SAMPLE SENATORIAL BALLOT

Two Elections Set Here For April 2

April 2 is election day in Big Spring with two elections to be in progress at the same time.

Most voters in Big Spring, with the exception of those who customarily vote at the City Hall in all elections, will have to visit two separate polls if they vote in both contests.

The reason is simple. The special election at which a successor to Price Daniel, as U. S. Senator, will be chosen will be conducted in all of the regular voting places in the county.

A city election, booked for the same date, at which two members of the city commission will be chosen, will be decided at one voting place only — the city hall.

Hence, a citizen who votes customarily at the West Ward school, for example, will have to go there to vote his choice for U. S. senator and then drive to the city hall to cast his ballot for his preference on the city commission.

Of course, residents who live in the area for which the city hall is a regular voting place in all elections can combine their voting activities without an extra trip.

All the senatorial election supplies are on hand at the office of Pauline Petty, county clerk, and she said that the boxes for the 16 voting places will be ready during the coming week. They will be turned over to the precinct officials probably on April 1.

No party lines are involved in the senatorial election. There are 23 candidates' names listed on the ballot. Twenty-one of these are still in the race. One withdrew a few days ago but his withdrawal was too late to permit elimination of his name from the list. Two of the 23 candidates are described as being Republican and 20 are Democrats, but no identification of any candidate's political affiliation is shown.

The candidate who receives the largest popular vote will be the man named to fill out the unexpired term of Daniel who resigned that post to become governor of Texas.

The city election will also be a nonpartisan footing.

Two candidates will be selected by the voters to serve on the city commission. Four candidates are seeking the posts. They include G. W. Dabney and Ward Hall, incumbents; Doyal Grice and Perry Chandler.

Most observers predict that the vote in the senatorial race will be light. The county commissioners, in accordance with the requirements of the law, instructed the clerk to have nearly 11,000 ballots printed. The law specifies that the ballot supply exceed by 10 percent the number of poll tax receipts issued. The guesses are that only around 3,500 to 4,000 votes will be polled.

Only 42 absentee ballots have been cast so far in the election Mrs. Petty said.

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—The Army has set April 3 for the execution of Ernest L. Ransom, 26-year-old Jackson, N.C., soldier convicted of slaying a Korean guard and raping a 14-year-old Korean girl while he was stationed in Korea in 1953. He is a Negro.

FIVE NIGHTS

Science Sermons To Be Presented

"Sermons from Science," an unusual religious approach to modern marvels, will be presented here this week.

Sponsored by the Big Spring Pastors Association, the demonstration-sermon series comes as a service of the Moody Institute of Science, a branch of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

More than a ton of specialized and technical equipment is employed by Dr. George E. Speake. Although he performs such feats as permitting a million volts of man-made lightning to pass through a human body without harm, shows "cold" light, solid matter floating through space, a suitcase with a mind of its own, frozen motion, a "nooperoscope" that can see in the dark, Dr. Speake's approach is essentially Christian and evangelistic.

In most places that "Sermons from Science" has appeared, capacity audiences have been on hand. Not infrequently it has been necessary to hold two performances to accommodate crowds.

The series will be held here at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday.

There is no admission charge, although a free will offering will be received from those who care to have a part in defraying expenses of the vast operation.

A special invitation has been extended to personnel of Webb AFB to take part. Except for a tight schedule which would not permit it this year, the series would have been presented in town and at the base. Some of the most enthusiastic testimonials for "Sermons from Science" have come from commanders of military installations.

Tickets, which are in reality simply special reminders to attend, are being distributed through Big Spring churches. The series will start Monday and will be concluded Friday evening. Each service will include an opportunity for response by individuals who might be reached through this unusual ministry.

Grand Jury Session Called For Wednesday

Howard County Grand Jurors have been notified to report to Judge Charlie Sullivan in 11th District Court at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The grand jury will be asked to investigate some 20 or more criminal matters which have accumulated since the last session of the body the final week in January.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, estimated he would need at least two days to present the cases he has on hand to the grand jury.

He said he intends to submit the case of robbery by assault against Kenneth Neel and Harmon Neel, growing out of the break the pair made from the Howard County jail on March 11 as one of the matters on which he will ask action.

Also scheduled for presentation to the jurors will be the murder charge against Pablo Sapato, accused of the knife death of Geromino Calderon several weeks ago.

Jones said that he would likewise submit to the grand jury "some" of the seven charges of possession of narcotics which are now on file. These developed as result of a series of recent arrests by peace officers of persons allegedly having marijuana in their possession.

The sheriff's office Saturday was officially notifying the grand jurors to report.

Jones said he had been planning to call the grand jury for some time, but that certain matters had to be completed before it was advisable to convene the body. He is now ready, he said, to proceed with the cases on hand.

He pointed out that his office has filed a larger number of charges in the last few months than was the case a year ago, but he added that some of these cases would not go before the grand jury.

Members of the grand jury are: John Taylor, Rad Ware, Jim J. Meador, H. Bryce Hale, Eldridge McHenry, David Elrod, Robert Stripling, G. F. Duncan, Carlson Hamilton, J. E. Settle, Harvey Lee Adams and Homer Ward.

Cancer Society To Meet Monday

March meeting of the Howard County Unit of the American Cancer Society will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Chamber of Commerce, Dan Krause, president, announced Saturday.

Group discussions of the various phases of the unit's program will be held, and business matters will be taken up at a general session.

Whatley Rites Will Be Monday

Funeral services for Walter William Whatley, 74, who died here Friday, will be held at the Church of the Nazarene Monday at 4 p.m.

Directing the service will be Rev. L. W. Gholson, with Rev. D. R. Phillely, pastor of the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church, assisting.

Mr. Whatley, born in Milan County on June 19, 1882, came to Big Spring in 1935 from Oklahoma. He married Miss Annie Petty in 1908 at Talco. Mrs. Whatley was a retired carpenter.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Annie Whatley; a daughter, Mrs. A. D. Rice of Big Spring; two sons, L. W. Whatley of Big Spring and J. W. Whatley of Fort Worth; a brother, Charley Whatley of Odessa; and six grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Kelly Mize, J. R. Turner, William Gray, Ken Court, Buford Turner, and Robert McGuire.

Burial will be at Trinity Memorial Park, under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Reward Mailed To Policemen

Police at Corpus Christi who participated in the apprehension of Winston Pace, wanted here for bond jumping, will receive $100 reward for their work. Miller Harris, sheriff, said this morning.

Bondsman for Pace, who is charged here with DWI second offense, had posted $100 reward for his apprehension after he failed to report when his case was called. A search over much of the Southwest has been under way for him for the past several weeks.

Corpus Christi police picked the man up on Friday.

Harris said that the bondsman immediately dispatched a check for $100 to the police department at that city.

Meantime, Tommy Cole, deputy sheriff, and Sherrill Farmer, policeman, left Saturday morning to bring Pace from Corpus Christi to Big Spring.

14 Pct. Of Quota Made

Howard County has achieved 14.1 per cent of its 1957 quota of United States Savings Bonds during the first two months of the year.

During February sales amounted to $78,057, which brought the year's total to $126,187.

Dawson County had $12,724 sales, making $38,448 for the year, or 12 per cent; Mitchell had $18,238, making a total of $7,122 or 7.2 per cent; Mitchell had $18,238, making a total of $33,367 or 10.9 per cent; and Scurry had $55,969 for a total of $78,949 or 13 per cent.

Other reports from district No. 4 of the El Paso area showed Andrews with $8,931, making a total of $17,163 or 25.5 per cent; and Gaines with $8,945 for a total of $21,734 or 16.3 per cent. The district had sales of $158,238 in February for $510,984 during the first two months, or 13.2 per cent of quota.

State totals for February stood at $14,458,082, making a total for 1957 of $193,100,000, or 16.6 per cent of quota.

Another $1,950 Added To IF Fund

Industrial Foundation workers brought in another $1,950 Friday as the organization sought to wind up its long campaign for funds.

This boosted the total subscribed to $33,356, according to J. H. Green, drive director. Goal of the effort is $50,000.

Greene said another group of workers will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 10 a. m. Monday to continue with the drive. Another contingent of solicitors probably will be formed later in the week.

"Now that our goal is in sight, those who have been holding back to see if the campaign is going over are being encouraged to get their subscriptions in promptly," said Greene.

The foundation's board of directors is to meet at 5 p. m. Monday to decide what steps to take toward closing the trade for 193 acres of land east of the city. To purchase the land, the IF is seeking to raise $38,500. Remainder of the $50,000 will be used to start development of the property for industrial sites.

DWI, Knife Carrying Charges Cause $100 Fines

Hobart Allen, charged with DWI, told Judge R. H. Weaver in county court Saturday morning that he was guilty but that it was all "because I found that bottle with just about that much wine in it back of the stove in my kitchen."

He vehemently informed the court "I don't usually drink when I am driving."

County Attorney Harvey Hooser Jr. asked how it happened that Allen was involved in an accident. That, Allen said, was because his car brakes were bad. The county attorney said officers reported Allen was in "pretty bad shape" when they arrested him. That, Allen answered, was because he was "scared."

Judge Weaver fined the defendant $100 and since he had already been in jail since early Friday waived the usual jail time.

Allen was grateful.

"Thank you very much, judge," he said.

Gerald Stone, 17, an airman, was arraigned on charge of carrying a "switch" knife. He said he was guilty of carrying the knife but that he did not intend to use it for fighting. The court fined the man $100.

Physical Education Demonstration Set In Lakeview School

Results of physical education in the Lakeview High School will be demonstrated to school patrons Thursday evening.

Some 30 students of Mrs. N. L. Graham and Roosevelt Brown will stage the demonstrations. Interpretative dancing, gymnastics, boys' and girls' tumbling, and folk dancing will be some of the fields illustrated, said Mrs. Graham.

Students from the seventh through 12th grades will participate in the program. The demonstrations start at 8 p.m. and will last about an hour, Mrs. Graham said. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

HCJC 'Career Day' Proves Successful

Career Day, which supplanted the Senior Day function held at Howard County Junior College for a number of years, was appraised Friday as an "outstanding success."

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that visiting seniors and administrators alike were generous in their praise of the affair which attracted more than 400 prospective graduates to the HCJC campus.

Among the most enthusiastic people were the 70 representatives from businesses and professions who counseled with the seniors, he added. Many of the advisors had not visited the campus since completion of the enlargement project.

Seniors spent two sessions in learning about the advantages and the training requirements for the various occupations and professions. Most of them attended conferences in the morning on their first choice for probable vocations and then went to similar ones on their second choices in the afternoon.

"One of the most gratifying things about the day," observed Dr. Hunt, "was the participation of the young men and women. As a general rule, they asked many questions — searching, penetrating questions — about specific vocations."

