Ike Says Budget Cut Is Still Congress' Problem Changes Mind On Health Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he will be as helpful as possible but it is up to Congress to determine how and whether the administration's $71,800,000 budget can be cut.

Several weeks ago Eisenhower said in a speech that he would not wear out the ailments that have been bothering him. Eisenhower noted that he went to Walter Reed Army Hospital yesterday for a new physical checkup. He said the doctors told him he was in good shape.

Conviction Of Chapa On Fund Theft Reversed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today threw out another Duval County conviction. Judge Lloyd Davidson wiped out the five-year sentence of D. C. Chapa, convicted for misapplication of public funds from the Benavides School District funds.

The court did not rule on the merits of the case. It said the lower court's overruling of the motion for severance required a reversal. The court about a year and a half ago threw out 104 indictments in Duval County.

Search for the two young prisoners who Monday night overpowered Joe Pierce, Howard County jailer, and escaped from the jail had proven futile to noon today. No word of the pair has been officially confirmed since the break they made from their cell block on the fourth floor of the Howard County courthouse.

MEANTIME, Guilford Jones, district attorney, has filed a formal charge against the two men — Kenneth Gerald Neel, 28, and his brother, Harmon Harold Neel, 24 — accusing them of robbery by assault. The charge grows out of the theft from jailer Pierce of his keys, his pocket knife and $34 in cash.

Cold Spell Cuts Spring Planting

AUSTIN (AP)—Spring planting was cut short in Texas the middle of last week by a cold spell, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

In its weekly crop survey, the Department said the cool weather probably damaged fruit crops in North Texas. The cold front came as far downstate as a line from Seminole, through San Marcos to the extreme southeastern coast.

Dryland wheat prospects in the High Plains were improved by the cold and a creage previously thought dead was revived. In the Rolling Plains and eastward across North Texas, wheat prospects were called very favorable and oats and barley prospects looked good in most parts of the state. These small grains intended only for pasture have outgrown stock and will be cut for hay in some fields.

In South Texas corn and sorghum planting was going well. In Central Texas, most farmers were waiting for their fields to dry before they could do any planting. Cotton planting is centered in the Lower Valley and Coastal Bend. The harvest of commercial vegetables was active and the condition of early planted crops was favorable.

The norther did not hurt Lower Rio Grande Valley tomatoes and South Texas cantaloupes and watermelons. Additional spring crop vegetable planting was becoming active, but onion harvesting was confined to the Lower Valley. Shipments of onions thus far is way below last year at this time, the department said.

Okl. A&M Cadets Visit Webb AFB

Thirty-five ROTC students from Oklahoma A&M were visitors here last week.

They flew to Webb AFB in an Air Force C-54 and were given a "red carpet tour" of the base by Lt. William J. Schoder, training officer, 356th Pilot Training Squadron, and Lt. Robert E. Brown of the same organization.

Lt. Col. Edward W. James, director of training at the university, and Capt. Louis O. White, instructor, accompanied the group.

Col. James was met by Maj. Vincent Brophy, Base Operations Officer, who had served with the Colonel previously.

Hapless Hunters

Expert Claims Truck Load Hike Danger To Texas Bridges

AUSTIN (AP)—A State Highway Department bridge designing expert last night said an increased weight load for trucks would shorten the life of Texas' bridges.

Randle B. Alexander, chief bridge designer for the state, told the House Motor Traffic Committee that only "a maximum of 5 per cent of the bridges in Texas can carry 72,000 pound loads."

The House committee sent the bill to a subcommittee for further study, as the Senate transportation committee did earlier with the same bill (SB56).

"I'm not going to tell you they are going to wreck our bridges," Alexander said about the heavier trucks.

"But in my opinion the life of the bridges will be shortened."

He said he did not know what the life of the bridges would be. Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas and others are sponsoring the bill in the House. In the Senate, William Fly of Victoria and Abraham Kazen of Laredo are sponsoring the measure.

The Senate subcommittee said it would question officials of the State Highway Department as to the bill's effect on Texas roads.

The proposal would boost the gross load limit from 58,420 pounds to 72,000 pounds through addition of an additional axle.

James Taylor, representing the Texas Motor Transportation Assn., said the new limits "will cause no more wear and tear on the roads than the present law does" because of the division of the weight on the extra axle.

Taylor said Texas trucks paid 97 million dollars in state highway use taxes, or 41 per cent of the total paid by all vehicles in 1956. He said the bill, through increases in extra fuel tax revenue and license revenue, would mean 100 million dollars more in state revenue in 10 years.

Judge Henry Schovajsa of Fayette County said that although the trucks pay 41 per cent of the taxes "I believe the fact would show that the trucks do more than 90 per cent of the damage." Kenneth McCalla, representing the Texas Railroad Assn., said the trucks "can't pay enough to pay for the damage done to the highways in Texas."

Exam Indicates Ike Improved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new physical examination at Walter Reed Army Hospital shows President Eisenhower's condition is "improved," the White House doctor says.

But he still has not recovered completely from a cough, a head cold and an ear ailment, and so he "still hopes and expects" to get away to Florida later in the week in an effort to clear up those troubles. The ailments were described as "slight."

That was the gist of reports from Eisenhower's physician Maj. Gen. Howard McSnyder and his press secretary James C. Hagerty after the President returned from an hour's checkup at Walter Reed yesterday.

It was his second visit to the hospital in less than a month. He went there Feb. 21 for a checkup on a lingering cough, the aftermath of a cold which Snyder said he caught in January.

Last week, with the cough still hanging on, Eisenhower developed a new head cold and inflammation of the eustachian tube in the left ear. The ear trouble made it temporarily difficult for him to hear.

The new checkup included X-rays, which Hagerty said showed the chest and lungs are clear.

Eisenhower has made tentative plans to go to Florida for some sun and exercise in advance of March 21-24 talks at Bermuda with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Oil Estimate Said Indefinite

AUSTIN (AP)—Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson described the U.S. Bureau of Mines' April estimate on Texas crude oil demands as "a rather indefinite forecast."

In a statement here yesterday, Culberson said:

"The Bureau of Mines forecast of April demand for Texas crude is 3,075,000 barrels daily. This compares with 3,500,000 barrels which was estimated for March and assumes the Iraq pipeline to be operating in partial capacity and the Suez Canal operating part of the month."

"This is rather an indefinite forecast, and due to the above assumptions, is not very definite as the actual demand for Texas crude."

"This is typical of the conjectural forecast that have been submitted by the Bureau of Mines for the past several months."

Ethiopia Willing To Trade U. S. Air Bases For More Aid

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie is reported favorably to a U.S. request for Ethiopian bases flanking Egypt—provided Ethiopia gets more American aid.

Vice President Nixon during his current visit has pressed the American request for an Air Force communications base and anchoring facilities at the Red Sea port of Massawa. Word of the American aims brought immediate reaction from Moscow and Cairo.

Russia was said to have warned Ethiopia it might get embroiled in a major war, alleging the United States wants to store atomic and hydrogen bombs on Ethiopian soil.

Egypt's President Nasser sent a special envoy to Addis Ababa before Nixon arrived, reportedly with an urgent request for the Emperor to visit Cairo. Nasser views the vice president's African tour as part of a concentrated U.S. attempt to isolate Egypt from her neighbors.

The American request, according to well-informed sources, included the right to anchor three warships at Massawa in peacetime and more in any common war effort. Warships there would be in a strategic position to back up American and Israeli claims to navigation rights in the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Adaba, some 600 miles to the north.

There has been considerable speculation that the United States would force a showdown by trying to send ships through the gulf after Egypt reoccupied the Gulf of Adaba coast. The closest other bunkering port open to the Americans is the British colony of Aden 300 miles south of Massawa and just outside the Red Sea.

Nixon and Haile Selassie conferred for almost two hours yesterday, and the vice president was understood to have gone over the question of American bases.

Nixon told newsmen he and the Emperor had discussed increased "United States activity." He declined to go further on security grounds.

Sassy Rooster Is Prize Pet

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Meet Pip, the peppy, perky, pecking rooster that is reputed to be the prize pet perhaps in all Jersey.

He belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Casper Zoppel, of nearby Stratford, who got him when he was only a tiny yellow puff, a casual premium given out with some purchases.

The Zoppels took a fancy to him and started his education. Now Pip is described as "amazing." His owners say that he perches on a special red leather seat and dines off a flowered dish on hamburger spread over crackers; that he walks—nothing so primitive as hopping—up the stairs, that he squires visitors to and from the house; and that if he likes you he unties your shoe laces.

"He's a doll," says Mrs. Zoppel.

Beck A Millionaire? He Won't Comment

By JAMES HUTCHESON
SEATTLE (AP)—Is Dave Beck a millionaire, as he oft-times has been described?
The Teamsters Union president wouldn't say yes and he wouldn't say no to newsmen here last night.
"It's as easy to say Beck is a millionairess as it is to say he is a truck driver," said the volatile onetime truck driver in answering questions about his financial status as head of the nation's largest labor union.
Then, at his first news conference since he hurried flight home from Europe under the pressure of Senate investigators, he listed some of the real estate deals that he said had brought him a tidy fortune.
He did it while asserting that if the special Senate committee for investigating alleged labor union racketries tries to pry into his personal financial affairs, he is prepared to invoke the Fifth Amendment unless his attorneys advise him otherwise.
Beck said he had "much business" outside the union, much of it in association with other persons "far removed" from the union.
"I desire not to take the Fifth Amendment," he said, "but I might," if the committee questions him about personal finances. As to union affairs, including the union's purchase of his swank lakeside home for $163,000, Beck said he will be ready to testify freely "the minute they tell me of a date" to appear in Washington.

He insisted his record as head of the union and as a financier is clean.
But, he declared, any probing into his personal finances would affect other people—his associates and his wife—and "it is far removed from union affairs."
Of his good fortune in real estate, he said:
"I sold one tract at a profit of $130,000. The teamsters had nothing to do with that."
"I sold business district property at a profit of over $200,000. The teamsters had nothing to do with that."
"I invested in the Grosvenor House (one of the city's big, new and swank apartment houses). The teamsters had nothing to do with that."
Beck gets $50,000 a year as general president of the teamsters, but he commented:
"I actually am working for nothing," because, at 62, he qualified last June for retirement at full salary.

'No Comment'

Dave Beck, head of the giant International Teamsters Union, waves off newsmen with a "no comment" as he was met by a swarm of reporters and photographers on his arrival at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport. Beck, who has been in Europe, had been invited to testify before a Senate racket-probing committee.

Mahon Calls For Price Aid Loans On Spotted Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill calling for price support loans on light spotted cotton was introduced yesterday by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.).
Mahon said his cotton acreage bill would offset what he called disadvantages to West Texas farmers included in a bill offered a week ago by Rep. Poage (D-Tex.).
Mahon's bill would leave unchanged the present distribution of acreage allotments based on a five-year history.
Mahon attacked provisions of a spotted cotton loan bill introduced March 6 by Poage. That bill would provide that acreage allotments be based on a three-year period.
"I estimate that Mr. Poage's proposed change, if enacted into law, would cost West Texas cotton growers a minimum of 200,000 acres," Mahon told the House.
"It also would eliminate trends, which have been beneficial to West Texas in previous years. Trends at present are not as important as formerly because we have had controlled acreage for several years."

"But, this provision in the law with respect to trends might become important at some future time."
Mahon said he intended to testify before the House Agriculture Committee in opposition to Poage's bill and in support of his own. He said a number of cotton producers from West Texas are also expected to testify.

Asks State Unity

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland wants the 48 states to get united so they can present a united front to the government of the United States. He introduced a resolution in the Legislature yesterday calling for creation of an association of states with legislators from each state as delegates.

Supporters Of 'Rights' Work For Panel OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of a civil rights bill worked against parliamentary odds and Southern determination today to get approval by the House Judiciary Committee before the day ends.
Southerners on the committee, who consumed most of yesterday's session with debate on a single amendment, had a dozen or more proposed changes to offer today.
Efforts by Chairman Celler (D-NY), a strong civil rights supporter, to force a committee vote today were further hampered by the prospect of roll call votes in the House on a money bill and farm legislation. These would make it difficult to hold a committee majority in session, even though the House has granted special permission for the group to sit during conduct of general House business.

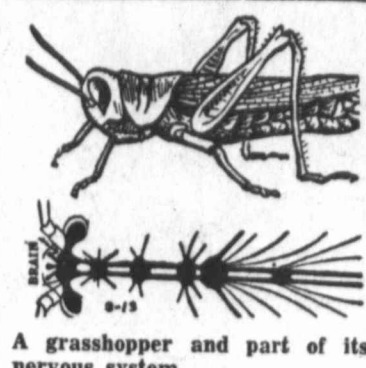

Celler said he hopes to finish committee consideration during the day, but will continue to meet the rest of the week if necessary. He said the committee will positively act this week.
Among the amendments Southerners have prepared are language changes that would guarantee jury trial of persons accused of violating injunctions issued in civil rights cases; deprive the proposed civil rights investigating commission of subpoena powers; and strike out the provision for a special assistant attorney general in charge of civil rights matters or reduce the size of the staff to be authorized for him.
One amendment which seemed likely to be adopted was one, not sponsored primarily by the Southern group, to set up guarantees against discrimination because of religion. Both Celler and Keating said they favored replacing the religious provisions which were deleted during subcommittee consideration of the bill.
The amendment defeated yesterday after more than two hours of discussion would have stripped the bill of all its provisions except the investigating commission.

