Missouri Tornadoes Claim 14 More Lives

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Tornadoes struck a second death blow at Missouri yesterday in as many days by claiming 14 more lives for a total of 51 dead and 270 injured.

Small towns in southern and eastern Missouri were hit by a rash of tornadoes even as workmen still dug in the rubble of Kansas City suburbs where less than 24 hours before a tornado claimed 37 lives and injured 200 persons.

Six persons were killed in a twister which leveled Fremont, a town of 207 which only 10 days ago was hit by a flash flood. One man was killed at nearby Van Buren and a hundred miles to the northeast seven more persons perished in and around Desloge, 60 miles south of St. Louis.

Some 70 persons were left injured in the wake of the deadly black funnels. Hundreds were homeless.

The rapid-fire chain of tornadoes, spawned by the same sultry weather disturbances that gave birth to the year's deadliest tornado in Kansas City's outskirts at sundown Monday, struck the most vicious blow at Fremont.

There a twister sheared the second floor from a two-story brick school and then roared on into town.

"It sounded like a jet plane as it came in from the west," Alvin Bell, one of the survivors, related. He credited a tornado alert four hours earlier with saving at least 100 persons who took cover in storm cellars.

Only seven homes at Fremont were left intact. Six business buildings and 40 homes were flattened.

Thomas Hood and his son-in-law Bill Harris barely missed the twister at Fremont on their way home from an Arkansas fishing trip. They joined in the rescue work, unaware Hood's own home had been destroyed in another twister.

"When we reached Fremont it looked like a ghost town," Hood said. "People were walking around dazed. The town was so badly destroyed there was no one to take charge."

When Hood finally reached home, he learned his wife escaped the Desloge twister only by taking refuge in a cellar.

At Desloge, witnesses said residents were lucky to escape with only three dead as a twister cut a path of havoc six blocks wide. Three other persons were killed at a farm northeast of a farm home 15 miles northeast of there.

O. M. McLeod, a miner of nearby Flat River who watched the tornado hit Desloge, said it sounded like "a steam engine with burned-out bearings pulling a string of freight cars."

The twisters did many strange things. At Desloge it picked up Bobby Tiefenauer's two-story frame house and turned it over before setting it down 200 yards away.

Only an hour before the storm struck, some 400 students at the Desloge High School had completed classes and were dismissed. The school was heavily damaged. Only the walls were left standing.

Mrs. Leo Nelson was home alone with her two sons, age two and six, when she heard the storm roaring down on Desloge, a town of 2,000. She huddled with her children in a closet and prayed.

Her glasses were blown from her face as the house cracked and splintered. But she and her two sons were unharmed, and later she found her glasses under a table, unbroken.

The twisters bounced around on both sides of the Mississippi River below St. Louis and continued to strike long after dark. One was sighted near Fredericktown, Mo. In rural southern Illinois it struck at scattered points, including the Alto Pass, Columbia, Claremont and Herrod areas.

In Missouri twisters were reported at Monticello in the northeastern part of the state; at Squires in the southern Ozark foothills; at Centerville, 40 miles north of Fremont, and at Kennett, a town of 10,000. The one at Kennett struck after midnight, eight hours after the first one raked Van Buren. No deaths or injuries were reported in those areas.

The civil defense reported a tornado destroyed a farm vehicle 9 miles north-northeast of Ponca City, Okla.

A thunderstorm that boomed east of San Angelo, in West Texas, was dissipating.

Several persons reported seeing a funnel cloud southwest of Electric.

Silverton, still cleaning up debris from the devastating tornado that roared through the small West Texas community last Wednesday night, was on the western edge of the new tornado forecast.

Locally heavy rains and thunderstorms broke out in much of the central and northeast Texas Tuesday night. A three-inch cloudburst with intermittent hail pelted Bonham late Tuesday night, sending Powder Creek out of its banks into a residential section.

The Jesse Lee Hicks family left its west side home and several other families were standing by.

Dust blanketed several West Texas areas late Tuesday.

Rain and hail pummeled the area northeast of Dallas. Celina received a 1.25 inch downpour and a 30-minute hailstorm. Trenton had an inch of rain and light hail. McKinney recorded 1.5 of an inch of rain and a trace fell at Dallas' Love Field.

During the night, light rain or drizzle fell at Lubbock, San Antonio and Childress.

The weather bureau said the front was pushing slowly eastward. Showers were developing ahead of it.

Skies over Texas were mostly cloudy except for clear spots west of the Pecos River and in Southwest Texas.

Weather Alert Covers Area N' east Of City

Big Spring was the pivot point of an area named as a severe weather district in a warning issued by the Weather Bureau Wednesday morning.

The warning was to have been in effect from 9 a. m. to noon. Big Spring was listed as the point from which the defining lines of the area involved began and ended.

Some dust prevailed on Wednesday but the skies here were generally clear.

The area named in the warning began at Big Spring extended 30 miles northwest of Amarillo to 25 miles northeast of Enid, Okla., to Sherman and back to Big Spring.

This was one of two districts over which storm warning flags flew Wednesday.

The second alert was to expire at 2 p. m. and covered territory bounded by Elid, Okla., to 50 miles west of Butler, Mo., to Abilene and to Enid.

The forecast called for a "few thunderstorms with hail, strong gusty winds and a tornado or two."

The bad weather was being generated, the Weather Bureau said, by two squall lines of severe thunderstorms caused by a cool front moving eastward over Texas for three days.

Wednesday morning, the front stirred up rains which ran as much as 4 inches in certain areas and brought reports of severe thunderstorms over a wide area.

Two separate thunderstorms accompanied by high winds and heavy rain, struck Vernon, in the upper Red River Valley, Wednesday morning. A funnel cloud was reported but did not touch the ground. Rainfall measured 2.20 inches.

One squall line extended east of San Angelo. Another formed along a line from 80 miles north of Abilene, near Benjamin, to 15 miles northwest of Wichita Falls and on north into Oklahoma.

Hobart, in southwestern Oklahoma, got 1.24 inches of rain, and a heavy thunderstorm also struck Okla.

A dawn thunderstorm dropped 1.4 of an inch of rain on Childress, in the southeast Panhandle.

The Weather Bureau reported rainfall, accompanied by hail, measured up to 4 inches south of Crowell, in Northwest Texas.

The bureau also reported a tornado caused some damage at 9:30 a. m. 5 miles northeast of Mount View, in the Hobart area of Southwest Oklahoma. None was injured.

Missiles, Aircraft Threatened By Cut Nation To Suffer, President Predicts

'It Does, Too, Hurt!'

Even an ice cream bar fails to soothe four-year-old Kathleen Khadass who suffered second degree burns on the tips of three fingers. WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today about half of the 2½-billion-dollar cut in defense funds voted by a House committee would cut directly into the nation's guided missile and aircraft programs.

The country is going to suffer if the reduction approved by the House Appropriations Committee is allowed to stand with respect to those fields, Eisenhower told a news conference.

He also said he never will agree to a tax cut while the budget is in what he called its current precarious state of balance.

Discussing the 2½-billion-dollar defense reduction approved by the House committee, Eisenhower said about $1,500,000,000 of it is not a budget cut at all but a book-keeping tactic.

He went on to say that $1,200,000,000 of the proposed reduction would, however, cut directly into the defense program in such fields as aircraft and guided missiles.

At that point, Eisenhower said we are going to have to suffer if that portion of the cut stands. He expressed hope the Senate will restore every cent of the $1,200,000,000.

