Complete Cox-Harmon Parley Revealed From Tape Recorder

AUSTIN (AP)—"Certain guys have to be taken care of" was the reason former State Rep. James E. Cox gave in holding out for $5,000 in a legislative bribe offer made to him.

The complete hotel room conversation of the former representative from two Southeast Texas counties held with Dr. Howard Harmon, head of Texas Naturopaths, was revealed yesterday for the first time.

Members of the nine-man special House Investigating Committee heard a tape recording that Harmon turned over to House Speaker Waggoner Carr, who called in officers.

Harmon testified earlier that Cox, author of a bill to outlaw Texas naturopaths, did not know that a tape recorder was hidden beneath a bed when he visited Harmon's hotel room here Feb. 20.

Cox resigned from the Legislature after being indicted for agreeing to take a $5,000 bribe.

Harmon has been charged with offering a $5,000 bribe on a complaint signed by Cox.

Both are free under $5,000 bonds. Official transcripts of the tape recording were released yesterday after the committee recessed, probably for the weekend.

"Now here's the situation," Harmon said in the tape recording soon after admitting Cox to the hotel room.

"Every two years we have the same difficulties, costs a bunch of money, costs a bunch of time, I can't afford it and the rest of the guys can't either."

Harmon asked Cox to withdraw his anti-naturopath bill (HB274) and help the naturopaths try to amend present statutes to give them better advantages.

He said he had learned that Cox was "a liberal minded fellow."

"What do you mean compensation?" Cox asked. "Now let's sit down, now let's put the cards on the table now."

"I think it's worth five G's for you to do that if you will," Harmon said at first, then lowered his offer to $3,500.

"Well, now you said five G's a while ago," Cox said.

"Well, now let's cut down to 35. It usually does cost five G's. Let's cut it down," Harmon said. "Give me a break for my outfit to catch up."

Cox said, "I like that five better."

"You want five?" Harmon asked again.

"Tell you why, because there is some other guys I've got to take care of if I do this, if you intended to get your amendment passed."

At another point he said that he would take $3,500 because "I've got some boys that have got to be taken care of in order to get the support I need."

"You see I have to work on the quiet on this. Certain guys have to be taken care of, that's why I'm telling you what I did," Cox said.

Harmon said that every legislative session "I've been shot up to hell and I've decided to put an end to it."

"That's the only way you can get anything done in your business," Cox advised him. "I don't mind telling you that, okay I know."

Harmon said that this session was "the first time in our history and the first time in our experience we don't have a trained and professional lobbyist up here."

"I won't vote against you," Cox said. "I'll work for you."

"And you can't walk on us," said Harmon.

"I'll work for you," Cox said again, and added: "When you give me the money I'm on your side because I can collect Tuesday."

Harmon told Cox that two years ago the association raised $50,000 to spend in Austin.

"I believe you," Cox said, "you

Test Due On Public Bus Funds For Catholic Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—A possible new Supreme Court test of the use of public funds for transporting pupils to Roman Catholic parochial schools is being generated in Augusta, Maine.

Ten years have passed since the court ruled 5-4 that public tax receipts may be used for transporting parochial as well as public school pupils.

Of the nine justices who took part in the Feb. 10, 1947, ruling, which has been the court's last word on the question, only four remain. These four divided 2-2 on the issue.

Justice Black, now the court's senior justice, wrote the majority opinion. Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed, Douglas and Murphy concurred. Of these, only Douglas still sits on the court. Vinson and Murphy are dead, and Reed retired last month.

Of the four dissenters, Justices Rutledge and Jackson are dead, Justices Frankfurter and Burton, the other dissenters, remain on the court.

The 5-4 decision was a major interpretation of the First Amendment to the Constitution, which says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof. . . ."

The issue before the court was on the complaint of Arch B. Everson of Ewing Township, near Trenton, N.J., against the use of tax money to reimburse parents

Pretty Lady Cop Describes Subpoena Serving On Sinatra

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A pretty policewoman says she knocked on Frank Sinatra's front door about 4 a.m. last Feb. 16 and called "Daddy," "Darling," "Lover Boy" and "Frankie" in an effort to arouse the crooner.

Mrs. Glory Dawson testified yesterday she was helping two fellow Los Angeles policemen serve a subpoena on Sinatra.

When her dulcet entreaties caused no sign of life at Sinatra's darkened home near Palm Springs, the plainclothesmen entered with a key they found sticking in the door. One said he shined a flashlight in Frankie's eyes and shook him awake while the other officer read the subpoena aloud and the crooner sputtered profanity.

The testimony was given at deposition hearings, which, said Atty. Milton A. Rudin, are intended to determine if the crooner has a cause for action and, if so, whom he should sue.

The subpoena—served 100 miles away in another county by Los Angeles police—brought Sinatra to last week's legislative hearings here on private detectives and scandal magazines. He gave his version of the "wrong door" raid which witnesses said was aimed by Joe DiMaggio at his ex-wife Marilyn Monroe, but took them by mistake into another woman's apartment.

