$2 Billion State Money Bill Okayed

Passage Follows Marathon Debate

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN (AP)—Weary House members shouted approval early today of a record two billion dollar state spending bill after more than 14 hours of rough and tumble debate. The possibility of new taxes arose throughout the long day and night, but never became a critical issue. Speaker Waggoner Carr gavelled the bill on its way to the Senate at 12:50 a.m. after a 125-14 vote cleared the way for a final vote ballot. A few minutes later the House adjourned until 10:30 a.m. Monday. Debate began at 10:10 a.m. yesterday, recessed for about an hour at noon, then continued without a lull until the final vote. Votes were taken on 28 amendments. Only four passed and those added $3,527,247 to the total recommended by the Appropriations Committee. Time after time close votes warded off proposals to dip deeper into state funds, particularly for bigger state employee salary raises. House leaders estimated the bill would leave more than 40 million dollars in the general revenue fund for additional appropriations. Still to be met by the House and Senate are demands for teacher raises that range up to 67 million dollars for the next two years. The successful money-carrying amendments, all passed near the end of the marathon session, included: Expansion of the county agri-

Big Spring Man Receives Top Honor

Walter C. Rose, airman apprentice who is the son of T. R. Rose, 1226 E. 15th Street, Big Spring, has been presented the top award to a recruit at the U. S. Naval Training Center in San Diego, Calif. Walter was selected to receive the American Spirit of Honor Medal which is awarded by a citizens committee for the Army, Navy and Air Force Inc. At left is Murrey C. Pfeifferkorn, San Diego banker and civic leader, and at Walter's right is Vice Admiral Robert L. Dennison, USN, commander of the First Fleet. Walter was chosen from among 1,000 graduating recruits on the basis of leadership, sportsmanship, military bearing, initiative, response to orders, qualifications of a good shipmate, application of recruit training instructions. After two weeks of recruit leave, Walter will go to Norman, Okla., for further instruction in the field of naval aviation.

House Cuts $500 Million From President's Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today slashed $516,993,300 from the $5,923,195,000 in new funds President Eisenhower requested for 18 miscellaneous agencies. It was the biggest cut, money-wise, made by the committee on four bills it has sent to the House this year. The funds are for the fiscal year starting July 1. If the House upholds the committee next week, it will have cut 660 million dollars from presidential requests totaling about $10,300,000,000 to date. On the three previous bills, none of which has passed the Senate, the House has followed its committee's recommendations without change. Major slashes imposed by the committee in the independent offices appropriation bill were $206,657,700 from Veterans Administration, $71,700,000 from the Civil Defense Administration, and $165,239,400 from the General Services Administration. Reductions recommended in VA allotments included $4,068,000 in operating expenses, $1,293,200 in medical administration and miscellaneous funds, 7½ millions in hospital construction and replacement programs, 149½ millions in compensation and pension funds, and $41,473,000 in readjustment benefits. Congress frequently has cut these funds in past years only to restore them subsequently in supplemental bills. There was no cut in the 702 millions requested for operation of the VA hospital program, which includes 173 hospitals expected to provide care and treatment for an average of 140,000 veterans in 1958. Neither was there any reduction in the 179 millions requested for outpatient medical and dental care for veterans with service-connected disabilities. In reducing funds for new hospital construction, the committee called for an end to what it described as "the gingerbread and waste that often characterizes VA hospital construction." The funds allotted provide for 18 projects next year, the two largest being at Nashville, Tenn., and Jackson, Miss. The committee denied all requests for additional automobiles and for increases in travel allowances for government personnel. The Civil Defense Administration received only $39,300,000 of the 130 millions it requested, $71,700,000 of the cut being in funds for stockpiling emergency supplies and equipment. The committee said the government already has on hand or on order 219½ millions in such supplies, some of which are six years old and many of which are "poorly located from the standpoint of availability." Largest slash in GSA allotments was 111 millions in funds for stockpiling strategic and critical materials. The committee approved 19 millions for the purpose, commenting that inventories now are estimated at $7,200,000,000 with 81 per cent of minimum requirements on hand or on order. The GSA was given $127,464,000 for operating its public buildings service, 65 millions for repair and improvement of over 4,500 federal buildings, 20 millions for site acquisition and other expenses incident to obtaining public buildings under lease-purchase programs, and $2,125,000 to build five border stations for the customs

Saunders Tells Of Overpayment

AUSTIN (AP)—Former Insurance Commission Chairman a Byron Saunders testified today that Ben Jack Cage "overpaid" him about $1,000 in a $6,000 oil deal in 1954. Originally Saunders had told the House ICT Investigating Committee that the original transaction with Cage—promoter of the ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas—was for $6,000 but that he had received $7,400. This was brought out in questioning by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, committee counsel. Later, Chairman Scott McDonald said his figures did not jibe with Wilson's. Then he read into the record a new list of checks cashed by Saunders and the $7,000 figure was agreed on. Saunders told the committee he figured he would make an ultimate profit of $3,000 to $4,000 on the sale of Wood County oil property to Cage, longtime key man in the management affairs of the defunct ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas. Until last year, Ben Jack Cage was head of the management firm for the labor-backed ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas. He was ousted by a new management team claimed to be "fantastic" financial deals brought about collapse of the stock fire and casualty company.

Test Atom Power Reactor Explodes

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—The AEC said today the core of a test atomic power reactor exploded during testing on Feb. 12. No one was injured, but the power unit was destroyed. The reactor core—in essence a stripped down model of a power reactor—was, because of its "naked" nature, whimsically dubbed "the godiva." It consisted of a sphere of uranium 235 about 6½ inches in diameter suspended on a tripod. The AEC announcement said no damage was done to the building and radiation contamination has been removed by standard cleaning methods. The uranium sphere consisted of six pieces in three sections. Screws holding the sections together couldn't withstand the strain of the reactor heat and gave way, scattering pieces of the sphere for "several feet" around the room housing the Godiva. "Godiva"—a so-called "unclad" or critical assembly—was first built in 1951 for experiments with what the AEC called "critical" or "delayed" neutrons. "More than 3,800 experiments of various kinds had been conducted with the assembly," the AEC said. One spokesman who declined to be quoted by name compared the destruction of the reactor unit to "what happens when you hold a hot glass under cold water." "Because the Godiva was not especially designed for the heavy demands for 'prompt burst' service irradiations which had been made on it, another unshielded assembly had already been designed which will accommodate either delayed or prompt critical experiments," the AEC said. This new unit will have a wider range "and additional protective features desirable for repeated use." The AEC statement continued: "The Godiva" was one of several simple critical assemblies in use at Los Alamos, for the purpose of developing information on fast-neutron systems and serving as a source of large quantities of neutrons for instantaneous irradiations, called "prompt bursts." It consisted of an unshielded spherical mass of uranium 235 about 6 and ½ inches in diameter. The sphere was made up of three sections which were assembled remotely to produce chain reactions in performance of experiments. "At the time of the accident the assembly was being used as a source of neutrons for the instantaneous irradiation of uranium-loaded graphite. The purpose of the experiment was to determine the behavior of this material after exposure to a sudden wave of neutrons."

