Iranian Cops Follow Trail Of Kidnapers

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Government officials said today that troops and police had picked up a paper trail left by a pretty American woman kidnaped by bandit tribesmen who killed her husband and another U. S. aid official. Government sources said they believed the band of nomads, about 12 in number, had kidnaped Mrs. Anita Huovar Carroll, 35, Issaquah, Wash., to "sell her on the Arab coast of the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman."

State Receiver Wins Court Test On Firm's Assets

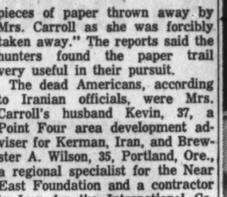

AUSTIN (AP)—A three-day court fight over payment of first claims on the assets of defunct U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. ended yesterday with a ruling in favor of the state receiver. Dist. Judge Charles Betts denied pleas contained in priority suits. Long-delayed payments to all claimants against the Waco insurance-investment firm may now be made by the state receiver. The business crashed more than a year ago, beginning the long string of legal actions brought by creditors, policy holders and others.

Absentee Voting In Senate Election Will Close Friday

Recheck of the calendar has disclosed that voters who want to ballot absentee will have one extra day. Deadline for such voting in the special U. S. Senatorial election of April 2 expires at 5 p. m. Friday instead of 5 p. m. today. Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that 65 voters have availed themselves of the opportunity to cast absentee ballots to the present time. Election boxes for the 16 voting precincts in the county are now ready and will be turned over to the precinct officials on re-

Many Parts Of Texas Revel In Rain; Only Fog Locally

Many parts of Texas revelled in rains running up to as much as 2.50 inches Wednesday night and Thursday morning, but in Big Spring the only reminder of a new cold front moving across the state was a low temperature reading of 30 degrees and an early morning fog of pea soup density. For a time, visibility was practically nil in the town. The fog was in control at daybreak and had moved into the town after midnight. The heavy gray blanket of saturated mist broke apart as the sun took over control. The sub-freezing temperatures recorded at the U. S. Experiment Station came as somewhat of a surprise to observers. The reading was 2 degrees below standard for ice but there was no evidence of a freeze nor was there any ice in sight. March continues its determined last minute efforts to nip fruit and shrubs but it is not believed that the attacks have done much harm. Other sections felt the impact of a cold front which had pushed across the state and was deep in south Texas today. There were thunderstorms, hard rains and hailstorms in many areas. A heavy thundershower soaked Laredo. Showers also fell early Thursday at Corpus Christi, Palestine, Kingsville, Houston, Galveston, Lufkin and Beaumont. Hail the size of silver dollars pelted Austin late Wednesday. More than 2.50 inches of rain fell within two hours. Winds of 51 miles per hour howled. Two bridges in south Austin were washed out. One man was rescued from one after his car was washed off the bridge into a ditch. More than an inch of rain fell at Lufkin and College Station. The Weather Bureau said the cold front early Thursday was along the upper Gulf Coast, southward to Corpus Christi and westward to Laredo.

Beck's Buyer

Nathan Shefferman, Chicago public relations consultant, testifies in Washington that he made purchases totaling $85,000 for Dave Beck over a period of years and added "I did not know it was union funds" he used. He said the items purchased for the Teamsters Union boss included washing machines, knee drawers, typewriters and "possibly garden hose."

U.S. Studies Safeguards Over Unions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today the administration is studying Senate Rackets Committee disclosures with the idea of tightening up government safeguards over labor union funds. Mitchell told a news conference the unions themselves are moving to try to curb corruption but "they may need some help from the government." He said his department is already considering various possible recommendations to Congress to require stricter financial data filing requirements on unions. But he said he has always opposed, and still does, applying anti-trust laws to unions, as has been suggested in industry quarters. Referring to Teamsters' Union President Dave Beck, who invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to tell the Senate committee about his personal use of large sums of union funds, Mitchell said: "I believe the actions of Beck and some of his associates as disclosed before the Senate committee are reprehensible." Mitchell said he thought the Senate committee is "performing a real public service."

Suit Deadline

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate and House Claims Committees set April 5 at 5 p. m. today as the deadline for applications seeking permission to sue the state. The Howard County Grand Jury was planning to complete its investigation of the 25 cases before it by noon Thursday and expected to make its report to Judge Charlie Sullivan in 11th District Court at mid-afternoon, it was said at the courthouse Thursday morning. The grand jury began its work Wednesday morning. It worked late Wednesday and was back on the job at 8 a. m. today. It was said at 10 a. m. that only four or five cases are still on its list of matters to be investigated. With good luck, the grand jurors expect to complete interrogation of witnesses in the final case by noon. Preparation and submission of the report to the court was to be sometime this afternoon.

Britain Frees Exiled Cleric

LONDON (AP)—Britain freed Archbishop Makarios from exile today after he called on the Cypriot EOKA underground to cease operations in its campaign to unite Cyprus with Greece. He based his call to EOKA on the condition that Britain "will show a spirit of understanding by abolishing simultaneously the present state of emergency" on the strife-torn island.

State Money Bill Due Debate Wednesday

Beck Is Wilted Witness; Probe Calls Recess

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probes turned today from public to private checking into their charge that Teamster President Dave Beck misappropriated $20,000 of union funds. While Beck headed homeward to Seattle, Senate staff investigators dug for details that he had refused to provide on grounds his answers might tend to incriminate him. Beck, head of the nation's biggest labor union, left the witness stand yesterday a wilted Fifth Amendment witness facing possible contempt of Congress action. "We are not through with Mr. Beck," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the special Senate committee conducting the inquiry told reporters. "He will be a matter of continuing interest to the committee and further testimony may be desired."

Lillian Roth At Work

Lillian Roth, who made a great comeback as a night club singer after a 16-year bout with the bottle, works at her second book as she relaxes at Palm Springs, Calif., between night club engagements. The 46-year-old vocalist says she is going to quit the night club field in favor of two new careers: lecturer and newspaper columnist.

Bergman, Brynner Win 'Oscar' Race

By JAMES BACON HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry has given its highest honor to Ingrid Bergman, who left Hollywood amid scandal and criticism eight years ago and hasn't returned. The 42-year-old Swedish star won the Academy Oscar — her second — at its 29th annual awards presentation last night. The prize was for her sensitive portrayal of the bewildered Russian princess in "Anastasia." Miss Bergman, in Paris, was the star in absentia of ceremonies in which Yul Brynner won the top-actor award for "The King and I" and "Around the World in 80 Days" was acclaimed the best picture of 1956. Winners of supporting-player awards were Dorothy Malone, as a sexy Texan heiress in "Written on the Wind," and Anthony Quinn, as eccentric artist Gauguin in "Lust for Life." Ingrid was the wife of a Beverly Hills surgeon and the mother of his daughter when she went to Italy and became the mother of a child by Italian director Roberto Rossellini. She later married him. "Anastasia," which marked her return to American films, had a European locale. Miss Bergman asked overtime costar Cary Grant to accept her Oscar in case she won. She won an Oscar in 1944 for "Gas Light." A top studio executive who asked not to be identified said last night that he tried five years ago to cast Miss Bergman in a film, but encountered so much industry pressure he had to drop the plan. "Now that Hollywood has awarded her its highest honor," he added, "I know that all is forgiven, and she will be welcomed back to Hollywood by the industry — and, I'm sure, by the public." George Stevens received the best-director award for his sweeping portrayal of a Texas oil family in "Giant." He won the 1951 directorial Oscar for "A Place in the Sun." Dynamic producer Mike Todd, accepting the best-picture award for "Around the World in 80 Days," his first picture, said, "This is especially wonderful for me because it's my first time at bat." Quinn told reporters he was so surprised at his victory that: "I feel just like Harry Truman." In an acceptance speech which Miss Malone said later she couldn't recall, she dedicated her Oscar to her 16-year-old brother, Bill Malone of Dallas. A lightning bolt killed him in 1954 on a golf course. Brynner, 41, born on the island

Sadler Calls On Daniel To Name 'Rotten Apples'

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. Jerry Sadler of Perella asked Gov. Price Daniel today to name "the 400" state officials and employees "who are rotten apples in the barrel... or shut up." In a personal privilege speech before the House, Sadler said the governor has said there was only "1 per cent of rotten apples in the barrel. Right now I am calling on him to name the 400." "All we have now going back to the people is that they had a slash fund, a tater box, but no, I didn't do it," Sadler said, referring to recent legislative investigations. "Let the who is without sin cast the first stone." In his statewide speech, Daniel has said "I appeal to you not to judge the many by the actions of the few. There are 40,000 state officials and employees, and less than 1 per cent have had any doubt cast upon their integrity. One wrongdoer is too many, but each should be judged on his own merits." Sadler said the governor had accepted donations to his campaign from BenJack Cagle, promoter of ICT Insurance Co. He said former Dist. Judge Robert Hall, who accepted a $40,000 fee as attorney for ICT, also contributed to the governor's campaign. Sadler praised former Gov. Allan Shivers' appointment of John Osorio to the Insurance Commission. He said Osorio "had honesty and integrity. Everyone was for him." Sadler said when Osorio ordered "the hopelessly insolvent ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas for a show case hearing and into receivership, Daniel turned against him. "I was told on good authority that Robert A. Hall came in to plead for ICT, then after Mr. Osorio told him the company is insolvent, Hall said, 'I will go see the governor.'" "Up to that time, Osorio had been acceptable to everyone. After Osorio took office, emergency matters started coming in for a new commission to get rid of Mr. Osorio." Sadler said "Up until last Sunday, records in the secretary of state's office showed Robert A. Hall received a $40,000 fee from ICT, that he had made a donation to Price Daniel's campaign... records reflect that BenJack Cagle made a donation to Price Daniel's campaign." Sadler attacked Daniel's proposed state law enforcement commission. "I have at my desk a letter this morning begging me to support the governor's program... to support his police state and getape methods that are being used to cover up the real issue."

