Carpenters Union Official Invokes Fifth Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank W. Chapman, 300-pound general treasurer of the Carpenters Union, today invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about sharing in some $80,000 alleged profits on Indiana road right-of-way land sales.

Chapman answered a series of preliminary questions but when asked about the alleged sharing in the right-of-way profits by himself and other high Carpenters Union officials, he took the Fifth Amendment.

Chapman told a Senate Roads subcommittee investigating the Indiana highway scandals that further answers might tend to "incriminate me."

Pro-Western Slate Leads In Lebanon

BEIRUT (AP)—Candidates backing Lebanon's pro-Western government today held 15 of 22 Parliament seats decided in the first round of the little Middle East nation's general election.

At stake was the prestige and life of the first Middle East government to endorse the Eisenhower Doctrine. A government defeat would have been a big boost for President Nasser of Egypt and his leftist, pro-Soviet allies in neighboring Syria.

The Ministry of the Interior announced that government candidates, including Premier Sani Solh, won a sweeping 10 of 11 seats in Beirut.

Mercury Hits Season's High

Air conditioners, long since put in place and readied for service, got their initial workout of the year in many Big Spring residences on Sunday.

The temperature climbed to a hot 97 degrees and gave the folk a good sample of what summer weather is like.

The vague promise of the weatherman that Sunday afternoon would be invaded by scattered thundershowers and partly cloudy skies failed to materialize.

Due to Mrs. Eisenhower's call, Dr. Howard Snyder, the President's personal physician, was at the White House when Eisenhower returned about 10 p.m.

Parr Witness Denies He Got U.S. Immunity

HOUSTON (AP)—Diego Heras, chief government witness in the fourth George Parr mail fraud trial, denied today that he has been granted immunity from income tax evasion prosecution in exchange for his testimony at the trial.

Heras, 44, former deputy tax collector for the Benavides Independent School District, acknowledged to Percy Foreman, chief defense counsel, that Internal Revenue Bureau agents had questioned him about his 1949 income.

Foreman indicated bank records show that deposits to Heras' account at the now defunct San Diego State Bank totaled $12,000 in 1949 although his school district salary totaled only $3,300.

Heras said he paid income taxes only on the $3,300 and that the balance came from advances by the school district or loans from the San Diego bank or the Texas State Bank at Alice.

Justice Harlan delivered the 5-3 decision in the case of Chessman, who has waged a 9-year legal fight to escape death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

Justice Douglas, Justice Warren and Chief Justice Warren dissented. Chief Justice Warren disqualified himself. That meant the majority consisted of Harlan and Black, Frankfurter, Brennan and Whiteaker.

Harlan said for the majority that the California Supreme Court's affirmation of Chessman's conviction "upon the seriously disputed record, whose accuracy petitioner has had no voice in determining, cannot be allowed to stand."

Plane Salvage Worker Drowns In Trapped Boat

DALLAS (AP)—A salvage worker helping recover the wreckage of a jet plane in the Trinity River was trapped in a sinking boat yesterday and apparently drowned before the hurried eyes of others working on shore.

Allen Monroe Johnston, 31, of nearby Grand Prairie, was missing and presumed drowned after the accident on the Trinity's West Fork.

Workers helping him said he ferried a load from the crash site on the north bank and was returning alone from the south bank when the 15-foot, flat-bottomed craft hit a stump in mid-channel.

The outboard motor died and when Johnston cranked it, the motor roared, apparently in reverse.

The boat lurched backward and water rushed in over the almost submerged stern, swamping the boat and sucking Johnston into the cabin as swift currents pulled the craft under.

"Some of the men said they could see Johnston inside the cabin as the water closed in over the front half of the boat," said Auxiliary Police Lieutenant Lee Roy Smith.

An amendment, passed at the recent session of the Texas Legislature, permits a graduated water price. Cities closest to the site would pay a lower price for water than those at the farthest points, such as Lamesa, O'Donnell, Slaton, Brownfield, Levelland, and Taboka.

Re-admission could hinge on the opinion that Amarillo in particular would like to return to the Authority. With this wedge the smaller cities may be able to gain some concession on the common water price argument in return for re-admitting the three cities to full membership.

Plane Hits House, Four Die; Persons At Dinner Are Unhurt

PACOIMA, Calif. (AP)—A plane hit a house last night, killing the four passengers, but eight persons sharing a birthday dinner in the home were unhurt.

Neighbors in this plane crash-conscious San Fernando Valley suburb of Los Angeles today were calling it "a miracle."

Barry Worth, 30, and his family were finishing hamburgers and corn. A cake with candles was on the table in honor of his mother-in-law's 57th birthday.

Then the rented, single-engine Piper Tri-Pacer plunged down on to the one-story, stucco tract home.

It tore a jagged gash across the roof over the dining and living rooms and wound up in a jumble of wreckage in the patio.

Glass from a shattered picture window showered around the diners, who were only 10 feet from the wreckage, but none of them were even hurt. There was no fire.

"It was pretty horrible; I'll never forget it," said Worth, a telephone installer. "I hope something can be done about these planes flying over the neighborhood."

Within a mile of his home is Pacoima Junior High School, over which a transport plane and a jet collided at high altitude last Jan. 31, killing three gym-class boys and five armen.

A witness to last night's crash, W. C. Green of Burbank, said: "Suddenly it seemed like the right wing just folded up, and then the airplane was falling."

Worth's father-in-law Heinz Bachwitz, 63, and his wife Katie said they thought, when the crash came, "it was an earthquake."

Killed were Owen Summers Wallis, 33; Henry Harris Smith, 42; Robert F. Peterson, 52; and Terrence Patterson Lockhardt, 33, Chico businessmen. They were en route to Santa Monica in a plane piloted by Smith, construction-company owner.

Johnson Calls For Texas River Survey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson (Tex.) says he is urging Army engineers to make a survey of every river in Texas. He also says he thinks Congress has made an excellent record in trimming President Eisenhower's $1.5-billion-dollar budget.

Johnson made the comments in reply to questions from constituents. His transcribed address was broadcast over the Texas State Network and other stations.

"We have known for years that there is only one thing that can be done about floods—and that is to prepare for them in advance," he said.

Johnson said one of his major ambitions is "to live for the day when every river in Texas is controlled against flood damage insofar as we have the knowledge and intelligence to control it."

He quoted a telegram from Bassett County Judge Tom Griffin which expressed deep appreciation "for the flood protection which the dams on the Colorado (River) have afforded this entire area."

The lesson learned from the "shocking flood damage" in Texas was "too little and too late," he added.

Johnson said he didn't think of the budget cutting as an "economy drive."

"I think of it as an effort to be prudent in handling the money that belongs to the American people. This means our duty to cut out unnecessary spending."

"So far the record is excellent. The House and the Senate have both acted on four appropriation bills. They include the Treasury-Post Office bill, the Commerce Department bill, the State-Justice-USA bill and general government matters."

He said the Senate alone cut nearly a half billion dollars from those requests.

Meeting Of CRMWA Set

LAMESA — The board of directors of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority was to meet today at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting is expected to draw widespread attention from member cities who expected to discuss an invitation to the three cities of Amarillo, Pampa and Plainview to return to full membership on the Authority.

An amendment, passed at the recent session of the Texas Legislature, permits a graduated water price. Cities closest to the site would pay a lower price for water than those at the farthest points, such as Lamesa, O'Donnell, Slaton, Brownfield, Levelland, and Taboka.

Curtis is a member of the special Senate committee investigating alleged racketeering and other malpractice in the labor-management field.

Sen. Ervin (D-NC), another committee member, mentioned this case in contending that some union officials "seem to exercise kingly power to use union funds in rather enormous amounts for their own pleasure."

Eleven members of a family fishing expedition were heading for shore in a 30-foot houseboat to escape worsening weather.

