U. N. Banner Raised Over Gaza Strip

GAZA (AP)—The blue and white flag of the United Nations was raised over the Gaza Strip today, replacing the blue and white flag of Israel.

All but a small contingent of Israeli soldiers left the troubled Mediterranean coastal area before dawn after 125 days of occupation. The rest will complete the withdrawal later today.

Withdrawal moves also got under way in the Sharm el Sheikh area on the Gulf of Aqaba. Equipment and supplies for the small garrison there were loaded on ships and started back to Israel. The Israeli army said troops would be pulled out and administration of the area turned over to U. N. units tomorrow.

The departure from Gaza of the victors in the October-November invasion went off without any major incidents reported. Some shots were heard in Gaza City during the early morning hours, but the cause of the firing was not immediately known.

The withdrawing Israeli convoys were protected by armored patrol cars as they crossed into Israel.

Norwegian soldiers of the U. N. Emergency Force set up a sentry post and barrier at 6 a. m. at the Israeli frontier, two miles from Gaza City on the northern end of the narrow strip.

Israeli border guards again manned their own sentry posts, which had been abandoned after the Israeli push into Gaza and the Sinai Desert.

Throughout the strip, Israeli and U. N. forces moved swiftly to accomplish the historic change-over, virtually completing it 15 hours before the 24-hour deadline set by the Israeli command.

Advance elements of 2,600 U. N. troops moved into the strip at 7 p. m. from the Sinai Peninsula. Despite a drenching rain, their jeeps and trucks rapidly deployed the soldiers from Denmark, Norway, Sweden, India and Colombia over the 26-by-8-mile stretch of coastal land.

By 4 a. m. the bulk of the Israeli troops had pulled out, leaving the U. N. in control. The telephone connection linking police headquarters in Jerusalem and Gaza City was broken.

The withdrawing Israelis left behind them in prison some 300 suspected fedayeen (commando) raiders. Their fate was up to the U. N. Command. The Israelis had said they seized Gaza to wipe out the bases for Arab raids into Israel.

UNEF headquarters was established in the large police camp in Gaza City but by the British during the Palestine mandate and used by the Egyptians and the Israelis in their occupation.

Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli

army chief of staff, was on hand in the main square to greet the first elements of the U. N. force.

"Is everything going all right?" Dayan asked the U. N. unit commander, Danish Col. Carl Engholm.

"Everything is going well," Engholm replied.

"I wish you good luck," Dayan said.

They shook hands and Dayan stepped into his army sedan and drove off.

Other first contacts between the withdrawing Israelis and incoming U. N. units appeared cordial but formal.

The Israelis imposed a strict curfew through the towns of the strip for the operation. Most of the Arab population remained indoors, peering through windows at the U. N. troops.

A few shots were heard as the UNEF units reached Gaza City, but they were said to have been Israeli warnings fired into the air to keep residents off the streets.

About 50 Arabs defied the curfew and gathered near Gaza's main square to shout: "Long live Nasser! Long live Nehru! Long live Arab unity! Down with the imperialists!"

Earlier a brief outbreak of violence left a Arab civilian and an Israeli soldier dead and two Israelis wounded. Those incidents, combined with Israeli fears that Egyptian civil administrators would be allowed in Gaza later, briefly interrupted the Israeli withdrawal. These fears, Israeli sources said, sprang from word from U. N. officers that they were not prepared to handle the civil administration.

However, most of the Gaza civil administrative posts and government clerical jobs were held by Arab inhabitants during the Israeli occupation. U. N. officers said four American civilian administrators also would enter the strip to help with the civil administration.

About 230,000 Arab refugees of the 1948 Palestine War make up the bulk of the Gaza Strip's population. They have been largely supported by the U. N. World Relief Agency. Reports from Cairo said railway stations there were crowded with Arabs seeking to return to Gaza.

The strip was put under Egyptian administration by the 1949 Palestine armistice. Israel has insisted it must never be returned to Egyptian control, but ordered the troop withdrawal without getting iron-clad guarantees against such a move.

The withdrawals from Gaza and Sharm el Sheikh meant Israel was yielding the last areas seized in its October-November campaign against Egypt. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion ordered the final withdrawals and won big parliamentary votes of confidence yesterday for his action despite some bitter political opposition.

Final Okay Put On Ike Mid-East Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed and sent to President Eisenhower a resolution declaring the United States is willing to fight if necessary to resist Communist aggression in the Middle East.

The roll-call vote was 350-60. The House acted by quickly adopting the Senate version of the resolution which Eisenhower sought on an urgent basis two months ago. The Senate passed the bill Tuesday night, 72-19.

The measure also gives Eisenhower greater leeway in spending 200 million dollars in military-economic aid to the troubled area between now and July 1.

The House, which originally passed it in administration-requested form Jan. 30 by a 355-61 count, stamped final approval only after a last-minute flurry.

Before the House convened Eisenhower told his news conference the Middle East situation looks brighter but fresh details must be dealt with daily.

House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass) said it is now up to Eisenhower to carry out the Middle East resolution.

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Rep. Vorys (Ohio), a senior committee Republican, joined in denouncing the Senate version but said it would be better to accept it than spend more time in getting the resolution passed.

Overriding some last-minute complaints about "gag rule" and "foreign giveaway," House leaders opened today's session an hour earlier than usual and had a one-hour limit put on debate.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts predicted passage by a margin at least as wide as the 355-61 vote by which the House first passed the resolution Jan. 30. The House approved almost the exact wording Eisenhower wanted.

The Senate, after lengthy debate, finally passed an amended version Tuesday night 72-19. The White House sent word that the Senate resolution was acceptable.

The Senate struck out the word "authorizes" in the House resolution and provided instead that if the President deems such action necessary, "the United States is prepared" to use armed forces to protect Middle East nations from overt Communist aggression.

Bricklayers Ask For Wage Hike To $4 Per Hour

Representatives of local building contractors have received a request from bricklayers for a 25-cent hourly wage increase.

The builders' group, who met with masons earlier this week, will submit the request to local members of Associated General Contractors for their consideration, probably within the next two or three weeks.

The bricklayers now receive $3.75 per hour. They are asking for an across-the-board raise of 25 cents an hour.

The negotiations cover wage scale for Howard and several adjoining counties, a contractor said.

Marshall Formby To Speak At Armed Forces Day Event

Marshall Formby, State Highway Commission member from Big Spring, will return to Big Spring May 18 to be principal speaker at the Armed Forces Day celebration at Webb AFB, Air Force officials have announced.

Formby will speak on the nation's need for preparedness.

The highway commissioner recently toured Russia and Western Europe to inspect highway systems on that continent. During the European tour, Formby became acquainted with Jack Young, editor of the Helena (Arkansas) World. Jack Young is brother of Col. C. M. Young, Webb commander, and it was through him that arrangements were made for Formby's appearance here.

House Studies $2 Billion Spending Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—House members began studying today a two billion dollar spending bill that was based on predictions of a historic boom in oil tax revenue.

No new tax needs were sighted. The House Appropriations Committee approved a bill yesterday that would spend almost 340 million dollars more the next two years than the state spent the past biennium.

However, the committee estimated the recent whopping increase in oil production would continue long enough to return state taxes that would not only pay the spending bill but leave about a 45 million dollar balance.

The bill will be laid out Tuesday for House action.

It calls for $2,072,759,174 in expenditures from all funds compared to a forecast of revenue from all sources—including federal grants—of $2,372,000,000.

The committee recommended appropriations from the general revenue fund, the principal source for state operations, of $262,644,934 compared to the $216,000,000 currently authorized.

The spending estimate was below the budget demands of Gov. Price Daniel but above the recommendations made by the Legislative Budget Board. Daniel wanted to spend $278,300,000 from the general revenue fund, while the Budget Board suggested expenditures of $256,000,000.

The main item of increased spending was $15,700,000 more the next two years for pay increases to about 90 per cent of the state's 35,000 regular employees.

The other classifications of appropriations were:

Judiciary, $7,634,244, up $166,010 over the current biennium. State hospitals, special schools and other eleemosynary institutions, $87,702,282, up $14,376,085. Executive and administrative departments and agencies, $1,790,926,151, up $288,890,823. State aid to junior colleges, $9,440,590, up $1,634,500. The 18 state colleges and universities and other agencies of higher education $77,949,907, up $28,555,934.

C-C Unit Proposes Membership Drive, Prizes Are Posted

A year-long membership drive, with prizes to be posted for the leading workers, is being proposed by the Membership Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The group this morning voted to recommend the three-prong campaign: for new members, reinstatement of former members, and an increase in dues from present members. Chamber directors will be asked to endorse the proposal.

The committee also voted to merge with the Round Up Club, the Chamber's year-round membership extension agency. The combined groups will be divided into two teams—the Roughnecks and the Roughriders—for the membership campaign.

The two workers in each team signing up the greatest number of new C-C members each will be given two Cotton Bowl tickets and round-trip plane fares to Dallas next Jan. 1. Any member of the Chamber can participate in the contest by joining the Round Up Club.

Jim Lewis will serve as captain of the Roughnecks and Rad Ware will head the Roughriders.

Dr. McMeans recently testified in an investigation of a bribe charge against State Rep. James E. Cox. Police are investigating the attack on Dr. McMeans.

Elkins Tells Of Pay-Off To Sheriff

WASHINGTON (AP)—James B. Elkins testified today a gambling associate told him in September 1955 of paying $500 to then Sheriff Terry D. Schruck to call off a gambling raid in Portland, Ore.

Schruck, a Democrat, now is mayor of Portland.

Elkins told the Senate's rackets investigating group he was a partner of Clifford (Jimmy) Bennett in a Portland gambling joint known as the 212 Club in the Kenton District of the city.

Elkins said that in early September 1955 he heard that Sheriff Schruck and a group of deputies showed up at the club with word they were going to arrest everybody.

Elkins said only three or four drinks were taken in and fined $10 after an "arrangement" was made between Bennett and Schruck. Elkins said this consisted of Bennett paying Schruck $500.

Elkins said no action was taken against Bennett for operating a gambling joint. He said the place simply folded and moved to another site where it continued operating.

"Bennett told me he gave Mr. Schruck the $500," Elkins said.

2-Ship Collision Explosion Cause

NEW CASTLE, Del. (AP)—A violent midships explosion tore a Navy tanker apart after a collision with a freighter in the Delaware River early today. At least ten crew members of the tanker, including the captain and most of his deck officers, were missing.

The captain of the freighter, the Elna II, reported several hours after the collision that all 23 members of his crew had been accounted for. The tanker, the Mission San Francisco, sank almost immediately in shallow water near Pea Patch Jetty three miles south of here.

Twenty-six of the 45 members of the tanker crew escaped in one of the Mission's boats and nine others were pulled out of the water by small craft, fishing boats and vessels from nearby refineries, which raced to the scene.

Rescue efforts were hampered by a sudden snow storm which blew up over the river at dawn. Fire broke out anew on the stern of the tanker which jutted out of the water. Rescuers said it was doubtful that any of the crew members still aboard who survived the blast could be alive.

The 26 survivors who were transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Zinnia and later to an Army tug were put ashore at New Castle. None appeared seriously injured.

One of the survivors said the captain and those on the bridge must have been killed by the tremendous blast which tore the superstructure into bits.

The tanker is assigned to the Military Sea Transportation Service. It is manned by civilians and operated by commercial shipping firms under contract to haul oil for the Navy.

One of the tanker's survivors said that the ship, which has a capacity of 20,200 tons, was empty and had not been "defumigated."

This concentration of fumes, he said, was what caused the terrific blast, the force of which was reported as far away as 30 miles.

The first survivor from the Mission San Francisco, William C. Bausch, 35, Miami, Fla., first assistant engineer, said the captain, four mates, the purser, a steward and a radio operator were on the bridge at the time of the blast.

"The bridge was blown to bits. I don't see how they could have survived," he added.

He said he was asleep in his cabin and the blast knocked him out of bed.

"The ship was covered with flames in an instant and listing to port as I went over the side. I saw many members of the crew jumping into the water."

The survivors appeared in agreement that the Elna had struck the tanker amidships. The Coast Guard said the Elna, "with its bow stove in and afire, was aground at Channel Shoal" and that several members of the crew were fighting a fire on the vessel four hours after the collision, which occurred in overcast rainy weather shortly before 1 a. m.

Texans Listed As Survivors, Among Missing

NEW CASTLE, Del. (AP)—Delaware State Police said today survivors from the USNS Mission San Francisco included these Texans: Alton Kennedy, 43, Houston; Girard Herman, 50, Corpus Christi; Luther Walker, 31, Houston; Clinton Sampa, 49, 136 W. 16th St., Fort Arthur; and Willie Lock, Fort Arthur.

Mathiasen Tankers Industries, operators of the Navy tanker, listed these missing Texans: Capt. William Allen, 2411 40th St., Galveston; and Bosun Edward Reneau, 5976 Smith St., Groves.

Driver Departs After Hitting Girl

Police here are looking for a yellow pickup that ran over a 10-year-old girl this morning.

Kathryn Coe, 10, of 405 W. 4th, was hit by the unidentified pickup this morning at Fourth and Lancaster. She was not seriously hurt however, just bruised. She went on to school.

The mother of the girl called the police department and reported the incident. She said the pickup stopped on Lancaster at the intersection, and when the girl started across, the pickup bumped her and knocked her down.

Daughter Slain

Anthony Zielski and his wife, Mary, console each other in their Ramsey, N.J., home, after finding the brutally beaten body of their daughter, Victoria, 15, in a snow-spotted field. She disappeared on her way home from studying high school lessons with a girl friend.

George Malvar, 19, one of the survivors of the Elna described as an Estonian ship under Liberian registry, said he was at the helm and taking orders from the river pilot, Capt. Henry Rice of Milford, Del., when the two ships struck.

George Malvar, 19, one of the survivors of the Elna described as an Estonian ship under Liberian registry, said he was at the helm and taking orders from the river pilot, Capt. Henry Rice of Milford, Del., when the two ships struck.

Malvar said the Elna was proceeding "normally down the channel when the pilot suddenly told me to veer to starboard."

He told the captain (Alexander Kaare) to blow the whistle. "I turned the ship and the pilot told the captain to blow the whistle again. The next thing I saw was this tanker crossing our bow. I braced myself for the collision and the pilot ordered full astern. There didn't seem to be much of a shock when we hit but then there was the terrible explosion."