He said that in view of the response to this experiment, Career Day would be enlarged next year. There were seniors here from Coahoma, Forsan, Knott, Ackerly, Stanton, Garden City, Flower Grove, Colorado City, Westbrook, Sterling City, Big Spring and Gall.

your eyes and ears for the WHOLE Story

EVERY MORNING Wayland Yates, the Herald's city editor, sits down and considers the goings-on in his town and immediate area.

HE CHECKS his calendar; he checks the wire for state and national news with local implications; he scans other papers. He comes up with instructions and tips to members of the city staff.

IN ADDITION, he is a mighty busy man toward noon when deadlines are bearing down, for he puts his eye and pencil to copy. If it is not clear to the Herald city editor, then the story likely won't be clear to readers. If the story can be told better in fewer words, he works this quick transformation.

WAYLAND YATES enlarges on his city editorship by covering some key institutions such as the Chamber of Commerce, the Big Spring Independent School District and others. He works hard . . . and fast—all to better serve as your eyes and ears for the whole story.

'Moonwatch' Scopes

Shown above is one of the low-power wide-field monoculars recommended by the Smithsonian Institution for use in visual observation of the man-made satellites which are to be released this summer. Nine of these instruments have been ordered by Howard County Junior College for use by the recently organized Big Spring Satellite Observation Corps.

Special Glasses Ordered For Satellite Observation Corps

Big Spring Satellite Observation Corps, which came into existence only last week, will soon be provided with nine monoculars. These are low-power, wide-field specially designed telescopes which the Smithsonian Institution has recommended for use by observing teams which will assist in tracking the man-made moon on its travels around the earth. Howard County Junior College, which is cooperating with Webb Air Force Base and with citizens of the town interested in the project, has already ordered nine of these instruments.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of the college, said that he placed the order with an optical firm in the East within an hour after the organization meeting of the new Satellite Observation Corps had adjourned. They should be on hand within two weeks. Recruiting of observers for the teams to use these telescopes when the satellite has been projected into space will probably start in the very near future. Exact date when the first of the artificial moons will be started on its journey has not been determined. However, the period when such experiments are scheduled cannot start later than July.

The Air Force has been assigned the responsibility to help with the visual observation of the transit of the "moons." Across the country, civilian organizations of volunteer watchers are being organized to supplement the Air Force efforts and those of other agencies involved in the experiment. Here in Big Spring, under plans considered by the organization meeting of the corps, it is planned when the proper date arrives to have sufficient numbers of volunteers to man the nine monoculars fully during the relatively brief intervals when the satellite can possibly be sighted. These intervals, it is said, will be just after sunset in the evening and just before sunrise in the morning.

Training of the observation teams must be worked out well ahead of the time when the satellite will begin its journey. As soon as the nine telescopes are on hand, it is probable that further steps in consolidating the organization of the corps will be launched. Scores of volunteers will be needed.

It is pointed out that in addition to manning the telescopes, many other persons will be needed for specialized duties in connection with the observations. Timers, recorders, supervisors and other agents are required. Further, the Smithsonian Institution estimated that no one person can competently observe — that is to say, sit with his eye glued to the telescope — watching a specified and unvarying fragment of the sky — for longer than 10 minutes at a shift and do a competent job. If the interval of possible observation is an hour, for example, at least 20 observers will be needed. Thus one watcher would work for 10 minutes; be relieved by a second for 10 minutes and perhaps resume his work 10 minutes later.

These specialized telescopes are of low power. Instead of being focused on the heavens, they are fixed on a flat mirror which reflects approximately 12 degrees of the sky. The power of the glass is such that sixth or perhaps seventh magnitude stars will be visible in the eyepiece. Unaided vision will not permit observation of a star under fifth magnitude.

Scientists who are building the man-made satellite estimate that it will reflect sunlight best at the periods just after dusk and just before dawn and the apparent magnitude will be about that of a sixth magnitude star. Hence, some magnification will be required to see it. A wide field will be needed because the satellite, although anywhere from 400 to 800 miles above the earth, will be moving at 16,000 miles per hour. Thus it will travel across the field of glass at considerable speed.

The Big Spring Satellite Observer Corps will probably select the site where observations will be made and will solicit volunteer watchers as soon as the nine monoculars are on hand. A series of training classes will have to be conducted to familiarize the observers with their duties. WAFB plans to build the essential radio and electronic equipment needed to time the passage of the satellites.

These man-made moons, according to latest information, will be about the size of a bushel basket. This is a little larger than was previously announced. They will contain a radio transmitter which will send out special code messages relative to conditions the satellite encounters on its journey. However, it is known that these radio transmitters cannot be expected to survive and function longer than a few days.

Just how long the highly polished balls will be able to continue in their orbits around the earth is a debatable issue. It is known, however, that radio communication with them will probably expire sometime before the satellites themselves halt their journeys.

Observation visually of their passage across the heavens is the secondary step of study to be made of the devices and it is to serve this need that corps such as the one being formed here will be called upon to perform.

Ratliff Endorses Searcy Bracewell

David Ratliff, state senator from this district, said he is endorsing Searcy Bracewell in the U. S. Senate race which will be decided April 2.

Bracewell, of Houston, is a state senator, also.

"Searcy Bracewell is a conscientious and high-minded young man who is dedicated to public life," said Ratliff. "He is ready to go to the U. S. Senate."

Interest Lags In Special U.S. Senate Election

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff

Statewide reports Saturday indicated voter interest lagging in the special Senate election only 10 days away.

Estimates of Associated Press member newspapers are that as few as 20 per cent of eligible voters will cast ballots (Bell County) up to 75 per cent (Nueces County). A city election is expected to cause a good turnout in Corpus Christi.

The average of estimates from reporting cities appears to be a 50 to 60 per cent turnout.

Robert Johnson, head of the Texas Election Bureau, estimated the vote potential—those with poll taxes and exemptions—is 20 to 30 per cent less than the 2,446,539 potential in the general election last fall.

Using his estimate, the potential vote this year would be between 1,712,000 and 1,857,000.

Reducing that to 60 per cent—the top general estimate of the April 2 turnout, and a vote of somewhere around 1,027,000 to 1,174,000 could be expected.

The difficulty of estimating the vote is shown at Wichita Falls. The potential vote there is 24,086. The county clerk estimates 5,000 votes will be cast, Ralph Yarborough's campaign manager says 13,500. A Wichita Falls News and Times editor 12,000, the county judge 13,500 and the Democratic county chairman 12,500.

Almost all points report that absentee balloting — often an indication of interest — has been very light.

What will a light vote, or a heavy vote, mean to the candidates?

There's no way to estimate that. But politicians believe candidates with the more closely-knit group of supporters have an advantage.

Already with such proven backing are John White, Ralph Yarborough and Rep. Martin Dies, while the Republicans are expected to give almost unified support to the more vigorous campaigner of the two GOP candidates, Thad Hutcheson.

There are several other Democrats in the 21-man race expected to draw a considerable number of votes, including James Hart and Searcy Bracewell.

Which gives all the leading Democrats this problem:

How to take enough votes away from other Democrats to overcome the solid GOP vote.

The key question, then, is: How great is the solid Republican vote in this normally Democratic state. Johnson, an expert on ballot figures after his years as head of the Election Bureau, estimates the Republican vote in last fall's general election at 14.83 per cent. He arrived at this estimate this way:

He disregarded the vote for Eisenhower on the grounds that many Democrats crossed the political line but may not be considered Republicans all the time. The 14.83 per cent total was arrived at by computing the vote for William Bryant, GOP candidate for governor. Bryant did not campaign vigorously and those voting for him must have done so because of Republican leanings. But in three of the biggest counties — Bexar, Dallas and Harris — Bryant got better than 26 per cent of the vote. And the two largest — Dallas and Harris — this year have a very great vote potential — greater than the estimate for the state as a whole. This could give Hutcherson an advantage. Dallas county actually showed a 3 per cent gain in voting strength, a very unexpected situation for political observers.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., March 24, 1957 3-A

Big Spring Man's Paintings On Show

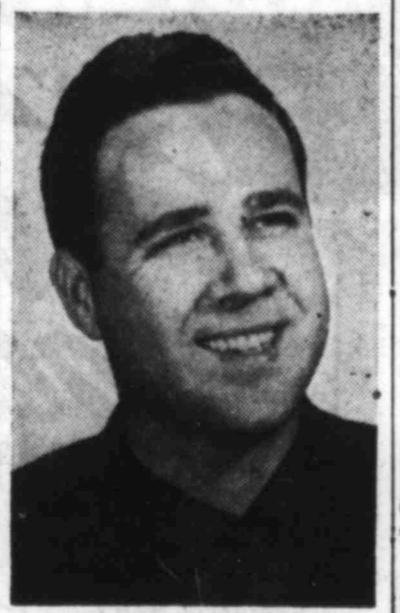

MIDLAND, March 25—Creative art has an important role in the development of individual talents and thinking, believes Robert D. Hobbs, whose paintings will be seen in a one-man show here Sunday through Tuesday.

"I believe now," Hobbs says, "more than ever, that the need for art is universal. Our contemporary civilization has the tendency to destroy the inner self and personality. The frustrated thoughts and emotions can be released and transformed into creative power through art."

Hobbs' show is being held by the Midland Palette Club Art Center, 604 North Colorado Street.

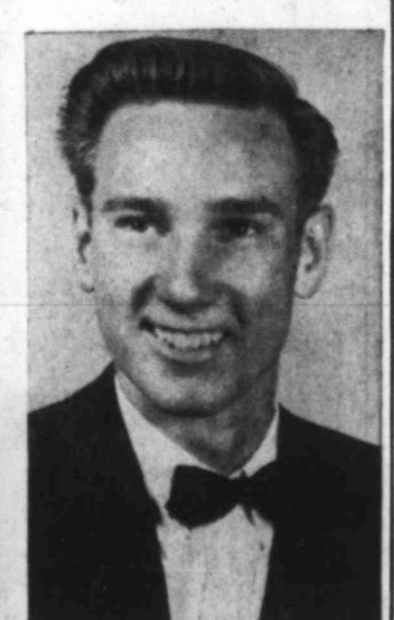

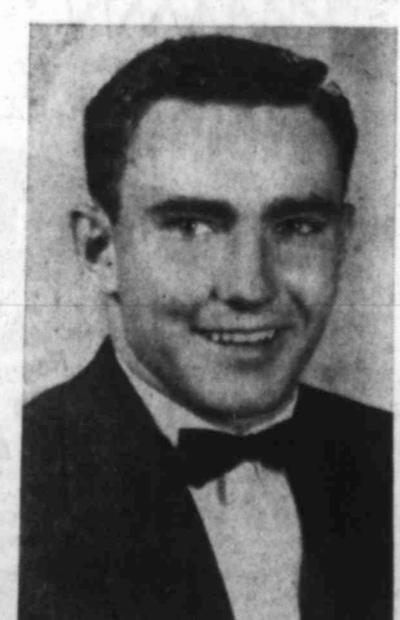

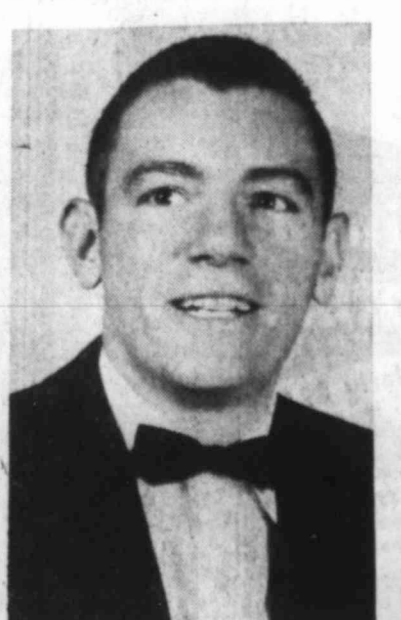

A teacher in the Midland public schools for the last three years, Hobbs was graduated from Big Spring High School and West Texas State College, and also attended Howard County Junior College.