Two Brothers Live Life Of Huck Finn

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—While their parents thought they were in school every day, two young boys lived a Huckleberry Finn life for 6 1/2 months "exploring and sitting" and watching the sky. The heaven they built for themselves at their "secret" cave was shattered yesterday and they were to be enrolled in school today. Police discovered Ora Lee Linville, 14, and his brother Jerry, 13, sitting beside a cherry camp fire in their cave yesterday morning. The cave, located in a creek bank near Southeast High School, was near a playground. "We spent the mornings exploring," Ora said. "Then we'd build a camp fire and eat lunch. In the afternoons we'd just sit and watch the sky or the creek until school was out and then we'd go back home." Sometimes they would hike into the country—if the day was warm. Their mother thought the boys had enrolled in school last September. They admitted it was a touch-and-go situation keeping mom and dad fooled. "When mother asked for our report cards we told her we had lost them or that the school wouldn't give them to us until we paid a fee," Ora Lee said. The family moved here recently from Chickasha, Okla., and weren't familiar with the grade card system. He said other things also had to be explained such as not bringing books home or not having any home work. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Linville, said the first time they knew the boys had not been at school was when a police car brought them home. "They'll be in school tomorrow morning," Linville said. "Dad gave us a pretty hard talking to when he found out about it," Ora said. The lads were discovered by officers after neighbors reported seeing them near the cave during school hours.

LITTLE GIRL LOVED DOGS, AND PAPA PAID FOR THEM

DETROIT (AP)—A little, blue-eyed blonde of 12 just loved dogs. But her parents wouldn't permit her to own one. The little girl had lots of friends who liked dogs. Their parents didn't mind, but they just didn't have any. One after another seven of them became dog owners. Six got miniature French poodles, the kind the 12-year-old "just adored." The other got a German shepherd. All were registered, pedigreed stock. Wherever the little 12-year-old went she could play with a friend's dog. That was part of the story police unraveled from a roll of $20 bills that fell out of the 12-year-old's jacket as she romped with a friend's dog. The friend's mother became suspicious. Police also found that the 12-year-old's father didn't believe in banks just as he didn't in dogs, that he kept his savings in a closet strongbox, and that the little girl had chanced upon the hidden strongbox keys. The strongbox financed taxi trips to kennels and purchase of $1,095 worth of dogs, with which a little, blue-eyed blonde of 12 dearly loved to romp — at the homes of friends.

Strike Talks Set

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan summoned his Cabinet today to discuss two major strikes threatening Britain's hard-won economic recovery.

Frozen Beef

Melting snowdrifts revealed such grim sights as this all over the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles. Here Bob Carter, left, and J. D. Amend, manager and owner of a ranch southwest of Amarillo, pull dead cattle from a drift estimated to hold at least 50 more head.

Rescuers Seek Victims Of Factory Blast

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rescue workers dug through a wrecked block of rubble today seeking more victims of two explosions in a fireworks factory that left more than 100 Mexicans dead or injured. Police hunted the factory owner for questioning.

Eleven bodies — four of them firemen — had been recovered late last night. A hundred persons were hospitalized. Many were not expected to live.

Most of the casualties resulted from the second blast, which came as hundreds of curious neighbors watched firemen fighting the fire after the first explosion. Because it was lunchtime, the factory — in a poor residential district — apparently was empty.

Police said they wanted to question Antonio Joyas Chavez, owner of the factory. Officers said his adjoining warehouse was illegally filled with dynamite and other explosives.

The factory was less than a mile from Mexico City's International Airport and many windows in airport buildings were shattered.

The sound of the two explosions could be heard over the noise of noonday traffic in the heart of the city five miles away.

Authorities gave this account: Nicolas Lome Munoz, a watchman, saw smoke curling from the factory, located on the Mexico City-Puebla highway which passes the airport, shortly before noon. He told his wife to call firemen and then tried to halt the spreading flames with buckets of water. The woman was unable to find a telephone.

The first explosion occurred at noon, leveling the plant and damaging nearby buildings. The blast killed the watchman, hurling his headless body 90 feet onto the highway.

Firemen from the airport rushed to the factory and sought to halt the racing flames. Hundreds of curious flocked to the scene and milled around watching the firemen.

Fifteen minutes later the warehouse exploded with a roar that could be heard for miles.

Four firemen, a policeman and five spectators were known to have died in the second blast. Ambulances and police converted on the area and began moving the injured to hospitals in relays.

A Small Assist

A sudden spree of free spending by Charles Whitsell Jr., 16, center, a midget Poseyville, Ind. farmboy, prompted Evansville police to arrest him and two Evansville men for a three-month wave of safecrackings. The adult companions are Charles Hale, 39, left, and Charles E. Bodell, 20, right. Detectives said the three signed statements admitting they used the undersized youth to squeeze into buildings through small openings.

Little Alternative To Use Of Canal

CAIRO (AP) — Western governments will find it virtually impossible to turn the Suez Canal into an idle ditch by building more pipelines and supertankers.

Military, diplomatic and economic pressures have not shaken Egyptian President Nasser's grip on the strategic waterway. Some Western leaders are advocating all-out development of alternative routes to minimize Nasser's ability to blackmail the world through its control of the canal.

So far, three schemes have been proposed:

1. A pipeline through Turkey to the Mediterranean for oil from Iraq, Iran and the Persian Gulf.
2. Pipelines across southern Israel from the Gulf of Aqaba to the Mediterranean.
3. Building more supertankers so large they can take oil around Africa as cheaply as conventional tankers haul it through the Suez.

But the Western demand for Middle Eastern oil is increasing at such a pace that even with this competition the Suez Canal will be a busy trafficway for many decades to come — at least until atomic energy begins to play a major role in powering industry.

Even without the threat of hostile Arab action, some alternative routes must be developed over the next decade to prevent the Suez becoming a bottleneck, unable to cope with heavily increasing traffic.

Oil shipments from the Middle East to the West are expected to double in the next 10 years. In 1955, last full year the canal was in operation, 110 million tons of Middle Eastern oil went to the West. By the late 1960s this is expected to increase to over 250 million tons.

Of the 1955 total, only 65 million tons went through the Suez Canal. The waterway can handle more oil and bigger tankers if it is widened and deepened, and operations are made more efficient. But even the most optimistic experts cannot conceive of more than doubling the total oil tonnage via Suez.

In a decade that would still leave more than 120 million tons that must travel by alternative routes which will have to be developed at high speed to absorb the surplus.

Big City Vote Draws Notice Of Many Senate Candidates

By JERRY MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

The big city vote drew the attention of many candidates in the special U.S. Senate race Thursday. Several made plans to wind up their campaigns for the Tuesday election in populous Houston where they will bid for Harris County's record 354,931 votes.

Republican Thad Hutcheson was the target of a statement Wednesday by Congressman-at-Large Martin Dies. Dies also had words for Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

In El Paso, Dies said he wanted to warn Texas voters about "last minute charges" in the campaign. He said candidates would make "wild charges and counter charges" in the last few days "when the people do not have time to hear both sides."

"John White has already started by saying I voted to deed over national forests to private interests. This is absolutely untrue," Dies said.

"If Mr. White knew anything about national legislation he would know there never has been a bill introduced like that."

Dies said a "vast amount of northern money" has been poured into Texas in the campaign.

"The Republican opponent in this race doesn't have a chance to win but he has spent untold thousands of dollars on expensive advertising. He filed the highest campaign expense account of this whole race," Dies said.