The shapely, 31-year-old policewoman, a blue-eyed brunette, testified she was in Palm Springs on vacation when spotted on the street by officer Richard F. Williams.

Williams and officer Gerald A. Holland testified they had been dispatched from Los Angeles in a police car with the subpoena.

Williams said he invited Mrs. Dawson to join them so they wouldn't be so conspicuous as policemen.

The three were joined in the police car by the "informant," left unidentified by witnesses, on advice of a deputy city attorney.

Abilene School Bonds Approved

ABILENE (AP)—Four school bond proposals were approved yesterday about 5 to 1 votes.

One authorized $4,750,000 in bonds. The other three authorized the school district to assume present bonded indebtedness; adopted a formula limiting the operation and maintenance school tax rate ceiling to a ratio of the outstanding debt to the total assessed valuation and set a ceiling of $1.20 on each $100 assessed valuation for future operation and maintenance.

Channel Closed At Wreck Site

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Army Corps of Engineers ordered the Delaware River channel to the Philadelphia port closed completely for four hours today to permit diving at the scene of a tanker-freighter collision.

Ten men were listed as missing and believed dead when the Navy tanker Mission San Francisco and the Liberian freighter Elna II rammed early yesterday with an explosion that set fire to both ships.

Col. Allen F. Clark Jr. of the Army Engineers said divers would investigate an "obstruction" detected in the channel that might be the bridge blown from the Mission San Francisco. Most of the missing men were thought to have been on the bridge.

Fifty-eight persons were rescued from the two vessels. They included the entire crew of the Elna.

Violations Fall, Courtesy Gains, CTC Reports

Not only did the number of violations decrease, but the number of courteous acts increased on T-Man reports to Citizens' Traffic Commission during February.

James Eubanks, executive secretary of CTC, reported that 163 violations were witnessed in February—against 166 the previous month—and 21 extraordinary acts of courtesy were observed. Only 17 such courteous acts were seen in January.

The largest group of violations noted during the month was speeders, with 30 violations; there were 48 in January.

Twenty-eight were seen making turns without giving proper signals, and 22 ran red lights. Six made illegal U-turns, and 14 ran stop signs.

The 162 violations were committed by 96 drivers, the report revealed.

Eleven drivers were lauded for the 21 courteous acts during the month, Eubanks said. Eight of the 21 were extraordinary use of hand signals when preparing to turn.

Under the CTC's T-Man program, citizens submit reports to the CTC office when they observe anyone committing a violation or extraordinary act of courtesy. Then Eubanks writes the driver a letter asking him to be more careful or thanking him for his courteous driving.

FREDDY FIELDER, BACKED UP BY TEACHERS, ADMINISTRATORS
Staff of 283 persons keeps schools going, teaches 5,400 Big Spring youngsters.

AT CITY'S SCHOOLS

It Takes 283 To Oversee Program

Freddy Fielder, as a first grader, is a pretty important fellow. He and 5,442 other boys and girls in the Big Spring schools require the full time services of no less than 283 people. Of this number, 237 will have something to do with his and his colleagues' instruction.

Twenty-one of the individuals in instructional service will be in special or supervisory capacities; the remainder will be classroom teachers.

Everyone knows that a school system such as in Big Spring is administered by the superintendent of a superintendent. Not everyone understands that Freddy and his friends will require teachers to administer the program, to plan, to perform in specialized fields, such as nurses, itinerant music teachers, visiting teachers. They may not even realize that nine school principals will be needed to relieve teachers of much record and clerical detail and thus permit them greater force in their prime mission of teaching.

And everyone knows that a group of children — of not more than 25, if State Education Department recommendations are to be followed — will require a teacher. But not everyone appreciates the other staff members needed to provide and maintain facilities for the teacher and her pupil.

In Big Spring, for example, this shapes up under a business manager. He has 22 men engaged in cus-tomial work on the 10 elementary school buildings, high schools and a junior high, not to mention the auxiliary plants such as stadium, shops, storage barn, etc.

In addition, another seven are engaged in pure maintenance to see that the plants are kept in good working order. Five are needed in the cafeteria to plan, prepare and distribute meals. Two are required to assess and collect taxes. At least nine secretaries are required to handle the welter of record-keeping, report-making, and to help patrons with any problems.

There are at least 46 needed for these functions wholly apart from instructional service.

As time passes and population increases, the numbers will grow. It has to be that way, because in America and in Big Spring, Freddy Fielder is a pretty important fellow.

Hearing Conducted
On Red Infiltration
Of Negro Group

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Segregation leaders, warned of Communist concentration on Negroes, sought more information today in a legislative probe designed to show that Red pressure is backing integration efforts in the South.

A former top Red testified yesterday that Communists were snatching at leadership of the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, after abandoning a Dixie drive behind Communist fronts.

Joseph Z. Kornfeder, Detroit, a tailor who helped form the U.S. Communist party in 1919, told the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation that "the NAACP has cooled off on sponsoring front groups with the Communists. . . . The Communists are now trying to unite with the NAACP."