He has studied at Texas Tech, studied painting under Dr. Emilio Caballero and design and crafts under Dr. A. G. Kesselbach at West Texas State, had art training with Mariana and R. G. Ellinger at Colorado State College and studied painting for six months in Mexico. He has had one-man shows in

LEAVING TODAY

HCJC Choir To Sing Before Music Educators In Denver

Members of the Howard County Junior College Choir will leave at 11:30 p.m. today by bus for Denver, Colo., and an appearance before the Southwest Music Educators Association.

The choir, under the direction of Orland Johnson and accompanied by Jack Hendrix, will be heard at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Cosmopolitan Hotel. The occasion will be the panel on junior college music, probably the first regional panel on the junior college level ever undertaken by the association. Only two other Texas musical units will be heard at the meeting. They are the Abilene High School Band and the North Texas State College Choir.

A $500 contribution by the Downtown Lions Club and fuel and oil by Cosden Petroleum Corp. have helped the choir to make the trip. While in Denver the choir and sponsors, together with Dr. Marvin Baker, assistant to the president of HCJC, will be at the Sears Hotel. They will return here late that night.

Johnson said that there will be 29 singers making the trip, and Frances Booker will be soloist. The choir plans to sing "There Is a Lady," "Murray," "Kyrie" from the second mass by Schubert; "Der Abend," "Brahms;" "All through the Night," arranged by Luboff; "Jim Along Josey," arranged by Imig; and selections from "Carousel," arranged by Warnick.

A program of appreciation has been arranged by the choir for the Lions on April 10.

Johnson, director of the choir, is a graduate of North Texas State College with Bachelor and Master degrees. He did additional study under John Finley Williamson, Lara Hoggard and Caro Carapetyan. In 1949 his Harlingen High School choir sang for the Lions International convention, and his Lamesa High School Choir was invited to sing in Brussels, Belgium, for the International Music Conference.

He has directed the Lions minstrel for the past three years; directed the performance of combined choirs for the "Seven Last Words" and the "Messiah," and will direct the "Fortune Teller" by Herbert in May. He has been on junior and senior college panels of the Texas Music Educators associations and has contributed to the Southwestern Musical, a professional journal.

Hendrix also is a graduate of North Texas State College school of music, having been awarded a teaching fellowship in the middle of his freshman year. He also holds the Bachelor and Master of Music degrees. Prior to coming to Howard County Junior College he maintained private studios in Fort Worth and engaged in extensive radio and TV work. He was an officer in the Fort Worth Piano Teachers Forum. Hendrix also has been a supervisor for the Guild Student Group of the American Guild of Organists. He is, of course, head of the instrumental music instruction at HCJC.

LIFE WITH MUSIC

Movie Composers Aren't So Bad

By RICHARD D. SAUNDERS

Motion picture composers often are criticized adversely because they must create at top speed, and produce an entire score within the space of a few weeks. Granted the possibility that some scores might be better if the writers were given more time for consideration, it seems silly to blame screen composers for doing what many serious composers of history have bragged about.

Rossini, for example, boasted of writing several of his operas within a fortnight. "I am given only six weeks for the job," he is reputed to have said. "The first two are occupied in spending the advance money and the next two in recuperating, leaving only two weeks to compose the opera!"

SHEER REPETITION

Whether or not this particular anecdote is true, Rossini did compose very quickly, though he was notoriously lazy. Mozart also wrote with great rapidity, as did Handel and many others. They had a further advantage in not being bound to follow any set pattern, beyond that of the texts in vocal music or operas, and more than half of their finished products is sheer repetition, in which the same four-bar phrase is repeated several times.

Screen music is rather similar to opera, in that it is tied to action and to some extent to texts. But the opera composer can make his own pattern and adjust the stage action largely to suit his own convenience.

The screen composer, on the other hand, must follow action that he has not seen until his first viewing of the completed picture. Sometimes he can read the script beforehand, and jot down themes, at least. In many pictures, the Wagnerian "leit motif," or musical phrase describing a person or an object, is used to advantage in identifying that person throughout the film (as in an opera), changing its mood according to the development of the story plot.

MOVIE MUSIC MAY LAST

Operas are intended to be works of art, yet out of the thousands that have been written, only a handful survive in today's repertory. Film scores make no pretensions to art, yet excerpts from some of them, like Prokofieff's "Lieutenant Kije," may turn out to be lasting.

The music score for the film, "The Spirit of St. Louis," will become a permanent addition to the University of Missouri music library. Vladimir Golschmann, conductor of the St. Louis Symphony, will conduct his orchestra in a special performance featuring Franz Waxman's music, and then present the score to the University.

The American Cancer Society distributed a 12-inch microgroove platter, "Jazz Panorama" to disc jockeys as part of its Cancer Crusade. It presents an historical record of unusual interest to jazz addicts... Anna Maria Abergheffi will make her stage debut at the Dallas State Fair when she opens in "Rose Marie" on August 31. Hollywood may be her next stop, if her talks with Producer Joe Pasternak develop into a contract... Leith Stevens has linked to compose the music for "Garment Jungle" at Columbia, where Nelson Riddle is working with Frank Sinatra and Nat King Cole on the score for "Pal Joey"... Mel Torme has recorded his "California Suite," and recently gave a concert at the University of Utah... Bergman Has Lead In 'Oscar' Contest

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 (AP)—Will Hollywood again give its highest prize to Ingrid Bergman, who exiled herself from the film capital amid scandal eight years ago?

The answer will be announced on the Academy Award telecast next Wednesday night and it will probably be—yes.

At least that's the way it looks in one of the hottest Oscar races in recent years. No cinch winner looms in any category, and that makes it tough on the predictors, including this one. But limbs must be climbed upon, so here goes:

BEST ACTRESS: Once a shining light in Hollywood, Miss Bergman left behind a husband and a daughter and mothered a child by Italian Director Roberto Rossellini, whom she later married. The outcry against her reached as far as the U.S. Senate. Last year she returned in her first film since 1949 for an American company, "Anastasia," which was made in Europe.

It wasn't her best film. She was more impressive in "Gaslight," which won her the Oscar in 1944. But her role as the lost Russian princess gave her enough emotional range to put her in the running.

The effects of the scandal do not weigh too heavily in the voting of the Academy's 1,770 members. In fact, they are notably sentimental about comebacks and will probably bestow the honor on the Swedish actress.

Or it could be Carroll Baker. The voters often reward newcomers, and Miss Baker was impressive as the lethargic "Baby Doll." More remote possibilities are Katharine Hepburn as the spinster of "The Rainmaker" and Nancy Kelly, the ill-starred mother of "The Bad Seed."

Dark horse: Deborah Kerr, who is immensely popular here, though her "King and I" role was no great challenge.

Choice: Bergman.

BEST ACTOR: Here's another tough one. By any acting standards, Laurence Olivier should win for his classic "Richard III." But the film first played on TV and that's against it.

Rock Hudson was a tower of strength in "Giant," but the role gave him no award-winning pyrotechnics. Nor was the film James Dean's best role. There is no groundswell to reward him posthumously.

The race narrows down to Kirk

Soap Box Derby Champ To Get 2-Week Tour Of Europe

DETROIT, March 23 (AP)—A triumphal two-week tour of Europe is the big added prize for the boy who wins the 20th annual All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, O., August 18.

The announcement was made here by W. E. Fish, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division, which annually sponsors the coasting championship for 11 to 15-year-old boys.

Fish said the tour would be in addition to the $5,000 first place college scholarship. It has been arranged in co-operation with the United States State Department, General Motors Overseas Operations and Pan-American World Airways.

After the finish of the All-American, the winner will leave with his party for New York City where he will appear Monday, August 19, on the nationwide telecast of the "Voice of Firestone." Shortly thereafter, Fish said, the champion will board a Clipper for the flight to visit England, Ireland, Belgium, France, West Germany and Italy. The State Department will have its Overseas Missions assist in arranging contacts for the winner in each of the countries he visits.

Annually, more than 10,000 boys of West Germany take part in local Soap Box Derby races with the German champion coming to Akron to compete in the All-American. Germany has sent their champion to Akron after holding a series of local races to select a winner. The Philippine islands has scheduled a race this year while a number of other overseas nations plan to hold races in subsequent years.

Throughout the tour, the Champion and his party will travel by Pan-American airliners. Heading the group will be Bruce B. Overbey, All-American Soap Box Derby general manager.

Ancient Sword To White House

OSLO, Norway, March 23 (AP)—An ancient Norwegian sword will be presented to President Eisenhower for keeping in the White House. The iron sword, dating from the period of 800-1,000 A.D., is aboard the Norwegian three-masted full-rigger training ship, Christian Radich. Now in the Caribbean, the ship will call at Washington soon.

Watermelon Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—This may be a bumper year for the watermelon. A government survey indicates farmers in Southern and Western states plan to increase acreage of this crop 11 per cent this year over last and 10 per cent above average. Most of the expected increase will be in Oklahoma and Texas.

James C. (Jack) Shirley, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Shirley, 909 Lancaster, is one of the two student directors for the Baylor University chapel choir which will perform at the Baptist Temple Church next Sunday at 3 p.m. The choir will sing at Odessa Saturday, at Midland Sunday morning and at Abilene Sunday evening.

Rattlesnake Hunting Hard On Nerves, Veterans Claim

SWEETWATER, March 23 (AP)—There are dangerous sports, like race car driving and lion hunting, but the hardest on the nerves, say devotees around here, is rattlesnake hunting.

The sport is growing in popularity in the early spring and late summer.

Many city residents, farmers and ranchers have become enthusiastic hunters of the poisonous, ill-tempered reptile.

