Tornado Strikes TB Hospital, Injures 75

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A tornado struck the Mississippi State Sanatorium for Tuberculars early today, injuring 50 to 75 patients. Two other tornadoes ripped other parts of the state during the night, killing one person and injuring at least seven others. The funnel cloud which hit the tuberculosis institution at Sanatorium in south Mississippi near Jackson at about 1 a.m. concentrated its fury on the Negro infirmary housing about 200 patients.

It never heard a cry or whimper. "We had to evacuate the top floor because of rain that had blown in and did damage to the walls and ceiling. Some of the patients had to be moved to the lower floors." Dr. Boswell, who was treating injured patients from about 2 a.m. until about 8:30 a.m., said the twister "practically deroofed" the service building for the white hospital and damaged several employees' cottages. Asked for an estimate of the loss, he said, "I should think the whole thing amounts to a quarter million dollars." The Sylverena tornado hit about 1:45 a.m. Sylverena is in south Mississippi about 30 miles northwest of Laurel.

The third tornado hit the Marathron and Linden plantations near Glen Allen, near Greenville. Deputy Sheriff L. V. Vandevender said the twister there blew away about 15 homes and slightly injured four persons.

Labor Data Headed Into Public's View

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—For a decade, most labor unions have been required to file annual financial reports with the government. In all that time only about 200 citizens have ever seen them. Reports from some 40,000 national and local unions are promptly locked away in Labor Department vaults on receipt. Congress seems to have planned things that way in writing the Taft-Hartley law in 1947. Many legislators now feel that was a mistake which Congress should correct quickly.

Recent disclosures by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee of alleged misuses of large sums of union money have brought renewed interest in the problem. Numerous legislators have recommended that (1) the Labor Department records of union financial data should be opened to everyone, and (2) Congress should enact a new law requiring similar data to be filed with the government and made public regarding multibillion-dollar welfare funds. But 10 years ago in enacting the Taft-Hartley Act Congress thought differently. It included no provision for filing welfare fund data at all. It required unions using services of the National Labor Relations Board to file the annual union treasury statements, but made no provision for making them public.

The late Republican leader, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, said "Such reports are not open to the public any more than corporation reports are open to the public." Taft said that in addition to "proper government officials," union members should be permitted to see their own union's reports, and the Labor Department has allowed that. But in 10 years only 200 union members have availed themselves of the privilege. Secretary of Labor Mitchell was inclined some time ago to Taft's notion that the union data was primarily the business of a union and its members. More recently, he has said he would like to see the data under his custody made public. He further wants power to investigate for fraudulent filing of data. For several years now both Mitchell and President Eisenhower have been urging Congress to require disclosure of welfare fund data.

Bus-Truck Wreck Injures Two Men

SNYDER — Two Snyder men were injured and the Snyder-Big Spring Coaches bus line was put temporarily out of business about 4 p. m. Wednesday when the firm's only bus was demolished in a collision with a truck. Badly injured was Albert Earl Miller, 60, of Snyder, driver of the bus. Less seriously hurt was his only passenger, Alfred A. Crumlee, 73, also of Snyder. The collision occurred on State Highway 350 in the northwest corner of Mitchell County, about eight miles southwest of Ira. The bus was making its daily run from Big Spring to Snyder. Highway Patrolmen said an empty semi-trailer truck driven by Vernon W. Smith of Tulsa, Okla., collided with the rear of the bus as both vehicles moved toward Snyder. The bus came to a halt about 150 yards from the site of the crash, overturning and stopping upright. Smith, driver for Grever Trucking Company of Tulsa, was not injured, but the truck was badly damaged. Miller was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where he still was receiving examination this morning. He suffered a broken nose and possibly a broken back. Crumlee, taken to the Battenfield - Jones Clinic, received head injuries and bruises.

Rain, Snow In Forecast

If everything happens that the weather bureau asserts could happen, April 4, 1957, promises to be quite a day in Big Spring! Scattered showers, the weather bureau asserts, are on tap and "possibly snow flurries" this afternoon and tonight. It will be colder tonight, the weatherman observes, and Friday will dawn partly cloudy and cooler. Generally cloudy skies, with fleeting intervals when the sun peered briefly through—occasional brief little showers which no more than dampened the air and a brisk cool breeze marked Thursday morning in Big Spring. Officially there was no measurable moisture. Some dust, another sprinkle and cloudy skies spurred hopes of rain late Wednesday but the combination failed to pan out. High temperature for Wednesday was 74 and the low for the night was 49.

Tornado Over Dallas

This picture of the tornado funnel that hit the Oak Cliff section of Dallas was taken by Cliff Pope of American Airlines from their offices on the 36th floor of the tallest building in Dallas. The funnel moved in a circle around the city and heaped damage to property in many sections of the city. There were 10 people killed by the tornado.

Ike Refuses To Rescind His Censor Order On Secret Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has refused to withdraw an order by President Eisenhower fixing secrecy standards for government information. Gerald D. Morgan, special counsel to the President, said in letters to two editors, made public today, that the 1953 directive gives "the minimum protection necessary to the defense interests of the nation." Morgan was replying to a resolution adopted by the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. which urged rescinding of the order on the ground it is being invoked increasingly to withhold information to which the association contends, the public is entitled. The Eisenhower order authorizes certain officials to classify information as top secret, or confidential, depending on the degree to which they find its disclosure would hurt national security. Another security classification, "restricted," was eliminated by the 1953 order.

APME President Frank Eyerly, managing editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, voiced disappointment that Morgan made no mention of an association proposal that the President at least take steps to prevent misuses of his order. Eyerly said in a letter to Morgan that the administration apparently "is unwilling to issue a clarifying directive." The APME head added that the editors therefore will make the matter a continuing topic of discussion, editorialization and public debate. In addition, Managing Editor V. M. Newton Jr. of the Tampa Tribune wrote Morgan that he doubts if Eisenhower has been told "all the facts in this very grave matter concerning the vital interests of the American people."

Newton, who was APME president when the resolution was adopted last November, said Eisenhower undoubtedly intended his order to give "some relief from the blanket censorship order" issued by President Truman. But instead, Newton said, officials are using the Eisenhower order to bring about an opposite result. "Withholding of public information results in public exposure eventually," Newton said. "It should be much preferable for any administration frankly to acknowledge that unfavorable publicity is inescapable occasionally rather than to compound the final result by attempting to hide the truth under artificially justified censorship." Morgan declined comment on the views of the two editors, who released their correspondence with him after the White House said it had no objection to their doing so. In his own letter to Newton, Morgan said the Eisenhower order reduced the number of officials with authority to withhold information and also cut down on the categories of restricted information. Morgan went on to say Eisenhower believes his order "represents the minimum protection necessary to the defense interests of the nation," and that if the order were rescinded "defense information would have no protection whatever." Then, in a separate letter to Eyerly, Morgan said the administration "seeks diligently to insure that the public is informed of the operations of government to the maximum degree consistent with national security."

Nothing Sinister In Drugs, Adams Witness Claims

LONDON (AP)—A medical expert testifying for Dr. John Bodkin Adams told a jury today he could not detect anything "sinister" in the drug injections given the 81-year-old woman Adams is accused of murdering. Dr. John Bishop Harman, specialist at London's St. Thomas's Hospital, said he had himself administered morphine and heroin to a single patient and declared, "I don't regard it as dangerous to combine the two." The prosecution's star narcotics expert, Dr. Arthur Douthwaite, condemned the mixture of drugs used by the 58-year-old Adams, who is charged with killing Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell.

Eden Leaves For Checkup In U. S.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden, looking frail and tired, left by plane today for the United States and a checkup in a Boston clinic. The former British Prime Minister apparently is suffering a recurrence of his old bile duct ailment. But he told reporters at the airport he and his wife plan to return to New Zealand after their trip to America.

House Sends Bill To Gov. Daniel

AUSTIN (AP)—The House passed without a vote today a bill to allow reporters to attend precinct, county and state political conventions. Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth, sponsor of the measure, said it would allow wire service, newspaper, radio and television reporters to attend all political conventions. Some reporters were kept out of precinct conventions last year. The bill now goes to the governor.

The House passed 134-0 a bill (SB 372) to create rural fire prevention districts. The measure now goes to the governor for signature. Another bill (SB 32) calling for standardization in the grading of eggs passed 119-9 but must go back to the Senate because of amendments. In turning back money-spending amendments to its appropriations bill, the Senate did approve one no-cost change. It was pushed by Sen. Jarrard Secrest of Temple. His amendment removed a requirement that the State Building Commission director must be a registered professional engineer or an architect. He said such a provision would remove the present director, Ralph Wolf, former Waco mayor. The House removed a similar rider from its bill. Amendments turned down would have added more than four million dollars to the bill for expansion of research and extension work done in cooperation with the federal government. Senate amendments defeated included: A proposal to give an additional $2,030,000 for the Texas A&M Experiment Station and its substations. Tabled 17-15. An amendment to strike out a section requiring the State Livestock Sanitary Commission to put up a dollar for each dollar received in state funds. Tabled by voice vote. An amendment adding $1,270,000 for salary raises to state judges, defeated 27-2. Separate bills calling for the same raises are pending in House and Senate committees.

With the warm April sun shining, the start of afternoon sessions, together with the polishing-up of the appropriations bill for passage, legislators were beginning to feel the end of the session closing in. Once the big measure is passed, legislators start plugging for an end to the 120-day session. May 7 is the last of the 120-day scheduled session. Besides the 2 million dollar difference between the House—the more expensive—and Senate bills, each has various amounts to be spent during the next two years on certain items. Although neither House nor Senate bill calls for new taxes, other appropriations bills pending in the House—including teachers' salary raises—could create a need for additional money. But sentiment has been voiced against any new levy. The House bill passed March 15 had total expenditures of $2,086,228,818—about for million dollars of which was added during 14 hours of floor debate. The Senate took less than three hours to approve its bill which totaled $2,084,349,515. The senators stood by the recommendations of their Finance Committee, turning back all attempts to add additional appropriations. State employees' pay raises and money for agriculture research and extension work were the major differences in the two bills. The Senate bill calls for pay raises of 10 per cent of the first $2,400 salary for each state employee, while the House bill gave raises to state employees on a job classification basis. In other action, a proposed constitutional amendment (SR 4) to allow the state to use its funds for advertising Texas' advantages to tourists and industry was approved by the House. However, it was amended and must go back to the Senate for approval. Some 58 bills on a local and uncontested calendar will be taken up this afternoon by the House. It's another indication of the session's end nearing as the representatives work to clear their calendar. The House also said it would work Friday on bills. Efforts yesterday to bring up the "almost universal" fishing license bill for floor action failed in the House. A point of order by Rep. Bill Heatley of Paducah that it was an appropriations bill was sustained by the speaker. Under House rules, no appropriation bill can be taken up until the major spending bill has been approved. The House passed 134-0 a bill (SB 372) to create rural fire prevention districts. The measure now goes to the governor for signature. Another bill (SB 32) calling for standardization in the grading of eggs passed 119-9 but must go back to the Senate because of amendments. Yarborough Impatient On Certification

AUSTIN (AP)—U.S. Sen-elect Ralph Yarborough has hinted he may not want to wait until April 19 for certification as winner in Tuesday's special election. Sec. of State Zolie Stealey yesterday announced an attorney general's opinion placing that as the date. Yarborough said he is studying the opinion. He commented that there are two laws on the subject, indicating he may question the April 19 date set under one law, and ask certification in law on 10 days under the other. He also said that as the "most junior" junior U.S. senator, he is going to be too busy for awhile to give any thought to the question of whether or not he will seek reelection to the full term 15 months from now. His victory, however, was regarded as almost certain setting the stage for a new test of strength between Texas' long-feuding conservative and liberal Democrats. If Yarborough—a staunch party loyalty man for many years—runs for re-election he would be expected to draw heavily again on the liberal-loyalist-labor support that helped him to capture the top-man-wins election. Congressman-at-large Martin Dies, a conservative, was elected out Yarborough in the second Democratic primary for the governorship last summer. Daniel, a conservative, has insisted he was elected by middle-of-the-road Texas Democrats. The party has been split since 1944 into warring factions of liberals and conservatives. Yarborough has stood with the liberal-loyalist group and has been regarded as a strong New Deal Democrat.

Ducklings Heading For A Great Fall

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (AP)—Hyde Park's keeper of the birds reported nervously today he has a pair of crazy, mixed-up ducks on his hands. The ducks, a mallard drake and hen, are nesting with six eggs 40 feet up a tree. "Why is this crazy? It is crazy because, as all duck-lovers and most ducks know, baby ducks waddle out of the nest and go swimming before they learn to fly. That is why normal mallards nest on the ground. The six Hyde Park babies will waddle straight into 40 feet of space. Birdkeeper Alexander Thompson is playing it as calmly as he can. "After all," he told a reporter, "the eggs haven't hatched yet. The immediate problem is the people who look up and see a duck nesting in a tree. They run to a telephone in a state of shock, and call me up and insist on my doing something about it. "Nothing can be done about it, of course. If we were to move the nest to the ground, where it belongs, the ducks would abandon the eggs." Casting aside as impractical the suggestion that the ducklings be equipped with parachutes, Thompson said hopefully: "People forget that ducklings are very light and well-covered with down. They may not fall as fast as people think. Also there is plenty of soft grass under the tree, and I have every hope that the casualty rate will be low."

States Cast About For Means To Cut 40,000 Traffic Deaths

By GLENN WOLF
Associated Press Staff Writer
The nation's highways yielded 40,000 traffic fatalities in 1956 and this April finds state legislatures studying proposed legislation in at least six fields to try to reduce the number.

