Isbell said the youth told of shooting his father and mother repeatedly with the gun held by Isbell because they refused to allow him a car.

New Insurance Probe Called By Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)—A sweeping new investigation of the insurance industry was ordered by the House of Representatives today by an overwhelming voice vote.

The resolution setting up a five member probing committee specifically mentioned the ICT Insurance Co., which has been ordered into temporary receivership.

The investigators to be named by Speaker Waggoner Carr were directed to report back by April 1 with specific recommendations on bolstering the insurance code.

The House also approved by a 96-45 vote a bill (HR255) which would double tuition fees at the 13 state-supported colleges and universities. The measure now goes to the Senate for action.

The House passed a bill doubling tuition fees in the 8 state-supported colleges and universities. It would raise to $50 tuition for state students and would boost out-of-state fees by $50 immediately and up to $200 in 1959.

By a unanimous vote, the House passed a 200-million-dollar water construction aid plan for local communities.

The state would loan the money to communities to a limit of five million dollars or one-third the cost of a project. Sponsors claim the state will make money by allowing a higher interest charged by the local agencies.

Gov. Price Daniel predicted the Legislature would do more "to meet the state's critical water problem than ever before in the history of Texas." He also said legislative action "has cut through the differences of opinion which have delayed positive action for so many years."

The House also approved 132-10 a constitutional amendment (HJR2) to increase the maximum old age payments from $38 to $50, including $21 instead of $20 in state money. However, the average old age pensioner receives only about $45.

It would allow the state to spend an additional eight million dollars a year, or a total of 50 millions for old folk. Daniel had said 45 1/2 millions would be sufficient.

A proposed change in the Constitution to allow Texas to advertise did not have enough strength to go to final passage. Sen. Carlos Ashley's resolution got a voice vote approval on second reading. However, a 24-7 vote to get consideration for third reading was one vote short of the necessary four-fifths total.

Ashley said it has been against the Constitution to advertise the state's attractions to tourists and industry since the carpetbagger days. "This is one of the most needed things this Legislature can enact," Ashley said.

In other action yesterday, the House passed and sent to the Senate a resolution (HCR 33) to ask Congress to reinforce states' rights. The resolution also asks other states to join with Texas in seeking a U.S. constitutional change strengthening state's rights.

Senate Considers Daniel-Shivers Row

AUSTIN (AP)—The state Senate went into executive session today to vote approval or rejection for several appointments made by former Gov. Allan Shivers.

Sen. Otis Lock, chairman of the Nominations Committee who called the executive session, said the message sent by Gov. Price Daniel yesterday asking rejection of six Shivers appointments was not brought up in a committee meeting earlier.

The governor and Shivers continued their verbal fight yesterday after Daniel claimed 20 of the 31 senators had agreed to his request. Some senators indicated they would fight the move to send back the nominations made to the boards of the University of Texas and the Texas A&M College System. These men already have been before the Nominations Committee.

Daniel and Shivers each claimed he was right. Following a 9 a.m. meeting of the Senate Nominations Committee to discuss Daniel's special legislative message, the entire Senate will go into an executive session at 11:40 a.m. to draft the final answer. They also will act on a long list of Shivers' appointments already interviewed by the nominations committee.

The nominations committee also hoped to begin interviewing R. F. Newman, Berger, new labor member of the Texas Employment Commission, either at the morning session or in the afternoon. AFL-CIO union spokesmen have complained that Newman was more representative of management than labor.

The committee also will interview S. Perry Brown, chairman of the TEC; Ted Connell of Killeen, veterans affairs commission, and John J. Ledbetter of Austin, interstate oil compact commissioner.

Actor Quits Over 'Romance' Fuss

LONDON (AP)—George Raft said today he has quit the cast of the British film "Morning Call" because he didn't like the script.

The producers expected the 37-year-old Raft to play the part of a detective in the story of a kidnapping.

"He wanted to have romance plus being tough," a spokesman for the producers said. "We felt it would have spoiled the balance of the picture."

Pledge Prosecution Of Any 'Collusion' In Oil Price Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Victor R. Hansen, chief of the Justice Department's antitrust division, promised senators today that major oil companies will be prosecuted if the recent rise in oil and gasoline prices resulted from collusion or other violation of antitrust laws.

Hansen defended the antitrust immunity granted 13 major oil companies to pool their tankers and other facilities in the Middle East Emergency Committee for the emergency oil lift to Europe.

He appeared before a joint investigation by the Senate Antitrust and Public Lands subcommittee into operation of the oil lift, set up after blocking of the Suez Canal and Middle East pipelines cut off vital petroleum supplies for Europe.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), presiding at the hearing, told Hansen that the Senate probers may recommend that the antitrust immunity, granted big oil companies to operate the oil lift, "be abandoned."

In advance of the hearing, O'Mahoney said he thinks the inquiry may show that "international corporations come pretty close to governing the United States."

Hansen recently returned from an on-the-spot inspection in Europe.

Heavy Rains Slacking Off Across Texas

By The Associated Press
Scattered showers Wednesday replaced the heavy, drenching rains that fell on much of drought-stricken Texas for the past five days. Continued showers throughout the state were forecast.

Rain or drizzle fell at Dalhart, Midland, Amarillo, Lubbock, Brownsville, Waco, Mineral Wells, Houston, Lufkin, Corpus Christi and Kingsville Wednesday.

The only city reporting clear skies was El Paso.

Rainfall totals for a 24-hour period ending Wednesday morning were: Alpine .71 inches, Wink .54, Laredo .41, Van Horn .35, Cotulla .31, Corpus Christi .29, Midland .25, San Antonio .22, Junction .20, Austin .18, Salt Flat and San Angelo .15, and smaller amounts at Abilene, Amarillo, Fort Worth, Dalhart, College Station, Childress, Sherman, Palacios, Waco, Victoria, Lubbock, Del Rio and Brownsville.

Temperatures early Wednesday ranged from 34 degrees at Dalhart to 56 at Brownsville.

A mass of circulating Arctic air sent temperatures tumbling into the 30s and low 40s in the northern half of the state. The U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures were likely to remain in the 40s all day across the northern part of Texas.

South of the cold air mass, stirred by north and northeasterly winds, the temperatures were mostly in the 50s.

Polio Total Hits $11,325

Final tabulations showed the Howard County March of Dimes drive over its goal by some $1,200. The final count showed that $11,325.25 was collected in Howard County during the drive.

Rad Ware, chairman of the drive, reported this was the last report and that work is completed. He expressed his thanks both to the persons who donated and also all persons who helped with the drive.

Counted among the last contributions was $85 taken at a benefit basketball game at Gay Hill.

Bakeries Indicted For Price Fixing In Southwest Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today announced the indictment of a group of bakeries operating in the Southwest on charges of illegally fixing prices for bread in that area.

The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury at Tulsa, Okla. It charged that the defendants met during the early part of September last year and "discussed and agreed on increased prices" to be charged for wholesale distribution of white, rye and wholewheat bread in Oklahoma, northern Texas, southern Kansas and southwestern Missouri.

Named as defendants were: General Baking Co. and Continental Baking Co., both of New York City; Mead's Bakery, Inc., Amarillo, Tex.; Colonial Baking Co. of Oklahoma City; and Jesse F. Reynolds of Oklahoma City, General Baking Company's regional manager in the area.

The companies operate baking plants in Oklahoma and various other states.

Fourth Murder Suspect Found

Pablo Zapata, fourth defendant in a charge of murder with malice in connection with the knife death of Geronimo Calderon last Sunday morning, has been arrested in Wichita Falls, Sheriff Miller Harris announced today.

Leo Hill, city detective, and Tommy Cole, deputy sheriff, are en route to Wichita Falls to take custody of the prisoner.

Zapata had been sought since Calderon was found dying early Sunday morning back of a boot shop in north Big Spring.

Three other persons, Felix Zapata, Lupe Zapata and Joe Armaderez, are being held in Howard County jail in the case. Bonds for the two men have been set at $10,000 each and for the woman at $8,000.

'IT'S JUST THE PHONE'

Satchmo Unruffled By Concert Bombing

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A dynamite explosion outside scarcely caused Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong and his Negro-white band to miss a beat last night in a jazz concert before a segregated audience.

"That's all right, folks," the gravel-throated Negro trumpet player quipped, as the sound of the blast echoed through the administration building at the city's Chilhowee Park. "It's just the phone."

Nobody got excited, only a few persons got up to see what happened, and the show went on. There were no injuries and scarcely any damage.

The blast, which police said apparently was caused by no more than a single stick of dynamite tossed from a passing car, ripped a four-foot hole in mud about 200 yards east of the building.

About 2,000 whites and 1,000 Negroes were in the building. Armstrong and his combo had returned from an intermission. They were striking up "Back o' Town Blues."

There were three Negro and two white musicians in the band, in addition to the Negro songstress and Armstrong.

He said the incident here, which he obviously wasn't taking very seriously, would not affect his current tour. The group will play tonight in Columbia, S. C., as scheduled, he said.

"Man, the horn don't know anything about it," he said. "I'll play anywhere they'll listen."

Police said the explosive apparently was tossed over a 10-foot wire fence from a car which passed the building without lights. They said they had no clues as to who threw it.

Segregation groups previously have protested white and Negro audiences, even on a segregated basis, at Chilhowee Park for concerts such as Armstrong's. But there has been no public protest against last night's program, billed well in advance.

The explosion was this area's second in a week with racial overtones.

Last Thursday night, several sticks of dynamite exploded in the heart of nearby Clinton's Negro section, slightly injuring a Negro woman and baby and damaging Negro-owned property.

Interim Plan For Suez Presented

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was expected to reply to Egypt today a four-nation plan for interim operation of the Suez Canal that would give Egypt at least half the tolls.

Authoritative sources said representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Norway presented the plan last night in a 30-minute meeting with Hammarskjold. It reportedly hinged on these two main points:

1. Dividing the canal tolls with Egypt on a 50-50 basis once the waterway is opened to shipping. Tolls would be paid to the World Bank or to the U.N. itself. Half the money then would be credited to Egypt and the other half held until a final canal settlement is reached.

2. Use of the 105-mile canal by ships of all nations, including Israel.

The British Foreign Office said the world's major shipping nations had agreed to share the Suez tolls with Egypt, but London observers predicted the Egyptians would demand 100 per cent payment.

From the time Egypt nationalized the canal July 26 until it was blocked during the October-November invasion, many ships paid their tolls to the old Suez Canal Co. in London and Paris. The fees were being held pending settlement of the company's claims against Egypt for the nationalization.

The U.N. announced Deputy Undersecretary Alfred G. Katzin would fly to Egypt today for talks with U.N. officials on canal clearance operations. There have been reports Egypt is holding up the clearance until Israel withdraws its troops from the Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh area on the Gulf of Aqaba.

Crop, Pasture Prospects Up

AUSTIN (AP)—Spring crop and pasture prospects got a needed boost last week with rains covering the state during the weekend, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The department said yesterday in its weekly report that general rains in the Lower Valley brought enough moisture to get drought-delayed cotton and sorghum planting under way. Even the Trans-Pecos and High Plains areas received the welcome rain, it added.

Wheat was already growing well east of a line about Quanah and Abilene. The department said that west of the line, dryland acreage has a chance of survival and spring oats are being sowed in the Low Rolling Plains. Corn planting is off to an early start.

In all areas, the report said, commercial vegetable prospects were improved. Grazing from small grains, clover and rescue grass increased rapidly over the eastern half of the state as spring-time temperatures continued.