Many hunters have given up the rifle, pistol and even bow and arrow and are now catching the snakes alive. These are sold for their venom, meat and other uses.

Jimmy Dulaney, Sweetwater, businessman and rancher, has turned his hobby into a profitable operation. This season he has captured and killed more than 200 rattlers.

In this hilly and rocky area of West Central Texas, rattlesnakes abound in their favorite haunts—rocky dens tucked back in hilly and sandy areas.

Dulaney's favorite method of hunting is to pump gas into the dens, then club the reptiles to death, or capture them with loops of line at the end of long sticks.

"The dangerous part of driving the snakes out of their dens with gas," Dulaney warns, "is that they may come out of another entrance, ready for battle."

The rattlers usually range from six inches to six feet. Although sluggish from their winter's sleep, a rattler becomes ornery when disturbed in his den.

Various safety precautions are used by the hunters, including leather chaps and high-topped boots.

"One fellow recently used stove pipes around his legs," Dulaney recalled, "but the danger there is that he may be too heavily rigged and fall on a snake while trying to get out of range."

Sgt. Billy Leonard, after successfully tackling some of the smaller and more docile snakes, found a den full of rattlers measuring six feet or more.

"They looked so big and mean," he said, "I gave up the hunt right there. I just decided not to bother them any more."

Plenty of rattlers are left in the area, but the greenhorn hunter, unless he is supplied with plenty of courage and has steady nerves, is advised by the veterans to choose some other hobby.

Frost Danger Past? Not Until April 26

If you are an optimist, you can accept the generally prevalent theory that no more killing frosts will occur in Big Spring after March 31 has passed into history. March 31 is the "normal" latest date on which freezing weather can be ordinarily expected in this area.

But if you are a realist, you can exercise more caution. You can quote from the records and prove that it does not follow infallibly that all danger of frost has passed after March 31. There was an April 26, for example, back in 1920. The temperature topped to a chilly 32 degrees on that date and according to legend played the very devil with a lot of flowers, shrubs and other growing stuff hereabouts.

And there was another April day, too, when somebody left the icebox door wide open. That was on April 6, 1936. The temperature dropped to 22 degrees. This was probably the coldest spring day ever to occur in Big Spring. At least it is the coldest on the records of the U. S. Experiment Station.

Fred Keating, director of the station, said that this particular April 6 was a real killer. It played general havoc with all sorts of growth and is a sort of red letter day in any talk that may come up about whether or not it can get really cold in the spring.

"Actually," said Keating, "these belated freezes are few and far between. We have never had another freeze as late as that of April 26, 1920. And we have never had another day, at this season as chill as that April 6 in 1936. Generally speaking, it is a fairly safe guess that if we get by through March 31, there is relatively little danger of frost. Last year, for example, the last frost of the spring season occurred on March 21. The temperature dropped to 31 degrees. Little damage was done by that cold spell.

"I haven't any records but I would imagine that the 32 degree weather which occurred on April 26, 1920, probably did little or no damage. Generally 32 degrees, while it is an official "freezing" temperature, does not frostbite. "Condition of the ground, whether moist or dry; presence or absence of low clouds and many other factors greatly vary the impact of cold weather on growing material. "No one can predict definitely that we are now past the deadline for frost but if we consider the records, it is a fairly safe assumption that we will not have another hard freeze this year. "Provided, of course, that April doesn't do a repeat performance of its act in 1920 and in 1936."

ALL-NYLON Firestone SUPREME

THIS IS THE TIRE WITH BUILT-IN PEACE OF MIND

Now from Firestone comes the automatic safety tire... the new Firestone Supreme. It gives you and your family protection never before provided in any tire at any price. It's the first and only tire with built-in peace of mind!

here's how it works

BLOWOUT SAFE

The tubeless Supreme has a built-in emergency life protector. It's like a tire within a tire. Should a blowout occur, this life protector lets you come to a safe straight-line stop.

PUNCTURE SAFE

There's no flat tire problem with the Supreme. A gummy sealant inside the tire seals punctures the instant they occur. No more delays, no more fear of changing a tire on busy highways, or at night.

SKID SAFE—The Firestone Supreme tread design makes all others old-fashioned. It's wider, deeper, and it holds the road with a powerful grip. Doesn't skid, swerve or slide like ordinary tires. And it runs SILENTLY!

EXTRA MILEAGE—The rugged all-nylon cord body just refuses to be damaged or to wear out! Extra thick tread gives you to 25% more mileage than any other tire! And it's made for beauty, as well as duty!

Only $1.00 down puts a SUPREME on your car!

When tankers start churning the canal and the big Middle East pipelines are pumping oil in heavy volume, Europe will have a surplus of oil instead of the shortage it has now.

Senate May Okay Bill For Commie Trade

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today he expects the Senate to approve next week a bill that would permit barter and trade with Poland, Czechoslovakia and other Iron countries.

"There may be some opposition even though our committee approved it unanimously," said Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee.

"I think it's a wise thing to encourage more trade and interchange between our country and these people," he said. "I believe that will do more good for improving relations and preventing a hot war than any of the multi-billion dollar foreign aid programs."

The new authority, requested by President Eisenhower, is included in a bill that would raise from three to four billion dollars the authority for sales or barter of farm surpluses for foreign currencies.

Previously these deals, which have been expanding rapidly in recent years, have been limited to "friendly nations" in an effort to free them from dependence upon Soviet Russia and her satellites.

A Polish delegation has been in this country four weeks trying to negotiate for a program of loans and grants, covering farm products, machinery and services. Estimates of the requests run from 300 to 500 million dollars.

Ellender said the Senate bill should help out on these negotiations and similar transactions.

"Soviet Russia now must depend upon military help from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and other satellites," he said. "I know that many people in these nations despise the Soviet Kremlin leaders."

"One of the best ways to chip away dependence on the Soviet is to encourage trade with these peoples."

Record Breaking Crew

This three-man crew, flying a swept-wing Navy twin-jet A3D-1 bomber, set a new round-trip Los Angeles to New York and back to Los Angeles record. The elapsed time for the round trip was 9 hours, 15 minutes, 23 seconds, beating the old record by 1 hour, 42 minutes, 39 seconds. From left to right are Marine 1-Sgt. Robert L. Butts, Cmdr. 'Phantom Burglar' Admits More Than 400 Thefts

AMARILLO, March 23 (AP)—An affable young man of 22, called the "phantom burglar" around here for weeks, told police today he had committed more than 400 burglaries in six months from New England to Amarillo.

James Hurd, originally from Ravenna, Ohio, did it just for fun, he told Amarillo Globe-Times reporter Charles Maple. He credited his success to what he called "good reading habits."

These reading habits gave him an insight into police methods, Hurd said, and he was able to avoid leaving fingerprints. He also changed shoes often but he failed to do so at a critical time, and that helped trap him.

Hurd was arrested at Tucumcari, N.M., when he sought to spruce up his 1948 convertible. He bought seat covers to match the color of his new convertible top. An upholsterer called the Amarillo upholsterer to find out where the material came from. The Amarillo businessman had just lost $100 to a burglar and a couple of phone calls later, Hurd was in jail.

A cast of a footprint from a burglary scene matched perfectly the shoes Hurd was wearing. He said it was pure chance that he hadn't changed shoes. He confessed when the shoes and cast matched.

Officers sat down with Hurd with a road map before them and traced his travels, pinpointing cities in which he had stolen — in Indiana, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio and nearly all the New England States.

Police here in three weeks attributed 14 burglaries to him. Hurd said they better look again — he's hit 30 places.

He said he used a dentist's tool and a small trowel to break in neatly, and often businessmen weren't aware of a burglary.

Bill Bradley Elected By Tech Fraternity

LUBBOCK, (SC) — Bill Bradley of Big Spring has been elected recording secretary of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national honorary music fraternity, at Texas Tech.

Bradley is a junior music education major. Other officers elected for the next year are Bob Wham, Hobbs, N. M., president, and Rex Pope, Amarillo, vice president.

School Completed

LAMESA, March 23—The Lamesa Independent School District took final possession of the Blackshear School Building Friday afternoon. Bowers Purcell Construction Co. built the new elementary structure. Allen and Allen of Lamesa were the architects.

PROGRAM CHECK is conducted by Mrs. J. W. Forrester, at left, and Mrs. J. H. Homan, as they prepare for the meeting of the 16th district of Parents-Teachers Association, slated for Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Forrester is general chairman of conference arrangements, and Mrs. Homan is the incoming president of the City Council of P-T-A. She is vice president of the council, now serving in the capacity of president.

INFORMATIVE AND HELPFUL will be the literature which will be available at the meeting of the Parents-Teachers Association Thursday and Friday. Here, Mrs. Elvis McCrary works at First Methodist Church to set up an exhibit of the material in readiness for the meeting, which will be held at the church.

BADGES IN THE MAKING are these cards being cut by Mrs. W. L. Vaughan, at left, and Mrs. Grady McCrary. The two women are in charge of the pages for the annual meeting of the Parents-Teachers Association, 16th District. The badges will designate members serving as pages, who will be responsible for carrying all messages and communications during the sessions of the convention.

TICKETS, ANYONE?—From the stack of letters, it seems that many have responded to the call to buy tickets for the banquet and luncheon to be held during the 16th District P-TA conference. Mrs. E. L. Whatley, at left, and Mrs. Buford Hull are in charge of seeing that all ticket requests are filled. The banquet is scheduled for Thursday evening at First Methodist Church; the luncheon, at the Howard House Friday at noon.

