America Honors Its Military Dead

Services Held At Traditional Sites

By The Associated Press
 Americans pause today to honor the nation's military dead. Millions, in a holiday mood, relax at home or enjoy opening festivities at beaches and other resort areas.

As usual on Memorial Day, travel is heavy and a watchful eye is being kept on auto and pleasures of a long weekend.

The weather forecast for most of the nation was fair and mild. Many churches scheduled special services while countless thousands trekked to gravesites to pay homage to their war dead.

Memorial Day, originally a remembrance of the Northerners who died in the Civil War, gradually has come to mean for Americans a salute to the dead of all wars—from the Revolutionary to the Korean.

Parades and other special civic ceremonies abound in communities from coast to coast.

At Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C., a wreath will be laid in President Eisenhower's name at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Acting for the President at the ceremony will be Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles. Eisenhower will spend a quiet day at the White House.

The scenes of savage fighting during the War Between the States will have their special observances—among them Antietam in Maryland and Gettysburg in Pennsylvania.

Overseas, Americans take part in Memorial Day services. In Paris, U.S. Ambassador to France Amory Houghton leads a procession to the Arc de Triomphe to lay a wreath on the tomb of France's Unknown Soldier.

Americans and Filipinos in Manila, the Philippine capital, paid reverence to their war dead in the U.S. military cemetery. Jets from the U.S. 13th Air Force headquarters at Clark Field provided an aerial salute.

Americans in Japan and Korea spent a quiet Memorial Day. There were no parades or special ceremonies in Japan, but most U.S. Military schools shut down and American schoolchildren had a holiday.

In Korea, Gen. I. D. White, 8th Army commander, told U. S. troops: "We pledge again our energies and capabilities to the preservation of our country's liberty and for the generations yet to come."

This year—marking the 80th annual observance of Memorial Day—many workers get a four-day holiday as offices and plants give Friday off to their employees.

Two To Go

This flood gauge erected in the saddle of a natural dam across Sulphur Draw shows how much more water can be impounded before it will trickle over the earthen barricade. One more intense rain might do it, although the chain of natural lakes spreads over hundreds of acres up Sulphur and Buzzard Draw. What worries local officials is the prospect that if water were to go over the dam with any appreciable rise, the alluvial block might be rapidly chewed away. That would spell trouble aplenty for lowlands in Big Spring.

Memorial Day Starts Quietly, Fishermen Out

Memorial Day cast a Sunday-like air over downtown Big Spring.

A majority of the business establishments presented closed doors to the public. Parking space was abundant in all parts of the downtown area.

Public offices were closed. Only the sheriff's office at the Howard County courthouse was open for business.

Sheriff Miller Harris said that the holiday had gotten off to a quiet beginning. No arrests were made during Wednesday night nor to 11 a. m. Thursday.

The highway patrol had no mishaps to report for Wednesday or Thursday morning.

Traffic was fairly heavy on the main highways in town. A considerable number of cars towing boats on trailers indicated the destination of many Big Spring residents.

Thursday made a brilliant start weather-wise. The skies were nearly clear and the sun was hot. There was little wind and fishermen looked on the day as ideal for an outing at one or another of the lakes in the area.

City, County Study Plan For Higher Dam On Flood Threat

Officials of the city and county agreed Wednesday afternoon to increase the size of the salt lake on the H. H. Wilkinson ranch—if the reservoir dam will take the extra weight—to avoid possible flooding.

They were still looking for someone to test the dam to see how much weight it will hold today after trying unsuccessfully Wednesday afternoon.

The two groups met at the courthouse to discuss the possibility of the dam breaking and what could be done to prevent it. The lake, swelled to about the size of Lake Colorado City, is held in check by a natural dam, and water this week edged less than two feet from the top. The lake is due north of Morita, but eight miles west of Big Spring.

Should the lake overflow, it would drain into Big Spring and cause considerable damage, officials predicted.

TO TEST SOIL
 After discussing the problem, officials agreed to a suggestion of C. N. Bellamy, city engineer, to take corings of the natural dam to see if it would hold additional weight—enough to raise the water level five to 10 feet.

Bellamy said that a core of 50 feet would be necessary to determine the structure of the dam and the formations below it.

Bellamy called several firms Wednesday afternoon, but could find no one capable of taking the test cores or anyone who could perform the operation in the next few days.

This morning, the city manager, H. W. Whitney, said they would continue to try to locate an operator for the work.

Bellamy and the county engineer, Walter Parks, inspected the lake on the Wilkinson ranch and both agreed that corings would be necessary before any dirt could be placed on the present structure.

TO SHARE COST
 Parks estimated the testing work would cost less than $1,000, and the city and county agreed to split the costs.

The engineers suggested—if the groups decided to raise the water level with a higher dam—that an outlet be placed at the present level to prevent the lake ever filling to capacity.

Both were against cutting through the present dam to install an outlet for fear that the construction work would cause the entire dam to give way. The question of siphoning the water out of the lake was also brought up, but the engineers said it would be too expensive for the amount of water removed.

The group mentioned building a spillway on the northeast side of the dam to permit additional water to run off, but this would cost as much as would increasing the size of the dam, the engineers said.

$17,000 PROJECT
 Parks said the groups would be thinking in terms of about $17,000 for building the dam higher and installing an outlet system.

Before taking any action, the groups called Wilkinson in Fort Worth to get his permission. The county judge, R. H. Weaver, explained the problem to him, and he gave the groups permission to take the corings. He said he wanted to be advised on what the groups planned to do later.

He also said he was not in favor of destroying the lake (a view he shared with the county and city) but he wanted to know how much land would be under the high water line should the dam be enlarged.

Stassen To Submit Arms Control Plan To U. N. Panel

LONDON (AP)—Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, returned to London from Paris today to submit a new American arms control plan to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee.

Today's scheduled subcommittee session was postponed until Monday. No reason was given for the postponement but a source close to the talks said, "It was no surprise."

Stassen outlined the still-secret plan yesterday to the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and was reported to have won preliminary support from all 14 of the NATO allies.

In Paris, French disarmament delegate Jules Moch denied earlier reports that part of the U.S. proposals called for a ban on the manufacture of nuclear arms except by the three powers which already have them—the United States, Russia and Britain.

The earlier accounts quoted authoritative French sources as saying such provisions would be absolutely unsatisfactory to France.

"There was never any question of the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain forming an exclusive 'atomic club' which would have a monopoly," Moch asserted. "That is not the American policy at all."

Moch declared the American position "is like that of France" and outlined it like this: "We are ready to renounce nuclear trials and possession of nuclear weapons on condition that the three agree not to manufacture or stockpile new arms and reconvert their existing stocks to peaceful uses."

Stassen declined to comment on the Paris talks, saying any statement would be "premature."

Informed sources have said President Eisenhower and Stassen put particular importance on two sections of the reported plan.

These were said to be advance registration of troop movements beyond national borders and international regulation of arms sales to third countries.

Informants also said the plan contains a proposal for a beginning on Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection procedure for controlled disarmament. They said the proposal now was to inspect only eastern Siberia and Alaska, but that it had not been put in definite form and still might be changed.

The five nations making up the Disarmament subcommittee are the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.

Severe Storms Forecast Here

Rough weather was foreseen for the entire Permian Basin in the 11 a. m. forecast issued by the Weather Bureau.

Scattered severe thundershowers, bringing locally heavy rains and possible hail from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. were foreseen. Shifting winds expected to hit 50 to 60 miles per hour will accompany the thundershowers. Isolated funnel clouds may be sighted, the bureau said. Friday will be partly cloudy.

Judge Convicted On DWI Charge

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Cameron County Court-at-Law Judge Clarence Bennett was convicted yesterday of driving while intoxicated and drew a $50 fine and a three-day jail sentence. Notice of appeal was filed.

Bennett was to resume his duties pending the appeal. Poik Hornaday of Harlingen sat as special judge during his trial.

Bennett testified he ran into another vehicle with his car Oct. 17, because he was distracted by a car full of children. He said he was not intoxicated but had been knocked unconscious in the accident.

Bennett testified he had two highballs at Commissioner Johnny Ginn's house and remembered drinking two beers at a drive-in the night of the accident.

Other witnesses gave conflicting opinions on whether they felt the judge was sober.

2 C-City Boys Hit By Truck

COLORADO CITY — Two Colorado City youngsters, Bennie Weatherly, 8, and Robert Schneider, 7, were injured Wednesday afternoon when they were struck by a gasoline transport truck at a crossing on U.S. 80 in Colorado City.

The two boys were homeward bound from school and were crossing at a stoplight. As they crossed the street, the light changed and the boys began to run. They crossed in front of a truck halted by the light and into the path of an oncoming truck driven by J. L. Henry, 49, of Colorado City.

Henry said that the two boys were hidden from view by the halted truck and that he did not see them until they were in his path, and too late to stop.

The two boys were taken to the Root Memorial Hospital for treatment. Their physician says that Weatherly has a broken bone in his foot. Schneider has a simple skull fracture. Neither is believed to be critically injured.

Housing Bill Good One, 'Considering'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) today called the Senate's 1957 omnibus housing bill "a very good one considering the climate we're in."

The Senate passed the $1,600,000,000 measure last night 69-1 after three days of debate. The bill was sent to conference with the House, which earlier had voted a $2,475,000,000 measure.

Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) cast the only negative vote.

Both Senate and House bills provide for lower down payments on housing loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration. The Senate whacked 1 1/2 billion dollars in new authorizations out of the $2,850,000,000 total recommended by its Banking Committee.

But Sparkman, floor manager of the measure and chairman of the Senate Housing subcommittee, said in an interview the cuts were not crippling. He pointed out that some funds were made available to continue many key housing programs.

"We had many cross currents in the Senate," he said, "including a fear of inflation if housing is expanded, and the desire of many senators to vote for rearmament." This is what he meant when he spoke of "the climate we're in."

The authorizations in the Senate bill still were about 450 million

Rossellini's Gal Departs

BOMBAY (AP)—Sonal Das Gupta during the night vacated the hotel room she has been occupying next to that of Italian film director Roberto Rossellini.

It was not known where she went, but her departure was taken as more evidence that her reported romance with the Italian movie man was at an end.

The Italian Embassy said yesterday that Rossellini had promised the Indian government to stay away from Mrs. Das Gupta, 28-year-old wife of an Indian movie director who left her husband a month ago and moved in next door to Rossellini.

Rossellini since his return from a hurried trip to New Delhi last weekend has been staying with a prominent businessman who has an Italian wife. The Italian director is making a series of documentary films for the Indian government.

Blast Rips House Near Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP)—An explosion of unknown origin ripped through a vacant house near the Fort Worth-Dallas toll road yesterday, setting it afire.

Police said no one was injured. M. J. Kilpatrick, who owns the house, said it had been vacant since construction of the toll road started two years ago. The blast was heard and felt over a wide area.

3 Big Spring Contractors Bid Lowest On School Job

Three Big Spring firms turned in low bids on construction of a six-classroom addition to North Ward School Wednesday.

Only a few dollars separated some of the offers.

J. D. Jones Construction Company's $38,606 proposal was the lowest on general construction. Western Service Company was low on the plumbing and heating work at $12,177. Tally Electric Company offered to do the electrical work for $2,940, lowest bid on that phase of construction.

Trustees were to meet at noon today to decide whether to award contracts. The board was unable to act Wednesday because only two members—Clyde Angel and John Dibrell—attended the bid opening.

J. D. Jones' bid was only $194 lower than that of G. A. Jones of Lamesa. There were six general construction bids, ranging up to $77,970.

Only $6.80 separated the bids of Western Service and Dyer's City Plumbing of Big Spring on the mechanical work. The Dyer bid was $12,183.80. There were two other bids, with the highest $13,750.

Tally's proposal was $356.99 under that of his nearest competitor, C&D Electric of Big Spring, which offered to perform the work for $3,196.83. There were seven electrical bids, with $4,750 the highest.

Examples Of Lakeview School Handicraft

Patrons of Lakeview School have been inspecting the collection of items which boys registered in the shops program have produced during the school year. Here D. T. Bradford, instructor, looks over a bed, some cedar chests, coffee tables, occasional tables, what-not-shelves and other things which the boys constructed. The boys were, left to right, Willie King, Clarence Hatfield, Luther Brown and Jimmy Bartley.

Unusual 'Garden' Church Brings Many Creeds Together

NEW YORK — An unusual "church" called Madison Square Garden today is bringing together worshippers of many creeds.

That's a characteristic the minister, Billy Graham, likes about it. "One of the things accomplished by these meetings," he told his 19,000 listeners last night, "is that they bring Christians of all different backgrounds together."

The crowds include about any denomination you could name — Methodists, Episcopalians, Baptists, Presbyterians, Catholics, Seventh-Day Adventists, Mormons, Lutherans and Jews.

Said Graham: "We're all just followers of Jesus."

He criticized the "backbiters and expositors" who attack other Christians, and said: "A disgrace of the Christian church in America tonight is that we don't have love one for another."

The service marked the start of the third week of Graham's crusade. He indicated it may be extended beyond its scheduled six weeks, and run on into late summer.

"A spiritual tide," he said, "has moved into New York City . . . This could be the beginning of a worldwide revival."

So far as statistics go, his meetings have steadily gained momentum. Attendance this week has twice in three nights exceeded the arena's seating capacity. Last night, besides 18,500 seated, there were 500 standees.

His appeal for people to "commit their lives to Christ" brought 738 persons to the front of the auditorium, bringing the total of such decisions to 9,485.

About 60 per cent of them so far, Graham told newsmen, have professed Christ publicly for the first time. Many others are lapsed church members. They are interviewed and referred to churches of their choice.

