House Calls Probe Of Bribe Case

AUSTIN (P)—The House today unanimously authorized a nine-member committee to make a "fair, fair and impartial" investigation of a charge that Rep. James E. Cox of Corroge consented to accept a bribe to kill a bill.

The bribery charge if found to be true constitutes "a serious, gross and inexcusable offense against the rules of the House," said the resolution authorizing the probe.

The committee will meet some time today, said Rep. Wade E. Spilman of McAllen, named chairman by House Speaker Waggoner Carr.

Swift grand jury action was also promised today on the charge that the lawmaker offered to withdraw a bill he sponsored if he was paid $5,000.

Cox was arrested on the criminal charge early today at Corroge and posted $5,000 bond.

Cox allegedly agreed to accept the bribe from Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians' Assn. The legislation involved was a measure that would outlaw the practice of naturopathy.

Cox was not present at his desk, No. 99 on the House floor, when 144 of the 150 members registered by flashing green lights on the big electric voting board.

Members listened in hushed silence as Carr in a solemn address opened the first session since filing of the charge. He called on the House to act "swiftly, fearlessly, always staying with the right and letting the chips fall where they may" in the case.

Carr also said that the House should protect the constitutional and legal rights of the accused—"always remembering that a man is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty."

A round of handclaps followed the speech in which the speaker said that the overwhelming majority of the House "have maintained high standards of courage, honesty, integrity and conduct."

Travis County Dist. Atty. Les Procter announced that he would call Carr, Dr. Harmon and Bill Kavanaugh of the Department of Public Safety as his first witnesses before the grand jury. It meets at 1 p.m.

The investigating committee was given broad powers to subpoena witnesses and records.

Members of the committee in addition to Spilman, who also was head of the interim House Investigating Committee are Max Smith of San Marcos, Leftoy Saul of Kress, Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, Carl Conley of Raymondville, John R. Lee of Kermit, W. S. Heatley of Paducah, Wesley Roberts of Lamesa and Barefoot Sanders of Dallas.

Spilman said he was one of the House members Carr conferred with, and who heard the secret tape recording, before any charges were filed.

When asked if he thought the committee had the authority to investigate other possible bribery attempts, Spilman replied: "We do not have the authority, we have the responsibility of determining if anyone else is involved."

Spilman said there also was a "question" if the committee could force Cox to answer questions should Cox choose to plead conditional immunity—a protection given lawmakers against illegal prosecution.

Procter said that he hoped to present to the grand jury all evidence now available, including the tape recording of an alleged hotel room conversation between the legislator and Dr. Harmon. Cox last night declined to comment on the charge and consulted a lawyer. He said he would comment only from the floor of the House.

Despite several reports that other legislators might be involved in the alleged payoff offer, Carr said the tape recording contained no other names "that I know of."

Carr said a group of House leaders had under consideration this morning steps to be taken in the case concerning Cox's membership in the House. "It's too soon to say just what we will do," he said.

Harmon said Cox offered to withdraw his bill in the Texas Legislature for $5,000. The bill, authored by Cox, would repeal a statute regulating naturopaths and, in effect, would put them out of business in Texas.

Naturopaths use natural therapy rather than drugs or surgery in healing.

Dr. Harmon said Cox, 36, made the offer to accept the alleged bribe in a conversation with him in a hotel here Feb. 20.

"I called an electronics outfit and asked them to put a recording device in my hotel room. Then Cox came to me and said that for $5,000 he would be willing to withdraw his House Bill 274," Harmon said.

Dr. Harmon said he recorded the conversation on tape and reported it to Carr and gave him the tape.

U. S. Again Urges Israel To Withdraw

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States today again urged Israel to make "a voluntary withdrawal" from disputed Middle East areas to avoid United Nations sanctions or other pressure.

The State Department issued a statement to that effect as Secretary Dulles met in an urgent and hastily arranged conference with Israel's Foreign Minister Golda Meir and Ambassador Abba Eban.

State Department press officer Lincoln White reported consultations are under way with six other countries in the United Nations to work out "appropriate language by which to express the President's policies."

White emphasized there had been no change "in any respect" in America's position as set forth by President Eisenhower in his Feb. 20 radio-television address to the nation.

White's statement noted U. S. collaboration with the other states on what presumably might emerge as a new pressure resolution in the U. N.

"In the event this becomes necessary we are still hopeful that there will be a voluntary withdrawal by Israel so that no further U. N. action in this respect will be called for. We are now having a further exchange on this aspect of the matter with the government of Israel," he said.

Mrs. Meir, who accompanied Eban to Dulles' office, is in this country attending U. N. sessions in New York.

Eban has been holding marathon sessions with Dulles for more than two weeks. They agreed last Sunday on a formula for withdrawing Israeli troops from Gaza and the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba, but Eban has been unable to win U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's support.

Eban told reporters his visit to Dulles today was "a continuation of our talks."

"The foreign minister came at the suggestion of Secretary of State Dulles," Eban said.

The United States is drafting a resolution calling for temporary U. N. administration of the Gaza Strip and free navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba.

The three freed yesterday were Edward W. Kane, 28, who had served 15 months for petty larceny; Roland L. King, 35, who had served a year for violation of parole on a previous conviction; and Alvin Stephens, 21, jailed 10 months ago for petty larceny. All were serving sentences up to three years. They were released on parole.

Cases of the others who participated in the rescue work are under consideration by the City Parole Commission.

LAMESA — J. D. Dyer Jr. Tuesday filed as a candidate for re-election to the Lamesa City Council.

He is the second incumbent to ask re-election. The other is J. Ray Williams who announced last week.

The election will be held April 2. Dyer and Williams are the only two candidates announced for two places on the council.

At Hearing

William J. Brennan Jr., nominated by President Eisenhower to be a Supreme Court justice, sits in the hearing room in Washington, D.C., as the Senate Judiciary Committee holds a public hearing on the nomination. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) spoke in opposition of Brennan, who is serving on the nation's highest court under a recess appointment.

Brennan Sees 'Perspective' Need In Probes

WASHINGTON (P)—Justice William J. Brennan Jr. of the Supreme Court says he favors congressional exposure of Communists but felt in 1954 "We ought to regain our perspective."

That was his reply yesterday to questions from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) who in 1954 was busy investigating Reds as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. But Brennan testified he had no specific investigating committees in mind when he referred in speeches to "witch hunts" and "harassment."

McCarthy said he has "a lot more questions" to ask Brennan but probably will not ask them because, he said, "I can't see any benefit of going over the same ground again."

Brennan, nominated by President Eisenhower last month, already is sitting on the court under a recess appointment made last fall after the retirement of Justice Sherman Minton.

A 50-year-old New Jersey Democrat, Brennan heard his praises sung at yesterday's committee hearing by the state's two Republican senators.

Brennan testified yesterday, in answer to McCarthy's questions, that he regards communism as a conspiracy against the United States. He also said he was "very, very much" in favor of congressional exposure of subversive activities.

McCarthy, however, said he had only been strengthened in the convictions he held about Brennan and told the committee Brennan had shown "an underlying hostility to congressional attempts to expose the Communist conspiracy."

The jurist said that in his speeches in 1954 and 1955 he had been "talking as an American speaking his piece about a scene that was bothering me."

He said it is important that congressional committees have the "complete confidence of all of us" and "I just felt we ought to regain our perspective in order to do a better job of licking this thing."

How it got mixed up with the scandal magazines and the famed wrong-door raid on Marilyn Monroe's apartment allegedly staged by Frank Sinatra and Joe DiMaggio is not too apparent. But the committee says such publications are linked with collection agencies in the gathering of material.

Hollywood sources say that movie industry pressure on Sacramento politicians is behind the probe; that many big stars and executives believe that a wide-open investigation of how the magazines get their stories can all but kill their mass circulation appeal.

"The scandal magazines and the unscrupulous collection agencies both employ professional goons who will stop at nothing—even to the breaking of an arm or a leg—to collect an unpaid debt from a working man," Kraft said.

"Our investigators have found that these same flouters, all ex-convicts and known hoodlums, also work at gathering material for the scandal magazines."

Lloyd Harris, chief investigator, claims that his staff has found that Sinatra and the former New York Yankees' home run slugger went along with four detectives on a raid on an apartment where Miss Monroe was supposed to be. But Harris said the raid misfired when the six banged down the door of the wrong apartment occupied by a woman resident.

Purpose of the raid, Harris said, was to get predivorce evidence for DiMaggio, who was divorced from the blonde actress Oct. 31, 1955.

A story titled "The Real Reason for Marilyn Monroe's Divorce" appeared in Confidential magazine last September.

Harris said his investigation so far has uncovered evidence that private detectives, call girls, Hollywood party girls, bit actors and actresses—and other fringe elements of Hollywood life have operated as a tip service for the magazines.

Runoff Bill 'Virtually' Killed As Senate Balks

Debate Refused On Vote Measure

AUSTIN (P)—The Senate today refused to take up the special Senate election runoff bill by a vote of 17-12. The vote was four short of the 21 needed to get the bill out for debate.

Sen. Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, sponsor of the House-passed and administration-backed proposal told his colleagues shortly before the roll call.

"This may be the last call. I'm serious. Texas has a lot at stake in this bill."

After the verdict by the Senate Hazelwood refused to say flatly that the bill was dead. He said he would bring it up again when and if he got the necessary vote.

Voting for the bill were Sens. Aikin, Ashley, Bracewell, Colson, Gonzalez, Hazelwood, Kazen, Lock, Martin, Moffett, Owen, Parkhouse, Phillips, Reagan, Roberts, Rogers, and Secrest.

Against it were Sens. Bradshaw, Fry, Hardeman, Herring, Hudson, Krueger, Lane, Moore, Smith, Weinert, Willis and Wood.

Sens. Fuller and Ratliff were absent.

