Corruption Drive Called By Daniel

Governor Asks Law Commission

Lucky Lad

Harry Petrie, 18, of Memphis, Tenn., was flying his model airplane when it zoomed into high tension lines. The steel control cable attached to the plane sent 12,000 volts surging through Harry's body.

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel called today for an immediate statewide cleanup of crime and corruption to "save the good name of Texas from destruction by scandal - mongers and lack of public confidence."

In a strongly worded statement, the governor again urged the Legislature to adopt a bill to set up a statewide law enforcement commission to make sure Texas has "honest government and one in which we can be proud."

It would be so set up that any citizen with so set up that any evidence of corruption or wrongdoing could bring his charges to the commission. That, he said, would include any state employee.

He has already submitted the general subject as an emergency measure. The 12-member commission Daniel proposes would be made up of a grand juror from each of the 11 Court of Civil Appeals districts, selected at district meetings of county grand jury foremen.

Scientist Exhibits Photos Of Viruses From Leukemia Cells

By RENNIE TAYLOR
HOUSTON, March 9 (AP)—A research scientist today exhibited photographs of incredibly tiny particles in cancerous leukemic cells taken from humans, mice and chickens and identified them as viruses.

branch of the University of Texas. Dr. Dmochowski made no claim that these viruses caused the cancers in question. The main significance, he reported, is that the work places the virus "at the scene of the crime."

Point 4 Termed Best Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) completed a 30-month study of technical assistance tonight with the conclusion that "it is the cheapest, most effective" of all foreign aid programs.

These tissues play a part in the formation of blood. In leukemia great abnormalities appear in the number and structure of blood cells. Immature, but long-lived white blood cells interfere with the functioning of the blood as a whole and produce complications which cause death.

Only one point in Texas reported freezing temperatures early Saturday. Lufkin had an even 32 degrees.

Egypt Will Collect Suez Canal Tolls

CAIRO, March 9 (AP)—Egypt's information director declared today all Suez Canal tolls must be paid henceforth to Egyptian authorities. He rejected a U.S. backed proposal for collection by a neutral agency which would split the revenue with Egypt 50-50.

The Egyptian government will not accept any such proposals because it violates Egypt's rights according to the 1888 convention on the Suez Canal, director Abdel Kader Hatem said in an interview.

Midwest Video Corp. of Little Rock, Ark., applied yesterday for permission to build a system of cables for display of movies and today Rowley United Theaters, Inc., of Dallas applied for a similar permit.

Diagram Shows How New Airport Will Be Designed

Howard County Commissioners Court will probably issue a check sometime this week to the heirs of the Ora Johnson estate for $6,295 and when that check is written, ownership of the tract to be made into the new Howard County Airport will be in the county hands. J. T. Sherrod, who owned 87.57 acres of the land involved in the site, has already received his check for $10,324.72 and D. C.

Buchanan, owner of 200 acres in the tract, has been paid $21,344 for land and $3,500 to compensate him for removal of buildings now located on the property. Signature of only one heir is needed for completion of the settlement with the Ora Johnson estate. Total acreage on the airport will be 350.8 acres. Total land cost is $41,137.74.

Air Plan Change May Hurt Cities

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Reshaping military plans because of improvements in aircraft possibly may adversely affect the economy of some Texas cities.

The big question concerns plans for the new super-sonic B58 jet bomber. Prototypes have been built at the Convair plant in Fort Worth, where 27,000 persons work.

A source in Congress said that should defense authorities decide to go all out for production of B58s, there would be no reduction in Convair payrolls at Fort Worth.

Should the decision be to continue output of the less-speedy B52 bomber there might be job layoffs at Fort Worth, where employees turned to work on the B58 when the B56s they had built neared the obsolete stage.

Concern over this and plans for Air Force installations in Waco and Austin, it was learned today prompted Sen. Lyndon Johnson to call Air Force Secretary Donald Quarles to a conference.

Accompanied by Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Chief of Staff, and other top Air Force men, Quarles went to Johnson's office to discuss the situation.

It was understood no commitments were made. It may be some time before the Pentagon determines whether to concentrate on making B58s or on intercontinental missiles.

The question appears to be whether the B58s, with speed less than sound (which is 750 miles an hour at sea level), can adequately protect the nation until the intercontinental ballistic missiles are developed.

The discussions were understood to have dwelt partly on what is to be done about the Flying Air Training Command headquarters at Waco.

While a contract to assure its continued location in Waco for five years is under consideration, there is also under study a proposal to consolidate it with forces now at San Antonio.

It was indicated that at least there would be no early change in the status of Waco headquarters.

There is to be a shakeup of two fighter wings now stationed at Austin, it was reported.

FFA, 4-H Fat Stock Show To Open Tuesday For Three Days

The 20th annual Howard County FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show opens Tuesday for three days in the fair buildings at the rodeo grounds.

Future Farmers and 4-H Club members will be competing for some $500 in prizes, plus the opportunity to enter their animals in the big auction which will conclude the show Thursday night.

Activities begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday when the boys and girls will start weighing in and tagging their lambs, calves and capons. They will spend the day grooming their entries, and judging will begin at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

About 150 youngsters will participate in the show. They will exhibit 25 calves, 150 lambs and about 30 capons.

Capon judging is the first item on the agenda for Wednesday. That starts at 8 a.m., to be followed by lamb judging at 9 a.m. and steer judging at 2 p.m. Judges will be Elbert Steele, authority on poultry and coach of numerous winners of major capon shows, Herman Carter and Calvin Holcombe.

Steele, from Stanton, will judge the capons. Carter, San Angelo, will place lambs, and Holcombe, of Tulla, will judge the calves.

Scores of buyers are due to be on hand at 7:30 p.m. Thursday for the start of the annual auction. Walter Britton of College Station will again be the auctioneer.

Jaycees, the Howard County Livestock Association and the Chamber of Commerce are sponsors of the show and sale. Jaycee-Ettes and the Women's Hospital Auxiliary will operate concessions at the fair grounds. The Frank Schwartz carnival from Denver, Colo., is due to be operating in the vicinity of the show buildings.

JACKSON, Miss., March 9 (AP)—The State College Board today expelled all Alcorn A&M students who "defied" the board's order to return to classes and discharged Dr. J. R. Otis as president.

Bids On County Funds To Be Opened Monday

Howard County commissioners are to consider bids from the three Big Spring banks Monday and determine which of the banks is to serve as county depository for the current year. At the same meeting the commissioners are to consider bids for a new truck, water tank trailer and road grader for the county highway department. Heretofore, the county has not sought bids for the county depository assignment. Until last year, there were only two banks operating in Big Spring and it was an established policy to alternate the operation between the banks from year to year. This year, the Security State Bank, newly established institution in the city, appeared at a meeting of the court and asked that it be designated as the county depository. The solution was to advertise for bids and to select the bank from the three which made the most attractive proposition to the county. County Commissioners said that other than for these two matters there seemed to be no other special business likely to come before the court on Monday. Routine discussion of projects under way, payment of any bills that Lee Porter, county auditor, may have to present and similar activities are expected to make up the agenda for the meeting.

Fellowships Awarded

NEW YORK (AP)—Sam Astrachan, John Berryman, Sonya Rudikoff and Augusta Walker—novelists, essayists and poets—have won Partisan Review fellowships for 1957. Chosen on the basis of merit and need, they will receive stipends up to $4,000 apiece.

Dozen Classes Due For 'Career Day'

A dozen high schools in this area have indicated they will send their graduating classes here Mar. 22 for the "Career Day" at Howard County Junior College. A score or more representatives from major fields of endeavor will be on hand to talk with small groups about their vocations. At the same time they will counsel with the young people about preparation for and means of entering upon a chosen work. Floyd W. Parsons, superintendent of Big Spring schools, will keynote the gathering after visitors are welcomed by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College. Dean Ben F. Johnson, who is directing arrangements for the affair, said that senior classes from Big Spring, Colorado City, Lamesa, Forsan, Ackery, Coahoma, Gail, Garden City, Knott, Stanton, Westbrook and Sterling City are due to be represented at the all-day party. During the period when delegations are assembling in the H.C.J.C. auditorium from 9 to 9:30 a.m., the Webb AFB Band will give a concert. The welcome and keynote address will be followed at 10:15 a.m. by sectional meetings of career areas. Luncheon will be served in the college gymnasium to visitors, and music will be furnished again by the Webb AFB Band. Other sectional meetings at 1 p.m. will precede adjournment at 2 p.m.

Scout 'Round Up' Will Open Friday

Tents and campfires dotted the rolling area southeast of the City Park Saturday as local troops practiced for the biggest single event of the Buffalo Trail Council, the annual Big Spring Round Up. This camporee, which normally attracts around 1,100 boys and leaders, will get under way Friday and will continue through Saturday noon. Bill McRee, Scout executive, said that about 40 troops had pre-registered for the Round Up. Included were units from Notrees, Monahan, Kermit, Odessa, Andrews, Midland, Stanton and Big Spring. While the official starting time is 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Round Up grounds, a number of troops from the west are expected to be on hand when the grounds are opened officially at 4 p.m. Thursday. Big Spring Scouts, as in most places, will not be released from school until noon Friday. Sam Mellinger is arranging for judges for the event, and Sherman Smith has details in hand for collection and preparation of the big barbecue which local friends of Scouting give for the closing meal. Sam McComb, as camping and activities chairman, is the general chairman for the Round Up, and he also has provided wood for the barbecue. Arrangements are being handled by Elmer Tarbox, who also will see to it that a public address system is available. The entire professional staff of the council will be here. Stewart Painter, Odessa, will be in charge of clerical work; McRee will assist McComb in general details; Lowell Longley, Midland, will direct Explorer activities; Monte Stokes, those for Scout contests and Joe Bohannon, Snyder, will be in charge of the camp fires.

Parr, Associates On Trial Monday

HOUSTON, March 9 (AP)—George Parr, eight Duval County associates and two banks he formerly headed go on trial here again Monday on charges of using the mail to defraud the Benavides School District of over $200,000 in tax receipts. A 42-day first trial ended Dec. 18 with a hung jury. After deliberating six days, the jury was unable to reach any verdict on Parr and six defendants. Four defendants were acquitted on from 10 to 19 of the 20 counts listed in the indictment. Co-defendants Monday will be D. C. Chapa, B. F. Donald, Jesus Garza, Santiago Garcia, Octavio Senz, Jesus Oliveira, O. P. Carrillo, Oscar Carrillo Sr., the Texas State Bank of Alice, and the San Diego State Bank.

OUTSTANDING CARRIER Alvin Johnke, 14, wins honor

REPEAT WINNER Herald Honors Carrier-Of-Month

The Herald again for 1957 is honoring its carrier boys through a "Carrier of the Month" award—and the first lad to grab the prize is one who has been racking up other honors. He is Alvin Johnke, a 14-year-old 7th grader, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnke, 108 NE 12th St. Alvin has 174 subscribers on his route serving an area from NE 7th to NE 12th, and from North Main to the Snyder Highway. Although he has a big territory to cover, Alvin has one of the lowest complaint records in the city, averaging only one complaint every 10,000 to 12,000 papers delivered. The Carrier-of-the-Month award is based on a boy's work in signing new Herald readers, in giving good service, in prompt payment of bills, and in regular attendance at carrier crew meetings. With the money he makes off his Herald route, Alvin buys his own clothes, has his own spending money, and has $345 on deposit in The Herald's carrier savings-bond program. He has been one of the Herald's "Little Merchants" for 18 months. Last summer he won a trip to Rocky Ledge Camp in the Texas Hill Country because of outstanding performance, and he was the high point man among all carriers in the recent "Chicken-or-Chili" contest. As Carrier of the Month, Alvin receives a dinner for himself and his family, free tickets to any R&R Theatre, and a $5 certificate for merchandise of his choice.

Legislative Probers Dig For Evidence In Bribe Offer Case

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—Legislative investigators dug under cover today for new evidence they hope to bring out publicly next week in a bribe offer inquiry characterized by one of its chief figures as "this sordid affair."

Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio publicly apologized today for bringing the names of three state senators into the case. Harmon, who accused former state Rep. James E. Cox of Congress of agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe to kill a bill outlawing practice of naturopathy in Texas, made the apology in a letter to Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, president of the Senate. Harmon's letter said "It is unfortunate that these men are mentioned in this sordid affair."

Cox has been indicted for consenting to take a bribe from Harmon. Cox has filed a bribe offer charge against Harmon. Each claims he sought to entrap the other.

The legislative committee's search for new evidence went underground after acid was splashed in the face of a witness this week.

Three Texas Rangers are looking for the acid hurler. Committee Chairman Wade Spilman said names of future witnesses would be kept secret until they appear.

Dr. R. E. McMeans Jr., Conroe chiropractor, was hit by a splatter of acid thrown in his face Tuesday night. He was a witness in the House investigation.

Spilman said he thought the sneak attack was the act of a crackpot. He added that every effort would be made to protect all witnesses. Police are studying two theories: That it was the work of a crank, or that it was connected with the hearing.

Gov. Price Daniel has given the investigators his full backing. He said the "people are entitled to know the facts of every allegation of misconduct by a state official or employee."

The investigation is the latest in a series of state government scandals in Texas. Officials and lawmakers have been accused of misconduct and unethical practices, such as influence peddling and fee taking, in insurance company failures.

A former state land commissioner, Bascom Giles, is in prison on a felony conviction growing out of his administration of the 100 million dollar veterans' land program.

Pending before the Legislature are dozens of bills to bring lobbying and legislative misconduct under stern curbs. Thus far, they have been stalled in committee.

The bribery investigation this week unfolded in public for the first time in unexpurgated detail an alleged hotel-room conversation between Cox and Harmon registered on a tape recorder.

It included alleged statements by Cox that "I'll work for you" and purported haggling over the amount $5,500 or $5,000, to be paid by Harmon, president of the state naturopathic physician's organization. His charge was that Cox agreed to take the money to kill his (Cox's) bill that would have put the naturopaths out of business. Cox's countercharge, made in a public speech in the House chamber, was that he had agreed to accept the bribe as part of a plan to entrap "crooked lobbyists." Cox resigned from the Legislature.

Harmon's letter offered "sincere apology" to Ramsey, the Senate and three senators whose names he mentioned in a recording which he turned in to House Speaker Waggoner Carr and which touched off the investigation.

The recording had referred to Sens. Charles Herring of Austin, Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio and Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford. All disclaimed any connection with the affair.

Harmon's letter said: "The tape recording made public yesterday disclosed the names of several individuals, some of whom are honored members of your Senate. I wish to state positively that the names of these men were selected by me at random in an effort to elicit the names of possible cohorts of Mr. Cox."

"I have met Sen. Gonzalez only one time and that was for just a few minutes. I have only been introduced to Sen. Herring but have never held conversation with him. To the best of my recollection, I have never met Sen. Bradshaw."

Marine Gets Stiff Sentence

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., (AP)—A five-man court-martial today sentenced a Marine drill instructor, Cpl. William R. Walsh, of Lyndhurst, N. J., to three months at hard labor for illegally touching recruits.

In addition, the court, headed by Maj. Glen W. Rodney of Joplin, Mo., ordered Walsh reduced to private and fined $40 a month for three months.

The stiff sentence caught the courtroom by surprise, since only yesterday the court had thrown out 20 of the 24 charges of hazing or mistreatment of recruits.

Of the four remaining charges, the court reworded the accusations to reduce them in nature from the more serious charge of "struck." The court substituted, "tapping" or "touching" for the word "struck."

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

From time to time, newspaper reporters write that officers are handicapped in their solution of a crime by the absence of the "corpus delicti."

Most folks think this means there has been a murder and that officers are convinced someone has been killed. The "corpus delicti" in the general acceptance of the term means the police have plenty of evidence on the suspect but they cannot find the victim's body.

In a general sense, this is the true situation. And when you see the words in most news stories, the odds are that is exactly what the reporter meant. However, he could, I learn, fool you. The corpus delicti can still be a problem in a murder case, for example, even though the body may be very much at hand.

It's what I find out by reading of a new book just released by the Oxford Press. This book is called "Dictionary of American-English Usage." Margaret Nicholson is the author and it features 5,000 different entries.

A sample page from the book gives a good cross section of the kind of information it contains. It would be a very handy volume for writers to have on their desks and would keep them from committing some rather common blunders.

Look these examples over and compare what Miss Nicholson says with the way you may have interpreted the word and used it: ARAB, ARABIAN, ARABIC — With exceptions for a phrase or two, such as gum arabic, the three adjectives are now differentiated, Arab meaning of the Arabs, Arabian meaning of Arabia, and Arabic of the language or writing or literature of the Arabs. Arab and Arabian can sometimes be used indifferently.

CORPUS. Pl. corpora. Body; fig. the whole body of literature on any subject; a complete collection of writings; the main body, material substance; principal as opposed to interest on income. Corpus delicti: the basic facts necessary to the commission of a crime (not, as is sometimes supposed, the body of the victim).

BUNCOMBE, BUNKUM. Although the COD prefers the shorter spelling, the first, from an American place name, is the original and is preferred in the U.S. The word was first used by Felix Walker in the 18th Congress; he was bound to make a speech for Buncombe (a county in his district in North Carolina). Hence the meaning, anything done for mere show; the shorter form, bunk, is slang.

CHARACTER is a valuable and important word with several well-marked senses. The worst thing that can happen to such a word is that it should be set to do inferior and common work, which, while it could be more suitably done by milder words, has to be done so often that the nobler word is cheapened by familiarity. Abuses: (a) Character is used with adjectives as a substitute for an abstract noun termination — -ness, -ty, etc. (b) A simple adjective is watered into an x character; the right are bad in themselves when not necessary, is kind . . . (c) Character (colloq.) for an odd, strange, or eccentric person . . . its present renewed popularity has reduced it to slang.

