New Mistrial Called In Parr Fraud Case

HOUSTON (AP)—A mistrial was declared in the third George Parr mal fraud case today because of the police and felony record of a juror, and May 6 was set for Parr's next trial.

Federal Judge Joe Ingraham ordered the mistrial after the juror, Richard Cox, 41, Houston roofing carpenter, told the court that FBI records showing he had received a three-year sentence in Missouri for car theft as a juvenile were correct.

Ingraham said the conviction disqualified Cox and that the juror further was disqualified as a man "not of good moral character."

The judge earlier had read from FBI and police reports showing that Cox had been arrested at various times since 1932 in Jefferson City, Mo.; Memphis, Tenn.; Wichita, Kan.; St. Louis, Mo.; Clayton, Mo.; Syracuse, N.Y.; Coffeyville, Kan.; and Houston.

The last of seven arrests in Houston was dated Jan. 11. Ingraham suggested that U.S. Atty. Malcolm Wilkey investigate "to see if juror Richard Cox cannot be proceeded against either by criminal prosecution or by contempt proceedings."

The judge explained that while questioning 54 veniremen Monday when he asked if anyone had ever been convicted for a felony offense and sentenced to more than one year. He said a fourth venireman came to him privately later in the day and told him he had committed a bank robbery.

"Juror Cox sat calmly by and allowed himself to be selected on the jury. The action of the three men Monday in open court should have been an example to juror Richard Cox to stand up," the judge said.

The question of the juror's eligibility arose yesterday, and Judge Ingraham recessed the trial without explanation at that time.

He earlier had instructed attorneys not to discuss with anyone anything said during a 15-minute conference in chambers with one of the jurors.

The judge appeared angry as he left the courtroom for the closed door conference. U.S. Atty. Malcolm R. Wilkey had advised him eligibility of one of the jurors had been questioned.

The second trial ended in a mistrial last week when one juror was found ineligible. He didn't reside in the Southern Federal District of Texas.

The first trial ended Dec. 18 with a hung jury after 42 days. It was ruled last week one of the four alternate jurors couldn't replace the ineligible man because the juror was disqualified before taking his oath. Ingraham said an alternate could be used only if the juror becomes disqualified after taking his seat in the jury box.

The 20-count indictment was read to the jury yesterday. It alleges Parr and 10 co-defendants diverted more than $200,000 in Benavides Independent School District funds. All pleaded innocent.

Ingraham overruled a defense motion for dismissal of the case against four of the defendants, who were found innocent on from 10 to 19 of the indictment counts in December. The first jury returned verdicts of acquittal on 59 of 220 counts. The jury selected yesterday was to be asked to return verdicts on the remaining 161 counts.

Labor Probe Hears Of Gift To Campaign, Job Payoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank Brewster testified today the Teamsters Union made a campaign contribution to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California, and later interceded with Knight to get Charles Tait of Seattle appointed as San Francisco's port director. The amount of the contribution was not immediately brought out.

The testimony came in the 14th day of hearings by the special Senate Rackets Investigating committee. It was the third straight day on the witness stand for Brewster, the Western Teamsters boss.

Brewster himself opened the line of questioning which led to his testimony on a union campaign contribution to Knight and Tait's appointment.

Brewster had testified yesterday that he bought a pair of binoculars at a Seattle store for Tait. The witness opened up this morning by saying he wanted to "correct" his Tuesday testimony.

He said that while he bought the binoculars with the intention of giving them to Tait, because Tait was a friend of the Teamsters Union, he wasn't sure that Tait ever received them.

Robert Kennedy, committee counsel, then said Tait has been questioned and said he received the glasses.

But Kennedy said Tait's understanding was that the gift was from Brewster, not the union. Brewster had insisted that gifts he purchased with union-paid gift certificates had always been distributed in the name of the union—not as personal gifts.

Brewster said he certainly had intended to make clear to Tait that the glasses were a union gift.

Brewster went on to testify that the union made a $2,000 campaign contribution when Tait ran for port commissioner in Seattle in 1954. He said Tait was elected but no provision was made to appropriate money for the position.

Kills Robber

The Rev. Robert Gingersy, Methodist minister at New Albany, Ind., shot and killed William Hassett, 23-year-old bank robber, just after Hassett had shot a State Highway Patrolman with whom Gingersy was riding at the time. The shooting occurred at a road block set up at Sellersburg when the trooper stopped the bank robber's car.

Observation Corps For 'Moon' Formed

Big Spring Satellite Observation Corps, organized to join with hundreds of other such organizations in cooperation with the scientific efforts to project a man-made moon sometime this summer, came into being at the Howard County Junior College Wednesday morning.

E. B. McCormick is chairman of the organization. He was chosen by the more than a dozen men representing Howard County Junior College, Webb Air Force Base and the town who were at the initial organization meeting at 10 a.m.

Capt. Murray Carter, project officer for "Moonwatch"—official designation of the effort to observe the passage of the man-made satellite this summer and fall—was selected as secretary of the group.

N. Young, commander of the base, that the Air Force has been assigned a role in the visual observation of the satellites when they are projected. Across the country teams of observers are being organized in towns and at military installations for the same purpose.

A city-wide organization will be formed in Big Spring. The observers will include Air Force men, students and instructors at HCJC, employees and officials of Hodgen Petroleum Company and citizens at large.

The organization set up today will recruit volunteers, provide equipment, select and survey a suitable observation site and keep in contact with the agencies directing the production and launching of the satellites. Other meetings of the group will be scheduled from time to time.

A board of directors to serve as a steering body for the corps was authorized. Members of this board were named.

Hard Shower Falls On City, Warning Issued

Big Spring was treated to half an hour of vigorous rain at 11 a.m. today—termed the hardest down-pour the community has witnessed in many long and weary months.

The total measurable precipitation at the U. S. Experiment Station, was a quarter of an inch.

Webb Air Force base gauged .20 inch rain. Southeast Big Spring gauges showed .30 inch. No reports from adjacent communities had been received to noon.

"A severe weather" forecast for this area was issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau at noon. Tornadoes were said to be possible. Forecast released at noon warned that the weather would continue in this part of Texas through 9 p.m. tonight.

A small twister hit the ground about five miles northwest of Seminole on the heels of a severe weather forecast over a wide section of that region.

The U. S. Weather Bureau quoted the sheriff's office at Seminole as saying the twister disappeared without doing any known damage. The police radio at Big Spring picked up a broadcast saying an oil field worker saw the twister.

The weather forecast called for "a few" tornadoes, large hail and strong gusty surface winds in West Texas.

The Weather Bureau said that the area could expect severe thunderstorms, heavy rains and some threat of hail to that hour. Gusty winds up to 60 miles per hour were anticipated.

However, this .24 inch rain was the heaviest in some weeks and the biggest rain of March to date. Only other measurable moisture fell on March 11 when the station recorded .05.

The rain developed out of a foggy forenoon which turned first into a faint drizzle and then picked up volume to dump the brief down-pour onto the town. There was some slight hail with the rain but the stones were not large enough to do damage.

Gutters which have long been dry were transformed into miniature torrents for a few minutes and traffic groped slowly along the streets.

The rains were triggered by a low pressure system which was sweeping across West Texas today. It was touching off rain and hail storms in the El Paso area and elsewhere was a mass of moist air was also moving up from the Gulf.

The Weather Bureau said the low pressure area was moving eastward and the forecasts in general called for occasional rain and a few thundershowers over most of Texas.

Skies all over Texas were generally cloudy and the winds were light. El Paso had drenching rain and there was some hail. Showers were reported at Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Laredo, Cotulla, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Childress and Wichita Falls.

The Experiment Station reported that the rainfall through Wednesday morning brought the total precipitation at that station for the month to .29 inch and for the year to 1.78 inches.

A low pressure system earlier touched off hail and thundershowers in the drought seared area around El Paso.

Rain up to .75 inches was reported in Llano County.

Light rains also fell in the Rio Grande Valley.

'Wrong Door' Victim Tells Story Of 'Night Of Terror'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The woman victim of the wrong-door crash-in aimed at Marilyn Monroe gave a county grand jury the story of her "night of terror" when a group of raiders burst into her bedroom. "I was terrified," Mrs. Florence Kotz Ross testified yesterday. "The place was full of men. They were making a lot of noises and lights flashed on."

"They broke a lot of glasses in the kitchen getting out of there."

Mrs. Ross admitted she couldn't tell if Frank Sinatra was one of the raiders. "It was too dark and I was too shocked," she said.

The jurors today hope to end the hearing into the ill-starred Nov. 5, 1954, raid which ended in Mrs. Ross' apartment. One of the witnesses will be Sheila Stewart Renour, the actress Miss Monroe reportedly was visiting that night on another floor of the apartment. Sinatra told the jurors yesterday

AT HEARING

Daniel Testifies Cleanup Needed

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel told a House committee last night he would like "to see us clean the name of this state that has been dragged through the mud because of the acts of a few."

Daniel, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Public Safety Department, appeared before the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee to support the state law enforcement commission proposal.

The bill (HB855) would give Texas a 12-man "investigative, research and fact-finding agency" whose purpose would be to "investigate state law enforcement procedure, means of crime prevention and alleged law violations by state officials and employees."

The committee sent the bill to subcommittee with instructions to report back next Tuesday. Several members of the committee wanted the bill to be sent to the floor for debate but after four hours of discussion on the bill the representatives voiced approval for a special 5-man subcommittee.

Daniel, who advocated the commission in his campaign last summer for governor, had tagged the bill for emergency legislation. He told the committee restoration of public confidence in state government "is the most important thing we could do—I put it ahead of the water program and everything else."

He said Texas was ahead of the nation's average of major crimes and "we ought to do everything possible to study how we can prevent crime and juvenile delinquency."

The chief justice of the State Supreme Court would appoint a chairman and the other members would consist of a grand jury foreman from each of the 11 judicial districts in the state. The commission would employ legal counsel and investigators and would maintain its office here although hearings could be held throughout the state.

Cory said the commission would have no power to indict and would hold secret sessions to study evidence. However any hearing would be open.

Road Crash Ruled Attempted Suicide

ROBY (AP)—A man who left a note saying he "just decided to end it all" was critically injured in the crash of his auto into a truck yesterday.

Justice of the Peace Hollis Head ruled that Newton Handy, 41, whose address was listed as 41, Sweetwater hotel, attempted to commit suicide.

The truck driver, William Baker, 34, Monahans, was injured seriously.

Highway Patrolmen Herman Seal of Sweetwater said Handy's sedan would have hit the truck headon if Baker hadn't swerved. The car hit the truck in the side.

Head said the note in Handy's pocket read:

"I, Newton A. Handy, in my right mind and will, have just decided to end it all. I am no good and I have hurt everybody that I have had anything to do with."

Handy was taken to the hospital.

