Talos Missile Takes Off

A Talos missile gathers speed as it zooms from its launching platform at the White Sands, N. M., proving ground in this photograph released in Washington by the Department of Defense. The missile, which locks onto its target after being airborne, is capable of delivering a high explosive or nuclear warhead at the lowest and highest altitudes an airplane presently can fly, the Defense Department said. It also can be used against ship and shore targets. (AP Wirephoto).

Court Bars Transfer Of Girard To Japs

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — A federal judge today ordered the government not to turn over GI William S. Girard to Japan for trial.

U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarragh ruled that the proposed delivery of Girard to Japan for trial in the death of a Japanese woman would violate rights which are guaranteed by the Constitution.

Since Girard remains a member of the U. S. armed forces in Japan, McGarragh held, he may be prosecuted in court-martial proceedings.

McGarragh refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus which would have required the soldier to be brought home for further legal proceedings.

But he treated the complaint as a petition for an injunction and held the proposed delivery of Girard to Japan would be a violation of his constitutional rights.

Girard, an Army specialist 3rd class from Ottawa, Ill., has been accused of manslaughter by Japanese authorities. The case arose from the death of a Japanese woman on a firing range last January.

Cool Front Brings More Rainfall, Hail

A cool front that spread torrential rains and crop-destroying hail over the South Plains Monday night suddenly picked up speed and raced out of Texas Tuesday.

The front dropped 1.46 inches of rain in the Wichita Falls area before dawn as it gained momentum. Three tornadoes were sighted aloft in West Texas Monday night. The front had lingered in West Texas since early Sunday.

The Weather Bureau said its sudden push into Louisiana and the Gulf eased the threat of additional damaging thunderstorms in Texas.

Up to 5 inches of rain flooded roads Monday night between Plainview and Kress, 13 miles north. A sudden downpour left 4 inches in 20 minutes north of Plainview.

Lightning damaged two homes at Dimmitt, about 30 miles southwest of Amarillo and hail pounded cotton and wheat fields in the Lubbock area.

Ruth McKenzié, correspondent for the Lubbock Avalanche, reported hail "halfway up to your knees in some wheat fields" in a triangular area of rich farm land 60 to 90 miles northwest of Lubbock. She said it piled up 6 to 8 inches deep starting 8 miles north of Olton and ranged over a several-mile swath northwest to Dimmitt.

Two twisters were sighted near Muleshoe, 68 miles northwest of Lubbock. Another was seen near Olton.

Rain fell in a wide section of Northwest Texas Tuesday. Precipitation showers were reported at Wichita Falls, Childress and Abilene.

Safeway Draws Maximum Fine

FORT WORTH (AP) — Safeway Stores Inc. was fined $105,000 in Federal Court today for violation of federal anti-trust laws. Two officials of the concern were given one-year probationary prison terms and fined.

Judge Joe Estes assessed the largest fine ever levied in the history of federal anti-trust cases, said Miss Margaret Brass, who headed the government prosecution for the Department of Justice's anti-trust division.

Lingan Warren of Hillsborough, Calif., and New York was fined $75,000 and given two one-year prison sentences for a period of one year each, to run concurrently.

Warren is a former president of the concern and is now a consultant with a percentage of the chain's profits.

Earl Cliff of Dallas, manager of the Dallas Division of Safeway, was fined $7,500 and given a one-year sentence for a period of one year.

The grocery chain, second largest in the nation, was given the maximum fines under both the Sherman and Robinson-Patman anti-trust laws.

The government charged Safeway engaged in a vicious, price-cutting war to drive competitors out of business in the two states.

WACO (AP) — Mrs. W. L. Tillie Rogers, 42, shot twice yesterday while hanging out clothes in her back yard, staggered into the garage and died.

Rogers' former wife, Mrs. Thelma Rogers, 50, a nurse aid at a Waco hospital, was charged with murder.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Burner Walker said Mrs. Tillie Rogers was killed by a pistol of about .25 caliber.

Walker said Mrs. Thelma Rogers made a statement.

Woman Is Slain, Another Charged

The Atomic Energy Commission said "light fallout" from the blast forced evacuation of the test site control point.

The device—detonated from a balloon hung 500 feet above the desert floor—lit up the dawn sky. Five minutes later the billowing mushroom cloud, rising almost six miles, began to sift radioactive contamination toward the control point.

The order to evacuate was given. In 30 minutes the point was empty. It is some eight miles from Ground Zero.

An AEC spokesman said the upper part of the cloud headed north of due east at 30,000 feet. The stem drifted north of the west at 20,000 feet.

More than 50 diagnostic tests were conducted as a part of this morning's test. Live pigs and mice—with recording instruments on their bodies—were used in studies of radiation.

The blast today was estimated by observers as the same size as the 10 kiloton shot which launched the test series earlier this month. A kiloton is the equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT.

The last two shots were much smaller—perhaps two kilotons.

No troops took part in today's test, although more than 30 military planes criss-crossed the skies nearby on support missions and indoctrination flights.

Los Angeles reported today's shot—clearly visible—appeared as a brief, blue flash.

In Las Vegas it seemed very bright but of briefer duration than some previous major detonations.

Observers on Angel's Peak, closest spot newsmen were allowed to the test area, said that from 15 miles away it appeared that the explosion kicked up dust on the floor of the desert.

Saturday To Be 'Longest' Day

Saturday, according to the books, will be the longest day in the year.

Assuming that the clouds are gone on that date, the sun will show up at 5:39 a. m. and remain visible in the heavens until 7:56 p. m. — providing 14 hours and 17 minutes of daylight.

June 22 is the date of the summer solstice — the date when the sun "stands still" momentarily as it reaches its point farthest north from the equator. Officially, too, the date marks the advent of the summer season.

Actually there is little difference in the length of the days at this period. The sun, in reality, will remain up one minute later from June 26 through July 2, than it will on June 22. However, it also will rise later on those dates.

Driver Seriously Injured When Car Hits Gravel Pile

Richard L. Hardy, who lives at the King Apartments and is an employee of the Texas Electric Service Company, is in the Big Spring hospital in a serious condition as result of a car accident sometime shortly before dawn on Tuesday.

Texas Highway Patrol officers said that Hardy, alone in a 1952 Plymouth, was travelling on the highway 10.3 miles west of Big Spring.

His car rammed into a stack of gravel piled beside the road. The car, the patrol said, soared into the air at impact and travelled for 14 steps before it touched ground.

Hardy, his arm broken, an ankle fractured and suffering undetermined injuries to his chest, was thrown from the wrecked car. He lay at the scene from the time of the accident until construction crews came to the job.

He was brought to the hospital in a River ambulance.

The hospital reported that x-ray examination of the injured man was still in progress at 11 a. m. and that full extent of his injuries was not yet ascertained.

Dahse Search Continues; No Encouragement

The ordeal of waiting continued here today for the family and friends of C. A. Dahse.

Not since he left here late Friday afternoon in his light private plane has there been any word of Dahse, 32-year-old civic worker and business associate of his father in a transport company.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, had received no encouraging word from along the vast line of search between here and Tulsa, Okla. Miss Ann McLaughlin, whom Dahse had planned to visit in Tulsa during the weekend, came here to be with the Smiths.

The Associated Press in Dallas said shortly before noon Tuesday that there was no report other than that the search was continuing. Headquarters for the aerial hunt were shifted Monday afternoon from Wichita Falls to Duncan, Okla.

Civil Air Patrol officials said they felt that the Texas leg of Dahse's projected journey had been combed thoroughly. Although failure to make radio contact with Wichita Falls or other Texas points led some to think that the light-green Piper-Super-Cub had been forced down on the south end of the trip, there appeared a growing feeling that the plane had been lost somewhere in Oklahoma.

The search was complicated not only by the color of the plane, which blended almost perfectly into the landscape but by the possibility that Dahse could have varied his course extensively because of thunderstorms ahead in Oklahoma.

It was established Monday that Dahse definitely was on course after leaving Hamilton Field, Mo., on Friday. W. G. Anderson, who lives about four miles northeast of the field, said that she saw the green Cub fly over at a low altitude shortly before 8 p. m. Friday. It was bearing northeast and was flying on the south side and parallel to the Snyder highway. From that point on, however, it was as though the plane had been swallowed up.

Several searchers from Big Spring continued plying the skies in the area all day Monday, and out again Tuesday, having flown almost constantly since Saturday afternoon when it first became apparent that Dahse was missing. Clayton Bette and Gene Nabors were to fly as were Clyde McMahon and others. Coaden had a plane in action all Monday and Webb AFB sent out its helicopter. They all came back with the same empty story.

Personal feelings against capital punishment and circumstantial evidence slowed proceedings.

The man selected is W. W. Greer of Irving, airplane mechanic and father of three.

Eight veniremen were questioned during the morning of the trial of the Houston contractor-photographer charged with the auto bomb slaying of his wealthy former mother-in-law.

The defense excused four prospective jurors and the state two. Two women were disqualified. One said she had formed an opinion. Other veniremen said they could not conscientiously vote for capital punishment.

Need Combines

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Urgent calls for more combines in all areas were received yesterday by the Oklahoma State Employment Service as farmers worked full steam combining their wheat.

Poles, Russians In Secret Parley

BERLIN (AP) — Polish leader Wladyslaw Gomulka today opened talks with East Germany's Stalinist rulers aimed at working out a cease-fire in one of the bitterest feuds inside the Soviet bloc.

Top party and government delegations of the two Red nations opened a three-day secret conference shortly after the Polish visitor got a red-carpet welcome at East Berlin's railway station.

Scientists Chased By Nuclear Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today asked Congress for an extra $64,701,500, including an additional $34,200,000 for construction and launching of this country's earth-circling space satellite.

The request for the supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year starting July also includes 15 million dollars for the President's disaster-relief fund. Congress already has provided 10 million dollars, but the White House said a big increase in disasters such as typhoons and floods since April makes it necessary that more money be provided.

The President also asked for $2,200,000 for construction of a United States exhibit in Moscow's Gorki Park.

White House press secretary James C. Haggerty said negotiations with Russia have not been completed, but added that it looks as though agreement will be reached.

Third Juror Picked In Washburn Trial

DALLAS (AP) — A third juror was qualified today in the murder trial of Harry Washburn.

Personal feelings against capital punishment and circumstantial evidence slowed proceedings.

The President also asked for $2,200,000 for construction of a United States exhibit in Moscow's Gorki Park.

White House press secretary James C. Haggerty said negotiations with Russia have not been completed, but added that it looks as though agreement will be reached.