Has Parley With Congress Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower discussed the grave Middle East situation and the sanctions-on-Israel question with congressional leaders today, and decided to go on the air tonight with a report to the American people.

The White House said time was being asked on all major TV and radio networks.

The hour was to be announced later.

A score of congressional leaders, both Democrats and Republicans, talked with Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles, and U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

The lawmakers came away grace and with some apparent differences of views as to just what conclusions could be drawn from the meeting.

One of the Democrats, Sen. Jennings of Missouri, said his impression from hearing Eisenhower was that the administration is prepared to support the United Nations if the U.N. imposes economic sanctions on Israel.

The issue of sanctions has arisen because of Israel's refusal to withdraw its troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba when Israel troops are withdrawn from those areas.

Congressional leaders of both parties met with the President for two hours and 20 minutes.

Afterwards, Jennings told a reporter:

"The general purport of what the President told us is that we would have to support the United Nations if the United Nations goes for sanctions."

Hennings said he understood Eisenhower would go on the air over national radio and TV networks, possibly tonight, to explain to the people the critical situation in the Middle East and how the administration is handling it.

The White House was expected to issue a statement on the meeting later. Hennings said that this was decided upon because there were so many divergent views.

"We tried to get together on something," Hennings said, "but that wasn't have taken a week."

Nevertheless, the senator said, there was "no violent disagreement."

The session in the White House Cabinet room came to a strange finale. Normally, after such a get-together, leaders of both parties meet with reporters in the office of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

No such arrangement materialized today although newsmen had been told ahead of time that they would get a briefing from the leaders.

From the executive branch, Eisenhower brought into the meeting Secretary of State Dulles. Also with him were Vice President Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations.

Hennings said that Eisenhower didn't do a great deal of talking, himself.

"He has a bad cold, as you know," the senator said.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) asked whether any agreements were reached, told newsmen: "There were agreements and disagreements."

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, Republican House leader, and other participants said the whole field of sanctions — all kinds was discussed.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said: "A lot of people came to different conclusions. There were no commitments, but many suggestions. It was the freest discussion I ever participated in between the President and the legislative branch."

Asked whether this country still is considering sanctions, Knowland said that is a matter under discussion at the United Nations by this country as well as others.

Asked whether the odds were for or against applying economic pressure to Israel, Knowland said he wouldn't speculate on betting odds.

The Senate Republican leader said there was a full and free discussion in the meeting with the President, and that "Oh, yes sanctions were discussed."

Knowland reportedly has threatened to resign as a member of the U.S. delegation to the U.N. if the administration supports sanctions in an effort to force Israel to pull its troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

The Congressmen had virtually all taken stands earlier against sanctions.

Johnson paused on the White House threshold to restate his opposition to sanctions against Israel unless they are applied also to Egypt and Russia. But he said that while the Democratic Policy Committee supported this position unanimously yesterday, "I don't think there is any Democratic view."

"I think there's an American point of view," Johnson added.

Rain Adds Up To .5 Inch; Month's Total Reaches .85

Tuesday's drizzle added .05 inch moisture to the accumulated total for the current wet spell, the U.S. Experiment Station reported. This brought the precipitation for the period to a little over half an inch and the month's total to .85 inch.

Forecast for Big Spring a d vicinity at 11 a.m. today promised still more "light rains" and continued cloudy skies. The same pattern was foreseen for Thursday. Temperatures are expected to remain unchanged.

Across the state, weather forecasts said that the present interval of moisture is dwindling away and no additional rain was reported for Big Spring on Wednesday morning.

U. S. Experiment station said

Senate Dries Up Mid-East Speakers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate ran out of speakers on its first day of debating President Eisenhower's Middle East proposals, but leaders held today to their estimates that two weeks will be required for action.

Much of the battle is expected next week when the Senate starts consideration of changes beyond those which two committees already have recommended in Eisenhower's original proposal.

Eisenhower asked specific advance authority to use U.S. troops if necessary to help any Middle Eastern country seeking aid against overt Communist aggression, and permission to spend up to $200 million dollars of foreign aid funds for military and economic aid in the area. The House has approved his request with little change.

The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees revised his resolution to read that if the President finds it necessary, the United States "is prepared to use armed force to combat Communist aggression there. Many senators contend Eisenhower already has the troop authority he asked.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, urged passage of the amended resolution yesterday as a means of telling the Communists to "keep out" of the Middle East.

It would serve notice, he said, that aggressive communism will be opposed "not by just one man, and not by just one branch of government, but by the institutions representing the united will of the people."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said passage should make it apparent to Russia that "any aggression on her part will bring consequences which are both immediate and devastating."

Remorseful Youth Says He Killed Parents Over Auto

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A remorseful youth from Texas was in jail here today after telling officers he killed his stepfather and mother because they would not let him have a car.

"I wish I hadn't done it," said James Clifford Parks of Wichita Falls, Tex. "I want to go back (to Texas) and get it over with."

In a signed statement to Sheriff's Lt. Tom Isbell, the youth said he emptied his rifle at his stepfather and mother Saturday night when they were getting ready for bed. They were arguing, he said, because he wanted a car.

Luther E. Parks, 34, was shot 10 times, and his wife, Eunice, 33, six times. Their bodies were found in their Wichita Falls home Sunday.

Young Parks was arrested Monday night as he returned across the border from Tijuana, Mexico. Sheriff's deputies, on a routine border watch for unescorted juveniles, picked him up as a curfew violator.

He said he took $300 from under the mattress, on which his stepfather was lying, and $100 of his own. He said he left Wichita Falls about midnight Saturday and arrived here Sunday. He said he then drove to Los Angeles and returned here Monday night.

Parks gave his birth date as May 18, 1929, when he was booked in jail. However, a Wichita Falls newspaper said it had seen a photostatic copy of the youth's birth certificate which showed he was born Aug. 18, 1940.

Expert Points To Areas In Danger Of Water Shortage

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The United States is not running out of water, an expert said today, but some areas must act to prevent shortages.

The greatest danger is in the southern High Plains of Texas and New Mexico where increased well-drilling is draining an underground supply which won't be replaced for centuries, said Albert Fiedler.

Real problems also exist or threaten, he said, in Long Island, N.Y.; Miami, the Roswell basin of New Mexico; the parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa underlain by artesian sandstone; and the Yazoo delta of northwest Mississippi.

"We have no reason at this time to fear that our nation or our planet is gradually drying up," declared Fiedler, assistant chief of the U.S. Geological Survey's ground water supply branch. His paper was prepared for the American Society of Civil Engineers.

"Our national water supply is not diminishing, so far as we can ascertain, but is remaining about the same over the long term. There are wet and dry cycles ranging in length from a few years to a few decades that must be reckoned with, and less definite wet and dry trends which may have periods of 50 or 100 years or more."

In the southern High Plains, sinking of irrigation wells "has accelerated at a rate unmatched elsewhere in the nation," said Fiedler. "Each year a new record is set in the number of wells in use and quantity of water pumped." He said most of this has been in Texas.

Because the area was cut off centuries ago from the Rocky Mountains, its far as underground movement of water is concerned, large scale pumpage in the area "is to mine it out for good." He said rain is light, evaporation high, and the subsoil tight, with the result only a fraction of an inch of moisture per year penetrates.

"No one knows exactly how this

Shape Of Signs Along Highway Gives Meanings

The shape of a highway sign is as important as the words on the sign, Larson Lloyd, president of the Citizens' Traffic Commission, said today.

Lloyd, emphasizing the "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents," said that the shape of traffic signs will tell the general topic of the sign and give motorists warning of what is ahead, even before the driver gets close enough to read the signs.

There are six basic "signs of life," Lloyd said, each having a definite meaning.

Octagonal signs mean STOP. They usually are painted red with white lettering, but whatever the color, the octagonal shape designates a stop. Lloyd said this meant a full stop and urged motorists to heed the sign.

Rectangular signs have to be read to gain their meaning. They are white with black lettering and give state laws. These regulations pertain to speed limits, parking, turning, and passing. Radar warning signs are rectangular also. This shape also warns motorists against throwing trash on the highways.

A diamond-shaped sign means warning. These yellow, black-lettered signs designate school zones, curves, side roads, intersections, hills, and other unusual conditions, Lloyd said.

Here again, Lloyd said that a motorist would have to drive closer to the sign to tell the specific instructions but the shape of the marker will give warning of approaching unusual driving.

Triangular signs mean yield right-of-way and are the newest of the basic signs of life, Lloyd said. They are painted yellow with black lettering. The sign requires motorists to slow down or stop to give right-of-way to cross traffic.

"State and city traffic agencies are responsible for seeing that the proper signs, signals and markings, in the standard shapes and colors, are properly located," Lloyd said. "But drivers and pedestrians must recognize their individual responsibilities by knowing and obeying these signs of life."

Big Springers Pleased With Performance Of Ballet Troupe

A capacity crowd filled City Auditorium Tuesday evening for a taste of some of the finest culture available.

The occasion was the performance of the Chicago Opera Ballet, one of the newest — and finest — ballet troupes in the country. Presented by the Big Spring Concert Association and Howard County Junior College, the troupe presented the original Ruth Page ballets "Revenge" and "The Merry Widow."

Miss Page, a ballerina turned producer, based her ballets on the operas "Il Trovatore" by Verdi and "The Merry Widow" by Franz Lehár. The productions, as presented in Big Spring, were professional and spirited, with touches of modernity in spite of the rigid conventions of ballet. The scenery was new and well executed, although there wasn't much of it. Most of the props were too tall for the stage. Nevertheless, with the curtained backdrop of the stage, the production was the more effective for it. Miss Page has become noted for innovations which audiences usually have applauded. Some critics praise the innovations, while others get apoplexy.

Stars of the ballet were Marjorie Tallchief, Oleg Briansky, Sonia Arova, Job Sanders, Kenneth Johnson and Barbara Steele. Briansky replaced George Skibine, Miss Tallchief's husband, at the start of the present tour after Skibine suffered a leg injury. The production moved fast — not long and drawn out like the operas upon which they are based. There was little stopping of the show for showing off by individual artists such as has been known to happen when ballet companies tour the "sticks." Except for the jesters who performed between scenes in "The Merry Widow," carrying their shenanigans into the next scene. It was all a part of the production. One thing became apparent to Big Springers in the audience that is not generally known. Anyone who partakes of ballet must be athletic. And it's almost impossible to put on too much weight.

The local audience was guilty of what, back East, would be socially unforgivable — applauding too soon or at the wrong moment. Audiences aren't supposed to applaud till each performance is over, although in ballet polite applause is allowed after especially fine exhibitions by individual performers. And applause by the cast, being part of the script, is not a signal for audience applause.

The Ruth Page troupe, however, was apparently pleased at the enthusiasm — albeit unorthodox — of the audience.

Miss Tallchief had a ready-made audience. A storm of applause greeted her in "The Merry Widow," the second production, when she appeared for the first time. The audience hung on her every move, breaking into the performance spontaneously with more applause. And for good reason — she's one of the top ballerinas in the world, and her performance was evidence of that fact.

Miss Arova, however, should not be overlooked. Her mastery of the difficult art delineates her as another top ballerina. She has, besides, the capability of dramatic facial expression, a thing rare in ballet.

Briansky was not an also-ran, nor were other members of the cast. They are all professionals, and showed it.

Miss Tallchief is the daughter of a chief of the Osage tribe. Her grandfather, Chief Big Heart, who negotiated the final treaty with the United States, was wise enough to keep mineral rights for the tribal lands, so the Tallchiefs with the rest of their people have always been well off. The ballerina's mother is of Scotch-Irish extraction.