COCKSURE (U. S. one word, Brit. hyphen) has been in the language since 1820. The reference is presumably to the cock or tap of a spring, not to the bird.

BIRD'S EYE, n. and adj., usually and best so spelled.

CELLAR. Orig. a storeroom, either above or below ground; now usually an underground room or one at least partly underground, but not fitted for habitation. A basement is usually well lighted and used for some household purposes.

COUNTENANCE, FACE, PHYSIOGNOMY, VISAGE. Face is the proper name for the part; countenance is the face with reference to its expression; physiognomy, to the cast or type of features; visage is now a literary word, used ornamentally for face without special significance.

CHEERFUL, CHEERY. The latter has reference chiefly to external — voice, appearance, manner, etc. Resignation may be cheerful without being cheery . . . The cheerful feels and perhaps shows contentment, the cheery shows and probably feels it.

DICTIONARY, ENCYCLOPEDIA, LEXICON. A dictionary properly so called, is concerned merely with words regarded as materials for speech; an encyclopedia is concerned with the things for which the words are names. . . . Lexicon means the same as dictionary . . . By extension dictionary is now

Building, Zoning On City's Agenda

City commissioners will consider building, zoning, and money matters at their regular session Tuesday night.

The zoning matters, however, will hinge on the zoning board's decision at a public hearing Monday night. Three areas are under consideration for change, and should the zoning board approve the changes, the commission will then make the final decision Tuesday.

Plans have been completed for the fire department drill tower and these will be up for approval Tuesday night. The tower will be constructed just south of the Eighth and Owens intersection. The proposed YMCA building will be on the southwest corner of the intersection, and the drill tower will be just south of it.

The city earmarked $15,000 for the tower out of the fire department's part of bonds approved by the city in August of 1955. This is all that remains of the fire department improvements included in the bond issue.

It will be bricked on the first story and will be only a frame the upper three stories.

Should the commission approve the plans, a date will be set for letting bids for its construction.

Also to be presented to the group Tuesday will be diagrams for bath-houses at the two swimming pools on the Northside. Puckett and French, architects, sketched the building.

The city proposes to do part of this construction work with its crews.

The city manager, H. W. Whitney, has received no word from the Vumore Company of Abilene which has asked for a franchise to operate a closed-circuit television movie service here. At the last regular city commission meeting Feb. 28, the firm asked to be heard Tuesday, but they have not corresponded lately.

At the Feb. 28 meeting, R. H. Weaver, attorney for the R&R Theatres, asked that the group table any discussions with the Vumore people until this week, when the local firm could submit a similar proposal. No word has been received Saturday in regards to their appearance Tuesday.

The budget for the coming fiscal year will probably be tentatively approved Tuesday and the group will call for a public hearing March 26.

As a matter of formality, the commission will hear the third of four readings required to annex a 45-acre tract on the east edge of the city.

Dawson Group Opposes Poage Farm Proposal

LAMESA, Mar. 9 — Directors of the Dawson County Farm Bureau have attacked the Poage Bill, now before Congress, as being for the most part detrimental to West Texas farmers and beneficial to East Texas.

Especially hard to swallow, they said, are the commission of trends; a three-year basis for computing allotments, rather than the current five-year basis; a proposal that one-half of the acreage reserve come from the state and the other from the county; and the giving of total credit to the county allotment if 52 per cent of the allotted acreage is planted.

Directors are in favor of the differentiation between light and heavy spot cotton in grading. Sens. Lyndon Johnson and Arthur Blakeley and Rep. George Mahon are being notified of their feelings.

The Bureau directors also discussed several state legislative matters, including the State Farm Bureau backed insurance law which would allow companies writing indemnity on autos to set their own rates, with insurance commission approval, and would, they believe, reduce insurance rates through competition; the pickup license law; the feed labeling bill, which has already passed the Legislature; the seed labeling bill; the Pool bill; the egg bill; experiment station appropriation increases, all of which they favor; and the commissioner precinct redistricting and the school consolidation bill, both of which the Farm Bureau is opposed to.

Rep. Wesley Roberts and Sen. Preston Smith have been informed of the Dawson County Farm Bureau's stand on these proposed measures.

Bill Snellgrove, chairman of the membership committee, reported that the total membership of the Dawson County Farm Bureau is now 884, of which ten are new this month.

Herbert Green, chairman of the site committee of the proposed cotton classing office here, told the directors that about $30,000 has been raised for equipping that office, in addition to the $15,000 which the Dawson County Commissioners Court has voted for the construction of the office.

3 Weeks Left To Get Plates

Howard County motorists now have three weeks left in which to buy and install 1957 automobile plates on their cars.

Saturday morning, the office of Viola Robinson, county tax assessor, was a busy spot. A steady pickup in interest in buying new tags is developing, she said. However, no grand rush has yet made its appearance.

She estimated that less than 5,000 passenger tags have been sold so far. Starting on or around Mar. 20, it is likely that the office will be jammed to capacity from opening to closing time as motorists hasten to get their tags before the deadline April 1.

It was again urged by the tax collector that all motorists applying for their new plates make certain they have their car license receipt and title certificate with them. Mrs. Robinson also suggested that it would be a great convenience to motorists if they would utilize this week and next to buy their tags instead of waiting until the last possible moment to do so.

No Break In Acid Attack

HOUSTON, March 9 (AP)—Ranger Capt. Johnny Klevenhagen said today investigators are not near a solution in the acid attack on Dr. R. E. McMeans Jr., Conroe chiropractor.

"To say we haven't a lead wouldn't be right and to say we have a good lead wouldn't be right either," Klevenhagen said. "Actually we are seeking no specific suspect but rather checking out eight or 10 of them. But we are no where near a solution, I'm afraid."

Conroe Police Chief Eddie Stephan earlier had hinted the case might be nearing a solution.

"I think this thing is going to work out," said Stephan. "We are working on a new lead."

McMeans, a witness in the bribery charge involving former Rep. James Cox of Conroe, suffered burns of the left eye when he answered a buzzer at the back door of his clinic Tuesday night and received a shower of acid when he opened the door.

Klevenhagen, heading the case, was reported to have been working from dawn yesterday to the pre-dawn hours today on the case. Officers surmised the Ranger was following up a "hot" lead.

Surface Aided, But Subsoil Is Still Dry

COLLEGE STATION, March 9 (AP) — Showers improved surface moisture over Texas but in general subsoil moisture is insufficient, district farm agents said today.

"Optimistic" was the word used by several to describe the feeling of farmers and ranchers to Texas Extension Service Director G. G. Gibson.

Knox Parr from the Panhandle said, "rains of from 3/4 to 1 1/2 inches over the entire area have wet the soil deeper, sprouted more fall sown grain and cheered more people than just about any rain of this proportion in history."

More oats and barley will be sown in the area. Livestock will continue to need feeding for at least 60 days. Parr said more moisture will be needed during the spring. Snows fell as he reported.

From another drought area, the Trans-Pecos, Ray Siegmund said from Ft. Stockton:

"Surface moisture is now fair to good but subsoil moisture is poor. Weeds and grass were greening ranges but all cattle and most sheep and goats were being fed. Goat shearing was well under way. Irrigated small grains were making excellent growth and land was being prepared for cotton and other crops."

W. H. Jones at Lubbock reported topsoil moisture good. Subsoil moisture is still poor in dryland areas.

Vernon Young from San Angelo reported surface moisture is now fair in his area, but high north winds were drying it out. Small-grain pastures were helped by rains but livestock still was being fed. Goat shearing was in full swing and lambing under way.

Dates for the event are March 23-25 and the place is the high school auditorium. The Moody Institute of Science, a department of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, presents the program, and the local sponsor will be the Big Spring Pastors Association. No charge is made for admission, but a free will offering is taken. In almost every place that Sermons from Science has been offered, there have been turn-away crowds. In numerous instances, it has been necessary to schedule double performances.

Dr. George Speake, a former Navy flier, conducts the sermon-demonstrations and has more than a ton of complex scientific apparatus at his disposal. His equipment has been described as the largest portable laboratory in America. A few of the phenomena to be seen include passage of 1,000,000 volts of man-made lightning through a human body; cold light; solid metal floating through space; a suitcase with a mind of its own; frozen motion; a "snooper-scope" that can see in the dark. In other demonstrations, a "hellum voice" can be heard as well as the rush of molecules in iron; glass will be shattered with a cry; and a stammering machine will "perform."

The object of all this is to point up scientific marvels as manifestations of the power of God. Essentially, "Sermons from Science" are evangelical and are designed to reach persons not church or professing Christians.

Dolls Up For TV

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimorean Charley Eckman, coach of the Fort Wayne Pistons of the National Basketball Assn., was asked if he had made any "special changes" this season.

"Only one," Eckman replied. "When we play the televised game, I always wear a coat, white shirt and my only tie."

Meeting On Judaism

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—Leaders of all three branches of Judaism — orthodox, conservative and reform — will hold a two-day session here March 24 and 25 to explore "the current Jewish revival."

Proposed Zoning Changes Up For Hearings Monday

Three city areas will be considered for zoning changes at a public hearing Monday at 5:15 p.m.

The planning and zoning board tentatively okayed the changes at an earlier meeting, but the public hearing must be held to give surrounding property owners a chance to protest if they desire.

Largest of the areas would be upgraded to a D (multiple dwelling) zone from G and H zones (both business areas).

With the exception of three half blocks facing Highway 80, the area is bounded by the highway, Lakeview, Mesquite, and Hillcrest Streets. The half blocks will remain zoned G.

The two blocks west of North Goliad, from Ninth to 10th streets, are under consideration for changes. The area is now a B (two-resident dwelling) zone and would be changed to an E zone, which permits community businesses.

An area bounded by Donley, State, 20th and 21st, would be upgraded from B to A (one-party residence) zone.

Should the zoning board approve the changes, final decision will have to come from the city commission at its meeting Tuesday night.

Oklahoma Aggie Distance Stable

Assignments in the long relay races are handled for Oklahoma A&M by the above quartet. All will appear in the ABC Relays in Big Spring Friday and Saturday. Left to right, they are Tary Wilkison, Heddon, Okla.; Larry Graham, Indianapolis, Ind.; Paul Dickerson, Idabel, Okla.; and Reed Ferguson, Tulsa, Okla.

Cougars Bringing Mighty Sprint Relay Team Here

All public schools in Big Spring will be closed Friday afternoon in order that students can witness the first day of the 12th annual American Business Club Relays. Admission prices for the two-day meet have been set at 50 cents and $1 each day. However, students can gain admission for 25 cents if they purchase their tickets at school.

Adult tickets have gone on sale at John Dibrall's Sporting Goods, Vic Alexander's Jewelry Store, Lee Hanson's Men's Store, Tom Conway's Humble Service Station, Piggy-Wiggly and both of Lewis' 5 and 10 Cents stores.

Early demand for the tickets has been brisk, ABC officials report.

Houston — one of the entries in the university division of the local meet — was beaten in a triangular track and field show by the University of Texas recently.

However, the Cougars did have the satisfaction of beating the meet's other team, Texas A&M, for the first time in history.

Perhaps the Cougars' most impressive victory in the triangular was achieved by the 4x100 sprint relay team, which covered the distance in 41 seconds flat. The team is composed of Charles Gary, Jerry Beck, Tim Lundy and Jack Parrington, all of whom will compete here.

Houston also picked up five points in the 800-yard run, when Don Loadman ran a 1:57 to break the tape in front.

The Cougars' other first place was won by Leonard Penny in the two-mile. Penny was clocked in 9:48.1.

(John Macy, the famed two-miler, is a freshman at Houston, so was not eligible to compete in that event. He won the one-mile race in the freshman division in 4:13.4, however, a record for a first year runner.)

will be Clarence Miller, a West Texan. Miller hails from Crane. Miller was one of the few sophomores to take a first place in the Southwest Conference meet last spring. He cleared the bar at 6-feet-7 to outjump some of the best entries in the history of the conference.

Don Stewart, who cleared 6 feet 10 1/4 inches as an SMU freshman last spring, gives Miller much of the credit for the improvement made by Don.

In high school, Stewart had never cleared the bar at 6-3, but suddenly blossomed into the best freshman jumper in the country.

"Clarence taught me several things that aided me materially," Stewart says. "He especially stressed the importance of my being relaxed at all times."

Stewart, of course, will also participate in the ABC Relays.

Some of the outstanding junior college athletes in the country are scheduled to compete here.

Among them are Tommy Black and Freddy Stuart, both of HCJC; Charles Roberts, Blinn; Bruce Land, Cisco; Robert Wagner, Cisco; James Hyden, Arlington; James Morris, Cisco; C. W. Rowell, Arlington State; Tracy Byrd, Cisco; John Magee, Cisco; Dalton Hicks, Arlington; Santos Gonzalez, Blinn; David Webster, Arlington State; and Bob Reagan, Cisco.

Hyden won first place in the Border Olympics at Laredo this week-end with a leap of 21 feet 3/4 inches.

J. W. Mashburn, Oklahoma A&M's great runner, gets credit for having been on two United States Olympic teams, although he was an alternate on the 1952 team and did not run at Helsinki.

It was shortly after the '52 games that the big blond had a leg on the American mile relay team that won the world record in London, England. The mark (3:08.8) still stands.

J. W. is entered in five different events here.

Mashburn has won the NCAA 440-yard title the past two years, having been clocked in 46.6 in 1955 and 46.4 in 1956. (The world record is 45.5).

Mashburn's A&M school record for the 440 is 46.4, set in the NCAA meet at Berkeley, Calif., last year. His Missouri Valley mark for the distance is 46.9, set at Tulsa in 1955.

Oklahoma A&M has won the Missouri Valley team title in track and field for the last 16 straight years.

Coach Ralph Higgins is expecting the University of Houston to give the Cougars a lot of competition for the laurel this year, however.

feet from the pin. The stylish Australian then canned the shot for a birdie 2 on the 143-yard hole.

The 27-year-old Melbourne star, who won more than $20,000 in eight American tournaments last year, had seven birdies and two bogies over the route.

The leading scores: Peter Thomson 69-67-205; Art Wall Jr. 70-68-207; Marty Furgol 72-70-210; Walter Burkemo 71-71-211; Al Halding 72-72-212; Mike Fetchnick 69-75-213; Jo Whinnager 72-71-213; Paul O'Leary 68-73-213; Bud Hecker 70-74-214; Ed Furgol 69-73-214; Dow Finsterwald 70-71-214; Jay Hebert 72-70-215; Freddie Haas 74-69-215; Gene Litter 71-72-215; Bill Ogden 71-71-215; Doug Higgins 70-74-216; John Barnum 72-71-216; Derrell Hickok 71-74-216; Bob Keller 72-72-216; Gardner Dickinson Jr. 71-72-216.

LAREDO, Tex., March 9 (AP)—University of Houston won the Border Olympics Golf Tournament today and set a new record score in doing it.

The Cougars had 573 to beat out North Texas, the defending champion, by 15 strokes. The old record was set by Houston in 1955 when the Cougar four shot 577 in winning the title.

Frank Wharton, who was the tournament medalist with 140 for the 36 holes, led the Houston team to its smashing triumph. Wharton had 69 yesterday and 1-under-par 71 today.

The pros will be out to redeem themselves for last year's tournament when Texan Bert Weaver became the second amateur to win the event. Weaver hallooned to a two-over-par 73 on the final round, but finished one stroke in front of professionals Charley Harper of Columbus, Ga., and Howie Johnson of Dallas, Tex.

Weaver and Johnson have since joined the regular PGA tour in search of the big purses. They will not see action in the Gulf Coast this year since participation in three PGA events, other than the National Open, the Masters and the PGA, automatically bars a player.

The greying Harper, former Southeastern PGA champion, is back again and will be among the title favorites. Harper would have taken pro honors easily last year except for an almost incredible 9 on the 13th.

Miss Suggs, who won in 1946 and 1954 in addition to last year, and Peggy Kirk Bell of Southern Pines, N. C., 1949 Titleholders champion, also are entered.

Port Arthur, Smiley Win

By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—Port Arthur, Smiley of Houston, White Oak, Buna and Big Sandy of Dallardsville smashed to easy victories today to win division titles in the Schoolboy Basketball Tournament.

Here were the scores: Port Arthur, 67; Pampa, 51, in AAAA. Smiley, 52; Pecos, 35, in AAA. Buna, 74; Seminole, 45, in AA. White Oak, 66; McGregor, 51, in A. Big Sandy, 80; Meadow, 59, in B.

Feature moment for the three-day tourney came when Buna's great Don Stanley set an all-time tournament scoring record tonight with his 51st point with 30 seconds left.

Buna hit an outstanding 62 per cent of its shots but Stanley did even better, with 20 out of 27 from the field and 11 of 13 from the free throw line. It was Buna's third straight title, the first two in Class A.

In the concluding game, Lewis Qualls, 7 foot, 1/4 inch, sophomore center, bounded in 23 points on layups and criss to lead Smiley to the biggest upset of the meet.

Pecos, pre-tourney favorite, set a record it probably won't mention. Its total of 35 points was the lowest in AAA championship tournament play, breaking the low of 45 set by Gladewater in 1952.

Smiley jumped in front 10-2 at the quarter and 33-13 at the half as Qualls' 14 points outscored the Pecos total.

Stanley's total cracked the old mark of 59 set by Russell Boone of Sweeny in 1954.

Stanley made more points than the entire Seminole club and knocked out the conference AA one-game scoring record for the third time in the tournament. His brother, Pat Stanley, had broken the mark by one point with 36 Thursday. This was erased with 38 points yesterday by James Davis of Clear Creek.