Sinclair Refining Boosting Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Sinclair Refining Co. today announced it will increase its prices two-tenths of a cent a gallon on all grades of gasoline, kerosene and distillate fuels, effective June 21.

It will also boost residual fuels 5 cents a barrel. The boost in gasoline, kerosene, distillate fuels and residual fuels apply to the company's 36-state marketing area.

Sinclair said the price boosts were "an essential step to recover the added labor costs" arising out of its new agreement with the AFL-CIO Oil, Chemical & Atomic Workers International Union.

Old-Time Mobster Dies In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP) — Claude Belton, 66, an old-time mobster who helped terrorize the Southwest as a member of the Clyde and Buck Barrow gang, died yesterday.

Neither of his two relatives who could be located would claim the body. Belton's local police record book took up five pages with arrests dating back to a 1918 turkey theft.

Justice of Peace Jim Boorman said Belton died of heart disease and excessive use of narcotics. He also had cancer.

Belton had been convicted eight times. The FBI listed 36 arrests on his records.

Southerners Lose All Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today passed President Eisenhower's civil rights bill. The vote was 286-126.

Just before final passage, the House defeated, 251-158, the Southern bloc's fourth and final attempt to drive a jury trial amendment into the measure. The vote insured passage of the bill essentially in the form Eisenhower recommended and the Republican, Northern and Western Democrats backing such legislation agreed on.

Voting for the jury trial amendment were 45 Republicans and 113 Democrats. Against it were 139 Republicans and 112 Democrats.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where a bipartisan coalition is trying to rush it on to the calendar for action, thus depriving Southern senators of one of their opportunities to filibuster.

Bakers' Chief Won't Use The 5th Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — James G. Cross, president of the Bakers Union, agreed today not to take the Fifth Amendment on any questions put to him by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. In return, Cross was given the right to cross-examine another witness.

This understanding with Cross was reached after Gilbert Mann, 71, testified he was forced in 1955 to resign as president of Bakers Union Local 100 in Chicago and left destitute after 25 years of work for the union.

Abraham Harris, counsel for Cross, submitted a list of four questions he said should be asked of Mann to "be fair" to his client.

This brought on a sharp exchange between Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) and Harris which was climaxed by Cross giving the senators assurance that he had "no intention" of taking the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering any questions.

Funds Asked For Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today asked Congress for an extra $64,701,500, including an additional $34,200,000 for construction and launching of this country's earth-circling space satellite.

Humphrey Claims Monetary Policy Brought Prosperity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey today credited the administration's fiscal policies with causing unparalleled prosperity. But he said prosperity brings problems.

"I acknowledge imperfections in our accomplishments," Humphrey told the Senate Finance Committee, "but I entertain no doubt as to the propriety of our goals or the wisdom of our policies."

The secretary, whose "tight money" policies have drawn considerable congressional fire, said it is "nonsense" to allege that "higher interest rates benefit only the bankers."

"Bankers are brokers of money," he declared in an 11,000-word statement prepared for the opening session of a broad committee study of the nation's financial condition. "When they receive more, they pay more."

Higher interest rates paid by banks to their depositors encourage savings, he said, and those savings are converted to investment capital investment which means more jobs.

Humphrey, whose resignation as Treasury secretary is expected to become effective in mid-July, told the committee the Eisenhower administration has a record of "a prospering America with new high levels of employment, rising income, and increasing purchasing power."

"It is a record of more and better jobs, more homes, more cars, more leisure and more recreation," he said. "It is a period of unequalled prosperity with both the blessings and the problems of such a period."

Humphrey said "this growing prosperity has extended to nearly all segments of our society except the farmer."

The biggest single portion of the debt interest, he said, went to individuals, either in the form of cash payments or accumulated interest to the 40 million holders of savings bonds.

"Millions of Americans," he declared, "are benefiting from these higher interest rates."

A policy of making additional bank credit available, Humphrey said, "would not put any more people to work—it would merely provide additional demand in excess of the supply of both labor and goods."

30-YEAR CHURCH PLEDGE GOOD, CAN GO TO NEW SANCTUARY

Thirty years ago Ward Gibson made a pledge to the First Presbyterian Church Building Fund. Today he paid it.

At that, Gibson may be premature rather than laudatory, for Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, minister of the church, said it would be applied to a fund which will be used in a campaign when the church undertakes to build a new sanctuary.

Gibson, who now lives in Osborne, Kans., said he was baptized into the church here in 1922 or 1923. When the building campaign came along, he pledged $75. Shortly thereafter he moved away, and then the depression struck.

"By the time I recovered World War II came along and I lost my business while in service," he wrote. Afterwards, there were other appeals to help various denominational building causes, but "in all the years it was in my mind as an obligation that someday I would pay," he said. Gibson enclosed his check for $75.

Toastmistress Club May Be Organized Here

Big Spring and Webb Air Force Base Toastmistress Clubs last night offered to assist in the organization of a Toastmistress Club here.

The proposal was initiated at a "ladies night" session of the Big Spring club after wives of several members expressed interest in such a project. Toastmistresses voted to appoint a committee to study possibilities of forming a Toastmistress Club. Maj. Edward Schleiter, president of the Webb club and area governor-elect for Toastmasters, promised his group would cooperate.

Plans call for appointment of a 10-member committee, with the presidents and two members from each club and four women. They will report their findings in 30 days.

About 20 persons attended last night's session of the Big Spring club. Guests included Maj. and Mrs. Schleiter and wives of members.

Allen Orr served as topic master for the club's program broadcast over KBST. Toastmaster of the evening was Jerry Allen and Dr. Robert Huthless served as a chief speech evaluator. Critics were George Larsen, Jim Crawford, Maj. Schleiter and J. B. Apple.

Rev. Wayne Dittloff was voted best speaker of the evening and Jerry Worthly won the trophy as the most improved speaker.

Rev. Dittloff extended the welcome and outlined objectives of the club where, he said, members work together to try to improve the speaking ability of each. Paul Meek told wives of members how they can help toastmasters achieve their goals.

V. A. Whittington also spoke on purposes of the club and worthy told "what a Toastmistress Club can expect from Toastmasters."

Mrs. Schleiter, a former Toastmistress, also spoke briefly.

Mrs. Schleiter also reported on the zone meeting held recently in Oklahoma City and discussed plans for the Toastmasters International meeting to be held in Dallas in July. He said several members of the Webb club plan to attend the Dallas convention.

Ex-Official Dies

AUSTIN (U.S.) — Gus Urbantke, 96, former superintendent of the Texas School for the Deaf, died yesterday.

Woman Taken In Custody, Found With Missing Baby

SWEETWATER (U.S.) — A woman and an 18-month-old Lubbock boy who had been missing for 12 hours were picked up by police today at a bus station here.

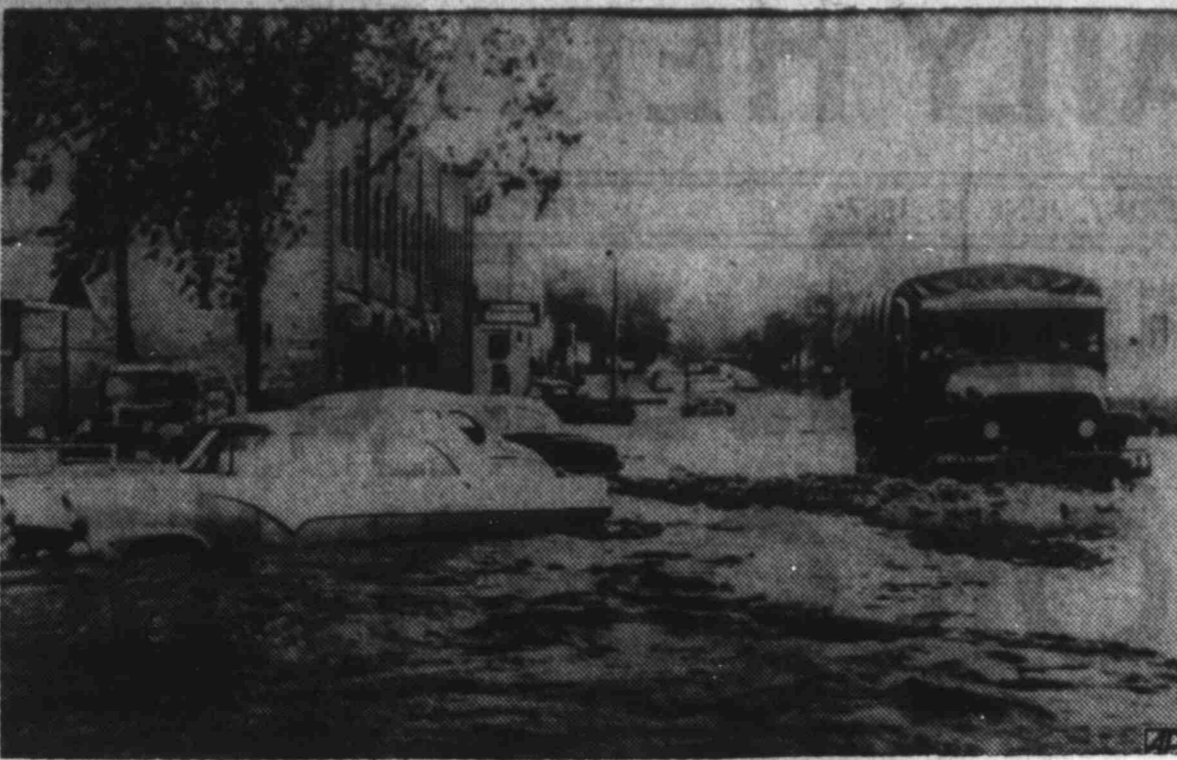

The boy, Lowell Russell McDonald, wandered away from his mother yesterday while she shopped in a Lubbock variety store, setting off a 12-hour search.

Patrolman Charlie Henderson said the boy was identified by his father, L. R. McDonald, who came here with two FBI agents.

The woman identified herself to police as Mrs. Edna Wilson, of 2308 9th St., Lubbock but declined to make any further statement. She was returned to Lubbock.

Sweetwater police identified her as a divorcee, 33, who had worked in the Lubbock store until recently.

Henderson said the boy and his father were returning to Lubbock with the FBI agents and the woman. No charges had been filed.

Floods Ravage Minnesota Town

Muddy flood waters from the Redwood River run down a street in Marshall, Minn., stranding autos along the way. A National Guard truck plows through the water during rescue operations. At least 200 families were driven from their homes. (AP Wirephoto).