The President, wearing a gray suit with a white shirt and blue figured tie, spent most of the time answering questions about the administration's $71,900,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But he also dealt with these other matters: LEADERSHIP — Eisenhower said he never has even considered asking Sen. Knowland of California, or anyone else, to resign from a position of congressional leadership because of disagreement with him. Knowland is the GOP Senate leader.

As for differences with party leaders in Congress, Eisenhower said he personally is committed to support of the Republican party's 1956 platform.

He added with emphasis that he intends to stand by the platform. And he said he has no intention of ever going behind the backs of Republican congressional leaders in an effort to get his program through.

However, he added, he feels he is not barred from talking to individual members of Congress along that line, so long as he notifies the leaders regarding his intentions.

POLITICS—Eisenhower said he always endeavors to support all Republican nominees for Congress because he feels so strongly that both the White House and the legislative branch should be controlled by the same party.

He went on to say, that when it comes to who is for enthusiastically for congressional office and who he is just for, that is another matter.

Eisenhower's remarks were in reply to a question whether he would follow his practice of the past and give blanket endorsement to all Republican candidates for Congress, regardless of their voting records.

DISARMAMENT — Eisenhower said the United States must make every possible effort to work out a disarmament agreement with Russia.

The more that intelligent men think about the arms race, the more they realize progress toward disarmament must be made, Eisenhower added. Alluding then to talks with Russia which have been going on in London, Eisenhower said the United States must not be picaresque and must be willing to meet the Russians half way.

But in the light of history with respect to the way the Soviets fail to keep agreements, he said, this country must also be especially careful in entering into any inspection pact.

REACTION — Eisenhower said public reaction to his television, radio and news conference efforts in behalf of his spending budget has gradually turned in favor of the administration's position. At first, he added, most people either were inclined to question the administration's spending plans or to be hostile.

Asked whether he plans more direct-to-the-people appeals, Eisenhower replied with a smile but emphatically—that as long as he is in a fight he never rests.

Until he gets what he wants in the way of adequate funds to wage the peace and carry out the rest of his program, he will never stop fighting, he added.

ATOMIC TEST — Eisenhower said the only atomic weapons tests now scheduled, so far as he knows, are those to be held shortly in Nevada.

VENICE (AP)—The prosecution today absolved the three principal defendants in Italy's notorious Wilma Montesi scandal.

Prosecutor Cesare Palminteri asked a three-judge court to return verdicts of innocence for Giampiero Piccioni, jazz pianist son of a former foreign minister; Rome man-about-town Ugo Montagna and former Rome Police Chief Saverio Polito.

Palminteri said the three months of often uproarious, mud-slinging testimony had brought out "absolutely no proof" against the trio. His statement virtually collapsed the case which had splashed through three years of scandal headlines and for a time threatened Italy's ruling Christian Democratic party.

Palminteri made his recommendation at the end of his final argument. Piccioni and Montagna enthusiastically shook his hand. Polito, 76, sobbed with relief.

The body of the 20-year-old Montesi girl was found on a tide-swept beach near Rome in April 1953. The case burgeoned into a national scandal after a Rome newspaper charged that she died at a high society drug and sex orgy at Montagna's hunting lodge near the beach.

Union Postpones Teamsters Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO today postponed indefinitely a meeting of its Ethical Practices Committee set for Friday to consider charges the Teamsters Union is corruptly dominated.

The action was viewed as reflecting a recognition by the federation of a move within the union to oust Teamsters President Dave Beck.

This took some of the urgency from the issue of action against the union itself.

The ouster movement against Beck was being led by 60-year-old John F. English, newly named as an AFL-CIO vice president.

English planned an informal strategy session with fellow members of the Teamsters Executive Board who, like him, are determined that Beck must go. Their determination grew from Senate Rackets Committee charges that Beck helped himself to vast sums of Teamsters funds.

English has been general secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters for more than a decade, and a member of the union for more than a half century. He said a majority of the Teamsters board members is behind him in a plan to demand that Beck call a board session to consider Beck's status.

If Beck refuses, English said, his group will simply convene a board meeting on their own and consider demanding Beck's resignation.

English was unanimously elected by AFL-CIO chiefs yesterday as an AFL-CIO vice president and executive council member.

This put English in the AFL-CIO posts from which the Federation ousted Beck on Monday as "guilty" of corruption charges. If there had been any doubt before that English was in the driver's seat in handling a Teamsters cleanup, the AFL-CIO vote of confidence tended to dispel them.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, predicted yesterday the Teamsters will "get rid of Beck" and quoted English as having told AFL-CIO leaders:

"We're going to wash our own dirty linen. You and the rest of American labor is going to be proud of us again."

It still remained uncertain whether, if the Teamsters Executive Board demanded that Beck resign and he refused, English and his colleagues could compel Beck to quit. Beck might insist on formal charges and a union trial.

English, in an interview, said he was sure, in any event, that Beck will not be re-elected at the Teamsters convention in September when a new slate of officers is to be elected to five-year terms.

The boys, with three juvenile companions and another youth who is 17, were arrested in connection with the burglary of a Big Spring service station last Sunday night.

Three of the young defendants were paroled to their parents by Judge Weaver on Tuesday. He took the case of the other two boys under advisement.

He observed, in ordering the pair transferred to the State Training School, that both had been before him on two previous occasions and that they had not obeyed admonitions given at these times.

A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, was instructed to prepare the commitment papers and transfer the two to the school as quickly as possible.

The 17-year-old boy who was involved in the break-in will be held for the grand jury. He is now at liberty on bond.

Dulles Praised At Foreign Aid Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles received a surprisingly warm reception from Senate Foreign Relations Committee members today as he outlined the administration's new approach to the mutual security program.

The administration's $3,800,000,000 program calls for the separation of military aid from economic aid and for emphasis on loans rather than grants in helping less developed nations get on their feet economically.

Problems Grow As Teachers Salary Raise Check 'Bounces'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Money problems piled up today as the 53th Legislature and Gov. Price Daniel tried to make good a 49½ percent raise teachers' pay raise check that bounced.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the state needed 13½ million dollars more income the next two years to keep the salary hike measure (HB8) from being tagged "insufficient funds."

Daniel, Calvert and top leaders in both the Senate and House went from one conference to another this morning trying to erase the red ink.

There was little likelihood the Legislature would be able to adjourn tomorrow as planned.

"There's not enough money," was Calvert's simple ruling when the teachers' pay raise measure came to him for certification. It had passed the House as a 48 million dollar bill, and the Senate as a $47,700,000 measure.

However, today the Central Education Agency said the actual total would be about 49½ million dollars.

"I am still for whatever action is necessary to pay the public school teachers a salary increase of $400 per year. That will raise beginning salaries from $2,800 to $3,200, and this is a minimum salary necessary to attract and hold good teachers for our children," Daniel said.

The joint committee trying for a compromise in the Insurance Commission reorganization also scheduled another meeting today.

The House approved Senate amendments and sent to the governor a bill giving Harris County two congressmen in a congressional redistricting move. It does away with the post now held by Congressman at Large Martin Dies of Lufkin.

The Senate passed and sent to the governor a bill raising the state hunting license fee from $2.15 to $3.15.

For the second straight day the House refused to take up debate on the 10th and last segregation bill (HB 238) introduced by a group of East Texas lawmakers. The bill would create a state board to hear appeals over the transfer of students to and from integrated schools.