It was the 66th straight win for Buna. More than 7,500 screaming fans begged Seminole to shoot to allow the magnificent Cougar all-star a chance to break the all-time mark. He dropped in two free throws with his 48th and 49th points with 1:30 minutes left and then could not get a clear shot again until the last half-minute.

Broussard and Franklin hit 22 points each and Sharp 14 although Sharp spent most of the time on the bench after getting his third personal in the first four minutes of the game.

It was the first state crown for the Yellow Jackets in three tries.

White Oak, with a starting lineup who also start in football, did not have much trouble with McGregor.

Burly David Alexander, 200 pounds of fury under the basket, pounded in 22 points to give the East Texans their second title in two visits to the annual tournament.

Big Sandy of Dallardsville, hitting 56 per cent of its shots, clubbed Meadow 80-59 for the Class B title.

McGregor led 11-7 early in the game then White Oak took over the lead for good 15-13 at the end of the first quarter. The rugged Roughnecks moved to a 29-19 half-time lead and in the third pulled in front by 16 points, 44-28. McGregor fought back when White Oak lost the range temporarily and with 5 1/2 minutes left Milton Bond added two free throws to close the gap to 42-46.

Oscar Williams, all-state selection, poured through 31 points, Eddie Celestine, bespectacled center, made 18 more for the Wildcats. The team entered the meet with a spotty record but pledged to win the big one for Mrs. Ford King, wife of their coach who died recently of cancer.

Highland Park of Dallas squeezed past Austin in Austin 63-62 for third place in Class AAAA. San Antonio Edison's 6-foot-4 inchers, Bill McLaughlin and Claude Feste, paced the Bears to an easy 75-45 victory for Class AAA consolation over Nacogdoches.

Odessa Bronchos cop first place in Snyder Relays

SNYDER, March 9 (SC)—The Odessa Bronchos won first place in the annual Canyon Reef Relays here Saturday, scoring 37 points to 25 for second place Snyder.

Three records went by the boards and two others were tied. Bud Morgan, Snyder, established a new mark in the 100-yard low hurdles, covering the distance in 19.6. The old mark was established by A. W. Hammock, Midland, who covered the distance in 20.8.

Powell Berry, Snyder, shattered the 120-yard high hurdles mark he held jointly with two others by negotiating the distance in 14.9. The old mark was 15.3 and was shared by Don Maynard, Colorado City, and Rex Wilson, Snyder. Wilson had tied the record in the morning preliminaries.

Finishing back of the two leaders were Colorado City, 13 points; Plainview, 11 1/2; Pampa, 9; Littlefield, 8; Tom S. Lubbock, 7; Monterey of Lubbock, 7; Lockney, 6; Post, 6; Dumas, 6; Coahoma, 5 1/2; Hermleigh, 5; Lamesa, 4 1/2; Hobbs, 4; Hale Center, 3; Tahoka, 2; Roby, 2; Sweetwater, 2; Stanton, 1; and Anton, 1/2.

In all, 28 schools competed in the games.

Lubbock Monterey established a new mark in the sprint relay, covering the 440 yards in 44 seconds flat. The Plainsmen failed to place in the finals, however, due to the fact that one of the runners dropped the baton. Monterey's team was composed of Don Hunt, Blair Cherry Jr., Bill McCauley and Reggie Alexander.

Odessa went on to win the sprint relay, one of six first places the Bronchos picked up.

Other blue ribbons won by the Red Hoses came in the mile relay, the pole vault, broad jump, discus and 440-yard run.

W. A. Kennedy copped the pole vault with a leap of 10' 8". Paul Thorpe had a broad jump of 20' 5 1/4". Jack Tavryin's winning discus throw was 153' 1 1/2" while Don DiShong captured the 440-yard run in 43.5.

Coahoma's points were picked up by its sprint medley team of Joe Hill, Bobby Myrick, Rickey Phinney and Don White. The event was won by Post in 3:30.4. The Bulldogs followed Post across the finish line. Billy Spears of Coahoma finished in a two-way tie for second with Ray Garrison of Plainview in the pole vault with a leap of 10' 4", the event won by Odessa's Kennedy.

Rodney DeNoon picked up Stanton's lone point in the high jump with a leap of 5' 9". Morris Light of Hermleigh won the event with a leap of six feet.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Track and field fans who watch the ABC Relays here next Saturday might mistake the University of Houston's John Macy for one of the student managers. . . . The ace distance runner for the Cougars weighs but 130 pounds. . . . Needless to relate, he carries no fat on his well-proportioned body. . . . Most of the Houston team was in Laredo for the Border Olympics yesterday. . . . Macy, however, was running in competition with Hungary's Laszlo Tabori up in Milwaukee. . . . Since he's only a freshman, he's not eligible for the varsity running events. . . . (He'll be running in an open two-mile race here). . . . Macy is 26 years of age and, in his time, he's been through a lot. . . . In his native Poland, Macy was made an army officer due to his ability as a runner. . . . For that reason, he lived in comparative luxury while most of his countrymen rubbed elbows with poverty. . . . John didn't like the life, however, so he made good his escape on one of his team's trips to Switzerland, at which time he checked into the American Embassy and asked for political asylum. . . . After coming to this country, he went to visit friends in Buffalo, N. Y. . . . Johnny Morris, the Houston track mentor, heard he had arrived in the U.S. and offered him a track scholarship, which he accepted. . . . Macy speaks broken English but he can make himself be understood. . . . In school, he is a freshman engineering student. . . . Max Truax of USC, one of Macy's opponents-to-be here, ran the 5,000-meter race in the Olympics at Melbourne. . . . He holds the American record for both that distance (14:22.8) and five miles (24:15). . . . He's done the two-mile in 9:01.5, the second fastest time ever recorded by an SC runner. . . . Earl Kaiser and Harold Lewis, who will accompany the University of Houston track team here, are also members of the Cougar football team.

Phil George May Go To Sul Ross

Sul Ross College, in the process of dismissing Lee Galloway, its cage mentor, now will probably try to bring in Phil George again. . . . George has done a tremendous job with the San Angelo College team this year. . . . The Rams enter the Regional tournament in Amarillo the coming week as overwhelming favorites to win and earn a trip to the National Juco tournament. . . . Phil might be in a mood to take the offer, since he loses all but two boys off this year's Rams team. . . . If he took the position, Sul Ross officials would expect him to bring most of the present Rams players with him. . . . George almost moved to Sul Ross last year. . . . Proceeds from the recent Midland High School intersquad football game amounted to $3,500. . . . All of the money goes into a fund to help pay medical expenses of Bill Mims, the fine athlete who was injured in a scrimmage with Big Spring in 1955. . . . W. Green, president of the Southwestern Baseball League, has revealed Pat McLaughlin, the El Paso operator, is no longer interested in the Mexican League and wants to enroll his club in the Southwestern circuit again. . . . Harold Davis, the HCJG cage mentor, has had his Jayhawk basketball teams in eight of the last ten Region V tournaments at Amarillo, an enviable record. . . . Davis missed his first year at the local school (1947-48) and again at the conclusion of the '55-56 season. . . . That year, the locals boasted a better won-lost record (17-11) than several of the contending teams but were passed over because they had to forfeit a game within Zone play. . . . The only loss the Snyder High School basketball team absorbed at home the past season was to Big Spring. . . . Dale Ethridge, the red-haired star of the Ropesville team that upset Merkel in the basketball playoff game here recently, is the son of the high school principal at Ropes. . . . The Sugar Bowl has distributed $3,500,495 to contending teams since it has been in operation.

'Texas in Review' Changed Plans

Credit Freedland Austin, Tom Conway and D. I. Bolding with talking Humble Oil Company officials into dispatching the 'Texas in Review' film crew over the filming of the upcoming ABC Relays. . . . Austin and Conway reside here while Bolding works in the Humble district office in Midland. . . . 'Texas in Review' gets dozens and dozens of calls weekly to film projects all over the state. . . . The crew had been committed to go elsewhere the weekend of March 15-16, when the local request was made. . . . The film team that will come here probably be headed by Joe Wilson. . . . Albert Oglesby, the Foxman athlete, finished in a tie for fourth place while high jumping for North Texas State College in the recent triangular track and field meet held in Denton. . . . Kansas State Teachers and Baylor were the other teams. . . . Oglesby's leap was measured over the state. . . . Baylor scored only 27 points in the meet, compared to 69 for North Texas and 65 for the Kansas team, so perhaps it is just as well the Bears passed up an invitation to take part in the ABC meet here. . . . The Bears obviously aren't as strong in track as they have been in the past. . . . The only first place the Bruins picked up in the Denton meet was by Ike Tension in the high hurdles, and he was clocked in 15.1. . . . Dale Littlefield, the Sweetwater lad, has come to the front so fast as a sprinter at the University of Texas he may run on some of the Longhorns' relay teams. . . . He's been clocked in 9.6 in the 100. . . . Recently, one of the college coaches which has entered a team in the ABC Relays was contacted by an official of the Southwestern Recreational Meet in Fort Worth, who wanted to know if it were true the team was coming out here. . . . When the mentor verified the report, the unhappy official tried to get him to change his mind. . . . One Fort Worth paper has refused to carry anything on the local meet.

Wanda Williams Rang Up 2,123 Points At Ackerly

ACKERLY, March 9 (SC) — A versatile and consistent girl is Wanda Williams, star of the 1956-57 Ackerly girls' basketball team. . . . In addition to winning four letters in the cage sport, Wanda earned as many numerals in volleyball. . . . An A student, the 5-foot-6 senior recently was chosen as the best all-around girl in high school by the faculty. . . . She not only is an accomplished pianist, she teaches it to younger students as well. . . . In her 12th year of attending school, Wanda has yet to miss a day of classes. . . . Despite all her other activities, Wanda finds time to work in the school offices. . . . She is the eldest of three daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Coville Williams. Her father farms near here. Merline Williams, her mother, cooks in the school lunch room. . . . The family moved here from the Flower Grove community when Wanda was in the lower grades. . . . Wanda scored a total of 2,123 points in four years of basketball for Ackerly High School. That school record may stand for many years to come. It averages out to 20.5 points a game for 103 games. . . . An all-district selection all four years, Wanda was also named to all-tournament teams on nine different occasions. . . . Her best single game effort came against Flower Grove last year, when she bucketed 46 points. . . . In her last season of competition, Wanda averaged 24 points a game. . . . She is also one of the school's top spikers in volleyball and won all-tournament honors in a meet at Odessa last year. . . . Her sister, Dorothy, has already won two varsity basketball letters although she is only a sophomore. . . . Dot averaged 18 points a game the past season. . . . The youngest of the Williams sisters, Shirley, is in the Eighth WANDA WILLIAMS grade, and was a regular on the Junior High School. She scored at a 14-point clip per game.

Young Dean Quits School For Pros

BRADENTON, Fla., March 9 (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves announced today that scout Earl Halstead has signed Paul Dean Jr., Dallas, Tex., to a 1957 Wichita contract in the American Assn. . . . Dean is the son of Paul (Duffy) Dean and the nephew of Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, pitching stars of the St. Louis Cardinals' Gas House Gang. The young Dean also is a pitcher. He bats and throws right-handed. . . . It was reported scouts of all 16 major league teams sought the youngster. . . . Dean, who has been attending Southern Methodist University, will report sometime next week to the Wichita club's training camp at Jacksonville, Fla.

A Topper For The Top Entry George McAllister (left) and Vic Alexander are shown with the life-size Texas-style sterling silver bat, which will go to the winning team in the university division of the ABC Relays here Friday and Saturday. McAllister is director of the meet. Alexander donated the award, valued at between $600 and $700. The bat reposes on a red-velvet pillow in a black-walnut box.

BROOKS TO HAVE IT ROUGH Managers Predict Yankees And Dodgers Will Repeat

By JOE REICHLER ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 9 (AP) — The 1957 World Series will be played precisely where it was played in 1956 — at Ebbets Field and Yankee Stadium — according to the consensus of major league managers. . . . In an early-spring poll of big league pilots, those who should know best picked Brooklyn and New York to repeat as pennant winners. They chose the Yankees to again whip the Dodgers in the October classic. . . . They predicted an even easier triumph last year for the Yankees but figured the Dodgers would encounter stiff opposition from Milwaukee, Cincinnati and St. Louis. . . . Having ventured this far in the prediction field, the pseudo-prophets polished up their crystal balls and decided to go whole hog. They said Mickey Mantle of the Yankees and Hank Aaron of the Braves would repeat as batting champions, that Mantle would again win the American League's home run title but would be beaten out for the runs-batted-in title by his Yankee teammate, Yogi Berra. . . . The musing musings also tabbed Ted Kluszewski to dethrone Duke Snider as the National League's home run king and Stan Musial as the runs-batted-in champion. . . . Turning to pitching, soothingly skippers selected five pitchers as most likely to win 20 or more games, three in the American League and two in the National. They are Whitey Ford of the Yankees, Herb Score of Cleveland, Frank Lary of Detroit, Don Newcombe of Brooklyn and Bob Friend of Pittsburgh. All but Ford (19-6) and Friend (17-17) were 20-game winners last year when nine pitchers entered the charmed circle. . . . The "experts" predicted comebacks for such players as Eddie Matthews and Gene Conley, Braves; Roy Campanella, Dodgers; Bob Turley, Yankees; Bobby Avila, Indians, and Bob Speake, Cubs. But they were doubtful whether such favorites as Sal Maglie, Warren Spahn, Bob Lemon, Don Larsen, Ed Bailey, Dale Long and Brooks Lawrence could retain their '56 form. . . . They said the players to watch in '57 would be Herb Score of Cleveland, Ken Boyer and Hal Smith of St. Louis, Stan Lopata of Philadelphia, Harvey Kuenn of Detroit, Moe Drabowsky of Chicago Cubs, Ronnie Kline of Pittsburgh and Paul Foytack of Detroit. . . . The line-up consisted of Krebs and Bobby Mills of SMU, Jerry Mallett of Baylor, Ray Downs of Texas and Temple Tucker of Rice. It was selected by coaches of the seven teams in the conference and 13 sports writers who regularly covered the games. . . . The Steers have been handicapped by bad weather and have had little time to work out. . . . Little is known of the Plainview club here, other than that it is coached by Good Graves, who grew up here. . . . After Tuesday, the Longhorns will be off until Tuesday, March 19, when they visit Andrews. . . . They see their next home action Saturday, March 23, at which time they host Snyder in a double header. . . . Baird has lined up seven practice games for the Bovines, prior to the start of conference play.

Flight Line Base Champs

Lt. Donald Colwell dropped in a field goal in the final 15 seconds to enable the 61st Flight Line Maintenance team to down Support Squadron, 35-33, in the finals of the Webb basketball tourney the past week. . . . The top eight teams of the seasonal league qualified for the tourney. Eleven teams competed in the league. . . . In the title game, Support opened up in the first period and at one time held a 10-point lead. The lead was cut to three points, 19-16, at the half however. . . . Only for one minute in the third period and then the last 15 seconds did 61st hold the lead. . . . The game terminated the eight-team double elimination meet and gave 61st the base crown. . . . During the regular season, 61st finished first in league competition, and Support was second. Oth- er teams playing in the tourney and their finish in the league play were Section III, third; Section I, fourth; Hospital and M&S Squadron, tie for fifth and sixth; Wing, seventh, and 60th Flight Line, eighth. . . . Food Service finished ninth, Field Maintenance, 10th, and AACSS 11th, but they did not compete in the tournament. . . . Lt. Colwell, in addition to sinking the winning goal, led the championship game in scoring, with 15 points. Sgt. Jeff Sewell had 13 for 61st, while Sweeney scored the same number for Support.

Baird Can Go With Vets At 7 Positions Tuesday

Coach Roy Baird can place veterans in seven positions when the Big Spring Steers take the field against Plainview in their inaugural baseball game of the season at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. . . . The fight for two infield positions is yet to be settled. Right now, it appears Jimmy Whitefield will be at second base and Jackie Thomas at third. Neither has any varsity experience. . . . Baird will probably start Rickey Terry behind the plate, George Peacock at first base, Preston Daniels at shortstop, Billy Johnson in left field, Jerry McMahan in center and Glenn Whittington in right. . . . Strapping Billy Bluhm is apt to get the call as the starting hurler. Bobby Suggs, a letterman, and Chubby Moser, a very promising left-hander, will be available to relief mound chores, along with Ken Johnson, Danny Birdwell and others. . . . Bernard McMahan probably would have fitted into the picture at second base but he injured his ankle recently and was on crutches the latter part of the week. . . . The Steers have been handicapped by bad weather and have had little time to work out. . . . Little is known of the Plainview club here, other than that it is coached by Good Graves, who grew up here. . . . After Tuesday, the Longhorns will be off until Tuesday, March 19, when they visit Andrews. . . . They see their next home action Saturday, March 23, at which time they host Snyder in a double header. . . . Baird has lined up seven practice games for the Bovines, prior to the start of conference play.