The star witness for the segregationists at the first open session said, "The high point of Communist infiltration, theological and organizational, came in the early days of World War II. They infiltrated Negro groups and Negro colleges — all colleges. And the intellectuals were bigger suckers for Communist propaganda than others."

He said he quit the party in 1934, after disagreeing with a change in party line.

"The whole force of the Communist party is concentrated on the NAACP" in this country, Kornfeder said. "They have infiltrated it, but that doesn't mean it is controlled by the Communist party."

The legislative probe, headed by Sen. W. M. Rainach, militant foe of integration, was responsible for court action outlawing the NAACP in Louisiana.

Boy Admits He Set Fatal Fire

HOUSTON (AP)—Authorities said yesterday a 10-year-old boy has admitted setting an apartment house fire that proved fatal to Mrs. Maxine Daniels, 43.

Arson investigator Alcus Greer said the boy admitted starting the blaze last Friday in an upstairs hall with a pile of newspapers and a box of matches purchased specifically for that purpose. In a signed statement, the boy said he was mad at Mrs. Daniels because she caught him setting another fire in the apartment house last November.

De Valera New Irish Leader

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Eamon de Valera, with a working majority of 17 to 20 votes in the Irish Dail (Parliament), is looking forward to a stable government.

The Dail will formally elect him prime minister of the Irish Republic for the third time March 20.

The final count in Tuesday's elections gave De Valera's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) party 78 seats in the 147-member House. Fine Gael (United Ireland), the party of John A. Costello, the outgoing prime minister, won 40 seats. The Labor party won 12, independents 9, Sinn Fein 4, Clann Na Talmhan (Farmers) 3 and Clann Na Poblachta (Republicans) 1.

The Sinn Feiners, political arm of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, have served notice they will boycott Parliament until Ireland is united politically with Northern Ireland, now part of the United Kingdom with England, Scotland and Wales.

Eisenhower Aide To Explain
Middle East Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador James P. Richards said today he may visit 18 or more countries in a two-month trip to explain President Eisenhower's new program for blocking Communist expansion in the Middle East.

Richards said his mission would be to explain the new Middle East policy to any nation that asks. He said "plenty of them" have asked already.

A second part of Richards' job is to make recommendations for the Middle East program which Eisenhower will continue to present to Congress.

Negro College
Faces Closure

ALCORN, Miss. (AP)—Alcorn A&M College for Negroes may close this weekend because of a deadlock between state authorities and leaders of a student boycott.

Student leaders said no one will return to class in the all-Negro state-supported school until Prof. Clennon King resigns or is fired. They accuse the history professor of getting the school into a "controversial situation" by writing a series of newspaper articles critical of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and integration leaders.

King's newspaper articles, published in the Jackson (Miss.) State Times, were critical of the NAACP and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) and criticized Negroes for "acting like white people."

"It's a shame the students are so undemocratic that they would rather leave their school than be under a professor who expressed his freedom of speech," King told reporters. "That would indicate something is wrong with the school."

"We are just as prejudiced as anyone else," he said. "Some cataclysmic events might bring home to our people that the NAACP is not above criticism."

Uncle Ray: Better Telescopes May End Mystery

By RAMON COFFMAN The old mystery about whether or not Mars has animal life still exists. I have discussed it at length in the past, and today shall simply remark that astronomers remain in doubt.

This quaint old picture shows one idea of the appearance people on Mars might have.

Mercury also is lacking in such life. Venus and Mars may, or may not, have forms of life.

It is my belief that better telescopes will settle the question of life on Venus and Mars before the end of the present century.

Q. What about people who may live on planets in distant solar systems?

A. That mystery is likely to continue for thousands of years to come. Perhaps it will be solved in a million years, but who knows?

Q. If there are people on other planets, what is their probable appearance?

A. Some may be giants ("as tall as trees") and others may be midgets. We might expect some to have the same general height as people on earth.

On our own planet, insects differ widely from furry animals. An adult insect - such as a grasshopper or butterfly - has six legs. Perhaps there are people on certain planets with four legs and two arms, or two legs and four arms.

One highly interesting suggestion is this: Another planet may have people with two arms apiece, along with two legs and a pair of wings.

W. P. Pyecraft, British naturalist, says that if people had wings along with arms and legs, they would have larger brains.