The boat was within 200 yards of the beach when Joe Miller, 7, stumbled over a railing and tumbled into eight-foot-deep waters of Machadoc Creek.

In quick succession, the child's father Melvin Miller, 32; Miller's sister Mrs. Pauline Houchins, 35, and her husband Wayne, 40, leaped to the rescue.

All drowned while relatives on the boat, including Miller's wife and their other three children, threw out life preservers.

Nixon Breaks Off From Conservatives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon apparently has decided his best chance for winning the 1960 Republican presidential nomination is to be labeled as an "Eisenhower" Republican.

In the last few days Nixon has gone a long way toward severing the ties he once had with the conservative wing of Republicans. He has lined up beside Eisenhower on foreign aid and spending needs. And he spoke out in an East Lansing, Mich., speech yesterday in support of U. S. aid to Poland.

In what could scarcely be unintentional, Nixon put himself squarely in opposition to Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California on Polish aid, which is likely to continue as a controversial foreign policy issue.

In popular speculation Nixon and Knowland are being cast as rival candidates from the same state for No. 1 place on the next national GOP ticket. If the wheel turns in this direction, it could be considered good politics for Nixon to draw as sharp a line as possible between himself and Knowland.

But there could be a hitch. While Nixon's candidacy is regarded as almost certain, Knowland's is not. Knowland is quitting the Senate. He probably would have to run for governor of California and flatten GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight in the process to become a serious candidate for the presidential nomination.

If he were not a candidate himself, Knowland might conceivably give Nixon his support. That would help open the road to control of the hefty California delegation and it might help bring acceptance of Nixon by other influential Republicans who think like Knowland.

But Nixon gave this group another rebuff yesterday when he vigorously supported the administration's agreement to make 95 million dollars in economic aid loans available to Poland.

Proposes Test On Hungary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), denouncing Soviet boss Khrushchev's troop withdrawal proposal as "just propaganda," suggests nevertheless that this country offer a "test of good faith."

Knowland appeared yesterday on the same television show (CBS "Face the Nation") on which Khrushchev made his statement in a filmed interview a week earlier.

The Communist party boss said that if the West would withdraw foreign troops stationed at European bases, Russia would be willing to pull its troops out of East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Romania. He said he was confident those countries would choose to remain Communist.

Knowland, saying Khrushchev "has opened it up for us," proposed a test of Russian intentions by offering neutralization of Norway if that country agrees in return for removal of Russian troops from Hungary. He noted that the government of Janos Kadar was installed after Russian troops broke a revolution in Hungary last fall.

"I do not think the Kadar government of Hungary would last a day or a week if Soviet troops were withdrawn," he said, and the test offer, if Russia accepted, would "let the people of the world see if they (the Hungarians) would vote for communism."

Knowland said he had suggested such a test by letter to Secretary of State Dulles, but had received no reply.

Egyptian Legates Expelled By Jordan

AMMAN (AP)—The Jordan government today expelled two Egyptian diplomats on security charges. They left by plane for Cairo.

A government announcement said Foreign Minister Samir el Rifai asked the Egyptian embassy in Amman to withdraw its military attaché Maj. Fuad Hilal after he tried to enlist a Jordanian in a plot to assassinate "certain official personalities in Amman."

The announcement said the recall of Mohammed Abdul Aziz, consul general in the Jordan sector of Jerusalem, was demanded for "reasons connected with security."

Coahoma Flier Is Honored For Landing Crippled Plane

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wyrick of Coahoma has been lauded by the Denver Post for helping bring in a B-25 bomber for a safe emergency landing recently.

Lt. Carl Wyrick was co-pilot of the crippled B-25 which landed at Lowry AFB at Denver on May 21 without injuries to the crew. Pilot of the plane was Maj. Robert Grummel. Also on the flight was Sgt. Alfred McInville.

The plane was on a routine maintenance flight May 21, but when the crew prepared to land, the landing gear would not come down. The plane then circled the landing field three and a half hours before using all its gas.

Finally, with gas gone, Grummel and Wyrick brought the plane in. Fire crews on the ground had coated the landing strip with foam which made the landing more successful.

For the accomplishment, the crew was listed in the Denver Post's "Gallery of Fame."

Business Research Bureau For West Texas Planned

MINERAL WELLS (AP)—Plans to develop their region through a new West Texas Bureau of Business Research at Texas Tech in Lubbock were mapped yesterday by 34 leaders.

The bureau is to be set up next year to supplement the Texas Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

Meanwhile the group asked the West Texas Council on Regional Development for an inventory of agencies dealing with agricultural affairs. Such an inventory would help set up machinery to expedite delivery of information to farmers.

The new West Texas bureau was asked to prepare to contract with communities for economic surveys to gather information about the region's industrial potential for interested industries.

The group asked that Texas Tech serve as a repository for information about community problems. The school would gather information about what's being done elsewhere and the material would be available to communities for study.

Also asked were steps to provide community leadership training through West Texas colleges and public schools, and that liaison be maintained by the West Texas council with regional, state and national agencies in fields of community development.

Harris Sees Chance For Gas Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) says he believes President Eisenhower would accept new natural gas legislation which does not include two administration-proposed amendments.

Harris said he interprets a letter sent him by the President as meaning Eisenhower would not veto the controversial measure sponsored by Harris and Rep. Joseph P. O'Hara (R-Minn.).

The letter has increased the measure's chances in Congress, Harris said, because "it was well known that with the two amendments there would be no gas bill. They just don't fit in with the purpose of the legislation."

The bill as it stands would ease federal regulation of prices charged by independent natural gas producers. The administration amendments would give the Federal Power Commission tighter control over prices than the bill permits.

One administration amendment would strike from the bill a ban on considering production costs in determining "the reasonable market prices of gas. The other would grant FPC authority to limit price increases under existing contracts containing "fixed escalation clauses."

Harris read to a news conference a letter in which Eisenhower said:

"As I have repeatedly stated, I favor legislation freeing producers of natural gas from utility-type regulation. The amendments referred to were offered as of possible desirability, but do not represent my fixed conclusions. Your committee will doubtless wish to consider them with this thought in mind. Whether or not they are adopted I wish to re-emphasize the importance of enacting natural gas legislation at this session of Congress."

Harris is chairman of the House Commerce Committee, which has just completed hearings on natural gas legislation.

As a result of the letter, Harris said, he now believes the bill will be approved by his committee, although without it there would have been considerable doubt about committee approval.

Sheriffs Gather In Galveston

GALVESTON (AP)—About 450 lawmen from over the nation opened the 17th annual conference of the National Sheriffs Assn. today.

Many drove to this resort city in cars equipped with spotlights, sirens and emblems.

Some of them whooped it up last night, sounding their sirens in front of the Galvez Hotel.

Law enforcement problems will be discussed by Sheriff John M. Spottswood of Key West, Fla., and Supt. Harold S. Zeis of the Indiana State Police.

The meeting ends Wednesday.

Uncle Roy: Compass Often Fails To Show True North

By RAMON COFFMAN
Recently I spoke of the fact that the earth is a gigantic magnet. There are lines of force which run between the magnetic north pole and the magnetic south pole. Dr. William Gilbert, a physician in England, was a pioneer in working out a theory about the magnetic earth. A bit more than three and a half centuries ago, he appeared before Queen Elizabeth and performed simple experiments for her. He spoke of magnetism, such as may be observed when a piece of glass is rubbed so that it will attract bits of paper. The result of the rubbing is to create static electricity, which has magnetic power.

The ore known as "lodestone" is found in certain places, and it has the natural properties of a magnet. The ore seems to have been found first in northern Greece or in Asia Minor.

The compass was invented and used before Gilbert's time. The Chinese seem to have been first to make a compass. They called one end of the needle the "ting-nan-ching," meaning "south-pointing needle" or "south-seeking needle."