"When I think of all those men on the other ship, I'm sorry I was at the wheel. But I was only taking orders. I don't think our pilot was wrong either."

Rice gave a similar version of the collision adding that he noticed the tanker as he approached the jetty and it appeared that it would cross close to the Elna's bow. He said the tanker failed to respond to his warning blast and the collision occurred shortly after he had ordered all engines to full reverse.

"I heard four or five explosions on the tanker, the force of which hurred us to the floor and the wheelhouse collapsed around us."

Cmdr. O. G. Cross, of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, who lives in New Castle, heard the blast and rounded up other auxiliary members who put out in an 18-foot open boat.

He said the area where the vessels collided is called the "graveyard of ships." A number of small boats have piled up on jetties there. The navigable channel is only 50 to 100 yards wide at that point, Cross said.

Elna survivors said the freighter had unloaded a consignment of wood pulp at Wilmington, Del., and was headed south to Baltimore.

The Mission San Francisco was reported traveling from New York to Philadelphia.

Capt. Kaare of the Elna said the Mission was rounding a bend in the river and appeared headed across channel and across the Elna's bow instead of proceeding upriver on the New Jersey side, thereby properly passing the Elna on her port side.

The Coast Guard halted all shipping in the area because the burning tanker was a hazard to navigation.

Sun Shines On Most Of State After Short-Lived Cold Front

Bright sunshine covered most of Texas Thursday after a cold front swept the state, bringing the Panhandle its best snow of the winter season.

The large wet flakes that piled up to five inches in the Panhandle were hailed by farmers and ranchers as an ideal cover for drought-ridden rangelands and for providing moisture for plowing and spring planting.

The front, which pushed into the Gulf of Mexico past Brownsville early Thursday, also brought light rains to many sections of the state. Some areas reported that the recent rains gave them the

Temperature Sinks Below Freeze Mark

It froze in Big Spring Wednesday night. The temperature dropped to a chilly 28 degrees—the exact figure predicted by the U.S. Weather bureau as low for the night. There was a fairly thick skim of ice formed on exposed water.

Opinion on the damage done to fruit and shrubs by the cold varied sharply. Most folk seemed to feel that fruit trees which had blossomed out would be damaged. Whether or not other plant life was seriously hurt will have to wait a few days for true determination. Where shrubs and plants had been well watered just ahead of the cold spell, it was not thought any serious injury would result.

Tender plants and flowers which had pushed up in the warm days of February will undoubtedly be set back sharply and in some cases will probably be killed, it was believed.

Best Spring Planting Conditions In A Decade

The front sent temperatures tumbling. Early Thursday minimums ranged from 21 degrees at Dalhart to 33 at Brownsville. Other overnight low readings included Amarillo 22, Lubbock 24, Childress 25, Odessa 28, Wichita Falls 29, San Angelo 33, Dallas 34, and Waco 35.

Freezing weather was predicted again Thursday night for a wide section of the state.

Skies were clear in the Panhandle and South Plains and were clearing in North and Central Texas Thursday morning. The Weather Bureau said skies in other sections of the state would clear during the day as the front moved out into the Gulf.

Brownsville and the Lower Rio Grande Valley reported the only rain Thursday morning. The showers were set off as the front moved through that area.

Snow depth reached 5 inches at Booker in Lipscomb County. Perryton and Higgins had 4 1/2 inches and Shamrock and Spearman had 3 inches. Snow also fell at Wichita Falls.

Hail an inch in diameter fell in Beeville Wednesday and more than an inch and a half of rain drenched Refugio in a quick shower.

Traffic was open on all highways, but several minor accidents were blamed on the weather in West Texas.

Near Electra, northwest of Wichita Falls, farmers complained their wheat was getting too much moisture. Rain measured .42 of an inch yesterday near Electra where pastures and grain fields already are green from earlier widespread rain.

Walter Prechel, who farms near Burk Burnett, explained the predicament of farmers:

"We would like to seed spring oats and we can't until the soil dries. We would like to top-dress our small grain. We can't fertilize with wet ground. The wheat is getting too big. We are afraid it will become rank, that is, become all stem and little grain. This would make it susceptible to late freeze."

One commendable thing about the Borden County livestock program is that Latin-American boys are urged to take part. At the recent Gail show one of the contestants was Oscar Ovalle who showed a 365-pound gilt. The hog had won a blue ribbon at Lamesa and was also a winner in the Sears Program. She didn't get a ribbon at the Gail contest, however. "She likes to eat the feed," Oscar explained, "and got too big to win any more ribbons." He wasn't too disappointed at not winning a ribbon, but was concerned about the number of dollars 365 pounds of pork would bring at so many cents per pound. Oscar was only one of three or four Latin-American boys who displayed animals at the show. He is a sixth grade student at Gail, and lives on the John Whitmire Ranch.

A New Mexico scientist, John Clark of the state's A. & M. College, says there is no feasible way to bring fresh water from the big rivers into the Southwest. He said that to pipe water from the Missouri River to Southern New Mexico would probably cost over $300 an acre foot by the time it was delivered to the farmers. Another hitch would be in getting the right-of-way to lay a huge pipe. He said the various towns en route would not allow the line to come through their areas without taking a big part of the water. He also says that converting sea water into fresh and bringing it up here for irrigation purposes is only a wishful dream. Even if they finally learn to change the salt water to fresh in another few years, the long pipelines and pump station costs would make it prohibitive for irrigation use. He says we must use what underground water we have and trap the rainfall, or else do without.

John Reed, Sterling County rancher, says the Sierra Blanca country is in better condition than it has been in a long time. On his ranch northeast of Sierra Blanca he received some slow, soaking rains last month. That area was dry for three or four years, but the drought started much later than it did here.

Four members of the Big Spring FFA Chapter have lambs entered in the San Angelo Show which started today, according to Tommy Buckner. He carried two crossbred lambs, George Lewke took one crossbred, Bruce Moore a crossbred, while Tommy Jackson entered one fine wool lamb.

This is a tough show in the lamb division, Tommy said, because hundreds of lambs from many parts of West Texas are in competition. Vernon Wolf of the Vincent community has reworked his pasture lake since last fall. He made the dam much higher and longer and it will now hold a lot more water. He catches water from a watershed covering several miles and then uses it for irrigation.

Last year Wolf irrigated most of the 40-acre field about two times, then ran out of water along in mid-summer. However, he gathered 30 bales from the field, while dryland fields in the area made almost nothing at all. One group quite happy over the rains in South Texas are the hound dog men. A Corpus Christi paper says the country has been so dry the last few years that the hounds haven't been able to trail. Now with the recent rains, the owners have them out scaring up foxes, wildcats and almost anything that has four legs. My experience with the hound dog fraternity happened about 20 years ago, when two neighbors started an annual dog encampment at Cedar Lake west of Lamesa. Hunters from all over West and Central Texas brought their flop-eared coon hounds to the lake for the two or three-day meets. Here the men sat around camp fires, chewed tobacco and swapped lies on how good their dogs were.

Firms To End Oil Aid After Canal Reopens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The group of 15 American oil companies supporting the oil lift to Europe expects to end its operations within three months of the reopening of the Suez Canal. S. P. Coleman, chairman of the 15-company Middle East Emergency Committee (MEEC) gave that testimony yesterday before Senate subcommittees. The subcommittees, headed by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), called three officials of the Gulf Oil Corp. As they continued their joint probe of possible antitrust violations and of price rises which followed establishment of the oil-for-Europe program. The MEEC was set up under government supervision to replace oil supplies which Europe previously had gotten from the Middle East through Suez.

Called to testify for Gulf were W. K. Whitford, president; E. O. Rhoades, senior vice president; and C. J. Guzzo, vice president who has been serving on the MEEC. Coleman, a vice president of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, and M. K. Rathbone, president, were questioned at length yesterday in their second day of public testimony. Rathbone stoutly defended the increase in U.S. oil and gasoline prices as "completely justified" and more than a year overdue. Senators have protested that it adds to the domestic inflation by boosting retail costs of oil and gasoline more than a billion dollars a year.

Rathbone and Coleman testified that prices for European oil also had gone up and that foreign affiliates of Standard of New Jersey had benefited. But they insisted, under questions, that most European price increases were approved by governments that control prices or by government officials.

New Pain Relief For Cancer Victims

By RENNIE TAYLOR
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A method of relieving pain in dying cancer patients without the use of narcotics or brain operations was announced by two Texas medical researchers. The procedure requires the injection of a small amount of pure alcohol in the spinal cord. A single treatment can banish pain for three to six months, said Dr. Richard C. Hay and Dr. William Derrick of the M. D. Anderson Hospital here. Dr. Hay and Dr. Derrick described the results of 81 cases to the 11th annual Symposium on Fundamental Cancer Research. The meeting is sponsored by the hospital and the medical branch of the University of Texas.

Intractable pain is one of the worst features of the final stage of cancer. Narcotics relieve the agony for a while but eventually the patient becomes so tolerant of the drugs that they do little good. The alcohol treatment was effective in all but five of the cases, the physicians said. Pinpointing the target in the spinal cord is the most difficult part of the procedure, which takes about an hour. The alcohol has to be confined to a little area in the channel which carries the sensory nerve from the brain to the affected part of the body. It has to be kept away from nearby nerves which control the muscles. It works by drying out a section of the nerve, in effect making a disconnection. In time the nerve is regenerated and the pain may recur but additional injections can be given, the researchers reported.

It Might Be Embarrassing

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A new slenderizing salon celebrated its opening by inviting members of several women's groups to come and look things over and maybe slim down a bit if need be. One invitation went to the vice president of the Abraham Lincoln High School P-TA, who replied: "I could undoubtedly take off a little weight to advantage, but I can't attend the opening, and what's more, I'm sure you wouldn't want me to." The reply was signed: Mr. James D. Cameron Jr.

Pro-Integration White's Car Is Stoned By Mob

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A white man who has publicly advocated integration of the races was threatened and his car stoned by an angry crowd of white persons at Birmingham's Terminal Station yesterday. Lamar Weaver, a steelworker, had gone to the station to see a Negro minister and his wife off on a trip. He later was fined in Traffic Court on a charge of reckless driving, resulting from his efforts to flee the angry crowd.

Weaver sat with the Negro couple in a white waiting room until a large crowd of white persons assembled. Police ordered Weaver and others having no business in the station to leave. The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth and his wife left Birmingham by train for Atlanta. Shuttlesworth previously had said he intended to sit in the station's white waiting room.

Contrary to an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling banning separate waiting rooms for white persons and Negroes, two separate waiting rooms are maintained at the Terminal Station. One is designated "for white and interstate passengers," and Negroes have been barred from it in the past. The other is maintained for use of Negro passengers.

The Shuttlesworths were in the waiting room for about 1 1/2 hours, under a heavy police guard. Weaver was followed by more than a score of shouting white men, most of them cursing him, when he left the station. He reached his car unharmed and prepared to drive away when some of the crowd rocked it back and forth, apparently attempting to overturn it. The car was stoned; some of its windows were broken. Weaver backed into a parked car and drove through a red traffic light leaving the scene. He drove to police headquarters and asked for an immediate trial, explaining he planned to leave Birmingham.

City Judge Oliver B. Hall fined him $25 and court costs on a charge of reckless driving. Shuttlesworth was the leader of mass violations of the city's bus segregation ordinances last December, when 21 Negroes were arrested. They have asked a federal court ruling that the ordinance is unconstitutional, and an injunction restraining police from enforcing them.

Tests Chemical

Dr. Buell Beadle, chairman of Southwest Research Institute Department of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering, San Antonio, checks water level on one of the 14 units used to test the effect of the chemical hexadecanol in preventing evaporation of water. Experiments are being conducted on lakes and reservoirs to determine how the chemical reacts in open areas.

Spelling Held College Must

HOUSTON (AP)—Spelling is one of the most important things college students should learn, two business executives advised here yesterday.

Speaking at the opening session of the Career Day program at the University of Houston, Frank J. Starzel, general manager of The Associated Press, said technical training in journalism schools is fine, "but the real test of newsmen is in the breadth and scope of their knowledge and interests."

"The news business is a continuation of education," he said. "The people we need are those with inquisitive minds and I think you get an inquisitive mind in the broader field of education. "Other than that, for our business, I hope they learn to spell." Concurring, David Thomas, executive of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., told the students "You can say that about spelling for our business, too."

They're Organized

The beautiful Volkman twins, Susan (right) and Caryl, were prize-winners on CBS-TV's "64,000 Question." They praise organization as an answer to getting things accomplished. Both girls appeared recently on the screen in "Rock, Pretty Baby."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Color TV Can Give Blondes Some Trouble

By LYDIA LANE HOLLYWOOD—I was able to tell Susan Volkman from her twin sister Caryl because Susan had come straight from her class at UCLA, and Caryl had had time to re-do her hair. These are the beautiful girls who won $16,000 on the "64,000 Question" show, and they're using the money to pay for their college educations.

"We usually dress identically," Susan commented, "but we like people to take the trouble to tell us apart." "Did they ever get you mixed up when you were on the show?" I asked.

"Yes," laughed Caryl. "But then we were too nervous to notice." Naturally I wanted to know if these beautiful twins had any beauty problems.

"Being naturally blonde," they admitted, "means we have very light eyebrows and lashes. We had to learn to use eye make-up without giving us an artificial look."

When CBS was doing color tests for the show they experimented to find a natural-looking eyebrow pencil. Most were too brown or too red, but we did find one chestnut shade that is just right. Getting the right color is so important."

It was mid-afternoon as we sat in the patio of the Beverly Hills Hotel, but Susan admitted she had not had time for lunch. "Our father," Caryl explained, "is always telling us, 'Let's get organized. If you don't you'll never get things accomplished." "I am a great one for making a list. When you write things down you can check them off as you get them finished."

Susan ordered a sandwich and a glass of milk. "I try to stay away from starches and sweets," she explained, "because when I don't eat right, and fill up on the wrong things, I don't feel as well."

"But we are both athletic," Caryl added. "Fortunately we don't have to worry about our weight." My next question was about their future. "Do you both want to be in the theater?"

