

The Highway Department thinks that its continuous program of avalanche study and control, plus an improved warning system, prevented injury or loss of life so far this season.

True, some heavy trucks were trapped in deep snow, newly fallen and in slides. At least two trucks still are missing after being hit by a series of slides on Wolf Creek Pass at 10,850 feet in southwestern Colorado. Drivers, however, had either left their trucks before the slides hit or were able to climb out of the cabs to safety.

To the east, several narrow Education Course Registration Will Continue Tonight

ABILENE — Registration for Hardin-Simmons University courses in education 573 a and b, symposium in guidance, will continue Monday night at Reagan Junior High in Sweetwater.

The classes will be taught by Dr. J. Clyde Jetton, associate professor of education and guidance. The present class schedule calls for about 14 more class meetings from 6 p. m. to 8:45 p. m.

The course is designed primarily for students who are working toward the masters degree. However, individuals who have received the bachelors degree but who are not planning graduate study as well as those who are within six hours of a bachelors degree may enroll for the class.

The courses can also meet the requirements for local school boards with completion of courses at described intervals. Dr. Jetton, who was the first person to receive a Ph.D. in psychology from Texas Tech, formerly taught at Sweetwater. He also served as high school counselor from 1951-54.

gauge work trains on a branch line of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad were trapped at 10,023-foot Cumbres Pass near the Colorado-New Mexico border.

Some of the workmen were marooned on the trains for six days, but, well prepared for emergencies, they suffered no undue hardship.

While other states have damaging slides and avalanches, Colorado's Highway Department claims this is the only state in the nation with a complete avalanche control program.

A Bible Thought For Today

Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years. (Revelation 20:6)

Can The Cycle Be Turning?

We are in the peculiar position of easily over or underestimating the value of recent rains in our sector.

One has but to look at our totals here to realize that the drought has not been broken. As beneficial as an inch of moisture in December, followed by half an inch the first week of February, has been, the hard fact remains that we need repeated, more intense rains to penetrate down and down until our totally depleted season has been replaced. Despite the continued overcast and almost phenomenal amount of fog for this country, we simply have not yet had that kind of rain.

So much for the negative. Now for the positive outlook. The moisture we have received has done good far beyond the normal bounds expected for such a volume. Vegetation, especially the tall weeds, filaree, rescue grass, etc., have been brightened immeasurably by heavy humidity. Even the starved junipers seemed to have staked a killing thirst by drinking from the air.

All of this means that the moisture has not been drawn from the soil, as so frequently is the case in our country. On the contrary, it has been given an opportunity to penetrate to the utmost.

While we may be disappointed by failure to get such wonderful amounts as our neighbors in Dawson, Borden and Scurry counties, we may find some grounds for optimism in that at least the pattern of weather has been changed. Can we dare to hope we are on the threshold of a turn?

Vital Appointment Coming Up

There has been some contention over appointments made just prior to Gov. Price Daniel's entry upon the duties of his office on the ground that they should have been left to him. In the case of a state highway commissioner, however, this clearly will be an appointment for Gov. Daniel since the term of E. H. Thornton, Galveston, does not expire until Friday of this week.

Last week we were privileged to have one of the commissioners, Marshall Formby, Plainview, with us. The other member, Herb C. Petry, Carrizo Springs, is well known to many in this area through his legal, service club and other activities. Both, like the retiring member of the commission, are solid, mature men of high calibre.

This is the type of individual that the governor doubtless will nominate to succeed Mr. Thornton, whom it is assumed, will be retiring from public service. If tradition is followed, the successor will be someone from East or Northeast Texas, for the commission has always maintained a semblance of geographical balance in its membership.

It took most of a decade to move the commission out of disputes, indecisors and influences after it was created in 1917. Since that time, however, the highway commission of Texas has been a model for the nation.

No public body in the country, outside of possibly some federal agencies, has disbursed so much money in construction and maintenance. Yet, there has never been a ghost of a breath of scandal connected with it; on the contrary, there has been praise for remarkable results in building a highway system. This is a tribute to the ability, experience, and integrity of the men who have served on the commission. Gov. Daniel doubtless will present someone of similar background to take his place on this highly important body.

Ike's Influence In A Second Term

WASHINGTON — Lately there has been some discussion as to whether any President, now ineligible for a third term, will lose much of his influence in a second term.

This is a curious subject to be attracting attention, for it indicates quite clearly that there is in some quarters very little reading nowadays of American history—especially as it concerns what used to happen at the White House before FDR ignored the two-term tradition and permitted himself to be a candidate for four terms.

This correspondent happened to be looking up a quotation a few days ago in a book of lectures delivered by Woodrow Wilson in 1907. It was published about five years before the then President of Princeton University became President of the United States. The chapter on the presidency of the United States might have been written yesterday. It shows that some so-called "novelties" of today are not novelties at all.

Lately, for instance, much has been written about Dwight Eisenhower not being a politically trained individual and as being "stronger than his party" as if this were something unusual. Mr. Wilson, a scholar who had written extensively on the American constitutional system before he entered public life, put it this way in 1907 as he sized up the trend revealed by political developments of the past:

"What the country will demand of the candidate will be, not that he be an astute politician, skilled and practiced in affairs, but that he be a man such as it can trust, in character, in intention, in knowledge of its needs, in perception of the best means by which those needs may be met, in capacity to prevail by reason of his own weight and integrity.

"Sometimes the country believes in a party, but more often it believes in a man; and conventions have often shown the instinct to perceive which it is that the country needs in a particular presidential year, a mere representative partisan, a military hero, or someone who will genuinely speak for the country itself, whatever be his training and antecedents.

"It is with the instinctive feeling that it is upon occasion such a man that the country wants that nominating conventions will often nominate men who are not their acknowledged leaders, but only such men as the country would like to see lead both its parties."

Mr. Eisenhower is, of course, a man who might have led either party — in fact, in 1948 and again in 1951 there was much talk of selecting him as the candidate of the Democratic party.

But Mr. Wilson's main point is still valid — a President leads by virtue of his hold on public opinion. The prospect of being nominated for a third term was never necessary as a means of continuing a President's leadership.

Actually, a President who has the courage of his convictions maintains power up to the very day his successor is inaugurated. For if he speak his views and the country agrees with them, he puts a damper on the views of those who do not reflect the true course of public opinion. A president can make many appointments to office, even in his second term, and exercise illicit influence in dispensing favors, but this kind of thing — dependence on "patronage" has today become obsolete as a means of winning votes in Congress on major issues.

When President Eisenhower said the other day that, even if the amendment making him ineligible for a third term were repealed, he wouldn't run, he really increased his strength with the country — he didn't diminish it. For everybody knows that Mr. Eisenhower has had plenty of honors and seeks no further office that the nation can give him. A disinterested leader will attract a bigger following than any legislator ambitiously seeking higher office.

The same situation occurred during Theodore Roosevelt's second term. He had announced ahead of time that he wouldn't run for a third term. He did more to influence the policies of Congress than any Republican President in a half-century. And he finally picked his own successor — William Howard Taft. The Republican party did what "TR" asked it to do when it nominated Taft.

Any President who is right on the issues that face the country can make Congress toe the mark — because it's difficult to buck a President of the United States when he carries his case to the country and happens to be right. The vote of 355 to 61 a week ago in the House of Representatives supporting the "Eisenhower Doctrine" offers a good yardstick by which to measure presidential influence in a second term. Weakness The Strength Of U. N.

WASHINGTON — The United Nations, if it imposes sanctions on Israel, will be revealing its weakness at the very moment it tries to demonstrate its strength.

It will be confessing publicly what has been obvious — that it has power only against the small nations but not against the big ones such as Russia, which has ignored U. N. demands that it withdraw troops from Hungary.

Further, the U. N. will be admitting, despite its high moral tone, that it follows a policy of sheer expediency whenever it sees fit. Yet, if the U. N. can't back its recommendations with pressure, it's just a debating society.

Israel has refused to obey the U. N. call to quit Egyptian territory until it is guaranteed: (1) against raids by Egyptians and

(2) against further Egyptian blockading of the Suez Canal against Israeli shipping.

The United States is up to its neck in this mess. It is a friend of Israel, which it helped create in 1948, a fact the Arabs have never forgotten. At the same time it wants to be friendly to the Arabs to win them over. But the Arab pot will boil and have an excuse for boiling so long as Israelis remain on Egyptian territory, thus further fouling up the United States' hopes for dealing with the Arabs.

There's more than that. The United States wants Israel to pull back so Egyptian President Nasser will have one less excuse for refusing to negotiate some agreement to keep the Suez Canal open to Western shipping.

Yet this is like buying a pig in a poke. Nasser, keeping quiet, has promised nothing.

In Israel's case the United States did two things in the U. N.: it voted for Israel to quit Egypt and then voted for a proposal which might seem, but wasn't really, the kind of guarantee Israel wanted against Egyptian attacks.

