Although Prince Mashhur of Saudi Arabia seems to be enjoying himself with both toys, the teddy bear has the edge over the tom-tom if for nothing else it drew a rare smile from the 3½-year-old boy. The prince was guest at a children's party held at the Saudi Arabia embassy in Washington.

Soil Bank 'Bonus' Measure Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A soil bank "bonus" would be made available to practically all farmers under proposed legislation drafted yesterday by Rep. Poage (D-Tex.). Poage's plan would cut down the Eisenhower administration's corn program, and give to growers of all price-supported commodities an equal opportunity to participate in the soil bank regardless of acreage controls. The effect would be to provide a half billion dollar acreage "bonus" to cotton, tobacco and all other basic commodity growers whose acreage allotments already have been so sharply cut that they now have no available acres to set aside in the soil bank reserve. Poage's proposal also would set planting allotments for corn at 43,200,000 acres instead of the 51,000,000 proposed by President Eisenhower. Growers of all basic farm commodities now eligible for soil bank payments would be permitted to place up to 15 per cent of their 1957 planting allotment in the soil bank. This 15 per cent soil bank participation, however, could be made from any tillable acres, and not just from allotted acreage as the law now requires. For placing this "bonus" acreage in the soil bank, farmers would be paid at a rate equivalent to 50 per cent of the government price support on their price-supported crop. Thus, if a cotton farmer was allotted 100 acres for price-supported production this year, he would be permitted to grow his full allotment and still be entitled to payments for any 15 additional acres he placed in the acreage reserve. An additional provision would entitle the growers of feed grains—oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums—to participate in the soil bank. They are not now eligible. Feed grain growers would be paid $15 an acre for all land placed in the soil bank below 85 per cent of the average plantings for the three-year period 1954-56. Poage would authorize an increase in soil bank payments from 750 million dollars to one billion dollars, and add another 300 million dollars for feed grains, to finance his proposal.

Banks Invited To Bid For County Business

Howard County Commissioners have invited the three Big Spring banks to submit bids for the privilege of serving as the official depository for county funds and for county school funds. The commissioners will consider the offers of the three banks on March 11—next regular meeting of the board. In the past, when Big Spring had but two banks, the policy of the commission was to alternate its funds each year. One year the First National Bank would serve as depository; the following year, the accounts would be with the State National. Now a third Big Spring bank—Security State—has entered the picture. Larson Loyd, executive vice president of the Security State, appeared before the commission on Monday morning and invited the board to make use of his bank's facilities. This resulted in the commission voting to advertise for bids from all three financial institutions. Interest rates offered on time deposits and other accounts will probably be the factors to decide which will be chosen as the official depository.

Commissioners Act On FM 700 Plan

Howard County commissioners have acted promptly on a suggestion advanced by Marshall Formby, state highway commissioner, relative to speeding up prospects for a cut-off road from U.S. highway 87 south to connect U.S. Highway 89 east. The commissioners adopted a motion unanimously on Monday afternoon to offer the state four miles of its remaining allocation of farm-to-market roads still to its credit. He said if the county would give the state four miles of this allocation it was quite possible the state would be willing to build one segment of a four-lane road from U.S. 87 to U.S. 89 on the proposed route of FM 700 east in the relatively near future. He also urged that not less than 300 feet right-of-way be provided. In addition, the commission assured the State Highway Commission that it would acquire and clear a 300 foot right-of-way for the project. The road, if built will be an east extension of FM 700 from its point of intersection just south of town on U. S. 87 to connect with U.S. 89 near the Cosden Refinery. Formby in a conference with county officials, city officials and civic leaders last week had suggested that this would be a good way to expedite possible action on the project. Formby pointed out the county has around 18 miles of allocated

Steelworkers Elect New Leader Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Members of the United Steelworkers elect a president today. For the first time in the union's 20-year history, the leadership is challenged. The issue: dues. Running against President David J. McDonald is a Pittsburgh district steelworker opposed to a hike in dues from $3 to $5 monthly. He is Donald C. Rarick, 37, who works at the nearby Irvin works of U. S. Steel Corp. USW members also are voting for other top officers, including district directors. In only a few instances are there any opponents for the slate led by McDonald, who succeeded to the presidency after the death in 1952 of Philip Murray. Howard R. Hague of Pittsburgh has no opposition for his job as vice president. However, Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel of Pittsburgh is opposed by William Klug of Milwaukee, Wis. Klug is a member of Rarick's "Dues Protest Committee." The committee was formed after a USW convention last fall hiked the dues. Rarick claimed there was no roll call vote. McDonald said the vote was fair and the raise stood. The same convention hiked McDonald's pay $10,000 a year to its present level of $50,000. Salaries of the vice president and secretary-treasurer went from $25,000 to $35,000 annually. Rarick says he wants those salary increases rescinded, along with lowering the dues. Rarick has campaigned through-

County Sells Wrecked Car

H&H Body Works' bid of $525.99 was accepted by the County Commissioners and the firm bought a wrecked car from the sheriff's department Monday afternoon. The car was wrecked last fall in a traffic accident on U. S. Highway 89. The commissioners advertised for bids for the car and the H&H company offered the best price. Harvey Hooser Jr., who bid $67.50, was sold the radio receiver-transmitter equipment out of the car, which had been advertised separately.

