Agriculture Dept. Top Film Producer

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Fifty years ago the Agriculture Department hired a lone photographer, bought a camera and went into the business of making simple motion pictures to help tell its story.

Today, the agency has one of the most modern motion picture units in the country — including script writers, directors, photographers, stage hands, film technicians, editors and distributors. Its pictures are seen annually by an estimated 25 million persons attending local farm, school and other meetings as well as no one knows how many who see some of them on television. Since the modest start of the picture making back in 1907, the department has made 2,000 or more pictures. At any one time it has around 250 different ones in circulation. Old ones are "re-released" and sent to the National Archives and Records Service for preservation for future perusal. Various agencies of the government use the motion picture to get across information and ideas to the public. But the Agriculture Department was the first to adopt this information device. It was not strange that the department would turn to the motion picture. The agency was created for the purpose of informing farmers of latest technical, scientific and economic developments in agriculture and to help teach producers how to adopt better methods.

Officials give these pictures much credit for the rapid advance in farmers' ability to produce more and more products with less and less manpower and fewer and fewer acres. The department's pictures cover a wide field in agriculture — from the production, cultivation and harvesting of various crops to social and economic problems facing farmers today. It also has many films of wide interest to consumers.

One of its latest pictures — "The Agricultural Story" — depicts in detail the various services the agency is prepared to render the public. Released late in the fall, officials estimate it has been seen on television by 10 million persons. Department pictures are made available to schools, county agricultural agents, farm organizations and similar groups through more than 50 state film libraries connected with state departments or agriculture and state agricultural extension services.

The charges for use of them are generally limited to cost of transportation. Local farm leaders say they have found these films are very effective in helping to draw crowds to meetings. Television is providing a growing medium for mass presentation of the films, officials said. Many television stations in agricultural areas are eager to get the pictures for use in helping them provide "public service" features required under their federal licenses.

Among its most popular pictures are those prepared for and distributed by the U. S. Forest Service in its efforts to make the public conscious of forest fire disasters that may follow carelessness in the woods.

Engineers Hear Forecast Of Oil Industry Growth

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers heard forecasts today of great growth for the oil industry. Dr. Richard Gonzales of Houston, treasurer of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., said improved techniques and additional discoveries will result in national oil production exceeding recent estimates.

The amount of oil to be found and produced in the United States will be affected by national policies on imports and on taxation of domestic production," he said. "The leadership of American enterprise in the development of oil resources has been of immeasurable value to our standard of living and security. We are fortunate, indeed, in having ample domestic supplies of oil currently available to protect us against contingencies and in the prospects of sufficient supplies for the foreseeable future to keep us from becoming increasingly dependent on foreign oil."

Flows Reported In Galveston Wells

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Large flows of oil and gas were reported today in two discovery wells drilled in Galveston County, Tex., by the Phillips Petroleum Co. The wells are about 25 miles southeast of Houston, in an area of 10,900 acres of leases owned by Phillips.

Benson Forecasts Weigh Heavily On Farmer Market

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—In administering federal farm programs, Secretary of Agriculture Benson must do a lot of guessing about future prospects for selling farm products.

Sometimes this guessing — or forecasting — may affect the farmers' markets, prices and incomes and sometimes it may not. But usually they are weighed very carefully by those who buy and sell the affected commodities. In some cases, however, the secretary's judgment determines the market price and consequently pretty well determines producer incomes.

At this particular time, a Benson forecast with regard to cotton is being called a 100-million-dollar "guess." That is, it could bring cotton growers that much less in income from this year's cotton crop than if he had made a forecast in line with that of many trade groups in the cotton industry.

The Benson judgment was made recently in determining the price at which his department will support the price of this year's cotton crop.

Price supports for cotton — as well as those for wheat, corn and rice — are set under the controversial flexible support system, enacted in 1954 upon the recommendation of President Eisenhower but opposed by some Republicans as well as Democratic congressmen.

This system directs that supports for these crops be set between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they must pay. The system provides that the larger the supply of these crops, the lower the support rate may be.

Oil Man Hails Price Probe

HOUSTON (AP)—The upcoming federal grand jury investigation of the oil industry's recent price increases was hailed yesterday as a way to get the issue before an "impartial and fair forum."

L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Co., said the industry will have an opportunity to back up the price hikes and to refute the "collusion charges" that have been made. He predicted the price boosts months before the Middle East crisis arose.

McCollum said he welcomed the investigation.

"We have nothing to hide. I have no fear of the grand jury. The Justice Department is due to go before a grand jury in the Northern District of Virginia March 4 with evidence for a possible anti-trust action in connection with the oil price boost."

2 States Push Oil Production Increase

TULSA (AP)—Daily oil production increased 48,800 barrels to 7,566,175 during the week ended Feb. 23, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

The Journal estimated 1957 production at 402,313,725 barrels compared to 388,592,900 a year ago. Oklahoma was up 34,700 to 75,100 barrels and Louisiana 600 to 976,000.

Colorado was down 2,200 barrels to 159,000; and New Mexico 50 to 258,225.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 3,130,350 barrels and in Arkansas at 81,100.

set. The law authorizing it carries a formula for determining the minimum rate. This formula takes into account prospects for domestic and export sales, a reserve for unforeseen demands, and the prospective supply.

But operation of the system has shown that there can be great flexibility within the flexible support system. The operation of this flexibility within flexibility is the cause or source of the 100-million-dollar Benson judgment on cotton supports.

In working out the support for the coming cotton crop, Benson decided that a proper forecast for cotton exports in the season ahead would be 3 1/2 million bales. This is two million bales less than indicated exports for the present season.

Upon the basis of this export prediction and upon other forecasts as to domestic market needs as well as predictions as to the size of the 1957 crop, Benson determined — under the price support formula — that cotton should be supported at 77 per cent of parity — just two points above the minimum permitted by law.