Mid-East Crisis High On Agenda

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew into Bermuda today for urgent talks with President Eisenhower on the Middle East crisis and half a dozen other world issues.

Eisenhower, winding up a week's health cruise on the guided missile cruiser Canberra, was due here six hours later.

Within 15 minutes after landing Macmillan set out over Bermuda's winding roads for the Mid-Ocean Club where he and Eisenhower and their foreign ministers will do their talking for the next four days.

One of their chief purposes is to try to lay some practical basis for rebuilding the British-American partnership which has been a cornerstone of the free world alliance since the end of World War II. The partnership was virtually wrecked by the Middle East crisis last fall.

Diplomats said top priority in the talks had to go to the most urgent aspects of the Middle East crisis involving Israel and Egypt. Macmillan was expected to ask the President to exert more vigorous and determined American leadership. The British are reported to feel that American policy has been lacking in decisiveness and depended too heavily on the United Nations.

A review of Western relations with Russia, the prospects for further freedom pressures in Eastern Europe, the strength of the North Atlantic Alliance and possibility of modifying the trade embargo with Red China are set for debate.

"In a statement Macmillan said 'I am sure that our talks will be valuable and will help to build up the strong traditions of Anglo-American friendship and cooperation upon which the life and future of the free world depends.' The British are reported to feel that the U. S. government, having prevailed on Israel to withdraw its troops, is honor bound to support Israel actively in the present stage of the contest with Egypt.

Before leaving London Macmillan made it clear his prime purpose will be to restore understanding and friendship with the United States.

"This is one occasion when the British will be quite frank and I feel sure the Americans will be quite frank about what they feel," he said, adding he was confident "a great deal will be gained from a frank exchange."

Ike Scheduled To Arrive At Bermuda Today

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—A six-day ocean cruise ends for President Eisenhower today as he arrives in Bermuda for conferences with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan on world problems.

Macmillan, the President's host, arranged to greet him on his arrival aboard the cruiser Canberra.

The Eisenhower-Macmillan talks will start tomorrow at the swank Mid-Ocean Club, where Eisenhower met in 1953 with Sir Winston Churchill, then Britain's prime minister, and Joseph Laniel, at that time French premier.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House physician, reported yesterday that Eisenhower has benefited a great deal from his six-day cruise.

Yesterday afternoon Eisenhower got his second look in as many days at United States naval might in action. The latest demonstration brought the Canberra and its escorting destroyers under simulated atomic attack. On Monday he watched Navy Terrier guided missiles explode a pilotless "drone" plane into the sea.

The simulated atomic attack came during a drill of jet fighter planes and attack bombers launched from the 45,000-ton aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, about 200 miles away.

The planes fired as they pulled into steep climbs over wooden towed targets.

Britain Accepts Cyprus Conciliation

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced today she is ready to accept an offer of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to conciliate in the Cyprus dispute.

Greece has demanded self-determination for the colony, saying the predominantly Greek population should be given the right to govern themselves.

The island's Turkish minority refuses to accept any solution that would not give them voice in government.

Defendant Winds Up Tour Of Courts, Faces 143 Years

John K. Trammell has reached the end of an 18-month tour of West Texas jails and unless something else develops will soon be on his way to the state penitentiary.

There he will start serving a total of 143 years sentences hanging over his head.

Trammell pleaded guilty in 118th District Court on Tuesday afternoon to a charge of robbery by assault. He was sentenced to 25 years in state penitentiary by Judge Charlie Sullivan.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, said the offense for which Trammell pleaded guilty on Tuesday occurred in this county in 1955.

The indictment against him was drawn at that time.

However, Trammell was already under indictment or wanted for a series of crimes in other towns—Lubbock, Plainview and Midland.

He was taken in custody by the officers of these counties and for 18 months had been moved from jail to jail while disposition was made of the cases against him.

In the trip around the area which ultimately brought him back to Big Spring, he accumulated prison sentences running to 143 years. It was explained that some of the sentences assessed against Trammell run concurrently with others.

Amendments Added To Senate Program

AUSTIN (AP)—Three proposed constitutional amendments were added to the Senate's floor-action program today.

Approved yesterday by the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee, the proposals would:

1. Provide for annual sessions and pay for House and Senate members.
2. Require redistricting of the state's congressional districts by 1961.
3. Provide for a retirement fund for state officers and employees.

The House voted to hear the much-discussed code of ethics bill at 11 a.m. tomorrow, while the author of several lobby registration bills predicted one of his would be up for floor action by Monday.

The 2 billion dollar plus appropriations bill approved by the House last week was under study by a Senate committee. The senators will have their own spending bill to compete against the House's which weighed 3½ pounds.

The proposed code of ethics has been attacked by some representatives because "it has no teeth." Others say there is no need for such a bill if state officials and legislators observed state laws, the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments.

The proposed code would declare no state official or employee, including legislators, shall have any interest which could conflict in the proper discharge of his duties as a public servant.

The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, State Bar of Texas and the last Democratic party convention were named as annual sessions for the legislators.

F. E. Hightower of San Angelo, Jaycee president, said the insurance and veterans' land scandals might have never happened if Texas had annual sessions. He said it would give the legislators more time to do their work.

Budget Cut Outlook Revives Tax Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The prospect of budget cuts today revived talk in Congress of income tax reduction.

Influential House leaders took notice of it by stating privately that reduction of government spending by as much as three or four billion dollars might start a stampede for general tax relief.

But the strong possibility remained that even if the budget is cut substantially, tax cuts would be delayed until next year when Congress members could learn the actual size of a surplus, rather than an estimate of it.

President Eisenhower's budget estimates show an anticipated surplus of $1,700,000,000 for this fiscal year ending June 30, and $1,800,000,000 for fiscal 1958.

If the President's 1958 spending

Rep. Reed of New York, the senior Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, told a reporter that he didn't expect the House to vote tax reduction until 1958, an election year.

Special 'Die' Urges Crippled Children's Aid

You may not have noticed but the letters you are getting which are mailed locally and cancelled by the Big Spring post office bear a different cancellation than is normally employed.

The new die used on the post office cancellation machine calls attention to the current drive to sell Easter Seals. Funds from the sale of the seals go to the campaign to help handicapped children get well.

Elmer Boatler, postmaster, said that the local organization sponsoring the Easter Seal sale here provided the special die which fits the post office cancellation machine.

Each time it is used, the envelope passing through the machine is imprinted with the slogan "At Easter Help Crippled Children."

A stylized Easter lily adorns the "box" in which the legend appears.

The special die will be used throughout the period the Easter Seal sale is in progress. When the campaign is ended, the post office will replace the old standard cancellation symbol—a circle bearing the name of the town, the date and the hour the mail was cancelled. Wavy lines extend from this to cancel the stamp.

Boatler said the post offices cooperate with organizations in this form of publicity for worthy campaigns. The requisite, he pointed out, is that the sponsoring agency buy the special die.

Explosion Kills 3 At N. Jersey Plant

LINDEN, N.J. (AP)—An explosion killed three men and injured at least five early today at the Merck and Co. pharmaceutical plant.

All the casualties were working in Building 82, where the blast occurred.

Fire broke out but was extinguished by company fire equipment. All the injured were being treated at the plant dispensary.

Cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

Defense Accuses Witnesses Of Discussing 'Widow' Case

LONDON (AP)—Counsel for Dr. John Bodkin Adams today accused three of the prosecution's star witnesses in the "Eastbourne widow" murder trial of discussing their evidence on the way to court this morning in violation of the judge's warning.

One admitted under cross-examination that during the conversation the remark was made, "Don't say that or you will get me into trouble."

Chief defense attorney Geoffrey Lawrence charged that three nurses who are testifying for the Crown against the 58-year-old doctor took the same train to court and talked about the case.

The nurses had cared for Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, the wealthy 61-year-old widow the doctor is accused of poisoning in 1950 to benefit from her will. Her body was cremated and her ashes scattered over the English Channel.

The third day of the trial saw the portly doctor still looking supremely confident in the dock at historic Old Bailey. And since last night he was assured that even if convicted, he will not hang.

The House of Lords last night gave final passage to the bill previously approved by the House of Commons to limit the death penalty to certain types of murder. The Queen's signature, an automatic step, will make it law.

Poisoners now are exempt from the gallows. Murders still punishable by hanging include shooting, killing of police or prison officers, killing during attempts at theft and killing while resisting or avoiding arrest.

The story of the conversation on the way to court was drawn from the day's first witnesses, nurse Annie Mason-Ellis. The red-robed judge, Sir Patrick Arthur Devlin, had warned witnesses and the jury of 10 men and 2 women yesterday not to discuss the case outside the courtroom.

Miss Mason, Ellis said she traveled in the same train compartment with the two other nurses—from Eastbourne, the Victorian seaside resort where they cared for many of the wealthy old patients treated by Dr. Adams. The other two were Helen Stronach, whose session on the stand yesterday ended in confusion and tears; and Caroline Randall, who is still to testify.

Miss Mason - Ellis said Miss Randall had made the remark, explaining that the discussion with the other two concerned earlier testimony that the drugs Dr. Adams was administering to Mrs. Morrell were kept in a locked cupboard of which only the nurses had the key.

Miss Mason - Ellis admitted under further questioning there had been no cupboard and no key, that "the whole of that was untrue" and "that is why we discussed it."

There was a flurry around Old Bailey just before the morning

Sun-Seeking Seal Seals Own Fate

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—That sun-seeking seal has sealed his fate.

Two days ago he flopped onto the beach to bask in the sun only to flee three times from curious boardwalk strollers.

Yesterday, he showed up in the surf again. Two maintenance men on the famous Steel Pier took him in tow—right to the Philadelphia Zoo, whose officials were delighted to have him.

Teacher Upheld In Paddling Case

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Personnel Committee of the nearby Chartiers Valley Joint School District upheld a teacher who paddled three 7th and 8th grade boys recently.

The teacher, Robert F. Koby, had so severely he required medical treatment. The School Board previously paid $5 for a doctor's fee.

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "hardy" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so dry that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to act to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAD, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAD's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAD's stretching capacity, plus COLONAD's stretch-simulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAD is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAD neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAD exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAD, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Rains Improve Crop Prospects

AUSTIN (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture said today last week's rains over half of Texas improved crop and livestock prospects.

"Good progress in all areas" was reported on commercial vegetable and livestock. "continued gaining rapidly on rank clover, rescue grass and small grains over the eastern half of the state," said the department's weekly report.

More moisture was needed in the Western Plateau, however, because some earlier rains were lost by drying winds and dust storms. "All parts of the state must continue to receive timely spring rains to maintain prospects," said the report.

Good growth was reported on High Plains wheat; small grains were rank in the Low Rolling Plains and eastward. Sorghum and corn in the Lower Valley was in all stages. Early planted Coastal Bend and Upper Coast acreage was up and growing.