C-City Council Approves Water Rights For Loraine

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City's next city election was set for April 2, by the city council Monday night. Terms of four councilmen will expire. They are L. J. Taylor, R. B. Baker, O. L. Simpson, and Lawrence Ruddick. Taylor and Baker have been on the council for five years, Simpson and Ruddick for four. The council appointed Jerold Riordan as election judge. A letter from Mayor Vance Dickinson of Loraine asking for the right to obtain water from a proposed lake on Champion Creek, brought spirited objections from Jeff Taylor, councilman and president of the Chamber of Commerce, but the council passed a resolution giving Loraine "the right to purchase water from Colorado City at a price to be negotiated at the time." Taylor voted "no." Taylor said in explaining his stand, "I don't see it—we're tying ourselves up for a long time in the future. If they want the water I think they ought to come to us after the

Court Reporter's Salary Is Raised

Charlie Sullivan, judge of the 118th District Court notified the county commissioners Monday that, in accordance with pay increases granted to county officials and employees, he had increased the salary of Charles Kee, his court reporter. Kee will receive $6,600 annually, the court told the commission. Since the 118th District Court involves three counties, Kee draws his pay from all three. This, Judge Sullivan said, will be apportioned: Howard County $5,400; Martin County $900 and Glasscock County $300.

Louisiana Flood Waters

The swirling waters of rain-swollen Ivan Lake, 35 miles northeast of Shreveport, La., succeeded in crumbling a section of the 200-foot-wide earthen dam, shooting huge sprays of dirt into Bodcau Bayou Reservoir. The 60-foot breach continues to widen under pressure of the raging water. No homes were flooded.

Eggs-For-Broilers Plan Is Explained

A group of 75 people attended the poultry meeting at the Davis Feed Store last night to hear Bill Hix of the Western Hatcheries explain a new program whereby farmers in this area may produce eggs for the broiler industry.

He showed film strips depicting the various phases of the program, and at the end of his speech, answered questions from the crowd.

"It won't require an elaborate building," he said. "We like for the producer to build most of the facilities. In fact, we want him to get into the business as cheaply as possible."

There can be a net wire pen or lot extended from the house. Each hen will require three and a half feet of floor space, excluding roosts.

The kind of chicken to be used in this area is the No. 12 Nichols. About 3,000 pullets are now available. After these are gone, producers must buy the day-old chicks. The cost of each chicken will amount to about $2 by the time the hens start laying. Hix said hens should lay between 55 and 60 per cent over a 10 to 12 months production period.

The hatchery will pay a minimum of 60 cents per dozen or 20 cents above the market price for eggs. They do have a clause, however, whereby the price can drop below this for a four-weeks period during the production life of the hen. This clause has been used twice in the last few years, Hix said.

The eggs will be brought to an egg depot in Big Spring twice a week during hot weather and once weekly the rest of the year. The hatchery will pay the producer once a week as based upon the percentage of hatchability. Hix said that after hens came into full production, about 95 per cent of the eggs would be hatchable. The eggs not up to standard will be sold the chain stores by the hatchery, or the farmer may do his own marketing.

There will also be a market for culled hens, and these may also be marketed through the hatchery. The culs will weigh about seven pounds or more, for which the present price is 19 cents per pound. That is expected to repay the producer about two-thirds the original cost of the hen.

Western Hatcheries will station a poultry expert in the area. He will help producers with vaccination and management problems at no cost to the grower.

Another service of the hatchery will be to furnish 15 cockerels for each 100 pullets. The cockerels will belong to the hatchery but the producer may use them at no cost.

Hix said that producers in the Brady area collected a gross income of $250,000 last year. Other broiler egg centers are located at Lampasas and San Saba.

The minimum amount of birds a producer may purchase has been 1,200, but Hix said they might establish some flocks of 600. The hatchery does not have a credit plan, according to Hix, so producers must arrange for financing from some other source.

Treasurer's Pay Raised

Final action by the county commissioners Monday afternoon settled at long last the pay boost for Frances Glenn, county treasurer. Her pay is now $5,280 a year. A resolution affirming the increase from her former salary of $4,800 was adopted by the board Monday.

Mrs. Glenn's salary was not increased several weeks ago when all other elective officials were given 10 per cent increases in pay. Later the commission decided they should have increased her salary at the same ratio as that accorded to themselves and other officials.

Kidnap, Robbery Charges Filed

DALLAS (AP)—Charges of kidnaping and robbery were filed here yesterday against a 24-year-old man in the abduction of Lindsey Devon Savage, 19, an evangelist of the Pentecostal Holiness Church.

Sheriff Bill Decker filed the charges against Bobby James Stickenberger.