A Senate-approved bill requiring school districts and other state subdivisions to publish annual financial statements was returned after a House amendment. The amendment provided that such agencies only had to furnish newspapers with a copy of the financial statement. Then, said Rep. Ben Ferrell of Tyler, it would be up to the newspaper whether the statement would be printed, without cost, or not.

The Senate accepted a conference report on a bill giving the State Hospital Board the authority to build a 500 bed hospital in the Houston area for the mentally ill.

At the end of the day the House debated for an hour and a half a conference report on a bill providing that the state buy 50 percent of the right of way on interstate highways. The right of way money would come from a 10 percent increase in vehicle registration fees.

Air Force Works On Missile For Use With Speedy Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force apparently is aiming at development of a new design of guided missile for use with the supersonic bomber in attacking heavily protected enemy targets.

A House Appropriations Committee report on the Defense Department budget yesterday disclosed that an existing "air-to-ground" missile program had been cut back.

At the Pentagon, it was indicated today a new weapon, probably designed specifically for use with the Convair B58 supersonic bomber, would be undertaken.

The committee report said in investigation by the committee's staff had indicated that a reduction in the Rascal air-to-ground missile program was justified and that the Defense Department agreed "that this particular missile is in the marginal area."

There had been some speculation that the Rascal, a rocket-powered supersonic missile which can carry a nuclear warhead, might be used with the B58. In development, it has been launched only from B36 and B47 strategic bombers, both of subsonic speed.

The House Committee said programs in addition to the Rascal project "also have been challenged by staff investigation and need to be resurveyed by the Air Force and Department of Defense" with a view toward eliminating duplication.

In another field of missiles, the committee asserted that "the ballistic missile program has top priority and must be pursued to an early conclusion. Testimony made public by the committee showed a figure of $985,700,000 asked by the Air Force for ballistic missile work during the year beginning next July 1. However, this figure is understood to be incomplete.

The committee cut nothing from the ballistic missile programs, but did recommend trimming 73 millions from guided missile programs.

The committee proposed an over-all $2,586,775,000 cut below the $36,128,000,000 outlay asked by Secretary of Defense Wilson for all the services.

Wilson goes before a Senate committee on Thursday to begin testimony on the Pentagon's budget.

FT. DIX, N. J. (AP)—Confederate forces outshot Union troops here yesterday to score a Southern victory about 100 years too late.

As part of the observance of Armed Forces Day here, teams of Rebel and Yankee forces—wearing Civil War uniforms and bearing arms manufactured during the War Between the States—staged a marksmanship contest.

As Robert E. Lee no doubt would have guessed, the Rebs captured first place in all six events.

The Richmond, Va., Volunteer Militia took the over-all title with 33 points. They took first place in the cannon event, although they were obliged to use cement filled beer cans since not enough Civil War cannon balls are extant. They also came out on top in the stake cutting shoot.

Military Cut Boosts Economy Drive Over $4 Billion Mark

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $2,586,775,000 cut in recommended new funds for the Defense Department has boosted the congressional budget-cutting drive over the four billion dollar mark.

But there was considerable difference of opinion today among House fiscal experts as to how much of the reduction is real and to what extent it will affect overall government spending in fiscal 1958 starting July 1.

The White House declined comment on the committee action pending a detailed study.

Appropriations Committee members said the "actual" cut in new funds for the Defense Department recommended yesterday by the committee amounted to from $1,200,000,000 to $1,900,000,000. The difference between those amounts and the $2,586,000,000 listed by the committee as reductions from President Eisenhower's requests is in the area of bookkeeping transactions and reductions which may have to be restored later.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of a subcommittee that drafted the $33,541,225,000 measure, told newsmen he considered "the actual cut" to be about $1,900,000,000.

But he said he had no idea of how much the cut would reduce spending next year. Much of that spending will be from funds previously appropriated.

Another committee member said his own estimate was that "about 125 million dollars will be cut from government spending next year as a result of the cut in new defense appropriations."

Funds appropriated by Congress in one year are not always spent the following year. For example, the defense bill appropriates 300 millions for a new atomic attack carrier, but the entire amount won't be spent until the vessel is commissioned some years from now.

The bill emerged from the committee with only one vote of opposition. Rep. Canfield (R-N.J.) said he believed the committee should follow the President and not cut defense funds.

The bill was the 11th annual appropriation measure sent to the House floor this year. They embodied requests for $35,100,000,000 in new funds. Nine of them already have passed the House with cuts aggregating $1,400,000,000.

A tenth measure was slated for a House vote today. It finances the House of Representatives and the Government Printing Office. Its total was cut $2,208,343 by the Appropriations Committee and the House imposed another $100,000 reduction yesterday but beat down all efforts for further paring.

As part of the observance of Armed Forces Day here, teams of Rebel and Yankee forces—wearing Civil War uniforms and bearing arms manufactured during the War Between the States—staged a marksmanship contest.

As Robert E. Lee no doubt would have guessed, the Rebs captured first place in all six events.

The Richmond, Va., Volunteer Militia took the over-all title with 33 points. They took first place in the cannon event, although they were obliged to use cement filled beer cans since not enough Civil War cannon balls are extant. They also came out on top in the stake cutting shoot.

Local Woman Has Copy Of First Kansas City Star

If the publishers of the Kansas City Star ever want a copy of their "first edition," they might contact Mrs. Thomas Armstrong, 702 1/2 E. 17th.

Mrs. Armstrong has a yellowed copy of No. 1, Volume 1 of the paper. It was given to her by her father, the late George Schaefer of Los Angeles, Calif.

It isn't known how Mr. Schaefer came in possession of the paper, since it was published some five years prior to his birth in 1885.

The first issue of the paper, which sold for two cents, was put out on Sept. 18, 1880.

The editors, pointing out that some form of daily newspaper has become, "in our modern civilization, a necessity," pledged themselves to conduct the paper "to merit the approval and patronage of the people of the city and surrounding country... expressing its views at all times with entire freedom and fearlessness."

"An effort will be made," the editors said, to render every issue of the Star thoroughly interesting and readable to people of all classes; hence long speeches and sermons, ponderous editorials and prosy, tedious dissertations upon dry subjects will be excluded from its columns as foreign to its scope and plan.

Grandmother Wins Grade School Honor

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A determined grandmother won her grade school diploma last night at the age of 81. Then she set aim on a high school diploma.

"I'll do it even if it's only one day before I die," said Mrs. Ida Hober.

A practical nurse in Buffalo, N. Y., for 20 years, she came to Oregon four years ago and found she would need a high school diploma before she could get a license here as a practical nurse.

Spending Forecast Kills Tax Cut Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hopes of a tax cut flickered today in the light of forecasts that higher government spending will cut a billion dollars off expected budget surpluses in the next two years.

A staff report by House tax experts yesterday estimated government spending at 73 billion dollars for the year starting July 1 instead of the $71,800,000,000 President Eisenhower's January budget mentioned.

Despite Congress' current budget-cutting efforts, the report said price rises—which it indicated probably will continue—will "necessitate increases" in spending, especially for defense purposes.

Government income also will rise, the Ways and Means Committee staff predicted, but at a slower rate. As a result it estimated budget surpluses as of June 30 this year and the same date in 1958 at 300 million dollars each year below Eisenhower's January estimates.

These additional tax indicators

also entered the picture:

1. Some top administration officials were represented by congressional sources as believing the 1957 Treasury surplus may be even smaller than estimated by the predicted $1,200,000,000 surplus. Some administration officials were said to look for a figure nearer one billion dollars—or 700 millions below January budget estimates.

