Final Adjournment Of State Legislature 'Few Days' Away

AUSTIN (AP)—Speaker Waggoner Carr said today final adjournment of the Legislature "should be within a few days."

He said that so far as the House is concerned, its calendar is in good shape and only two major chores remain: Adoption of the general spending bill and providing a pay raise for teachers.

Indirectly he placed responsibility for winding up the session—now in its 120th day—on the Senate.

Still dangling in the Senate are House approved measures which would finance teachers pay, and the water-saving flood-controlling program long earmarked as one of the session's major tasks.

Carr praised House members for meeting the bribery charge crisis "without flinching, without hesitating" and with courage.

"The House has pointed the way toward meeting our most pressing obligations without imposing any new taxes," Carr said.

Today marked the end of the period suggested by the Constitution as the duration of a general session. Legislators' pay drops to zero tomorrow.

Carr said that floor debate is scheduled to start soon on the two billion dollar spending bill.

"It's final figures will determine how much money will remain for the teachers," he said. "Affecting this balance will be Senate action on two revenue-raising measures, the school tuition bill and the one

House Okays 55 Uncontested Bills

AUSTIN (AP)—Working through their longest session, the House passed 55 local and uncontested bills in 12 hours from yesterday until 12:30 a. m. today.

Tempers grew hot in the late hours as some members of the segregation bloc—led by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla—voted against local measures by senators who opposed the segregation bills.

A bill by Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, who filibustered 15 hours against one of the segregation bills last week, got at least eight objections. Five objections on a local calendar automatically knocks it off until a later date.

Kazen's bill was a typical local measure to allow the County Commissioners Courts in counties from 7,500 to 15,000 population to increase the county judge stenographer's salary to $400 a month, if they desired.

Other bills by Sens. Preston Smith of Lubbock and Charles Herling of Austin also were knocked off temporarily, but were passed in a second go-around.

Rep. Bob Sutton of Dallas made a personal privilege speech when Rep. Thomas Joseph of Waco stopped consideration of Sutton's bill because it was an appropriations measure. The bill would have allowed the use of state funds to furnish transportation for school children in cities.

Passed 109-25 was a bill allowing the issuance of an occupation drivers license to a person who had been convicted of drunk driving and had his license taken away.

Bills passed included those which would:

- Allow counties to use jury panels in the order named and not by number. By Rep. Ben Ferrell of Tyler.
- Allow the naming of new jury panels, if the previous named were not enough. By Ferrell.
- Increase the compensation of district supervisors of levee improvement districts. By Rep. Louis Dugas of Orange.
- By Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene, authorize the annexation of certain rural high school districts by other districts, provided an election to the effect is held and approved in both districts.
- Allow insurance companies to invest in blue chip stocks and securities.
- Allow insurance companies to pay their officers up to $10,000 annually without consent of the stockholders.
- Allow cities to collect taxes on personal property of life insurance companies.
- Enlarge the purposes for which school bonds may be issued.
- By Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, authorize counties between 70,000 and 220,000 population to purchase ears for use by special investigators in the district attorney's office.

Provide medical and burial expenses for members of the Texas National Guard who may be injured or killed while in performance of duty.

By Rep. Bob Mullen of Alice, set the deer hunting season in Duval County.

By Rep. Hal Coley of Conroe, set the squirrel hunting season in Montgomery County.

By Rep. B. H. Dewey of Bryan, allow the Texas A&M System to lease lands belonging to its extension services for mineral development. Dewey said riders on the past major appropriations bill had taken care of the matter, but a bill was necessary since the attorney general had ruled the riders were of no effect.

By Rep. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, authorize the City of Galveston to dissolve or keep water control districts obtained during land annexation.

Regulate the taking of shrimp from Mosquito Bay and certain parts of the Gulf of Mexico.

By Sen. William Moore of Bryan, clarify the workmen's compensation program at Texas A&M.

By Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, allow school districts to annex military reservation school districts.

By Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock, authorize cities of 70,000 to 250,000 population to issue revenue bonds for the construction and maintenance of airports.

Authorize cities to issue revenue bonds covering one or more sources of revenue.

Clarify the lien law on oil land mineral property, making equalizations.

By Sen. Smith of Lubbock, create a workmen's compensation program for Texas Tech and setting regulations.

Authorize fresh water supply districts to set up sewage systems if approved by the local area in an election.

percent diversion from the permanent school fund to the available school fund, totalling about 21 million dollars, already passed by the House.

The House gave the conference committee working on final re-write of the spending bill two more possible headaches, which could bring a delay in its report.

This came in the midst of increasing demands for quick adjournment.

Rep. Harold Parish of Taft said he might introduce today a final adjournment—sine die—resolution which would call for the end of legislation either May 18 or 22.

After lunch yesterday with Speaker Waggoner Carr, Parish said the new dates "had been suggested."

Earlier yesterday Parish displayed a resolution to end the session May 15.

The possible headaches to the Appropriations Committee came when the House disregarded the Texas Commission on Higher Education and passed two bills making Tarleton State College and Midwestern University, state-supported senior institutions.

Either or both could call for additional appropriations. One bill (HB 24) would make Tarleton, now a 2-year college, a 4-year college. The other (HB 47) would allow the state to take over ownership and operation of Midwestern, now privately operated.

The Commission on Higher Education last month said it wanted more time to study the bills before it could make recommendations as provided by law. The House in effect said it was tired of waiting and sent the bills to the Senate.

Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, No. 1 man for the House on the Joint Appropriations Committee, said it was expected that the big money conference report would be on the members desks "in a few more days."

That was before the House approved the two college bills.

If both Houses adopt a sine die resolution, then all legislation must be enacted before that date. Homesick and restless legislators realized today was their last day for the $25 per diem.

Parish said Carr "also suggested" to perhaps wait on the sine die resolution until Friday at which time members expect to have the revised two billion dollar appropriations bill on their desks.

Segregation bloc bills reported favorably were:

- HB 235 which would provide education grants to private non-sectarian schools for pupils not wanting to attend integrated public schools.
- HB 236 which would require the attorney general to defend any litigation arising from the segregation measures.
- Four other House-passed segregation bills are on the Senate's calendar.

The House concurred 73-36 with a Senate amendment to another bill (HB 231) which was the subject of the record-breaking 2-day filibuster in the Senate last week.

The bill would allow assignment and transfer of students based on some 17 factors at the discretion of the school board.

It now goes to Gov. Price Daniel for his action.

Picketing Continues Around Drilling Rigs

Pickets continued to march around four-oil field rigs in Borden County Tuesday morning, but there were no reports of any violence.

At Gall, the office of Sheriff Sid Reeder said that the sheriff had returned to the scene of the picketing at 8 a. m. Rangers were in the area but the Gall office did not know how many were still at the scene.

The shutdown of the rigs was attempted Sunday night when union oil field workers turned out in mass. O. W. Clark, Odessa, organizer for Local 672 of the Union of Operating Engineers, said three of the four rigs had been shut down.

At Gall it was said there were no reports of any further spread of the troubles.

"The rangers and other officers were on the scene all night Monday," the sheriff's office reported.

E. V. Swygert, Lamesa, business agent for the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 672, said this morning that a Denver Drilling Company rig on the Miller Ranch was operating again today after being shut down for six hours. He said two Cactus Drilling Company rigs are inoperative.

Contradicting the union spokesmen's version of the results of the strike, Frank Garrett, vice president of Cactus Drilling Company, said that all of the rigs are still in operation.

"None of the rigs is shut down and all of my men stayed hitched but five," Garrett was quoted as reporting.

He also reported that union members "drove bumper-to-bumper, circled the rigs, crowded onto the derrick floors and mouthed curses and threats."

Clark, on the other hand, asserted that "no threats whatsoever" were made. "We didn't go to those rigs for fun," he added. "We went

GIRL IN 18TH DAY OF FAST

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Evelyn Jenkins began today the 18th day of what she plans to be at least a 21-day religious fast.

The pretty brunette, who says she had never been a member of a church until she "joined the Voice of Faith Temple last fall, began the fast for the "glory of God."

Her minister, the Rev. R. C. Cook, described the girl's appearance as "a little delicate."

Evelyn says at the end of three weeks "it will then be God's will whether I continue or not."

Bills Are Bogged Down In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to go directly to the people in an effort to rally support for his bogged-down legislative program.

But the White House said today there has been no decision yet on the manner and timing of the appeal.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference a decision probably will be deferred until after the President confers Thursday with congressional leaders on the administration's foreign aid program.

In response to questions, Hagerty said the White House so far has made no request to television and radio networks for time for a nationwide presidential address.

He added that he does not know for Eisenhower to make any such address this week, but emphasized he was not ruling out the possibility of a request for network time later.

The press secretary repeated that he wanted to stress there has been "no final decision on the format or form" that any appeal by Eisenhower may take.

Hagerty said he thought he had made it clear at a news conference a week ago that the President "intends to keep talking about many things, including his budget and foreign aid."

As an example of appeals Eisenhower already has made, Hagerty cited Eisenhower's informal talk last week to a delegation representing the League of Women Voters. In that speech the President plugged the administration's foreign aid program.

The budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 calls for $4,400,000,000 in foreign aid.

The program, as well as Eisenhower's plans to appeal directly to the people for support, will be up for discussion at the Thursday White House conference with

Jury Hears Testimony In Parr Case

HOUSTON (AP)—Operations of a school board divided into two groups which operated independently of each other were described today in the fourth George Parr mail fraud trial.

Parr and 10 codefendants from Duval County are charged with diverting over $200,000 in Benavides School District funds to personal use.

Troy Carey of Freer, school trustee from January, 1953, until last month, testified that prior to February, 1954, four members of the board handled affairs affecting Benavides and three members handled operations at Freer.

Carey said, however, that prior to the board's reorganization in February, 1954, the Benavides members handled all external affairs for the district, including submission of annual reports to the Texas Education Agency at Austin.

The witness said he did not know who supervised the district's tax assessor-collector office prior to February, 1954, but knew that such supervision did not come from the three Freer members of the board.

Three Negroes are on the jury. Parr and 10 codefendants pleaded innocent of charges alleging they diverted to their own use more than $200,000 of Benavides School District funds.

The first three trials ended in one hung jury and two mistrials. The first witness yesterday was T. J. O'Conner of the Texas Education Agency in Austin. He identified annual reports to the agency of the school district.

The government has alleged that numerous check expenditures listed in the reports submitted between Sept. 1, 1949 and Feb. 20, 1954, involved payments for equipment or services never received by the school district.

Formal pleas were entered after U. S. Atty. Malcolm Wilkey read the voluminous 20-count indictment. Defense counsel Percy Foreman entered the innocent pleas in behalf of two defunct banks Parr formerly headed, the Texas State Bank of Alice and the San Diego State Bank.

2 Girls, 15, Fall To Death

BOSTON (AP)—Two 15-year-old girls fell to their deaths today from the fourth story of a detention home, the House of the Good Shepherd, a Roman Catholic institution.

Police said the girls may have been trying to flee and may have fallen from a ledge outside the window.

The victims were Pauline Eiler and Marie Nicholson, both of Boston.