It was selected by coaches of the seven teams in the conference and 13 sports writers who regularly covered the games. . . . ## Waco Fishermen Are Most Lucky

By EARL GOLDING Waco Tribune-Herald Staff Written For The Associated Press AUSTIN, March 9 (AP) — Bass fishermen around Austin know how lucky they are, and they tell the rest of Texas about it. . . . They have one lake within the city limits, and from there a 150-mile stairway of lakes progresses which has become justly famous. . . . All of the six lakes, at one time or another, have attracted individual raves of Capitol City fishermen. . . . They've been on the bandwagon of Lakes Austin, Travis, Marble Falls, Granite Shoals, Inks and Buchanan. . . . The current raves are all going to Granite Shoals, No. 4 in the chain, and at the present offering of 20 miles of water populated by vicious fish. . . . That's the way some of the regulars here refer to them. Like Johnny Brennan, a fellow who admits he sometimes spends "about as much time fishing as working." . . . During a recent hot stretch on Granite, Brennan fished 7 out of 2 days, and he came away convinced he's seldom seen better fishing. . . . Brennan said, "and I've never seen any fish as vicious as those in Granite. They'll knock the rod out of your hands when they hit." . . . Catching bass has been so easy that a lot of fishermen leave the lake after a half day of plugging. . . . "I've averaged six fish a day in the past six days," Brennan says, "and I usually leave before noon. The good part of it is the size, though. Believe it or not, on 5 out of those 6 days, I didn't have a fish under 2 pounds. There are more big bass in that lake than any I've seen."

Busby Points For Comeback

TUCSON, Ariz., March 9 (AP) — Jim Busby has no intention of becoming the forgotten man of the Cleveland Indians. . . . Two bad years with the bat have cut his salary and endangered his spot in center field, to say nothing of what it has done to the hitting shy Indians' pennant hopes. . . . For two years they have finished a frustrating second to the New York Yankees — and the fault probably wasn't with the Tribe's brilliant pitching staff. . . . Busby is convinced his troubles are over, and if he can regain his power at the bat, Cleveland may be a serious contender against those seemingly invincible Yankees. . . . "I'm going to play somewhere," he said. "I signed to play. Nobody wants to sit on the bench. You can't make money there. I had to win this position once and I want to keep it." . . . The 30-year-old former Texas Christian football star came to the Tribe with Chico Carrasquel in the trade that sent Larry Doby to the Chicago White Sox. Last year he hit .233 in 135 games for Cleveland, his poorest showing.

Keeneland Opens Season April 11

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 9 (AP) — Stakes and purses totaling $321,500 will be offered in Keeneland's 11-day spring races April 11-25. . . . The principal stakes are the $25,000-added Kentucky Derby prep 10 days before the May 4 Louisville classic. . . . The $15,000-added Ashland Stakes, a testing ground for the Kentucky Oaks. . . . The other stakes are the $10,000 Lafayette for 2-year-olds; $10,000 Phoenix Handicap and $10,000 Ben All Handicap, each for 3-year-olds and older horses.

Wayland Plays Hamline Team

KANSAS CITY, March 9 (AP) — The Pacific Lutheran College "Lutes" of Parkland, Wash., today were top seeded for the 19th annual National Intercollegiate (NAIA) Basketball Tournament opening in Municipal Auditorium Monday. . . . Pacific Lutheran enters the 32-team six-day cage marathon with a 25-1 regular season record. Two of their victories were over Seattle's AAU championship teams. . . . The other seeded teams in order are Youngstown (Ohio) University (19-3), West Virginia Tech (31-2), Western Illinois (21-2), Portland (Ore.) University (17-11), Hamline University (19-3), Southeastern Oklahoma State (22-5) and Texas Southern (31-1). . . . The firing opens at noon (EST) Monday with Eastern Illinois State of Charleston, which had a 12-11 season record, meeting Highlands University of Las Vegas, N.M., (18-3). Three afternoon and four night games follow. . . . The Monday program will feature games between Hamline, seeking its fourth national title, and Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., at 7 p.m. (EST); and Texas Southern, beaten by McNeese State of Lake Charles, La., in the finals last year, and New Haven (Conn.) State at 8:30. Southwest Texas State plays Upper Iowa Monday. . . . The field includes teams from 28 states. Texas has three entries, Tennessee and Illinois two each.

Ex - Big Springer Seeks Job With NY Giants

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

From 42-year-old Ellis Kinder, an established big league pitcher, to a 36-year-old rookie, Fernando Rodriguez, major league baseball training camps this spring are sprinkled with players past 35.

Next in the age line are Enos Slaughter of the New York Yankees and Murry Dickson of St. Louis, both 40 years old, and Sal Maglie of Brooklyn, 39. Slaughter played in 115 games last season plus six in the outfield in the World Series. Dickson won 13 games and lost 11 in 1956 while Maglie, of course, made one of the outstanding comebacks, winning 13 games, including a no-hitter. The White Sox have four others in the "old age" category. Pitcher Gerry Staley and outfielders Ron Northey and Dave Philley are 36 while Jim Wilson, another hurler, is 35. Wilson won 13 games in 1956 while Staley collected eight triumphs.

LETTERS

Thinks Teachers Are Due More Pay

In reference to your editorial "We Thank Teachers So Much" in the February 7, 1957, issue of your paper. This letter is not necessarily to your paper, but to the citizens of Big Spring.

Your editorial was giving past due recognition to the public school teachers of Big Spring. These parties honoring teachers are quite common throughout the entire country. It seems that everyone from John Doe to right on down the line are always handy with a hand shake or a pat on the back for a teacher, but let same teacher approach John Doe with the suggestion that the teacher's wages be raised, then John Doe isn't so friendly.

I noticed that just recently the city council didn't dilly-dally around too long in giving themselves a pay raise. But this same city council, if the proposition were to be put before them to raise public school teacher's wages, would come off with the old hat story of "Why we just gave them a raise here awhile back."

I wonder how many citizens of Big Spring realize that the men just starting to work at Cosden Oil Refinery make larger wages than beginning public school teachers. When a man begins working at Cosden, he does such jobs as digging ditches, cleaning skills, working on the pipe gang and any other type of job that could be classified as common labor, yet these men make more money than public school teachers. Do not get me wrong. I am NOT degrading the "yard" men at Cosden as my father did the same work for 12 years with The Texas Company. My point is, that while these men do an important job as do the city council, neither has the great responsibility as that of a public school teacher. That responsibility of educating our nation's youth.

The reaction of many people to the raising of teacher's salaries is "Well, they have an easy job, just sitting in a class room all day and keep the kids from fighting." This is a medieval way of thinking. Most teachers take their jobs very seriously and this responsibility is a heavy burden.

The citizens of Big Spring and every community should be presented with facts of just how much responsibility a public school teacher has, how many times public school teachers are unjustly criticized, and how much public school teachers are underpaid in accordance with the responsibility they have.

This unjust criticism that I speak of should be explained in more detail. Teachers have the job of forming a child's mind and not only must they present the studies for students to learn, they must cause an incentive for the students to learn these studies. An argument at this point is that there are teachers who do nothing but put the books in front of students and do not help them to learn. The people that use this argument are the same people who go to the polls and re-elect "crooked politicians" and think nothing of having their tax dollars stolen.

I write this to you because you and all newspapers are in a position to bring these facts to all the people. It is a condition that the citizens of Big Spring need to be riled up about. They need to realize that a community that pays decent and better wages attracts a better class of teacher.

I also write this letter in part selfishly as I taught school for one semester before entering the Air Force and upon release from the Air Force in June of this year will return to the teaching field.

I wish to thank you for your time in reading this letter and I hope that you and your newspaper can realize this deplorable situation and will present it to your readers.

Frankie D. Chilton
1522-A Virginia

(County commissioners, not the city councilmen, voted themselves a pay raise recently. Neither the county nor city officials have anything to do with adjustment of teacher salaries.—Ed.)

Ex-Leader Of Free Russia Foresees Day Of Liberation

By LEIF ERICKSON
PALO ALTO, Calif., March 9 (AP)—Alexander Kerensky, who headed the one short-lived democratic government Russia has known in a long history of despotism, believes today that liberation of the people of Russia from Communist distatorship is inevitable.

When liberation is achieved, Kerensky says with earnest conviction, any "menace of a new world conflagration of nuclear war will disappear."

Forty years ago, on March 12, 1917, the people of Russia rose in spontaneous revolt — without much plan, or organization — and overthrew Czar Nicholas II.

Kerensky, now 76, is the sole survivor of the provisional government that took over after Nicholas

II's abdication ended Romanov rule.

Kerensky's regime died a scant eight months later in Nikolai Lenin's seizure of power with the Communists on Nov. 7, 1917. Lenin was supported by Bolsheviks like Josef Stalin, Leon Trotsky and V. M. Molotov, invited by Kerensky's government to return from Czar-imposed exile.

Kerensky has been in exile from his homeland from the time the Communists took and consolidated control, most of 40 years.

Kerensky said he believes the present Kremlin team of Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin is an "interim leadership."

"This interim Kremlin leadership is under pressure from a new middle class that wants a regime of law, of personal security," Kerensky said.

"But also there is a larger pressure. Instinctively or consciously, the people of the Soviet Union are beginning to move in the direction of their traditional political goals — to turn from absolutist power to a democratic regime based on social justice and the political rights of the human being."

"The spine of the terror regime has been broken. To restore the totalitarian regime as it existed until Stalin's death in 1953 is impossible."

Murals Uncovered

FERRARA, Italy, March 9 (AP)—Two murals attributed by experts to the 19th Century painter Il Garofalo have been uncovered in restoration of the Conception Chapel here. They show episodes in the life of Jesus and Old Testament scenes. The painter's real name was Benvenuto Isi.

Wesson Baby's Funeral Held

Graveside rites were held at 9 a.m. Saturday for Chereil Ann Wesson, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Wesson. The baby died Thursday night shortly after birth.

The Rev. Cecil Rhodes conducted the services and Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements at Trinity Memorial Park.

Besides the parents, other survivors include a brother, Robert Earl Wesson; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wesson, and the maternal grandfather, J. B. Jackson, all of Austin.

OFF TO A GOOD START in the Girl Scout cookie sale are Brownie Carlo B. O'Neal, at left, and Girl Scout Gloria Jean Smith. Probably hoping for a sale, they give Bill Sheppard a sample. Proceeds from the sale of the cookies in this area will go to the fund for the scout camp near Sweetwater, Boothe Oaks. Cookies, boxed especially for the scouts, are sold during the birthday week of the organization.

TYPICAL GIRL SCOUT FAMILY is this one of M-Sgt. and Mrs. William J. Mason, 1306 Michael, who seem to be settling a controversy over some point in scout training. DeAnn is a first class scout; her mother is a troop leader, and her father is a member-at-large of the local council. He was a great help when the scouts were making jewelry boxes for patients at the State Hospital as one of their Christmas projects. Using a spray gun, he covered the cigar boxes they used with gay colors in preparation for their decorating; he is on hand for any assistance at the day camp held each summer, and according to Mrs. Mason, seems to be a trouble-shooter for any of the troops.

FIRST AID "VICTIM" is Margaret York, who is being given treatment for a broken arm and a sprained ankle. Judith Thomas shows the correct way to adjust a shoulder sling, while Carolyn Lewis works on an ankle bandage. First aid courses are a part of the training of Girl Scouts and upon completion of the course, each girl is awarded a badge. Members of the only troop in Junior High School, the three are first class scouts. A court of awards is planned for some time this spring, when badges and honors will be given to the scouts.

ROUND-UP MEMORIES are revived as Helen Gray, at left, and Nancy Cunningham show pictures taken at the Senior Scout Round-Up to Mrs. James C. Tonn. The two senior scouts attended the round-up last summer in Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Tonn, formerly of England, was a member of the Girl Guides, an organization which corresponds to the Girl Scouts in this country. She recently met with a Brownie troop to tell them of the work of the English groups.

PUPPETS ARE FUN to make and to show, as the Girl Scouts pictured at right can tell you. Making the puppets as one of their projects during the scout meetings, the puppeteers presented the show to their teammates in Troop Eight. Two Brownie troops were guests when the play was presented. Based on the book, "Big Spring" by Shine Philips, the production included, from left to right, Chief Blue Feather (Made-lyn Cuipepper), Mrs. Philips (Kay Foster), and, with a real West Texas tan, the author, presented by Judy Jones.

Today She Is

Mrs. Roy F. Layton, national president of the Girl Scouts, was not permitted to be a Girl Scout when she was a little girl; her parents thought hiking and outdoor activities were unsuitable. Today, many parents consider scouting a "must" for their daughters.

Landscaping Makes Highways Safer

Landscaping and planting of roadsides to make them safer, quieter and more beautiful is favored by practically all motorists, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Roadside plantings, while beautiful, also should be functional in purpose, it is said. Properly planned plantings screen out noise and dust and other distractions, deaden traffic noises, make highways quieter.

Planted dividing strips between opposing traffic lanes cut down glare and serve as directional guides. Certain types of shrubs can serve as soft landings for cars going off the road on dangerous stretches or curves. Shrubs and trees in many cases can prevent landslides and falling rocks, as well as erosion and its consequent damage and unsightliness.

Orange Sauce Is Tasty Surprise

This delicious dessert sauce may be used many other ways besides the one specified.

ORANGE SAUCE

Ingredients:
One tablespoon cornstarch, ½ cup sugar, dash of salt, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 cup orange juice.

Method:
Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt together thoroughly in 1 - quart saucepan. Add grated orange rind. Gradually add orange juice, stirring after each addition until smooth. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened, clear and boiling. Stir and cook a few minutes longer. Makes about 1½ cups sauce. Serve warm over slices of angelfood cake and top with whipped cream if desired.

Note:
The angelfood cake may be made from a packaged mix and baked in one of the new square angelfood cake pans for easy slicing.

Brother Was Handy

Scouting for girls started because girls in England borrowed their brothers' scout handbooks and uniforms. When Lord Baden-Powell discovered what was going on, he wrote the first scout handbook for girls. A few months later, with this handbook, Juliette Gordon Low of Savannah, Ga., started the Girl Scout movement in the United States. She was more than 50 years old when she started the work.

Molasses Sauce

Make this delicious topping, molasses chip sauce, for hot gingerbread. Whip one cup heavy cream until stiff. Add a few grains of salt and ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract. Fold in 2 tablespoons molasses and 1-3 cup chopped, semi-sweet chocolate. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

BRIDAL GOWN

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original floor-length gown of white imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over net and taffeta. The scalloped mandarin neckline had a sheer tulle yoke, which was appliqued with lace encrusted with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The fitted bodice came to points in the front and back; fastening at the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The bouffant tulle skirt featured matching lace appliques. Long light sleeves tapered at the hands and were trimmed with tiny buttons.

A fingertip veil of French imported illusion was attached to a headress of pearlized orange blossoms and iridescent sequins.

In keeping with bridal customs, the bride carried an heirloom lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. I. P. Kennedy, grandmother of the bridegroom. A gold wedding ring belonging to Mrs. J. P. Cauble, grandmother of the bride, was worn as something old. She wore a blue garter, a gift from a college roommate, Mrs. Jim Porter. A lucky penny with her birthdate on it was a gift from Ross Hill. Her bridal gown was new.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and lace leaves to match the gown. This was centered with blush pink sweetheart roses and pink tulle.

Lou Ann Nall served as maid of honor with Mrs. Ray Horton Shaw and Jeannine Cauble, cousins of the bride, acting as bridesmaids.

They were attired in identical dresses of aqua polished cotton fashioned with princess lines. The V-necklines extended into brief sleeves. Short mitts were worn. Aqua velvet Juliet caps matched the ensembles.

Nosegay arrangements of pink carnations and tulle made their bouquets.

Kay Stephens was flower girl. Her dress was of white net and taffeta styled as of the bride. She wore a wristlet corsage of

Girl Scout Week Begins Today With Troops Attending Church

Local Girl Scouts joined about 2,100 others Friday in the sale of cookies, a nationwide activity during Girl Scout Week, which officially begins today.

Purpose of the sale in this area is to raise funds for the Scout camp, Bothe Oaks, near Sweetwater. Purpose of the week is to celebrate the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of the USA, March 12, by Juliette Low in Savannah, Ga.

Theme for the week is "Scouting Is A Family Affair," and activities during the week are planned to emphasize this.

Today, girls will attend various churches in a body if possible; all will wear their uniforms. Monday has been designated as Homemaking Day; Tuesday is Citizenship Day; Wednesday is set aside for Health and Safety Day, and Thursday for International Friendship Day. Arts and Crafts are scheduled for Friday, and Saturday is slated as Out-of-doors Day.

Local troops, of which there are 56, have various projects during the year. Some have been having nature study; Brownies are working on preparations for their fly-up ceremony, when they will become scouts; the troop in Junior High School has completed the First Aid course. Mrs. William J. Mason was the instructor.

One group of scouts has been working on international friendships, with speakers from different countries invited to talk to them at their meetings. Scout uniforms of 39 nations have been studied by this troop through the use of paper dolls made especially for such work.

There are 503 girls in the local organization, with 108 leaders to work with them.

Last year at Christmas, Girl Scout troops made jewelry boxes of cigar boxes and presented them to the patients at the State Hospital. After the boxes were sprayed with colors, they were decorated in various ways by the girls at their meetings.

Another project, which was completed at the same season, was the assistance given the local fireman with their gifts for the needy children of the town. Girl Scouts made clothing for the dolls which were bought and distributed by the firemen.

Special efforts will be made during the week to underscore the importance of men working with their wives and daughters in the Girl Scout organization as members, supporters and friends of scouting.

HI--TALK

By CAROL ROGERS

Especially well known around BSHS for his droll sense of humor is Senior-Of-The-Week Tommy Pickle. Recently chosen as a Scout Who's Who representative, Tommy has had major parts in several of the all school plays, including "Outward Bound," "Dear Ruth," and most recently, "Harvey." Tommy has been active in both Hi Y and the Boy Scouts organizations during his high school career. He is now serving as treasurer of the Key Club.

TOMMY PICKLE

Rating among the highest in the senior class scholastically, Tommy was outstanding student in algebra his sophomore year and was one of the seniors chosen to take the National Merit Scholarship tests. Tommy is a member of the First Baptist Church and participates in many of its activities.