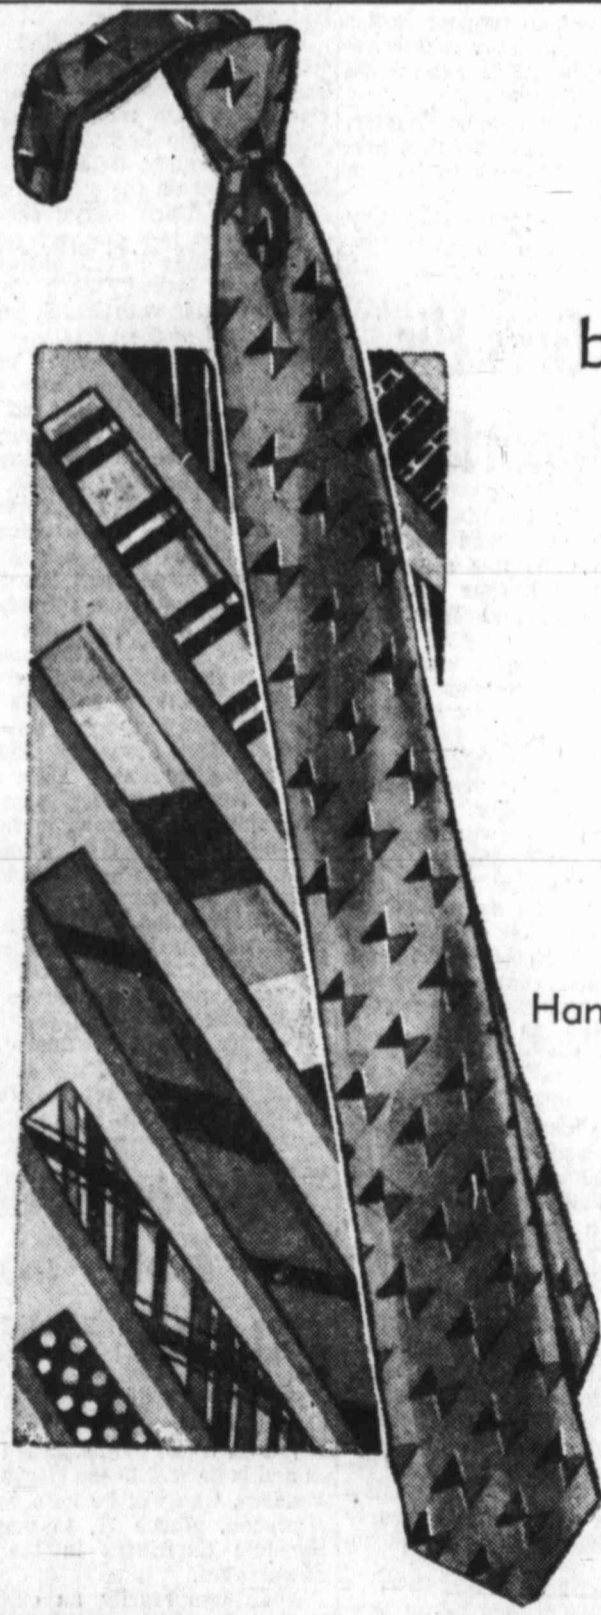

The human hand is of top importance. The human race would be in a sorry way if each person did not have hands fitted with thumbs to oppose the fingers. For my part, I would rather have arms (with hands) than the largest pair of wings in the universe.

HCJC To Get $14,000 More In State Assistance

Howard County Junior College, will receive about $14,000 more per annum under the appropriations bill laid out for the Texas House of Representatives on Thursday.

In contrast to the legislative budget board insistence that the public junior colleges receive no more than 35 per cent of their budgets from the state, the House bill fixes state aid at $230 per capita for the first 350 full-time students and $175 for each student above that figure.

Junior College, the $83,475 in the House bill would amount to only 23.2 per cent of the current budget. Under the formula San Angelo Junior College would be down for $138,000 and Odessa Junior College $163,625.

Grand Jury To Be Called, DA Announces

Tentative plans are now being made to summon the Howard County grand jury into session sometime between this date and the end of March.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, said that several matters are in need of grand jury consideration and that he planned to ask that the body be convened "possibly the week of March 18."

Included in the cases which he said he intends to present to the grand jury are the charges filed against several persons as a result of the recent narcotic raids in the city.

He also has a number of routine cases which will be presented when the grand jury is summoned into session, he said.

Two Sentenced To Terms In Prison

Two defendants, convicted at the current criminal jury docket in 118th District Court, who had originally asked to wait 10 days before formal sentence, revised their plans Thursday and requested that sentence be pronounced at once.

This clears the way for all of the prisoners who are under penitentiary sentences now being held in the county jail to be transferred to the state prison at once.

Morris Harrell, who was given a 10-year sentence for theft, and Manuel Marquez, who received two years for theft, were the two prisoners who heard their sentences pronounced Thursday.

The docket this week resulted in the following verdicts and sentences:

L. E. McPherson, pleaded guilty, given three years sentence; George Krusley, charged with burglary, passed for this time; Morris Harrell, charged with theft, 10 years by jury verdict; Manuel Chavez, assault with intent to commit murder, pleaded guilty, given a three-year suspended sentence; Albino Ranteria, charged with DWI second offense, pleaded guilty, sentenced to 90 days in the county jail; Manuel Marquez, charged with theft, two years in state penitentiary by jury verdict; T. A. Melton, charged with DWI second offense, mistrial entered, reset for April 15; Elizabeth Davis Anderson, DWI second offense, pleaded guilty, $500 fine and 10 days in jail; Jack Bryant, child desertion, passed for term; Allen Eugene Caraway, DWI second offense, pleaded guilty, one year probation and $500 fine; W. H. McDaniel, worthless check, pleaded guilty, two years probation on agreement to pay amount of check; Keith E. Hankins, burglary, pleaded guilty, three years suspended sentence; Robert D. Davis, two indictments forgery and passing, pleaded guilty, four years on each count; Richard Marquez, three-year probation sentence for theft, probation revoked by court.