"Caryl knows she wants to be an actress," Susan confided. "But I think I want to write. We have it all worked out that she'll act in my plays."

"Good luck, girls," I said in parting. "Dad always tells us confidence is half the battle," they explained. "But you can't be confident without plenty of hard work to go with it."

Hyperion Club Tells District Nominees; Two Elect Officers

The 1955 Hyperion Club announced its nominees for the convention of District Eight Wednesday afternoon when the club met in the home of Mrs. Obie Bristow.

Mrs. Charles Sweeney was selected for the leadership development nominee and Sue Boykin for the outstanding high school student. Both will be in the contest to be held in Midland March 28-30.

Mrs. Lorin McDowell presented a program dealing with the United States and Latin America. She told the club that, of the 20 countries in South America, nine are dictatorships.

There is no race problem in South America, which is 7,000 miles from tip to tip, Mrs. McDowell said. The Amazon River is 300 miles long. There is a close family life in the countries, members learned.

Brazil, she said, furnishes 50 per cent of the world's coffee; the per capita wealth in all the countries amounts to $150 as compared to $1,500 in the United States.

Mrs. McDowell remarked that the North Americans have often been accused of neglecting their neighbors to the south. During World War II, Mexico was found to have 11 of the strategic minerals needed for fighting the war. This is now a time of upheaval in the countries, with the Communists heading a movement of "anti-Yankeeism," the speaker said.

Sixteen were present for the meeting. This included a guest, Mrs. C. B. DeWees of Fort Worth. 1946 HYPERION CLUB Mrs. George Peacock was elected president of the 1946 Hyperion Club when the group met in the home of Mrs. Jack Cook Wednesday afternoon.

Chosen vice president was Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr.; recording secretary, Mrs. Louis Carothers; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jack Guiley, and treasurer, Mrs. Jack Cook.

To serve as reporter is Mrs. Hudson Landers; Mrs. Dan Krausse will be parliamentarian.

In observation of Texas Day, Mrs. Bennett Brooke presented a discussion of famous old homes of the state.

1955 HYPERION CLUB Texas Day was also observed by the 1955 Hyperion Club Wednesday afternoon with a program presented by Ina Mae McCollom, instructor at Howard County Junior College. She discussed the history of Texas and distributed booklets of information about the state.

Mrs. John Taylor was elected president of the club; Mrs. Jackson Friedlander, vice president;

Mrs. Ross Hill was in charge of the program, which consisted of Irish musical selections played on an accordion by Martha Winans, and a vocal duet by Mrs. A. W. Page and Mrs. Curtis Reynolds.

Mrs. A. R. Posey offered the opening prayer; the Rev. D. R. Philleary was guest speaker. The group of 40 was dismissed with a prayer by Otto Couch.

Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, recording secretary. Elected corresponding secretary is Mr. John Currie; treasurer, Mrs. C. M. Boles. Yet to be appointed are the reporter and the parliamentarian.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

Can you imagine anything more welcome in West Texas than highways beautified with rambler roses of the native variety? Or on divided highways a low growing cedar that would absorb the glare of an oncoming automobile headlights? It would seem too good to be true, but it has been thought of, according to a talk made at a recent club meeting.

The talk concerned native shrubs, trees and flowers, and the idea was advanced that in certain parts of the state, the roses would flourish and their entwining runners would form a sort of protection for cars that are out of control and might leave the road. The idea would be to slow them down but not stop them abruptly. Also possible for use in this same category would be a type of cedar that doesn't form a single trunk but has many outgrowing limbs that are sturdy and would bring an automobile to a gradual stop.

There are many places in Texas that could stand a little beauty to take away from the monotony of driving so long and seeing so little. For instance between Pecos and El Paso and any way you go to Del Rio.

MR. AND MRS. A. D. WEBB are proudly announcing the arrival of a new grandson. He is John Hogan and is the son of, and Mrs. Jimmy Webb who live in Amarillo. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hogan of Breckenridge. The new boy is the Webbs' third child.

MRS. JIM FLEMING, who has been making her home in New York City, is here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. King, while her husband is spending two months in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. King drove to St. Louis last weekend and met their daughter who accompanied them to Dallas, where they visited another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lozano. Paula Lozano came home with them for a two weeks visit.

Mr. Fleming is a trombone player with the Glenn Miller orchestra under the direction of Ray McKinley. The orchestra was flown by the Air Force to Europe last Monday and will play at U. S. bases in Germany, France, North Africa and England during this month. In April, they will represent the State Department as guests in Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, where they are slated to give concerts.

Mrs. Fleming plans to spend several weeks here before going to Fort Worth to spend some time with Mrs. E. Dean Fleming. Later she will be in Dallas.

MR. AND MRS. OMAR JONES and their sons, Larry and John Taylor, left at noon for Corpus Christi where they will spend two weeks.

DR. ORON W. CARTER, superintendent of the Big Spring District, addressed the McMurry College student body last week, pointing out that everyone is under heavy obligation to contribute everything possible to make a better world and better life for others. Dr. and Mrs. Carter's son, Weldon, is a 1949 McMurry graduate.

Mrs. Knox plans to spend several weeks here before going to Fort Worth to spend some time with Mrs. E. Dean Fleming. Later she will be in Dallas.

Fairview HD Club Has Demonstration On Giving A Coffee

Hospitality and making your guests feel welcome are the touches which make a successful party, members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club were told Tuesday afternoon. The group met in the home of Mrs. J. W. Wooten, with Elizabeth Pace, HD agent, giving a demonstration of how to arrange for a coffee.

Stressing the importance of following measurements carefully, Miss Pace showed members how to make a cinnamon orange coffee cake.

Several pointers on safety in the home were given by the group as they answered roll call with something that had caused accidents in their homes.

A money-making project, started by the club, is named Sunshine and Gloom. Members are divided into two sides, with those in the sunshine group contributing a penny to the fund each time there is sunshine at 9 a.m. When the sky is cloudy at that time, the other side donates a penny.

Two new members, Mrs. H. S. Hanson and Mrs. Dollie Anderson, attended with 12 regular members. The thought given for the day was "After all it is said and done, there has been more said than done."

Mrs. Wooten presented the devotion from the book of John, Mrs. D. F. Bigony, Lamesa Highway, was announced as the hostess for the March 19 meeting - at 2:30 p.m.

Principals In School Fight Set Court Test

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Principals in a furor over public transportation of parochial school children last night laid the ground work for a court test of its legality and for temporary peace between protagonists.

In a joint meeting of the Board of Aldermen and Common Council, a token appropriation of $100 for initiation of bus services was approved unanimously by the aldermen and 13-2 by the Council.

Passage of Alderman Ray Swift's order opens the door to a court challenge by opponents of public school buses for children in the city's two Roman Catholic parochial schools.

After the lengthy session, Mayor H. Lloyd Carey said he would appeal to parents of 697 Catholic school students newly enrolled in the public school system to withdraw them.

"I feel the action for transfer to public schools inadvisable at this time," he said.

Carey said he "enthusiastically" endorsed the suggestion of Alderman Harold P. Dinsmore that it be understood the measure was passed with the express purpose of making it a test case and his desire that "opponents and proponents go hand in hand with it to the Supreme Court."

The mayor said he would appoint a committee of 10 citizens to sign a bill in equity which would allow them to bypass the lower court and go directly to the State Supreme Court for a ruling.

Several Catholic parents said after the meeting they would go along with the mayor and keep their children in parochial schools until the matter is settled.

However, William A. Bean, one of the originators of the move to flood the city schools with 900 additional children Monday, said he would go ahead and enroll his three.

Bean was the first speaker at last night's hearing that argued that parochial schools are not necessarily private. "They are open to all who wish to send their children," he said, "and are under state supervision."

Supporters Say De Valera Wins Irish Election

DUBLIN (AP) — Supporters of Eamon de Valera today claimed victory for the 74-year-old former prime minister in his bid to take over leadership again of the Irish Republic.

With returns from 21 districts still to be counted, De Valera's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) party was within five seats of winning an over-all majority in the Dail (Parliament).

The Fianna Fail had won 69 seats in the 147-member Parliament, and about half the districts outstanding were regarded as traditional De Valera strongholds.

The Fine Gael of former Premier John A. Costello again was running a slow second with 32 seats. Others elected included 10 Laborites, 1 Republican, 3 Farmers and 7 independents.

The American-born "Dev" three years ago refused to form a coalition government when his party won only 65 seats. Costello, a Dublin lawyer, patched together a several-party cabinet. He resigned when one faction pulled out over the worsening economic condition.

One of the problems confronting De Valera, last surviving commander of the 1916 rebellion against the British, was the rising tide of militancy in the republic against British rule over the six counties of Northern Ireland. The old patriot now has condemned attempts to settle the partition dispute by violence.

The Sinn Fein, political arm of the outlawed Irish Republican Army which favors force if necessary to unite North and South Ireland, captured four parliamentary seats in a surprising show of strength.

The Sinn Feiners have declared they will boycott the Dail to dramatize their demands for an all-Ireland Parliament.

The new Dail will meet March 20 to elect the new Prime Minister. De Valera again has rejected suggestions that he form a "national unity" coalition government.

Waiter To Wed Girl He Saved

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — New York waiter John Vall saved a girl's life last July when the Andrea Doria sank. Sunday he'll marry her.

She is Melanie Ansuini, 19, who was on her way from Perugia, Italy, to make her home here with her parents and two brothers.

She lost her grip while sliding down a rope into a lifeboat and was knocked unconscious. Vall, 28, jumped into the water and held her up 20 minutes until another lifeboat came by.

Vall, who has been to Italy "looking for a girl to marry," asked Melanie to write. She did.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It always pays to lead with your best manners when you entertain guests in your home. The same goes for visitors in your town. Big Spring rolled out the red carpet in two different athletic events recently, and profited in good public relations in each instance. One was the Ropesville-Merkel Class A playoff basketball game, which attracted 1,000 fans—most of them from out of town. The local Chamber of Commerce received the following letter from O. V. Fuller, superintendent of schools at Ropesville, after the Ropesville team had returned home: "I wish to take this opportunity to express the gratitude of the Ropesville community for the courtesy extended to our school by allowing us to play our bi-district basketball game here. We feel deeply indebted to the city of Big Spring and the Big Spring school system."

Another letter of praise came the town's way via Phillips, who lauded the local people for staging "the best volleyball tournament in the state." It came from Cody Fondren, business manager of the schools at Phillips and father of the 1957 tournament queen, Rosalie Fondren.

The upcoming ABC Relays (March 15-16) give us another chance to play the perfect host. If we make the visitors feel they're welcome and go out of our way to show our appreciation, they'll take the good word home and, equally important, come back at the first opportunity.

Coach Johnny Johnson and his Big Spring High School cage team leave for Austin and the State Meet late today. Originally, the Bovines were to have delayed their departure until Friday but they found they would have to make their hotel reservations for three nights, rather than two, so Johnson advanced their time of departure. Incidentally, for the second straight year, State Representative Obie Bristow made their hotel accommodations for them.

Junior-to-be Don Boyce, who could emerge as the finest football back in District 2-AAAA next season, raged up and down the turf for 145 yards in running gains in Midland High School's intrasquad game last weekend. Even before his sophomore year, Boyce was being compared to Wahoo McDaniel, the great Bulldog back of a couple of seasons ago. Boyce performed for the White squad, which won a 19-0 decision.

Fidel Alvarez, never much of a hurler when he performed for the Big Spring Longhorn League entry several years ago but who became a star after going to Port Arthur, boasted the lowest earned-run average among Columbia winter league hurlers down in South America the past season, although he won only nine games while losing ten. Alvarez wound up with a 1.99 ERA. His contract in organized baseball belongs to Victoria of the Big State League.

Another Big Spring ex, Bobby Fernandez, stroked .290 in the Columbia circuit, a mark good enough to lead the league. Alvarez performed for Indians, Fernandez for Ventur.

Only ten of the 48 states permit pari-mutuel betting at horse races.

Longhorn Cagers Will See Two Days Of State Meet

Four carloads of Big Spring High School basketball players and coaches were to depart this afternoon for Austin, where they will witness the final two days of the State Tournament. The local delegation will put up at the Driskill Hotel and will return here Sunday afternoon. Making the trip will be Coaches Johnny Johnson and Sam Bell, Mike Musgrove, Jesse McElreath, Jan Loudermilk, Donald Lovelady, Rickey Terry, Frank Hardesty Jr., Billy Blumh, Jerry Brooks, Robert Del Gado, Eston Hollis, Harold Wilde, Bill Thompson, Preston Hollis, Bobby McAdams, Eddie Kenney, student managers Kelsey Meek and Bill Norred, Roger Flowers, Danny Birdwell and Bernard McMahan. There is a possibility Bernard Rains will go down Friday, if he does, he will take two more players, Joe Bob Clendenin and Wesley Phillips, with him. Jimmy Evans, Donnie Anderson, Charles Russell, Billy Bob Sat-

Bowlers Stream Into Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — Bowlers from virtually every area streamed into Fort Worth today as workers put the finishing touches to a 32-lane installation at Will Rogers Coliseum where the American Bowling Congress will run for 51 days. The pins being falling Saturday as the first batch of an anticipated 16,000 keglers open competition for the $27,652 in prize money. Heading the massive field will be Bill Lillard, a Texan who went to Chicago to win bowling fame. The only man ever to win three titles in a single tournament, Lillard will defend championships in team, doubles and all-events when he bowls April 4 and 5. The team champion is Falstaff of Chicago and the singles king is George Wade of Steubenville, Ohio.

Harold Davis Flies To State Cage Meet

Harold Davis, HCJC cage coach, left Midland via air this morning for Austin where he will take the first two days of the State basketball tournament. Davis is due to return here Saturday to supervise final workouts of the Jayhawks, before they depart for the Region V tournament at Amarillo.

Eagles Sign Bowers

SANFORD, Fla. —Dallas Eagle Manager Sully Parker said yesterday righthander Tommy Bowers had signed his contract. Bowers won 17 games for Dallas last season.