Q. Does one end of the compass always point toward the geographical North Pole?
A. No! One end always points toward the magnetic north pole, which is about 1,400 miles from the geographic North Pole. Some places are on a line with both of those poles. In those places the compass needle points toward the true north. Elsewhere, pilots of ocean vessels and airplanes must correct the compass to find the true north.

Another trouble comes from iron or steel. A bed of iron ore will deflect the compass, and so will steel in a building or on an ocean liner or airplane. Special steps are taken to shield a compass from such attraction.

Finns Give The Frigid Treatment

Those rollicking "goodwill ambassadors" of the Soviet Union, Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin, stepped down from their special train in Helsinki, Finland, on their first outside mission since last fall's Hungarian debacle. B. and K. had gone to Finland to discuss with that government some pending problems, including the return of Karelian territory which the Finns ceded to the USSR in 1944, and the non-delivery of Russian goods to Finland for which credits have been established.

Nobody expected the Finns to get very far with either of these matters, and the chances seem even dimmer in view of the cold-shoulder they got in Helsinki. The welcome extended by the Finnish government itself was quite correct in every detail. The red carpet was unrolled. Courtesy if not deference was accorded. A round of social events were plotted for the visiting bigwigs and their entourage.

But the reaction of the populace was on the frigid side. One thousand Finns lined the tracks leading to the station, but they just stood there stolidly, making no gesture and saying nothing. Another 15,000 Finns witnessed the ceremonies of welcome at the station, cracking no smiles, waving no hands, doing no hand-clapping. This silent demonstration heightened in effect when the Finnish premier came into sight and received a tumultuous welcome from the crowd, but when B. & K., trailing the premier, came along the crowd instantly fell silent and 15,000 smiles disappeared.

The Kremlin bigwheels, who had been wildly welcomed in India and elsewhere before Hungary, who had received a rather restrained but polite welcome in Britain, did not miss the significance of the Finnish cold-shoulder treatment. Dispatches say they all but slumped along behind the Finnish chief of state, looking down in the mouth.

The Finns are a brave people; they live almost literally under the guns of the USSR, which they stood off in the little war leading up to World War II.

While their government feels obliged to treat the Big Bear with circumspection, and with good reason — an attitude the people themselves probably realize is necessary — the Finns feel under no obligation to put up a false front of cordiality for B. & K.'s benefit.

It is not beyond the realm of possibility that this silent treatment may cause the Soviet bigwheels to realize for the first time just how the world outside feels about them, particularly since the Hungarian outrages. The Russians are extremely sensitive, and a good dose of contemptuous disregard of their threats and oppressions from the Finns could conceivably have a beneficial effect.

Nobody is in better moral position to administer it than the Finns.

You Have To See To Be Safe

In general, bus and truck drivers sit up front of their mounts, high enough to have full and clear vision ahead, as well as immediately in front of and on the side of their truck or bus.

We have seen no statistics comparing the collision rate as between trucks and buses on the one hand and the ordinary passenger car on the other, but it probably would be an eye-opener. And not simply because bus and truck drivers are professionals, in most cases carefully selected for their skill and reliability.

Arthur W. Stevens of Boston, president of the Automobile Safety Association, believes that poor visibility is responsible for more automobile collisions than any other single factor. Car makers have gone all-out in adding horsepower, in tricking out their products with all sorts of useful and useless gadgets, in the extravagant use of chrome and in making things comfortable for the people inside.

But the driver has been granted no concessions. To quote Mr. Stevens:

"Safe driving depends primarily on the ability of the operator to see to drive safely. Yet the operator of today's car is robbed of his view of the road close up ahead and at the sides by the sheet metal of the long hood ahead of him as he occupies a seat halfway or more back in his car. He has to guess at clearances and intervals. He is given a sense of detachment with respect to the road and is lured to drive too fast."

The driver should be up front, where he can see the road from the front bumper to the horizon "and where the road flashing before his eyes will make him aware of the dangers of driving too fast for existing conditions."

And, we might add, in building the cars lower and lower, and the driver's seat lower and lower with the rest of the car, this condition has been worsened, not bettered.

It occurs to us that bus and truck drivers probably have a much better safety record, man for man, than drivers of passenger cars partly because they occupy a vantage point right up front, and high enough to see where they're going.

As long as cars are built to attract the eyes and pander to the comfort and vanity of the passengers, regardless of the safety factors involved, our horrible record of around 40,000 traffic deaths per year and around 2,000,000 injured is not likely to show any slackening off — regardless of law enforcement, driver education and highway engineering.

The cards are stacked against the drivers of passenger cars — by the sales-conscious designers.

Girard Made National Figure By U. S. Fumbling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Emotion, a dispute over the meaning of words and stumbling around by the government have made a national figure out of William S. Girard, an obscure, 21-year-old American soldier in Japan.

When this government decided last week to let the Japanese try him for killing a Japanese woman, it has similar agreements with other countries where United States Armed forces are stationed.

It was agreed with Japan that the United States would have jurisdiction over its military personnel for any act done "in the performance of official duty." Otherwise, the Japanese would have jurisdiction.

In Girard's case there was no question he was on duty when he killed the woman. The question was: Did he do it in performance of his duty? The Japanese said no. At first this country said yes and then changed to no.

Japanese men, women and children, looking for empty shell casings to sell for scrap, had become a nuisance — and a danger to themselves by wandering around a maneuver area north of Tokyo. They even went onto the firing range.

This happened during maneuvers on Jan. 30. Girard's platoon leader ordered him to guard a machine gun. The Japanese had been warned away, but a woman, mother of five, got within 30 yards of Girard in her search for scrap.

Japanese claim Girard encouraged her to look for scrap. He has denied it. But he put an empty cartridge in a grenade thrower and fired. She was hit and killed. He denied he intended to kill her. He said he just wanted to scare her away.

For five days the Army in Japan suppressed news of the incident. But the Japanese papers played it up. It was discussed in Parliament.

The Japanese claimed jurisdiction — the right to try him — on the grounds that what he did was not part of his official duty. His commanding officer said he was carrying out his duty and the United States claimed jurisdiction. Both sides argued for weeks.

But this was the first time in more than 14,000 incidents involving violations of Japanese laws that the Japanese claimed the right to be judges of whether an act was in performance of official duty.

Tomorrow, government officials appear before a federal judge to argue the jurisdiction question. This case may well be fought up to the Supreme Court for a ruling on the constitutionality of the whole 1953 agreement.

Uranium Tycoon Tours England In Family Bus

LONDON (AP)—Charles Steen, uranium age version of an American Innocent Abroad, is rambling about Britain with his family troupe well settled in a good-sized Texas millionaire who now lives in Moab, Utah, Steen bought the bus for a tour of Europe. He plans to see as many countries as he can in some three months of bus travel—all without a single hotel reservation.

He plans to tour Europe with his wife, four young and active boys, two women from Texas, and two dogs.

Charles says he wants to be called, does the driving himself. "I was once too broke to buy milk," he says. "My wife went without shoes."

These financial strains were Charles' lot during his prospecting days in Colorado.

A geology graduate of the Texas College of Mines, Steen is now on his first trip to Europe.

"I made a bargain with my wife," he said. "If she let me go fishing off the Mexican Coast for several months, I'd take her and the family to Europe."

She wants to see the great art collections, showing John, 11, the castles of England and Europe.

"My wife's mother, Mrs. Lee Holland of Sweetwater, Tex., is joining us. So is Mrs. Edna Miner of Houston," he said. Mrs. Miner was his science teacher in Lamar High School in Houston and the trip to Europe is a present to her.

A big problem is "Butch," a Dalmatian who is in dog's quarantine. "As soon as we leave England, Butch is coming with us. And I hope to get another Dalmatian to keep Butch company."