Savage, who had been living in Farmers Branch, Tex., told officers he gave Stickenberger a ride last Wednesday while en route by car to Ardmore, Okla.

Later, Savage said the hitchhiker turned a gun on him, robbed him of $12, and made him get in the trunk of the vehicle.

Savage said he was allowed later to sit in the car with the hitchhiker and was able to signal a night watchman for help after Stickenberger fell asleep in a cafe near Kaufman.

Son 'Tad' Aided Photographer To Obtain Rare Lincoln Pose

BOSTON (AP)—Abraham Lincoln, worried and war-torn, carried a chair out of the White House one morning a month before his assassination and posed for a picture to please his young son "Tad."

The 92-year-old first print of that picture — by a Waltham, Mass., photographer — is a new addition to Boston University's big collection of Lincolniana. The tale of how it was made adds an intimate human paragraph to the story of Lincoln as a father.

The picture, with two other new Lincoln collection additions, are displayed for the first time by the university's Cheney Library in observance of the anniversary of Lincoln's birth. One of the additions is a photograph of Boston Corbett, autographed shortly after Corbett shot the assassin of Lincoln, John Wilkes Booth. The other is an album with autographs of Lincoln which some of his associates sold to help raise money at an Iowa fair in 1864 for sick and wounded soldiers.

From the donor of the memoirs, Dean Emeritus Melvin M. Johnson of the B. U. Law School, come the stories of how the Lincoln picture happened to be made, of the autograph album, how the Corbett picture was made, and the role Johnson's father played in connection with all three.

The father, Byron Berkeley Johnson, obtained the autographs of Lincoln, John Hay and others for the album, one of various items collected for sale at the fair in Iowa. Entered in the volume is a memorandum recording that the fair raised $18,451 for Civil War veterans. When the album came up for auction, the elder Johnson himself bid it in and it remained in his possession until he died in 1915.

Johnson played an active role in making possible the photograph which Henry F. Warren of Waltham, Mass., made of Lincoln in March 1865 — one of the President's last portraits.

Johnson, rejected for war service because of a heart condition, had obtained an assignment with the War Department. Photographer Warren, eager for a chance to make a picture of Lincoln, approached Johnson, a native of Massachusetts, for help and advice.

At that time, young "Tad" Lincoln went out each morning to ride his pony and one day Johnson suggested to the boy that Warren would take his picture with the Delighted with the idea, "Tad" posed. Then Warren told the boy he would make him a present of the picture he had just taken if "Tad" would ask his father to pose.

The President must have listened with sympathy to the plea of the boy, for soon he came out — gaunt in his traditional black suit — carrying a chair.

He sat down on the chair and posed for Warren's camera. The face portrayed beneath a tangled thatch of hair conveys its own story of the martyred President's weariness.

Boston Corbett personally gave his picture to Johnson, who had introduced Corbett to Secretary of War Stanton and thus helped Corbett collect his share of the reward for Booth's apprehension. The photograph was taken by Civil War photographer Matthew Brady.

Although Johnson was born in Massachusetts, he moved to Iowa as a young man. While in the War Department he became acquainted with Lincoln. His son, who now has presented the photographs and autograph, was a member of B.U. Law School's first graduating class in 1873, became the first mayor of the city of Waltham and was trial justice in the Waltham district court.

Reds Ask Mutual Hands-Off Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov today proposed a mutual hands-off program in the Middle East, provided the Western Big Three abandons its military bases.

Shepilov told the Supreme Soviet, Russia's Parliament, that the Kremlin government had transmitted such a six-point proposal in notes handed last night to the ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France.

He said in effect that the Soviet Union is ready to stop sending arms to the Middle East if the Western Powers will do likewise.

He said the most urgent Middle East question now was "the complete withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egyptian territory." He said his government also supports Egypt's "just demand for full compensation of the damage caused" by the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt.

Shepilov also lined his government up again with Cairo's demand that Egypt alone control and operate the Suez Canal. He said "law and justice are wholly on Egypt's side."

Shepilov said this six-point proposal had been made to the United States, Britain and France:

1. The maintenance of peace in the Near and Middle East through settling disputed questions exclusively by peaceful means by negotiations.
2. Noninterference in the internal affairs of the Near and Middle East; respect of the sovereignty and independence of these countries.
3. Renounce any attempts to include these countries in military blocs with the participation of the great powers (a direct slap at the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact but not at the Arab League alliance which Egypt has been promoting).
4. The liquidation of foreign bases and the withdrawal of foreign troops from the territories of the countries of the Near and Middle East.
5. The mutual renunciation of the supply of arms to countries of the Near and Middle East.
6. Cooperation toward the economic development of the countries of the Near and Middle East without making any political, military or other conditions whatsoever incompatible with the dignity and sovereignty of these countries.

These six points appeared to represent the Kremlin's answer to President Eisenhower's doctrine to stabilize the Middle East.

Eisenhower offered military and economic assistance against Communist aggression, if requested, to any country in the strategic oil-rich area.