Graham's sermon, one of a series on the Ten Commandments, was based on Exodus 20:7: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." He said lies, misrepresentations — were a fashion of the age.

"Many church members are just as guilty," he said. "One of the worst sins in the church today is slander and talebearing . . . We even have magazines that go under the name of Christian that spend their time exposing other Christians."

He then spoke of the spirit of Christian unity prevailing at the Garden.

Its evidence are all around in the corps of counselors and other volunteers — preachers in formal clericals, in street suits, high churchmen, low churchmen, bishops and elders of many denominations.

The same arm-in-arm approach shows up in the nightly succession of guest prelates, pastors, theologians and seminary presidents who give the invocation and benedictions—a denominational cross-section.

Hitting hard at falsehoods, Graham said: "You can murder a man with your tongues."

"I pity them when they stand before God's judgment," he said. He said that when you know a man has been slandered with untruths or false innuendos, you're just as guilty as the original liar if you fail to stand up and defend the injured party.

"We're to be advocates of others when we know they've been wronged," he said.

Lamesa Charges Check-Suspects

LAMESA — Sheriff Henry Mayfield said Wednesday that he believed several forged and passing cases here had been solved with the arrest of three men in Waco and Big Spring.

John L. Overman, arrested in Waco, is now in the custody of Terry County authorities. He is alleged to have passed a worthless check to Gilbert Porter here on March 13.

Big Spring officers arrested F. M. McGittis and Truman E. Kenner earlier this week. They are charged here with forgery and passing, said Mayfield. They are alleged to have passed forged checks to three Lamesa grocery stores earlier this year. The checks totalled almost $150.

Sniffer Promises Coffee Roasting Aid

SAN ANTONIO — Ever tell the little woman her coffee tasted like dishwater?

Pretty soon, hope some scientists here, you can pat her shoulder as you dry her tears and say, "It's not that you can't make coffee, honey. The sniffer blew a fuse."

The man trying to prevent such family difficulties is John Rhoades.

Rhoades is senior analytical chemist on a Southwest Research Institute project aimed at helping roasting plants produce scientifically uniform coffee. The project is sponsored by the Coffee Brewing Institute.

The scientist says coffee roasting now is pretty much an art. Roasting time varies with each batch of coffee. There is no precise way of knowing just how long it should be.

So the institute is working with a gadget called a sniffing machine by the laymen around the institute and a "vapor phase fractometer" by the scientists.

The sniffer can show differences between the aroma of different batches of coffee being roasted.

Rhoades and his fellow coffee lovers are concerned about aroma because, he says, aroma is largely responsible for coffee flavor.

Out of the sniffer rolls a paper tape on which appears a continuous line in a series of rounded peaks. Each peak represents one of some 29 components which contribute to coffee aroma.

The next phase of the research — still to come — is to bring in some old coffee drinkers and find out what they like best.

Their favorite cup of several will be translated to a graph—scientists can do this, too—and matched with the sniffer's graph, and the perfect roasting time determined.

FHA Takes Over Housing Rent Projects In Houston

WASHINGTON — The Federal Housing Administration took over control and operation of three apartment projects in Houston yesterday after charging the owners with violating a charter agreement to properly maintain the units.

FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason said it was the first ouster of owners of a rental development for alleged poor maintenance.

The projects are North Shepard Terrace, The 56 Corp. and The 74 Corp., all financed by FHA-insured mortgage loans totaling $1,829,800. They were built by the LeMay Construction Co. in the early 1950s.

Mason said the projects met a definite need and enjoyed good occupancy, but he added in a statement:

"The sole beneficiaries of the prosperity have been the stockholders, not the project. Too few of the proceeds from rental income during the prosperous years have been put into reserve funds to meet the needs of leaner times."

The seizure was made under terms of the loan by which the federal agency acquired preferred stock giving it the right to remove the board of directors in case of serious charter violations impairing the value of the property. FHA said failure of the LeMay man-

Issues Before Baptist Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The president of the American Baptist Convention today asked delegates to the 50th annual meeting to act on "three decisive issues" before the group.

Harry L. Dillin of McMinnville, Ore., urged the delegates to vote to locate all the convention's agencies in one city; to approve an eight-million-dollar fund for Christian higher education; and to establish a three-million-dollar line of credit to start new churches.

The convention's agencies are now located here and in New York, Dillin said.

Near-East Make-Up

Ziva Ro-Dann, Israel's most popular actress, makes her debut in Hollywood in "Pharaoh's Curse." She tells of her preference for American fashion but near-Eastern make-up in today's Hollywood.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Newcomer Brings Some Eastern Beauty Hints

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — The irresistible magnet of Hollywood, which draws talent from all over the world, has recently attracted Israel's most popular actress Ziva Ro-Dann to its film colony. Before coming here she starred in five pictures made in Tel-Aviv with an English as well as Hebrew versions.

English is compulsory," she said, speaking without a trace of an accent. "I consider it my second language," she explained, "so I decided to come to Hollywood and try my luck."

At an early age Miss Ro-Dann started her professional career as a dancer in the Israeli ballet, so she has years of experience behind her.

"Everyone at home thought I was making a mistake by coming to America because this meant beginning all over again. But," she smiled, "luck was with me. Bel-Air Productions were looking for a girl of my type for 'Pharaoh's Curse.'"

Ziva was wearing a smart black dress when we dined at the Beverly Hills Hotel. I mentioned how chic she looked and she talked turned to clothes.

"Though we are closer to Europe, our buyers come to New York and California," she confided. "We favor American influence in fashion but in make-up the Italian influence is popular

Sow Pansy Seed For Transplanting Later

Now is the time to plant pansy seed for that early spring harvest of beauty. Pansies are generally classed as annual flowers, but they really are biennial. They lie dormant through the winter, with little care, in a cold frame or sheltered place.

The plants will hold their green leaves all winter and bloom as soon as the earliest spring flowers are out. If grown in the shade, with faded flowers removed promptly, they will bloom all summer.

It is easy to start a flat or two of these flowers each year. Seed may be sown as late as August 15 in soil prepared by mixing a third sand, a third peat moss, and a third sifted top soil.

Cover the surface with a half-inch layer of sphagnum moss, and broadcast the seed in this, with a little moss to cover them. Keep moist until the seeds germinate.

The moss will prevent damping-off, a fungus - disease which is dangerous in hot weather. Let the plants grow out in the open until fall. Then if you have a cold frame, put the flat in it and cover with leaves for the winter.

Lacking a cold frame, set the flat in a protected corner, and cover. It is better to transplant the seedlings, setting them seven to eight inches apart in additional flats, but if you sowed thinly, this can be skipped and the plants left to winter in the original flat.

When the garden soil has been prepared in the spring, move the plants to a portion of the border which is on the shady side of a building. They may not grow as fast at first as plants in full sun, but they will soon catch up, and the rest of the summer they will surprise you.

In hot weather, the flowers will not grow to giant size, and the plants will become "leggy," with long stems. If cut back severely, and given a dose of plant food, new growth and more abundant flowers will result.

Aside from the novelty of pansies in the summer, attractive color effects may be obtained by planting named varieties of pansies.

Violas may be grown the same way. Their flowers grow almost as large as the pansies in the summer, and are more numerous. Dark blue, yellow and white flowers will make a bed or border interesting.

Proper Gown Is A Must For Wedding

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Features Writer
 The wedding outfit is the most important one a girl will ever select. It's a good idea to make sure that it's becoming and in good taste even though you may be carried away by an unusual style.

So many young girls marry these days during the figure-fault period that care must be exercised in choosing the dress. Tall girls may look gawky rather than willowy during the teen years. Short girls may look pudgy rather than curvaceous.

These figure problems may be helped with the right wedding dress, however. Kathleen Blackburn, designer of wedding veils, offering this advice:

"Tall girls may wear ruffles and very full skirts. Height gives her the right to wear many kinds of fabrics—imported swiss organdy, silk organdy, tulle, lace, taffeta, satin, silk pleu de soie, silk shantung."

Chubby girls, she advises, may choose from a number of fabrics such as youthful swiss organdy may help minimize her size. Lace, tulle, taffeta and jeune fille fabrics that are usually a success on chubby types. Satin is not always flattering, but no matter what fabric is selected, final choice depends on the style. Miss Blackburn explains:

"Style is important if there is a figure problem. Heavy girls should look for long lines, such as a princess style or one with a plain down the front to give a long line. Ballerina length dresses are good for informal weddings. A floor length for afternoon wedding, long formal gown with trains for formal weddings. The dress may be white, off-white, blush, ivory, ice-blue."

The veil, she says, should be in keeping with the dress. Choose a shoulder length and elbow length for the short dress, a finger tip or longer length veil with a more formal dress. The headpiece could be a crown, cap or of imported orange blossoms. If real lace is available, it is very beautiful with a plain silk dress. Headpieces may be made of the same material as the dress.

Dressmaker For Royal Family Says Hemline Hysteria Is Baloney!

By LEONARD LEDDINGTON
LONDON — Long skirts or short skirts for 1957 — it's all a lot of high-class baloney, madame. This year's styles, says Norman Hartnell, won't be set by anyone but you.

Hartnell, who dresses Britain's royal family, insists he's not getting mixed up in any controversy over the rise or fall of the hemline.

"It doesn't matter where we put it," Hartnell says. "The women who buy our dresses have the hemline fixed just where they want it."

"The designer presents, but the women decide. The ladies always have the last word."

Hartnell, who became Britain's first dressmaker back in 1923 when he was 22 and fresh out of Cambridge University, made the collection of clothes Queen Elizabeth took on her state visits to Copenhagen and Lisbon, as well as those planned on her visit to Paris.

Hartnell, now 55, prepared the dress collection for the Queen's mother in 1938 when she paid a similar state visit to the capital of feminine fashion.

"The Queen Mother had long dresses and large hats," Hartnell said. "The present Queen prefers them more practical."

ROYAL WARDROBE
 There was lots of white, silver and gold among the royal colors for the Paris visit. "The Queen wears the bright scarlet sash of the Legion of Honor and her dresses must be designed accordingly," Hartnell said.

Daytime dresses of the royal spring wardrobe were similarly bright — "they must be of clear colors visible from a long distance" — but the materials must be able to cope with unsettled weather of Paris.

Hartnell recently showed a few choice items of his new collection to Princess Margaret and the Queen Mother. But he doesn't expect many orders for new clothes from Princess Margaret this year.

"She took quite an extensive wardrobe on her African tour last year and her clothes don't 'date,'" Hartnell pointed out.

CAESAR'S WIFE
 He has one stirring gown — a slick, classical creation called "Caesar's Wife," the lady beyond reproach — which is a highlight of the new collection.

It is a strapless white gown in what Hartnell calls "the Roman line" — the kind of dress that is certain to draw long, low whistles in even the best circles. It's drawn light about the body so that the wearer has to take tiny steps. A thin embroidered band of gold runs down the front to lift the floor-length hemline to ankle length for a peek-a-boo inverted V in the center.

The dressmaker for the Royal Family views his model, Azetta, wearing the spectacular evening gown, "Caesar's Wife," from his spring collection.

"That old Roman effect, even in 1957, is pretty devastating," Hartnell's salon is a fairyland setting of perfumed air, glittering crystal chandeliers, thick fiesta walls. And all of Hartnell's young ladies, from the receptionists to the salesladies (they're called vendeuse in the expensive Hartnell bracket), wear individually designed dresses, all in dark Hartnell green.

Hartnell gives afternoon showings of his new spring collection on a daily basis to a selected audience of British blue bloods. The prices, by normal haute couture standards, aren't terrific — somewhere between 100 and 200 pounds ($200 to $500) per dress would be about average.

Unlike the Paris fashion houses who sell mainly to dress manufacturers, most of Hartnell's customers are private buyers just picking up a thing or two.

Any dress chosen by the Queen or Princess Margaret, Hartnell says, is immediately withdrawn from the showing. The rule is that nobody in Britain wears what the royal women wear.

War Hero Visits Webb

Army Gen. William F. Dean, right, Korean War hero, stopped briefly at Webb AFB en route to Bryan AFB where he addressed a graduating class of AF pilots last night. Flying the famed general from Hamilton, Calif., to Bryan was his son, center, an instructor at Bryan. Gen. Dean was a prisoner of the Communists in Korea for 36 months, following his capture after a month behind enemy lines. He became a hero almost overnight early in the Korean War as a result of his fighting leadership of the 24th Infantry Division. Pictured with the Deans on the Webb apron is Col. Memorial Day Weather Damp

Wet weather is expected to mar Memorial Day programs in many parts of the nation today. However, clear skies were indicated in the central and north Atlantic Coast states and in the far Southwest. Mild temperatures prevailed in most all areas. Widespread areas of thunderstorm activity was reported during the night in Kansas and Oklahoma after severe storms in the two states yesterday. The stormy weather in the Central Plains diminished considerably. A few tornadoes were associated with the thunderstorms in south central Kansas and north central Oklahoma. Heavy rains which hit the already drenched areas increased the danger of further floods. The severe storm belt yesterday extended from Kansas northward through Iowa into Wisconsin and northwestward into Wyoming. Hall fell in many areas. Tornadoes were sighted in sections of Kansas, Colorado and Texas but no serious damage was reported.

House Slices Defense Fund In Major Rebuff To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a major rebuff to President Eisenhower, the House has decided that the Defense Department can get along on $33,562,725,000 in new appropriations next year. That's $2,565,275,000 less than the President had requested and $1,200,000,000 below what he pleaded with his House leaders to try to restore to the bill. The House sent the biggest money bill of the year to the Senate yesterday by a roll call vote of 394-1. The lone dissenter was Rep. Canfield (R-N.J.), who objected to the deep cut. In doing so, the House ignored Eisenhower's warning that if the $1,200,000,000 cut stood, aircraft procurement and guided missile development would suffer. The President made no fight for $1,200,000,000 of the cut, describing it as a "bookkeeping operation."