Prisoner Files For New Trial

Morris Harrell, who was given a 10-year—the maximum possible—sentence by a jury in 118th District court on an indictment charging theft, and who was formally sentenced on Thursday afternoon has decided he is not quite ready to go to prison just yet.

This morning, Judge Charlie Sullivan received a handwritten motion prepared by Harrell in his county jail cell in which he makes a bid for a new trial.

His motion sets up that his conviction was not proper in that he was indicted as he puts it under an "assumed name." The name on the indictment is typed "Morris Harold."

His contention, as related in his motion, is that he was thus deprived of certain rights in the trial and that he is entitled to a new hearing.

Judge Sullivan ordered the prisoner's motion duly filed and a hearing on it will be scheduled soon.

Plans of Harrell to fight his conviction were not known until early Thursday morning when Sheriff Miller Harris was preparing to take a number of prisoners convicted at the present jury criminal docket to state prison. Harrell was one of these the sheriff had planned to take to the penitentiary.

His hand-drawn motion for a new trial was offered by him at the time and the sheriff had no alternative than to leave the prisoner in the county jail and dispatch the motion to the district court.

Theft Of Tires, Wheels Listed

While one resident was reporting a tire and wheel were stolen from him, another advised the police that he had lost the same type of articles.

Quality Body shop, 819 W. 3rd, reported a tire and wheel taken from a 1955 Oldsmobile sometime Wednesday night. The car was parked beside the building.

Later Thursday, a Mr. Schepanovich told the police department that he observed a car with a tire and wheel which had been stolen from him.

The police checked, and the owner of the second car told officers he purchased the tire and wheel from a man he did not know for $12. The articles were taken to the police office where it is held.

Officers are still investigating.

Parsons, Anderson Discuss School Needs, Funds Sources

Sam Anderson, coordinator for elementary education in the Big Spring school system, and Floyd Parsons, city school superintendent, reviewed school problems and plans for the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday noon.

The club dined at the high school cafeteria. It was the organization's observation of public school week.

Anderson told the club of the enrollment in the city elementary schools; of the shortcomings the system has and of steps which are needed to bring the level of elementary education to the standard it should have.

Parsons reviewed the school budget—the sources of income and the proportionate share that the taxpayer bears of the burden of financing school operations. He explained that the state and the federal government allocation of funds absorbs a sizeable portion of the bill. The schools have a budget of nearly one and a half million dollars, he said, and if the plans carry through the year will be ended with a surplus of only $60,000 on hand.

Report on the recent pancake supper staged by the Kiwanis Club was submitted and it was announced that if all indications bear out the club would net around $400 profit from the project.

Jack Alexander presented Tommy Pickle, secretary of the Key Club, school group sponsored by Kiwanis, with a gavel and gong.

It was voted by the Kiwanians to combine with the Downtown Lions Club at a joint meeting Wednesday in observation of Brotherhood Week.

New Businesses Due For Lamesa

LAMESA — Several real estate transactions in Lamesa give signs of several new businesses here.

The Miles Building on South First Street, across the street from the courthouse, has been sold to W. B. Fenton of Snyder, the operator of several "Dad and Lad" shops in the Southwest. Fenton has announced no plans for the use of the two-story structure, however.

At least three new service stations are to be erected in or near the city, including a truck stop being constructed by Don Hackney two miles south on U. S. 87. Hackney, who expects to open the station for business April 1, said he would have showers and bunks for about six truck drivers. The station will handle Coltex products. He purchased the property from Robert B. Brown.

The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation has purchased several lots from Jack W. Alexander at the intersection of Dallas and Lynn Streets. The company has not completed plans for the service station to be constructed there.

McCormick Oil Company has purchased lots in the 1100 block on North Dallas, and has begun construction of a service station. Another transaction involving a local oil company saw the sale of the triangular shaped acreage lying along U. S. 87 and adjoining the Lamesa Country Club on the north. Truman O'Neill who purchased the property from W. A. Weatherford, said Thursday he had no immediate plans for any construction on the property.

The rebuilding of still another service station has begun. The Morris Service Station, 802 South Dallas, destroyed by fire in January, is being rebuilt. The portion of the old structure which was not destroyed by fire was torn down to make room for a new, modern station.

Among real estate transactions involving churches here are the purchase of a building site on North 12th Street by the St. Paul's Lutheran Church; a site purchased by the Second Baptist Church, across North Bryan Street from the forthcoming hospital building; the lots between Avenues F and G facing North 14th Street have been purchased by the Lamesa Church of Christ, with the view in mind, according to a spokesman, of eventually starting another congregation there.

The First Presbyterian Church some time ago purchased lots on Avenue F and North 12th Street, and is now considering building plans.