This was a resolution which said U. N. troops might occupy a strip of land between Egypt and Israel — but didn't say they would — in order to keep the countries from each other's throats. It left the arrangements to be worked out.

Legends Of Gold

ANDROS TOWN, Bahamas — There is gold in the storied earth of legend haunted Andros, a mystery shrouded island as large as the rest of the Bahamian group put together.

But what kind of gold? The romanticists say that buried somewhere in the 1600 square miles of Andros is treasure that today would be worth $25,000,000 or more — loot hidden by Sir Henry Morgan and other pirates in the heyday of the Spanish Main.

The realists say the real gold of Andros is in its real estate — and in its climate, which they say will in time turn the island into another gold coast rivaling Florida.

The romanticists still turn up from time to time, poring over old treasure maps, still seeking the jewels and doubloons supposedly left behind by absent minded pirates. Unfortunately, even if they did come across loot left behind by ancient freebooters, by law they must turn it over to the Bahamian government, which doesn't believe in "finders keepers."

A leading realist is Dr. Axel L. Wenner-Gren, the Swedish industrialist. He is one of a number of financiers from several nations who are pouring millions of dollars of fresh capital into the development projects throughout the Bahamas.

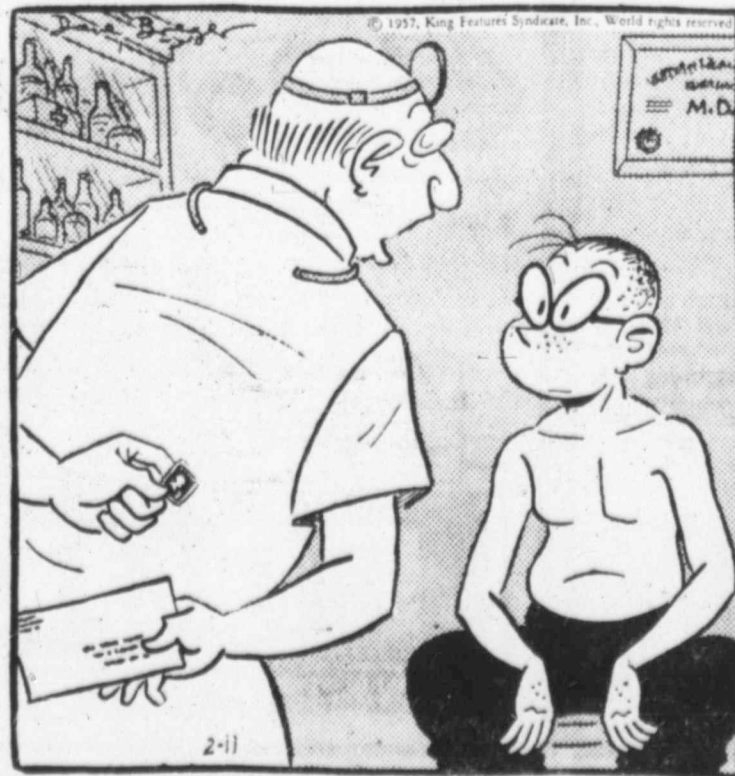

Two top inducements: the islands have no real personal income or inheritance taxes. Wouldn't you like to spend your retirement years on a sunshine island where it never snows... where native household help is cheap and plentiful... where you can enjoy wonderful beaches and some of the world's finest fishing... where the income tax man knocked never at your flower-covered pastel cottage... where, when you pass on, you can hand down your fortune intact to your grateful children instead of having to fork over the biggest wad to the government?

Well, whether you are this kind of person or not, the idea holds potential appeal to thousands of wealthy citizens who dwell in heavily taxed lands.

Dr. Wenner-Gren has bought 100,000 acres on Andros Island bordering Fresh Creek (this is the only island in the Bahamas with fresh water streams), and is engaged in turning it into a gigantic resort colony.

The luxury leisure of Andros Town has already drawn scores of international social figures and celebrities in other fields as Eleanor Holm, Faye Emerson, Danny Kaye, and Ted Williams, the noted home run fisherman. Estimates of the money Dr. Wenner-Gren has spent on the project so far range between 4 and 17 million dollars.

India's White Ants Could Be A Help

If I could clear them through customs and thought they'd eat only what I assigned them to eat, I'd import a colony of white ants from India. Well, one or two, anyhow.

In my time, I've been accused of being any number of things. I must plead guilty to being part pack-rat. I hate throwing anything away. Get it out of sight, I say, but don't let the junk man haul it off.

I fancy I can find use for the things I save, even old magazines and papers, at some future date. Somehow, I never do and the paperback novels, the magazines, the news periodicals, the tattered clothes — they accumulate and take up an increasing amount of space with the onrushing years.

The hungry ants could solve my problem, however. A Mr. R. K. Narayan, writing for the Hindu Weekly News in Madras, India, gave the busy little termite a pat on the head not long ago.

He said he put a basket of old papers and magazines in his garage for storage. He checked on them a month later and found the white ants had gotten to them first.

Not only the paper but the basket as well was gone. Furthermore, the little creatures had been very tidy. They hadn't lugged their meal off into the jungle. They'd eaten it on the spot and left not a crumb or a scrap.

Mr. Narayan contended that the possessiveness inherent in man would crowd the world beyond all reckoning, were it not for the fact that nature stepped in. Man should once and for all rid himself of the presumption that the universe is created strictly for his convenience, contends Mr. Narayan.

Mr. Narayan neglected to mention, however, whether the termites went back to work after their bellies were empty again and started chewing on his headstead.

If they could read, it probably could solve a lot of your problems. You might haul your refuse to one spot, rope it off and leave instructions for the ants to lick their chops over the delicacies therein. I'm afraid, though, they'd eat the rubbish, the ropes and the signs, then take out after me.

Maybe we're missing something by not really domesticating them.

Your Trip Can Be What You Make It

As any reader knows, infallibility is the hallmark of columnists. But the customers have been asking me some questions that don't register in the crystal ball, and I might as well say so in public.

For the life of me I can't tell — much less guarantee — that all the correspondents who are hesitatingly planning a European tour this summer will be happy, once they get there. (Are they always happy at home?)

With the world situation (meaning the Suez mess) such as it is, a bushel basket of letters ask me (just back from Europe) to give hard and fast answers to questions in three main categories, to wit:

(1) Is everyone in Europe so mad at Americans that he or she will be snippy and rude and so ruin my trip?

(2) Will shortages (mainly fuel oil and gasoline) caused by the Suez crisis make my trip difficult and dreary?

(3) All things considered, will I be happy in Europe next spring, summer and autumn, and have a good time?

A short, snappy answer to all these is, "Darned if I know!" The success of no other undertaking in life is more dependent than travel upon the individual, his disposition and his general attitude toward other peoples and other places.

But to answer the questions, one by one:

Is everybody mad at us? Well, of course not! When I reached England, the first question everyone asked me was, "Are all Americans furious with us?" How absurd! We ain't mad at them; they ain't mad at us. Don't confuse people, per se, with their governments!

At no time in 20 years of constant travel have people ever been more kind and the hospitality more warm and genuine than in England and Austria, where I traveled last month.

As for other European countries, I have heard no reports of any fellow-countryman being tarred and feathered in Helsinki, Paris, Rome or Lisbon. And I don't expect to, if for no other reason than that no one ever roughs up Santa Claus, as Al Smith first observed. And in Europe, the American tourist is Santa, if not king. Furthermore, if the American is polite, certainly the Europeans he meets will be, too.

Second, how will shortages affect a European vacation in 1957? I can't even make a stab at answering that one. It is possible that the Suez Canal will be reopened in the spring and that Nasser, if he is in a good mood and enough people are licking his boots, will permit oil and supplies to reach Europe. The situation could be considerably eased by summer.

But even if the oil situation is still crucial, European countries have already announced that the tourist will receive as much gasoline as he needs, always within reason. The European nations, in desperate need of dollars, will continue to ration petrol for their own people to make it available for the tourist. And no tourist will go hungry and thirsty.

Third, will the tourist be happy and have a good time? That depends at least 90 per cent on the tourist himself.

Are you an easy traveler who likes new food, new faces, new places? Or are you an old grump who complains about everything and thinks anything beyond the city limits of your own home town alien, suspicious and inferior?

If you are an old grump, for goodness' sake, STAY HOME! You wouldn't even be happy in Paradise!

The New U. S.-British Agreements

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain will meet sometime in March either in Bermuda or Washington to close the second step toward restoring the close relationship shattered by the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt.

This was the word taken to London by Britain's Defense Minister Duncan Sandys who in a week of discussions in Washington initiated the first step in repairing the alliance. Sandys discussed the Macmillan trip in a half-hour talk with the press who was reported ready and even eager for a visit in the near future.

There are, however, influential officials in Washington and London who think the time not yet ripe for a meeting. They argue that a great deal of hard, slogging negotiation on outstanding differences — such, for example, as the lagging oil supply to Western Europe — must precede a Macmillan-Eisenhower talk. Their influence could result in postponement of the top-level talks until considerably later.