Hutcheson predicted in San Antonio that he would lead the balancing in Bexar, Dallas and Harris counties, the three with the largest voting power.

"I understand my opponent (Dies) has made repeated statements on television and elsewhere that the NAACP has or will be active in the Senate race."

"I call on him to reveal to the attorney general immediately any evidence of political activity in this state by the NAACP, since I understand that group is now under injunction prohibiting any sort of activity in Texas," Hutcheson said.

The GOP candidate was due to return to Houston Thursday and will end his campaign Monday night with a rally at his headquarters. Dies and State Sen. Searcy Bracewell were due in Houston Friday and James Hart was scheduled to arrive Saturday.

Ralph Yarborough was in Houston Thursday and planned a Friday night rally.

In Dallas, Bracewell appeared on a television panel show and was questioned by four Southern Methodist University students.

Bracewell said he thought Congress should limit the power of courts to grant integration orders as a means of maintaining segregation in public schools. He said Congress had set a precedent by limiting federal court powers in labor matters. He said he does not advocate violence to maintain segregation.

Bracewell said it would be "to our advantage economically and sectionally" to elect a Democrat to finish the unexpired term of Gov. Price Daniel in the Senate. He said election of a Republican would mean GOP reorganization, thus ousting veteran Southern Democrats from committee chairmanships.

Earlier Wednesday, Bracewell

urged better care for old people. At Bryan, Yarborough said he would "carry this fight for higher old age pensions to the floor of the United States Senate. We will move the battlefield from the banks of the Neches River to the Potomac."

A recent political debate televised in Dallas under the sponsorship of Local 893, United Auto Workers, touched off an exchange of strongly worded telegrams Wednesday between the local and Agriculture Commissioner White. Hutcheson and Yarborough took part in the debate, which the union said it sponsored as a public service.

In a wire to Roy Evans, president of Local 893, White stated: "I do not believe the majority of the working people in Texas approve the practice of using their union money for political television programs... I feel their rights were abused when a few people acted in their name to sponsor a political telecast."

When he got it, Evans fired back a wire charging that White was, as Evans put it, "going to try to use Local 893 to further your political ambitions. For your information, I... found our members very pleased with the television show which they had voted to approve, but highly non-plussed and indignant about your malicious and erroneous remarks to the newspapers. White had criticized the televised debate in earlier statements.

White's telegram also said, "Misuse of the laboring people's money by a few union leaders is in the national spotlight today. If questionable activity of this sort occurs in Texas, then the cause of the working people is set back 20 years."

To this, Evans' telegram replied: "The apparent intention of your telegram is to identify the UAW and our local with corruption in the labor movement. The UAW's position against corruption and malpractices in the labor movement has been emphatically stated by Walter Reuther. The members of Local 893 are very jealous of their right in demanding an accounting for every dime of their dues money spent for any purpose."

Spring Weather Normal In U.S.

By The Associated Press

Early spring weather was nearly normal in most of the nation today.

There were a few wet spots and cloudy skies and a little cool weather in some northern areas. But no severe cold or stormy weather was reported.

The precipitation in the Northeast, rain and drizzle with some snow in the Northern areas, diminished during the night to light showers in eastern Pennsylvania and eastward to the coast.

Thunderstorms which rumbled across the Southern Plains yesterday also diminished as they moved eastward. However, thunderstorms hit areas in eastern Texas during the night. Mostly light showers extended through Arkansas into western Tennessee. Heaviest falls were more than an inch. A shower belt during the day was indicated from eastern Texas through Alabama.

1955, last full year the canal was in operation, 110 million tons of Middle Eastern oil went to the West. By the late 1960s this is expected to increase to over 250 million tons.

LECTURE FROM SCIENCE

Recorder Used To Show God's Forgiving Power

Every word a person has uttered potentially is locked in some physical object and only awaits the discovery by some ingenious mind of how to unlock it. How sound has been "impregnated" through molecular change on acetate tape containing iron oxide particles (the modern recording tape) was demonstrated Wednesday night by Dr. George Speake in his "Sermons from Science" series at the high school auditorium. But science has gone further than that, he reminded, for through the use of ultra-high frequencies, it is now possible to put both sound and image on a tape. "How would you like for your record to be played back in the day of judgment," he asked. "Don't be silly; God isn't going to blackmail or blackmail you with a record. But He has provided a way to wipe the record clean." With that, he waved the recording tape over a magnetic coil — and the sound was gone. It was just that simple for God, through Jesus Christ, to forgive sins, and save souls, he told his audience. A near capacity crowd, despite the fact that several hundred were attending mid-week services in their church, attended the lecture. The audience contained a large number of children, some of whom are ill behaved to the point of rudeness and had to be called down more than once by the lecturer. Dr. Speake also demonstrated how images could be locked on surfaces, and with his "snooper-scope" he demonstrated how it is possible to see in the dark. The series continues at 7:30 p. m. today and will be concluded at the same hour Friday evening. There is no admission charge, although a free will offering is received to help defray expenses of the production which is made possible by a branch of Moody Bible Institute.

Lamesans Study Building, Zoning

LAMESA — The Civic Improvements Committee of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce Wednesday voted unanimously to study a building code and zoning for Lamesa. They authorized Chairman, E. D. David to appoint a sub-committee to study a code and present it to the committee in the near future. Composed primarily of contractors and architects, the committee discussed the building code as a primary need for the city. They were told that Lamesa is paying an eight-cent penalty on the key fire insurance rate because there is no building code. After a thorough study of various codes, the committee will make a recommendation to the city council on both zones and codes. ## Take It Easy

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Take Time To Relax, Osa Massen's Advice

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD - Osa Massen has lived in Hollywood a long time and when I visited her the other day, she had just returned from a visit with her family in Denmark.

"I was delightfully surprised to see how little my mother had aged," said Osa. "But the diet there is very sensible. One eats lots of fresh fish and the air is so moist and cold that it has an astringent effect."

"The sun here feels wonderful but it does dry out your skin," Osa pointed out, "and makes lines in the face that you wouldn't have when living in a cold climate."

"People in a warmer climate are supposed to have a slower tempo but we rush much more here than they do in Denmark. That is one thing I have tried to avoid, the too fast tempo that is typical of Americans."

"I am essentially a very relaxed person," she confessed, "and I want to stay that way."

"How?" I eagerly asked, as we chatted on the "Code Three" set at Hal Roach Studio.

"I do not permit appointments to be made too close together," she replied. "It's rushing that is so bad for you. Tomorrow is another day. Perhaps I don't get things done as fast but they are done well and I feel well."

"When you get overtired you can't enjoy anything. I never rush and I try being still some part of every day. Sometimes I just sit and look at the flowers, sunset or listen to music."

"The people in this country should educate themselves to relaxation. Tension is contagious. You have to build up a plan to resist it. When you get too wound up you can't let down or slow down. Haven't you known people who couldn't be still for one moment? They twist something or make nervous motions that have no meaning."

"But relaxation can be carried too far," Osa admitted. "I am inclined to put too many things off until tomorrow. My husband has helped me to overcome my tendency to procrastinate. I suppose human beings tend to be extremists. They are either not organized enough or are too efficient. But being aware of this is helpful in trying to correct it."

Joey Giardello Howls Following Vaughn Defeat

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Middleweight Joey Giardello's anguished howling at ringside after dropping a 10-round split decision to Willie Vaughn last night drew more attention than their dull bout.

Giardello did not go unseemly, or unheeded. A national television audience caught part of his act, after which two members of the Missouri Athletic Commission said a "no decision" would be declared today.

"Unfortunately, the judges were using the correct system of scoring and the referee was using the old system," Commissioner Charles W. Plan of St. Louis explained.

Their attention was called to the scoring mixup by copromoters John Antonello and Frankie Gatto, who also informed Giardello's corner.

The Philadelphia, reacting more quickly to this opening than he had to those presented by Vaughn, touched off a ruckus over the judges table and soon had the officials on the ropes.

Giardello's manager Frank Carter threatened on the spot to take the matter to court.

Involved was a newly adopted but not previously announced Missouri scoring system. Giardello and his seconds challenged Referee Ray Sissom's card, which scored 52 points for Vaughn, 48 Giardello.

A check disclosed Sissom had not followed the National Boxing Assn. "5-point-must" scoring system, adopted by Missouri and had, instead, scored five rounds of the fight under the old rule. It awarded up to 10 points per round.

Under the "5-point-must" system, no fighter in any round can be given more than a maximum of 5 points. The loser can be awarded four or less. An even round is scored 5-11.

5-WAY MEET SCHEDULED

A five-way track and field meet involving Oklahoma, Stanton, Roscoe, Roby and Rotan will be staged on the cinders of Memorial Stadium, starting at 2 o'clock here today.