Presidency Leaves Country With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower took the presidency right along with him when he sailed out of the country last night. With Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles all out of the country, the question arose: Who was left in charge? The answer: Nobody. With Eisenhower headed for Bermuda by way of tropical waters, Nixon is touring Africa and Dulles is not yet back from a Southeast Asia meeting in Australia. There is a line of succession starting with the vice president to cover the case of a president who dies in office. But there is no such thing under the Constitution as an acting president, comparable to a lieutenant governor who takes over when his chief leaves the state. Nobody took over officially even when Eisenhower was out of ac-

Scouts Set Up Big 'Tent City'

Tent city, inhabited by hundreds of red-blooded boys, has sprung up among the hills and hollows southeast of the city park. At noon, approximately 800 Boy Scouts, Explorers and their leaders from a score of cities in the Buffalo Trail Council had registered for the annual Big Spring Roundup. More were arriving hourly. Prospects were that the registration would exceed 1,000. Campfire for the roundup, to which the public is invited, is set for 3 p. m. Stewart Painter, Odessa, in charge of the program, said that there will be Indian ceremonial dancing, and Sgt. Robert E. Porter, Odessa, will present a novelty act. The campfire is a novelty act. The campfire is immediately west of the headquarters tent. Competition in Scout skill events starts at 7:30 p. m. Such things as fire by friction, knot relay, blanket rolling, chariot race, Scout law relay, pony express, and signaling will be held today. Saturday morning, boys will take part in height judging, first aid relay, fire by friction, water boiling, stick relay, silent signal obedience, and nature study. Explorers are matching skill in compass, marksmanship, skeet shooting, "bronc" riding and pioneer lashing. Sherman Smith and his helpers are preparing a big barbecue for those registered at the roundup for Saturday noon.

Coahoma, Midway To Vote On Consolidation Saturday

Coahoma Independent and Midway Common School districts will ballot Saturday on whether to consolidate into a single district. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. Balloting for Coahoma district voters will be at the American Legion Hall with Ralph White as judge. Midway district voters will ballot at the Midway school where Walter Robinson will be the judge. The only issue on the ballot will be "for" or "against" consolidation. Other issues such as assumption of indebtedness, tax rates, etc. would be called later if consolidation vote is set for the following Saturday, March 23, in Center Point and Coahoma, and absentee voting in this election may be accomplished at the county clerk's office until Tuesday.

Beck 'Asked' For Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate committee investigating rackets today "requested" Dave Beck, international president of the Teamsters' Union, to furnish all his financial records for the years 1949 through 1955. Frank W. Brewster testified today the financial records of the Western Conference of Teamsters were destroyed in 1954—the same year the Internal Revenue Service asked for them. Brewster said a janitor put the records in the trash because of orders from the Seattle fire department to clean up a storage room as a fire hazard. Brewster is head of the union's 11-state Western Conference. Under questioning from investigating senators, he conceded that the conference's bookkeeping system was such that it would be "possible" to embezzle thousands of dollars in union funds. But Brewster said it was "not probable." The questioning went into financial matters after Brewster enters a general denial that he and other union officers conspired to control rackets in Portland, Ore. He called this allegation "absolutely fantastic and completely untrue."

Hart Scores 'Cynicism' By Public

By The Associated Press
James Hart, a candidate in the Senate election April 2, says the cynical attitude toward public service of many private citizens is partly to blame for corruption in state and national politics. Republican Thad Hatcher, campaigning at Waco and Temple Thursday, said he was an "ike admiring Republican and will support the President on all issues that I feel are good for Texas and the country." Rep.-at-large Martin Dies hammered away at his invitation to other candidates to speak up on major issues. Dies over television invited his opponents to "stand up and be counted" on issues of federal control of education and civil rights legislation. Hatcher and state Sen. Searcy Bracewell criticized Dies.

Bulldozer Romeo Moves Girl's Heart (And Chunk Of Houston)

HOUSTON (AP)—To sway the affections of his girl, Ronald Raymond figured he would need a 25-ton earth mover. Raymond, although he landed in jail proving his point, not only moved his girl friend's heart, but a large chunk of Houston—which he deposited, along with the monstrous piece of heavy machinery, beneath his true love's window. "I guess I'll be busy for a few days, repairing the damage I did," Raymond, 25, said cheerfully today. Raymond's monumental portrayal of a bulldozer Romeo began at 2 a. m. today, after a visit to the apartment of Miss Janice Braisher, 25. Raymond had been out of town, came back last night and promptly fell in with some "old Navy buddies" who took him out on the town. When he arrived—a little late—at Janice's, she refused to let him in, despite his pleas and pounding on her door. Raymond left, wondering how he could return to her good graces. Eight blocks away, he saw the giant earth mover, which appeared appealing. A heavy machinery salesman, Raymond had no trouble starting the huge machine. Along with the earth mover, Raymond took 24 cubic yards of dirt on his return call on Janice. Tooting the shrill air horn as he guided the machine along, Raymond drove right up to Janice's window, spilling dirt around, tearing up the terraced lawn and cracking the sidewalk. He hopped off the machine and ran to pound on Janice's door. Janice didn't run out, but the landlord, Harry Turk, and several other residents did. Raymond pretended ignorance of how the machine got there, and offered to "help move it." He made a valiant try, but couldn't get the machine out of the yard. Raymond left and called his girl friend. "Honey, look out the window and see what I brought you," he laughed. "Are you still mad at me?" That was a mistake. Police were in Janice's apartment and they listened in on the call. They arrested him at his home. And Janice? "I wasn't mad at him in the first place," she laughed. "When I heard that thing, I didn't know what it was. I looked out and it looked like some ancient monster in the yard." Raymond was undismayed in jail. "That thing has a lot of things wrong with the inside," he said reflectively. "I'm going to see the owner about selling him a new one."

Execution Slated In 'Stephanie Case'

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Barred from a last-minute stay, Burton Abbott dies today in the San Quentin gas chamber for kidnapping a bobbysoxer, stripping off her panties and brassiere, then hiding her bludgeoned body 250 miles away in a crude grave in wild, bear country.

Attorneys worked up to the last hour to save the convicted kidnaper from a last-minute stay. Judge Walter L. Pope of the U. S. Court of Appeals made an overnight stay of the case. He was petitioned by Atty. George T. Davis within minutes after Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman denied an 11th hour petition for a writ of habeas corpus in San Francisco late yesterday.

Gov. Goodwin Knight last night denied a last-minute request by Abbott's mother, Mrs. Elsie Abbott, for a stay of execution.

The Abbott case developed into one of the strangest criminal cases on record in California. It began April 23, 1955, when the brunette vanished on her way home from Berkeley. Her decomposed body was unearthed from a shallow hillside grave in northern California 84 days later.