This compared with 82.5 per cent of parity at which last year's crop was supported.

Translated into dollars and cents, this meant a support rate of 23.15 cents a pound for the base grade of cotton compared with 23.34 cents for last year's crop. This represented a reduction of nearly $6 a bale.

But many cotton — state farm leaders in and out of Congress kicked about Benson's determination. They declared that his guess or forecast regarding exports from the 1957 crop was too low. Most of them have been guessing that exports would be at least five million bales, or 500,000 more than Benson had predicted.

What if it wouldn't farmers get the full benefits of the larger volume of exports if foreign sales turned out to be greater than Benson had predicted?

The answer is, they would insofar as sales were concerned, but probably not as to the price they received.

Under the flexible support formula, an estimate of five million bales of exports would have figured out a price support rate of 82 per cent of parity instead of 77 per cent under Benson's estimate.

Translated into money, the support rate under a five-million-bale export forecast would have been 29.98 cents a pound, or about $9.15 a bale more than the rate Benson set or about 100 million dollars for an anticipated crop of 11 million bales.

Of course, Benson has promised to take a new look at export prospects before the new marketing season starts Aug. 1 and to raise supports should the outlook appear better than he now conceives it to be.

But any upward revision would have to be made by Aug. 1. Should it appear to him after that date that export prospects would be above his present forecast, it would be too late to give growers the benefit in the form of increased supports.

$320,000 Gem Theft Reported

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police are investigating a report by Francesca de Scaffa, Italian actress wife of actor Bruce Cabot, that $320,000 worth of jewels was stolen from her hotel apartment.

The actress, who also uses the name Countess Francesca de Bourbon y de Scaffa, said the missing gems included "the largest topaz in the world" and "a necklace given to me as a present by the King of Persia."

Miss de Scaffa said she found her empty jewel box on the floor just inside her apartment Sunday night when she, her mother and friends returned from a ballfight.

Miss de Scaffa reiterated to newsmen that she was in Mexico to divorce Cabot.

Flying Lawmen

Capt. Sewell Griggers pilots a Los Angeles Aero Detail helicopter in a demonstration manhunt while his brother, Sgt. C. L. Griggers, handles the 'copter's armament—a shotgun with a pistol grip.

In Los Angeles County, Posse Rides In The Sky

By JOHN BECKLER
LOS ANGELES A — The ultimate in modern cops and robbers plots reached a climax recently—appropriately near movieland—with the capture from the air of a thug named Melvin Evans.
Evans, hiding out in a remote canyon after shooting a man, suddenly found himself looking up at a helicopter bearing the star of the Los Angeles sheriff's office. He scurried deeper into the brush—too late.
Capt. Griggers set the 'copter down and put a detective armed with a tommygun on a ridge behind Evans. The fugitive surrendered, was brought in, and later was convicted of attempted murder.
IDEA NOT NEW
Although Evans, as far as is known, is the first criminal to be successfully tracked, spotted and captured by helicopter, the idea of putting wings on the old sheriff's posse has spread far since Los Angeles organized the nation's first aero detail in 1929. More than 350 law enforcement agencies now have an air arm, but none is as mighty as Los Angeles.
Its strength lies in the 100-plane squadron of expert pilots who stand ready to volunteer their time, skill and aircraft for any task to which the aero detail summons them—and in the slim, 51-year-old airman who leads it.
Capt. Griggers, as head of the aero detail, is the squadron commander, and says of his winged posse: "There isn't any other group in the world that has such an accumulation of flying time."
The squadron includes two reserve Air Force generals, a retired Air Force general, a retired Marine general, and the chief test pilot of four aircraft plants, and several airlines.
Speed pilot Paul Mantz is a member; so is Charles Correll, and Andy of the Amos 'n Andy radio team. Another 100 applicants are waiting for a vacancy so they can join up.
"We can put everything from jets to Cubs in the air in a matter of minutes," says Griggers who can remember when the aero details had one detail missing—namely planes.
That was back in 1933 when Griggers closed up the little airport he had been running since 1926 and joined the sheriff's office in order, as he puts it, "to get a meal ticket" during the depression.
SLOW START
The aero detail, then four years old, was a ground-bound, one-man outfit charged with enforcing flying regulations by checking out complaints. There was no room in it for Griggers and he was placed in charge of the pistol range.
The volunteer squadron also got its start in 1933, born as the result of the big earthquake that shook up a large part of the county and adjoining areas. With communications out, planes were needed to survey the damage and co-ordinate rescue work and private pilots were deputized for the job.
Griggers finally moved into the Editor Sees Civil Rights As 'Frightening'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Virginius Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, said today civil rights legislation now before Congress "frightens and dismays the South—and should frighten and dismay the whole country."
Dabney asked an educators' meeting: "Has it been seriously contemplated before in this land that persons 'about to engage in certain acts should be arrested and haled into court?'"
One provision of the pending legislation, he said, "embodies this amazing language."
Congress has pending before committees numerous proposals for changing civil rights laws.
Dabney told the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals: "I am deeply troubled by the thought that the growing intensity of the struggle in some eight or nine Southern states may disrupt, and even close down entirely, the systems of public education in several of these states."
"Aside from the educational problems involved, consider the enormous rise in juvenile delinquency which would inevitably accompany such a development."
Dabney criticized the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for its part in the Southern desegregation fight.
"Not content with achieving reasonable gains," he said, "this organization continues to press for drastic changes that cannot possibly be granted and would not work in the South if they were."