Maybe Blondes Aren't Dumb

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe, whom gentlemen prefer, says blondes have a woe that other women are spared.

"If you're a blonde," she said, "it is considered that you have to be told what to do — that someone else has to decide things for you."

Miss Monroe today certainly has no chip on her shoulder. But she has made it abundantly clear that, whenever her mind is to be made up, she'd like to pitch in and help, too.

As Hollywood's most shapely producer since Sam Goldwyn gave up barbells, Marilyn is here for the premiere of her first production, "The Prince and the Showgirl," in which she stars with Sir Laurence Olivier.

"In all fairness, he should probably be called the producer. I'm the owner," she said.

But Marilyn says she shouldered her full share of production worries.

"I was an actress from 6 in the morning until noon," she recalled, "and a producer during lunch. Then I was an actress the rest of the afternoon — and a producer from 6:30 until 9:30 p.m. when we looked over the day's rushes."

When I first met Marilyn several years ago, she was an uncertain kid with an unsure foothold on fame, and I couldn't be sure whether she was frightened or amused by what was happening to her.

Today I had the same sensation of doubt. It is hard to figure whether Marilyn, who retains a kind of breathless, small girl quality, is scared inside herself — or secretly laughing at you because she's a step ahead of you, and knows it.

"I'd rather not be asked whether I'm pregnant or not, or to discuss anything political or religious. Otherwise, I'll talk about anything," she said.

She was asked what she thought was the biggest public misconception about her.

She laughed and replied: "People identify me personally with the parts I play. It isn't so much that I mind, but it just isn't so. But I've played so many different parts by now they must be confused."

Marilyn feels the recent crowd-ed years haven't basically changed her outlook.

In a childhood of hardship in which she moved from pillar to post Marilyn knew plenty of rugged lonely years. I asked her if she was broke and friendless again, what she'd miss most in her present life of comfort.

"Not jewelry; I really don't care for it. Not expensive stockings; I could go bare-legged. Not a car; or fine food or a big house. "It's a bed, I guess — a big comfortable bed. I'd hate ever to be so poor again that I didn't have a bed of my own."

The Fine Art Of Packing A Suitcase

I've always admired people who can take a two weeks' vacation and live out of a handbag, or a valise, if you prefer. All the more credit to them if they go around looking as if they stepped right out of a hand bag. Me? I look bedraggled, bewildered and bedeviled, under such circumstances.

I've always been told that it's the way you pack a bag that counts. If you arrange it right, they say, you can get a lot more of the essentials in it.

Who are they kidding? I don't think there's any way to pack a bag the way it was intended to be. It never holds as much I think it should.

By the time I toss in a couple of shirts, my under clothes, a few pairs of socks and hankies, there is no room for my shaving gear, pajamas and extra pair of pants.

The situation can be improved if I sleep in my shorts and wear the extra pair of jeans but the shaving gear poses a problem. My whiskers never take a vacation.

Travel folders make a vacation spot seem so attractive and you can't lose your way if you allow some old company supplying maps for their customers plan your itinerary for you.

There are also printed instructions available on the part of packing a valise, put out by the airlines and other carriers, but I'm thinking they'd be hard for me to follow. Principally because no one else in the world folds clothes like I do. Or rolls them in frantic efforts to shove them in one corner.

Packing at home is hard enough. Making ready for the return trip is something else again. At home, you can get your wife to sit on the suitcase while you fasten the locks. But who, tell me, will do that chore for you when you start home? It's something to tell about.

If you're like me, you wind up with socks in each pocket, with one hand holding a towel wrapped around your shaving equipment and your chassis outfitted with two shirts, two pairs of pants and your soiled clothing wrapped in a newspaper and secured under each arm.

Found: Four Billion For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON — Four billion dollars is not easy to find these days, but this correspondent believes he has located inside the government itself approximately that sum and perhaps more to pay for the mutual security and foreign aid program proposed recently by President Eisenhower. It could cut the budget by four billions and perhaps more. And nowadays anybody who can come up with a budget cut is supposed to be in tune with the times.

The four billions emerge in the form of foreign currencies that today are being used by nations abroad to buy American farm surpluses.

These surpluses consist of wheat and other grains, dairy products, fruits and almost everything else that the farmer has been able hitherto to dump on the government of the United States for purchase.

What happens is that, with the authority of the Congress, the farm products are sold overseas and payments by foreign governments are made in foreign currencies. Thus, anything sold to some country would be in the local equivalent of pounds or francs or lire.

These sums have been given the name "counterpart funds." They usually are spent in the same countries which buy the surpluses. But the United States has troops in some and military installations in other countries, and makes all sorts of purchases locally.

Up to now only 21 per cent of the "counterpart funds" are brought into the federal budget and show up in the form of appropriations or as receipts when sales are made. The other 79 per cent doesn't get into the budget at all, and only small amounts have been spent thus far.

The House of Representatives was told during debate last week that, as a result of farm sales overseas, more than one billion dollars now is available in foreign currencies for spending by the United States government. If the pending legislation is passed, approximately four billion dollars worth of surpluses in the United States will be ready for disposal abroad.

Since the legislation was first passed, agreements have been made with 30 countries, covering 87 different disposal programs. Commodities involved in these agreements have cost the Commodity Credit Corporation nearly three billion dollars, and only one billion dollars worth has thus far been exported.

Now, there's no reason why the government shouldn't buy more and more of the agricultural surpluses as they arise and sell them overseas except that the project has to be carefully handled so as to avoid ill feeling in other producing countries which may be deprived of their markets.

In a report filed on May 9 by Chairman Cooley of the House Agriculture Committee, it is noted that virtually all the foreign-currency funds used thus far have been employed for purchases of strategic materials, military procurement and economic development, and for the payment of certain obligations of the United States government abroad.

There is no reason why the same method and formula of payment cannot be applied to their projects and expenses of the United States in foreign countries, thus saving all or much of the money originally put in the budget for mutual security and foreign aid.

The fact remains that government dollars are being spent today to help American farmers get rid of their surpluses and to keep farm prices up. The farm bloc in Congress, composed of members of both parties, has put this program through in the past and stands back of it today.

The more surpluses sold, the more money for the foreign aid program. This can easily cover the four billions already stipulated in the federal budget for these items and, if sales or more surpluses of farm products should become necessary, there's plenty in the West and South where the present supply has been produced.

Some will say it's a matter of "book-keeping." But so are many other items of the budget, and the important thing is to let the public know that foreign aid and mutual security can actually, if Congress wills it so, be obtained by merely selling more farm products overseas and finding ways of utilizing the foreign currencies even if those currencies have to be sold at a discount to get dollars. The accumulation of forcing-currency funds to date is a sizeable sum, and more can be readily added. That's one way to save budget money and continue foreign aid at the same time — one of those necessary miracles in times like the present.

The Gallup Poll

Moving Population Affects Politics

PRINCETON, N. J. — Republican and Democratic precinct workers have their job cut out for them in their efforts to line up new supporters in next year's Congressional elections.

A survey just completed by the Institute on what sociologists call the "mobility status" of the civilian adult population shows that:

Approximately 37,000,000 adults have changed their residence since four years ago.

"Intra-county mobiles" — those persons who have moved to a new home within the same county — account for about two-thirds of the population movement.

Students of government will interpret these survey findings on the mobility status of the population as one reason for the proportionately low voter turnout ratio in U. S. elections.

The political significance lies in the fact that, as a rule, it takes a newcomer to a neighborhood some time to get interested in politics in his new community and he often does not take the trouble immediately to find out where the precinct polling place is located and to register.

In many states, of course, in order for a citizen to vote he must have lived in the same county for a specified time.

Political observers also know that some people, in moving from one locality to another find it expedient to switch their political allegiance from what it was at their old address.