The bill would have created a runoff in the April 2 U. S. Senate race if the high man did not get more than 50 per cent of the vote.

Gov. Price Daniel had submitted the measure to the Senate as emergency legislation following its passage in the House by more than a two-thirds vote.

It was a defeat for the administration.

The Senate debated for nearly an hour before taking up the bill by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas. The debate was on a water bill to cancel unused portions of permits. After the decision on the Pool bill.

U.S. Calls Home Hungary Legate

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States disclosed today it is calling home its minister to Hungary, Edward T. Wailes. He rejected accusations made against him in a demand for his removal by the Hungarian Red regime.

A dispatch from Budapest described Wailes' departure as a snub for the government of Premier Janos Kadar.

Hollywood Target For Juicy 'Expose'

LOS ANGELES (P)—A legislative committee today digs into the Hollywood sources for so-called scandal magazine stories in what promises to be an even juicier expose than any ever printed in the magazines.

Officially, the committee, headed by Sen. Fred Kraft (R-San Diego) is known as the California Senate's Interim Committee on Collection Agencies.

How it got mixed up with the scandal magazines and the famed wrong-door raid on Marilyn Monroe's apartment allegedly staged by Frank Sinatra and Joe DiMaggio is not too apparent. But the committee says such publications are linked with collection agencies in the gathering of material.

Hollywood sources say that movie industry pressure on Sacramento politicians is behind the probe; that many big stars and executives believe that a wide-open investigation of how the magazines get their stories can all but kill their mass circulation appeal.

"The scandal magazines and the unscrupulous collection agencies both employ professional goons who will stop at nothing—even to the breaking of an arm or a leg—to collect an unpaid debt from a working man," Kraft said.

"Our investigators have found that these same flouters, all ex-convicts and known hoodlums, also work at gathering material for the scandal magazines."

Lloyd Harris, chief investigator, claims that his staff has found that Sinatra and the former New York Yankees' home run slugger went along with four detectives on a raid on an apartment where Miss Monroe was supposed to be. Texan Bags Elephants With Bow And Arrows

SAN ANTONIO (P)—William Negley, San Antonio oilman, has killed two elephants with bow and arrows to win a $10,000 bet, he cabled his wife.

Mrs. Negley informed A. N. Gassman, archery dealer, that she had received a cable from her husband in the Belgian Congo saying: "Killed two elephants according to wager."

Negley, 42, had bet William K. Carpenter, Wilmington, Del., $1,000 to $10,000 he could kill an elephant with archery equipment. Negley left on his expedition Feb. 9 with a 5-foot, 4-inch "hard rock" maple center bow. It has a 102-pound pull and shoots 33-inch arrows of compressed cedar impregnated with plastic.

Spilled Milk

A splatter of white hits the ground at Franklinville, N.Y., as a group of dairy farmers striking for higher prices knock over milk cans in front of the local plant of Breyer's Ice Cream plant. Strikers are being led by members of the Tri-State Master Dairy Farmers Guild.

Death Threat Enters Senate Union Probe

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today the brother of a key witness in the labor racketeering investigation has been threatened with death, and that the FBI is investigating.

McClellan said the man who got the threat is "Carl Elkins, who is in Arizona," brother of James Elkins, a Portland, Ore., bootlegger and gambler now testifying before McClellan's special investigating committee.

McClellan called the threat a challenge from the underworld "to law and order and to the power of the government of the United States."

McClellan said it was a challenge his committee will accept. The statement that there had been a threat to Carl Elkins marked the start of the second day of hearings in which the committee is investigating alleged gangster and racketeer infiltration of labor unions and industry in the Portland area.

James Elkins said after McClellan's statement that he had just one comment: "My brother is not in the rackets. We call him square."

Carl Elkins, 61, told police in Phoenix, Ariz., that he received a telephone call last night in which a voice he couldn't identify told him:

"Have that brother of yours quiet down. Frank and Dave don't want him to talk any more."

Carl Elkins said he cut off his call with "some good, old-fashioned multi-skinner language."

Informed of McClellan's statement, Carl Elkins told a reporter in Phoenix that his caller had not threatened death, and that he didn't know "where such a story could have gotten out." He said he attributes the call to "some screwball crank, not a rank-and-file union man" and is not worried.

The FBI in Phoenix declined comment except to say the call was being investigated.

When the Senate committee convened this morning, McClellan held a whispered consultation with fellow committee members. Then he announced:

"Since the witness testified yesterday afternoon the FBI has advised us that his brother, Carl Elkins, who is in Arizona, has received another — this is not the first — anonymous telephone call threatening his life if he should testify or if Mr. Elkins, the witness present, should continue to testify."

Ann Thompson, a Seattle bawdy house operator, testified today she once considered entering organized prostitution in Portland, Ore., but decided against it because "I would have had to have a lot of money."

She denied her reason was, as James Elkins, a Portland gambler had testified earlier, because of "the small percentage she would get."

The bejeweled, middle-aged woman told the special Senate committee investigating alleged labor and industry racketeering that she had decided "the heck with it."

Elkins yesterday described dealings with teamsters officials and with William Langley, Portland district attorney. He said he helped swing Teamsters Union political support to Langley in 1954 in return for what he called a "flat-footed" pledge from Langley to protect Elkins' gambling joints.

Elkins, 56, said he is under some two dozen state and federal indictments, some of them brought by Langley as district attorney. Langley has been indicted in the Portland scandals.

Other witnesses testified that Local 600 of the Teamsters Union in Spokane loaned more than $50,000 to gamblers and saloon keepers in Seattle and Spokane.

The names of Dave Beck, international president of the teamsters, and Frank W. Brewster, head of the 11-state Western Teamsters Conference, figured in yesterday's testimony.

Albert J. Ruhl, secretary-treasurer of Spokane Local 690, said that among the $50,000 loans from union funds one for $30,000 went to Sam Bassett, general counsel for the Western Teamsters Conference. Ruhl said Bassett turned the money over to Richard Klinge of Seattle to set up the Rainbow Tavern there.

Kennedy said Klinge was a college classmate and neighbor of Dave Beck Jr., son of the teamsters president. He said Bassett has given the committee an affidavit saying the loan was arranged for Klinge "on orders of Dave Beck" senior.

In Seattle, Klinge said "it was a legitimate loan, just like doing business with a bank." He said he paid back the loan with interest and offered to "show the committee any of my records."

The elder Beck now is in Europe on his third trip abroad in as many months. He has promised to be back to testify in late March.

Ruhl said another loan, for $17,000, was made to Sam Sellinas, who Ruhl said needed the money "to square up his taxes." Sellinas was described as "a well-known gambler" who moved recently from Spokane to Seattle.

Sellinas said in Seattle he had put up a horsebreeding farm and other property as collateral and "everything was legal." He said he still is repaying the loan with interest and has reduced the principal to $7,000.

Brewster is expected to be called as a witness next week.

Lamesa Gives 6-1 Approval To $300,000 Bond Issues

LAMESA — City voters gave 6-1 approval to bond issues for expanding water and sewer facilities and new fire department equipment yesterday.

Vote in favor of issuance of $300,000 in bonds to finance new water lines and development of a new well field was 305-57.

Lamesans favored $100,000 in bonds to pay for new sewer lines by a margin of 305-58.

The vote for $50,000 in fire department bonds was 300-52. The money will be used to construct a new fire station in the north part of Lamesa and to purchase two fire trucks and accessories.

The Lamesa City Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to canvass election returns. Councilmen also are due to set a date for opening bids on purchase of the bonds.

$800,000 Bond Issue Considered

Big Spring Independent School District trustees Tuesday looked over a schedule under which an $800,000 bond issue might be financed.

Carter Johnson of Rauscher-Pierce Company presented a proposed schedule of amortization for an amount which was fixed for a projected expansion of a new junior high and for additions to the senior high.

No action was taken on the proposal. Trustees discussed the possibility of submitting an issue in the amount of $800,000 but with the understanding that only about $400,000 would be sold currently to finance additional facilities for the new junior high. (Approximate $500,000 remains on hand from last year's $900,000 school bond is-due for the construction of a new junior high plant. The remainder was used for a new stadium, new elementary school construction and site purchase.)

The board asked Johnson to work up a schedule for retirement of a $400,000 issue as an alternate to the larger figure.

Johnson said that $800,000 could be added to the district's bond total, but that on a $37 million valuation this would be within a fraction of the maximum of 10 per cent of assessed valuations. The bonding house representative may be back in this area next week with a new schedule. Meanwhile, the board delayed any decision on the amount of an issue to be fixed on petitions which the Chamber of Commerce education committee said it would circulate.

Old Dog, New 'Trick'

Randy, a nine-year-old Bedlington terrier who was noticed to be deaf about six months ago, sits patiently as the volume of his hearing aid ear plug is adjusted by his owner, Mrs. Edwin H. Bostick, of Fort Washington, Long Island, N.Y. Mrs. Bostick and her husband, who rigged the battery to Randy's harness, say their pet is becoming accustomed to the hearing aid and once again comes when he is called.

'Fraud' Claimed In Insurance Probe

AUSTIN (AP)—A House investigation of the financial downfall of the ICT Insurance Co. heard in its first session that the firm's assets were sapped by "hidden transactions that were outright fraud."

Promoters should not be allowed to use insurance as a vehicle by which to prey upon the unwary public without the threat of criminal prosecution for their wrongdoing, State Insurance Commission Chairman John Osorio testified yesterday.

"Failures of this nature resulted in irreparable damage to the Texas insurance industry as it undermines the confidence of the people."

Osorio was the first witness in the initial meeting of the five-man House investigating committee which has instructions to report by April 1. It is directed specifically to weigh the effectiveness and adequacy of present insurance laws, and to fix responsibility for the Dallas stock fire and casualty insurance firm being placed in temporary receivership.

Committee Chairman Scott McDonald of Fort Worth also urged his fellow probers to look for the part that state legislators might have played, if any, in the case.