Poles Begin Trade Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States begins direct economic talks with Poland today to determine whether American dollars and surplus farm products can help ease Moscow's grip on the Polish economy.
The visiting five-man Polish government delegation is led by Henryk Kotlicki, director general of the Polish Finance Ministry. He will outline his government's problem to an American group headed by Thornton V. Kalijarvi, acting deputy undersecretary of state for economic affairs.
The American delegation was reported ready to listen sympathetically to an expected formal Polish request for surplus American wheat, corn, fats and oils as well as credit to buy coal mining machinery.
An agreement meeting at least part of the Polish plea for aid appeared likely before the talks end in about three weeks.
Responsible authorities said the American attitude would be to emphasize as much as possible the desirability of restoring normal trade and commercial relations between the United States and Poland.

Tax Collectors See Selves As Helpful

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Each of us, as we sit down to figure our income taxes probably has a slightly different idea of what a tax collector looks like.
Some may picture him as a Simon Legree; one false move and he whacks us. Others may think of a little man peering over our shoulders, suspiciously adding and subtracting every problem we put on form 1040.
Well, the people at the Internal Revenue Service have still another version. They like to look upon themselves as kindly, considerate fellows eager to give us taxpayers every break.
A couple of examples:
An 87-year-old Polish immigrant made a fortune manufacturing jams and jellies in New England. But he got to worrying: Had he paid his fair share of taxes?
To ease his conscience, he sent the Treasury Department five new $1,000 bills.
The Treasury investigators maneuver? No, these kindly, considerate tax gentlemen found the old man had leaned over backwards paying his taxes.
He got an $11,000 refund—plus his $5,000 back.
Or take the case of the charwoman who came into the Internal Revenue Service headquarters

Congressional Re-Districting Bill Wins House Panel Okay

AUSTIN (AP)—A congressional re-districting bill to change the territory of all but five district representatives has won approval from a House subcommittee.
The group approved yesterday a plan to create a new 22nd district now represented by Martin Dies, congressman-at-large.
"Our plan is fair to every congressman and has no political implications whatever," said Reps. Howard Green of Fort Worth and Robert Baker of Houston, co-signers of the proposal. The plan is an amendment to a bill to give the extra congressman to Harris County (Houston).
There would be no changes in the Dallas, San Antonio, Galveston, Houston and Rio Grande-South Texas district.
Changes suggested by districts:
Dist. 1, Rep. Wright Patman, Texarkana, would add Rains County.
2. Rep. Jack Brooks, Beaumont, would lose Angellina, Tyler and Shelby counties.
3. Rep. Lindley Beckworth, Gladewater, would gain Shelby County.
4. Speaker Sam Rayburn, Bonham, would gain Denton, Cooke and Montague counties and lose Rains County.
6. Rep. Olin Teague, College Station, would gain Johnson, Hood and Somervell counties.
7. Rep. John Dowdy, Athens, would gain Angellina and Tyler counties.
10. Rep. Homer Thornberry, Austin, would gain Comal and Guadalupe and lose Burnet, Williamson and Lee.
11. Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, would gain Burnet, Williamson and Lee.
12. Rep. Jim Wright, Weatherford, would lose Johnson, Hood and Somervell.
13. Rep. Frank Icard, Wichita Falls, would gain Haskell, Stone-wall, King, Dickens, Cooke and Cottle and lose Denton, Cooke and Montague.
14. Rep. John Young, Corpus Christi, would lose Comal and Guadalupe.
16. Rep. J. T. Rutherford, Odessa, would lose Glasscock, Reagan, Terrell and Crockett.
17. Rep. Omar Burleson, Anson, would gain Mitchell and Scurry counties.
18. Rep. Walter Rogers, Pampa, would lose Cottle County.

Temperature lows ranged from Dalhart's 36 degrees to Brownsville's 65.
Clear to partly cloudy skies and slightly cooler weather was forecast for all areas Tuesday and Tuesday night. No rain was in sight, the Weather Bureau said.

Still, it's well to remember that these kindly, considerate people don't believe in overdoing it. Just recently, for example, the service put out a list of tax evaders who had been caught and prosecuted.
The most interesting case involved a Bronx porter who drew three years on probation.

Business Circles Showing Caution

NEW YORK — Caution in business circles is showing up today in several ways. There are some production cutbacks, less bank borrowing, some inventory piling, price resistance to materials, delayed expansion programs, and a weak and listless stock market.

This is caution, not fright. And caution is usually the healthiest of signs. Since the war it's staved off a runaway boom and made the recessions minor.

The caution of businessmen is mostly over the short term. Expectations for a roaring advance in the '60s are still high.

So far the cautious attitude hasn't shown up among consumers. Total retail trade is still at a record dollar high.

Still, consumers haven't been buying as many new cars and home appliances as the manufacturers would like. Nor are they buying as many new homes as they once did.

In these cases price resistance could be a factor — especially as the general cost of living is rising. But in general consumer spending stays high.

In business the talk of caution is widespread, however. Some auto makers have cut back production. General Motors for example has pared Chevrolet output by 19.3 per cent from a year ago. Several makers of home appliances have cut back output.

a cutback in product of as much as 10 per cent as a cure for price softness for the metal. Some textile mills have gone from a six-day to a five-day week. Machine tool makers are busy on a big backlog of orders and shipments continue to rise. But not so new orders. They are running far behind the record volume of a year ago.

Caution, too, may be a factor in the less spectacular bank borrowing of the last two months.

Burglars Skip Change In Cafe

Burglars left the change in the cash drawer at a Northside cafe Monday night.

The Gamboa Cafe, 302 NW 3rd, was entered sometime during the night, but nothing was found missing. The police making the investigation said that all the change was left in the cash drawer overnight, but none was taken by the burglars.

The burglars entered through the front door by breaking it down, the officers reported.

Israeli Cabinet Hears Report From Legate

JERUSALEM — The Israeli Cabinet met again today to take up the latest reports from Ambassador Abba Eban on the Gaza Strip-Sharm el Sheikh troop withdrawal dispute.