An Associated Press survey showed nearly two thirds of the state governments casting about for new laws to help solve the accident problem. Action to date ranges from the recommendation stage to newly signed statutes. Legislation includes bills or requests to enlarge state police and law enforcement agencies set down absolute speed limits, tighten driver licensing procedures, dole out stiffer penalties for drunken driver, institute state sponsored and financed driver education programs, install state motor vehicle testing procedures, and make liability insurance compulsory. The survey showed 29 states considering legislation to put more state police on the highways. The Washington State Legislature was considering a six-million-dollar annual budget for its state patrol. With it, Acting Chief Roy Carlson proposed to add 159 commissioned officers to the patrol's present staff of 284. In Illinois, fourth highest in the nation with 2,135 highway deaths last year, Gov. William G. Stratton asked for a doubling of the state police force of 600. "Our automobiles are safer, our roads are better," he said. "Unfortunately our driving has not improved at the same pace." Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California — where a record traffic death toll of 3,805, the worst in the nation, was counted in 1956 — asked for and got an additional 110 highway patrolmen on an urgency basis during January. The lawmakers were considering a budget which would add 270 more. In other states with the bloodiest pavements, the picture was similar. Texas was considering measures to add 200 more state police and increase their salaries. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York requested a 12 per cent step-up in strength of the state's 1,200-man field force. And in Michigan, Gov. G. Mennen Williams asked 95 additional patrolmen to bring their strength to 1,250. As a further effort to slow down the race on sprawling expressways and even on two-lane strips, at least 14 legislatures mulled over plans to put sharper teeth in their speed laws. States considering measures to write more enforceable speed laws into the books include California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine and New Mexico. Improved highways brought new minimum speed laws in some states. Connecticut was considering one, and in Maryland, for example, anyone driving slower than is reasonable under prevailing conditions may now be arrested and charged with impeding traffic. Seventeen states were digging deeper for solutions, perhaps at the root of the problem — the driver himself. Bills already in the legislative hoppers indicated new drivers would have increasing difficulty in obtaining license and would have to exercise greater care to keep them. Some states were raising the minimum age for drivers, some were adding manpower to their driver testing bureaus, some were debating measures to require periodic re-examination of all drivers, and still others were tightening their licensing procedures by requiring more rigid mental and physical tests for new drivers and for the aged. A comparatively new program aimed at sidetracking the habitual offender is the point system under which a driver is given a certain number of points for each violation and conviction. When, for example, he accumulates 12 points, his license may be suspended or revoked. States using this system or considering it include Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island and Wisconsin. Closely allied with driver licensing is the general area of driver education. Numerous states reported effective state-sponsored programs already in operation. Another area of considerable legislative activity was found in efforts to give quicker and stiffer penalties to the drunk driver. Half a dozen states were writing laws to require periodic inspection of all motor vehicles. A newly installed system in New York provides that if a vehicle fails the test, the owner has 10 days to get it repaired for reinspection. The vehicle registration is revoked on any other "unrepairable." State safety officials report ample evidence that the inspection law is ridding the highways of unsafe cars. Another newly enacted New York statute provides for compulsory auto liability insurance.

Storms Harass Eastern U. S.

By The Associated Press
Stormy early spring weather, which struck devastating blows in the Southern Plains and sections of the Rockies, continued to harass broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today. A storm centered in the middle Mississippi Valley spread violent weather from snow in the plains states, sleet and freezing rain in Illinois and Indiana, severe thunderstorms in Kentucky and Tennessee and rain as far west as the lower Great Lakes region and the Appalachians. Tornado winds, with heavy thunderstorms, whipped sections of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Kentucky during the night. A "small" tornado struck Nashville, Tenn., injuring four persons and damaging more than a score of buildings. Another small twister hit south of Bowling Green, Ky. Tornado winds lashed wide areas of rural western Kentucky. Several small buildings were reported destroyed in rural areas near Glen Allen, Miss. but no injuries were reported. Snow continued in the hard hit northern and central plains states with falls ranging up to more than a foot at Philip, S. D., since yesterday noon.

Cutback Threat Is Voiced By Postal Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department appeared ready today to go through with sharp cutbacks in postal services unless it gets the 47 million dollars it says it needs for the next three months. The cutbacks would go into effect Saturday. A House Appropriations subcommittee recommended yesterday that the department be given 17 million. There were indications that even this might have rocky going in the full Appropriations Committee. Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of the full committee, accused the Post Office Department of an 11th-hour attempt "to sandbag us with threats." The department's stand was backed by spokesmen for organizations of mailmen and postmasters, who protested that denial of the 47 million would be "disastrous" to the mail service and to postal employees. The Appropriations subcommittee acted yesterday after Postmaster General Summerfield reportedly told it he needed the extra funds to operate through June 30 because of heavier-than-expected expenses. Summerfield was quoted as saying that unless he was given assurances that his department would get the 47 million, he would have to order immediate drastic service reductions, including a halt in city and rural mail deliveries on Saturdays, and closing of post offices on Saturdays, discontinuance of money order sales and reduction of mail deliveries in city business districts to one a day. Republicans on the nine-man subcommittee tried to get the full 47 million, but they were outvoted by the Democratic majority, which settled on the 17-million-dollar figure. The committee Democrats contended that smaller amount was all that could be attributed to expenses the department could not have foreseen last year. William C. Doherty, president of the National Assn of Letter Carriers, said the 17 million would only take care of automatic increases in salaries of postal workers. He described the situation as "disastrous and catastrophic."

Boys Remanded To Their Parents

Two juvenile offenders, one charged with forgery, and the other involved in prowling cars, were before R. H. Weaver, county juvenile judge, Wednesday. The court remanded the boys to their parents. He said that one of the youths is to leave Big Spring soon to make his home with relatives in Oklahoma. Shorty Long, juvenile officer, said that the boy charged with forgery is a former inmate of the Gatesville reformatory and is at liberty on probation from that institution. The other youth, Long stated, confessed that he and a companion had rifled a large number of motor cars in the past few weeks. Included in their loot was $32 in cash taken from one automobile.

French War Hero Slays General, Wife

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A small but compact and much-decorated French war hero last night shot and killed a retired general and his wife in their luxurious home. Detective Lt. Ralph H. Lee said two counts of murder would be filed against Maurice M. Chavigny, 44, of Paris, in the deaths of Brig. Gen. Wilbur R. McReynolds, 64, and his wife Faye, 61. McReynolds, who developed the C and K rations used by armed forces during World War II, was shot five times and his wife twice in the living room of their home in an exclusive residential area. Lee said the shooting followed an argument with Chavigny, who had been a guest since Thanksgiving Day. Police arrested Chavigny in the McReynolds' car after a three-mile chase. Two shots hit the car. Chavigny orally admitted the shooting, Lee said, and he gave this account: Chavigny, here on a tourist's visa, wanted to leave and planned to buy a bicycle and a gun, ride off and kill himself. He bought the gun and bicycle after an argument yesterday, returned to the McReynolds home, put on his United Nations uniform and told Mrs. McReynolds he was leaving. She argued with him and he shot her. McReynolds came after him and he killed the retired general, got into the car and drove away. Chavigny told police the argument arose over his plans to leave the McReynolds home. McReynolds, who was an artist and majored in education at Ohio State University, joined the Army in 1917 and served in France during World War I with the 10th Division. He was a machine-gun specialist for 17 years before transferring to the Quartermaster Corps in 1934. He became director of training for the Quartermaster Corps in 1940. Chavigny, 5 feet 4 and 135 to 140 pounds, was orphaned in World War I and saw military service in many parts of Europe before and during World War II. He received many decorations, including the French Croix de Guerre. While serving with French forces in Korea, he was seriously wounded in 1952. Evacuated and discharged in France, he volunteered to return to Korea. En route to the Far East he met Mrs. McReynolds, the former Faye Bowers of Columbus.

Ohio, who was on her way to join her husband at Saigon. McReynolds retired in 1950 and came here to live. They invited Chavigny to visit them and he acted as chauffeur for the family and had a key to the car, police said.

Oil Rig Goes Down

High seas and winds have defeated "Mr. Gus," 3 1/2 million dollar mobile offshore drilling rig which had been tilted dangerously since Sunday. The giant twin-deck rig slipped to the floor of the Gulf of Mexico. "Mr. Gus" had been on location three miles offshore and about 35 miles south of Corpus Christi.

There are now about 10,000 caged hens in Howard County, a figure that has remained rather steady the last two years. The extra production has just about offset the drop in price, he said, "so the profit is almost the same."

Cecil Leatherwood, who farms land southwest of Big Spring and also works his home place north of town says this year's prospects are not so bright after all. He has just a little moisture on the home place, but there is practically none at all on the rented land.

Senator Aiken, a Vermont Republican, says city residents are growing resentful over the large subsidies being given to farmers. He thinks the powerful farm bloc is on the verge of being toppled by the growing city population.

There is some evidence to prove this. For instance, the soil bank program has handed out some whopping big checks, and to farmers already quite prosperous.

The government paid out an average of $39,199 to 11 farmers. The biggest check went to Garvey Farms, Colby, Kansas, which was written for over $61,000. In Texas what some of them picked up wasn't just pocket change.

Durwood Harper of Alvin, Texas, cashed a soil bank check for $30,727.22. Second largest benefactor was the W. T. Waggoner Trust Estate of Vernon, Texas, which drew over $25,000.

Some critics say the program is like all the others. It benefits the big man but does out only a few dollars to the small farmers struggling to stay in business.

Ginning totals for Howard and adjacent counties for the last two years are as follows:

	1955	1956
Howard	28,679	6,352
Martin	38,023	28,705
Dawson	85,147	82,057
Mitchell	21,704	11,699

No figures were given for Glasscock County. Lubbock County led the state with 225,387 bales; Hale County second with 199,814, and Hockley County was third with 174,387. Of the first 10 counties in Texas, eight were located in West Texas.

The last few years have burned some pastures to a crisp, says P. Y. Yates, who farms just east of Lenorah. He said his pasture not only didn't have any grass but blew worse than the fields during the last sandstorm. He doesn't have any moisture in either the pasture or the fields.

In commenting on not having any grass, Yates said it had somehow supported a good crop of rabbits.

"I don't know where they come from or what they live on, but during the last two years we've killed a pick-up load of rabbits from this pasture."

Dawson County is not likely to ever become a chicken-raising county, says M. C. Lee, Lamesa feed dealer. Outside a few commercial flocks and some broiler houses near O'Donnell, the Dawson County farmers just don't raise many chickens.

"I think it will forge to the front as a swine producing area, though," Lee said. "Several farmers are now raising hogs, and there is a lot of interest in the new pig parlor type of operation."

The irrigation wells on the C. H. Hyden place near Gay Hill are small, but they water a lot of acres in a year's time. Hyden keeps them pumping almost the year around.

Last fall he watered his blue panic grass from Sept. 20 to the middle of December, then turned to watering the beds on the cotton land. He has put down three more wells since last fall, two on his

Pre-Easter Services Set For Next Week

Dr. Thomas H. Talbot, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Longview, will begin a series of pre-Easter services at the First Presbyterian Church here Sunday at 11:00 a.m.

Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday through Friday. A breakfast service for men will be held Monday through Friday from 7 to 7:50 a.m.

Dr. Talbot is a native of Dallas, graduating from Sunset High School and attending SMU his freshman year. He received his AB degree from Austin College in 1933. His seminary work was done at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary where he received his bachelor of divinity degree in 1936. In 1952, Austin College honored Rev. Talbot with the doctor of divinity degree in recognition of his outstanding work with young people and the men of the church.

Dr. Talbot's first pastorate was at Luling, from which he was called to the East Dallas Presbyterian Church. In May, 1942, he was called to active duty as chaplain at Camp Hood. Shortly thereafter he was promoted to captain and made post chaplain of Camp Hood.

In 1943 he received his commission as major and in 1945 he was ordered overseas and became chief of the staff and commanding general of all armed forces of the Mid-Pacific area as assistant theater chaplain.

While overseas he received two distinguished unit citations for service. At the time of his discharge in 1946 he carried the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Dr. Talbot was called to First Presbyterian Church of Longview in 1946 and has led the church in growth from 343 to 870 members. He is rated as one of the outstanding pulpits men in the Synod of Texas.

Excess Jurors Are Excused

Judge Charlie Sullivan has excused the civil jury panel which has been serving the 118th District Court this past week.

He explained to the panel that two cases out of five would be all the court could handle in the week and that with juries for these cases already selected, there was no need for other members of the panel to report on Thursday or Friday.

Judge Sullivan said that he had reset the three other civil cases which were announced ready when court opened on Monday to be tried during the week of April 29. A jury panel will be back in court at that time, he said, to deal with such matters as may be at hand.

On April 15, the court will begin a week's trial of criminal cases. Jurors for service in this week will be summoned shortly, it was announced.

Haiti Candidates Lack Accord On Interim Ruler

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haiti's nine presidential candidates today could not agree whether any or all of them would govern the Negro Caribbean republic until national elections April 28 tap one of them.

The army, meanwhile, held firm control after the ouster of Franck Sylva, third provisional president in four months. Brig. Gen. L. M. Cantave, chief of staff, proclaimed the army's neutrality in the political squabble and left it up to the candidates to agree on a fourth provisional government.

Searchers Comb Explosion Rubble

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Searchers combed through the rubble remnants of hundreds of shanties today after an explosion in a fireworks warehouse hit by lightning.

Five persons were known dead and more than 400 injured. Police expected to find more bodies in the devastated three-mile-wide area of a shantytown at Duque de Caxias, factory town 15 miles south of Rio.

Cosmetic Cotton Balls Offered In Color Now

Pom-pom, a new-type cosmetic cotton balls in assorted colors, have been introduced by a surgical dressings firm.

They are scientifically treated color-fast and designed primarily for cosmetic use; they also have a number of other household and nursery purposes.