Flood Conditions Survey Launched By House Panel

FORT WORTH (AP)—A survey of flood conditions in the Southwest was launched today by a three-man House Public Works subcommittee headed by Rep. Wright (D-Tex.). The committee scheduled a public hearing in the federal office building here this morning. They planned to fly over the upper Trinity River watershed and the central Brazos River basin this afternoon. Others in the group are Rep. Edmondson (D-Oklahoma) and Rep. Byrne (R-Ill.). Rep. Wright pointed out that the reservoir and levee system here and in Dallas helped prevent much damage in the recent floods. "We want to find out what additional measures are needed," he said when the group arrived by military plane last night. The schedule calls for a flying trip over East Texas Friday morning, then north over flood-stricken parts of Louisiana before Mich, a graduate of H-SU, coached at Roscoe, H-SU, Arlington State and Sul Ross before coming here. With him at the meeting Tuesday was Mitchell Mallouf, assistant coach. Reports on the presentation of the "Fortune Teller" showed a gross of about $1,200 with a net of half that amount to be divided between the club and HJCC's music and theatrical groups. Jim Fryar, president, announced three teams headed by Sam Anderson, Ben Johnson, and Vic Alexander would handle the club's participation in the rodeo ticket sale contest. The top club will receive an award of $50 and the top individual $25. The matter of whether to sponsor a teen-age baseball team was referred to the directorate for final action.

Rain To Mar Memorial Day In Scattered Areas Of State

By The Associated Press. Rain was expected to mar the observance of Memorial Day in scattered areas of Texas Thursday. The Weather Bureau forecast widely scattered thunderstorms for North Central and West Texas late Thursday and daytime rain showers in South Central Texas. Skies over the state were clear to partly cloudy and temperatures were mild. Falling rivers and streams continued to ease flood threats. Salt Flat with .10 of an inch, reported the only rainfall during the night. The Weather Bureau said, Other rain fell Wednesday at Victoria and Brownsville. The flooding Trinity River continued receding in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. The flood control situation at Mansfield Dam on Lake Travis was reported back to normal after heavy weekend rains. The Colorado River was falling at all points between Austin and Columbus. Some lowlands were flooded but no homes were under water in low lying areas along the Colorado below Columbus. Lake Whitney was at its highest level in its 7-year-history Wednesday. With all 17 flood gates open a foot. Engineers said the Brazos River, however, was handling the water. A levee break swirled flood waters over 2,000 acres of farmland in southeast Dallas County Wednesday. Roads were under water because of the break, located on the west side of Cottonwood Creek in the Trinity River bottoms. No homes are located in the section. Lake Texoma appeared to have crested Wednesday afternoon at 640.9 feet. The top of its flood control pool is 640 feet. Army Engineers said falling stages on the Red River below Denison Dam enabled them to step up discharge of water from the lake. Maximum temperatures Wednesday ranged from 102 at Presidio at 82 at Abilene. Predawn temperatures Thursday ranged from 77 at Galveston to 54 at Dalhart.

Anderson Faces Quiz On U.S. Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today he intends to question Robert B. Anderson closely about how, as secretary of the Treasury, he proposes to manage the government's huge debt. Anderson, 48, a former defense official, was nominated yesterday by President Eisenhower to succeed George M. Humphrey. Humphrey, 67, who for more than four years has been perhaps the most influential man in the Eisenhower Cabinet, told the President he wanted to leave by the end of this session of Congress. He is expected to become chairman of the board of National Steel Corp. While Senate confirmation of Anderson seemed assured, Gore emphasized in an interview that he regards the handling of the 273-billion-dollar public debt as a serious problem in light of the Treasury's recent difficulty in refinancing government securities even at higher interest rates. In accepting Humphrey's resignation, Eisenhower indirectly asked him to stay on until "a number of critical problems" have been settled. Gore is among Senate Democrats who have contended that the administration has followed a de-

Fresh Flowers On Grave Of Unknown Girl

ELLIS, Mo. (AP)—There were fresh flowers again today on the nameless grave of a girl, slain near here one spring night about 75 years ago. Through the years Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad employees have so remembered it each Memorial Day. The grave, marked with a stone which carries no name, is on the Katy right-of-way, only a few hundred yards from where Missouri Highway 43 joins U.S. 54, about five miles west of Neavada in southwestern Missouri. One night a man and a young woman, beautiful and fashionably dressed, stepped off a train here. Those loitering about the depot noticed the couple start walking down the tracks. They disappeared in the evening twilight. Several days later, a farmer hunting some stray hogs, found the body of the girl in the bush grass beside the tracks. There was a gunshot wound in her chest. There were no marks on clothing or purse that gave a clue to her identity. A search was made for her companion, but he had vanished. Katy section hands buried the body where it was found. The spot became known as the "Unknown Grave."

The exact date of the girl's death has been lost. The story has come down mainly by hearsay. Katy section men tend the plot. White gravel is spread over the mound to keep the grass from covering it up. A white headboard many times renewed, was placed with a small buff-colored tile on a natural rock base. Sometimes spring flowers were placed on the grave by the railroad workmen. People along the tracks send flowers for the grave. For years Tom Thompson, the section foreman, and his crew tended the grave and had it properly decorated for Memorial Day. Thompson, recently was transferred to Clinton, Mo., but C. T. Moore, an employee of the Katy freight office at Nevada, saw to it today that there were flowers on the grave.

Ohio Run-Away Is Caught Here

A 15-year-old run-away boy from Ohio is being held in juvenile ward at the Howard County jail. A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, is endeavoring to get in touch with his relatives but no word had been received Thursday. The boy told Long that he and two other boys set out together but that two of the boys were returned to their homes when their parents sent fare for air tickets. The youth informed the county juvenile officer that he didn't believe that any money would be sent for his return home. He explained that his mother was a widow and that the sole breadwinner for the family was a brother who makes a very small salary. "I don't think they'll have the money to send for me," he told Long.

Bomb Trial In Alabama Nears Jury

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The racial violence trial of two young white men neared the jury today ringing with shouted accusations of the defense that Montgomery Negroes bombed their own churches to win sympathy and financial support. The accusations were made after a second confession went into the record yesterday that a defendant admitted taking part in the dynamiting of a Negro church. The confession of Raymond C. Britt Jr., 27, was reported by a city detective. Earlier in the four-day trial, a detective testified that Sonny Kyle Livingston Jr., 19, signed a statement saying he tossed a bomb at the same church. Britt and Livingston are charged with dynamiting the Hutchinson St. Baptist Church early Jan. 10. Within a few pre-dawn hours, three other Negro churches and the homes of two pro-integration ministers were dynamited. A seventh bombing followed 17 days later. The prosecution has attributed the bombings to the Ku Klux Klan. They followed racial integration of city buses by U. S. Supreme Court order Dec. 21. The order ended a yearlong bus boycott by Montgomery Negroes under leadership of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. During the boycott sizable financial contributions were sent from around the country to support the Negro protest.

John Blue Hill, chief defense attorney, thundered to the court: "Our contention is that the bus boycott ended (the Negro leaders) organized goon squads and carried out these bombings." He said the Negroes became "frantic . . . and decided they had to do something to create sympathy and get more money."

Holiday Deaths At Low Level

The usual heavy Memorial Day highway traffic began rolling on schedule last night. Accident fatalities were at a low level today. Total deaths, including holiday-connected fatalities — as tabulated from 6 p.m. local time — were 15 in traffic, 1 drowning and 1 "miscellaneous."

British Break Trade Barrier

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today is expected to get Great Britain to maintain trade controls on Red China. Other nations seemed certain to follow Britain in breaking away from U.S. leadership on the trade issue. Britain decided to put its control list for Red China on the same basis as the Russian list, which means a possible increase in British trade with the Chinese Communists by about 200 items now barred. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government made the decision against strong American insistence that it hold the line and control trade with Red China on a more extensive list of goods than are embargoed to Russia.

An operation retrieved the watch, still ticking.

Planters Hum As Early Cotton Starts To 'Shank'

LAMESA — "If the weather holds for a little while longer, Dawson County farmers stand to make a bumper cotton crop," says County Agent LeRoy Colgan. About 20 per cent of the cotton in the county is up, with a little of it already shanking out, said the county agent after a tour around the county. Much of the land that a few days ago was entirely too wet to get into is now being planted and with plentiful moisture, should germinate and come right up. Farmers are working practically around the clock now in an effort to have all their cotton planted before June 1, a theoretical deadline for many to plant. Most of the land has already been planted twice, some of it three times. One farmer, Bill Weaver, farming in the Union Community, Tuesday had 11 tractors in one field. Weaver is the largest operator in the county, according to Colgan. On half-mile rows, the 11 tractors are planters would need to make is plenty of time to replant grain, just 17 rounds to plant a quarter-section. In several fields, grain sorghums are also coming up. There but another rainy weekend would hurt the cotton farmer, said Colgan.

Sheriff's Cars Get 'Riot Guns'

Sheriff Miller Harris said Thursday that his officers' patrol cars now feature much heavier armament than formerly was provided. Each patrol car now is rigged with a 12-gauge sawed-off shotgun. These weapons, known as riot guns, are rigged in the cars on special racks which have been installed to hold them. Heretofore, the deputies have been riding the roads armed with their revolvers only.

Several Items On Stolen List Here Wednesday

A bicycle, car accessories, and gas were reported stolen to the police Wednesday. Melvin Baker, VA Hospital, told officers that a bicycle and an extra tire were stolen from him. A. J. Allen, 601 Caylor, reported loss of two hub caps from his 1956 Chevrolet. He said the car was parked near the city hall at the time of the theft Monday night. The night attendant at the Parks Service Station at Fourth and Gregg said a Negro drove in to the station Wednesday night and drove away without paying for $1 worth of gas.

"Mike was playing ball with some other kids," Long said. "He saw us and came running over to talk. He seems to be doing fine and he has made quick adjustment to his new surroundings."

Reporter Gags As A Gourmet

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Reporter Jim Millstone's boss at the Daily Mail took pity on him after a steady diet of bullet peas and banquet roast beef.

He called in Millstone for a free feed, a menu fit for a gourmet: escargots, better known as snails; grasshoppers, an Asiatic delicacy; and that fine old American dish, diamondback rattlesnake with sauce supreme.

"I sat down to a spread that would have brought an eager glint to the eye of Duncan Hines himself," Millstone said. His report on the meal's success was something else again.

"Rattlesnake meat — with supreme sauce — tastes something like clam chowder would taste if clam chowder had no taste. It has a kind of dull taste. Salt, pepper, ketchup and mustard might improve it but by the time I thought of that, my gaze wandered to the plate of grasshoppers.

"How to describe it? Well, imagine you pick up a grasshopper in the grass, break him in half and roast him to a crisp over a safety match. When burnt brown, pop into mouth."

Next came that delight of French chefs, snails.

"Perhaps I lack the cosmopolitan air, perhaps I am at heart a country boy," Millstone admitted. "But to me that snail tasted like a middle-sized rubber eraser that had been soaked in greasy water for six weeks. It had more feel than taste. It felt terrible."

One consoling feature for gourmet Millstone — he had stowed away a few peanut butter sandwiches before digging in.

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff signed the measure without comment.

All 30 Democrats in the Republican-controlled House voted for the bill, which gives permission to towns and citizens decide by referendum whether to supply the bus service. Chiefly involved are about 70,000 children in Roman Catholic schools.

Field Lengthened By Wildcat Tests

HOUSTON (AP)—Completion of two wildcat oil wells which will lengthen South Louisiana fields was announced yesterday by the Texas Co.

The 10 State East Cote Blanche Bay well on the west flank of the Bayou Sale field in St. Mary Parish flowed on an initial test at the daily rate of 340 barrels of 34.7 gravity oil through a 10-64th inch choke. Perforations were from 23,320 to 13,333 feet.

Total depth was 14,088 feet, tubing pressure, 2,000 pounds, the gas-oil ratio 1.078-to-1. The well is about one mile west of present production.

The 1A State Lease 2.856 well on the north west flank of the Cailou Island field in Terrebonne Parish flowed on a two-hour test at a daily rate of 142 barrels through a quarter-inch choke. Gravity was 35.7, tubing pressure 375 pounds, total depth 18,069 feet. Perforations were from 15,438 to 15,468 feet. The nearest production is a mile and a quarter to the east.

Abilene To Get Second Air Wing

ABILENE (AP)—Gen. Curtis LeMay, outgoing commander of the Strategic Air Command, said yesterday a second wing would be assigned to Dyess Air Force Base next fall.

LeMay was honored at a dinner given by the National Defense Committee of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce. He is to become vice chief of staff of the Air Force.

J. C. Penney Store Remodeling Starts

An extensive remodeling program which will add 1,000 additional square feet of floor space has been launched by the J. C. Penney Company store here.

Cliff Epps, manager, said that in addition there would be extensive additions to and replacement of fixtures. The store will be repainted and refinished throughout.

"I certainly am confident about the future for Big Spring and area," he said, "and so is the Penney Company and our landlord, the Fisher estate."

Improvements, repairs and changes to the building and the additional equipment will run somewhere between $30,000 and $35,000, Epps estimated.

He said that the project is due to be completed by late July or early August. Stocks will be increased in keeping with this target date.

The chief change will be the extension of the balcony by 20 feet. The most modern types of ready-to-wear fixtures will be installed in the area, and there will be additions to the illumination system all over the store.