The session followed a conference of government leaders that lasted until 2 a. m. Eban, who returned to the United States over the weekend after consultations with his government here, met again yesterday with Secretary of State Dulles and later with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion last night won an overwhelming 73-69 vote of confidence from the Knesset on his promise to exact firm guarantees before Israeli troops are withdrawn from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba areas.

"We are standing today with our backs to the wall and we are faced by powerful forces," Ben-Gurion said.

In a move which some observers regarded as a concession, he said he was no longer insisting on Israel's demand for establishment of an Israeli civil administration in the Gaza Strip.

Israel repeatedly has charged that the Gaza Strip, controlled by Egypt since the 1949 Palestine armistice, was used as a base for Arab raids.

Ben-Gurion added that the central and "historically most important problem" is opening the Ti-

Dawson Hospital Facing Space, Facilities Problem

LAMESA—Space and facilities problems for the new Dawson County Hospital were unresolved after an hour's conference here Monday.

Members of the Dawson County Commissioners Court, the Hospital Advisory Committee and architects talked about possibility of a 60-bed hospital of first class quality out of available funds.

Carl Cayton asked Turner Kimmel, Lubbock, whose firm is joining with Allen and Allen of Lamesa in planning the structure, if bids could be set up for a 60-bed hospital with alternate bids cut back to 50 if necessary. Kimmel said he thought it better to bid on 50 beds with alternatives up to 60, and the group concurred. Elimination of the terrazo floors might make possible a couple of additional rooms. Reduction in the amount of toilet facilities might provide for more and use of hay-dite blocks instead of plaster might also give leeway, he said. Beyond basic bids, however, he felt rooms could be added at $6,000 to $7,000 each.

Judge Aubrey Boswell said that "we are going to have to live with the hospital for a long time and I believe we should build the best we can. Dr. Noble Price declared that the committee was interested in getting all possible for every dollar spent. Henry Norris was anxious to get 60 beds because he said he believes the community needed that many.

Opening of the hospital will mean the closing of the Price and Black Hospital. Dr. S. Z. Frazier said around 18 rooms of the Lamesa General Hospital would be kept open.

In its morning session, the court accepted the annual audit report of county funds from Harold P. Wine of Ballinger. The only errors found were minor, and Wine was re-appointed for the 1957 fiscal year.

The commissioners ordered about $2,000 paid out to U. S. 180 west property owners. The State Highway Department proposes to widen the highway about the time U. S. 87 north is completed. The court also approved the bond of Mrs. Billy Jean Bingham as deputy county clerk.

Justice of the Peace Jim Edwards was authorized to attend a traffic court conference in Austin on Feb. 28 and March 1. In other action, the court authorized the county attorney to initiate legal proceedings necessary to secure needed right-of-way along Farm Road 178 from its southern extremity to connect with U. S. 87.

Business Area Levelled By Fire

MERIDEN, Conn. — Fire raced through two adjoining buildings in the center of Meriden early today, destroying more than 25 businesses, a radio station and several apartments.

Fire officials estimated damage would exceed a million dollars. Eight persons escaped from the apartments. One man, an elderly cripple, was unaccounted for hours after the blaze.

One of the buildings, a four-story brick structure, collapsed into rubble.

The missing man, Fred Werner, lived in a fourth-floor apartment in that building with his sister, Mrs. Emily Rockwell, about 60. She was located later at the home of a daughter.

The second building, three stories tall, was also of brick. The fire left it only a blackened shell. At the height of the fire, which blazed out of control for almost two hours, ammunition in a sporting goods store caught fire. "It was like the Fourth of July," said one fireman.

The fire destroyed restaurants, clothing shops, a jewelry store, barber shops, beauty salons, a shoe store, a camera shop, a sporting goods store, a hat shop, a dancing school, and a number of professional offices.

C. Godwin, Capt. Lindy Oldfield, Jack Jones, Frank Glascock, and James Baker. Second row, Capt. A. N. Standard, Bill Riddle, Varnell Johnson, Sgt. Walter Eubanks, S. Gorman, Jimmy Wade, Robert Bronson, Mrs. Lucille Thomas, Mrs. Palma Hamill, and Mrs. Vivian Rasco. Third row, Sherrill Farmer, Claude Morris, Stanley Bogard, Sgt. Alvin Hiltbrunner, James Overman, Fred Taylor, Ellis Eubanks, Sgt. James Walton, L. D. Coppedge, and Blaz Ballon. Not pictured, but members of the department, are Mrs. Frankie Marstrand, clerk, and Leo Hull, plainclothes detective.

Patrols Put 285,000 Miles Per Year On Police Vehicles

By DON HENRY

The guy who gripes that the police patrol cars do not cover the city should look at the record: over 285,000 miles registered on vehicles during 1956.

Police officers, driving four cars and two motorcycles, recorded 285,122 miles during the past year, or an average of over 22,000 miles on the cars and 1,100 miles on the motorcycles every month.

This mileage was recorded on 10 cars altogether, because of the city's policy of trading for a new car every time one records 50,000 miles.

City commissioners came to this policy after checking maintenance costs over longer use. They found that it was more profitable to purchase new cars before they reach great mileage totals than paying the added maintenance.

During the past year, the city purchased six new cars and, of course, traded in a like number. One was purchased Feb. 7, 1956, two on March 13, one on Aug. 14, and two on Oct. 23. Since the first of the year, another has been purchased.

Naturally, the city uses the cars more than the motorcycles. Total use on the two "motors" was 13-772 miles during 1956, and 271,350 on the cars.

Largest single month total on either of the motorcycles was 1,339 miles, and the lowest was 32. One of them recorded 5,405 miles during the year and the other 8,367.