In South Texas, "where the dryland crop generally has ample germination moisture for the first time in several years," planting and replanting cotton moved along, said the USDA.

Elevator Falls, Kills 5 Workers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A cable snapped, and a construction elevator carrying 19 workmen plunged five floors to the ground yesterday. Five of the men were killed and the rest injured.

"It sounded like an explosion when it hit — then there were screams," said Bob Barsh, an insulation superintendent at the new Duval County courthouse the men were helping to build.

Among the horrified witnesses were women waiting for their husbands to finish up for the day.

The 85-foot fall killed George Edward Leach, 31; Dewey Woods, 38; Glenn D. Idol, 25; Jack Monroe Thomason, 24; Dave Altmore, 50. All were white except Altmore.

The injured were distributed among five hospitals. Their conditions were reported serious or critical.

The elevator was on the outside of the new courthouse, a seven-story building being constructed along the St. Johns River in downtown Jacksonville.

Highway Work May Effect City Changes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A city planning expert predicted today that highway construction over the next 20 years will change the character and structure of metropolitan areas more than all the work of metropolitan planners since 1945.

John T. Howard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology associate professor, offered with his prophecy on the impact of the expanded federal highway construction program this lamentation: "We are ill prepared, now that the new highways are upon us, to say where they should be built in the best interests of the metropolitan areas."

Howard, addressing the American Society of Planning Officials, argued that the purpose of highways was not "the carrying of traffic but to serve the community."

He said a highway so designed and built that it produces land development patterns "worsening the livability and efficiency of a metropolitan area is a disservice to the community."

He declared the U.S. Highway Act of 1956 proposing the building of billions of dollars worth of modern highways "does not recognize these all-important aspects of highway design."

"In the absence of metropolitan planning and development policies, each decision on highway location will be based on highway engineering, traffic engineering and costs," Howard contended.

He noted that the federal act silent on planning gives route locating authority to state highway departments.

He expressed hope "that the state and federal engineers, even though they are in a hurry and even though the law does not require, will pause and listen to what metropolitan planners have to say."

Uncle Ray:

Some Lizards Are At Home On Deserts

By RAMON COFFMAN
All lizards lay their eggs on soil or other material which is away from water. Some of them place the eggs close to ponds or streams (not in the water) but a vast number of young lizards hatch in places which are miles from any body of water. They can get along in deserts.

Q. How are lizards able to live on deserts?
A. Their bodies are protected by scales. A frog, on the other hand, has a smooth skin, and would die in desert sunshine.

Q. Were the ancient dinosaurs members of the reptile family?
A. Yes, but the big, lumbering members of the dinosaur race died out long ago. The reptiles which we have today are small, for the most part, although the crocodile-alligator group has members more than 20 feet long. We also have large turtles and snakes.

Q. Which reptiles are most common?
A. Lizards and snakes. In round numbers, there are about 2,600 species of lizards, 2,800 of snakes and 300 of turtles. About two dozen kinds of alligators and crocodiles exist.

Q. Are turtles the only kinds of reptiles without long tails?
A. If snakes had legs in the places where they might be expected, the tails of most of them would extend a good distance in back of the hind legs. Certain snakes, however, are said to have "short tails."

Q. Is there any reason why turtles should have short tails?
A. They depend chiefly on their shells for protection. When a dangerous enemy comes close, they shrink inside the shell, hiding their heads, legs and tails as well as possible. Some turtles, however,

MARDI GRAS QUEEN ... in royal gown

ROYAL DRESSMAKER ... Marie L. Gatipon (foreground)

It Takes Six Months Of Sewing For Mardi Gras Kings And Queens

By ED TUNSTALL
NEW ORLEANS — Sixteen-year-old Joy Somerville, shapely and sequin-studded, paraded enchantingly into the roving spotlights at a New Orleans Mardi Gras ball.
Thunderous applause from thousands of spectators exploded in the jammed Municipal Auditorium. Nobody applauded knowingly for Marie Louise Gatipon, sitting unnoticed in a darkened box. But it was she who fashioned the fabulous gown she wore at the bewitching Miss Somerville.
Miss Somerville spent less than four hours in the gown. Mrs. Gatipon labored six months on the Krewe of Carrollton's costumes.
Her bank account gained little from the months of work and she took the applause while standing in the background.
Why does she do it?
"It must be because I love Mardi Gras. Once you become part of Mardi Gras, it's like a fever, it's hard to shake off," says the vivacious grandmother of six whose looks belie her 40-odd years.
There is a fierce rivalry among the Krewes—and year's ball.

Don't Throw That Poinsettia Away! Let It Grow Outdoors

By ANNE LAFEVER
Just about this time of the year, that poinsettia you received for Christmas is probably shedding its leaves. Don't throw it away!
Choose a spot in your garden that is protected from the north and west winds and plant it there. You may remove it from the pot, or more easily, sink the pot into a hole and let it grow.
Don't allow the stems to get too long as they will be straggly and weak. Snip them off and root them in damp sand. Then, in the fall, before frost, place the new plants in pots and take them with the old plant inside for glorious blooms at Christmastime.
Tomatoes like the same amount of food and water that roses require; set some plants in your rose bed for ease in caring for them.
If you continue planting gladioli corns about every two weeks through July, you should have blooms all summer and late into the fall.
Choose some of the All-America selections for a wide range of color. For a blue flower, Caribbean will fill the bill. It combines blue petals in a delicate tone with a rich violet throat and a spear in a cream shade. It blooms early, with from nine to 11 florets open at one time.
Another early-blooming gladiolus is Maytime, which is in pink; Royal Stewart is a clear light red, while Appleblossom is white with a touch of cream in the throat.
Spring is a good time to think of your fall chrysanthemums, too; this is the season to start new cuttings or separate that clump which has grown too large.
Set plants in a rich soil mixed with plenty of humus; soak

Johnson Argues Grazing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) and the Agriculture Department are at odds on whether additional authority is needed to make payments to ranchers and farmers for withholding livestock from pasturing. Johnson took exception to earlier testimony by Undersecretary True D. Morse on Johnson's "deferred grazing" bill in an appearance before a Senate Agriculture subcommittee. Morse said no additional authority was needed to make such payments and in any event the one-year minimum period in the bill was not necessary. "That is the minimum time required for deferred grazing to be effective," Johnson told the committee. "The deferred grazing program was recommended by the State Drought Committee of Texas."

He quoted Dr. D. W. Williams, president of Texas A&M College, as saying the lasting benefit of such a program would be its help in preserving the productivity of land by encouraging owners to keep cattle away until a good grass cover had taken root on parched drought land. On the department's views that it would be costly for ranchers to build fences to keep off such land, Johnson said that in many instances whole pastures would be included and that otherwise the land owner would be expected to meet the expense if he participated.

Cattlemen Advised Against Incautious Restocking Now

HOUSTON (AP)—Cattlemen were advised yesterday to use caution in restocking ranges when drought regions begin receiving more rainfall.

Don C. Collins of Kit Carson, Colo., president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn., said when planning for restocking, stockmen should keep in mind that numbers still are high across the nation.

Speaking to delegates attending the 80th convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn., Collins said only time will tell whether the market can absorb at a favorable price all beef on feed this year and what might have to be marketed if the drought is not broken.

"I'm not foolish enough to tell you that you should not restock your ranges when and if those rains come again," he said. "In fact, I'm understocked and will be right in there bidding with the rest of you for replacements. "But I cannot be strong enough in warning that the word 'caution' should be engraved in every stockman's hat band. This is no year to go to extremes in bidding for anything in sight. The signs of continued danger are certainly apparent to anyone who looks past the first grass in his own pasture." Collins said calf numbers in the corn belt are the highest in history.

He said substantial rains and snows across some of the drought areas are among many signs of a more favorable future for stockmen. "Demand for beef is being sustained at a level we could hardly predict a few years ago," he said.

John Biggs of Vernon, president of the association, said the cattle industry would be better off with less federal intervention in prices and marketing.

"The existing long range policies of high price supports can have only disastrous effects upon our ability and opportunity of earning a good income," Biggs said.

Speakers today will include Dr. Charles N. Shepardson, member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System; and Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), a member of the House Agriculture Livestock subcommittee.

Speculation Rises On Credit Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speculation sharpened today on whether President Eisenhower will ask Congress for standby powers to regulate consumer installment credit.

The odds seemed to be against it, for interest has been lukewarm lately. But it was spotlighted by the issuance yesterday of a massive study prepared at Eisenhower's request by the staff of the Federal Reserve Board.

The researchers found that easy-payment buying of autos and consumer goods tends to be unruly. "The major influence," they said, "has been to add fuel to booms; it has less often been an aggravating factor during recessions."

The FRB staff found that the credit structure, though carrying a record 31 1/2 billion dollars of installment debt, is less likely than in 1929 to collapse during a recession into defaults, foreclosures and repossessions. It nevertheless cautioned:

"The possibility of an episode of drastic and spiraling liquidation should not be dismissed." The report is neutral on stand-by controls; it presents various conflicting views in its five volumes and 1,619 pages. The reserve board itself has taken no position though it presumably would administer any controls voted, as it does the margin buying of stock on the exchanges.

Eisenhower asked Congress 14 months ago to "consider" standby controls. That was just after the 1955 auto credit binge, when total installment debt outstanding soared by 5 1/2 billion dollars.

The rate of rise abated last year without damage, and the issue has taken a back seat. Businessmen who have visited Eisenhower recently said he shows far less concern. Neither has any strong movement for controls developed in Congress.

The FRB economists said that in five business upswings in the past 30 years, starting with the pre-1929 period and ending with the 1955 boom, "installment credit buying contributed to a rate of sales of consumer durable goods that could not be sustained."

In some cases business sagged when consumers turned to paying off old debt instead of incurring new debt. This may have occurred in 1933, the board said, when installment buying fell off in the spring and was followed by a general recession later in the year.

The study showed that 45 per cent of American families owe some installment debt. A surprising number are in the middle- and upper income brackets — 56 per cent of all families in the $4,000 to $7,500 income groups, 48 per cent in the $7,500 to $10,000 group, and 32 per cent in the $10,000-and-over group.

Three times as many families with incomes over $10,000 now use installment credit as did so in 1952, the report found, even though 83 per cent of these debtors had liquid assets of $500 or more and presumably could have paid cash in many cases.

Some families evidently use installment credit as a form of saving, it was indicated; they save their liquid assets and buy goods on installments. The report added:

"It has become respectable to be a debtor, and the desire to own a home 'free and clear' is no longer as strong as it was in the past."

Insurance Tax Bill Introduced

AUSTIN (AP)—A bill that would levy a 5 per cent tax on out-of-state insurance companies operating without license in Texas was heard yesterday by the House Insurance Committee.

The bill, by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas, was sent to a subcommittee for study. Pool estimated the new tax would bring 2 1/2 million dollars of additional revenue into the state. It would be used for operation of the State Insurance Commission.