After hearing from Osorio, chief insurance Commissioner Examiner Tom Robinson, Assistant Chief

Judge Takes Pity On Youth

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight years ago the mother of Philip Vetter Jr. held his hand over an open gas flame to punish him for petty theft. The hand healed into a claw-like mass.

Yesterday, Vetter, now 36, appeared before Judge Irwin D. Davidson in General Sessions Court for sentencing on a car-theft charge.

Instead of sentencing Vetter, Davidson said he would try to find a doctor to operate on the twisted hand in hope of rehabilitating the youth.

He deferred sentencing for three months and placed Vetter in custody of probation officers.

"If I were to send him to jail," Davidson said, "he would come out with more hatred, more anti-social tendencies. I am loathe to do that because he never had a chance and all these resentments are linked to that hand."

Let's Get Acquainted

Mistress Of Mussolini Is Named In Trial

VENICE, Italy (AP)—The name of Mussolini's mistress, Claretta Petacci, was brought into the Wilma Montesi trial today as one of the former mistresses of Ugo Montagna.

Anna Maria Caglio who was Montagna's mistress at the time of Wilma's death and is a main prosecution witness, made the allegations in a sheet of handwritten notes read in court today.

"Mussolini surprised the two of them together," Miss Caglio said in the notes, which she gave to Rome police during an earlier investigation.

"But even he feared to do anything against Montagna. That is why I doubt that anyone else would dare to act against him," Montagna, Rome man-about-town, is charged with having tried to cover up Wilma's death.

The chief defendant, Gianpiero Piccioni, who is charged with abandoning the raven-haired Wilma by the sea after a party at Montagna's house, believing her already dead, smiled as the notes were read. Piccioni is the son of a former foreign minister.

Miss Caglio will be called tomorrow for the first time to give evidence. She has promised "astounding new revelations" which will prove that Piccioni and Montagna — who both have denied even knowing Wilma — were with her on the night before her death.

Algerian Rebels Boast War Cabinet

TUNIS (AP)—Leaders of the Algerian Nationalist rebellion's headquarters in Tunis today claimed that their movement has developed into a well-organized insurrection complete with a "war cabinet" and radio communications.

These informants said that the National Liberation Front (FLN) now controls a fighting force of 100,000 men. They asserted that this force is uniformed, with chevrons and star insignia, and that the organization gives special pay to "freedom fighters" with families.

Security May Close Army Court-Martial

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Army decides to court-martial Col. John Nickerson on charges that he failed to heed security regulations, it will make the decisions on how much the public should know of what transpires at the trial.

If a court-martial is ordered "it will be as open as the interest of national security will allow," according to 3rd Army Headquarters in Atlanta to which queries were referred.

There has been speculation the case may involve the Defense Department's basic policies in missile development — a subject of controversy since last fall.

Rotary Hears GOP Candidate

Results of the Senate race now under way in Texas will effect the entire United States, Thad Hutcheson, Republican candidate, told Big Spring Rotarians in what was billed as a non-political talk Tuesday.

Hutcheson visited here briefly while on a campaign tour of West Texas. He left Big Spring for Abilene shortly after the Rotary Club appearance.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Hutcheson who also was a guest of Rotarians. E. B. McCormick, Howard County Republican chairman, introduced the candidate and Mrs. Hutcheson at the luncheon.

Hutcheson said the most enjoyable aspect of his political activity has been meeting with civic groups. He declared that public officials should be "servants — not masters." He urged his listeners not to leave voting and running for office to other persons.

The Webb AFB Chorale opened the Rotary program by singing "The Song of America," by Roy Ringwald.

The club was asked to participate in an inter-city Rotary meeting in Stanton Thursday. Other guests at yesterday's meeting were Ted Hunt, Roosevelt, N. M., W. D. Kenson and A. C. Alexander, Snyder, Howard H. Redding, Midland, and Lawrence King, Snyder.

Signs Found Of Missing Pilot

SHORT CREEK, Ariz. (AP)—Evidence found in desolate country northwest of the Grand Canyon indicated today that a student pilot missing since Friday is alive after a forced landing.

The man is Mickey Dunbaden, 23, Las Vegas, Nev., a mechanic employed by Bonanza Airlines. He disappeared while on his first cross country solo flight from Las Vegas to St. George, Utah.

Yesterday his light plane and an SOS spelled out in rocks were found in rough terrain near Tuweep, Ariz. A helicopter from Nellis Air Force Base, Las Vegas landed beside the plane and found a note from Dunbaden.

It said that after a forced landing he was making his way down the nearby Colorado River on foot in search of a road. At dusk search planes spotted a campfire near the river which may have been kindled by Dunbaden.

Tuweep is nearly 50 miles south of here and 110 miles east of Las Vegas.

27-Ounce Baby

Shelah Annette Manners eals lunch from a syringe and tube with Dr. Sam Carney and Mrs. Nell Hawkins, a nursing technician, waiting table. The premature girl, second smallest to survive at Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., was born at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Manners, in a rural area 100 miles west of Nashville. A neighbor attended the mother at birth. The baby weighed 29 ounces at birth and now weighs 27 ounces after passing the crucial stage.

Badly Burned Girl Survives Ordeal

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — Pert, bright-eyed Judy White has come smiling through one of the severest ordeals in medical history — recovery from burns that covered most of her body. And tomorrow, on her 13th birthday, just about the most precious anniversary gift possible will be hers — her name will be taken off the serious list at the U. S. Naval Hospital. Many believed Judy never would see this day. When she was brought to the hospital eight months ago, third-degree burns covered 74 per cent of her body. Physicians considered 40 per cent fatal. The hospital has been unable to find a previous record of recovery from burns so extensive as suffered by Judy. Judy was awakened early one morning last June by the whimpering of her puppy. Thinking the little animal hungry, she was heating milk when the stove ignited her nightgown, made of a flammable synthetic, and in a flash she was enveloped in flame. During the first three months at the hospital, Judy's condition was extremely critical. Physicians gave her only a 50-50 chance. But last October she began asking Capt. Lewis L. Haynes, hospital chief of surgery, when she could go home. Dr. Haynes, one of those who never gave up hope of Judy's recovery, told her, "When you see the first robin."

Texan Sees Rights Bill As Creating 'Legal Aid Clinic'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Davis Grant, assistant attorney general of Texas, says he thinks one provision of civil rights legislation pending in Congress would turn the Justice Department into "a legal aid clinic." He said another provision would violate barratry laws of Texas and possibly other states. He testified yesterday before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee. Grant said one bill provides for institution of civil action by the attorney general in behalf of persons claiming redress for violation of their civil rights. "This is a totally new concept of the functions of four federal government and specifically the Justice Department," Grant said. "It would make a legal aid clinic of that department and if enacted the attorney general will certainly need more like one hundred new assistants than one to take care of all who would seek free legal assistance." Grant called one feature of the bill "amazing." It would authorize the attorney general to file a lawsuit on behalf of an individual without the individual's consent. Grant said that would be an outright violation of Texas' barratry statute—a law that prohibits inciting, encouraging or maintaining litigation.

German Legate Has Flair For Making Friends

WASHINGTON (AP)—David Kirkpatrick Este Bruce is a rich man with a flair for doing the dramatic and making people like him. Tall, spare, gray and grave, he has been in so many things in his 59 years the list sounds like the old children's game of count-the-buttons. But instead of doctor, lawyer, Indian chief, it goes: Soldier, diplomat, lawyer, farmer, businessman, lawmaker, public official, counter-spy, historian, art patron and now — diplomat again.

It undoubtedly is a tribute to Bruce, just nominated by President Eisenhower to be ambassador to West Germany, that the only criticism so far has been that he gave $1,000 to the Democratic party. Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) complained yesterday that Bruce's $1,000 contribution to the 1956 Democratic campaign "raises a question in my mind whether he supports the Eisenhower foreign policies."

Democrat Bruce presumably had a strong personal interest in the 1956 campaign. His old boss, New York's Gov. Harriman, was an active figure in it, especially in pre-convention skirmishing for the presidential nomination. Bruce has been quietly clipping his investment coupons during the last two years at his 4,000-acre farm, Staunton Hall at Brookneal, Va. But he would carry to the West German post a strong diplomatic background, including one year as under secretary of state, three years as ambassador to France, about a year as vice consul at Rome and two years as special U. S. representative to the European coal-steel community.

He was born in Baltimore on Lincoln's birthday in 1898. Father William Cabell Bruce was a lawyer, writer and Democratic U. S. senator from Maryland during 1923-29. Mother Louise Este Fisher Bruce, member of a prominent industrial-financial family, was a civic leader in Baltimore. World War I lured young Bruce away from his studies at Princeton, just as World War II dropped him out of public life into the hush-hush of the super-secret Office of Strategic Services. He was decorated in both wars — the first one as an artillery captain and the second as an Air Force colonel and later chief of the OSS operation at London. After World War I, Bruce studied law at the Universities of Virginia and Maryland. He has divided his loyalties between the two states ever since. He served in the legislatures of both states. Maryland claims him, since he was born there, but his legal residence is Virginia. During 1929-39, as businessman and gentleman farmer, he became associated with the brokerage house of W. A. Harriman Co. as well as the boards of 25 big corporations.

In July, 1947, Bruce became assistant secretary of commerce when Harriman was secretary. A year later he was roving ambassador in Europe to put across the Marshall Plan aid program which Harriman headed. Bruce married Andrew Mellon's daughter, Ailsa, in 1926. She bore him a daughter, Audrey. They were divorced in 1945 and on April 23 of that year Bruce married the former Evangeline Bell, daughter of the late Edward Bell. He had been a foreign service officer stationed at Peiping. The Bruces have three children — Alexandra, David and Nicholas.

Marine Sergeant Convicted On Charge Of Recruit Assault

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — A bull-voiced Marine staff sergeant was convicted yesterday of assault on a recruit at this basic training post.