Miss Tallchief grew up in Fairfax, Okla., among her father's people. She and her sister Maria, herself a noted ballerina, learned the tribal dances and loved to take part in traditional festivals. A dance teacher spotted talent in the girls and sent them to Beverly Hills, Calif., for study. They graduated from there into ballet. Marjorie Tallchief's next step in her career will be as prima ballerina of the Paris Grand Opera. She will be the first American (as well as the first American Indian) to hold this position in the 300 years of this company's history.

Army-Guard Pact On Training Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee turned to compromise an Army-National Guard dispute over recruit training.

Subcommittee Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) said the group probably will work next week on a compromise between the Army's demand that new Guard recruits get six months active duty and the Guard's insistence that those under 18½ be required to take only 11 weeks.

Brooks indicated he has been impressed by the arguments in favor of six months training but is concerned also that "nothing be done to hurt the Guard," which says the requirement would wreck its recruiting.

The subcommittee heard one dissent from Guard ranks yesterday.

Maj. Gen. Roy Green, commander of the 49th California Guard Division, said he had instituted the six-month rule in his command and was delighted with the result.

Extension of the requirement "won't kill the Guard, it will make the Guard," he said, adding that parents are impressed by the argument that their sons would have a better chance of surviving in war if they are well trained.

He predicted an increase in enlistments, but in Sacramento, the adjutant general's office said the division showed a net loss of 107 men in January.

The compromise most spoken of now would involve a delay in the mandatory six months duty, now scheduled to apply to men enlisting April 1 or afterwards. Various plans have been suggested for giving the Guard a chance to try out its 11-week plan while using inducements short of a flat requirement to get recruits to fill out the six months. The Army also would be required to help the Guard get recruits.

2 Whites Free Under Bond In Bombing Charge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Two white men, one of whom city detectives say was photographed wearing Ku Klux Klan regalia, were free under bond today on charges of dynamiting the home of a Negro integration leader.

James D. York and Henry Alexander surrendered to Sheriff M. S. Butler yesterday after the grand jury had indicted them in the bombing.

Detectives Jack Shows and T. J. Ward said York, a road scraper operator for the city, was in a picture of a group of unmasked men in Klan robes and hoods walking on city streets shortly before a KKK rally in November.

York and Alexander are charged with the Jan. 10 dynamiting of the home of the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy. The minister's wife and young child were asleep in the house when the blast occurred. They were uninjured. Police Chief G. W. Ruppenthal said Feb. 10 that the dynamiting of Abernathy's home and at least three other blasts of the seven in Montgomery recently "were perpetrated by members of the Montgomery branch of the Ku Klux Klan."

Under Alabama law dynamiting an inhabited dwelling is punishable by death.

York and Alexander, free on bonds of $12,500 and $12,800, were expected to come up for trial May 27 or later.

They also were charged with bombing public buildings. Two other white men were arrested Sunday on similar indictments. Raymond C. Britt Jr. and Sonny Kyle Livingston Jr. are scheduled for trial Feb. 23 on charges of bombing two Negro churches and a Negro taxi stand.

The police chief said "statements of some of the accused themselves" supported his charge concerning the Klan. Neither York or his attorney would comment on the picture.

Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers said Shows provided the break in the case. He spotted some people he recognized in a car at the scene of a bombing Jan. 27 and several hours later arrested Alexander.

Alexander, who works for his father's plumbing company, was arrested in one of six ambushes with gunfire of a racially integrated city bus. No one was hurt in that attack but in another a young Negro woman was hit in both legs by a .22-caliber bullet. No serious injuries were reported in the bombings.

Wintry Air Covers U.S.

By The Associated Press
The brief spell of mild winter weather appeared ended in most of the nation today as icy fanned out across wide areas.

Sections of Florida and the Far Southwest were the only fairly warm spots in the outbreak of frigid blasts which moved out of western Canada a few days ago.

The arctic air spread eastward yesterday over the Ohio Valley and the Middle Atlantic Coast states. Temperatures were from 20 to 30 degrees lower than yesterday in parts of Kentucky and Ohio and most of West Virginia. The South also got nippy weather, with lower readings reported from southern New England to the Gulf Coast region through Alabama and Georgia. It was near freezing in Atlanta.

Blind Learn Fast

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A Red Cross instructor in first aid says 10 blind students in her class learn some techniques more quickly than those with sight. Elizabeth Judd says they learn rapidly to "tie a square knot, fold triangular bandages and perform other tasks" where touch is more important than sight.

Death For Dope Pushing Okayed

AUSTIN (AP) — The death penalty would be authorized for persons convicted of second offense narcotics peddling to persons under 19 under a bill passed in a committee of the Texas House of Representatives.

The House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee recommended approval of the bill yesterday. It now goes to the floor for action. The bill would provide a penalty from 10 years imprisonment to death for persons convicted of a second offense in peddling narcotics using minors under 19 years old or selling drugs to minors under 19.

First offense convictions would be punishable by terms of 5 years to life in the state penitentiary.

State Ends ICT Attempts At Revival, Orders Receivership

AUSTIN (AP) — The state of Texas put an end yesterday to desperation attempts by the ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas to save itself from a financial graveyard.

ICT President James G. Cage appeared before the State Board of Insurance Commissioners with a request that 10 more days be allowed to put the firm back on sound financial footing.

The request was denied by committee chairman John Osorio, who gave the committee's decision to revoke ICT's license to operate. Osorio said he would request Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to file receivership action.

An afternoon court hearing followed, at which Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts imposed a temporary restraining order and instructed state receiver J. W. Wheeler to institute receivership proceedings.

Betts placed a temporary restraining order on the insurance firm Feb. 7 at the request of the attorney general. The Insurance Commission said its examiners had found ICT "hopelessly insolvent."

The commission reported ICT owed in excess of 4 million dollars and was in debt to stockholders another 3 million.

Judge Betts said he had "no power" to grant a motion made by attorney H. M. Oster of Dallas for a continuance of the restraining order and that the company not be placed in receivership.

"To put ICT in receivership would ring the death knell for the company and its future hopes," Oster told the court. "All we ask is an opportunity to see if it can be saved," he said.

"It is not in the power of this court to do what you are asking," Judge Betts replied.

The impact of ICT's failure—the largest in Texas since U.S. Trust and Guaranty collapsed more than a year ago—was felt in the state Legislature.

Rep. Bob Sutton offered a resolution to the House Insurance Committee, calling for a special investigation of Texas insurance practices. He said he allowed it to stay in committee since its "approval of Rep. Marshall O. Bell's resolution accomplishes the same things mine would."

The Bell resolution, expected to receive floor action in the House today, would create a five man committee to report back April 1 after investigating the Board of Insurance Commissioners and especially past operations of the ICT Insurance Co.

Cage had said the ICT officials were awaiting word on an offer by an unnamed buyer to purchase controlling interest in the company. The money was to be used to pull the firm out of its financial plight.

The offer came in the form of a telegram, which was examined by the Insurance Board. The board said it had decided it was not a "firm offer."

The telegram, released by Cage to newsmen after the hearing, said: "Pioneer Fisher and Associates

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gas, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.
To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to stretch and stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.
And, of all laxatives, only COLONAD, the amazing new laxative discovery, possesses COLONAD's great moisturiz-ing capacity, plus COLONAD's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAD is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAD neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAD exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAD, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Talks With Oil Executive

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), (left), chairman of the House Commerce Commission, talks with M. J. Rathbone, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, at a committee hearing in Washington, D. C. Rathbone told congressmen the recent crude oil price increase was "long overdue" and that "we have a good case, a valid one."

FOLLOWS MIDWAY PETITION

Coahoma, Center Point Studing Consolidation

A second pair of petitions asking for an election to consolidate with the Coahoma Independent School District was on the desk of County Judge R. H. Weaver here Wednesday.

The petitions asked that the Center Point Common School District be combined with the Coahoma district. Judge Weaver said the matter was under advisement.

He previously had set the Coahoma-Midway consolidation vote for March 16.

The State Board of Education has recommended that schools have at least 500 average daily attendance (ADA) in grades 1-12 or else face the possibility of consolidation.

H. L. Miller, superintendent of schools at Coahoma, said that the Coahoma ADA was down about 6 per cent during the first semester of this year in comparison with the ADA of last year.

The Coahoma ADA for the 1955-56 school year was 460.83 and that at Midway was 94.55, yielding together a total of 555.38. Center Point, however, has an ADA of 58.86, which would push the totals of the three, were they combined, to 614.24. Coahoma ADA is down somewhat this year, for the first semester total was 434.67.

Money to provide for school operation (under the Gilmer-Akin law) is determined by the average daily attendance in school. The number of teacher units on which a school may draw state support is determined by dividing 24 (or 25, according to the size of the school) into the number which represents the average daily attendance.

For this reason, said Miller, it is doubly important that parents make every possible effort to keep children in remainder of the balance of this school year. He said the ADA decrease of 26.16 in the Coahoma district was occasioned mainly by the drought which caused several families to leave the farms.

The Department of the Air Force has requested each activity to give at least 25 per cent participation to the program. The participation rate at Webb has been 38 per cent. Officials are optimistic that the rate will grow considerably as the current drive continues through the month of February, which has been designated as "Civilian Suggestion Month."

Top cash award winner this month is Lowell D. Shortes, instrument specialist, 2560th Field Maintenance Shop. He won a total of $353 for four suggestions. Others who shared in cash awards totaling $650 were: Roy L. Holley, S. R. Lassiter, William H. Bethell, William R. Hall, and Gordon V. Williamson (three time winner). Others were: Earnest A. Richters (three awards), Howard C. Voss, Clarence V. Wicks, William H. Lindley, C. J. McNeely, William R. Smith, Pleas C. Richards, Robert L. McCullough, Mrs. E. G. Farrow, Warren A. Farrow, Hillis B. Duncan, Vernon R. Hinsley, John S. Davis, and Omer A. Williams.

Some Agencies To Observe Holiday February 22, George Washington's Birthday, is listed in the official holidays for the state of Texas but it is one of the days which are slated as optional in observance. As a result, the Howard County courthouse will not observe the day. Offices, Judge R. H. Weaver said, will be open for business as usual. The Big Spring post office and federal agencies in the town will note the date by closing their doors. Banks will not observe the holiday.

Cars Collide At Fourth, Johnson The lone accident occurring in Big Spring Tuesday involved an Ohio resident. Stroh Caldwell of Salem, O., and Bobby Hogue, 1508 E. 17th, were in collision at Fourth and Johnson. Wreckers were needed to remove both cars from the scene.

Slum Clearance Plan Outlined For City, Civic Leaders Here

A municipal "housing code" setting minimum standards of safety and sanitation for homes, is the first requirement for an effective slum clearance or "urban renewal" program, local civic leaders, builders and city and health officials were told Monday by a representative of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Jack Herrington of the regional FH&HFA office in Fort Worth spoke at a meeting arranged by the Housing Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. He explained provisions of the 1949 Taft-Ellender federal housing act and a 1954 law which added provisions for rehabilitation of old houses.

Establishment of an urban renewal program is left up to a city, but FH&HFA assistance is available once such a program is launched, he said. Federal aid is offered in the form of surveys and planning, loans to cities for acquisition and clearance of land and low-cost, long-term loans to individuals for construction of new homes or for bringing old dwellings up to "decent, safe and sanitary" standards.

To start a program and qualify for the planning assistance, loans and grants, a city must first prepare what the FH&HFA calls a "workable program," Herrington said. This must include either a housing code or evidence that a housing code is being adopted, he explained.