Uncle Ray: Bones Are Lacking In Bodies Of Insects

By RAMON COFFMAN
Insects make up a vast proportion of the "animal life" on earth. There are more insects than all the reptiles, birds and furry animals combined.
Insects differ widely from people in the way they are made. Insects are without bones of any kind. Some insects have ears on their legs!
A human being has four limbs (two arms and two legs) and a furry animal has four legs. An insect (that is, an adult insect) has six legs.
Spiders have eight legs, but they are classed as "arachnids."
Q. What kind of nervous system does an insect have?
A. Insects differ in various ways, but let us accept the grasshopper as a representative of many (but not all) members of the insect tribe.
A grasshopper has a brain composed of two bundles of cells which are joined together by nerves. Running back from the head are two lines of nerve cells. Marking the double-line are nine ganglia, or bundles of nerve cells.
Q. What senses do insects have?
A. They have the five "regular senses," and can see, feel, hear, taste and touch.
Q. What are the eyes of insects like?
A. A typical adult insect has one pair of compound eyes, also two or more simple eyes. I say "adult" insect because most insects are without compound eyes during their early stages as pupae and larvae.
A compound eye has hundreds (sometimes thousands) of facets. It is believed that each compound eye gives a picture like that of a mosaic.
Q. What about the simple eyes?
A. Sometimes they are set in the front of the head, but more often they are on the top.

CONSTIPATED? new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.
TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.
ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.
SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

The Wholesome Type

Radiant health means more to Karen Steele than anything else in the world because she once experienced the misfortune of spending a year of her life confined to a sick room. Karen is one of the most promising young actresses on the screen today. She will soon be seen starring opposite John Payne in the Pine-Thomas production, "Ball Out At 43,000."

Some Special Tips On Make-Up Of Your Eyes

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Ever since Karen Steele played the sister-in-law to Marty in the Academy Award winning film of that name, her career has been zooming. She's been busy on TV and has won a long term contract with Samuel Goldwyn Jr., and she is currently starring opposite John Payne in "Ball Out At 43,000."

When I had tea with Karen the other day she had gratitude and praise for all Hollywood had taught her. She gives the impression of being able to handle success with no problems.

"The make-up men are simply wonderful. I look best without make-up because I have a clear complexion and they were quick to recognize this, so I wear only a very thin film of make-up base, even when I am working. But they also taught me that having large, blue eyes and long lashes are not enough but that I need careful eye make-up to balance my face."

"There is a technique to making up the eyes subtly," Karen explained. "They told me to use a dark-brown pencil on the outer half of my upper lashes but not line the lower lashes."

"I like dark-brown pencil but black, water-proof mascara. I tried several different kinds but my favorite comes in a tube. The cake-type you use with hot water gives a natural effect but the film was too thin for my light lashes," she admitted.

"I think individuality is the one thing everyone can have. You may not be as beautiful as someone else, but if you try to make a trademark out of what you have, you will be remembered," she continued.

"People in Hollywood have mentioned that I have a wholesome quality. This is not accident. I take very good care of myself. I don't drink or smoke, and I try to get eight to ten hours sleep. And I do believe that we are what we eat."

"I am fond of everything that is good for me. This may sound dull to some people but radiant health brings me more pleasure than burning the candle at both ends ever could."

"Maybe I appreciate health more than most people because at one time I was so ill that I was out of school for more than a year. This gave me time to think, to value health, to be grateful and not to take anything for granted," Karen concluded.

musical selections and told a story in song. Marvin Bell was master of ceremonies for the play.

The fifth grade of Mrs. Sylvan Dalmont gave the audience "A Trip Around the World in Song." Lydia Coats was leader. They also showed some scientific experiments. This grade won the room count.

Mrs. W. T. Brewer was elected president; Mrs. Vernon Smith, vice president; Mrs. Elvin Barden, secretary and Mrs. Elmer Simpson, treasurer. All will be delegates to the conference to be held in Big Spring March 28.

Brownies Give Tea For Mothers

Brownie Troop 3-7 members were hostesses for a tea Tuesday afternoon given for their mothers.

Refreshments were served by Kay Slate, Jennie Bean, Karen Campbell, Kay Statser and Karen Brackeen.

Attending were Mrs. Craig Campbell, Mrs. Jim Tyler, Mrs. L. B. Brackeen, Mrs. Charlie Brede-meyer, Mrs. Luther Bean and Mrs. A. J. Statser.

Mrs. Irbly Fleming is leader of the troop, with Mrs. Wally Slate and Mrs. Bob McClellan as assistants.

Ex-Residents Visit

Guests in the home of Capt. and Mrs. R. G. Thompson have been Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Alexander; they are former residents of Big Spring, who have been in Las Vegas, Nev. The Alexanders are on their way to Virginia, where she will remain for a three months visit before joining her husband in French Morocco.

Cantata Is Cast

At a meeting of the East Fourth Baptist Church Drama Club, parts were assigned for the Easter cantata; this is scheduled for presentation at the evening service at the church April 14. The group met at the church and will meet again Monday at 7 p. m. for practice on the production, which is "Claudia's First Easter."

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

Spring couldn't have done herself a prouder job than to turn out such a beautiful day for the coffee Tuesday morning at the Cosden Club. For such a nice affair there was no sand in the air and not even a high wind, and the ladies took advantage of it to show off some of their spring finery.

Two of the hostesses, MRS. L. T. KING and MRS. ROXIE DOBBINS fashioned some most attractive clay pipes for the affair which featured the St. Patrick's day theme. After the many ruffled cloths, the pretty plain green cloth bordered with darker green gave a nice 'tailored' look to the table.

All the hostesses were most attractive in their spring cottons, especially MRS. JACK SMITH who wore an aqua and white polka dot frock with aqua slippers and matching cummerbund.

MRS. JOE MOSS wore a pretty plaid jacket of red, gray, white and yellow over a gray sheath. Her hat was a small black sailor and she wore her blonde hair in a neat bun. We hadn't seen MRS. FELTON SMITH since she resigned her job at the AAA office. She has recently returned from a vacation trip to San Diego.

Also saw MRS. FRANK SEARCY who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shive and her brother, Bert Shive and his family. The Searcys live in Ponca City and will return there from Fort Worth where they will spend several days after their visit here. MRS. RAY WHITE was pretty in a flowered pink hat, which she wore with a pastel pink knit suit.

MRS. ROBERT CURRIE who is always attractively dressed wore a tailored deep gray cotton with touches of red at the throat. Her black straw hat was trimmed with a gray white and red chiffon band.

MRS. ORLAND JOHNSON'S hat was a tiny little thing of yellow straw surrounded with matching flowers and covered with maline. Her gloves picked up the color of the hat.

Having a lot of fun were MRS. ISLA MAVIS, MRS. MARVIN YOUNG and MRS. LOUISE COOK of Plainview all of whom are former residents of Big Spring and the mother and sisters of Mrs. Dobbins and Mrs. Ward Hall. Also with them was MRS. JIMMIE MASON of Lubbock, the daughter - in - law of Mrs. Cook. They were all guests in the Hall home during their stay here.

MRS. RUSSELL BLISS also a former Big Springer who now lives in Ruidoso, N. M., was doing her share of the chatting with her many friends here.

The pretty white ribbon hats seem to be taking the place of the fur ones that were so popular during the winter season. There are many different shapes and sizes and them as in their predecessors and everyone who has one looks good in it.

MRS. JIM LEWIS, MRS. J. E. HOGAN and MRS. J. L. MILNER have three of the prettiest so far as these eyes see.

MRS. R. W. BURLESON, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cofer and their children, has returned to her home in Roth, Okla. She is Mrs. Cofer's mother.

MR. AND MRS. W. A. HENRY spent the weekend in Abilene where he underwent treatment.

Guests of the N. C. BELLS over the weekend were their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. HENSCH, Sarah and Robert of San Antonio.

JUDY JONES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, had a painful experience last weekend when she broke her foot while vacationing at Indian Lodge in the Davis Mountains. She is doing very well on her crutches even though she is slowed down considerably.

The second grade, under the supervision of Mrs. J. A. Dean, gave a play, "A Trick on Mr. Rabbit"; that grade won the room count.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Lt. Bruce Sweeney, Webb Air Force Base's fine all-around athlete, is now rated ninth in the nation and 25th in the world in the 400-meter hurdles race.

The jet-propelled jet flier from Lewiston, Idaho, covered the distance in 52.2 in the National AAU meet in Bakersfield, Calif., last June 22.

Included among candidates for Webb's track team this year are Stan Green, from the University of Washington athlete, who has run the quarter in 49 seconds; and Bill Nottingham, who has pole vaulted 13 feet 6 inches.

Incidentally, plans are in the making at Webb for a lighted baseball diamond, complete with a fence. The local base already has a lighted softball field.

Athletic facilities are constantly being improved at Webb. A nine-hole golf course, with grass greens and fairways, is to open shortly. The driving range located in the extreme eastern part of the base re-opens shortly. The field boasts two swimming pools and a bowling alley that has been kept busy all winter.

Now, a big new gymnasium is being talked for the base.

Unless Dallas hotels relent, Southern California's Trojans may not fly there in May for their four-way track and field meet, which would have ACC, SMU and Texas as the other teams.

So far, Coach Jess Mortensen of SC hasn't been able to make reservations for his colored athletes in any of Big D's leading hostels and school policy forbids the school to split the squad and send the Negroes to a second-rate hotel.

Beaumont baseball boosters, whose long-range plans include re-entry into the Texas League, have gone out and sold $30,000 worth of advance tickets for the Big State league home club.

The drive just about assures the financial success of the team. Pittsburgh moved its farm club there from Waco during the winter.

The word is going around now that Glynn Gregory, Abilene's great athlete, has decided to play football in college and will pass up that baseball bonus offer.

When Coach Paul Bryant received that Cadillac from Texas Aggie Exes recently, his assistant mentors weren't overlooked.

Checks for $1,000 went to each one, including three who are now holding jobs at other schools.

The Friday night fights will continue to be televised for at least two years.

A $100,000 contract has been signed between Jim Norris' fight group and Gillette to continue the video scraps.

That represents a cost of about $100,000 per show.

Big Spring's Mike Smith needs only to improve his pole vault a little to contest Midland's Olan Davis for district honors in the form vault. He's got fine potential.

STEERS WIN ONE

Stellar Hurling Sinks Plainview

Roy Baird's Big Spring Steers made an impressive baseball debut here Tuesday afternoon, blanking Plainview on one hit, 8-0.

The pitching trio of Billy Blumm, Bobby Suggs and Chubby Moser never gave the Bulldogs a look-in and their mates backed them up with some timely safeties.

Nine errors contributed nothing to the Plainview effort, either. Blumm toiled the first three innings and surrendered the lone safety a third inning single by Bill Reeves robbed the Big Spring hurlers of a no-hitter.

Suggs took over in the fourth and in two innings, permitted two runners to reach base—both on walks.

Moser finished up and whiffed six batters in two innings, while issuing a lone free ticket.

Plainview never got a runner past second base.

The Steers wasted little time in going ahead. With two down in the first, Preston Daniels tied into one of Wayne Sistrunk's fast balls and drove it over the wall in left field.

The locals picked up two more runs in the second on three hits and a brace of Plainview mistakes and another in the third without the aid of a safety.

Hits by Moser and Daniels, following a walk to Glenn Whittington and sandwiched around a couple of errors, enabled the Longhorns to close out with a three-run sixth.

The victory enabled the Steers to equal their win output for the entire 1956 season, at which time they beat only Crane. They next play Andrews in Andrews next Tuesday.

Gail Harris Off To Great Start In Spring Drills

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Smooth-swinging Gail Harris, who perennially tries to win a first base job with the New York Giants, again is off to a blazing spring start.

This time, the 25-year-old Harris, who yesterday delivered the second winning blow and has driven across 13 runs in four Giant exhibition games, may be ready.

"I'm more relaxed than I've ever been and I'm not pressing," said Harris after his three-run homer in the ninth gave the Giants a 9-8 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles. It was his second homer of the game and third of the cat-cus league campaign.

Harris, who batted .270 and a dinked 24 homers for Minneapolis of the American Assn. last season, slashed a bases-loaded single in the 10th to win for the Giants Sunday, also by a 9-8 count over the Cleveland Indians.

The first sacker from Abingdon, Va., now hitting .500 with 8 hits in 18 trips could be a big help in Manager Bill Rigney's effort to hoist the Giants out of their sixth-place National League berth.