He said Texas companies already pay the tax. The president of the Texas Surplus Lines Assn., B. B. Russell of Dallas, testified that the bill also would help insurance firms in the state compete on a more equal basis with others.

Rep. R. L. Strickland presented two bills intended to make it tougher on loose administration of Texas insurance firms. Both were sent to a subcommittee for study.

Rocket Uses Solid Instead Of Liquid Fuel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big new rocket engine, using solid instead of hard-to-handle liquid fuel for powering an intermediate range ballistic missile, has been developed and put under test.

This was disclosed today in a routine annual report to stockholders by the General Tire Co., which seemed to contain considerably more information about some weapons than has been announced by the Defense Department. The report said the new rocket motor went into its testing stage last October.

The motor was designed by the company's Aerojet-General Corp. and, said the report, is "the largest solid propellant power plant ever used in any ballistic missile." The motor was developed for the Jupiter IRBM, the company reports.

However, Army experts told a newsman that Jupiter IRBM program does not now include use of a solid instead of liquid fuel. This appeared to indicate the new rocket engine may be intended for use by the Navy in its Polaris IRBM. The Navy started out with the Army on joint development of the Jupiter, but a few months ago announced plans to go ahead with its own project.

For reasons of handling and stowage aboard ships at sea, the Navy favors a solid fuel instead of the fuming nitric acid and oxidizer used generally in Army and Air Force ballistic missiles.

The annual report also mentions these hitherto little known developments:

- 1. A new type of motor for torpedoes, using solid fuel like that for rockets instead of the traditional compressed air or alcohol-powered motors.
- 2. Development of a mine-searching "mini-sub" for the British admiralty.
- 3. A power plant for the Bull-pup guided missile, a Navy weapon used for attack from planes against ships and other surface targets.
- 4. Development of a liquid-fueled booster for launching the Air Force's long-range Bomarc missile.

Knife, Fork Club To Hear Psychologist On Thursday

Members of the Big Spring Knife and Fork Club will meet at the Settles Hotel dining room Thursday evening at 7:30 for the March meeting of their organization. Dinner will be served at that hour. Reservations for the meeting were closed at noon Wednesday.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Stanley Jaks, widely known psychologist, who titles his lecture "More Curiosities of The Mind." Dr. Jaks comes to Big Spring with high recommendations from many other organizations before which he has appeared. He interspersed his lecture with amusing demonstrations of mind-reading, "forgery" handwriting identification and other novelties.

The program, despite the heavy title of its speaker, is described as being anything but serious. Publicity relative to Dr. Jaks' appearance assures the audiences that "there is not a serious thought" in it and that the entire program is strictly entertainment of the most unusual and intriguing character. All members of the club are urged to be at the Hotel Settles promptly.

Wet Weather Greets Spring

A little cool and wet weather appeared likely to greet the arrival of spring in many parts of the country today.

A pair of low pressure areas spread a wide belt of precipitation in the eastern third of the country. One was over the lower Great Lakes region and the second off the Mid-Atlantic Coast, bringing snow, rain or drizzle from Lake Michigan eastward into southern New England and southward into the upper Ohio Valley and Mid-Atlantic Coast states.

Snow fell during the night from northern sections of Indiana and Ohio northward through Michigan. Rain or drizzle sprinkled other parts of the wet area. Amounts in most places were light. Rain or snow was indicated during the day in most of the North Atlantic Coast states with clearing skies forecast along the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Skies were clear from the northern Rockies eastward to the western Great Lakes region and southward into the Central Plains and in most of the Southeast. Spring arrives at 4:17 p.m. EST, and with it some warmer weather was in prospect for chilled areas of the Midwest. The warmer air was expected to move across the upper Mississippi Valley to the Great Lakes region and southward into the lower Ohio Valley.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Carlisle (Frosty) Robison, one of the greatest football players Big Spring has ever had, hasn't come close to realizing his potential as a discus thrower.

Robison only recently completed spring football work at SMU and the Fones track and field mentor, McAdoo Keaton, brought him out to the ABC Relays principally because he knew the home town folks would like to renew acquaintances with him.

Frosty won fourth place in the discus throw here, with a throw of 122'8". He'll probably never rival the University of Texas' Joe Irwin or Southern Cal's Rink Babka at flinging the saucer, but he certainly expects to improve upon 122'8".

Robison may have found his position in football, although I—for one—still think he'd be a terrific back running off the single wing. Coach Bill Meek had him operating as a first string end in spring drills. Meek did a lot of experimenting after starting work at SMU. He reached far back in the ranks to promote some hands. Some of the more publicized help he sent to the sidelines. To give them time to think it over, maybe.

Meek is quite a task master, take it from Robison. He doesn't spare himself in the drills and he wants each boy to work as hard as he does.

Frosty takes to the hard toil, however, and reasons Meek's teams are going to be reckoned with, in future years. In other words, the man intends to earn his pay, the highest salary the Dallas school has ever paid out to a coach.

Max Truex, the Southern Cal athlete who won the one-mile race in the ABC Relays here last week and then had to drop out of the two-mile after he became slightly ill, likes to run on the boards. Max discovered his stride is suited for the artificial tracks when he beat John Macy (of Houston) in the two-mile run at Milwaukee the week prior to coming here.

"Everyone had been telling me my stride is suited for boards and I guess they were right," Truex said. "I never ran on them before I went to Milwaukee. You see, I have a short stride (he's only 5-foot-5) so I don't mind the bounce. Runners with long strides are sometimes bothered by the bounce. And I don't mind the curves, either."

Truex was declared the outstanding athlete entered in the Milwaukee meet.

Truex might have won a similar distinction here, had he been able to contest Macy in the two-mile.

As it was, Oklahoma A&M's great Orlando Hazley copped the trophy hands down and there was little lobbying for anyone else entered here.

Hazley has been beaten only by Bobby Morrow this year and he continues to improve. It's just possible he and the great AAC sprinter will be competing against each other here in 1958.

The Stillwater star is only a sophomore in college. Morrow is a junior. Both have excellent chances of running on the 1960 United States Olympic team. Hazley, incidentally, hails from Enid, Okla.

Big Spring got an excellent "press" all over the country because of the ABC meet.

One writer high in praise of the efforts here was Spec Gammon of Odessa. Gammon went back and wrote:

"The ABC Relays in Big Spring came of age as a big-time track meet. Sponsored by the American Business Club, relay officials this year added a university division for the first time and brought in the nation's best in Southern California.

"Next year, the ABC group plans to make the affair bigger and better. It's such a possibility.

"Big Spring's new track, which circles the new football stadium, is one of the finest in the state.

"West Texas Relays officials in Odessa can look to their laurels because Big Spring is intent on making the ABC Relays on par with the fine Odessa meet."

STEERS WIN 2ND

Danny Birdwell Tames Andrews

ANDREWS (SC)—Danny Birdwell strong-armed the Andrews Mustangs into submission and won his spurs as a starter on the Big Spring mound staff in hurling the Steers to a 12-0 baseball victory here Tuesday afternoon.

Birdwell set the Ponies down with one hit before giving way to Billy Roger in the seventh. Roger fanned two of the three batters to face him.

It was the second shutout and second one-hit game in a row for the Big Spring mound corps and doubled their victory output for the entire 1956 season, at which time they won only one game.

The Longhorns were held at bay for one inning but Bernard K. Mahan put the visitors out in front in the second when he singled and moved around on a double by Ricky Terry and a fly ball center off the bat of Billy Johnson.

That was all the Bovines needed.

Cage Numerals To 11 Hawks

Varsity basketball letters have gone to seven members of the 1956-57 Howard County Junior College team, Coach Harold Davis has announced.

They include Capt. Al Kloven of Big Spring; Mike Powell of Coleman; co-captain; Stan Williams, Dallas; Johnnie Watson, Doyleine, La.; Larry Glone Potosi, Mo.; Alvin Cohorn, Lamesa; and James Pickett, Doyleine, La.

Other letters went to Max McCulloch, Coleman; Robert Richards, Potosi, Mo.; Ernest Hayes, Andrews; and Gene Young, Brownfield.

These four played in more than half the Jayhawks' games. McCulloch lettered for the second time. The others are freshmen.

HCJC finished with a 20-8 won-lost record.

23 Homers Hit Tuesday

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

Home runs sluggers are beginning to find the range on the exhibition circuit. So far, the National Leaguers are far ahead of the Americans.

In eight games yesterday, there were 23 homers and most of them broke up the old ball game.

Ten clubs have played 10 exhibitions and six have completed 11. A total of 161 homers have been hit—99 by National and 62 by American League teams.

The New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies have each clouted 17 homers, while the Chicago White Sox lead the Americans with a dozen.

Dick Stuart, the Pittsburgh rookie who belted 66 homers with Lincoln of the Western League last year; Jim Lemon, Washington; and Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, each have hit five exhibition blasts.

Stuart got two home runs yesterday as the Pirates defeated

Don Isham Set To Face Tech

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks complete preparations today for their 1957 baseball debut, a Thursday afternoon outing here with the strong Texas Tech Picadors.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. and the contest is scheduled to go nine innings.

Coach Harold Davis has decided to go with Don Isham, a crafty right-handed letterman. Isham was consistent for the Hawks last year, despite the fact that he is favoring a back injury.

Robert Richards and Mike Powell will be ready for relief mound chores, in event Isham should falter.

The Hawks have been working out as regularly as the weather permits under Davis for the past several weeks. The only action they've seen, however, has been in scrimmages with the local high school team.

When Powell isn't pitching, he'll

Wayland Wins In AAU Meet

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Favored Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., will shoot for an AAU record of 102 consecutive victories in the quarter-finals of the National Women's AAU basketball tournament here tonight.

Plainview meets Clarendon, Tex., in its search for a fourth straight AAU tournament championship. The Queens won their 101st straight game in yesterday's second round, defeating Bristol, R. I., 64-17.

Two consolation games and four contests in the championship bracket are scheduled today and tonight in the double elimination tournament.

Directors hope contributions will start coming in for the lights, but they aren't taking any chances and will start a campaign to raise the funds almost immediately.

Tom McAdams Contending For Regular Job As QB

ABLENE (SC)—The McMurry College Indians, who started spring football training here recently, lost no time in deciding who they'd look to for leadership in the 1957 football season.

The Indians elected Charlie Davis, Stanford guard; and Weldon Brevard, Ballinger halfback, as co-captains for the coming campaign.

Davis, a sophomore letterman, was alternate captain for the Tribe last fall. Brevard is a three-year letterman and one of McMurry's top ground-gainers. He was all-Texas Conference as a sophomore in 1955.

Big problem in spring training for McMurry coach Tommy Ellis is locating his number-one quarterback. John McCrary of Quanah, two-year letterman signal caller, has decided to pass up his remaining year of eligibility.