HC Diamond Corps Out

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks, who finished with an 8-4 win-loss record last season, launch their 1957 baseball season here March 21, at which time they host the Texas Tech freshmen. The Hawks have five home games booked. They'll play a double with track. The Odessa's Wranglers emerged as Zone champions last year, with a 7-1 win-loss record. The only blot on the Odessans' league record was a defeat inflicted by HCJC. Within the conference, the Hawks had a 6-2 record, having lost to both Odessa and Amarillo. It isn't certain yet who will coach the Hawks. Harold Davis has shouldered the chore the last several years. There is a possibility he will work with the track team, in which event Red Lewis will take over. However, Lewis may stick with track. The Hawks will lean upon six lettermen. They include Mike Powell, a shortstop and pitcher; Ralph Murpree, first sacker; Jackie Morrison, second baseman; Truett Newell, third baseman; Don Isham, pitcher; and Jim Jolley, pitcher. Newcomers to the squad include Buddy Colvin, Turkey; Bobby Williams, Dallas, all of whom will bid for the catching job; Robert Richards, Potosi, Mo., a pitcher; Larry Shortes, Big Spring, an infielder; Johnny Watson, Doyline, La., and Larry Glone, Potosi, Mo., both first basemen; Ronnie Doyline, La.; Glenn Madison, Stanton; and Lonnie Winterrowd, Pecos, all outfielders. Several others have indicated they were to seek positions on the squad. Lettermen lost included Glenn Brawley, catcher; Jackie Williams, shortstop; Kidd Waddell, pitcher; Tony Hoover, outfielder; Lefty Don Reynolds, outfielder; Melvin Murpree, infielder; and Phil Gore, first baseman. The schedule: March 21—Tech Fresh here. March 22—Tech Fresh at Lubbock. March 23—San Angelo here. April 2—San Angelo here. April 3—Cleveland here (2). April 4—Odessa here. April 5—Amarillo here (2). April 17—Odessa here. April 18—Phillips at Borger (2).

Mound Outlook For Tribe Good

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
The Associated Press
Freshman Manager Kerby Farrell of the Cleveland Indians, already rich in pitching talent, has some eager phenoms on hand to keep the veterans on their toes. Established performers include Early Wynn, Bob Lemon, Herb Score, Mike Garcia, Don Mossi, Ray Narleski and Art Houtteman. Farrell also has an impressive rookie crop he brought with him from Indianapolis of the American Assn., which the Little World Series last year. One of Farrell's top moundsmen was Lee (Bud) Daley, who compiled an 11-1 win-loss record and 2.31 earned run average after being farmed out in July by former Cleveland skipper Al Lopez. The 24-year-old southpaw thinks he'll have a better chance to stick this season. "Kerby knows what I can do," said Daley. "I can start and I can relieve. I can pitch every day. Last year Lopez didn't want relievers pitching batting practice. He wanted our arms fresh. But it doesn't bother my arm. Kerby knows that."

Other pitching prospects from Indianapolis are Stan Pitala (15-4) Hank Aguirre (10-6) and then 3-5 with Cleveland) and Dolan Nichols (12-6). Two other promising hurlers, Ed Gasque (11-7) and John Gray (10-7), still are unsigned. Another mound hopeful is Pete Mesa, who posted a 13-12 mark with San Diego of the PCL and then captured 14 in a row in the Mexican Winter League.

KBST Will Air State Tourney

Radio Station KBST Big Spring will broadcast both the afternoon and evening championship finals of the State basketball tournament from Austin on Saturday. The afternoon broadcast starts with the Class B championship game at 1:05 p.m. The Class A game opens at 2:25 p.m. and the Class AAAA contest at 3:45 p.m. The night broadcast starts with the Conference AA engagement at 7:35 p.m. The Class AAA game is down for 8:55 p.m. A crew of five radio announcers including Ves Box, George Mooney, Fred Kincaid, Jim Wiggins and Eddie Hill—will be on hand to fill in the play-by-play.

Baseball Drive On In Angelo

SAN ANGELO —A drive was under way today to raise $20,000 as Southwestern Baseball League officials schemed to prop the bankrupt San Angelo club up for another season. Creditors of the club accepted yesterday a plan by the league to keep the club alive. Loop President W. J. Green proposed sale to creditors of stock in a new corporation in lieu of the debts, then public sale of stock to raise $20,000 to pay the club's operating expenses. Green had proposed that the league operate the club if the stock selling project wasn't adopted. The franchise has already been turned back to the league, leaving seven members, an awkward figure. With an odd number of teams, one club will have to be off each night, with consequent loss of revenue. A group of San Angelo businessmen pledged $3,500 as a start toward the $20,000 and Green said he was confident the goal would be reached in the next few days. Creditors are now claiming $49,000. There also is a $39,000 mortgage on the ball park and the club owes $5,600 in federal taxes. Other members of the Southwestern League include Plainview, Ballinger, Midland and Pampa, Texas, and Carlsbad, Hobbs and Roswell in New Mexico.

Local Team Wins Over Midland

The YMCA Business Men's volleyball team, fresh from a victory over Midland, is scheduled to go to Wichita Falls Saturday to compete in a tournament. Chamberlain, whose varsity debut at Kansas this year was eagerly awaited, has more than lived up to expectations. "He already rates with the greatest players I have ever seen," says Dick Harp, Kansas coach. Rosenbluth is the relaxed type of player who sometimes makes things look too easy. "He's so relaxed that sometimes people think he's not trying," explains his coach, Frank McGuire. "But actually he's as good as any player on defense. I rate him as good or better than any player I've ever coached."

24 Top Teams Launch State Cage Tourney

By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN —The top 24 school basketball teams in Texas, remnants of a starting field of 1,097, pair off beginning today in the 37th annual State Tournament at the University of Texas home court. Buna, with an enrollment of 214, has the talent to stamp itself as the best in the batch. With its fabulous 64-game victory skein, the Cougars loom as strong favorites to take the Class B crown. The Stanley Twins, Pat and Don, are All-State and have paced Buna to 38 wins this season, including victories over Port Arthur, a favorite with Pampa in the class AAAA bracket. The Cougars also have whipped Milby of Houston and Beaumont South Park twice each. It's their fourth straight tourney appearance. Pre-meet favorites in other conferences are Ropesville in Class A and Pecos in Class AAA. Games today match Conference AA, A and B with the bigger schools opening first tomorrow. The games Saturday will be broadcast by 26 radio stations and the Conference AAAA championship game will be telecast Saturday at 3:45 p.m. by stations in Austin, Temple, San Antonio, Dallas and Houston. Each division has four teams except for Class B with eight entries. Seventeen of the 24 have had prior tourney experience and eight have won state titles. Only Clear Creek (Webster), Buna, Kyle and Van Horn were in last year's Interscholastic League meet. Newcomers are Meadow, Brun and Everman in Class B; Three Rivers and McGregor in Class A and Pecos and Smiley of Houston in Conference AAA. Nine All-Staters will be in action in the tournament, including four of the best five in Class AA. They are Pat and Don Stanley, of Buna, James Davis of Clear Creek, Bennie Carver of Bowie in Class AA; Oscar Williams of Big Sandy and But Butler of Everman, Class B; Bobby Gurwitz of Three Rivers, Class A; Billy Jim Simmons of Pecos, Class AAA; and Jerry Pope of Pampa, in Conference AAAA. Another attraction will be Lewis Qualls of Smiley of Houston, the 7-foot 1/2-inch sophomore center, perhaps the tallest player to participate in the state meet. Today's games: Class B — Meadow and Brun; Everman and Van Horn; Kyle and Burkett, and East Sandy (Dollardville) and East Mountain (Gilmer); Class A — White Oak and Three Rivers, Ropesville and McGregor; Class AA — Buna and Clear Creek and Bowie and Seminole.

Mustangs Tops In 2 Phases

DALLAS —Southern Methodist won the Southwest Conference basketball championship by the simple process of outscoring the opposition an average of almost 12 points per game. Final statistics on the season, released today by the conference office, show SMU averaged 74.9 points per contest to lead in offense by a 4.4 margin, and also topped in defense by giving up only 63.5 per outing. Baylor was second in offense with 70.5 and Texas A&M was a runnerup in defense with 64.0. For the season, during which SMU won 21 and lost 3, the Mustangs averaged 78.1 per game and gave up 63.7, both also leading the conference. In scoring SMU averaged 420 on field goals and .778 in free throws. Texas was second with .412 and .721. Jim Krebs of SMU led the conference in scoring with 278 points and in season scoring with 573. The most accurate field goal thrower, however, was H. E. Kirchner of Texas Christian, who averaged .547. The top free thrower was Kermit Decker of Texas with .852. Jerry Mallett of Baylor topped in rebounds with 179 in the 12 conference games. Krebs had 157. In season play Ray Downs of Texas led in field goal accuracy with .520 and Krebs had 498. Kenneth Cleveland of Texas was the free throw leader with .836 and Mallett was the top rebounder with .345 in 24 games.

Midway, Gay Hill Teams In Split

MIDWAY (SC) — Volleyball teams of the Gay Hill and Midway schools split a double-header played here Wednesday evening. The Midway boys finished off the visitors in two straight games, 15-2, 15-7, after the Gay Hill girls rallied to triumph, 7-15, 15-11, 15-9. The same teams meet again in Gay Hill March 15.

Competition Fierce On Steer Baseball Squad For Positions

Indications are the Big Spring High School baseball team will pack more punch than it did last season. The Longhorns have been handicapped by unfavorable weather since they launched workouts under Coach Roy Baird several weeks ago. However, they've shown an eagerness to tear into the ball. The team's pitching machine has not yet arrived, but it has been shipped. Coach Baird has improved the hitting eye of each of the boys. Spirited competition is going on for most of the positions on the team. Billy Johnson, senior letterman, quit track and returned to the baseball team. He'll probably fit into the outfield somewhere. Other veterans on the picket line include Jerry McMahan and Glenn Whitington. Bidding for jobs in the outer cord are Jackie Calloway, who has been ill recently and, for that reason, has missed several workouts; Wilson Bell, who can play either first base or the outfield; and Bobby Suggs, who'll divide his time between the pitching mound and the outfield. Suggs is a letterman and a senior. He says his arm is much improved over last year, when it gave him some trouble. The Steers have come up with a very promising left handed hurler in Chubby Moser, a sophomore who was the scourge of both the Little Leagues and Teen-Age Leagues in other years. Moser can also hit creditably and could play first base in a pinch. He's a sophomore. To go with him, Coach Baird has Billy Blumh and Suggs, lettermen; Billy Roger, Eston Hollis, Kenny Johnson and Danny Birdwell. Roger and Johnson are products of Little League ball here. Birdwell was ineligible last year. He is big and strong and bears watching. Blumh, a strapping six-footer, will play the infield when he isn't pitching. Letterman Rickey Terry is back to don the catching harness. Salvador Sarmiento, another veteran, will offer Rick assistance. Kelton Kupper, a promising stickman, is a transfer from the picture who could fit into the cleanup somewhere. He reported as a catcher. Jerry White is also in contention for the job as backstop. He's one of the best hurlers on the club. George Peacock, a letterman junior, appears to have won the first base job again. Peacock is stroking the ball better than he did a year ago. Bernard McMahan and Jimmy

Kansas Quintet Wins Big Seven

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press
The Kansas Jayhawks, who won the 1952 NCAA basketball championship and advanced to the finals on two other occasions, were back on the tournament trail today after clinching the Big Seven title. Led by All-America Will Chamberlain's 24 points, Kansas defeated Kansas State at Manhattan last night 64-57 for its 10th conference win in 11 games. The nation's No. 2 team, with a 20-2 seasonal record, meets Southern Methodist March 15 in the NCAA regional tourney at Dallas. With 20 teams already qualified for the NCAA playoffs, Yale clinched at least a tie for the Ivy League crown by downing Pennsylvania 60-54. The Ivy League, and winners of the Southern and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments starting this afternoon, will provide the other three teams for the NCAA hoop whirl. North Carolina and West Virginia are favored in the two tournays.

Mustangs Tops In 2 Phases

The National Invitation Tournament named Bradley and Utah to fill out the 12-team lineup that opens warfare in New York March 16. Bradley was runner-up to St. Louis in the Missouri Valley loop, while Utah finished second to Brigham Young in the Skyline. St. Louis, assured of the title and a NCAA berth, had the pressure off last night and swamped Oklahoma A&M 74-58. Yale can win the Ivy title if second-place Dartmouth loses to Harvard tonight. Otherwise the Bulldogs must defeat Harvard Saturday. Two All American players will lead their teams into tournament fray as Len Rosenbluth and his North Carolina mates take on Clemson, and Hot Rod Hundley and West Virginia open up against Davidson. Duke plays South Carolina. Maryland meets Virginia. Wake Forest tackles North Carolina State in other Atlantic Coast loop games. Other games in the Southern Conference tourney pit Furman against Richmond, Washington & Lee against The Citadel and Virginia Tech against William and Mary. Another All America, Columbia's Chet Forte, scored 34 points last night, but the Lions were defeated by Princeton 88-82. This left Columbia and Princeton tied for third in the Ivy League.

Gay Hill School Expansion Planned

Gay Hill School District trustees have engaged Puckett & French of Big Spring to draw preliminary plans for a plant enlargement there.

Doyle Fenn, superintendent, said that the architect-engineer would draft proposed plans together with rough cost estimates for presentation to the board at its next meeting. Involved are two classrooms and a large all-purpose room, together with auxiliary facilities.

The board also engaged Ransom Galloway of Henry, Seay & Black Company to prepare proposed schedules for bonds which would be required to finance the project.

Both the bonding company report and that of the architect-engineer will be received at the March 15 meeting. It is possible that the board then will decide on the amount of an issue to submit so that the election might be called no later than March 30.

Meanwhile, acting on the board's suggestions, the final plans for the addition might be drawn. The additions would help Gay Hill have a separate classroom for each grade level.

Gay Hill trustees also accepted a bid for purchase of a 54-passenger bus, which will be a Superior body on a Chevrolet chassis.

Cotton Council Plans Meet In Lamesa Mar. 26

LAMESA — Over two dozen representatives of the cotton industry in Dawson County met Wednesday with John Gregg, Northwest Texas field man for the National Cotton Council.

Gregg outlined plans for a meeting to be held here on March 26, when the National Cotton Council's program will be placed before growers and businessmen.

Gregg said the meeting here will be one of the 300 such meetings in the "cotton belt" and one of 50 in West Texas. Three National Cotton Council staff members will present a visual program designed to enlighten members of the industry as to the whereabouts of the cotton markets of a few years ago.