Their bodies were found on a pavement in a courtyard of the institution which is operated both as an institution for delinquent girls and a center for underprivileged.

The institution, operated by the Sisters Our Lady of Charity of the Good Shepherd, is in a densely built area on the border of suburban Brookline.

Altar, Flag Called McCarthy Epitome

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—The altar and the flag were described today as the "epitome of the life" of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

The Rev. Adam Grill, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, made the statement in a sermon prepared for delivery at the third and final funeral service for the Wisconsin Republican who died last Thursday of a liver ailment.

McCarthy's body was flown to Wisconsin yesterday after church services in Washington and a funeral service in the United States Senate.

"Before us we see the flag-draped casket of the senator, May Almighty God be good to him," Father Grill said. "If our God would allow him to use his lifeless arms, Sen. McCarthy would point out to all of us two objects in this church as an expression of his whole life. He would first point to the altar and secondly to the flag which drapes his casket. "Why would he do this? Because they contain the epitome of his life. Sen. McCarthy was a dedicated man. When he took upon himself a task, he gave his whole heart and soul to a successful completion of this work. He loved his God, and his country."

The funeral was held after thousands of McCarthy's friends who knew him not only as a turbulent senator, but as a friendly neighbor, had filed past his casket to pay their final respects.

McCarthy, guarded by two members of the Marine Corps, reposed in St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, and thousands strode past and signed four registers in the vestibule.

Police Chief Herbert Kapp estimated that 2,000 persons an hour walked past the casket in the first

Clean-Up Starts At Record Rate

Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Week started in a rush Monday as far as city trash crews were concerned.

The first three trials ended in one hung jury and two mistrials. The first witness yesterday was T. J. O'Conner of the Texas Education Agency in Austin. He identified annual reports to the agency of the school district.

The government has alleged that numerous check expenditures listed in the reports submitted between Sept. 1, 1949 and Feb. 20, 1954, involved payments for equipment or services never received by the school district.

Formal pleas were entered after U. S. Atty. Malcolm Wilkey read the voluminous 20-count indictment. Defense counsel Percy Foreman entered the innocent pleas in behalf of two defunct banks Parr formerly headed, the Texas State Bank of Alice and the San Diego State Bank.

The volume of trash and rubbish being collected caused Foresyth to put two additional trucks on the work today, making a total of seven. This is besides the garbage trucks which are making their regular rounds.

The weight of the Clean-Up Week has caused extra work on the garbage trucks, however, and all crews worked an hour overtime Monday, he said.

In addition to the Northside city crews today were to pick up rubbish on all streets and alleys west of Ayfford to the city limits and south of Eleventh.

Wednesday, the route will be on streets and alleys south of First and west of Goliad to Ayfford. This will include the Parkhill Addition and Edwards Heights.

This route will be covered Thursday and Friday also.

The first three days of next week, the city will cover the streets and alleys south of First from Goliad eastward to the city limits.

Whereas the garbage crews pick up only trash in garbage cans, the city will — during the drive — haul away all rubbish placed in the usual garbage disposal spots.

Hiss Insists On His Innocence In His Version Of Famed Case

NEW YORK — Alger Hiss in a book out today says that political pressure, public hysteria, fixed evidence and false testimony sent him to prison for 3 1/2 years.

The former State Department official, convicted of perjury in denying he gave confidential documents to ex-spy courier Whittaker Chambers, insists in the book that he was innocent, as he did throughout his two trials.

The 419-page book, "In the Court of Public Opinion," was published by Alfred A. Knopf, Inc. Hiss was released from prison in 1954. He, his wife and son have since lived quietly in New York.

"The ordeal of fighting false charges has disrupted my life and has brought pain to me and to my family," Hiss writes.

"But nothing can take away the satisfaction of having had a part in government programs in which I strongly believed... the creative efforts of the New Deal and in the formation of the United Nations."

Hiss, disbarred in New York and Massachusetts after his conviction, maintains in the book that testimony of ex-Communist Chambers, Chamber's wife and other government witnesses was at variance with documentary evidence.

His book includes numerous reproductions of such evidence introduced at his trials, the first of which ended in a hung jury.

Hiss, in giving his account of the affair, maintains that the typewriter on which copies of State Department documents were alleged to have been written was a planted fake.

He charges that Chambers' accusations of espionage against him were the result of pressure by the 1948 House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Hiss pictures then-Congressman Richard Nixon, now vice president, as the prime mover on the committee, an adviser to Chambers, and as the man who kept after the Justice Department to prosecute.

Hiss says he realizes now that his libel suit against Chambers "added heavily to the pressures on Chambers to pile charge upon charge by accusing me of espionage."

Chambers "must have received papers from persons whose identity he has never made public," Hiss said. "The documents he had received from others were used by him as the basis of his charges against me. In the committee he had a powerful ally in his venture."

Chambers told his side of the story in "Witness," published in 1952.

The plan's approval by the more than 1,300 members of the Supreme Soviet is certain. But the plan itself will take months and possibly years to realize fully. When and if it is completely achieved, it will give a new face to communism in operation in the Soviet Union. Many government ministries ultimately will be abolished or have their functions trimmed.

Britain Proposes Nuclear Arms Plan

LONDON — Britain has put forward a long-range plan calling for registering, limiting and finally stopping nuclear explosions.

An American spokesman declined to comment immediately on the British proposal made yesterday to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee.

The British plan suggested that Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union immediately draft an agreement for "advance registration" with the United Nations of nuclear test explosions. It also suggested "limited international observation" of all nuclear tests.

The plan would establish a committee of technical experts to "consider possible methods of limiting nuclear test explosions." This would lead to a cessation of nuclear tests after prohibition of the production of fissile material for weapons as part of a general disarmament agreement.

Britain's Conservative government has been under considerable pressure from the opposition Labor party to postpone its first hydrogen bomb test, scheduled for the Christmas Island area in the next few months.

Cmdr. Alan Noble, the British delegate to the subcommittee, told the five-nation group Britain is voluntarily undertaking to "conduct nuclear explosions in a way which would keep world radiation below the level where it would be hazardous."

Noble emphasized, however, that Britain "could not agree to the cessation of nuclear tests as an isolated step, but only as part of a general disarmament agreement."

TOKYO — A Japanese group today called off its widely publicized plans to send protest ships to the Christmas Island area during Britain's forthcoming hydrogen bomb tests.

A majority of the members of the executive group of the Japan Council Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs voted not to dispatch the two fishing boats it has contemplated sending to skirt the blast area.

Both the Japanese seamen's union and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi had opposed the "peace navy" plan. British officials indicated the boats would enter the danger area, nearly 1,000 miles around Christmas Island, at their own risk.

Viet Nam Chief Arrives In U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO — Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem, who arrived here yesterday for a state visit, today faced the same problem he left behind in Saigon — the status of the estimated 700,000 Chinese in his country.

Diem arrived from Honolulu last night in President Eisenhower's personal plane, the Columbine III, to find three of San Francisco's four Chinese newspapers carrying editorials deploring a set of decrees his government issued last August which makes Chinese-born in Viet Nam citizens of that country.

When Diem left Saigon Thursday several hundred Chinese had wrecked the first floor of the Chinese legation trying to get information on a reported offer by the Chinese Nationalist government to resettle them on Formosa.

The youthful-looking President landed at International Airport unconscious of the local Chinese sentiment against him. He was greeted by Mayor George Christopher and other dignitaries.

Diem is in the United States to seek increased aid over the 200 million dollars the country has received each year in anti-Communist support.

A spokesman for the President's party said the President would have no comment on the Chinese question until he reaches Washington. He is scheduled to leave here late tonight and arrive in the capital at noon Wednesday.

Students Arrested After Fresh Riots In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia — Many students were reported under arrest today after a fresh outbreak of antigovernment demonstrations in Bogota, a general business slowdown and continuing student strikes.

Police again moved in with tear gas and streams of dyed water to break up the rioting late yesterday. They were said to have seized and jailed "many" students from among the crowds.

In a radio-television address last night, President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla said three persons had been killed in Cali and two in Bogota.

The President described the situation in Colombia as a conflict between vested employer interests and the workers. He pledged the army would stand with the workers, "united unto death" if necessary.

There was no general strike call, but private banks, stores and most offices closed early yesterday. A curfew was nominally ended but only persons with permits were allowed on the streets.

The spreading student strikes were met by government orders to close all schools and universities. Ten newspapers across the country suspended publication, apparently in sympathy with the students.

The demonstrations began in protest against Rojas' plans to have himself re-elected by a Constituent Assembly that he named to rewrite Colombia's constitution. The President took power in a military coup in 1953 but is barred from succeeding himself under the present constitution.

Russia Plans Decentralizing Of Its Economy

MOSCOW — The Supreme Soviet convened today to approve a sweeping decentralization of Soviet economy involving everything from vast industrial enterprises to corner groceries.

Russia's equivalent of Parliament opened its special session in the Kremlin's marble-pillared former throne room of the Czars. The Soviet put the economic plan at the top of its agenda.

During deliberations in the next few days the legislators will approve the administrative resolution drafted by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev. The plan completely revamps the monolithic economic structure the Kremlin built up over the last 40 years.

Until now, the Soviet economy has been directed by several dozen big ministries in Moscow. The new plan calls for a territorial system of organization. The central government will still set the broad lines of policy and planning, control prices and wages, allocate scarce materials and check on production by each region.

But economic councils of the various administrative-economic regions of the Soviet Union will take over planning for local production and supervision of local performance, cutting many of the administrative strings that now lead back to Moscow.

The plan's approval by the more than 1,300 members of the Supreme Soviet is certain. But the plan itself will take months and possibly years to realize fully. When and if it is completely achieved, it will give a new face to communism in operation in the Soviet Union. Many government ministries ultimately will be abolished or have their functions trimmed.

Swedish Princess To Wed Her Hero

LONDON — The London Daily Mail said today it had learned Swedish Princess Margaretha plans to marry her British suitor of noble lineage but only $126-a-week income.

The Mail said the beautiful, 22-year-old granddaughter of King Gustaf VI and Queen Douglas-Horne have agreed, however, to wait two years. A 25-year-old nephew of the Earl of Home, he writes advertising copy by day and plays the piano for a hotel cocktail hour.

The advertising agency pays him 15 pounds ($42) a week, the hotel twice as much.

Friends of Douglas-Horne also insisted the romance is still very much alive despite the strong opposition of the Scandinavian royal family, which recoiled at the thought of having a son-in-law who plays piano for money in a cocktail bar.

Douglas-Horne put in his usual stint at the keyboard last night. Among the numbers he played were "Singing the Blues," "Our Love Is Here to Stay" and "I'm in the Mood for Love." But he told reporters:

"It is not my place to say anything. As far as I am concerned this is a purely personal matter between two people."

The romance flowered during a visit Princess Margaretha made to London last winter to improve her English. She went home in March, and Douglas-Horne wrote the Swedish royal family asking for her hand.

He confirmed that he received a written turn-down from Margaretha's mother, Princess Sibylla, but declined to disclose what it said.