Finding out what life will be like next year is Jacqueline Smith. She and her family are visiting in Waco this weekend and looking over the Baylor campus. They also are finding time to visit relatives during the trip.

Another BSHS student expressing interest in life at Baylor is Judy Reagan. Judy, with her parents, is visiting her sister, Frances.

The Forum will hold its Roman Banquet in the high school cafeteria Thursday, which will be the day before the Ides of March. The guests, in full Roman costume, will represent Roman citizens, slaves, gods and goddesses. The entertainment will include Latin songs, and the menu will feature Roman dishes.

Trial drag runs will be held Sunday afternoon at Webb Air Force Base. The drag, sponsored by the Big Spring Timing Association, will not be open to the public, but will feature the best timing equipment in Texas.

The regular routine around school, was changed somewhat last week, due to Public Education Week and the teachers' meeting in Lubbock. Schedules were altered the first four days, adjourning school thirty minutes early, and we enjoyed a holiday Friday, while the teachers attended the Lubbock meeting.

Much thought was given to the true meaning of the American way of life this week as students finished themes entitled, "How I May Assist in the Preservation of the American Way of Life." The contest offers a $1,000 scholarship to some lucky Texas senior.

Several members of the local FTA chapter attended the district meeting in Denton this weekend. Some of those making the trip were Terrel Turner, Patsy Potter, Melva Turner, Kay Coleman, Camille Hedley, and Miss Tommy Hill, the sponsor of the group. They will return today.

City HD Club Hears Account Of 4-H Work

The City Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. W. T. Stewart Friday afternoon to hear an explanation of 4-H Club work. Elizabeth Pace, HD agent, was the speaker, and she stressed the need for adults as leaders for the groups.

Roll call was answered by members telling of some condition in their homes that might cause accidents. The group voted to accept the recommendations for receiving the THDA pin.

Members also voted to sell black pepper and vanilla as a money-making project.

Miss Pace gave suggestions on preparation for parties, stressing the fact that two P's stand for preparation and planning. "W", she told the group, stands for welcome and not wealth.

Whether the party is large or small, the speaker told her listeners, the guests are of first importance and the refreshments are second.

The HD agent demonstrated the making of cinnamon orange bread, from the following recipe:

Remodeling House Has Advantages

If you and your family are in the "wondering" stage about a house — wondering whether to buy a new one or keep the old one — remodeling may be the answer.

There are many advantages to remodeling an old home, but the two principal ones that are important to almost every family are:

1. Economy. Remodeling often can give an old home most of the modern living features of a new house at a cost that's frequently less than the cost of buying or building.
2. Friends and neighborhood. Modernizing an old house lets a family stay among the friends and familiar surroundings. Children don't have to be introduced to a strange new school.

WHERE'S THE APPLE? ... fun for the Foldens

Foldens Disprove Old R. Kipling Quotation

"East is east and West is west," but as far as Kipling is concerned the 'twain' did meet and for a very happy relationship!

Lt. Norman (Skip) Folden, from San Francisco, Calif., probably never guessed that he'd met a pretty dark-haired girl from Yonkers, N. Y., and that she'd become his bride!

But this is the case of the Foldens, who are only three-week residents of Big Spring. The couple met when the lieutenant was attending West Point, of which he is a graduate.

The Foldens came to Big Spring and Webb AFB via an eight-month station at Moore AFB in Mission. They were sent to Mission last June after their marriage and his call to active military duty.

All types of outdoor activities appeal to the Foldens. Their most recently acquired hobby is archery. "We only like target shooting," Mrs. Folden explained, "because we certainly don't enjoy killing animals."

Mrs. Folden believes that the beautiful Texas weather will be just perfect for another hobby which they both enjoy very much— who's to argue that it's perfect tennis weather!

When the weather doesn't permit outdoor action, the Foldens are content to participate in any kind of table games—from Clue (a very complicated mystery game) to chess.

As most pilots, Lt. Folden likes to build and collect model airplanes.

The Foldens are making a home at 104 West 8th.

HD Council To Ask For 1958 Meeting

The Howard County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs will invite District Two HD Clubs to hold the 1958 meeting in Big Spring. This has been announced by the council.

The 1957 meeting of the district is set for March 27 in Levelland. Registration will begin at 9:15 a.m. in the County Fair Building. Luncheon reservations, at $1.50 may be made with Mrs. Hugh Elledge, Box 578, Sundown. Deadline for reservations is March 20. Members attending from Howard County will wear badges designed by the Vealmoor HD Club.

Any way you look at it!

At first glance, this may seem to be a strange point of view. But it is true that sometimes you can save a lot of money by spending just a little. When illness strikes, don't "economize" with home remedies. Call on your Doctor promptly. Let him get you back on the Road to Recovery. And, of course, bring his prescriptions here for careful compounding by an experienced, competent pharmacist.

Girl Scout Troop Six Tours TV Station

A tour of KEDY-TV was given Girl Scout Troop Six when they met Friday afternoon. Bob Lindsey, program director, explained to the girls the operations of a station. This tour was in conjunction with earning the Scout radio and TV badge.

Following the tour the group went to the home of Mrs. R. O. Smith, where Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Edward Brumley served refreshments.

Stanton Scouts Will Mark National Week

STANTON—Stanton Girl Scouts will join in the celebration of National Girl Scout Week, March 10-18.

Several events are planned for the week's celebration, with troops attending churches as groups today.

Mrs. G. A. Bridges has been a hospital patient for a week but is now at her home.

Mrs. Billy Avery has been released from Malone-Hogan Hospital in Big Spring.

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

FLATTERING DRAPERY

Skirt With Bustle Bow Gives Interest To Dress

Nobody, but nobody, can handle bosom drapery with the finesse of Ceil Chapman, and in this model, there is the extra added attraction of a beautifully manipulated skirt.

The wide neckline is swathed in a series of bias folds that cross over the shoulders and melt into the set-in sleeves, covered with uneven pleats.

The skirt bells out in front in a smooth line and then is pulled up in back into an enormous bustle bow over a deep inverted pleat. Smack in the middle of the bustle is a full blooming rose.

All these couturier details are easy to achieve with professional results, thanks to the only perforated pattern available which uses designers' retail sizing. This means less alterations and better fit. Choose cotton or silk, but be certain the fabric has body to make the most of the back treatment.

From this chart select the one size best for you:
Size 10 bust 34, waist 24, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches. Size 12 bust 35, waist 25, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16 3/4 inches. Size 14 bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches. Size 16 bust 38, waist 28, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/4 inches. Size 18 bust 40, waist 30, hips 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 3/4 inches.

This Casserole Is Southern Style

A Southern-style casserole makes a satisfying main dish.

RICE AND CORN CUSTARD

Ingredients:
One and one-third cups water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup rice, 1 1/2 cups cream-style corn, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs (slightly beaten), 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped, canned pimiento.

Method:
Put water, 1/2 teaspoon salt and rice into a 2-quart saucepan; bring to a vigorous boil. Turn heat as low as possible. Cover and cook until rice is tender; if water has not all evaporated by time rice is cooked, drain it off. If water evaporated before rice is cooked through, sprinkle rice with a couple tablespoons hot water and continue cooking. Add water in this way as needed. Mix rice, corn, milk, eggs, salt, pepper and pimiento. Turn into a 2-quart baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 1 hour or until a knife blade comes out clean when inserted near center. Serve at once. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Chance Meeting 50 Years Ago Led To Wedding Anniversary Today

MR. AND MRS. W. F. HECKLER
... to be honored at open house

"The first time I saw Fritz was when he came to our house to see my father," remarked Mrs. W. F. Heckler, and her husband continued with "But she was the one I saw!" The result is a 50th wedding anniversary celebration this afternoon!

That was "way back, earlier than 1907," near Winters, when the two families lived as neighbors. Fritz "saw" her, the former Annie Matthies, again at a party. This time, he sent Annie's brother ahead on his horse and he and Annie walked to her home—"just a matter of three miles, and no distance at all in those days," according to the couple. (Lore does add "wings to your heels!")

Both families moved to Howard County in 1906, and on March 7, 1907, Annie became the bride of Fritz in the home of her parents, near Luther, L. A. Dale, a minister of the Church of Christ and also a justice of the peace, read the wedding vows.

Neighbors and friends from a wide area attended the wedding, and some of them are expected for the open house set for this afternoon from 2 to 5, in the Heckler home, seven miles north of Coahoma.

Host couples for the party are some of their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Engle, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Baugh, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Harrington, Mrs. Leland Wallace, Mrs. Johnnie Harrington, Mrs. Gertrude Lowe and Mrs. Charles Engle.

Guests will register in a gold and white engraved wedding anniversary book, a gift to the couple from Clyde Waits. Napkins, too, will be engraved in gold with the names, Annie and Fritz.

Yellow candles in crystal holders will combine with an arrangement of yellow mums to form a centerpiece for the table, which will hold a three-tiered cake, decorated in yellow.

Assisting in the house party will be two granddaughters, Anna Belle Heckler and Mrs. Melburne Heckler, both of Stanton.

The couple has one son, Albert Heckler; three grandchildren, Melburne, Anna Belle and Helen Beth, and one great-grandchild, Melburne Fred Heckler, all of Stanton.

Soon To Be Wed

Mrs. Willie Belle Heckler of Stanton is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Anna Belle, to S-Sgt. Russell Eugene Traugott. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Traugott of Lexington, Ky. The couple will be married in the First Baptist Church in Stanton on March 22.

Redecorate Attic For More Space

Finishing an attic for more living space is a favorite "do-it-together" project for a man and wife team.

She can hold lumber while he saws and nails, help him fit batts and blankets of mineral wool insulation in the walls and ceiling, and hold the insulation while he staples it in place. The mineral wool is vital to the comfort of the new attic rooms since it keeps summer heat out and keeps the rooms warmer in winter.

Another ideal project for the "team" is staining kitchen cabinets of ponderosa pine. Here's where the wife often can be "boss," since women usually have a better eye for color than men. The stain, in one of many colors available, is applied with a brush, wiped off with a cloth, then varnished. The clear grain of the ponderosa pine remains to add rich warmth to the room. Of course, cabinets can be painted instead.

Lamesa Girl Scouts Tell Plans For National Week

LAMESA — Special activities are planned for the 25 Girl Scout Troops in Lamesa during the coming week. The annual cookie sale got under way Friday, and will continue through Saturday according to Mrs. Rex Petty, cookie chairman. Proceeds from the sale will go to help finance the construction of two new buildings at Camp Boothe Oakes, the Scout camp near Sweetwater.

Today all Girl Scouts and adults in the program are attending the churches of Lamesa in uniform. Most of the troops in the city will attend in groups.

This afternoon at the Woman's Study Club building, a tea, honoring adults who are now active or have been active in Girl Scout work in recent years, will be held. Hostesses for the affair are members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 15.

Wednesday has been designated as "Girl Scout Day" with all registered Scouts wearing the uniforms of the organization.

Climaxing the activities of the week will be the ceremony by a team of eight Senior Scouts at each civic luncheon club in the city. At these luncheons the identity of Mr. Girl Scout from each club will be revealed. Candidates from the clubs include all men with daughters in the Girl Scouts.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

The task of being director of the ABC Relays is now expertly handled by H.C.J.C.'s own George McAlister. Scores of visiting athletes from four universities, eight junior colleges, and 36 high schools will compete here next Friday and Saturday. Even more impressive is that at least two Olympic stars will be on hand, and Humble's "Texas in Review" crew will film the two-day contest.

Another project set in the near future, March 22, on the Jayhawk campus is Career Day. Counseling and information service in 12 major career areas will be provided for the more than five hundred seniors from towns including Colorado City, Lamesa, Forsan, Ackerly, Coahoma, Gail, Garden City, Knott, Stanton, Westbrook, Sterling City, and Big Spring.

In connection with National Brotherhood Week, a special assembly program will be called Wednesday at 11:10. Speakers will be the Rev. W. J. McCoy, Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese; the Rev. Jack Elzey, First Methodist pastor, Colorado City; and Rabbi Herbert C. Straus, Lubbock.

Must society always contain the element of defeat? The unpleasant position of being almost there, but falling slightly short of the goal seems unpleasantly near to the present predicament of the H.C.J.C. Choir. They have been honored with an invitation to Denver, Colo., to appear on the program of the Southwest Regional Convention of the Music Educators Association March 25-27. Directed by Orland Johnson and accompanied by Jack Hendrix, the choir hasn't fallen short on the element of talent, as listeners are more than happy to tell you. It's the absence of money. Since the college is not allowed to assist in the project, financially, the choir is more or less on its own. What a shame for the college and Big Spring, too, to lose this chance for publicity.

Four teams are entered in the co-educational volleyball tournament being sponsored by the physical education department. The first game will feature the team captained by Ann Green against the team captained by Lou Burchett.

Ann's team consists of Isabel Holquin, Lady Frances Jones, Frances Booker, Dorothy Baker, Freddy Stuart, and Bob Nicholas. Lou's is composed of Marliou Staggs, Billy McIlvain, Richard Engle, Jim Hicks, Marjion Harrison, Mannie Taylor, and Connie Kam.

Also Lovelle Fletcher's team composed of Laverne Cooper, Stan Williams, Julie Rainwater, Jerry Forestry, Connie Kamm and Joyce Lankford will meet Esther Bueno's team composed of Billie Freeman, Buddy Mayes, Frances Bueno, Gene Young, Pat Barron, Ernest Hayes and Frank Dumas.

Losers will play for consolation honors, while Coaches Harold Davis and Arsh Phillips will select an all-star team composed of four boys and four girls who will play an exhibition assembly game with a similar team from Big Spring High School.

March 15 will mark the last Jayhawk annual deadline. Sports, clubs and other groups are included in this last selection. The entire staff is madly taking pictures, finishing layouts and writing last minute copy. There are many mysterious secrets connected with the college yearbook, such as the color of the cover, the dedication and theme. Students will be given full benefit for all this preparation around the first of May. At that time, the finished yearbooks will be distributed.

Meeting Tuesday during activity period, the social committee appointed by the student council set Ranch Day for April 19. The slightly-more-than-8-month-away activity will be highlighted by an all-school hayride followed by a wiener roast and concluded with a stomp in the SUB.

The committee has also set the latter part of May for the Spring Formal.

The H.C.J.C. Queens, coached by Arsh Phillips, are scheduled to play two more games this season. They will meet San Angelo Junior College on the Ram campus Tuesday, and will play a return game with BSHS on March 22.

Patsy Shamsie, resident of Louisiana before coming to H.C.J.C., recently saw her first sand hills when she went home with Frances Reynolds, to Jal, N. M., last weekend. The two girls toured Carlsbad Caverns before returning for Monday classes.

Karen and James Johnson, and Delores and Billy Ray Moore left classes behind them Friday, as they went home to Denver City for the weekend.

Buddy Mayes, along with Gerry Gardner and her parents, went further south last weekend to Villa Acuna, Mexico, for the Sunday bullfights. Buddy, acquiring a profound dislike for the poor, defenseless bull, related that he enjoyed, much more, swimming in the Desert Inn motel pool (heated).

Lydia Caralies has a new career not at all related to classes and cramming. She became Mrs. Rey Molina March 2 and discontinued college in order to devote full time to this brand new occupation.

Avid camera bugs belonging to the Camera Clique are really enthusiastic over a photo contest being offered by a photographer's magazine. Jack Alderton, president of the order, presented the contest to the club Thursday noon, during regular club meeting time. It was also announced that a set of photography courses would be offered by the college. One will be concerned with darkroom procedure, while the other will be devoted to camera technique.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Wilson and Mrs. A. D. Barton left today for Lewisville to be with Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. M. E. Russell, who is ill.

Visiting in Possum Kingdom for a few days are Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Scudday and family and Mrs. M. M. Hines. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Scudday.

Club Sews Bandages

Seven dozen cancer bandages were made Friday afternoon by members of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club, when they met in the home of Mrs. D. D. Johnston. Mrs. L. D. Patterson was announced as the next hostess. This is a change from the hostess originally scheduled for that time. Refreshments were served to eight members.

Do you remember Carol Mitchell, one of the prettiest employees The Herald ever had? She was at one time editor of the Women's Department. Word has been received of the birth of a son to the Mitchells in East Meadow, N.Y., on Feb. 25. The baby, who has been named Jack C. J., weighed 9 pounds 3 ounces. (That name has already been shortened to Jay.) Mitchell, who was at one time stationed at Webb AFB, is now at Mitchell Field, N.Y.

Baptist Groups Have Prayer Week Climax

A four-act play depicting the life of Annie Armstrong was presented Friday as the conclusion of the Week of Prayer for Home Missions at the First Baptist WMS meeting.

The Maybelle Taylor Circle was in charge of the play, which was written by Mrs. Ivyloy Bishop, state young people's director. The time covered was from 1870 to 1904 with period costumes used. Directing the play was Wayne Nance with Mrs. Bob Dean acting as narrator. Mrs. Jack Swearingen was stage director.

If there is anything in your house that you can give and it is impossible for you to take it to the hospital, call me at 3-2542 and I will pick it up. Everything that is in good condition can be put to good use.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY FEHLER of 404 Benton St. are already making plans for taking a trip to Anchorage, Alaska — within the next three years, that is.

The reason behind the planning is the fact that their daughter and her family, S-Sgt. and Mrs. Carl Mensing and their children, Deborah Kay and Ricky, are being transferred there.

The Mensings, who have recently lived in Chicago, visited here last week and left Wednesday for their new home.