Candidates for the job include letterman Joe Allan Dean of Hamlin, back from service; and Squad-

Lovely Medalist But BS Golfers Lose At Andrews

ANDREWS (SC)—By the margin of a single stroke, the Andrews Mustangs beat the Big Spring Steers in a golf match played here Tuesday afternoon.

The Ponies' top foursome registered an aggregate score of 358 for 18 holes, compared to 359 for Big Spring.

Big Spring boasted the medalist of the meet, however, in Donald Lovelady who put together two 42's for an 84.

In the match between B teams of the two schools, it was no contest. The Big Spring quartet won easily, using only 375 strokes to 428 for Andrews.

Here's the breakdown on the 18 holes played:

Changes Ahead For Bengals, Says Tighe

By ED WILKS
LAKELEND, Fla. (AP)—There's an explosion coming on this club," said new Manager Jack Tighe of the Detroit Tigers.

"There are some guys who have been on this club a long time, guys who are getting a lot of money and aren't earning it."

Tighe, the usually easygoing "nice guy" who was picked to replace Bucky Harris and put some "fire" into the Tigers, lit the fuse after Detroit, favored to give the New York Yankees trouble if anyone can this season, has dropped their eighth decision in 10 exhibition games yesterday.

And on the heels of Tighe's appraisal, John McHale, director of Tiger player personnel and the man who makes the trades, announced after a conference with Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, that "we have some players who could help the Indians, and they have some who could help us."

Tighe, the 43-year-old ex-Detroit coach who never has managed in the majors before, refused to name names when he indicated some of his players have been dogging it this spring. He wasn't as general when questioned about a possible trade with the Indians.

"We need pitching," said Tighe. "The Indians want a catcher." What it comes down to is this: The Tigers, with Frank Lary, Billy Hoelt and Paul Foytack forming their "Big Three," need a No. 4 pitcher, preferably a left-hander. They have their eyes on the Indians' Hank Aguirre and Buddy Daley, a pair of promising young southpaws.

To get either of the two—and Daley is the favorite—the Tigers would give up catcher Frank Rolen and "a triple-A player" for the Indians' Hank Aguirre and Buddy Daley, a pair of promising young southpaws.

The Baltimore Orioles downed the Cleveland Indians 8-4 after rallying for five runs in the eighth inning. Brooks Robinson of Baltimore hit a homer and triple.

Home runs put the Yankees back in the game against the Milwaukee Braves, and Gil McDougald's clutch double in the ninth secured two runs to give New York a 6-5 decision. Mickey Mantle and rookie Woody Held each homered with a Yankee on base in the fifth and sixth innings.

Angelo's Rams Win In Debut

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Boise, Idaho, beat Arkansas City, Kan., 68-63 to provide the only upset in the first six games of the National Junior College Basketball Tournament yesterday.

The Tyler, Tex., Apaches, representing a school which has produced four national champions in the eight years the tournament has been held in Hutchinson, rallied in the last five minutes last night to beat Grand View of Des Moines 88-78.

Tuesday's results: Tigerville, S.C., 82, Beebe, Ark., 69; San Angelo, Tex., 73 Hibbing, Minn., 63; Pueblo, Colo., 69, Tishomingo, Okla., 63; Moberly, Mo., 97, Joliet, Ill., 85; Boise, Idaho, 68, Arkansas City, Kan., 63; Tyler, Tex., 88, Des Moines 78.

Wednesday's schedule: Beebe, Ark., vs. Hibbing, Minn. (consolation); Mount Vernon, Ga., vs. Miami, Okla. (1st round); Tigerville, S.C., vs. San Angelo, Tex.; Boise, Idaho, vs. Pueblo, Colo.

Heights, East Tied For First

College Heights rallied for five runs in the last inning to topple Kate Morrison, 10-8, in a Ward School softball league game here Tuesday.

The win tied Bernard Rains' team for first place with East Ward. Each nine has a 4-1 won-lost record.

East Ward's schedule: College Heights, 10-8, in a Ward School softball league game here Tuesday.

The Greens didn't start scoring until the fourth but counted in every frame thereafter.

In their contests, West Ward went 12 innings to beat Airport, 5-4; while North Ward slipped past Park Hill in an extra inning, 10-8.

Danny Coats drove a hit into short center for two runs that enabled Heights to edge past Morrison.

Jeff Brown clubbed a first inning home run with the sacks loaded for College Heights. Tony Carrillo hit two round trippers and Tony Dutchover one for the losers.

Joe Heard and Mickey Sloan divided time on the mound for College Heights.

Bradley T rounces Xavier In Garden

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK (AP)—It's Bradley vs. Temple and Memphis State vs. St. Bonaventure in tomorrow night's semifinals in the National Invitation basketball tourney.

Temple and Bradley reached the round of four last night by whipping Dayton 77-66 and Xavier of Ohio 116-81, respectively. Each put on decisive second-half rallies to win easily.

Memphis State and the Bonnies won their quarterfinal games Monday night.

Bradley, making its first Madison Square Garden appearance since losing to CNY in the 1950 finals of both the NIT and NCAA, astounded the crowd of 10,543 by routing Xavier after trailing 38-17.

The Missouri Valley Conference tea unfinished by setting an all-time Garden and NIT single-game scoring record.

Local Netters Lose In Snyder

SNYDER (SC)—The Big Spring Steers tennis lost to the Snyder Tigers here Tuesday afternoon but did have the satisfaction of winning their first match of the year.

The Longhorns' success came in No. 2 singles, where Allen Glaser won over Chuck Warren, 6-4, 6-4.

In other engagements, Ronnie Smith, Snyder, turned back Robert Stripling, Big Spring, in No. 1 singles, 6-1, 6-0; Danny Tankersley and Rockney Fletcher, Snyder, won over Jesse McElreath and Allen Glaser, Big Spring, in No. 1 doubles, 6-1, 6-2; and Pat Murphy and Jim Crowder, Snyder, turned back James Stephens and Bill Norred, Big Spring, 6-2, 6-8, 8-6, in No. 2 doubles.

Big Spring hosts Sweetwater in a series of matches at the City Park this afternoon, weather permitting.

18 High Schools Commerce Entries

Hoffa Indicted In Data Theft Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa, bouncy little big-shot of the Teamsters Union, today faced an indictment accusing him of conspiring and bribing to get secrets of the Senate's racket probes.

Named codefendant with the 44-year-old Hoffa is Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney who in the past has served as counsel to congressional investigating committees.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee probing labor union activities said he was gratified at the prompt indictment. He expressed the hope Hoffa and Fischbach will be tried "at an early date."

Fischbach said in Miami that "when I am tried, I shall be exonerated." He said he had been retained by Hoffa "but not for anything even remotely connected with the accusation."

Hoffa himself rested on his

Love
Is A Glowing
Jewel

By Clyde
Waltz Jr.

One of the old philosophers said that love is not only the world's most important emotion but the one that needs the most tender care. "Like a glowing jewel," he said, "it must be kept bright and shining."

I often wonder how many of us consider this aspect of life as seriously as we should. Our hours and days and weeks and months and years fly by—and we're all guilty at times of not keeping our jewel of love as bright and shining as we should.

Let's talk about remembrances. I mean gifts that bespeak our affection for our loved ones. Could anything be more sentimental and enduring than an appropriate present of jewelry? You can give Mother a fine refrigerator or sewing machine or perhaps a trip somewhere. But these are things that she tucks away in her book of memories. Sure, she'd love a refrigerator or a sewing machine . . . but she'd love a ring, a necklace, a set of Sterling silver much more. They are the "something special" she loves.

Why don't you come in and see the many things we feature as gifts? There's something especially nice for any member of your family . . . or for some friend to whom you want to show your love or appreciation. Our prices are most reasonable. Our terms are easy. And we always strive sincerely to please.

statement after his arrest a week ago tonight in which he vowed he was innocent of wrongdoing and said he will "fight this case until I am cleared."

The three-count indictment against Hoffa and Fischbach was returned late yesterday before Federal Dist. Judge Richmond B. Keoch. No date was set for the defendants to answer.

In brief, here are the charges, with maximum penalties if convicted:

1. Conspiracy to bribe, conspiracy to obstruct operations of the McClellan committee, and conspiracy to defraud the United States "of and concerning its legislative and governmental functions and rights;" five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.
2. Bribery by giving John Cye Cheasty, a member of the committee staff, $2,000 "to influence and induce him to divulge" committee secrets and to turn over documents, papers and memoranda from its files; three years plus three times the amount of the bribe. The FBI says Cheasty reported the alleged bribe and cooperated fully in the investigation leading to Hoffa's arrest.
3. Obstructing and impeding the committee's "due and proper exercise of the power of inquiry;" five years, a $5,000 fine, or both.

The Senate committee's investigation so far has been concerned chiefly with allegations that West Coast officers of the Teamsters Union misused union funds and trafficked with vice and corruption in the Pacific Northwest.

Hoffa is a vice president of the Teamsters Union and head of its Central States Conference with headquarters in Detroit.

NAACP Trial Date April 15

TYLER (AP)—Trial of the state's case for a permanent injunction against the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday was set for April 15.

The NAACP has not been able to operate in Texas since Sept. 21, 1956, when Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan granted a temporary restraining order against the organization.

Dunagan said before the trial he will hold a hearing on exceptions. The NAACP has filed exceptions seeking to knock out parts of the state's original petition. The state was expected to file exceptions to the association's answering petition.

Dunagan granted a temporary injunction against the NAACP Oct. 1 after a 17-day hearing.

The NAACP argued for changing the permanent injunction trial to Dallas or Austin. In arguments Dec. 3-12, the group said it had headquarters in those cities. The state opposed the move, contending the NAACP was a foreign corporation and had no say as to where the trial would be held.

Dunagan overruled the request for a transfer Feb. 4.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

No other car even challenges its performance!

Here are some figures for comparison. We believe they talk louder than words, and that you will find this message worth reading.

So much has been said about the good looks of the 1957 Chrysler that you may have the impression its reputation rests on styling alone. The truth is it's even more impressive in action. Three performance figures prove this. Here is the first: Chrysler's Firepower V-8 engine packs 325 hp (and up to 375 hp in the Chrysler 300-C), tops in the industry.

Is horsepower the only way you judge performance? Certainly not. There's engine displacement and torque. Chrysler's displacement is 392 cu. in. What about torque, the real pay-dirt power that turns the wheels? Chrysler's torque is 430 lb.-ft. at 2800 rpm, again tops in the industry.

More power than you need? Maybe. But it means unquestioned command of the highway when you want it. It means your Chrysler will stay like new much longer because it can loaf where other cars strain. So you see, when we call this car the Mighty Chrysler we mean just that . . . the mightiest on the highway! Come in and drive it soon.