2. A forthcoming report of the Senate-House economic committee is expected to stress the upward effect of inflationary pressures on future government spending despite budget cuts.

Three influential senators said today prospective tax cuts may go out the window if Congress fails to hold spending far below the experts' forecasts.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee said a 75 billion dollar spending figure "would leave no room for tax reductions."

Similar opinions came from Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), a professional economist who is a member of Byrd's committee, and Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, and top GOP member of the Appropriations Committee.

All three senators expressed hope, however, that the current budget cutting drive in Congress will be effective enough to build up a much larger surplus than the thin $1,300,000,000 the report estimated would be available in the next year.

Houston School Officials Ask For More Time

HOUSTON (AP)—School officials yesterday appealed for time to rezone the Houston Independent School District so orderly desegregation could be accomplished.

Dr. L. C. McDonald, director of census and attendance for the district, said he believed there would be "pandemonium and confusion" if desegregation were attempted without rezoning. He was a witness in the trial of a suit asking that the school board be restrained from assigning pupils to schools on the basis of race.

The suit was filed last December on behalf of two Negro girls, Geneva Williams, 14, and Deloriet Benjamin, 9, who were turned down when they applied for admission to white schools.

Federal Judge Ben C. Connally said the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling "does not require integration, it merely outlaws forced segregation." He told McDonald he felt the decision does not prevent a liberal transfer policy for students whose parents do not want them to attend racially mixed schools.

McDonald said it would take about a year to rezone the district on a non-segregated basis. He said about 8,000 Negro students and some 15,000 white students would have to change schools if required to attend those nearest their home under a desegregation program.

Mrs. Jewel Askew, director of elementary schools, said work was under way on a remedial program to help reduce what Dr. Alexander Frazier said was a disparity in abilities of white and Negro students. Dr. Frazier, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, said the disparity widened as children advanced in school.

Dr. Ellis O. Knox, professor of education at Howard University, a Negro school in Washington, D. C., was a witness for the Negro attorneys.

Dr. Knox testified he saw nothing unique about desegregation problems in Houston. He said in research as a member of a committee which studied desegregation in 40 school systems, disparity in test scores of white and Negro students were more related to whether the children came from a privileged or underprivileged group.

Haitian Demonstration

Two Haitian men, their clothes bloodied and their heads banded, leave police station following their arrest during anti-government demonstration in Port-au-Prince. Two persons were killed and 10 injured in clashes between demonstrators and police near a cathedral in the capital city. Fighting broke out following Flag Day services attended by seven-member ruling council, which has been accused of trying to rig presidential elections set for June 16.

Haiti Regime Faces A General Strike

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Haiti's new military regime today faced a general strike in Port au Prince and the threat that the work stoppage might spread to the rest of the turbulent Negro republic.

An Army spokesman said troops would be used only if disorders developed.

It remained to be seen whether Haiti's politicians whose rivalry for the presidency has kept the country in turmoil for six months, could again paralyze the country.

Business establishments and the post office closed down in Port au Prince yesterday shortly after the army chief, Brig. Gen. Leon Cantave, 46, dissolved the Executive Council which had incurred growing opposition ever since leading presidential candidates chose it April 5 to rule the country.

Acting with the solid support of his army officers, Cantave declared the military was taking control to prevent anarchy and economic ruin. He pledged that the army would step out as soon as a provisional president is elected.

Cantave said a convention of leaders from all provinces will be called quickly to pick a provisional chief executive, the fourth temporary president since early December.

It appeared likely the presidential elections, first scheduled for April and now set for June 16, would be postponed again.

The army proclaimed a nightly curfew, banned broadcasts of a political or subversive nature and imposed censorship on all outgoing press dispatches. It also declared that no temporary government may remove Cantave before the expiration of his two-year term as chief of staff.

The military takeover was hailed outside Port au Prince in the five provinces, where factions opposing the Executive Council had been demanding that the army step in.

Although named originally by most of the 10 presidential candidates, the Executive Council in recent weeks had come under the domination of only two of them, Sen. Louis Dejoie and Daniel Fignole. It barred freedom of speech and placed sharp restrictions over the judiciary. A showdown developed last weekend when a rebel group in St. Marc, 45 miles north of Port au Prince, barred Council members from the city and welcomed Cantave with cheers.

High Winds Again Delay Atom Shoot

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—For the seventh straight day high winds have caused a postponement of the atomic explosion that will start a summer-long test series.

Turbulent activity in the upper air caused weather experts to put the explosion off until tomorrow morning at the earliest.

The forecasters said they expected the adverse conditions that have held the tests up for a week to start changing for the better tomorrow.

Neighbors' Attitude Toward Radiation Victim 'Improved'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A man exposed to radioactivity in a recent laboratory accident still complained of illness today, had lost his job and didn't think he could sell his house, but said the attitude of his neighbors had "improved a bit."

Meanwhile, a team of specialists combed the sprawling W. M. Kellogg Co. plant in a continuing effort to find additional traces of radioactive dust particles released March 3.

Four men were exposed to the radioactivity in the original accident. Company officials said three others were contaminated later.

Former branch manager Harold E. Northway, one of the four originally exposed, complained he and his family were ostracized by neighbors at first but things have now "improved a bit."

The Atomic Energy Commission

disclosed the accident May 2. Kellogg officials said decontamination procedures were ordered 50 days before that, but said they made no public announcement for fear of "public hysteria."

William B. Converse of New York City, manager of the firm's nuclear division, said Tracer Lab, Inc., of Houston, was checking the plant, all employees and vehicles connected with the five-acre site.

He said irradiated pellets of a mixture of compressed iridium-192 and aluminum powder broke while being removed from cans in the laboratory. The pellets were used in testing structural steel.

Converse said the nuclear products laboratory was closed because it was unprofitable.

The job was in a separate building and the contamination had no direct effect on the rest of the plant, which is operating on a normal schedule, Converse said.

Marvin C. Yoder Jr., Jack L. Hawkins and Jackson McVey were the first exposed along with Northway.

ANNE FOGARTY
22-inch waistline

DESIGNER HONORED

Cotton Fashion Award Won By Anne Fogarty

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Anne Fogarty, winner of this year's Cotton Fashion Award, has a 22-inch waistline and believes in showing it.

"The purpose of a dress is to flatter a woman's figure," says the slender blonde designer, who is her own best model. "These shapeless sacks with no waistline do nothing for anybody. Why look like a bag if you don't have to?"

The annual award was made at an impressive ceremony at Gracie Mansion by New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, in the presence of fashion designers, press and city officials.

It cited Mrs. Fogarty for her "dramatic silhouettes, her eternally youthful interpretation of the American look and her significant contributions to cotton's highest fashion rating."

planned for travel and vacation wear.

"Summer is a constant safari," says Mrs. Fogarty. "Everybody on the move. And so they need clothes that look right anywhere in the world, pack well and are easy to care for."

"But most of all today's women want clothes that make them look their best. That's what I try to give them."

COAHOMA — The home of Mrs. Clovis Phipps Jr. was the scene for a kitchen shower honoring Bonnie Lindley Tuesday evening. Other hostesses were Mrs. Elvon DeVaney, Mrs. Bobby Cathey, Mrs. Marion Hays, Betty Jean Mitchell, and Mrs. Johnny Hall.