The colored cosmetic balls were developed in cooperation with several leading cosmetic houses and the company's research laboratory.

They absorb at a controlled rate, so that creams and lotions are easier to apply and remove, and there is less waste of expensive cosmetics. They also have more body and will not collapse.

They come packed in a convenient, transparent bag, which fits easily into a cosmetic drawer or will stand by itself on a bathroom shelf or dressing table.

Use very sharp shears and fine, sharp dressmaker pins for cutting and fitting.

On very sheer fabrics, such as chiffon, a French seam gives the most desirable finish when you are sewing with a straight stitching machine. A plain seam with edges finished with fine zigzag stitching is effective if you are stitching with a swing-needle machine.

Remember to stitch more slowly when stitching on very sheer fabrics. It is not necessary to back chignon with tissue paper if you are sewing correctly.

Hyperion Clubs Continue Work On Projects; Programs Varied

One of the projects of the 1955 Hyperion Club is nearer completion after the meeting Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Loyd Branon. The group voted to pay $150 toward the purchase of a projector for the Westside Recreation Center.

Money is also to be furnished by the club for buying a supply of underwear for distribution through the Style Shop at the State Hospital. Members of The Woman's Forum serve as "clerks" in the shop, which supplies clothing for selection by patients at the institution.

Mrs. W. A. Hunt was leader for a panel discussion on the subject, "The Story of United States Foreign Policy." Participating were Mrs. James Little, Mrs. J. R. Hatch, Mrs. Sam Blackburn and Joe Pickle.

Mrs. Hunt summed up the policy as being based on morals, religion and the economic situation.

Tips Given For Sewing Sheer Fabric

With the time to make summer clothes here, experts point out that sewing sheer fabrics is no problem, if the proper attachments and correct sewing techniques are used. There are three rules-of-thumb to keep in mind — first, the selection of your machine presser foot, and third, the tension of your sewing machine.

Generally speaking, the machine stitch is shorter, the machine pressure a bit lighter, and the tensions are slightly looser. Your machine should be set for a short stitch, and a fine needle should be used.

Always make stitch adjustments on the lengthwise grain of the fabric. If stitching is perfect on this grain, it will also be perfect on bias and cross grain.

Mercerized sewing thread performs well on all synthetic sheers, but nylon or dacron thread may be used also. If you are stitching on a silk chiffon, a fine silk thread is the best choice.

Remember to stitch more slowly when stitching on very sheer fabrics. It is not necessary to back chignon with tissue paper if you are sewing correctly.

The next meeting, slated for April 17, will be a Texas Day observance. Members have planned a musical tea to be given at Howard County Junior College. All federated club women will be invited to the affair, which will begin at 3 p. m.

Nineteen were at the meeting. 1953 HYPERION A film dealing with cancer was shown to the 1953 Hyperion Club Wednesday afternoon, when members met in the home of Mrs. Kimball Guthrie. Mrs. C. L. Cook was cohostess.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling showed the film, and Dr. Carl Marcum served as narrator. He held a question and answer period after a discussion of the subject, and pamphlets were distributed to the group.

The study of Texas transportation and communication completed the afternoon's program; Mrs. Harry Middleton discussed transportation, and Mrs. George McAlister, communication.

During the business meeting, members were asked to bring good used clothing for the Style Shop at the State Hospital.

A report from the recent local federation meeting, informed the group that October is the month members will work at the hospital to assist with the therapy given there.

Refreshments were served to 17 from a table laid with an aqua cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and white gladioli.

1946 HYPERION CLUB The annual Friendship Day tea was held Wednesday afternoon by the 1946 Hyperion Club in the home of Mrs. Carl Marcum. Co-hostesses were Mrs. J. H. Fish, Mrs. Fred Lurting, and Mrs. Bennett Brooke.

Mrs. R. L. Morris, guest speaker, told the group of the women in Japan and how she had worked with them while she was in Japan on a cultural exchange basis.

An arrangement of spring flowers centered the refreshment table from which 30 were served.

There never has been any pretense on our part to be an art critic. That is to say whether the work was good, bad or just so-so but after seeing the Chimp Betsy's finger painting and being told $1500 has been realized from the sale of these works of 'animal artistry' I believe almost any of us might qualify. Fully realizing the attraction is the fact that a monkey did it, it still seems like a foolish way to spend that good old cash. Maybe some of us 'human monkeys' might try it — on the other hand, from some of this modern and surrealist output that has been causing so much excitement in art circles, maybe Betsy is just capitalizing on what she observes daily from her cage.

Don't know where the men at the fire stations learned how to cook but they surely do a good job of it. Can't help wondering if they help at home in the culinary department. One of the best salads I've ever had is one RILEY KNIGHTSTEP of the Main Fire Station whips up. Among the ingredients he uses along with the finely grated cabbage is cocoanut. Whatever else he adds to it makes a most delicious dish.

That is to say whether the work was good, bad or just so-so but after seeing the Chimp Betsy's finger painting and being told $1500 has been realized from the sale of these works of 'animal artistry' I believe almost any of us might qualify. Fully realizing the attraction is the fact that a monkey did it, it still seems like a foolish way to spend that good old cash. Maybe some of us 'human monkeys' might try it — on the other hand, from some of this modern and surrealist output that has been causing so much excitement in art circles, maybe Betsy is just capitalizing on what she observes daily from her cage.

Don't know where the men at the fire stations learned how to cook but they surely do a good job of it. Can't help wondering if they help at home in the culinary department. One of the best salads I've ever had is one RILEY KNIGHTSTEP of the Main Fire Station whips up. Among the ingredients he uses along with the finely grated cabbage is cocoanut. Whatever else he adds to it makes a most delicious dish.

Dixie Fans Get A Preview Of National Loop Fight

Bums, Braves In 2-2 Tie

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It's an improbable itinerary, but what likely will be the best two-team fight for the National League pennant currently is holding one-day stands in Jacksonville, San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Wichita and Kansas City.

That's the route termed "the Pneumonia Circuit" by Brooklyn Dodger President Walter O'Malley — to be followed by the champion Braves and the "we'll-do-it-this-time" Milwaukee Braves as they wind their way home to start the real thing.

They looked for real in Jacksonville yesterday, wrestling through 10 innings to a 2-2 tie and leaving it that way to enable the Braves to hop a commercial airliner for San Antonio. The Dodgers use their private plane for such things.

Don Newcombe, pitching for the Dodgers, was tagged for seven hits in his six frames — one a second-inning, and first-of-the-season, home run by Bobby Thomson, and another a fourth-inning home run by Johnny Logan, who was 4-for-4. Clem Labine finished on the mound.

Newk squared it at 1-1 with a home run in the third and the Dodgers then made it 2-1 in their fourth on a Duke Snider single, a walk and Gino Cimoli's single. Young Ray Crone went nine and then gave way to Corky Valentine's hitless 10th.

In other games, the Detroit Tigers scored three in the 10th to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 8-5; a two-run home by rookie Jim Landis brought the Chicago White Sox an 8-4 decision over the New York Yankees; and the Washington Senators used Cincinnati's prime weapon, the home run, to beat the Redlegs 4-3.

Philadelphia clipped Boston's Red Sox 3-1 on a three-run double by winning pitcher Harvey Haddix. Cleveland pushed across nine runs in the seventh to whack the New York Giants 13-6. Pittsburgh finally scored against Kansas City, beating the A's 2-0. And the Chicago Cubs ruined Mike Fornieles' full-route show by beating Baltimore 6-2.

Southpaw Jim Davis' knuckleball gave catcher Hobie Landrith all sorts of trouble, permitting the Tigers to score the tying run in the ninth on a passed ball. Zane

The White Sox junked Tom Sturdivant's string of 21 scoreless innings in the first frame, then wrapped up the Yankees with four in the third, capped by Landis' two-run blast.

The Phils got to Frank Sullivan in the second with a pair of singles and a walk filling the bases for Haddix's drive to right-center.

Hawks, Clarendon Tangle Friday

HCJC's baseball team heads for Clarendon early Friday where at 1:30 p. m. they open West Zone competition with the Clarendon JC Bulldogs.

The teams play two games, with the first game down for seven innings and the second one five.

Don Isham will probably hurl for the locals in the opener. Either Mike Powell or Don Isham gets the call in the afterpiece.

The Hawks play Odessa in an after-conference game here Monday afternoon.

Huntsville School A Baseball Center

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Sam Houston State College has made itself into a baseball center by providing facilities the ball clubs like.

A manager can observe four diamonds from one spot. There are automatic pitching machines. There are two completely enclosed batting cages for players to practice hitting straightaway.

The farm clubs of the Kansas City Athletics are using the camp this year. From 1952 through 1956 the Pittsburgh Pirate organization held spring training here.

This year there are more than 200 ball players training at the camp; which is located 10 miles east of Huntsville.

Kansas City sent one Class AA club, one Class A, one Class B, two Class C and three Class D clubs to train at Country Campus. The camp opened March 1 and all clubs will complete work by the middle of April.

Six Hawks Entered In Texas Relays

Coach Red Lewis and six members of the Howard County Junior College track and field team leave today for Austin, where they will compete in the annual Texas Relays.

The six Jayhawks entered in the annual cinder carnival are Freddy Stuart, Bobby Fuller, Tommy Black, Fred Digby, Charles Dobbs and Millward Motley.

Julian Lopez, another member of the team, will be held out of competition due to a leg injury. The Hawks finished second in the Big Dam Relays at Cisco last week.

Charting Relays Strategy

IN AUSTIN SHOW

Big Turnout Poses Major Threat To Relays Marks

AUSTIN (AP)—A dazzling array of track and field stars from across the nation pose a major threat to the record books of the Texas Relays when they unlimber tomorrow.

The list of high jumpers and pole vaulters assembled is particularly impressive. Some 1,258 athletes have thus far indicated they will enter the meet set for Memorial Stadium here on the University of Texas campus. This number is only six less than last year's record-smashing total and officials say the lists are still open.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Jumbo Jim Zapp, who'll direct the Webb AFB Dusters from the dugout this season, would like to return to professional baseball but only if the right offer came along.

Zapp enjoyed his best year in pro circles as a rookie for Paris, Ill., of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley circuit in 1952, at which time he clubbed home 136 runs while assembling a .330 batting average.

Only one other performer in the league drove in more than 100 runs that season and he happened to be Clinton McCord of Paris, who had talked Zapp into going north from Tennessee in the first place.

McCord, who played for Columbus, Ohio, last season, emerged as the league's batting champion with a .392 average. He hammered 27 fewer runs across the plate than Zapp, however.

Thanks to a big assist made by Coach Harold Bentley, an unofficial list of Big Spring High School track and field records has been assembled.

They may have to be amended later, since the times and distances of the athletes active here in the '20's and '30's are not all available. However, it appears none of the old-timers could approach the moderns.

Practically all of the marks have been established since Bentley became head coach here several years back.

Training methods have improved. The tracks are better. The coaching is, no doubt, more expert. The boys are concentrating more on their particular endeavor than ever before. Those are a few of the reasons why the times and distances are improving.

Here is a list of the school records, as best they can be confirmed by old newspaper files:

100-Yard Dash—Johnny Jank, 1957 WT Relays, Odessa, 9.8
200-Yard Dash—Johnny Jank, 1957 ABC Relays, B.S., 21.2

Cy Reid Predicts House To Beat Fishing Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—An official of the Texas Sportsmen's Club predicted the "almost universal" fishing license bill in the House was "doomed."

Referring to the House's action yesterday, executive secretary Cecil Reid said:

"Successful efforts by opponents of House Bill 87 to prevent its consideration on the House floor apparently means the measure is doomed for further consideration this legislative session."

The bill would increase fishing license fees from $1.65 to $2.15 and require everyone who fished with artificial lures or outside his home county to have a license.

Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah stopped any action on the bill when he called for a point of order that the bill was an appropriations measure. The speaker upheld Healy's objection and the bill was withdrawn from debate.

Under House rules, no appropriation bill can be taken up until the major two-year spending measure has been passed. Reid called the House's action "unfortunate and tragic."

Dr. Deats Enters Fort Worth Meet

Dr. C. W. Deats of Big Spring has gone to Fort Worth where he will match shots with trapshooters from eight states in the Southwest Zone of the Amateur Trapshooters Association.

A prize list of $3,000 awaits the winners in the meet.

Top marksmen in the Fort Worth meet will also receive bids to the Grand National Trapshoot in Vandalia, Ohio, in August. Dr. Deats is a veteran of the Vandalia meet.

Between 100 and 150 entries are due to take part in the Fort Worth meet. Shooters are due there from Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, and Louisiana, as well as Texas.

Attwell Sets Pace In UT Links Win

AUSTIN (AP)—Team captain Kirby Attwell shot a one-under-par 70 yesterday to lead Texas to a 5-1 golf victory over Kansas.

Attwell defeated Kansas' Bill Toalson, 3 and 1. He also teamed with Don Pohl to beat Toalson and Jim Davies, 1-up in the doubles.

Davies beat Pohl, 5 and 3, but Texas swept the other two singles and a doubles match.

Kansas Nips Rice

HOUSTON (AP)—Ron Wiley tossed a three-hitter yesterday while Kansas bunched six hits in the first four innings to take a 4-1 inter-sectional baseball victory over the Rice Owls.

Shantz Looks To Advantage For Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—When the Yankees made their big 10-man deal with Kansas City six weeks ago, everybody called Art Ditmar the key player in the swap. Now it begins to appear that little Bobby Shantz may be the surprise package.

Ever since 1952 when Bobby wound the New York club around his finger and won the title of "fifth infielder" with his ball-snaring ability, Casey Stengel has drooled at the mention of Shantz. "That little fella," as Casey calls him, has won only 13 games while losing 26 in the four years since that glorious season when he was the Most Valuable Player in the American League and top winner among the pitchers, with a 24-7 season.