Shepilov revealed the six-point proposal in the first foreign policy speech of the Supreme Soviet's current semiannual session.

He also told the Soviet Parliament that his government still believes "war is not fatisolically inevitable." He declared that peaceful co-existence between communism and Western capitalism is still "the cornerstone of the foreign policy of the Soviet state."

The policy of peaceful co-existence, he said, is not a political maneuver that the Soviet state has found expedient at the moment, as our enemies are trying to depict it.

Parking Solution

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Where to park was Gwen Love's daily problem when she went to work in a downtown law office. Then she noticed a 12-foot-wide vacant lot about a block away. It turned out the lot was owned by the city and was for sale. Miss Love bought it for $75, put a fence and gate around it and now parks leisurely.

Mrs. T. H. McCann Named Coahoma Justice Of Peace

Coahoma is to have a justice of peace court and its presiding officer will be Mrs. T. H. McCann.

She was selected by the Howard County Commissioners Court for the position Monday afternoon.

Five persons had applied for the job.

She will begin her duties as justice of the peace as soon as she has posted bond and qualified for the office.

Her salary will be $600 a year. This is the same salary as was in effect in 1956 for this post. Raises which were given justices of peace in Big Spring did not apply to the Coahoma office.

The office has been vacant since the first of the year. The person elected to the post at the last general election chose not to qualify and resigned effective Jan. 1.

No action had been taken to fill the vacancy until yesterday.

A petition, signed by nearly 100 residents of the Coahoma community, was filed with the commissioners Monday asking that the board name a justice of peace for the district.

The commissioners, noting the relatively few cases which were handled in the Coahoma court last year had toyed with the idea of leaving the office without a tenant.

Stay Of Execution Given Doomed Man

AUSTIN (AP)—A seven-day stay of execution has been granted to Alvaro Alcorca, 37, who was scheduled to be executed at the state penitentiary in Huntsville early today.

The stay was granted last night after Gov. Price Daniel approved it. Chairman Jack Ross of the Board of Pardons and Paroles said Alcorca's attorney had asked for the state to provide time for a hearing "on grounds of temporary insanity following conviction."

Alcorca was convicted of the knife slaying of his wife in San Antonio.

Earlier yesterday, Federal Judge Joe Ingraham in Houston dismissed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case.

Former In-Law Held In Shooting

BRADY (AP)—O. C. Otte, 56, was shot to death yesterday while in bed with his wife and small daughter. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie Russell, 81, was critically wounded.

County Atty. Aubrey Davee said Walter Brouette, 30, a former son-in-law of Otte, had been charged with the murder. Davee said Brouette was an airman stationed at Tinker Air Force Base near Oklahoma City. He had been AWOL since last week, Davee said.

Davee said the airman's former wife has remarried and lives in San Antonio.

He said there had been "trouble" between the two men and indicated he had further evidence in the case.

Otte was shot four times. His wife and daughter were not hurt.

Uncle Ray: Manna Is Produced By Desert Tamarisks

By RAMON COFFMAN

The manna of Europe is taken from ash trees which grow in southern Europe, especially in Italy, Sicily, Austria, Hungary and Greece.

At the age of eight years, a manna ash is ready to yield a thick juice. In May and June the white blossoms appear.

The Sinai tamarisk is a small tree (hardly more than a bush) which grows on the Sinai Peninsula and nearby. It produces manna, and this substance hardens on the trunk and branches.

Arabs gather and eat manna from the Sinai tamarisk. It also supplies food for monks who live on Mount Sinai.

Gathering manna in Sicily.

risks supply manna without cutting?

A. Insects known as "manna insects" cut the tender bark, and the small openings which they make let the sweet juice come forth.

Q. What about the desert manna?

A. This comes chiefly from tamarisk trees. Some stretches of desert are without any trees except tamarisks.

Q. If the ash trees in Europe must be cut to produce manna, how does it happen that tamarisks, which provides maple syrup and sugar.

In the Bible we read that the Israelites suffered from hunger while they were crossing a desert area on their way to the Promised Land, and found manna covering the ground.

A Bible Thought For Today

Editorial

No Cure But Maybe A Relief

A survey conducted by a nationally circulated magazine of communities where laws and ordinances have been adopted punishing the parents of juveniles for the crimes of their children asserts that the plan does not work.

Instead of bettering conditions and lessening juvenile criminality, the magazine says that jurists, youth leaders and community officials are convinced it worsens an already bad situation.

Everyone talks much of juvenile delinquency but to the present time no workable plan to cope with it has been found.

The communities where this particular survey was conducted have ordinances which permit the courts to assess heavy fines or even inflict prison sentences on parents of youngsters who engage in law breaking activities.

It does not mention other communities where a slightly different version of the plan has been adopted. These are the towns where ordinances have been adopted which makes the parents financially responsible for the damage inflicted by their offspring.