Behind the cautiously worded communiqué put out at the end of the negotiations between Sandys and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and Air Secretary Donald Quarles was an agreement of far greater scope than anyone is prepared at this time to acknowledge publicly. One reason for an early meeting between Eisenhower and Macmillan would be to ratify formally what the defense chiefs agreed to.

Within the framework of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, it was agreed that Britain would get first, and the other NATO nations would receive as they could absorb them, the defensive missiles of short range that should in the future enable Britain to reduce defense expenditures by cutting back the Air Fighter Command.

At the same time, the ground was laid for use of America's termite missile with a range of 1,500 miles, which is one of the developing arsenal that, with atomic warheads, will be a chief deterrent to Soviet attack.

The 1,500-mile missile is said to be far beyond the first-test stage. The second stage, known as the production configuration test, has been reached. It is in this latter stage that the tests are specifically set to eliminate the bugs in the highly complicated mechanism.

The X-7 is being tested with a parachute device to perfect the guidance mechanism. A second test model of the missile, the X-17, is being subjected to tests to determine resistance to friction in the upper atmosphere.

Even more important perhaps than the agreement on weapons was the tentative outline for a reduction of British forces that Sandys and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles discussed in their conversations.

Sandys found Dulles completely sympathetic to the British need to make drastic cuts in defense costs. Shortly before he came to Washington Sandys was given almost unlimited power by Macmillan to effect these cuts.

This means a sharp reduction in the four British divisions now stationed in West Germany. Dulles told Sandys he would support the British position in this respect in the NATO Council, but he stressed that it should be done so as to cause the least possible repercussion. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, facing a re-election campaign this year, is expected to visit Washington soon to get reassurances that NATO support for the defense of Germany will not be substantially reduced.

Dulles and Sandys discussed ways in which the British force could be lowered with the formation of regimental combat teams to replace the present divisions. Resistance to this is expected to come from the Pentagon and there are likely to be public hints that America can never accept such a move. But with the backing of Dulles, who understands that Britain simply does not have the resources to maintain this force on the continent, it is thought the number of British troops will be cut by at least one-half.

Since it is basic to survival, agreement on weapons for mutual defense of the alliance which will save Britain vast sums for research and development may well be the easiest step. But what has happened has nevertheless helped to dispel the cloud of gloom and confusion casting uncertainty and doubt on the Western alliance.

Winners Announced In Las Artistas Show

Judges' Choices

Robert Saxon, Abilene, one of the judges in the weekend art show, holds the first place winner of the show, "Dearphine's Daughter," by Mrs. Betty Lynch, Midland. Other judges, Mrs. Cecil Foster, Sudan, and Juanita Tittle, Abilene, hold the first place winner in the children's division, "My Back Alley the Day It Snowed," by George Heathcoat.

Approximately 500 attended the two-day art show Saturday and Sunday at the Howard County Junior College gymnasium. Sponsored by the local art club, Las Artistas, some 20 counties had entries in the show. Winners of awards for the most outstanding paintings in the show went to Mrs. Betty Lynch, Midland, first place with "Dearphine's Daughter"; second place, to Mrs. Bismarck Schaefer, "Signs of Spring"; third place to Mrs. Natalie Burns Pate, Midland, "Q. G. Burns"; and fourth place, to Mrs. Heneretta Ringhoffer, Stanton, "Old House."

In the children's division under 12 years of age, the first place prize went to George Heathcoat. His painting was titled "My Back Alley The Day It Snowed." First place in the 12-to-15-year olds went to Jean Fuqua with "Sunbeam." Pictures winning FFATA citations to be sent to Austin for judging were "Q. G. Burns," Mrs. Natalie Burns Pate, Midland; "Calladium Leaves," Mrs. Lois Hogue Shaw, Sweetwater; "Landscape," Mrs. Adele Josephson, Snyder; "Signs of Spring," Mrs. Bismarck Schaefer, Garden City; "Still Life," Mrs. Dalton Moore, Sweetwater; "Still Life," Mrs. Hazel Wiseman, Sudan; "Waterfront Jungle," Dr. Norman B. Furlong, Big Spring; "Old House," Mrs. Heneretta Ringhoffer, Stanton; "Green Door," Mrs. Richard Patterson, Big Spring, and "Diamond Diggins," Marjorie Havins, Big Spring. Chairman for the show was Miss Havin with Mrs. Jess Blair as co-chairman. Judges were Juanita Tittle, Abilene, Mrs. Cecil Foster, Sudan, and Robert Saxon, Abilene. Mrs. Richard Patterson is the Regional director for the 20 counties for the FFATA.

WANTS A HOME Cliff was a bit hit in "Picnic" and "Autumn Leaves" in which he played opposite Joan Crawford, and recently starred in "The Girl Most Likely," in which he got his first opportunity to sing and dance. "Acting is a hard life," he says, "and I want to relax when I get home. What I want is a woman who needs a man, who wants to depend on him, so that if I died tomorrow it would really make a difference to her. I want her to be a home type. She doesn't need to scrub floors. I hope to be able to afford a cook, but she should be able to take over the cooking in any emergency." "I've never had brothers and sisters myself, so I want a family. She'll need a sense of humor, a disposition that is well-adjusted to her personality, and she should go along with my pastimes. He's like a girl who hasn't been spoiled by too much attention and who will respect his suggestions about her clothes. He explains: "I'm tired of flamboyancy. I see plenty of it on the stage. My wife must dress in good taste, never over-dress and never object when I make suggestions about her clothes."

There are ways to tip off a husband that he has had one drink too many or maybe is boring his friends. A friendly look into his eyes or a lift of the eyebrow might do it, but "flirting with the silver, coughing or nervously trying to change the subject won't help."

Lamesa AAUW Has Poetic Program

LAMESA — Members of the American Association of University Women met Saturday for a luncheon at the Caprock Room. "Poetic Literature" was the theme for the program with Mrs. W. J. Brewer Jr. leading a discussion of Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Mrs. Brewer has just recently attended the stage presentation of "Macbeth" in Dallas. During the business meeting a discussion was held on setting up a Scholarship Fund. Tentative plans were made for the annual music program which is given each year, open to the public, in April. Hostesses for the Saturday meeting were Mrs. Andrew Essary, and Lola Mae Hewitt. Twelve members were present for the luncheon.

Berrys Feted At Lamesa Reception

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Berry Jr. of Abilene, were complimented with a reception Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Corbin. Assisting with the hostess duties were Mrs. W. J. Powell and Mrs. D. J. Dean. A red and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations with the serving table being laid with white linen. Featured on the table was a center arrangement of red carnations flanked by red tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. Roy Garrett, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl. Receiving the guests with Mr. and Mrs. Berry Jr. were his parents, Mrs. Berry was Linda Moffett of Byers before her marriage Feb. 1, in Byers. About 55 guests called between 7:30 and 9 Friday evening.

Miss Reeves Feted At Bridal Shower

LAMESA — Mary Reeves, bride-elect of Kenneth O. Seewald, was surprised with a reception Saturday evening when friends called at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Reeves. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. G. N. Jones, Mrs. Howard Miller and Mrs. Giles Hankins. The decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors of yellow and white. The refreshment table was laid with lace with an underlay of yellow. Yellow and white shasta daisies flanked by yellow tapers formed the centerpiece. In the receiving line were Mrs. Giles Hankins, Mrs. L. E. Reeves and the honoree. Mrs. Glenda Chapman poured the punch while Mrs. James Hankins served the cake. Approximately 30 guests were registered by Mrs. Rex Biggerstaff. Miss Reeves and Mr. Seewald will be married Feb. 23 at Miller Chapel in Waco.

Girl Scouts Hold Formal Banquet

LAMESA — Girl Scout Troop No. 9 held their first formal banquet Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the Corral Room. The girls planned and carried out the decorations which featured as the center arrangement red carnations entwined with white hearts with six red tapers down the table. Standing between the tapers were large red hearts edged with lace. Places were marked with red hearts. Mrs. V. A. Stephens was one of the guest speakers; she discussed "International Thinking Day" which is a Girl Scout observance held on Feb. 22. Jan Ithodes, of Girl Scout Troop No. 15, told of the Senior Scout program and growth and the development of Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater. Sherry Bennet was toast-mistress and introduced the guest speakers. Mrs. Jacqueline Subt, Scout Leader of Troop 9, was presented a gift from the troop. Lonnie Gilbreath gave the benediction. Nine members and their leader and eleven guests were present for the candlelight dinner.

Presbyterians Hold Lamesa Fellowship

LAMESA — "Evangelism Through Friendship" was the theme for the Abilene Presbyterian Westminster Fellowship held here Friday and Saturday. The Westminster Fellowship of the Lamesa Presbyterian Church was the host for the conference. During the business meeting, Mike Schmidt, son of Mrs. C. L. Schmidt, was named Moderator and will take over his new office in June. Sunny Palmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmore was named Stated Clerk. Both offices are the highest that can be attained in the organization. The Rev. Will Everheart of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Amarillo was the guest speaker for the meeting. There were 86 young people and their sponsors present from Abilene, Snyder, Breckenridge, Stamford, Brownfield and Lamesa.