He told the group that the market in the north isn't the only market taken over by synthetic fibers. He cited the example of a survey taken in Lubbock in women's dresses on sale in department stores there. Just 10 per cent of the dresses were of cotton, 35 per cent were blended cotton and synthetics, and 55 per cent were entirely of fabrics other than cotton.

Eight Register For Jamboree

Eight registrations for participation in the Boy Scout National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., have been made on behalf of boys here.

They include Tommy Reed, Cliff Eppes, Curtis Beard, Tommy Brown, and Frank Tate Jr. In addition three John Doe registrations have been made on behalf of troop No. 9, troop No. 136 and post No. 9. Marshall V. Day will be the scoutmaster and Harvey Hooser assistant scoutmaster of the unit.

Bill McCree, district executive, said that places are open for four or five more boys from the Lone Star District if they will register promptly. Total cost of the trip will be $250. Dates for the jamboree are July 29-31, and there will be several side trips for boys going to the jamboree from this council.

Fewer Accidents During February

The accident rate in Big Spring dropped sharply during February, falling 18 from the January total.

The total number of accidents occurring inside the city limits during February was 50, including seven hit-and-runs. There were no injuries sustained in mishaps however.

Fourteen of the accidents came on Gregg.

In January the total soared to 70, with six injuries and six hit-and-run accidents. Compared to February of 1956, last month's total was lower. There were 63 accidents in February of 1956.

Dies At Tahoka

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Roman are in Tahoka where Mrs. Roman's father, Jack Curry, died last night.

Odell at Tahoka is his grandson, Odell Roman. Arrangements were pending at last night at the Stanley Funeral Home in Tahoka.

Well Locations Staked Today In Two Howard County Fields

Cosden Petroleum Corporation and D. W. Varel of Dallas have staked field locations in Howard County.

The Cosden venture will be in the Moore field. It is Cosden No. 11-B Patterson and will project to 3,250 feet. Location is about five miles southwest of Big Spring.

In the Varel (San Andres) field, Varel No. 1 Wilkinson is located nine miles northwest of Big Spring. Drilling depth is 3,350 feet.

Borden

Shell No. 1-A Miller, an Ellenburger wildcat, projected to 4,285 feet in lime and shale. Location is 646 feet from south and 1,972 feet from east lines, 275-97, H&T Survey.

Twelve miles northeast of Gail, Sinclair No. 1 Susie K o o n s m a n deepened to 2,152 feet in gyp. The Ellenburger prospect is C NW SE, 27-2, T&N Survey.

Continental No. 1 Jones drilled through lime and chert at 6,252 feet today. Location of the wildcat is C SW SW, 154-25, H&T Survey, 12 miles southeast of Gail.

Continental No. 1-25 Good penetrated to 2,970 feet in anhydrite and salt. The Arthur field wildcat is 1,980 feet from south and 997 feet from east lines, 25-33-4n, T&P Survey.

Howard

Jones No. 1 Pauline drilled to 3,582 feet in lime. The wildcat is 22 miles northeast of Big Spring.

ANGRY WIFE SHOOT AUTO

The shooting on the Northside this morning was not an attempted murder, but an attempted blowout.

A woman, separated from her husband, observed her husband eating breakfast with another woman this morning and saw his car parked in front.

She then got a 22 rifle and proceeded to fire at the car. She tried to puncture the tires, but when the bullets would not penetrate the rubber, she fired at the car.

The woman inside called the police department. When the officers arrived, they could find only one charge to place on the wife-firing wife — unlawful discharging of firearms in the city.

The car was jointly owned by her and her husband.

Witt Services To Be Friday

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday in the Nalley-Pickle Chapel for Edgar Clay Witt, 72, who died at his home four miles west of Knott last night.

Rev. Haskell D. Beck, Knott Baptist minister, will officiate. Interment will be in Union Cemetery at Westbrook.

Mr. Witt was born Oct. 31, 1885, in Bell County. He lived in the Knott community for the last 39 years. He was married Aug. 9, 1903, in Moody.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Zettie Witt of Knott; two sons, Willie Clay Witt of Rising Star and Luther Ellis Witt of Knott; a daughter, Mrs. Mammie Lee Slotts of Kerrville; a brother, Willie Witt of Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. Lula Elliott and Mrs. Katie Dorn, both of Colorado City; five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be John McGregor, Harrison Wood, Velah Kemper, D. P. Adams, Marlin Shaw and Dewey Martin.

Places 2nd In Piano Contest

Bill Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Evans, distinguished himself in competition sponsored by the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra last weekend.

Bill placed second among a field of five pianists, finishing barely behind a sophomore college student. Judges were high in their praise of him, and he becomes alternate as soloist for the Symphony on April 14. Billy played Grieg's "Concerto in A Minor" as his contest piece.

In June he will compete in the Wichita Falls symphony, an all Beethoven affair. He has been invited to be a guest soloist with the El Paso symphony sometime during the summer.

Accompanying Billy to Amarillo for the contest last weekend was Jack Hendrix, his instructor.

Mrs. Byers Dies At 83

Mrs. Emma Byers, 83, resident of Big Spring for more than a quarter of a century, died today in a hospital here.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday at the West Side Baptist Church with the pastor, R. Cecil Rhodes, officiating. The remains will be taken to Edgewood for interment.

Mrs. Byers was born Oct. 31, 1874, in Van Landt County, Mo. She lived there 43 years, moved to western Kansas where she resided for seven years, and came to Big Spring Feb. 11, 1929.

She became a member of the Presbyterian church in 1894, and she and E. F. Byers were married June 23, 1895.

She is survived by Mr. Byers, Hamford, Calif.; two sons, James Troy Byers of Big Spring and Odie Byers of Madera, Calif.; five grandchildren, Melvin and Dewey Byers of Lubbock, Mrs. Bonnie Milton and Mrs. Janetta Whetsel of Big Spring; and five great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Howard Burleson, E. O. Sanderson, Wayne Burleson, Rubin Trantham, Guy Simmons, Doyle Whetsel, A. M. Whetsel and A. C. Whetsel.

Reports Expected At Farm Meeting

LAMESA — At least four Dawson County Farm Bureau committee chairmen will make reports Thursday night at the Bureau directors meeting. Bill Snellgrove is to make a report on membership; Purvis Vandiver is to acquaint the directors with the activities of the legislative committee; Fred Raney will bring the directors up to date on bracco housing regulations, and Herbert Green will discuss the cotton classing office with the directors.

'Mr. Girl Scout' Named At Lamesa

LAMESA — Jack Mitchell was the first "Mr. Girl Scout" named this year, as the Scouts announced results of the first balloting by various Lamesa civic clubs.

His daughter, Brownie Lanell Mitchell, pinned him at the regular meeting Tuesday night of the Evening Lions Club. He was administered the Girl Scout oath by Carol Lee, "Mr. Girl Scout" of the other civic clubs will come next week.

Mitchell operates Mitchell Van and Storage here and in Big Spring. He and his wife are the parents of another daughter, Nancy, a freshman at Southern Methodist University, and a son, Mack, a Lamesa High School student.

New Parking Plan 'Widens' 400 Block Of Scurry Street

Scurry Street between Fourth and Fifth has not been widened — the method of parking was just altered.

Wednesday, motorists started parking parallel to the curb on the west side of the street, which was ordered by the city commission last Thursday night. The edict came in order to give more driving space.

The area was lined and marked off earlier in the week by city crews.

H. W. Whitney, city manager,

Guilty Pleas End Week Of Trials

Three defendants scheduled for trial in 11th District Court elected to change their pleas from not guilty to guilty Thursday morning and brought the current jury criminal docket to an abrupt close.

Twelve felony cases were disposed of during the week, which officials regard as a near-record.

The three pleas of guilty accepted Thursday morning were entered by W. H. McDaniel, Elizabeth Davis Anderson and Albino Rantleria. McDaniel was indicted for giving a worthless check for $315 in payment for a 1950 Chrysler motor car. The offense allegedly occurred on Dec. 19, 1955.

He admitted the charge and was sentenced to two years with the sentence being probated on the promise that he would repay the amount of the check in $20 monthly installments.

Elizabeth Davis Anderson pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, second offense. She was arrested on Dec. 30, 1956, by State Highway Patrol officers. She agreed at the time, Jimmy Parks, patrol officer said, to a blood test. A report from the Department of Public Safety revealed the test showed 27 per cent concentration of alcohol. It was related that experts regard 15 per cent concentration as sufficient to establish intoxication.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, recommended $500 fine and 30 days in county jail. The court followed the recommendation.

Albino Rantleria, charged with DWI second offense, pleaded guilty to the charge. Frank Glasscock, city police officer, testified that

Brotherhood Panel Is Named For Wednesday

Ministers from Dallas, Colorado City and Lubbock will compose the panel for the annual Brotherhood program here Wednesday.

The Rev. W. J. McCoy, Dallas, member of the Fort Worth-Dallas diocese, will represent the Catholic faith and is the only repeater on the panel. With him will be the Rev. Jack Etzey, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Colorado City, the Protestant representative, and Rabbi Herbert C. Straus, Lubbock, the Jewish spokesman.

They will appear at Senior High School at 9:30 a.m., at junior high at 10:20 a.m., at the Junior College at 11:10 a.m. and at a combined service club luncheon at noon in the Settles. The concluding appearance will be at Lakeview School at 1:20 p.m.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, is serving as chairman for the Brotherhood observance here.

Area Watchtower Training Course To Open Friday

The Big Spring congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is making final plans for the three-day training program at Pecos this weekend.

About 36 are expected to attend from here, according to J. W. O'Shields, presiding minister for the group. The training session opens Friday.

"The object of the program," O'Shields said, "is to equip every one of the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's Witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a help in fortifying the spiritual morale of the people in our community."

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, sponsors of the three-day Pecos meeting, have set the theme of the assembly as "Happy People Serving the Happy God," he said.

The highlight of the meeting will be the public address at 3 p.m. Sunday by K. R. Savoy, New York, on the subject, "What Will Armageddon Mean for You?"

Rabbit Drive Set Saturday In The Lomax Community

War on rabbits has been declared in the Lomax community, and "troops" to do some shooting are needed.

Announcement is made of a rabbit drive to take place Saturday, on several farms southwest of Big Spring. The drive will start at the J. Y. Robb farm at 8 a.m. and fan out from there. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the start, and there will be a barbecue lunch at noon. Shells for shotguns will be available.

The Robb farm in the Lomax community is reached by going 13 miles west on Highway 80, two miles south, and a mile west.

Wrecks Occur On West Fourth Street

Both accidents occurring here Wednesday were on West Fourth Street.

Larry Priebe, 1904 S. Monticello, and Ariebe Thacker, Rt. 1, were drivers of cars colliding at 800 W. 4th. Priebe was in a 1952 Dodge pickup, and Thacker was driving a 1955 Plymouth, owned by the City Cab Company.

At Fourth and Benton, Mary Jones of Fort Stockton was involved in an accident with Howard Johnson, 607 NW 12th.

Tuesday, Ruby Anderson, 1707 Purdue, was driving on Gregg when a parked car rolled away from the curb and hit her car. The car was owned by 1407 Gregg. The run-away car belonged to William Creelman of Forsan.

The Herald's story Wednesday incorrectly stated that the Anderson vehicle had hit a parked car.

McMurry Plans New 'School'

ABLENE — The McMurry College board of trustees has voted to enlarge the college's department of religion into a new School of Christian Education.

The school will be under the administration of a special dean, who is yet to be appointed. When it becomes operational next fall, the school will have authority and the necessary academic program to offer a master's degree in religious education, church music and Bible.

McMurry previously has awarded only the B. S. degree in religion.

Schools Will Close For Teacher Meeting

All Big Spring schools except those in the Lakeview community will be closed Friday.

Teachers will attend the annual convention of the West Texas Teachers Association in Lubbock.

Lakeview schools will be in session as usual, since Negro teachers hold separate conventions. Theirs will be in Abilene March 15.

New On C-C Staff

Mrs. Kathleen R. Barlow joined the Chamber of Commerce staff as a clerk this morning. She also will work for the Big Spring Industrial Foundation.

WMU Group Continues Prayer Week

The third study in observance of the Annie Armstrong Week of Prayer was presented Wednesday morning by the Baptist Temple WMU. Mrs. James Holmes was director of the program.

The study was opened by the group singing "Take My Life and Let It Be." Mrs. Robert Hill accompanied.

Mrs. Alvin Boren and Mrs. Holmes read alternate Scriptures.

The theme for the day was "Annie Armstrong—Daughter of Destiny." Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Rex Greenwood gave personal testimonies of Mrs. Armstrong's life and Anselmo Perez, missionaries.

Mrs. Holmes told of the builders in Cuba with Mrs. Boren's message being "If I Had Not Given." Prayers were offered by Mrs. D. D. Johnson and Mrs. Rex Edwards. The benediction was a song "Living for Jesus."

Coahoma Club Has Dinner; Day Of Prayer Observed

COAHOAMA — The 1941 study club met for the annual friendship banquet at the Hiway Cafe Monday evening with Mrs. Sam Armstrong and Mrs. Betty Barr giving the program on "Facts And Fiction On Our Lone Star State."

Serving tables were laid with white linen cloths and centered with the club's colors for the year, pink and white. The speakers table was centered with pink carnations surrounded by greenery. Other tables carried out the same theme with smaller arrangements. Hostesses were Mrs. B. R. Thomson and Mrs. Melvin Tindol.

Mays Entertain Guest From Whitt

WESTBROOK — A guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. May last week was Mr. May's sister Mrs. Iola Farrell, of Whitt, she also visited with the Jesse Cuthbert sons.

Guests of Mrs. J. H. Morgans were Raymond Lupter and daughter, Sue of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morgan of Big Spring.

Mrs. Gillespie Dies In El Paso

Mrs. Cora Gillespie, an aunt of G. C. Ragsdale, died in El Paso Wednesday.

She was a sister of the late W. C. Ragsdale Sr., who died here in January at the age of 93. Mrs. Gillespie had visited here on numerous occasions. Services will be held Friday in El Paso.

Area Students Named To Offices At Tech

Hollis Lloyd, Big Spring sophomore physical education major, has been named athletic director of Doak Hall at Texas Tech in recent elections held by five dormitories and the Men's Inter-dorm council.