Herrington, a native of Mitchell County, said the federal assistance is provided only upon request of the local community, and that control of renewal projects is left strictly in local hands. Ownership of new or rehabilitated homes is left to individuals.

In outlining the federal urban renewal program, Herrington pointed out that 20 per cent of the residential areas of U. S. cities is comprised of slum and blighted districts. A third of the population lives in these areas, which account for 45 per cent of the nation's crime, 55 per cent of juvenile delinquency, 60 per cent of tuberculosis, 80 per cent of other diseases and 35 per cent of fires. Cities spent 45 per cent of their tax money providing essential services to these areas, and in return receive only six per cent of their tax revenues from the blight areas, he said. "As long as we make slum ownership profitable, we'll have them," Herrington declared. He said the 1949 slum clearance act, widely used in the east, failed because it contained no provisions for rehabilitation or renewal of old houses. The new law, he said, provides for renewal of existing homes that can be rehabilitated and for elimination of those that can't be brought up to minimum standards.

Safe Driving Essays Due By Friday

Although no essays have been turned over to the Citizens' Traffic Commission, the organization reported that junior and senior students are asking for additional information on safe driving.

James Eubanks, CTC executive secretary, said that he would not pick up any essays until after Friday — the deadline for completing the reports.

The CTC safety essay contest is divided into two categories, junior high and senior high. Trophies will be given for first and second place essays in each class, Eubanks said. Security State Bank is donating the trophies, he said.

Students are to write essays on any phases of driving which concern them personally. Length is between 200 and 500 words.

English teachers in each school will grade the papers for grammar and punctuation and then CTC officers will make the final decisions. In junior high, the driver education teachers will aid the English teachers in checking the papers.

Eubanks said that students in both schools have been asking for additional information about safety and good-driving habits, which indicated an interest in the contest. All essays must be turned in by Friday afternoon.

Start Early For This Career

This is National Engineers' Week, and accordingly professional engineers of West Central Texas and their guests will banquet tonight at the Wooten Hotel as their contribution to the national observance. There are almost as many kinds of engineers as there are human needs and wants to be fulfilled. No segment of our modern civilization could get along without them. They have made substantial contributions to every phase and facet of our great American progress—industry, agriculture, chemistry, highways, water development, mining, city-building and almost anything else you could mention, including hospitals, schools and the design of our homes and all the furniture and gadgets that go into them. This year it is being brought home to us that we are running a poor second to the only power on earth we have reason to fear—Russia—in the development of engineering talent. The Russians are out-running us at a frightening rate in the education and training of engineers and scientists in general, mainly because the Russians start with boys and girls in the lowest grades and continue with them through postgraduate courses in the specialties, including free tuition and board all the way, with an assured future to attract them. To become a good engineer, we are told, a boy or girl must start early in their pursuit of the necessary groundwork—in the primary grades, if possible. It requires a high degree of intelligence and determined devotion to its exacting standards.

In a generation that is looking for the quickest and easiest way to sheepskin, the engineering profession does not have a natural appeal to most youngsters. But a way must be found to search out and tap for careers in some phase of engineering a sufficient number of youths to guard against disaster to our future as a free nation.

Difference In Invitations

The Greek and Turkish governments, which had begun to loosen between them over Cyprus, jointly concocted a program to be run in Athens and Ankara next month in observance of the tenth anniversary of the Greek-Turkish aid program.

That aid program is known as the Truman Doctrine, which offered the first effective opposition to Soviet Russia's post-war march to power by infiltration and coercion and paved the way for similar programs in Western Europe.

What more natural than that Greece and Turkey should invite the author of the Truman Doctrine over to help them celebrate? So, at the instigation of the celebrants, Secretary Dulles passed the invitation on to President Eisenhower, who approved it at once, and Mr. Truman was so advised. At week's end Mr. Truman declined the invitations to attend the ceremonies as guest of honor on the ground of previous commitments. Text of the Truman declination was not immediately released either by him or the State Department, but a State spokesman said: "This is a source of regret to both the President and the secretary of state and it must be to the governments of Greece and Turkey."

Mr. Truman had approved the Eisenhower-Mideast aid proposition, but in a speech at Miami last week, he left no doubt that he considered it too long delayed, and termed it "too little and too late."

Naturally there will be considerable discussion and speculation as to Mr. Truman's rejection of the invitation, since his foes would hardly accept his "previous commitments" as the real reason. But he might feel that an acceptance would commit himself somehow to the Eisenhower program in the Mideast, come what may, and tie his hands in case he wished to criticize that program and its operation later on.

Some are already saying that Mr. Truman was ruffled because he would, in effect, be traveling as a private citizen without the dignity of an official commission of any kind. He could also feel that the invitation came to him second hand, a point the State Department comment on his refusal made definitely clear. There is a difference in being asked to go simply because the Greeks and Turks asked for him, and in being directly entrusted with a mission of high diplomatic importance on the President's own motion.

Brownell Qualifies For Supreme Court

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has an interesting dilemma on his hands in filling the vacancy on the Supreme Court of the United States caused by the retirement of Justice Stanley Reed. Shall the President again appoint someone with judicial experience? Shall he select a man with experience as a practicing lawyer? Shall he select someone from the Middle West, as is being suggested, because no one who hails from the region now is on the highest court?

Two of these categories fit Attorney General Herbert Brownell. He is an able lawyer with many years of successful practice before the courts and he was born and brought up in Lincoln, Nebraska, and is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. President Eisenhower already has appointed to the Supreme Court two men with judicial experience and is reported, therefore, to be leaning toward the nomination of Attorney General Brownell because of his wide knowledge of federal legal problems.

President also can be cited for appointing an attorney general. More than ten per cent of all the Justices appointed to the Supreme Court from its inception have served first in the Department of Justice.

President Jackson appointed Attorney General Roger Taney in 1826 to be Chief Justice.

President Buchanan appointed Attorney General Nathan Clifford in 1853 to be Associate Justice.

President McKinley appointed Attorney General Joseph McKenna in 1897 to be Associate Justice.

President Theodore Roosevelt appointed Attorney General William H. Moody in 1904 to be Associate Justice.

President Wilson appointed Attorney General J. C. McReynolds in 1913 to be Associate Justice.

President Coolidge appointed Attorney General Harlan F. Stone in 1925 to be Associate Justice and President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed him in 1941 to be Chief Justice.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed Attorney General Frank Murphy in 1940 and Attorney General Robert H. Jackson in 1941 to be Associate Justices.

President Truman appointed Attorney General Tom C. Clark in 1949 to be Associate Justice.

Another instance that really belongs in the same class was the appointment of Solicitor General Stanley Reed in 1938 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This adds up to ten justices out of the entire 90 that have served since 1789 but in the last 100 years the percentage of appointees from the Department of Justice has been 16 per cent and in the last 50 years it has gone up to more than 22 per cent.

The main reason why Presidents have inclined frequently to the idea of appointing an attorney general is that this official more than any other man in the federal government usually has a grasp of all the legal problems confronting the government. Thus in the last four years Attorney General Brownell has had to weigh the merits of disputes in every controversial field ranging from anti-trust to civil rights. He brings to his present post an experience gained in five terms in the legislature of the state of New York with its variety of state problems. He also has acquired during his term as attorney general a specialized knowledge of the difficulties growing out of the congestion in the federal courts.

Judicial experience is helpful but most presidents have chosen to look to men in other branches of public life—either attorneys-general or governors or senators or members of the House of Representatives with a background of law practice—though President Franklin D. Roosevelt seemed to favor law school professors.

Virtually all the men who came from the Department of Justice, though without previous experience on the federal bench, have made good as Supreme Court justices. Roger Taney was one of the great chief justices in history, and Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone will rank high, too, as his decisions are put in the perspective of time. Few lawyers will dissent from the statement that Justice Jackson was a truly able judge and that Justice Stanley Reed made a significant record.

Attorney General Brownell is 53 years old. He is regarded as fair-minded and objective. From the days when he was editor-in-chief of the Law Journal at Yale Law School, an honor that comes usually to a high standing student, he has been deeply devoted to the basic principles of modern law with little tendency to stray toward the adventurous school of thought in constitutional interpretation. His ardent advocacy before Congress of broader legislation in the field of "civil rights" may hurt him with some of the Southern Democrats but this would be offset by the votes he would get for that very reason from the "liberal" Democrats.

He would, of course, receive the solid support of the Republicans and, if nominated, would be confirmed.

Actor Turns Rancher

DENVER, Colo. — George (Pete) Morrison, once the idol of western movies in the silent film days, is now a Jefferson County rancher.

Morrison admits he gets quite a kick out of television but never goes to the movies any more.

"They run some of my stuff on TV once in awhile," Morrison says.

Before he became a star, Morrison was a stunt man and double for some of the biggest names in silent films, including William S. Hart, Harry Carey, Hoot Gibson, Wallace and Noah Beery, Ramon Navarro and Reginald Denny.

Morrison appeared in more than 125 westerns and serials during two decades of silent movie-making.

MILWAUKEE — Jan. 24th has become a day to remember in the William S. Sear family.

On that day in 1947, a daughter, Mrs. Betsy Gabriel, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., gave birth to a son.

A year later another daughter, Mrs. Eunice Kubash, Milwaukee, became the mother of a son.

And last Jan. 24, a third daughter, Mrs. Jeanne Brekke, Milwaukee, also had a son.

Ike-Congress Meeting Is An Encore

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's meeting with congressional leaders today is an encore. He met with them 51 days ago on the same problem: the Middle East. In that time the problem has deepened.

So has confusion over this country's thinking on the Middle East, including Israel. For 51 days the administration — or, rather, Secretary of State Dulles — has talked almost continually on the Middle East.

In that time the cherished Democratic-Republican bipartisanship on foreign policy has been badly split. And Dulles has been treated to the most angry Democratic criticism of his four years in office, even to being called a "liar."

If Dulles had talked less, and more to the point, there would now be a clearer understanding at home and abroad of what the administration has in mind on the Middle East in general and Israel in particular.

Instead of letting Democratic congressional leaders be the first to know of the program and tell how they felt, the administration — meaning Dulles' State Department — "leaked" it to a newspaper Dec. 28.

Democrats have indicated since they consider this an attempt to build up public pressure on them for approval before Eisenhower ever asked for their views. His program was a three-in-one package: He wanted congressional approval for:

Huge economic aid to the Middle East, although he'll get it, and how and why, is not clear; gifts of arms to certain Middle Eastern countries; and use of American armed forces to stop Communist aggression in the area.

There followed many days of testimony by Dulles and other administration officials before congressional committees, publicly and behind closed doors. In all he said Dulles followed one consistent line: vagueness. It irritated Democrats.

The House has approved the program. The Senate, starting debate on it this week, will probably put some strings on it.

Meanwhile, something else had been happening. Israel had ignored the United Nations' demand that it quit territory claimed by Egypt, contending it first must have guarantees against Egyptian attack.

The Arab members of the U.N. were getting set to ask for sanctions against Israel for defying the world organization.

But the U.N. has not even considered sanctions against a big power — Russia — which ignored the U.N. demand that it get out of Hungary.

Edging Up To The 46 Mark

NEW YORK — When a man isn't 45 years old — or naturally, whether he is — he leaves an area of doubt.

Life is just about to settle this area for me.

Tomorrow will destroy the doubt. I'll be a year older. Will I feel 99 years old? Will I feel like 19 years old, when I went in for college wrestling — middleweight champ, night hours, educational. Or will I feel like two years old when I still insisted on autographing diapers?