The key links in a chain built largely on circumstantial evidence came from the laboratory of a criminology professor at the University of California, where Abbott was a student.

Dr. Paul Kirk's microscope, studying sweepings from Abbott's car, identified a strand of Stephanie's hair and tiny fibers from her clothing. That was the prime evidence of abduction.

The professor's test tube, making use of a method he devised for identifying soils by their densities, established that dirt on the heel of Abbott's mountain boot came from the nine-inch level of Stephanie's hillside grave — 335 feet up a slope from a fishing cabin where Abbott went on the fateful April 23. That was the prime evidence of murder.

The one thing which first pointed suspicion at Abbott came from Abbott's own home.

On July 15, 1955, his wife Georgia Abbott found Stephanie's purse while rummaging for a costume hat to wear to a party. She said Abbott suggested she call police.

The next day, an FBI agent dug up Stephanie's brassiere, her spectacles and school books from sandy soil in Abbott's basement.

July 20, bloodhounds found the little girl's grave in Trinity County, 250 miles north of Berkeley. The body was too decomposed to determine if the girl had been raped.

Abbott, who went to the university after a tuberculosis operation brought his discharge from the Army, denied the crime.

Cyprus Truce Possible In EOKA's Offer

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Prospects for an end to guerrilla warfare on Cyprus appeared improved today after an EOKA cease-fire offer.

British Gov. Sir John Harding neither accepted nor rejected the proposal, which was hinged on the condition that the British release Archbishop Makarios from exile. But Harding said he would be the first to welcome any move toward a "genuine and permanent cessation of the present violence," and that he was certain Britain would display "no lack of imagination" in dealing with the situation.

Vias Markides, editor of the Greek Orthodox newspaper Ethnos and a leader of Cyprus' Greek community, hailed Harding's reply as encouraging. Hopes for a halt to the prolonged underground violence rose throughout the island.

Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Orthodox Church on the British colonial island, was deported to the Seychelle Islands in the Indian Ocean last March on grounds he was directing the fight to end British rule and unite Cyprus with Greece. The dominant Greek Cypriot population insists Makarios is the only person with whom Britain can negotiate on Cyprus' future.

The cease-fire offer was made in leaflets scattered in Nicosia and signed "Digenis," leader of the EOKA underground organization.

Britain has offered Cyprus more self-government but has said violence must be ended before an agreement can be negotiated.

Cold Front Enters Gulf

By The Associated Press

A cold front that sped across Texas in 24 hours pushed into the Gulf Friday, but left behind colder temperatures, dust and some rain.

The front moved past Brownsville early Friday. Gusty winds behind stirred up dust, restricting visibility to 3 miles at Brownsville and 6 miles at Corpus Christi.

A thunderstorm was reported at Laredo. The Weather Bureau said that was the only rainfall recorded in 12 hours up to 6 a.m.

Skies over the state were clear in the north and west and partly cloudy in the southeast. Overnight low temperatures ranged from Dalhart's 26 degrees to Brownsville's 65.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures would range from cold to cool Friday, but a warming trend would set in Friday night and continue through Saturday. Maximum temperatures Thursday ranged from 89 at Laredo to 51 at Amarillo and Dalhart.

U. S. Takes Over Pioneer's Ranch

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A pioneer New Mexico stockman's home ranch was government property today — part of the Army's new McGregor missile firing range.

But whether hearty 82-year-old John Prather will move off peacefully by the March 30 deadline still is a question.

Yesterday he repeated he will "die at home."

His home "spread," started 50 years ago, lay along the east border of the range in south-central New Mexico. Inside the range is about 3,400 acres he owned outright and 20,000 acres he leased from the state and federal governments for years.

"A man has got a right to die at the home he spent his life building," Prather said recently. "I've decided to finish out my first 100 years here. You can't put a man out of his home."

Hat Passed For Hoffa

NEW YORK (AP)—A committee of union leaders was reported today to have been "busy passing the hat" for a life-size portrait of James R. Hoffa at the time the Teamsters Union leader was arrested on charges of tampering with a Senate committee.

The New York Times told the story this way:

Last week, the committee sent letters to hundreds of leaders of labor and industry announcing that it had engaged Nicholas A. Volpe, a Hollywood artist, to do an oil painting of Hoffa, who was arrested in Washington Wednesday night.

The portrait project was an aftermath of a $100-a-plate dinner given in Hoffa's honor in Detroit last April. The dinner raised $288,625 for building a "Jimmy Hoffa children's home" in Israel.

Then some of Hoffa's right-hand men in the Central States Conference of the Teamsters Union figured it would be nice if the Israeli orphans could have a portrait of their benefactor from across the seas beaming down on them.

The Jimmy Hoffa Portrait Committee came into being, and it enlisted the sponsorship of officials of unions that depend heavily on the Teamsters for assistance in organizing.

The Hoffa men sent out an appeal for "financial help from our friends to defray the cost of this worthwhile project."

A sketch of Hoffa—"smiling benevolently, in a fluted gold frame"—was at the top of the appeal letter.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Joseph McNeany delivered the declaration and compensation check to the U. S. court clerk's office in behalf of the Army, which wants the land to expand its guided missile training program.

Last summer the federal government filed condemnation proceedings against ranchers on the vast tract. It has been negotiating with various owners ever since.

A government spokesman said only a third of Prather's ranch is included in the acquisition, but in that third is his home. He said Prather had been offered about $150,000 for that part.

U. S. Atty. Paul Larrazole said if the ranchers are still there by March 30 and the Army asks the U. S. attorney's office to remove them, their further steps will be taken.

He declined to say what the steps might be.

Larrazole said the cattlemen can ask for a hearing and jury trial to decide the value of the land if they believe their property is worth more than the government offers.

Prather has steadfastly maintained his land is not for sale. He has said if the government forces him out of his home, it will be "in a box."

The U. S. attorney in Albuquerque filed a "declaration of taking" yesterday. It gave the federal government possession of a 314,385-acre tract to become part of the McGregor range. At the same time, the federal attorney's office deposited $341,425 as "just compensation" for the confiscated land.

Later, U. S. District Court in Albuquerque ordered several ranchers, one of them Prather, to give up their property by March 30.

Ike Relaxes On Bermuda Trip

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER — President Eisenhower, relaxing and seeking to spruce up his health, cruised south along the Atlantic coast today toward the warm waters off Florida.

The President sailed from Norfolk, Va. aboard the Navy guided missile cruiser Canberra last night on a leisurely six-day voyage to Bermuda. He will arrive there Wednesday afternoon for talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

He decided on the sea trip in a move to shake a stubborn cough, a head cold and an ear ailment which have been bothering him for some time.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerly, aboard the Canberra, reported by radio last night to newsmen traveling on escorting destroyers that Eisenhower had retired about 9 p.m. after spending a quiet evening with members of his staff.