The house was decorated with roses and other spring flowers. Refreshments were served to fifteen guests.

Donna Franklin, bride-elect of Nat McMinn, was honored with a bridal tea Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jim Meador. Hostesses were Mrs. C. C. Williams, Mrs. Leland Wallace, Mrs. Joe Hill, Mrs. Alton Lewis, Mrs. Benice Brown, Mrs. Jerry Buchanan, Mrs. James Coates, and Mrs. Forrest Appletton.

The serving table was covered with lace, laid over blue, the bride's chosen color. A center arrangement of blue daisies and white gladioli in a crystal bowl was flanked by white candles in crystal holders.

Miss Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Franklin of Pampa, will be married to McMinn on June 2.

Skirts And Shirts Take Style Cake

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Any woman looks her best in simple, understated clothes, in the opinion of Charles and Robert Evans, two brothers well qualified as critics of feminine glamor.

"If a girl is beautiful she doesn't need fussy clothes," says Charles. "And if she's not beautiful too many frills and furberies only make her look ill at ease," says Robert.

The brothers, with a third member of their team, Joseph Picone, a famous tailor, have cashed in on turning out classically simple slacks, shorts, skirts and shirts that depend for their effectiveness on perfect cut and fit.

"A woman can feel well-dressed in a well-cut skirt and plain shirt, if it fits right," says Charles. "This outfit is a standby of smart women all over the world, who know that the best clothes are the simplest."

The Evans brothers seldom are panicked by reports of rising or falling hemlines, changes in silhouette and other fashion flashes that periodically upset the garment industry.

"Well-dressed women always choose the skirt length most becoming to themselves," they comment. "This usually is mid-calf length, and of course the distance from the floor varies with tall and short girls. It's all a matter of proportion."

For summer the Evans brothers like pale doekin skirts and classic silk shirts in harmonizing tones, as a prescription for the knowing vacationer.

Statistics On Convictions Here Listed

Thirteen per cent of all persons convicted of felonies in the District Court of Howard County in the past two years have been Negroes, 18 per cent have been Spanish-Americans and 69 per cent have been other races.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, said he had checked the court records for the period and that these percentages had been revealed.

The cases represent the felony matters which have been handled by Jones since he assumed office as district attorney. The convictions include all types — guilty pleas and jury verdicts. They likewise include all cases where probation or suspended sentences were allowed.

Jones said he had no statistics by which to compare the population ratio in the county of the three races. Obviously, he observed, the white residents are numerically predominant and from that viewpoint alone should contribute the much heavier percentage of offenders than would be the case for the other two groups.

He cited that in the two years — roughly 1955 and 1956 with a slight overlapping into 1957 — the courts have convicted 123 white persons of felonies. In the same period 24 Negroes have heard the judge pronounce sentences against them. Forty Spanish-Americans have been convicted.

Jones pointed out one additional feature to be considered in connection with these statistics.

In a great many cases where Negroes and Spanish American offenders have been involved, it has been his experience to note that usually there are more than one offense charged against the individual involved," he said. "This also applies in general to Spanish-Americans. It applies occasionally in the case of white offenders but not, I believe, as widely as in the other two groups."

It is also of interest in studying the statistics to recall how many of the white defendants who have faced the court have been persons indicted for DWI second offense.

Jones says that if the records were studied and DWI cases eliminated from the figures, and only burglary, theft and the other more violent felonies considered, the percentages would vary sharply.

It is notorious, he pointed out, that bulk of the DWI offenders are white persons. The records show that each grand jury is faced with many such cases and each criminal docket usually is topsy-turvy with indictments for this crime.

Demands For Cuts Persist In Spite Of Strong Ike Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Demands for big cuts in foreign aid spending persisted in Congress today despite President Eisenhower's charge that economy advocates are gambling blindly and recklessly along a road to free world disaster.

The President stripped off the velvet gloves last night in a nationwide television-radio appeal for support of the administration's $3,865,000,000 mutual security program.

He spoke of "those blindly striving to save the money that should be spent as the price of peace," and said he doesn't propose to "take that gamble."

A week ago last night Eisenhower made a strong pitch on television and radio for his general $71,890,000,000 spending budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But at a meeting with newsmen the next day he refused to take a tough line with members of his own party in Congress who disagree with him on spending and other matters. He talked again at that time of the possibility of squeezing fat from the spending program.

Eisenhower went on the air last night after formally submitting his foreign aid program to the lawmakers during the day. In a special message he said it would be "supreme folly" for America to cripple its allies against communism "through an overzealous zeal to scrimp."

Committees of both the House and Senate arranged to start hearings today on his proposals.

In his talk to the nation, Eisenhower came up with the fighting spirit of his second term after saying anew that the cost of peace is high.

"It is higher and is paid in different coin—with the lives of our youth and the devastation of our cities..."

"To cripple our programs for mutual security in the false name of 'economy' can mean nothing less than a weakening of our nation. To try to save money at the risk of such damage is neither conservative nor constructive. It is reckless."

"It could mean the loss of peace. It could mean the loss of freedom. It could mean the loss of both."

"I know that you do not wish your government to take such a reckless gamble. I do not intend that your government take that gamble."

"At another point Eisenhower called the aid program "a saving shield of freedom." He added that ending or weakening the program "would vastly increase the risk of future war."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas took a wait-and-see position, saying "the question of what constitutes a 'minimum' figure is one that can be determined only after a searching scrutiny of the details."

But Sen. Young (R-ND) said Eisenhower still is "asking for too much money—about a billion too much." Sen. Aiken (R-VT) said a half billion dollar cut "won't hurt the program too much." Another Republican, Sen. Butler (MD) predicted a reduction "below the President's figure."

But Eisenhower got GOP support, too. Sen. Ives (R-NY) pledged help in a fight for "the full amount." Sen. Purtell (R-Conn) promised: "I shall back the President." Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) said "we can't afford to tear down our only bulwark against possible Communist aggression."

Eisenhower was in a solemn mood during the TV-radio speech from his White House office. Watching from a red sofa to the right of his desk was his son John, an Army major.

After the 30-minute talk under glaring floodlights the President mopped his brow and remarked with a chuckle to son John: "Hot work."

In his speech, Eisenhower said Americans have "twice spent blood and treasure fighting in Europe—and twice in Asia," during the last century.

"We have gained wisdom from that suffering," he added. "We know, and the world knows, that the American people will fight hostile and aggressive despotism when their force is thrown against the barriers of freedom, when they seek to gain the high ground of power from which to destroy us."

"But we also know that to fight is the more costly way to keep America secure and free."

Then he said: "Even an America victorious in an atomic war could scarcely escape the disastrous destruction of her cities and a fearful loss of life. Victory itself could be agony—and desolation."

Eisenhower said that if endangered free world nations were "thrown back completely on their own resources," they would have to cut their armed forces severely.

"They would at once become targets for renewed Communist pressure," he said. "We would have to increase our own military strength—and in the process we would suffer in terms of both cost and security."

Girlfriend Kills Bomb Suspect At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP)—George (Jack) Nesbit, 32, linked by police with several bombing deaths, was shot to death last night by his attractive, red-haired girlfriend, police said.

Detective A. C. Howerton said Mrs. Lois Stripling, 31, widow of gambler Howard L. Stripling, shot Nesbit at her duplex apartment. Nesbit was wounded "at least" four times.

Howerton described him as the lone survivor of top-ranking underworld characters in Fort Worth and said he was a leading suspect in the bombing deaths of gambler Herbert Noble and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Harris.