Eastern Half Of Nation Sweltering

Most of the nation's eastern half awoke to another torrid day today after sizzling temperatures that set records yesterday.

At the edge of the swelterbelt, where hot and cold air clashed, there were severe thunderstorms and some tornado activity.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago said the mercury would nestle in the 90s for another day of hot and humid weather.

It was because of the torrid temperatures yesterday that Chicago and New York suffered power shortages. This occurred in the rush for air-conditioning relief.

Records temperatures were set for June 17 at Philadelphia, where it reached 98, Newark, N.J., Airport, 97, and New York City, 93. Chicago's 96 equalled the high for the date, established in 1887.

Forecasters said temperatures in the 90s would be repeated in the eastern half of the country.

The demarcation line of cool and warm air in the central portion of the country was peppered with thundershowers, which occurred from the Texas Panhandle northward through the Central Plains and the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Swollen rivers and creeks, spilling from banks and gushing forth great hills of surging water, were fed by torrential rains over the weekend. Southwestern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota counted at least five deaths due to flooding. Communities in the stricken areas braced for further outpourings as tributaries poured new water into the Redwood River in Minnesota and the Big Sioux in South Dakota.

Farther south, in Hawarden and Akron, Iowa, farmers were warned to move stock from lowlands onto higher ground.

In Nebraska, fresh rain loaded the Blue River watershed and the river was rising at the rate of 2 to 3 inches an hour between Seward and Beatrice.

Funnel clouds were sighted in central Iowa late yesterday. One touched ground at Marshalltown, where it caused damage estimated at $10,000. There were no injuries reported.

7 Of Family Hurt In Wreck

COLORADO CITY — The Morton family of Santa Paula, Calif., was hospitalized in the Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City Monday after an abrupt ending to a vacation trip about 15 miles west of here on Highway 90.

Members of the family were injured when a tire blew and Ocie Morton lost control of his automobile and it overturned. Morton, 20, has a shoulder injury. Mrs. Morton, 29, a neck injury, Bobby, 12, a head injury, Linda and Pat, both 9, are "shaken up." Betty, 6, has a head laceration, Marie 4, is shaken up. The baby, Tommy 4 months old, isn't hurt at all, and is sleeping off in a crib at the Root Hospital.

According to hospital authorities none of the group is seriously injured.

Kinseys Back From Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kinsey have returned from Sweetwater where they attended the funeral for his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Kinsey, 87, who died Saturday.

Mrs. Kinsey, who had made her home for many years in Sweetwater with two daughters, Mrs. H. B. Shook and Mrs. W. T. Tucker, suffered a broken hip a month ago and became seriously ill with it in the past week. Two years ago she had sustained another hip fracture but recovered.

Officiating were the Rev. A. L. Patterson, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist Church, and Dr. R. V. Sarrells, pastor of the First Primitive Baptist Church. Burial was in the Sweetwater Cemetery. Pallbearers were Dub Pettus, Roland Kinsey, W. M. Mullens, Eddie Hunt, Marvin Sewell and Mark Gossett.

Mrs. Kinsey was born Mary E. Mullens on Nov. 5, 1869, in Birmingham, Ala. She was married to J. D. Kinsey in Hot Springs, Ark. on May 11, 1896, and he died in Arkansas on Jan. 6, 1926.

Other than Mrs. Shook and Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Kinsey leaves a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Diggs, Okolona, Ark.; a son, Jim Kinsey, Big Spring; two stepdaughters, Mrs. S. C. Still, Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. J. M. Echols, Compton, Calif.; three brothers, two sisters; 15 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

W. L. Cole Rites Set

Funeral services for Walter Lee Cole, 63, will be conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday in the Birdwell Lane Baptist Church, 15th and A St.

Mr. Cole died Sunday afternoon of a heart attack. Completion of funeral arrangements had been pending arrival of a son, Woodrow Cole, from Bixby, Okla.

Elder E. G. Newcorner is officiating. He will be assisted by Elder Harry Robertson of Brownwood and Elder John Martin of Knott.

Interment under direction of River Funeral Home will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Elks Slate Party For VA Patients

A party sponsored by the BPO Elks of Big Spring will be held tonight at 7 o'clock for patients of the VA Hospital.

The Elks will provide entertainment and refreshments for the patients as a part of the regular Tuesday night parties scheduled by the Special Services division of the hospital.

Sutton Girl Is Remembered As Ex-Resident

Mrs. George Kennedy believes that her daughter, Mrs. Van Evera of New York City, has shed some light on who is Julie Sutton.

Miss Sutton appeared recently on a Lawrence Welk TV talent show and gave Big Spring as her home. Mrs. Evera, who saw the program in New York, said that she understood that the young woman gave her birth place as Big Spring. The Kennedy's remembered a Sutton family which lived on the northern part of the Harry Wilkinson place for about two years, and Mrs. Evera was convinced that one of the girls in that family was Julie Sutton.

Woman Reports Loss Of Money

About $30 was taken from a Northside resident early today.

Dorris Thomas told officers that she either lost the money or it was taken from her pocket. The loss was in the 300 block of NW 3rd.

A pair of glasses and a pair of boots were taken from A. Francis, 302 N. Gregg, but a man was arrested in possession of the articles this morning.

Shower Cools City, Dampens Mitchell Co.

A sudden shower shortly after 1:30 a.m. Tuesday sprinkled .02 inch rain on Big Spring. The showers were fairly general over the county but no reports of any moisture in excess of the .02 measured at the U.S. Experiment Station were received.

A gusty dust storm ushered in the momentary rain. The storm built up all through Monday evening with cloud banks hovering steadily in the north and west. The moisture of Tuesday morning brought the month's rainfall in Big Spring to 1.63.

Texas Electric Service Company reported that Colorado City had .71 inch rain and Snyder .35. Eskola measured .10.

The shower tempered the temperature sharply and Tuesday morning was almost chill. Partly cloudy skies were still prevailing at 11 a.m.

Rains in the vicinity of Colorado City were much heavier than in other areas reporting. The shower at the town proper brought close to three quarters of an inch while at Seven Wells in the south of the county, 1.7 inches were measured. Burford, in the northern part of the county, had only .50 inch.

Local Youth Wins Honor Privileges At Boys Ranch

Bobby Moore of Big Spring has earned the distinction of honor privileges at Boys Ranch of West Texas.

Jack C. Kimble, president of the Big Spring Optimist Club, which helped Bobby get into Boys Ranch, said he had been advised of the lad's achievement. Morris H. Craig, superintendent, said that only a few boys earned the rating that has come to Bobby.

His permanent duty assignment in the kitchen and he seems to enjoy his work quite well, said Craig. He has done well in the past eight months and is gaining weight steadily. He is liked by other boys and the staff, Craig added.

Assisting Boys Ranch, on Spring Creek west of San Angelo, is one of the projects of the Big Spring Optimist Club.

City Cleanup Drive To Get Fresh Start

After being delayed six weeks because of heavy rains and extensive flooding, the city will resume its trash hauling Wednesday morning.

The trash runs will be as planned for the annual Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Week. The week was originally slated for May 6-11, but the city had to postpone its pickups because of work cleaning streets. At the time rains started, the city had only made part of one route.

The current drive will begin at the first, however, and continue throughout the entire city. R. V. Foresyth, street superintendent, said.

The routes:
Route 1 (Wednesday and Thursday) will consist of all streets and alleys west of Ayfford to the city limits and south to Eleventh, and all areas north of the railroad to the city limits.
Route 2 (Friday, Saturday, and Monday) will be all streets and alleys south of First and west of Goliad to Ayfford including the Parkhill and Edwards Heights Additions; and Route 3 (next Tuesday, June 26) will encompass all streets and alleys south of First from Goliad eastward.

Foresyth urged citizens to have their trash piled where the garbage is usually picked up. Any type of trash or rubbish will be picked up in this drive. Nothing will be overlooked that is piled in the right place, he added.

Foresyth also asked citizens not to call the city hall if their trash is not picked up the first day in their area. The entire area will be covered before moving to another section of town, but naturally all parts of each route can not be covered in one day.

Lamesan Dies On Way To Hospital

LAMESA — Horace C. Choate, 53, died en route to a Lamesa hospital this morning after suffering a heart attack at a gravel pit here Tuesday morning shortly after birth.

Arrangements are pending at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Besides the parents, who reside at Hitching Post Trailer Courts, survivors include the grandparent, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Burford, Canon City, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Pampa.

Funeral Pending For Terry Lee Burford

Terry Lee Burford, infant daughter of A-IC and Mrs. Billy Rodrick Burford, died in a hospital here Tuesday morning shortly after birth.

Arrangements are pending at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Besides the parents, who reside at Hitching Post Trailer Courts, survivors include the grandparent, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Burford, Canon City, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Pampa.

Pleads Not Guilty To Beer Complaint

Jose Angelo Louvera, charged with transporting beer in a dry precinct in Howard County, pleaded not guilty in Howard County court Tuesday morning.

Judge R. H. Weaver set his bond at $500.

The charges were filed on complaints signed by the Texas Liquor Control Board agents.

City Cleanup Drive To Get Fresh Start

After being delayed six weeks because of heavy rains and extensive flooding, the city will resume its trash hauling Wednesday morning.

The trash runs will be as planned for the annual Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Week. The week was originally slated for May 6-11, but the city had to postpone its pickups because of work cleaning streets. At the time rains started, the city had only made part of one route.

The current drive will begin at the first, however, and continue throughout the entire city. R. V. Foresyth, street superintendent, said.

The routes:
Route 1 (Wednesday and Thursday) will consist of all streets and alleys west of Ayfford to the city limits and south to Eleventh, and all areas north of the railroad to the city limits.
Route 2 (Friday, Saturday, and Monday) will be all streets and alleys south of First and west of Goliad to Ayfford including the Parkhill and Edwards Heights Additions; and Route 3 (next Tuesday, June 26) will encompass all streets and alleys south of First from Goliad eastward.

Foresyth urged citizens to have their trash piled where the garbage is usually picked up. Any type of trash or rubbish will be picked up in this drive. Nothing will be overlooked that is piled in the right place, he added.

Foresyth also asked citizens not to call the city hall if their trash is not picked up the first day in their area. The entire area will be covered before moving to another section of town, but naturally all parts of each route can not be covered in one day.

Court Assailed For Communist Ruling

WASHINGTON (U.S.) — Two new Supreme Court decisions in the field of communism today set off gregarious criticism of recent rulings of the high court.

Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) said the 1940 anti-subversive law which bears his name is "perfectly clear" in its intent. He suggested there is no use trying to amend the statute so long as the law turns into "whatever the president says." Smith said he is afraid the court has "put us back where we were 20 years ago" in the legal battle against Communists.

Smith and Jenner referred in interviews to yesterday's Supreme Court decision overturning, 6-1, Smith Act convictions of 14 California Communists. Five were freed and new trials ordered for the other nine.

In a second ruling, the court struck down the contempt of Congress conviction of labor official John T. Watkins. Here too the vote was 6-1, with Justice Clark dissenting in both decisions.

Watkins had been convicted of contempt of Congress for refusing to tell a House Un-American Activities Subcommittee in 1954 the names of former Communist associates. Watkins said he was not a Communist but he acknowledged having worked with some Communists in the labor movement.

"The essential distinction," he said, "is that those to whom the advocacy is addressed must be urged to do something, now or in the future, rather than merely to believe in something."

Smith said bitterly, "I do not recall any case decided by the present court that the Communists have lost."

Jenner, senior Republican member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, said: "It seems to me that the opinion means the Communists can go where they want to go and do what they want to do. It seems a 'go' signal for them to infiltrate the fields of teaching in our schools and to stage a comeback among labor unions."

Rep. Willis (D-La.), a member of the House Judiciary and Un-American Activities committees, said the ruling appears to throw "more future roadblocks in carrying out the intent of Congress as expressed in the Smith Act."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a longtime member of the Un-American Activities Committee, said he is "completely out of sympathy with the whole trend of recent Supreme Court decisions."

Installation Set By Optimists

Installation of new officers of the Big Spring Optimist Club has been set for the evening of June 27.

A barbecue will mark the occasion at the City Park, said Jack C. Kimble, president.

John Grimland, Midland, governor of District No. 7 of Optimist International, will preside over the installation. He will be assisted by John Haswell, Midland, secretary of the district, and Carl Herrod, Snyder, the lieutenant governor for Zone F.

Mervil Click will be installed as president, succeeding Kimble. Other officers will be W. D. Peters and J. W. Smith, vice presidents; and L. D. Harris, secretary-treasurer. Kimble will become chairman of the board of directors.

The meeting will be held in the classroom of the police building at 7:30 p.m., Loyd said. The change was made since several of the officers would be out of town on the other date.

On the program will be election of a chairman for the awards committee to succeed Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Loyd said.

CTC Changes Meeting Date

The Citizens Traffic Commission meeting regularly scheduled for the last Thursday of the month has been moved up to this Friday night, Larson Lloyd, chairman, announced.

The meeting will be held in the classroom of the police building at 7:30 p.m., Loyd said. The change was made since several of the officers would be out of town on the other date.

On the program will be election of a chairman for the awards committee to succeed Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Loyd said.

CIVIL RIGHTS

ratification of the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said he proposed to return to legislative session after the Senate acts on the treaty, but hours of speeches were in prospect.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), an opponent of the civil rights bill, asked Nixon if he was correct in assuming that the civil rights bill could not be taken up while the Senate was in executive session. "That is correct," Nixon said. "I'm glad to be sustained at least on that." Russell said, his voice heavy with irony.

Knowland's strategy will be to keep the House bill from going to the Senate committee, and try to place the measure directly on the Senate calendar for debate a bit later.

Four Sentenced On DWI Convictions At C-City

COLORADO CITY — Shelby Shannon, about 40, of Colorado City, was found guilty of driving while intoxicated, second offense, and sentenced to six months in the Mitchell County jail by a 32nd District Court jury Monday. Shannon had pleaded not guilty and had acted as his own attorney. The Colorado City police charged Shannon with driving while intoxicated following his arrest west of Colorado City on May 12.

Three pleas of "guilty" on DWI second offense were accepted by Judge A. S. Mauzey, Richard Her-

Spraberry Wildcat Completed In Northeast Borden County

An isolated Spraberry wildcat has been completed in the northeastern part of Borden County for a small potential.

It is Sinclair No. 1 Susie Koonsman, practically on the Garza County line 13 miles northeast of Gail. Nearest Spraberry production is about 25 miles to the southwest. On 24-hour potential, it produced 89 barrels of oil and 21 barrels of water.

Three new wells have been added in two fields of Howard County, two in the Iatan East Howard field and one in Howard-Glasscock pool.

Borden

Sinclair No. 1 Koonsman pumped 89 barrels of oil and 21 barrels of water on 24-hour potential. It is a Spraberry discovery 13 miles northeast of Gail, 1,980 feet from south and east lines, 27-2, T&NO Survey. It produced from perforations from 5,230-57, 5,254-64, and 5,323-30 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 176-1.

The well was originally drilled as an Ellenburger test, but the zone was found barren, and operator plugged back to try the Spraberry.

Tidewater No. 1-B Clayton-Johnson was still in the process of moving off rotary today. The wildcat is 10 miles southwest of Gail, 660 feet from south and 2,019 feet from east lines, 9-32-4n, T&P Survey. It is perforated in the Canyon.

A wildcat 14 miles southwest of Gail, Texas No. 1-E Clayton waited on cement to set nine and five-eighths-inch casing at 3,120 feet in lines today. Location of the try is 8,083 feet from north and 519 feet from east lines, 44-32-4n, T&P Survey.

More Gambblings Raids Staged In Galveston

GALVESTON (AP)—Squads of law officers, led by Texas Rangers, raided six business firms here last night, seizing or destroying 62 gambling devices.

The officers, carrying 10-pound sledge hammers, raided two music companies, a warehouse, a novelty firm, night club and a newsstand.

The raids were another round of Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's anti-gambling campaign.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Cecil Rotsch accompanied the raiding parties with search warrants. Rotsch has headed Wilson's forces in the campaign to close down gambling and prostitution along the Gulf Coast. Twenty-six gambling devices were destroyed on the spot.

Police destroyed 375 slot machines last Friday in a raid at Ft. Travis on Bolivar Peninsula. The fort now is under private operation.

Rotsch said at the M and M Music Co., where 21 slot and 3 pinball machines were seized, he found a photostatic copy of the transfer of the Ft. Travis Property to M and M Corp.

Texas Rangers Johnny Kleveland and Eddie Oliver led local officers headed by Police Chief O. E. (Gene) Henson and Police Commissioner Walter Rourke Jr.

Teen-Ager Slashes Sweetheart's Throat

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The adopted teen-age son of a university professor told police he slashed his sweetheart's throat last night because she ended their romance.

Sandra Jean Maywald, 17, died seconds after the attack. Her nude body, almost decapitated by deep knife wounds, was found in the front bedroom of her home, partially covered by a bedspread.

Homicide Lt. W. C. Doss said Robert Edward Freeman, also 17, a University of Houston science student, telephoned police headquarters and told him: "I have just killed my girl friend Sandy. Please send me some help. I'm afraid of the neighbors."

Doss said he and Detective John Thornton found the boy sitting on a couch in the living room when they arrived, wearing blood-stained blue jeans and T-shirt. He handed them a bone-handled pocket knife and showed them the body.

Freeman was charged with murder and jailed after making a written statement admitting the slaying.

Lt. Doss said the youth told him he had been going with Sandra, a dark-haired June graduate of San Jacinto High School, since last October, but when he called for a Saturday date yesterday afternoon, she told him she was ending their friendship.

"She had broke off with me several times but I had always been able to talk her out of it," Doss quoted him as saying. The officer said the youth told him he went to the house last night to try and make her change her mind.

Patrolman W. C. Williams said the youth told him Sandra was wearing a bathing suit at the time of the attack, but he stripped it off later.

Dr. Jarred Clark, Harris County medical examiner, said his investigation showed the girl had not been sexually molested.

Ike Knew Of Decision In Girard Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has told U. S. District Court here that the government's decision to permit soldier William S. Girard to be tried by Japan "was discussed with and confirmed with" President Eisenhower.

In an affidavit filed with the court yesterday, Dulles opposed a bid by counsel for Girard to have the soldier's case returned to U. S. jurisdiction.

Girard, of Ottawa, Ill., is charged with fatally shooting a Japanese woman who was collecting scrap on a firing range in Japan. Girard, who was on guard duty there, has said the shooting was accidental.

Dulles said he and Secretary of Defense Wilson decided Girard should be tried by Japanese courts "in full accord" with procedures under agreements with the Japanese government.

In New York, Girard's lawyers Joseph S. Robinson and Earl J. Carroll, termed Dulles' move a "brazen attempt" to influence the court.

Any reversal of position by this country Dulles said, "will in my judgment give rise to serious difficulties in our relations with the government and people of Japan and may involve risk of injury to United States personnel located in Japan."

Robinson and Carroll said in their statement that Dulles appeared to be more interested in public opinion in Japan than that in his own country.

Air Line Denied Texas Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—A request for immediate new airline service between a number of Texas cities by Trans-Texas Airways yesterday was denied by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Continental Air Lines had opposed the application. The carrier applied to serve between Abilene and Beaumont-Port Arthur by way of Brownwood, Austin and Houston.

Trans-Texas estimated it would increase its net operating income by $6,256 a year with two round trips a day. Continental said the service would divert $357,000 annually from its Austin-Houston runs.

The board said the issues should be resolved only after a public hearing.

Half-Million Raised For Billy Graham

NEW YORK (AP)—Sponsors of evangelist Billy Graham's crusade have raised about $500,000 from donors and will need an estimated $160,000 more to sustain the Madison Square Garden meetings through July 21.

This is over and above the nightly collections expected to total about $420,000.

Roger Hull, chairman of the crusade sponsoring committee and head of the Mutual Insurance Co. of New York, said yesterday "we'll get the money all right" to continue the meeting schedule.

Hull said groups of businessmen and others were being called together at meetings this week and next to outline the needs.

But with the offerings at the meetings covering only a fraction of the overhead, the evangelist's extended New York crusade still has some financial problems.

Hull said that continuation of the weekly network telecasts next month depends on whether the money is available. The crusade proper and the telecasts are being budgeted separately.

It is estimated that the total budget may run nearly 1 1/2 million dollars—about one million for the crusade itself and about half a million for Saturday night telecasts of the meetings.

The nightly collections, so far averaging less than 50 cents a person, won't quite cover a third of the over-all costs at that rate.

Graham and his team get no pay from the crusade, except for living expenses.

Most of the costs of the crusade are for rental of Madison Square Garden, staff office space and advertising.

Hull, discussing the television phase of the budget, said about $150,000 has been raised so far from outside sources. More than $300,000 would be necessary to keep the weekly telecasts going until the crusade ends.

Cadillac

Since Sun-Up...and Still Not Tired!