Hagerly said the President was "feeling fine" and that the Canberra's course for today would be due south along the Atlantic coast.

The schedule called for Eisenhower to arrive off the coast at Daytona Beach, Fla., about 4 p.m. and to continue to and probably beyond the Miami area. Hagerly said there was no plan for Eisenhower to go ashore at any time during his cruise.

Eisenhower boarded the cruiser at Norfolk, Va., after visiting for a time with key naval officers of the United States and seven other countries at the Atlantic Supreme Command headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Base Sought By U.S.

Cross locates Red Sea port of Massawa, where the United States seeks to establish a naval and air communications base with the approval of Ethiopia. Massawa is in Eritrea, former Italian colony now federated with Ethiopia. U.S. installations presently exist in nearby Asmara and in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, both within easy range of the controversial Suez Canal and Gulf of Aden. Vice President Nixon pressed the Massawa request during his just-completed visit to Addis Ababa.

Egyptian General Governs In Gaza

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An Egyptian major general today governed the Gaza Strip but U. N. troops were still the only military force in the disputed area.

There was no retaliation so far from Israel. Earlier, Premier David Ben-Gurion had served notice his government reserved its "freedom of action" if the Egyptians took back the Gaza Strip. He said he would use "all political and security steps" to prevent the Egyptians' return.

The Israelis pulled out of Gaza last Thursday on the assured that the U. N. Emergency Force would exercise both military and civil control of the Mediterranean coastal area alongside Israel's Negeb Desert.

The new Egyptian governor of Gaza, Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, arrived late yesterday from Cairo with five military and civilian aides.

A UNEF platoon was on hand to receive him, and the Arabs in Gaza hailed him with shouts of "Long live Nasser, long live Arabism, welcome to the Egyptian administration."

U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, already were in Gaza when the Egyptian party arrived.

The United States, meanwhile, tried to appease Israel for the failure to keep Egypt out of Gaza. State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen talks would start soon on resumption of U. S. aid to the Jewish nation.

White declined to say whether resumption of aid to Egypt and Jordan also was being considered. American financial assistance for all three countries were halted when Israel attacked Egypt Oct. 29.

In London, the governing Conservative party and the opposition Laborites joined in demanding that the U. N. guarantee Israel against Arab aggression.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons any settlement in the Middle East must include guarantees against Israel's extermination as well as guarantees for the Arabs against Israel's territorial expansion. He declared that the Gaza Strip should be made a U. N. responsibility. Clearly referring to both the United States and United Nations, he said:

"Those who brought pressure to bear upon us and France and Israel should have to face up to the facts of the situation and undertake a proper share for securing a solution."

Aneurin Bevan, chief foreign affairs spokesman for the Laborites, told Commons that both Laborites and Conservatives expect the United Nations to "see to it that Israel's act of courageous faith (in pulling out of the Gaza and Aden areas) will not go unrequited."

Barge Destroyed As Well Blows Out

HOUSTON (AP)—A well in Matagorda Bay blew out while being drilled yesterday, virtually destroying the barge-mounted rig. No one was injured.

The blowout was on the Brazos Oil & Gas Co. seven miles southwest of Port O'Connor. It was being drilled by Columbia Drilling Co. of Houston in about nine feet of water.

Blizzards Sweep Midwest Regions

By The Associated Press
Blizzards whipped across northern Midwest areas today, isolating scores of communities, as other violent mid-March storms swept sections in the central part of the country.

Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas and Nebraska appeared the hardest hit by the late winter icy storms which erupted yesterday. At least six deaths were attributed to the blizzard conditions, four in Minnesota and two in Iowa. Rain, sleet and snow spread across wide areas.

Strong northerly winds whipped the heavy snow into huge drifts and visibility was cut to zero in some places. Wind gusts up to 70 m.p.h. lashed areas in Iowa and Minnesota yesterday as the storm rolled across the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Travel was curtailed and in many places halted. Telephone and power service was disrupted and schools were closed. At least a dozen small towns in northwestern Iowa were isolated when communications were knocked out. Similar conditions were reported in other parts of the storm belt. About 300 of the 500 persons attending a high school district basketball tournament at Rolfe, Iowa, were forced to spend the night in the school gymnasium because of snow-blocked and icy highways.

Snow measured up to 6 inches in sections of Minnesota and Iowa and blizzard conditions continued for parts of Minnesota and North Dakota.

As the storm headed into the upper Great Lakes region, cold air spread across most of the central part of the country. Temperatures were more than 30 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier in many places and were far below freezing in the storm zone.

The cold air dipped as far south as Oklahoma. Chicago felt the sting of the icy air as the mercury dropped from a high of 71 yesterday to below freezing this morning.

Along the leading edge of the cold front, thunderstorms broke out yesterday from the Kentucky-Tennessee area northward to extreme Upper Michigan. Tornadoic winds struck Illinois, with a twister hitting Parkville and Sidney in the east central part of the state. Several buildings were damaged and trees uprooted, but no persons were injured.

Meanwhile, springlike weather continued in the eastern quarter and western third of the country.

Tax Collections From Household Help Required

Housewives who employ a maid, cook or laundress and who pay cash wages of $50 or more in any calendar quarter, are required to withhold 2 1/2 per cent of their cash wages as social security tax. Previous to 1957 the tax was two per cent.

The employer then matches this amount and forwards the total to the district director of internal revenue at the close of each quarter.

This announcement was made jointly here today by Burke Johnson, District Manager, Social Security Admin., Odessa, Texas and Ellis Campbell Jr., Dallas, district Internal Revenue Service director.

The revenue official explained that the tax is paid to IRS on a simple, easy-to-use form called Form 942, which any revenue office can provide. Payment is due by April 30 for the first quarter. He pointed out that such wages include payments in cash, check, or money order. Not included for domestic workers is the value of food, lodging or clothing. Cash payment for car fare is included, but not the cost of bus tokens.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look.

Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says—"It's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Paper Quotes Cage As Saying He's Scapegoat For Collapse

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Post said in a copyrighted story today that Ben Jack Cage, promoter of the vast ICT Insurance Co. interests of Dallas, claims he is being made a scapegoat for the collapse of the company.

The Post said it interviewed Cage in a telephone call to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Two legislative committees are investigating the financial downfall of the ICT, which recently was ordered into receivership by the State Insurance Commission. The Commission said it was more than four million dollars in debt. Cage headed the management firm that ran it.

"They wanted a scapegoat and they nominated me," Cage was quoted as telling the Post.

Cage said he had gone to Rio de Janeiro to make a survey on the possibility of establishing a fiberglass plant there.

"It doesn't make sense to me that any operation the size of that one (ICT) could either be made or broken by any one man," he said in response to a query as to whether the charges that mismanagement during his period of control was the cause of the ICT failure. Cage has been disassociated from ICT for a little more than a year.

Cage said he was willing to come back to Texas "if I'm invited," and said he was willing to testify before the Texas House of Representatives committee probing the ICT collapse.