That was the year of the rain-spattered All-Star Game in Philadelphia at Connie Mack Stadium, Shantz's home park, where he pitched only one inning and struck out Whitey Lockman, Jackie Robinson and Stan Musial.

Shantz's career ran into a discouraging series of broken bones and arm and back miseries after that. In 1954 he pitched only eight innings all season. The next year he got into 23 games and last appears in 45 for Kansas City, where he moved with the franchise after the '54 season.

Presumably Shantz, now 31, was headed for a career in the Yankee bullpen when he reported for spring training. He may wind up there too, for Casey is well-stocked with starting pitchers. If that is what Stengel really wants, Shantz will be glad to oblige but he still thinks he can be a starter.

In the first 15 innings he worked in the exhibition games, he allowed only three runs.

Record Turnout At Lake Thomas

Last Sunday was the big day for Lake J. B. Thomas this season, and this in the face of some rather brisk winds. Concessionaires and patrolmen thought that this was the largest number of people to ever come to the lake in a single day.

J. L. Vining and family of Seminole had considerable luck with their fishing.

H. R. Phillips of Lamesa, C. H. Blair, O. M. Wright and Dee Waltrip caught the best string of crappie exhibited Sunday.

Bernie Jernigan and wife of Big Spring caught a large string last Saturday.

Warmer weather is bringing out more boosters and a few intrepid souls who are beginning to water ski.

Some of the types of fish have shown a restlessness which indicates that spawning season is just ahead for them.

Mayo Smith Sings Praises Of Phillie Mound Corps

By JOE REICHLER
CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Ask Manager Mayo Smith about his Philadelphia Phillies and he starts spouting about his pitching staff.

It's obvious he has little else to brag about. If it weren't for the pitching, the team would be a candidate for the cellar. Even with it the Phils face a stern fight to retain their fifth-place rating of 1956.

The club's biggest need last winter was a shortstop — and it still is. It is almost certain now that John Kennedy, who has done all his professional playing with the Kansas City Monarchs, will be the first Negro member of the Phillies. Although not yet on the roster, Kennedy is a cinch to be brought to Philadelphia and may even open the season at shortstop.

The guess is that Kennedy, 26, will not long be the No. 1 shortstop if at all. The brass is skeptical concerning his ability. He is being brought up, however, because his excellent work during the spring training grind, when he paced the entire club at bat with a .500 average up to last week.

The Phillies have other weaknesses, to be sure. They are short on power, they don't have an established right fielder, they must rely in the main on a rookie at first base and speed is not among their few virtues. It probably is the only club in history that may be forced to two-plate four positions — first base, second base, shortstop and right field.

"Our pitching will have to hold us up," conceded Smith. "We don't figure to get many runs. At least, we haven't been scoring too many runs this spring. Our power is going to have to come from Rip Repulski, Willie Jones and Stan Lopata. We could use a good long ball left-handed hitter."

SPRINT-WATE TROPICALS in the right blend of Dacron and Wool tailored by gramercy park

There's one proven blend of Dacron and wool... and that's 55% Dacron, and 45% Wool. This is the fabric that has performed best in wearability, style-ability and cool-ability season after season. That's why Gramercy Park chose it for their flattering tropicals... and lavished their celebrated Silver-Shears Tailoring on it. The wonder of this wonder suit is that the price is only $45

Coahoma Tracksters Are Favored In 125-B Meet

SNEYDER (SC)—District 125-B track and field teams gather here today for their annual meet. Coahoma and Roby are due to stage a close scrap for first place.

The Coahoma team easily won team honors in a five-way meet at Big Spring last week. However, Merkel was not represented at the time and could take some points away from Dub Behrens' Bulldogs.

Junior high competition begins at 10 a.m. The high school division gets under way at 1 p.m. All winning times and distances registered here will go into the record book, since the meet is being held for the first time.

In last week's meet at Big Spring, Coahoma showed to advantage in winning both hurdle events, the sprint relay and the broad jump.

The Bulldogs also tied Roby for the blue ribbon in the mile relay. Coahoma scored a total of 61 1/2 points to 45 1/2 for Roby, which had been expected to win.

Roscoe was third with 20 1/2 points, followed by Stanton, with 17 1/2 and Rotan, with seven.

Rickey Phinney, hurdler; Bobby Myrick, punter; Don White, sprinter; and Billy Spears, pole vaulter, are due to lead the Bulldogs into action. White was high point man in last week's meet.

Jimmy and Jerry Hale are Roby's best bets. Both excel in the quarter-mile.

Robert McLeod, an all-around athlete for Merkel, may win the high jump and give Myrick a scrap in the high hurdles.

Spears faces competition in the pole vault from Rodney DeNeon of Stanton, second leading individual scorer in the meet at Big Spring last week. DeNeon is also a threat in the high jump and the high hurdles.

Part Of Big Catch

F. C. Tibbs and P. K. Pitzer of Big Spring exhibit a portion of the 60 pounds of catfish and crappie they caught at Lake Buchanan from last Saturday until Tuesday. The fishermen took the cat on a trotline and the crappie with rod and reel.

WARD A THREAT

Masters Tourney Under Way Today

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—At the world's greatest golfers hit off today in the 21st Masters Tournament.

Poised Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco is an extra-strong threat to become the first amateur ever to win the championship.

A vote for Ward, national amateur champion the past two years, was registered by Byron Nelson, a two-time victor playing in the event for the 20th time.

"Harvie is hitting the ball marvelously, the best ever for him, I think," said Nelson, who could be excused for a slight prejudice in the case of the young man he helped develop. "I don't say I'd like Ward against the field but I'd be inclined to match him with any other player in the tournament."

Nelson indicated that this included such favorites as Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan, with whom he's had practice rounds this week.

"Middlecoff isn't striking the ball as well as he usually does," the Gray catfinner from Roanoke, Tex., said. "He is keeping his feet too close together and swinging more flat-footed than I've ever seen him."

"Hogan? Well, Ben is playing well. But he isn't playing well for Hogan."

Ward teamed with Nelson in a practice tour yesterday and shot his second straight 69, three under par, over the 6,980-yard AKUGU National Course.

The general masters situation is this: Most people are picking Middlecoff but saying, "Watch out for Hogan."

Ballinger Ready To Go In League

BALLINGER (AP)—The Ballinger club has been assured for the Southwestern League this season.

A ticket sale was sufficiently successful that Ballinger's place in the league for 1957 became a certainty.

Tony York, owner and general manager, is already getting his players together. He will have five back from last year, these including catcher Ken Jones, who hit .340, and pitchers Ed McKay, who won 18 games, and Gene Lippold, who won 17.

Plant Dedication Commemorated

William Rousseau, vice president of Badger Manufacturing Company which designed the revolutionary processes embodied in Cosden's new styrene plant, commemorated the dedication of this facility Wednesday by presenting a "diorama" of the plant to R. Tollett, Cosden president. This unit is turning out styrene at the rate of nearly 21 million pounds a year by a means many experts said couldn't be done. (Story on Page 1-B)

4 Men Tell Of Oklahoma Theft After Failing In Sale Of Loot

Four men being held in the Howard County Jail have admitted, according to Jack Shaffer, chief deputy, that they burglarized a filling station short distance out of Miami, Okla., last Tuesday night. Shaffer said the four have waived extradition and that Oklahoma officers have advised the county that they will send for the quartet in the near future. The men were arrested by Ben Walker, state highway patrol officer, on West Highway 30 Wednesday afternoon. Shaffer said that the four approached A. F. Hill, Big Spring resident and tried to sell him a quantity of cigarettes and costume jewelry. He declined to buy and, his suspicions aroused, notified a passing policeman. A broadcast of the men's description and of the car they were driving reached Walker who was on patrol on West Highway 30. He stopped the car and apprehended the men. In the car was a quantity of cigarettes with Oklahoma tax imprints on each package, cigarette lighters, costume jewelry, and miscellaneous other merchandise.

Three Accidents Occur Wednesday

Three accidents occurred here Wednesday and two were on Fourth street. At 4th and Benton, Naomi Taylor, Dallas, and Harold Due, Dallas, were involved in an accident. Mrs. Taylor was in a 1954 Oldsmobile, while Due was driving a Continental bus. Edna S. Thompson, 1105 Sycamore, and Lloyd Odum of Stanton were drivers of cars colliding at Fourth and Main later this morning. Elda Bryant, 109 E. 13th, and Roy Davis of Lamesa were involved in an accident at Sixth and Seury.

FOR TECHNICIANS

Webb Establishes On-The-Job School

Two on-the-job training courses have been established by the Maintenance and Supply Group at Webb AFB to help fill the need for qualified technicians. Training is offered in aircraft mechanics and administration. The school is supervised by sergeants skilled in the two fields. It was apparent some time ago, Webb officials said, that strict reliance on Air Force technical schools would result in a constant shortage of manpower. Only a few supervisors were available to serve as instructors. Many other difficulties were encountered before instructional material could be assembled and an adequate course of instruction outlined. With the help of other bases activities, the material was obtained, including a jet cutaway engine and several mockups of the T-33. These and other visual aids are used during classroom instruction. Prospective instructors were re-

More Cases Docketed For Trial In April

Judge Charlie Sullivan, 118th District court, anticipates a busy month. He has announced a criminal jury docket opening on April 15 which will probably move steadily through the week and on through the week of April 22. On April 29, he has ordered a jury docket for civil cases and four cases are docketed for trial. However, Sullivan said, there is some uncertainty whether all four of these cases will be ready. If this is the situation and if the criminal cases which Gullford Jones, district attorney, has for trial are not all out of the way, Judge Sullivan said that whatever portion of the last week in the month is available will be employed trying criminal charges. Today, the court is winding up the compensation suit brought by Pedro Esquivel against the Texas Employees Insurance Corporation. Two witnesses remained to be heard when court opened Thursday. The judge estimated that the case would be given to the jury sometime after lunch. The trial opened Wednesday morning. Esquivel, who speaks no English, alleges he was injured on Dec. 16, 1955, when he fell from a load of baled cotton. He was employed by the West Texas Compress Company.

Couple Named In Complaint

Earl Israel and Frances Israel, identified as his wife, where charged with forgery in a felony complaint filed in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace. The two defendants are now in jail in Carlsbad, N. M., where they are held on similar charges. They are alleged to have cashed an undetermined number of bogus payroll checks written on stolen check forms from the Conner Construction Company of Odessa. The two are wanted in Odessa for burglary. When they will be available for prosecution in Texas was not known at the office of the sheriff. A hold order has been placed with Carlsbad authorities on the pair by Howard and Ector Counties. A second charge, naming G. R. Anderson as defendant, and alleging removal of mortgaged property, was also filed in Grice's court this morning.

Youth May Go Back To School

A boy 15 years old who has already served time at the Gatesville reformatory, will probably soon be back at that school. A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, said today. The youth has been held in the juvenile ward of the county jail for some days. He has now admitted to Long that he forged half a dozen checks and this morning he confessed that he broke into a safe on West Third recently, taking $6 from the money drawer. Long said the youth was at liberty on probation from Gatesville. The juvenile officer reported he had discussed the case with R. H. Weaver, juvenile judge, and that the judge intends to revoke the probation and send the youth back to the reformatory.

Knott To Elect Two Trustees

KNOTT (SC)—Two vacancies will be filled by voters Saturday in the school trustee election for the Knott Independent School District. Terms of Henry Sample, president, and Morris Barnes are expiring. At Knott it has been the custom for balloting to be done on a write-in basis with a sort of understanding that anyone who receives the required plurality will serve. Cecil Allred is the election judge and he will be assisted by Mrs. Allred and John McGregor. The Knott board of trustees will meet this evening and will consider the election of teachers and contracts for other staff members. Supt. Bill Bolin and other administrators were re-elected at the last meeting of the board.

Midland Youths Arrested Here

Big Spring policemen gave Midland an assist this morning by arresting four Latin American youths wanted in connection with burglaries there. The local officers arrested the four only minutes after Midland broadcast a "wanted" report for them. Later, Midland detectives arrived and took the four back to Midland for questioning.

Scout Leaders To Meet At Courthouse

The regular monthly "10-1 meeting" of the Lone Star Boy Scout District will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the courthouse. The opening session will be in the district courtroom, said M. R. Koger, district chairman. There will be roundtables for each phase of the program, plus a meeting of the district officers. Program quarters will be distributed in the sessions for Cubbers, Scouters and Explorer advisers.