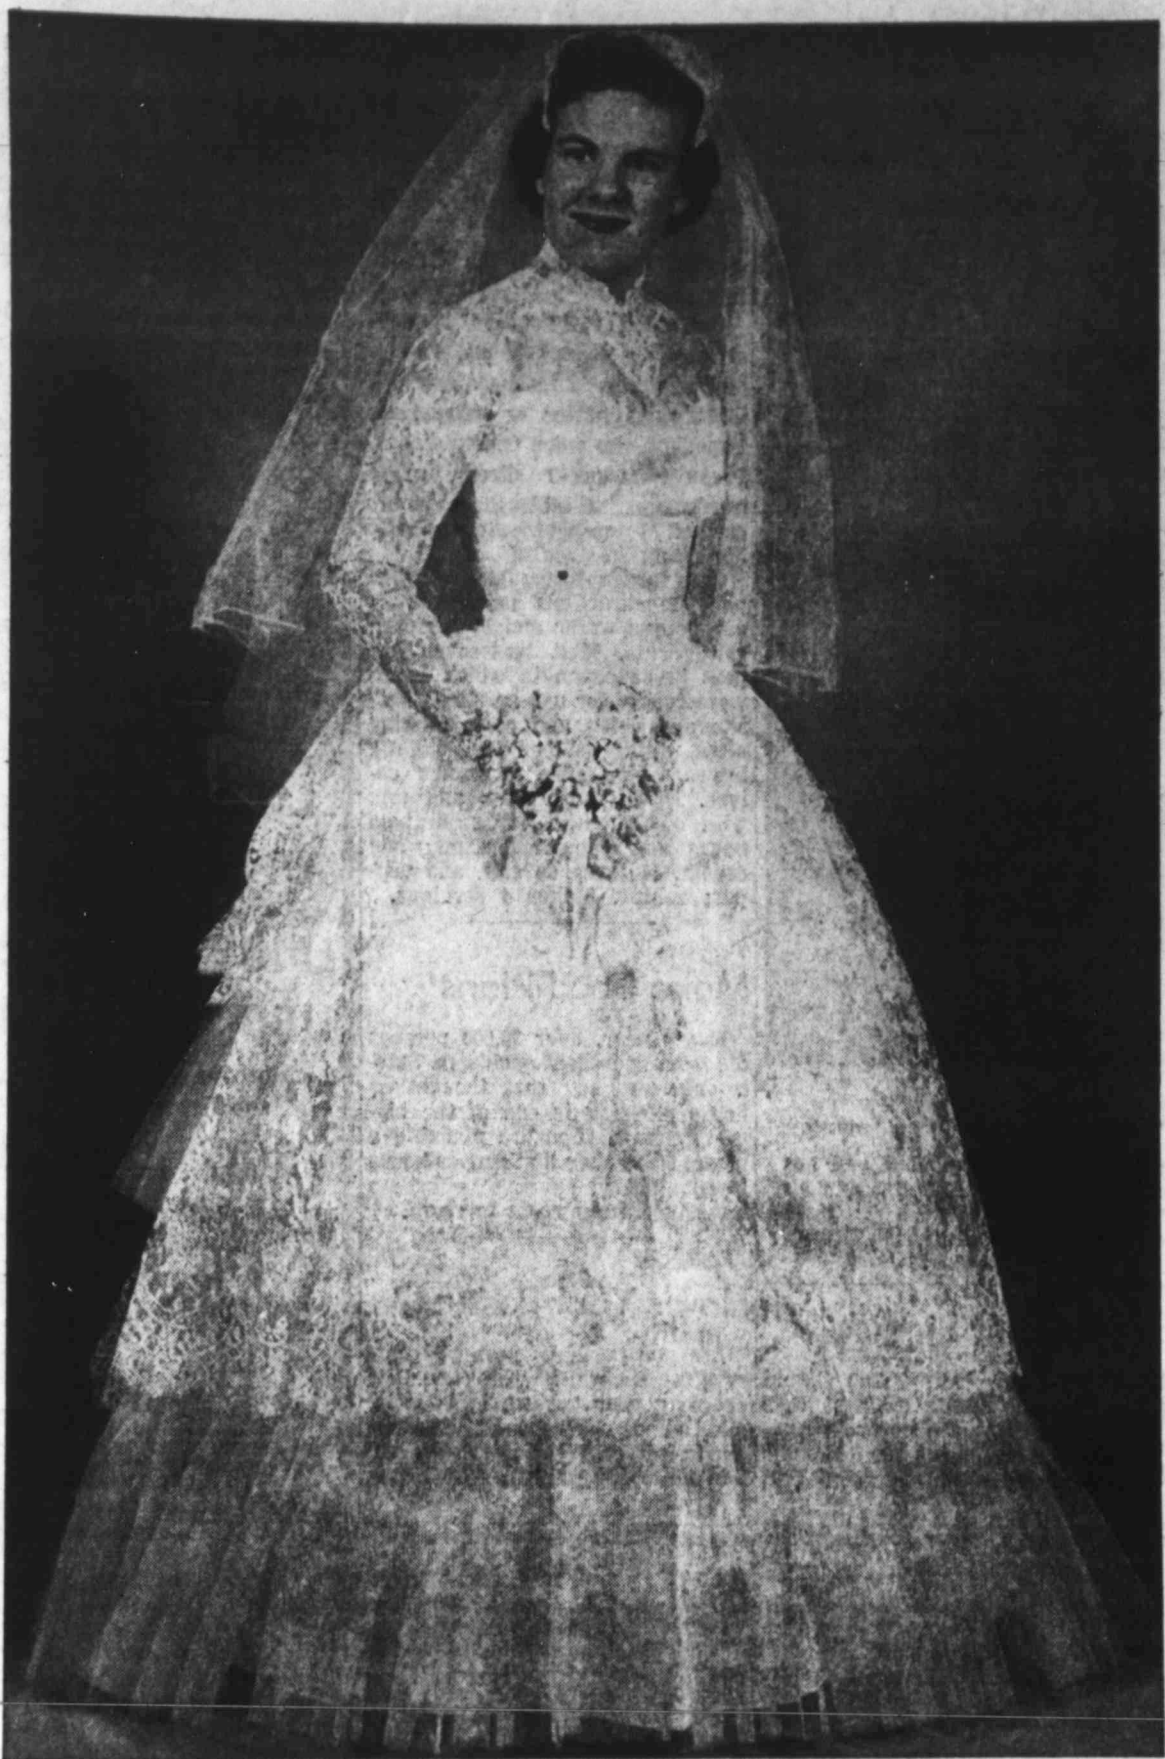

TREES FULL OF HATS will form the decoration for banquet tables, when the Parents-Teachers Association honors superintendents, principals and life members Friday evening. The dinner will be held at First Methodist Church as part of the activities of the 10th annual conference of District 16 to be held here Thursday and Friday. MRS. REYNOLD E. JANEK (Photo by Barr)

Joyce Davenport - Reynold Janek Say Vows In Saturday Ceremony

The First Methodist Church was the scene Saturday evening at 7 o'clock for the wedding of Joyce Ann Davenport and 1st Lt. Reynold E. Janek of Webb AFB. Vows were read by Dr. Jordan Grooms pastor, before an altar decked with baskets of white gladioli and flanked by four candelabra twined with fern. Pews were marked with white satin bows. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Davenport, 2001 Main, are parents of the bride; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Janek, West. Lt. Charles H. Webb, organist, accompanied Joyce Howard as she sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

BRIDAL GOWN
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Alencon lace over white satin and tulle. The basque bodice was accented with the lace pattern and mandarin collar and sheer lace sleeves tapered to points over her hands. The bouffant lace overskirt was over tulle. The back of the skirt featured alternate layers of lace and tulle in a bustle effect. The finger-tip tulle veil fell from an Elizabethan crown of matching lace and tulle trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The bride's bouquet of white gardenias was carried atop a white lace-covered Bible, trimmed with tulle ruffles and white satin streamers and sequins.

IRISH LAMB STEW
Ingredients:
2 pounds lamb shank or shoulder
1 quart water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
4 medium onions, quartered
3 large carrots, diced
1 cup diced yellow turnip
Pepper to taste
Irish dumplings
Method:
Cut meat into 1 1/2-inch cubes; put water and salt in a heavy kettle and bring to boil. Add meat. Cover and simmer 1 1/2 hours. Add onions and cook 15 minutes; add remaining vegetables. Cook until vegetables and meat are almost tender (about 30 minutes).

IRISH DUMPLINGS
Ingredients:
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1/4 cup vinegar
3/4 cup milk
1/4 cup minced parsley
Method:
Sift together flour, baking soda and salt into a large mixing bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives. Mix together vinegar and milk. Add to dry mixture all at once with minced parsley. Stir lightly with a fork until flour is moistened. Drop by tablespoons on top of stew, making sure dumplings rest on piece of meat or vegetable. Cover and steam 20 minutes more. Pour off all liquid from stew and thicken with a paste of 2 tablespoons flour mixed with enough water to moisten. Place meat, vegetables and dumplings on deep platter or serving dish and cover with gravy.

Kitchen Commandoes
When bed time is approaching and a troop of kitchen commandoes descends on the pantry and refrigerator for one last snack, be prepared with plenty of sardines. Delicious eaten just as they come from the easily opened can, they also combine well with other foods in delectable sandwiches. Try mashing the little fish and blending them with mayonnaise and finely chopped dill pickle. Wonderful on whole wheat toast. Or broil drained sardines until bubbly. Alternate on crunchy rye toast with strips of broiled bacon. Even the hungriest of commandoes will cheer!

Planned Buying
Did you really want that sideboard or that serving table? Never buy anything you don't need, no matter what the Joneses say. If, for instance, a sideboard and serving table both come with a dining-room set and you don't need both, pick out another set — or, better still, collect the pieces separately.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

At midnight tonight, when the majority of HCJC students will be sleeping or studying for Monday classes, the choir members will be assembling in front of the music building. Mr. Orland Johnson, director, Mrs. Jack Hendrix, accompanist, and Dr. Marvin Baker, tentative choir business manager, will be frantically checking the choir roll for overdue members, and even more frantically trying to load the baggage belonging to singers already present. If everything goes as scheduled, the group of 23 singers and sponsors will head north on the college bus to Denver, Colo. to take part in an outstanding musical event.

It has been their honor to be chosen as one of three Texas groups who will appear at the Southwestern Music Educator's Association meeting. Two local groups who have made the trip possible are Cosden Petroleum Corporation and the local branch of the Lion's Club. Cosden is providing the gas for the trip, and the Lions presented a check for $500 to finance the appearance. For their thirty-minute program on Tuesday, the choir will sing "There Is A Layde," "Der Abend," "All Through the Night," "Kyrie" and selections from "Carrousel."

The group will return Wednesday. After the track events Saturday, ending the ABC Relays, a Relays Dance was staged at the Cosden Club. Some of the local college kids gathering there as hosts to boys from the colleges represented in the track event, were Julie Rainwater, Jackie Phillips, Lou Burchett, Charles Dobbs, Tommy Black, Frank Dunlap, Marliou Stagg, Laverne Cooper and Max McCulloch.

Yesterday the track team journeyed to Cisco to compete in a meet. Chances are, they were pleased to discover that backers from college turned up in ample number. Included in the staunch supporters were Jo Ann Watkins, Laverne Cooper, Lovelle Fletcher, Jo Ann Ebling, Robert Richards, Julie Rainwater, Larry Gore, Wick Pickett and Johnny Watson. Mickey Sjager has been sporting an engagement ring this week; it was given to her by Marvin Butts from Litchfield, Ill. Although Mickey states that they have made no definite plans, could be that she will become a Mrs. this summer.