"Yes, I'll come back to Texas," he said. "Any reason why not? I have no reason not to talk to anybody."

He added: "I imagine I'd have a hard time making a living right now."

Cage denied any knowledge of any payments to Max Wayne Rychlik, son-in-law of former Texas Insurance Commissioner Garland (Chink) Smith. Rychlik has admitted receiving $700 a month from Jack Cage & Co. for a year and has said he didn't do any work for the company.

Cage also said any money given to former Texas Insurance Commissioner J. Byron Saunders were for mineral royalties. The money was due Saunders, Cage said.

Cage said those who are accusing him of the company's failure "know I didn't make any money out of ICT," the Post reported.

He said he would be back in New York from Brazil in about 30 days. "I've got a job and I've got to stay on it or I'll lose it," Cage said.

He said the enterprise he represents in Rio de Janeiro was composed of Cuban and European interests.

He described his present financial condition as "very modest."

The Post reported Cage said he had nothing left of the vast empire that once was under his control. "After this insurance mess," he was quoted as saying, "I'm lucky even to have a job."

Cage said the troubles of the ICT started after the management contract held by his firm, Jack Cage & Co., was cancelled.

He said as late as April 1956, some 23 states examined ICT Insurance Co. and found it sound. Cage's firm severed its managerial relations with ICT on Feb. 1, 1956.

vert the issue over from their own problems to the management company," he said.
Cage said he once obtained a 30-day option on the services of Anita Ekberg, Hollywood actress whose name reportedly appeared on ICT financial records. He said the option ran out and brought him no profit.

Jury To Decide On Monkey Business

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Berkeley artists battled to a clamorous draw last night on the issue of exhibiting the artistic creations of Betsy, Baltimore's finger-painting chimpanzee.
The only thing settled was a decision to take a look at the ape's handwork, or footwork. A painting will be flown out from the Baltimore Zoo for critical inspection at a meeting next Wednesday.
The idea of exhibiting Betsy's painting was broached Monday by Nora Hampton, director of the annual sidewalk art show just outside the University of California campus June 28. Miss Hampton had read that Betsy's paintings have been selling for $25 to $50 per canvas.

Charles Modecke, San Francisco Bay area abstractionist, expressed indignation and said he wouldn't exhibit if Betsy did.

"No chimpanzee," he added, "is going to make a monkey out of me."

Last night, before a standing-room-only crowd at Berkeley Women's City Club, artist Lorraine Crawford sized it up this way:

"We are unalterably opposed to, and cannot tolerate, and owe the public an apology for the idea of putting local artists in competition with a chimpanzee which is what Betsy is."

Others said well, what the heck, it was the American way to give Betsy her chance.

Advised that a sample of Betsy's work was forthcoming, the 65 artists voted that the question be left up to a six-member jury after a close inspection of the handwork, or footwork, on canvas.

charged with assault to murder and discharging firearms inside the city limits. They were released yesterday after County Probation Officer George Cusick admonished them to "go home and get back in school and let those rifles alone."

Newspapers were flooded with calls after the incident and Mayor Clough called the city commission into special session to discuss the case. The order disarming all but the head dogcatcher was approved then. Dog catchers had been deputized as special policemen and permitted to carry arms.

Galveston Disarms City's Dogcatchers

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—The City Commission yesterday ordered all except the head dog catcher here disarmed after a shooting incident involving two 14-year-old youths who said a dogcatcher tried to kill their pet.
Mayor George Clough, following a storm of protests from citizens rallying to the youths' defense, also suggested that dog catchers reconsider their methods of catching canines.
The key figure in the controversy, Blackie, a small mongrel dog, was confined in the city pound for a 14-day observation period.

But dog lovers have pledged the $17 required for his release when the observation period is over.
Blackie's masters, Robert Garcia and Charles Layman, armed with a .22 rifle, held a dozen policemen and two armed dog catchers at bay for more than an hour Wednesday. They said the clash followed an attempt by dog catcher Otis O'Callahan to shoot their pet.
O'Callahan said the dog tried to bite him when he was attempting to check it for tags and he fired at it only to frighten it. After a brief tussle, the boys grabbed the dog and ran. The shooting incident occurred later, after neighbors called police and said they heard the boys threatening the dog catchers.
The boys were jailed and

Hungarian Jewish Leader Murdered
TEL AVIV (AP)—Rudolf Kastner, controversial Hungarian Jewish leader in World War II, died today of an assassin's bullets.
Kastner was found bleeding profusely from three chest wounds in a northern Tel Aviv street early March 4. He was taken to a hospital but his condition grew progressively worse.
A number of persons were rounded up after the shooting and police said two young men among those detained would be charged with murder.

Champion Steer Sells For $1.25 Per Pound

Rodney Brooks, 15-year-old Coahoma lad, sold his grand champion show steer last night for $942. Drs. Ned and Virgil Sanders and the Medical Arts Hospital bought the beautiful animal at the auction sale which climaxed the 20th annual 4-H and FFA Fat Stock show at the fair barns.

The bid of $1.25 per pound was on a parity with that paid last year for the grand champion of the local show. The buyers said they intended to keep the steer.

Reserve grand champion steer, shown by Jerry Iden, 14, of Vealmoor, came within $42 of bringing his young owner as much cash as did the grand champion.

First Federal Savings and Loan bid $2.50 per pound to buy Lorita Overton's grand champion lamb. The lamb weighed 85 pounds. Lanell Overton, sister of Lorita, sold her reserve grand champion lamb to Kimbell Feed Company for a price of $1.50 per pound.

At a barbecue dinner at 6 p. m. for buyers, their friends and for the members of the Howard County Junior Livestock Association preceded the sale.

Today, animals sold at the sale were being removed from the barn. Animals not sold were on their way back to the homes of their owners and the task of putting the building in mothballs until next show time was under way.

Record Flight

The Navy Airship ZPG-2, which broke the existing airship record for non-refueled flight, is shown shortly after it took off March 4 from the Navy Air Station at South Weymouth, Mass. The 343-foot ship, carrying almost a million cubic feet of helium, passed the Canary Islands, the African Coast and was in the vicinity of the Virgin Islands, when it established the new record.

Navy Blimp To Finish Record Flight Today

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Navy blimp ZPG-2 will end a record-breaking 11-day romp through the skies tonight with her "well done" already inscribed on the 343-foot airship's log.

The blimp left Weymouth Naval Air Station, Mass., at 6:32 p.m. March 4. She was due to touch at Key West Naval Air Station at 6:30 tonight. More than 7,000 miles of territory had passed beneath her by yesterday, eclipsing a 1929 mark of 6,980 miles set by the German Graf Zeppelin.

Earlier, the blimp also had broken the old record of 200 hours 12 minutes for non-refueled flight. The blimp's crew got this radio message from Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, as their craft floated over Florida: "Heartiest congratulations on establishing a new world endurance record for airships. Your untiring efforts and devotion are most commendable. This flight is another achievement which serves to demonstrate the continuing search for technological advantages by the U. S. Navy. Well done."