Besides the much larger women's and girls ready-to-wear department there will be a completely new infant's department in the balcony area.

On the main floor there will be some extensive rearrangement of fixtures. The display windows, too, will be remodeled, said Epps.

Lions Hear Program On Conservation

How grasses, both native and introduced, are helping to heal the scars of wounded soil was shown to the Downtown Lions Club on Wednesday.

J. C. Ebersole, work unit leader for the Soil Conservation Service, explained the grass re-seeding program which is gaining momentum throughout the Southwest. Some of these furnish as much nutrient per acre as an 80-acre corn crop, he said, although this is an extreme. On the whole, they do about as well or better per acre as grain sorghums.

He projected slides of numerous grasses such as KR and Caucasian bluestem, blue panic, side-oats grama, blue grama, weeping lovegrass, Indiangrass, Blackwell Switchgrass, sorghum alnum and others. Jack Buchanan, chairman of the board of supervisors for the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, called attention to the observance of soil stewardship week.

"We are gaining a million more people a year in the United States," he said, "but we aren't making any new soil."

Missing Son Of Italian Envoy Spotted Walking N.Y. Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI announced last night that 14-year-old Vittorio Barattieri, missing son of the Italian consul general in Chicago, has been found and is "in good condition."

The boy, object of a 44-day search, was found walking along a New York City street, the FBI said. Federal agents said he was spotted as the result of a tip by an unidentified person.

The blond, handsome Vittorio was allowed to talk by telephone with his mother, Countess Olga Barattieri, at her Chicago home. Then she and her husband, Count Ludovico Barattieri, rushed here by plane.

Beyond announcing Vittorio had been found, the FBI refused to give further details and would not say where the youth was staying.

The whereabouts of the parents in New York could not be immediately determined.

Vittorio had been missing since April 16, when he failed to arrive at classes at Loyola Academy, where he was a sophomore.

During a nationwide search, his father and mother repeatedly expressed fears that he had been kidnapped, although there had been no evidence of foul play.

Recently two men were seized in an effort to extort $5,000 from the family but police said the men knew nothing about the boy.

Count Barattieri, in cooperation with police, let it be publicized that he had gone back to Rome—hoping the boy, if he feared his father would punish him, might be induced to return to Chicago.

Last April 30, the father told authorities, "I don't believe I will ever see him again." He added he was convinced that his son was dead.

Last night the youth's mother at first refused to believe the telephone caller was her son. She thought it was a prankster.

Miss Armida Frank, 44, nurse to the Barattieri children at the consulate, said the countess at first refused to talk to the caller.

Then, she said, an unidentified FBI agent convinced her that it was her son calling.

Vittorio had been missing 44 days, since April 16, when he failed to arrive at classes at Loyola Academy.

"Come home, Vittorio," the nurse quoted the countess as shouting when she realized it was her missing son on the telephone.

"We forgive you."

Count Ludovico Barattieri, the boy's father, took the telephone.

"Don't worry for anything," Miss Frank quoted him. "We are not angry." Then the couple, "laughing with joy," according to Miss Frank, departed for New York to pick up their son.

Miss Frank, 39, said she has taken care of Vittorio since he was an infant.

"He's a very good boy," she said. "He never ran away before, in this country or Italy. I guess maybe he wanted to see a little of America."

Otherwise she didn't know why he left home.

After Vittorio's call, Miss Frank, the consulate cook and the cook's wife celebrated with champagne.

Phils Proving Big Surprise In Race

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The National League met its first mile post today with the pennant race every bit as close as expected — but what are those Philadelphia Phillies doing up there with Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Milwaukee?

The Phils had been figured for a fourth-place fight with St. Louis, with the winner well behind the Big Three. Going into the Memorial Day double-headers, the Phils were in fourth place, all right, but only three games behind Cincinnati's first-place Redlegs and just a length behind third-place Milwaukee.

To do it, Manager Mayo Smith has blended a so-far-dandy rookie crop with a few old hands for a combination that hasn't done so well as the Redlegs, Dodgers or Braves (3-7), but has belted the second-division clubs at a .692 clip (18-8).

They were at it again yesterday, blowing a 5-1 lead but coming back to score twice in the 10th, with the help of an error, to defeat the New York Giants 7-5. It was Philadelphia's seventh success in the last 10 games.

With the victory, the Phils closed ground on the idle Redlegs, who also saw their lead trimmed to 1½ games over Brooklyn as the Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 1-0 on an unearned run and Johnny Podres' three-hitter. The Braves also gained with a 6-2 job on the Chicago Cubs.

In the American League, Cleveland's Indians moved into a second-place tie, two games behind first-place Chicago, by defeating the White Sox 8-4 in 10 innings. The New York Yankees gave up a share of the second spot with a 6-2 defeat at Washington. Detroit moved into fourth place by defeating Kansas City for the first time this season 4-3.

The Boston Red Sox slipped to fifth, losing 3-1 to Baltimore. Veteran Gran Hammer drove in three of the Phillies' runs at New York as Robin Roberts, a six-time loser, won his third with a perfect two-inning relief job. Mary Grissom lost it in relief, giving up a walk ahead of a two-base error by first baseman Gal Harris on rookie Ed Bouche's grounder. Willie Mays extended his hitting streak to 16 games with an RBI single that capped a four-run eighth that tied it 5-5.

Bob Buhl won his third for the Braves, four-hitting the Cubs. Felix Millila had three of Milwaukee's 13 hits off loser Don Kaiser and two relievers.

The Dodgers wrapped up Podres' third shutout (tops in the NL) and fourth victory on a two-out, two-base error in the eighth by Frank Thomas and a follow-up single by Gino Cimoli. Willie Kline lost his seventh despite a five-hitter.

Rookie Larry Raines was 4-for-4 for the Indians, delivering his second four times in the 10th after Vic Wertz's sixth home run had produced two runs to tie it 4-4 in the ninth. Raines also had his first home run and a single.

The Yankees, who had been 5-9 against Pete Ramos' lifetime, could hardly do a thing against the Washington right-hander. Hank Bauer and Mickey Mantle hit home runs, but they came too late — after Roy Sievers had started Tom Sturdivant on his third defeat with a two-run homer in the first inning and after the Senators had scored four in the seventh. Mantle was 2-for-3, pushing his average to .378—still second to Boston's Ted Williams, also 2-for-3, who worked up at .413. It was Dick Williams, not Ted, who did the damage at Boston, driving in a pair of Oriole runs with a third inning double to beat George Susce. Billy Lees won his fifth, with George Zuerink pitching the ninth.

A pinch doper in the ninth for the Tigers, Jim Bunning won his third with a five-hitter, giving up home runs to Hal Smith and Bob Cerv.

Top Kegglers

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Look Me Over, the three-year-old filly owned by Jack Wilcox of Big Spring, was due to make her initial start at Ratons, N.M., today but trainer John Ray Dillard withdrew her from competition after the veterinarian talked against it.

Wilcox, who saw his horse (then jointly owned) win $3,500 in purses last year, had planned to be on hand for the big event. The filly will have to undergo treatment but chances are she'll get to run before long.

Dillard had also hoped to enter his own High Hornbre in an event at Raton today but decided Tuesday that the colt isn't ready. He will run a half-mile last year but Wilcox and Dillard reason her extra year of age will stand her in good stead at the added distance, once she does get in shape.

Rpton, incidentally, opened its 1957 season last Saturday. New Mexico's other track, the one at Ruidoso, gets started today.

Wayne Teimeiser, the crafty left-handed hurler with the Webb AFB Dusters, is a former University of Kansas athlete. They say he worked his way through college playing semi-pro ball in his native state.

Hugh Bob Tilson, who used to riddle the Big Spring High School basketball defenses as a member of the Plainview team, will captain the West Texas State College cage quintet next season. He'll be a junior at the Canyon school, come September.

Now it's coming out in the wash. The Southeastern Conference won't benefit from any nationally televised football games this fall for several reasons, two of the most prominent of which are (1) games in that sector stand near the bottom of the list on network polls and (2) sponsors are hesitant to buy games which will not appeal to a Negro audience.

Frankie Calo, who caught for Roswell when Big Spring was in the Longhorn League, is now manager of the Syracuse team in the Eastern League.

The father of All-American griddler Johnny Majors, whose first name is Shirley, compiled a coaching record hard to rival in his seven years at the helm of the Huntland High School team in Tennessee.

During his tenure there, Majors' teams won 70 games, while losing only once and tying once.

The Snyder Tigers could be tough in basketball again next season. Although J. P. Ward lost all five starters from his 1956-57 team, the Exes beat the Futures by only two points (48-46) in a recent game over there.

Scribe Buck Francis says the Bengals will be better fixed for reserve strength than they have been in recent years.

Bowden Wyatt, the former Arkansas grid mentor who is now at Tennessee says Kentucky will field the saltiest team in Dixie this fall. Bobby Dodd, Georgia Tech's coach, says the No. 1 team is apt to be Auburn, though.

Kentucky and Auburn will get their big assignments early. The Wildcats open with none other than Georgia Tech while Auburn goes to the mat with Tennessee the first time out.

Dodd has been quoted as saying he'll be happy if his team can finish with a 6-4 won-lost record. Most everyone expects him to do better than that, however.

The State Labor Commission, which supervises boxing and wrestling in Texas, has issued a "get tough" memorandum to deputy commissioners throughout the state, urging them to plaster lines on wrestlers who hit the referee, fight outside the ring and interfere with other grapplers going about their business within the squared circle, if they happen to be outside the ring.

The deputies have the power to fine or suspend the guilty tin-ears.

Russo And Hanks Rated High At Indianapolis

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Four crafty old men — as ages go in auto racing — pitted their years of experience against 29 hard-driving younger pilots today in the 41st running of the 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Track veterans called it the most wide-open race since the opener in 1911, with at least 10 drivers rated a chance to win.

Two of the toughest old-timers, never able to win the big Memorial Day pot but always contenders, were Paul Russo of Canoga Park, Calif., who wrecked his Novi while leading last year's "500," and Fred Agabashian, Walnut Creek, Calif., driving one of 11 new-style Kurtis-Krafts. Both are 43.

Sam Hanks, Pacific Palisades, Calif., 42, was starting in a new horizontal engine Sals-Eppery car that could revolutionize race-car design if it finishes well. Tony Bettenhausen, 40, Tinsley Park, Ill., was in a twin to Russo's Novi.

Hanks was starting the 12th time. It was 11th for Bettenhausen, Russo and Agabashian.

Five first-time starters included the youngest driver in the field, Don Edmonds, Anaheim, Calif., 26, the red-haired machinist was four years older than was Troy Ruttman when he won the 1952 grand.

Ruttman, of Lynwood, Calif., was the only former winner in the field and a strong contender in his new lightweight Watson car. He sat in a choice spot for grabbing the early lead — outside of the first three-car row.

Other front row starters were Pat O'Connor, North Vernon, Ind., protégé of the late Wilbur Shaw, three-time winner of the race, and Eddie Sachs, one of the rookies from Allentown, Pa.

There was the usual incentive to go full bore for the lead as soon as possible — special lap prize of $150 for each time a driver led the field around the 2 1/2-mile track. That was a potential $30,000 on top of a purse expected to be around $300,000.

Pat Flaherty of Chicago, last year's winner who is sidelined with injuries, won $93,819 of the $282,050 purse—both records.

Maybe the other Texas League clubs should concentrate on winning second place and quit worrying about Dallas Nobody. It seems, can dislodge the Eagles from first place.

Houston thought it had broken the ice Tuesday night when the Buffs nosed out Dallas 3-1 in 11 innings. But the struggle was just made harder.

Wednesday night, Dallas beat Houston 2-0 and pulled back four games ahead in the race for the top. The Eagles needed only five hits to do it and Dick Getter used two of them to drive in the runs that brought Dallas victory.

Third place, San Antonio, was idle at Tulsa because of rain and Austin beat Oklahoma City 3-1 to draw within a half-game of fourth place Hobbs because of wet grounds.

Midland downed Plainview 6-2 to pull within two games of the first division.

Houston To Host Coaching Clinic

HOUSTON (AP)—A track and field coaching school will be held here June 10-12 in conjunction with the University of Houston's annual Meet of Champions.

High school coaches and schoolboy athletes will be eligible to attend the clinic.

Every starter got into the scoring and base in the final inning for the Braves but couldn't score.

Referee Bill Doty saw it 47-43 and Judge Howard Walsh 48-44. The Associated Press card had the fight even, 47 each.

Red Sox And Aces Win In National

The Red Sox outlasted the Braves, 21-20, and the Aces prevailed over the Cleaners, 8-7, in National Minor League competition here Wednesday afternoon.

Abilene Defeated By Sandies, 6-4

By The Associated Press

South San Antonio at Cuero Friday while Garland will be at Nacogoches Saturday.

First games have been played in all the regional series of Texas schoolboy baseball and the results include a defeat for the defending Class AAAA champions from Abilene.

Abilene took a 6-4 thumping from Amarillo Wednesday and must beat the Golden Sandies Friday and Saturday at Abilene if the Eagles are to return to the state tournament.

In other Class AAAA action, Wichita Falls is one-up over Dallas Highland Park. John Reagan of Houston holds the same margin over Pasadena and Waco has Victoria one-down. Waco wallopped Victoria 7-0 Wednesday in the opener of their series.

In Class AAA, Snyder, Garland, Bryan and Cuero hold first game victories. Snyder beat Pecos 1-0 Monday. Bryan wallopped Bay City 8-0 Tuesday while Garland strapped Nacogoches 6-1 and Cuero whipped South San Antonio 2-0 Wednesday.