Mrs. Stripling told newsmen Nesbit had threatened her and displayed a pistol during earlier visits when she suggested they break off their relationship.

"I was afraid he was going to kill me," Howerton quoted her as saying. She was held in city jail. No charge was filed immediately.

Nesbit's police record included a 1-10 year sentence in Kansas in 1931 for forgery and a two-year sentence in Oklahoma in 1937. It also showed he had been arrested for investigation of burglary, robbery, theft and prowling in several Texas cities and in Oklahoma and Kansas.

His latest scrape with the law occurred last September when he was charged with attempted arson of an implement store in Paducah, Tex. His trial had never come up on this charge and he was free on bond at the time of his death.

Howerton described Nesbit as a "dynamite and nitro man."

"I knew it was Jack's turn to go," Howerton said, "but I never thought it would be like this."

Tornado-stricken areas in Missouri today counted 50 dead, nearly 300 injured and estimated property damage in millions of dollars after two days of violent spring weather. Hundreds were homeless.

Tornadic winds lashed other areas in the Midwest—in southern Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Indiana. More rain was in prospect for wide areas of the country today. Showers were predicted from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Atlantic Coast from Florida to southern New England. Scattered thunderstorms were indicated from the Lower Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic Coast and northward through the Ohio Valley and lower Great Lakes region and through the Middle Atlantic states.

The low pressure area reported responsible for the widespread storm was located in the Upper Mississippi Valley. It also brought showers from the Great Lakes region westward into the Rockies. However, heaviest showers were from the Great Lakes southward into the Ohio Valley.

Lopez's Forecasts Turning Out Well

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox, with an eight-game winning streak, a two-game lead in the American League race and their first triumph over the New York Yankees, are making manager Al Lopez look like a first class prophet.

Before last night's game at Yankee Stadium, the smiling manager declared: "The Yankees can be beaten and we're one of four teams that can do it. I think we have the pitching, speed, defense and sufficient hitting to win."

It's a long way to October but Lopez has nothing to apologize for today. His White Sox are three games in front of the Yankees, whom they whipped 3-1 last night and dumped into third place, a game behind Cleveland. The Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox 8-2 in an afternoon game.

Detroit's fourth-place Tigers took a sizzing 16-inning 2-1 thriller from Baltimore to advance to within two games of the Yankees. In another American League game Washington shut out Kansas City 3-0 behind the seven-hit pitching of Camilo Pascual.

The Brooklyn Dodgers whipped Cincinnati 6-1 to tie Milwaukee for second place in the National League, a game and a half behind the front-running Redlegs.

Billy Pierce, ace White Sox southpaw, handuffed the Yankees with four hits and struck out eight to post his sixth victory against two defeats. Billy did not permit a hit after the fourth inning, when the Yanks scored their lone run.

Chicago got six hits off loser Whitey Ford, first of three New York pitchers. Two of them accounted for all their runs. After Larry Doby drew a one out walk and second baseman Bobby Richardson dropped a throw on Jim Landis force play grounder, Jim Rivera singled in one run, Bubba Phillips squeezed in another and Pierce drove in the third with his second single.

Early Wynn's seven-hit pitching and Chico Carrasquel's grand slam homer highlighted Cleveland's victory in Boston. The Red Sox helped the Tribe with five errors, four in one inning, three of them by shortstop Billy Klaus. It was a wretched afternoon for Klaus, who was forced to leave the game in the seventh when he was hit under the right eye by Al Smith's grounder.

Reno Bertio's single in the 16th scored pitcher Paul Foytack with the run that gave Detroit its 4½-run victory over Baltimore. Foytack, who relieved starter Jim Bunning in the 14th, opened with a single and advanced to second on catcher Joe Ginsberg's passed ball. Ray Moore pitched the first 15 innings for the Orioles and allowed only eight hits. Mike Fornieles, who took over in the 16th, was charged with the defeat.

Lou Berberet's sixth inning homer, the first Washington hit over the Kansas City pitcher, Rinold Duren, was the big blow as the Senators won their second straight. It was the second shut-out by a Washington pitcher in 203 games.

Home runs by Pee Wee Reese and Sandy Amoros and the eight-hit pitching of Johnny Podres, earned the Dodgers their fifth consecutive victory. The Redlegs avoided a shutout when catcher Ed Bailey poked his third homer in the second.

Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Philadelphia's Don Cardwell went all the way in their abbreviated tie. Conley's single in the fifth drove in the tying run while Philadelphia had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth.

Cal Neeman's pop single with two out in the ninth gave the Cubs their first Wrigley Field victory this year. Two infield errors, a walk and Jack Littrell's single had tied the score before Neeman's game-winning hit. Willie Mays accounted for two New York runs with his fifth homer and a steal of home. The loser was Cal Neeman, who permitted only three hits in 8-3 innings. Turk Lown, who relieved starter Dick Drott in the ninth, was the winner.

McCormack's Gene Conley and Philadelphia's Don Cardwell went all the way in their abbreviated tie. Conley's single in the fifth drove in the tying run while Philadelphia had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth.

Cal Neeman's pop single with two out in the ninth gave the Cubs their first Wrigley Field victory this year. Two infield errors, a walk and Jack Littrell's single had tied the score before Neeman's game-winning hit. Willie Mays accounted for two New York runs with his fifth homer and a steal of home. The loser was Cal Neeman, who permitted only three hits in 8-3 innings. Turk Lown, who relieved starter Dick Drott in the ninth, was the winner.

McCormack's Gene Conley and Philadelphia's Don Cardwell went all the way in their abbreviated tie. Conley's single in the fifth drove in the tying run while Philadelphia had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth.

Two infield errors, a walk and Jack Littrell's single had tied the score before Neeman's game-winning hit. Willie Mays accounted for two New York runs with his fifth homer and a steal of home. The loser was Cal Neeman, who permitted only three hits in 8-3 innings. Turk Lown, who relieved starter Dick Drott in the ninth, was the winner.

TUNNEY TESTIFIES IBC And Courts In Round Two

NEW YORK (AP)—The bell rang for round two today in the Government vs. the International Boxing Club monopoly suit.

The IBC already has been found guilty of monopoly practices. The present hearings, which started Monday, are being held before Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan to determine what action to take against the IBC.

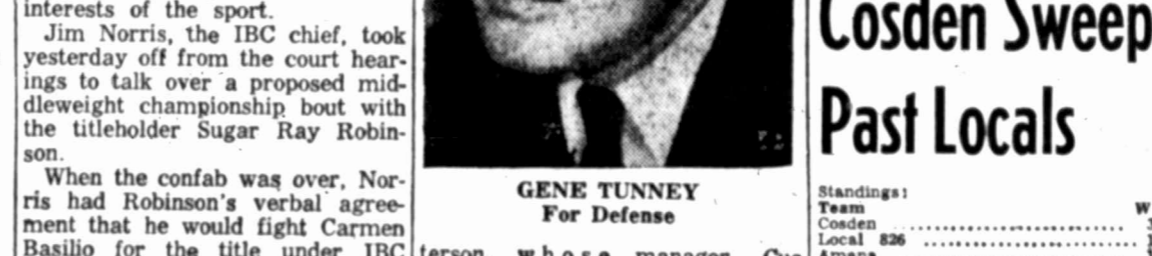

Gene Tunney, who retired as undefeated heavyweight champion yesterday off from the court, testified that the IBC was expected to testify that the IBC has been conducting boxing and specifically championship fights in the best interests of the sport.