Fuss Arises Over Atom Construction

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A congressman and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission were in disagreement today over how fast America should go in building nuclear power plants.

Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, warned that England and Russia are "seriously" challenging U. S. world leadership in nuclear power and suggested the federal government spend more money to build more plants, and bigger ones, faster.

But AEC Commissioner Harold S. Vance denied the United States was losing ground.

The two shared the platform last night at a session of the 1957 nuclear congress sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board.

"We are definitely ahead of the rest of the world in the technological development of atomic power," Vance said. "And I am confident that we will remain in this position."

Durham, besides appealing for more A-power plants, also urged the United States to increase its military weapons production and build the world's first atomic airplane as quickly as possible.

He charged that "the Defense Department is again using the meat ax instead of the scalpel on the aircraft nuclear propulsion program" and thus delaying launching of an atomic-powered plane.

Vance admitted that "controversy has been going on in the halls of Congress" about America's take-it-slow attitude in nuclear power plant construction.

But he insisted there was no rush, that the United States had no need to build such plants so quickly, that it had time to set up research plants and small facilities to make sure it gets the best kind possible.

Conflict Seen At Oil Hearing

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two conflicting reports will face the Oklahoma Corporation Commission Tuesday when it sets the April oil allowable.

One, from the Bureau of Mines, predicted a decrease in the estimated demand for Oklahoma crude from 640,000 barrels to 610,000 barrels per day.

The figure evidently is based on the assumption that the Iraq pipeline and Suez Canal will be open on a partial basis, thus easing the supply situation in Europe.

But Arthur Fleming, director of the Office for Defense Mobilization, wired the commission that he expects demand through April to continue as it has for the past few months.

Pecos Project Report Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department has informed Congress the Department would not object to a bill to authorize construction of 2 1/2 million dollars worth of water conservation projects in the Pecos River Basin of New Mexico and Texas.

The basin is now experiencing one of the most severe droughts on record.

Pending bills propose a reclamation bureau project to provide a 16-mile diversion of Pecos River waters from near Artesia, N.M., to McMillan Reservoir. The object is to salvage water now lost through evaporation and transpiration from 13,500 acres of salt cedar and other water-using scrub vegetation.

In addition, the inflow of saline water from salt springs would be short-circuited by installing pumps to transport the brine into the Queen Lake depression, where it could be stored and evaporated.

Surety Firm Faces Receivership Order

AUSTIN (AP)—Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co. of America has been ordered to show in a hearing March 28 that it should not lose its license and be placed in receivership.

The show cause order was issued late yesterday by the State Board of Insurance Commissioners against the Dallas firm. Receivership proceedings will be started by the attorney general's office if the company fails to prove its case, the commission said.

Tuesday stockholders were told that the company faced possible insolvency unless it could get out of commitments to take over the American Atlas Insurance Co. in permanent receivership.

In another order, the commission gave Legal Security Life Insurance until April 15 to make additional appraisal of the value of its assets. A show cause order against this company was issued Dec. 13 in which the company was accused of falsifying its books to show assets "in excess of their true value."

Yesterday's order, following a hearing earlier this week, said there appeared to be a conflict in the evidence as to the proper value of common stocks of other corporations listed in the assets.

The six allegations against Physicians Life by the commission stated that the capital of the company is impaired to the extent of more than 50 per cent. It also said the Stock Legal Reserve Life Insurance Co. is not possessed of the minimum capital required by law.

It also said the company invested "its funds in notes secured by liens on real estate whose value was less than 40 per cent more than the amount loaned thereon."

It said the company sold stock to individuals for $251,154 and "certain corporate directors" retained this money. The order alleged these directors transferred their individually owned shares of stock in the company to the individuals in lieu of the authorized but unissued shares sold by the company to the public.

In a stockholders meeting in Dallas, former Gov. Coke Stevenson, as executive of the firm, said the company's future "looks bleak." He said the future depended upon court action to rescind a

Child Found Drowned In Hotel Bath

DETROIT (AP)—Three-year-old Patricia Tiernan, who was kidnapped from her home in Pontiac yesterday, was found drowned last night in a bathtub at a small hotel in Detroit.

Police said they found the body after following directions given by a teen-age baby sitter who was picked up for loitering near the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

State police in Jackson arrested Madeline Allred, 18, of Pontiac, after a prison guard reported he saw her run out of the prison lobby and hide under a car in the parking lot.

State troopers Roger Rivard and Donald Kirt said Miss Allred was undergoing routine questioning when suddenly she blurted out:

"But I did kill a baby down in Detroit today. I held her under water for two hours."

The troopers quoted her as saying, "I always had an urge to kill people." Then, they said, she gave the room number of a hotel in Detroit where Patricia's body could be found.

As police in Jackson questioned Miss Allred, they heard over the police radio that she was wanted as the baby sitter who had disappeared with Patricia from the home of the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tiernan of Pontiac.

Miss Allred had been employed as a baby sitter for the past three weeks by the Tiernans. Police quoted her as saying she was released from a state mental hospital in July of last year.

for the boys — for in Twirp Week, the girl is the provider.

The ninth grade tennis team was excused Thursday afternoon to play in the tennis tournament. Also the ninth grade volleyball girls played the Snyder A team and lost 25-33. Ester Navarrete was the high point scorer with 11 points.

Track is the sport for this season. Some of the boys that will be participating in some of the events are Freddy Brown, sprints and 440 relay; Bill Engle, distance and 440 relay; Gordon Dickenson, sprints and 440; Donald Dorsey, hurdles; Robert Phelan, distance; Gogie White, high jump. The boys are really working to be ready for the track meet coming up with either Snyder or San Angelo on March 16.

Airliners Searched In Bomb Scare

DALLAS (AP) — Five air liners were searched here and at Wichita Falls last night after an anonymous telephone caller said a bomb had been planted on the next plane out of Dallas. No bomb was found.

J. W. Miller, executive vice president of Braniff Airlines, said Braniff's office received the call shortly after 6 p.m.

He said four Braniff planes at Love Field were searched, including the mail, cargo and baggage.

A Convair airliner en route from Dallas to Amarillo was held at Wichita Falls for an hour for the search, but no bomb was found. Miller said the Dallas switchboard had received a similar call during the day. He said the company officials believe the call was a prank, possibly inspired by recent incidents in other parts of the country.

holds that he was born in Killpatrick, Scotland. Also he came to the Emerald Isle as a prisoner and was sold there as a slave at the age of 16. This all occurred about 1,500 years ago. Later he escaped and fled to France. There he studied to be a priest and later gained permission from the pope to return to Ireland as a missionary.

Many legends and stories have been attributed to him, including the tale about running the snakes from the country and also bringing the clover into prominence.

Price War Threat Seen By Oil Men

HOUSTON (AP) — The "equality of opportunity" bill pending in Congress would encourage price wars, the president of the Texas Oil Jobbers Assn. said yesterday.