The sun gleamed low in the east when he set out on his journey this morning.

And here he is—well after nightfall—still going strong at the wheel!

If you have spent any time in a new Cadillac car, you can understand his reluctance to bring his day's journey to an end.

For the man who holds the wheel of this magnificent motor car is heir to the greatest satisfactions ever conferred on a motorist.

To begin with, the car holds him in superb comfort through even the longest day. Its seats are wonderfully soft and buoyant... and every imaginable convenience is in constant attendance.

Then, of course, there is Cadillac's almost unbelievable ease of handling. Starting, turning, stopping... the car seems almost to read his mind.

And, finally, there is the deep satisfaction he enjoys in commanding his own Cadillac car. For possession is nine points of the pleasure when your motor car bears the beautiful crest of Cadillac.

Little wonder, then, that he still finds himself at the wheel. For the miles ahead are always tempting—when the miles past have been so wonderful!

If you haven't as yet driven a new Cadillac, we urge you to visit your dealer soon.

A single hour is all you'll need to discover the magic of Cadillac's performance and the luxury of coachcraft by Fleetwood.

Cautious Optimism Toward Soviet Nuclear Proposals

LONDON (AP)—U.S. circles at the U.N. disarmament talks today reflected tempered optimism over the Soviet Union's proposal for an internationally supervised ban on nuclear weapon tests. A U.S. spokesman said the Russian proposal could be a "major breakthrough of the disarmament log jam, but then again maybe not." The five-power disarmament subcommittee talks were in recess until Thursday while delegates consulted with their governments on the new developments. The American spokesman termed Russia's agreement to the principle of mutual inspection to enforce a ban on tests a "very significant development." "It is very important that the

New Minister Forms Cabinet For Canada

OTTAWA (AP)—John Diefenbaker is putting together a Cabinet slate prior to taking over Friday as Canada's first Conservative prime minister in 22 years. Gov. Gen. Vincent Massey last night asked Diefenbaker to form a new government after the Liberal Cabinet of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent resigned. The Conservatives upset the Liberals in last week's elections but did not win a ruling majority. They have 100 seats and the Liberals 104 in the 265-member House of Commons. Diefenbaker, a 61-year-old lawyer from Saskatchewan, had announced earlier that he would accept the prime minister's job but said he needed until Friday to prepare a slate of Cabinet officers. A member of Parliament since the 1930s, he led the Conservatives to victory in his first campaign as party chief. St. Laurent met for 60 minutes with Massey last night before the governor general called in Diefenbaker. The 75-year-old Liberal chief later told reporters he will continue to serve as a member of Commons from his constituency of Quebec East. He also said his Cabinet will remain in office until a new administration is installed.

Additional Flood Control Favored

WASHINGTON (AP)—More federal funds for development of flood control and water utilization projects were asked yesterday by Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Johnson told the Senate that some 60 billion dollars has gone to foreign aid since World War II while only 16 billion dollars has been spent on harnessing water resources since the birth of the nation. "I do not state that these latter expenditures were not wise and necessary," he said. "I do say that the former expenditures—those for water projects in our own country—constitute a shamefully small investment for this purpose."

China Leader Sees Conflicts With Reds

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China today made public the text of Mao Tse-tung's hitherto secret speech admitting "certain contradictions exist between the government and the masses" in Communist society. Peiping radio broadcast the 17,000-word statement which the Chinese Communist boss made Feb. 27 to the 11th enlarged session of the Supreme State Conference. Bits and pieces of this speech, first reported outside China by Polish Communists in May caused a sensation because Mao appeared to be placing himself in ideological conflict with the Soviet leaders. However, the text indicates the conflicts were ones of degree, taking into consideration special Chinese problems and circumstances. The speech gave strong and important support to the Soviet Union in an assessment of the Hungarian revolution. Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist boss, contends no contradictions exist between the government and the masses in the U.S.S.R. Mao says contradictions, meaning conflicts of aims and viewpoints among various strata of Chinese society, exist "within Russians, who still think any sort of inspection is unnecessary, should have agreed to allow it in a limited matter," the spokesman said. "But," he emphasized, "there are other very important problems, and questions involving complicated detail, before there could be a partial agreement on a first step toward disarmament." The Soviet subcommittee delegate, Valerian Zorin, last Friday proposed a two-or three-year suspension of all nuclear tests and said the Soviet Union would admit international teams of inspectors to insure the moratorium was respected. The international teams would be stationed in the H-bomb countries—Russia, the United States and Britain—and in the Pacific test areas of the United States and Britain. The United States and the three other Western subcommittee members, Britain, France and Canada, all hailed the Soviet plan officially as an important move toward a partial disarmament agreement.

Uncle Roy:

Fijians Have Story About Leading Diety

By ROMAN COFFMAN
Most of the modern residents of the Fiji Islands are Christians or Hindus. Knowledge of the old Fijian religion has been saved, however, and we know about Ndengel, the chief native god. The Fijian priests said:
"Ndengel made the earth and the first people. He lives in a big cave in the mountains. When he moves, there is thunder. When he turns over, there is an earthquake."
"Ndengel reached the Fiji Islands from across the sea. He came in the form of a man, and there were others with him. They occupied several boats. A settlement was made, and Ndengel was the ruler."
"Later the god took the form of a huge serpent. If he wants to do so, he can turn back into the shape of a man at any time."
The old-time Fijians used to dance on the beach in honor of the water spirits. They also believed that spirits lived in forests. Before white visitors brought them better methods of making fire, the Fijians rubbed wood against wood to obtain a blaze. After the difficult task of making a fire was accomplished, certain persons were given the duty of watching the bonfire which was built. When necessary, more wood was added. If anyone failed to do his duty, he was punished.

A Fijian legend tells about a young man who let a fire go out. He was banished from his native village, but was allowed to live on a small island with his wife. The legend goes on to say that all the people on that island today are descended from the couple.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

A few lines entitled "Unique Species" by Jean Sartwell, which appeared in a weekly magazine recently, struck my fancy particularly when our two older boys are away at camp. This little gem reads "Children are the only beings (though their parents grieve) who hold the home together while they're tearing up the house."

While homesickness plagues some of the campers the maldy hits the parents almost as hard, especially when the stay extends over several weeks.

Sunday at Balmorhea State Park we met our boys, who are working at the Buffalo Trails Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains and we saw a number of local people. Among them were MR. AND MRS. HOWARD EERLICK who had come for their scouting son and some of his friends. They spent the weekend at the park.

Several local boys are on the staff at the ranch. MR. AND MRS. HORACE REAGAN, who spent the latter part of the week at Indian Lodge, drove over to the ranch and got their son, Ross, for Friday night. He said sleeping on a bed was a real treat. Others from here on the staff are WILEY TODDAR, ARLEN AND LEHMAN BRYANT and RONNIE HAMBY.

DONNIE BRYANT and some of his friends had come over to the park from Pecos where Donnie was visiting his grandmother. He has returned home now.

Getting something from home is one of the secrets of keeping the young campers happy. MRS.

FRED LURTING was looking for some little items of interest to send to her younger daughter, PAMELA, who is at Heart of the Hills Camp at Hunt. She and Lynn Woods will be there until the 26th of July.

MRS. BILL McREE is in Lawrence, Kansas, where she is attending a reunion of her family.

Going to Florida is getting to be a regular pastime for MR. AND MRS. EUGENE TURNER, whose daughter Evie is in Tampa. On this trip they were accompanied by MRS. J. ARCHER of Ackerly and MRS. LONNIE COKER. Mrs. Archer and Mrs. Coker will visit Mrs. Archer's sister, Mrs. M. J. Rogers, while the Turners will stay with LT. AND MRS. FRANK CHAFFEY and their little son, Ricky.

Lt. Chaffey is slated for another trip to Africa in about two weeks; after he leaves, Mrs. Chaffey and Ricky will return here with her parents for a visit.

MRS. W. D. WILLIAMS of Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Ill., is visiting her parents, MR. AND MRS. L. D. CHOFT. Mrs. Williams came to Waco to attend the wedding of Gen. Fred Dean, having been his secretary when he was commanding officer at Webb Air Force Base here. Mrs. Williams, the former Joyce Croft, plans to stay through the month of June.

JEAN DeGAULLE, teacher in the Beeville schools, planned to return to her home today after visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Parsons.

Patio Party Monday For Miss Jones

A patio supper and swimming party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon Monday night honored Libby Jones, bride-elect of L. George H. Jacobus, Miss Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Jones of Big Spring and L. George H. Jacobus, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Jacobus of Caldwell, N. J., will be married June 20 in the First Presbyterian Church in Big Spring.

Hosts and hostesses for the party were Mr. and Mrs. McGibbon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Burk, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Woodall and Dr. and Mrs. Arch Carson.

Twenty-two guests were served a buffet supper around the swimming pool after they had finished a before-supper swim.

Tables were centered with yellow candles. The service table was laid with a green cloth and featured a centerpiece of daisies, bells of Ireland and Mexican sunflowers. Copper was used for the service.

The honoree wore a patio-type dress with a solid color top which featured a wide neck and a full print skirt.

Pythian Sisters Hear Report On Convention

At a meeting of the Pythian Sisters Monday evening at Castle Hall, Mrs. O. R. Bollinger gave a report on the Grand Temple of Texas convention.

Mrs. Bollinger, delegate from the local group, was accompanied to the meeting in Mineral Wells by Mrs. Robert Hill. The convention was held June 9-12.

Mrs. Bollinger announced that two West Texas women had been elected to state offices. Mrs. Evelyn Hardin of Lubbock was made grand chief, and Mrs. Thelma Oliver of Tahoka, grand protector.

Mineral Wells was selected as the meeting place for the convention in 1958.

At Monday's session, Mrs. Dewey Magee, and Mrs. G. H. Briden were initiated into membership. Mrs. R. E. Collier was awarded the special prize. Hostesses were Mrs. Melvin Choate and Mrs. Choc Smith. For the meeting July 1, hostesses will be Mrs. E. R. Moren and Mrs. J. V. Gregory.

Nineteen members were present, with two guests, Mrs. R. L. Buck and Mrs. Connie Hester of Midland.

Miss Nix Is Bride Of C. G. Evans

The Bethel Baptist Church was the setting Sunday morning for the wedding of Joyce Nix and C. G. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nix, Gall Route, are parents of the bride; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Evans, Big Spring. The Rev. James D. Gammon Jr., pastor, read the double ring rites.

Delmar Hartin sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Jamie Bond.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of white embroidered organza with white accessories. Her bouquet was of white carnations on a white Bible.