Drugs Give Hope Of Eradicating TB

Hope was held out by four Big Spring physicians last night that within a few years drugs will be available to eradicate tuberculosis. Dr. V. E. Friedewald, Dr. J. M. Woodall, Dr. Preston Harrison and Dr. B. Broadrick discussed various aspects of the disease at the annual meeting of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association in the Howard House.

Members of the organization chose new officers and heard reports on their projects of the past year. Dewey Mark was elected president, to succeed Zack Gray. Also elected were Jim Smith, first vice president; Jack Watkins, second vice president; Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., secretary; Mrs. J. T. Isbell, treasurer; and Mrs. Gray, executive secretary.

Added to the board of directors were Arthur Stallings, Mary Vasquez, Bo Bowen and Ynez Yanez. Dr. Friedewald, who introduced the program, pointed out that enormous changes in the treatment of tuberculosis victims have taken place since the discovery of streptomycin in 1944. Streptomycin was the first of the drugs that actually kill tuberculosis germs.

"Within a few years, there probably will be more potent drugs that eventually will whip the disease, now that we know the chemical formula that will kill the germ," he said.

Dr. Woodall also discussed use of the new drugs in treatment of tuberculosis in children. He described the various types of tuberculosis that may develop from a primary infection, and pointed out that early diagnosis and treatment is important to ultimate eradication of the disease.

Dr. Harrison told of the psychiatric aspects of the disease, calling attention to the emotional disturbances that often accompany the infection. The fact that, next to mental illness, it is the most difficult disease for the individual to accept often hampers therapy, he said.

Dr. Broadrick told of characteristics of the disease, and some of the steps physicians take in positive diagnosis. Tuberculosis has existed since earliest history, he said, and it is one of the few infectious chronic diseases. Incidence of the disease has been reduced from almost 100 per cent of the population 50 years ago to less than 50 per cent at present, he said.

Mrs. A. D. Harmon, retiring treasurer, reported that the local tuberculosis association received $7,355.60 last year, expended $4,507.26 and has a cash balance of $2,848.34. Most of funds are used locally to assist tuberculosis sufferers, to diagnose infections, etc.

IN BIG SPRING SCHOOLS

315 Pupils Need Special Education

From the pupil standpoint, Big Spring schools can qualify for state funds for 20 classes of special education. But when it comes to securing teachers for the classes, it is doubtful that anywhere near that number can be organized.

At present, the school system has one such class. Three other teachers have expressed interest in a proposal whereby they would qualify to teach the special units. Prospects are dim that sufficient teachers can be secured to activate the needed classes by next fall.

The special education classes are designed for pupils who commonly are referred to as "exceptional children." They are handicapped, for a number of reasons, to the extent that they need special attention in the classroom. The recent scholastic census, checked against surveys made by the city-county health unit, crippled children's organizations, tests in the schools, and other sources, resulted in the estimate that there are 315 children here that could qualify for some phase of special education.

Handicaps include blindness, partial blindness, deafness, partial deafness, orthopedic difficulties, speech disorders, nervous disorders, lowered vitality, and children who are mentally retarded.

At present, the only special education class is for the orthopedically handicapped. It is taught at the College Heights school by Mrs. Buena Bass.

S. M. Anderson, curriculum director for the city's elementary schools, estimated that the district can qualify for one class for the blind and partially sighted, another for the deaf and hard-of-hearing, three additional units for partially sighted, three for the orthopedic in the classroom and two units for the homebound orthopedic, three additional units for children with hearing difficulties, one class for youngsters with speech disorders, and six units for educable mentally retarded youngsters.

The state pays the salaries of teachers for all such classes for which the local district can qualify. The difficulty lies in acquiring qualified teachers.

To help meet this need, the Big Spring district has offered to pay an extra month's salary to any teacher who wishes to attend summer school in order to qualify for a special education class next fall. In addition, the district is offering to pay the teacher $200 above the local salary scale next year.

Another difficulty the local district faces is the lack of special transportation for the handicapped youngsters. A specially-rigged bus is needed for those in wheelchairs or with other handicaps, he explained. The state provides no assistance toward such transportation.

The school census and other surveys showed handicapped children here in these categories: blind 2, partially sighted 57, orthopedic 28, deaf 4, hard-of-hearing 65, mentally retarded 90, speech disorders 66, nervous disorders 15, and lowered vitality 4. The 340 handicaps involve 315 children.

'Friendship Dinner' Set At Sterling City

A "Friendship Dinner" has been scheduled in Sterling City April 8 by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

Sterling businessmen and ranchers will be guests of Big Spring business and professional people at the function, to be staged in the Sterling City Community Center.

The Epsilon Zeta Club of Sterling City will prepare and serve the meal and will use proceeds for redecoration of the Community Center.

About 50 Big Spring representatives are being recruited to serve as hosts to the Sterling residents. Each Big Springer is being asked to purchase two tickets — one for himself and one for a guest. The tickets are available at $1.50 each. Big Spring will provide the program and the master of ceremonies for the dinner. The affair will start at 7:30 p.m. April 8.

The dinner has been arranged by the Area Relations Committee of the local Chamber of Commerce. Walker Bailey is chairman. The event will be the first of its kind this year. Several of the "goodwill dinners" have been staged in the neighboring communities during the past two years.

Johnson Sounds Warning To Egypt

The first retreat of troops of the United Nations Emergency Force in Gaza pulled out of checkpoints along the southern edge of the Gaza Strip to make way for incoming Egyptian troops.

These points do not lie along that part of the disputed area which touches Israel. When the pull-out of UNEF troops from the Israel side of the strip begins, that may well signalize resumption of the command type of attack from Egyptian soldiers which led up to the Israeli invasion of last fall.

Speaking in Raleigh, N.C., last weekend Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson declared that "if we acquiesce to actions" in the Middle East that "go beyond reason, we will not earn or justify the confidence of the people of the world."

In an obvious reference to Egypt, but without calling names, the Senate leader said that one nation seems determined to press the situation "beyond the bounds of reason."

Specifically, he asserted Israel is "entitled to peaceful borders and to freedom of navigation" and to deny these is to give President Nasser of Egypt "a victory that his armies did not win."

Speaking at a Jefferson-Jackson dinner of North Carolina Democrats, the Texan advised them on domestic matters "to give a little and take a little" in order to maintain unity.

"All of us — North and South — must give up the idea of crushing the other fellow and ramming our own pet ideas — no matter how nobly motivated — down his throat," Johnson declared. "This is a strong country and there is room for all of us."

Great Blow To Freedom

The untimely death of Ramon Magsaysay, president of the Philippines Republic, in an airplane crash on a mountainside in Cebu was a great blow not only to the present stability and future development of the young republic but to our entire Pacific set-up.

Magsaysay was more than a hero and a shining example to his own people, he was a trusted friend and dependable ally of the United States.

On his broad shoulders rested peace and order in the islands. Following independence, the Philippines suffered a period of political disturbance, economic pinch and public disorder which the presence of an arrogant Communist movement did nothing to allay. It was Ramon Magsaysay who brought order out of chaos, and firmly directed the first faltering footsteps of the new nation along democratic and peaceful lines.

In sharp contrast to Fulgencio Batista in Cuba, whose palace is said to be the most heavily guarded building in the world, Magsaysay threw open the doors of his official residence from the first, and spent endless hours receiving and discussing affairs with all comers, from the humblest citizen to the bitterest rival. He went everywhere, mixed and mingled with the crowds, listened patiently to complaints, and did what he could to alleviate the economic condition of Filipino citizens.

The U. S. can devoutly hope that the passing of this forthright and honest administrator won't touch off an era of disorder and counter-rivalry in that nation of 20 million people. Men of his caliber and unselfish devotion to duty don't grow on trees.

The islands lost a great leader and the U. S. a great friend when Ramon Magsaysay died on that mountainside.

The Gallup Poll

Ike's Popularity Shows Slight Drop

PRINCETON, N. J., — Although President Eisenhower's personal popularity has slipped some in the two months since he took his 2nd Oath of Office, it is still above the average popularity score recorded for him during his first term.

As of today, 72 per cent of voters across the country approve of the way Mr. Eisenhower is handling his job. This is down 7 points from the 79 per cent approval registered in January — a rating, incidentally, which equaled his all-time high.

But today's popularity rating is 2 points above his average of 70 per cent which he achieved during his first four years in the White House.

As it has since 1934 — when it first measured the popularity of the late President Roosevelt — the Institute assigned its nationwide corps of interviewers to ask the following question about the Chief Executive:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Eisenhower is handling his job as President?"

EISENHOWER POPULARITY (MARCH 1957)
Approve	72
Disapprove	18
No opinion	10

EISENHOWER POPULARITY (JANUARY, 1957)
Approve	79
Disapprove	11
No opinion	10

The drop-off in Mr. Eisenhower's popularity in the last two months would seem to mark the coming to an end of his second "political honeymoon" more than it would voter dissatisfaction on any particular issue in recent weeks.

Although the question of the budget, for example, has caused considerable furor in Congressional quarters, it cannot be seen as contributing to the slip of 7 points in Mr. Eisenhower's popularity.

As things stand today, the group in the population who expresses some dissatisfaction with the President's budget gives him the identical vote of confidence that he receives nationwide.

The "political honeymoon" theory would seem to be borne out, however, when one looks at the popularity scores among members of the major parties.

Two months ago, for example, Mr. Eisenhower received a vote of approval from 66 per cent of the rank-and-file Democrats. Today, that figure has slipped to 56 per cent — or a 10 point drop.

At the same time, his popularity index among members of his own party has slipped only 5 points — from 95 to 90 per cent approval.

And among the Independents, his score is down from 77 to 73 for a loss of only 4 points.

This popularity curve in the past has been remarkably free of any wide fluctuations. From the high point of 79 per cent — first recorded following the Summit Conference in 1955 and then equaled in January of this year — to the low point of 57 per cent — which occurred in November, 1954 — there is a range of only 22 percentage points.

Political observers, however, may find it interesting to note that many of the sudden rises in Eisenhower's popularity came at a time when the President made some stand or brought out some action affecting our foreign policy — such as his "open skies" plan at Geneva or his "Atoms for Peace" speech at the U.N. in January, 1954. In both instances, his popularity curve turned sharply upward.

His popularity dropped at times when there was renewed activity on the political fronts such as the campaign of 1954 or the struggle within the GOP was most heated, such as the time of the McCarthy-Army hearings in 1954.

Charge Dismissed

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—A railroad engineer cannot be cited for careless driving of a locomotive in Cheyenne.

That's what Municipal Judge Maxwell Osborn ruled in dismissing a careless driving charge against John Elliott and F. H. Singleton, engineer and conductor of a train which had collided with an automobile.

An attorney for the railroad men argued that the city ordinance on careful driving applies only to "vehicles" and cited another statute which specifically exempts locomotives from being classed as "vehicles."

It's The Action That Counts

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's not what they say in the next few days but what they do afterwards that will count.