O. N. Pederson of Kilgore criticized the bill, which would make it illegal for a supplier to cut the price of a product to meet local competition without passing a similar price cut to all jobbers.

Pederson told the association this would mean that gasoline refiners over the nation would have to cut prices at every supply point to meet a local price war situation. He said it would mean a spread of price wars.

West Texans Talk Against Poage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill by Rep. Poage of Texas on state cotton acreage allotments was opposed before a House committee yesterday by a West Texas delegation.

The group, led by George Pfeifferberger, Lubbock, executive secretary of the Plains Cotton Growers Assn., told the committee that the bill would reduce West Texas acreages. Rep. Mahon said he estimated that the bill would cut acreages by 119,000 in his district. Allotments to counties currently are made according to the number of acres planted to cotton during the five preceding years. It would be limited to three years by the Poage bill.

The new measure also would eliminate the years of 1951 and 1953, when there are no restrictions on cotton acreages, from the historical period.

Another provision of the bill objected to by the West Texas group would prevent the use of trends by the State Agricultural and Stabilization Committee in allocating acreage. They supported a bill providing for a separate price support loan for light spot cotton reflecting commercial prices.

Poage said that the benefits of "trends," as the state ASC defined them, would go to whichever group "controlled" the committee. His provision, he said, would prevent the trend interpretation from going to the large growers in West Texas or the smaller growers in East Texas.

The committee also heard a suggestion by Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) that Texas have one ASC but with two administrative areas.

Fish Were Original Backboned Animals

By RAMON COFFMAN

Fish are known as "the first animals with backbones." Scientists say that fish lived fast ages ago, before there were any backboneed animals on land.

Holes are other marks in rock layers suggest that certain kinds of worms existed before that time, along with shell-covered animals.

Q. What good was a backbone to a fish?

A. It gave strength to the body, and protected the spinal cord. This cord was (and is) a line of nerve cells, or nervous tissue, extending from the head almost to the other end of the fish.

Q. What about the brain of a fish?

A. It is too small to make any fish an "intellectual giant." Nevertheless it has the same main parts as the brains of higher animals, including reptiles and birds.

The brain of a fish has a cerebellum, also a cerebrum with a middle division line. There are optic (or seeing) lobes in the brain, and at front are olfactory (or smelling) lobes.

Q. Is the brain of a fish like that of a furry animal?

A. The brain of a furry animal has the same main parts, but in very different proportion. The cerebrum is more important in a furry animal than in a fish.

Q. Are some fish higher than others in the scale of life?

A. Yes. The lungfish, for example, is far above the shark in development. A vicious manatee (like the tiger shark or blue shark) is poorly equipped with brain power. A lungfish of Egypt or the Amazon valley ranks much higher.

Some lungfish have pairs of lungs, instead of single lungs. In addition, the cerebrums of lungfish are larger in proportion to other parts of their brains than

Head of shark and diagram of a fish brain. The large white ovals are the optic lobes, controlling sight. The parts of the cerebrum are directly in front of those lobes.

Accent's Off But The Name Is Right

NEW YORK (AP)—Hironichi Ohara, a Japanese exchange student, says his name makes him highly eligible for marching in Saturday's St. Patrick's Day parade.

Ohara, 29, studying at Manhattan College, showed newsmen a top hat and green ribbons he has in readiness for the big parade.

"I don't have the right accent but I have a proud name," said Ohara.

Electronic System Rules Air Traffic

NEW YORK (AP)—Manufacturers of a new electronic and radar system claim the device will easily handle the most complex traffic situations at crowded airports. The International Telephone & Telegraph Co. said it provides airport control towers with "practically instantaneous data on planes in flight," and simultaneously exchanges data and messages with pilots.

Hitch In Bargain

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—Homer Mathews bought a nine-room frame house for $96. There's a hitch to the auction sale bargain. Mathews has until April 20 to tear it down or move it from the site where the former owner, Ben Barr, plans to build a new ranch home.

Caught By A Hair

CORUNNA, Mich. (AP)—Frederick Webber, 40, faced by a handful of his wife's hair attached to a warrant, pleaded guilty to assault and battery and was sentenced to 30 days in jail. Deputies who investigated the beating complaint brought in the hair and taped it to the warrant.

Admiral Wants Recognition For South Pole Group

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—Rear Adm. George J. Dufek newly arrived from Antarctica, is "determined to get some sort of recognition for the men who built the bases and the men who winter in" on Operation Deep Freeze.

Dufek commanded the forces that worked through the South Polar region's summer constructing seven widely scattered bases for a four-year scientific study project.

"The men who built the bases, and the men who winter in deserve recognition," Dufek said in an interview today.

"A medal? Yes. And something more! Exemption from income tax during their polar time, perhaps. Or double-time toward retirement."

"I'm going to try to get them something!"

Dufek's force included 3,000 men, 12 ships and 40 aircraft. The base construction job, he said, "would have been an accomplishment of considerable magnitude, even in a temperate, civilized land. The area in which we worked is larger than the United States."

The United States, Russia and seven other nations have built antarctic bases for observations during the International Geophysical Year officially starting July 1.

"At our bases, when we moved out a few weeks ago, 291 American scientists and military support personnel moved in," Dufek said.

"They will winter in down there, cut off except by radio."

Physicist Wins Atom Peace Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Danish atomic physicist Niels Bohr is the winner of the first $75,000 atoms for peace award set up as a memorial to Henry and Edsel Ford.

The award to Bohr, 71, was announced yesterday by James R. Killian Jr., chairman of the trustees of Atoms for Peace, Inc., a nonprofit corporation financed by the Ford Motor Co. Fund.

Bohr won the Nobel Prize in physics in 1922. Since 1920 he has been director of the Institute of Theoretical Physics.

He got 1000 calls a month from two YELLOW PAGE ads

Yellow Page ads play big part in reaching $1 million sales goal—bring 8984 calls in 9 months.

Fred Foster has quite a success story to tell...

As manager of a chain of tire stores, he tried an experiment to find out if Yellow Page advertising could help sell tires.

His store used a 2-column display ad and trademark heading in the Yellow Pages. The advertisements carried a special telephone number, different from the company's regular telephone listing. A telephone was installed which rang only when customers dialed the special number, and in this way all calls were directly traceable to the Yellow Page ads.

In 271 days, 8984 calls were received. In less than a year, these calls helped the store reach its first million dollars in sales.*

Yellow Page advertising can work for you, too, Mr. Businessman. Talk it over with the Yellow Page man when he calls on you.

*A true case history; only the name has been changed. The telephone company will be glad to furnish more details on request.

Traffic Safety Topic For T&P Ladies Meet

Mrs. R. H. Blasingame, speaking to the T&P Ladies Safety Council Thursday afternoon, said failure to observe and obey traffic signs is the chief cause of traffic accidents. Speed is the greatest killer, she told the group.