MRS. H. A. STEGNER of Greenville, who has been here since Tuesday, plans to leave this evening. She is at the home of Mrs. Harold Parks. Mrs. Parks is currently in Abilene where she is attending Abilene Christian College.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt are en route home today from Salt Lake City, Utah, where they attended the 37th annual convention of the American Association of Junior Colleges. They made the trip by car in company with President and Mrs. Cavness of the San Angelo Junior College.

Education Week has come and gone, and again we didn't get to visit the schools. But we did take a good look at the teachers and have reached the conclusion that being a teacher must bring its rewards though not too much on the financial side. All of the school masters and mistresses in the Big Spring system seem to be holding their own.

This profession can't be so bad if a woman can stay as attractive as MISS CLARA POOL, who has taught more than 25 years right here in Big Spring. I am grateful, but like so many others, fail to let them know that I appreciate their patience and their counselling with our boys.

During the week's services, a map has been pin-pointed with the major objectives of the home mission work. These have been look, pray, live, go and give. The mission offering was begun at the Friday meeting and is to be finished today.

Topics discussed were The Jew in Europe, with Mrs. Robert Hill as leader; Mrs. Roy Wilhelm had the topic, The Jew in America.

Those appearing in the play were Mrs. Nance, Mrs. Wayne Bartlett, Mrs. Charles Tyler, Mrs. Raymond Moore, Mrs. R. E. McClure, Mrs. Jim Scrimshire, Mrs. Dave Dorchester, and Mrs. Leroy Hollingshead.

Following the play an offering of $210 was taken for the Home Missions. Prayers were offered by Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. R. D. Ulrey.

Two visitors were Mrs. Shirley Fryar and Mrs. Roy Rogan. The WMS will meet Monday at 3 p.m. when Dr. P. D. O'Brien will direct the study of "The Stewardship of the Gospel."

BAPTIST TEMPLE WMS The Annie Armstrong Week of Prayer was completed by the Baptist Temple Friday morning at the church. The Horace Buddin Circle was in charge of the program.

'Man-Made Moon'

Shown here is a full scale model of the earth satellite to be launched sometime during the International Geophysical Year. It will be carried into its orbit above the earth by a three-stage rocket where it will circle the earth at 18,000 miles an hour. The model was designed and built by scientists assigned to Project Vanguard at the Naval Research Laboratory.

Satellite To Be Launched From 3-Stage Rocket

By SAM BLACKBURN

Sometime after July and before December of this year, highly trained scientists who have been working steadily for months and months will cause a monster three-stage rocket to be fired into space.

This rocket, fueled, odd to relate, with kerosene — which is the oldest of liquid fuels to be used by man — is scheduled to soar to an altitude of 300 miles. When it reaches that altitude its speed will be accelerated from 9,000 miles per hour to 18,000.

At a point at this altitude, the rocket will automatically release and project into space an orb, 20 inches in diameter. It will also release simultaneously a balloon.

The sphere, if plans work out, will continue at the breath-taking 18,000 miles per hour speed and, instead of climbing still higher, will begin a circular journey around the earth. It will make this complete circle once each 90 minutes. It will continue its flight for an indefinite time.

RADIO MESSAGES

Throughout the interval when it is making its periodic journeys around the earth, it will be sending radio messages from a self-contained, self-operated transmitter. This transmitter, as well as a great many other scientific instruments, are built inside the 20-inch ball.

The information to be sent to the earth will deal with innumerable factors in the thin upper air 300 miles above the earth. These messages will be received, recorded and ultimately decoded and identified by teams of scientists on the ground. From them, these

A TRIBUTE... TO OUR MERCHANTS

Storekeepers, we think, are entirely too modest. They serve you and your family faithfully every day. Yet how often do you remember their importance in your life? The merchant is a businessman. He must carry a heavy investment. He must own his building or pay rent for it. There are clerks and salespeople to pay. And a constantly-changing display of food or merchandise of some kind. The merchant must always make you think that "the customer is always right". Which isn't always true. So remember the trials and tribulations of your grocer, cleaner, department-store merchant, et cetera. And give them the fairness they deserve!

Legionnaires Plan Celebration To Mark 'Birthday' March 23

Plans to celebrate the national birthday of the American Legion are being made by members of Howard County Post No. 355.

The program is scheduled for March 23.

The Legion was founded in Paris, France, by a small group of veterans in a three-day session, Mar. 15-18, 1919. Today membership in all the states and territories is nearly 3,000,000.

The Howard County Post plans include a joint meeting of Legionnaires and members of the Auxiliary on Saturday night, March 23. A barbecue supper will be held.

Jack Pearson, Raymond Andrews, and Carl Eason will serve on the arrangements committee.

According to Post Commander George Zachariah, committees will arrange a special observance, honoring veterans of World War I and the former servicemen of this war will be invited as special guests. All former Commanders of the Howard County Post will also be singled out for their contributions to the American Legion.

Foy Dunlap, membership chairman, reported 1957 membership for the local post at 265, two over the 1956 mark. He named a committee to concentrate on invitations to bring the membership up even higher by birthday observance night. The committee will contact as many ex-servicemen as possible in cooperation with the national program of enrolling an all-time record of over 3,000,000 members in 1957.

In other business the Post approved another curb lettering project and acted favorably on the possibility of sponsoring a Little League baseball team.

Major Event Coming This Weekend

If we were on the verge of a major political gathering, a large convention, a big community entertainment, we would be hearing a lot of general discussion about the event. So far, most of the discussion about the American Business Club Relays has centered on the sport page and has been confined to a few track enthusiasts.

It is time, we believe, that Big Spring and surrounding area awaken to the importance of this event, for it is only days away. The time is Friday and Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

First off, we want to remind you that this is the biggest track meet in the Southwest this weekend. It will draw more teams and higher calibre of competition in general than the Southwest Recreation meet at Fort Worth. It is important enough that an oil company (Humble) is sending its camera crews here to film the event for inclusion in a television show.

The meet will attract four outstanding college track teams, including the nation's leading unit at the University of Southern California, the Southern Methodist team, the University of Houston team, and the widely known track stars from Oklahoma A&M.

Originally the ABC meet started out to accommodate high schools in this area, and there will be 39 of them with entries in the relays this weekend. Thus, this will automatically be one of the largest meets to be held in the state this season.

When the ABC Relays moved beyond the high school division, they first took in junior college teams. This year, the junior college field of contestants has grown to 10 schools. So, all in all, approximately 55 teams will be taking part in the meet.

A number of the young men to perform here are the nation's best and have either broken or approached world's records at the college level. The quality of competition here will be extremely high, and fans taking in the show will be seeing some of the best.

The new cinder track at Memorial Stadium is being put in top condition for the meet. There will be several thousand choice seats right on top of action. So it all adds up to a great entertainment and sports feature for our city.

We ought not let this go by without talking it up ever year. And most of all, we ought to get tickets and take in every possible bit of the meet just for the sheer pleasure of looking over this "original" competitive sports which is gaining rapidly its deserved measure of popularity across the country.

Around The Rim The Rules Of Spelling Are Unfair

So they're going to start an evening class in spelling, out at the Junior College. This is either (1) a development long overdue, or (2) it is going to show the utter hopelessness of the whole thing.

The pitch in the H.C.J.C. ads is toward stenographers and typists, and many a business man will regard this with relief. Fact of the matter is that the businessmen themselves ought to be going to school, as well as housewives and assorted other adults.

There has been a trend in recent years to criticize the schools for falling down on the mission of stressing the fundamentals, such as reading, spelling, etc. Now, it would appear that if spelling has to be taught to adults, the teaching process of spelling must have fallen apart a long time ago.

Some of us oldsters like to brag about how we mastered all the words in the blue-back, and could remain standing to the very end of those spelling bees. But throw us into a spelling lineup today, and what would happen? Sheer demoralization, that's what.

I get a report that one of the women's study clubs tried a spelling match program the other day. The results, understandably, were kept secret, and the ladies must have resorted to the attitude of "Oh, well, who needs to know how to spell those words, anyway?"

Good question, too. I used to wonder the same thing, when the spelling-master would toss out some conglomeration of letters that would never be seen, much less heard, outside of a Webster.

Besides that, spelling rules — if any — have always been regarded by me as completely unfair. Why would you have to spell "receive" with the "e" in front of the "i", and yet spell "retrieve" the other way around: (or is it the opposite? Why would you have to put a "t" to get an "sh" sound in a word such as "sententious," then use a "c" for the same sound in a word like "tuscious" and "lustious"?)

Or, to take a couple of old toughies like they use in spelling bees, what do you do when the instructor says "pur-too-sis" and "cis-doo-sis"? The bitter truth is that one of them is pertussis and the other caduceus. Unfair to spellers, that's what.

A word that has given plenty of trouble around this office is "iridescent." Causes a lot of irritation since it only has one "r," for no good reason. Or, I should say has caused considerable embarrassment, but we don't put the latter words in notes, because nobody knows for sure how many "r's" and how many "s's".

I remember one tough old teacher who used to drum spelling into our heads — or try to — when I was in High School. He would stress the fact that a word was not always spelled like it sounds, and invariably would use as an example the word, "fiz-ik." The dictionary says it is spelled phizic, but who cares? And another I remember because it always intrigued me, was the word onomatopoeia. I guess because I never learned to pronounce it, much less spell it. And inevitably, a workout in spelling would have to come to the longest word in the language — or so they used to say, before medical and scientific terms gained dominance — disestablishmentarianism. This is just long, and not tough. But it can be downright confusing, for sure.

Norman Vincent Peale Personal Peace From Love Of Others

In Switzerland last summer, I had a curious experience. A Swiss who had read one of my books in German made an appointment to see me in Burgenstock, just outside Lucerne, where he had rented a cottage.

Because the man did not understand English, and my German is far from adequate, I asked the headwaiter at the hotel there to interpret for us.

When my guest arrived I was shocked to see him. His head was twisted into distorted positions, his face twitched constantly, and his hands kept moving in wide, exaggerated gestures. He seemed able to stay upright in his chair only with the greatest of difficulty.

He explained his sad condition by telling me he had been through seventeen bombings during World War II. He had lost everything he held dear.

As he talked, the waiter emphasized one point: "This man hates the Germans. He is telling you to warn the United States government and people never to trust them, to keep them down always."

Now, most Europeans have, by this time, learned to live amicably with the Germans, to forgive them and to help them build — in Western Germany, at least — a new world. This new Germany is one of the pillars of the proposed United States of Europe. And reports from that country also tell us that it is the scene of one of the most dynamic Christian revival movements.

While I listened, I prayed silently for this poor, conflict-ridden man. Then, suddenly, a queer thing happened, for I became aware that I could almost understand him without my interpreter.

When I was a boy in Cincinnati, we had studied German at school part of each day, so that in childhood I knew something of the language, but had used it only occasionally since. However, for several summers I lived in German speaking Switzerland, and the old knowledge was restimulated. Now, because I felt a desperate need and desire to help this man, a partial use of his tongue came back to me out of my subconscious, and I was even able to communicate with him in halting German.

What I said was this: "We need to get back to the source of all life. That source, God's marvelous re-creative power, is pouring down on us, right here, right now. You don't have to shake or twitch or be tense and nervous. You aren't physically ill. The chief cause of your suffering is your hatred of your former enemies. It may be difficult, but you must pray for them and love them until the hate vanishes from your system. Then you will be in the flow of God's healing grace."

Then, I put my hand on him. "There is no power in my hand," I said. "I have no gift of healing." But that man and I — and the waiter too — were praying together for healing. And, all at once, that man's twitching and nervousness ceased. He was absolutely peaceful and quiet.

"I feel so different, so quiet," he told us with an awed voice.

This condition lasted for several minutes. I pointed out that by continuing this form of prayer permanent healing might come.

Personal peace comes to people who forget the wrongs others may have done them and who refuse to give way to self-pity. It comes to those who lose themselves in the love of others, in the effort to help their fellow men. You can find it too.

Now, Russian Interest In Middle East

WASHINGTON — With the adoption of the Eisenhower resolution on the Middle East an accomplished fact and the Israelis on their way out of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area, a note of cautious optimism — so cautious that for practical reasons it is being kept sternly under cover — can be detected in the harassed State Department.

This has been reflected in the lengthy discussions leading to final agreement between Britain, France and the United States on the reply to the Russian note of February 11 proposing a four-power conference on the Middle East.

From the first it was evident the Soviet note was a propaganda blast. But the British did not want it to seem that the three Western Powers rejected the proposal out of hand. They argued that this would give Moscow a propaganda advantage.

Their concern was to answer the issues raised in the note with a desire to negotiate but to point out at the same time Soviet words and deeds that had gone directly counter to Soviet professions of a hands-off attitude in the Middle East. It has finally been agreed, however, that while the three powers will not send identical notes, they will all summarily reject the Moscow proposal.

The demands made on him have been so pressing that only this past week was Secretary of State John Foster Dulles able to take time to approve a final draft of the American reply. It now has been sent off to Paris to be circulated among the North Atlantic powers before it is cabled to Moscow and made public.

Both London and Washington have been careful to circulate earlier drafts in the Baghdad Pact capitals, and there has been general satisfaction in Iran, Iraq and Turkey at the Western position.

In analyzing the Russian note and in framing a reply to it, diplomats of the three powers were agreed that it was a result of the Eisenhower resolution. While Moscow may not be quite clear as to the significance of the resolution, it nevertheless seems to the Soviets to mean the direct participation of the United States in the politics of the Middle East, and this is something new — new and deeply disturbing.

That was the consensus of the specialists drafting the Western reply. The Soviet arms deal, the violent Soviet reaction to the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt last November and the Soviet penetration of both Egypt and Syria have activated the United States in an area where hitherto it was only a secondary power. Furthermore, as they analyzed the Soviet note with its blunt attack on the Eisenhower policy, the specialists of the three Western nations came to the conclusion that the removal of Dmitri Shepilov as Soviet foreign minister could be related to the new Middle East policy.

Shepilov has been credited with instigating the Egyptian arms deal. But in the showdown of the Egyptian army fled, abandoning most of the material the Communists had supplied. Russian diplomats in Western capitals have spoken sourly of their disillusion with the Egyptians.

The Supreme Soviet replaced Shepilov with Andrei Gromyko. Gromyko is both more experienced in foreign affairs and more cautious than Shepilov, who was elevated from the editorship of Pravda to be foreign minister.

The belief is — and it is one of the principal reasons for the optimism that is as fragile as a spring crocus — that Gromyko will be more reluctant to back President Gamal Abdel Nasser in extreme opposition to the West. In other words, Nasser will have no important support and he will, therefore, come to terms on the use of the Suez Canal.

The French carry this a step further to suggest that within, say, six to nine months it may be possible to have a truly meaningful conference with Russia on the Middle East. This would be possible if Moscow demonstrates that it does not intend to push a policy of aggressive penetration in the region.

This prospect is, of course, for a future that is still shrouded with uncertainty and dark with the menace of further conflict. But the very fact that it could even be considered is a sign of change from the abysmal gloom of three or four weeks ago.

It is a sign of a change for the better, too, that the three Western Powers could agree amicably on an answer to Moscow. The public attitude is still one of reserve and restraint. But privately, if you press them hard, policy-makers will admit that perhaps there is a slight lessening of the tension and foreboding that have been the chief components of the unhappy atmosphere in Washington.

Ike, McCarthy, And Social Affairs

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has every right to invite to official receptions at the White House whomever he pleases even though such social functions are paid for with taxpayers' money.

The South will rejoice at the acceptance by the President of the principle that there need not be any "forced association" where public funds or facilities are involved.

Congress annually appropriates for the use of the President a fund to cover entertainment expenses, and usually there are several state dinners and receptions — for the diplomatic corps, the judiciary, the vice president, the Speaker of the House, members of Congress, and government officials.

Invitations are issued in the name of the President of the United States, and when a reception for members of Congress is held, the assumption is that it includes all members, irrespective of party. To discriminate against any member of Congress, either because of his public speech or because he has offended the White House in some other way, may be wise or unwise politically, but it is legally and socially correct.

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, it has just been confirmed by the White House itself, was not invited to the reception for members of Congress either this year or in 1955. There was no such reception in 1956 due to the President's illness.

While the President doubtless felt he had ample provocation because of the bitter attacks made on him and his administration by Mr. McCarthy, the question arises as to whether it was wise for the President to snub also those people of the state of Wisconsin who voted for and elected Senator McCarthy and who agree with his criticisms. If it is intended to be a "purge" of Mr. McCarthy in connection with his bid for renomination in the Republican primaries in 1958, this kind of thing can boomarang and benefit the senator just as it turned out in almost every case of attempted "purge" by Democratic Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

In politics, when you make a martyr, often votes are made for the underdog. This was the case when the elder Robert LaFollette, senator from Wisconsin and a Progressive Republican, was bitterly condemned from one end of the country to the other during World War I for his speeches denouncing his own government at a time when young men were being drafted to go to war. He was accused of obstructing the war effort.

Senator LaFollette refused to testify before a congressional committee as to his conduct. No action was taken to punish him although the Senate was petitioned by both houses of the Wisconsin legislature and by the Republican State Central

The World Will Change By 2,000, But Will People?

PHILADELPHIA — To help open the Sheraton here — Philadelphia's only newly-built hotel since 1929 — the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania put on an exhibit of professional and professional prophecy. This was the sole serious intrusion into the champagne pageantry of Perle Mesta and Hollywood stars. What will America — the world — be like in the year 2000?

Only the technicians — the men who deal with materials, energy and products — had a sure answer. "We're living in the future," said H. J. Rand, president of the Rand Development Corp., of Cleveland.

To Reavis Cox, professor of marketing at the Wharton School, the perils of prophecy were more persuasive. He noted that in 1852, a New York merchant predicted that the population of the U. S. would reach 233,000,000 in 1950, 291,000,000 in 1960, and 700,000,000 by the year 2000. What a market! What a natural vision for an optimistic merchant! What a mistake!