An ex-Jayhawk, Sharon Lewis, has also recently become engaged. Her husband-to-be is Ken Waechter from San Diego, Calif. More definite about her plans, Sharon's wedding date is set for May 2. Leaving at 5:30 Friday morning, four Future Teachers of America club members and sponsor, Mr. Bill Holbert, reached Austin in time Friday to participate in activities planned for the state-wide FTA conference on Friday.

the-round Friday night. Billed around the theme "An Evening of Entertainment," the presentation of the College Players was composed of three one-act plays. Instead of the small auditorium, as was originally planned, the performances were given in the large auditorium, on Thursday and Friday nights. We were especially impressed with the play, "Suppressed Desires," because of its being written by director, Fred E. Short. From Post came the parents of Ann Porterfield, one member of the cast, especially to see the production.

Tensions Blamed For Face Lines

Have you examined your face at close range lately in strong sunlight? Sunlight reveals what other lights hide, and if tiny wrinkles have begun to appear in the more vulnerable areas of your face, this is the time to counteract them. Tension is the most basic cause of creases and ugly lines. Even women in their twenties may detect the beginnings of these lines between their eyes or round their mouths. You should be constantly aware of your facial mood. As you read this article, is your forehead elevated? Lower it. Is your jaw tense? Relax it by blowing into the air. If you can learn not to react facially to what you do, see, and hear, your face will retain its youthful elasticity for years longer. Smooth the parallel creases between your brows by pressing them firmly with your fingertips. Avoid frowning — it adds years to your facial age! Watch your posture — slumping creases the neck and doubles the chin. To counteract throat wrinkles, pull yourself tall, place both feet under your jaw line and put the lower jaw forward to lengthen the throat. Repeat this several times a day. Practice smiling as much as possible. This tends to eliminate the downward curve of a nervous or petulant mouth — one of the ugliest and commonest of premature creases. Avoid dry skin, which is quickest to reveal even the thinnest network of creases. Even oily skin needs extra lubrication around the eyes and throat. Above all, don't worry. And if you must worry, don't worry with your face!

Mrs. Linney Hosts Stanton HD Club
The Stanton Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Roy Linney, Wednesday afternoon. Roll call was made with each member telling her favorite simple dessert. The club prayer was in unison. Mrs. Linney and Mrs. Lewis Carlie demonstrated five desserts; these were served to nine members and one new member, Mrs. Walter Graves. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Pearl Ory April 3, at 2 p.m.

FUN FOR THE JACK McWHORTERS
... ready for water skiing

McWhorters Enjoy Many Spring Activities

The advance of springtime brings, McWhorter is teaching. In Sinton, everyone's thoughts to the hobbies or recreations enjoyed during that season.

For the Jack McWhorters spring brings thoughts of water skiing, picnicking and fishing — and for Mr. McWhorter the golf course looks real inviting at this time. Their daughter, Vicki, 4½, will enjoy romping with her favorite playmate, a sandy colored cocker named Duchess.

Actually, the entire family enjoys the antics of Duchess, who according to Mrs. McWhorter "is more spoiled than Vicki."

The McWhorters have recently moved to Big Spring from Sinton, which was their home for nearly a year. Mr. McWhorter is bookkeeper for William Cameron Company.

True Texans by birth and choice, Mrs. McWhorter hails from Cisco while Mr. McWhorter's home is Mineral Wells. The couple met at Ranger Junior College and both are graduates of A&I College in Kingsville.

An enjoyable "hobby" for Mrs. Sun's Rays

Ultra-violet rays from the sun, which create natural Vitamin D in the body, cannot penetrate ordinary clothing or windows.

New Soap Is Boon For Glamorous Sweaters

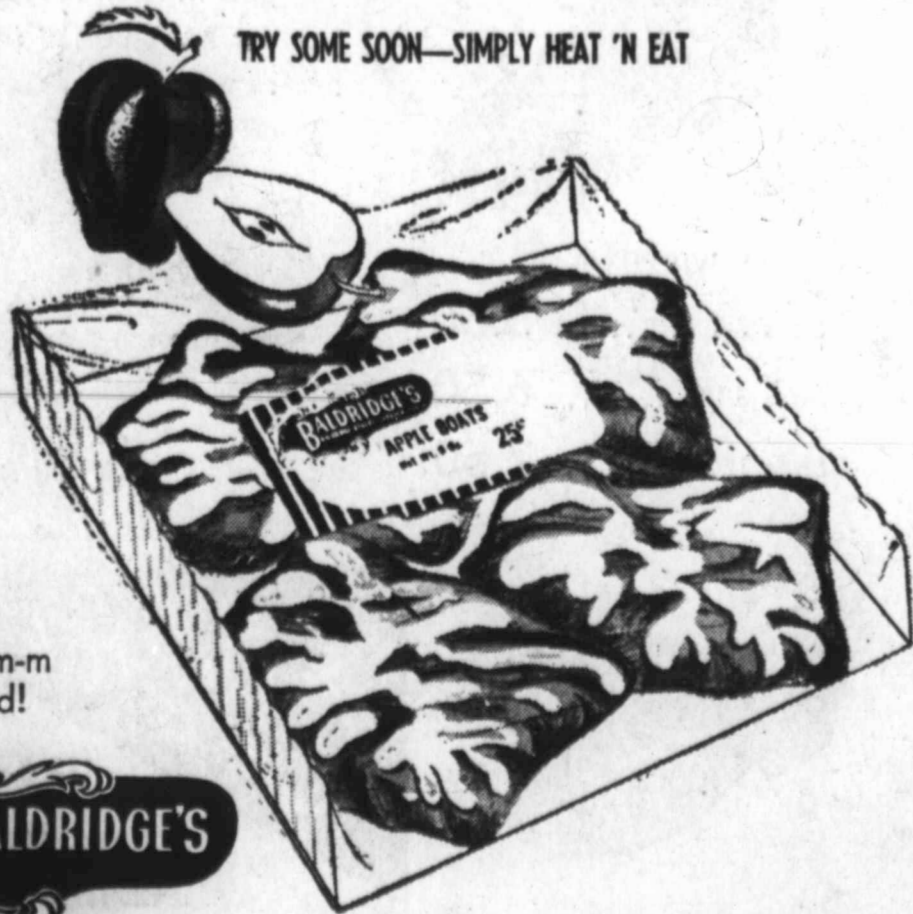

A white sweater is a luxurious and feminine addition to any wardrobe. To save it from a yellowish or grayish fate — which is far from attractive — use a cold-water soap, recently placed on the market. It contains a bleaching, brightening agent which will keep that white sweater an important item in your wardrobe.

Obstinate make-up stains on sweaters should receive better treatment than you give the tougher fabrics. Remove the stains by making a paste of the soap, and applying it to the spot with a brush. Then rinse the soap out thoroughly.

Here's Help For Pulling Eyebrows

Did you know that by holding a cotton ball moistened in hot water over your eyebrow for a minute, you can eliminate the sting of tweezing and loosen stubborn, hard-to-pluck hairs?

Only professionals obtain best results with pointed tweezers. Most women with less dexterous fingers do better when tweezing with a straight or slanted blunt-end instrument. Many people find scissors-handled tweezers easiest to manipulate.

After moistening your eyebrow as suggested above, pluck one hair at a time, holding your tweezers (unless you have the scissors-handled variety) about an inch from the tip, for greater control. Grasp the hair as close to the base as possible, to prevent its breaking off.

Always pull in the direction in which the hair grows. Except in "problem" cases, tweeze only the extra hair on the underside of your eyebrows. Leave the top line alone. When tweezing between eyebrows, be careful to stop in a clean line directly over the inside corner of your eye. To extract hair at the outer corner, hold skin up and out so that it is taut.

Apply a skin lotion, astringent or witch hazel to the area immediately after tweezing. It's a good idea to go after stray hairs once a week with a magnifying mirror and a strong light. In this way, eyebrows may be kept under control in less time, with less trouble.

Easy Serving

Some cooks like to use a serrated knife for freeing the fruit sections from the white membrane when preparing grapefruit halves.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Crutcher announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Una, to Edwin C. Kunkel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Kunkel of Sprenberg. Their wedding will be an event of June 1, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Sprenberg, with the Rev. C. E. Kleber officiating.

Many Volunteers

More than 99 and ¼ per cent of the 670,000 men and women in Girl Scouting are volunteers, who contribute their interest, time, and talents for the benefit of girls.

Save That Liquid

Don't throw away the liquid from mixed sweet pickles! It's good to add to the egg-yolk mixture when preparing deviled eggs and to use in potato salad and cole slaw.

Green Beans Take To This Method

You won't recognize plain-jane green beans if you prepare them this savory way.

GREEN BEANS FRANCES

Ingredients:
One package (10 ounces) French-style green (snap) beans, ¼ cup boiling water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-size onion (finely diced), 1 can (8 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, 2 tablespoons heavy cream, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper.

Method:
Cook green beans according to package directions using the ¾ cup boiling water and ¼ teaspoon salt; drain. Melt butter over low heat in saucepan in which beans were cooked, or use an 8-inch skillet; add onion and cook, stirring often, until tender and slightly browned. Be sure to brown onions. Drain mushrooms and mix with onions; heat. Mix drained beans and onion-mushrooms; add cream, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper; reheat. Makes 4 servings.

Make Good Plans

Every year, over 30,000 persons die from household accidents. Safety engineers say that thoughtless house planning is one of the biggest reasons. If you're planning a home, remember that proper house layout should permit effortless movement from room to room.

How's Your Posture?

Are you perfectly sure you carry yourself well? The test for checking your posture is to strip, and stand sideways at a floor-length mirror. Stand naturally, and the mirror guarantees to tell you the truth.

Eagle Auxiliary Has Officer Election

Mrs. Ralph Wilson was named as the new president of the Auxiliary of Fraternal Order of Eagles when the group met Thursday evening.

Other officers include Mrs. Dorothy Mellon, vice president; Mrs. J. M. O'Donald, chaplain; Mrs. D. E. Weatherley, secretary; Mrs. T. H. Stephens, treasurer; Mrs. R. A. White Jr., conductress; Mrs. A. M. Ripps, outside guard, and Mrs. J. E. Gunter and Mrs. Alta Watkins, trustees.

Plans were discussed concerning the campaign for muscular dystrophy. It was also announced that Mrs. Ola Honeycutt, grand president, would be in Midland April 1.

SPADE'S AMERICAN
Herbert Sondheim
DESIGNER PATTERN

1306

The gracefully flared skirt continues to keep its place in the fashion spotlight, and when it's handled with Herbert Sondheim's typical finesse as is this model, its success is doubly assured.

There are only five basic pieces in this pattern. The back consists of princess gorges, darted in the waistline; the front has a separate panel that swings free from just below the hip buttoning.

The exclusive designer retail sizing and accurate perforations produce a better fit. Select cottons, pique, linen, shantung, silk or the new interesting rayon weaves.

Lovely in any size from 10 to 20. It is ideal for graduates, bridesmaids, parties, barbecues and, when the hot weather arrives, for career girls to wear in town.