The thing I am sure of is that I won't feel like 45, which I won't be.

Who am I? Where did I come from? Where do I want to go? When I was a child I looked into a mirror and asked myself these questions. There was none to give me answer. Now again, after the trouble of many years of living, I ask the same question. The answer is the same.

I walk the walls of this world — as every man must — and I see no security except the courage to walk and defend these walls.

What does a man learn while walking . . . When he isn't 45? He has seen so many tomple from the wall of this world from pride, envy, malice and hate that he knows that for these reasons — and other reasons — they no longer walk.

But in his walk along the wall he also misses many he met along the way — from kindergarten to Korea and beyond — who he treasured and who had every ability except how to escape death. Some didn't try. Some did. In any case frost changed and held them.

When a man isn't 45 years old, where is he?

He naturally wonders — since the law doesn't guarantee he won't be 55 or 105 — who will walk the walls of this world if he should no longer walk them, as in time he won't.

Will they be his kin? Will they stand upright? If they are strangers, will they walk taller?

Will the wall he walked and defended be as high as he thought? Or just a hurdle or a careless step for the people of tomorrow?

These are merely a few of the thoughts of a man who has spent most of his life not being 45 years old.

Wonder what the world looks like to a fellow on his 46th birthday? Tell you tomorrow.

Indians Caused More Fuss Dead Than As Living

LAKE JACKSON, Tex. — The blade of a road grader uncovered the grave of six Indians here recently. The Redskins caused more excitement in death than they probably ever did while living.

The Indians were discovered in this city's very back yard on the shore of Lake Jackson.

Skeleton remains of the Indians, who apparently lived around here 500 to 1,000 years ago, were found by a road grader deepening the ditch of Lake Road. The bones were carefully excavated by members of the Gulf Coast Archeological Society.

Raymond Walley, society president, and an amateur archeologist of considerable note, assisted by John Stark and the road grader, actually discovered the mummified grave.

Preliminary excavation disclosed a well-preserved skull.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — One of the coldest spots in the United States is here in a laboratory at the University of Virginia. Minus 450 degrees Fahrenheit is not unusual.

Dr. John W. Stewart induces temperatures close to absolute zero with liquid hydrogen or helium under fantastic pressure and then examines the effect of the temperature and pressure on certain solids.

His research is of value to astronomers making calculations on the theory that the interiors of the planets Jupiter and Saturn may be made up of solid hydrogen or helium.

"The pressures applied are as much as 20,000 times the normal sea level pressure of the earth's atmosphere."

Mealtime Shifts

TULSA, Okla. — A police dog here gave birth to 10 puppies — five male and five female — which created a feeding problem.

At feeding time, the mother dog nudges the females close to her while feeding off the boy dogs. When she is sure the girls have had enough she pushes them aside and lets in the boys.

Smart Skunk

WADENA, Sask. — The cookies had all gone, but a well-worn path gave a clue to Mrs. E. Lohar, who had placed a big stack out on the porch. The cookies had been carried away, one by one, by a skunk active in the mild spell. The trail led to a skunk's den.

Around The Rim

It May Need A 'Tune-Up'

Every part of the human body is a marvel—a miracle. In this electro-chemical machine which is our body, one must stand in awe of the wonders of even the smallest muscle or cell. How much greater is our wonderment at the functioning of the vital organs?

Since this is "heart month," perhaps a few facts about the heart might stir our appreciation for this marvelous organ. It is all too easy to over-simplify, especially when all you know is what little you read on the subject. But here goes.

The heart is essentially a pump. Actually, it is two pumps in one—left and right. Each of the vertical halves is divided into two parts, the upper being the auricle and the lower being the ventricle. There is an opening between these two chambers, but a valve controls the progress of the blood from the auricle to the ventricle. Nerve impulses (which naturally are purely automatic in the sense that no thought processes are required to send the message) activate the muscles of the heart so that it sort of squeezes itself. This forces out the blood. Valves close behind each lot of blood so that it cannot get back into the heart and thus must complete the cycle of circulation.

The process of squeezing out the blood and relaxing so that more is drawn in averages about 3 of a second. Actually there are a couple of infinitesimal pauses in the process during which the heart "rests" and feeds itself. During bodily exertion or excitement, the tempo of action is stepped up to meet the demands. One half of the heart receives blood from the body and pumps it to the lungs where some of the wastes are thrown off and oxygen taken on. The fresh blood is returned to the other half of the heart which forces it into the aorta and on its way over the body.

It has to be strong to fulfill its mission of pumping every drop of blood to body tissues and back once every minute. The marvel of the heart is that it doesn't break down easier and more often. In our day and time the demands and strains we place upon it do cause an increasing number of failures or falters, when this happens — our doctors, who thanks to research have developed some wonderful instruments and techniques for finding out what the trouble is—set about prescribing a course which most frequently will lead to recovery. While they are constantly performing more near-miracles in surgery on the heart itself, they mainly prescribe courses which will let this remarkable pump repair itself.

Most of us wouldn't think of running our automobiles over long periods of time without getting a mechanical check. It makes good sense to let our doctors check over this ingenious pump occasionally—and more frequently as we grow older.

The Gallup Poll

Public's Ideas On Public Salaries

PRINCETON, N. J. — If it were left to the American public to write the pay checks, the salary for a high school teacher would be set at $5,000 a year and for a member of the House of Representatives it would be $10,000 a year.

There is a sharp differentiation in the public's mind in the abilities required for a Congressman and those of a president of a $10 million business firm. The public thinks the business executive should be paid $32,500 a year.

To get the public's views on what people in different jobs SHOULD earn today, regardless of the existing pay scale, the Gallup Poll has just completed a nationwide survey covering 10 occupations. They range all the way from a baby-sitter to a big business executive.

When the replies from people living in all sections of the country, in big cities, small towns and rural areas, and representing all walks of life are added up, here is the median average salary the public would pay:

- Carpenter — $2.50 an hour.
- Garage mechanic — $2.00 an hour.
- Day laborer — $1.50 an hour.
- Baby-sitter — $.75 an hour.
- Stenographer — $3,000 a year.
- Department store clerk — $3,000 a year.
- Policeman — $4,500 a year.
- High school teacher — $5,000 a year.
- U. S. Representative — $10,000 a year.
- President of $10 million firm — $32,500 a year.

Obviously, the average salary figure varies considerably from region to region and from city to city. For example, the average hourly rate set by the public for a carpenter is $2.50 an hour in every section of the country except the South where it is put at $2.00 an hour.

Whereas people in the East, Midwest and Far West say a high school teacher should earn $5,000 a year, those living in the South put the figure at $4,000 a year. The range of wages and salaries for the various occupations also shows some surprises.

Take the case of the baby-sitter. The survey finds 7 per cent who say they should be paid $5.00 an hour or less. On the other hand, 5 per cent think they should be paid $12.50 an hour or more.

While one person in eight (12 per cent) puts the yearly salary of a $10 million firm president at $12,000 or less, about the same number (13 per cent) say he should earn $100,000 or more.

The survey also finds that only about one person in twelve (8 per cent) would pay a Congressman the $22,500 annual salary he now receives. About the same number (9 per cent) would pay a U. S. Representative $5,000 a year or less.

The public's views on what a member of the House of Representatives should be paid demonstrate the public relations problem which faces Congress.

Previous Institute surveys have shown that, although many students of government claim that higher salaries for Congressmen might make service in Congress more attractive to able citizens, the idea of raising Congressional pay always gets a cool reception from the people back home.

Members of Congress voted a pay increase from $15,000 to $22,500 a year as of March 1, 1955.

The survey question: "Regardless of what people in these different jobs get around here, do you think they SHOULD earn, training and other things considered?"

WHAT THE PUBLIC WOULD PAY:

- Baby-sitter — $7.50 an hour
- Day laborer — $1.50 an hour
- Garage mechanic — $2.00 an hour
- Carpenter — $2.50 an hour
- Stenographer — $3,000 a year
- Department store clerk — $3,000 a year
- Policeman — $4,500 a year
- High school teacher — $5,000 a year
- Congressman — $10,000 a year
- President $10 million firm — $32,500 a year

Disposing Of The Royal-Rift Gossip

Yes, Virginia, it is true that I was in England last month ago. Yes, Virginia, it is likewise true that in almost two weeks in the tight, royal household I never heard one single, solitary whisper indicating that Her Majesty and the Duke of Edinburgh were p-f-f-f-ing, feuding or at odds.

No, Virginia, my reportorial face is not red as a beet, because if such news was or is "common gossip" in England, I am sure my British friends aren't common gossips.

Oh, yes, I heard plenty of other gossip about the royal family, but none indicating that the royal marital bark had pilled up on the shoals. No one can be in England more than 10 minutes without hearing all about life and times in Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, Sandringham or wherever the royal family happens to be at the moment.

There are no washboard weepers on the British radio or television for the simple reason that the royal family is the glittering, all-absorbing soap opera of the nation. Let Bonnie Prince Charlie refuse to eat his breakfast cereal and by 10 a.m. all the English are proudly chuckling because the heir to the throne is behaving just like the average, high-spirited eight-year-old.

For 20 years I have marveled at the grapevine, faster than the speed of light, that brings to the British public all the intimate details of palace life.

For instance, last month I heard that Princess Anne is a chip off the ear of Aunt Margaret, her Great Uncle David (Duke of Windsor), and a throwback, mayhap, to that spirited monarch, Edward VII, who was her great-great-grandfather.

There was a bit of head-shaking over some of Princess Margaret's companions and more and more alarmed speculation that she may never marry. The British want their pretty Princess to marry, but there are fewer and fewer eligible young men every year for the good and sufficient reason that the eligibles continually marry someone else.

Oh, yes, and everyone agreed that the Queen Mother ought to take off a few pounds and control her appetite for sweets, a public agreement that was reached at least 15 years ago.

The British preoccupation with its royal family is nothing less than phenomenal. No other soap opera can touch it in duration and public popularity. As long as there is a royal family, no Englishman will ever lack for small talk.

But the fact remains that last month I never heard so much as a whisper that there was a rift in the royal household. It is obvious and bold man. He is also beginning to lose his hair, honey, right at the lower-case crown.

But it seems to me that it would take a man with a leonine and suicidal disregard for danger to cavort off the reservation when his wife is in command of one of the greatest detective agencies in the world, Scotland Yard.

So I am prepared to go on believing, until there is more concrete evidence than "common gossip," that the royal difficulties — if any — are no more serious than those that afflict the dramatics personae of any other soap opera.

Save Money On Generators

Albert Pettus, owner of Pettus Electric, 202 1/2 Benton, offers some advice that can save money for automobile and truck owners. Be sure your vehicle's voltage regulator is properly adjusted. The advice also applies to voltage regulators on stationary power plants. Improper adjustment of a regulator can cause a generator to "burn" itself out, resulting in expensive repairs.

Pettus recommends that voltage regulators be checked periodically to assure proper operation. Contact points on the regulator coils are the critical items, and care must be exercised to assure that the surfaces always are in perfect condition and that tension on the spring controlling their function is precisely correct. Let the spring become too tight or surface on one of the points become pitted and the resulting loss of contact on the generator will cause its destruction. For equipment which constantly requires generator operation under heavy load, Pettus has the well-known Leese-Neville high-output generating equipment which time and again has proved to be a money-saver for owners of trucks or stationary engines which must provide current for operation of radios, frequent starting or other heavy battery loads.