Sees Growing Demand For Oil

DALLAS (AP)—Some 700 representatives of the American Petroleum Institute's southwestern district production division yesterday heard an API official forecast a continued growing demand for oil.

D. L. Connelly of Houston, API vice president for production, said the domestic oil industry is not going into a decline. "Consumption growth in the years ahead will be at least as great as in the past decade," Connelly said. He is vice president of Warren Petroleum Corp.

The annual three-day meeting is being attended by Texas and New Mexico drilling and producing technicians.

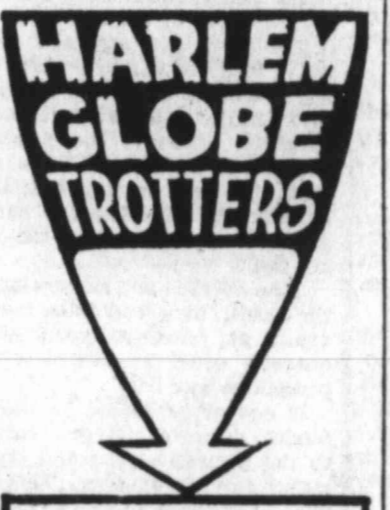

Police Seeking Two Pickups

Police are looking for two pickups today, one more than they searched for Thursday.

One is wanted for hit-and-run, and the other is stolen.

The yellow pickup that hit Kathryn Coe at Fourth and Lancaster Thursday morning had not been located this morning, officers reported. The 10-year-old girl was not seriously injured.

The second pickup wanted here was stolen between 9 a.m. and midnight, Thursday. C. W. White, 1202 Gregg, said the 1951 Ford was stolen from him. He furnished the police with the name of a man he suspected of taking the vehicle, but at noon today the pickup had not been retrieved.

A Hymn Is Born
BY CLINT BONNER

'OH HAPPY DAY'
A hymn that was written by a dying man

The frail man walked feebly down the gangplank. Before he left Northampton he had told friends that he could go to heaven from Portugal as well as from England. All his life he had worked hard and now that his health was shattered he had come to Lisbon to die.

Philip Doddridge was the last of 20 children by his London oil merchant father and pious Dutch mother. As a child he was so frail that his parents feared he would not live. But it was the other way around. Before Philip finished grammar school he lost both his parents. But the mother left her weeping son a heritage that not only shaped his destiny but has resounded across the centuries.

As a child Philip Doddridge sat on his mother's knee while she told him stories from the Bible. Around the family fireplace were the decorations representing Biblical events. There was Noah and his ark; Eve's apple and the serpent; Peter crossing the Sea of Galilee; and others. She explained all of these and told of how her own father had been driven from his home by religious persecution.

There on his mother's knee Philip Doddridge "fixed his choice" to follow the footsteps of his grandfather.

It was an age of religious controversy and a minister was either for the Established Church or he was with the dissenters. But the mild-mannered Doddridge drew the admiration of both. His one great failing was that he ignored his frail constitution. While pastor of Northampton's Congregational Church he took on added duties of running an academy where he trained 200 young men for the ministry and wrote no less than 40 hymns. On his travels he carried a manuscript in his satchel and even while he shaved he had a student read to him.

But at 40 tuberculosis forced his hand. Friends advised the climate of Portugal and he went there in 1751. But he had waited too long. Three weeks after arriving in Lisbon he died and they buried him there in the English Cemetery. Four years later his hymns were collected and published. Among them is a favorite that was sung 100 years before an unknown writer added the chorus in 1854:

Oh happy day that fixed my choice
On Thee, my Saviour and my God
Well may thy glowing heart rejoice,
And tell its raptures all abroad.

Oh happy band, that seals my vows
To Him who merits all my love
Let cheerful anthems fill His house,
While to that sacred shrine I move.

'Tis done; the great transaction's done!
I am my Lord's and He is mine.
He drew me on; I followed on,
Charmed to confess the voice divine.

Chorus:
Happy day, happy day,
When Jesus washed my sins away!
He taught me how to watch and pray,
And live rejoicing every day.

WHY I BECAME A MINISTER
Preacher Heard The Call Of God

By Rev. R. D. ASHCRAFT
I was born in Hubbard, Texas and was raised in a Christian home and on both sides of the family there were preachers.

My dad was a carpenter and taught me this trade. At the age of six years, we moved to Talpa, Texas, where I went to school and every Sunday our family went to church.

I will never forget when I was in the Card Class, my Sunday school teacher told of how God destroyed the world with a flood, because of sin. That stayed upon my mind, why God would destroy his people that He placed here on earth.

A few years later when I was about 13 or 14 years of age we had a revival. One night after service we went home. I remember asking my mother some questions about the Lord and how God saves people. And at the age of 15 I joined a church. I had a hunger in my heart to do better, but somehow that didn't satisfy my soul just to join a church.

Years passed and every time I heard people singing and preaching over the radio there was a hunger in my heart. By this time I did not like preachers. The men on the jobs where I worked called me Preacher, and I did not like it. I made good in the business that I was in but it did not satisfy me.