A special court-martial sentenced William E. Rich, 23, Canton, N. C., a twice-wounded veteran of Korea, to reduction to the rank of sergeant and a fine of $50 a month for three months. At the same time, it was learned another drill instructor, Sgt. Clinton L. Jones, Pensacola, Fla., had been tried simultaneously with Rich on charges of mistreating recruits. He was broken to private first class, ordered confined for 30 days and fined $50.

Capt. James F. Mahoney, Marine public information officer, said he had no foreknowledge of the Jones trial, which previously had been announced for "later in the week." Rich, one of four drill instructors accused of mistreating recruits, was convicted of assault "consummated by a battery" on Pvt. Kenneth Allen Benjamin, New York City. Originally, he was also accused of striking Pvt. Laverio Glusich, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Pvt. Dominick Tomaro, East Paterson, N.J., and choking Pvt. Gaetona Onglima, North Bergen, N.J.

He denied everything. As the charges were originally presented, Rich could have received a bad conduct discharge, reduction to private, six months at hard labor and forfeiture of two-thirds of his pay — $183.40 a month — during confinement. Tomaro himself was tried on charges of disobeying orders and given a 30-day suspended sentence. Rich brought a smile to the court when he told of having muster about 5 a.m. Jan. 10 and finding Tomaro missing. "I fell 'em in to see that I hadn't lost none during the night. I come up one short and they told me it was Tomaro. I went into the hut and he was still sleeping. I waked him and asked him if he wouldn't like to go along with the others. He said he couldn't walk. I assisted him out of the sack."

Afterward, Rich testified Tomaro went to sick bay. Tomaro said in his testimony Rich struck him Jan. 10, though it might have been "unintentional." It was Rich's contention he couldn't have hit Tomaro because Tomaro was not there to be hit.

In the Rich trial, the parade of defense witnesses, including Tomaro's company commander, Capt. John A. Scott of Baltimore, Md., testified they believed Tomaro to be a liar. Even so, 2nd Lt. George P. Gunther of Hamburg, N.Y., government prosecutor, contended testimony from Benjamin, Glusich and Onglima had gone unchallenged. However, Gunther told the court, "the prosecution did not and will not contend that these (charges) were of gross seriousness." Rich testified he couldn't have slapped Benjamin, as Benjamin claimed, because he, Rich, was busy elsewhere with the platoon. In addition, Rich said he could not have struck Tomaro at the time Tomaro said he did, because Tomaro had left the platoon shortly after reveille that day and had gone to sick bay. He denied Glusich and Onglima's charges flatly. Then he gave an offhand assessment of all the men who brought the charges, except Onglima. Rich classed Benjamin's attitude toward the Marine Corps as "poor and filled with resentment. If you called him down in front of anybody else, he'd just about break into tears."

As for Glusich, Rich said, "he is a pretty good boy. I can't understand why he would want to do anything like this."

As for Tomaro, Rich said, "he just didn't have it. . . he wasn't worth wasting time on."

Rich, in denying he struck Benjamin on Jan. 15, said, "If I had, I would have been a damn fool."

Still to be tried before a summary court is Sgt. Daniel J. Corey of Boston, Mass. A second man, Cpl. William Walsh, of Lyndhurst, N. J., faces a special court-martial.

Rich testified he couldn't have slapped Benjamin, as Benjamin claimed, because he, Rich, was busy elsewhere with the platoon. In addition, Rich said he could not have struck Tomaro at the time Tomaro said he did, because Tomaro had left the platoon short-

To the average American, accustomed to sit himself in his automobile and travel from New York to New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and across the continent through Ohio, Illinois, Kansas, New Mexico, and on to San Francisco, unhampered by anything but speed cops and toll roads, the meaning of the term "common market" is very clear: What we have in the United States.

Zoning Hearing To Be March 11 On Three Areas

Three areas of the city will be considered for zoning changes at a public hearing March 11. The zoning board has tentatively approved the changes, but the public hearing is required before the city commission will consider the matter. The areas are in widely scattered sections of the city. The two-block area west of North Goliad between Ninth and 10th is up for consideration. Residents of the area requested a change from the present B (two-party residence) to an E (community business) zone. All blocks between Mesquite and Hillcrest, from Highway 80 to Lakeview, except three half-blocks are considered for upgrading to a D zone. The D zone permits multiple dwellings. Presently the area is zoned G and H, both business areas. The three half-blocks facing U.S. 89 are not under consideration but will remain as they are now—G. The third area would be upgraded from a B zone to an A—one party residence. It is bounded by Donley, State, 20th, and 21st. Should the zoning board approve the changes at the public hearing on March 11, the proposals would then be submitted to the city commission the next day for action.

Uncle Ray: Some Lunar Craters Have Mighty Width

By RAMON COFFMAN Some of the moon's craters are from 50 to 140 miles in diameter! Others measure less than a quarter of a mile from side to side. Q. How can we tell the heights of mountains on the moon? A. This is done by observing changes in the shadows cast by craters and other mountain formations. The science of geometry is brought into use, and the heights have been learned with accuracy. In much the same way we measure the depths inside the craters on the moon. The bottoms of some craters are lower than the ground level outside the rims. Q. Do shadows explain all the markings on the moon? A. Not by any means! Most of the markings are due to the material in vast areas which differ in their ability to reflect light. It is believed that some of the vast plains on the moon are composed of lava. The steep mountains on the moon have sharp outlines. Several of the craters have streaks which radiate from them, and these streaks give the moon its "peeled orange" look. Q. Is it true that radar waves have reached the moon? A. Yes. This was done for the first time 11 years ago. The waves came back in just a bit more than two and a half seconds. The radar "round trip" time agreed with the calculations which astronomers had made long before about the speed of light. Q. How large is Tycho Crater? A. From one side of the rim to the other the distance is 54 miles. The depth of Tycho Crater is 17 thousand feet, or just over three miles.

Mountains on the moon, like those shown here, have sharp outlines.

Eyesore Or Masterpiece? Puzzle To Philadelphians

PHILADELPHIA — Is it a shocking eyesore, or a mellowed masterpiece of art? Should it be destroyed, or should it simply be touched up by dotting experts? Such questions revolved today around Philadelphia's City Hall, a delap of gingerbread and offbeat Gothic architecture with William Penn at the top. More than 400 members of the Citizens Council of City Planning got together and resumed the old argument. "It's a pretentious monstrosity," huffed one citizen planner. "Rot," puffed another. "It's in a class by itself."

The first man hooted back: "That's exactly what I meant." Mayor Richardson Dilworth reckoned it would cost about 40 million dollars to give the old pile a proper face-lifting, and to his mind it would not be worth that much. Let the Penn Tower stand as a centerpiece for City Hall Square, he said, but replace the huge hall itself with a cluster of new buildings, functional yet nice to look at. Sydney E. Martin, chairman of the board of the School of Fine Arts, asserted that City Hall "has many of the handsomest rooms of any public building in America," and that less than eight million dollars would be needed to perk up the less ravishing features of the building.

Cops Out To Curb Strike Violence

NEW YORK — State troopers patrolled highways today in sections of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania to curb further violence in a milk price strike, now in its third day. Reinforced state police detachments were ordered out as the strike grew in momentum. The strike thus far has been marked by sporadic outbreaks of gunfire, dynamiting, truck stoppages, picketing, fist fights and milk contamination. There have been no serious injuries, but several men have been arrested. A thousand tons of milk have been spilled on the ground or otherwise destroyed as a small group of dairy farmers pressed demands for a higher price for raw milk. Only an estimated 3,500 of the tristate area's 45,000 dairymen supplying the New York City metropolitan milkshed are said to be involved. The strikers are members of the Tristate Master Dairy Guild. The Milk Marketing Administration said that about 10 per cent of the metropolitan area's milk supply was withheld yesterday. It caused no hardship to housewives. Affected were 48 of the area's 381 processing plants, an increase of 17 over the previous day.

The plants normally produce 10 million quarts of milk a day. Withheld yesterday were 2,948,925 pounds of milk, sufficient for almost a million quarts of milk. City Health Commissioner Lena Baumgartner said it has had "no effect on the fresh milk supply" in the city. She said many dealers were filling their fresh milk needs by diverting milk normally used for cream, condensed milk and ice cream. The Rev. John W. Dorney, executive secretary of the guild, predicted that the strike would widen with some 25,000 dairymen participating by Saturday. His claim was disputed by leaders of other dairymen's organizations. The Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives in Syracuse, N.Y., said, "All responsible dairy farmer organizations in this milkshed are opposed to this strike." The United Milk Producers, claiming a membership of 1,900 in New Jersey, said it would take no part in the boycott. The guild is demanding payment of $5.75 per hundredweight of milk, or about 12.4 cents a quart, Dorney, a Congregational minister, said the new price would barely cover the cost of production. The present price per hundredweight is $4.75 or about 9.8 cents a quart.

Youth Admits Pipe Slaying

PATERSON, N.J. — A blond, blue-eyed boy has admitted the slaying of Giovanna Giambra, a pretty 25-year-old secretary, with a piece of pipe last Nov. 12. Dep. Atty. Gen. Charles S. Joelson said early today the 15-year-old youth, whom he described as a "very clean-cut looking boy," told authorities how he approached the dark-haired secretary en route to a church meeting and tried to snatch her purse. The girl became frightened and screamed, Joelson said, and the youth struck her on the head with the pipe. Miss Giambra, who suffered a fractured skull, died next day in Paterson General Hospital. Joelson quoted the boy as saying that after the slaying he became frightened and ran to the banks of the Passaic River where he threw the pipe and the girl's purse. Joelson said that the boy also admitted the brutal beating of Miss Naomi Weiss, 43-year-old New York woman, in the same exclusive section of Paterson where Miss Giambra was attacked Feb. 24 last year. Joelson said the boy was arrested some 10 days ago after a 16-year-old youth reported to police that he had been bragging about the Weiss assault.