To find out the extent of the mobility of the civilian adult population in the last four years, the Institute assigned its nationwide corps of reporters to talk to a cross-section of adults from Maine to California.

The first question asked was: "Were you living in the same house or dwelling, where you now live, four years ago?"

LIVING AT SAME ADDRESS FOUR YEARS AGO? Per Cent
Yes ..... 67
No ..... 33

Projecting the survey figure on the base of an estimated civilian adult population today of 101,000,000, exclusive of institutionalized persons, indicates that approximately 37,000,000 have moved since four years ago, or roughly since the Eisenhower administration has been in office.

The 37 per cent who said they were not living at the same address were next asked:

"Were you living in this county four years ago?"

While approximately two-thirds of those who had moved had taken up new residence within the same county, it is interesting to note that of those who had moved, one out of six had taken up residence in another state.

Per Cent
Yes, same county ..... 23
No, but in same state ..... 5
No, in a different state ..... 6
Not certain same county ..... 3
Not reported ..... 37

Census Bureau estimates, based on sample surveys, shows an average of 80 per cent who were non-movers during a period of one year.

Certain patterns of population mobility emerge, the survey finds. One is that manual workers are the most mobile occupation group, while the least mobile group are the nation's farmers.

The other is that there is proportionately more mobility in cities than in rural areas. That is, there is relative little movement of the population in farming communities.

Of political interest is the fact that proportionately more Democrats have moved in the last four years than have Republicans.

Here is the proportion of those who have moved in the last four years by occupation groups, city size and party affiliation:

Per Cent
Republicans ..... 33
Democrats ..... 39
Independents ..... 41

GOP Leaders Map Campaign In South

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alabama Democratic Senator Sparkman and Hill today said they hope the Republicans "spend a lot of money" in what they predicted will be a futile bid for House seats in the South next year.

They spoke out in a joint interview as President Eisenhower arranged a White House meeting with GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn and I. Lee Potter, the party's new director of Southern campaign activities.

Alcorn has expressed hope of picking up eight House seats in that area next year.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said that in predicting Southern GOP gains, Alcorn "is whistling in the dark and he isn't whistling 'Dixie.'"

Hill said he believes that if Eisenhower participates personally in an attempt to win Southern seats for the GOP the reaction will favor the Democrats.

Reminded that Eisenhower carried five Southern states and border Kentucky last year, Hill replied: "More popular residents than Eisenhower have found they couldn't transfer their popularity to others."

The White House inadvertently let slip Saturday Alcorn's selection of Potter, GOP state chairman for Virginia, as his special assistant to represent "the Republican party of the South."

Potter, 47, serves also as personal director for the GOP National Committee. A native of Tower City, Pa., he now resides in Arlington, Va.

Arms and legs were blown from about a dozen of the 300 persons attending a tea dance at the Casino de la Corniche, a stucco building in a palm garden overlooking the sea at suburban St. Eugene.

None of the dead were over 25. Most of the casino's "Lucky Starway" orchestra were killed outright. The dead, dying and wounded included young children attending the dance with their families.

The bomb, timed to go off at 7 p. m., was hidden in the concrete base of the bandstand.

French police searched the Algiers area for an Algerian steward who vanished from his job at the casino before the bomb went off. One policeman said: "This is not politics, this is murder."

Two Men Swept to Death As Flood Wrecks Bridge

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The flooding Verdigris River in southeast Kansas washed away part of a bridge near Coffeyville last night and swept two men to their deaths.

At least four tornado funnels danced along a squall line of severe thunderstorms which stretched across Kansas from southwest to northeast.

None of the twisters caused trouble but police reported a wind storm caused "considerable damage" at Russell, in central Kansas. No injuries were reported.

Severe windstorms also hit Pratt, Medicine Lodge and St. John, in south central Kansas. The Weather Bureau reported gusts of 90 miles an hour or more near Hutchinson, in the same area.

Porter Graces and Roy Burdick, employees of the Union Gas System at Coffeyville, were swept from the bridge over the Verdigris. They had been assigned to keep an eye on the company's natural gas line which crossed the river on the bridge.

County Commissioner Bob Blair who had been directing traffic at the bridge while workmen repaired flood damage to telephone lines, managed to swim to a tree and was rescued.

Torrential rains in the southeast corner of Kansas Saturday night and yesterday flooded some roads and sent streams rising into several farm houses around Pittsburg. The Weather Bureau reported 8.82 inches of rain fell at Pittsburg.

After 40 was recommended to me. I tried one bottle on a money back guarantee. I could tell from the first dose I had gotten help. Some told me I had to go away to some hospital or clinic to be treated. I don't want anything better than After 40.

Judgement Comes On Stand For Christ, Says Graham

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham says a lot of people believe they'll have plenty of company if they go to hell.

But the evangelist told 19,000 people at Madison Square Garden last night, "I've got an idea you won't even see anyone else. I believe that's part of hell—the great loneliness of it."

He also said a lot of people feel that when they die, the good and the bad things they've done are separated and, if the good outweighs the bad, they go to heaven.

"That's not the way it is at all," he said. "You're judged entirely on the way you stood with Christ."

Graham was on television twice yesterday — first on Meet the Press over NBC-TV and later on the network's Steve Allen Show, which devoted five minutes to the evangelist in a remote telecast from the Garden.

On Meet the Press, Graham described Russia as ripe for "the greatest religious revival in history."

He said he would like to preach there "without any strings attached."

"I don't believe they have stamped out faith," he said he was approached two years ago by Baptist leaders in Russia and invited to visit the Soviet Union. He said he liked the idea but made his visit conditional on having no "strings attached."

Relations between the United States and Russia worsened soon thereafter, the evangelist said, and the matter was not pursued. Steve Allen asked Graham how

HD Assistant Is Requested For 4-H Work

County farm women have begun a campaign to secure an assistant for Miss Elizabeth Pace, home demonstration agent.

Four women appeared before the Howard County Commissioners Court on Monday morning to present a group of petitions and to ask that when budget time arrives the county allocate a minimum of $1,800 for the purpose of paying such an assistant.

Half of the salary of such an assistant, they said, would be paid by the state.

The delegation told the commission that Miss Pace cannot do all of the work for the 4-H club girls and that many girls who would like and who need to be enrolled in the work cannot be accommodated.

The commissioners took no action. They said they would give the request consideration at the proper time.

Drainage Plan Set For Knott

Walter Parks, county engineer, and the Howard County Commissioners devoted considerable time Monday morning to discussion of road problems precipitated by the recent wet weather.

The commissioners instructed Parks to provide a metal culvert through a paved dip adjacent to the Dewey Martin property near Knott in an effort to drain off a lake of water which has formed on his land.

The contention of Martin was that an error in the original construction of the road by which the dip level was higher than the drainage level was responsible for the high water backing up on his fields.

Parks also presented the commissioners with a report on overtime worked by the members of the road and bridge crews in the current emergency. He estimated the overtime represented as much as $1,100.

Lee Porter, auditor, presented the regular monthly financial report of the county.

Stolen Auto Is Found In El Paso

Quick action by the officers of El Paso led to recovery of a 1951 Buick stolen Sunday from C. C. Reese, 812 W. 14th.

Miller Harris, sheriff, said that within a few hours after the car had been reported stolen, El Paso officers had it in their custody and had arrested two persons, one described as a local juvenile.

Harris said the two were off in a traffic violation in El Paso. He will dispatch officers to El Paso soon to bring the car and the prisoners to Big Spring.

Glasscock Wildcat Recovers Oil From Pennsylvannian

A Glasscock County wildcat venture recovered 3,100 feet of free oil on a test in the Pennsylvannian and was in the process of taking another drillstem test this morning.

The project is Shell No. 1 Curly about six miles north of Garden City. Previously, operator found heavy shows of oil in the Wolfcamp.