The Law Forbids

Bermuda has a law on the books which forbids more than one-tenth of the country's acreage from being sold to aliens. Before a foreigner can purchase real estate in the tiny British colony, he must formally petition the governor for permission and his request must be approved by the executive council.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

People were wondering out loud after the Big Spring-Abilene basketball game here the other night how the Eagles had remained undefeated in District 2-AAAA race for so long.

The Steers had whacked the War Birds, 77-59, and did it in such a way to make the Flock look very bad.

A contributing factor, of course, was the fact that the Longhorns—having been removed from the championship race—were not under pressure.

Everything worked to Big Spring's advantage—the home gym, the large and friendly turnout, the reluctance of the Abilene coach to change defenses.

Big Spring is the only team to beat the Eagles twice this season. The Steers first turned the trick in the Odessa tournament, by a score of 62-58.

Perhaps the happiest man in the local gym Friday night was Johnny Malaise, coach of the Odessa team and a former Big Spring.

"I'm only thankful we didn't catch Big Spring tonight," said he, following the contest, "the boys really looked great."

Had Abilene beaten the Steers, the 2-AAAA race would have been all over and tonight's game between Abilene and Odessa would have had no significance in the campaign.

The Steers should push their season's point aggregate past the 1,500 mark against San Angelo tonight.

They've now scored 1,456 points in 23 games (17 of which they have won) for a game average of 63.3.

Jan Loudermilk, the Steers' best bet for an all-state berth, has already established a career scoring record for a Big Spring player and still has a season to play.

He has counted 111 points this year (with tonight's game with San Angelo still to go into the records) and 950 in two seasons.

Jan should wind up with at least 1,500 points in varsity competition. That record should stand for many, many years.

Incidentally, football coach Al Milch says he may experiment with Loudermilk as a fullback in spring training and he's going to suggest to Jan he practice on the hurdles in track in order to improve his co-ordination and timing.

Jan has often been compared with Leon Hart, the giant who made the All-America team as an end at Notre Dame.

When Plainview beat Amarillo High in basketball recently, it marked the first time since 1945 the Bulldog cagers had been able to topple the Sandies.

Gail Wins Two Cage Crowns
VEALMOOR (SC) — Gail teams won two titles in the Vealmoor Junior High School basketball tournament terminated here Saturday night.

The Gail A boys' team won the consolation game in the finals of that division, 36-12. Gail's PeeWee boys turned back Gay Hill, 26-15, for that title in that fight.

In a team boys' consolation final, Elbow turned back Vealmoor, 12-7. Vealmoor won the sportsmanship award in that division.

In girls' A team play, Klondike trounced Gail in the finals, 40-34. Gay Hill won girls' consolation, 39-34, and also was awarded the sportsmanship trophy.

Shelby Is Winner
NEW SMYRNA BEACH, Fla. — Carroll Shelby of Dallas drove an Italian 4.9 Ferrari to victory yesterday in the 98-mile National Sports Car Day race on the airport here. He averaged 87.56 miles an hour.

The Daily Herald cameraman freezes some action during the Big Spring-Midland Austin game in the first round of the Big Spring Junior High School basketball tournament here. Gordon Bristow, Big Spring, has the ball. Immediately in front of him is Jerry Patrick, Midland. The LeFevre boys, Jay and Zay, are to the far left.

Ponies Gird For Climax

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor

Thankful that Texas Tech isn't yet a competing member of the Southwest Conference and a licking from the Red Raiders didn't endanger their lead in the championship basketball race, Southern Methodist's Mustangs buttoned up Monday for the rocky stretch run.

First menace standing in the trail toward a third straight championship is Texas, the erratic outfit that beat the Methodists 77-68 at Austin almost a month ago. SMU meets the Longhorns in Dallas Tuesday night in its only conference test for the week.

The fans are still talking about that thriller at Lubbock Saturday night when Texas Tech, trying like mad to salvage what started out as a disastrous season, whipped Southern Methodist 68-67 in the last five seconds. It was SMU's third defeat in 19 games and probably will react to its demerit in the national rankings.

The Mustangs held fourth place last week. The fans are still talking about that thriller at Lubbock Saturday night when Texas Tech, trying like mad to salvage what started out as a disastrous season, whipped Southern Methodist 68-67 in the last five seconds. It was SMU's third defeat in 19 games and probably will react to its demerit in the national rankings.

Chuck Key plopped in a field goal with an intercepted pass to give Tech its triumph and pull the Red Raiders from an 11-point deficit in five minutes. SMU claimed it tried to call time out to regroup its forces but couldn't get the attention of the officials. It caused some angry words but nobody was hurt.

Texas Tech is a member of the conference but doesn't start playing for the championship until next year.

The Rice Owls, who haven't come close to losing one since they fell to Southern Methodist 59-57 at Dallas Jan. 15, face troublesome Baylor at Waco Tuesday night. Riding in second place, just a game back of SMU, the Owls have taken on new life and feel their chances of dislodging the Methodists are quite good. They still have a game with SMU left on the schedule and it's at home.

Rice whipped Texas Christian 90-75 last week to hold onto second place. Arkansas was keeping its faint hopes of sharing the championship alive by whirling past Texas A&M 63-46. The Razorbacks, in third place, are two games behind SMU. Baylor lost to Texas 95-68 last week and had its chances of going anywhere bashed. Texas, Texas Christian and Texas A&M also can be considered out of the championship race.

The Aggies were their first conference game of the season when they noted Texas 69-67 in an overtime, but they still are mired in the cellar, a game back of Texas Christian.

Southern Methodist had insured undisputed leadership in the race with an 83-76 trouncing of Baylor on Monday.

Six conference games are scheduled this week. Tuesday night Texas Christian and Texas A&M clash at College Station in addition to the SMU-Texas and Rice-Baylor battles. Saturday night Arkansas and Texas Christian tangle at Fort Worth, Texas and Rice play at Houston and Baylor and Texas A&M meet at College Station. Arkansas plays a nonconference game Tuesday, hosting Tulsa.

Giant Jim Krebs of SMU maintained his scoring lead with 45 points in two games last week. He now has 453 while Ray Downs of Texas is second with 411.

El Pasoans Win Catholic Title
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Cathedral of El Paso reigned today as the State Class A Catholic High School basketball champion.

Cathedral mustered team strength last night to defeat the defending champion, St. Thomas of Houston, 58-54. Robert Villagas scored 23 points for Cathedral but Mike Useche of St. Thomas took individual scoring honors with 35. Jesuit of Dallas edged Central Catholic of San Antonio 46-45 for the Class A consolation title. St. Joseph of Brownsville defeated St. Anthony of San Antonio 64-48 for the Class B title.

SW Loop Needs An 8th Team

MIDLAND (AP)—The Class B Southwestern League will operate with eight clubs this season and it already has seven of them. The other will be selected from six cities that have made application.

Plans for the 1957 race were made at a meeting here yesterday at which time Roswell, N.M., and El Paso were dropped from the circuit. San Angelo's place is the one to be filled. The cities in line to furnish this franchise were not revealed.

Ready to make the race, and, according to League President W. J. Green of San Angelo, in "the best financial condition yet," are Ballinger, Pampa, Midland and Plainview, Tex., and Hobbs, Carlsbad and Clovis, N.M.

League play opens April 23 with a 140-game schedule. As a stimulus to attendance, a $200 prize will be given for the largest opening day crowd and $300 for the best season attendance.

Roswell was asked to turn back its franchise when it reported it didn't plan to make the race because of failure to form a full working agreement with the New York Yankees. El Paso was given 15 days to relocate in another league or dispose of its players.

This club's trouble was financial. Six of the clubs have named managers: Tony York at Ballinger, Burt Haas at Clovis, Josie Phillips at Carlsbad, Thurman Tucker at Hobbs, Art Bowland at Plainview and John Welaj at Midland. Midland has a working agreement with Washington, Clovis with Cincinnati, Hobbs with Oklahoma City and Plainview with Amarillo.

Faculty To Play Yearling Quint
The Big Spring Ninth Grade basketball team will play a post-season game at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, meeting the Junior High Faculty.

The teachers will be warming up for the Joust with the Senior High School Faculty, which takes place Friday afternoon. A Junior High Basketball Queen will be crowned during tomorrow's contest, which will be held in the Yearling Gym. Candidates include Ceila Grant, Jeanette Heflin and Jo Nell Cole.

PLAYOFF WILL DECIDE CHAMP

By MURRAY SINCLAIR
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Two members of golf's youth brigade will play off for top money in the $15,000 Tucson Open today because one sank an 18-foot putt and the other missed one from four feet.

Don Whitt, 26, Alameda, Calif., made the long shot on the 18th green. Dow Finsterwald, 27, Tequesta, Fla., missed the short one today's winner will collect $2,000, the loser $1,500. Both had 11-under-par 269s for the 6,434-yard El Rio course.