From this chart select the one size nearest for you:

Size 10 bust 34, waist 24, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 12 bust 35, waist 25, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 14 bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches; size 16 bust 38, waist 28, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches; size 18 bust 40, waist 30, hips 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches; size 20 bust 42, waist 32, hips 43, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches.

Size 12 requires 4 1/4 yards of 39-inch material for dress. To order pattern No. 1306, state size, enclose $1.00. Address American Designer Patterns, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. Classic Pattern Booklet No. 12 and all new patterns available for 50 cents each.

HERBERT SONDEHEIM 1 a b e l available for 25 cents extra with pattern order. If paid by check add 4 cents.

Fatal Falls

One out of every six work accidents is due to falls. About 3,000 persons are killed on the job every year because of falls.

Floor Hugger

Rubber tile is a good flooring material for use over radiant heating installations. It is an effective heat conductor, will conserve fuel and will not be damaged by the temperature of radiant heating installation.

First Aid

It's a good idea to keep a first aid kit in the kitchen. Use it to treat minor cuts and burns on the spot. Antiseptic for cuts, petroleum jelly for burns, gauze squares, a roll of bandage, adhesive and scissors are minimum requirements.

Hot Or Cold Celery

Dice boiled celery root and serve hot with cream sauce or cold with mayonnaise spiked with mustard.

Started For Women

London's large-circulation newspaper, The Daily Mail, was started in 1903 as a penny newspaper for women.

Grapefruit Tip

A sharp knife will save a lot of work and mess in preparing grapefruit sections. Pare deep enough to remove the white membrane as well as the peel and take out the sections by cutting toward the center.

Thousands of women who are writing to their senators and Congressmen about unfair taxes will find high octane fuel for their drive in a study issued by the National Association of Manufacturers.

This new analysis by NAM's Government Economy Committee shows how Uncle Sam could cut $8,227,000,000 from the proposed federal budget, without weakening military security or impairing any essential civilian programs. If consumers themselves could spend these eight billion dollars, what would it mean in dollars and "sense"?

Consider last year's total consumer spending on food — about 80 billion dollars, compared to NAM's proposed eight billion dollar budget cut. A reduction like this would mean that one-tenth of American's yearly food bills would be paid — that represents about five weeks of your personal food bill. What else would $8,227,000,000 buy? It would buy 822,000 new homes at $10,000 each, or 4,110,000 automobbiles at $2,000 each, or it would pay for 822 million pairs of shoes at $10 a pair.

Facts such as these show women what excessive government spending — and the resultant high taxes — mean to themselves and their families. Women are finding that the more the government spends, the less they have left to spend on the necessities of life, much less the luxuries they may want.

Since American women control such a large portion of the nation's spending — hence, are so influential in the national economy — each and every homemaker and career girl has a personal interest in the drive to cut government spending.

In a special message to American women, the NAM said that the current drive to cut federal spending is more important than any similar effort in the nation's history.

Homemakers and career girls of today know that their taxes — their tax bill from Uncle Sam — are far too high, and women don't pay much government we have to afford. What about straightening Sally's teeth, having the house painted this year, buying a new washing machine, putting something aside for Junior's college? We have too many good and worthy things to do with our dollars. If the government is ill-using our money, it doesn't make sense.

Advocates of federal economy say that if enough women demand that Congress spend less and less on service, the budget can be trimmed substantially.

Diamond Selection

Have you diamonds in mind? Remember that your ideal diamond will be as nearly colorless as possible. Any yellowish tinge seriously reduces value. As a matter of fact, there can be a difference of as much as $350 in diamonds of exactly the same karat weight.

Good Leaders

About half of the 125,000 Girl Scout troops in the United States are associated with schools, and many of these troops are helped by P-TA units. About one-fourth of all troops are associated with churches and other religious organizations.

Rice Used As Basis For This Lent Menu

All good cooks know the value of following recipes exactly. Particularly when they're experimenting with new recipes. Later, to create new flavors, they may change the seasonings a bit, but that's all. They never change the basic part of a recipe. That's probably why they're good cooks.

The approaching Lenten season is a good time to try out new recipes. It's a good time to get out of the meat, potatoes and gravy rut and experiment with different foods and different tastes. For instance, how often do you serve rice? And when you do, do you always boil it? Have you ever served it fried? It's delicious cooked that way, and once you've tasted it, you'll want it again and again. Also, fried rice lends itself to many variations which you'll be able to invent eventually. When it's properly prepared, fried rice is not only as tasty a dish as you'll find, but it's digestible. Here's the basic recipe.

FRIED RICE
3 tablespoons shortening
2 onions (sliced)
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup raw rice
Water (enough to rise 1/2-inch above rice in pan)

1-3 cup shredded almonds
Heat shortening in heavy iron skillet. Add sliced onions and rice, and cook slowly for about 7 minutes until onions are soft, and rice slightly browned. Cover with water and bring to boil, then turn heat low, add almonds, cover pan and continue to cook over low heat for about 19 or 20 minutes until done. All moisture will have been absorbed, and rice will be light and fluffy. This is a perfect accompaniment for Lobster Newburg or other fish dishes.

VARIATIONS
Add one clove of garlic (chopped) to the rice and onion.
Use chicken stock, beef stock or tomato juice instead of water.
Add 1/2 cup mushrooms instead of almonds.
Add 1/4 cup raisins, 2 tablespoons green pepper and 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese.

Music Makers At Work!

Mrs. H. L. Derrick watches as two groups of her sixth grade of Washington Place School give impromptu concerts on the piano, meloharps and an autoharp. Learning to produce music has increased the pupils' enjoyment of the concert series, which they attend in a body; it has also brought a better appreciation of semi-classical and classical music. Each student has learned to play a piece on the piano by the use of cardboard keyboards, and the group is planning to give a recital for their mothers before the end of school. All the study and work in music is done in addition to the regular musical training which is given the pupils at the school.

The Concert Series Really Means Something To This Student Group

By ANNE LEFEVER
Probably the 32 people who get the most pleasure from the programs of the Big Spring Concert Association are the members of Mrs. H. L. Derrick's sixth grade at Washington Place School! This group — there are 29 boys and 12 girls — attends each concert in a body. They meet at the school and are taken to the city auditorium by some of the mothers of the class; after the concert, they are delivered to their homes. During the school days preceding each program, the class studies about each artist or group of artists, and a notebook is kept with information about each number scheduled for presentation. All this work is done in addition to their regular musical training. Before the Mantovani Orchestra appeared here in the fall, the boys and girls were introduced to the various instrument families in the orchestra. This was done by pictures which they studied and also placed in their notebooks and by listening to recordings of the instruments, separately and in orchestras. A background of history of the musical instruments has been woven into their regular work in science, and they can tell you of the drums used as early means of communication as well as an accompaniment for dances. Preceding the presentation of the Chicago Opera Ballet, members learned the story of the opera, "Il Trovatore," which was danced by the troupe, and also the story of the musical comedy, "The Merry Widow," which completed the program. In preparation for the final presentation of the series, The First Piano Quartet, which will appear here Thursday, which has been listening to recordings of the quartet and also studying about the artists. Besides being part of the audience, the class is learning to produce music! Each pupil has a cardboard strip with a piano keyboard marked on it. Each, using the replica, has learned a musical selection, which he or she can play on the real piano, that is the property of the room. During my visit to the room, I heard some of these selections played. Of course, at the present, none of them threaten Liberace, but give them a few years and a little practice, and perhaps he'd better look to his keyboard! The class will be presented in a recital sometime before school is out this spring. The piano was bought by the 1956 class, when they donated funds from their allowances; gave from the funds of the Citizenship Club or earned money to donate to the piano fund. There are also melloharps — and an autoharp — instruments similar to a zither — which the pupils are learning to play. In the music period, members enjoy the recordings of classical or semi-classical music; one of the most rewarding results of this study, according to Mrs. Derrick, is the fact that several of the pupils have bought albums of such music. Another fact in which she takes pride is that some of the boys and girls made the money with which they bought their tickets for the concert series. This was done by baby-sitting, mowing lawns or performing various other tasks.

Red Cross Council Has Banquet Friday

LAMESA — Members of the Junior High Red Cross Council and their dates were entertained with a banquet at the Mesa Room of the Green Hut Cafe Friday evening. Mrs. Matt McCall, speaker for the evening, discussed UNESCO. Also featured on the program was Mrs. S. L. Forrest of Lubbock, who showed slides of her trip around the world. International dolls were used on the tables along with the different flags of the United Nations. Red and white carnations were used on the speakers table. Donna Stephens was chairman of the decorations committee. La Rue Clark was chairman of the food committee.

Study Club Plans For Health Clinic

LAMESA — A called meeting for the Junior Woman's Study Club was held Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Bill Holbert. Discussed at the meeting were plans for a maternity clinic and well child clinic. Ella Patton, public health nursing consultant from the Department of Public Health in Austin, and Mrs. J. H. Mayberry, county health nurse, spoke to the group on both phases of the proposed plan and the possibility of taking these as a project. No action will be taken until after a meeting with the local doctors after the first of April. Refreshments were served to 12 members and two guests.

Spring Colors Used At Bridal Tea For LaVelle Wasson Friday

Spring shades of green, orchid, blue, pink and yellow were used for the bridal shower given for LaVelle Wasson Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Tom Harris. Miss Wasson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wasson, is the bride-elect of Doyle Maynard, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Maynard. Other hostesses for the shower were Mrs. O. H. Derrington, Mrs. W. D. Rowland, Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Mrs. J. E. Kennedy, Mrs. M. M. Casey, Mrs. Buster Vinson, Mrs. T. E. Osborne, Mrs. W. C. Winchester, Mrs. C. O. Trantham, Mrs. W. W. Fraune, Mrs. O. W. Fletcher, Mrs. Rex Morton and Mrs. Reese Gross.

Guests registered at a table decorated with a profusion of tulle, with tiny wedding bells tied at random. Assisting with the hospitalities were LaVelle Nix, Vickie Fitzgerald, Janice West, Jane Osborne and Mrs. Bill Williams. In the dining room, the tea table held a miniature wedding scene. On a pink organdy cloth, with a center row of lace insertion, very small aisle markers were tied with white satin ribbon. This formed the path of a bride, who was preceded by four attendants. They were attired in bouffant dresses of pink, blue and pale green.

Wide swags of pastel pink net circled the table and were caught with small clusters of lilies of the valley and blue wedding bells. At one end of the arrangement was a pair of three-inch candelabra, with a basket of flowers, on the same scale. A bowl of small rice bags, tied with ribbon and a flower, gave the impression of a flower arrangement. Crystal was used for all serving. A rose tree of tulle and rosebuds on the buffet was flanked by blue tapers in crystal holders. For the tea, Miss Wasson was attired in an aqua sheath of cotton, with a scooped neckline, and wore a pink corsage. Her mother wore a cotton frock of blue, fashioned with a circular skirt. Mrs. Maynard's two-piece dress was of a light blue. Both mothers wore white corsages.