Marooned Birds Turning Neurotic

OKLAHOMA CITY — More than a dozen sparrows marooned on an oil drilling rig off the Louisiana shore for seven months are showing signs of turning neurotic.

"The sparrows can't see land and they're afraid to fly," reported Ross Cummings, public relations director for Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc. "In fact they hardly ever fly."

The birds built nests on the rig when it was under construction at Pascagoula, Miss. They stayed when it was floated into the Gulf of Mexico in the east Cameron area last November. They live on scraps tossed to them by workmen.

O'Neill, Sen. Kennedy Win Pulitzer Prizes In Literature

NEW YORK (AP)—The late dramatist Eugene O'Neill has won his fourth Pulitzer Prize and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) has won the first ever bestowed on a member of Congress.

The awards were among 14 Pulitzer Prizes in letters, journalism and music announced yesterday by the trustees of Columbia University.

O'Neill received the drama award posthumously for his autobiographical play "Long Day's Journey Into Night." It is a current Broadway hit.

The biography prize went to Kennedy, 39-year-old Massachusetts Democrat, for his "Profiles in Courage." The book is a study of political integrity as exemplified by selected U. S. politicians, some famed and some obscure.

"I'm delighted—more than delighted," said Kennedy when told of the award.

Mrs. Carlotta Monterey O'Neill, widow of the playwright, said she now knows she "did the right thing" in violating a 25-year embargo on "Journey." She authorized production of the drama here last year.

O'Neill wrote the play in 1941 but he said he did not want it staged in the United States until 25 years after his death. He died in 1953.

Only poet Robert Frost and the late playwright-biographer Robert Sherwood have also won four Pulitzer Prizes in the 40-year history of the awards.

O'Neill previously won Pulitzer Prizes for "Beyond the Horizon" (1920), "Anna Christie" (1922) and "Strange Interlude" (1928).

No fiction award was made this year. Kenneth Roberts received a special citation, however, for his novels on the nation's early history.

Eight prizes were granted in the field of journalism.

The Chicago Daily News took the meritorious public service award for exposing a 2½-million-dollar fraud in the office of the then state auditor of Illinois, Orville E. Hodge.

The work of 21 of the newspaper's staff members ultimately led to Hodge's imprisonment.

The Pulitzer Prizes were established in 1917 under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the old New York World.

The Columbia trustees grant the awards each year from recommendations made by an advisory board. Most of the advisers are newspaper executives.

The journalism awards are worth $1,000 each, except for the meritorious service prize. A gold medal is awarded for it.

The prizes for music and letters are worth $500 apiece.

The awards, except for those in drama and music, are for work completed or published in 1956.

Other winners announced yesterday:

History—George F. Kennan, former U. S. ambassador to Russia, for "Russia Leaves the War."

Poetry—Richard Wilbur for his "Things of this World."

Music—Norman Dello Joio for "Meditations on Ecclesiastes."

Local reporting under pressure of edition time—Salt Lake Tribune for "prompt and efficient coverage" of the crash of two airliners in the Grand Canyon last June 30.

Local reporting when there was no edition pressure—Wallace Tyener and William Lambert' of the Portland Oregonian for exposing "vice and corruption" in the Teamsters Union in Portland. The probe touched off others elsewhere and embroiled Teamsters President Dave Beck.

National reporting—James Reston of the New York Times for "distinguished national correspondence," particularly his five-part analysis of the effect of President Eisenhower's illness on the functioning of the executive branch of the government.

International reporting—Russell Jones of the United Press for "excellent and sustained coverage of the Hungarian revolt."

Editorial writing—Buford Boone president and publisher of the Tuscaloosa (Ala.) News, for his "fearless and reasoned editorials in a community inflamed by a segregation issue."

Cartoon—Tom Little of the Nashville Tennessean for his cartoon "Wonder Why My Parents Didn't Give Me Salk Shots." It depicts a small boy, on crutches and with his legs in braces, watching other youngsters his age playing football.

Photography—Harry A. Trask of the Boston (Mass.) Traveler for his aerial picture sequence of the sinking of the Italian liner Andrea Doria last July 26.

Reporter Has First Mishap With Army's New T-44 Rifle

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ben Price is a former Marine combat officer and a former combat correspondent in Korea, but he had personal trouble with the Army's new T-44 rifle. Here is his story.

By BEM PRICE

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP)—For 10 years the Army tested its new T-44 rifle without accident or incident—and then I came along.

I test-fired the light and heavy models of the new weapon—and it is one sweet rifle—at the Army proving ground here late yesterday and promptly managed to wound myself slightly in a freak accident.

There are two versions of the T-44 and each is an answer to an infantryman's prayer.

These weapons, which carry 20 rounds in a box clip, are the superior answer to the Russian-made burp guns which beat out our brains on night patrols in Korea where the range was short and the object, at least, was to make the other guy keep his head down.

They are also the answer to the soldier's demand for a weapon which, while laying down a lot of lead, can deliver single shot aimed fire.

There is one beautiful characteristic of these weapons. There is a setting device on each to determine whether the rifle will function semiautomatically or as a full automatic weapon at the theoretical rate of 800 rounds per minute.

By setting the screw and then removing it from the weapon, the unit commander, be it of a squad or a division, can tailor his firepower to the tactical situation.

Green troops have a habit of shooting up their ammunition blindly in a tight spot. By building fire teams of green troops around one or more veterans equipped with the fully automatic device, a commander can control his unit's rate of fire.

Veterans of World War II and Korea will find the T-44 much easier to handle because it is better balanced. The thing, however, kicks as much as the M1, or Garand, which fires eight shots.

The light and heavy models of the T-44 are intended to replace the Garand rifle, the semiautomatic carbine, the model 1918 Browning automatic rifle and the submachinegun known as the "grease gun."

As of now these five weapons require three types of ammunition, the T-44 only one. The new ammunition is still .30 caliber though designated as 7.62mm.

The cartridge has been redesigned to conform with that used by our North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, but packs just as much punch as the standard .30 caliber.

By reducing the number of weapons issued to troops the Army hopes to speed training in basic weapons for combat units.

Much has been made of the fact that the T-44 is lighter than the Garand. Actually when equipped with sling and full magazine the M1 weighs 10½ pounds, the T-44 10¼ pounds.

This brings me around to how I fouled up the Army. While I was firing the heavy model of the T-44 the spring-operated lock on the bipod attached to the muzzle came loose and slipped off. Since I was firing full automatic I managed to clip the bipod with a solid .30 caliber shot and scattered metal all over the landscape—including my left arm, which was hit in four places. I'll live.

Amnesia Attack Admitted As Hoax

SEATTLE (AP)—A railroad time-keeper who told Seattle police May 3 he could remember nothing about himself prior to September 1955 and asked help in finding out who he was, was arrested yesterday by the FBI as a deserter from the Marine Corps.

Richard D. Auerbach, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, said a fingerprint check showed the man who called himself James John Kelly is really Joseph James Krankotz Jr., Butler, Pa.

Auerbach said Krankotz walked away from a Marine Corps training camp at Twentynine Palms, Calif., Sept. 20, 1955.

Krankotz admitted to the FBI his story of an amnesia attack was a hoax.

Giving A Lift

An attraction in West Berlin is a chair lift which covers about a mile allowing sight-seers to view reconstruction work in the World War II destroyed northeast section of the city. This is the site of an international building exhibition scheduled to be opened in July. At the left is the victory statue erected after the Franco-Prussian War in 1870.

Howard Wildcat Is Completed On 1,195-Barrel Daily Potential

The Woodson Oil No. 1 Pauline completed Monday in the northeast corner of Howard County as one of the biggest wildcat wells in the county.

Producing from the Canyon Reef, it finished for a daily calculated potential of 1,195.2 barrels of oil. It actually flowed only 10 hours but made 498 barrels of oil through an 18-64-inch choke.

The well is situated about 22 miles northeast of Big Spring. It is half a mile north and slightly east of the lone producer in the Vincent (upper Canyon) pool and three-fourths miles northwest of the lone producer in the Vincent (lower Canyon) field.

Shell No. 1-A Miller continued to swab today. It is a wildcat 646 from south and 1,982 from east lines, 275-97, H&TC Survey, eight miles east of Gall. After acidizing, it swabbed five barrels of fluid (80 per cent oil) in two hours and then shut down for two hours.

Operator ran the swab once and recovered three barrels of fluid. In the next 14 hours, operator ran the swab once every two hours and made 10 barrels of fluid, cut 20 per cent water. In all, it brought 10.8 barrels of fluid above the total log. Perforations in the Pennsylvania are from 7,815-25 feet.

Tidewater No. 1-B Clayton-Johnson drilled to 9,230 feet today. It is a wildcat 10 miles southwest of Gall, 660 from south and 2,019 from east lines, 9-32-4n, T&P Survey.

Sinclair No. 1 Koonsman, 12 miles southeast of Gall, was testing without gauges at a plug-back depth of 8,460 feet. It is C NW SE, 27-2, T&NO Survey.

McRae No. 1 Landers projected to 11,914 feet in line and chert. It is a wildcat 14 miles west of Lamesa, 1,894 from north and 2,348 from east lines, Labor 4, League 280, Hutchinsonian CSL Survey.

Texas Crude No. 1-79 Lindsey made hole at 6,285 feet in line. The Pennsylvania wildcat is 1,650 from south and 2,310 from east lines, 79-M, EL&RR Survey, 18 miles north-east of Lamesa.

Humble No. 1 Britt drilled to 7,681 feet in sand and shale after taking a drillstem test. Operator tested from 7,618-81 feet with the tool open two hours, and it recovered 150 feet of slightly gas and oil-cut mud. Operator cored from 7,656-81 feet and recovered 25 feet of sand and shale with shows of oil. It is 660 from north and west lines, Labor 16, League 3, Taylor CSL Survey.

Glasscock Shell No. 1 Currie, six miles north of Garden City, waited on cement to set 9 1/2-inch casing at 5,100 feet. It is a wildcat 665 from north and 951 from east lines, 24-34-3s, T&P Survey.

Wilbanks-Rutter No. 1 McDaniel cored today at 6,001 feet in an unreported zone. It is a Clear Fork wildcat C SE SE, 33-35-4s, T&P Survey.

Labor Probe Turns To Bakers Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee opened hearings today on charges of corruption within the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union but made public no "indictment" such as was issued yesterday at a similar hearing on the Teamsters' Union.

Henry Kaiser, attorney for Curtis R. Sims, bakery workers secretary-treasurer, said the ethical practices group plans to recess the hearings from today until May 25. The Teamsters' hearings have been recessed until May 24.

Albert G. Hayes, chairman of the AFL-CIO group, said in a statement opening the Bakers' hearing that information available to the committee concerning the union "raised a serious question as to whether there have been violations of the standard of trade union ethics prescribed by the AFL-CIO constitution in the manner in which the affairs of this union were conducted."

The charges never have been spelled out, but Sims has accused Bakery Union President James Cross and Vice President George Stuart, now resigned, of alleged misuse of union funds. A detailed summary of his charges was reportedly read at this morning's closed committee hearing, but was not made public.