Youngsters completely dominated the Tucson event, taking the top seven places. Big names like Ed Furgol, Julius Boros, Mike Souchak and Doug Ford had to be satisfied with small change.

Joe Zakarian, Modesto, Calif., is on his way to San Antonio, Tex., with the $1,200 he was paid for his 65-70-68-69-271 third-place finish. Billy Casper Jr., Bonita, Calif., who looked unbeatable at the start of the second round with a 4-stroke lead; Tom Nieport, Bronxville, N. Y.; and John Cleary, Hartford, Conn., picked up $900 each for their 272 scores. Bill Tromley, Dallas, Tex., and Al Baldini, Toronto, Ont., got $725 each for their 273.

After the first nine holes, Finsterwald and Whitt were ahead by 2 strokes and turned it into a two-way fight. Finsterwald's approach on the 18th went into the crowd. He appeared to have first-place money.

Carey King Is Named To Team
Carey King of Big Spring was named to the all-star squad chosen at the conclusion of the Snyder Eighth Grade basketball tournament Saturday night.

Other members of the team included Larry Patterson, Snyder; Jefferys, Andrews; Crump, Lamesay and Berrea, Sweetwater. Snyder led to Sweetwater, 35-28, in the finals of the tournament. Lamesay beat Big Spring for fourth place, 45-28.

Linksters Move To Alamo City For $20,000 Open

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Golf tour moves into San Antonio today for the $20,000 Texas Open with only three names missing and two of those will be on the list tomorrow.

Dow Finsterwald and Don Whitt are still in Tucson, where they play off their first place tie in the $15,000 Tucson Open.

Otherwise, with the exception of possibly Lloyd Mangrum, all the known men of the links trail will play in the ancient Texas Open starting Thursday. Mangrum hasn't been heard from as yet.

Tournament director Leroy Brannon said the largest entry in the 30 years of the Texas Open was expected with some 300 seeking spots, and 140 of them failing to make it.

Cary Middlecoff, Mike Souchak, Gene Littler, Jimmy Demaret, Jack Burke, Jay Hebert, Julius Boros, Doug Ford, Billy Casper, Ed Furgol and semi-retired Chandler Harper, always a big threat in the tournament here, are among the major entries.

Al Basselink, Henry Ramos, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Lionel Hebert and others who skipped the Tucson Open tested the revamped Brackenridge Park course yesterday. Hebert and Basselink each did a par 36-35-71 over the 6,490-yard course.

The layout has been lengthened by 300 yards and new tees have been installed. "The course is in the finest condition I ever have seen it," enthused Brannon. "The greens are great and the fairways good."

cinched when he chipped to within four feet of the pin. Whitt was trapped. His next shot went over the green into another trap. When he chipped out, his ball was 18 feet from the pin and he trailed by a stroke. Whitt dropped the putt. Finsterwald missed.

Brown Risks Fight Crown

By The Associated Press

Remember Joe Brown? He won the lightweight championship of the world from Wallace (Bud) Smith at New Orleans in August. Then he dropped out of sight with a bum right hand.

Brown emerges from obscurity Wednesday night at the Miami Beach Auditorium to defend the 135-pound title against the same Mr. Smith, who also has been inactive the past four months.

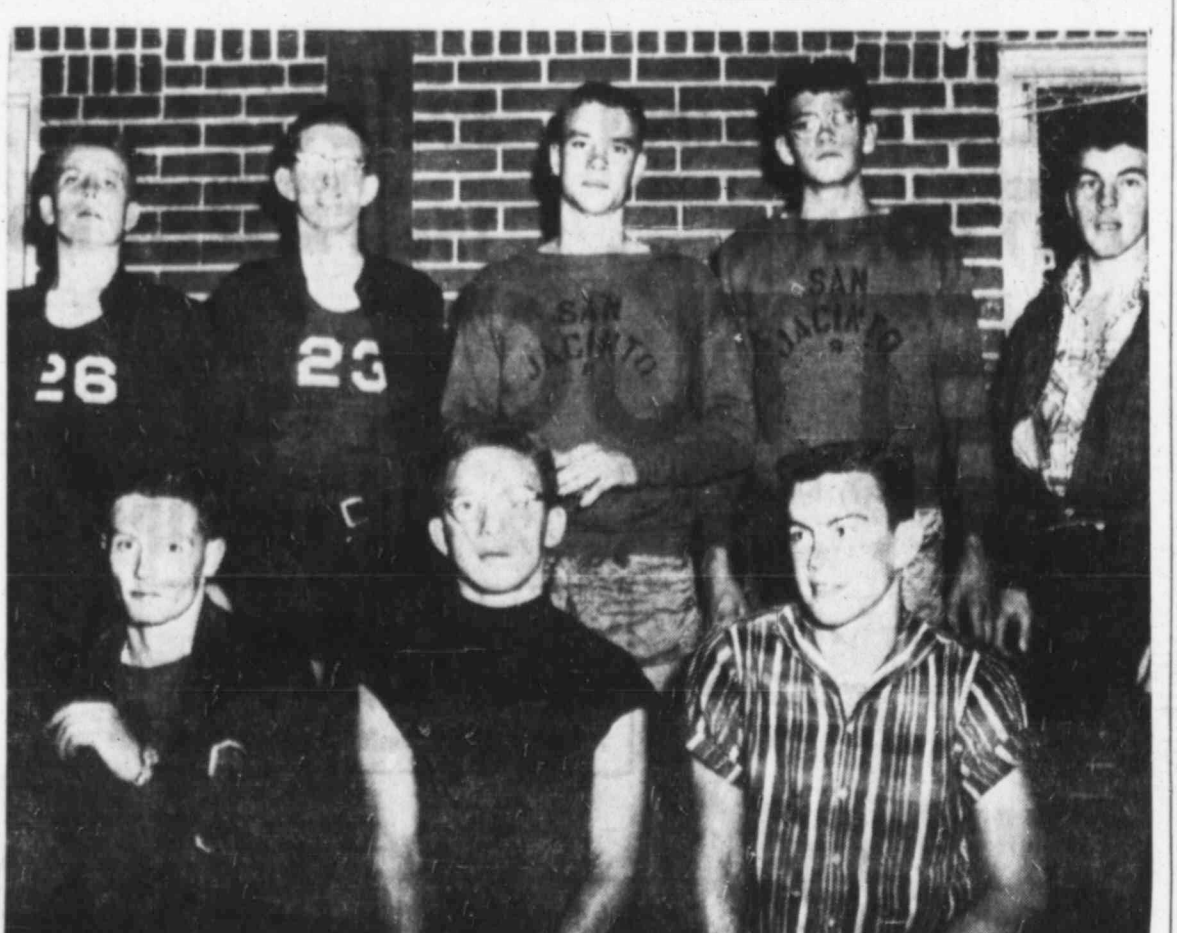

Brown, 30, is a 2-1-1 favorite. He was an up and coming lightweight in 1932 until he was knocked out by George Araujo. He finally got back within striking distance after beating Smith in an over-the-weight match at Houston.

The defending champ has had 33 fights for a 59-14-8 record with two no-contest bouts and Smith has had 53 with a 32-15-6 record.

Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz., a ranking heavyweight who made a favorable impression in two bouts with Wayne Bethea, takes on Howard Turner of Brooklyn tonight at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

The slick boxer from Arizona cracked the top 10 with his first decision over Bethea and now is ranked No. 6 among the challengers to heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Du Mont will telecast to some sections at 10:30 p.m., EST.

All-Tournament Players

Steers Wind Up Season Tonight

San Angelo will be the site of Big Spring High School's final basketball game of the 1956-57 season tonight.

Johnny Johnson's Steers will be trying to improve upon a 17-6 won-lost record and will be favored to topple the Bobcats. The Steers beat the Tabbies ten points last time out.

By beating Angelo, the Bobcats can finish in a tie for second place, provided Abilene drubs Odessa tonight. That all-important game, incidentally, takes place in Abilene.

San Angelo absorbed an unmerciful beating at the hands of the Midland Bulldogs in its last start, 79-48. Midland, pre-season favorite to grab the flag, was in the process of winning its first district game of the year.

Larry Cooper, the Midland ace, scored 27 points in the game but lost all chance to overtake Big Spring's Jan Loudermilk in the individual scoring derby. Cooper has one point less than Loudermilk and has run out of time.

Loudermilk Is Near Crown

Abilene's Ted Lucas needs nine points to overtake Jan Loudermilk of Big Spring in the District 2-AAAA basketball scoring race.

The two boys play their final regular season games this evening. Loudermilk, who has 143 points, goes against San Angelo in San Angelo. Lucas and the Eagles will be at home to the Odessa Bronchos.

Midland's Larry Cooper actually is second in the race with 142 points but Cooper is through for the year, having already played eight conference games.