The motorcycles are used principally for escorts and duty on the highways through Big Spring. They are also in use when the city operates the radar unit, clocking car speeds.

Three of the cars are used throughout the city on patrol duty, while the fourth is used principally by the chief of police and the city detective. However, the total year's mileage piled up by the four cars varied only slightly.

The year's totals for the four cars were 76,634, 74,460, 58,853, and 61,463 respectively.

The average mileage for a month for the four cars was 22,613.5, or 5,653 miles per car. This would average 188 miles per day per car.

Usually, the cars would record practically the same totals each month, except for the chief's car. For example, during December, the three cars in constant use registered 7,665, 6,365, and 7,250 miles, while the fourth had 2,436 miles.

During the year, the largest single mileage on one vehicle was 7,953 miles in May. The minimum total for one car was the December total of 2,436 miles.

Gets 6 Years In 'Wrong' Slaying

HOUSTON — Mrs. Audrey Rivers, 28, was sentenced to six years yesterday for killing a girl she called the wrong person.

"I didn't mean to cut the girl — she was in the way — I meant to cut her mother," she told witnesses after the stabbing.

Mrs. Rivers pleaded guilty to stabbing Rose Holmes, 15, during an argument between Mrs. Rivers and Rose Mary's mother, Mrs. Lillie Asberry, 31.

Cancer Unit Hears Report On Project

Five local women's clubs are making cancer dressings for use of cancer patients in this county, and dressings as well as other "comfort" items are being distributed through the "loan closet" at the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

Report on the activity was given

Donnell Echols, Lamesa, has been named sophomore class "favorite" at Texas Tech. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Echols of Lamesa, and a graduate of Lamesa High School.

YOURS LOST?

Discharge Papers Gathering Dust

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, has 17 documents on hand in her office that she would like very much to return to their original owners.

And the original owners, very likely, will come to a day when they will need these same documents urgently and it is possible they will not remember where they are.

The 17 papers which are in need of claiming by their owners are official discharges from the armed forces. They were brought to the office of the county clerk originally for filing. They have been photostatically reproduced and are duly filed and on record. The originals are no longer required in the clerk's office.

Some of these discharge papers have been accumulating dust for as long as eight or nine years in the office of the county clerk. Others have been on hand for two, three or four years.

The clerk does not have the present addresses of owners of discharge papers she holds and cannot return them by that medium.

She asks that any of the persons named come to her office and reclaim their discharge records. She also asks if any other persons know the whereabouts of persons on the list that she be provided with their present address.

The discharge papers waiting claim at her office are: Leonard Elbert Burks, James T. Caldwell, James Leslie Morgan, Jimmy Williams, Elton B. Free, Arthur Darrell Webb Jr., Carthan Joe Stocks, Edward E. Acri Jr., Galen W. Shelley, Willie E. Madry, Sam Daniel Jr., Leuven M. Flores, James E. Lackey, Milton Lloyd Nanny, Frank R. Pike, James D. Thomas and Lewis Edwin Reed.

The discharge papers of James D. Thomas were first placed in the clerk's possession in 1948. Those of Frank R. Pike have been in the office since 1949.

at the February meeting of the Howard County Unit of the American Cancer Society last night. Several other reports also were heard.

Fourteen persons attended the session in the Chamber of Commerce offices. Nancy James of Midland, district coordinator for the ACS, attended and presented a motion picture entitled "Alexander's Ten Spot." The film, produced by the ACS, explained the percentages of each $10 gift going to research, education and treatment of cancer and the number of lives saved each year with contributions to the ACS.

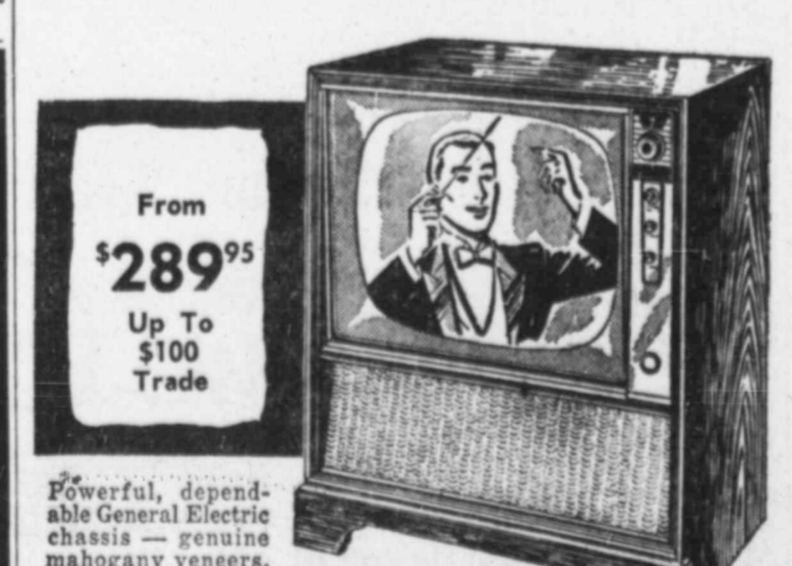

It was announced that all local cancer educational committees have been established. The group has started showing films to women's clubs explaining procedures for "self examination" for signs of cancer. A physician has attended each of the showings.

An effort also is being made to contact all doctors, ministers and social agencies to determine the identity of cancer patients who might benefit from the loan closet service.

Material giving answers to common questions about cancer was distributed and stress was placed on the need for acquainting everyone with the "seven danger signals of cancer."

Next meeting of the group will be at 7:30 p.m. March 25, also at the Chamber of Commerce.

Nehru Calm In Forced Landing

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru calmly told reporters that his Russian plane today was forced down after one of its two engines caught fire.

Nehru was flying from Nanghar to Raichur, south of Hyderabad, on an election tour when members of his party noticed one engine throwing off clouds of black smoke.