Paperboy Shortcut Leads To Mud Trap

DETROIT — Paperboy Ward Hummel Jr., 13, took a shortcut through a vacant lot yesterday as he delivered his papers in the rain. He sank to his knees in mud. Struggling was useless, so he began waving to passing cars. No one stopped. An hour or so later, a man emptying garbage heard his yells. He tried to pull him out, but the youngster just wouldn't budge. Two policemen were called. All three pulled—to no avail. Finally, by building plank ramps around Ward, they got in position again, set themselves and pulled. Out came the boy. His mother delivered the papers.

Convicts Ask Favorable Publicity For Colleagues

PHILADELPHIA — Twelve convicts met with representatives of the three Philadelphia newspapers yesterday in an attempt to gain more favorable publicity for felons. The dozen inmates of Eastern Penitentiary, all staff members of the Eastern Echo, prison publication, met in a conference room at the prison with permission of Warden William J. Bannister. Neither he nor any members of the staff were present so the prisoners could speak freely. They requested that their names not be used. "We, as a group, are stigmatized," one said. "We want to build a bridge between us and the public. We don't want to be codified, babbled or have a red carpet thrown before us, but to pay our penalty to society and get a fair break." The convicts' main concern was unfavorable publicity after requests had been made for parole when prisoners have served their minimum sentences. "A man may have served 10 years with good conduct, but when he comes up for parole adverse newspaper publicity can throw that man's chances out the window," an inmate said. "More than 50 per cent of the prison population are repeaters," another said, "but we feel that the antipathetic attitude of society treating the ex-prisoner as an outcast drives them back to crime. That is our problem and why we ask you for help." The group included five prisoners convicted of murder, others for forgery, armed robbery, sale of narcotics and other crimes.

FBI INTERESTED
The missing ticket stubs from the Texas Pacific Train No. 8 have not turned up yet, it was reported at the courthouse Wednesday.

However, a new twist was building up in the case, officials reported. Included in the stolen ticket stubs were several U. S. government transportation certificates. This will mean, it was said, that the FBI may take a hand in the investigation of the tangled affair.

Meantime, a new appeal was sounded for anyone who may find the lost tickets to return them to the office of Miller Harris, sheriff.

Investigation of the lost ticket case has been under way for two days. County officers, city police, the railroad's special investigators and even a Texas Ranger have all had parts in the probe of the mystery.

Now that the federal angle has been injected into the picture, the FBI can also intervene.

The tickets, collected on the train on the night of Feb. 19 by the conductor, were stolen some route from Midland to Big Spring.

One man has admitted, officers said, that he "had" the tickets in his possession, but he has not confessed he actually took them. He has not told how it happened he gained possession of them. He claims he took the tickets to the Settles Hotel and abandoned them on a table in the lobby.

Everett Taylor, introduced by Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, personnel committee chairman, a welcome to the group was given by Mrs. J. R. Overton, 906 E. 12th, after the holidays passed last December. He asked her to keep the tree watered, but "not too much or it will fall down."

Mrs. Overton said the tree didn't get too much water, and she thought it was dead until she started to remove it from her garden plot yesterday. Then she discovered the tree had started rooting and showed signs of reviving.

"It can stay there," Mrs. Overton decided. "I wouldn't take anything for it." She abandoned efforts to start her garden in the spot occupied by the tree.

During his stay here, he will be the guest of Col. C. M. Young, base commander, at a luncheon in the Officers' Club, with all Big Spring clergymen also to be invited.

WALL STREET
NEW YORK (AP) - A few wide-moving stocks were in quiet trading today, with heavy trading in gold, oil, and a few of the more volatile issues.
But Boeing, Lukens Steel and high-priced International Business Machines dominated the market.
Boeing was down 1 1/2 at 50 1/2 on an opening block of 4,000 shares and later extended its loss to around 4 points. The stock was heavily trading following Defense Secretary Wilson's statement that the government was considering replacing Boeing with a more modern plane.
Lukens Steel was down 1/4 at 33 1/2 on an opening block of 800 shares, later slicing this gain about in half. IBM, following yesterday's decline, recovered 1/4 at 176 1/4 on a big volume of trading, with a net gain of 14 points.
International Business Machines was down 1/4 at 214 1/4 on an opening block of 100 shares.
Steel eased while Bethlehem and Republic Steel were steady. Leading rails showed scant change. Anaconda and Kennecott were up sharply. General Motors, Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard were unchanged by most reports. Chemicals and utilities were mixed.

U. N. Halts Debate On Mid-East Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. - The U. N. Middle East debate was suspended temporarily today while the United States worked on a compromise plan to get Israeli troops out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip without resort to sanctions.

The 30-nation General Assembly met this morning, but the president, Prince Wan Wathayakun of Thailand, announced that no delegates were ready to speak on the Israeli-Egyptian dispute.

The Assembly went ahead with a long list of routine budgetary questions. It was expected to turn back to the Middle East problem later in the day.

Chief U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge was busy, meanwhile, consulting with other delegates on a resolution which he hoped to submit to the Assembly within a few hours.

The U. S. proposal was understood to include a provision for placing the Gaza Strip under temporary U. N. administration. The plan also called for a cease-fire and for declaring the Gulf of Aden open to ships of all nations. Shippers predicted such a plan would run into bitter opposition from the Arab states, which had been counting on American support for their sanctions demands.

Details of the U. S. proposal were not disclosed, but U. S. delegation sources said it probably would contain a number of ideas put forward yesterday by Canadian Foreign Secretary Leonard Pearson.

Mrs. Goodman Is Host For Emily Andrews SS Class

Our Father's Business was the topic of the devotion Tuesday evening when members of the Emily Andrews Class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Joe Goodman.

Thirteen members attended. Co-hostess were Mrs. C. W. Mahoney.

Yes, folks, it's true. Almost every day someone comes in here and does a lot of wishing. He will say "Oh, if I could only afford that beautiful diamond ring for my wife!" Or it may be a woman who will say wistfully "I'd love to get that watch for my son, but I haven't the money."

Then is when I really become a modern genii. I say "Only a couple of dollars is all you need to get what you want. Then you can pay the balance in tiny monthly payments that you will never miss."

In the last year I have transformed myself into a genii countless times! And I'm always happy to do it. Why don't you let me perform one of these miracles for you? Your credit is good for anything you want. Do come in today. Let me help you make someone very happy. LYNN'S JEWELERS, 221 Main

All In A Stew

That's where those onions, potatoes and carrots will be come Thursday! Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, at left, Claudia Arrell and Mrs. Ross Hill busily peel and pare the vegetables for the stew supper to be given by the Inshore Sports Club at the high school cafeteria from 6 to 8:30 p.m. An annual benefit affair, the supper will be made up of stew, slaw, pie and coffee. Tickets are priced at 75 cents for adults. The club, which will use the proceeds for welfare work, will be assisted in serving by members of the Good Sports Club.

Chrysanthemums, Planting Lawns Studied By Rosebud Garden Club

Members of the Rosebud Garden Club headed talks on the care and ground preparations for raising chrysanthemums and putting in lawns when they met Tuesday. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. H. B. Reagan with Mrs. D. D. Dyer as cohostess.

Mrs. Jess Thornton said chrysanthemums were especially good for this region and flourished due to the cool nights. When setting out the plants, of which there are more than 500 varieties, she recommended a rich soil, regular watering and an eastern exposure if possible.

Plant feeding should be stopped when color appears on the buds, said Mrs. Thornton, who also stressed the importance of proper disbudding to produce larger blooms. Spraying with cold water in mid-day will keep insects away from the plants, which can be transplanted successfully almost any time of the year.

Chrysanthemums, Planting Lawns Studied By Rosebud Garden Club

Fall is the best time to start new lawns, according to Mrs. Roy Cornelson. Bermuda and carpet grass do well here, but the latter requires more water. When starting a lawn with seed, none but the best quality should be used; if sprigs or runners are chosen they should be set at one foot intervals.

Sodding a lawn is a quicker but more expensive method. In preparing the ground, a top soil of half sand and half barnyard fertilizer, about eight inches deep, is recommended. Sand from the north of town has been found to be the best for this.

When the lawn is established, it should not be cut drastically, and if crab grass appears, it can be controlled by PC spray. White grub worms can be poisoned with chlordane or DDT while snails and slugs can be wiped out by putting arsenic under or around bricks or under boxes.

March through October are the best months for fertilizing; when fertilizer is placed on the ground it should be kept thoroughly wet until it has gone in.

A suggestion for clearing old grass from the lawns at this season is to set the blade of the mower low and clip closely instead of burning.

Mrs. G. G. Morehead announced the scrapbook had been sent to San Antonio to be judged at the state meeting in May. Members discussed attending the district meeting in Lubbock, March 28 or 27, and also the possibility of sponsoring the rose experimental garden at the HCJC.

An arrangement of purple hyacinths was in the traveling barge that furnished a centerpiece for the serving table.

Plans for the Week of Prayer, were discussed. Members will have charge of the program on the last day of the observance, March 4-8. Parts were distributed to members and each was given a prayer list.