The committee yesterday presented the embattled Teamsters' Union and its president Dave Beck with a 22-page "indictment" listing charges against Beck and a number of other national and local officers of the trucking union, which claims a 1 1/2 million membership. The Teamsters were given until May 24 to answer the counts or show they recognize union misdeeds and intend to clean them up.

The charges involved in the Bakery Workers case are less spectacular than those against the Teamsters. Curtis R. Sims, the Bakery secretary-treasurer, has accused the union president, James C. Cross, of misuse of union funds. Sims made similar accusations against George Stuart, a vice president who has since resigned.

Both denied the charges, and the union's board suspended Sims. In the factional alignment that followed, Herman Winter, president emeritus of the Bakery organization, sided with Cross.

Sims said last month that understood Cross was repaying to the union some $2,500 for personal telephone calls to a girl friend and that he also was returning to the union "three embarrassing Cadillac."

Cross replied through a spokesman that although there was nothing improper "in my use of the telephone or in accepting an automobile gift," he was paying for the phone calls and returning the car.

When Winter criticized Sims for carrying his charges to the newspapers, Sims replied in a letter: "Is public knowledge of the truth a greater union crime than the scandalous misuse of a union's money by its highest official?"

The Teamsters' Beck, despite his difficulties, has received a new vote of confidence from his union's board. The group, on motion of Union Vice President James R. Hoffa, of Detroit, unanimously expressed confidence in Beck yesterday.

At no time has there been any discussion about the general press question before this board that he resign, and the board goes on supporting the general president as it has in the past," a resolution said.

The probe of Beck's activities—and those of the Teamsters—by the AFL-CIO grew out of Beck's March appearance before the Senate committee.

At that time he invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times in refusing to tell about his use of $300,000 to $400,000 in union funds. He has publicly acknowledged using that amount.

Band Banquet Slated Tonight
Two days of spring activities come to a close this evening for the Big Spring High School Band when band members and their parents are guests of the Band Boosters Club at a banquet in the Garden Country Club.

The event will start at 7 p. m. New band officers and the band sweetheart for next year will be introduced, and a number of awards will be presented.

Following the banquet, there will be a dance, to which members of the junior high band and their guests also are invited.

Both high school and junior high bands were presented in their annual concerts at the high school auditorium last night. A crowd that more than half filled the hall applauded both groups vigorously.

A favorite of the audience was the clarinet quartet, Julius Glickman, Mike Jarratt, Billy Evans and Vincent Friedwald, with the interpretation of "Caprice."

A trombone trio, Bud Hill, Pat Flynn and Billy Roger, playing "Slippery Gentlemen," also was a special favorite of the crowd.

Lamesa Junior High Band Concert Set
LAMESA — The annual spring concert of the Junior High School "Green Warrior" band will be presented at 8 p. m. today in the Junior High auditorium.

The program will include "Ballet Paraisien" by Jacques Offenbach; "Eroica Overture," "El Albalco March," "Marche Lorraine," "Death and the Maiden," "Giant," "Green Door," "Banana Boat Song," "Colonel Bogey March," the National Anthem and for a novelty number "Little Boy Riding Hood—A Pop Fairy Tale for Hip Kids." Joe Max Wheat is the narrator for this number.

Eldon Mahon Gets Citation As Prosecutor

Eldon Mahon, state's attorney for the 32nd judicial district since 1948, was among prosecutors cited for outstanding work by the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation.

The foundation is a non-profit educational unit established in 1955. The citation was made at the annual foundation dinner held in Austin Monday evening in connection with the attorney general's annual conference.

Mahon was cited for his record of obtaining convictions during his tenure in office; for protecting the accused who are not guilty; persistence in gathering evidence and thoroughness of investigation; and as a popular law enforcement speaker. During the time he has been prosecutor, Mahon has successfully pleaded for 14 convictions for murder.

Bill Allcorn, Brownwood, was also cited by the foundation, especially for his work in attempting to rehabilitate people whom he has been instrumental in convicting.

Warren Rites Set At Lamesa

LAMESA — Funeral services for James William Warren, 85, were set for 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church of Lamesa.

A resident of Lamesa for the past four years, Mr. Warren passed away early Monday at a Lamesa Hospital. He was a native of Stoddard County, Missouri. A member of the Baptist Church for 64 years, at the time of his death he was a member of the church.

The pastor, the Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, will conduct services. Interment, under the direction of the Higginbotham Funeral Home, was to be at Lamesa Memorial Park.

Among survivors are two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Leavelle and Mrs. Leo Johnston, both of Lamesa; three sons, Al Warren of Shreveport, La.; O. G. Warren of Wichita Falls and Guy Warren of Lake Charles, La.

Hiltbrunner In Police School

Police sergeant Alvin Hiltbrunner is currently attending classes at the state police school at Texas A&M.

Hiltbrunner started to class Monday. The school will continue through May 31. The city makes it a policy to send two men per year to the school, but this year, the city decided to send one in the spring and the other in the fall, rather than having two men go at the same time.

The training includes all types of criminology, firearms, court procedure, and investigation.

While Hiltbrunner is in school there, the remainder of the department is taking a first aid course here two days per week, Monday and Thursday. Otto Peters is instructor. C. L. Rogers, police chief, said student nurses from Medical Arts Hospital also are taking the course.

Police Pick Up Hand Grenades

Police picked up two hand grenades from a garage here this morning.

The grenades were of the tear gas variety.

Mrs. George Hall, 2204 Runnels, called the police department and wanted the grenades removed. She was cleaning out a garage and found them. Officers carried them to the police station.

Dates on them showed they were prepared in 1942.

Stephens Re-Elected As Y Club President
James Howard Stephens has been re-elected president of the Sophomore Hi-Y Club and will serve as president of the junior club next year.

Other officers for next year are Bill French Jr., vice president; Eddie Kinney, treasurer; Frankie Williamson, secretary; Bennie McCrary, chaplain; and Chubby Moser, parliamentarian.

The officers will be installed during dedication ceremonies to be conducted at 11 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

Prowlers Cause Four Alarms Here
Four separate calls about prowlers were made to the police department early today.

Two of the calls were from the same address in the 600 block of Lancaster, about 30 minutes apart. The other calls were from the 200 block of State and the 1400 block of Stadium.

Police did not find anyone in the areas.

Thieves Take Money From Jewelry Case
About $38 was taken from a residence here Thursday.

V. L. Bennett, 1612 E. 17th, told officers that the money was in a jewelry box. Entry was made into the house through a back window. The burglary was sometime Thursday.

FEW REMAIN ON THE JOB

Things are at a standstill almost in the Howard County courthouse.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, is out of town until Thursday. District Attorney Guilford Jones is attending the annual Attorney General's Conference in Austin.

Judge Charlie Sullivan, 118th District Court, will be away from his office through Wednesday.

Mrs. Viola Robinson, county tax assessor, is at the annual commissioners' tax collectors in Fort Worth.

Harvey Hooser Jr., county attorney, who is leaving his post on May 15, is taking one week of the two weeks vacation which he has coming to him.

Dry Weather Prevails In East

By The Associated Press
Dry and fairly mild weather prevailed in most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation today as rain sprinkled some Western areas.

The precipitation was generally light and widely scattered in the Rocky Mountain region and from western North Dakota through Washington and Oregon.

Floods continued to threaten areas along the Red River in Louisiana. The most critical region appeared to be at Campit, north of Natchitoches. Thousands of acres of land were under water between Natchitoches and Shreveport, 60 miles northwest.

Warming was reported from the Great Lakes region to the Dakotas and southward through Texas.

Sailing The Hard Way

Sailing a racing dinghy has its moments of tension for Mrs. Jim Kenny of Chichester. Her husband, background, is rear commodore of a sailing club. Scene of this action is Chichester Harbor — and this near-horizontal pull continued for nearly 30 miles.

Ceramic Atom Fuel Used In Dallas Reactor

DALLAS (AP)—The first successful operation of an atomic power reactor using only ceramic fuels was disclosed here today.

Four scientists and engineers from Argonne National Laboratory described the new type of fuel in a report to the national conference of the American Ceramic Society. The ceramic fuel is used in place of metal.

The research team said ceramic fuels will withstand high temperatures and are highly resistant to corrosion in water.

Argonne is operated by the University of Chicago for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The scientists said ceramic fuel elements in a reactor do not, like metallic fuel elements, grow and become distorted under intense irradiation.

Under some conditions, they said, metallic fuel elements have been known to double in length. Such physical changes can be dangerous, they said.

Development work was done at the laboratory's main site at Lemont, Ill., and the pellets are now being used in an experimental reactor at Argonne's branch at the national reactor testing station near Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Some 2,000 sailors on three British warships are worried, because a dollar a day is all they're getting when they attend the U. S. naval review at Norfolk June 8-17.

Not Far On A Dollar A Day

LONDON (AP)—How far can a far go on a dollar a day in Norfolk, Va.?

Some 2,000 sailors on three British warships are worried, because a dollar a day is all they're getting when they attend the U. S. naval review at Norfolk June 8-17.

The ships are Britain's biggest aircraft carrier, the Ark Royal, and the destroyers Diamond and Duchess.

The daily spending money limit was fixed by the British treasury, which suffers a chronic shortage of U. S. currency.

British newspapers reported some of the sailors are grumbling that they will be known around Norfolk as "just another bunch of poor Limeys." An admiralty spokesman said he thought a dollar a day would be enough—"they will live on board, where all essentials are available."

Atoms For Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The United States will bolster the Chinese Nationalist bastion of Formosa with Matador guided missiles capable of carrying nuclear warheads, the U. S. Embassy said today.

Search Begins For Italian Premier

ROME (AP)—President Giovanni Gronchi today began the search for a politician to patch together a new government from Italy's moderate center front.

The center coalition's collapse forced Premier Antonio Segni to resign last night after 22 months in office.

Seen as strong possibilities were two prominent lawyers, both members of Segni's Christian Democratic party. They are Adone Zoli, finance minister in the old government, and Guido Gonella, minister without portfolio under Segni.

Another Christian Democrat premier appeared certain. Although short of a majority in the 590-member Chamber of Deputies, the party's 262 seats are 119 more than the second-place Communists.

Segni's teetering four-party coalition of Christian Democrats, Social Democrats (anti-Communist Socialists), Republicans and Liberals fell apart last night when Vice Premier Giuseppe Saragat and the three other Socialist ministers pulled out of the Cabinet.

Italy's Western-aligned foreign policy was not an issue. The four parties had been hickering for months over domestic issues. The Republicans quit the Cabinet two months ago—saying they wanted a freer hand—but continued to vote with the government on major issues in Parliament.

The Social Democrats, headed by Saragat, had been threatening to quit for some time so they could reunite with the bigger left-wing Socialist party and campaign under one banner in future elections.

It seemed unlikely, however, that Saragat would press for a general election soon. Observers say the two Socialist parties have a lot to do before they can patch up their 10-year rift and enter elections as a unified group.

Copters To Aid In Rescue Of Deer

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Coast Guard, National Guard and private helicopters joined forces today for an attempt to rescue 500 starving deer driven from feeding areas by high water.