A few years later I married. After six years our son was born and became sick. The doctors gave him up to die. My wife called me off the job where I was working.

My wife was a Christian and when I reached home that day my baby was lying upon his death bed. One of the ladies at my home said, "Mr. Ashcraft, why don't you give your heart and life to God so you can see your baby in Heaven."

I knelt in my living room that morning and found Jesus real to my soul.

From that day on God began to deal with me to preach the Gospel. The burden grew heavier and heavier until I finally yielded to God's will. As I began to preach I found God was with me and from that day on I found Him real to my soul.

I preach not by choice but because the Call of God is on my life. The Call of God is different in my life. It is a joy to carry this Gospel to a lost and dying world.

Let's Get Acquainted

FM 700 Proposal Due More Study

D. C. Greer, engineer for the Texas State Highway Commission, has advised R. H. Weaver, county judge, that the county's request the state build a 4.2 mile cutoff route extending FM 700 from U. S. 87 east to U. S. 80 has been docketed for complete study by the commission. Greer said that all "pertinent data" would be assembled by the commission and that a decision on the request would be made in approximately 60 days. The project was laid before the State Highway Commission by a delegation from Howard County last month. The county has agreed to allocate 4.2 miles of its farm-to-market road quota to the project and to provide the state with easements for a 300-foot right of way. The road would begin at the point where FM 700 west intersects U. S. 87 and continue eastward to intersect U. S. 80 near the Cosden refinery. The state commission was told that the cutoff would be of great importance in handling heavy traffic from Big Spring to and from Webb Air Force Base. The county is already working on the task of securing the 300-foot-right-of-way needed for the road.

Hall Boosted By Ike Praise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's enthusiastic endorsement appeared today to have given Leonard W. Hall the inside track for next year's Republican nomination for governor of New York. Eisenhower told a cocktail party gathering of about 200 GOP members of the Senate, House, Cabinet and executive agencies here last night that "if Leonard Hall runs for governor of New York he is going to have one booster in me. He has never even told me what he wants to do, but I want him to know he's got one supporter." In everything except the promise of an interim job which would keep Hall in the limelight, Eisenhower's endorsement far exceeded the expectations of the Senate and House GOP leaders present. They had arranged what Sen. Bridges (R-NH) called "a family party" to honor the former chairman. Bridges, who played a leading part in getting Eisenhower to attend, said he regarded the President's boost for Hall as "excellent."

Stratojet Burns
All that remains of this B-47 Stratojet are the jet engines and the tail section after an explosion ripped the big bomber apart on the flight line of the Lake Charles Air Force Base, Lake Charles, La. The flames spread and destroyed a second B-47. Two airmen were slightly injured.

Editor Swipes Box Number

DALLAS (AP) — Riverside 8-9133 was a dead telephone number in Dallas today. It was a good bet that certain numbers by model Brandy Lee in 23 other major cities might be disconnected, too. The Dallas number was disconnected today after the Riverside 8 exchange was swamped with so many calls the exchange was jammed. The line was swamped, telephone officials explained, because of the publication of the Dallas number in the national magazine Confidential that appeared Tuesday night. The magazine told about a young model known as Brandy Lee who put stickers on telephone booths. The stickers showed her picture and then informed the viewers if they would like to see more of her they could call RI 8-9133. When someone called RI 8-9133, he heard a soothing voice say "Why don't you write me at Box — and I'll send you four wonderful pictures for a dollar . . ."

Air Force Studies Navigation Errors

DALLAS, Tex., March 8 (AP) — Any aircraft navigator will admit it's embarrassing, after touching down, having to ask just where he landed. It's happened. And the Air Force is busy doing something about such navigational snafus, large and minor. It is using a flying classroom, complete with desks and teachers, to keep the wartime skills of weekend fliers from rusting. "With nine student navigators we usually end up with nine separate courses," said Capt. Gale Posselt, chief instructor in the navigation school at Hensley Field here. "But," he added hastily, "they usually are within 10 miles and two minutes of each other. Usually the errors are surprisingly small." Posselt, three other Air Force regulars and seven reservists were relaxing after a 4,500-mile, six-day round trip to Panama. It was one of the few over-water training hops. Commonly such trips are over land and much shorter. Their classroom is a TC47 modified for navigation instruction. It has nine desks for students, and three blisters so three students can take celestial readings at the same time. Nine students usually are in class, but this time, because of weight of extra equipment for over-water flight, only seven made the trip. It took them to Miami, Fla.; Kingston, Jamaica; and the Canal Zone, returning the same way. First Lt. George Benkendorf of Grand Prairie, Tex., copilot, said a sextant was off a couple of degrees and they missed Miami by several miles in an overcast. "But the rest of the time," he said, "they split the runways right down the middle." Each student has a desk and duplicate equipment. Each goes through complete preflight work, and pilots the course all the way. In flight, they pretend each is a navigator of a separate plane, all flying in formation. They take turns being the lead navigator. The instructor, Capt. Posselt, goes from desk to desk and monitors the work. The pilot actually follows the students' orders. They rarely make gross errors. "That's why the occasional mistakes are so easy to remember—there are so few of them," Capt. Posselt said. "Errors of 180 degrees occasionally crop up," said the instructor. "That sends you exactly the wrong way. A common mistake is correcting to the left when you find you are to the left of the course, or vice versa." "I know one pilot who was flying from Corpus Christi to Houston (both on the Gulf Coast) and ended up in Austin, Tex. (Deep in the central part of the state). He had to ask where he was after he landed."