Action will be resumed in all the Class AAAA series Friday with Amarillo at Abilene, Wichita Falls at Highland Park, John Reagan at Pasadena and Victoria at Waco.

In Class AAA, Snyder will be at Pecos, Bryan at Bay City and

Ballinger Builds Winning Streak

By The Associated Press

The schedule shows its early in the Southwestern League race but Ballinger's Westerners obviously believe it's later than you think. They're playing like the champions depended on every minute.

Wednesday night, the frenzied Westerners whipped San Angelo in a double-header to run their winning streak to 12 straight and push within one game of leading Clovis. Ten days ago they were 4½ games behind.

Clovis is coming close to holding the pace, however. The Redlegs beat El Paso 11-8 for their eighth triumph in the last 10 games.

Ed Maier pitched a 3-hitter in the first game at Ballinger won 5-0 and the Westerners were a 3-0 decision in the nightcap.

Third place Carlsbad and fourth place Hobbs couldn't play at Hobbs because of wet grounds.

Midland downed Plainview 6-2 to pull within two games of the first division.

Berg Assumes 3-Point Lead In Tourney

By DALE BURGESS

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Veteran Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., carried a three-point lead today into the second round of the Virginia Beach round Robin Golf Tournament.

Miss Berg matched par 71 over the 6,065-yard Cavalier Course yesterday to score 22 points—three more than her nearest competitor, Veteran Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., who carded a 72.

Bidding for her second title in this five-day, 90-hole marathon, Miss Berg was paired today against Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, who had a 76 and three points; Betsy Rawls of Sparrowsburg, S. C., 75 and minus four; and Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., 78 and minus 13.

Miss Jameson was in a four-some that included Wilfrid Smith of St. Clair, Mich., 72 and plus 11; Alice Bauer of Sarasota, Fla., 74 and even; and Ruth Jessen of Seattle, Wash., 87 and minus 42.

Defending champion Marlene Bauer Hage of Dallas, Tex., carded a 75 yesterday and wound up with minus four points. She was paired today against Kathy Cornelius of Dayton, Ohio, 75 and plus six; Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan., 77 and minus nine; and Beverly Hanson of Ohio, Calif., 82 and minus 21.

Rideley shot the morning round in 73 over the 6,803-yard, par 35-77 2-Formby course in fine weather. McClue, still a bit pale and shaky after having been struck on the head by Dale Morey's driver during their match yesterday, took a 79.

'Breakthrough' May Push Ike's Atomic Program

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—Rep. Durham (D-NC) said today a "breakthrough" of scientific agreement on nuclear bomb test dangers may help President Eisenhower win United States participation in an international atomic energy agency.

Charles Shafer, left, U.S. Weather Bureau scientist assigned to the Civil Defense Administration and Dr. W. W. Kellogg of the Rand Corp., which predicts fallout patterns under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, were two experts to testify before joint hearing of the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy in Washington, D. C. Shafer predicted that by 1960, Russia would be capable of dropping 250, 10-megaton hydrogen bombs on 144 U.S. population centers and strategic areas, which could inflict a death toll of perhaps 82 million persons.

Scientific witnesses before a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee yesterday agreed in principle there is some level at which bomb tests, which produce radioactive fall-out, must be restricted for the safety of mankind. But they differed on when the danger point might be reached.

Durham, chairman of the full Atomic Energy Committee, hailed the development and said "we broke through the wall there," adding that "this will help get the atomic energy treaty through the Senate."

He noted that Atomic Energy Commission scientists were among those who joined in the general agreement on ultimate bomb test dangers. Durham said this marked the first approach by that agency to endorsement of weapons test controls.

In general, the AEC has contended that nuclear weapons testing can continue without endangering the public.

The proposed world agency is designed to promote peaceful applications of atomic energy. It results from Eisenhower's "Atoms for Peace" proposal.

Durham said that while the agency was not intended directly to seek international agreement on cutting down atomic fall-out, its charter is broad enough to allow it to undertake such a task.

Japan has taken the lead among the nations in seeking an end to atomic tests. Yesterday, Takeshi Shimoda, the Japanese minister office, said he thought the world might have "decades" in which to work out its arrangements.

Dr. William F. Neuman, bone specialist at the University of Rochester medical school, said it seemed possible to him that the danger point might be reached in a few years.

Shimoda told newsmen afterward that United States officials told him that until some international agreement can be reached on limiting further nuclear tests, the U. S. feels it has a duty to the free world to continue its test operations.

A panel of scientists agreed yesterday the time has come to seek international agreement on limiting nuclear weapons tests.

WESTBROOK — Virginia Luera and Benny Whitehead have been announced as winners of the American Legion awards for the eighth grade class at Westbrook.

Graduating into high school with the two were Martha Bacon, Joyce Blakney, Manuel Contreras, Howard Hendrix, Johnny Luera, June Morris, Ruth Rich (salutatorian), and Earnest Rohus.

Flood Relief

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—The U.S. Embassy today delivered $3,066 to the governor of Tripolitania for relief of victims of the January flood of the Meqrineh River.

The money was collected from the American community in Libya.

Bombardier In Doolittle Raid Now A Minister

CONCORD, Calif. (AP)—The lead bombardier in the first B29 raid against the Japanese home islands in 1944 was well embarked today on a different mission — that of religion.

The Rev. Herbert C. Hirschfeld, 35, associate pastor of the Concord Methodist Church, was graduated recently from the Pacific School of Religion in nearby Berkeley.

The 1944 air attack against Japan first since the 1942 Doolittle raid, was a turning point in World War II.

Hirschfeld, then a captain, and his 12-man crew subsequently flew 35 missions unscathed. His unit ferried its own gasoline, bombloads and supplies "over the Hump" from India to Chinese forward bases, then retailed for the flight to Japan.

An incident in the Korean War led him to enter the ministry, a step he had contemplated in his high school days before the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

His squadron was short of chaplains, and Hirschfeld found himself called upon repeatedly to lead the men in informal religious services.

At Kimpo airfield near Seoul in 1952, after he was recalled as a major in the Korean action, he found a serviceman sitting on a cot in his tent, holding a gun.

Hirschfeld said the man was suffering from war nerves and had a letter from his wife saying she was leaving him. He talked to the man for an hour.

"Then suddenly he relaxed and handed me the gun," Hirschfeld recalled. "We sent him to Japan for hospitalization, where he ultimately recovered and returned home. Most heartening — he and his wife have reconciled."

Hirschfeld said the man has two children, Janan, 10, and Cathy, 7.

Scientist Urges Late TV Hours For Discussions

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A leading scientist proposed today that his colleagues take over the late late hours on television for informal round-table discussions.

As a start, Dr. I. M. Levitt, director of the Fels Planetarium of the Franklin Institute here, proposed that scientists hold such discussions to iron out problems arising in connection with the launching of the proposed earth satellite.

Dr. Levitt said his proposal was prompted by postponement of the satellite's launching date from September of this year until April, 1958.

The delay, he said, is due largely to theoretical difficulties which could be resolved if sufficient scientists in the guided missile field were permitted to sit down in television studios throughout the nation and discuss the problems. He proposed that the network pool one hour in the early morning—time normally devoted to "stupid movies"—for such coast-to-coast meetings.

Second Atom Shot Called Off Again

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The second shot in the United States summer atomic tests was called off shortly before 4 a. m. today because of unfavorable winds.

A spokesman said the winds would have carried light "but unacceptable fall-out over nearby Alamo, Nev."

Another briefing will be held at 4 p. m. today to determine if the explosion will set off at 4:55 a. m. tomorrow.

Oil Depletion Called Essential

DENVER (AP)—A Humble oil official yesterday told the Rocky Mountain Oil & Gas Assn. that any cut-back of depletion allowances to oil firms would retard the nation's economic progress and endanger security.

Richard J. Gonzalez, director of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., said "over the next 10 years the domestic industry may drill more than 700,000 wells and spend some 60 to 70 billion dollars to develop new oil and gas resources.

"In order to carry out such a program, producers must risk all capital they recover from earlier investments through depreciation and depletion, about half of all their net incomes after taxes and substantial additional sums of borrowed money."

He said any reduction in the 27 1/2 per cent tax allowance given to oil operators by the federal government would "inevitably retard down economic progress and endanger national security."

Gonzalez also said nearly all of the gas and 85 per cent of the oil used in the United States is produced in this country. He said it would be unwise to become any more dependent on foreign oil.

Stocker Cattle Prices Are Up

Stocker cattle brought higher prices and butcher cattle remained steady in the Big Spring Livestock Auction company's sale Wednesday.

Bulls sold up to 15.00, with a few light animals even higher. Butcher cows went for 9.50 to 12.50, fat calves and yearlings from 18.50 to 22.50, stocker steers calves up to 21.00, heifer calves from 17.50 to 19.00, cows, beside calves from 120.00 to 145.00 and hogs up to 19.00.

The run was estimated at 350 cattle and 25 hogs.

Rancher Wins Tall Tale Prize

MADISONVILLE (AP)—Buck Jackson, who said drifting sand washed up the Pecos River on his West Texas spread, held the title today of drier rancher in Texas.

The Madisonville Sidewalk Catlemen's Assn. declared Jackson winner of its letter writing contest to find the person who could claim to have suffered most from the drought.

The Pecos rancher said it was "so dry now that the coyotes are carrying cantens on my ranch."

His winning letter added that although he and his children had seen it rain once, he was still hoping for a rain for his grandchildren.

Jackson will be guest of honor for the association's annual barbecue and rodeo next Wednesday.

Johnson Promoted

Charles L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson Jr., Big Spring, has been promoted to the rank of second lieutenant in the military corps at Schreiner Institute.

The announcement was made by the military affairs committee and Col. Raymond Orr, professor of military science and tactics at Schreiner. Lt. Johnson is a freshman in college at Schreiner.

Garlic

J. L. Parsons, Waco, holds a giant garlic plant he grew in his back yard. The stalk was 43 inches above the ground and another 7 inches to the end of the root knot and the pod measures 10 inches around. Parsons said the plant might have grown some more but he spaded it up before it matured.

Liquor Board Fared Well In Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)—The Liquor Control Board didn't get the separate Air Force it requested, but otherwise it fared well at the hands of the 55th Legislature.

"All but six employees got at least a $5 raise and we got authority to add 25 more inspectors and about dozen revenue collectors, so we are very pleased," said Coke Stevenson Jr., administrator of the agency enforcing state liquor laws.

"Of course there were some things we asked for that we didn't get," he added.

The rejected requests included one for 20 high-speed automobiles, equipped with three-way radios, and two speedy long-range airplanes.

"The planes would have been used to move our limited personnel rapidly and more efficiently," Stevenson said. "They also would be used to spot illicit stills from the air and to track bootleggers' cars."

Detail of money for staff cars put the L-rmen, including 150 bootlegger-chasing inspectors, back in their private autos with a meager seven cents a mile travel allowance. If the cars have radios they were furnished by local police and sheriff's departments.

"It's hard to get by on that, particularly in districts like Lubbock, where there are men working 20 counties," Stevenson said.

He hopes the 37 added employees will enable the enforcement division to end a 48-hour work week "and get as near to 40 hours as possible."

"All we ask for is enough money and men to do the job given us," Stevenson said. "We don't take sides with the wets or dries. We just want to be able to enforce the law whichever way the people in a community say they want it enforced."

New laws added by the 55th Legislature will not materially change responsibilities or operation of the Liquor Control Board.

The nine liquor bills passed by the Legislature included one vetoed by Gov. Price Daniel. It would have slashed deeply franchise taxes required for Texas breweries operating more than one plant in the state. A substitute bill graduating the tax for multiple plant breweries got nowhere.

Another bill, backed by the WCTU, died after attracting wide attention. The measure, aimed at stopping sale of beer and wine in food stores, was declared unconstitutional by the attorney general.

Stevenson said the board had been "very interested" in an unsuccessful bill to restore the state tax on beer sold on military reservations. Part of the estimated $350,000 income would have set up a longevity pay system for liquor control employees.

Bills approved include: A new regulation that breweries now in wet areas could continue to operate if the area should vote dry, provided the products were not sold or delivered in the dry area.

A new requirement that applicants for beer retailer licenses must publish their applications in a newspaper before a hearing date is set.

A clarification of previous law allowing Texans to import only one quart of liquor at a time from Mexico while non-residents may bring one gallon per person across the border.

A new act making it a misdemeanor for minors to drive while under the influence of intoxicants or without a valid driver's license.

The Legislature also gave Potter County Commissioners Court the right to regulate the sale of beer on Sundays, to conform with special hours now enforced in the city of Amarillo.

Anyone furnishing liquor or narcotics to a prison inmate now can be prosecuted as a felony offender. Previously such acts were misdemeanors.

Fella Can Go Nuts Driving

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If you're driving down the freeway some day, and you suddenly get an idea that you're Napoleon Bonaparte, you'll just be confirming a theory advanced by Dr. Norbert I. Rieger.

It's really possible, Dr. Rieger believes, for a person to come unglued upstairs while trying to pilot the family car through freeway traffic.

"The strain of driving on Los Angeles freeways, surrounded by hurtling cars and trucks, is even greater than that faced by pioneer families who crossed the country in covered wagons and fought off Indians," said Rieger, staff member at the State Mental Hospital at Camarillo.

Pays Last Call At Family Graves

DETROIT (AP)—Neil C. Vosler went to the cemetery yesterday to place flowers on the graves of his wife and son.

He was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Estelle McIntyre, with whom he had lived since his wife, Margaret, died last November.

He stepped back and surveyed his work. Satisfied, he murmured a prayer.

Then he collapsed and fell across the grave. He had suffered a fatal heart attack.