And yet, considering that the U. S. population was only about 20,000,000 in 1852, the prophet, the merchant, was not ridiculous in his conception. An enterprise which used his estimates for future planning would not have done badly. His sense of growth, of direction, was magnificent. The population has reached 170,000,000 — an eight-fold increase. And that's the most we can ask of prophets — to lift our vision over the fence of day-to-day drudgeries to the other side of time.

Charles H. Weaver, vice president of Westinghouse Electric, accepted this challenge. He forecast a revolution in fuel consumption. Standard Oil in the year 2000 may be in an entirely new business. Or out of business. "Ninety per cent of the fuel used in the United States in 1850," said Weaver, "was wood, while in 1950, coal, oil, and gas accounted for 98 per cent. The outlook for fossil fuels is now dark. Before the end of the century, the supply of coal, petroleum, and natural gas will be (so) depleted that they can no longer furnish our energy needs. . . Nuclear energy will be dominant in our power economy of 2000."

Rand, also a technician and idea man, daringly promised automa-

the dreams of keeping 'government out of business' go glimmering when a nation goes on a spending spree that is war," said Brogan. "I never listened with hope, though often with sympathy, to proposals to get the government of the United States (or Great Britain) back to normality. . . I believe in Donne's law: "As princes do in times of action get New taxes, and remit them not in peace. No winter shall abate the spring's increase."

"I should like to believe that sense was creeping in even to the Kremlin, even to Peking. But I think it will be safer to assume that . . . for the next 43 years . . . a reduction of defense expenditures (is) a highly dangerous dream."

The growing power of government will induce powerful corporations and powerful unions to ally with it against their fellow men. (As even now, it seems as if unions and corporations conspire against consumers.) "The chief security against such a fusion of interests, at the expense of general interest, is the much derided politician, even the much derided Congressman," declared Brogan.

"We have to face grave dangers human dignity and moral independence from the very completeness of our command of nature. . . We shall have at least as much need of wisdom as of knowledge, and wisdom is harder to come by."

What wisdom? The wisdom to be governed and to participate in government. The wisdom not to use or have used against us atomic weapons. Such use would wipe out all prophecy, particularly Rand's that in the year 2000 children born today "will have reached the age of 43 . . . and will look about the same."

Rand's was the bravest and most hopeful prediction of all.

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—The zoo at Glen Park received a snake that arrived in a bunch of bananas shipped from Guatemala.

Last Resort

DELAFIELD, Wis. (AP)—The local fire ladders would have saved themselves time if they'd made their last telephone call first.

They spent hours answering frantic calls from various parts of the community, each reporting a strong smell of gas. Finally the frustrated firemen, finding no trace of a leak, called the gas company.

Yes, they were told, there was a break in a pipeline. But it was 32 miles away, as the wind blew.

Bible Words for Today

II TIMOTHY 4:7 — "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith," (King James Version)

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, at the age of 90, described the event that furnished him with a text for his long and useful career.

As a soldier during the Peninsula Campaign in the Civil War he saw the sloop Cumberland that had been sunk by the Merrimac off Newport News. She had gone down with her flag flying and now only the banner was visible above the water beneath which she lay buried.

Wrote Holmes: "It was a lifelong text for a young man: fight to the end, and go down with your flag at its peak."

Paul's brave words addressed to Timothy echo the same spirit. He had overcome obstacles, he had accomplished his mission, he had remained faithful to his purpose. His life was one of conquest, completion, and fidelity.

Many of us go through life with our flags at half mast. But it need not be so. There are resources in Holy Scripture, prayer, worship, and service that will enable any man "to fight to the end and go down with his flag at its peak."

satellite will be so high in the skies and so small in size that it will not be visible to unaided eyes. It can be seen, scientists think, with low-power, wide field telescopes and it will be possible to visually plot its 90-minute journeys around the world.

Two systems of observation will be maintained on the little moon as it travels its course. One will be electronic in character— intricate and highly developed machines will track its travels and make a pattern of its pathways.

calls for visual work by groups of volunteers cross the country. These observers will work in groups of 12 to 20. Their shifts for the most part will be just as dawn breaks and just as dusk settles. It is only at these hours, the makers of the satellite assert, that rays of setting or rising sun will strike the orb and make it sufficiently luminous to be sighted even with telescopes.

These volunteer observers will include not only civilian groups— such as is planned for this community—but Air Force personnel from scores of air bases.

SYMPOSIUM
On March 16, for example, the Air Training Command with headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Ill., has scheduled an important meeting at Goodfellow AFB in San Angelo.

"The purpose of this symposium," says Colonel McKaba, commander of "moonwatch" project, "is to provide a base moonwatch project officers with background information about the satellite program and to develop plans for establishment of Command 'moonwatch' teams."

Representatives of Webb Air Force Base will be sent to this conference at Goodfellow, but what officers and men are to be designated for this assignment has not been announced. Upshot of this meeting will be organization of teams of visual observers. These are to be carefully trained between this date and the beginning of the International Geophysical Year— July 1957 through December 1958—in just how track is to be kept on the man-made moon.

Principal speaker at the Goodfellow AFB conference will be Dr. Armand Spitz who is the national coordinator of Visual Observers of Satellites. He will review the general aspects of the artificial satellite program and outline the course of action approved by the project directors to keep track on the little "moons."

SEVERAL SATELLITES
Actually, a series of these man-made satellites will be released starting in July. It hardly could be imagined that a single effort would suffice. A great many dangers will hamper the program— hence a series of projectiles will have to be fired in a hope that one or more will perform satisfactorily.

CAR RUNNING BETTER NOW

Bob Smith, 203-D Benton, missed his pet cat for two days. He assumed the animal was too busy "tom-cattin'" to come home.

But Friday night as he entered his car downtown, he found the cat purring atop an old jacket piled on the back seat.

Smith says his discovery also solved another mystery: both the motor and radio of his car had seemed to give off odd sounds for the two days the cat was missing.

Revival Emphasis Week Is Planned

Revival Emphasis Week at the Baptist Temple Church will open March 18. A special speaker, Abe Hester Jr., pastor of the College Avenue Baptist Church in Lubbock, will present colored pictures of his recent tour of the Holy Land. Roy Lee Williams, minister of education at the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls, will be another featured speaker during the week. Activities will conclude on the evening of March 24.

reference, the Webb delegates will return to Big Spring to begin preparations here for organization and training of official Air Force "moonwatch" crews.

And in the meantime, local enthusiasts are being contacted by the Smithsonian Institution in Washington relative to the formation of observation teams among civilians to pursue the same general program the Air Force proposes to follow.

Recruiting of volunteers will probably be initiated in the relatively near future as soon as complete information on how the project is to be handled is received.

Conservation Steps Now Will Help Reduce Erosion Of Soil

Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District officials are laying emphasis on conservation practices which should be done at this season in order to save water and increase plant production.

Jobs which can be done at this time, the district office pointed out, will pay off in reduced soil erosion.

Range pitting on pasture lands, followed by seeding of adapted grasses is being urged. Where mesquite brush or cactus is robbing the soil of moisture and plant food, grubbing is the answer to control. This should be followed by root plowing and grass seeding. Chemical spray is also good.

Deferred grazing is good range management which will pay off in grass production for soil protection, the office reports. Arrangements should be made to keep cattle off at least part of the range land during the spring growing season.

Net wire diversions may be installed on range lands to divert and spread overflow water.

Fertilizers may now be applied on all legume and high residue producing crops or residues of previous crops. Perennial grasses also respond well to fertilizing.

It is also time, the district office recommends, to plant summer soil improving land placed in the acreage reserve program. ACP assistance is available to the ASC office for this work and other projects which have been approved.

Jess Talkin' by Jess Blair

This may be a good year for baby chick dealers, according to Elbert Long who has already sold 3,500 since the first of the year, with 1,000 of them being brooked this week.

Mostly people are buying straight-run, heavy-breed chicks, to be used as fryers, he said. Thus far there is no indication that the small egg-laying flocks will be increased.

Feed prices have come down just a little, says A. E. McCustian, another Big Spring feed dealer. This applies mostly to manufactured feeds and cottonseed meal. The meal is selling for about $1.50 less per ton and the complete chicken feed has dropped a few cents a sack.

Grain is not a bit cheaper and neither is alfalfa hay. McCustian says a lot of dairymen and other livestock farmers are making so little nowadays that most dealers have had to shave the margin of profit rather thin.

Farmers in the Rio Grande Valley below El Paso are jubilant over a 1,285-foot artesian well that was brought in near Fabens. Shortly after the test was completed, water of good quality was shooting 10 feet into the air. The drillers estimate that the stream would measure about 3,000 gallons per minute.

Other drilling tests to 750 or 1,000 feet had found no water, except the salt water that reaches to a 600-foot depth. After that there was nothing but blue clay until they reached the artesian sands where the water was found.

The cost of such a well for irrigation purposes has been estimated at $32,000. Now other tests are planned and land owners are hoping the deep water will put them back in the farming business. Much land southeast of El Paso is lying idle because of salt water coming into the wells. At one time they irrigated with water stored in Elephant Butte Lake. However, the big lake has just been a big hole in the ground for the last four years.

This brings to mind a conversation with a Martin County farmer about two years ago. He said an oil drilling supervisor told him that water could be found along Sulphur Draw at a depth from 600 to 700 feet. The water would have sulphur in it and might not be suitable for household use, but could be used for irrigation. Also he said there was plenty of it at that depth.

A few land owners report that the sandstorm a few days ago took out a lot of moisture. T. A. Norman, who farms south of Veal-moor, says he lost very little moisture from the big wind. The rains had soaked quite deeply, and the only drying out occurred in the first few inches of the topsoil.

Two more men getting into the egg-for-broilers project are J. L. Ball and Roy Phillips. They will order 1,000 started pullets from Western Hatcheries, and will construct houses to care for them.

This makes 4,200 birds which have been ordered thus far. The hatchery company wanted to place 5,000 birds near Big Spring and the same amount at Colorado City.

W. H. Yater, farming west of Stanton, says the blight resistant cotton didn't make as much as half and half, but came out about the same profit-wise. In 1955 he gathered 60 bales of half and half from a 20-acre field, while last year the same block produced two and a half bales per acre of the 1517BR.

Yater has been spreading cotton burrs on his cotton land for two or three years with good results. "There hasn't been any big difference in yield where burrs were spread," he said, "but there was enough to be noticed."

He has been fattening out hogs and calves every year, but says he is about to get out of the swine business. Cows make more money from one year to another.

The Howard County Farm Bureau is already bringing in a few bracers for the 1957 crop year, according to Jack Buchanan. These are mostly special workers who have been here before, and will not pay $4.50 a month.

Buchanan says the careless weeds and thistles are already started, and farmers have started knifing and "busting out" the middles.

Incidentally, the price of bracer labor will continue to climb. One little item is the increase in insurance rates. Heretofore, farmers have been paying $3.95 per month insurance for each worker. They will now pay $4.50 a month.

Buchanan has sold all his sorghum alnum seed which was grown on a 20-acre field last year. After the seed was cleaned, he estimated the yield at about 400 pounds per acre.

This year he intends to plant another 80 acres, using it for grazing, while 20 acres will be fenced off for seed production.

One group of animals that attracted admiration at the recent San Antonio Livestock Show were the Appaloosa horses. There are only about 2,000 of these horses in the country, but their numbers are growing. Colored like across between a leopard and zebra, these beautiful animals started from a small remuda once owned by the Nez Perce Indians of the Northwest.

Originally they were found in ancient Persia and China, then found their way to Western Europe. There the Spaniards got hold of a few, brought them to Mexico and rode them north into the wilds of what is now the United States. A few escaped and Indians stole a few more.

Finally the warlike Nez Perce started breeding them for speed and stamina until the Appaloosas became the envy of Indians and whites alike.

Eventually the Nez Perce were slashed to pieces by U. S. soldiers and most of the Appaloosa were exterminated. Many years later the striped and spotted steeds caught the fancy of horse lovers, who started them back on the road to popularity.

Want facts, not claims, about performance? Then look at the official figures from NASCAR's* internationally famous Daytona Beach competition for stock cars. Here's what you'll find: Chevrolet, in two weeks of blistering competition, proved itself as America's Number One performance car. Nothing in the low-price field could touch it. No other car, regardless of price, scored such a sweep. And Chevy walked away with the famous Manufacturers' Trophy, hands down!

THE ANSWER IS GOD!

WORSHIP HIM IN CHURCH EVERY SUNDAY . . . AT HOME EVERY DAY . . .

WHAT A BIG BOOK!

Of course the Bible is big. Not only in size . . . but in the endless depth of the messages to man.

God never intended the Bible to be studied without help. When an Ethiopian official centuries ago wrestled with a passage from Isaiah, God sent the evangelist, Philip, to meet the man's chariot, climb aboard, and explain the text's reference to the crucifixion of Christ.

Explaining and applying God's Word are still two of the major aims of the Church. Every sermon, every lesson, every discussion topic your church offers is intended to focus your attention on the timeless truths of Scripture and help you thread them into the pattern of your life.

Cherish your Bible . . . read it regularly . . . and let your Church guide you to the richness of its message.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible, daily.

Guys And Doll

The guys are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis. The doll is Anita Ekberg. The scene is from "Hollywood Or Bust" showing Thursday through Saturday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. And so Dean Martin won't get mad, pretty young Pat Crowley also co-stars.

LIFE WITH MUSIC

Playing Together Covers Weakness

By RICHARD D. SAUNDERS One of the most agreeable factors in music is the fun of making music together. A solo has to be good, for the solo line is always exposed, and the slightest error or lapse of intonation is noticeable at once. But the individual parts in an ensemble, either vocal or instrumental, are covered, and many weaknesses are hidden in consequence.

orchestras employ a number of stringed instrument players in order to achieve a larger and firmer tone, and erase the slight variations of pitch inevitable to such instruments. The advantage is still greater in an orchestra composed of amateurs or semi-professionals. Many players of average ability, or even less, enjoy playing chamber music and form groups accordingly, such as string quartets, piano trios, or even woodwind or brass groups. The players can have a jolly time when they are all about the same in technical facility, and many of these groups give occasional concerts to the gratification of all concerned.

STRENGTH OF MANY It is so, too, with the community orchestras that now are dotting the country to the enjoyment of their performers as much as their listeners. Even the finest symphony

Hess Inspires Rock Hudson

"There are a few experiences in each man's life which remain blazing beacons in his memory. 'Battle Hymn' is one of mine." Rock Hudson speaking. He plays Col. Dean Hess, the noted flying parson, in the screen version of Hess' story. Hudson thinks in terms of milestones. One of these was his marriage to Phyllis Gates. Another was a night in 1952 in Portland, Ore., where he had gone with other cast members for personal appearance in connection with "Bend of the River," in which he had a minor role. A rain-drenched crowd of 10,000 people singled out Hudson for cheers even above the film's star, James Stewart.

Another milestone was his casting with Jane Wyman in a remake of "Magnificent Obsession," which made Hudson one of the top 10 box office draws. Hudson says his meeting Col. Hess was a milestone because he became intimately associated with the character he was supposed to play, while Hess was technical adviser on the film. "At first," said Hudson, "for a week after meeting Dean, I was afraid I'd never be able to portray him properly. Then I came to know the serene, understanding, almost mystic quality of the man. He has never been an actor, knows nothing about the theatre or about a camera, but, strangely, he has given me more confidence than any other individual I have ever known." Out of the great strength and compassion that are Dean Hess, Hudson has forged a character which he believes is his most significant portrayal to date. "And," he adds, "I've gained one of the great friendships of my life. Dean Hess is the finest man I have ever known."

Dollars In Doodles There are dollars in doodles. Arlene Dahl has added to her acting income by doodling while she talks on the phone, between scenes and wherever else she has a chance to draw. She doodles designs for the lingerie firm she owns, and often designs her own film costumes.

Role Of Woman Without A Face Mercia Shaw has a most unusual role in "Blonde Sinner." Hers is the role of a woman without a face. Although her face is that of a classic beauty, never once is there a close-up of her face.

Ex-Boxers Bite Dust In Western Six ex-boxers bite the dust instead of the canvas in the course of a gun battle in "Utah Blaine," led by former heavyweight champion Max Baer. It was a change of pace for Baer from his villain role in "The Harder They Fall." In "Utah Blaine," he joins the good guys.

The other ex-boxers are Phil and Willie Bloom, Spud Murphy, Bating Benson and Mickey Golden.

Actress Bruised For 'Realism' Some directors will do anything for realism, and some actresses will let them. Thus, Anne Baxter took a severe beating in "The Come On," a sequence that was left in the movie.

Director Russell Birdwell insisted co-star John Hoyt be more forceful in fight scene with Miss Baxter, and the scene was shot five times. The fifth time, Hoyt hauled off and knocked the already-bruised Miss Baxter to the floor.

Is That Rugged? Being movie comedians is no soft racket, according to Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis. They seldom use stunt men for their rollicking antics, preferring to take their own chances.

In "Hollywood Or Bust," Lewis was required to speed up a 15-foot ladder onto a catwalk in a Hollywood sound stage, from which he plunged down into a king-sized bed occupied by Anita Ekberg. Lewis bounced and threatened to sail off into the wild blue yonder, but the blonde beauty snatched him just in time.

TOPS ON TV Bette Davis Star Of Drama On Channel 4 Tonight A documentary film of the B-29 strategic bomber, plus Bette Davis as star of tonight's "General Electric Theatre," and a trip to Venice, Italy with Jack Benny, are highlights of CBS presentations to be seen today on KEDY-TV.