Tanker Sinks
The Navy tanker USNS Mission San Francisco, lies in shallow water in the Delaware River at New Castle, Del., after a violent midship explosion tore it apart following a collision with the freighter S.S. Elva II. Ten of the tanker crew members, including the captain, are missing and feared dead.

Witnesses Side With Marine

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Several Marine recruits testified yesterday that a drill instructor charged with hitting them actually only tapped them. The testimony came in the court-martial of Cpl. William R. Walsh, Lyndhurst, N.J., charged with 24 counts of hazing and maltreatment involving 11 members of Recruit Platoon 399. It is the fourth such trial here in less than a month. Pvt. Edmund L. Ramie, Watertown, N.Y., one of the recruits, said he was told to sign a statement or go to the brig. He said the statement contained the word "hit" but Ramie said he never claimed to have been hit, "only tapped." Walsh's civilian counsel, lawyer Fred W. Shields of Mount Vernon, Va., then asked, "Did Capt. Morgan tell you it was the truth and to sign it or go to the brig?" "Yes, sir," Ramie replied. The officer Shields mentioned yesterday, said one, Pvt. David Lee Forter, of Hartford, Vt., said blows Walsh is accused of delivering on them actually were "taps."

Dr. Ian Muir Joins VA Staff

New on the VA Hospital medical staff is Dr. Ian Muir, formerly on the staff of the Legion Tuberculosis Hospital operated by the state at Kerrville. Dr. Muir is a graduate of the medical school at the University of Alabama, Birmingham. He is assigned to medical services here. Mrs. Bernardine M. Cottle, formerly of Lamesa, recently started work as nurse-anesthetist at the VA Hospital.

Missile Secrecy Ban Suggested

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) has suggested that some of the secrecy surrounding missile tests be lifted so the public will have a better understanding of this defense effort. "Under the procedure, I believe it would be a good idea if responsible members of the press were allowed to see more of the actual operations here," Symington said after inspecting the missile sites at Patrick Air Force Base yesterday. Symington, former secretary of the Air Force, said the public is "somewhat confused" over missiles. Contradictory news stories have developed in the wake of a few mishaps during tests.

YELLOW PAGE AD brings contracting firm 175 calls

The Bettmann Construction Company decided to try a half-column display ad in the Yellow Pages of the telephone directory, instead of a bold-type listing previously used. Not long after the company's ad appeared in the new directory, the owner of the firm wrote the telephone company: "The number of inquiries I have received both amazed and pleased me. I have kept a pretty good check . . . and I figure that I have received approximately 150 to 175 calls from my half-column display. "At the time that I arranged for the display to be inserted, I thought that if I got one job a month it would be well worth the cost. I have been getting, on the average, about two or three jobs each week. "If my business continues on the present scale, this year I will double the gross business that I did the year preceding, and I attribute practically all this increase to the telephone directory display, as I do no other advertising to speak of." Yellow Page advertising can work for you, too, Mr. Businessman. Talk it over with the Yellow Page man when he calls on you. *A true case history; only the name has been changed. The telephone company will be glad to furnish more details on request.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today started a four-day cooling-off period as farm leaders sought to compromise partisan differences over proposed new farm subsidies for corn and feed grain growers.

Before it laid aside farm legislation until next Tuesday, the House killed by a seven-vote margin a Republican proposal to give corn growers an expanded planting allotment and a price support floor of 75 per cent of parity.

Ike Tells Of Fight To Slow Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Thursday he is trying to slow down the rate of government spending in an effort to keep living costs from rising still more.

Eisenhower also told a news conference that his lingering cough now has developed into a cold in the head and that he is having difficulty hearing.

fact and its problems must be dealt with.

As for the situation resulting from Israel's withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the prospective pullout from the Gulf of Aqaba area, Eisenhower said the United States has taken the position that the gulf is an international waterway and that this country plans to use it together with other nations.

WHITE HOUSE — Eisenhower said he would oppose any move to convert the White House into a museum and to build a new residence for the President elsewhere in Washington.

The White House is such a symbol of what our country means that it never should be abandoned as a presidential residence, Eisenhower added.

CIVIL RIGHTS — Eisenhower suggested that a questioner go to Atty. Gen. Brownell for an answer as to whether the administration's civil rights program should provide for trial by jury in contempt cases.

FOREIGN AID — Eisenhower said he is all for a foreign aid study committee's recommendation that he have greater discretionary authority in administration of that program.

RED CHINA — Eisenhower said he and Dulles have studied carefully the question of whether to lift the current U.S. ban against letting American newsmen go in to Communist China.