On the test over the weekend, operator drilled stem to test for three holes and made 3,100 feet of free oil and 200 feet of oil and gas mud. The oil tested from 41-48 degrees.

Dawson

Humble No. 1 R. E. Britt waited on cement to set oil string at 8,335 feet today. The hole is bottomed at 10,594 feet, but it is plugged back for Sprabery tests. Location is five and a half miles northwest of Lamesa, 660 from north and west lines. Labor: 16, League 3, Taylor CSL Survey.

Glasscock

Operator started another drillstem test in the Pennsylvannian this morning after finding oil on a test over the weekend at Shell No. 1 Curly. The wildcat is six miles north of Garden City. This morning, operator tested from 9,170-315 feet.

On a test from 9,087-144 feet in the Pennsylvannian, operator opened tool three hours. Gas surfaces in seven minutes but in quantities too small to measure. Recovery was 3,100 feet of free oil and 200 feet of oil and gas mud. Gravity of the oil was from 41-46 degrees.

Flooding pressure was 175-460 pounds, and 30-minute shut-in pressure was 4,315 pounds. Drilling breaks were noted from 9,114-24 and 9,268-315 feet. The venture is 664 from north and 951 from east lines, 24-34-38, T&P Survey.

Operator previously had three successful tests in the Wolfcamp before deepening to the Pennsylvannian. The Wolfcamp tests extended from 7,672 to 8,609 feet. Eight miles northwest of Garden City, Champlin No. 1 Hillger, the wildcat, deepened to 2,999 feet. It is 1,850 from north and 2,310 from west lines, 18-34-38, T&P Survey.

Hot Weather Is Bringing Snakes From Their Dens

Heat the past week is probably responsible for the coming of snakes in the area.

This includes the poisonous rattlers prevalent in this area.

Last week, Mrs. D. L. Morris was bitten by a rattlesnake near Lake J. B. Thomas, but she was successfully treated at a local hospital.

Mrs. Morris was watching while dirt-moving equipment leveled an area on the west end of the lake. The Morris plan to construct a concession stand there.

Evidently a grader uncovered a nest of rattlers for one bit her as she watched the grading work. Reports have been received of rattlers in the area. Policeman L. A. Hiltbrunner, who lives in the Silver Heels Addition south of Big Spring, said he had not seen any this year but expected to spot them in the near future. He said the weather is hot enough now to bring them out.

Mosquitoes To Become Threat

Mosquitoes haven't been much of a problem yet around Big Spring but sanitarian Tom Hardy says that due to the recent rains mosquitoes will start breeding.

A fogging machine is now in use in the city to combat insects and oil will be put on any stagnant water where mosquitoes are suspected to be breeding.

Hardy said that the average Big Spring can help keep down the mosquitoes by eliminating collections of water from evaporative coolers. They may also contact either Lige Fox, chief sanitarian, or Hardy at the Health Unit in the Read Hotel for assistance in destroying mosquitoes.

Ladders Might Aid Burglars

The chief of police issued a plea to business firms to refrain from leaving ladders beside buildings.

C. L. Rogers, police chief, said a count over the weekend revealed 17 ladders propped against buildings. These are invitations to burglars, the chief said. The 17 included some jewelry stores, too.

Several burglaries have been accomplished here with the burglars entering through the roof, Rogers said. And with a ladder propped against the side of the building, the owner is just helping the criminal.

Rogers said he was to write the 17 firms and personally ask them to remove the ladders, but he wished to urge all businesses to aid the department by removing these "invitations."

Fair Buildings Are Offered To Howard County

Howard County has been offered a deed to the land and buildings at the fair grounds without cost, provided the county agreed to assume responsibility for $8,000 indebtedness against the property.

The Howard County Commissioners Court expressed deep interest in the proposition, but did not definitely take action on the matter Monday.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, was asked to select a committee of representative citizens, who will make a study of the property and look into whether or not the county can accept such a proposition.

It was said that the property is worth from $30,000 to $40,000. The county would also assume the responsibility for maintenance of the buildings if the deeds are transferred from the association which now holds the property.

A report on the committee's recommendation was promised by Weaver at the next meeting of the commissioners.

IKE

after the physicians examined him. He said the President was "sleeping naturally" without any sedative.

Mrs. Eisenhower, he said, was up most of the night with the ailing President who "slept intermittently" during lulls in his attacks of nausea and vomiting.

MAMIE ALL RIGHT

Hagerty said Mrs. Eisenhower was perfectly all right herself.

He said he did not know whether any medication had been given the President, but would check with the doctors to find out.

Hagerty said the President stopped vomiting about 6 a.m.

He himself was notified of the President's illness about 7:15 a.m. and went to the White House earlier than usual.

Hagerty said he delayed giving out the first news—which was released about 10:15 a.m.—because he first wanted to get the results of the electrocardiogram readings and other tests. He was unable to say whether Eisenhower had taken any food today.

A newsman asked whether Eisenhower might have relaxed his diet somewhat during his visit aboard the USS Saratoga last week. Eisenhower watched naval maneuvers from the big carrier.

"I'm afraid so," Hagerty replied, adding that the President recently had been eating "fairly rich" food.

DISOBEYING DOCTORS?

But Hagerty replied "I wouldn't put it that way" when a reporter asked whether Eisenhower had been "disobeying" his doctors' orders.

Hagerty indicated he is not an approved item in the President's strict diet. But he said Eisenhower had been eating pie "sometimes."

Hagerty said he did not know what else the President ate last night at dinner, which was about 7 p.m. He added the doctors were not sure yet whether the upset stomach could be attributed to what Eisenhower ate last night or what he had been eating for the past several days.

Hagerty said the doctors had not yet estimated how long it would be before Eisenhower recovered from the stomach upset.

At the Capitol, Vice President Nixon told reporters: "We expect to see him back in his office tomorrow."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters he had received a report from the White House just before noon that "they feel much better over there about his condition."

Knowland said this word came from Maj. Gen. Wilton Persons in a telephone talk. Persons is a White House aide.

Knowland said the President's planned meeting tomorrow with congressional leaders has not yet been washed off the calendar.

"As yet," he said, "the meeting tomorrow is still up in the air."

The attack came just two days after the first anniversary of the illness for which Eisenhower underwent major abdominal surgery.

Hagerty, however, said a recurrence of last year's ileitis attack apparently was ruled out.

Hagerty said the distress this time appeared to be in the stomach, ileitis is an inflammation at the juncture of the large and small intestines, and not in the stomach region.

On that basis Hagerty said there was "no indication that this digestive upset is related in any way to the President's recent operation or to his heart attack of Sept. 24, 1955."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

In the main, local residents have been apathetic toward any suggestion that the Southwestern baseball league locate a franchise here.

Tom McHugh of El Paso offered to do that very thing last Friday and operate the team himself.

The general feeling locally, however, is that the circuit is doomed, that if El Paso doesn't fold, two or three other cities will in a short time.

It would take quite a bit of money to fix up the local park. McHugh had never seen it when he made the offer to move his business here.

One man and one man only—President W. J. Green—is holding the league together.

Most of the baseball followers here have expressed convictions that the only thing that will succeed out this way is an all-rocket circuit.

One friend of the game here stated he wouldn't be in favor of moving a team here in mid-season because another failure would ruin the sport locally for all time.

McHugh, incidentally, has been in professional baseball since 1925, most of the time in the front office.

Harold Davis, the HCJC basketball mentor, says Bob Rogers, Texas A&M's new coach, might be just the man to get the job done.

Davis, who knew Rogers when Bob was coach at Cameron College of Oklahoma, says the man got a surprising amount of mileage out of ordinary material at East Texas State College.

He not only knows his basketball but makes the public well. So says Davis.