Officials of the Fish and Wildlife Service said the deer were trapped in marshes near the mouth of the Mississippi River. Some already have died of starvation, a spokesman said.

Veto By Ike Looms Over Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hint of a presidential veto preceded House consideration today of a bill to expand mortgage credit and set up new home-buying preferences for war veterans.

House leaders called up the big one-package housing measure, Rep. Talle (R-Iowa) said a "bad bill" would be sure to invite a veto.

Both Talle and Republican leaders left no doubt they considered as a "bad bill" the measure sent to the House by the Democratic majority of the House Banking Committee.

The House Veterans Affairs Committee also has opposed the bill's provision for a special veterans housing program under the Federal Housing Administration and the inclusion of some GI provisions which the veterans affairs group had rejected earlier.

With backing of the Eisenhower administration, Talle was ready to offer as a substitute another measure omitting all veterans preference provisions. The administration, he said, will "go along with it."

Public housing is not involved in the present bill.

Rep. Rains (D-Ala.), author of the committee bill, said it is "almost altogether a mortgage credit bill" to make homebuying easier and act as a spur to the lagging home construction industry.

Both the Democratic and Republican bills go beyond administration recommendations for easing mortgage financing and for standby authority to lower down payments on homes bought with government-insured mortgages.

Chief controversy centers on provisions of the Democratic bill to:

1. Use a billion dollars of National Service Life Insurance trust funds to ease GI home financing through open market purchase of veterans mortgages.

2. Create a new veterans housing program within FHA giving veterans special down-payment preferences equal to half the down payment required of nonveterans. GI mortgage guarantees are now provided by the Veterans Administration.

3. Give the VA and FHA authority to fix "reasonable limits" on charges, fees and discounts assessed by lenders in financing GI mortgages.

Chairman Teague (D-Tex) of the Veterans Affairs Committee said he didn't "want any part of the NSLI thing," asserting, "we are heading for trouble if we start going into government trust funds."

He also charged that creation of a veterans program in FHA "would just increase the cost of homes to veterans" through higher FHA interest rates.

Both the Rains and Talle bills would lower existing FHA down payment requirements. The Talle bill would provide additional liberalization of down payments for higher-priced homes in the $16,000 mortgage bracket.

Both bills also would increase the borrowing authority of the Federal National Mortgage Assn. for secondary market purchase of government-backed home mortgages.

The Eisenhower administration asked for only half a billion dollar increase in FNMA's financing operations. The Rains bill would raise this to 1 1/2 billion, the Talle bill to two billion.

Imported Heroin Seized In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—A cache of pure heroin which officers said they thought was imported from Communist China was seized here last night.

Walter Scott Miller, 52, a Houston truck driver, was charged with possession of narcotics. Officers said the batch had a value of about $7,500 on the local market.

A Bible Thought For Today

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (St. John 15:15)

A Lot Of Eggs In One Basket

In December of 1953 President Eisenhower told the United Nations that the development of nuclear weapons "has been such that atomic weapons have virtually achieved conventional status with our armed services."

This theme was restated recently before a House Military Subcommittee, made public this week, by Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, Wilson put it thus: U.S. defense policy is based on atomic weapons in a major way and "on the use of such atomic weapons as would be militarily feasible and usable in a smaller war, if such a war is forced on us."

Adm. Radford said the "atomic weapon" is integrated into all our plans and programs. Our force levels (the number of men) are based on their use.

While this newspaper has always plugged for the strongest atomic capability possible, we have many times pointed out the danger of putting all our defense eggs in that one basket. We have thought the steady reduction of manpower in the Army and Navy an unwise procedure for the simple reason that when our dependence is placed too much on atomic weapons it automatically makes an atomic war the only kind we could sustain. With our principal if not sole dependence wholly committed to the atom to the neglect of so-called conventional armament we must perforce shoot from the hip in case of war—even a small war—with atomic weapons.

Our potential enemy, Russia, has gone in for atomic weaponry too, but it has built 500 to 600 modern submarines meantime and kept its "force levels" and its conventional weaponry at almost full wartime strength.

Under such conditions we could not even think of engaging in an atomic disarmament agreement with any nation, much less a treacherous and conscienceless foe like the Soviet Union, because we would have little left with which to defend ourselves. At enormous expense we would have to recreate and maintain huge "conventional" armed forces to achieve even a minimum of security, after throwing away the deterrent effect of atomic weapons. Anything less would be suicidal folly.

Have You Cleaned Up Yet?

Here we are in the midst of another Clean-Up Week, and we can sincerely hope that everyone gets a good case of the spring housecleaning fever.

After all, that's what it amounts to—this business of a clean and nice appearing city. Good housekeeping outside as well as inside the house makes the difference between an untidy, unsafe and unhealthy home and town.

The starting point for a brighter, better looking town is right in your own backyard. So pitch in at once and gather up all the old trash and refuse before the city's trucks go by and you miss the free hauling.

Get your place straightened up and perhaps the families next door will do the same. If you want something done about the vacant lot, we can give a tip on that—just do it yourself. The owner is probably too tight or just doesn't give a hoot about how it detracts from your neighborhood.

One of the biggest assets toward a general clean up campaign, into which the citizens enter with a good spirit, is in boosting community morale. Everyone looks better when scrubbed up and clad in a new suit—and so do towns.

Besides that, we will have a healthier city when summer comes around, and we'll have a safer city because accident and fire hazards will have been reduced. All of this, however, depends upon you. Have you cleaned up yet?

Demos Gird For Public Power Fight

WASHINGTON — While there is less than complete harmony in the upper echelons of the Democratic party—and in view of the conspicuous absences at the $100-a-plate dinner on Saturday night, this is probably the understatement of the year—the Democrats are loud in their conviction that they have the issues to win in the Congressional elections next year.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who was among the absentees, has been hammering away at the added spending requests of the State Department against the background of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statements of four years ago that the department could be made more efficient by spending less money and keeping fewer people in diplomatic missions overseas.

Johnson, whose tireless energy belies the reports that he is slowing down for reasons of health, has been unkind enough to suggest that Dulles was playing politics in his earlier economy talk.

But the issue uniting a surprising range of Democrats in Congress is the Hell's Canyon dam in Idaho. The weekend meeting put added steam behind Hell's Canyon, with former President Truman in his most characteristic give-'em-hell style giving the Republicans hell on the Hill's Canyon.

The present strategy is to bring up the bill providing for Federal construction of the high dam at the Hell's Canyon site within the next two weeks in the Senate. The idea is to capitalize on the indignation over the granting by the Office of Defense Mobilization of a fast tax write-off to the Idaho Power Company on the cost of the smaller dams the company has been authorized to construct.

Even such a conservative Democrat as Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia has expressed his resentment over what opponents of the private company say is an interest-free loan of $30,500,000 that will amount, with compound interest at 6 per cent, to a subsidy of $329,000,000 over the life of the dams.

When the same issue was up last July, it was defeated by a vote of 51 to 41. Thirty-nine Democrats and two Republicans, Senators William Langer of North Dakota and Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, sin, voted for Federal construction of the big dam. Republican Senators reported then that in the three and a half years of the Eisenhower Administration they had never before been under such pressure.

The same pressures will be applied again. Nevertheless, those favoring Federal construction believe they have a chance of victory. Three Republican Senators who voted for the private power company have been replaced by Democrats who are for Federal development. Price Daniel from Texas has been replaced by Ralph Yarborough, who has indicated he will vote for the public dam.

Georgia's influential Senator Richard B. Russell is also said to be ready to vote on the public power side. And if Senator Byrd cannot bring himself to approve Federal appropriations for a power dam, Federal appropriations for a power dam, he might at least, along with his colleague from Virginia, Senator A. Willis Robertson, be absent when the roll is called. This last possibility, reflecting the optimism of those planning the Hell's Canyon strategy, must be taken with at least a barré of salt.

A victory in the Senate would improve the chances of the bill for Federal construction in the House where the hazard has been greater. Should it get through both houses, President Eisenhower would almost certainly veto it.

Proponents of public power believe they then would have clearly and unmistakably drawn the line, insuring Democratic gains in the West in 1958. The Democrats are confident they will pick up some House seats. Last fall the Republicans took only one out of four of the seats from Oregon which not long ago had been considered a Republican stronghold.

Democratic enthusiasm over issues is in conspicuous contrast to the lack of enthusiasm over the national organization. National Chairman Paul Butler is rated an earnest, idealistic man. But he has little support in the party, and party leaders say privately they see slight hope of raising money to pay off the campaign debt until a new chairman can be agreed upon.

Ignoring his critics, Butler is going ahead with a grass-roots organization that he believes will bring in thousands of small contributions.

The opposition party traditionally is subject to dissensions, and the longer it is out of power the greater is the conflict. Following their 20 years of tenure, the Democrats have now been out for four and a half years, and what is happening is hardly surprising.

There Are Four Political Parties

WASHINGTON — Democrats and Republicans both look like they've been hit on the head with an ax that kept on going. They're both split down the middle.

For more than four years President Eisenhower has acted towards Congress as if he thought his role was to be a tranquilizer to keep it soothed and relaxed.

But it seems he's fresh out of pills. He's in a trouble. And he looks puzzled. His Republicans are milling around, aching to cut his budget.

The two most distinguished Democratic leaders — former President Truman and would-be President Adlai Stevenson — at a party get-together here over the weekend cautioned Democrats against slashing into Eisenhower's budget.

But while they were blinking their amber light, the party's leader in the House, Speaker Rayburn of Texas, was talking of cutting the budget by billions.

This was an echo of what Rayburn's opposite number and fellow Democrat Lyndon Johnson, the Democrats' Senate leader, has already been saying.

Southern Democrats, in an effort to kill civil rights legislation this year, have offered an amendment to the bill for a federal law to ban union shops.

But the Democrats' advisory council, a 24-man group of Democratic leaders including Truman and Stevenson, came out against an anti-union shop amendment.

In short, there's no more unanimity in the Democratic party than there is among Republicans.

Each party has members who consider themselves liberals — a mere handful — and a big batch that come under the conservative label.

And among the conservatives of both parties are those who take a

Accountant Puts In Lot Of Work For Congress

By JAMES C. MUNN

WASHINGTON — Whenever Carmine Bellino manages to work less than 12 hours a day as chief investigator for the Senate Rackets Committee, he thinks he's had it "soft."

But the "soft" days for the 51-year-old Bellino, a native of Elizabeth, N. J., are few and far between.

Bellino, a former FBI man, was mainly responsible for assembling and giving some meaning to the mass of figures on which Dave Beck and other officials of the Teamsters Union were questioned at public hearings.

Bellino is an accountant by profession. That answers, in part, the way in which he and his associates got to the bottom of the Teamster financial mess.

"All you need to have," Bellino says, "is a lot of patience and willingness to dig."

One of the rare times when he can relax, he says, is when he gets out in the Potomac River for a Sunday afternoon of motor boating.

Hobbies? Bellino laughs. "With seven kids," he begins his reply. His three sons and four daughters range in age from 3 to 18 years.