Hussein Now Knows He Must Be A Brother To The Wind

By JOHN BARBOUR AP Newfeatures Writer

For the 21-year-old ruler of Jordan, the lesson of his father is clear.

He who rules the shifting sands must be brother to the wind.

Young King Hussein is monarch of a kingdom of sand. Today some part of Jordan blows into Syria or Iraq or Saudi Arabia or Israel. Tomorrow, perhaps it blows back.

Jordan's boundaries are unmarked and, like the sands, slave to the winds of political desire. Her life as a nation can be traced only to 1922 and her rulers in the past have been propped up by the strength of Britain.

His power lies under the black tents of the Bedouins, the wandering desert people who are the backbone of his tough Arab Legion and who number Hussein among their own because he is of the Hashemite clan, rulers of Mecca for 38 generations.

Hussein's weakness is in the cities where Palestinian refugees riot and mob — feeling no allegiance to the Hashemite king and harboring a hatred for Israel which they say stole their homes.

Hussein will not likely forget his own violent ascension to the throne. His grandfather, a Bedouin chief, was shot to death by a refugee while Hussein walked at his side. One of the bullets tore Hussein's uniform. Hussein's father became king but lasted less than year, deposed because of his erratic behavior.

PLAYBOY KING A 17-year-old schoolboy, Hussein took over the job in 1953. At first he seemed more like his father than anyone else. He had a passion for Italian spaghetti, liked fast cars, fast planes and fast company.

But in the last year, the character of Hussein's grandfather has come out again.

First, apparently irked by talk that the British controlled Jordan, he fired British Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, the man who had built the Arab Legion into the Middle East's toughest fighting force.

In doing so, he lost the fat British subsidy that enabled his nation to exist — primarily as a British military island.

Then, he touched off a minor rebellion by dismissing the man he had named chief of staff of the Legion — a man, he said, who had sympathies with neighboring Red-tinted Syria.

Last month he raced by car through the desert to an army base where he leaped on a tank and challenged his troops to shoot him if they would not follow him. He won their allegiance.

He attacked Egypt and Syria as being the pawns of international communism and told Egypt to stop stirring up the mobs who prowled the streets of Jordan.

BOLD ACTION These were all bold, independent acts, designed to hold Jordan together by the only means Hussein has — the Arab Legion and the febrile courage and authority of his family.

Even Glubb, fired by Hussein, conceded that the young King "has got it in him" and "will be quite a remarkable man when he reaches middle age."

He may or may not live that long.

Another Labor Hearing Stated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charges of corruption and malpractice in the handling of Bakers Union funds go before Senate rackets probers at public hearings to start Tuesday.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) announced his special Senate committee hopes to wind up earlier the same day its stormy investigations of the financial dealings of Teamsters Union President Dave Beck.

The probers will call Dave Beck Jr., the Teamster titan's elusive son, and two others sought for nearly three months before they could be subpoenaed.

The three will be quizzed on Beck's handling of his union's funds. Beck himself has invoked the Fifth Amendment more than 200 times in refusing to give the committee an accounting.

The other two are Joseph McEvoy, a nephew in the Beck family, and Fred Verschueren Sr., top Teamsters Union auditor on the West Coast.

Patricia McCormick, the Big Spring co-ed who became the first United States girl to take up bullfighting as a career, is booked to fight Sunday at Juarez, across from El Paso. Pat will be appearing in the Plaza de Toros on a card with Hector Mier and "El Tulin." Each of the full-fledged bullfighters will engage two bulls. Slaton Girl Wins WTPA Scholarship

Beverly Ann Bland, Slaton High School senior, has been awarded the West Texas Press Association's 1957 scholarship.

Miss Bland was selected for the honor from a field of nine entrants representing high schools in cities and towns throughout West Texas. Runner-up in the judging and named as alternate was Ruan Owen of Colorado City High School.

Both the scholarship winner and the runner-up are among the top students in their respective schools, and both have been active in student affairs, particularly in the field of journalism.

Miss Bland edited the Slaton High School newspaper, "The Tiger's Cage," during her junior year, and has worked part-time for the Slatonite, the city's newspaper.

Miss Owen also has worked on her high school paper, serving as an editor.

Both plan to major in journalism in college.

NEW STATUTES

Juveniles To Find It Difficult To Obtain Driving Licenses

Minors who desire operators licenses to drive motor cars will find that getting such licenses hereafter will be much more difficult than has been the case in the past.

County judges, who have had the authority to recommend such licenses, are now deprived of the authority to make such recommendations and the issuance of the license is strictly in the hands of the license examiner and the Department of Public Safety.

Jack Johnson, license examiner for Howard County, has been provided with copies of several new laws adopted by the recent Legislature which revise sharply provisions which have prevailed.

Of primary interest to the juveniles who desire operators licenses is Senate Bill 53 which was signed by the governor and became effective May 20. This bill amends Article 6687B.

PROVISIONS ARE CHANGED
It provides that the Department of Public Safety will not issue a driver's license to any person under the age of 16 with a few specialized exceptions.

If it can be shown that such a license is necessary due to an emergency, it is permitted that a juvenile under 16 may be issued a temporary permit to operate a motor car but for only so long as the emergency continues to exist.

If it appears to the department that refusal to issue a license to a minor will work an undue economic hardship on him or his family, a license may be issued.

Where there is illness in a family and it is necessary that a minor operate a motor car, a license can be issued. A license may be issued where it can be shown that refusal to do so would work against the general welfare of the applicant or his family.

Where an applicant is under 16 but has completed and passed the State Department of Education standard driving course, if such a course has been approved by the Department of Public Safety and where such application is accompanied by certificate from the superintendent of the school asserting that the course is a part of the regular curriculum of the school, a license can be issued.

MUST PASS EXAM
In addition, the applicant must satisfactorily pass the required examination set up in Section 10 of the act.

No person, the act states, can be issued a license when he or she is under the age of 14 years.

Any person who has been refused a driver's license under any of the terms of this amendment may appeal to the county court where his appeal shall be tried before a jury, the amendment provides.

Heretofore, it has been the custom in Howard County for the Citizens Traffic Commission to select a group of men and women who serve as a volunteer investigating board in the matter of juveniles who desired drivers' licenses. These young applicants filed application forms. The committee met with the applicant and his parents, went over the reasons that the youth desired to operate a motor vehicle and recommended to the county judge either that the license be granted or that it be refused. The services of such a committee expired with this new amendment on May 20.

SUMMARY
The Department of Public Safety summarizes the general impact of this new law in the following words:
"In view of the above (the text of the act dealing with the matter) we can no longer accept minors' authorizations from county judges. New forms of procedure will be supplied to all examiners as soon as the material can be printed.

In the meantime, there is no method by which a minor under the age of 16 may secure a driver's license without presenting a certificate showing completion of a driver's training course."

It is said that when the formal application blanks arrive by which minors may apply for what are termed "emergency operators licenses," they will be available at the local license examiners office. They must be filled out, signed by the applicant and his parents and sent directly to the Austin office of the DPS. Approval will be made at that level and the forms returned direct to the applicant. He then presents his approved application to the examiner for the required driver's examination.

Another new law, SB 45 which is expected Gov. Price Daniel will soon sign, is also of interest to minors who operate motor vehicles. This bill will become effective when the governor has signed it.

PUNISHMENT FOR VIOLATION
This act deals with boys 14 and not yet 17 and girls 14 and not yet 18 years of age who drive or operate motor cars on any road, street or highway in the state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or who drive an automobile or other motor vehicle in such a way as to violate a traffic law.

The law says that such a driver is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than $100.

It is further provided that no minor involved in circumstances as outlined by the law can be committed to any jail in default of payment of the fine imposed, but the court shall have the power to suspend and take possession of the minor's driving license until such time as the fine has been paid.

Minors who operate a motor vehicle without any license can be held guilty of misdemeanor. The law specifies that such cases as may develop from this law must be tried in the courts which ordinarily have jurisdiction over the trial for misdemeanors and not before the juvenile courts.

Would-Be Suicide Injures Her Dignity

OMIYA, Japan (U)—A 21-year-old girl, apparently bent on suicide, leaped into the path of an oncoming express train today but jumped too hard. She went over the rails and tumbled forward as the train roared past. The wheels caught the hem of her dress and stripped her, but only her dignity was injured.

tion started its scholarship program in 1956. A West Texas High School senior is selected each year by the WTPA scholarship committee. The scholarship pays the student $100 per year for four years. The scholarship winner, in turn, must major in journalism, if the college attended offers such a major. Otherwise, the student must minor in journalism. The WTPA scholarship may be used at any West Texas senior college. Other applications for the scholarship this year were received from Lubbock, Mineral Wells, Seminole, Morton, Meadow, Fredericksburg and Rankin.

Tech TV Request To Be Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—An examination will be made of the financial qualifications of Texas Tech College to build and operate its proposed television station on commercial Channel 5, the Communications Commission said yesterday.

The commission said it will make the probe before it acts on a request by the college for the outlet at Lubbock, Tex. It noted that an earlier competitor for the channel, C.-L. Trigg, had questioned the college's proposed plans for financing the station. Withdrawal by Trigg left the college unopposed for the channel.

Hardy Describes 'Y' Work For Underprivileged Youth

An underprivileged child is not necessarily a boy or girl who lacks spending money, or whose parents live in poor parts of a town; it is not required that a child be underprivileged if he is of a family where a new car is not purchased each year.

An underprivileged child, in the eyes of the Big Spring YMCA, is any child deprived of love, affection and understanding regardless of the type of home from which he may come.

Bobo Hardy, YMCA secretary, told the Kiwanians of Big Spring that this is the definition of an underprivileged child as related to the work his agency is doing for the youth of the community. He was speaking at the regular luncheon meeting of the club at noon Wednesday.

Hardy said that the task of redeeming boys who have slipped from the path is a difficult and often heartbreaking one and that the outcome of the effort is never certain.

He recited the case histories of four or five boys who have come under his observation and contact and detailed the successes and failures achieved. Several of the boys have not responded to the efforts of the YMCA to help them and others have been completely changed, he said.

Regardless of its heartaches, Hardy declared, the work is most rewarding and he pledged to the Kiwanians that it would be pursued continuously in the YMCA here.

Kiwanians met on Wednesday noon in order to permit the members to be with their families on the Memorial Day holiday.

Cook-Out Cabinet

Here's a typical "cook-out cabinet" anyone can make. A two-shelf cabinet will hold all the paper cups, plates, containers and picnic accessories you will need for weekend entertaining. Salad bowl, bread basket, condiments, peanuts — all will keep dry if you provide light-fitting doors.

Mrs. Gililand Finds Use For Electric Skillet, Two Recipes

If you own an electric skillet, you've probably noticed in the cookbook that comes with them that cakes can even be baked in one. For the success of such a task Mrs. J. V. Gililand can testify.

With the summer months coming on fast, Mrs. Gililand agrees with everyone that it will certainly be a cooler way to bake and besides that, the recipe she contributes today is simple, fast and delicious.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 number 2 1/2 can sliced pineapple, drained
1/4 cup chopped nuts
Maraschino cherries
1 recipe two-egg quick cake or one package yellow cake mix, mixed according to directions on the package.

Method:
Measure butter or margarine into electric skillet. Turn control knob to 250 degrees. When butter is melted, add brown sugar. Mix thoroughly, spreading sugar mixture evenly over bottom of skillet. Arrange drained fruit over sugar mixture. Add nuts and cherries. Pour batter over fruit, spreading with scraper. Cover skillet.

Bake 40 to 50 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out dry. Loosen cake around the sides of skillet using spatula. Invert on cake plate or serving tray. Serve warm or cold. Makes 12-inch cake.

The versatile skillet can also be used for this main-dish recipe — stuffed green peppers.

STUFFED PEPPERS
Directions:
Melt 3 tablespoons fat in skillet, add and brown 3 tablespoons chopped onion and 1 cup ground beef. Season with 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Add 1 1/2 cups Italian tomato paste and 3 cups of cooked rice.

Wash, cut off tops, discard seeds and membranes, from 6 green peppers. Fill with rice mixture. Sprinkle over the top of each pepper 1 teaspoon buttered crumbs.

Wash, trim and scrub well, 18-20 small new carrots. Leave whole and arrange in skillet around stuffed peppers. Add 3 tablespoons butter and 1/4 cup water. Cover skillet and steam and simmer for about 35-40 minutes.

Another favorite at the Gililand home is a recipe that is exactly what the name implies — wacky cake — according to Mrs. Gililand. Although it has no eggs or milk, the cake is very tasty. Mrs. Gililand reports.

WACKY CAKE
Directions:
Sift into bowl: 1 1/2 cups flour;

Iced Tea History Had Beginning At World's Fair
There are some things so typically American it's difficult to imagine there was ever a time when they didn't exist. Iced tea is an example.

According to reports it was discovered during the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904. . . . and quite by accident by an English tea exhibitor who was trying desperately to promote his product by serving steaming hot cups of tea.

That year, St. Louis was experiencing its worst heat wave in history. . . . and hot tea was not exactly the fairgoers' dish of tea. Out of desperation, the tea man, whose name was Richard Blechnyden, added ice to a stronger-than-usual brew of tea. . . . and before he could realize what had happened, iced tea was not only born, but his Tea House had suddenly become one of the most popular meeting places at the fair.

Word about the new-fangled idea of putting ice in tea spread like wildfire — and it was reputed to be one of the most refreshing thirst-quenching cold beverages available anywhere on the fair grounds.

Sales boomed, and continued to boom through the exhibition. By the time it was over, iced tea had become a national drink, and one of our favorite summertime beverages. Today, Americans drink over 18 billion glasses of iced tea during the summer months.