City, Ideal Firms Solve Spring Laundry Problems

This part of the state is now moving nearer to that season of the year when strong winds and choking dust are more likely to be present than absent. March is infamous for its bad days—the kind of days when milady cannot possibly do the family wash. Trouble is—the days often come one after another. This means that the problem of getting the family laundry in shape is likely to become pretty serious. Most wise women in Big Spring anticipate this season and are prepared to cope with it well before the sandstorm days appear. They have long since tried the fine laundry service offered by the City Laundry and Dry Cleaning establishment at 121 West First and Ideal Laundry and Dry Cleaning at 401 Rannels.

'Resizing' Cotton Garment

Roy Cornelison, owner of Cornelison Cleaners, Tenth and Johnson, sprays a special, patented fluid on a cotton garment as part of his resizing service which restores the material to an original, crisp condition. The fluid and skilled processing by personnel at Cornelison's takes the limpness out of cotton garments of all kinds. It is much better than starch for returning the "body" to cotton fibers. It leaves none of the stain common to starch preparations. Cornelison provides drive-in accommodations and speedy service at his location at Tenth and Johnson.

which means the best possible of all drycleaning. When March rolls around with its dust and wind don't worry about doing your own laundry. Send it to the Ideal Laundry or to the City Laundry and the job's done. In a few minutes one of the pickup trucks parks in front of the house. A courteous driver rings the door bell. In a matter of minutes the laundry is on its way—sandstorm or no sandstorm. In a day or two it's back—beautifully done and ready for wear or use. The housewives know that the cost is not great and that the relief from coping with the endless fretting over whether the weather is suitable for laundry or not is gone. Most women too send along their dry cleaning at the same time they send the laundry. Both the City and Ideal are famous for the quality and efficiency of their dry cleaning service. They feature the renowned Sanitone system

Jones Has Faith In City's Future

A business which has grown and prospered with Big Spring and whose owner-manager, Relfer Jones, believes in the city's future is the Jones Humble Service Station, situated at Fourth and Scurry streets. Although the concern curtails its 'day' slightly on Sunday, Jones keeps the business open seven days a week in order to cater to the needs of the Big Spring motoring public. Jones himself has spent practically his entire adult life in his present type of work. His concern specializes in the washing and greasing of automobiles. If your vehicle is coming up for that change of crankcase oil, the place to take it is the Jones Humble Service Station. Employees of the establishment can advise you on the weight and grade oil your car needs, if you are in doubt. Jones Service Station is located so near the business district in downtown Big Spring, you will find you can accomplish two missions in one on a trip to the concern. You can accomplish a shopping chore, for most of the stores are within easy walking distance of the station, at the same time you are having your car serviced. Jones keeps a pickup truck handy in order to offer emergency service to any vehicle whose owner is stranded within the immediate vicinity. Jones also stocks a limited amount of automotive accessories and can order your tires and tubes for you at a saving. If you need a flat fixed, a road map or even your windshield cleaned, the place to stop is the Relfer Jones Service Station. Located as it is in Big Spring, it is a favorite stopping place for tourists and local trade, as well.

Safety Built In Seiberling Tire

The tire of tomorrow is here today. At Creighton Tire Company. The newest of the new is Seiberling Rubber Company's Sealed-Aire nylon tubeless tire, which is built for safety. It tops the list of Seiberling products available at Creighton's Tire shop, at 203 West Third. The new Sealed-Aire tire has been proved by dramatic tests at Daytona Beach and Silver Springs, Fla., to be the world's finest tire. It sealed punctures of torturous knives, piercing bullets, cougar-killing arrows, and other conditions which would never be encountered in a million miles of normal driving. Feature by feature the tire has no equal:

- 1. Small compartments or "bulks" built into the crown of the tire cover the full tread area and contain Seiberling's exclusive sealant. These bulkheads prevent flowing and shifting of the material, assuring maximum puncture-sealing effectiveness.
- 2. The Seiberling exclusive "factory balance" system guarantees perfect balance for the life of the Sealed-Aire tire. The "bulkhead" construction helps maintain this factory balance.
- 3. The tire's heat vents provide an escape route for internally generated heat, thus "air conditioning" the tire.
- 4. There are more cords per inch in the Seiberling Sealed-Aire than any other puncture-sealing tubeless. This means a stronger, safer tire, and greater protection against blowouts.
- 5. An extra layer of nylon cord fabric under the tread cushions the tire against shock and bruises.

Crocodile Hunting On The Nile No Sport For The Faint-Hearted

By E. A. JONES
KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—The huge swamps of central Uganda, where the Nile meanders through jungles of 10-foot papyrus and huge beds of floating weed, are a paradise for crocodile hunters. Africans in the area do a flourishing trade in crocodile skins. Last year about 3,500 skins ended up as shoes and handbags in fashionable stores in America and Europe.

There are several methods of crocodile hunting. Shooting is no good, as a dead crocodile sinks like a stone and by time it floats again the skin is ruined. One method is to fish with a meat hook on a wire hawser. The hook is inserted in an inflated pig's bladder, which is set adrift. The croc snaps at the appetizing looking object and gets a mouthful of air and a meat hook in its gullet.

ADVENTURES OF A HUNTER
More exciting and spectacular is harpooning crocodiles from a canoe by torchlight at night. I've sampled it.

Preparations were simple. Harpoon points were sharpened and fitted with loose wooden shafts to float free when the barb had gone home. A length of wire with a float at the end was attached to the harpoon head. Powerful flash-lamps and a couple of meat choppers completed the hunting kit.

A shock awaited us at the landing place, where our African hunters produced their canoes. Heavy, hollowed out tree trunks, the ancient dugouts rose only about four inches above the water and threatened to roll under at the slightest movement. Water trickled and splashed through cracks in the sides.

The water was dark and smelly, and a pallid marsh-glow showed where opened channels wandered through acres of weed. Despite severe misgivings, we climbed aboard and wobbled away from the bank. Sebi, my harpooner, swept his torch over the swamp. Floating weeds gleamed silver-green in its beam. Nameless swirls and splashes rippled the surface as the light passed.

The beam of light steadied when twin red lights glowed and flickered from a black mass of papyrus roots. "Gonya," breathed Sebi. He kept the torch trained on the red gleam of the crocodile's eyes as the paddler swung the canoe and sent it gliding forward. As we crept nearer the horny black ridge of the crocodile's spine shone wetly above the surface. Its fat body showed green-gray in the halo of light which spread under the water. I leaned out for a better view.

CROCODILE RETREATS
The red lights flicked off, the water swirled softly and there was a faint rustle among the papyrus stalks. Sebi cursed in Arabic. "When you leaned out the gonya saw there was something big behind the torch and took fright," he explained. "Gonya," breathed Sebi. He kept the torch trained on the through the swamps. Twice more crocodiles' eyes glowed red in the torch beam, but each time they swirled beneath the surface before we could get within striking distance. One of the other canoes was luckier. It ran into a pack of young crocodiles and bagged two. "Only small crocodiles left now," said Sebi sadly as we headed for home. "They frightened of light. Too bad big one didn't stay to fight, then—zup!—we get him."

His confidence in his crazy craft was reassuring, but it still looked like a floating coffin to me. I couldn't help feeling that if we had tangled with a big croc this never would have been written.

U. S. Chamber Sees No Need Of Classrooms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said today there is no critical national shortage of classrooms, and that it regards federal aid for school construction "unwise and unnecessary."

The chamber position was presented to a House Education subcommittee by Thomas A. Ballantine of Louisville, Ky., chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Education.

He said in prepared testimony: "It is the consensus of business in this country that the states and their communities are responsible for, and able to finance the development of the school systems required by their citizens."

Federal help he said, "would lead inevitably to the transformation of public education from a state and local function to one increasingly directed by the federal government."

"No critical national shortage in classrooms has been or can be demonstrated to exist," he said.

The House committee has before it an administration bill which would provide for $1,200,000,000 in federal aid for school construction over the next four years. Other proposals also are under committee consideration.

Ballantine said a report by the U.S. Office of Education states 63,000 new classrooms were built in the year ending last fall. About 49,000 of these would have taken care of the report's estimated enrollment increase of a million and its estimated figure of 14,000 for abandoned classrooms, Ballantine said.

That, he added, leaves a surplus of 14,000 classrooms for "pupils in excess of enrollment capacity."

Judge Never Misses An Angle

DALLAS (AP)—Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson is known as a man with a legal mind that never misses an angle.

Yesterday while lining up a civil jury with several prospective female jurors, Atty. Leslie Jackson asked Davidson: "Your honor, I'd like to ask each of these ladies what her husband's occupation is."

"Go right ahead," grinned the judge, "but don't you think it would be smart to find out if they're married first?"

European Nations Agree On Trade

PARIS (AP)—Top leaders of six West European nations today agreed on treaties providing for eventual abandonment of trade barriers among them and creation of an atomic pool.

Emerging from the final session of a three-day conference, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau told newsmen, "There was complete agreement and you will soon have a communique to prove it."

Pineau said the treaties would be signed in Rome "as soon as possible" but that no date had been fixed. Once signed, they would have to win final approval from the parliaments of the six nations—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The French minister said experts now would put the pacts into final textual form along the lines agreed on at the current meeting.

Disagreements which threatened the revolutionary plan were overcome in an intensive all-day meeting yesterday of the premiers and foreign ministers.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, prime mover of the plans for a common market and the "Euratom" agency, stayed up most of the night editing the last day's work.

Under the common market plan the six nations of some 160 million people would do away with the customs and tariff barriers among them over a trial period of 2 to 17 years. At the same time they would work toward establishment of a unified tariff system on im-

Backers Of Runoff Bill Hold Off Attempts At Debate Vote

By JERRY MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Backers of the controversial Pool Bill decided not to attempt another vote to bring the measure up for debate Wednesday in the state Senate.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood said he would pass up an opportunity to get another vote on the measure, which failed by three votes to get the necessary two-thirds majority needed to bring it up for debate Monday.

"We are just going to hold it awhile and let the people back home realize the importance of this piece of legislation," Hazlewood said. "Perhaps after a while more of the senators will feel they should support the principle of majority rule as this bill calls for."

The bill, by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas, would require a runoff between the top two candidates in the Senate election if no candidate polls a majority over all his opponents. It is supported by Democrats who fear the lone Republican in the race could win without getting a majority over his combined opposition. There are nine candidates in the race and Democrats fear their votes, although in the majority, might be split among this field.

The Pool Bill would have been at the top of the Senate calendar Wednesday because of its emergency tag by Gov. Price Daniel.

But Hazlewood said if it is laid out by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, "I'll just say I'm not ready."

Thad Hutcheson of Houston, the lone GOP candidate, a bitter foe of the Pool Bill, was campaigning in the San Angelo area. He planned a speech in San Angelo after visiting near Eldorado, where he and his brothers have an interest in a farming operation.

Two other candidates were busy with campaign plans Tuesday. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White visited his 65-year-old father at Wichita Falls to "get his advice on how best to conduct my campaign for the U.S. Senate."

He described his father, Ed White, as "a dirt farmer with more sense than anybody I know."

White planned to meet Wednesday with supporters in Amarillo. James Hart of Austin, former Supreme Court justice, outlined a six-point plan "to strengthen America's security" in a press statement issued Tuesday.

"I find everywhere in Texas that people are interested in the problem of security. The Houston and Gulf Coast industrial area would be a primary target if war should come," Hart's statement said. His plan includes keeping a strong armed service, adopting a firm foreign policy and encouraging the study of foreign affairs. It also called for an agreement on atomic energy, encouraging decentralization of industry and strengthening of civil defense program.