Ross Barbecue Gains Popularity

Gaining in popularity as Big Spring increases in size is the Ross Barbecue Stand, 904 E. 3rd Street. Newcomers to the city quickly "find" Ross' establishment, and after their first orders of the tangy, delicious barbecue served there, they're confirmed Ross Barbecue Stand customers. Old timers of the area, of course, know all about Ross' barbecue. They've been eating it for years, and know that the consistent high quality on which Leslie Ross has built his reputation will be maintained. Ross barbecue has been known and enjoyed in Big Spring for two generations. It is prepared according to an exclusive recipe which Leslie Ross inherited from his parents who were in the business here before him. Leslie, of course, has become a master at preparation of the delicious barbecue. Using the famous recipe, he turns out real "West Texas barbecue" over old-fashioned wood fires. Using only the choicest cuts of meat, he assures his patrons of mouth-watering goodness with every bite of the delicious barbecue. The meat is prepared in such a way that none of its natural flavor and goodness is lost. It is cooked evenly and slowly over the wood fires which impart that distinctive "hickory flavor" sought by so many barbecue lovers. The Ross Barbecue Stand is located on the west-bound segment of U. S. 80 in the eastern part of Big Spring. It may be reached from the east on East Third or from the downtown area by way of Fourth Street. It is just half a block west of Donley, so patrons from the western or downtown sections of the city should drive on either Second or Fourth to Donley, turn back to third on Donley and then back west a half block to reach the establishment.

Thomas Typewriter Stocks Varied Supplies, Equipment

People in all walks of life use products sold by the Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply, located at 107 Main Street in "Big Spring." If you're already well acquainted with the goods the establishment stocks. Such items as typewriters, adding machines and desks can be obtained at the Thomas place of business. If you're a merchant, you realize long before you open for business that one of the essential things in your type of business is a cash register. A farmer needs record books of various dimensions to keep tabs on harvests and plantings, for income tax purposes. The student, of course, must restock such things as pencils, ink, fountain pens, etc., in order to keep up with his assignments.

lars and he is equally careful and efficient in jobs which cost only a fraction of that sum. He does work for most of the outstanding furniture stores of Big Spring and he will always give honest advice to any one on problems concerning their furniture. All work done at the shop is performed by highly skilled workmen and a thorough inspection is made for any needed repairs before upholstering of the furniture is started. Free estimates, pickup and delivery service are featured at Gilliland's. Recently Gilliland added another expert upholsterer to his staff to further expedite fast completions on all jobs. He also trades for furniture or buys furniture when the pieces are such that he might be able to sell to other customers.

End Successful Campaign

Jayhawks Win 20th Game, 4th In Zone

Harold Davis, coach of the HCJC Jayhawks, will probably stay close to the telephone for the next few days. The Hawks wound up their season on a favorable note last night, defeating Odessa's Wranglers in Odessa, 74-63. The win enabled the Big Springers to finish with a 4-4 won-lost record in West Zone play, good for third place in the five-team circuit.

It was also their 20th victory of the campaign, a record that will probably be good enough to get the Hawks invited to the Region V tournament in Amarillo — which would come by phone. It was the sixth time in ten years Davis' teams have won 20 or more games in one season. His last quintet to experience a losing season was in 1948, at which time the Hawks finished with a 12-15 record. In ten years at the helm here, Davis has seen his teams win 177 games while losing 91. Odessa kept up with the Hawks for the first few minutes but the Big Springers began to pull away after the score reached 12-12.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Kerby Farrell, new manager of the Cleveland Indians, was an overnight visitor here recently. Farrell took the time to look up a few old friends.

Colorado City is in the market for a new head basketball coach. Ronald Servies, who guided the Wolves to a 11-19 record last season, has been notified his contract will not be renewed. Servies also coached the Eighth Grade football team and scouted for the varsity Wolves.

Milt (Chief) Williams, who paced the Tyler JC basketball team to a thrilling last-minute victory over HCJC a couple of years ago, is now one of the standouts on the Centenary College team in Shreveport, La.

A visitor at the Big Spring girls' volleyball tournament last weekend said relations between Chesty Walker, the departed head football coach there, and other teachers within the system weren't too good. Walker quit after a long tenure at Phillips to become an assistant coach at the University of Washington.

James Sides, who lived here as a child but who played his high school football at Lubbock and went on to stardom at Texas Tech, is now employed by an oil company in Pampa.

It pays to get your name in the papers. Carmen Basilio, the welterweight boxing king, says business at his service station in Canisota, N. Y., has doubled since he became champion.

Ed Doherty, with whom John (Model-T) Ford elected to stay rather than take the first assistant's coaching job here, is sort of a football vagabond.

Before taking the head coaching post at the University of Arizona, Ed had served as head coach at Arizona State, and had coached at Rhode Island University, Xavier University, the Lawrence, Mass., High School team, Notre Dame and the Philadelphia pros. Doherty was Frank Leahy's quarterback at Boston College.

Efforts are being made by a Portland, Ore., fight promoter to arrange a match between the two biggest boxers in history. The principals would be Ewart Potgezer, who stands 7-2 and weighs 320 pounds; and Assen Ivanov, 7-1 and 340. The latter is a Hungarian refugee.

Everything is velvet for Jack Kramer, who is ramrodding the pro tennis tour between Pancho Gonzales and Ken Rosewall. (The two are playing in Texas this week.) Kramer made enough money in Australia, where Rosewall is a big name, to pay off the Aussie before bringing the troupe to America. Kramer is doubly pleased because Rosewall agreed to take his pay in Australian pounds—the kind of money Jack would have had trouble taking out of the country, anyway.

You probably read recently where an ex-fighter, Freddy Apostoli, entered suit against Rocky Graziano to the extent of $15,000 for claiming he chased Freddy all over the ring before earning a decision in a four-round preliminary bout in Madison Square Garden several years ago.

Reference to the bout was made in Graziano's book, "Somebody Up There Likes Me," a popular item that was made into a movie. Turned out Rocky had his Apostolis mixed. He fought one Ted Apostoli, not Freddy, who was a proud fighter in his day.

Not all the story came to light, however. Freddy has a mad on at Graziano since the '40's, when Rocky agreed to a fight with him in California. Graziano showed up for the bout, alright, but then took a powder. Apostoli absorbed quite a financial beating because of training expenses.

Could he be figured his losses at $15,000.

NORTON SHELLS FORSAN BUFFS IN BI-DISTRICT

STERLING CITY (SC) — For-san fell by the wayside in the fight for a berth in the regional meet, losing here Tuesday night to Norton, 77-67, in the bi-district contest.

Norton now advances to the II-B regional tournament at Brownwood this weekend. Meanwhile Forsan turns its attentions to spring sports. The win for the Eagles was their 21st against seven defeats. They complete in District 20-B.

A slow start led to the For-san defeat, as Norton jumped out in front, 24-4, at the end of the first quarter. The Eagles led then, 42-16, at the half.

Cotton Dismore led the Eagles in scoring with 22 points, garnered on nine field goals and four free throws, while Pat Brunton was the leading Buff scorer with 15. He sunk six field goals and hit

Local Sextets Sweep A Pair

SWEETWATER (SC) — Two Big Spring High School girls' volleyball teams racked up as many victories in competition with Sweetwater representatives here Tuesday evening.

The Steerette A squad won, 28-18, after the Bees had prevailed, 38-11. In the B game, Frances Davie led the visitors in scoring with 11 points, while Barbara Burchett was at the net. Wanda Hagler paced Sweetwater with three.

The Big Spring B team now has a 12-3 won-lost record. Lynda Glenn and Elaine Russell each scored seven points in the A team's victory. Darlene Shaffer had the same number for Sweetwater.

Jean Peters played outstanding ball at the net for Big Spring while Carol Finley was impressive up front for Sweetwater.

Big Spring led at half time, 11-8. The Steerettes' won-lost record is now 11-4.

Divide Loses To Westbrook

SNEYDEN (SC) — Bi-district honors went to the Westbrook Wildcats here Tuesday night, as they downed Divide, 60-55, in a playoff game. The win sends the Wildcats to the I-B regional tourney at Canyon this weekend.

Westbrook held a one-point lead with two minutes to go, but two field goals from the corners by Charles Rohus gave the Wildcats the insurance they needed. Rohus wound up with scoring laurels, hitting 10 field goals and a lone free throw for 21 points.

Westbrook is winner of District 16-B, while Divide won the District 15-B crown.

The two clubs saw-sawed back and forth, with Westbrook's Wildcats holding three-point leads 11-9, and 29-25, at the ends of the first and second quarters. They trailed by four, 41-37, at the end of the third period, however.

The loss for Divide was the seventh of the season against 21 wins. Westbrook now sports a 22-4 record.

WESTBROOK (60) — Richey, 6-7-19; Wysock, 5-1-11; Rohus, 10-1-21; Putnam, 6-1-11; Ward, 2-1-1; Smith, 23-1-6; DIVIDE (55) — Orr, 5-5-15; Bird, 7-0-14; Moore, 2-2-4; Barton, 4-3-11; Clayton, 2-4-4; Maki, 1-2-2; and totals, 25-35-55. Score by quarters: 11 20 27 60. Halftime—Foris and Carter.

Ponies Swarm Over Purple

Southern Methodist sewed up the Southwest Conference basketball championship last week but the Methodists, who were supposed to ease off and have fun the rest of the way, showed no indications of relaxing Tuesday night as they beat Texas Christian 88-75.

It ran the SMU season record to 20 victories against only 3 defeats and gave it a 10-1 conference mark.

The Methodists close out the regular season Saturday night when they clash with Arkansas at Fayetteville. Then it will be the NCAA playoffs at Dallas March 15-16.

The battle for third place is all that's left. Rice has clinched second and closes out Friday night against Texas A&M at Houston.

Baylor has wound up the season with a 6-6 record. Texas, Texas Christian and Arkansas each has 5-6. Texas Christian's last game is Saturday night with Texas at Fort Worth.

The Mustangs were as skillful as colts Tuesday night in whamming Texas Christian. They got in some deadly outside shooting over the TCU zone defense for a 42-33 halftime lead. TCU put on a press to start the second half but the speedy Methodists ran through and around and marched quickly to a 21-point lead. TCU then went back to the zone but it did little good.

Only in the late minutes, when SMU had its reserves in there mostly, was TCU able to do much. Jim Krebs, the magnificent SMU center, closed out the home schedule with 32 points to lead all the scorers. Larry Shallowater of the Methodists was second with 20.