Other area students selected for officers in the spring semester elections at Tech include: James Hall, freshman electrical engineering major, Colorado City, president of West Hall; Marcia Barnes, freshman elementary education major of Colorado City, social chairman of Drane Hall.

3 Windshields Hit

Three cars were damaged by BB shot Tuesday night at Lone Star Motor Company. The firm notified police officers Wednesday that the cars' windshields were damaged to the extent of $150.

Pancakes Earn $400

LAMESA — The Lamesa Kiwanis Club showed a profit of about $400 on their pancake supper last Friday night, according to Don Mason, club treasurer. He reported that a total of 955 tickets were sold giving a gross of about $70, with expenses running about $40.

Carnival Is Planned At Livestock Show

A carnival will be held in conjunction with the Howard County FFA and 4-H Fat Stock Show this year. City commissioners okayed the shows Tuesday night.

Under the city's ordinance, carnivals are legal in the city limits only if approved individually by the city commission. A written application must be submitted, however, and $300 in fees must be paid before the group will consider the carnival.

The Jaycees petitioned the city earlier for permission to hold a carnival on the same grounds as the livestock show. David Simms, president, said that last year a carnival had been held outside the city, but it made very little money because of the distance to the show grounds.

Simms felt that the carnival would help make money for the livestock show and also draw crowds to the show and auction. While the Jaycees were asking for the show, city officials, who had previously maintained that an ordinance forbade carnivals here, found that the $300-and-application method could bring the show.

Commissioners, in granting permission to hold the show here,

Lions See Film On Hot Checks

A motion picture showing many of the ins and outs of fraudulent check operations was projected at the Lions Club meeting in the high school cafeteria Wednesday.

Chief C. L. Rogers of the Big Spring Police Department and Howard County Attorney Harvey Hooser presented the program.

Both officers stressed that complete identification should be secured before checks are cashed for unknown persons. Signatures on the checks should be compared closely with those on such identifying documents as drivers' licenses, they said.

Merchants or others cashing checks also should contact bank officials, also, and if any check proves to be fraudulent, sheriff's officers or police should be contacted, Hooser said.

The attorney pointed out that it is a misdemeanor to attempt to drop charges against a person named in a check complaint, just because the check may have been paid off.

The club will observe Brotherhood Week at its luncheon at the Settles Hotel next Wednesday.

Army's Ready Even If Taxpayers Aren't

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Army is ready for atomic warfare even if the cost makes taxpayers wince, says Frank Higgins, assistant Army secretary.

Stressing that the Army is no "dime store operation" with its 20 billion dollar inventory of equipment and supplies, Higgins said last night that "even so we have placed in operation a standardization program to provide maximum defense for minimum cost."

He spoke at a dinner that wound up an industrial procurement conference sponsored by business groups in North Texas.

Agriculture Plan Adopted

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A group of Texas agricultural leaders voted last night to revamp the State Department of Agriculture and abolish the elected post of agriculture commissioner.

Commissioner John White, a candidate for the Senate, has called the plan a "plot" to abolish his department. He blamed it on Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

One of the agriculture leaders, Austin Anson of Harlingen, charged that White's inspectors "are collecting money for his Senate campaign."

Anson is executive manager of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers Assn. He helped set up the meeting.

The agricultural group voted to have a bill introduced Thursday that would place the State Agriculture Commission in the hands of a 21-member board appointed by the governor, representing all segments of agriculture. The board would then name an agriculture commissioner.

The bill is expected to be introduced by State Rep. J. T. Ellis of Weslaco.

CRMWD To Cooperate In Mitchell Development

If the City of Colorado City and Texas Electric Service Company decide to apply for permits to dam Champion Creek in Mitchell County, they will have the blessings of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Directors of the district, in meeting here Wednesday, decided to waive rights, which the district has tied up under a presentation to study possibility of a new lake in southern Mitchell County, in favor of the applicants. Officials from Colorado City and Texas Electric previously had talked about a lake on Champion Creek as a new source of supply for the city and TESCO. They may file shortly with the State Board of Water Engineers, and if they do, they will have the support of the CRMWD.

J. B. Thomas, president of Texas Electric Service Company, indicated to the board that enlargement of the concern's Morgan Creek generating plant was in prospect. Should the CRMWD undertake impounding of another lake downstream on the Colorado, it will likely come several years after TESCO and Colorado City need more water, said S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, the CRMWD consulting engineer.

At the same time, Texas Electric proposed an option on use of water at Lake J. B. Thomas as a potential source of power development. Thomas proposed a 10-year option with charges of $10,000 per annum with a right to contract for 50 years (with an option to renew for another 50 years) for water to operate generating facilities, if TESCO felt they were warranted.

R. T. Piner, Big Spring, CRMWD president, named Charles Perry, Odessa, Forrest Sears, Snyder, and H. W. Wright, Big Spring, as a committee to study the matter.

Rafts will be subject to the same rules and regulations as are applicable to boats, directors decided after receiving a report from the recreation committee. R. L. Cook, Big Spring, chairman, said the committee had polled various lake officials in the state after receiving a request that rafts be permitted permanent anchorage for substantial distances from shore. Results showed that by and large other lakes did not allow rafts to be anchored out from shore without means of attachment or return to the shore, he said.

H. W. Wright questioned that leaving the regulation as it now stands (and which requires that fishing rafts be towed back to the shore area) would solve anything. Lyle Diefelbach, Snyder, said he believed that other lakes did have rafts although they might be contrary to regulations. Piner said he felt that the recommendation of the State Health Department against permanently anchored rafts should weigh heavily because the district might endanger approval of its water supply.

The board authorized the advertising of bids for two pumphouses and installations within a 60 x 60 days, and Piner may call a board meeting to receive the bids. The facilities will be in connection with furnishing lake water to Odessa by 1958. Freese told the directors that pumps and fittings should begin arriving by April 1 and be on hand not later than July 28.

General Manager E. V. Spence was authorized to advertise for bids on two residences to be constructed at Lake J. B. Thomas. One would be for the lake superintendent and the other for a pump. Total cost was estimated not to exceed $20,000.

Cook reported that most excavation on the boat basin at Lem's Place on the north side of the lake was virtually complete and that Ned Sanders was well along on excavation of a new large basin adjacent to Lake Thomas Lodge.

Spence reported that the District was cooperating in the study of non-potable underground waters in the area as a potential source of industrial water. The study, however, will be carried on without expense to the district.

Other matters were of a routine nature and involved a resolution authorizing transfer of revenue funds and the granting of a power line easement. Attending the meeting, vice president of Texas Electric Service.

City, Lodges To Construct New Gates For Cemetery

The old gates at the City Cemetery will soon be torn down to make way for new ones.

City Manager H. W. Whitney announced this week that he had received word from the IOOF and Masonic lodges that both approved of the gate plans and would help the city pay for construction of the entrances.

The present gates were given by the two organizations.

The city has had a $1,000 anonymous gift for over a year specifically given for construction of the gates. After the city received the donation, Puckett and French drew up plans for the gates and commissioners approved them in January.

The commission submitted drawings to the two lodges for approval and asked if either or both would be interested in helping pay for the gates. Final approval did not come from them until this week.

The gates will be of simple design and will be constructed from Roman brick and Austin stone. The city plans to prepare the base and then contract the brick and stone work.

In addition to replacing the gates, the city plans to tear out the old wire fence along the highway and replace it with new chain-link fencing.

Cotton Classing Program Growing In Lamesa Area

LAMESA — Directors of the Lamesa Cotton Growers heard several reports from committees working on the cotton classing office here.

President A. L. Moss reported that the 30 farmers attending the meeting in O'Donnell Monday night had voted to secure transfer of their cotton classing from Lubbock to the new office to be established here. At the present time they are circulating a petition for all, or a part of Lynn County to be classed here.

E. D. David, head of the classing office financing committee, reported that over $22,000 has been secured for equipping the office, but that at least $20,000 more will be needed. The directors set March 15 as the final date for raising the money for the classing office.

AUSTIN (AP)—More than half of Texas' goal in the Red Cross drive has been reached, the state's national vice chairman said yesterday. Ed Stokley of Freeport and Don Wooten of Abilene said $2,286,553 of the state's $4,144,713 quota had been raised as of yesterday.

Marquez Draws Two-Year Term In Theft Case

A jury in 118th District Court apparently did not believe Manuel Marquez's promise that he would "go straight" if he received a suspended sentence in a theft case tried Wednesday.

The jurors found Marquez guilty and fixed his punishment at two years in the state penitentiary. Marquez was indicted for the theft of fire fighting equipment from the cotton compress which he later sold for a little less than $10.

He had made a request for a suspended sentence at the outset of his trial Wednesday morning. He cited that he had a wife and six minor children and that he wanted to make a living for his family.

Police officers testified that they had known Marquez for years and that his reputation as a law abiding resident was bad.

The jury took only a few minutes to rule that he was guilty of the theft. It assessed his punishment at two years in the penitentiary, ignoring his request for a suspended sentence.

Pleads Guilty To 2 Charges

Robert Douglas Davis, indicted on two charges of forgery and passing, appeared before Judge Charlie Sullivan in 118th District Court Wednesday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charges.

His punishment was set at four years in the state penitentiary on each count with the sentences to run concurrently.

Davis was the sixth defendant to enter a plea of guilty at the current week's criminal docket.

He was accused of passing worthless and forged checks at the Hobby Shop and at Toby's No. 2. On the witness stand he admitted writing the worthless checks and cashing them.

Girls Get Rules For Legislature

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The women and girls who are secretaries to California's legislators got their instructions today, two pages of newly printed rules. They included:

Do not go into the Assembly with your hat on.

Eliminate all confusion or unnecessary noise or levity.

Loitering in the Assembly (or elsewhere) will not be permitted.

Don't spend unnecessary time at a legislator's desk, no matter how interesting the debate.

Smaller Waists In Walnuts Considered

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The Assembly Agriculture Committee has recommended passage of a bill to cut the diameter requirements for walnuts. Seems the trend is toward length, not waistline.

School Program Enriched By Music, Sports, 'Skill' Courses

Freddy Fielder may not have heard that old saw about school being a child on one end of a log and Mark Hopkins on the other end.

As a first grader starting out in Big Spring schools, he is going to find a lot more to his schooling than that. Today they call it an enriched program. Here are some of the extra opportunities which may come to him in his school career:

Besides the required physical education program at junior and senior high levels, Freddy may want to play football, basketball or come out for track or baseball. He may even want to take on some lesser sports such as tennis, golf, softball or volleyball.

As an elementary pupil, he will be visited by one of three itinerant music teachers who will, fundamentally, increase his musical appreciation. In junior and senior high he may want to take part in the choral groups or to come out for band.

When he reaches junior high, Freddy undoubtedly will, as 180 are doing this year, take the drivers education course. He will learn to be a safer and better driver by actually driving under trained instructors.

In high school he will have a reasonable amount of choice of subjects among more than 80 units offering 64 affiliated credits. These may touch the sciences where he will find the latest technical equipment for chemistry, physics, biology and general science.

He may get into the vocational field where he will want to take vocational agriculture and shop, mechanical drawing, aeronautics, or just plain shop skills. Or, if he wants to take on-the-job training, as a junior or senior he may enroll in Diversified Occupations or Distributive Education.

Freddy, more than likely, won't be taking homemaking, but his girl friends will find courses in foods, clothing and home and family living (even to baby and child care). They will have a cottage with all modern conveniences to practice with.

In elementary grades and at junior high he will get some special

Farm Bureau Is Offering Prizes

Farm Bureau members who sign up the most new members this year will be given expensive awards, Farm Bureau directors decided last night.

The man signing up the largest number will receive a pair of shop-made boots. The one coming in second will be given a western hat.

In event the winners are women, gift certificates will be the prizes.

GAFB To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Goodfellow Air Force Base, San Angelo, Tex., will continue in active operation and extensive improvements are planned, the Defense Department said Tuesday. The department notified Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) that work will include construction of some new runways.

MEN IN SERVICE

Among the seven men enlisting in the Navy during the past week was Lawrence Rupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Rupp, Sterling City, Mo.

Others included Jackie L. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Phillips, 1105 Stanford; Lewis W. Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Elliott, 300 Andre; Melvin L. Bryant, son of Mrs. Ruth Bryant, 2111 Johnson; Arlie E. McCree, son of Mrs. Ruth Gibson, 1324 E. 17th; Arthur R. Menefield, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Menefield, 806 1/4 NW 5th; and Leonard E. Mills, son of Mrs. Nellie Mashburn, Stanton.

LAWRENCE RUPP

Before enlistment, Rupp was employed at The Herald and was a member of the local National Guard unit.

Bryant, Phillips, Rupp, Elliott, and McCree enlisted under the Navy's buddy plan and they will be in the same company through recruit training. They will take their recruit training, which consists of nine weeks training, at San Diego, Calif.

Naval Airman Sidney Collins is now serving aboard the USS Ticonderoga, aircraft carrier, which is in drydock at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, Va.

PFC Antonio Ramos, son of Mrs. Josefa Ramos of Colorado City, is a member of the 24th Infantry Division in Korea.

A gunner in the Heavy Mortar Company of the Division's 19th Regiment, Ramos entered the Army in September of 1955. He attended St. Ann's High School in Colorado City.

Salvation Army Board To Meet

Annual meeting of the local Salvation Army advisory board has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday in the fellowship hall of First Methodist Church. Capt. Dexter Brazeale announced today.

Lt. Col. John A. Morrison, Texas division commander for the Salvation Army, will be the guest speaker. During the meeting, Floyd W. Parsons will succeed Dr. W. A. Hunt as president of the advisory board.

Tickets for the dinner are available at $1.50 per plate from any member of the board or at the Salvation Army offices at Fourth and Bell. Reservations should be made by Friday evening.

The Salvation Army band from San Angelo will provide music for the dinner.

Mrs. J. E. Flynn Suggests Ways To Vary Recipes During Lent

"Trying to vary recipes during the Lenten season is a challenge to any homemaker," Mrs. J. E. Flynn concludes. Another problem is presented if the family doesn't particularly like fish dishes. To solve this problem Mrs. Flynn thinks that recipes used during Lent should not be used at other times, and she has found ways to vary recipes so they don't "emphasize" the fish. She considers this recipe for Tuna Fish Casserole different from the popular creamed tuna. It's a favorite around the Flynn home at this season of the year.