New Medicine Receives Praise
R-12 For Arthritis Helps Coahoma Woman

To my Friends and Loved Ones:
This is my first time to write a testimonial about any kind of medicine, but this Citru-Mix has helped me so much that I want to tell others who suffer from that dreadful thing called rheumatism.

I had it, rheumatism, arthritis or lumbago, or whatever you call it all over my body. It would be in my right shoulder then jump to my back or hip. It seemed that it would play around over my body. It has been in my toes, eyes and teeth. I would have to go to bed and quit, but not often as I am a mother of five children. I have been in hospitals and have come to Mineral Wells and Marlin, Texas.

Citru-Mix was recommended to me by a neighbor and I took three bottles. I got relief in less than two hours after the first dose. That has been ten months ago and I have not had one ounce of trouble since then. I want you to try just one bottle if you have suffered as I have.

I have written this letter with my own free will and no one has paid me one cent for it. You may use it as you wish for advertising purposes.

Army Buddies Aid To Cupid

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Childhood sweethearts Howard Brenne and Dawn Merchant exchange marriage vows today with the groom's Army buddies giving Cupid a big assist.

The 22-year-old Brenner is a private first class in the 156th Transport Company stationed at Camp Leroy Johnson.

He and his 19-year-old bride had prepared for the ceremony with no best man, no flowers, no music, no friends. They felt lonely 1,000 miles from their Akron, Ohio, homes.

But Lt. Roscoe Hope, commander of Brenne's company, heard about the ceremony and moved into action.

Plans called for Hope to walk down the aisle with Dawn and platoon leaders Lt. Paul Muller and Lt. Norman McNeill to serve as ushers. Capt. Robert Bauman will sing "B-a-u-a-e" and "Through the Years" and Capt. Walter Dickey's 7-year-old daughter was appointed flower girl.

The little chapel will be filled with the 121 men of Brenner's company.

"It's wonderful," said the bride. "This is just like the little church at home."

No Breakfast
SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Mrs. Gwendolyn Kelly, 35, got a divorce today after telling the court she returned to her apartment two days early from a vacation and a woman in bed with her husband ordered bacon and eggs. The woman, Mrs. Kelly said, had mistaken her for the maid.

Jayhawks Upend Amarillo Badgers In Zone Battle

Locals Fight For 2nd Spot

A down-trodden HCJC basketball team rose in fury against the Amarillo College Badgers to register a 52-43 victory here Tuesday night and climb right back into the scrap for second place in the West Zone standings.

Coch Harold Davis changed up his defenses against the Badgers, with gratifying results. He had his boys playing a tight zone and the visitors found that they had to go upstairs for points, which they couldn't do very well.

The Badgers led only once during the game. That was with 8:50 gone in the second half, when Robert Dickson put them ahead at 30-29 with a field goal.

The Amarillos looked especially bad on free pitches for the first 27 minutes of play, failed to connect a single time in six attempts. They hit six in a row after that, however.

The win was the third in seven Zone games for HCJC and their 10th of the year, compared to seven defeats. Amarillo is also 3-4 in the conference and 9-13 for the year.

Al Kloven, Mike Powell and Stan Williams all played stellar ball for the Hawks. Kloven was ice-cold from the field the first half, getting only two points. He wound up with 18 points and scoring honors, however.

Johnnie Watson, Larry Gore, Alvin Cohorn and Max McCulloch also responded with fine performances.

Watson and Cohorn helped Williams clean the boards while Gore, McCulloch, Kloven and Powell all did a good job of "keep-away" when they had to.

Powell was the only other Jayhawk to hit in double figures for HC, getting 12 points.

Bob Boyter paced Amarillo with 12 points, followed by Dale Tarbet, who had 11.

With three minutes to go in the first half, HCJC had an eight-point lead but the Hawks tried a freeze and it didn't work. Amarillo stole the ball and three baskets to pull within two points of the locals.

The Big Springers scored eight points before Amarillo's attack could begin peeling. Cordell Brown finally hit a field goal for the invaders with 6:40 to go in the first period.

A minute and a half before the quarter ended, it was 17-8, HCJC.

The win snapped a three-game losing skein for the Big Spring club, which next plays HSU's Butons in a practice tilt Friday night in Abilene.

Ward School Champions

The College Heights basketball team (above) recently won the City Ward School basketball league championship without loss of a game. Heights also reigned as the football titlist. The team averaged 28 4-7 points a game, compared to only 15 4-7 for the opposition. Left to right, bottom row, they are Robert Goodlet, Joe Heard, Freddie Coleman, Tommy Gentry and Ronnie Crowther. Middle row, they are John Paul Amos, Clinton Gambill, Danny Coats and Billy Hughes. Top row, Don White, Jeff Brown, Coach Bernard Rains, Mickey Sloan, Robert Mahoney and Curtis Beard.

NEW 4A KING ASSURED

All District Champs Must Be Decided By Saturday

The Texas schoolboy basketball race, a five-division affair with 1,099 teams fighting for the trip to Austin and the state tournament, reaches its biggest elimination this week. District championships, 177 of them, must be decided by Saturday. Some 109 already have been determined.

Defending Class AAAA champion Laredo is fighting for its life. The Tigers are mixed up in a playoff with San Antonio Burbank for the District 16 title.

Amarillo Palo Duro, champion of Class AAA last year, moved up to Class AAAA this season and already is out of the race. Pampa Tuesday night beat Borger 73-60 for the District 3 championship, where Palo Duro was competing.

Jacksonville, which won the Class AA title and moved up to Class AAA this year, also is on the sidelines. Nacogdoches won the championship of Jacksonville's Class AAA District.

Mighty Buna had better luck, however. This school, winner of the Class A championship in 1956 but in Class AA this season, won its district title and boasts a sensational record of 57 straight triumphs. Some think Buna is as good as any team in the state regardless of class.

Eleven district championships have been determined in Class AAAA—Abilene, District 2; Pampa, 3; Fort Worth Poly, 4; Dallas Highland Park, 5; Dallas Sunset, 6; Grand Prairie, 7; Lufkin, 8; Houston Milby, 9; Houston Bellaire, 10; Port Arthur, 11; Galena Park, 12. The El Paso district hasn't decided a titlist while four other districts are having playoffs.

In District 13 it's between Austin and Waco. District 14 between Harlingen and McAllen. District 15 between San Antonio Alamo Heights and San Antonio Jefferson and District 16 between Burbank and Laredo.

Class AAA has 15 champions on the line—Phillips, 1; Pecos, 2; Snyder, 3; Vernon, 4; Sulphur Springs, 5; Nacogdoches, 7; Waco, 8; Killeen, 9; Smiley, 10; Beaumont French, 11; Bay City, 12; Cuero, 15; Mission, 16; Garland and Handley are playing off District 5 while the other two districts still are finishing out the regular schedule.

Class AA has 21 champions ready—Muleshoe, 1; Floydada, 2; Wellington, 3; Stamford, 4; Seminole, 5; Coleman, 7; Comanche, 8; Bowie, 9; Northwest, 10; Lancaster, 11; Terrell, 12; DeKalb, 14; New London, 15; Marlin, 17; Lampasas, 19; Gonzales, 22; Cypress-Fairbanks, 23; Buna, 24; Clear Creek, 25; Karnes City, 27; Devine, 28. There are only 29 districts in Class AA, thus 8 are to be decided this week.

Class A has 15 champions—White Deer, 1; Clarendon, 2; Merkel, 6; Big Lake, 7; Ozona, 8; Springtown, 12; Duncanville, 13; Emory, 14; Overton, 17; Brownsboro, 18; McGregor, 19; Bastrop, 26; Boerne, 27; Houston, 30; La-Joya, 32. This leaves 17 champions to be decided.

Class B has 49 champions with 35 to be determined. District champions already known are: Higgins, Adrian, Bula, Meadow, Gall, Silvertown, McAdoo, Wheeler, Samworth, Matison, Nolan, Avoca, Forsan, Burkett, Desdemona, Lipan, Valley Mills, Blum, Vernon Northside, Petrolia, Alford, Everman, Wylie, Gober, Cedar Hill, Annona, Maud, Cayuga, Chandler, Bullard, Union Grove, East Mountain, Elysian Fields, Pineland, Milano, Chilton, Buffalo, Bedias, Big Sandy, Splendoria, Patison, Sherman, Holland, Sabinal, Charlotte, Pawnee, Bruni, Grandfalls and Balmerboa.

There will be four teams from Class AAAA, AAA, AA and A and eight from Class B in the state tournament. The classes will determine their representations by bi-district playoffs or regional tournaments in Classes AAAA and AAA.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's Jan Loudermilk is among 39 Class AAAA basketball players who have been recommended to the committee delegated by the Texas Sportswriters Association to name a 1957 all-state team.

George Raborn of Waco, chairman of the committee, has already expressed the belief that Loudermilk will make the first or second team. Jan may be handicapped by the fact that he is only a junior, however. The committee has been known to discriminate against coys who are not seniors, for some reason.

Other West Texans who are being considered for the elite club are Billy Taegel, Plainview; Wendell Cass, Amarillo High School; Jerry Pope, Pampa; Max Hood, Tom S. Lubbock High; Jim Turner and Paul Hyatt, both of Amarillo Palo Duro; Bobby Hutton, Amarillo High; Mike Behrens, El Paso Austin; and Joe Esquivel, El Paso Jefferson.

Taegel, six-foot guard, perhaps has the best chance to rate the club, outside of Loudermilk. The Bulldog junior has averaged 26 points a game during the season. In conference play, his average has been 22.5.

Three boys taller than Jan are being scrutinized by the committee. They are Wayne Clark, 6-11, of San Antonio Harlandale, considered only a fair rebounder; Steve Jordan, 6-6, McAllen; and Steve Strange, 6-7, Highland Park.

Clark has averaged 28.6 points a game, Jordan 18.7 and Strange 21.5. The latter has been compared favorably with Temple Tucker, the ex-Baylor great who is now at Rice.

Although Abilene has qualified for the playoffs, no one seems to be pushing Ted Lucas or Glyn Gregory for the all-state team.

Of the two, I'd have to go with Gregory, always tough in the clutch in any sport.

Gary Lawton, candidate for one of the end positions on the Baylor University team and a former all-district player at Levelland, had to miss much of the spring drills at Baylor.

He underwent an emergency appendectomy. When he went out, Gary was challenging Al Witcher for the No. 2 position at the left wing behind Earl Wayne Miller.

Bobby Jack Oliver, the Abilene boy who has made good at Baylor, is skipping all the spring work at Baylor in order to undergo treatments for an attack of shoulder bursitis. It will probably handicap him in baseball. He's considered one of the Southwest Conference's best players.

Incidentally, Glyn Gregory is reported to be ready to accept a $20,000 bonus and go into professional baseball right after the Abilene Eagles end their District 2-AAAA season.

He's supposed to be big league material, so you might like a chance to see him play. He'll be here with the Eagles the afternoon of April 13.

The Andrews Mustangs, who won their district in football, finished dead last in basketball, although they upset Kermit in their final game, 71-55.

It was the Ponies' lone conference win. They played eight games.

Bob Harrell has a 320-pound lineman working out in spring football drills at San Angelo High School. He's Billy Smith and they still haven't found pads big enough to fit him.

Smith is bigger by nearly 50 pounds than Tiny Ellison, largest Big Spring player in history (although Tiny ballooned to nearly 300 pounds shortly before he went into the Marines).

Frank Phillips Defeats Odessa Wranglers, 72-56

BORGER (SC)—Frank Phillips has a chance to overtake the Borger team.