Cashman finished fourth in the Ozona Relays last week, scoring 13 1/2 points. The meet was won by Sonora, which had 39 points.

All District 6-A teams will be entered in the meet but Merkel Roby is the favorite.

Johnson Says A's May Move

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Arnold Johnson, principal owner of the Kansas City Athletics, has warned the A's will move elsewhere or curtail their rebuilding program if Kansas City enacts a five per cent municipal admissions tax on professional athletic events.

City Councilman Charles C. Shafer Jr. introduced an ordinance for such a tax at a council meeting last Friday.

"This would prevent us from continuing our fast moving program to give Kansas City a winner," Johnson said at West Palm Beach, Fla., where the A's are in spring training.

"It would leave us with the alternative of curbing this program or moving the franchise," Johnson said. "Imposition of an admissions tax would violate commitments made to me and my associates by officials."

Councilman Shafer declared: "I regret Mr. Johnson's attitude. In my opinion he had never played fair with the city. He expects it to provide him with a multi-million-dollar stadium so that he may make a substantial profit at the city's expense."

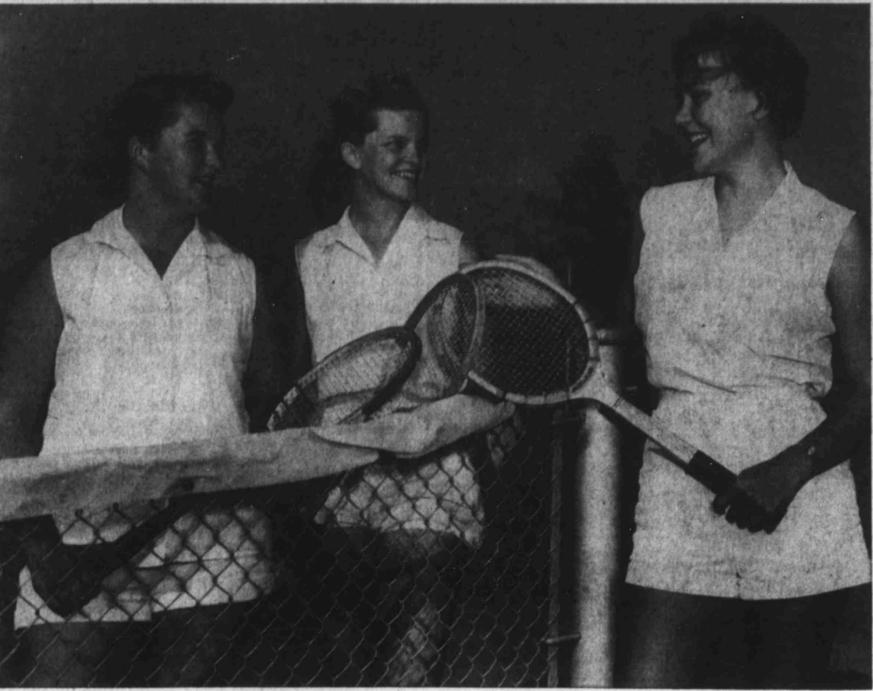

"The first two years, the city received $50,000 from Johnson while it spent over $450,000."

Robert J. Benson, chairman of the council's baseball committee, said:

"With Los Angeles and San Francisco making bids to become major league cities, I hope nothing is done to cause the Athletics to leave Kansas City."

Rice Trounces Gophers, 9-8

By The Associated Press
Defending Southwest Conference baseball champion Texas Christian tries to avenge its series with Sam Houston State Thursday while Rice goes after its second consecutive victory over NCAA champion Minnesota. Both are non-conference tilts.

Local Players In District

The three girls pictured above will represent Big Spring High School in the District 2-AAAA tennis tournament in San Angelo, which starts tomorrow and continues through Saturday. They are, left to right, Virginia Johnson, a junior who will play singles; Janice Downing and Glenda Wilson. Janice and Glenda, both of whom are sophomores, will compete as a doubles team. All will meet Abilene in first round competition.

Garden City, Forsan Are District Meet Favorites

The scrap for team honors in the District 123-B track and field meet, which will be staged here starting at 9:30 o'clock Friday, should wind up as a two-way fight between Forsan and Garden City.

Sterling City should finish a strong third in the meet while Knott, which will bring only five entries, may offer a threat only in the mile run.

In a three-way meet held recently in Garden City, Targe Lindsey's Bearcats beat out Forsan, scoring 58 points to 54 1/2 for the Buffs. Sterling City was third with 39 points.

Garden City won first places in both hurdles, the 800, 220 and pole vault. Forsan took down firsts in the discus, shot put, mile relay, 100 and 440. Red Brunton won the last two events and had a leg on the mile relay team.

Sterling had firsts in the broad jump, high jump, mile run and sprint relay. Garden City won't enter anyone in the 100. The Bearcats were shut out in the event in the triangular.

Coach Lindsey will concentrate on the other events.

Leon Calley in the weights and Brunton are Forsan's best bets to win first places. Jimmy McWhorter in the high jump, Stone in the broad jump and Bill Young in the mile should give Sterling good representation.

Bobby Fisher in the high hurdles, Lloyd Jones in the low hurdles and half mile, and Glenn Riley in the 220 and pole vault should win some valuable points for Garden City.

Milton Now should be a threat for Garden City, too, in the shot put. He was beaten only by inches by Calley in the triangular.

Finals in the Friday meet will get under way at 1 p.m. George McAlister and Harold Davis, both of Howard County Junior College, will direct the meet.

Garden City will enter the following boys in the senior division of the meet:

- 100 — None.
- 120 yard high hurdles — Ben Cox, Bobby Fisher, Harold Jones.
- 440-yard run — Ken Rogers, Jason Fairish.
- 800-yard low hurdles — Lloyd Jones, Ben Cox, Harold Jones.
- 440-yard relay — Rogers, Glenn Riley, Fisher, Fairish.
- 880-yard run — Lloyd Jones, Frank Murphy, Bill Childress.
- Mile run — Dennis Calverly, Jim Childress.
- 220-yard dash — Riley, Rogers, Fisher.
- Mile relay — Lloyd Jones, Murphy, Cox, Fairish.
- Shot put — Milton Mow, Rogers, Fairish.
- Pole vault — Riley, Fisher, Jim Childress.
- High jump — Fisher, Riley, Don Plegans.
- Discus — Lorin McDowell, Mow, Murphy.
- Broad jump — Rogers, Riley, Fairish.

Coach Lindsey will also enter a half dozen boys in the junior division of the meet.

They include Joe Carter, Bill Schraeder, John Burrillo, Gary Seidenberger, Gary McDaniels and Jack Asbill.

Junior Net Team To Visit Midland

Coach Billie Clyburn takes her Big Spring Junior High School girls' tennis team to Midland today for a series of matches with San Jacinto Junior High.

Those making the trip will be Betty Ellison and Layla Ann Glaser, No. 1 doubles combination; Shirley Killough and Joan Bratcher, both of whom will play singles; and Maxine Roberts and Edith Stuteville, another doubles team.

Match Washed Out

WACO (AP)—Rain and hail washed out a non-conference golf match yesterday between Baylor and Texas A&M. The Bears won the only two matches decided when the rains came.

Star Golfer Fails

WACO (AP)—Baylor has lost one of its top golfers because of scholastic ineligibility. He is John Steinkor of Houston, a sophomore, who did not have enough grade points.

Chicago Cubs Same Club

By JERRY LISKA
MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Even with new manager Bob Scheffing and a passel of players from their championship Los Angeles team, the Chicago Cubs still look pretty much like last year's eighth-place club, to wit:

Ernie Banks and eight other guys.

Here's how important the smooth, clutch-hitting Banks is to the Cubs:

He missed the first 10 games of the spring exhibition season because of a sore throwing shoulder. The Cubs struggled to a 3-10 record and one of those victories came on Bank's two-run pinch single.

Then Banks took over his short-stop job March 21 and the Cubs won four of their next five games with Ernie slapping 12 hits in his first 20 hits, including four homers, and driving across eight runs.

Scheffing, a stern-visaged, but pleasant mannered former Cub catcher, knows he has a big job and that, as yet, the tools to handle it haven't been provided.

To his credit, he didn't take over by announcing that nobody's job was safe. He just pitched right in and proved it by shifting players all over the place.

Scheffing watched his two advertised third-base candidates, Ray Jablonski, acquired from Cincinnati, and George Freese, one of his Los Angeles boys, perform for awhile. Then he moved veteran second baseman Gene Baker to third.

A more surprising move, outfielder Walt Moryn was shifted from right field to first base last week, making veteran Dee Fondy cool his heels. At Baker's second base spot, Casey Wise, another ex-Angel, has a chance to make the big league grade.