Members met at the Settles Hotel, with Mrs. C. L. Richardson as hostess. Brownie Troop 37, under the leadership of Mrs. Irby Fleming, entertained the club with songs.

For her discussion, Mrs. Blasingame chose Targets For Safety. She told the council that in three of ten fatal accidents, excess speed is the cause; out of 19 accidents, one has failed to keep to the right of the dividing line on the highway, she said.

Mrs. Apple Will Head Altrusans

A new slate of officers was elected Thursday by the Altrusa Club members at a meeting in the Howard House.

Mrs. J. B. Apple will be president during the coming year; Mrs. Ova Mae Edwards will serve as vice president; Mrs. Coy Nalley, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. B. L. LeFever, recording secretary. Mrs. C. R. Rhoads was elected treasurer, and Mrs. Bob Eberly, director.

Classifications for membership were checked and discussed by the group. An opportunity for securing a film on jury service for women was announced; the matter was referred to the program committee. Date for the area workshop, to be held in Big Spring, was set for June 1-2. The local club will serve as the hostess group. Twenty-six were present for the luncheon meeting.

Birthday Party Given By Baptist Temple Group

Birthdays were observed at a banquet Thursday evening at the Baptist Temple.

Given for members of the Adult One Department, the dinner was arranged with a four seasonal theme. Members were seated at tables designated according to their birth dates. The program consisted of skits given by a group from each season of the year. Tables were decorated with the same idea. About 50 were present for the dinner.

John Palmore Is Named Mr. Scout

LAMESA — John Palmore was named Mr. Girl Scout of the Rotary Club at the luncheon meeting today at the Mesa Room. As he has been active in Girl Scout activities for the past five years, he renewed the Girl Scout promise and laws in a candlelight ceremony.

A letter of appreciation from the 450 Girl Scouts of Lamesa was presented him. Mr. Palmore is a member-at-large of the West Texas council and is chairman of the member nominating committee of Lamesa District. He has also served as president of Lamesa District. He has two daughters, Sunny, who is a member of Senior Service Troop 11, and Pam, who is a member of Intermediate Troop 19.

Fort Worth Guest

A guest in the homes of Mrs. Auda Stanford and Mary Cantrell has been Mrs. Henry Young of Fort Worth. She is a former resident of Big Spring.

Methodists To Attend WSCS Annual Meeting

Nine women have expressed intention of attending the annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference WSCS slated for Wednesday through Friday, in Abilene. Sessions will be held at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Mrs. H. H. Stephens, president of the Big Spring District of the conference, will head the group. Others are Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, Mrs. W. L. Vaughan, Mrs. Jack Griffin, Mrs. C. W. Parmenter, Mrs. H. N. Clemow, Mrs. Harold Steele, Mrs. W. D. Lovelace and Mrs. Marshall Day.

Mrs. Frank G. Brooks of New York City, past-president of the Woman's Division of Christian Service will be one of the featured speakers. Another will be Nina Stallings of Atlanta, Ga., missionary to China and the Philippines. "Teach Us to Build" is the theme of the meeting. Business activities will get under way at 5 p. m. Tuesday, with an hour apart and dinner at Aldersgate Methodist Church. Abilene Methodist Church, Abilene District WSCS will be hostess for the dinner. At 7 p. m. Tuesday and 9 a. m. Wednesday, the executive committee will continue its business sessions. Luncheon will also be a courtesy of the Abilene District. Registration will be held from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Wednesday, with official program activities to begin at 1:15 p. m. Communion meditation Wednesday afternoon will be given by the Rev. John Donaho, host pastor. Other special program features will include a drama, "Perry Prepares to be a Missionary," and a reception honoring Mrs. Brooks, both on Wednesday night.

St. Patrick Theme Used For Dance

LAMESA — A St. Patrick's Day theme was used in the decorations for a dance held at the Country Club Thursday evening from nine to twelve. Hosting the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tinsley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walden, Mr. and Mrs. Bowers Purcell and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Lindsey. The refreshment table was laid with green linen cloth with white stock forming the center arrangement. In following the Irish theme, green foil shamrocks were used around the room. Music was furnished by Bernie Howell's orchestra with about 225 attending.

Dinner Party

LAMESA — Mrs. Ernest Moody entertained with dinner Monday evening honoring Mrs. Duke Jimerson of Midland. The dinner table was laid with white linen cut work cloth and featured a center arrangement of pink carnations flanked by pink tapers in silver holders. Dinner was served to eight.

Accused Labor Chief Gave Rise To Legends

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—There have been two legends about Jimmy Hoffa in the labor field, one that he had guts, the other that he was too smart for the law.

The FBI's arrest of the cocky, hull-shaped Midwest Teamsters Union boss Wednesday on charges that he bribed a Senate Rackets Investigating Committee staff member, may have proved the one theory and disproved the other.

Hoffa, 44, long has been reputed as the real boss of the Teamsters Union. He has always smilingly denied this and paid lip tribute to Teamsters President Dave Beck. But he has made it clear that with Beck out of the way, he would take over.

A rough-and-tumble character, he has been investigated by five congressional committees in recent years for alleged underworld connections and questioned business deals. He has had a fast climb in Teamsters ranks. Starting out in Detroit, he expanded his Teamsters domain throughout the Midwest and South and extended it along the East Coast and into New York City.

Last April Hoffa was invited to lecture on labor relations at Harvard University. While he was at Cambridge, the New York district attorney, Frank Hogan, made a statement saying Hoffa was supported by "hoodlums and racketeers."

Hoffa, replying with typical bravado, said, "I've been investigated by grand juries and congressional committees. I will submit to any honest investigation anywhere." And he said he had never been indicted.

A House committee in 1954 dug up a few interesting things about Hoffa. One was that he had an interest in an obscure insurance firm—handling the lucrative welfare fund account for the Central States Conference of Teamsters. Hoffa heads the conference.

The committee also produced testimony that Hoffa's wife had a major holding in a truck firm which took over a contract vacated by a firm put out of business in a teamsters labor dispute. Hoffa also operates a girls' camp in Michigan and has Florida real estate interests. Hoffa is a man of apparently modest tastes in dress and habit, but of consuming interest in wielding power. He wears inexpensive clothes and his white cotton socks are a trademark.

Doolittle Laughs Off Nazi Claim To Flying Saucer

WASHINGTON (AP)—James H. Doolittle says it "just ain't so" that Nazi Germany developed a flying saucer and a bomber that could attack the United States and return without refueling.

The veteran airman, chairman of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, gave a House Appropriations subcommittee his estimate of reports published in Germany of great aviation accomplishments under Hitler. These were contained in a book by Rudolf Lusar, former German War Ministry special weapons chief.

Doolittle's testimony was published today, along with that of Hugh L. Dryden, director of the advisory committee.

Dryden said "there is no truth" in a statement that German engineers designed a flying saucer which attained a height of 40,000 feet and speed of 1,250 miles an hour.