President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan met in Bermuda tomorrow. Eisenhower and former Prime Minister Eden met here 13 months ago.

At the end of the conference Eisenhower and Macmillan will issue a statement, just as Eisenhower and Eden did at the end of theirs.

Almost certainly it will stress American-British unity, just as Eisenhower and Eden said: "Consciousness of the unity of our two countries..."

Ironically they went on to say that if anyone began a war in the Middle East, which was tense at the time, they'd consult on how to stop it.

That was said on Feb. 1, 1956, when Eisenhower and Eden were thinking of the only kind of war which seemed possible at the time: an Arab-Israeli war.

But within 10 months Britain, France and Israel began the war. American-British unity was literally shot to pieces.

Instead of conferring with Britain on how to stop somebody else's shooting, this country joined the United Nations in demanding that Britain, France and Israel stop.

The invasion of Egypt and the American stand against its friends caused a split between this country and Britain which hasn't been healed yet.

Trying to heal it will be the primary task confronting Eisenhower and Macmillan.

But how did the split happen? What had happened between last February and last fall to cause Britain, France and Israel to begin a war without even telling this country?

Those three countries got fed up with the leadership — or lack of leadership — of Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the Middle East.

They had sat back and taken no strong, positive leadership in trying to chill Egyptian President Nasser, who had seized the Suez Canal.

The same lack of American leadership in the Middle East — far more tense now than when Eden was here — could show up again in the same or another form.

So while Eisenhower and Macmillan may stand with their arms around each other's shoulders to face the world at Bermuda, the real nature of American-British relations will depend on events in the months ahead.

Texas Senator Election Has Capital Guessing

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas' senatorial election has many here guessing on the outcome.

Wherever a Texan goes, he runs into the question: "Who's going to win the April 2 battle?"

A victory for Republican candidate Thad Hutcheson of Houston would overturn Senate control.

An overturn of Senate control would remove Lyndon Johnson from majority leadership.

Johnson has been going at such a pace lately his personal physician has joined with Mrs. Johnson and friends in urging him to slow down.

He has agreed to do so, now that the Middle East resolution is passed. More and more he plans to delegate responsibility to Sen. Mansfield (Mont), the Democratic whip, and to some of his top aides.

Around the Capital:

The Navy band tours are arranged by a West Texan who years ago managed the Hardin-Simmons College Cowboy Band, Gib Sanderfer.

A tour of Southern and Western states now under way by the band will take them to these Texas places for concerts:

Waco March 21, Abilene March 22, Lubbock March 23, Odessa March 25, Amarillo April 6 and Vernon April 8.

Better Than Jesse James

NEW YORK (AP)—Ruth Handler will make more money with guns this year than Jesse James did in his whole life.

Mrs. Handler, top woman executive in the nation's 1 1/2-billion-dollar toy industry, says the top toys of 1957 will be guns.

The result: More toy guns—up to 13 million—will probably be sold by next Christmas than dolls.

"Little girls love guns, too," said Mrs. Handler. "They get upset if told they can't have them. They even steal them from their little brothers."

Mrs. Handler, a onetime secretary, and her husband, Elliot, a former artist, are known as "the quiz kids" of the toy trade.

In 1944 they were earning a bare living making plastic jewelry. Then they started turning out plastic toy furniture, and grossed $100,000 the first year.

Elliott turned out to have a natural genius for creating novel toys that caught the fancy of children. Ruth showed a remarkable talent for solving production problems and marketing the toys. Their firm now has up to 1,000 employees in peak season at its Los Angeles plant.

"We started on a shoestring," said Ruth, a dark-haired, vivacious woman who has two children herself. "But it takes more than a shoestring to keep going."

"You have to keep a step ahead of the rest, and be able to sense trends in advance. My husband has a sixth sense in this respect. He's a great idea man."

"Research is of great importance. Designing a good toy requires, in my opinion, a better quality of engineering than that required to do national defense work. And I think I know. We've done some defense work."

Some manufacturers carry lines of 200 or even 300 toys. The Handlers concentrate on no more than 20 or 25, including about five new ones each year.

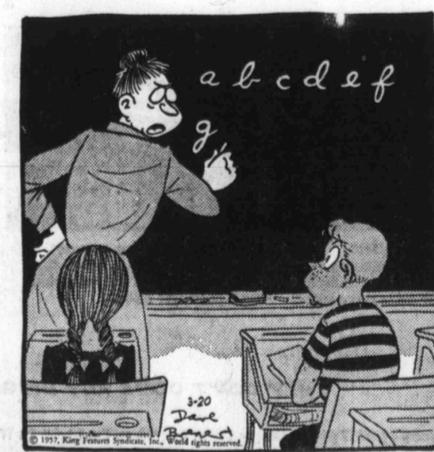

Mrs. Handler has found no conflicts in being her husband's business as well as marital partner.

"Everybody reports to me but him," she said, smiling. "I report to him. He's my boss."

"We lead two separate lives—a business life during the day, a married life in the evenings—and we're happy in both lives."

"We're together 24 hours a day, and don't get on each other's nerves. We're very lucky people."

A Good Market For Ideas

The other day I came across an item which reported that the nation's defense planners were pleading for electronic ideas. Here were some of the most pressing problems which have so far gone begging:

Wireless transmission and reception of 1,000 watts of power; low-power destructive waves; means of communicating without radio or sound waves; means of underwater target detection other than sonic; conversion of heat or chemical energy into 100 watts of power; practical method to analyze odors; a device to locate buried explosives; a fluxmeter to measure changes in the earth's magnetic field without being fixed in the field; measures to overcome radar jamming; how to get around the effects of the earth's curvature; methods of locating targets in three dimensions and also of deriving target velocity and thus being able to maintain a position track.

The list went on to embrace several subjects in the aircraft field such as a device to show absolute altitude over unknown terrain, preferably non-radiating; a maneuver-resistor which will prevent the pilot from oversteering a plane; a practical anxiety warning device to prevent crewmen from collapsing from lack of oxygen; better instruments to measure supersonic speeds.

The list could go on almost indefinitely, especially when you shake off the limitations of the military and open upon the whole vista of modern living.

Getting down to the prosaic everyday things around us, I have noticed the need for several inventions. I am willing to divulge these for a modest share of the royalties. For instance, why not a low-cost disposable paper bottle, lined with a thin membrane of plastic, for beverages at ballparks, etc?

Why not some economical type of base material for paving at intersections so that it will resist rolling and thus leave the pavement smooth no matter how many cars stop suddenly at the intersections?

Why not a practical portable barbecue grill—one that will fold compactly so that you may stash it away in your car and which, when unfolded, will be really sturdy and efficient?

Or why not some ultra sonic device and special glasses which will permit a person to project illustrative slides in perfect timing with the text and without disturbing the audience? (Something like an ear phone which alone can hear a tip from the narrator to wake up and project picture No. 6—with No. 6 being visible, by means of special glasses, only to the operator.)

I suppose I may as well withdraw these suggestions, however; for they likely are in the same category as two other ideas I had. One was to infuse rubber in asphalt so that it would stretch rather than crack while contracting during sudden temperature declines. I notice a Wyoming company has been playing with this for quite some time and with good results. The other was really my best idea. Upon observing that babies were constantly sticking pins and other metallic objects into wall plugs, with sometimes fatal results, I decided I would worry about an invention which would require the plug to be turned before anything could be inserted. A few days later I went to buy an ordinary plug, and low and behold, there was "my" idea already on the shelf. Pigtail Pickle, that's me.

We're All Baffled And Frustrated

Ever since "Visit to a Small Planet" opened on Broadway six weeks ago, I have been waiting for it to be closed as subversive by the combined indignation of the Pentagon, the amalgamated laundry industry of the U. S. A. and flying saucer addicts.

All three groups are militantly sensitive to the slightest criticism, and in this Broadway hit, Eddie Mayehoff, star of stage, screen, radio and teevee, makes mincemeat of the trio. In turn, I expected them to make hash of him.

But when I saw Mayehoff the other day, he was in fine fettle. The adhesive tape on his right hand only indicated a decision lost to a balky window.

In the play, Mayehoff is a general in charge of the Army's wet wash who comes in accidental contact with a flying saucer and its key occupant, Kreton (Cyril Ritchard). In the encounter, Mayehoff, as General Powers, is heroically, monumentally incompetent.

"So far, there has been no counteraction by vigilantes," said Mayehoff, who rolls the audience in the aisles as General Powers. "I still get starch in my no-starch shirts. But this is nothing new, so I don't think it's punitive action."

"Every now and then, I see a real Army general out front, and he is usually laughing harder than anyone else. I never figured the part made fun of generals, anyway. Powers is just another poor slob behind the eight-ball who happens to be a general. I've been playing the part of a poor, frustrated slob for so long that I gambled on people identifying the part with me, and not the Army, per se."

"I like this part because the general is my kind of character. He's frustrated and baffled at every turn, and that's for me as a comic. You see, I'm a comedian. An actor is a man of versatility and range, a man of many parts. My kind of a comedian, if he's smart, just plays himself.

"Jack Benny has been a successful checkmate for years. The late Bill Fields was always a quack. And the French actor, Raimu, always played a sentimental, provincial Frenchman or Gallic slob. Raimu has always been my idol. My aim is to do the same thing on this side of the Atlantic to play the sentimental, small-town, provincial American or slob."

"Small-town people like you and I should stick together," said this proud product of Norwalk, Conn., the Clam City. "Our homesickness should be preserved like other natural resources, such as top soil, forests and water resources."

"In fact, that is known as the Mayehoff doctrine, like the Monroe or Eisenhower doctrine. It is also known as the Clam City outlook. Too many of us small-town people come to the big city and lose the human touch. We lose our sense of responsibility for each other, and we begin to treat people like transients instead of neighbors."

"Pretty soon we begin to feel we have to be a bigger rat than the rat next door, and that's no good. We have to stick to the Clam City or grass roots outlook. Anyway, that's the kind of sentimental, provincial slob I am."

"That's the kind of man the general is, too—baffled and frustrated, but not licked. There are millions of us in America, and the Mayehoff doctrine aims to keep it that way."

It Doesn't Pay To Appease Dictators

WASHINGTON — Crisis after crisis is coming in the Middle East — and the main reason is the deliberate effort of the Soviet government to use Nasser and many other rulers in the Arab world to keep aflame the fires of hostility to the West.

The U. S. Assembly may prove powerless to bring peace in the area. It may turn out that joint action by the United States and its allies will alone bring the Nasser government to terms.

For it is apparent that the Gaza Strip isn't going to be neutralized if Moscow can prevent it and if Nasser can bluff his way to a permanent occupation by his own forces. It is suspected also that when the government of Saudi Arabia announces that Israel's ships will not be allowed to use the Gulf of Aqaba, the Communists — notwithstanding the king's friendliness to the United States — may have managed to penetrate the Saudi Arabia government itself.