Abilene's Glynn Gregory is fourth in the derby, with 122 points. The leaders:

Smiles End A Visit

Klan Blamed For Bombings, But Leaders Deny Violence

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Four bombings that rocked Montgomery in a recent outburst of racial violence are blamed by police on "members of the Montgomery branch of the Ku Klux Klan."

But a Klan spokesman said, "The Klan as an organization does not sanction nor does it condone such violence."

The Klansman, who refused to be named, said he "understood" some of the seven white men charged with participating in the violence belong to the KKK.

Evidence against the seven is being presented to a Montgomery County grand jury that went into session today.

Four men are charged with Jan. 10 bombings of Negro churches and homes and a service station, taxi stand since Montgomery city buses were racially integrated Dec. 21.

The other three are charged with misdemeanors of conspiracy in connection with dynamite bundles that failed to go off at two homes of prointegration ministers, one Negro and one white.

One of the four is also charged with shooting at one of the city buses racially integrated by federal court order.

Police Chief G. J. Ruppenthal said he met yesterday with "prosecuting officials who will present these cases to the grand jury and all law enforcement officers who actively participated in the investigations."

After the meeting, he said, "Our investigation, corroborated by statements of some of the accused themselves, shows that these (four) bombings were perpetrated by members of the Montgomery branch of the Ku Klux Klan."

"Investigation is continuing as to the unsolved bombings," he added.

The Klan spokesman said, "It is not our intention to have any violence. The main thing we're trying to do now is to build a vote bloc. This has set us back a long way."

Referring to the Klan, Ruppenthal said, "This organization, through its members and friends, is now engaged in collecting money for the defense of those accused of these acts of violence."

Jack Brock, chairman of the Alabama Segregation Defense Fund that has set a $60,000 goal for door-to-door collections, said: "The purpose of Ruppenthal's statement was obviously to prevent the securing of funds with which to employ adequate legal counsel, and also to try to prejudice these seven defendants before the public."

Ruppenthal said that "from information received by this department, I feel the public should know that this money is not being collected by the White Citizens' Council as has been reported, nor is such collection sanctioned by the White Citizens' Council."

Brock declared it is untrue "that the Citizens' Council does not sanction or approve the legal defense of these seven defendants."

The three city commissioners are leaders in the county Citizens' Council.

The seven were charged Jan. 31 and Feb. 1. Henry Alexander and Raymond D. York were charged with dynamiting the occupied home of the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy. Conviction could carry the death penalty.

Alexander was also charged with the bus shooting and the explosion at the service station.

Raymond C. Britt Jr. was charged with bombing two Negro churches and the service station, and Sonny Kyle Livingston Jr. was charged with dynamiting one of the churches.

Dynamiting of uninhabited buildings is punishable by up to 10 years' imprisonment.

The three charged with conspiracy were Eugene Hall, Charlie Bodford and Donald Dunlap. Maximum penalty on the charge is six months' hard labor and $1,000 fine.

All seven were released on bonds ranging from $250 to $13,000.

$3 Billion Spent On Farm Supports

WASHINGTON — The government has lost nearly three billion dollars supporting farm prices during the four years of the Eisenhower administration.

A Commodity Credit Corp. report disclosed yesterday the total has mounted to $2,934,000,000. The net loss for the 29 preceding years was $1,111,000,000, putting the total loss since 1933 at $4,045,000,000.

Total losses in the earlier years were reduced by wartime demands which permitted the CCC to sell at a profit many of the surplus crops it held during that period.

During recent years, however, heavy deficits have been incurred as surpluses have accumulated and the administration has sought to dispose of them even at a loss.

The figures do not include direct subsidy payments or purchases by other agencies of supplies for relief or other distribution. No cumulative figures for these costs were available.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced Saturday a lower level of farm price supports which is expected to reduce the government's commitment by about 200 million dollars on this year's crops, based on average production figures.

The CCC said that as of Dec. 31 it owned surplus commodities costing $5,892,000,000 and had loans outstanding to farmers on surplus crops totaling another $2,319,000,000. Further losses are likely on both amounts.

Dairy products accounted for $1,263,000,000 of the losses since 1933 with the greater part of that marked up during the last four years.

The second largest loss was 479 millions on potatoes, during and immediately after World War II. Potato prices are no longer supported under the surplus loan program.

The CCC has lost 468 million dollars on wheat, in addition to the amounts required to pay export subsidies.

Still Smiling

Leonard Kerschke, 27, smiles as his father-in-law, Douglas Tomlinson, gives him a haircut in Detroit, Mich., just after his daughter was born. Kerschke just graduated from Wayne State University. Doctors say Leonard will die of cancer within 6 months but the young father says it matters little when you've had a "happy life, a full life."

Constitutional Issue Seen In Mid-East Plan

WASHINGTON — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said today adoption of the Eisenhower Middle East resolution would mean "blanket transfer" to the President of congressional powers to declare war.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), taking a similar tack, said the resolution as presented, "breaks down the system of checks and balances which the framers of the Constitution believed to be the bulwark of government by the people."

The two senators expressed their objections as the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees arranged to resume hearings on the administration's request for special military-economic powers to block Communist expansion in the strategic Middle East.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, said he expects the committees to begin drafting the final form of the resolution today. He said he thinks Senate debate may begin by Friday, with passage likely next week. The House has approved the resolution 355-61.

Fulbright leveled most of his criticism at Eisenhower's request for advance authority to use American troops to help any Middle East nation which asks such aid in repelling any open Communist aggression.

Under the resolution, Fulbright said, the President "need not consult, much less be accountable to any other constitutional organ of government."

He said he "will not lend my vote to further the erosion of the power of this Senate."

He said he is willing to vote for "an advisory resolution" — without force of law — "expressing the Senate's support of the President's policy of opposing the expansion of Communist influence in the Middle East."

O'Mahoney urged the committees to write into the resolution language that would "require the redemption of the President's pledge of continued contact with the Congress" on Middle East measures.

"Unless Congress does make the President's pledge a part of this resolution," he said, "it will have surrendered its own power, and it would have made another obligation to executive authority . . ."

He called also for a specific statement in the resolution that Congress "recognizes no overriding authority of the United Nations Security Council with respect to any constitutional exercise of the (war) power granted to the Congress by the Constitution."

He suggested further that the President be barred from ordering any U. S. forces into action in the Middle East "until a report of the reasons has been made to the Congress, or, if the President deems it necessary to provide secrecy," to appropriate committees on Capitol Hill.

Both senators were critical of Eisenhower's request for authority to spend 200 million dollars in available foreign aid funds in the Middle East.

WHAT'LL IT BE . . . CHICKEN OR CHILI

The Herald Newsboys— (And Their Fathers!) Will Know By February 26

Yes, the annual "CHICKEN OR CHILI" contest between Herald Newsboys is here again! And this year it will be even bigger as it will be a Father and Son contest. The boys—more than 50 of them—are now competing in a two week friendly game of business and they'll get together for one big party. At that party, the winning team will sit down to a plate heaped with golden brown fried chicken and all the trimmings, while the losers must be satisfied with a bowl of chili and crackers. But it'll be fun, for the boys and their dads and the contest will be a worthwhile enterprise for every one of them!

"Busy Boys Are Better Boys" Encourage Your Own Herald Carrier To Stay On The Winning Side!

Herald Newsboys during the "Chicken or Chili" contest will be testing their mettle as little businessmen. Two teams will be in friendly competition, each out to best the other in such practices as signing up new subscribers, in making prompt delivery of papers, in giving good delivery service to all customers, in making prompt collections, so that they can be prompt in paying their own bills, and in taking active part in The Herald Newsboys' meetings and activities. It all means that the most energetic boys, and the best business boys, will get to eat good old fried chicken.

IF YOU ARE NOT NOW A SUBSCRIBER, SIGN UP DURING THIS CONTEST! BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Tentative Sketches On New Airport Buildings Shown

Bill French, engineer with the firm of Puckett and French, told the Howard County Commissioners court this morning that it is imperative the final decision be made on location of runways at the new county airport before his firm can go much further with plans for buildings, hangars and other facilities.

Mrs. Hailey, 73, Dies At Lamesa

LAMESA — Mrs. Effie Ora Hailey, 73, died here Sunday at her home and funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church. Rev. E. L. Jones, pastor of the Bryan Street Baptist Church, will officiate, and burial will be in Lamesa Cemetery. Higginbotham Funeral Home is handling arrangements.

Butane Leak Causes Worry

The fire and police departments had anxious moments Saturday while a butane truck leaking gas was ushered out of the city. A butane truck belonging to L. I. Stewart developed a leak while parked behind the Assembly of God Church at Fourth and Lancaster.

Bath House Plans Are Being Drawn

Plans are now being drawn up by Puckett and French, Architects, for bath houses to serve the two swimming pools constructed on the Northside last summer. City Manager H. W. Whitney said that initial drawings called for buildings too big for the pools and would need to be revised. The present plans call for a building about 86 by 26 feet.