The crew fought the blaze with fire extinguishers. Then the pilot told the Prime Minister he would try to land on the good engine.

Nehru fastened his safety belt and sat back to read reports on the Kashmir debate from Krishna Menon, his U. S. delegate.

The pilot made a perfect landing and Nehru stepped smiling onto the deserted airstrip near Raichur.

The other man escaped with an undetermined amount of jewelry. This picture was made by Delmar Watson, Los Angeles Mirror-News photographer, who answered a police call to the scene and arrived while the holdup was still in progress. He barely escaped being hit by a bullet when one of the police officers fired at the suspect.

Transportation, Revolt Main Problems In French Oil Search

Editor's Note: Correspondent David Mason headlines across 150 miles of the Sahara Desert, to see what the French are doing to extract oil from the parched sand dunes. He is one of the first Americans to visit the project.

By DAVID MASON
HASSEI MESSAOU, Algerian Sahara — Rich, yellow-green crude oil is bubbling out of the sand dune wastes of the Algerian Sahara.

French petroleum engineers believe they have tapped several high-grade pools.

A major oil source of her own would free France of dependency on the Suez Canal.

There are two pressing considerations: Can the oil be transported economically—hundreds of miles northward to Mediterranean ports? Can France hold onto Algeria, deeply torn by a nationalist revolt for nearly 20 months?

Coupled with the heavy expense of transporting drilling equipment is the human problem of man against the merciless heat, knifing sandstorms and water shortage. And the nationalist rebellion has spilled over into the desert, necessitating constant military protection.

But French skill linked with American know-how and equipment have licked most of the technical problems.

Algeria yielded promising flows of oil at three desert points last year. Gas indicating exploitable oil has been found at other locations.

The prize discovery came last August here at Hassi Messaoud.

A bleak, rough desert flat, 63 miles southeast of Algiers, Hassi Messaoud is virtually isolated except by air or camelback.

Hassi Messaoud's discovery well is the deepest (10,819 feet) and its flow (52 barrels a day) the most abundant of Algerian Sahara wells.

The only living things in sight for miles around the well are an occasional stubborn desert bush or a white-kepled Foreign Legionnaire on guard at a Beau-Geste outpost. Sometimes a camel sways into sight.

New derricks are sprouting on the horizon as drillers attempt to determine the size of the pool tapped by the discovery well.

Until that is known, even the most cautious engineer will not give an estimate of Hassi Messaoud's reserves.

A discovery almost as exciting is this: water, fit for drinking, has been found at depths of only a few hundred feet. It is now being piped throughout the Hassi Messaoud field to supply crews that live in little settlements of brightly colored tents or boxlike wooden houses.

So far there is little but French capital sunk into the Sahara sands. The two biggest companies with total French capital of $77-139,000 hold exploration permits for 170,400 square miles.

American consular officials in Algiers say there is not a penny of American capital in the Sahara oil ventures.

Some French oil officials have taken at face value accusations that American oil interests are supporting the Algerian Nationalists with the hope of moving in if France is driven out.

Americans in the Sahara are not drilling for oil, but are taking geological soundings to determine likely drilling points. These crews, from the Independent Exploration Co., Houston, Tex., are under French contract, according to the consulate.

The oil discoveries will not be thoroughly tested and confirmed for possibly five years. Meantime the rebellion goes on and on. Perhaps the best France can hope for is a share in the rich yellow-green crude that would not color the Sahara sands but for French enterprise.

Murder Jury Quiz Continues

EDINBURG (AP) — Questioning of prospective jurors was to continue today in the murder trial of J. Loy Ramsour, former Edinburg justice of the peace.

Judge H. A. Garcia of Brownsville is presiding. Two jurors have been chosen.

Ramsour is charged with the fatal shooting of his son-in-law, Walter Benson of Pharr.

A record venire of 450 was summoned but exemptions have knocked the figure down to 144.

Picked as jurors were Amelio de Luna, 23, Edinburg handyman; Yaldo Martinez, 35, Weslaco grocery produce man.

Veniremen were questioned on their opinions of temporary insanity, self defense and suspended sentence laws.

Ramsour, 59, sat calmly through the proceedings yesterday with his attorneys.

Judge Garcia said he had set aside a little more than two weeks for the trial. He said the daily sessions would recess only for a lunch break.

Fire Kills Boy In Grand Prairie
GRAND PRAIRIE (AP) — Luther Thomas, 2, burned to death last night when fire destroyed a two-room dwelling. He was the son of Mrs. Emma Thomas.

Fire Marshal J. E. Bement said the mother took her 4-month-old child with her when she went to a store a block away and left Luther asleep on a bed.

At the store, she said she heard sirens, ran outside and saw her home aflame. She tried to enter the flaming building, but was restrained.

The child's body was found on the bed. Firemen said the fire apparently started near a wood stove in the same room with the bed.

ICT Probe Slated To Begin Today

AUSTIN (P)—Five state representatives take over the job this afternoon of finding out why the boom and bust of the ICT Insurance Co.

The legislators indicated the probe may spread to other shaky insurance empires where there have been rumors of mishandled assets, high pressure stock sales, and out-of-proportion management salaries.

"We're in this until we get to the bottom of it," said Rep. Scott McDonald, wily 36-year-old Fort Worth attorney, named to head the state's third major insurance probe in recent history.

"Our acute problem is the ICT situation and its management," he said, adding that the House Investigating Committee probably would call on State Insurance Commission members and fellow legislators to explain their connections—"if any"—with the recent ICT receivership.

The House committee planned an organizational meeting this afternoon.