"Superport" the story of the B-29 bomber and the costly invasion of Iwo Jima by the U. S. Marines, will be Chapter 18 in the 26-part "Air Power" series this afternoon at 5:30. As late as July, 1944, the Japanese mainland and its economy had not been touched by strategic bombardment, but with the advent of the Superport in the Marianas, the Air Force at last had a plane that could strike at the heart of Japan's industrial might. Walter Cronkite, CBS correspondent, will narrate.

Tab Hunter In Army Film

Tab Hunter's a crazy, mixed-up kid who wants to get out of the Army. The Army's a crazy, mixed-up military machine by the time Hunter gets through with it. Natalie Wood is a prematurely mature young lady who's got a yen for Hunter, and vainly tries to make him grow up. But it takes Murray Hamilton, the polite-talking Dixie sergeant, to straighten out the juvenile delinquent. "This is the gist of the humorous "The Girl He Left Behind," returning Sunday and Monday to the screen at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. The screenplay was written by Marion Hargrove, in a peek at the "new" Army. Hargrove wrote the wartime "See Here, Private Hargrove."

Bad Girl

Arlene Dahl "fights" her way up the social ladder, using the ancient techniques invented by Grandmother Eve, in this scene from "Wicked As They Come." Her enamored victim is co-star Phil Carey.

Beauty Plays Doomed Killer

"Blonde Sinner," showing Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre, is the story of a woman who murdered out of love and desire for revenge, and who ends up facing the terror of the death cell, awaiting execution. Diana Dors, the combustible English blonde, plays the role of the killer, a woman who has given up her own family for the love of another man. But as it turns out, he is involved with a rich socialite who keeps the poor guy confused to the point that he finally commits suicide. It is then that Miss Dors, in a fit of revenge, kills the other woman. In the death cell and desperately afraid, she proudly spurns her family, at the same time hoping she may escape death on appeal.

Double Bill Set At Sahara

Romance and action dramas are on schedule at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre starting Sunday. "Wicked As They Come" is a story of a bad girl, and "Utah Blaine" is a Western film. In "Wicked As They Come," Arlene Dahl plays a wronged girl who is determined to take her revenge on every man she meets. Starting out with a beauty contest, she ruins one man after another, until she marries a rich executive. Miss Dahl shoots her husband, thinking him a profligate, but the jury is more convinced by her past, and so convicts her. Co-star Phil Carey sets out to save her.

Hollywood Brings Native Prosperity

Unbelievable riches came to the fishing folk of tiny Pugaro Island, an unmapped dot in the Lingayen Gulf, Philippines Republic, after a film company was sent there to film opening scenes of "No Place To Hide."

British Actor Plays American In Films

Sidney James is regarded by Hollywood as a Yank in England even though he's never seen in the United States. James is a South-African, of English-Australian parentage, now living in England. But when film makers on a London location needed someone to play the role of an American, they turn to James.

'Range Rider' Is Temporary Father

The 25 Korean War orphans in "Battle Hymn" adopted Jack Mahoney as their temporary American "father." The rangy "Range Rider" of TV, who portrays a fellow pilot of Col. Dean Hess, spent every spare moment on the set with a half dozen of the youngsters hanging around his neck. Mahoney taught the "young Korean ambassadors" to sing "Marching Through Georgia" and "Home Sweet Home" — American music, Korean lyrics.

Rory's At Home In Wide Open Spaces

Rory Calhoun is no stranger to the wide open spaces in which he often is cast in Hollywood Westerns. He has spent a good part of his life in the outdoors. He once worked as a forest fire-fighter and a logger in California's redwood forests. Recently, he purchased a 260-acre ranch which he quietly turned into a camp for juvenile delinquents. A participant in the "California Rangers" program which puts erring youths on farms and ranches instead of in reform school, Calhoun takes care of 50 youngsters at a time.

Some directors will do anything for realism, and some actresses will let them. Thus, Anne Baxter took a severe beating in "The Come On," a sequence that was left in the movie.

PLATTER PALAVER

By Mary Sue Hale

Via Decca you are able musically to travel 'round the globe making stops at some of the world-famous night spots. In our own U. S. A. there are three musical stops, and titles of three of this series of LP records are "Hollywood at Midnight," "Manhattan at Midnight," and "New Orleans at Midnight." The platter spotlighting Hollywood features Andre Previn at the piano with rhythm accompaniment. Outstanding among the 12 numbers most typical of extravaganzaing Hollywood are "Laura" and "My Foolish Heart."

Rhythm accompaniment also is trademarked by Ellis Larkins for the Manhattan waxing. Outstanding among the 12 offered numbers are "Manhattan Serenade," "Lullaby of Birdland" and "You're Blase." A true jazz masterpiece is the New Orleans midnight sequence for which Marvin Ash and his Dixie Blue Blowers strive to perfect "New Orleans at Midnight," "Basin Street Blues," and "New Orleans."

Surface color sparkles on the cover of the "Rio At Midnight" LP recording. Dante Varela instructs his orchestra for 12 racy numbers including "The Romantic Cha-Cha-Cha" and "Adios." When in Rome, Carmen Cavallara plays as the Romans play — in this case, the piano. His piano solos of "Schumann" (The River), and "La Gondola Va," are backed up by the orchestra directed by Domenico Savino.

You can almost feel the fog drifting across your face when you listen to "London at Midnight." Skitch Henderson, with piano and orchestra, has made up one of the best packaged records in the group, with numbers "Greenland," "Sleepy Lagoon," and "A Foggy Day" being included. Last in the group is a typical cover of Paris night life gracing "Paris at Midnight." Lights are blazing on the colored jacket, leading us to believe that the contents are extensively gay, which is not the case.

Quite to the contrary, three of the outstanding selections are none other than "Autumn Leaves," "April in Paris," and "The Last Time I Saw Paris." GLOBAL PACKAGE We're still traveling and this time by air, while we survey a new show release, "Around the World in 80 Days." First, a slight preview of the show from which this soundtrack is taken: Directed by Mike Todd, the movie was a number of years in the making, boasts of having a cast of 68,894 with 50 of them stars. Thirteen countries, four million air passenger miles and an unbelievable array of costumes are other unbelievable statistics about the filming of this movie.

Music for this extravagant venture is by Victor Young and includes "Around the World," "Sky Symphony," and "Paris Arrival." "Rock, Pretty Baby" containing music from the sound track of the movie is a big LP record on today's music market. Featuring Jimmy Daley and the "Ding-A-Lings," songs include "Can I Steal

Hudson In Role Of Flier Who Saved 1,000 Orphans Of War

Rock Hudson portrays Col. Dean Hess, the heroic flying parson, in "Battle Hymn," showing Wednesday through Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

This humanitarian epic is a story of blood, sweat, tears and laughter. It tells of the ordained minister who gave a far greater message to the world from the embattled skies and the orphan tents of Korea than he could ever have given from his pulpit in Marietta, Ohio.

Hess was technical adviser on the film, and struck up a friendship with Hudson during filming of the movie.

Dan Duryea is starred as the first sergeant who laughs his way through Hess' troubles, with Don DeFore, Jock Mahoney and James Edwards as fellow pilots. Martha Hudson is cast as Mrs. Hess, whose understanding nature caused her to give up her husband for a greater cause: Anna Kashfi, actress imported from India, plays the role of Yang En Soon, orphanage directress who puts the lives of her charges above her own.

The story, based on Col. Hess' own best-selling autobiography, is based upon Hess' feelings of guilt and his sense of devotion to duty. His guilty feeling came from the accidental bombing during World

Labor Of Love

Some of the 25 Korean War orphans imported to Hollywood to help re-create their harrowing experience on the screen pose with Rock Hudson in this scene from "Battle Hymn." Hudson portrays Col. Dean Hess, credited with saving hundreds of orphans during the recent conflict.

War II of a German orphanage, an incident he could never get out of his conscience.

He returned to the pulpit for several years until the Korean War broke out, and then found he had to leave, even though, as a minister he could have stayed at home. He spurred a chaplainship, feeling he was more needed in the job he was assigned, that of helping train South Korea's inexperienced little air force.

During this training and 250 combat missions, Hess took on an additional duty, that of caring for all the war orphans he could find. Dedicated to both jobs, Hess refused to leave even when his wife back home was having a baby.

With the Reds mounting a major offensive, Hess, in the heat of battle, talked Fifth Air Force headquarters into authorizing an airlift for 1,000 orphans to Cheju Island.

Hess found his redemption through his heroic efforts to save the children and his continued battle against the ungodly forces of communism.

He set up an orphanage on Cheju, installing Mrs. Whang on as directress. Mrs. Whang came with the children to the U.S. During their sojourn here, the children lived in pleasant dormitories and ate native food prepared by two Korean cooks. They were allowed an occasional taste of hot dogs, hamburgers, ice cream and pop corn, but in the main were kept on their normal native diet.

Yul Brynner Sets Bald Style

Yul Brynner, who set the bare scalp vogue with his role in "The King and I," repeats the style in his role of a Russian general in "Anastasia." Despite the apparent drawback of baldness, Brynner has become one of the leading male stars and enjoys a reputation among bobby soxers.

What with several stage stars following Brynner's example — shaved heads seem to be the coming thing, and that well used caddy-up line may be changed to: "Darling, I just love to run my fingers across your smooth, shiny head."

Also, the shaving of heads might be taken up by men with dandruff. It's said to be a sure cure.

Germ Threat In 'No Place To Hide'

"No Place To Hide," playing Sunday through Tuesday at the State Theatre, is a combination of science-fiction, exotic scenery, and little-boy-lost plots.

David Brian is cast as an American scientist who moves to a small Philippine island to continue his researches into germ warfare. His son, played by Hugh Corcoran, playfully swipes a package of germ pellets, which, if broken, would release a lethal cloud capable of killing every human being for miles around.

Accompanied by his pal, played by Ike Jarigo Jr., the boy eludes the hunt pressed for him, and lark turns into a nightmare as the boys panic.

Marsha Hunt is co-starred as the boy's mother.

English Currency Confuses Marshall

When English-born Herbert Marshall returned to London for a film, he found his 20-year stay in Hollywood had left its mark — he couldn't get used to English money again. Pounds, shillings and pence left him in a daze.

"It seems ridiculous," Marshall said, "I lived half my life in England, and English money didn't seem, at all complicated to me then."

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

It's a good movie week again, with several good new films and a whole raft of second-run movies.

Perhaps the best of the week is "Battle Hymn," the story of Col. Dean Hess, a preacher turned fighter pilot who saved hundreds of Korean orphans during the recent conflict. Rock Hudson, as might be expected gives an excellent interpretation of Hess as the minister's conscience draws him from the pulpit and back into the Air Force, and in turn into unselfish aid to the children of Korea.

Beyond the dramatic characterization of Hess himself is the background of the Korean War, which was well done in spite of the fact the story was filmed in the U. S. It brings back memories (some of them not unpleasant) to Korean War veterans and to those who served in Korea during the Occupation.

Incidentally, when you see Hess' plane in flight, it will be Hess himself, not Hudson's stand-in, at the controls.

"Anastasia" has gained renown not so much by the story it tells as by the performances of its actors. Ingrid Bergman already has won several awards, and stands to win the Academy Award. Yul Brynner and Helen Hayes also have been praised. "Anastasia" is the story of an alleged impostor, a claimant to the Russian throne sponsored by an ambitious schemer.

Hollywood publicity man was guilty of a bad error (or plot) which he passed along to the unsuspecting editor, who must take said publicity man's word for it since the editor cannot always see the movie in question for himself.

Last week, we published a scene picture from "The Great American Pastime," showing star Tom Ewell drawing an object from a large steppan in co-star Anne Francis' kitchen. The information that came with the picture allowed as how the object was a pair of trousers placed in the family soup pot by a practical-joking son. When we saw the film, it turned out to be curtains Miss Francis was boiling in soapy water, not a comedy scene at all. Maybe said publicity man should see a movie before writing about it.

"No Place To Hide" is pretty fair as science fiction movies go. Takes place in the Philippines and involves the usual menace to all mankind.

Other recommended viewing: "Kettles in The Ozarks." A light, corny comedy about hill folk. "Love Me Tender." This would have been a pretty fair post-Civil War movie even without Elvis Presley.

"The Moon Is Blue." The umpteenth return of an adult comedy, all about sex and seduction which never get around to occurring. "The Girl He Left Behind." Tab Hunter as a crazy, mixed-up kid who leaves the Army equally crazy and mixed-up.

"The Search for Bridey Murphy." A restrained, documentary-type recount of age-regression under hypnosis, without any conclusions drawn regarding reincarnation.

"Hollywood Or Bust." One of the last, and best, of the Martin and Lewis comedies.

Noted Boys Band In Movie Debut

The famous Tivoli Guards Boys Band makes its screen debut in "Anastasia." The band, composed of 50 Danish school boys, is shown marching through Copenhagen's 113-year-old Tivoli Pleasure Gardens, a daily occurrence since 1844.

The band trains 25 boys each year to take the places of those who have reached age 17. In their colorful 19th Century uniforms, they march through the gardens several times a day and present concerts on Sundays.

Love Tale With Violent Ending

A love story with a violent ending is "The Come On," showing Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre.

Anne Baxter is starred as a glamorous crook, bait for many a profitable confidence game in high society, with a little blackmail thrown in on the side. Portraying the man who pretends to be her husband is John Hoyt.

At La Paz, Mexico, the swindlers meet a sea-faring soldier of fortune, played by Sterling Hayden, and Miss Baxter falls for him. Their love is sincere and reciprocated, and brings about a reform for the shady lady.

But her change for the better comes too late, for Hoyt is jealous and feeling like murder, and the ending is somewhat violent.

Movie 'Boner' Was Truthful

It took a long distance call from Hollywood to the Pentagon to avoid an avalanche of "movie boner" letters concerning "Battle Hymn."

It started when a group of Air Force pilots saw a sneak preview in Riverside, Calif. The pilots filed their preview cards with wry comments about actor Rock Hudson wearing a Navy flier's helmet in the film.

The studio put in a rush call to Col. Dean Hess, whom Hudson portrayed. Hess explained he came by the helmet during the Korean War. A Navy pilot, out of gas, crashed at Seoul City airport, and Hess pulled him from the plane, staying with him till he came out of shock.

Afterwards, Hess revealed his envy of the Navy pilot's helmet. New models of similar Air Force helmets had not been in large supply, and Hess was still using an old canvas headgear.

The grateful Navy pilot gave Hess his plastic helmet. Hess wore it through the rest of the war, and even now, never dons a different one when flying.

'Anastasia' Film Story Of Girl Passed Off As Russ Princess

Whether a Communist rebel's bullet found its mark in the brain of a 17-year-old Russian princess 38 years ago, or whether it merely grazed her temple, knocking her unconscious, is a question which has given rise to a fascinating international mystery which is the basis of a lawsuit in the German courts today over a $30,000,000 legacy.

The mystery has been interpreted on the stages of five countries, and now it has been made into a motion picture, "Anastasia," showing Sunday through Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Ingrid Bergman portrays the woman who, in the screen play, is a starved, destitute soul snatched from suicide in the Seine River by former Russian General Bonine. He intends to pass her off as the Princess Anastasia, daughter of the last Czar of Russia, Nicholas II, gaining control of the fortune after duping the aged Dowager Empress (Helen Hayes) into recognizing his charge as the true princess.

Up to a point, the story is based on fact, insofar as there lives today in Germany's Black Forest a 54-year-old woman who goes by the name of Mrs. Anna Anderson, but who claims to be the Grand Duchess Anastasia and who tells a plausible story of being rescued from the massacre of the imperial family in Siberia in July of 1918, and of being smuggled across the Romanian border by two deserters from the Soviet Army.

She has been accepted by one group of White Russian refugees, including many blood relations of the Czar, as the true heiress, and is rejected by another. The wounds and scars on Anna Anderson's body match remarkably the blows said to have been inflicted on the young princess.

One more point in favor of the Black Forest Anastasia's story is that German war prisoners, returning from Russia after World War I told of seeing posters bearing pictures of the Russian princess and asking help of the Russian people in finding the escaped daughter of the Czar.

Yul Brynner plays the role of Gen. Bonine, who hatches the plot to collect the Czar's legacy. He and his friends rescue Miss Bergman from suicide and begin a long training period to polish the girl for her role as a princess, and then the plotters set about arranging an interview with the dowager in the attempt to get their protegee recognized.

In the screen version of the story, all ends happily, with the girl being recognized through a peculiar cough, and she assumes her rightful role as the Russian princess.

The film story plays a peculiar role in the real-life drama upon which it was based. The Black Forest Anastasia was paid by the film's producers to depict a play about her on the screen. This token of recognition may give extra comfort to the woman who once said wearily to a friend: "I don't care about the legacy, or the title, or the glory. I only want to show who I am before I die."

Tech Acquires Portraits Of 'Cattle Kings'

LUBBOCK — The State Fair of Texas has given its "Hall of Cattle Kings" to Texas Tech.

The collection contains 53 photographic portraits of men who were outstanding leaders in establishing the Southwestern cattle industry. The portraits have been hung in the main hall of the Tech Agriculture Building. Originally they were exhibited at the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936. They were in the care of the Dallas Historical Assn., which retained copies, until their transfer to Tech.

Tech hopes to add the portraits of other leaders of the Southwestern cattle industry.

Acquisition of the "Cattle Kings" exhibit is another indication that Tech is a fast-growing center of information on ranching history. The institution's Southwest Collection contains one of the world's most extensive accumulations of ranching records.

Creation of the "Hall of Cattle Kings" was the idea of Dean W. L. Stangel of Tech, who was manager of the Centennial Exposition's Livestock Division.