Rigney has a crying need for a cleanup batter to hit behind brilliant Willie Mays in the No. 3 spot. Rigney already has tested big Hank Sauer and Dusty Rhodes in the No. 4 batting position, but it looks like the job may be going for quite a spell. Gail could be the man.

Harris has been batting fifth and twice now has slammed a lead across five runs in a game. He did it yesterday with his pair of homers and also on Sunday against the Indians with a homer and two singles.

"Gail has as much strength to hit for distance as anybody on the club, except Willie Mays," said Rigney.

Steer Netters Are Blanked

SWEETWATER (SC) — Big Spring High School tennisists were shut out in four matches played with Sweetwater racquet-wielders here Tuesday afternoon.

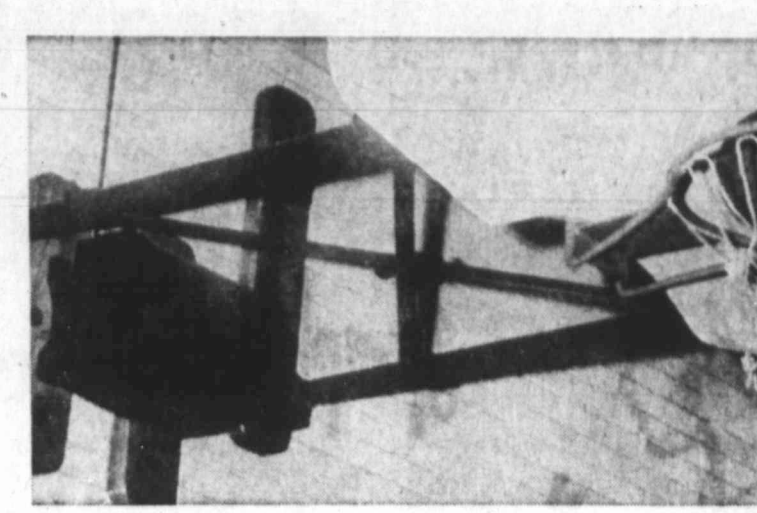

Robert Stripling, Big Spring's No. 1 single player, was dropped by Bruno Mason, 6-3, 6-3. The Mustangs' regular doubles team of Jim Strange and Earl Smith fashioned a win over the Steer twosome of Jesse McElreath and Allen Glaser, 6-1, 6-0.

Wayland Jones, Sweetwater, turned back Royce Rainey, Big Spring, 6-0, 6-0, in the No. 2 singles test while James Howard Stephens, Big Spring, lost to Mike Brumby, Sweetwater, in the No. 3 singles bout, 6-0, 6-0.

The two teams play a return match in Big Spring a week from today.

McIlhenny Signs

DALLAS (AP)—Don McIlhenny, former SMU halfback and Harley Sewall, former University of Texas guard, signed yesterday for another season with the Detroit Lions.

Truex Stock Booms Here

The stock of little Max Truex, one of the Olympic runners Truex, California will send to the ABC Relays here this weekend, boomed last Saturday night following his surprising victory in the two-mile race over John Macy of Houston in the Milwaukee Journal Games.

Truex, a lightweight who hails from Warsaw, Ind., was clocked in 8:56.7. He beat Macy, also an ABC entry, by 12 yards. It was the third best clocking of the season for the race and set a new meet record.

In winning, Max got his first taste of running on the boards and he said he liked it.

Truex had to overhaul Macy twice to win. Macy was timed in 8:57.8.

The Southern Cal speedster holds the U.S. record for the 5,000-meters race (14:22.8) and the five-mile mark (24:22.8).

His best previous time in the two-mile was clocked out-of-doors — 9:01.5.

The old record at Milwaukee, 9:14.5, was set by Richard Ferguson of the University of Iowa.

Lamesa High School will send a team to Big Spring headed by R. D. Ross, who broke the mile record in the high school division of last year's meet, when he covered the distance in 4:43.5.

Ross suffered a surprising defeat at the hands of Bobby Cunningham of Littlefield in the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder last week, but a strong south wind was saddled with part of the blame. Cunningham was timed in 4:56.5.

Cunningham will also be an entry in the Big Spring meet.

Lamesas who placed at Snyder included Rod Mathews, fourth in the 440-yard dash; and Wilbur Menix, who tied for fourth in the pole vault.

The Tornados will be brought here by Coach Don Short.

Odessa rules as a slight choice in the high school division here.

Coach Lacy Turner has entered 42 boys. The Bronchos scored 37 points in winning first place in the Canyon Reef Relays at Snyder last week.

Jack Tayrien in the discus, W. A. Kennedy in the pole vault and Paul Thorpe in the broad jump appear to be Odessa's best bets.

The 33 high schools which have entered teams so far are: Odessa, Big Spring, Roby, Cisco, McCamey, Portales, N.M., Lubbock, Monterey, Borger, Clovis, Lovington, N.M., Winters, Sweetwater, Lamesa, Anson, Pampa, Stanton, Midland, Levelland, Ysleta, Snyder, Dumas, Brownfield, Littlefield, Plainview, Ballinger, San Angelo, Anton, Lake View of San Angelo, Tom S. Lubbock, White Deer, Big Lake, Abilene and Hermleigh.

The seven junior colleges which have entered teams are HCJC, Odessa, Amarillo, Cisco, Tarleton, Arlington and Blinn.

San Angelo College Moves Into Region V Title Go

AMARILLO (SC) — San Angelo College, one-point conqueror of HCJC in the preliminaries, walloped the Clarendon Bulldogs, 81-67, here Tuesday night to move into the finals of the Region V basketball tournament.

Tonight, the Rams tangle with Frank Phillips of Borger for the right to take part in the National Junior College tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., later this month.

Frank Phillips, belted Schroeder, 88-72, in its semi-final test. Phil Addison led the Rams to victory, tossing in 23 points. The Angelenos took a lead after ten minutes of play in the first half they never lost.

Frank Trevino had 18 points and Bill Miles 16 for Angelo. Jay Hawley also hit in the double figures for the Rams, collecting 12 points.

Carroll Williamson, who scorched the nets for 33 points in his first game of the tournament, tailed off to 17 for Phillips.

Audie Apple, Charles Langen and Jerry Hall each scored 21 for the Plainmen.

Clarendon and Schroeder meet in the battle for third place at 7 o'clock tonight. The title game goes on at 9 p.m.

AUSTIN (AP)—Port Arthur landed three men on the Conference AAAA All-State Basketball Tournament team announced today by the Texas Sportswriters Assn.

Carroll Broussard of the Yellow Jackets, and Steve Strange of Highland Park were unusual selections.

Other selections were Jerry Franklin and Walter Sharp of Port Arthur and Sam Condo of Pampa. Port Arthur won its first state basketball championship in last week's meet.

In Conference AAA, Ira Ephraim of Pecos missed unanimous selection by two ballots. Seven were chosen in the conference, the result of a three-way tie between Leo Runnels of Smiley, Monroe Brewer of Nacogdoches, and Jimmy Hammel of Edison of San Antonio for the fifth position.

Others were Edison's Bill McLaughlin, Lewis Qualls of Smiley and Billy Simmons of Pecos.

Honorable mention in Conference AAA went to Ollie Shipley, Doug Funk and Bob Dowd of Austin; Jerry Pope, Dick Mauldin and Bill Brown of Pampa; Charles Pace, Highland Park.

Honorable mention in Conference AAA went to Eugene Walker, Pecos; J. B. Watson, Jerry Graham and Dick Beard, of Smiley; Bill Spears and Bill Holloway of Nacogdoches; and Claude Feste of Edison.

Greaves And Webb Tangle Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Will Greaves, a young middleweight with firm experience, has his sights set on Gene Fullmer's title and figures the best way to meet the champion is by beating fourth-ranked Spider Webb in a 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium tonight.

Greaves, of Pittsburgh, who has had only 17 professional fights, is a string of 19 straight victories, including 12 knockouts.

Webb, one of Chicago's brightest fistic prospects, has come along quickly since he left the Army a year ago. A member of the 1952 Olympic team, Spider has lost once in 21 pro fights and is riding a string of 19 straight victories, including 12 knockouts.

Greaves, 21, has an 8-5-1 record. Webb is a 3-1 favorite.

ABG will telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Tallest Trotter

Rangiest member of the Harlem Globe Trotters basketball team, which plays here Sunday afternoon, is Stan Spencer, who uses his 6-foot-7-inches to dunk the ball in the above picture.

One of the most popular members of basketball's most celebrated team, Sam Wheeler will lend his gifted touch to the Harlem Globetrotters when they play the Honolulu Surfiders at 5 p.m. Sunday here in the High School Gym.

Cage fans have taken this fellow to their hearts ever since he first started his activities with the Trotters twelve seasons back, and he grows in popularity with each passing year. He's got that certain something that makes an outstanding Globetrotter. Sam is a fine all-around player, and more than that, a real entertainer. He's one of the top comedians in the Globetrotter organization. In fact, he's rated one of the funniest men in all sports.

Wheeler, a six-foot one-inch athlete, came to the Globetrotters after a spectacular sports career at Philander Smith College in Arkansas. He was outstanding in basketball and continued in both of those sports in pro ranks upon his graduation. Luckily, his path crossed that of Abe Saperstein, famed sports figure and owner of the Trotters, as soon as he had gone into the play-for-pay ranks and both have profited by the association ever since.

Wheeler has been a member of Saperstein baseball teams, as well as the Globetrotters of basketball, ever since and bids fair to go on for another half dozen years at least. He keeps himself in top shape at all times.

On the court, Sam is exceptionally fast and clever, an excellent basket shooter and strong defensively. He's the fellow who will come through under pressure—a real competitor.

He's popular with his teammates and usually is the center of a group of them when the Trotters go sightseeing on their constant world-wide travels. Sam's a camera bug and is always snapping everything under the sun on these trips.

Sam Wheeler Is Trotters' Vet

IMPERIAL (SC) — The Big Spring Steerettes ran their worst record in girls' volleyball to date by trouncing Imperial, 29-17, here Tuesday evening.

Freda Donica served successfully nine times for Big Spring while Barbara Hale did stellar work at the net for the Steerettes. Carol Brown had six points as the Imperial leader.

The Big Spring reserves also won 29-21, for their 15th victory in 19 starts. The Bees have yet to lose to another school's reserve team.

In that one, Barbara Coffee counted 15 points for Big Spring. Sue Smith and Linda Holguin each had three for Imperial.

The Steerettes play in the Plainview tournament this weekend.

Anna Smith's Big Springers Win

After 100th Win

PLAINVIEW (AP)—The Hutchinson Flying Queens of Wayland College seek their 100th straight basketball victory tomorrow night when they play their final pre-AAU tournament game.

The first assistant's salary exceeded $6,000 for 1957-58.

A proposal for assignment of a full-time caretaker to the new football stadium was approved by the board. The proposal calls for Howard County Junior College and the Big Spring Independent School District to share the cost of the maintenance program.

HCJC trustees have not taken action on the plan. The custodian's salary is to be $2,850. He will live in a house at the stadium.

Malouf Is Formally Hired As Big Spring Grid Aide

Election of Mitchell Malouf, former of Kermit, as first assistant football coach at a salary of $5,800 per year was approved last night by school trustees.

The school board also authorized payment of $125 toward Malouf's expenses of moving to Big Spring.

The coach's salary was set with the stipulation that in case a state salary increase is granted this year, no more than $200 of the increase will be added to Malouf's pay.

In no event, trustees said, shall

Tar Heels (28-0) Must Now Hurdle Canisius

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

Powerful North Carolina was on its way to Philadelphia today to resume the hectic NCAA basketball tournament struggle and boasting a 28-0 record that dangerous little Canisius College would love to smash.

The Tar Heels, the nation's No. 1 team, turned on the gas in the second half last night to thump Yale's Ivy League champions in the first round of the Eastern NCAA regionals at New York 90-74.

Canisius, of Buffalo, N. Y., humbled West Virginia, the Southern Conference champs, 64-56. Syracuse marched past Connecticut 82-76 in other games on the Madison Square Garden tripe-leader.

At Columbus, Ohio, Notre Dame racked up its 10th straight victory by clipping Miami (Ohio) 89-77, while the Pittsburgh Panthers took a last-gasp verdict from Morehead (Ky.) 86-85 in the Midwest regionals.

One contest was played in the West regional, with Oklahoma City University trouncing Loyola of New Orleans 76-55 at Oklahoma City.

This completed a field of 16 teams for the next phase of the annual college scramble Friday night. The Friday winners tangle Saturday, with four teams surviving for the semifinals and finals at Kansas City March 22 and 23.

Here's the pairings for Friday: Philadelphia, East regional — Lafayette (22-3) vs. Syracuse (17-6) and North Carolina (28-0) vs. Canisius (21-3).

Lexington, Midwest regional — Kentucky (22-4) vs. Pitt (16-9) and Notre Dame (19-7) vs. Michigan State (15-7).