Obviously this simple fact must be true. When a young miscreant goes on rampage and damages or destroys the property of some innocent stranger, the owner of the property is injured. He is not recompensed if the young offender is picked up, brought before the juvenile court, lectured by the judge and then probated to his parents. His damaged or destroyed property is not restored to him; he still has to pay out his money to repair the damage or replace the destroyed article.

It does not seem unreasonable that he should be entitled to reparation. Since the boy or girl who caused the mischief is not likely to have the financial capacity to make good his misdeed, the victim can only turn to the parents of the offender.

If a man owns a dog and the dog raids a neighbor's chicken yard and destroys the fowls, there is nothing unusual in the dog owner having to pay the bill. Why not in the case of a child?

First Look At The Imports

One can devoutly hope that President Eisenhower's implied threat of federal action in the oil-for-Europe situation doesn't reach the clamp-down stage, for the petroleum industry has enough inherent headaches without getting federal bureaucracy around its neck.

The thing that saved the industry from quick and irreversible ruin — the interstate contracts, which by rotation brought order out of chaos back in the 1930s — should be kept intact. The Texas Railroad Commission, which regulates oil and gas production among many other duties, has in our opinion administered the laws fairly and equitably down through the years. With twenty years of experience under its belt, it knows more in a minute about the needs of the industry with relation to the public interest than all the federal bureaus combined, and any federal interference that would upset the carefully developed and rigidly enforced system of proration to prevent waste would be a severe blow.

The amount of oil Uncle Sam can send to Europe is limited not by available production, but by tanker capacity. Insofar as the Southwest is concerned it is further limited by pipeline capacity.

For years independents have smarted under the spectacle of major producers with Caribbean connections bringing in more and more oil to this country cheaper in many instances than domestic producers can get it out of the ground. We are told that this influx of Caribbean oil not only continues under the present rising demand from Europe, but has actually been increased since this crisis developed. And why not let all Mid-East shipments go to Europe instead of still being diverted in part?

For years this competition has been a sore spot with domestic producers, and appeal after appeal that Washington do something about it has been ignored. Now if Mr. Eisenhower wants to get tough with the oil industry, let him address his attention to the import situation — and imports just now are heavy indeed.

It should be apparent that in this emergency it would be faster and cheaper to send the oil directly from the Caribbean rather than bring it into this country and then transship it to Europe.

We're Still At War With Red China

WASHINGTON — This is a story concerning the parents and relatives of the 33,629 American boys killed and about the 103,284 who were wounded in the Korean War. Some of these boys were maimed. Some are still confined to beds in wheelchairs and will be for the rest of their lives.

These young Americans — and the more than 1,000,000 who came back safely — were put into uniform and asked to serve the United Nations in repelling Communist aggression in Korea. They sacrificed their lives, the bravery they exhibited, the anguish their parents and relatives felt as word came of the tragic fate of so many of them at the hands of the enemy are not forgotten by the families of these soldiers and sailors, marines and airmen.

But has the rest of America forgotten them?

Today, as one reads a press dispatch from New York, there is reason to doubt whether even the publishers of some newspapers remember what happened in Korea. For it says that a group of publishers, constituting the board of directors of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, has passed a resolution declaring that American reporters should be allowed to travel "in any country with which the United States is not at war." The stated purpose of the resolution was to petition President Eisenhower and the State Department to lift the ban on travel by American newsmen who have been invited by the Communist government in Peking to go to Red China.

The assumption in the resolution is that the United States is "not at war" with Red China's government. But it is a wrong assumption. It is surprising that such a resolution could be adopted and sent not only to the President but to the Vice President and the Speaker of the House as representing the viewpoint of American newspaper publishers.

Not only is the United States still in a state of war with the Red China government but so also is the United Nations. In fact, the military forces of the United States are today stationed in Korea guarding the armistice line as the official agents of the United Nations.

No peace treaty with the Communist Chinese has ever been signed. The armistice terms have repeatedly been violated. No access to North Korea has been given by the Communists even to the inspection teams from the United Nations charged with the duty of observing whether the armistice terms are being violated.

Just last week, Walter S. Robertson, the Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, made a speech at Bloomington, Illinois, in which he said:

"In 1950, having been in power less than a year, Red China invaded Korea and was promptly branded an aggressor against the peace of the world by United Nations resolution. That resolution is still outstanding. If Red China was an aggressor in 1950, it is an aggressor in 1957. Its armies are still in military occupation of North Korea. It has shown complete disregard for international commitments made on its own account. Signing an armistice in Korea in July 1953 calling for the exchange of all war prisoners, it held back hundreds of their releases. It later bargained for their release. It brought into North Korea hundreds of modern airplanes and other combat equipment prohibited by the armistice agreement."

Congress has by law forbidden Americans to engage in any trade or transactions with the Red Chinese. American correspondents who take American money into China violate the law of the United States.

If certain members of the press can ignore the laws governing trade with the Red Chinese and escape prosecution, what will be said to businessmen who attempt to defy their own government and violate its laws governing exchange control?