Convict Refuses Parole To Stay And Aid Other Inmates

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—A young convict has refused parole from the state prison because he says he feels it is his mission to help 34 other convicts to a fair chance at a decent life. John Corpiet, sentenced for forgery, could have returned to a good job in his home town of Las Cruces two months ago. But he turned down freedom to remain behind bars and continue teaching radio and television electronics to a group of inmates. "These men wouldn't be here if they had ever had a chance to get an education and make a decent living," Corpiet said, waving a hand at his class. "If they can learn this electronics trade and get a class-8 license from the

Shallow Wildcat Location Is Staked In Southwest Sterling

An Odessa operator has staked a shallow wildcat in Sterling County, presumably for Clear Fork exploration. The venture is G. C. Bingham of Odessa No. 1 Bailey. Location is about 25 miles southwest of Sterling City, and contracted depth is 3,400 feet. Fleming, Fleming, and Kimbell reported completion of four wells in Howard County. Three of them are in the Snyder pool and the other in the Iatan East Howard field. Shell No. 1-A Miller, a wildcat eight miles east of Gail, projected to 7,514 feet in lime and shale. Drillsite is 646 feet from south and 1,972 feet from east lines, 275-97, I1&T&C Survey. Standard No. 16-6-B Griffin pumped eight barrels of oil and 22 barrels of water in 24 hours, and pumping operations continued today. It is in the Hobo (Canyon) field, 1,620 from north and 1,120 from east lines, 39-25, H&M Survey. Sineclair No. 1 Susie Koonsman, an Ellenburger prospect, made hole at 6,401 feet in shale and lime today. It is C NW SE, 27-2, T&N Survey, 12 miles northeast of Gail. Tidewater No. 1-B Clayton-Johnson drilled today at 4,624 feet after taking a drillstem test for two hours from 4,105-432 feet. Good blows decreased during the test, and recovery was 810 feet of salt water-cut mud and 2,902 feet of salty sulphur water. Flowing pressure was 240-1,600, and 30 - minute shut-in pressure gauged 1,810 pounds. The test was in the San Andres. The wildcat is 660 from south and 2,019 from east lines, 9-32-4n, T&P Survey. Continental No. 1-25 Good, in the Arthur pool, was at a plug-back depth of 7,665 feet today and preparing to fracture in the Spradley. Location is 1,980 from south and 597 from east lines, 25-33-4n, T&P Survey. Continental No. 1-39 Good, drilled to 280 feet in redbeds. It is in the Arthur field, 1,900 feet from south and east lines, 39-33-4n, T&P Survey.

School Election Supplies Ready

Election boxes and supplies for the school trustee election Saturday are ready and officials are asked to take custody of the boxes on Friday. Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said her deputies have completed preparation of the boxes and that it is urgent officials come to her office on Friday and pick up the supplies. Big Spring voters will ballot on men to fill two posts on the Howard County school board. The vacancies to be filled are for Commissioners Precincts 1 and 2. Voting in Big Spring will be at the High School, Big Spring also will name two men for its local school board. Gay Hill patrons will elect two trustees to their local school board. Forsan school will vote its choice of men for the post of county school board member from Commissioners Precinct 2 and elect trustees for their own board. The county school board from Commissioner Precinct 1, and elects members for its own school board. Coahoma votes for its choice for county school board from Precinct 2 and on its own trustees. Vealmoor selects a member for its own board only. Elbow elects two school board trustees.

Final Vote Tabulation

Final returns released by the Texas Election Bureau show Democrat Ralph Yarborough won the special U. S. Senate election Tuesday with 353,923 votes. Congressman-at-Large Martin Dies, also a Democrat, was second with 284,881 votes and Republican Thad Hutcherson was third with 218,475. Yarborough had 37.85 per cent of the final vote totals issued Wednesday night by the Election Bureau. Dies had 30.46 per cent and Hutcherson 23.38 per cent. Final returns from all Texas' 254 counties, including 153 complete, totaled 935,096 votes. Robert Johnson, head of the bureau, said about 25,000 votes were still unreported. The vote ran higher than the 700,000 to 800,000 originally predicted. Three other candidates expected to show strength in the election polled surprisingly few votes. State Rep. Searcy Bracewell received 32,166, former Supreme Court Justice James P. Hart 19,093 and Agriculture Commissioner John C. White 10,825. Totals received by the others in the field were: Elmer Adams 2,127; Herbert J. Antoine Sr., 556; The Rev. M. T. Banks, 1,991; Jacob Bergolofsky, 575; John C. Burns Sr., 551; Frank C. Cortez, 1,291; C. O. Forster 613; Clyde R. Orms, 332; J. Perrin Willis, 823 and Hugh Wilson 788.

'Open House' At HCJC Postponed

Open house at Howard County Junior College has been changed to the afternoon of April 28. The date was shifted from April 14 to avoid conflict with open house for the city's new security building and also to stay off the date of the presentation of the "Seven Last Words," set for that afternoon. The following Sunday, of course, is Easter, and this date was passed.

Car Wash Slated

New Iran Premier Works To Form A New Cabinet

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Menouchehr Eghbal, new pro-Western premier of Iran, worked today on picking a cabinet to help him end the 12-year-old state of martial law and raise the standard of living. The 49-year-old former university president was named by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi to replace Hussein Ala. Ala, 74, resigned because he said a younger and stronger man was needed to deal with bandits like those who ambushed three Americans and two Iranians in the desert of southeastern Iran March 24. Eghbal said his first act as premier was to repeat Ala's orders to the police that they must capture the bandits who killed Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Carroll of Issaquah, Wash., and Brewster Wilson of Portland, Ore. Carroll was an official of the U. S. Joint Four program in Iran and Wilson represented the Near East Foundation. The Interior Ministry has announced that local tribesmen armed by the government have killed Mrs. Carroll's slayer. The hunt is still on in southeast Iran for the rest of the nomad gang, including their chief, Dadshah.

Ellisor Executed For Slaying Of Cop

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Merle Wayne Ellisor, 34, was electrocuted at the state prison shortly after midnight today for the fatal shooting of a highway patrolman. He was convicted of killing State Highway Patrolman Robert James Crosby Nov. 27, 1954, during a running gun battle in Houston. Officers were attempting to stop him for speeding. Ellisor entered the death chamber at 12:02 a.m. He received the first charge of electricity at 12:05 a.m. and was declared dead at 12:08 a.m. He made no last statement but smiled while guards were strapping him in the chair and greeted prison chaplain Father Francis Duffy and a newsman. An application for a stay of execution was turned down yesterday by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. In a death cell interview, Ellisor had said, "I am ready to go. In fact, I have been ready for a long time." He ordered a last meal of fried oysters and fried shrimp. Seven highway patrolmen, including patrolman Doyce C. Doolin, who was wounded by Ellisor during the gun battle in which Crosby was killed, witnessed the execution. The condemned man's brother, Mathew Ellisor, 28, who is serving a three-year sentence for burglary at the state penitentiary from Jefferson County, was taken to visit him yesterday. Prison officials said they appeared very gay during their visit, but when Ellisor's sister visited him later, he broke down and cried for the first time since he has been in death row, 17 months. The body was to be shipped to Liberty, Tex., for burial.

Canadian Envoy Commits Suicide

CAIRO (AP)—Herbert Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt, committed suicide today. The Canadian Embassy said he had been in a depressed condition due to "recent unpleasant publicity and accusations"—an obvious reference to a U. S. Senate subcommittee's report that it had evidence he had been a Communist.

Chile Inflation Riots Break Out Again

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Gunfire broke out again last night in this tense Chilean capital after a brief lull in violence that has swept the city for two days. There was no official report on the latest action, but the chatter of machine guns could be heard in several sections. It was at first believed soldiers and police were firing to enforce the curfew imposed Tuesday night. But as the night wore on, the volume of gunfire increased and spread from one part of the city to another. A state of siege was declared over the entire country Tuesday night by President Carlos Ibanez's government, but the rioters defied the emergency military law to continue their protests. Truckloads of demonstrators poured in from the outlying poorer sections of Santiago to join in yesterday. A crowd of about 1,000 attacked police and army troops. An assault on the Pan-American Bank was turned back by gunfire. The presidential palace and other government buildings were stoned. Practically all street lights in the downtown area were broken. Traffic police booths were smashed and burned. Automobiles were damaged. Ibanez has blamed the outbreaks on international communism and lawless groups seeking to damage the country's economy. Chile has been hit by soaring living costs since the end of World War II, and the 79-year-old Ibanez has several times decreed a state of siege to deal with strikes and disorders. The latest wave of violence was set off by a 50 per cent increase last week in bus fares—from 2 to 3 cents.

'Unventilated' Falsie Starts Fire

MIAMI, Fla., April 4 (AP)—A pair of "falsies" were blamed today for a fire which did more than $4,000 worth of damage at a laundry and dry cleaning plant. One of the plant's owners said he believed the falsies—used by women to provide curves—were left in a basket of clothes which had been dried in a hot air tumbler. He said the material of which the articles are made holds the heat and can cause an explosion if kept in an unventilated place.

Cosden Dedicates New $3 Million Styrene Plant

Cosden Petroleum Corporation took formal notice of another historic achievement Wednesday, dedicating its new $3 million styrene facility.

From Cosden President R. L. Tollett to all who had a part in the conception, design and construction of the plant, a sense of intense pride was evident. "Nothing," said Tollett, "has given me such keen satisfaction."

This was not because Cosden was the first to build a plant which represented a "bold departure from conventional concepts and designs," but because many experts in the industry had said that it couldn't be done.

What Cosden had done in this new plant was to cut across the more cumbersome method of producing ethylbenzene by synthesis. Instead, the product from which styrene is extracted and purified is obtained through ultrafractionation of the mixed xylenes. These in turn come from the BTX plant where aromatics are extracted from the naphthenes taken from straight run gasoline.

One of the key elements in the revolutionary process is the 600-foot ethylbenzene fractionating tower, so tall that it had to be broken into three 200-foot towers. This, said some experts, couldn't be done successfully. They also said that some of the innovations provided by Badger Manufacturing Company, which designed the unit, would not work in the dehydrogenation process by which ethylbenzene becomes styrene.

The result is a clear fluid which resembles gasoline. Yet this is a plastic grade styrene monomer of 99.6 per cent purity. This material tends to polymerize (that is the mingle molecules tend to collect together) of its own accord. Thus, the styrene monomer is shipped in insulated tank cars so it will arrive at destination in its fluid state.

Those attending the luncheon given at the Cosden Country Club for visiting technicians, technical writers and newspapermen were presented with plastic clothespins and hooks. George Nall, Austin, of Matlex Plastics, said that the Cosden styrene was the best he had ever used.

Most styrene is used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber, but more and more of the higher quality is going into clear plastics.

Tollett said that the development was part of Cosden's determination to stay out in front with modern production and manufacturing processes.

"What's next?" asked a newspaper man.

Tollett smiled and shook his

Space Wasn't Made For All

WASHINGTON (AP)—Riding in a space ship would prove exhilarating to a good many people, but others would find it uncomfortable, some even nauseating, a scientist indicated today.

Dr. Siegfried J. Gerathewohl of the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex., told the American Rocket Society about experiments testing reaction to "weightlessness."

This phenomenon—similar at least in some degree to the feeling you have at the sudden start-down of an express elevator, or when you go over the top in a roller coaster—would prevail when your space ship no longer was influenced by the pull of the earth's gravity.

If you weren't belted down, or lacked some other means of being attached to the ship's floor—perhaps by magnetized shoes—you'd float around inside the rocket ship's cabin. And so would your pills and anything else that wasn't pinned down.

Downtown Lions Pick New Officers

Carl W. Smith, sales manager for Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Wednesday was elected president of the Big Spring (Downtown) Lions Club for the next year.

He and other new officers will begin their terms July 1.

It was announced at the luncheon that Wayne Bartlett won the club - financed trip to the national Lions convention this year, on the basis of his attendance record. Runner-up was Doug Ward, and R. H. Snyder was third.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, Howard County Junior College president, spoke at the luncheon in support of the proposed $300,000 school bond issue on which voters will express their views April 20.

He explained that $400,000 of the proposed issue is planned for use in construction of a new junior high school. The balance is earmarked for future high school expansion, unless some other emergency arises, he said.

Dr. Hunt said it will be impossible for the city to attract industry without providing adequate facilities. He asserted that investments in education often return 20-1 dividends.

In addition to Smith, officers elected were B. M. Keese, first vice president; Pete Cook, second vice president; L. D. Carothers, third vice president; C. W. Fisher, lion tamer; and J. F. Stitzel, secretary-treasurer.

R. H. Snyder, John H. King and Jimmy Ray Smith were chosen to be tail twisters. Directors chosen for the 1957-59 terms were Sam Burns and R. M. Dean. Holdover directors are Ray Adams and Boone Horne. Marshall Cauley, current president, also will become a member of the board. Lions chose Choc Jones as their official "goodwill ambassador."

CARL W. SMITH

'OSCARS' GIVEN FOR WORK ON COSDEN'S CONSTRUCTION FILM

Several Cosden folk today have "Oscars" over the mantle piece.

William Rousseau, vice president of Badger Manufacturing Company, turned the table on Cosden and made several awards for Cosden's documentary film on construction of the styrene plant.

These were, said P. H. Seaver, of Badger, the "Cecil B. de Cosden" awards. They included:

For outstanding production: R. L. Tollett; for outstanding distinction (no longer "how now brown cow" but "progress is part of the plan"): Dan M. Krausse; outstanding production, Jack Womack of Womack & Snelson Advertising; outstanding photography, Vernon Adams, Odessa; technical supervision, (three-way tie), Paul Meek, O. O. Craig, Doug Meyers; coordination, William H. Frank.

100 Civil Cases Disposed Of, 50 New Suits Are Filed

March was a busy month in the office of Wade Choate, 118th District Court Clerk.

One hundred civil cases were disposed of during the month. This covers those tried before the court, before juries, dismissed by the court or withdrawn by the litigants.

During the month, fifty cases were filed in the civil category, including 23 suits for divorce.

Eighteen divorce petitions were granted by the court.

There were 31 criminal cases filed in the court in March and the month saw 10 criminal cases tried without jury and three with juries. One criminal case was appealed.

There were four civil cases tried by juries and 10 before the court.

Airport Application On Way To Capital

Howard County's request for financial cooperation from the Civil Aeronautics Authority in building a new county airport should be well on its way to Washington by the end of this week.

Bob Allen, with the CAA office in Fort Worth, has advised the Howard County officials that the final draft of the application filed by the county is now in the regional office and should soon be on the last leg of its journey — to the headquarters of the CAA in Washington.

There is nothing to indicate that the request for CAA financial participation won't be approved, it was said.

The county had asked that the CAA come in to the program in building the airport here and the CAA office in Fort Worth said that it could do so when the county investment in the new project equalled that which the CAA has in the old municipal airport, now a part of Webb Air Force Base. This means, it was said, that the CAA can augment the $500,000 voted by the county to build the new airport with approximately $300,000.