In all this the Department of State is trying still to play the role of mediator but is hard pressed by the pleas of Israel that the "assumptions" upon which her withdrawal of troops were based shall not be disregarded nor Nasser again given a free hand.

The sympathy of Congress as well as the executive branch of the government is on the side of Israel in the latest phase of the dispute because it is felt a "moral commitment" was made to Ben Gurion to persuade him to withdraw his troops on the assurance there would be security for Israel against Egyptian raids.

But the big question — what action America can or might take — is still unresolved. In matters of this kind it is logical to apply diplomatic influence first and later perhaps economic pressure in order to get Nasser to change his mind.

Meanwhile, an interesting revelation has been made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles with reference to a point that has often been discussed in press reports but never clarified, namely the relationship between the breakup of the United States of negotiations for the financing of the Aswan Dam and the subsequent seizure of the Suez Canal by Nasser.

In a press conference at Canberra, Australia, last Wednesday, the text of which was not generally printed in this country, the following questions and answers, recorded stenographically then, are of renewed significance now.

"Q. Has the United States of America ever regretted its decision to cancel the loan to Egypt for the Aswan Dam?"

"A. (Mr. Dulles): No, I think if anything events have confirmed that fact that it would not have been a wise operation for us to have tried to conduct together. That was a gigantic proposition which involved expenditures of probably a billion and a half dollars, by far the largest operation of the kind ever known in the history of the world. It would have taken about 15 years of close association. It would have involved an austerity program on the part of Egypt which I think the people would have come to resent and would have blamed the foreigners who were partners to the enterprise. The more we studied it the more we came to the conclusion that it was not a suitable project for the United States and the United Kingdom — because they were in it also — to try to conduct with Egypt."

"Q. Do you think it hastened the seizure of the Canal Company by Egypt?"

"A. Well, it is hard to say whether that hastened it or not. We know now from statements made by President Nasser and also made by President Tito that there had been plans to seize the Universal Canal Company made approximately two years before. The plans were all ready and this may have provided the occasion, but if there had not been this occasion, I am quite sure another one would have been found."

"Q. Was it the hope of your government when the United Nations first moved into the Gaza Strip that they would remain for some considerable time?"

"A. We believe that it would be desirable to have the United Nations Emergency Force function as a barrier between Israel and the neighboring Arab countries. That has been difficult to work out, partly because Israel has not wanted to have any elements of the United Nations force on the Israeli side of the boundary, and Egypt has not wanted to have them exclusively on the Egyptian or Gaza Strip of the boundary. But I still hope something can be worked out there to give greater stability and tranquility to the area and to put a stop to the raiding back and forth."

This continues to be the objective but Nasser, stimulated by Soviet advisers, is still bluffing his way even as Hitler and Mussolini did in the 1930's. The real question is whether the free governments of the world have learned that it doesn't pay to appease dictators.

Williams To Stay In C-City Schools

COLORADO CITY — Ed E. Williams, outgoing superintendent of schools, will remain with the Colorado City school system as special services officer, according to Oscar Rhode, president of the school board. The new post was awarded to the veteran schoolman at a called meeting of the board

Monday. Bob Reiley, head coach, and principals W. D. Harris, Wallace School; John E. Watson, primary school, and Weldon Moore, Hutchinson School received one-year extensions of contracts.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Wed., March 20, 1957 5-B

Woodrum To Head Dawson TB Unit

LAMESA — Bobby Woodrum Monday night was elevated to the presidency of the Dawson County Tuberculosis Association, succeeding Harold Wilkinson.

Other officers named include D. E. Nutt, first vice president; Don Gaither, second vice president; Mrs. L. E. Petty, secretary; and Scott Russell, treasurer. W. T. Webb, director of the Texas T.B. Association from Dawson County, and Mrs. W. B. Beeson, executive secretary, will continue in their duties. The new officers will assume their duties April 1.

Woodrum, vice president of the association for the past year, was recently appointed general chairman of the chest X-ray campaign, and will also continue in that capacity. The mobile X-ray unit will be in Lamesa April 25-30. Other committee chairmen appointed for the X-ray campaign include Mrs. R. R. Townsend, clerical assistance; Joe Nichols, equipment placement; Woodrum and Wilkerson, location; and Mrs. B. B. Lee, publicity.

Mrs. Beeson reported that the past year's Christmas seal sale brought in 64 per cent more funds than in the previous year. Of the $2,252.05 given in the campaign, $1,846.68 will remain in Dawson County. The Dawson County Association will send $90.08 to the National Tuberculosis Association and $406.37 to the Texas Tuberculosis Association.

AF Seeks To Place Orders For Goods With City Firms

Big Spring business operators interested in supplying either goods or services to Webb Air Force Base should file applications to be placed on the bidders' mailing list in the contracting office at the field.

Capt. Walter M. Bullock, base contracting officer, explained today that the procedure is necessary if local businesses are to be notified when the air base plans to make purchases or secure services.

He said the applications are kept on file in his office, and when purchases are to be made, firms supplying the needed types of goods are notified. They then may submit bids.

Forms on which to file the applications are available at the Chamber of Commerce.

Capt. Bullock said many orders for goods have been placed in other cities because purchasing officials did not know that firms supplying the materials were available locally.

Educator To Speak Today

Teachers, administrators and school patrons were to hear Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, nationally known educator, at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Senior High School.

Dr. Stoddard, formerly superintendent at Philadelphia and at Los Angeles, is now with the Ford Foundation and has been spending a day consulting with school officials and other personalities.

He was guest at a luncheon for board members and administrators and supervisors. His 3 p.m. appearance, which the public has been invited to attend, is his final engagement here before going to Plainview.

Two Accidents Are Reported

One accident occurred here today and one Tuesday.

Today at Third and State, Wesley Wyatt, 1901 S. Monticello, and Gene Robinson of Monahans were involved in a collision. Wyatt was driving a 1954 Ford owned by Haliburton.

Fred W. Jones of San Angelo and Charles Maxton Jr., of 605 Lancaster, were in collision at Sixth and Johnson Tuesday.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Sealed proposals, addressed to the City of Big Spring, Texas, for the construction of a Fireman's Drill Tower will be received at the City Hall, Big Spring, Texas, until 5:00 o'clock P.M. on the 9 day of April 1957, and then publicly opened at that time. Bids must be plainly marked with titles of projects proposed.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the City of Big Spring, Texas; however, the City Commission reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Proposals will be received for General Construction, including plumbing. A cashier's check, certified check or acceptable bidder's bond payable without recourse to the order of the City of Big Spring, Texas, in an amount not less than five per cent (5 per cent) of the largest possible total bid, including consideration of alternate, must accompany each bid as a guarantee that, if awarded the contract, the bidder will promptly enter into contract and execute bonds, as outlined in the specifications and instructions to bidders.

A performance bond in the amount of one hundred per cent (100 per cent) of the contract price will be required. No bid may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids for at least thirty days.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum rates prevailing in the locality in which the work is performed for work of a similar character, and not less than the general prevailing rate of per diem wages of mechanics and overtime work, shall be paid to all laborers and mechanics employed in the construction of public works.

The minimum wages to be paid laborers and mechanics on this project, as determined by the Owner are listed in the instructions to bidders.

Plans and specifications may be examined without charge in the office of the Architect, 508 Permian Building, Big Spring, Texas, and may be procured upon a deposit of $10.00 for each set. Payment of the safe return of same. The full amount of this deposit will be returned to each bona fide bidder immediately upon the return of the plans and specifications in good condition. No refund on contract documents and plans returned later than (10) days after award of contract will be obligatory. The amount of deposit less the cost of printing will be returned to all parties other than primary bona fide bidders. The amount of deposit less the cost of printing will be returned to bidders for additional sets of documents. Plans will be sent to bidders by Railway Express, Collect.

BILLS DUE? PAY 'EM! with $580 CASH from S.I.C.

How in the name of common sense do we get into these jams? Owing people all over town—sure, we know all about it. Not a soul who works at S.I.C. who hasn't been in the same jam. But man, how do we help folks OUT of that jam! LOOK! It's $27.94 a lot of money! Well, it's $27.94 a month is what it takes to repay that $580 S.I.C. loan (24 months). Subject to usual credit regulations, naturally. But think how much better your credit over town will be, with those bills PAID! Come in with SOS-SIC today and—to sign up for the 1957 Soap Box Derby!

Do it now—build your own car and then race it for big prizes.

Here's all you do to enter your local Derby:

Just bring a parent or guardian with you to your nearby Chevrolet dealer's and sign a Soap Box Derby entry blank. You'll get your free rule book then and there, as well as complete information about the local races. Local winners will go to Akron, Ohio, in August to compete for $15,000 in college scholarships and a trip to Europe with all expenses paid! No reason why you couldn't be among them. So enter today... and build to win!

Rep. Gentry Takes Over Highway Post

AUSTIN (AP)—Former U.S. Rep. Brady Gentry of Tyler, who headed the State Highway Commission during World War II, has been picked as chairman of the commission to succeed E. H. Thornton Jr.

Gov. Price Daniel announced his selection in a prepared statement late yesterday. He said Gentry "is recognized throughout the nation as one of the outstanding authorities on highway matters."

Gentry stepped out of Congress in January after serving four years. He did not seek re-election. The Senate must confirm the appointment.

He was chairman of the commission from 1939 to 1945 and was president of the American Assn. of State Highway Officials in 1943. He also served on the Committee on Highways and Roads in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Daniel said his experience as commission chairman and committee member "give him a knowledge of both state and federal highway legislation which will be of great value to Texas in this new and unprecedented period of highway development."

Gentry, whose term will expire Feb. 15, 1963, will receive an annual salary of $5,304. The commission is not a full time job. It meets here once a month to hold hearings on requested roads and set policy but the department is administered by D. C. Greer, highway engineer.

Daniel said that every other person under consideration for the job "either deferred to him or endorsed him if he would agree to accept the assignment."

The governor also praised Gentry as "the country's best informed person on highway administration and legislation."

Gentry is a native of Van Zandt County and served as an infantry captain in World War I. He served as county attorney and four years as Smith County judge.

After retiring from the commission in 1945, he returned to private law practice in Tyler. He was elected to Congress in 1952, re-elected in 1954 and retired this year.

Herb Petry of Carrizo Springs and Marshall Formby of Hereford are the other two members. Thornton, of Houston, remained on the commission after his term expired Feb. 15 until Daniel announced his selection.

Talks Open On Bracero Treaty

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Talks opened here yesterday between United States and Mexican officials on the migratory workers treaty between the two nations.

Mexico's foreign relations office said the discussions are to exchange ideas to arrive at a better interpretation of the treaty's terms. The treaty does not expire until the end of this year.

Heading the U.S. group were Rocco Siciliano of the Department of Labor and Dow Schoenthal of the State Department.

Neither side would say whether any specific points of the treaty are under discussion.