Bellino is philosophical about the demands of his job.

"I really enjoy the work—except when you have to meet a deadline," he says. "Then it's just plain drudgery."

As to the over-all activities of the committee, Bellino thinks a year's steady work "will barely scratch the surface" of what's going on—and sometimes shouldn't—in the labor movement.

He agrees, however, with committee members who think enough has been uncovered to give the Senate a start on legislation designed to correct evils that now exist in some unions.

Bellino joined the FBI in 1934 and served in the New York City office until he resigned in 1945. After working for the old Reconstruction Finance Corp., and the former War Assets Administration, he established his own accounting office in Washington with a branch in Elizabeth.

While maintaining his own office (he still does), he has served variously on the staffs of numerous congressional committees in both the Senate and House.

Around The Rim

Justice A Little Behind Times

Six women, who were found guilty and put to death, have been declared innocent of the crimes for which they died. The difficulty is — the six women were put to death in the year 1692 and the correction of the miscarriage of justice happened in this year 1957.

The six women were burned to death — chained to stakes and piles of wood stacked high around them. The wood was set afire and the unfortunate women perished as miserably and cruelly as it may be possible for human beings to die.

Around them, religious fanatics stood and watched.

Cotton Mather, a particularly zealous prosecutor, was much entranced by the spectacle. As the flames roared higher and higher, his eyes gleamed. He mumbled hysterical thanks to a strange deity which he had created and which he worshipped.

The six women, unfortunate victims of religious persecution and probably selected by venomous and envious personal enemies for their tragic roles, were harmless people. Several were probably mentally deficient — unfortunate individuals who were a little eccentric and perhaps a little simple.

They were tried by the public courts of old Salem, Mass., for being witches. They were, witnesses swore, in league with the devil. They had cast evil curses on innocent Salemites. They had done such atrocious things, said these solemn-faced witnesses, as cause milk cows to dry up; gardens to wither and die. They had thrown young children into "firs."

The list of their strange misdeeds was long — longer I think than the deliberation of the jury in finding them guilty and much longer than the time the judge took to doom them to burn at the stake.

This all happened 265 years ago. Now the Legislature of the sovereign state of Massachusetts has decided time has come to make amends. A bill has been passed by that august body which solemnly proclaims that these six women were done to death unjustly—that they were guilty of no crime.

I am a little at a loss to see how this belated action will be of much assistance to the six women who died screaming in the raging fire of 1692.

It is also a little laughable, I think to report that the Legislature was reluctant to pass such a bill. First argument against it was the contention that in 1692, Massachusetts was a British colony and that it was the responsibility of the British Parliament to correct the injustice.

A little later, the bill bogged again. An amendment had to be written into it. This amendment specifically precludes any surviving descendant of any of the six women from recovering any damages from the state for the inhumanity to their ancestors.

After all of this difficulty had been removed the Legislature approved the bill.

Now it goes to the desk of the governor. If he does not find other "dangerous" features in the measure he will sign it.

And then, the ghosts of those six lonely women who were victimized by the narrow-minded fanatics who controlled the colony can rest in peace.

Justice has been done. —SAM BLACKBURN

Not The Testing, But The Weapons

There is a big rumpus all around the globe today, involving some of the world's both great and good people, concerning the effects on humanity of nuclear fallout from hydrogen-bomb tests.

This rumpus or debate has been going on for some time, but it was given added emphasis recently by the plea of that saintly character, Dr. Albert Schweitzer, to halt the testing of atomic weapons lest such explosions do irreparable harm to man and his descendants.

A committee of the Atomic Scientists Association of Britain as well as Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize-winning chemist of the California Institute of Technology, (among others) support Dr. Schweitzer in his conclusions.

As usual, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has its authority on radioactive fallout. Dr. Willard F. Libby, waiting in the wings to insist that fallout from the new and improved U.S. hydrogen bomb wouldn't hurt a fly. He wrote Dr. Schweitzer in reply, or rather, rebuttal.

Ever since the world began to worry about the effects of hydrogen-bomb fallout, it has been the contention of Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of our Atomic Energy Commission, that the after-effects of the up-dated American hydrogen bomb are beneficial. Our hydrogen bomb doesn't give off that nasty, deadly strontium-90. Our bomb gives off soothing, health-giving Chanel No. 5!

However, it is one woman's opinion that all this argument as to whether radioactive fallout is the bane or the blessing of mankind is just so much eyewash. I in either case, what the debaters are doing is no more than idly swabbing at the fleas on a mad dog at large in the world.

Let us, for goodness sake, quit flicking at fleas and aim at the dog, or atomic weapons themselves. Let men of good will all over the world press for the abolition of atomic weapons. Certainly, it will only be a mile more difficult to get nations, rockets or ballistic missiles than to consent to the abolition of the testing of such weapons.

What does it matter whether a few thousand of us — more or less — eventually die of atmospheric poisons from atomic weapons testing before the hydrogen or, God forbid, the cobalt bomb leaves only a remnant of humanity to haunt this shattered globe?

It is the bomb, the stark substance, and not the fallout, the debatable by-product, from which mankind shrinks in terror. Whether 1,000 or 10,000 or 50,000 persons develop cancer from strontium speeded into the air by hydrogen-bomb test fallout is as nothing compared to the hard fact that only a fraction, maybe one-fifth, of the inhabitants of any great city would survive the bomb itself.

Only recently, Russia boasted of making an atomic "graveyard" of West Germany and extended those compliments to Norway, Denmark and England.

What man needs today is not abolition of atomic weapons, testing but of the weapons themselves. Men must outlaw them as they outlawed poison gas, and the sooner the atomic nations, the U.S.A., the U.S.S.R. and Britain, face up to that fact, the better for us all. The world cries for atomis disarmament.

Let us, for survival's sake, stop fighting the war and attack the pickle set agate.

The Gallup Poll

U.S. Public Is Wary Of Egypt

PRINCETON, N. J. — As the danger of new explosions in the Middle East persists, American public opinion lines up in support of the Eisenhower-Dulles policies in the Israeli-Egyptian crisis.

The administration receives a 2-to-1 vote of confidence among those expressing an opinion in the latest Institute survey for the way it has handled the problem.

This is not to say that the public believes there is no likelihood of war between the two countries. On that question, U. S. opinion is evenly divided today—with about as many thinking things will work out peacefully as think war will eventually flare up between Israel and Egypt.

If trouble does start, more Americans think Egypt will start the hostilities than think Israel will.

To measure the extent of the public's support for U. S. policies in the Israeli-Egyptian conflict, the Institute assigned its nationwide corps of reporters to ask a representative cross-section of adults:

"Based on what you have heard or read, are you satisfied or dissatisfied with the way Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have handled the Israel-Egypt problem?"

The vote today:

Satisfied	50
Dissatisfied	23
No opinion	27

Whether a person is satisfied with the administration's policies in the Middle East depends almost entirely on his party affiliation, the poll finds. There is little difference of opinion by education, region of the country and other factors.

White two out of every three rank-and-file GOP voters say they are satisfied, Democrats are almost evenly split on the issue. Independent voters give the administration a 2-to-1 vote of confidence, as the following vote by party affiliation shows:

Rep. Dem. Ind.	Pct.
Satisfied	66 37 48
Dissatisfied	10 34 23
No opinion	24 29 29

Interviewers next asked: "Do you think things will work out peacefully between Egypt and Israel—or do you think that a war will flare up between the two countries?"

War will flare up	36
Peace be worked out	34
No opinion	30

It is interesting again to note the role of party affiliation. More Democrats and Independents think war will flare up between the two countries than do GOP voters, as follows:

Rep. Dem. Ind.	Pct.
War	31 37 40
Peace	41 31 30
No opinion	28 32 30

However, on this question there is a difference of opinion in terms of educational attainment.

Among those persons who attended college, the weight of sentiment holds that things will work out peacefully between Egypt and Israel, while among those who attended grade school, the weight of sentiment holds that a war is likely.

The next question: "If trouble does start there, which side—Israel or Egypt—do you think will be more likely to start it?"

The vote of all adults questioned in the survey:

Egypt	33
Israel	26
Can't say	41

In analyzing today's survey results, there is one especially interesting cross-tabulation.

When the views of only those persons who said they think a war is likely between Egypt and Israel are counted to see which side they think will be more likely to start it, 43 per cent said Egypt, 29 per cent said Israel, while 28 per cent couldn't say.

Mongrel Dog Heir To $50,000 Estate

READING, Pa. (AP)—Bobby, a 4-year-old mutt who has no conception of the meaning of pedigree and doesn't care, today is the richest dog in Reading, Pa., and possibly one of the richest in the world. Bobby yesterday was named principal, and practically sole, beneficiary of the estate of his late mistress Mrs. Ruth A. Maurer. The estate, filed for probate in the Berks County Court House, was estimated at $50,800. All the money was left to care for the mongrel dog Mrs. Maurer picked up as a pup from the Humane Society. Under terms of the will, Bobby will (1) have a practical nurse to look after him, (2) sleep in his own bed in the air-conditioned bedroom once occupied by his mistress, (3) have full run of Mrs. Maurer's three-room apartment and (4) be taken for a walk every morning and evening. The will calls for Bobby's chair to be kept in the same place in the living room for his use. He won't do badly at chow time either. The bequest specifies Bobby is to receive "the best food a dog can have."

Education Panel Hits School Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—A pending bill that would transfer one per cent of permanent school fund income to the available fund was objected to by individual members of the State Board of Education yesterday. The House already has approved the bill (HB 103) as a means of furnishing 11 million dollars for proposed teachers' pay raises. A special resolution by Jack Hawkins of Groesbeck, which opposed the transfer, was offered at yesterday's board meeting. It was not acted upon on grounds that it might be encroaching on legislative prerogative. The board administers the permanent fund. The Legislature could use the increase in the available fund to help finance the proposed $399 minimum base pay hike for teachers. At yesterday's session, members Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, Neal Marriott of Corpus Christi, and A. D. Moore of Beaumont spoke against the bill. In essence, they said they felt that if the one per cent were transferred this year that it might be the first step toward depleting the permanent fund. A 15-member 1957 textbook committee was appointed by the board and this year's teacher-education programs were approved.

Navy Is Victim Of Student Prank

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Ten Sydney University students in pirate dress boarded the U. S. aircraft carrier Bennington before reveille today. They climbed unchallenged to the bridge and sent 2,500 American officers and sailors to battle stations by sounding the general alarm. It was more than five minutes before the ship's company realized they were victims of a Commemoration Day prank.

Thoughtless Thieves

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Burglars who broke into the residence of Mrs. Jennie Darcekk cooked creamed corn and left the pans in the kitchen sink after ransacking the house.