Get Early Start In Selecting A College

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M.D. AP Newsfeatures Do you have a son or daughter in the senior year of high school this year? If college is on the horizon, now is none too soon to start planning. Even during the junior high school year much groundwork can be laid to help arrive at that most important decision—what college? There are literally thousands of colleges in these United States. Somewhere there is at least one and maybe many more that are just exactly right for your Mary or your Bill. The first job is to find that college. The second of course is to have that college accept Mary or Bill. College is a lot more than just a place where youth acquires academic education. The four college years are critical years in shaping adult life. It is here the youth will get started on the work he wants to spend his life doing, it is here he makes friends that last a lifetime. During college years he may well meet his future wife (or husband). Help your son or daughter select a college with all these objectives in view. Help him, but don't make the decision for him. He must think out his needs and desires and try to match them against the offerings of various institutions. Many high schools have competent college counselors who can be of great assistance, but many high schools have no one with the time or the up-to-date knowledge needed for this job. But whether the high school helps or not the parents certainly want to have a part in this major decision in the life of their son or daughter. A good place to start is with a copy of a standard college guide available at most book stores. This guide lists all the colleges in the country, and gives a few pertinent facts about each one, such as location, size, coeducation, costs, religious preference if any, special courses, size of library, etc. With this guide to help you, you will not miss any college you might have forgotten about or might never have heard of. What does your son or daughter want, a big school, a school near home, a coeducational one? What courses does he want? What can you afford to pay for his education? Make a list of colleges that seem to offer what you want and send for their catalogues. Most colleges offer pretty well-rounded liberal arts courses. If you want some specialty, your choice will automatically be narrowed. Cornell, for example, has an outstanding course in hotel management; Wisconsin's School of the Dance is known the country over; Oberlin has a special course for music majors; Antioch combines academic work and experience in the working world. From the catalogue you can learn about the special interests of each college. After you have read the catalogue, try to visit as many of the colleges that sound attractive as you possibly can. Write to the dean of admissions and make an appointment. Deans are always glad to talk to prospective students. You can get more of an idea of a place in a visit than from a printed page. Perhaps you can go as a family group to visit some college. Perhaps your son or daughter can go alone during one of the vacations. Narrow your choice down to not more than half a dozen and to these your child can fill out application blanks.

Better For Nylon

It's a fact! Taking nylon, and all the synthetic fabrics, out of hot water, reduces their tendency to wrinkle. That's where a new soap that adores cold water, comes in. What's more... it also keeps difficult nylon white as can be, and colors bright as new.

Redecorating?

Thinking about giving your walls a face lifting? Forget the old wive's tale that says you must get special "bedroom paper" or "living room paper." Generally, good taste is the only criterion; any lovely paper, if it goes with your color scheme, is suitable for any room.

BIG SPRING BUSINESSES OFFER NOVEL CONTEST

'Let's Get Acquainted' Is The Friendly Theme

This and other sections of today's Herald constitute a personal invitation from nearly 200 Big Spring business institutions — an invitation to get to know better the people who serve you in those firms. The sponsors constitute one of the largest number ever to participate in a feature of the Herald.

Since the theme is "Let's Get Acquainted," this cooperation is further expression of the basic friendliness of our business folk — the owners and managers of Big Spring business firms.

What is emphasized in this "Let's Get Acquainted" edition is the value of personnel who perform the services, and who make immediate contact with the public, at the various places of business. Employers recognize the importance of their associates through this feature. In the operation of any business has there ever been anything that can replace loyalty on the part of employes to employer?

And, through this cooperation of business firms listed on this

HERE ARE RULES FOR THE "Let's Get Acquainted" CONTEST

Use your imagination and ingenuity in final compilation of your entry.

1.—No purchase of this newspaper is required for one to enter this "Let's Get Acquainted" contest. You do not have to be a subscriber to the Big Spring Herald to enter. You do not have to purchase a single copy of this newspaper. You may come to the Big Spring Herald and use a counter copy of this edition.

2.—Contest is open to anyone, except employes of the Big Spring Herald and members of their families.

3.—Prizes, awarded on completeness and correctness, as well as on neatness, attractiveness and originality, are as follows: First Prize—$100; Second Prize—$50; Third Prize—$30; Fourth Prize—$20.

4.—All entries must be in by 5 p.m. Monday, April 8, 1957.

5.—All entries become the property of The Big Spring Herald. No contest entries will be returned.

6.—Address all entries to "Let's Get Acquainted" Contest, Big Spring Herald, Big Spring, Texas; or bring them to The Herald office, 8th and Scurry Sts., Big Spring.

7.—Final judging of entries will be done by a board of Big Spring business proprietors, independent of any member of The Herald staff.

8.—Give the advertiser's firm name, just as that place of business advertises in this "Let's Get Acquainted" feature. Every advertiser must be included. Before you complete your entry, double-check against the A-B-C's of the sponsors, on the front page of this section. Be sure you have EVERY ONE included in your entry.

9.—Then, with the advertiser's firm name, give the correct personal name of each individual pictured, corresponding to the alphabet identification letter beneath each sketch. Whether an ad has one sketch or 20 or more, each one has to have each person's correct name corresponding with the alphabet identifying letter.

10.—Neatness, attractiveness and originality will be taken into consideration in judging.

Originality Can Win $100 Prize For You

It will be a lot of fun for you to plan an unusual entry in this "Let's Get Acquainted" contest. There's no limit to the ways you can exercise your imagination and ingenuity.

Here are some suggestions that might help as a starter:

You could paste up all the sketches (borrowing a paper from some one who is not entering the contest to have both sides of the pages to clip) together with firm names and the personnel names of each firm identified with the alphabet letters in the ads on large pieces of cardboard; arrange a "different" title page and bind the pages together.

Or you might want to paste each individual sketch together with the firm names and the identifying personnel names into a booklet of novel design. You could even color the sketches.

Another idea might be to plan a large design of unique shape, clipping sketches from ads, and listing them, properly identified, according to firms. All sketches, as long as they are properly identified according to alphabet designation, and according to employing firm,

Town's Standing Based On Courtesy

"The civic importance of our citizens getting better and better acquainted with one another is fundamental," says Mayor G. W. Dabney on the subject of "Let's Get Acquainted."

"To make Big Spring the friendliest city in Texas is an objective of great social and commercial benefit."

"We have a fine community. We are headed for more growth, further development. Let's build our friendliness and we will build a bigger Big Spring."

"Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the importance of what a friendly, courteous greeting means to strangers. Their first contact with an individual can determine what the stranger thinks of a town. It is my hope that among other things, Big Spring people will always be ready to meet others, and to extend the hand of helpfulness and friendship."

Progress Moves In Friendliness

Want to speed up the tempo of progress in your town? Two words—"get acquainted"—can be the key. Think what increased pleasure would be yours if you met just three new persons each day.

That's an opinion given on "Let's Get Acquainted" by David Simms, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"To any young man wanting to improve his business stature and wanting to see his town progress, a wide acquaintanceship is of utmost importance."

"Acquaintanceship offers an opportunity for an ever expanding professional and social life, because through friends, new friends can be made. Any person's services become more valuable and interesting as acquaintanceship expands. The Jaycees are among those who want to work always in the cause of courtesy and hospitality."

Friends Needed In Getting 'Job Done'

In any field of endeavor an individual's acquaintanceship is a big factor in success. Liking to meet people, to constantly broaden friendships is a valuable trait.

Regarding understanding and appreciation of people, this expression is from of the community's leaders:

"I would certainly hate to undertake the job of heading the Howard County Junior College without knowing and having appreciation for a great number of people in the city and county," said Dr. W. H. Hunt, H.C.J.C. president.

"It is on the understanding of the community that I have to rely in order to accomplish the many things I undertake to do for our college and its service to the people. Without the friendship and helpfulness of all the people, these things could not be accomplished."

Must Take Care Of Tree To Have Fruit

No place affords a greater opportunity of getting acquainted than the church.

Big Spring churches extend a most cordial welcome to all new-comers to the city, and to any person wishing a spiritual relationship. Their doors are open at all times.

The fellowship obtainable through worship constitutes one of the best facets of friendship and helpfulness toward one another. Regular church attendance assures this fellowship.

The Rev. Hal Hooker, president of the Big Spring Pastors Association, said: "I know of no life that is as rich as it should be, if it does not pursue the reward of good friendship. Friendship does not just happen—it grows. We pluck this fruit only from the tree of acquaintanceship. If we want to enjoy the fruit, we must take good care of the tree."

Friendships Help Community Work

Getting acquainted with one's fellow citizens is the best way of continuing a harmonious and progressive community. If we can all get better acquainted we can cooperatively work out all our problems confronting our community. By being understanding of the other fellow, we can be in better position to help.

These are thoughts on "Let's Get Acquainted" of R. L. (Jimmy) Beale, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

"I believe that our community will benefit tremendously if all of us will put into practice every day the spirit of getting better acquainted which is demonstrated through this week's program."

"Certainly, friendliness and courtesy are among the principal aims of every project we attempt for Big Spring's betterment."

School Days Are Friendship Days

Acquaintances formed during school days, growing into life-long friendships, have been experienced by every one.

"Getting better acquainted can mean a better understanding between students and teachers, and between teachers and parents," said Floyd Parsons, superintendent of Big Spring schools.

"We in the schools are indeed desirous of a better acquaintanceship, a better understanding between people; because this leads to a common interest for progress."

"The friendly understanding between school workers and patrons can lead but to better schools. It seems to me that the privilege of knowing and sharing problems in good fellowship with others is one of the great blessings for Americans."

Understanding Is An Outgrowth

Through women's association with one another at church, Parent-Teacher Association gatherings and many new acquaintances are made. New friendships start almost daily. The home and school relationships, particularly, is a field for broadening friendly contacts, and is of fundamental importance at club meetings, once to all parents and teachers.

"Let's get better acquainted" is a suitable slogan to be applied to parents, teachers and school administrators," says Mrs. A. C. LaCroix, president of the P-TA Council in Big Spring.

"It seems obvious that a broader acquaintanceship, and increased common interest between teachers and parents would make for an understanding of great value in assisting our sons and daughters who are students in our schools."

Better Service In Acquaintanceship

One's service to others can automatically be increased and made more enjoyable and efficient through getting acquainted with more people.

Expressing this idea as definite, important in his work, Jimmy Taylor, county farm agent said:

"Only through acquaintanceship can I serve the full needs of the Howard County area. I need to know every member of the families I work with before I am able to do the best job for them. Knowing many people helps me to know the needs of the community better, and helps me get better satisfaction out of my work. I hope that this acquaintanceship can always be broadened so that I can effectively serve more and more people who are in need of services such as I can render."