In the San Angelo softball tournament last weekend, Midland National Bank imported a highly respected pitcher named Stevens out of Abilene to face the Cadden Oilers in the semi-final round.

Stevens, held the Big Spring power at bat for five innings. Then in the sixth, the Oilers raked his offerings for three hits and four runs—good enough for a 4-1 victory.

Since 1925, 11 major and minor league baseball players have clubbed 60 or more home runs in one season.

Of that number, five were active in leagues based wholly or partly in Texas. The longer list included John Clabugh (hit 62 in 1926 for Tyler); Bob Crues (69 for Amarillo in 1948); Joe Bauman (72 for Roswell of the Longhorn League in 1954); Ken Guettler (62 for Shreveport of the Texas League in 1950) and Frosty Kennedy (62 for Plainview of the Southwestern League in 1956).

OMAHA (AP)—California and Penn State were in the driver's seat today as the only undefeated teams in the annual NCAA College World Series of baseball.

Orioles Real Giant Killers In Majors

You can call them the Baltimore giant killers from now on after the job the Orioles did on the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees over the last two weekends.

Paul Richards' Birds edged into sixth place yesterday by sweeping a pair from the league-leading White Sox to make it three out of four in the series.

Billy O'Dell, a 24-year-old southpaw making his first start of the season, struck out 11 White Sox in his second game 5-0 shutout.

The Dodgers and Phillies are tied for second because the Phillies lost to Chicago 7-3 and had to settle for a 4-4 tie in the second game, called by the Sunday curfew in Philadelphia.

Milwaukee stumbled again at Pittsburgh. After winning the 11-inning first game 2-1 on Roberto Clement's error and Johnny Logan's single, the Braves bowed to Ronnie Kline in the second game.

St. Louis also edged into the thick of the race by taking two from New York. They won the first 2-1 for Vinegar Bend Mizell's first victory, and the second 10-7 for Lindy McDaniel by scoring six runs in the sixth inning when 11 men went to bat against Steve Rickitz and Johnny Antonelli.

Boston hit seven homers in downing Kansas City twice 8-4 and 9-5. Ted Lepcio and Jimmy Piersall each hit two and Ted Williams slammed No. 13.

Cleveland settled for a split with Washington, winning the opener 7-3 on Early Wynn's six-hitter, but losing the second 7-6 when Roy Sievers of the Senators hit a two-run pinch homer in the ninth.

At Detroit, Tigers Frank Bolling and Charlie Maxwell had just hit successive homers off Tom Sturdivant when a fast ball came close to Ray Boone's head.

After all the fuffs, the Yanks finally won the game when Hank Bauer tried to steal second with the bases loaded and the score tied. When Earl Torgerson threw to third base, Moose Skowron dashed home, scoring on a swan dive to the plate.

Don Hoak was the big man for Cincinnati, driving in four of the six runs with a homer in each game.

George Crowe also homered for the Redlegs and Ed Hodges' eighth was the only Dodger run of the day.

Ernie Banks hit a three-run homer off Robin Roberts in the eighth to beat the Phillies in the first game.

Dallas has taken three straight defeats from the Oklahoma City Indians, who have been securely entrenched in the league cellar.

Sunday night, Oklahoma City wall-ped the Dallas lead over second place Houston to 3 1/2 games. That's the narrowest margin Dallas has held since May 28.

Frank Baumann and Al Schroll combined to allow Dallas only five hits as Oklahoma City won the first game 7-2. In the nightcap Ted Bowfield gave only four out in two.

Patry Dalley, a big girl from San Antonio who hits the ball a long ways, found that out Saturday at Dallas when Sandra Haynie, just turned 14, won eight holes of the 26 2-6 to capture the Texas women's public links championship 1-up. She is the youngest person in history to win this tournament.

Only a few months ago Mrs. Mildred Neill, Austin veteran, took a 5 and 3 drubbing from the eighth-grader for the Austin city championship.

"Pardon me, ma'am," she then 13-year-old Sandra would say as she stepped up to blast a drive down the middle.

"Sandra was a perfect darling," said Mrs. Neill. "So polite and courteous with her 'Yes, ma'am's' and all the time beating my ears off."

Sandra has been playing golf only three years but she already is one of the top stars.

Her father likes to play golf and she's good at it, says her father, Jim Haynie, who followed the tournament trail in Texas for three summers himself.

Sandra's next big tournament is the Western Junior at Barrington, Ill., July 29. Then she'll play in the USGA Girls Junior at Denver, Aug. 12.

Villanova Is Favorite In NCAA Track Meet

AUSTIN (AP)—The Villanova track squad will arrive today to find itself a solid favorite to win the NCAA meet despite the fact that its Olympic champion Charley Jenkins couldn't place in a 4:7.5 quarter-mile at Houston.

Don Delaney showed plenty, however. He won both the mile and half-mile in one evening in good times, running the former in 4:06.4 and the half in 1:48.4. In the NCAA these events are 40 minutes apart and the Olympic 1,500-meter king might take them both.

Don Bowden, the California star who did 3:58.7 in the mile recently, isn't expected to run this distance in the NCAA although he is entered on the bill.

Another thing that made Villanova a strong bet for the NCAA title was the fact that its high jumper, Phil Reavis, leaped 6 feet 8 inches in the Meet of Champions at Houston Saturday night.

Track observers were inclined to discount Jenkins' poor showing at Houston and to think he would still be the man to beat in the NCAA 400. He has run a 48.4 this year.

Chances were considered nil of having the great sprinter, Dave Sims of Duke, here to contest his arch rival, Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian College. Sims, co-holder of the world's 100-yard dash record of 9.3, and undisputed holder of the 220 mark of 20.0, apparently isn't coming.

Chandler took both the 270-yard blast and a 3-under-6 on the 9-hole putting course.

TAUGHT BY THE CAT

O'Dell Learned His Pitching Lesson

By JOE MOOSHIL. CHICAGO (AP)—Remember Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, former St. Louis Cardinal southpaw who tied National League hitters in knots a decade ago?

The Chicago White Sox do after watching Billy (Digger) O'Dell of Baltimore chop up their American League lead yesterday.

O'Dell, a 24-year-old student of the Cat, now Baltimore's pitching coach, blanked the Sox 5-0 yesterday after the Orioles had whipped Chicago 7-5 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Brecheen, who won three World Series victories over the Boston Red Sox in 1946 while huriling for the Cardinals, is simply crazy over "his kid." He has been tutoring O'Dell and predicts "he'll be one of the best pitchers in this league as soon as he develops a change of pace."

O'Dell, making his first start of the season, limited the Sox to 6 hits, walked 2 and struck out 11. "I wasn't worried," he said later, "because I kept getting stronger as the game wore on."

"Sure, I've copied Brecheen's style. What's wrong with that? He and Paul Richards (Baltimore manager) taught me everything I know. I never dreamed I could throw a fast ball until they got hold of me."

Richards, claiming he had saved O'Dell "for the right time," said he had been reluctant to start him because "he has a lot to learn. He still has to develop a good change-up. Two of the Sox hits came on change-ups."

O'Dell was Baltimore's first bonus choice when he signed back in 1954. He came out of service last September but hurled his first major league victory against the White Sox in September 1954 when he defeated Virgil Trucks 2-1.

Hawks Defeat Midland, 7-6

The Big Spring Hawks came from behind in the ninth inning to nip Midland, 7-6, after losing to Abilene, 14-4, in a baseball double header played here Sunday afternoon.

Runs by E. Limon and H. Ramirez in the ninth brought the Hawks from behind in the afterpiece. An error and a sacrifice with one out broke up the contest.

Midland outthit the locals in the first game, 13-11. Sal Sarmiento collected two hits for Big Spring. It was all Abilene in the opener. The visitors scored three runs in the first and followed up with a seven-run second.