Til Cage Field Trimmed Again In Playoffs

The Texas schoolboy basketball field took another trimming Tuesday night. Only a little more than half the district champions are left as they face the final cut-down that will name 24 teams for the 5-division state tournament at Austin next week.

Five teams were eliminated in Class AAAA as 12 of the 16 districts moved into bi-district play. The other four district champions — Houston Milby, Houston Bellaire, Port Arthur and Galena Park — will decide their representative to the state tournament in a regional tournament at Houston Saturday.

Ablene beat El Paso Jefferson 72-49, Pampa defeated Fort Worth Poly 63-59. Lufkin raced by Grand Prairie 70-55. Austin downed Harlingen 47-43 and San Antonio Burbank took out San Antonio Jefferson 64-56.

Dallas Sunset and Dallas Highland Park clash Wednesday night in their sudden death bi-district game.

In the next round Abilene plays Pampa, the Sunset-Highland Park winner meets Lufkin and Austin plays Burbank. Those three survivors will join with the one from the Houston tournament to make up the field at the state tournament.

Class AAAA also has a mixture of regional and bi-district play. Phillips, Pecos, Snyder and Vernon will decide their team for the state tournament in a regional tournament at Lubbock Friday and Saturday.

Garland beat Sulphur Springs 62-58, Smiley downed Killean 47-38. Bay City licked Beaumont French 69-56, San Antonio Edison whipped South San Antonio 73-69 and Mission beat Cuero 54-51 in bi-district games. Waxahachie and Nacogoches play at Kilgore Wednesday night.

In the next round Garland meets the Waxahachie-Nacogoches winner, Smiley plays Bay City and San Antonio Edison engages Mission.

The other classes are also playing the bi-district round and all will have regional tournaments Friday and Saturday to select four teams from Classes AA and A and eight from Class B for the state tournament.

Mighty Waco, which won the Class A championship last year but is in Class AA this year, easily won its bi-district game, beating Cypress-Fairbanks 46-24. Buna has won 62 straight games.

Polk, the Class B champion of 1956 but in Class A this year, also advanced, swamping Madisonville 70-33.

Hebert Choice At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (R) — The sixth annual $15,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament opens tomorrow with a Louisiana native among the favorites for the first time.

Husky Jay Hebert of Lafayette, former Louisiana State University golfer, is the only professional with two victories on the winter tourney circuit this year.

Hebert, 34, now playing out of Sanford, Fla., won the Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Tournament and the $20,000 Texas Open at San Antonio and was runner-up in the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

He has only finished in the money twice in five previous Baton Rouge Opens, tied for fourth in 1955 and 13th in 1953.

Soaking rains provided a slow course for yesterday's qualifying round.

Most scores topped par-72 over the gently rolling, 6,450-yard course, crisscrossed by winding bayous and lined with moss-draped trees.

Top qualifier was Tom Niepote of Great Neck, N.Y., with a 3-under-par 69.

Tourney officials reported a record-breaking entry list of 223, but only 150 professionals and 100 amateurs will compete in tomorrow's opening round. The top 70 from the Houston Open qualified automatically here.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who came from behind to win at Houston Monday, and Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., second at Houston and top money winner for 1957 so far, head the late arrivals, delayed when the Houston tournament was rained out last Saturday.

Entries include Baton Rouge winners for the past three years, Shelley Mayfield of Los Angeles, 1956 champ; Bo Winner of Odessa, Tex., 1955 winner, and Bob Toki of Livingston, N. J., 1954 winner.

Wilhelm Can Make Cards Flag Threat, Says Lane

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (R) — The acquisition of relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm "makes us a definite pennant threat," Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals said today.

"It's always nice to get someone who can come in to get a guy out," Hutchinson said. "Wilhelm's that kind of someone. He'll help us where we need help the most."

Wilhelm, 33, a knuckleballer, was obtained by the Cards from the New York Giants yesterday in exchange for outfielder-first baseman Whitey Lockman, who had gone to St. Louis from the Giants last June.

The deal filled a key vacancy for both clubs — giving St. Louis a

Ropes Eagles Surprise Merkel Badgers, 51-49

A hustling Ropes team ambushed the Merkel Badgers in a Class A bi-district basketball game here Tuesday night before 1,000 onlookers, 51-49, to advance to the second round of the Regional playoffs.

The result shocked practically everyone who looked on but Coach Bill Preston and his boys, who played some of their finest ball after the District 6-A power had pulled abreast at 47-all with less than two minutes of play remaining.

A brace of free pitches by Little John Valentine and a tip-in by red-haired Dale Ehrldridge gave the Eagles their victory margin in those waning seconds.

Valentine was fouled on two occasions and made good from the foul line only twice in four opportunities but it was enough.

Ehrldridge, his long arms fanning the breeze like a windmill, did a stellar job of defending Robert McLeod, Merkel's all-state nominee. McLeod picked up 18 points but that was far below his average of 35.

Nimble Kermit Rutledge kept Merkel in the game with a 20-point effort.

Jimmy Bevers, showing all-around class, steadied the War Birds when it seemed they were about to come apart at the seams and wound up as the top scorer for his team with 18 points. J. W. Bridwell was the only other Greenie to hit in double figures. He counted 13.

The victory was the 24th for the Eagles in 25 starts. The only team to beat them was Abernathy, an AA school, and that was by only one point.

Merkel finished with a 25-2 record. Outside of Ropes, the Badgers lost only to Snyder, an AAA school. McLeod, despite his mediocre night, wound up scoring 960 points for the season.

The Eagles now become eligible to take part in the Regional finals at Lubbock this weekend. The winner there goes to the State Meet at Austin.

Gavilan Demands Rematch With Foe Following Loss

By MURRAY ROSE — Kid Gavilan, still burning over what he called "another home town decision," and sharp-shooting Vince Martinez were all set today to sign for a return bout.

Martinez, 27-year-old, fourth-ranking welterweight contender from nearby Paterson, N.J., won the referee's decision over the 31-year-old ex-champ in a close and interesting 10-rounder last night.

Referee Joe Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, awarded the verdict to the pride of Jersey by a 6-3-1 rounds score. Twelve of 18 boxing writers at the ringside thought the Keed won. Four had Vince the winner while two, including this observer, had it even.

"What I got to do to win," asked the fuming Gavilan, a 3-1 underdog. "I win it 6-3-1. I keep score in mind. Return fight? Sure, I take him any time. Next time I beat him easier. All he do is stick and run."

"Sure, I'll give him another shot," said Martinez. "I know I won this one and I can do it again. I just tired in the last couple of rounds and that made it closer than it might have seemed to some people."

Gavilan, who weighed 140½ to Martinez's 149½, was the aggressor throughout but only showed flashes of the old fire that made him champion.

711 Teams Will Play Baseball

AUSTIN (R) — The largest number of teams ever to participate in University Interscholastic League baseball will play this year, the league says.

The total number of teams is 711 or 21 more than last year's 690, said Rhea Williams, league director.

"For the first time in the 10-year history of UIL baseball, schools will compete in five conferences just as in football and basketball," Williams said.

State champions will be determined in Class AAAA and AAA, and regional titles will go to AA and A teams, Williams said. He added that B teams will go only to the bi-district level.

June 6-7 is the date set for the state tournament here.

Pro Netters Will Meet In Odessa

ODESSA, Tex. (R) — Pancho Gonzales and Ken Rosewall meet here tonight in their professional tennis tour.

Gonzales whipped Rosewall 6-2, 6-4 last night at Lubbock to go ahead 12-6 in their current series. They go to Fort Worth from here.

Mollet-Ike Talks Help Heal Split

WASHINGTON (AP)—French Premier Guy Mollet ends his talks with President Eisenhower today reportedly convinced they have helped narrow a split in French-American policies.

Optimistic reports came also from James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, who told questioning newsmen there "certainly was" a great deal of progress made at two conferences and a formal luncheon yesterday.

The talks have been aimed not so much at reaching specific agreements as at healing a breach which followed the French and British invasion of Egypt last fall. The United States had protested that move.

Israel, which moved in first, still has troops stationed in two areas claimed by Egypt, and has rebuffed U.N. demands for withdrawal.

As a result of yesterday's discussions, top French diplomats said Mollet now is confident the Israeli troop withdrawal problem can be settled without drastic United Nations sanctions.

Mollet is known to have argued strongly against any such punishment of Israel during two intensive talks at the White House.

Hagerty reported that the Middle East crisis topped the list of problems surveyed by the two Western leaders. He declined to provide any details, and because the issue is before the U.N., he carefully excluded it from the subjects on which he said progress toward agreement was made.

But responsible informants said Mollet was definitely hopeful that the United Nations could settle the Israeli troop problem within the next few days.

Eisenhower and Dulles are understood to have made no direct comment on the possibility of United Nations sanctions against Israel. Both are reported to have given what was described as a fairly optimistic report about prospects for settling this deadlock.

NAM Chief Blames Inflation On Unions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers blames inflation on organized labor and says unions view wage negotiations as "a gun in the ribs."

Ernest G. Swigert of Portland, Ore., made the comment here yesterday in a news conference which coincided with the release of an NAM report entitled "Monopoly Power as Exercised by Labor Unions."

In blaming labor for inflation, Swigert said that "since 1949 we have had round after round of unjustified wage increases. The whole country—including the working man—would be better off without them."

The NAM official also said he believes wages should be based on labor-management bargaining without taking into consideration either profits or increased productivity.

"I don't see any way of pegging wages to productivity, and I don't think it should be done," he said.

Productivity goes up, Swigert said, when "billions and billions are spent in purchasing new machinery."

President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message last month, suggested "benefits negotiated by labor and management must be reasonably related to improvements in productivity."

Eisenhower said wage increases that outrun productivity "are an inflationary factor."

Swigert said that "unless the monopoly power of unions is curbed there can be no protection for the public against continuing inflation and the wage-price spiral will continue to endanger our entire economy."