Glenda Nix, sister of the bride, Luther, was maid of honor. Bernon Hinson was best man. Ushers were Jimmy Evans, brother of the bridegroom, and Jan Lauderdale.

The group observed the day of prayer and ministerial relief programs. Mrs. Rayford Dunagan read a poem and gave the devotion on "Old Hands." This had reference to the hands of retired ministers.

Mrs. D. P. Day offered a special prayer for the ministers. Also participating on the program were Mrs. Bud Summers, Mrs. Stanton Johnson, Mrs. Don Henry and Mrs. Denver Yates.

A business meeting was held following the program, and refreshments were served by the Kate Morrison Circle. Fifteen members attended with two guests, Mrs. S. E. Cantrell and Kathrynne Clifton.

Those wishing to enroll in the classes are asked to call Mrs. Robert J. Leighty, AM 4-8080. It has been announced that the golf lessons have been discontinued.

Coahoma SS Class Meets Monday Eve

The Coahoma Baptist Church SS class, Fidelity, met Monday evening at the church for a business and social.

Mrs. Henry Wallace gave the opening prayer followed by the devotion from Luke 10, by Mrs. Joe Hill.

Mrs. J. D. Spears and Mrs. Holy Hale were hostesses for the 10 members present.

Miss Prevo Married To J. R. Crane Jr.

A home ceremony Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock united in marriage Doris Prevo and Jesse R. Crane Jr. The double ring rites were read by the Rev. S. E. Eldridge, pastor of the First Assembly of God, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Prevo, 307 Park.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Crane, OK Trailer Courts.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of blue nylon and net with white accessories. Her bouquet was of white carnations on a white Bible.

Mrs. Ruby Spencer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. J. C. Prevo, brother of the bride, was best man.

For a wedding trip to North Carolina and Indiana the bride wore a white dress with the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Crane attended Big Spring schools and Crane graduated from Crawfordville Indiana High School. He has been employed by Foremost Milk Company.

East Fourth Circles Have Prayer Day, Ministerial Relief

Circles of the East Fourth Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at the church for a Royal Service presented by members of the Lydia Circle.

The group observed the day of prayer and ministerial relief programs. Mrs. Rayford Dunagan read a poem and gave the devotion on "Old Hands." This had reference to the hands of retired ministers.

Mrs. D. P. Day offered a special prayer for the ministers. Also participating on the program were Mrs. Bud Summers, Mrs. Stanton Johnson, Mrs. Don Henry and Mrs. Denver Yates.

A business meeting was held following the program, and refreshments were served by the Kate Morrison Circle. Fifteen members attended with two guests, Mrs. S. E. Cantrell and Kathrynne Clifton.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Michael, outgoing president, by Mrs. George Hall; Mrs. Martin, teacher, was given a gift by Mrs. Rosson.

Fifteen members attended with a guest, Wanda Porter. Mrs. Dabney was announced as the next hostess.

Program On Ministerial Relief Given For WMS

A program for Ministerial Relief was given Monday morning by the First Baptist WMS. Mrs. R. D. Urey was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Urey introduced the program by telling of the plan for Southern Baptist retired ministers.

The devotion, "Old Hands," Deuteronomy 15:7-8, was presented by Mrs. Clyde Angel. She said the ministers' hands are dedicated to a life time of service. "Love and interest still burns in the hearts of these aged servants of God after the hands are worn with toll and loving service. It behooves us to lend the labor of our hands to the comfort and sustenance of these no longer able to serve," the speaker said.

The following assisted Mrs. Urey in presenting the "Old Ministers' Relief Program. Mrs. The Andrews discussed "These Hands Have Ministered to My Necessities"; Mrs. V. W. Fuglaar's subject was "These Hands Are No Longer Able to Help"; "They Strengthened Their Hands for This Good Work" was discussed by Mrs. Billy Smith, with Mrs. W. F. Taylor's subject, "She Reecheth Out Her Hands to the Needy." Mrs. Taylor also presented an excerpt from the article "My Mother's Hands."

Songs were led by Mrs. Alton Underwood accompanied by Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. W. B. Younger read the names of missionaries with birthdays on June 17 and offered a special prayer for them. The offering for the ministers' relief program was taken.

Two visitors were present, Mrs. Stanley Vanscoyer and Mrs. George K. Lord. Following the program, the Christmas Coffee Circle was in charge of the social hour. The serving table was covered with a pink linen cloth and held a centerpiece of garden flowers in crystal bowls. Silver appointments were used.

No Glamour Tricks

Susan Harrison's boss, Burt Lancaster, will be very surprised if she does not become a star in one picture, "Sweet Smell of Success." This teen-ager builds her individuality by using no glamour tricks.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Teen Ager Decides To Look Right Age

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood is Cinderella — land. There is no other place where the ascent from bottom to top is so swift. Susan Harrison is not one to deny this — two days after she persuaded an agent in New York to handle her she was invited to read for "Sweet Smell of Success," a Hecht-Hill-Lancaster production. She so impressed Mr. Hecht that he flew her to Hollywood and her test won her the lead opposite Burt Lancaster and Tony Curtis.

"My mother is an actress," Susan told me at lunch, "but she gave up her career when she was married. Perhaps that influenced me for I have always known I wanted to be in the theater." "But it wasn't easy when I flunked out of the High School of Performing Arts and was told I would never be an actress."

Susan, who is 18 years old, was wearing her hair in a pig-tail and had on no make-up — not even lipstick. She looked around 14 so I was surprised when she told me, "I play a girl who is 20 in the picture."

I told her that make-up could do miracles both in aging and making one look younger.

"A couple of years ago I went all out for make-up and I had a permanent but I decided I look better when I don't do too much to myself. I think my face has better balance without painting my mouth," Susan confided.

"Though I do like to accent my eyes at night."

"When I was 13 I had a rebellious spirit and I got a crew cut. My family nearly died and I had a gruesome six months until it grew out. I am still impulsive," she added, "but I'll never cut off my nose to spite my face again."

Susan is so small-boned you don't realize she is 5-7.

"While I waiting for the picture to start I lived at the beach and gained 12 pounds. I lost this in two weeks before the picture started. I ate very little. I much prefer a severe diet to get it over with. I don't like counting calories and having a little of this and that. I don't think fasting is harmful. People have been known to live 90 days without eating. I find if you just don't think about food it's no great hardship to do without it," Susan said in conclusion.

Mrs. O. W. Sparks Will Head Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. O. W. Sparks was elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at a meeting in the Legion Hall.

First vice president will be Mrs. Granville Miller; second vice president, Mrs. Larry Clements; secretary, Mrs. Foy Dunlap; treasurer, Mrs. William Ward; historian, Mrs. Anna Wolfe; chaplain, Mrs. Herschel Eason and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Hartman Hooser.

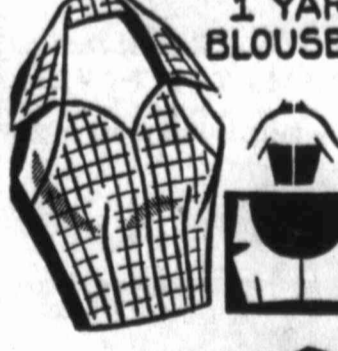

Plans were made for a potluck supper to be given for members and their families Thursday at the hall. A report was given on the improvements to be made on the hall; these include refinishing the floors, redecoration of the two lounges and the purchase of large banquet tables.

A committee will meet with Mrs. L. H. Stewart to work out details for the scholarship to Howard County Junior College.

Delegates were elected to attend the state convention set for Houston, July 26-28. They are Mrs. Parks, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Wolfe,

Southern California Hit By Damaging Forest Fires

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A brush fire burned stubbornly through thick watershed at Lake Elsinore today and firemen throughout Southern California girded for another bad day.

Fire weather — hot, dry and windy — has come to stay. The forecast is for 100-degree temperatures again today. Desert winds are expected to continue, rushing through mountain canyons to fan sparks into fires like the scores which struck Southern California yesterday.

More than 350 firemen struggled through the night on firelines at Lake Elsinore, southeast of Los Angeles, and managed to save homes previously threatened. The fire is now burning through open country.

Federal and state firefighters hope to stop it at a fire trail 2 1/2 miles from the spot where the blaze began.

Two hundred acres were scorched near Castaic on U. S. Highway 99, before firemen conquered it. A 20-acre blaze not far away at Placita Canyon, roared through an oil field tank farm — but was whipped through on 35 m.p.h. winds too fast to set the tanks afire.

Heat that reached 100 degrees in Los Angeles yesterday, combined with low humidity and hot winds from inland deserts, hampered fire fighters.

At Zuma Beach, north of Los Angeles, the heat wave pushed the thermometer to 105 as thousands motored to the seashore yesterday.

Los Angeles city firemen answered 400 calls, county firemen 162.

The blazes sprang up all over southern California, there were 28 reported in San Bernardino County.

One fire even flared up on Santa Catalina Island — 22 miles at sea.

Winds which spurred the brush fires also toppled a cinder-block wall under construction at Fullerton, killing two men, Carl Langford, 30, Santa Ana, and Charles Schirner, 36, Fullerton.

Tractor Mishap

When the Air Force submits an application for extension of housing facilities under the Capehart Act, it will have the backing of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

resolution in support of a supplemental application for more Air Force housing after results of a recent survey were shown. This application would be in addition to the 460 units which are to be bid on July 2.

WAYNE BASDEN
..... Assistant City Attorney

New City Attorney Reports For Work

Wayne Basden found plenty of work when he reported at the city hall Monday morning. He was hired as assistant city attorney.

His work included looking over the city's building and electrical codes, and the zoning ordinance. The city plans to revise these and other outmoded ordinances, and it will be Basden's job to prepare the revisions.

Basden, 25, was hired after the city attorney, Walton Morrison, recommended creating the position. Morrison said the volume of city work in the past few years has necessitated a full-time employee. Morrison has served as a part-time employee while handling his private practice.

He told the commission that he was neglecting both his and the city's business under the setup and as a result, he urged hiring Basden as a full-time assistant. Walton will be retained on an advisory capacity.

The new assistant moved to Big Spring last week with his family, purchasing a house at 424 Ryon. The Basdens have two boys, Wayne Andrew, 3, and Mark Russell, 17 months. Before coming to Big Spring, they lived in El Paso.

Basden got his law degree from the University of Texas in January and took the bar examination in March. He graduated from Pecos High School in 1949 and got a bachelors' degree from Texas Western in 1953. After a short term in the Army, Basden taught school for a short time in Ysleta before going to law school.