Boys' Adventure Is Short-Lived

The parents of two Andrews boys arrived here early today to pick up the youths. The two boys ran away from home Sunday night but were apprehended here shortly after midnight. The parents arrived about 3:15 a.m.

Battery Charger Is Blamed For Blaze

Salty Sulphur Water Comes Up In Borden Wildcat Test

Operators ran a drillstem test at a Borden County wildcat over the weekend, but found only salty sulphur water. The test was at the Continental No. 1 Johnson, a wildcat 16 miles north of Vealmoor. Operator drillstem tested below 9,900 feet for two and a half hours and only recovered 250 feet of mud, cut slightly with salty sulphur water. In Howard County, Williamson et al No. 1 Davis prepared to acidize the open hole at a depth of 9,570 feet. It is in the Big Spring (Fusselman) field.

Appointments To Be Made By Commissioners

County Commissioners were scheduled to name election judges for the county voting precincts at their meeting Monday afternoon. Under the law, such appointments must be made at this meeting of the board each year. The commissioners also are expected to decide on the fate of the office of the justice of peace at Coahoma — a post now vacant. A petition signed by nearly 100 Coahoma residents asking that the office be filled was on the desk of the court on Monday morning. The commissioners are scheduled to consider bids on the wreckage of the car from the sheriff's department damaged last fall in a traffic collision. Several bids for the car were to be opened.

Nolan Farmer's Rites Set Here

Funeral services were to be conducted at 4 p.m. today for Bruce Fuggett, 76, retired Nolan County farmer who died in a hospital here last Thursday. Rev. William D. Boyd, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, was to officiate at graveside rites in the City Cemetery. River Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Five Weekend Wrecks Listed

Five accidents occurred here over the weekend, three Saturday and two Sunday. Two of the five were hit-and-runs. Guillermo Rayes of Colorado City was hit by an identified 1950 Dodge Saturday. The accident occurred at 310 NW 3rd. The other hit-and-run was Sunday at North Turnpike and Sixth with Lloyd Turnpike, 1008 N. San Antonio, being the victim.

Charles DeShazo Dies Saturday

Funeral services are to be conducted in Andrews for Charles DeShazo, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. DeShazo of Andrews. The youth died in a hospital here Saturday night. He had been seriously ill for three weeks and had suffered from a heart condition for several years. In addition to his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Jackie and Babe, and one sister, Mrs. Annette McWilliams. Nalley-Pickel Funeral Home of Big Spring transferred the body to Singleton Funeral Home in Andrews for final rites.

Rev. Dittloff Is Midland Speaker

A program on "Strengthening Family Ties" was held Sunday afternoon at the Grace Lutheran Church in Midland. The Rev. Wayne Dittloff, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Big Spring, was a guest speaker at the circuit meet. His topic was "Home Needs for Adults."

County To Ask Banks For Bids

Because Big Spring now has three banks, the Howard County Commissioners have had to revise their long established policy of determining which financial institution shall serve each year as official depository for county money. Heretofore, the accounts have been alternated between the two banks. Monday morning Larson Lloyd, with the Security State Bank, appeared before the court and invited its consideration of his bank as a depository. The commissioners reviewed the situation and then voted to advertise for bids — and to accept the offer of the bank which will be made after the bids have been submitted by the banks.

What About Kitchen Sink?

Thieves with a bent for thoroughness practically cleaned out a trailer house owned by J. R. Steadman, near Knott, Saturday afternoon, the sheriff's office reported. If the TV hadn't been too big to go out of the trailer house door it would have been stolen. The thieves abandoned it when they found getting it through the door difficult. They did take an electric skillet, radio, record player, a 53-piece set of silverplated dinnerware, a .38 caliber pistol and a man's gray suit, however. Jack Shaffer and Miller Harris made the investigation for the sheriff's office. The burglary occurred sometime after 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

50 Students In Essay Contest

About 50 students are participating in the "Americanism" essay contest being sponsored in Big Spring High School by the local American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Erma Steward, journalism teacher, is chairman of the project. Winner of the contest will receive a trophy and a medal will be presented to the second-ranking essayist.

Worker Resistance Is Main Block To Dixie Unionizing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP) — Not long ago the manager of a big Southern textiles mill called a mass meeting and informed all 2,300 employees they were fired. The workers returned to their machines, finished the shift, drew their pay and left with hardly a grumble. They had been hired during a strike and let out when it was settled with the strikers going back to their old jobs. Labor union leaders, happy their own members got their jobs back, were also amazed at the calm way non-union replacements took word of their discharge. "Hell, a union organizer told me 'you'd think they'd have a little, even fought a little to keep those jobs.'"

Sheriff's New Pay Plan Is Approved

Miller Harris, sheriff, Monday succeeded in persuading the Howard County Commissioners Court to approve a plan he had previously offered for pay for his deputies. Under this plan, some of his deputies will receive a little more money and several will receive less money than the prevailing schedule of pay for employees of county offices in the same brackets. Harris explained that by expanding his force by one deputy, the others on his staff were willing to forego pay increases voted some weeks ago for county employees. This, he said, was a voluntary offer on the part of his staff. They had offered to donate a part of their own salaries — on basis of the previous wage schedule — to equalize the salaries of two co-workers to the level asked by the sheriff.

Liberace's Kin Struck, Robbed

CHICAGO (AP) — Bandleader George Liberace was slugged and robbed early today while returning to a near North Side hotel from the night club where he is appearing with his pianist brother. The 43-year-old musician was taken to Wesley Memorial Hospital, where 16 stitches were required to close three deep lacerations on the back of his head. He was reported in good condition and physicians said he probably would be released later today. The robbers took $50, a violin valued at $1,500 and a diamond studded ring in the shape of a violin valued at $1,500. Liberace said. He told police two Negroes jumped from behind a parked car and attacked him. One shouted "Give me your money or we'll kill you," he said. The violinist said he struck one of the men, who then began beating him on the head. A passing motorist gave chase when his assailants drove off in an auto, Liberace said, but lost sight of them. The bandleader's brother rushed to the hospital when told of the attack.

GI, Jap Girl Accuse Each Other At Trial For Murder

SENDAI, Japan (AP) — A Texas soldier and his Japanese sweetheart blamed each other today for the slaying and robbery of a Japanese girl. Pvt. Orvis Boone, 24, Negro from Galveston, testified in a Japanese court that his sweetheart encouraged him. The sweetheart, Shigeko Sasaki, said Boone voluntarily strangled Kikuko Muraki, took her money and burned her house to hide the evidence Sept. 4. Boone, facing a life sentence from an Army courtmartial, and his sweetheart are being tried in a Japanese court on charges of murder, arson and robbery. The maximum penalty is death. An Army court earlier convicted Boone of murdering SP-3 Edward Manauka, 21, and for desertion and two counts of robbery. Both murders occurred while Boone was listed as a deserter from April of last year to Sept. 8. The Army said Boone's sweetheart lured victims to a predetermined spot, where the soldier would assault and rob them. The next session in Boone's Japanese court trial will be held Saturday.

Dallas Youth Feud Is Fatal

DALLAS (AP) — A teen-age feud exploded in a volley of gunfire yesterday and left a 19-year-old girl dead, her 15-year-old sister wounded and a 17-year-old girl jailed in connection with the shootings, police said. Dead was Mary Antonieta Salazar, 19, fatally wounded in the throat. Her sister, Janie, 15, was wounded in the abdomen and was in critical condition. The shooting took place in front of a housing project. Homicide Detectives E. R. Beck and T. L. Baker said the 17-year-old girl admitted the shooting. Patrolmen H. L. Smith and J. R. Parker, who made the arrest, said the girl told them rivalry at dances between Little Mexico and West Dallas teen-agers had sparked fights and arguments that led to the shooting. They said the girl told them Mary Salazar had threatened her life during a Friday night fight. Little Mexico is a Latin-American area of Dallas. The 17-year-old boy-boy was arrested at her home shortly after the shooting.

Ike Keeps Eye On Mid-East

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower is continuing to mix vacation with a close watch on the Israeli-Egyptian crisis. The President hopes to get in another round of quail hunting today at the plantation estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, his host. And golf is a possibility too. Aides said the recreation would wait, though, until the President had dealt with a batch of official papers flown from Washington. Included in the pouch are documents on several nominations he will be sending to the Senate this week. Yesterday Eisenhower talked to Secretary of State Dulles long distance for the third time since he arrived last Friday. A White House spokesman declined comment on reports that the United States is about to make a fresh appeal to Israel to withdraw its troops from Egypt, or propose some new strategy in the U. N. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower and Humphrey and his wife spent a quiet sabbath at the plantation, known as Milestone, after attending morning services at the First Presbyterian Church, who died here Sunday.

Mrs. Westbrook's Services Slated At Lamesa Today

LAMESA — Funeral services were to be held today at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Willie Lou Westbrook, 81, who died here Sunday. The services were to be in the First Methodist Church, with Rev. Lloyd Mayhew, pastor, in charge. Burial was to be at the Lamesa Cemetery, with Higginbotham Funeral Home in charge. Mrs. Westbrook was a resident of Dawson County for 41 years and had lived in Lamesa since 1943. She was a member of the Methodist Church here.