So far as Congress and the State Department are concerned, the boys who were killed or wounded in Korea have not been forgotten. There is still a state of war with the Red Chinese, and American rightly refuses to change its policies until Red China has released all the American prisoners and atoned for its crimes.

The plan was studied at the request of the Belgian ministry of communications and the Belgian marine administration. The plan was handed to Belgian and Dutch authorities for later approval and application.

It calls for the creation on Dutch and Belgian territory of a certain number of radar stations.

James Marlow Nasser—The Big Opportunist

WASHINGTON — There is a change the country's economy that no Western government would give Egypt economic aid or loans. This in turn would make Egypt even more dependent on the Communist world for help.

This picture might seem different if Nasser at the same time were setting up social programs for Egypt's 23 million people, most of them poor.

But the stories coming out of Egypt do not tell of any real, long-range thinking on Nasser's part to lift Egyptians out of their economic wretchedness.

Around The Rim One Day At The Lincoln's House . . .

Tom Lincoln swung open the crude door to the lopsided cabin and stepped out into the dim light of the chilly dawn. He rubbed his eyes wearily and he let his gaze swing distastefully around the half-cleared land surrounding the shack. Snow had fallen during the night. White night-caps had been built up on the stumps in the clearing. A short way back, the forest loomed, dense and dark against the gleam of the snow.

"Wall, no, we ain't—not for certain. My old woman kinda wants to call him Abraham—seems like she heard a preacher talk about some feller o' that name once who was a sort of hero. Don't make me no mind, much what we call him."

Marquis Childs Brownell For The Supreme Court?

WASHINGTON — The logic of the forces within the Eisenhower Administration and the Republican party indicates the selection of Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. to fill the vacancy of the Supreme Court left by the impending retirement of Justice Stanley F. Reed.

One other point of controversy is the fact of geographical representation on the court. Justices John M. Harlan and William J. Brennan Jr. are from New York and New Jersey, respectively, and Chief Justice Earl Warren is from California.

Montgomery Ward Has Big Stock Of Fishing Supplies

Bright sunny days which have been rather abundant in recent weeks stir the old familiar urge in the hearts of many to do a little fishing. Fishing, if it is to be all of the fun it should be, requires the right sort of equipment. In these parts experts in the field insist that a good boat and a dependable motor are basic "musts" for the fellow who really wants to get in a few good licks as a fisherman. Montgomery Ward store realizes the importance of such equipment and also is well aware of the growing urge in so many sporting folks' hearts to go fishing. The store anticipates a tremendous interest in fishing equipment this coming season. It has always been proud of the quality and variety of its fishing equipment—particularly its stock of boats and motors. Fishermen who plan to fish now or those who are looking ahead to later in the year would do well to visit Montgomery Ward and talk to the trained sales personnel in the boat and motor department about their present or future needs. For the future, there's a good offer on the board at the Montgomery Ward store right now. A deposit of $5 will hold your choice of the fine Sea King Motors and boats the store has on hand. Your deposit will reserve your boat for you until May 1. You can buy the boat and the motor on the easy terms which Montgomery Ward has made so popular for so long. Now's the time to do your shopping for that new boat or that new motor you'll be needing so soon. Visit the Montgomery Ward store on Third and Gregg and look over their stock of boats and motors. You'll find just what you've always wanted and the price will please you.

Use Of Butane Is Farm Money-Saver

There's much truth in the old saying "you've got to spend money to make money." It applies to practically any endeavor. If you're a farmer and spring plowing is just ahead, you don't have to spend a great deal of money to make money, however. Fact is, if you convert your tractor to butane use, you save money in the long run. A concern which specializes in converting all farm implements to the use of butane is the S. M. Smith Butane Company, main offices of which are situated on the Lamesa highway at the northern edge of the city limits in Big Spring. Butane fuel in trucks and tractors not only offers a great savings to owners but is safer and insures long life of a vehicle's engine, as well. If you haven't yet converted your implements to the use of butane, ask your neighbor the wisdom in it. Chances are excellent he'll give you a favorable reply because chances are good he has made the change. S. M. Smith Butane is also the headquarters for a variety of home appliances which can be operated with butane fuel — things like kitchen ranges, front room heaters and hot water heaters. For instance, the Wedgewood range, stocked by the S. M. Smith establishment, is becoming increasingly popular all over West Texas because it boasts so many revolutionary features other ranges have not yet adopted. Butane systems of any size and to fulfill any need can be installed anywhere by the Smith employees upon request. Those will be serviced regularly by people who know how to do the job.

Cornelison's Resizing Puts Dresses In Top Condition

Resizing of cotton dresses by use of a special, patented sizing fluid is accomplished at the Cornelison Cleaners, 10th and Johnson. The process puts garments in crisp, new-appearing condition and there's none of the stain which follows starching and other conventional methods which attempt to restore dresses and shirts to their original condition. The resizing service is just one of the steps taken by Cornelison Cleaners to assure patrons of complete and satisfactory service on cleaning and pressing work. Cornelison also features a re-weaving operation which restores torn or snagged garments to good-as-new condition. By reweaving the torn fabric, the skilled repair-

3 More Enter Race As Senate Considers Measures On Runoff

By JERRY MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Three more candidates upped the field to nine Tuesday for the special U.S. Senate election in Texas, but two pieces of legislation vying for the runoff were the campaign spotlight.