"It will take a day or two before we know who we want to talk to first," McDonald said. He was a member of the interim legislative committee which looked into the financial downfall of the U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

Other committee members are Reps. Carl C. Conley, attorney and rancher, and former district attorney from Raymondville; James M. Cotten, another former district attorney who prefers to be called a "country lawyer" from Weatherford; Tom Joseph of Waco, and Paul Pressler, 26-year-old law student from Houston.

McDonald is chairman of the House Labor Committee and is serving his second legislative term. Joseph is chairman of the Banks and Banking Committee and serving his third term.

Tyler Strikers Told To Go To Work Or Be Replaced

TYLER (P)—Operations were to be resumed today at Bryant Manufacturing Co., where workers have been on strike since Nov. 17.

Employees of the air conditioning firm, a division of the Carrier Corp., were informed by registered mail yesterday. William H. Marsh, plant manager, told the 237 members of the United Auto Workers Local 888 and 45 others who were laid off that "if our employees do not return to work we must and will hire employes as permanent replacements to fill vacant jobs."

A Dallas union representative, R. M. Ross, said the strike "could have been settled if the company had been willing to discuss principal items." Ross said he doubted that the company plans "will have any effect on the people on strike."

Former Hollywood Director Star Witness In Red Spy Case

NEW YORK (P)—Government counsel have identified Boris Morros, former Hollywood producer and music director, as a key prosecution witness for the trial here of three persons accused of spying for the Soviet Union.

Whereabouts of the Russian-born Morros have not been revealed, and his role in the case is cloaked with mystery.

There were unofficial reports that government officials are keeping him out of the way of possible harm.

Morros, 62, was named in the Chief Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas B. Gilchrist Jr. as the "individual" mentioned in 14 overt acts allegedly involving the three defendants.

The overt acts in which Morros allegedly was a figure included meetings in New York, Paris, Vienna and Zurich, Switzerland. The government charges that the meetings were arranged for the exchange of data concerning the activities of the alleged spy ring.

U.S. Atty. Paul Williams declined outside the federal hearing room to tell newsmen more about Morros' role in the case.

Morros, 62, was named in the chamber of Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan at a hearing on motions by George Wolf, counsel for Jack Soble, 53, a brush importer, and his wife Myra, 52.

The Sobles and Jacob Albam, 64, foreman for a tea and spice company, were indicted recently on charges of seeking United States defense secrets for transmission to Russia. The three were arrested by the FBI in New York City Jan. 25. They have pleaded innocent to charges of spy conspiracy over a 10-year-old period.

Soble is undergoing psychiatric examination at Bellevue Hospital. He collapsed in his detention cell a week ago.

At yesterday's hearing the Sobles sought dismissal of five of the six counts in the indictment.

Wolf moved successfully for a list of all government witnesses to be produced at a trial for proving charges in one of the counts which carries a possible death penalty.

Gilchrist said the government as yet had not made up its witness list, but that Morros hasn't been seen there for several years.

Morros, who came to the United States in 1922 and became a U. S. citizen, is described this way:

He attended the University of St. Petersburg and studied music theory under Rimsky-Korsakoff at the Imperial Conservatory in St. Petersburg. At the age of 18 he replaced his father as conductor of a symphony orchestra in Russia.

After coming to the United States, he was music director at several Broadway theaters.

From New York he went to Hollywood and was in charge of music for Paramount Pictures for 17 years. In 1939 he formed Boris Morros Productions, Inc., and four years later made U. S. Army training films for the research council of the Academy of Motion Pictures, Arts and Sciences.

Willow Sapling Impales Woman

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (P)—A 49-year-old woman was in critical condition today after being impaled for three hours on a sharp willow sapling.

A few yards away was the hustle of a busy street. But Miss Louise Lohmeyer, crouched at the bottom of an embankment, could do nothing but wave weakly with one hand.

Her other hand clutched the three-inch sapling, whose sharp point had driven into her throat, fracturing her jaws and the base of her skull. She was semiconscious, unable to call for help when found.

An ambulance crew saved off the stump a few inches below her chin. She was taken to a hospital with the willow shaft still protruding from her throat.

A brother said Miss Lohmeyer apparently fell down the bank while seeking willow cuttings to plant in her lawn.

Eleanor Names 5 'Candidates'

NEW YORK (P)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today named five men she said would make good Democratic presidential candidates in 1960.

The list did not include former Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson, whom she supported in two unsuccessful bids for the presidency. In her monthly column in the current issue of McCall's Magazine, she said she "would be happy" to see any of these Democrats make the race.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon; Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan; freshman Sen. Joseph Clark of Pennsylvania; Gov. Edmund Muskie of Maine; and Chester Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and former U.S. ambassador to India.

HOUSTON (P)—Galena Park police plan a campaign to discourage auto accessory thieves. Chief W. T. Orrison said motorists can get hubcaps and other accessories etched with identifying numbers for 25 cents an item. A permanent record will be kept of items marked so stolen property can be traced.

Little Too Big For A Termite

DALLAS (P)—It was no termite that cafe owner D. G. Clark, 45, spotted while he was opening the Navarro Lounge.

Clark told police while he was opening the lounge, a stranger crashed through the ceiling and cut his lip when he landed on the floor.

Patrolmen J. B. Nelson and D. D. Cambridge said the man, 37, had scrambled up a wall into the attic, squirmed through a pin-sized door into an unheated area, stepped on the ceiling and fell through. The man was held on suspicion of burglary.

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only COLONARD, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONARD's great moisten-

Lassie Comes Home, Leaves

MAYFIELD, Ky. — Lassie came home. But no one was there. Now she's gone.

Last November Lassie's owners, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Riley, moved from Mayfield to Houston, Tex., and took Lassie along.

Riley returned to his farm here late in November to finish the harvest. While here, he got a letter from his wife saying the dog was missing. Riley later returned to Texas.

Lassie turned up here Saturday after three months and 900 miles. Neighbors fed the dog, but yesterday she was missing again.