The NAM report, which followed a year's study by labor-management experts headed by Leo Wolman of Columbia University, listed a series of "objectives."

These involved ending "domination of bargaining by international unions" "an end to compulsory union membership in any form," and a ban "against the use of union funds and union staff employees for partisan political purposes."

Hosts Sought For Veteran Teachers

Merchants who will serve as hosts for veteran Big Spring school teachers at a Teacher Appreciation Banquet next Tuesday are being asked to contact the Chamber of Commerce.

There are 47 teachers who have taught in the local schools for 10 years or longer. They are to receive special honors. They also make up the group which businessmen are being asked to have as guests at the banquet.

All other teachers will be honored at the event, but they must provide their own tickets at $1.25 per plate.

The banquet will be staged in the high school cafeteria, starting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Meeting Planned

Plans for membership enlargement will be made at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Membership Committee at 4 p.m. Thursday. George Zachariah, chairman, called the session for the C-C conference room.

Northwest Streams Race Out Of Banks

Fed by snows melting under a warm sun, streams lacing three Pacific Northwest states rolled out of their banks into lowland towns and farms today, forcing the evacuation of hundreds of persons and disrupting normal communications.

Hardest hit were regions in north-central Washington and southern Idaho but much of eastern Washington and Oregon and parts of the Western Slope were affected by the unseasonal runoff.

At Wilson Creek, a town 110 miles west-southwest of Spokane, Crab Creek broke over its boundaries Tuesday night and within a short time water was six feet deep and still rising. The 250 to 400 townpeople were evacuated to a school north of town, but that region soon was cut off as roads were flooded.

Some persons were reported trapped on rooftops or on second-floor levels but in no immediate danger. The water moved without force, doing little other damage than soaking homes and furnishings.

Several hundred miles to the southeast, residents of Weiser, Idaho, left their homes as the Weiser River went over its banks and poured water into the south end of the city.

Idaho National Guard troops aided in the evacuation. Traffic halted on U. S. 95-30 after it was covered to a depth of more than a foot.

Streams in many parts of southern Idaho were rising steadily and the warm rains which brought the flood conditions were continuing.

Okanogan County in north-central Washington was an isolated island. An area more than four times the size of Rhode Island was completely cut off. Wherever streams had not closed main roads, huge earth slides did.

Telephone communication was disrupted, with lines broken or flooded; railroads were rerouting trains, and highway travel was slow, risky or nonexistent.

The rapid runoff appeared likely to continue, the forecast was for continuing warm.

For Defense

The Army released this photo of its Nike Hercules, the anti-aircraft missile carrying an atomic punch, in Washington and said it was made at White Sands, N.M., proving ground in January. The Hercules is bigger, faster and longer ranged version of the Nike Ajax now guarding many key cities. Hercules will be ready for use in the near future.

Gusty Winds Head East

Gusty northerly winds, which carried cold air from the Midwest across the Great Lakes region into the Ohio Valley, headed into the eastern third of the nation today.

Wind gusts of 40 to 50 m.p.h. whipped Chicago and Milwaukee areas yesterday as the surge of cold air fanned across much of the central part of the country.

Temperatures were generally 20 to 30 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier in most of the Great Lakes region. Readings were near or below zero in the northern sections. The colder air extended southward into Oklahoma, with temperatures in the 20s.

The mild winter weather which covered areas along the Atlantic Coast was expected to end during the day with the arrival of the icy air. Record high marks for the date were reported yesterday in sections of New England, with readings in the 60s, including 68 at Boston.

Court Reaffirms Washburn Re-Trial

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today upheld its original opinion that Harry L. Washburn of Houston should be retried on the charge of killing Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver of San Angelo.

Washburn originally was given a life sentence in a Waco court. Mrs. Weaver was the victim of a dynamite explosion in San Angelo Jan. 19, 1955. Mrs. Weaver was Washburn's former mother-in-law.

"We are constrained to conclude that a correct conclusion was reached originally," Judge Lloyd W. Davidson said in the opinion. "The state's motion for rehearing is overruled."

Final Rehearsals Of 'Harvey' Under Way

Big Spring High School Drama Workshop players are now in final rehearsal for their production of the famous comedy "Harvey." The play is to be staged Friday and Saturday at the high school auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

A feature of the production will be utilization of two unusual stage settings. One of these is only eight feet square and is designed in such a way that it can be folded and rolled aside. The other set is lifted above the stage.

Tom Pickle plays the lead in the comedy. He is cast as Elwood P. Doud, a character who fancies that he has an invisible companion—a six-foot bunny who goes by the name of Harvey. Harvey is seen by no one but Elwood. Elwood's sister Vela, played by Sandra Sloan, is gravely distressed by this illusion of her brother's—particularly his habit of introducing the invisible Harvey to all persons he meets.

Other members of the cast include Judie Shields, Sandra Havens, Linda Nichols, David Yates, Dennis Jones, Bobbie McMillan, Ronnie Burnam, Patsy Potter and Jimmy Simmons.

Mack Godwin is the director of "Harvey" and is assisted by Kaye Shadd. Stage manager is Jimmie Simmons, assisted by David Yates. Linda Woodall is bookholder.

Stage crew comprises Stephen Baird, Tom Pickle, Dennis Jones, Terry Stanley, Charles Arnold, Catherine Greenlees, Beverly Martin and Nelda Stewart.

Light crew members are Sue Helms, Burke and Ronnie Plant. Pat Rogers is in charge of sound effects. Make-up crew is made up of Nita Jones, Prissy Pond, Sandra Havens, Nancie Norfleet. Publicity is directed by Doyle Phillips with Mary Jane Trezo, Beverly Alexander, Camille Heffley and Betsy Pool as his aides. Costumes are in the hands of Koila Grant, Kay Coleman, Charlene Campbell, Fan Barber and Judy Reynolds.

Tickets will be 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

Ministers Prepare For Convention In Pecos March 8-10

Twenty-six ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses gathered at the Kingdom Hall, 217 1/2 Main Street, Monday night to perfect plans for the organization's convention at Pecos March 8-10.

According to J. W. O'Shields, minister for Jehovah's Witnesses in Big Spring, Jehovah's Witnesses of West Texas have a special organization the responsibility of which is to arrange for the semi-annual conventions. Each six months a different convention city is chosen.

The work of preparing for the convention is under the supervision of J. D. Cook of Snyder. There are 22 different departments and department heads and they look after everything from the original contracts and arrangements to the final sweeping and cleaning of the auditorium after the conventioners are gone.

The meeting here was presided over by A. L. Borchard, newly appointed supervisor of Texas Circuit No. 7.

Skies Clear Over Texas

By The Associated Press

Skies were clear over most of Texas Wednesday in the wake of a mild cold front that lowered temperatures in some areas.

The front pushed out into the Gulf of Mexico during the night. Skies were clear throughout the state except for some cloudiness in the Houston-Galveston areas. Winds along the coast continued northerly at about 21 miles per hour with gusts to 31 miles per hour.

Overnight minimum temperatures ranged from 29 degrees at Childress and Wichita Falls to 55 at Corpus Christi. Other lows were mostly in the 30s in North Texas and the lower 50s in the southern part of the state.

Light morning showers fell at Lublin and Wink.

The Weather Bureau forecast clear to partly cloudy skies and no important temperature changes through Thursday.

Surgery Showered With Broken Glass

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—A British test pilot broke through the sound barrier yesterday and shattered a glass wall in the operating room at Southport Hospital. Glass and debris showered on a surgeon and seven nurses hunched over an unconscious woman.

Dr. John Campbell was nearing the end of a two-hour operation on the woman.

"I checked the knife in my hand momentarily . . . and then went on," the surgeon said. "Some of the nurses gave a little yell, then carried on as if nothing had happened."

Electric Co-Op Leaders Study Plant Proposal

O. B. Bryan, manager of Cap Rock Electric Co-Op, Stanton, and Garland Pennington, manager of Lyntegar Electric Co-Op, Tahoka, will leave Thursday for Chicago where they will meet with REA officials and engineers.

Purpose of the meeting is to go over plans for the proposed electric generating plant to supply electricity for the two cooperatives.

The rapid growth of the cooperatives and the increasing use of electricity indicates that it may be feasible for the cooperatives to construct their own generating and transmission facilities.

The project under study consists of the generating plant, 66 KV transmission lines and substations. Estimated cost is in excess of $1,000,000.

Directors of the two organizations believe that the savings in cost of power will justify the large expenditure and will result in a considerable saving to the member-owners of the rural electric systems. Both cooperatives have made rapid strides in repaying the money borrowed from REA to build the present distribution systems.

According to Bryan, the proposed generating plant will have a peak capacity of 50,000 KW. It will be powered by steam with natural gas as the fuel. A large supply of water will be necessary, and the plant probably will be located somewhere in Martin County. Plants of this size normally require a staff of 25 to 30 employees.

A similar project is under consideration by rural electric cooperatives in the Abilene area.

Boys Steal Bridge For Landing Dock

CANTERBURY, England (AP)—Seven boys 12 to 14 years old have been put on probation for stealing the bridge over the River Stour. Police said the boys lifted the small wooden structure off the river, and eased it down the river. They wanted to use it as a river bank, balanced it onto a landing dock further down, they explained.

Old Racers May Be Re-Entered In Soap Box Derby

Boys with racers left over from last year's Soap Box Derby can enter the same vehicles in this year's event. Loyd Wooten of Tidwell Chevrolet Company, one of the sponsors, announced today.

Wooten said the old racers can be entered as they are, or they may be equipped with new wheels, or boys can rebuild the racers if they desire. Or, if the boys prefer, they can construct completely new racers for the 1957 Derby.

Wooten reminded that Saturday is the last scheduled day for registering for the 1957 races. Boys should report to Tidwell Chevrolet Company, 1501 E. 4th, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday to register. Each must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.