Site for the airport has already been secured by the county. It is located approximately four miles north and east of town on the south side of the Snyder Highway. Actual construction is being delayed until final action by the CAA is taken. The additional funds which would be made available if the CAA action is favorable would greatly change the general construction pattern.

The Selfish Scots

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Tom Fraser, a member of Parliament from Hamilton, Scotland, was surprised when invited to address the California Assembly. "We don't invite strangers to come in and talk to us at all," he said. "We reserve the chambers, very selfishly, for ourselves."

TOP SECRET AFFAIR
PAUL STEWART - JIM BACKUS

This is the car that won at Daytona Beach as the "best performing U. S. automobile." And it's the car that won the Auto Decathlon . . . a ten-way test of the driving qualities you want. You're riding the winner in a Chevrolet . . . V8 or Six. Come in and see how it feels.

Who rates what for performance and smoother riding in the low-priced three? Chevrolet has laid the answer and the proof on the line!

First, Chevrolet won the Auto Decathlon over every car in its field, and over the higher priced cars that were tested, too. This rugged ten-way test (right, below) showed Chevrolet was the champ in handling ease, braking, acceleration, passing ability, smoothness of ride and other driving qualities you want in a car.

Then, Chevy walked off with the Pure Oil Performance Trophy at Daytona (left, below) as "best performing U. S. automobile."

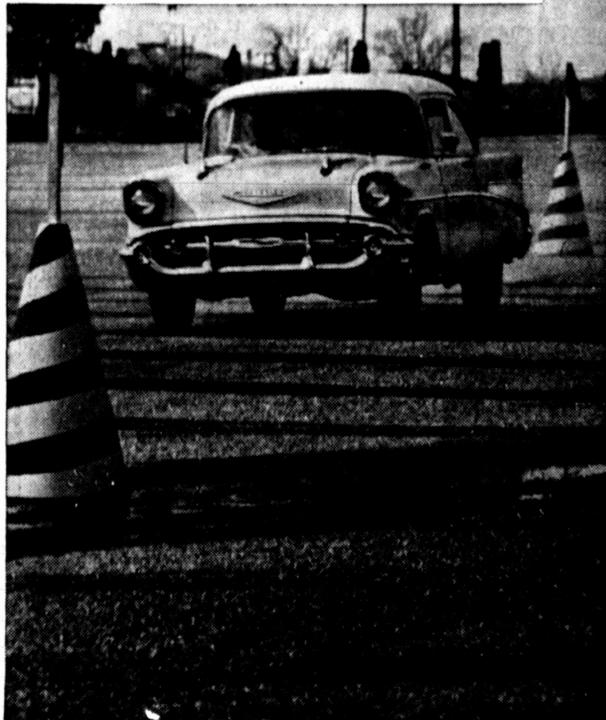

It's quite a feeling to know that you are driving a car that performs so well, responds so beautifully and is so finely built. You enjoy a surer, smoother, steadier way of going, a keen cat-quick response of V8 power, and the easiest handling you've ever known at a wheel. Better see this champ at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Serve Leg Of Lamb To Announce Spring

Let a jelly-glazed roast leg of lamb announce to the group that gathers around your dinner table that a springtime party has been planned.

Lamb, though available the year around, has always been associated with spring, for the meat is from young animals and ideally accompanied by the tender, young vegetables more prevalent in the vernal season of the year.

Choose either a whole leg or half leg — both are available in your market. A whole leg weighs 8 to 12 pounds and is a good size for a crowd. The smaller family might choose half a leg, or have the sirloin of a whole leg cut into steaks to be broiled or braised for another meal.

When selecting a whole leg of lamb at your market, you'll notice that some lamb legs are called "French" and some are called "American." For a French leg of lamb, the smaller end of the leg has been trimmed to expose about 1 inch of the shank. In an American lamb leg roast, part of the shank bone has been removed to form a pocket and the meat from around the shank is tucked into the pocket and skewered in place.

Roast leg of lamb, like all cuts of lamb, tastes best when served very hot or cold — never lukewarm. The ideal procedure for hot service of the meat is to place the cooked lamb on a warmed serving platter and use dinner plates that also have been warmed.

To prepare a jelly glazed leg of lamb for a springtime party or a family feast any time of the year, follow these directions:

JELLY GLAZED LEG OF LAMB

Place the meat, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. It is not necessary to remove the "fell," the thin, paper-like covering, from the meat before roasting; it helps retain the juices during cooking. Season the meat with salt and pepper either before or after cooking. Insert a meat thermometer into the thickest part of the meat, making sure the point does not rest on fat or bone. Place in a 325 degrees F. oven and allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound for a medium cooked roast, or to an internal temperature of 175 degrees F. A well-done lamb leg roast will require 35 to 40 minutes per pound, indicated on the meat thermometer by an internal temperature of 180 degrees F.

Thirty minutes before the lamb leg roast is done, pour over the meat a mixture of 1/2 cup plum jelly and 1 cup hot water. Baste with this mixture at 10 minute intervals until meat is done.

Remove lamb to heated serving platter. Skim fat from drippings and thicken drippings with a flour and water paste for gravy.

Jelly Glazed Leg Of Lamb

Plum jelly was used to glaze this roast leg of lamb, which was cooked medium done in a 325 degree oven. Serve the flavorful meat on a warmed platter garnished with fresh mint leaves, if you like.

Perk Up Spinach With Cream Sauce

Delicious with spinach.

Ingredients: 2 packages (10 ounces) cleaned fresh spinach, one-half of a 3-ounce package of cream cheese, salt, pepper.

Method: Remove tough stems from spinach. Dunk spinach in several fresh water baths to clean thoroughly. Cook rapidly, covered, in the water clinging to the leaves, stirring several times. Or if you like a milder flavor, cook spinach in a quart of boiling water. Drain thoroughly. Return drained spinach to saucepan with cream cheese; melt cream cheese, mixing it with spinach, over low heat. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 4 servings.

Try Early American Recipe

Despite the many cooking shortcuts and ready-prepared foods on the market, American women seem to be taking a new interest in gourmet cookery, as witness the vast sale of cookbooks. Early American recipes are enjoying current vogue. Following is a favorite from "The Williamsburg Art of Cookery," a book of 500 old Virginia recipes compiled by Mrs. Helen Duprey Bullock:

STEAK AND KIDNEY PIE

Remove fat and membrane from four small veal kidneys, place in bowl and sprinkle with salt. Add 1 cup claret or other dry red wine, several bay leaves, slices of raw onion and a few pepper corns. Let it stand while you prepare 1 1/2 pounds beef steak cut thin and pounded well with flour and cut into pieces. Separate kidneys with a sharp knife, discarding gristly portion and the fat. Using a heavy iron frying pan or dutch oven, brown some suet in it and remove. Then add a small diced onion and cook until lightly brown. Next, brown the steak and then add the kidneys which have been well dredged with flour. Stir carefully, add a small quantity of hot water, season with a bay leaf, chopped parsley and chopped celery top and marjoram. Cover and simmer very slowly, stirring occasionally. It should be tender in about one hour. Add one cup sliced fresh mushrooms when available. Strain into it the wine. If gravy needs thickening, rectify it with flour and water. Cover with crust of puffpaste, piecrust or thin biscuit dough and bake quickly until crust is done.

New Cheese Package Speeds Homemaking

Something new and different on the table always sparks interest and heightens the enjoyment of a meal. That's why alert homemakers, ever on the lookout for new ideas to inject variety into meal planning, are taking to the new cheese in a plastic tube. Not only is this new "squeeze cheese" an attention-getter, it cuts down on meal preparation time, because a squeeze of the tube and "Presto!" cheese suitable for sauce or spread appears.

Squeeze cheese is available in several flavor varieties to suit every taste. There is a mild type for folks who like their cheese bland; a sharp type for those who like it nippy; and a blue for the blue-cheese lovers. Far-sighted homemakers who anticipate drop-in guests and impromptu snacktimes keep all varieties on hand.

In many homes, cheese in a tube comes to the table at mealtime, and there it stays from the appetizer course on through dessert.

To Clarify Fat

Four slices of raw potato will clarify a quart of fat that has been used for frying. Just heat the fat with the potato in it until the fat bubbles. The potato slices will absorb flavors and collect sediment; any uncollected sediment will settle at the bottom of the kettle and may be removed as the fat is strained.

Company Muffins

Plain muffins are extra special if you sprinkle their tops (before baking) with a mixture of sugar, cinnamon and finely chopped nuts.

Chiffon Pie Is Bright Recipe Note

With the first breath of spring, a bright new bonnet is on many a woman's mind literally as well as figuratively. It's one of the best spring tonics we know — gives a real lift to a gal.

And a bright new eye-catching dessert will chase the winter doldrums right away from the family dinner table.

ORANGE CHIFFON PIE

(Makes one 9-inch pie)
1 (9-inch) baked pastry shell
1 (3-ounce) package orange gelatin dessert
1 cup boiling water
1 cup orange juice
1-3 cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add orange juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Pour cold water and lemon juice into deep 1-quart bowl; sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8 to 10 minutes. Beat gelatin mixture until light and fluffy; fold in whipped dry milk powder. Pour into cooled pastry shell. Chill until firm, about 2 hours. If desired, garnish with slices of fresh orange, folded in cornucopia shape and filled with a marachino cherry.

Note: If desired, recipe can be varied as a refrigerator dessert. Substitute one cup of finely crushed chocolate cookie crumbs for 9-inch baked pastry shell. Cover bottom of refrigerator tray with one half of the crumbs. Pour filling into refrigerator tray. Top with remaining crumbs. Makes 6 servings.

Try This New Way To Bake Fowl

New version of a well-liked way to bake chicken.

CHICKEN QUARTERS WITH WALNUT STUFFING

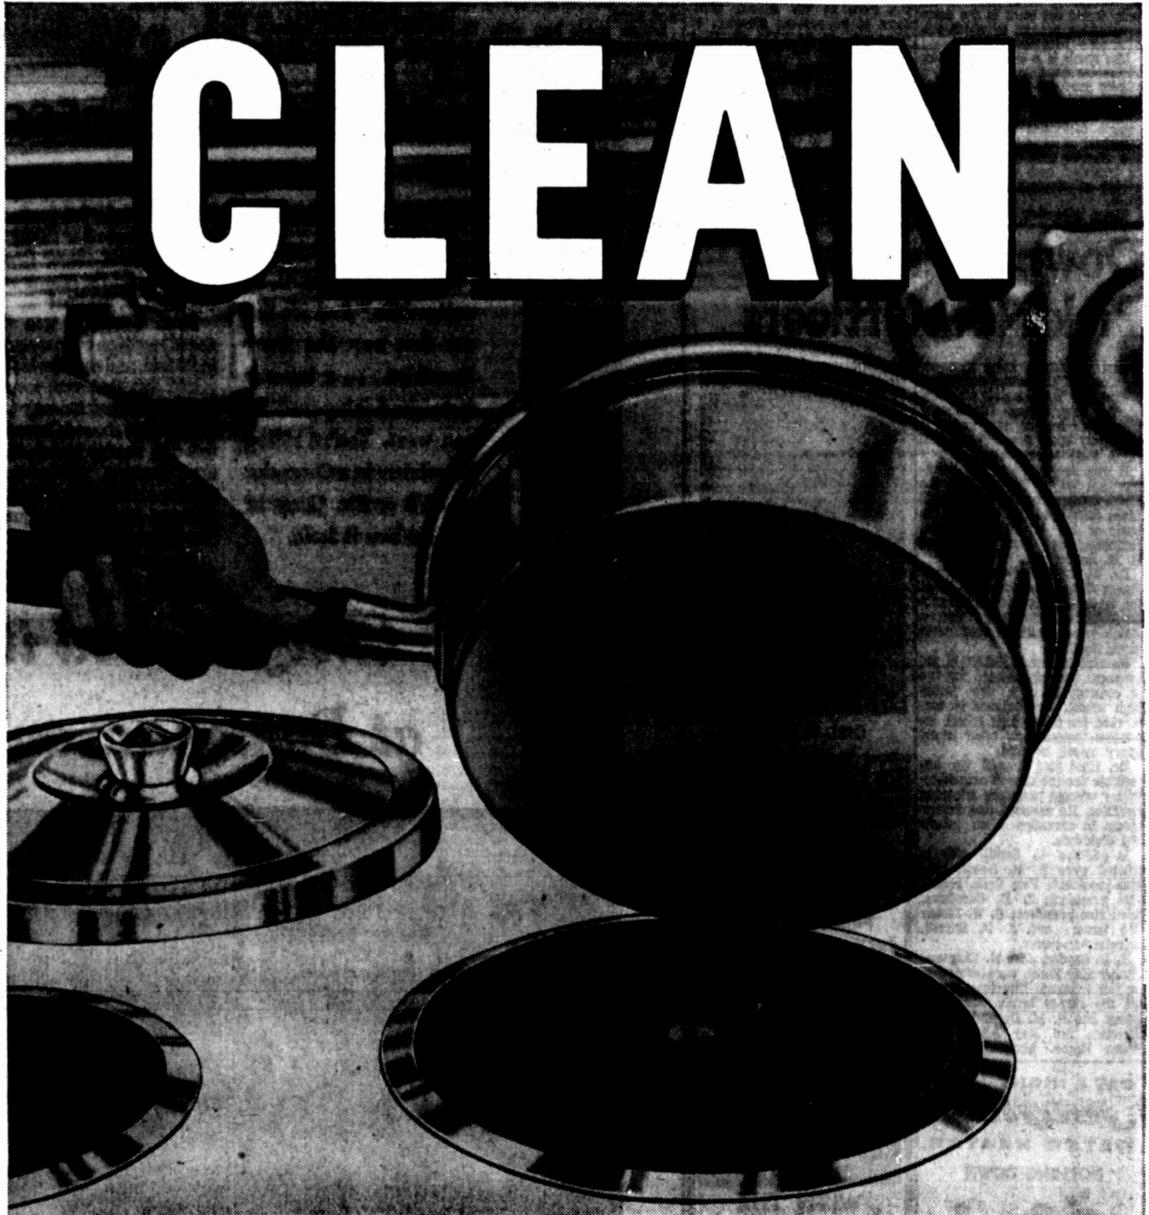

Ingredients: One fryer-broiler (about 2 pounds ready-to-cook weight), 8 thin slices bread, 2 drained canned pimientos (chopped), 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 6 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 6 walnut halves (broken in small pieces).