Maxwell On Hand At Wilmington

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Burlie Mike Souchak, the defending champion, and five of the eight former winners, led a field of more than 150 which opened play here today in the $12,500 Azalea open golf tournament.

Souchak, former Duke University football star, now of Grossingers, N.Y., and the other pros on the winter tour will shoot for the $1,700 first prize in the PGA tournament over the 6,825-yard Cape Fear Country Club course.

Included in the Azalea list are the 1955 winner, Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and these former winners: Henry Ransom, Bryan, Tex., (1949); Dutch Harrison, Brentwood, Mo. (1950); and Jerry Barber, Los Angeles (1953).

St. Louis Buds Move Into 2nd

FORT WORTH (AP)—A pair of new leaders swept into second and third places today in the open team standings of the American Bowling Congress tournament. Peter Hand Reserve Beer leads the open division.

The St. Louis Budweisers, national match game champions, fired a 3077 in their initial team appearance to move into second place. Peter Hand of Chicago leads the division with 3126.

Tigers Seek To End Losing Skein Here

The rugged, battle-wise Snyder Tigers invade Big Spring today for a 4 o'clock baseball exhibition with the Big Spring Steers.

The Tigers, although they have fared none too well in early season games, are a threat not only to end the skein of scoreless innings the Steers have forged but may send the locals down to defeat, as well.

The two teams were originally to have met in a double header here last Saturday. Bad weather caused the date to be moved to Monday but the cold and the wind hung on. Due to the late start, the two teams can play but one game today.

Chances are good Snyder will be able to return here later in the season for a game, since the Tigers have no competition within their own conference. The two teams clash in Snyder Saturday in a double bill, weather permitting. Snyder has a 3-4 won-lost record.

Billy Blum, who missed practice last week due to a bad cold and who didn't even suit out today. Chubby Moser, a sophomore lefty, could get the call if Blum isn't available.

Big Spring has now fashioned three shutouts in a row and haven't allowed the opposition a run in 21 innings. They've made the most sensational start in Big Spring baseball history. In the three games, the opposition has a combined total of only seven hits. Five of those came in the last game — against Andrews.

Big Spring has beaten Andrews twice by scores of 12-0 and 9-0 and Plainview once, 8-0.

The great start has enabled Roy Baird to take a long look at some of his second-line hurlers and what he saw made him feel good. Billy Roger and Danny Birdwell, neither of whom played last year, have been little short of sensational.

Snyder knocked off Abilene, the defending state champion, the first rattle out of the box but since that time has fallen upon evil days.

The Bengals have dropped their last four games.

Since last Dwayne Prince worked in Snyder's losing effort against Midland last Tuesday, Coach Speedy Moffett of Snyder is apt to lead with a left-hander today.

Either Tim Roberts or Ronnie Baker could get the call. Snyder's outbatter Midland, 8-4, but Midland won, 4-3, scoring all its runs in the first three innings.

Warren Spahn Hot Milwaukee Braves Torrid In Camp

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press
Manager Fred Haney has said all along that if his pitchers and hitters ever decide to get together the Milwaukee Braves will be mighty tough to beat for the National League pennant.

They missed by only a game last year after frittering away a solid lead in the closing weeks.

And at the start of this season's exhibition games it appeared as if they were up to their old tricks. But they suddenly caught fire and won six of their last eight games.

Yesterday they combined the ingredients that make a pennant contender as they beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 12-6. Warren Spahn allowed only six hits, one of them a homer by Bob Thurman, in seven innings.

The Milwaukee hitters backed up his southpaw slants with 14 hits, including two homers by Joe Adcock—one a grand-slammer—and another by Hank Aaron.

Smoky Burgess hit a grand slam homer for Cincinnati in the ninth off Gene Conley.

The Braves were not the only ones who got good pitching.

The Detroit Tigers got a three-hit job from Frank Lary and Jim Bunning as they mauled the Brooklyn Dodgers 18-1. Al Kaline hit two home runs and Charley Maxwell, Frank House and Reno Bertoia one each in the 20-hit assault on Sal Maglie, Ken Lehman and Clem Labine.

Johnny Kucks held the St. Louis Cardinals to four hits as he went the route for the Yankees. But the world champions dropped a 1-0 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals for their second setback by the same score in as many games.

A double by Del Ennis and a triple by Hobie Landrith in the second provided enough working margin for Herm Wehmeier and Larry Jackson.

With Bob Lemon hurling the first five innings rookie Stan Pitaule the next three and relief expert Don Mossi the final frame.

by Jess Blair

Wed 79 Years

Postman Kenneth Gregg delivers congratulatory cards and letters to Mr. and Mrs. William T. Cook who have been married 79 years. The Ceres, Calif., residents exchanged vows in Indiana March 28, 1878 and moved to California in 1905.

Most irrigation farmers figure they must make a bale per acre to break even. With dryland farmers it is a quarter of a bale. These facts were brought out recently when Roscoe Gillean, farm representative of the Texas Employment Commission, conducted a survey of Howard and Martin County farmers.

Total labor for raising and picking an acre of irrigated cotton with a bale and a half per acre yield amounted to 148 hours. With dryland cotton making a half bale per acre the total labor figure was 57 hours.

The breakdown on one dryland farm for each year of a two-year period was as follows: Stalk cutting, listing and early knifing, four hours; planting (twice) two hours; knifing the crop twice and cultivating three times added up to five more hours. Then he charged nine hours for hoeing and two hours for poisoning three times, to make a total of 22 hours. It then requires 35 hours to harvest the crop by pulling bolls two to three times.

In addition to using nearly three times as much labor, the irrigation farmer is out the heavy expense of pumping, extra poisoning and paying the interest on the investment.

The irrigation farmer usually makes a crop every year, but he must beat a bale per acre to make any money. The dryland farmer needs a quarter bale per acre to break even, and many years he doesn't make this.

One dryland farmer said he had put his entire place in the soil bank and planned to take a salaried job. He figured the soil bank was a surer bet than gambling on the weather.

The survey was made in order to determine the labor needs of the two counties.

A Big Spring grocer says he doesn't encourage local vegetable growers to bring their produce to him.

"I buy from regular sources that supply me throughout the year. A local farmer might bring a certain vegetable for three or four weeks then have no more for sale. We must depend on these big trucks, and can't afford to cut them off, even though local vegetables might be a little fresher and cheaper."

Two things a farmer wants to know when he moves to an irrigated area are how much water will the wells pump and what's the cotton allotment. Several places in West Texas have plenty of water but are not allowed to grow much cotton.

At Dell City there is a potential of 200,000 acres, yet the community is allotted only 14,000 acres for cotton. Farmers near Pyote, Cyanosa and other new areas face the same problem.

There is a new irrigation community between Garden City and Big Lake, but the cotton allotment amounts to only a few acres for every quarter section of land. Some of the St. Lawrence community spills across to Reagan County, and these farmers get less cotton than their neighbors to the north.

Fritz Henricks, St. Lawrence farmer, says a lot more land would go into cultivation down there if acreage restrictions were loosened a bit.

Feed prices have not increased in the last few weeks, says A. E. McCusker, Big Spring feed dealer. In fact, most formula feeds such as laying mash have come down three or four cents a sack. There hasn't been much change in grain prices. Alfalfa hay had been inching upward, but now is holding steady. The quality of the hay is rather poor, however.

A few good tractor hands are needed in Martin and Howard counties, according to the Texas Employment Commission. Prevailing wages are $6 a day plus a house and utilities.

There are few takers for these jobs, however. Most men prefer to stay in town and take their chances at getting construction jobs that pay $1 an hour.

There are very few ranch jobs any more, reports the TEC. Most ranchers have reduced their livestock to such a point that very little labor is needed in running a ranch.

Recently some of us were discussing the old-fashioned superstitions and health remedies that farm people used to believe in. When I was a kid, people thought that anyone over 60 years of age should put on carpet slippers and stay beside the fire. There were several of these old fellows in the community, and mostly they spent their time just sitting around waiting for Father Time to crook his finger and say, "Come with me."

One exception was Old Man Long, a tall, peppery old fellow past 70, who boasted that he had killed six Yankees in the Civil War. He never paid any attention to what anyone said, not even his daughter with whom he lived.

When he wanted to go anywhere, which was all the time, he set out bare-headed with a heavy, homemade walking cane, and started walking. It did no good to offer him a ride, for he wouldn't accept it.

We lived five miles from town and at least twice a week he'd come striding down the road, swinging the stick from side to side and watching out for dogs. The dogs never bothered him, though, for he'd wham one over the head with the stick, and the next time he came along the hound would high-tail it for the barn.