Lashes Treaty

Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.), speaks at the rally of Abraham Lincoln National Republican Club in Chicago saying "every major city" in the nation would be wiped out by bombs made from material the United States could give away under a proposed treaty. He lashed out at the proposed "atoms for peace" treaty that will come up before the U.S. Senate soon. McCarthy stated it would be similar to the Chicago police "offering to share guns with the hoodlum syndicate."

Liz Taylor In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Film star Elizabeth Taylor, wife of producer Mike Todd, was in a hospital today for treatment of a recurring back ailment.

"It might be nothing, but we don't want to take chances," Todd said as his 24-year-old brunette wife was placed on a stretcher at Idlewild Airport last night and put in an ambulance.

The newlyweds, married Feb. 2 in Acapulco, Mexico, flew in from Mexico City. Miss Taylor was taken to Harkness Memorial Pavilion of the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. Todd said she was "resting comfortably."

She had entered the hospital Dec. 3 for treatment of a crushed spinal disc and was released Jan. 21. She and Todd then flew to Mexico, where she shed her second husband, actor Michael Wilding, a few days prior to her marriage to Todd.

Fiery Highway Collision Is Fatal To 6 In Family Of 7

WELLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Two cars collided and burned south of this Texas Panhandle town yesterday, killing six members of a family of seven.

Four other persons were injured in the fiery collision that tragically ended a weekend outing for the Jack Scott family of Wellington.

Scott, 38, his wife, Marie, 36, and four of their five children were fatally injured. The sole survivor of the family, Jack Jr., 13, was hospitalized, but his condition was not believed critical.

The elder Scott, Jack Jr., and another son, Stevie, 8, were thrown clear when another car smashed into the rear of the Scott vehicle while it was cruising about 15 miles per hour, Wellington Police Chief Bill McCarver said. Scott and Stevie died in a hospital.

Mrs. Scott and three other children were pinned inside the flaming wreckage of the overturned car after the terrific impact of the collision ignited the car's gasoline tank, McCarver said. The other children killed were Dannie, 7, Mary Helen, 3, and Paula Gay, 5.

McCarver said the occupants of the other car, Blayne Branum, his wife and so-called Duane (ages unavailable) of Lubbock, were injured but their condition was not serious. Their car also burned.

Officers said the Scotts apparently were driving slowly to watch the countryside.

Head-On Collision Kills 5 In Illinois

WATERLOO, Ill. (AP) — All five persons in two cars were killed in a head-on collision in the fog on Illinois Route 3 about 25 miles south of St. Louis Sunday.

Charles Sliagar, 44, and his wife, Natalie, 45, had left their home in East St. Louis, Ill., less than an hour earlier on a vacation trip to St. Petersburg, Fla. In the other car were Daniel Lee Reed, 17, Robert Lee Brown, 17, and James Mason, 16. All lived in Missouri suburbs of St. Louis.

Uncle Ray: Squirrels Usually Glide During Night

By RAMON COFFMAN

Furry animals which fly hold a special interest for people. We are in the custom of thinking of birds when anyone speaks of flying animals, but some animals with fur on their bodies go through the air.

Today I am going to answer questions about flying squirrels, but first let me remark that the bats are the only furry animals which can rise in the air by flapping their wings. Several other kinds glide, however, and gliding is a form of flying.

Q. Where are flying squirrels found?

A. Chiefly in North America, Europe and Asia. Australia has animals of the same general type, often called flying squirrels by the people of the island continent. The flying squirrels of Australia are akin to opossums, and sometimes called phalangers.

Q. How large are the flying squirrels of North America?

A. Counting their tails, the flying squirrels of Canada, Alaska and northern parts of the United States usually measure from 11 to 13 inches in length. They are known as "northern flying squirrels."

The southern and eastern flying squirrels are smaller, seldom measuring more than nine inches in total length. They are found in New England, and the Middle Atlantic states, also in the valleys of the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers. They range southward into Mexico and Central America.

Q. How does a flying squirrel travel from place to place?

A. Usually it goes from a high limb of one tree to a low limb of a nearby tree. Sometimes a glide is from a limb to the ground. A flying squirrel has strong hind legs, and gives a push with its hind feet when it takes off. Usually the glide is at an angle of about 25 degrees.

Q. How long is the glide?

A. Most often it covers a stretch of from 15 to 30 feet. Sometimes, however, this little squirrel glides 100 feet or a bit more!

Q. Why do we seldom see flying squirrels?

A. They are active chiefly at night. They commonly live in woodlands beyond the limits of cities.

A flying squirrel of Australia.

Post Office Asks 5-Cent Letter Stamps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department is asking Congress to require a 5-cent stamp on letter mail to avoid a deficit it said could reach a billion dollars a year.

That estimate came from Maurice H. Stans, deputy postmaster general, in testimony which the House Appropriations Committee made public yesterday.

Stans said the Eisenhower administration will ask a 5-cent letter rate. He said "we cannot face up to" the deficit problem otherwise.

The House last year approved a 1-cent increase in first-class rates, but the Senate took no action.

President Eisenhower said in his budget message last month that he would ask for 654 million dollars in annual postal rate boosts.

Congress is expected to be asked to increase air mail rates from 6 to 8 cents an ounce, and to boost rates on second-class (newspaper and magazine) matter, and on third-class (advertising) mail.

In his testimony last month, Stans said at present rates a deficit next year of 651 million dollars is indicated. That could rise to 754 millions if railroads are allowed to boost mail hauling charges, he said.

Referring then to what he said was the probability of employ pay increases and planned improvements, he said, "You can readily see we are faced with a deficit of between three quarters of a billion and a billion dollars a year in the very near future."

Algerian Time Bombs Kill 11

ALGIERS (AP) — Time bombs left ticking in two crowded football stadiums took this capital's heaviest one-day toll of lives of the 27-month Algerian rebellion.

The bombings apparently were timed to mark the opening of the climactic week of U. N. Assembly debate on the Algerian rebellion.

The bombs exploded yesterday during soccer games in the Ruisseau Municipal Stadium and El Biar Stadium across town. Eleven persons were killed and at least 45 wounded.

In the countryside, French troops announced they had killed 66 Nationalist rebels in scattered clashes during the last 24 hours.

Another bomb exploded in a crowded Algiers cafe Saturday night, killing 3 and injuring 10.

The renewed terrorism in the capital followed two of the deadliest weeks since the rebellion spread here from eastern Algeria 11 months ago. Firm action by French authorities kept an eight-day nationwide strike of Moslem merchants and workers, timed to coincide with the U. N. debate, from full success.

Italian Government In Crisis As Socialists Plan Reunion

ROME (AP) — Premier Antonio Segni's coalition government faces a grave political crisis. The Socialists are considering quitting the government to rejoin their former members now breaking their fellow-traveling tie with the Communists.

The left-wingers, headed by Pietro Nenni, voted almost unanimously in Venice to reemerge with their former partners, the moderate Social Democrats led by Deputy Premier Giuseppe Saragat. Approval of the merger by the Social Democrats appeared certain.

The moderates' central committee will meet here tomorrow or Wednesday to weigh their possible withdrawal from the government. They have four ministers in Segni's Cabinet and control 19 seats in the 590-member Chamber of Deputies.

A Social Democratic leader said last week his party would pull out of the government if Nenni broke his 1948 pact with the Communists. The Social Democrats had entered the coalition to keep Segni's Christian Democrats, a Roman Catholic party, in power and block any move by Nenni and the Communists to control the government.

The Social Democrats' 19 votes give Segni the majority he needs on important issues. With them the government can muster 302 votes at most, and 296 is the absolute minimum needed to control the Chamber if all members are present and voting.

If the Socialists pull out, no source of recruits is evident to maintain the moderate center parties in power unless Nenni's left-wingers are included with the other Socialists in a new coalition.

The right-wing opposition mainly the Monarchists with 38 votes and the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI) with 26 seats — are unlikely candidates to replace the Socialists in the present coalition. The Communists' 143 seats make them second in size only to their bitter enemies, the Christian Democrats. The government party has 261 seats.

If the remerged Socialists form a coalition with the center parties now governing, the question would be: Who would dominate the new grouping, Segni's Christian Democrats or the Socialists?

It would be an uneasy alliance. The Catholic party would not feel warmly disposed toward a party the majority of whose members followed the Kremlin line for over 10 years.

Nenni, who received a Stalin Peace Prize in 1951, held out an olive branch to the Catholics. He said in Venice he was ready to collaborate with them, adding: "Religion must not be a dividing factor between workers of Marxist inspiration and those of Catholic inspiration. We must all work together."

Nenni already is eyeing the premiership. After his cohorts voted to rejoin the moderates, he announced the unified Socialists would try to bring down the coalition, force a new national election and take over the government.

This was greeted by a roar of applause, "with some delegates crying: 'Long live the new premier!'"