Coming to work Monday, Basden found himself without an office. All Morrison's work was done in his office, so no office was needed at the city hall for an attorney.

The city has plans for an office for the position in the renovated building, but until the structure is remodeled, Basden is to use an office on the second floor in the southeast corner recently vacated by the police department.

First Lt. Richard A. Bigelow, base housing officer at Webb, and Col. Dan R. Keefe, Air Base Group commander, explained the latest projected application. Even with the 460 units, Webb will suffer a deficit of 171 housing units for officers and top non-commissioned grades. Another 122 based on estimates of increased personnel, will be needed within the next year or two, said Lt. Bigelow.

The proposed housing does not embrace supporting civilian workers or the lower non-com grades. Recommendation of the joint committees on housing and military affairs, made by Ike Robb, was quickly adopted in support of the application. R. L. Beale, president, said he did not believe it would interfere with local builders' plans for development; on the contrary general increased activity may stimulate other housing demands, he ventured.

Figures presented to the directors resulted from a survey of military personnel eligible for the housing. Present facilities were checked against an "adequacy" scale, and 631 quarters failed to measure up — principally due to too small space and joint usage of baths.

Under the Capehart Act, the Air Force may erect on-base housing under a Federal Housing Administration loan guarantee. Occupants are charged rentals, which are deducted from the housing allotment.

The Chamber directors also endorsed the $50,000 bond issue set for July 2 to finance utility extensions to the new base housing area. The resolution carried with it a call to organize in getting out a large vote for the election.

H. W. Whitney, city manager, explained that the Air Force was advancing the city $175,000, to be repaid without interest from credits on water consumed month by month. In addition, the city needs $50,000 to carry out its share of the project, and hence the submission of the revenue bond issue.

Adopted was an idea submitted by Sam Burns on behalf of the tourist development committee. This involves the selection of a "Tourist of the Month," who would be accorded free accommodations and other items and honors.

Terry Moore Files Suit For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Terry Moore has filed suit for divorce, accusing her husband of numerous acts of infidelity.

In her complaint charging mental cruelty, filed yesterday in Superior Court, she said her husband, Eugene Charles McGrath, "had illicit relations with numerous and various women in Las Vegas, Nev." She also accused him of "extensive gambling."

The 28-year-old actress and McGrath, 35, were married in Las Vegas Jan. 1, 1956.

State Dept. Is Asked To Bring BenJack Home

AUSTIN (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has been asked to use "diplomatic channels" to get Ben-Jack Cage back to Texas for trial on the theft and embezzlement charges.

Gov. Price Daniel sent a letter to Dulles yesterday in which he declared that "This is a matter of very serious importance to the people and laws of Texas."

Cage was indicted last month by a Dallas County grand jury for theft and embezzlement of one half million dollars from ICT Insurance Co., one of dozens of Cage-promoted companies.

Daniel asked that Dulles request the American Embassy at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, "to take this matter up with the appropriate Brazilian authorities." He said he had information that Cage was in Rio.

To Seek New Trial For Juvenile Trio

Counsel for Nicky Rocha, Herman Lee Wright and Doyle Hall, Big Spring juveniles, involved in the May 7 fatal shooting of Taylor Garrett, Sterling City filling station attendant, will go before Judge G. C. Murrell on Wednesday morning in Sterling City to seek a new trial for their young clients.

Wayne Burns, who with Clyde Thomas, represented the boys last week at the hearing in which Rocha and Wright were ordered taken to Gatesville Training School, and Hall probated to his parents here, said that the hearing on the new trial motion was delayed because judgment of the Sterling County Court was not filed until June 14.

The defense has five days after the filing of the judgment to seek its new trial.

Burns said that he and Thomas have drawn up a petition in which they cite 25 alleged errors on the part of the court in their contention that the boys be given a new hearing.

County Mechanic Gets Raise In Pay

Salary of the county mechanic has been increased to $355 a month by the Howard County Commissioners.

Walter Parks, county engineer, told the commissioners that the mechanic, whom he described as a most efficient worker, had been offered more pay on another job. Parks said that he recommended the county adjust his salary in order to keep his services.

The commissioners authorized the increase from $320.

Farmers To Vote Thursday On Wheat Marketing Quotas

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — Farmers in 35 states will vote Thursday in a referendum that could have far-reaching political and economic repercussions.

They will ballot on the question of continuing federal marketing quotas on the 1958 wheat crop as a means of helping to prevent the accumulation of additional surpluses. The control program requires approval of two-thirds of those voting.

The outcome could upset programs for other farm commodities, force Congress to revise plans to delay a restudy of farm programs until next year, and could easily influence voting in next year's congressional races.

This is the sixth time that growers have been called upon to decide whether they want federal limitations on the quantity of wheat they can sell. Never before have they said "No." But this time the outcome is in doubt.

There is much dissatisfaction with the wheat program.

After a prolonged drought, many Plains farmers are demanding a chance to take advantage of the restored soil moisture conditions provided by spring rains.

Farmers in the Pacific Northwest are chafing under federal restrictions because there is no surplus of the white wheat they produce. Their type of wheat has been bringing price premiums and they want to take advantage of the situation.

But rejections of the control program would require the government to reduce its price support rate for wheat from an announced $1.78 a bushel to around $1.19. And then, only farmers who planted within the limits of the restricted production program would be eligible for supports. This is the law.

With a big surplus overhanging markets, a sharp drop in wheat prices could be expected. Such a drop would affect other grains, notably corn, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums. Wheat could well displace some of these grains as livestock and poultry feed.

The whole feed grain price level could be pulled down to a point where livestock farmers would be encouraged to expand—probably overexpand—production of hogs, poultry and milk with resulting price declines.

In other words, virtually all agriculture would be affected.

It would seem illogical for farmers to vote against wheat quotas in the face of prospects of a price decline. But there are a number of factors which tend to encourage such a vote.

Some farmers, with big acreages, figure that without federal limitations, they could increase their production volume enough to more than offset the effects of a price decline on their incomes. Some figure that the price might not drop as much as the reduction in the price support would indicate.

Likewise, those who produce premium grade wheat figure that they would continue to get a good price differential over other types.

Undoubtedly some farmers figure that Congress would "ball out" wheat should quotas be rejected and prices tumble too much.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that he had received a telegram from Nashua, N. H., advising him that a warrant has been sent to Glasscock County for two men being held in the jail there and that officers from that state would come to Garden City soon to seek extradition of the pair.

The two men were arrested some days ago as vagrants by Buster Cox, sheriff, and have been held in the Glasscock County jail since that time.

They are wanted, Cox has been told, for armed robbery in New Hampshire.

Felons Have Respect For Sheriff Decker

By WHITEY SAWYER

DALLAS (AP) — A tall, squarely built man walked into the gloom of a Fort Worth jail yard.

"This is Bill Decker, Raymond," he called. "Come on out here."

Raymond Hamilton, notorious gunman of the early 30s, who had broken out of death row in the State Prison at Huntsville, came out and surrendered his two guns to Bill Decker, then a Dallas County deputy sheriff.

The hardened outlaw, who later went to the electric chair, said: "I knew that if I surrendered to Decker, I'd get a fair shake."

A "fair shake" and an engaging manner are the clues to Decker's success as a law enforcement officer.

He started working for Dallas County as an elevator operator in 1920 and was elected sheriff in 1948. In a job that can make enemies, he has never been opposed for re-election.

Decker doesn't look much like the way Hollywood portrays a Texas sheriff. There are no boots, no 10-gallon hat, drug store cowboy clothes, nor a leather corset supporting two six-shooters.

He wears business suits, city shoes and a regular-size hat.

A reputation for being tough when he needs to be, a tremendous system of contacts in the underworld and a manner calculated to make a prisoner want to tell all have helped in his success.

As an example, Thurman Priest of Grand Prairie in Dallas County, was held by Lebanon, Mo., police in December, 1954. His niece, Jeannette, had been missing and was last seen with him at Grand Prairie.

Officers tried for three days to get Priest to talk. He refused.

Decker flew to Missouri and had officers meet him at the plane with Priest in tow.

Decker saw he looked hungry and had no cigarettes. So he bought the prisoner some soup and smokes on the way to the police station. When they got there, Priest told Decker he had something to say to him in private.

In a short time he was showing officers the body of the girl, hidden under dried leaves off a side road near Lebanon.

Born in Dallas Aug. 31, 1898, Decker says his job is to "be friendly when not needed and to be on the spot when needed."

He was christened James Erick Decker, but his father didn't think any of the names suitable. He bestowed his own nickname, "Bill." It was later made legal.

Decker started work in the Dallas County courthouse as an elevator operator and "just sort of drifted into" becoming a deputy in 1923, buying his own badge and gun.

He worked up to chief deputy in 1934 and was elected sheriff in 1948.

Before he became sheriff he always gave all the credit to his boss. Now he gives it to his men.

When questioned, however, he will admit he had "quite a lot to do" with the trap that got notorious outlaws Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker in Louisiana in the '30s.

He said he "picked up some information" and had made arrangements to set the trap that blasted the killers. Someone told him.

Decker solves many crimes sitting in his office, but not by analyzing cigar ash or drawing conclusions from a smudged footprint and a broken matchstick like fiction sleuths.

Decker has an easier way—lots of stool pigeons who tell him "who done it."

Decker, by being firm but fair and always keeping his word, has patiently built up over the years a tremendous number of contacts. What one doesn't know another does, and they all tell him everything.

Decker wasn't present when Barrow and Bonnie Parker were shot down, and has never even wounded a suspect in line of duty.

He's well known for his lack of "rough stuff" and says: "You can do more with sugar than with bullets."

It's said he has more friends inside prison walls than outside.

Lawyer Will Ard said: "I can explain the law to an ignorant man in trouble, and when I get through he'll ask, 'What does Bill Decker say about it?'"

Once when an after-arrested shoplifter was released from jail on an assault to murder charge, she went across the street to a justice of the peace to marry husband No. 13. She also sent for Decker.

She wanted him to be best man.

only pennies a day

Last year, throughout the United States, people spent $1,344,236,000 for their daily and Sunday newspapers. A lot of money – and at pennies per copy – a lot of newspapers!

This huge amount gives you a measure of the importance of the newspaper to its readers – and to its advertisers.

To advertisers it means a loyal, constant, ever-curious audience that never varies from week to week, from season to season. An audience you can count on because it counts on its newspapers for all the news of people, places and products.