Dallas, West regional — St. Louis (19-7) vs. Oklahoma City (18-9) and Kansas (21-2) vs. Southern Methodist (21-3).

Corvallis, Far West regional — Brigham Young (18-8) vs. California (20-4) and Idaho State (25-2) vs. San Francisco (18-6).

Meanwhile, the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City enters the second round with 16 teams headed by top-seeded Pacific Lutheran still alive.

First-round play was completed yesterday with Pacific Lutheran downing Elon 76-61.

PITCHERS SHINE

Indians Concede Yankees Nothing

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians refuse to subscribe to the popular belief that the New York Yankees only have to show up to win the American League race again.

When asked the other day if maybe he didn't think the Yankees would win the pennant, rookie Manager Kerby Farrell barked: "I do not. I concede the Yankees nothing. They have to beat us to win it and you can bet we'll give them a fight."

Farrell has no worries about his front-line pitchers. Three of them loosened up in yesterday's 8-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs at Tucson, Ariz. Bob Lemon gave up only one hit in the first three innings. Then Art Houtteman yielded three in the middle three and Don Missi held the Cubs to two in the final three.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, always hot during the exhibition season, won their fourth game without a defeat by turning back the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4, at Tampa.

Both Local Teams Yield Ground In Midland Loop

Cosden lost ground to West Texas Reproduction and Basin Electric reaped the spoils of the Midland National Bank 4-0.

Lone Star Beer eased past Pinkie's 3-1, while Basin Electric capitalized on the break by belting Honolulu Oil, 3-1. Basin Electric now leads Pinkie's by two points in the battle for third place.

In other matches last night, West Texas Brick and Tile won over Ray's Rendezvous, 3-1; the same margin by which Fashion Beauty felled I. W. Hynds, 3-1.

Cosden posted scores of 621-836-706-2163 while Pearl Beer countered with 721-733-640-3099.

Oliver Cable and Sugar Brown led the Cosden pin-toppers. Olive had 206-502, Sugar 193-523.

Pinkie's came through with team efforts of 648-747-726-2121, compared with 756-716-752-2224 for Lone Star Beer.

Mary Ruth Robertson had 211-497 as the leader for Pinkie's.

East, Colonials, Heights And West Win In Softball

East Ward racked up North Ward, 8-4; Washington Place turned back Park Hill, 17-4; College Heights registered a win over Airport, 11-7; and West Ward upended Kate Morrison, 5-4, in Ward School softball league play here Tuesday afternoon.

Tony Loftis hurled East to victory. The Greenies were slow in getting a start and did all their scoring after the third inning.

Tommy Earhart was on the mound for Washington and was opposed by Jerry Reichbour.

Joe Heard and Mickey Sloan divided time on the mound for College Heights. The team was belted in the third but surged ahead with a six-run fourth.

Donnie Anderson pitched West Ward to victory, sheding Tony Dutcher in a mound duel.

The score was deadlocked after six innings of play but Dutcher then walked the bases full and West came up with a base hit to send what proved to be the winning run across the plate.

Steer, Jayhawk Golfers Split

Big Spring High School and HCJC golfers split in two matches played at the Munny course here Tuesday.

Lefty Charley Morris upset HCJC's Eddie Don Harris, 1 up 19 holes, in one match but the Jayhawks' Gerald Scott trounced the Steers' Donald Lovelady, 5-4, in the other test.

Eight high school boys may play Webb AFB's links team Thursday at the Munny. Next Tuesday, Coach John Yates is to take his Steer team to Andrews for a meet.

Folley Knocks Out Texan In Second

PHOENIX (AP)—Zora Folley, 197, sixth-ranking heavyweight, knocked out Johnny Hollins of Austin, Tex., last night in 1:29 of the second round in their 10-round bout.

Folley floored Hollins with a left to the body and a short right to the ear after moving in with terrific flurries in the first round. Hollins, 200, attempted to stagger up at the 10-count.

In a 10-round co-feature, Charles Salas, 191, a former Phoenix fighter now living in Los Angeles, won a split decision over Mel Barker, 150, of Austin.

Forsan Triumphs In District Tilt

FORSAN (SC)—Forsan won its second straight game in District 19-B girls' volleyball play here Tuesday evening, defeating Sterling City, 42-15.

Oleta Daniels, with Nedelene Pitcock and Gaye Griffith doing fine work at the net, scored 15 points for Forsan. Forsan led at half time, 20-10.

The Forsan Junior High team also bested Sterling, 50-10.

The Forsan team plays San Angelo at 6:30 o'clock Friday in the first round of the Paint Rock tournament.

Bronx Student Gets Crack At $256,000 Quiz

NEW YORK (U)—A 19-year-old Bronx schoolboy, a whiz at science, gets first crack at winning a possible $256,000 on a television quiz show.

He's Robert Strom, whose knowledge of chemistry, physics, astrophysics, astronomy and other sciences is astounding.

Robert gave an example of his talent last night by collecting the top prize on the CBS "The $64,000 Question" to qualify for what the network calls "the world's biggest" TV quiz show prize.

Young Strom fielded four tricky questions to win the $64,000 prize. One example: The French astronomer Messier calculated, by number, different star clusters and nebulae. To what did he assign the number 13?

He reeled off the answer promptly: Great star cluster in Hercules. The other three questions were equally hard, but Robert answered them with ease.

Just prior to the show, the sponsor, Revlon cosmetics, announced the prize system was being changed and raised to a possible $256,000.

Under a new prize system, anyone winning $64,000 will be qualified to try and double, triple or quadruple that sum for a possible $256,000 total.

Winners of more than $64,000 will be paid over a three-year period, a spokesman said, because of the income tax problem.

The reason for boosting the prize, a spokesman said, was that "The $64,000 Question" had fallen behind a competitor.

Charles Van Doren, a Columbia University instructor, won $129,000 before being eliminated Monday night from NBC's "Twenty-One" show. It was the largest amount won by any contestant on a single TV show.

Girls Seek To Get Load Off Chests

LONDON (U)—A group of British girls who measure more than 40 inches around the chest have banded together in an effort to solve their growing problems.

"We plan to write to clothes manufacturers and put forward our troubles," pretty brunette Lee Anderson (41-23-37) said today.

Applicants for membership in the Over 40 Inch Club must only pass the tape measure test.

"I have a 40-23-36 figure," sighted Marypey Browne, organizers of the club, "and manufacturers just do not cater to girls like me."

She explained that despite that "over 40" in the club's name, precisely 40-inch bosoms are also eligible for membership.

"Unfortunately," she added, "we can't lower our standards and take in the 39s. But their problems are not as great as ours. Lots of clothes makers think about the 39s."

"Clothes which do fit us are too motherly for teen-agers, and if you want to get the perfect fit you have to pay the earth."

"Swim suits and underwear are also a headache," chimed in Joy Adams (41½-26-38).

"Most of the bras that fit me are pink satin and strictly for matrons."

Joy said garments designed for the over 40s are for older women with figures as generous around the waist as round the chest: "Sack-like effects on us."

President Anderson reported subjects other than clothes came up at the organizational meeting—wolf whistles, for one thing.

"We don't really mind them," said Joyce Gardiner. "What girl would? But they can be monotonous and at times embarrassing. However, we took no action."

Poison Candy Sent To Singer

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Police said today that someone sent a box of chocolates to blues singer Dinah Washington that could have proved fatal had she eaten them. The chocolates contained slivers of glass.

Miss Washington said she had no idea who the sender could be. U.S. postal inspectors have been called into the case, police said.

Jack Gordon, Zardi's manager, said the nightclub features white and Negro jazz musicians and singers. Audiences also are mixed.

He said he scoffed at any idea that the plot was aimed at Miss Washington because of her race.

Stassen's Swan Song?

WASHINGTON (U)—Harold E. Stassen leaves today for London and talks which may be his swan song as President Eisenhower's special assistant for disarmament. He is representing the United States at a meeting of the United Nations Disarmament Commission's subcommittee. There have been persistent reports that he plans to quit his post when that meeting ends.

Stassen denied these reports March 1, but at the same time, he declined to comment on other reports that he is thinking about running for governor of Pennsylvania next year.

At 50, Stassen is both a young man politically and a veteran politician. Aside from carrying on his disarmament responsibilities, he is known to be wrestling with a personal decision on his political future.

His friends say he has not yet decided whether to run for Republican nomination as governor of Pennsylvania or stay on as Eisenhower's disarmament aide or in some other Washington capacity.

Stassen, onetime "boy" governor of Minnesota and later president of the University of Pennsylvania, long has nurtured presidential ambitions.

He fell out of political favor among Eisenhower administration faithful last year. He fought virtually a one-man campaign to knock Vice President Nixon off the Eisenhower ticket. His effort was a resounding failure.

Since then, his disarmament office has been moved into the State Department, and although

Two-Headed Calf Surprises Rancher

R. T. Shafer, who ranches at Vincent, had a real surprise recently when he found one of his registered Herefords had given birth to a two-headed calf. While two-headed animals are not too uncommon, Shafer said it had never happened to him before.

The calf had two full-sized and apparently perfectly formed heads. Shafer reasoned that it was born dead. He had followed the cow about two miles the day before and the next morning when he went out to feed, he found her with the dead calf lying beside her. He could find no indications that it had ever moved.

By examining the calf it was found that both heads were normal and that the necks were joined at the third vertebra. The calf had two complete windpipes connected with a single pair of lungs. The esophagus, or gullets, were joined about three inches in front of the stomach. A rudimentary heart was attached to a well developed heart.

Shafer has farmed and ranched in the Vincent community for 59 years and now has about 60 registered Herefords. "I have ranched a long time and have had cows with twin calves, but I've never seen one like this," he declared.

"The mother was one of my two best cows. I've kept her for 15 years because she had a healthy calf for every year of her life.

he retains his title he takes policy direction from Secretary Dulles rather than consulting directly with Eisenhower.

STRANGE HEREFORD
... one body, two heads

This is the first one she has ever lost," he said.

"It's an interesting occurrence but I'm not too happy about it. It's the first calf I've lost this year and a choice cow's record is broken," he added.

Exotic Eggs

PEORIA, Ill. (U)—Clarence Begner's 40 Araucana hens from Chile don't lay golden eggs, but they do produce them in two shades of pastel green, blue and pink—and occasionally in stripes. Begner, a shipping supervisor, has made exotic poultry his hobby.

Texan Dies At Age 100

ENNIS (U)—Robert Louis Sparkman, who drove his father's covered wagon to Texas as a boy of 12, died yesterday at the age of 100.

Sparkman often related how during his youth he watched cowboys shoot it out in front of saloons. He said he never smoked or drank himself and stayed out of gunfights.

His father, a Confederate veteran, was ill, so Sparkman said he drove the family's covered wagon from Cookeville, Miss., to Texas. The 600-mile trip took six weeks and three days.

The family settled in Heelstring, now called Bristol.

Sparkman said the town got its earlier name because "all they did for entertainment there was square dance and they used to dance until their heelsstrings (tendons) were sore."

Woman Plunges 80 Feet Into Pool

ST. LOUIS (U)—A woman plunged from a fourth-floor window of a YWCA building yesterday, crashed through a plastic skylight and into an indoor swimming pool 80 feet below.

Miss Luzia Klauer, 35, a German refugee, suffered a pelvic fracture as she landed in five feet of water.

She said she had climbed onto a chair to open a window in her room. She slipped and fell out. She was taken to City Hospital, where her condition was described as serious.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13, 1957 SEC. B

Election On School Bonds May Be Set For April 20

While Chamber of Commerce representatives have been circulating petitions for an $800,000 school bond election, school officials have been making plans for the election and for sale of a portion of the bonds.

Trustees have agreed to a contract with Rauscher Pierce Company, an investment concern, for the handling of legal and technical aspects of a bond election and sale of bonds.

And although no petitions for an election have been received, the trustees said last night the vote probably will be scheduled for April 20.

Contract with Rauscher Pierce was approved last Thursday after Carter Ohnson, representative of the firm, showed the school board a schedule for retirement of $400,000 of the $800,000 issue. Johnson said his company would attend to details of the bond issue election and sale of the first $400,000 in bonds for $4.50 per $1,000. The firm would get $3 per $1,000 of the $400,000 to be sold at a later time.

Trustees said last night that they propose to sell $400,000 of the proposed bonds immediately, if the issue is approved by voters.

Proceeds would be used in the construction of a second junior high school for the city.

Balance of the issue would be held, unsold, probably for use in expansion of the high school at some future date. Board members said that present plans call for high school enlargement when the need becomes apparent, but that the money might be used for other purposes if a greater need developed elsewhere.

Some $600,000 now in the school's building fund, plus $400,000 of the proposed bond issue, would go into junior high school construction and the addition of six classrooms to the North Ward building. It has been estimated that $400,000 may be needed in about three years to enlarge the high school to accommodate the anticipated increase in enrollment.

The new school bond issue was proposed by the Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which is circulating the petitions.