Method: Have chicken cut in quarters; clean and dry. Cut bread into tiny squares, leaving crusts on. Mix bread with chopped pimientos, parsley, salt, pepper, 5 tablespoons of the melted butter, 1 tablespoon of the lemon juice and the walnuts. Place stuffing in 4 mounds on aluminum foil in shallow baking pan. Place one-quarter chicken over each mound of stuffing. Mix remaining 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon lemon juice and brush chicken with it. Bake uncovered in hot (400 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender and golden-brown. Cut foil in four and serve chicken on it. Makes 4 large servings.

Protein Supply

If the diet is lacking in protein, the body will have to use some of its own tissues as a source of the materials necessary for daily upkeep and repair. Meat, poultry, fish, eggs, cheese and milk are all excellent protein foods.

TED HULL—PETE HULL—ELMO PHILLIPS "FRIENDLIEST SERVICE IN TOWN"

If You Serve This Cheese Cake You'll Be A Special Hostess

Any hostess is proud to serve a dish which has won many compliments from past "samplers." A recipe for a Cheese Cake has always been a favorite with Mrs. J. J. Hardegree and a taste test proves its worth!

Mrs. Hardegree came by the recipe via her sister who lives in Phoenix, Ariz. On one of the frequent trips made by the Hardegrees to Arizona, the cake was served and Mr. Hardegree gave strict instructions to his wife to "get that recipe."

Mrs. Hardegree finds this an easily prepared dessert and suggests that different flavors of gelatin could be used, although she has never experimented that way. It's a nice, rich dessert to serve those next guests of yours.

CHEESE CAKE

Ingredients:
1 package of lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 8 oz. package cream cheese
1 large can condensed milk (chilled)
1 cup sugar
20 graham crackers

Method:
Dissolve gelatin in cup of hot water; place in refrigerator and let thicken until syrupy. Soften cream cheese and add cup of sugar. Roll crackers to fine crumbs; add 1 tablespoon of sugar and enough melted butter to hold crumbs together. Next, whip milk until stiff. Add to softened cream cheese; then add slightly thickened gelatin.

Divide cracker crumbs, leaving enough to cover the cheese mixture. Place crumbs in bottom of refrigerator dish; pack firmly around the bottom and sides of dish. Pour the cream cheese and gelatin mixture into crumb crust. Cover with remaining crumbs. Chill overnight.

Another recipe that rates seconds with the Hardegrees is this scalloped potatoes supreme. Mrs. Hardegree said she liked this recipe because it called for the mushroom soup—which adds such a nice flavor.

SCALLOPED POTATOES SUPREME

Ingredients:
8 medium potatoes (sliced)

Apple Bake Favorite At West Point

This dessert is a favorite at West Point.

APPLE BAKE

Ingredients:
One can (1 pound and 4 ounces) sweetened apple slices, 1-3 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 small package (1 ounce) corn flakes (about 1 cup), Hard Sauce.

Method:
Turn apples into pie plate (8½ by 1½ inches); the pack of apples should be one with very little juice. Mix apple slices with brown sugar, dot with 1 tablespoon of the butter and sprinkle with the cinnamon and nutmeg. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons of butter and add corn flakes. Stir flakes well to coat with butter and partly break up. Sprinkle buttered corn flakes over apples. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes. Serve warm with Hard Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

HARD SAUCE

Ingredients:
One-fourth cup butter or margarine, ¼ cup firmly-packed light brown sugar, ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 egg yolk, rum flavoring.

Method:
Cream butter with sugars and egg yolk; add rum flavoring to taste. Chill before serving with Apple Bake. Makes a little more than ¼ cup. Store any leftover in tightly covered container in refrigerator; it will be delicious served later with baked apples.

It's Time To Try Spicy Bar-B-Q Sauce

A barbecue sauce for broiled chicken:

SPICY CHICKEN

Ingredients:
Two very small broiling chickens (each cut in quarters), ¼ cup salad oil, 1 clove garlic (crushed), 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 medium-sized onion (finely chopped), 1 bay leaf, ¾ cup tomato catchup, ¾ cup water.

Method:
Clean chicken; arrange skin side down in broiling pan without rack. Mix remaining ingredients in saucepan; bring to a boil; simmer 5 minutes. Pour sauce over chicken. Broil under moderate heat for three-quarters to 1 hour, basting often with sauce, and turning chicken as it browns. Reduce heat if chicken seems to be browning too much before it is cooked through. Makes 6 servings.

Mellow Modern

Modern is growing mellow this season, borrowing from Scandinavian sources to create appealing figured carpets and translate stark furniture into graceful curved silhouettes. Charming and impromptu, Swedish folk motifs are woven in muted brown and creamy white on a soft green ground for a new wool design in carpet.

Brownies Served Two Special Ways

ICE CREAM BROWNIES

Ingredients:
One-half cup sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, ¼ cup (¼ pound) butter or margarine, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2-3 cup chopped (medium-fine) walnuts, vanilla ice cream, chocolate fudge sauce.

Method:
Line bottom of baking pan (9 by 9 by 1½ inches) with waxed paper. Sift flour and salt together. Melt chocolate and butter; remove from heat. Beat eggs until thickened and a pale yellow color; gradually beat in sugar until about as thick as mayonnaise and ivory colored. Beat in melted chocolate-butter until blended. Gradually fold in flour, a little at a time. Fold in walnuts. Turn into prepared pan, spreading evenly. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven just until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—20 minutes. Stand pan on cake rack for 10 minutes; loosen brownies from sides of pan; turn out on cake rack and strip off paper. Turn right side up on another rack. When cold, invert on cutting board; with sharp knife slice into 9 squares. Top each brownie with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and accompany with chocolate sauce. Makes 9 servings.

Shirred Eggs Are Good Evening Meal

Give your family pancakes for Sunday breakfast, then serve them these good eggs for supper.

SHIRRED EGGS

Ingredients:
One cup diced ham, 1 can (10 ounces) meatless tomato spaghetti sauce, 8 eggs.

Method:
Fry ham lightly in a small saucepan or skillet; if there is not enough fat with ham for frying, add a bit of butter. Mix in tomato sauce and heat until almost boiling. Divide sauce among 4 individual shirred egg dishes or use in individual heat-resistant glass pie plates (about 6 inches across top). Break 2 eggs into each dish over hot sauce; do not break yolks. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are firm—about 20 minutes. Allow to stand out of oven for 5 to 10 minutes before serving in baking dishes. Makes 4 servings. The sauce with the ham in it will be salt enough without adding salt to the eggs.

A Bible Thought For Today

Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God? But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows. (St. Luke 12:6-7)

Recognizing Another Milestone

In the presence of representatives of processors and technical writers, Cosden Petroleum Corporation Wednesday dedicated its new styrene facility.

Milestones have a habit of coming so rapidly at Cosden that it is easy to overlook them. Progress has become habitual to the point of making major developments seem almost commonplace.

But cutting across new frontiers is not commonplace and that is what Cosden has done in its latest venture. For years the major source of styrene has been obtained by alkylating ethylene and benzene, which pre-empted this field to major processors who had large stocks of these two components on hand.

Cosden had in its mixed xylene stream, as part of the issue from its BTX plant, a substantial potential of ethyl benzene. Why not fractionate the ethyl benzene out of the xylene? It was, according to a number of competent consultants and industry experts, something that would work on paper or in the lab but not in a practical, continuous process. Backed up by Badger Manufacturing Company, Cosden said that it would be done and laid $3 million dollars on the line to do it.

That is rather typical of Cosden. Yet in all the examples of pioneering that Cosden has done, it is noteworthy that they have not been reckless gambles, but cool, calculated business risks taken after assessments of markets, profits, and other factors.

Management has exercised a full measure of industrial courage, but it has kept its feet on the ground. It has looked for diversity and specialties which would fit into its primary role as custom refinery for the energy market. And in the latter position, Cosden has expanded and improved constantly to upgrade fuels so that it can command an outlet for its energy products. In a nutshell, Cosden has coordinated its progress.

The Most Logical Conclusion

On a split decision, the Howard County Commissioners Court has reaffirmed — and perhaps clarified — its policy in regard to use of county machinery on property other than that owned by the county.

The policy had been enunciated previously to preclude use of county equipment of private property except in case of emergency. The particular case in point that brought the matter again into focus was whether the accumulation of sand in an access road to a rural home constituted an emergency. In the end the court reaffirmed the policy and deleted the term emergency with a tacit understanding that a major emergency or catastrophe would be readily recognizable by the court.

Although we can understand individuals wanting relief or help, it seems to us that the court's decision was the only logical one in keeping with the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

Perhaps the test in cases of this sort is whether a person has been damaged, and whether the county is responsible for or negligently contributed to that damage. If so, the county might be responsible and relief could be had through law or by proper settlement. Otherwise, the condition remains a private responsibility, as inconvenient and as expensive as it might be.

Nasser May Not Be The Ultimate Victor

WASHINGTON — Who has won the "victory" in the Middle East? Is Nasser really on top — and, if he is, then why does he complain so bitterly to a group of American editors visiting Cairo that America is trying "to starve" Egypt?

The truth is there are no real victories for rulers or countries as such nowadays. The only victory that means anything is the triumph over the passions of war.

By one means or another, whether through the grouping intervention of the United Nations or through the persuasive influence of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, there is no world war going on today. Bombs are not being dropped, and civilian populations are surviving.

neighbors, and that Egypt will, in due time, see the error of her dictator's acts and either will change her government or change her policies.

The plans are of a long-range nature. But they spell the doom of Nasserism. The countries of the Arab world which have oil to sell may have been emotional about the Israeli-French-British action last October, but they now see that, if they want to sell oil, they must have a safe and continuous way of shipping it.

If Nasser is foolish enough to stop Israeli ships from going through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba, his action will merely accelerate the construction of more and more pipelines to carry the oil across Asia Minor to the Mediterranean, thus by-passing the Suez Canal altogether.

But resentments have not diminished. And the flames of war can be touched off if, every time one or the other of the disputants takes an arrogant course, this is followed by a counter-move which breeds further bitterness.

Lots of people in different countries today are angry about the uncooperative attitude of Nasser of Egypt. The Israelis are saying, "I told you so." The British and French echo that sentiment. Certainly Nasser is refusing to listen to reason. He is not being conciliatory. He is following the path that many a dictator has followed in his sorrow.

Companies to use it.

So Nasser is worried. His outburst to the American editors reveals the truth about his inner anxieties. Whether he is or is not the "victor" today in the Suez Canal controversy is of temporary, if not secondary, importance. It will be more important to place things up a year from now, when the plans being developed to build alternate routes for transporting oil are well under way.

The controversy over shipments through a vital waterway can be settled by economic force — and without a global war. The big victory of today is the victory over the passions of war. And the real task is to keep the victory won.

Is military force, however, the only way left to bring Nasser to his senses? The British and French say they were right in using military force last October and that America should not have stopped the invasion of the Suez nor the occupation of Egypt. The theory is that this would have given the British and French and Israelis the whip hand and that this would have solved the problems of the Middle East. But would it have done so?

Here in Washington, where a more objective view prevails than in Europe, the attitude officially is that military force must not be used except as a last resort and only when it is clear that the Soviets have intervened with arms.

Steady pressure through the United Nations will play a helpful part. That's moral force.

The American conception of the right way to deal with Nasser is through moral and economic force. There is no thought of putting into effect punitive measures of a provocative sort. But there is every thought that Egypt can and will be isolated from the West and from her Arab

Traveled Duck

HONOLULU — A wrong-way duck has wound up here. It's a pintail, tagged at Suisun, Calif., before going south for the winter. He flew here, instead.

He made it in less than two months, said the fish and wildlife service, which is pretty good time for a duck.

Coal Through Water

STALINO, Russia — Soviet engineers are designing new coal mines in the Donbas fields to operate by hydraulic power. Strong water jets will carry coal to the headings from where it will "piped" to the surface through high pressure water tubes.

Engineers claim one such mine using 650 workers can produce 5,000 tons of coal daily.

Sam Getting Impatient With Ike?

WASHINGTON — Sam Rayburn, 75-year-old speaker of the House and the most powerful Democrat there, sounds like a man getting impatient with President Eisenhower.

It may be because Eisenhower's lack of strong leadership in handling his own House Republicans. Twice in a week Rayburn has snapped out rebuffs to statements by the President.

In the House this past week the Democratic leadership and Northern Democrats have been fighting for Eisenhower against a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats bent on chopping the President's 72-billion-dollar budget to pieces.

Yesterday Eisenhower — asked at his news conference about chances for a tax cut in the future — said he certainly hopes there can be one before the end of his second term but he wouldn't speculate when.

Shortly afterwards Rayburn told reporters: "If there's a tax cut, the Congress will make it, and this is a Democratic Congress."

Last week Rayburn threw cold water on Eisenhower's idea for a constitutional amendment to spell out procedure for replacing a disabled president with a vice president. Eisenhower called Rayburn and other congressional leaders to the White House to suggest it.