Lassie appeared frightened and lonely after finding no one home, they said.

Dog fanciers say Lassie is probably on her way back to Houston.

Uncle Ray: Theory May Explain Position Of Craters

By RAMON COFFMAN

Many astronomers believe that the moon was thrown from the earth vast ages ago. They go on to say that this must have happened before the earth cooled down very much from its molten condition.

If those astronomers are correct, the fact that the moon has more craters in the southern half may be explained.

When a part of the earth broke away, the upper side of that portion had been exposed to cooling. Flying out into space, the hot underside met intense cold, and the surface changed to a greater extent than the other side, which had hardened somewhat before the break took place.

What I have said is a theory, but it seems to account for the fact that the moon's craters are more numerous in one section than in another.

Q. What about the theory that the moon's craters were produced by meteors which fell on the surface?

A. That theory fails to explain why three times as many craters exist on the visible part of the moon's southern hemisphere as on the northern half.

Q. How deep are the craters?

A. Some of them are four miles deep. Others have a depth of less than half a mile.

Q. Modern astronomers declare that the moon is without water. If that is the case, why do some parts of the moon have names which mean "sea"?

A. Dark areas on the moon have Latin names which suggest water. These names date back to the time of Galileo, and mean "Sea of Nectar," "Sea of Serenity" and so on.

Galileo and other telescope pioneers worked with very small telescopes. They were able to learn some facts about the moon, but they were mistaken when they suggested that seas existed there.

Supreme Court Ousts Texas Suit On Water

WASHINGTON — A Texas suit against New Mexico over water rights to the Rio Grande was thrown out yesterday by the Supreme Court.

Filed directly to the high court, the suit contended that New Mexico violated the 1938 Rio Grande Compact which called for an equitable distribution of waters between Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

The court denied Texas permission to amend its complaint as the state had requested, a new Mexico motion to dismiss the complaint was granted "because of the absence of the United States as an indispensable party."

Texas claimed New Mexico failed to deliver the amount of water called for in the agreement and asked that New Mexico's use of the river be restricted until the shortages were made up.

The United States was interested in the suit, the Justice Department said, because of ownership of structures on the Middle Rio Grande project in New Mexico and because of Indian claims of water rights.

The department added in a memorandum filed with the court that the government did not wish to intervene. It said it believed federal work on the Middle Rio Grande project eventually "will accomplish everything that can be done toward a solution toward the problem."

Senator Scores Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON — Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) said today he considers proposed civil rights legislation a form of "tyranny" which should not be foisted on the American people.

The senator's comments were contained in testimony prepared for the House Judiciary subcommittee, which began the final day of its hearings on proposed civil rights bills.

"Tonight is the end," said Chairman Celler (D-NY). The hearings, scheduled to last only four days when they were started nearly a month ago, have been twice extended to accommodate Southerners.

Thurmond said: "In other countries tyranny has taken the forms of fascism, communism and absolute monarchy. I do not want to see it foisted on the American people under the alias of civil rights."

"Real civil rights and so-called civil rights should not be confused. Everybody favors human rights. But it is a fraud on the American people to pretend that human rights can long endure without constitutional restraint on the power of government."

The South Carolina lawmaker said the civil rights proposals under study by the subcommittee would "legalize, expand and extend" attempts by the federal government to usurp power.

"Congress by attempting to enact these so-called civil rights bills is invading the rights of the states," Thurmond added.

He said he would favor action "to regain for the states some of the power previously lost in unwarranted assaults on the states by the federal government."

The former South Carolina governor said he believed laws relating to civil rights could be more intelligently handled on the local levels of government because "state and county officials know the people and know the problems of the people."

The subcommittee plans to start drafting a civil rights bill as soon as the hearings end.

The Southern viewpoint also was presented yesterday by spokesmen from Texas and Arkansas. Both attacked the proposals as a federal invasion of state and local authority.

Davis Grant, assistant attorney general of Texas, said the civil rights proposals were "basically bad legislation" which would have a "corrosive effect" on states rights.

He called them unnecessary, a "shameful waste" of federal funds and an exercise of arbitrary powers over individual citizens.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas said provisions of the law are "so loosely worded that not a sheriff or police officer in the United States could be sure that he would not be investigated and tried by the federal government for an alleged violation of the civil rights of the person he took into custody."

Senate Candidates Converge In Dallas

By The Associated Press

Three Senate candidates crossed trails in Dallas Monday. Two touched on foreign policy in speeches.

Agriculture Commissioner John White criticized what he called the Eisenhower administration's "unrealistic foreign aid program."

In 40 years, White said, the federal government has spent nearly 116 billion dollars on foreign aid, and "there is no end in sight."

James Hart of Austin, former Supreme Court justice, said the preservation of the effectiveness of the United Nations was vital to the welfare of Israel and all small nations.

Ralph Yarborough campaigned in Dallas and planned to be in Kaufman, Tyler, Nacogdoches and Lufkin Tuesday. Hart planned to campaign in five East Texas cities with a television appearance in Texarkana.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson settled one question on the campaign. He ruled that March 2 is the deadline for filing applications for a place on the ballot in the April 2 election to fill the unexpired term vacated by Gov. Price Daniel.

Eleven candidates are in the race. More may enter.

The author of a bill that would require a runoff if no one candidate polls a majority over his combined opposition, predicted early action in the state Senate.

Rep. Joe Pool, whose controversial runoff bill has passed the House, said "There's a groundswell of public opinion building up for the Senate to do something about the bill in the next few days." The Senate refused to bring it up for debate a week ago.

Thad Hutcheson, the lone GOP candidate, pushed into West Texas, with a stop in Odessa. He said the two-party system was the "only inflexible and effective system of checks and balances on corruptions and misperformance in office."