Garden City School Head Is Re-Elected

GARDEN CITY — W. A. Wilson, who is serving out his fifth year as superintendent of schools at Garden City, was re-elected Monday evening to another term.

The board of trustees for the Glasscock County Independent School District also re-elected B. L. Murphy as high school principal and Roy Thurston as elementary principal.

Wilson, who took both his BA and MA degrees at North Texas State College in the field of education, came to Garden City from Coahoma, where he had been high school principal. The Garden City school, which serves all of Glasscock County, has a staff of 16 and an enrollment of 225.

Trustees set the trustee election for April 6 with boxes at Garden City, Lee's Store, St. Lawrence, and Solio Camp. Although there has been no formal announcement, it is assumed that J. B. Calverley, board secretary, Lloyd Jones and Fred Hoelscher, whose terms expire, will again permit their names to be placed on the ballot.

Snowed Under

KANSAS CITY — Kansas City voters yesterday snowed under a proposal for a 1 per cent municipal earnings tax. The unofficial count showed 80,233 votes against the charter amendment necessary to enact the tax, 20,841 for it.

New Traffic Signs Authorized, R&R Firm Gets TV Franchise

Requests for stop and yield-right-of-way signs met with the city commission's approval Tuesday night, as the group went through an agenda filled with zoning changes, budget matters, and closed-circuit television services.

The Citizens' Traffic Commission submitted four proposals to the city which were approved. In addition, another yield sign was added to the list.

As a result, (1) a stop sign will be erected on Douglas for Dallas, (2) yield signs will be placed on dirt corners of the Second and Lancaster intersection, (3) a stop sign will be installed on 18th at Douglas, (4) yield signs will be placed on all streets crossing Washington except Lincoln where stop signs will be erected, (5) the curbs at the Eleventh and Owens corner will be marked "no parking" 20 feet back from the turn, and (6) a yield sign will be erected on Eighth at Goliad.

All but the last were submitted by the CTC.

MOVIE CIRCUIT

Ike Robb and R&R Theatres attorney R. H. Weaver presented a letter to the commission asking for a franchise to operate a closed-circuit television movie service and it was approved. Weaver said he would try to have the franchise ready for consideration at the next commission meeting, March 26.

Weaver said the firm had contacted Bell Telephone and Texas Electric about mounting cables on their poles but had received no official answer. Robb said a $200,000 would be needed to promote the service.

He added that it would probably take two years to put the program into operation, and the commission asked that a forfeit clause be inserted in the franchise concerning a time element. Also the commission said the franchise did not give exclusive rights; should the need be shown for another such service and another company apply, the city could issue another franchise.

ZONING CHANGED

Approval was given to the recommendations submitted by the planning board on zoning changes. The board had a public hearing Monday and approved zoning changes in three areas of the city. The commission then Tuesday night approved all changes as stated by the planning board.

These included changing an area bounded by Donley, State, 20th and 21st from B (two-party residence) to A (one-party), an area west of N. Goliad from Ninth to 10th from B to E (community business), and the area west of Mesquite from G and H (both businesses) to D (multiple dwellings).

The group commissioned H. W. Whitney, the city manager, to contact Clyde Hollingsworth, accountant, about auditing the city's records for the past year. Whitney told the commission that CPAs will not bid on work, so the commission decided to contact him. Neil Hilliard audited the city's books the past two years.

ADVISORY BOARD

A letter was received from Dr. L. F. Walter, director of Local Health Services of the State Department of Health regarding appointment of an advisory board for the local three-county health unit.

Whitney said he was favorable to a nine-man board to help with problems facing the health units and the commission concurred. Under a suggested program, three men would serve from each county. Whitney was instructed to write the city managers in Midland and Odessa and state that Big Spring approved of the idea.

The commission tabled a request from the district attorney, Gil Jones, that the city prohibit pin-ball machines. The city at the present has no ordinance or regulation forbidding the playing of pin-balls.

Barbecue Precedes Big Sale Thursday

All buyers, their guests and all members of the Howard County Junior Livestock association — approximately 300 persons in all — are to dine on barbecued beef and lamb at 6 p. m. Thursday.

The barbecue will be preliminary to the big auction sale which is to ring down the curtain on the 20th edition of the Howard County FFA and 4-H Livestock show. The dinner is to be served at the sale barn west of town.

Jimmy Taylor, general superintendent of the show, said the sale will get under way promptly at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. He was busy contacting leading citizens relative to the sale in an effort to step up enthusiasm for the event.

Taylor said that major packers will have buyers on hand and that the customary practice of permitting lay bidders to sell their purchases to the professional buyers at a stipulated price will prevail.

For example, he explained, if a bidder buys a steer at 40 cents per pound and does not want to keep the animal he can sell it to the packers at whatever market price is prevailing. If the market price agreed upon is 21 cents, then the bidder would have to pay only the difference between his bid and 21 cents as a bonus reward to the young exhibitor.

On the other hand if the buyer wants to keep the animal he has bid in at the sale he is required to pay for the animal at the price he bid.

A Bible Thought For Today

And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the Scriptures, Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ. (The Acts 17:2-3)

Space Shrinks But Not Problems

The nation's first commercial airline jet transport, on a trial flight, winged its way from Seattle, Wash. to Baltimore, Md. in the space of three hours and 48 minutes.

If the first transport model produced by our technicians can span the continent in less than four hours, is it not reasonable to expect that refinements and succeeding models will cut more and more minutes off that record? Before many years pass, we will see jet service that can leave the East Coast and set down on the West Coast at exactly the same hour. Just trim 48 minutes off the present record and that can be accomplished.

Add to this the possibility that rockets will enter ultimately into the transport as well as the military picture, and we might be brought to the spectacle—in East to West travel—of arriving at our destination at a clock time before we left.

That, of course, is an academic bit of speculation which may make things seem as they actually are not. What all of this points up is not these idiosyncracies, but rather that timewise our continent is shrinking inexorably.

What is true of our continent, is true of the world. This is by no means a novel thought; on the contrary it is almost threadbare. Yet the implications are so plain that it does seem that men, with ingenuity enough to conquer space, could exercise enough ingenuity to overcome the barricades to understanding and cooperation.

Hats Off To Youth And Young Men

Once more we come, as we have for the past 20 years, to the annual 4-H and FFA livestock and capon show.

And once more we would like to urge our readers to take out a few minutes to visit the Howard County Fair barns and look over the examples of what good breeding, good training and good feeding can accomplish.

While we have not been knocking off the national and major show titles within the past two years as we formerly did, the quality of our calves and lambs has been only slightly less than those with which we formerly achieved such a record. In time, we may be up at the top-rung knocking at the title room again.

Meantime, our youngsters are gaining every bit as much practical experience in the art of taking an animal, watching after it, feeding the correct rations, learning the principles of grooming and showing. They are mastering the lessons of producing more choice meat on the same amount of animal. They are learning similar lessons about lambs and wool, and about the qualities of smoother, more meaty capons.

We think you'll be proud of the job that these youngsters have done if you take the time to go out and look over the show. We think you will be proud, too, as we are, of the manner in which our Jaycees have arranged and staged this event. This is a Herculean task and every spring the young men take it on enthusiastically—and successfully. We say hats off to them.

People To Be Blamed For High Budget

WASHINGTON—This seems to be the era of "back-packing" in government.

The executive says to Congress: "You cut the budget."

The Congress says to the President: "You cut the budget."

The American people say: "You—both Congress and the President—cut the budget. But don't touch our pet projects—our agricultural subsidies, our business subsidies, our social security subsidies, our school lunches, our highway subsidies, and all the other things that make it possible for us in this community to get our share of the money that's being spent."

"But whose responsibility really is it to cut the budget? The Constitution gives the President the power to 'recommend' but not to legislate. The Constitution says: 'No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law.'"

This means that the final decision is up to Congress. But when Congress tackles the job what does it find? First, that 63 per cent of the total budget is for national security—assurance of survival in an atomic age.

Next, 25 per cent of the budget is for programs fixed by Congress in laws passed in previous years. This includes veterans' benefits, agricultural price supports, soil bank payments, grants to the states for welfare payments and interest on the federal debt. Thus we have 88 per cent in these two categories alone and, as the Secretary of the Treasury, George Humphrey, explained it in a speech in Detroit last week, "this leaves but 12 per cent of federal spending in which there is some elasticity in the opportunity to save money."

In actual totals this 12 per cent is a sum of $8.6 billion. It cannot all be eliminated. Mr. Humphrey says: "It therefore becomes quite obvious that while some savings can always be made by ferreting out waste, extravagance and duplication, the really substantial reductions in government spending can come only from changes in programs. These programs now in effect by decision of the Congress can be changed only by new decisions of the Congress."

"The executive branch must, of course, work closely with the Congress to arrive at the best judgments as to what the various programs must provide for."

"Whose job is it to cut federal spending? It is everybody's job. It needs the active support—not just the approval—the public. Basically, it is the job of the American people, for it is with the people—at the thousands of crossroads over the nation—that the pressures for spending begin. A group of people who want some assistance or who get into trouble of some kind, turn to the federal government for help on the mistaken theory that money from the federal government does not cost anybody anything. The pressures applied are well known and are visible in Washington every day.

"We need a campaign of public education so that the public will better understand the facts of life about federal spending. They must realize that there is no bottomless well of unlimited money in Washington."

"There is all too prevalent an attitude of 'getting our cut so long as everyone else is getting theirs.' That's the real story of why federal budgets are high. But the picture isn't as black today as it has looked in the past. For two years the Treasury has taken in more than it has spent—and there is the same outlook for the coming year. This, as the Secretary of the Treasury points out, is 'the first time we have had a real prospect of three balanced budgets in succession for more than 25 years.'"

The current budget can be cut by perhaps two or three billions—which is something. But what is more important is to prevent the budget from going even higher next year.

This is everybody's job which means the electorate really has to be kept informed so that political demagoguery doesn't produce a rivalry in spending for welfare purposes and exploitation on the stump by one political party of the cuts made by the other party. Mr. Eisenhower isn't going to run for office again but the Republican party in Congress faces an election in 1958. It can be defeated once more as it was in 1956 in the west because Democrats deliberately blamed low farm prices in the failure of the Republicans to spend more money to subsidize agriculture. Only last week the Democrats were trying to push upward in Congress the soil bank payments despite all the talk about cutting the federal budget. It's the uninformed or short-sighted, selfish voter who really is responsible for past failures to cut the budget.

Time For New Look At Poland

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may be time for Secretary of State Dulles to take a new look at the Polish Communist government. Months ago in a classified letter never made public he told Congress Poland now is not Soviet-dominated.

In last October's upheaval in Poland the Stalinists in control of the government were thrown out and Wladyslaw Gomulka, a Communist, was made boss of the Communist party.

Since then his government has shown signs — although there have been reasons for skepticism — of being independent of Moscow. And several weeks ago it sent a delegation to Washington to ask for American economic help.

Dulles' letter was sent to the House Foreign Affairs Committee weeks before the delegation arrived. Between that time and now most of his attention has been concentrated on the Middle East and getting the Israelis out of Egypt.

But on March 10 the New York

Times carried a story from Warsaw which said almost all the leaders of the Stalinist faction which fought Gomulka's return to power have now been reinstated in government jobs.

What does it all add up to? It adds up to these questions: Has Poland shaken off Soviet control? If so, will this last or will the pro-Russian Poles take power again?

The State Department isn't saying much. Perhaps Gomulka, with Russia breathing down his neck, has to take it easy in trying, if that's what he's doing, to lead his people further away from Moscow. He may be under great pressures.

If this is a sincere attempt at a breakaway, it would be to this country's advantage to encourage it by economic help, just as the United States' aid to Yugoslavia's Tito helped him stay independent of Moscow.

Before Congress votes any help the Eisenhower administration is going to have to say openly, one way or the other, whether it thinks Poland is now free of Soviet control.

Use A Tape Measure

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you know how to tell whether you have "middle-aged spread"?

A woman always seems able to, but a man can't—or else his vanity won't let him.

If a friend tells him at lunch, "Joe, you better cut down on the cheese, you're getting middle-aged spread," he simply doesn't believe it. At home that night Joe pulls in his stomach until his face gets purple, looks at himself in the mirror, and says, "Not bad. That guy at lunch must've been trying to kid me."

But there is one thing that doesn't kid anybody unless it's made of rubber—and that's a tape measure.

Dr. Thomas K. Cureton, director of the Physical Fitness Research Laboratory, has figured out an easy way to detect middle-aged spread.

This is it: Simply measure yourself around the abdomen. Then measure yourself around the chest while it is expanded. If your belly girth is larger, brother, you've got it—middle-aged spread.

And Dr. Cureton, who also acts as a health consultant for Cooper's Inc., makers of underwear—they want to keep middle-aged men alive longer because dead men don't buy underwear—warns you'd better do something about middle-aged spread as soon as you detect it.

Many middle-aged men regard dieting as the only solution to the problem of middle-aged spread. Dr. Cureton says a proper diet, of course, is helpful. But he says that the middle-aged man also has to grunt his way out of his swivel chair and take proper exercises to get real results.