Practice For AF Day Contest

Members of Webb AFB's championship jet engine change team take "battle stations" in rehearsal for a big Armed Forces Day demonstration they will help stage at Andrews AFB near Washington, D.C., May 18. The Webb team will compete against a squad from Laredo AFB in the renewal of a long-standing rivalry for the engine change championship. Webb has been victorious in previous contests and holds the world record for changing a hot jet

Escaped Pair Fail To Have Child Born Outside Of Pen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Martha Stachura and Hernando C. Cotton, who became lovers in the Kansas State Penitentiary, apparently have failed in an attempt to have their child born outside prison walls. Cotton, 49, and Mrs. Stachura, 27, were recaptured here and face arraignment today on charges of robbery, auto theft and kidnaping. They told police yesterday how they arranged meetings in a prison farm utility tunnel and made their escape "for the baby's sake" when the woman found she was pregnant. The child is expected in September.

A prisoner at the Lansing, Kan. institution since 1939, Cotton worked as a trusty in the prison utility shop. He met Mrs. Stachura when he did some repair work at the minimum-custody, un-walled prison farm across a road. Mrs. Stachura was serving time because she and her husband sold a mortgaged car. Cotton was convicted of larceny and killing a fellow prisoner. They escaped Dec. 29 to a hide-out Cotton had prepared in the prison machine shop, then walked away from the prison Jan. 2. They said they made their way

Woman, Son Killed In Blast

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—A woman and her 5-year-old son died in their bed in a dynamite blast which shattered an apartment house here early this morning. Police are seeking her estranged husband for questioning. Police Sgt. W. L. Brothers said Mrs. Edna Sexton, about 36, and Charles Bittinger, a son by a former marriage, were killed in the explosion which tore out a corner of the two-story house and blasted a hole two feet deep. Brothers said Charles Sexton, 59, is being sought in connection with the incident. The Sextons were separated about six weeks ago and a divorce suit has been scheduled for hearing in July. Marcus Fietz of Jonesboro, attorney for Mrs. Sexton, said the couple had been in Paragould about six months. Fietz said Mrs. Sexton had been frightened for her safety and that she was escorted home by police from her night job in a drive-in restaurant. Police confirmed this.

Daily Average Oil Production Falls

TULSA (AP)—Daily average oil production fell 18,900 barrels to 7,522,575 during the week ended May 4, the Oil and Gas Journal said today. Principal decliners were Texas, down 19,875 barrels to 3,185,375; and Louisiana, off 11,050 to 941,150. The Journal estimated 1957 production at 944,704,150 barrels compared to 900,601,775 a year ago. New Mexico was off 2,550 to 271,350. Oklahoma was up 4,700 barrels to 627,200 and Arkansas up 1,900 to 85,500.

Cadillac

Third Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say. And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families. For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel. We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality. For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit. Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene. And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality. The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation! Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists. If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!

HC Qualifies Nine For State Finals

COLLEGE STATION (SC) — Howard County Junior College of Big Spring qualified nine boys for the finals in the Texas Junior College Conference track and field meet here Monday.

Finals were to be run off Tuesday morning. In the only final held Monday, Tommy Black of HCJC won the pole vault with a leap of 12 feet even. Ben Faulkner of the Jayhawks tied for third place, along with five others, by clearing 11 feet.

Cisco Junior College remained the favorite to win team honors. The Wranglers qualified 16 boys. Blinn qualified eight, Paris seven, Navarro six, San Antonio four, Penola three and Odessa and Allen Academy one each.

Preliminaries in three events were not held and the Hawks loom strong in two of those events — the 800 and the mile. Bobby Fuller of the Hawks may be capable of winning both events. Finals only were scheduled in the mile relay, too.

Bob Looney of San Antonio finished second in the pole vault by scaling 11 feet 6 inches. Tying Faulkner for third were Byron Ritchie, Odessa; Shields, Navarro; Fisher, Cisco; Lawrence, Cisco; and Santos Gonzales, Blinn.

Cisco set a new record in the preliminaries of the spring relay, covering the lap in 42.4. The old mark of 43.9 was established by HCJC in 1955.

The Jayhawks' combination of Freddy Stuart, Dillard Motley, Larry Digby and Tommy Black qualified in that event.

Black also made it to the finals in the 120-yard hurdles. Stuart had the best time in the 100-yard preliminaries. His 9.9 tied the record set by John Dale Curtis of HCJC last year.

Stuart made it to the finals in the 440-yard run, along with his teammate, Kirk Faulkner. The best time in the event was turned in by Almaraz of San Antonio, 50.5.

HCJC qualified no one in the shot put but landed both Digby and Motley in the finals of the 220. Land of Cisco tied the record of 21.5 set by HCJC's Curtis last year in that event.

In the 220-yard hurdles, both Black and Stuart popped up in the finals with Stuart's 24.8 the best time registered.

Stuart's 24.8 was the best time registered in the event in which the Big Spring collegians qualified no one.

Max McCulloch of HCJC made it to the finals in the discus. LeRoy Hullum of Navarro had the best throw, 137 feet 1/2 inch.

Athletes finishing first here are eligible to go to the National Junior College meet at Hutchinson, Kansas, later this month.

Luck With Dodgers; They Beat Burdette, Braves

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Carl Furillo was over when he sent a bouncer to shortstop. Just as Johnny Logan got set to field the ball, it took a bad hop over his head and Cimoli rapped home with the tying run.

In the 14th, Cimoli crashed a pitch by reliever Red Murff into the left field stands for a home run to break up the overtime tussle.

The Dodger victory went to Sandy Koufax. In the only other game in the National League, the Chicago Cubs whipped the New York Giants 6-2 to move into a seventh-place tie with Pittsburgh.

Young Don Kaiser hurled a six-hitter for his first victory of the year. Kansas City, the early season surprise of the American League, broke a three-way tie for fourth place with an 8-2 victory over Washington.

Baltimore dropped Detroit into sixth place, defeating the Tigers 8-6 in 13 innings. Pee Wee Reese saw action for the first time this season. The Dodger captain, who had been sidelined since opening day with a sprained back, took over at shortstop in the 10th inning but went hitless.

A six-run first inning, highlighted by rookie outfielder Jim Pisoni's grand slam homer, made it easy for Ned Garver to register his second victory with a six-hitter. Chuck Stoba, who has yet to win, tasted just one inning and was charged with his fifth setback.

Jim Brideweser, sold last season by Detroit to Baltimore, gained revenge with a 13th-inning double that drove in Gus Triandos and Dick Williams with the tie-breaking runs. Williams had driven two runs with a base-loaded single in the eighth to tie the score 6-6.

The victory went to George Zverink. Jack Crimian, fifth tier hurler, was the loser. A four-run explosion by Chicago in the sixth chased Giant starter Ruben Gomez. Ed Winciak, rookie infielder, and Lee Walls, drove in two runs each for the Cubs.

Will Bid Again
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco will make another bid for major league baseball Thursday when Mayor George Christopher files to New York to meet Walter O'Malley, Brooklyn Dodger president.

SAYS CALVIN GRIFFITH Charles Dressen Will Lose Job As Washington Skipper

DETROIT (AP) — Calvin Griffith said today he plans to relieve Charles Dressen as manager of the last-place Washington Senators.

Griffith made an overnight trip from Washington where he had been quoted as saying he planned "drastic changes" after the Senators lost eight straight games, and 16 of their first 20.

Griffith at first refused to comment on a published report that he planned to fire the 56-year-old Dressen, now in his third season at the Senators' helm. Later he got out—only a couple of people knew about it.

He was asked about the report. "Everything will have to wait until I talk with Chuck. He may not want what I'm going to offer him. I may not even talk with him until after today's game," Griffith said.

The Senators were scheduled to open a three-game series against the Detroit Tigers this afternoon. Griffith said "You have to make some kind of a move when they are going as badly as they are for us right now—and you can'tiddle around—you have to make a move like this. We'll call a press conference when we're ready to make the move," he replied.

Dressen's first Washington club finished last in the 1955 American League race. The Senators climbed a notch to seventh last year. The report caught Dressen completely by surprise as he alighted from a flight early today from Kansas City, where his club dropped its eighth straight game.

The Washington Post and Times Herald said last night it had learned that Griffith would put one of the club's coaches, either Billy Jurges or Cookie Lavagetto, in charge as Dressen's temporary replacement.

Griffith was asked if the club had anyone in mind for the job of managing the Senators—who haven't finished in the first division since 1946.

"You always have someone specifically in mind when you make a move like this. We'll call a press conference when we're ready to make the move," he replied.

Reserve end Gale Kilgore races for a pass that proved too long in a recent scrimmage in the Big Spring Steers' spring football camp. Giving chase is Jerry White. The Longhorns wind up workouts Friday night with a game against the Exes at the old Steer Stadium, starting at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free of charge.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: SID HUDSON, big league scout: "The scouting rush for Lynn Gregory (of Abilene) now is so frenzied, the Gregory family never starts preparing supper until late. There's always a good chance a scout will be along to take them out to eat."

CARL ERSKINE, Brooklyn hurler: "The Pittsburgh staff is knuckleball-happy. I realize that the powers that be over here think it's quite a pitch, but sometimes they overdo it. They have one young pitcher in particular who has all the equipment in the world, a great curve and a great fast ball, and he'll throw 50 to 75 knuckleballs a game. I can't see any wisdom there."

JIMMY DURANTE, the comedian: "He's a helluva nice guy, that Rocky Marciano. You just gotta love him. He woulda been real cute out there on the night club floor. They woulda had to love him. I'm telling ya Rocky woulda been sensational."

BIRDIE TEBBETTS, Cincinnati manager: "When I was catching for Cleveland, big Mike Garcia always had trouble with Minnie. One day in Chicago I tell Garcia that since his best stuff wasn't fooling Minnie, how about tossing him a nice batting practice pitch down the middle? Good hitters are human and I figured Minnie might be so anxious to hit the fat one he'd pop it up, or something. Garcia was a little doubtful but decided it was worth a try. Minnie hit a nice pop fly. We did it to him three more times that afternoon and he hit three of the prettiest and highest popups you ever saw."

CLIFF WELLS, veteran basketball coach at Tulane: "It's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice."

JOE BOWMAN, baseball scout for Kansas City: "This business is rougher than ever. Most youngsters today can make more money than we can offer. Others, who want to play, shop around for the best bonus. One boy we were interested in had his own airplane and pilot flying him around to training camps."

WALTER SPOELSTRA, Detroit sports writer: "Mickey Mantle didn't look like a hungry ball player in his first Detroit appearance this year. He didn't run out two fly balls he hit to the outfield. In the first inning he tried a drag bunt with two strikes. It went foul and Duke Maas was credited with a strikeout."

STAN MUSIAL, St. Louis outfielder: "I will forever be grateful to Dickie Kerr, manager of Daytona Beach. Back in 1940, I was there trying to make the Florida State League as a pitcher. One day, after I hurt my shoulder diving for a sinking fly ball, Kerr insisted, via telephone calls to the Cardinals headquarters, that I be made into a regular outfielder. At that time, my wife was expecting a baby. I felt discouraged. I was getting $80 a month. I was seriously thinking of quitting and taking a job as a truck driver at $50 a week. Kerr took me into his own home. He encouraged me. More important, he fed me some decent food, kept telling me to hang on, that I'd be a big star some day if I didn't quit."

Local Women Win Awards

Local entries in the 22nd annual State Women's Bowling tournament, which closed in Wichita Falls recently, made teams from other towns know they'd been there.