TUNA FISH CASSEROLE
Butter or grease the bottom of a skillet (electric may be used.) Spread 2 cups of crushed potato chips on bottom of skillet. Next, put layers of two cans of tuna over potato chips then around the edges spread a can of mushroom soup. Place part of this in the center. Between soup rings put layers of canned peas. Season with salt and pepper and onion salt and

Baked Fish For Lenten Observance

Variety is one of the keys to successful meal planning and a problem every homemaker faces. A fish lover gives a possible solution for this problem when he says, "once you've tasted one steak, you've eaten all steaks; a pig is still a pig no matter how you cook it; but fish—there you have the ultimate, because you can please the tongue with so many subtle charms." No doubt he is thinking of the 160 varieties of fish sold in the United States, and the fact that they are so interchangeable. Here is such a recipe which you can prepare with either salmon, haddock, tuna fish, halibut, or white fish—each adding its special charm and savor to the completed casserole.

BAKED FISH CASSEROLES
3 cups corn flakes
1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 1/2 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
dash pepper
2 eggs, well-beaten
2 cups flaked cooked or canned fish
METHOD:
Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; combine with milk. Add mayonnaise, parsley, onion, lemon juice and seasonings; mix well. Stir in eggs and fish. Pour into well-greased individual casseroles. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 45 minutes.

Cheese Mixture Is Prepared For Use Ahead Of Time

Prepare this cheese mixture ahead, then make these open sandwiches just before serving.
CANADIAN CHEESE TOAST
Ingredients:
Two cups grated cheddar cheese (measured without packing down)
2 whole canned pimientos (drained and chopped), 1/4 cup thinly sliced filberts, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 6 slices bread.
Method:
Mix together the cheese, pimientos, filberts and mayonnaise. Toast bread under broiler on one side only; spread untoasted side with cheese mixture, covering e.g.s. Return to broiler for a minute or two — just until cheese melts and browns. Serve at once. Slices may be cut in half for easy eating. Makes 4 servings.

Orange Compote
Slices of orange rind, cooked in sugar syrup, may be teamed with fresh orange sections for a refreshing compote.

Serve Hot Cross Buns During Lenten Season

A traditional feature in many homes during Lent is the serving of Hot Cross Buns. For busy homemakers who like to bake Hot Cross Buns here's a recipe for a basic dough that is keyed to modern homemaking efficiency.

This recipe, which makes four dozen Hot Cross Buns, can be kept in the refrigerator for about five days. So it is possible to prepare enough dough at one time to make two or more servings of Hot Cross Buns.

No need to scald the milk for this method of preparation features instant nonfat dry milk powder. Simply add the powder to the flour, and the yeast is dissolved in warm water. Also, it is possible to enrich the recipe without increasing the quantity by using instant nonfat dry milk in the powder form.

HOT CROSS BUNS
Ingredients:
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
1/2 cup warm water
1/2 cup hot water
6 tablespoons sugar
1-3 cup shortening
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg, beaten
3 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
1/4 cup raisins or currants
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
Method:
Sprinkle or crumble yeast into warm water; stir until dissolved. Into the hot water, stir sugar, shortening, salt and cinnamon; cool to lukewarm; add yeast. Add egg and 2 cups of the flour; beat until smooth. Sift together remaining flour and instant Starlac nonfat dry milk powder; stir into mixture. Add raisins or currants. Place dough in a greased bowl; brush top with soft shortening. Cover tightly with waxed paper. Store in refrigerator at least 2 hours before using (will keep in refrigerator about 5 days). When ready to use, punch down dough and cut off amount needed. Shape into balls 1 1/2-inches in diameter; place in greased 8-inch square pan. Brush with egg yolk; cover; let rise about 1/2 hour or until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degree F.) about 30 minutes. When cool; make a cross with confectioners' sugar frosting atop each bun. If desired, sprinkle lightly with confectioners' sugar.

Apple Recipes Offer A Variety During Lent

During the Lenten season you'll want to take full advantage of the spicy, fresh apples still plentiful because this versatile fruit, served in salads, for appetizers and in desserts, makes a real contribution towards brightening meatless menus. Choice quality apples, are in good supply and these may be successfully used in any of your fresh or cooked dishes.

For a quick and satisfying luncheon snack, or when the teen-agers gather to watch television at your house, here's a delicious tasting fresh red apple and tuna mix that's heaped in hamburger rolls for service. Or, for a novel and different appetizer, offer a tray of fresh apples, cut into thick slices, with today's shrimp dip. For the dip you can use fresh, frozen or canned shrimp.

FRESH APPLE AND TUNA BUNS
Ingredients:
1 7-oz. can tuna, drained and flaked
1/2 cup celery, finely chopped
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Dash of ground cloves
1-3 cup mayonnaise
6 hamburger rolls
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2-3 apples
Method:
Cut 2 apples into small diced

Sardine Pasties
Holiday parties coming up? Here's a hot canape which will rate applause. Make a rich pie crust according to your favorite recipe—or use your pet mix. Cut into rounds with a cookie cutter. Place a meaty sardine in the center of each round. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Cover with an additional round. Seal and bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes. Serve hot and often!

Oil lightly four individual salad cups. Arrange shrimp around bottom. Spoon in thickened tomato mixture and chill until firm. Unmold and serve on water criss with lemon wedges and mayonnaise or salad dressing.

With two daughters, Julia, 14, and Mary, 11, Mrs. Flynn finds that most of her spare time is spent at one of her favorite hobbies, sewing. Her talents aren't confined to feminine articles, altogether, because her son Pat, 17, often profits from Mom's talents. Other activities which Mrs. Flynn enjoys include the presidency of the St. Thomas Altar Society and until a few weeks ago she was bookkeeper for Singer Sewing Company.

Fix Sandwiches Ahead Of Time

Prepare these sandwiches ahead, wrap and refrigerate.

CRABMEAT SANDWICHES
Ingredients:
1 can (about 6 ounces) crabmeat, 1/4 cup minced celery, 2 teaspoons prepared Bahama-type mustard, 1 whole canned pimiento (drained and minced), 1 teaspoon finely-grated onion (pulp and juice), mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing.
Method:
Pick any cartilage from crabmeat. Mix with celery, mustard, pimiento, onion and enough mayonnaise to moisten. Makes about 1 cup. Use as sandwich filling.

Egg Boats Are Novel Lenten Dish

Eggs in boats are an appetizing and nutritious main dish for a Lenten supper. Canned corn is a perfect companion for the boats—economical because of the current record supply of corn. Buttered garlic bread, oven toasty, completes the menu.

EGGS IN BOATS
Ingredients:
3 very large baking potatoes
Butter or margarine
Milk
Salt
6 eggs
1 cup corn flakes
1/4 cup grated American Cheese
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
Method:
Scrub potatoes thoroughly; rub with butter or bacon fat. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 45 minutes, or until tender. Cut potatoes in half lengthwise. Remove pulp; mash well. Mix with butter, milk and salt. Fill potato shells with this mixture, making a depression in center. Break an egg into each depression. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with cheese and melted butter. Sprinkle over potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes, or until eggs are set.

Yield: 6 servings.

Cranberry Relish

Pork on the menu? Or perhaps it's roast duck. Both need a tangy accent to point up flavor and brighten the palate. And here's a suggestion. Sounds startling, but it tastes wonderful—Cranberry-Kraut Relish. Put 4 cups fresh cranberries and 2 cups well-drained sauerkraut through food chopper. Add 1/2 cup sugar and mix well. Cover and chill several hours before serving.

pieces and mix with tuna, celery, lemon juice, cloves and mayonnaise. Chill well. Scoop out centers of rolls and spread with softened butter or mayonnaise. When ready to serve, fill with tuna-apple mixture. Cut remaining apple into wedges or thick slices and garnish each roll. Makes 4-6 servings.

APPLE FINGERS WITH SHRIMP DIP

Ingredients:
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon horseradish
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 tablespoon catchup
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 1/2 oz. can shrimp, drained, coarsely chopped
2-3 apples
Method:
Combine all ingredients except shrimp and apples in a bowl. Stir in shrimp. Chill thoroughly. Cut apples into thick slices, to serve as fingers. Makes 4-6 servings.

A Bible Thought For Today

But when the Comforter is come, and I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me: (St. John 15:26)

We Thank Teachers So Much

Teachers were recognized here Tuesday for service of 10 or more years to this community, and this seems to us to be an entirely fitting gesture.

In all, we have 51 staff members at the high school who fit into this category, and that means that about 20 per cent of the entire staff has been with the system 10 or more years. Many business concerns would be happy to have a hard core of loyal employees in that degree. It is almost amazing that about five per cent of the staff members have records of 25 years or more.

This district is indebted to these good people for their continued, loyal devotion to the system and to the children who pass through it. In a calloused age it would be all too easy to disregard the importance of loyalty and devotion in favor of some other flashier qualities.

It is our observation, however, that most frequently loyalty and stability are indicative of superior talent in teaching. This may not always be so, but as lists were read at the recognition service, one might well have added "good Teacher" to those cited.

These people have seen us through some mighty hard and trying times and yet have given uncomplaining and even inspired service. Our district is the richer for their steadfastness.

In responding to the appreciations, Miss Clara Pool, dean of our classroom teachers, said with eloquent simplicity: "Thank you so much." We could turn it around and on behalf of all Big Spring to say to Miss Pool and the other 50 honorees that indeed we "thank you so much."

Work Goes On Without Fanfare

This is traditionally Red Cross month, and the only reason we haven't been hearing more about it is that the financing of Red Cross has been made a part of the Howard County United Fund. Instead of having to make a separate campaign under the Red Cross roll call plan, our chapter has had its finances provided out of the general campaign fund raised last autumn.

The absence of a big publicity build-up does not mean that Red Cross has been idle. Far from it. There is not a day but what our chapter is called upon for many services. Being the nearest domestic chapter adjacent to a military establishment imposes a great deal of work upon our chapter, but it is work gladly performed as part of the duty of Red Cross. Just as our chapter aids in certain functions arising out of the air base, so is the chapter in turn helped by presence of a Red Cross worker on the base.

We have not had, in recent years at least, anything which would qualify as a disaster in the sense that many families are made homeless, etc. Yet, regularly there is the problem of people being displaced because of fires, and in such instances Red Cross is ready to step in and help re-establish the family. In certain cases of disaster, this is extended even to businesses. Then there are the destitute or those in dire need of medical aid who may qualify under Red Cross regulations.

There are the courses in first aid, life saving, pre-natal and child care, home hygiene, getting blood for defense and civilian need, and other functions. Red Cross, thanks to your help, stands ready to help us all should the need arise.

Monopoly Revealed In Teamster Probe

WASHINGTON—Monopoly and tyranny go hand in hand, and the American people don't like either one, whether power is exercised by corporations or by labor unions.

Back in the 1890's the Congress of the United States, under the leadership of the Republican party, became enraged over the abuses of power by corporations and passed the Sherman antitrust law, which has been on the statute books ever since.

But today there is another movement in its incipient stages which, if Congress is not intimidated, will result in the passage of an antimonopoly law forbidding labor unions to monopolize job opportunities, and otherwise to use their power in restraint of trade.

At first glance it might seem that the antitrust laws should be sufficient to curb monopolies of all kinds, including labor unions that restrain trade, but the Supreme Court of the United States a few years ago, when it consisted almost entirely of New Deal appointees, ruled that labor unions are exempt from antitrust laws unless specifically mentioned therein. No law correcting this omission has ever been passed.

Today a teamsters union is being revealed in congressional hearings as an example of how far-reaching monopoly can be. It can, by means of campaign contributions, threaten to take over a city government and prevent law-enforcement machinery from prosecuting wrongdoers. It can ally itself with taverns and racketeers in pinball machines carried on through union officials who lend funds to private enterprises and threaten to stop deliveries, for example, of beer and whisky unless tavern owners pay tribute to them. Here is a passage from the testimony:

"Mr. Kennedy (committee staff member): Could you tell the committee what was explained by Mr. Joe McLaughlin as to how this company was going to operate, and what the advantage of this company was going to be, and what the advantage of being tied up with the teamsters was?"

"Mr. Elkins (a witness): The advantage was simply that these other men wouldn't be let into the union until this Acme company got the best locations, and they would only let in the smaller operators that were buying equipment from Budge Wright."

"Mr. Kennedy: Was it agreed that you were going to keep the other operators out, even if they applied for membership, and the teamsters (union) would keep them out?"

"Mr. Elkins: That is right."

"Mr. Kennedy: And then they would send these teamsters business agents around and they would tell the owner of the cafe that they had better have a union machine or otherwise they were going to have pickets outside and not allow beer to be delivered?"

"Mr. Elkins: That's correct."

"America is suffering from many scandals growing out of this kind of monopoly power. It stems largely from the doctrine of compulsory unionization whereby the right to work is taken from an individual who conscientiously objects to being a member of a union.

Originally, under the Wagner Labor Relations Act, passed during New Deal days, the states were deprived of the right to police their own labor unions, but later the Taft-Hartley Act permitted the states to pass right-to-work laws. The union leaders of America are almost unanimous in fighting the right-to-work laws of the states, of course, are aimed at the monopoly power of unions. For when the power to keep a man out of a job, unless he agrees to join the union within 30 or 60 days after he is hired, is exercised throughout the country, it builds up a monopoly bigger in its influence than all the monopolies that corporations ever exercised in the past.

In these days, when there is much agitation about "civil rights," the so-called "liberals" stand foursquare behind the "closed shop" or the "union shop," as it is euphemistically called. Only the true liberals in America are championing the individual's right to join or refrain from joining a union as he pleases. It needed the Senate committee's exposure of rackets to illustrate the evils of compulsory unionization. It is, of course, true that most union leaders are honest and will have nothing to do with rackets, but hardly any labor leader today, on the other hand, will concede the constitutional right of the citizen to a job if he is not a member of the union and doesn't want to be.

Congress has been delaying for a long time the imposition of a ban on the various "restraints of trade" utilized by labor unions in America today. If the present investigation only brings out some of the facts of monopoly power in trade unions, it will have served a useful purpose.