"It has been very impressive to see how men and women above 40 years of age have been able to improve their fitness by taking up physical training," he adds.

But Dr. Cureton feels that the ordinary social-recreational types of casual exercise obtained in a few casual games of bowling, golf, volleyball, table tennis, or shuffleboard won't do the trick.

Regular exercises with continuous rhythm do more to improve the circulation.

Here are Dr. Cureton's suggestions for getting rid of middle-aged spread and restoring lost muscle tone:

"Reduce starchy and fried foods in the diet, and eat more fruits, vegetables and protein foods."

"Breathe more deeply, try to stay untensed, move parts of the body frequently, even while sitting."

"Fifteen to 50 full knee bends are excellent. As you breathe deeply, draw the abdominal muscles in toward the spine as far as you can with each breath."

"Walk two miles each day with a swinging stride, or swim 200 to 400 yards, or cycle five to 10 miles."

"In a month your middle-aged spread should be gone. But if you quit your diet and cease exercising, in another month that tire around your tummy will be right back again."

Free, Competitive Enterprise

Among bills introduced before the Legislature is one which would permit companies to charge lower automobile insurance rates.

I speak rather as a matter of principle than of specifics because I am not familiar with the terms of two proposed bills (SB 28 and HB 27) which would permit a change in rating. As a matter of principle, I think there is considerable merit in the idea.

Under the present system, the State Insurance Commission in effect determines what is a reasonable margin of operation for companies. Then it fixes a rate which is calculated to yield that margin after payment of claims is deducted.

Obviously, the general run of losses are pooled and totalled in arriving at basic figures. In effect the driver with a long record for safe and accident-free driving is paying a penalty to sustain these with not-so-good records. (Actually, there is a safeguard in the present formula which puts those with extra bad records in a special pool.)

The point is that virtually all rates are the same; there is no opportunity to look around for what seems to the individual to be the most advantageous buy. Present laws are drawn up on the basis that the insurance commission must protect the customer from himself, feeling that if he buys lower priced insurance he will find — after an accident has happened — that his company is unable to pay out claims.

If we are to believe what we read in the papers and hear and see over radio and television, the protection which the customer has been getting by virtue of the commission's watchdog's function is not exactly glib edge anyhow.

In defense of the commission, I do not believe that it can guarantee prudent management on the part of an insurance company. It can only work against certain safeguards or certain minimum standards and try to see that the financial picture of companies comes up to that.

If a concern can meet those standards and still is able to quote a lower rate for its product (insurance), why not let the company do that so long as it can remain in a solvent position? It seems to me that this would restore the premium on a shared management and competitive enterprise rather than to straight-jacket the industry through compulsory rates. No company is long going to quote rates that will not yield a fair return; and none can quote rates too much higher than others without losing its business.

Under the uniform system, the lack of competitiveness has trickled down to the bottom of the ladder. No longer do agents seek to sell anything other than possibly good will. Insurance through public bodies is generally handled on a pool basis with each member of the lodge taking his cut.

The business world today is full of examples of men and institutions who made a success of operating so astutely that they would offer more for the same amount of money. Why not restore a greater measure of flexibility to the insurance business. Fix it so the customer can have some basic assurances, but beyond this let him be on his own.

Operatic Baritones Are A Bad Lot

A late, great soprano, Frances Alda of the Metropolitan Opera House, wrote a book some two decades ago called "Men, Women and Tenors." It was regarded in and out of the trade as real witchy.

Only the fact that Leonard Warren, the great, all-American baritone is a gentleman keeps him from penning a companion piece called, "Men, Women and Sopranos."

"With all the recent backstage and front page warfare among the Met's sopranos, I'm not certain that the public realizes that men are still singing there, too," Mr. Warren said with a sly grin when I met him for a cup of tea the other day.

"But we are," said the man acclaimed by critics around the world as one of its greatest singers. "And we have learned to duck, and that's about all. The girls are rough competition. A male singer has to break his leg to get a line in a paper, while a soprano only has to show enough of hers to land on the front page."

"Well, the girls are all pretty and talented," the baritone continued in a live-and-let-live tone. "Let them have the publicity, and we men will do all the good singing. That's fair enough."

As if sopranos were not enough of an occupational hazard in an operatic life, Mr. Warren has had kind of a tough time in general with women in his singing career. Years ago, a woman executive of Radio City Music Hall fired him from the hall's all-male chorus, and some years later, after he had become an international star, Eva Peron fired him from the Colon, Buenos Aires' magnificent opera house.

"She fired everyone else, too, so I didn't feel she was picking on me," Mr. Warren said. The cable with which Evita gave him the gate is among his treasured souvenirs.

"Baritones never get the girl, anyway," he added. "We're a bad lot, always up to no good on the stage. Tenors are noble, pure and heroic and get the soprano if she has not tragically expired before the final curtain. But baritones are born villains in opera. Always the heavy and never the hero, that's me."

Mr. Warren radiated pleasure when I told him he had scared the living daylights out of me only the week before at Scarpa. He has recently added to his repertoire, to great critical acclaim, this role of the dread chief of Roman police in "Tosca."

"I'm supposed to frighten nice women in that role," he said, happily. "I owe Scarpa's villainy to a wonderful coach in Rome, Riccardo Piccini. He was in Rome throughout the German occupation. He kept reminding me that he had watched real police officers at work who were as cruel and evil as Scarpa, and he kept drilling this perfidy into me."

Mr. Warren does not live entirely on an operatic Olympus. He knows about Elvis Presley.

"He won't last as long as Frank Sinatra if he doesn't develop a secondary talent, such as acting," the baritone said. "Honestly, Elvis can't wiggle that many years!"

Tax Reduction Not A Party Matter

PRINCETON, N. J. — American voters today are not looking for any decrease in their taxes during the coming year, but they don't believe the election of Adlai Stevenson as President would have changed matters much on this score.

As a matter of fact, it's pretty much of a "stand-off" as far as the public is concerned between which party or man can do the best job of reducing taxes and cutting government spending.

As things stand today, a substantial majority of Americans (59 per cent) believe there will be little change in the tax situation during the next 12 months, and one in three thinks that taxes will be increased.

A comparable majority believes that there would not have been much difference in this tax situation if Mr. Stevenson instead of Mr. Eisenhower had emerged the victor last November 6.

The questions put to a representative cross-section of American adults in the most recent Institute survey and their results:

"Do you think there will be any increase or decrease in taxes this year, or do you think taxes will remain about the same?"

TAXES IN '57	Per cent
Increase	34
Decrease	2
About the same	59
No opinion	5

"Do you think your own taxes would be higher, lower, or about the same if Stevenson had been elected instead of Eisenhower?"

WITH STEVENSON IN?	Per cent
Higher	19
Lower	10
About the same	61
No opinion	10

The public's present attitude that a Republican or Democratic Chief Executive would make little difference in the amount of taxes paid marks a radical change in public opinion over the last four years.

In earlier years and up to and including the 1952 campaign, the GOP definitely had the edge — in the public's mind — as the party to best reduce taxes.

"Reducing taxes and balancing the budget" was rated as the strongest campaign argument for the Republicans in 1952, and a month after his election four years ago, the weight of sentiment across the country was that President-elect Eisenhower and his Republican administration would be able to reduce taxes.

But it was not long after he took office that a change in public opinion was recorded. A majority of the public agreed with Ike's plan to balance the budget first before reducing taxes, and the number of persons complaining about the size of their Federal income tax went down sharply from the previous year.

After four years of the Eisenhower Administration and record deferring spending for peace-time, the tax-reduction argument was greatly deflated — by the time of the 1956 campaign it was picked as the strongest GOP argument by only one voter in seven.

The tide had shifted to such an extent that last fall saw the public evenly divided over which party—the Republican or Democratic — could do the best job of reducing taxes. The first figures are but further evidence of this change.

As a postal clerk from West St. Paul, Minn. — who voted for Stevenson last November — voiced it:

"Actually, it doesn't matter who's President — you're just going to have to spend more and more money."

One part of the budget for which the public has generally been willing to spend "more and more money" has been defense expenditures. This attitude offers possible reasons why voters are relatively unconcerned about the tax-reducing merits of either party.

For example, in the present survey — when voters were asked what they thought the amount spent for defense — six out of 10 said they believed it should be kept as large as it is at present.

Another one in four (26 per cent) feel the defense spending should be increased, while only one person in 11 (9 per cent) is of a mind to reduce the amount of our defense expenditures.

They were sent there by the district attorney to verify officially the death of the man who has "three wounds from a sharp knife." Rendon was known to have been given first aid by the Red Cross and then sent to the hospital.

Finally it was learned Rendon was dead only on paper and recovering fine.

By clerical error on hospital records, his name was switched with that of a heart attack victim.

A Mess

MEDICINE LODGE, Kan. (AP)—"And then the roof fell in" is an old howard, but it's not funny any more to Ivol Hwead, food store manager.

That's just what the roof of his store did. The entire 50x80 ceiling buckled, dropping on shelving and stock, but giving enough noisy warning that he and his customers got out safely.

The store was open for business the next morning, but Howard ruefully admitted, "we're in a mess!"

New Coins

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian government has replaced coins with the effigy of former King Farouk by new ones.

The new silver coins bear on one face of the Egyptian revolution—an eagle. On the other side is engraved the amount of the coins and the name of the Egyptian republic.

Also a 25 piasters (about 71 cents) coin commemorating the nationalization of the Suez Canal will be issued soon, says a government official.

Only Older Russians Hold Memory Of The Revolution

Editor's Note: Wracked by civil war, ancient Russia was falling apart 40 years ago. But she has swelled to become the greatest land mass under a single rule in history. In this third of four articles, William L. Ryan explains how the stage was set for this imposing comeback.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Modern Giant

The darker section in the map above shows Russia as it was in 1917, following independence movements by minority nations and the Communist betrayal. The lighter section shows Russia as it is now—covering one-sixth of the earth's habitable surface.

Three quarters of the seven million Communists who rule the Soviet Union's 200 million people today have little or no memory of the Russian revolution, the Bolshevik coup which seized it, or the civil war which followed it 40 years ago.

This 75 per cent is under the age of 50. A new generation of rulers, it is conservative, intent on maintaining the present system. For Russian Communists, revolution is unthinkable except in the outside world.

But 40 years ago, revolution and civil war were tearing Holy Russia to pieces. The civil war began immediately after a Bolshevik coup d'etat in November destroyed the "February revolution" which had ended the ancient rule of the czars and promised a hopeful future.

Bolsheviks, led by Lenin and Trotsky, were in power through treachery. Russia's first and only free election — for a constituent assembly to draw up a constitution — was held in November 1917, and the Bolsheviks were a poor minority despite the fact they held the power. The election was tossed on the Communist like to call "the dust heap of history."

The constituent assembly was dispersed by force. The Bolshevik party, by now renamed Communist, maintained its power by terror. It organized the Cheka (Extraordinary Commission to Combat Counter-Revolution) and its terror made the Okhrana, the czar's secret police, seem like a timid amateur.

BULGANIN'S APPRENTICESHIP
One Cheka member was an obscure 22-year-old industrial worker from Nizhny-Novgorod, Nikolai Bulganin. His record in the Cheka belies the gentle grandfatherly look of today's Soviet Premier.

Few of today's leaders were in evidence then. Men like Georgi Malenkov and Mikhail Pervukhin, now powerful party Presidium members, were teen-agers. Nikita Khrushchev, present party boss, was a 23-year-old revolutionary in the Ukraine, a mechanic and sheep-herder before joining the movement which was to betray Ukrainian independence. V. M. Molotov, now a first deputy premier, was a 27-year-old editor. He was helping a 36-year-old Georgian named Stalin edit a Bolshevik paper, Pravda. A. I. Mikoyan, powerful Presidium figure today, was 21, a revolutionary in the Caucasus, unknown in Petrograd.

As civil war began, old Russia was falling apart. In the south, Ataman Kaledin proclaimed independence for the Don Cossacks and support for the fallen Kerensky government. Ukrainians in Kiev declared independence. So did Finland. Independent governments rose in the Caucasus. Siberia, Poland, Stalin, as "communist for nationalities," proclaimed the right of any people to self-determination, and Russia was made up of many peoples. The Bolsheviks proclaimed the right — but didn't mean it.

Russia was smaller than at any time since Peter the Great, two centuries before.

MOST STAY POOR
But Russia was to swell again, bigger than ever, until it would cover almost nine million square miles, greatest land mass under a single rule in history. It would include a sixth of the earth's habitable surface, three times the size of the United States, stretching 7,000 miles east to west 3,000 miles north to south, from middle Europe to the Pacific, from the arctic to the tropics. Rich in resources, most of its millions would stay poor.

The Bolsheviks soon compounded the ancient Russian tragedy. They moved the capital from Petrograd (renamed Leningrad) and its "window on the west," to Moscow and its Asian influence, its forbidding, oriental-looking Kremlin. Then began three years of "war communism" and the process of sealing the Russians off once again from the west.