State Agriculture Commissioner John White and two more candidates joined the field Monday for the special election April 2 to fill Gov. Price Daniel's post in the U.S. Senate. At least four other "maybe" candidates were listed.

In Austin, however, the state Senate was getting set to consider on the floor two bills that:

1. Would require a runoff if no candidate polls more votes than his combined opposition.
2. Would eliminate the election and allow the interim appointee, William Blakley of Dallas, to remain in office for the two remaining years of Daniel's unexpired term.

The Senate Privileges and Elections Committee Monday night approved both bills and sent them to the Senate floor for debate.

U.S. Flood Surety Still Not Available To Stricken Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government-sponsored flood insurance, on the lawbooks for six months, still is not available to aid in the latest flood disasters.

And it may be late spring or early summer — past some of the peak flood seasons in many areas — before any policies are written.

Holding things up at the moment is a 100-million-dollar appropriation awaiting congressional action.

"When we get the money, we'll be in operation," says Commissioner Frank J. Meistrick, in charge of the Federal Flood Indemnity Administration.

The government took on the experiment of underwriting flood insurance after disastrous 1935-36 floods in the Northeast because no private insurance companies were willing to take the risk.

The biggest problem in launching the program has been to determine a schedule of rates for the 37 states classed as flood areas.

The rates are ready now though still a secret.

Flood policies will be handled through 150,000 private insurance agents and brokers. Between 1,500 and 4,000 insurance companies will act for the government on a "retro-fee" or cost reimbursement basis. The government will pay the agents' fees and also absorb 40

Sen. Langer Improved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Langer (R-ND), hospitalized last week with pleurisy and pneumonia, has shown some improvement.

But Langer, 70, is "still considered critically ill," a Bethesda Naval Hospital report said last night.

The medical report said Langer had been "in an emergency oxygen tent and has had three blood transfusions."

Ran Out Of Fuel?

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Violet has been freed from her curiosity-imposed prison, so the Kirby King household can look forward to a night's sleep.

Violet is a skunk who got too close a look at the bottom of a pickle jar. The jar stuck, and for nine days and nights, every where that Violet went, the jar was sure to go.

Mostly, Violet went under the King house, clanking the jar against the plumbing and playing hob with the family's sleep. They tried to drive Violet away. Instead, she reacted the way most normal skunks do when they are disturbed.

Last night Rudy Crawford, a friend of King's, caught Violet under the house. Luckily, she was asleep.

Crawford put a gunny sack over her head, removed her, and then jerked away the jar. Violet promptly departed for a nearby wooded area.

And this time she never raised a stink in the entire operation.

Weak Cool Front Moves Over State

By The Associated Press

A weak cool front from the Pacific was pushing across Texas Tuesday but was having little effect on temperatures.

Scattered light showers were forecast across upper Texas ahead of the front. The air behind it was extremely dry and skies were clearing behind it.

Early Tuesday the front extended from Wichita Falls west to Lubbock.

Skies were mostly cloudy in the central, south and east sections of the state.

Drizzle fell at Waco, San Antonio, Austin, Longview, Alice and Palacios.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from Childress' 41 to Corpus Christi's 72.

West Texas Solons Begin Parleys On Bracero Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of West Texas farmers and ranchers have started a round of conferences over their protests against regulations imposed by the Labor Department on employers using braceros, imported Mexican farm laborers.

The delegation, headed by Layan Walker of Abilene, farm and ranch director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, met with congressmen yesterday to discuss the regulations.

The group contended that the regulations calling for improved minimum housing standards for braceros would be too costly. They submitted a House Agriculture sub-

Panel Approves Tuitions Hike
 AUSTIN (AP)—The House State Affairs Committee yesterday passed a controversial bill which doubles tuition for all state colleges and universities.
 The committee voted that resident student tuition would be raised to $30 per term from the present $15 fee and that non-resident charges be hiked to $200 per semester. The bill pointed out that the measure amended one originally adopted in 1953.
 The committee last night voiced its approval by a large majority after little discussion. It had been in subcommittee for one week.
 The committee also directed the colleges and universities to set a part of the money collected from tuition aside and offer it as scholarships to deserving and needy students. The scholarship would pay up to half of the tuition cost.