Everybody said the old man would surely catch pneumonia and die. Another thing, they said he didn't eat enough. He ate like a sparrow and wouldn't drink coffee or use tobacco. He would, however, take a shot of whisky if anyone offered it to him.

One day a cold snowstorm blew in and the old fellow didn't get home. Three hours later a searching party found him bedded down snugly under some loose hay in a farmer's barn. He was highly indignant at having his sleep disturbed.

We moved from Oklahoma to Texas, but went back occasionally on visits. Each time the old man was a little thinner and more weather-beaten, but he still walked like a boy late for supper, and his temper hadn't mellowed with age. Most of his cronies had taken sick, while sitting in front of the fire and died.

Finally, however, he walked his last trail. By this time he had stopped his long trips, but he could still make it to a little store two miles away. One day against the advice of the storekeeper he started out in a cold, misty rain and walked home. That night he caught cold, and the next morning it changed to pneumonia. The old warrior fought it for 10 days, then laid down his walking cane and let them bury him.

So what people had been predicting for over 20 years finally happened. Old Man Long had walked himself to death - at the age of 92.

Cadet Trapped In Boxcar, Lives 8 Days On Potatoes

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—The mystery of a missing West Point cadet ended yesterday when he stumbled out of a boxcar of potatoes in Jersey City, N. J. Jerome Lee Gibbons, 18, was accidentally sealed in the car eight days ago. He nibbled on potatoes to stave off hunger and thirst during his imprisonment. Military policemen brought the bewildered youth to the academy hospital here. Doctors said he was weak but mentally alert. He had lost 15 pounds and was dried out from lack of water. Academy authorities said Gibbons ran away on St. Patrick's

Good Selection Of Diplomats Pays Off For U. S. Overseas

By BEM PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Fred Sacksteder was vice consul of the United States at Lyon, France, in 1955. Until Sept. 1 of that year, life had been fairly routine — visas, import-export licenses, looking after lost or wayward Yanks. But on that day Sacksteder, now serving in Washington, had an opportunity to demonstrate the payoff of the State Department's careful selection of each Foreign Service officer, this government's eyes, ears, right arm and backbone overseas.

Lyon, a heavy industrial center, was subjected to a severe storm. Hailstones shattered nearly every skylight in town. Millions of dollars worth of machinery was exposed. Sacksteder said in an interview, "The consul was out of town when I got a call from the French asking if we could contact our military and obtain canvas tenting for covers. We started an airlift of tents and tarpaulins. Then we hauled it in by truck. In all we provided about 500,000 square feet of canvas. In Lyon it was a Page 1 story. The tone of those stories was that 'other countries may talk of what they do for us. The Americans act.'"

Often humdrum, the life of an FSO does have its dramatic—and dangerous—moments. Since the department was founded in 1789 some 75 FSOs have lost their lives, some in earthquakes, some in shipwrecks and some by bullets and bombs. On Nov. 1, 1948, the Bamboo Curtain descended before the American consulate at Mukden, China, headed by Angus Ward. The staff was imprisoned, threatened, accused of being spies and finally deported. Ward himself was beaten by a Chinese servant trying to curry favor with the Communists. Despite 28 days of intensive questioning, Red-style, none of the staff members cracked. In the State Department's command setup, which closely parallels that of the armed services, the FSO is under constant scrutiny. His personal folder is examined by experts yearly. If he is classed with the bottom 10 per cent in proficiency for three consecutive years, he is fired.

His beginning salary is between $4,300 and $5,350 a year, depending upon marital status and background. He can look forward to promotion about every two or three years and possibly the title of career minister at a salary of $17,500. If he becomes a career ambassador his salary will be $20,000. The job of an FSO is varied.

The consular and embassy staffs in Italy provided housing and cars for Americans evacuated from Egypt at the height of the Suez crisis, even supplying thanksgiving dinners out of their own pockets and often in their own homes. The Austrian and Hungarian staffs worked around the clock during Hungary's October revolt to rescue Americans and then to provide visas and transportation for thousands of refugees. Until 1964 the department was divided into two services — civil and foreign. The civil group functioned exclusively in this country on policy-making jobs. There was no provision for interchange of jobs. The net result was the practical exile of the FSO, while important jobs in the United States were held by men with little or no actual foreign experience. No other country had a system like it. In 1954 a committee headed by Henry M. Wriston, former president of Brown University, examined this setup and found that among 197 FSOs with more than 20 years experience, 67 per cent had not served more than three years in this country.

"Men immersed continuously in other societies," the report noted, "inevitably tend to lose touch with the circumstances and attitudes that shape policy at home." This observation cut two ways. Men here permanently could not fully understand foreign problems. Wriston's committee recommended a merger of the two services and a rotation system. This recommendation is being carried out under Deputy Undersecretary Loy Henderson. Ideally an FSO will come home for duty after every six years overseas. Last year 12,585 young Americans applied for FSO jobs and of these about 5,500 actually took the extraordinarily stiff written and oral examinations. Only 20 per cent of those making top grades were selected.

... ready for cooking

Favorite At Brookses Is Mexican Mulligan

A favorite recipe at the Louis N. Brooks home has come from one generation to the next. Probably when Mr. Brooks and his wife were married, she wasn't taking any chances on "it just doesn't taste like mother's cooking."

That's why Mrs. Brooks got this recipe from her mother-in-law; and learned real quick how to please her husband.

MEXICAN MULLIGAN

Ingredients:
1 package elbow macaroni
6 dried chili peppers (large size)
1 tablespoon salt
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
2 medium onions
6 crackers
1/2 cup milk

Method:
Cook peppers until tender; rub through sieve; add tomatoes and chopped onions; cook until onions are tender.

After cooking macaroni; alternate layers of macaroni, pepper sauce and grated cheese until all ingredients are used. Top with 1/2 cup cracker crumbs and 1/4 cup milk. Bake for 1 hour at 300 degrees.

For a perfect accompaniment to this spicy Mexican dish, Mrs. Brooks suggests a sweet Pineapple Pie

PINEAPPLE PIE

Ingredients:
6 egg yolks
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup butter or margarine
1 small can crushed pineapple

Method:
Beat egg yolks thoroughly; add milk and mix in sugar and flour. Add butter and pineapple. Pour into two unbaked pie shells. Cook at 300 degrees until done.
Mrs. Brooks said she preferred this pie without the crust on top; "Tastes better," she says.
"This cook for the week says cooking is her favorite hobby. Fishing and deer hunting rate a close second, though. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks take many trips to Llano for deer hunting and Mrs. Brooks has seven deer to her credit."

New Recipes To Use For Plentiful Potatoes

Any housewife will be certain of at least one thing when she visits her market place in the next few weeks. She'll find potatoes there, all she wants of them — reasonably priced and good quality.

It is interesting to note that potatoes were widely cultivated in South America at the time of the Spanish conquest, and the Spaniards introduced them in Europe in the sixteenth century. Historians relate that it took many years to induce the English people to eat potatoes, because they considered the potato an unwholesome food.

In fact, an organization was formed called the "Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diet." The nickname "spud" is said to have come from the initials of the society.

The interesting part about potatoes is the variety of ways to serve them. How about trying some new and different recipes like these:

CHEESE POTATOES

Ingredients:
1 cup corn flakes
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
4 medium potatoes, boiled

Method:
Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; combine with cheese, salt and paprika. Spread 2 tablespoons of butter in bottom of shallow 10 x 6-inch pan. Cut potatoes in slices, 1/2 inch thick. Place, cut side down, close together in pan. Brush with remaining butter and sprinkle with corn flakes mixture. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

SCALLOPED POTATO CIRCLES

Ingredients:
4 cups pared, thinly sliced potatoes
1 cup corn flakes
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Method:
Put potatoes into cold water to cover; let stand about 15 minutes. Drain and dry between towels. Cover bottom of 1-quart casserole or 8 x 6 x 2 1/2-inch oven-proof dish with aluminum foil. Grease surface of foil and sides of dish. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; sprinkle evenly over foil. Arrange slices of potato upright around sides of dish so that edges overlap. Sprinkle lightly with part of salt and pepper. Fill in center with remaining potato slices, sprinkling with remaining salt and pepper. Pour melted butter over all; cover tightly. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 1 hour or until potatoes are tender. Turn upside down on heated serving plate or platter, unmold and remove foil. Serve at once.

Yield: 6 servings.

POTATO FROSTED MEAT LOAF

Ingredients:
4 cups corn flakes
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
4 cups seasoned mashed potatoes

Method:
Crush corn flakes slightly; combine with remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Spread in greased 9 1/2 x 5 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Unmold loaf and place on greased baking sheet or ovenproof platter.

Frost loaf with mashed potatoes. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over mashed potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20 minutes longer. Yield: 8 servings.