Very soon afterwards Rayburn, not considered an admirer of Vice President Nixon, told reporters: "I don't think much of it. We've got along for 168 years and I don't think many bad things have happened."

The Republicans in the House began their budget-cutting rampage last week and in the midst of it Eisenhower, before taking off for a weekend at Gettysburg, sent two of his aides to see Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Halleck, one of the House Republican leaders, later said Eisenhower wanted some selectivity in the budget-cutting. Halleck himself apparently doesn't think Eisenhower has shown much leadership in trying to keep his Republicans in line.

"He told reporters Eisenhower 'has really got to bear down' when the House later begins considering money for foreign aid and defense."

In this past week the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition put through 17 amendments which trimmed 68 million dollars more than a committee had recommended from Eisenhower's requests for money for the Departments of Labor and Welfare and the National Labor Relations Board.

Those cuts are not final. The House votes on them again in roll calls which put the members on record.

The Automatic Dog Finder

MORGANVILLE, N. J. — Science has come up with all sorts of gadgets—including depth finders and radar—to help fishermen locate their finny prey.

But it has kind of neglected a fisherman's fellow hobbyist, the hunter.

Steve Lavoie, an electronics engineer whose pastime is tracking down big game in odd corners of the world, aims to correct that lack. He's working on something really new for ardent woodsmen — an automatic dog finder.

Steve is head of Lavoie Laboratories here, a firm that has developed a number of electronic instruments for the government's highly secret defense missile program.

His idea for a radio dog locator came to him on a recent hunting trip to Colombia during which two cattle-killing jaguars were bagged.

Specially trained dogs — valued at $500 to $1,000 each—are used to track down the big elusive South American tiger, as the jaguar is often called.

A cornered jaguar, unless the hunters arrive quickly, may ambush and kill or maim a pack of 7 to 10 of these valuable dogs. Sometimes an injured dog will crawl off and become lost in the jungle.

Steve's radio aid to hunting is quite simple. It consists of a three-pound radio sending set attached to the dog's back, and a slightly heavier receiving set carried by the guide.

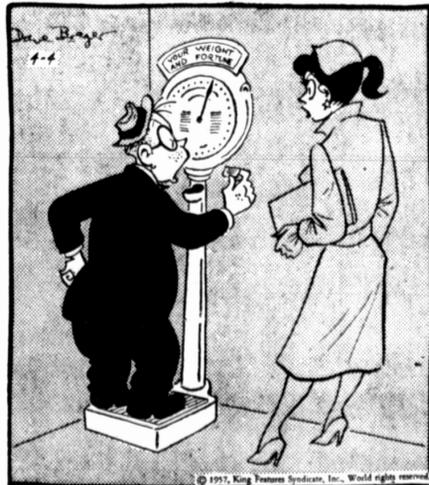

"A dog can carry such a set all day in the jungle," said Steve. "Our only problem is to put on an antenna that won't get him tangled in the brush. But even if it does we can quickly locate him and set him free."

Lavoie hopes to use the new equipment, still in the designing stage, in a hunt soon for a legendary big cat called the onza in the mountains of Mexico.

"Many naturalists doubt there even is such an animal," he said. "But it is mentioned in old Spanish chronicles in Mexico City."

"It must be related to the cheetah, because it is reported to have nonretractable claws. Mexican natives swear they have found the tracks of the onza, and we think a few still survive in the mountains."

More Power From Less Fuel?

A publishing company, which keeps me properly flattered by addressing me as "auto editor," is the source this week of some interesting data on fuel injection, the latest technique for getting fuel into an automobile's cylinders.

Fuel injection promises to be the first successful effort to replace the carburetor, one of the oldest gasoline engine parts. It'll be able to do this, my source says, because it is a superior gadget for charging the space between piston and cylinder head with the proper fuel mixture.

Since you'll probably be driving a car equipped with a fuel injection system within three or four years, here are some advantages you can be anticipating:

1. Instantaneous starting. No more grinding around on the starter while the pumping pistons attempt to suck in the proper fuel mixture for ignition.
2. Better gasoline mileage. Fuel injection gets just the right mixture of air and gasoline into the engine at the precise moment it is needed; consequently, less unburned gas is blown out the exhaust pipe and more power is applied to the drive shaft.
3. An almost-instantaneous surge of power when you step down on the accelera-

tor. My authority calls it a "solid" accelerator, explaining that fuel injection avoids the carburetor and saves the time it takes the gas to pass through the manifold and valves, giving a prompt response when you press the accelerator pedal.

There also are promised a few incidental advantages, such as elimination of "vapor locks," reduction of smog-making materials in damp areas, and smaller engine space requirements.

Elimination of the carburetor and its space-consuming air filter, the experts say, will permit automobile architects to redesign the traditional front end. This may result in a radically-sloping hood, with the driver able to see everything but the roadway immediately under his feet.

I've noticed in the ads that fuel injection already is available — as one of those "optional" features — on a few cars. Understand, also, that it adds something to the cost of a car.

But the fuel saving it promises, plus the economy possible through mass production, may mean that the rising cost of automotivity can be reduced slightly. Goodness knows, we need some of that.

Sell Royal Titles And Balance Budget

PALM BEACH, Fla. — Well, sir, if you follow this column, sooner or later you discover that its author solves all problems. (This is the stigma of the columning profession. Its practitioners are fearlessly dedicated to rushing in where angels fear to tread.)

Doubtless, you are acquainted with the wartime Pentagon motto — the difficult we do at once; the impossible takes a little longer. So let's tackle the impossible today, i.e., payment of the public debt, that whopping $270 billion plus that hangs over our collective head.

At last I think I have the gimmick that will do it. Of course, the Administration may choose to ignore my suggestion as it has helpful hints in the past, such as substituting Bobo Rockefeller for George M. Humphrey as Secretary of the Treasury.

of Marlarky and their ladies can go it on the bluff down here indefinitely, since it is human nature to love a fancy hand.

So my solution to the problem of the national debt is simple. Let the Federal government declare a monopoly on titles and sell them for fixed prices to any and all Americans who can put it on the bar head, just as it does the nation's top diplomatic posts.

Don't think there aren't plenty of Americans who wouldn't part with a minimum of $250,000 for the right to use the title of Duke and to be addressed as "Your Grace" by the valet! Indeed, my figure is much too low. The going price of a dukedom, in view of inflation, should be at least $500,000 and probably $1,000,000.

If we're going to sell dukedoms for $1,000,000 (and how do you think British peer barons get in Burke's Peerage?), an earldom ought to be priced at $500,000 and up. And so on down the line to a mere knighthood for the peasants, something in the bargain basement priced at $50,000 to $100,000.

This would involve a Constitutional amendment, granted. But the Constitution has been amended before, and seldom in a better cause, that of national solvency.

Furthermore, I would make this sale of titles a perpetual auction by legally prohibiting the inheritance of titles. Each generation, therefore, would have to buy its own. I would speed by a full generation the transformation from shirt-sleeves to shirt-leaves.

This simple provision would result in a vast revolving fund for Uncle. And what do you wanna bet that within a generation and a half not only would the national debt be paid, but the Treasury would be bulging and we could do away with the income tax altogether?

Copyright, 1957, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

A few persons may peevishly ask what Bobo has that George hasn't. But the answer to that is long and involved and you will have to take my word for it that the answer is "plenty" — including $7,000,000 extracted from the Rockefeller family, an extraction that places Bobo in the genius class.

Now the Administration may ignore my solution for the payment of the public debt, but here goes. As a one-time society reporter in these environs, I love to browse in the society column of the Palm Beach and Miami newspapers.

One fact leaps from the society pages today, even as it did in the sweet long ago: Americans, for all their dedication to democracy, love titles, and the fancier the title, the more they love it. On the Florida Gold Coast, a titled visitor can live it up as a free-loading and free-wheeling house guest season after season.

Ike At Turning Point In Popularity?

WASHINGTON — Among the loud and insistent voices raised to persuade President Eisenhower that he should seek a second term after his heart attack had incapacitated him for several months were those of men close to the President who deeply and sincerely believed that he and alone could reshape the Republican party and lead the way to peace.

It is these admiring, almost worshipful friends who are today fearful that in the third month of his second term the President faces a kind of Great Divide in his position in the country. Either he must assert himself more forcefully than he has yet done during his occupancy of the White House in behalf of measures fundamental to his policies at home and abroad or see his hold on popular opinion rapidly eroded away.

associates, this seemed an invitation not so much to reduce the budget by orderly means as to attack it with political axes.

The Humphrey "curl your hair" statement set the economists in full cry. Many newspapers which went all out in lavish praise of Mr. Eisenhower to buttress the demand that he run again are now attacking the Administration for reckless spending.

Public opinion in America is notably capricious, particularly with heroes. General Ulysses S. Grant, after the Civil War, and Admiral George Dewey, after the Spanish-American War, reached a popularity and an adulation comparable to that of President Eisenhower's. But ultimately the tide of public favor turned and they came down nearly as fast as they went up.

Some of Mr. Eisenhower's most dedicated long-time admirers fear that such a turning point may have come for the President. They are concerned lest this be not merely the fall of a hero from the Pantheon of popularity but also the end of the policies and programs for which he has stood.

Copyright, 1957, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

The foreign-aid program is perhaps the best example. Those familiar, from the inside, with the workings of Congress say that the President must convert 25 to 30 Republican members of the House to the importance of going along with most of the $4.4 billion the Administration has requested for foreign aid.

If he does not do this, the appropriation is likely to be chopped down in such a way as to cripple not only the aid program but the foreign policy of which it is an important part.

In past years the Democrats have savaged the Administration on this and other issues. But today, according to those close to the situation, the Democratic party is so torn by frustrations and divisions that Democrats in Congress will not, in the words of one of their younger leaders, pull the Republican chestnuts out of the fire.

Whether Mr. Eisenhower will work on members of his own party in a direct, person-to-person way is doubtful. His associates say that he continues to feel as he did during his first term, that having made an earnest recommendation to Congress for legislation and appropriations, he has done his duty and it is improper to persuade and influence beyond this formal approach.

On domestic policy, the President has put the greatest stress on Federal aid for school construction with an Administration bill calling for $226,000,000 a year in grants to the states for four years. The widespread belief is that this measure is dead for the current session of Congress despite the growing shortage of classrooms throughout the country.

Much of the attack on the Administration, which is coming closer and closer to the President himself as a target, can be traced to the statement of Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey in January inviting Congress to cut the $71 billion budget. To some of the President's

And he had put down a new carpet only two days prior to the snow storm. It was damaged by the horde of unexpected weekend guests, some of whom had to sit and lie down in shifts during the height of the storm.

"The whole house came through fine," said Mrs. Brown, "including the bathroom."

Mrs. Brown said the bus company had expressed its appreciation for the care given its passengers. She said two truck drivers also placed a set of "Ma and Pa" cups and saucers in the Browns' mail box on U.S. Highway 66. Eleven of the 91 persons sheltered at the Brown house were truck drivers.

The Browns still disclaim any credit.

"We did no more than anyone else would have done had they had the opportunity," said Mrs. Brown.

Client Surplus

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — Attorney John H. Gately found himself in a "most unusual situation" in a court case here. He had one client too many.

Gately, a bit red faced, told Justice Robbins. He found he had the case, too, of Jerome H. Duchon Jr. Cars belonging to Robbins and Duchon were involved in a highway accident.

Gately, a big red faced, told Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane he didn't realize his clients were on opposite sides of the same accident. The judge permitted Gately to withdraw.

Jackpot Deluxe

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Mrs. Jerome O'Connor hit the jackpot when she took her 15 children out for hamburgers. She happened to stop at a drive-in that pays your check if the blue star comes up on the cash register sales slip. It did.

Siberia Milder?

WHITEHORSE, Y. T. — When five Hungarian refugees arrived in this Yukon Territory outpost, it was 20 below zero. The Whitehorse weekly editor quipped: "Presumably when they fled from Hungary, they anticipated they were escaping Siberia. I'm not so sure."

Luck Changes

ASHLAND, Va. — James Bergdoll, a senior at Randolph Macon College, reported his car stolen. He took a bus to Washington to participate in a discussion of the graduate school program at American University.

Near Fredericksburg, Va., he saw his car parked alongside U. S. 1. The bus driver obligingly waited 15 minutes while Bergdoll reported the find to State Police. The next day he stopped at Fredericksburg and recovered his car.

Science Fair To Be Held At Tech

LUBBOCK — A Science Fair, Engineering Show, the annual Varsity Show and a Home Economics Open House will highlight Texas Tech activities welcoming more than 2,000 area high school students to the campus April 12-13, for the Region I Interscholastic League Meet.

Classing Office Drive Is Short

LAMESA — The equipment fund goal of the Lamesa Cotton Classing Office is still almost $10,000 short of its goal, according to E. D. David, chairman of the special finance committee for the office.

It's Economic, Not Military Aid That Stirs Up Criticism

By RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States government is using around four billion dollars a year of your tax money to help other countries. Much of this goes for arms to strengthen the non-Communist world. Few congressmen question the value of this.

Other big chunks of money, however, are being spent for "economic assistance" around the world: to create jobs, grow more food, teach new skills, refine old crafts — in short, to lift standards of living.

friendly support of his government. "Tax incentives should be offered, to compensate a businessman for the risks inherent in foreign investment. "And we ought to refrain from financing governments in industrial enterprise. Ask first, if a project can't be handled by private enterprise."

Some 50 winners of local science fairs will be competing at Tech for two spots at the National Science Fair on May 9, in Los Angeles. Participants will exhibit either an experiment, or a scientific or industrial principle.

Plans for the office are expected to be in the hands of the Lamesa Cotton Growers late this week from the Regional Cotton Classing Office of the United States Department of Agriculture in Dallas.