Your Choice On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON—You pay your money and you take your choice.

Bunches of people have been turned loose to study foreign aid. You could have predicted the result: they're coming up with different answers. The reason is simple: The country itself has a varying opinions on foreign aid.

One report has just been made by a seven-man commission appointed by President Eisenhower. A stream of reports is coming from the 11 organizations and 10 individuals assigned to the study by a Senate committee.

The report from the President's commission—headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, steel executive—looks far less thorough than the others, and less thought through.

One thing all the groups have in common: They agree foreign aid in general must be continued. The big difference is on how to do it.

The Fairless group, some of whose members went around the world to make their study which has been going on since last September, put a big emphasis on the role of private American investment abroad.

It probably put too much emphasis on it as a replacement for United States government help to countries in need.

The President's commission has a tendency to speak in broad generalities, stating broad principles, although an examination of details would have been more instructive.

For example: It says investment abroad by private American capital is "far more desirable than investment by government." And no doubt it might be a way of relieving the drain on American taxpayers.

But would it work? One of the Senate committee groups — from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology — in its report recognized the role American private capital can play in helping other countries.

But it said "Private foreign investment... cannot be expected to carry a major share of an assistance program."

Both the President's commission and the MIT group suggested that American investors overseas be given some help or protection by this government: For instance, in tax relief or against seizure of their property.

Formosa Still On War Footing

TAIPEI, Formosa—The Nationalist air force captain was celebrating his safe return from a leaflet mission over the Red mainland. He was drunk and the liquor made him melancholy.

"We got to liberate those poor people on the mainland," he said. "We got a cause and we got to do it soon."

In a way the captain is symbolic of the few million Chinese who fled the mainland in 1949 and settled on this island 100 miles from the Red coast.

Tourists who visit Formosa usually are surprised and confused by the steady outpouring of war talk. It pervades virtually every phase of life here.

Newspapers carry daily accounts of speeches that deal with the "counterattack"—the day the Nationalists go to strike back.

A mainland recovery board composed of top officials daily plots the political and economic aspects of the return. Soldiers safeguard "deeds" to land on the mainland the government has promised them.

Military trucks churn chuck holes into streets. Airfields are lined with military craft. Air raid sirens wail monthly in practice.

Security measures are abundant. The Weather Bureau refuses to give out rainfall figures on grounds they are classified information.

Austerity is a way of life. Dancing is permitted only in establishments catering to foreigners. "Don't Waste Food" campaigns are continuous.

Despite this war atmosphere there are signs that trouble is farther away today than it has been during the seven years the Nationalist government has functioned in Formosa.

Sporadic friction along the offshore islands of Matsu and Quemoy has been at the greatest lull the past four months than at any point in three years.

But the biggest sign — although intangible — is the current peace campaign waged toward Formosa from the Communist mainland.

The Peiping regime has buried the sabre and is now waving the olive branch. It says in effect: You will waver away on Formosa unless you come over and join us.

Rumors from that Asian rumor mill, Hong Kong, are reported in the Taipei press always in a derisive manner. The Nationalist answer appears to be a continued buildup in military power.

No one here believes the rumors.

The air force captain puts it this way: "Nobody's going to sell us out. We haven't got any traitors here. We're all living for one day—the day we go back to the mainland."

Trouble On The Telephone

If the telephone company adds any more digits to the string you have to dial in order to talk to someone, it's going to lose a steady customer.

Telephone numbers have reached the saturation point already, as far as I'm concerned. In truth, if they ever start making us dial that "AM" business in front of the present Big Spring numbers, they will have exceeded my capacity for dialing.

Five seems to be my absolute limit, and sometimes I have to hold my finger on the place in order to twist five times.

Although they've been available for seven or eight months now, I still haven't been able to telephone anyone through either the Lomax or Luther exchange. The only times I get to talk to people in either of those communities are when they telephone me.

Their numbers start with "EXeter" and "EXport," just like Big Spring's start with "AMherst." The difference is, you have to dial that EX before you start on the number. That puts them out of my range.

By the time I dial the E and the X, I've forgotten what the rest of the number is.

And by the time I look it up, I've forgotten where I was. Result: My efforts to dial anyone with a seven-digit telephone number are abandoned after a series of busy signals, wrong numbers and, occasionally the operator's advice to "please dial again. That number seems to be in order."

I got in trouble over in Abilene the other day, because of those complicated numbers. You have to dial all seven, over there. I had what I thought was an important call to place, but I only had three dimes. Of course, I got three wrong numbers.

Finally wound up by driving across town to see my friend, only to learn that he'd decided I wasn't coming and just that minute left. I still haven't seen him.

I can still remember when Big Spring yearned for the phone company to put in one of those modern dial systems. That would assure better telephone service, they said.

My personal preference is for a return to the old tell-you-number-to-the-operator system. At least I can read a little.

Van Doren Has The Boys Studying

Ever since television first began to pour snow into American living rooms, there have been oracular predictions that teevee could revolutionize education for the better, and hence the world.

But as the quality of teevee advertising pitches deteriorated and the quantity proliferated, John Q. Public has caught only a fleeting glimpse on fleeting occasions of television's revolutionary promise in the realm of readin', writin' and 'rithmetic.

However, this is the day I bring glad tidings. The educational revolution is on; it is for the better and teevee is solely responsible. At least, teevee plus its outstanding discovery, Charles Van Doren, get the credit from educators and parents of my acquaintance.

The awed and grateful testimony of both groups boils down to the hard fact that the Van Doren personality and performance on teevee has made erudition not only respectable but desirable, especially among junior and senior high school students.

"Cripes! Look at the dough that guy is making just answering questions out of books!" is reported as the revered tribute of the young to Van Doren, the living encyclopedia.

A grateful mother of two teen-aged sons (14 and 16 years) reports that since Van Doren's earnings hit the $50,000 mark, there has not been a single argument in the household about homework, or any bellyaches—if you will excuse her expression—about reference work at the school library.

The older boy has finished the first three volumes of the encyclopedia and is doggedly going for six, while the younger boy has just about polished off Dickens.

"If Charles Van Doren can only hold out another two years, we may get our savage educated," reported a second mother. "We have discovered that Johnny can read when he has an incentive, and his incentive now is to get on a quiz show and earn as much as his hero."

A professorial friend on the college level says that the advent of Van Doren has opened the eyes of innumerable students to the real advantages of a college education.

"None of them," the prof reports, "has discovered a better way to make so much money easily and rapidly, short of inheriting a printing press from a rich relative. I shouldn't be surprised if Van Doren doesn't make a Phi Beta Kappa key respectable."

For the first time in educational history, the greasy grind is not dismissed as an odd ball and social misfit. Van Doren's masculinity, good looks, charm and un-failing modesty, and his knowledge of baseball no less than the quantum theory, have suddenly elevated the egghed to the position once held by the football captain.

But if Van Doren has at last made teevee into the great educational instrument the prophets have been predicting, his rival and challenger, Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, has helped, too.

A pragmatic friend with three daughters tells me that her brood has never been so studious since it discovered that woman could be brilliant, pretty and married! And, maybe, on the way to a fortune if Van Doren should stub his toe.

Frankly, I wish both would quit while education is still ahead.

Capable Executive For TVA Board

WASHINGTON—An opportunity is coming up for the Eisenhower Administration to prove that all its campaign claims to restore integrity and independence to government were not just campaign talk.

A vacancy will occur soon on the board of the Tennessee Valley Authority, and with this second appointment the Administration will, in effect, control the TVA board. The politicians have begun to maneuver for this exceptional plum paying $20,000 a year for a nine-year term.

But as originally conceived, the TVA was to be an independent agency free of politics both on the regional and national levels and able, therefore, to select those truly qualified to run what has become a $2 billion enterprise. Former Senator Kenneth McKellar did his best, which was considerable, to tie TVA into his patronage machine. After a long and bitter vendetta, McKellar finally conceded defeat.

This Administration, like others in the past, has rewarded lame duck Congressmen and the faithful who have worked in the Republican vineyard. It would seem, however, that both precedent and the Administration's strong profession of integrity in government would dictate another kind of appointment for TVA.

The choices are clear. The job can go frankly to a politician in the region. Or at the other extreme the Administration should be able to find a highly qualified man with independent judgment and with a sufficient background in administration, whether in public or private affairs and perhaps also with a scientific and engineering background. There are such men, and in the past it has been possible to recruit them for the kind of public service in the general welfare that TVA implies.

The first vacancy to occur on the TVA board was filled by President Eisenhower in August, 1954, by the appointment of Brigadier General Herbert D. Vogel, who had been a district engineer of the United States Corps of Engineers. The President also made Vogel chairman of the board.

With the President publicly branding TVA as "creeping socialism," Vogel's position has been an anomalous one. Perhaps inevitably, he has been accused by TVA's intensely loyal partisans of giving less than his full support to the goal set forth in the TVA act. That goal is no less than the rehabilitation of a whole region by development of the resources of land, water and people in the Tennessee Valley.

Vogel supported the Dixon-Yates power deal, even though many Republicans — conspicuously Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky — were convinced at the outset that this would backfire as it did.

The term of Harry A. Curtis expires on May 18. At the time of his appointment he was dean of the College of Engineering at the University of Missouri. Before that, as a distinguished chemical engineer, he had had a great deal to do with developing TVA's chemical fertilizer plant.

Many claims are made for TVA by those who, over the years, have given it a dedicated loyalty. They see it as an integrated whole in which flood control, power development and agricultural improvement all have had a part in raising the level of living of a region that had suffered acutely from the ills which, to a lesser degree, plague other parts of America.

At the time of the recent devastating floods in the area around the TVA, the dedicated friends of this extraordinary experiment widely advertised their conviction that without the TVA system of dams, the Tennessee Valley would have suffered the second most disastrous flood in its history. At Chattanooga alone, according to this claim, the damage would have been $65,000,000.

Even if the claims of partisanship are brushed aside, one outstanding fact remains. The TVA is a great enterprise. It cannot be run by politics-as-usual any more than a great private corporation could be run in that fashion.

Or, it should be added, if it is run that way, it will be run into the ground. This may be the goal of the enemies of TVA who know they could never succeed in a frontal attack in Congress on the concept of the authority itself. But to select the top management with that end in view would hardly be in accord with professions of integrity and honesty in government.

What Not To Do

CUDAHY, Wis.—If Elmer J. Henry has mother-in-law trouble, he sure asked for it.

He spotted his mother-in-law, Mrs. Clement Seiy, among the hundreds of persons inspecting Cudahy's new jail. When she walked into a cell in the women's ward to look it over, Elmer swung the door shut behind her and the door locked automatically.

Mrs. Seiy, seething with indignation, huddled in the back of the cell and covered her face with a newspaper as curious visitors filed past. Fifteen minutes later, Elmer finally located Police Chief Tony Wise who released Mrs. Seiy with apologies.

Elmer's in real trouble.

Peeping Pup

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—The woman complained to police that a dog kept jumping up in the air and looking in her front room window.

Patrolman J. R. Moody, who investigated, said if it had been a cat he might have booked him as a peeping tom but he couldn't find any law covering peeping dogs.

Uncle Ray:

Earth's Conditions 'Right' For People

By RAMON COFFMAN
Last time we were speaking about the many solar systems which may exist in the universe. Some astronomers suggest that millions of them are spread through space.

Let us suppose those scientists are correct. In that case we may ask:

"Is it likely that people like us live in the other solar systems?"
Special conditions are needed for the life of human beings. We need air, for example, and the air must have oxygen. Things would go wrong for us if the air had too little, or too much, oxygen. Life would speed up too much for our comfort if the air contained 90 or 90 per cent oxygen.

A certain range of temperature is needed for people like ourselves. If the earth had an average temperature of 70 below zero Fahrenheit, it would be hard for us to keep from freezing on a short outdoor journey.

An average temperature above 100 degrees would be miserable, even if we managed to live. Surely the human race would perish at an average temperature of 150 degrees above zero.

One or more of the bright stars in Scorpio may have planets.

Let us say, then, that it is doubtful that people could live on most planets in the universe. It may be that only one planet in a hundred, or one in a thousand, has water and the right kind of air, also the proper range of temperature.

Q. Would people on other planets be like us?
A. It is likely that they would differ in many ways. Some might be more slow-witted than the people of earth. Others probably would

Former Big Springer Working At Corpus

Everett O. Wilkinson, formerly of Big Spring, is working as a petroleum inspector for the U. S. government at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station. A Big Spring native, Wilkinson lived here for 33 years. He was employed by Cosden Petroleum Corporation before entering the government service in July, 1955. The Wilkinsons now reside at 177 Gibson Lane, Corpus Christi.

Awards were mailed Tuesday to winners in the Texas Public School Week poster contest.

The awards include: High School Division—Tommy Pickle, first, 50 gallons of gasoline from Groehl Oil Company; Billy Bob Satterwhite, second, $10 gift certificate from White's; Jimmy Johnson, third, dictionary from Hester's. Junior High Division — Linda Baity, first, $5 gift certificate from Zack's, $5 in trade at Fashion Cleaners and $5 certificate from

Gound Pharmacy; Jerry Smith, second, $10 in trade at Wagon Wheel Restaurant; Ophelia Parra, third, $5 in trade at the Wagon Wheel Drive-In. Grades 4, 5 and 6—Billy Varnadore, first, $10 in trade at Newsom Food Store and $5 at Stanley Hardware; Doug Rountree, $10 in cash from Cosden Petroleum Corporation; James F. Rogers, third, $5 in cash from Supt. Floyd W. Parsons. Grades 1, 2 and 3—Gordon Marchant, first, $15 in cash from Cosden; Karen Sue Larsen, second, $10 in trade from Barr Photocenter; Rickey Hamby, third, $5 in trade at Lewis 5 & 10.

Bond Issue Nixed

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—A $3,150,000 bond issue for storm sewers in the northeast section of the city was turned down Tuesday. The unofficial vote was 3,210 against and 378 for.

Theft Seen In Case Of Missing Gems

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—It wasn't a baggage mixup, police say, but probably a clever theft that caused the disappearance of a trunk full of jewels from the downtown railroad terminal. The 196-pound trunk was reported missing Monday by Raymond J. Cannon, a 62-year-old Los Angeles salesman who estimated the wholesale value of his samples at $40,000 or $50,000.