Jim Norris, the IBC chief, took yesterday off from the court hearings to talk over a proposed mid-weight championship bout with the titleholder Sugar Ray Robinson.

When the confab was over, Norris had Robinson's verbal agreement that he would fight Carmine Basilio for the title under IBC auspices in September.

Meanwhile, Emil Lence, who hopes to promote the next heavyweight title fight, accused contenders Hurricane Jackson and Eddie Machen of being slaves to the IBC.

"They are owned by the monopoly," he fumed. He is seeking an opponent for champion Floyd Patterson.

"Jackson's way of saying 'no' to our proposal was to ask for a $150,000 guarantee against 20 percent and $25,000 training expenses," Lence continued. "I'm going to contact Machen. But I'm going to call his manager on the coast. I know I'll be wasting my money."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Bruce Sweeney, Webb AFB's stellar athlete, gets out of the service in October and plans to go in business with his father in Lewiston, Idaho, but he hopes to visit Big Spring for the 1958 American Business Club Relays.

Bruce reveals he doesn't want to be grounded yet. He'll make it here next year, if he can check out a plane and take a cross-country flight to Big Spring.

Tony DiPrimo, who used to backstop for the Odessa entry in the Longhorn League, is back with the Sinton, Tex., semi-pro team this spring.

One of his teammates is Clint Hartung, most publicized rookie in the big leagues immediately after World War II.

Al Monchak, the one-time Odessa manager, lost his father recently. George Monchak, a native of Austria-Hungary, passed away in Bayonne, N.J.

Al left this part of the country a number of years ago in order to help care for his ailing parent. The younger Monchak is now manager of the Wellsville club of the NYP League.

High Flying Cat

"Little Bit," this Siamese formerly "stationed" at Webb AFB, may have set some sort of record for flying at high altitude without oxygen. The feline flew with Lt. Donald R. McClain, Webb pilot instructor, from Big Spring to Riverside, Calif., at a cabin pressure equal to 24,000 feet altitude which Air Force authorities say is too high for human endurance. "Little Bit" made the trip without harmful effects and was given to McClain's sister in Riverside.

FINES GOING UP

First Glasscock Court Since '38

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Glasscock County Court convened Tuesday to hear criminal matters for the first time since 1938. Five defendants were in court, according to Guilford Jones, district attorney, who appears in the rejuvenated Glasscock County Court in the role of county attorney. Jones related that the proceedings followed this course: William Earl Deloy, who said he had no permanent address, pleaded guilty to misdemeanor theft. He had allegedly stolen a pistol and other property from a parked car. He was sentenced to serve 90 days in the Glasscock County jail. Sam Flores Mays, San Angelo, charged with DWI, was the next defendant. He pleaded guilty.

County Judge Jack Mitchell fixed his punishment at $100 fine and three days in the county jail. James Lee Glass, Hobbs, N. M., was next to face the judge. He too was charged with DWI and pleaded guilty. Judge Mitchell assessed a fine of $200 and three days in jail. Kenneth Albert Sellers, Midland, was next up. Charged with DWI he admitted his guilt. "The court fines you $300 and sentences you to three days in jail," said his honor. That left George T. Bridger, San Angelo, also charged with DWI. Bridger didn't plead guilty. He asked for a continuance and was released on $500 bond.

Graham Spells Out Moral Ills

NEW YORK (AP)—Lies in business dealing... Double sex lives... Obsession with money making. These, Billy Graham says, are some of New York's moral ills. "You're too busy," he told 17,500 people last night, and his arm swept the vast Madison Square Garden. "That's what's wrong with New York. You're too busy for God." "But there is coming a day when you won't be too busy," he thundered. "That is the day when you stand before the judgment of God, and He says, 'Depart from me now, cursed, I never knew you. You had no time for me. Depart from me into outer darkness.'" At the close of his sermon, Graham gripped the rail of the platform, half leaning across it, appealing to listeners to repent and "surrender your heart to Christ." "It's hard," he said, fingers tight on the rail, eyes closed. "It's hard to bow your head and say, 'God I am a sinner.'" Led by a blind man tapping his white cane, 605 men and women and young folk came forward at Graham's plea, bringing the total of such decisions to 4,524 in seven nights. In his sermon, the tall, handsome evangelist declared that lying has become a part of "business transactions every day." "Lies! Lies! Lies!" he hammered the word. "They call it smart business. How much advertising is a lie! God calls it by its right name. To Him, there is no such thing as a white lie. They're all black." He said greed and lust for money have so immersed the economic scene that "many men are ready to go to hell to get a better job."

Disaster Workers Count 37 Dead After Kansas City Wind

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Disaster workers totted up today this toll from the tornado which hacked across Kansas City's southern suburbs Monday night: 37 dead, 156 still in hospitals, 418 homes destroyed, 470 damaged, 44 business houses destroyed, 75 damaged. Gov. James T. Blair asked for $5 million dollars in federal relief funds to clear away the wreckage and restore streets, highways, schools, water and sewer systems. In a telegram to President Eisenhower, the governor said: "Damage, hardship and suffering so severe that federal assistance is required to supplement the efforts of state and local authorities."

"Apparently many have found homes with relatives," said Miss Rachel Armour, supervising a Red Cross aid station. Marvin Smith found an envelope on his farm near Chillicothe, Mo., addressed to Mrs. Isham Davis, one of those killed at Spring Hill, 95 miles southwest of Chillicothe. The envelope, from the Kansas school retirement board, bore the slogan: "Save for Retirement."

Oil Men Turn To Old Import Battle

GALVESTON (AP) — Texas independent oil operators turned attention to their old battle against foreign oil imports today after outlining changes needed before they can accept the new Harris natural gas bill. Recommendations from an import committee were to be placed before the final session of the 11th annual convention of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn. (TIPRO). The convention yesterday voted to support the Harris bill only if 11 amendments proposed by TIPRO are adopted. Arch Rowan, gas committee chairman from Fort Worth, told the convention, however, he does not believe the amendments will be accepted. Two resolutions adopted this morning touched on the association's contention that excessive foreign oil is supplanting domestic production. One called for an improved method of posting crude oil price changes. Another called for revised federal tax procedures to "restore greater equity in tax obligations between foreign and domestic operators."

The resolution said oil should follow other industries which make immediate adjustments in prices as costs increase. In criticizing the program for companies investing in foreign operations, the convention said several existing tax provisions can serve to encourage foreign oil development in excess of foreign oil imports. "Careful study should be given whether to continue in force the 1950 Treasury Department decision allowing a dollar-for-dollar tax credit for what in effect is royalty payments to foreign governments by American companies," the resolution said. Another resolution said the U.S. Senate Finance Committee has announced plans to conduct a thorough study of depletion tax allowances by the end of 1958. The resolution called for full TIPRO support of retention of no less than 27 1/2 per cent depletions for oil and gas production.

Panel Scores AF Air Hole Boring

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee said today the Air Force is wasting too many air-hours "boring a hole in the air from distant point to distant point." The boring, the committee said in a report on the 1958 defense appropriation bill, is done under the guise of what it said were needlessly long flights designated as "training missions." from 9,400,000 to 8,900,000 hours. The committee did not say whether this "major economy move" would affect members of Congress, many of whom use military planes in their annual "official inspection" trips.