Prospective Bridegroom, 73, Has Second Thoughts
 PARIS (AP)—An obstacle has cropped up in the romance of a 72-year-old Iowa great-grandmother and her 73-year-old French sweetheart. But she is sure it will be solved.
 Camille Lambert, who courted Mrs. Anna Beck 52 years ago in the little French village of Herbeval, has had second thoughts about marrying her and going off to America to live.
 Mrs. Beck, who arrived yesterday from her home in Marshalltown, Iowa, to marry Lambert, explained:
 "He is a respected citizen of Herbeval. He has many friends there with whom he plays belotte (a card game). He doesn't want to leave them."
 Mrs. Beck insists on returning to America "where there is color and song and laughter." She said: "I am sure Camille will be persuaded. It will be good to settle down and have my own life again."
 Mrs. Beck, a native of Luxembourg, went to the United States as a young woman, leaving Lambert in Herbeval. Both married.
 "Then my husband died. His wife died. Last year," Mrs. Beck related, "I went to Herbeval and saw Camille. We decided to marry."
 Mrs. Beck, spry and alert, has 7 children, 25 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Mexico Depots Slaying Suspect
 TIJUANA, Mex. (AP)—Billy Clifton, 21, wanted in Texas in a Christmas Eve killing, was deported yesterday and was taken into custody by California police.
 Police also said Clifton was a participant in an attempt to escape from the Tijuana jail Feb. 4 in which a companion, James Davis, 18, of Fort Worth, was shot to death by guards.
 Clifton and Davis had been in jail since Jan. 5 on charges of assault and attempted murder for the shooting of Mario Aguilera, 26, Tijuana hotel manager.
 Clifton is wanted in Fort Worth for questioning in the robbery-slaying of Ralph Claybrook, 43, operator of a juke box concern.

Recruit Arrested On Weapons Count
 NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Something wrong showed up in the Army pre-induction physical of a 26-year-old Newark man yesterday.
 Theodore Kappel was in line to get his shots and checkup when an officer noticed a .38 caliber revolver sticking out of his pocket.
 Instead of going to Ft. Dix, Kappel was sent to jail on a charge of carrying a dangerous weapon.

Reds Back Egypt In African Revolt
 NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today Egypt, with Soviet backing, is trying to foment revolution in much of Africa.
 A copyrighted dispatch from Paris by Herald Tribune correspondent Frank Kelley quoted "authoritative informants" as sources for the information. The French for several years have accused Egypt of promoting and aiding the Nationalist rebellions against their rule in Tunisia, Morocco and now Algeria.
 Kelley's report said:
 "With financial and political backing from the Soviet Union, Egypt has begun on a large scale an economic, religious, cultural and ideological penetration of at least eight areas of Africa."
 "The purpose is to foment eventual revolution by Muslim elements in these areas."
 The article did not specify further how the Soviet Union was cooperating in the reported plan.
 It said Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, Egyptian President Nasser's chief political aide, is entrusted with the task of developing the campaign. It said the Soviet-Egyptian plans were disclosed in the wake of the French National Assembly's decision to set up 13 semi-independent "republics" in French West Africa, Equatorial Africa and the island of Madagascar, off the African east coast.
 "The immediate goal, it appeared from diplomatic reports, is to strike southward down the Nile Valley and southeast along the Red Sea in a movement aimed at destruction of the Christian country of Ethiopia."
 "A longer-range objective on the west coast of Africa poses problems for the British colony and protectorate of Nigeria and for the independent Negro republic of Liberia."
 "Soviet-Egyptian plans also include sources here said, the undermining through Muslim rebel units of these countries: Libya, Somalia, Kenya, Uganda and the island of Zanzibar in all of which there is a sizable population of Muslim malcontents."

Greetings An Old Presidential Custom
 THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—So you are 100 years old and you got a note from President Eisenhower wishing you a happy birthday.
 Word about such notes keeps popping up in newspapers all over the country. People wonder how in the world the President knew about that birthday.
 The answer is it's a nice custom that goes back much further than Eisenhower's time in the White House.
 For years and years the President of the United States has been getting letters saying that on such-and-such date so-and-so will be 100 years old and wouldn't it be wonderful if he could find time to put a congratulatory message in the mail.
 The letters come from all kinds of sources—from grandchildren, from great-grandchildren, from nieces, nephews, from parents, from members of Congress eager to please a constituent.
 Such letters, of course, seldom are routed directly to the President. In this administration they usually are channeled to a small staff headed by Kevin McCann, whose main job is helping to write speeches for Eisenhower.
 But that staff has other assignments, in what the members call the human relations field. They go over these communications suggesting birthday notes and they decide which ones will be brought to Eisenhower's attention.
 Even now while the President is vacationing here in the Deep South, that work goes on in Washington. And it may be that some of the notes will go out under his signatures from Thomsville.
 Generally the notes go only to those 100 or more years old. Rarely is there an exception.

Girl, 10, Shows Champion Steer
 SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A 10-year-old Blanket, Tex., girl showed the grand champion steer last night at the 1957 San Antonio Livestock Exposition.
 Janey McBryde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heston McBryde, won top honors with a 850-pound Hereford named "Rudy." The award made the third time in less than a year in which the girl won championships. She also was awarded firsts at Fort Worth and Abilene.
 "Cash," a 1,010-pound Hereford owned by Jane Holloway of Abilene, won reserve champion honors.
 The champion and other animals will be auctioned Friday.