The Hawks managed eight hits. Ray Leos had two of them, as did N. Paradez.

Cincinnati's determined Redlegs held Brooklyn to only one run in 18 innings while taking two from the Dodgers 3-1 and 3-0. That gave Cincinnati a 1 1/2 - game lead in the National after a one - day drop from third place.

The Dodgers and Phillies are tied for second because the Phillies lost to Chicago 7-3 and had to settle for a 4-4 tie in the second game, called by the Sunday curfew in Philadelphia.

Abilene Standouts Visit SMU Campus

DALLAS (AP)—Glyn Gregory and Jimmy Carpenter, two of the most sought-after schoolboy athletes in Texas, are to visit Southern Methodist today to decide whether they want to come here for their college education.

Both are all-state football and baseball players from Abilene and both have said their biggest task is deciding whether to play professional baseball or play both baseball and football in college.

Gregory and Carpenter said they planned to visit Texas, Baylor, Rice and Oklahoma in addition to SMU.

Klan Gives Warning To Alabama Pastor

SYLACAUGA, Ala. (AP)—The family of a young minister who knocked over a Ku Klux Klan cross faced an ultimatum today—leave town or be bombed.

The Rev. Dan Whitsett yesterday said an unidentified caller warned the wife of the Rev. Newton Malony Saturday night that unless the Malonys and Whitsetts leave town within 10 days, "your house and child will be blown to bits."

The Malonys have a 1 1/2-year-old son.

Whitsett is pastor and Malony associate pastor of the First Methodist Church here. Whitsett, who has taken a stand for moderation in race relations, said his own family had received numerous threats in the past.

The minister said he planned to report the threat to police, probably today.

Crosses were burned near the Methodist and First Baptist churches of Sylacauga by robed Klansmen Saturday night. A KKK group also held a meeting in the high school football stadium which was addressed by Alvin Horn, head of Alabama members of the U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Malony was conducting a youth rally in the Methodist church when the cross was set up on a lawn across the street from his church. When the service ended he walked across the street and kicked over the cross. He also briefly blocked the departure of a car occupied by Klansmen.

Lizard Shows Up In Brooklyn Home

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn housewife glanced out her window yesterday and was astonished to see a four-foot lizard munching on bits of bread left in the back yard for the birds.

Mrs. Dorothy Jannotte's cry aroused her husband Salvatore. He ran to the cellar for a crab net.

Jannotte and his brother Larry bagged the ugly reptile after considerable maneuvering.

The lizard, black with white stripes, was taken to a Humane Society to await claiming by its owner.

Two Break Jail, Are Recaptured

STINNETT (AP)—Two youthful prisoners attacked a deputy and escaped from the Hutchison County jail last night, but they were recaptured less than an hour later when a highway patrolman spotted their stolen car near Dumas.

Hutchison County deputy sheriff John Campbell identified the prisoners as Harold Ray White, 19, being held on a robbery charge, and Elbert W. Dyer, 20, being held on a forgery charge.

Campbell said he was serving as jailer when the pair jumped him in a corridor after he had gone into the tank to get a four-gallon coffee pot and left the door open. He said they were armed with a knife.

After a brief tussle, they fled when a friend of Campbell's struck them with the coffee pot.

The prisoners ran out of the jail and stole a car owned by J. E.

Salk Vaccine Aide Kills Self

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Maj. Bryon L. Bennett, 49, a man little known to the public but who played a large part in developing the Salk anti-polio vaccine, shot himself to death yesterday.

Friends said Bennett, who had suffered from a long and painful hip disease which had greatly curtailed his activities, was despondent.

The Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) coroner's office listed his death as suicide.

Maj. Bennett, a retired Army scientist, was an authority on tropical medicine and polio immunization. Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of the vaccine bearing his name, said Bennett's contribution "made quietly but steadfastly, and his incomparable loyalty made possible much of the work of our team."

A native of Mt. Vernon, Tex., Maj. Bennett became associated with the Harvard Medical School in 1928. He was a member of medical research expeditions to Yucatan, Guatemala and Africa before joining the Army in 1941.

Van Fleet Favors U.S. Jurisdiction Over Men Abroad

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet (ret.) says American soldiers in Korea should be subject only to U.S. military jurisdiction whether they are on or off duty.

"Otherwise the soldier should not be sent overseas at all," he said.

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, spoke yesterday on the New York Times Youth Forum.

Kills Family Of Five, Then Self

TORONTO (AP)—Police said a 37-year-old electrician killed his wife, parents and two children yesterday because the parents and wife objected to his drinking and way of life.

After the multiple slaying James D. Sinclair rammed his car into a bridge abutment and killed himself. Friends said he was a moderate drinker.

Police said Sinclair apparently got up at 5 a.m. and took a 15-inch pipe from the cellar.

He bludgeoned his sleeping parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sinclair Sr., his 35-year-old wife Margaret and son Ian, 7. Then he strangled his 2-year-old daughter Joy with a necktie in her crib.

After washing and changing his clothes, Sinclair left in his car. He drove west on Queen Elizabeth Highway half a mile, turned around and headed at high speed into the concrete abutment.

Asian Influenza Reaches The U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A new kind of influenza which has been sweeping Asian countries has reached American shores with patients describing it in stronger language than doctors apparently use.

U. S. Public Health Service doctors, who examined passengers and crewmen arriving from Manila yesterday on the American President liner President Cleveland, agreed it was a "mild" variant of the A-type virus known in this country.

Dr. Edgar Norris, chief quarantine officer, said the 96 passengers and crewmen who had the new type during the 20-day voyage "didn't care whether they lived or died," and ran fevers as high as 104 degrees before the malady ran its course in three to five days.

Plumbers In Session

Track Washout From Floods

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Rain, unofficially estimated at five inches, washed out a 30-foot section of track 10 miles southeast of here yesterday and a Frisco passenger train was derailed. No serious injuries resulted.

Ten cars and the engine of the "Texas Special" went off the rails. The wreckage tore up 1,000 feet of track.

Eight persons were taken to hospitals but were expected to be released by tomorrow.

The train was en route from San Antonio, Tex., to St. Louis with 175 passengers. Uninjured passengers were put on another train.

F. J. Smith of Springfield, Mo., the engineer, said the train was traveling about 60 miles an hour when it hit the washout.

The injured included Mrs. Lara Allen, Sweetwater, Tex.

Harry Sees Grandson, And Receives Honorary Degree

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry Truman flies back to his Independence, Mo., home today. Mrs. Truman will stay on here for several more days.

Truman dropped by Doctors Hospital yesterday for a chat with his daughter Mrs. Clifton Daniel and another peek at his 5-day-old grandson. He had a present for the baby—a bib.

Earlier in the day, Truman delivered a commencement address at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass. He received an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

He said a "wave of hysteria" over Communist conspiracy in this country seems to be ebbing.

"We have seen a great wave of fear and panic about the domestic conspiracy of communism sweep over this country," said Truman.

"We have seen it threaten the right of Americans to say what they think — if it is unpopular.

"This wave of hysteria attacked the sense of fair play and decency which is the spirit of the Bill of Rights.

"Today, this wave of hysteria appears to be receding. Except where it is inflamed by racial feeling, it appears, for the time being to have run its course. But we must be ever on our guard against its reappearance."

Two Dead In Florida Storm

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two persons drowned, seven others were missing and five were rescued in a tropical storm that swept across Florida from St. Petersburg on the Gulf of Mexico to the Georgia line.

Perry, about 50 miles southeast of Tallahassee, was hardest hit as the storm knifed across the state and swept out to sea near Charleston, S. C.

Two hundred families were evacuated from their homes at Perry, drenched by 11.6 inches of rain.

The fringe of the storm churned up high tides in the St. Petersburg-Clearwater area. Several buildings along the beach were undermined and streets were flooded.