Magellan Trip Proved Round Earth Theory

By RAMON COFFMAN Gazing at the sky, people of ancient times observed groups of stars which had various outlines. The more fanciful of those people saw pictures made by the stars. One star group, for example, was supposed to look like the hero Hercules. Another was named after Orion, the gigantic hunter of Greek mythology. Still others gained the name of Ursa Major, meaning Big Bear, and Ursa Minor, or Little Bear.

Diagram showing how Big Dipper includes only portion of stars in Ursa Major.

The Greeks were most active in making up stories about the stars. The Romans copied the Greek tales, and the names now used for most of the constellations came from Latin, the language of the ancient Romans. The vast majority of the ancient Greeks and Romans believed in a flat earth, but a few thinkers asserted the round shape of the earth. Their chief proof was the curved shadow which they saw cross the moon at the time of an eclipse. They figured correctly that the earth made the shadow by getting in the way of sunshine. A curved shadow, they said, meant a round earth.

the roundness of the earth. He died on his great trip, but some of his men finished the voyage around the globe. After the earth was circled, this fact became clear. The earth could be classed with the sun and moon among the round, or circular, objects in existence. That was a mighty step forward. It did much to promote the science of astronomy. Next time I shall speak about certain men who dared to suggest something just as startling — the movement of the earth around the sun! For HISTORY or SCIENCE section of your scrapbook. 'The Big Top'

Here's a front view of the big Al G. Kelly and Miller Brothers Circus which will stage two performances in Big Spring Thursday - at 2 and 8 p.m. The big top will be set just north of the rodeo grounds in west Big Spring.

Thursday Is Circus Day In Big Spring

Thursday is circus day in Big Spring. The Al G. Kelly and Miller Brothers Circus, second largest in the world and the largest now being shown under the "big top," will be presented in two performances just north of the rodeo grounds.

The huge "tent city" will start going up early Thursday, and Art Miller, advance representative, said "children of all ages" are invited to visit the show grounds during the morning to watch the unloading, feeding and watering of the many animals, and to see the precision-timed erection of the "canvassed."

Circus performances are set for 2 and 8 p.m. This will mark the first appearance of a big circus here in many years, and one of the first ever to bring such outstanding and unusual animals as: Giraffes, Hippopotamuses, and Rhinoceros. In addition a herd of 21 elephants, besides more than 200 animals including: Lions, Tigers, Pumas, and Leopards, numerous species of monkeys, apes and baboons; Black, Grizzly Himalayan and Polar Bears; Hyenas, Baby Gorillas, Kangaroos, Mandrills, Gnu, Emu, Llamas, Seals, Sea Lions, Wart Hogs, India Water Buffalo, Zebu, Bison, Persian White Sacred Deer Zebras, Camels, Tapirs, Dromedary; An aviary of tropical birds, dens of reptiles; also 127 head of horses, Ponies, Kyo, Yak and donkeys. Now recognized as the largest, most varied and costly collection of rare animals ever exhibited in an American circus.

The average circus has never carried or boasted of exhibiting a herd of giraffes. Al G. Kelly-Miller Bros. is the only American circus now exhibiting Giraffes, and only seven zoological institutions in the nation have them as an attraction. Giraffes which are found only in the continent of Africa are the tallest of all living creatures. They belong to the Ruminants, of Cud-chewers and naturalists are inclined to place them somewhere between the Deer Family and the Hallow - Horned Ruminants, in which are to be found oxen, buffaloes and antelopes.

The towering height of the giraffes is entirely attributable in the great length of the neck and limbs. A full grown giraffe will measure approximately 19 feet in height. Giraffes live mostly in forests or wooded country. Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. is now exceeded only in size by the famed Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey show.

This is an increase of about $550 from the past year. Dewey Mark, chairman, presented the budget with an explanation that two items had been added. Many Fields Still Too Wet For Planting Fields in many parts of Howard County are still too wet to permit farmers to push ahead with planting, according to Earl Hull, Howard County commissioner. Hull, who lives north and east of Big Spring, said he attempted to start planting on Tuesday but discovered that he would have to wait for the ground to dry some more. Fine sand which has blown in since the heavy rains of last week and the week before, he said, have coated the fields over but underneath this layer of dry sand, the loam is still too soggy to be worked. Heavy rains of the wet spell seem to have fallen in the general area where Hull lives. He said his neighbors are having the same difficulty that he encountered. Other parts of the county, where the precipitation was lighter, are proceeding with planting, it was reported. Hull said that in his community, it is believed that moisture received in the rains is quite to give cotton a good start and hold it until deep in the summer. He added, however, that hot weather with strong prevailing southerly and southwesterly winds would sap much of the reserve moisture. Farmers are eager to get their crops planted but it was said there is still considerable time to accomplish planting before the accepted deadline is at hand.

162 Candidates For Graduation From Big Spring High Tuesday

There are 162 candidates for graduation from Big Spring High School this year. Diplomas will be distributed during commencement exercises in Municipal Auditorium, beginning at 8:15 p.m. next Tuesday. Baccalaureate services are scheduled for 8:15 p.m. Sunday, also in the city auditorium. Baccalaureate speaker will be Rev. Clyde Nichols, pastor of the First Christian Church. He was selected by members of the class.

Also on the baccalaureate program are Sue Boykin, who will play the professional; Richard Tucker, invocation; the high school choir, which will sing "Father in Heaven" or "Holy Lord God"; Jessé McElreath, benediction; and Freda Donica, recessional.

Only students will speak during commencement exercises. Members of the class have chosen Danne Green and Ronnie King for two of the addresses. Jerry McMahon, class president, also will speak.

Names of valedictorian and salutatorian will be announced during the program. Roy Worley, high school principal, will certify the graduates, who will be introduced by Mrs. Matt Harrington. Clyde Angel and Omar Jones, school board members, will present diplomas, and E. B. Pierson, director of guidance, will present awards.

The program also will include professional by Darlene Agee, invocation by Janet Hogan, benediction by Henry Hill, and recessional by Lou Ann White. Songs will include "Graduation Day" by the Sportsmen (Johnny Janak, Ronnie King and Walter Dickinson) and "Dear Old Big Spring High" by the class. Billy Evans will be accompanist.

Underground Storage Of Plains Lake Water Feasible

LUBBOCK — As much as 90 per cent of water collected in High Plains "plays" or natural lakes can be stored and recovered by proper recharge of water-bearing strata, according to Victor L. Hauser, Texas Tech irrigation engineer.

Hauser said evaporation now claims an estimated 90 per cent of water collected in the lakes, which are formed in low areas of the table-topped High Plains after rains.

He explained that the 90 per cent recovery estimate is based on studies at the Amarillo well field. That much can be recovered from the same well into which it went underground if pumping is begun within six months after recharge, Hauser said.

Evaporation from High Plains lakes is approximately equal to one-fifth of the water pumped for irrigation in the area in 1956, Hauser continued. No evaporation loss will occur from water stored in underground formations, he reminded.

At present installations, periodic pumping of recharged wells is practiced to remove clay and other matter carried into formations by surface water, Hauser said.

"As yet, it has not been determined whether periodic pumping will remove all the clay and other materials deposited in underground formations," he said. "However, good results have been obtained to date."

Tech agricultural engineering students have built a working model of a well and plays lake as a permanent exhibit for instruction on ground water recharge. A valve allows draining of the lake into a water bearing formation with cross sections exposed to a glass wall. Thus students can observe the slope of water as it flows from the well into the formation. They also can see how the mound of water builds up in the formation around the well.