1-3 cup cocoa; 1 teaspoon soda; 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 cup sugar. Add: 1 stick melted margarine; 1 cup cold water, 1 teaspoon vinegar and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat until smooth and pour into ungreased pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Cool and remove from pan. Top with whipped cream and cherries, if desired.

The Gililands are an Air Force family having lived in Big Spring for two years. Maj. Gililand is budget officer at Webb AFB.

Preparing For Action
Mrs. J. V. Gililand polishes her bowling ball, just looking for some competition. Bowling has been her favorite hobby for a long time and has also paid off since she has a large collection of trophies in the den of the Gililand home. Just recently she won the Officers' Wives' Club League high score average with 134 points. Maj. Gililand shares this hobby and has many trophies in his collection also. Mrs. Gililand has been active in the OWC since her arrival here two years ago. At the present, she is the representative from the club to the Officers' Club and is past editor of the OWC publication, The Tiger Rag. The Gililands have two children, Diane, 11, and John, 9.

Nuts Add Flavor To Hungarian Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Many Hungarian families now in this country have brought with them treasured recipes for torten. These famous desserts are related to the cake family although they use little or no flour. Usually torten are made in round layers and richly filled and frosted.

The almonds that help make the base of the following torte may be put through a rotary-type hand-operated nut grater or they may be ground in a food chopper. Now that nutmeats are widely distributed in 5-ounce cans, each holding a convenient cupful, you can have them on hand on your kitchen shelves. Vacuum packing assures freshness.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND TORTE
Ingredients:
One 5-ounce can (1 cup) blanched almonds, 8 eggs (separated), 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs. Filling and Frosting.

Method:
Set aside 24 of the almonds for the garnish. Put remaining nuts through a rotary-type hand-operated nut grater or through a food chopper using the fine blade. With rotary beater (hand or electric), beat together the egg yolks and sugar until thick and lemon-colored. Measure 2-3 cup of the chocolate pieces and melt over hot, not boiling, water; stir into egg-yolk mixture with bread crumbs and grated almonds. With clean rotary beater (hand or electric) beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into almond mixture. Turn into 3 round layer-cake pans (each 8 inches in diameter); prepare pans by greasing bottoms, lining bottoms with waxed paper and greasing paper. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes, or until torten surfaces spring back when touched lightly. Turn out on cooling racks and strip off paper. For garnish, melt remaining (1 1/2 cup) chocolate pieces over hot, not boiling, water. Dip one end of each of 24 almonds reserved for the garnish into the chocolate and place on waxed paper; refrigerate to set. (Any melted chocolate leftover may be refrigerated in a tightly-covered container, then melted and used another time.) Put cake together with Filling and Frosting; insert almonds (chocolate-dipped ends down) in circles in top of cake. Makes 10 servings.

FILLING AND FROSTING
One-half cup apricot preserves, rum or brandy flavoring, 1 1/2 cups heavy cream, 2 teaspoons instant coffee, sugar.

Method:
Stir the rum or brandy flavoring (to taste) into the apricot preserves. Add the instant coffee to the cream; with rotary beater (hand or electric) beat cream until almost stiff. Gradually beat in sugar to taste — from 1 to 5 tablespoons. Spread apricot preserves over tops of 2 layers of the cake; top with some of the whipped cream; put together. Top with third layer and spread with remaining cream.

TESTING NOTE
When we prepared and served this torte it was much enjoyed by all our tasters. We made the cake layers in the morning, cooled them and then covered them lightly. The layers can be handled carefully but gingerly without damage. Just before the torte was to be served as a dinner-time dessert, we put the layers together with the filling and frosting. But you can, of course, fill and frost the cake ahead of time; in this case you will have to store it in the refrigerator until serving time. If you follow our method, mix the apricot preserves and brandy or rum flavoring well ahead so the two flavors have time to mellow together.

Cook-Out Cabinet Makes Yard Complete

What's more natural than a "Cook-Out Cabinet" to house the things you need to make a "cook-out" party a success?

The American "way of life" has already given you your own brick outside grill or portable barbecue grill, light-weight aluminum fold-up chairs and rustic tables. Why not complete the easy, outdoor living scene with a convenient cabinet hanging on the patio wall? You'll save yourself endless trips back to the kitchen and have everything you need within reach.

The cook-out cabinet can house the paperware which makes dishwashing a thing of the past — "china-coated" cups, newly improved plastic-coated cups for either hot or cold drinks; cups for fruit juices, or beer; jigger-cups for either cream or alcoholic beverages; plastic-coated paper plates for moist or hot foods; food cups for individual dessert, and, of course, larger paper containers for potato chips or salads. The cabinet will also provide room for bread baskets, salad bowls, plastic spoons, barbecue spices, salad dressing ingredients, pepper mill and salt cellar, coasters, doilies, paper napkins, and candles for romantic after-dark table settings; aluminum foil and peanuts or cocktail "snacks." In fact, the cook-out cabinet can store most of the decorative and useful adjuncts to an outdoor picnic. You can hang barbecue forks, knives and hamburger spatulas underneath the cabinet.

Where can you find such a cabinet? Easy! Just use any old piece of furniture you happen to have in the attic or the basement. The one pictured above was a "tray" from an old trunk. The doors came from an old ice-chest. The hinges were bought in the local hardware shop and the swivel wooden latches were made by the handy man-of-the-house. A middle board was tacked over the space. The entire cabinet was sandpapered down and stained a rich maple tone.

Bore holes into the back of the cabinet and hang it on the patio wall or put up metal brackets to rest it on.

Then, relax! No more rushing back and forth to the house; no dishwashing chores. Join the throw-away living trend!

SKILLET CABBAGE
Cabbage tastes nicely different this way.

Ingredients:
One small compact green cabbage (1 1/2 pounds), 3 to 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 cup water, 1/2 to 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 to 2 teaspoons soy sauce, salt, pepper.

Method:
Use outer very green leaves of cabbage. Wash and dry cabbage, cut in half. Cut with a knife into shreds several inches long and 1/4 to 1/2 inch wide. There should be about 7 cups. Melt butter in 12-inch skillet; add shredded cabbage; toss cabbage well to coat with melted butter; cook several minutes over low heat. Sprinkle cabbage with water; cover tightly. Cook as quickly as possible without scorching until cabbage is just tender-crisp — 5 to 8 minutes. Season with sugar and soy sauce, mixing well. Makes 6 servings.

Orange Gelatin For Homemade Dessert
Homemade fruit-flavored gelatin dessert.

HOMEMADE ORANGE GELATIN
Ingredients:
Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/2 cup boiling water, 3/4 cup sugar, salt, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons strained lemon juice, 1 to 2 cups strained orange juice.

Method:
Sprinkle gelatin over cold water to soften. Add boiling water, sugar and a pinch of salt; stir until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Stir in orange rind; cool. Stir in lemon juice and orange juice. Turn into mold; chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

New Plot In Banana, Fruit Recipe
Want a new dessert story? You'll find plenty of plot for a new meal ending in Banana-Apricot Mold. It's high, light and handsome — a gelatine custard-type dessert, and the flavor combination is dreamy and different.

An easy, fancy dessert, Banana-Apricot Mold makes a lovely centerpiece for a spring luncheon, or just the perfect end to a meal. Do select fully ripe bananas that have yellow peel flecked with brown for peak flavor, sweetness and digestibility.

BANANA APRICOT MOLD
Ingredients:
1/2 cup dried apricots (approximately 1/2 cup puree)
1 cup water
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup milk
2 eggs, separated
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup mashed bananas (3 to 4)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup heavy cream

Method:
Wash apricots thoroughly. Add water and bring to a boil. Cook slowly until tender (15 to 20 minutes). Mash through a sieve. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt; gradually add 1/2 cup milk. Cook over hot (not boiling) water, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Beat egg yolks; gradually stir into hot mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture is thick enough to coat spoon. Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup milk for five minutes. Stir into hot custard until dissolved. Mash bananas. Add: vanilla extract, almond extract, apricot puree and mashed bananas. Chill until slightly thickened. Whip cream; fold in. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold in. Pour into lightly greased 4-cup mold. Chill until firm; at least 4 hours. Unmold.

We like a fruit compote after such a menu and usually offer cookies, too. For the compote you might mix buffet-size cans of pineapple and dark sweet cherries with fresh grapefruit sections. The pineapple and grapefruit may be mixed together well ahead of serving time and refrigerated; the cherries may be chilled in their can and then spooned over the other fruit at the last minute.

What sort of potatoes to use in the salad? That's a matter of preference. Some cooks — and eaters, too — like potatoes that are waxy and hold their shape. Others like potatoes that are dry and mealy, and they don't mind a bit if the potatoes get a little mashed.

SAVORY HOT-POTATO SALAD
Ingredients:
Four medium-sized (about 1-1 1/2 pounds) potatoes, 2 slices bacon, 2 or 3 (about 1/4 pound) frankfurters, 1 small onion (finely

Chive Substitute
If you can't locate chives, use bottled onion juice. One teaspoon of it is said to substitute for one tablespoon of chives in recipes.

Tea Consumption
Americans drink approximately 10 billion glasses of iced tea and serve it with 186 million pounds of sugar and 720 million lemons.

Hot Potato Salad With Franks—Hits The Spot

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

That savory concoction known as Hot Potato Salad is fine fare for a family supper. Recipes for this salad vary; this version is a mixture of potatoes, onion, celery, green pepper and sweet mixed pickles. The dressing for the salad is made with bacon, bacon drippings (in place of oil), vinegar and other seasonings.

We've added a couple of frankfurters to hot potato salad, too, for zest and we like to serve it with hamburgers as a change from the usual burger accompaniments. For crisp munching with this main course we like raw vegetables: radishes, celery, tiny bouquets of watercress and extra lettuce, or rings of bands of scarlet pimiento.

A bread accompaniment to the salad should be something as crisp as a French loaf. Cut the loaf into diagonal slices, but not all the way through, and slather the cuts with a flavorful spread. Add one of the following to butter or margarine to make the spread: a crushed garlic clove; grated cheddar cheese and paprika; a mixture of herbs.

Paré potatoes and cut into halves or quarters if necessary so they will be the same size. Barely cover with boiling water and cook rapidly, covered, until tender. Drain and shake potatoes in pan over heat to dry. Dice potatoes, return to saucpan and cover to keep warm. With scissors or sharp knife, snip or cut bacon into 1/2-inch strips. Cut each frankfurter into 4 crosswise pieces. Put bacon into 10-inch skillet over low heat; cook, stirring often, until crisp. Add frankfurters, onion, celery and green pepper to bacon and drippings in skillet. Cook gently, stirring often, until vegetables are lightly browned — 5 to 10 minutes. Add chopped pickles, salt, pepper, celery seed, prepared mustard, sweet pickle liquid and 2 tablespoons vinegar to skillet; mix well. Add diced potatoes. Heat, stirring gently to dose potatoes with dressing. Taste and add more vinegar, salt and pepper if needed. Makes 4 servings.

Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups potatoes (medium), finely diced
1/2 cup finely diced green pepper, 1/4 cup coarsely chopped sweet mixed pickles, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, 1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons sweet pickle liquid, 2 tablespoons (about) cider vinegar.

Method:
Paré potatoes and cut into halves or quarters if necessary so they will be the same size. Barely cover with boiling water and cook rapidly, covered, until tender. Drain and shake potatoes in pan over heat to dry. Dice potatoes, return to saucpan and cover to keep warm. With scissors or sharp knife, snip or cut bacon into 1/2-inch strips. A Bible Thought For Today

And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. (St. Mark 1:17)

Code For The Upright?

The more stringent anti-lobby law passed by the Texas House was chloroformed in the Senate, but another measure of the same general tenor survived and has now been signed into law by Governor Daniel.

It is called the Code of Ethics Law, and it says any employe or official of the state who is an officer, agent, or member of a firm, corporation or partnership "under jurisdiction of a state regulatory agency" must file an affidavit to that effect.

Stop Flies, Mosquitoes Now!

We don't know about your house, but in our neighborhood there has been a noticeable increase in the fly population. If the pattern is followed, there will be an ample supply of these pests this season because damp weather followed by hot summer days makes for ideal breeding conditions for flies.

Every pool of water in a neighborhood or area should be sprayed with kerosene or some petroleum product, and residents should search around in their vicinity to empty old cans, bottles, old automobile tires which might provide ideal spots for multiplying the mosquito population.

Communique On Cold War—Reds Winning

WASHINGTON—There ought to be a daily "communique" on the way the "cold war" is going—its victories and defeats. This is how the "communique" could be written today:

and has been critical of the State Department's policy in the past, says in a Paris dispatch: "So far, our new Middle Eastern policy seems to be working remarkably well. In varying degrees all the Arab states but Egypt and Syria indicate appreciation of the Eisenhower Doctrine or at least of its intentions. Israel welcomes it pacifying effect. Moscow is visibly displeased."

A Tribute And A Prayer

James Marlow

Strong But Not So Silent

WASHINGTON (AP)—For years it seemed that when Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey finally quit and went back to private life he would be remembered as a strong, silent type. Not any more.

But, as custodian of the American money bag, he warned them, as he did later, that government spending would have to come down, and taxes, too, but both together.

Hal Boyle

Our Debt To The Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—America today wears a sprig of rosemary over its heart for remembrance. A miracle of resurrection takes place in millions of households as the dead come home again and walk the earth once more in gladness.

For the high spending he blamed everybody: himself, the administration, the public. Then he threw a bomb. He predicted that unless the government cuts its spending, "we will have a depression that will make your hair curl."

Around The Rim

We're Losing The Struggle

The third annual renewal of the battle with the goateads has taken place out on Dixie Avenue, and for the first time I'm getting in the mood to concede that the pests may be winning.

every shower. They're so thick and healthy that they even turn over bricks and rocks in order to get out of the ground. I've killed three crops this spring, but now I'm all out ready to give up. Looks like the goatead is here to stay.