The Western Allies, fearing Russian wealth would fall into German hands — the war was still on — intervened soon after the Bolshevik coup. The West had recognized the provisional government before the Bolshevik counter-revolution, and had accepted its promise of continued participation in the war against Germany.

While civil war raged on many fronts against formidable White

Russian armies, the indefatigable Trotsky, now war commissar, organized a conscript Red army and miraculously equipped it. Meanwhile, in the expropriated home of a merchant in the Urals town of Ekaterinburg, the local Soviet herded the czar, Zararina, their four children and their retinue into the cellar, read the death sentences, and one by one finished off the royal family with pistol shots. The bodies were burned in a forest.

Red terror began in earnest. The public had a preliminary taste in January, 1918, after an attempt on Lenin's life. Reprisals were staggering. Now the Russians once again experienced sudden nocturnal arrests, mass sentences, executions without trial.

And a new specter haunted the country. Years of war, fantastic casualties in men and animals, primitive farming methods, a succession of droughts, peasant resistance to crop confiscation, all combined to bring famine.

WHITE RUSSIANS ROUTED
But the civil war ended in total rout of the White Russians. Lenin then proclaimed his "New Economic Policy," with concessions to farmers and private trading.

Only Lenin's prestige could have checked the growing conflict in the leadership of the party. Stalin, now general secretary and in a powerful position politically, schemed against Trotsky, who so overshadowed him in the revolution.

Lenin died in January, 1924. The party cleavage widened. A three-year struggle for power ended with Stalin the victor and Trotsky exiled. Then Stalin, who

4 Youths Face Murder Count

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cook County grand jury will be asked today to indict four teen-age youths for the holdup-slaying of a motel owner.

A coroner's jury yesterday recommended that the youths be held to the grand jury on murder charges.

Police have said Robert Maslowski, 15, recently expelled from high school for truancy, has admitted he fired the single shot that killed Charles Strycky, 48, in his motel last Friday night. They said Maslowski and three companions planned to rob Strycky, but Maslowski was quoted by police as saying "When he kicked at me, I didn't know whether it was meant for me or the gun, so I shot him."

The other youths are Dave Clark, 15; Jerry Pelzer, 16; and Anthony Ramirez, 17, all high school students.

New Revolution Said Not Likely

DALLAS (AP)—Joseph Koevago, mayor of Budapest for four days during Hungary's historic rebellion last November, says his country cannot afford to attempt another revolution.

"When a people have been crushed once, then one can't expect a little nation to make of itself a suicide," Koevago said here yesterday. He currently is on a tour sponsored by the International Rescue Committee to get moral support for Hungary's demands for freedom.

Quaker College In Turmoil Over Defense Grants

HAVERTFORD, Pa. (AP)—Haverford College, a Quaker institution, is involved in a controversy over whether to accept Defense Department grants for nonmilitary research.

Taking sides in the dispute are members of the faculty, the Board of Managers and the students at the 124-year-old school, avowedly the oldest Quaker-operated institution in the country.

Teacher Quizzed In Vandal Case

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Police questioned a school teacher, 50, yesterday after sharp pronged staples capable of puncturing car tires were found scattered around a drive-in theatre here.

Police said she and a downtown movie projectionist would be charged with a misdemeanor. Both were arrested Sunday after the staples were found.

grants would conflict with the Quaker philosophy of pacifism. Others say rejection of the money would prevent the college from making significant contributions to the sciences.

The problem came up when Dr. Robert L. Walter, 37-year-old assistant professor of chemistry, recently asked the Board of Managers for permission to apply to the Defense Department for a $14,000 grant. He wants the money to aid research in organic chemistry.

The board took up Walter's request but has deferred a decision. Since then two similar requests have been made by other faculty members.

Some 250 students, faculty members and board members attended a meeting at the suburban Philadelphia school this week to discuss the question.

No immediate decision is expected.

Salvation Army Leader Calls For Social, Spiritual Service

The Salvation Army is built on the idea that Christianity has hands and feet, Col. John A. Morrison, Dallas, Texas divisional commander, told the annual meeting of the Salvation Army advisory board and friends Tuesday evening.

Col. Morrison spoke at a dinner affair in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Floyd Parsons, superintendent of schools, succeeded Dr. W. A. Hunt, Howard County Junior College president, as chairman of the advisory board.

Col. Morrison called for a program of social and spiritual service based on the precepts of William Booth, who founded the Salvation Army more than a century ago.

"William Booth espoused the message to people, no matter their station in life, that God loved them," said Col. Morrison. "He determined that he would go for souls and go for the worst of them. He believed that unless Christianity is used and that we walked the streets to take it to those who most needed it that it is not a religion but a theory... when the Salvation Army gets away from that basic concept, it gets away from its purpose."

Good deeds yield unexpected and untold harvest, he added, and in working with distressed people, volunteers as well as full time personnel should remember that they are salvaging something eternal when they salvage a human soul.

Music was furnished by a band composed of players from the San Angelo and the Odessa units. The San Angelo Corps Women's Ensemble favored with a vocal selection.

Among out-of-town visitors were Maj. and Mrs. Fred Cherb.

Missioner
Father John M. Nugent, Dominican Missioner from New Orleans, will conduct the Catholic Mission at Webb AFB, starting March 24. He will speak at Masses at 9 a.m., 12:45 p.m. and 8 p.m. daily, March 25-28, and will conduct the mission services at 7:30 p.m. daily.

Abilene, Capt. and Mrs. Orville Salmon, San Angelo, Lt. Ed Lalley, Midland, and Lt. Ted Morris, Odessa.

Mrs. J. E. Hogan, member of the board, gave the annual report which showed a $29,271 budget. Contributions and War Cry sales brought in $16,147 of this, the United Fund $12,333 and the remaining $735 from exchange and refunds.

Highlights of the other of the services included 638 religious meetings; 323 family welfare cases opened during the year, 135 grocery orders, 21,965 garments distributed, 633 pairs of shoes distributed, (plus 139 new pair for school children), 20 medicine orders, 1,041 items of household articles. During the year there were 3,502 furnished lodgings at the transient lodge, 7,229 meals served, 3,502 given garments or shoes, 532 given miscellaneous aid. Other help was given to 241 transient women and children.

The post serving as local parolee supervisor, handled 16 parolees from the state prison, starting the year with 16 cases and ending with 12. Under holiday relief the post served 35 Thanksgiving dinners, issued 225 Christmas baskets, distributed 9,000 items of toys given by people and repaired by city firemen, distributed 500 sacks of fruit and candy to children, gave 10 gifts to men at the transient lodge and served 50 dinners to transients on Christmas Day. At the end of the year the post had only $104 on hand.

Tarzan's 'Cheetah' Is Dead
Cheetah, 26-year-old chimpanzee, lies in his burial vault at a private plot in Tampa, Fla., surrounded by his friends, including Chimps Cookie (left) and Mickey. Cheetah was a movie star, appearing for years with Johnny Weissmuller in the Tarzan series. Death was attributed to old age.

Construction Bids On Fire Drill Tower Asked By City

City commissioners Tuesday night called for bids on a fire drill tower and worked out a method of constructing bath houses at the two Northside swimming pools.

The drill tower will be built just west of Birdwell Park on Owens. It will be four stories, with only the first story bricked. The remainder will be only a skeleton construction.

Commissioners called for bids on April 9, after the city manager said architects recommended at least three weeks for contractors to bid on the work. Out of fire department bond funds, the city

Segregation Bills Due Public Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—A batch of segregation bills are scheduled for public hearing in House committee tonight, while the record breaking 2 billion dollar spending bill waits to meet its big floor test tomorrow.

Chairman Max Smith of the Appropriations Committee said he would not push the high-priority measure until tomorrow. One of his reasons is that a resolution needing Senate approval to suspend rules to take up the bill did not get across the Capitol until late yesterday, Smith said.

The House bill has been approved by the committee. It holds appropriations within expected income and therefore would demand no new taxes. It has been on members' desks since last week.

Backers of the segregation bills said they did not want the House to get tied up on the money bill and upset their plans for the hearings.

The money measure would spend almost $40 million dollars more in the next two years on state services than in the current biennium. It calls for an expenditure of $2,072,759,174 for all sources in the fiscal period beginning Sept. 1.

Possibly one of the largest crowds of this session to attend a public hearing is expected tonight for the pro and con arguments on five segregation bills backed by a group of East Texas legislators.

Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs said the explanation of the bills would be backed by the presence, and testimony if needed, of Hall E. Timanus of Houston and Will Crews of San Antonio. Timanus was chairman of the Texas Advisory Committee that studied segregation in public schools last summer. Morris was an ex-officio member.

Rep. Rosagan Huffman of Marshall said that delegations would attend from Dallas, Houston, San

One Operator's Salary Raised

Dick Todd, road grader operator, was granted a pay raise of $20 a month by the Howard County commissioners court Monday, but Bud Porter, another operator, will continue to get the same pay he has been receiving.

P. O. Hughes, commissioner, sought by motion to get the pay of both men elevated from $315 to $335. He said they were among those whose pay was not increased at the time some weeks ago when readjustment of salaries was made.

His motion failed to get a second.

Earl Hull then moved that Todd be increased to $335. In discussion of Hughes' motion, it was suggested by R. H. Weaver, county judge, that such increases should be based on recommendation of the county engineer, Walter Parks.

Should be based on recommendations of the county engineer, Walter Parks. Hudson Landers seconded Hull's motion. On a vote Hughes voted no, G. E. Gilliam said he "abstained" for the reason that he felt partially was being shown, Hull and Landers voted yes and Weaver supported their position.

Claims To Be Absent Airman

A 19-year-old youth, arrested by Constable Grover Coates, Coahoma, in connection with his investigation into the activities of a quartet of teen-agers at Coahoma, has admitted that he is an AWOL serviceman.

Shorty Long, county juvenile officer, said that the youth identified himself as an airman and said he was stationed at Roswell, N. M.

He has been surrendered by county authorities to the air police at Webb Air Force Base. It is anticipated that military officials will come to Big Spring from Roswell to take custody of him.

The airman was the older of four boys who showed up at Coahoma traveling in an old Mercury sedan. Coates became suspicious of the group and investigated their activities. He discovered there was but one license plate on the car. None of the four had a driver's license.

He arrested the airman and two of the others — one 14-years-old and the other 16. The fourth fled and has not been picked up.

The youngest told Long that he stole the Mercury from its parking place back of a garage in Farmington, N. M. Officers from Farmington are to be in Big Spring this week to take custody of the two youths and the car.

Few Chilly Spots In U.S.

By The Associated Press
There were a few chilly spots but generally mild weather prevailed in most of the nation today, one week before the arrival of the spring season.

Only light precipitation in scattered areas were reported during the night. However, dust storms struck sections of the Plains and into the Mississippi Valley again yesterday.

Although a little cool air moved into the Ohio Valley and southward through the lower Mississippi Valley and eastern Texas, temperatures generally were in the 40s and 50s.

Only areas reporting readings around freezing or lower were in parts of Nevada and Idaho and from the northern Great Lakes region westward through Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana.

The gusty winds which yesterday lifted clouds of dust in the Southern and Central Plains cut visibility to near zero in parts of Kansas and blocked highway travel. Wind gusts were clocked up to 60 m.p.h. as dust clouds spread over sections of central and eastern Kansas, eastern Nebraska and eastern Oklahoma.

Blowing Danger Of Topsoil Pointed Up

TEMPLE (AP)—The Soil Conservation Service says some 5,475,867 acres of Texas topsoil is in danger of blowing away.

A report yesterday said that much land in North and West Texas is in condition to be eroded by wind.

Some 721,576 acres in Texas have suffered some damage due to wind erosion for the season dating back to last April. In February, 21,425 acres were damaged.

February figures showed that no erosion occurred in the Brownwood or Amarillo districts. Acreage damaged in other districts included Pampa 3,550, Vernon 3,100, Lubbock 7,500, Big Spring 6,275 and San Angelo 1,000.

Parents' Group Meets Tonight

Regular meeting of the Howard County Handicapped Children's Parents Group will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Room No. S-8 at Howard County Junior College.

Those attending will plan for their part in the annual Easter Seal Campaign. Officials urged any parent or other person interested in the programs and activities for benefit of crippled or otherwise handicapped children to attend the meeting.

Texas Insurance Firms Are Growing

By ROBERT E. FORD
A survey of scores of Texas life insurance companies Wednesday after stockholders' meetings indicated that the majority of them are growing in assets and amount of insurance in force.

Only one insurance company was known to have reported difficulties to its stockholders, and this firm, Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co. of America, said a court suit could clear this up. The company, headed by former Gov. Coke Stevenson, reported it lost $119,000 last year.

Stevenson told the stockholders that the main difficulty was the firm's purchase of assets of the defunct American Atlas Insurance Co., which turned out to be less than anticipated. One stockholder said the Atlas policies taken over by the company included insurance on many persons 65 to 80 years old.