Terrell Williamson paced Frank Phillips in scoring with 18 points. Charles Langen added 15.

Bob Lewellen stepped out to lead the Odessa team, counting 17 points. Jim Dobbins added ten.

The defeat left Odessa with a 3-4 Zone record. The Wranglers are now tied for last place, along with HCJC and Amarillo.

Converse Hired

PARIS (P)—Boyd Converse, Baylor basketball coach at East Texas State College, has been named line football coach and head basketball coach at Paris Junior College.

Gonzales Shaded

SAN FRANCISCO (S)—Australia's Ken Rosewall outlasted Pancho Gonzalez in a professional tennis marathon last night to win his first U. S. victory of the current tour, 6-3, 6-8, 10-16.

Thomson Among The Favorites At Houston

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Tex. (S)—Peter Thomson, the pudgy Australian who has won the British Open Championship three straight years, has moved in among the favorites on the eve of the $36,000 Houston Open.

Rain and cold wind did not bother Thomson yesterday as he played his first 18 holes since December and fired a five-under-par 66 to win $450 in top money in a $5,000 pro-amateur event preliminary to tomorrow's opening of the richest tournament on the winter golf tour.

After posting his 66 on the Houston Golf Club's short 6,398-yard course, Thomson switched to the sprawling Memorial Park layout for a workout on practice tees.

More rain was expected today at Memorial, which at 7,200 yards is the longest course on the winter tour. A field of 160 players tees off there tomorrow while seeking the 72-hole tournament's $7,500 first prize.

Harry Dee, 31-year-old Hartsville, N. Y., pro, led Memorial qualifiers yesterday with a four-under-par 68 fashioned with a pair of 24's. It was the same score as Bob Gajda, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., scored to share qualifying honors just a year ago.

Gajda barely escaped elimination yesterday. He and 13 others tied at 74 were scheduled for swiftest competition for four positions until tournament officials ruled that because of the weather all 14 could qualify.

Don Whitl, Alameda, Calif., was among those failing to qualify at 76. Two weeks ago he lost the Tucson Open title in a playoff with Dow Finsterwald.

Over par on only one hole, Dee scored four on all four of Memorial's par five holes.

His 68 left him one stroke ahead of Walter Cichon, Bridgeport, Conn., Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Ariz., Paul O'Leary, Bismarck, N. D., and Johnny Pott, Shreveport, La.

Fifty players qualified. Another 79 had 65 or over. Par was broken by 16. Eight others had par 72.

Ted Krull, the Houston defending champion making his first tournament start of the year, missed a final hole 10-foot putt that would have permitted him to tie Thomson. Krull's 67 left him in a tie with Stan Leonard of Canada and Howie Johnson, young Houston pro. Each received $212.

Pat Schwab, 22-year-old Ohio protégé of George Zaharias, husband of the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias, won $250 with his team's best ball 57. Zaharias played in Schwab's foursome.

Beauty

Attractive Nita Farquhar stars in two sports at Big Spring High School, volleyball and tennis. She'll play in the 12th annual Big Spring girls' volleyball tournament, which starts tomorrow and continues through Saturday night.

HC Will Play 2 Exhibitions

Arah Phillips' HCJC Jayhawk Queens will play two exhibition games during the 12th annual Big Spring girls' volleyball tournament.

The collegians take on the HSU team at 7 p.m.

On Saturday, TCU comes to town for an 11 a.m. engagement with the Jayhawk Queens in Sleet Gym.

The Friday exhibition with HSU will be played according to Texas Interscholastic League rules, whereas the contest with TCU will be unregulated under NSWA regulations.

Twenty-one teams are entered in the tournament, which gets under way at 11 a.m.

Eight games are on tap Thursday, with the last game tomorrow to begin at 8 p.m.

Three Big Spring teams see action Thursday. Big Spring Junior High plays Lamesa at 11 a.m. Big Spring B tries Sweetwater at 3 p.m. Big Spring A opposes Pampa at 7 p.m.

Big Spring is the only two-time winner in the field. The Steers won in 1951 and again in 1954.

Here is a list of the past champions:

- 1946—Water Valley.
- 1947—Eola.
- 1948—Water Valley.
- 1949—Hinsdale.
- 1950—Ringgold.
- 1951—Big Spring.
- 1952—Antelope.
- 1953—Lamesa.
- 1954—Big Spring.
- 1955—Imperial.
- 1956—Fort Stockton.

Mustangs Close To SW Crown

Southern Methodist could be favored Wednesday for looking forward to the NCAA basketball playoffs.

The Mustangs forged a full two games ahead of Rice, its nearest rival and sole remaining challenger for the Southwest Conference title by knocking off lowly Texas A&M 71-55 at Dallas Tuesday night. Rice used its superior height advantage and accuracy from the foul line to beat Arkansas 82-69 in Fayetteville.

Southern Methodist can sew up its third straight conference title by beating Rice when the two teams meet in Houston Saturday night. A win would put SMU in the NCAA playoffs, probably against Kansas.

Bobby Mills scored 21 points and big Jim Krebs hit 20 as the Mustangs knocked over the cellar-dwelling Aggies who were playing without their leading scorer and captain, George Mehaffey. Mehaffey was left at home with a badly sprained ankle.

Texas hosts East Texas State Wednesday night in a non-conference battle at Austin while Texas Christian and Baylor tangle at Waco.

The victory over A&M gave SMU an 8-1 conference record and an 18-3 season mark. The Mustangs are ranked sixth nationally.

Rice has a 7-3 conference record. None of the other teams has a chance to earn even a tie for the title.

Jim Basso Named El Paso Skipper

EL PASO (S)—Jim Basso is the new playing manager of the El Paso Texans of the Mexican Central League.

Basso, a former major league outfielder, managed the Caribbean Potashers of the Class B Southwestern League last year. El Paso was in the Southwestern League last year.

General Manager Jimmy Hamilton of the Texans arrived in El Paso to take over new duties yesterday. He contacted Basso at his Houston home.

Lon Morris Added To Region Field

TYLER (S)—Five teams already have been selected for the regional junior college basketball tournament scheduled here next Monday. Three more will be named.

Already in the field are Kilgore, Wharton, Lon Morris, Paris and Tyler.

The winner of the tournament here will go to Hutchinson, Kan., to compete in the National Junior College Tournament.

Abilene Eagles Pick Up Steam To Defeat Lions

ABILENE (SC)—The Eagles staved off a third-period rally by Vernon's Lions here Tuesday night and then sailed to a 59-45 victory.

Both teams are district winners and are waiting for state playoffs. Abilene won District 2-AAAA while Vernon prevailed in District 4-AAA.

Four times in the third period, the Lions pulled into a tie with the Eagles but were never able to go ahead. Starting the fourth quarter however Abilene poured on the steam and raced to its 18th victory. They have fallen seven times, twice to Big Spring.

The Eagles stepped out in front in a hurry and led 16-8 at the end of the first stanza. Ted Lucas, who tied teammate Glenn Gregory and Vernon's Jack Phillips for scoring honors, counted eight for

Knott Wins 2 Of 3 Starts

KNOTT (SC)—Knott won two of three practice basketball tilts from Stanton here Tuesday night.

The Stanton A boys jumped into an early lead and held it all the way in drubbing the Hill Billies, 53-38.

Knott's A girls registered their 21st win in 29 starts by claiming a 49-44 victory.

Knott's B boys hung on to nip the Stanton reserves, 19-18, in the opening game of the evening.

Woody Long led the Knott A boys with 14 points. Delbert Donelson had 16 and Don Pollock 12 for Stanton.

The Knott girls started very slowly, trailing 14-9, at the end of the first period; 24-12 at half time and 34-27 after three periods. They outscored the visitors in the final quarter, 22-10, however.

Jean Sample and Sue Paige each scored 22 points for Knott while Ann Rogers chipped in with the other five points.

For Stanton, Linda Glaze had 26, Johnnie Rhodes ten and Overby eight.

A freshman girl, Alice Day, played outstanding defensive ball for Knott, stealing the ball five times in the second half.

Knott's B team led after two periods of play in its game, 7-4, and 12-8 but Stanton went to the front in the third, 16-14.

Doyle Rallsback tossed in 11 points for Knott. Lois Ray had three, as did Mike Shockley. Delbert Conway accounted for the other two.

F. Petree, M. Petree and Johnson each scored four points for Knott while M. Miller and Overby tallied two each and Thompson and Whitaker one each.

The Knott girls play Merton in bi-district at Sterling City March 5, starting at 7 p.m.

Mustangs Close To SW Crown

Southern Methodist could be favored Wednesday for looking forward to the NCAA basketball playoffs.

The Mustangs forged a full two games ahead of Rice, its nearest rival and sole remaining challenger for the Southwest Conference title by knocking off lowly Texas A&M 71-55 at Dallas Tuesday night. Rice used its superior height advantage and accuracy from the foul line to beat Arkansas 82-69 in Fayetteville.

Southern Methodist can sew up its third straight conference title by beating Rice when the two teams meet in Houston Saturday night. A win would put SMU in the NCAA playoffs, probably against Kansas.

Bobby Mills scored 21 points and big Jim Krebs hit 20 as the Mustangs knocked over the cellar-dwelling Aggies who were playing without their leading scorer and captain, George Mehaffey. Mehaffey was left at home with a badly sprained ankle.

Texas hosts East Texas State Wednesday night in a non-conference battle at Austin while Texas Christian and Baylor tangle at Waco.

The victory over A&M gave SMU an 8-1 conference record and an 18-3 season mark. The Mustangs are ranked sixth nationally.

Rice has a 7-3 conference record. None of the other teams has a chance to earn even a tie for the title.

Jim Basso Named El Paso Skipper

EL PASO (S)—Jim Basso is the new playing manager of the El Paso Texans of the Mexican Central League.

Basso, a former major league outfielder, managed the Caribbean Potashers of the Class B Southwestern League last year. El Paso was in the Southwestern League last year.

General Manager Jimmy Hamilton of the Texans arrived in El Paso to take over new duties yesterday. He contacted Basso at his Houston home.

Abilene Eagles Pick Up Steam To Defeat Lions

ABILENE (SC)—The Eagles staved off a third-period rally by Vernon's Lions here Tuesday night and then sailed to a 59-45 victory.

Both teams are district winners and are waiting for state playoffs. Abilene won District 2-AAAA while Vernon prevailed in District 4-AAA.

Four times in the third period, the Lions pulled into a tie with the Eagles but were never able to go ahead. Starting the fourth quarter however Abilene poured on the steam and raced to its 18th victory. They have fallen seven times, twice to Big Spring.

The Eagles stepped out in front in a hurry and led 16-8 at the end of the first stanza. Ted Lucas, who tied teammate Glenn Gregory and Vernon's Jack Phillips for scoring honors, counted eight for

Eleanor Sees Red Education Fund As Greatest Threat

SAN MARCOS (AP)—The vast amount of money being spent by the Russians on education poses Communism's greatest threat says Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt, former U.S. delegate to the United Nations, said the main "threat that we face because of the immense amounts the Russians are spending on education is the greatest danger to the free world today."

Uncle Roy: Boyhood Friend Gave Help To Elias Howe

By RAMON COFFMAN Walter Hunt was the first American to build a sewing machine of a practical kind. We may wonder why he failed to obtain a patent, and this answer is given: "Hunt and his sister talked over the effect which the sewing machine would have. They decided that it would save so much work that many a seamstress would be thrown out of a job. The thought saddened them, and they decided to surrender the plan entirely."

Model of Howe's sewing machine in National Museum, Washington, D. C.