Inez Robb

Old-Fashioned Idea: Paying Off The Debt

Well, sir, it is with a great sense of satisfaction that I behold both President Eisenhower and the Democratic party lined up in my corner on the issue of tax reduction. They're agin it, too.

solitary voice in these United States urging that Uncle Sam do what the U.S.S.R. did six weeks ago—repudiate all interest and payments on government bonds for the next 40 years.

Even though I may be burned at the stake by the avant garde economists, I cannot buy the theory that a national debt in excess of $270 billion is good for the nation, that a bigger debt would be even better for us, that we owe the money to ourselves and that it need never be repaid.

How, however the trend - sniffers say, is it no longer regarded as subversive or un-American to save a little something for a rainy day. It is possible to squirrel away a few dollars each payday without losing social status. It is at least respectable, if not exactly smart, to be thrifty nowadays.

Marquis Childs

The Need For A World Atomic Treaty

WASHINGTON—Reflecting the somewhat improved position of the Administration following President Eisenhower's second appeal to the country for the main objectives of his foreign program, there is today a strong likelihood that the Senate will ratify the treaty making the United States a member of the proposed international atomic energy agency.

the agency system, other countries can be supplied with nuclear materials without simultaneously spreading the nuclear-weapons threat. Peaceful development of the atom will proceed in the open, in the full light of day.

MR. BREGER

AMERICA could encounter many defeats in the "cold war" if it doesn't keep up its efforts to offset the propaganda of the Communists, which, incidentally, is very intensive inside Britain and France, working constantly with "left wing" elements and misrepresenting and distorting the American viewpoint.

Fish Story HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—A guppy in Mrs. Howard L. Rose's aquarium gave birth to nine little guppies and then flipped out of the tank and died.

Confused Situation

DALLAS (AP)—Lee Drain, a banker, and his brother, Vince, an FBI agent, are dead ringers.

Tag Vandals?

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Clomaxing a heated debate on the floor of the Wisconsin Legislature, Assemblyman Elmer Genzmer offered a tongue-in-cheek amendment to a bill which sets penalties for vandalism committed by children.

Correction, Please

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Although the Senate General Affairs Committee said it was recommending passage of two freedom-of-information bills, one of the measures reached the Senate with a recommendation for amendment.

Cowardly Bull

LEBANON, Ky. (AP)—Patrolman James Violette became an amateur matador in the Lebanon business section.

Who Has Four Eyes?

It would take that many—and more—if prospects for advertisers are to be expected to catch an advertising message on a TV channel. Four or five channels are available right here in Big Spring, to divide the viewer's time. This puts a restriction on the exposure factor of an advertising message, to say nothing of the many interruptions that can occur at the very time a message is on the screen.

Newspaper Advertising Stays -- And Stays!

Your Newspaper gets the undivided attention of its readers, and even if interruptions do occur, these only delay, and do not lose forever, the exposure of an advertising message. The printed word is there to be read at the convenience of every member of the family . . . and there is no chance of misunderstanding any good ad . . . for it is there for ready reference again and again!

To be positive of the exposure of your advertising message, insist on the only media which can guarantee that exposure to an exact number of homes . . . your

It Took A Near-Disaster To Move Citizens From Falcon

FALCON, Tex. (AP)—Now and then, when the drought was at its worst the elders and some of the youngsters went back home again to the old village of Falcon.

The old ones showed the young ones where they once lived and where the main buildings stood.

Only rubble remained of what once were homes and business houses. A year of burial by water destroyed what once was a prosperous and happy community of 20 families. Recent heavy rains have caused the lake to rise again, threatening the ruins.

The waters were of the Falcon Reservoir. But the drought and the need of cities and farms below Falcon Dam depleted the water around the first of this year to the lowest point since the reservoir began filling in 1953. The drop in water level brought the old town to the surface again.

In June 1954, the month of the big flood, the townspeople, mainly of Mexican ancestry, couldn't believe their 200-year-old town would ever be under water.

It was 3 p.m. one day in June when Atlano Arriaga arose from his siesta in his little grocery, shuffled to the front door and changed the sign reading "cerrado" (closed) to "abierto" (open).

A government truck bearing the sign of the International Boundary Commission raced into town, destroying the peace.

The truck stopped in front of the Arriaga's store and Bob Bickel, a young engineer, stepped out of the cab and entered the store at a near-run.

"Mr. Arriaga," the young engineer said, "the big flood has hit Del Rio badly and is on the way to Eagle Pass. It will soon be here and when it hits Falcon Dam it is going to form a tremendous lake which will bury your town."

"Please understand, The people of Falcon must get out at once or they might lose everything they have and their lives as well."

The gray-haired grocer shrugged and said:

"Mr. Bickel, we are not going to move. We have talked to our elders and they said that never in the history of our little village has the Rio Grande even come close to flooding us out."

Bickel returned to the construction camp discouraged.

The people of the village had been given until February to move from the townsites on the river to the new town the government had built five miles away in the uplands.

Now five months later the people still dilly-dallied about moving. Engineers of two nations told them repeatedly their town would be flooded. But the river, instead of rising, had been falling all that time, as the elders said it would.

While workmen closed the gates and made Falcon Dam ready for its first big test, Bickel and other engineers listened by radio to the progress of the devastating up-river flood which had been triggered by a hurricane June 26.

Flash floods rushed down normally dry arroyos and crushed highway and railroad bridges. The Sunset Limited was stranded at Langrey with its 266 passengers. Hundreds were stranded in their cars. Loss of life in the flood was eventually to run into the hundreds and property damage would be more than 20 million dollars.

Falcon engineers faced a life-or-death decision. If they let the flood race through the flood gate unchecked, damage running into many millions would occur downstream.

There was only one answer: The people of Falcon must be moved, by force if necessary.

As the flood swirled at Laredo, Bickel and a crew of construction workmen manned bulldozers and pickup trucks and raced through a storm of rainfall to Falcon.

Already, Highway 83 was impassable in some places but the bulldozers built a hasty road over which the families of Falcon could pass.

Within another hour the water rose another foot and that was enough. The residents rushed to the new homes the government had built in new Falcon on Highway 83.

Kasper, 15 Others Due Trial July 8

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Segregationist John Kasper of Washington, D.C., and 15 other persons accused of stirring up racial disorder at an integrated high school will be tried in U. S. District court beginning July 8.

The defendants are charged with criminal contempt of court for allegedly interfering with peaceful integration at nearby Clinton High School in violation of a permanent injunction against such activities.

Passes Mark

Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) poses with a cake in his Capitol Hill office, Washington, as he marks the occasion of becoming the oldest man ever to serve in the U.S. Congress. Turning 89 years, 7 months and 26 days in age, Green topped the record by Rep. Charles M. Stedman of North Carolina who died in office on Sept. 23, 1930. Looking to the future the senator has a goal — to be still serving in the Senate at age 100.

Lusty 5-Year-Old Reshaping Policies

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

A lusty and menacing 5-year-old is pushing around and reshaping policies and economies of big and little powers alike.

Born an enormous flash of terror, the hydrogen bomb now wields the balance in world politics—a balance of fear.

Has it grown big enough or frightening enough yet to outlaw war? Apparently not. By its awesome potential it may yet outlaw its own use. But indications are all too clear that the world will live for a long time with tension and fear of war.

Both the United States and the U.S.S.R. appear to base their military planning today on an assumption that general war eventually is inevitable. This does not mean general war is around the corner. It means military planners on both sides do not dare to think otherwise.

Recent Soviet developments indicate Communist rulers have reaffirmed their fatalistic view that war with the capitalist world is inevitable—not tomorrow or the next day, but perhaps a few years hence. This may be a basic reason for the vast and hasty economic shakeup now going on in Russia.

Western military planners must consider any possibility. One—some may even consider it a probability—is general war with atomic weapons, short of an exchange of big bombs which could mean mutual annihilation. This seems implicit in the newest string of U.S. atomic test shots in Nevada, and in the announced determination of Washington not to fall behind Russia in intercontinental missile development.

H-bomb warfare is so fearful a prospect that both sides must regard it with horror. Yet Nikita Khrushchev, world communism's reigning master, says he is convinced the United States is preparing for war. And President Eisenhower says East and West are far from any agreement which can be considered safe.

What has this balance of fear wrought up to now?

In the U.S.S.R.—Soviet leaders are taking grave risks in shaking up the industrial administrative system, whatever controls the Communists impose. It implies a weakening of centralized party authority. But if this is preparation for the possibility of war, it makes sense. Industry must be dispersed if war is in prospect. If it is dispersed, it is equally necessary to delegate economic authority. Thinking in terms of a world building for war within a decade, Soviet planners may consider the domestic risks dictated by external danger.

In the United States—the question arises: how much H-bomb power is necessary to deter aggression? Has the time come to turn the defense program toward a balanced stockpile of smaller atomic weapons to guard against any contingency, including limited atomic war? Is the strain on the economy from maintenance of great conventional forces warranted in view of newly developing concepts of war?

Anderson A Long Outstanding Texan
DALLAS (AP) — Bob Anderson, named Wednesday as Secretary of the Treasury, long has been one of Texas' outstanding business, ranching, civic, church and legal figures.
His talents have ranged over coaching a football team, teaching, healing an attack of polio, and running the vast ranching and oil empire of the Waggoner Estate.
Only 47, the 6-foot-1 Texan, born at Burleson, earlier served as President Eisenhower's secretary of the Navy and deputy secretary of defense.
When named secretary of the Navy, he chuckled: "Remember, the biggest boat I ever piloted was a 28-foot power boat. Why it doesn't even rain in Texas."
Anderson was a Democrat-for-Eisenhower man from the start.
He is mild mannered, he walks with a slight limp from the polio attack, and his blond hair recedes at the temples. His smile is boyish and he wears glasses.
The new secretary was born June 4, 1910, on a farm near Burleson.
He was graduated from Weatherford Junior College when he was 17 and then took off for three years to earn money teaching at the Burleson High School.
He was hired to teach Spanish, history and math. Then he was asked to coach football.
Anderson had never handled a football, so he bought a rule book and laid out plays on paper, consulting them on the practice field.
His team was undefeated. But he minimized this by saying the teams his boys played didn't know much about football either.
Then came two years at the University of Texas law school, grading papers and acting as quiz master to earn his way.
There is a story he entered the university with only pants and sweater to wear. His mother later claimed he did have a suit, too.
Anderson was graduated from law school and in effect was elected to the Legislature on the same August day in 1932. He was 22. He had earned the highest grades of any Texas law graduate to that time.
The new secretary is a speed reader and has a remarkable memory.
Raymond Nichols, who has been associated with him in the Vernon, Tex., Publishing Co., said once: "I've seen him read a poem once or twice and then recite the whole thing accurately."
Anderson opened a law office in Fort Worth in 1932. The next year he became assistant state attorney general and also taught law at the University of Texas.
In 1934 he became state tax commissioner and in 1936 was named to the Texas Unemployment Commission.
As tax commissioner, Anderson met the heirs of the great Waggoner Estate, which owns land stretching 100 miles across six counties in North Texas. It includes oil fields, great cattle herds, wheat fields and much city real estate.
He became the estate's general counsel in 1957 when he was only 27. In 1941 he became general manager of the vast holdings. He went on to the estate to take the federal jobs.
Anderson had been Navy secretary little more than a year when President Eisenhower tapped him for the job of deputy secretary of defense.
He was picked largely because of his knack for staying out of controversy — a rare quality in Cabinet members in those days.
When he left the government in 1955, he became president of Ventures, Ltd., of Toronto, a mining properties holding company, reportedly at a salary of $60,000 a year.
He's no stranger to politics.
When he was starting his last term in law school, he went to the dean and asked permission to skip classes so he could run for the Texas Legislature.
The dean checked up, found the enterprising student's average in the high 90s and gave permission.
Later, while he was unemployment commissioner of Texas during the depression, he came up with an idea that showed him to be a few years ahead of his time.
He proposed construction of a natural gas pipeline from Texas to Detroit. "It would have created jobs more economically feasible than those the WPA provided," he said.
The Texas Legislature turned the plan down but the federal government built the pipe during World War II.
Anderson is married and has two sons, James, 20, and Lee, 16.

Einfrank Gets New Chance

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Einfrank, a truck driver who lost both $64,000 and his faith in people on a quiz show early this year, is getting another chance at the $64,000.
It may take a bit more doing to restore his faith in people, however.
Einfrank is a $60-a-week truck driver in Los Angeles and a self-made expert on geography. Appearing on the "$64,000 Question" program, he got up to $32,000, gambled on the big question and lost.
That, he said afterward, brought upon his head a torrent of abuse from his relatives, who thought he ought to have taken the $32,000. For a while, he said, he thought his wife had deserted him as well. However, it turned out that his wife had to remain with a daughter in Maryland longer than expected because of a siege of family illness there. Anyway, they've been reunited and now the 57-year-old husband is going on the "$64,000 Challenge" show.
The new chance at big money hasn't erased Einfrank's bitterness over his previous experience. "Relatives still figure money before they figure you," he said here yesterday. "Why can't people be people? They don't know how to be human any more."
Losing on the previous program didn't bother him a bit, said Einfrank.
"What did," he said, "was everybody pinching me, camping outside my door. While I was on that show, I couldn't go to the bathroom alone, they were crowding me so, all those relatives."
If he should win on the quiz program this time, it's going to be mighty different. "I'll get me a pickup truck and a trailer, and we'll travel around and keep away from telephones so we don't hear from the relatives."