POTATO BALLS

Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups corn flakes
2 cups mashed potatoes
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Few grains cayenne
1 tablespoon flour
1 egg, well-beaten

Method:
Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Combine potatoes, salt and cayenne pepper; mix well. Shape into 1 1/2 inch balls about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Roll potato balls in flour; dip in beaten egg, then roll in corn flakes crumbs. Place on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

Try Glazed Fruits For Pork Dinner

An accompaniment for pork that is good to eat and look at.

GLAZED ORANGE APPLES

Ingredients:
One-half cup sugar, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind (1 large orange), 1/2 cup strained orange juice (2 large oranges), salt, 3 large Delicious apples (about 1 1/4 pounds).

Method:
Stir sugar, orange rind, orange juice and a dash of salt together in a 10-inch skillet over low heat until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat. Wash and dry apples; cut into eighths; cut away cores; arrange in skillet. Heat until syrup boils gently; cover and continue boiling gently about 10 minutes. Remove cover. Simmer, basting often, until outside of apple slices look translucent. Turn slices and as those at bottom get cooked, exchange their places with apples on top. This will take about 20 minutes and there will be only a little syrup left. Arrange apples in orderly rows, with skin side showing, on serving plate and spoon syrup over them. Serve hot or warm. Makes 6 servings.

Note:
If desired, a little brandy flavoring may be added to the syrup left in pan after apples are glazed.

Fried Cauliflower

Dip cooked cauliflowerets in an egg, flour and water batter and fry until golden brown in deep hot fat. Serve as a first-course tidbit with tomato juice if you like.

Bananas Offer Many Talents For Nutritious Meal Planning

What a banana is the banana! Because it is so packed with fruit sugars, vitamins and minerals and has such satisfying bulk, life could actually be sustained for a considerable time if the cupboard were bare of all but bananas. This fruit is so easily digested that it forms a staple diet for convalescents, and hospitals give it (mashed and strained) to babies ready for a first adventure with solid food.

The banana is also a morale-boosting ally for fighters of the battle of the bulge. While its natural "fillingness" gives that "I've dined well today" feeling it is actually so low in fat that its nourishment and energy providing qualities are a calorie bargain.

Bananas, the tropical treat, have been a favorite since long before Alexander the Great and his cohorts found them growing in abundance some 327 years before Christ in the Valley of the Indus, and they have won honorable mentions in many ancient writings of the Orient.

For good taste and nutrient efficiency, the banana can go it alone better than most foods but there is nothing prima donna about its nature; it is completely cooperative. Its mild, sweet flavor teams with the tartness of strawberries and citrus fruit juices in gourmet desserts, and the banana bakes beautifully with honey or currant jelly or brown sugar to accompany pork, ham or fowl.

When bananas are to be relished raw — sliced over morning cereal, eaten out of hand, cut up in compotes or sliced in salads — choose them according to your personal taste. Some like them yellow with just a little green on the tip while many prefer them fully yellow and flecked with brown spots. When they are to be fried, roasted, broiled or baked, bananas may be a bit "left" of ripe, slightly green at the tip or even with considerable green area.

BANANAS IN FRUIT SAUCE

Ingredients:
3 medium bananas, peeled and sliced thinly
1/2 cup fresh strawberry puree
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
Fresh whole strawberries for garnish

Method:
Place sliced bananas in sherbet glasses. Combine strawberry puree, orange juice and sugar to taste. Pour over sliced bananas. Chill and serve. Garnish each

Biscuit Top For Pork Casserole

Served steaming hot, this diced pork casserole with fluffy biscuit topping is sure to please the family. Accompany it with a salad of orange sections and onion rings on greens.

PORK CASSEROLE WITH BISCUIT TOPPING

Ingredients:
1 1/2 pounds pork shoulder meat, cut in 1-inch cubes
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons drippings
1/2 cup water
1 small onion, chopped fine
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 teaspoon thyme
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 package frozen mixed vegetables

Method:
Place first 5 ingredients in the small bowl of an electric mixer. Beat with electric beater until stiff. Fold in whipped cream. Stand 3 lady fingers around the sides of deep sherbet glasses. Add banana whip. Garnish with grated nutmeg. Yield: 6 servings.

BISCUIT TOPPING

Ingredients:
2 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/4 cup lard
1 cup milk

Method:
Roll meat in flour and brown in hot fat. Add water, onion, celery, thyme, salt and pepper. Cover pan and cook 1 hour over low heat. Break frozen vegetables and add with the soup. Pour in a 2-quart casserole and top with biscuits.
To make biscuits: sift flour, baking powder, and salt together. Add marjoram. Cut in lard until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in milk and drop dough in mounds on top of meat mixture. Bake in 425 degree F. oven 20 minutes to brown biscuits. 6 servings.

Two Fruits Are Refreshing Dish

Tangy grapefruit is wonderfully refreshing with sweet pineapple.

PINEAPPLE-GRAPEFRUIT CUP

Ingredients:
One can (1 pound and 4 ounces) crushed sweetened pineapple, 2 medium-sized or large grapefruit.

Method:
Have pineapple and grapefruit chilled. Empty pineapple into a serving bowl, individual serving dishes or sherbet glasses. (A glass bowl or serving dishes are attractive for this dessert.) Cut rind away from grapefruit so no white membrane remains. With sharp paring knife, cut away grapefruit sections from dividing membranes. Squeeze juice from membranes into pineapple. Arrange grapefruit sections in circular fashion over pineapple. Cover and refrigerate if not served immediately. Makes 6 servings. Pink grapefruit looks pretty with the gold-colored pineapple.

Greeks Have Cure For Wallflowers

The Greeks had a dance for it — the problem of the unescorted ladies, the partnerless men, the youngsters and the oldsters too, who wanted to join the fun on the ballroom floor.

No partners were needed for the gay, graceful, free-wheeling folk dances they enjoyed following an informal dinner of the high lights of the 13th Biennial Congress of the Greek Orthodox Church of North and South America. Everybody in these dances gets to express his particular talent, turning, tripping and skipping. They can join the circling groups at any time, or leave when they get winded, or faint, without disrupting the happy pattern. No one ever needs to be a wallflower!

Different Taste

Team cooked snap beans with a cream sauce flavored with onion and grated lemon rind for a different-tasting vegetable.

Knights Of Columbus Day Designated

Gov. Price Daniel, second from left, officially designates Friday as Knights of Columbus Day in Texas in honor of the 38,000 members in the state. Left to right, pictured are Menton Murray, state representative from Harlingen; Daniel; Edwin Gunter, executive assistant; and James Houlihan, state deputy. The proclamation was issued through the special efforts of Murray and Houlihan.

DR. SPEAKE SAYS

No Conflicts In Science, Religion

The idea of a conflict between science and religion is old fashioned, Dr. George Speake declared in a talk to the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday at the Settles. Dr. Speake is here this week for presentation of the "Sermons from Science" series daily at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. A generation or so ago the "age of science" seemingly ushered in an age of materialism and skepticism, but today among the real big men of science there is a greater dependence upon Biblical truths, he said. He quoted Dr. Robert A. Milliken, noted physicist, as saying that anyone with a materialistic attitude to life is a fool. Science is simply the orderly cataloging of facts, according to Dr. Speake, and the only point of conflict between the Bible and science is where facts leave off and theory begins. Where scientists err, he said, is in failing to make clear that "based on facts that we now know, this is what we think." Constantly, new facts are being discovered to completely alter theories. "It is interesting that in every case I know about they invariably move in the direction of the Bible." This was no mystery, he added, because there are two infallible books—the Book of Nature and the Bible, and both have the same author. Just as he scored those who quote snatches from the Bible as proof of everything that comes along, he also hit at dogmatic, materialistic scientists. God endowed men with brains, and men ought to be able to reason by now that the selfish natures of men must be changed as the only lasting hope of solving any real world problems, he said.

Rancher Captures Snyder Escapee

THROCKMORTON — Sheriff Howard Martin said Johnny Jones, 17, of Snyder, an escapee from the county jail, was captured by a rancher 12 miles east of here last night. Martin said Jones was returned to jail. He said he escaped Tuesday night after prying open the bars on his second floor cell. He rode off into the nearby ranch country on a horse that had been left behind the jail by Deputy Sheriff Glenn McWhorter, Martin said. The youth was being held on car theft charges, he said.

K Of C Chapter To Note 'Birthday'

A corporate communion service and a special breakfast will be held Sunday morning at the Big Spring Knights of Columbus Council No. 1,482 observes the 75th anniversary of the organization.

Actually the anniversary of Knights of Columbus is Friday, March 29, but the local chapter will have its observance Sunday. The communion services will be at 7 a. m. at the St. Thomas Catholic Church, with the breakfast to follow at the Cactus Grill, according to James Reidy, grand knight.