Every Big Spring entry won an award of some kind. A total of 432 teams competed for the $22,490 in prize money awarded.

Here is a list of local prize winners, broken down into classes and events:

Class A singles (193 entries) — Mary Ruth Robertson, 38th, with a score of 500.
Class B singles (341 entries) — Dot Hood, 2nd, 535; Sugar Brown, 38th, 486; Frances Glenn, 51st, 478.

Class B all-events — Dot Hood, 2nd, 1547; Sugar Brown, 8th, 1477.
Class C (team) (112 teams) — Pinkie's, 20th, 2118.
Class C doubles — Angie Merrill, Big Spring, and Edith Hall, Midland, 30th, 894.

Class C singles (524 entries) — Olive Cauble, 10th, 493.
Class D singles (426 entries) — Vera Dozier, 11th, 469; Angie Merrill, 115th, 418.
Class D all events — Vera Dozier, 6th, 1336; Angie Merrill, 11th, 1312.

Class D all events (258 teams) — Frances Bartlett and Sugar Brown, 61st, 829.
Class E doubles (200 entries) — Lorry Beach and Vera Dozier, 20th, 794.
Class A Texas all-events special — Mary Ruth Robertson, 33rd, 1485.

Texas all-events special, Class B — Dot Hood, 2nd, 1547; Sugar Brown, 7th, 1477.
Class D Texas all-events special — Vera Dozier, 6th, 1336; Angie Merrill, 11th, 1312.
Next year's tournament will be held in El Paso.

Steers Retain Hold On First

The Texas Longhorns, their sights set on the Southwest Conference baseball title, clashed Tuesday in a crucial game with defending champion Texas Christian.

The Steers steeled their hold on the league lead Monday by whipping Rice 9-8 in a makeup game at Houston. The tilt had been postponed three times by rain.

In other conference games Tuesday, Southern Methodist tangled with Rice at Houston and Baylor and Texas A&M meet at College Station.

Centerfielder Roy Menge cut off Rice's Bill Perdue at home plate to keep Rice from tying the score Monday, ending the game with a double play.

The victory gave Texas an 8-1 record. By beating TCU Tuesday, and whipping Southern Methodist Friday at Dallas, the Steers could virtually sew up the title. TCU has a 7-2 mark.

Both Texas and Rice had a spoty day on the mound.

Taliga Takes Job
KILLEEN (AP)—T. T. Taliga has been named head football coach at Killeen High School, succeeding Don Stephens who resigned to accept a similar post at Mexico.

Taliga has been coach at Hillsboro for two years.

Cook Team Seeking More Games After Twin Win
Cook Appliance Company's softball team mopped up on the 61st Maintenance Squadron of Webb AFB in both ends of a softball doubleheader, 6-0 and 2-0, on the city park diamond Monday evening.

Troy Wetzel was on the mound in the opener and Cotton Mize in the morningcap. Each tossed a one-hitter.

Wetzel struck out 14 batters in the five-inning game. Mize fanned six.

In the first game, Cook tallied three runs in the "hello" frame on three errors and a walk, then added the other three in the third on hits by Ted and Gene in the third and Ed Sproesser and two more enemy misplays.

61st Maintenance got two runners as far as third base but could push neither across.

Cook Appliance is looking for additional games with any team in the area. Those interested can call Pete Cook at Cook Appliance.

Pair Taken To Huntsville

Within 30 minutes after Judge Charlie Sullivan had formally pronounced sentence of life imprisonment on him, Millard Hassel, in handcuffs and chains, was on his way to the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

His companion on the one-way journey to prison was Stanley Kovacs, under four-year sentence for forgery. Tommy Cole, deputy sheriff, left with the two men for Huntsville shortly after 2 p. m. Monday.

Hassel, charged with forgery under a habitual criminal indictment, was found guilty by a jury in 11th District Court 10 days ago. Under this form of indictment, life imprisonment is an automatic and mandatory sentence. Hassel had persisted in remaining in jail here for the 10 days he is entitled to claim after conviction before formal sentence is pronounced.

Norris Widow Held For Questioning

HOUSTON (AP)—Mrs. Rita Norris, 23, widow of slain Oklahoma gunman Gene Paul Norris, was arrested yesterday for questioning in the slaying of gambler Johnnie Brennan and his wife.

Norris was shot to death recently near Fort Worth by officers tipped off to an alleged plot by Norris to rob the Carswell Air Force Base Bank. Police said later Norris was a suspect in the bluejean slaying of the Brannans here April 16.

Mrs. Norris was jailed on a fugitive from justice charge. Police said their records show she is wanted in Oroville, Calif., for a 1954 burglary.

Jury Commission Winds Up Work

Jury Commissioners in 11th District Court, sworn in Monday at 9 a. m., have completed their work at 2:30 p. m. the same day. They submitted their list of 300 petit jurors and 20 grand jurors to Judge Charlie Sullivan at that hour.

Judge Sullivan complimented the commission on its efficiency. The commissioners were then discharged. Members of the commission were M. R. Koger, Arthur Stallings, Frank Hardesty, Mrs. Rad Ware and Jackie McKinney.

Dies Of Shock

KILLEEN (AP)—Sgt. I. C. Bert Nichols, 29, of Randolph Ridge, Utah, was electrocuted yesterday when he came in contact with a high power line while putting up a television antenna. He was stationed at nearby Ft. Hood.

Too Much Success May Send Labor Pendulum Swinging Back

Editor's Note: Labor had a tough struggle in its early years, but it grew to strength, wealth and immense influence. Has it become too strong? Is the pendulum likely to swing back? This is the second of five articles on the labor-management relationship.

L. McClellan, chairman of the Senate committee investigating labor and management practices, describes a "pendulum of extremes and excesses" in their relations. He recalls the days when the unions were young and weak.

On the morning of July 2, 1910, New York newspapers published a startling story. They reported that the Ladies Waistmakers Union had won a 52-hour work week.

In the context of the times, this was sensational news. It was a 60-hour week was average in the garment industry then.

Wages averaged between $3 and $4 a week. In New York, the law called for one lavatory for every 25 employees.

On a windy spring day, 154 people died when fire broke out in a dress shop. A girl named Rosey Safran said "they had the doors locked all the time."

Men were beaten and shot to death, and there were riots, marches, calls for troops during strikes.

Today, organized labor is big, strong, wealthy, and in many instances, highly sophisticated in its dealings with management.

There are between 15 and 17 million men in American unions—an estimated one-fourth of the total working force.

A Senate Labor subcommittee estimated last year that pension and welfare funds totaled more than $5 billion dollars.

In Washington, the AFL-CIO headquarters has a new and beautiful building. In Detroit, the United Automobile Workers are enlarging their quarters around spacious "solidarity houses."

The unions have gone far beyond the old fields of effort, the struggle over wages and working conditions.

All this—the growth in size, influence and wealth—stems largely from legislation passed in the 1930s.

Today, union officials say, attendance at locals' meetings often falls as low as five per cent of the membership.

"We are suffering from our own success," a top official said. McClellan says the labor laws of the 1930s and particularly the Wagner Act "freed labor from the shackles of oppression that had been imposed by management."

Through sheer pressure of business, officers in the big unions grew farther away from the rank and file. That left room for rigged elections on the level of the local, instances where none at all were held for years.

Uncle Ray: Some Hindus Magnify Power Of Demon Deity

By RAMON COFFMAN There are hundreds of Hindu sects, and they differ as much as Methodists or Baptists differ from Roman Catholics or Greek Catholics.

Q. How powerful is the God Siva said to be? A. Many Hindus (but not all of them) declare that Siva has more power than either Brahma or Vishnu.

Q. Is it true that some Hindus think of Siva as a terrible demon? A. Yes. They speak of him as the Lord of Death. They declare that Brahma creates, Vishnu preserves and Siva destroys.

Despite those views, some Hindus say that when one thing is destroyed, it prepares the way for another to take its place.

They go on to declare that Siva builds up after he destroys. There are Hindus who ask him to save their cattle from harm. He also is regarded as a protector of musicians.

In parts of India, especially in the southern third of the country, Siva is hailed as the King of Dancing.

Q. How do Hindu artists picture Siva? A. He has been shown with five heads (putting him above the four-faced Brahma) but he also is pictured with only one head. Even when the artist gives him only one head, it is fairly certain that one or two extra pairs of arms will be included in the view.

Q. In which direction do the temples of Siva face? A. They face westward, so that a view of the setting sun can be obtained by looking through the principal doorway.

Certain Hindus go beyond all others in listing the powers of Siva, even saying that he has power over the sun (usually limited to Vishnu). The Hindu priests who honor him most say that he controls storms, and holds a thunderbolt in one of his hands.

New Gas Bill Is Introduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A natural gas bill similar to one vetoed last year because of what President Eisenhower called "arrogant" lobbying tactics started its tentative way through Congress today.

The bill would set up the administrative procedure for regulation and control of natural gas producers, including the fixing of prices by the Federal Power Commission.

It reportedly was worked out by representatives of the gas industry and congressional drafters to overcome some of the objections to the bill vetoed last year.

The original bill stemmed from a Supreme Court ruling that natural gas producers were subject to federal regulation.

As lead off witnesses, the House Commerce Committee called representatives of the Budget Bureau, the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

Chairman Harris (D-Ark) said he expected the hearings to last about two weeks and wanted to determine at the outset just how strongly the administration wanted the bill. That information, he said, would be forthcoming from the Budget Bureau, official legislative voice for the White House.

When the bill was introduced early last month, the President indicated his general approval. Congressional leaders, however, wanted a stronger endorsement from the White House and say they will not push it without such backing.

The Power Commission sent its views to the committee last week but they have been kept secret. However, Harris said the FPC is not opposing the legislation.

"But we want to find out how the Budget Bureau feels about it," he added.

Brazos River Only High Water Region

By The Associated Press The lower Brazos River, swirling out of its banks across thousands of acres of farmland, was the only major high water area in Texas Tuesday.

Other rivers and streams flooded during the April and May deluges continued to recede as preliminary damage estimates placed the cost of the floods in Texas at $51,500,000.

The Brazos rolled out of its banks in Brazoria County Monday, causing the evacuation of about 50 families in the Freeport area. It was mostly a precautionary measure, however.

High water joined parallel Oyster Creek to create one stream several miles wide at one point in Brazoria County. Thousands of acres of farmland were under water.

The greatest danger was to crops. Water covered 4,000 acres of cultivated land on the Darrington Prison Farm. Officials said they have abandoned hope of any harvest from the inundated land.

The Weather Bureau said some very light rain fell Tuesday in El Paso, Cotulla and Del Rio, areas not in the flood regions.

Skies were generally cloudy across the southern half of the state and partly cloudy except for patches of clearness in the northern sections.

Upstream on the Brazos, officials were keeping a close watch on the rising river at a 2,000-foot concrete bridge at Kimball Bend near Cleburne.

The current of the river was expected to reach 9.1 m.p.h. Tuesday near Freeport. Oyster Creek rose five feet in three days near the Brazoria County town of Lake Jackson.