Here's What People Spent For Newspapers In 1956*

| | Weekday | Sunday | Total |
|--------------------|---------------|---------------|-----------------|
| Annually | $961,341,000 | $382,895,000 | $1,344,236,000 |
| Monthly | 80,112,000 | 31,908,000 | 112,020,000 |
| Weekly | 18,488,000 | 7,363,000 | 25,851,000 |
| Daily | 3,120,000 | | |

Retailers Forecast Peak Summer Sales

NEW YORK — Summer '57 is being hailed by the nation's retailers as a bright selling opportunity according to a Summer Business survey conducted by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, through its member newspapers. Delayed clearances sales and stronger advertising are methods planned to make the most of summer selling.

The survey was conducted among 206 retailers in 83 markets of all sizes. Seventeen store types were represented in the study which surveyed merchants in 33 states and three Canadian provinces.

Sales increases over last summer are predicted by 61 per cent of the retailers surveyed, while 27 per cent expect to meet last year's figures. The average increase expected this summer is 10 per cent with 50 per cent the highest gain predicted. Twenty-six per cent of the retailers look for increases over 10 per cent.

Nearly six out of ten retailers surveyed are planning to start their traditional summer clearance sales during or after the week of July 15th. Sixteen per cent of the retailers will sell their summer merchandise at regular prices until August. The same number of retailers—16 per cent—are planning clearances during the July 4th week, in past years the traditional start of summer sales.

This trend in late years of postponing clearances of summer merchandise is being strengthened by 42 per cent of the retailers surveyed who said they plan to stock more heavily and maintain stocks longer this year in traditionally best-selling merchandise. Several indicated that weather would be a key factor in setting the actual sale date.

To meet the selling opportunity, nine out of ten retailers reported they will invest as much or more in advertising this summer as last year. Thirty-one per cent said they will step up their advertising an average 10 per cent, while 60 per cent anticipate allotting approximately the same amount as in 1956.

NEWSPAPERS BASIC MEDIUM Retailers will continue to place the vast share of their advertising investment this summer in newspapers, the survey reports. Eighty-seven per cent of the retailers will place seven-tenths or more of their ad budget in newspapers. More than half of the merchants plan on investing 90 per cent or more of their budget in newspapers.

In line with the survey report of increased summer business, an analysis of U.S. Dept. of Commerce figures show that in 1956, summer sales gains in June, July and August were 32 per cent higher than gains for the rest of the year.

However, a Newburgh (N.Y.) variety department store retailer included in the Summer Business survey warns "Business will not be better if all of us sit complacently and wait for it to come in. Merchandising methods are constantly changing. However, basically, only those merchants who give bigger and better values and shout the loudest will get the dollars."

Plan Broader Conservation Plan On Plains

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House says it's "just routine" and that Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower is "not ill," but the First Lady is in Walter Reed Army Hospital today for her second "head-to-toe" physical checkup within four months.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mrs. Eisenhower, who entered the hospital yesterday, expects to stay "several days."

Her last stay at Walter Reed was late in February. At that time, Hagerty announced she would be there overnight, but she actually stayed three or four days she was pronounced in good condition when she left.

Hagerty said the new hospital visit was prompted by no illness but that the First Lady for a number of years has made it a practice to get a physical checkup at least once or twice a year.

Her physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said that the longer stay on the last hospital visit had come about because Mrs. Eisenhower liked to take it easy and he encouraged her to do so.

He said she had rheumatic fever as a girl. That left her with a slight heart condition, he said—a murmur which the doctors keep tabs on.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor grips; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT! Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98¢ for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the Stanton may have cantaloupes for sale this fall, but there won't be enough to make a dent in the world market. Many farmers who tried to raise them have had nothing but hard luck.

R. B. Crech, who farms in the Courtney community, was out scratching his cantaloupe crop for the fourth time, and he still has only a few plants up.

"It's going to be late," he said, "and I doubt if everyone goes through with it. The market may be bad by the time we start harvesting."

Crech and his two sons have had better luck with nearly 300 acres of cotton. They planted it on April 10 and 11, and got a good stand. It already has several leaves per stalk and will be one of the earliest cotton crops in the county.

The moisture is probably deeper than it has been in 10 years. County agent James Taylor said the soil in cultivated fields is wet from four to six feet, and that moisture penetration on rangeland will probably average two feet.

He said that Dawson County farmers were saying they could make a third of a bale of cotton per acre without any more rain. Taylor says ranges are looking good. They are covered with weeds, but some of the grasses such as needle, red grama and tobosa are also making rapid growth. Some of these invading grasses are the forerunners of more palatable plants, Taylor said.

He said screw worms were causing lots of trouble, but may have let up just a little the last week. They have been especially bad since the rains started, and work not only on injured or cut animals, but have been found in the eye sockets of young calves. Taylor said ranchers were keeping a close watch on all livestock, and doctoring the animals before the worms have time to develop.

Jack Buchanan who hit the jackpot with his crop of sorghum alnum last year, has another big crop on the way. Some of the old field already has plants heading out, while a field of new grass is knee-high.

Buchanan planted another 80 acres of sorghum alnum this spring, and will graze about 60 acres of it. He said he didn't have enough cattle to keep it eaten down, but some of his cattle-owning relatives had been looking enviously at the tall grass.

He also plans to plant four other grasses, two of which will be Caddo switchgrass and Caucasian bluestem. He plans to harvest the seed from 40 acres of sorghum alnum and hopes to get about 500 pounds per acre.

Pecos seems to be getting the jump on other vegetable-growing areas of West Texas. The Texas Standard Brands Food Inc. is constructing four buildings at Pecos which will cost a million dollars and employ over 150 people.

One building will be a quick freeze plant and another a cannery. One of the company directors, J. H. Palm, said the Pecos area had the biggest potential of any area surveyed and in tonnage per acre was ahead of California.

Pecos farmers have been growing cantaloupes for several years, and are now trying other kinds of vegetables.

On the W. L. Wilson Ranch in the northeast part of the County, the spring rains have brought good things and bad. Mrs. Wilson said she had a beautiful garden a month ago, but now the rust and mildew has killed a big part of it. They have had trouble getting a crop up, but there are no complaints about the pasture land. The grass is good, cattle have plenty to eat, and the stock tanks are nearly all full.

The Wilson's helped pioneer a new type stock tank a few years ago. The tanks are not merely dams across a draw or creek, but were built on the side of long slopes. The hole was dug out in the circle, and the larger ones are 30 to 40 feet deep. This provides a lot of water for a small surface area.

The builders constructed terraces out from either side of the ponds. Runoff water coming down the hill hits these terraces and is led into the pond.

Mrs. Wilson says the cone-shaped tanks are better than the old ones. Not so much water is lost to evaporation, and once they get full the supply will last longer.

The egg market has been down to the break—even point for weeks now, but broiler owners are cashing in on some good prices. Broilers are now bringing 21 cents a pound, while owners can grow them for about 17 cents a pound, according to Jack Maholin, an area poultry expert who helps supervise several local flocks.

Meholin says the average broiler chick is sold at eight to nine weeks of age and will weigh close to three pounds. With the average broiler house holding 4,000 birds, this would give the owner a gross profit of about $480.00 for the period. Ordinarily an owner will run about four bunches of broilers through a house in a year.

The biggest broiler project in West Texas is around San Angelo. Some of the owners have two houses, and have generally come out ahead. This year they will make a nice profit.

Howard County now has four farmers who are keeping broiler type hens. These four are Roy Phillips, J. L. Ball, Leonard Thornton and Gus Martin. Each one has facilities to keep 1,000 hens.

"The eggs are too small yet," Meholin said, "but they will soon be used in the hatchery at San Angelo or Lubbock. We have to wait until the eggs are of normal size so the chicks will hatch out strong and grow fast."

The hens are already about 25 weeks old and have purposely been kept out of production as long as possible. One or two other farmers are interested in the project, Meholin said, and there are also a number around Colorado City who are raising broiler eggs for the Western Hatcheries.

Ike Will Ban Change Note In Policy For Disarmament

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will be perfectly delighted to make satisfactory agreement suspending atomic tests while negotiations with Russia for some penman disarmament program. His indicated possible major revision in U. S. policy.

Under questioning at a conference, Eisenhower said he believed—although he did not want to commit himself finally at the moment—that a prohibition on the manufacture of atomic weapons might not necessarily have to be a part of the pact for suspending tests.

His tentative comment on point was contrary to what State Department officials have been saying privately since negotiator Harold Stassen returned from London. Their line has been that United States would only agree to suspend tests as part of a step agreement which also provided for halting manufacture of weapons under a carefully supervised program.

Eisenhower told his news conference that a three-point proposal put forward by Stassen in United Nations talks at London week ago deserves the most earnest and sympathetic study although he could not yet say how it would work out.

The Soviets called for a three-year moratorium, on atomic tests, for a commission to supervise the agreement and for inspection posts within the territories of Russia, the United States and Britain.

Eisenhower said this was a hopeful sign for the Russian proposal but he would want to see all the details. He added it is one thing to make a generalization and another to see how it works out.

Eisenhower began his quest and answer discussion of disarmament by stating that Stassen was not reprimanded when he turned to Washington 10 days ago. The Allies, mainly France, Britain, had complained that Stassen was working too closely with the Soviet representative, Vladimir Zorin.

Eisenhower said that he heard of the feeling that Stassen was running too fast. In response to further question he said that did not think that Stassen's fulness had been ruined by being called home for consultation by the reports that he had reprimanded.

Bristow Party To Draw Crowds

Ticket inquiries indicated that there will be a large turnout of fellow townsmen Friday evening, when the community makes a gesture of appreciation to Bristow. The prominent J. Springer, now serving his first term in the Texas House of Representatives from this district, will be honored at an informal barbeque.

Friends of Bristow sponsored the affair have stressed that tickets should be purchased by Thursday, so that suitable arrangements can be made for the barbeque at the Chamber of Commerce at 1:50 p.m.

The barbeque will be at Cosden Country Club, starting 7 p.m.

While the program will be held without formality, there will be a public voice of appreciation to Obie for his service to the city and to the state. Tyler are Waggoner Carr of Lubbock Speaker of the House of Representatives; Dr. P. D. O'Brien of First Baptist Church and the Rev. Bill Boyd of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

NAACP Denied Time Extension

TYLER (AP)—A request by National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for a day extension of time to file objections to a permanent injunction was denied yesterday by Judge Otis Dungan.

The injunction was issued Wednesday. He said that the court made no provision for an extension of time, there was nothing in the court permitting him to grant or refuse the request. The deadline for filing objections to the injunction was yesterday.