In Texas, Gov. Price Daniel has proclaimed Friday as Knights of Columbus Day, in honor of 30,000 Knights of Columbus in the state. There are 182 councils in 138 communities in Texas.

In designating March 29 as Knights of Columbus Day, he paid tribute to the record of the organization on behalf of the country, church, and community. The Knights of Columbus came into being March 29, 1882 when a charter was issued by the Connecticut legislature. Since then it has grown to encompass some one million members in the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Panama, and the Philippines.

The Big Spring council is one of the oldest in the state, receiving its charter May 22, 1910. The first council was organized in Texas at El Paso in 1905.

In addition to Reidy, other officers of the local council are James Settles, deputy grand knight; Charles Willbanks, treasurer; Carol Belton, recorder; William Mueller, financial secretary; Tom O'Keefe and Bernard Hucton, trustees; and Rev. W. J. Moore, OMI, chaplain.

At present, there are 39 members attending meetings twice monthly here.

When the council was organized here in 1910, there were 35 charter members. They were Paul Konz,

Gets Money Back

PHILADELPHIA — Mrs. Alfred Davies said she got a $50 gift certificate, good at the John Wanamaker department store, in the mail. With it was a note from a person who took the money from her purse 25 years ago while she worked in the store's shoe department.

Beauty To Wed

HONOLULU — Joan Beckett, 19, Miss California of 1956, said today she will be married April 5 to Richard C. Baker, 25, Hawaiian Dredging Co. executive.

FFA, 4-H Club Boys, Girls Receive $14,600 From Sale

Checks in the sum of $14,613.45 are going to nearly 175 boys and girls of the 4-H Clubs and the FFA chapters of Howard county. The checks represent the money due them for the show animals which they sold at the auction sale which climaxed the annual Howard County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock show earlier this month. Jimmy Taylor, county agent,

Long Flight To Local Lake

On July 11, 1956, at Redberry Lake, seven miles southeast of Holford, Saskatchewan, Canada, Dr. C. S. Houston captured a double breasted cormorant.

Four months later and a couple of thousand miles away, this fellow and two of his feathery companions were taken at Lake J. B. Thomas. This line on the migratory habits of the cormorant, a long necked, web-footed bird with a gluttonous appetite, came to life this week. O. H. Ivie, production superintendent of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, heard from the band he had sent to the U. S. Department of Interior. In some areas, notably the Orient, the cormorant is trained as a fishing bird, a metal band being placed around its neck to prevent the bird from swallowing its catch.

"GOOD MORNING this is Daidra Hinton at the Big Spring Herald."

AND THUS Miss Hinton, a member of the Herald's women's department staff, begins another of the numerous calls to local women about their clubs, their missionary circle, their Parent-Teachers meeting, their lodge.

WHILE MANY organization reporters are kind enough to call the Herald office, getting the news can't be left on a drop-in basis. That's why Miss Hinton goes through a complete card index file to telephone about meetings which were held yesterday, or which may be coming up soon.

SHE ALSO does stories about newcomers to Big Spring; homey features about various women in the area news; about good cooks; rewrites and edits copy from correspondence in surrounding communities.

AND TOGETHER with her editor, she helps write headlines and displays the news and pictures in the most attractive manner on the page. Daidra Hinton is another of the Herald family devoted to serving as your eyes and ears for the whole story.

No Foreign Supervision
Over Canal

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser's chief political aide, Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, said today Egypt will allow no foreign supervision whatsoever over the Suez Canal.

In an interview with the newspaper Al Shaab (The People), Sabry said the canal would be open to large ships April 10 and that full details of Egypt's plan for operation of the waterway were expected to be announced around April 4.

Sabry said British and French ships will be allowed to go through the canal as long as they follow the regulations and procedures for all other ships. The key factor in this connection presumably will be whether they will pay tolls to Egypt. Before the British-French-Israeli invasion last fall most British and French ships paid their tolls to the old Suez Canal Co. in London or Paris.

Sabry declared Egypt had not recognized the canal user's association the West formed last summer "because it includes some of the users but leaves out the majority of countries whose ships or trade go through the canal." Apparently he referred to the Arab oil-producing nations, whose output makes up the bulk of the canal traffic.

Sabry added, however, that cooperation between the Egyptian owners of the canal and its clients "is dictated by actual conditions and should safeguard mutual interests."

Insisting there would be no foreign supervision of the canal, Sabry said maintenance and development of the canal "are among the responsibilities of the (Egyptian) canal authority." This seemed to indicate Egypt would maintain a veto over any recommendations from a U. N. technical assistance group which has been suggested to help maintain the canal.

Uncle Ray:
Birds Differ Widely
In Migration Customs

By RAMON COFFMAN

In past times people supposed that birds traveled at great heights several miles up during migrations. The coming of the airplane changed this belief. Reports of pilots indicate that few birds fly at altitudes above one mile. The majority go along less than half a mile above the ground.

Do birds migrate during the night?

A. Many birds choose the night for migration flights. This is true of sparrows, vireos and most of the warblers and finches. Now and then these birds migrate in daylight hours, but they prefer to fly at night.

Larger birds usually migrate in daylight. These include geese, cranes and pelicans. Bluebirds and blackbirds are among the smaller birds which prefer to migrate in the daytime.

Q. How far does the Arctic tern migrate?

A. Some Arctic terns are believed to cover 22 thousand miles in a year — migrating from the Arctic Circle down to the southern end of Argentina!

Q. How far do birds fly during a day of migration?

A. When they rest a good deal, birds may make an average distance of less than a hundred miles a day. In serious flying, however, even a small bird may cover more than 300 miles a day. Large birds (like geese) often travel at a common daily rate of 500 miles, with perhaps 10 hours of flying a day and 14 hours of rest.

The golden plover has won fame for its flights across water. With a body only a bit larger than that of a robin, it travels from Alaska to the Hawaiian Islands. So far as observers have been able to tell, this requires a non-stop journey of more than two thousand miles! If the golden plover went down to rest on the water, it would become helpless. It is without the power of swimming in the ocean, or rising from the surface.

Two "mysteries of migration" will be discussed next time.

Bribe Panel In Recess To Talk Early End To Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — The House Bribery Investigation Committee was in recess today while members apparently talked over an early ending to the sensational probe.

A permanent investigating commission, such as suggested by Gov. Price Daniel, might be the committee's recommendation.

A hearing for two witnesses that had been set for today was cancelled and the next meeting set for Tuesday at 2 p.m.

"Well, we're beginning to look down that way," said Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas when asked if the committee had about completed its investigation. "However, there will be some more witnesses."

"We've got to have time to talk this over around a cup of coffee," said Rep. John Lee of Kermit. Lee and Sanders, along with Chairman Wade Spilman of McAllen, have done much of the questioning in recent meetings. A member of the committee who asked not to be quoted by name said there was some "difference of opinion" among committee members over reporting now on the investigation into legislative activities of Texas naturopaths or expanding into other alleged lobbying activities.

The committee gave a preliminary report last week specifically on investigation of charges that former Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe agreed to take a $5,000 bribe. On the committee's recommendation the House officially censured Cox for "unbecoming" and "justifiable" conduct in allegedly agreeing to take a legislative payoff and withdraw anti-naturopath legislation. The committee reported that the House could do no more—that Cox, since he resigned, was beyond expulsion or impeachment. Cox is under indictment here but no trial date has been set.

Many Health
Tests Not Good Enough

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A high percentage of certain laboratory tests on your health are wrong or not good enough, a doctor declared today.

The test results partly and sometimes vitally influence the treatment your doctor then gives said Dr. Lewis Smith, a pathologist from Dallas, Tex.

The main reason for poor tests is very low pay usually given medical technologists — the doctor's helpers who run the vital laboratory tests. Dr. Smith told the American Academy of General Practice.

He said too many are paid less than secretaries or typists. The result is too few good technologists and insufficient training.

Dr. Smith said a national survey finds 14 per cent of medical technologists make less than $46 a week; 35 per cent get $58 to $70; 25 per cent get $70 to $80; and only 8.5 per cent get more than $80.

Good standards demand a medical technologist have at least two years of college and at least one year of training in a special medical technology school, the doctor said.

Dr. Smith reported a three-state survey some years ago showed 42 to 62 per cent of tests for specific blood measurements were "not satisfactory — outside the bounds of acceptable accuracy."

These included tests for anemia, for blood sugar, blood salts, for nitrogen in uremia or blood poisoning, and for blood plasma proteins.

Laboratory tests partly determine whether a doctor decides to give a blood transfusion—which can be costly and not without hazards—or start other treatment.

Dr. Smith declared erroneous or not-too-accurate laboratory reports "can be responsible for a major number of prolongations of illnesses and some deaths."