The stockholders' meetings were required by Texas law to be held Tuesday.

The ICT Life Insurance Co., which had some ties with the now defunct ICT Insurance Co. which dealt in fire and casualty business, was declared in sound financial shape.

This statement came from J. D. Wheeler, the state receiver appointed to liquidate the ICT Insurance Co. ICT Insurance Co. owns 86 per cent of the stock of ICT Life Insurance Co.

The life insurance company quoted Wheeler as saying, "Your company, ICT Life, is financially sound, solvent and its license to operate in Texas is in effect."

In Dallas, which calls itself the insurance capital of the state, life firms reported gains in nearly every category during 1956. Most reported new records in assets, sales and insurance in force.

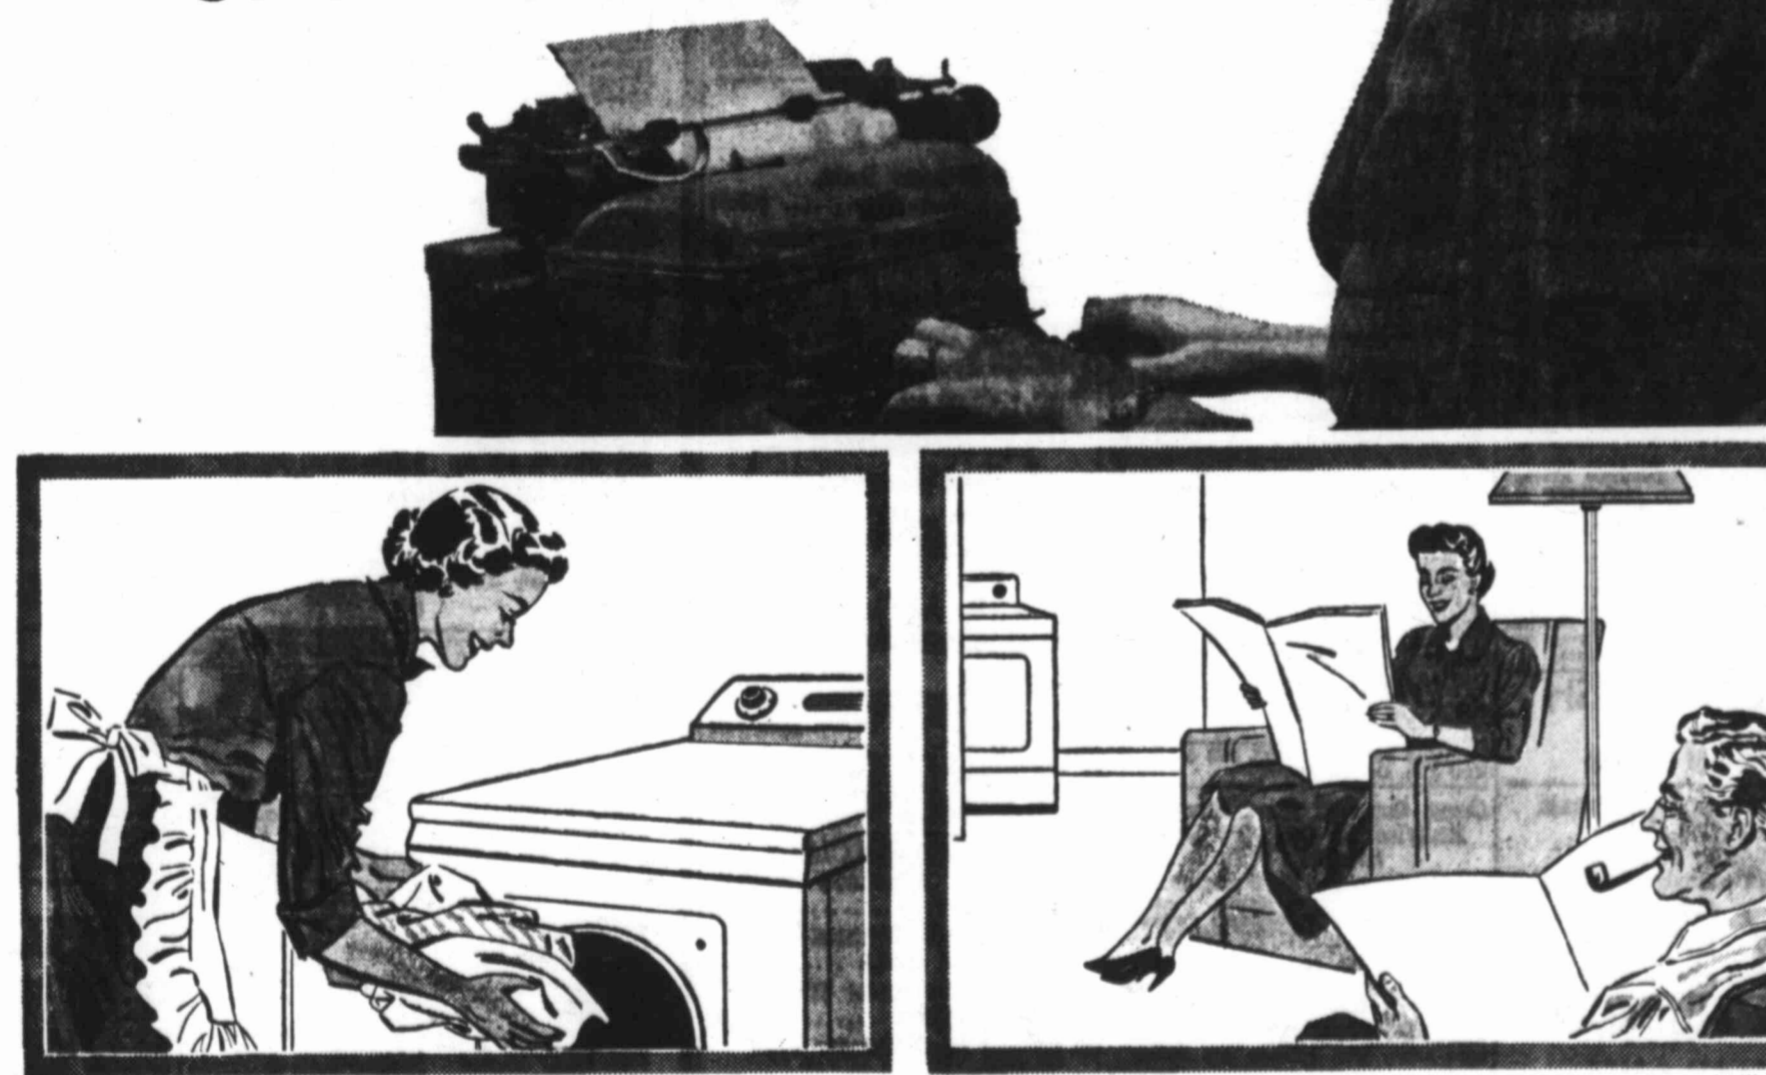

In Galveston, the American National Insurance Co. declared a 20 per cent increase in cash dividends, the total dividend amounting to $3,800,000. The firm, one of the 20 largest in the nation, reported a gain of insurance in force increased up to 20 per cent compared with the previous year. Asset increases ranged from 8.3 per cent to 22 per cent.

Five insurance companies with home offices in Corpus Christi rang up 1956 as a profitable year. Presidents told stockholders that assets, reserves and business in general had been good.

In Abilene, with three insurance company home offices, Fortune Life Insurance Co. declared an average dividend of 14 per cent to policy holders,

Tourist Deaths Charges Filed

ACAPULCO, Mexico (U)—Preliminary charges of murder and robbery have been brought against two men police say confessed the killing of an elderly New York attorney and a wealthy Brooklyn widow.

The two men are booked as Luis Fenton Jr., a tourist agent, and Daniel Rios Osuna, an unemployed boatman.

The New York lawyer, Joseph Michel, 70, and Mrs. Edith Hallock, 63, disappeared Feb. 29 after leaving their hotel in this Pacific coast resort for an island night club.

Authorities said Fenton and Rios told of killing the couple with a baseball bat and heavy chains and dumping their bodies into Acapulco Bay after taking money and jewelry valued at $64,000.

Dies, Hutcheson At Odds On Value Of Congress Experience

By JERRY MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Two candidates of opposing parties in Texas' special U.S. Senate race were at odds Wednesday on the importance of congressional experience.

Congressman-at-Large Martin Dies, speaking to a group of supporters at Waco, said, "Government has become so complex that the only way a representative or senator can do his job for his constituents is by gaining actual experience."

"I submit that Texas has a choice in the special senatorial race between my 8 years of experience in Congress and an oddly assorted field of candidates who do not have one day's legislative experience among them," Dies said.

Republican Thad Hutcheson differed with Dies, urging his election to "encourage non-professional politicians."

At a dinner in McAllen, Hutcheson said Texans "have a chance to elect a representative of the minority party."

This, he said, "would encourage non-professional politicians to try for public office and discourage the sentiment which has been building up that nice people don't run for office."

Hutcheson, whose candidacy was endorsed again yesterday by President Eisenhower, said his election would help the President by overturning the balance of Senate power in favor of Republicans, making GOP senators heads of committees.

Dies challenged all candidates "to make a clear statement on their stand" on all major political and economic issues. "I am prepared to tell my story, and it is my record in Congress," Dies said.

State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, in a speech at Wichita Falls Tuesday night, advocated federal aid to Texas schools, but without federal control.

"We pay taxes, we are entitled to our fair share of national projects," White said. "But we must not be forced to sacrifice our right to administer our own program," he added.

Tuesday after a tour of parts of the state his program of promising to do something to solve "the little man's problems" is being well-received.

He said a previous announcement had misquoted his position regarding aid for the blind, aged and other needy.

"I say put old age pensioners, child relief, and blind people on a cost of living basis and allow them a decent living and not make a state political football out of our needy's stomach," Hill said.

"Why does the United States government collect about 200 million dollars from Texas taxpayers to care for the homeless, needy and sick in foreign countries, yet does not pay Texas citizens who are homeless, sick and needy one penny?"

Bomb Scares Cause Search Of Planes By 5 Airlines

NEW YORK (U)—Five bomb scares yesterday and last night caused five major airlines to search 36 planes in 10 cities in the East, Midwest and South. No bomb was found but some 1,000 passengers encountered delays of up to an hour.

Trans World Airlines had 28 planes searched in a four-hour period after receiving a hoax call at its Manhattan ticket office in early afternoon.

Twenty-two of the planes were searched at New York's two airports—Idlewild and LaGuardia, and at Newark, N.J.

Another six planes were ordered out of the air and told to land at their nearest airports. These planes set down at Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Cleveland.

TWA officials swung into action after an anonymous young male caller telephoned this threat: "There's a bomb on your plane. You better get it off." Then the caller hung up.

Since no particular plane was singled out as the bomb target, TWA officials took all precautions, American Airlines, on the basis of a telephoned threat received by its Philadelphia office, had one of its twin-engine Convairs searched as it landed here last night on a flight from Boston. A woman caller said 2 sticks of dynamite had been placed on an American Convair flying from Boston to New York.

Three Delta Airlines planes were searched last night at Newark, Houston, Tex., and Charlotte, N.C. The airline reported it had received a telephoned bomb threat at its Philadelphia office, saying that a bomb was aboard a plane bound for Newark.

Investigators searched 300 pieces of luggage taken off three United Air Lines planes in Philadelphia without finding anything after a man called the company's office last night and said: "There's a bomb in the cargo pit of your next plane coming into International Airport."

Shortly before midnight while FBI and police investigators were at the Philadelphia airport, Eastern Air Lines received a call. An EAL plane bound for Miami was delayed half an hour while it was searched.

Fog Shrouds Gulf Coast
By The Associated Press

A heavy fog shrouded the Gulf Coast and portions of South Central Texas Wednesday, cutting visibility to one-sixteenth of a mile in some areas.

The Weather Bureau said no rain had fallen since midnight, but the forecast called for scattered thundershowers over the entire state except the western sectors Wednesday night and Thursday.

A tornado that didn't touch the ground was reported in South Texas Tuesday.

Fog reduced visibility early Wednesday to a fourth of a mile at Corpus Christi, one-sixteenth of a mile at Kingsville, three-fourths of a mile at Austin and Beeville and to 3 miles at Houston and Lufkin.

Hearing Set On Angelo Project

WASHINGTON (U)—Hearings on two Southwestern reclamation projects were scheduled for today by the Senate reclamation subcommittee.

One proposal, which would have an overall cost of about $1,500,000, would call for channelization of between 5 and 20 miles of the Pecos River above McMillan Reservoir in New Mexico and diversion of salt streams from the river near Malaga Bend in Texas.

The second project set by Subcommittee Chairman Anderson (D-NM) for hearing was the San Angelo project in Texas, which would cost an estimated 30 million dollars.

This project, to include a dam on the Concho River, would provide municipal water for the city of San Angelo, flood control, and irrigation water for about 10,000 acres.
